"Rapture" Movie Madness

6/9/94 #1 HATONN

Now on to something I think is so interesting and so important as to about blow the valves right out of "their" Mercedes and BMWs. We do wish to share these little secrets, don't we readers?

This comes—how nice to have good Earth information—from the "North-East". It is in the form of an interview with one Serge Monast done for CONTACT by Dr. Pierre Cloutier and Ricardo Lopes. It took place at College de Maissoneuve in Montreal, Canada on March 19, 1994. Mr. Monast as one of two featured guests present. Since "I" like the references to inquiries numbers 8 through 10 best, WE WILL BEGIN THEREWITH:

BLUE BEAM PROJECT

The Elite Committee(s) have absolutely HATED us speaking about the Monarch Project and, yet, this one seems to bother them far more than even that old ongoing project. They seem also quite concerned about Mr. Jackson speaking on these subjects along with MJ-12. Well, the information is already out there so we ASK MR. JACKSON TO KEEP A VERY LOW PROFILE ON THESE MATTERS. MR. JACKSON NEEDS TO FOCUS ON RE-CONSTITUTING THE CONSTITUTION AND NOT ON DROPPING BOMBS, BEYOND NECESSITY FOR FREEDOM, ON THE HEADS OF THE BASTARD TROOPS IN POWER. WITH "BLUE BEAM", however, YOU STEP ON MY VERY OWN TOES AND IT IS QUITE ACCEPTABLE TO ME THAT YOU TAKE CARE OF SOME OF THE GARBAGE AROUND—ALTHOUGH, WHEN YOU START ON GOD IN TRUTH AND MY COMMAND—IT WILL BE BROUGHT TO A RIGHT QUICK STOP. YOU HIT SOME OF THE "BROTHERS" WHO TRAVEL WITH ME, GOOD SIRs, AND I THINK IT IS TIME TO REMIND YOU THAT WE KNOW WHAT YOU ARE UP TO—IN CASE SOME OF YOUR "CREW" HAS FORGOTTEN OUR RELATIONSHIP AND AGREEMENTS.

So, backing up a bit and:

8. Speaking of appalling, we recently came across an incredible reference to chemical warfare the US military was prepared to deploy against Canadians in the 1930s, in War Plan Red! Imagine!

You mentioned this would be your last public speaking engagement, S.M.. Is this true and, if so, for what reason?

S.M.: I have received threats to my life from the office of the Prime Minister and THE VATICAN.

9. "Holy" Vatican City in Rome—the Pope? How so?

S.M.: Because I dared to unveil the NASA "BLUE BEAM" Project. The Vatican does not threaten the life of someone without good reason. This is an extremely BIG secret. I am sure Commander Hatonn will have more to add.

As we sit to write this day I am flexible as to subject material, Dharma, but I think we should go for the "gusto" first. Well, perhaps I have it in reverse—let's go for the dregs and then we can have a bit of fun with the gusto.

I don't have to give you "revelation"—I can, however, offer that to which FEW have access or resource interest. We can talk, first, about the offerings of one Henry Kissinger. Remember, of course, that it is NOT Henry Kissinger who is the dangerous entity—other than in a most robotic, puppet-type manner—it is his "handlers" who must be attended.

Kissinger came up through the Soviet training ground of the KGB and has branched out into the most powerful positions of the globe. Therefore it is worthy of your attention to watch and study whatever he presents for he is but a spokesman for that which will come to pass as "somebody" has to set the track rules, regulations and event goals. The "Big Boy" will only orchestrate.

Another thing you might well "watch", as I have told you prior to this—is a journal which IS "the" outlay of these games in progress or intent for the Council on Foreign Relations. This journal will NOT "seem" to be such but it IS and I can give you a picture example of what I mean by offering you new publications of Kissinger's "old" projections. It is YOU who must stay alert or you miss it, forget it, or never find it.

Then, after we offer this, let us turn to the more interesting, I hope, subject of space alien visitors of which varieties there are over 80 on your planet for the interesting "show-down".

We must also get back to the Constitution—Federalist Papers but until we have more "finger" help, we will take first things first and, right now, world affairs are more urgent than the Constitution as background.

As you witness your U.S. President prancing down the isles in robes, crowns and attended by ones with flowing trains to the robes and lesser important "professors", of OXFORD, carrying the hems of the garments—are you not sickened? This is actually paying homage to "Rhodes"—king of the New One World Order of Kings and slaves. Are not the "sides" beginning to become more clarified? And, yes indeed, the Soviet empire is not to be overlooked in this scenario—BUT YOU HAD BEST MORE READILY ATTEND THE RUSSIAN EMPIRE!

In first reflection on Kissinger we will offer what is reprinted in Foreign Affairs, May/June 1994. The article in point is directly from Henry Kissinger who was National Security Adviser and Secretary of State in the Nixon and Ford Administrations. This essay is adapted from his eleventh book, Diplomacy, with the permission of Simon & Schuster. Copyright 1994 by Henry A. Kissinger. We offer it here for its informative educational content.

To honor all copyrights, however, we shall only offer excerpts. But in order to take nothing out of context, that which we offer will be verbatim so that understanding of the author's intent is not influenced by our own interpretation. We honor Mr. Kissinger for his ongoing authorship and his last 16 books. You, as readers, can use your guidelines of "Bureaucratic Intent" by KNOWING that it is better to read for "opposite" truth in INTENT. Kissinger, whatever else he might be, is one of the most IMPORTANT personages in your time.

REFLECTIONS ON CONTAINMENT THE SUCCESS AND PAIN OF THE STRATEGY

No matter what Wilsonian-minded [H: Remember that WILSON (President) is the one who brought in the Federal Reserve, etc. The most massively DESTRUCTIVE one thing that ever happened to America—or the world.] American statesmen called them, by late 1945 spheres of influence were emerging across Europe, and they were to remain in place until the collapse of Communism four decades later. Under U.S. leadership, the Western occupation zones of Germany were consolidated, while the Soviet Union turned the countries of Eastern Europe into its appendages. The erstwhile Axis Powers—Italy, Japan and, after 1949, the Federal Republic of Germany—gradually moved toward alliance with the United States. The Soviet Union cemented its dominance over Eastern Europe by means of coercion. At the same time, the Kremlin tried its utmost to interrupt the process of Western consolidation by fostering a guerrilla war in Greece and by encouraging mass demonstrations by West European Communist parties, especially in France and Italy. [H: Since direct instructions and "how-to" for great involvements such as Kuwait, Iraq, Somalia, etc., were set forth by Kissinger Associates—we have to assume that Henry knows of that which he speaks. We also have to remember that the first major business "announced" as start-up in Moscow after fall of the so-called Soviet bloc nations—was KISSINGER ASSOCIATES to which Mr. Gorbachev was appointed PRESIDENT.]

American leaders concluded that they had to resist further Soviet expansion. But their national tradition caused them to seek to justify this resistance on nearly any basis other than as an appeal to the traditional balance of power. In doing this, American leaders were not being hypocritical. When they finally came to recognize that Franklin D. Roosevelt's vision of a peaceful globe guarded by the four policemen (the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and China) could not be implemented, they preferred to interpret this development as a temporary setback on the way to an essentially harmonious world order. Here they faced a philosophical challenge. Was Soviet intransigence merely a passing phase, which Washington could wait out? Were the Americans, as former Vice President Henry Wallace and his followers suggested, unwittingly causing the Soviets to feel paranoid by not adequately communicating their pacific intentions to Stalin? Did Stalin really reject post-war cooperation with the strongest nation in the world? Did he not want in the end to be America's friend?

As the highest policymaking circles in Washington considered those questions, a document arrived on February 22, 1946, from an expert on Russia, one George Kennan, a relatively junior diplomat at the American embassy in Moscow, that was to provide the philosophical and conceptual framework for interpreting Stalin's foreign policy. Rarely does an embassy report by itself reshape Washington's view of the world, but what later came to be known as the "Long Telegram" emphatically did. Kennan maintained that the United States should stop blaming itself for Soviet intransigence; the sources of Soviet foreign policy lay deep within the Soviet system itself. For Kennan, Communist ideology was at the heart of Stalin's approach to the world. Stalin regarded the Western capitalist powers as irrevocably hostile. The friction between the Soviet Union and America was therefore not the product of some misunderstanding or faulty communications between Moscow and Washington but was inherent in the Soviet Union's perception of the outside world.

From time immemorial, argued Kennan, the Russian tsars had sought to expand their territory. They had sought to subjugate Poland and to turn it into a dependent nation. They had regarded Bulgaria as within Russia's sphere of influence. And they had sought a warm-water port on the Mediterranean, mandating control of the Black Sea Straits:

"At bottom of the Kremlin's neurotic view of world affairs is traditional and instinctive Russian sense of insecurity. Originally, this was insecurity of a peaceful, agricultural people trying to live on vast exposed plain in neighborhood of fierce nomadic peoples. To this was added, as Russia came into contact with economically advanced West, fear of more competent, more powerful, more highly organized societies in that area. But this latter type of insecurity was one which afflicted rather Russian rulers than Russian people; for Russian rulers have invariably sensed that their rule was relatively archaic in form, fragile and artificial in its psychological foundation, unable to stand comparison or contract with political systems of Western countries." [H:

Ah—hummmnn?]

This historical insecurity was, according to Kennan, given a new sense of urgency by Communist dogma [H: And "WHO" were and are the "Communists" who both took over the Russian Soviet empire, set up the Socialist-Fascist empire and "called" it "Communism"? Were not every one of the players in power Khazarian Zionist Jews?—go check out the listing of ones who set up the Communist control in Russia. Every last one of them were Jews—of the same variety of "non-Judean" lineage as IS HENRY KISSINGER!]:

"In this [Communist] dogma, with its basic altruism of purpose, they found justification for their instinctive fear of outside world, for the dictatorship without which they did not know how to rule, for cruelties they did not dare not to inflict, for sacrifices they felt bound to demand.... Without it they would stand before history, at best, as only the last of that long succession of cruel and wasteful Russian rulers who have relentlessly forced [their] country on to ever new heights of military power in order to guarantee external security of their internally weak regimes...."

America, Kennan argued, had to hunker down for a long struggle; the goals and philosophies of the United States and the Soviet Union were irreconcilable. [H: There WERE NO DIFFERENCES—now that Communism was in "power"—all connections with Russia were EXACTLY alike as the Soviet master-minds were gradually but methodically SHIFTED into the U.S. and took places of high level influence (not in Congress) but in original councils, became counsels and advisors which required no U.S. citizenship. Also connections were made with ones such as bonding with the likes of Brent Scowcroft, a leader and establisher of order and doctrine in the Mormon Church coupled with the likes of Eagleburger, an overfed and pompous politician—all high-level members of Kissinger Associates. These very men and henchmen SET THE ENTIRE PHILOSOPHY AND DIRECTION AS WELL AS INTERACTIONS AND INFLUENCE OF THE NATION. You can prove this to selves as you reread the bits on "Famine", etc. and the sell-out of food supplies, etc. [Front Page story of last week's CONTACT], BY KISSINGER TO COMMUNIST NATIONS—LONG, LONG AGO WHILE YOU "THOUGHT" YOU WERE AT SOME KIND OF SOCIAL OR FACTUAL WAR WITH THOSE NATIONS AND PEOPLES.]

PAY ATTENTION

In a top-secret study dated September 24, 1946, Truman adviser Clark Clifford [H: This man is far more important to you and at least as dangerous as the little puppet, Kissinger, and don't forget it!! This man can turn banking empires upside down AGAINST THE LAW AND NEVER EVEN RECEIVE A REMOTE TAP ON THE WRIST—BUT IN FACT, GLEANS "SYMPATHY" FOR HIS ELDERLY STATUS. BETTER LOOK AT THAT "ELDERLY STATUS" ALSO, GOOD BUDDIES!] fell in with this view: "The main deterrent to Soviet attack on the United States, or to attack on areas of the world which are vital to our security, will be the military power of this country." By now, this had become conventional wisdom. But Clifford used it as a springboard from which to proclaim a global American security mission, embracing "all democratic countries which are in any way menaced or endangered by the U.S.S.R." It was not clear what was meant by "democratic". Did this qualification limit America's defense to Western Europe, or was it a courtesy that extended to any threatened area and thus required the United States to defend simultaneously the jungles of Southeast Asia, the deserts of the Middle East and densely populated Central Europe? In time, the latter interpretation became dominant.

Clifford rejected any similarity between the emerging policy of containment and tradi-

HENRY KISSINGER

Soviet Agent

by Frank Capell

INTRODUCTION

On March 20, 1974, an article entitled "The Kissinger Caper" by Frank A. Capell appeared in The Review of the News which showed that a former general in Communist Intelligence states that Henry A. Kissinger was a Soviet agent before he went to Harvard University. The impact of this article resulted in the reprint and distribution of over 100,000 copies; thousands of letters were sent to Senators, Congressmen and other Government Officials.

Invariably, the replies to these letters stated that Henry Kissinger was investigated on three occasions — in 1961, 1969, and 1973 — and was given the necessary security clearances. These replies were based on information supplied by the State Department. What was not stated, however, is that security clearances are granted by the Department of State IN SPITE of derogatory information developed during the FBI full-field investigations.

The fact is that Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White, John Abt, Virginius Frank Cole, Laurence Duggan, Charles Kramer, and a long list of others who have since been identified as Communists and members of Soviet espionage rings, were also investigated by the FBI and were also given the necessary security clearances.

If it seems incredible that a Secretary of State can be a Soviet agent, remember that Alger Hiss was a top advisor to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and was one of the principal founders of the United Nations. High ranking government intelligence officials and government advisers not only in the United States but in Great Britain, France and other countries have been identified as Soviet agents. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, after a lengthy (bi-partisan) investigation and the testimony of many witnesses, issued a report entitled "Interlocking Subversion in Government Departments." What was true then (1953) holds true today. The report stated:

The Soviet international organization has carried on a successful and important penetration of the United States Government and this penetration has not been fully exposed.

This penetration has extended from the lower ranks to top-level policy and operating positions in our government.

The agents of this penetration have operated in accordance with a distinct design fashioned by their Soviet superiors.

Members of this conspiracy helped to get each other into Government, helped each other to rise in Government and protected each other from exposure.

The general pattern of this penetration was first into agencies concerned with economic recovery, then to war-making agencies, then to agencies concerned with foreign policy and post-war planning, but always moving to the focal point of national concern.

In general, the Communists who infiltrated our Government worked behind the scenes — guiding research and preparing memoranda on which basic American policies were set, writing speeches for Cabinet officers, influencing congressional investigations, drafting laws, manipulating administrative reorganizations — always serving the interest of their Soviet superiors.

Thousands of diplomatic, political, military, scientific, and economic secrets of the United States have been stolen by Soviet agents in our Government and other persons closely connected with the Communists.

Despite the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other security agencies had reported extensive information about this Communist penetration, little was done by the Executive branch to interrupt the Soviet operatives in their ascent in Government until Congressional committees brought forth to public light the facts of the conspiracy.

Powerful groups and individuals within the Executive branch were at work obstructing and weakening the effort to eliminate Soviet agents from positions in Government.

Members of this conspiracy repeatedly swore to oaths denying Communist Party membership when seeking appointments, transfers, and promotions and these falsifications have, in virtually every case, gone unpunished...

Policies and programs laid down by members of the Soviet conspiracy are still in effect within our Government and constitute a continuing hazard to our national security.

Henry A. Kissinger appears to be an Untouchable. Most government officials and elected officers are hesitant to criticize him although his policies and programs invariably have strengthened the international Communist conspiracy at the expense of our national security and the U.S. pocketbook. Understandably, Kissinger has the support of many; Alger Hiss was also favored with the support of many at the time he was arrested for perjury in connection with turning over secret documents to the Soviet Union. Among those who rallied to his defense and testified on his behalf were the Secretary of State, a Supreme Court Justice and other high government officials. They eulogized him and attested to his fine character, loyalty and patriotism. There are millions of people in Eastern Europe living in Communist police states today as a result of President Roosevelt's acceptance of the advice of Alger Hiss.

To further strengthen the Communist regimes of the U.S.S.R. and Red China, Henry A. Kissinger has enabled them to obtain billions of dollars of credit and through his efforts the Communist governments of the once-free nations of Eastern Europe have been made to appear legitimate.

Tom Anderson, National Chairman of the American Party, sent a copy of "The Kissinger Caper" to every Member of both Houses of Congress and to 9,000 newspapers. So powerful is the influence and protection surrounding Henry Kissinger that the major news media have avoided any mention of it. This, therefore, is the reason for the book.

tional diplomacy. In his view, the Soviet-American conflict was not caused by clashing national interests—which by definition might be negotiated—but by the moral shortcomings of the Soviet leadership. Therefore, the goal of American policy was not so much to restore the balance of power as to transform Soviet society. Just as in 1917 Wilson had blamed the need for a declaration of war on the Kaiser rather than on the threat Germany posed to American security, so Clifford now ascribed Soviet-American tensions to "a small ruling clique and not the Soviet people". [H: Indeed, this is a brilliant man, readers—and if you perceive him to be a "bad boy" because we write about him—remember something—SOMEBODY TRIED TO PULL HIM DOWN OVER BANKING IRREGULARITIES WHICH IN TURN HE SPURNED—I would look carefully at who might be this man for he may well be for One World Order, etc., but he also recognized the dangerous disadvantage of America's continuing take-over by the hoods in Zionist garb. We do not comment on his own status—only on observations and actions. Do not compare apples and turnip greens or you will miss the fruit-boat.] A significant Soviet change of heart, and probably a new set of Soviet leaders, was required before an overall Soviet-American agreement would be possible. At some dramatic moment, these new leaders would "work out with us a fair and equitable settlement when they realized that we are too strong to be beaten and too determined to be frightened."

Neither Clifford nor any subsequent American statesman involved in the discussion of the Cold War ever put forward specific terms to end the confrontation or to initiate a process that would bring about negotiations to do so. So long as the Soviet Union maintained its ideology, negotiations were treated as pointless. After a Soviet change of heart, a settlement would become nearly automatic. In either case, spelling out the terms of such a settlement in advance was deemed to inhibit America's freedom of action—the same argument that had been used during World War II to avoid discussion of the postwar world. America now had the conceptual framework to justify political and military resistance to Soviet expansionism. [H: In all of history, if you go back and check—the only "Soviet Expansionism" has come from the Khazarian Jewish element which infiltrated and took over Russia. Russians are noted for their very LACK OF EXPANSIONISM, as truly defined.]

TRUMAN EXPANDS THE CONCEPT

Since the end of the war, Soviet pressures had followed historical Russian patterns. The Soviet Union controlled the Balkans (except for Yugoslavia) and a guerrilla war was raging in Greece, supported from bases in Communist Yugoslavia and the Bulgarian Soviet satellite. Territorial demands were being made against Turkey, along with a request for Soviet bases in the Straits—very much along the lines of what Stalin had wanted from Hitler on November 25, 1940. Ever since the end of the war, Great Britain had supported both Greece and Turkey, economically as well as militarily. In the winter of 1946-47, the Attlee Government of Britain informed Washington that it could no longer shoulder the burden. Truman was prepared to take over Great Britain's historical role of blocking a Russian advance toward the Mediterranean, but neither the American public nor Congress could countenance the traditional British geopolitical rationale. Resistance to Soviet expansionism had to spring from principles based strictly on the American approach to foreign policy. [H: Are you not realizing that you are nearing the massive changes to be set-up by the key players in the United Nations in that time span—and the ongoing total integration of the players who would then take over Palestine and set up the ALLY, to later be called Israel?]

This imperative became apparent at a key meeting held on February 27, 1947, in the Oval Office. Truman, Secretary of State Marshall and Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson [H: Yep, this is the father of the third in command of your Justice Department under Brother Reno, Butch Acheson.] sought to persuade a congressional delegation led by Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the importance of aid to Greece and Turkey—a formidable assignment, since the traditionally isolationist Republicans controlled both houses of Congress. Marshall led off with a dispassionate analysis setting forth the relationship between the proposed aid program and American interests. [H: Here is another time to speculate—you will find if you have interest in history, that the Greeks have a statue of Truman on the island of Crete (the only statue in Greece honoring an American president—for the Marshall Plan). It is also interesting to note that the BIGGEST NORTHROP MISSILE BASE IS ALSO ON THE ISLAND OF CRETE!] He elicited stereotypical grumblings about "pulling Britain's chestnuts out of the fire," the iniquities of the balance of power and the burdens of foreign aid. Recognizing that the administration was about to lose its case, Acheson asked Marshall in a whisper whether this was a private fight or whether anyone could join in.

Given the floor, Acheson proceeded, in the words of one aide, "to pull out all the stops". Acheson boldly presented the group with visions of a bleak future in which the forces of Communism stood to gain the upper hand: "Only two great powers remained in the world...[the] United States and the Soviet Union. We had arrived at a situation unparalleled since ancient times. Not since Rome and Carthage had there been such a polarization of power on this earth.... For the United States to take steps to strengthen countries threatened with Soviet aggression or Communist subversion...was to protect the security of the United States—it was to protect freedom itself."

When it became evident that Acheson had roused the congressional delegation, the administration stuck to his basic approach. From that point on, the Greek-Turkish aid program was portrayed as part of the global struggle between democracy and dictatorship. When, on March 12, 1947, Truman announced the doctrine that would later be named after him, he dropped the strategic aspect of Acheson's analysis and spoke in traditional Wilsonian terms of a struggle between two ways of life: "One way of life is based upon the will of the majority, and is distinguished by free institutions, representative Government, free elections, guarantees of individual liberty, freedom of speech and religion and freedom from political oppression. The second way of life is based upon the will of a minority forcibly imposed upon the majority. It relies upon terror and oppression, a controlled press and radio, fixed elections and the suppression of personal freedoms."

TRUMAN DOCTRINE

Had Soviet leaders been more aware of American history, they would have understood the ominous nature of what the president was saying. [H: Oh Barfi They knew EXACTLY what it meant because THEY HELPED STRUCTURE IT!] The Truman Doctrine marked a watershed because, once America had thrown down the moral [H: MORAL??] gauntlet, the kind of realpolitik Stalin understood best would be forever at an end, and bargaining over reciprocal concessions would be out of the question. Henceforth, the conflict could only be settled by a change in Soviet purposes, by the collapse of the Soviet system, or both. Truman had proclaimed his doctrine as "the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures." Inevitably, criticism of the objective of defending democracy appeared at both ends of the intellectual spectrum: some protested that America was defending countries that, however important, were morally unworthy; others objected that America was committing itself to the defense of societies that, whether free or not, were not vital to American security. It was an ambiguity that refused to go away, generating debates that have not ended to this day about American purposes in nearly every crisis. Ever since, American foreign policy has been obliged to navigate between those who assail it for being amoral and those who criticize it for going beyond the national interest through crusading moralism.

Once the challenge had been defined as the very future of democracy, America could not wait until a civil war actually occurred, as it had in Greece. On June 5, less than three months after the announcement of the Truman Doctrine, Secretary Marshall in a commencement address at Harvard committed America to the task of eradicating the social and economic conditions that tempted aggression. America would aid European recovery, announced Marshall, to avoid "political disturbances" and "desperation," to restore the world economy and to nurture free institutions. Therefore, "[any] government that is willing to assist in the task of recovery will find full cooperation, I am sure, on the part of the United States Government." In other words, participation in the Marshall Plan was open even to governments in the Soviet orbit—a hint taken up in Warsaw and Prague and just as quickly squelched by Stalin. [H: By the way, readers, by whom was Stalin judged to be such a heinous leader—the Soviets or the Russians?]

Only a country as idealistic, as pioneering and as relatively inexperienced as the United States could have advanced a plan for global economic recovery based solely on its own resources. And yet the very sweep of that vision elicited a national commitment that would sustain the Cold War generation through its final victory. The program of economic recovery, said Secretary Marshall, would be "directed not against any country or doctrine, but against hunger, poverty, desperation and chaos." Just as when the Atlantic Charter had been proclaimed, a global crusade against hunger and despair was found to be more persuasive to Americans than appeals to immediate self-interest or the balance of power.

H: By the way, readers, by whom was Stalin judged to be such a heinous leader—the Soviets or the Russians?

THE X ARTICLE

CONTINUATION FROM 6-8-1994. (This will reflect as the second writing or "Part 2". For continuity please refer to prior writing as there will be no review):

[QUOTING:]

At the end of all of these more or less random initiatives, there emerged a document that would, for over a generation, serve as the bible for the containment policy, indeed which supplied it with its very name. All the various strands of American postwar thought were brought together in an extraordinary article published in July 1947 in Foreign Affairs. [H: Here is your confirmation that this JOURNAL is the journal for the Council on Foreign Relations.] Though it was anonymously signed by "X", the author was later identified as George F. Kennan, by then head of the policy planning staff of the State Department. Of the thousands of articles written since the end of the Second World War, Kennan's "The Sources of Soviet Conduct" stands in a class by itself. In this lucidly written, passionately argued literary adaptation of his "Long Telegram", Kennan raised the Soviet challenge to the level of philosophy of history.

By the time Kennan's article appeared, Soviet intransigence had become the staple of policy documents. Kennan's distinctive contribution was to explain the ways in which hostility to the democracies was inherent in the Soviet domestic structure and why that structure would prove impervious to conciliatory Western policies. Tension with the outside world was inherent in the very nature of Communist philosophy and, above all, in the way the Soviet system was being run domestically. Internally, the Communist Party was the only organized group, with the rest of society fragmented into an inchoate mass. Thus the Soviet Union's implacable hostility to the outside world was an attempt to gear international affairs to its own internal rhythm. The main concern of Soviet policy was "to make sure that it has filled every nook and cranny available to it in the basin of world power." The way to defeat Soviet strategy was by "a policy of firm containment, designed to confront the Russians with unalterable counterforce at every point where they show signs of encroaching upon the interests of a peaceful and stable world." [H: Interpreted: "To bash every natural Russian while supporting and furthering the integration of the New World Order Zionist Khazarian RULE." In other words, "DESTROY" the Russians while protecting the "Soviet Elite Bolsheviks" who have integrated and totally coordinated working relations with the New World Order, Henry Kissinger and thus and so.]

Like almost every other contemporary foreign policy document, Kennan's "X" article disdained the elaboration of a precise diplomatic goal. What he sketched was the age-old American dream of a peace achieved by the conversion of the adversary, albeit in language more elevated and far more trenchant in its perception than that of any contemporary. But where Kennan differed from other experts was when he described the mechanism by which, sooner or later, through one power struggle or another, the Soviet system would be fundamentally transformed. [H: Now watch the rationale of failure of such thought and a "fog factor" of about 2000!] Kennan thought it likely that, at some point, various contestants for authority might reach down into these politically immature and inexperienced masses in order to find support for their respective claims. If this were ever to happen, strange consequences could flow for the Communist Party: "For the membership at large has been exercised only in the practices of iron discipline and obedience and not in the arts of compromise and accommodation. If, consequently, anything were ever to occur to disrupt the unity and efficacy of the party as a political instrument, Soviet Russia might be changed overnight from one of the strongest to one of the weakest and most pitiable of national societies."

No other document forecast quite so accurately what would in fact take place after the advent of Mikhail Gorbachev. [H: Ah HA—now we have the sneak-in. Remember, Gorbachev was made president of Kissinger Associates IN MOSCOW after his "supposed demise" from Russian hierarchy. He has been working in total conjunction with the Elite "Kissingers of the world" RIGHT IN THE GOOD OLD U.S.A. ever since!] And in the aftermath of so total a collapse of the Soviet Union [H: Another total misperception foisted off on you—planned and orchestrated just like a grade "F" stage play—with the "Director" being the bunch huddled around this old buzzard, Kissinger. THAT is what KISSINGER ASSOCIATES does, readers—runs (spell that ruins) nations and planets! In every nation in upheaval from Somalia to Lower Outlying Slobovia—you WILL FIND KISSINGER ASSOCIATES, at the least, Scowcroft and Eagleburger and the myriads of other little cute puppets whose strings are totally operated by the higher Committee. Now, I am about tired of this "higher Committee". They may well be more on my side than the Committee of openly Satanic practitioners—BUT, they are not very "nice" people and most are NOT even people at all! Now, readers, when you reach out into NON-PEOPLE I have the trump card when the game gets tight and THEY know it, so it would behoove them to just pretend they LIKE me.]. it seems carping to point out just how back-breaking an assignment Kennan had prescribed for his people. For he had charged America with combating Soviet pressures for the indefinite future all around a vast periphery that embraced the widely differing circumstances of Asia, the Middle East and Europe. The Kremlin was, moreover, free to select its point of attack, presumably only where it calculated it would have the greatest advantage. Throughout subsequent crises, the American political objective was deemed to be the preservation of the status quo, with the overall effort producing Communism's final collapse only after a protracted series of ostensibly inconclusive conflicts. It was surely the ultimate expression of America's national optimism and unimpaired sense of self-confidence that as sophisticated an observer as George Kennan could have assigned his society to a role so global, so stern and, at the same time, so reactive. [H: HOGWASH! We will get to the REAL terror about Russia to these turkey-twaddles in a bit—and that is the NEW "threat to democracy", THANK GOD. DOES ANYONE REMEMBER THE TERM: REPUBLIC—WHICH IS SUPPOSED TO BE YOUR GOAL?]

THE INGREDIENTS OF CONTAINMENT

[H: Dharma, skip right rapidly through the next couple of sections so we can get onto some good information in the form of that "beastie" who so bothers this Elite bunch of garbage mongers.]

This stark, even heroic, doctrine of perpetual struggle committed the American people to endless contests with rules that left the initiative to the adversary and confined America's role to strengthening the countries already on its side of the dividing line—a classic policy of spheres of interest. [H: Have you ever seen such reverse meaning?] By abjuring negotiations, the containment policy wasted precious time during the period of America's greatest relative strength—while it still had the atomic monopoly [H: It never had such a monopoly and Kissinger knows it—after all, he FIRST SERVED THE SOVIET UNION BEFORE SLOPPING HIMSELF OFF ONTO AMERICA!] Indeed, given the premise of containment—that positions of strength had yet to be built—the Cold War became both militarized and imbued with an inaccurate impression of the West's relative weakness.

The redemption of the Soviet Union became the ultimate goal of policy; stability could emerge only after evil had been exorcised. It was no accident that Kennan's article concluded with a peroration instructing his impatient, peace-loving compatriots about the virtues of patience and interpreting their international role as a test of their country's worthiness:

The issue of Soviet-American relations is in essence a test of the overall worth of the United States as a nation among nations. The thoughtful observer of Russian-American relations will find no cause for complaint in the Kremlin's challenge to American society. He will rather experience a certain gratitude to a providence which, by providing the American people with this implacable challenge, has made their entire security as a nation dependent on their pulling themselves together and accepting the responsibilities of moral and political leadership that history plainly intended them to bear.

One of the outstanding features of these noble sentiments was their peculiar ambivalence. They rallied America to a global mission but made the task so complex that America would nearly tear itself apart trying to fulfill it. Yet the very ambivalence of containment seemed to lend an extraordinary impetus to American policy. Though essentially passive with respect to diplomacy with the Soviet Union, containment evoked tenacious creativity when it came to building "positions of strength" in the military and economic realms. This was because in containment were merged lessons derived from the two most important American experiences of the previous generation: from the New Deal came the belief that threats to political stability arise primarily from gaps between economic and social expectations and reality, hence the Marshall Plan; from the Second World War America learned that the best protection against aggression is having overwhelming power and the willingness to use it, hence the Atlantic alliance. The Marshall Plan was designed to get Europe on its feet economically. NATO was to look after its security.

[H: If you aren't barfing by this point—you certainly don't understand the sugar-coated poison just now dumped on you. And, worse, THIS IS WHAT THE COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS BASES ITS OPERATIONS UPON!]

THE U.N. CAIRO CONFERENCE

The New World Order is relentless in its drive to control the entirety of the world's population by year 2000. Since 1945 the U.N. has been an essential factor in this action on many fronts to destroy the existence of traditional nations, states and families.

The U.N. has scheduled its 1994 International Conference on Population and Development in Cairo, Egypt for September 5-13. The first population conference staged by the U.N. was held in Bucharest, Romania 20 years ago. Since then an enormous decline in the world economy has taken place as well as a gigantic increase in the submission of the people of the planet to world government under the fakery of "Socialism". The beginnings of the present economic and social collapse were augmented then and have now reached a critical condition.

In the "Draft Program of Action" for the Cairo conference it is stated that the organization hopes to "achieve sustainable development... states should reduce and eliminate unsustainable patterns of productions and consumption and promote appropriate demographic policies... The right to bear children implies responsibility to care for children and to consider their interests and the interest of the larger community."

Here we have the usual fine sounding words hiding the dagger aimed at the heart. The document goes on to demand that reproduction be controlled, that medical services be decreased for the poor, plus increased attacks on the sacredness of individual life and the basic tenets of natural law and order. The principal targets are obvious: Africa, already a dying continent; Somalia, Rwanda, Kenya; the Soviet Union, now perilously endangered; and South America en masse. Even in the U.S. and Britain the destruction of the economy is evidenced by increasing numbers of the homeless and unemployed.

The U.N. is a fake and has been since 1945. It is forever the hypocrite; talking one way, acting another. It is an agent for the world government of the New World Order and it is getting its work done right out in the open with little resistance. The same is true of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. They are agencies of the new socialist world dictatorship aborning, not to be trusted in any circumstance. Any country forced to depend upon their financial assistance will eventually be in their complete control.

GUNS AND THE U.N.

Get the guns away from the people! Get the people to give away their guns. This policy has been in operation for over 200 years and the common people have not understood, "Why" The "Why" is so that you can't shoot back when the controls become slavery. All over the globe, nations, states and local communities are passing laws to control people and calling them crime control measures.

On May 23rd the United Nations began its program for GLOBAL gun control. The U.N. Disarmament Commission has the ball rolling to tighten controls on gun trading in the U.S. and other member nations in order to control arms sales on an international basis. The AP wire covered the story world wide on May 24.

"The U.N. Disarmament Commission has adapted a working paper, a basis for future debate, that proposes tighter controls on the gun trade in the United States and other member nations as a way of combating international arms trafficking.

"The commission is essentially powerless, able only to issue recommendations. But its findings could lead to a debate over the weapons trade, including the relatively freewheeling U.S. small-arms business, in the higher-profile U.N. General Assembly.

"The U.S. representative on the Disarmament Commission, which comprises all 184 U.N. member nations, balked at first last December when the subject of arms trafficking was proposed for debate.

"But on May 9 the United States allowed consensus adoption of the working paper, which makes the issue one of two items—the other is nuclear disarmament—on the commission agenda for its spring 1995 meetings. A final report is not expected before 1996.

"The little-noted move represents the first U.N. effort to foster regulation of the multibillion-dollar trade in small arms."

SYNTHESIS OF SCIENCE AND RELIGION

This title, as with all titles written before the writing on the subject seems a bit much for my scribe, not being particularly good at, or in tune greatly with, either subject—much the less a synthesis of the two. Moreover, the terms used in conjunction, such as in "religious science", is an oxymoronic statement of the highest level. Therefore we will define this writing as simply an interesting look into quantum-statistical methods of simulating energy-informational processes. The better studies of these integrated subjects, as with the better UFO documentation and truth of the matter, come out of Russia. I don't need to foist that off on you readers but it is nonetheless fact and you must accustom yourselves to such fact.

My problem is how to bring this to you in understandable terms. I usually just lay it on you and then expect Dr. Young to explain it to you. That is unfair—but I am noted for being "just", not "fair". I have done a bit of researching into "who" offers a bit of insight into this subject and turn to Boris Iskakov who was born in Magnitogorsk on November 14, 1934. He is a graduate of the Institute of Physical Engineering in Moscow. He has experience in explaining strange information and has written extensively on the theory of chain reactions in economics and has accomplished several great works on the application of applying mathematical methods to agricultural economics. His most recent work I feel is the best as he moves into the interesting area of quantum-statistical methods of simulating energy-informational processes. In this work he endeavors to synthesize elements of science and religion. Dr. Iskakov has recently been interrogated and we would share the interview with you. I don't want to overindulge in explanations on my own account for I would rather you come to understanding of the subjects before we dump "space", "aliens", "space travel", "thought manifestations" and "doctrinal thesis" upon you. It is my "chicken" way out of the original training sessions, perhaps.

The interview comes from Russian documents so we will meander through the translations as best we can and at the least you will be introduced to such as "leptons", etc. I used this term the other day and only Dr. Young had ever heard it—now it seems to pop out at you from every direction. I believe Dr. Cleary presented an interesting article to you in the last edition of CONTACT. Keep up with CONTACT, interested observers—because we will cover just about every "far-out" subject, as well as the political mish-mash of criminals in your world today. Surprisingly enough—THE TWO ARE INTIMATELY CONNECTED!

[QUOTING:]

MATHEMATICAL TRANSFORMATIONS

The equations of Schrodinger and Dirac, well known in quantum physics, describe the laws of the conservation of probability for fluxes of matter at the level of elementary particles of the microworld. By means of certain mathematical transformations I (Dr. Iskakov) obtained equivalent equations of a much broader applicability. They describe the laws of the conservation of probability for fluxes of matter, energy, and information. The equations have a deep philosophical meaning, which extends far beyond the interpretation of the Schrodinger and Dirac equations. An appropriate name for them is, in my view, suggested by a doctrine of Oriental philosophy—karma. In a narrow sense, it claims that every deed or thought, good or bad, receives due reward or retribution. In a broader sense, it denotes the principle of unity, integrity, and inter-conditionality and causality in the Universe. That is how I construe the term "equations of karma", which describe any cause-and-effect relationship.

WHAT IS THE "EQUATION OF KARMA"?

The study of psychic phenomena dictated the need to define the concept of the information-energy field. Its material medium, according to contemporary notions, may be a global lepton gas, consisting of extremely light particles, microleptons, with a mass of 10^{-40} - 10^{-30} g. Microleptons are much lighter than electrons and are capable of freely penetrating any body in the Universe. The gaps between atomic nuclei are for them just as spacious as are the holes in a fishing net for molecules of air.

The idea of a microlepton gas appears to echo the 19th-century notion of the universal ether, but is scientifically much more complex and profound. What we are talking about in this case is no longer an ideal space-pervading fluid, but a quantum-granular structure of the space-time continuum, filled with whirling streams of polarized microleptons (including some virtually vacuum-born).

Such an approach enables us to use the mathematical apparatus of quantum mechanics to describe the information-energy field. Moreover, relationships of a higher level of generalization are derived than the classical equations of Schrodinger. The new equations describe not only the movements of matter, but also the development of the totality of interconnections, signals, events, and processes. The special term introduced for such relationships is "equations of karma". [H: No, I am not going to break these things down for you—as we presented the subject of "light" and "thought projection" as in manifestation by/of God we have been brought into Federal Court on charges of plagiarism. I will not put my scribe into such a position ever again! It is ALL THE SAME THING BUT LAWYERS AND, MORE ESPECIALLY, JUDGES, DO NOT READ THE MATERIAL IN POINT NOR GIVE A DAMN ABOUT YOU OR "IT". SO YOU WILL SIMPLY HAVE TO HUNT AND PECK YOUR WAY THROUGH, GOOD FRIENDS. IF THIS BE "FOR YOU" IT WILL BE QUITE UNDERSTANDABLE. If not, then I fear you are on your own. Boris Iskakov is a friend of some of my now-on-Earth compatriots and I honor him but I will no more get him into a focal point of the adversary than I shall my scribe.] As for karma, it is understood to mean a broad philosophical category of universal inter-conditionality, causality, and dependence in combination with the principle of the unity and integrity of the Universe.

There are two equations of karma—the direct and the complex-conjugated:

$$\Omega\Psi=0; \Omega^\Psi^=0;$$

where the operators have the form:

$$\Omega=2\hbar^2\Delta + i2\hbar \partial/\partial t - \mathcal{G};$$

$$\Omega^*=2\hbar^2\Delta - i2\hbar \partial/\partial t - \mathcal{G}.$$

Here Ψ denotes the probability density wave (the wave function); Δ , the Laplace operator; \mathcal{G} , the potential energy density, and \hbar , Planck's constant.

These equations may be solved in the form of karma waves and anti-waves, with quantization of probability waves. Connected with them are perturbations of the information-energy field, i.e., wave signals. In principle, such signals may propagate faster than light.

The equations of karma make it possible to draw certain philosophical conclusions of fundamental significance. It follows from them that diffraction takes place not only in space but also in time. Any event is, so to speak, split in space-time. The propagation of a solitary signal is preceded by a series of pre-signals and followed by post-signals, both fading with distance. Perceptive analysts are able to use the first intimations of pre-signals to give a precise picture of a coming event. This is called scientific foresight. But there is also intuitive prevision. Centuries ago clairvoyants described events that are happening in our time.

Pre-signals provide an explanation of relative prosopopy—when a sensitive person learns about an event before others do. Such a person detects faint pre-signals that most people do not perceive.

For instance, an explosion on the Sun may produce solar prominences extending for millions of kilometers. Two or three days later the "solar wind" reaches the Earth, causing powerful geomagnetic storms that affect everything living. During such periods, disease and mortality rates increase in all countries.

This dependence of everything living upon solar catastrophes was proved several decades ago by Alexander Chizhevsky. Can we learn of the approaching "solar winds" in advance? It appears that we can. The solar wind has pre-signals: swift streams of solar photons and neutrinos, which reach the Earth in eight minutes. [H: It is right here that an explanation of Semjase to [Billy] Meier regarding the time to reach Earth from their originating system, can make any sense at all. She said it took 7 to 8 minutes to make the journey. This simply moves with the mathematical calculations of photon and neutrino speed of travel which from the sun in pre-signal reaches the earth in eight minutes. Pre-knowledge then can be incredibly functional and helpful, don't you see?] By detecting them it is possible to warn the medical services of all countries of an imminent geomagnetic storm two or three days in advance, ample time to take the necessary measures.

[H: Yes indeed, I hear the majority of you readers complaining about taking time for this kind of a deep and dreary as well as totally incomprehensible writing. However, YOU are not the party to whom this is DIRECTED, if you object. It is for the Dr. Youngs of the reading audience for they get their information the same way as do you if it be "general" in offering. They then know WHAT TO DO WITH IT! As long as this is my receiver/scribe and this paper is our communications conduit—along with the journals—we will from time to time reflect on these impressive subjects—for UFOs and CREATION do not JUST HAPPEN! Neither are they "mystical" phenomena—only mysterious until understood.]

From the theoretical standpoint the works of the eminent Russian researcher Anatoly Okhatrin are of definite interest. They confirm the idea of an ether or universal lepton gas, which contains full information about the material world. Clusters of the lightest particles—microleptons—carry people's thoughts and feelings; these microleptons are capable of travelling in space and time at tremendous speeds.

The speed of light is a limiting factor only for a continuous stream of speeds, the so-called continuum. However, greater speed levels, in excess of the speed of light, are possible for extremely weak signals.

Okhatrin's experiments and calculations show that people's thoughts are carried by the lightest microleptons. And the equations of karma prove that they can travel much faster than light. This justifies the conclusion that humanity's potential in getting to understand the Universe is practically boundless.

Up to now it was considered that our potential in the conquest of outer space is limited by what is known as the pessimistic radius of Poincaré-Einstein. If we multiply the speed of light by the human life span, we arrive at the limit that even the most sophisticated spaceships cannot surpass. No generation of spacemen can explore the Universe beyond that radius [it says].

But from the equations of karma it follows that at the level of extremely weak signals we can reach out far beyond the Poincaré-Einstein sphere. Material thought can travel to distant regions of the Universe at a speed greater than that of light. Man can obtain information about what is happening at any distance from him. This is a fundamental philosophical conclusion that allows humanity to look to the future with optimism.

I arrived at this conclusion by considering the equations of karma. But then, many scientists before me have reflected on the synthesis of science and religion, among them the founders of quantum physics. What are termed the conjugated equations of Schrodinger and Dirac point to the possibility of the existence of anti-particles. Similarly, the conjugated equation of karma suggests that there can be anti-signals as well as anti-particles. Moreover, this equation makes it possible to describe the spectrum of properties that these anti-signals possess. While ordinary signals travel along the river of time from the past via the present into the future, anti-signals travel in the opposite direction. They originate in the future and pass through the present into the past. This property of anti-signals stuns our imagination: certain particularly sensitive people and instruments can, it turns out, receive signals from the future. [H: Paying attention, Dr. Sagan?]

Provisions, predictions, and prophecies come under the scientific heading of absolute prosopopy, which implies the acquisition of information about events that have not yet taken place. They have yet to occur, but sensitives already know about them.

The problem is merely one of the threshold of sensitivity and the balance of signals and noise. Anti-signals come from the future at a faint and very faint level. Very few people can detect them.

There is no violation here of the principle of causality. Rather, its interpretation becomes more sophisticated and more refined dialectically. According to the equations of karma, time in the microworld can reverse its direction, turning, as it were, into "anti time". From a single point it is possible to see both the past and the future of microparticles at the same time.

We can receive information about the future only at the probability level. Only the strategic parameters of a human fate are predetermined. But freedom of choice too is preserved: a person is free to take any decisions and bears full responsibility for them. A person shapes his or her destiny and pays for the consequences of those decisions. Thus, there is a predetermined part of the future, which a person cannot change, and there is a probable or variable part, for which he is responsible.

Solving stationary equations can yield curious results. Waves emitted and absorbed by hundreds of biologically active points are superimposed on one another and form a series of standing waves, which surround the human body. The body turns out to be nothing more than a dense nucleus shrouded on all sides by a number of energy-information holograms. The shape of the first hologram follows that of the human body, but is enlarged and rounded, remotely resembling a spacesuit. Actually, this hologram contains all the information about the body and is carried by microleptons orbiting along the quantum shell, the boundary of the first hologram. The second hologram and its shell are larger and carry weakened information, which is more difficult to decipher. The same may be said of the third and subsequent shells. The more remote shells are more rounded in shape, changing from a spacesuit to an egg and then to a sphere. Our atomic-molecular body is "clad" in microlepton holograms, each of which carries complete but weakened information about the person, including his or her innermost thoughts and feelings, his or her mind and conscience. It may be said that the sum-total of these holograms is nothing short of a person's lepton soul.

Ordinarily, people do not see the energy-information shells that surround them. But in certain conditions it is possible to make the first hologram glow, especially the part of it surrounding a person's head. The fact is that upper chakras, the most power-intensive, operate at the highest frequencies. Some people have a first quantum shell that can become visible.

Estimates show that the energy of the first shell amounts to fractions of an electron-volt. This is quite enough for a faint glow in the optical range of the spectrum. But for the glow to become a reality a great deal of energy has to be pumped into the upper chakras. This means a person has to adopt a definite mode of life: overcome base passions, and make his or her thoughts, feelings, and deeds pure, lofty and inspired. It is in that case that the energy of the upper chakras causes the excitation of the first shell by fractions of an electron-volt, and a halo visible to other people appears around the head of such a person (for example, a saint).

In Christian art, only part of the hologram around the head is usually portrayed as glowing. But in Buddhist temples, there are pictures showing the whole spacesuit-shaped hologram aglow.

The most ancient Buddhist manuscripts speak of a person's seven bodies: one dense and six subtle. The first hologram is called the ethereal body; the second, the astral body; the third, the mental body, and so forth. The lepton hypothesis allows a larger number of holograms.

Judging from the equations of karma, we humans are infinitely "larger" and our lives are infinitely longer than we are accustomed to think. This means that each person is a factor of Cosmic significance.

Moreover, analysis reveals that inanimate objects as well as Homo Sapiens and other living beings have holograms of this kind. [H: Our ships have such halos of light around them and this is one of the marks of such craft—the "aura" or "light" and the vapor essence surrounding us in the sky as visualized in the daylight hours. We can easily turn-off the visual realization as we can manipulate the "energy field" but this is WHY these phenomena occur. Facts are, everything has an aura and field—some however, are so dense that they are actually sucked within the being itself and the density itself becomes a huge vacuum of energy. These persons with such energy fields will literally suck dry a person of lighted aura, so to speak. It is as with a refrigerator where you have the heat-cold exchange. It is physics explained but with light—hard to comprehend.]

Consider the implications of this. If each body is present, at the information level, throughout the Cosmos, then in every small

While ordinary signals travel along the river of time from the past via the present into the future, anti-signals travel in the opposite direction. They originate in the future and pass through the present into the past. This property of anti-signals stuns our imagination: certain particularly sensitive people and instruments can, it turns out, receive signals from the future.

region of space-time there must be, if only super-weak, information about the entire Universe. [H: Remember that we also recognized "strong" and "weak" as valid scientific terms.]

Gautama Buddha's famous dictum states "everything is in everything" and, hence, "everything is in the small." In an expanded form this may be taken to mean that every point of space-time "knows" everything about all the other points.

But if every zone of space "knows" everything, it is a most complete encyclopaedia, in infinite storage of knowledge about the Universe. All that is needed is to learn how to plug into this source of information, which can tell a person about anything and everything in the world.

It follows from the lepton hypothesis that the soul is real and material. A human being, in the customary sense of the term, is nothing but a dense nucleus around which streams of leptons circulate. The totality of lepton shells is a cold bioplasma, which contains complete information about the nucleus. Thus, it can be termed a person's lepton soul. This notion has a quite precise materialistic content.

According to the lepton concept, thoughts and feelings are material. They are carried by superweak pulses of electromagnetic and microlepton fields. Visual, audible, and other images, and all thoughts and feelings, exist in the form of clusters of superlight elementary particles. This brings to mind Plato's inspired guess that all eidoses, i.e., ideas or thoughts, exist autonomously, "float in the air" and recognize no boundaries. [H: This is a FACT and, as with Russell's work on LIGHT—so too were the facts as given to him also given in every direction to all receivers.]

Plato intuitively arrived at that conclusion over two thousand years ago. [H: Too bad he had such a warped factual knowledge of philosophy.] Today we can put this into the language of mathematical formulae. We can measure the mass of a single human thought. Its weight varies from 10^{-30} to 10^{-40} g. To be sure, the opinion of sensitives and Okhatrin's experiments cannot serve as proof. Similar investigations have to be carried out at other laboratories. This will furnish the statistical data for reliable conclusions. If they confirm Okhatrin's findings, he will become the author of the greatest discovery of the latter half of the 20th century.

Thoughts and feelings generated by human beings begin their independent existence in space and time. Both theory and experiments show that these eidoses are capable of exchanging information. What is most important of all is that one person's thoughts can occur to other people. Eidoses are like small living beings, but at the lepton level of matter. Thoughts and feelings are our offspring, who communicate with one another and with us in a language of super-weak signals.

Estimates show that during a lifetime a person generates millions and even billions of eidoses. This makes it clear that we bear an enormous responsibility before the whole of humankind and before ourselves for what our offspring, i.e., our thoughts and feelings, will be like.

When our offspring are noble eidoses of kindness, love, mercy, mutual assistance, truth, beauty, and harmony, we contribute to the health of humanity's leptonosphere. But when we beget malformed eidoses, i.e., evil, envious, cowardly, vain, and arrogant thoughts and feelings, we thereby pollute the leptonosphere we inhabit. Should the negative eidoses exceed a certain critical mass, humankind will be doomed. At present our survival depends to a great extent on the ecology of the spirit.

Thoughts and feelings are our offspring, who communicate with one another and with us in a language of super-weak signals....When our offspring are noble eidoses of kindness, love, mercy, mutual assistance, truth, beauty, and harmony, we contribute to the health of humanity's leptonosphere. But when we beget malformed eidoses, i.e., evil, envious, cowardly, vain, and arrogant thoughts and feelings, we thereby pollute the leptonosphere we inhabit.

Here we also come up against a legal problem. Mere criminal intent is not yet a crime at the atomic-molecular level, but when a person conceives, say, a murder, he or she spawns criminal eidoses, which contaminate humankind's leptonosphere.

That is why when someone steers a nation or country onto a road leading to disaster, that person commits the gravest offence above all against the whole of humanity. Although economic and political catastrophe is still many years off, it has already taken place at the lepton level, in the public mind. The collapse of a vast State can contaminate humanity's leptonosphere to such a degree that humanity's very existence becomes threatened. And no clan, no state, nor coalition that conceived such a crime against other nations can survive.

The lepton hypothesis can provide a scientific explanation of the essence of God. When congregations gather in their temples, they create eidoses of prayer, which assemble into a collective egregor-eidos of a deity. When millions of people worship it, the material deity eidosis acquires tremendous energy at the lepton level of matter. There arises feedback: a believer not only supplies the deity with energy, but receives genuine assistance from it upon supplication. There exist eidoses of Christ, Buddha, and Allah, and they actually interact with their worshippers when the latter tune into the proper frequencies. This is something like a deposit in a savings bank—it helps the client at a time of need. The microlepton "savings bank" is not responsible for other banks' clients: there is no resonance correspondence between them. Alien gods hold no power over a flock—only their own God has such powers. [H: So, it REALLY DOES mean serious attention to having the "correct" GOD, doesn't it?]

Gods, thus, actually exist at the lepton level of matter. In fact, the world religions describe different aspects of one and the same Supreme Rational Being. All the people of the Earth worship a single God, but in His multiple manifestations.

After the death of a person's atomic-molecular nucleus, his or her lepton holograms may take different courses. Some of them may likewise disintegrate. But this happens only to the holograms that are made up of the heavier microleptons. Estimates show that the relatively heavy holograms have a natural half-life of seven to nine days; their ninety-nine percent decay takes about forty days.

Thus, the meaning of the funeral repast on the 9th and the 40th day (in accordance with the Orthodox faith) is that the living emit eidoses that recharge the dead person's soul with energy and information to help it undergo the necessary changes in the lepton world. Thanks to these rites, relatively heavy lepton holograms can survive much longer. A reliable supply of living people's thoughts and feelings can extend the life span of the heavy fractions of a dead person's soul from forty days to several millennia. As long as a person is remembered and his or her days of birth and death are observed, that person's soul is preserved almost intact, just as it was when the person was alive. One can communicate with it by means of special techniques known to mystics.

The soul also has medium and light fractions. We cannot yet verify this experimentally, but there is reason to think that their half-lives and total decay periods are much longer than those of the heavy fractions. It is even quite possible that the lightest fractions live eternally—the soul is immortal according to all the world religions. So far science cannot confirm or deny this in strict terms. This problem remains unsolved and requires an experimental solution.

[END OF QUOTING]

The next most logical question might well be, "Isn't there any way to measure this lepton energy or aura? Yes indeed and again the only ALLOWED presentation comes silently from Russia. There are two scientists—the engineer and inventor Uri Kravchenko and the physician Nikolai Kalashchenko—who have developed an original instrument: the phase aurometer. This is a highly sensitive instrument for the remote measurement of the electromagnetic radiation of any object, biological included. The instrument and the method are protected by a Certificate of Authorship issued in 1990. This is an easy-to-prove concept and because of this implication I will not introduce much about it other than generalities about which much has been shared. This is something which Dr. Young has already devised though he doesn't recognize it as this and I would think would remind our own "tinkerers" that this is nothing more than a measuring device or a production device for electromagnetic fields MEASURED IN HERTZ.

The particular phase aurometer in point is only for measurement or recording a "patient's" own radiation by a contact-free method and has no impact whatever on the environment. BUT, LISTEN UP: THE APPLICATIONS OF THE PHASE AUROMETER CAN BE CONSIDERABLY EXPANDED FURTHER INTO, FOR EXAMPLE, DOWSING, TESTING FOLK HEALERS AND SENSITIVES AND SUCH SEEMINGLY DISTANT FIELDS AS AGRICULTURAL SELECTION OR CONSTRUCTION AND PERFORMANCE SUPER-VISION.

I am not going to publish this information in general format as above. However, I do ask that several of the attached "tinkerers" be supplied with the documentation. We need to introduce frequency upgrading into seed for crops, etc. This is easily done but someone has to do it and I cannot spend time educating those at random distance. So, please make sure that Dr. Young, Dr. Hoffman, Dr. James and Dr. Trelle are made privy to the document in point. Thank you. It will seem quite primitive to you ones—but sometimes simplicity is where we must RE-begin in order to conceptually change directions. I salute you for your patience.

EARTHQUAKES

I have no NEW comments to make on earthquake activity and I doubt that Soltec does. Those PACIFIC Plates are deadly, friends, and they are MOVING! I hesitate to remind you but yesterday's massively powerful quake which is touted to be the South American-Pacific Plate running into the Nazca Plate is amusing if not downright deceptive. All those plates are integral to one another as to be like a finely meshed gear mechanism—YOU CAN NOT HAVE ACTION ON ONE WITHOUT ACTION ON ALL. HOW MUCH ACTION IS THE ONLY CONSIDERATION. And, furthermore, moving on up to the north from South America (Peru-Bolivia) to the Colombia disaster is right on track. You had better LISTEN to your geologists about the San Andreas and Hayward Faults as today those are THE two most unstable—and the activities from that area are destined to rumble right on up through Mt.

Rainier who is already GROWLING. Southern California is already so unstable as to be a catch-as-catch-can. The Elite have told you they intend to bump off one of those areas between the 6th and 11th of June (NOW). What is left to be said? In watching the maneuvers of troops of foreign origin flooding over into the U.S., as we write, and moving into the areas along the Mississippi—I would REALLY watch the New Madrid line. If you had a quake in Peru last night which was reflected all the way into Canada (which you did), there will be nothing to triggering the New Madrid from Gulf to Canada. When a nation can be deliberately "captured" by use of "natural" disasters—all the better.

Along these lines, I remind the politicians playing games with ME that my patience is RUNNING THIN. I expect your commitments to be met BEFORE you further inconvenience me and my own crew. You seem to keep considering it annoying to YOU—well, it IS going to get more and more annoying TO YOU! Thank you, surveillance team, for forwarding this information immediately. I want my teammates RELEASED and allowed to get their business completed so that we can quietly go about our business. Your compromises and negotiations with people is your business—I AM TIRED OF NEGOTIATING AND WILL NOT COMPROMISE—so, it behooves the ones in charge to get with this program and MEET THE AGREEMENTS OF THE PRIOR NEGOTIATIONS. I TRULY CANNOT BELIEVE YOU DESIRE A CONFRONTATION OF THE KIND WITH WHICH YOU KEEP TINKERING! You have had enough "time" so today is a very good day to get on with our interchange and transfers. There is shortly going to be more "chicken poop" scattered around than little Zacky Farms indiscretions with Clintonistas. Perhaps Chicken C.O.U.P.E.S. HAD BETTER HEED MY WARNING?

I also suggest that the group in Chicago, around the Rockefeller property, mind your manners and business as well. I would also like that information couriered, please. My attention is NOT "the world"—I suggest you not make it my attention. We are EVERYWHERE you look in the heavens—I suggest all you nice agents take a good look EVERY NIGHT! Furthermore—IF you do not want an "underground" uprising, I suggest you keep your promises to me because, when push comes to shove—those nice aliens you have underground WILL BE ON MY TEAM!! Now, isn't this getting to be a whole lot of FUN? The solution to the "Elite" problem is quite easy and quite quickly resolved—but I can promise you that promises will be kept OR information is going to pour forth through every pore and crevasse (that means from tiny openings to massive openings—your choice!).

How To Make A Point: Picketing "Ms." Reno

Editor's note: We share the following Press Release with you because it makes a very powerful point about the matter of getting out there and DOING something as opposed to sitting and griping about how bad things are. Can you imagine how steamed "Ms." Reno must have been over this flop in her parade of pageantry.

PRESS RELEASE:
FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLICATION

June 7, 1994

Page 11-A of this morning's San Antonio Express News provided the itinerary of "ACTING" Attorney General Janet Reno during her visit to San Antonio for a speech to the United States Federal Judges' Conference. At 10:45 a.m. she was to visit a former "crackhouse" being converted to civic usefulness at 126 Anderson St. From there she would proceed to the Springview Softball Field which the San Antonio Police Department has sponsored for the neighborhood kids. She was then scheduled to walk three blocks through the housing project to the Community Center where neighborhood children had planted a vegetable garden. WOAI news reporter, Jim Forsythe, kept pushing Reno to confirm the report that she had approved quadrupling of the Branch Davidian sentences next week for their use of automatic weapons, and finally she acknowledged that she had.

Janet Reno has accepted responsibility for FBI actions at Mt. Carmel, Texas which resulted in the murder of eighty-one persons, yet after one year she has authorized neither an investigation nor prosecution of the murders. Sons of Liberty in San Antonio could not permit today's effort to display this evil woman as a kind and caring federal official who works to stamp out crime without exposing her wickedness, incompetence and irresponsibility.

Although there was no time to prepare a major demonstration, a few signs were hastily prepared which read "REMEMBER WACO" and "ABORTION AND J. RENO KILL LITTLE CHILDREN" and "PROSECUTE RENO FOR WACO CRIMES".

The first picketer to arrive at the "crackhouse" single-handedly diverted Reno's tour to by-pass it, according to the reporters who were there. Four Sons of Liberty followed the Press and TV caravan to the softball field for Reno's second scheduled public appearance. Sixteen uniformed S.A.P.D. officers arrived soon after the picketers along with an entourage of FBI agents and U.S. Marshals disguised as respectable businessman. When Reno arrived with San Antonio's Mayor Nelson Wolfe she was directly confronted with the signs and continuous chants of "child-killer". She proceeded to the softball field and attempted to bask in the reflected glory of the S.A.P.D.'s excellent project for the youth of that crime-infested neighborhood.

Since no interview could be conducted without "child-killer" chants in the background, Reno decided to forego the walk to the Barbara Jordan Cultural Center where the garden is located. To her dismay, there was no place to hide at Jordan Center either, as the children's garden had been planted inside a fence right at the edge of the sidewalk. The Sons of Liberty grew to the incredible size of five persons at this point. Chanting continued there along with challenges to Mayor Wolfe to stop kowtowing to the Federal Government, and encouragement called to the entourage to disassociate themselves with this child killer.

Throughout the day reports of the picket dominated local radio news coverage on stations WOAI and KTSA. Each sound bite with Reno was punctuated with "child-killer" in the background.

In a related matter, Hillary Clinton is scheduled to be in town on Saturday, June 11th for the American Nurses Association at 4:00 p.m. at S.A.'s Hemisfair Arena. Sons of Liberty take note!

"Good men promise little and perform much; wicked men promise much and perform nothing."

NASA "Blue Beam" Project.

[H: I don't believe I care to add more to this at this time. It seems to give you the overall "Idea", well presented and WELL-PUBLISHED by SEVERAL sources so we don't need to concern about one or two more getting egg on the Committee's faces.]

[Preamble: In a banned Journal (PHOENIX) published in 1991, Sananda (Esu Immanuel Jesus) tells of a SIMULATED SECOND COMING OF CHRIST, supposed to have taken place by year 1985, "The script, as they have written it, if successfully staged could deceive the very elect, BEWARE!" Holographic imagery will be used in a simulation of "the ending" in which, says Sananda, "You are given scenes which cause collective thought which focuses on fulfillment of that which is desired for you to project—to fit the needs of those adversary happenings." The result of this deliberately staged FALSE CHRIST will be for the implementation of a new Universal Religion. "Enough truth will be foisted off on us to hook us into the lie. They project one statement and bear definition of an entirely different intent."

[H: By the way, readers, FROM WHO AND FROM WHERE do you think got entered into the "teachings" of a RAPTURE AND WHISK-AWAY? Ah Ha, now it gets serious, does it not? Better be on guard, my friends, for coming out of the "Montauk" projects is the ability to take up a whole bunch of people as in a "rapture" type of situation and whisk the whole bunch into never-never-land. Just like a whole bunch of people got whisked away into time-space warp "forever and ever—"]

"It is truly enough to break the heart for portions of the projection are worthy of changing the entire planet into oneness with God. But you must remember—there is not intent of God in relationship to Man—but the premise that Man shall somehow become God in human form and control other Men and dictate all actions and thoughts." [H: Ummm-hummmnn!]

The calculated resistance to the new Religion, the new Order and the new "Messiah" will be human loss on a massive scale in the ensuing "Holy Wars".

Mr. Monast fills in some details:

S.M.: The "Blue Beam" Project will pretend to be the universal fulfillment of the prophecies of old; as major an event as that which took place 2000 years ago. In principle, it will make use of the sky as a movie screen as spaced-based laser-generating satellites project simultaneous images to the four corners of the planet, in every language, in every dialect according to region...it deals with the religious aspect of the NWO and is a large scale seduction. [H: Better keep your eyes firmly planted on Billy Graham when he does his cute little crusade "to the four corners of the world" through technology hookup and projection by satellite—ALREADY PLANNED AND ADVERTISED AS HAP-PENING FROM A BASE IN PUERTO RICO! Indeed, he told all about it on the Larry King Live show a couple of months back—right after he RETURNED FROM KOREA ON HIS "DIPLOMATIC TOUR". Billy tells the world that after these "big projections" so that the "word" in show-and-tell is scattered to the four corners (according to prophecy)—"THE END WILL COME!" Now, people, I suggest you check on it—for I think I recall something being mentioned about Spring of 1995 or possibly even this year, 1994. I think it will come off next Early Summer! Better check out the members of the Committee(s), also, and see who you might find aboard the roster! The "system" has already been tested and holographic projections of the "Christ image" have already been massively seen over deserts, in sand-storms, dust, mist—you name it and the vision reports, of all sorts, are pouring back from everywhere. These, of course, only show up in the "Tabloids" so are instantly discounted. "THEY" are just setting you up. By the way, they can also project craft, aliens, monsters, angels—you name it....]

Computers will coordinate the satellites and software will run the show-and-tell. [Holography is based on very nearly identical signals combining to produce an image, or hologram, with depth perception, which is equally applicable to acoustic (ELF, VLF, LF waves) AS IT IS TO OPTICAL PHENOMENA]. Advanced technology was ready in the early '80s—the event planned for 1983. This means the NWO would have been implemented shortly after the appearance of "The Christ". But something went wrong... [H: Oh really? I wonder what?] Specifically, the show will consist of laser projections of multiple holographic images to different parts of the world, each receiving different images according to predominating regional/national religious faith. Not a single area will be excluded.

With computer animation and sound effects appearing to come from the depths of space, astonished followers of the various creeds will witness their own returned Messiah in spectacularly convincing lifelike realness [H: Well, a whole lot BIGGER than life.] Then, the projections of "The Christ, of Mohammed, Buddha, Krishna, etc., will merge into one, after correct explanation of the mysteries, prophecies, and revelations will have been disclosed. THIS ONE GOD WILL IN FACT BE THE ANTI-CHRIST, who will explain that the various scriptures have been misunderstood; that the religions of old are responsible for turning brother against brother, nation against nation; therefore the world's religions must be abolished to make way for the Golden Age (New Age) of the ONE WORLD RELIGION, representing the one god (Anti-Christ in this instance) they see before them.

Naturally, this superbly staged, full-scale falsification will result in social/religious disorder on a grand scale, including millions of programmed religious fanatics. [H: And where do you think such as Falwell, Robertson and the other avowed ZIONISTS will be? Where do you think all those massively scattered TBN transmitters and receivers will be that day—along with the GREAT PRETENDERS who carry forth this very day?] Many scenarios are possible, including a Holy War in the Middle East. In addition, this event will occur at a time of great political anarchy and general tumult—at the edge of something big. The U.N. even now plans to use the Beethoven Song of Joy as the official anthem for the NWO.

11. Is this the only reason the Vatican is attempting to suppress you?

S.M.: No. Let me explain. We have been given the accepted scenario involving established prophecies, Armageddon, the Anti-Christ and so on. What the world does not know, and is not given to know, is that other UNKNOWN prophecies exist that very accurately chart the course of human history to the present day and beyond and in which is SHOWN THE DOWNFALL OF THE ANTI-CHRIST!

These documents, or copies of them, are housed in the Vatican Archives, to be sure, but they are also scattered elsewhere. I am reluctant to say more. [H: I'm not, but I won't—AT THIS TIME.] Ones are known to possess this information. Needless to say, it could dramatically alter the course of our present civilization. [H: But not unless you WAKE UP!]

12. Have you had access to these documents in truth?

S.M.: Yes.

13. You are saying that something else, besides what we are given to know by the controlled media, exists that is more magnificently greater and which has yet to surface?

S.M.: Yes, precisely. And the church KNOWS. What is more, these prophecies have come down to us from the French lineage, from France, and are extant in Quebec [Quebec is the only surviving remnant of original European ancestry in North America]. [H: Be very careful with this one for it is not QUITE right, readers—at least-wise, not as this seems to be presented here. The truth is abundant in the old Sumerian seals and tablets but "France" doesn't have much of anything to do with it. There are other scrolls, etc., also—but do not depend on those you call the Dead Sea bunch of nonsense now loosed upon you. Remember that the Israelis have control of "those" and that was the END OF TRUTH.]

14. Extraordinary! So there is known prophecy, and there is secret prophecy?

S.M.: That's right. The present U.N. maneuver in Quebec not only is strategic but is also for religious/spiritual reasons. It is foretold in these prophecies of which we speak that the Anti-Christ [the leading figurehead of the Khazarian Satanist cabal] will come to Quebec in order to seek and destroy this source. Does this explain the U.N. foothold in this strategic part of the world we are witness to?

15. Amazing! In essence, you have insight into God's Plan.

S.M.: Yes, but I am not God...[laughter].

[H: Now we will return to the beginning of the interview and fill in the missing numbers:]

1. Would you have an update for us regarding the massive foreign military incursion into Quebec Province from adjacent north-eastern United States, as witnessed in recent weeks?

S.M.: Yes, as a matter of fact I am preparing a full-scale investigative report for CONTACT on all current United Nations installations throughout Canada. This will be of special interest to our American brethren, as such developments here tend as a rule to precede their introduction in the U.S.

2. There have been reports in the local media of alleged premeditated "terrorist" acts, coincident with these military maneuvers. Is there a connection between these seemingly unrelated events?

S.M.: Definitely there is a link. The police account of the several hydro-electric tower explosions point to three weeks ago. The troop and tactical air support also began three weeks ago. The events could not have been unrelated. The explosions served as cover for accidental discovery of the incoming troops. The terrorist element also serves as psychological preparation of things to come.

3. What kind of troops?

S.M.: Black-garbed, FEMA troops were confirmed heading for the St. Hubert [Montreal] and Val Cartier [Quebec City] bases. In his book, Bordering on Aggression, author Floyd Rudmin speaks of "rapid reaction assault forces" training at Fort Drum [in upstate New York] who specialize in house-to-house urban attacks, winter warfare and night combat! Moreover, the U.S. troops presently training at a little-known army base in northern Maine [adjacent to the New Brunswick border] were formerly used for social disorder and torture in Central and South America!

4. Were you aware that in 1987 Fort Drum in New York was allotted in excess of one billion dollars?

S.M.: Yes, and at a time of widespread budget cutting!

5. U.S. military strategists in the '60s, and more recently the BROOKINGS INSTITUTE, have long been "predicting" the break-up of Canada. Now, thanks to your research, there is evidence of covert design, if not outright preparation, for such a scenario. [H: Remember: the Ekkers and the Phoenix Institute are not up against a little nothing like University of Science and Philosophy for sharing the scientific material of one, Walter Russell, but are the target of the Brookings Institute which is the leader institute branch of Tavistock (MIND-CONTROL) Institute and MI-6. What a tangled web?? Don't we think it about time to back off—it must be evident to EVERYONE that the Ekkers don't really have anything to do with anything—especially plagiarizing information! Mr. Green may well have a LOT to do with the ongoing situation but not the Ekkers! The grand plan was ok in the upstart—but it certainly LOOKS QUITE FOOLISH the longer it goes

Not a single area will be excluded. With computer animation and sound effects appearing to come from the depths of space, astonished followers of the various creeds will witness their own returned Messiah in spectacularly convincing lifelike realness....The U.N. even now plans to use the Beethoven Song of JOY as the official anthem for the NWO.

6. In your latest book, The United Nations Concentration Camps Program in America—Book 1 (of four), available April 15th, we are wondering if you mention the fate of a number of U.S. military base "closures" rumored to have been overtaken by—or willingly given over to—the United Nations? Commander Hatonn is on record as stating that many have been converted into civilian incarceration facilities for patriots and other "troublemakers", once martial law is imposed under Executive Orders. Is this correct?

S.M.: Yes to both parts. Quite correct. You will note that clues are important. For instance, if we look at the Cornwallis [Nova Scotia] base closure for a moment: First the Canadian government announces Draconian budget cuts and states it will have to shut down bases throughout the country, including Cornwallis. Out of the blue, three days later, the media announces it will be turned over to the U.N. Why is it not mentioned? Still 2-3 days later our government declares it will GIFT five million dollars to the U.N. in federal assistance; plus one million a year to this base alone. "Budget cuts"?! Something is wrong here!

7. Can you identify the source of the accompanying United Nations advertisement, as appalling and blatantly insulting as it is to the American populace?

S.M.: Yes. This was sent to me from a journalist in Kansas, at a time when the Soviets were training in that State. [H: We only have the very bad copy attached for this reference. Please print anyway.]

[END OF QUOTING; END OF INTERVIEW]

Now, surveillance agents: I suggest you get on with distribution of this information to the proper authorities. We are playing by our agreements and we can see and know your every change of plans: IT IS NOT NICE TO TRY TO FOOL "MOTHER NATURE". I want my people released and YOU KNOW WHO THEY ARE—I WOULDN'T THINK YOU WOULD LIKE ME TO START NAMING THEM??

When you strategize to walk a crooked road and double-cross the very hand that feeds you—it is unwise. That road will circle right back to your "coyote" backsides where the "roadrunner" will nip you smartly. Thank you for your pleasant and agreeable service. Salu.

Excerpts From A Conversation With Ronn Jackson On Project Blue Beam

6/10/94 RICK MARTIN

Ronn: [Mentioning] Blue Beam is going to bother some people, but it's not going to bother me in the least. It doesn't make any difference to me—it is NASA. What is it you're running?

Rick: Well, the information we got briefly outlines what the project is.

Ronn: What does it say it is?

Rick: Basically, a massive holographic display globally using the sky as a motion picture screen, using satellites and holographic images.

Ronn: Well, the satellites started being put in place in 1978. So they have been there. They are required. There are a number of satellites involved with it, so not only is it a NASA project but it's sanctioned by other organizations. It goes into a little more detail besides holographic images.

Rick: The detail that was described concerns all global religions, including a narrative explaining the prophecies and that man has misinterpreted religion.

Ronn: Well, just remember one thing—this is and was being initiated by NASA. But it's a funded project of this country and a couple of other countries.

Rick: The way it was described has to do with One World Order Religion—the bringing in of the One World Order Religion through a re-education process by these holographic images and sounds, using the sky as the screen.

Ronn: Well, you know there are a number of the religious leaders who feel jeopardized by this. For example, Oral Roberts, Jerry Falwell, those organizations and that's one of the reasons they are pushing...and they don't know the entire concept. Blue Beam...they do know that as individuals their little domain is about to be infringed upon. It was originally scheduled for January of this year but it had to be put off because of some of the imaging.

Rick: What other countries are involved, other than the U.S.?

Ronn: Central Europe, Japan and then they were trying to get a point that is geographically the center of the Soviet Union but you have to remember they have a little problem because of the Earth being round. They are going to have to do the same thing in the Southern Hemisphere. So they're having a little logistical problem. And another problem is because of the languages involved and so on. It's quite involved.

Rick: Quite a technical project.

Ronn: The last number I heard that was involved with the satellites, the minimum required was like two-hundred-thirty-two, I believe something in that order and they were having a little problem because of that. So the time frame, I know, was moved up but I'm not sure how much. I believe it is supposed to be less than a year, so I can't be more specific than that.

Can you find the European troops in this picture?

Of course not! Half of this team are troops from the E.E.C. (European Economic Community) assigned to enforce the New World Order in America. Help us destroy those who think that the U.S. Constitution and Bill of rights are above the United Nations Charter. Help us to abolish the American fire arms owners and those that would call themselves patriots.

FOREWORD

SHARKS HAVE NO BONES

How many of you realize that sharks HAVE NO BONES? NOT ONE! How many of you know there is a reddish worm that lives deep under the surface of the seas that ranges up to 25 feet long, ingests its food, but has no organs that correspond to a mouth or intestines? These creatures are nourished by bacteria that live inside their cells. further, they have an entire phylum of their own. How many of you know what the word "phylum" means? Well, it simply means "a major division of the plant or animal kingdom". How many of you realize that there are almost as many creatures with exoskeletons as endoskeletons? Back to "phylum": How many of you know what "phyla" is your own category? Are you a chordate or a subphylum vertebrate? Do you give a damn?

With all the wondrous things about you that you do not know—why can you not function without having to know if Pleiadians have sex like humans or no sex at all. Can you not find important things upon which to dwell and expand your minds? No? Then what hope is there for your world?

BUT SHARKS DO HAVE TEETH!

Since this is the third book of the "HEAVE" series and will represent "Phase III", let's consider things briefly. This will be called, of course, HEAVE 'EM OUT. However, since this volume will split at least three ongoing subjects we will have to continue the volume numbering somehow for identification purposes. How about "Vol. III, Part I"? This will allow us as many "parts" as necessary—but I especially want the connections made for 'good old Kissinger' as well as some ongoing discussion regarding the Russian, Zhirinovsky. The CONSTITUTION-FEDERALIST PAPERS [not presented yet in CONTACT] will be so ongoing that we will ultimately set an entire volume or two in separation with "just" that information. Our purpose is to offer variety as with any good journalized magazine so we thank you readers for bearing along with us.

We do not claim to be publishers, knowledgeable or even very good at format or how to handle content. If we were better informed personally (as we thought George Green as publisher, was) we would not have handled any of our early documents as we did. It still strikes me as interesting that no-one claims as plagiarism an article of news, true, etc., in the New York Times which may well have run somewhere else, say, the London Times. This is not considered plagiarism (especially when credit is given to original sources) and is not the original publication conduit. But we run the smallest thing a scientist says, proclaiming that to be truth and suddenly "ALL" our work is somehow plagiarized.

Well, we are a newspaper and news magazine; I don't know how else to run the "news"! I do note that to be a human doing anything—you have to be prepared for every heinous attack there is and, furthermore, be prepared to LOSE EVERYTHING UNDER THE POINT OF A GUN AND THE LEGAL CABAL. Funny thing—I believe that even the National Enquirer can run anything about anyone, no matter how poor is the taste, and if it is truth—it is considered "journalism". Worse, it and other tabloids can print outright lies and still it is considered journalism if "source" is offered as "being told".

FACTS IS FACTS

Readers, I hereby go on record as telling you that there are "aliens" among you, under the ground, around you, and working with some of the elders of the very Government you serve. Whose side are "they" on? Well, it depends on which side YOU are on as to whom you consider a friend or enemy. I hope you will read right through this journal—or go to the last portion about the "Blue Beam" project [see p. 12]—and see if my writings seem quite so false and amusing to you. It is YOUR CHARACTERS WHO PLAN THESE CUTE GAMES AT YOUR EXPENSE AND HAVE BEEN FOR YEARS—I ONLY TELL YOU ABOUT THEM.

Here is why the heading above regarding shark's teeth. It is remarkable that sharks do not have bones—that is scientifically proven—BUT THEY CERTAINLY DO HAVE "TEETH" AND THAT, TOO, IS SCIENTIFICALLY PROVEN. Well, good friends, you can bet the sharks out there among you who want to enslave you—will use those teeth every chance—every chance!

NEWS ITEMS ABOUT "US"

Since the nit-wit write-up in a Las Vegas ad-sheet, I am asked about it and if it hurts my feelings? Feelings? I find it pathetic and some things even more interesting than others. Here is THE state with guardianship laws for men and businesses and the people doing that paper in point, out of Las Vegas—knew nothing about the laws they listen to George Green BLAST. Why would this Mr. Cohen go speak to Cort Christie about incorporation in Nevada? Because he, even working IN NEVADA—had no idea there were coverages and protections under their laws. He went to find out about it—because his very own business is incorporated in Arizona.

Further, I enjoy the way he quotes George Green as telling the world that the Phoenix Institute and Ekkers are just working a Pyramid-Ponzi scam. (???) Mr. Green established the very plan and got all the money up front and then took off—to cover his assets in Nevada (which now he also knocks) along with gold coins he took from the Institute. He was an Officer AND a Director. Would this not seem to absolutely incriminate him as to INTENT, if nothing more?

No one here claims to have known anything about either publishing or running a ponzi scheme of some kind. That may not be an admission of super-intelligence but, as a publisher—I note that he even lied about copyrights! He had a good argument, I suppose, in blaming me for everything, except that he still has the books under such label all stashed away AND also refuses to honor his "note" with the Institute. If others who owe the Institute fail to pay their notes and obligations—is that not like a bank? How can any business honor one set of notes above those of another? The point was to have business to meet obligations. ALL limited requests for obligations could easily be met if Mr. Green would simply pay his own note and return the gold taken and buried in his back yard for safe hiding!

Perhaps the most amusing accusation is that of shouting about the Institute using money to defend itself—legally. Well, someone tell me how a corporation can NOT do same??? If it were YOUR funds in jeopardy—wouldn't YOU want your interests served? Mr. Green even told one party he planned to get her money out (some way) and then use it against her to pay his legal bills! Is this honor? Now that we have been offered both legal reference and over $2 million in a loan to defend ourselves—that too is pounced on like choice blood-feast. That money will come from one we all know, but that "side" seems to say does not exist: Ronn Jackson. It is his money and I would think he could support anyone or anything he wishes. In exchange, the paper will basically be turned over to him for his further informing the public of ongoing operations in your enemy Government and help organize some unification of outlying players. There is no intent of fighting, unlawful behavior or anything of the kind—just simple truth and information flow. Further, THAT loan will be covered by "gold" waiting a rise in pricing. Which is now SCHEDULED to be set at $1,200 to $2,000 per ounce very shortly. I think it plain to see that if you purchase an ounce of gold at $383 and its value is straight across at $2,000/oz that there is ample coverage in security—with a note against it. Or, is there something WRONG with my arithmetic. There was never anything else presented to anyone—even by Mr. Green, who was going to start his own program within the past few months.

The funds WERE BORROWED to cover costs of getting information out to you and other projects—as is PROVEN by the very notes Mr. Green refuses to pay. He said he "borrowed" the money for publication expenses. Well, good readers, those books published were not even all ours—as agreed upon! Besides, he has both the money, now, and the books—all nicely and untruthfully marked "copyrighted by America West". So be it.

My people find it hard to believe that this kind of a thrust would be publicly made—about the Institute defending itself for protection of participants. THAT IS THE LAW, READERS! AND, FURTHERMORE—A LAWYER IS REQUIRED BY LAW TO HANDLE THE CASE—BY LAW!

BILL CLINTON

Now, tell me where you are on this observation: "YOU PAY FOR BILL'S DEFENSE". "President Bill Clinton is using taxpayer dollars to defend himself against a personal morals charge (Paula Jones)." You bash people for following the law and defending against destruction of an Institute and yet—this other garbage is ongoing just like the Eveready rabbit. In fact, let's look at this Clinton "morals" case. Thank you, SPOTLIGHT, for this insight. This is by Mike Blair—one of the best investigative journalists anywhere! [QUOTING:]

President Bill Clinton is using lawyers from the Justice Department, funded by U.S. taxpayers, to help his private attorneys prepare his defense against sexual discrimination charges filed against him by Paula Jones.

She is claiming Clinton made extremely crude sexual advances to her while he was governor of Arkansas. Although the statute of limitations on sexual harassment has run out, she claims she suffered in her state job for rejecting Clinton by being ostracized and denied promotions, and so has filed sex discrimination charges.

At the request of the White House, the Justice Department is studying whether Clinton can be protected from Jones' sex discrimination suit while he remains in office as president.

In 1982 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that presidents cannot be sued for acts committed while in office, [H: I didn't read that in your Constitution!] but the charges Clinton is facing occurred some 20 months before he took office as president.

NOT EXEMPT

Many legal scholars contend that since he was not president at the time, he must face the charges just as any other citizen.

It is this contention that the Justice Department lawyers are studying to assist the president's attorneys, led by high-powered Washington lawyer Robert Bennett, brother of former Education Secretary William Bennett.

Bennett is also currently counsel for Rep. Dan Rostenkowski (D-IL), powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who is fighting charges of misuse of public funds in a scandal involving the House post office. [H: Yes but it is costing Mr. Rostenkowski right through his OWN proverbial nose!]

It is believed that Clinton's legal expenses could cost millions (of dollars). The work being done on his behalf by Justice Department personnel, presumably with the guidance of Attorney General Janet Reno, could ultimately cost the taxpayers additional millions.

Jones is one of several individuals including Arkansas state troopers assigned to protect Clinton while he was governor and a number of other women, who have come forward with similar accusations against the president.

The charges faced by the president in the Jones case are the worst ever leveled at a sitting president.

Jones charges that after having a member of his state police staff entice her to his room at the hotel, Clinton made several sexual advances, then dropped his pants and asked her to perform a sexual act.

Regarding Clinton's questionable use of Justice Department attorneys to help in his defense, one of Jones' attorneys, Gilbert Davis, said he feels "a bit outgunned".

"But David won his battle with a slingshot, and we feel confident we have a pretty good case," the attorney added.

Now, as to my refusing interviews and other confrontations with writers, radio talk-show hosts, etc., I think the next will show you a good example of WHY. There is little truth or even similarity of content with what is offered, published or construed with truth or the original statements. Here is an excellent example:

YOU CAN'T ALWAYS BELIEVE WHAT YOU READ
IN AN ESTABLISHMENT
NEWSPAPER, AS A U.N. ENVOY DISCOVERED RECENTLY.
by Warren Hough

The Washington Times has "misquoted me and utterly misrepresented my views," U.N. diplomat Patti Londono Jaramillo told the SPOTLIGHT on May 24.

Only hours earlier, a report in the Washington Times, a daily newspaper published in the nation's capital and financed by mysterious Korean cult leader and ex-convict Sun Myung Moon, blamed the U.N.'s growing preoccupation with gun control on the "freewheeling U.S. small-arms business".

To support the claim that smaller nations feel threatened by the Constitutional right of American citizens to own guns, the Washington Times invoked an alleged statement made by Ms. Londono, the respected counselor of Colombia's U.N. delegation.

According to the Times, Ms. Londono asserted, "Colombia's problem is that in the U.S. you can legally buy and sell arms, and those arms are transferred illegally out of the country. But in Colombia any purchase of arms is illegal."

STORY REPUDIATED

"I never said anything like that, and the Times knows it," Ms. Londono told this populist newspaper. "To declare that in Colombia 'any purchase of firearms is illegal', is ridiculous. And the U.N. study of international gun controls is not driven by the 'freewheeling U.S. small-arms business', as the Times put it. It was triggered by a series of extraordinary crimes committed, often in paramilitary fashion, by drug gangsters and terrorist hit squads whose illicit weapons and tactics came not from the U.S. BUT FROM ISRAEL," she added.

In a written repudiation to the Washington Times, Ms. Londono stated that "For the sake of clarity and justice, I would appreciate it if you do not attribute to me concepts and relations that I have not mentioned or made."

I find the more important statement in the above being the statement regarding Israel. Why? Because I am a bigot? No, readers, because of the way everything is handled in the Establishment media—especially anything regarding Jews or Israel. Am I against Israel? No, in fact it is a nice little piece of terrible land mass called PALESTINE. The United Nations decided that Palestine was of no value and gave it to the Zionists—not even the Judeans—but rather the Zionist Khazarian Bolsheviks. They have NEVER kept a single promise nor peace overture. A "Jew"(s) massacred a whole big bunch of Palestinians in a Mosque and yet now that things aren't so great on the "peace treaty" front—it "is all Yassir Arafat's fault". Mideast PEACE? The Jewish Israelis have NEVER WANTED PEACE. In fact, the very LAST THING they want is PEACE! Most specially in the places around the "Holy" lands, Jerusalem, etc. How else can they excuse the tearing down of the Mosque and putting up their own temple on the same spot—so you hoodwinked people can have your Rapture? Will you NEVER wake up?

Let's look at this article in U.S. News & World Report, an editorial by the Editor-in-Chief, Mortimer B. Zuckerman. This is, after all, one of "their" publications (the controlled media).

THE END OF 'A PATCHED-UP AFFAIR'?

The first few days of Palestinian control over Gaza and Jericho do not augur well for the Mideast peace process. Two Israeli soldiers were killed by Gazans who melted into the Palestinian population without Arab police pursuit; three Israelis were arrested by the Palestinian police in breach of the agreement; without legal authority; Yassir Arafat canceled most regulations and orders for Gaza and Jericho that Israel had enacted for the occupied territories.

Worst of all, on May 10, the chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization let the mask slip in a speech in Johannesburg. Arafat was secretly recorded when he told a mosque audience: "You have to come and fight a jihad [holy war] to liberate Jerusalem, your precious shrine." Then he likened the Oslo and Cairo agreements with Israel to the prophet Muhammad's agreement with the Quraysh tribe in A.D. 628. Unable to conquer Holy Mecca with his army, Muhammad adopted the stratagem of agreeing to a 10-year peace to lull the Meccans into a false sense of security while building up his own forces. He had no intention of keeping this agreement, and two years later he fell on the city when he felt strong enough to conquer it. Arafat's implication was clear: If Muhammad could violate such a pact with the Meccans, as Arafat described it, so could Arafat violate his pact with the Jews.

There is no possible camouflage for Arafat's hint of treachery. He had no political need, in a South African mosque, to assert his revolutionary credentials. It is all of a piece with his past references to the so-called phased plan of 1974, in which PLO policy became: We will take whatever part of Israel we can get now, and the rest later. It is all of a piece with the PLO's return to pre-Oslo terrorism. Arafat has disregarded the public letter he signed in September, renouncing and denouncing all terrorist activities and promising to discipline those engaged in them. Instead, he has continued to finance and support the killers, even within his own Fatah faction. More Israelis were murdered in the six months following the September handshake than in the six months before.

Now the Israeli public is in an uproar. Many leading commentators conclude that Arafat is not serious about peace, that the decisive view in the Arab world is not one of reconciliation but of "only a cease-fire until the next stage", as Abbas Zaki of the PLO Central Committee put it. The seeming unwillingness of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and Foreign Minister Shimon Peres to hold Arafat's feet to the fire is a profound disillusionment for the long-suffering Israelis. They regard the Rabin-Peres rationalization of PLO actions as craven, confirming in their minds that most Arabs still believe unremitting hostility, violence, pressure and betrayal can extract more concessions and force the Jews out.

The Israelis began this process with goodwill. [H: The Israelis have never started ANYTHING with "goodwill"!]. They hoped that the Arabs were as exhausted as they were, that they had moved away from ideological hatred and had pragmatically opted to share the land with the Jewish state in peace. But Arafat's words come on top of a menacing poll taken by an Arab academic. It showed that none of the 1,000 Arabs and Palestinians polled wants to make genuine peace. Respondents saw the agreements only as a stopgap, pending resumption of the conflict when the Palestinians would be stronger and Israel weaker. The Israelis now fear there will never be a "last concession", that terrorism will never end—or, as T.S. Elliot wrote:

Is it war or peace?

Peace, but not the kiss of peace.

A patched-up affair, if you ask my opinion

...I think that this peace

Is nothing like an end, or like a beginning.

The Israelis now have confirmation of what they suspected: that Arafat is not a man of his word. They would be well advised to hold back further withdrawals. They should have the support of all nations seeking peace if they insist that they will yield no more until they are sure the PLO is really honoring its commitments and surer still that their security cannot be threatened. [H: The Israelis NEVER FOR ONE MINUTE EVEN "THOUGHT" OF GIVING UP ANY LAND! This is simply the useful thorn to present to the world and whine, scream and point fingers—the atrocities against the Palestinians have been so terrible as to not even bear relationship. AND, THIS IS WHAT IS WRONG IN AMERICA (ISRAEL HOMELAND—NOT OF GOD'S CHOSEN BUT OF THE KHAZARIAN ZIONISTS).]

Arafat invites the world's censure. He should be made to understand that the Israelis must have an agreement that is self-regulating and self-sustaining, one that does not depend on the goodwill of a PLO seemingly bent on destroying any atmosphere of optimism. As Francis Bacon said, hope is a good breakfast but a poor supper.

And just how unbiased do you think the other articles are in that magazine? This is from the June 6 issue. It has Oliver North pictured on the front. There is reference to Hillary Clinton AND Oliver North—I hope you each have an opportunity to witness the different slants on each. I remind you people—if you cannot get some freedoms and unbiased information back into the media and publications—what chance do you have for reclaiming freedom?

Yes I realize that you are rather forced to expect me to be against the ones who blatantly call themselves "Anti-Christ", being as I am an immediate compatriot WITH the "Christ". However, readers, attitudes nor allegations present facts as such—only historic evidence IN TRUTH. I repeat for all to hear and see: ZIONISM IS NOT JUDAISM! Perhaps we need to again offer a document by an American rabbi on the subject and then, perhaps, you will consider possibilities of truth in that which we have offered unto you.

This is not a NEW conjured statement of some kind—this was issued all the way back in December of 1975. The facts are that the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and innumerable PAC groups and all manner of subtle takeovers by these Zionist groups are evident, public—even if not shown in any media, and are prevalent everywhere you look. What of the "Jews" who actually mistakenly call themselves "Jews"? What recourse do THEY have to claim their rightful heritage according to the old Hebrew laws? The Zionists are Talmudic people who base every action on the Zionist Protocols of the Elders, whether or not even the followers realize as much.

ZIONISM ISN'T JUDAISM BY RABBI ELMER BERGER

[QUOTING:]

An American rabbi, Elmer Berger, wrote the Saudi Ambassador to the U.N. recently (about Nov.-Dec. 1975). As president of Jewish Alternatives to Zionism, Inc., he reprinted his letter as a full page ad in the Washington Post and other papers. Because the U.N. is now being excoriated in the press on its vote that Zionism is racist, the ad did much to explain the difference between Zionism and Judaism.

Rabbi Berger's letter begins, "As an American Jew, and a long-time anti-Zionist, I welcome your invitation to attempt to clarify the meaning of Zionism in the context of the recent United Nations debate. It is, in my opinion, unfortunate that the problem was not addressed more precisely in the course of the debate."

"It should be made clear that there are a number of varieties of Zionism. There is Messianic Zionism, held as a tenet of faith by many Christian faiths as well as by Judaism. And then there is Israeli Zionism, oriented, predicated on Israel's Declaration of Independence in 1948, which said, 'Israel will be open for Jewish immigration and for the Ingathering of Exiles'."

"The Declaration of Establishment also states, 'The mission of gathering in the exiles is the central task of the State of Israel and the Zionist movement in our days and requires constant efforts by the Jewish people in the Diaspora.'"

Berger then goes on, "It is clear that the process of building up a state for the Jewish people, identified either by religion or birth by a Jewish mother, continues within the framework of a 'democracy' of privileging Jews in Israel. This affects the structure of the economy, educational opportunities, rights of political organizations, public subsidies for activities such as agriculture, provisions of public services such as roads, utilities and housing, among others."

"Israel is a state, therefore, in which if apartheid is not as blatant or as territorially viable as South Africa, Jews are nevertheless more equal than others. The application of Zionist laws make discrimination a matter of national politics. This being so, it is an abandonment of democratic principle to accuse those who oppose these public policies of malevolent or 'obscene' motivations."

Rabbi Berger adds: "I am unsure of what racism may mean to all of those who participated in the U.N. debate or have been witness to it or some of its side shows. But if racism is a form of government or a structure of society in which national rights and responsibilities are officially legislated upon the basis of creed, color or ethnic derivation, then the Zionist character of much basic Israel law qualifies."

Recently a Jew named Alvin Levine wrote an article for the Jewish periodical Jewish Weekly American Examiner. He said: "The cause of anti-Semitism in the U.S. is not the Ku Klux Klan or Liberty Lobby or the Minute Men. The main cause is our Jewish leaders, who are becoming more and more short-sighted, dogmatic, inflexible and arrogant. In this country the Jewish people are treated better than in any other country in the world, including Israel. This mood may soon disappear unless sensible reason prevails."

[END OF QUOTING]

Well, that was in 1975—almost two decades ago. Where are you now? Let me suggest that you had better start to pay attention because, little ones, with Project Blue Beam you are going to get "raptured" by those nice Zionists—right out into ever-loving never-never land and it "ain't" into HEAVEN! Vladimir Zhirinovsky

Major Threat To The Crooks

6/9/94 #2 HATONN

VLADIMIR ZHIRINOVSKY

How can you tell when the Elite are REALLY concerned about someone? Watch how they do a fourteen-page blast and horror trip about them in FOREIGN AFFAIRS, the CFR (Council on Foreign Relations) journal. Then look to see who got commissioned to write the article and thus and so. In the instance we are going to utilize now we will take up Mr. Zhirinovsky and the fourteen-page article in FOREIGN AFFAIRS commissioned by the CFR and author of the article in point, Jacob W. Kipp. Won't this remind my own crew, who just got blasted in a rag-sheet from Las Vegas by one Aaron Cohen! Since the article about me was 100% about garbage and certainly not about the Trillion Dollar Lie, I have to surmise he hasn't read much of my work.

Well, I always like publicity and especially from a weekly compilation of all the "dirty" gambling spots in Vegas. I am only sorry to not have made the same page with the advertisement for surgical enlargements of male penises and nipples—by up to three full inches! Now THAT is important "stuff", readers. So be it. I'm afraid the attention will ultimately hurt me no more than it has hurt Zhirinovsky!

Worried about Zhirinovsky really? Oh indeed, for the minute these Elite New World Order lame-brains blink—he will wipe them off the map!

So who is Kipp?

Jacob W. Kipp is a Senior Analyst with the Foreign Military Study Office at Fort Leavenworth in Kansas and Adjunct Professor of History at the University of Kansas. He is also U.S. Editor of European Security. The views expressed are those of the author and should not be interpreted as representing those of the Department of the Army or the Department of Defense. [H: Golly, how about the Council on Foreign Relations?]

[H: Now just why would we want to waste time on this topic? Because it is evident it has a LOT to do with the rest of the global politics and perhaps survival itself. If it is this important a topic to the CFR when most of Americans haven't ever heard of the man in point—IT MUST BE IMPORTANT! We must have a REAL THREAT here—to A WHOLE LOT OF PEOPLE!]

(QUOTING:)

THE ZHIRINOVSKY THREAT A DANGER TO RUSSIAN DEMOCRACY

In the ongoing drama of what Russia is to be—state or empire, democracy or autocracy [H: Everybody in the Elite corps of disaster makers—REPUBLIC is avoided like AIDS.], Vladimir Zhirinovsky has shouldered his way to center stage with a bellicose, attention-grabbing performance. Some Russian and Western observers have quickly concluded that this ultranationalist is a bit player, thrust forward less by his own devices than by the inadequacies of Russian reformers in the December parliamentary elections. Yet it would be dangerous to dismiss Zhirinovsky, with his rash, outlandish statements to the press, as a self-destructive clown. His writings and the statements by key ideologues of his Liberal Democratic Party (LDP), as well as his electioneering skills, make him a potent threat to Russian democracy. Post-election surveys indicate voters support his ideas, and not just as a protest against economic conditions.

Zhirinovsky and his year-old Liberal Democratic Party surfaced in June 1991 when he drew six million votes, almost eight percent of the total election returns, to finish third in the Russian presidential election won by Boris Yeltsin. [H: Yes, and this was with the usual "fixed" election places AND TOTAL INABILITY TO HAVE ANY MEDIA COVERAGE AT ALL—JUST LIKE THE LITTLE INDEPENDENT RUNNERS IN AMERICA—IN FACT THIS WHOLE THING WAS SET-UP BY THE AMERICANS—OF ZIONIST DESCENT.] Two-and-a-half years later, in December's parliamentary elections, his populist television campaigning garnered the LDP nearly 25 percent of the vote. Russia's political leaders and intellectuals, along with the West, were aghast to find this demagogue commanding a strategic position in the new 450-seat assembly, along with a fairly large bloc of hard-line, anti-reform Communists. Although mutually hostile on a number of key issues, the Communists and the LDP are proving capable of selective cooperation. Together they voted to release those who had led both the 1991 coup against former Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev and the October 1993 insurrection in the Parliament. Zhirinovsky instigated the surprise anti-Yeltsin maneuver fully aware that freeing Aleksandr Rutskoi might empower a more centrist rival for the political leadership of nationalist forces.

With hindsight it is evident that Zhirinovsky expertly organized for election success while openly portraying the effort as merely positioning himself for the next presidential election, whenever it may come. Rising discontent about Russia's declining economic condition increased Zhirinovsky's appeal between the 1991 and 1993 elections and, as the economy continues to falter, Russian commentators suggest that his appeal will continue to grow. His base of support consists of relatively well-educated young males from larger cities, older less-educated males from smaller cities, disgruntled rural residents and numerous members of the Russian armed forces. Zhirinovsky pledged to resolve the country's problems—by granting privileges to Russian businessmen facing foreign competitors, increasing arms export sales, ending Russia's "humiliations" abroad, and even getting husbands for unwed women and cheap vodka for all.

In response, Yeltsin has shorn his government of reformers and adopted Zhirinovsky's calls for a crackdown on crime, an assertive foreign policy and strong state controls over economic and social activities. Some experts, including former U.S. State Department official Paul Goble, see the real danger not in Zhirinovsky but rather "in the way Boris Yeltsin and other Russian 'reformers' are likely to exploit the Zhirinovsky vote to pressure the former Soviet republics, and in the extraordinary likelihood that the West will complacently accept whatever demands the Russian president makes on them."

Russian reformers and Western observers have tended to underestimate the appeal of Zhirinovsky and his party. Even as late as the summer of 1993, foreign observers played down the threat to Russian democracy and the West coming from Zhirinovsky and other "Red-Browns". Richard Pipes, a leading historian of modern Russia and the Soviet Union, writing on the eve of the constitutional crisis that would pit President Yeltsin against his vice president and the Supreme Court, dismissed the Red-Brown threat as portrayed in Walter Laqueur's Black Hundred, a work devoted to the rise of the extreme right in Russia. Pipes spoke of fanatics seeking power and "the ravings of extremist intellectuals" but concluded that Laqueur's warning was a "false alarm". As the events of the next few months would show, Russia was far less stable than Pipes' analysis suggested.

A major problem was that Yeltsin's government used its control of the media during the electoral campaign to play down the growing power of the Red-Browns in general, and Zhirinovsky's LDP in particular. During the last week of the campaign, when the LDP bought 220 minutes of television time to get its message to the voters, that attitude began to change. A last-minute effort by Vyacheslav Bragin, then chief of Ostankino Television, to use a program on Zhirinovsky and the LDP to "sober up" the electorate to the Zhirinovsky threat backfired. Only on the eve of elections did Russia's Choice, the top reform party, led by Yegor Gaidar, warn that it was time to stop considering Zhirinovsky a "harmless clown" and to recognize him as "a threat to Russia's existence". [H: No, just to the Elite Zionist's existence! With such a man in power—Russia might just have a chance.]

There has been a strong tendency to dismiss Zhirinovsky's success as part protest vote and part personal charisma. [H: Personal charisma?? This man is a dirt-poor, hard labor one-of-the-poor-peasant people! This hardly smacks of some hierarchical political CHARISMA.] Laqueur characterized Zhirinovsky as "a fine orator-demagogue" with shrewd political instincts but no real party or program. [H: Well, there you have IT, readers, as Mr. Laqueur just proved his own work to be totally absurd and that is what this article, likewise absurd, is based upon. Ah, but next we bring Mr. William Safire into the mouth-wagging equation and you can be SURE that Mr. Zhirinovsky has some good attributes, after all. Keep alert, readers, and you'll get the picture without ever being shown the ACTUAL PICTURE!] Political columnist William Safire dismissed the "panic over Mr. Z" as excessive. More recently, "60 Minutes" broadcast a feature on Zhirinovsky by Australian television entitled THE MAD RUSSIAN. [H: Again—I'd say that is about as good as a "compliment" as you can get from the controlled MEDIA!] In an interview with Zhirinovsky, the reporter asked him to comment on whether he was "a harmless clown or an evil clown." Zhirinovsky dismissed both those characterizations as "propaganda" by his enemies. [H: Well, good reader, how would YOU answer such a complimentary question? Could Mr. Z. win either way? Why don't you just ask Sir Reno if she only murders children or actually is an arsonist who just burns them to death?]

Such commentary underplays the real threat Zhirinovsky represents to Russian democracy. Were conditions to worsen, Zhirinovsky's skills at marshaling public dis temper and the appeal of his ideas could produce additional unwanted surprises. Thus the ideas that propel him, apart from his impromptu, headline-grabbing outbursts, are worth serious examination. [H: Now I am asked, "Whose side are you on anyway, America's or Russia's?" NEITHER. Dharma happens to be an American—I AM NEITHER RUSSIAN NOR AMERICAN! Perhaps that is WHY I can be objective and point out the truth of this fine kettle of fish you have caught and can't see because the pot water is so dirty.]

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

At first glance the designation "liberal democratic" seems a misnomer. Yet Zhirinovsky's choice of the terms liberal and democratic to describe his party is no accident. It is a conscious effort to distinguish his movement from other nationalist movements that range from monarchist to Communist. [H: What would you expect him to call a Party, United Socialist Soviet Republic?? Wasn't something similar to that already "taken"?]

In Zhirinovsky's hands "liberal" is an ahistorical category designating his outsider status. This is necessary for his political success because it allows him to invoke a mythic past before Soviet power and to place himself outside the political process that brought about the current crisis. [H: And what does "liberal" mean in English? I see—every category claims a DIFFERENT definition?] "Liberal" in this sense is used by Zhirinovsky to invoke the idea that his party stands in the center of the political spectrum, while the democrats and Communists occupy the extremes. The party's slogan, "Through a pluralism of opinions of the superiority of the law," consciously invokes ties with past Russian liberalism.

Previously, Russian liberalism carried a notion of moderate reform and Westernization. Russian liberals sought to build a civic society under law and were hardly radical democrats. Moreover, conservative nationalists, populists and Marxists, who were at odds with one another on almost every issue, were united in their rejection of liberals. Liberalism was branded as part of a utopian dream, disconnected from Russian realities. Liberals were depicted as compromisers, spouting noble sentiments but achieving petty deeds.

No concept was more rejected than the idea of gradual reform. Indeed, Western scholars, in gauging the failure of prerevolutionary liberal bureaucrats, zemstvo reformers (locally and provincially elected assemblies created by the tsarist government) and Constitutional Democrats, have emphasized the disjunction between backward Russia and the liberals' advocacy of individual freedom within a civic society. For prerevolutionary liberals, the emancipation of the individual and society from the oppression of an autocratic state could come only through a state under law. But how to create such a state in a multinational empire proved an unsolvable dilemma. For Zhirinovsky, statism is a key ingredient but, unlike the historical liberals and more like Lenin's Bolsheviks in 1917, his LDP is ready to take state power into its own hands.

STATE AND EMPIRE

For Zhirinovsky, the idea of a strong Russified state is not antithetical to empire. Rather, it is the preferred tool for recreating the Russian imperial reality of old. [H: Oh, how so? Does this mean if you get rid of the Zionist Communists as brought into power by the Revolution that you long for and will have an "IMPERIAL" reality, much less assume Zhirinovsky WANTS ONE? How dare this foolish author to even ASSUME such a stance—certainly Zhirinovsky has NEVER STATED ANY SUCH DESIRE.] Thus, he starkly rejects the 75-year-old Soviet totalitarian experiment based on federalism in form and empire in content. [H: Good grief, the man just said he wanted an "Imperial reality"—even this amazing author cannot have it BOTH WAYS. This work is so badly done that I'm not sure, readers, I can make it all the way through it for it is difficult to let a single sentence pass un-noted. The really dangerous entities to you-the-people are ones just like this author who work for Kissinger Associates on the CFR, Tri-Lateral Commission and other such deceivers.]

In his memoirs, Zhirinovsky speaks of going "forward bravely toward a European model of society: a free economy, the rights of the individual in first place, a civic society." But he would pursue such an objective through a revolution from above, wrought by a state that is centralized, authoritarian and expansionist. [H: Gosh, he must be talking about the United States of America.] He has only contempt for the doctrine of separation of powers: "What is needed is a strict, centralized authority, otherwise no reforms will be achieved. There must be one state, one president. But without a centralized economy." Finally, there must be no challenges to Russian sovereignty and authority. For Zhirinovsky, Russia is the empire. "For us the main [point] is the territory of our state. Return to us the historical borders and name of the state—we only want that!" [H: Are you sleepyheads ever going to ask for YOURS BACK?] He has no time for federalism and expects "small nations" to accept their fate.

While declaring that he is not a chauvinist, Zhirinovsky speaks of a state run only for Russians and tells other nationalities who do not like it to leave. [H: No snit-fit? I can promise you dreamers—that there isn't anyone from any other place than my nationality that is going to run MY SHIP WHICH IS AS BIG AS YOUR GLOBE WHEN WE TALK ABOUT "HOME BASE".] An ethnically pure Russian state is his answer to the threat of anarchy. [H: See how slippery this old dude writer really is? He uses "nationality" as an implication of no other color, creed, person, spouse or whatever. For instance, you are supposed to have "citizens of the U.S. in places of government—BUT THE ENTIRE RULING CLASS OF ADVISORS, ETC., ARE FOREIGN—MOSTLY RUSSIAN JEWS WHO WEREN'T ETHNICALLY RUSSIAN—EITHER. Again:] An ethnically pure Russian state is his answer to the threat of anarchy. [H: In other words—the intent would be to have a "nation", not a influx of unlawful bullies and counterfeits? Or would that type of a statement make us ALL somehow "anti-Semitic"? Well, we are getting close to the PROBLEM (the REAL PROBLEM), AREN'T WE?] In place of the existing federal system, which safeguards the rights of national minorities, Zhirinovsky has proposed a return to a provincial system of local government [H: My God! What a heretic. Now, in addition, Mr. Z. wants provincialism—whatever happened to "Imperialism" from the last paragraph?] where the provinces, as in tsarist times, are controlled by the central government through the Ministry of Internal Affairs. Zhirinovsky posits that the Russian empire is not a luxury but a means of national survival. Of current conditions in the federation and adjacent new states, he writes, "Russians everywhere become a national minority, gradually being destroyed. This will be the slow murder of the Russian nation. Because nowhere is there purely Russian territory, nowhere. ... If we follow such a path, the Russian nation will die." [H: Yep, just like the good old U.S.A. HAS DIED!]

Zhirinovsky speaks of restoring Russia to the imperial frontiers of 1900, when Russia included parts of contemporary Poland and Finland. He warns that denying Russia its historical borders will only lead to war. Thus the mere acceptance of the dissolution of the Soviet Union into sovereign successor states is an act of treason. The Liberal Democratic Party rejects the creation of the Commonwealth of Independent States as an "illegal, anti-constitutional act". [H: I won't even TOUCH that "Constitutional" bit as relates to similarities of treason in the U.S.A.] Party ideologues refer to the commonwealth as consisting of "the countries of beggars and the hungry" and "a public toilet".

While he speaks of restoring Russia's historical frontiers, Zhirinovsky has also called upon Russia to expand southward. Zhirinovsky has associated this final spurt to the south with a "final division of the world". This geopolitical coup is to be done as "shock therapy, suddenly, rapidly and effectively", and will end with Russia and India sharing a common border. This would bring order from Kabul to Istanbul, eliminate the "red, Muslim, Turkic and Islamic threats," and remove the threat of a third world war. [H: Now readers, I heard that interview also—and nothing of the sort was even implied. The hope was to bring peace and working cooperation within the nations and become as one working region for the betterment of BOTH. What he actually said is now offered in italics and it is not what this man just implied.]

The final "thrust" to the south: As I dream of it, Russian soldiers will wash their boots in the warm waters of the Indian Ocean and forever change to summer uniforms. ... We must pacify that region forever. [H: Pacify as properly defined means: PEACE AND FURTHER AS STATED HERE: PEACE IN THE REGION.]

Rejecting Communist Federalism as "a pretty Bolshevik [H: And just WHO were and are the Bolsheviks?] myth," Zhirinovsky's supporters oppose the idea of a territorial state in which citizenship is a function of residence. They reject a multinational Russian Federation in favor of a centralized Russia of one nationality, Russian, sharing one culture and language. In short, they reject a civic state in favor of an ethnic state. [H: Say what?] According to Zhirinovsky, non-Russians would be Russified and the Orthodox religion given a "dominant position". [H: Well, remember your public law that now states you in the U.S. have a one religion country, Noahedie Law! I would guess that you do not longer have SOVEREIGN states, either, lest all those states wouldn't have to be going back into the courts to regain any semblance of sovereignty from your controlling puppets in Washington, Decidedly Criminal. If you can turn America into an "Israeli homeland", as is touted as already accomplished by Jewish lawyer Dershowitz, then is it any wonder Russia might just like to make her own decisions? Since when do YOU at any level have to butt into their business? The facts are that you have no longer a nation or any freedom—AND THAT, READERS, IS A FACT!]

The new Russia is a state under law, an enlightened state. This is a powerful presidential regime, a powerful, multiparty parliament. This is legislation, which is for the ages, which we won't have to change every ten years. This is a constitution, which respects everyone from infant to elder. This is a unified symbol throughout the entire country—the black, yellow, white flag, the state flag of Russia. It must wave over all state institutions in every region of our huge Fatherland. This is the country's anthem, one anthem. This is the state language, the language of interethnic communication, Russian. This is a single monetary unit—the ruble. [H: Seems to me, good people, that a lot of you could take some lessons.]

Zhirinovsky's LDP ideologues understand the force of such ideas in the struggle for power and note the weakness of their Communist and democratic opponents in trying to enlist Russian nationalists. Those democrats who were responsible for establishing the commonwealth and the ensuing reforms, according to the LDP's ideologues, embraced radical reform and revolution in the interests of their master, the United States. Thus Gaidar, the architect of "shock therapy," and his supporters are labeled "false democrats". With its notion of a national bourgeoisie in the service of foreign capital, Zhirinovsky's use of the term is a throwback to Marxist criticism but from a nationalist perspective. [H: Oh my gosh, this dastardly man even suggests GOVERNMENT BY AND FOR THE PEOPLE. HOW LONG HAS ANYONE FOUGHT FOR YOUR GOVERNMENT FOR AND BY THE PEOPLE? OR, DO YOU JUST GO ALONG WITH EVERY TOM, DICK AND JACOB THAT COMES ALONG ACTING LIKE SOME KIND OF AN AUTHORITY WHEN IN FACT IS BUT THE WORST OF THE WORST DESTROYERS OF YOUR REPUBLIC AND TEACHES THIS GARBAGE TO THE REST OF THE SELF-STYLED, SO-CALLED ELITE RULERS OF THE CFR, ET AL. THIS HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH RUSSIA AS YOU RECOGNIZE RUSSIA OR WITH SOMEONE CALLED ZHIRINOVSKY. THIS HAS EVERYTHING TO DO WITH STOPPING ANY IDEA OF UPSETTING THE ONE WORLD ORDER AND ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT (BY THE ELITE PUPPET-MASTERS) AND YOU ARE GOING TO BE STRUCK DUMB WHEN YOU FIND OUT JUST WHO THEY ARE HEADED-UP BY.]

STOP (CONTINUED IN NEXT WRITING)

It has been a long, long day and now it is past the dinner hour also. This is worth further discussion because it is so typical of the examples I search for continually to share with you readers—so that YOU can bring balance into your perceptions.

This author of the above garbage is so obviously AGAINST anything that smacks of national FREEDOM as to make you toss your turkey, and that insults the "turkey". I will grant this much—EVERYTHING in this particular journal, FOREIGN AFFAIRS, is, after study—tantamount to TREASON and yet you accuse "me" of treasonous writings and "citing to insurrection".

Well, that is what the "Feds" want to pin on the Ekkers. Insurrection? I warn you that I will have no association with any of you who advocate overthrow of even this sickly and treasonous government—you reclaim through CONSTITUTIONAL LAW. I warn you about sovereignizing yourselves except for State status in all instances and I abhor even the THOUGHT of you picking up guns and weapons. Insurrection? I think not. I do not lie, cheat or steal and I abide no-one in my ranks who does. I expect each to utilize his/her talents and abide by the Laws of God—and the Constitution of the United States of America which WAS the law of the land and has NEVER been legally changed—only in practice. I NEVER even sanction the breaking of the local rules—even though they be stupid and unlawfully applied or made. If awakening citizens to the truth in the midst of the treason is "insurrection" or "inciting to insurrection" by use of a pen, then you have proven my point for me, good Sirs—there is no longer freedom of press, speech, religion or any other form of remaining Constitutional rules OR Bill of Rights. So be it.

Good evening and thank you.

EXPLANATIONS

If you are annoyed with me over the hop, skip and jump way in which we write, I apologize. There are a couple of good REASONS for doing this:

1. I must get information regarding a specific "subject", "player" or "event" to certain ones who get the writings for SPECIFIC instructions or information.
2. If I am utilizing any information other than that of my own team or presentation—even if it be simply for reference—I refuse to further bring down the wrath or the accusations of wrongdoing upon any head. I don't mind the personal assault—but it hurts my human counterparts.

COPYRIGHT POSITION STATEMENT AND DISCLAIMER

The Phoenix Journals are intended as a "real time" commentary on current events, how current events relate to past events and the relationships of both to the physical and spiritual destinies of mankind.

All of history, as we now know it, has been revised, rewritten, twisted and tweaked by selfishly motivated men to achieve and maintain control over other men. When one can understand that everything is comprised of "energy" and that even physical matter is "coalesced" energy, and that all energy emanates from God's thought, one can accept the idea that the successful focusing of millions of minds on one expected happening will cause it to happen.

If the many prophecies made over thousands of years are accepted, these are the "end times" (specifically the year 2000, the second millennium, etc.). That would put us in the "sorting" period and only a few short years from the finish line. God has said that in the end-times would come the WORD—to the four corners of the world—so that each could decide his/her own course toward, or away from, divinity—based upon TRUTH.

So, God sends His Hosts—Messengers—to present that TRUTH. This is the way in which He chooses to present it, through the Phoenix Journals. Thus, these journals are Truth, which cannot be copyrighted; they are compilations of information already available on Earth, researched and compiled by others (some, no doubt, for this purpose) which should not be copyrighted. Therefore, these journals are not copyrighted (except SIPAPU ODYSSEY which is "fiction").

The first sixty or so journals were published by America West Publishing which elected to indicate that a copyright had been applied for on the theory that the ISBN number (so necessary for booksellers) was dependent upon the copyright. Commander Hatonn, the primary author and compiler, insisted that no copyrights be applied for and, to our knowledge, none were.

If the Truth is to reach the four corners of the world, it must be freely passed on. It is hoped that each reader will feel free to do that, keeping it in context, of course.

And, indeed there are more:

3. I just wish to call attention and ask you to do your own follow-up. As with the Zhirinovsky overview from FOREIGN AFFAIRS, the CFR journal, I want you to READ THE INFORMATION WHILE CONSIDERING THE SOURCE, THE PUBLICATION AND THE PURPOSE OF SUCH INFORMATION IN BASHING A MAN WHO IS VERY POPULAR TO THE PEOPLE IN THE RUSSIAS BUT VERY UNPOPULAR WITH THE ELITE-ONE-WORLDS. With Kissinger, I just want you to see what is being used as guidelines and treated as authoritarian-expert counsel and instructions to the various Committees, disinformation and working material for the Council on Foreign Relations, et al. You do not, in these instances, need an entire article to GET THE POINT! NEITHER DO WE HAVE THE TIME OR THE SPACE TO PRESENT IT ALL—WE ARE AT BEST A REVIEW SERVICE TO POINT OUT WHAT YOU SHOULD BE ATTENDING.

I do, however, feel the Zhirinovsky material is important enough to repeat most of the article because it is already "public" and if you read it carefully according to the rules you have now learned—you will learn a lot about the man who will be very important in Russia. The Elite continue to back Yeltsin so you can have continuity of One World Government but the ones you DON'T hear about are the IMPORTANT players in a thrust for a FREE world.

Why do authors "COPYRIGHT" information which is simply public, supposedly, truth? Because it is NOT truth and it is not desired that any of US take the information and discount it with REASON. COPYRIGHTS ARE THE HIGHEST FORM OF CENSORSHIP!

REGARDLESS OF WHAT AMERICA WEST MAY PRESENT IN THE EARLY 50-60 JOURNALS—NONE OF THOSE JOURNALS ARE COPYRIGHTED! WE BEG, PLEAD AND ASK THAT YOU COPY, DISTRIBUTE, STUDY, CONSIDER AND DISCUSS ANYTHING AND EVERYTHING YOU FIND IN EITHER THE JOURNALS OR THE PAPERS.

Is it fair to make this statement regarding copyrights while speaking of an article on Zhirinovsky by one Jacob W. Kipp? Actually, no—because we find no copyright registered in print on the material. The Elite WANT YOU-THE-PEOPLE TO BELIEVE THESE THINGS ABOUT MR. ZHIRINOVSKY. THE JOURNAL IS MORE WIDELY READ IN OTHER COUNTRIES THAN THE U.S.A., I WOULD SURMISE, ELSE WHY WRITE ON THE SUBJECT AS THE U.S.A. SHOULDN'T HAVE A THING TO SAY ABOUT RUSSIA!

CONTINUATION: THE ZHIRINOVSKY THREAT, Part 2

by Jacob W. Kipp as presented in FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Vol. 73, No. 3:

[QUOTING:]

STATE CAPITALISM TO THE RESCUE

The economic program of the Liberal Democratic Party could be described as a return to state capitalism under the banner of a highly efficient, socially oriented economy that would embrace privatization and even private property. But it is a program designed to protect the state structure and promote stability. State-directed Crimean War and Stalin serve as the models for building a national economy and catching up with the West. This position, which owes more to Friedrich List than Karl Marx, rejects shock therapy in favor of state-directed development in order for Russia to avoid becoming an economic colony within the world market—supplier of raw materials and importer of industrial goods. Friedrich List was a nineteenth-century German advocate of state-directed economic development. His ideas strongly influenced Sergei Witte, minister of finance under Alexander III and Nicholas II, in his drive to industrialize tsarist Russia. [Mr. Kipp blasts this as something terrible but I ask YOU, what do YOU have? Does not the commercial economic Elite CONTROL your government which in turn controls EVERYTHING?? Do you see how—by calling something by a different name and shouting "free", "democratic" and other non-meaningful terms—you present an entirely different picture through the total "distraction"?]

One model for such a course is imperial Japan, where the state directed the gradual transformation of the country into an industrial superpower. [H: WHO directed it into a superpower? The "Committee" controls Japan, hook, line and sinker!] This has led S.F. Dergunov, one of the LDP's (Liberal Democratic Party) key ideologues, to posit the following thesis regarding Russia's economic transformation: the transitional economy must operate on the basis of state programs that create competitive sectors, modern infrastructure and the structural transformation of the economy. Moreover, "an obligatory element of these programs is a plan for gradual organized curtailment and transfer of state property into market structures."

For Dergunov, there are two key reasons why this program of state capitalism would work. First, it is true to national traditions: "For our country, state programs are natural." Second, it would require minimal retraining for the industrial managers of the Communist era. The model of state capitalism invoked here assumes "tough mobilization methods" like those used in the relocation of industry in 1941. In this manner the LDP's program combines the supposed benefits of Communist enterprise managers working under state direction with personal enrichment through state-directed privatization. The program promises to take privatization out of the hands of bureaucrats and put it into the hands of citizens. [H: Sounds very good to me.] It calls for a three-year process that converts most enterprises into "self-financing" ventures, a leasing arrangement with funds used to cover social programs, and financing for the privatization fund run by the Russian State Bank. In the first year, resources would be divided evenly between the three efforts. After that, more would go to the privatization fund to finance state privatization certificates on which an annual dividend would be paid. The ownership of such certificates would be confined to Russian citizens and Russians living abroad in order to avoid the injustice of "foreign or shady capital" buying up enterprises cheaply.

Playing on the economic chaos created by hyperinflation, the LDP blames declining production and the collapse of many enterprises on the Yeltsin government's "slavish" behavior in the face of the demands of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. The LDP's program calls for a state-regulated program to stimulate production by gradually converting the monetary system to a "noncash, convertible ruble" [H: Well, YOU guys in high places are planning to turn not only the U.S. but the WORLD into a noncash, convertible currency!] that would exchange at one ruble to one dollar. This would be achieved by restoring state control over trading in foreign currencies via the state bank, which would control the buying and selling of noncash, convertible rubles and would effectively restore state control over exports and imports. [H: Do you actually think the state does NOT have control over exports and imports—and everything else—NOW?]

Nowhere is Zhirinovsky's reliance on a particularly Russian version of state capitalism more evident than on the issues of land ownership and the peasant question. [H: Watch it here—remember: Zhirinovsky IS A PEASANT!] Stability and order are viewed as paramount, and their genesis lies in the link between Russian national consciousness and the village. Russians are, in this view, a colonizing people, and their forms of landholding, especially the commune, are ways to preserve order and prevent the emergence of a rural proletariat. It is not an argument about economic rationality or efficiency, but a social policy of stabilization, reflecting the interests of the collective and state farm managers. Thus the interests of the industrial and agricultural managerial elite are served in Zhirinovsky's state capitalism. [H: Say what?? Have you ever before heard such doublespeak and meaningless drivel? Yes, you have...! CONSTANTLY AND PERPETUALLY.]

The LDP views capital as objectively "anti-national" and will use state control to limit such tendencies by controlling investments and profits. This system of political economy would seek to exclude the possibility of foreign trade "tricks" stemming from the difference between internal and world prices. In short, this would be a state dedicated to national self-sufficiency of a statist and militarized nature: "Of course, all enterprises necessary for the functioning of the state structures must be state property. For example, defense industry enterprises, railroads, major enterprises under the control of republics." This position, of course, rejects the economic reforms of Yeltsin's democrats, which the LDP blames for bringing inflation, unemployment, poverty, chaos and disorder. [H: Right so far—THE NEW WORLD ORDER!] By rejecting Communism and democratic reform and using them as scapegoats, the LDP ideologues have positioned themselves as saviors with no responsibility for past failures or current problems.

[H: Why do we bother to continue this dialogue? BECAUSE THIS IS THE CFR WE ARE TALKING ABOUT—"THE" BIG OLD COMMITTEE WHO DOES THE BIDDING OF THE HIGHER AND MINISCULE COMMITTEES—THIS IS THE SUBSTANCE OF WHICH TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE POURED INTO "BEATING" POLITICALLY SUCH A "RASCAL" AS ZHIRINOVSKY AT BAT. IN OTHER WORDS—HIT HIM WITH THE BALL INSTEAD OF PLAYING THE GAME WITH HONOR. Next you will find the HANDS of the dirty crew at work, the Khazarian Bolsheviks (the Jews) as we make this old boy an anti-Semite. Funny thing, though, is that the Jews use it either way—they find possibility of "Jewish bloodline" in this terrible man—and use that against him too, in propaganda. YOU (main text continued on p.23)

Along these lines it is time to interrupt at this very point to MAKE A POINT to you who aren't yet back to sleep. Wake up! From Gordon "Jack" Mohr, 113 Ballentine Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520 comes the following. I offer the name and address because from him you can get 100 of these papers for $5.00 or, per copy, 30 cents; postage paid. We have run this for you prior to this; it is not new—it was an update sent to Jews throughout the world IN 1956, ALMOST 40 YEARS AGO! Where do you think you might be on the "gotcha" scale TODAY?

WORLD PROTOCOL

In 1956, the following WORLD PROTOCOL was sent out to Jews world-wide. It was a confidential notice which went to orthodox, reformed, non-religious and "Christian" Jews:

"We are about to reach our goal. World War II furthered our plans greatly. We succeeded in having millions of Christians kill each other and returning other millions in such condition that they can do us no harm.

"There remains little to be done to complete our control of the United States.

"JEWS IN AMERICA—THESE ARE YOUR FINAL INSTRUCTIONS PRIOR TO THE TAKEOVER:

1. Continue to enlarge our control over radio, TV, newspapers, movies and magazines.
2. Educate our sons and crowd the Gentiles out of the practice of law, medicine, pharmacy and all retail trades.
3. Make their schools and colleges training camps for our Red Revolution.
4. Bring ridicule upon their Christian faith; divide their people; weaken their churches.
5. Demoralize their women and children.
6. Corrupt their courts and bring them into contempt.
7. Turn class against class. The Negro against the White.
8. Buy politicians and continue to corrupt their local, state and national governments.
9. GET the Fascist anti-Semites, one way or another.
10. Use willing tools in government; they will do our bidding.
11. Plan unlimited immigration of our persecuted people.
12. Continue our control of their money through the Federal Reserve System.
13. We MUST destroy the Republic and replace it with a Democracy (Jewish-governed state Socialism).
14. Continue to place Jews in key positions in the Government, Army and Navy.
15. Continue our control over Labor; agitate unrest, strikes and violence by any means or schemes.

"Especially through these methods shall we plunge this country into destitution, demoralization, bankruptcy, and civil war, further lessening the numbers of our enemies.

"The Bolshevik Revolution made us masters of Russia.

"The last war made us rulers of all Europe except Spain.

"Let this next war make us MASTERS OF AMERICA!

"For the preservation of our race, you are warned to renounce, abjure, repudiate and deny any of this information if questioned by the Gentiles, even under oath, AS DIRECTED BY THE TALMUD.

"It is needless to caution you of the terrible consequences that might follow if these instructions should fall into goyim hands." [H: OOPS!]

SIGNED: THE CENTRAL CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN RABBIS!

Col. Mohr: Now it's very possible that some of you who read these words are going to say: "Well, I don't believe that!" But if you are a normally intelligent individual, and are willing to look around and see what is happening, you will have to admit, if you are honest, that all the aforementioned things are happening to this country. Do you honestly believe they are happening by accident?

A CRUEL HOAX!

Almost without fail, when I (Mohr) come up with some documented facts concerning the hatred of Jews towards Christianity, some naive Christian will say: "But our Lord Jesus Christ was a Jew. So we must love the Jews." This "big-lie" technique has been "brainwashing" Americans for a long time and in no place has it received such a strong foothold as in the evangelical and fundamental church world. The "so-called" Jews of today have been very successful in causing Christians to believe that Jesus Christ, who called them "liars, hypocrites, poisonous snakes and murderers", was "King of the Jews". This reference was first made in English translations of the Old and New Testament, centuries before the Jews "hi-jacked" the word "Jew" in the 19th Century. They have spent millions of dollars trying to convince Christians that Jesus Christ was a kin of theirs, while calling him an "illegitimate bastard". Very strange, isn't it? On one hand, they claim Him as one of them—when it benefits them with the Christian world—while on the other hand their TALMUD curses Him and consigns Him to all kinds of terrible suffering in hell.

The alleged kinship of Jesus with those who call themselves "Jews" comes from a myth of their common ancestry with the "so-called Jews" of the Bible in Old Testament history and is fiction based on fable. In Tim. 1:14, the Apostle Paul warned Christians about "giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, which turn from the truth." In verse 10 of that same chapter, He identifies these as "unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, SPECIALLY THEY OF THE CIRCUMCISION." He goes on to say that these Jews "subvert whole houses teaching falsehood for money's sake."

Very few Christians realize they are being brainwashed twenty-four hours every day by television, radio, newspapers, magazines, movies and books, by political leaders in office and seeking office and by religious leaders who have become subservient to those who are the worst enemies of the one they call "Lord".

[END OF QUOTING]

SHOULD REALLY PAY ATTENTION TO THIS NEXT SEGMENT! I wonder if you German PEOPLE will ever get weary of this garbage dumped on you deliberately. It reminds me of the executioner causing you to pay for your own execution equipment.]

HITLER RECONSIDERED

Along with small bands of overt Russian fascists, such as A.P. Barkashov and the Russian National Unity movement, Zhirinovsky takes a revisionist view of Adolf Hitler and national socialism. [H: Again I ask you—is the revisionist the one who FIRST changed the truth from actuality in fact to a story that suits the Elite Khazarians OR is it ones who try to change history BACK INTO THE TRUTH OF THE HAPPENINGS? UNTIL YOU KNOW THE DIFFERENCE—YOU ARE REMAINING PEOPLE OF THE LIE. Do YOU know anything about A.P. Barkashov? Have YOU ever heard of A.P. Barkashov—how about Aleister Crowley? Anybody heard of Aleister Crowley? He is one of the most important parties you will EVER hear of—if you ever do. Do you see how someone can present something in authority and you just go along with it—as if? Well, Aleister Crowley IS—I don't know much about a A.P. Barkashov and almost NONE of you know anything about either one so you are easily kept the fool and ignorant—or at the least, touting the incorrect story while becoming a "revisionist".] While noting that some of Hitler's "extreme" measures did harm Germans, Zhirinovsky concludes that "in general, his ideology does not contain anything negative in itself." [H: No idea, ideal or ideology contains one lota of power, negative or positive—UNTIL ACTED UPON!] Ideologues of the Liberal Democratic Party have gone further in claiming ties to Nazi German and Hitler. LDP theorist Igor Minin has said that national socialists form the "third force" in Russian politics between communists and democrats, both of which have discredited themselves by their hostility to the national idea. "The true carrier of the ideals of national socialism is the national-patriotic movement," of which the Liberal Democratic Party will assume leadership. In this fashion Zhirinovsky's party intends to co-opt and militarize the Russian right. The national-patriotic movement will require its own paramilitary formations, called the druzhina (guard) and organized into "agitation and propaganda groups" and "protection-assault groups" for street operations during electoral campaigns. These groups are to be organized by district, block and factory and be composed of "10 to 15 persons, including one or two experienced activists and several military."

Anti-Semitism is an organizing tool for Zhirinovsky as it was for Hitler. At home it results in the LDP's persistent caricature of former Finance Minister Gaidar as Yeltsin's "ideological Jew". Gaidar the democrat became Gaidar the thief, the court Jew, using his position for personal gain. Abroad, the LDP seeks to build connections through an international anti-Semitic alliance. The chief source of anti-national forces is Zionism. Minin has asserted that "Zionism has as its final goal the establishment of the economic and political supremacy of Jewry in all the leading countries of the world and is a direct result of the basic features of the national character of the Jewish people." The LDP claims that it will practice a "humane" policy toward Jews and confine its version of the final solution to Zionists. Viewing the governments of the United States, France and Great Britain as tools of international Zionism, the LDP ideologues want to reduce contact with those governments. They would also accelerate the emigration of Jews from Russia and reduce the influence of Jews in the mass media by imposing proportional representation on such positions. [H: Is this bad? It seems to me that you remained in a "Cold" war situation with Russia for YEARS because they would NOT ALLOW JEWS TO LEAVE. NOW IT IS BAD TO ALLOW THEM, EVEN ENCOURAGE THEM, TO GO TO WHERE THEY WISH TO BE?] They view proportional representation as the vehicle for maintaining Russian hegemony in a centralized, multiethnic state. [H: Please note that the author, Jacob W. Kipp is a Khazarian Zionist Jew—regardless of what he will tell you!]

In seeking to create an alliance motivated by anti-Zionism, the LDP ideologues look to capitalist countries that have retained a government with a "national," as opposed to cosmopolitan, character. Not surprisingly, this leads to a rather ahistorical interpretation of contemporary German and Japanese societies and a search for nationalist allies in those societies. Igor Minin writes:

We are speaking first of all about Japan and Germany. Everyone knows the patriotism and faithfulness to national values of the Japanese people. The Japanese government maximally, to that degree allowed by capitalism, has used the features of Japanese national character and in its turn has adapted to them as much as possible. Now it feeds off the fruits of its correct strategy.

Germany has had a different fate. It is located in the very center of Europe and that means in the very epicenter of subjective anti-nationalist forces and, as a consequence, 150 years of its history have taken place under the influence of the continual struggle of the German nation against these influences. We will not discuss the details of this struggle or the mistakes made by the Germans. What is important is that this struggle did not end with the unification of the German states but entered a new phase.

National socialism supports the maximum widening of cooperation with the most nationalist governments, in particular Japan and Germany. Only this cooperation can bring good to our nation and help in the matter of constructing a national government. (Author's footnote: Minin, "Teoreticheskie osnovy natsional-sotsializma." "German radical right parties share this view of the world. Gerhard Frey of the German People's Union attended the Third Congress of the LDP and is quoted in the LDP newspaper, Liberal, as speaking with admiration of the LDP's program and saying that his organization 'stands opposed to America's supremacy in the world and seeks that Russia should be powerful and occupy a deserved place in the world'.")

In short, the foreign policy objectives of Zhirinovsky's movement can only be achieved by overthrowing the existing world order [H: There you have it.] and undermining the position of the United States. In December, at the end of the electoral campaign, Zhirinovsky penned and then signed his own map of a new Europe and gave it to Rolf Gauffin, the former Swedish ambassador to Russia. The map shows two great powers dominating Central and Eastern Europe. The first is a revived Russian empire that reincorporates Ukraine and Belarus. The second is a Grossdeutschland that includes Austria, Bohemia-Moravia and Poland's western territories. Poland would be compensated by getting the Lvov region back from Ukraine. Slovakia would go to Russia. Russia would give up Kaliningrad to Germany and be compensated by getting back the Baltic states, except for Tallinn, which would be turned into a city-state "like Luxembourg or Lichtenstein." Lithuania would disappear and be replaced by a special zone around Kaunas, its capital during the interwar years. Yugoslavia would be partitioned between Croats and Serbs. Zhirinovsky would sanction the creation of a "Greater Bulgaria," which would include Macedonia and Thrace. Romania, it would appear, is to gain at Moldova's expense.

[H: Do I agree with such antics? Of course NOT. Every man, woman and child must have sovereignty AND THEN, EVERY STATE MUST HAVE SOVEREIGNTY AND EVERY "OTHER" STATE, NATION OR EMPIRE HAS TO STOP GOBBLING UP, DIVIDING UP AND KILLING OFF THAT WHICH IS NOT HIS TO DIVIDE. IT WOULD SEEM THAT AS LONG AS THERE IS MAN—HE WILL DESTROY, ENSLAVE AND PRONOUNCE HIS OWN EVIL UPON ALL OTHERS. NO, I CERTAINLY DO NOT AGREE WITH ANY OF THE MEASURES OUTLINED—"THAT", HOWEVER, DOES NOT MAKE MR. ZHIRINOVSKY THAT OF WHICH HE IS ACCUSED BY JACOB KIPP.]

Race figures prominently in LDP foreign policy. LDP ideologues speak of the yellowing, reddening and blackening of the world's population and even use the metaphor of a white Fay Wray in the hands of King Kong to describe the threat facing the white race. To avoid such a fate and preserve the white race's civilization, "which gives more than it receives," the LDP would challenge the dominant cosmopolitan order represented by the United States. [H: Read that again—I do you think this is a statement by a bigoted Zhirinovsky or a planting of poison hemlock seeds by one Jacob Kipp?] In its place, the LDP wants an international order of "parallel civilizations", the development of each being directed by a dominant regional power.

Zhirinovsky predicts the United States will collapse because of the internal contradictions stemming from its cosmopolitan character. [H: If not stemmed—IT WILL!] This crisis will force a weak and divided America to give up its leading role in defending the current world order and lead it to adopt its own version of the final thrust to the south, bringing Latin America under its authority. [H: Want to try to repeat or explain that one?]

CONTINUATION: THE ZHIRINOVSKY
THREAT, Part 3

by Jacob W. Kipp as presented in FOREIGN AFFAIRS, Vol. 73, No. 3:

THE ARMY TO THE RESCUE

H: BETTER PAY ATTENTION! THEY HAVE CAPABILITY AND A "LOT" OF NIFTY LITTLE ALIENS AS WELL.

[QUOTING:]

Zhirinovsky views the army as a potential ally in restoring order if it can be won over to the LDP. "I see such a Russia: she will have the most powerful army in the world, strategic rocket forces, our missiles with multiple warheads. Our space combat platforms [H: COSMOSPHERES], our spaceship Buran and our Energiya missiles—this will be the missile SHIELD of the country."

Zhirinovsky's approach to winning over the army is to mobilize the nation around a shared image of a "foreign enemy". For all practical purposes the enemies are the United States as a power and ZIONISM as an ideology. He is holding out future glories to the army through which it will be reborn. At the LDP's Third Congress, many speakers addressed the military and its fate. The LDP set out to use the politicization of the military to its own ends, seeking to discredit the government and the current military leadership. It played on the loss of prestige felt by the officer corps. K.N. Popov, a spokesman for the military in the LDP, talked about the collapse of discipline, tanks rusting in Siberia, warships that were not seaworthy and planes that could not fly. He criticized the current military commanders as mere businessmen. The only hope, he argued, was to spread the party's ideas among the "mid-level officer corps, where many are sympathetic to our ideas." The party's propagandists were instructed to take their message into the barracks and academies to gain support against a compromised military leadership. The implications of this position were made clear in another speech, when a naval officer spoke of the party's efforts to organize its own detachments within the armed forces.

In the election campaign for parliament the LDP, more than any other party, recruited candidates from the military—a total of ten candidates were listed as military servicemen or members of the Ministry of Internal Affairs. While some other parties recruited star candidates from among the established military leadership, the LDP chose mid-level officers, the strata that the LDP had identified as the military's center of gravity. [H: Superb observation.]

The LDP's efforts in the military paid off in the December elections for parliament. President Yeltsin attributed one-third of the vote within the military to the LDP. At a press conference he said, "We are worried about this and appropriate measures have been taken." These measures included a shake-up of the military leadership. The significance of these developments for Russian political stability should not be underestimated. Zhirinovsky and the LDP have penetrated the army from below to mount a challenge to the president's authority as commander in chief.

THE CHARISMA FACTOR

While the ideology and program of the Liberal Democratic Party are important guides to the popular appeal and intentions of the LDP, Zhirinovsky as a leader and symbol has much to do with the movement's success. There is no shortage of radical Red-Brown opponents to Yeltsin, but Zhirinovsky has been able to steal their thunder and emerge as the undisputed voice of the opposition. [H: Yes, and that IS IN SPITE of being refused any MEDIA recognition or time—AT ALL.] He cultivates the clown image to attract media attention, which he skillfully uses to his own ends. In an age of sound bites and shallow coverage, he is a powerful orator who speaks simply and persuasively to his constituency. [H: You patriots who are only discounted, disallowed hearing, disallowed judicial hearing and thus and so—probably should take lessons because you have it every bit as bad as it possibly could be in Russia—the suppression of all FREEDOM—HAS STARTED AND WILL CIRCLE RIGHT BACK TO GOOD OLD U.S.A.]

Zhirinovsky's propagandists present him as a man of the people, who understands their suffering and longing. As a Russian in Kazakhstan he found his path blocked by what he called "colonialism in reverse", so he had to develop his skills as a fighter and expend his energy in the process of entering into the political arena. He is depicted as the continual victim of distorted press reports: unfounded charges that he is a fascist, communist, drug abuser or KGB spy. Reading this propaganda, one is struck by the utter naivete of these representations and by his calculated image as a cult figure, whose power and appeal are vested in the masses themselves, who see in him the embodiment of their collective experience. [H: Doesn't that sound EXACTLY like an Anti-Defamation League B'nai B'rith use of insightful terms? Cult figure? Because Washington (George) said things about freedom and nation—was he a "cult" leader? Perhaps American Patriots might do well to become a cult—but do it one by one or something—because you certainly cannot just have churches and patriotic leaders. If you can't see what this writer and this writing is about, then I think we may as well stop trying to understand the TRUTH.]

The difficulty of containing threats such as those posed by Zhirinovsky has been poignantly captured by the Polish writer Adam Michnik:

Today Russia stands before a dramatic dilemma, to which no one has yet given a reasonable answer. What is better: Disrupt the rules of democracy and chase out the totalitarian parties while they are still sufficiently weak? Or respect the democratic order and open to these parties the road to power?

Russia, burdened with a young, weak democracy and staggering economic and social problems, does not have the capacity to resolve Michnik's "dramatic dilemma" alone. Nor does it stand alone as a potential victim of the Zhirinovsky threat.

[END OF QUOTING]

Readers, if this last paragraph doesn't scare you to death—nothing can. These are the foundations upon which ALL LAW, LEGISLATION, WARS, FOREIGN ASSISTANCE FOR YOUR OWN ENEMIES, ETC., IS BASED! IT HAS BEEN MADE SURE THAT THE RULING CLASS OF PEOPLE IN YOUR U.S.A.—ARE IN THE COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, WHICH TAKES ITS ORDERS FROM THE BASTARDS SET TO RULE THE WORLD—AND YOU SIT AND HONOR THE NERDS FOR THEIR HONORABLE PARTICIPATION IN SUCH A CLUB. MAY GOD HAVE MERCY!

Is this not all a lot like the movie, Schindler's List? How? Well that movie IS TAKEN FROM A FICTIONAL NOVEL—IT IS NOT A DOCUMENTARY. I note, however, that it immediately became not only a Zionist version of "truth" but a demand is now afoot and being enacted to CAUSE EVERY SCHOOLCHILD TO HAVE THIS "HISTORY" SHOWN IN HIS SCHOOLROOM AS PART OF HIS HISTORY LESSONS! IN OTHER WORDS, READERS, AS YOU ARE CAUSED BY LAW TO TAKE OUT ALL TRADITIONAL REFERENCE TO "CHRISTIAN" FROM YOUR SCHOOLS—YOU ARE NOW ORDERED BY LAW TO SHOW SOMETHING THAT IS ADMITTEDLY TOTALLY FICTIONAL TO YOUR CHILDREN. EVEN THE "JEWS" ARE MAD-AS-HELL and are trying to do something about it—but to come against the World Zionist Organization, The Jewish Leagues, the Politocrat One Worlders, ADL B'nai B'rith and a Zionists-controlled Congress—what prayer does a little group of non-recognized "Jews" have?

That movie was done with managed deception utilizing a hand-held camera technique and filmed in black and white—TO GIVE IT A "FEEL" OF A WARTIME DOCUMENTARY. People, you are feasting on hog-swill as is dished out to you by the Elite perpetrators. Why don't you stop apologizing for yourselves and stop this insane madness? You don't take up ARMS—you take up your pen and TRUTH—and bring it forth for the world to see. The evil-mongers CANNOT BEAR TRUTH! THEY ARE THE LIE AND CANNOT SURVIVE IN THE PRESENCE OF LIGHTED TRUTH—THEIR PLACES ARE IN THE DECEIT PITS OF LIES. I DO NOT "ASK" YOU TO BELIEVE ME—GO GET THE PROOF—IT ABOUNDS ABOUT YOU.

Tape No:

While we are at "lies", I am accused of lying, deceptive practices and outright thievery of stories and information. How can TRUTH be thefied? However, if you desire a bit of thought-provoking information—go for the "gusto" readers. The TRUTH was coming forth from one Peter Beter before the "big boys" threatened to kill his family and finally did get him.

I tell you there are "doubles" and "robotoids", "aliens" and Elite rulers? Yes indeed! Now they are all AMONG you and head up some of the neatest and meanest and most powerful committees on your planet.

Oh, but I said Mr. Kissinger "just isn't his original self"?? Yes I did. Henry and Nancy Kissinger were killed in a mid-air explosion over the Atlantic ocean on February 5, 1979. So WHO is that natty ruler of nations running about looking like Henry Kissinger? Indeed, World, you have some REAL problems.

Want a taste of others who AREN'T WHAT THEY "SEEM" TO BE? A nice person has bothered to take documents, research and historical information and offer the following.

This person just couldn't believe what his eyes and ears were telling him so he went and investigated—moreover, he shares a few "death" dates with us and I would like to share the information with you—just as it appears here. If, further, you wish the full information on things from aliens, shuttle take-outs, planned nuclear wars, etc., I suggest you get Dr. Beter's information. He got a whole lot of it directly from insiders—and ALIENS who KNEW.

If you still CAN'T BELIEVE—I suggest you go back and read about Montauk, Monarch, MK-Ultra, The Phoenix Project in Vietnam, Blue Beam and other "cute" operations whereby there is total genetic, DNA alterations, alien (as in "space") sellouts by your Government and on and on. It will certainly cause you, I HOPE, to question just WHO MIGHT BE PULLING STRINGS IF SO MANY OF THE RECOGNIZED PLAYERS ARE DUPLICATES. THERE IS SOMEONE PULLING THE PUPPET-STRINGS, GOOD FRIENDS—EVERY TIME.

ANONYMOUS CORRESPONDENCE

[H: I don't blame him.]

[QUOTING:]

The pabulum of the major media, T.V. and radio is certainly a very poor version of honest reporting and actually amounts to a form of traitorism for the citizens of this Republic.

Just who is "minding the store" these days?

From Dr. Peter Beter's audio tapes I have learned the following of which not a line has been in the newspapers or broadcast to my knowledge. If Dr. Beter is telling lies WHY HASN'T SOMEONE COME FORTH TO DE-CRY THEM?

Dr. Beter:

Most of the above have been replaced by some human doubles and lately by "Russian Robotoids". See: Tape #47, of June 1979.

Our base on the Moon was wiped out by the Russians on 9-27-77 and they made their 1st Moon landing on 10-16-77 (Letter 42). Charged particle beam weapons now are operational from many bases. CosmoSpheres are used. Re: DOUBLES, ROBOTIDS AND REPLICAS, SEE Phoenix Journal Express, Feb. 1, 1991, pages 14 and 15.

The regeneration of Robotoids is done at Camp David.

[END OF QUOTING]

Camp David is NOT, BY A LONG WAY, the only place where there is robotic regeneration. A lot of set-up is taken at Bethesda Naval Hospital and many other "ports". It is simply that Camp David is SO OBVIOUS I DON'T SEE HOW ANY OF YOU CAN MISS IT. Even Andy Rooney (last Sunday's 60 Minutes) tried to get in, get pictures or even just talk to somebody about Camp David. He ended up being the one under interrogation and all but got arrested. It still isn't as good as Area 51 and a few other prime vortex centers. Citizens—you are still living, mentally, in the DARK AGES! It is truly sad to witness.

I think you need a lunch-break, Dharma, before we go on. I think we need a rest because I think the audience may not be ready for—nor do you have the stamina to speak on—things like duplication, DNA-reproduced cloning, surface-barrier transistors and the like. This is so much more interesting and entertaining than simple old transistors, is it not, Dr. Young? Salu.

A Resounding "No!" To The U.N.

A.P.F.N. Fax Network
June 9, 1994

Oklahoma State Representative John Monks is more than just a bit upset with the direction the President and Congress have taken with regard to placing America's armed forces at the disposal of the United Nations. As a veteran with 30 years of service in active and reserve status with the U.S. Army, he is angered and alarmed by the deployment of U.S. troops throughout the world for the furtherance of U.N. objectives and in service of a "new world order." As a senior State Legislator he decided he had not only the opportunity but the duty to do something about it.

On March 28th, the Oklahoma House of Representatives adopted Resolution No. 1047 by Representative Monks memorializing Congress to cease funding and engaging in any UN military activities and to cease support of the establishment of any form of global government (see below). The document will be presented to the clerk of the U.S. House of Representatives, the secretary of the U.S. Senate, and each member of the Oklahoma congressional delegation. Monks knows that the resolution has no binding authority, but told The New American he believes actions like this are necessary to let the politicians in Washington know that "there is no popular support for these UN military operations and, in fact, considerable opposition to our growing involvement in them."

With 24 years in office, John Monks is one of the "deans" of the State Legislature: only one other current member of the 101-member House has served as long. A democrat, he represents Muskogee ("where even squares can have a ball") and rural, small-town, eastern Oklahoma. He is chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee and an active member of the Disabled American Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion.

Monks said he didn't find any opposition to the measure and very quickly signed on 45 co-sponsors. "It fit pretty much with the current mood here concerning the federal government," he said, noting that the Legislature had just voted down a mandatory motorcycle helmet law for adults, even though Washington had threatened to cut off $2 million in federal highway funds if it did so. "I think a lot of people and a lot of State Legislators around the country are getting sick of this kind of blackmail and all of these federal mandates," he said.

In introducing the resolution, Monks told The New American, "I simply explained that the purpose of the United States military is to protect the life, liberty, and property of U.S. citizens and to defend this nation against insurrection or foreign invasion, not promote an agenda for some 'new world order'." No one disagreed; it passed on a voice vote without any dissent.

—William F. Jaspisk

Resolution of the House of Representatives of the State of Oklahoma

WHEREAS, President Clinton has affirmed that his foreign policy regarding the deployment of the United States military forces under the authority of the United Nations will bear little change from that of his predecessor; and

WHEREAS, the constitutional role of the United States military is to protect the life, liberty and property of United States citizens and to defend our nation against insurrection or foreign invasion; and

WHEREAS, the United States is an independent sovereign nation and not a tributary of the United Nations; and

WHEREAS, there is no popular support for the establishment of a "new world order" or world sovereignty of any kind either under the United Nations or under any world body in any form of global government; and

WHEREAS, global government would mean the destruction of our Constitution and corruption of the spirit of the Declaration of Independence, our freedom, and our way of life.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the 2nd session of the 44th Oklahoma Legislature:

That the United States Congress is hereby memorialized to:

1. Cease the appropriation of United States funds for any military activity not authorized by Congress;
2. Cease engagement in any military activity under the authority of the United Nations or any world body;
3. Cease the rendering of aid to any activity or engagement under the jurisdiction of the United Nations or any world body; and
4. Cease any support for the establishment of a "new world order" or to any form of global government.

That the United States Congress is hereby memorialized to refrain from taking any further steps toward the economic or political merger of the United States into a world body or any form of world government.

III.

The Defendants are those whose duty it is to manage and direct the tax laws of the United States of America and whose actions are controlled by statute and the United States Constitution and include, the agency itself the Internal Revenue Service, the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, District Directors, and all delegated agents with authority under the Internal Revenue Code to officiate in the proper administration of the laws of the United States.

IV.

This action was brought by the plaintiffs as a class action, on their own behalf and on behalf of all others similarly situated, under the provisions of Rules 23(a) and 23(b)(1), (2), and (3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, for declaratory relief pursuant to 5 USC 702 under which no monetary relief is sought however the case in controversy could impact on millions of dollars, and relief incident and subordinate thereto, including costs and attorneys' fees. This action seeks declaratory relief in the form of a declaration by this court as to the proper administration of specific statutes so as to cause the defendants, who for lack of communication with the plaintiff, have in many cases refused to obey and have ignored the strict guidelines of the statutes and the Constitution.

V.

The class so represented by plaintiffs in this action, and of which plaintiffs are themselves members, consists of any and all Americans who have experienced abuse by the Internal Revenue Service and/or its agents. More particularly from actions which have been inconsistent with the strict letter of the law and its fair and just operation as indicated by the intent of Congress and the record of their proceedings. This is not a case against the fair collection of taxes and the honoring of the laws as established. This is not a suit to prohibit the collection of taxes as prohibited under 26 USC 7421 (Anti-Injunction Act). This is not an action regarding taxes thus precluding 28 USC Section 2201 which does not apply. It is a non-monetary action (5 USC 702) to seek declaratory relief from the District Court with regards to the procedure, conduct and behavior of the IRS, its Commissioner, Directors and delegated agents.

VI.

The exact number of members of the class, as herein above identified and described, is not known, but is estimated that there are not less than 20,000 members and could number in the millions. The class is so numerous that joinder of individual members herein is impracticable.

VII.

There are common questions of law and fact in the action that relate to and affect the rights of each member of the class and the relief sought which are common to the entire class, namely, that to deprive, seize, levy, distraint, take away, without notice or adequate notice and a right to be heard, by administrative appeal, such property, assets and freedom from individuals without consideration to Due Process and Equal Protection found in the Constitution of the United States and those safeguards built into the statutes and Constitution of the United States, is contrary to the authority extended under those statutes.

VIII.

The claims of plaintiffs, whose representatives of the class herein are typical of the claims of the class, in that the claims of all members of the class, including plaintiffs, depend on a showing of the acts and omissions of defendants giving rise to the right of plaintiffs to the relief sought herein. There is no conflict as between any individual named plaintiff and other members of the class with respect to this action, or with respect to claims for relief herein set forth.

IX.

The named plaintiffs are the representative parties for the class, and are able to, and will, fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class. The attorneys for the plaintiffs are experienced and capable in litigation in the field of Constitutional law, taxation and civil rights and have successfully represented claimants in other litigations of this nature. Of the attorneys designed as counsel for plaintiffs Paul J. Young will actively conduct and be responsible for plaintiffs' case herein.

X.

This action is properly maintained as a class action inasmuch as the defendants herein, all of whom oppose the class, have acted or refused to act, as hereinafter more specifically alleged, on grounds which are applicable to the class, and have by reason of such conduct, made appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the entire class, as sought in this action.

FIRST COUNT

In 1993 the Government Accounting Office (hereinafter GAO) concluded its own audit of the Internal Revenue Service (hereinafter IRS). The results of that audit were published to Congress and made a part of the record thereof. Pursuant to that record it was discovered that the audit was not complete. The reason given was that the systems of the IRS were not fully operational and for that reason only approximately one-third of the actual records could be reviewed. Even though it was only a portion of the records the audit revealed a great deal about how much the IRS was having problems with its own accounting practices and principals. The plaintiffs wish to present to this court substantial evidence that will show that the behavior discovered by the GAO is not inconsistent with the behavior of the IRS personnel in the field as they administer the guidelines. Plaintiffs allege that the GAO audit was necessary and that the people of the United States as a right should have the audit repeated and the results published and available for scrutiny by the general public at large.

SECOND COUNT

The IRS is charged and authorized to administer the tax laws of this country. However, Congress has given guidelines and safeguards which have been upheld by the judiciary to insure that Constitutional rights, such as the right to privacy, right to due process, and right to equal protection under the laws are honored and respected. There has developed a certain frustration between the body of taxpayers as represented by the plaintiffs and the agency which is charged with collecting the taxes. This suit does not attack the rightness or fairness of any tax nor the right of the government to collect it. What it does attack however is the behavior and conduct of the IRS and its agents in how this collection is being accomplished. In the subsequent counts the plaintiffs will refer to specific incidents where communications and conduct between the IRS and plaintiffs has broken down. This has resulted in abuses by the IRS, which under the color of law and the authority which its agents control, has been able to extract revenues in ways which plaintiffs allege were not intended by Congress. As such, upon presentation of specific facts and evidence, plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment from this court that the law is to be followed as it appears on its face and that deviations are unauthorized.

THIRD COUNT

That pursuant to 26 USC Section 6331 there is a correct method to levy against property and that to do so according to paragraph (d) of that section requires proper notice to be given. The notice required prior to levy must meet the requirements of (d) (2) through (4) including in particular subparts (4) (A) through (F). Among other things prior to property being levied upon the property owner/taxpayer must be given the notice that he could execute an installment agreement under 26 USC Section 6159. Also under subpart (C) an administrative appeals may be made available to the taxpayer "with respect to such levy and sale". Plaintiffs allege that rarely are such notices given with the complete information on them and that violation of this rule has become so wide spread that it has become standard procedure to obviate the necessary elements of due process and strike directly at the home. Plaintiffs ask only that the court declare, based on a preponderance of the evidence, that regardless of the present situation between agents and Americans that they placed under declaratory judgment the true procedures, as outlined in the statutes, the United States Constitution, and approved by Congress.

FOURTH COUNT

That pursuant to 26 USC 6334 (a)(13) and (e) there is a correct procedure in seizing someones home for taxes owing and that the procedure set forth has certain exemptions. Plaintiffs allege that the defendants have not been following such a procedure. Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment so as to assert the proper procedure and to insure that all parties correctly observe the safeguards.

FIFTH COUNT

That the powers entrusted with the IRS which are contained under Title 26 of the Code and the 16th Amendment of the Constitution have not been the only powers used by the IRS in accomplishing its collection objectives. Plaintiffs allege that the IRS in its collection activities has illegally used sections of the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms portion of the United States Code under Title 27, amongst others, as though they were with the same authority as granted under Title 26 and subject to some discretionary power yet to be attained through any proper delegation from Congress. Plaintiffs will present evidence and testimony pursuant to the allegations under this count the substance of which is to demonstrate an inappropriate use of the statutes and law contrary to the original intent of Congress and which in fact will demonstrate a use which is beyond the original intent of Congress. Plaintiffs will ask the court to issue a declaratory judgment that will confine of each title to the extent that it is shown and that it appears that Congress intended and restrict any such application which goes beyond the reasonable interpretation of those statutes and laws. Plaintiffs will show by evidence and testimony where such deviations exist.

SIXTH COUNT

The IRS has also seized 100% of the wages and property of certain Americans in a practice which affects all plaintiffs whereas under 26 USC 6334 (a)(9) and (d)(1)-(3) there is provided a standard deduction which allows a minimum of funds to be available to support and feed the family during periods in which the IRS is seeking to collect unpaid taxes and/or penalties. The plaintiffs would ask this court to issue a declaratory judgment in that the law is clear, and that the taxpayer has a right to at the very least an existence.

SEVENTH COUNT

Plaintiffs ask for declaratory judgment that the IRS not be permitted to compel citizens to perform services and give up resources without just compensation. The completion of tax forms and keeping of payroll records and accounts on behalf of employees after a business has been closed by the IRS is tantamount to peonage or inequitable servitude.

EIGHTH COUNT

There have been numerous reports of the IRS not responding to reasonable inquiries by the plaintiffs. Questions regarding the law and which statutes are specifically involved, when and if an administrative hearing is appropriate, how an assessment has been derived, where does the information for the assessment come from, whether or not the figures are based on the Department of Labor Statistics and not really on the actual income of the "taxpayers", all of which have not been answered or have been responded to with simple form letters containing no substance. Plaintiffs seek declaratory judgment based on the statutes and the law as to the responsibility of the IRS to be open and honest with taxpayers and to be responsible for giving true, correct, and straight forward information.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray, for themselves and all other members of the class:

1. That the rights of class members to having the procedures of the law declared by this court to be correct and the proper function of those rules specified based on a review of the statutes and United States Constitution and as such the rights be adjudicated and declared;

2. That the defendants be restrained and enjoined from any collection activities which are contrary to the guidelines set forth in the statutes;

3. That plaintiffs be awarded reasonable attorneys fees.

4. That declaratory judgments be issued where appropriate to identify the proper behavior and conduct of the IRS and its delegated authorities with regards to the interests and rights of Americans.

5. That plaintiffs have such other relief as to the court may seem appropriate, including costs and expenses.

Noahide Laws Revisited: Zionist Talmud Scare

6/12/94 #1 HATONN

Our job here is to offer you myriads of pieces of insight as quickly as possible and then offer you confirmation of those truths as they become available—either before or after the fact of a given incident. That which in the past "seemed" to be outrageous science-fiction is now becoming evolved FACT but YOU had to grow enough to see and hear. Every day, now, the confirmations flow in to the point we have hardly time to offer them to you and the paper would swell to ten times its already overwhelming size. We shall attend that also, as we can, but meanwhile—we do that which we CAN.

Along these lines in this writing I will share some things which arrive to my attention this very morning. Many, just like YOU, find some things to be so outrageous when we offer them to you that it is often months, years even, before confirmation can be found and then "shock" sets in. Even in this one day's receivings of mail there is too much to even consider all for sharing, but I believe the one regarding the Noahide Laws as having become U.S. LAW is worthy of first note. This has received more denial than almost all other subjects other than "Jesus" references—of which we have another lengthy diatribe about our lack of biblical knowledge. I respect and honor this person who has researched and written many pages "proving" the Jesus story and us to be New Age. The only source, of course, for his most eloquent dissertation is from the book called Bible as he is a minister of the Christian Faith. Please, I do not denounce your choices—I only ask that if you can be open enough to hear other truth—that you pay attention to possibilities of usurpation of your texts for other than Godly purposes. I AM NOT NEW AGE! This one statement of that writer proves he has not availed himself of my dictations for I have said many, many times that this which you call "New Age" will be the death of your planet as it is the basis (quite physically and humanistically oriented, even though you hug trees, etc.) upon which the ONE WORLD RELIGION WILL BE BASED—AND THAT WILL BE, IN TURN, TOTALLY ORIENTED TO WHAT YOU MIGHT NOW CALL "ANTI-CHRIST". Unfortunately, unless integrated in the infinite realization of the infinite soul being—there CAN BE NO BALANCE IN YOUR EXPRESSION. It is God expression in thought energy which allows for CREATION and it is SOUL ENERGY WITH GOD WHICH ALLOWS FOR INFINITE LIFE.

A discussion of that correspondence in bit-by-bit consideration would be the most important offering of the day and, yet, because of pressures, we will need to first consider these other inputs while hopefully the spiritual correspondence will not be lost to the entropy heap.

I may well offer spiritual teachings—but I am not intended as your SPIRITUAL TEACHER as total focus any more than "Jesus" was your total political teacher. It is the "Christ" knowingness and consciousness which is in focus here—not a man—and THIS is the part which is hard to accept or understand—even though your BIBLES will tell you as much.

I am always interested in those who disclaim the possibility of your experiencing more than "once"—when the man Jesus, himself your guide for so many, said he would be back and you expect him to do so. He also said, "All these things I do you can do—and more." Must you be so selective as to exclude one while touting the other? Just as with the Master Teachers, however, if you fail to attend ALL of the offerings in teachings—how can you base knowledge on the fragmented out-of-context bits and portions you CHOOSE to look at? It is fine if you do otherwise, but it is not my business. And, have I not the RIGHT to "interpret" a passage the same as you?—in any book including the Bible? Why am I discounted when another is "accounted" as valid? Because I claim, somehow, to come from "out there" somewhere? Well, where is this Master Christ Jesus you await? You do not recognize his presence WITHIN at all times as you are perched on an assumed location Earthbound—OR YOU WOULD NOT BE EXPECTING HIM "BACK" FROM "SOMEWHERE" "OUT THERE"! Furthermore, if you READ ALL THE INSTRUCTIONS, it will CLEARLY present to you from these teachings you continue to quote to me as if I know them not—that HIS messengers, his angels, etc., would return to make ready a "landing place" (to paraphrase). I also have the right to paraphrase as ALL YOU PREACHERS DO! Further, God accounts for HIS angels and messengers—how is it that YOU CAN NOT? How did YOU think it would be? Where did YOU perceive it would happen? WHEN did YOU think these things would be fulfilled as to prophecy? HOW DO YOU KNOW SO SURELY THAT I AM NOT VALID?—FOR I AM! If, further, YOU read and study all that I have offered with my brethren—it is THERE and you will find nothing lacking in my presentation. God's enemies recognize me for the valid being I AM—but those who CLAIM to be the followers of "Christ" cannot?? Why might this be? I think it might be wise to ponder upon this circumstance.

NOAHIDE LAWS

FROM: "Sincerely, kindly don't mention my name as I have enough trouble already."

Dear "Sincerely", we understand your "trouble already" and thank you for sharing with us. We, in same reference, have so MANY troubles already that one more is not going to matter much!

The correspondence [QUOTING]:

May 29, 1994

Dear Sirs:

I have some information to share with you that throws considerable light on the "seven Noahide Laws" whose enactment as the "law of the land" you mentioned earlier in CONTACT. When Congress voted that resolution endorsing these laws as the "highest moral standard", etc., you reported this as an attempt to make Judaism the State religion. That didn't quite ring true to me as I saw no follow-thru on this. There was no attempt to teach these laws in school or impose them on Christian Churches. The Laws seemed to be a "dead letter" and no more, a resolution to please a special group but meaning nothing.

But this is not the case. I found the answer to this mystery in the Nation of Islam's book: The Secret Relationship Between Blacks and Jews on page 202. This page starts the chapter on "Slavery in the Jewish Law" and summarized the TALMUDIC laws regarding slavery.

A Jew is permitted to enslave a non-Jew. Indeed, in another part of the TALMUD it specifies that the reason GOD created non-Jewish humans was so that the Holy Race (Jews) would "not be served by animals only". [H: Interesting since the very term "Jew" was not conjugated until the 18th century and along with it came "Zionist" to be used widely in the 19th—and especially—in the 20th century. The possibly more interesting point, however, is that the TALMUD is not and never was a supposedly GOD-GIVEN document—it is written by and touted as the laws of the Elders of the "Jewish" faith. So you have a man-made book of rules and laws for a man-self-proclaimed grouping of people who assume whatever they wish as to race, creed and color and proclaim themselves to be non-Christian in every manner possible—THE ANTI-CHRIST! Why am I or any man considered a heretic, hate-monger or otherwise to restate WHAT THEY HAVE ALREADY STATED? They claim us to be hateful "anti-Semites" at every political turn. Anti-Semite?? I AM A SEMITE AND MOST OF YOU ARE LIKEWISE. THIS GROUP OF TALMUDIC ZIONIST JEWS—ARE NOT OF THE SEMITES—NEVER WERE! THEY SIMPLY TURN LIES AND PRESENT THEM AS TRUTH—AND WHAM, BAM, THANK YOU GOOD PEOPLE—IT BECOMES ENFORCED BY LAW, ACCEPTED—WHETHER YOU LIKE IT OR NOT.] However, a Jew is required to convert a slave to the Jewish religion. If the slave refuses to convert, the Jew is required to sell him after a year. Then comes the sentence: "In order to keep an uncircumcised slave, the slave must agree to obey the seven commandments of the descendants of Noah." This is what we agreed to do when "our" representatives in Congress voted to make the seven Noahide Laws the Law of the Land! This resolution, far from being a dead letter, is the religious, legal and moral basis for the Jews to keep the American people as their slaves!

Another interesting bit of religious symbolism is the six pointed star and the Israeli flag. [H: Please think back, HARD, readers, and see how many of you have heard me tell you this several times.] The latter (flag) looks like a towel. It has two blue stripes with the six pointed star of Zionism in the middle. What this refers to is the promise from Genesis that the seed of Israel shall be given all the land "from the river of Egypt unto the Euphrates". The two blue stripes on the flag represent the Nile and Euphrates Rivers. The Zionist star between the rivers is self explanatory. The Israeli flag is a claim to most of the Middle East: Syria, Lebanon, much of Iraq, Jordan and the whole Arabian Peninsula!

The six pointed star is NOT the "Star of David". Its first appearance is on the coins of Herod the Great who built the great Temple and it is a symbol of his Empire WHICH WAS THE GREATEST JEWISH EMPIRE SINCE DAVID. IN THE 9TH century it was painted on the shield of DAVID EL ROY (DAVID THE KING), a KHAZAR JEW who led a failed Zionist crusade to recapture the holy city of Jerusalem. The six pointed star is thus not the symbol of Jewry, rather it represents one faction of Jewry: the Zionist heresy.

Since the above was written, Khalid Mohammed was shot, in California, with the heads of major Zionist organizations in New York cheering on the crime. Jews believe in free speech only for themselves and cry foul whenever anyone exposes their crimes. It was from the book above that Khalid Mohammed was quoting when the Jews accused him of "hate" rhetoric. [H: Now THAT is interesting because when speaking the portion about the slaves, etc., HE WAS QUOTING FROM THE TALMUD! THE REST IS WELL-KNOWN TO HISTORIANS.]

"Hate" to "Jews" is "...anyone revealing their crimes to the public." The insane Jewish hatred of humanity is never called "hate" in THEIR press—and THEIR press IS THE MONOPOLY press in America—[H: And

NOW, around the globe!]

[END JF QUOTING]

I cannot strongly enough urge you to get this volume—I don't care what creed, color, race or even if a "pretend" being you might be. It ranks in information and interest right up there with history books of the highest calibre.

How do I know? Because it is fully referenced and almost all the information comes directly from JEWISH RESOURCES!

Notes On Prophecy By Scallion & Cayce

6/12/94 #1 & #2 HATONN

CHANGES

I have already written about "changes", how it IS, and on more subjects than we can name. I shall not focus on revelations or fortune-telling—now or ever. I have also given you the possibilities of finding very good information and speculation persons to attend. Why do I say "speculation"? Because information is given to receivers which is valid, timely (even seeming to be prophetic and often IS) and worthy of extensive attention. Why would ONE person at this keyboard be the ONLY set of fingers to offer such insight? Dharma doesn't even claim to be anything, not psychic, not anything save a typist. Well, she is more, but she remembers not and it is fine for she does her job and others are supposed to do theirs.

FOR INSTANCE: GORDON-MICHAEL SCALLION

I have told you before to pay attention to his offerings—he is valid to the extent he can be. [Editor's note: For more information on Gordon-Michael Scallion's visions, see his monthly Earth Changes Report; call: 603-399-4916 or write: Matrix Institute, P.O. Box 87, Westmoreland, NH 03467. And tell them CONTACT sent you!] He does not input man-controlled properties into his projections to any great extent so he does what a good receiver should do—he projects what he sees and is told and allows the time to fulfill the expectations. No one is going to know the moment of such massive upheavals as he can see coming. I do not focus on the one with him for that is not MY task—to evolve or chart courses for all psychicallygifted humans—or for that matter, aliens or robotoids.

If you have not been made privy to Scallion's map after projected upheavals (of the U.S.), I suggest you avail yourselves of a copy and study it carefully. Then I suggest you go back and read SIPAPU ODYSSEY [see Back Page for ordering information]. Doris thought herself to simply be writing a dialogue for a movie script—but I think you will find it most interesting relative to other "reports". I will always effort to give you insight as presented to me as to urgent warnings but I remind you—the time for preparation against all things expected is NOW since you can't do it yesterday, if indeed you did not. Yes, readers, the major thrust beyond writing here in this location is for later circumstances as expected—to establish good business of a major VARIETY of talents and product—for both survival beyond major changes of the Earth itself and against a need to sustain during and after upheavals of political change.

There WILL BE change—even if only toward more negative circumstance. But "HERE" the job is not to chart human maps and predict individual places of either physical safety or maturity. We do this as we can do so—but guidance must be an individual feeling of truth and thrust—not based on what Jr. is doing or Mary Jones is doing down the street—unless, of course, they have kept informed and you haven't bothered! GET PREPARED FOR WHATEVER IS PROJECTED AND EXPECTED IN YOUR LOCATION. IN COASTAL CALIFORNIA IT IS OBVIOUSLY FOR MAJOR EARTH SHAKINGS AND YOU HAVE HAD WARNING AFTER WARNING AND THAT IS THE BEST ANY BEING CAN DO FOR YOU.

Let's move on now to information which even I find most interesting. I have NO information as to who sent this so the best I can do is document resource exactly as it appears—and HOPE it will keep us out of the court!

I shall really "try" to keep out of this because it comes from Edgar Cayce and he did quite well before I came along to play in the word-games.

[QUOTING:]

THE TIME AND TIMES AND HALF TIMES ARE AT AN END

by Edgar Cayce

Excerpted by Sybil Huffman

FOR: Sponsoring Members of the ASSOCIATION FOR RESEARCH AND ENLIGHTENMENT, INCORPORATED. Virginia Beach, Virginia, April 1957.

[H: Keep this in mind as you read along. This compilation was done a-way back in Spring 1957 but the readings are all the way back to the early 1930s. That in itself should shake you up—LOTS!]

294-D-70 6-30-36

These CHANGES IN THE EARTH will come to pass, for the time and times and half times (Rev. 12:14) are at an end, and there begin those periods for the readjustments. For how hath He given? "The righteous shall inherit the Earth."

Hast thou, my brethren, a heritage in the Earth?

364-Sc-3 6-28-32

Q-10. He said He would come again. What about His second coming?

A-10. The time no one knows. Even as He gave, not even the Son Himself. Only the Father. Not until His enemies—and the Earth—are wholly in subjection to His will, His powers.

Q-11. Are we entering the period of preparation for His coming?

A-11. Entering the test period (1932), rather.

262-49 7-9-33

Q-3. What is meant by "the day of the Lord is near at hand"?

A-3. That as has been promised through the prophets and the sages of old, the time—and half time—has been and is being fulfilled in this day and generation, and that soon there will again appear in the Earth that one through whom many will be called to meet those that are preparing the way for His day in the Earth. [H: Hummmnn-nn!] The Lord, then, will come, "even as ye have seen Him go."

Q-4. How soon?

A-4. When those that are His have made the way clear, passable, for Him to come.

5749-4 8-6-33

For, He shall come as ye have seen Him go, in the body He occupied in Galilee. The body that He formed, that was crucified on the Cross, that rose from the tomb, that walked by the sea, that appeared to Simeon, that appeared to Philip, that appeared to I, even John.

Q-7. When Jesus the Christ comes the second time, will He set up His kingdom on Earth and will it be an everlasting kingdom?

A-7. Read His promises in that ye have written of His words (Holy Bible), even as I gave. He shall rule for a thousand years. Then shall Satan be loosed again for a season.

Don't think that there will not be trouble, but those who put their trust wholly in the Lord will not come up missing—but will find conditions, circumstances, activities, somehow and somehow, much to be thankful for.

3976-15 1-19-34

As to the changes physical again: the Earth will be broken up in the western portion of America.

The greater portion of Japan must go into the sea.

The upper portion of Europe will be changed as in the twinkling of an eye.

Land will appear off the East Coast of America.

There will be the upheavals in the Arctic and in the Antarctic that will make for the eruption of volcanoes in the Torrid areas, and there will be the shifting then of the poles—so that where there has been those of a frigid or the semi-tropical will become the more tropical and moss and fern will grow.

And these will begin in those periods in '58 to '98, when these will be proclaimed as the periods when His Light will be seen again in the clouds. [H: Hummmnnnnnn—rainbow lights maybe?]

As to times, as to seasons, as to places, alone is it given to those who have named the Name—and who bear the Mark of those of His calling and His election in their bodies. To them it shall be given.

Q-1. What are the world changes to come physically?

A-1. The Earth will be broken up in many places. The early portion will see a change in the physical aspect of the West Coast of America.

There will be open waters appear in the northern portions of Greenland.

There will be new lands seen off the Caribbean Sea, and dry land will appear.

There will be the falling away in India of much of the material suffering that has been brought on a troubled people.

(There will be the reduction of one risen to power in central Europe to naught. The young king son will reign.)

In America, in the political forces, we see a re-stabilization of the powers of the peoples in their own hands—a breaking up of the rings, the cliques, in many places. [H: This should give you joy!]

South America shall be shaken from the uppermost portion to the end, and in the Antarctic off the Tierra del Fuego land, and a strait with rushing waters. [Funk & Wagnalls New College Standard Dictionary, 1947: Tierra del Fuego. An archipelago south of South America, belonging to Chile and to the Argentine Republic; separated from the mainland by the Strait of Magellan.]

Q-2. To what country is the reference made regarding the young king?

A-2. Germany.

A-4. Explain the relation between the information just given regarding Germany and the changes for this year (1934), and the information already given through this channel on Hitler.

A-4 Read that, my children, that has been given: that there was, the destiny for the man, if he did not allow imperialism to enter in—and it is entering—hence must be called into question.

Q. What great change or the beginning of what change, if any, is to take place in the Earth in the year 2000 to 2001 A.D.?

A. When there is a shifting of the poles. Or a new cycle begins. [H: Please, thoughtful ponderers—there is, after all, the word "or" in the preceding.]

270-B-26 1936

Q-20. What is the primary cause of earthquakes? Will San Francisco suffer from such a catastrophe this year (1936)? [H: Boy, you guys surely don't change much, do you? Still are wanting fortune-tellers!]

A-20. We do not find that this particular district (San Francisco) in the present year will suffer the great material damages that have been experienced heretofore. While portions of the country will be affected, we find these will be farther east than San Francisco—or those south, where there has not been heretofore the greater activity.

The causes of these, of course, are the movements about the Earth, that is, internally—and the cosmic activity or influence of other planetary forces and stars and their relationships produce or bring about the activities of the elementals of the Earth, that is, the Earth, the Air, the Fire, the Water—and these combinations make for the replacements in the various activities.

If there are the greater activities in [Mounts] Vesuvius or Pelee, then the southern coast of California—and the areas between Salt Lake and the southern portions of Nevada—may expect, within the three months following same, an inundation (caused) by the earthquakes. But these, as we find, are to be more in the Southern than in the Northern Hemisphere.

311-MS-7 4-9-32

Q-12. How soon will the changes in the Earth's activity begin to be apparent?

A-12. When there is the first breaking up of some conditions in the South Sea (that's South Pacific, to be sure), and those as apparent in the sinking or rising of that which is almost opposite to it, or in the Mediterranean, and the [Mount] Etna area. Then we may know it has begun.

Q-14. Will there be any physical changes in the Earth's surface in North America? If so, what sections will be affected, and how?

A-14. All over the country we will find many physical changes of a minor or greater degree. The greater change, as we will find, in America, will be the North Atlantic Seaboard. Watch New York!

Q-16. What, if any, changes will take place around Norfolk area, Virginia?

A-16. No material, that would be effective to the area, other than would eventually become more beneficial—in a port, or the like.

311-MS-8 8-6-32

Q-29. Are there to be physical changes in the Earth's surface in Alabama?

A-29. Not for some period yet.

Q-30. When will the changes begin?

A-30. Thirty-six to thirty-eight.

Q-31. What part of the State will be affected?

A-31. The northwestern part, and the extreme southwestern part.

311-MS-9 11-19-32

Q-14. Are the physical changes in Alabama predicted for 1936-38 to be gradual or sudden changes?

A-14. Gradual.

Q-15. What form will they take?

A-15. To be sure, that may depend upon much that deals with metaphysical as well as what people call actual or in truth! For, as understood—or should be [understood] by the entity—there are those conditions that in the activity of individuals, in line of thought and endeavor, keep oft many a city and many a land intact through their application of the spiritual laws in their associations with individuals. This will take more of the form here in the change, as we find, through the sinking of portions, with the following up of the inundations by this overflow.

Q-16. When will the physical changes start in Norfolk and vicinity?

A-16. This would be nearer to '58 than to '38 or '36, as we find.

5541-2 7-27-32

With the years that are to come, conditions that are to arise, as we find, eventually—and this within the next 30 years (1932-62)—Norfolk, with its environs, is to be the chief port on the East Coast, this not excepting Philadelphia or New York; the second being rather in the New England area.

[H: Right here I want to stop and REMIND YOU OF YOUR LESSONS! Why does it appear that these "prophets" or "seers" are "OFF"? They aren't. What happens is that YOU don't understand "time" or "space" except as you count it in some calendar measurements. A person, such as Cayce "sees" and he DOES NOT "see" in calendar pictures. A receiver—sees what is happening—and it is ALWAYS connected to sequential happenings. If the questions were different such as "how and when do you see this happening?" you would get more generalization and "descriptive" responses. However, a direct question in YOUR vocabulary is voiced and the energy is obligated to effort to respond AS ASKED. This is exactly WHY I will not answer, longer, your questions as to exact time of anything. I will offer what others seem to see or think and if it is in the general area of what I see and expect—we'll offer what we can. The point, readers, is the general concept and ongoing sequential events—and IT IS THOSE FOR WHICH YOU MUST PREPARE. At the least, you will have some supplies on hand and can feel a bit of comfort every time your geologists tell you to expect the "Big One".

I "personally" do not even care what "John" was given for it only gave others a chance to have their own versions of the "visions". I suggest we simply go with the promises of GOD! Then, and only then, can you have valid expectations. And, furthermore, you can CREATE a different and far more pleasant and beautiful changeover.]

Q-3. What is the future of Virginia Beach?
A-3. This, as we find, would require a great deal of speculation on the part of individuals. As we would find, and as we would give, of all the resorts that are in the East Coast, Virginia Beach will be the first and the longest-lasting of the increasing of the population, valuation, and activities. Hence, as we would give, the future is good.

1152-MS-3 1941

As to conditions in the geography of the world, of the country, changes here are gradually coming about.

Many portions of the East Coast will be disturbed, as well as many portions of the West Coast, as well as the central portion of the United States.

In the next few years, lands will appear in the Atlantic as well as in the Pacific. And what is the coast line now of many a land will be the bed of the ocean. Even many of the battle fields of the present (1941) will be ocean, will be the seas, the bays, the lands over which the new order will carry on their trade as one with another.

Portions of the now East Coast of New York, or New York City itself, will in the main disappear. This will be another generation, though, here; while the southern portions of Carolina, Georgia, these will disappear. This will be much sooner.

The waters of the lakes (Great Lakes) will empty into the Gulf (Gulf of Mexico), rather than the waterway over which such discussions have been recently made....

Then the area where the entity (1152) is now located (Virginia Beach) will be among the safety lands, as will be portions of what is now Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, and much of the southern portion of Canada, and the eastern portion of Canada; while the western land, much of that is to be disturbed, in this land, as, of course, much in other lands.

Q. Virginia Beach is to be safe, then?

A. It is the center, and the only seaport and center, of the White Brotherhood. [H: VERY IMPORTANT POINT!]

948-3 6-28-40

Before that the entity was in the Atlantean land during the period of the second breaking up, when the islands—or Poseidia—became the main portion of the activities....

In that experience the entity was among the children of the Law of One who accepted and forsook much of those activities because of its close associations and companionships with one of the sons of Belial.

This brought consternation to the entity, and also those influences the application or use of which brought destruction to the land.

And Poseidia will be among the first portions of Atlantis to rise again. Expect it in sixty-eight and sixty-nine.

364-3 2-16-32

The position as the continent Atlantis occupied, is that as between the Gulf of Mexico on the one hand and the Mediterranean upon the other. Evidences of this lost civilization are to be found in the Pyrenees and Morocco on the one hand; British Honduras, Yucatan and America upon the other. There are some protruding portions within this that must have at one time or another been a portion of this great continent. The British West Indies or the Bahamas, and a portion of same that may be seen in the present—if the geological survey would be made in some of these—especially, or notably, in Bimini [Funk & Wagnalls New College Standard Dictionary, 1947: Bimini. Either of two small islands of the Bahama group, fabled to contain "the fountain of youth" sought by Ponce de Leon.] [H: Also around the general area of what is recognized as the Devil's Triangle. You have not the remotest idea what is going on "down there" under the sea, so I suggest you not mark this one off just because you didn't "see" a continent rising out of the sea.]

587-4 7-1-35

Q-5. Could the well in Bimini be promoted and reconstructed?

A-5. There has been much given through this source as to how that particular portion of what was the Atlantean period might be developed. While it would make for much outlay in money, as ordinarily termed, there are certain interests that would join in such an undertaking. For it could be established as a center for two particular purposes—a regeneration for those with certain types of individual ailments (not only from the well, or water from same, but from the surrounding waters—because of the life in same) [H: That "Life" happens to be cells we call "drias" from which is derived Galandriana (drianas and drios) along with other such adaptable and frequency-alterable life-forms. Because of the totally negative reasons for searching these places for greedy purposes of total humanistic expression—the presentation of such assistance has come through other channels than that area. The search for the gold is all but legendary and many a wanton group has been lost to the "devil" in those waters.] and a center for archaeological research. And, as such activities are begun, there will be found much more gold in the lands under the sea than there is in the world circulation today!

And as to how, this should be considered seriously from many varied angles that exist. For, as understood, there are those conditions as related to the varied powers that are "in power" or in affluence as respecting activities of any nature there. And as they exist in the present there are some complications for agreements, contracts, the lettings of this, that, or the other.

But this should not be left alone; it should be considered from many angles. Also aid may be induced from the varied societies that have been formed for the study of geological and archaeological activities, or such. For much will be found.

And, as may be known, when the changes begin, these portions will rise among the first.

Remember that those principles inculcated in the Declaration [of Independence] are eternal, and in them lies the HOPE OF THE WORLD. All men must recognize them if they are to remain together as brethren. In that they all need be of one mind, but they must all be of one purpose, one hope, each loving his neighbor as himself.

June 22, 1944

In Russia there comes the HOPE OF THE WORLD, not as that sometimes termed of the Communistic, of the Bolshevistic; NO. But freedom; freedom! that each man will live for his fellow man! The principle has been born. It will take years for it to be crystalized, but out of Russia comes again the hope of the world. Guided by what? That friendship with the nation that hath even set on its present monetary unit, "In God We Trust." (Do ye use that in thine own heart when you pay your just debts? Do ye use that in thy prayer when ye send thy missionaries to other lands? "I give it, for in God we trust." Not for the other fifty cents either!)

April 28, 1941

Strifes will arise through the period. Watch for them near Davis Strait (between Greenland and Canada) in the attempts there for the keeping of the life line to a land open.

Watch for them in Libya and in Egypt, in Ankara and in Syria, through the straits about those areas above Australia, in the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf.

Ye say that these are of the sea; yes—for there shall the breaking up be, until there are those in every land that shall say that this or that shows the hand of Divine Interference, or that it is Nature taking a hand, or that it is the natural consequence of good judgments.

But in all of these, let each declare Whom ye will serve; a nation, a man, a state, OR THY GOD?

For to Him ye must look for comfort that ye know that comes. All that is of a temporal nature—this, too, must pass away; yet there remains the comfort for those who declare themselves, "Let others do as they may, for as for me, I will serve the living God."

In the period, too, there will be the breaking of agreements, the declaring of stands by groups will be known, and bring—to some—consternation.

But FEAR NOT ye that influence that may destroy the body. Rather give praise and glory to Him who may SAVE BOTH BODY AND SOUL to everlasting joy.

As to those things that deal with the mental of the Earth, these shall call upon the mountains to cover them. As ye have seen those in lowly places raised to those of power in the political, in the machinery of nations' activities, so shall you see those in high places reduced and calling on the waters of darkness to cover them.

And those that, in the inmost recesses of themselves, have not awakened to the spiritual truths that are to be given, and those who have acted in the capacity of teachers among men, the rottenness of those that have ministered in places will be brought to light, and turmoil and strife shall enter.

And, as there is the wavering of those that would enter as emissaries, as teachers from the throne of Life, the throne of Light, the throne of Immortality, and wage war in the air with those of darkness, then know ye that the ARMAGEDDON is at hand.

For with the great numbers of the gathering of the hosts of those that have hindered and would make for man and his weaknesses stumbling-blocks, they shall wage war with the Spirits of Light, that come unto the Earth for this awakening, that have been and are being called by those of the sons of men into the service of the living God. For He, as ye have been told, is not the God of the dead, not the God of those that have forsaken Him, but those that love His coming, and that love His associations among men—The God of the living, the God of LIFE! For, HE IS LIFE.

2780-1-1 12-11-43 (Male, 10 yrs.)

....there has come—now—and will come at the close of this next year (1944) the period when there will be no part of the globe where man has not had the opportunity to hear, "The Lord, He is God."

And, as has been indicated, when this period has been accomplished, then the NEW ERA, the NEW AGE, is to begin. [H: This does not mean: THE NEW AGE MOVEMENT AS RELIGION. This MEANS a new portion or phase of cycle changing.] Will ye be a part of it, or will ye let it pass by and be merely a hanger-on, or one upon whom your brother—the Lord, thy Christ—may depend?

....(Atlantis?).... [H: "Atlantis" is NOT my insertion, readers. Do not forget that we are simply copying as the author of same excerpted from original readings or whatever. People had to take notes FOR Cayce. My insertions will always appear in bold print within brackets.] In the land of the present nativity, during those early periods when there were the diverse changes, as would be looked in the present, that will come again. In portions of what is now Ohio, the entity was a sun worshipper but one who worked in cloth, wearing of camel's hair and those things having to do with creating of clothes from the long-haired animals in those particular periods. The name then was Ekl.

Changes are due to be wrought in the Earth through the period of the entity's sojourn.

[H: Please, also, remember that these are individual readings and are certainly taken out of context herein. It is fine but if you fail to realize the intent of the speaker—you may well misinterpret the intent.]

3653-L-1 1-7-44 (Female, born 6-19-15)

What an unusual record—and one of those who might be termed as physically the mothers of the world! For the entity was one of those in the Ark....

For as has been given from the beginning, the deluge was not a myth (as many would have you believe) but a period when man had so belittled himself with the cares of the world, with the deceitfulness of his own knowledge and power, as to require that there be a return to his dependence wholly—physically and mentally—upon the Creative Forces.

Will this entity see such again occur in the Earth? Will it be among those who may be given those directions as to how, where, the elect may be preserved for the replenishing again of the Earth?

Remember, not by water—for it is the mother of life in the Earth—but rather by the element, fire.

....The entity—as the wife of a son of Noah—became among the eight souls in the Ark, in the preparation and in the endurance thereof, and in whose experiences gained in the activities through the Earth's influence. The name then was Maran.

364-SE-11

Yet, as time draws nigh when changes are to come about, there may be the opening of those three places where the records are one, to those that are the initiates in the knowledge of the One God: The temple ... will rise again; also there will be the opening of the temple of records in Egypt; and those records that were put into the heart of the Atlantean land may also be found there. The records are one.

3209-L-2 (Female, 51 yrs.)

Before that the entity was in Atlantis when there were the periods of the first upheavals and the destructions that came to the land—as must in the next generation come to other lands.

....Apply self, then, to know much of those records written upon those tablets, that were a part of the entity's experience [in Egypt]. For these were records made by the entity itself—preserved with the physical being of the entity. Make them practical, though, in the experience of individuals in the occidental thought, and not from the oriental. But there are the needs for the purging of body, of mind, so that—through the mind and the laying on of hands—the entity may bring to others that of health, hope, and understanding.

Q-7 Where are those records or tablets made of that Egyptian experience, which I might study?

A-7. In the tomb of Records, as indicated. For the entity's tomb then was a part of the Hall of Records, which has not yet been uncovered. It lies between—or along that entrance from the Sphinx to the temple, or the pyramid—in a pyramid, of course, of its own.

Q-8. Through what channels of the A.R.E. may the entity gain the most?

A-8. As it begins its further preparation and activity, seek through those channels for guidance—as it is felt that it is needed; or begin with the interpreting of the tablets. For, remember, there are 32 of these plates!

Q-9. Is it indicated as to when, approximately, these tablets may be discovered, or uncovered?

A-9. By 1958.

Q-10. How may I find those records, or should I wait—or must I wait?

A-10. You will find the records by that channel as indicated, as these may be obtained MENTALLY.

As for the physical records—it will be necessary to wait until the full time has come for the breaking up of much that has been in the nature of selfish motives in the world. For, remember, these records were made from the angle of WORLD movements. So must thy activities be in the present of the universal approach, but as applied to the individual.

Keep the faith. Know that the ability lies within self.

As ye were then the offspring of, and the helpmate to, that one who bore such an influence upon the movements of mankind through that period, so may thy power, thy might, thy love, thy faith, thy abilities do much for mankind in these dark hours again.

Hold fast to the faith of thy fathers.

Before that the entity was in the Egyptian land when there were those periods of discussions among the peoples from Atlantis and the Natives, regarding those conditions which arose.

The entity was of the Atlanteans who set about to preserve records, to make for the variations that were a part of the activities especially assigned to the peoples of Atlantis. For the entity came with those groups who were to establish the Hall or House of Records, and the entity directly or indirectly may be among those who will yet bring these to light—when the present disturbances (World War II) through those particular areas have again given privilege for the searching for the sacred records of the Atlanteans. The entity may help. The name then was AcmeIwen.

The base of the Sphinx was laid out in channels; and in the corner facing the Pyramid of Gizeh may be found the wording of how this was founded, giving the history of the first invading ruler and the ascension of Araaraat to that position.

364-Sc-5

From the right forepaw [of the Sphinx] there runs a passage to the entrance of the record Chamber, or Record House, where the records are still to be uncovered.

This may not be entered without an understanding, for those that were left as guards may not be passed until after a period of their regeneration in the Mount, or the FIFTH ROOT RACE begins.

294-

....This building on the Pyramid lasted for a period of 100 years, as now termed. It was formed according to that which had been worked out by Ra-Ta in the Mount, as related to the position of the stars about which this particular solar system circles in its activity—going towards what? That same name to which the priest was banished, Libya—or the constellation of Libra.

It is not fitting, then, that these must return?

This priest Ra, now Edgar Cayce, may develop himself to be in that position or capacity of a liberator of the world, in its relationships to individuals in those periods to come. For he must enter again at that period—or in 1998.

294-D-70 6-30-36

On the night of March 3, 1936, while returning to Virginia Beach from Detroit on the train, Edgar Cayce had the following dream:

He had been born again in 2100 A.D. in Nebraska. The sea apparently covered all of the western part of the country, as the city where he lived was on the coast. The family name was a strange one. At an early age as a child he declared himself to be Edgar Cayce who had lived two hundred years before.

Scientists, men with long beards, little hair, and thick glasses were called in to observe the child. They decided to visit the places where he said he had been born, lived, and worked—in Kentucky, Alabama, New York, Michigan, and Virginia. Taking the child with them the group of scientists visited these places in a long, cigar-shaped, metal flying ship which moved at high speed.

Water covered part of Alabama. Norfolk, Virginia, had become an immense seaport. New York had been destroyed either by war or an earthquake and was being rebuilt. Industries were scattered over the countryside. Most of the houses were of glass.

Many records of Edgar Cayce's work were discovered and collected. The group returned to Nebraska, taking the records with them for study.

On June 30, 1936, a reading was given in which an interpretation of Mr. Cayce's dream-experience was requested. The answer follows:

These experiences, as has oft been indicated, come to the body in those manners in which there may be help, strength, for periods when doubt or fear may have arisen. As in this experience, there were about the entity those influences which appeared to make for such a record of confusion as to appear to the material or mental-minded as a doubting or fearing of those sources which caused the periods through which the entity was passing in that particular period.

And the vision was that there might be strength, that there might be an understanding, that though the moment may appear dark, though there may be periods of the misinterpreting of purposes, even these will be turned into that which will be the very proof itself in the experiences of the entity and those whom the entity might, whom the entity would, in its experience through the Earth plane, help, and those to whom the entity might give hope and understanding.

This then is the interpretation. As has been given, "Fear not." Keep the faith; for those that be with thee are greater than those that would hinder. [H: Dharma, do you think you could please hold to this thought also? How about the rest of you who are set upon and each day such changes and assaults come about as to cause you to live in a whirlwind? God is with you, chelas of HIS Brotherhood. WE who serve HIM shall prevail and within this knowledge and Truth ye must hold firm within your faith within HIM for in that way, ONLY, can we serve ALL who have need in this changing adventure.] Though the very heavens fall, though the Earth shall be changed, though the heavens shall pass, the promises in HIM are sure and will stand—as in that day—as the proof of thy activity in the lives and hearts of thy fellow men.

For indeed and in truth ye know, "As ye do it unto thy fellow man, ye do it unto thy God, to thyself." For, with self effaced, God may indeed glorify thee and make thee stand as one who is called for a purpose in thy dealings, in thy relationships with thy fellow man.

Be not unmindful that He is nigh unto thee in every trial, in every temptation, and hath not willed that thou shouldst perish.

Make thy will, then, one with His. Be not afraid.

That is the interpretation; that the periods from the material angle, as visioned, are to come to pass matters not to the soul, but do thy duty TODAY! TOMORROW will care for itself.

These changes in the Earth will come to pass, for THE TIME AND TIMES AND HALF TIMES ARE AT AN END, and there begins those periods for the readjustments. For how hath He given? "The righteous shall inherit the Earth."

HAST THOU, MY BRETHREN, A HERITAGE IN THE EARTH?

Rev. 12:14 "...where she [Earth] is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time...."

Dan. 7:25 "...until a time and times and the dividing of time."

Dan. 12:7 "...it shall be for a time, times, and a half... all these things shall be finished."

Dan. 12:13 "But go thou thy way till the end BE: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days."

[END OF QUOTING]

I don't know how old this paper might be so I can only suggest that, if you care for more like this, you inquire from the Association For Research & Enlightenment (P.O. Box 595, Virginia Beach, VA 23451; 800-368-2727) or the A.R.E. Bookstore (P.O. Box 656, Virginia Beach, VA 23451; 800-723-1112).

Do I sanction everything from Edgar Cayce's records? NO. But remember, ones came AFTER Cayce and before he "left" he had the same pressures upon him as do all of Gods "chilluns"—survival!

Thank you for another long day and, please, I implore you again: hold the faith for the time is at hand for these things to come to pass—and that means we shall garner SUCCESS from our labors. "The righteous shall inherit the Earth!" Surprise! Surprise! For "Be it ever so humble—there is simply NO PLACE LIKE HOME!"

Salu, precious friends. And to our enemy (we have only one): Thy days are numbered in thy goings and in thy comings. The infinite is ever more durable than the finite wherein the absence of Lighted God lays claim.

REMINDER TO ENTHUSIASTIC CONTACT SUBSCRIBERS

Apparently it is once again time to remind our more enthusiastic spreaders of THE TRUTH to be thoughtful about how and where they spread the CONTACT.

Just as we were going to press, we were contacted by a Police Department in Idaho, where CONTACT was being placed on car windshields—obviously without asking the permission of the car owners—and the presence of CONTACT was (not surprisingly) more than some recipients could handle.

Remember to never place CONTACT in private mail boxes (it's illegal). Select locations in your local community AND in your travels where you can LEGITIMATELY place CONTACT—that usually means asking permission, especially on non-public property. Suggested locations could be: supermarkets and convenience stores, laundromats, colleges and other educational environments, coffee-houses, town halls, community centers, parks, churches, Unemployment Offices, Food Stamp Offices—wherever you think interested readers may be.

But remember: there is no need to aggressively impose CONTACT upon another. Such over-enthusiasm only hurts us and, ultimately, the spreading of THE TRUTH.

Nevada Corporations

C-Corporation vs. S-Corporation

There is a lot of discussion in the world of corporations about which type of corporation is the best. There are two primary types of for-profit corporations with respect to taxation, the C-Corporation and the "subchapter S" Corporation. Both of these types of corporations have their advantages in different circumstances and should be viewed from your specific needs.

After the Tax Reform Act of 1986 went into effect, many corporations changed from C-Corporations to S-Corporations. An S-Corporation allows the profits and losses of the corporation to flow directly through to the owners/stockholders of the corporation without being taxed at the corporate level first. This eliminates the potential for double taxation. Double taxation occurs when the corporation has profits that are taxed and then those profits are later paid out to stockholders in the form of dividends on which they are then taxed again. This problem can be easily dealt with by eliminating or deferring profits through good money management.

S-Corporations are also generally limited to calendar year ends (i.e., no "Fiscal" year). However, this can be changed if you can prove to the IRS that you have a good business reason to make your year end during a different month. All C-Corporations can elect to make their year-end date any month that they choose.

S-Corporations are often used to lower the payroll taxes of a corporation. This is done by having the owners of the corporation pay themselves a low salary and a high dividend. This lowers payroll taxes because there are no payroll taxes on dividends. This can be used to a limited extent but if the proportions of these two are way out of line, the IRS will come in and reapportion them and you will be stuck with their outcome.

The real deciding factor of which type of corporation to use is when it comes to your personal privacy. Every corporation that elects "subchapter S" will be letting the IRS and the State that they operate in know who the owners of the corporation are. Because all profits and losses flow through to the owners, there is no privacy in this structure. If you are incorporated in Nevada and set up a C-Corporation, ownership is completely hidden. Remember that Nevada is the only state that does not require that the owners be listed on any state records. For this reason alone we avoid S-Corporations altogether.

Trusts vs. Corporations

Time and again we are asked whether a trust or a corporation is the best form of ownership. From one end of the country to the other, I have heard why one is better than the other. We are professionals in the world of corporations and not in the world of trusts, so with that in mind, we will share with you some of the understandings that we have gained in our exposure to both.

When deciding whether to work with a trust or a corporation, one needs to consider carefully all of the given specifics of the situation that they are considering using the trust or corporation in. Some of these specifics are cost, public exposure, privacy, use of the entity, and tax position. There are, however, some situations where a combination of trusts and corporations work well together.

From a lay perspective, corporations are generally much more accepted and understood. Unlike trusts, there are very few different types of corporations. When setting up a corporation, you are confronted with "Profit or Non-Profit" and "C-Corp. or S-Corp." When looking at trusts, it can become quite confusing deciding which type is best for your situation. There are Living Trusts, Common Law Trusts, A-B Trusts, Grantor & Non-Grantor Trusts, Statutory and Non-Statutory Trusts, Irrevocable and Revocable Trusts, Business Trusts—also called Unincorporated Business Organizations (UBOs), and the list goes on. From this perspective alone, you can see how there is much more to be aware of when working with a trust. It is very important to work with an experienced individual when creating a trust.

One of the most serious concerns that we have about either form of ownership, is how each is viewed by the courts. Clearly, corporations are better understood by the courts than trusts, but this alone does not necessarily mean they are better. One of the most alarming articles that I've read regarding the asset protection strength of today's more popular trusts, was written in the Low Profile, October 1993 newsletter. This article, entitled "Some Trusts Can't Be Trusted", went into the recent boom of trust promoters around the country.

The trusts that are being most commonly sold by these promoters are called: Common Law, Massachusetts Business Trusts, UBOs, Pure, Equity and Family Preservation Trusts. The article states that "Promoters of such trusts misrepresent the law and conceal that courts have consistently ruled that such trusts were shams lacking in economic substance and invalid for tax purposes." This last statement, about trusts being invalid for tax purposes, caught my attention because so many patriots today use these trusts to protect their assets when taking a stand against taxation. Because these trusts are used commonly by tax protesters and the untaxed, I fear for their future. The article went on to say that "The courts have repeatedly ruled that these trusts provide absolutely no liability protection against the claims of personal creditors or the IRS."

With this in mind, let's continue. Once an individual becomes experienced with trusts and corporations, there are benefits to layering assets with multiple trusts and corporations where ownership of an asset is meant to be obscured. It is my opinion that trusts do have their place. Trusts are less expensive to create and maintain. Trusts, unlike corporations, don't have to pay the State for their existence, so if you know how to set up a trust, or can find someone that is not going to overcharge you, they can be very inexpensive. I have found however, that most promoters of trusts overcharge for their services and their trust packages. And some recent evidence suggests "shady operators" even "turning in" their clients.

Because of the courts' past decisions allowing creditors and the IRS access to trusts, we would advise not using trusts except in specific situations and not by themselves. We have not run into a case yet where a properly run Nevada Corporation has been broken into by the courts. This does not mean that this will be the case in the future, but with so many large corporations in this country operating and successfully separating the liability of a corporation and its owners, the odds are that Nevada corporations will maintain their strength into the future. CONFIRMED: POWs MURDERED

U.S. Knew About Red War Crimes

From a former general who served the Ministry of Defense of what was communist and Soviet-dominated Czechoslovakia during the so-called Cold War, The SPOTLIGHT has learned the grim fate of hundreds of American prisoners of war never accounted for by communist forces from the Korean and Vietnam wars.

EXCLUSIVE TO THE SPOTLIGHT

BY MIKE BLAIR

General Major Jan Sejna, the highest ranking communist official ever to defect to the United States, knew about the torture of American POWs by the communists. Captured American soldiers were used as guinea pigs in horrible medical experiments—acts that can be described only as war crimes. The U.S. government was informed of these facts and not only did not complain, but has, over the years, helped these war criminals and their governments.

Here, for the first time, are the gruesome details.

Gen. Sejna, in addition to serving as chief of staff in the Czechoslovak Defense Ministry prior to his defection to the United States in 1968, was also a member of the nation's Communist Party Central Committee, served on the National Assembly and the Presidium, was a member of the bureau of the Main Political Administration, served as first secretary of the party at the Ministry of Defense and was secretary of the Defense Council, the highest authority in the communist system of government in dealing with matters of national security, deception, intelligence, counterintelligence and the economy. NEARLY IGNORED

Yet, when Gen. Sejna defected to the United States in 1968 the resulting intelligence coup went practically unnoticed—even, unbelievably, within the top secret corridors and offices of the Central Intelligence Agency.

He was never debriefed on deception, i.e., efforts of the communist bloc states to deceive the West.

Instead, his debriefing was only cursory and by January 1969, reportedly under the orders of Henry Kissinger, national security advisor to the

... Emphasized the need to increase funding for human testing.

NOTE: Mike Blair, involved for some 20 years in the search to determine the fate of American POWs and MIAs who never returned to their native land from America's past wars and who has reported over those years articles about them in hundreds of pages of SPOTLIGHT special reports, had hoped to one day be able to report a happy conclusion to the POW/MIA tragedy.

This is obviously not that report. It is a report of the fate of hundreds of those men, brutally murdered by inhuman communist leaders in heinous medical experiments, all of which has long been known and concealed by callous U.S. leaders, unwilling to deal with the truth. It is not the fate of all those still missing, but many of them.

Following World War II, defeated German and Japanese leaders, accused of similar atrocities, stood in the dock of so-called "international tribunals" and many ultimately were hanged.

Those responsible for the torturous murder of hundreds of American POWs and MIAs of the Korean and Vietnam wars have escaped such a fate, either due to natural deaths through the passage of time, duplicity of U.S. leaders more willing to ignore their heinous crimes and now, as in the case of the former Soviet Union, Red China and Vietnam, by embracing them as "new friends" of America.

A number of these sub-humans, however, will not escape the light of day. They will be named here.

In this story, made possible through the research of Dr. Joseph D. Douglass Jr., a consultant on defense security matters and former deputy director of the Tactical Technology Office in the Advanced Research Projects Agency of the Department of Defense, the fate of these murdered Americans is revealed by a former top general of the Czechoslovakian Defense Ministry. He also held some of the highest posts in the now deposed communist regime that ruled that enslaved nation for more than four decades.

General Major Jan Sejna (pronounced Chain-ah) slipped away to the West February 28, 1968 and is the highest-ranking Eastern Bloc official ever to defect.

Is his story true?

For the past 15 years, and still today, Gen. Sejna has been employed as an advisor/analyst for the U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA).

It is no small irony that the DIA has been the U.S. intelligence agency charged by successive White House administrations to determine the fate of America's POWs and MIAs, those who never came home.

This is the story that DIA officials, with the knowledge of America's leaders, have known but never told. It is related here, through the efforts of "Joe" Douglass, from an eyewitness who has long been one of their own, trusted operatives.

Editor's note: The above article is "hot off the press" and we felt it imperative to share this excellent investigative journalism of Mike Blair with our readers. This article is yet another confirmation for most of you who are well aware of what Commander Hatonn has said about our older POWs and how they have been treated by our own country's Government-by-criminals. then new president, Richard M. Nixon, Sejna's debriefing was ordered halted.

The CIA moved Sejna to the Catskills region of upstate New York, where he was given "a new life" as the operator of a restaurant, which shortly went bankrupt.

In despair, Sejna wrote to then-CIA Director Richard Helms and outlined his dilemma, and the spy chief called him back to Washington in December 1969, where Sejna felt he would be more valuable, particularly in helping to give the agency some guidance on how to handle high-ranking defectors, his situation being a case in point about how not to do it.

According to SPOTLIGHT sources, he was placed in the hands of Ray Rocca, deputy for research for James J. Angleton, the agency's long-time chief of counterintelligence.

Ultimately, after Angleton's ouster from the CIA, Sejna found himself with the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA).

REMAINED IN OBSCURITY

There, the former Czech general languished in obscurity until three years ago, when efforts to account for America's missing POWs and MIAs reached a high point and Dr. Joseph D. Douglass Jr., a long-time consultant on defense and security matters, recalled having been told years earlier by Sejna of American POWs being used by the communists in top secret medical experiments.

Going back to Sejna, Douglass learned the reasons why the U.S. government had for years been dragging its heels on resolving the POW/MIA issue.

The murder of American POWs by the communists in horrible medical experiments, using them as human guinea pigs to test new chemical and biological warfare agents, even to determine the extent to which the human body can deal with increasingly high levels of atomic radiation, made the POW/MIA issue a matter of dealing with war crimes. But how can war crimes be dealt with when no government will call for a war crimes tribunal?

The Soviet Union, North Korea, Vietnam, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and other communist states involved in the atrocities did not lie prostrate at the feet of victorious U.S. forces, as did the Japanese and West Germans at the end of World War II.

In addition, in successive administrations since World War II, the White House, State Department and U.S. intelligence agencies had been under the influence of foreign elements, as recently highlighted by the exposure of long-time "mole" Aldrich Ames, who from 1986 to 1989 served as chief of counter-intelligence for the CIA's Soviet Division.

Therefore, there was a reluctance to deal effectively with the transgressions of any of the so-called "socialist," i.e., communist, states.

GRISLY EXPERIMENTS

The Soviets, in collusion with the North Vietnamese, North Koreans,

Red Chinese, Czechs, East Germans and others, had murdered hundreds of GIs who were, according to Sejna and now revealed by Douglass, "used as subjects in testing the effectiveness of military intelligence drugs, including a wide variety of mind-control and behavior-modification drugs, which . . . were used during the Korean War to cause American servicemen to speak out on the 'evils' of capitalism and the 'benefits' of communism."

"The Soviets exposed GIs to atomic detonations to determine how much atomic radiation was needed to kill or incapacitate a man. Lethal doses were administered and then the GIs were watched to determine how long soldiers could function and to learn if there were any drugs that could be used to prolong their ability to perform military tasks before permanently succumbing to the radiation. Tests to determine the long-term consequences of sub-lethal dose levels also were run."

"Experiments were conducted in military hospitals in North Korea during the Korean War and in military hospitals in Laos and North Vietnam during the Vietnam War. American POWs were also moved to the Soviet Union for experimental purposes from North Korea following the end of the Korean War and from Laos and North Vietnam during the Vietnam War."

BUILT CREMATORIUM

In North Korea, a hospital was built to conduct the experiments on the helpless Americans and a crematorium was erected nearby to dispose of those who died or were killed when no longer useful—to eradicate the evidence.

After the Korean War, those who were being used in experiments not yet completed or who were still sufficiently healthy to be of further value—"roughly 100 GIs," according to Sejna—were shipped by air to the Soviet Union for further torment, via Prague, Czechoslovakia, in order to conceal a direct link with the USSR.

Those of no further value at the North Korean hospital were killed and sent to the crematorium. No one knows how many, except, perhaps, those in charge.

In the USSR, the GIs were injected with radioactive isotopes, while others were "exposed . . . to radiation levels of 100 rem (Roentgen equivalent man) and higher and then tested [to] determine the effects of different drugs on the surviving GIs, to learn if some of the radiation effects could be temporarily countered with drugs, thus extending their usefulness, and to determine how long the soldiers who were exposed at the higher levels could survive."

Other data were obtained by "securing GIs at spaced intervals along the ground and then subjecting them to the full force and fury of actual atomic bomb explosions at Soviet atomic test ranges."

Then came the Vietnam War and new subjects for the Soviet-directed testing.

VICTIMS OF TESTS

Like with the Korean War GIs, Vietnam War POWs found themselves the victims of tests to determine the effectiveness of new germ warfare agents and chemicals.

Hundreds of Americans were sent to the Soviet Union for the tests, again via Prague to cover their trail, but now also through North Korea.

Red Chinese and Soviet officials fought about sharing information from the tests conducted by each other.

Experiments were conducted to determine the physiological and psychological effects of electromagnetic radiation—low frequency to microwaves—on the American POWs. Noted were such effects as impairment of memory, totally-erased task-oriented training and numerous physical effects such as heart fibrillations and cellular disorders.

"While there is no accurate count of the number of Americans who ended up as Soviet guinea pigs," Douglass said, "the number from the Korean War would approach, if not exceed, 1,000 and, from the Vietnam War, at least several hundred, likely over 500."

"How many from World War II [who fell into Soviet hands after being 'liberated' from German and Japanese POW camps] met this fate and whether it would have been better or worse than those who perished in communist slave labor camps is anyone's guess. Russia isn't telling and the U.S. government isn't asking."

THOSE RESPONSIBLE

Who gave the orders for these atrocities?

Soviet President Alexei Kosygin, according to Sejna, as related to Douglass, "emphasized the need to increase funding in these projects" at a meeting of the Warsaw Pact Political Consultative Commission in the spring of 1962.

Soviet General Secretary Nikita Khrushchev attended a meeting of the Consultative Commission in late 1963 or 1964, at which he said an agreement had been reached with North Vietnam regarding using the POWs for the experiments.

A later Soviet general secretary, Leonid Brezhnev, gave the human testing his seal of approval.

General Major Kalashnik of the Soviet Main Political Administration in 1956 lectured the Czech military about the importance of the project, and Soviet General Aleksandr Kuschchev urged the North Vietnamese to cooperate with the Soviet experiments.

Soviet Marshal Matvey V. Zakharov, the chief of the Red Army General Staff, was personally responsible for the experiments on the Soviet end during the Vietnam War. Soviet General A.I. Antonov, deputy chief of the Red Army General Staff, while overseeing the transport of U.S. POWs from Vietnam to the Soviet Union, declined to allow the North Koreans to conduct experiments during a stopover there.

Other Soviet officials who worked on the project included General Aleksey Yepishev of the Main Political Administration and who headed the KGB interests in the experiments under KGB Gen. Mironov. Serge Petuchov represented the Red Army intelligence (GRU) in working out details.

GERMAN CONNECTION

Gen. Heinz Hoffmann, the East German defense minister, told Sejna while the two were on a fishing trip in 1964 that drugs tested on American Vietnam War POWs were "one thousand percent more effective than physical means of persuasion [torture]."

During the Vietnam War, the Czechs worked on experiments in Laos with Laotian Gen. Sin Ka-po, who headed the communist Pathet Lao, and General Kong-le, who headed "neutralist" forces in Laos.

Czech General Staff Deputy Director Col. Rudolf Babka was in charge of the overall operations of the Czech hospital in North Korea during the Korean War. The hospital was established by the Construction Administration which operated under the authority of Deputy Defense Minister Ferdinand Svobda and its chief was a Col. Rohac.

The hospital was actually run by Col. Professor Dr. Dufek, who, along with Col. Babka, discussed the operations there with Sejna. A Dr. Pizak, who was in charge of neurological research at the Czech Central Military Hospital in Prague, was an assistant of Dufek, who was a former Soviet citizen who had emigrated to Czechoslovakia and was a heart specialist at the Central Military Hospital.

Some 18 Czech doctors and 20 Soviet doctors were involved in the experiments at the North Korean hospital. The Czech doctors came from the Central Military Hospital, the College for Military Doctors and the Czech Air Force Scientific Research Institute at Hradec Kralove.

During the Vietnam War, 15 doctors and eight scientists connected

Correspondent's Reflections

5/29/94 RICK MARTIN

Within the haze of the upside down world of that which, for most, differs from everything which has come before; in a world where black is white, up is down, and inside is outside; in a world of clandestine encounters, half-truths and innuendo, it occasionally becomes difficult to rationally evaluate that which is unfolding. In the arena of world-class assassins, what is normal? What is reasonable?

Within this illusion of God's play unfolding before our very eyes, written on the sands of time, is it wise to question? Or rather, to blindly accept the play as written rather than taking pen in hand as co-author to a script which is malleable rather than fixed?

What is one day or two or ten within the fabric of time which is itself an illusion experienced only here, now, with us as experiencers? What once was out of the question becomes the commonplace, and the commonplace is then re-examined for deeper meaning.

Let me give an example of what I'm talking about so that you, too, may come to understand the outlandish nature of that which now seems normal. On assignment in the Carson City, Nevada area (covering the ongoing Ronn Jackson saga), I had occasion to take an hour or two respite. And during this break a conversation arose with a woman in her 40s who appeared as "open" and "normal" as anyone could appear. When she queried as to what I do, naturally I replied that I write for a newspaper called CONTACT and am on assignment. When she delved further it was a lesson, for me, in how far on the fringe I have moved, how crazy the words must sound to the relatively uninformed.

Prefacing any commentary with, "You won't believe me," I explained about the Committee of 16's assassin named Jackson, and her eyes grew wide as racoons' and she said, "How fantastic to really meet someone who lives on the edge like Robert Ludlum writes about." Going further, I explain in brief about the Committee of 16, MJ-12, Montauk and time travel, ETs, etc. "You probably fit right in there in Southern California," came the reply with a slight grin.

As I reflect on my time with Jackson in prison and the mouth-to-ear recountings, what seems to me plausible and probable, sounds absolutely nuts to most. Why is it reasonable for me to assume, for example, that Alternative 3 wasn't just someone's theory; it was actually executed? Why does the idea seem plausible that several of our nation's Founding Fathers are still living—and are functioning on a very real, very active committee of global import?

Beneath the veil of forgetfulness it is not enough to simply say, "Just know"—the mind seeks answers, directions that the path taken not be one of error or hardship but rather one to fulfillment, completion, and to radiance.

To "trust in God" is no passive position wherein it will "all be taken care of", but rather it is the inner knowing that, within God, all things are possible; within His wondrous Creation—so, too, each is responsible for doing their part within the choices presented for learning.

with the Czech Academy of Sciences were involved in the POW experiments conducted in the Soviet Union. ORDERED SHUT-DOWN

The Soviet Defense Council decided to shut down the North Korean hospital in 1954, coordinating the effort with the Czech Minister of Defense, Gen. Bohimir Lomsky, and other members of the Czech Defense Council.

Other Czech officials linked to the experiments on the captured GIs included Gen. Otakar Rytir, then chief of the Czech General Staff; Gen. Oldrich Burda, chief of Czech military intelligence; Vladimir Koucky, secretary for foreign policy of the Czech Central Committee; Gen. Vaclav Prchlik, chief of the Main Political Administration; Gen. Lt. Evzem Chlad, chief of Rear Services of the General Staff; Gen. Maj. M. Cerny, head of the Health Administration; Josef Rudrna, first deputy to the Ministry of the Interior; and Gen. Vasil Laolo, deputy chief of military intelligence in charge of strategic intelligence.

Involved in working out details of the experiments on the POWs were Czech President Antonin Novotny and Prime Minister Josef Lenert, according to Sejna.

YURI DUBENSKI

... Documents reveal Soviets held American prisoners as early as May 1945.

So, at what point does the active participation in the co-creation of the play become interfering and pushing the river? How do you know? Against what yardstick is this evaluation measured? Where is the line drawn between taking conscious action and blowing it? But then—choices must be made, actions taken, assignments completed and new options explored. The cycle continues to unfold in its never ending beauty and mystery.

There are times when it is enough to ask the questions. When the answers come, it is even better.

SPELT

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource, and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). It is the grain GOD gave to the planet as "manna" when humans were placed upon it.

Spelt was brought from the Middle East more than 9,000 years ago; it is a well tested product. It has since spread over the European Continent. Very recently, Spelt has enjoyed renewed popularity in Europe as a result of translations of mystical writings of the 12th century healer, St. Hildegard of Bingen, who praised Spelt as the grain best tolerated by the body. The Old Testament mentions Spelt in Exodus 9:31, 32 and Ezekiel 4:9.

Today it is used in the West in much the same way as wheat; one main distinction is that the people with allergies to wheat frequently do not react to Spelt. Although Spelt contains gluten, those with gluten sensitivity, even celiacs, can usually tolerate it. In addition, Spelt is appreciated as much for its hearty nut-like flavor as for its healing qualities.

The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husk intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

Spelt is richly endowed with nutrients. In general, it is higher in protein, fat and fiber than most varieties of wheat. An important feature is its highly water-soluble fiber, which dissolves easily and allows for efficient nutrient assimilation by the body. Spelt also contains essential amino acids, which combine with the protein in Spelt constitute a source for human plasma. To use Spelt in baked goods, cereals and other dishes calling for wheat or other grains, substitute it one for one. You will likely always have to add gluten (from wheat) to give satisfactory yeast products.

At a major clinic in Konstanz, Germany, Spelt has been used as an adjunct in the treatment of many disorders, especially chronic digestive problems of all kinds, chronic infections (herpes, AIDS), nerve and bone disorders (Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's disease, arthritis), cancer and antibiotic side effects.

GAIANDRIANA

Gaiandriana is a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of health.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders. The end result is a feeling of well-being by, of course, being well.

The Gaiandriana (commonly referred to as "chondriana" in the Biological literature) are capable of intelligent, organized attack against cellular invaders like viruses. Think of it as a "pac-man" operation of sorts. However, beyond that, the Gaiandriana are capable of stimulating cellular structural repairs due to damage caused by, for instance, free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. Healthy DNA and RNA within the nuclei of our cells then lead to properly formed and concentrated enzymes, upon which healthy cellular function depends.

Gaiandriana liquid is made entirely from wholesome natural ingredients.

AQUAGAIA

Complementary to the Gaiandriana product, AquaGaia is also a non-alcoholic health tonic which provides basic "foods" to help cells, weakened by the stresses of modern life, to return to a state of healthy function.

AquaGaia contains mitochondria. These are the major biochemical energy "processors" within cellular metabolism. First, enzymes begin the breakdown process of organic nutrients (like fats, carbohydrates and proteins) to intermediate substances such as amino and pyruvic acids. Then, in the next "bucket brigade" step, these various acid molecules are processed within the mitochondria to release chemical energy recognized as adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

About 95% of the energy needed to "run the machinery" that keeps each cell going and healthy is produced in the mitochondria. Unfortunately, the mitochondria are particularly damaged by free radicals and cumulative levels of so-called "background" radiation in our modern environment. These compromised mitochondria, like half-dead batteries, then lead to impaired cellular functioning and health. Thus is the importance of AquaGaia, with its assimilable supply of healthy mitochondria — like "fresh batteries" for the body's cells.

The better our cells function, the greater is the stamina returned to our internal defense systems, and the better we can counter the constant onslaught of biological and viral invaders.

GAIANDRIANA & AQUAGAIA

To help in understanding the workings of these organic "pac-men" you must realize that there is a protein covering "cap" on viruses. The protein cap is centered on a charged zinc atom and is the part of the virus that recognizes and binds to DNA—in turn allowing the virus to reproduce.

AquaGaia, in conjunction with the Gaiandriana, knock out the zinc atom (a simple "charge" change), which renders the protein ineffective. This is a breakdown of "parts" of the Gaiandriana male-female DNA structure which releases many working variants but frees the Gaiandriettes or "killers" to take out that zinc atom and pass right into the affected cell. Without the "cap", the virus cannot reproduce and infect more cells—further, the damaged virus feeds the Gaiandriana unified cells and the circulating mitochondria.

Healthy cells are not affected because they lack the zinc-centered protein cap on the virus.

These "Gaia" compounds have an effect on cancer cells because they stop an enzyme on the cancer cells from producing a "messenger" molecule that blocks a second enzyme from attacking the cancer cell's DNA. The compounds (Gaia) have been seen to actually take out leukemia, breast, brain and colon cancer cells. We have no claim to anything other than stating that people utilizing these simple and natural substances do show improved well-being and do report feeling generally and, often remarkably, improved as to state of health, thought processes and stamina.

The obvious conclusion is that there might well be good reports of better health and faster recovery, following infection by other viruses, than those mentioned above. All viruses known react in generally the same manner.

It is known that many diseases are due to retroviral DNA and these are the most affected viruses by the Gaia-chondriana (living crystal forms). We, again, make no medical claims—we are simply reporting in an effort to explain WHAT takes place within the cellular structures of living organisms.

NOTE

If any product you receive has an unpleasant odor — it is from the finishing culture process. Leave the bottle open to air and it will quickly dissipate. Then, depending on taste and preference—refrigerate after opening and reclosing.

IMPORTANT: Do not mix the two, Gaiandriana and AquaGaia, together for storage as the AquaGaia (mitochondria) are aggressive and begin to "eat" the Gaiandriana for fuel. Once ingested, they go about their appointed tasks, but in bottle prisons they are not particularly compatible once the available fuel supply is exhausted. Juices are excellent to take with the AquaGaia because the mitochondria must have the fuel derived from same, the most effective juice being from the tropical "Guava" fruit. Any juice is fine, however, and is most pleasant to intake. Diabetics should utilize whatever juices are available on their food plan to keep within the safe guidelines for calories and other requirements.

The most innocuous and easy intake available is simply a few drops under the tongue, both products taken at the same time or at different times of the day. Once the "initial" program is completed, and the maintenance level of intake is being followed, certainly the drops under the tongue are the least annoying to any daily regimen.

GaiaLyte

GaiaLyte is brought forth from Kargasok Tea. This IS the basic component of MO-GU tea as we have used the tea by that name. The GaiaLyte is a fully integrated electrolytic liquid. The "drink" is a "concentrate" (3 to 1 minimum—as much to one as you like maximum). It contains EVERYTHING supplemental to Gaiandriana—INCLUDING A GROWING-PROGRAMMING BASE OF GAIANDRIANA AND BASIC DRIANAS. It also contains enough Carbragaia to equal a full schedule of what is being used in Mexico—(shark-fin cartilage). If you are using MO-GU—keep on—it can only enhance your full-rounded intake—but it WILL NOT be the same. However, the "new" drink will supply all you need without it. This is NOT A MEDICAL PROGRAM OF ANY KIND. We are not physicians as in Medical Doctor; we are not anything—except hopefully, sharers of information.

The GaiaLyte has a full spectrum of vitamins, minerals, Ginkgo, Echinacea, Chlorella, Oxygenators, Aloe Vera—everything necessary to "program" the cells in the tea membrane AND the Gaiandriana included. This does not replace the Gaiandriana used otherwise. This is a PERFECT medium to enhance the ability of the Gaiandriana you already take to enhance itself—reinforcement fuel, if you will.

You can dilute the concentrate with water AND/or anything you like. May we recommend apple juice and/or Cranberry. The apple juice is to flush out the gallbladder and the cranberry juice flushes out the bladder (urine). You may use as much as you like of either OR both and we would hope you would do so on a continuing basis because of the value of these two products and their focus of use.

We believe you will find it a very tasty beverage but we ask that no matter how "good", just keep to the "program" amounts or you may find yourself a bit "woozy" immediately after intake. This is due more to the Aloe Vera present than the tea itself—but as you know, even the MO-GU tea can make you quite light-headed. There is no alcohol in the beverage although you may very well think so as the body rushes to uptake the fuel supply. This is not a medical-chemical concoction so you could take the entire bottle without damage or hazard—but you might well not feel so great for a bit afterward and it is totally UNNECESSARY for any expected positive response.

This is not like taking an antibiotic with flu or sore-throat. This is a well-body systemic enhancement. It sometimes, as with other persons' elixir—takes weeks or months to feel any difference. ONCE balanced, however, you will note that at onset of infection, cold, etc., if you take around six ounces of Gaiandriana and double up on the GaiaLyte—you will probably note positive response in about an hour. Remember—you are activating the enhanced immune system and it takes a while to accomplish this task.

ALOE JUICE (Whole Leaf, Cold Pressed Aloe Vera Concentrate)

Aloe Vera has a long and impressive history that spans hundreds of centuries, countries and cultures, and appears in countless "folk remedies" as a plant revered for its healing qualities.

Aloe Juice is a whole-leaf concentrate prepared from the freshly harvested leaves of the Barbadensis Miller Aloe Vera plant. Aloe Juice guarantees a minimum of 10,000 mg. of mucopolysaccharides per liter.

The nutrients reported in Aloe Vera include mucopolysaccharides and polysaccharides (glucomannans), glycoproteins, glucose, mannose, galactose, xylose, arabinose, tannins, steroids, organic acids, antibiotic principles, glucuronic acids, enzymes (oxidase, catalase and amylase), trace sugars, calcium oxalate, a protein containing 18 amino acids, "wound healing" hormones, biogenic stimulants, saponins, vitamins B1, B2, niacin, B6, choline, folic acid, chloride, sulfate, iron, calcium, copper, sodium, potassium, silicon, manganese, plus many other metabolism-assisting components.

CHLORELLA

Chlorella is a nutritionally balanced whole food and contributes to the health and growth of human cells like no single vitamin or mineral possibly can.

Chlorella is extremely high in protein (60%) and contains more than 20 vitamins and minerals, 19 of the 22 essential and non-essential amino acids, enzymes and chlorella growth factor. It is one of the richest sources of RNA and DNA known and has twenty times as much chlorophyll as alfalfa, 10 times more than other edible algae including spirulina, and 10 times more than barley grass.

Chlorella is a natural vitality enhancer. ECHINACEA GOLD PLUS (with American Ginseng)

In recent years few medicinal plants have garnered as much attention as Echinacea (Echinacea Purpurea and Echinacea Angustifolia).

Echinacea is a non-specific stimulant to the immune system. Claims for Echinacea include: stimulation of leukocytes, mild antibiotic activity, anti-inflammatory activity, stimulation of the adrenal cortex, stimulation of the properdin-complement system, interferon-like activity, stimulation of general cellular immunity, and antiviral activity. Internal preparations are said to assist in alleviating cold and flu symptoms, respiratory infections, and arthritis, to name a few.

Goldenseal (Hydrastis Canadensis) is among the most popular herbs in the American health food market. Uses are numerous, including but not limited to: antiseptic, hemostatic, diuretic, laxative, and tonic/anti-inflammatory for the mucous membranes, hemorrhoids, nasal congestion, mouth and gum sores and eye afflictions.

Few medicinal plants in the world possess Ginseng's near-legendary status. Dating back thousands of years, its history of use in the Orient records therapeutic properties so wide ranging that it was first dismissed by Western doctors as a "panacea". When fatigued, Ginseng reportedly restores both physical and mental functions to peak efficiency and, with regular use, improves resistance to disease and stress. American Ginseng's genus name is Panax Quinquifolius.

Over 40,000 species of mushrooms exist, many of which are used as medicines. Of particular note are such remedies as penicillin- and ergot-based extracts used in migraine treatment, to name a few. Extensive research has been done with one mushroom in particular, namely, Reishi. This mushroom is now considered a tried and true immune system fortifier.
