Today's Warning Earthquakes

6/28/92 #1 HATONN

SO--

THINK!!

Earthquakes? What do you do? Golly, Gee Whiz, kids, there are some along the New Madrid and in New York as well as continuous light bursts and shaking over Alaska. What do YOU mean by "...what are these earthquakes today?"

I don't know how else to warn you ones and how can you continue to ask me HOW to make people believe in Hosts when ones don't budge when they are in imminent danger of total annihilation? Moreover, Dharma is having a most awful day so far because there is a stand-off over her. If I write more than simple observations they plan to take out the entire electrical and electronic system in the dwelling, not to mention direct damage by ultra blasts to her.

Let us look at FACTS as being presented to you Western people, since that is where we are. Does anyone realize the difference in a 7.4 quake and a 6.6 or 7? Does anyone know the difference in 4:47 or 8 A.M. vs. 4:58 A.M.? Well, I would suggest that "possibly", just possibly—there is a whole bunch of cover-up going on at Cal Tech, or would it be Golden, Colorado? Now let us consider happenings.

I awakened Dharma at 4:46 A.M. with the birds in the aviary gone flappy. Within 15 seconds the earth began to move and she experienced some 30 to 45 seconds of severe shaking at which point the birds went totally nuts, awakening E.J. who ran out of the house to "catch the intruder" in the aviary. This was at 4:47 A.M.—by the clock at the bedside which has never been "off" before for more than a couple of minutes.

How could they "then" establish an unbendable "time" of the quake at 4:58 A.M. when half the speakers were saying 4:47 or 8?? How could you have so much discrepancy in the size?

What about the "light bursts" seen at onset of BOTH quakes? These were discounted by media as being "downed power lines"—How could they have been witnessed from miles distant if the lines were only sparking in town? The light bursts were seen (after sunup in a very bright sky) over the epicenter of the second quake.

How can you have two separate quakes on TWO PRIORLY UNIDENTIFIED FAULTS? HOW IS IT THAT EACH ONE GETS CLOSER TO THE SAN ANDREAS AND THE AQUE-DUCT SYSTEM AND NO ONE "THINKS" IT WILL TRIGGER

THE SAN ANDREAS?

Ah ha! Now, after a nice interval of some 3-1/2 hours—the bureaucracy has called "Emergency Services". That, dear ones, is an "old" label applied to the FEMA—remember?

So, you have discrepancy in "time".

You have discrepancy in "locations".

You have light bursts and "noise" prior to both.

You have continuous shaking and "feelings of real high energy or electricity in the air all around" as reported by experiencers.

You have "blasts".

TRUTH = FREEDOM

Call It What You Like: Communism Is Incredibly Alive And Well

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

6/17/92 #1 HATONN

All things have balance in the ending—even those things of purely spiritual or things of physical expression. Let us consider two simple examples: You will learn in this journey that when a man with money meets a man with experience, the man with experience ends up with the money and the man with the money ends up with a lot of experience.

The flip side of this wondrous circumstance is that it is impossible to teach without learning something yourself—even if it be perceived as quite negative in scope—no, it is only if you refuse the positive lesson that it becomes negative.

Watch it this week for you are being sucked into a trap from which you will never recover, America and “free” world. As Mr. Yeltsin and Bush dance the minuet—Mr. Gorbachev is dancing the highland fling in Israel with the Zionists Khazarian counterparts! Both plan to separate you Americans from your money and leave you with a LOT OF EXPERIENCE.

IS COMMUNISM REALLY DEAD?

You be the judge. Could it possibly be a media joke—on you-the-people? How can you know? Easy—take the Communist Manifesto and weigh the facts!

1. Did you hear any gleeful announcement by an “anti-communist” media that the USSR abolished its property tax, thus restoring absolute ownership of land to the peasants?

If not, then that first plank is still alive and thriving.

“Abolition of property in land and application of all rents of land to public purposes.”

2. How many of you have seen announcements and applauding the eradication of income taxes in the USSR? You didn’t? Then I’m sorry—the second Plank is still fully functional:

“A heavy progressive or graduated income tax.”

3. How many of those wondrous papers and magazines tell you how the Soviets repealed the inheritance tax? Really, you didn’t see that anywhere?

Well, for goodness sakes, the third Plank is also still in place and operating:

“Abolition of all right of inheritance.”

4. OK, so there must have been a Soviet directive stating that the KGB (IRS) would no longer levy people’s wages or ransack and pillage their homes. No? You didn’t see that one either? What is wrong with your press and media? How about it, Sports Illustrated, say, on the Sneaker Phone? No? Golly—gee whiz, what have you here?

“Confiscation of the property of all emigrants FLEEING THE SYSTEM and all rebels.”
(Fourth Plank)

5. Come on now, they tell you the cold war is over and Communism is DEAD—surely there is something on the fifth Plank? Didn’t your trusty reporters speak of the Soviet plan to recall their “funny money”, return the people’s gold and silver and foreclose upon the BANKS? Not even on CNN?

"Centralization of credit in the hands of the State, by means of a national bank with State capital and an exclusive monopoly."
(Fifth Plank)

6. So, here we go, surely you were told that there would be restoration of one's right to use his own vehicles and the "people's" roads with ease in obtaining licensing? Well how about the unregulated right to communicate freely? Again, No??! Then the sixth Plank is doing pretty well also:

"Centralization of the means of communication and transport in the hands of the State."

7. Ah, then surely they wiped out the seventh Plank and you were told about it. Have your own "State approved" news agencies reported the dissolution of state-credited legal fictions (corporations) in the USSR, or that they've ceased to "regulate" people's use of their own LAND? Oh, NO?

(Seventh Plank):
"Extension of factories and instruments of production owned (controlled) by the State."

8. Surely they told you about Russian women being admonished by the State to REBUILD THE CRUMBLING FAMILY UNIT, and to reestablish the home as the principle haven and bulwark of child development? My goodness, chelas—but they said Communism is DEAD! This can only mean that Plank eight is also still alive and well, blowing apart families and destroying children emotionally:

"Equal liability of all to labor." Not "right"—"liability". [Get mother out of the house so Big Brother can blast those kids!]

9. Well perhaps we are getting there after all as we look at number 9? Perhaps they have explained to you how they've halted the corporate take-over of family farms in those Soviet countries? No? Is it possible they announced it while you were sleeping? No? Then obviously number 9 is still in effect also:

"Combination of agriculture with manufacturing industries."

Golly, that only leaves number ten so perhaps you heard about an exposé of a reactionary Soviet plan to restore parental authority and responsibility to at least "train up the child in the way he should go" by closing all State brainwashing institutions. No? But THEY said the Soviets are now going to do all the wondrous things to allow "freedom" of information and education. So, after all, it appears the tenth Plank is also still alive and functioning with even more restrictions and "guided" learning:

"Free education for ALL children in PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND STATE CURRICULUM."

My, my, chelas—if not even ONE Plank of the Communist Manifesto has been weakened—let alone destroyed—then how can "COMMUNISM BE DEAD"?!? AND, MORE-OVER, WHY THE DECEPTION??

MEDIA BRAIN-ASSAULT
ABETS POLITICAL,
SOCIAL, PHYSICAL,
FINANCIAL CRIMES

Very simply put: Americans adopted the Communism Ten Plank system long, long ago, having been embraced by Republicans and Democrats, liberals and conservatives alike. For the media to divulge this would expose their part in the conspiracy for not warning you. While complacently gazing into the electronic campfire of television, you were being secretly lobotomized and have become regionally "Brain Damaged and/or DEAD"—NOT COMMUNISM.

May I please remind you of something from your prophet Isaiah? (29:13-14):

"....Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men: Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid."

So what have you come to be, even in blessed America? You have forsaken the commandments of your Creator, you have heaped to yourselves the curses of Deuteronomy 28:15-68 (for you who still like to quote from THE BOOK): You kill your unborn infants and poison the minds of those others who survive birth to endure a Godless "education" and totally heathen media brain-assault. Their bodies are wasted by no-win wars, chemical "foods", and fluoridated (poisoned) drinking water (also chlorinated). Their heritage is given to strangers, while having to bear the burden of supporting anything and everything alien to your culture as once foundationed in "Christ"ianity with its wondrous assets of "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Since we find that all of the Communist Planks are alive and well where they have always served, and also now more alive and well in the United States than in those "formerly" Communist countries—let us see how far you have come along the path—REMEMBER THOSE FEMA ORDERS?

EXECUTIVE ORDERS NOW IN FORCE

THE PROTOCOLS OF ZION

NOT ALL, BUT A SUMMARY:

* GOLD always has been and always will be the irresistible power. Handled by expert hands it will always be the most useful lever for those who possess it, and the object of envy for those who do not. With gold you can buy the most rebellious consciences, can fix the rate of all values, the current price of all products, can subsidize all State loans, and thereafter hold the states at mercy.

* Gain control of the principal banks, the exchanges of the entire world, the credits of all the governments.

* Force wars by exploiting pride and stupidity. Desired ones will massacre each other, and clear the ground for us, the Elite, to put our own people into.

* Possess the land: The possession of the land has always brought influence and power. In the name of social Justice and Equality we, the Elite, shall parcel out the great estates; we shall give the fragments to the peasants who covet them with all their powers, and who will soon be in debt to us by the expense of cultivating them. Our capital will make us their masters. We in our turn shall become the great proprietors, and the possession of the land will assure the power to us.

* Let us try to replace the circulation of gold with paper money; our chest will absorb the gold, and we shall regulate the value of the paper which will make us masters of all the positions.

* We count among us plenty of orators capable of feigning enthusiasm and of persuading mobs. We shall spread them among the people to announce changes which should secure the happiness of the human race. By gold and by flattery and through manipulation we will annihilate the "Christian" capitalism. We shall first promise workmen salaries of which they have never dared to dream—but we shall also raise the price of necessities so that "...our profits will be greater still and then when wealth is withdrawn—THEY SHALL FALL."

* We shall prepare and precipitate Revolutions which the so-called "free" world people shall make themselves and fight themselves—and of which we shall reap the fruit.

* By our mockeries and our relentless attacks upon them we shall make their priests ridiculous, then odious, and their religion as ridiculous and as odious as their clergy. Then we shall be masters of

WHERE DO YOU GO FROM HERE, CHELAS?

On Roller Skates

6/17/92 #1 HATONN

Just as a trivial observation, this very day on your boob tube they advertise the "...new abounding trend to a new sport of roller-skating on the 'in-line' new invention of roller skates." It is noted that they say, "this new invention" and "...was devised to allow off-season practice for ice-skaters." Hogwash.

May I take the liberty of sharing something with you right from the pages of TIME-LIFE:

"In the early 1990's, a novel kind of roller skating called blading became something of an international fitness craze. Named for the trademarked Rollerblade design, blading looks like ice skating on wheels. The boot, made of the hard, durable plastic called polyurethane, could easily be that of an ice-hockey skate, but instead of a metal blade on the bottom, there are three or four polyurethane wheels set in a straight line. Stridently modern, the skates are in fact a resurgence of an old idea. The original roller skates, invented in EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY HOLLAND, also placed the wheels in line.

Belgian manufacturer Joseph Merlin, the first recorded roller-skate maker, attempted to publicize his wares in 1706 by blading into a prestigious London ball while playing a priceless violin. Like others who had tried the new diversion, Merlin was not adept at maneuvering—or stopping. He crashed into a huge mirror worth more than 500 pounds and was severely injured—as was the reputation of the in-line roller skate.

It took a hundred years and the skills of a furniture salesman, James Plimpton, for the roller skate to regain its popularity in a different form. Plimpton had taken up ice skating on the advice of his doctor. When winter ended he tried roller skating, but found he was no better than Merlin at controlling his movements.

Plimpton realized that the key to maneuvering a wheeled skate was having some way of rocking the boot from side to side, thus varying the pressure on the wheels to produce turns and stops. He accomplished this by placing two pairs of metal wheels under the heel and toe of a metal footplate, and a hard rubber ball between the rollers and the plate. The skate, able to rock slightly, was remarkably easy to control. He patented his guidable skate in 1863.

Several years later, he invented the roller rink, a place where people could socialize while getting exercise and, not incidentally, rent his skates. The roller rink was a success, though not entirely for the skating: it provided a socially acceptable, chaste opportunity for women to meet men. By 1876, the forty-eight-year-old Plimpton controlled a skating empire stretching across the United States and Europe. But his monopoly endured only as long as his patent; when it expired, others began to compete. [All with the preferable four-wheel arrangement and improvement.]

Meanwhile, skating with the original, in-line design had persisted as an art form. An opera, Le Prophete, included a simulated ice-skating scene that was performed on stage in roller skates—in 1849, composer Paul Taglioni wrote a ballet, Winter Pastimes; or "The Skaters", that used wheel-bladed skates to represent an ice-skating scene. Jackson Haines, an American ballet master who was also an accomplished ice skater, performed on roller skates in 1864 and proved to be so captivating that his techniques became the foundation of today's international style of artistic skating, on wheels and on ice.

Trivial? How so? If you can

fool the people over something as simple as "in-line" roller skates—you can fool the people over anything!

Public Broadcasting

6/17/92 #1 HATONN

"Well", you say, "we still have the Public Broadcasting stations and channels". Do you? How long will you have them? These are the publicly supported stations which can allow a bit of insight to ooze through occasionally. The thrust is now TO SHUT THEM DOWN!

There is a thrust afoot by members of Congress to eliminate public broadcasting in the United States.

Two bills have already been introduced to destroy the Corporation for Public Broadcasting by eliminating funding. Other legislation would open the door to Federal government CONTROL OVER PROGRAMMING DECISIONS.

So be it!

Home Schooling A Serious Commitment

6/17/92 #1 HATONN

This writing may well upset a lot of you who THINK you serve your children by removing them from public schools. If you are not formally TEACHING THE BASIC SUBJECTS OF EDUCATION at home THEN YOU ARE FAILING YOUR CHILDREN TERRIBLY!

Because we example ones of families in whose devoted teaching of their children is outstanding, such as the Enz family and the John Quade example—some of you have allowed the children (puppy) to wag the dog (you, parent).

I cannot begin to tell you what disservice you do to your children in allowing them to be removed from the formal educational system—IF YOU DO NOT SPEND EQUAL OR MORE TIME IN FORMAL BOOK TRAINING—ORGANIZED AND SCHOOL-ROOM—IN DISCIPLINE AND ORDER.

I witness ones in this very location who have allowed children to "drop-out" while saying that "Well, life is an education and Jr. doesn't like school anyway." What are you doing? You are destroying the child's ability to function at any level more than uneducated and handicapped limits. As bad as the system may be—at least the children can learn to read and write, do mathematics, etc.—IF YOU THE PARENTS INSIST THAT THE CHILD DO SO—THESE THINGS ARE OFFERED AND THE TEACHER IS NOT A MAGICIAN—ONLY A DISADVANTAGED HUMAN AT BEST, CONFRONTED BY NEAR-CRIMINAL CHILDREN WHICH ARE THE OFFSPRING OF UNCARING ADULTS.

If these shoes fit then wear them and may they crunch your toes severely—IF YOU "HOME-

TEACH" THEN YOU HAVE TAKEN THE RESPONSIBILITY OF TEACHING—NOT COPPING OUT ON THEIR FUTURE! I am sorry, parents, but most of you deserve exactly that which you get—spoiled and undesirable children for you have no way of instilling respect and discipline if you abdicate your position as elder. If you have allowed this kind of behavior and "drop-out" situation to have occurred under some self-lying circumstance, I suggest you get those little unknowing persons right back into school. Home teaching requires total dedication to directly supplying ALL working skills as well as social integration and it is a FULL-TIME COMMITMENT—not a hap-hazard abdication of responsibility.

PRESENT CHILDREN MUST FULFILL DIVINE PLAN

IN NO WAY WILL "I" ALLOW YOU TO INFER THAT I, HATONN, OR ANY OF MY BRETHREN ADVOCATES SUCH ACTION IN ANY MANNER WHATSOEVER. THIS IS WHAT COMES BACK TO ME—...HATONN SAID... NO, NO AND NO—GET THOSE CHILDREN BACK INTO SCHOOL WHERE THEY BELONG IF YOU ARE UNWILLING TO "TEACH" THEM. I SAID "TEACH" THEM—NOT ALLOW THEM TO WAG YOUR TAIL! Parents who set regular, orchestrated and book-oriented study and facilities for the children are wondrous indeed—this is NOT that which I witness in almost all cases of so-called "home" teaching. I find it a cop out on the part of parents who simply don't know what to do with their own offspring. Do not the children have enough with which to cope without such furthering of irresponsibility? We must have

EDUCATED children moving into adulthood if we are to fulfill our mission—not incompetent nit-wits who think they already know enough or have so little imagination regarding service in a perceived "future" to bother planning and working for that future. No ones of such irresponsible actions will be among my crews I can most readily assure you RIGHT NOW. I DO NOT INTEND TO SIT DOWN AND TRAIN YOUR CHILDREN!

How can you expect a man or woman to control a spacecraft or build a bridge without ability to add, subtract and understand calculus? This is the problem—you ones wish to sit in my lectures and have knowledge just fall all over you by osmosis. First you have to know what "osmosis" IS if you wish to deal with such terms.

If this is the kind of "information" you ones get from my "sessions" of sharing—then I shall cease and desist with the "meetings". We have a tremendous and massive job to be done and it requires educated and "thinking" persons to handle it—not drop-outs from anything. We don't have church, cult—OR SCHOOL herein and I suggest you ones who advocate this "allow the children to be" get over it right now for I have no patience with such unrational thought patterns.

Why are your children in such a mess? Because YOU are in a mess. If your children are lazy, obese, insecure and generally non-productive and without self-discipline—who is worthy of responsibility for same? The child will grow to despise you for your laxness and failure to give them the foundation upon which to balance their lives. A child can only vision that which you give him to reflect unto self.

"I expect to pass through life but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do to any fellow being, let me do it now, for I shall not pass this way again." William Penn

You must understand, further that there is massive confrontation among and between factions of this "New Global Conspiracy" which only vies for top position—the GOALS are the same.

THE SLO CONNECTION (Number One in Series)

Don't believe one word of this. Look it up yourself! If you have a brain, you can figure it out!

During the 1950's, while the United States was fighting a war in Korea, the French were fighting a war in French Indochina (Vietnam). Although the reason for the U.S. involvement in Korea was somewhat obscure, the French were very sure of their reason for being in Indochina. It was the same reason the British had spent the previous 100 years there, to control the opium production. The United States financed the French war. Why? For a piece of the action—HEROIN! In 1954, with the help of the CIA, the Vietnamese defeated the French and the Americans took over. In the 15 years following, 58,000 Americans died there. Hundreds are still imprisoned there to hide the U.S. heroin business. (A NATION BETRAYED by Col. Bo Gritz) [H: Please, readers, take note that even the Soviets now ADMIT they still have POWs from W.W.II right in Russian territory—what think ye about Korea and Vietnam as I have told you over and over again?]

The "French Connection" of heroin into the United States was as follows: From Indochina, the opium went to Marseille, France, where it was processed into heroin. From Marseille it came to America through several channels: The U.S. military; Cuba under control of Batista; the Mafia and "Resorts International"; the Bahamas (see the U.S. Senate report on Terrorism and Narcotics which tells how U.S. Ambassadors, one from San Luis Obispo, shut down an investigation of corrupt Bahamian officials involved in drug trafficking and involved with prominent Americans in Florida).

G.H.W. BUSH: DRUG CZAR

Another channel was through the offshore oil drilling platforms in the Gulf of Mexico. The drugs were offloaded from fishing boats far out at sea. From these platforms the drugs came ashore via the normal crew and equipment boats thereby avoiding detection. This first came to light during the Kennedy assassination investigation of Louisiana District Attorney Jim Garrison. Other investigators and writers on the Kennedy assassination confirmed that the platforms were being used to smuggle drugs. These oil drilling platforms were pioneered and owned by a Houston, Texas based oil company known as Zapata Offshore Oil. The president and chief executive officer of Zapata Oil was George Herbert Walker Bush! In 1976, as Director of Central Intelligence, George Bush was head of the world's largest drug trafficking organization. (See the Christic Institute lawsuit, the Col. Bo Gritz tapes, the Mac Brussel Research Center, "THE POLITICS OF HEROIN" by Professor Alfred McCoy, "The Crimes of Patriots" by Jonathan Kwitny, H. carnation" bit, chelas. YOU WILL NEVER PASS THIS WAY AGAIN!! If you miss the fullness of that which could have been had you "done it differently"—then ye shall reap of the rewards of the neglect. If ye do this unto your own children then ye bear both their wrath and thine own regrets.

Be sure you instill understanding and proper direction and discipline unto self and offspring for it will be the youth who will either bring you home to God or into the pits of total devastation. Winning is not a sometime thing, chelas, it's an all-time thing. You don't win once in a while; you don't do things right once in a while; you do them right all the time. Winning is a habit—unfortunately, so is losing. Are you going to win or lose? The line differentiating winning and losing—success and failure is indeed according to the fuel given unto the engine upon which to "run".

The manager administers, the leader innovates. The manager maintains, the leader develops. The manager relies on systems, the leader relies on people. The manager counts on controls, the leader counts on trust. The manager does things right, the leader does the right thing. Will you function as manager, leader or can you gift unto your offspring BOTH? Or, will you cripple your child so that he never experiences ELTHER? What of self? Wherein do YOU FIT? DO YOU DESERVE THE GIFTS FOR WHICH YOU "WAIT"? THEY SHALL NOT BE FORTHCOMING IF YOU DO NOT "WORK" WHILST THOU "WAITS"! Ponder these things mightily for I see some who proclaim "our" work to be dispersing the incorrect assumptions and projections. Do not, I pray, make your burden heavier along with those of your brethren already bearing their own.

Thank you for your service and your attention.

Cooper and many others including Senator Kerry's U.S. Senate Subcommittee Report on Terrorism and Narcotics.)

North San Luis Obispo politicians have traditionally been elected on tickets promoting unlimited growth and unlimited real estate development. [H: San Luis Obispo is in the geographic location of Santa Barbara. One outstanding reason for offering you readers this information is that the SAME GROUP is integrally involved in the very property in confiscation by the RTC and priorly by Santa Barbara Savings, etc., of this scribe. The dirty politics has seeped into every judicial bench and legal "group" in the State but most corrupt are the counties in which these individuals set up criminal operations. This is why I have told you that you will find this particular piece of property has ones all the way to the Presidency involved in the criminal actions—BUT, this holds true for every State and County in the Union. Don't be fooled because you live in the boonies somewhere and think yourself safe and secure—Tehachapi IS the "boonies" and yet has as corrupt politics and power brokers as any place in California. This is why much of our building and projects will need also be begun in Nevada and then in this place. We have months upon months to allow for the power line to give approval to even the least of these projects. In some instances, however, the project is similar to that which is already present on property so we hope to cut some of the "ribbons" in advance.] In San Luis Obispo, Jerry Diefenderfer and Bill Coy received large contributions from Los Angeles Realty Political Action Committees (PAC). Cattle business political action committees donated more to Coy's campaign than to any other candidate in California, including Deukmejian (Governor). Other north county politicians such as Carol Hallette (we shall present further information regarding her) and WILLIAM P. CLARK (very important character), who was Ronald Reagan's National Security Advisor and his Secretary of the Interior, have close ties to the cattle business and the cattle political action committees.

ZAPATA: OFFSHORE OIL, CATTLE, DRUGS

Where do these Cattle PAC's get their enormous amounts of cash to buy politicians? Take the Zapata Cattle Company for example. Yes, that's right! Zapata! The same name and the same affiliations to the previously mentioned Zapata Offshore Oil of Houston, Texas, previously (???) owned by our favorite drug "czar" and President of the United States of America, George Herbert Walker Bush!

The Zapata Cattle Company has, for many years, imported large amounts of cattle from Mexico. If you remember your high school biology, you will recall that cows have four stomachs. Hey, why not? If humans can smuggle drugs inside their bodies, why not cows? A cow must have 20 times the capacity of a human! Not only that but the tractor-trailer rigs used to transport them had secret built-in compartments. In his book, THE UNDERGROUND EMPIRE, author James Mills stated that the border customs agents received $10,000 every time they flagged through a drug truck without stopping it for inspections. [H: Besides, the trucks themselves and the shipping companies belonged directly to these same individuals—utilizing well-orchestrated corporations (in Nevada).]

Real estate development and construction is the classic way of laundering drug money.

One of the silent partners in the San Luis Obispo cattle business is RONALD REAGAN.

[H: It is, further, the same group of "cattle-boys" and real-estate developers, S&L criminals, etc., which provided Reagan with "cover" for his Bel Aire estate and thus and so—(through Nevada Corporations) as a "thank you, old buddy".]

NAME: ZAPATA

Note: "Zapata" is a name for locations off Texas and Florida which fit well with the oil company but the name Zapata was chosen by the Bush cartel because it came from George Bush's old club (cult) at Yale—the "Skull and Bones" The "skull" in point is reported to be the skull of the Mexican Revolutionary, Emiliano Zapata. [H: This may well be correct—for one thing that has the native Americans totally beside themselves in anger is that the same Skull and Bones club has Chief Geronimo's skull, having been stolen by a group of club members headed by Prescott (Dad) Bush.]

Further: Three ships belonging to Zapata Oil which were used to run guns to Fidel Castro (and drugs into the U.S.) were named the "Houston", the "Zapata" and the "Barbara J". [H: Readers, we covered all this IN DETAIL in a JOURNAL. I CAN ONLY ASK THAT YOU CATCH UP YOUR LESSONS AND THAT SIMPLY REQUIRES READING AND STUDYING THE BACK JOURNALS FOR I KNOW NO OTHER RESOURCE WHEREIN YOU CAN GET IT ALL!]

COINCIDENCES, CONNECTIONS, QUESTIONS

William Clark's liaison officer, Carol Hallett, was appointed as Ambassador to the Bahamas. The purpose of this was to shut down a drug investigation of corrupt Bahamian officials and to protect their American partners in Florida. One of these Americans was the President's son, Jeb Bush. (Senate Subcommittee Report-Kerry, Christic Inst., etc....).

Jeb Bush was also the North American connection to Manuel Noriega. (THE CUTOLO AFFIDAVIT by Paul Neri, A NATION BETRAYED by Col. Bo Gritz, etc. and Steven Carr-deceased by way of murder.) The route went from Bogota and Medellin, Colombia to Allbrook Air Force Base in Panama, where the drug aircraft were met by Noriega. Another transshipment point was John Hull's ranch in Costa Rica. ("Frontline"—PBS, "West 57th Street"—CBS, Judy Woodruff, Jane Wallace, Leslie Cockburn, Mike Tolliver, Gary Betzner, George Morales, plus most of the references listed on page one. Richard Brenneke stated on "Larry King-Live"—CNN that he also flew these drug planes, but his connection was Donald Gregg, Bush's National Security Advisor.) The destination of some of these drug shipments was Homestead Air Force Base in Florida. [H: This is completely covered in a JOURNAL also. See back page for reference list.]****

THE MAN WHO COULD IDENTIFY JEB BUSH AS NORIEGA'S CONNECTION WAS STEVEN CARR.

STEVEN CARR WAS MURDERED IN LOS ANGELES, ALLEGEDLY BY ONE MIKE DECKER, who worked for SICILIA-FALCONE, THE TIJUANA DRUG BOSS. Sicilia-Falcone was the largest supplier of drugs for Southern California. (Except for maybe Air America and the U.S. Air Force.) [JOURNALS—TANGLED WEB series.] Sicilia-Falcone used the motor-cycle gangs and Roger Frye as a distributing network. Mike Decker was their chief "mechanic". [H: Do you think it simply coincidental that "Malcolm Forbes" played around with Liz and the Motorcycle gangs for the total "fun" of it?] (THE UNDERGROUND EMPIRE by James Mills) The Anzalone brothers and Jerry Schlesinger of Long Beach and Los Osos were the

San Luis Obispo affiliates. The Sweet Springs bar in Los Osos was a distributing station and the Anzalone ranch in Santa Margarita was a cocaine processing factory. Several local people connected with this operation died from "accidents" or "suicides". When the Sweet Springs Tavern got "busted" for drug trafficking, the Anzalones went to "Club Fed" at Lompoc for a short vacation. Jerry Anzalone got out the hard way—on a gurney, covered with a sheet. "Diarrhea of the mouth" can often be fatal. Ronnie built a house on 3rd street in Baywood, complete with an iron spike fence, closed circuit surveillance television, and a gun in every room. Several months ago the house was destroyed by fire. (??)

Jerry Schlesinger came out of all this smelling like a rose. It pays to have friends in high places. Ask ex-supervisor Bill Coy. He always seemed to have a good relationship with the "Mayor" of Los Osos (California).

Scott Alexander was not so fortunate. Scott, who claimed to have had law enforcement experience, (Military Police, Arizona State Police) was helping a Federal Agent (DEA?) Michael Francis Aivaz gather information for the above mentioned "drug bust". Evidently Scott did his job too well and found out too much. His body was found by the creek on the M. V. Rodriguez ranch on Hwy. 41 just outside of Morro Bay (California). He was "suicided" with a very short 12 gauge shotgun (one barrel or both?).

Mike Aivaz disappeared shortly after the big "drug bust" and Scott's death. He was in Florida, (Florida? coincidence?) New Jersey, and Fresno, California. He was allegedly "drying out" in a sanitarium. He made several quiet trips back to Los Osos where he visited Anzalone's Sweet Springs. Mike took the ultra short 12 gauge away from Scott because it was "illegal" but gave it back to him the day before Scott died. Where is Mike now???

Neal McCrea and "The Last Voyage of the 'Janet Lee'" is another interesting part of this snake pit without a bottom. The boat "Janet Lee" and its cargo of cocaine was returning from a business trip to Central America (see above paragraph 2). The boat went into Vandenberg Air Force Base and Neal left Vandenberg in a body bag. No one seems to know what happened to the cocaine. Neal's widow, Janet, became very wealthy and became Janet Schlesinger (INTERESTING!). Maybe one could ask a couple of persons named Carnahan and Brandenburg who could explain it all quite appropriately if you could FIND them.

This last paragraph is not the end of this report. This report is just the "Tip of the Iceberg". Interested parties should start their own investigation and interrogate the following local citizens. Start with bartenders, building contractors, dopers, sheriff's deputies, county officials (especially Building and Planning), county supervisors (especially ex-supervisors), judges (including ex-judges). Check and see how many local citizens went to Washington with Ronald Reagan and left Washington embarrassed, disgraced, or with "dirty hands". The following list of persons could supply plenty of information if they were so inclined: Ronnie Anzalone, Jerry Schlesinger and Janet, Eddie Haworth, Deputy Mike Sheridan, Deputy Chuck Graves, George Jacobsen, Carnahan and Brandenburg, Mike Radon, Kathy Hodges, Al Switzer, County employees Gibson and Milne, County supervisors including past supervisors Coy and Diefenderfer, judges including ex-judge WILLIAM CLARK. Clark, as Reagan's National Security Advisor, rapidly left Washington and disappeared in obscurity in Ireland just after the Korean Air Lines 007 fiasco. There are others but this will give investigators a GOOD START. [H: You will also find that Deukmejian, Jason Brent of the Mojave Court (ex) and other Kern County "locals" also know all about these little involvements and insure that the line could not be run back up to catch the fisher. You will note that when E.J. went to Santa Barbara to check with the wondrous RTC about his property—the RTC was housed with Santa Barbara Savings (the "taken-over" mortgage company), was involved with Solomon Brothers and the "local" lawyers—contacted for information—said "you DO NOT REALLY WANT TO KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THIS!". Americans—WAKE UP! Also, send this material to the Constitutional Law Center—it might give them impetus to get on with those filings to the court—if nothing else, at some point "THEY" will want to shut down this "discovery". No, it will not stop the discovery but it will get attention. Yes, it IS dangerous but nothing else we have done is "safe". And if "dangerous" is that which is required—so let it be. If ones cannot walk through shadows then the sorting must be done. I am a "very big boy" and I also have "pretty good contacts" and a "lot of pull" and I CAN TAKE CARE OF YOU, CHELAS. Have I not already done so??]

THE SAN LUIS OBISPO LAW FIRM OF SINSHEIMER, SCHIEBELHUT, AND BAGGETT HAVE RECENTLY ANNOUNCED THE ADDITION TO THEIR FIRM OF WILLIAM P. CLARK.

[H: Another major law firm (about the second largest in the world) which is totally involved is Shea and Gould etc., etc., from which flowed Jason Brent at the appointment of the Governor, Deukemejian. Is it any wonder that when Brent ran for Superior Court Judge last month, he advertised that he "had all the major Republicans on his side"? Wake up little sleepyheads—the toast is burning!]

Dharma, let us close this portion. We are going to confuse you greatly, Editors, but we are going to be writing on THREE subjects (but all interconnected) simultaneously. I must ask you to label the references accordingly. It is time I stop threatening and get on with Bush in the CIA and that will take many writings. Further, I ask that George Green contact the authors of a book being called GEORGE BUSH: THE UNAUTHORIZED BIOGRAPHY (or something similar) by Webster Griffin Tarpley and Anton Chaitkin. The information can be tracked down through The New Federalist who is running a series at this time. The authors will find it all but impossible to find a publisher, if I don't miss my guess, and this work needs to be published and distributed. The information is very accurate and I would appreciate the assistance to them by at least recognition and distribution—if in fact, publishing is already arranged. Thank you.

I also wish to next write on the Divine Plan for I believe we are to the end (in number of pages) for the current volume under assembly. We will refer to this volume in point as Vol. I in reference to THE DIVINE PLAN. I plan to branch off into a path which shall surprise you—for I must tell you how it IS and how it will be—even if you don't like it. It is important that you ones NOT confuse the "three days of darkness" with simply a photon entry period which may or may not even take place. YOUR OWN "RULERS" AND "THUGS" COULD STOP THAT NULL-TIME IF THEY BUT WOULD DO SO. WE CAN STOP IT IN A SPLIT SECOND IF THEY WOULD BUT ALLOW US TO DO SO—SO YOU SEE, YOU-THE-

PEOPLE REMAIN THE PAWNS! I CANNOT HELP IT FOR IT IS NOT MINE TO DO. I CAN ONLY GET YOU INTO KNOWING SO THAT YOU WILL BE PREPARED IN THAT WE CAN CONTINUE RIGHT ON WITH THAT WHICH IS OUR MISSION.

Days Of Darkness And Days Of Light

6/18/92 #2 HATONN

I ask that, as we continue in discussions regarding days of darkness and days of "Light", and then thousands of years of Light—that you refrain from predisposition to "outguess" me or to "outrun" me and jump into conclusions that have been erroneous from onset. What we are speaking about is the evolution of a planet and those which inhabit same. Stop your wiggling and wagging and let us look at what lies ahead.

PURIFICATION AND CHASTISEMENT

Many writers, always of "religious" origins, tell you horrid tales and, "Well, after all—it is good for us." But the terminology and prospects speak for themselves as does "It's for your own good!" It smacks of the old lie which says, "...it hurts me more than you," then whack, whack, whack.

If your trust and actions are Godly then your assurance is that HE will send ones (US) to make sure HIS people are safe. That portion is UP TO YOU IF YOU ARE TO BE INCLUDED IN SUCH "LIFT OFF". So in that context, then we must look unto those changes which come simply from the changes necessary as Earth orbits through its great cycles and encounters those regularly occurring impacts of a cosmic cycling. Then the third scenario to consider is that which will come but can be impacted either by Creator or Earth beings through actions—or inactions.

Please take a short break and let us continue as the days become so overfilled now that I must ask for more writing in the days available. I shall give unto you, chela, that which you need to press on. Salu.

Certainly, in presenting this information, our intent is not to scare the living daylights out of anyone so that you can't come out of terror long enough to LEARN but, rather, remain in your ignorance from sheer panic and fear. Knowing gives ability to respond and not simply react. If you get into total respect and reverence for God (fear the Lord—respect God), the attention turns unto that which, when accepted, brings a right will, a good life, and total confidence in God and true peace of mind and heart—regardless of circumstances. We must balance the prospect of coming fearsome, even apocalyptic-like events, with the reassurances from God Himself, from your own traditional scriptures and otherwise prophetic projections, of His care and protection for those of His children who remain faithful to Him. Under the shadow of His wings you can rejoice and not only feel but be absolutely secure. In this security we can proceed about our own missions without total distraction.

Worry or anxiety and restless striving to figure out or anticipate future events, especially their exact "timing" must be outgrown. As you have been told and the "Lord" said to Julka: "None of My creatures will fathom My thoughts and plans!... None of the people on Earth will know the day and the hour of the punishment or the cleansing. It will come suddenly!" What is spoken of herein? He is speaking of the final great circumstance cycle which is recognized as the "Chastisement". I personally deplore the word for it assumes meaning which is not exactly "on-target". It simply means that the evil of the world shall be cleansed and the creations will be sorted and shifted. It certainly is, however, THE time to get with the program and get that pathway straightened out and get on the journey up the right roadway for it is in this presentation of final knowledge have we been sent. We are come to collect Creator's beings—to bring in the flock, if you will, which belongs to the Lighted Source. Those of Earthians who choose other direction are absolutely welcome to do so and will have no coercion from our Hosts. It seems a very good time indeed to renew or reinforce that "friendship" bond with Creator. Does worry and turmoil help? Not that I note—as you will note this has been "imminent" to the point that many of the worst "worriers" are already departed from your place so their fears and worries were needless and changed nothing. There is a writing, "Sufficient for the day is the evil thereof!" When tomorrow comes God will give His graces then, but not for tomorrow—today. If you are awake and KNOWING of the sequence of journey—then there is nothing to concern about—the journey continues and much for the better if you are in KNOWING of progression and have functioned in the physical plane as if—in goodness instead of evil practice.

"A day will come when the enemies of Christ will boast of having conquered the whole world."

"The human race will have to go through a great storm that will sharpen divisions among men and reduce their plans to ashes."

"There will be a great prodigy which will fill the world with awe."

"I saw one of my successors taking a flight over the bodies of his brethren. He will take refuge in disguise somewhere; and after a short retirement he will die a cruel death. The present wickedness of the world is only the beginning of the sorrows which must take place before the end of the world." (St. Pius X)

"God will send two punishments; one will be in the form of wars, revolutions and other evils; it shall originate on earth. The other will be sent from Heaven. There will come over the whole earth an intense darkness lasting three days and three nights." (Blessed Anna Maria Taigi, 19th cent.)

Why do I utilize "religious" terms and speakers? Because each began in purity and prophecies are valid if valid—regardless of who speaks them. The "religions" of CHRIST and GOD began in purity and represented the opposite of EVIL. It is MAN who has aligned himself with the corrupted concepts and allowed that which is Evil to take the very language of God and cause its destruction in worthiness of definition.

I wish to pass on by the obvious signs of spiritual "religious" signs such as bleeding and weeping statuary or the recognition of Wars as being valid confirmation. Let us look at that which is happening that can be related to Revelation and other seers in connection with projections of changing cycles and eras.

There are signs predominating which show a leading up, through even a climactic period of increasing trials and tribulations and disasters of all types, to the peak finale of the Three Days' Darkness. These signs are both natural and human—

if you choose to put it that way—but also are spiritual and supernatural in observation according to your level of knowledge.

Among such "human" signs are the expanding categories of evil rampant in your world: great apostasies from Faith in God and billions of people propagandized against God under the control of governments infected with atheistic Communism as a gross example—even nations calling themselves "Godly" are actually submerged in what is "called" Communism (but is not). Gross "sins" of all kinds, especially those grouped against the sixth and ninth commandments, from lust connected with contraception, through fornication, adultery, sexual abuse of all categories, including the enslavement of women and children, active homosexuality and lesbianism, pornography, etc., to abortion, the murder of millions and millions of infants cut to pieces in the womb, sucked apart by vacuum instruments or scalded to death by salt injections. Do I not believe in humans' right of "choice"? Do I not have belief in "woman's rights to choose"? Indeed—BEFORE THE ACT WHICH PRODUCES THE PREGNANCY—I DO NOT SANCTION MURDER OF THE INNOCENT FOR THE SINS OF THE ACTORS.

Therefore, do I say I do not condone abortion? Absolutely! I do not condone abortion in any way, shape or form. If irresponsibility precipitated the error then more irresponsibility will not cure it. By the way—I care not what you think of my opinion about it—arguments will only reassure me that you are more ignorant than I could have even imagined! I am here to tell you the facts of how it IS—not argue over opinions of how you think it ought to be! I can only observe that your thinking has gotten you into the total downfall and overpopulation and pure miserable existence of a planet full of humans and hapless creatures paying the price for your total lack of responsibility as a species and civilization. When this happens—cleansing is always ahead for you!! EVERY TIME!!

THE TRAP OF THE SENSES

The pyramiding millions of abortions in the world today, including the annual million and a half plus slain in the United States alone cry out for the arm of God's justice to fall if nothing else were amiss.

Besides all the hatred, revolutions, wars, religious divisions among mankind, violence, terrorism, we could list countless acts of rebellion against authority from those against paternal authority in the home, rebellion against civil governments and in the schools, to those directed against the head of the Churches, the Magisterium and against God Himself. Many of these evils represent a towering Babel of pride and they simply echo Lucifer's (Satan) shout: "Non serviam!"—"I will not serve!" The result is a literal hell on earth for both sinners and for the good they influence in the negative passage away from Godliness in behavior. This is the total falling into the trap of the senses of the physical plane while defying and breaking all of the rules of God as to produce harmony and balance.

The "Churches" as you recognize the clubs cry out in righteousness that it is a day of cleansing as with Noah and in the days of Sodom and Gomorrah. Can you not see that at this "crossing" you have populated and inhabited the entire planet and not just an area around the Holy Lands? That was the only known place at the time of cleansing but was indeed a perfect advance warning of what would come—TO DAY.

You must remember all of the story, though, as you consider what happened. The angels went to SAVE Lot, his wife and daughters and anyone else who would LISTEN—for the sake of Abraham, who claimed God as friend. So, too, shall it be for the goodly people in your days. At least your eternal salvation and continued experience is guaranteed. The spiritual-minded will note these signs and developments and will prepare for the more trying times to come, which times many of them believe are very close, dear ones. They prepare for what has been forecast as a "minor judgment", a great "Day of the Lord" and a magnificent warning sign, if you will. It is said that the Lord spoke to ones in Heede, Germany and called the days of coming cycle by that label. Then at about the same time from Madrid, in 1955, another message was given: "This generation deserves to be annihilated, but I desire to show Myself as merciful. Great and terrible things are being prepared. That which is about to happen will be terrible, like nothing ever seen since the beginning of the world." What makes you think that the "preparations" are of God? Natural cycles are of Nature and God—intent to annihilate and blow up a world are destructive things and are of full EVIL intent—not GODLY creation.

PREPARATION IS REQUISITE

What do the people who will pass through this tribulation do? Well, first of all they listen and become prepared for whatever will come. They, many of them, will simply turn into that which they consider the "truth" of the doctrines of Churches. This will suffice if the doctrines are truly in projections of God's Laws. But it requires more than that—it requires physical response and action in protection and readiness.

I find it difficult to consider the various possibilities herein and project the probabilities in differing scenarios to those "possibilities".

The warnings are so prevalent and current—even to such things as a statue of Mary shedding blood near Baguio City Airport in the Philippines. Warnings will always be presented from higher truth unto you in those manners which you can be capable of seeing and hearing. The point is to return to God so that you will be ready at the passage and/or "pick-up"—I care not what you call it.

What happens is that evil simply becomes more evil and, in so-doing, the very perpetrators of horror deceive you and keep the security devices from you which would save the myriads of lives in the physical—through their own greedy control of circumstances. They will then call it an act of God and the remaining few will believe it. Why can you not see in advance and turn this from you?

No, it becomes more and more certain, despite the efforts of the goodly and the repentance of the many, that, because of the impenitence of the greater number, there will be increasing tribulations which will first culminate in what is prophesied as the Three Days of Darkness. This will be more a thing of "coincidence" than a precipitated event whenever it happens.

The "divine" interventions in the form of "signs" such as apparitions, prophecies, wonders and prodigies, etc., are simply dramatic indications of the great danger of the present times for souls and "souls" is what it's all about! These are intended to get your attention and to help guide you, and to urge you to turn to higher possibilities and communicate with us who are sent to assist. But this also requires a turning from evil into lighted passage. There will actually be a time of great increase of healings and cures, of miracles of various kinds—by God and not just the insipid spurious deceit of the few self-proclaimed priests of some denomination of club or another.

There will be new rising of true "religious movements" or a reaffirmation of the truth of the (c)atholic body—which means universal body, by the truly Holy "Spirit" or Great Spirit, and whether or not you like it—by unusual prodigies from the outer reaches.

WHAT IS MEANT BY THE CONVERSION OF THE JEW?

You assume it means that of going through a great chastisement after return to Israel (Palestine) and return into the temple, etc., etc., etc. No, it means that the ones who have been betrayed by the adversary will come into recognition of that which has happened and those who simply call themselves "Jews"—because they know no better—will see and know what has happened and will return unto God in Truth instead of the lie which has become the only tradition they have been allowed to have through these last generations. Let me assure you that, as we move through the happenings on the planet, a whole big bunch of so-called "Jews" who have denied these very JOURNALS will be calling George the minute the phones work again—asking "....so what can I do? I've certainly changed my mind!"

SATANIC ACTIVITIES INCREASING

Still another sign is the great increase of Satanic activity: demonic cults which actually practice sacrifice (blood) and this considers the "Jewish temples" also, black masses and other demonic rites, devil worship, cases of possession and obsession (Satanism is even taught, literally and also subtle in form, in schools), that even Church ministers and priests are being asked for exorcisms. This "recognition" of demonic possibilities is one of the major signs of the "times". Why would this be a sign? Because it simply is that "devils" know their time is short, hence their intensive activity before being crushed and returned to "hell". Evil knows the hand of God is descending upon them and yet with the goodness also comes the recognition of great loss of physical beings which means great torment and suffering as the lost souls cry out in their misadventures and, shall we say, regrets.

Perhaps it would help herein to look more closely now at the matter of Darkness, especially as related to your "Old Testament" prophecies because those are the ones most familiar in all forms—to the largest numbers of people since all "religions" sprang from them. I do not herein include the Aboriginal beings because they have no "religion"; they have only spiritual traditions already based on One God "Creator" and "Creation".

"I can give you only one piece of advice for today: PRAY and get others to pray, for the world is at the threshold of its perdition." (Padre Pio, quoted by Francis Johnston in Fatima the Great Sign.)

Herein I think it appropriate to simply present some relative ancient prophecies to modern ones as already published and leave them for your consideration. I have no intent of learning "for you" for it is your own lessons which are in point and you must consider what it is YOU feel about each item offered.

RELATING BIBLE PROPHECIES TO MODERN ONES

"In Your light we see the light!" (Ps. 36)
Lots of people think they can hide in the darkness—even as sinful Adam and Eve in the shadow of the trees as the myth is presented—and not to be found out. But the inspired know:
"If I say: 'Let the darkness hide me and the light around me be night', even darkness is not dark for You and the night is as clear as the day." (Ps. 138: 11-12).

So now let us apply the above Scripture quotations to the basic attitudes and actions of different people in today's world: the approach of the sincere and good people who seek to walk in God's light, and that of the evil and insincere people who hide in the darkness and seek to escape God's wrath which threatens them because the cup of their iniquity overflows before Him. The hope of the good, as the darkness of the Chastisement increases about them (figuratively as well as literally), is biblically expressed by the words: "O my God, You brighten the darkness about me." (2 Sam. 22:29)

As for the evil, however, there is the Scriptural certainty: "His lamp will go out at the coming of the darkness." (Ps. 20:20) In the same way, we hear from modern prophecies that, in the continuous darkness of the Three Days, a blessed candle will suffice for illumination in the homes of the good, but any blessed candle that the sinful in their presumption might attempt to light will sputter out.

Events, which to some people, will appear as being totally evil, will be recognized by discerning good people as being used by God for their ultimate good. "In the shadow of Your wings I rejoice." (Ps. 63:9) As all should know by now, the Lord draws good out of evil. For repentant evil-doers the doors of Mercy will always remain open. "Whoever has left the darkness of sin, yearns for God." For both the good people and the repentant sinners we hear: "I will turn darkness into light before them." (Is. 42:16)

A SPECIAL JUDGMENT

Scriptural Truths concerning the good and the bad, announced in one generation, apply to all generations. However, in certain periods of history there occurs a titanic intensity in the struggle between the forces of good and evil, and in particular between Christ's teachings and His demonic-grouped enemies.

Evil insinuates itself so cleverly and also rages so rampantly, as it did in the times of Noah, and of Sodom and Gomorrah, that a special judgment or so-called "Day of the Lord" will be necessary to wipe out the evil and offer the Earth a new start. While at all times there are certain appeals that emanate from God's patient Mercy and certain chosen souls who will cry out for His Mercy and offer atonement, nevertheless God's Justice will finally demand the execution of a Day of Judgment for the unrepentant people and nations.

The majority of thinkers, writers and preachers on your modern scene believe that you are in such a crisis today and that the peak period of a so-called chastisement is due, indeed is at hand, for the world. The aboriginal people know you are in the time of purification. This conviction is borne out by longtime Bible prophecies and reinforced by modern and very recent ones. A popular phrase today is: "Get it together!" From old and new prophecies, God has put it all together, one can be sure! However, you had best look carefully at the various options given to you and most specifically at the ONE called "lay it on Jesus' blood". Simply "believing" that there was a Jesus and who might have died (or even "did die") FOR your sins (instead of you paying your own price for ill-behavior) is incorrect assumption. If you assume Jesus and Christ to be the same and you attune to the "Christ" and not the "man", then in either event your life will turn about and you will turn into the pathway toward God—ACCORDING TO HIS LAWS. JUST SAYING YOU BELIEVE ON JESUS AND HE WILL TAKE YOUR BURDENS AND BEAR YOUR PUNISHMENT, ETC., WILL NOT CUT IT!

"We possess the prophetic message as something altogether reliable. Keep your attention closely fixed on it, as you would on a lamp shining in a dark place until the first streaks of dawn appear and the morning star rises in your hearts." (2 Pt. 1:19)

Various authors and scholars concerned with prophecy believe that the following Old Testament prophecies apply, at least on a broad scale, to the outcome of certain developments in your times.

"For behold, the Lord will come in fire, and His chariots are like a whirlwind, to render his wrath in indignation, and His rebuke with flames of fire, and His sword unto all flesh, and the slain of the Lord shall be many." (Is. 66:15-16)

Some prophecies, old and new, indicate that two-thirds or three fourths of mankind will be destroyed. Here you have to allow for interpretations regarding geography of the world and world populations as also for the moral conditions of various nations. But, I remind you that the Elite One World Government—INTENDS TO DEPOPULATE TO NO MORE THAN 550 MILLION PEOPLE—WORLD-WIDE. I SUGGEST YOU STOP BLAMING GOD!

A LOOK BACK AT ONE CALLED NOAH

I care not to become entangled in a web of argument regarding whether or not there was "actually" a Noah, ark or real circumstance. The story serves well enough. Noah's world was judged by the waters of a flood. The next great judgment will be by fire according to prophecy. That does not exclude many other contributing disastrous forces, as of some tidal wave or torrential rain. Nor does it mean the actual end of the world and the last or General Judgment. Many other Old Testament prophecies, especially when illuminated by coordination with modern ones, indicate that the End of the Ends is not yet.

"That day is a day of wrath, a day of tribulation and distress, a day of calamity and misery, a day of darkness and obscurity... And I shall distress men, and they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the Lord: and their blood shall be poured out as earth, and their bodies as dung." (Zephaniah 1:15, 17)

"In all the land, says the Lord, two-thirds of them will be cut off and perish, and one-third shall be left. I will bring the one third through fire, and I will refine them as silver is refined, and I will test them as gold is tested. They shall call upon My Name and I will hear them. I will say, 'They are My people,' and they shall say, 'The Lord is my God!'" (Zechariah 13:8-9)

In the above prophecies it seems you can note a day or so of wrath, darkness and confusion, a time of great destruction and purification by what you might well assume to be fire (a fire perhaps somewhat symbolic in part but very real also). You also might note that the forecast is that a remnant of the people will be brought safely through all trials by God Himself. Do you not think you ones are being sorely tried? Tested? There is an overall tragic division of the good and the evil, to the latter's eternal destruction. As in the old, so often in later prophetic revelations, you hear of the "remnant" who will survive the Chastisement and the Three Days' Darkness. Hm-m-m-n.

You also learn of the triumphant aftermath for the people of God and the Word to spread.

"I will send of them that shall be saved, to the Gentiles...to the islands afar off, to them that have not heard Me...and all flesh shall come to adore before My Face, saith the Lord." (Is. 66: 19, 23)

VERY RECENT PROPHECIES

Let us, therefore, look at some connections between a few very recent prophecies and some older ones, for an example, from the American layman who is a scientist and exile from Communist Europe, and whom we shall refer to in subsequent passages as "L.G.A." for his protection.

"Tell your brothers and sisters, thus says the Lord: I am speaking to you now for the third time in a row. These words of Mine contain My plans which I announced a long time ago through My prophets. My words stand as I pronounced them and they will come true exactly as I uttered them..." (Feb. 6, 1984)

And now in referring to the prophet Joel, 2:28-32, from which I quote verses 30, 31:

"And I will show wonders in heaven: and in earth, blood and fire and vapour of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness and the moon into blood; before the great and dreadful day of the Lord doth come."

You hear the following prophetic words given by L.G.A. as recently as Feb. 22, 1986:

"Tell to your brothers and sisters, thus says the Lord: The time is at hand for the words I AM WHO AM have spoken through My prophets to come to fulfillment. Yes, I have had enough of the offenses of mankind, by men and women, yes, even by children, which are hurled endlessly against Our Divinity. I AM WHO AM, your Triune

God; I DO SPEAK AND ANNOUNCE MOST SOLEMNLY: These words of Mine spoken by My prophet JOEL are to be fulfilled NOW!

"To My children of love I offer the consolation of Our Holy Spirit, GOD THE HOLY GHOST.

"To My erring children I am sending you the days of chastisement, the days of My just anger. Know that these terrible days are filled with My love and compassion, because I will receive everyone who has the presence of mind to call on ME, WHO AM, with a truly repentant heart."

One day later, Feb. 23, 1986, referring to the same passage of Joel, part of a message given then follows:

"I will plunge the earth into darkness for three days and nights, and deliver it up to its crucifixion, just as I was in the bowels of the earth for three days and nights after My crucifixion. When the sun rises after those days and nights, the purified earth shall shine just as My resurrection did. My remnant, you will experience it, for you will experience the protective arms of your God.

"As the darkened clouds congeal to shut out and extinguish all lights, turn inwards to your souls with the knowledge that My Peace is yours, and then you will hear My voice calling you in your inner silence.—KNOW THAT I AM WHO AM SPEAKING TO YOU!"

Of further interest, this author is aware of a reliable seeress in midwestern U.S.A. who recently had a vision of an amassing of dark clouds. She is not alone; there have been many other such prophetic visions seen by people in various places around the U.S. and from all portions of the globe. Certainly this is not the only place wherein comes Truth and projections. This is the place of THIS mission. Further, much truth comes from all "prophecy" even though much may be false projection—YOU must discern from that which is given.

THE MESSAGE IS CLEAR

The above prophecies are very clear, it would seem. There are similar messages given recently which would also appear to be related to the ancient prophecies of Micah, Joel, Ezekiel and second Peter. For instance, consider this prophecy from Ezekiel 30: 2-3. Remember he is the one with the "wheels" and "wheels of fire".

"Son of man, speak this prophecy: Thus says the Lord God: Cry, Oh the day! for near is the day, near is the day of the Lord; a day of clouds, doomsday for the nations shall it be."

Now let's compare that with a prophecy received by L.G.A. on March 17, 1986:

"A doomsday for the nations is a mild expression of My divine wrath which is about to be poured out upon the earth for its purification."

"Now, hear My final warning, or world, or earth and your inhabitants. As in the days of old, so shall now all life be brought to an account to ME, WHO AM! I will destroy the land and its people, but shall save the REMNANT on whose behalf I AM WHO AM acting. From this day on, calamities upon calamities will you have..."

There is no point in giving other references from other sources which originate in the Sacred Scriptures. That the Chastisement and Darkness are part of the fulfillment of ancient Scriptural prophecies there is no doubt in the minds of many interpreters of Biblical passages. Also, there is no doubt that these ancient passages are well buttressed—and continue to be—almost daily at the present time, by modern private revelations, prophecies and signs.

You must remember that, while certain revelations and prophecies are labelled "private" to distinguish them from Scriptural ones, many such private revelations are intended for full public and universal consumption. As common sense dictates, they are intended for the whole of the world, but especially so for the members of God's body.

I shall leave this text with the following "prophecy" which comes from a Catholic nun in France dated about 1872-3: "Before the war breaks out again, food will be scarce and expensive. There will be little work for the workers, and fathers will hear their children crying for food. There will be earthquakes and signs in the sun. Towards the end, darkness will cover the earth."

It can be noted, as we continue to speak of these prophecies in the next volume of the "Divine Plan", that they all speak of the multitudes of the wicked who will perish at the time of the Darkness. Does that mean as you pass into a Photon Belt and through a "null time"? I would guess that all depends on YOU!

May the words of God rest easily on your heart for this is a time of service unto that God who will take of your burden if it seems too heavy in your efforts in fullness. I suggest you think most carefully, however, about simply asking another to take your own load—for it shall not happen!

Democracy is a kingless regime infested by many kings who are sometimes more exclusive, tyrannical and destructive than one, if he be a tyrant.

Hard Thoughts For Today

6/20/92 #1 HATONN

Hatonn present today for some "hard introspection suggestions". I am literally "buried" in influx of inquirers—ALMOST ALL of personal nature and "What to do"? "Should I cancel trips during the period of July 25th to 30th?", "Should I stay home?", "Now that the scientists are saying it will happen on the 15th, what do I do?" and most abundant in the complaint departments is: "HATONN IS SO CONFUSING AS TO NOT ALLOW ME TO MAKE ANY REASONABLE CHOICES!!!" Oh? Hatonn is confusing? Hatonn is sent to attend each one's desires and personal indecisions for some 6-1/2 billion persons? Confusing? I am giving you what YOUR PEOPLE (SCIENTISTS) ARE "LEAKING" TO YOU. I AM ALSO GIVING YOU WHAT HAS BEEN PUBLISHED ABOUT YOUR ENEMY'S PLANS AND CAPABILITIES FOR DECADES! DOES THIS MAKE "GHATONN" CONFUSING? Further, how do you expect to get answers to the overall if you require ALL OF OUR TIME in responding to your individual travel dates? I GIVE YOU WHAT INFORMATION I CAN AND MAY—YOU WILL DECIDE THAT WHICH YOU WILL DO WITH IT.

THERE ARE AT LEAST A DOZEN WAYS TO IMPACT THAT NULL-TIME PRIOR TO PHOTON ENTRY. (YOU ARE ALREADY RECEIVING A LOT OF PHOTON ENERGY WHICH IS CAUSING MUTANT CELLULAR STRUCTURES IN YOUR SPECIES, SO WHAT IN THE WORLD ARE WE TALKING ABOUT?) AT LEAST ELEVEN OF THOSE "WAYS" ARE BY EARTH HUMAN ACTION—WHY IS IT HATONN THAT GETS THE "RAP"? DO I HAVE TO STOP TELLING YOU TRUTH SO AS NOT TO SPOIL YOUR EMOTIONAL ATTITUDES

ABOUT YOUR VACATION PLANS? IS IT MORE IMPORTANT TO VISIT ANCIENT RUINS OR STAY ALIVE TO SERVE? IT IS STRICTLY UP TO YOU!

WEIGH THAT WHICH IS "REASON" FOR YOUR ACTIONS AND NEEDS AND SEE WHERE PRIORITIES IN "POSSIBILITIES" ARE LOCATED AND YOU WILL REALIZE WHETHER YOUR INTENT IS SELF-ORIENTED OR IF "STAYING ALIVE TO SERVE" IS THE INTENT. I CANNOT DO THAT FOR YOU, CHELAS—NOR DO I HAVE ANY INTENTION WHATSOEVER OF EFFORTING TO DO SO. ANOTHER PRIME CONSIDERATION IS, "WHY ARE YOU GOING AND WHAT REAL IMPORTANCE IS INVOLVED?"

If I tell you NOT to go somewhere and nothing happens—who gets blamed for spoiling your fun? If you are traveling and end up with terrible inconvenience, who gets blamed? You see, chelas—you want to set it up so you can have it BOTH WAYS—without responsibility for own actions!!

FOURTH OF JULY

I observe that which you ones plan, including my own "crew", and am appalled. I have also told you that from every direction reports are flooding me from "insiders"—that a major "happening" set up by your own world governments is planned and rehearsed for your Independence Day(s) of celebration. And yet, our own Motion Picture producer and the one whom all else revolves around at this time—intends to fly from Canada ON THE FOURTH OF JULY.

Well, do you STOP LIVING? I can't answer that for you—but if you do not take heed of nudges and inner warnings—you very well may do so! Would I stop a "happening" to save one of my own workers?—No! I will however, if need be, save the worker but the "condition" (physical) may be subject to alteration and not considered to be comfortable. Most often I WILL NOT EVEN DO THAT, FOR IT IS NOT MY BUSINESS WHAT YOU DO! I am a Commander of a fleet of ships—not your guardian angel—you have your own guardian angels. To some of you I serve a major part in that system but with very few indeed for YOU HAVE YOUR OWN APPOINTED GUARDIANS. THE POINT IS TO LEARN RIGHT NOW—LISTEN TO THEM AND HEED THEIR INPUT.

There is no point in quarreling with me about it—those things are between God and you and are none of my business. To deliberately defy the warnings as if some little birdie will snatch you from never, never land is indeed being unwise. You can argue your points regarding "Mary Ann can't get off work except at that time" to "...it's my only vacation time"—if you can't control THOSE things then why should I do it for you? The adversarial troops are indeed clever, chelas, the very King-led troops of surprise and deceit—you are in charge of your choices. Therefore, if I am confusing to your senses—I cannot change it for—while you individually chatter and whim—a world goes farther into the darkness. Darkness is defined in many ways, chelas—you had best check up on all the definitions.

You do not need to ask me about children in stuffy rooms and/or "Will it be cold or will it be hot?" Look at that which is and prepare accordingly. If I take time to respond to Masheewa, South Africa and Henson, Alaska on particular cases—we won't even get to the "next catastrophe which is already taking shape and is far more impacting on your beings than any null-time, dark or light." I simply am not going to do this FOR YOU.

I also have youngsters planning a long trip North during the holidays—with one of my children. Well, they must take into consideration the possibilities and act accordingly. If the worst thing possible is to be stalled out in a distant place, so be it. But it seems to me that you are nearing a time, if nothing more than politically caused, to stay very close to security and HOME. I am not going to make it convenient for you so that you can postpone actions of properness until the last confounded minute for ability to act. Do whatever makes you happy is the only answer I can possibly give you—or succumb to "unhappiness", whichever you choose.

WHAT ARE THOSE TROOPS FOR?

Those bits of military equipment and placement of troops all over the place—especially foreign ones (for "exercises") ARE FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAINTAINING ORDER AT ALL COSTS WITH SHOOT TO KILL ORDERS no matter what takes place for MUCH WILL BE TAKING PLACE, BE IT MILITARY, POLITICAL OR PRONOUNCED "NATURAL". NO, NONE OF IT HAS TO BE, even in the "natural order", for the "natural order" would not happen as it is unfolding and you take so much time on the little tree that you give us NO TIME to point out the trees in the forest!

HURT FEELINGS?

I cannot deal with your "hurt feelings" which are nothing but EGO manifestations. If you are offended by my writings, then you are not mature in your "judgments". The remainder of the population and species will NOT be pleased to await while you make up your individual vacation and holiday plans.

Eyes will not see when the heart wishes them to be blind. Desire conceals Truth, as darkness does the earth.

Warfare By Stealth: Not So New After All

6/20/92 #1 HATONN

Dharma, herein is a good place to re-publish a writing by Dr. Peter David Beter on November 30, 1980. It is picked at random and not nearly the better of the choices available—simply the one handy at the moment of this presentation. The "stealth" submarines with missile launchers and "placement" of missiles is "interesting" but we will look at what was then labeled as "The New Age of Warfare by Stealth".

Dharma, this is not going to be on any of the subjects given prior to now so: To the Editors, please just publish it as is in the LIBERATOR and the TANGLED WEBS series and let it go out of placement by "index". We are writing ongoing JOURNALS which means "regular entries of information and/or data" and I choose the subjects according to need and not according to your computer indexes. Mine is not to cause you convenience—it is to get you information in the best and fastest way possible with that which we have with which to work and make presentation. Our people are totally overworked and weary of complaints from readers who object to the WAY we structure "literature". Forget "literature" and think "save your assets!"

The following is from the Dr. Peter David Beter presentation #60, recorded November 30, 1980. It is an interruption of sequence—taken completely out of sequence of presentation—but you ones must understand that information has been available to you in hard copy regarding the subject about which we write—for decades. This information in point was made public to all who would hear on Nov. 30, 1980 and wasn't new information on THAT date. This is for example and, I hope, to shake you up a bit.

In dealing with the term "Stealth" let us utilize it as a good word to apply to the century of Planning for a one-world Federation and a one-world church as presented in definition at the Colombian Expo. (1893).

QUOTE:

Topic #3—Several months ago there were big headlines about a supposed new American secret weapon. It's called the "Stealthplane". The weapon which is actually involved is a specialized hybrid machine called a "Subcraft". It's the same weapon that I [remember: Beter, not Hatonn] described two years earlier in Audio Letter No. 37. And early this year, January 1980, the Bolsheviks here tried to use it against Russia. The result was a disaster, as I reported in Audio Letters No's. 53 and 54. So now the spectacular sounding Stealthplane has become just a publicity tool to make nuclear war sound less suicidal.

To judge by all the recent publicity, one would think that stealth is a radical new concept in warfare; but stealth, trickery, deception, and surprise have been the prime ingredients in military strategy since ancient times. And today, my friends, we live in an age of stealth—stealth in politics, stealth in economics, and above all stealth in weaponry in warfare. During the past six years or so I have made public many secret developments in weapons and warfare. I revealed the secrets of both Russia and the United States because I believe you need to know, and knowledge is power.

A secret war is raging right now, and already you and I are suffering the consequences; and if it is not stopped, it will soon explode into all-out thermo-just a laser-armed killer satellite!"

nuclear war. There is only one way to stop the deadly cycle of war now underway. That way is to put an end to stealth and trickery, and replace it with the TRUTH—the truth about America's gold scandal, the truth about stealing of elections and unregulated voting machines, and the truth about a whole new age of secret weapons which are unknown to the public. The new age of stealth in warfare is everywhere today. It makes up a complete spectrum from deep beneath the sea to outer space.

To begin with, consider Submarines. From the very beginning submarines have always been weapons of stealth. Their outstanding advantage has always been their ability to escape detection. The modern age of nuclear submarines was inaugurated by the United States in 1954 and it was America that conceived a ballistic missile submarine, first launched in 1959. Today our leaders still reassure us that American submarines remain second to none. They have to admit that Russia has several times more "subs" than we do, but they gloss over that with stories that Russian subs are noisy, or leaky, or their crews are not very smart. So, in effect, they tell us, "Don't worry. We can handle a submarine war with Russia." There was a time when quality was in our favor but that time is long gone. Today the United States is losing badly in the secret war to control the world's oceans.

New generations of Russian submarines are entering a new era of their own. For example, there are the new Oscar Class Cruise Missile Submarines. These can launch Cruise Missiles to attack our Aircraft Carriers and other surface ships. They can do this while still submerged, far beyond the horizon. And there are the new Alpha Class Attack Submarines which are without parallel in the world. Submariners always say that a submarine's worst enemy is another submarine, and Russia's new Alpha Subs are the worst enemy yet to our subs. Unlike the United States, Russia has mastered the use of titanium for submarine construction. And unlike America, Russia has big supplies of titanium for use in all kinds of new technologies—and Russia no longer sells titanium to the United States. So the new Alpha Subs have double hulls of titanium, and they are now the deepest diving, fastest operational submarines on earth. Its speed has been estimated in the West at 45 knots but, my friends, it is actually well over 60 knots! In most situations it can actually outrun America's best torpedo, the Mark 48; and it can dive almost a mile deep to escape attack and slip away under complex ocean currents.

But the biggest shock so far in Russia's submarine program took place earlier this fall of 1980. It's a submarine launched from a shipyard near Arkangel on the White Sea. When Western Intelligence officials got their first look at it they could hardly believe their eyes. Traditionally submarines have been known as boats rather than ships because of their relative smallness, but not this submarine. It's a giant, a ballistic missile submarine about the size of an American World War II Aircraft Carrier. Western Intelligence officials are mystified as to why it is so large, but I can reveal the reason to you right now. The giant new Russian submarine, code named "Typhoon", is another "first". It's the world's first ballistic missile submarine with a reload capability. It can empty all 20 of its ballistic missile tubes at a target in war, then it can re-load the tubes with 20 more missiles carried aboard. So, if need be, Russia's Typhoon Sub can mount two nuclear attacks. Like the Alpha Subs, Russia's awesome new Typhoon has a titanium hull. It's not as fast as the sleek Alpha Sub but very fast even so, and it can dive extremely deep.

Meanwhile, what does the United States have to answer all that? The answer is America's new Trident Missile Sub. It carries 24 missiles, compared to the Typhoon's 40. It's slower and cannot dive nearly as deep with its non-titanium hull, and it's also three years behind schedule and still slipping—and there are several reasons for that, some of which have been mentioned in the news lately. But one major reason for our crumbling Trident Submarine program is not in the news—it's the widespread use of narcotics among Trident shipyard workers! Many workers are not in-involved, but many are and, as a result, there is a tremendous turnover in personnel. Another result is defective welds and mistakes in critical piping. When the mistakes are found they have to be done over, sometimes more than once. And, my friends, absolutely nothing is being done about it.

ANTISUBMARINE WARFARE

The other side of the coin in undersea warfare is Antisubmarine Warfare, or ASW. Lately we have heard brave stories that there have recently been ASW breakthroughs by the United States. These are based on extremely complex computerized sonar-listening networks; but as I first revealed some time ago, all new Russian submarines produce artificial noises in normal operation. That's why the new Alpha Subs are thought to be so noisy—the noise is deliberate. When war comes, the noise-makers called "Cavitators", will be retracted. The American sonar nets will listen in vain for the familiar noises. Instead, Alpha Subs and others will swim at high speed toward America whisper quiet and, as they do so, the Russian subs will strike as submarines always strike—by stealth. [H: Something not mentioned herein are the devices which are attached to the subs which can be released and computerized to give off the "same" signals and totally mislead trackers indefinitely!]

The true condition of America's Antisubmarine Warfare was summed up in the New York Times last month on October 5. A senior American naval officer was quoted as saying: "To find a submarine you need to know where to look. Otherwise you'll have to use a large share of your antisubmarine resources just to find and kill one submarine and in wartime that is not practical. You're better off waiting for him to attack." He explained that then we could more easily detect the sub—but he added that a ballistic missile sub could fire its missiles before being caught, quote: "...so it probably doesn't matter."

My friends, it would still be a standoff in submarines if Russia had the same problem we do in finding subs, but they don't. Five years ago, in 1975, the head of the Russian Navy announced a breakthrough in ASW, and it was not a bluff. He was talking about Psychoenergetic Range Finding, or PRF. I first reported on Russia's PRF in Audio Letter No. 42. It was the key to Russia's destruction of American Subcraft early this year and Russian manned space satellites used PRF to keep track continuously on all United States submarines. When war comes, the positions of our own submarines will be relayed to Russian Attack Submarines. This will be done by means of the world-wide Submarine Communication System, which I revealed in Audio Letter No. 16. Russian Attack Submarines including the new Alphas will be vectored in toward our own Ballistic Missile Subs. Our own subs, older and slower, will be caught by surprise and unable to escape. And without warning, Russian nuclear torpedoes will destroy our Ballistic Missile Submarines.

SUB-PLANTED MISSILES CREATED CRISIS IN 1976

When I mentioned Russia's worldwide Submarine Communication System in Audio Letter No. 16, a crisis was under way. It was the Underwater Missile Crisis of 1976. At that time the Russian Navy was planting underwater missiles within our own territorial waters and they were using submarines to do it. The missiles involved were small short-range missiles with nuclear warheads. Once planted, these missiles can be launched from their own underwater resting places by satellite command and they were planted very close to their coastal targets. The result would be zero warning time for an underwater missile attack. The missiles were planted in bays and coves along America's shoreline by a special type of submarine. This was the Missile-planting Mini-Sub which I described in Audio Letter No. 16. I mentioned in that tape that, quote: "These special submarines are very difficult for our undersea sonar detection nets to pick up because the hull is created in such a way that it absorbs sonar signals instead of reflecting them."

Four years later we hear an echo of this concept in the so-called Stealth-plane. For aircraft, the treatment is to absorb radar instead of sonar, but otherwise it's the same idea. Russia was planting underwater missiles along our shores by stealth, and our own leaders were responding with equal secrecy [H: Didn't you see Red October, with Sean Connery? Where do you think these "outlandish" stories come from?] instead of warning you! When I made these things public over four years ago, certain newsletter writers and others went into a frenzy. For whatever reason they did their best to tell their readers not to listen about the missiles. They tried to say that waterproof missiles lurking under water are impossible. Likewise they pooh-poohed the very idea of sonar-absorbing submarines.

But today we are four years closer to NUCLEAR WAR ONE and the closer catastrophe looms over us, the more it casts its shadow. The New York Times article of last month, which I mentioned earlier, is a good example. It mentioned, quote: "Soviet subs are usually coated with a material that absorbs sonar impulses." And as for the underwater missiles, listen to some words from a recent letter "To the Editor". It was published on September 25, 1980, in the Washington Star. The writer is Captain John E. Draim, formerly program manager of the Navy's project "Hydra". He says, quote: "We can easily waterproof missiles such as the MX, and launch them from a vertical floating position. The United States Navy's project Hydra demonstrated this launch technique with test missiles of ICBM size in the early 1960's." And a further quote: "A Hydra-type missile can also be floated up from a submerged submarine to the surface and launched from there, the technique used for Soviet SLBM's."

In light of these words recently published, what I first reported in the summer of 1976 becomes almost routine. The things I reported then were well known to be feasible in intelligence circles. But out of the sheer ignorance, if nothing else, certain Newsletters and organizations wanted people to ignore my warnings. Fortunately large numbers of my listeners did not ignore those warnings. They applied heavy pressure to the Joint Chiefs of Staff as I suggested, and action was taken for a while to defuse the crisis.

In the letter "To the Editor" I just quoted by Captain Draim, the reference to ICBM-size missiles is interesting because a few months after I reported on Russia's underwater missiles, I learned about our own.

RUSSIANS OLD HANDS

When it comes to stealth in space, the Russians are old hands. About three months ago, on Sept. 1, 1980, a fascinating letter was printed in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. It was written by A. L. Jones, the director of the Sohio Radio Satellite Tracking Station from 1958 to 1964. He said, quote: "The technology for making aircraft invisible to radar detection is neither new nor is it proprietary with the United States Military. In mid summer of 1962, the Soviet Union made a public announcement that it was launching a Cosmos Earth-orbiting Satellite which would be invisible to radar detection. The satellite was successfully launched and it carried on board a radio transmitter which could be used to confirm that it was in orbit." He mentions that NORAD requested radio-tracking data from the Sohio Station and continues, quote: "Normally radio tracking data is not needed by NORAD unless radar and optical methods prove ineffective. Apparently this was the case. After approximately two months, the radio transmitter in the satellite ceased to operate, and the space vehicle became invisible to all methods of tracking."

My friends, for more than three years now, Russia has controlled the military use of space. Russia now has many satellites, including manned satellites, which are not even being tracked in the West. For this and other reasons, America's military plight has become untenable, and yet the Bolsheviks here are still bent on nuclear war against Russia! They believe they will survive, as I explained prior to this, but they don't care how many of the rest of us suffer and die. One way or another they are determined to set off an American nuclear first strike against Russia.

In a prior writing last June I revealed one of the keystones of Bolshevik nuclear war planning. It is America's secret mobile missile, the Minuteman TX, the traveling Minuteman. TX Missiles are already deployed along existing railroad tracks in our northern states. Meanwhile the elaborate publicity cover-up for the Minuteman TX program is continuing. This includes controversy over the alleged MX Missile. And now it also includes stories about a possible speed-up of the mobile missile program. On Nov. 18 the New York Times reported that this could include, and I quote: "...making some Minuteman Missiles mobile." As usual, the news is far behind the facts.

I can report that the initial deployment of Minuteman TX Missiles is now virtually completed. Now a second phase is under way. [H: You had best get nervous, readers—what do you think they have DONE SINCE 1980?!] I have described previously a special mobile-launch car that carries each Minuteman TX. Now, one by one, each TX car is being joined by a second car. On the outside it looks just like the TX car, but the missile inside is totally different. The missile in the second car is an Anti-Cosmosphere Missile, or ACM, and it is armed with a cobalt ionization bomb, which I have also described.

I have described the launch sequence that is being planned for the TX Missiles, but now something extra will also be taking place. When the order comes to launch the TX Missiles, the ACM will go into action first. Without waiting to slow down, the cover will be blasted off the ACM railroad car. That will expose the ACM Missile itself resting on its launcher. The ACM is far smaller than the Minuteman, and its launcher is angled upward slightly, so the moment the cover flies off, the ACM will be launched. [H: My scribe is now in attention for I only write recently of things which are very apt to be happening in your own moment of experience so when Dharma gets insight and nervous, perhaps all of you had best heed the twitching!]

When the ACM takes off, it will accelerate with 100 times the force of gravity—minimum. Less than one (1) second after launch, the ACM will be traveling more than 1000 miles per hour and, because it takes off almost horizontally, it will be an impossible target for the Cosmosphere overhead to aim at. Less than 10 seconds after launch, the COBALT IONIZATION BOMB will explode in the upper atmosphere. That is supposed to disable the Cosmospheres briefly and, with the Cosmospheres even temporarily neutralized, the Minuteman TX Missiles themselves will be launched at Russia—at least that is the plan of the Bolsheviks HERE. [H: BUT—today (1992) the Cosmosphere crews can totally disable the tracking devices and nullify the plan. As far back as 1980—you can see what was already underway.]

But Cosmosphere crews have already been given orders intended to nullify the plan. WHEN THE ACM IS LAUNCHED, THEY WILL NOT EVEN TRY TO SHOOT AT IT. INSTEAD, THEY WILL START FIRING THEIR CHARGED PARTICLE BEAM WEAPONS AT THE MINUTEMAN TX RAILROAD CAR. [H: REMEMBER? I already told you all about this plan.] They will have about 10 seconds to destroy it before the Cobalt Ionization Bombs explode, and that should be more than enough time to vaporize every TX and its locomotive. [H: Not to mention everything within MILES around the area involved.] But by that time the kamikaze nuclear first strike against Russia may be impossible to stop and, if it is, the consequences for America will be TOTAL DESTRUCTION. Stealth and secrecy will end in complete disaster. END.

END OF QUOTING

By the way: Dr. Beter was murdered (taken out) following many, many warnings and threats—on March 14, 1987. And—what do YOU do in your spare time??

Another complaint that one or two have bothered to pay a rather high phone fee for is to effort to "stop Hatonn from using God's name in vain and swearing." When asked what Hatonn says, the response is "B.S." and "damn". All I can respond to this is with the observation that: "This kind of BS is going to get your world damn well blown to dust particles." Swearing and cursing would be represented by my asking God to damn you for your irrational and incredible behavior—I have not yet done this although it HAS crossed my mind! By the way, were I do such a thing—it would not be accidentally "taking the Lord's name in vain"—IT WOULD BE QUITE INTENTIONAL AND WOULD VERY WELL BE HONORED! SO BE IT! And how is YOUR day? Salu.

Truth Is Truth

I am not going to buffer wording for you readers—I am not here to quarrel, debate or "straighten up MY thinking". This latter is for you dear ones who in good intent write to "straighten up Hatonn's thinking" and "...clarify Hatonn's output". My thinking nor my output is shrouded nor "crooked". You want to know about years and what happened, etc., and then set about correcting me when I tell you. That is fine; it would simply seem wiser, to me, to go and look at WHERE YOU ARE TODAY and consider that perhaps I might just be RIGHT. You certainly don't have anything to LOSE by reading my presentations for goodness has never HURT anyone that I know about.

When you consider what happened to Yehwah and Yewah, Yeawow and Jehova as well as Jehovah—I have only this to say to you—WATCH FOR THE CLUES. Speakers who claim to be speaking in the name of these ones and/or disembodied speakers who claim these names in reference—are false! I don't need to carry the argument further but I will, briefly. If these "channels" speaking for these so-named energy forms tell you exactly where to go, what to do and when to do it (specifically and finite)—watch OUT! THIS IS NOT OF GOD IN THESE DAYS!!! These wondrous names given unto God in the Beginning are now utilized almost exclusively by the adversarial troops—you are going to have to get all the information in Truth which you can garner and then measure the output by the guidelines and against the commandments as given by God and Creation. It is total simplicity so I suggest you stop looking for contradictions and follow the guidelines of Truth for they vary not from one speaker to the next. Truth is Truth is Truth and will stand into infinity!

Ask me about this subject tomorrow at the gathering and I shall be happy to further discuss it.

The Earth's Moon In The Genesis Quest

6/20/92 #2 HATONN

As to creationists of this latter day—they tell you that it appears that "creation" took place some 10,000 or 22,000 years ago. That alone should give you ample reason to suspect error—there is, for one thing, a lot of years between 10,000 and 22,000. But it does indicate that the "cycles" as outlaid have a large part to play in the projections of possibilities. Since you have PHYSICAL PROOF of elders beyond 22,000 years past—that would take the edge off the "whole truth". However, when one considers the truth of the presentation and "creation" methods of God and projection of manifested experience—anything COULD be possible??!! Therefore we have to look first at probabilities and then take higher knowledge as viewed by elder travelers and work from that perception.

Perhaps in overreaction to this "Creationism", scientists have considered the biblical tale of Genesis as a subject of faith, not fact. And yet, chêlas, when one of the rocks brought back from the Moon by Apollo astronauts turned out to be almost 4.1 billion years old, it was nicknamed "the Genesis rock" so who is efforting to fool who? When a tiny piece of green glass shaped like a lima bean turned up in lunar soil samples gathered by the Apollo 14 astronauts, the scientist dubbed it "the Genesis bean". It therefore appears that, in spite of all the objections and reservations, even the scientific community cannot escape the age-old faith (or perhaps truth), belief, inner feelings, or perhaps some "genetic memory" of the species called Mankind, that a primordial truth underlies the narrative of the Books considering Genesis.

However the Moon became a constant companion to Earth—the various theories must be examined. It, like Earth, belonged to the same Solar System, and the histories of both go all the way back to its creation. On Earth, erosion caused by the forces of nature as well as by the life that has evolved on it has obliterated much of the evidence bearing on that creation, to say nothing of the cataclysmic events that changed and revamped the planet. But the Moon, so it was assumed, had remained in its pristine condition. With neither winds, atmosphere, nor waters, there were no forces of erosion. A look at the Moon was tantamount to a peek at Genesis.

Man has gazed at the Moon for eons, first with the unaided eye, then with Earth-based magnifying instruments. The Space Age made it possible to probe the Moon more closely. Between 1959 and 1969, a number of Soviet and American unmanned spacecraft photographed and otherwise examined the Moon either by orbiting it or by landing on it. You don't even know about the other "nations" which have likewise visited that orb. Then Man finally set foot on the moon, or so it was stated to you-the-public, when the landing module Apollo 11 touched down on the moon's surface as reported on July 20, 1969. I have no wish to contradict what you have been told for it makes NO DIFFERENCE. You have NEVER been an enemy of the Soviet Union and all information has been shared so that no ONE HAS to go anywhere to get very valid information to push off as "first hand". But we will simply go with the "story". We will remember Neil Armstrong and his announcement for all the world to hear: "Houston! Tranquility Base here. The Eagle has landed!"

LOTS OF LUNAR HYPE

In all, six Apollo spacecraft presumably set down a total of twelve astronauts on the Moon; the last manned mission was that of Apollo 17, in Dec. 1972. The first one was admittedly intended primarily to "beat the Russians to the Moon", but that didn't work either for the Soviets were already there—waiting—along with a lot of brothers from "out there somewhere" and YOU were invited to withdraw and "don't come back!" The missions became increasingly scientific as the Apollo program progressed. The equipment for the tests and experiments became ever more sophisticated (or at least the reports speculated as much); the choice of landing sites was more scientifically oriented, the areas covered increased with the aid of surface vehicles, and the length of stay increased from hours to days. Even the crew makeup changed to include, in the last mission, a trained geologist, Harrison Schmitt; his expertise was speculated as invaluable in the on-the-spot selection of rocks and soil to be taken back to Earth, in the description and evaluation of dust and other lunar materials left behind, and in the choice and description of topographic features—hills, valleys, small canyons, escarpments, and giant boulders without which the true face of the Moon would have remained inscrutable. Instruments were left on the Moon to measure and record its phenomena over long periods; deeper soil samples were obtained by drilling into the face of the Moon; but most scientifically precious and rewarding were the 838 pounds of lunar soil and Moon rocks brought back to Earth. Their examination, analysis, and study were still in progress as the twentieth anniversary of the first landing was being celebrated.

As an exercise, herein, walk outside your living quarters right now to a place wherein you can touch "earth". This will be far more expressive if you take someone who lives in rural terrain. Simply first look around you—HOW FAR AND HOW MUCH CAN YOU SEE? Pick up a handful of dirt—is it topsoil added to your lawn or natural in location? Now move twenty or thirty feet or even five miles—and look and dig again. Now, let us assume you are in Montana or Texas—have you just learned a single solitary thing about the Grand Canyon? You could utilize a hundred tons of soil from the spot wherein you stand and how much would learn about the Grand Canyon? How about Yellowstone? The Black Hills? The Aegean Sea? The Sahara Desert? If you don't harken up, dear ones, you are going to have come, experienced and perished without knowing a single worthwhile thing about your passage, how you began or why you ended.

The notion of "Genesis rocks" to be found on the Moon was proposed to NASA by the Nobel Laureate Harold Urey. The so-called Genesis rock that was one of the very first to be picked up on the Moon proved, as the Apollo program progressed, not to be the oldest one. It was "only" some 4.1 billion years old, whereas the rocks later found on the Moon ranged from 3.3 billion-year-old "youngsters" to 4.5 billion-year "old-timers". Barring a future discovery of some older rocks, they said, the oldest rocks on the Moon brought its age to within 100 million years (give or take a day or so in either direction) of the estimated age of the Solar System—of 4.6 billion years—which until then was surmised only from the age of meteorites that struck the Earth—and the records of the Sumerians of ancient experience and/or the oral traditional teachers of the "ancients" (aboriginal people).

AGE OF THE MOON

Who cares? Well, in establishing the age of the Moon, the time of its probable creation, only intensified the debate concerning the question of HOW the Moon was created and "Green Cheese" didn't quite cut it.

"The hope of establishing the Moon's origin was a primary scientific rationale for the manned landings of the Apollo project in the 1960's" (or so they told YOU), wrote a James Gleick in June of 1986 for The New York Times Science Service. It was, however, "the great question that Apollo failed to answer."

How could modern science read an uneroded "Rosetta stone" of the Solar System, so close by, so much studied, landed upon six times or so—and not come up with an answer to the basic question? The answer to the puzzle seems to be that the findings were applied to a set of preconceived notions and, because none of these notions is correct, the findings appear to leave the question unanswered.

One of the earliest scientific theories regarding the Moon's origin was published in 1879 by Sir George H. Darwin, second son of Charles Darwin. Whereas his father put forth the theory regarding the origin of species on Earth, Sir George was the first to develop a theory of origins for the Sun-Earth-Moon system based on mathematical analysis and geophysical theory. How many of you readers even knew that Charles Darwin HAD sons? Don't you find this interesting? His, George's, specialty was the study of tides; he therefore conceived of the Moon as having been formed from matter pulled off Earth by solar tides. The Pacific basin was later postulated to be the scar that remained after this "pinching off" of part of Earth's body to form the Moon. Is it not interesting to note that the most unlikely theory—the one of Darwin's evolution, is the controversial absurdity which took root and flourished?

Although it is "a hypothesis now considered unlikely to be true," said the ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA, the idea reappeared in the twentieth century as one of three contenders for being proved or disproved by the lunar reports as furnished by whoever and whatever was "out there" issuing the information. Given a high-tech name, the Fission Theory, it was revived with a difference. In the reconstructed theory, the simplistic idea of the tidal pull of the Sun was dropped; instead it was proposed that the Earth divided into two bodies while spinning very rapidly during its formation. The spinning was so rapid that a chunk of the material of which the Earth was forming was thrown off, coalesced at some distance from the bulk of the Earthly matter, and eventually remained orbiting its bigger twin brother as its "permanent" satellite. Why would it be permanent? How do YOU know that you both are not just pieces of a giant cosmic fire-breathing dragon's dung-bits? Is it any more unspeculative or uninspired?

The "thrown-off chunk" theory, whether in its earlier or renewed form, has been conclusively rejected by scientists from various disciplines, which is also routinely the way it is and for no better reason than just THAT. Studies presented at the third Conference on the Origins of Life held in Pacific Palisades, California, in 1970—so it must all be true—established that tidal forces as the cause of the fission could not account for the origin of the Moon beyond a distance of five Earth radii, whereas the Moon is some 60 Earth radii away from the Earth. All I see proven is that some idiots gave some opinions in the form of "papers" and "abstracts" which have no basis of merit whatsoever—even if they were presented in New Jersey. Also, scientists consider a study by Kurt S. Hansen in 1982 (Review of Geophysics and Space Physics, vol. 20) [eeh-gads, spare us from the other 19] as showing conclusively that the Moon could never have been closer to Earth than 140,000 miles; this would rule out any theory that the Moon was once part of Earth (the Moon is now an average distance of about 240,000 miles from Earth, but this distance has not been constant).

PROponents OF FISSION THEORY

Proponents of the Fission Theory have offered various variants thereof in order to overcome the distance problem, (as well as the truth), which is further constrained by a concept termed the Roche limit (the distance within which the tidal forces overcome the gravitational force). But all variants of the fission theory have been rejected because they violate the laws of the preservation of energy. The theory requires much more angular momentum than has been preserved in the energy that exists to spin the Earth and the Moon around their axes and to orbit around the Sun. Writing in the book ORIGIN OF THE MOON (1986), John A. Wood of Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics ("A Review of Hypotheses of Formation of Earth's Moon") (this is certainly one of your finer stipulated Rockefeller institutions) summed up this constraint thus: "The fission model has very severe dynamic problems: In order to fission, the Earth had to have about four times as much angular momentum as the Earth-Moon system now has. There is no good explanation why the Earth had such an excess of angular momentum in the first place, or where the surplus angular momentum went after fission occurred." My, my, and "Hatonn is confusing?"

The knowledge about the Moon supposedly acquired from the Apollo program added geologists and chemists to the lineup of scientists rejecting the fission theory. The Moon's composition is, in many respects, they say, similar to Earth, yet different in key respects. There is sufficient "kinship" to indicate they are very close relatives, but there are enough differences, as reported, to show they are not twin brothers. This is especially true of the Earth's crust and mantle, from which the moon had to be formed, according to the fission theory. Thus, for example, the Moon has too little of the elements called "siderophile", such as tungsten, phosphorus, cobalt, molybdenum, and nickel, compared with the amount of these substances present in the Earth's mantle and crust (even in the Grand Canyon?) and too much of the "refractory" elements such as aluminum, calcium, titanium and uranium (even in the Florida Everglades?). In a highly technical summary of the various findings ("The Origin of the Moon", American Scientist, Sept.-Oct. 1975), Stuart R. Taylor stated: "For all these reasons, it is difficult to match the composition of the bulk of the Moon to that of the terrestrial mantle. (Even in the Philippines??—how about the Mojave Desert??)

The book ORIGIN OF THE MOON, apart from its introductions and summaries, is a collection of papers presented by some sixty-two scientists at the Conference on the Origin of the Moon held at Kona, Hawaii, in October 1984 (a better location?? At least for a vacation!!)—the most comprehensive since the conference twenty years earlier that had mapped out the scientific goals of the unmanned and manned Moon probes. In their papers, the contributing scientists, approaching the problem from various disciplines, invariably reached conclusions against the fission theory. Comparisons of the composition of the upper mantle of the Earth with that of the Moon, Michael J. Drake of the University of Arizona stated, "rigorously exclude" the Rotational Fission hypothesis (even in South Africa?).

CAPTURE THEORY (OR "GOTCHA")

The laws of angular momentum plus the comparisons of the composition of the Moon with that of Earth's mantle also ruled out, after the landings on the moon, the second favored theory, that of Capture. According to this particular theory, the Moon was formed not near the Earth but among the outer planets or even beyond them. Somehow thrown off into a vast elliptical orbit around the Sun, it passed too closely to the Earth, was caught by the Earth's gravitational force, and became Earth's satellite. Hot-dog—"gotcha" in action.

This theory, it was pointed out after numerous computer studies, required an extremely slow approach by the Moon toward the Earth. This capture process, not unlike that of the satellites you have sent to presumably be captured and remain in orbit around Mars or Venus, etc., fails to take into account the relative sizes of Earth and Moon. Relative to the Earth, the Moon (about one-eightieth the mass of Earth) is much too large to have been snared from a vast elliptical orbit unless it was moving very slowly; but then, as all the calculations have shown, the result would be not a capture but a collision. This theory was further laid to rest by comparisons of the compositions of the two celestial bodies: the Moon was too similar to Earth and too dissimilar to the outer bodies to have been born so far away from Earth.

Extensive studies of the "Capture" Theory suggested that the Moon would have remained intact only if it had neared Earth, not from way out, but from the very same part of the heavens where Earth itself was formed. This conclusion was accepted even by another famous(?) scientist, S. Fred Singer of George Mason University—a proponent of the capture hypothesis—in his paper ("Origin of the Moon by Capture") presented at the above-mentioned Conference on the Origin of the Moon. "Capture from an eccentric heliocentric orbit is neither feasible nor necessary," he stated; the oddities of the Moon's composition "can be explained in terms of a Moon formed in an Earthlike orbit": the Moon was "captured" while forming near Earth. Do you feel like you are in a "B-Grade" movie plot? So be it for these are CURRENT MODERN PROJECTIONS!

COACCRETION

These admissions by proponents of the fission and the capture theories lent support to the third main theory that was previously current, that of Coaccretion, a common birth. This theory has its roots in the hypothesis proposed at the end of the eighteenth century of one Pierre-Simon de Laplace, who said that the Solar System was born of a nebular gas cloud that coalesced in time to form the Sun and the planets—a hypothesis that has been retained by modern science. Showing that lunar accelerations are dependent on eccentricities in the Earth's orbit, Laplace concluded that the two bodies were formed side by side, first the Earth and then the Moon. The Earth and the Moon, he suggested, were sister planets, partners in a binary, or two-planet, system, in which they orbit the Sun together while one "dances" around the other. Would it be a Waltz or a Texas Two-Step?

That natural satellites, or moons, coalesce from the remainder of the same primordial matter of which their parent planet was formed is now the generally accepted theory of how planets acquired moons and should also apply to Earth and the Moon somehow. As reported found by the Pioneer and Voyager spacecraft, the moons of the outer planets—that had to be formed, by and large, out of the same primordial material as their "parents"—are both sufficiently akin to their parent planets and at the same time reveal individual characteristics as "children" do; this might well be true also for the basic similarities and sufficient dissimilarities between the Earth and the Moon—at least this does begin to enter the realm of possibilities.

ALSO REJECT THIS THEORY

What makes scientists now reject this theory when it is applied to the Earth and the Moon is their relative sizes. The Moon is simply too large relative to the Earth—not only about one-eighth of its mass but about one quarter of its diameter. This relationship is all out of proportion to what is KNOWN to be elsewhere in the Solar System. When the mass of all the moons of each planet (excluding Pluto) is given as a ratio of the planet's mass, the results clearly present the anomaly in point. A comparison of the relative sizes of the largest moon of each of the other planets with the size of the Moon relative to Earth shows great disproportion and too much angular momentum in the combined Earth-Moon system to readily support the Binary Planets Hypothesis.

OOPS! THEORY

What you now end up in conclusion of the above is that all three basic theories are unable to meet some of the required criteria to the point that you can wonder how Earth ended up with its satellite at all. Such a conclusion, in fact, does not bother some; they point to the presumed fact that none of the terrestrial planets (other than Earth) have satellites: the two tiny bodies that orbit Mars are, all are agreed, captured asteroids. If conditions in the Solar System were such that none of the planets formed between the Sun and Mars (inclusive) obtained satellites in any one of the considered methods—Fission, Capture, Coaccretion—should not Earth, too, being within this moonless zone, have been without a moon? But there remains the obvious fact that Earth as you know it and wherein you CAN know it at all, does have a moon, and an extremely large one at that. So might it not be wise to effort to account for that?

Well Dharma, we won't "account" for it at this sitting for I need you elsewhere and you need a respite from the keyboard. We need to finish tape 6 please before continuing on with writing today. Elite Factions Shuffle For Position

As you barrage me with inquiries regarding the Photon Belt and the Fourth of July—why have you overlooked what JUST HAPPENED?

Don't any of you remember the predictions which poured forth from the "Channels" and "Insiders"? That there would be massive happenings, probably war started, during Yeltsin's visit to the United States? I believe you made it through the 17th and the 19th still alive but oh, chelas, NOT WELL.

While Yeltsin was in the U.S. and Canada getting what he wanted, Gorbachev was in Israel making sure things were under control.

The bargaining was centered around a thrust to prevent a first strike against the Russians before the Elite can have the Control garnered in total. It is a war of nerves right now and none of the subtle signs should be missed.

"BOOMS" OVER THE WEST COAST

These are speculated as coming from a regular "flight test" of your Aurora craft. No—the booms are regular reminders to the Elite—specifically the Administration and Kissinger—that the Russians are STILL IN CONTROL IN SPACE—FULL CONTROL.

The blasts come from stationed Cosmospheres along your San Andreas Fault system. The focus is off-shore to remind your so-called leaders that the fault will go when Russia is ready to refocus the beam which takes all of three-tenths of a second! The firing comes right on schedule and under full control. This very scenario has happened before on both the East and West Coasts. The sad part is that both YOU and the Russians have capability of triggering the faults and also in detonating of volcanos.

Why the "West Coast" now? Because on the West Coast is the banking central computer system which, if put down, would throw chaos into the entire American financial world. This is both an asset and a problem, as you might well guess. Most of the important data and ability to function from the standpoint of the Elite has been moved off shore—completely off shore and into space—BUT, the enemy can easily take out those satellites involved in the network. Therefore, one by one the major banks have merged—even if not openly—and the central system has been moved to Basel, Switzerland. This takes care of the Elite but the fact is, the Bank of China is the major Communist institution which threatens, at this time, the stability of the financial world. YOU ARE NOT ALLOWED TO KNOW WHAT GOES ON IN THE FINANCIAL CENTERS OF THE CHINESE. You will, however, shudder at remembering that the Elite have a lot of operations in China which have been in full function for decades—Kissinger and Associates is one, Chase (Rockefeller) is another and so on it goes.

Now I am going to remind you of "old" information and tell you—again—that only the number of available Cosmospheres has changed—into the thousands. What think you that the Russians have done with all the money they have garnered? They are the largest oil shippers AND gold holders. THEY HAVE MASSIVE MILI-TARY ADVANTAGE—NOW INSERTED INTO EVERY NATION IN YOUR WORLD—including THE BEAUTIFUL DOWNTOWN U.S.A.

WHAT OF THESE COSMOSPHERES?

There are now other mountains added to the ones which were targeted a decade ago when they actually triggered Mount St. Helens in May of 1979. That had an intended impact effecting the Hostage holding in Iran—does anyone remember?

Well, we have pulled out our final stationed Nefilim from Mt. Shasta so it, too, is now in the target focus. However, if they choose to "blow" Shasta they are going to get a most rude awakening. Indeed, all shall be most sorry for such action. The same holds true for several such places in the Philippines. There are so many adversarial beings residing in Shasta that Pandora's box will look really good—if opened. The same holds true for the areas around Sedona, Arizona. Oh yes, indeed, WE expect massive upheaval and we will not allow our people to be the receivers of particle beam games.

The so-called "old Soviet block nations" which are in deadly conflict are staged to deceive the "free world" and distract you while you finalize your alliance with the Red Bear of the North which has set you up for the KILL. Why, for goodness sakes, do you think your own Elite have been dismantling your nation and moving their own businesses and industries out of the country? Chelas, it is wake-up time. You just, once again through capitulation using your very existence for all future time, in the hands of the Elite—have been HAD. But I must agree—the alternatives in planning if anything had happened to Yeltsin would have been disastrous and catastrophic.

There are no living communities which do not have some notions of justice, beyond their historic laws, by which they seek to gauge the justice of their legislative enactments.

-Reinhold Niebuhr

WHAT WAS PLANNED AS SHOW AND TELL

Once again, the City of New York (the Bolshevik capital of the world), was staged for a massive earthquake. Actually a small one would be more impressive in my own view for the infrastructure of that old city is so wasted that the entire area would be rendered destroyed if only that portion of sewers, drainage and water systems were hit. However, it would be planned to cause enough devastation to take no hostages and leave no enemies. If earthquake failed (as they often do in the triggering) then cobalt bombs are planted which could be detonated in numbers to bring the effect desired. This is last choice for demonstration purposes for it indicates "act of man" and not "act of God". The plans are to take you out in massive numbers and allow all of you to blame God for the happenings.

There are still well over a hundred Cosmospheres stationed along the New Madrid Fault from north to south. There are some 150 presently stationed over the San Andreas from offshore Alaska/Aleutians to Central America.

Squadrons of a minimum of four (depending on strategic location of volcanos) Cosmospheres are stationed above every major volcanic mountain of the Northwest. These are: Mount St. Helens, Mount Adams, Glacier Peak, and Mount Rainier (now added is Shasta). In the Southwest—every possibly active volcano is also targeted but it is known that if you trigger all the major mountains then the rest will simply "go".

There is a squadron above the Lake Mead dam in Nevada and several over Yucca Mountain where you have a massive amount of toxic waste stored along with a major facility. Remember "they" are not ready to actually "kill" everything and certainly not the real property.

The ones running the Cosmospheres, in fact, have no wish to kill any of you—their very enemy is your we-the-people enemy also. The hope would be to release no additional radiation. However, as counter-move, the adversary would strike first with nuclear devices for they both want to depopulate and take the world.

Your own ground crews have placed bombs which can also cause similar destruction and the results will be equally devastating.

Why do I feel a need to tell you these things? Because the brotherhood of space is going to be given the "blame" in order to make final unification of the fragments remaining and get rid of the rest of your population. When you really wake up to what has happened to you, you will do one of two things—roll over and be dead without struggle or rise up and kill a bunch of "them". However, number two—this is "why" they are sending in "desirably expendable" ones to maintain peaceful incarceration of you—the masses. Those which will be lost will not be mourned for they are "useless mouths" also in the perception of the Elite. The point is to depopulate the planet—BY 2000.

The warring faction of the Bolsheviks, Big Oil, Banks and the Communists (still a whole bunch Russian and a lot more Chinese) are bringing you closer and closer to open all-out war of which the prophecies have projected since onset of your planet.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Nothing more than I have told you in the past 57 JOURNALS and multitudes of LIBERATORS. Other persons with perception and realization of the facts and actions in planned precision have TRIED to make you hear—you plugged your ears and covered your eyes. Why is Col. Bo Gritz not even MENTIONED in ANY presentations?

Where are you, America?? Yes, many are awake and working their very hearts out, putting their very lives on the line even in the midst of realization that the Bushwhacker can pull the nation to a dead halt and bring into play ALL THE EXECUTIVE ORDERS OF FEMA—INSTANTLY, EVEN WITHIN THE NEXT SECONDS OF TIMING—WITHOUT ANY PERMISSION, CONCESSIONAL ATTENTION OR MORAL OR POLITICAL INTERFERENCE! [Editor's note: This almost happened through the mechanism of the recent rail strike and may still happen that way!]

Oh, indeed, you have much more important things to attend than a PHOTON BELT entrance—you have to attend the things the adversary will do DURING that time of helplessness because they are NOT helpless for they have taken the technology given by ones out to "save humanity" through devices of free energy and health balancing so that YOU DO NOT HAVE IT. Your very enemy is assisted by the ones who sue others for disallowing Truth from any of their perceptions AND/OR PUBLICATIONS to be utilized to inform the "rest" of the public. Every threat against my own people—IS A MASSIVELY DESTRUCTIVE ACTION AGAINST YOU!!! The most amazing thus far is the intent of ones who stash Walter Russell's material, on the actual definition of God and how Light IS Creation to effort to shut down all information flow to you-the-people. [Editor's note: This is the issue behind the boxed story on the front page.] Hard to comprehend, is it not? They call themselves some kind of "university" and deal only with "New Age" meditation. No, we shall not see such incredibly important work be hidden and buried in greedy attempts to hide the information from mankind. It is the time of TRUTH and we shall pour it on you in every way we can regardless of consequences. We shall deal with those things

IF survival is attained; if we fail, it matters not at any rate. You ones have so little opportunity to understand your circumstance of manifestation that you cannot realize what has been actually kept from you.

As we have touched on this subject, let us look a bit deeper into the meaning of importance regarding work such as Walter Russell who recognized the totality of LIGHT AND PERCEPTION OF "DIMENSION".

A Look At "Dimensions"

6/21/92 #1 HATONN

What exactly are the basic dimensions of your science? Well, perhaps that is where we need to start since most of you only came up with two: They are Length, Mass and Time—but these are purely arbitrary postulates. You experience them ONLY with your "senses" for they exist not in your soul (energy) experience. You have NO PROOF that any one of them is real or basic. There is every REASON TO BELIEVE THEY ARE NOT!

Most interesting of all, for interstellar travel is that distance does not exist at all!

The hardest consideration for extraterrestrials traveling to your sphere of experience is dealing with your limitations and perspective called "time" and "space". You will find "contactees" frequently reporting much inquiry about time, which should tell you that the concept of inter- or ultra-dimensional travel involved with so-called UFO's is warped if nothing else.

The major one thing projected as a problem-solving game for humans on planet Earth as studied by extraterrestrials is to have you ones learn to handle the truth of time and space correctly. By not understanding the correct assumption of timelessness, spacelessness and projection of thought "creation"—it is recognized that your species CANNOT move further in your growth but are destined to continue around and around (the clock in your limited space) forever.

Time simply does not exist. Your elder brothers have ability to distort time as you know it by speeding it up, slowing it down, or totally stopping it. To do this, you have to remove the brain-washed ideas that you have about time from your minds. A tiny baby, or a young child, does not have any concept of time. Ponder it. A minute will seem like an hour to them—or a day—or whatever. A day can seem as if it is forever—and it IS. As if it is forever—and it IS. As you grow "older" in your perception, you become more and more conscious of your concept of time. You lose this innocence of the child and your expectations of movement toward physical death becomes paramount in limitation of your experience. This is another reason you cannot visit in the realms of your consideration as "outer-space" because you can't release these total limitations of selves. This, further, is WHY you can't visit us but we can visit you.

Our ships go faster than light speed—even the technologically "backward" peoples of space residence. We also recognize the transition process of simply sluffing off the old body when ready to do so (much as the locust sheds a too-tight shell or a lizard/snake outgrows the binding of the outer covering as the entity "grows". We cannot get the same concern over your physical perplexities and perceptions of suffering and death of physical than you ones experience—for it seems a totally binding imprisonment placed upon selves in your dimensional understanding. This is another reason that no one from the cosmic experience would interfere with your actions—UNLESS

THE ACTION WILL SOME WAY IMPACT THE OUTER ENERGY FIELDS OF THE UNIVERSAL FLOW PATTERNS. Even in your atmosphere, WE TRAVEL ON ENERGY WAVES.

ILLUSIONS

The past, present and future are all the same. This means, chelas, that what you call space and time are nothing more than illusion. That, further, means that all actions are only thought projections made manifest.

Proof? Oh dear—you HAVE PROOF, it is simply another one of those things hidden from you. There is a team of about six top-ranked scientists from a top-secret "think tank" right in California's Silicon Valley, south of San Francisco, who just finished a seven-year study utilizing Cray Computer technology to back up the findings of the group.

The team members signed a secrecy pledge with the government and with the giant corporation that funded the massively expensive investigation, promising they would not publicly release all their astonishing findings "for fear of worldwide panic"—under penalty of "disappearance"—(forever).

Does anyone remember that even Einstein said time is the fourth dimension and that a straight line in the universe will ultimately return to its own starting point? Therefore "time travel" presents the logical and realistic answer to ability to interface with any and all places in the Universe.

We are here now without any intent of altering anything we find in sequence of events. Let us look at AIDS for instance—we would not reveal, to today's world, cures for such human experiences because to do so would alter a chain of events that are already in motion.

We would not practice these pieces of "knowledge" for we could actually prevent our own ancestors, if you will, from meeting and, by so doing, erase our own existence.

Moreover, we as time travelers, if you will, also appear "different" because we have evolved and therefore to "fit-in" will assume various appearances so your own "illusion" will allow acceptability. On the other hand, your adversaries can develop by cross DNA replication—very substantial "creatures" of any presentation desirable for their purposes—usually reptilian forms for spiritually you abhor the serpent more than any other creature.

Do you not begin to see WHY it is important for your Elite would-be rulers to present aliens who are different from you? Say, little grays, who differ greatly. It is because we of your elder race "fit-in" and fear control is not in issue—we are already within your society and no one knows the difference. So, you are presented with "strange" aliens and the idea is implanted and created stories of abductions and mistreatment flourish, and you are trapped within the LIE. Now all that is remaining is to bring out the army of replicas and you will be totally terrified.

REPLICAS ON WHOSE SIDE?

However, I remind you ones of something—this is also a NO-NO and will not long be tolerated. You can only humanly manufacture beings—WE CAN GIVE THEM ENERGY "LIFE" and that means we can have our own army—from theirs—in a matter of split seconds. Already your underground facilities are overrun with "helpful" and "harmless" little replicas—who can walk through walls, vanish and reappear and nothing "kills" them—except the "wearing out" of parts and cells for natural reproduction is stunted. Oh indeed, GOD HOLDS THE TRUMP CARD!

This, furthermore, is WHY only ONE GODLY MAN WITH KNOWING—CAN RECREATE THE SCENARIO IN ANY WAY HE/SHE CHOOSES. IT IS ALSO WHY GOD WINS!

Wolves In Sheep's Clothing

6/22/92 #1 HATONN

E.J., I have to remind you of something very, very critical. As we move into these current subject matters—there will begin, again, a barrage of attempts to take out Dharma. Already this morning, the computer did not function until the third try at it. There will be assaults against the shield with "new" frequency beams and I must ask you ones to go back to "caution of extreme means". This means that care will be taken with ALL incoming persons—NO MEETINGS IN THIS DWELLING FOR THE CURRENT TIME, LOW PROFILE AND BASICALLY KEEP YOUR "BUSINESS" MEETINGS TO THE SUBJECT OF BUSINESS. YOU ONES ARE NO LONGER IN A LITTLE "GAME" OF HIDE AND SEEK AND MUCH OF THE "STUFF" FROM WHICH YOU WILL GARNER "HELP" IS SET UP TO ALLOW THE ENEMY WITHIN. IT IS FINE, FOR THEY WILL ONLY FIND THAT WE ARE NOT "ENEMIES" BUT "CARE" MUST AGAIN BECOME YOUR EVER-PRESENT THOUGHT AND A BIT OF ISOLATION WILL BE THE BETTER PART OF WISDOM, PLEASE.

Indeed, Dharma, we ARE going to write on Bush's involvement with the CIA—finally! But before we do so I must share a news item of last evening which I HOPE most of you missed.

BOTHERED BY TRUTH?

Just this morning a person "claiming" to be in Pennsylvania who "identified(??)" himself to George Green, as one Paul Robert Resnick Jr., called to demand that the information being set forth be STOPPED!

The specific writings in point were from the April 14, Volume 18, No. 13 issue of the LIBERATOR. Why would this be? Was it my breakdown of the "major point of teachings" of the various MAJOR religions? How about "Distractors"? Could it be my suggestion to "use" BankAmerica (for protection within the Elite vaults)? Could it be that the identification of "Hatonn" displeases him?—for MOST deny such existence as possibility. OR: Could it be the full article from Senate Report No. 93-549 (Some Dare Call It Treason)? Could it be the "CIA: INTELLIGENCE AND POLICY"? Could it be John Coleman's writing regarding the "Patriot Missiles" and the "hearings". (By the way, that was the last shared article we have printed from this resource.)

WHY would this above information disturb anyone? Could the objection be THE "LIE"? and other information, since, caused alarm?

Just understand, all of you crew-members, it is the time of separation of the "men" from the "boys". No one in the Elite groups seem to understand that my mission is to bring Truth for the unfolding and wrapping up of a planetary "cycle". My intent is not to interfere with "business as usual" for if the PEOPLE want to stop corruption—it is their responsibility—NOT MINE, to do so. This is WHY I make sure to give you information which has already not only been published but even appears in Congressional Records, etc. If ones perform in a manner which requires "hiding" from public view—then I suggest YOU ONES check into it for they all "claim" TO BE HONEST, OPEN AND ONLY SERVING YOU AND THE NATIONS OF THE WORLD. IF THIS BE "TRUE", THEN IT IS SURELY "I" WHO IS IN ERROR OF PERCEPTION OF GOODLY "SERVICE" SO WHY SHOULD I CAUSE ANYONE ALARM? THIS INFORMATION IS SO OLD AND SO DREARY THAT I AM CON-STANTLY BEING THREATENED WITH LAWSUIT AFTER LAWSUIT "FOR PLAGIARISM"! YOU CAN'T HAVE IT BOTH WAYS, CHELAS!!

Even the projects we will build are simply for use by the humble "peasants" with inexpensive but durable and beautiful housing, foodstuffs and gardening services, along with ability to communicate and make motion pictures. Why are the Elite angry with us—would you not think the subjects would be pleased for even the slightest amount of "advertising" of their "stand" on political issues and their "political platforms of action"? By all records according to "them", the LIBERATOR has "no audience" and the material is "false and stupidly incoherent". So be it—beats me!!

NEW GAME: PEROT-BASHING

The spokesperson quoted in this morning's TV mush (and we must assume it was one of the Republicans) said that several years ago (like in the 70's) Ross Perot spent "bundles" of "his own money" on investigators and investigations TRYING to find wrongdoing and illegal actions "on George Bush". "BUT HE FOUND NOTHING!" the speaker went on to say. This is the same man (Perot) who said a few weeks past that "Bush is a FINE MAN but we need change in Washington??" And—my own crew claims that Hatonn is confusing! I could write hundreds of pages on just these two points, chelas—I can only hope that your insight and perception to the "unseen" and "unheard"—by physical means—gives you as much.

Bushgate: George Bush And The CIA

6/22/92 #1 HATONN

The following excerpts are taken directly from a manuscript copy of a book "soon-to-be" published by Webster Griffin Tarpley and Anton Chaitkin. I have no input on this substance other than to say these people have done their homework. Since by their own statements the book is "unauthorized" as a biography, I would suggest they will have great difficulty in getting it published. George, please make contact with them and in exchange for utilizing portions of the volume, we will see to it that it gets published. Please require that the pricing be kept low enough for ALL to be able to receive it and I WILL MOST SURELY PUSH IT AS MANDATORY READING. The New Federalist, a LaRouche publication, has utilized it in serial form but all others have been blocked from publishing in hope to drown it before elections or "other happenings" which lock in Bush. I would surmise that The New Federalist might well be the publishers if, indeed, there is valid possibility of such. It does, however, lose its value "after the facts" such as elections and current events. Our only contribution at this time is to simply get information out as well as we can in assisting those who already DARE.

Bush, you readers must come to realize, is PERSONALLY responsible for the incarceration via Kissinger of Lyndon LaRouche and personally keeps him incarcerated by refusing to respond to the legal documents in his hands. I thought you inquiring minds would want to know this fact.

How do I feel personally about Bush? I appreciate his HELP in the matter of projects for they do and will continue to assist thousands of citizens. I do not play in your political games other than to present the facts wherever I find them in disagreement with the "party-line". I am an enemy of EVIL—not ANY "man". I will get a remnant through this tribulation and I appreciate all the help I can get. In fact, I met with the original Mr. Bush at Camp David and offered to remove him to total security IF HE WOULD REVEAL THE TRUTH TO YOU—THE-PEOPLE—HE WAS GRACIOUS AND LOVING BUT FELT HIS POWER WAS BIG ENOUGH TO SUSTAIN HIS SAFETY AND THAT OF HIS FAMILY—HE WAS WRONG. To each his own.

A BIT OF HISTORY

I am going to start in the middle of a subject so please do not be confused by dates. I am taking up at the point in 1975 wherein George became head of the CIA. I trust you will all go back into the JOURNAL series on TANGLED WEBS and realize that George Bush's involvement in the CIA was PRIOR to the assassination of Kennedy (both brothers). That is not my focus herein so let us take up with his directorship.

QUOTE: (This is a very good and inclusive book as you will note this information comes after 15 preceding chapters.)

In late 1975, as a result in particular of his role in Watergate, Bush's confirmation as CIA director was not automatic. And though the debate of his confirmation was superficial, some senators, including in particular the late Frank Church of Idaho, made some observations about the dangers inherent in the Bush nomination that have turned out in retrospect to be useful.

The political scene on the home front, from which Bush had been so anxious to be absent during 1975, was the so-called "Year of Intelligence", in that it had been a year of intense scrutiny of the illegal activities and abuses of the intelligence community, including CIA domestic and covert operations. On December 22, 1974, the New York Times published the first of a series of articles by Seymour M. Hersh, which relied on leaked reports of CIA activities assembled by Director James Rodney Schlesinger to expose alleged misdeeds by the agency. [H: Hmnn—Did I not just write about a San Luis Obispo female "connection" called Neal McCrea (Janet) of the "Janet Lee" drug running boat—who "lost" her husband by terminal disappearance and later became Janet Schlesinger? This must be a good "common" American name or something because you find Schlesingers (from the same family tree) in every top group of Elite. It would seem this one is probably "Jerry" of the San Luis Obispo Connection. Indeed, I'm sure you can have confidence in such "leaked" reports. Please realize my tongue just punched through my cheek!]

It was widely recognized at the time that the Hersh articles were a self-exposure by the CIA that was designed to set the agenda for the Ford-appointed Rockefeller Commission, which was set up a few days later, on January 4. The Rockefeller Commission was supposed to examine the malfeasance of the intelligence agencies and make recommendations about how they could be reorganized and reformed. In reality, the Rockefeller Commission proposals would reflect the transition of the Structures of the 1970's toward the growing totalitarian tendencies of the 1980's.

While the Rockefeller Commission was a tightly controlled vehicle of the Eastern Anglophile Liberal Establishment, congressional investigating committees were impaneled during 1975 whose proceedings were somewhat less rigidly controlled. These included the Senate Intelligence Committee, known as the Church Committee, and the corresponding House committee, first chaired by Rep. Lucien Nedzi (who had previously chaired one of the principal Watergate-era probes) [H: Do you suppose this could ALSO be a connection with THE "Nedzi" of the San Luis Obispo Connection? It must be that this investigation was handled by a whole flock of foxes or is that a "bunch" of foxes in the "flock" of chickens?] and then (after July) by Rep. Otis Pike [H: No-o-o? Could it really be such a coincidence?]. One example was the Pike Committee's issuance of a contempt of Congress citation against Henry Kissinger [H: Is this just not too unbelievable to go on?] for his refusal to provide documentation of covert operations in November, 1975. Another was Church's role in leading the opposition to the Bush nomination. [H: We have barely begun to write and already I must ask you sincerely: Are you beginning to SEE how your nation got in the shape you are in?]

The Church Committee launched an investigation of the use of covert operations for the purpose of assassinating foreign leaders. By the nature of things, this probe was let to grapple with the problem of whether covert operations sanctioned to eliminate foreign leaders had been re-targeted against domestic political figures. The obvious case was the Kennedy assassination.

Frank Church—who, we must keep in mind, was himself an ambitious politician—was especially diligent in attacking CIA covert operations, which Bush would be anxious to defend. The CIA's covert branch, Church thought, was a "self-serving apparatus". "It's a bureaucracy which feeds on itself, and those involved are constantly sitting around thinking up schemes for intervention which will win them promotions and justify further additions to the staff. ... It self-generates interventions that otherwise never would be thought of, let alone authorized."

It will be seen that, at the beginning of Bush's tenure at the CIA, the congressional committees were on the offensive against the intelligence agencies. By the time that Bush departed Langley, the tables were turned, and it was the Congress which was the focus of scandals including "Koreagate" [H: Whoops! Didn't know about that one??]. Soon thereafter the Congress would undergo the assault of Abscam. [H: And Dharma was afraid we would run out of things to write about!]

Preparation for what was to become the "Halloween massacre" began in the Ford White House during the summer of 1975. The Ford Library in Ann Arbor, Michigan preserves a memo from Donald Rumsfeld to Ford dated July 10, 1975, which deals with an array of possible choices for CIA director. Rumsfeld had polled a number of White House and administration officials and asked them to express preferences among "outsiders to the CIA". (Gerald R. Ford Library, Richard B. Cheney Files, Box 5) [H: Richard B. Cheney "box"?]

Dick Cheney of the White House staff proposed Robert Bork, followed by Bush and Lee Iacocca. Among the officials polled by Cheney was Henry Kissinger, who suggested C. Douglas Dillon, Howard Baker, and James R. Schlesinger. Rumsfeld himself listed Bork, Dillon, Stanley Resor, Lee Iacocca and Walter Wriston, but NOT Bush. The ONLY officials putting Bush on their "possible" lists, other than Cheney, were Jack O. Marsh, a White House counselor to Ford, and David Packard. When it came time for Rumsfeld to sum up the aggregate number of times each person was mentioned, minus one point for each time a person had been recommended against, among the names on the final list were the following: Robert Bork (rejected in 1987 for the Supreme Court), John S. Foster of PFIAB (formerly of the Department of Defense), C. Douglas Dillon, Stanley Resor, and Robert Roosa.

It will be seen that Bush was not among the leading candidates, perhaps because his networks were convinced that he was going to make another attempt for the vice-presidency and that therefore the Commerce Department or some similar post would be more suitable. The summary profile of Bush sent to Ford by Rumsfeld found that Bush had "experience in government and diplomacy" and was "generally familiar with components of the intelligence community and their missions" while having management experience. Under "Cons" Rumsfeld noted: "RNC post lends undesirable political cast."

As we have seen, the CIA post was finally offered by Ford to Edward Bennett Williams perhaps with an eye on building a bipartisan bridge toward a powerful faction of the intelligence community. But Williams did not want the job; Bush, originally slated for the Department of Commerce, was given the CIA appointment.

The announcement of Bush's nomination occasioned a storm of criticism whose themes included the inadvisability of choosing a Watergate figure for such a sensitive post so soon after that scandal had finally begun to subside. References were made to Bush's receipt of a financial largesse from Nixon's Townhouse fund and related operations. There was also the question of whether the domestic CIA apparatus would get mixed up in Bush's expected campaign for the vice-presidency. These themes were developed in editorials during the month of November 1976, while Bush was kept in Beijing by the requirements of preparing the Ford-Mao meetings of early December. To some degree, Bush was just hanging there and slowly, slowly twisting in the wind. The slow-witted Ford soon realized that he had been inept in summarily firing William Colby, since Bush would have to remain in China for some weeks [H: Remain in CHINA??] and then return to face confirmation hearings. Ford had to ask Colby to stay on in a caretaker capacity until Bush took office. The delay allowed opposition against Bush to crystallize to some degree, but his own network was also quick to spring to his defense.

Former CIA officer Tom Braden, writing in the Fort Lauderdale News, noted that the Bush appointment to the CIA looked bad, and looked bad at a time when public confidence in the CIA was so low that everything about the agency desperately needed to look good. Braden's column was entitled "George Bush, Bad Choice for CIA Job".

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak, writing in the Washington Post, commented that "the Bush nomination is regarded by some intelligence experts as another grave moral deflator. They reason that any identified politician, no matter how resolved to be politically pure, would aggravate the CIA's credibility gap. Instead of an identified politician like Bush....what is needed, they feel, is a respected non-politician, perhaps from business or the academic world."

The Washington Post came out against Bush in an editorial entitled "The Bush Appointment". Here the reasoning was that this position "should not be regarded as a political parking spot", and that public confidence in the CIA had to be restored after the recent revelations of wrongdoing.

After a long-winded argument, the conservative columnist George Will came to the conclusion that Ambassador Bush at the CIA would be "the wrong kind of guy at the wrong place at the worst possible time."

Senator Church viewed the Bush appointment in the context of a letter sent to him by Ford on October 31, 1975, demanding that the committee's report on U.S. assassination plots against foreign leaders be kept secret. In Church's opinion, these two developments were part of a pattern and amounted to a new stonewalling defense by what Church had called "the rogue elephant". Church issued a press statement in response to Ford's letter attempting to impose a blackout on the assassination report. "I am astonished that President Ford wants to suppress the committee's report on assassination and keep it concealed from the American people," said Church. Then, on November 3, Church was approached by reporters outside of his Senate hearing room and asked by Daniel Schorr about the firing of Colby and his likely replacement by Bush. Church responded with a voice that was trembling with anger. "There is no question in my mind but that concealment is the new order of the day," he said. "Hiding evil is the trademark of a totalitarian government."

[H: I want you ones to think very carefully here, about events and current happenings. I have long told you that the Elite have a major "goal" which is never lost—and yet there will be factional in-group fighting about WHO does what and to whom! You are seeing the factions begin to show clues of who is who and what is what. It would begin to appear here that Bush really is NOT a part of the in-group of San Luis Obispo but might, in fact, be in direct conflict with them—that means Nixon, Ford and certainly Reagan. I believe you will also note that Bush "promises" information regarding "Perot" right after the conventions. Is clarity seeping into the script? Yes, indeed, Kissinger plays BOTH sides to the hilt and that SHOULD BE MOST DISCONCERTING!]

The following day, November 4, Church read Leslie Gelb's column in the New York Times suggesting that Colby had been fired, among other things, "for not doing a good job containing the congressional investigations." George Bush, Gelb thought, "would be able to go to Congress and ask for a grace period before pressing their investigations further." A Washington Star headline of this period summed up this argument: "CIA Needs Bush's PR Talent". Church talked with this staff that day about what he saw as an ominous pattern of events. He told reporters "First came the very determined administration effort to prevent any revelations concerning NSA, their stonewalling of public hearings. Then came the President's letter. Now comes the firing of Colby, Mr. Schlesinger and the general belief that Secretary Kissinger is behind these latest developments." For Church, "clearly a pattern has emerged now to try and disrupt this Senate Intelligence Committee investigation. As far as I'm concerned it won't be disrupted," said Church grimly.

One of Church's former aides, speech writer Loch K. Johnson, describes how he worked with Church to prepare a speech scheduled for delivery on November 11, 1975, in which Church would stake out a position opposing the Bush nomination: "The nomination of George Bush to succeed Colby disturbed him as he wanted to wind up the speech by opposing the nomination... He hoped to influence Senate opinion on the nomination on the eve of Armed Services Committee hearings to confirm Bush.

"I rapidly jotted down notes as Church discussed the line he would like to take against the nomination. 'Once they used to give former national party chairmen (as Bush had been under President Nixon) postmaster generalships—the most political and least sensitive job in government,' he said. 'Now they have given this former party chairman the most sensitive and least political agency.' Church wanted me to stress how Bush 'might compromise the independence of the CIA—the agency could be politicized.'"

Some days later, Church appeared on the CBS program Face the Nation. He was asked by George Herman if his opposition to Bush would mean that anyone with political experience would be a priori unacceptable for such a post. Church replied: "I think that whoever is chosen should be one who has demonstrated a capacity for independence, who has shown that he can stand up to the many pressures." Church hinted that Bush had never stood up for principle at the cost of political office. Moreover, "a man whose background is as partisan as a past chairman of the Republican Party does serious damage to the agency and its intended purposes."

Dharma, please, we need a break. We will simply take up again where we leave off herein. Thank you. Salu

GEORGE BUSH & CIA

QUOTING CONTINUED:

".....His proposed appointment would bring with it inevitable complications for the intelligence community. Mr. Bush is a man with a recent partisan political past and a probable near-term partisan political future. This is a burden neither the Agency, nor the legislative oversight committee, nor the Executive should have to bear as the CIA enters perhaps the most difficult period of its history.

"Accordingly, I respectfully urge that you reconsider your appointment of Mr. Bush to this most sensitive of positions."

Within just a couple of days of making Bush's nomination public, the Ford White House was aware that it had a significant public relations problem. To get reelected, Ford had to appear as a reformer, breaking decisively with the bad old days of Nixon and the Plumbers. But with the Bush nomination, Ford was putting a former party chairman and future candidate for national office at the head of the entire intelligence community.

Ford's staff began to marshal attempted rebuttals for the attacks on Bush. On November 5, Jim Connor of Ford's staff had some trite boiler-plate inserted into Ford's Briefing Book in case he were asked if the advent of Bush represented a move to obstruct the Church and Pike Committees. Ford was told to answer that he "asked Director Colby to cooperate fully with the Committee" and "expects Ambassador Bush to do likewise once he becomes Director. As you are aware, the work of both the Church and Pike Committees is slated to wind up shortly." In case he were asked about Bush politicizing the CIA, Ford was to answer; "I believe that Republicans and Democrats who know George Bush and have worked with him know that he does not let politics and partisanship interfere with the performance of public duty." That was a mouthful. "Nearly all of the men and women in this and preceding administrations have had partisan identities and have held partisan party posts....George Bush is a part of that American tradition and he will demonstrate this when he assumes his new duties."

But when Ford in an appearance on a Sunday talk show, was asked if he were ready to exclude Bush as a possible vice-presidential candidate, he refused to do so, answering, "I don't think people of talent ought to be excluded from any field of public service." At a press conference, Ford said, "I don't think he's eliminated from consideration by anybody, the delegates or the convention or myself."

BUSH CIA CONFIRMATION HEARINGS

Bush's confirmation hearings got under way on December 15, 1975. Even judged by Bush's standards of today, they constitute a landmark exercise in sanctimonious hypocrisy so astounding as to defy comprehension.

Bush's sponsor was GOP Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the ranking Republican on Senator John Stennis's Senate Armed Services Committee. Thurmond unloaded a mawkish panegyric in favor of Bush: "I think all of this shows an interest on your part in humanity, in civic development, love of your country, and willingness to serve your fellow man."

Bush's opening statement was also in the main a tissue of banality and cliches. He indicated his support for the Rockefeller Commission report without having mastered its contents in detail. He pointed out that he had attended cabinet meetings from 1971 to 1974, without mentioning who the President was in those days. Everybody was waiting for this consummate pontificator to get to the issue of whether he was going to attempt the vice-presidency in 1976. Readers of Bush's propaganda biographies know that he never decides on his own to run for office, but always responds to the urging of his friends. Within those limits, his answer was that he was available for the second spot on the ticket. More remarkably, he indicated that he had a hereditary right to it—it was, as he said, his "birthright".

Would Bush accept a draft? "I cannot in all honesty tell you that I would not accept, and I do not think, gentlemen, that any American should be asked to say he would not accept, and to my knowledge, no one in the history of this Republic has been asked to renounce his political birthright as the price of confirmation for any office. And I can tell you that I will not seek any office while I hold the job of CIA Director. I will put politics wholly out of my sphere of activities." Even more, Bush argued, his willingness to serve at the CIA reflected his sense of noblesse oblige. Friends had asked him why he wanted to go to Langley at all, "with all the controversy swirling around the CIA, with its obvious barriers to political future?"

Magnanimously, Bush replied to his own rhetorical questions: "My answer is simple. First, the work is desperately important to the survival of this country, and to the survival of freedom around the world. And second, old fashioned as it may seem to some, it is my duty to serve my country. And I did not seek this job but I want to do it and I will do my very best." [H: Getting any ideas yet, that Mr. Bush might just "fudge the truth" a little bit?]

Stennis responded with a joke that sounds eerie in retrospect: "If I thought that you were seeking the Vice Presidential nomination or Presidential nomination by way of the route of being Director of the CIA, I would question your judgment most severely." There was laughter in the committee room.

Senators Barry Goldwater and Stuart Symington made clear that they would give Bush a free ride not only out of deference to Ford, but also out of regard for the late Prescott Bush, with whom they had both started out in the Senate in 1952. Senator Thomas McIntyre was more demanding, and raised the issue of enemies list operations, a notorious abuse of the Nixon (and subsequent) administrations:

"What if you get a call from the President, next July or August, saying 'George, I would like to see you.' You go in the White House. He takes you over in the corner and says, 'Look, things are not going too well in my campaign. This Reagan is gaining on me all the time. Now, he is a movie star of some renown and has traveled with the fast set. He was a Hollywood star. I want you to get any dirt you can on this guy because I need it.'"

What would Bush do? "I do not think that is difficult sir," intoned Bush. "I would simply say that it gets back to character and it gets back to integrity; and furthermore, I cannot conceive of the incumbent doing that sort of thing. But if I were put into that kind of position where you had a clear moral issue, I would simply say 'no' because you see I think, and maybe—I have the advantage as everyone on this committee of 20/20 hindsight, that this agency must stay in the foreign intelligence business and must not harass American citizens, like in Operation Chaos, and that these kinds of things have no business in the foreign intelligence business." This was the same Bush whose 1980 campaign was heavily staffed by CIA veterans, some retired, some on active service and in flagrant violation of the Hatch Act. This is the Vice President who ran Iran-Contra out of his own private office, and so forth.

Gary Hart also had a few questions. How did Bush feel about assassinations? Bush "found them morally offensive and I am pleased the President has made that position very, very clear to the Intelligence Committee..." How about "coups d'etat in various countries around the world?" Hart wanted to know.

"You mean in the covert field?" replied Bush. "Yes." "I would want to have full benefit of all the intelligence. I would want to have full benefit of how these matters were taking place but I cannot tell you, and I do not think I should, that there would never be any support for a coup d'etat; in other words, I cannot tell you I cannot conceive of a situation where I would not support such action." In retrospect, this was a moment of refreshing candor.

ON THE EDGE OF WATERGATE

Gary Hart knew where at least one of Bush's bodies was buried:

Senator Hart: You raised the question of getting the CIA out of domestic areas totally. Let us hypothesize a situation where a President has stepped over the bounds. Let us say the FBI is investigating some people who are involved, and they go right to the White House. There is some possible CIA interest. The President calls you and says, I want you as Director of the CIA to call the Director of the FBI to tell him to call off this operation because it may jeopardize some CIA activities.

Mr. Bush: Well, generally speaking, and I think you are hypothesizing a case without spelling it out in enough detail to know if there is any real legitimate foreign intelligence aspect...

There it was: the smoking gun tape again, the notorious Bush-Liedtke-Mosbacher-Pennzoil contribution to the CREEP again, the money that had been found in the pockets of Bernard Barker and the Plumbers after the Watergate break-in. But Hart did not mention it overtly, only in this oblique, Byzantine manner. Hart went on:

I am hypothesizing a case that actually happened in June 1972. There might have been some tangential CIA interest in something in Mexico. Funds were laundered and so forth.

Mr. Bush: Using a 50-50

hindsight on that case, I hope I would have said the CIA is not going to get involved in that if we are talking about the same one.

Senator Hart: We are.

Senator (Patrick) Leahy: Are there others?

Bush was on the edge of having his entire Watergate past come out in the wash, but the liberal Democrats were already far too devoted to the one-party state to grill Bush seriously. In a few seconds, responding to another question from Hart, Bush was off the hook, droning on about plausible deniability, of all things.

The next day, December 16, 1975, Church, appearing as a witness, delivered his philippic against Bush. After citing evidence of widespread public concern about the renewed intrusion of the CIA in domestic politics under Bush, Church reviewed the situation: "So here we stand. Need we find or look to higher places than the Presidency and the nominee himself to confirm the fact that this door of the Vice Presidency in 1976 is left open and that he remains under active consideration for the ticket in 1976? We stand in this position in the close wake of Watergate, and this committee has before it a candidate for Director of the CIA, a man of strong partisan political background and a beckoning political future.

"Under these circumstances I find the appointment astonishing. Now, as never before, the Director of the CIA must be completely above political suspicion. At the very least this committee, I believe, should insist that the nominee disavow any place on the 1976 Presidential ticket....Otherwise his position as CIA Director would be hopelessly compromised.

"If Ambassador Bush wants to be Director of the CIA, he should seek that position. If he wants to be Vice President, then that ought to be his goal. It is wrong for him to want both positions, even in a Bicentennial year."

It was an argument that conceded far too much to Bush in the effort to be fair. Bush was incompetent for the post, and the argument should have ended there. Church's unwillingness to demand the unqualified rejection of such a nominee no matter what future goodies he was willing temporarily to renounce has cast long shadows over subsequent American history. But even so, Bush was in trouble.

Church was at his ironic best when he compared Bush to a recent chairman of the Democratic National Committee: "...If a Democrat were President, Mr. Larry O'Brien ought not to be nominated to be Director of the CIA. Of all times to do it, this is the worst, right at a time when it is obvious that public confidence needs to be restored in the professional, impartial, and nonpolitical character of the agency. So, we have the worst of all possible worlds." Church tellingly underlined that "Bush's birthright does not include being Director of the CIA. It includes the right to run for public office, to be sure, but that is quite a different matter than confirming him now for this particular position."

Church said he would under no circumstance vote for Bush, but that if the latter renounced the '76 ticket, he would refrain from attempting to canvass other votes against Bush. It was an ambiguous position.

Bush came back to the witness chair in an unmistakably whining mood. He was offended above all by the comparison of his august self to the upstart Larry O'Brien: "I think there is some difference in the qualifications," said Bush in a hyperthyroid rage. "Larry O'Brien did not serve in the Congress of the United States for four years. Larry O'Brien did not serve, with no partisanship, at the United Nations for two years. Larry O'Brien did not serve as the Chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in the People's Republic of China." Not only Bush but his whole cursus honorum was insulted! "I will never apologize," said Bush a few seconds later, referring to his own record. Then Bush pulled out his "you must resign" letter to Nixon: "Now, I submit that for the record that that is demonstrable independence. I did not do it by calling the newspapers and saying, 'Look, I am having a press conference. Here is a sensational statement to make me, to separate me from a President in great agony.'"

[H: I can only again warn you—the people—this man will do anything to achieve HIS GOALS—including bringing down the entire world into this New World Order—One World Government and he is ready to do so RIGHT NOW!!!]

THE FORD LETTER

Bush had been savaged in the hearings, and his nomination was now in grave danger of being rejected by the committee, and then by the full Senate. Later in the afternoon of November 16, a damage control party met at the White House to assess the situation for Ford. According to Patrick O'Donnell of Ford's Congressional Relations Office, the most Bush could hope for was a bare majority of 9 out of 16 votes on the Stennis Committee.

Ford was inclined to give the senators what they wanted, and exclude Bush a priori from the vice-presidential contest. When Ford called George over to the Oval Office on December 18, he already had the text of a letter to Stennis announcing that Bush was summarily ruled off the ticket if Ford were the candidate (which was anything but certain). Ford showed Bush the letter. We do not know what whining may have been heard in the White House that day from a senatorial patrician deprived (for the moment) of his birthright. Ford could not yield; it would have thrown his entire election campaign into acute embarrassment just as he was trying to get it off the ground. When George saw that Ford was obdurate, he proposed that the letter be amended to make it look as if the initiative to rule him out as a running mate had originated with Bush. The fateful letter read

Dear Mr. Chairman:

As we Both know, the nation must have a strong and effective foreign intelligence capability. Just over two weeks ago, on December 7 while in Pearl Harbor, I said that we must never drop our guard nor unilaterally dismantle our defenses. The Central Intelligence Agency is essential to maintaining our national security.

I nominated Ambassador George Bush to be CIA Director so we can now get on with appropriate decisions concerning the intelligence community. I need—and the nation needs—his leadership at CIA as we rebuild and strengthen the foreign intelligence community in a manner which earns the confidence of the American people.

Ambassador Bush and I agree that the Nation's immediate foreign intelligence needs must take precedence over other considerations and there should be continuity in his CIA leadership. Therefore, if Ambassador Bush is confirmed by the Senate as Director of Central Intelligence, I will not consider him as my Vice Presidential running mate in 1976.

He and I have discussed this in detail. In fact, he urged that I make this decision. This says something about the man and about his desire to do his job for the nation...

On December 19, this letter was received by Stennis, who announced its contents to his committee. The Committee promptly approved the Bush appointment by a vote of 12 to 4, with Gary Hart, Leahy, Culver and McIntyre voting against him. Bush's name could now be sent to the floor, where a recrudescence of anti-Bush sentiment was not likely, but could not be ruled out.

Then, two days before Christmas, the CIA chief in Athens, Richard Welch, was gunned down in front of his home by masked assassins as he returned home with his wife from a Christmas party. A group calling itself the "November 19 Organization" later claimed credit for the killing.

Certain networks immediately began to use the Welch assassination as a bludgeon against the Church and Pike Committees. An example came from columnist Charles Bartlett, writing in the now-defunct Washington Star: "The assassination of the CIA Station Chief, Richard Welch, in Athens is a direct consequence of the stagy hearings of the Church Committee. Spies traditionally function in a gray world of immunity from such crudities. But the Committee's prolonged focus on CIA activities in Greece left agents there exposed to random vengeance." Staffers of the Church committee pointed out that the Church Committee had never said a word about Greece or mentioned the name Welch.

CIA Director Colby first blamed the death of Welch on Counterspy magazine, which had published the name of Welch some months before. The next day, Colby backed off, blaming a more general climate of hysteria regarding the CIA which had led to the assassination of Richard Welch. In his book, Honorable Men, published some years later, Colby continued to attribute the killing to the "sensational and hysterical way the CIA investigations had been handled and trumpeted around the world."

The Ford White House resolved to exploit this tragic incident to the limit. Liberals raised a hue and cry in response. Les Aspin later recalled that "the air transport plane carrying Welch's body circled Andrews Air Force Base for three-quarters of an hour in order to land live on the Today Show." Ford waived restrictions in order to allow interment at Arlington Cemetery. The funeral on January 7 was described by the Washington Post as "a show of pomp usually reserved for the nation's most renowned military heroes." Anthony Lewis of the New York Times described the funeral as "a political device" with ceremonies "being manipulated in order to arouse a political backlash against legitimate criticism", Norman Kempster in the Washington Star found that "only a few hours after the CIA's Athens station chief was gunned down in front of his home, the agency began a subtle campaign intended to persuade Americans that his death was the indirect result of congressional investigations and the direct result of an article in an obscure magazine." Here, in the words of a Washington Star headline, was "one CIA effort that worked".

BUSH AND THE ADL [PAY ATTENTION!]

Between Christmas and New Year's in Kennebunkport, looking forward to the decisive floor vote on his confirmation, Bush was at work tending and mobilizing key parts of his network. One of them was a certain Leo Cherne.

Leo Cherne is not a household word but he has been a powerful figure in the U.S. intelligence community over the period since World War II. Leo Cherne was to be one of Bush's most important allies when he was CIA Director and throughout Bush's subsequent career.

Cherne has been a part of B'nai B'rith all his life. He was and still is an ardent Zionist. He is typical to the extent of the so-called "neoconservatives" who have been prominent in government and policy circles under Reagan-Bush, and Bush. Cherne was the founder of the International Rescue Committee (IRC), a conduit for neo-Bukharinite operations between East and West in the Cold War, and it was also reputedly a CIA front organization.

Cherne was a close friend of William Casey, who was working in the Nixon administration as undersecretary of state for economic affairs in mid-1973. That was when Cherne was named to the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board (PFIAB) by Nixon. On March 15, 1976, Cherne became the chairman of this body, which specializes in conduiting the demands of financiers and related interests into the intelligence community. Cherne, as we will see, would be, along with Bush, a leading beneficiary of Ford's spring 1976 intelligence reorganization.

Bush's correspondence with Cherne leaves no doubt that theirs was a very special relationship. Cherne represented for Bush a strengthening of his links to the Zionist-neoconservative milieu, with options for backchanneling into the Soviet bloc. Bush wrote to Cherne, "I read your testimony with keen interest and appreciation. I am really looking forward to meeting you and working with you in connection with your PFIAB chores. Have a wonderful 1976."

January 1976 was not auspicious for Bush. He had to wait until almost the end of the month for his confirmation vote, hanging there, slowly twisting in the wind. In the meantime, the Pike Committee report was approaching completion, after months of probing and haggling, and was sent to the Government Printing Office on January 23, despite continuing arguments from the White House and from the GOP that the committee could not reveal confidential and secret material provided by the executive branch. On Sunday, January 25, a copy of the report was leaked to Daniel Schorr of CBS News, and was exhibited on television that evening. The following morning, the New York Times published an extensive summary of the entire Pike Committee report.

Despite all this exposure, the House voted on January 29 that the Pike Committee report could not be released. A few days later, it was published in full in the Village Voice, and CBS correspondent Daniel Schorr was held responsible for its appearance. The Pike Committee report attacked Henry Kissinger, "whose comments," it said, "are at variance with the facts." In the midst of this imperial regency over the United States, an unamused Kissinger responded that "we are facing a new version of McCarthyism". A few days later, Kissinger said of the Pike Committee: "I think they have used classified information in a reckless way, and the version of covert operations they have leaked to the press has the cumulative effect of being totally untrue and damaging to the nation."

Thus, as Bush's confirmation vote approached, the Ford White House, on the one hand, and the Pike and Church Committees on the other, were close to "open political warfare", as the Washington Post put it at the time. One explanation of the leaking of the Pike report was offered by Otis Pike himself on February 11: "A copy was sent to the CIA. It would be to their advantage to leak it for publication." By now, Ford was raving about mobilizing the FBI to find out how the report had been leaked.

On January 19, George Bush was present in the Executive Gallery of the House of Representatives, seated close to the unfortunate Betty Ford, for the President's State of the Union Address. This was a photo opportunity so that Ford's CIA candidate could get on television for a cameo appearance that might boost his standing on the eve of confirmation.

CONFIRMED AT LAST

Senate floor debate was underway on January 26, and Senator McIntyre lashed out at the Bush nomination as "an insensitive affront to the American people".

In further debate on the day of the vote, January 27, Senator Joseph Biden joined other Democrats in assailing Bush as "the wrong appointment for the wrong job at the wrong time." Church appealed to the Senate to reject Bush, a man "too deeply embroiled in partisan politics and too intertwined with the political destiny of the President himself" to be able to lead the CIA. Goldwater, Tower, Percy, Howard Baker and Clifford Case all spoke up for Bush. Bush's floor leader was Strom Thurmond who supported Bush by attacking the Church and Pike Committees.

Finally it came to a roll call and Bush passed by a vote of 64-27. Church's staff felt they had failed lamentably, having gotten only liberal Democrats and the single Republican vote of Jesse Helms.

It was the day after Bush's confirmation that the House Rules Committee voted 9 to 7 to block the publication of the Pike Committee report. The issue then went to the full House on January 29, which voted, 146 to 124, that the Pike Committee must submit its report to censorship by the White House and thus by the CIA. At almost the same time, Senator Howard Baker joined Tower and Goldwater in opposing the principal final recommendation of the Church Committee, such as it was—the establishment of a permanent intelligence oversight committee.

Pike found that the attempt to censor his report had made "a complete travesty of the whole doctrine of separation of powers." In the view of a staffer of the Church committee, "all within two days, the House Intelligence Committee had ground to a halt, and the Senate Intelligence Committee had split asunder over the centerpiece of its recommendations. The White House must have rejoiced; the Welch death and leaks from the Pike Committee report had produced, at last, a backlash against the congressional investigations."

Riding the crest of that wave of backlash was George Bush. The constellation of events around his confirmation prefigures the wretched state of Congress today: a rubber stamp parliament in a totalitarian state, incapable of overriding even one of Bush's 22 vetoes.

On Friday, January 30, Ford and Bush were joined at the CIA auditorium for Bush's swearing-in ceremony before a large gathering of agency employees. Colby was also there: Some said he had been fired primarily because Kissinger thought that he was divulging too much to the congressional committees, but Kissinger later told Colby that the latter's stratagems had been correct.

Colby opened the ceremony with a few brief words: "Mr. President, and Mr. Bush, I have great honor to present you to an organization of dedicated professionals. Despite the turmoil and tumult of the last year, they continue to produce the best intelligence in the world." This was met by a burst of applause. Ford's line was: "We cannot improve this agency by destroying it." Bush promised to make the "CIA an instrument of peace and on object of pride for all our people."

On this last note of nausea-related lies, let us take a break please.

Hatonn to stand-by. We will continue on this subject when we again sit to pen.

CIA DIRECTOR BUSH

When Bush became Director of Central Intelligence (DCI), the incumbent principal deputy director was Gen. Vernon Walters, a former Army lieutenant general. This is the same Gen. Vernon Walters who was mentioned by Haldeman and Nixon in the notorious "smoking gun" tape already discussed, but who of course denied that he ever did any of the things that Haldeman and Erlichman said that he had promised to do. Walters had been at the CIA since May 1972—a Nixon appointee who had been with Nixon when the then-Vice President's car was stoned in Caracas, Venezuela. Ever since then, Nixon had seen him as part of the old guard. Walters left to become a private consultant in July 1976.

To replace Walters, Bush picked Enno Henry Knoche, who had joined the CIA in 1953 as an intelligence analyst specializing in Far Eastern political and military affairs. Knoche came from the Navy and knew Chinese. From 1962 to 1967, he had been the chief of the National Photographic Interpretation Center. In 1969, he had become deputy director of planning and budgeting and chaired the international CIA committee in charge of computerization. Next, Knoche was deputy director of the Office of Current Intelligence, which produces ongoing assessments of international events for the President and the National Security Council. After 1972, Knoche headed the Intelligence Directorate's Office of Strategic Research, charged with evaluating strategic threats to the U.S. In 1975, Knoche had been a special liaison between Colby and the Rockefeller Commission, as well as with the Church and Pike Committees. This was a very sensitive post, and Bush clearly looked to Knoche to help him deal with continuing challenges coming from the Congress. In the fall of 1975, Knoche was to function as Bush's "Indian guide" through the secrets of Langley; he knew "where the bodies were buried".

Knoche was highly critical of Colby's policy of handing over limited amounts of classified material to the Pike and Church committees, while fighting to save the core of covert operations. Knoche told a group of friends during this period: "There is no counterintelligence any more." This implies a condemnation of the congressional committees with whom Knoche had served as liaison, and can also be read as a lament for the ousting of James Jesus Angleton, chief of the CIA's counterintelligence operations until 1975 and director of the mail-opening operation that had been exposed by various probers.

NORIEGA INVOLVEMENT

Adm. Daniel J. Murphy was Bush's deputy director for the intelligence community, and later became Bush's chief of staff during his first term as vice president. Much later, in November 1987, Murphy visited Panama in the company of South Korean businessman and intelligence operative Tongsun Park, and met with Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega. Murphy was later obliged to testify to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee about his meeting with Noriega. Murphy claimed that he was only in Panama to "make a buck", but there are indications that he was carrying messages to Noriega from Bush. Tongsun Park, Murphy's ostensible business associate, will soon turn out to have been the central figure of the Koreagate scandal of 1976, a very important development on Bush's CIA watch.

Other names on the Bush flow chart included holdover Edward Proctor, followed by Bush appointee Sayre Stevens in the slot of deputy director for intelligence; holdover Carl Duckett, followed by Bush appointee Leslie Dirks as deputy director for science and technology; John Blake, holdover as deputy director for administration, and holdover William Nelson, followed by Bush appointee William Wells, deputy director for operations.

[H: I can only urge you, once more, to get the ongoing series of TANGLED WEBS: TANGLED WEBS, VOL. I; TANGLED WEBS, VOL. II; THE MOTHER OF ALL WEBS (T.W. III); LOOSEN THE KNOTS AND TANGLES (T.W. IV); BLOOD-SUCKERS OF THE TANGLED WEBS (V); SILENT BLOOD-SUCKERS OF THE TANGLED WEBS (VI) and the others as we get them to release point. Remember, chelas, these are JOURNALS and the great value is the continuity of flow and integration of that which is already known. I think there is even some kind of discount if you purchase several—you'll have to check on it.]

William Wells as deputy director for operations was a very significant choice. He was a career covert operations specialist who had graduated from Yale a few years before Bush. Wells soon acquired his own deputy, recommended by him and approved by Bush: This was the infamous Theodore Shackley, whose title thus became associate deputy director for covert operations. Shackley later emerged as one of the central figures of the Iran-Contra scandal of the 1980's. He is reputedly one of the dominant personalities of a CIA old boys' network known as The Enterprise, which was at the heart of Iran-Contra and the other illegal covert operations of the Reagan-Bush years.

During the early 1960's, after the Bay of Pigs, Theodore Shackley had been the head of the CIA Miami Station during the years in which Operation Mongoose was at its peak. This was the E. Howard Hunt and Watergate Cubans crowd, circles familiar to Felix Rodriguez (Max Gomez), who in the 1980's ran Contragun-running and drug-running out of Bush's vice-presidential office.

Later, Shackley was reportedly the chief of the CIA station in Vientiane, Laos, between July 1966 and December 1968. Some time after that, he moved on to become the CIA station chief in Saigon, where he directed the implementation of the Civilian Operations and Rural Development Support (CORDS) program, better known as OPERATION PHOENIX, a genocidal crime against humanity which killed tens of thousands of Vietnamese civilians because they were suspected of working for the Viet-Cong, or sometimes simply because they were able to read and write. [H: Yes indeed, I can only urge you to get the above named JOURNALS for it's all there in one or another of them.] As for Shackley, there are also reports that he worked for a time in the late 1960's in Rome during the period when the CIA's GLADIO capabilities were being used to launch a wave of terrorism in that country that went on for well over a decade. Such was the man whom Bush chose to appoint to a position of responsibility in the CIA. Later, Shackley will turn up as a "speechwriter" for Bush during the 1979-80 campaign.

Along with Shackley came his associate and former Miami Station second in command, Thomas Clines, a partner of Gen. Richard Secord and Albert Hakim during the Iran-Contra operation, convicted in September 1990 on four felony tax counts for not reporting his ill-gotten gains, and sentenced to 16 months in prison and a fine of $40,000.

Another career covert operations man, John Waller, became the inspector general, the officer who was supposed to keep track of illegal operations. For legal advice, Bush turned first to holdover General Counsel Mitchell Rogovin, who had in December 1975 theorized that intelligence activities belonged to the "inherent powers" of the presidency, and that no special congressional legislation was required to permit such things as covert operations to go on. later, Bush appointed Anthony Lapham, Yale '58, as CIA general counsel. Lapham was the scion of an old San Francisco banking family, and his brother was Lewis Lapham, the editor of Harper's magazine. Lapham would take a leading role in the CIA cover-up of the Letelier assassination case.

Typical of the broad section of CIA officers who were delighted with their new boss from Brown Brothers Harriman/Skull and Bones was Cord Meyer, who had most recently been the station chief in London from 1973 on, a wild and woolly time in the tight little island, as we will see. Meyer, a covert action veteran and Watergate operative, writes at length in his autobiography about his enthusiasm for the Bush regime at CIA, which induced him to prolong his own career there.

And what did other CIA officers, such as intelligence analysts, think of Bush? A common impression is that he was a superficial lightweight with no serious interest in intelligence. Deputy Director for Science and Technology Carl Duckett, who was ousted by Bush after three months, commented that he "never saw George Bush feel he had to understand the depth of something.... He is not a man tremendously dedicated to a cause or ideas. He's not fervent. He goes with the flow, looking for how it will play politically." According to Maurice Ernst, the head of the CIA's Office of Economic Research from 1970 to 1980, "George Bush doesn't like to get into the middle of an intellectual debate....he liked to delegate it. I never really had a serious discussion with him on economics." Hans Heymann was Bush's national intelligence officer for economics, and he remembers having been impressed by Bush's Phi Beta Kappa Yale degree in economics. As Heymann later recalled Bush's response, "He looked at me in horror and said, 'I don't remember a thing. It was so long ago, so I'm going to have to rely on you.'"

INTELLIGENCE CZAR BUSH

During the first few weeks of Bush's tenure, the Ford administration was gripped by a "first strike" psychosis. This had nothing to do with the Soviet Union, but was rather Ford's desire to preempt any proposals for reform of the intelligence agencies coming out of the Pike or Church Committees with a pseudo-reform of his own, premised on his own in-house study, the Rockefeller report, which recommended an increase of secrecy for covert operations and classified information. Since about the time of the Bush nomination, an interagency task force armed with the Rockefeller Commission recommendations had been meeting under the chairmanship of Ford's counselor Jack O. Marsh. This was the Intelligence Coordinating Group, which included delegates of the intelligence agencies, plus NSC, Office of Management and the Budget (OMB), and others. This group worked up a series of final recommendations that were given to Ford to study on his Christmas vacation in Vail, Colorado. At this point Ford was inclined to "go slow and work with Congress".

But on January 10, Marsh and the intelligence agency bosses met again with Ford, and the strategy began to shift toward preempting Congress. On January 30, Ford and Bush came back from their appearance at the CIA auditorium swearing-in session and met with other officials in the Cabinet Room. Attending besides Ford and Bush were Secretary of State Kissinger, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, Attorney General Edward Levi, Jack Marsh, Philip Buchen, Brent Scowcroft, Mike Duval, and Peter Wallison representing Vice President Rockefeller, who was out of town that day. Here Ford presented his tentative conclusions for further discussion. The general line was to preempt the Congress, not to cooperate with it, to increase secrecy, and to increase authoritarian tendencies.

Ford scheduled a White House press conference for the evening of February 17.

In his press conference of February 17, Ford scooped the Congress and touted his bureaucratic reshuffle of the intelligence agencies as the most sweeping reform and reorganization of the United States' intelligence agencies since the passage of the National Security Act of 1947. "I will not be a party to the dismantling of the CIA or other intelligence agencies," he intoned. He repeated that the intelligence community had to function under the direction of the National Security Council, as if that were something earth-shaking and new; from the perspective of Oliver North and Admiral Poindexter we can see in retrospect that it guaranteed nothing. A new NSC committee chaired by Bush was entrusted with the task of giving greater central coordination to the intelligence community as a whole. This committee was to consist of Bush, Kissinger clone William Hyland of the National Security Council staff, and Robert Ellsworth, the assistant secretary of defense for intelligence. This committee was jointly to formulate the budget of the intelligence community and allocate its resources to the various tasks.

KISSINGER AND SCOWCROFT: IOB

The 40 Committee, which had overseen covert operations, was now to be called the Operations Advisory Group, with its membership reshuffled to include Scowcroft of NSC, Kissinger, Rumsfeld, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff George Brown, plus observers from the attorney general and OMB.

An innovation was the creation of the Intelligence Oversight Board (in addition to the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board), which was chaired by Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, the old adversary of Charles de Gaulle during World War II. The IOB was supposed to be a watchdog to prevent new abuses from coming out of the intelligence community. Also on this board there were Stephen Ailes, who had been undersecretary of defense for Kennedy and secretary of the Army for LBJ. The third figure on this IOB was Leo Cherne, who was soon to be promoted to chairman of PFIAB as well. The increasingly complicit relationship of Cherne to Bush meant that all alleged oversight by the IOB was a mockery.

Ford also wanted a version of the Official Secrets Act, which we have seen Bush supporting: He called for "Special legislation to guard critical intelligence secrets. This legislation would make it a crime for a government employee who has access to certain highly classified information to reveal that information improperly"—which would have made the Washington leak game rather more dicey than it is at present.

*O, what a tangled web we weave,
when first we practice to deceive.*

— Sir Walter Scott

FORD EO OPENS DOOR FOR DOMESTIC COVERT ACTIONS

The Official Secrets Act would have to be passed by Congress, but most of the rest of what Ford announced was embodied in Executive Order 11905. Church thought that this was over-reaching, since it amounted to changing some provisions of the National Security Act by presidential fiat. But this was now the new temper of the times.

As for the CIA, Executive Order 11905 authorized it "to conduct foreign counterintelligence activities ... in the United States", which opened the door to many things. Apart from restrictions on physical searches and electronic bugging, it was still open season on Americans abroad. The FBI was promised the Levi guidelines, and other agencies would get charters written for them. In the interim, the power of the FBI to combat various "subversive" activities was reaffirmed. Political assassination was banned, but there were no limitations or regulations placed on covert operations, and there was nothing about measures to improve the intelligence and analytical product of agencies.

In the view of the New York Times, the big winner was Bush: "From a management point of view, Mr. Ford tonight centralized more power in the hands of the director of Central Intelligence than any had had since the creation of the CIA. The director has always been the nominal head of the intelligence community, but in fact has had little power over the other agencies, particularly the Department of Defense." Bush was now de facto intelligence czar.

Congressman Pike said that Ford's reorganization was bent "largely on preserving all of the secrets in the executive branch and very little on guaranteeing a lack of any further abuses." Church commented that what Ford was really after was "to give the CIA a bigger shield and a longer sword with which to stab about."

The Bush-Kissinger-Ford counteroffensive against the congressional committees went forward. On March 5, the CIA leaked the story that the Pike Committee had lost more than 232 secret documents which had been turned over from the files of the executive branch. Pike said that this was another classic CIA provocation designed to discredit his committee, which had ceased its activity. Bush denied that he had engineered the leak.

By September, Bush could boast in public that he had won the immediate engagement: His adversaries in the congressional investigating committees were defeated. "The CIA," Bush announced, "has weathered the storm... The mood in Congress has changed," he crowed. "No one is campaigning against strong intelligence. The adversary thing, how we can ferret out corruption, has given way to the more serious question how we can have better intelligence."

Such was the public profile of Bush's CIA tenure up until about the time of the November 1976 elections. If this had been the whole story, then we might accept the usual talk about Bush's period of uneventful rebuilding and moral boosting while he was at Langley.

Let us take a rest break before we take up the subject of Bush's real agenda.

As we move along here I just want you to keep in mind that "Kissinger" will be coming up constantly as the brains behind everything happening—BUT ALSO REMEMBER: THE UNKNOWN PERSON, WALLACE STICKNEY, WHO HEADS FEMA

AND WILL CONTROL UNDER DIRECTION OF THOSE SAME HANDS—IS A MEMBER OF KISSINGER'S "KISSINGER AND ASSOCIATES"!!!!

BUSH'S REAL AGENDA

Reality was different. The administration Bush served had Ford as its titular head, but most of the real power, especially in foreign affairs, was in the hands of Kissinger. Bush was more than willing to play along with the Kissinger agenda.

KOREAGATE

The first priority was to put an end to such episodes as contempt citations for Henry Kissinger. Thanks to the presence of Don Gregg as CIA station chief in Seoul, South Korea, that was easy to arrange. This was the same Don Gregg of the CIA who would later serve as Bush's national security adviser during the second vice-presidential term, and who would manage decisive parts of the Iran-Contra operations from Bush's own office. Gregg knew of an agent of the Korean CIA, Tongsun Park, who had for a number of years been making large payments to members of Congress, above all to Democratic members of the House of Representatives, in order to secure their support for legislation that was of interest to Park Chung Hee, the South Korean leader. It was therefore a simple matter to blow the lid off this story, causing a wave of hysteria among the literally hundreds of members of Congress who had attended parties organized by Tongsun Park.

The Koreagate headlines began to appear a few days after Bush had taken over at Langley. In February, there was a story by Maxine Cheshire of the Washington Post reporting that the Department of Justice was investigating Congressmen Bob Leggett and Joseph Addabbo for allegedly accepting bribes from the Korean government.

Both men were linked to Suzi Park Thomson, who had been hosting parties of the Korean Embassy. Later, it turned out that Speaker of the House Carl Albert had kept Suzi Park Thomson on his payroll for all of the six years that he had been speaker. The New York Times estimated that as many as 115 Congressmen were involved.

In reality the number was much lower, but former Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski was brought back from Houston to become special prosecutor for this case as well. This underlined the press line that "the Democrats' Watergate" had finally arrived. It was embarrassing to the Bush CIA when Tongsun Park's official agency file disappeared for several months, and finally turned up shorn of key information on the CIA officers who had been working most closely with Park.

With "Koreagate", the Congress was terrorized and brought to heel. In this atmosphere Bush moved to reach a secret foreign policy consensus with key congressional leaders of both parties of the one-party state. According to two senior government officials involved, limited covert operations in such places as Angola were continued under the pretext that they were necessary for phasing out the earlier, larger, and more expensive operations. Bush's secret deal was especially successful with the post-Church Senate Intelligence Committee. Because of the climate of restoration that prevailed, a number of Democrats on this committee concluded that they must break off their aggressive inquiries and make peace with Bush, according to reports of remarks by two senior members of the committee staff. The result was an interregnum during which the Senate committee would neither set specific reporting requirements nor attempt to pass any binding legislation to restrict CIA covert and related activity. In return, Bush would pretend to make a few disclosures to create a veneer of cooperation.

THE LETELIER AFFAIR

One of the most spectacular scandals of Bush's tenure at the CIA was the assassination in Washington, D.C. of Orlando Letelier, the Chilean exile leader. Letelier had been a minister in the Allende government, which had been overthrown by Kissinger in 1973. Letelier, along with Ronnie Moffitt of the Washington Institute for Policy Studies, died on September 21, 1976 in the explosion of a car bomb on Sheridan Circle, in the heart of Washington's Embassy Row district along Massachusetts Avenue.

Relatively few cases of international terrorism have taken place on the territory of the United States, but this was certainly an exception. Bush's activities before and after this assassination amount to one of the most bizarre episodes in the annals of secret intelligence operations.

One of the assassins of Letelier was unquestionably one Michael Vernon Townley, a CIA agent who had worked for David Atlee Phillips in Chile. Phillips had become the director of the CIA's Western Hemisphere operations after the overthrow of Allende and the advent of the dictatorship of Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, and its Milton Friedman/Chicago School economic policies. In 1975, Phillips founded AFIO, the Association of Former Intelligence Officers, which has supported George Bush in every campaign he has ever waged since that time. Townley, as a "former" CIA agent, had gone to work for the DINA, the Chilean secret police, and had been assigned by the DINA as its liaison man with a group called CORU. CORU was the acronym for Command of United Revolutionary Organizations, a united front of four anti-Castro Cuban organizations based primarily in the neighborhood of Miami called Little Havana. With CORU, we are back in the milieu of Miami anti-Castro Cubans, whose political godfather George Bush had been since very early in the 1960's.

It was under these circumstances that the U.S. ambassador to Chile, George Landau, sent a cable to the State Department with the singular request that two agents of the DINA be allowed to enter the United States with Paraguayan passports. One of these agents is likely to have been Townley. The cable also indicated that the two DINA agents also wanted to meet with Gen. Vernon Walters, the outgoing deputy director of central intelligence, and so the cable also went to Langley. Here, the cable was read by Walters, and also passed into the hands of Director George Bush. Bush not only had this cable in his hands, Bush and Walters discussed the contents of the cable and what to do about it, including whether Walters ought to meet with the DINA agents. The cable also reached the desk of Henry Kissinger. One of Landau's questions appears to have been whether the mission of the DINA men had been approved in advance by Langley; his cable was accompanied by photocopies of the Paraguayan passports. (Later on, in 1980, Bush denied that he had ever seen this cable; he had not just been out of the loop, he claims; he had been in China.) The red Studebaker hacks, including Bush himself in his campaign autobiography, do not bother denying anything about the Letelier case; they simply omit it.

CHILEAN DC BOMB RULING: ALLOWED BY DEFAULT

On August 4, on the basis of the conversations between Bush and Vernon Walters, the CIA sent a reply from Walters to Landau, stating that the former "was unaware of the visit and that his Agency did not desire to have any contact with the Chileans." Ambassador Landau responded by revoking the visas that he had already granted and telling the Immigration and Naturalization Service to put the two DINA men on their watch list to be picked up if they tried to enter the United States. The two DINA men entered the United States anyway on August 22, with no apparent difficulty. The DINA men reached Washington, and it is clear that they were hardly traveling incognito: They appear to have asked a Chilean embassy official to call the CIA to repeat their request for a meeting.

According to other reports, the DINA men met with New York Senator James Buckley, the brother of conservative columnist William Buckley of Skull and Bones. It is also said that the DINA men met with Frank Terpil, a close associate of Ed Wilson, and no stranger to the operations of the Shackley-Clines Enterprise. According to one such version, "Townley met with Frank Terpil one week before the Letelier murder, on the same day that he met with Senator James Buckley and aides in New York City. The explosives sent to the United States on Chilean airlines were to replace explosives supplied by Edwin Wilson, according to a source close to the office of Assistant U.S. Attorney Lawrence Barcella." The bomb that killed Letelier and Moffitt was of the same type that the FBI believed that Ed Wilson was selling, with the same timer mechanism.

BUSH CIA COVER UP

Bush therefore had plenty of warning that a DINA operation was about to take place in Washington, and it was no secret that it would be wetwork. As authors John Dinges and Saul Landau point out, when the DINA hitmen arrived in Washington they "alerted the CIA by having a Chilean embassy employee call General Walters' office at the CIA's Langley headquarters. It is quite beyond belief that the CIA is so lax in its counterespionage functions that it would simply have ignored a clandestine operation by a foreign intelligence service in Washington, D.C., or anywhere in the United States. It is equally implausible that Bush, Walters, (Ambassador George) Landau and other officials were unaware of the chain of international assassinations that had been attributed to DINA.

Bush's complicity deepens when we turn to the post-assassination cover-up. The prosecutor in the Letelier-Moffitt murders was Assistant U.S. Attorney Eugene M. Propper. Nine days after the assassinations, Propper was trying without success to get some cooperation from the CIA, since it was obvious enough to anyone that the Chilean regime was the prime suspect in the killing of one of its most prominent political opponents. The CIA had been crudely stonewalling Propper. He had even been unable to secure the requisite security clearance to see documents in the case. Then Propper received a telephone call from Stanley Pottinger, assistant attorney general in charge of the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department. Pottinger said that he had been in contact with members of the Institute for Policy Studies, who had argued that the Civil Rights Division ought to take over the Letelier case because of its clear political implications. Propper argued that he should keep control of the case since the Protection of Foreign Officials Act gave him jurisdiction. Pottinger agreed that Propper was right, and that he ought to keep the case. When Pottinger offered to be of help in any possible way, Propper asked if Pottinger could expedite cooperation with the CIA.

As Propper later recounted this conversation: "Instant, warm confidence shot through the telephone line. The assistant attorney general replied that he happened to be a personal friend of the CIA Director himself, George Bush. Pottinger called him 'George'. For him, the CIA Director was only a phone call away. Would Propper like an appointment? By that afternoon he (an FBI agent working on the case) and Pottinger were scheduled for lunch with Director Bush at CIA headquarters on Monday. A Justice Department limousine would pick them up at noon. Propper whistled to himself. This was known in Washington as access."

At CIA headquarters, Pottinger introduced Propper to Director Bush, and Bush introduced the two lawyers to Tony Lapham, his general counsel. There was some polite conversation. Then, "When finally called on to state his business, Propper said that the Letelier-Moffitt murders were more than likely political assassinations, and that the investigation would probably move outside the United States into the Agency's realm of foreign intelligence. Therefore, Propper wanted CIA cooperation in the form of reports from within Chile, reports on assassins, reports on foreign operatives entering the United States, and the like. He wanted anything he could get that might bear upon the murders."

If Bush had wanted to be candid, he could have informed Propper that he had been informed of the coming of the DINA team twice, once before they left South America and once when they had arrived in Washington. But Bush never volunteered this highly pertinent information. Instead, he went into a sophisticated stonewall routine: "Look," said Bush, "I'm appalled by the bombing. Obviously we can't allow people to come right here into the capital and kill foreign diplomats and American citizens like this. It would be hideous precedent. So, as director, I want to help you. As an American citizen, I want to help. But, as director, I also know that the Agency can't help in a lot of situations like this. We've got some problems. Tony, tell him what they are."

Lapham launched into a consummate Aristotelian obfuscation, recounted in Lapham and Propper's Labyrinth. Lapham and Propper finally agreed that they could handle the matter best through an exchange of letters between the CIA Director and Attorney General Levi. George Bush summed up: "If you two come up with something that Tony thinks will protect us, we'll be all right." The date was October 4, 1976.

ELITE MEDIA HELPS COVER

Contrary to that pledge, Bush and the CIA began actively to sabotage Propper's investigation in public as well as behind the scenes. By Saturday, the Washington Post was reporting many details of Propper's arrangement with the CIA. Even more interesting was the following item in the "Periscope" column of Newsweek magazine of October 11: "After studying FBI and other field investigations, the CIA has concluded that the Chilean secret police were not involved in the death of Orlando Letelier.... The agency reached its decision because the bomb was too crude to be the work of experts and because the murder, coming while Chile's rulers were wooing U.S. support, could only damage the Santiago regime."

On November 1, the Washington Post reported a leak from Bush personally: "CIA officials say...they believe that operatives of the present Chilean military junta did not take part in Letelier's killing. According to informed sources, CIA Director Bush expressed this view in a conversation last week with Secretary of State Kissinger, the sources said. What evidence the CIA has obtained to support this initial conclusion was not disclosed."

Most remarkably, Bush is reported to have flown to Miami on November 8 with the purpose or pretext of taking "a walking tour of Little Havana". As author Donald Freed tells it, "Actually Bush met with the Miami FBI Special Agents in Charge Julius Matson and the chief of the anti-Castro terrorism squad. According to a source close to the meeting, Bush warned the FBI against allowing the investigation to go any further than the lowest level Cubans."

In a meeting presided over by Pottinger, Propper was only able to get Lapham to agree that the Justice Department could ask the CIA to report any information on the Letelier murder that might relate to the security of the United States against foreign intervention. It was two years before any word of the July-August cables was divulged.

Ultimately, some low-level Cubans were convicted in a trial that saw Townley plea bargain and get off with a lighter sentence than the rest. Material about Townley under his various aliases strangely disappeared from the Immigration and Naturalization Service files, and records of the July-August cable traffic with Vernon Walters (and Bush) were expunged. No doubt there had been obstruction of justice; no doubt there had been a cover-up.

TEAM A AND TEAM B ZIONIST INFLUENCE INFUSED

Now, what about the intelligence product of the CIA, in particular the National Intelligence Estimates that are the centerpiece of the CIA's work? Here Bush was to oversee a maneuver to markedly enhance the influence of the pro-Zionist wing of the intelligence community.

In June 1976, Bush accepted a proposal from Leo Cherne to carry out an experiment in "competitive analysis": in the area of National Intelligence Estimates of Soviet air defenses, Soviet missile accuracy, and overall Soviet strategic objectives. Bush and Cherne decided to conduct the competitive analysis by commissioning two separate groups, each of which would present and argue for its own conclusions. On the one, Team A would be the CIA's own National Intelligence Officers and their staffs. But there would also be a separate Team B, a group of ostensibly independent outside experts.

The group leader of Team B was Harvard history professor Richard Pipes, who was working in the British Museum in London when he was appointed by Bush and Cherne.

The liaison between Pipes' Team B and Team A, the official CIA, was provided by John Paisley, who had earlier served as the liaison between Langley and the McCord-Hunt-Liddy Plumbers. In this sense, Paisley served as the staff director of the Team A-Team B experiment.

Team B's basic conclusion was that the Soviet military preparations were not exclusively defensive, but rather represented the attempt to acquire a first-strike capability that would allow the USSR to unleash and prevail in thermo-nuclear war. The U.S. would face a window of vulnerability during the 1980's. But it is clear from Pipes' own discussion of the debate that Team B was less interested in the Soviet Union and its capabilities than in seizing hegemony in the intelligence and think-tank community in preparation for seizing the key posts in the Republican administration that might follow Carter in 1980. The argument in Team B quarters was that, since the Soviets were turning aggressive once again, the U.S.A. must do everything possible to strengthen the only staunch and reliable American ally in the MIDDLE East or possibly anywhere in the world, Israel. This meant not just that Israel had to be financed without stint, but that Israel had to be brought into Central America, the Far East, and Africa. There was even a design for a new NATO, constructed around Israel, while junking the old NATO because it was absorbing vital U.S. resources needed by Israel.

By contrast, Team B supporters like Richard Perle, who served as assistant secretary of defense under Reagan, were bitterly hostile to the Strategic Defense Initiative, which was plainly the only rational response to the Soviet buildup, which was very real indeed. The "window of vulnerability" argument had merit, but the policy conclusions favored by Team B had none, since their idea of responding to the Soviet threat was, once again, to subordinate everything to Israeli demands.

Team A and Team B were supposed to be secret, but leaks appeared in the Boston Globe in October. Pipes was surprised to find an even more detailed account of Team B and its grim estimate of Soviet intent in the New York Times shortly after Christmas, but Paisley told him that Bush and CIA official Richard Lehman had already been talking to the press, and urged Pipes to begin to offer some interviews of his own.

BUSHLIPS AT WORK

Typically enough, Bush appeared on Face the Nation early in the new year, before the inauguration of the new President, Jimmy Carter, to say that he was "appalled" by the leaks of Team B's conclusions. Bush confessed that "outside expertise had enormous appeal to me." He refused to discuss the Team B conclusions themselves, but did say that he wanted to "gun down" speculation that the CIA had leaked a tough estimate of the Soviet Union's military buildup in order to stop Carter from cutting the defense budget.

After the Team B conclusions had been bruited around the world, Pipes became a leading member of the Committee on the Present Danger, where his fellow Team B veteran, Paul Nitze, was already ensconced, along with Eugene V. Rostow, Dean Rusk, Lane Kirkland, Max Kampelman, Richard Allen, David Packard and Henry Fowler. About 30 members of the Committee on the Present Danger went on to become high officials of the Reagan administration.

Ronald Reagan himself embraced the "window of vulnerability" thesis, which worked as well for him as the bomber gap and missile gap arguments had worked in previous elections. When the Reagan administration was being assembled, Bush and James Baker had a lot to say about who got what appointments. Bush was the founder of Team B, and that is the fundamental reason why such pro-Zionist neoconservatives as Max Kampelman, Richard Perle, Steven Bryen, Noel Koch, Paul Wolfowitz and Dov Zakem showed up in the Reagan administration.

In a grim postlude to the Team B exercise, Bush's hand-picked staff director for the operation, John Paisley, the Soviet analyst (Paisley was the former deputy director of the CIA's Office of Strategic Research) and CIA liaison to the Plumbers, disappeared on September 24, 1978 while sailing on Chesapeake Bay in his sloop, the Brillig. Several days later, a body was found floating in the bay in an advanced state of decomposition, and with a gunshot wound behind the left ear. The corpse was weighted down by two sets of ponderous diving belts. The body was four inches shorter than Paisley's own height, and Paisley's wife later asserted that the body found was not that of her husband. Despite all this, the body was positively identified as Paisley's, the death summarily ruled a suicide, and the body quickly cremated at the funeral home approved by the Office of Security.

PARTING SHOTS TO POWER

As he managed the formidable world-wide capabilities of the CIA during 1976, Bush was laying the groundwork for his personal advancement to higher office and greater power in the 1980's. As we have seen, there was some intermittent speculation during the year that in spite of what Ford had promised the Senate, Bush might show up as Ford's running mate after all. But at the Republican Convention, Ford chose Kansas Senator Bob Dole for Vice President. If Ford had won the election, Bush would certainly have attempted to secure a further promotion, perhaps to secretary of state, defense, or treasury as a springboard for a new presidential bid of his own in 1980. But if Carter won the election, Bush would attempt to raise the banner of the non-political status of the CIA in order to convince Carter to let him stay at Langley during the period 1977-81 as a "non-partisan" administrator.

In the close of the 1976 election, Carter prevailed by vote fraud in New York, Ohio, and other states, but Ford was convinced by William Nelson and Happy Rockefeller, as well as by his own distraught wife Betty, that he must concede in order to preserve the work of "healing" that he had accomplished since Watergate. Carter would therefore enter the White House.

Bush prepared to make his bid for continuity at the CIA. Shortly after the election, he was scheduled to journey to Plains to brief Carter with the help of his deputy Henry Knoche. The critical meeting with Carter went very badly indeed. Bush took Carter aside and argued that in 1960 and 1968, CIA directors were retained during presidential transitions, and that it would make

Carter look good if he did the same. Carter signaled that he wasn't interested. Then Bush lamely stammered that if Carter wanted his own man in Langley, Bush would be willing to resign, which is of course standard procedure for all agency heads when a new President takes office. Carter said that that was indeed exactly what he wanted, and that he would have his own new DCI ready by January 21, 1977. Bush and Knoche then briefed Carter and his people for some six hours. Carter insiders told the press that Bush's briefing had been a "disaster". "Jimmy wasn't impressed with Bush," said a key Carter staffer.

Bush left Langley with Carter's inauguration, leaving Knoche to serve a couple of months as acting DCI. George Bush now turned to his family business of international banking—or so the story goes - - -

Let us leave this, please. I believe you have something worthwhile to chew on for the next while and this is surely enough for this day's work of writing. I believe if we hurry we shall have time for a short respite prior to the meeting.

Beware! Dangerous Time Is Fast Upon Us

(Editor's note: This writing came out a few days before the major Southern California earthquakes, the strong aftershocks of which are continuing to rumble and strongly suggest we all read the following advice and comments very very carefully.)

6/25/92 #1 HATONN

for Executive Order take-over.

Friends, please do not cause me to have to have "your" insight for you. Please see that which is going on and act accordingly. Things are not simply going to "go away"—you are being set up and it grows more severe with each trial balloon.

Foreign troops are in your nation! Foreign military equipment has now been placed in every portion of your nation and now the rail circulation is stopped. This means that in a brief period of time the entire industrial circulation of your nation will be halted. "They" are now telling you that it will even move to the steel industry and on through the network of production factories. THEY ALSO ARE "SUGGESTING" EXECUTIVE ORDERS!

There is a grave plan to the railroad shut-down now that the military equipment has been replaced and relocated, etc. It is to give reason

Everything the Administration and the Elite are doing is pointing to either civil or outright international war. There is first strike in readiness and now they will barrage you with "natural disaster" drills and hype until you are lulled back into your prison cells.

Photon Belt?? Who cares!! You will be most lucky indeed if you make it to such time as a little photon experience.

You of mine—sharpen up and check your emergency supplies. Again, tend of your money for if the Executive Orders are brought down for emergency regulations, it will probably take down the banks also if fear and panic set in. At any rate there will be "action" to prevent "panic" they will be telling you.

Wow? Watch the clues. The rail strike is the biggest one thing—notable AFTER rearrangement of military supplies—which by the way are even marked (though most insignias have been covered or painted over) with communist designations. The Japanese troops are now arriving in the U.S. and Canada and they are decked out in blue helmets and berets ("for the war games").

TRY TO AVOID TRAVEL

Ones ask what to do? I can't tell you what to do—but I tell you it is DANGEROUS to travel, especially by air from now forth. What happens depends on several things including your shuttle launch scheduled for today. You must realize that within this very week there have also been two massive nuclear tests in Nevada which were all but devastating.

There is now capability and placement in the field of "control" weapons which fire phaser beams which instantly kill everything in a body. The body itself will not even begin to decay until after some three months. They also are now placing helicopters (black) in groups of two or three which simultaneously fire beams which "program" crowds—or—kill them. Also, even the police departments across the country are training the enforcement officers to be prepared for both chemical and biological intervention.

Sad? Indeed! But perhaps the most sad thing is that in the time we have been writing we are now accused, more than ever—of "preaching panic and fear". No, I tell you how it IS—and remind you to walk back into the shelter of God of Light. Fear and panic are not things of earth human who has freedom of action and the will to do anything you desire to do.

ATTEMPTS TO BAN OUR PUBLICATIONS

I remind you—the most important segment of our publications are going to be banned and impounded simply because we tell you about God and Light—the orders came yesterday—with the police. We have about a month to act. America West will cease to function as is—so look for another title coming through. They will now lose great sums of inflow by the court actions for they just made arrangements for additional printings of the work in point. They are already running deficits so this will likely bankrupt them—which is the point of the actions under way.

It appears the only way to keep the work available to any extent is to turn it over to other distributors for the orders herein are to cease and desist in all publishing and distribution of the work in point. After "Executive Orders" come down it will encompass ALL of the work on the basis of "national emergency and security". Our people would simply publish additional supplies and network distribution but there simply are not available funds to do so. The LIBERATOR is so under attack that many working connections have had to be severed with America West to allow for printing and writing in one location and business flow to take place in another state. We have arranged it so the information and paper can flow in various networking systems but we cannot know for sure how long this can be done. Please be alert to information changes.

Please do realize, public readers, that these are individual entities, are well managed according to "our" instructions and do not affect any other segment of anything—business or private. We knew from onset that the government could and probably would shut us down so as we are devastated in one area we can have lifeline to another. Eventually, however, the possibilities are that we will have to have a very low profile to continue our work. Dharma and Oberli have already been "shut down" and now hold NOTHING and volunteer everything in order to have no strings against anything down in our projects or mission. We welcome ALL legal actions by anyone and the more massive the suit—the more massive can be the counter-suit because I will NEVER give them anything through which to be "longer HAD". Oh indeed, great inconvenience from the myriad of court battles but henceforth they shall all be fought through the Constitutional Law Center—giving BOTH entities experience.

"LEGAL" ATTACK FOR SUPPRESSION OF TRUTH

Right now there is a suit against all parties involved in the JOURNALS and LIBRATOR. Herein I want to point out something to the attorneys involved: You cannot copyright "truth". Even if you could do so, if conclusions are different from those of the "author or publisher in point", it is not infringement. If an entity labels itself "Institute" or "University" it becomes recognized as a teaching entity and purchased courses (as in Home Study Course) become the property of the buyer. Information utilized from an entity having changed "ITS" name so that the accused has no way of tracing same—accusations are invalid and thus and so. Further, the entity in point must prove damage and intent to damage. There are many more points but if you will go forth and research these things you will find basis for argument as well as counter-measures. We here write only JOURNALS (as in magazines) and a paper with news items and no accepted advertising of public input. The JOURNALS are "news" oriented and informational value only—WE PLANNED IT THIS WAY!! GOD WOULD NOT HAVE LESSER THAN ORGANIZED PLANS AND GOALS, CHELAS!

Does this mean you can prevail? It only means you "should" prevail—the system is so rotten that the likelihood of prevailing in total is less than zilch—however, if you have arranged your lives well to do this work—you have nothing to lose—so how can losing hurt?

It is different with the property and dwelling—it hurts very, very much. So, too, will stopping our information flow, hurt. But, as we are stopped from political output, if we can prevail over the "spiritual" aspects now under attack, we can continue to inform even if it only be bean recipes and tofu guides.

It was against these days of efforting to shut down the work that the push was on to get the massive amounts of information forth—so you will have it and you will find ways to get it—I promise you. When you want it, it can be found for it is intended that it be so.

Part of this discussion is for Dharma and my people here at this place—it is hard to work around the clock day after day just to have others come and attack with intent to kill. Hold my hand and listen—we know the way through. Alive? What is "alive"? You have no worthy definition of "alive"! You are only able to measure your "aliveness" against the "death" around you and I speak of "walking" dead.

TEND YOUR ASSETS

One last item before we move on: If you are still holding funds in even moderate amounts in the banks—expect them to be lost—soon. We have spoken on this many times and I still remind you—BankAmerica will be one of the big holders. The "market" and the government bonds and treasuries, CDs and paper are expected to collapse right away now. At the least, all will be coming under "Emergency FEMA regulations" as soon as the "orchestra" begins the overture. Are you prepared against this day?? We have done all that we can do and I cannot promise you any further assistance past this moment. The major actions are expected during the Fourth of July celebrations so as to give you LESS time with opened banks to have "runs". If you act today you may get coverage through one more blow-out but with less than 7-1/2 years to HAVE ALL IN OPERATIONAL CONTROL—I WOULD GUESS THE ACTIVITIES ARE GOING TO HEAT UP AND BOIL OVER FROM NOW ON "IN".

Can you survive? Yes—if you act appropriately and utilize their system instead of "fighting" it. You can only WIN through proper "working within" and growing up through it. I further ask for your prayers that our funding for our projects such as algae production and food growth can be completed so that branches of same can be available to all. You must remember that there are those eight years and the adversary Elite need to have you continue to function and have a way to continue to hide Truth from you by the continued deceit. I remind you that "they" will even help you for what you do makes them "look" good and they need to "look" good for a while longer. It simply is that you must see "through" the facade. Be ecstatic that YOU see through because it allows you to act in wisdom instead of with irrational reaction. Our purpose is to get a remnant through intact and bring God's people into safety and security—all other entities are just as YOU—under their own free-will preferences. The show is REALLY about to become incredible!

By the way—there is now a "black market" tape of pictures of communities and bases on the dark side of the moon and on Mars which are undeniable and the "tellers" are now DEAD to prove it. These are "joint venture" placements for the Elite and YOU paid for them. It is all a part of Alternative Three—I suggest you get SPACEGATE, THE VEIL REMOVED and SKELTONS IN THE CLOSET.

I frankly do not know how to separate out any JOURNAL above that of another—for we have covered so many facets of your needs that the response only is measured by the question.

Dharma, take this off the equipment so that the others can move on with checking their preparations, supplies—for self AND PETS—for if the government shuts down trucking—you will have no means of getting supplies. Make sure you are "right up" and make SURE that you have available a "safe place" for a time of radiation fallout as things unfold. You can also expect some "natural" disasters to be triggered so that the "worst" will not appear to be from Washington. They need YOU to believe that THEY are saving you—so act accordingly! It is better to let them

"save" you, however, with an already full stomach, first aid supplies and at least water. Do not expect to be able to purchase very much at markets for the thrust will be to orchestrate "looting" so that the police have reason to shoot to kill. The markets will be stripped. Do not, either, be even tempted to go forth and loot because "ev-everyone is doing it"—you will be shot. Be prepared and then stay away from every trouble area possible—park in security and wait it out. Perhaps the three to five days of "darkness" is simply the total devastating dark actions of the blind and evil run amuck.

Each one who has plans which give a place of security—make SURE your little bags are ready as we have been through before—along with placement for quick pick-up of your sleeping bags, personal goods and emergency food locker—enough to sustain for all members of the family for two to three days minimum. This is so that if you have to move to your basement or to the center of the dwelling, or wherever—you will have these necessities within reach to minimize exposure by having to go forth and search for them. This is where an ounce of prevention and preparation is worth everything and not just a pound of cure. This is not "panicville"—this is a reminder to check your supplies which should be current all the time and regularly monitored at any rate. For instance, if you used that sleeping bag on a camping trip—make sure it is back in reach of your emergency supplies.

It is time to go through emergency instructions with your family as reminders for any kind of happening for remember, children will often be separated from parents and they must have food, water and a secure place of safety until reunited—these are things you "should have" already taught them. Don't, please, be too late.

Successfully Coping With Confusion

6/19/92 SANANDA

Greetings, precious Druthea. I AM Sananda, Esu Immanuel, Jesus the Christ, etc. Sananda is a label of achievement in spiritual knowledge and responsibility beyond even "Christ" perfection. It means simply, ONE with and within God in Knowledge and Co-Creatorship.

Everyone of you precious chelas are in your lessons to achieve this "Sananda" perfection in selves. You are experiencing in one of the most challenging and rewarding dimensions of illusion/expression...that of 3rd Dimension Physical Compression.

And even more importantly, you ones have chosen (volunteered) to experience during THIS time of the Great Cycle Harvest/Graduation of Souls that each one may attain a "higher" placement in God's Kingdom. This is perhaps the most exciting opportunity "timeframe" in a cycle of a species in which to participate and serve. For although the lessons can be most difficult upon the emotions, the rewards for achieving Knowledge and balance are enormous. You ones have been reaching, it seems endlessly, for the stars in effort to comprehend the magnitude of simply what is the meaning of LIFE. We are come as THE HOSTS OF GOD to lift you to the heights of your imagining and even higher as it is appropriate for each. You essentially WILL DO IT and we as elder brothers of the LIGHTED SOURCE MOTHER/FATHER CREATOR are come to nudge and guide you through this illusion of physical senses and physical emotions.

We know you ones often feel as though you are walking in darkness and you do not yet remember WHO YOU ARE in relationship to Creator. You do not remember your immortality yet, although many of you have glimmers of memory. You function in a density of heaviness in relationship to the immortal soul within you. It is often most confusing to read the signs of a circumstance and communicate effectively your feelings to self, let alone to one another.

Many of you are lonely and long for that connection, that lifeline within which makes you feel loved and secure. Often you seek the whole world over to fill that "inner void", and all along it is only GOD within who can fill it with your acceptance and allowance of His guiding Light. You ones who find yourselves without mates believe you are not complete and you long to complete self with the love of another, hopefully, part of self. You long for balanced unity in your pairing and it will be accomplished, precious ones. First you must find balance within self, enough so that you do not seek in desperation that "perceived missing" other part of you. Release the "need" and the "expectation" from ego perception to God within and allow friendship to grow first in every chosen interaction. And remember you are LOVED more fully by God within than can your physical ego perceive and compare with.

When you become impatient and you push up stream, that is when confusion sets in and your adversaries' playground is confusion. Center yourselves with God and make NO decision out of desperation and confusion. Only from balanced communion and PATIENCE with the unfolding within will you find peace and inner balance. Make NO quick judgements about a circumstance or person or WHY it seems to be this or that way to you. Instead ask God within to help you understand the whole picture and to help you walk in the shoes of ones who you have disagreed with that you have compassion and understanding and can respond and ACT from that balance of LOVE.

You cannot change the way another feels about you, but you can understand WHY and rise above the need to worry over it. When you KNOW within your intent, the confusion lifts and the path of darkness becomes lighted for you see WITHIN with KNOWLEDGE all the obstacles and rocks thrown at you to PURPOSELY cause you distraction and pain and confusion.

Precious Dru had a "dream" which she gives me permission to share. She is outside somewhere she does not recognize. There are extremely high winds and whirlwinds and tornados all about her. She is frightened and, as she is about to be whirled away feeling out of control, she asks God to protect her and guide her. Instantly there is a "pole" in front of her which she grabs tightly to. Everything is in turmoil around her, and she is now secure. Then she commands that all evil energies leave her presence in the name of Holy God of Light and then a calm path is manifested. She lets go of the "pole" and without fear she walks the path made for her. All around is the turmoil and yet she is safe and focused on her path.

Thank you, Dru, for your dream is most symbolic and you left that dream feeling completely SECURE within. This is finding and trusting YOUR INNER POWER. Every precious one of you reading this can and will DO IT TOO! So be it.

Let us close this as Dru has other things to attend. We are getting there, precious. Be gentle with self. I love each one of you and all you need to do is ask and I will come to help and give succor. Go in Peace and Love and KNOW that you are shown the way...you must simply listen. I AM Sananda, One with God of Light and in service to God and to YOU of my brethren upon Earth Shan. Salu.

Reflections At A Time Of Celebration And Change

(Editor's note: The following is in response to a lot of changes going on around here right now. Old friends are leaving the area to establish a new outpost and expanded operations while new friends arrive from afar to begin their journeys here. The hellos and goodbyes all mix together in the emotion of the moment and in that loving spirit Commander Hatonn requested this writing be shared with all our LIBERATOR readers because, "THIS is what we are all about—not tattling on adversarial criminals—that is only the tool to pry open the minds.")

PERCEPTIONS

As Dharma sat devastated over the death of a son in March of 1985—she knew not "me"—Hatonn. She sat with God, however, in an effort to find reason of the passage of a 25 year-old man—gifted, complicated and totally tormented by a world in which he could not FIT. But for this beloved Paul Andrew, however, there would be no "work" this day—for in the taking of his own life which seemed an act of total desperation—came the focus unto higher cause and the need to reach beyond and SEE!

A daughter had, just days before, married in expectation of a world of dreams unfolded. The family of nine children was broken as one of the spokes of the wheel was shattered—was gone. Perhaps now, the others can FORGIVE for they could not know, and YOU CANNOT KNOW—THE CONTRACT OF ANOTHER. This gift of the "death" in the one instance was forever lasting—the dreams of beauty of love without ending of the other—died in but months. Ye must KNOW thine purpose and find your own way. I use this personal example for all must look at their own journey and see the wonders and beauty of each thing that comes—and see BEYOND THAT WHICH APPEARS TO BE OBVIOUS FOR THE OBVIOUS IS MOST OFTEN DECEIVING. At any given time of travel upon the physical plane, you must look ever beyond unto and into that which may not YET BE. For had the vision not ended in the one case—God's work could not have been fulfilled—and had the vision not ended in the second—so neither could God's gifts have been bestowed upon those who now share God's very child—in mutual respect—and therefore all (and each) can flourish.

Why do I speak in this manner? Because you ones in this little crew who have given ALL into our service and shared the blasts of attack, the slings and arrows of the enemy—must move in seemingly different directions so that the focus can be tuned and the gifts received, in order to create the miracles of GOAL and PURPOSE.

Partings? I know not of "partings"—the very term is impossible—does not exist in reality. Ah, but the heart says otherwise, does it not? The fledgling feathers are ruffled and there has been security in sharing of the burdens. Yes indeed—but EACH began this segment with only SELF and willingness to serve and the months have been indeed short—the work-load incredible.

YOU MUST REALIZE THAT DHARMA ONLY SAT TO PEN OUR FIRST JOURNAL IN JULY, 1989. NOW THERE ARE ALMOST SIXTY—AND GOING, GOING, GOING—to "our" drumbeat—not the rabbit's of Eveready! SIPAPU ODYSSEY WAS THE GIFT TO PAUL THAT HE MIGHT BE REMEMBERED ALWAYS. AND SO HE SHALL FOR THERE SHALL BE A "FOUNDATION" FOR EDUCATION IN HIS NAME AND IN THE ENTRY OF THE MOTION PICTURE STUDIOS AND DEDICATED TO THE NEW CITY

SHALL BE ERECTED A GOLDEN EAGLE IN FLIGHT—THAT WE MIGHT ALWAYS REMEMBER THE UNEXPECTED GIFTS OF THE CHILD AND "ONE" UNTO THE BENEFIT ULTIMATELY OF THE "WHOLE".

In the searching within the heart for words to be spoken at Paul's funeral, I nudged that she look beyond and the following passages were read:

Don't be dismayed at good-byes. A farewell is necessary before you can meet again.

And meeting again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends.

Fly free and happy beyond birthdays and across forever, and we'll meet now and then when we wish, in the midst of the one celebration that never can end!

Can you not see, chelas, that through the growing is the only way in which you can receive the rewards with which to fulfill the mission? You have graduated only to find the world fearful and burdensome on your shoulders. Each segment finished must have its testing outside the lessons for a graduation is only a "beginning". God is ever a "beginning" for there is no such thing as "ending"—only "outgrowing"—that which is no longer worthy. He who will not grow is destined to perish (dead or alive) in his stagnation.

The wings are strong enough—the flight feathers matured—'tis only the human consciousness that perceives separation and parting—for the

PLEASE HOLD RESPECT AND APPRECIATION TO THOSE WHO PRESS FOR THE MOVEMENT AHEAD LEST YOU BECOME THAT "GROUPIE" WHICH MUST NOT BE. YOU MUST SHOW THAT GOD'S WORK CAN BE DONE IN BEAUTY, TRUTH AND ABUNDANCE IN ALL CIRCUMSTANCES—IN ALL PLACES. NOT WITH PIETY OF COUNTENANCE—BUT WITH TRUTH OF THAT WHICH REALLY IS AND NOT THE STUPID PORTRAITS OF A GOD OF WIMPVILLE. WE HAVE BEEN SENT TO SHOW YOU THE WAY THROUGH THE MAZE—GIVEN THE OVERSIGHT OF THE ELDER BRETHREN. THE RESTLESSNESS SHALL ALWAYS BE INTRODUCED AT A TIME OF CHANGE LEST YOU NOT ATTEMPT TO TRY THE WINGS. DO NOT PERCEIVE THE GIFT IN WRONG PERCEPTIONS FOR IF YOU SPEND TIME IN JUDGEMENT, YOU SHALL MISS THE BEAUTY OF THE POINT IN FOCUS. REMEMBER—THINE WORST ENEMY IS THINE BEST TEACHER!!

Lemonade can be made from the worst of the sour lemons and this, too, we shall allow you to see as we take the arrows and reverse the flow and return to senders. Always make sure your intent is correct lest that which you denied and forsook, turns not again unto you. Turning the other cheek does not mean to become a spinning top. God expects WISDOM—most especially about those things over which you are given stewardship.

You will all see that NOTHING is changed—even your letters and calls will end up at the same terminals. Only the work can grow and our mission ever move more surely toward achievement. In the need of the moment ones learn to do tasks which are alien and tedious—only to become proficient and glean great improvement by the mere need to create from the unknowing. It shall ever be thus for the first few have to accommodate and support the many who will now be coming as the building phase begins. When the hearts are sure of the goal—it shall come to pass.

Ever keep in mind that YOU did not come to fill Einstein's role, or Tesla's—or Emmanuel's, The Pale Prophet's, or Hatonn's—YOU CAME TO FILL YOURS! For instance, if "I" take your mission—it only becomes "mine" and no longer "yours"—if we share, it becomes "OURS" and in the sharing is the wonder of it. A father can speak of visions and tell of his own—the son must go forth and search out his own—this the Wisdomkeepers knew. You are now going forth on your own vision-quests—will you succeed or fail? You shall succeed for I am a good teacher and your guides have been faithful and true and you are learning to LISTEN and SEE. Perfection? Nay, nay—for that is yet at the Rainbow's end. If ye be perfect—ye need no quest! But, because ye are becoming perfect—ye will continue the quest! It is through the willingness to serve where needed that merits the badge—not the service given because it is convenient and easy.

Ah, indeed, the "Silver Wings" stand by at ready and I have the pride of a father watching his fragments walk tall and true into the unknown in willingness to face that which comes—and in the so-doing, they shall find glory, peace and NEVER—BOREDOM! MAY IT ALWAYS BE THUS!

You come from the galaxy of the Central Sun—the place of the "seven suns". You are children birthed and grown in the LIGHT—and, chelas, may your "filaments" never be severed or burned-out. We are ever present to keep the connections sound and working—USE US, FOR WE HAVE NO OTHER PURPOSE!

This is for ALL MY CHILDREN—not just the few in some one location or another—it is for each and all who seek in truth and demand it—wherever your service might be. IN THE SEEKING IS COMMANDED THE FINDING.

THE CALL COMPELS THE ANSWER!

May you ever have stardust in your hair instead of the mortar-boards upon thine heads—for wisdom comes from the vision and inner truth of KNOWING—the other only represents that of the world which "another" desires to use to bind thee! Graduation in KNOWING can never be compared to EDUCATION by man—but both are tested by the fire of "living". Both are absolutely NECESSARY to the human experience. I again urge you parents who do not know that which you are doing—send your children to school for they MUST have the balance—OR, THEY MUST HAVE KNOWLEDGEABLE PARTICIPATION FROM YOU—IN KNOWING WHAT YOU ARE DOING for the adversary works thusly: the child must have the skills of arithmetic and words—if you give him not that much—you have crippled him. Be very cautious as to what you do in the name of God and be ever mindful of that for which you ask—for you shall get it—and it most often is not what you had in mind.

I salute you as my fellow-crew members and there is no sadness in these realms this day—for we SEE PROGRESS. But on behalf of your teachers and the crew "out here" we all salute you for you must still remain as our hands and feet until such time as we are given other marching orders. May we each serve well, the other. SALU

Our New Look

Regular readers of THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR have probably noticed various changes in appearance and presentation of the paper over the past several weeks. These changes will continue for awhile and are one visible result of Commander Hatonn's restructuring of THE LIBERATOR'S management and operations.

Another change is our official business name, now THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR, INC., and our new mailing address for subscriptions, comments or general communications is:

THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR
2810 W. Charleston Blvd.
Suite G6723
Las Vegas, NV 89102.

Phone orders may continue to be placed at 1-800-729-4131 for the present time.

This restructuring has been gradually implemented to relieve America West Publishers (already overworked with book and JOURNAL publishing activities, plus speaking engagements) from a growing burden they graciously carried from the time of THE LIBERATOR'S inception and evolution from the smaller newsletter called the PHOENIX JOURNAL EXPRESS. The EXPRESS, in turn, evolved from THE PHOENIX JOURNALS as a mode for more rapid delivery of communications than the JOURNALS could provide.

Again, please note our new mailing address and know that your warm notes of support and other sharings are appreciated and treasured beyond our ability to adequately express, or often, even acknowledge under the work load of our production schedule. We thank you for being there at just the right times and at just the right places, else we would certainly have stumbled and fallen along the way. And, as Commander Hatonn put it on page 42 of this LIBERATOR, above all, the sharing and the caring are really what this is all about.
