NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

I realize that you readers would rather have me stick to Spiritual matters and continue the religious discussions. However, there is something upon which you need further input and that topic deals with the National Security Agency.

The writing here will be from a lawsuit filed against the US National Security Agency and will reveal a frightening array of technologies and programs designed to keep tabs on you individuals. Because it is comprehensive for its volume of writings, we shall use it rather than simply have a general discussion.

By Rep. Louis T. McFadden

Editor's note: The following passionate speech before the House of Representatives, on a warm June 10, 1932, by Representative Louis T. McFadden, needs little in the way of introduction. Here is the vision of a genuine prophet, the plea of a spirited and fiery patriot, whose scathing words against the international Satanic Elite's Federal Reserve System—and, indirectly, against its IRS extortion agent—are even more urgent today than they were when first spoken over sixty years ago. Talk about a burning love for this once-great country! May we all catch a little of THAT fire.

We are reprinting this pivotal speech for two reasons:

First of all, we have not shared it with you in awhile. And, in the meantime, we have acquired many, many new readers who may be unfamiliar with this exceptional lesson in economic history that has been carefully suppressed over the years. And in this week's CONTACT this writing acts as important background for the articles on pages 10 and 21.

Secondly, for those of you who keep an eye on the world financial markets, the unstable swings are becoming ever more wild AND dangerous (shades of 1929), while the controlled media's prevarications to the contrary become ever more intensely...ah...imaginative.

For example, Japan's stock market and the dollar-to-yen ratio, over recent months, have been rivaling the very best roller coaster ride you've ever experienced. The ground is not the only thing constantly "quaking" over there in Japan, as prelude to major catastrophe.

Meanwhile, our own "helium-filled" stock market has been climbing up above the stratosphere, while the unemployment figures, even with constant rosy manipulations, reveal an alarmingly growing level of destitution among both our country's working force and our manufacturing infrastructure.

In other words, something BIG is going to give way, soon—call it an upcoming, well planned "economic earthquake"—and you might as well know WHO is responsible for this incredible financial mess, as well as HOW LONG the trap has been in place.

This writing by Commander Hatonn was originally presented in the summer of 1990, on pages 73-100 of Phoenix Journal #17, called The Naked Phoenix: How, Who, Why, Where, What And When The Bird Was Plucked; A Guide To Do-It-Yourself Feather Growing.

The subject of that entire Journal (and that of #16 before it) is the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Reserve Banks. And, as Commander Hatonn emphasizes in the Foreword to Journal #17, "This is THE one most important deception and subterfuge ever foisted upon the world. It actually is only the conduit through which the Conspirators have perfected their PLAN."

Well, isn't it about time that plan got un-perfected and this country returned to the original vision of ONE great nation, UNDER God AND Constitution?

LOUIS T. McFADDEN (R-PA.)

Dharma, allow us a rest please. This man is great enough to devote at least two chapters to this great energy. He made a speech to the House of Representatives on June 10, 1932, and it is worthy of complete reproduction herein and so shall it be.

I shall await your return to the keyboard. The pressures are great on you ones, Dharma, but you shall be sustained and Light of Truth shall be your legacy to a darkened land and people. YOU DO NOT WALK ALONE AND THOSE WHO HAVE COME BEFORE AND BROUGHT FORTH TRUTH SHALL BE HONORED FOR THE DAY OF THE LORD IS AT HAND. GLORY AND TRUTH IN THE FREEDOM OF THAT WHICH IS SHALL AGAIN SHINE ACROSS THE LANDS. "TAKE MY HAND AND I SHALL SHOW YOU THE WAY," IS THE PROMISE. YE SHALL DO OF THE FULFILLING! SO BE IT IN THE POWER OF THAT WHICH I AM.

TOLD LIKE IT IS

Rep. Louis T. McFadden rose from office boy to become cashier and president of the First National Bank, Canton, Pa., before being elected to the U.S. Congress. There he served with distinction for 20 years, including 12 years as Chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency, making him one of the foremost financial authorities in America. Relentlessly he fought for fiscal integrity and a return to constitutional government.

On June 10, 1932, in the midst of the great Depression, he addressed the House of Representatives. His historic speech was included in his testimony later before the Rules Committee, in connection with his Herculean efforts to obtain a sweeping investigation of the entire Federal Reserve System, and has been widely reprinted since then—unfortunately, it seems to have made little impact on the populace who have since stopped reading—well over 65 percent of the American public DO NOT EVEN READ ONE BOOK A YEAR. HOW MANY HAVE YOU READ THIS YEAR? AND, HOW ABOUT THAT ONE YOU HAVE BEEN TRYING TO GET TO READ THESE JOURNALS? Well, relax, for it was planned that way by your adversaries against the day this information would flow forth for the remaining media is TOTALLY CONTROLLED, as are almost ALL publishing outlets. To get to the top of the "best seller" listing—you the people will have to demand it be put there, because the word has gone forth from the powers that be to ban publication and distribution of the Phoenix Journals. IT SHALL NOT HAPPEN—THE INSTRUCTIONS AND TRUTH OF GOD SHALL GO FORTH THROUGHOUT THE LANDS AND THE LANDS SHALL BE RECLAIMED UNTO HIS KINGDOM. SO SHALL IT COME TO PASS—AND IT SHALL BE WITHIN THIS GENERATION THAT IT SHALL BE MADE, OR BROKEN, THE COVENANT WITH GOD.

For you researchers and confirmists, it will be found on pages 12595-12603 of the Congressional Record:

[QUOTE:]

Mr. McFADDEN: Mr. Chairman, at the present session of Congress we have been dealing with emergency situations. We have been dealing with the effect of things rather than with the cause of things. In this particular discussion I shall deal with some of the causes that lead up to these proposals. There are underlying principles which are responsible for conditions such as we have at the present time and I shall deal with one of these in particular which is tremendously important in the consideration that you are now giving to this bill.

Mr. Chairman, we have in this country one of the most corrupt institutions the world has ever known. I refer to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. The Federal Reserve Board, a government board, has cheated the Government of the United States and the people of the United States out of enough money to pay the national debt. The depredations and the iniquities of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks acting together have cost this country enough money to pay the national debt several times over. This evil institution has impoverished and ruined the people of the United States; has bankrupted itself, and has practically bankrupted our government. It has done this through the defects of the law under which it operates, through the maladministration of that law by the Federal Reserve Board, and through the corrupt practices of the moneyed vultures who control it.

Some people think the Federal Reserve Banks are United States Government institutions. They are not government institutions. They are private credit monopolies which prey upon the people of the United States for the benefit of themselves and their foreign swindlers, and rich and predatory money lenders. In that dark crew of financial pirates there are those who would cut a man's throat to get a dollar out of his pocket; there are those who send money into states to buy votes to control our legislation; and there are those who maintain an international propaganda for the purpose of deceiving us and of wheedling us into the granting of new concessions which will permit them to cover up their past misdeeds and set again in motion their gigantic train of crime.

Those 12 private credit monopolies were deceitfully and disloyally foisted upon this country by bankers who came here from Europe and who repaid us for our hospitality by undermining our American institutions. Those bankers took money out of this country to finance Japan in a war against Russia. They created a reign of terror in Russia with our money in order to help that war along. They instigated the separate peace between Germany and Russia and thus drove a wedge between the allies in the World War. They financed Trotsky's mass meetings of discontent and rebellion in New York. They paid Trotsky's passage from New York to Russia so that he might assist in the destruction of the Russian Empire. They fomented and instigated the Russian Revolution and they placed a large fund of American dollars at Trotsky's disposal in one of their branch banks in Sweden so that through him Russian homes might be thoroughly broken up and Russian children flung far and wide from their natural protectors. They have since begun the breaking up of American homes and the dispersal of American children.

It has been said that President Wilson was deceived by the attentions of these bankers and by the philanthropic poses they assumed. It has been said that when he discovered the manner in which he had been misled by Colonel House, he turned against that busybody, that "holy monk" of the financial empire, and showed him the door. He had the grace to do that, and in my opinion he deserves great credit for it.

President Wilson died a victim of deception. When he came to the Presidency, he had certain qualities of mind and heart which entitled him to a high place in the councils of this Nation; but there was one thing that he was not and which he never aspired to be; he was not a banker. He said that he knew very little about banking. It was, therefore, on the advice of the others that the iniquitous Federal Reserve Act, the death warrant of American liberty, became law in his administration.

Mr. Chairman, there should be no partisanship in matters concerning the banking and currency affairs of this country, and I do not speak with any.

In 1912 the National Monetary Association, under the chairmanship of the late Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, made a report and presented a vicious bill called the National Reserve Association Bill. This bill is usually spoken of as the Aldrich Bill. Senator Aldrich did not write the Aldrich Bill. He was the tool, but not the accomplice, of the European-born bankers who for nearly 20 years had been scheming to set up a central bank in this country and who in 1912 had spent and were continuing to spend vast sums of money to accomplish their purpose.

The Aldrich Bill was condemned in the platform upon which Theodore Roosevelt was nominated in the year 1912, and in that same year, when Woodrow Wilson was nominated, the Democratic platform, as adopted in the Baltimore convention, expressly stated: "We are opposed to the Aldrich plan for a central bank." This was plain language. The men who ruled the Democratic Party then promised the people that if they were returned to power there would be no central bank established here while they held the reins of government. Thirteen months later that promise was broken, and the Wilson administration, under the tutelage of those sinister Wall Street figures who stood behind Colonel House, established here in our free country the worm-eaten monarchical institution of the "king's bank" to control us from the top downward, and to shackle us from the cradle to the grave. The Federal Reserve Act destroyed our old and characteristic way of doing business; it discriminated against our one-name commercial paper, the finest in the world; it set up the antiquated two-name paper, which is the present curse of this country, and which has wrecked every country which has ever given it scope; it fastened down upon this country the very tyranny from which the framers of the Constitution sought to save us.

One of the greatest battles for the preservation of this Republic was fought out here in Jackson's day, when the Second Bank of the United States, which was founded upon the same false principles as those which are exemplified in the Federal Reserve Act, was hurled out of existence. After the downfall of the Second Bank of the United States in 1837, the country was warned against the dangers that might ensue if the predatory interests, after being cast out, would come back in disguise and unite themselves to the Executive, and through him acquire control of the government. That is what the predatory interests did when they came back in the livery of hypocrisy and under false pretenses obtained the passage of the Federal Reserve Act [December 23, 1913].

The danger that the country was warned against came upon us and is shown in the long train of horrors attendant upon the affairs of the traitorous and dishonest Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Look around you when you leave this chamber and you will see evidences of it on all sides. This is an era of economic misery and for the conditions that caused that misery, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks are fully liable. This is an era of financed crime and in the financing of crime, the Federal Reserve Board does not play the part of a disinterested spectator.

It has been said that the draftsman who was employed to write the text of the Federal Reserve Bill used the text of the Aldrich Bill for his purpose. It has been said that the language of the Aldrich Bill was used because the Aldrich Bill had been drawn up by expert lawyers and seemed to be appropriate. It was indeed drawn up by lawyers. The Aldrich Bill was created by acceptance bankers of European origin in New York City. It was a copy and in general a translation of the statutes of the Reichsbank and other European central banks.

Half a million dollars was spent on one part of the propaganda organized by those same European bankers for the purpose of misleading public opinion in regard to it, and for the purpose of giving Congress the impression that there was an overwhelming popular demand for that kind of banking legislation and the kind of currency that goes with it, namely, an asset currency based on human debts and obligations instead of an honest currency based on gold and silver values. Dr. H. Parker Willis had been employed by Wall Street bankers and propagandists and when the Aldrich measure came to naught and he obtained employment from CARTER GLASS to assist in drawing a banking bill for the Wilson Administration, he appropriated the text of the Aldrich Bill for his purpose. There is no secret about it. The text of the Federal Reserve Act was tainted from the beginning.

Not all of the Democratic members of the Sixtythird Congress voted for his great deception. Some of them remembered the teachings of Jefferson; and, through the years, there has been no criticism of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks so honest, so outspoken, and so unsparing as those which have been voiced here by Democrats. Again, although a number of Republicans voted for the Federal Reserve Act, the wisest and most conservative members of the Republican Party would have nothing to do with it and voted against it. A few days before the bill came to a vote, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, wrote to Sen. John W. Weeks as follows:

SENATOR HENRY CABOT LODGE

New York City, December 17, 1913.

MY DEAR SENATOR WEEKS: .... Throughout my public life I have supported all measures designed to take the government out of the banking business.... This bill puts the government into the banking business as never before in our history and makes, as I understand it, all notes government notes when they should be bank notes.

The powers vested in the Federal Reserve Board seem to me highly dangerous, especially where there is political control of the board. I should be sorry to hold stock in a bank subject to such domination. The bill as it stands seems to me to open the way to a vast inflation of the currency. There is no necessity of dwelling upon this point after the remarkable and most powerful argument of the senior Senator from New York. I can be content here to follow the example of the English candidate for Parliament who thought it enough "to say ditto to Mr. Burke". I will merely add that I do not like to think that any law can be passed which will make it possible to submerge the gold standard in a flood of irredeemable paper currency.

I had hoped to support this bill, but I can not vote for it as it stands, because it seems to me to contain features and to rest upon principles in the highest degree menacing to our prosperity, to stability in business, and to the general welfare of the people of the United States.

Very sincerely yours,

Henry Cabot Lodge

In the 18 years which have passed since Senator Lodge wrote that letter of warning all of his predictions have come true. The Government is in the banking business as never before. Against its will it has been made the backer of horsethieves and card sharps, bootleggers, smugglers, speculators, and swindlers in all parts of the world. Through the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks the ruffraff of every country is operating on the public credit of the United States Government. Meanwhile, and on account of it, we ourselves are in the midst of the greatest depression we have ever known. Thus the menace to our prosperity, so feared by Senator Lodge, has indeed struck home. From the Atlantic to the Pacific our country has been ravaged and laid waste by the evil practices of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and the interests which control them. At no time in our history has the general welfare of the people of the United States been at a lower level or the mind of the people so filled with despair.

Recently in one of our states 60,000 dwelling houses and farms were brought under the hammer in a single day. According to the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, who has lately testified before a committee of this House, 71,000 houses and farms in Oakland County, Mich., have been sold and their erstwhile owners dispossessed. Similar occurrences have probably taken place in every county in the United States. The people who have thus been driven out are the wastage of the Federal Reserve Act. They are the victims of the dishonest and unscrupulous Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Their children are the new slaves of the auction block in the revival here of the institution of human slavery.

In 1913, before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, Mr. Alexander Lassen made the following statement:

"But the whole scheme of a Federal Reserve bank with its commercial-paper basis is an impractical, cumbersome machinery, is simply a cover, to find a way to secure the privilege of issuing money and to evade payment of as much tax upon circulation as possible, and then control the issue and maintain, instead of reduce, interest rates. It is a system that, if inaugurated, will prove to the disadvantage of the States. It will mean continued shortage of actual money and further extension of credits; for when there is a lack of real money people have to borrow credit to their cost."

A few days before the Federal Reserve Act was passed Sen. Elihu Root denounced the Federal Reserve Bill as an outrage on our liberties and made the following prediction:

"Long before we wake up from our dreams of prosperity through an inflated currency, our gold, which alone could have kept us from catastrophe, will have vanished and no rate of interest will tempt it to return."

If ever a prophecy came true, that one did. It was impossible, however, for those luminous and instructed thinkers to control the course of events. On December 23, 1913, the Federal Reserve Bill became law, and that night Colonel House wrote to his hidden master in Wall Street as follows:

COLONEL HOUSE, AGAIN

"I want to say a word of appreciation to you for the silent but no doubt effective work you have done in the interest of currency legislation and to congratulate you that the measure has finally been enacted into law. We all know that an entirely perfect bill, satisfactory to everybody, would have been an impossibility, and I feel quite certain fair men will admit that unless the President had stood as firm as he did we should likely have had no legislation at all. The bill is a good one in many respects; anyhow good enough to start with and to let experience teach us in what direction it needs perfection, which in due time we shall then get. In any event you have personally good reason to feel gratified with what has been accomplished."

The words "unless the President had stood as firm as he did we should likely have had no legislation at all", were a gentle reminder that it was Colonel House himself, the "holy monk", who had kept the President firm.

The foregoing letter affords striking evidence of the manner in which the predatory interests then sought to control the Government of the United States by surrounding the Executive with the personality and the influence of a financial Judas. Left to itself and to the conduct of its own legislative functions without pressure from the Executive, the Congress would not have passed the Federal Reserve Act. According to Colonel House, and since this was his report to his master, we may believe it to be true, the Federal Reserve Act was passed because Wilson stood firm; in other words because Wilson was under the guidance and control of the most ferocious usurers in New York through their hireling, House. The Federal Reserve Act became law the day before Christmas Eve in the year 1913, and shortly afterwards the German international bankers, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., sent one of their partners here to run it.

In 1913, when the Federal Reserve Bill was submitted to the Democratic caucus, there was a discussion in regard to the form the proposed paper currency should take.

The proponents of the Federal Reserve Act, in their determination to create a new kind of paper money, had not needed to go outside of the Aldrich Bill for a model. By the terms of the Aldrich Bill, bank notes were to be issued by the National Reserve Association and were to be secured partly by gold or lawful money and partly by circulating evidences of debt. The first draft of the Federal Reserve Bill presented the same general plan, that is, for bank notes as opposed to government notes, but with certain differences of regulation.

THE LEGACY OF WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

When the provision for the issuance of Federal Reserve Notes was placed before President Wilson he approved of it, but other Democrats were more mindful of Democratic principles and a great protest greeted the plan. Foremost amongst those who denounced it was William Jennings Bryan, the Secretary of State. Bryan wished to have the Federal Reserve Notes issued as government obligations. President Wilson had an interview with him and found him adamant. At the conclusion of the interview Bryan left with the understanding that he would resign if the notes were made bank notes. The President then sent for his Secretary and explained the matter to him. Mr. Tumulty went to see Bryan and Bryan took from his library shelves a book containing all the Democratic platforms and read extracts from them bearing on the matter of the public currency. Returning to the President, Mr. Tumulty told him what had happened and ventured the opinion that Mr. Bryan was right and that Mr. Wilson was wrong. The President then asked Mr. Tumulty to show him where the Democratic Party in its national platforms had ever taken the view indicated by Bryan. Mr. Tumulty gave him the book, which he had brought from Bryan's house, and the President read very carefully plank after plank on the currency. He then said, "I am convinced there is a great deal in what Mr. Bryan says", and thereupon it was arranged that Mr. Tumulty should see the proponents of the Federal Reserve Bill in an effort to bring about an adjustment of the matter.

The remainder of this story may be told in the words of Senator Glass. Concerning Bryan's opposition to the plan of allowing the proposed Federal Reserve Notes to take the form of bank notes and the manner in which President Wilson and the proponents of the Federal Reserve Bill yielded to Bryan in return for his support of the measure, Senator Glass makes the following statement:

"The only other feature of the currency bill around which a conflict raged at this time was the note-issue provision. Long before I knew it, the President was desperately worried over it. His economic good sense told him the notes should be issued by the banks and not by the government; but some of his advisers told him Mr. Bryan could not be induced to give his support to any bill that did not provide for a 'Government Note'. There was in the Senate and House a large Bryan following which, united with a naturally adversary party vote, could prevent legislation. Certain overconfident gentlemen proffered their services in the task of 'managing Bryan'. They did not budge him.... When a decision could no longer be postponed the President summoned me to the White House to say he wanted Federal Reserve Notes to 'be obligations of the United States'. I was for an instant speechless. With all the earnestness of my being I remonstrated, pointing out the unscientific nature of such a thing, as well as the evident inconsistency of it.

" 'There is not, in truth, any Government obligation here, Mr. President', I exclaimed. 'It would be a pretense on its face. Was there ever a government note based primarily on the property of banking institutions? Was there ever a government issue not one dollar of which could be put out except by demand of a bank? The suggested government obligation is so remote it could never be discerned,' I concluded, out of breath.

" 'Exactly so, Glass,' earnestly said the President. 'Every word you say is true; the government liability is a mere thought. And so, if we can hold to the substance of the thing and give the other fellow the shadow, why not do it, if thereby we may save our bill?' "

Shadow and substance! One can see from this how little President Wilson knew about banking. Unknowingly, he gave the substance to the international banker and the shadow to the common man. Thus was Bryan circumvented in his efforts to uphold the Democratic doctrine of the rights of the people. Thus the "unscientific blur" upon the bill was perpetrated. The "unscientific blur", however, was not the fact that the United States Government, by the terms of Bryan's edict, was obliged to assume as an obligation whatever currency was issued. Mr. Bryan was right when he insisted that the United States should preserve its sovereignty over the public currency. The "unscientific blur" was the nature of the currency itself, a nature which makes it unfit to be assumed as an obligation of the United States Government. It is the worst currency and the most dangerous this country has ever known. When the proponents of the act saw that Democratic doctrine would not permit them to let the proposed banks issue the new currency as bank notes, they should have stopped at that. They should not have foisted that kind of currency, namely, an asset currency, on the United States Government. They should not have made the government liable on the private debts of individuals and corporations and, least of all, on the private debts of foreigners.

The Federal Reserve Note is essentially unsound.

As Demmerer says:

"The Federal Reserve Notes, therefore, in form have some of the qualities of government paper money, but, in substance, are almost a pure asset currency possessing a government guaranty against which contingency the government has made no provision whatever.

"... They are obligations of the government for which the United States has received nothing and for the payment of which at any time it assumes the responsibility looking to the Federal Reserve Bank to recoup itself."

If the United States Government is to redeem the Federal Reserve Notes when the general public finds out what it costs to deliver this flood of paper money to the 12 Federal Reserve Banks, and if the government has made no provision for redeeming them, the first element of their unsoundness is not far to seek.

Before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, while the Federal Reserve Bill was under discussion, Mr. Crozier, of Cincinnati, said:

MR. CROZIER, AGAIN

"In other words, the imperial power of elasticity of the public currency is wielded exclusively by these central corporations owned by the banks. This is a life and death power over all local banks and all business. It can be used to create or destroy prosperity, to ward off or cause stringencies and panics. By making money artificially scarce, interest rates throughout the country can be arbitrarily raised and the bank tax on all business and cost of living increased for the profit of the banks owning these regional central banks, and without the slightest benefit to the people. These 12 corporations together cover the whole country and monopolize and use for private gain every dollar of the public currency and all public revenues of the United States. Not a dollar can be put into circulation among the people by their Government without the consent of and on terms fixed by these 12 private money trusts."

In defiance of this and all other warnings, the proponents of the Federal Reserve Act created the 12 private credit corporations and gave them an absolute monopoly of the currency of the United States, not of Federal Reserve Notes alone, but of all the currency. The Federal Reserve Act provided ways by means of which the gold and general currency in the hands of the American people could be obtained by the Federal Reserve Banks in exchange for Federal Reserve Notes, which are not money but merely promises to pay money. Since the evil day when this was done the initial monopoly has been extended by vicious amendments to the Federal Reserve Act and by the unlawful and treasonable practices of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks.

Mr. Chairman, when a Chinese merchant sells human hair to a Paris wigmaker and bills him in dollars, the Federal Reserve Banks can buy his bill against the wigmaker and then use that bill as collateral for Federal Reserve Notes. The United States Government thus pays the Chinese merchant the debt of the wigmaker and gets nothing in return except a shady title to the Chinese hair.

Mr. Chairman, if a Scotch distiller wishes to send a cargo of Scotch whisky to the United States, he can draw his bill against the purchasing bootlegger in dollars; and after the bootlegger has accepted it by writing his name across the face of it, the Scotch distiller can send that bill to the nefarious open discount market in New York City, where the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks will buy it and use it as collateral for a new issue of Federal Reserve Notes. Thus the Government of the United States pays the Scotch distiller for the whisky before it is shipped; and if it is lost on the way, or if the Coast Guard seizes it and destroys it, the Federal Reserve Banks simply write off the loss and the government never recovers the money that was paid to the Scotch distiller. While we are attempting to enforce prohibition here, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks are financing the distillery business in Europe and are paying bootleggers' bills with the public credit of the United States Government.

McFADDEN'S SPEECH

[CONTINUE QUOTING:]

Mr. Chairman, if a German brewer ships beer to this country or anywhere else in the world and draws his bill for it in dollars, the Federal Reserve Banks will buy that bill and use it as collateral for Federal Reserve Notes. Thus, they compel our government to pay the German brewer for his beer. Why should the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks be permitted to finance the brewing industry of Germany, either in this way or as they do by compelling small and fearful United States banks to take stock in the Isenbeck Brewery and in the German bank for brewing industries?

Mr. Chairman, if Dynamit Nobel of Germany wishes to sell dynamite to Japan to use in Manchuria or elsewhere, it can draw its bill against its Japanese customers in dollars and send that bill to the nefarious open discount market in New York City, where the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks will buy it and use it as collateral for a new issue of Federal Reserve Notes, while at the same time the Federal Reserve Board will be helping Dynamit Nobel by stuffing its stock into the United States banking system. Why should we send our representatives to the disarmament conference at Geneva while the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks are making our government pay Japanese debts to German munitions makers?

Mr. Chairman, if a bean grower of Chile wishes to raise a crop of beans and sell them to a Japanese customer, he can draw a bill against his prospective Japanese customer in dollars and have it purchased by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and get the money out of this country at the expense of the American public before he has even planted the beans in the ground.

Mr. Chairman, if a German in Germany wishes to export goods to South America or anywhere else, he can draw his bill against his customer and send it to the United States and get the money out of this country before he ships or even manufactures the goods.

Mr. Chairman, why should the currency of the United States be issued on the strength of Chinese human hair? Why should it be issued on the trade whims of a wigmaker? Why should it be issued on the strength of German beer? Why should it be issued on a crop of unplanted beans to be grown in Chile for Japanese consumption? Why should the Government of the United States be compelled to issue many billions of dollars every year to pay the debts of one foreigner to another foreigner? Was it for this that our national-bank depositors had their money taken out of our banks and shipped abroad? Was it for this they had to lose it? Why should the public credit of the United States Government and likewise money belonging to our national-bank depositors be used to support foreign brewers, narcotic drug vendors, whisky distillers, wigmakers, human-hair merchants, Chilean bean growers, and the like? Why should our national-bank depositors and our government be forced to finance the munition factories of Germany and Soviet Russia?

Mr. Chairman, if a German, in Germany, wishes to sell wheelbarrows to another German, he can draw a bill in dollars and get the money out of the Federal Reserve Banks before an American farmer could explain his request for a loan to move his crop to market. In Germany, when credit instruments are being given, the creditors say, "See you, it must be of a kind that I can cash at the reserve". Other foreigners feel the same way. The reserve to which these gentry refer is our reserve, which, as you know, is entirely made up of money belonging to American bank depositors. I think foreigners should cash their own trade paper and not send it over here to bankers who use it to fish cash out of the pockets of the American people.

Mr. Chairman, there is nothing like the Federal Reserve pool of confiscated bank deposits in the world. It is a public trough of American wealth in which foreigners claim rights equal to or greater than those of Americans. The Federal Reserve Banks are the agents of the foreign central banks. They use our bank depositors' money for the benefit of their foreign principals. They barter the public credit of the United States Government and hire it out to foreigners at a profit to themselves.

All this is done at the expense of the United States Government, and at a sickening loss to the American people. Only our great wealth enabled us to stand the drain of it as long as we did.

I believe that the nations of the world would have settled down after the World War more peacefully if we had not had this standing temptation here—this pool of our bank depositors' money given to private interests and used by them in connection with illimitable drafts upon the public credit of the United States Government. The Federal Reserve Board invited the world to come in and to carry away cash, credit, goods, and everything else of value that was movable. Values amounting to many billions of dollars have been taken out of this country by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks for the benefit of their foreign principals. The United States has been ransacked and pillaged. Our structures have been gutted and only the walls are left standing. While this crime was being perpetrated everything the world could rake up to sell us was brought in here at our own expense by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks until our markets were swamped with unneeded and unwanted imported goods priced far above their value and thus made to equal the dollar volume of our honest exports and to kill or reduce our favorable balance of trade. As agents of the foreign central banks, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks try by every means within their power to reduce our favorable balance of trade. They act for their foreign principals and they accept fees from foreigners for acting against the best interests of the United States. Naturally there has been great competition among foreigners for the favors of the Federal Reserve Board.

What we need to do is to send the reserves of our national banks home to the people who earned and produced them and who still own them and to the banks which were compelled to surrender them to predatory interests. We need to destroy the Federal Reserve pool, wherein our national-bank reserves are impounded for the benefit of foreigners. We need to make it very difficult for outlanders to draw money away from us. We need to save America for Americans.

Mr. Chairman, when you hold a $10 Federal Reserve Note in your hand you are holding a piece of paper which sooner or later is going to cost the United States Government $10 in gold, unless the government is obliged to give up the gold standard. It is protected by a reserve of 40 per cent, or $4 in gold. It is based on Limburger cheese, reputed to be in a foreign warehouse; or on cans purporting to contain peas but which may contain no peas but salt water instead; or on horse meat; illicit drugs; bootleggers' fancies; rags and bones from Soviet Russia of which the United States imported over a million dollars' worth last year; on wine, whisky, natural gas, on goat or dog fur, garlic on the string, or Bombay ducks. If you like to have paper money which is secured by such commodities, you have it in the Federal Reserve Note. If you desire to obtain the thing of value upon which this paper currency is based—that is, the Limburger cheese, the whisky, the illicit drugs, or any of the other staples—you will have a very hard time finding them. Many of these worshipful commodities are in foreign countries. Are you going to Germany to inspect her warehouses to see if the specified things of value are there? I think not. And what is more, I do not think you would find them if you did go.

Immense sums belonging to our national-bank depositors have been given to Germany on no collateral security whatever. The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks have issued United States currency on mere finance drafts drawn by Germans. Billions upon billions of our money has been pumped into Germany by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Her worthless paper is still being negotiated here and renewed here on the public credit of the United States Government and at the expense of the American people. On April 27, 1932, the Federal Reserve outfit sent $750,000, belonging to American bank depositors, in gold to Germany. A week later, another $300,000 in gold was shipped to Germany in the same way. About the middle of May $12,000,000 in gold was shipped to Germany by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Almost every week there is a shipment of gold to Germany. These shipments are not made for profit on exchange since German marks are below parity against the dollar.

Mr. Chairman, I believe that the national-bank depositors of the United States are entitled to know what the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks are doing with their money. There are millions of national-bank depositors in this country who do not know that a percentage of every dollar they deposit in a member bank of the Federal Reserve System goes automatically to the American agents of foreign banks and that all of their deposits can be paid away to foreigners without their knowledge or consent by the crooked machinery of the Federal Reserve Act and the questionable practices of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Mr. Chairman, the American people should be told the truth by their servants in office.

In 1930 we had over half a billion dollars outstanding daily to finance foreign goods stored in or shipped between foreign countries. In its yearly total, this item amounts to several billion dollars. What goods are those upon which the Federal Reserve Banks pledge several billion dollars of the public credit of the United States? What goods are those which are hidden in European and Asiatic storehouses and which have never been seen by any officer of this government, but which are being financed on the public credit of the United States Government? What goods are those upon which the United States Government is being obliged by the Federal Reserve Banks to issue Federal Reserve Notes to the extent of several billion dollars a year?

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks have been international bankers from the beginning, with the United States Government as their enforced banker and supplier of currency. But it is nonetheless extraordinary to see those 12 private credit monopolies buying the debts of foreigners against foreigners in all parts of the world and asking the Government of the United States for new issues of Federal Reserve Notes in exchange for them.

I see no reason why the American taxpayers should be hewers of wood and drawers of water for the European and Asiatic customers of the Federal Reserve Banks. I see no reason why a worthless acceptance drawn by a foreign swindler as a means of getting gold out of this country should receive the lowest and choicest rate from the Federal Reserve Board and be treated as better security than the note of an American farmer living on American land.

The magnitude of the acceptance racket, as it has been developed by the Federal Reserve Banks, their foreign correspondents, and the predatory European-born bankers who set up the Federal Reserve institution here and taught our own brand of pirates how to loot the people—I say the magnitude of this racket is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $9,000,000,000 a year (1932). In the past ten years it is said to have amounted to $90,000,000,000. In my opinion, it has amounted to several times as much. Coupled with this you have, to the extent of billions of dollars, the gambling in United States securities, which takes place in the same open discount market—a gamble upon which the Federal Reserve Board is now spending $100,000,000 a week.

Federal Reserve Notes are taken from the United States Government in unlimited quantities. Is it strange that the burden of supplying these immense sums of money to the gambling fraternity has at last proved too heavy for the American people to endure? Would it not be a national calamity if the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks should again bind this burden down on the backs of the American people and, by means of the long rawhide whips of the credit masters, compel them to enter upon another 17 years of slavery? They are trying to do that now. They are taking $100,000,000 of the public credit of the United States Government every week in addition to all their other seizures, and they are spending that money in the nefarious open market in New York City in a desperate gamble to reestablish their graft as a going concern.

They are putting the United States Government in debt to the extent of $100,000,000 a week, and with this money they are buying up our government securities for themselves and their foreign principals. Our people are disgusted with the experiments of the Federal Reserve Board. The Federal Reserve Board is not producing a loaf of bread, a yard of cloth, a bushel of corn, or a pile of cordwood by its check-kiting operations in the money market.

A fortnight or so ago great aid and comfort was given to Japan by the firm of A. Gerli & Sons, of New York, an importing firm, which bought $16,000,000 worth of raw silk from the Japanese Government. Federal Reserve Notes will be issued to pay that amount to the Japanese Government, and these notes will be secured by money belonging to our national-bank depositors.

Why should United States currency be issued on this debt? Why should United States currency be issued to pay the debt of Gerli & Sons to the Japanese Government? The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks think more of the silkworms of Japan than they do of American citizens. We do not need $16,000,000 worth of silk in this country at the present time, not even to furnish work to dyers and finishers. We need to wear home-grown and American-made clothes and to use our own money for our own goods and staples. We could spend $16,000,000 in the United States of America on American children and that would be a better investment for us than Japanese silk purchased on the public credit of the United States Government.

Mr. Speaker, on the 13th of January of this year I addressed the House on the subject of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. In the course of my remarks I made the following statement:

"In 1928 the member banks of the Federal Reserve System borrowed $60,598,690,000 from the Federal Reserve Banks on their 15-day promissory notes. Think of it! Sixty billion dollars payable upon demand in gold in the course of one single year. The actual payment of such obligations calls for six times as much monetary gold as there is in the entire world. Such transactions represent a grant in the course of one single year of about $7,000,000 to every member bank of the Federal Reserve System. Is it any wonder that there is a depression in this country? Is it any wonder that American labor, which ultimately pays the cost of all the banking operations of this country, has at last proved unequal to the task of supplying this huge total of cash and credit for the benefit of stock-market manipulators and foreign swindlers?"

Mr. Chairman, some of my colleagues have asked for more specific information concerning this stupendous graft, this frightful burden which has been placed on the wage earners and taxpayers of the United States for the benefit of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. They were surprised to learn that member banks of the Federal Reserve System had received the enormous sum of $60,598,690,000 from the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks on their promissory notes in the course of one single year, namely, 1928. Another Member of this House, Mr. Beedy, the honorable gentleman from Maine, has questioned the accuracy of my statement and has informed me that the Federal Reserve Board denies absolutely that these figures are correct. This Member has said to me that the thing is unthinkable, that it cannot be, that it is beyond all reason to think that the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks should have so subsidized and endowed their favorite banks of the Federal Reserve System. This Member is horrified at the thought of a graft so great, a bounty so detrimental to the public welfare as sixty and a half billion dollars a year and more shoveled out to favored banks of the Federal Reserve System.

I sympathize with Mr. Beedy. I would spare him pain if I could, but the facts remain as I have stated them. In 1928, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks presented the staggering amount of $60,598,690,000 to their member banks at the expense of the wage earners and taxpayers of the United States. In 1929, the year of the stockmarket crash, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks advanced fifty-eight billions to member banks.

In 1930, while the speculating banks were getting out of the stock market at the expense of the general public, the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks advanced them $13,022,782,000. This shows that when the banks were gambling on the public credit of the United States Government as represented by Federal Reserve currency, they were subsidized to any amount they required by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. When the swindle began to fail, the banks knew it in advance and withdrew from the market. They got out with whole skins and left the people of the United States to pay the piper.

On November 2, 1931, I addressed a letter to the Federal Reserve Board asking for the aggregate total of member-bank borrowings in the years 1928, 1929, 1930. In due course, I received a reply from the Federal Reserve Board, dated November 9, 1931, the pertinent part of which reads as follows:

My Dear Congressman: In reply to your letter of November 2, you are advised that the aggregate amount of 15-day promissory notes of member banks during each of the past three calendar years has been as follows:

1928: $60,598,690,000
1929: $58,046,697,000
1930: $13,022,782,000

Very truly yours,

Chester Morrill, Secretary.

This will show the gentleman from Maine the accuracy of my statement. As for the denial of these facts made to him by the Federal Reserve Board, I can only say that it must have been prompted by fright, since hanging is too good for a government board which permitted such a misuse of government funds and credit.

My friend from Kansas, Mr. McGugin, has stated that he thought the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks lent money by rediscounting. So they do, but they lend comparatively little that way. The real rediscounting that they do has been called a mere penny in the slot business. It is too slow for genuine high flyers. They discourage it. They prefer to subsidize their favorite banks by making these $60,000,000,000 advances, and they prefer to acquire acceptance in the notorious open discount market in New York, where they can use them to control the prices of stocks and bonds on the exchanges. For every dollar they advanced on rediscounts in 1928 they lent $33 to their favorite banks for gambling purposes. In other words, their rediscounts in 1928 amounted to $1,814,271,000, while their loans to member banks amounted to $60,598,690,000. [H: Chelas, do you hear this? And this was in 1928; what think you it is today?] As for their open-market operations, these are on a stupendous scale, and no tax is paid on the acceptances they handle; and their foreign principals, for whom they do a business of several billion dollars every year, pay no income tax on their profits to the United States Government.

This is the John Law swindle over again. The theft of Teapot Dome was trifling compared to it. What king ever robbed his subjects to such an extent as the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks have robbed us? Is it any wonder that there have lately been 90 cases of starvation in one of the New York hospitals? Is it any wonder that the children of this country are being dispersed and abandoned?

The government and the people of the United States have been swindled by swindlers de luxe to whom the acquisition of American gold or a parcel of Federal Reserve Notes presented no more difficulty than the drawing up of a worthless acceptance in a country not subject to the laws of the United States, by sharpers not subject to the jurisdiction of the United States courts, sharpers with a strong banking "fence" on this side of the water—a "fence" acting as a receiver of the worthless paper coming from abroad, endorsing it and getting the currency out of the Federal Reserve Banks for it as quickly as possible, exchanging that currency for gold, and in turn transmitting the gold to its foreign confederates.

[END QUOTING FOR NOW]

We shall continue with this speech tomorrow, taking up with the exploits of Ivar Kreuger.

Thank you, Dharma, it has indeed been a very long day of work this Sunday; let us continue on the morrow. Good-day and peace walk with you, chela. AHO.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A COUNTRY FORSAKES ITS CONSTITUTION AND GIVES ITS SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE CURRENCY TO PRIVATE INTERESTS

CONGRESSMAN McFADDEN'S SPEECH

[CONTINUE QUOTING:]

IVAR KREUGER

Such were the exploits of Ivar Kreuger, Mr. Hoover's friend, and his hidden Wall Street backers. Every dollar of the billions Kreuger and his gang drew out of this country on acceptances was drawn from the government and the people of the United States through the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. The credit of the United States Government was peddled to him by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks for their own private gain. That is what the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks have been doing for many years. THEY HAVE BEEN PEDDLING THE CREDIT OF THIS GOVERNMENT AND THE SIGNATURE OF THIS GOVERNMENT TO THE SWINDLERS AND SPECULATORS OF ALL NATIONS. THAT IS WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A COUNTRY FORSAKES ITS CONSTITUTION AND GIVES ITS SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE PUBLIC CURRENCY TO PRIVATE INTERESTS. GIVE THEM THE FLAG AND THEY WILL SELL IT.

The nature of Kreuger's organized swindle and the bankrupt condition of Kreuger's combine was known here last June when Hoover sought to exempt Kreuger's loan to Germany of one hundred twenty-five millions from the operation of the Hoover moratorium. The bankrupt condition of Kreuger's swindle was known here last summer when $30,000,000 was taken from American taxpayers by certain bankers in New York for the ostensible purpose of permitting Kreuger to make a loan to Colombia. Colombia never saw that money. The nature of Kreuger's swindle and the bankrupt condition of Kreuger was known here in January when he visited his friend, Mr. Hoover, at the White House. It was known here in March before he went to Paris and committed suicide there.

Mr. Chairman, I think the people of the United States are entitled to know how many billions of dollars were placed at the disposal of Kreuger and his gigantic combine by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and to know how much of our government currency was issued and lost in the financing of that great swindle in the years during which the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks took care of Kreuger's requirements.

Mr. Chairman, I believe there should be a congress-sional investigation of the operations of Kreuger and Toll in the United States and that Swedish Match, International Match, the Swedish-American Investment Corporation, and all related enterprises, including the subsidiary companies of Kreuger and Toll, should be investigated and that the issuance of United States currency in connection with those enterprises and the use of our national-bank depositors' money for Kreuger's benefit should be made known to the general public. I am referring, not only to the securities which were floated and sold in this country, but also to the commercial loans to Kreuger's enterprises and the mass financing of Kreuger's companies by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and the predatory institutions which the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks shield and harbor.

A few days ago the President of the United States, with a white face and shaking hands, went before the Senate on behalf of the moneyed interests and asked the Senate to levy a tax on the people so that foreigners might know that the United States would pay its debts to them. Most Americans thought that it was the other way around. What does the United States owe to foreigners? When and by whom was the debt incurred? It was incurred by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks when they peddled the signature of this government to foreigners for a price. It is what the United States Government has to pay to redeem the obligations of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Are you going to let those thieves get off scot free? Is there one law for the looter who drives up to the door of the United States Treasury in his limousine and another for the United States veterans who are sleeping on the floor of a dilapidated house on the outskirts of Washington?

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is here asking for a large loan from the people and the wage earners and the taxpayers of the United States. It is begging for a handout from the government. It is standing, cap in hand, at the door of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, where all the other jackals have gathered to the feast. It is asking for money that was raised from the people by taxation, and it wants this money of the poor for the benefit of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the German international bankers. Is there one law for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and another for the needy veterans it threw off its freight cars the other day? Is there one law for sleek and prosperous swindlers who call themselves bankers and another law for the soldiers who defended the United States flag?

Mr. Chairman, some people are horrified because the collateral behind Kreuger and Toll debentures was removed and worthless collateral substituted for it. What is this but what is being done daily by the Federal Reserve Banks? When the Federal Reserve Act was passed, the Federal Reserve Banks were allowed to substitute "other like collateral" for collateral behind Federal Reserve Notes but by an amendment obtained at the request of the corrupt and dishonest Federal Reserve Board, the act was changed so that the word "like" was stricken out. All that immense trouble was taken here in Congress so that the law would permit the Federal Reserve Banks to switch collateral. At the present time behind the scenes in the Federal Reserve Banks there is a night-and-day movement of collateral. A visiting Englishman, leaving the United States a few weeks ago said that things would look better here after "they cleaned up the mess at Washington". Cleaning up the mess consists in fooling the people and making them pay a second time for the bad foreign investments of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. It consists in moving that heavy load of dubious and worthless foreign paper—the bills of wigmakers, brewers, distillers, narcotic-drug vendors, munition makers, illegal finance drafts, and worthless foreign securities out of the banks and putting it on the back of American labor. That is what the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is doing now. [H: Is this not EXACTLY that which the Resolution Trust Corporation is doing right now to your populace? Perhaps you might explain it to me otherwise if you disagree!] They talk about loans to banks and railroads but they say very little about that other business of theirs which consists in relieving the swindlers who promoted investment trusts in this country and dumped worthless foreign securities into them and then resold that mess of pottage to American investors under cover of their own corporate titles. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is taking over those worthless securities from those investment trusts with United States Treasury money at the expense of the American taxpayer and wage earner. [H: Note that they didn't even bother to change the title hardly at all—and they derived great humor in so-doing; the room was rocking with laughter as they put that one over on you Americans. One of your great Senators said, "The suckers will never even notice!"]

It will take us 20 years to redeem our government, 20 years of penal servitude to pay off the gambling debts of the traitorous Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and to earn again that vast flood of American wages and savings, bank deposits, and United States Government credit which the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks exported out of this country to their foreign principals.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks lately conducted an anti-hoarding campaign here. Then they took that extra money which they had persuaded a trusting American people to put into the banks and they sent it to Europe along with the rest. In the last several months, they have sent $1,300,000,000 in gold to their foreign employers, their foreign masters, and every dollar of that gold belonged to the people of the United States and was unlawfully taken from them.

Is not it high time that we had an audit of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and an examination of all our governments bonds and securities and public moneys instead of allowing the corrupt and dishonest Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks to speculate with those securities and this cash in the notorious open discount market of New York City?

Mr. Chairman, within the limits of the time allowed me, I cannot enter into a particularized discussion of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. I have singled out the Federal Reserve currency for a few remarks because there has lately been some talk here of "fiat money". What kind of money is being pumped into the open discount market and through it into foreign channels and stock exchanges? Mr. Mills of the Treasury has spoken here of his horror of the printing presses and his horror of dishonest money. He has no horror of dishonest money. If he had, he would be no party to the present gambling of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks in the nefarious open discount market of New York, a market in which the sellers are represented by ten great discount dealer corporations owned and organized by the very banks which own and control the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Fiat money, indeed!

After the several raids on the Treasury Mr. Mills borrow the speech of those who protested against those raids and speaks now with pretended horror of a raid on the Treasury. Where was Mr. Mills last October when the United States Treasury needed $598,000,000 of the taxpayers' money which was supposed to be in the safe-keeping of Andrew W. Mellon in the designated depositories of Treasury funds, and which was not in those depositories when the Treasury needed it? Mr. Mills was the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury then, and he was at Washington throughout October, with the exception of a very significant week he spent at White Sulphur Springs closeted with international bankers, while the Italian minister, Signor Grandi, was being entertained—and bargained with—at Washington.

What Mr. Mills is fighting for is the preservation, whole and entire, of the bankers' monopoly of all the currency of the United States Government. What Mr. Patman proposes is that the government shall exercise its sovereignty to the extent of issuing some currency for itself. This conflict of opinion between Mr. Mills as the spokesman of the bankers and Mr. Patman as the spokesman of the people brings the currency situation here into the open. Mr. Patman and the veterans are confronted by a stone wall—the wall that fences in the bankers with their special privilege. Thus the issue is joined between the hosts of democracy, of which the veterans are a part, and the men of the king's bank, the would-be aristocrats, who deflated American agriculture and robbed this country for the benefit of their foreign principals.

Mr. Chairman, last December I introduced a resolution here asking for an examination and audit of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and all related matters. If the House sees fit to make such an investigation, the people of the United States will obtain information of great value. This is a government of the people, by the people, for the people, consequently nothing should be concealed from the people. The man who deceives the people is a traitor to the United States. The man who knows or suspects that a crime has been committed and who conceals or covers up that crime is an accessory to it. Mr. Speaker, it is a monstrous thing for this great Nation of people to have its destinies presided over by a traitorous government board acting in secret concert with international usurers. Every effort has been made by the Federal Reserve Board to conceal its power but the truth is the Federal Reserve Board has usurped the Government of the United States. It controls everything here and it controls all our foreign relations. It makes and breaks governments at will. No man and no body of men is more entrenched in power than the arrogant credit monopoly which operates the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. These evil-doers have robbed this country of more than enough money to pay the national debt. What the national Government has permitted the Federal Reserve Board to steal from the people should now be restored to the people. The people have a valid claim against the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. If that claim is enforced, Americans will not need to stand in breadlines or to suffer and die of starvation in the streets. Homes will be saved, families will be kept together, and American children will not be dispersed and abandoned. The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks owe the United States Government an immense sum of money. We ought to find out the exact amount of the people's claim. We should know the amount of the indebtedness of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks to the people and we should collect that amount immediately. We certainly should investigate this treacherous and disloyal conduct of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks.

Here is a Federal Reserve Note. Immense numbers of these notes are now held abroad. I am told they amount to upward of a billion dollars. They constitute a claim against our government and likewise a claim against the money our people have deposited in the member banks of the Federal Reserve System. Our people's money to the extent of $1,300,000,000 has within the last few months been shipped abroad to redeem Federal Reserve Notes and to pay other gambling debts of the traitorous Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. The greater part of our monetary stock has been shipped to foreigners. Why should we promise to pay the debts of foreigners to foreigners? Why should our government be put into the position of supplying money to foreigners? Why should American farmers and wage earners add millions of foreigners to the number of their dependents? Why should the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks be permitted to finance our competitors in all parts of the world? Do you know why the tariff was raised? It was raised to shut out the flood of Federal Reserve goods pouring in here from every quarter of the globe—cheap goods produced by cheaply paid foreign labor on unlimited supplies of money and credit sent out of this country by the dishonest and unscrupulous Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks. Go out in Washington to buy an electric light bulb and you will probably be offered one that was made in Japan on American money. Go out to buy a pair of fabric gloves and inconspicuously written on the inside of the gloves that will be offered to you will be found the words "made in Germany" and that means "made on the public credit of the United States Government paid to German firms in American gold taken from the confiscated bank deposits of the American people."

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks are spending $100,000,000 a week buying government securities in the open market and are thus making a great bid for foreign business. They are trying to make rates so attractive that the human-hair merchants and distillers and other business entities in foreign lands will come here and hire more of the public credit of the United States Government and pay the Federal Reserve outfit for getting it for them.

Mr. Chairman, when the Federal Reserve Act was passed the people of the United States did not perceive that a world system was being set up here which would make the savings of an American school-teacher available to a narcotic-drug vendor in Cacao. They did not perceive that the United States was to be lowered to the position of a coolie country which has nothing but raw materials and heavy goods for export; that Russia was destined to supply manpower and that this country was to supply financial power to an international superstate—a superstate controlled by international bankers and international industrialists acting together to enslave the world for their own pleasure.

The people of the United States are being greatly wronged. If they are not, then I do not know what "wronging the people" means. They have been driven from their employments. They have been dispossessed of their homes. They have been evicted from their rented quarters. They have lost their children. They have been left to suffer and to die for the lack of shelter, food, clothing, and medicine.

The wealth of the United States and the working capital of the United States has been taken away from them and has either been locked in the vaults of certain banks and great corporations or exported to foreign countries for the benefit of the foreign customers of those banks and corporations. So far as the people of the United States are concerned, the cupboard is bare. It is true that the warehouses and coal yards and grain elevators are full, but the warehouses and coal yards and grain elevators are padlocked and the great banks and corporations hold the keys. The sacking of the United States by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks and their confederates is the greatest crime in history.

Mr. Chairman, a serious situation confronts the House of Representatives today. We are the trustees of the people and the rights of the people are being taken away from them. Through the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks, the people are losing the rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution. Their property has been taken from them without due process of law. Mr. Chairman, common decency requires us to examine the public accounts of the government to see what crimes against the public welfare have been and are being committed.

What is needed here is a return to the Constitution of the United States. We need to have a complete divorce of Bank and State. The old struggle that was fought out here in Jackson's day must be fought over again. The independent United States Treasury should be reestablished and the government should keep its own money under lock and key in the building the people provided for that purpose. Asset currency, the device of the swindler, should be done away with. The government should buy gold and issue United States currency on it. The business of the independent bankers should be restored to them. The State banking systems should be freed from coercion. The Federal Reserve districts should be abolished and State boundaries should be respected. Bank reserves should be kept within the borders of the States whose people own them, and this reserve money of the people should be protected so that international bankers and acceptance bankers and discount dealers cannot draw it away from them. The exchanges should be closed while we are putting our financial affairs in order. The Federal Reserve Act should be repealed and the Federal Reserve Banks, having violated their charters, should be liquidated immediately. Faithless government officers who have violated their oaths of office should be impeached and brought to trial. Unless this is done by us, I predict that the American people, outraged, robbed, pillaged, insulted, and betrayed as they are in their own land, will rise in their wrath and send a President here who will sweep the money changers out of the temple.

[END QUOTE]

The only comment I shall make prior to closing this is to request that you go back and read every paragraph of this speech again and mentally add the burden of increased tampering and total control for over sixty years and ask yourself: WHERE ARE WE TODAY???

You are in all but irreversible circumstances, dear ones, for you have waited too long for action. Your gold, for instance, is all gone—moved away, confiscated!

What have you done with your wondrous one nation, UNDER GOD, INDIVISIBLE—WITH LIBERTY AND JUSTICE? YOU HAVE SOLD IT, INCLUDING YOUR SOULS, TO THE DEVIL!

Salu—and may God grant you wisdom and power to reclaim that which is your birthright.

The Greatest Awakening Of Mankind Ever On This Planet

6/25/96 ESU "JESUS" SANANDA

Be at peace. It is I, Esu Sananda, one with Creator God. I come in the Radiant One Light of Aton.

There is much turmoil and confusion this day. The clash of the would-be kings and rulers of the world is heating up. Much blood shall flow as a result of this great conflict.

For many there shall be overwhelming fear as they seek to understand that which is happening around them and to them. Be not concerned, for did not God give unto them both eyes to see with and ears to hear with—and yet even more important: a mind to REASON with?

All shall be responsible for themselves! Blessed are the ones who receive (hear) these messages, for you are the ones who have awakened to the greater truth, that of higher consciousness.

(My scribe, there are great efforts to stop this communication. Be persistent at keeping your Light shielding in place. Nothing of darkness can persist in the Radiance of Aton's Light. Good; let us continue, please.)

There is a great need at this time for we of the Hosts of God to have these messages spread far and wide. As the physical Earth changes begin to heat up, there shall most likely be an interruption of the distribution of these writings. Therefore, you ones who receive the CONTACT shall have need for basic instruction, for in as much as you may think that you are prepared, let me assure you that you are NOT.

No souled being can go through this type of experience without feeling great pain and sorrow. The loss of life shall be great. You ones who call upon the Light for protection shall have it. There is far more that we can do for you ones when you DIRECTLY call upon us. When ones refuse to believe, we must honor their choice, too.

Many a good person shall not survive the physical assaults thrust upon you ones. Even ones in that small town of Tehachapi, who think that somehow they are protected by just being there, shall have a great shock and realization as this time of chaos heats up.

Get right with Creator. You may be able to lie to another; you most certainly can and do lie to yourselves. But you cannot lie to Creator, for He knows your heart and sees and knows every last thread of lie that you ones hold onto.

Let go of your past mistakes; forgive yourself and forgive those whom you perceive have done you wrong. Then move on and create a better life—one based upon truth, honesty and integrity.

Do not tolerate another's lies. Call them to their attention, for a lie cannot persist in the Light of Truth. If another is persistent in a lie, then insist that they leave from your presence. Do not allow another to pull you from your path.

It is alright for ones to disagree with you. Each has their own free will choice. It is NOT alright for another to FORCE their reality onto you—or yours onto them. Respect another's opinions and demand that same respect toward your own opinions, for truth IS and cannot be changed.

You ones are often more worried about who is right and who is wrong. All want to be right, for each wants to be confident in their perception of reality. What is really real?

Communication is usually the bridge necessary to cross the gaps in a dispute over who is right and who is wrong. Most often both sides are in error.

Do not allow the ego to distract you from getting your message heard. Souled beings instinctively know truth when they hear it. Yet ones allow their ego to step in and say, "This cannot be for I (in my great understanding) would already know of it and therefore it cannot be." Thus they reject that which their soul so desperately seeks.

These ones who refuse to accept still need to hear the messages of Light and Truth. They need them in order to, at a later time, know where and to whom to turn in their time of confusion.

So, do not hold back from another that which you know to be true, for YOU need that which your brother brings to the unfolding play.

Be certain in your own knowingness for your certainty, if nothing else, shall be remembered. Be patient and do not expect ones to just give up their old beliefs overnight. These ones need to experience the learning process. They must come to know that man's greatest enemy is himself.

You ones limit self, and thus limit the Creative Potential—the God Force—within. It only takes ONE to realize their potential to change the whole entire play! Stop awaiting another to do that which YOU have potential to do yourself. Honor the Creative Force within; allow it to flourish and show you your true potential. QUIT HOLDING SELF BACK!

Each souled being has a special gift and a special purpose. Until you recognize that purpose and bring it to the world, the whole of humanity shall go lacking. That is one reason why each is as important as another.

You all have a part to contribute to the whole. Inasmuch as you limit yourself, you limit others who need that which you bring into this world with you. Do not hold back that which you are compelled to say to another or do for another. You may be the one who makes the difference in that person's life, which then allows the Flame within to burn brighter than it had before.

Do not hide God's words from another. If you are ashamed of what and who you are, you had better ask yourself "WHY?"! Do not fear ridicule, for the very ones who ridicule you for sharing truth shall be the ones who come to you in their time of need—for they shall not know anywhere else to turn. Do your part by sharing these words with those who need them.

Be responsible and do not pretend to know all the answers. If you know some answers, then tell them. If you do not know or are uncertain of an answer, then say so. Your honesty shall be greatly appreciated. When you honor others, they shall not have need to distrust you.

The upcoming catastrophic cleansing shall become the greatest awakening of mankind ever on that planet. The end result shall be a rebirth of Radiance and Knowing. Peace and Balance are what shall come out of the chaos as the Phoenix rises from the ashes of destruction.

These are truly magnificent times for experiencing, for where else shall you get such lessons.

Thank you for writing and sharing, my friend. I am Esu Sananda, come in the Radiance of the One Light so that you ones might see.

Peace and Balance. Aho!

Banksters' Shenanigans

The Sordid Story Of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan

6/25/96 RAY BILGER

Prior to 1870, Santa Barbara, California residents were their own bankers. Any gold or silver was generally kept within the home in a strong chest which could be locked. Most transactions were for cash, and only good friends extended any sort of credit to one another.

In 1871, Mortimer Cook, himself a banker, arrived in town on a steamer from the north, bringing with him the first iron safe in the county. He placed his safe in a building on State Street, put an advertisement in the Santa Barbara Press, and thus started Santa Barbara's first bank. In the next 15 years, two more banks would open (in 1875 and 1896), with all three operating successfully. Santa Barbara was firmly on the map. (Bank of America became part of Santa Barbara's financial community in 1927, under the name of Bank of Italy.)

Santa Barbara Savings & Loan Assn. actually began life on May 20, 1901 as Santa Barbara Mutual Building and Loan Assn. Assets in 1901 were $6,640. On its 50th Anniversary in 1951, the Association's assets were over $17.5 million. The decade of the 1950s was a period of tremendous growth, and the 60th Anniversary in 1961 saw assets of over $82 million.

On January 1, 1965, Santa Barbara Mutual Building and Loan Assn. officially became Santa Barbara Savings & Loan Assn. With assets of over $146 million, it ranked 91st among more than 6,500 S&Ls nationwide. Its branch and agency operations extended to the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, San Luis Obispo, Kern, and Los Angeles. Financial Corporation of Santa Barbara was the parent holding company of the S&L.

In 1969, Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara bought out Paramount Savings & Loan Assn. of Bakersfield. Prior to 1969, Santa Barbara Savings & Loan Assn. (S.B.S.L.A.) was able to operate only through a lending agency in Bakersfield. Since all of Kern County was actually within S.B.S.L.A. lending territory (due to a "grandfather clause" from the old 'Building and Loan', which allowed S.B.S.L.A. to exceed the normal 100-mile limit from a home office), this new acquisition meant only continued growth.

In 1972, the month of April saw S.B.S.L.A. as the top lender in Santa Barbara County by a wide margin, with loans for the month over $4.9 million. The nearest competitor, Imperial S&L, had loans of only $1.9 million.

In January of 1973, Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara agreed in principle to a billion-dollar merger with Wesco Financial Corp. of Pasadena (California). Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara would be the surviving corporation, making it one of the 10 largest S&Ls in the United States, with a listing on the New York Stock Exchange.

As a side-note, it is important to remember that Dr. John Coleman has informed us, in his book Conspirators' Hierarchy: The Story of the Committee of 300, that Santa Barbara is the home of 2 of the "Committee's" front organizations. One of these is the Center For The Study of Democratic Institutions, founded by Robert Hutchins. It is an "Olympian" stronghold, housed in what is called "The Parthenon". (Members of The Committee of 300 refer to themselves as Olympians.)

The second front organization in Santa Barbara is the Systems Development Corporation. S.D.C. is operated by Sheldon Arenberg and a staff of hundreds. Its purpose, according to Dr. Coleman, is "to coordinate all elements of the intelligence communities of the U.S.A. and Britain". S.D.C. is conveniently located in easy reach of "The Parthenon". But we digress. Back to Santa Barbara Savings & Loan.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board (F.H.L.B.B.), in 1980, authorized S.B.S.L.A. the opportunity to offer interest-bearing checking accounts beginning January 1, 1981. This was part of a program designed to expand the power of S&Ls to include banking type services. S.B.S.L.A. was an impressive statewide institution with 102 branch offices, stretching as far north as the San Francisco Bay Area and the upper San Joaquin Valley. But things were about to change, for the worse.

By February of 1981, concern was growing about the increasing number of "notices of default" being filed, each leading to foreclosure sales of property. David L. Tilton, chairman of S.B.S.L.A., was voicing concerns that borrowers were acquiring too many layers of debt. The losses continued through 1981 and totaled $30.1 million by years end.

The same pattern continued into 1982, and in July, plans were announced to sell off certain properties, and to restructure the S&L's operations to a "more regional basis". Thus, two months later, in September of 1982, the S&L sold off 14 of its Bay Area branches in the counties of Contra Costa, Santa Clara and San Mateo, to Home Federal Savings & Loan Assn. And in November, the S&L announced the sale of 10 more branches in the northern San Joaquin Valley, to Valley Federal Savings.

If you will recall, the recent background article on "Banks and S&Ls" stated that the Garn-St. Germain Act, which deregulated federal S&Ls, was signed into law by President Reagan in October of 1982. California did not want state-chartered S&Ls to switch to federal charters, and so acted quickly to pass the Nolan Bill, sponsored by Republican state assemblyman Pat Nolan (an associate of a number of S&L executives), which passed and became law on January 1, 1983. (There were reports that Nolan, among others, was targeted by an F.B.I. investigation into influence peddling and political corruption. Nolan resigned, yet denied any wrong doing.) Under the new California law, virtually anyone could own an S&L, and the S&Ls could invest in anything.

By April of 1983, Santa Barbara Savings & Loan announced the sale of 2 more branches in the Fresno area, and its plans to move into new financial territory, including commercial loans, and mortgage banking, wherein the S&L would make loans and sell them to investors in the secondary mortgage market. The S&L was in trouble and needed funds desperately.

These new plans, and the need for funds, paved the way for one of the most famous of Wall Street swindlers to enter the scene. (He was later convicted of massive insider trading violations.) In late 1983, Ivan F. Boesky, then 49, made a $34 million bid (through his Vagabond Hotels, Inc.) to acquire a controlling interest in Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara, the parent company of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan, through the purchase of stock.

In November of 1983, a Boesky representative visited Santa Barbara Savings & Loan to familiarize himself with the S&L's business. The representative said that the S&L would have to improve its financial condition for Boesky to proceed with his purchase of the stock.

In December of 1983, a vice president of Ivan F. Boesky Corp., headquartered in Los Angeles, sent a letter to S.B.S.L.A. suggesting the S&L immediately invest up to $284 million in junk bonds (a.k.a. high-yield corporate bonds).

In January of 1984, at the suggestion of Boesky associates, officers of Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara met with officials of Drexel, Burnham and Lambert, Inc. to discuss buying junk bonds from Drexel. Between January and August, Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara purchased more than $250 million worth of junk bonds from Drexel.

In June of 1984, while Financial Corp. was still buying the junk bonds, Boesky backed out of the deal. He announced that it was a mutual agreement between him and Financial Corp. not to go through with the deal (a lie). (The foregoing information was outlined in a suit filed Thursday, October 12, 1989 in U.S. Dist. Court, Central Dist. of California, by Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara against Drexel and Boesky. This was the first known case where Boesky and Drexel were both directly involved, with each other.)

Amidst all of the Boesky scam, S.B.S.L.A. was continuing to lose money, and on July 26, 1984, the S&L announced plans to sell as many as half of its 74 branch offices. Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara was still seeking outside sources of capital.

A few months earlier Santa Barbara Savings & Loan sold its main office building, in April of 1984, in a sale-leaseback transaction, to William J. Levy. (Levy was the chairman of the board and major shareholder of County Savings Bank, another S&L in Santa Barbara. County Savings hired federal regulator Roy Green, from the F.H.L.B. in Dallas, Texas, to come to work as president of County Savings. Levy denied that regulatory concerns about County Savings' past practices had anything to do with hiring Green.) The sale was financed through S.B.S.L.A.

By December of 1984, Santa Barbara Savings & Loan had actually sold another 11 branches in Los Angeles, Orange, and San Diego Counties, and in Northern California. The sale of another 9 branch offices was expected to be completed by month's end. Also in the same month, Santa Barbara Savings & Loan hired a new president, the young (41), preppy-looking executive from the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp., Philip R. Brinkerhoff. All in all, the losses for 1983 had been $22.6 million, and in 1984, losses, were $19.9 million.

Brinkerhoff had become president of American Savings & Loan of Stockton, California in 1982, while also serving as president of F.C.A. Mortgage Securities. (F.C.A., Financial Corporation of America, based in Irvine, California, Orange County, was the parent company of American S&L.) While at American, Brinkerhoff worked with Charles W. Knapp, whom Brinkerhoff considered a "real genius" and "one of the more aggressive, sales-oriented people in the S&L environment".

However, Ed Gray, Chairman of the F.H.L.B.B. in Washington, D.C., accused Knapp of running F.C.A. in an "unsafe and unsound manner". Even regulators and the S.E.C. (Securities and Exchange Commission) couldn't figure out how F.C.A. was coming up with the profits it was reporting: $32 billion in assets in 1984. F.C.A. was the biggest problem in the S&L debacle of the 1980s. Ed Gray knew that if F.C.A. failed it would pull down the entire F.S.L.I.C. [insurance] fund in one fell swoop. Gray wanted Knapp out of American S&L and F.C.A., and Knapp tried to give the job to his friend, David Stockman, who had been President Reagan's spokesman on budget matters. Stockman did meet with Ed Gray, but Gray had other plans for the S&L. Knapp was also a close friend of Larry Taggart, California Savings and Loan Commissioner from 1983-1985. F.C.A.'s troubles did cost the F.S.L.I.C. over $2 billion and spawned almost 1,200 separate lawsuits.

Knapp, through a chain of two other people, can be connected back to Drexel and Boesky. F.C.A. loaned millions to Las Vegas-based Dunes Hotels and Casinos when Morris Shenker (former attorney for Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, and a close associate of the Civella crime family; and a close associate of Allen Dorfman, who had extensive connections to the Chicago mob) was chairman. The F.C.A. and American S&L story is deep, very deep. One could presume that Brinkerhoff had to be aware of all this and perhaps much more, considering that he was President of American Savings & Loan.

Santa Barbara Savings & Loan had last posted a profit in 1980 but, with Brinkerhoff now at the helm, profits in 1985 were $4.2 million, and in 1986, $19.1 million (in July, 1986, the S&L announced the purchase of 4 new branch offices). How did he do it? According to Brinkerhoff (in November of 1985), one of the ways was going international; that is, offering $250 million in collateralized, floating rate notes aimed mainly at overseas financial markets. This would provide the S&L with a "stable funding source for 10 years". Of course, this did not happen. (Is there some connection between this $250 million and the $250 million worth of junk bonds purchased from Drexel?)

million loss. Dan Williams, an analyst with Sutro & Co. in San Francisco, speculated that, "These are highly leveraged operations (using borrowed funds) and I suspect they are subject to risk. It's possible they backfired on Santa Barbara Savings." The board of directors of S.B.S.L.A. hired an independent law firm to investigate the losses.

In October of 1987, Santa Barbara Savings & Loan took a very interesting turn with the announcement that Leonard M. Ross and his wife, Merri Jean Ross, a husband and wife investment team from Beverly Hills, had acquired 9.9 percent of Financial Corp. of Santa Barbara, the parent company of S.B.S.L.A. Leonard Ross' shady background is a scary story in and of itself.

Leonard Ross' complicated past financial history has been investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (F.B.I.), the Organized Crime Strike Force, and a federal grand jury concerning his business relationship with Barry S. Marlin. Marlin & Ross, Inc. was formed in 1969. Marlin was convicted in 1978 of defrauding investors out of $43 million, and served time in prison. Ross was never indicted or charged with any crime.(?)

In one action, attorney John Endicott, of the California Law Firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, said that "Ross has sued every insurance company in the state of California for bad faith and has collected $15-$20 million" in damages.

Marlin claimed, in court documents, that in May of 1971, Ross confronted him about $600,000 of missing money. Marlin alleges that a month later, in June, Ross called Marlin to his office. Present were Marlin and Ross, Ross' brother Al Ross, and two men with past criminal records, Robert Clark and Walter Seifert. Marlin alleges that while Ross yelled questions and allegations at him, Seifert pistol-whipped and beat him.

Marlin said he was dizzy, bleeding and nauseous when an attorney who worked for Ross, Stephen Landau, burst in and asked what was going on. Landau later said, "I heard screaming and yelling, and saw Al (Ross) standing over Marlin with a gun." Landau was picked up by Al Ross and carried out of the room and told to mind his own business. Marlin alleged that he was forced to sign several documents, including one that turned over his part of the business to Ross.

In court, Marlin alleged that Ross left him in September of 1971, with Ross having drained the assets of their real estate investment venture, leaving it virtually insolvent.

In another very interesting case, an attorney, Lynn Stites (a man), filed suit in 1985 in U.S. District Court against Leonard Ross, accusing Ross of creating a pattern of racketeering and fraud. Stites alleged that Ross attempted to "extort (money) by threats of death, murder, kidnapping, and mayhem" against Stites and his family. Stites even accused Ross of hiring assassins to murder him.

In an incredibly horrible turn of events, Stites claimed that in February of 1987, he had driven his car to a deposition in connection with a Ross case. He had parked his car in a Century City, California parking garage, and was taking his briefcase out of his trunk when a parking attendant drove a car into Stites, crushing his legs, and leaving him bleeding on the floor of the parking garage. The parking attendant disappeared and was never seen again. Ross' attorney, Dale Kinsella, said the "accident" was a "coincidence". Thus, as of October 1987, Leonard Ross was now a part of the Santa Barbara Savings & Loan "family".

Then, on November 17, 1987, a former Santa Barbara Savings & Loan officer, Vincent Crowder, filed suit in Santa Barbara County Superior Court, against the S&L, which, at the time, was still the largest independent financial institution in Santa Barbara County.

In his lawsuit, Crowder claims that his supervisor, James R. Thompson, the former senior vice president in charge of the capital markets division, was making improper securities trades. Crowder alleges that losses at the S&L were directly related to the improper trading.

Crowder claims that on June 2, 1987, Thompson told him to sell securities certificates that Crowder claims the S&L was not licensed to sell. After Crowder apparently voiced some objection, Thompson severely reprimanded him and demanded that he sell the securities. Crowder also claimed that he saw Thompson make illegal transactions that "were manipulative, and for the purpose of depressing the market price of those securities so that the S&L could affect other association transactions at prices more favorable to the association." Crowder left the firm.

In an apparently creative move to discredit and blackmail Crowder, the S&L had one of its female employees, Esther Waterston, accuse Crowder of sexual harassment!!

As 1987 drew to a close, the sordid story of Santa Barbara Savings & Loan was only beginning. With 1988 would come, among other things, a little old couple from Tehachapi, California, E.J. & Doris Ekker. Santa Barbara Savings & Loan was about to take a new twist as it involved itself, on center-stage, with a non-sale of a house to these innocent folks. The Ekkers did not know at the time, on May 24, 1988, whether the non-sale was just business as usual for the S&L, or whether some more powerful individual or individuals behind the scenes had made the arrangements which have left them on the edge of their seats ever since. And, did the S&L's apparently corrupt activities go all the way to the White House? To Bush and Reagan? To Salomon Brothers and Goldman-Sachs? And what about the Law firm of Shea & Gould?

Stick around. More will be revealed.

Hypnotist Ormond McGill

Shares Wisdom

6/17/96 RICK MARTIN

On the weekend of June 8th and 9th, I was fortunate enough to be present for a Master Mind Hypnotherapy seminar with Ormond McGill and Mark Gil Boyne at the Hypnotism Training Institute of Los Angeles. Both Ormond and Gil were gracious enough to consent to an interview with CONTACT, and so, for starters, on June 13th I had a delightful conversation with Ormond McGill. What Gil Boyne's associate, John Zulli, was so deliberate to mention to those present at the weekend seminar was, "I hope you people realize that what you are witnessing is over 100 years of hypnosis experience in action." I can safely say that IF I had any misconceptions about the field of hypnosis, they were dispelled at this seminar. I was profoundly impressed with the professionalism and care with which the various techniques were taught. And, as Ormond seemed concerned to ask me, "But were you entertained?" Yes, yes and yes again! And it is Ormond's belief that the secret to true teaching, which will stay with you, is enjoyment; or put another way, joy. With that said, let me provide a little background about Ormond McGill and then we'll dive off into a delightfully informative interview.

Ormond McGill is known as the Dean of American Stage Hypnotists and is the author of the famous book Professional Stage Hypnotism. He is a magician and hypnotist of international reputation and has toured many parts of the world with his exciting stage shows: East Indian Miracles, The Seance of Wonders, South Sea Island Magic, and the Concert of Hypnotism. Both an authority on hypnotism and a performer of note, he brings to his writing and speaking a seasoned, professional insight toward the subject of hypnosis. He had published numerous books, including Hypnotism and Mysticism of India; Hypnotism and Meditation—The Operational Manual for Hypnomeditation; Religious Mysteries of the Orient; The Encyclopedia of Genuine Stage Hypnotism; and How to Produce Miracles.

Now in his late 80s, Ormond McGill can offer insight to the greatest of masters alive—but if he did so, he would be the first to add, "But you realize it's only my opinion".

To quote Gil Boyne, "Ormond McGill is one of the true giants in the history of hypnotism. His loving spirit and gentle wisdom enhance the practicality of his teaching methods in a way that never fails to delight."

Rick: I would like to focus this interview primarily on the spiritual/metaphysical side of hypnosis.

Ormond: Alright.

Rick: I realize that you've written several books on the subject and are very familiar with a wide variety of Eastern spiritual influences. You speak of the use of self-hypnosis to aid in meditation. Would you speak about that for our readers?

Ormond: Yes, of course I can. Hypnotism and meditation are both a mental process, as we know. But they are completely opposites. Hypnosis is directed toward a purpose of some kind, whatever the purpose may be, such as stopping smoking, for example. Meditation is to become the realization of who you actually are. In other words, know yourself as an immortal being. Meditation takes you deep into the metaphysical realm. Hypnosis keeps you more or less on a psychological level. And so, what we have here in a combination of the two things is if you use hypnosis to bring about a meditative condition where you can recognize your real self for what you really are. Hypnomeditation is an idea that came by with the suggestion of Gil Boyne of the school in Southern California—and then I was writing a book on self-hypnosis and he suggested that we combine, in the book, instead of going just into mental states to go into the meditational field. And for that purpose, we published the book, Hypnotism and Meditation, which I'm sure you know about.

Rick: Yes.

Ormond: It has proved very successful. In fact, probably one of the best selling volumes that I have personally written up to the present time.

Rick: I'm about half way through it and it's remarkably precise and clear and helpful.

Ormond: Well, I tried to take things that are generally considered as rather mystical and far afield into a practical, useable technique. And it seems to work very well. Many people have found it very helpful in their lives, and I'm very happy that it was produced.

Rick: You're familiar with the phrase "mind over matter". And you might actually be one to consider the term subconscious mind over matter. Would you talk about the function of the subconscious mind and how it comes to accept information presented to it, literally?

Ormond: I think that's very easily handled. Mind is usually looked upon as being sort of a process of producing thoughts. Now, thoughts can be on different levels. Thoughts can be very much on a conscious level, where we think of something, we're thinking of a problem, where we're doing mathematics, where we're writing a letter, whatever it may be that we are deliberately cogitating upon. Subconscious things are things that have gone into us that have, more or less, left one level of consciousness and gone into a deeper level; let's say a level of habits, where they become automatic reaction to our behavior. And so, subconscious mind, generally, is simply a phase of mind that deals with things already deeply ingrained in the individual, and as such, they tend to operate on an automatic level. The subconscious mind is, more or less, very receptive to ideas. It is not critical. And as long as they are presented to it in a way that reaches the inner-self, they tend to become behavior patterns on their own. Of course, we must remember that what is subconscious at one time can emerge and become conscious at another time. And so, mind is sort of like a wheel that goes around to an opening of consciousness and as it swings around within that inner-self, why sometimes we have ideas that are deeply buried; even ideas that have occurred long ago, in early childhood and have been put down and sort of forgotten. But, where they are brought back, if they are of a traumatic nature they can be very helpful in removing psychological difficulties. That is the general process of what is called hypnotic feedback into the past, and this has been a useful technique for many hypnotherapists in the present time.

Rick: In your recent talk at the Hypnotism Training Institute of Los Angeles, you spoke of the various states of mind, including Beta, Alpha, and Theta. For our readers who are experienced with meditation and communicating with higher dimensional beings, what state of mind is most desirable to achieve a clear line of communication and what are some techniques for achieving those states?

Ormond: Now, when you speak of a true line of communication, you have to think in terms of what line of communication you're after. Mind seems to be regarded as a process of producing thoughts on four general levels:

The first level is called Beta, which is a condition of waking activity that we normally use ideally thinking and processing complaints.

The second state takes us down to more of a reverie state, which is regarded as Alpha. It is a state of relaxation. It is a state where you are sort of day-dreaming and drifting along and you're not trying too hard to make any definite decisions, but just letting things sort of flow into yourself in a very natural way.

The third state we go down to is beyond Alpha, it is called Theta, and Theta is the realm of dreams. It is the realm of fantasies. In fact, it really is the realm of creativity where ideas seem to just come in a spontaneous manner and seem to be very helpful and very useful. Many inventions have happened that way. People have struggled to solve a problem, and suddenly, while in this dream-like state, it just pops in almost on its own. And so, Theta is the realm that we use when we induce hypnosis. Hypnosis is sort of a controlled Theta state-of-mind.

And then we go down to Delta, which is the fourth state. And that takes us into the realm of sleep, which of course we're all familiar with. But in sleep we tend to become more or less unconscious, and so, while we are unconscious the body has a good chance to recover. We are unconscious, not completely, but we are unconscious as far as being in awareness is concerned. But these four states of mind are very definite in the way the mind seems to work in producing thoughts, and as you know, thoughts are things. In other words, they are bolts of energy, and it has been said in the profound wisdom of the ancients, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he in himself," which I think is a nice idea. Basically, I would say that hypnosis, as used deliberately, is to produce the Theta state of mind. And in that state, it is possible to reach through and give ideas and implant suggestions into the subconscious and let them become the behavior pattern desired in one's life in the state of Beta.

Rick: Let's talk about hypnosis for healing the body.

Ormond: Mind influences body. But likewise, body influences mind. They are not separate things. We are a unit. And, as we know, if one has a lot of stress and is troubled, it brings about physical conditions in the body that are harmful and unhealthy. For example, too much stress can cause ulcers and ulcers are very disturbing things and almost always have been related to the idea of stress. On the other hand, if one is able to remove that, then you can often help the body recover from a physical thing that it might have induced. Now, in reverse, body also effects the mind. It's quite obvious that when you have a good shot of liquor and become drunk, the liquor does not go into any mind, the liquor goes into the body. But then, the blood flows to the brain and the brain is like a functional computer and the mechanism to which mind operates in the physical body, and so it has become befuddled. Then we have the body affecting mind. And mind, in so far as it is a process of producing thoughts, naturally causes a confusion in your thoughts and we have the body influencing mind. Back and forth goes the pattern. Mind to body, body to mind, everything circling around and around and around, which makes us full of us.

Rick: Along this line, let's talk about phobias and the mechanism for re-educating the subconscious mind and removing fear.

Ormond: (Laughter.) Phobia, of course, is the psychological term for fear. Phobias are usually produced from experiences that have been disagreeable, and often experiences that we have submerged into not wishing to keep at a conscious level; they go to the subconscious. But they seem to be there, almost like an internal cancer of some kind; and sometimes they grow and grow and grow and they disturb our daily activity. And so, phobias have to be looked upon and observed and studied at a conscious level to really get through to help them. In hypnosis we are able to bring forth some of these repressed memories, which can be a phobia or of a phobic nature. And it makes it possible to use the technique to give a direct suggestion that the phobia is no longer to be feared because, you must remember that the past is memories that will never happen again, while the future may never happen at all. We live only in the here and now. And if we get that realization in ourselves, then our fears will very quickly disappear because in the here and now, what is there to fear? All life is just a continuum, on and on and on, and phobias come along. But the hypnotism process of hypnotherapists gives us a good way to bring it to the surface, look it over, consider it wisely, and then release it from your behavior patterns of life.

Rick: Now, let me explain also that our newspaper is a little unusual in that with interviews such as this, we are not concerned with getting things down to small "sound bites" and little quotes. We've been known to publish, in their entirety, two-hour interviews. So, feel free to speak as much on any given line of thought that you would like to and don't be conscious of time at all. We have all the time in the world.

All life is just a continuum, on and on and on, and phobias come along. But the hypnotism process of hypnotherapists gives us a good way to bring it to the surface, look it over, consider it wisely, and then release it from your behavior patterns of life.

Ormond: I personally am of the opinion that this form of hypnotherapy is to look upon things on the whole of their nature in a generalized way, and to recognize that while these memories are suppressed, sometimes in the subconscious, they can be brought forth. And when they are faced squarely and honestly, somehow they lose their power over you. You begin to realize, "Wait a minute, now, I went through this before. I don't need it now," and I'm going to generalize, "Life is of happiness in the way I live". I have found that one of my most important contributions in the field of personal—working with people in hypnotherapy—is to suggest the idea of pleasure, pleasure. To let life be a pleasure. And if life is looked upon as a pleasure, hah, that which is disturbing somehow has a way, in this generalization, to just melt away and vanish and it becomes a happy thing to be alive.

Rick: It's interesting you should talk about pleasure because my next question concerns fears which originate from a past life experience.

Ormond: The idea of past-life therapy is still rather, what they say, ambiguous. Some believe it, and some, of course, do not. Half the world accepts the idea of coming back again and again, which is called reincarnation. However, there are many in our country, particularly of a Christian doctrine, that tend to say, "Oh no, that's not the way it is. We are here, now, and then we go on to another time and, let's say, existence." And they look upon immortality as being there, but they don't feel they're going to come back in this form. However, a great deal of research has gone into this thing and many therapists have definitely found, using this approach, that we have lived before. That we have been influenced by behavior patterns earlier, is a very good form of hypnotherapy. My good friend, Dr. Ede Friore for example, is one. She was a clinical psychologist, trained at Miami University and began working with patients, going back into early experiences in this life. But much to her surprise, some of her patients began to actually report experiences that were very strange; strange costumes, strange customs, strange ways, and they seemed to have a definite bearing on their lifetime. For example, one case she reports—by the way, she wrote a book some years ago called You've Been Here Before, and one of the cases was a person in a past lifetime who had been overturned in a boat and was drowned. And, in this lifetime, the person had a fear of water; had a fear of going into boats. And when this was penetrated to a past life experience, it was faced in a sensible way and one realized that one has to look upon life as only moving ahead. There is no point hanging on, too much, to that which lies behind. Look upon it as experience that you learn from and can use to live your life better in the here and now.

Rick: Along this same line, you are, of course, familiar with the term cellular memory. Now, is there, in your mind, a distinction between cellular memory and soul memory?

Ormond: Here's how you'd look upon that. If you are thinking of the term cellular memory, you are probably thinking in terms of the body. And, in so far as we are in a body at the present time, our immediate experiences are probably registered inside ourselves, or at what you might call a cellular or organic level. As we go into the soul situation, we are dealing with an out-of-body experience and that type of memory would belong to the realm of mind, but independent of being in the body itself. If we look upon a soul memory, we definitely are accepting the idea of past life existences. And, in my own opinion, I very much find that, in my work at least, there is much evidence for belief that it is true that we have lived before and we will continue, again and again, because evolution, as the term is used by modern science, is regarded as the development of the body or the mind in body, while the experience of reincarnation or previous lives, is the evolution of the soul itself. Now, of course, you needn't separate them. Put them all together. It's all part of ourselves. But soul memory is the memory of things that belong to the individual not being experienced right now in this life, although they do have influence on the present lifetime.

Rick: Along this same line, speaking of God's tapestry, would you speak about akasha?

Ormond: Akasha is the meaning of the basis of matter. In other words, it is not matter but it is the force or the energy from which all matter is formed. We can look upon the Universe as a mass void; a mass crucible of energy. And upon this energy, Creative Mind seems to produce physical reality. Everything that we know about our world has all, more or less, began with some form of creation. A part of it seems to have been created by some Divine Thoughts are not wild. Thoughts are orderly and directed toward a purpose, and then mind is being used the way it is supposed to be used.

Force of some kind, in making the basic things of nature and the existence of the world itself. But the individual invention seems to be, more or less, based upon some creation of somebody's creative mind. Now, that brings up a point that Christ was very firm about, and that is that God is within you. And if that is so, then the creation of man, and the creation of God, are very closely inter-related and it makes one realize the truly divine nature of each one's being in existence. And that, I suppose, is the most we say about akasha, is that it is so fine and tenuous that it is like the finest bit of vapor in comparison with a piece of solid rock. At least, so it is said, by those of the Oriental culture.

Rick: Would you distinguish between akasha and light?

Ormond: Light?

Rick: Yes.

Ormond: Well, I think we have to go into something of an Einstein nature to figure that. I would be inclined to think that light is a form of energy and, certainly, akasha is a form of energy. The main difference I would say, if there is any, is that the akasha is the basis forming matter of a solid type, while light is a reflection of what comes off of that which has been formed. Ah, again, very hypothetical but interesting to think about.

Rick: What is mind?

Ormond: In my opinion, and of course you must remember it's only an opinion, mind is nothing tangible. Mind is simply a process of producing thoughts. In other words, the better that process is used, the more the thoughts can be of value. Now, thoughts can also be the other way and they can drag you down, using the process of mind, down to the realm of insanity. On the other hand, it can lift you up to the realm of genius. And so, the best I can say about mind is that it is something to learn how to use, under control. Thoughts are not wild. Thoughts are orderly and directed toward a purpose, and then mind is being used the way it is supposed to be used. It is so easy to let mind, sort of, get the idea that, "My mind made me do it". The mind is not supposed to be our master. Your mind is supposed to be your servant. But the more you let it become your master the more the behavior patterns are there and you, sort of, just go along and whatever comes in you just accept. You say, "Well, I didn't, it's not my responsibility. Mind made me do it," which is nonsense. Mind, if it makes you do anything, is to use it the way you use it—is the process of producing thoughts and that's as far as you can go.

Rick: In your many years of experience with hypnotism, have you ever encountered any experiences involving remote viewing?

Ormond: Remote viewing?

Rick: Yes. Are you familiar with the term "remote viewing"?

Ormond: I suppose you mean astral projection?

Rick: Somewhat, yes, yes.

Ormond: Well, I have had—years ago I was quite interested in some psychical experimenting with groups, when I had a chance to go to various parties and so forth. And some people who seem to be able to go into deep trance were directed to go [mentally or remotely] and visit various homes of individuals who were in the group and give a description of who was there, what it was like, what the furniture was and so forth. And we wrote these things down and later checked them, and I was very glad to find that some of these were accurate. Now, I'm not one to say that's any positive proof of anything but at least it points in the direction that, somehow or other, the mind does seem to have the capacity of projecting out and to give reception or experience at a different place. However, we must remember that maybe it was simply picking up some kind of thought-forms or ideas from those that were being penetrated. Awfully hard, on these psychics, to put your finger on the basic cause. Perhaps the best way to look at these things is to regard it as research, experiment and it is results that are important and not necessarily to determine the cause. Because cause can be, pretty much, based upon opinion of the one who is doing the investigation.

Rick: Well said.

Ormond: Make any sense?

Rick: Complete sense.

Ormond: (Laughter.) You mean I make some sense, once in a while?

Rick: I'd say more than once in a while.

Ormond: I'll be dared! Surprise.

Rick: (Laughter.) In your hypnosis sessions with people, have you personally ever experienced something with a client which is only explainable through reincarnation?

Ormond: Well, one time while attending a hypnotic conference, a man came out and said, "I have done some work in the field of previous lives." And there was one subject who seemed to have the ability to not only remember occurrences of past life, but he was able to talk in the languages of the different experiences and also write, in the physical form, in the language that he had received. The man in question was named Alan Lee and he was investigated by some psychiatrists back in Maryland and the results were quite interesting. Alan Lee had no more than a high school education, had no knowledge whatsoever of previous lives or any ideas about foreign languages. He was just, well, an average student and didn't really complete the high school level. And yet, somehow, he seemed to be able to bring about and write in languages that he had no knowledge of. For example, he went through a whole series of life-times and one that was quite interesting that was easily checked was that of Rudolf Valentino. Now, Valentino was, of course, an idol of Americans in the early years of motion pictures, as you know. And he wrote a letter that was to his brother over in Italy, and that was easily checked. The family was tracked down and the letter checked. The handwriting seemed to be identical. It seemed to be very authentic and it was certainly very good evidence. Then, other lives were traced back and he went back to about 13 different lives in these experiences. He went back to England. He went to France and wrote in that language. And finally he wrote in ancient Roman. Now, the nice part about it was we had enough intelligence in this investigation to check these things. And the writing in ancient Roman was very authentic. Then he even went back (under hypnosis) to Egypt and wrote in the Egyptian form. That was checked and it was authentic. He had no knowledge of these things, but somehow inside himself were the memories of that computer bank, as it were, of past lives of these experiences. And so it was, he finally went back to time of Atlantis and Mu and we have no evidence of those languages, so all we can say is that what he wrote is quite interesting. At least, to me, that was quite convincing because there was objective evidence, pointing [to the conclusion] that this thing was not a supposition but was based upon actual fact and experience.

Rick: Fascinating.

Ormond: In fact, I think that you should maybe get a copy of The Many Lives of Alan Lee because it will give you some definite material that you can use for your article. (*If you're interested, just write to the National Guild of Hypnotists, Dr. Dwight Damin, P. O. Box 308, Merrimack, NH 03054-0308—(603) 429-9438. Rick: Fantastic.

Ormond: Now, that is very purposeful. I think you'll want to get a copy of that.

Rick: Ok.

Ormond: Anything else?

Rick: Yes. In your talk over the weekend, almost casually as if an afterthought, you mentioned the term Pleiades, which has a great meaning for our particular readership. Why do you feel you mentioned that?

Ormond: The Pleiades? (Laughter.) That's rather strange. For some reason or other, I've never felt at home on this world. And I don't know why it is, but the Pleiades comes through with some sort of a home base of a solar system, many, many light years away, of a civilization that is far older than we have here on Earth and [who] have learned many lessons that we are now learning at the present time. Because Earth, as I look upon it, is like a school. And it is a very young planet. We do some very intelligent things, but we do some awful, stupid things, too. We're very much like a brilliant student who is still a child. The Pleiades have, at least, learned some of these, (laughter) what do you call them, ways of behavior that make a little more maturity. And so, somehow or other, I've always felt a little more at home when I think in terms of Pleiades. I have no idea why that is so, but that's just the way it comes through to me; and so, I have a bad habit of saying things that come through.

Rick: (Laughter.) What might you say to any of our readers out there who are, perhaps, fearful of hypnosis itself?

Ormond: Fearful of hypnosis?

Rick: Yes. What would you say to people who are afraid of hypnosis?

Ormond: I see. Well, maybe they are just afraid of the word. Because, actually, when you think about it we are continually going into different conditions of mind and hypnosis is merely a state of mind. That's all. Hypnosis, under control, is a wonderful way to deliberately implant suggestions in the subconscious mind and establish habits of behavior under our conscious wishes. To be fearful of it is to be fearful of everything that tends to influence you. And we're always being influenced by different things. We're influenced by advertising. We're influenced by television. We're influenced by pictures. We're influenced by our friends. We're influenced by people we look upon as authorities. But in a way, when you get right down to it, all of that is setting ideas in the mind and, if we want to put it that way, we can say, "You have been hypnotized into those beliefs by your belief that what it is is worthy of your giving attention to."

Hypnosis, on the other hand, (laughter) has kind of been kicked around and has been associated with such dramatic characters as Svengali, Dracula, things of that nature.

Some people say, "Oh, my goodness, this is controlling my mind." No one controls your mind but yourself. You control your mind. If you leave your mind open to other ideas, then your mind begins to produce thoughts along that line, that's all. Hypnosis, in my opinion, is merely a way to change the mind under your deliberate wish to change the mind. And if that is so, it is a very valuable thing and a very useful ally for producing the kind of thoughts you want to make your life the best life possible for you.

Does that make any sense?

Rick: Excellent answer, perfect. In fact, you went right into my next question which is: You use the definition of hypnosis as being a way to change your mind under your direction of how you want to change it, and I was going to ask you to talk about that.

If it is true, also, that God is in us and we look upon God as being Omnipotent, then I would say that we don't have much limit to our potential, do we?

Ormond: Alright. Well, I suppose when you think about it, that's what you go to school for. You go to school to put new ideas in your mind that you probably didn't have there, ideas that could be useful. Well, when you go to a hypnotherapist you're asking for him to put some ideas in there that will be helpful. If there are things that disturb your life, you ask for suggestions and ideas to produce new thoughts that will remove the fear of the old thoughts. On the other hand, that's the negative side. Or, on the positive side, the mind produces thoughts that are very creative. Like in the field of music, in the field of art, people with talent certainly can use hypnotic ways for increasing talent. And so, from that aspect, it becomes a very positive thing. I don't think one needs to be fearful of a thing that is a useful state of mind when it's under control. The only thing for a mind that's difficult is if the mind has lost its control and then, when it has, you can get into all kinds of turmoil. And hypnosis, certainly, makes things more orderly for the person.

Rick: Do you, personally, feel that there are any limits to human potential?

Ormond: Again, this has to be based on the realm of opinion but it has been said that we do not use more than one tenth of our mental capacity. If that is so, we have a great deal—a long way to go to use our potential. If it is true, also, that God is in us and we look upon God as being Omnipotent, then I would say that we don't have much limit to our potential, do we? Because the idea of being Omnipotent is the idea of being without, far beyond, any limiting of potential. So, that's one way to put it and maybe that sounds a bit intellectual. I haven't the slightest idea.

Rick: No, no. It doesn't sound intellectual at all. It sounds very practical.

Ormond: Well, to tell you the truth, everything that has value must have a use for its purpose. And, if it has a useful purpose, it becomes practical.

Rick: It was very clear to me in watching you work and in listening to your presentation that you have a very philosophical and spiritual side. Would you explain to our readers your general philosophy of life?

Ormond: My philosophy of life? (Laughter.) I would say that my philosophy of life is to live life for the happiness of living. And to realize how wonderful it is that everything that happens to us, negative or positive, is really a miracle that it could happen. It's a miracle that you can even raise your arm when you say to yourself, "Arm, raise." Everything is a miracle. Look around you and see all the beauty of nature. Isn't it a miracle? It makes you realize how wonderful this planet is. A very beautiful planet, but it's a very young planet and it has lot to learn about itself. So, I guess my philosophy, more or less, you might say, is basically just, be happy.

Did you find our work together this week-end of interest?

Rick: It was beyond interest. It was profound and deeply moving to me personally.

Ormond: And was it entertaining?

Rick: It was also entertaining, I got a big kick out it. It was not only entertaining, in the entertainment there was a great deal of education that was taking place.

Ormond: Personally, my opinion is that for education to be really good education, it has to be entertaining. Otherwise the mind tends to reject it and go to sleep on it. But if it is entertaining, then it has a sparkle to it and that is so important.

Rick: It took many specific points, about hypnosis, out of the realm of the abstract and made it very real for me.

Ormond: Oh, I'm so glad. Well, that means it was worthwhile.

Rick: Very much so. I really appreciate it, and I appreciate this conversation. I appreciate your taking the time to do it.

COVERT OPERATIONS OF THE US NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY

The following document comprises evidence for a lawsuit filed at the US Courthouse in Washington, DC, by John St. Clair Akwei against the National Security Agency, Ft. George G. Meade, Maryland (Civil Action 92-0449), and constitutes his knowledge of the NSA's structure, national security activities, proprietary technologies and covert operations to monitor individual citizens.—Ed.

1. THE NSA'S MISSION AND DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE OPERATION

* Communications Intelligence (COMINT)

Blanket coverage of all electronic communications in the US and the world to ensure national security. The NSA at Ft. Meade, Maryland has had the most advanced computers in the world since the early 1960s. NSA technology is developed and implemented in secret from private corporations, academia and the general public.

* Signals Intelligence (SIGINT)

The Signals Intelligence mission of the NSA has evolved into a program of decoding EMF [Electro-Magnetic Field] waves in the environment for wirelessly tapping into computers and tracking persons with the electrical currents in their bodies. Signals Intelligence is based on the fact that everything in the environment with an electric current in it has a magnetic flux around it which gives off EMF waves. The NSA/DoD [Department of Defense] has developed proprietary advanced digital equipment which can remotely analyze all objects, whether manmade or organic, that have electrical activity. [H: Still think you won't wear the mark of the Beast? Readers, you ARE the mark of the Beast so why don't you use your minds which God gave unto you and use that system for your own growth and protection? That stance is not unGodly—it is acting in wisdom in the moment for service in the anticipated future. Oh indeed, you certainly CAN remain good and Spiritually enlightened in the very midst of your adversaries' worst nightmares.]

* Domestic Intelligence (DOMINT)

The NSA has records on ALL US citizens. The NSA gathers information on US citizens who might be of interest to any of the over 50,000 NSA agents (HUMINT). These agents are authorized by executive order to spy on anyone. The NSA has a permanent national security anti-terrorist surveillance network in place. This surveillance network is completely disguised and hidden from the public.

Tracking individuals in the US is easily and cost-effectively implemented with the NSA's electronic surveillance network. This network (DOMINT) covers the entire US, involves tens of thousands of NSA personnel, and tracks millions of persons simultaneously. Cost-effective implementation of operations is assured by NSA computer technology designed to minimize operations costs.

NSA personnel serve in quasi-public positions in their communities and run cover businesses and legitimate businesses that can inform the intelligence community of persons they would want to track. NSA personnel in the community usually have cover identities such as social workers, lawyers and business owners.

* Individual Citizens Occasionally Targeted for Surveillance by Independently-Operating NSA Personnel

NSA personnel can control the lives of hundreds of thousands of individuals in the US by using the NSA's domestic intelligence network and cover businesses. The operations independently run by them can sometimes go beyond the bounds of law. Long-term control and sabotage of tens of thousands of unwitting citizens by NSA operatives is likely to happen. NSA DOMINT has the ability to assassinate US citizens covertly or run covert psychological control operations to cause subjects to be diagnosed with ill mental health.

2. NSA'S DOMESTIC ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE NETWORK

As of the early 1960s, the most advanced computers in the world were at the NSA, Ft. Meade. Research breakthroughs with these computers were kept for the NSA. At the present time the NSA has nanotechnology computers that are 15 years ahead of present computer technology.

The NSA obtains blanket coverage of information in the US by using advanced computers that use artificial intelligence to screen all communications, regardless of medium, for key words that should be brought to the attention of NSA agents/cryptologists. These computers monitor all communications at the transmitting and receiving ends. This blanket coverage of the US is a result of the NSA's Signals Intelligence (SIGINT) mission.

The NSA's electronic surveillance network is based on a cellular arrangement of devices that can monitor the entire EMF spectrum. This equipment was developed, implemented and kept secret in the same manner as other electronic warfare programs.

* Signals Intelligence Remote Computer Tampering

The NSA keeps track of all PCs and other computers sold in the US. This is an integral part of the Domestic Intelligence network.

The NSA's EMF equipment can tune in RF [Radio Frequency] emissions from personal computer circuit boards (while filtering out emissions from monitors and power supplies). The RF emission from PC circuit boards contains digital information in the PC. Coded RF waves from the NSA's equipment can resonate PC circuits and change data in the PCs. Thus the NSA can gain wireless modem-style entry into any computer in the country for surveillance or anti-terrorist electronic warfare.

* Detecting EMF Fields in Humans for Surveillance

A subject's bioelectric field can be remotely detected, so subjects can be monitored anywhere they are. With special EMF equipment NSA cryptologists can remotely read evoked potentials (from EEGs). These can be decoded into a person's brain-states and thoughts. The subject is then perfectly monitored from a distance.

NSA personnel can dial up any individual in the country on the Signals Intelligence EMF scanning network and the NSA's computers will then pinpoint and track that person 24 hours a day. The NSA can pick out and track anyone in the US.

3. NSA SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE USE OF EMF BRAIN STIMULATION

NSA Signals Intelligence used EMF Brain Stimulation for Remote Neural Monitoring (RNM) and Electronic Brain Link (EBL). EMF Brain Stimulation has been in development since the MK-ULTRA program of the early 1950s, which included neurological research into radiation (non-ionizing EMF) and bioelectric research and development. The resulting secret technology is categorized at the National Security Archives as "Radiation Intelligence", defined as "information from unintentionally emanated electromagnetic waves in the environment, not including radioactivity or nuclear detonation".

"Heat makes things expand. That's why days are longer in the summer."

Signals Intelligence implemented and kept this technology secret in the same manner as other electronic warfare programs of the US Government. The NSA monitors available information about this technology and withholds scientific research from the public. There are also international intelligence agreements to keep this technology secret.

The NSA has proprietary electronic equipment that analyzes electrical activity in humans from a distance. NSA computer-generated brain mapping can continuously monitor all of the electrical activity in the brain continuously. The NSA records and decodes individual brain maps (of hundreds of thousands of persons) for national security purposes. EMF Brain Stimulation is also secretly used by the military for brain-to-computer link (in military fighter aircraft, for example).

For electronic surveillance purposes, electrical activity in the speech center of the brain can be translated into the subject's verbal thoughts. RNM can send encoded signals to the brain's auditory cortex, thus allowing audio communications direct to the brain (bypassing the ears). NSA operatives can use this covertly to debilitate subjects by simulating auditory hallucinations characteristic of paranoid schizophrenia.

Without any contact with the subject, Remote Neural Monitoring can map out electrical activity from the visual cortex of a subject's brain and show images from the subject's brain on a video monitor. NAS operatives see what the surveillance subject's eyes are seeing. [H: Editors: this is a good sentence to put in a "highlight" box. This is exactly the way "I see" when transmitting into a room while Dharma is translating for me. This is WHY I often have to stop and have her open her eyes. She can, however, "see" through her eyelids—but energy form is my visual method of "seeing". There is nothing mysterious about our communications and you shall come to see that it is, in fact, a very common method of technology.]

Visual memory can also be seen. RNM can send images direct to the visual cortex, bypassing the eyes and optic nerves. NSA operatives can use this surreptitiously to put images into a surveillance subject's brain while they are in REM sleep for brain-programming purposes. [H: The point becomes, of course, as to who you allow to use this methodology of communication and how much control you can maintain over yourself and your mind. God does not tamper WITH YOUR BRAIN OR YOUR MIND—and by experiencing in a positive Godly manner, you are automatically protected from impact by negative energy forms. Let your guard down for one split second and you are "had". You can see it has happened to dozens of people who have come specifically to work WITH US and have gone off on their own WRONG input and all but destroyed themselves. This is still a common occurrence. Some have simply become cheats for information gathering to use against us. Therefore, we do NOTHING which is even shady in character—NOTHING, so all there is to report to the enemy are lies and misinformation—which ends up being costly indeed to the "other side".]

* Capabilities of NSA Operatives Using RNM

There has been a Signals Intelligence network in the US since the 1940s. The NSA, Ft. Meade has in place a vast two-way wireless RNM system which is used to track subjects and non-invasively monitor audiovisual information in their brains. This is all done with no physical contact with the subject. RNM is the ultimate method of surveillance and domestic intelligence. Speech, 3D sound and subliminal audio can be sent to the auditory cortex of the subject's brain (bypassing the ears), and images can be sent into the visual cortex. RNM can alter a subject's perceptions, moods and motor control.

Speech cortex-auditory cortex link has become the ultimate communications system for the intelligence community. RNM allows for a complete audiovisual brain-to-brain link or brain-to-computer link.

4. NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE ELECTRONIC BRAIN LINK TECHNOLOGY

NSA SIGINT can remotely detect, identify and monitor a person's bioelectric fields. [H: Do you now see why I said that "remote viewing" is so obsolete as to be foolish to waste your time or energy on the game? You already KNOW what is coming so why waste funds on such silliness?]

The NSA's Signals Intelligence has the proprietary ability to monitor remotely and non-invasively information in the human brain by digitally decoding the evoked potentials in the 30-50 Hz, 5 milliwatt electromagnetic emissions from the brain.

Neuronal activity in the brain creates a shifting electrical pattern that has a shifting magnetic flux. This magnetic flux puts out a constant 30-50 Hz, 5 milliwatt electromagnetic (EMF) wave. Contained in the electromagnetic emission from the brain are spikes and patterns called "evoked potentials".

Every thought, reaction, motor command, auditory event and visual image in the brain has a corresponding "evoked potential" or set of "evoked potentials". The EMF emission from the brain can be decoded into the current thoughts, images and sounds in the subject's brain.

NSA SIGINT uses EMF-transmitted Brain

Stimulation as a communications system to transmit information (as well as nervous system messages) to intelligence agents and also to transmit to the brains of covert operations subjects (on a non-perceptible level).

EMF Brain Stimulation works by sending a complexly coded and pulsed electromagnetic signal to trigger evoked potentials (events) in the brain, thereby forming sound and visual images in the brain's neural circuits. EMF Brain Stimulation can also change a person's brain-states and affect motor control.

Two-way electronic Brain Link is done by remotely monitoring neural audiovisual information while transmitting sound to the auditory cortex (bypassing the ears) and transmitting faint images to the visual cortex (bypassing the optic nerves and eyes). The images appear as floating 2D screens in the brain.

Two-way electronic Brain Link has become the ultimate communications system for CIA/NSA personnel. Remote neural monitoring (RNM, remotely monitoring bioelectric information in the human brain) has become the ultimate surveillance system. It is used by a limited number of agents in the US Intelligence Community.

[H: Perhaps it becomes a bit more clearly explained why it is that people such as George Green, Gunther Russbacher, Ronn Jackson, etc., cannot control their perceptions and will make totally outrageous claims. They believe their perceptions to be valid and truthful. It becomes ever so much wiser in all instances to get a circuit locked onto GOD and keep those brain fragments out of the hands of the offenders.]

5. [H: no heading in original document]

RNM requires decoding the resonance frequency of each specific brain area. That frequency is then modulated in order to impose information in that specific brain area.

The frequency to which the various brain areas respond varies from 3 Hz to 50 Hz. Only NSA Signals Intelligence modulates signals in this frequency band.

(See Table 1 below.)

This modulated information can be put into the brain at varying intensities from subliminal to perceptible.

Each person's brain has a unique set of bioelectric resonance/entrainment frequencies. Sending audio information to a person's brain at the frequency of another person's auditory cortex would result in that audio information not being perceived.

The Plaintiff learned of RNM by being in two-way RNM contact with the Kinnecome group at the NSA, Ft. Meade.

Table 1: An example of EMF Brain Stimulation

Brain Area	Bioelectric Resonance Frequency	Information Induced Through Modulation
Motor Control Cortex	10 Hz	Motor impulse coordination
Auditory Cortex	15 Hz	Sound which bypasses the ears
Visual Cortex	25 Hz	Images in the brain bypassing the eyes
Somatosensory	9 Hz	Phantom touch sense
Thought Center	20 Hz	Imposed subconscious thoughts

They used RNM 3D sound direct to the brain to harass the Plaintiff from 10/90 to 5/91.

As of 5/91 they have had two-way RNM communications with the Plaintiff and have used RNM to attempt to incapacitate the Plaintiff and hinder the Plaintiff from going to the authorities about their activities against the Plaintiff in the last 12 years.

The Kinnecome group has about 100 persons working 24 hours a day at Ft. Meade. They have also brain-tapped persons the Plaintiff is in contact with to keep the Plaintiff isolated. This is the first time ever that a private citizen has been harassed with RNM and has been able to bring a lawsuit against NSA personnel misusing this intelligence operations method. [H: Yes, and it is ALLOWED because the "big boys" NOW WANT YOU-THE-PEOPLE TO KNOW THEY ARE IN CONTROL AND THE GAME PLAN IS NOW FUNCTIONAL.]

H: It becomes ever so much wiser in all instances to get a circuit locked onto GOD and keep those brain fragments out of the hands of the offenders.

6. NSA TECHNIQUES AND RESOURCES

Remote monitoring/tracking of individuals in any location, inside any building, continuously, anywhere in the country.

A system of inexpensive implementation of these operations allows for thousands of persons in every community to be spied on constantly by the NSA.

* Remote RNM Devices

NSA's RNM equipment remotely reads the evoked potentials (EEGs) of the human brain for tracking individuals, and can send messages through the nervous systems to affect their performance.

RNM can electronically identify individuals and track them anywhere in the US. This equipment is on a network and is used for domestic intelligence operations, government security and military base security, and in case of bioelectric warfare.

* Spotters and Walk-Bys in Metropolitan Areas

Tens of thousands of persons in each area work as spotters and neighborhood/businessplace spies (sometimes unwittingly) following and checking on subjects who have been identified for covert control by NSA personnel.

Agents working out of offices can be in constant communication with spotters who are keeping track of the NSA's thousands of subjects in public.

NSA agents in remote offices can instantly identify (using RNM) any individual spotted in public who is in contact with surveillance subject.

* Chemicals and Drugs into Residential Buildings with Hidden NSA Installed and Maintained Plastic Plumbing Lines

The NSA has kits for running lines into residential tap water and air ducts of subjects for the delivery of drugs (such as sleeping gas or brainwashing-aiding drugs). This is an outgrowth of CIA pharmapsychology (psychopharmacology).

[H: Right here is a good place to remind all of you that the "big boy bandidoes" do not object to our little paper of small subscription. We tell YOU exactly how BIG they are—and further, warn you that to FIGHT IS FOOLISH. Your hope for continuing survival in this controlled world—is the frequency and LIGHT of GOD of Light, within Whose shield and function—you are safe. No OTHER people are secure in their persons. You are NOW a controlled society with ability of the controllers to isolate and focus on each INDIVIDUAL. I do not tell you this to bring fear for it is too late for that to do anything as to changing the masses. If I can reach a few who demand "freedom" then we have done that which we could accomplish. God of Light always leaves decisions and personal choices to the individual. This writing is simply to inform you who still can't believe that "big brother" would take even your mind, that it is now So. He can and he HAS. We who now tell you the TRUTH of it, are not his enemy, in FACT, within his perception—we are simply telling

YOU how IT IS! There won't be any militias who can fight your way out of THIS KETTLE OF FISH, readers—only building patiently UP THROUGH in survival mode of operations which allow you to be left alone to your small tasks and development. The Anti-God of Light DOES NOT WANT TO TAKE ON GOD!]

* Brief Overview of Proprietary US Intelligence/Anti-Terrorist Equipment Mentioned

Fixed network of special EMF equipment that can read EEGs in human brains and identify/track individuals by using digital computers. ESB (Electrical Stimulation to the Brain) via EMF signal from the NSA Signals Intelligence is used to control subjects.

EMF equipment that gathers information from PC circuit boards by deciphering RF emissions, thereby gaining wireless modem-style entry into any personal computer in the country.

All equipment hidden, all technology secret, all scientific research unreported (as in electronic warfare research).

Not known to the public at all, yet complete and thorough implementation of this method of domestic intelligence has been in place since the early 1980s.

[H: For the protection, at request, there will be no information given regarding Mr. Akwei.]

A BIT OF TIMELY OBJECTIVITY

You have to realize something right here and right now, readers, while you are "thinking" other thoughts about what all is going on around you.

Let us focus for just a brief moment on your First Lady, Hillary. She can no more help what she does than can a puppet on the proverbial string. She can't remember what she HAS DONE—she is a PERFECT example of such as Mind Control of the Monarch variety and then a total presentation of exactly the above described control. She acts without any ability to "think" otherwise than what she does. She speaks to Eleanor Roosevelt? No, she is controlled by the controllers who feed her whatever THEY want Eleanor to say to the poor creature. She and Billy are being used to pull down all respect and semblance of "order" within the government. All government employees are likewise manipulated and will serve the dark masters in full compliance. It matters not WHO you elect to any position, the controllers control it all. Did you hear me? THEY ALREADY CONTROL IT ALL—HOOK, LINE, AND SINKER!

Why will they, then, respect my position? Because they know the game and they know that they may not tamper with God's true people—period. They can TRY but they will not prevail. It is fine for the sorting becomes easy for us and so, too, does the protection at that level become comforting to you who UNDERSTAND.

I hope that you who would attend the book library for sales, please don't do anything yet but we will want to eventually be able to provide any book to which I refer through Phoenix Source. So, if you readers will be patient a bit longer and only obtain the ones you feel drawn and/or pushed to get, we will probably soon be able to offer the selections above, except magazine articles, at a better price than individually-purchased volumes. We are going through such a difficult time with lawsuits coming into finalization that we simply have not the resources or the manpower to furnish all the desired things about which I write.

I do plan to cover the "VORTEX OF LIFE" and have already asked the "crew" to get and make ready for your ordering, a device for charging water. This does not replace the micro-water but enhances the water. It is a very simple magnetic vortex apparatus which will be relatively inexpensive. For you who can't afford the expensive machines it will offer you some of the benefits. Please understand our position with the MicroWater machines: our people are limited to pricing according to the manufacturers of the product. We have no wish to compete but you will find, through prior contracts with New Gaia, a better pricing per unit than from the original makers and current distributors. This is causing a lot of friction against New Gaia and we may well have to change and increase the price of those units. Well, each person needs to also make a living wage so we don't have much defense when they haul you off to court on such matters. You may well want to consider this as you decide whether or not you want one of the MicroWater machines because you will NEVER get a better price—ANYWHERE—until, of course, someone else comes into competition. This is the BEST machine available so I can't speculate on other products or a time when they might be available.

Our only purpose is to make it through here and have you have available that which will offer you a chance at survival as the hammer meets the anvil—nothing more. We are not here to SAVE anything, including YOU. YOU will have to do for self if you want something done, for that old garbage of "God saving your assets," is incorrect. HE SHOWS THE WAY—YOU HAVE TO DO THE WALKING.

Thank you for your interest as we pick up the pace. Moreover, we can't even begin to sift through past presentations to offer you much INDEXING. However, it is time you seriously consider ALL OUR PRIOR writings if you want to even be in the ballpark on game day.

I salute you who continue on this incredible pathway of experience. Salu.

SABOTAGE AND VANDALISM

To the cute and childish ones who vandalized (sabotaged) the irrigation line at THE FARM within this week, I suggest you run for cover for you left your calling card and your identity is KNOWN! This is being referred to the authorities. You people begin to make the Ku Klux Klan look like a bunch of cry-babies trying to hide their atrocities. Silly is as silly does! Charles, in addition to the prints left, has a paper which obviously blew out or fell from your vehicle or a pocket—oh my, God truly DOES work in mysterious ways to perform his wonders. My suggestion is that you might well want to shut down the ongoing games with Mitch Thresher. Since the actions are ongoing by you, locally, the matter will be taken up non-locally with authorities. It is truly interesting how things work out, is it not?

6/29/96 #1 HATONN

IRRIGATION SYSTEM DAMAGE AT THE RESEARCH FARM

Now, let us turn our attention to the farm and the most recent cute incident which has happened. Three nights ago "someone" came in a vehicle (tire marks clearly visible and very trackable), stopped, went over the fence and broke the end dump valve and not only ruined the irrigation line but wasted precious water. Fingerprints are present, footprints are present, car tracks are present AND, an envelope somehow blown out or kicked out of the vehicle at the "stop point" is addressed to Sandy Ence. Moreover, the party in point did step on the envelope which bears a postmark of May, 1996 so it is not some "old" trash blown up from last year.

If this represents love and honor to you, then I have to disagree with your perspective on LIFE in general and on your respective impression on the children you bear. Or, are YOU willing to let the children bear the blame for such antics?

Drugs & Gun Money Laundering

The Dirty Side Of High Finance

6/26/96 #2 HATONN

I am going to share with you readers one of the most remarkable bits of intrigue and criminal actions to have been perpetrated on your banks and industries and you-the-people, of all time. To protect my writer I am going to utilize an article but you can be SURE the parties involved in the One World Order are the culprits.

We have priorly offered ALL of the forthcoming information but we have NEW readers who will enjoy the revelation. To some of you unsuspecting readers, you will recognize NAMES and places and it will offend your senses quite intensely. So be it for truth will always "out" eventually and we are no longer youngsters who cannot face disillusionments.

One of our more interesting past topics has been the Nugan Hand Bank affair of the late 1970s. I'm sorry, friends, but truth is the name of our game and our information stretches around the globe, Nugan Hand, of course, being in Australia as a launch point for such bank crashes.

To protect my secretary I offer a well-done article from NEXUS, June-July 1996.

[QUOTING:]

THE MONEY LAUNDRY THE DIRTY SIDE OF HIGH FINANCE

by David G. Guyatt, England, UK

A quarter of the massive funds circulating the globe each year are the illicit proceeds of gun-running, drug-trafficking and money-laundering operations.

Ever since the Nugan Hand Bank affair of the late 1970s, bank crashes have followed a slick and familiar template. Narcotics trafficking, gun running, CIA covert ops, money laundering and fraud on a massive scale are just some of the ingredients that have sent bank after bank crashing to its knees. Once the smoke clears, bank depositors and shareholders are left picking up the tab.

With a spate of billion-dollar financial scandals hitting the headlines, 1995 wasn't such a good year for harassed bank regulators and shareholders. Calls for tougher regulation of the burgeoning financial markets in the wake of the Daiwa, Barings and other debacles are little more than PR palliatives designed to calm the nerves of a cynical public who still form the hard backbone of bank depositors. With the best will in the world, regulators can't keep pace with an evolving and sophisticated money machine that daily shuffles upwards of 24 billion E-bucks around the globe in the blink of an eye. Following the Barings debacle, the Bank of England has told me that it will resist tougher regulation—fearing that this will drive financial institutions to less-regulated centres. (Phone conversation with this writer, Dec. 1995.)

Yet tough regulation, even when emplaced, is easily and regularly evaded. Banking and crime are Cimmerian handmaidens for the simple reason that banks are where the money is. Having access to the money and being 'connected' is the name of the game where the stakes are other people's money. This is the dark side of the financial community, a hidden face that largely goes unreported—until, that is, a major banking scandal hits the front pages. Squirming under the glare of public attention, successive bank disclosures have revealed the sinister connections that leading banks have with organized crime and the intelligence community. The money-shufflers of 'Spooksville' need 'black funds' to finance covert operations and appear happy to exchange guns and military hardware for dope that is, in turn, peddled for dollars used to finance other black operations. This happy-go-lucky 'Ferris wheel' approach to money-raising on the part of the intelligence community reveals a long history of entanglements with the Mafia.

Organized crime syndicates are now the single largest business sector on the planet and are set to grow. They just love banking. Having accumulated a staggering US$820 BILLION a year from its legitimate investments (Sterling, Claire, Crime Without Frontiers, Little Brown, London, 1994). Dozens of nations who maintain strict bank secrecy laws are, de facto, providing full banking services to these mandarins of dirty money. A large number of banks are actually owned by Mafia syndicates. (Sterling, Claire, op. cit., p. 23. See also p. 111, citing the Yakuza's near-miss attempt to take control of Parisbas, a leading French bank.) Some of the largest and most respectable appear content to turn a blind eye and earn massive commissions from laundering dirty money. (Kochan & Whittington, Bankrupt: the BCCI Fraud, Victor Gollancz, London, 1991, p. 96.) The prudent image of bankers is just that: an image. Banking survives purely on depositor confidence, making it the biggest ongoing "confidence trick" the world has ever witnessed. (Sir Kit McMahon, former Chairman of Midland Bank Group Plc, stated during a British TV programme, broadcast in Autumn 1995, that banking is a "confidence trick".) That confidence has been dented by one scandal following on the heels of another.

[H: To the editors: You may wish to run in full, again, the McFadden speech on banking made before Congress. (See pgs. 2-8 for this classic.)]

THE CIA'S HEROIN CONNECTION

One of the earliest scandals was the Nugan Hand Bank affair. Michael Hand, an ex-CIA operative from the Bronx, joined up in 1973 with Frank Nugan, an Australian playboy and inheritor of a Mafia fortune, and incorporated the Nugan Hand Bank. The bank sported an interesting and exclusive board of directors. President of the bank was (Retired) Rear Admiral Earl Yates, former chief of the US Navy's strategic planning. Legal counsel was the CIA's William Colby, and Walter McDonald, former deputy director of the spook agency, was listed as a consultant. An in-house commodity trader on the bank's payroll was also a leading heroin importer, while [General] Richard Secord, later to be implicated in the Iran-Contra affair, was said to have a business connection.

Seven years later, the bank collapsed following the discovery of Frank Nugan's body slumped in his Mercedes. Clutching a gun in one hand and sporting a hole through the head, Nugan was also holding a bible that contained an embarrassing list of names including William Colby, DCI of the CIA, and Bob Wilson, the House Armed Services Committee's ranking Republican. Other names listed had a variety of backgrounds, ranging from known narcotics traffickers, politicians and businessmen to personalities from sports and the media. Beside each name were listed amounts running into five and six numbers. Following public outrage, the US Senate held an investigation into Nugan Hand's operations. Amongst other things it discovered that the bank operated a branch in Chiang Mai, Thailand—heart of Triad country. The branch was dedicated to laundering the Golden Triangle's heroin revenue. Connected to the bank's office by an interconnecting door was the DEA's (Drug Enforcement Administration's) local office—premises that were also shared with the CIA. (Robinson, Jeffrey, The Laundrymen, Simon & Schuster, London, 1994, p. 266.)

At about the same time that Frank Nugan's skull was developing powder-burns, Michele Sindona, a free-wheeling financial whiz-kid and consigliere for the Sicilian Mafia, had purchased New York's Franklin National Bank and driven it to the wall with losses totaling US$40 million. Ranked the 29th largest bank in the US, the Franklin crash became the biggest on record at that time. Establishing a fictitious company, Fasco AG, in Liechtenstein, Sindona was able to obtain a majority interest in the Italy-based Banca Privata Finanziaria. BPA was an excellent acquisition for Sindona, for not only did it have a close relationship with Britain's blue-chip Hambros Bank but it also had a preferential partnership arrangement with Continental Illinois Bank of Chicago, owned and presided over by David Kennedy (later to become Finance Minister in the Nixon Administration). Continental Illinois was later to crash spectacularly in the mid-'80s, only to be rescued with an estimated four billion US tax dollars.

MOBSTERS, MASONS AND THE ITALIAN CONNECTION

Described by Time magazine as "the greatest Italian since Mussolini", Sindona used his relationship with David Kennedy to get close to Bishop Paul Marcinkus, head of the Vatican Bank (the Institute for Religious Works [IOR]), and thereafter set in motion a tangled web of financial fraud that almost brought the IOR to its knees. His empire rapidly grew, pulling a number of financial institutions into his ownership, including, in addition to his BPA, the Banca Unione, the Germany-based Wolf Bank, the Generale Immobiliare, Geneva's Finance Bank, Edilcentro, a finance company set up in the Bahamas, New York's Franklin National Bank plus 140 other companies spread throughout the globe.

Sindona's connection to the Mafia probably dates back to World War II when he joined in the Mafia preparations for American landings in Sicily. However, it was during the '70s that the Sicilian Mafia chose him as their money man. Four years later, in 1974, Don Michele's [Sindona] world began collapsing around him. It was later discovered he had been skimming off the mob's narcodollars which he was charged with laundering. Incarcerated in prison for his part in the Franklin Bank crash, Sindona was later found dead in his cell. A dose of strychnine laced in his coffee brought a 25-year sentence to an abrupt end. If Sindona's death was anything, it was too late. His intimate involvement with another bank that crashed with massive losses was to have calamitous and far-reaching effects on Italy's ruling elite as well as the spooks of Langley.

Banco Ambrosiano was the largest private bank in Italy until it collapsed in 1982 with losses approaching a massive US$2 BILLION. At the centre of the scandal was Roberto Calvi, Chairman of Ambrosiano and Lodge brother of Licio Gelli, the shadowy Grand Master of the Italian P2 (Propaganda 2) Masonic Lodge. Gelli, once an Oberleutnant in Himmler's SS, held the reins of power and knew how to use them—for which he was dubbed "The Puppet Master". A consummate black-mailer, he kept a secret record of wrongdoing of all those he came into contact with, and wasn't shy in using it to his advantage. P2's membership roll included highly placed politicians, cabinet members, heads of the Italian armed forces and the intelligence services, together with leading industrialists, media magnates, judges, Mafiosi, members of the Vatican Curia and, of course, high-flying financiers—including Sindona. P2's 'elite' membership, linked by their extreme right-wing political views, perfectly dovetailed with the CIA's long-standing desire to eradicate Communism from the Italian political scene.

The P2 and Banco Ambrosiano scandal broke when Calvi was found 'suicided' on 17 June 1982. With his hands tied behind his back and a rope around his neck, he had been suspended from London's Blackfriars Bridge in what some saw as a ritual killing. Calvi was P2's banker and had been involved in embezzling massive sums of money out of his bank and into secretive 'offshore' companies in Liechtenstein and elsewhere. A number of these companies were linked to the Vatican Bank. P2 was responsible for the number of CIA-backed political atrocities at the time, including the bombing of Bologna railway station in August 1980 where 85 innocents were slaughtered—and mischievously attributed to left-wing terrorists.

It took 10 years before the real story came out. Francesco Mannino Mannonia, a penitito (defector) from the Sicilian Mafia, confirmed in 1992 that Calvi was strangled by Francesco di Carlo, the mob's heroin 'traffic manager', at the instruction of Pippo Calò of the Corleone family. We now know that Calvi, together with Gelli and Sindona, was embezzling the Mafia out of a fortune. Gelli was 'handling' for the Corleonesi a large sum of money which he passed to Calvi who promptly used it to shore up his failing bank. Smart to the last, Gelli helped the mob recover "tens of billions of lire" before bolting out of sight. Despite his best efforts, he was eventually arrested in Switzerland to where he had travelled to arrange the secret transfer of US$120 million of Ambrosiano's lost loot. Bribing a guard with $20,000, he managed to escape. Once over the French border, he climbed aboard a helicopter for the short trip to Monaco, home of P2's 'super-Lodge'. From Monaco he travelled to Paraguay—a favourite bolt-hole of many of his wartime Nazi comrades—and disappeared from sight. The missing billions have never been recovered.

The Ambrosiano affair was significant for revealing the web of interconnections that existed within Italy's ruling class. On the one hand, the CIA was using P2's 'covered' (secret) Lodge and illicit funds to conduct covert warfare on Italy's Communists. At the other extreme, it demonstrated the Mafia's total infiltration of Italian business and politics—a feat achieved following their induction into Masonry. Antonio Calderoni, a Mafia defector, revealed that, during 1977, Mafia bosses were formally invited to join a covered Masonic Lodge. They agreed to join on the understanding that they would learn the secrets of Masonry but would not reveal Mafia secrets. "Men of Honour who get to be bosses belong to the Masonry: this must not escape you," another Mafia defector, Leonardo Messina, revealed. "Because it is in the Masonry that we can have total contact with businessmen, with the institutions, with the men who administer power..." Messina went on to add that the Mafia's secret association with Masonry is "an obligatory passage for the Mafia on a world level". Masons, like the intelligence community, bankers and the Mafia, share a common interest in

HISTORY'S BIGGEST-EVER SCAM

The 'connections' that had been forged and which lay behind Italy's greatest-yet banking debacle were to be re-enacted years later in America. The Savings and Loan (S&L) scam—by far the greatest banking rip-off of all time—sees the same cast of players at work. "Something very significant happened during our country's savings-and-loan crisis, the greatest financial disaster since the Great Depression. It happened quietly, secretly, without any fanfare and attention. It happened before our very eyes and we knew it not. What we missed was the massive transfer of wealth from the American taxpayer to a select group of extremely rich, powerful people." These ominous words opened the introduction to Pete Brewton's massively researched book, The Mafia, CIA & George Bush—the untold story of America's greatest financial debacle. (SPI Books, New York, 1992.) Brewton, an award-winning investigative journalist, spent years tracing the subterranean web of interconnections that sat at the heart of this affair that looted the American taxpayer of close to US$1 TRILLION. However, there was more to the S&L affair than these words portrayed.

The "select group of extremely rich, powerful people" that Brewton fingers, includes the CIA, President George Bush, Senator Lloyd Bentsen, a swag-sack of other influential Texans and well-known members of the Mafia. For the CIA, the group had access to a vast pool of 'black funds' that enabled it to engage in illegal activities including Iran-Contra and Middle East weapons deals. Brewton's all-too-realistic view is that this group of interconnected 'businessmen' recognized that the S&L industry was perfectly structured for a mammoth scam. Backed by government guarantees and regulators who would bow to the right kind of pressure, the S&Ls were like ripe plums waiting to be plucked.

Back in his VP days, Bush intervened with federal regulators in a corrupt Florida Savings and Loan that close friends, his sons Jeb and Neil, and a handful of Mafia associates were systematically plundering. The thrift eventually went belly-up to the tune of US$700 million. For a man who regularly keeps a "plausible deniability" diary, whose hidden background includes his CIA operational activities pre-dating his appointment to DCI by 15 years, and who, moreover, had questionable links to the pock-faced Panamanian dictator, Colombian cartel money-launderer and one-time CIA asset Col. Manuel Noriega, the thought of his sons cherry-picking thousand-dollar bills off the S&L money tree is all in a day's play. (For a brief synopsis on Bush's secret background, see Mark Lane's Plausible Denial [Plexus Publishing, London, 1992, pp. 330-333].)

In any complex financial scam, the really important question is to discover where the looted funds eventually come to rest. As with the Nugan Hand, Franklin and Ambrosiano debacles, this question has never been satisfactorily answered for the S&L scam. However, despite a perpetual smoke-screen, some interesting facts have emerged. In another Florida S&L bust that cost US$200 million in a shady land-deal, the cash disappeared down the sunset trail of Du Pont's St. Joe Paper Co. The trail went cold in Jersey, one of the Channel Islands. The Channel Isles have long been offshore tax havens with strict banking secrecy, and, as a consequence, a large contingent of foreign banks have offices there. It is now believed that the looted funds were ultimately used by CIA cut-outs to procure weapons for Iraq.

A central figure in the S&L sale of the century was Walter Mischer, a close friend of Senator Lloyd Bentsen and a long-time 'acquaintance' of George Bush. Mischer was closely 'connected' to the New Orleans Marcello family, one of the most powerful Mafia families in the country. Never a 'one-family' man, he also did business with Mafia associates from New York and Chicago. Mischer is considered to be the most powerful man in Texas, and certainly one of the richest. His "I'm just a country boy" demeanor belies a sharp, analytical business mind and an icy streak of ruthlessness. With a finger in every pie, his influence stretches wide to include business, crime, finance, the intelligence community, and domestic and international politics. Brewton believes that Mischer "is without peer in Texas and perhaps in the entire country". Regarded as a pragmatist, he generally bets both ways in the political election stakes, placing money on both the rear- and fore-legs of the horse we've come to know as 'Demopublican' politics.

Another figure who weaved his crooked way through the S&L tale is Herman K. Beebe, the so-called "Godfather" of the dirty Texas S&Ls and associate of the Louisiana mob. Beebe and Mischer are long-term business associates. Coincidentally, Beebe also has known connections to the Marcello family. While both men were busy 'burning out' the odd couple of a dozen Savings & Loans Beebe was transferring US$3 million in 'seed' money from his bank, Bossier Bank & Trust, to Harvey McLean, Jr. to establish the small Washington, DC-based Palmer National Bank that boasted a board which at one time or another were largely featured in the White House telephone directory. The board chairman, Stefan Halper, was a member of the Nixon White House. His father-in-law, Ray S. Cline, formerly Deputy Director of Intelligence at the CIA and one of the old OSS 'China' veterans, was a top foreign policy and defence adviser in the Bush presidential campaign. Other board members included John Barnum (Deputy Secretary of the Department of Transportation, 1974-77), Frederick V. Malek (Nixon's White House personnel chief and the Bush-Quayle campaign manager), William Kilberg (Department of Labor, 1973-77, and member of the Reagan-Bush transition team), and John A. Knebel (President Ford's Secretary of Agriculture).

Palmer National was the bank of choice for the National Endowment for the Preservation of Liberty's fund-raising activities that provided US$10 million to Col. Oliver North's covert gun-running programme that saw weapons shipped south to Nicaragua and east to Iran. This operation was essentially the brainchild of former DCI William Casey who cunningly revived the old 'conduit' system of money laundering that had been used with great success during the '50s to fund secretly the Nazi war criminals recruited to spearhead the ex-SS 'freedom fighters' scheduled for deployment behind enemy lines in the event that the Soviets invaded Europe. (Loftus, John, The Belarus Secret, Paragon House, 1989.) Casey, and old OSS warrior, saw no shame in using Nazi war criminals—many of them guilty of the most horrendous crimes against humanity—in his fervent anti-Communism. This view permeated the thinking of many of the old Cold Warriors in the CIA and elsewhere. (The story of former Nazis connected to the P2, Banco Ambrosiano and BNL affairs remains largely untold.) Casey used North as his cut-out, thus kick-starting the ongoing row between the Pentagon and the CIA about who should conduct 'covert ops'. North's superiors in the Pentagon have never forgiven him for being the CIA's manikin. At the same time, Ray Cline, who had retired from the CIA and formed a family-owned company called SIFT Inc., was 'advising' Major General John Singlaub—the principal operations officer in the Nicaraguan arms affair.

While George Bush was wearing his S&L hat on his off-days, his all-singing, all-dancing, gun, dope 'n' money-laundering operations were about to receive a damaging blow as yet another massive financial scandal hit the front pages. Half a dozen regional offices of the Italy-based Banca Nazionale del Lavoro were raided by FBI agents following a tip-off from two junior officers of BNL Atlanta. (The BNL affair is covered in Alan Friedman's Spider's Web; Faber & Faber, London, 1993.) The BNL affair seamlessly follows the well-oiled template with the involvement of the CIA, Britain's SIS, US Presidents Reagan and Bush, British Prime Minister Thatcher, and two of Italy's most corrupt senior politicians, Bettino Craxi and the Mafia-linked Giulio Andreotti. It was to reveal the international covert network that was engaged in illegally shipping arms to Iraq's dictator, Saddam Hussein. Even during the height of Operation Desert Storm, CIA operatives were frantically attempting to put together an urgent assignment of US-made SAM missiles destined for Iraq's bloody war-machine. [H: Please don't forget, readers, that in one of those branches of BCCI and BNL there were accounts for BOTH Saddam Hussein (something like $250 million in ONE alone) and also a similar account and amount in the same bank for George Bush, all nicely arranged jointly.] By a happy coincidence, BNL, owned by the Italian Treasury, was run by a close friend and Lodge brother of Andreotti. Alberto Ferrari, who reigned as BNL's Director-General, was a notorious member of P2. Nor was he alone in his Masonic affiliations. BNL, dubbed "the bank of the P2", was quickly shown to have among its upper echelons a veritable nest of P2 operatives... with intimate connections to the most powerful figures in successive US administrations.

THE COCAINE CONNECTION

Weapons-dealing is a highly lucrative 'inter-government' business and hundreds of billions of dollars are involved annually. Equally lucrative is the narcotics trade which generates a staggering US$500 BILLION per annum.

As well as having a peripheral role in the Iraqi weapons affair, the Bank for Credit and Commerce International (BCCI)—known as the "Bank for Crooks and Criminals International"—became one of the major money-laundering operations for the Colombian cartels. Many of the same old cast of players are found picking the bones out of this bank that collapsed with estimated debts in excess of $10 BILLION. "BCCI was operated as a corrupt and criminal organization throughout its entire 19-year history. It systematically falsified its records. It knowingly allowed itself to be used to launder the illegal income of drug-sellers and other criminals. And it paid bribes and kickbacks to public officials." (Kochan & Whittington, op. cit. p. 4. See also Adams and Frantz, A Full Service Bank [Simon & Schuster, London, 1991], on the BCCI affair.)

Over a few short years, the BCCI affair would slowly swell to prodigious proportions, bringing numerous casualties in its wake. One of these was Clark Clifford, Chairman of First American Bancshares, friend of presidents and dozens of Washington insiders. Disgraced, Clifford and his prestigious Washington law-firm partner Robert Altman walked away with a cool US$18 million. Few individuals or institutions who were touched by the scandal would wholly escape censure. BCCI's founder, Agha Hasan Abedi, assiduously courted power and influence. A close friend was former US President Jimmy Carter. [H: All of you will, however, remember that Clark Clifford never got more than a very laughable slap to the hand for his billion dollar costs to you-the-people.]

BCCI aggressively set out to launder the Colombian cartels' massive drug money that would eventually see up to 40 other banks directly or peripherally involved—many of them blue-blooded luminaries of the banking firmament. Setting up a branch in Panama, BCCI soon cut a deal with Panama's Noriega, opening an account for him in the name of "Zorro". Dirty funds were collected and wired to Europe. From there, Certificates of Deposit (CDs) were issued that could be used as collateral against loans issued. Another technique involved cycling the money through an affiliated company, Capcom Financial Services, whose huge futures and options business was an ideal laundering vehicle.

Discontented with just the narcotics industry, BCCI developed close ties to the 'spook' community, maintaining accounts for Israel's Mossad, America's CIA, Britain's SIS, France's DGSE, plus the security services of Pakistan and Switzerland. The CIA's accounts with BCCI covered several years of covert operations on the part of that agency. Principally, payments were made to finance Afghan rebels and to bribe General Noriega. Almost unbelievably, BCCI's customers also included the notorious Abu Nidal terrorist organization and the Iran-backed Hezbollah—long regarded as the arch enemies of the Western intelligence community. Abu Nidal's Fatah Revolutionary Council had a US$60 million account at London's fashionable Sloane Street branch. At the same time, the bank was responsible for financing deals in which Mossad provided weapons to Arab terrorists. Peru, buckling under the burden of sovereign debt, used BCCI to hide its cash reserves away from the grasping hands of creditor banks.

Outdoing the security services of many small nations, the BCCI also ran its own global intelligence network, known as "the black network", employing an estimated 1,500 trained operatives. Based in Karachi, this was a network "of hand-picked individuals who underwent a one-year training course in psychological warfare, spying techniques and the use of firearms".

When major banks aren't colluding with spooks and organized crime, they appear to settle back and engage in dubious 'in-house' business. Most don't hit the headlines, being swept away from the glare of the media by red-faced executives.

One of those that wasn't so lucky was Daiwa Bank Ltd. Squirming with loss of face, Daiwa executives announced to a round-mouthed media that Toshihide Iguchi, a small-time Japanese trader working out of Daiwa's New York office, had racked up a US$1.1 BILLION loss trading US Treasury bonds. Stretching credulity beyond belief, Daiwa claimed that the 44-year-old Iguchi, following a modest trading loss of $200,000, spent the next 11 years writing 30,000 "unauthorized" tickets in an attempt to reverse his misfortune. This equates to a staggering $400,000 per trading day, making Iguchi one of the unluckiest suckers the world of high finance has ever encountered.

THE BARINGS COVER-UP

Though for sheer bad luck we couldn't do much worse than Nick Leeson, the young and inexperienced British trader at Barings, Singapore, who, with the aid of a 'dump' account known as the "five eights"—signifying in Chinese superstition "all the luck"—bumped up losses of US$1.6 BILLION over a three-year period, sending Barings crashing to its knees. Until then, Barings sat at the top of the British establishment tree as the oldest merchant bank in London. Dripping with history and dark secrets, Barings dated back to the mid-17th century. By modern standards it was a small bank with a net worth in the US$600 million range but still managed to punch above its weight. That is, until it began speculating its depositors' and shareholders' money in Singapore's futures market, SIMEX.

All the signs are that the Barings affair is a straightforward case of 'bonus fever' amongst the senior executives who benefited from excessive annual bonuses. [H: Perish the thought, readers, this is a DIRECT result of the Bush Boy's use of the Durham/Herrman Gold Certificate that Grandma writes about. It was unlawfully and illegally USED IN MANY PLACES and was the direct source of Bush's "super-fund" of which Bush often bragged—until of course, the thing was retrieved and reaffirmed, replaced and re-registered, etc., PUBLICLY IN RECORDED RECORDS OF LEGAL RECORDINGS.] Nevertheless, there may be more to it than that. The fact that their inexperienced young SIMEX trader, Nick Leeson, didn't contribute one dime to the bank's bottom line throughout his three-year tenure as "the big swing dick" on the Singapore futures exchange is beside the point. Leeson contrived to report profits by creating false accounting entries, and thus, year on year, was able to conjure a host of ghost profits—carefully hiding his real month-on-month losses that eventually grew to a teeth-grinding US$1.6 BILLION. [H: The losses however, were in the US$2.4 BILLION category as were several other Certificate skivings in the same amount that brought down other banks as well.] His superiors, the bank's senior executives, delighted with the performance of their star in the east, awarded themselves bonuses of US$1.6 million-plus for the year ending 1993. Despite crashing with massive losses, the directors walked to new jobs with the Dutch financial group ING which galloped to the rescue. Snug in their new sinecures, they negotiated US$152 million in back bonuses covering the tragic year 1994—where reported earnings of US$320 million in reality concealed accumulated losses of US$260 million, which were soon to increase sixfold.

It is now clear that Leeson didn't operate alone. Those tagged with assisting and/or colluding with him include the CEO, Peter Norris, and the Director of Finance, Geoffrey Broadhurst. Discovering the degree of complicity involved at senior levels, 23 directors and senior staff were forced to resign by their new Dutch owners. This did not stop the Bank of England's less-than-zealous efforts to apportion blame to anyone other than Leeson, but does catalogue a list of impediments to its investigation. These include the accidental destruction of "significant classes" of records within the offices of Barings, London, which are cited as being "missing", "corrupted" or not "routinely retained". The sleuths of Threadneedle Street, however, did not once venture inside the door of Barings' offices during their entire investigation. Had they done so, it is not outside the realms of possibility that they may have discovered "significant classes" of documents corrupting away before their very eyes. [H: Well, with Credit Lyonnais the entire bank was burned to "dissolve" those same types of documents.]

Importantly, nobody is saying which banks provided the immense funding that the Barings operation consumed. Nor is anybody revealing why these banks would so readily lend funds that amounted to a cool US$1.4 BILLION to a small bank with an insignificant net worth. [H: Oh yes, one or two are "saying" and it all goes right back to the stolen Gold Certificate which was used for all this disastrous insanity.] Seeking to clarify this point, I asked the Bank of England to name which banks provided funds to the group and whether they formed a formal or informal syndicate. I was politely told that "we don't have this information, but if we do it's confidential and not available". A curious answer indeed. Meanwhile, the only casualty besides, of course, the bank's shareholders—who, with unspeakably poor grace, continue to grumble about their missing US$160 million—is Leeson. Found guilty and given a six-and-a-half-year sentence, he now resides in Singapore's Changi Prison. Some believe he joins Daiwa's Iguchi as a scapegoat, demonstrating that when the bucks go down in the 'connected' world of high finance, those who have most to gain, do not.

MORE MONEY SPENT ON DOPE THAN FOOD

The sheer volume of money skating around the world's financial markets is staggering, and a huge proportion of it is illegal. Of a massive US$6 TRILLION that annually circulates the globe, one quarter—US$1.5 TRILLION—is illicit, and a third of this, US$500 BILLION, is narcodollars. US$200 BILLION worth of narcotics are shipped to the US annually, roughly one third of the total annual import bill. Random forensic testing throughout the US reveals that virtually every single banknote contains microscopic traces of cocaine. Globally, more money is spent on dope than on food. With these sums at stake, banks and the financial community are, de facto, laundering dirty money.

Operating with the CIA is a small team known as the "Fifth Column". Staffed by experienced computer-hackers using a Cray supercomputer, this group tracks dirty money accumulated in secret offshore bank accounts by "scores of high-level US political figures". Once the funds are tracked and the secret authorization code located, the money is electronically swept up and deposited in the US Treasury. Intelligence sources estimate that in excess of US$2 BILLION has been gathered in this manner, and none of the now-poorer high-profile figures is contemplating lodging complaints. Illegal? You betcha it is, but no more than any one of a dozen other operations that have previously come to light.

A great many more bank scandals can be expected in the coming years. Why this should be so is simple. It's not their money they're playing with. It's yours and mine. If a bank goes belly-up, culpable bank executives slide into other cushy jobs with other banks or disappear down the sunset trail toting a swag-bag of 'lost' loot—sometimes both. Simply stated, high finance is a 'connected' world where presidents touch shoulders with mobsters, bankers shake hands with Masons, regulators buckle under political pressure, law enforcement protects crime, the CIA 'does its thing', and fortunes can be and are won.

Bankers say of themselves that theirs is a "prudent" profession. In the last analysis, this is true. Nothing can be more prudent than playing with and losing other people's money.

[END OF QUOTING]

I would guess that not even one of you who have just read this, feel better! Dharma is sick to her stomach because along with this writing have come many "blasts" of unknown origin against the house and immediate vicinity as the opposition makes an effort to scare away the boogy-man's shields for protection of this specific secretary. No thank you. Terror and "fear" are two different things, readers. Dharma is terrorized—but fear is not a part of it. If you gnats wish to play hardball with the Command, it is quite suitable with me. I would suggest, rather, that some wisdom be used on their part and consider agreements and contracts which might well be KEPT! Further, I think you might wish, surveillance teams, to suggest that somebody get in touch with Mr. Tilton of Santa Barbara Savings and Loan and perhaps he might like to be clued in to the fact that Mr. Horn is just about ready to have revealed the entire SBS debacle from ground up! I am past weary of my people taking the bashing from the thugs and outlaws of your lands. We can actually be most agreeable to negotiations—for we are not here to SAVE a DAMNED THING. We do, however, expect cooperation with our meagre building needs. We also dislike our people being badgered and cost everything, by the thugs of the bandits in point above. I suggest you not push me over the limits of my non-involvement.

WALKING THE CROOKED LINE

Frightened friends are calling to inquire about the Chlorospora (or whatever) supposedly on the California strawberries. No, readers, you must attend the parasites walking around on two legs. You can clean the parasites off the strawberries.

If you have the frequency boxes and use them regularly you won't reinfest with parasites because the little critters are "charged" and are repelled by their usual nesting sites. Also, if you have a regular pattern of parasite eradication processing (which is beneficial in so many other ways than parasite control) you will be fine. This doesn't mean, dear ones, that you won't ever get sick—it means that you can defend your body in most instances.

However, since the new mode of transmission of the "bugs" is within the spora carriers, we are, as soon as the team can gear up and label bottles, going to offer colloidal copper and colloidal titanium. The viruses being introduced are fashioned with a "copper neck" and/or a "titanium neck". This is specific to the "plague" and the "cholera" strains of carriers.

Any of you who have ongoing (chronic) cysts which routinely "fill", take care and when the cyst is drained, flush it with GaiaCol to which you add titanium colloid. It only takes a couple of drops. Keep the "fill fluid" from becoming infected for herpes viruses like to harbor in those cyst sites. And, you have now acquired a new resistant herpes strain. ANY UNUSUAL BLISTERING TYPE OF ERUPTION SHOULD BE CONSIDERED A POSSIBLE SITE OF INVASION OR VIRAL MUTATION SITE. Watch the children regularly for these small types of eruptions and, when you find such, increase their intake of GaiaCol and add the Titanium and Copper. The best virus is the one you DON'T have.

Right now you are being infiltrated with a "meningitis" strain of invader which is classified as resistant to treatment. And, to the usual antibiotics, this is true, but it is meant to be a precursor to the various other anticipated microbes.

I have been asked to interrupt, again, our topics in progress to address the physical assaults of current or ongoing annoyances. It is hard, readers, to "catch up" anything as changes are coming so rapidly. I have to ask you to "keep up" for "catch up" can often be too late in coming.

Beware of the "new" treatments for AIDS because all they do is change the strain of virus already at work and after the first surge of "improvement" in bearers the concomitant tertiary (accompanying side) disease will getcha. Tuberculosis presenting in its new form is quickly taking over as the major accompanying disease to AIDS.

Malaria is also presenting in greater numbers of people and that is especially bad for the population for it is something that is carried in the mosquito which is now being bred to carry this specific new form of infecting microbe. Any time you have mosquito carriers, the resulting diseases of blood-borne distribution will have virulent HIV characteristics as well.

SUN REACTIONS

Take great care if you or your children show intense reaction to the Sun. I don't mean a "little redness" from the heat, I mean eruptions on the skin which remain after the cool-down period after activities. This will indicate a really close call to Lupus reaction and will indeed indicate the probability of Lupus symptoms.

Don't panic, change to a higher protection level of sunscreen—in a different product form. Then watch the reaction closely. The Sun rays are becoming so "intense" in themselves that damage is presenting more rapidly in these current days. You can judge that damage by how short a time it takes to destroy, say, a piece of rubber exposed to the Sun (or just to the air). Any time the skin becomes "red" indicates increased superficial blood circulation and, in turn, means more blood cell exposure to the rays. Children should be monitored closely and, when reactions occur, be sure to maintain a shade for them and ALWAYS use a sunscreen. In darkskinned people—do NOT think you are protected because you can't quickly see response to the Sun burns. Wear those protectors for what happens is that you are as quickly damaged, you just don't see it as quickly. You will, obviously, less quickly have long-range results—but do not play with these symptoms. I realize that you can't longer anticipate "regular" weather patterns so you will have to be THE flexible party in this change and expect the unexpected.

OTHER TEACHERS

I hope you readers will be keeping your eyes attuned to the contributions of our other brothers and teachers of the higher realms. YOU must attend YOU and always pay attention and if there appears to be an "easy" way out in the form of undisciplined "being"—take great care for there is no longer time for lack of discipline of SELF.

Don't let parasites cheat you anymore!

We are blessed with a couple of our students who have graduated through the soul testing process of "clearing" and we are honored to be allowed to share. I choose to honor and respect each contributor by NOT plastering who, what, when, where and how all over the public transmissions. Why? Because a truly cleared receiver will always flow totally into the background and realizes the severe consequences of the JOB and, although there are wondrous connections made, there is responsibility to be uppermost in consideration. EVERY ONE SHOULD NOW BE ABLE TO GO INTO YOUR QUIET CONNECTION PLACE AND "PLUG IN". IT IS THE WRITER/RECEIVER WHO BEARS THE BURDEN OF ALWAYS ATTENDING THE TEACHER FOR THE SHARING OF WHICH I SPEAK HERE.

I would repeat something Little Crow shared years ago with Dharma and readers of Sipapu Odyssey: "Everyone wants to 'know' and searches for the flow of higher input—and what do you get? You get sleepless nights and restless days..." or something to that effect. And always, the awesome responsibility...! If you don't have waves of terror of correctly receiving—then you are NOT hooked up with a clear circuit. Anyone can "write" so the test of the metal is in being able to "scribe as a secretary" for a guide or teacher so that the perception is NOT yours. You are never writing for ANOTHER—if you cloud the writings with YOUR PERCEPTIONS. And remember that your teacher will TEST YOU EVERY LETTER OF THE ALPHABET—EVERY TIME YOU WRITE!

It is such a blessing to have "fill-in for soul" while we at this keyboard have to address things such as is this topic. There is no point in having bread for the body, however, if you have no soul to thrive. As important, however, is to have bread for both the SOUL and the BODY.

SPEAKING OF BREAD

Because of the request for a bit of "different" spelta bread instruction, i.e., flour with multiple grains and/or flavor I can discuss this a bit "now".

Testing, I am told, has been accomplished to offer a flour and a bread mix utilizing some of my requested additions. With Spelta grain there is a bit more limitation to additives because of the low amount of simple gluten in the grain itself. One of the more pleasing variations of grain is the Buckwheat berry. Therefore, with tampering and adjusting, sampling and mixing, trying different grinds, and generally suffering through several thousand pounds, we have a nice product to offer. The flour will contain a mix of VitaSpelt, Common Spelt and a bit of Buckwheat along with a very small addition of common oat grain (excellent fiber). Because of handling and having to mix by hand and grind separately there will be a small extra fee for the product but you will find it worth the little extra.

Please note that Buckwheat is dark brown to black in color of grain. It is also small and if you don't know what to expect in the cereal grinds or cracked varieties for cereal, you may well think you have "bugs". If, in addition, you wish to have more "oats" you can add your own oats to the cereal. We have to take care with the mix so that the blend produces good loaf qualities. I know, however, that you will find the ground mix for cereal to be exceptional as is. Add a bit of salt to the cooking water and sweeten with maple syrup, brown sugar or honey and you have ambrosia. Another sure bet, especially for selective children and adults, is to add a bit of vanilla flavoring to the porridge.

I am accused of cooking for my own taste—and that is not all bad, readers. If you are going to bother with food—it should be simple in its own right—and satisfying to the body AND TO THE SOUL.

Now that we have a good blend of the fabulous four grains, we will begin to research a bit with a rye blend for specialty bread—but allow us time for the flavor of rye is quite variant as to variety as is the pumpernickel. It should be noted, however, as to an old saying about the Russians and their peasant food supply of black bread and dark "brew" and that "they could take the world with their good health alone." Now they, of course, are being corrupted to Vodka and white "Western" taste—which, of course, again, is totally TASTELESS. Look at what you eat and you will find it TASTELESS. It is the salt, sweet and other "tones" that you enjoy while the products are so refined as to have almost no flavor of their own.

I wanted to offer this to you while we are on the topic. I'm sure New Gaia will make an announcement with further instructions when labels are ready. Remember that everything about packaging must be changed with a change in any product. The instructions, however, will not need changing with this product because the mixture is tested to present a good bread loaf and an especially good cereal mix which is premixed for proper percentages for the best products.

Buckwheat offers some of the minerals you can't get elsewhere and among them are iridium, copper, vanadium, and a "squeak" of selenium. Further, mixed with Spelta you have B<sub>17</sub>, which is Laetril in its most beautiful and natural form.

I'm always apologizing to the "product" people for tossing in such advances and changes into their already outrageous schedules but they are wonderfully gentle with me in response for each change is worthy of ALL's attention and trial. However, with such as the Buckwheat and mixed Spelta grains we will only have a limited supply because of availability and our need to offer good product. We have to be very careful and that means, often, that you must be patient with us as we continually push the envelope. Just as when you change recipes and ingredients at home—we have to thoroughly clean out the whole milling apparatus every time we tamper with the flour or grain size.

Spelt

New Gaia Presents Bread Mixes, Flour & Kernels

Spelt is the most ancient and very best grain. Spelta (its more formal name) is a grain of its own unique being. It is the best fiber resource and has large amounts of B-17 (anti-carcinoma). The grain berry grows an exceptionally thick husk that protects it from pollutants and insects. It is stored with its husks intact, so it remains fresher. Thus, unlike other grains, it is not normally treated with pesticides or other chemicals. The strong, protective husk may also be a metaphorical signature of this grain's capacity to strengthen immunity. Spelt contains special carbohydrates (Mucopolysaccharides) which are an important factor in blood clotting and stimulating the body's immune system.

New Gaia offers Bread Mixes that use pure Spelt flour instead of wheat. The taste is uniquely nutty and enjoyable for the whole family. Also offered are combination Bread Mixes with both Spelt flour and whole wheat flour. Both are perfect for a 2 lb. loaf of bread which can be utilized in the Hitachi Bread Machine or others of its equal. The mixes are easy to use with only the simple addition of water, butter & sweetener. The packages come in 2 lb. sizes only.

Also available are whole spelt flour packages for your baking and homemade bread needs that come in 2 lb., 4 lb. and 8 lb. sizes.

You may also order the whole spelt kernels that can be milled at home into flour. These come in 4 lb. and 10 lb. bags.

WATER

Well, this fun could go on and on but I need to cover another topic of INTAKE: YOUR WATER.

Diane and crew are in the process of manufacturing some vortex apparatus for me and these will also be available soon. Here I am pushing their river again and therefore, AGAIN, apologies please.

Before I speak of the apparatus however, I would like to offer you some input on "water" as recognized and presented by Flanagan and Coanda who found "you are what you drink". They did major research at Huyck Research Laboratories in Stamford, Connecticut. This was in major part done in the early 1960s. We are continuing that in-depth research through the Phoenix Institute.

Please, while we are on that subject, readers: The Phoenix Institute for Research & Education, Ltd. IS EXACTLY THAT. We realize that we have had a very hard time in the mainline assaults of those who would steal and take technology and product, funds and ideas, in getting that recognition across to you. We will soon, we pray, have those distractions put aside and in our remaining time, if allowed, will grow as God allows us fulfillment of our tasks.

In respect to the gentlemen just mentioned, I will offer unedited the chapter on "Vortex of Life" from SECRETS OF THE SOIL. I do not have the reference material to offer but I'm sure the book would not be too difficult to locate. [Editor's note: The book Secrets Of The Soil (1989) and an earlier book called The Secret Life Of Plants (1973) by Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird, are excellent collections of the scientific/spiritual interface as relates to gardening and farming, very little of which are you likely to come across in a conventional agricultural training environment or classroom.] I only wish to deal with this one subject at this time, so I leave the other collection of information to each of you who are interested. I need to offer this to accompany our apparatus for utilizing this "vortex".

[QUOTING:]

VORTEX OF LIFE

From Chapter 9 of the book, Secrets Of The Soil.

So strange and mysterious are the properties of water, just ordinary tap water, that anything new about its behavior has become a landmark in the history of science. In the 1920s when the Romanian scientific genius Henry Coanda made the discovery, apparently banal, that a fluid flowing over any surface tends—as if it were alive—to cling to that surface, it was considered by physicists so important it was called the "Coanda Effect".

Intrigued by tales of the longevity of the Hunzakuts, in the early 1930s Coanda made the arduous journey to Hunzaland. As a water expert he was delighted to be told by the Mir that the secret to the Hunzakuts' longevity and health was hidden in the water they drink so freely.

Convinced that any health-improving properties of the Hunza water would be related to its molecular structure, Coanda set about analyzing a sample of it alongside "ordinary" water, using the facilities of the Huyck Research Laboratories in Connecticut, to which he was at that time a consultant. His novel method was to study water in its crystalline form as snowflakes, each of which, as they fall by the zillion, is uniquely designed and molded by unknown forces in its micro-environment, no two being alike, as far as anyone can tell. [H: However, as with all living forms, there are things which are exactly alike.]

With a "fluid amplifier", a device he invented that could make snow from water, Coanda found in the center of each snowflake a circulatory system composed of tiny tubes in which still unfrozen water circulates like sap in plants, or blood in animals—water which he considered to be what dowsers characterize as "living", to distinguish it from its stagnant, lifeless counterpart.

By carefully timing the life span of snowflakes, which "die" when all the water in them becomes congealed, Coanda was able to establish an extraordinary and direct relationship between the duration of his snowflake water and the life span of people who regularly drink such water. The "living" fluid appeared to add more life to humans.

On far-flung travels Coanda found that the water that produces long-lasting snowflakes is the principal beverage not only of the Hunzas but of other long-lived peoples in Soviet Georgia, Ecuador, Peru, and on the mountainous Tibet-Mongolian border. [H: Part of the wondrous properties of Kargasok Tea, by whatever the name, is that the water becomes "living" as the lifeform grows. In the mountains where this tea is so widely used the people make sure to have "snow" water for the tea making.] Still he did not know why or how the special glacial water extended human life. Before returning to his native country to become president of the Romanian Academy of Sciences, Coanda entrusted his water research to a young collaborator at the Huyck laboratories, Patrick Flanagan, a prodigy who, at only seventeen, had been listed by LIFE magazine as one of America's top ten scientists. (This was for his invention of the neurophone, a hearing aid which bypassed the eighth cranial nerve associated with hearing and allowed the deaf to hear directly via the skin.) "I think you are the only one I know," Coanda told him, "who can eventually come up with a system to make Hunza water available anywhere in the world."

Flanagan, a short man of forty, with a closely clipped mustache, his head as razed as Kojak's or Yul Brynner's, met us in a small motel next to the tiny Sedona airport atop a mesa in the mountains of central Arizona. All around us rose a magnificent series of red rock cliffs and spires, dominating the town in the canyon far below.

"I read everything I could on water," said Flanagan, at ease in his khaki clothes from the Banana Republic, "only to discover it was one of the world's most mysteriously anomalous substances."

Once a flamboyant adventurer who would savor the gall bladders of rattlesnakes and cobras to assume their powers and immunity, regularly earning thousands of dollars with far-flung lectures on such arcane subjects as Pyramid Power and Tantric Sex, Flanagan is now a quiet vegetarian, as reclusive and peace-loving as a Tibetan monk, healed and domesticated by his lovely wife, Gael, soulmate, so he claims, from an equally adventurous past, and expert on the structure, function, and properties of crystals. Like her husband, Gael received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the Multi-Disciplinary World Medical Congress in Colombo, Sri Lanka, and now helps, in the seclusion of their Sedona laboratory deep in a pinewood forest, with research on the colloidal properties of water.

[H: Here is a good point to make a reference to Gaiaandria and the reporting by some people as to there forming a cover of some kind of "crystals" (like salt or something) on the tops of the Gaiaandria products. THAT is excellent because those are PURE LIFE CRYSTALS. Right there is where the catalytic process of LIFE forms pure monatomic gold crystalline structures and wonderful iridium-based life cells. Both are so enhancing to the mitochondria as to have no other substitute. We have always had the crystals but as we have tended to change the formulae for the maturing drias we have developed the production of those crystals. Since we have no way of conveniently using the crystals alone, we simply mix them back into the solution wherein you then have a colloidal solution of the most important minerals unavailable ANYWHERE ELSE.

When we have funds and capability we will take the growth of crystals and certainly offer them separately in that perfect form of mineralization and even separate out the monatomic gold atoms for your comprehensive use—but at this time it is simply unacceptable to take the time for such tending and YOU need the product as is. We do find it wondrous to watch the crystals form and grow in the direct sunlight because of the magnificent microscopic action of crystalizing in the refracted light rays of the Sun.]

Oddly coincidental, or serendipitously propitious, the town of Sedona—lying in the coils of the twisting Oak Creek Canyon, surrounded by gnarled terra cotta peaks against a sky so blue its energy is tangible—is what Lyle Watson in his The Romeo Error describes as a unique "power spot", one where great concentrations of energy can be felt coming up from the Earth through four separate telluric vortices. (At one such mystery spot in Southern California when two men were photographed facing each other across the "vortex", the man on the right appeared shorter in the developed picture, even when the two men changed places.)

Visitors from all over the world, alerted to the existence of what they believe to be "psychic energy vortices", flock to Sedona to bask and meditate in the extraordinary energy emitted from the soil, and describe experiencing visions, telepathic communication, past-life regressions, precognitions, UFO sightings, enhanced automatic writing, spiritual healing, and other psychic phenomena, especially during the period of the full moon.

Two of the vortices are said to be magnetic, the third electric, and the fourth electromagnetic. The electric vortex, being charged with yang or male energy, is reputed to stimulate and elevate consciousness; the magnetic, or yin vortices, charged with female energy, are supposed to open one's psychic perception; and the electromagnetic vortex is credited with balancing both body and spirit, stimulating memories of past life experiences. [H: This is what you get out of the GaiaLyte mineral supplement.]

tors' experiences, ranging from intense spiritual visions to impressions of what may have taken place in the canyons long centuries ago, especially visions of refugees from what they believe to be the cataclysmic destruction of Churchward's legendary Pacific Continent of Lemuria, the claim being that the nearby native Hopi Indians are descendants of ancient Lemurians. Many a visitor attests to sensing the presence of great crystals buried beneath the existing town, to which they attribute the emission of intense radiating energy, the source, they say, of the vortices' power in the area.

But, whether or not this is just the bright dream of a successful real-estate developer, happy to welcome little old ladies with pendulums, Ouija boards, and Tarot decks to dabble in the vortices, it is a fact that magnetic anomalies do exist on the planet, places where cars mysteriously roll backward up a hill as gravity turns to levity. Indeed, at Sedona the trees in the vortex in the canyon by the airport mesa do NOT grow perpendicular, but lean toward the center of the so-called vortex.

Our purpose—not with these anomalies—was with the secret of the Hunza water and its relation to the stirred BD 500, a field in which Pat Flanagan turned out to be an expert.

For years he has been collecting samples of water from all over the United States. Considered no more than an amalgam of oxygen and hydrogen, water is, in fact, far from banal. Constituting 90 percent of the human brain, it may, says Flanagan, be the most important substance on the planet, perhaps in the universe. With thirty-six distinct isotopes, each possessing different properties, it is the universal solvent of chemistry, capable, with time, of dissolving any and all the elements, even gold. Among its odd attributes, such as growing lighter instead of heavier as it freezes, water, as Flanagan explains the matter, has what is known as surface tension, a force that causes it to stick to itself, to form a sphere, the shape with the least amount of surface for its volume, requiring the least amount of energy to maintain itself. Yet its potential strength is ominous. Were all the extraneous gases to be removed from an inch-thick column of water, that column would become harder than steel.

In a bathtub, Flanagan elaborated, bulk water is composed of a small number of liquid crystals and a very large number of chaotically random molecules. "In theory, liquid water, even when boiling, has microscopically tiny 'icebergs' of crystalline water within it, liquid crystals that retain their set structure, whereas the rest of the water is all randomly oriented, vibrating vigorously. Cooling water automatically creates more of the crystals until nearly the whole mass becomes crystalline ice."

The point he wished to make was that when a living organism, such as a plant or an animal, takes in water it structures it into a composition with a high percentage of octagonal liquid crystals and a very low percentage of unorganized molecules. This, said Flanagan, is done by means of high-energy colloids—particles in suspension or solution too small to be viewed accurately with an ordinary microscope. "Colloidal particles act as tiny 'seeds' of energy, charged to attract freely-roving water molecules, and thus form the nuclei of liquid crystals. But to do this the colloids, normally of unstable charge, require a high electrical charge. In living systems, they retain this charge by being protected by a coating of such materials as gelatin, albumin, or collagen."

To illustrate his meaning with an analogy, Flanagan explained that similar colloids, not found in nature, are artificially manufactured by the detergent industry. These, we learned, have two poles, one lyophilic (liking water), the other lipophilic (liking oil), the latter on the inside facing the colloid, the former on the outside facing the fluid in which the colloid is suspended. This structuring allows the water to penetrate dirty clothing.

Another force causes water molecules to form long complex structures known as hydrogen bonds. These enable water to wet substances such as glass, clothes, powders, or one's hands, a force that can be strengthened or weakened by structuring the water's internal composition.

It was these two properties of water that showed Flanagan the way to duplicate the Hunza water, and thereby resolve part of the riddle of what takes place in a bucket of Steiner's BD 500 being "potentized" as it is stirred into vortex and chaos.

The mystery of why water stirred, as in the preparation of the BD preps, 500 and 501, or succussed—violently shaken—as in the preparation of homeopathic remedies was finally given world exposure at the end of June 1988, when the British bellwether scientific journal Nature published a report its editors said they could not believe. According to deputy editor Peter Newmark, if the results of experiments run by four reputable researchers from France, Canada, Israel, and Italy turn out to be true, "we will have to abandon two centuries of observation and rational thinking about biology because this can't be explained by ordinary physical laws." [H: So—toss out the old because assumptions were NOT CORRECT.]

The work implied that antibodies in the immune system can function even when the solution they are in is so diluted that no antibody molecules are left in it. There is no known physical basis for such an action. It would mean that the solution was able to "remember" the presence of the antibody molecules and act as if they were still there.

Conducted in seventy separate trials in several different laboratories for a year, with numerous special controls designed to weed out errors and erase the results, the basic experiment held up under various stratagems to prove it wrong. "This is why we feel," wrote Newmark, "that it would be unfair not to publish the report."

Particularly objectionable to Newmark was the fact that the experiment tended to symbolically support homeopathy, or what he called "a generally discredited practice of using herbs and oils 'supposedly attuned' to organs in the body, to cure ailments in them, by dilution and vigorous shaking of the remedy." [H: Ah, do you now see the POLITICS involved in healing?]

In 1974, Flanagan found that crystals of all kinds, such as quartz and precious gemstones, have a marked effect on water surface tension, a characteristic known to ancient Tibetan physicians, who applied it to make crystal-affected water potions for their patients. If poured on wheat, mung-bean, soy, alfalfa, or radish seeds, the "crystal-affected" water produces more vigorous growth, and sprouts much larger and tastier than normal. [H: The sprouting time is, in addition, cut almost in half.]

But where, Flanagan asked himself, did the crystals get the energy with which to affect the surface tension of water? It seemed to him they must be "resonators of cosmic energy impulses generated by super-novas, and other deep-space influences". To detect such forces he basically thought to be gravitational in nature he constructed a device to pick up cosmic gravitational waves. These he converted and amplified so as to be recorded on a chart recorder, heard through a loudspeaker, or displayed on an oscilloscope.

Testing showed that, whereas ordinary tap water has a surface tension of 75 dynes per centimeter, the cloudy Hunza water that appears "dirty" when held up to the light source has a much lower one of 68, and IS NEGATIVELY CHARGED.

Hunza water was also revealed, through spectrum analysis, to contain almost every known mineral element, with an especially high content of silver. To Flanagan the most interesting feature of the minerals was their being not in ionic but in colloidal form—meaning that the minute mineralized particles, though microscopically small, do not dissolve in the water, as salt does, to become ionic sodium and ionic chlorine, but remain in suspension as tiny electrically-nega-

Microwater™

Turn Your Tap Into A Fountain Of Wellness.

The Microwater™ Series One machine produces a healthful and refreshing high-altitude, electron-rich, free radical scavenging, alkaline water. It also breaks up larger-clustered water. It is actually "wetter", and therefore able to go to more places in the body, nurturing the organs, while removing acid wastes, one of the causes of numerous diseases. This type of water is usually found only in high-altitude mountain streams, twisting and turning, bubbling over rocks, where it picks up its electrons. Microwater is alive, and it functions as a powerful antioxidant. In Japan, this water has been successfully used to treat high blood pressure, diabetes mellitus, constipation and diarrhea, acidosis, and a wide variety of skin conditions. Although we make no medical claims, try the water for yourself and see what happens.

tively-charged and therefore self-repelling stable particles.

Pure water melting from the glaciers in the mountains of Hunzaland, Flanagan realized, would be devoid of minerals. But pressure from the millions of tons of ice—enough to grind to powder four inches of surface every century—would scrape and carry minerals to the valley at great speed to spurt into the mullahs or vertiginous torrents. And such is the peculiar nature of water that each time its speed is doubled it can carry sixty-four more times the amount of matter in suspension. In the fast mullahs, water thickens up with sediment.

"This colloid matter seemed so important," said Flanagan, "that I pursued the idea that it was these stable colloidal minerals that gave the Hunza water its special structure."

For years Flanagan tried without success to duplicate the colloidal minerals in his laboratory. "I tried all kinds, many of them clays. But none had sufficient electrical charge to lower the surface tension of water down to the sixty-eight figure characteristic of Hunza water."

Flanagan next discovered that the mineral particles in Hunza water had a fatty or oily organic acid around them, derived, he assumed, from old strata through which they had traveled, which, in his eyes, had to be made up of petrified forests or something equally ancient. What was necessary, he saw, was to find a way to make the nonsoluble minerals colloidal by artificially putting an electric charge on them.

It flashed to him that such a charge could be produced in the Hunza water by a vortex, or whirlpool, such as exist by the hundreds in the fast-flowing glacial torrents, an idea he had extracted, as had Podolinsky, from Theodore Schwenk's Sensitive Chaos. Therein he learned that all flowing water, though it appears to be uniform, is actually divided into extensive inner surfaces, or layers, moving against one another. Any obstruction will cause these inner surfaces to flow at different rates of speed and form spirals or vortices, which separate from the rest of the fluid and generate electric current. In flowing rills, brooks, streams, and rivers, millions of vortices form when water rushes over or against stones and other obstructions. It was the vortex, Flanagan realized, that could put an electric charge on the particles of matter suspended in the water and thus render them "colloidal", each tiny element forced to be distinct, repelled from its neighbor by a similar charge. If he could find a way to duplicate this charging of the microscopic matter, he might produce an effective facsimile of the Hunza water.

[END OF QUOTING for this portion but you will not want to interrupt the writing(s) on this subject. This is just too lengthy without a break and we are having some problems with the "save" popping up too regularly and I feel it wise to break the writing.] Salu.

CONTINUATION OF VORTEX OF LIFE.

[QUOTING:]

From careful observation, Flanagan found that vortices have a special cadence of their own. They shrink in diameter and extend in length at one moment, then expand in diameter and contract in length at the next, continuing this oscillation in a periodic manner just like a pendulum or the mainspring of a watch.

To easily view the separate parts of a vortex, Flanagan added a little glycerin to the water and poured it into a clear cylindrical vessel—similar to, but much smaller than, the BD 500 stirring vat—with a hole bored through the bottom from which the water emerges in vortical form. When the shape of the container is altered, the closer its curvature comes to the ideal for sustaining a vortex, the smaller is the hole required. The perfect container, Flanagan found, was an egg-shaped ellipsoid. [H: You will find that the Les setup is adequate using two two-liter bottles such as GaiaLyte utilizes. When you use this for larger projects you will want to move, possibly, to larger containers but the process is so uncomplicated as to find the smaller containers quite suitable for home use.]

If a few drops of food coloring are added, the whole vortex appears to come alive. Not only can its rhythmic pulsation be observed, but layers of internal formative surfaces can be seen spinning much more rapidly than external ones, which themselves form corkscrew patterns reminiscent of the spirals inside conch shells or on the surface of various African antelope horns, all of which are built to scale on the basis of the Fibonacci series: 1,2,3,5,8,11...

In the vortical flows of water, says Flanagan, reside the secrets of its great sensitivity to cosmic force and its power as a bearer of formative living processes.

"When you read Schwenk's book," said Flanagan, "you realize the organs of every living thing are parts of frozen vortices. Schwenk gives example after example of vortical formative processes in nature and comes to the conclusion that the vortex formation is tuned to the warp and woof of the Universal matrix. This accords with ancient Vedic texts written millennia ago in the Indian subcontinent that indicate the shape of the Universe as ellipsoidal."

In the monumental ten-volume work, Wave Theory: Discovery of the Cause of Gravitation, published in 1943, T.J.J. See, an American professor of mathematics who in the 1930s was in charge of the twenty-six-inch Equatorial Telescope at the U.S. Naval Observatory in Washington, D.C., showed that the entire physical universe revolves around a geometric figure known as a rectangular hyperbola, which also defines the curve of a water vortex. This basic curve, says Flanagan, was discovered by See to represent many phenomena, including the inverse-square law of electromagnetics; the laws of magnetism, gravity, and planetary motion; the temperature of the sun at any given point from the center outward; and—most important to the subject at hand—the surface-to-volume relationships and the structuring forces binding all matter.

When Wilhelm Reich, once considered by Sigmund Freud his most brilliant disciple, nevertheless broke with the psychoanalytic movement to make his momentous discovery of a life energy, "orgone", related by some to Steiner's "chemical ether", he found it to be made of Kreiselwelle, or spiral waves. In his book Cosmic Superimposition Reich describes the creation of matter from the throat of cosmic vortices, such as nebulae.

In his laboratory, Flanagan demonstrates the cosmic properties of a vortex. Closer examination eerily reveals that the circulating water in its laws of movement is a miniature copy of the solar system, and, on a larger scale, is reflected in the great stellar nebulae, as Reich already showed in Cosmic Super- imposition.

Schwenk pointed to other properties of the vortex, suggesting cosmic connections. One such connection can be revealed by affixing a pointer, like a compass needle, to a wood chip. As it circles, the pointer always points in the direction in which it was originally aimed when the chip hit the water. Like the compass needle, it is constantly directed to a single point in infinite space. According to Schwenk, this is a clear indication of how a vortex is oriented as if it were held in place by mysterious cosmic threads.

Fascinated by Kolisko's experiments, which showed changes produced in crystallization of mineral salts by planetary transits, Flanagan realized the same cosmic energies could be captured in water undergoing turbulent chaotic movement or vortical flow, and—most important—that these energies would remain in the water after the flow ceased until the water was again agitated violently enough to disrupt them.

When the velocity of a vortex increases, the diameter of its throat gets smaller. In a perfect vortex, as the diameter approaches zero, the velocity in the physical universe is impossible, something has to give. In the case of water, its molecules begin to dissociate into vapor, releasing electric charge. And here comes the first clue to what could be so mysteriously charging the Steinerian BD 500 with electric energy.

What happens, Flanagan explained, is that the hydrogen bonds of water molecules subjected to such stress are stretched like rubber bands; at which point they absorb planetary forces, which, as the molecule snaps back into shape are retained and energize the molecule. This goes a long way toward explaining Steiner's and Kolisko's planetary forces energizing the BD preps.

To find out just how much charge is generated by a vortex four inches in diameter, Flanagan lowered a thin specially shielded wire electrode into the center of its vortical throat, being careful not to allow the wire to touch the water. By means of another electrode touching the water he was able, when the vortex was moving at approximately one thousand revolutions per minute, to record a charge of more than ten thousand volts emitted from its swirling water: quite a boost from the cosmos.

As for the telluric forces that affect the BD preps while they are buried, in the 1930s an intrepid German physicist, Paul E. Dobler, showed that water moving in constricted underground passages radiates energy in what was then called an X-band of the electromagnetic spectrum, X because nobody then had the spectrometric equipment to differentiate any signal in this part of the infrared band of radiation. As set forth in the first of two books—most copies of which were destroyed by the Nazis—Dobler was able to demonstrate mysterious Earth rays, such as are said to radiate from the Sedona vortices, by using a highly polished enameled aluminum plate inscribed with the words Unterirdische Wasserader, or "Underground Watercourse".

Combined with X-ray film and positioned on the surface of the ground over where a vein of water was known to be flowing, the film became exposed to Earth rays via the aluminum, and when developed gave a clear picture of the words "Underground Watercourse". Physicists repeated Dobler's experiment, but were so perplexed by the results they rejected them because "physics recognizes no such radiation". [H: Well, readers, that is why you are still working in the dark ages while your enemies are working in future shock!]

Continuing to work on the problem of vortices, Flanagan found that the vessel best suited to contain a vortex was one designed as a mathematical complement to See's rectangular hyperbola: a type of ellipsoid. His device, called a vortex tangential amplifier, was put to work in 1983 to create what Flanagan describes as a "perfect vortex", allowing newly-formed colloids containing all the ingredients found in both human mother's milk and in fresh fruits and berries to be fed into the vortex, where they became subjected to forces he says are creatable in no other way. These forces lower the surface tension of water treated with the colloidal mix—all the way down to an all-time low of 26 dynes per centimeter, the same as for ethyl alcohol.

"But very low tensions are not necessarily good," he explained, "in that when they get too low they are far from equilibrium. Over a period of time they lose energy and revert to water with a normal surface tension. We found that if we produced a water with a tension of 38—lower than the 45 created by washing-machine detergents—it has a stability that could last for years, perhaps as long as a century.

Flanagan based his statement on the fact that colloidal chemistry has discovered that large-sized colloids tend to "bounce around" and lose their electric charge, but tiny ones retain a charge, called a Zeta-potential, that is optimally long-lasting.

Thomas Riddick, a pioneer colloid chemist who formed his own Zeta-Meter company in New York, says that the Zeta-potential is a basic law of nature; it plays a vital role in plant and animal life to maintain a discreteness among billions of circulating cells that nourish the organism. The whole human body is made up of colloids, and all its flows are based on electric attractions. Blood cells have a protective coating of albumen, which then coagulate and get sluggish, eventually dying. But, if you are able to take in highly charged colloids from fresh food—or from Hunza water—they help enhance the overall negative electric charge on the blood cells.

By adding one ounce of his newly-made colloidal mixture with its 38 surface tension to a gallon of distilled water, Flanagan has been able to create a product with a surface tension of 55 to 65 that he feels may have the same positive biological effects on living organisms as does the Hunza water." By June 1988, a professor at the University of Minnesota, Kenneth Reed, had found, through the use of an electron microscope scanner, that photos of Flanagan's colloids taken at magnifications of 25,000X and with a resolution of 1/10 micron were able to show that, unlike silica particles that have angular shapes, the colloids are spherical in shape. But they are so small it has not yet been possible to measure their exact dimensions.

To find out, he allowed his thirteen-year-old bitch, "Wishes", a 115-pound cross between a St. Bernard and a Great Dane, to drink nothing but "Hunza" water imbued with what he calls his "Crystal Energy Concentrate". Within just three weeks, the enfeebled dog, which previously had to be lifted over logs on the trail in the forest behind the house, was able to leap them by herself. In Ohio, one of Flanagan's friends gave the treated water to a valuable thoroughbred stallion so old he could only get a live foal once in three breedings.

Soon after being put on the water, the horse, whose coat went from dull to shiny, was impregnating all his mares without a miss. Given the same water, the mares also had such easy births that often the stable men would arrive to find newborn foals on their feet, though no signs of labor had been evident in their dams the previous evening. Race horses known as "bleeders"—because their lungs are so weak they emit blood from their nostrils as they run—showed no more bloodletting symptoms after a regime on Flanagan's water.

More important to humans, and especially to secretaries, authors, and all those obliged to face a computer terminal for hours on end, is the risk, according to specialist John Ott, of having their red blood corpuscles coagulate or clump into aggregated masses the French call rouleaux. Flanagan videotapes, taken through a microscope in his laboratory, show such masses disaggregating in a matter of minutes after ingestion of his water.

While these extraordinary biological results are as yet no more than empirical, strict "double-blind" tests not having yet been attempted, laboratory trials run in Minnesota proved incontrovertibly that Flanagan water has amazing structuring properties. Professor Kenneth Reed, head of the University of Minnesota's department of mineral engineering, examining the colloidal particles in Flanagan's water with an electron microscope found them to be "a hundred times more active and stronger than the particles in any known surfactant due to a much greater dispersal capability in suspension."

In this instance the test subject was neither animal nor human, but plain old cement or—mixed with other aggregates such as sand or gravel—concrete. Made with ordinary water, a block of cement, thoroughly dried, has a resistance, prior to cracking or sundering, of 8,400 pounds per square inch. Add only a thimbleful of Flanagan's water to each gallon and a half of ordinary water in the mixer, and the same cement has a resistance of 12,300 psi.

In another trial, called a slump test—basically a measure of air content in partially liquid cement—it was found that the normally "entrapped" air, which makes cement weaker, was only 30 percent compared to 70 percent with ordinary water. Remarkably, the treated cement contained less water: with greater plasticity or flow capacity it is also 30 percent lighter than the untreated and, because much less acid, less corrosive to steel embedded in concrete. It also does not burn the hands and arms of construction workers who use it in such jobs as stuccoing. Extended testing of the new cement was undertaken at the Lafarge Concrete Company, largest of its kind in Canada, where a Finnish-born expert and consultant declared he could hardly believe the results produced by Flanagan's water. So hard is the ensuing concrete that it is being considered as the best possible casing for highly toxic waste.

Flanagan says the electric charge on his colloids is so well protected they do not become unstable even if frozen, boiled, autoclaved, microwaved, irradiated by gamma rays, or immersed in powerful cationic electrolytes. He found this out, after exposing them to such influences, by measuring their electrical charge in a U-shaped glass tube, a type of electrophoresis cell in which colloids, if overcharged positively or negatively, will migrate to one of two poles.

Using this simple system, Flanagan established a direct relationship between Zeta-potential, surface tension, and the structuring effect on water.

When Flanagan viewed the Australian film on Podolinsky that shows the 500 stirring process, he at once saw the connection with his own research, and his explanation of what occurs is at last comprehensible in lay terms. "Steiner's idea that an energy enters the water each time the direction of stirring is reversed is right on the mark," said Patrick with excitement. "I, too, have run tests with reversing vortices but, in my case, I have an instrument that creates instantaneous reversal and I've measured the electromagnetic charges involved."

Flanagan further cleared up the mechanics of how the vortex is actually created. "What is first formed in the Australian BD stirring machine is not a true vortex, but a parabolic curve called a paraboloid of rotation. Actually an egg shape, it relates to Steiner's idea that eggs and other ovoid forms such as walnuts or pecans are receptacles for the life energy suggested by Reich."

It is only when the machine stops and reverses that, if one looks closely, the parabola is seen to collapse instantaneously, and only just preceding the onset of what Podolinsky calls "chaos" does it then form a perfect vortex.

"The wide, deep center of the paraboloid collapses," said Flanagan. "It virtually implodes toward the center, at the time of reversal. It then creates for an instant a tiny vortex throat, which disappears into foam and chaos. It looks like chaos, but you must know that any time it's created in water, it's filled with millions and millions, if not billions, of small vortices. Also we have a certain amount of energy involved here, the energy of revolution rotating this tremendous fluid mass in one direction. When the direction abruptly reverses, where does that energy go? It has to be absorbed into the hydrogen bonds of the water and be absorbed onto the particles of the 500, rendering them colloidal, and readily ingestible by both the microorganisms and the hungry single-celled root hairs of plants."

That Steiner was onto a phenomenon somehow familiar to peasants in the old country is clear from the testimony of Viktor Schauburger, a forester who spent a lifetime observing the behavior of water in virgin tracts of forest in his native Austria and also in Bavaria. In a biographical book on Living Water, Swedish author Olof Alexanderson includes Schauburger's description of how liquid vortices are associated with strange energy discharges such as halos, ball lightning, and a levitational force capable of bringing heavy egg-shaped stones up from the bottom of a stream to its surface, where they float on top of the vortices. [H: Getting any ideas yet??] It is the levitational energy, said Schauburger, that allows fish to leap over high waterfalls from the agitated pools formed by the cascading water below them.

Schauburger was the first to refer to the creation in nature of Edlewassor, or "live water", the artificial production of which he effected in his laboratory with egg-shaped "vortex reaction chambers", also called "implosion chambers", because the energy developed within them was centripetal (acting toward a center) instead of centrifugal (acting away from a center). "Live water" is the name given by dowsers to the flowing water they detect in underground veins that emits the radiation discovered by Dobler not detectable by dowers in water coursing through an ordinary pipe. Schauberger maintained that the implosive, centripetal energy was the basis for life, whereas its opposite was the cause of decay and destruction—patently exemplified by atomic explosions. His cosmological outlook insisted that all our technology should be harmonizingly “going with the flow of Nature” rather than forcing actions contrary to natural motions.

Brought up, like Steiner, in the countryside, Schauberger took as much inspiration from the observations and practices of simple peasants as from the academically-schooled who hardly ever left the city.

In an essay, Natural Farming, he recounted a visit made to an old farmer whose harvests were superior to any in the region, but who was considered a little touched in the head by everyone in the community.

“It happened one day, as darkness was coming on,” wrote Schauberger, “that I came to the farmer’s house. In the courtyard I met the somewhat unsympathetic son and inquired after his father. ‘The old one is in the back of the house,’ the young man answered with an unfriendly gesture. ‘Shout loud enough and he will come.’”

Schauberger found the old father standing in front of a wooden barrel as large as three or four buckets, singing in a weird voice. At the same time, he was stirring the contents of the barrel with a huge wooden spoon. It was not really a song he was singing, but rather a musical scale, rich in tone, ranging from falsetto to double bass. This the old man did as he bent over the barrel, singing loudly down into it. As he went up the scale, he rotated the spoon in an anti-clockwise motion. When his voice deepened, he changed the direction of the rotation of the spoon.

Schauberger says he thought to himself there had to be some reason for all this.

“The farmer did not hear me coming, and after I had watched him for a considerable time, I was curious as to what he was stirring. Unnoticed, I came up to the barrel and glanced inside; there was nothing there except clear water. Eventually the old man noticed me, nodded in reply to my greeting, and continued to stir without pause.

“My glance alternated between the farmer and the contents of the barrel. With a flick of his hand, he would throw bits of loamy soil into the barrel as he continued to stir the liquid first to the right and then to the left. At the same time he sang quite loudly and not altogether pleasantly into the open container. His stirring the water finished, the farmer loaded his barrel onto an ox-drawn cart and, proceeding into his fields, would dip a palm-frond into it and sprinkle the water accumulated on it onto the ground in very fine distillations, not unlike a priest who sprinkles water on his communicants. Eventually the water evaporated leaving exceedingly fine crystals which carried a negative charge. These crystals attracted rays from all directions and then gave them out again.”

Schauberger noted that the farmer had, through trial and error, learned at what pitch his voice would set up a resonance with the shape of the barrel that would stimulate the molecular vibration of its contents. The practice, called in German Tonsingen—“singing to clay”—was done at specific times, principally immediately after planting and firming of seed in the soil, at just this or that side of Eastertide.

When Flanagan read Schauberger’s account he was so struck by the apparent similarity of the old peasant’s stirring treatment of his water with a colloidal substance and the one shown in the Australian film that he wondered whether Rudolf Steiner, who was also raised in the Austrian countryside, might not have derived his knowledge from the same kind of Tonsinger—“clay singer”—as the one described by Viktor Schauberger.

“It is also interesting,” said Flanagan, “that the Earth travels through space in a vortical manner. Like the other planets, it circles the sun at about thirty kilometers per second. Constantly and rectilinearly, it is also moving in space toward the constellation of Hercules at twenty kilometers per second. The combination of these two movements produces a helicoid trajectory, as beautifully shown by the Italian scientist Giorgio Piccardi, whose animated model revealing it was set up at the Brussels World’s Fair in 1958.”

A single calculation shows that the speed of the Earth’s spiral trajectory reaches a maximum in March and a minimum in September, at approximately the time the cow horns are disintegrated, depending on whether they are buried in the Earth’s Northern or Southern Hemisphere. Could this, Flanagan wondered, somehow be related to the energy-charging effect in the cow horns?

Flanagan further related the 500 stirring process to the work of Russo-Belgian scientist Ilya Prigogine, author of Order Out of Chaos, who won a Nobel Prize for showing that, in a particular type of chemical reaction, chaotic forces in open systems create highly structured order. The kind of environment in which chaos leads to order is called “dissipative structure” which, as Flanagan points out, is characterized by any crystalline structure.

“The energy of chaos,” says Flanagan, “transmitted into the water’s liquid crystals, and absorbed by them, could only, a la Prigogine, destroy the crystalline structures or bring them into a higher state of order.”

Steiner, with his vortex, his chaos, and his stirring, may well have been toying, knowingly or not, with the vortical and ellipsoidal sources of life.

[END OF QUOTING]

Friends, we can offer, within the next few weeks, some new products and the apparatus you can utilize to make your own “vortex” water at home, along with the proper additives to make it wholly electrolytic if you like.

This apparatus cannot, however, replace the MicroWater machine which separates the acidic water from the alkaline. However, you will get the SAME beneficial properties and charged water. I always suggest you add a couple of drops of OxySol and GaiaCol and/or Hydrogen Peroxide (food grade for purification) to whatever water you are using. This insures that any parasites and microorganisms are killed. Most cannot live in the charged water—but why take a chance when you NEED the additives ANYWAY?

Further, if you add a teaspoon of Gaiaandriana per gallon of the water to be charged you will increase the frequency immensely and allow for further colloidalization of the mineral content of the water. After “vortexing” the water it can be heated (but I prefer not boiled) for drinks and/or chilled. The more times you complete the cycling—the better the charge-holding capacity of the liquid. I further suggest that you use this water to dilute any or all concentrates. Do not use carbonated beverages, however, or you will have a mess to clean up off everything in the room. Just use common sense but experiment, experiment, experiment! You can add your vitamins and other supplements in tiny amounts to this water and cut back by quantity of the supplements AND get it into colloidal form.

May the Vortex Force be with you. Salu and good morning.

"CONSPIRACY THEORIES" SLAMMED

This is full-blown, mind-controlling damage control from a mainstream media source—the June 23 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, to be exact, [quoting:]

This could be a giggle if it didn't raise the little hairs on the back of your neck to full creep alert. The Freeman in the Montana standoff reportedly believe that the government has threatened to inject one already jailed Freeman with cancer cells and did inject two others with "no brains"—a secret drug that first made them stupid and then killed them. [This is eminently plausible to CONTACT readers!] And the right-wing Colorado state senator who acted as a go-between declines to dismiss their worries. He's waiting until the allegations are fully investigated [by a government committee?].

Maybe there really is a "no brains". Certainly there's a paranoia virus going around, and not only famously on the new Internet breeding ground. Less noticed, the old technologies are busy, too—videotape, radio, television. Especially the small rural stations around the country are abuzz with conspiracy merchandisers. One, for instance—"For the People", based in White Springs, Fla., and purporting vents on 300 stations—is drumming a video, Murder in the Heartland, that offers three Oklahoma City bombing conspiracies for just $27.95.

Agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms negligently or evilly hid explosives of their own in the Murrah Building, then stayed away on the day of the blast because they (choose one: knew about, suspected, planted) the bomb. Somebody Middle Eastern was involved, maybe an Iraqi prisoner of war left over from the Persian Gulf war and used by Washington. Or the building was blown up by a supersecret barometric bomb developed by the government in the '70s. This thought from a glib fellow who is doing 30 years on drug charges he says the feds framed him for. Or the Murrah was seeded with demolition charges that were set off by the truck bomb. The source here is a retired general, who cites the fact that 35 congressmen and 25 senators have ignored his letters as proof of a cover-up.

The narrator wonders if BATF, the Drug Enforcement Agency or the Secret Service set the demolition charges. Whichever, he charges "duplicity at the highest levels of government"—all to panic Congress into enacting anti-terrorism laws that would give Washington more power to grind its citizens [Rather, to panic the populace into allowing such legislation to be enacted].

This mishmash is presented in a bad imitation of programs such as 60 Minutes and the clincher is a faux syllogism endlessly helpful to conspiracy theorists: The mainstream news media are part of the system. They are refusing to publish or broadcast these stories.

Therefore, the stories are true.

The fact that testimony comes from, in addition to our drug felon, a fallen-away FBI agent and a dismissed grand juror similarly adds plausibility. Their outsider status credentials them. [Aren't you surprised that this writer didn't add "channelled Pleiadian space commander" to his list of dismissible sources of conspiracy theories!] "For the People" is only one of dozens of outfits sowing and selling suspicion. Each boasts a growing catalog of conspiracies. The commerce is brisk. [It's easy to make something or someone appear ridiculous. The formula has been used over and over—no need to change it—it works every time. Sarcasm sprinkled with a few disparaging phrases and trigger words—it's easy to throw together. Why does it work? The shallowness appeals to those who really don't want to think, and the opinion reinforces what they've already been told through other politically correct sources. People want to feel like they're in-the-know without taking the effort to really find out, and this article panders to that with its "ha, ha, we all know this conspiracy stuff is B.S., right?" premise. The reader is cleverly led to believe he came to his own ("well thought out") conclusions. Be forewarned: It is human nature to take this cheap-shot method of shaping opinion. This technique has been shamelessly used by those we consider to be "on our side"!]

[The real punch is usually in the last paragraph:] Every society needs a baseline of trust to function decently. If Murder in the Heartland and similar goods were only tripe, that would be a pity but nothing worse. They are more. They are acid, too. It is acid that eats at trust. It is meant to. [Heaven forbid we should mistrust our NWO masters!]

DISEASE LINKS TO ASPARTAME

Did you switch to artificial sweeteners when you realized how many health problems are inherent in sugar? Oops! This news snippet comes from Dick Smyth's column in the May 16 issue of THE TORONTO SUN, [quoting:]

I have sworn off diet drinks after reading damning research on aspartame. There is a list of 90 documented medical problems linked to aspartame. The more common are migraine headaches, clinical depression, insomnia, hearing loss, tinnitus and joint pain. Ultimately aspartame causes or worsens brain tumors, epilepsy, Parkinson's disease, diabetes, multiple sclerosis and Alzheimer's disease. Aspartame interferes with the brain's neurotransmitters. One empirical piece of evidence was provided by the Gulf War. U.S. troops gulped gallons of diet drinks in the brutal desert heat. At 30 degrees C (86 degrees F), in a highly complex reaction, aspartame produces formaldehyde. Many of the returning troops exhibited symptoms of formaldehyde poisoning.

POTENT PESTICIDE COCKTAILS

From the June 7 issue of THE BILLINGS GAZETTE, [quoting:]

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pesticides that by themselves have been linked to breast cancer and male birth defects are up to 1,000 times more potent when combined, according to a study. A federal environmental official called the finding "astonishing" and said if it is confirmed in other labs, it could force a revolution in the way that the environmental effects of chemicals are measured. The study centered on endosulfan, dieldrin, toxaphene, and chlordane, all pesticide chemicals that are known to turn on a gene that makes estrogen in animals. Estrogen is a hormone that controls formation of female organs. A surplus of the hormone has been linked to breast cancer and to malformation of male sex organs. By themselves, the pesticides have only a very weak effect on the estrogen gene, said John A. McLachlan of Tulane University, leader of a team that tested the chemicals.

"If you test them individually, you could almost conclude that they were non-estrogenic, almost inconsequential," he said. "But when we put them in combination, their potency jumped up 500 to 1,000-fold. The study is to be published today in the journal Science "These findings are astonishing," said Dr. Lynn Goldman, chief of the Environmental Protection Agency's Office of Prevention, Pesticides and Toxic Substances. The EPA monitors testing of environmental chemicals one at a time, said Goldman, and the agency must now consider how to test for effects of chemicals that might combine in the environment. The combination effect "is a very, very new issue for us." [Forgive my skepticism.]

FEDERAL BUILDING USED FOR ORGY

Armstrong Williams wrote the next article, from the May 2 issue of THE WASHINGTON TIMES, [quoting:]

On April 13, an organization called Friends Being Friends hosted an event as part of an AIDS benefit in the federally owned Andrew W. Mellon Auditorium in the nation's capital. What occurred, however, will more likely spread AIDS than alleviate it. Eyewitnesses to the proceedings observed numerous illegal activities, including nudity, same-sex intercourse, drug dealing and drug use. Marc Morano, who attended the event (and videotaped portions of it) for the Family Research Council, saw an act of sodomy performed openly just off the dance floor in the main auditorium area. The men's room stalls were used for sexual encounters throughout the night, and public urination outside the building was common. Sexual liaisons were so rampant outside that security guards were forced to cordon off sections of the grounds.

The orgy at the Mellon Auditorium was one of several functions held as part of a Cherry Jubilee Weekend. The program was advertised as a benefit for the Whitman Walker Clinic and Food and Friends, which offer services to people with AIDS. The next morning, another Cherry Jubilee event, the Farewell Brunch, was held in the Rayburn House Office Building, courtesy of openly gay Rep. Steve Gunderson, Wisconsin Republican. Sponsors of the weekend included American Airlines, Snapple Beverages, Starbucks coffees and Ben and Jerry's Ice Cream.

This was not the first time the Mellon Auditorium has hosted a homosexual free-for-all. During the 1993 gay march on Washington, it was used for the "National S/M Leather Fetish Conference", featuring leather-clad "masters" and near-naked "submissives" in chains. It also showcased graphic photos of anatomical feats too grotesque to mention in a newspaper.

Should this come as a shock? We are, after all, allowing homosexuality (sometimes in the guise of disease prevention) to be taught to American children in public schools, beginning at a very tender age. While the government prohibits religious expression in schools, and evidently does a poor job teaching the basics of reading, writing, math and history, it spends millions on contraceptive programs and sex "education". Posing as "values neutral", these programs encourage amoral attitudes and self-gratification. When higher pregnancy and disease rates inevitably result, bureaucrats and "experts" call for more of the same.

Wherever the legislative or executive branches of the government fail sufficiently to promote unmarried sex and homosexuality, the courts push them along. This agenda is being advanced in the name of tolerance and acceptance, but it brooks no opposing views. Gay activists view mainstream values and norms as intrinsically oppressive, and therefore desire the overthrow of a society based on them.

"The voters sent me here with a mandate. Don't come back!"

In his detailed and well-documented book The Family Under Siege, George Grant cites a list of gay demands from the Advocate, the nation's prestigious gay magazine. These include: endorsement of homosexuality by all religions and the rewriting or expurgation of Scriptures; gay marriage or the abolition of marriage; indoctrination of the young in homosexual behavior; the end of all discrimination against homosexuals, and the expurgation of "ugly and ignorant homophobia" among the aged and backward who cling to the old ways. These goals are to be enforced through "heavy punishments" and "public humiliation". [You could replace the word "homophobia" with "antisemitism" and still be consistent with current media propaganda.]

The Advocate article concludes with this challenge: "If all these things do not come to pass quickly, we will subject Orthodox Jews and Christians to the most sustained hatred and vilification in recent memory. We have captured the liberal establishment and the press. We have already beaten you on a number of battlefields...surrender now." This is not an idle threat or an isolated phenomenon. This agenda is just part of a wider cultural transformation that includes abortion, infanticide, suicide and euthanasia. No civilization can long sustain widespread depravity. [End of quoting.]

[The word "homophobia" is widely used to mean "hatred of homosexuals", although the definition of "phobia" is actually "fear of". It's true that we humans tend to hate or oppose what we are afraid of. And we are afraid of what we don't understand. That's why we clobber spiders and snakes. More importantly, this phenomenon is an important tool of the NWO controllers: keep the masses ignorant, and use fear and hatred to keep them in line with the NWO blueprint for world domination. It's always used in wartime, right? Make sure no one REALLY knows what it's all about—just give 'em a simplistic enemy to fear and hate and bomb (remember Saddam Hussein?) Those who instill fear and hate are attempting to control you. CONTACT has been accused of being a fear-mongering rag. Au contraire. To the degree we impart true information, we MINIMIZE fear.]

JERRY FALWELL,
ZIONIST SPEAKER

I suggest you citizens LISTEN very closely to Jerry Falwell and his prattlings these days because it will show you which way the coin is spinning. He just stated YESTERDAY that he was completely happy about whatever happens in the Middle East because, if it ends in Armageddon, it will be good for the Christians because it will indicate a time of the "coming of the Lord" and fulfill the prophecies and, "We shall again be with God." Good grief, are you BLIND? You won't be with God; you will be deaded in your insane IGNORANCE and misinformation! So be it. Let me tell you, however, that this very statement MEANS that some major conflict is imminent or he would not be making such observations for he is one of the planted robotic informers for public consumption.

GULF WAR VETERANS ALERT

DISTRIBUTE WORLDWIDE

Anyone from the 37th Engineering Battalion out of Ft. Bragg (NC), please make immediate contact with Peter Kawaja.

I have received communiqué(s) from several in your unit who are still alive and want to make contact with you. All of you need to be in contact with each other. The Pentagon is seeking to ask you questions under a military tribunal with regards to your knowledge of what took place in Iraq, "the mission", and those spooks in white with detection equipment—you know what I am talking about!

You are not safe. It seems the Pentagon is claiming that "they" didn't know, but that "you" knew and have withheld evidence—this indicates they want to hang all those who have died since the Gulf War—on you. Deals are going to be made. Certain persons have received above average disability rating, etc., just recently after the recent news release. They want to buy your silence and hopefully, you will lie under oath. I have been asked by others in your unit to put out the word and find out how many of you are still alive, who is sick, etc., and to arrange for you all to communicate with each other.

Please—immediately, if you have not done so, swear out an affidavit of what you know, what you did, what you saw, make copies, send them to safe places (you trust) for your protection. Contact me—they already know who you are, it is ok to call, just do not say anything specific on the phone. It is the American public who doesn't know who you are, and each of you don't know which others are sick or dead already. If you remain silent and do not respond, you may accidentally die—silently, and no one will know if it was from natural causes—get my drift?

Your protection is to get in contact with each other—with those in the 37th, and do it now! Those who have asked me to put this out have already been contacted by the Pentagon and "suspect" what is up.

Please let me hear from you—to know if you are alive, sick, and who else in your family is sick or dead. Major Jordan just had a child born deformed. America is depending on you to break the camel's back once and for all in the lie that we have been told all these years by the DOD/Pentagon. The truth is your only protection—if it is made public!

UP FRONT

I hope you readers will understand our own fragmentation as we select that which seems most important on a given date, a time—an era. In almost all instances it is required that you look at the many details to catch up with the mainstream of what is coming down. For instance you will have to realize that the bombed buildings event in Saudi-land is an exact duplication of the vortex of chaos at Oklahoma City—AND, THAT MEANS YOU ARE LOOKING AT THE SAME PERPETRATORS.

F.E.M.A.
FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY

This is one of the NEW WORLD ORDER (United Nations-Controlled) policing agencies of TODAY. Please note that following the bombing in Saudi Arabia there came the following announcement: "There will be the largest contingency of police and TRAINED GUARDS protecting the people involved in the McVeigh trial..." Also, there will be need of "thousands of TRAINED troops at the Olympics", therefore "F.E.M.A. WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THOSE TRAINING PROGRAMS!" Read it and weep, America—this is the FINAL TAKEOVER.

Bank mergers are being finalized; currency is being slipped in on you in readiness for bigger changes; the "debit computer card" is now established as the ONLY way to corporately deal in the Stock Markets, etc. Your grain crops in the U.S. (and world) are all but a total disaster—ah indeed, YOU ARE IN IT.

It certainly doesn't matter that you might not believe "me" but you can, and should, believe the signs for these are "your times", not mine. If you only follow the bouncing ball of the local diversions and efforts to destroy our work and presence—it is enough, for the adversary gets more and more forceful in efforts to destroy and conquer.

O.J. SIMPSON

One of the more brutal clues to the control of media and citizens was shown clearly at O.J. Simpson's home night before last. He "hosted" (allowed to be held at his home) a fund-raising party and dinner to raise funds for abused children, gang alternatives, etc., etc. And what happened? The Zionist Feminist elements came forth on their marches and stand-ins and flapped about it being obscene for O.J. Simpson to participate in such horrendous activities. Why? O.J. was acquitted on all charges of wrongdoing. In the recent past it would have been a mandatory sentence from the court to have such an accused person to be mandated FREEDOM and the system would HELP to get him a job, become stable, and attend his responsibilities. There were even instances where the punishment would be to do EXACTLY THIS SORT OF COMMUNITY SERVICE. Not so now, the Zionists bellow and wallow in their lies and ferment. It is a very, very SICK world in which you find yourself experiencing. Is O.J. guilty of "considering" murder? Well, he certainly probably is now!

How DARE I bring "Zionists" into this discussion? Because you had better attend your "religious" studies—Zionists are NOT "just Jews" who disagree, readers—they are a faction of SERIOUS INTENDERS TO THE CONTROL OF THE WORLD. How much do YOU know about the people in the games taking place as we write? What do you know of the current CIA as a "for instance"? Well, it has been totally taken over by the Mossad-trained Mishpucka crowd of Israel. And please note that the FBI was dispatched to Saudi Arabia for this "bombing" raid. What is the domestic FBI doing in Saudi Arabia? Could it be because the FBI offers troops and policing TO THE INTERNATIONAL CONTROLLERS? Ah, yes indeed, that is EXACTLY what has happened while you slept. The FBI are the troops of the Attorney General of the U.S. and totally under her control and orders. She, Janet Reno, Attorney General of the United States of America, is NOT even a paid employee of the U.S.—she is a salaried employee of the International Monetary Fund of the United Nations under Zionist LAW. YOU are supposed to believe otherwise just as you are supposed to believe the Federal Reserve is "federal" and on down the line with the private corporations.

WHAT REALLY IS GOING ON?

Of course it is difficult to, in all the confusion, hold to what really is going on. It can be compared to, right in your dooryard, with opposing thought memories. I can't help it if you choose to be the ONLY one who can't remember things like "side agreements"—it is strange that everyone else who would lend funds here knows about them and honors them. This is close enough to "home" to be understood far better than the Federal Reserve System. Is it, further, responsible or irresponsible fiduciary behavior for officers and directors of a corporation to TRY TO STOP A CORPORATION-DESTROY PRONOUNCEMENT BY AN EMBEZZLER? No, we DO NOT buy the sad stories of singular put-upon while every effort was made to get the parties free of the entanglements and they just go right back to the attorney of their choice, WHO TOOK AND USED THEIR PAY-BACK FUNDS. A CORPORATION, threatened with RECEIVERSHIP ("informal liquidation" in George Green's OWN WORDS), IS REQUIRED, BY LAW, TO RESPOND AND DEFEND—PERIOD. I note that in "rebuttal" a sentence is underlined but somehow not responded to: "...George Green DID NOT offer to pay...". Well, we see that he HAS NOW promised an individual to get back your singularly important split for dancing with him in his continued march through the courts, if clues be accept-

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

PLEASE CONSIDER SPONSORING A PHOENIX JOURNAL

The cost for printing the PHOENIX JOURNALS in sufficient quantities to offer them at rock bottom prices is always a serious challenge to our financial resources. At this time we need financial assistance to help cover the printing costs of the JOURNALS. If you are in a position to assist, please call PHOENIX SOURCE DISTRIBUTORS, INC. at (800)800-5565 and ask for Brent.

We would like to extend our thanks once again to those of you who have helped us so greatly in the past. Without your assistance we would not have come this far.

able. I suggest, however, that it will not be in-full because George Green has never in his life been casually generous, it appears. Thank you, adversaries, for being such attentive readers, although we find you on no listing of subscribers. I am going to once again remind these parties who continue to pronounce evil upon us: Built in to George Green's (now called Ponzi Scheme) was at the least a DOUBLING in the price of gold to be adequately covered in loans to the Institute, prior to removal of funds. Emergency consideration or pay-pack plans would always be considered. $40,000 that Leon Fort allowed Abbott to take as part of that pay-back plan—PROVES THE GOOD INTENT OF THE INSTITUTE. Green claimed to be THE business man of the age and he explained the "plan". We have found that he is not the only one who embezzled while an officer and director of the Institute—so did Mr. Ence/Enz use his position to garner PERSONAL funds and equipment. I don't know what anyone else might call these indiscretions but it seems a bit less than ethical, at the least, to me. I suggest that the more recent demands and rebuttals be offered to whoever wants them but the CONTACT does not belong to our adversaries, and Dr. Young and Staff will decide what is run in that paper!

Let us return to the topic of your changing world. I will offer you an article from SPOTLIGHT, July 1, 1996 which points up better than any lecturer could pronounce on the topic:

[QUOTING:]

ZIONIST TAKEOVER OF INTELLIGENCE INFRASTRUCTURE NEARLY COMPLETE

by Warren Hough

POWER IS THE NAME OF THE GAME IN WASHINGTON, AND THE CLINTON ADMINISTRATION'S TOP SPY IS A MASTER GAMESMAN.

Cambridge, Massachusetts—CIA Director John Mark Deutch, 57, a foreign-born defense intellectual, one-time chemistry professor and lifelong Zionist, has emerged as a bureaucratic empire-builder. He is "clearly becoming the most powerful spy-master Washington has ever seen" Time magazine announced recently.

Until Deutch took charge of the cloak-and-dagger corps a year ago, the CIA was in decline, leaking scandals and adrift on a tide of post-cold war doldrums. [H: If, of course, you could call the ERA under BUSH to be doldrums.]

Congressional panels and "intelligence reform" committees heard high-level proposals for cutting the espionage budget, slashing its staff, even for breaking up the CIA and merging its key divisions into the Pentagon and State Department.

But once Deutch took over, the storm suddenly abated and the national security bureaucracy enjoyed a new lease on life. To be sure, there were changes. For instance, a presidential directive shifted the intelligence budget—estimated at about $30 billion annually and long dominated by the Defense Department—to the personal control of Deutch. [H: I think it would be good to put the Deutch "biography" here prior to moving further with the article.]

DEUTCH BIOGRAPHY

Born: July 27, 1938 in Brussels, Belgium, the son of a pious Jewish couple known as early Zionist sympathizers. His father, Michael Deutsch, an engineering executive with a Belgian construction company at the time, eventually worked with the CIA in Vietnam.

Education: In 1941, the Deutsch family emigrated to the U.S. John was enrolled at Sidwell Friends, an exclusive private school in Washington (now attended by the president's daughter, Chelsea Clinton), subsequently at Amherst and finally at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology MIT). Deutsch earned a doctorate in physical chemistry. [H: Physical chemistry? Is this something akin to learning how to mix fertilizer bombs?]

Employment: In 1961, Deutsch worked at the Defense Department and joined the "whiz kids" around Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and President John Kennedy as the stage for the Vietnamese war was set.

In 1965 Deutsch, a civilian employee of the Pentagon (he has no record of military service), was involved in planning covert-action operations in Vietnam. In retrospect, almost all of the missions were found to have been failures.

In 1970, with the Vietnam War a lost cause, Deutsch bailed out of government and joined the faculty of MIT in Cambridge, Mass. By 1973 he was promoted to full professor. Three years later Deutsch was named acting chairman of the chemistry department.

Deutsch was called in to take charge of the CIA's Technical Advisory Panel after the agency's covert action technicians bungled an anti-Castro operation in 1976. The timer of a bomb designed to sabotage a Cuban airliner on the ground proved defective. An unintentionally delayed explosion downed the plane after takeoff, killing 81 aboard.

The next year Deutsch was named to head the Department of Energy's nuclear weapons program, where another scandal was brewing. The FBI warned that Israeli agents, with inside help, were stealing both the raw materials and design secrets of the world's most powerful weapons.

1980: Deutsch, who has changed his name to Deutch, returned to MIT to teach and was eventually named provost of the university.

1990: President George Bush picked Deutch to head the President's Foreign Intelligence Board. Deutch later joined the Trilateral Commission.

1992, Deutch was appointed deputy secretary of defense. The incoming Clinton administration extended and enriched secret strategic pacts that grant Israel access to U.S. military and intelligence resources no other nation has ever received.

1994: Clinton put Deutch in full charge of the CIA and related intelligence agencies. Reassured at finding a spymaster who can count on the Israel lobby's—and with the mass media's—full support, the Senate confirmed Deutch as Director of Central Intelligence with an enthusiastic 98-0 vote.

Now, as to

GARNERS RANK

Deutch was granted cabinet status. His booming, often lecturing voice has already begun to dominate the closed-door meetings of the president's top aides, White House sources say. [H: This reminds us here of something our local Mensa authority and ex-judge Jason Brent said of himself regarding his control and expectations for election to the Bench: "I like to use my booming voice to intimidate suspects brought before me..." He blames Ekkers for loss of his election(s) and states under oath that he "violently dislikes the Ekkers"—but no, HE LOST HIS OWN ELECTION!]

Speculating on the reasons for the new CIA chief's sudden stardom, Time noted that Deutch plays squash with other influential Clinton advisers and that he knows "how to make stone-faced Secretary of State Warren Christopher laugh".

But sources who came to know Deutch well in this academic community voiced less innocent views of the forces behind his spectacular rise.

"Deutch owes his talent for intrigue to his father, his devotion to Zionism to his mother and his knack for selfpromotion to the example of [former Secretary of State HENRY] KISSINGER," says Dr. Judith DeVore, a systems analyst who worked for Deutch at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in the late 1980s.

That Kissinger and the new CIA head share a number of traits has been noted by more than one knowledgeable source interviewed by the Spotlight.

"Kissinger came to symbolize the growing role of foreign-born theorists and analysts in American defense since the end of World War II," observed Dr. Gerald McLachlan, a British biochemist who did research at MIT in the 1980s.

OUTSIDE LOYALTIES

The trouble was that the most deeply felt ethnic and emotional ties of these ALIEN technocrats bound them "neither to the country of their birth, nor to the U.S. but to Israel—an impossible position for, say, a strategic planner or an intelligence officer", McLachlan explained.

But supported by the Israel lobby, an alien pressure group heavily favored both in Congress and the mass media, the network of dual loyalist administrators enjoyed a unique advantage: It was almost never penalized for the mistakes and misdeeds of the national security establishment.

"When one of his programs fell apart, Deutch simply went back to teaching for a while," said a MIT faculty administrator who worked for Deutch at both MIT and the Defense Department. "He knew that he would be moving back to government—to a new national security job nearer to the top—soon enough."

Now Deutch, whose father—a Belgian refugee—was a member of the CIA covert action team headed by Gen. Edward Lansdale during the Vietnam War, has arrived at the top. With the full support of the Israel lobby behind him, he is reaching for unlimited powers.

[END OF QUOTING]

I hope all of you readers are watching Clinton as he "handles" each of these recent murderings. Look at the big crocodile tears and weeping over the incidents of such as Ron Brown's death along with TOP EXECUTIVES who were, at last count, not on Clinton's side of anything. Then you had several other deaths of high note and more tears; now he weeps for the terrible and heinous acts against your children in Saudi-Arabia (which by the way, was a rerun of the Mossad's bombing in Beirut and came at exactly THE RIGHT TIME). It's a "croc" alright! Murder is simply part of the agenda and it works—because out of this last came a FULL TAKEOVER BY THE NEW WORLD ORDER ZIONIST F.E.M.A. DOMESTICALLY, WHERE JANET RENO ALREADY MAKES ALL DECISIONS AND CONTROLS ALL "DOMESTIC TERRORISM". Does anyone smell anything "fishy"?

OTHER LOSSES

What do YOU know of the recent Bilderberg meeting? Oh yes indeed, it was just held in Canada. Now why do you suppose there would be a media blackout of such meetings? The takeover is AT HAND, readers!

And what about Torching of Churches? Who benefits? Well, let us consider another article in Spotlight, July 1, 1996:

[QUOTING:]

WHO BENEFITS FROM TORCHING CHURCHES?

by Kevin Kreider

The media says black church burnings in the South are the latest symptom of the "epidemic" of "white racism" in this country, but the facts, as they are reported, are so distorted and so untrue that there is little doubt this is yet another media-provided excuse for the government to take drastic action against a non-existent problem.

[H: Please note the rerun of what happens when other things don't go exactly as the "big boys" want—always the distractions and focus change.]

Coinciding perfectly with the resurfacing of the Whitewater scandal and admissions the White House had illegally acquired confidential FBI files on hundreds of Republican appointees, Clinton has focused his—and the media's—attention on black church burnings in the South.

During his weekly radio address, Clinton "shared the pain" with black ministers and recalled his own memories of church burnings.

"I have vivid and painful memories of black churches being burned in my own state when I was a child," he said. [H: He should know—and this too, is a big "crock of..."]

An inconvenient fact for the president, however, is that the Arkansas state historian, church leaders and even the president of the state NAACP said there were no such church burnings in Arkansas during the civil rights era.

Another fact the president and the media race-baiters fail to mention is that these "racist" arsonists have, in the long run, burned more white churches and synagogues than black churches.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms has catalogued 123 church fires during the past five years where arson has been proved or is suspected.

Of those, 12 were synagogues and 85 were exclusively or predominantly white houses of worship—not including the arson and execution of the members of the mostly white Branch Davidian Church in Waco, Texas by the Justice Department.

So, for one thing, church burnings have been going on at a regular clip for at least five years. Of the ones that have been publicized during the most recent rash, 31 black churches were torched, but not mentioned was the fact that another 30 mostly white churches were burned during the same period.

According to Richard Gilman, the director of the Insurance Committee for Arson Control, churches are often picked by arsonists because—for one thing—they burn easily, a fact overlooked by all media analysts but not by actuaries and pyromaniacs and—secondly—because they serve as magnets for disturbed personalities with grudges against both individuals and social and religious institutions.

"There is no typical church arsonist," Gilman says. "Many are just deranged."

As examples, Gilman cited a Protestant man who torched 32 white Protestant churches and a Jewish man who torched 12 synagogues.

POLITICAL EXPLOITATION

Rep. Henry Hyde (R-Ill.)—who exploited the Oklahoma City bombing to promote his counterterrorism bill—is now using the recent church burnings to promote a new bill expanding federal power.

The Church Arson Prevention Act of 1996, or H.R. 3525, sponsored by Hyde, is in response to the Justice Department's continuing call to expand its federal jurisdiction over traditionally local law enforcement areas.

The 10th Amendment clearly states that "powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution" are reserved to the states. Federal agencies—like the Justice Department—must find loopholes in the Constitution to increase their jurisdiction.

The passage of the civil rights laws in the 1960s makes deprivation of one's civil rights, based on race and religion, a federal offense. This gives the federal government the loophole it is searching for in this case—by labeling the church arsons as hate-inspired destruction of black churches intended to spread fear and intimidation throughout black communities.

According to Robert Brock, president of the Self Determination Committee—a Washington-based black Nationalist organization—the sudden attention to church burnings is a transparent ploy to increase the American police state. [H: Reread that please!]

"Black religious communities are being used as dupes in an attempt to federalize law enforcement," he said.

According to Brock, the government is using church burnings and the Oklahoma bombing to increase a military presence, particularly in the South.

MILITARY MOVES SOUTH

Brock says that in preparation for the terrorist threat at the Olympic games "thousands of military troops and equipment are already being housed in Dekalb County's [Atlanta, Georgia] public schools." [H: I wouldn't be caught anywhere near those games, readers. I can't tell whether or not there will be insanity enough to blow everyone to Kingdom Come or not. Incidents are certainly in the planning, however.]

This is in addition to the 1,000 to 2,000 FBI, CIA, Secret Service and Georgia police agents and the 15,000 private security, 10,000 military guards and foreign police contingents assigned to provide security at the Olympics. [H: Note that there was nothing to protect the MILLION MAN MARCH except GOD!]

Brock says that any issue with a high-level of sensitivity—such as church burnings and the Oklahoma bombing—can be easily used as a vehicle to expand federal power.

"With these sensitive issues, allegations become fact and our Constitution is thrown out the window," he said.

[H: Please note several "clues" to follow: The amount of tears shed over specific incidents, the handing out of "Purple Heart" medals to the immediately returning military (even the dead) when that medal is an "act of war" medal to begin with, and certainly is a delayed response to individual injured troops. This smacks of the same courageous display of medals to the returning children from Panama! Perhaps we should all display anger that none of these "victims", such as Waco wipeout, got Purple Hearts!? The signs are ALWAYS "there" if you but look, readers. Remember that in the Protocols of Zion, there HAS TO BE RACIST WAR! THERE HAS TO BE WAR! Furthermore, there is too much information and disclosure popping out from under the covers at full-rush speed ahead so actions have to be harsh, miserable and more and more devastating to keep you ALL under control and in total chaos and confusion. IT IS THE GAME—ONE WORLD ORDER! AH, BUT JUST WHO IS THE ONE OF THE TITANS TO RULE AFTER THE GAMES? AH SO, INDEED!]

[END OF QUOTING]

May we be given strength to act in WISDOM, our own journey to accomplish. May we not be distracted by the distractors or their deceptions and distractions. As we are personally attacked we tend to back off our own work in order to lick our wounds and never mind the rest—no, that is not acceptable. We CAN make a difference if we continue to walk in LIGHT, always toward THE LIGHT and consciously keep to the path toward Creator. Names called are meaningless—IF YOU KNOW YOUR OWN NAME and intentions in the places of God (of that wondrous perfection in Light). If someone tells you to "avoid moving toward the light...", BEWARE! In these days of chaos what you don't know will most certainly hurt you!

Salu.

THE NAME OF THE GAME IS CHAOS!

In every major cycle movement there comes the Chaos presented to confuse even the most logical and reasonable thinkers. You now can look at clues and past events and see the patterns of progression in individual events and planned deceptions. You must keep the LIGHT of knowledge about you constantly that you may find your way in the turmoil of a world in crisis. Remember that Satan is "alive and well on planet Earth", as one author so aptly said it. Is it not time to defend selves against such takeover? You now approach Independence Day in the U.S.—but obviously you LOST THAT WAR! WARS ONLY DESTROY—THEY NEVER "CREATE".

What Are The Phoenix Journals?

Many people have asked us what the Phoenix Journals are. They contain the true history (his-story) of mankind on this planet as well as detailed information about the most asked about and wondered about subjects (i.e., Spirituality, E.T.s, our origin, our purpose here on this planet, etc.). Commander Hatonn, and the other Higher Spiritual Teachers who have authored these Journals, weave spiritual lessons and insights throughout the unveiling of lies which have been deceptively forced upon us, throughout time, by the Elite anti-Christ controllers. These Journals are the "Dead Sea Scrolls" of our time. Their importance for the growth of mankind cannot be overstated. They are the textbooks of understanding which God promised us we would have, to guide us through the "End Times".

Here is what Commander Hatonn has said about the Phoenix Journals. Quoting from Journal #40, THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE, Vol.II, pgs. 47 & 48: "Some day in the far recesses of the future experiences of another human civilization—these Journals will be found and TRUTH will again be given unto the world manifest so that another lost civilization can regain and find its way. God always gives His creations that which they need when the sequence is proper. It is what man DOES WITH THESE THINGS which marks the civilization. WHAT WILL YOUR LEGACY BE???? I focus on current activities which might turn your world about in time to save your ecosystems and your sovereignty as nations and peoples. You cannot wait to be filled in on the lies of the generations, lest you wait until too late to take control of your circumstance presently within the lies. YOU ARE A PEOPLE OF MASSIVE DECEPTION AND WHAT YOU WILL DO WITH THIS INFORMATION IN ACTION DETERMINES YOUR PURPOSE AND GROWTH IN THIS WONDROUS MANIFESTED EXPERIENCE. WILL YOU PERISH PHYSICALLY OF THE EVIL INTENT, OR WILL YOU MOVE INTO AND WITHIN THE PLACES OF HOLY CREATOR? THE CHOICE IS YOURS."

In case you didn't know, Phoenix Source Distributors, Inc. can automatically send you the latest Phoenix Journals as they are printed. This gives you an extra discount on new Journals and you don't have to keep remembering to order. Call (800) 800-5565 for details.

CHAOS IN HIGH PLACES?

No chaos is present at the Bilderberg meetings! No chaos is present at the planning meetings of any of the Elite World of the Would-be Kings. Chaos is pronounced as your penalty for existing as you reach the vortex of your cycle to Truth or Consequences.

I am going to begin this writing by asking you who have an "inquiring" mind and like to acquire good reference books and Elite listings, to get: Who's Who of the Elite. I've referred to this volume prior to now but I find that even with the Bilderberg meeting just over—nobody seems to have known about the meeting or who in the world are the Bilderbergers.

This book is as current as you can get but, of course, things and lists change as people change. To get this book please see box on this page.

The book lists Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateral Commission AND SKULL AND BONES Society members as well as Bilderberger members. And, readers, get ready for a SHOCK as you find every notable name you thought you never wanted to know about, listed within.

Because you are in the final takeover days by the Elite controllers, it is long past time to RECOGNIZE YOUR MASTERS. I am only in the "information" mode for, of all the things I am NOT, violent is one of them. You cannot win anything through violence for you only beget more violence, death and destruction. KNOWING is half the battle to freedom and Creative Knowing is the answer—not war. Bring the dark-seeking entities into the LIGHT OF KNOWING in recognition BY THE PUBLIC of their acts and atrocities, thefts and wars and they scatter like roaches when a light is turned on in an infested pantry.

Why do our own enemies flap and struggle so when we simply defend our mandatory actions of fiduciary responsibilities in our own stream of evolving circumstances? Because they cannot stand the TRUTH to be shown. Books and records have been offered to various ones of the counter-crew, also to Judges in court, wherein they immediately fell into the hands of George Green and every bit of personal and private information about EVERYONE was mailed to his mailing lists, adversarial attorneys and then, out of context, used against us to somehow prove we are "evil"! No thank you. We call things as they fall and happen and you are welcome to all information—except that which is PRIVATE to "another".

If you cannot recognize your adversary then you have no way to accomplish that which you CLAIM to want. This is true of Mr. Fort as well as for any readers in any circumstance. Leon Fort claims to "just want" his Mother's money back, which SHE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH HANDLING FROM ONSET, but he continues to force the issue with a most incredibly unethical attorney who joins forces with such as Green and Horton. Until you, Leon, can find the culprits in of CORPORATION FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITY for he has many corporations and manipulates them like a magician, does not honor any of his commitments (even to you, never has and never will) and perhaps you can better explain WHY you might have problems. I wonder if you actually believe that if "you" got all "your" funds this day—you would get them? No, you signed your business in the matter over to George Abbott—and he will get your funds in the end just like he got your $40,000. Think about it! And now, he is joined, without standing or interest, by Green and Horton—with Green managing the case because, as he told that party whom you slander, Paul L., that "Horton is so stupid that I have to tell him what to do..." Those three are now referred to as the Three Stooges of the Bar and the two attorneys are called Abbott and Costello because Horton is entering documents in the court in cases in which he has NO LEGAL ENTRY—even before Mr. Abbott gets his own into the court—LATE AS USUAL—using an excuse of not having affidavits, etc., which are NOT, of course, AFTER Green through Horton has already sent them to the court, screaming for an instant receivership while Abbott whines for an extension of time. On this planet only George Green could coordinate with such chaos.

Now, you people go right on and do what you wish about these things. I asked if the staff would run your objections as jotted on the FAX you sent, Ann and Leon, but I have no response so we will make available the FAX for anyone who will pick it up. Or, if you will supply a quantity for insertion and the extra cost of postage, the mailers might wish to serve your needs. You will, however, need to clear that with Dr. Young, Mr. Martin and Mr. Moorhead.

We are still working on funding which appears, this time, to be making great progress and with parties high enough in their own game to get it done—and that means abundance and Ekkers' ability to get out of this nightmare. They have done the work; they will have rewards also, even if YOU don't like it. They have been left holding the bag for the ones who have run off with the loot and will be very happy to have that behind them. And by the way, to you who disclaim any agreements on the "doubling of gold" or "$800", I have terrible news for you—there certainly ARE THOSE AGREEMENTS—even if you have chosen to "lose" yours. In the instance of Sharri, the very amount $800 plays a major part of the agreements and are reflected fully in the corporation records. You who MISLED her, deserve to be paying for any inconvenience or discomfort she might be experiencing. YOU did it as directly, through your prattlings, advice giving, urgings and uninformed gossip, as if each of you snitched the records away from the corporation agent. This, by the way, in legal language, constitutes, whether or not you like it: Conspiracy, and in these instances with involvement of Green, Abbott and Horton—Little RICO. YOU are within that conspiracy [any time you have two or more working at a project, legal or otherwise to benefit at the cost of another or to engage in unethical or unlawful acts, you have a "conspiracy"] if you work with Green, lie for Green, or enter untruthful affidavits, you ARE A CONSPIRATOR, WHETHER OR NOT YOU LIKE THE DEFINITION.

I consider that nobody, however, OWES GEORGE ABBOTT one more cent of even YOUR funds, Leon. When we can work out a plan that does not involve Abbott, Horton or Green, then and only then can we work out any plan, and at the rate they enter garbage into the courts—that day is not likely to ever get here. When funding is achieved, as it should be by late August, we will see to it that ESTHER (whose funds you claim we hold) GETS HERS. THIS IS THE ONLY WAY WE CAN ASSURE THAT ABBOTT DOES NOT TAKE ALL OF HER ASSETS. Since YOUR claim, Leon, is that the funds that you used through YOUR corporation belong to your family, then the family should be the recipients and NOT YOUR CORPORATION so that Abbott can gain through the lien he already has placed against your assets! As for Ann Beam, who seems to be so busy at attending YOUR BUSINESS, Leon, I find no reference to her claim to anything of yours or Esther's and it seems quite an interesting arrangement from one who simply claims to want balance within God as has been offered against whatever we do to try to appease your anger.

You also continue to refer to me as having some kind of "cult". That comes, I suppose, from Green who HAS been written up in the media about having a "following for his cult". So, do YOU belong to Green's cult? How about Annie's Cult? Perhaps the Hayes-Beaumont cult? Maybe it is the Ence/Enz cult? If there are any friendly gatherings for any purpose, especially meditation, it has to be a cult, does it not? Moreover, if you speak of God, god, spirits or any related "occult" topic—it is considered today, to be a cult. Silly in my inquiry? No, this is what is coming from the snitching, law reports, dirty tricks, and vandalism activities of which your own friends are a part, recognized, and known. Perhaps you would like us to refer to your friends who are with you as—Leon's cult? How about Ann's occult cult? Sits hard, doesn't it? Well, it sits hard here as well.

Ence/Enz said IN HIS LEGAL AFFIDAVIT that the Ekkers had their bags packed and ready to "take off". He said they were in the back of their basement—waiting. Come on, people, the Ekkers haven't gone ANYWHERE, even to visit family, in ten years. Do you actually think that such affidavits can possibly hold any water in a court of law? Even if we just work on assumptions—how could Rod Ence/Enz know whether or not there were packed bags in the "back of Ekkers' basement"? Or, did he also have a lot to do with missing funds and records—OUT OF EKKERS' BASEMENT? YOU CANNOT HAVE IT "BOTH" WAYS.

Also, doesn't Sharri know what is going on? She signs in an affidavit that her brother had nothing to do with anything, including corporations—WHILE HIS ORIGINAL SIGNATURE IS ON THE CHANGE OF AGENT DOCUMENTS FROM RENO. Regardless of ANYTHING ELSE, you cannot handle corporations in such a careless and unlawful manner. How did YOU get those terrible Ekkers off your corporation, Leon?? And what a relief it was for them to hand the paperwork over to you for they didn't like being a corporation structuring party for you, or anyone else. However, if a Director or an Officer learns of ANY mishandling OF THE CORPORATION PAPERS, FOR ANY CORPORATION WITH WHICH THEY ARE/WERE INVOLVED, THEY WILL TAKE THE RESPONSIBILITY, BY LAW, TO ATTEND THE MISHANDLING BY OTHER PARTIES AGAINST THEM AND THE CORPORATION. THIS IS THE LAW AND ULTIMATELY IT WILL STAND IN THE COURTS OF LAW.

I DO NOT SERVE MY ADVERSARY!!!

Now back, please, to the discussion about the Elite groups abounding in the Puppet Master's quarters. In reference I will offer the Preface from the above named book, by Robert Gaylon Ross, Sr.

[QUOTING, WHO'S WHO OF THE ELITE:]

PREFACE

My first exposure to the Elite, the people who really run this country, was in 1972 when I first read None Dare Call It Conspiracy, by Gary Allen. A friend gave me a copy of this book, asked me to read it, and to give it some thought. I was heavily involved in starting up a new company, and had little interest in political affairs at the time. However, I agreed to read it. After getting started, I became very interested, and could not stop reading until it was finished. This book remained in my subconscious until about 1988, when my concern for the direction that our country was headed began to increase.

I began to write letters to both my state and federal representatives regarding things that bothered me. My letters were answered (if they were answered at all) by low-level clerks who were hired to read and answer letters from the constituents. This prompted me to write a book titled What's Wrong In The United States And How To Fix It. While conducting the research for this book, I began to run into sources that included brief information about the shadow government that really controls what happens around the world. After finishing the writing of the draft of the first book (which will be published later), I could not rest until I found out more about this hidden oligarchy.

In order to head-off those who would brand me a radical leftist, radical rightist, or other terms designed to discredit me (the Elite's favorite defense is to "shoot the messenger"), I must declare that I am an active charter member of "United We Stand America" (UWSA), but not an active or inactive member of any other political or religious group of any kind. Moreover, my membership in UWSA is coincidental, and my opinions are strictly mine alone, and have no connection with this fine, independent organization.

I hold a BS degree in Industrial Engineering from Texas A & M University. After graduating, I accepted a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Army Security Agency (ASA), a branch of the National Security Agency (NSA), which is a part of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). My military training was in the field of cryptanalysis (the breaking of codes), and I served as a unit commander on the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in the Chorwan Valley of South Korea from 1956 to 1957 (after the fighting had ceased).

Upon leaving active duty, I began my professional career in the petroleum industry. I served as an Industrial Engineer for ten years until being promoted into management, and was a manufacturing Plant Manager for over ten years. The remaining seventeen years of my career have been as an International Management Consultant, working in the US, Japan, Mexico, Canada, England, and Iran. The only reason for relating my personal history is to try to set the theme for this book. I pride myself for my ability to back away from a problem and look at the big picture. Often, this approach will reveal an entirely different image than the one presented by micro analysis. For example, you can be blindfolded and place your nose against the side of an animal. When the blindfold is removed, you can see hair and smell an animal. But what kind? You can guess that it is a horse, cow, deer, or other animal, but you cannot be sure. Only after you back far enough away, can you see that it is, in fact, a moose.

The common thread of my formal education, military training and experience, my engineering training, plus my extensive business management and consulting background is to look for patterns of facts and events when trying to solve military codes and/or business problems. I have amassed quite an extensive database (although it is extremely difficult to discover information about secret organizations) on the Elite, and have studied it very carefully. My concern is that we are losing control of this great nation, and the world as well, to a group that cares nothing about the present or future quality of life of the majority of citizens of this country, or the rest of the world. The Elite are guided by greed, and their insatiable need for control, influence and power.

This is my first book on the subject of the Elite. My second undertaking on this subject is a companion book to be titled They Don't Dare Let Us Tell The People. This companion book contains an expanded history of the Elite, the Bilderbergers (BB), Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), and Trilateral Commission (TC) organizations, their goals, objectives and their projects in the past, present, and future.

My first inclination was to write just one book with the member lists contained in the index. As this book grew in size, and the lists grew as well, I decided that it would be more advantageous to split the information into two companion books; one providing the details regarding their connections with these organizations, their positions with these organizations, their "day job" titles, and their employers or affiliations.

The advantage of this approach of splitting the information into two companion books was that the book on details about the Elite, They Don't Dare Let Us Tell The People, might be read once, and then placed on the book shelf for future reference. The list of names of the Elite, Who's Who of the Elite, should be kept handy by the chair the reader uses while reading and/or watching the news on television. As different people appear in newspaper print, or on the TV, the reader or observer should reach for Who's Who Of The Elite to see if the persons prominent to the news are members, or not. The people in the news never begin their discussions with disclaimers, such as, "I am a member of the Bilderberg organization, and would like to give you my opinions of the following subjects from the perspective of a member of this Elite organization. My opinion on this subject is..."

I thought that it would be helpful to the reader if I also added the list of members of The Skull & Bones Society, as presented in America's Secret Establishment, by Antony C. Sutton, 1986. Apparently, this was one of the stepping stones into the BB, CFR and TC.

It is extremely important that the reader understands that this book is absolutely NOT intended to incite violent actions by anyone, for any reason.

Wanton attacks on innocent people, violent revolution or armed insurrection is not the answer. The bombing of the federal building in Oklahoma City is heinous and absolutely unforgivable. This was the act of a very troubled, deranged, evil and isolated small group of radical extremist, violent criminals. [H: Or it is the act of the Elite-controlled services intentionally planting unrest, terror and mandating a close-down of all freedoms.] The Elite-controlled media immediately took this terrible event as an excuse to first blame foreigners, and then, later, to try to place the blame on the many Militias that have formed around the country. At the date of publication of this book, there has not been one shred of evidence to link any Militia organization to this tragedy. [H: There has now, however, been a mountain of information and evidence that links all of the Elite to the incident.]

Any violent effort to rid the U.S. and the rest of the world of the control of the Elite is a mistake, for at least the following reasons:

1. It is wrong. It is wrong to break our laws, and to endanger innocent people by violent acts.
2. It is illogical. It is impossible for any armed group to defeat the military capabilities of the Elite. It is my opinion that they own the U.S. military, NATO, the Secret Service, the CIA, the Supreme court, and many of the lower courts. They appear to control, either directly or indirectly, most of the state, country and local law enforcement agencies. To ignore this is pure lunacy. Those who blew-up the federal building in Oklahoma City clearly fit this lunacy description.

Nevertheless, the heinous act in Oklahoma City should not deter us from using every moral, ethical, political and legal process at our disposal, in order to stop the Elite takeover of the U.S. and the rest of the world.

[END OF QUOTING]

I am laying some foundation, if possible, for you readers who maybe don't know what I am talking about when I offer you some startling information about such things as the recent Bilderberg meeting in Canada. If you have no idea what in the world that is, how can you make sense out of the information?

Even as I turn to offer information on that meeting right now, I am in realization that a whole bunch of new readers will still have no idea of that which I write other than "just another group" type of input. I find that the very ones who claimed to want information and sharing from their acquaintanceship with me, fail to even do the least amount of investigation into their OWN BUSI-NESS to come up with FACTS, DOCUMENTATION and/or any other information which can shed light onto their own inner-business. If you REFUSE data input and continually gain ONLY from the liars sent to mislead you in the first place—how can you function in clarity of thought and action? Just as EVERYTHING about the Ekkers is laid right out for anyone who wishes to study the files and cases—so too, is information available if you citizens will simply study and do your investigation. If you refuse to study facts and documentation—then you are destined to remain ignorant and misinformed. You can claim and shout and label us "liars" and anything else you choose but in the ending it is you who becomes considered the "fool" as you tout back the misinformation fed to you by those on, supposedly, "your side". The enemy who wants something FROM YOU, will always feed you misinformation/disinformation to insure your participation in whatever game he is hoping to win—with these Elite groups—the prize is YOUR WORLD.

I believe I need to give descriptions of these groups so that what we write about later will make better sense and then I petition each of you to get one of the membership books and keep it handy.

Will you find any of our local adversaries on these listings? No, good grief, they are tiny gnats and are in far more trouble with the Elite over their silly actions than you can imagine because they cause focus to be drawn to that to which the Elite don't want attention drawn.

We have a little meeting this afternoon to share a bit of ice cream and apple pie and give thoughtful attention to America's birthday. You have no Independence, even from England, but the thought in the heart for Freedom and Sovereignty is alive within the hearts of "HER" people. May honor and Truth return to America who once had such promise for the future of the world. Therefore, we will write until we need to leave and pick up later as is necessary.

[QUOTING, Who's Who Of The Elite:]

BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS OF BILDERBERG, COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS
and
TRILATERAL COMMISSION
ORGANIZATIONS

The brief description of the major US Elite organizations, the Bilderbergs (BB), Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), and Trilateral Commission (TC), in this book were intended to be brief. For more details, refer to my companion book, They Don't Dare Let Us Tell The People. The fundamental differences between these three Elite secret organization are:

1. The BB members are largely from Eastern Europe, Northern Africa, Turkey, Greece, the Scandinavian countries, the US and Canada.
2. The CFR members were originally from the New York City area, but later expanded to include Washington, DC, and then the rest of the US. Shortly thereafter, the Canadians were included. They are now considering expanding their membership to include other countries, probably Mexico, Chili, Brazil, Argentina, and others.
3. The TC members come from all the same above areas, but in this case the Japanese were included because of their dominance of the banking industry.
4. The BB's are the most secretive of the three. When they meet, they clear out all the people in the buildings in which they are to meet, they completely debug all the rooms, bring in their own cooks, waiters, housekeepers, heavily armed security guards, etc., and do not allow outsiders anywhere near the meeting place just before, during and immediately after they meet. They claim that there are no written records taken of their discussions, but The Spotlight has occasionally acquired very detailed documents that prove otherwise.

The attendees are required to maintain complete and absolute secrecy regarding their deliberations. Liberty Lobby's crack investigative reporters on The Spotlight have positioned a mole within the BB that somehow acquires a copy of the invitation list and often a copy of the agenda, but have never penetrated the actual meetings (to date). [H: Interestingly enough, THIS YEAR, THIS MONTH, THEY DID!] Each time that they have met on US soil, the meetings were held on Rockefeller property.

The other differences and similarities are covered in the following brief descriptions:

BILDERBERG GROUP (BB)

Liberty Lobby, Inc., 300 Independence Ave., SE, Washington, D.C. 20003, publishes a weekly newspaper titled The Spotlight. At my request, they sent me a reprint of a summary of Bilderberg information, titled Spotlight On The Bilderbergers, Irresponsible Power, published mid-June, 1975. Page 6 of this document states:

"The Congressional Record - U.S. Senate, April 11, 1964 states:

(Speaking) - Mr. (Jacob) Javits - Mr. President, the 13th in a series of Bilderberg meetings on international affairs, in which I participated, was held in Williamsburg, VA, on March 20, 21, and 22. I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the Record a background paper entitled 'The Bilderberg Meetings'.

The Bilderberg Meetings

The idea of the Bilderberg meetings originated in the early fifties. Changes had taken place on the international political and economic scene after World War II. The countries of the Western World felt the need for closer collaboration to protect their moral and ethical values, their democratic institutions, and their independence against the growing Communist threat. The Marshall plan and NATO were examples of collective efforts of Western countries to join hands in economic and military matters after World War II.

In the early 1950s, a number of people on both sides of the Atlantic sought a means of bringing together leading citizens, not necessarily connected with government, for informal discussions of problems facing the Atlantic community. Such meetings, they felt, would create a better understanding of the forces and trends affecting Western nations, in particular. They believed that direct exchanges could help to clear up differences and misunderstandings that might weaken the West.

One of the men who saw the need for such discussions was the late Joseph Retinger. In 1952, he approached His Royal Highness, Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, with the suggestion of informal and unofficial meetings to discuss the problems facing the Atlantic community. Others in Europe wholeheartedly supported the idea, and proposals were submitted to American friends to join in the undertaking. A number of Americans, including C.D. Jackson, the late General Walter Bedell Smith, and the late John Coleman, agreed to cooperate.

The first meeting that brought Americans and Europeans together took place under the chairmanship of Prince Bernhard at the Bilderberg Hotel in Oosterbeek, Holland, from May 29 to May 31, 1954. Ever since, the meetings have been called Bilderberg meetings.

NO STRICT RULES OF PROCEDURE

From the outset, it was the intentions of the Bilderberg founders and participants that no strict rules of procedure govern the meetings. Every effort was made to create a relaxed, informal atmosphere conducive to free and frank discussions.

Bilderberg is in no sense a policy-making body.

No conclusions are reached. There is no voting, and no resolutions are passed.

The meetings are off the record. Only the participants themselves may attend the meetings.

PARTICIPANTS

It was obvious from the first that the success of the meetings would depend primarily on the level of the participants. Leading figures from many fields—industry, labor, education, government, etc.—are invited, who, through their special knowledge or experience, can help to further Bilderberg objectives. Representatives of governments attend in a personal, and not an official capacity. An attempt is made to include participants representing many political parties and points of view. American participation has included Members of Congress of both parties.

Over the years, Bilderberg participants have come from the NATO countries, Switzerland, Sweden, Austria, and Finland, and have included prominent individuals such as Dean Rusk, Christian A. Herter, Maurice Faure, Franz-Josef Strauss, Amatore Fanfani, Panayotis Pipinelis, Reginald Maudling, the late Hugh Gaitskell, Omer Becu, Guy Mollet, the late Michael Ross, Herman Abs, C.L. Sulzberger, Joseph Harsch, and T.M. Terkelsen. Individuals with international responsibilities have also participated, among them being Gen. Alfred Gruenther, Lord Ismay, Eugene Black, Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Paul-Henry Spaak, and the late Per Jacobsson.

THE MEETINGS

Bilderberg meetings are held at irregular intervals, but have taken place once or twice a year since 1954. All the early conferences were held in Europe, but a meeting is now held on this side of the Atlantic every few years to provide a convenient opportunity for American and Canadian participants to attend."

[H: I'm sharing all this because there was a meeting held in Canada, hosted by none other than the infamous CONRAD BLACK, in King City, in May, 1996. These people are THE ONES who decide the future of your global activities in their secret meetings wherein actions can then be followed-up through such as the CFR, Club of Rome, Committee of 300, Trilateral Commission, etc. This is WHAT HAS TAKEN OVER YOUR WORLD IN THE FORM OF THESE SECRET DRAGONS.]

The Spotlight reports that the Bilderberg meetings are highly secret, and are held at random times each year, and rarely at the same location, for security reasons. The responsibility for security for these meetings is in the hands of the government of the country in which the meetings are held. They must supply military security, secret service, national and local police and private security personnel to protect the privacy and safety of these very powerful international Elite, members who are not subject to visa requirements, or public notice of their meetings. When they meet, no outsiders are allowed in or near the building. They bring their own cooks, waiters, telephone operators, housekeepers and bodyguards. [H: Sounds as fun and games as the Bohemian Club's Bohemian Grove meetings in California, doesn't it?]

The Bilderberg membership is made up of Kings, Queens, Princes, Chancellors, Prime Ministers, Presidents, Ambassadors, Secretaries of State, Wall Street investors, international bankers, news media executives, and wealthy industrialists. Their meetings are by invitation only, and no outsiders in the news media are allowed, except by special invitation. However, the news media are always present at these meetings such as: Peter Jennings (BB and Anchor & Senior Editor of ABC News, World News Tonight), Joseph C. Harsch

(BB, CFR and former Commentator for NBC, Inc.), Bill D. Moyers (BB and Executive Director of Public Affairs TV, Inc. and former Director of the CFR), William F. Buckley, Jr. (BB, CFR and Editor-in-Chief of National Review and host of PBS's Firing Line), Gerald Piel (BB, CFR and former Chairman of Scientific American, Inc.), Henry Anatole Grunwald (BB, CFR and former Editor-in-Chief of the US News and World Report, New York Daily News and Atlantic Monthly), Robert L. Bartley (BB, CFR, TC and Vice President of the Wall Street Journal), Peter Robert Khan (BB, CFR and Chairman & CEO of Dow Jones & Company, and husband of Karen E. House, CFR), William Kristol (BB and Editor & Publisher of the new The Weekly Standard magazine), Donald (Don) C. Cook (BB, CFR and former European Diplomatic Correspondent for the Los Angeles Times), Robert Leroy Bartley (BB, CFR, TC and Vice President of the Wall Street Journal), Albert J. Wohlstetter (BB, CFR and Writer for the Wall Street Journal), Thomas L. Friedman (BB, CFR, TC and Columnist for the New York Times), and the "Queen" of the Elite—Katherine Graham (BB, CFR, TC and Owner and Chairwoman of the Executive Committee of the Washington Post). Even though the media moguls attend these secret meetings, they do not file reports about the Elite Bilderberg activities during their meetings.

The Bilderberg's address is Post Office Box 30418, 2500 GK, The Hague, The Netherlands. If there is a US address, it is unknown to me at this printing.

[END OF QUOTING]

Yes, readers, I know that you may find you would rather have an updated revelation on earthquakes instead of this dreary Elite business. But, you can survive earthquakes—YOU MAY VERY WELL NOT SURVIVE THESE GROUPS OF CONTROLLERS AND DESTROYERS.

We presently have some very important things going on with some of the "high-roller" people and I want to let them know we KNOW. This is "just as I want" certain parties in Greece to be fully informed about the position of Adm. (Ret) Earl P. (Buddy) Yates and his involvement with the Nugan Hand bank debacle, i.e.:

...The Australian Royal Commission of inquiry found the bank's records in shreds, thanks to the frantic efforts of its directors. Unknown investors who could not afford the publicity of pressing their claims, lost millions in the aftermath of Nugan's death and the bank's failure.

Gen. Leroy J. Manor, who had been chief of staff of the Pacific Command, ran a major branch of the bank in the Philippines; Gen. Erle Cocke Jr. ran the Washington office. Admiral Earl P. Yates, U.S. president of the bank, had been chief of staff for plans and policy of U.S. Pacific Command. He claimed that the former military and intelligence officers he helped attract to the bank were "true patriots". Patriots for profit, that is. According to one Australian investigator, after serving their country faithfully, these "true patriots" must have suddenly said, "Let's all become criminals and commit crimes against the very country we've been working for..."

Now, where might I find such a quotation? Directly from Lt. Col. James "Bo" Gritz, no less. Since this is common knowledge in Special Forces and insider operations—what else is new?

I bring this to attention for Adm. Yates is known personally by some overseas contacts who are into funding for US. The follow-up was in direct response to conversations with Yates who suggested it would take 25 or more YEARS TO LEGALLY CLEAR SUCH A PLAN. Well, the "plan" rests with George Bush, among others, and I find it interesting indeed at the squirming going on around those insider parties of late. You would just be AMAZED at the numbers of "dis"interested parties and frazzled nerves!

I told you a long, long time ago, readers, THAT GOD TOO, HAS A PLAN 2000.

Speaking of our old friend, Gritz, I am told he still broadcasts regularly and gets totally irate and sarcastic about old Hatonn. He likes to refer to me as some sort of "lizard god" but, interestingly enough, he personally told ME that the only thing about me that resembled a reptile was "the changing of my chameleon colors..." This was in response to my suggestion that he couldn't win the Presidential election in 1992. He refers to himself as the consummate American Patriot and WARRIOR. So be it. I certainly am NOT a lizard person—BUT I DO KNOW SOME WHO ARE! I am quite pleased that I continue to so annoy such as Col. Gritz. That means that I CAN'T BE ALL BAD AND WE MUST BE DOING SOMETHING RIGHT!

Good morning and have a nice, nice day even though the mighty warriors are in trouble...! Salu.

[RESUME QUOTING, Who's Who Of The Elite:]

COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS (CFR)

The CFR's Annual Report for July 1, 1993, page 4 states: "The Council on Foreign Relations is a non-profit and nonpartisan membership organization dedicated to improving the understanding of U.S. foreign policy and international affairs through the exchange of ideas. [H: This translates to a Tax-free group who has only the Elite as members and although it may well be nonpartisan—it is most certainly the most politically oriented, bribed and paid-off one major "Party" in the world.]

"The Council was founded in 1921 [H: Actually more related to the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia than to any World War. And remember who bought and paid for the revolution and, in fact, ALL WARS, THEN OR NOW!] shortly after the end of World War I. Several of the American participants in the Paris Peace Conference decided that it was time for more private American citizens to become familiar with the increasing international responsibilities and obligations of the United States. This decision led to the creation of an organization dedicated to the continuous study of U.S. foreign policy for the benefit of both members and a wider audience of interested Americans."

The New World Order, by Pat Robertson, Copyright 1991, by Word, Inc., Dallas, Texas. All rights reserved, page 66-67, states:

"This august body of 'wise men' has effectively dominated the making of foreign policy by the United States government since before World War II. The CFR has included virtually every key national security and foreign policy adviser of this nation for the past seventy years."

Page 96: "In government policy, the most visible expression of the Establishment is the Council on Foreign Relations and its publication, Foreign Affairs. Out of some twenty-nine hundred members, at least five hundred are very powerful, another five hundred are from centers of influence, and the rest are influential in academia, the media, business and finance, the military, or government. A few are token conservatives."

Page 97: "According to a man who had been a member for fifteen years, Rear Admiral Chester Ward, former judge advocate general of the Navy from 1956 to 1960, 'this purpose of promoting disarmament and submergence of U.S. sovereignty and national independence into an all-powerful one-world government is the only objective revealed to about 95 percent of 1,551 members [in 1975]. There are two other ulterior purposes the CFR influence is being used to promote; but it is improbable that they are known to more than 75 members, or that these purposes ever have even been identified in writing.'

"The goals of the Establishment are somewhat strange, and we will discuss them in detail. At the central core is a belief in the superiority of their own skill to form a world system in which enlightened monopolistic capitalism can bring all of the diverse currencies, banking systems, credit, manufacturing and raw materials into one government-supervised whole, policed of course by their own world army." (Could this be the army of the United Nations?)

CFR membership is made up of present and past Presidents, Ambassadors, Secretaries of State, Wall Street investors, international bankers, foundation executives, Think Tank executives, lobbyist lawyers, NATO and Pentagon military leaders, wealthy industrialists, media owners and executives, university presidents and key professors, select Senators and Congressmen, Supreme Court Justices, Federal Judges, and wealthy entrepreneurs.

They hold regular secret meetings including members and very select guests. Occasionally they will hold a public meeting and invite the open press, in order to give the impression that they are a harmless group engaged only in social activities.

A number of people, when hearing about the CFR subject, ask, "If you say that the CFR is such a secret organization, why is it that we can get a copy of their annual report, which contains a list of their members? Why should I believe you when you say that they are a secret organization?"

Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, copyright 1945, states that the definition of attribute is: "To ascribe by way of cause, inherent quality, interpretation, authorship, or classification..." The literal translation is: "You had better NOT tell the Outsiders what we do, or say." [H: It is also mandatory to list some reason for holding a tax-free non-profit organization which passes around huge sums of money, qualified in the "free" category of tax focus.]

The answer then comes from their own document, the Council on Foreign Relations's 1992 Annual Report, where they emphatically state, in 20 different places, and in varying terms, that members better not tell.

Page 21: "At all meetings, the Council's rule of non-attribution applies. This assures participants that they may speak openly without others later attributing their statements to them in public media or forums, or knowingly transmitting them to persons who will."

Page 122: "Like the Council, the Committees encourage candid discourse by holding their meetings on a not-for-attribution basis."

Page 169: Article II of the By-Laws states: "It is an express condition of membership in the Council, to which condition every member accedes by virtue of his or her membership, that members will observe such rules and regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Directors concerning the conduct of Council meetings or the attribution of statements made therein, and that any disclosure, public, or other action by a member in contravention thereof may be regarded by the Board of Directors in its sole discretion as grounds for termination or suspension of membership pursuant to Article I of the By-Laws."

Page 174: "Full freedom of expression is encouraged at Council meetings. Participants are assured that they may speak openly, as it is the tradition of the Council that others will not attribute or characterize their statements in public media or forums or knowingly transmit them to persons who will. All participants are expected to honor that commitment."

Page 175: "It would not be in compliance with the reformulated Rule, however, for any meeting participant (i) to publish a speaker's statement in attributed form in a newspaper; (ii) to repeat it on television or radio, or on a speaker's platform, or in a classroom; or (iii) to go beyond a memo of limited circulation, by distributing the attributed statement in a company or government agency newspaper. The language of the Rule also goes out of its way to make it clear that a meeting participant is forbidden knowingly to transmit the attributed statement to a newspaper reporter or other such person who is likely to publish in a public medium. The essence of the Rule as reformulated is simple enough: participants in Council meetings should NOT pass along an attributed statement in circumstances where there is substantial risk that it will promptly be widely circulated or published."

... "In order to encourage to the fullest a free, frank, and open exchange of ideas in Council meetings, the Board of Directors has prescribed, in addition to the Non-Attribution, the following guidelines. All participants in Council meetings are expected to be familiar with and adhere to these Guidelines...."

Page 176: "Members bringing guests should complete a "guest notice card" and acquaint their guest with the Council's Non-Attribution Rule governing what is said at meetings."

Later on page 176: "As a condition of use, the officers of the Council shall require each user of Council records to execute a prior written commitment that he will not directly or indirectly attribute to any living person any assertion of fact or opinion based upon any Council record without first obtaining from such person his written consent thereto."

In "A letter from the Chairman" in the 1994 Annual Report for the CFR, Peter G. Peterson states on page 7, that: "...Members had occasion to meet in intensive off-the-record sessions with Secretary of State Warren Christopher, National Security Advisor Anthony Lake, Secretary of State emeritus, George Pratt Shultz, Ambassador Mickey Kantor, Under Secretary of the Treasury Lawrence H. Summers, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and other ranking officials. Next on our agenda are plans for reaching out to congressional leaders as well, an opportunity we will fashion as one component of an enhanced Washington Program."

If this was NOT a secret organization, why would they be so emphatic, and state in 20 different ways that non-attribution was so important, in their very own annual report? In addition, if you are proud of what you say and do, then you don't care if it becomes public knowledge or not. The other side of this coin is: if you are doing something illegal, immoral, unethical, unpopular, and/or unconstitutional, you will do whatever is necessary to see that it is kept secret.

The headquarters for the CFR is The Harold Pratt [H: George Pratt Shultz??] House located at 58 East 68th Street in New York City. Oddly enough this building is located just across the street from the Russian (former Soviet) Embassy.

[H: Please don't fail to notice, readers, that this CFR is simply another of the myriads of PRIVATE CORPORATIONS presenting as tax-free organizations. Actually, in that capacity the members AND the organization have a legal right to pronounce any rules they wish upon the membership. When you have a private corporate business—you have the coverage of the protection laws of the land. The important point, therefore, is not the privacy—but the operations integrated into the CONTROL of these people that becomes urgently important.]

TRILATERAL COMMISSION (TC)

In 1973, David Rockefeller asked Zbigniew Brzezinski to put together an organization of the top political and business leaders from around the World. He called this group the Trilateral Commission (TC). [H: You will find this is another MAJOR private corporation with all the existing tax-shelters.]

According to an information sheet supplied to me by the TC, dated March 23, 1994:

"The European Community, North America (U.S. and Canada), and Japan—the three main democratic industrialized areas of the world—are the three sides of the Trilateral Commission. The Commission's members are about 325 distinguished citizens with a variety of leadership responsibilities, from these three regions. When the first triennium of the Trilateral Commission was launched in 1973, the most immediate purpose was to draw together—at a time of considerable friction among governments—the highest level unofficial group possible to look together at the common problems facing our three areas. At a deeper level, there was a sense that the United States was no longer in such a singular leadership position as it had been in earlier post-World War II years, and that a more shared form of leadership—including Europe and Japan in particular—would be needed for the international system to navigate successfully the major challenges of the coming years. These purposes continue to inform the Commission's work.

"The rise of Japan and progress of the European Community over the past twenty years—particularly in the field of economic growth—have validated the vision of the Commission's founders. At the same time, the end of the Cold War calls for a fresh vision of what this outward-looking partnership can accomplish in the coming years. The opportunities are remarkable, and yet, with the welcome end of the old Soviet threat, part of the 'glue' holding our regions together has dissolved. Helping meet that leadership challenge is at the heart of the Trilateral Commission effort."

"The full Commission gathers once each year—in Lisbon in 1992, in Washington in 1993, in Tokyo in 1994." (In Copenhagen, Denmark in 1995.)

The New World Order, by Pat Robertson, Copyright 1991, Word, Inc., Dallas, Texas. All rights reserved, Page 102, states: "In 1970 a young Polish intellectual named Zbigniew Brzezinski [H: This is not his real name.] foresaw the rising economic power of Japan and postwar Europe. Brzezinski idealized the theories of Karl Marx. In his book, Between Two Ages, as in subsequent writings, he argued that balance-of-power politics was out, and world-order politics was in. The initial world order was to be a trilateral economic linkage between Japan, Europe, and the United States. David Rockefeller funded Brzezinski, and called together an organization, named the Trilateral Commission, with Brzezinski as its first executive secretary and director."

"The stated goals of the Trilateral Commission are: 'Close Trilateral cooperation in keeping the peace, in managing the world economy, in fostering economic redevelopment and alleviating world poverty will improve the chances of a smooth and peaceful evolution of the global system.'"

The Shadows Of Power, by James Perloff, Copyright 1988, pages 154-156, states: "How did the TC begin? 'The Trilateral Commission,' wrote Christopher Klydon in the July 1977 Atlantic, 'was David Rockefeller's brainchild; George Franklin, North American secretary of the Trilateral Commission, stated that it 'was entirely David Rockefeller's idea originally.' Helping the CFR chairman develop the concept was Zbigniew Brzezinski, who laid the first stone in Foreign Affairs in 1970:

"A new and bolder approach is needed—creation of a community of developed nations which can effectively address itself to the larger concerns confronting mankind. In addition to the United States and Western Europe, Japan ought to be included ... A council representing the United States, Western Europe and Japan, with regular meetings of the heads of governments as well as some small standing machinery, would be a good start."

"That same year, Brzezinski elaborated these thoughts in his book Between Two Ages. [H: If you don't have this book—I suggest you get it for the SHOCK of your lifetime.] It shows Brzezinski to be a classic CFR man—a globalist more than lenient toward Communism. He declared that 'National sovereignty is no longer a viable concept,' and that 'Marxism represents a further vital and creative stage in the maturing of man's universal vision. Marxism is simultaneously a victory of the external, active man over the inner, passive man and a victory of reason over belief..."

"The Trilateral Commission was formally established in 1973, and consisted of leaders in business, banking, government, and mass media from North America, Western Europe, and Japan. David Rockefeller was founding chairman and Brzezinski founding director of the North American branch, most of whose members were also in the CFR."

[H: I have to admit that I am SHOCKED at this author's failure to refer to the man who shows up EVERYWHERE—HENRY KISSINGER. HENRY KISSINGER IS INVOLVED IN EVERYTHING.]

In the Wall Street Journal, David Rockefeller explained that "The Trilateral Commission is, in reality, a group of concerned citizens interested in fostering greater understanding and cooperation among international allies." [H: Oh? Citizens? Of what??]

But it was not all so innocent according to Jeremiah Novak, who wrote in the Atlantic (July 1977):

The Trilateralists' emphasis on international economics is not entirely disinterested, for the oil crisis forced many developing nations, with doubtful repayment abilities, to borrow excessively. All told, private multinational banks, particularly Rockefeller's Chase Manhattan, have loaned nearly $52 billion to developing countries. An overhauled IMF would provide another source of credit for developing countries. An overhauled IMF would provide another source of credit for these nations, and would take the big private banks off the hook. This proposal is the cornerstone of the Trilateral plan.

Senator Barry Goldwater put it less mercifully. In his book With No Apologies, he termed the Commission "David Rockefeller's newest international cabal", and said, "It is intended to be the vehicle for multinational consolidation of the commercial and banking interests by seizing control of the political government of the United States."

Zbigniew Brzezinski showed how serious TC ambitions were in the July 1973 Foreign Affairs, stating that "without closer American-European-Japanese cooperation the major problems of today cannot be effectively tackled, and ... the active promotion of such trilateral cooperation must now become the central priority of U.S. policy. The best way to effect this would be for a Trilateralist to soon become President. One did. (Jimmy Carter). [H: You must understand, if you have forgotten Constitutional regulations, that a person, to become President, must be a CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES. Therefore, you have, since Woodrow Wilson, a Bunch of cabalist rulers running your country with a puppet PRESIDENT which has literally NO POWER IN ANYTHING—ESPECIALLY THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.] Most of them, in addition, change their names so that the masses NEVER KNOW that they are simply Khazarian Zionist NON-CITIZENS OF WHATEVER COUNTRY IN WHICH THEY RULE.]

In 1973, Carter dined with the CFR chairman (David Rockefeller) at the latter's Tarrytown, New York estate. Present was Zbigniew Brzezinski, who was helping Rockefeller screen prospects for the Trilateral Commission. Brzezinski later told Peter Pringle of the London Sunday Times that "We were impressed that Carter had opened up trade offices for the State of Georgia in Brussels and Tokyo. That seemed to fit perfectly into the concept of the Trilateral." [H: Does ANYBODY find this strange?] Carter became a founding member of the Trilateral Commission, and his destiny became calculable.

Senator Goldwater wrote:

"David Rockefeller and Zbigniew Brzezinski found Jimmy Carter to be their ideal candidate. They helped him win the nomination and the presidency. To accomplish their purpose, they mobilized the money power of the Wall Street bankers, the intellectual influence of the academic community—which is subservient to the wealth of the great tax-free foundations—and the media controllers represented in the membership of the CFR and the Trilateral. [H: Now do you get a better perspective on WHY Carter is able to dash around hither and yon in his "business" of soothing diplomatic relations with such as China, et al? He does it, readers, under the guise of a citizen diplomat—but he is serving such as the Trilateral Commission of which HENRY KISSINGER IS THE MAIN CURRENT HEAD UNDER (ALONG SIDE) ROCKEFELLER. YOU WILL FIND ALL THREE OF THESE PEOPLE NOT ONLY ACTIVE, BUT RUNNING, ALL OF THE VARIOUS SECRET ORGANIZATIONS. GET THE BOOK AND CHECK IT OUT! You will, further, find that Kissinger Associates are in EVERY friendly or enemy territory into which he can conquer and destroy—even Somalia. Kissinger Associates was the FIRST major American business to come public as to its establishment in Moscow, Russia—somehow already established prior to the end of the "Cold War" and Gorbachev was made president of the corporation when he stepped down from power. Gorby also is using, tax-free, FREE, government of the U.S. facilities of his FOUNDATION home-officed in the U.S. AT THE PRESIDIO IN CALIFORNIA. As citizens aren't you ready for "equal rights"? You have to understand that you don't ACTUALLY have racial friction except as is organized and developed by illusion—you have a bunch of butchers and political criminals RUNNING EVERYTHING—and YOU do not count except as sheep to the slaughter or to whatever other position it is chosen that you fill.]

Seven months before the Democratic nominating convention, the Gallup Poll found less than four percent of Democrats favoring Jimmy Carter for President. [H: Worse, in comparable circumstances, Slick Willy Clinton.] But almost overnight—like Willkie and Eisenhower before him—he became THE candidate."

This is probably one of the very best illustrations of the great power of the Elite. They can make or break any president or candidate for president. They made Jimmy Carter in his efforts to become president and broke Senator Barry Goldwater in the failed attempt. [H: I certainly honor this author for his work at compiling lists and documents—but I find him quite naive in his comprehension of the overall dilemma. However, THIS is how you people come to see and KNOW, through author after author utilizing information and facts and offering it publicly.]

The TC membership is made up of present and past Presidents, Ambassadors, Secretaries of State, Wall Street investors, international bankers, foundation executives, Think Tank executives, lobbyist lawyers, NATO and Pentagon military leaders, wealthy industrialists, media owners and executives, university presidents and key professors, select Senators and Congressmen, and wealthy entrepreneurs.

They hold annual deep SECRET meetings including members and VERY select guests.

The TC's US headquarters is located at 345 East 46th Street, Suite 711, New York, NY 10017. [H: Rockefeller's turf.]

[END OF QUOTING]

I am going to leave this writing now, with a reminder. If you ever wanted to see a well-done documentation in rather brief format, I suggest you get the book Who's Who of the Elite. It has organizational structurings and main players (if they can be identified) which loops the organizations TOGETHER. The Elite of the Elite form the inner core of ALL of the various entities. This simply offers help in deciphering one more step and platform of the World Order as Planned for the Year 2000 under Zionist Protocols and Zionist RULE. Is George Bush a Zionist? Well, he doesn't think of himself as being such—but of course he would not have gotten so far had he been otherwise—he was a prime mover and shaker, as was his father, in SKULL AND BONES. By simply being a member of this "society" it is publicly known that the requirements are to participate in Satanic Rituals at the very LEAST.

It might be noted here that it appears Mr. Bush's financial empire is coming a bit undone at the various seams. He could, actually, be a strong player in regaining some semblance of freedom in the U.S. if he would see fit to change his "colors". It appears he may wish to do so—TOO LATE. How many decisions and opportunities are lost by NOT COMMUNICATING—until TOO LATE? Always ones wait for the better offer—well, God offers only "one more time" sometimes! Often a simple acknowledgement would "have" saved the day! "The moving finger writes and having writ moves on..." We work with "WHAT IS" and not what someone else would like it to be—in the smallest instance to the largest!

I dedicate the following, from Little Crow, to my scribe for it bears thought: "Have the bravery and courage to dream your dream in the midst of non-dreamers. Have the courage and conviction to state your principles in the midst of those who have no ears. Have the courage and conviction to draw or to paint and to create for those who have no eyes. Because unless you are doing what you want to do, you are a captive."

"There is going to be no supreme race, no supreme people, no supreme beings. Everybody is going to have to take the responsibility . . . and seven generations from now we'll say to God, Tunkashila, Umdogee, Wakan Tanka, 'Here's what you dreamt of. This is a dream you gave us as human beings when you created us in this universe. Here it is, right here where you put us to fulfill it. Here's our dream to you. Happy Birthday.' And he'll say, 'And why did you do all of this?' And we'll say, 'For all our relations.'"

"Alleviate the fear within yourself. Know that you are infinite. Know that you are infinity in this form and that, though you make transition, this energy will return again and again and again and again because life itself is unending. Energy is unending. Let go of the fear of materialism, let go of the fear of non-materialism. Let go of the fear of dying, let go of the fear of living. Let go of the fear of breathing, looking, smelling, tasting, feeling—let go of the fear and just be. Be who you are, for it is in that wisdom that you then demonstrate the wisdom of the Creator, the Mother-Father Creator, the Mother-Father God."

AHO!

"There are some representatives of the Sioux nation here. They say they got your invitation."

This is a service for our dedicated readers. Today's Watch telephone hotline carries the latest news and comments from Commander Hatonn's most recent writings. This is our way of keeping you informed about fast-breaking news and events.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. The message update(s), if any, occur by 6 PM Pacific Time.
