Precarious Wall Street Enhances GAIJA Asset

4/16/00—#1 (13-244)

THE GREAT DESTROYER, EGO

Hatonn—You just never can tell—CAN YOU?

It is “Palm Sunday” again this year, so let’s consider our Celebration and what it means—REALLY.

It means that you must begin and end your own, individual self, as to determining what ANYTHING might “mean”.

By this, I mean that you must consider, carefully, your own perception and realization of impact of conception as to a focus on SELF. You cannot simply say: “This means...”, as in the instance of a story that is offered, a “myth”, if you will. Did somebody called Jesus really get crucified and slain? CAN you perceive the fact of the matter: that it has no meaning other than that which YOU GIVE UNTO IT?

Here in the Philippines, there is a tradition, which grows every year, where individuals re-enact the whole gory thing in order to experience the “divine” passion of “Jesus”. What if you never heard of Jesus? What IF you were among the Pharisees who murdered that nice young man? Uh, oh, you might claim, for I will tell you that YOU WERE AND ARE RIGHT THERE MURDERING THE VERY INTENT OF THAT MAN, REAL OR IMAGINED! You are locked in the lies of the presentations which “brokers” of religion pronounce onto you.

I will tell you now that unless an actor hangs on the planks until he is quite dead to human life—he has done nothing more than pretend—for the crucifixion which matters—is that which is WITHIN the being of each man.

Otherwise, chelas, all you have done by enacting the nails in the hands and self-mutilation is but an adrenaline rush, and you could get that by any means you so choose in order to have some expression of “something” in your own being. And, further, if you really want to make a REAL point for your self, you would do it in the darkest corner of your hidden closet for, otherwise, the act is done for the benefit of the audience watching—EVERY TIME. You can, in fact,

WATCH CHRIST BEING CRUCIFIED EVERY MOMENT OF YOUR VERY OWN LIVES. YOU crucify God’s messengers every minute of every day in hundreds of different ways, and you TRY to crucify God a million times a day—in the very acts committed and the very allowance of such crimes as you can conceive put to manifestation. YOU CAN ONLY CRUCIFY AND MURDER THE MAN—FOR TRUTH WILL ENDURE, AND “THAT” IS WHAT THE MESSAGE IS, MY FRIENDS.

So, am I bashing some story of 2000 years ago? I wish I could but it seems you have built your illusion—and from “that” reality you must experience whatever you will.

Why, for instance, do some so badly want Dharma out of their lives and buried in the grave of silence? Because they cannot bear TRUTH—so, “kill the messenger”. Worse, the fact of the “Dharma” hatred is obvious. She represents the presentation of the TRUTH instead of the conjured fables used for “cover for hiding”. Ah, but—there is no place to run or to hide—for TRUTH WILL OUT, sooner or later, and God has all the time in the universe—infinity.

Now, consider for a minute that it is Good Friday and all of you are gathered around a replica cross with some unidentified (or even identified) man hanging on the planks, and you are on your knees in so-called prayer. What are your thoughts? NOW, I WANT YOU TO—WITHOUT FINDING A PUBLICATION ABOUT SAME—LIST EVERY MAN WHO HAS REENACTED THE PASSION AND CRUCIFIXION FOR, SAY, THE LAST YEAR.

In this, perhaps you can see that the incident, real or imagined, was an act to present the LIE—not the TRUTH which IS God. And, you who RE-ENACT the humble atonement in the dirt in front of a false god on a cross of wood—wherein the only known fact is that a TREE WAS KILLED for the nonsense—what are you doing? Would it not be better to plant a tree, so that you might have oxygen for your own resurrection in goodness and realization? You will only have sore knees, my blind students, from such a “celebration”.

This brings us right back around to the “P...” I used in yesterday’s writing. What did you interpret that as meaning? Now, catch yourself because I am going to show you that vulgarity and harshness attributed to ME or to my scribe is IN YOUR MIND, NOT OURS. I meant, in the English language: “Pharisees”. So, get out your toilet paper and clean off your mind. Or, is “toilet paper” also a gross and vulgar word? How do YOU look for bathroom poop-deck wiping material? And, by the way, almost as much toilet paper is used for so many other things as to be made, at a more extravagant price, facial soft wipes. You can wipe a tear with toilet paper even better than with the finger, my friends. So, stop interpreting—according to your needs to pronounce your ego attitudes onto another—MY INTENT, OPINION OR MEANING. At BEST, you can only interpret from your experience—under any circumstances.

When will YOU start thinking and acting on the thing called LIFE and never mind the waste of that called “DEATH”? THERE IS NO DEATH AND, THEREFORE, YOU ARE STUCK WITH “LIFE”, WHICH YOU REFUSE TO LOOK AT, MUCH THE LESS—LIVE!

Better served, this “life” would be, if you stayed off pretend Hill Golgotha, saved a tree and planted a new one, which bears the fruits of life-sustaining value—or a Neem tree, which is a “tree of life”—and grow with it into LIFE itself. Would life not be better for ALL of you?

This brings you directly back to EGO!

EGO IS A STRANGE BEAST— IT DESTROYS ITS HOST, AS THE PARASITE ON THE TREE DESTROYS THE TREE. RESPONSIBLE INTENT AND ACTIONS ARE THE KEYS TO SUCCESS. ALL ELSE IS GREED AND IRRESPONSIBLE BEHAVIOR, FOCUSED ON EGO DESIRES AND DEMANDS. NOW, YOU ARE UPSET!

You wanted me to write on something for “Palm Sunday” that would be magnificent in the eyes and ears of the preachers and worthy of the Celebration of this myth—which brings more shackles, not freedom, upon man individual and in mass. NO, THANK YOU. More appropriate for your understanding is: What do you think Jesus might have done as he watched the slaying of Truth? The shortest verse in your Holy Book answers: “JESUS WEPT”! AND SO, TOO, DID GOD.

Which do you think the “MASTER” appreciates the more: the man who says “I went and spent the afternoon on knees watching the Passion Play enacted,” or the one who STANDS on his feet before a task, such as planting trees in God’s garden, and says, “Here am I, USE ME,

FOR YOUR GLORY AND MY LIFE!”

Did God ask you to go to the Passion Play? Who said? Why? Where do you go? When do you go? AND, what are you supposed to do? Will you always be a spectator or might you EVER see that you must DO SOMETHING IN TRUTH AND REALITY—to even GET IN THE PLAY? You can hang a satanic devil on a tree and that does not make him good, important, great or otherwise anything other than what he is—a man on a tree.

You can, also, plant lilies to decorate your altars and gardens—but WHY? Who said? Where, how, when and who should do it—you or the gardener?

Should EVERYONE plant a Neem tree? Not unless you think all you want to eat are Neem leaves. Are you so robotic that someone actually has to NOW TELL YOU TO BREATHE?

Why do you not get up and get out of your coffin and try living a bit? GOD CREATED YOU FOR LIVING—NOT DYING!

And, aren’t your backsides weary of the sitting load and the knees sore to breaking from the standing on them—after all, God also provided you with FEET UPON WHICH TO STAND IN BALANCE. The only one who might be worthy of standing on his knees—is the man with no forelegs and feet. Ah, “but”, you say: “I can only ‘think’ on my seat or knees!” You will find that the MIND works ever so much the better from the position of PRODUCTION. The hermit on the mountain in the cave is about as selfish a man as exists—and he calls it meditation? Meditation on WHAT—for whom does he think? Why does he choose to do this “sitting” on his backside in a cave away from any ability to share his wisdom? And WHO, exactly, feeds him?

BLIND AS A BAT

Are bats blind? No, they see very well. How about YOU? Are YOU blind? Well, you surely don’t see very well, do you? And, worse for you, you have lost the qualities of life that allow you otherwise to survive: sonar, sound and frequency use—perception of higher realization in sensing. YOU ARE BLIND AS A DEEP-SEA PARASITE, my friends—not a bat.

SO MUCH FOR PASSION AND PARASITES

The big inquiry to the god on high, right now in the chaos of business misadventures, is: “What is going on in the Stock Market of the beam ship lollypop, Wall Street?” Exactly what is planned.

The question is FOR YOU, not for me. What IS going on? You have been told over and over again exactly how it would be and even “when”, “how”, “who”, “where” and “WHY”. So, let’s see what you have learned, for we do not write for my input—for what I offer, I already KNOW. So, will the Wall Street plunge hurt the price of “tea in China”, as the old saying goes, or “the price of gold”, another old saw? Yes, to both. So, what are the headlines? Well, ONLY in the “business” section is it even mentioned in the Philippines general Palm Sunday production.

[QUOTING from the Philippine Star, Sunday, April 16, 2000:]

WALL STREET SUFFERS WORST 1-DAY LOSS IN HISTORY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dow Jones Industrials and NASDAQ Composite Index both suffered record one-day point drops Friday as a new inflation report sparked furious selling that turned into panic as the session wore on.

The Dow plunged 616.23 points, or 5.6 percent, to 10,307.32. At its lowest point, it was off 722 points.

The NASDAQ dropped 354.99, or 9.6 percent, to 3,321.79...

...The day capped one of the worst weeks in Wall Street history...

[END OF QUOTING] ETC., ETC., ETC.

Now, YOU tell me, before I even consider responding: What means NASDAQ? No, tell me the meaning of “N-A-S-D-A-Q”. Tell me, without reading any editorials from Wall Street: What or who is Dow Jones? No, I don’t want “perhaps” or “maybe”—WHAT ARE THESE THINGS and for WHAT are they indexes? Who said? Where? What, When and Why?

Exactly what corporations and how many are listed on the New York Stock Exchange? The Chicago Stock Exchange? How about the Manila Stock Exchange?

Come on, people: THIS IS THE GAME OF THE ELITE BOLSHEVIK SHYSTERS!

ACTUALLY, THE WHOLE THING MAKES OUR DAY EVER SO MUCH MORE ENJOYABLE. A HOUSE WITH NO FOUNDATION WILL FALL. A BUILDING BUILT ON A FOUNDATION OF, SAY, SOLID GOLD—WILL NOT FALL, NOR WILL THE INHABITANTS BE HURT OR EVEN DAMAGED!

But what of that old IMF/WB problem? Oh, well, there are plans to “suicide” both of those corporations in favor of death—not resurrection—of nations and people. These have been the tools for acquisition of assets and enslavement procedures.

What does this do to “Global” assets? It makes them solid and more valuable with the fall of each empty dollar. I am going to repeat something: The “Global” debt we hold is BACKED by GOLD. In any form presented—it “is” gold. It can only increase in value—it cannot be diminished, even in the fall of nations, for it IS a true and binding asset—into infinity!

Here's what I really want you to think about, you who misuse our own assets in your foolish “trading programs” and high-yield nonsense: HOW MUCH MONEY DO YOU REALLY EXPECT TO GET NOW? You who play with the Devil must expect the Devil’s outcome, which is always set in gold for himself and NOTHING FOR YOU. It is the purest basis of “give and take”—YOU GIVE AND HE TAKES!

And what of the things that come with economic collapse? Well, you go bankrupt, of course. Everybody suffers, for there is nothing with which to pay rents or leases, buy luxuries or purchase the fuel to run your toys of convenience. There was already NO VALUE upon which a single paper note was based—or IS BASED. OH, WELL...

When the entire world has come to base its value on worthless paper, you have catastrophe—spelled apocalypse. And THIS VERY THING ensures that God’s Plan shall, will and can WORK.

You who have tried so desperately to destroy my teams and our work are destined by your own actions to lose everything of value you have tried to beg, borrow OR STEAL from us.

Some of you who contributed your efforts and loaned, for projects, to the Phoenix Institute, have outdone yourselves in your relentless needs of ego self. With collapse, you have INTENTIONALLY buried any probability of entity survival—for, from Wall Street to the local bank, values are, at best: TIED UP. So what will you do now, you who have worked so diligently to destroy the assets of others? I really don't know and care even less—these have been your choices.

Ah, but—always is the response, “the gold...”. What gold? When you refused to meet the CALL on gold, the banks absorbed it! It is simple in concept and actuality. This, of course, is a comment on very local and personal things and not relative to the massive overall. However, this will—if it be the “Big One”—be the collapse and loss of just about “everything” as pertains to the “citizens general” of any nation which suffers great collapses and losses through the great corporate institutions who have already enslaved you—it simply means that you slaves sacrifice a bit more and enjoy the rape and the crucifixion of your humiliation. And NO, it doesn't matter what I told you—it only matters what you heard or learned, no more or less. Do YOU actually think the Slave-MASTER is going to go hungry? WAKE UP, “LITTLE SUZY”!

Will the Market recover? Who cares? It is incredibly, without limits, exceptionally good for our ongoing projects in progress. Those who loaned substance to accomplish our work will end up reaping untold rewards, while you who have done everything in your power to break and destroy our plan and our people—will reap whatever consequences come from your actions—YOU CHOSE TO DO WHAT YOU HAVE DONE AND, THEREFORE, YOU SHALL HAVE WHATEVER YOU HAVE. The “probabilities” are there before you, as you might perceive them according to self. The possibilities are there also but few will see them.

Let me hurt your feelings a bit more, chelas. When the Government is in collapse, and you live on Welfare or Social Security—WHO WILL PAY YOU and how, when, where, with what and WHY??

Is a Wall Street piddle in the puddle the real problem here? So be it! And I would guess that pretty soon it will be obvious that our own relatively close observers will find that they crucified THE WRONG PEOPLE! AND NO, THEY DO NOT WANT YOU BACK ON THEIR BACKS, NECKS OR WAGON IF YOU ARE AMONG THOSE OF THE ENEMIES' ENCAMPMENT.

I want you to individually think very, very carefully about what happens in a collapse of a nation or economy—especially worldwide. When the Big Corporations fail, everything else fails. It does not matter whether the cause is intentional or accidental. NOTHING IS ACCIDENTAL! If a corporation is assumed or presumed to have collapsed—oops, it is closed down and bankrupted. This shuts down all labor, all products from that corporation, all tax possibilities from the now non-workers, all welfare—because there is NO MONEY—and what you have here is the possibility of a collapse of the Federal Reserve System, and THUS, THE TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES!

So, wouldn't that also render “our product” worthless? NO, it a thousand times over enhances it, for even if the gold is not available, it is BASED ON GOLD and, therefore, becomes the commodity it represents. It simply means that the “system” must declare a value on the circulating FRN “notes” against the value placed on the asset itself. Each country that fails to do as Malaysia did in the prior debacle will be caught in the wringer.

What might be happening? One thing is for sure and that is that through the chaos, there will be a miserable tightening of funding to countries, probably a global CALL on loans (debts) and—to satisfy with what can be gleaned, as in a “bankruptcy” circumstance—the collateral held against those IMF-WB loans will be SEIZED. So, Pops, there goes the savings account. Those IMF “things” are NOT “grants”, dear ones—they are loans with incredible levels of interest due and owing and it is compounding as you breathe.

What then happens? Ultimately, as planned, those who have sponsored the IMF in the first place will grab all that nice collateral—country, slaves, assets and all!

And NO, I am NOT going to “share and tell”. I have told you how it would be, step by step for fourteen years through this resource alone—and you simply chose to beat my people to death.

You will now experience the program as YOU have brought it to be and you can all sit in your Powwow circles counting one another's toes. If you are wondering about Ekkers in all this, please note: YOU WHO CLAIMED TO BE FRIENDS AND COWORKERS HAVE STOLEN, TAKEN, LIED ABOUT AND THIEVED EVERYTHING YOU COULD GRAB AND STASH. GOOD FOR YOU, FOR WHAT YOU HAVE ACTUALLY ACCOMPLISHED IS THE BRINGING OF EKKERS TO “NOTHING” AND, IN ITS OWN WAY: THAT IS FREEDOM. IF THERE IS NOTHING TO LOSE, CHELAS, THEN YOU CAN'T LOSE MUCH, CAN YOU?

AND LANDLORDS? IN A DEPRESSION, NOTHING IS WORTH MUCH OF ANYTHING AND AT THE LEAST, EKKERS HAVE HOPE AND PROMISE OF SOMETHING IN SPITE OF WHAT HAPPENS. OR, THEY CERTAINLY DON'T GIVE A HOOT ABOUT WHAT HAPPENS TO THOSE WHO HAVE BASHED, TRASHED OR BLAMED THEM. WHEN THE BLOOD IS GONE, THE PARASITES MOVE AWAY—AND IN SOME WAY EVEN THAT REPRESENTS FREEDOM.

“Tainted, from the Dark Side?” You are going to be experiencing from here on in to massive change—the Dark Side—and you are going to find your Lighted Hope was RIGHT HERE and you blew out your little candle. We will be fine. Will you?

I suggest you pay attention, for there are several things you can begin to expect as the calls on nations and loans come to pass and one of them is, as once before in the 1930s, a confiscation and call-in of ALL GOLD—as the Government, through force, calls it in. So, much-unencumbered gold stashes are going to probably be snatched and it will likely be as with the IMF gold buying rate—at about $39/oz. Never mind what the market rate might be. But for a little while gold will hold and increase in value. It will probably take longer for the dollar itself to totally devalue—or—it could be instantly done. I would not, however, really expect that, as in “tomorrow”, because that would ensure the value of Euros.

Since gold is countercyclical to stocks, now is a good time to consider some alternatives—for the world's only REAL form of money is gold. Drugs and arms have become the standard of exchange but both are poor supports when an economy is bankrupt.

Dharma, this is a very good day to offer Erick's writing called “The Wave Behind RAM?” [RAM: Reformed Armed-Forces Movement] [QUOTING:]

THE WAVE BEHIND RAM?

By Erick San Juan

“A state which, sooner or later, fails to base its legitimacy on the defense of the nation, is condemned to disappear,” said General Charles de Gaulle before he assumed the Presidency of France. This warning was probably on the mind of Gen. Rodolfo Canieso, the Government's intelligence chief, when sometime in December 1989 he publicly came out with an estimate showing that if a military outbreak were staged at that time, about 70% of the military would remain neutral.

As we have seen, Canieso's accurate assessment cost him his job, despite the fact that his findings were supported by Gen. Jose Almonte. “Having fired at their fellow soldiers, they are now asking themselves whether this Government (of Cory Aquino) has established institutions worth fighting and even dying for” (TIME, 2/12/90).

But Army General Rodolfo Biazon, Aquino's commander of the National Capital Region, felt otherwise. He blamed the Marcos loyalists, headed by retired Gen. Jose Ma. Zumel, who were “awash with cash”, as the people responsible for igniting the December 1989 RAM uprising. Biazon insisted before members of a House committee tasked to investigate the military mutiny that he knew of one general who had received $47,000 for joining the coup. “Without such funds, the uprising would not have taken place,” Biazon insisted.

A foreign diplomat interviewed by TIME correspondent Jay Branegan agreed with Biazon. “The other problems weren't acute enough to spark a coup attempt by themselves. It took the outside funding element to make it happen.”

But some of RAM's officers were already aware of what was going on around them. A close former CIA operative had already spilled the beans to one of Johnny Ponce-Enrile's close confidants of the real mission why Washington D.C. approved of RAM's covert formation against the Marcos authoritarian Government, handing over a copy of THE TRILATERALS' DEINDUSTRIALIZATION PLOT, written by C.B. Baker for NEWSWATCH, a U.S.-based magazine.

In the August 1987 issue of NEWSWATCH, Baker exposed the following: “Representatives from Indonesia and the Philippines went to Jonathan May and stated that representatives from Chase Manhattan Bank and other banks said they would ‘forgive’ the loans and interest, if they would: (1) Eliminate their national currency, (2) Dollar-denominate their new money system, (3) Use a debit-card system instead of a currency system, and (4) Give the international bankers ‘perpetual’ rights over all their natural resources. Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines refused to accept and was deposed shortly thereafter.”

It is no longer a secret that several Third World countries have already signed agreements with the international bankers giving the latter ‘perpetual’ rights over their natural resources. These countries, like Brazil and Argentina, have already announced that they will not be able to settle their debts. Why? Because they have already surrendered their natural resources to the world financial oligarchy and accepted the numbering system.

What does all this imply? Here's what C.B. Baker wrote: “When enough Third world countries have signed over their natural resources... they will announce forfeiture of payment. This will cause worldwide collapse of the money system. At this juncture, it will be announced that the Arabs are broke. Chaos will erupt in the Middle East. The sheiks will flee with their stocks and dump them onto the New York Stock Exchange to recover money they have invested.”

But there's more, much more.

“Lying and swearing are great American traditions,” says Max Soliven, the influential publisher of the PHILIPPINE STAR. And no one from RAM will dispute this assertion, especially now that the U.S. Government no longer thinks highly of the reformist movement.

After outliving their usefulness, the RAM boys, America's once-upon-a-time “toy soldiers”, have become dangerous “terrorists” at par with the likes of Bin Laden's men.

Soliven is correct in his assertion. A century has already passed and Washington, D.C. still has not changed its impression of the Philippine Army. Our troops are just a bunch of brigands, just like Aquinaldo's ragtag revolutionary forces.

There is a plot to dismantle the Armed Forces of the Philippines. This became evident with the fall of [“strongman”] President Ferdinand Marcos, who organized a strong military to support his nationalist dictatorship. Just like in the predominantly Catholic countries of Ibero-America, the dismantling is being conducted by “international interests: which promote ‘financial speculation’ under the rubric of ‘globalization’”.

The role given to RAM is similar to that assigned to the Argentine Army in 1976. In his open letter to Lt. Gen. Martin Antonio Balza, Chief of Staff of the Argentine Army, imprisoned former Col. Mohamed Ali Seineldin blamed "Project Democracy" launched by Dr. Henry Kissinger and controversial Col. Oliver North as "one of the points of departure for the dismantling of the continent's Armed Forces". In his assessment, the project's ultimate goal was to remove the Armed Forces of the Third World from any central role in national decision-making, and to thus "subordinate them to transnational forces".

Proponents of the clandestine project know that the Armed Forces are natural symbols of the self-determination of nations. A plot, therefore, needed to be hatched in order to dismantle those "toy soldiers".

According to Col. Seineldin, "The trap was to skillfully use the terms 'democracy' and 'human rights' to undermine the military's prestige, and compromise the institution as such, because of the mistakes or illegal actions of some of its members. In this operation, all objectivity was tossed aside, in measuring the degrees of disintegration and chaos which threatened society. Even today, we continue to witness the permanent and calculated attempts to provoke confrontation between civilians and the military carried out by various media, to the grave detriment of our national integration" (EIR, 10/24/97).

The campaign to destroy Ibero-America's Armed Forces was denounced with the greatest clarity by Brazilian General Jones Correa Neto, when he resigned from his position as Chief of Staff, blaming then President Fernando Collor de Mello for "launching the plot in the interest of the most powerful nations" (Ibid., p. 38).

Tasso urged all the well-meaning people in the world to read Lyndon LaRouche's The Plot to Annihilate the Armed Forces and the Nations of Ibero-America, in order to be forewarned of the dangers of globalism.

In his book, Lyndon LaRouche points to the lunatic "Third Wave" cult of Alvin Toffler and former U.S. House Speaker Newt Gingrich as the secret society tasked to destroy the Third World's Armed Forces, and allow the early takeover of the whole planet by a new globalist order, in which the world's political affairs and ideas are controlled by less than five percent of the world's population. "That is why the British Commonwealth has deployed its George Soros and the MST cult into an attempted early takeover of Brazil and the immediately adjoining nations of South America," LaRouche says.

The current propaganda war launched by the media against the RAM officers implicated in the murder of leftist labor leader Rolando Olalia shows how well the "Third Wave" cult has insinuated itself in Philippine society. If the AFP does not watch out, we shall be in the forefront of what Col. Seineldin calls the "first world of misery, unemployment, defenselessness, and with a growing foreign debt".

No Armed Forces of a democratic state should allow themselves to be used as tools of savage capitalism, "whose tentacles move in the world of usury and financial speculation". Unfortunately, even for just a little while, the RAM Boys allowed themselves to be unwittingly used by the Anglo-American Establishment. Now they've learned their lesson and it's not yet too late.

[END OF QUOTING]

By the way: CHRIST WAS SENT FORTH AS A "MAN" TO SAVE PEOPLE FROM A BELIEF "IN SIN" INSTEAD OF "FROM SIN". SIN IS THE FALLING SHORT OF PERFECTION, OR, BEING IN ERROR.

We Are The Counter-Weights To Things Of The Slave-Masters

4/18/00—#1 (13-246)

GOD DOES NOT JUDGE,
SO "FORGIVENESS" IS NOT AMONG THE THINGS OF GOD'S PERCEPTION

AND ALWAYS REMEMBER:

"CONFUSION" IS THE OPPOSITE OF GOD

Hatonn—FRIENDS, WHEN YOU STOP TRYING TO DO EVERYTHING "YOUR WAY" AND TURN INTO DOING THEM "GOD'S WAY"—YOU HAVE ACHIEVED VICTORY.

WHAT MEANS THE "STOCK MARKET" UPS AND DOWNS?

I WOULD PREFER TO WASTE NO TIME AT ALL ON THAT TOPIC BUT I WOULD POINT OUT A FEW TRICKS OF THE ADVERSARIAL WORLD CONQUISTADORS.

(1) CREATE A DIVERSION (FROM WHATEVER ELSE IS TAKING PLACE).

ACCOMPLISHED!

(2) TEST THE SYSTEM TO SEE IF, IN FACT, THE NATIONS WILL FOLLOW BLINDLY ALONG WITH WHATEVER IS BEING PUT FORTH.

ACCOMPLISHED!

(3) COME BACK EVEN "SEEMINGLY" MUCH STRONGER SO THE "KINGS" MAKE A KILLING AND THE CITIZENS TAKE A BEATING—AGAIN AND AGAIN.

ACCOMPLISHED!

(4) BASICALLY, START FEEDING THIRD WORLD COUNTRIES TO THE LIONS (OR THE TIGER, WHICHEVER COMES FIRST).

ACCOMPLISHED!

(5) SHOW EVERYBODY AROUND THAT CONTROL RESTS IN THE HANDS OF THE VERY FEW.

ALL BUT GERMANY FELL FOR THE BAIT, SWITCH AND CAPTURE! COULD GERMANY BE HAVING AFTERSHOCK SYMPTOMS OF THE TRICKSTERS?

(6) DO YOUR DIRTY DEEDS IN THE U.S., WHERE THE CENTRAL POWER LAYS, AND DO-IN THE ASIAN SECTOR BECAUSE ITS TRADING DAY IS A "DAY AHEAD" AND CAN EASILY BE MANIPULATED AND, IF THE TIME IS RIGHT, WIPE OUT THE BABIES IN JUST 15 MINUTES.

(7) STOCK MARKETS ARE NOTHING EXCEPT GIGANTIC GAMBLING CASINOS WHERE THE "HOUSE" HAS EVERYTHING TOTALLY CALCULATED, MANIPULATED AND FIXED.

TRIAL RUN ACCOMPLISHED!

AND YES, I COULD DO VOLUMES ON JUST

ONE TOPIC AFTER ANOTHER IN POINTING THESE THINGS OUT TO EVERYONE. THAT IS NEITHER MY WISH NOR MY INTENT.

GOD'S PROMISE IS TO PROVIDE THAT WHICH WILL BALANCE, PROVIDE SUPPORT AND BACKUP TO THOSE WISHING TO RECOVER. WE ARE THE COUNTER-WEIGHTS AND RESOURCES TO THOSE THINGS OF THE SLAVE-MASTERS.

(8) WHAT JUST HAPPENED CAUSES A SHIFT BACK INTO THE ALREADY GIGANTIC MANIPULATORS' POCKETS WHILE DUMPING THE LITTLE GUYS, THUS PRONOUNCING DEATH TO MOST OF THE SMALLER COMPETITORS.

ACCOMPLISHED!

(9) LIKE LOSING WEIGHT TO ONLY GAIN BACK MORE, THE SLAVE-MASTERS WILL SUCK YOU BACK IN AND YOU WILL FINALLY LOSE EVERYTHING—EXCEPT THE WEIGHT. EVENTUALLY, YOU CERTAINLY WILL, HOWEVER, LOSE THE WEIGHT BECAUSE, AS PLANNED, YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO AFFORD FOOD—AND WHO WILL BE GROWING THE FOOD? AFTER ALL, THE GROWERS ARE TAKING THE WORST HIT AND THAT MEANS YOU CAN THEN BE BUMPED OFF AT THE MOST CONVENIENT TIME FOR THE MASTERS AND YOUR LEAST ABLE TIME TO EVEN HAVE RESERVES.

ACCOMPLISHED! AND MORE IMPORTANTLY THEY KNOW YOU WHO HAVE JUST POSSIBLY ESCAPED THE SLAUGHTER IN THE SLAUGHTERHOUSE—WILL TURN AROUND AND WILLINGLY MARCH RIGHT BACK INTO IT AND WAIT YOUR TURN. THIS, WHILE PUTTING "DOWN" THE ONES WHO ACTUALLY WARNED THEM TO BEWARE. THEY WILL ACTUALLY DEMAND POLICE PROTECTION TO ALLOW THEM TO MAINTAIN THEIR PLACE IN LINE FOR THE CHOPPER.

IN ONE WEEKEND, THE ELITE BANKSTERS/POWER-MASTERS LEARNED EVERYTHING THEY NEEDED TO KNOW (THEY THINK) AND SET THE STAGE TO DO ANYTHING THEY CHOOSE WITH SUCH AS THE IMF/WB FIASCO.

HOW DO WE FEEL ABOUT IT ALL? WONDERFUL, FOR WHEN YOU HAVE THE "BIG GUYS" RUNNING A TEST LIKE THEY JUST CONCLUDED FOR THE WEEKEND, IT GIVES US THE INFORMATION WE MUST ALSO HAVE TO BETTER SEE WHERE, HOW, WHAT, WHEN AND WHY WE CAN BETTER FUNCTION.

IT IS NOW OBVIOUSLY APPARENT THAT HAD, AS SUGGESTED, THE PHILIPPINE STOCK MARKET SIMPLY TAKEN A MONDAY

HOLIDAY, THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN NO LOSS AT ALL ON THAT BOURSE.

THE DESTRUCTION OF SOUTHEAST ASIA, READERS, IS UNDER WAY, AND IT IS AT THE HANDS OF THE SAME PLAYERS AS ALWAYS.

CAN IT BE STOPPED? YES, WHEN ENOUGH PEOPLE WANT TO STOP IT! MOREOVER, IT WILL, IF AT ALL, BE STOPPED THROUGH GROWTH AND FUNDAMENTAL MORALITY.

WHEN YOU GET TIRED OF BEING THE BOUNCING PUPPET WITH WOODEN FEET DANGLING IN THE FIRE, PERHAPS YOU WILL CUT THE STRINGS AND RUN FOR THE NEAREST WATER TO PUT OUT THE FIRE! (???)

WHY IS THIS CONSIDERED A NEGATIVE PROBLEM?

BECAUSE IF THE HUMANIST PRETENDERS TO THE CONTROL OF THE WORLD MAKE THEIR GAME A REALITY, YOU CAN EXPECT THE EXPLOITATION TO CONTINUE UNTIL ALL ARE DEAD IN THE PHYSICAL PRESENTATION, ALONG WITH THE PLANET (EARTH) ITSELF. WHEN LIFE CANNOT LONGER BE SUSTAINED, EVEN THE PLANET ITSELF HAS TO "BE PUT OUT TO PASTURE" OR SENT TO THE GLUE FACTORY.

IT IS YOUR VISUAL DEMONSTRATION (IN YOUR FACE) TO SHOW YOU THAT MAN, AS ADVERSARY TO HIMSELF AND IN SERVICE TO THE OPPOSITION TO GOD CREATOR, CAN ONLY DAMAGE AND DESTROY WHAT EXISTS—ONLY GOD, ET AL., ARE GIVEN THE ONE GREATEST GIFT OF ALL THINGS: THE ABILITY TO CREATE! AND, WHEN YOU TURN UNTO CREATING IN POSITIVE WAYS THAT WHICH CAUSES GOD'S ALREADY MANIFEST CREATIONS TO FLOURISH, YOU SHALL FLOURISH.

THIS CANNOT TAKE PLACE IN THE HALLS OF "DOCTRINES" OF "CHURCHES" OR HUMAN MANIFEST CULTS BECAUSE THE DETERMINATION OF INSTRUCTIONS RESTS WITH MAN, WHO HAS PROVEN OVER AND OVER AND OVER AGAIN THAT HE WILL AND DOES DESTROY THE VERY THINGS HE CLAIMS TO "SAVE".

YOU ENSLAVE YOURSELVES, SO BLAME NO OTHER!

I WOULD POINT OUT SOMETHING WHICH ELUDES MOST PEOPLE IN THEIR NARROW WORLDS OF "GET". LET US CONSIDER WOOD PRODUCTS, AS JUST ONE EXAMPLE. SO, YOU LEARN THAT WOOD IS GOOD FOR HOUSING, PAPER, MAKING BOXES AND TOOTHPICKS, YEA, EVEN AS A FOOD RESOURCE. SO YOU GO FORTH AND CUT DOWN ALL THE TREES. YOU HAVE NOW DESTROYED THE ONLY RESOURCE ON LAND FOR PRODUCING THE VERY OXYGEN YOU MUST HAVE TO SURVIVE. WORSE, YOU HAVE IN YOUR IDIOCY DESTROYED YOUR ECOSYSTEM AND ALTERED WEATHER PATTERNS, WHICH CAN IN TURN DESTROY THE REST OF YOUR ENVIRONMENT.

IF YOU JUST PLANNED FOR RENEWAL AND ACTED ON THAT PLAN, YOU COULD

LITERALLY BRING (CREATE) THAT WHICH SERVES "BETTER" THAN RANDOM SELECTION. YOU CAN PLANT RENEWABLE TREES OR PLANTS FOR FIBERS WHICH MAKE FAR BETTER PAPER, AND YOU CAN BLEND THESE WITH OTHER PRODUCTS WHICH PROVIDE FAR BETTER BUILDING MATERIALS.

BUT WHAT DO YOU DO? YOU TURN TO THE VERY THINGS WHICH DESTROY, IN YOUR GRASP FOR THAT BRASS RING. YOU WILL HOP ON THE MOST DESTRUCTIVE THING TO MAN RIGHT NOW, THE HIGH-YIELD PROGRAMS THAT TAKE WITHOUT RECOURSE OR RETURN. YOU WANT SOMETHING AND A LOT MORE—FOR NOTHING. IT WILL NEVER WORK WELL BUT YOU WILL BE SO DAMAGED IN LEARNING THAT LESSON AS TO STAGGER THE LOGICAL THINKING MAN'S MIND.

IF WE MIGHT LEAVE THOSE TOPICS FOR NOW, I WOULD LIKE TO MOVE ON THROUGH PRESENTING SOME OF THE MORE PERTINENT INFORMATION FOR RECOGNITION OF THE CART FROM THE HORSE. AS PICTURES BEGIN TO TAKE PLACE FROM THE MYRIADS OF PIECES, YOU CAN AT SOME POINT SEE EXACTLY WHAT IS TAKING PLACE AND WHO IS PAINTING YOUR PICTURE FOR YOU.

THEREFORE, IS IT MY INTENTION TO TREAT YOU LIKE CHILDREN WITH A BLANK PAGE ON WHICH TO SPLATTER YOUR COLORS INTO A BLOB AND CALL IT ART? NO. WE DO NOT LIKE TO DEAL WITH IGNORANT CHILDREN AND CERTAINLY ABHOR THE PROBLEM OF "CHILDISH" PEOPLE IN DENIAL AND SELF-INFLICTED CONFUSION.

MY RECOGNITION DEMANDS THAT INSIDE EVERY CONFUSED AND IGNORANT CHILD IS AN ADULT SCREAMING TO GET OUT!

SO, WHILE WE ARE FOCUSED ON, FOR INSTANCE, THE PHILIPPINES, WE ARE GOING TO USE AS EXAMPLES EVENTS WHICH ARE UNFOLDING IN THAT AREA OF INTRIGUE. AND, SINCE WE HAVE CONNECTIONS WITH WRITERS AND INFORMATION AS TO DOCUMENTED FACTS, ETC., WE WILL MOVE ON THROUGH A FEW MORE OF SAN JUAN'S ARTICLES.

[QUOTING:]

COALITION OR COLLISION

By Erick San Juan

IN THE ANATOMY OF REVOLUTION, CRANE BURTON TELLS US THAT REVOLUTIONARIES TEND TO BE THOSE "WHO FIND AN INTOLERABLE GAP BETWEEN WHAT THEY HAVE COME TO WANT (THEIR NEEDS) AND WHAT THEY ACTUALLY GET". THIS DEADLY SIN OF COVETOUSNESS IS WHAT HOUNDED PRESIDENT CORY AQUINO'S ADMINISTRATION FROM THE BEGINNING. ALL OF A SUDDEN, LIBERATORS BEGAN TO ACT LIKE CONQUERORS. THE SPOILS WERE DIVIDED AMONG THEM AND THE POLITICAL COALITIONS ENDED UP IN COLLISION.

AFTER ONLY A FEW MONTHS OF ABSOLUTE POWER, THE NEW RAINBOW-COLORED REGIME FOUND ITSELF STRUGGLING IN THE MIDST OF A TURBULENT POLITICAL CLIMATE. DARK CLOUDS OF DOUBT AND DISAPPOINTMENT WERE DESCENDING, AND NO SOCIAL OR ECONOMIC SHELTER COULD BE FOUND.

THERE WERE TALKS OF A LOYALIST COUNTER-REVOLUTION AND ALSO OF A MILITARY COUP. THANKS TO THE CAT-QUICK REFLEXES OF CONSPIRATORIAL GROUPS AND THEIR PAID HACKS, CORY'S GOVERNMENT GOT WIND OF CERTAIN SECRET PLANS OF THE POLITICAL OPPOSITION AND THWARTED THEM BEFORE THEY COULD INFLICT DAMAGE.

THE FIRST ANTI-CORY OUTBREAK TO BE QUELLED WAS A LOYALIST ATTEMPT AT THE MANILA HOTEL. WHAT BEGAN AS A SERIOUS ENDEAVOR TO BRING BACK THE OLD GLORY OF THE MARCOS ERA ENDED IN TRAGIC COMEDY, AS A GREAT NUMBER OF LOYALIST LEADERS SOLD OUT TO THE CORYISTAS EVEN BEFORE THE UPRISING COULD GET OFF THE GROUND.

HOWEVER, SOMETHING MUCH MORE SERIOUS WAS QUIETLY BREWING ELSEWHERE. IRKED BY AQUINO'S "SOFT APPROACH" TOWARD THE INSURGENCY PROBLEM, DEFENSE MINISTER JUAN PONCE ENRILE BEGAN TO CRITICIZE GOVERNMENT INACTION. IN NO TIME AT ALL, ENRILE BECAME THE MOST OUTSPOKEN CRITIC OF THE GOVERNMENT. IT WAS AT THIS TIME WHEN ENRILE BEGAN MEETING WITH HIS ALLIES AND FRIENDS IN THE AFP, A FACT LATER ON REVEALED BY A GENERAL OF A MAJOR SERVICE COMMAND TO THE DAVIDE COMMISSION.

ACCORDING TO THIS GENERAL, SOMETIME AROUND THE MIDDLE OF OCTOBER 1986, ENRILE, WHO HAD JUST COME FROM CEBU, INVITED HIM FOR A MEETING, WHICH WAS HELD A WEEK LATER. AFTER BEING ESCORTED TO THE DEFENSE MINISTRY'S RECEPTION HALL BY "RAM" (Reform Armed Forces Movement) COL. TITO LEGASPI, THE GENERAL WAS GIVEN A 10-MINUTE BRIEFING BY ENRILE. AFTER INFORMING THE GENERAL THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS IN BAD SHAPE, ENRILE ALLEGEDLY TOLD HIM: "IT'S ABOUT TIME THAT WE TAKE BACK THE AUTHORITY WE GAVE THEM."

THE GENERAL IMMEDIATELY INFORMED AFP CHIEF OF STAFF GEN. FIDEL RAMOS OF THE COUP PLAN HATCHED BY THE ENRILE CAMP. IT WAS A REHASH OF THE ORIGINAL PLAN AGAINST MARCOS IN FEBRUARY: SEND A COMMANDO TEAM TO RAID THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE, CAPTURE MRS. AQUINO AND PRESSURE HER TO ACT AS A MERE FIGUREHEAD.

THE COUP PLAN, CODE-NAMED "GOD SAVE THE QUEEN", [H: CUTE!] WAS SUPPOSED TO INVOLVE ALSO A CONTINGENT OF MARINES AUGMENTED BY ELEMENTS OF THE ARMY'S 1ST LIGHT ARMOR BRIGADE.

"IT WAS THE FIRST SERIOUS CHALLENGE TO THE CIVIL GOVERNMENT INSTALLED AT CLUB FILIPINO ON 25 FEBRUARY, 1986," WRITES PAULYNN SICAM OF THE CHRONICLE, "AS SUCH, IT ESTABLISHED THE PATTERN THAT WAS TO BE REPEATED IN SUBSEQUENT COUPS—THAT DESPITE THE FACTIONAL FISSURES THAT TORE THE ARMED FORCES OF THE PHILIPPINES APART, IT OPTED TO INSTITUTIONALLY SUPPORT THE PRINCIPLE THAT THE CONSTITUTIONAL SYSTEM SHOULD PREVAIL" (10/7/90).

THE TRUTH IS, SOMEONE TIPPED OFF BIG BROTHER ABOUT ENRILE'S PLAN AND THE REST OF THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT WERE ORDERED TO SUPPORT THE PUPPET GOVERNMENT OF CORAZON AQUINO. ON THE FIRST WEEK IN NOVEMBER 1986, U.S. CONGRESSMAN STEPHEN SOLARZ SUDDENLY VISITED MANILA. THE REASON FOR HIS PRESENCE IS OBVIOUS. HE WAS SENT BY THE HIDDEN HANDS. COMMENTING ON THE CABINET BICKERING, THE NEW YORK SOLON TOLD THE PRESS THAT IT WOULD BE BETTER FOR THE PRESIDENT TO FIRE ENRILE FROM HIS POST AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

SOLARZ, WHO SPEARHEADED THE COMMITTEE OF 300'S CRUSADE AGAINST THE NATIONALIST MARCOS FROM HIS POST AS CHAIRMAN OF THE HOUSE FOREIGN RELATIONS SUB-COMMITTEE ON ASIA AND THE PACIFIC, FREQUENTLY VISITED THE PHILIPPINES—BUT IN DIFFERENT CAPACITIES. THERE WERE TIMES WHEN HE WOULD [FLY] IN, NOT AS AN AMERICAN LAWMAKER BUT AS "THE FRONT MAN FOR THE SYRIAN-JEWISH COMMUNITY OF NEW YORK, WITH WHICH JACK NASSER, OWNER OF ONE OF THE LARGEST TEXTILE FIRMS IN THE PHILIPPINES, THE BERNSTEIN BROTHERS, AND FORMER AMEXCO CHAIRMAN EDMOND SAFRA ARE ALL CLOSELY TIED" (EIR, Al Douglas, July 1986).

From the foregoing, one can see that Defense Minister Juan Ponce Enrile was, by no stretch of the imagination, an enemy of the Republic of the Philippines. Then who is [the enemy]?

"THE ENEMY IS CLEARLY IDENTIFIABLE AS THE COMMITTEE OF 300, THE CLUB OF ROME, NATO AND ALL OF ITS AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS, THE THINK TANKS AND RESEARCH INSTITUTIONS CONTROLLED BY TAVISTOCK," says Dr. Coleman, "this is the power that brought to life the reign of terror in Russia, the Bolshevik Revolution, World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam, the fall of Rhodesia (Zimbabwe), South Africa, Nicaragua and the Philippines" (Conspirators' Hierarchy: The Committee of 300, p. 81).

Coleman's findings are supported by Al Douglas of the Executive Intelligence Review (EIR), the official publication of the LaRouche Movement. In his July 1986 article entitled "Dope Inc.'s Bid to Wreck the Philippines", Douglas reveals the following:

"The January-February 1986 issue of the newsletter of the Georgetown Center for Strategic Studies [CSS] reported in detail on the October 1985 two-day 'simulation' of the overthrow of Ferdinand Marcos and takeover of the Philippines by the New People's Army (see EIR, Nov. 8, 1985). A box on the same page drew attention to the fact that much of the CSS's Asian work is made possible by million-dollar grants from the C.V. Starr Foundation of New York. Just what is this Foundation and why is it so interested in the Philippines?

"CSS further reported, regarding the chief executive of the $13 billion Starr insurance empire, Maurice R. 'Hank' Greenberg, that 'this global political economic expertise, especially with regard to the East Asian region, has been an important intellectual asset to CSIS,' and that Greenberg was a key figure on the CSS Board of Councilors, which is CHAIRED BY HENRY KISSINGER. CSS FUNCTIONS AS A SEMI-OFFICIAL BACK CHANNEL TO THE SOVIET UNION FOR THE U.S. STATE DEPARTMENT.

"Maurice Greenberg, as CSS noted, is an influential man, through the weight of his Asian-centered multibillion-dollar insurance empire, his own personal fortune estimated at $250-500 million, as well as the company he keeps. He is an adviser to CIA chief William Casey and was in excellent position to help Casey, his reputed business partner, run the destabilization and final overthrow of Marcos."

Douglas identifies Greenberg's deep penetration agents (DPAs) in the Marcos Government, namely: (1) Finance Minister Roberto Ongpin; (2) Central Bank head Jose "Jobo" Fernandez; (3) Development Bank of the Philippines head Cesar Zalamea; and (4) former Finance Minister Cesar Virata, a proponent of the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

"Where Greenberg leads, Ongpin, Zalamea, Fernandez and Virata will be right behind," adds Douglas.

In the Philippines, Greenberg operates in cooperation with another network centered on the grouping around Jack Nasser, Solarz's secret employer. Nasser's cousin, Nessim Gaon, is reportedly the business partner of Tel Aviv-based gunrunner Shaul Eisenberg, a.k.a. the "Armand Hammer of China", who spends seven months out of the year in Beijing. THE SYRIAN-JEWISH NETWORKS, ACCORDING TO DOUGLAS, ARE DESCENDED FROM THE OPIUM AND PRECIOUS-METALS SMUGGLING NETWORKS OPERATING FOR CENTURIES THROUGHOUT THE LEVANT, BY THE CORRUPT OLD FAMILIES OF VENICE.

GREENBERG'S C.V. STARR CO. OWNS PHILIPPINE-AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE, WHICH UNDERWRITES ALL THE BANKS IN THE COUNTRY. THIS, ALONE, IS ENOUGH TO DISSUADE ANY POLITICAL GROUP FROM DESTABILIZING ANY PRESIDENT SPONSORED BY THE COMMITTEE OF 300.

Enrile's planned mutiny, which was set on the midnight of Nov. 11, 1986 never happened. And to this day, he blames the Americans for it. "The civil authorities had very little idea of what was going on at Camp Aguinaldo," Paulynn Sicam recalls, "The fate of the civil government was decided in the conflict between the Defense Department, which was transformed into a garrison by Enrile's security chief, Col. Gregorio Honasan, and AFP headquarters, where General Ramos and his allies fortified themselves." In the end, it was the officers' headcount that decided the phantom battle. Ramos secured the loyalty of key service commanders for the constitutional system. For this, Ramos was awarded the presidency after Cory. The conspiracy theorists believe it.

Meanwhile, Enrile lost his defense post. But the RAM Boys lived to fight another day.

[END OF QUOTING]

As you acquire more and more truth in information, may you also acquire more and more realization as to your pathway, for it is the mind that is the most important factor—for it will always find a way to create a "way" to accomplish what your thoughts express by your desire.

My rather blunt question to you who bitch, moan and complain about our way being a bit treacherous: DID YOU REALLY EXPECT TO SERVE GOD, IN A WORLD THAT IS TOTALLY USURPED BY SATANIC POWER, AND NOT HAVE ANY INTERFERENCE IN YOUR LIFE?

And I would again leave you with this reminder: If you hope for more, CREATE more! Do not wait for better times. Do what you can NOW with what you NOW HAVE.

Salu and good morning. GCH

OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE

There are many ways in which one can participate in the glorious unfolding of this once-in-many-eras opportunity to change around this planet. While some of us have the honor of participating directly, involved in it as we are with our day-to-day work, you, the reader of this newspaper, can join with the Mission in other ways: through your financial support of this effort and through your positive thoughts.

Know that it is YOU who sustain the Mission by all that you think and do. YOU are "the wind beneath our wings".

Financial contributions will, as always, be treated as loans, with the promise of full return to the lenders.

Positive thoughts are promised an even greater return. So, if you thought this message wasn't for you, simply because you cannot afford a monetary contribution—THINK AGAIN!

CREATE A Better World!

FORGIVE AND FORGET?

Hatonn—To forget is to bear certainty of repeating the errors. Forgiveness is not a good word in the English language. So, let us take time here to consider what is actually meant by the old saw: “Forgive and Forget”.

“Forgive me, Father, for I have sinned,” is a good place to start. At best, this confession simply says: “Father (whoever that might be), I have erred and grant me opportunity to do better...”. “Forget” indicates that we will now bury the experience, good or bad. And that one, “Think only on good things...”? Well, you learn best from gross errors right down to tiny ones, so who do you think might be urging you to think only on the “goodly” things of, say, a relationship in which evil deeds and thoughts have prevailed? It is NOW TIME you all, ALL, started thinking on those negative things you do, for you are about to bury the world—and you act as if the lie is truth and forgetting about it is THE answer, not the correction of the errors.

If you “forgive a debt”, what means that? Well, literally, it simply means “the debt no longer ‘is’” and “I forgive the repayment of your debt of money you might owe to me...”. This is the usual expectation when agreements are broken but I ask YOU: If you owe or are owed a debt of something from someone, etc., have “I” the right to forgive it—FOR YOU? As in “Oh, well...?” And take, clearly, note:

Esu is told (300 years after the deed) to have said: “Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.” Oh? Who is “they” and are “they” still lurking around in the banks, at the farm, around the house, in the bedroom—where? WHERE AND WHO ARE THESE “THEM”?

If, indeed, it was “Jesus” and it was some 2000 years (yarns) past, the yarn has really “gone a long way, baby”. And, I most certainly can assure that the man being nailed to planks on Golgotha hillock was not in a mood to consider “forgiving” those with the hammer and shackles. IF he said “Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do!”, he was asking “THE FATHER” “who art in heaven...” to do the forgiving, just as he asked that same Father to “take this cup from me...”.

FORGIVENESS has nothing to do with evil! Evil “is” and it exists—and you are to “take a stand” against evil where it is encountered.

God allows and even “that” is not “forgiveness”. Forgiveness is a term created by miscreants to get their dirty deeds absolved without any responsibility—save a few “Hail Mary, full of Grace”. Mary, full of grace? How filled with “grace” do you think you would be if you were mother or father to a young man being hanged on a cross to die for the scum who decided to have a “good hanging day”?

And, I am asked by some Filipinos about the hanging. It is a grand TRADITION for people to reenact, literally, the nail driving, the side pricking and the standing of the crosses, with “actors” on them, each annual CELEBRATION of this gross event, which falls on one of the most deadly of the Satanic holidays. Well, I always like to note that a bunch of P----- murdered TRUTH, no more and no less, for at least 2000 years to come. And resurrection? Well, since a soul CANNOT die in the first place, you do not have resurrection, for nothing ever died. So, I ask you: WHEN DID YOU EVER—EVER—SIT AND CONSIDER THE IDIOCY OF SUCH FABLES?

God said, it is said, “Thou shall not kill.” So, what do you do? You kill from the conception of a baby in a womb to the elderly or those who try to protect their property or the opposite and call it self-defense which is also called “murder”, either way. So, does a killer deserve, also, death? Perhaps, that is not my decision, is it? But what YOU do is very personally YOUR responsibility, and there is no man to come and take that responsibility FROM YOU to make you comfortable in the LIE.

You are told to “honor and love your neighbor as self”, and you deliberately envy, steal, rape and pillage your neighbor. Do you actually think another man can “forgive you”? Say, one who never even met you? Are you crazy, or are the gods crazy?

God tells you not to steal! And, you go forth and even in the VERY NAME OF GOD, you all steal—from the pulpits of the churches, so-called ‘of God’, to conjuring elaborate con scams at the expense of another, to doing a better and bigger job of stealing, OR COVERING YOUR ASS-ETTS AFTER YOU HAVE DONE THE DIRTY, NASTY DEEDS. Then you take up your pious face and deny truth, while turning on your victim with blame and false accusings. Why, in the name of Truth and Light, would God or anyone else turn, twitter, giggle and give you absolution of your criminal deeds?

You have simply conjured a lie to protect the transgressions which, after all, are never covered—only allowed to grow and multiply like rot in a barrel of fruit.

You have to start over, chelas—in TRUTH. And no, I NOR MINE offer you such stupid and insipid returns for your transgressions or your misdeeds. GOD ALLOWS; man must take responsibility.

Now you come to another old “saying”: “If God be for me, who can stand against me?” Well, just about EVERYBODY! God allows and YOU IN YOUR PROCLAIMING THAT GOD IS “WITH YOU” CUTS NOTHING! GOD IS TRUTH AND, THEREFORE, THAT WHICH IS OF THE LIE IS ALLOWED, BUT NOT SANCTIONED AS GOODNESS. You claim what some indoctrinated “human being” pronounces as the “way it is”, right after he just lied for two hours—TO YOU—about just about everything else in the book. This old saw is usually used as you march to war to kill your kids in your sanctimonious BS (bilious stupidity).

Have I, then, the “right” to interfere or intervene as demanded, usually by BOTH SIDES of a debate? No, unless petitioned for GOOD. People wishing and demanding to remain in slavery are welcome to do whatever they choose to hasten their own demise but, when asked to support a GOODLY and RIGHT cause, God sends the response which allows for that coming up out of the pits of slavery and INTO FREEDOM—but you have to do the climbing, as the tools are made available—BY OTHERS WILLING TO CLIMB OUT OF THE WALLOW. GOD PROVIDES “THE WAY”, AS IN AVAILABLE, WORKABLE WAYS TO ACCOMPLISH ANYTHING THE MIND CAN CONJURE; HE DOES NOT DO IT FOR YOU AND HE WILL NOT SANCTION DECEPTION, LIES OR CHEATING, EVEN IF HE ALLOWS IT UNTIL IT MAKES ITS CIRCLE BACK INTO AND WITHIN THE “LIGHT” OF DAY AND DISCLOSURE.

Until YOU get this cleared up, my dears, you are going to continue to wallow around in the muck and mire of enslavement quarters as the slave-masters finally eke out every last drop of your lifeblood.

And, kiddies, when you do something and then come forth and proclaim in MY NAME that the deed must be hidden, lest you be discovered and truth made public, I immediately ask that the messages be run in every possible public place. IF YOU SPEAK IN MY NAME OR “FOR ME”, BE READY; I HIDE NOTHING AND THOSE ARE THE INSTRUCTIONS TO MY TEAM.

A person having not been in touch with Doris for well over five years suddenly felt compelled to write FOR ME, USING MY PERSON DIRECTLY, TO DENOUNCE DHARMA/DORIS ALL THE WAY TO MANILA. THE MESSAGE WAS SENT VIA, OF COURSE, THE VERY SPECTRUM CULT CRIMINALS WHO HAD ALL HAD ACCESS TO THE WRITING AND POSTED IT ON THE INTERNET AND BY ELECTRONIC MAIL, AS WELL AS REFERENCING IT IN SPECTRUM. This party then panicked in the lie of presentation and quickly wrote another “personal message” from me, journalist Hatonn, to NOT PUBLISH the message, for it was personal to Doris to denounce and pound her further in the blood-pit. Oh, indeed, this party is in CONSTANT contact with the “opposition” party.

Now, I ask you? What to do?

Well, the message is a LIE. The resource is not valid and is, therefore, a lie. The solution as to desire to STOP our ongoing “mission” would wipe out all we have built to date toward freedom and TRUTH, and is, therefore, ill-conceived at best—deliberately evil in FACT.

Therefore, this having been now posted to the Internet by our “proclaimed” destroyer enemies: PRINT THE MESSAGES AND GIVE THE ROUTINGS OF THE DELIVERY—DORIS WAS THE “LAST” TO GET THE PERSONAL MESSAGE TO HER—FROM, TOUTEDLY, ME WHO WORKS WITH HER A THOUSAND TIMES OR MORE A DAY. Somehow, after having just this year put thousands of pages to print and being in constant presence, I supposedly cannot cause Dharma to hear me? (???) So, along comes someone who has been lost to Doris’ recognition for over five years—suddenly through Doris’ worst enemies, “tricked” into writing this idiotic nonsense. Well, the kids causing the lies to pour like honey on the cake onto this person’s ears, directly, didn’t realize that this person would actually sit and write such garbage and uncover them further. So, now you have a good idea of who might be “them” in the biblical sense, as you now can see that “them” are “they” who are against Truth and Lighted realization.

These people demand and plead and pray (they say) for Dharma to realize the dark energies and turn from them. Wow and wow, thank you—she did and has—including all at SPECTRUM AND THE ONES PASSING SUCH TOTAL GARBAGE AROUND THE ELECTRONIC TOILET.

Response? Well, Doris just marks off a few more names from her “try to fix it” list, breathes easier and drops these parasites from her feed basket, while taking a stand against the EVIL sent forth in the pious poison of the silent viper’s spewing.

We have nothing to hide nor shall we protect the very enemy as “they” (them) spew their venom upon the lands and into the hearts and minds of fellow tricksters.

Forgiveness? NO, THANK YOU, Doris says, and reminds you who might read this: “GOD FORGIVES, FOR I HAVE NO RIGHT EXCEPT TO DO ONE THING: STAND AGAINST EVIL AND LIES WHERE I ENCOUNTER THEM WHEN THEY ARE SENT AGAINST ‘ME’.” And, “I shall meet my responsibilities where they ARE and that is just the way of it.” Forgiveness of EVIL is that tool with which FOOLS use to lie, cheat and steal. “I may well be ignorant in many things, but I am neither stupid nor a fool and I shall always endeavor to seek ways to avoid the foolish concepts or deceptions.”

So, have old E-E’s been destroyed and worn down to nubbies? Perish the thought; they have NEVER in history been stronger, more right in mind, soul and duty—and we thank you, proclaimed enemies, for in your attempt to destroy, you have built my foundation upon which man can now have the wherewithal to break from his bondage. It is a good day for us of the goodly troops.

People who consort in blind foolishness with evil liars, cheats, thieves and who commit actual unlawful (the land’s) acts, are destined to continue in the pit with them and oh, indeed, you will be used for their purposes, JUST AS HAS SUZY IN HER INNOCENT IGNORANCE OF THIS VERY SPAN OF TIME CALLED A “WEEK”.

Suzy presents—IN MY NAME—lies. Lies? Yes, indeed, for the FACTS are well known, well documented, transcribed, recorded in picture form, written form and witnessed form. So, who, exactly, is the dupe of dark-side trickery? Isn’t it time you children stopped the nonsense? For any of you involved NOW are called, within and under the law: ACCESSORIES. And, furthermore, anytime you use subterfuge and secrecy—you can be suspected of somehow presenting the lie in some shape or form. Our practice NOW—for the record, as is the purpose of CONTACT—IS TO PRINT TRUTH, FOR THAT PAPER IS FOR COMMUNICATIONS AMONG VERY IMPORTANT PLAYERS IN A GLOBAL INTERCHANGE AND TO PRESENT WHAT IS, TO ANY INTERESTED READERS—FRIENDS OR ENEMIES! SO, YES, INDEED, PRINT THE “SUZY” MATERIAL, AND NOTE ITS LINE OF DELIVERY! PERHAPS SUZY WILL LEARN A VALUABLE LESSON ABOUT PLAYING WITH SERPENTS. IF YOU DON’T WANT PUBLICITY—DO NOT INVOLVE US IN YOUR GAMES! “Privacy” and “secrecy to hide” are not the same thing. “When will you ever learn?” is the question of all perceptions of time and space.

STOP THE EKKERS?

Do YOU really want to stop the Ekkers from their appointed tasks? I mean, “REALLY”? Out of nearly 1300 projects under way, let me speak of just one to make my point. A major reforestation project planned and in the conduit for full funding: Neem trees are the trees of choice—for they are among the very “trees of life”. Without Ekkers, this project—like the other, over a thousand projects—will not find life.

Let me just offer a few excerpts from observers of the tree itself who are totally unconnected to the projects or the possibilities:

[QUOTING, EXCERPTS FROM AN ARTICLE IN TODAY’S PHILIPPINE STAR, SAT. 4/15/00, “NEEM IS THE NAME”:]

[H: And yes, indeed, last year we wrote abundantly on this very project and product of life. This notation is for you readers who want truth instead of gossip and personal “destroy the messenger” accomplishments.]

NEEM IS THE NAME

Studies have shown that the Neem tree has significant effects on bacteria that cause meningitis, cystitis, sore throat, typhoid, blood poisoning and food poisoning. Neem also has the unique ability of preventing infection.

The Neem tree is decorative, FAST GROWING, and makes a nice, quick shade plant. It gives shade, grows fast and is a mosquito repelling natural plant, which keeps mosquitoes AWAY in any area where it is found. [H: Mosquitoes are the carrying culprits of blood-sport infections.]

The tree (plant) itself is called Azadirachta indica, and is a tropical evergreen related to the mahogany. In three years from sapling planting, you have a full-blown tree—and a natural pesticide.

It is noted that under (in the shade of) a Neem tree, the temperature is a full 10 degrees less than the natural air. It grows well in scorching heat of up to 120 degrees and lives for up to 200-300 years OR LONGER.

Inside the house a growing Neem tree can keep the surrounding air clean of impurities and control pollution. It makes an ideal indoor plant because it grows with a minimum of maintenance. It should be grown in a pot as large as possible, as its growth is proportionate to the size of its root system.

The general populations in India, West African and Southeast Asian countries have used Neem for thousands of years as a bug repellent and insecticide. It’s safe, effective and harmless to humans. Researchers have proven that Neem has the effect on over 200 species of insects. It does not kill them but alters their behavior and physiology. In subtle but potent ways, it acts on their feeding, mating and growth. It was a common practice in rural places to mix dried Neem leaves with grains meant for storage to combat pests.

Traditionally, the fresh leaves and twigs were used on a daily basis as a preventive aid for ailments including tooth decay, gum disease, malaria, etc. Hundreds of millions of village people use Neem twigs and leaves to brush their teeth and keep their gums free of disease and infection, even though they have access to modern dental care.

Neem oil is applied externally as an insect repellent and to the hair, scalp and skin for parasites. After being slightly warmed, it is also massaged into arthritic joints to relieve pain and inflammation. Neem extracts and oils are used from everything from dry skin to psoriasis with stunning results.

Modern clinical studies identified compounds in the tree that help regulate the immune system. These compounds, especially present in the bark, increase antibody production.

AS FAR AS AIDS IS CONCERNED, PROPERTIES OF NEEM APPEAR TO ENHANCE IMMUNE RESPONSE IN PEOPLE WHO ARE HIV POSITIVE BUT DO NOT HAVE FULL-BLOWN AIDS. TESTS WHICH USED NEEM LEAF AND BARK EXTRACTS TO FIND A CURE FOR AIDS HAVE HAD ENCOURAGING RESULTS.

NEEM WAS EVEN FOUND BY MODERN SCIENTISTS TO BE EFFECTIVE IN TREATING AND PREVENTING DIABETES, ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM. CANCER PATIENTS CAN ALSO AVAIL OF THE MIRACLES OF NEEM.

For many CENTURIES, herbalists have successfully used Neem to reduce tumors by injecting Neem extracts around them.

It is not possible to write in detail all the conditions that Neem has been clinically proven to resolve. The following is a list of the other ailments: heart disease; blood, digestive, and nervous disorders; sexually transmitted diseases; birth control (for men and women); chronic fatigue, tuberculosis, bronchitis, conjunctivitis, allergies, bad breath, hangover, stress, insomnia, smoking and on and on....

[END OF QUOTING]

Now, may I just ask you again—without even mentioning any OTHER project on the table: Do YOU really want to stop Ekkers? Why? Who just “might” be working for the “dark side”: those who quit, ran, deserted and then mounted a direct war through ACTUAL theft, property seizure, paper theft, lies and deception to STOP WHAT WE ARE PRODUCING FOR MANKIND’S USE AND IN PRODUCING FREEDOM—OR DHARMA?

ONE NEEM TREE WILL PRODUCE MORE GOOD FOR THE ENVIRONMENT (MOTHER EARTH) AND MANKIND THAN ALL THE BLATHER AND PROCLAIMED “LIGHTED” BROTHERHOOD OF THE MISCREANTS OF YOUR WORLD. AND THAT IS PURELY AND SIMPLY THE WAY OF IT. SUZY WOULD BE BETTER SERVING NEEM TREE PLANTING AND NURTURING THAN ALL THE FALSE MESSAGES SHE CAN CONJURE OR TYPE IN “MY” NAME.

No, thank you, to the “stop mode” of our presenting. We also have thousands of hectares of land being planted in a FAST-GROWING “wood-use” tree species.

How DARE you try to stop us from our task THAT YOU OF THE MISCREANT SPECTRUM GROUPIE “DESERTED”! HOW DARE YOU USE GOD’S NAME IN THE SAME BREATH AS YOU PROCLAIM YOU JUST WANT TO PRAY FOR AND HELP THE SOULS OF MY TEAM? HOW DARE YOU CLAIM LOUDLY, IN THE NAME OF TRUTH AND HONOR, THAT YOU DESIRE TO REVEAL TRUTH AND “THE WORD” OF LIGHTED SOURCE—WHILE DOING EVERYTHING IN YOUR POWER AND WILL TO DESTROY THAT VERY THING AND THE MESSENGERS WITH IT? HOW DARE YOU CONTINUE TO SPEAK IN “MY NAME”, HATONN/ATON, AS IF YOU HAVE SOME GRANTED RIGHT TO MY BEING?

THERE IS NO WAY, BLEEDING IDIOTS, THAT YOU SHALL STOP US FROM THIS TRUTH, FOR MANKIND STANDS AT THE THRESHOLD OF DESPAIR AND DEMISE, AND HE, AS A SOUL "WHOLE", SHALL RISE UP AND SMITE YOU WHO HAVE BETRAYED YOUR MISSION AND YOUR GOD CREATOR. YOU WOULD BETTER USE YOUR TYPEWRITERS TO THROW AGAINST YOUR PIOUS LIARS THAN TO "SAVE" THE LIARS, CHEATS, THIEVES AND DECEIVERS. AND SO, PERHAPS, IN YOUR "CONFESSIONAL" PRONOUNCEMENTS FROM THE PRIESTS OF LIES, YOU COULD MAKE MORE PENANCE FROM PLANTING NINETEEN NEEM TREES THAN IN BEING ON YOUR KNEES TO DO A DOZEN HAIL MARYS. IF YOU WANT TO GET ON YOUR KNEES TO SERVE GOD—THEN, WHILE YOU ARE DOWN THERE—PLANT A TREE! IF YOU ARE BUMBLING AROUND ON YOUR KNEES, ANYWAY, YOU ARE KEEPING GOD CONFINED TO YOUR KNEES AND NOTHING OF WORTHY TRUTH IS ACCOMPLISHED. Get up off your ass-ends and ascend to your feet and let's, together, GET TO WINNING THIS GAME OF LIFE.

I will give this to you who have addictions, even to food and fat gain: The Neem will stop the cravings of all unbalanced systems—including reversing such as diabetes, alcoholism, drug abuses and all those nasty things foisted off onto you through the money-grabbers. SO BE IT, and you just go right on and do whatever you wish—but get thee, please, out of our pathway.

Oh, yes, and by the way—the tree does very, very well when it is protected and doesn't have to tolerate 120 degree heat! It flourishes beyond all believing where it has attending—except for its root system. As in all things, the more a living thing must struggle for survival—the better and more enduring is the root system, which will allow the standing in all things come against it—except the destruction of MAN. And even there, it will recover from the saw, if left alone to recover. However, note something else wondrous: It thrives on the care and pruning—so can become an ever-renewing resource.

So, I repeat: DO YOU REALLY WANT TO STOP—AS "ORACLE" SAYS HE MUST ACHIEVE AS HIS LIFE-PURPOSE (IN SPECTRUM'S PROCLAMATION)—OUR PROJECTS AND OUR PEOPLE? If so, then you are in desperate need of some very potent NEEM products, my dears.

Therefore, to you who are bent on such attack, I suggest that you WATCH, for we are moving forward and no, thank you, when you again try to hitch a ride on our wagon!

We need to get back to planting trees, like Johnny Appleseed, so we will take our leave. I would recommend you stop simply "hugging trees" and start working your fannies off planting trees, rather than paying gym workout fees. "Time" as you know it IS RUNNING OUT.

Yes, indeed, we could plant thousands of trees just on the farm in Tehachapi—but we aren't sure any longer if we even wish to work in the Devil's vineyards to serve our very enemies in their confusion.

May you children-of-the-lie awaken in time to save your assets—because it is a long, dark journey, the way you are headed.

Salu, Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn/Aton (just in case you think I have forgotten WHO I AM)

SUZY WRITINGS

In a way, this is a note to Suzy (Ward) who has, after well over five years, chosen to send me a message from, it is claimed, "Hatonn", who can't seem to "get through to Doris".

We would take no time nor space for such foolishness, except that the messages have, alas, already been handed around in the Spectrum circles and put to the INTERNET and electronic press all over the globe, as the "Watchers" do. Sorry, Suzy, the stuff was on the Internet before it reached Manila and we find the handlers of the information, trusted into their hands by you, have betrayed even your "intent" and, finally, your after-the-fact writing as to not using it.

This is grossly careless on your part, Suzy, for the FACTS are simply other than you have expressed and that can only mean that you have been fed MISINFORMATION—and you have now taken that extra step into the pit by proclaiming the message to be directly from MY TEACHER!

Since these messages are flowing all over Southeast Asia, we are now caused to have to publish the documents and give the trail of networking misinformation crews.

I have no time for reminding anyone about the players and their antics and participation in actual criminal activities but you will find the ones involved, even with getting information from you to me, ARE THE ENEMIES, SELF-CLAIMED BY THEMSELVES. Suzy is the, probably, quite innocent dupe.

Please note that Laurie even sent your message through the Penn Hotel, the first hacked e-mail receiver and unused for many, many months. Other e-mail sendings are hacked from our two other sites to the extent that we often cannot even get our own messages off or received from either site.

Then the messages are sent forth on several Internet sites under many various names and authorities—so your mail hit the "four winds" (pun intended) and the Watcher scatter long before Doris ever heard there was some kind of a message. And now comes the cutie and silly of all time, as it is pronounced that "again" Doris' own teacher has kicked her out of service because of her somehow tainted something or other, as ridiculous as the other stupid nonsense. And you, Suzy, claim that you, err-a, Hatonn, has to PROVE NOTHING? Oh, stop it, that is the oldest Satanic line in history. YES, YOU DO HAVE TO PROVE EVERYTHING—BOTH OF YOU—THAT SLICK SPEAKER AND YOU THE RECEIVER.

We are just about to "WIN THE WAR", Suzy and readers, and the "stop at all costs" has gone forth upon the ethers and electronic systems. Well, strangely enough, even those in great power DO NOT HAVE WISH TO STOP US FROM OUR APPOINTED TASKS because they find revolvment and placement in the very process offered—also!

SUZY, YOU HAVE BEEN BETRAYED AND

BADLY USED—AGAIN. I HAVE NO FURTHER NEED FOR COMMENT ON THE MATTER AT THIS POINT AND YOU ARE THE VICTIM OR MASTER OF YOUR OWN CHOICES—AND MY INPUT WILL MAKE LITTLE DIFFERENCE TO YOU, PERHAPS, BUT IT DOES TO THOSE WITH WHOM WE SHARE THIS JOURNEY AND JOB.

I can only grant my own permission to our co-workers to print, exactly as received, any information regarding ANYTHING being spread about. Thank you for your concern and yes, indeed, I carefully study the messages and I would hope that you gain access to the over 3000 pages of writings from my "deviant" resource written in the last 15 months in this distant land—and consider the FACTS about that which has transpired in "hometown" U.S.A. by our prior co-workers—and perhaps the lights will brighten quite a bit in your mental corridors. Even Matthew warned you about this type of thing, Suzy, and alas it has come to pass!

We received information regarding "Suzy" writings on the telephone this past Wednesday morning (Tuesday afternoon, U.S. time) and then the messages, which had already circulated through the community and been placed on the electronic mail systems by the Spectrum coalition. It is not even worth the bother to speak further on the matter—except it is demanded by the "inquiring minds" about "what is this?", with papers in hand. If I have resentment, it is over the total waste of time in even recognizing these insults.

April 8, 2000 (from Jan Dominick, who has not spoken to Margie B. in many, many months, having had a "falling out") comes this message, with attachments which were obviously NOT sent to her at all in the first place but rather, as it unfolds, to Laurie Anteau, once a considered FRIEND.)

[QUOTING:]

Dear Margie,

Hopefully this surprise will not require smelling salts. Ha haa.

The enclosed writing was the BIG motivation which my heart and "feelings" prompted me to share with you and Rex. I truly believe it is the Commander, attempting to get through to Doris.

I believe after you read what has been written, your higher self will agree. This energy contains a profound love and compassion. It is evident by expression. I believe Suzy is on the RIGHT TRACTA or the Commander would not have chosen her for such an important task. Doris an E.J. certainly need our prayers.

Change of subject. Next week Britt and I are taking a vacation. Once we reach Williams, Arizona, we will board the Grand Canyon observation train. In addition to checking out cliff dwelling sights, I plan to stop by Roswell in route to Carlsbad Caverns, I am getting excited with anticipation. We leave Thursday. Thank God for Ellen and Ron, or I would truly be stuck.

Well best I close and complete PBXtra's ongoing paperwork.

Oops, something else just came to mind. Sarah (Wally's daughter) happily wrote.. her 'Dad was not smoking M'. She is still very worried about Jonathan. Our choices are interesting, huh Margie?

Love, Jan

Message attached:

April 7, 2000

SUZY: Good morning, Hatonn. I believe you want to give me a message to be passed on to Doris. At least that's what it seemed last night when you talked with me away from the computer.

HATONN: Yes, and it should have seemed that way. You do know when we are conversing, Suzy. So, we shall proceed. This is a message of utmost importance for Doris, and I know you have channels for getting it to her. I am writing with the purpose of assuring that she understands my feelings for her and about what she is doing and attributing to me by name.

Doris, I take this opportunity through another of my telepathic messengers to get this message to you. You do not realize that from the years of stress from many issues with which you have been faced that your exhaustion has dropped you from the energy level where we can communicate. You are reaching sources that are not giving you good information, that is, the truth, and also you are projecting your own attitudes and feelings without your awareness. When I have tried to reach you, to warn you myself, I have been crowded out by the static of those lower energies in which you are operating.

It is disturbing to me that several years ago when I urged you to rest, to vacation from the incessant recording of transmission, you felt it was necessary for you to continue. You felt it was your responsibility to "get the word out". Yes, that had been a responsibility of heavy demand upon your time and energy, and you were essential to receiving and dispersing the truth of my words.

When you became exhausted, however, you no longer could function in that higher energy and receive from me. The sources you are reaching are giving you false information. That is to be expected, because they are much lower density beings than my station and other light beings. In short, they are not light beings, they are dark beings, and they are playing with your mind that has become burdened with confusion from exhaustion. Those beings are distorting truthful information for the purpose of deceiving you personally. More, they are disseminating what is wrongfully considered to be information from the light. That is why this information cannot continue to be misrepresented as originating within the light.

How can this contact who is serving me in this moment prove to you that it is indeed I speaking to you through her? She is not called upon to prove anything. I can prove what I need. Please read the earliest reports from me for the various Phoenix publications. Compare the articulate speech, the straightforward information and the lack of vulgarity or harshness of speech in those earliest messages with those you are receiving now. Actually, with messages you have been receiving for the past several years, which you have thought, wrongly, to be from me.

The speech style and patterns of the transmitters, whom you consider to be me, of the past several years have fallen into expression form that I do not use, do not favor.

There can be little respect for information presented in language that is offensive in both words and nature. Those whom we wish to reach—NEED to reach!--find that kind of presentation offensive, give it no credibility, and soon turn away. It is not I who changed so drastically in form of presentation and means of emphasis upon the truth.

What you are receiving is not within the light, my dear Doris, my friend and still greatly cared-for being.

It is not shameful to acknowledge that you have been duped by dark energies. Many others have been duped also. The dark forces are gleefully waging their disinformation campaign through many sources who are unaware that they are hearing not from light beings, but dark, and it is my responsibility to turn this around.

[D: Goodness, Suzy, and you heard it from yourself first. WAKE UP, LITTLE SUZY!]

That is why it cannot be allowed any longer that you attribute the messages from those dark sources to me. Some readers still believe this information to be from me, just as you do, and are adversely influenced by its negativity, just as you are. This must cease. I implore you to think upon what I have said with calm consideration and the comparison reading I asked. Then realize that you need to be healed with restorative activities of meditation, sleep, release from the voices in your head that are not and have not been for a long time, my voice. When your spirit, mind and body are refreshed, you will rejoice in the awareness that you have been healed in the light, and then we can again communicate in the same high energy level as in the beginning. [D: Gosh, Dad, I'm just too tired to go all the way BACKWARDS to some beginning....]

I hold you tenderly in friendship and light, my dear Dharma, and in gratitude for your service above and beyond, I thank you. Now I leave this contact with the love for you that always has been part of our connection.

Suzy, thank you for performing this unusual duty. Please add your love and caring to mine for Doris/Dharma. I feel you are, and I thank you for this impromptu service you are rendering on behalf of the clear lighted communication pathways between Earth and beyond.

This is Hatonn. Salu

[END QUOTING]

So, before I, Doris, could even consider tossing in the towel to such wondrous input, came this next:

[QUOTING, message from: Laurie Anteau, anteurancho@mindspring.com, to: Ekker through the Penn Hotel on 4/10/00, 11:40 AM:]

[Again, this is from Suzy Ward (to Laurie):]

Last night Hatonn said he should have told me his letter to Doris is a private matter between him and her and was never meant for publication. Apparently he knows something I don't—or he's just making sure no one thinks of doing that. He was milder in his message just now than he was last night, when he said he's "disgusted" that "vehicles for truth and enlightenment" have been used for "personal vendettas and opinions and self-aggrandizement", and he will "not add more fuel" to them. He said something about "diatribes undermining the credibility" of the valuable information. That's not verbatim, but close—anyway, he made it clear that he was speaking of both papers and his words in quotes were memorable enough to last overnight. So please pass his message on to the same addresses as his first. Thank you!

Has PJ been living with you? What's with his own family?

[END QUOTING]

How does one take this information? Well, Doris takes it as to mean that WE ARE ABOUT "THERE", TEAM! These cartoon antics are the proof of it.

Actions speak volumes, messages by and in behalf of sworn enemies MEAN NOTHING.

Doris

DOING YOUR JOB FOR OR DOING "A JOB ON"...?

I, Doris, am faced with inability of ignoring that which seems so little as to make me truly bored with my accepted task. I am living the realization of the narrow focus and walking insensitives along this journey who, while claiming great and wondrous insight, voices from God and aliens without information, dumped on self and our team. This is a general annoyance by people who CLAIM to just be "helping", while taking our time on their interesting but obviously uninformed input and, worse, without any way given to respond personally or directly TO THEM. I suppose this might well be a good way to avoid confrontation with truth or a targeted party, but it is, at the least, ungracious and discourteous, if not downright audacious—as with "Chutzpah". Ah, but—the original communication to us was placed on the international Internet, so it demands some response.

Please, CONTACT, pass this along to Laurie for, as usual, NO INFORMATION—as to contact numbers, addresses or other headings—was sent and, therefore, I have no "other" way to respond to her or to Suzy. I didn't know that information could be forwarded by electronic transmission with NOTHING save the message—but learning is the way of the journey, I suppose. Or perhaps there was a note, which was not transcribed before removing the data from the computer. It doesn't matter except for the time required to retype the message in order to respond.

Suzy has written a near-$8.00 message through the Peninsula Hotel, where we neither get mail, send mail nor even go, unless we have travel business or visas to discuss with the information center. So, when we are summoned to pick up some "important" messages, we will henceforth hope the senders are better informed than they are at present or we will simply ask the hotel business office to throw them away.

I am asked to type this letter because it holds the EXACT information we should be looking at as we make discernments along our way and actually has nothing to do with friendships, old or new, even though that is expressed. It does tell an entire human story of "how it usually is" with people "helping"—without the vaguest notion of what is going on.

Why would "Hatonn", or anyone else, go through someone who has totally dropped out of "my" life? One who, however, remains constantly in the lives and gossip circles of those working to destroy me, to get me a message—yea, get—through the WRONG RECEIVING CENTER FOR servicing our e-mail? I question: Why not send it directly to me, instead of through the groupie spreading the information on INTERNET? If Laurie and every OTHER dabbler has information to contact me, why does she not just give it to Suzy?

Suzy still just wants to have me stop letting through the "Dark Energies" and—although I try constantly to do that—she and others of her team just keep inserting themselves.

She claims "Hatonn"? So be it—so does Ed, Norey, Green—you name it, and frankly, I DO NOT WANT THEIR INPUTTER or the input. Anyone who would destroy his receiver and advise actual theft to gain control is NOT on my list of desired teachers or wanted "helpers".

There was a time, you will see, when Suzy was actually told and did, in fact, finally tell me SHE WAS TO TAKE OVER MY JOB AND PHASE ME OUT.

INDEED, BY NO LESS THAN THAT infamous pair, the RUSSBACHERS.

OK, so I suggested that we do that little trick because what I was tired of then, and NOW, is the whole blooming idiotic nonsense. Everybody seemed to then, and now, WANT MY JOB—EXCEPT ME! I just have never seen our jobs as others seem to think they are. My suggestion was, is and will always be: DO NOT SLOP OVER YOUR NONSENSE ONTO OUR TEACHERS OR US.

Suzy says: "...I am only vaguely aware of during the past few years (your living away from home for so long, and some of the former "Contact" people starting "Spectrum")...". Ah, indeed, there is no mention of the fact that because of this little "away on our Father's business" stint and the thieves abounding, there is no other place to live than "away from home", for there is no longer a home and what could be salvaged is in a warehouse room just to protect it—that is, what could be gotten out before the rest was seized by Rick, et al. Even the files from the Phoenix Institute were taken, along with countless other records.

There is no mention by Suzy of the fact that the ones "starting" "Spectrum", first STOLE CONTACT and used it as their own, stating that "Hatonn" had ordered it, TOOK MONEY OUT OF THE BANK ACCOUNTS, took the mailing lists and committed other criminal acts.

I have NO "voices" in my head or otherwise and THAT is a primary clue that this person "helping" me has no notion of what is taking place. I want to remind everyone reading this: I am nearly 70 years old going on 9,342 ½ centuries and have averaged at least one writing per day for nearly 15 years. If Hatonn can't yet find me, then there certainly is a problem with "him", whoever "he" might be—that has such trouble with me.

When you claim to be helping me and don't give me a way to respond to you, you must not want to help me too badly. I am NOT psychic and I do not inflict myself into your circles or lives. People who see fit to steal from us may well do so—but they will not go uncountered.

It is said that we abandoned our property? Come now, Laurie, do you REALLY expect ANYONE to believe that, when we had a caretaker-watchman LIVING IN and a couple of hundred exotic birds in the daily care of that person, as well as people in daily staffing the offices? We had FAMILY members in and out, checking every day. We had paid all the bills, etc. How is this "abandonment"? Ah, indeed, Suzy, you are either blind or one of the miscreants—which is difficult to believe but is truly probable from the contents of your letters.

Ah, yes, and "living away from home..." in the cesspool of Southeast Asia, wonderful downtown Manila, which just made the top of the world list as the most polluted city on Earth. And right now—during "Holy Week"—oh, have mercy, please, God.

There are dozens of people over here in the Philippines who, starting on Bloody Friday, are going to have themselves nailed to planks to imitate the Kristos. Some towns are now banning the show because some annually nailed come back year after year and con the people, get a bunch of sponsors and a year's income and "make the towns look really bad...". One who makes the front page today is a convicted murderer—so, while he dresses up like Jesus, he is actually playing out, I suppose, the role of the murderer—and just one more con/scam hits the screen. Foreigners were getting in on the act, so this year foreigners are banned from the play.

Oh, by the way, nobody really cares about Easter Sunday morning and some "resurrection"—by Sunday, everyone is back to bunnies and chickies. Oh, but, the resurrection of the "crucified" lasts perhaps thirty seconds to 15 minutes and thus "resurrection" comes around even more quickly in these modern days. The only real focus is on DEATH, blood, gore and, by all means, forgive everyone for their dirty tricks, thoughts and deeds. The next thing, of course, is that then you dump on the poor murdered one all the SINS of the world, so nobody would be responsible for their own atrocities. I guess, however, it has worked as a fine plan FOR the damned by the damnable for at least 2000 years.

And as for Rayelen and Gunther Russbacher? Certainly, in wisdom, NEVER FORGET. If Suzy has not been contacted by either of the Russbachers—Laurie HAS. Gunther even contacted us—to try for more funds, of course. He only got away, for themselves, a block of some $20,000 and when he tried for another $22,000 on our Credit Card from Austria—even the American Express belched and blew. So, I warn you readers about forgive-and-forgetfulness—it is like blackmail, where the opponent or taker will never stop sucking as long as there is blood. So, no, I don't consider "forgiveness" without restitution AT ALL, as a way to go—and, "forget"? PERISH THE THOUGHT! Rick and Charles used, also, American Express to use us. Once the fool, take it as a lesson, twice the fool and we deserved whatever we got—and boy, did we GET IT! But to take "Hatonn"? Wait in line, Suzy, or didn't you hear that "he went with George to Nevada" and then Ed Young nabbed him and he serves the "other side" whatever that means—but it seems to mean anyone who is not on "this side". Laurie is on "that" side and thus, not on "this" side but seems to be on Suzy's "side" and thus has nothing to do with "this Hatonn". Anyone using "Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn" as "theirs on their side" is LYING THROUGH THEIR TEETH. Surely, you didn't think "Hatonn" would be so foolish as to not protect his own presence.

And now: Anyone who does not like our pathway—please feel free to GET OFF IT. We are not going to stop our journey because you don't like our map. Even Suzy says she has taken precious time out of packing for her journey to Boston to meet her daughter. Well, Suzy, you seem to know where you are going to find your daughter but you sure don't seem to have a clue as to wherever else you are headed.

Now, you wrap up the letter, Suzy, with: "I shall send this to Laurie to forward to you and ask that she also send it, if she can, to the avenues where Hatonn's letter was disseminated." That was INTERNATIONALLY!

Well, good luck, I will ask for the local crew, if they wish to spare the time, to get it and do whatever they want with it, but it is the Spectrum groupie (and yes, Laurie) who know the way of the disinformation trails. There are dozens of electronic Internet sites which get directly fed this type of information.

And no, I don't think Laurie particularly helps, as such, Dr. Young as she was doing at "breakup" but she certainly does a number on Ekkers every chance there is—and I cannot imagine what we ever did to her—any time, except accept and love her.

We all like to whine about our hard ways, me as well. At least Suzy can go to her daughter, after I interrupt her packing, to be there for daughter's surgery. My child had surgery with fear of breast cancer—and I was in this cesspool called Manila and remained here while every last thing we had, including our work, our "teacher", our paper and our home were taken. Even our mail back and forth was taken and our own children bashed just because they were ours. Suzy, WHY would you immediately assume that it is Doris and E.J. who have entertained "dark and Low-frequency energies"? WHO SAID? And NO, "HATONN" DID NOT SAY THAT! YOU HAVE REPEATED THE SAME WORDS USED BY THE YOUNG CROWD—EXACTLY!

How about asking Laurie about THESE things I say—for she was there, with her children, helping haul out our property from the house seized by Millers because of the input from, mainly, Rick Martin-Cortright, who had declared himself our "enemy at all costs" because we caught him in his criminal games.

How shallow you must think we are to have to have someone out of our lives for five years or more to tell us "God loves you". We live within God's love and it is as constant as God Himself.

Can you really think us so shallow as to focus on just our "poor little selves"? Observations tell us things are a mite more problematic than Ekkers' aura.

In the Philippines, here's just a topic overview of the first three days of this week: The Elite Manipulators through their deliberate little "trial balloons" wiped out, again, the Southeast Asian markets and went on back to their games against you-the-people in the U.S. and Europe—note the Euro, distracted observers. They are staged to TAKE THE WORLD AS WE KNOW IT AND DO IT WHILE WE DEMAND MORE PROTECTION.

Then, let's see, the terrorists in Mindanao hold BUNCHES of hostages and yesterday, on the 19th, they beheaded two male teachers to present their heads to Erap Estrada (President) FOR HIS BIRTHDAY. They now claim the "heads of the others, mostly children, will roll like Easter Eggs..." for Easter. Then, there were two ferryboat sinkings (down here you have to travel among over 7,000 islands by ferries), with hundreds dead who were just going home for the Easter holiday.

And also, the worst Philippine air disaster happened yesterday, with 131 killed. There was an explosion of some kind, the eyewitnesses said, just before the craft plowed into the coconut trees. Hummmn, so, 133 heads for the President.

Oh yes, I almost forgot: The terrorists are again going to abduct and kill Americans and a warning for "us" of the U.S. has been issued. Golly-gee, we just love this "away from home" rest and recreation.

And, by the way, every flake in a radius of 10 thousand miles of Manila has come past our way to get whatever they can for nothing. Yes, it has been a gross annoyance and irritation—but necessary to lay a foundation, so I guess we can handle it. If not us—WHO?

E.J. GETS TOTAL RESPECT here—along with appreciation and love—from everyone he meets. He is the most GENEROUS person I have ever met and about the most unsinkable and unruffled in any circumstance. To suggest that THAT man would steal and run off with “Millions of dollars...” is, at most, laughable. But that is the story told by such as Laurie and the Spectrum-groupie clan.

I ask that Laurie recall back to the Russbacher days, when Gunther actually took from our credit card—CASH—and bought himself a $600 watch and also got gifts, i.e. a bicycle, etc. for Laurie’s kids. Laurie about choked over that one and did, in fact, send funds they didn’t have to pay us back. E.J. tore up the check, for we never realized these very people would try to imprison us with Federal charges—and oh, yes, they have and advertised it. Are these lessons for us to learn? Perhaps, but others might do well to, at the least, consider that some of the lessons just might be for “them”.

Ekkers NEVER sought any one of these people into our lives. People INSERTED THEMSELVES into our lives and space and it is difficult to see why they don’t just extricate themselves—we have no cult, no groupie, no shackles, and it appears quite foolish to continue to blame, defame and even move over to your space and time for such nonsense, Suzy. These people claim to love, pray for and just feel so bad for poor Doris? I bet they said the same thing at Esu’s crucifixion—while they pounded in the nails.

I am going to copy the letter as presented, for there were no headings—just the letter.

This becomes necessary so that we have the data available, per legal counsel, because of the distribution network which is utilized by Dr. Young, et al.

Suzy, you would be welcome to my job, just as before, but frankly, I don’t think you have a foggy notion about what that might be and certainly I doubt if you can handle E.J.’s. Suzy, I have no doubt at all that you mean well and are well intentioned—but the old saying stands: “The road to Hell is paved with good intentions!”

[QUOTING:]

April 16, 2000

Dear Doris,

I greatly regret that Hatonn’s letter to you wasn’t given the privacy intended. That message is a caring tribute and gratitude for your devoted service to him as Dharma as well as concerns about your sources of information. He spoke firmly about the need to stop information being attributed to him that is not from him because it is an issue of utmost importance, yet his concerns were expressed without accusation, blame, reprimand, anger or disrespect for you. Throughout my receiving his words, I felt his tenderness, compassion and concern for you.

[D: Well, bully! Did it ever OCCUR to you, Suzy, or anyone else, that perhaps Doris doesn’t have those nasty old darkies? Why do you think that it is “I” who suffers this malady?]

Please do not doubt this, Doris. I have no reason to misrepresent any part of my experience in receiving his message. His plea that you become rested and healed from stress so that once again he can reach you, further shows his caring, and so does his mentioning my own feelings in that same regard. I know that those who would read otherwise into his very clear letter would be misinterpreting or allowing themselves to be misled for self-serving purposes.

[D: Are you actually going to tell me, Suzy, that you haven’t spoken with ANYONE about anything and Hatonn just dropped in on your shoulders and got you up to give me lessons? Are you going to tell me that you do not speak to Laurie, who betrayed, by the way, your confidence—by going through Jan Dominick. Now, think carefully, Suzy, for your tale does NOT indicate innocence or reality, reason or logic. You got this idea from someone very physical, indeed! You have even used the same wording and that would not even be coincidental in such circumstances. Your story is simply not credible from any viewpoint—much the less, mine.]

I regret also that you cannot believe Hatonn would ask me to be a messenger for him. You know he is not a stranger to me, Doris. Long ago in a conversation with you I told you about one of the occasions when he entered a sitting with Matthew. I mentioned his powerful energy that felt like a thunderbolt when he “came in”. Maybe you remember that and saying, “That sounds like Hatonn.” But even if you can remember that, you couldn’t know the relationship we have maintained.

He has never asked me to channel any information for publication in the six years since my telepathic connection opened, but he has talked with me many times. Always he came into the sittings briefly, usually to encourage me in my receiving, assure me he was aware of all information being given me and that I was receiving everything clearly, or explain why I must continue. I’ve heard from Matthew and another of my sources that Hatonn is the master of communication between Earth and all extraterrestrial light beings—which you probably already knew—and no doubt that is the reason for his and my relationship.

[D: I wouldn’t know about that, Suzy, for Hatonn was always the “record keeper” and Korton was the “communicator”—or a whole bunch more “hooley” is circulating than I realized. But, that aside: I serve Truth and yes, LIGHT—as in GOD OF LIGHT, and not some alien starship crew who may also well serve. I certainly do not serve unseen energies just because they come along and dump a load of something on me. Therefore, I guess we certainly do not have the SAME “Hatonn” because I surely do not recognize yours as being attached to old “ATON, the ONE LIGHT”—AS IN DEITY RECOGNITION. Perhaps that has been the problem all along—there are just too many “Hatonn’s” around poking into everyone’s mental console. Little Crow finally got it through to me what was meant by his admonition: “Take responsibility for that which you present.” It would behoove you to do the same.]

But I could understand if you wondered why he chose me to receive and pass on his letter to you. I didn’t ask him, I didn’t even think to ask. However, I can tell you why I think he did: because of my feelings for you.

[D: Feelings for me? You haven’t done anything for me—including even a phone call or note in over five years—except, of course, to get any funds out of the Institute on demand, as requested. Spare us if we are somehow unimpressed with your current need, after going over all this dark crap with the enemy, for not getting too involved with your expectations of some alien speaking suddenly THROUGH YOU TO ME A ZILLION MILES AWAY AND WITHOUT ANY FACTS IN YOUR MENTAL DATA BANK. AND WHY DIDN’T YOU THINK TO ASK “HIM” WHY? FIRST

RULE, SUZY!]

When I first became aware of the Phoenix publications, I held you in such high esteem and admiration for the vital work you were doing. I wished so much then that I could do what you were doing so I could help you, give you respite from the daily hours of recording transmissions, let you have much needed vacations.

Doris, surely my feelings were evident to you from our correspondence and conversations, my two trips to Tehachapi, the Sunday afternoon we spent on the speaker phone with the group we hosted monthly in San Jose, my little gifts of appreciation for your dedication. I still cherish those times and feel that my strong feelings then were part of the firm foundation I needed to eventually achieve my own connection, which many mediums had told me for over 13 years would happen “when the time was right”.

[D: MEDIUMS? WOW, REALLY?]

Something you may not know is that soon after I returned from St. Louis, Raye and Gunther called and said you were tired out and had to be replaced. I know you were tired—Hatonn’s messages in “Contact” were full of that—but I was shocked to hear I was to be your replacement.

[D: Gee whiz, you could have HAD THIS JOB and, my goodness, on the basis of such as Russbachers, the world would really be in good hands, wouldn’t it?]

I wasn’t even sure that my week or two of receiving from Matthew was actually real—you know what a strange sensation it is to begin channeling!--and suddenly I was being told that taking over for you was the reason my connection had been opened. What made that believable was that Raye had told me she had received a message from Matthew, that I had to get in touch with him, and she explained how to do automatic writing. I did that the day after I returned home, and I was astounded when, after only 2 or 3 tries, he and I were talking as if we were in the same room.

I was scared, Doris. The last thing I ever had thought of was to help you by replacing you. I wondered if you knew, and if so, why you hadn’t talked with me yourself. If you didn’t know, it was appalling to me that my wish to bring some relief into your intense life had turned into a nightmare. I was frightened when Raye and Gunther twice interrupted sittings to persuade me to do it. Even though the second telepathy by interrupting a conversation, I was afraid to ask him what I should do. I was more afraid to question Hatonn. I was consumed by the fear that if I didn’t do what I was being asked to, my connection with Matthew would go away, and I felt I had no choice but to “obey” even though I believed it was a betrayal of my loyal feelings for you. Those few days were horrible. After another pressuring call from the Russbachers—the last time I spoke with Gunther for a few years—I did ask Matthew, and both he and Hatonn assured me that replacing you never had been my mission.

I’ve wondered if my telling Raye my decision was the catalyst for the accusation that I was a master CIA assassin and instigator of the ambush in SE Asia that killed two of Gunther’s friends and almost killed him. (Much later I heard that the ambush never even happened, it was all mind-control programming.) You’ll never know what pain I felt for a long time after that revelation from Raye. I think you know that I devoted almost a year working toward his release from what Hatonn said was unjust incarceration. Also Bob and I were supportive of Raye in every possible way during that time, and it was inconceivable to us that everything we had done for both of them became so twisted in their minds.

Another reason I think Hatonn chose me as his messenger is that I've never been a part of the long-running acrimonious situations that came about after those early years. I've always been geographically distant from the struggles between you and anyone else, either on a personal or newspaper basis. However, I had sympathy for you throughout the seemingly endless financial, legal, personal and personnel situations I knew about when I was diligently reading Phoenix publications. I felt it was so unfair that you were constantly being besieged and could only wonder how you could continue your service under those conditions.

When I achieved telepathic contact, my amazement and admiration for your persistence was even greater. One time soon after that, I asked Hatonn about you, how you could keep your receiving clear with so many worldly struggles constantly facing you. He told me, verbatim, "she is not your problem, she is my problem, and I have to handle it."

[D: Wow, a problem? HIS PROBLEM? Hummmn, and just when I was about to feel unimportant! A problem to God and the Angels of Heaven? And if "he" was going to "handle" me—why is "he" dumping it on YOU and the self-proclaimed "enemies" list"? No, I don't think I like your resource very much and am extremely happy to not even know such a being.]

It has been more than five years since you and I last communicated, Doris, and I haven't kept abreast of happenings in your life since I stopped reading "Contact", about that same time. That was when I was so distressed with Ed Young, as editor, for what I considered unethical journalism. You may remember that he published your long letter to me in which you asked about many aspects of my dealings with the Russbachers, and he didn't publish my reply to you. He never responded to my letter telling him how upsetting that was to me, nor did he comply with my request that he publish my letter to you. I had addressed every one of the misrepresentations or outright lies you had heard from or about Raye's or Gunther's version of my trip to St. Louis and other aspects of my participation in the whole Russbacher affair. Even if I couldn't convince them of the truth, it was vital to me that you know it, that you not believe what you'd been told.

And so, Doris, I think it is the combination of all those genuine, unselfish, unbiased feelings I've had for you that is Hatonn's reason for choosing me as his messenger to you. I think he expected you to know there was only purity and truth in his letter because it was through me and not someone who "has an ax to grind".

[D: Axe? What axe? WHO has an axe to grind with me?]

You wrote that I am an innocent dupe, and that Matthew had warned me that channels can be duped. Yes, Doris, we channels can indeed be duped!

[D: I don't know about that, either, for I HAVE NEVER, EVER, CONSIDERED MYSELF A "CHANNEL" AND TOTALLY REJECTED SUCH A CONNECTION FROM UPSTART OF

Way back in the beginning of our connection, Matthew told me that self-doubt, inexperience, ego, or physical and/or mental exhaustion would lessen a channel's ability to receive from the light. [D: Well, there you go, so I am really thankful, AGAIN, that I am not, was not and never shall be "a channel".] Totally unaware of what was transpiring, a formerly clear channel would innocently start receiving misinformation from lower beings and naturally assume it was valid, the truth, and believe he/she was passing on information from the sources as they (mis)identified themselves. I hear this not only from Matthew, but others, including Hatonn, which is why, shortly after I started receiving, I went through a difficult period of having my energy level raised by someone who was appointed specifically to do this with novice receivers. [D: Oh, Suzy, you are digging your hole deeper and deeper. If you have to have someone raise your energy level so you can talk to anyone, you are so unsure of self as to be had by every passing breeze, as is the wind-chime. HOW DID YOU DECIDE IT WAS DORIS EKKER YOU WERE AFTER? AND YOUR JOB IS NOT TO GO OUT OF YOUR WAY TO DESTROY DORIS FOR YOUR OTHER TWITS—AND THIS MAKES YOU, TRULY, LOOK THE FOOL!]

Despite that training, during those early months when self-doubt was especially plaguing me, on several occasions there were interruptions from the dark forces. I didn't realize it until either Matthew or Hatonn overcame those sources and abruptly ended the transmission. Also, early on, when I was very tired or nervous but felt obligated to begin regular morning sittings anyway, Matthew would tell me my energy level was too low or fractured to receive safely, so goodbye.

Yes indeed, I do know about being duped and the conditions that are conducive to that happening.

[D: Yes, me too, and right now the duping is being put forth in order to again try my patience by you and your misguided users. They are using you, Suzy, and you go so meekly as to make the Angels shudder.]

Yes indeed, I do know about being duped and the conditions that are conducive to that happening. [D: For goodness' sakes, then why didn't you LEARN?]

In this case of Hatonn's message for you, I was not being duped. You said I have to prove it. Doris, how would you prove you are receiving from Hatonn? How would you prove you are not being duped by dark entities? You don't have to answer me. Answer yourself.

[D: Yep, just did and you have proved beyond any shadow of any doubt that whoever this "Hatonn" might be—it is no one I have ever entertained and you have proven to me that you have served the very adversary you claim to wish, beyond all reason, from which to somehow "protect" me? What happened to learning facts before speaking and, for goodness' sakes, where IS LOGIC AND REASON? GOD IS PERFECTION, NOT A BUNCH OF MOUTHED WORDS FROM NETHER-WORLDS OF FLOATING CHANNEL HOPPERS.]

Everything you have experienced during the years I have known you, and surely everything I am only vaguely aware of during the past few years (your living away from home for so long, and some of the former

"Contact" people starting "Spectrum") has been almost unrelieved stress. That cannot help but take its toll on body, mind and spirit. Isn't the result of that precisely what the dark forces look for, maybe even cause, and definitely take advantage of? You know this, just as I do.

[D: This is too important to let pass. If you, Suzy, have neither taken nor read CONTACT—NOR SPOKEN WITH ME FOR OVER FIVE YEARS—where did you come by your "vague" awareness? Stress? Well, yes, I guess SO! Some of us, it is noted, THRIVE ON STRESS. But does a bit of stress put a balanced mind into the "nut house" some way? Do we cut and run the moment we don't like what is taking place? And WHO said Doris was a "basket case", dying of some incurable disease and that E.J. had a bad case of Alzheimer's? Hummmn, again, it was Rick Martin, who, ALSO, actually took funds which were for paying such as Laurie's salary, etc., directly from the bank account in his care. He and Gail Irwin were the ONLY signers on the accounts embezzled. Dark energies take advantage of these circumstances? The DARK-SIDE BROTHERHOOD OF CRIMINALS DEVELOPED AND STAGED THESE CIRCUMSTANCES—SO WE SHOULD JUST ROLL OVER DEAD AND "Oh, well..." it? OK, and alright for you, perhaps, but we have never, do not and will never run out on anyone, betray and destroy another—not even with the nonsense you have presented here. IF GOD AND HIS MESSENGERS ARE SO STUPID AND NAIVE AS PRESENTED HERE—I AM MORE CONCERNED ABOUT THIS WORLD THAN I WAS YESTERDAY OR THIS MORNING.]

As for Laurie, she was right there on the job with cursing in mouth and even at OUR HOME with her children hauling OUR things out of it. She has NEVER ceased serving the very culprits of the crimes themselves! Now, am I supposed to be pleased that you take that approach upon which to base your opinions and input and even send messages as the distributing agent? I even took the birds Laurie found to fondle and raise, when she couldn't keep them longer for whatever reason. THESE BASTARDS SEIZED MY BIRDS, ALSO—ABOUT 15 TO 20 THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH—AND YES, SOME DIED. BET YOU DIDN'T EVEN KNOW THAT, DID YOU? YES, INDEED, AND ONE OF THE BIG MACS ACQUIRED A URI FROM THE CHANGE-OUT OF AVIARIES AND ALL ARE GONE TO US "FOREVER". THIS IS LAURIE, YOUR MAILPERSON AND SOURCE OF INFORMATION? SPARE ME, FOR I HAVE SPENT UNCOUNTED HOURS WITH LAURIE AND I DO KNOW ENOUGH TO QUIT THE POURING OF SALT INTO MY OPEN WOUNDS.]

We lived in that very house for over 13 years continually, and yet they claimed—because of a business trip in which Rick and Charles traveled with us AT OUR EXPENSE—Rick and Ray Bilger pronounced we could be made to lose everything through "abandonment" of the premises. And you, and Laurie, claim I might have some tainted darkies in my aura?

Innocent Suzy? No, foolish and blind Suzy. But that is your business, your choice, and since you had no use for me in over five years, don't concern yourself over we old folks now.]

I also know there is no shame or weakness in recognizing and admitting this. Actually, it takes far more spiritual empowerment and self-exploration to discover it and cut those communication channels than to continue in the belief that it happens to others, but not to me.

[D: WRONG. There is incredible SHAME in quitting and causing loss to others—that IS the basic shame of all shames I can conjure. I don't know who it is who feeds you this garbage but I would tell you that I certainly do resent that you assume it to be somehow ME who is the failure in the dark pit here in this comedy of idiot players. I find only freedom and relief in cutting these communications channels you attempt to impose on me. I simply do not accept anything you have presented thus far except a foolish tendency to involve yourself in ridiculous plays without learning much of anything from the experiences or even reading the script. Russbacher LESSONS should have been sufficient, it would seem—but, nonetheless, check around and see who is STILL INVOLVED with good old Gunther. Could there be someone, just possibly, giving out incorrect information? (?)]

Doris, I have poured out my heart to you in this writing not to defend my receiving clarity, but because I care about you and I pray that what I have written will help you discover the truth of Hatonn's letter.

[D: B.S., but it has helped me find the truth of the communications out of the blue after five years of silence.]

As an indication of how important this is to me, I'm taking time from preparations to leave for Boston, where I'll meet my daughter. She is going there for her fifth major surgery since mid-January.

I shall send this to Laurie to forward to you and ask that she also send it, if she can, to the avenues where Hatonn's letter was disseminated.

With love, light, respect,
Suzy Ward

[END OF QUOTING]

Sorry, team, but with "open transparency" our motto, and the stopping of protecting our delinquent enemies about their appointed rounds, there it is.

And will you please tell people that we can be reached easily at little cost at our hotel, which has NEVER BEEN A SECRET! WE ARE INFORMING THE HOTEL (PENN) THAT WE WILL RECEIVE NO FURTHER

ELECTRONIC MAIL THERE, AS WE HAVEN'T BEEN ON THEIR CIRCUITS FOR MANY, MANY MONTHS. SO IF, AS NOW, THE LIKELY INTENTION WAS TO NOT HAVE THIS RECEIVED BY US, IT DIDN'T WORK, AND LEAVING NO RETURN INFORMATION—DIRECTLY STATES THE INTENT OF HIDING THE SOURCE.

I have this little notation here in front of me and I find it quite appropriate: "The interesting thing about God is that if you have a true desire to kill yourself, he will let you. YOU are the loser, for you will have to finish your journey somewhere, sometime, in some other passage and, furthermore, GOD HAS TIME!"

OK, friends, I intend to get my job done THIS TIME, if at all possible, without killing myself before I do so. What others choose is theirs, but I find a whole army STRONGER than I could ever have imagined working with us. I can't even accurately consider myself as that which is in point here—for WE ARE ALL—ONE—and what each does, or fails to do, brings joy or pain to others—so, NO, E.J. and I have commitments to get this task done and what happens to US OTHERWISE (as in personal losses) is simply not a factor in our attention.

I consider, dear friends, that WE ARE NOT HERE FOR ANYTHING LESSER THAN GREATNESS—and greatness was never accomplished by quitting in either weariness or distraction. Responsible intent and actions are the keys to success. All else is greed and irresponsible behavior focused on ego desires. Well, E.J. and I had to let go, a million years ago, the baggage, and we dumped EGO and found the ship could then stay nicely afloat in the deep waters of truth, without running aground on the shallow reefs of others' ego-tripping the light fantastic through our recognition.

Any and all can send forth their demands upon us—but they are in no wise our COMMANDS. And so, the world turns!

Thanks for enduring one more boring episode.
Doris

GAIA'S PREMIUM GLUCOSAMINE SULFATE

Relief from joint pain

Glucosamine sulfate is an essential component of joint, cartilage and synovial fluid, and it is required for the normal repair and regeneration of connective tissue. Deficiencies in glucosamine can lead to tissue weakness and a decrease in the cushioning ingredient of the joint fluids and surrounding tissues. Supplementation with 100% glucosamine sulfate has been associated with providing relief from joint problems and with exerting a healing effect on arthritic symptoms.

Lack of natural glucosamine in the body can leave cartilage unable to function as a shock absorber. This can cause joint pain and swelling. The body's inability to produce enough glucosamine sulfate is considered a major factor for the development of osteoporosis and osteoarthritis.

CHAPTER 18

ALL THAT GLITTERS...IS GOLD?

Just how much gold are we really talking about here? No one knows exactly. But Hilarion (Larry) Henares, the National Economic Adviser of the Macapagal Administration has given us something slightly better than a ballpark figure.

“At the time I was appointed Chairman of the Gold Commission, I inspected three sites in Metro Manila where the gold was stored. The highest authority told me that the total gold amounted to 400,000 metric tons. One metric ton of gold is equal to 32,151 troy ounces and is worth (at $400 per troy ounce) $12,860,400. Multiply 400,000 tons of gold, we get $5,144,160,000,000 or more than $5 trillion.” These figures, which appeared in Henares’ regular Inquirer column (“Make My Day”), have probably reached the $15 trillion mark, interest included and compounded.

“This gold can transform this country into a prosperous, industrialized and powerful nation, with the right kind of leaders,” Henares added. “But I do not trust the Cory Government, I do not trust her economic advisers, the Council of Trent, who will only steal the gold for themselves. I do not trust the Americans who need our gold to save their floundering economy.”

Henares’ bold but frank statement was in response to the Reagan Proposal of “transferring the gold bullions to the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank in exchange for U.S. Treasury Bills”, which, as Henares correctly surmised, will push us further at the mercy of Uncle Sam. Instead, Henares proposed the establishment of an International Gold Bank & Trust in Manila, which will issue gold drafts for international payments, so that Third World countries can affiliate with this bank, granting them loans at concessional rates of interest, “unlike the IMF and its clique of international pirates”.

Henares, of course, was justified in not trusting the “government of denials”. According to dossiers captured by the Reform the Armed Forces movement during the December 1989 coup attempt, copies of which were furnished several people like myself, and several hard-hitting newspapers like the We Forum, the Aquino Administration, indeed, set up a top-secret organization to recover the remaining gold bullion allegedly left behind by Marcos.

Despite the people’s indignation triggered by the death of two workers at the site of the gold digging and the vociferous desecration of the Fort Santiago site itself, a national shrine, the Aquino Government continued with its gold-retrieval project and had further intensified its operations “tapping the resources and facilities of Channel 4, a government-controlled TV station in Quezon City, which was besieged by rebel soldiers in the latest coup attempt”, wrote Joe Burgos, We Forum’s fearless publisher.

At the height of the last coup attempt, everyone expected Colonel Red Kapunan’s RAM troops to use the broadcast facilities of Channel 4, which they had easily captured. It turned out that the rebels had another mission—to seize certain highly classified documents on the Marcos gold stored inside the PTV-Channel 4 compound. Burgos wrote that a We Forum correspondent who was with the raiders divulged [that] the documents retrieved from hidden cabinets in an office on the third floor of the station’s main building showed how Marcos, in connivance with certain Central Bank officials and other individuals in and out of government, shipped out gold bars from the Philippines to several points around the world—China, Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Japan, the United States and Europe.

Also included was a document addressed to President Aquino indicating specific banks abroad where the former strongman and his trustees had deposited gold bars “valued at $375 billion”. It also revealed actual transactions of gold from Manila to Europe and other places. (See Chapters X & XI.)

Was there any gold retrieved by the Aquino Administration?

“After almost seven months of digging, National Security Adviser Emmanuel Soriano sought an extension of the excavation in Fort Santiago, claiming the location of six vaults of gold bars, six drums of coins and jewels, which came from other Asian nations, and other hidden treasures, estimated at $1.7 billion had been pinpointed and would be unearthed within two to four months,” Burgos stated. But nothing was ever declared to have been retrieved.

“There are rumors that the diggers were able to unearth the P13 billion worth of gold which they spirited away at night,” said Burgos. “These are mere rumors.”

However, what was significantly omitted and left untold was who actually led the 1989 coup d’etat against the Aquino Government. Principally, it was led by Colonel Red Kapunan, and not by Colonel Gringo Honasan, as earlier presumed.

Another untold story which yet awaits unfolding was the actual reason behind the yellow Army’s and the pro-Cory forces’ rush and haste to recover the Channel 4 complex as soon as possible.

A report by Craig Nelson (see Chapter XV) included the loot recovered at the Napindan channel. The loot was moved in time for the military exercise of then National Capital Region Defense Command Chief, General Rodolfo Biazon, which the JUSMAG office in Quezon City was transferred to Roxas Blvd. at the U.S. Embassy Seafront area. This was why all roads leading to Channel 4 then had been barricaded for quite some time. The gold and the pertinent documents were also the driving force behind the persuasion flight of the U.S. Phantom jet, upon orders of the Trilateral Commission, through then Vice President Dan Quayle. The poor unsuspecting soldiers had been gyped by some of their colleagues, who had earlier connived with the foreign carpetbaggers.

CHAPTER 19

LOSSES AND MORE LOSSES

After the death of the two workers and the desecration of Fort Santiago, Soriano was reported to have deposited over one million pesos in a bank. Naturally, the country’s National Security Adviser was furious at the bank official who had tactlessly made the disclosure. Worse, he used a very lame excuse. Soriano claimed that the money was entrusted to him by International Precious Metals, Inc. (IPMI) for “safekeeping”. But why couldn’t IPMI bank the money on its own?

Soriano was “fired” by President Aquino as NSC Chairman after the group failed to find gold. “Instead of gaining funds as Mrs. Aquino had prospected, the Government is poorer because of the diggings and stands to lose more millions to restore the tottering fort that threatens to cave in, unless Soriano is made to cover the diggings himself,” read Burgos’ commentary.

The Aquino Government was now besieged by several other misfortunes. What needed immediate attention was the worsening inflation. During the six-day coup attempt in December 1989, prices of commodities soared by as much as 40 percent. Quickly, the beleaguered Administration imposed price controls on nine basic commodities—rice, canned liquid milk, powdered filled milk, sugar, dressed chicken, hard flour, pork, kerosene and liquefied petroleum gas. But the problem seemed to have gone out of control. Shortly thereafter, Aquino expanded the coverage of price controls to include eggs, cooking oil and other pork products.

Two days before Christmas, Aquino signed the Emergency Powers Act which penalizes profiteering, speculation and hoarding, declaring them as crimes against the people. It was during these hard times when many among those who were connected, one way or another, with the buying and selling of the Marcos gold wanted to obtain an audience with the President “to talk over prospects of financing her deficit-ridden government”. One of them was Woodrow Yap, whose proposal led to the formation of a “Wealth Chase and Recovery Program”.

This recovery group was headed by Conrado (Dodie) Limcaoco, Jr., then Manager of PTV-4, duly assisted by Maria (Mama Mary) Gosilatar, Carlos Gonzales, Brian Kim, Kwong Lau and Jojo Flores. Their first target was the recovery from China of the “19,000 metric tons of gold in Taiwan and Beijing, moved from 1973 to 1978, with the special intercession of a late Chinese official and coordination with the depository Thamen Bank of China", according to documents gathered at PTV-4 during the 1989 coup.

Some $290 billion worth of gold was also reportedly stashed in different accounts in 10 Hong Kong banks in 1983 under the code name "AAA" used by Marcos in his transactions. Lau was chosen to assist in the proper approach and representation to China for the gold.

According to information gathered by Limcaoco's group, the gold haul was spread out to the following banks in Hong Kong: (1) 12.5 kilogram bars amounting to 5,000 metric tons in Citibank N.A.; (2) 3,700 metric tons in the American Express Bank; (3) 75 kilo bars of 1,000 metric tons each in the Hang Lung Bank, Wing Lung Bank, Hang Seng Bank and Bank of America; (4) 200 metric tons in the Overseas Bank & Trust Company; and (5) two pieces of gold bars in the Industrial Bank.

The gold was supposedly moved in 1983 by Marcos' military officers, secret agents, some Central Bank officials and employees, the CIA, Pan Am Airlines, SABENA and KLM, including a cargo vessel that sailed from Manila to Hong Kong via Taiwan and into the port of Beijing, using the shipping code "AAA".

On October 25, 1983, the $290 billion was allegedly placed in trust in one of the banks as "standby money for payment of 32,000 metric tons of gold of assorted sizes".

A certain Mr. Bruce Bullock, introduced to President Aquino by one, Quirico Dumasig, Managing Director of the International Phil-American General Services, Inc., offered to make available to the Administration "huge resources up to U.S.$750 billion on a strictly confidential Trust Transaction basis".

Nothing profitable ever came out of these deals. All the Aquino Administration incurred were losses and more losses.

All the gold transactions were supported by voluminous documents, letters, affidavits, memoranda, official receipts and facsimiles of other pertinent papers. But the name of Ferdinand E. Marcos never appeared in any of the documents; nor did any of the names of his family. The only reference to Marcos was a letter written by Bruce Bullock offering a portfolio of billions of dollars to pay for the Marcos gold. This particular deal had to do with 100,000 metric tons of gold.

As Teodoro (Teddy) Benigno of the Philippine Star once commented, "Marcos was a devil of a genius, who wove tales with such stunning and superlative skill that he could make even the likes of Enrique Zobel hang on like a gape-mouthed child in the grip of a Canterbury Tale."

The mystery of the Marcos gold remains a mystery, incurring heavy losses to those who dare uncover it.

DAVID IRVING AND THE VERDICT OF HISTORY

By M.A. Hoffman II, hoffman-info.com/libeltrial9.html

After a two-month trial in London, British High Court Judge Charles Gray ruled on April 11 that revisionist historian David Irving was not libeled by Deborah Lipstadt, whose book, Denying the Holocaust, has become the manual of the new Holy Inquisition against those who dare to practice the virtue of skepticism and doubt the dogmas of Jewish supremacy.

Irving had contended that his 1996 biography, Goebbels: Mastermind of the Third Reich, was suppressed by means of clandestine pressure exerted against his publisher, St. Martin's Press, due in part to the influence of Lipstadt and her book.

The suppression of Irving's work was a classic example of the absurdity and obscurantism of the "Holocaust" lobby. His Goebbels book shows the Nazi propaganda minister to have been the evil genius behind many of the crimes of the Nazis. It is the most exhaustively researched biography of Goebbels ever produced. It was blocked only because it was written by the blacklisted Irving.

In his ruling against Irving, Justice Gray, in his traditional British magistrate's wig, which conjures the spectacle of countless indigent Whites sentenced to hang or to "transportation" (enslavement) by his august, bewigged predecessors on the British bench, pelted Irving with the familiar sing-song ("racist and anti-semitic"), refused him leave to appeal and stuck him with Lipstadt's legal costs, which are estimated in the millions of dollars. Lipstadt was funded by Canadian liquor baron Edgar Bronfman, Sr. and Hollywood director Steven Spielberg, who set up a foundation to record memories of the "Shoah"—and was "said by informed sources to be among a small group of prominent American Jews who helped fund Professor Deborah Lipstadt's defense" (Jewish Chronicle, April 14, 2000)....

...Gray's verdict in the Irving-Lipstadt case was predictable given the display of naked Jewish power during the trial, which saw the intervention of a sovereign state on Lipstadt's behalf, when the Israeli Attorney General, with the customary media flourish, rushed Lipstadt's legal team the jailhouse memoirs of Adolf Eichmann, the Yiddish-speaking, confirmed Zionist among the Nazi high command....

...But the gesture could hardly have been lost on the Judge: Lipstadt not only had the best British legal team money could buy (including the late Princess Diana's solicitor, Anthony Julius) but the full might and influence of the Israeli Government.

After the verdict was announced, Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak, who last winter ordered the bombing of civilian power stations in Lebanon stated that "...a persistent, determined battle is being fought against people who try to deny the Holocaust, which brought about the destruction of a third of our people". Barak told Lipstadt that her struggle and victory is a triumph for "free people against dark forces which want humanity's lowest point to be forgotten" (Ha'aretz, April 12, 2000).

A member of Barak's Cabinet, Social and Diaspora Affairs Minister Rabbi Michael Melchior, declared that the Court's verdict "sent a message to the whole world" that the reality of the Holocaust is not open for philosophical or historical debate, and that Holocaust deniers should be ranked among "the worst Nazis".

Speaking for the Israeli Government, Rabbi Melchior congratulated Lipstadt for the "strong moral stature" she showed throughout the trial. She served as a "model of Jewish determination", Melchior concluded (Ha'aretz, April 12, 2000). Melchior's observation is laughable in light of the fact that Lipstadt was so unsure of her facts that she refused to take the witness stand in her own defense, sitting mute behind her laptop computer throughout the trial.

The media also flexed their muscle. The London Times and the Manchester Guardian turned their coverage off and on like a spigot. When Irving had a good day against his detractors, the newspapers published nothing, whereas when a witness for Lipstadt offered a scathing denunciation of Irving, coverage magically resumed in detail.

The establishment media see their mission as shoring up "correct" beliefs rather than reporting the news fully and freely, encouraging vigorous competition between rival viewpoints and healthy skepticism toward the dogmas of church, state and synagogue. In this respect, they are the very organs of propaganda, something they decry when practiced by Serbia, Syria, Iran and other "rogue states".

In addition to being savaged by the Fourth Estate, Irving has come in for criticism from revisionist colleagues, largely because he represented himself in the non-jury trial and because he chose not to call revisionist experts as witnesses, with the exception of evolutionary psychologist Kevin MacDonald (author of a trilogy on the Jewish mentality and its survival strategies) and an involuntary witness, Sir John Keegan, who grudgingly testified to Irving's competence as a military historian (a fact seconded by Gray in his judgement).

The fugitive German scientist Germar Rudolf, who last autumn lectured at a revisionist-history conference in Ohio organized by Irving, writes:

"David Irving refused to present Germar Rudolf as an expert witness. Here is the price he has to pay for it: He lost his lawsuit, and has to pay $3.2 million (AP) or even $4.5 million (Reuters).

"Justice Gray made it pretty clear that refusing to present Rudolf as a witness forced him to reject Irving's law suit....

[JR: Lipstadt's expert witnesses must have been hard pressed to stay as neutral as they did, in the face of the inducements offered them: Christopher Browning, the only real expert among them, was paid £27,632 by Professor Lipstadt and Penguin Books, Ltd. His fee was bettered, however, by team-leader Professor Richard Evans: £70,181. Dr. Peter Longerich drew £76,195. Professor Hajo Funke, the Berlin University's glittering and totally objective expert on the German far right was paid £92,558. And then there is Professor of Architecture Robert Jan Van Pelt, who was paid £109,244. Irving, however, could not afford to bring in and pay for witnesses.]

...There is no question that Irving crafted a highly individualistic, even eccentric attack on the libeler and her publisher (Penguin Books) and that his strategy contained flaws and shortcomings.

But his single-handed performance in court was consistently magnificent and the gallery was frequently bowled over by his near total recall of the most minute details and recondite facts of the military history of the Second World War.

Under relentless assault for two months, including material researched by a Cambridge University professor who was paid to pore over every line Irving ever wrote, Irving was seldom short of a credible retort or a telling bon mot and maintained his composure and credibility throughout intensive cross-examination by the lead barrister for the defendant, Richard Rampton....

...Irving may have impoverished himself for life and may not have dotted every "i" nor crossed every "t" in the course of his trial, but thanks to his prodigious memory, work ethic, command of the primary source materials and personal courage, he astonished courtroom observers and reporters alike by putting before the Judge a giant portion of contrarian historical research of the first order; research which the establishment has decreed can't exist.

Moreover, his audience was not limited to the Royal Court of Justice in London's Strand, or even to those dependent on the spoon-fed pabulum of the New York Times and CNN. Though there have been others online, the Irving-Lipstadt trial is the first virtual trial of this proportion and significance thanks to Irving's highly professional web-site, where the entire transcript was posted weekly and read, without editorial omission or falsification, independent of the system's journalistic filters....

...Even though the high priests of Holocaustianity won the legal case, they are very well aware that damage was done to their historical case due to the existence of an independent Internet source of trial news and daily transcripts at: < <http://www.fpp.co.uk/Legal/Penguin/PenguinIndex.html> >.

[JR: What more can be said—it was a stacked deck! The damage to David Irving's reputation in the academic world as well as his finances will continue. He doesn't have any wealthy benefactors brave enough to step forward due to their fears of also being tagged as "racist and anti-Semitic" by THE controllers. This is also a warning to all challengers! "They" are in control and all others must comply with their rules without question.]

GRASS ROOTS OGLALA LAKOTA OYATE DECLARE INDEPENDENCE; APPOINT GENERAL COUNCIL!

By "Wild Horse", 4/19/00

RED CLOUD BUILDING, PINE RIDGE INDIAN RESERVATION, S.D.—On April 18, 2000, the Grass Roots Oyate, a large contingency of traditionalists, gathered for a mass meeting in Pine Ridge Agency to declare their sovereign immunity and appoint a traditional governing body, under the guidelines of the 1868 Fort Laramie Treaty and their independence from the oppressive IRA (1934 Indian Reorganization Act) form of governance.

As a record number of Oglala Lakota elders and traditionalists from other reservations filed into the Billy Mills Hall in Pine Ridge Agency, there was an overwhelming sense of hope and determination in the air. The Grass Roots Oyate contend that the IRA system, forced upon indigenous nations in the early 1930s, was the U.S. Government's attempt to assimilate Native Americans into the "White society". Many traditionalists have referred to the IRA as a slow, silent form of genocide of native people. Grass Roots' spokespeople addressed tribal members with words of encouragement and provided a history lesson on inherent treaty rights. They stated that "... the present IRA Government is a long train of abuses and usurpations against the common people and they have established an absolute tyranny over this great Oglala Lakota Nation". One elder agreed by stating: "Enough is enough! While the United States is considered the "richest" nation in the world, our people are living without food and indoor plumbing. The BIA knows this and they continue to push this IRA system."

A 28-member panel has been established to administrate the transition to a traditional form of governance. The panel, officially referred to as the "General Council of the Grass Roots Oglala Lakota Nation", includes elders from various "tiospayes" (extended family—community) that will be headed up the Tribe's Chief, Oliver Red Cloud. Traditional law dictates general consensus on major issues. It will be the responsibility of the General Council members to take proposed issues back to their respective tiospayes for approval.

Red Cloud, who has led the 93-day occupation of the Tribe's administration building, is the great, great grandson of the famous Oglala Chief Red Cloud. Speaking in his native Lakota language to the General Council, he stated that, "The Oglala Lakota have withstood harsh diversities forced upon them by the Europeans. The only constant we know is change. The return to traditional law will take time, but this change is our destiny. We must work together and regain our trust in one another, because we are all related. It is the only hope we have to protect our spirituality and language for our takoja (grandchildren)."

Oglala Sioux Tribal President Harold Salway sat humbly before the General Council and solemnly pledged to remove himself from the IRA system and walk with the traditional people to a better way of life.

The first action taken by the General Council was to file a petition to the Tribal Court to freeze all tribal funds in an effort to safeguard them from further misappropriation and embezzlement by IRA officials. Preliminary audit findings of the Tribe's 1999 General Fund show a lopsided view of the Tribe's assets vs. liabilities. The report shows that the Tribe's FY99 ended with an asset deficit of $1,453,615.00 and liabilities of $482,663.00. In late 1999, the IRA Tribal Council had sought to obtain a bond bailout of $8 million to pay off a previous bond and give the Tribe additional working capital. Although the 1989 bond was ushered in without general tribal consensus, concerned tribal members refused to allow for another bond bailout. According to the Grass Roots Oyate, that is when the people started raising questions about spending and accountability. When Tribal Treasurer Wesley C. Jacobs and members of the Tribe's Finance Committee refused to make financial statements public, the Grass Roots Oyate was formed. Since the occupation of the Red Cloud Building began, IRA officials have been in a spending frenzy, helping themselves and their families to the Oyate's money.

When the Tribe's Head Judge, Patrick Lee was informed that elder members of the Grass Roots Oyate were planning to hand-carry the petition to the Court House, Lee granted administrative leave to all Court employees, locked the building and left for his home in Rapid City, SD. Dismayed by Lee's actions, the Grass Roots Oyate reminded the large crowd that Judge Lee was elected through the IRA system and will not be a part of the traditional "wakinconzas" judicial system.

The General Council passed a resolution to fire IRA-appointed attorney Richard Erie and demand his removal from the reservation. Upon General Council approval, members of the Tokala Society began searching for Erie, who was reported to have been seen in Pine Ridge Agency. He fled in his vehicle, with Tokalas and Tribal Police in tow. He was apprehended as he attempted to seek refuge in Kathy Ecoffey's office at the tribal hospital. He and his wife were escorted off the reservation. Grass Roots Oyate question why Erie would run to Mrs. Ecoffey for sanctuary. Ecoffey is the wife of BIA Superintendent Robert Ecoffey. Superintendent Ecoffey has repeatedly stated that he has no allegiance to Erie, Jacobs or the Tribal Council and contends that he has no conflict of interest.

Since the onset of the occupation, there appears to be a national media blackout on the historic events taking place here. IRA Tribal Council members have attempted to ban the Grass Roots Oyate from speaking on the Tribe's radio station, KILI FM radio. Recently, a national radio program called National Native News refused to report on Grass Roots' actions, citing that "the Grass Roots Oyate had no authority to form a traditional government". Grass Roots' media coordinator Dale Looks Twice stated, "This is a blatant form of censorship. Media organizations have no right to editorialize reports and should remain impartial."

Through trials and tribulations, the Grass Roots Oyate remain unified and strong. They have gained international attention and support by using non-violent methods to effectively change their governance system. They appreciate all of the support they have received from around the world and encourage other indigenous tribes to unite with them in their struggle for sovereignty.

HOME SWEET HOME

By Catherine Edwards, Insight Magazine, 4/7/00

...Where do the banks get all the money they provide for the many thousands of prospective homeowners? Enter Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. No, they aren't Johnnie's childhood friends who struck it rich. Fannie Mae is the Federal National Mortgage Association and Freddie Mac is the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp.—a pair of Government-Sponsored Enterprises, or GSEs, created by Congress to provide liquidity in the secondary-mortgage market with the mission of ensuring that Americans have affordable housing.

And they have struck it rich. From modest beginnings, these ventures have become two of the most profitable enterprises in the world, with earnings last year in the billions of dollars. Money like that gets attention.

Not only have the GSEs made huge profits of late, they also have racked up massive amounts of debt; to be exact, $1.89 trillion last year.

As politicians promise to pay down the national debt, critics have expressed concern about this burgeoning GSE debt and the fact that soon Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will have assumed the risk for more than half of all U.S. home mortgages. A downturn in the economy could result in a huge bailout bill for U.S. taxpayers, critics say, much like the savings-and-loan crisis a decade ago that cost taxpayers $500 billion.

As the economy soars like a balloon, voices in Congress and among Government-watchdog groups are calling for stricter oversight and a potential overhaul of these wealthy, quasi-public corporations. They note that what should be a business is so political that the President appoints five members to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's boards. In fact, Fannie Mae Chief Executive Officer Franklin Raines has been touted as a possible running mate for Al Gore.

Raines was Director of President Clinton's Office of Management and Budget, or OMB. In his first year at Fannie Mae, he was paid more than $4 million and had almost $6 million in unexercised stock options. It was a nice raise from the $130,000 he received as Director of OMB. Other top brass also received astoundingly high remuneration....

...Is some loyal politico in need of big money? Well, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are generous political sinecures. Outgoing Fannie Mae chief James Johnson was Walter Mondale's Campaign Chairman and received $12 million in cash as he exited, not to mention stock options. Jamie Gorelick was Attorney General Janet Reno's No. 2 at Justice and received at least $2 million in cash, again not including stock options, to grease things for Fannie Mae on Capitol Hill....

...Fannie Mae was created in 1938 by Congress to boost home ownership during the Depression and at first was authorized to buy only FHA (Federal Housing Authority) loans and to help overcome barriers to the flow of credit into the housing market. In 1968, Congress made Fannie Mae quasi-private, authorizing it to sell stock on Wall Street but allowing it to maintain its Government benefits. Two years later, Congress created Freddie Mac, reasoning that Fannie Mae needed some competition and the rivalry would make both better.

So Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac buy mortgages from lenders and in turn provide the lenders with cash to make more and more mortgages available to prospective homeowners. The two companies then bundle and sell the mortgages in packages called mortgage-backed securities, or MBS, to investors looking for a secured and profitable place to put their money. The Office of Housing and Urban Development, or HUD, was tasked with mission oversight and in the early 90s, Congress established the Office of Federal Housing Enterprise Oversight, or OFHEO, to ensure GSE soundness and act as safety regulator.

What about those special Government benefits? The Congressional Budget Office, or CBO, estimates the GSEs have an implied Government subsidy of $6 billion. They have been exempted from local and state taxes and are not required to register their securities—a requirement that costs other giant corporations billions—with the Securities and Exchange Commission. In addition, they have a $2.25 billion line-of-credit at the U.S. Treasury, which assures investors that the Treasury will buy up to $2.25 billion of their debt obligations. The thing is, $2.25 billion isn't a lot of money anymore, like it was when the line-of-credit was established in 1957—and especially when Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's debt is in the trillions of dollars. These benefits amount to a AAA credit rating and lower borrowing costs.

According to CBO, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac pass on only $4 billion of the $6 billion implied Government subsidy to home buyers. The remaining $2 billion of that subsidy is shared among stockholders, lobbyists and corporate executives. The CBO estimates that 40 percent of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's earnings result from their Government sponsorship....

...“As we pay down the national debt through the repurchase of Government bonds, investors have been searching the markets for similar low-risk investment options. GSEs, like Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, have been positioning themselves as an alternative to federally backed bonds,” wrote Hoekstra. As the Treasury manages amortization of the debt, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac bonds could replace Treasuries as the credit market's benchmark.

Fannie Mae spokesman Jeffers did not deny this but tells Insight that the Fannie Mae debt is backed by mortgages whose assets are houses—“the safest investment there is”. He says: “Obviously, investors are looking for different options, given the reduced issuance of Treasury securities following the decrease in the national debt. Fannie Mae benchmark notes offer an alternative; they are considered reliable and liquid.” But continuing volatility on Wall Street may yet prove that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are not as safe as they like to appear.

U.S. Treasury securities are guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government. The GSE debt is not, but capital markets behave as if it were. Investors traditionally have interpreted Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's Government ties and Treasury line-of-credit to mean, as a practical matter, that they, indeed, are backed by the full faith and credit of the taxpayers, calling it an “implied Government guarantee”....

...“I am in no way hostile to Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac,” says Senate Banking Committee Chairman Phil Gramm of Texas. “But I think going back and looking at the degree to which the taxpayer is on the hook in guaranteeing these loans—I think the time has come to do that.”

A report issued by the American Enterprise Institute, “Nationalizing Mortgage Risk”, by Peter Wallison and Bert Ely, warns that taxpayers, indeed, will suffer significant repercussions from what they term the “uncontrolled growth of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac”. Wallison, a former Treasury General Counsel, says the solution is to privatize the GSEs or put them back on budget like other federal agencies. Financial consultant Ely says the failure of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac would create turmoil in the financial markets, forcing the taxpayers to bail them out at horrendous expense....

...Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac found themselves in the hot seat again this spring when HUD Secretary Andrew Cuomo charged that they don't do enough to help low-income buyers. Raines challenged HUD's data, then Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac announced in mid-March that they'd do better and earmarked $2 trillion during the next 10 years for loans to minorities, families headed by women, new immigrants and other underserved consumers.

But those who want to change the situation will have an uphill battle. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac spend a fortune on advertising and lobbying Washington power brokers. They place full-page ads almost weekly in the Washington Post at $34,000 apiece. Meanwhile, Fannie Mae spent $6 million on lobbyists last year and political contributions from Fannie Mae staff totaled almost $70,000 at the end of 1999, 75 percent of it going to Democrats.

“You have to watch out with those two, if you challenge them,” a congressional staffer advises Insight. “Even though they enjoy Government benefits, they'll come after you.”

[JR: Talk about S&L déjà vu. You have Government-sponsored corporations, run by political appointees, with Government subsidies of $6 billion a year. Fanny Mae and Freddie Mac also have a line-of-credit at the U.S. Treasury (our debt depository) of $2.25 billion. They pay no taxes and their securities are unregistered at the SEC and, worst of all, they now have run up a debt in the TRILLIONS. What a financial nightmare on the backs of us taxpayers! Wake up, dreamers! THIS IS REALITY TIME!]

SKY SPECTACLE PROVIDES FODDER FOR DOOMSAYERS

Chicago Tribune, 4/6/00

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Next month, the Sun and six of the planets will line up like cosmic billiard balls in a configuration that doomsayers warn could shift the Earth's poles, trigger earthquakes, ruin the stock market and usher in the Age of Aquarius, if anyone survives.

Astronomers also are bracing for the May 5-16 alignment, but not out of fear that their observatories will crumble.

They will be busy debunking the end-of-the-world predictions, just as they did when the planets lined up in 1982, 1962 and about every 20 years before that. They will have to do it again in 2020, also.

“If people are determined to be anxious about something, I think it would be a lot better if they were anxious about their driving on the freeways,” said E.C. Krupp, Director of the Griffith Observatory in Los Angeles.

The alignment will involve the Sun, Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn, and it will come just when you thought it was safe to ditch those Y2K survival kits.

The May show won't even be visible because it will be obscured by the Sun's glare. So, if there is to be any earthly excitement, it will have to come from all those quakes, tidal waves and volcanoes.

On Thursday, in a celestial preview, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn will appear close in the sky as they march toward the grand alignment. The crescent Moon will be crammed into the same area.

“It's very pretty,” said Dennis Mammana, astronomer at San Diego's Reuben H. Fleet Science Center. “I think that's the limit to the significance of this thing.”

Astrologers, though, say the May planetary alignment signals a change from the Age of Pisces to the Age of Aquarius. And that's not a good thing.

The “pileup of energy” is going to lead to “some very serious reversals in the stock market”, said astrologer Norman Arens. He also predicts cataclysmic quakes, floods and volcanoes, as well as a movement away from 2,000-year-old Christian principles.

Mammana countered that nobody ever has been able to explain how rocks in space can influence lives.

[JR: What has the stock market got to do with an alignment of planets—unless this is to give the Elite an excuse? I don't know who is the worst for speculation—the naysayer or the doomsayer. Other sources say the alignment includes Neptune and Uranus (a rare occurrence every 45,200 years, and those sources omit Jupiter and Saturn). Our positive thoughts can diminish cataclysmic events, and remember—GOD, too, has a Plan 2000.]

SOUTH AFRICAN BITTERLY CRITICIZES IMF POLICIES

By Merrill Goozner, Chicago Tribune, 4/14/00

WASHINGTON—On Sunday, Trevor Ngwane, a 39-year-old city councilor from Soweto Township in South Africa, will be among the protesters outside the International Monetary Fund meeting.

He's traveled thousands of miles because of the havoc huge foreign debts have inflicted on his country.

Paying off the $40 billion-plus debt inherited from the apartheid Government is now the second largest expense of the South African Government, exceeded only by education.

So instead of building health clinics in his impoverished township, the Government is selling off zoos and libraries to stay in the good graces of the IMF.

Ngwane has watched helplessly as privatized electric and water utilities cut service to squatter homes to adhere to World Bank policies designed to put those utilities on sound financial footing.

"Many of those loans were used to buy weapons and suppress the people during apartheid," Ngwane said. "So we are paying twice for it—once with our lives, and now with an inability to fund critical social services."

Led by an international campaign known as Jubilee 2000, public officials and Non-Government Organizations from the developing world are calling for the IMF, the World Bank and foreign-aid lenders such as the U.S., Europe and Japan to cancel $100 billion in Third World debt. Many of those loans were wasted by corrupt governments and military dictatorships, or went to failed development projects that never generated the expected benefits for local economies.

For most of the 1990s, the IMF and World Bank insisted governments of developing countries make payments on those debts as a condition of receiving new loans.

The payments often displaced spending on health, education and other vital social services, the groups say.

In the last year, the IMF and World Bank heeded the call of Jubilee 2000 and other groups and launched a program to forgive some of those debts. But according to some of the people organizing protests here this weekend, the program has bogged down.

Only five of the 40 countries targeted for the initial round of debt relief have qualified under IMF guidelines. Some of those nations are still waiting for the funds to be released. Stanley Fischer, acting Managing Director of the IMF, said the promised relief "still hasn't been paid for".

While the IMF has sold some of its gold reserves to fund debt relief, the U.S. has failed to come up with $210 million that represents its share of this year's program.

Treasury Secretary Lawrence Summers said the Administration's failure to win passage of a $210 million supplementary appropriation for debt relief hasn't slowed its progress.

"We have not been constrained by a lack of resources," he said, "but it is one we could face if Congress doesn't move forward with the appropriation soon."

The bill passed the House, but was tacked to an "emergency" appropriation that has brought about its delay. Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott (R-Miss.) has balked at the price tag.

Another problem has been the new strings the IMF attached to its debt-relief packages. To qualify for debt relief, a country must come up with so-called poverty-reduction strategies to ensure that the savings from debt relief go for human services—not military expenditures to entrench regimes or support a bloated civil service.

"There is a tension between the need to move with speed and the need for countries to develop growth strategies that their countries believe in," Fischer said. "Everyone wants the debt relief to be used productively."

Stepping up the pace of poor-country debt relief will be a major point of discussion among the seven leading industrialized nations that meet Saturday, and during the IMF and World Bank meetings that will take place Sunday and Monday, respectively. Those meetings will be ringed by thousands of demonstrators from around the globe.

Meanwhile, Germany announced Thursday that it will forgive 100 percent of its bilateral debt as part of the IMF's heavily-indebted-poor-country initiative. Germany said almost 30 countries would benefit from the measure.

Earlier in the week, Japan announced it will contribute up to $190 million to the IMF trust fund for that initiative.

[JR: Neither President Wolfensohn of the World Bank nor the IMF wish to make any concessions on the issues presented here. Their policy is to take away any and all assets of those countries and make sure these debtor nations never get out of debt and forever remain in poverty. GOD will help anyone who will work to do things a better way. We just have to believe we can.]

WORLD BANK CHIEF DEFENDS RECORD AS CRITICISMS GROW MORE POINTED

By Merrill Goozner, Chicago Tribune, 4/13/00

WASHINGTON—On the eve of protests against International Monetary Fund and World Bank policies in the developing world, Bank President James Wolfensohn on Wednesday rejected calls for sweeping change, saying his institution shares the same goal as the protesters: alleviation of poverty.

The activists, many of them members of the Seattle protests that disrupted last fall's World Trade Organization meeting, accuse both institutions of promoting projects and government reforms that have worsened economic conditions in the world's poorest countries.

They are seeking the cancellation of all Third World debts held by the Bank [What "debts"? No real money (value) was ever loaned—only the stolen credit of sovereign citizens which, incidentally, will be converted to true value (real property and hard assets) by the banksters, upon foreclosure.] and an end to lending for projects that they contend harm the environment while failing to promote positive economic development.

Labor activists say the World Bank and IMF have fostered anti-union policies in the developing world while ignoring human-rights abuses, especially in countries like China, the Bank's second largest loan recipient.

The protesters aren't the only ones raising questions.

While they won't be found on the streets this weekend, conservative critics say the two institutions' bailout programs contributed to the magnitude of the 1997-98 global financial crises that rolled across East Asia and eventually engulfed Russia and Brazil.

A commission organized by the House and Senate's Joint Economic Committee released a study last month calling for the revamping of IMF and World Bank lending guidelines.

The majority on the commission would limit the IMF to helping only countries in a short-term crisis and would eliminate long-term World Bank lending in favor of grants designed to draw private capital into the less-developed world.

While the Clinton Administration supported some of the commission's recommendations, it opposed its core message that the two institutions' basic approach to crisis and development lending should be changed.

At an impassioned press conference Wednesday, Wolfensohn rejected criticisms coming from the right and the left.

"I'm against radical reforms and closing things down," he said. "I worry about tearing down the institutions at a time when the poverty challenges are the greatest."

The World Bank and IMF were created in 1944 to help War-torn Europe rebuild its economy.

With that task accomplished, the international financial institutions shifted their focus to promoting economic growth and alleviating poverty in the developing world.

Their effectiveness has been questioned in recent years.

Starting in the 1980s and with increasing frequency in the 1990s, the less-developed nations of Latin America and Africa have watched their economies stagnate, while their exports became less competitive in global markets.

Meanwhile, a series of increasingly virulent financial crises engulfed countries including Mexico, Thailand and South Korea.

Nearly 5 billion of the world's population lives in abject poverty, with living conditions worse than a decade ago.

While the World Bank and IMF can hardly be blamed [SAY, WHAT?!] for the civil wars and government corruption that have held back economic progress in many of the countries they sought to help, the two agencies did little to end them either.

A General Accounting Office survey released last week gave mixed reviews to the World Bank's anti-corruption campaign launched in 1996.

GAO auditors noted one country where 30 corruption allegations were reported to local World Bank officials but were never reported to a special oversight committee.

Wolfensohn said the World Bank has begun implementing internal reforms aimed at meeting some of the demands of protesters and critics.

The Bank plans to substantially cut back its involvement in so-called structural-adjustment lending to countries in crisis, which has often resulted in the imposition of austerity budgets and cutbacks in fuel subsidies and spending on health, education and social services.

“In the future, crisis management is much more likely to be in the hands of the [International Monetary] Fund, and development activity in the hands of the Bank,” he said.

He rejected complaints that the Bank operates in secrecy and ignores the Non-Government Organizations that have become a significant social force in the developing world.

“We have an enormous program—75 percent of country assistance is now done with input from civil society,” he said.

Wolfensohn, an investment banker on Wall Street before joining the World Bank, said the protests have already affected morale among the bank’s 10,000 employees. [Golly, it’s going to be difficult sleeping—knowing that!].

“It’s demoralizing when you’re questioned about social justice, when you think that is what you’re doing every day,” he said.

[JR: Watch out for the Khazar Wolfensohn, who is “...worried about tearing down institutions when poverty challenges are the greatest”. He contradicts his concerns when he rejects the criticisms directed at him and the World Bank. Mr. Wolfensohn and Clinton will both deter any changes to lending and development, which are core issues with the protesters.]

AGENCY DENIES BIG BROTHER CHARGE

By John Diamond, Chicago Tribune, 4/13/00

WASHINGTON—The super-secret National Security Agency listens. Rarely, if ever, does the spy agency talk—until now.

Faced with charges from Europe and in the United States that it has grown into a faceless behemoth prying into private lives, the NSA on Wednesday broke out of its secretive shell to deny the charges and defend its mission.

The public-relations campaign, unprecedented for an agency whose very name was once a state secret, reached new levels as the Air Force General who runs the eavesdropping service testified in open session before a House oversight committee.

Air Force Lt. Gen. Michael Hayden, Director of the NSA, denied charges that his multibillion-dollar agency has become a nosy Big Brother, reading all our e-mails and listening in on all our phone calls, as well as spying overseas on behalf of corporate America.

“All of these claims are false or misleading,” Hayden said. “It is not technically possible to collect all electronic communications everywhere in the world on an indiscriminate basis.”

The Agency operates under oversight from Congress and the executive branch and it maintains a culture in which employees “are absolutely imbued with their personal responsibility” to respect the privacy of Americans, he said.

While defenders of the NSA point to strict laws limiting spying on Americans, the Agency appears to be crying, “Trust us.”

“Is it theoretically possible for us to use that capability in ways that are prohibited? I would have to say yes,” Hayden said. But he said that laws and the Agency’s desire to gain public confidence make that “well nigh impossible to do”.

The trouble is, as the NSA acknowledges, that while the Agency lacks the power its critics allege, its ability to listen to private communications is still formidable.

Further, while the Agency specifically avoids targeting Americans, there are frequent exceptions, and some communications involving Americans fall into the Agency’s net.

The public defense before the House Select Intelligence Committee comes amid sharp criticism from European allies and negative publicity at home over an extensive spying program called Echelon.

A special report by the European Parliament alleges that Echelon is a giant information vacuum cleaner, in which U.S. intelligence, along with counterparts in Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand, delves into private e-mails, confidential industrial files and virtually every cell-phone call.

The critics allege the intercepts are sifted not only for indications of terrorism, espionage and other misdeeds but also for industrial secrets that might be valuable to U.S. companies for competitive reasons....

...In the U.S., a coalition of conservative lawmakers, Internet enthusiasts and civil libertarians is pressing for more congressional hearings into whether [or not] the nation’s spies have gone too far.

“If the scope of Echelon is as large as has been reported, it may be that NSA is effectively engaged in communications surveillance of Americans that dwarfs that done by the FBI and other domestic law-enforcement agencies,” the American Civil Liberties Union wrote to lawmakers recently.

Rep. Bob Barr (R-Ga.), who has led the push for hearings, told the Select Intelligence Committee on Wednesday that the NSA has not been subject to close scrutiny since the mid-1970s, when investigations disclosed that the Agency had spied on Americans protesting the Vietnam War.

“Our citizens are left with a feeling of unease,” Barr said. Without stronger safeguards, he said, “abuse can happen in an instant and continue for some time.”...

...NSA officials, for example, do not publicly discuss Echelon, even though the existence of the secret eavesdropping program has been disclosed in declassified U.S. Government documents.

“We live in a society that distrusts power and secrecy and, guess what, we’ve got power and secrecy,” said a senior NSA official....

...“There is another side to this,” said Rep. Porter Goss (R-Fla.), who said restrictions on the Agency should not result in “tying our hands or making our job [of collecting intelligence] impossible”.

The intelligence community does not help U.S. corporations, not only because it is against the law but also because the Agency has far too much to do simply keeping its Government “customers”—the President, State Department and Pentagon—informed of key intelligence developments, Hayden said.

The NSA does sometimes target Americans for intelligence collection, if they are involved in drug trafficking, terrorism [typical U.S. Government agents’ activities] or are working for a foreign power, he said.

Hayden said the NSA “routinely” passes on to the FBI and other law-enforcement agencies information involving Americans who may be involved in terrorism or the drug trade.

To date, neither the Justice Department nor a special federal court for approving wiretaps has rejected any NSA request to collect intelligence involving Americans....

...The technology that critics say is being used to invade privacy actually protects it by automatically flagging intercepts that involve Americans, so they can be kept out of intelligence reports, he said....

...The context for the spy agency’s public campaign goes beyond the recent spate of public criticism and encompasses the NSA’s concern that erosion of public confidence will lead to its emerging mission being curtailed.

The NSA is essentially the “ears” of the U.S. intelligence community.

It is an organization of 40,000 employees.

Its budget, though classified, is an estimated $4 billion, according to Matthew Aid, author of a detailed study of the NSA....

...The Agency fears that if the public and Congress believe the NSA is abusing its power, it will not get the support it needs to modernize.

“The intelligence community must have the confidence of the American public to ensure that we have an aggressive intelligence capability,” CIA Director George Tenet told the committee.

[JR: NSA reassurances that they respect the privacy rights of Americans constitute a public-relations snow job. There is no authority that is going to reign-in the power of the Agency, whose very name was once a state secret. Its true power is unknown and its secrets are buried too deep to ever see the light of any oversight committee. They will allocate the $4 billion plus each year for the NSA—or else.]

BREAKING NEWS: GULF WAR ILLNESS

By Paul M. Rodriguez, Insight Magazine, 4/3/00

After months of what many in Congress and the General Accounting Office have dubbed stonewalling by the Defense Department, the Pentagon has now told Rep. Jack Metcalf that it will conduct a full-scale review of a peer-reviewed research project by the prestigious Tulane School of Medicine involving the odd discovery of squalene antibodies in the bloodstream of sick Gulf War-era vets—those who served in action and those who never left the United States during that conflict.

In a late-March letter to Metcalf, Washington Republican Dr. Sue Bailey from DOD’s Health Affairs Office informed the congressman—for the first time—that DOD also will amend one of its web pages devoted to the Tulane study and place into context the results of this ground-breaking research by Dr. Robert Garry and Tennessee immunologist Dr. Pam Asa, who first raised the issue of squalene as being a possible cause of the malady known as Gulf War Illness.

DOD had slammed the research—even before it was peer reviewed earlier this year and, certainly since—thus causing much anger among a number of bipartisan members of the House and Senate (see related articles on Insight’s web page). Bailey, in a one-page letter to Metcalf, said the DOD web page would be corrected to give the researchers the benefit of doubt on their work, pending further review by outside experts.

The Anthrax Vaccine Immunization Program’s website will be modified to read as follows: “Whether or not this test has any clinical meaning will be settled by medical experts over time. For now, it is sufficient to recognize the conclusions of the authors: ‘It is important to note that our laboratory-based investigations do not establish that squalene was added as adjuvant to any vaccine used in military or other personnel who served in the Persian Gulf War era.”

This is a significant statement by DOD, insofar as it previously has branded the research nothing but bunk and junk—and so stated such to GAO on numerous occasions when the congressional watchdog agency sought to get answers concerning the Tulane study, which found the strange antibodies in sick Gulf War-era soldiers troubling.

Tulane has never said that the military used squalene as an adjuvant in any immunizations given to troops, but by its research has raised substantial questions as to how this powerful medical enhancer might be showing up in sick soldiers, whose only link across racial, sex and location standards is that veterans received their full complement of inoculations.

DOD’s position has been all along that because it never used squalene in any shots, the Tulane study must be faulty and/or showing an extraordinary reaction in sick humans for unexplained reasons. An adjuvant is a substance used to make medicine work faster and better. The only U.S.-approved adjuvant is alum and, while squalene is a promising new adjuvant, it is prohibited for use in humans—except in the case of cutting-edge experimental trials.

Dr. Bailey also revealed for the first time to Metcalf that besides a National Academy of Sciences, Institute of Medicine, review of the Tulane research work, DOD has convened a special subcommittee of the Armed Forces Epidemiological Board to review and critique this new body of work that may help explain some of the reasons why so many vets are sick. And, perhaps, get an answer as to why so many vets who never left the United States—but who got their full complement of shots—are experiencing similar sicknesses as those vets who served overseas during the War.

Although Bailey did not give a date certain for the Armed Forces Epidemiological Board review, she told Metcalf that the IOM review is expected about August of this year.

A spokesman for Metcalf, echoing the comments by other members of Congress who have been pursuing this issue, told Insight that Bailey’s latest communications [are] “good news. But it’s only a start to finding out why so many soldiers are sick.”

The Tulane research involved not just sick vets but also healthy soldiers and civilians, plus people known to have participated in clinical trials involving experimental uses of squalene. Moreover, Tulane also has in cold storage a large sampling of blood supplies going back to the early 1990s that was drawn by the Army’s Walter Reed Medical Center from both healthy and sick soldiers. In virtually all its tests, Tulane found that only sick soldiers who got their shots showed the strange antibodies to squalene. Though the substance is naturally occurring in the human body, Dr. Garry has said it would be nearly impossible for antibodies to squalene to be produced from a human’s own squalene, given that all known tests cannot reproduce such an oddity in science.

Garry and his colleagues have repeatedly stated that while they don’t know why the antibodies are showing up, they exist and now there is a valid test for the Government to use to determine why.

The GAO has attempted to get answers on squalene following a series of reports in Insight Magazine, which first raised the troubling issues posed by Tulane’s early, unpublished research. Though it could find no widespread usage, GAO (as was Insight) was first told no such substance was ever used under any circumstances by the military, only to find out later that, in fact, DOD has been experimenting with squalene for a number of years.

The result of such waffling and misdirected statements has raised skepticism among many in Congress and within military ranks. GAO has called on DOD to begin full-scale testing of Tulane’s work and last year, Congress approved money for such initial medicinal trials. Until Dr. Bailey’s letter to Metcalf, however, DOD has resisted conducting such studies.

[JR: When these vets were given their original series of shots prior to the Gulf War, you can bet none were told they were experimental in nature. The DOD has run out of delays and denials under the weight of mounting scientific evidence. Where are the charges against those that lied to Congress? All the vets that are still waiting and the families of those that have died deserve to see the complete data on the vaccines from the drug companies and full disclosure from both the military and Congress.]

SIX IN NATO UPSET OVER EU CORPS PLAN

By Peter Finn, Washington Post, 4/9/00

WARSAW—The six European NATO members who do not belong to the European Union are worried that plans for a new EU military force could weaken the collective defense provided by the Atlantic alliance.

Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, Turkey, Norway and Iceland are offended that they have been shut out of initial planning for the EU force, which the 15-member Union agreed on at a summit in December. The six are demanding to be included in the project as equal partners, not only as a matter of principle but also to ensure it doesn’t damage Europe’s ties to the United States.

According to U.S. and European diplomats, the six countries support the EU’s plan to develop by 2003 the ability to deploy up to 60,000 troops within 60 days and sustain those soldiers in a European operation for up to one year. But they are insisting, as is the United States, that the EU force must not become a rival to NATO nor weaken transatlantic links.

“NATO is the most important and the only platform for collective defense in Europe,” said Ales Pospisil, spokesman for the Czech Foreign Affairs Ministry. The EU plan “must be a complement to NATO, but not an alternative to NATO. We need to maintain the American presence in Europe and strengthen transatlantic ties.”

“We support the [EU] idea, the premise,” said Omur Orhun, Director General of international security affairs at the Turkish Foreign Affairs Ministry. “The problem emerges in how to put it into practice. And from a Turkish perspective, the preservation of the transatlantic link is of vital importance.”

The concerns of the six are similar to a number of those expressed by the United States about the EU plan. Although Washington has long pressed Europe to boost its military capabilities, Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright has warned that the EU force must not “discriminate” against NATO members that are not in the EU, must not “decouple” the United States from Europe and must not “duplicate” NATO structures and capabilities.

The United States, supported to varying degrees by the six, also wants NATO to have a “right of first refusal” on any crisis in Europe, allowing the EU force to intervene militarily, if NATO chooses not to engage. Under such a scenario, the EU could then draw on assets normally allocated to NATO, including planning, logistics and intelligence resources, as well as troops assigned to NATO in EU countries.

But a number of EU members, notably France, want the new EU force to have the power to act independently, without consultations with NATO, and non-EU NATO members have been shut out of recent planning sessions.

That has upset the six non-EU European NATO members because the EU force will almost certainly use NATO assets and because the six say they want to participate fully in European-led operations, including contributing troops. Norway, in particular, has smarted at the idea that its involvement hasn’t been considered necessary even though it has a sustained record of participation in military and peacekeeping operations, including those in Bosnia and Kosovo, U.S. and Norwegian officials said.

“It is evident that the EU will not be able to develop, and it is not necessary to develop, separate forces,” Turkey’s Orhun said. “The EU will have to resort to NATO resources and will be using forces already assigned to NATO. Since these are our collective assets, we all should be able to participate.”

Turkey has raised the possibility that if it continues to be excluded, it could work within NATO to block the EU from using NATO resources. That stance, which is not shared as forcefully by the other five non-EU members, has put Turkey on a collision course with France and some other EU members, who say Turkey wants to make the EU force a deferential cousin to NATO no matter how much money Western Europe spends to increase its capabilities.

“The French will never accept a formal hierarchy with NATO first and the EU second,” said a senior Norwegian diplomat. “We may need some constructive ambiguity. NATO will continue to be the main instrument. We would see that as reality, but we wouldn’t insist on formulating that reality.”

Momentum for the EU initiative, which followed various efforts in the past five years to bolster Europe’s militaries, built after last year’s NATO air war against Yugoslavia. European countries were embarrassed by their weak contributions to the campaign, in which U.S. aircraft flew more than 70 percent of all combat missions.

Backers of the EU plan say they are simply heeding long-standing U.S. entreaties to beef up their defenses and ease the U.S. defense burden in Europe. But as the plans take shape, the non-EU members are worried about what they see as a long-term desire to reduce American influence.

“We want a European defense structure in harmony with America,” a senior Polish diplomat in Warsaw said. “The French want a structure that is a rival to America, and that is a serious concern. Some of this is driven by anti-Americanism, and that’s not constructive and not in our interest... We are talking to French and German diplomats about our reservations, and they’re asking us if we want to be a colony of America.”...

...U.S. officials are worried that the four EU hopefuls are being asked to quiet their concerns about the EU force to keep their candidacies on track.

“There are some people who are demanding that EU candidates in Eastern Europe choose somehow between Europe and the transatlantic relationship,” Assistant Secretary for European Affairs Marc Grossman told Congress last month....

...“There is a lot of tension between Poland and France on this issue,” a Western diplomat in Warsaw said. “The French have told the Poles that they are a little too transatlantic in their outlook and that their future is in Europe.”

All six non-EU European members of NATO want to help develop the new force and sit on the distinct military and political committees that will govern it...

[JR: By all appearances, this EU military force is shaping up to be a replacement for NATO, as it seems to be France's agenda to mainly exclude the U.S. and its influence in European affairs. It's a declaration of independence from the dominance of the U.S. and has nothing to do with saving us money. The U.S. is covertly behind the inclusion of these six countries and their demands, especially Turkey, to assure the U.S. has continued influence on the EU's military and political committees.]

THIS U.S. RADAR IS NOT ISRAEL'S TO SELL

Chicago Tribune Editorial, 4/14/00

Israel's plan to sell airborne early warning and control systems (AWACS) technology to the Chinese has rightly outraged the Clinton Administration and members of Congress. Israel may be among the closest of U.S. allies, but there are times when the U.S. interest should and must take precedence. This is clearly one of them.

Chinese President Jiang Zemin is in Israel this week for the first official state visit by a leader of the People's Republic of China to the Jewish state. But the visit has been overshadowed by growing controversy over the outfitting by Israel Aircraft Industries of a Chinese-owned, Russian-made Ilyushin-76 aircraft with Israel's advanced Phalcon AWACS system, and the PRC option to acquire at least three more such planes outfitted by Israel for $250 million apiece.

The equipment is thought to be more advanced than even U.S. and NATO's E-3 AWACS that achieved a 98-percent reliability rate in the 1999 air war over Kosovo.

What's frightening about the sale is that it would allow China to use its warplanes much more efficiently in offensive and defensive operations, eroding America's advantage in a future war—Taiwan, for example.

Defense Secretary William Cohen called the sale "counterproductive" in his recent visit to the Mideast, and President Clinton raised it in his meeting this week in Washington with Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak. But the Administration ought to tell Israel it's unacceptable to be helping the PRC put U.S. lives at risk.

Israeli officials counter weakly that it is not U.S. technology they are selling, and the specific radars and software are homegrown. Perhaps, but that hardly absolves an ally that collects $3 billion a year in aid from the U.S. taxpayer. It is almost axiomatic that Israel has derived much of its technology base in such items from U.S. economic and military assistance over the years.

It is particularly galling that Israel would ask for upwards of $20 billion in security aid to offset a proposed peace deal to return the Golan Heights to Syria—including AWACS planes—and then proceed with a deal that puts U.S. forces in Asia potentially in danger.

Israel is in a difficult spot. It claims it cannot abrogate a contract it signed four years ago with China—when there was no serious U.S. objection raised to the sale. It also clearly needs to maintain its strongest alliance with America, but it justifiably wants to expand alliances with other states. That's understandable. But this time it has shown too much chutzpah. Now, Israel plans to go ahead with the sale of at least one plane to the PRC and it may try to compromise on the others. That's a good start but, still, one plane too many.

[JR: This editorial feigns indignation, yet there is no real sense of outrage. Defense Secretary Cohen calls the Israeli deal counterproductive and offers no sanctions or chastisement. Israel will still get her requested extra $20 billion security aid, no matter how offended we pretend to be by her actions.]

DOUBT SHROUDS ART'S A-LIST

By K. Scharnberg and E. Neff, Chicago Tribune, 4/13/00

(AP)—The list of 500 paintings and sculptures released Wednesday by the Art Institute of Chicago with unknown histories during a period Nazis were plundering art from Jews would make a magnificent coffee-table book.

It includes two of the most beloved and recognized paintings in the museum's collection: canvasses by Claude Monet from his series on haystacks and water lilies.

The list has seven Picassos and a Matisse. There are Cezannes, Dalis, Mondrians and Miros.

And on a list also released Wednesday by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, there are six more paintings by Picasso, six by Camille Pissarro, seven by Pierre-Auguste Renoir, seven by Edgar Degas, four more by Monet, three more by Matisse and two more by Cezanne.

As two of the nation's premier art museums on Wednesday published lists of hundreds of artworks with incomplete pedigrees that could have been plundered during the Nazi era, it became clear that some of the most visited, well-loved treasures in America are in question.

And those lists don't include the hundreds of additional works expected to be announced soon by such major museums as New York's Museum of Modern Art and the North Carolina Museum of Art, among many others.

All the artworks listed Wednesday—some of which depict images so famous that countless American families display replicas in their dining and living rooms—have questionable histories because the museums have been unable to determine their whereabouts during the height of the Nazi regime.

"Gaps in the provenance (or ownership history) of a particular work do not necessarily mean that it has been tainted by World War II," reads the web page of the Art Institute, which released over the Internet its list of the more than 500 works in question at noon on Wednesday. "And even in those rare cases in which a work of art has been in the hands of a dealer or owner known to have been involved with illegal wartime activities, additional research may show that its ownership is not problematic."

Eileen Harakal, spokeswoman for the Art Institute, said that the museum immediately will remove from display any art that is claimed by Holocaust victims [numbers increase daily and seem to be proportional to the wealth extorted] and/or their families.

"If there was to be a loss, it would be painful," she said, "but the rightful owner is the rightful owner."

Jewish groups around the country—many of which were formed for the sole purpose of gaining restitution for victims of the Holocaust—were quick to praise the museums' disclosures.

"We welcome this as a very major step forward," said Gideon Taylor, Executive Vice President of the Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany.

Almost immediately, reaction reverberated through the Art Institute's galleries, where many of the paintings in question hang.

Admiring a group of paintings by Monet on the Institute's second level, Thomas Hart learned that one of the paintings before him—"Stack of Wheat (Thaw, Sunset)"—was on the list. Despite Hart's passion for viewing fine art, the San Francisco native said he would want any looted paintings to be returned to their rightful owners.

"The issue itself is definitely one of significant human importance between our current status and our history," he said.

In another gallery, Bob and Marsha Silverstein—Glenview residents who have aunts and uncles who survived the Holocaust—were celebrating Marsha's 54th birthday by visiting some of their favorite artworks.

"I was very surprised they had that many pieces with uncertain histories," Bob Silverstein said.

Both said that any paintings determined to have been looted from Jewish families during the Nazi era should be returned by museums to encourage some measure of justice.

Not everyone agrees, of course, and the debate will likely be heated as more museums find themselves housing looted works.

Philip Neale, a philosophy professor at McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill., who was visiting the Art Institute, had mixed feelings on whether [or not] museums should be required to turn over the artwork.

"I think it should be taken seriously and some measure of justice should be restored," he said, "but I don't know how that applies. It doesn't seem to me that a museum which has purchased something in good faith should have to just turn it over."

The release of the lists on Wednesday coincided with a meeting in New York of the Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets.

During testimony to the Commission, the heads of some of America's top museums pledged to step up their efforts to comb through thousands of their works for Nazi-looted art and to post any suspect paintings on the Internet.

"The burden of research is absolutely enormous. But this is a national priority," testified Malcolm Rogers, Director of Boston's Museum of Fine Arts.

Elan Steinberg, the outspoken Executive Director of the World Jewish Congress, an organization that has long sought restitution for Jews who lost priceless art collections to the Nazis' pillage, heralded Wednesday's events as "milestone achievements".

But Steinberg, who attended the hearings in New York, took issue with one position that several of the museum directors took during their testimony. The directors indicated that art [works] determined to be Nazi loot that remain unclaimed should stay in American museum collections. That would educate the public not only about fine art, but also about what happened to European Jews during World War II, they said.

"I take offense at that," Steinberg said. "Jewish art looted during the War must be returned to the Jewish people."

Steinberg listed two possible ways to return the art. The first would be to hold an auction—much like one that was held of Nazi-looted art in Austria that generated some $20 million for distribution to Holocaust survivors in 1996.

The second, Steinberg said, would call for the development of a museum that would display unclaimed art plundered from Jews.

Such a museum, Steinberg said, would be named the Museum of Rescued Art and Literature. The Museum's acronym would be MORAL.

[JR: They got the money, the gold and now the art. What's next—the deed to the world?] [Editorial comment: No, they presently have that also (through worldwide, private central bank extortion scams referred to as "fractional-reserve banking" and the like)—so, it will undoubtedly have to be the outright theft of all the natural resources from the other planets in our solar system and beyond.]

TELEPHONE HOTLINE (Discontinued)

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then there is currently no Hotline message.
