Nov. 8th "Sunrise Surprise"? What Clinton May Do To Begin His Next Term

The following information came by fax at mid-day on 10/28/96 to the CONTACT offices. It is from Joe L. Jordan of the National Vietnam P.O.W. Strike Force, a group which has, in the past, offered much information that has been good "food for thought"—at least in a general sense, if not necessarily borne out in every detail.

So, we ask you to consider the following through eyes of critical discernment, keeping in mind that the Elite of the New World Order are making, breaking, changing, and remaking plans these days faster than either main presidential puppet-candidate can spew out empty promises. The "Clash of the Titans" continues to escalate as the Elite controllers jockey for position and power in their very serious game of "King of the Mountain", so variations on some of the items listed below are well within the realms of consideration of these power-mad Elite at this desperate time.

I cannot help but recall here a sobering thought I heard from a frustrated caller into Art Bell's late-night radio talk-show program one evening this past week: "As voters, we've been trying to choose the lesser of two EVILS for so long now that it (evil) is finally catching up with us!" Amen.

FIRE FROM THE SKY, PART VI The Killing Continues

by Calvin Burgin

DEADLY GAS ATTACKS AND "CULTS"

Above we saw that Dr. Beter talks about sarin gas, developed in Colorado, escaping and killing 7,000 sheep. Now, this quote from the Austin American Statesman, March 26, 1995, A3, by P. H. Ferguson, (quoting:)

TOKYO NERVE GAS ATTACK NOW GIVEN LABEL OF MURDER

Police drop kidnapping as cause for investigation of subway deaths, Associated Press. OSAKA, Japan—Police officially opened a murder investigation Sunday against a secretive cult suspected of releasing lethal nerve gas in the crowded Tokyo subway system....There was no immediate response from the cult, and phone calls to its offices were not answered. Cult leader Shoko Asahara said he and about 850 followers are sick because of nerve gas attacks he claimed were launched by the U.S. military. "I say this because the substance (sarin) was detected from the air after more than 10 U.S. military planes flew over," he said in a videotaped statement. (End quoting)

Debra Von Trapp says that the telephones and TVs and computers at the White House were tapped by the Japanese (she helped to arrange their installation), and when the White House found out, they retaliated by gassing Tokyo. For more information, contact someone who has her audiotapes, perhaps Spotlight newspaper or Sherman Skolnick. Spotlight (April 10, 1995, p. 4) had an article telling about Operation Crisis Look in which more than a dozen Air Force planes including giant C-141 Starlifter transports and KC-135 re-fueling tankers flew into Midland, Texas, to train for this very type of gas assault. The Japanese then retaliated by bombing the Oklahoma City federal building, Von Trapp said. What she does not seem to realize is that the Jewish Mafia was involved in both events, and appears to me to have instigated them.

A man named Kyle Olson, a private-sector consultant on chemical warfare, was hired by Japanese television after the gas attack. The name Olson keeps coming up in odd places.

DEBRA VON TRAPP

Before you dismiss Debra Von Trapp, you'd BETTER listen to what she has to say.

She says: "The Japanese government, through Matsushita and MCA Universal, provided the money to a team of U.S. federal employees, that were acting outside the U.S. Government's authority, that contracted that bombing [the Oklahoma City federal building bombing] on behalf of the Japanese government." She says that Robert Goetzman contracted the bombing, and Chip Berlet, a CIA and Jewish Mafia/ADL agent (real name, John Foster Dulles Berlet; Berlet is secretary of the National Lawyer's Guild Civil Liberties Committee—the NLG was declared a Communist front organization by the House Un-American Activities Committee) supervised the cover-up. Berlet is a cover-up mouthpiece for the people who did the bombing. Keep this in mind when you hear the Media quoting Berlet as an "authority" on "patriots". She offers some absolutely incredible information, and when I first heard it I thought she was going overboard. But I found that some pretty "big guns" were brought in to discredit her. Dateline TV program mis-quoted her and spliced tapes together to give the wrong story, etc., which is dead-sure proof to me that what she said was at least partly true. Goetzman was working with the Alabama Special Ops team that bombed the plane carrying the Assistant Secretary of the Army just before the Oklahoma City bombing. Debra worked with Goetzman. Debra says there was no Ryder truck in front of the Okla. federal building that day of the bombing. "Tim McVeigh had nothing to do with this operation." She says she has firsthand information that there were three explosive devices in the building. She has an audio tape available for $17.00 from Debra Von Trapp, PO Box 208, Irvine, California 92650.

The best way to tell her story is in her own words. This is a letter she sent to Whitewater investigator Kenneth Starr, (quoting:)

January 31, 1996

Kenneth Starr, Esq.
Independent Counsel
By facsimile (202) 514-8802

RE: EOP/Obstruction of Justice
Dear Mr. Starr:

I am contacting your office in regard to work that I performed with certain federal intelligence employees, supervised by federal intelligence employee Robert Goetzman, beginning in 1991.

Robert Goetzman approached me in a private press function in Atlanta in May of 1991. He introduced himself by saying, "I'm Robert Goetzman. I'm from the Executive Office of the President. [EOP]"

I am one of the leading technical analysts and consultants in the computer industry. Prior to 1981, I was a judge's clerk for Orange County Superior Court.

Robert Goetzman has been identified to me, in writing, by the State Department, as an FBI employee. However, other federal contacts have identified him as holding DOJ clearances for both the CIA and FBI. During some of our activity, he carried business cards reading MCA/Universal (Japanese-owned MCA, Inc.) with his name on them as an employee.

MCA, Inc. began calls and threats to me in July of 1994. It presently has one of its Directors in a rental house across the street from my home of eighteen years.

I specifically wish to inform you of our activity, on behalf of the Embassy of Japan in Washington D.C., which began at the Lincoln Memorial during the pre-Inaugural activities. We delivered $25,000.00 worth of large screen televisions to the site, at Goetzman's direction, from Mitsubishi Electric and Toshiba. At that time Toshiba was prohibited by federal court order from trade with the U.S. Government.

I have been advised by other Washington sources that Robert Goetzman reported to Ollie North at the NSA during the Toshiba prosecution and is listed as FBI personnel in that prosecution.

The delivery was met by Robert Goetzman and his subordinate Peter Stanley. Goetzman placed transmitting surveillance devices behind screens of three of the sets and escorted them into the VIP tent for Mr. Clinton. The sets moved with Mr. Clinton to the Capitol Center and returned to the original site. At the conclusion of this activity, the sets were abandoned on the sidewalk of the Lincoln Memorial.

The Inaugural Committee then trucked the sets to the Washington Naval Shipyard, where they were placed under military guard until the Committee, at its own expense, trucked them on United Van Lines to California and delivered them to my house. I have the documents and phone records from these activities.

We then proceeded to fulfill all of the first Executive Office purchase orders through front companies operated by FBI and CIA personnel. Peter Stanley sold Hillary her first purchase order, a Macintosh computer. Robert Goetzman and I shopped, publicly in meetings with computer industry executives, with Hiroshi Suzuki from the Embassy of Japan, for twenty motherboards for the Executive Office computers. I fulfilled, along with Goetzman, the first software purchase order from the Executive Office. Robert Goetzman and another subordinate, Jim Cofield, represented that all of the equipment was delivered with surveillance capability. We purchased and caused to be installed WordPerfect 5.2 to ensure that all document files that were surveilled could be easily run through database analysis by the Embassy personnel. At one point the Embassy had problems in converting English to Japanese on its printer, prior to transmitting to Tokyo. At Goetzman's request, I arranged for Ambassador Kuriyama's driver to pick up a box with my name on it, which contained an unreleased Kanji version of Microsoft Windows. This program solved the printer problem.

Paul Steele, a federal employee who had been with us at the White House during the Bush Administration, became Director of Purchasing for the District of Columbia when Mr. Clinton took office. Robert Goetzman, Paul Steele, Jim Cofield and I purchased, delivered and placed surveillance equipment in DOC [District of Columbia(?)] offices, including the Municipal Police Department. I was paid, by arrangement through Paul Steele, for this activity by their appropriation of the Xerox Copier repair budget. The budget totalled $10,000.00, an amount that would have triggered further scrutiny. They therefore paid me a District of Columbia check for $9,975.00.

Robert Goetzman then removed 100 copies of WordPerfect 5.1 from the Executive Office Building and delivered them, along with a compromised master copy of WordPerfect 5.2, to the Democratic National Committee (DNC) to complete the surveillance effort. I personally obtained and delivered, with Robert Goetzman and Jim Cofield, close to $500,000.00 worth of computer software to the Committee, in pricing arrangements that otherwise violated GSA rules for the vendors. In fact, the GSA stepped in to complain and then suddenly, inexplicably, backed off.

When I went public in March of 1994, George Stephanopoulos and the DNC counsel then proceeded to engage in a cover-up. Janet Reno first opened an investigation in July of 1994, and then her office informed me by telephone that Paul Coffey, Chief of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, had ordered some 62 pages of my documents to be sent to his office and destroyed. I then had two conversations with Paul Coffey. He advised me that he had destroyed the records, that they were not copied or forwarded from the Secretariat's (sic) office to the FBI, and that he had instructed his staff to hang up on me if I called. He told me that this information "would never see the light of day" and that I should go back to Robert Goetzman and try to get in his good graces.

The DNC then sent me two checks, in an apparent effort to silence me. In total, the DNC paid me over $50,000.00.

Without his knowledge, I recorded a telephone conversation with Jim Cofield, represented to me as being a DIA employee reporting to Goetzman, in which he stated that I would be killed if I talked about the Embassy of Japan.

When I advised both Cofield and Goetzman that I had audiotaped them, Mr. Panetta's office (and presumably Mr. and Mrs. Clinton, since I had been given a fax number into Mr. Clinton's office to communicate with him) arranged for the SBA [Small Business Administration(?)] to give me $151,000.00 after I had been turned down twice on my application for a $16,000.00 loan.

Then another Goetzman associate, John McCracken (a former Navy Seal), brought me in on his team to open another front company. He paid me close to $50,000.00 and demanded the audiotapes. I didn't deliver them in Las Vegas on November 11, 1995 and then left under his direct threat that they are going to kill both myself and my son.

I never knew the official description of this team. However, an article authored by Ambrose Evans-Pritchard of the London Daily Telegraph and appearing Saturday, January 27, 1996 [CN—accompanying article by AEP is dated Jan. 29, 1996] closely describes our team. A copy follows this letter.

It is my belief that a member of this team, or someone cooperating with them, would not only have had access, but motive, to remove and then replace documents on the third floor of the White House.

Robert Goetzman called me on the night Vince Foster was killed. He said: "We did him." "We did him somewhere else but we dumped him in a queer park to send a message to Clinton and his queer wife." "He (Foster) went entrepreneurial on us." "He was selling NSA codes to the Israelis."

I am specifically requesting that you review not only the names of the people that I worked with from the EOP, but others that they have had contact with at the White House since 1991, to determine whether or not their name appears on the admittance log to the third floor.

I am specifically requesting that you cause to be investigated the Clinton Administration cover-up of their knowledge of the surveillance and the theft and transfer of federal property (100 copies of WordPerfect 5.1) from the Executive Office building to K.C. Schoor-Hollings, MIS Director of the Democratic National Committee. Ms. Hollings left the DNC as soon as I went public.

I am specifically requesting federal government protection and that I not be subject to contact by any member of the FBI from California. Special Agent Janelle Salvesson has directly threatened me, on behalf of Robert Goetzman, if I continue to talk.

I have interviewed on approximately 15 radio shows and two television broadcasts. I have distributed the audiotapes and copies of all of my documents publicly.

I have reported these facts not only to the Justice Department, but separately, both orally and in writing, to the Washington FBI office and the Secret Service. Remarkably, all of that activity has only resulted in further threats to my life and more payoffs.

Robert Goetzman has conducted a continued effort to frame me as an unstable person because I have discussed this activity. I invite you to review the videotape of Mr. Nixon's funeral. I was placed, by the U.S. Government (and presumably in a stable state of mind), unsearched, on the tarmac at the landing of Mr. Nixon's body and again, stationed at the front door of the Nixon Library, with each of the Presidents, past and present, unsearched, standing next to a Secret Service agent.

Mr. Starr, I am contacting you in the hope that one person (yourself) in the federal government is not personally compromised in his capacity and is unwilling to obstruct justice.

I was called by Victor Huston, FBI, of your office today. He seemed quite nonchalant about my accusations and evidence and especially distant after I implicated the FBI. He, in fact, only suggested that I "write" you by mail, then attempted to leave the conversation without giving me an address. When I told him that I had your fax number, he discouraged me from faxing you. He stated that he didn't want me "to tie up the fax machine".

Please put me, my documents and audiotapes in front of the Washington Grand Jury. I believe the activity of Mrs. Clinton, Vince Foster, the "Goetzman Team", the Secret Service and the cover-up of the discovered surveillance of the administration and the DNC has direct bearing on your investigation of the disappearance, reappearance and non-delivery of subpoenaed documents.

Sincerely,
Debra von Trapp

Sherman Skolnick interviewed Debra Von Trapp on 5/5/95 and here is a quote from that interview (SS is Skolnick's question, DVT is Debra's answer),

(quoting:)

SS: Tell me this: What do you think, under the circumstances, is gonna happen further? In other words, there is this terrible violence between the Tokyo and the Washington government—where do you suspect or predict that it might go?

DVT: Well, the way I was helped was, I went to the military and to Secretary [of Defense] Perry. And I had done that early on, concurrent with my communications even, early, with the Japanese and with Stephanopoulos back in March of '94.

SS: And you kept very meticulous records of all these things?

DVT: Yeah, I have. And so what occurred out of that was, Perry had an individual call me back and explain that all my documents had been given to a man that was the Assistant Secretary of Defense—coincidentally, John Deutch. And so, then...

SS: Do you have confidence in him—as, I believe he's in the process of becoming the new Director of Central Intelligence. You have confidence in him? Or...

DVT: Yeah. Because I think Perry arranged to have him moved over, to clean up the CIA. And what's fortunate is, one of the people on that downed aircraft in Alabama was, in fact, a good friend of Perry's, and so, you know, that was a retaliatory act for, against Perry as well, for him moving, you know, or arranging to have Woolsey go out of the CIA, have Deutch go over there. It was an "answer back" to the fact that Deutch is inevitably going to be director of CIA. (End quoting)

My personal observation on this is I feel Debra is telling the truth as she knows it, but when she makes judgments about who is doing what to whom and why, and who the good guys and the bad guys are, the truth is more complicated than what she presents. It is not simply a case of U.S. vs. Japan.

Continuing this overview, Mickey Kantor was sworn in as United States Trade Representative on January 22, 1993. A big part of his job was working out trade agreements with the Japanese, over 170 of them. Perhaps you remember the auto and auto parts agreement that culminated in a near trade war, as presented in the media. He also helped implement the GATT and NAFTA agreements. Intelligence Digest said (10 Nov. 1995): "Each morning, CIA sources report, intelligence officials gave Mickey Kantor, the US trade representative, inside information gathered by the CIA's Tokyo station and the electronic-eavesdropping equipment of the National Security Agency, sifted by CIA analysts in Washington. Kantor is said to have received descriptions of conversations among Japanese bureaucrats and auto-executives from Toyota and Nissan who were pressing for a settlement. He was also given details on the competing pressures on Japan's Trade Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto. When the negotiations came to a climax in Geneva, the intelligence team was in place at the Intercontinental Hotel, working alongside Kantor's negotiators and offering assessments of how far the Japanese side could be pressed."

"It was a remarkable performance because the intelligence agencies finally realized this was the World Series—the arms control talks of the new age," says one senior US official.... The information helped a US company, Raytheon, match a bid by Thomson of France and win the contract." Raytheon, you recall, is the builder of those never-hit-a-target Patriot missiles, paid for with your tax dollars.

JAPAN QUERIES U.S. ON SPYING CLAIM

TOKYO—Government leaders said Monday that Japan's relations with the United States could be seriously damaged if a report that the CIA spied on Japanese representatives at auto talks proves true. The New York Times reported Sunday that the CIA eavesdropped on conversations between Japanese negotiators and automakers during the talks in Geneva this year, reporting the results daily to U.S. Trade Representative Mickey Kantor (Austin American Statesman, Oct. 17, 1995, D2).

Kantor was National Chairman for the Clinton/Gore '92 Campaign. He was a board member of the Center for the Study of Institutions, and was on the Christopher Commission (headed by Warren Christopher) which investigated the Los Angeles police after the Rodney King beating. He has a law degree from Georgetown University and is married to Heidi Schulman. Kantor was also California Chairman of Jimmy Carter for President, 1980, and California Chairman of Mondale for President, 1984. Kantor held key positions in Alan Cranston's campaign for Senate in 1974. In the Carter Administration, Kantor served on the board of the Legal Services Corporation, along with Hillary Rodham Clinton.

To someone looking at the big picture, Kantor's machinations against Japan appeared to be leading to the destruction of the Asian Pacific economy and to war. Alvin Toffler, co-author of Creating a New Civilization: The Politics of the Third Wave, said: "I think that at the end of World War II, there was some very unpleasant talk about how we lost China. I guess you know history in this period. But in five years, 10 years, I expect to be hearing 'Who lost Asia?' The answer would be Micky Kantor."

The American Civilization interviewer said: "Bill Clinton."

Toffler: "What it seems to me they are doing is pushing Japan to pulling out of here and putting all their investment in Southeast Asia, which then becomes the Greater East Asian co-prosperity sphere. We are sitting there with a time bomb ticking away in China. If we want to maintain any stability in the Asian Pacific region, the basis of that stability lies in Japan."

Did the Japanese counterattack by blowing up the Secretary of Commerce's plane? Was William Perry the target? I do not know the answers, but there are obviously connections.

Two days after Ron Brown's funeral, Mickey Kantor was selected to replace Brown as Secretary of Commerce.

THE RABIN CONNECTION

The following article appeared in the Japan Times Weekly, by Sherman H. Skolnick, December 2, 1995, (quoting:)

UNSPOKEN DETAILS

THE RABIN ASSASSINATION'S LINKS TO VINCE FOSTER'S DEATH

[Preliminary paragraphs from the Japan Weekly:]

In our Aug. 19 issue, the Weekly predicted an imminent upheaval in Israel: "A reporter for an Israeli radio station recently told (Sherman) Skolnick that the revelations would 'cause the top officials of the Mossad to be murdered'."

Now, three months after that ominous prediction, Chicago-based investigator Skolnick provides readers of the Weekly a behind-the-scene report on the assassination of Yitzhak Rabin. In the weeks before a Shin Bet-trained gunman shot him to death, the Israeli prime minister was preparing to go public about Mossad-related scandals, as a first step toward reforming the nearly autonomous Israeli intelligence agency. Skolnick suggests that a rogue network of Mossad agents, fearing criminal charges and possible termination of their operations, as the Israeli radio journalist had earlier suggested, decided to launch a preemptive strike against Rabin.

"On July 4, I received three phone calls: the conversation with a journalist with Israel National Radio's Washington bureau, an inquiry from the White House staff and Israel's Maariv newspaper," Skolnick recently told the Weekly.

The Israeli radio journalist, who had predicted a bloodletting at Mossad, had called the Chicago investigator because that morning's edition of The Washington Post had published a front-page article listing some of Skolnick's allegations about the connection between the mysterious death of White House vice counsel Vince Foster and its connection with the Jonathan Pollard spy case as well as other scandals involving the Israeli intelligence service Mossad. [Pollard shows up in Red Mercury investigations. Pollard's Mossad handler was Rafai Eitan, who worked for Mossad Boss Ariel "the Butcher of Beirut" Sharon. Sharon also ran agents who were working Hillary Rodham Clinton and Vince Foster.]

The links between the Rabin assassination and Foster's possible murder shed light on the infighting between different factions of the CIA and Mossad, which intensified following revelations of secret transfers of U.S. nuclear technology to Israel, covert military dealings with Saddam's Iraq and Ayatollah Khomeini's Iran, and the alleged delay in the release of American hostages in Tehran, which enabled Ronald Reagan to win the 1980 presidential election. The murder of the leader of Islamic Jihad, just weeks before Rabin's assassination, certainly indicates that rogue Mossad operatives have been working overtime to destabilize the Mideast peace process.

Skolnick is still furious that, at the time of his earlier revelations, the Post and other establishment newspapers characterized his investigative findings as a "conspiracy theory". (Since then, the mainstream press has come to acknowledge the serious discrepancies in and far-ranging implications of the Foster case.) Here, he provides an expanded report on the background to Rabin's assassination.

[Skolnick's article begins here, (quoting:)]

The American connection to the assassination of the Israeli Prime Minister is evident in the political background to the killing.

Vincent W. Foster, Jr., was part of an espionage team that allegedly included Hillary Rodham Clinton and Webster Hubbell, who was convicted in the Whitewater case.

Foster's team reportedly worked through Systematics, a reputed front for the U.S. National Security Agency, whose actual mission was reportedly code cracking and satellite spying. Though Systematics denies this allegation, a significant amount of data supports the case. The firm, a major player in computer services, used software, called PROMIS, ostensibly pirated from its true owner, INSLAW (a provider of encodation and communication software for banks and financial services).

Under the direction of high officials in the Reagan and Bush administrations, Foster's project electronically eavesdropped on foreign banks and intelligence agencies, who were provided or sold the software with a secret "trap door" (which permits the code to be broken by whoever possesses a master code). Major banks in Sweden, Israel, Iraq and Canada are among many others that have used the software.

The stated objective of Foster's project was to track international flows of funds by CIA-backed drug cartels, illicit weapons peddlers and assassination paymasters. Banks, spies and drug traffickers all sleep together. The probe targets included central banks, including the Bank of England and the Bank of Japan, according to highly confidential government documents.

In the NSA, Foster held the equivalent military rank of general. On behalf of the NSA and the CIA, he ran a bank in the Grand Caymans and, according to sources in the financial security services industry, supervised secret international gold shipments.

Over the years, his bosses included George Bush, during his years as vice president and later as president, and Caspar Weinberger, Reagan's secretary of defense. Foster's superiors owed Israel a favor for assisting the trans-shipment of U.S. weapons to Iran. The deal with Ayatollah Khomeini, which was perceived by many U.S. Mideast analysts as a treasonous act, allegedly delayed the release of U.S. hostages as a tactic to defeat then president Jimmy

MOTHER GOOSE AND GRIMM / By Mike Peters

Carter's bid for re-election to the presidency and install the Reagan-Bush ticket in the White House. The hostages, as part of the deal, were released in January 1981, a few minutes after Reagan was inaugurated. Some call it the "October Surprise," a part of the Iran-Contra Affair.

Foster continued the project of tracking, and allegedly dipping into, dirty money. From time to time, he reportedly was also a "bagman", a conduit for illicit funds, for international bankers headquartered in Little Rock, Arkansas, who had long supported then Gov. Bill Clinton. Foster apparently continued these activities even after he became, in 1993, deputy counsel at the Clinton White House.

In the 1980s, Bush and Weinberger pressed Foster into service as the middleman to release nuclear missile launch codes and tracking data—the highest U.S. strategic military secrets—to Israel. Through Foster, Bush and Weinberger reputedly used as a conduit a low-level naval intelligence analyst, Jonathan Pollard, who sold the secrets to Israel to finance his lavish lifestyle. The U.S. technology helped Israel jump ahead with their own nuclear development and become a Mideast bulwark against Soviet threat in the Middle East. [Israel got some of their nuclear material and technology from and through South Africa.]

For this purpose, some investigative reports in Britain and the United States have claimed that Israel set up accounts of millions of dollars for Foster in banks in Switzerland, the Caymans and elsewhere. A beneficiary purportedly was Hillary Rodham Clinton, Foster's law partner, who went on to become first lady. Either these bank deposits actually occurred, or else the NSA created false records to blackmail Foster, Hillary and top Israeli officials into silence.

A look at the timetable: 1986, one year after Pollard was arrested, the Prime Minister of Sweden, Olaf Palme, wanted to go public on how the Swedish weapons maker Bofors was involved in the October Surprise, and the soon-to-be-revealed Iran-Contra scandal. In 1986, Palme was assassinated, and the hit was blamed on a "lone assassin". A suspect was caught but later released, and Palme's death remains an unsolved mystery.

The Bofors affair involved high officials in Swedish intelligence agencies and other government officials, was related to private business ventures between George Bush (while he served as vice president and later president) and Iraqi strongman Saddam Hussein. These sorts of three-way private deals were known to top Israeli officials, including Yitzhak Rabin, and they reportedly wanted to get, or were promised, a piece of the action.

Palme had apparently learned that these dealings were under surveillance, reportedly through the INSLAW "trap door" into the computers of foreign intelligence agencies. Revealing any of these issues during the Persian Gulf War would have made then President Bush a target of treason charges.

In July, 1993, Foster found out that the secret accounts, which he was led to believe were in his name and those of the first lady and others, were somehow plundered by computer hackers with access to sophisticated software. Foster foolishly thought that as head of the bank-spying project, he himself would be immune from being targeted. As part of a vast cover-up trail, the hackers created false records purporting to show that some $10 million of Foster's secret payoffs from Israel were (as alleged in The Sunday Telegraph by Ambrose Evans-Pritchard) funneled into U.S. Treasury holding accounts overseas. (Treasury sources later denied the U.S. Government ever actually received the plundered Foster loot.)

In April 1994, a behind-the-scenes furor erupted when a major newspaper began following up this writer's accusations that a three-man Israeli team murdered Foster in July 1993 to prevent him from carrying out his apparent plan to publicly reveal (that is, disclose to President Clinton) the true details of the Jonathan Pollard spy mess. Widespread publication would have caused Pollard to be released from his lifetime jail term, and his NSC superiors charged belatedly with treason.

As part of the 1993 deal, consummated in 1995, Prime Minister Rabin agreed to turn over certain pieces of land to the Palestinians, primarily Christians. The Vatican, with the Vatican Bank and supported by Western bankers, funneled large sums to Israel to finance the deal. [What is not stated here is that the Vatican also made some sort of deal involving rule over Jerusalem. The Jewish Press, Dec. 22, 1995, p. 74, said: "Secret Negotiations To Divide Jerusalem. It has been leaked to the media via Arab sources that secret negotiations have been going on for some time in regard to Jerusalem....the boroughs will be independent of the Central City of Jerusalem and therefore the city will be in reality completely divided."]

Was Rabin, despite getting the funding, going to renege on the land deal sometime in the future?

To support his position and that of Israel, Rabin wanted to clear the air with public disclosures explaining his country's role in the October Surprise, Iran-Contra and, most of all, the Pollard affair. If the Western press was prepared to reveal the role of an Israeli team in the assassination of Foster, Rabin was prepared to disclose that the team was not acting on behalf of the Israeli government but on a private murder contract arranged by American bankers who stood to lose billions of dollars if Foster went public.

Rabin, like Olaf Palme, was assassinated, and the blame was assigned to a lone assassin. Since these revelations and the assassination, various Mossad operatives—in Chicago, Virginia and California—have been detained or deported by the U.S. and are awaiting punishment by the Israeli government. (End quoting from Japanese paper)

The head of Israel's Shin Bet security service, referred to only as "C", resigned Monday, January 8, 1996, saying his agency was primarily to blame for failing to prevent the assassination of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. He denied personal wrongdoing. "C's resignation also appeared linked to the killing three days ago of the terrorist most wanted by Shin Bet, Yehiya Ayyash. Ayyash died while talking on a booby-trapped mobile phone in an operation widely attributed to the Israeli agency." I've been telling people those mobile phones are dangerous. The new head of the security service is Ami Ayalon. The one who resigned, whose name they were keeping secret, was Karmi Gilon.

PEGASUS

William Colby had enemies. Among many other things, he was boss of a man who killed an Israeli Mossad agent, and the assassin is now in jail in Florida. Here is the assassin's story, in his (Dois Gene Tatum) own words, (quoting:)

I am the subject of these articles (Attachments 1, 2, & 3) [Attachments include copies of newspaper articles, military records, etc., and are not reprinted here]. What you read is only the surface of the real story.

The story begins in 1971 when, as a new recruit in the Air Force, I was at the wrong place at the right time. As a young man thrown into the prongs of covert operations, I barely escaped my first mission with my life. This experience is what I have written about in "Nixon's Darkest Secret: Operation Red Rock." I have attached the query which summarizes the manuscript (Attachment 4). However, having survived the mission, I was held in tight reins by the White House. After recovering, I was sent back to South East Asia. My handler was Ambassador Colby. I worked for Mr. Colby through 1976 (Attachment 5).

I left active duty shortly thereafter, at Mr. Colby's suggestion. In June of 1980, I was involuntarily reactivated and sent to Ft. Rucker, Alabama for U.S. Army Flight School. Following flight school, I was sent to Ft. Campbell, Kentucky. At Ft. Campbell I was attached to a new Special Operations Task Force (TF) which was formed following our unfortunate performance in the Great Salt Desert of Iran (Attachment 6). I continued with TF until 1986.

My area of expertise has always been jungle terrain. During the '80s, in association with the Task Force, I spent the majority of my time in Central and South America. I was pilot in command on a medivac helicopter, flying the injured Contras and civilians to emergency care. I also flew several trips from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, my home base, into Mena and Little Rock, Arkansas during 1983 and 1984, delivering large coolers (Attachment 10) marked "medical supplies" that had been delivered to Ft. Campbell from Honduras. The aircraft was met, at various times, by Dan Lasater, Buddy Young and Jerry Parks, who also made arrangements for the crew for the night.

In 1986 it was determined that due to my battle injuries sustained through the years, I was no longer qualified for military duty (Attachment 7 & 8). I was immediately recruited into a black operations organization by Ambassador Colby. This unit was being directed by, among others, Vice President George Bush and was code named "Pegasus". Henry Hyde was responsible for all finances for the unit and arranged for lines of credit for the operation.

I continued with Pegasus until 1992. In 1992 I had been directed to "neutralize" an American Citizen (Attachment 9). To this point I had successfully neutralized a Mossad agent, an Army Chief-of-Staff of a foreign government and the President of a third world country, so neutralization did not bother me. The fact that I was ordered to neutralize a civilian American citizen went against all that I believed in. I walked away from black ops that day. I was warned at the time that you don't just walk away. I was aware of my precarious situation. Realizing the fate of those who quit, I began planning for my retirement as far back as 1985. Since that time, I have documented my activities and had them placed in a "safe zone". In 1994 I was told to surrender the documents "or else". So, I sit in the "or else" position—in a jail.

To surrender the documents is no doubt terminal. So, I had chosen an alternative which Colby and North agreed to. I agreed to plead guilty to charges in New York and Colorado. This would leave me a convicted felon and completely unbelievable as a witness should I choose to go public. However, just prior to my being sentenced in Colorado by a federal judge for wire fraud, my wife was charged with a complaint filed in Tampa, Florida. I agreed only to allow prosecution against me. When my wife was charged, they voided our agreement.

I have recently found that the grand jury witness used by the government is a crony of Ollie North.

In lieu of allowing the persecution of my wife to go unchallenged, I have decided to expose the command elements of Pegasus to include their past and proposed activities.

This is my story. If you are interested in pursuing my allegation, please contact me via my wife, Nancy Tatum, at (352) 787-9846.

GENE TATUM'S LETTER TO ROSS PEROT

April 20, 1996

Mr. Ross Perot

12377 Merit Drive, Suite 1700

Dallas, Texas 75251

Dear Mr. Perot:

As you prepare your part for the 1996 election, there is a matter of grave importance of which you should be aware.

In 1992, as the commander of a Black Operations Unit called Pegasus, I was ordered to neutralize you. Our unit was directed by President George Bush. It was determined, at some point, that the party you formed was counter to the American system of democracy. In his attempt to justify your neutralization, Mr. Bush expressed not only his concerns of the existence of your party and the threat which you posed to free America, but also the positions of other U.S. and world leaders.

I had been associated with Pegasus since its creation in 1985. The original mission of our unit was to align world leaders and financiers with the United States. I was personally responsible for the neutralization of one Mossad agent, an army Chief of Staff of a foreign government, a rebel leader and the president of a foreign government.

However, all of these missions were directed toward enemies of the United States as determined by our President. And because of this, I did not hesitate to successfully neutralize these enemies.

The order to neutralize you, however, went against all that I believed in. It was obvious to me that his order was predicated on a desire to remain as President rather than a matter of enemy alignment.

I refused the order. I further advised the President and others that if you or members of your organization or family were threatened or harmed in any way, I would cause information, which includes certain documents, to be disseminated from their six locations in various areas of the world, to various media and political destinations. I walked away from Special Operations that day with the knowledge that you don't just quit! I felt, however, that the time capsules protected my interests.

In September of 1994, I received a telephone call demanding the information "or else"! It was obvious from the day that I walked out of Pegasus that to turn this information over would be terminal. In the spring of 1995, I was arrested by the FBI for wire fraud. Although innocent of the allegations, I found it necessary to plead guilty in an attempt to tarnish my credibility. It was my opinion, as I expressed it to Rodriguez when he called and threatened me, that if I were of questionable credibility, the documents, if ever made public, may not stand on their merits. With this arrest, I seized upon the opportunity to effect this theory. I have since been indicted on a second fraud charge, this time involving my wife. I will not allow this prosecution of my family. I have notified the authorities that I intend to put my case to a jury. While awaiting the trial, I wrote a book involving my first experience in the Special Operations arena. Since then, I have found that the U.S. Marshals have instructed the Hillsborough County jail to hold me, regardless of the outcome of the instant trial charge. The new charge is treason.

For over twenty years I have dedicated my skills, time, and health to my country. I have been shot, tortured, and beaten, fighting to protect our right to form and run our government as determined by the Constitution.

I am not aware of an active Pegasus unit. I had assumed it was disbanded with the new President. I am suspect to the existence of some organization, however, due to my present situation. Someone had to orchestrate this. So, be aware and alert!

Good luck and good fortune in 1996.

Sincerely,

Dois Gene Tatum

P.S. I have sent a few documents which I have access to in prison which will help authenticate my position. They are as follows:

DD Form 214 Medical Evaluation which correlates my captivity. The phone number for the Hillsborough County Jail is (813) 247-8301 so you can verify the treason charge. (End quoting)

Need I add that Tatum revealed he assassinated a Mossad agent at the request of Colby, and shortly thereafter Colby died under circumstances very familiar in the annals of Mossad literature?

In October, 1995, Navy Lt. Commander Alexander Martin was arrested and jailed without bond in Broward County, Florida, for supposed violation of probation on a 1990 bad-check charge. Martin was the chief accountant for the Reagan/Bush drug operations being run by Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North. Martin told about it on Tom Valentine's radio talk show in July, before he was arrested in October.

WILLIAM EGAN COLBY

Was William Colby a "good guy" or a "bad guy"? It depends on your viewpoint, I suppose. John DeCamp, a man I support and greatly admire, said of Colby: "He was like a father to me, a very close friend. And of course we know he was head of the CIA and a lot of other things."

Yes, Colby was a lot of things. He was a saboteur behind German lines in World War II. He conducted clandestine missions in Europe after the war. He was head of the Phoenix assassination program in the Vietnam War, which killed over 68,000 Vietnamese. He was an overseer of the Nugan-Hand Bank, a worldwide CIA drug money-laundering operation. He supervised the theft and sale of government military equipment, oversaw gambling operations, and more. Some of this information is detailed in The Crimes of Patriots, by Jonathan Kwitny.

After the collapse of the Nugan-Hand bank, Colby became head of its successors, Household International and branch Household Banks, Pinacle and BCCI. Earl Brian ran one of his branch banks. An unlimited number of stories could be told about Colby. A lot of those stories would involve the Vatican, the Sicilian mafia, George Bush, drugs, money laundering, INSLAW, BCCI, the Jewish "mafia" Family and many, many murders and "suspicious" or "strange" deaths.

One good thing that could be said about Colby is that he revealed a lot of the CIA's "dirty laundry" to Congress during investigations. He revealed the CIA's MK-ULTRA mind-control operations, for instance. Congress ordered the mind-control operations shut-down, so the CIA agreed to shut them down. But all the CIA did was re-name the operations and re-sort them, giving the appearance of making changes but only getting worse in reality.

Colby was Director of the CIA under Nixon, and was replaced by President Ford (Colby's replacement was George Bush). He later began publishing intelligence information in the Colby Report, Strategic Weekly Briefings and was a contributor to Strategic Investment. Strategic Investment was in the forefront in publishing information about the murder of Vince Foster and Clinton's crooked Whitewater dealings.

Colby was investigating, along with John DeCamp, the extent of Satanic witchcraft activity in government, activity that involved Ronald Reagan, George Bush, governors and senators and many others. If you think this is too far out, you should read the tip-of-the-iceberg details in DeCamp's book The Franklin Connection (DeCamp is a former State Senator) and if you want more proof than you can perhaps handle, CONTACT newspaper has covered (uncovered) a tremendous amount of the details. Ted Gunderson, former head of the FBI in Los Angeles, has said that one of the FBI agents in charge of investigating Satanic activity is himself a Satanist priest.

A few months before his disappearance, Colby was assaulted and badly beaten on the streets of Washington, D.C. Some said he was merely in the wrong place at the wrong time; others suspect more to the beating.

Colby disappeared on April 27 under mysterious circumstances, a few days before the Satanist holiday Beltane. The Associated Press said he called his wife and told her he was not feeling well (his wife denied that he said that). He apparently left his computer running, left the radio on and dinner dishes on the table, left the door open and walked out to go canoeing without a life jacket (his wife said he never went canoeing without his life jacket), fell out of the canoe and drowned. Up to over 60 searchers were brought in to try to find the body, with no results. The searchers gave up, and then his body suddenly appeared out of nowhere at 8:00 a.m. on May 6th, in the same area that had been searched.

John Paisley, retired deputy director of the CIA, also disappeared in Maryland waters 15 miles from Colby's house in 1978. His boat was found empty, then later Paisley, who was right-handed, was found with a bullet wound behind his left ear. There was no blood in the boat, so he had to suicide himself by crawling into the water first. His body had 40 lbs. of diving weights on his belt. His wife complained that the body found was too short to be Paisley but the body was cremated against wishes before anyone else had a chance to examine it. It was rumored that Paisley was a KGB "mole". James Jesus Angleton, who succeeded Allen Dulles as head of the CIA after Kennedy fired Dulles, said that Colby was a KGB mole. Angleton, however, was an Israeli Mossad asset. (Angleton's tombstone memorial is written in Hebrew.)

Colby was working with Strategic Investment owners Lord William Rees-Moog, of British royal families and former Times of London editor, and James Dale Davidson, who had a stroke (he survived) about a month before Colby's death. Induced strokes are a favorite assassination tool. There have been an appalling number of deaths, over 50 and counting, of people who were President Clinton's friends, bodyguards, or investigators of Clinton's affairs.

The media reported that the autopsy of Colby showed he died, not by drowning, but by either a stroke or heart attack (you mean they can't tell which? Flip a coin).

It was reported that Colby's life jacket and paddle have not been found.

Colby DID reveal a lot of CIA secrets, and he was about to reveal more about the Vince Foster murder. As of this writing, some of the actual documents proving Foster's murder that were given to Kenneth Starr can be viewed on the Internet at <http://www.acesone.com/~rivero/POLITICS/FOSTERCOVERUP/> (no period). These documents include Secret Service Agent Scott Marble's memorandum that said they found Foster's body in his car (...COVERUP/MISC/2551.gif). (Do a Web search on "HSPRUNT'S Citizen's Investigative Reports" for more information.)

Among the final acts of Colby while he was head of the CIA was meeting Richard Welch's body at Andrews Air Force Base on December 30, 1975. Welch, CIA chief in Athens, Greece, had been brutally (aren't they all?) murdered by three terrorists on December 23. Colby blamed IPS (Institute for Policy Studies) collaborators for Welch's murder.

Colby spent the next few days mostly giving interviews to journalists, and gave a Distinguished Intelligence Medal to James Schlesinger. On January 28, 1976, the senate confirmed Bush as head of the CIA. The year 1976, our Bicentennial celebration of our freedom, the year the Russian "woodpecker" frequencies were turned on, was a fateful year that could well be said to be the end of freedom in the United States.

Those who live by the sword, (often, but not always) die by the sword.

It is rumored on the Internet that Colby was part of the "Fifth Column"; others say that he was not. It is certain that he was part of what is going on; his exact part is not clear. That is the type of person he was.

CLINTON'S MARXIST CONNECTIONS

On the subject of Richard Welch, you may be interested to learn that Welch was assassinated in front of his family due to collaborations between Soviet KGB operatives (some of whom were in the CIA) and the Marxist-terrorist group IPS, the Institute for Policy Studies. David Mark Price found out about the IPS while a Top Secret Control Officer in the Navy. He wrote a book called "SECRET" that gives details. (Available from Sunset Research Group, 608 N. West St., #236, Wichita, KS 67203, for $10.00 each, as of 1994.) One of the leaders of the IPS was Derek Shearer, a close friend and advisor to Bill Clinton. Shearer's sister Brooke is Hillary's traveling companion, according to Rush Limbaugh, who warned about Clinton's Marxist connections before he became President. Others warning about the Clinton/IPS connection were Donald McAlvany, William F. Buckley, Jr., and FBI internal documents. According to the Insider Report of Nov. 1992, p. 8., Al Gore collected nearly a half-a-million dollars from IPS through Armand Hammer, who helped launch the IPS. The co-founder of IPS, Richard Barnett, helped Daniel Ortega set up his Marxist regime in Nicaragua. The IPS also worked with Castro and with North Vietnamese (which brings in a connection with Ron Brown). IPS sponsored and gave financial support to porno acting groups such as Franklin Furnace and Kitchen Theater, and to Annie Sprinkle. Hillary Clinton gave tens of thousands of dollars to IPS. The FBI has thousands of documents about all this.

The Wall Street Journal called IPS "a funnel for disinformation". Forbes called it "a radical Washington propaganda mill". The book by intelligence expert Robert Moss and Washington Times Editor Arnaud de Borchgrave called The Spike was a story about the Institute for Progressive Reform, a fictionalized parallel version of the Institute for Policy Studies. Another Marxist supporter of Marxist Clinton is Lyndon LaRouche, who admits he "used to be a Marxist" and was head of the U.S. Labor Party. He is currently a strong supporter of Clinton.

Derek Shearer was political advisor to radical leftist Tom Hayden and his wife Jane Fonda and wrote Hayden's platform for his unsuccessful bid for the U.S. Senate in 1976.

Jane Fonda was promoted on TV by 20/20's Barbara Walters, whose husband was Chairman of the Board of Lorimar Productions, Fonda's video distributor.

Shearer's step-brother is Strobe Talbott, who lived with Clinton at Oxford and who was former editor-at-large of Time and is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Other IPS people that Clinton brought into his administration include Leon Panetta, Les Aspin, and Anthony Lake. Lake was instructor at IPS's Washington School, where he and IPS co-founder Barnett harangued and insulted CIA director William Colby. IPS planning committee member Timothy Wirth was considered by Clinton for Secretary of Interior, but ended up at the State Department. Pat Schroeder helped organize IPS's twentieth-anniversary bash.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities long ago identified the National Lawyers Guild (NLG) as a Communist front group. Don McAlvany said Hillary Clinton gave $15,000.00 to the NLG. Ron Brown worked with the NLG. IPS Chairman Peter Weiss served for years on the board of trustees of the NLG. The best known NLG lawyer is perhaps William Kunstler, who co-founded the Center for Constitutional Studies whose purpose was to do away with the U.S. Constitution. The Center was partly funded by Hillary Clinton.

Congressman Richard Armey (R.Tex) said: "Hillary bothers me a lot. I realized the other day that her thoughts sound a lot like Karl Marx. She hangs around a lot of Marxists. All her friends are Marxists." (Thomas R. Eddlem, "Marxist Hillary?",

The New American, August 9, 1993, p. 17.) But then, Arney has his own agenda.

CHARLES HAYES, THE "ANGEL OF DOOM"

New York Times, NATIONAL, Sunday, Sept. 2, 1990 (p. 25), (quoting:)

"U.S. MISTAKENLY SOLD A PROSECUTOR'S SECRET DATA"

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 1 (AP)—A United States Attorney's secret computer files, including electronic copies of sealed indictments and information about pending F.B.I. inquiries, were mistakenly sold by the Government a month ago to a businessman who paid $45 for what he thought was only broken computer equipment.

The Justice Department now says the sale could compromise any number of criminal cases, and it has sued the businessman to get the data back.

The businessman, Charles Hayes, who resells Government surplus items, says that he would like to cooperate but that the equipment he bought, and various parts from it, have now been mixed with his previous inventory and so he is no longer sure which is which. He says he is trying to determine which of his customers may have bought some of the equipment, but he is resisting the Government's demand that he identify those customers, terming it an unwarranted intrusion into his business.

A SEARCH OF HIS BUSINESS

The Government finds Mr. Hayes's attitude insufficiently forthcoming. In addition to the lawsuit, which was filed Thursday, Federal marshals armed with a search warrant arrived Friday night at his establishment in Pulaski County, about 125 miles west of here. By the time they had left nine hours later, they had seized what Mr. Hayes described today as nine computer terminals, a computer memory device and assorted other equipment.

According to the Government's lawsuit, the case stems from a mistake made last January when a technician for the Harris-Lanier Corporation, the manufacturer of the system that Mr. Hayes would later buy, arrived at the office of the United States Attorney in Lexington, Louis DeFalaize. The system, in disrepair, was to be sold at auction, and the technician was supposed to erase the computer's memory.

In July, at an auction of the General Services Administration, Mr. Hayes made a successful bid of $45 for the system: 13 computer terminals, two central memory units, two cartridge module drives and nine printers. After Mr. Hayes picked up the equipment on Aug. 3, the Harris-Lanier technician told the Government that he had not erased the memory after all; a magnetic probe used to scramble the data had been too weak, and, because the equipment was broken, technicians had been unable to purge the memory through normal computer commands.

The Government's lawsuit says that the computer's memory and backup storage tapes almost certainly still contain sensitive details about informers who work for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, about sealed indictments, about federally protected witnesses and about employees in Mr. DeFalaize's office.

"IRREPARABLE INJURY"

"The U.S. Attorney's office," the lawsuit says, "used some or all of the computer equipment to prepare and store virtually every document and record generated by both the civil and criminal divisions of the office from 1983 to 1989."

If made public, the suit goes on, the files could ruin criminal investigations and cause "great harm and irreparable injury" to the work of Federal prosecutors. "The seriousness of the injury to the United States of America cannot be understated," it says.

Within hours of the lawsuit's filing, a Federal district judge, Eugene Siler Jr., ordered Mr. Hayes to return the computer system to the Government and not examine, copy or distribute the data. A hearing has been set for Tuesday.

Mr. Hayes said he had been told before he bought the equipment that the computer memory had been wiped out. He called the sale "the worst case of bureaucracy I have ever seen," and added, "If it is this loose, I wonder what else is missing up there" in the Office of the United States Attorney.

"What it amounts to," he said, "is I am being punished for the inefficiency" in the prosecutor's office. (End quoting NYT article)

J. Orlin Grabbe issued a report called "Angel of Doom Deposition" in which he said:

"On April 2, 1996, Charles S. Hayes—retired CIA operative, Air Force Colonel, and Kentucky salvage dealer—was deposed by the U.S. Department of Justice with respect to the Inslaw case.

"The attorney for the Department of Justice, Beth Cook, seemed ill-prepared for what turned out to be a brutal assault on the integrity of the Justice Department itself, which Hayes accused of lying, cheating, and stealing.

"Hayes has recently acquired the Internet label of AOD (Angel of Death or Angel of Doom) due to his efforts in encouraging the early retirement of corrupt politicians. 'Do you know the Angel of Death?' Cook asked at one point. 'I know him well,' Hayes replied. Hayes has previously testified with respect to the Inslaw case, most notably before a Chicago grand jury in August 1992. Hayes' extensive testimony in that case was redacted under the National Security Act."

Hayes was a major source of information for Danny Casolaro, who was murdered for investigating the Inslaw case and related connections he called "the Octopus". Hayes was present in Brazil with Earl Brian when Brian called Attorney General Ed Meese in the United States to get approval to sell the stolen and doctored PROMIS software to the Brazilian government. Earl Brian was Chairman and CEO of Financial News Network (FNN) and United Press International (UPI).

"CAPTAIN CANADA" MAY PULL THE PLUG TO SAVE PROVINCE"

From THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, 9/27-10/3/96, [quoting:]

TORONTO—For decades Newfoundland, craggy Atlantic home to half a million hardy souls, has weathered high underemployment, devastated cod fisheries—and that "awful contract" with Quebec.

Quebec agreed in the 1960s to buy loads of electricity from Newfoundland's massive Churchill Falls hydroelectric plant, a contract some industry experts now call the deal of the century for Quebec. Quebec still pays a quarter of a penny per kilowatt hour—reselling it for 10 times that price in Quebec and the United States.

But last weekend, Newfoundland's swashbuckling new Premier Brian Tobin declared the old, pre-energy crisis, pre-inflation deal a dead duck. Mr. Tobin, a populist who earned the nickname "Captain Canada" as federal fisheries minister, is not the first Newfoundland premier to want a new power deal with Quebec. Yet unlike two predecessors, he seems willing to flip a switch and cut the power that flows to Quebec—and New England and New York.

"Honestly what choice do I have," Tobin wondered aloud to Canadian news media last weekend. "Am I going to explain to the province that we're losing money and for the next 40 years we'll borrow, tax, or close down hospitals and schools in the province to pay for the privilege of pumping power to Quebec so they can make a billion-plus [Canadian dollars] a year?"

Technically, the deal becomes a money-loser in 2000.

Two Supreme Court of Canada rulings have upheld the contract. Despite this, Tobin plans to travel across Canada to gain support, shooting to win in the court of public opinion.

Tobin has a reputation for skating near the edge. He became "Captain Canada" on a chill day in March 1995 when, as federal fisheries minister, he ordered the Canadian Navy to seize a Spanish fishing vessel scooping up baby fish outside Canada's territorial waters.

Risking a violent international incident, Tobin flouted international laws governing access to the high seas, faced down the Spanish, and thrashed the European Union in the arena of public opinion. The "turbot war" was shortly resolved in favor of saving a few fish.

But the real winner was Tobin. Newfoundlanders, including many out-of-work fishermen, liked the spunky federal minister of fisheries so much they elected him premier early this year. Now he seems set to sail again into murky legal waters.

Mark Graesser, a political scientist at Memorial University in St. John, says Tobin's main aim is to woo Newfoundlanders just as his post-election honeymoon period is ending.

Like the turbot war, "he's playing to the Newfoundland public first and foremost," Professor Graesser says. "This will generate a positive response here, because everyone in Newfoundland regards this contract as outrageous."

Tobin is also not beyond using the delicate issue of Quebec's future within—or outside of—the Canadian federation to make his point. He reportedly informed separatist Quebec Premier Lucien Bouchard of his plan to pull the plug earlier this summer. Mr. Bouchard this weekend called for Tobin to obey the rule of law on the contract.

Tobin responded by asking why the law applied to Churchill Falls when separatists, led by Bouchard, say they can proceed with an unconstitutional secession from Canada if the province votes for it.

"I'm in favor of the rule of law," Bouchard persisted. "Ottawa would even have to intervene through its institutions in order to stop Newfoundland from violating the law."

But Prime Minister Jean Chretien is not touching the spat with a pole of any length. He says Ottawa will not intervene.

Hydro Quebec says a deal's a deal, because it put up money to make Churchill Falls viable when no one else would.

Today, losing the cheap Churchill Falls energy for resale would be a financial neutron bomb for the provincial utility. Last year, the company's net profit was US $284 million. Sales of Churchill Falls power (not broken out by the company) nets Quebec an estimated $400 million to $730 million a year.

"Churchill Falls is extremely important to them," says Damian DiPerna, senior analyst at the Canadian Bond Rating Service in Montreal. "Hydro Quebec would have lost money 19 out of the last 20 years without it." If Tobin throws the switch, it could trigger a debt review and possible downgrading for the utility and even the province...[garbled].

Churchill Falls is also one-sixth of Hydro Quebec's total power-generating capacity and a key to keeping New York and New England well lit. The New England Power Pool, a cooperative that distributes power throughout the region, soaked up 10 terawatt hours from Hydro Quebec last year—the equivalent of two large 600 megawatt coal-fired plants.

Quebec energy analyst Pierre Lamonde believes Tobin will never turn off Churchill Falls. Others, like Graesser, also believe a lot of good poker playing may be involved.

"Tobin's 'Captain Canada' role worked out pretty well for him," he says. "He enjoys the part of the indignant leader of... [garbled]." [End quoting]

It looks like there's a real fight going on for control of their power. Shortly they will probably have a dictator who will settle it for them. Remember the NWO (New World Order)?

DON'T ALLOW YOUR CHILDREN TO BE ENTERTAINED BY DISNEY

From the INTERNET, 10/22/96, [quoting:]

While surfing the Internet I came across an article stating that Disney will put a music album on the market named SNAKES OF CHRIST with a line in it, "serpent Jesus snake of Christ", plus other derogatory, evil words about him. [End quoting]

It's best that you keep a close eye on everything Disney produces before you allow your children access to it, including what's on the Internet. CONTACT has warned you in the past that you cannot trust Disney and the subtle methods they use to propagandize your children and adults. They're not being subtle any longer. Also, the media has recently publicized that many fundamental Christians are boycotting Disney Parks and products because they are putting filth on the market.

FASTER THAN A SPEEDING MAC

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 10/22/96, [quoting:]

A start-up company announced the speediest micro-processor yet, a chip able to run Macintosh software at up to 533 megahertz, more than twice as fast as current chips. Exponential Technology Inc. said its X-704 chip should be available in volume next spring. Exponential started in 1993, with financial help from Apple Computer Inc. George Taylor, Exponential's founder and chief technology officer, says the new chips will cost about $1,000 each, which would put them into high-end computers used mostly by graphic designers and creators of multimedia. SUPER CHIP

From a recent newspaper clipping—name unknown, [quoting:]

Texas Instruments will start manufacturing, next year, a computer chip with 20 times the processing power of current desktop computers, the company said Tuesday. "Thumbnail-sized chips using the new technology will usher in an era of automatic teller machines that can recognize a user's face, a PC on a wrist watch, or simply laptop computers with longer memory life," said the Dallas-based company. I also read an article in the 10/21/96 Daily News that IBM is producing a chip with 15 million transistors on it. This is a big advance in technology for public computing. CONTACT readers know that the

Volcanic flood fears

A volcano beneath Europe's largest glacier — the uninhabited Vatnajökull glacier in Iceland — spews black lava and steam Wednesday. Experts have warned the eruption of the volcano and melting of the glacier could cause devastating floods, but scientists believe the eruption is slowing down. Ash and steam have spouted up to 6 miles, the height that many jetliners fly.

U.S. ARMS COLOMBIA FOR DRUG WAR

Clinton is donating gear to fight leftists involved in narcotics.

Excerpted from THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 10/11/96, [quoting:]

WASHINGTON—Stepping up its drug war in Latin America, the United States is arming Colombia's military and police to fight a war against leftist insurgents who also are involved in narcotics.

The Clinton administration is donating helicopters, observation planes, patrol boats and other military gear to Colombia, one of the hemisphere's most violent countries and the source of 80 percent of the cocaine in the United States. The U.S. equipment is part of a $112 million package of anti-drug aid for Latin America that was announced last month. [emphasis mine] [End quoting]

Do you recall what I said in my earlier article, 10/15/96, on how the Elite use the money and equipment to fight drugs? I feel that most of this money and equipment is an excellent example of what was said then.

If you realize that Clinton and his cronies love leftists and drug dealers, would you expect them to use this situation to stop the drugs and wipe out their competitors, or help them consolidate if they are their friends? Either way—we lose.

GOLD CLAIMS RULED OUT

From THE MODESTO BEE, 10/8/96, [quoting:]

WASHINGTON—Burlington Northern Santa Fe Corp. won't have to come up with an estimated $2 billion worth of gold, after the Supreme Court today rebuffed claims by holders of decades-old bonds who demanded to be paid in the precious metal instead of cash. The high court refused to consider an appeal of a lower court's ruling. [End quoting]

Do you still think you have freedom when the Supreme Court refuses to make Burlington pay their debts according to their contract? How long do you think it will be before they confiscate all gold and silver?

CRITICS SAY ALTERED CORN COULD AFFECT CONSUMERS

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 10/13/96, [quoting:]

CORN: Europe is leery.

A new variety of corn has reignited debate over the safety of genetically engineered foods. At issue is a variety of corn endowed with genes that protect the crop against insects and weed-killing sprays. Developed by the Swiss chemical giant Ciba-Geigy, the maize has been deemed safe by every relevant regulatory body in the United States, where the first year's crop is about to be harvested. But a majority of European ministers recently refused to authorize imports of the corn, citing concerns about possible environmental or health consequences. Some critics worry that the genes could "jump" from corn to consumer—mostly cattle—rendering the corn's ampicillin-resistant gene useless in the medical treatment of corn-fed cattle or even in people who eat the affected beef. [End quoting]

One can only imagine what has been programmed into the genetic structure of this corn that makes the European ministers want to run the other way!

STEAL SODA POP, GET CAUGHT— STEAL MILLIONS, NO WORRY

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 10/22/96, [quoting:]

If you walk into a grocery store, pick up a 12-pack of soda pop and leave without paying, you will be arrested for stealing about $4 worth of merchandise.

But if you were to rip off the makers of soda pop by, say, $100 million, you could continue on your way. To get away with crime in America, it's best to do it on a really grand scale, the way executives at Archer Daniels Midland Co. of Decatur, Ill. have done it for years.

The global grain-processing company has long proclaimed itself the "Supermarket to the World". But last week, it became apparent a more apt nick-name might be "Super-racket to the World".

The company, which has annual sales of $13.3 billion, admitted it colluded with world competitors to fix prices for the livestock feed supplement lysine, as well as for citric acid, used in soft drinks, foods and detergents. ADM agreed to pay $100 million in fines to end the price-fixing case brought by the Justice Department after a four-year investigation. Analysts say the fine probably equaled the ill-gotten profits from the scheme.

The settlement was not large enough to seriously harm the company, but it was significant; the largest previous fine levied in a price-fixing case was $15 million. ADM agreed to pay so much because its guilt was so clear. For years, an informant had been secretly taping ADM managers meeting with competitors to set prices. Also two of the company's international competitors recently pleaded guilty and are cooperating with the U.S. government's investigation.

So, between the tapes and the confessions of co-conspirators, ADM was cornered. The quickest way out was to admit guilt and stick stockholders with the fine.

But if there was a crime, where are the criminals? Who are the people on those tapes and why aren't they behind bars?

The Justice Department says it is still investigating Terrance Wilson, an ADM division chief who is retiring, and Michael Andreas, ADM vice chairman and son of the company's politically influential chairman, Dwayne Andreas.

Michael Andreas is now on a leave of absence. Federal officials consider him and Wilson to be "available for prosecution," said Gary Spratling, deputy assistant attorney general.

The government eventually may indict Andreas and Wilson. But wouldn't such an elaborate pricing scam involve more than just two people? Shouldn't a whole gang be indicted?

At ADM, the prices didn't fix themselves. Individuals decided to break the law by setting prices in ways that hurt farmers and manufacturers. Meanwhile, the senior executives themselves enjoyed fat salaries.

ADM certainly is not the only company in which executives have unfairly enriched themselves at the expense of others. Here in Atlanta, former employees of Eastern Airlines are still bitter about corporate raider Frank Lorenzo's plunder of their company's assets to keep his holding company, Texas Air, afloat.

If Eastern had been robbed by the Crips or the Bloods, the police would have investigated. But because Eastern's assets were siphoned off by its corporate parent, no one could call 911. Yet workers, shareholders and customers surely lost out.

The Justice Department, the Securities and Exchange Commission, state attorneys general and the FBI should make a much greater effort to stop white-collar crime by collaring the criminals, not nicking the innocent pension funds that happen to own some stock. We will have no effective deterrent of corporate crime until executives face the risk of jail time. [End quoting]

The Elite make or have the laws made (by their puppets) and consider themselves above the law and always have done so. Until we have an honest government, most Elite thieves will never see the inside of a prison. The ones who do are the ones who have crossed their partners in crime, or their buddies got too envious or/and jealous of them.

SPIRIT OF MILLION MAN MARCH THRIVING

Excerpted from THE CHICAGO TIMES, 10/13/96, [quoting:]

Louis Farrakhan and the Nation of Islam may have done little to harness the energy of the Million Man March over the last year, but others certainly have.

Participants banded together on their own and plunged into the work of improving the African American community as Farrakhan urged them last Oct. 16.

In Chicago, these groups have taken names such as The Brotherhood of Black Men, the I Am Brotherhood, Black Brothers United, One in a Million, and Black Men United.

They are mentoring schoolchildren and fighting gangs and drugs. Some also are working for economic and political empowerment by getting involved in job training and registering voters.

Farrakhan has been busy touring 23 African countries and hosting a political convention that fizzled [because the media wouldn't give him the publicity he needed]. The Nation of Islam has had success at registering voters and Farrakhan is preparing an anniversary event—a World Day of Atonement on Oct. 16 at the United Nations. [We printed the disgraceful response of the media and the law enforcement personnel to that event in last week's CONTACT.]

"We wanted to try to keep that spirit from the march and channel it into something positive," Chicago postal employee Jim Saverson said.

He and nine fellow workers formed Black Men United. They have played Santa to a young girl who otherwise would have had no presents. They also have taken young people from the Henry Horner Homes to the DuSable Museum of African American History and horseback riding in Palos Hills.

Men at the Washington, D.C. march took a pledge to strive to improve themselves and their communities morally, economically and politically.

"We are men from all walks of life who took their pledge seriously," said Bob Wilburn, president of Park Manor Ministry Bus No. 7.

Its 37 members adopted two public schools, and are visiting 27 state prisons on a rotating basis.

As school ended last summer men from Bus No. 7 awarded T-shirts to two classes of students who maintained a C-plus average or better at Carver Prep Elementary School near the Altgeld Gardens housing complex.

"We're going into the schools to present a positive male image," Wilburn said.

"We're just regular guys, and kids need to see that there are parts of life other than sports that they can aspire to and still be successful," he added.

"I went to the march and saw so much unity, but it seemed like it was missing when I got back home, so I decided to do something," Zack Burton said. [He really heard Farrakhan's message, "Take responsibility—don't wait for another." God bless Zack and all others like him.]

Since then, he has persuaded nearly 100 families to take in Black foster children or to adopt. With a core of march veterans, he also helped start a group called the I Am Brotherhood, which performs neighborhood trash cleanups, attends community policing meetings in three police districts and conducts food drives.

Local march organizer and activist Conrad Worrill said he has seen a difference since the march.

"It sparked new energy. I run into people every day who say they were inspired by the march to get involved," he said.

The march's economic agenda struck a chord with contractors Sy Bounds and Skip Ousley. They had met before they rode to the march on Bus No. 53 from Chicago, but on the way back they decided to become partners in training young people to paint and remodel.

Bounds said demand for painters and handymen is "an urban gold mine" that Black youth can exploit without extensive training. He promotes the training program on a weekly radio talk show that runs Saturdays from 8 to 8:30 a.m. on WVON-AM.

Butch Campbell of The Brotherhood of Black Men said that group sets up platforms and microphones on West Side street corners where people have been shot. Members preach against gangs and drugs and register voters.

"We tell brothers to wake up and stop killing each other and respect Black women," Campbell said.

About 25 people have asked to join the Brotherhood as a result of the rallies, Campbell said.

While organizers admit it's tough persuading gang members and drug addicts to change, they said the march has been successful in bringing Black middle-class men back into the activist fold. [End quoting]

After reading the above sample of the results of last year's march, is there any wonder why the Elite-owned media would want to downplay any publicity of this year's events and then lambast Farrakhan for his trip to Africa? Is it any wonder to you that they wouldn't allow him to accept any money from Libya?

With $1 billion he would have had the seed money to help his Black brothers get a good education, start their own businesses if desired, and to develop a feeling of self-worth so they could seek any legitimate goal they wanted.

ECSTASY TO AGONY THROUGH THE PLAN 2000

In the course of men's lives comes the opportunity to do that which is ungodly or that which epitomizes the intent of GOD. Through the ages of man's experience he has often been brilliant and often become as evil creatures of manufactured robotic actors on the stage called physical life in expression. As unbalance has occurred so has the very planet brought ending to civilizations—some at the hands of the very men who would have rule and kingdomship over all things physical—wisely efforting to capture the very God-soul of each and all beings. The cycle has come full circle—the time is at hand and YOU must know that which has brought you down. Herein is presented "THE PLAN" for capture by the adversary of God—and that which could have saved your world—had you borne God-Truth as your shield. Where shall YOU go from here?

What Clinton May Do To Begin His Next Term

What Clinton is likely to do the first 72 hours of his next term!

10/27/96 JOE L. JORDAN

....With the disgusting and limp-wristed failure of Dole to seize the election, Clinton and his minions and pawns are burning the midnight oil with their diabolical schemes they know they must implement totally and swiftly before the comatose couch potatoes finally awaken and become enraged. Clinton is a cocaine-crazed, murdering nihilist, drunk with power and this time there will be absolutely nothing holding him back. All restraints will be thrown off and this madman will bring down the country.

You may recall, if you re-read "Silent Coup", there were 30 generals and admirals mentioned by name, who orchestrated Watergate and brought the downfall of Nixon in 1973. Let us hope there is another group of patriots somewhere with similar ideals. (The generals and NSA officials in the Lear Jet crash in Alabama, the day before Oklahoma City, were plotting against Clinton and that is why the plane went down.) As you read this, 423 flag-rank (general/admiral) officers have secretly been placed under 24-hour surveillance by the SS until after the election. Here are some of the agenda items the UN/New World Order/Zionist Wall St. bankers have put out for Clinton's signature for implementation 7:00 AM, 11/8/96:

- (1) Stock market will crash 4,000 points.
- (2) Currency will be recalled. You will have 24 hours to surrender all green money, replaced with blue, now in warehouses owned by Perot in Ft. Worth, TX.
- (3) PDD25 will be activated, all US military given to the UN.
- (4) All radio talk shows cancelled, hosts arrested.

(5) All borders sealed and airports closed. FEMA activated and then placed under UN Control. 70% of the USA will be a "biosphere" and human occupation prohibited. Travel by public transportation only will be allowed if you have a permit.

(6) The 1996 election will be America's last. Congress will be prorogued (disbanded). The UN will appoint colonial agents.

(7) North Vietnam will be granted most-favored nation trading status and given $800 million in foreign aid (part of the Indonesia/Ron Brown scam). Hanoi-lover Antony Lake will be the new Secretary of State.

(8) All gun ownership will be prohibited and citizens will have 10 days to surrender them or face 50 years in prison without possibility of parole. (This will be like the gold call-up of 1930.)

(9) All illegal aliens in the USA will be granted full U.S. citizenship. Public schools will be mandated to teach in the Nigerian, Hindu, Spanish, Mandarin Chinese and Indonesian languages.

(10) Practice of the Christian religion will be prohibited. All churches closed (like in Cuba), church property seized under RICO statutes and forfeited to the UN. Only Buddhism and Judaism will be exempt.

(11) All licensed and ordained Christian ministers will be sent to the FEMA crematoria at South Bend, IN. "Outlandish," you say? Why do you suppose the phrase "Under God" was deliberately left out of the pledge of allegiance at the Democratic National Convention?

(12) All bank accounts, IRAs, 401Ks, etc., will be seized by the UN/IRS. They will then return what they think you ought to have.

(13) Foreign treaties will become the law of the land. NAFTA, GATT, NWO, etc. Clinton attended the summit of the Americas (OAS); Gore went to the ECO-NAZI summit in Brazil; Stephanopoulos attended the Gorbachev summit in SFO. CODEX will outlaw vitamins. US soldiers cannot testify about UN duty.

(14) Clinton's drones will stage a fake national emergency: HAARP weather disruption, Anthrax/Sarin outbreak or massive race riots in gerrymandered tribal homelands (Watts, St. Petersburg). As in Germany in the '30s, the people will demand drastic measures and give up law and settle for order. Useful idiots will then become useless eaters and the first to enter the 26 FEMA death camps. (Homosexuals will be allowed to marry before being cremated.)

(15) California's UN/SMOG 2 will apply to all 50 states who must crush 50,000 cars a day to the Eco-God Gaia. (And see to it you stay in your tribal homeland.)

On this day of terrible reckoning, which will come like Pearl Harbor and the Tet Offensive (Certainly not here, certainly not me?), there will be two groups: the dumbed-down deer staring stupidly at the oncoming headlights and those of us drawing a bead two inches below the lip of the blue UN helmet. Are you ready to do what is necessary, or would you prefer to go directly from the star chamber to the death chamber?

Hint-Filled Lesson On Plant Biology

10/21/96 #1 HATONN

TRANSMUTATION

I realize that any Biologist reading this is going to want to be on the phone to E.T., but please do not try it for all of you choose to make your phone call via Dharma and she is just about sick to death of being the phone service.

I don't mind sharing with everyone on just about any point, but realize right up front that you aren't ever going to understand unless you change some pre-programmed wrong ideas. Especially if you are an "educated" Biologist you will have been given incorrect information and, unless you are willing to change some concepts, you can't utilize what I'm going to offer.

PLANTS VS. PEOPLE

God Creator endowed plants, as well as people, with some unalienable RIGHTS—to transmute what is offered into that which most nearly supplies life-flourishing elements. But, just as plants produce chlorophyll and hopefully man does not—to the extent of turning green—so too do plants utilize minerals, vitamins, etc., in differing manners. Therefore, when we consider "feeding" plants, we need to offer what THEY need and not necessarily what the body-animal presents and utilizes. BOTH need an array of everything possible from which to pull fuel. When you have outrageous life-forms in either animal or plant, it is because of a necessity to survive in an environment which does NOT provide everything. This is fine for it comes to represent natural selection. However, why cause a plant to have to mutate to recreate itself and flourish? The facts are that a plant already artificially hybridized cannot reproduce itself, but with proper selection abilities it can be brought to both integrate quality genetic structure AND be reproductive. I don't want to talk about the advanced course in reproduction, only the art of feeding plants which are so deprived in farming areas as to be all but worthless to the consumer.

But will the consumer "like" the product? I don't know for the consumer of today has learned to like rancid grease better than the flavor of a freshly grown organic potato. Mankind in flourishing societies now lives on refined foods with NO VALUE save negative, and stuffs-in non-utilized vitamin and mineral pills according to the most current hype.

After a while BOTH plant and body forget how to utilize anything properly so "overkill" is usually the next incorrect project of both the physician and the farmer. In this case of supplementation—what you DON'T see is better.

Next you have to understand the mechanism of "carriers" for the elements you want to be utilized by the living organism, and work accordingly. That means that we are going to have to integrate the elements into living CELLS so that you can offer the plant/body what it needs in a form that is instantly accepted and transmuted, or whatever is the mechanism of the organism. Since I want to speak to our research Biologists for the research farm, I will get totally localized. I apologize to other farmers who would use this methodology—but the problem is that we need Gaiandriana in large quantities with which to begin and at this present time we are limited as to production. We can gear up and have suitable carrier quantities for a LOT OF PURPOSES which are separate and apart from the focused Drias as in our product, Gaiandriana, but that takes a while from start to finished product because the transmutation has to be allowed its time of interactions. Since I am dealing with parties who DO NEED TO GET STARTED, I am speaking to "them" and we will see what we can do on a larger scale as we move along.

The concept is so simple as to embarrass the receivers at first conceptual glance, but do NOT allow that to stop you. I am not suggesting you go forth and reform the world, or the growers, this afternoon—BUT YOU WILL REFORM THE CONCEPTS BEFORE WE ARE THROUGH. DID GOD MAKE THE LITTLE GREEN APPLES, as the song goes? Well, no, not really—the apple tree presented the world with little green apples—GOD "ONLY" SUPPLIED THE BLUEPRINT AND THE ELEMENTS REQUIRED.

So, does a little green apple require more manganese than a potato? Perhaps, but only the apple tree seed knows for sure. However, you can ASSUME that both need manganese! How such an assumption? Because living forms are made up of all the elements, utilized according to the DNA/RNA cellular structure of individual "products". So what do we have to do, bring the mountains to the farm field? NO, and that is the first BIG MISCONCEPTION. If you need 952 billion ions of manganese, why bring 952 tons of otherwise useless bulk to the fields? You will usually find, in fact, where manganese is present (example of element only) you will have toxic impact from other minerals in that particular soil. So, now, let us look at ALTERNATIVES: Bring a tiny handful of manganese and let us colloidalize it into EVERYTHING SOLUTION, along with everything else we need. Allow it to be taken up by the drias in unprogrammed form, add Oxysol to provide "crystal liquid diamond" for programming individually, and go for it in that way—into the water supply.

Since, and here I speak to Dharma who always gets stuck putting this mess together, we will need everything we use for colloids PLUS everything we would use for perfect growing medium for plants in raw or crystalline or crushed form, (as in vitamin-mineral tablets) SO THAT WE HAVE ACCESS TO TINY PARTICULATE. If you have liquids available, all the better, except that you will tend to use too much. So, if you use droppers for the liquids—use TINY ORIFICE DROPPERS. If you have "color" you usually have too much—EXCEPT that some things interact catalytic-wise and often will simply produce a color presence. You will remember, however, that these "colors" will become transparent if left in Gaiandriana for a period of time. We don't care about color, and at injection time you may wish to, at first, color the additive to convince yourselves that you have product. The plants don't need convincing—only you people.

Now, I'm going to boggle you sensing people. When we are ready to MOVE with this—I want some crushed seed (only a tiny-tiny piece OF THE WHOLE plant intended for receiving) and we will program the solution TO THAT PLANT. We do that by allowing the Drias to mature according to the programming of the plant in point. Then, when you add the additives to the solution—whammy, you have pre-programmed supplement. This is nice because it will usually give the focus plant time to outgrow the non-programmed weeds. The weeds will program their own needs but you may well have a three-to-four-day HEADSTART on them. THIS WILL ONLY WORK WITH THE USE OF GAIANDRIANA. Drias are the cells of LIFE waiting for programming and, no, we are NOT going to hand them out to anyone else and, further, if we get carried away here, we will remove them. There are not going to be the MISTAKES usually made by man who goes forth and mutates everything in his stupidity.

What we are trying to accomplish is to have a perfect food supply for growing fields and I believe you can see the perfection which CAN be accomplished by directly-programmed food. The diversity of plant life, however, is very much dependent on a variety of things, which offers a diverse and interesting supply of food resources. We will stick, in the beginning, to the more specific plants we wish to cultivate in the best categories of survival products, i.e., legumes such as Soy, Adzuki beans, lentils (red, if possible, and red comes from mineralization), Triticum spelta, et al., and when we can do so—grow full-spectrum algae. The flavor condiments can be stored to make these foods more "interesting". You will find, as you grow perfect plants—you will have perfect honey, perfect milk, perfect eggs and thus and so as the living forms adjust to perfection from their plant resources.

You find what works best, and horticulturists already know a lot of the reasons; for instance, a hydrangea flower may well be pink or blue according to the iron in the soil, gardenias thrive in a more acidic soil so you use "miracid" FERTILIZERS as also you need to use to feed evergreens. If, however, you feed it ALL in colloidalized/dria FORM, the PERFECT original plant will REPRODUCE ITSELF and then, through tampering and testing, you can produce whatever you like as to color and hybridizing.

For US TO BEGIN, however, Dharma, we just need a full SELECTION of products from which we can make an ALL-INCLUSIVE colloidal solution to introduce to the Drias programmed for whatever—and GOD AND SOLAR ENERGY WILL TAKE IT FROM THERE!

When you people realize what you CAN do, then you can stop killing off the life-forms to eat. You can use your life-form animals for pets, natural selection, by-products which will, by the way, have no allergic reactions or digestive problems in the presentation. And, by the way, if you eat the basic foods, you can then eat a lot of rancid fat junk foods and still come out ahead.

Our problem right now is to be able to HAVE what we need if we can't get anything from anywhere else. You can have enough basic needs stored for YEARS OF USE in a very small space. When you only use one granule of humic acid crystal in six gallons of liquid—it goes a very long way. Also, if you are trying to get a more acidic solution—put in a couple of drops of vinegar or citrus (lemon or lime is best) or Kargasoc vinegar (four or five drops will do it). You simply do not need to OR WANT TO destroy land values with over-fertilization of any kind.

The nice part of this application method in irrigation fields is that what is falling into the land directly is nicely held while, with our solutions as described, especially with a surfactant additive (as in powered yucca introduced right into the colloidalizing method) will allow for absorption by the plants right through their leaves and stems—and better yet, as the buds begin to set for the flower or fruit—you will multiply manifold the production as the liquid is accepted wherever it falls. If, in fact, you could spray the plants at "setting time" you would find amazing results in better production quantities.

The same applies to fowl and milk cows: If you feed them the nutrients you want them to have in a dria base (remember a little goes a long, long way), you will have such quality products from both as to astound the evaluators.

Now, E.J., when you begin to colloidalize this product I suggest that you add several more magnets in strategic locations to the bottles and even then, give them at least six turns. You will have some elements which will resist the magnetizing. I even suggest you up the number of turns you are using for other products now—the more particulate you fling into the molecules the better the base from which the cells can have selection. Some of these elements will actually RESIST moving into the same cells because of their "charge". For that reason I suggest you start with tap water or simple well water. Always treat with hydrogen peroxide appropriately because you don't want foreign growth or harmful bacteria in the programming solutions. The Oxysol will take care of it "later", but you will have already introduced unwanted DNA structures. Always start out with treated (hydrogen peroxide) water. This gets rid of any parasites and living viral forms. Once broken up they will not reprogram themselves and if they should slip a few DNA through, they will be cast out by the cells themselves as "foreign material".

At upstart this will seem like an impossible task—but I promise you that it will end up a lot easier, almost cost-free as you move along and will be a grand new product in addition to keeping a few hands busy in the production end as we start here. Remember please, that our thrust is not just to technical deletion of workers—WE NEED TO PROVIDE JOBS WHICH ALLOW SELF-SUSTAINING AND GOOD LIVING STANDARDS TO AS MANY "WORKERS" AS WE CAN USE. YOU WILL BE HAVING FUNDS ENOUGH TO SUBSIDIZE THE PAYROLLS IF NECESSARY AT UPSTART, PRETTY SOON NOW.

Salu.

The Federal Government Is Conducting Conflicts Of Interest

10/21/96 GRANDMA

First, I have to share with you a little tidbit of a conversation held the other day with a fellow concerned American citizen. It was during this conversation whereupon a charming statement was made in reference to me and my constitutional Common Law research. I will call the gentleman Charlie. Charlie said, laughingly: "Grandma is the Agatha Christie of the constitutional laws and citizens' rights." (Just thought a little humor would brighten our days.)

MEANWHILE

The Federal Government is conducting conflicts of interest.

THINK ABOUT IT! ALSO:

The Federal Government is conducting prison labor manufacturing jobs as did Hitler with the Jews in the prison/concentration camps of Europe during World War II; they (the FEDs) call it Uni-Corp.

THINK ABOUT IT!

Several years ago, I wrote about the private prisons and ultimate utilization of inmates for (a) labor resource for manufacturing and industry, (b) riot control, (c) military personnel, etc. Last evening, 60 Minutes exposed the prison labor issues (which should be asked to be rerun for all to see what is going on). The handwriting is on the wall...

THINK ABOUT IT!

In every state in this great commonwealth/republic of constitutional united States, in the State Civil Codes (most usually in Chapter 1), you will find provisions for our old laws (while the conspirators tell you these laws have been repealed).

In Illinois, for example, Illinois Civil Code, Chapter 1, ss1103, rights, etc.; §4: "No new law shall be construed to repeal a former law, whether such former law is expressly repealed or not; or any Right accrued or claim arising under such former law, or in any way effect any right accrued."

Our courts, albeit state or federal, almost in their entirety refuse to acknowledge the grandfathered, constitutional laws. We must ask ourselves why.

In the classification of law, a number of useful classifications of law are recognized. Any classification is more of less arbitrary, and no classification has been recognized universally. However, the Constitution for the United States shall be the primary law recognized by our courts. All courts are bound to uphold, protect and defend the Constitution for the United States.

The laws regulating the enforcement and recognition of constitutional provisions are called constitutional law. The laws protecting citizens against the actions of dangerous characters are called criminal law.

The public, as a unit, is said to be interested in public law. Public laws are recognized and enforced, in theory, at least, for the benefit of the public and not for any particular individual. For example, if a murder is committed, the state, through its officers, prosecutes and punishes the criminal on the theory that a wrong has been done to the state.

Now, go to your public library or nearest federal library, or even borrow from one of your friends 18 U.S.C., and look up policy number one, policy number two, policy number three, policy number four, etc. It will shock the daylights out of you to discover your duly elected is mandated by law to do the people's bidding, or formally, "the sovereign will of the people prevails". However, our duly elected refuse to listen to us and our concerns and protestations.

EXAMPLE (THINK ABOUT IT!)

V.K. Durham has a case in U.S. District Court against Illinois Power Company. Currently, the defendants are in default six or more times. The court refuses to apply its own rules; also the court refuses to acknowledge (1) the Rule of Decision, (2) the Constitution for the United States, common law of contracts, (3) pleaded in res judicata by previous Supreme Court cases, (4) enforcement of petitioned Article I, clause 10 (estopping and barring impeding of contracts or contract rights), (5) the court refuses to employ its own Rule 56 (a), and (6) the court refuses to notice pursuant to Mandatory Notice Rule 201 (d) whereas the court has been noticed of the defendant's intent, stated in writing, to remove from the Illinois Secretary of State's records public documents filed by V.K. Durham.

THINK ABOUT IT!

The case, itself, is a slam-dunk. All precedents at law are in V.K. Durham's favor. (1) A simple contract being a sum certain contract is in existence, (2) the contract is a "payable upon demand instrument", (3) the "payable upon demand" was made by Specific Performance upon Illinois Power Company, (4) Non Performance by Illinois Power Company. As a matter of fact several Specific Performances were made upon Illinois Power Company, each time they defaulted.

In the realization that there was something else in the woodpile, V.K. Durham sought out the Securities Exchange Annual Reports for Illinova/Illinois Power Company.

(V.K. Durham had filed a UCC-1 lien on the Contract. When Illinois Power Company defaulted, V.K. filed a UCC-9-503 default, and "taking possession of collateral without judicial process".)

Illinova/Illinois Power Company did not Notice the Securities and Exchange Commission of the default. V.K. Durham also noticed, in this false report to the S.E.C., other companies owned by Illinois Power Company which are not in the state of Illinois, some of which were in the Grand Cayman Islands. Then the search began. V.K. Durham began looking in the woodpile!

Illinois Civil Codes ss28 (grandfathered at the time of the merger of Illinois/Iowa Power Company) of the Public Utility Laws, states: Franchises or rights to own or operate public utilities to be granted or transferred only to Illinois corporation.

Public Utilities, chapter 111 2/3 ss28, Illinois Civil Codes: "No franchise, license, permit or right to own, operate, manage or control any public utility, except common carriers engaged in interstate commerce and except telegraph or telephone companies engaged in interstate commerce, shall be hereafter granted or transferred to any grantee or transferee other than a corporation duly incorporated under the laws of this state."

THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT OF 1972

Under this Federal Advisory Committee Act, the President and his Cabinet have decided to take away the congressional powers regulating interstate commerce on banking and utility corporations. Which, in fact, takes away the state's constitutional rights of self government. The 1847 constitutional debates for the state of Illinois, in its entirety of debate and conclusions, prohibited foreign banking corporations and foreign corporations from doing business in the state of Illinois, unless they are duly constituted and duly registered in the state of Illinois.

Why are these state laws in place?!
State revenue (taxation) that's why!

THINK ABOUT IT!

COMMERCIAL LAW

Commercial Law, No. 117: Rights and Liabilities of Foreign Corporations (incidentally, Illinova/Illinois Power Company is a Delaware corporation):

117. Rights and Liabilities of a Foreign Corporation. "Corporations have no rights, as such, outside of the jurisdiction of the power creating them. A corporation organized under the laws of one state may be excluded from performing any of its corporate functions in another state. States may permit foreign corporations to exercise their function within their borders, if they so desire. But states cannot be compelled to recognize the corporate rights of foreign corporations. While the United States Constitution provides that citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens of the several states, a corporation is not a citizen within the meaning of this provision. The United States Government may employ or organize corporations to carry out its purposes. Such corporations cannot be denied the right to exercise their functions by any state. For example, the United States Constitution gives Congress the right to regulate commerce with foreign nations, among the several states, and with Indian tribes. A corporation engaged in interstate commerce (telephone, telegraph, trucking, railroads, etc.) engaged in interstate commerce cannot be excluded by any state, in the exercise of this function. Outside these governmental agencies, each state has the right to exclude a foreign corporation from exercising any of its corporate functions within their jurisdictions. The states generally provide by statute, (Illinois Civil Codes 111 2/3 ss28, which precludes foreign corporations, Delaware or otherwise) that foreign corporations may transact business within their territory by filing with the Secretary of State a statement of their business, and the names of their officers. Then, by paying a certain tax, they are permitted to maintain an office and transact business within the state thus granting them the privilege."

WHAT ABOUT SS28, CHAPTER 111 2/3, ILLINOIS CIVIL CODE (GRANDFATHERED)

Then, what about revenue (taxes) into the state coffers to conduct the affairs of the people? These forbidden foreign corporations pay little or no taxes, and the people suffer the burden of taxation! The corporations' holding companies shuffle off, as did Illinova/Illinois Power Company, or so it seems, to the soft money area of the Grand Cayman Islands—take the money out, bring it back in tax free.

WHAT ABOUT THOSE PUBLIC BONDS PAID FOR BY THE TAXPAYERS?!

"Aw, to Hell with the taxpayers! Confiscations of properties will take care of them!"

As the President of the United States mucks around with congressional power, taking away congressional power under the Federal Advisory Committee Act of 1972 (5 U.S.C.), giving full authority to the Executive Branch Advisory Committee. They railroad any crooked, unconstitutional, repugnant act they desire and when challenged, ss6 "national security" is imposed by the President and his crooked little cabinet. While our U.S. House of Representatives sit there daily, with their thumbs up their fannies, and their brains in neutral!

Repeal the Federal Advisory Committee Act!

Paul, The Venetian: Making Your "Soul-utions" Happen

Editor's note: The following writing is by the Ascended Master known as Paul, The Venetian, or Paul, The Artist, of the Third Ray (or Aspect) of Creator's spectrum, among the seven great "Rainbow Masters" who are communicating at this time to help us get through Ear'h-Shan's planetary transition and rebalancing.

In Journal #7, called THE RAINBOW MASTERS, Paul relates: "It is most difficult to separate we of the Higher Frequencies. We have a thrust, a talent given, if you will, toward focused purposes. As Morya represents most preciousely the 'will' of God, Lantio the 'wisdom' of God — I, Paul, will focus on the element of 'LOVE' and spirit discernment.

"I come on the comfort vibration of what we call the 'pink' frequency. My talents have long been in artistic perceptions and projections....

"Please do not confuse my terminology of love with what thee defines as 'love'. Myself and the Brotherhood with whom I serve, of the Third Ray, are not idle dreamers of poetry and sounds of harmonious music. Ah, would it be that it could be so. We are quite pragmatic of the way of the Holy Spirit. It is through the beauty and purity of the Third Ray through which the wondrous qualities of diplomacy, patience, tact, arbitration, unity, brotherhood, culture, beauty and the perfecting of the 'heart' are made manifest."

He also reminded us of a very important matter for this time of major planetary transition: "Ones upon thy place plead worthlessness and that only a 'few' have been given certain gifts of beauty and talent. Nay, not so! Locked within the being of EVERY incarnate soul is a talent unique unto thee. It can manifest as a painting, music, invention, or the special gift of 'giving'—as in thy Mother Theresa. Most of you have hidden it away, in thy insecurity, and have refused to bring it forth. Ye shall overcome. It matters not what 'level' of perceived enlightenment ye may be. Ye can grow, YE MUST GROW! For when ye come right down to the truth of it, the fires of creativity held within the forcefield of man (any hu-man) determine what he can accomplish in his earthly span of perceived 'time'."

PAUL, THE VENETIAN, THE ARTIST

Greetings, my scribe. It is I, Paul, the Venetian, come to commune with you on this wondrous day. I come in the Radiant One Light of Creator God.

What a truly beautiful day it is! You ones truly reside on one of the most beautiful planets in your sector of the universe! For you readers out there, please know that the Sacred Mountains in Tehachapi were blanketed with the surprise of several inches of glistening snow last evening—the first of the season and at least several weeks early. The view is truly magnificent in reflection of God's splendor.

I have come this day to remind you ones of the beauty that surrounds you, even during the most adverse conditions. You are ever nearing a time on your globe when there shall be need of great effort just to survive. Please know that God (Creator God) never abandons you and will ALWAYS give you an indication of His Presence.

As you move onward into the unfolding segments of the mission, ALL of you will be challenged to various extremes. Many of you may think that you are prepared for anything that can come your way. Let me tell you that there will be many a great soul horrified to the point of overwhelm at what they shall have to witness and endure. These are the experiences that will draw you closer to Creator, for you will need to truly search the depths of your soul in order to tap the currently unseen, infinite potential of your being.

Please know that you do NOT have to wait until you are to the point of overwhelm to connect with this Infinite Source. You could connect at any time. Please note, however, that you will not be allowed to use this power UNLESS and UNTIL you have earned the necessary level of responsibility required, else you would truly have a mess on your hands.

This is why there is the need to have ones, who cannot seem to learn any other way, go through these experiences that will cause them to look within and see where they have made their errors. The ones who are of God intent shall find the Inner Strength to pull THEMSELVES through and out of their own mess. Each will tap the necessary strength in proportion to their own ability to confront their own personal responsibility for having allowed these conditions in the first place to come about and persist.

All souled beings have the same Infinite Potential within for expressing, but very few down there have yet to recognize the path that will allow them to unlock this potential. Meanwhile, the evil bastards who are attempting to destroy your planet are trying to find these "secrets" through all of the external sources that they can find. All the while they do not realize that what they truly seek is Creator God within. These ones are incapable of realizing this basic fact because they have long ignored their lessons and have thus allowed the inner flame of their soul to dwindle to a point of near non-existence.

This is why you CANNOT force anyone to see YOUR truth. You have to earn the ability to perceive Truth. That is to say, you must have a desire to put your ego aside long enough to realize that you do not know ALL the answers. And, perhaps, if you can also put aside your prejudices toward not allowing any belief outside what you have been brainwashed into believing (even though such may be full of contradictions), then you will have placed self in a condition where you can be humble long enough so that new information, such as Truth, can be considered.

For you ones seeking to "make" another hear or see, all you can do is OFFER God's gifts of Truth—and that is enough! You canNOT be responsible for the free-will choices of another.

Stop trying to force your reality upon another! God is not of force, so why should you try to make (force) another see or hear. Realize that these ones will suck the life force right out of you if you allow them to do so. This goes for family members as well as other acquaintances. Keep in mind that those things which cause you worry are, in some way, connected with the challenges you are down there to face.

Throughout all your experiences, please keep the larger picture in focus: You are in a three-dimensional holographic PLAY! This means that you are an entity who has agreed to partake and join in a GAME! The value in doing so is so that you can LEARN the necessary lessons in order to become a responsible Co-Creator with God. Each will learn at their own pace. If you or they do not get it right in this one short expression, then be assured that there will always be another opportunity in future lifetimes, on other planets, with similar situations. However, it would behoove you all to make diligent effort to get it right this time so as to be enabled to move on to greater experiences and greater opportunities for growth.

Look upon each challenging experience as an opportunity to create a new solution. You ones do not have to wait for someone to tell you what to do or when to do a thing. Creative expression is perhaps the one thing that will allow you to reach deep enough within to help yourself to bring forth that which you will need in the upcoming times.

When there seems to be no way to cope, remember that you are never given more than you can handle. This means that there IS a solution, if you but look. The key is that you must desire the solution AND YOU MUST LOOK! Call upon the Guiding Light of Creator God and expect to find that which will help you to create your own unique solution.

Take a large problem and break it into smaller, basic components. This will help to alleviate any confusion surrounding any large, seemingly overwhelming, problem. Look at these smaller aspects and find something that you can take action on immediately. This action may be as simple as writing out a list of things that will need to get done.

If this is a large problem, your list may be several pages long. Getting these mental thoughts to paper will help you to get the problem, that you perceive mentally, out of the mental state and into the physical. Remember that when you are working in the physical, your solution will be in the physical. You can picture your solutions in the mental but, if you never take action to bring forth your solutions into physical reality, then you will have, perhaps, thrown away the "soul-ution" that would bring forth the insights that would allow you and others to survive nicely.

Now that you have a list of necessary steps, place them into a logical sequence. If you need more information about an action, then it would be logical to educate yourself first. This step would need to take place first.

Now you should be somewhat organized. If your problem deals with something like money, then I would suggest you start saving what you can, for the mere fact that physical actions have now been taken, will help you to focus your intent and you will pull in that which you need or desire. However, do keep in mind that if you think you need a new sports car, and your Higher Self does not agree, then you will not likely get the new sports car.

When you are aligned with Higher Intent, and you take action to solidify the intent, you will be well on your way to creating the soul-ution to your own problem.

Now follow through with that which will help you to solve your problems. You do not need physical things to solve the challenges of the soul. The physical, third-dimensional expression is for amplifying these challenges by compressing Light (thought energy of God) into physical matter so that you will have opportunity to see the results of your actions, thoughts, and intent—up close, with extremely high detail, and with almost instant feedback (karma) these days, in most cases.

Getting back to the earlier part of this writing, God will always give you an indication of His Presence, but again: YOU MUST LOOK! Perhaps you are feeling down and a small bird comes and lands on your windowsill. Do you take note and make the connection that perhaps the little guy was sent to cheer you up and to let you know that you are not alone, or do you ignore the gifts sent and go off and wallow in your misery? The choice is yours. You are your own worst enemy in this regard.

Be thankful for the time (opportunities) that you now have. If you think that all we, of the Hosts of God, do is spout-off about great catastrophes and impending doom & gloom, then you miss the larger picture—that we are here to help those who will listen so that they can prepare for the difficult challenges that are coming. When the upcoming catastrophes finally do hit (and they will) you will need to remember these words and go within and draw upon your Inner Light that is, in essence, your direct connection to God.

Look always for the beauty of God around you and you will find it. Out of the ashes of this current civilization shall spring forth in newness a more en-Light-ened world of peace.

Blessings to you who heed the warnings and prepare, for you are the ones who will Light the way for others to see. I am Paul, the Venetian, come as the Ascended Master of the Third Ray of Creator's Spectral expression. Adonai.

A Tip Of The Iceberg

Repeal The Federal Advisory Committee Act! Reinstate The "House Of Un-American Activities"

10/26/96 V.K. DURHAM

Back when Russell Herrmann-Herrman-Herman finally "fessed" up (about what had really been going on, in the Contra Arms, Contra-this-Contra-that mess) with me, after I had lost my own home to one of the Contra this-thats, the reality of the gravity of the situation across the nation sat down hard in our minds. No law would or could stop the lawlessness of these acts of stealing equities of our homes, our farms, our businesses, our industry by mortgage, Savings & Loans, banks and other financial institutions, using foreign investors' moneys (which they stressed, to prove their own importance). For the Federal Reserve had tightened money, there were no jobs, interest rates were soaring. Our financial institutions closed the majority of American people out of the borrowing industry for homes, farms, manufacturing. Times were hard, and the people had no place to go but to the hard money markets just to keep going, since the Federal Reserve was afraid Americans would work, buy homes, create industry and manufacturing and bring about good economy and sound-dollar economy by producing.

Russell kept talking, but I wouldn't believe him.

Russ kept telling me and others about the planned overthrow of this nation. He also stated (to me and to others), that the moneys from the failed Savings & Loans, banks, etc., were, in part, stolen by "recall chips" in the computers, which the financial institutions use, which "ties back in with the Federal Reserve Banking System". As an example: A financial institution would be audited by the feds, and be healthy and in the black. Less than thirty (30) days later (such as the S&Ls) they would be in the red and "belly up". Certificates of Deposit were lost. Two-hundred-and-fifty-billion dollars in CDs to be exact.

$250,000,000,000.00 in American investor dollars (this was given to Banking Committee Chairman D'Amato, Kaptur, Chenoweth, etc., verified), turned up in the European money market. Interpol begged for U.S. Government assistance. No assistance was given (stopped by Lynn Schively, Ambassador to Denmark).

The agent of the U.S. Treasury (IRS), Marion Akien/Aiken/Akiens/Aikens, spent time as a guest of Copenhagen, Denmark, in the "crossbar hotel" for the laundering of these and other Certificates of Deposit with which he was guaranteeing loans through Copenhagen's Bibkin Bank, in concert with banks in Germany, Switzerland, Japan, South Africa, England, Ireland, Scotland, Canada's Bank of Montreal, Chase Manhattan, Morgan Trust, City Bank, CitiCorp, Security Pacific, Wells Fargo, Bank of America, etc. All the time using the $250,000,000,000.00 in Certificates of Deposit, which belonged to the American people.

The American people's $250,000,000,000.00 in Certificates of Deposit gave them nothing more than a tax increase to pay for the failed Savings & Loans and other financial institutions, which increased to $260,000,000,000.00 after the audit, while tax increases soared. The FDIC did not pay off the amounts lost. Americans who thought they were secure, went on Welfare. Americans who had their homes paid for borrowed hard money, only to lose their homes by corrupt practices of the old shell game. Farms, businesses and industries were lost by the same old shell game. The foreign bankers, foreign investors, foreign trusts began the landed-equity game. They took title to our lands.

They took title to all water rights, mineral rights, and even our rights "duly constituted". Title to our President and Executive Branch of U.S. Government was taken, treaties were made under the Federal Advisory Committee Act of 1972. Side deals were cut, payoffs made—by any foreign entity who wanted to buy-in on America.

The United States of America became, under the Federal Advisory Committee Act, a highly saleable commodity. Our presidents have sold us out under the Federal Advisory Committee Act. Our U.S. House of Representatives is not too concerned for, in the event they were, they would repeal the Federal Advisory Committee Act, and deprive the use of the sanctuary of ss6 (section 6), whereas the president, at his discretion can deem anything a national security [risk], and both houses have to back off from any pending investigation. Of course, at this time, We, the People must take a long careful look at the 104th Congress' contract on America, and their actions during the 104th session. We must look at the unconstitutional acts passed by this 104th Congress and make a determination if the contract was on or with America and Americans.

LET'S GO BACK TO THE EQUITIES

From 1972 (since the Federal Advisory Committee Act), our state laws have steadily eroded. The old law books were cast out, the Bar Association published new law books. The Bar Association drafted and encouraged passage of new laws to allegedly replace our old tried-and-true laws, which made this nation great. A reversal of Constitutional, duly constituted rights occurred. The people no longer were allowed to vote on their desired laws.

Something else occurred at the hands of the Bar Association. If the people's vote was required on issues of rights and taxation, a yes vote meant no, and a no vote meant yes, due to deliberate confusion of the verbage of the issues presented for vote. In other words, the language of the bill was deliberately gerrymandered to deliberately confuse the public at large.

DUE TO THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT

Our presidents have cut side deals with foreign banks, investors, financial institutions, etc., overriding state laws and allowing foreign bank corporations to buy state incorporated banks and other financial institutions through holding corporations. These holding corporations are buying up every state-incorporated bank and chartered bank they can get their hands on, across this nation; including water companies, our gas and electric companies (publicly owned).

These foreign trusts, foreign banks and foreign investment groups have silently taken over this nation through holding corporations, assisted by the Federal Advisory Committee Act, and side deals cut by the presidents of the United States, since 1972.

One has to wonder what Clinton sold out on, when he cut his deal with China, Indonesia, Israel, Mexico, Russia, England and the NATO nations. Mr. Clinton and his resigning staff sorely beg investigation by the U.S. Senate Crime Oversight Committee but only after Congress repeals the Federal Advisory Committee Act, precluding the president and his minions from hiding behind section 6 (ss6), and declaring National Security.

WHERE, OH WHERE, IS THE "HOUSE OF UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES"?!

Since 1972's Federal Advisory Committee Act, approximately 10 million farmers have lost their farms, large and small. Large holding corporations, all foreign-owned, in the form of syndicates, took over these farms (our equity in America).

Since 1972, holding corporations have taken 20-50 million America homes. Putting home owners (a) on the streets, and (b) on Welfare (our equity in America).

Since 1972, our industry and manufacturing bases have been lost to holding corporations, Americans' equity base in this nation.

Since 1972, our state-incorporated banks have become all but nonexistent, for they have been taken over by holding corporations of state-incorporated banks, which have been in turn purchased by foreign holding corporations. These foreign corporations and additional holding corporations, who slip under the state laws by purchasing the state-incorporated banks, putting the state banks under the holding corporations, then commence buying up other state-incorporated banks under the larger banks, which originally enjoyed the state incorporations. (Are you confused yet? Well, think of the old shell game, or the "Hughes umbrella".) This is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, the Clayton Act, ss8 (section 8). Backed by Contra deals moneys.

REPEAL THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ACT!

REINSTATE THE "HOUSE OF UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES"

Now you know why the old Contract/Certificate sits and waits. She is the only chance this nation has of recovering from these unconstitutional sets of acts, and which can restore this nation once the corruption is purged. Only then can the American people restore this nation. Only then can our Treasury become gold-backed.

TELEPHONE HOTLINE

This is a service for our dedicated readers. Today's Watch telephone hotline carries the latest news and comments from Commander Hatonn's most recent writings. This is our way of keeping you informed about fast-breaking news and events.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. The message update(s), if any, occur by 6 PM Pacific Time.
