Lying Vipers of Death Locking Down MINDS

In this issue of CONTACT we bring to your attention some psychological aspects of programmed minds. It will become obvious in reading these articles that this mind game truly traces its origin from the beginning of recorded history.

We focus on the lying vipers from hell and their various tactics employed throughout time. Exploring some NWO mind mazes to trap our thinking, we offer Henry Makow and John Kaminski's writing. We see how the five pillars of society (politics, education, business, religion and the media), have been used against us. Continueing with our series on the NWO, and to sum up from Commander Hatonn's writing: "YES, for when the soul is slain or totally made captive (through the mind, always) the being is dead..."

We would like to thank Henry Makow for permission to reprint another one of his fine pieces.

THE TRUTH ABOUT 'DIVERSITY' SHAMING WHITES

By Henry Makow, PhD, 6/25/06

We are all affected by "Diversity" but few understand its true nature.

Warning: It isn't pretty.

"Diversity" is a massive long-term mind control program posing as 'equal rights' designed ultimately to disinherit nations of European and Christian origin.

While it pretends to advocate equality, its real goal is to use guilt to trick heterosexual White males into passively yielding power and position to women and minorities. The object is to prepare North America and Europe for inclusion in a "world government" run by the central banking cartel based in London.

This private cartel's power is measured by the fact that virtually every major corporation, educational institution and government agency provides "diversity training" (i.e. political reeducation) to its employees. Even though studies show it has zero economic benefit, they spend eight billion dollars a year on it. Toyota alone plans to spend that much in the next ten years.

Here is an example of the shaming that takes place in these sessions. It is from the text, "Seeing Ourselves: Exploring Race Ethnicity and Culture"(1999) by Carl James.

A participant, Greg, tells the group:

"As for my race, I am white but I never really had to think about it before. I don't feel that it ever affected the people with whom I associated or talked to. My two best friends are Black and (Canadian) Indian. I was brought up in a family that didn't believe in prejudice and I'm proud of that. If I don't like a person, it is because of their personality, not their race or heritage."

Now you'd think that Greg would pass with flying colors.

You didn't consider the hidden agenda. The author, a Diversity trainer, chastises Greg for assuming he is "the norm". Greg fails to acknowledge his “race privilege”, that “invisible package of unearned assets” that is the “white colonial legacy”. Whites like Greg deny “the ways in which they socially, culturally and politically produce relations of domination”. [HM: p.44 my emphasis]

In other words, Whites naturally oppress other people. That sounds like racism to me.

Can you see what’s happening? These Diversity sessions lay guilt trips on Whites, especially males, so they will yield power to compliant members of “minorities” who have not earned it. This is a scam. Anyone who objects commits career suicide. That’s political persecution.

I want to be clear that I think the human race is one family and God loves all people equally. Like Greg, I believe people should be judged on their merit alone, regardless of race, gender or sexual orientation. I have no problem with “minorities” winning positions of power so long as they do it fairly. I welcome the rich contribution immigrants make.

But “Diversity” is not about fairness or enriching society. It promotes minorities not for their own sake, but as a way to subvert the majority.

IRONY

It’s ironic that the central banking clique should lay this guilt trip on Whites when it is they who are responsible for imperialism and wars. It is they who grew rich through the slave and opium trades. Their crimes against humanity are unspeakable.

The U.S. population is more than 75% White. The plan is for Whites to become a minority by 2050 or sooner. Whites are expected to stand by and become guests [in] their own house.

When Whites are a minority, no one will champion their rights. There are two million more females than males at U.S. universities. Have you heard of any affirmative action programs for males?

“Diversity” is practically unheard of in China, Japan, Israel, India and Latin America. These countries are allowed to keep their racial character. But because people of European origin have a sense of material, spiritual and political privilege, they are the hardest to absorb in the New World Order. They are the targets of the Diversity program.

The central bankers use the tactic of “divide and conquer” to undermine the four pillars of our identity: race, religion, nation and family.

First, they pretended to champion the workers to get rid of the traditional order, e.g. the Tsarist regime in Russia. Then they pretended to champion women and homosexuals to undermine heterosexual values and the family. Finally they are duping Whites into passively accepting discrimination and a greatly diminished status.

They use the same dog-eared play book. (Select one) Workers, Jews, Blacks, homosexuals, women have been oppressed for centuries. Let the bankers put their (select one) front men (or womyn) in power.

SIGNS OF ‘DIVERSITY’

Understanding Diversity helps us to understand our world. For instance, at the city library there was a placard on every counter affirming the importance of “respectful behavior”.

The signs bewildered me. I wasn’t planning to “dis” the library clerk. Now I understand where this weirdness comes from. It means we must /show respect for/ women, gays and minorities. The crippled colored lesbian deserves our respect most. On the other hand, the straight white male is the Rodney Dangerfield of Diversity.

But, you say, don’t “white males” run the world? White males are becoming less important. For example, women now account for about half the enrollment in professional programs such as law, medicine and optometry. That is up from 22 percent a generation ago. Women have overtaken men in Commerce degrees <diversityinc.com/public>.

In general, White or not, success today depends on your willingness to betray your society and advance the central banker agenda. In Communist terms <savethemales.ca>, minorities and feminists are today’s “useful idiots”.

Similarly I wonder about the recurrent “anti bullying” propaganda. Bullying didn’t require legislation when I was growing up. It could be dealt with using common sense. Again, I wonder if the hidden agenda is to create an atmosphere where White heterosexuals cannot resist domination by homosexual and other minority activists.

CONCLUSION

Malleable and conformist, the masses will usually adopt the norm. When evil people set the norm, the masses will succumb to distorted and self-destructive behavior.

The banking cartel creates money using our national credit. As a result, society has been subverted by an alien power with a anti-human agenda. Our pol[i]tical and [c]ultural elites consist of traitors who, for example, allowed 9-11 to take place and covered it up. We are subjected to a constant stream of lies from these sanctimonious self serving pawns.

We live in an increasingly Orwellian society. “Diversity” doesn’t mean true diversity. It is doublespeak for discriminating against the majority. “Inclusiveness” doesn’t include celebrating European or Christian heritage.

The founding peoples of the West have a right to maintain their national character and see it flourish. Immigrants expect to integrate, while retaining their heritage. They don’t expect to be used to subvert the majority.

So, let’s not fall into their “divide and conquer” trap by focusing our indignation on minorities. They are manipulated as much as we. Let’s focus on the central bankers and their lackeys, in politics, education, business and the media.

I know this goes against the grain for some. Ask yourself where did you get your attitudes. They were dinned into you by the media and education. We are being manipulated and duped and it’s time we awoke.

Filipino Two-Step Or Is That Side-Step?

7/2/06 (19-320)

Sunday, July 2, 2006, 8:26 p.m., Year 19, Day 320
By Ron Kirzinger, Manila, Philippines

A DAY IN THE LIFE

Yesterday’s series of meetings kept us hopping from the morning straight through to 9:00 p.m. The “cast of characters” included a certain foreigner working on gathering in some 47,000 metric tons of “the commodity” (as it is referenced here—gold in plain language). That’s about one TRILLION “dollars” worth of the stuff. The funny thing is, he is quite sincere and being an international attorney by training and experience probably does have a handle on the situation. For us, the only question is how that particular gold might fit into the larger program; quite possibly it will end up funding his own country.

Then there were a couple of ladies associated with an individual who purports to be (another) one of Ferdinand Marcos’ real sons, though born to a woman who came before Imelda in the sequence of things. We have to give him credit for having one of the finest digital-signature collections we have ever seen. His documents are plastered with signatures from the likes of Eisenhower, Ferdinand Marcos, various royal personages, Santa Romana, even Jimmy Carter, for goodness sake. The problem arises, however, that all of the signatures—even from documents many years apart—are digitally identical! Or, how about documents from the 1940s and 1950s all beautifully justified—like only a modern word processor can do? If even one of the numerous documents he has provided as proof of his position is valid, I’ll eat my shirt. It took a while for our Filipino friends to see through the ruse because they have such a strong emotional commitment and really want to believe a good sounding story. The real heroes of the Tallano Foundation story have yet to see clearly when they look in the mirror, it seems, because so far they do not see the success we can more easily envision.

Then came one of our more serious connections to a certain small kingdom which is quite capable of being the “first domino” or first nation to assert its sovereignty based on gold-backed currency. This meeting extended well past the allotted time, which suited us just fine because at that point we were still a couple of hours from our next engagement. This particular individual is quite well connected and informed with a very keen intellect, so we paid attention to what he had to say about the imminent demise of the current administration in this country, even though we have heard that same old tune from various sources for a long time already. It is hard to greatly discount the smiling face of Erap Estrada as the plunder charges against him evaporate after 5 YEARS and he calmly states, “If the people want me to serve, I will.” There was a lot more to the conversation but most is not wisely shared at this time.

The next meeting was supposed to be with our old friend the Professor of Shariah from Mindanao but he got stuck in traffic. The lateness of his arrival coincided with our following meeting, setting up an interesting three-way session; interesting because our final meeting was with a guy who previously told us he knew our Professor of Shariah and knew he was involved with some shady dealings. As things turned out and with the ability to meet face-to-face, we were pleased to have it confirmed that the miscreant in question was not our friend. No doubt these two men will end up working quite closely together as things develop.

To put this in perspective, you have to understand that our “meeting room” is the Gilarmi Coffee Shop. EJ spent “the whole day” sitting at one table or another, moving from one set of guests to the next, always listening attentively and always trying to provide wise input to the various situations. As we walked home late in the evening, the pace of the day caught up and poor EJ was straight off to bed, exhausted.

Keep in mind that this is just one day and you might get some idea of just how dynamic the situation actually is here. We’re sorry we cannot wisely share more with you now but we’re pleased to share what we can. Things are moving smartly along and there is reason for optimism even if we can’t yet quantify that word, “soon”.

NEW TREASURY SECRETARY:
HENRY M. PAULSON

Due to certain actions taken by employees and agents of the U.S. Treasury (a subsidiary of the IMF, as readers should recall) a couple of months ago, we found it necessary to write Treasury Secretary John Snow a little (but registered) note accompanied by a “10-Day Notice to Cease and Desist Actions Against the Creditor” (May 15, 2006). There were rumors of Mr. Snow’s impending departure for some time but to us it is hardly coincidental that he has left office (as of June 29, 2006 at 6:00 p.m.) and we still do not have the return postal receipt. That’s alright, we believe our point was taken because actions against the Creditor have, in fact, ceased and we expect not to be bothered by these agencies in the future. Let us hope Mr. Snow has taken the time to inform his successor, Henry M. Paulson, because at this point we are pleased to let things settle without assessing damages and without need for a Public Notice or further attention than this brief paragraph.

SWINDLED BY A SWEDE

As we were walking to a destination in the business district, a distraught Swede approached us asking if we knew where a certain address was. I didn’t have a clue but EJ knew: it was a few miles away. According to “Peter” (surely not his name but that was the label he chose), a Filipino told him it was within easy walking distance. You can walk a few blocks in 90 degrees with 90% humidity alright but any more than that there is a very real risk of exposure, especially without a sun umbrella or head covering. “Within easy walking distance” seemed more like suicide instructions or possibly, it occurred to me, one of the oppressed people’s ways of getting back at one of the oppressor-class.

As an aside: There seems to be a lot of just-below-the-surface hostility here—and who can blame the Filipinos? Not me, not after witnessing a society which has been allocated just $340 per person by the Money Masters with the average individual living on just 35 pesos (less than 70 cents) per day.

“Oh, no!” said Peter and went on to describe how his wallet had been stolen and along with it all of his ID and most importantly, his credit card. The address he gave was, he said, the location of the credit card company where he could get his card replaced and some temporary cash. He had only 40 pesos (less than a dollar), he said. That was enough for the train and EJ showed Peter where the nearest train depot was. “Have a heart, EJ,” I thought and I pulled out 1,000 pesos (less than $20), gave it to Peter and told him he should take a taxi. He was overwhelmed! Tears flowed down his cheeks and he gave me a big hug and promised repeatedly he would get the money back to me “on Monday”. EJ just looked at me with his wise old eyes and I thought, “Nah, no way. No way is this guy a con; not with those tears.”

EJ, who had given Peter his business card, predicted we would hear from him soon and often—and sure enough, we did. But he was smooth, never directly asking for anything. Too bad for him that EJ, who has seen more attempted scams than most, was on the other end of the line, always wishing him well but never offering him a place to stay or additional funds, no matter how Peter worked his angles. By Sunday afternoon Peter must have figured out that things weren’t going to go any further his way because the calls stopped. Monday came and went and EJ quietly commented we probably wouldn’t hear from Peter the Swede ever again. And so we haven’t.

So, two months in the Philippines and the only person who has ripped me off is a SWEDE! Ha, ha, this yoke’s on me. I’d better keep EJ close by, especially when dealing with treacherous foreigners!

UNPUBLISHED JOURNALS
NOW AVAILABLE

After seven years of holding out for payment for his services rendered, Dr. Al Overholt finally relented and provided over one hundred of the unpublished journals—to Emil Mulhausen and the miscreants at <FourWinds10.com> and <PhoenixArchives.com>! Thanks, Al; it must have been very wearying and wearing on you to withhold the Word from the World for so long.

These unpublished journals are now posted on the PhoenixSourceDistributors.com website and all readers with Internet access are strongly encouraged to download and read them. Some day we will have the resources to publish them properly and we thank Dr. Tracy for being willing to put them into ready-for-printing format with his invaluable indexing skills.

The <PhoenixSourceDistributors.com> website now has a site-specific search engine which should be able to index much of the site’s many GIGabytes of information. For some reason, however, Google has not indexed the PSD website. Just today we tried to search for “Phoenix Source Distributors” and it is nowhere to be found on Google, even though it has reasonably good placement on other search engines. Searching for specific blocks of text from the home page yields ZERO results on Google, while the gods of Internet searching present the miscreants’ websites with most favorable rankings. Hmmm . . . The Truth SHALL out, in due course.

TALLANO FOUNDATION
GETTING ATTENTION

While we’re discussing websites, the following should be of very great interest to at least 85 million people in this part of the world: A search for “Tallano Foundation” turned up, on the first page of results, the official website of the government of the Philippines! As it turns out there is a Forum section of the site where several Filipinos were discussing the issues perceived to surround OCT 01-4 and Julian Morden Tallano.

We expect Cenon Marcos, President of the Foundation, to be doing some interesting “surfing” with his new computer soon, engaging in Tagalog discussions with his interested countrymen who will, no doubt, very much enjoy what he has to say.

We have encountered another “Foundation” which has in its articles a declaration that it exists “for the benefit of the Filipino people” and, believe it or not, we are quite impressed with the management. In the long run, these apparently “competing foundations” are NOT competing at all; it just appears to be our Father’s big hand at work preparing an alternative, in case it is needed or desirable.

The Tallano Foundation clearly has stronger legal underpinnings inasmuch as it was formed pursuant to Judge Agana’s orders for the specific purpose of administering the assets relating to OCT 01-4. The fact that Prince Julian Morden Tallano finally did form the Foundation as ordered is only enhanced by the fact that he has subsequently managed to get himself removed from the management team after many years of malfeasance at his countrymen’s expense and burden.

VK DURHAM BLATHERING CEASES

We’re not going to say that VK Durham is a covert operative or anything but we sure are thankful she has ceased and desisted from further efforts to impair and impede the Global Alliance initiative. It’s probably just a coincidence nothing has been posted on the <antechamber.net> website since May 28, 2006. Right?

If there is a resumption of the VKD nonsense, we should soon be in a position to obtain some discovery and it will be very interesting to see exactly what crawls out from under those overturned rocks. As we have noticed: “Damages and penalties assessed and invoiced for non-compliance ... are to be paid by the individuals responsible and not from the Public Trust.” Truth in commerce, at least, ought to prevail.

INTERESTING NEWS

The “little” incorporation-services company in Nevada, Budget Corporate Renewals, is not so little any more as it is rapidly approaching a customer base of 1,000 corporations represented. Readers with proper corporate structures are probably familiar with Janet, who has done an absolutely amazing job of not only holding things together but stretching beyond her comfort zone and building the business. You might hear a new voice on the other end of the phone when you call now, as we are pleased to announce that Deanna (who used to open bank accounts at Washington Mutual for new corporations) has joined the firm. We’re talking a tremendous emphasis on customer service and satisfaction in these two star personnel.

We also want to express our great appreciation for the outstanding efforts of one who was called on to “fill the breach” with regard to newspaper lay-up and has done so, admirably. The transition to a new final-edit editor has been almost seamless, despite the fact he had to pick up and go with an entirely new bit of complicated software with which he had never worked before. Maurice has now been joined in his efforts by Jerry, who will do his best to emulate the efforts of the other “News Desk”-ers who came before him. With this kind of expansion going on, you’d almost think the Phoenix is beginning to rise?

“Stay tuned” because there is definitely a whole bunch of Light at the end of what has seemed an interminable passage through the tunnel.

Reasons For Contact and Journals

FOREWORD

LESSONS FOR NON-BUTTERFLIES
AND OTHER INTENDED
“VICTIMS” AND “CREW”

To most of you readers the following “lecture” won’t make much sense and you will “poo-poo” it and pass on by while thinking the CONTACT is the best newspaper around but the staff must be totally NUTS.

REASONS FOR CONTACT AND JOURNALS

I remind ALL of you that the paper and the journals are teaching tools—not programming tools. If anything, they should be called DEPROGRAMMING tools. TRUTH IS NEVER A “PROGRAM”; IT IS A FOUNDATION UPON WHICH YOU CAN BUILD “FOREVER”.

Since our work together began in the Fall of 1987 in this place, and the journals began to be brought public in 1989, there has been 126 of them. Yes, Ron’s newsletter reflects 104 journals. Well, some are not yet in publication (print) but are ready to roll, even to the indexes. Life, however, is what happens while we all make other plans, so those too will come. WHY? Because they are presented to teach, to awaken—first our crew and then anyone who will receive Truth. Many of you are back to serve in this evolvement BACK INTO TRUTH AND CONSTITUTIONAL FREEDOM—OR—TO BE SWEEPED UP IN THE EXPERIENCE AS IT IS. All who will truly receive TRUTH will change directions, stop tolerating within selves the lies and there can be an ocean-swell of change into Light and freedom.

Many have tried to bring the “word” and it gets buried—intentionally or exploited. Worse, the bringers often get swept up into the morass of whatever is happening and lose the truth and the path. As lies are foisted off upon you and laws are made to enforce the lies—you haven’t a chance of not being swayed except by the TRUTH BEING PRESENTED AGAIN FOR YOUR WITNESS. When you KNOW TRUTH you can find freedom; without it you are destined to never find the resolution of that which destroys soul and foundation. In this instance “I” am the teacher, Dharma but the hands upon a keyboard.

Why? Because she is human and experienced in only the same things of “life” as are you all. Further, her job is only ONE of the MANY that must be filled and utilized to do this massive task. NO “ONE” HAS A CORNER OR RIGHT TO TRUTH AND YET ALL ALONG THROUGH THE COUNTLESS AGES ONES HAVE COME AND PRESENTED TRUTH AS GIVEN UNTO THEM—ONLY TO BE THWARTED IN THE SHARING WITH HUMANITY. THIS IS NOT THE PROBLEM OF YOU WHO SERVE BUT REPERCUSSIONS, OF COURSE, SHALL FALL UPON “YOU” FOR YOU PRESENT AS THE REALITY WHEN ACTUALLY YOU ARE ONLY THE “ILLUSION” OF CONFRONTER.

There has been effort after effort for one reason or another, one person or another, one group or another, to both discount our work and word or hold it from you-the-people. It simply is the way it is. The facts are, however, that TRUTH will not be buried forever in this time of enlightenment because facts become self-evident in the passage of your perceived “time” and as other things and facts of the LIE are brought for your discernment and judgment. It is a fact that the perception of mind, and thus mind, is all there IS in actuality. When this is fully understood (not necessarily comprehended) LIFE as you experience it can change and the LIES be left behind or cast out as being unacceptable. You have heard of the “game of life”? Well, this is IT.

So, the bashing comes from ones of you who get the paper and object to the “pornography” we have “stooped to bring” as we lay forth the TRUTH of experiences AS EXPERIENCED. I didn’t make these scenarios nor do I condone them—they ARE what IS and it is not only time you face it—but fully SEE AND HEAR INSTEAD OF TURNING AWAY IN FALSE PIETY. YOU have made it possible for the atrocious mind-altering, twisted, heinous things to occur and YOU have set these very men into power over yourselves as if they somehow have right to CONTROL AND DESTROY YOUR VERY SOULS.

I care not what you in the wide audience of “a” paper may feel; it is for that reason that we have struggled in our efforts and done without resources to leave the work untainted as we present to you the experiences of others of your citizens, their insightful writings, observations and PUSHED Truth in every way we can do so.

Ah yes, we have objections and, finally, lawsuits for writing TRUTH and GIVING HONOR to the persons who put to press the “best way” or the “right way”. Those of God who have the interest, truly, of mankind’s and nations’ sovereignty—are in great appreciation for they often think they are going mad from the efforts to be heard while no one dares to write or share their work. THAT is what we are about, bringing the SELECTED few to your attention—without gain, without cult, without even “group”. We do, however, become a driving force for TRUTH and LIGHT for the masses of humanity ACTUALLY DO WANT TRUTH AND GOODNESS. You are birthed with soul AND KNOWING. You lose it as you are TRAINED AND PROGRAMMED to be otherwise. Mostly you have been made to feel helpless—BECAUSE YOU THINK YOU CANNOT KNOW. KNOW WHAT? GOD! You see, you CAN KNOW GOD but you mostly do not wish to know God because the conscience, which ALREADY KNOWS, hides in its comfort of non-action. You even make a religion of “accepting” anything so as to not “offend”! Well, I offend—I am pleased to offend and I shall hopefully awaken you so that you, too, will OFFEND EVERY EVIL BASTARD-CHILD OF SATAN/LUCIFER AND PLACE HIM/HER IN THE PIT WITH THE LYING VIPERS OF DEATH. Death? YES, for when the soul is slain or totally made captive (through the mind, always) the being is dead—DEAD! THE WORLD IS MADE UP OF THE WALKING, MOVING DEAD!

Why, though, such as this Monarch Project? Because my people confront this EVERY DAY as the enemy tries to SILENCE Truth. Since the confrontation requires that my people not be stricken “out”, the enemy only has the ONE TOOL he uses on all—the MIND. If GOD HOLDS THE MIND—no evil can come within. That assurance of “control” of self depends solely on your own control of MIND-SOULSELF.

You cannot do that ALONE in the focus-target zone of the adversary. You must, however, DO IT ALONE AS TO OTHER MANIFEST BEINGS INDIVIDUAL. Therefore, YOU MUST BECOME AWARE OF THE ENEMY’S TACTICS SO THAT YOU RECOGNIZE WHAT IS BEING DONE TO, AND TOSSED AT, YOU.

Final Warning: Part 1

The introduction to this series was presented in the June 28, 2006 issue. This series will run for at least 12 parts. Our wish is to help disseminate far and wide historical truth of the NWO. This book’s coverage of the past several centuries is a good review of the NWO plan for all Nations. We are honored to present David Rivera’s book, Final Warning: A History of the New World Order.
[QUOTING :]

FINAL WARNING:
A HISTORY OF THE NEW WORLD ORDER
By David Rivera

CHAPTER ONE
THE BIRTH OF TYRANNY, THE ILLUMINATI

When you talk about tracing the origin of an organization which is controlling the destiny of the world, it’s obvious that you have to start at a period which would allow a movement of this magnitude, time to ferment. Changes like the ones which have, and are occurring do not take place overnight. We are dealing with a group which must have been growing for a long period of time, in order to obtain the power and influence necessary to achieve the global control now being exercised. When you think of it in that context, there is such a group. The Illuminati.

The leader of the Illuminati was a man named, Dr. Adam Weishaupt, who was born on February 6, 1748, the son of a Jewish rabbi. When his father died in 1753, he was converted to Catholicism by Baron Johann Adam Ickstatt, who turned the early training of the boy over to the Jesuits. Ickstatt, in 1742, had been appointed by the Jesuits to be the curator of the University in order to reorganize it. He had retired in 1765, but still controlled its policies.

Although Weishaupt later became a priest, he developed a distinct hatred for the Jesuits, and became an atheist. Given access to the private library of Ickstatt, his godfather, the young man became interested in the works of the French philosophers, and studied law, economics, politics, and history. One such philosopher, Voltaire (1694-1778), a revolutionary who held liberal religious views, had written in a letter to King Frederick II (‘the Great’, a Mason): “Lastly, when the whole body of the Church should be sufficiently weakened and infidelity strong enough, the final blow (is) to be dealt by the sword of open, relentless persecution. A reign of terror (is) to be spread over the whole earth, and . . . continue while a Christian should be found obstinate enough to adhere to Christianity.” It is believed that Weishaupt got his ideas concerning the destruction of the Church from Voltaire’s writings. He studied in France, where he met Robespierre (who later led the French Revolution), and became friends with a few people in the French Royal Court. It is believed, that through these contacts, he was introduced to Satanism.

He graduated from the Bavarian University in Ingolstadt, Germany in 1768. He served four years as a tutor until he was promoted to Assistant Instructor. In 1770, he was chosen by Mayer Amschel Rothschild to develop an organization that he could use. In 1772, Weishaupt was made Professor of Civil Law. In 1773, he was made Professor of Canon Law, a post which had been held by the Jesuits for 90 years. They had founded most of the Universities, and kept strict control of them in order to eliminate Protestant influence.

In 1773, Weishaupt got married, against the wishes of Ickstatt, who denounced him. Two years later, at the age of 27, he was made Dean of the Faculty of Law. The Jesuits, worried about his quick progression, tried to thwart his influence by secretly plotting against him, and his liberal thinking. Not wanting to become a martyr for his free-thinking ideas, he began focusing on establishing his organization. To confuse his detractors, he based the organizational structure on the one used by the Jesuits, however, his intention was to have a secret coalition of liberalism.

He studied the anti-Christian doctrines of the Manicheans, whose teachings revolved around astrology, medicine, and magic. He had been indoctrinated into Egyptian occult practices by an unknown merchant named Kolmer, from Jutland (the area around the border of Denmark and West Germany), who had been traveling around Europe since 1771. He studied the power of the Eleusinian mysteries and the influence exerted by the secret cult of the Pythagoreans. Pythagoras was a 6th century B.C., philosopher who taught that men and women should combine their belongings—which became the basic philosophy behind Communism. Weishaupt also studied the teachings of the Essenes, and acquired copies of the Kabala, The Major Key of Solomon, and The Lesser Key of Solomon, which revealed how to conjure up demons and perform occult rituals.

He studied the various Masonic writings after meeting a Protestant Freemason from Hanover. At first he thought about creating a superior Masonic-like organization that would be made up of men possessing superior abilities in all fields but concluded that Masonry was too open.

Weishaupt was instructed by the Rothschilds (who were also said to be Satanists), to leave the Catholic Church, and unite all the different occult groups. He created the coven known as the ‘Golden Dawn’ which, to this day, is alleged to be the ‘Rothschilds’ private coven.

Weishaupt spent five years working out a plan through which all of his ideas could be reduced to a single system which would be used to fight the oppression of religion, thereby loosening social ties. He wanted to replace Christianity with a religion of reason. An initial idea was to form an organization comprised of ‘Schools of Wisdom’, whose goal was to “make of the human race, one good and happy family”. They were to strive for the perfection of morals, so he thought about naming the group the ‘Perfectibilists,’ but it lacked the air of mystery and intrigue that he sought.

In 1774, he published a fictitious article called Sidonii Apollinarus Fragment, which he said, was to prepare the people for the doctrine of reason. Weishaupt wrote: “Princes and nations will disappear without violence from the earth. The human race will then become one family, and the world will be the dwelling of rational men.” He wrote of their aims: “To make the perfecting of reasoning powers interesting to mankind, to spread the knowledge of sentiments, both humane and social, to check wicked inclinations, to stand up for suffering and oppressed virtue . . . to facilitate the acquirement of knowledge and science.”

On May 1, 1776, under the direction of the newly formed House of Rothschild (and Wessely, Moses, Mendelssohn; and the Bankers, Itzig, Friedlander, and Meyer), who instigated the American Revolution to weaken Great Britain, Weishaupt founded the Ancient Illuminated Seers of Bavaria, which became known as the Order of the Illuminati. Weishaupt said that the name was derived from Luciferian teachings, and means, ‘Holders of the Light.’ In Latin, it means, the ‘enlightened ones’. In layman’s terms, it means ‘to illuminate’, or ‘to give light’. It refers to someone who is enlightened, spiritually and intellectually. Satan, when he was an angel, was known as Lucifer, the ‘Bearer of Light’, and being that the group’s name evolved from this, we can see the underlying nature of its goals. In addition, May 1st was a great day for all communist nations, where it was known as May Day; and it is also known as a special day to witches.

There were some earlier groups, with similar names, such as a group known as the ‘Illuminated Ones’ which was founded by Joachim of Floris in the 11th century, who taught a primitive, supposedly Christian doctrine of “poverty and equality”. The Rosheniah, or ‘Illuminated Ones’, (which was influenced by an earlier group known as the Eastern Ismaelites, after Ismael, the son of Jaaffer; Batiniyeh, ‘internal’ or ‘secret’; or just by their nickname, the ‘Assassins’) was a group in Afghanistan during the 16th century, who sought the ‘illumination’ from the Supreme Being, who wanted a class of perfect men and women. After reaching the fourth degree, ‘Enlightened One’, the initiate would receive mystical powers, and when the eighth and final degree was reached, they were told they had achieved perfection. An Afghan scholar said that their purpose was to influence people of importance to establish harmony in the world, and were devoted to fight the tyranny of the Moguls, who were the rulers of India. The group survived until the 1700s

The Alumbrados (‘enlightened’ or ‘illuminated’) was a mysterious movement in Spain during the 16th and 17th centuries that believed that when a person achieved a certain degree of perfection, they experienced a vision of God, and then entered into direct communication with the Holy Spirit. At this point the soul would enter a state of limbo—not advancing or going back. Once this level was achieved, a person didn’t have to perform any good works or get involved in any religious activity, because they had received the ‘light’. Once they had received the ‘light,’ they would possess superior human intelligence. Their members mainly came from reformed Franciscans, and the Jesuits. Their unusual claims caused them to be criticized and harassed, and the Inquisition issued Edicts against them in 1568, 1574, and 1623. Ignatius de Loyola, founder of the Jesuits, was put in jail for being a member. This condemnation forced the movement into France, where in 1654 they surfaced as the Illuminated Guerinets.

The ‘Illuminati’ was the name of an occultic German sect that existed in the 15th century that professed to possess the ‘light’ received from Satan. It was also the name of an organization that was influenced by the writings of Emanuel Swedenborg, which was established in 1760 at Avignon. This Swedenborgian philosophy also produced the Illuminated Theosophists in 1766 at Paris, then later in London, but was short lived.

Although it would certainly make for a more interesting story, there is no documentation to suggest that Weishaupt’s Order of the Illuminati is a continuation of any of these groups. However, whether their teachings and philosophy had an influence on him is another question. Most assuredly, there is a spiritual lineage that ties them all together.

Starting with only five members (Weishaupt, and his inner circle—his friend Kollmer, Francis Dashwood of the Satanic Hellfire Club, Alphonse Donatien DeSade from whose name we get the word “sadism”, and Meyer Amschel Rothschild), the Illuminati wasn’t fully operational until 1778.

Weishaupt wrote: “The great strength of our Order lies in its concealment, let it never appear, in any place in its own name, but always covered by another name, and another occupation. None is fitter than the three lower degrees of Freemasonry; the public is accustomed to it, expects little from it, and therefore takes little notice of it.” He also wrote: “For the Order wishes to be secret, and to work in silence, for thus it is better secured from the oppression of the ruling powers, and because this secrecy gives a greater zest to the whole.”

The Order was made up of three degrees: Novice, Minerval, and Illuminated Minerval. It was organized in a manner similar to Freemasonry and the Jesuits. Even though he admired the structure of the Jesuit hierarchy, he wrote that no ex-Jesuits were to be admitted, except by special permission. He wrote that they “must be avoided as the plague”. Their rites and ceremonies were similar to that of the Masons. Their aim, he said, was to have a one-world government, to allow the elite to govern the world, thus preventing future wars. One of their early programs was to distribute anti-religious material to criticize clerical leaders, who they saw as obstacles to social progress, and to oppose the “enemies of the human race and of society”. Weishaupt wrote: “How can the weak obtain protection? Only by union, but this is rare. Nothing can bring this about but hidden societies. Hidden schools of wisdom are the means which we will one day free men from their bonds . . .”

All members were required to adopt classical names. Weishaupt was called ‘Spartacus’ (who had been the leader of the slave insurrection in ancient Rome). His right-hand man, Xavier von Zwack, a lawyer to Prince von Salm, was known as ‘Cato’; Nicolai, the bookseller, was ‘Lucian’; Professor Westenreider was ‘Pythagoras’; Canon Hertel was ‘Marius’; Marquis di Constanza was ‘Diomedes’; Massenhausen was ‘Ajar’ Baron von Schroeckenstein was ‘Mohomed’; and Baron von Mengenhofen was ‘Sylla’.

Their headquarters was in Munich, Germany, and known as the Grand Lodge of the Illuminati (or Lodge of the Grand Orient)—code-named ‘Athens’. Among their other four lodges: Ingolstadt was known as ‘Ephesus’, Heidelberg as ‘Utica’, Bavaria as ‘Achaia’, and Frankfurt was known as ‘Thebes’.

The calendar was reconstructed, and the months known by names reminiscent of the Hebrew language: January was known as ‘Dimeh’, and February as ‘Benmeh’, etc. They dated their letters according to the Persian Era, named after the king who began to rule in Persia in 632 B.C., Jezdegerd. Their new year began on March 21st, which some sources say is New Years Day for witches.

In 1777, Weishaupt joined the Eclectic Masonic lodge ‘Theodore of Good Counsel’ in Munich, and towards the end of 1778, he came up with the idea of merging the Illuminati and the Masons. Zwack became a Mason on November 27, 1778, and working with a brother Mason, Abbé Marotti, he divulged the secret of the Order. By the middle of 1779, the Munich Masonic lodge was under the complete influence of the Illuminati.

During the first four years, about 60 active members had been recruited by a committee known as the ‘Insinulators’, and close to 1,000 had become indirectly affiliated with the Order. Soon, three more lodges were established.

Few knew the supreme direction of the Order. Only those within the inner circle, known as the ‘Areopagite’ (meaning ‘Tribunal’), were aware of their true purpose. To all others, Weishaupt said that he wanted a one-world government to prevent all future wars.

The book World Revolution (by Nesta Webster) stated: “The art of Illuminism lay in enlisting dupes as well as adepts, and by encouraging the dreams of honest visionaries or the schemes of fanatics, by flattering the vanity of ambitious egotists, by working on unbalanced brains, or by playing on such passions as greed and power, to make men of totally divergent aims serve the secret purpose of the sect.”

Foolish, naive people, with money to burn, were especially welcomed. Weishaupt wrote: “These good people swell our numbers and fill our money box; set yourselves to work; these gentlemen must be made to nibble at the bait . . . But let us beware of telling them our secrets, this sort of people must always be made to believe that the grade they have reached is the last.” Weishaupt explained: “One must speak sometimes in one way, sometimes in another, so that our real purpose should remain impenetrable to our inferiors.” And what was that purpose? It was “nothing less than to win power and riches, to undermine secular or religious government, and to obtain the mastery of the world”.

Initiates were told that the Order represented the highest ideals of the Church, that Christ was the first advocate of Illuminism, and his secret mission was to restore to men the original liberty and equality they had lost in the Garden of Eden. Weishaupt said that Christ exhorted his disciples to despise riches in order to prepare the world for the community of goods that would do away with property ownership.

Weishaupt wrote to Zwack: “The most admirable thing of all is that great Protestant and reformed theologians (Lutherans and Calvinists) who belong to our Order really believe they see in it the true and genuine mind of the Christian religion”. However, when one of Weishaupt’s followers would reach the higher degrees, their secret was revealed: “Behold our secret . . . in order to destroy all Christianity, all religion, we have pretended to have the sole true religion . . . to deliver one day the human race from all religion.”

Women were also enlisted. He wrote: “There is no way of influencing men so powerful, as by means of women. These should therefore be our chief study; we should insinuate ourselves into their good opinion, give them hints of emancipation from the tyranny of public opinion, and of standing up for themselves . . .” He also wrote: “This sex has a large part of the world in their hands.” Female members were divided into two groups: one group of society women, to give the organization an air of respectability; and the other group “who would help to satisfy those brothers who have a penchant for pleasure”. The Illuminati also used monetary and sex bribery to gain control of men in high places, then blackmailed them with the threat of financial ruin, public exposure, and fear of death.

Internal fighting soon developed because of Weishaupt’s thirst for power. Besides that, because only nominal dues were collected, the Order suffered financially.

In 1780, a new member, Baron Franz Friedrich Knigge (1752-1796), was recruited, and given the pseudonym of ‘Philo’. Knigge was born on October 16, 1752. He studied law at Gottingen, served in the courts of Hesse-Cassel and Weimar, and was a well-known writer of romance, poetry and philosophy. He joined the Masonic lodge of Strict Observance, which was dedicated to the elimination of the occult sciences, which were widely practiced. Unable to do that, they were forced to accept it. Knigge achieved the rank of Brother Commander, and had the title of Knight of the Swan. He assisted in the establishment of a new Masonic lodge at Hanau. Because of his developing exposure and interest in the occult, magic and alchemy, he joined the Rosicrucians, a secret organization that dated back to the fourteenth century, and reportedly was an occult group who participated in human sacrifice rituals.

He later renounced alchemy, and devoted his studies to the development of a form of Masonry that would allow man to regain the perfection they once had before the fall of Adam and Eve. His idea was to reform Masonry, and he was going to make these proposals at the Congress of Wilhelmsbad. However, the Marquis of Constanza (known as “one of the most notorious of the Illuminati”) informed him that the Illuminati had already done that. In order to lure him, Weishaupt portrayed the Order as representing the greatest advancement in science, and dedicated to philosophical advancement. Since this fell in line with Knigge’s thinking, he was drawn into the Order.

Knigge was definitely a catch, because he had a talent for organization, and soon became the head of the Westphalia Circle. He was instrumental in pushing for a merger between the Masons and the Illuminati. Weishaupt wrote of him: “Philo is the master from whom to take lessons; give me six men of his stamp and with them I will change the face of the Universe . . . Philo does more than we all expected, and he is the man who alone will carry it all through.”

Knigge was firmly supported by members of the Areopagite, who felt that Weishaupt’s supreme authority should be delegated to others, and they agreed with Knigge’s proposed modifications for the organization. They were adopted on July 9, 1781. Knigge was able to recruit the most effective propagandists, and from 1780 on, the growth of the Order was very rapid because its expansion was facilitated through its affiliation with the Masonic lodges.

Their goal was now to achieve their aims by splitting mankind into opposing ideologies, and for them to fight among themselves, thus weakening national governments and organized religion.

An understanding was finally reached between the Masons and the Illuminati, and on December 20, 1781, a combined Order was proposed, which would add to the Illuminati organization, the first three degrees of Masonry. It wasn’t until the Congress of Wilhelmsbad from July 16th to August 29th, 1781 (which was attended by Masons, Martinistes, and representatives from other secret organizations from Europe, America and Asia), that the alliance was official. Those at the meeting were put under oath not to reveal anything. Comte de Virieu, a Mason from the Martiniste lodge at Lyons, upon his return home, when questioned about the Congress, said: “I will not confide them to you. I can only tell you that all this is very much more serious than you think. The conspiracy which is being woven is so well thought out, that it will be, so to speak, impossible for the Monarchy and the Church to escape it.” He later denounced the Illuminati, and became a devout Catholic.

Because of a movement begun by Dohm’s book Upon the Civil Amelioration of the Condition of the Jews in 1781, and a book by Mirabeau in London, a resolution was passed at the Congress to allow Jews into the Lodges. It was obvious that it was done for financial reasons, because the Illuminati moved their headquarters to Frankfurt, Germany, a stronghold of Jewish finance. As the Order spread throughout Germany, money was contributed from such leading Jewish families as the Oppenheimers, Wertheimers, Schusters, Speyers, Sterns, and of course, the Rothschilds. Gerald B. Winrod wrote in his book Adam Weishaupt: A Human Devil that “of the thirty-nine chief sub-leaders of Weishaupt, seventeen were Jews”. Arguments that the Illuminati was solely of Jewish origin, are completely unfounded.

After the Congress of Wilhelmsbad, the Illuminati functioned under the following organizational structure:

THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD

No other name has become more synonymous with the Illuminati than the Rothschilds. It is believed that the Rothschild family used the Illuminati as a means to achieving their goal of world-wide financial dominance. Mayer Amschel Rothschild (1743-1812) was born in Frankfurt-on-the-Main in Germany, the son of Moses Amschel Bauer, a banker and goldsmith. Their name was derived from the ‘red shield’ (‘rotschildt’) that hung over the door of their shop, and had been the emblem of revolutionary Jews in Eastern Europe. A few years after his father’s death, he worked as a clerk in a Hanover bank, which was owned by the Oppenheimers. He became a junior partner, and soon left to take over the business started by his father in 1750. He bought and sold rare coins, and later succeeded in buying out several other coin dealers.

In 1769, he became a court agent for Prince William IX of Hesse-Kassel, who was the grandson of George II of England, a cousin to George III, a nephew of the King of Denmark, and a brother-in-law to the King of Sweden. Soon Rothschild became the middleman for big Frankfurt bankers like the Bethmann Brothers, and Rueppell & Harnier. After expanding his business to antiques, wineries, and the importing of manufactured materials from England, the Rothschild family began to amass a sizable fortune.

Prince William inherited his father’s fortune upon his death in 1785, which was the largest private fortune in Europe. Some of this money had come from Great Britain paying for the use of 16,800 Hessian soldiers to stop the revolution in America, because the money was never given to the troops. In 1804, the Rothschilds secretly made loans to the Denmark government, on behalf of Prince William.

In June, 1806, when Napoleon’s troops pushed their way into Germany, Prince William fled to Denmark, leaving his money with Mayer Rothschild. History tells us that Rothschild secretly buried William’s ledgers, which revealed the full extent of his wealth, a list of debtors and the interest required from them, and 600,000 pounds ($3,000,000), to keep Napoleon from confiscating it. Buderus von Carlhausen (Carl Buderus), the Treasury official who handled William’s finances, was given ‘power of attorney,’ and he in turn made Rothschild his chief banker, responsible for collecting the interest on the royal loans. Napoleon announced that all debts being paid to Prince William, were to go to the French Treasury, and offered a 25% commission on any debts that he would collect. Rothschild refused.

Developing circumstances soon allowed the Rothschilds to formulate a plan which would guarantee them the financial control of Europe, and soon the world. It began with taking advantage of the outcome of the Battle of Waterloo, which was fought at La-Belle-Alliance, seven miles south of Waterloo, which is a suburb of Brussels, Belgium. Early in the battle, Napoleon appeared to be winning, and the first secret military report to London communicated that fact. However, upon reinforcements from the Prussians, under Gebhard Blucher, the tide turned in favor of Wellington. On Sunday, June 18, 1815, Rothworth, a courier of Nathan Rothschild, head of the London branch of the family, was on the battlefield, and upon seeing that Napoleon was being beaten, went by horse to Brussels, then to Ostende, and for 2,000 francs, got a sailor to get him to England across stormy seas. When Nathan Rothschild received the news on June 20th, he informed the government, who did not believe him. So, with everyone believing Wellington to be defeated, Rothschild immediately began to sell all of his stock on the English Stock Market. Everyone else followed his lead, and also began selling, causing stocks to plummet to practically nothing. At the last minute, his agents secretly began buying up the stocks at rock-bottom prices. On June 21, at 11 PM, Wellington’s envoy, Major Henry Percy showed up at the War Office with his report that Napoleon had been crushed in a bitter eight hour battle, losing a third of his men. This gave the Rothschild family complete control of the British economy, and forced England to set up a new Bank of England, which Nathan Rothschild controlled.

However, that wasn’t the only angle he used to profit from the Battle of Waterloo. Mayer Amschel Rothschild sent some of William’s money to his son Nathan in London, and according to the Jewish Encyclopedia: “Nathan invested it in 800,000 pounds of gold from the East India Company, knowing it would be needed for Wellington’s peninsula campaign. He made no less than four profits: (1) on the sale of Wellington’s paper (which he bought at 50¢ on the dollar); (2) on the sale of gold to Wellington; (3) on its repurchase; and (4) on forwarding it to Portugal. This was the beginning of the great fortune.”

After Napoleon’s defeat, Prince William returned to resume his rule. Buderus was made a Baron, and the Rothschilds were the richest bankers in Europe.

In 1817, France, in order to get back on their feet again, secured loans from a French banking house in Ouvrard, and from the Baring Brothers in London. The Rothschilds saw their chance to get a firm grip on the French economy, and on October, 1818, Rothschild agents began buying huge amounts of French government bonds, which caused their value to increase. On November 5th, they were dumped on the open market, creating a financial panic as their value declined. Thus, the Rothschilds gained control of France.

Mayer Rothschild had established banks in England, France, and Germany. His sons, who were made Barons of the Austrian Empire, were set up to continue and expand his banking empire. Amschel Mayer Rothschild (1773-1855, who in 1838 said: “Permit me to issue and control the money of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws.”) was in charge of the bank in Frankfurt, Germany, which was known as M. A. Rothschild and Sons (which closed in 1901, after the deaths of Mayer Karl and his brother, Wilhelm Karl, the sons of Karl Mayer Rothschild). Salomon Mayer Rothschild (1774-1855) was the head of the bank in Vienna, Austria, known as S. M. Rothschild and Sons (which was closed during World War II after the Nazi occupation). Nathan Mayer Rothschild (1777-1836, who once said: “I care not what puppet is placed upon the throne of England to rule the Empire on which the sun never sets. The man who controls Britain’s money supply controls the British Empire, and I control the British money supply”) was the head of the bank in London, England, which was known as N. M. Rothschild and Sons (and has occupied the same premises since 1809, at 2 New Court, St. Swithin’s Lane in London, near the Bank of England and Stock Exchange). Karl Mayer Rothschild (1788-1868) was the head of the bank in Naples, Italy (closed in 1861). James Mayer Rothschild (1792-1868) was in charge of the bank in Paris, France, which was known as Messieurs de Rothschild Freres (whose name was changed to La Banque Rothschild in 1967).

This was the beginning of the House of Rothschild, which controlled a fortune estimated to be well over $300,000,000. Soon the Rothschilds spanned Europe with railroads, invested in coal and ironworks, financed England’s purchase of the Suez Canal, paid for oil exploration in Russia and the Sahara Desert, financed the czars of Russia, supported ‘Cecil Rhodes’ diamond operations, aided France in creating an empire in Africa, financed the Hapsburg monarchs, and saved the Vatican from bankruptcy. In this country, through their American and European agents, they helped finance Rockefeller’s Standard Oil, Carnegie Steel, and Harriman’s Railroad. Werner Sombart, in his book The Jews and Modern Capitalism, said that from 1820 on, it was the “age of the Rothschild” and concluded that there was “only one power in Europe, and that is Rothschild”. In 1913, the family fortune was estimated to be over two billion dollars.

After Mayer Rothschild died on September 19, 1812, his will spelled out specific guidelines that were to be maintained by his descendants:

1) All important posts were to be held by only family members, and only male members were to be involved on the business end. The oldest son of the oldest son was to be the head of the family, unless otherwise agreed upon by the rest of the family, as was the case in 1812, when Nathan was appointed as the patriarch.

2) The family was to intermarry with their own first and second cousins, so their fortune could be kept in the family, and to maintain the appearance of a united financial empire. For example, his son James (Jacob) Mayer married the daughter of another son, Salomon Mayer. This rule became less important in later generations as they refocused family goals and married into other fortunes.

3) Rothschild ordered that there was never to be “any public inventory made by the courts, or otherwise, of my estate . . . Also I forbid any legal action and any publication of the value of the inheritance”.

American and British Intelligence have documented evidence that the House of Rothschild, and other International Bankers, have financed both sides of every war, since the American Revolution. Financier Haym Salomon, who supported the patriots during the American Revolution, then later made loans to James Madison, Thomas Jefferson, and James Monroe, was a Rothschild agent. As explained earlier, during the Napoleonic Wars, one branch of the family funded Napoleon, while another financed Great Britain, Germany, and other nations. Their boldest maneuver came prior to the Civil War.

The Rothschilds operate out of an area in the heart of London, England, the financial district, which is known as ‘The City,’ or the ‘Square Mile’. All major British banks have their main offices here, along with branch offices for 385 foreign banks, including 70 from the United States. It is here that you will find the Bank of England, the Stock Exchange, Lloyd’s of London, the Baltic Exchange (shipping contracts), Fleet Street (home of publishing and newspaper interests), the London Commodity Exchange (to trade coffee, rubber, sugar and wool), and the London Metal Exchange. It is virtually the financial hub of the world.

Positioned on the north bank of the Thames River, covering an area of 677 acres or one square mile (known as the “wealthiest square mile on earth”), it has enjoyed special rights and privileges that enabled them to achieve a certain level of independence since 1191. In 1215, its citizens received a Charter from King John, granting them the right to annually elect a mayor (known as the Lord Mayor), a tradition that continues today.

Both E. C. Knuth, in his book Empire of the City, and Des Griffin, in his book Descent into Slavery, stated their belief that ‘The City’ is actually a sovereign state (much like the Vatican), and that since the establishment of the privately owned Bank of England in 1694, ‘The City’ has actually become the last word in the country’s national affairs, with Prime Minister, Cabinet, and Parliament becoming only a front for the real power. According to Knuth, when the queen enters ‘The City’, she is subservient to the Lord Mayor (under him, is a committee of 12-14 men, known as ‘The Crown’), because this privately-owned corporation is not subject to the Queen, or the Parliament.

There seems to be little doubt that the Rothschilds continue to influence the world economy, and it is known that they are squarely behind the movement to unite all the western European nations into a single political entity, which is just another step towards one-world government.

FREEMASONRY

Freemasons, or Masons, are members of a secret fraternal order known as the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, whose goals are, supposedly, to promote brotherhood. One of the major sourcebooks of Masonic doctrine is Morals and Dogma of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Masonry, written in 1871 by Albert Pike, and considered to be the “Masons guide for daily living”. In it, he writes: “Masonry is a search after Light”

According to early Masonic manuscripts, its origins can be traced back to Adam, who was said to be the first Mason. The apron of Masonry allegedly represents the fig leaves worn by Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. The knowledge received by Adam after eating from the forbidden tree, was carried on by his son Seth, and then Nimrod (who was responsible for the Tower of Babel), the great-grandson of Noah. Dr. Albert Mackey (33rd Degree), in writing his Encyclopedia of Freemasonry, referred to the ‘York manuscript, No. 1’ that contained information from a parchment dating back to the year 1560, which identified Babylon as the originator of Masonry. He also cited the Cooke Manuscript (“The Legend of the Craft”, which was written in 1420, and is said to be the second oldest Masonic manuscript), which reveals that Nimrod taught the craft of Masonry to the workers at the Tower of Babel. When God confused their language, these secrets were said to be lost.

When King Solomon was building the Temple, it is taught that Freemasonry was revived. Mackey said that the “Masonic Lodges were initially dedicated to King Solomon, because he was our first Most Excellent Grand Master”. However, Martin L. Wagner revealed in An Interpretation of Freemasonry that the “name Solomon is not the Israelitish king. It is the name in form, but different in its meaning. It is a substitute . . . a composite, Sol-om-on, the names of the sun in Latin, Indian and Egyptian, and is designed to show the unity of several god-ideas in the ancient religions, as well as with those of Freemasonry”.

A story recounted in Masonic tradition, has to do with Hiram Abiff, a Syrian Master Mason, known as the architect of Tyre, who was said to be hired by Solomon to build the Temple. He was killed by three Fellow-Crafts, when he would not reveal the secret Masonic word (so they could get Master’s wages in foreign countries), which was engraved on a gold triangle he wore around his neck. Solomon found the triangle, and had it placed in a secret vault under the Temple. Abiff later became a Christ-like figure to the Masons. Mackey said that “Hiram represent(s) a popular Syrian god against whom the champions of Jehovah (the Jews) strove ceaselessly”. Another Mason, Daniel Sickles, correlates him with an Egyptian god, and Pierson’s Traditions of Freemasonry said that he actually represented all of the pagan sun gods, as does Mackey’s Lexicon of Freemasonry. What this does, is to relate the message that it was the sun god who was the builder of the Temple, which makes this Temple symbolic, and not to be confused with the Jewish Temple. Pike said in his Morals and Dogma, that the “Temple of Solomon presented a symbolic image of the Universe; and resembled, in its arrangements and furniture, all the temples of the ancient nations that practiced the mysteries.”

In ancient Greece, there were organized groups, or guilds (like our unions), such as the ‘Dionysiacs,’ and in Rome, the ‘Collegium Muriorum’, who built the temples and stadiums. These groups, who were the forerunners of the Masons, were the draftsmen, builders, carpenters, and craftsmen who erected the huge cathedrals, castles, abbeys and churches during the Middle Ages. Because they ‘lodged’ or lived together during the construction, this is where the term ‘masonic lodge’ was originated.

The First Grand Lodge of England met at York in 926, where they adopted handsigns and passwords to identify themselves. Their workplace, or Lodges, was where their initiations, rites, rituals and ceremonies took place. Within their inner circles, witchcraft was practiced.

In the 13th century, they formed an association, headquartered at Cologne, with Lodges at Strasbourg, Vienna, and Zurich. They called themselves Free Masons, and had ceremonies for initiation. Near the end of the 16th century, people who weren’t builders, were admitted into the fraternity, and were called ‘Accepted’ Masons. They were usually distinguished members of the community, or in short, a source of funding. Becoming more symbolic, the working masons and builders eventually quit, as did the Accepted Masons, who had become disappointed at what the organization really was.

THE BRUTTON VAULT

Sir Francis Bacon (1561-1626), an English Lord, the son of Elizabeth I, was recognized as the “founder of Free Masonry . . . the guiding light of the Rosicrucian Order, the members of which kept the torch of the true universal knowledge, the Secret Doctrine of the Ages, alive during the dark night of the Middle Ages”. Fluent in many languages, it has been believed by some that he was one of the editors of the King James Version of the Bible, as well as the true author of the plays attributed to William Shakespeare. He had been initiated by a secret society of intellectuals dedicated to civil and religious freedom. In his book Instauratio Magna, he wrote of a movement to “reorganize the sciences and restore man to the mastery over nature that he was conceived to have lost by the fall of Adam”.

Bacon’s novel, New Atlantis, published in 1627, a year after his death, by his secretary William Rawley, represented his vision for a new “Golden Age”. It was about a crew of shipwrecked sailors who arrived on the shores a mysterious, unknown land, whose people had a much higher developed culture and possessed a technology unlike anything they had ever seen. He talked about buildings a half a mile high, flying machines, underwater vehicles, and a government of philosopher-scientists working in behalf of an enlightened group of people who were committed to learning, and a higher level of achievement.

Manly Palmer Hall (1901-1990), founder of the Philosophical Research Society in 1934, and one of the foremost experts in the realm of the metaphysical and the occult, authored over 200 books, and in six decades delivered more than 8,000 lectures. In his 1944 book The Secret Destiny of America, he revealed that even though the New Atlantis had been completed, the entire version was never published. He wrote: “The final (unpublished) chapters revealed the entire pattern secret societies had been working on for thousands of years to achieve the ideal commonwealth in the political world.” It included details for nurturing the “New Order of the Ages”, how this long range “Great Plan” would restore mankind to the original state that was intended to reflect the inner philosophical tradition of Freemasonry, and proposed timetables.

In The Secret Destiny of America Hall also wrote: “There exists in the world today, and has existed for thousands of years, a body of enlightened humans united in what might be termed, an Order of the Quest. It is composed of those whose intellectual and spiritual perceptions have revealed to them that civilization has a secret destiny . . . The outcome of this ‘secret destiny’ is a World Order ruled by a King with supernatural powers. This King was descended of a divine race, that is, he belonged to the Order of the Illumined for those who come to a state of wisdom than belong to a family of heroes—perfected human beings.”

The full-length version (which included the missing chapters) was taken to Jamestown in 1635 by his descendant Nathaniel Bacon, where it was buried under the altar of the old brick church. In 1676, it was moved to Williamsburg, Virginia, where it was buried “in a great vault beneath the tower center of the first brick church in Bruton Parish”. The current church, known as the Bruton Parish Church (which was declared a National Historic Landmark), was built in 1715, and within the grounds of its graveyard (the site of the original church), and is where the Bruton Vault is located.

It is believed by many serious researchers that Sir Francis Bacon faked his death (actually dying in 1684), and constructed the vault with the help of his Wild Goose Club. It is a 10 ft. by 10 ft. brick vault, possibly part of an underground Freemasonry Lodge that is buried 20 ft. deep, and marked by certain strategically placed encoded memorials in the cemetery above. The reason for the Rockefellers making such an investment to restore the town of Colonial Williamsburg, was the prospect of locating the fabled vault, which had three tunnels leading to it from homes in the area. Fortunately, ownership of the grounds remain in the hands of the Page and Bray families.

Deposited along with the unabridged copy of the New Atlantis were other secret documents, including ancient writings that had been in the possession of certain secret societies. One such artifact was the ‘Book of Thoth’, which had been retrieved from a golden box out of an inner sanctuary in an ancient Egyptian temple. Known as the ‘Sacred Torch’, the most important document ever given to Man, it is believed that anyone who is able to decipher it will have their consciousness enhanced to the point that they will be able to see the invisible Immortals and enter the presence of the Superior Gods. Manley Hall wrote in his book, The Secret Teachings of All Ages that the Book “was lost to the Ancient World with the decay of the Mysteries, but its faithful initiates carried it sealed to another land. The book is still in existence . . .”.

The vault also contains instructions, maps, and documents that lead to 144 sacred burial sites of certain forefathers, patriots and early leaders in our country that in turn contain original writings, diaries and documentation that will prove how history has been rewritten today to reflect the biased political views of certain leaders in this country. Hall wrote in The Secret Destiny of America: “Not only were the founders of the United States Government Masons, but they received aid from a secret and august body existing in Europe, which helped them to establish this country for a peculiar and particular purpose known only to the initiated few.”

Masonry was not always as it appears today. Many early Christian patriots during the foundational period of American history were part of the predominate York Rite, which promoted values, ethics, and brotherhood among its members. It has been reported that true Freemasonry Lodges were established in the cellars of Episcopalian and Presbyterian Churches. It was the Illuminati infiltration of the American Fraternal Lodges by the Jesuit-spawned Scottish Rite that moved through the ranks like a virus to take them over from within.

It is believed that the vault also contains a quantity of gold, an original edition of the supposed Bacon-edited King James Bible, inventions that were ahead of its time, and a device that will enable their codes to be deciphered.

There is some evidence to indicate that handwritten copies of certain documents were made during the administration of President Washington and hidden at a remote location in Virginia.

According to Colin Dyer in his book Symbolism in Craft Masonry, in 1804, Thomas Jefferson (3rd President) was the last person to examine the contents of this vault. It was believed that the contents were removed and placed in a secret location either at the University of Virginia (founded by Jefferson), or the capitol building in Washington, D.C. However, Manley Hall became a leading proponent for the Bruton Vault as being the location of this sacred repository. His quest to protect it from falling into the wrong hands cost him his life, because he was strangled to death by two members of the Skull and Bones Society—Morgan Brandt and Daniel Fritz. Luckily all of his research notes, documents, maps, books, photos, and artifacts relating to 50 years of work on the vault had already been sent to a secret location in Russia.

In The Secret Destiny of America Hall wrote: “America’s true destiny will remain a secret as long as great masses of people have no knowledge whatsoever that enlightened humanitarians through thousands of years have in their own and succeeding generations remained united on the high purpose of eventually instituting democratic rule throughout the world. It is necessary to know, too, that it was anciently planned that leadership would fall to America—to a nation established on the Northern continent of the Western Hemisphere . . . Long before Columbus, they were aware of the existence of the Western hemisphere, and selected it to be the site of the philosophic empire. The American continent was set apart for establishing here a great democratic nation, centuries before the founding fathers and colonists envisioned the Union”

When President Theodore Roosevelt visited the site, and learned of its significance, he vowed to protect it, and out of appreciation, he was honored by having his image placed on Mount Rushmore. David Rockefeller and Queen Elizabeth have shown a particular interest in the vault’s contents.

The contents of the Bruton Vault are priceless, and considered so important that it is referred to as the ‘Seventh Seal’.

A group known as Sir Francis Bacon’s Sages of the Seventh Seal have been the driving force behind the movement to uncover the vault. Though there were unsuccessful attempts in 1938 (which did discover the original church foundations) and 1992, they now believe that a spiral staircase exists beneath the pyramid-shaped monument that marks the centuries-old graves of David and Elizabeth Bray, and leads to the vault, which they refer to as a “Freemasonry library”. Armed with new evidence from their continued research, the group has lobbied the Rev. Herman Hollerith IV, rector of the Episcopal Church, to authorize a new, controlled, archeological dig, to raise the vault, so that its contents can be studied, and protected from forces hostile to the information it contains.

THE GROWTH OF THE MASONIC MOVEMENT

Inigo Jones (1573-1652) reorganized the Lodges, introducing the Descartes rationalism, and they were now known as the Free and Accepted Masons. Elias Ashmole, a banker, Rosicrucian, and founder of the Oxford Museum, who became a Mason in 1648, established the three basic degrees:

- 1) Entered Apprentice

2) Fellow-Craft

3) Master Mason
- On June 24, 1717, the four lodges in London were united into a Grand Lodge (sometimes called the Grand Mother Lodge) by three members who met at the Apple Tree Tavern, thus beginning the era of modern Freemasonry. Rather than being a guild of stone masons and builders, they altered their philosophy and became a pseudo-religion who “tried to cooperate with the Church so as to be able to work from the inside, rationalize the doctrine of Jesus and empty it gradually of its mystical content. Freemasonry hoped to become a friendly and legal heir to Christianity. They considered logic and the rules of scientific thinking as being the only absolute and permanent element of the human mind”. By 1725, the movement had spread to France.
- The members of the Grand Lodge of England brought their fraternity to America. In 1730, Daniel Core was appointed Provincial Grand Master of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, after the first lodge was established in Philadelphia. A lodge was established in Boston in 1733. By the time of the American Revolution, there were 100

Masonic lodges. The Masons were firmly entrenched in the eastern colonies, but since 95% of the population identified themselves as Christians, they had to modify their philosophies to include Christian teachings. The Grand Lodge of the United States was established in 1777, which officially cut all ties to their British counterparts.

One writer summed up Masonry this way: “Freemasonry has incorporated bits of other systems in its initiations and higher degrees, such as mystery schools, Mithraism, the Egyptian priesthood, the system of the Pythagoreans, Essenes, Cabalists, Druids, the Orders of the Knighthood, Rosicrucians, Arabic secret societies, and the Knights Templar”.

Masonry slowly spread throughout the world: France (1718-25), Ireland (1725-26), Spain (1726-27), Holland (1731), Germany (1730-33), Africa (1735), Scotland (1736), Portugal (1736), Switzerland (1737), Italy (1733-37), Russia (1731-40), Canada (1745), Sweden (1735-48), Prussia (1738-40), Austria (1742), Poland (1784), and Mexico (1825).

Originally against the Masonic Order, Benjamin Franklin became a Mason in 1731, at the age of 25. He became the Provincial Grand Master of Pennsylvania in 1734, and was the “appointed spokesman” of the secret societies. As ambassador to France, he was honored there at a major Masonic lodge. It is believed that while he was on a diplomatic trip to Paris to seek financing for the Revolution, he was initiated as a member of the Illuminati. George Washington joined the Fredericksburg Lodge #4 in Virginia, in 1752, and when he was elected President in 1789, he was the Grand Master of the Lodge (the highest official). He took his Oath of Office on a Masonic Bible, as did his Vice-President, John Adams, who was also a Mason. This Masonic Bible from the altar of St. Johns Lodge No. 1 in New York City, which was printed in London in 1767, was later used for other Oaths administered to Harding, Eisenhower, Carter, Reagan and Bush. This Masonic Bible has an introductory section that explains that Masonry is not a Christian fraternity, but in fact supports all religions. Eight of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were also members of the Fredericksburg Lodge. Actually, 51 of the 56 signers were believed to be Masons; however, only 8 were known to be members, while another 24 were suspected of being members.

It is also believed that 8 to 10 signers of the Articles of Confederation were Masons. There were 9 Masons that signed the Constitution, while 6 others later became members. Other sources have used the figure of 13, while some have said there were as many as 28 members who signed the Constitution.

Because of the disagreement between various books and on-line sources, representing Masonic and non-Masonic sources, it’s easy to see how erroneous information becomes perpetuated as fact and truth. If the Masons can’t even nail down the specifics of their own history, then the only thing we can hope to do, is to produce as accurate of a picture as possible, based on the facts.

Among the ranks of the Masons were: Patrick Henry (not all Masonic researchers agree on this), John Hancock, Paul Revere, John Paul Jones, Alexander Hamilton, Benedict Arnold, John Marshall, Samuel Adams, Anthony Wayne, Francis Marion (‘The Swamp Fox’) and Ethan Allen. In the military, 24 of Washington’s Major Generals, and 30 of his 33 Brigadier Generals were Masons (another fact that Masonic researchers do not agree on).

It was actually the Masons who instigated and carried out the American Revolution. The secrecy of the Masonic lodges allowed the Colonial patriots to meet and discuss strategy. It was commonly believed that the reason for the Revolution was “taxation without representation’, when actually it was because the Parliament in the 1760’s passed a law that no colony could issue its own money. The colonies had to issue bonds, and sell them to the Bank, who would then loan them money. This forced the colonies to pay interest on their money. The Revolution was ignited by the Boston Tea Party, which was planned during a dinner at the Bradlee home. The participants were from the St. Andrew Lodge in Boston, who dressed up as Mohawk Indians, and went aboard the Dartmouth, which was anchored in the harbor, and dumped its load of tea overboard. The British government responded by closing the port, and sending in British troops. Empress Catherine the Great of Russia, who wasn’t controlled by the International Bankers, refused to send in 20,000 Russian troops against the colonists, when asked by King George III of England. The attack unified the colonies against England.

The Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry was established in Charleston, South Carolina in 1801, because that area was geographically located on the 33rd parallel. They are an extension of French Freemasonry, and considered liberal. In 1755, the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry had expanded to 32 degrees, and then they added a 33rd degree. In 1813, the Northern Supreme Council was established, consisting of 15 states, and was headquartered in Boston. They were an extension of English Freemasonry, and are considered conservative. The Supreme Council, which represented the Southern jurisdiction, relocated to Washington, D.C., and covers the remaining 35 states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. protectorates. It is considered the Mother Supreme Council of the World.

Among the Presidents who have been Masons: Washington, Jefferson (33rd Degree), Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Andrew Johnson (32nd Degree and Grand Master), Garfield, McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Harding (32nd Degree), Franklin Roosevelt (32nd Degree), Truman (33rd Degree and Grand Master), Eisenhower, Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson (1st Degree), Nixon, Ford (33rd Degree), Carter, Reagan (33rd Degree), and George H. W. Bush, Sr.

Many State Governors, U.S. Senators and Congressmen are Masons. The Masonic Bible says that “for well over 150 years, the destiny of this country has been determined largely by men who were members of the Masonic fraternity”.

There is about 16,000 Blue or Symbolic Lodges, with a Grand Lodge in every state, which represent more than four million members. There are 150 Grand Lodges in the world, and a world-wide membership of over 6,000,000.

Members must be 21 years old; however, sons of members can be initiated at 18. Before consideration, an initiate must prove themselves to be “mentally and physically competent, of good moral character, and believe in the existence of a Supreme Being”. Among their affiliated organizations: The Order of Demolay, The Order of Rainbow for Girls, and The Order of Job’s Daughters, which allow children as young as 11 to become indoctrinated in Masonic teaching. The Order of the Eastern Star, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Daughters of the Nile are organizations closely aligned with the Masons.

Their literature claims that “Freemasonry is not a religion even though it is a religion in character . . . does not pretend to take the place of religion nor serve as a substitute for the religious beliefs of its members . . . (and) accepts men, found to be worthy, regardless of religious convictions”. They claim that they exist “to make good men better through its firm belief in the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Man (and) consists of men bound together by bonds of Brotherly Love and Affection”.

A Study of Our Programmed Mind, Part 2

In the last issue of CONTACT parts 1 through 3 were presented of this six-part article.

We continue with Part 4 of the Mindlock series which is about our psychological mindset. You know that chosen NWO crowd’s version of how we all must think to be politically correct to fit into their stolen heritage and lifestyle.

Part 5 of Mindlock addresses the ‘gatekeepers’, the bunch chosen and paid for to keep us in our programmed psychological cage. Chosen for their literary ability to twist and distort the truth with their Master’s version of how we should even think.

Part 6 of Mindlock puts the majority of the World religion’s into perspective through the eyes of our illustrious ‘NWO energy thought-forms’, trained well to produce our history as one ongoing ‘bloody coup after another’. We thank John Kaminski for permission to reprint his articles in full.

THE MINDLOCK PART 4

IS IT US OR THEM?

WHO IS THAT STRANGER ON THE PATH?

OUR OWN SHADOW OR SOMEONE ELSE?

By John Kaminski, <JohnKaminski.com>, 6/12/06

Is it us or them? Who is that stranger on the path? Our own shadow, or someone else?

It is thus logical that all people who march in the Artificial Light, emanating from books attributed to this antique Hebrew monstrosity, must be driven by evil ethics . . . evil stemming from (the) biblical childish (mis)understanding of the world must be present also today in so called “patriotic acts” of actually ruling in USA gang of ‘neo-conservatives’. These “pious” men, trying to imitate Bible achievements of Mosaic Levies, are overtly aiming at the subjugation, leveling and uniformisation of the whole planet.

- Polish professor Marek Glogoczowski

Spirit flails impotently, wailing at the carnage and deceit. Cash registers ring, blood flows.

“Who is the third that walks beside you?” T.S. Eliot famously asked. “Who are They?” I recently inquired.

I myself believed they were merely Scythians, the nomadic invading horsemen—Genghis Khan, the Mongol horde, and that bunch—from the infinite wilds of central Asia, who scourged the fringes of Western civilization for thousands of years and eventually populated Europe. The Yiddish wave that followed, Ashkenazi remnant of the Khazar empire in southern Russia, adopted the ancient Hebrew legends as their own, created the bank that won the world in 1776, and now wields a thousand nuclear devices in the desert from where they stole their dogma.

But other people have other, more imaginative ideas.

My favorite archeocryptographer, Michael Lawrence Morton, wrote me:

IDENTIFYING THE TRIBE

John . . .

Yes . . . of course you’ve put your finger on the Jewish thing. Yes. You have.

But you still are not thinking clearly about what I’ve told you. I’ve told you that Yahweh/Jehovah is/was Enlil the Nibiruan, a military dictator and egomaniac—REAL, HISTORICAL. And that the Nibiruans are real. The so-called “gods and goddesses” are NOT “mythological”, John . . . but were/are real, flesh and blood PEOPLE . . . from another planet. They had a colony here on Earth. Etc. . . . etc.

Sitchin HIMSELF, however, is Jewish . . . and therefore can’t admit that “Yahweh/Jehovah” is NOT identifiable as “The God of All Creation”. This is Sitchin’s great flaw in his work. Otherwise . . . his work is truly great and is a monumental breakthrough. Yahweh/Enlil is/was a Nibiruan military dictator here on Earth for a LONG, LONG time . . . and his last “stand” on Earth was as the commander of The Israelites. They were CAPTIVE to him.

They were brutally mind-controlled by him. He totally brainwashed them, using all manner of torture, murder, shock ‘n awe, etc. He terrified the crap out of them. The Israelis have been ACTING-OUT on everyone ever since he left Earth around 500 B.C. in the aftermath of the Babylonian Captivity.

A traumatically abused person (or people) is going to have a very strong tendency to DO UNTO OTHERS what was done to him/her/THEM. This is Psychology 101. This is what The Jews have been doing ever since Yahweh/Enlil left Earth.

I’ve been telling you the real origins of Zionism. You need to listen to me, John. It was Enlil/Yahweh/Jehovah, himself.

I beg you to listen to this truth.

Having read nearly all of Sitchin’s output, I have some definite opinions on the matter. Slipshod scholarship and apparently deliberate mistranslations by Sitchin nevertheless do not nullify his unified vision of the spectrum of ancient belief systems. Sitchin wrote the ancient history of Earth as a 1950s sci-fi script, yet other academic studystreams tend to verify—or at least also hint at—the existence of a second human-like species on this planet. The British lecturer David Icke constantly hammers on this theme with his shapeshifters. And the Jewish holy books, and pronouncements of supposedly immortal rabbis, are quite clear on Jews being a different species from goyim humans, according to their DNA.

Whom are we to believe as we struggle to find an explanation for our species’ psychologically unsound behavior as a culture?

MUD SHADOWS

In Carlos Castaneda’s final book, The Active Side of Infinity (1998), don Juan challenges Carlos to reconcile man’s intelligence . . . with “the stupidity of his systems of beliefs . . . the stupidity of his contradictory behaviour”. Don Juan tells him of “the topic of topics”, “the most serious topic in sorcery”. This topic is predation. To the horrified astonishment of his apprentice, the elder sorcerer explains how the human mind has been infiltrated by an alien intelligence:

“We have a predator that came from the depths of the cosmos and took over the rule of our lives. Human beings are its prisoners. The predator is our lord and master. It has rendered us docile, helpless. If we want to protest, it suppresses our protest. If we want to act independently, it demands that we don’t do so . . .

Sorcerers believe that the predators have given us our systems of beliefs, our ideas of good and evil, our social mores. They are the ones who set up our hopes and expectations and dreams of success or failure. They have given us covetousness, greed and cowardice. It is the predators who make us complacent, routinary and egomaniacal.

<metahistory.org/CCandGnosis.php>

The cultural anthropologist Ernest Becker might refer to this whole topic as a transferred projection of our own internalized shadow of death, which affects everything we do. But whether the shadow is merely internal or inflicted upon us by an outside force, we may not deny that it created the psychological philosophies by which we live, and as such, those repositories of holy dogma definitely are accurate depictions of the fearful creation that is the human mind.

Thus, the Polish ontologist Marek Glogoczowski can point out that Old Testament legends have flipped good and evil on their heads, and speak of an Artificial God that venerates its own imaginary visions as good and real, and the natural order of things as evil and illusionary.

This renowned author postulates that the actual geopolitical domination of YHWH “servants” results from “a trivial cognitive swindle, consisting of the substitution of the Natural Law by an Artificial one, inserted into the Bible.”

Glogoczowski writes:

Once such (an) Aristotelian general category comprising the term YHWH is established, by logical deduction it is possible to predict the whole set of behaviors that characterize people remaining under YHWH dependence . . .

The goal of activities of these zealous YHWH “servants” turns out to be very simple, for it consists of an aggressive proliferation of “G-d chosen” gender, specialized in a collection of all earth’s riches . . .

Prior to the invention of the scripture, the statement . . . “I am who I am”—(was no) mystery: if we happen to meet someone declaring to us “I am who I am” we have a feeling that such person is trying to conceal his personality . . .

The only natural possibility of existence of such a bizarre ‘person’ inside the Bible is THAT IT IS AN ARTIFICIAL BEING, which existed only in the mind of Moses, who was hallucinating at the desert that he heard a voice from behind the burning bush. (A phenomenon commonly experienced by persons remaining in a solitude for a long time, especially in a snow or a sand desert.)

According to Glogoczowski, the consequences of worshipping the Artificial God are profound.

1. So-called Bible believers (Orthodox Jews and the majority of Protestant Christians) consider this artificial, virtual God as ‘good’. They consider thus as good something which is artificial. The opposition of ‘artificial’ is ‘natural’, thus everything which is Natural should be ‘evil’ for them: the natural light—in particular the one of Sun, symbolized by the Indo-European sign of swastika—is evil, while the artificial light is of course good, in particular the light of the Hebrew sacral candleholder Menorah.

2. YHWH worshippers . . . have since childhood been trained in contempt for all Natural Laws, which are despised by their inanimate “Master” (LORD) already in his First Commandment. These Nature Haters naturally adore Artificial Laws . . . collected in their Sacral Writings. For a man is always born as a natural living entity, the priesthood of the Artificial by an artificial rite of circumcision make male infants bear, for the rest of their lives, the hidden sign of their belonging to the Artificially Chosen People. Naturally these “chosenites” shall dwell in an artificial separation from other natural (“animal”) human subspecies. And of course the artificial, hypocrite behavior of these “chosen” is supposed to dominate over the natural, straightforward behavior of courageous and mentally healthy—and thus “goddamned”—human “animals”.

3. Natural landscape is of course evil, while the artificial one is ... pleasing to their invisible Lord. YHWH worshippers are thus enthusiastic city dwellers; they consider with contempt so called “underdeveloped” people, who live in harmony with nature. In agreement with the First Commandment of their Decalogue, all Natural Gods shall incline in front of their artificial LORD, while all animals—including “human animals”—of the earth shall or become enslaved, by their domestication, or eradicated on earth. All these remnants of “animist” (and “animalist”) past shall vanish, replaced by the Worldwide Kingdom of the Artificial, continuously illuminated with artificial lights and decorated with artificial trees and artificial flowers. This New World is supposed to be populated with artificial men-robots, making artificial love and conforming to the artificial Law, imposing everywhere their artificial culture and their artificial science. As exclaimed [it] 2.5 thousand years ago the most prominent prophet of Artificial, named Isaiah, “THERE WILL BE NEW (ARTIFICIAL) SKY AND NEW (ARTIFICIAL) EARTH”.

Mammon as the Artificial “Lord”

“All well educated historians, specialized in Antiquity, know that attempts to organize the world in a completely artificial way were present already two or even three thousand years ago”, Glogoczowski writes.

At that time the “god of artificial strength” was called Mammon, the god of wealth, worshipped in particular in Phoenicia (Carthagina) and in Israel. The miraculous “virtue” of money, which “can buy everything, including human virtues”, was described the best by the Renaissance playwright William Shakespeare in a “hymen at the glory of gold” contained in his play “Timon of Athens”. Three centuries after Shakespeare, the despised by all Jahvists Karl Marx dared to argue that “money and commerce is the true god of Israel”, and “Money has become the god of the world, in front of which all other human gods are supposed to incline”.

Glogoczowski insists countries and social groups that spend the most money are living in the most artificial manner, pleasing in this way their invisible “Lord”. Thia is especially true in the USA, where “proportional abundance of post-consumerist garbage (is) systematically transforming our Earth into a covered with rubbish wasteland”.

The Polish philosopher further notes:

As a cumulative result of continuous life in artificially “improved” conditions, which characterize in particular the Anglo-Saxon civilization, the number of people which grow obese, flabby, shortsighted, devoid of pigmentation and with diminished mental capacities is significantly higher than in countries not yet fully “developed”. It is in these “most civilized” countries we shall expect outbursts of consecutive, super-industrial, commercial and cultural pathologies. These new pathologies, like the famous American oxymoron of “war on terror”, risk . . . total devastation of our planet.

DOES WORSHIPPING GOD
CAUSE CANCER?

Glogoczowski describes the organic process in which living beings of lower complexity and intelligences start to parasite on more complex tissues as being both a description of Western civilization and an accurate explanation of cancer.

The problem is that an individual, grown without dense interactions with his “tribal” neighbours, is virtually unable to reach higher stages of his ethical . . . development, for these features (serve) as models of behaviour (for) youngsters. Once the development of a person remains artificially inhibited at the stage of so called “childish egocentrism” (like it was in the case of biblical Jacob), such person naturally starts to behave like an “alien” hostile to the collective life of his surrounding “tribe”.

The same also holds true, Glogoczowski notes, in the case of micro sections of animal tissues, which were artificially separated for a longer time from other cells active in organism’s movements.

After several weeks of “non training” by surrounding cells, these “chosen” (by their separation) groups of cells develop the tendency to form “egoistic” tumors, once they are incorporated back into parental organs.

Again, there is a parallel between the development of civilization and how cancer spreads. And in sociology . . .

Amongst Anglo-Saxon populations, considered as most developed, there is practiced a sharp separation between “rich” and “poor”, with upper classes living virtually isolated from “underdog” masses, this beginning with private schooling system for children and ending with exclusive clubs, hospitals and cemeteries for adults and seniors. As we wrote above, such an artificial separation cause that super rich start to consider the poor as “aliens” in their countries, which “artificial aliens” becoming for them the object of an exploitation only. The same happens at the microscopic scale, when lowly differentiated neo-plastic cells, which isolate themselves from more mature neighbors . . . start to consider the body hosting them as “the pasture”, permitting them the realization of their egoistic “teleonomic” goal of continuous non differentiated growth of their “super” race.

But it all comes down to . . .

. . . (The) “screen” separating the ethically non matured Chosen People from Nature is The Holy Scripture, which instructs its readers “Be fruitful and fill the earth. The fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth” (etc., see Gen. 9, 2).

If only the writer of this passage—Was it Yahweh himself?—had been possessed of the sight to admire living nature’s beauty, and remember that humans are members of the same animal world that Old Testament believers are supposed to terrorize. Glogoczowski concludes:

At the microscopic scale the “ethics” stemming from such “blessing of global terrorists” is realized the best by an ordinary tumor, which indeed is devoid of receptors permitting him to recognize higher modes of behavior of its mature neighbors.

The outlined above identity of goals (finality, teleology) of inspired by its “Lord” Judeo-Christian Civilization, with the “vegetal” goal of evolving towards malignancy tumor, permits us to imagine, what kind of future our Civilization “under G-d of Abraham, of Isaac and of Jacob” is preparing both for its members and for the surrounding “New Jerusalem” world.

An Artificial God who hates natural things? Extraterrestrial visitors who created and control us? Inklings of predatory fantasies programmed deep in our subconscious?

Will we ever honestly address the psychological poison both in our holy books and in ourselves and clearly see how they connect to the blood we spill?

As the church bells keep tolling, the blood keeps flowing, the clearest explanation of why it all keeps happening can be revealed at any time deep within the catacombs of our own hearts.

THE MINDLOCK PART 5
THE NATURE OF DISINFORMATION
‘GATEKEEPERS’ PERCEPTUAL GAP TURNS OUR LIVES INTO PREDETERMINED FICTION

By John Kaminski, <skylax@comcast.net>, 6/18/06

Have youever tried telling one of your neighbors about what you think really happened on 9/11, or in Iraq, or in New Orleans, as opposed to the way your local TV news reported it?

Observe the stress on the faces of people considering these questions? Pain, followed by evasion, and a shuffling of the feet. Most people know, but are afraid to say it.

Welcome to the gatekeepers’ perceptual gap, better known as the mindlock. As our thoughts become frozen by ambivalence and fear, no one can really answer the question of why we choose to believe lies when the truth is right in front of us.

On the one hand, the world runs on the predetermined commercial lies we are told every day. But at the same time, we also think—after first suddenly lowering our voices and glancing furtively around to make sure no one inappropriate is listening—that we don’t really believe the stories our government and TV people have told us is true.

In the silence of this dichotomy dwells the fear everyone is feeling. It is impossible to feel both things and stay sane, and the political condition of the world reflects this confusion.

This is the gap between spin and substance. It is run by the gatekeepers. Gatekeepers are those who process information but withhold some crucial detail. In pursuit of self-advantage, we are all gatekeepers, in some respects.

More recently, gatekeepers has been the word chosen to denote phony patriots like Amy Goodman and Noam Chomsky, and phony websites like Truthout, rensen.com, and 911truth, which pretend to be in hot pursuit of truth, but inevitably wind up down some dead end street with nothing to show for the words invested except debunked fantasies and endlessly debatable lists of minutia that prevent people from keeping their eye on the ball.

The key to the solution of many of the world’s problems—which is Jewish control of the money and media supply—is deliberately avoided by these gatekeepers. They hammer free speech into autism by creating laws that make no sense except to those trying to limit and control the thoughts of everyone else. And we worry ourselves into early graves, speeded along by the poisons from which so many predators profit.

Gatekeeping is intrinsic to human behavior. If you don’t love someone, or if you don’t respect them, then they very often become enemies, or prey, mostly in the financial sense. One can’t be expected to not act in one’s best interests, now can one? So that information presented by anyone becomes a probe for personal advantage. And taken species-wide, that has never kept the peace, has it? Exploitation is the lifeblood of humanity.

Trouble is . . . as Americans we grew up with a certain degree of civility, a process in which most of us truly believed. It was only when we got past 30 that it began to dawn on us that this smooth veneer of civilized society with which we had been presented was—and had been—anything but that.

It generally takes perspectives from around the world to profoundly perceive the behavior of the USA over time. Most Americans have no clue about the validity of the phrase “we are as others see us.”

Fact is, Bubba, the rest of the world sees Americans as conscienceless, drug-addled, sex-crazed killers. Yet American media portrays Cowboy Bush and his mad-dog, Israeli-coached saboteurs as heroes worthy of status and praise. Now that is the power of the Jewish media. A vivid glimpse of the gap of the gatekeepers.

Judith Miller of the New York Times single-handedly got the U.S. into the poisoned war in Iraq with her phony source stories in this beacon of American journalism a Jewish enterprise if there ever was one. William Randolph Hearst famously said, “You furnish the pictures; I’ll furnish the war”. His father hit it big in the California gold rush, and always consulted Jews before proceeding in business. Jewish-generated hatred of Muslims expressed through thousands of TV anchors into the minds of the populace got most of us to believe that Islamic terrorists ran planes into the Twin Towers. Five years later, there exists not a shred of evidence to prove this was so, except for what has been fabricated by the Israeli-controlled Pentagon.

So, where was it you said you got your information? TV and newspapers? Only now, five years later, is the Los Angeles Times running regular stories about the “possibility” of a 9/11 scam?

The deflative apparatus has been put in place. Phony Palestinian talk show hosts. Jews posing as Israeli critics. And a 9/11 skeptics movement that has been stonewalled, denigrated and ripped apart by calculated infighting. Sure, the New York Times can write condescendingly about college professor conspiracy theorists at a conference that was set up not to address the real issue in the first place.

A double layer of gatekeeping doublespeak.

So you seek refuge, some kind of sanity, on the Internet? And how do you determine who’s real and who’s not? Answer: you very often don’t.

But you know the guys on TV are fake. Just listen to how they never criticize Israel. Even as Israeli soldiers shoot Palestinian children in the head for sport. Even as our own American army is being destroyed by poison ammunition given to them by their own erstwhile leaders. Could I please have an “Amen! That’s treason!”?

Yet, the newspapers yammer on about American bravery. What is the name of the latest fabricated terrorist? Who are our heroes all coming home in boxes or at least deformed in some profound way? And what do our leaders say about it?

Let’s ask Madeleine Albright, another closet Jew who supposedly “discovered” her ethnicity only recently. “We think the cost was worth it,” was her famous line about the deaths of a half-million Iraqi children BEFORE the real invasion of Iraq even happened.

And what newspaper did you read that in? Maybe one or two, but you sure as hell never heard it on TV. And then if you did, you probably didn’t listen to it anyway.

Who do we not want to hear the words we really feel inside? What penalty will we incur if our inmost thoughts reach the wrong ears?

And what are we actually permitted to say making honest observations about American behavior, and not get thrown in jail? What are we actually allowed to think?

As Donn deGrande Pre once said, the enemy is way inside our gates.

Perhaps it may be that only until we see accurately inside ourselves will we be able to accurately realize what has been done to the world in our names, and hang our heads in shame.

THE MINDLOCK, PART 6
THE WINE IN THE CHALICE, SANCTIFYING
SLAUGHTER
WITH A SATISFYING SIP
OF OLD TESTAMENT POISON
By John Kaminski, <JohnKaminski.com>, 6/23/06

Sunday morning. Sunlight streams through stained glass. Your knees hurt against the thin carpet of the altar as you contemplate the wine in the chalice as it edges slowly toward you along a line of kneeling worshippers. Finally, the Episcopal priest reaches you, and you savor the sweet burgundy that helps you pry that paper thin wafer off the roof of your mouth.

Ah, the blood and body of the savior. Sunday morning coming down. Praise God. Christianity is founded on the twin principles of cannibalism and child sacrifice, on Hebrew hallucinations (according to Freud) of a burning bush, and a god who pretends to be better than all the other gods in the neighborhood.

This god kills anyone who stands in his way, according to the Old Testament of the much-tampered—with Judeo-Christian Bible—which governs all but the Hindus and the Buddhists among the world’s major religions. That’s right. Catholics, Protestants, Muslims and Jews are all in the same boat in one sense, in that they venerate this ugly tradition of murder and robbery for any excuse they deem to be righteous.

As individual human beings, we act out what we believe. And this is what we have been taught.

You must kill those who worship another god.—Exodus 22:20

Kill any friends or family that worship a god that is different than your own.—Deuteronomy 13:6-10.

Kill all the inhabitants of any city where you find people that worship differently than you.—Deuteronomy 13:12-16.

Kill everyone who has religious views that are different than your own.—Deuteronomy 17:2-7

Kill anyone who refuses to listen to a priest.—Deuteronomy 17:12-13

Kill any false prophets.—Deuteronomy 18:20

People who wish to believe in a guiding spirit of the universe are paralyzed by the contradictions between believing what they know to be true in their hearts by virtue of the love that they feel for their families, but witnessing their intellectual belief systems being cut up into little pieces by credible empirical analyses that reveal the psychological deformities and contrived frauds of the world’s most famous holy book. Ultimately, our intellects fail us, and we seek refuge in our old familiar paradigms.

Why? Because of the obvious human existential dilemma—one day in everyone’s life, we reach a point where knowledge may not go, where understanding will not bring enlightenment, and you either know or you don’t, according to whatever you prefer, or whatever your parents taught you.

People who don’t believe in some all-encompassing external system of principles and laws are caught up in the exterior analyses of these matters and produce such irrefutable evidence of fraud, malfeasance and ulterior motive in the creation of holy scriptures that those who wish to believe can only turn away in a withered silence.

Yet most of these true believers retain their knowing through the sheer power of blind faith, and refuse to be shaken out of it by facile intellectual arguments, no matter how logical they may be.

The foundations of existing religions need to be attacked by sincere logic. This is not about questioning the existence of God; it’s about understanding the psychological marching orders of Leviticus and Deuteronomy and beginning to realize that the very way we think is causing the destruction of the planet that sustains us.

Any resemblance to the continuing extermination of innocent Iraqis and Palestinians is not purely coincidental.

It was all foretold in the Old Testament, you see, with the pronouncement in Zephaniah 1:17.

“And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.”

ESTRADA CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL IN CORRUPTION CASE
By AFP, and Macon Ramos Araneta,
Manila Standard Today, 6/29/06

DEPOSED President Joseph Estrada said yesterday he was confident he would be acquitted in his corruption trial as he ended his stint on the witness stand.

State prosecutors finished their cross-examination of the 69-year-old former actor who began testifying at the weekly hearings in March...

Asked by reporters later if he was confident of being acquitted, Estrada, who is under house arrest, answered: "Very confident, very confident."... [JS: Will Estrada's acquittal be the launch pad for his rightful return to the Presidency after a bloodless military coup removed him from Malacanang Palace in 2001?]

At previous hearings, Estrada has insisted that he was illegally ousted and was still the legal president and thus immune from prosecution. He has accused his successor President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo of being a usurper brought to power by a conspiracy of the elite. [JS: The International Banking Cartel could not let Estrada's popularity with the non-elite go unchecked. Were they fearful that eventually he would have seen the divine nature of the Global Alliance Investment Association's plan for nations and taken the necessary actions?]

Estrada remains popular among the country's poor but the college dropout has always been distrusted by the dominant Roman Catholic church and by business leaders due to his poor work habits, adultery and drinking problems... [JS: Is it likely that the revolutionary change agent Cardinal Jamie Sin had something to do with the Catholic Church's stance towards Estrada? Is it possible that during his house arrest Mr. Estrada has had some time to reflect upon his mission and his contract with our creator Aton? Which is more important—the messenger or the message? May we always remember that God cares not what we were but who we are.]

AT THE END OF THE TUNNEL
By Herman Tiu Laurel, The Daily Tribune, 7/3/06

Ilocos Sur Gov. Luis "Chavit" Singson was reported to have gone into histrionics yesterday, threatening to withdraw his support for Gloria if and when President Joseph Estrada is acquitted in the Sandiganbayan trial. In acting this way, Chavit is clearly showing that he's feeling the heat that his world may be finally closing in on him...

By the spiel accompanying his histrionics, Chavit would like the public to believe that President Estrada can never be acquitted of the charges lodged against him unless there's a "compromise deal" with Gloria...

But obviously with truth on President Estrada's side and the skillful legal defense, the undeniable facts of the cases have been brought out, and with equally skillful public information Estrada has vindicated himself before the people.

The expected exoneration of President Estrada has reached such crescendo that the public has been texting around the belief that "Estrada will be released". I got that from a doctor who is associated with the military and police community. All this optimism has got many people to wonder whether the Sandiganbayan justices are specimen of the long lost, honest and truthful justices that we thought were extinct in the Philippine legal landscape...

What is incontrovertible now is that a conviction on any of the charges against Estrada will not be credible to the public, thanks to Chavit's histrionics and the prosecution's collapse at the cross-examination...

A few months ago, I didn't think there was even a shadow of a chance that justice could be served by the justices appointed by the Gloria regime, but now the chance of this happening is better than good... [JS: The Filipino people have a fountain of hope that has been turned on and they are beginning to drink of it. With hope comes a desire for action and to move in a direction of personal responsibility instead of accepting the victim role.]

With visible glee, Malacañang through Mike Defensor made much of President Estrada's disavowal, when asked what he would do if acquitted, of any interest to reclaim his stolen presidency. He said he would just spend his time to help uplift the poor... [JS: With his disavowal Mr. Estrada is playing this chess game like a master. Hopefully the tool he uses to uplift the poor is the G.A.I.A. program.]

PUTIN ORDERS RUSSIAN STRATEGIC FORCES TO BUNKERS IN RESPONSE TO U.S. SPACE COMMAND RAISING OF ALERT STATUS
By Sorcha Faal, <WhatDoesItMean.com>, 7/2/06

Russian Military Analysts are reporting today that President Putin has ordered all Strategic Forces into 'Bunker Status' in response to the United States Military Leaders sudden raising of their Space Command Forces 'Alert Status', and as we can read as reported by the KRDO News Service in their article titled "COLORADO SPRINGS AIR FORCE INSTALLATION ON HEIGHTENED ALERT: Four Installations Across The Country Are Affected By Order From U.S. Space Command", and which says:

"An Air Force installation in Colorado Springs and one near Denver are operating with heightened security. The Cheyenne Mountain Air Station, which houses NORAD, is now at "Bravo-Plus." There are five levels of alert: normal, Alpha (low), Bravo (medium), Charlie (high) and Delta (critical). "Bravo-Plus" is slightly higher than a medium threat level. The Cheyenne Mountain Air Station And Buckley Air Force Base are among four installations in the country at the higher alert level ordered last week by then- Acting-Commander of Air Force Space Command, General Fred Klotz. Space Command would not comment on the reason for the security increase. The order also affects Vandenberg Air Force Base in California and Patrick air force base in Florida." [JS: Vandenberg and Patrick are missile launch sites with Cheyenne and Buckley being command and control sites. Hmmm! Why raise the alert status at these bases only? Did the actions of N. Korea precipitate these events?]

These reports state that these actions by the Counter-coup forces in the United States are in direct response to threats leveled against them by Israel over their planned rapid expansion of the current Middle East War into 'all out war' against all of the Islamic nations in that region.

Israel's greatest fears are being realized as the United States has sided with both Russia and China in linking any negotiation over the current Iranian nuclear crisis with a dismantling of Israel's nuclear weapons programme. Israel in turn has threatened to continue their 'Secret War' with the United States that they had begun by their attacks launched against that nation on September 11, 2001 that collapsed the World Trade Centers and destroyed the U.S. Navy Intelligence Center located in the Pentagon. [JS: Is part of their "secret war" to draw the U.S. into another conflict? Will we find fingerprints of the Mossad on the saber that N. Korea is rattling? Recall 2 years ago that Zev Barkan, the suspected Israeli Mossad agent on the run from New Zealand Police had been sighted in North Korea, according to an Asian-based NGO closely linked to New Zealand intelligence networks. Apparently Israel and NK are quite cozy.]

American Military Leaders have likewise continued their massive assault against Mossad activity within the United States by a continued series of arrests and indictments of Israel's top intelligence assets in North America, including their top financial and political operatives Lord Conrad Black and Jack Abramoff.

Reports from Israel today, however, show no signs of their abating their intentions to widen this war as in the past 48 hours they have arrested the elected Palestinian Members of Parliament, targeted for assassination the Palestinian Prime Minister, bombed the Prime Ministers Office and other Palestinian Government buildings, cut off all power, water and food to millions of civilians in Gaza and refused all international humanitarian aid to reach these starving peoples.

Israel has likewise refused both the International Red Cross and the United Nations pleas to help the civilians in the war zone, and as we can read as reported by the Reuters News Service in their article titled "U.N. and ICRC urge Israel to let supplies into Gaza", and which says, "The United Nations and International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), concerned at escalating Middle East violence, called on Israel on Friday to allow urgent medical and food supplies into Gaza.

Many Palestinian civilians—confined by the closure of key crossing points and suffering from a clampdown on foreign aid—are now living on "just one meal a day", according to the U.N.'s World Food Programme (WFP). The international aid agencies said Israeli air strikes have knocked out water systems and a major power transformer, cutting vital electricity supplies to hospitals as well as families. WFP spokesman Simon Pluess told a news briefing that the crisis had affected all aspects of Palestinian life, including access to food, health care, education and fuel."

Russian Military Analysts report that Israel's intentions in targeting civilians is to draw both Syria and Egypt into an attack to free the millions of trapped and starving civilians, and which Egypt, by their massing troops on the Gaza border, and their threat to end the peace treaty currently in force between them and Israel, appears likely to succeed. Should Egypt attempt to invade the Gaza to free these Muslim peoples Syria would be bound by their laws to also follow course and also attack Israel in the north and through their surrogate militias located in Lebanon.

Should this scenario develop, and with Syria and Iran having just recently signed a mutual defense pact, Israel would then be free, they believe, to launch their nuclear missiles against Iran and begin bombing of that country with their recently acquired American ‘bunker busting’ bombs, and which are reported to be able to penetrate to the depths of Iran’s buried nuclear research facilities.

President Putin and China’s President Hu have both repeatedly warned the United States Military Leaders that should America allow the Israelis to carry forth this plan they would then consider Israel as a ‘rough nation’ along with any other nation supporting them, and which today is actually only the United States.

The American Military Leaders, however, may not have any choice in supporting Israel in Total World War as their failure to not support Israel would result in the immediate incineration of many American cities and vital port facilities with nuclear bombs planted by Israel’s Mossad, and which to many of those leaders in a more ‘real’ threat then any planned actions by Russia or China, and which some American Military Analysts do not believe would escalate to a nuclear confrontation. [JS: GCH wrote of these strategically placed nukes many years ago.]

BAD NEWS FOR WANTED RUSSIAN EXPATRIATES IN LONDON

By Vladimir Simonov, RIA Novosti, 7/3/06

Hoping to succeed where his predecessor Vladimir Ustinov failed, new Russian Prosecutor General Yuri Chaika has launched an effort to have scores of London-based Russian criminal suspects extradited.

To find out why extradition cases have failed one after another, Chaika has deployed a joint team of experts to London. Prosecutors, Justice Ministry officials, and diplomats will meet with attorneys from England and Wales to analyze the cases of individuals included on Russian and sometimes Interpol wanted lists... [JS: These cases have failed because these at-large suspects are serving the British Crown rather nicely.]

The test case for the new approach will be the No. 1 man on Russia’s most-wanted list, the self-exiled oligarch Boris Berezovsky. His extradition has repeatedly been blocked, most recently by Chief London Magistrate Judge Timothy Workman on the grounds that the U.K. had given Berezovsky political asylum two years before, which put him under the protection of the Geneva Conventions and the 1951 UN Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees.

Indeed, Berezovsky was declared a refugee in defiance of the fact that Russia had sought to try him on multiple white-collar theft charges. Back then, Berezovsky’s deposits in British banks and the renewed vigour he brought to the local real estate market seemed more important than the legal request of a supposedly friendly nation. The suspected criminal was therefore not only declared a refugee but also given a new passport with an assumed name, Platon Elenin.

The British, however, were unaware of one little thing. Hardly anyone could imagine that Berezovsky, a.k.a. Elenin, would use his safe haven for aggressive, even ardent, activity to bring about what he himself termed the “forced overthrow of the government”. [JS: It’s deja vu all over again for Russia. Relate what Berezovsky is doing to the Bolshevik Leon Trotsky, who was financed by the Rothschilds while planning, in New York, the 1917 revolution, all under the watchful eye of Woodrow Wilson, et al, who eventually granted him a U.S. passport to enter Russia and begin the real holocaust of the 20th century.]

“Any violence on the part of the opposition will be justified today,” he told the Moscow-based Ekho Moskvyy radio station in January. “This applies to a forced overthrow of the government as well, which is exactly what I am working on.”

From his London villa, the ex-oligarch is focusing his armed-struggle activities not only on Moscow, where the task is to overthrow the “abominable autocrat” Vladimir Putin, but also on Kiev... [JS: The centuries old battle between Christian Russia and the anti-God Khazar Zionists continues. This same day Russian President Vladimir Putin warned that people had to understand the potential consequences of a clash of civilizations that he said was being imposed on the world.] Jack Straw, who headed the Foreign & Commonwealth Office at the time, seemed to be so heavily struck by Berezovsky’s putsch aspirations that he threatened to strip him of his refugee status...

British judges are now making a point of their lack of political bias. They say they do not much care who will lead the Kremlin... [JS: If they don’t care then why the need to bring it up? Since aiding and abetting a terrorist is a crime, then why is it not likewise a crime to do the same for a treasonous subvertise?] Another possibility is that Judge Workman may have been sending a signal to his government that Berezovsky, in order to be subject to extradition, must first be formally stripped of his refugee status—exactly what Jack Straw had threatened to do. We have yet to see which theory is closer to reality, but in any case Russian legal experts will have much to talk about with their British counterparts...

IRANIAN JEWS OPPOSE GAZA OPERATION

By Dudi Cohen, <yynetnews.com>

Heads of Jewish congregation in Iran: No good reason for IDF’s ‘campaign of death’ to kidnap Palestinian government members, bomb population centers; call on Jewish leaders to speak out against policy that ‘tramples upon humane tenets of Jewish tradition’ [JS: A simple internet search will reveal a plethora of websites dedicated to the subject of what can be called “Jews against Zionism”.]

A statement published Sunday in the formal internet website of the Jewish community in Iran said that “the Jewish congregation in Iran censures the human rights violations of the Palestinians in the Gaza strip by the Zionists and is grieved by this occurrence.”

IDF Strike

Gaza: IAF blasts Haniyeh’s office / Hanan Greenberg (VIDEO) Warplane fires missile, directly hitting and burning Palestinian prime minister’s office; IDF: We are making it clear to Haniyeh that he is responsible for kidnapped soldier [JS: How about simply a POW? With that in mind doesn’t that alter the excuses of the IDF a bit?] Gilad Shalit’s fate. Haniyeh arrives at bombarded office, says ‘this is policy of jungle, arrogance’.

The letter was signed by head of the Iranian Jewish congregation, Harun Ishayai, and the Jewish representative in the Iranian Parliament, Maurice Motamed. According to the two, “there is no good reason for the campaign of death being undertaken by Israeli soldiers to kidnap Palestinian government members and bomb population centers”.

“We condemn this violent behavior by Israeli leaders and are sure that the Palestinian nation will firmly defend its right to exist and its other legitimate and natural rights”, said the leaders of the congregation.

They added: “We deplore this aggressive behavior and are sure that it will exacerbate the situation with each passing day. Behavior such as this may lead to bloodshed among blameless men and women and among innocent children.”...

Leaders of the congregation claim that the IDF operation is antithetical to Judaism: “We are aware that these actions are in no way related to principles of the Jewish faith, the precepts of Moses or the holy books. They are antithetical to the Jewish faith.” [JS: The playbook of the Zionist false Jews are the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion, and The Talmud, et al. which are completely anti-God in nature]

“We call upon Jews around the globe to speak out to the world in protest against the behavior of the soldiers and the Israeli leaders,” they continued. “It is the mission of Jews, more than any other people, to prevent a policy that tramples upon the humane tenets of the Jewish tradition...” [JS: Let us pray that more and more Jews come on board with exposing the evil of Zionism!]

Yedioth Ahronoth newspaper reported on Ishayai’s recent interview with the Russian newspaper Gazzetta. During the interview, in response to a question, Ishayai said that Iran does not believe in Israel’s right to exist and that the congregation “shares this viewpoint, as citizens of Iran”. [JS: True history shows Iran’s position to be correct. The illegitimate state of Israel was founded by force through the murder and displacement of countless Palestinians.]

Ishayai also said that the foreign press is mistaken in their reports that the Jewish community does not express their opinions because of pressure from the Iranian government...

By Sananda

In this deeply disturbing journal, Jesus Sananda explores the truth about the energy called “Satan”, the adversary to God of Light. Satan’s fall from status as “Lucifer” is outlined. We learn how he gains his power through evil deception—which is opposite of God projection of Love, what his tools are and what his limitations are. We learn how to recognize evil and how to protect ourselves from it...

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Another Privacy Measure: “Uncertificated” Stock

Budget’s “Tip of the Week” #19:

NRS 78.235: “Issuing Stock” Without a Certificate

“What about setting up a corporation ‘offshore’? I’ve heard that offshore corporations don’t have to pay any tax and that I can move my money offshore to shelter it.” Up front, there is little that can be done offshore that cannot be accomplished in and through the shelter of Nevada corporations. But let’s look at just a few things that this questioner should consider before moving in this direction.

There CAN BE tax advantages, particularly in cases where the offshore entity earns its income in a tax-free jurisdiction from activities in locations that do not tax the income. Such opportunities can be hard to find. On the other hand, if the offshore entity (sometimes called an IBC, for International Business Corporation) is OWNED by U.S. stockholders, the stockholders are still subject to tax on capital gains and on any income derived from the IBC. In most cases offshore shareholding is NOT private, unlike in Nevada. Further, the United States has developed MLATs (Mutual Legal Assistance Treaties) with virtually all offshore locations, allowing for the extension of U.S. law—and the powers of the I.R.S.—into those jurisdictions, at will.

One good solution might be for the offshore entity to be owned by a private Nevada corporation. Just keep in mind that the Nevada corporation would still be subject to taxation on any income or capital gains derived from the IBC. In many cases, however, it might be better to simply extend the structuring of Nevada corporate shelters than to try to operate offshore. The main reasons for this are more immediate control and, of course, privacy. The Nevada Corporation Manual sums it up like this:

“Nevada is unique in that it not only offers a high degree of privacy but ready access to your capital that is not likely to be denied in even the most extreme turmoil that COULD develop in the world’s financial markets. In these highly uncertain economic times, long-range planning should take into consideration the possibility—even the probability—of extreme turmoil. In that event, there could be some real shock felt by those whose strategies are oriented around offshore structures. It is entirely possible that in a real emergency offshore funds would be totally inaccessible, depriving the owners of those assets the use of their own capital when they need it the most. For any situation where ready access to one’s capital is required, and especially if you wish to work with your capital, Nevada corporations are THE answer.”

In September 2000, the globalist OECD (Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development) proposed the total elimination of any and all offshore tax advantages. The Bush Administration has withdrawn its support—for the time being—from this initiative, probably allowing time for repositioning by at least some of the Big Boys. Ultimately, though, it seems likely that offshore jurisdictions will be precluded from offering tax advantages to foreigners. When that happens, it will leave the shelter of Nevada corporations as one of the very few true “havens”.
