IMF/WB May Realize GAIA As Their Only Game Around

3/19/01—#1 (14-215)

RE: MISC. TOPICS REGARDING A GLOBAL ALLIANCE AS AN ASSOCIATION OF SOVEREIGN PEOPLE AND NATIONS

DON'T TRY IT BLINDFOLDED

Hatonn—When you play “Pin the Tail” it is quite funny for that tail to end up on the donkey’s ear. Pin the real tail to the ear of the dragon and it is NOT going to be funny! Right after the dragon eats your tail, along with the newly affixed object, he will blast you off the map.

If YOU would simply push our people to do stupid things in order to ease “your” little annoying burdens, then I promise you—your wishes for immediate gratitude and self-relaxation will not be realized.

When you put your neck on the line while the parasites chew away and your life blood is being drained away, then you shall understand the circumstances. Furthermore, when you understand those “circumstances” you may well see the merit in taking some action WHERE YOU CAN HAVE IMPACT.

The friends back home, for instance, have so many opportunities as to where to make impact of a meaningful manner as to be quite astounding.

If you need “powers of attorney” to take action, say, in getting back that stolen generator—speak up and then go DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. [It belongs to IESC.] Sit back in your security blanket of allowance from anything such as theft to “don’t say anything” and I ask you: Do you deserve to manage or direct the “greatest show on Earth”? And, friends: Lawyers require funds and still they will have to come to YOU for input, so get the input first and you save hundreds of thousands of dollars in a case by having the base of any case laid forth in hard copy. Plus: You will have great fun at the game.

Focus on something you KNOW or about which you have backup information.

Example: It is obvious from the records that the corporate agent/agency, NCH, has misdirected, mishandled and actually perpetrated UNLAWFUL acts— from giving out information, tampering with reports, destroying or burying notices of necessary information to keep corporations current, misdirection of bank account records, giving out information even as regards bank accounts for statements, holdings, etc.

GAIA alone has—in misdirected, held and mismanaged mail—lost a contract where several million dollars were handled poorly by NCH. WHO DID IT? Well, let’s not concern over “who” (as an individual) “did it”. The result has been LOSS OF THE WHOLE TRANSACTION BECAUSE OF THE DELIBERATE “BLUNDERING”.

You have cases where information was supplied so that Charles Neil and Rick Martin could actually access records of several bank accounts and were only stopped at “one” bank and that was regarding the Global Alliance corporate account.

There was actual taking of funds from accounts by Martin/Irwin where they had sole signature rights on accounts for several corporations including CONTACT. Withdrawals were made in cash payouts.

There IS information of misdirection of other banking indiscretions regarding the same two people and “other” corporations where information had to come from “insiders” at NCH.

YOU may well be waiting for me to do whatever you expect from me—BUT I AM WAITING TO SEE IF ANY OF “YOU” ARE GOING TO DO ANYTHING TO SECURE, RECLAIM, OR PRESS FOR ANYTHING WE HAVE LOST TO THESE HOUNDS. THESE LOSSES ARE NOT “EKKERS” LOSSES—THEY ARE YOURS.

You don’t know what to do? FIND OUT! You do NOT need “fortune tellers”. If you won’t involve yourselves enough to be good stewards of the things you have, then WHY WOULD I PUT MILLIONS OF DOLLARS INTO YOUR CARE AND DIRECTION ONLY TO HAVE YOU GO IN EVERY PERSONAL DIRECTION WITHOUT RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PURPOSE OF THE PROJECTS.

Somebody(s), for instance, needs to go directly to Millers and get THAT GENERATOR LOCATED AND RETURNED. It needs to be “trailed” and that fuel supply needs checking and access assured.

You will also need to retrieve the inverters and storage batteries stolen from the Adam Drive home—for when taken they were quite new replacements. MAKE NOISE IF NOTHING ELSE!

You will find Roby’s son involved in all of it. Moreover, anyone who will steal records, destroy files, produce false reports and teledramas—will also be involved, if nothing else, by association.

CONTACT THE PAPER

CONTACT the paper is not your typical morning or weekly rag-sheet. It IS “the” communications document with and between various agencies and parties. In most places it is recognized as the PHOENIX JOURNAL because the project involved in the interchange revolves, at present, around the “Phoenix Project” as coded when established.

You err if you have concluded that we either don’t exist or that we are somehow just “playing” games. What you think, however, is NONE OF MY BUSINESS, EITHER ABOUT MY BUSINESS OR MYSELF. THOSE ARE “YOUR” PREROGATIVES. The PROGRAM, however, in which we are involved HAS TO BE MY BUSINESS—FOR IT IS “MY” PROGRAM. I don’t know how to put it more clearly. But, if you think Ekkers are somehow dragging along as snails—please take it up with me. They are walking on glass shards here and the adversary really doesn’t want this program TO WORK. Do you really think the IMF/WB adores us? They may very well come to realize we are “their” only game around—but it takes a while to come to any such idea.

So much for that for the moment.

If you “walk through the valley of shadows”, is not at least one thing clear to you? If you have “shadows”, then there is also sunshine or there COULD BE NO SHADOW. Think about it please.

Now, I am going to ask a favor of our own readers, please. Margaret Anderson is the probable best resource. We have someone who wants to locate Jonathan Parker (the one who makes the tapes). It is time to reconnect with him, please. If you have that information, please notify Ellen or Rex. Then in turn please hand off to Gene H.

I want you to remember ALL THE TIME that God’s delays ARE NOT GOD’S DENIALS. In the proper sequence is the perfection made available.

I am amused at you who sing “When you walk through a storm keep your head up high...” when the logical reason to do so is that less body area is exposed to elements above. If you are humped over or laying around, a lot of body area is up for pounding!

Keep your head to the wind, as well as your vehicles, so that you plough through upright and not broadsided. A shortcut otherwise is most often really, really unwise in the outcome.

WHEN YOU LOSE YOUR DIRECTION, GO BACK TO BASICS

I suggest that when you lose a sense of direction and run in circles looking for your “purpose”, you are overloading your circuits. Go back to basics.

What are the basics? In ANY circumstance where you need to “reach” or “find” something—you have to know what it is, even if the specifics are a bit vague.

I would like to share a bit of insight—and you don’t have to go very far to get your backup.

YOU HAVE TO KNOW THE GAME RULES

If you are playing a game, you have to know the rules and point of the game at hand. Dennis (the menace) puts it well: “You can always win if you are the only one who knows the rules.”

You must know the objective of the game and you have to set parameters within which you can play.

Life is a game we all play. In fact, there is no way around that game. However, most of you are tossed onto the playing board or field without the slightest notion of what the game is all about—you hardly know its rules! One author, Dero Pederro, lists four “Life Rules” which might bring you back to some consideration for sorting. [QUOTING:]

LIFE’S RULE 1: If you don’t know what you want, you’ll never get it.

Whenever I ask people what they want to be or do, they usually reply, “I don’t know.” You HAVE TO KNOW! We live in the material dimension—you have to define and quantify what you want, otherwise, you’ll end up a drifter with nothing. You have to specify what you want for you to get it.

Have you noticed that sometimes even if the very thing you are looking for is right under your nose, you don’t see it, and later realize that it was there all the time? It is because you did not really know what you were looking for. In life, you only find that for which you are searching.

LIFE’S RULE 2: If you don’t know where you’re going, you’ll never get there.

As Alice in Wonderland states, “If you don’t know where you are going, any place will do.”

One of the dimensions we live in is space. You have to know where you want to go for you to get there. It is not enough to get a bus, train or airline ticket—you have to specify your destination or the man at the counter won’t know what ticket to give you and how much he will charge you. You’ll never find a destination the location of which you do not know.

LIFE’S RULE 3: If you don’t know when you’re going, you’ll never get there.

We exist in the dimension of time. Your life is nothing but the sum total of the time of your earthly existence. You need to know when you are going to your destination or else you’ll never leave, hence, never arrive. Time is an important factor in our lives. And we have but a limited supply of it.

LIFE’S RULE 4: If you don’t know how to do it, you’ll never get it done.

It is a world where “Well done!” is better than “Well said!” Actions, after all, speak louder than words.

You will never be able to accomplish what you want to do—or arrive at where you want to go—if you don’t know, or learn, how to go about it. This is where a plan of action is needed—you have to devise a strategy or draw an action plan to your dream destination. Then you will have to plot a flight or navigation course which you will follow to where you want to be.

Life is a quest for your own what, where, when and how. Now that you have the rules, go make that score! [END OF QUOTING]

If you SOLELY place your achievement on that of another’s, you may certainly never get where you thought you would like to be or in a position you would like to hold. You must make contribution to that journey’s purpose and destination if you wish to participate in the arrival celebration. If it is a “team” game, you MUST participate with the team. There has to be a “captain” and the game has to be held to the rules, lest you get disqualified for overstepping your “position”—but sitting while complaining or being the manager without the basic understanding or simply to delegate someone else to do the task is pure foolishness.

If you are dealing with property, say, of “a” or “several” corporations, then find out the information you need and pursue getting your property or whatever, sorted, listed, and go get it. Don’t wait for the “relatives” to do something about that which is partly your asset. If, for instance, someone has stolen the fuel to run the generator which was purchased to supply power to you in time of emergency and now you need it and have NONE—is it not YOUR responsibility as well as that of “the family kids” to make sure you get it back? THIS IS CALLED CORPORATE FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITY. It is also called “responsibility for yourself” if part of what is stolen is relative to your plans for survival and working coverage. NOTHING WAS “ABANDONED” FROM THE ADAM DRIVE PROPERTY—NOTHING! THEREFORE, ANYTHING MISSING WAS “THEFT” AND CERTAINLY NOBODY WAS GIVEN “PERMISSION” TO REMOVE ANYTHING. AND THAT MEANS ANYTHING!

If you KNOW that individuals TOOK THINGS (and there were witnesses to same from Adam Dr.), then your assumption has to be that they were at least “parties” to any missing property—from files to patio heaters used to keep ice off the patios.

Millers, as far as is known, DID NOT personally take that property—but those working “for” or in “behalf of”, even though self-appointed representatives, DID. If anyone TOOK ANYTHING, then it is suspect that they took ALL MISSING THINGS.

Roby’s son was SEEN with Latona, no less, READY TO TAKE FUEL FROM THE TANK WITH TRUCK AND BARRELS. People were WITNESSED loading up garden equipment of expensive ilk. Some of that was even admitted to—and the explanation from the Spectrum crew was that it was being held hostage until furniture was returned which did not and never did belong to the property AT ALL. So, it is time to get it returned because YOU will need that working equipment. Who took it? Check out the ones with facilities such as trucks and trailers—and better yet—get the information FROM MILLERS.

The missing property, where known, was reported to Millers’ attorneys with a demand last year, for return of same. No response!

YOU WILL BE PUSHED AROUND, FOOLISH

PEOPLE, UNTIL YOU PUT A STOP TO IT.

Now, in adding to your arsenal, observers: Anyone who demanded or got corporation records is about criminal activities—UNLESS THEY WERE SHAREHOLDERS IN SAID CORPORATIONS. IT IS THE “LAW” OF NEVADA. TO SIMPLY PILLAGE FILES IS AGAINST THE LAW AND CONSIDERED CRIMINAL ACTION.

To mishandle or misdirect, especially bank-account records, statements or information is taking the criminal actions even further down that dangerous pathway. TAKING CORPORATE PROPERTY IS BEYOND THEFT OR LOOTING OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. EVERYTHING TAKEN WOULD BE CORPORATE PROPERTY—FOR CORPORATIONS WERE SECURED IN THE OFFICE OF ADAM DRIVE. Many of the records were returned and dumped on the adjacent lot IN THE RAIN, along with family pictures and keepsakes. Some of those keepsakes were PUBLISHED AND SENT AROUND IN THE MAIL YET. The handwriting on some of those mailings was Ray Bilger’s. Internet information and publication ranged from Ed Young and Martin, personally, to their cohorts at the Internet sites.

ANY records of corporations published, or even shared, are criminal acts and cannot even be misconstrued as “shareholders” investigations—period.

If the lawyer is not yet ready to push for relief, then you who are involved, which is all of you, will have to lay your own investigation.

Several people seem to volunteer for a task and then can’t follow through or simply want to organize and delegate. No. This may, in fact, be pointed to such as Bruce. This is NOT so but in the case of Bruce, for instance, he had a heart attack and surgery at the time of the “changeover”. We do not repeat such pressures on anybody even though the intent be “willing”.

If you need some “investigative” input and/or someone to start and run a generator such as the one we refer to as “Buck Owens” (because it was his originally), also get Erick and a couple of people who can tinker with motors and use generators.

If there is still remaining fuel in the big tank on Adam Drive, make arrangements to at least fill the diesel tank at the farm for backup for the Buck O. generator. The electric situation in California is bad enough without any other mishaps. Generators need to be run occasionally to stay in working order and be dependable. The one in the Vogue should also be tested and run a bit just to have it work when you need it.

Many things are taking place around your globe of SERIOUS consequences and there will be NOTHING more frustrating than to have been prepared and when you need it nothing remains—or, what you have is worthless because you have no fuel or it just won’t run.

I realize that the most sophisticated of you will feel doubtful about my input when you look around at your daily lives. You go to markets overflowing with “stuff” and the food warehouse outlets like Costco seem to be endless bounty. BUT, you will find that national “reserves”, including food, are less than a 30-day supply. Moreover, the basic necessities will go first.

This is why our plans always included a warehouse outlet for both personal products and one for hardware, tires, most used parts for “things”, office supplies and so on. In that way—should total emergency strike—those places could be closed and the supplies kept under control as necessary reserves. That very plan should be available to every geographical location. It is GOOD BUSINESS and is incredibly important should emergency needs arrive until supply lines can be re-established and coordinated.

The sad part about the immediate relationships is that the ones who were willing to give everything they had to that realization have been so abused and accused that, rightfully so, there is no longer much “care” as to survival of the takers and enemies. Was it intended to be THIS outcome? It doesn’t matter NOW, does it? And now, many have moved on to other places, including the great beyond. What is still due-and-owing for extraction from these very people betrayed and beset by the hounds? Only that which is a personal commitment to share in and “if” success is achieved. Not even one grain of spelt is up for grabs any longer.

We will, however, keep our commitments even though they have changed somewhat by circumstances. We do not, however, serve adversary or enemy. God creates in equality. Everyone in this program started in EQUAL opportunity. Now isn’t it interesting how it is working out in the long-haul? All we need is to now sustain through the difficult time—for we can no longer “be denied” and the lies otherwise are, indeed, stupid to behold. Dharma, for one, has learned that almost everything in the line of “things” are able to be done without. Moreover, a roaster oven in storage somewhere is unneeded if you don’t need to bring a “pot” for luck. Didn’t think you would have such choices at 70? Look again! It is called the “value system” of perspective and perception.

There comes forth a great deal of FREEDOM in the loss of major consequence. At that point you have several choices—and creativity is one of them. Mental aspect and knowledge are the things which CANNOT be taken from an otherwise undamaged entity. Sometimes, in fact, those things which would be of worry and concern, when removed, offer clearance instead of constant distractions.

I would share a Dr. Galambos lesson from his father: “I was struggling night and day to find ways to lessen my taxes. My father very wisely said, ‘Andrew, never mind the waste of time—go make enough honest money to pay the confounded taxes and stop the distraction.’” I suggest you each study that carefully. A dollar put into the effort of keeping on keeping on in our instance will merit you ten when allowed to harvest our crop. God always returns ten-fold. That usually does not all show up in “just” money but in incredible realization and self-esteem. Not to mention the sitting place in the shelter with a pot of beans on the hearth.

Would you be “in town” on the day of days? Don’t undersell God, my friends. Smell the roses and don’t stuff the thorns up your nose. Further, if you want to hop down the primrose path, make sure it is to gather Evening Primrose oil for your health supplement and beauty unto the eye in route to the heart.

When you have done what you think is all that can humanly be accomplished—let go and let God. He will remind you if there is something you have missed.

If it is too much to get across the street, then find a way to accomplish the task from the side you are on. It may be a challenge but when limitations hit, you will be better prepared for creating a better way—just in case. There is no job more or less important than another—only different.

Will such as SPECTRUM “make it”? Ultimately, NO—because it was birthed from ill-begotten theft and intent. It has no ultimate purpose or goal of ability to return “anything”—and when you are sucked dry, donors, it has no way to even repay and much the less provide projects and ongoing value. Truthbringers are starving to death all over the place, so just to go forth on “the word”—when it is ONLY “your opinion or word”—is not a permanent or promising project. Much the more, “they” made every possible effort to kill their parents from which they took life and livelihood. Justice itself will ultimately stop them or they will CHANGE. YOU cannot live long on someone “else’s” Social Security checks. That already assumes “elderly” status.

I certainly do agree that all of you need to know about “chemtrails”, etc. But that information is out there for the taking and it IS taken right from the Internet. So, WHAT DO YOU DO TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM, remains the horrendous question. GOD WILL SHOW YOU THE WAY and not just “talk” about it while putting down others or breaking the law to grab the ego-gratification of being a “mouth”.

Am I “hard”? YES, INDEED. And will I change? NO, INDEED. Dark angels do not the troopers of Heaven make. This has nothing to do with “color”, my friends.

The mountain you climb today may well be difficult in the training process—but the next one will be ever so much more easily accomplished or simply avoided through the experience gained. Some mountains must be climbed—MOST DO NOT! Think about that for a minute while you study your eyelids first chance you get.

By the way, anyone who enjoys being a King Solomon—is mentally sick or warped. Be careful what you demand for self as to expert authority. And, moreover, if one of your current friends has betrayed another—ever—beware, for they WILL easily betray you the minute you least expect it. The deception games continue unabated by the cute miscreants.

Just keep the eyes open and realize that that which you discover is accounted as “new evidence”. Moreover, just about EVERYTHING is “new evidence” to Ekkers who seem to be the brunt of the antics but who have now been away for some two-and-three-quarters years and in a foreign land while still about our business enterprises. Yes, it WILL stand in court. Those corporations which were “dumped”—to hopefully protect the culprits or were demanded or were inadvertently dumped onto Ekkers by absolute “default”—become the very protection sought. When guilty parties dump and run—it often leaves the very evidence wide open for the viewing. Sometimes right in the abutting lot next door—right in the rain or dismantled aviaries. CHOICES WERE MADE, MY FRIENDS, AND CONTINUE TO BE MADE. IF THEY ARE POOR IN QUALITY, SO BE IT.

If it appears that I am somewhat tidying up the luggage—I AM. You face immediate possibilities of need and so do we.

Even in Manila we work first for STABILITY and immediate capability. We work ever diligently to be able to, at the least, walk away and send in packing and shipping crews suitable to attend the debris of both business and living IF NECESSARY. Records are mandatory for the continuity of function without great interruption if needs arise for same.

Why do we KNOW our program will work? BECAUSE IT IS BY FAR THE BEST, AND MOSTLY THE ONLY, PLAN AROUND.

Just think “sovereignty” and your dilemma will ease a great deal in understanding. If a SOVEREIGN people or nation wants to exchange counting exchange in sea shells—fine. Based on international foundation of respected and accepted value, those shells become international exchange as to value. Wow, simplicity itself! When you get that internationally accepted “value” base, then you can put out as many of those cute shells as you want as a sovereign nation or people or area. If enough of you choose against a given currency—go gather shells and use another bank instead of the restrictive and manipulative Central Bank which has only “assumed” stature and self-appointed authority. Your tribal councils will understand this far more readily than will your “Harvard” business-trained, miseducated economists. When an ounce of gold values so many sea-shells of a particular size or kind—you have it all, my friends.

You have been hornswaggled, boondoggled and misinformed all along the way to poverty. Please let us not go back to exchanging shrunken heads. You were looking for a currency when you chose the dollar and it has NO VALUE AT ALL.

If Dr. Young and Mr. Martin have better solutions, then I suggest they get on with sharing such wisdom. Indeed, chemtrails can be bad for your health—but sometimes it is a fact of correction of prior stupid blunders and experiments. Try hoof-and-mouth AND foot-in-the-mouth for consideration. Never mind harping on the trails—WHAT DO THEY, THE TALKING MOUTHS, OFFER FOR PROTECTION AND SHELTER? I AM HERE TO TELL YOU THAT JUST KNOWING THE TRUTH—WILL NOT FREEDOM MAKE. FURTHERMORE, JUST INTERVIEWING AN ELECTRICIAN OR NUCLEAR MIND WILL NOT SOLVE THE ELECTRIC PROBLEM IN CALIFORNIA, WASHINGTON STATE OR DOWNTOWN LAS VEGAS. KNOW THE PROBLEM AND THEN YOU HAVE TO DO SOMETHING TO FIX IT. And, yes, we can! We keep right on in our work to establish capability to solve each problem in turn.

If you think you aren’t in economic difficulties, friends around the globe, then you surely aren’t looking very hard.

Can these old friends come back who hit and ran? Of course—but would you trust them again? I thought not, so why torture yourself? Each faces the consequences of his own actions and participation involvements. THAT JUST IS THE WAY IT IS. Some who tout their perfect tone pitch are actually quite totally tone deaf. They become so involved in their own performance they never hear the train bearing down upon them. Moreover, friends, human nature is global as a species trait (genetically non-modified). You hybridize constantly, so how do you account for your lack of ability to understand intentional modification? Is modification somehow different from grafted plants producing fruits, better grains and blossoms? What is the difference in hybrid corn and genetically-modified corn? Wouldn’t either be really tasty if you are starving? Well, I’ll tell you this, neither would hurt you unless you graft onto a POISON plant of some kind.

I want to know what you are demanding when you DEMAND technology upgrading, called “civilizing”? Let me assure you that your aircraft is greatly modified “genetically” and structurally before we even touch it and much the less, fly in it. You have polluted the air you breathe to the point that we choose to not even breathe it until genetically “modified”.

You don’t need to modify a species going extinct—you just need to quit killing it and destroying its survival space. Same with “cloning”—even cloned sheep have to EAT.

If you choose to stay in the pits in which you begin to find yourselves—so be it, for the pit you demand will also suffice for a nice grave—without having to move.

Salu and may you learn something worthy today—GCH

Mad-Cow Madness And Fallen Idols

3/22/01—#1 (14-218)

RE: ERICK SAN JUAN LETTER TO EDITOR
RE: TALEBAN DESTRUCTION OF IDOLS; MISC.
COMMENTS ON CURRENT EVENTS, FOOT-AND-MOUTH, MAD COWS (AND MADDER PEOPLE)

HAVE THE PHILIPPINES GOTTEN MORE THAN THEIR SHARE?

For their “return”, yes. For our purposes, no. However, I have asked my people to “tidy up”, collect debts owed, cancel known greed-deeds and generally “get serious”—or we leave the work to the people and their own resources. Too many expect to simply WAIT and let us do it for them while never considering what happens when the support team is GONE!

Some “managers” have even gathered up the deeds of “others” and scattered with same to the four corners of the world to try and grab the proceeds—mostly for wild trading programs that obviously do not work. Those need cancellations. Those with Godly intent to save a nation will continue to work until it gets finished—the others won’t work anyway.

We most certainly will try to preserve the “office”—but it is time for the Filipinos to step out of the training-wheeled carriages and learn to walk or pedal.

Like everywhere on the globe, the many are managed and manipulated by the FEW political Elite and, indeed, it is sickening to watch. However, even slaves will eventually rebel or they will lay down and die—God leaves it up to the individuals. During the election processes, however, there is NO TRUTH, only the half that lies and the other half that lies. So be it.

TALEBAN DESTRUCTION OF IDOLS

No, don’t say those were not idols that were blasted from the cliffs. That is exactly what they were—to the Talebans. You don’t need a rock image to respect GOD. This is exactly what is wrong with your world, traveler.

History in destruction? It is not even a blip on the screen, silly babblers. If Buddha be great don’t you think he can withstand the missing of two statues that don’t even look like him?

By the way, the powers in charge don’t even want Asama Bin Laden as claimed. He is all that saves the stupid uprisings from revelation in truth. He becomes a one-man Ollie North for the Bush Brigade.

Let us share an editorial comment from Erick San Juan, March 17, 2001:

[QUOTING:]

Dear Sir/Madam:

The recent destruction of two mountain carvings of Buddha by Talebans in war-torn Afghanistan is no ordinary act of vandalism but an orchestrated move designed to promote the demented hypothesis of Samuel P. Huntington, the Eaton Professor of the Science of Government and Director of the John M. Olin Institute for Strategic Studies at Harvard University [H: Say what?], author of the controversial paper “The Clash of Civilizations”. And terrorists like Osama Bin Laden are being used for this purpose.

According to Huntington, “World politics is entering a new phase,” which he calls “the end of history, the return of traditional rivalries between nation-states, and the decline of the nation-state from the conflicting pulls of tribalism and globalism, among others.” This clash of civilizations which, in Huntington’s viewpoint, currently dominates global politics, “will be shaped in large measure by the interactions among seven or eight major civilizations—Western, Confucian, Japanese, Islamic, Hindu, Slavic-Orthodox, Latin American and possibly African civilizations.

There is, however, something strange about the Talebans’ latest caper: It does not jive with Huntington’s perception of a “Confucian-Islamic connection which has emerged to challenge Western interests, value and power”. It could be another handiwork of the “world community”, the euphemistic collective noun (replacing “the Free World”) used to “give global legitimacy to actions reflecting the interests of the Western powers”.

One thing is sure: the conflict between Christians and Muslims in Mindanao is the globalists’ way of keeping Filipinos busy, killing each other and destroying their nation-state, while greedy Westerners loot their oil, gas and other natural resources.

[END OF QUOTING]

And what do I think of that? I think you should know that the prized training ground for prestige of educational mind-warp is HARVARD. Of course, this only is surpassed by anyone who visited Cambridge, such as Senator Santiago, Elitist queen who actually, it is claimed, VISITED Cambridge as a “Fellow” of some kind—which somehow gave her entrance qualification for the “tour”.

Most Filipinos don’t get an education ANYWHERE, so impression can be manipulated even as to monsoons and El Niño or the rice shortage.

I would suggest you sleepy Americans look more squarely at the China-U.S. debate over arms and ships to Taiwan. That is a really “touchy” bomb ready to burst in air. And, if you want to argue on the basis of “trade exchange” needs—check it out, for it is dismal—for the U.S.

And the Philippines? They are destined to be squashed in the middle when the hell starts in the second act of this play. There are BIG Chinese Taipans supporting the Philippines in the final gasp for business and it is NOT the U.S.—except for politicians who are KNOWN and are being “somewhat” prosecuted for naughty dealings orchestrated by the U.S.

People, over a third of the towns and areas do not even HAVE electricity nor any infrastructure for same. Around the cities the electric supply system looks like massive bundles of squid tied together with poly-wrap, some hanging from poles and some laying ON the ground. In many areas you can’t even see buildings behind the warp of draped power wires. Now there is talk and promise of GIVING AWAY THE POWER COMPANIES—and check out California, U.S.A.!

SPEAKING OF POWER IN CALIFORNIA

Didn’t you nice people see that the “rolling blackout” in Southern California a few days ago WAS A PLANNED EVENT. Yes, it even made this meager foreign press ha-ha page. There was even more promised to come. Excuses? Low water reservoirs?? What will you do? You will live with it, citizens, because that is the way of it and you will demand far more controls because of it—on you. By golly, people, it isn’t yet even past March, so will SUMMER be far behind? GOTCHA!

AS FOR THOSE HOOF-AND-MOUTH MAD COWS

OK, I give up—because when you start slaughtering selected GOOD HERDS as in Vermont, U.S.A., you have a real big problem, my dears.

And what about the latest incredible statement about destruction of all the herds of everything in Europe? Oh, “If we can’t stamp this out with destruction of the herds, WE MAY HAVE TO RESORT TO VACCINATION.” Resort to...? Vaccination? This tells you that the entire thing could have been averted, the flocks saved and for a pittance the price. And the disease continues to spread one at a time to other nations in spite of everything being done? IS THERE ANYONE IN THERE?

Now, for an “intelligent” show-and-tell by the newly incumbent political powers: They have been moving about the countryside publicly eating beef to prove that there are no mad cows around. How can you know from a McDonald’s burger, pray tell, when sometimes the incubation time is “30 years”? And, you haven’t the vaguest idea what is in that ground burger meat or that wonderful ballpark sausage.

Remember something: In Papua New Guinea the practice of eating your dead relatives is not long distant. Now the jokes make the rounds as no “reality” latches onto anything. That is called cannibalism, readers.

“What does a cannibal call a circus tightrope walker?”
“A well-balanced meal.”

No, I did not say the jokes were funny. However, a bad case of “Spongibrain” might well make tightrope walking a hazard to one’s health. Boy, your free world trade has blessed your planet greatly, hasn’t it? You can just share up everything, INCLUDING AIDS.

The following article by Boo Chanco, daily columnist in the Business section of The Philippine STAR offers a bit of “the problem”. Is my suggestion to stop eating anything but plants? Good grief, no, it is now recognized worldwide that more infections and poisoning in this day and age are from eating those healthy vegetables—especially those non-cooked varieties.

So, public, your problems will end shortly after you stop eating and stop breathing. For goodness sakes, DO NOT DRINK THE WATER! Soon the problem will be academic because you won’t have power or fuel to run your stoves and ovens. After they take your guns you can’t even shoot yourselves.

You could all take off to the underground subterranean city of Telos but don’t count on it because they are run by the High Priests of the Order of Melchizedek—and you may be limited to Mt. Shasta, California.

Please read anything you get with a view to WHAT YOU KNOW. You can take that which offers growth and reality in its ongoing movement forward—but please be careful while noting the people presenting this information, their way of life-style and what they CHARGE for a book claimed to be Spiritual TRUTH!

I would like to comment on that book called TELOS but right now we can’t redirect the time for same. No, the book does not address “inner-Earth” possibilities, called Shamballa. It directs you to very shallow tunnels and a city of at least 26,000 old Lemurians in PHYSICAL form existing there and “sending out Light”, etc. The book itself is listed under the category of Channeling and New Age.

When it seems that the information balances out “pretty well” with our own presentations—it should, those very “channels” have had access to everything we have offered and all available from such as Sister Thedra for decades. Now, tell me again: How did those remnant Lemurians get from Southeast Asia selectively to Mr. Shasta where reigns this speaker and revelator of underground tunnel cities?

It is stated that all the remnant survivors went to Mt. Shasta. Well, what of the Atmospherians who reside in the area OF OLD LEMURIA and attend the very wherewithal to salvage a new remnant?

The push of Adama through “Dianne” is toward ascension—but that can’t be so because they have not ascended but plan to do so when YOU get wised up enough to join with you to the out-there-somewhere.

No, I am not being harsh. I want you to attend this carefully for yourselves. Join a “hierarchy” who, by the way, just misses my name by arrangements of letters in speaking of the Silver Fleet (Galactic) as “Anton”. Gulp twice and consider possibilities. And, beware of Thoth, readers. You will find those references in the ads at the end of the book itself.

This is fun and the possibilities are a bit daring. I want you to gather the wisdom—but do not be distracted by that which IS NOT. GOD HAS BLESSED YOU WITH FREE WILL TO CHOOSE AND THINK IN LOGIC AND REASON.

I have also ALWAYS urged you to partake of any and all the information you can gather—for that is the only way in which you can discern reality or worthy conclusions. You certainly do not need become a Telosian to read a book, real or imagined, on the topic of possibilities. Wherefrom come your science-fiction tales of intrigue? In a world of “illusion” you can have whatever you conjure—even if you have to create it yourself. However, I would certainly consider that which backs itself up with more than a tale of perfect health of humanoids who live underground and produce enough “light” to grow crops and exercise in tunnels between cities DOWN there. Interesting that anyone would move “down” when the purpose, stated, is to “ascend” “up”. Some contradictions need consideration.

If, however, you would like to lay on the ground somewhere to absorb Light from the underground, Shasta is a beautiful place to do so. This in no way negates any such idea that there are not entities within that mountain—and those are recognized by scientists who have mapped it from “off shore”.

There was a man named Dr. Decibla (surely misspelled) who was a personal working friend of one, Nikola Tesla who spent much time in that mountain called Shasta. When Tesla died he left with this man his documents for safekeeping. ALWAYS MAKE SURE YOU ARE NOT JUST BEING MISLED AND THEN ENJOY!

Back to the Philippines and “Spongibrain”. It can’t be much worse than breathing the Manila air. Either one makes you go quite crazy.

[QUOTING Boo Chanco, “DEMAND AND SUPPLY”, The Philippine STAR, Wed., March 21, 2001:]

LOCAL CATTLE BEING FED SUSPECT BRITISH FEED FOR YEARS

There is absolutely good reason to be paranoid about the mad-cow disease. As it turns out, the Philippines is one of four MAJOR IMPORTERS of possibly infected cattle feed from Britain since the 1980s. In a table published in conjunction with an article on the mad-cow disease, Newsweek cited official British figures that indicated the Philippines imported some 20,000 metric tons of cattle feed that could be possibly tainted with the mad-cow Prions. [H: How many of you know what in the heck is a “PRION”?]

That is small compared to the 600,000 metric tons imported by Indonesia and the 185,000 metric tons imported by Thailand. But you don’t need a whole lot to get infected. In fact, according to Newsweek, “The United Nations is urging non-European countries that imported British offal during the 1980s and 90s to consider themselves at risk for BSE [Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy] and its human variant.” [H: How many of you know all about awful “offal”?] Because the animal feed we imported had those suspect animal parts and organs, the Agriculture Department should quickly come up with a credible program to deal with the problem.

I belatedly read the March 12, 2001 issue of Newsweek, which carried the article—and I must say it was one of the scariest articles I have ever read on a public health matter. Newsweek said it best: “Mad cow is the creepiest in a family of disorders that can make Ebola look like chicken-pox.” It is untreatable and it ravages the brain. It is a terrible way to leave the world.

The Ebola virus didn’t seem half as scary when it was first reported—probably because it requires direct contact with an infected person and they are mostly in darkest Africa. On the other hand, the mad-cow PRION may be waiting for you in the hamburger, hot dog or steak on your lunch or dinner table. We are all instantly, potential victims.

Not even America is safe. Newsweek reports that “America’s safeguards and surveillance efforts are far weaker than most people realize. And in many of the developing countries that now face the greatest risk (that’s us, I presume), such efforts are nonexistent.” Take note, Secretary Montemayor, of non-existent efforts.

What makes us totally helpless to this mad-cow disease is the fact that the Prions that cause it are invisible to the immune system, which probably means, you can’t have a vaccine for it. The Prions are also tough enough to survive harsh solvents and extreme temperatures. As Newsweek puts it, “You can freeze them, boil them, soak them in formaldehyde or carbolic acid or chloroform, and most will emerge no less deadly than they were.”

Eating infected beef isn’t the only way you can get it. Some medical procedures and therapies can infect you too. For example, short people who want to grow taller and are prescribed growth hormones are at great risk. Apparently, human cadavers were the only known source of the growth hormone from the pituitary gland. Many of those who were given that hormone have fallen victim to the human version of the mad-cow disease.

One can also get the human version of the mad-cow disease through surgery. A woman from Colorado got it and died from it after undergoing brain surgery. Doctors used a patch of brain sheathing called dura matter to close the incision. The patch was infected.

Still another way of getting the disease is through cannibalism. A Nobel Prize winner found this out among a tribe in Papua New Guinea. The tribal folks thought sorcerers casting spells caused a condition they called kuru. Little did they know it was their habit of eating their dead loved ones instead of burying them that’s striking them down with kuru.

Studies, according to Newsweek, suggest that brain-destroying Prions are more likely to show up in meat torn from a cow’s spinal column than, say, a rump roast. The most infectious cow parts—the brain, spinal cord, spleen, thymus, tonsils and intestines—are now banned for consumption by man or beast in developed countries. Heaven knows how we still eat them in our part of the world.

[H: Well, for one reason, almost no one in this Third World country reads The Philippine STAR, much the less, Newsweek! This is exactly the way the Elite take over the world and all that’s in it. 99% of the readers of Mr. Chanco’s column start with the joke at the end and work forward if the topic seems entertaining. By the way, the columns are well done and thus, even with excellent observations, are quite entertaining as well.]

If you really can’t stop eating beef, you may want to follow the advice of European health agencies. They say that the greatest dangers come from burgers, sausages and meat still attached to the bone, such as T-bone steak. Eating bone marrow or “bulalo” (THE Philippine soup of soups) is definitely asking for it. That’s because these cow parts are more likely to contain nerve fibers and, therefore, more likely to harbor the Prions involved in mad-cow disease. Flank steak and filet mignon are presumably safer. [H: The only problem here is that nobody in the Philippines except Erap Estrada can afford such a beef cut.]

An American institution may also be in danger. According to Newsweek, “an American hotdog, for example, can contain up to 20 percent mechanically separated meat, which the government describes as a paste-like and batter-like meat product produced by forcing bones with attached edible meat under high pressure through a sieve.” I guess that means, hot dogs can be risky.

The Newsweek article suggests that Russia and Southeast Asian countries (that’s us) that imported feed and cattle from Britain during the 1980s and 90s should mount extensive surveillance efforts. Those silly Agriculture and Meat Inspection officials who publicly feasted on beef dishes the other week would do better public service if they launched a program to check on local cattle instead.

Because some local cattle, like those in commercial farms, have been fed British feed, they could be carriers of the mad-cow Prions. It is no good to give the public a false sense of security. Paranoia is better, until our officials have done their homework. For starters, we should be told who used that imported British cattle feed.

Just when I started to eat beef again, I had to read this article. I don’t know if you can still get the March 12 issue at the newsstands. But for your health and that of your family, I think you should make an effort to read it. It is scary enough to make you an overnight vegetarian. [H: Not if you have studied the reports on veggies.]

[END OF QUOTING]

Please now, be serious for a minute. I want to remind you of some very distressing things like Ebola and a THING CALLED AIDS. A few years later a large percentage of humankind are infected carriers.

I am also reminded to mention the fact that Hoof-and-Mouth is a virus akin to human herpes simplex (cold sores or fever blisters). Now, my inquiry is: Why not just destroy all the humans and protect the livestock from possible infection? Surely, it would also stop the spread or stamp out the disease so transferable by human to human in all parts of the body now used for all the deviant games you can conjure. And you really think you are not in the midst of unmanageable problems? Well, they are not unmanageable—they are totally “managed”.

Go back to the caves? That is not a good idea because most of the ones in the Philippines are booby-trapped—and besides, there are snakes, snails and puppy dog tails in those caves probably carrying mad rodent “spongibrain”.

Let’s try again: ABOUT THOSE CHEMTRAILS. (??) Moreover, you-the-people bite every time—so nobody has to change the game, just the name. Silver colloid kills herpes viruses, so wouldn’t some in the water tank be cheaper than shooting everything in sight?

It costs years to build up herds of desirable strains of livestock and especially sheep for wool, etc. Most farmers shall never recover these losses. Satan is a mean, dirty player and he certainly can gather all the troops to fit his needs.

Chelas: Wash your grapes, please. Or drink a lot of wine—and if you get enough, you won’t care. Well, stick around and soon you won’t have to have mad-cow disease to go mad.

Just when cows are becoming endangered, now we have that the Taleban plans to sacrifice at least 100 cows in atonement for taking so long in destroying those idols. How does your brain feel along about now? Well, we can do one better in our own experience.

A group of “Miracle Mountain” people came in and touted untold riches—and right after we give them several million pesos in order to get cows and sheep (by the hundreds) to “sacrifice”, they will share the purified treasure with us. I wonder if they plan to share with the country’s poor and hungry as do the Talebans. I really am beginning to feel terrible in behalf of the live creatures of your planet. Is insanity a genetic mutation of all humankind?

The Elite controllers laugh at you all the way to their manipulated banks, my friends. Oh, well...!

And while we are talking absurdity at the expense of your future: “A 12-year-old girl who set herself on fire in Tiananmen Square in a protest against China’s crackdown on the Falun Gong meditation sect has died in a Beijing hospital...”. Indeed, a child—a baby—left into YOUR CARE. May God have mercy—for the closer we come to Earth experience with mankind, the more difficult it is to “allow”. By the way, there is no mention of dying of burns. The death cause as written was “of sudden heart troubles”. Perhaps the next solution to such problems is to disallow citizens to have access to gasoline and matches? It must very definitely be spongiform brainitis of some kind whacking at random. People, it may take more than “mercy”.

In Alva a man told investigators that he “fatally shot his mother while she watched TV because the television told him to do so.” Hummmn, must have been the dreaded mad-human disease. It is OK, however, and he will only be charged with “second” degree murder. What is your television telling you lately?

I salute you who can recognize night from day—for that is a step in the right direction. Alice, where are you wandering around today?

The Growth Of NORFED And ALC

As referenced in the article on page 10 of the March 14, 2001 issue of CONTACT, the above two respective acronyms are defined as follows: NORFED: National Organization for the Repeal of the Federal Reserve Act and the Internal Revenue Code; ALC: American Liberty Currency

CONTACT, Inc.
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126

Dear CONTACT Staff,

First I want to say that I really appreciate what all of you are doing in getting the truth out and available to the masses. Second I want to let you know that I have been a reader / supporter / subscriber of the PHOENIX JOURNALS, CONTACT NEWSPAPER, and related material as well as their predecessors for nearly ten years. Third I was excited about the silver certificate article on page 10 of the March 14, 2001 issue of the CONTACT NEWSPAPER and I would like to give you an update.

I first heard about the AMERICAN LIBERTY CURRENCY (negotiable warehouse receipt) back around October of 1998 and I was skeptical. After a thorough investigation I fully endorse NORFED and I am in fact a redemption center. P.R.A.I.S.E. stands for pray, research, analyze, investigate, study & evaluate, my center # is 4718.

The article mentioned that $ 100,000 in federal reserve notes has been exchanged for ALC. At least four times that $ 400,000 in federal reserve notes has been exchanged for ALC as of January 01, 2001. The article mentioned that some 120 redemption centers across the country will exchange federal reserve notes for ALC. At least seven times that 840 redemption centers of which at least 65 are international are in existence as of January 01, 2001. In addition to the silver certificates NORFED also offers GOLD CERTIFICATES since March 2000 and recently introduced travelers checks, they also have advertising /marketing tools and customer support available. NORFED is a not for profit corporation incorporated in Nevada. NORFED is prudent by keeping the minting, auditing, warehousing, management, etc... separate from one another. NORFED is wise in having a monthly audit as well as an annual audit and making it available upon request. If you have any questions feel free to contact me or e-mail the fulfillment manager Sarah Bledsoe (sarah@norfed.org) for verification of the above mentioned.

You have my permission to print this letter in the contact newspaper and/or pass a copy on to any contact newspaper reader / supporter / subscriber.

Sincerely,

Robert Olson

LESS THAN HUMBLE OPINIONS

God points out to me that there are many sides to the volcano—and if you stay out of the downwind side and/or out of the hot air and lava flow, you will make it! Yea!!

He does not suggest that you can stay out of the danger zone of Mad Cow, Foot-in-Mouth or the other dastardly sins of the fathers being rested on the heads of the unsuspecting downstream kidlets—even lambs.

I am writing this morning because I want to thank the team for filling up the paper. A LOT is taking place and unfortunately it is called “work” which demands full attention and I have to spend time simply “stayin’ alive”.

We realize that when you are not in the blow-by-blow game, it is hard to be either patient or understanding. When you are in the blow-by-blow game, it is hard to be either patient or understanding. Either one takes its toll on our spongibrains but expresses mostly from the top of the head down through the feet.

There is, however, plenty of humor (bad, that is) in every corner of every tale. I think when you can see nothing else—you replace Jay Leno.

Today we are living through one of the straws that bend the camel. Two-By, bless him dearly, Father, had shipped to us by fast airplane a large Ozone Air Cleaner. This because we are dying—literally.

There are several reasons to stay out of Manila hospitals and not the least of them is the concern over “getting out” once in. There are several rules here for hospitalization: 1) You have to have full hospital-physician coverage (as in cash) which is paid upon release. You will not be released (ever I suppose) until you pay the bill IN CASH. Medicare doesn’t cover the Philippines—which does make for a good reason to make it a state. This alone makes me mad because we have never even used the benefit to date. 2) Hospitals have the worst hazard to health rate of any place and are overloaded with TB and the Dengue-stricken, not to mention Mad Cows and madder pigs, this being a pork-run nation and government; and 3) I prefer to survive.

My petition is that you not overly concern over me to any great extent because God doesn’t let us off with much—and it is obvious that the job is not finished by some last need to sprint pretty hard. I’m confident we are suffering from dementia of the innards, which is all-inclusive as things forget how they are expected to perform in carbon monoxide, bad water, strange food and “interesting” environment.

Anyway, back to Two-By and the Alpine Air machine. The company zipped it over to here where it is now being hostaged in the Customs warehouse, building up storage costs.

A cost for release was contracted and oops, the next day they called and upped the retrieval cost another couple of thousand pesos. E.J. has spent three days at getting the object from the airport to here. They do not call back; they readjust the total every fifteen minutes and meanwhile—the patient dies. At Customs they even have a list of mortuaries to recommend.

After telling us they will attend it “tomorrow”, of course they lied (everything else here is “out of stock”) and tomorrow, of course, was Saturday and nobody works. Well, they don’t work the rest of the time either, BUT—of course, on the bill.

On Monday if that machine doesn’t show up E.J. is going to take it to Victor, attorney, and all the way to the Head of Customs—and hopefully they will beg us on bended knee to take the confounded thing.

So, as to “my” health: There are only a few minor things in play such as heart failure, ulceration of God-only-knows-what, return of the scar tissue from old surgery of 1984, the lungs won’t absorb oxygen (enough) because of spongi-lung and lack of acidophilus—along with infestation of tiny ants walking through the arsenic ant poison with their little feet. Since we are on the 12th floor of this building, the ant housing is rather intimidating as none of those ants are even breathing hard as in a long climb up the building. I do note, however, that any tidbit of good news increases well-being exponentially and I do feel quite good this morning—and, yes, sir, we are up to and interchanging with someone who counts here: the Governor of the Central Bank. ESJ is carrying the flag and the bargaining has begun.

Erick has been a real friend. He IS in a position now to start negating the negative input and pushing the validity of our position and has completely satisfied himself that everything we have presented is real and right.

Here is where the gold part of the program will work. The Bank has to get gold in that hard yellow form. The governor says if we can present that gold, he will use this program.

This now means that all those billions and zillions of tales will present, in fact—or those liars will have to run for the hills.

I, of course, am not longer “naive” (go ahead and laugh) but the Governor says he will attend security, etc., if it takes the entire military. I SAY, RUN IT THROUGH A GOLD PROCESSOR SO WE HAVE NO ERROR IN QUALITY OR QUANTITY OR MARKING—IT IS WORTH THE PERCENTAGE FEE TO THE HANDLER. I TRUST NO MAN WITH HIS LAP FULL OF GOLD. E.J. wins the debate: If they are going to start off cheating at the bank, it is the last they will see of this asset—and they, frankly, can’t afford to do that and the holders will bury deeper into the cave storage vaults. Some of those “vaults” are so booby-trapped that they still have WW II Japanese trucks in them (with gold still on them). Betwixt they and an “intruder”, however, is the best protective technology available in that era—to make a mess of the intruder.

Of course, it is “floating” gold and that is KNOWN because the Japanese never even made a claim to regain it. Either that or they plan to take the Islands here. They actually quite peacefully got Hawaii, so that is no new concept, or so went the Hawaiian jokes many years ago. THIS IS A STRANGE WORLD WITH STRANGER PEOPLE!

The good part is that had E.J. and Dad not come up with this gold program, which is now even more solidly in place than before—THIS WOULD NEVER WORK—sorry, Rick and Charles.

Ron, Erick got your message regarding the books. No other comment to pass on, however. I know that when we help another, we get help returned and we thank you.

Erick will be in the U.S., perhaps mostly family concerns, early in April but will only take around five days. We are not further informed as to pleasure or business.

CONTACT, THE PAPER

Thank you, Mark, and thank you, Rays, for presenting a wonderfully informative paper—even if we don’t get our daily journal posted.

CORPORATION INFORMATION

Perhaps one reason I have been sickly is to keep me parked getting some input.

I have studied that manual from Budget over and over again—getting a bit more Spongiformed every go-through. There is not one charge or case that, had our attorney(s) been informed, would not have DIED ON THE SPOT before a question could have been raised. We would still hold the gold, including the Overton, and the games of Horton and Abbott would have gotten them disbarred at upstart of the games. Since they still drag things through the Supreme Court of Nevada to keep themselves from that pending disbarment, we can wait because as they keep the cases open, they also keep it open for our team.

I trust, Agent, that all those questionable questions you raise in the manual and suggest inquiries as to contents of By-Laws and In-Laws are present and sheltering in all of our circumstances as part of the original Budget packaging. One thing for sure now, even I could give some seminars on the EXPERIENCES and the legal backup provided.

I’m sorry, but in many places Cort obviously wanted to make money worse than he wanted to insure that “our” company did its job. We even find that it appears Millers gave Cort some older corporations way back when for use, probably for projects, in which they were sold and the money pocketed. Does the adversary NEVER sleep? What else will we find? Those older corporations are valuable and offer longevity to the structure itself.

This is the reason Dad has petitioned you friends to allow use of your corporations to ease us through getting a grip on this program if and when we get the deed (no pun) done. I expect most of those records of your responses are missing, along with the files of everything else.

I can promise you that when it all washes, we will find we have lost NO FRIENDS and we will have what is needed to accomplish our program quite equitably.

SOUTH AFRICA

Please, you in S.A., soon it appears there will be some interesting support to such as the GATA case. All it takes are a few good support examples and the E.J./GAIA $400 per oz. is causing everyone to sit and note as well as gather. It has set the cost of gold on the daily market at the least, at $400. The going price in cash is on the spot and the rest when that $400 is nailed. And now the glass clears for the DEEDs themselves.

If we go through a “dealer” on the way to that Central Bank, we get sheltering, processing and a small commission—which itself can keep the wind beneath our sails to finish this job.

UP IN THE WORLD OF RESPECT AND PRESTIGE

Well, “it” has happened, we have finally been recognized as to our importance level—WE have been asked to an Embassy social gathering. We aren’t going but Sakiasi will, along with Erick. That is the good news. The bad news is that it is the Bangladeshi Embassy. Anyone who reads the paper at all knows why that is “bad news”. Those people are worse off than Papua New Guinea or Taliban. I’m sure we can eventually help them without attending the BBQ. If Teri were here we would send her with blessings (since she knows the Ambassador in point)—but alas! We will get there, some of you here—and we will promptly shift around a bit. These people are so precious, even in their cleverness, that somebody must do something so that they can help themselves out of the grave.

What do you do with a broken Bangladesh? You back them in several ways: You offer them support of reserves, fund some major projects which will stop the flooding while producing electricity—and you find gold reserves that can be purchased for basing their currency. And then? You let them all go to work, build those dams, deepen the reservoirs and drainage systems, AND irrigate those fields from the stored water. Perhaps you help them become an “area” banking facility outside the “establishment” International Banking Cartel (IBC). God has no dearth of ways or means. Our problem is that we will overlook some of the instructions and/or possibilities.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

Sakiasi believes he will make it, with some Japanese businessmen dealing for the gas line to Australia, to PNG this coming week. He is in contact with some of parliament, so he would have an audience—for the effort is still underway to capture the largest Bank there in PNG and grab the stashed wealth of other nations and “you-know-who”. The accounts there have been checked and counter-checked and it appears to actually be intact but slipping away fast with no way to support the Bank itself. Well, here come the white knights—ta-de-do, tot-de-de, tot-tot-tot with suords, er a swords, at ready. Now, if we could only ride a horse.

The Japanese involved probably need to do business with us rather than what they are doing as Japan falls into the bottomless pit of bad things. They are with Mitsui. Well, in business, you are to “find a need and fill it”. We surely have found a billion needs and we are stuffing rags in the dike holes as fast as we can—but we have really had some odds against us two old folk.

THE WORD FROM THE U.S.

The most amusing thing of all is that we have never suffered here from DENIAL of product, have never had a complaint to us or about us. The circle of delays is from such as the Internet disinformation and blind information from—you guessed it.

Even that, if we don’t die first, helps us NOW. That is because people—like the investigation teams of journalists and official agencies, like the National Security Agency—have been able to verify our position. The good part of that is we have stayed the course until our integrity has cleared the stratagem and gambits of the “scam-con” players, including the U.S.A. We will see what the next few weeks brings forth from the innersanctums of the adversary’s lair.

BACK AT THE FARM

Thank you, Berends, for providing help to clear out the area at the farm which had to be attended. Thank you others who had to sort and shift to get it done.

I would guess that the “mobile” place may need the same help as more shifting has to take place. The apartment, plus the coach, gives us a place to perch if we need a room for a night or a place to park our computers to attend the dailies.

Carson City, Nevada still looks pretty good as a desirable place to park—as it is much like Tehachapi and I can crawl under the shelters of Nevada having undergone the assaults and testings of the umbrellas and all the ammunition that could be gathered to toss at us from every direction.

IF YOU DON’T HAVE A NEVADA CORPORATION—GET SEVERAL AND FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS. FIRST GET A MANUAL AND “STUDY” IT EVEN IF YOU ARE A SINGLE “NOBODY”. IT IS NOT GOOD TO BE A LOOSE HUMAN UPON WHICH THE PARASITES CAN SUCK.

WE ARE EXPERIENCING THE VALUE OF INCORPORATION WITH THE DEATH OF A.C. (E.J.’s brother). The cattle-ranch operation is incorporated in its “home” state and literally there has been attack upon attack against the structure—without success. Truly, old corporations never die (unless neglected), they do, indeed, just get a new president and go right on, even if tattered and frayed and the new people be also a bit tattered from the journey at hand.

This is all time-consuming, friends, as we play out a few more “experiences” from long distance—BUT NOTE: WITH GOOD INCORPORATION RECORDS AND HANDLING—THINGS CAN BE MANAGED EVEN FROM THESE GREAT DISTANCES.

SAFE SEX

One hard-hitting current scandal is that of the Catholic priests abusing nuns, especially in Africa (mainly) because of need for “safe sex”.

This hit as I am in the process of reviewing Earl Wilkinson’s book, People, Priests & Pedophiles. Earl is an early acquaintance of ours—as, at first, Rick and Charles were sure he was a surveillance agent sent to surveil us. He is a true philanthropist out of Australia and now 20 years in the Philippines. He lives in the next apartment building and has lunch almost daily at “our” dining room. He is also a writer and in our old age, we exchange birthdays (as in humble appreciation for still being alive). He just claims to honor us for having survived our stay in Melodramatic Manila “land of scams and cons”.

He has recently gained an appreciation of Erick San Juan who is often seen with us or E.J. here. The appreciation level seems to have somewhat climbed a ladder rung or two. We each now claim to be philanthropists—for all that is missing is the money. Oh, well.

Now to despair, however, Dennis Tito, the tycoon who bought a ticket to Mir and now expects to go to the new integrated space station, is an old acquaintance of E.J. from Transamerica days. We chuckle over that one because for a lot less than twenty million dollars we could offer him a far more interesting ride than to a space station—we can show him a “spaced-out” paradise.

I look back and it is somewhat interesting that Green dubbed us “losers” of the highest level. It seems we did alright until we took up with the likes of him.

E.J. managed a wind park investment, with turbines, for George Scharfenberger (wow as to spelling) who was in 1986 the highest paid executive in America. Looking back that doesn’t seem too shabby.

Dennis was with Wilshire Associates in Los Angeles; George was with City Investing of New York, but not the Citicorp club.

I find it even more amusing in retrospect to remember that at the time of Dennis, E.J. was President of the Pension Conference which is the Pension-Retirement group for the area. Still get a free invitation to the Past Presidents’ night every year—even in Manila.

Relative to that non-interesting tidbit; when Jason Brent (Mojave judge), Santa Barbara S & L and the RTC were stealing our property—E.J. was President of the Golden Hills (Tehachapi) “Home Owners Association”. Please reread “Home OWNERS...”. Ah, the days of yore and yonder.

Come to think of it—THIS JOB FITS US EVEN IF IT SUCKS.

CHUCKLE OF THE DAY

A while ago, say half an hour, Erick sent a message to get the paper, TODAY and read his article on such-and-such page about YOU.

We broke all records in getting that paper into our hands only to find the article was not about “you” as in “us” but is about YOU (Young Officers Union). We certainly do tend to personalize EVERYTHING and ANYTHING, don't we? This political mess here is such a bog that we can't even keep the alphabet straight.

DIANE: (Please, someone, call this to her attention.)

As you settle things to which you are unattached—other than to have gotten the dirty load dumped onto you—I think you should note something in the lack of Fed integrity, it is fine as to the products seized. You certainly do not want the stuff returned, for it is all outdated and you may as well build losses. Six months is tops for product longevity—and anything they seized is now well over that limit of packaged anything. I remember that they seized a whole barrel of one or two things which were awaiting clearance—so we don't even know if it would have been used. However, the loss can be inclusive of same.

Loss for records, computer seizure, equipment of ANY kind used can also be accounted. It will be a year in July since the gun-wielding raiders hit—and that surely is outside the product clearance without testing and monitoring. It also gives opportunity for the products in point to be qualified for “shelf life”. What will be found is that the products will be better, in fact, but having been seized are now worthless because of those “time limitations”, just as with dated milk or any other product given “shelf life”.

It must also be remembered that the use of other California-qualified corporate structure(s) had basis from Cort himself as an authority of corporation uses. It was necessary to use qualified and State (Calif.)-registered entities even though nobody was doing business in California—to be able to have legal recognition and standing in ALL instances.

I don't have other input on the matter but had to review these things since we were also somehow “named” in the raids of whatever sort they were. We must not allow these things to rest on any other than the responsible parties and, yes, we also know who those parties are.

Loss carry-forward is a good thing to remember to keep in your backup loss records—and there should be no question about the losses in most personal ways, including name defamation and loss of reputation which can't very well be “taxed” but is certainly THE MOST IMPORTANT ITEM AROUND, and more especially in your small home town.

Suggestion from a great distance? Leave it alone as to push-and-shove as to “city hall” for the moment, and drop the problem right back to where it belonged in the first place.

Whatever records were seized, leave them seized, because there are such losses now that even the IRS will have to look elsewhere into “big business” which is hardly a tiny distributing company in Nevada. It appears to me that Mr. Christie is still “in charge” along with Mr. Moorhead and whatever dragged us into such a bunch of BS shall finally come to correct focus.

I, however, don't longer trust ANYBODY and if Ed Young and Rick Martin put on worldwide Internet that we are up for summons, we take it seriously. In the meanwhile, we will march right on about the business at hand and recognize that each of “you” will do the same. Where we find no bridges across some wash, then we will use pontoons or tractors and let the bridge blasters hide as best they can.

We welcome the court calls for explanations but not the interference in our job.

We looked at who is the enemy—and found it “inside” our very organism as in parasitism of the worst adversarial kind. You know, those with sprouting wings and sparkly imitation halos. We have realized that God does not punish us further with such outrageous trappings. HIS wings and the wind beneath them are sufficient unto our needs—so far. Our wings have not melted from flying too high and we haven't yet drowned from same.

We'll be fine, for there are, indeed, “some” special things about us that give recognition of that end achievement.

SO MUCH FOR THIS AND THAT

I would share one last thing which will be familiar but I need to give Earl W. the clipping so will type it here in closing.

It is the absurdity of experience itself.

Before I offer the priest's eyeview of “safe sex”, I can top it with the new and more absurd public debate over a totally pornographic picture now banned by the government but is doing better business (as expected) by the banning. The picture is called LIVE SHOW and now has the largest VCR offering ever. It is live action, friends, on stage and on screen about live action and so on...! Is that my punchline? No—the punchline is the claim that this is ART instead of pornography, while a before-and-after reminder to “practice safe sex” is also “explicit”.

Well, AIDS in the Philippines should have a new lease on life, among other things.

But back to the Vatican:

[QUOTING The Philippine STAR, “World News”, Thursday, March 22, 2001:]

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican on Tuesday denied a report in the National Catholic Reporter that says sexual abuse of nuns by priests, especially in AIDS-ravaged Africa, is a serious problem. [D: They have since retracted that position.]

The article is based on five reports by senior members of women's religious orders and a priest going back to 1994. The National Catholic Reporter said the reports have been discussed at top Vatican levels.

Vatican spokesman Joaquin Navarro-Valls acknowledged there were isolated cases of priests sexually abusing nuns, but said the problem is “restricted to a limited geographic area”.

Navarro-Valls said the Vatican was working with the leaders of religious orders and he stressed the heroic work of many priests and nuns.

According to the National Catholic Reporter, priests afraid of contracting AIDS sometimes turn to young nuns, who are seen as “safe” sexual partners.

“In a few extreme instances, according to the documentation, priests have impregnated nuns, then encouraged them to have abortions,” the magazine said.

[D: Indeed, that which follows could be considered a bit “extreme”.]

In one case reported by Sister Maura O'Donohue, a physician and member of the Medical Missionary of Mary, a priest impregnated a nun, then arranged for an abortion. She died during the abortion and he officiated at her funeral Mass.

The reports cited by the National Catholic

Reporter also say that nuns who become pregnant are often forced to leave their orders, while the priests involved are allowed to continue their ministries.

The Vatican statement was issued Tuesday after the Italian media rehashed the article. The Vatican had refused comment to the National Catholic Reporter.

The National Catholic Reporter said there are no comprehensive statistics on the sexual abuse of nuns, but the “frequency and consistency of the reports... point to a problem that needs to be addressed”.

The reports cited by the National Catholic Reporter link the problem to cultural attitudes toward celibacy as well as the fear of AIDS and to traditions of female subservience.

The Rev. Bernardo Cervellera, director of Fides, the news agency of the Vatican's missionary arm, said celibacy has always been a struggle for some priests, but he was surprised at the accounts of sexual abuse.

[END OF QUOTING]

Now for the jokeline of the moment: The question is: Is Cardinal Sin of the Philippines so against LIVE SHOW because of the sex—or could it be because the use of condoms is advocated which reflects a form of birth control.

Indeed, Spongiform Brain Disease has broken through even the Church's worst kept secret societies. I will note, however, that there is no selective mention of heterosexual vs. homosexual activities as to “safe sex”, so all one-of-a-kind will have to sort it for selves.

I'm going now. There is, after all, value in having a sponge for a brain—if you jump off the roof and land on your head—you'll soggly just bounce or lay there—mad as heck.

Oops, I didn't note the Russian expulsion “tit for tat” of spies after the U.S. expelled their 50 “caughtems”.

I note that GATA is making headway in the gold-manipulation game and is expecting full cooperation from the Russians and perhaps that is why the U.S. needs another “Cold War” as promised. The “Dragon” is also breathing fire at the U.S. over arms to Taiwan. This is definitely NOT a good thing. I'll share some of those topics as possible or perhaps, even, Rays will get it to you in “News Desk”. It seems Mr. Putin is quite friendly and agreeable on these topics, even fuel cells for power production to Norway, but is quite irritated at Spy displacements.

I cannot imagine that it matters—as all of them are spies and counter spies (double agents) and seem free to build (dig) tunnels, bug buildings and you name it. Must be “CIA”—ISN'T EVERYBODY? That is the FIRST applied insult to anyone doing anything. If you are alive and breathing—you must be CIA. Yep, I'm sure they (CIA) must be the worst paymasters on the globe and plausible denial is the game of every-day tampering. Ask Col. Al Martin, “Russell Herman”, and any number of others needing silencing.

This time I really am “going”. As in the ending dialogue from Close Encounters: By...! Oh, well, no space trip—just back to my corner.

Dorrie. (as in a small dingy rowboat without all the oars.) I brought marbles instead of paddles to move this canoe—and even God said it wouldn't work. My basket held the marbles OK but won't hold water. The lessons to be learned are totally endless.

You Have Nothing To Fear From Your Cosmic Brotherhood

PLEIADES CONNECTION

RETURN OF THE PHOENIX

VOLUME I

BY GYEORGOS CERES HATONN

“dharma”

PHOENIX JOURNAL #22 (1990)

CHAPTER 12

REC #1 HATONN

THURS., DEC. 6, 1990 6:52 A.M. YEAR 4 DAY 112

TODAY'S WATCH

Good morning, in the Light of Radiance. I am Hatonn. Beware, chelas, you are about to be sucked into the trap because suddenly everything looks very good and promising for that “peace” they are preaching unto you. Uppermost and foremost, this day, remember a few key points: The key players in this little world scenario are ALL TRILATERALISTS! That, dear ones, means they are all members of the Global Plan 2000! Don't overlook this for a single moment—history is about to gobble you up like the turkey on feast day. This membership in the Trilateral Global 2000 Plan of One World Government with the citizens of the world totally enslaved to the Elite, runs from every Head of Government that Bush is visiting to Saddam Hussein and Jesse Jackson (newly inaugurated into the clan). What does this mean? THAT YOU ARE “HAD”.

You are getting from your television exactly that which they want you to have. Let me outlay a few things of current interest.

The plan, of course, is to deliver to the American people—some sort of Christmas present saying “look what we've done for you!” There is no intent to make Saddam lose face, for he is a consummate ruler—not a martyr for God. You are simply watching the noose strings being tightened around the people of the world.

Look at today's headlines, for those of you who have had opportunity at this early hour to get any fragments—Dharma, you will get it later, chela, please just write for now.

SADDAM/HOSTAGES

Saddam claims to have been “touched” by the petitions of families flocking to Iraq regarding the “hostages” and will now release THEM ALL. He will turn this duty over to his government councils to work out details and, therefore, there will need be no dickering with Saddam—nor Baker, nor Bush. The negotiations which are claimed to be absent will simply not be between the parties against whom “Lips” said there would be “no negotiations”. Actually, the plan has been laid for weeks (from onset of this so-called war). But all who have worked in behalf of the Iraqi stance will be made to pay some penalties.

LIBYA

Now, after all these months it is finally public in a burst of glorious pronouncement—the bomb which blew up Flight 103 over Scotland, “... was a Libyan bomb”. It was not a Libyan bomb—it was compliments of Syria but now, you can't very well blame Syria, can you? Assad and Syria are your closest friends and allies—so others who are enemies of this One World Dictatorship must be blamed. Do I defend Libya? No! No, I certainly do not; however, I do defend truth—and what you are being given now, is not truth. No matter who tells the lies, it does not make the story “truth”.

SPACE TRIP

They are further preparing you for any number of events regarding the recent Shuttle trip. Another telescope of multi-millions of dollars—totally worthless and now, carbon monoxide? In the crew cabin! Haven't the daily news items of things going wrong annoyed you-the-public who spent all this money on this garbage? What do you suppose is REALLY happening aboard that Russian space system?

Can't you further see the thrust, even with the young soldier who has now ended his commitment to the government who simply wants to come home—you have no declared war and no emergency and yet, because he would like to come home, he is ostracized and pronounced a traitor to America!

I remind you that you are just about to be given a glimpse at “world peace potential”. It will look very good—just as does the poison candy. You will be weak with the blitz of “... look how we saved you from massive and catastrophic war!” You will gladly leave your troops to “protect” the Middle East and carry out the invasion of Saudi Arabia—whose royalty government has already formed a coalition with the World Cartel.

Well, all I can say to you beloved ones who see the difference, is to make and gather as much hay and grain as you can while you are manipulated in the upward swing of events. You will all be blinded by the drop again in oil prices, probably also in gold (for investment purposes—and then an incredible rise thereof), a surge like unprecedented in the stock market until after the tax time—recall that the plan was to push the market to well over 3500 points and then pull the collapse on you. WATCH WHAT THEY ARE DOING!

The Feds are doing everything necessary to make you ones go on an unprecedented buying spree while sinking yourselves farther and farther into debt—they will simply reclaim all the property—so, put your ideas and money to work and put aside that which you can use later (afterwards) and be prepared to give them back their property—they will still need someone to run the factories, etc. Don't get yourselves attached emotionally to these “things”—be flexible and able to leave them without looking back if it needs be. If you can adjust yourselves to the same level of gamesmanship as your adversaries—you have naught to concern with over the long haul—for they are solidly and ONLY attached to “things” and material matter—in most ones, the soul essence is totally missing (which gives you a tremendous advantage) and you ones come within the shield of Lighted God. This is why you will prevail. Keep that shielding intact around you and there is nothing (NOTHING) which can destroy you—albeit if you are careless, you will be “taken out”. Does this mean that you will avoid and escape all Earthly harm and assault? No, in fact, at this moment both Oberli and Dharma are enduring a prearranged and deliberate infection of virus—but you will note it has not interrupted the writing as we have been even more productive, as she is not distracted by other perceived “duties”.

I did not write on the yesterday—not because of her illness—we needed to monitor the theater taking place in your Senate Hearing chambers. Do you feel you are watching a bunch of Robots at work? So be it!

I will honor Bill Cooper with the new projections he is espousing as supposition—“... could the Government have invented the ‘aliens’?” Oh, indeed, yes—along with the Government!! I wonder, ARE YOU READY FOR SOME MORE INCREDIBLE TRUTH? ARE YOU READY TO FIND TRUTH IN THAT YOU ARE A WORLD OF PEOPLE CONTROLLED AND PROGRAMMED BY ROBOTIDS [genetically replicated, spiritless robotic humanoids with fully downloaded brains], PUSHING HEAD-LONG INTO IRRATIONAL EVENTS BUT ALWAYS ALLOWING THINGS TO FALL INTO PLACE FOR THE NEW WORLD ORDER? WELL, ONE MIS-STEP AND THE WORLD WILL GO UP IN NUCLEAR HOLOCAUST—JUST ONE LITTLE MIS-PROGRAMMING GLITCH. YOU ARE NOT OUT OF THE WOODS BY ANY MEASURE, MY CHELAS.

Can't you begin to see that the citizens of a world have been mesmerized and programmed into sleep and no longer care what immoral or unGodly activities take place? Can you not SEE it?

Can you not see that they plan to take everything from you? The intent is to render you helpless and you are all but there. They have plans for getting all your stored wealth by simply collapsing the economy and replacing the money. Then you will be told how wondrous the plans for your “freedom” have worked that you will push for a Constitutional Congress and give away your defense means and forfeit your Constitution and the game will be over for most of you—EXCEPT FOR THE MISERY! WILL YOU TURN UNTO GOD THEN? OH, YES, RIGHT AFTER YOU TURN FROM HIM FURTHER AND CURSE HIM FOR THAT WHICH YOU HAVE DONE UNTO SELVES. So be it.

There is NO COMPASSION in these ones who would be Kings! NONE! Look into the eyes of those that run past you on the screens—look very closely and see the blank expressions as they spout off the pre-programmed lies unto you—LOOK INTO THE EYES AND ACTIONS AND SEE THE TRUTH OF IT!

Watch what the news media does. Watch as the ones espousing freedom and Constitution are cut off and the station moves to commercials. And then, look what they show you on the commercials—heinous acts of torture in Kuwait, etc. The only acts of torture in Kuwait have been perpetrated by your own side to work you—the compassionate citizens of the world—into frenzy. Look at the ones bringing these stories—how did THEY get out to do all this talking? How did THEY get the pictures to blind you?

IT IS WITHIN THE POSSIBILITIES THAT YOU WILL HAVE A LITTLE BREAK IN HERE, CHELAS OF TRUTH, TO ACT AND CONTINUE TO AWAKEN THE MASSES. THERE WILL BE MASSIVE ATTEMPTS TO GET EVERYONE BACK TO SLEEP UNDER THE CLOAK OF “PEACE”! DO NOT BE FOOLED—NOW IS THE TIME TO PRESS ONWARD, FOR YOU NOW HAVE THAT WITH WHICH TO MAKE RELATIONSHIPS OF ACTIONS, INTENT AND PLANS. REMEMBER—SATAN IS ALWAYS REQUIRED TO WEAR A SIGN—A CLUE! IT IS ALWAYS THERE IN EVERY SITUATION! FURTHER, IT GETS MORE AND MORE DIFFICULT TO HIDE IT.

MOREOVER, YOU ARE CONFUSED—that (confusion) is his number one tool—to confuse and confound so that you continue in the chaos until you cease to look for your way out. Then, you are hit with intentional blasts of pulses to the entire society to cause depression and lethargy which causes you to withdraw even more—and the only shield you have is the Lighted Shielding of the Higher Energies. Most ones who understand that fact are turning back unto what they believe to be Godness—but it is only Satan dressed up in ritual God-camouflage suits. You leave your souls open to an even heavier barrage—while pursuing all that is told to you will make you whole—HAS IT? For instance, does the act of sex, safe or otherwise, leave you fulfilled and at peace—especially deviant acts? So be it—I note that it only gives problems and guilt as well as disease and emotional devastation. Is this that which you desire that your world become—Sodom and Gomorrah? It is that which you have achieved! You are now as the lemmings—desiring to march into the sea to find peace.

God has never moved—He is right there within and you don't have to go anywhere—all you need do is reach your mind unto Him—He who waits for your decision. He sends His Hosts in us, who have come into your spaces to offer our hands and show you the way. No, God has gone nowhere—and frankly dear ones, NEITHER HAVE YOU!

PLEIADES CONNECTION OF TRUTH OUTLAYING

I am in a most wondrous position to point out some facts from your Pleiadian relations. These ones have vested interests in your place, for they are coming over from their own belligerent and often chaotic past and, perceiving yet another atomic devastation by the scientists' new ascendancy—a legacy to you from their own history—seek to head it off if possible. Do not confuse the people of Pleiades for the Hosts of God, dear ones, for that would be compounding your problems. The ones, however, coming forth at this time are ones who have grown most balanced in the truth of Law—both of God and The Creation.

In another Journal I have spoken of many of the projections which will be outlaid herein—but you need it laid forth in one placement for reference and, therefore, where necessary, we shall espouse it again.

You must have further knowledge regarding a cosmic change. It can be called the “Golden Age” or the Age of Knowing! In this respect I must first explain the religious interpretations concerning this epoch and point out that they are incorrect. Certain irresponsible fanatics treat this as the religiously proclaimed “final days”. By no means is this “new age” a “final” time, because in truth it brings REAL LIFE!

This wondrous epoch enables everything to develop to its highest potential, including spirit and according to Providence. But it will take many centuries, in your perception, after entering that period to reach such advanced levels. At first, as usual, the irreligious scientists will profit from the new advances while the common people will be restrained by their religions and perceptions that the lie is truth. Mesmerized by the concept of the change of epoch, especially the religious people will fall into fanatical delusion. Especially in the two centuries of the time of change, in which you now function, religious beliefs of all sorts will shoot up like mushrooms and bring many humans under their control. Murder, exploitation of all kinds, suicide, enslavement and imprisonment unto the lies—total enslavement to false beliefs will be the daily experience. The whole world will be shaken and involved. False prophets will offer salvation publicly in a fanatic search for victims and new followers—these will be leaders, politicians, publicans and proclaimed prophets of God Almighty—but they will give you only lies and your distress as a world shall spiral downward and downward into the morass of distressed perceptions.

INITIAL PHASE

This is the initial phase of the “Golden Age”, the transition phase of the two centuries. The culmination of this period will come in time—it is said to be around 2028 in calculation of your years. Therefore, if you are to count in accordance with projections and probabilities, you are in a most difficult present circumstance. The REALLY INTENSE revolutionary force of this “new epoch” began around and just prior to your mid-1800s and since then the extensive alterations on Earth rush irresistibly forward.

The New Age already demands its tribute—religious delusion, rapidly developing sciences, rampant crime, and wars of extirpation—characteristics of this time which can not be ignored. The first half of the transition period lasted almost a hundred years, until the first third of the 1900s in your counting, while the Earth felt the last of the old age—as it was known.

Since that time, rapidly evolving events, discoveries, inventions, etc., were characteristic as for no other time in history as you can recognize it. Your whole Sun-system with all its innumerable creatures is under the control of this “new” time. Each and everything is influenced by it, because this is a cosmic law, and it is according to this law—to which are subject, all movements of planets and all life forms of and within the Universe. Therefore, it can be considered that before your mid-1800s and hitherto, existing regulations—not of the Creational character—replaced those of Creational disposition.

The origin of this epochal change is in the radiation effect of the huge central sun around which your system circles once in every 25,860 years, and passes through the 12 epoches within the meaning of the cycles. The Earth has already touched the outer borders of the “Golden Radiation” of the central sun, which are of the strongest and most revolutionary radiation.

MISCHIEF AND DISCORD

Abundant mischief is connected with this, especially in respect to religions and the use of new discoveries and achievements. The way-showers of these changes are in cosmic destiny and appear under the Creation Laws. The way-preparers for these revolutions (affecting humans) are also human beings having been brought forth to lay forth the truth as given forth by the higher energies sent forth at the cycle of evolution which you now experience. They come, as in this case, to simply lay forth the truths of knowledge and spiritual wisdom as is given through them from the Higher Truth and Source. These way-preparers will be and are considered revolutionaries, heretics, and exiles, for they will announce the truths for ALL TO SEE! They will be set upon and many will be pulled down—for they, too, shall have to come into awakening unto the truth of circumstance.

These revelations are of much interest, and also of great importance to humans and you should spread the word by all means possible—this too, is the desire of the Cosmic Brothers, for it is the purpose of their (my) mission. Some of you have already undertaken the diffusion of the messages of truth; regrettably, however, it is not sufficient as of yet—but that shall now be rapidly changing as the humanity of Earth begins to pay attention.

You of the planet must understand that your Cosmic Brothers from other planets in the cosmos are limited, also, and are often deluded by ones who at first appear to have great loyalty—the difference is that they will not interfere with this illusion regardless of set-backs.

It would seem a hopeless task from where you sit in the observation limitations—it is not a hopeless task, this awakening. Believe me, chelas, all are NOT blind and dumb who are searching for truth, and who, as well, will recognize it. Do not worry about being unknown or tiny in perspective, for there shall be ones touched by truth who will come within the truth and help move it forward—and some of them will be better known and with more influence. By their help you will be able to reach out unto newspapers and magazines, and to radio and television stations—and interest will pick up from the masses who will seek out the books and Journals of truth. You must always remember to speak the truth of that which is abounding about you in your own markets and government and play no tunes of singularity on the harps of the heavenly realms, for most are not yet ready—for the people have been given into fear of that which is unknown.

Less and less ridicule and denouncing of your truth shall be in the coming and you must look about to the care of one another. Do not concern with “looking” for friends who will support your truth and being in the “bad” times—for as truth unfolds, you will find those “good” friends waiting. They will even be of such sincere attachment that they, too, will endure the unjustified ridicule and derision and even be quite amused by it. You will never be alone in your journey, wherever you are—for instance, I am as near as your silent thought. You will, however, remember that if careless participation were to be allowed, you would run into helplessness due to your own laws of the land. Therefore, we will always act in Earth manners within the laws of the lands. Please do not ask for short-cuts or for us to do it for you—for we shall not!

CYCLES

The “ancients” and students of metaphysics, the ancient mystery schools and even economists who study cycles have always known of these cycles of ages, and that the foundations for the teachings of each and every new age are laid down during the beginning of the ending cycle of transition. For instance, from the early 1800s there have been the projections of this which is upon you now—in fact, ensuring that you move along as the plan was laid forth. As you further forget your power in Godness, you are funnelled into the limits of the plan as given unto you and in what manner you will perform to ensure the plan unfolds properly. The mass consciousness is mesmerized into the trap of the controllers as orchestrated by the satanic forces.

Do you ever wonder at your own projectors of “news” in that in each and every instance of revelation—let us say spacecraft of alien origin—ones are called in as “experts” who never have actually investigated any of the details themselves and are always antagonistic to the truth? How is it, for instance, that Stanton Friedman (a lovely Zionist/Elitist) has become the chief “authority” on UFOs? He doesn’t know one end of himself from the other—and certainly knows nothing about UFOs! He is a puppet set up to feed you the “party line” of lies and, in addition, continues to utilize the pictures of one, Billy Meier, for public demonstrations while denouncing Meier as the biggest hoaxter ever to hit Earth. Do you not find this strange?

MODELS AND THINGS

It is always hard to come to grips with truth—especially for those who desire to believe a thing to be true. As in the case of Billy Meier—there were hundreds of genuine craft pictures—AND HUNDREDS OF PICTURES OF MODELS. Which do you see? Mostly the models, of course. Funny thing about those photos, however—ONLY the models were brought forth in order to discount the whole of the contact.

In the interim, Meier was so attacked and so bewildered—and physically injured—that he became unable to actually cope with that which was happening to him. Ultimately, he has fallen prey to these infamous assaults. Does that make his truth less truth? No, it only makes it harder to decipher from the rot thrust forth by his enemies.

The contacts were valid—and the lessons brought from the Pleadians were valid. The discounters’ intent was to terrify the world by fear of “aliens” and the march has been in that direction from upstart. It is time for you ones to see and hear truth—YOU HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR FROM YOUR COSMIC BROTHERHOOD. The conjured-up beings upon your place are put there by ones from your own density—right upon your own Earthplace. I can promise you that the Pleadians performed enough “tricks” and “miracles” to convince all participants in the encounters. However, as we point out continually to you who want “miracles” and “magic tricks”—it proves nothing at all and does, in fact, only create confusion and more discounting and ridicule—ponder it well.

IMPORTANCE OF CONTACT FROM PLEIADES

The importance of the contacts from Pleiades have always remained unchanged—your spiritual status and development. I shall outlay that which was given, for it is time to give it forth again—it was obviously overlooked intentionally as first given unto you.

Since this book regards your Pleiadian Brothers and your contact and communication with them, it will be from that aspect which I will speak—for they are not far removed from yourselves and perhaps the connections will be easier to assimilate.

The human being carries his own spirit, which never dies and which also in his deepest sleep does not, itself, sleep. It continually records all thoughts and movements—which tells the human being whether his very thoughts are right or wrong. This spirit in the human being is the carrier of The Creation’s domain and is possessed by all human beings—note, I said “human beings”—I did not say “humanoid robotoids”. The spirit holds the outlook for total perfection, for total harmony, peace, recognition, understanding, knowledge, wisdom, beauty, love and truth in ALL things. All together, they form the spiritual kingdom which exists within THE CREATION!

Let us look into “dreams”. In dreams the human being creates marvelous worlds (or dastardly ones) like The Creation creates consciously the known worlds. For the human, this ability grows from his consciousness, existing inside himself. He, himself, is the heavenly kingdom, the domain of The Creation. Recall the old philosophers who spoke of the human being as the microcosm in the macrocosm, because everything that exists in the universe is connected to the human spirit—all is connected to all. The dimensions of the human being are without end. The entire concept, the copy if you will, of The Creation, the spirit, exists inside each self, and at the same time transcends all dimensions of all space and time. When a human being is happy, for instance, this comes from within because it is a self-creation. Everything arises from inner being.

A human being may appear aged—old, but this is only a transient state of being. The spirit remains young and is never subjected to the appearance of age. When the human understands the existence of his spirit, then age no longer affects him. No vicissitudes of life or environment can make him mourn or sad. WISDOM IS LIGHT. And so wherever light flashes up and shines about, darkness and ignorance instantly disappear and that which becomes “known” can never again be “unknown” to the perceiver unless damage of physical nature is thrust upon the consciousness—nonetheless—the unknowing is never again returned to soul.

Ignorance is nothing but darkness, which is overcome by the light of wisdom. Wisdom is the mark of spirit. Wisdom is also the mark of a human being who has recognized the existence of his spirit and works in accordance with Creational Law. Wisdom and spirit are two aspects of the same thing, like the sunlight and the Sun. In the Universe, every created existence, in consequence of its forces, generates forces which, following Creational Law, manifest as truth, knowledge and wisdom according to given principles.

THE CREATION

This existing force is THE CREATION. And from this, there is only one existence that governs the Universe, only one Creation, only one truth, only one knowledge, one wisdom, equally directed and remaining for all time. When the human being advances his knowledge and wisdom, he will recognize The Creation. Knowledge of the truth brings unlimited wisdom. Wisdom is a recognition of the Laws of Creation.

Love and wisdom go together because The Creation and its laws are love and wisdom at the same time. Where there is wisdom and knowledge, there is love and recognition—and where there is love and recognition, there is The Creation. Wisdom and love increase the desire within men to conform to natural law, because spirit and The Creation are one and the same. The Earth human speaks of love, which he does not even know. He believes to know his actions in love, but deceives himself in this. No one can put love into words, because it is a state of being. Love is imperishable and does not change. The path of spirit runs through cognitions of truth, knowledge, wisdom and love. Meaning the mission of spirit is to spread truth, knowledge, wisdom and love.

Great multitudes of wonders are hidden with the kingdom of spirit. The visible universe with which the human being occupies himself consciously is only a small pin-spot within this marvelous, unlimited, spiritual existence of The Creation. Universes like this one are in the innumerable millions within the infinite spiritual existence of The Creation. What is visible to the physical eyes of a human being represents only a dot in infinity. What is not visible to man’s eyes is immeasurable, inconceivable and unthinkable—confusing his human intelligence and capacity. All of the universe he sees is only a simple one of many such, which must be counted in myriads, because there do exist universes inside of universes, universes above universes, universes below universes, universes opposite universes, and universes outside of universes—in this First Cause, Mighty All-Powerful Intelligence existing with The Creation. With this immense spirit, with these original forces of existence, of The Creation, the spiritual intelligence of the human being is connected—because a fraction of this spiritual intelligence of The Creation lives in every human being as spirit, and ensouls him.

HARD TO RECOGNIZE

Millions upon millions of humans look up at the stars in the heavens without real cognition. Yet astronomers, when they look up at the heavens, discover whole new worlds and write bunches of books about their findings. What they see and recognize, the others simply do not see at all—and they do not understand nor do they care, even if they look in the same place. This is quite similar to the difference in viewpoint between a common and a spiritual human being; the one who lives from spiritual and Creational Law, sees and recognizes all around—within each life-form, all objects, each thought and action, within each creature, within all Nature and also in all conceivable circumstances and events—THE CREATION.

The human being is always spiritually great and constructive. The Spirit, the spring of all the infinite Creational build-up, is the innermost character of the human being itself. The outer human being is full of limitations, because this is not him, but only his frame, his material body of limitation, of mis-leading matter, a source of labor and pain, limited in cognition and will. When the outer being looks materially at his inner being, he sees little but the form and figure. Yet, if he looks with the spiritual eyes of cognition, and he knows that this all-revealing consciousness in him is also in all others, even though they do not know it, then his manner changes fundamentally as he considers his fellow creatures. He then no longer simply looks AT a man, a woman, or a child, but SEES the other as a carrier of Spirit, which knows all about itself and its existence, and wants to reveal itself to everyone if only the chance were offered. A human being can be deprived of all his possessions and be exiled from his homeland, but from his inner spirit no one can exile him.

So the human being must effort to always be conscious of this portion of Creation, without which he could not take one breath—could not generate one thought, without which he could neither recognize or see, hear or experience. Thus the great wise ones of all times say: “The Creation spirit is nearer the creature than his own breath.”

The spirit can live without the light of physical eyes, ears, arms, legs, even without outer reason and consciousness. But always there is the Creational force behind all. The more Light his spiritual intellect receives, the more his personality gains force. He becomes aware of the past and the future, which shape his eternal present. The whole spiritual intellect is visible to those who can look within and understand The Creation present in all. The human being is separated one from another in perceived “space”, but connected to all in The Creation. If he does not know The Creation, he can be misled and deceived by false doctrines. A human being in contact with his Creation realizes himself everywhere in space and time, and within all matter. He is everything within himself, and can awaken to The Creational in everything and affect it by recognition and experience.

Because The Creation is inside all, which is vivified by its spirit, everything is one within all. A spiritual being identifies himself with all matter, and all creatures of the world and the Universe. He knows that everything arose from truth, rises from truth, and will rise from it for time eternal. From that he identifies himself with all and everyone, and every thing. A material being identifies himself with his body, his money, his possessions and goods, his utterances and the sound of his voice. If, on the other hand, one identifies with the all, no hate or avarice can live in him—and he makes no selfish differentiations any longer. Further, one can only come into recognition of this state of being from within—no one can corroborate this knowledge for you.

You ones perceive that no one desires to know truth—that is not so and you must not give in to that perception because the spiritual evolution of the Earthbeing proceeds irresistibly. You should assist in spreading the truth—for the ears and eyes of humanity are truly awaiting your call. It is the projections thrust in falseness before you ones that have you confused. Man is starving unto his very death of physical form to find and feast upon truth—and God never leaves his chelas wanting if their searching be in wisdom and truth. It is the negative influences of the satanic energies which never fulfill the restless heart seeking through the physical aspect of existence—for nothing of mortal construction is immortal. The soul, beloved ones, is NOT mortal nor does it have physical format. So be it.

Let us not run this segment on longer, for it is better to have the groupings of thoughts which you call “Chapters” a bit on the short side for better digesting of the information.

I do herein inquire of you before taking leave, “Do these teachings appear to be from miserable ‘little gray aliens’ come to Earth bent on your destruction?” I think not.

Salu and Saalomé, may the WORD fall in understanding upon your eyes and ears that your souls shall awaken unto the wondrous promise of God and The Creation.

Hatonn to clear, please. Man is awakening to his desire to hear and find truth—please, God, allow us to do our mission in fullness and clarity. AHO.

CHAPTER 13

REC #1 HATONN

FRI., DEC. 7, 1990 6:40 A.M. YEAR 4 DAY 113

TODAY'S WATCH

Precious chelas, Hatonn present to converse. Good morning.

Today is a most nerve-frazzling day with the court matter regarding this property wherein our future in this place rests in the hands of three very worldly-oriented Judges. It is self-discipline, Dharma, that we write this day, for ours is not to give in to that which is always pulling us from our work. Please understand that this is a partial reason for working when you are ill in your perceptions and also when pressed for time or having guests—YOU AND I MUST NEVER ALLOW OUR PRIORITIES TO FALL INTO THE WRONG MATTERS—OURS IS TO AWAKEN MAN UNTO HIS PLIGHT AND REMIND HIM OF HIS JOURNEY HOME. SO BE IT.

I do not wish to go into details regarding Joy's book, SOLUTIONS FOR OUR TOTAL GLOBAL SPIRITUAL STARVATION, expressed by Sananda. I already see the prickly mark of the beast tinging the edges with push and pull as to “who” can do what with what, etc.

We care not which words are expressed to allow visions of truth but no expressions are to be allowed which express untruth even if only carelessly laid forth—that is the purpose of editors—no more and no less, i.e., if a phrase, for instance, states that God NEVER, God CAN'T and/or ONLY through this way or that way of Earth input a thing can be done—it WILL NOT BE PUBLISHED WITH MY PERMISSION. These are words common to man as is your entire language and in the beginning scribes are very accustomed to utilizing (providing) a selection of words suitable to their own expressions and beliefs—this is why training is severe and lengthy. It is to be expected that a scribe on a first presentation would fumble in some words, for we of the speakers are stumbling along in your individual data banks seeking expression.

Our thrust, however, is to reach into understanding of man—not fill the individual expectations of a scribe nor of an editor—if something can be stated in format more easily accepted by readers but with no change of intent of content and perception, so be it—we expect you to tend of it, else why do we have you to read the material prior to publishing?

We do expect clarity and as few changes, even in wording, as is possible to ensure the thought patterns of the author, not the scribe, to flow. However, it is very frequently that we will deliberately misspeak in intentional effort to keep you readers alert and paying attention. ANYTHING THAT INFERS LIMITATION OF GOD IN ACTION OR THOUGHT, CAPABILITY OR INTENT IS A REFLECTION OF HUMAN PERCEPTION AND NOT OF HIGHER ENERGY INTENT—NEVER! WITH GOD ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE AND ALL THOUGHTS OF ACHIEVEMENT PROBABLE IF BELIEVED IN THE PERFECTION OF CREATOR. WHEN YOU DEAL WITH THE INFINITE, THAT IS EXACTLY THAT WHICH YOU HAVE—INFINITE POSSIBILITY AND ABILITY—HOW THIS THOUGHT IS EXPRESSED IS INDIVIDUAL BUT, INDEED, IT MUST BE UNEQUIVOCALLY AND INCONTROVERTIBLY EXPRESSED IN ITS WHOLENESS AND INFINITE TOTALITY.

Why? Because if man is allowed to move about in his error of thought—he deteriorates into the heap of problems which assail you ones this day in this closing cycle—you end up placing God of Divine Source and Creation into the same category as the physical tempter of the dark ignorance and limitation of destructor and utilizer. God forces not—God allows. For instance, God will even allow the human to totally destroy his environment—BUT, he will also allow us of His other Creations to intervene to stop you if you reach that inevitable course of action, for it is then that your own actions invade the course of journey for His other creatures. God has even allowed of that, chelas! You had better be most careful, for we are only allowed to intervene at such a time of impending and immediate destruction in totality by nuclear methods which alter soul essence—and you, nor we, know if in acting, we can stop it in time to stop the reaction. None save God can know nor is any save God supposed to know—now where is God? You had best come to grips with the facts of Creation so that you fully understand. YOU will impact the ultimate—no more and no less and if that impact be for God of Creation—so be it; if it be against God of Creation, then I believe you already can be pretty sure of that which is coming! So be that, also. What you do is up to you!

Every scribe may have all the opinions they desire—WHEN THEY ARE NOT WRITING FOR GOD! IF ANY OF YOU CHOOSE TO WRITE IN THE SERVICE OF GOD—YOU WILL NOT ALLOW YOUR OPINION TO INTERVENE, ELSE YOU HAVE JUST NEGATED GOD! ANY SCRIBE IN THE SERVICE, IN TRUTH, HAS NO PROBLEM WITH SUCH UNDERSTANDING AND ONLY WELCOMES THE REMINDER.

Writers must also make sure that in choosing up pen-names, etc., that they do so in correct perceptions—for identification is one thing, pen names another. For instance, if Dharma pens a book for Hatonn—her pen name must thusly be Hatonn, perhaps? Let us look very carefully at why and how we do things.

Will the books in question be Journals? Why would they be Journals? They are not Journals in the same sense that the regular writings of this place are entered as Journal information. If you mix fish and sauerkraut or bananas and peppercorns, you are likely to reduce the value of the recipe to the point you will lose all your diners. Gourmet God is hardly that which we intend to serve. Truth is usually quite disagreeable and unpalatable at best—but given with the truth of infinite ability of God it becomes THE WAY! I would be in the reminding of Sananda and Joy that the original intent of the work was to outlay the errors of your Earth “churches” and how they have strayed in their responsibility and have actually moved into the service of the dark brotherhood.

How dare I speak thusly to Sananda? I dare because I am ATON! So be it.

NOW A REMINDER ABOUT “TODAY”, 12/07/90

Before we move back into the subject of Cosmic Brothers—in this Journal, the Pleiadians, I need to caution you ones, for I see misperceptions regarding what is happening.

In your joy at seeing the possibility of war being postponed, I must remind you to pay attention to ALL the facts and not just the OBVIOUS. Do I wish to upset you and bring your joy into vanquishment? No—but truth will set you free and bring unto you JOY—“JOY” WILL NOT BRING YOU INTO FREEDOM.

Firstly, the return of your “Hostage Guests” is reason to celebrate—so why are not Bush and his henchmen in celebration? Sour grapes? No—Saddam Hussein told you a whole truth and gave you the play script of possibilities. HE HAS HIS DEFENSES IN PLACE AND IS READY FOR ANYTHING YOU THINK YOU CAN THROW AT HIM. THE RUSSIAN ADVISERS ARE STILL IN IRAQ—A NEW MONITORING AND DETONATION SYSTEM WENT INTO SPACE WITH THE RUSSIANS—AND YOUR SPACE MISSION HAS FAILED! READ THE WRITING ACCURATELY, DEAR ONES, OR YOU WILL BE “DEAD” DEAR ONES. Will there be war? At some point, yes! Will it be now and will it be in Iraq? Not unless there rules stupidity beyond that which even we can discern. Remember, you are dealing—on your side—with programmed and ruthless, conscienceless “would-be Kings”. The statistics of war have no meaning! They will handle death counts in war as if you were weeding prime carrots from ones the worms have eaten. Remember? “Acceptable losses are set as 30,000—and over 50,000 body-bags are on site in Saudi Arabia with more on the way! Well, with the type of war machine that is available and in place—you won’t need too many body bags, for you won’t find most of the bodies to place therein.

NOW LOOK TO RUSSIA AND ISRAEL

Israel pushes for total abstinence of any conference of the UN or any other council on the Palestine situation. Why? Do I speak of lovely Jews of God seeking stability in a homeland?—no, I speak of those who would rule a world and already control the U.S. government. Am I a bigot? Would you consider me a bigot if I said the Chinese or Africans have control of your Congress? The facts are that the would-be GLOBAL RULERS are of all nationalities and sects—INTENT UPON GLOBAL CONTROL. I would suggest that you who are of Jewish race, as I was, pay very close attention, for you have been fooled—and it will be the Godly Jew who will pay the most heinous price of all at the hands of those you considered to be of self.

Do I think Shamir is right? No! Do I think Bush is right? No! How about Saddam? No! There is only ONE RIGHT—GOD! I see no one in the lead of all of the world who is working in the service of God! Shamir says, “I will...”. Bush says, “I will...”. Saddam says, “I will...”. Well, chelas, God, too, says, “I WILL.” And guess who will ultimately have final say? He will also remind you that he further said, “YOU WILL...”. And, dear ones, before you find perfection in any form other than through His Godness—YOU WILL!

Now for the Russians and what might they be up to? Well, you know that they have stated bluntly that they will not participate, in a military “troops” way, with you of the UN. How can that be “full intent” of the world if the head honcho says “I won’t...?” All of you keep building up your arms and nuclear arsenals as fast as you can. What for, if this world be at peace and the “Cold War” over and trust rings throughout your world??? I suggest you walk most carefully, little stumble-toes! The bullies of war are still at work and out here in space beyond that which you are given—it is a beehive of activity in preparations for possible stupid moves on the part of the “United Nations”, all nicely lined up in service of the United States—even the countries of the UN hate you—bitterly! Only the would-be rulers, enslavers, Kings, dictators and greedy mongers of wealth are sided with you as a nation. The rest of the world actually feels pity and sorrow for you “nice American people of the lie”. Why do I, “we”, bother? Because God goes where His children are troubled in ignorance. Salu.

BACK TO TRUTH

There are many extraterrestrial races in a confirmed working relationship between the Pleiadians and themselves. Contacts already established upon your place are confirmed. There were, for instance, ones who contacted the one, Billy Meier, prior to Pleiadians. How many of you reading this are familiar with those contacts and books forwarding a picture of one, Asket, realize she was from the DAL Universe, as referred to by us, and not actually Pleiadian at all? There is advanced spirit, more aware, in contact with a far greater reality of which you are only a tiny part. Be greatly gentle and kind to ones who were and are early contacts—for how much can one mind handle without being pronounced “mad” by your experts?

For you ones who chime and chip at us to become visible and show ourselves—there are thousands of pictures of valid visibility. Meetings were set up singularly and with witnesses in attendance. It is herein noted that an entity—even in the midst of witnessing—will conjure doubts and “reasons” why he did not see that which he saw. Especially ones who are set in opposition of “prove it if you can and if you dare” will make sure you do not! These kinds of doubts are rooted in materialism and a disbelief, which rises from a material intellect, from which all spiritual-intellectual talents are missing. This is not from lack of reason and/or brains but from a religious confinement from which that person is not able to find freedom. You ones leave yourselves, in the group, open to such attack, for you are too generous and too confident regarding ones you perceive to be “with” you—by those, your mission can be damaged greatly. I believe we have proven to you that in an ordinary grouping of people—you cannot trust the very things you believe you are seeing! Observe with interest and discernment but do not be the fool!

CRYSTALS AND TRINKETS

What would you expect of elements present in a “thing” which I would hand unto you? I am now going to disappoint you, for if you had access to ALL information of elements, you would find whatever I bring to be made up of those elements—no more and no less—the elements of the Universe. HOW they are arranged and combined would likely be different from that naturally occurring—especially on your placement. If anyone would analyze them, then one would not find differences from minerals and crystals of the same sort of Earth origin. The construction, being the same in the whole of the Universe, the same kind of minerals are valid to the same laws everywhere. Further, if we are able to function in your arena, you must, therefore, know that we are greatly similar to your species. Therefore, the content of the Universal minerals, etc., will be likewise similar. If we were from that which differs greatly, you would recognize of nothing—including us.

Many artifacts and composites have been brought and given into the hands of you humans. The ones which differ and have great meaning are “lost”, “stolen” and/or vanish.

In observing that which differs in perspective from your Cosmic Brothers, let us begin with “laws”. I speak not of God’s Laws nor of The Creation—I speak now of your human laws. We find your rules to be so foolish and unbased on truth that we can hardly believe that which we witness in your totally unjust system. Invented laws in most respects are not worthy of the human form of life in many, many respects, often being so stupid and primitive that I become tired of even discussing them. Anything of logical and lawful conclusions can only be found in very few of the laws, as some 95% of your laws as constructed and enforced are outside all human dignity and reason—not to speak of reasonable logic. In working with us, you have great disadvantage as set forth upon you by your laws. Frankly, as we came forth to work with you in full intent—we found them far worse than our worst expectations.

The whole of the people would, however, have to oppose the laws as brought upon you for your control by others, if you are to find change and freedom. These are most important for your changing of society—but for self-growth into understanding and balanced life, you must better understand “spirit”. Therefore, allow us to continue with discussion of spirit.

THE CREATION

A person will react to a word or thought as programmed by experience—every word and every thought creates a response whether recognized or not recognized. Therefore, it is a “given” that a person will react to the word or the designation “The Creation” in different ways, as though it were something apart and beautiful or good or whatever. Such is not exactly the case. Such characterizations as “omnipresent”, “all-powerful”, “all-knowing” are valid characterizations of the nature of The Creation. Millions of religious humans do not understand the true nature of The Creation.

Whenever they speak of it they tend to personify it as a God-being (which is then itself a separation for The Creation), and they confuse the idea of The Creation. So, it is very important to know as much as possible about the character and the nature of that which we label The Creation, for when the word is understood properly it buoys the inner mind and connects it to its Source as soon as the word is expressed or heard or “impressed”.

I can briefly place this into different and simplistic context. The Creation can be described as the sum of all that is manifest and unmanifest, the matter realm being only a very small part of the whole, and that ALL that IS, is THE CREATION experiencing its polarization which produces the created and its experience, all of which continually adds to the total experience of The Creation for further application in that which is created. In other words, IT is in you (us) and works through you (us) and all that is created—and we are IT, in all and within all of its parts. There is no separate personification indicated, except as some part chooses to represent itself as such, which any part can do within its own level of concept.

The experience reveals The Creation as unlimited beauty, harmony, wisdom, knowledge, and truth... enduring endlessly. So whenever a human perceives a thing of beauty—a flower, an animal, clouds, water, landscape, music, color and thus and so—he considers it in connection with the limitless grandeur of The Creation itself. When a human recognizes and realizes this, then he knows that this recognition springs from limitless cognition, which itself is The Creation. Wherever life moves, even inside the most tiny creature, like for instance, a microbe, he sees the limitless Creation.

The Creation is within every human being—and every other creature and thing as well. This is but a fraction of that manifestation itself. Once this thought has penetrated deeply inside a person and he can experience it, he loses all fear and doubt. When he knows his contact is with the all-knowing, almighty Creation, he enjoys peace and tranquility. Reflection on this gives the name "Creation" great meaning, indeed. The more he thinks on this reality, the more his intelligence is illuminated and stretched, and the more powerful his personality becomes, and his whole life and labor is blessed.

The Creation rises in his consciousness and he senses peace, strength, knowledge, wisdom, delight and hope. He can overcome obstacles and achieve his objectives—and he suddenly has no more need for purely material things. One must learn a spiritual-intellectual manner of thinking and recognize its validity until the first successes are achieved—that is the hardest and yet, the first requirement of the journey into spiritual awareness.

But the way certainly does not stop here, because further exploration, research and development, and further recognition leads to the limitless endurance of time. Everything may happen in the course of time to prevent one from achieving his objectives, but the spiritualized person knows no limits and does not allow himself to be stopped short of his goals by any events of the future. For him the future always exists in the present, wherefrom he becomes determined to do everything here and now to obtain the highest spiritual state of consciousness—and he does not fear the future, for the future is now just as present as the present itself.

When the spiritualized being sees others before him, he sees THE CREATION in them...!

The stones of this foundation of knowledge have now been laid and we will simply polish them a bit. Later, in your perceptions—but not very much later—the avalanche of desire for this truth will flood the lands, for all other actions have been trial, error and have pulled you away from God and not unto Him. You must wait upon the Lord; do your work and allow the WORD to flow.

PRAYERS

You continually ponder upon "prayer"—for, yes, it is, indeed, important that you petition and it is most significant HOW you present your petition. Let us first understand the meaning of "prayer". A prayer is truly a "wish"; a wishful call upon the spirit of the human being himself, the Creation part in The Creation collective, meaning "grant me this or that...". Those who are conscious of the force, the knowledge, and the ability of their spirit, no longer resort to such prayers because they already live in the knowledge that the power and might of their spirit is capable of anything. For that reason, they determine constantly, the might of their spirit. The unspiritualized one, being unaware, is unable, and thus seeks to activate his spirit by conscious prayer. Further explained, this means that the spiritualized human is always using the forces and abilities of his spirit, and quite consciously, while the unspiritualized one expresses only wishes in prayer, and those to an exterior power/force, usually personified, when the source is within through his personal contact with The Creation itself.

A most beautiful prayer was established by Immanuel and has not been improved upon through the generations, so let us consider it carefully:

My spirit Almighty: My spirit who is all-knowing, almighty and all loving in me.

Your presence be sanctified: Your presence confirms to me your controlling power over all matters concerning myself.

May your wisdom become conscious to me: May your power be extended in the consciousness of my thoughts in order to enable me to apply all truths, wisdom and love, peace and freedom, given to and acquired by me and all mankind.

May your power be extended in me, on Earth as well as in heaven: May your power become effective in me, in all material as well as all spiritual aspects.

Please allow and give unto me all that I need for living this day and each day: Please grant me all I need for my material as well as my spiritual life and development, for you are almighty.

So that I acknowledge my errors: So that I may recognize my faults and eliminate them, since they hinder me on my way of evolution.

Please do not allow me to be led into temptation, nor allow me fall into temptation's clutches, but rather to right decision and choices through discernment and just judgments: Please do not let me make error by material and wrong thinking, or become dependent on beliefs alone.

For you are within and without me as power and wisdom, truth and knowledge for eternity: May I become conscious of your almighty forces inside me at ALL times.

All of this, ask in truth—and ask not for self, except for understanding and truth; and ask all else in behalf of brother so that the cycle of wholeness may become manifest—even unto the tiniest portion of manifestation of your relations—which after all—IS ALL! "Thy will be done in and through me as the creation which I AM" does very nicely, indeed. "Thy will—as I desire it to be..." DOES NOT!

Chela, please end this portion at this point, for the computer is now going to digest the material. It is enough upon which to feast this day. Further, it will give you insight into that which transpires this day in the court. God shall prevail just as soon as mankind desires God to prevail and not a moment sooner! How do YOU wish it to be? So be it! Salu and Saalomé, THE WORD IS TRUTH AND THE WORD IS GOD; THEREFORE, THIS WORD IN TRUTH IS GOD AND SHALL SET YOU FREE!

I am Hatonn, to clear for the present writing. I shall walk with you through the mire of this confusion so that you can see of your way and have understanding of that which appears to be negative impact, for you are not given to know the plan and method of God—so you be in the deciding of HOW it shall be and so shall it be. AHO!

CHAPTER 14

REC #1 HATONN

SAT., DEC. 8, 1990 6:25 A.M. YEAR 4 DAY 114

POINTS TO NOTE THIS DAY

Please take note of that which is presented unto you. Note carefully that neither Russian nor Israeli spokesmen so much as declare desire for this new "One World Order" of Mr. Bush. In fact, watch what Israel is doing—listen to what Shamir and Sharon are saying. Shamir is in the U.S. to STOP any potential council meeting of the UN regarding the Middle East and, specifically, any reference to Palestine. Note further, that the U.S. has recanted any reference to positive potential to such a meeting—and the press says it is "... to not anger our closest ally, Israel". What have we here? Perhaps you ones had better listen to the non-news a bit more closely.

Know that CNN was set up to suck you all in and has now become the prime producer of misinformation! You must look beyond the obvious but the real news is within and behind the facade.

These ones tell you that Saddam is increasing his numbers of troops—HE IS NOT! They show you troops—they are the same parade troops shown on every newscast for weeks and weeks now and have nothing to do with this current situation at any rate. They say that Saddam is calling up the "reserve" "farmers" to come to immediate service within the next two weeks—phoo! The college youngsters of proper military age are not even changing their dating behavior, much less dropping their school classes. If you do not look, chelas, you will not see.

RUSSIA

Now you have the barrage of "help the Russians" who are hungry. Yes, the countries of the Soviets are in terrible circumstance—however, note again—the pictures. The workers do not show up in the fields to even gather in the harvest. The people walk across the fields covered with root vegetables and crush the grain which would sustain them. The cattle of the dairies are being fed fodder of mixed cellulose and mud which actually kills them because there has been none of the grain stored for their use—and the workers will not come to work to do of the feeding. The people raise their voices against Gorbachev. What do you take away from these messages? It is important.

The underlying note is that the Russians under Gorbachev have blatantly destroyed the people while the government continues to build an incredible war machine! They decry the lack of discipline and state they would go back to Stalin. I can only urge you ones to pay attention most diligently and carefully to the propagandi—for you cannot have it ALL WAYS at the same time. What do YOU think is going on? You do not need me to tell you everything which is in front of your own eyes to see and hear. If you only absorb the lies, then you are destined to live and then die by the lie. I urge you to seek within into your coffers of wisdom and see that which is being projected upon you—and then the mess can be straightened into order.

Stop this praying to "My Father which art in heaven"! Go within into the places where our Father dwells—within the temple of self—stop looking for HIM out there somewhere—in some "heaven". Your Father would not leave of you to reside separate and apart from you—in some kind of heaven.

Remember that the Master Nazarene—the young teacher from Galilee was called the Master of Wisdom. He told you to go within into the temple wherein God can be found and seek truth. He said he was but the Wayshower—the bringer of truth of the WORD. How many times do you need hear this message before you follow the instructions? Or, do you just continue and continue to babble your prayers so that someone ELSE can do of your work in your stead—and stand responsible, beaten and slain to spill blood for your purification—WHAT ABOUT HIS PURIFICATION? IF HE HAD TAKEN YOUR RESPONSIBILITY FROM YOU, HE WOULD HAVE BEEN IN DIRECT OPPOSITION UNTO GOD CREATOR WHO GIVES UNTO EACH OF CREATIONS THE CHOICE AND FREE-WILL TO ACT—RESPONSIBLY OR IRRESPONSIBLY! Do you still desire that the one you called Jesus, or whatever, move against his Father's will and Laws to take up your cross FOR YOU? He came to tell you truth and HELP you find the way and will help you bear that which is given, but never to do FOR YOU.

What do you ones celebrate at Christmas-time? X-mas time? Santa? Buying and getting? Singing of mindless carols? Could you not give a bit of thought unto Christ—could you not, for a refreshing change, shorten the term given to Christ—X? What have you allowed to happen to your generations? And for you ones who believe not on the “Jesus” Emmanuel as Messiah (teacher), to whom DO you have allegiance and faithfulness? Is it of the world, or is it of Divine God?

Where do you place The Creation in this time of mass-murder of your young, healthy trees of evergreen? You take their lives to bear ornaments of tinsel and gaudy strips of trash in order to “beautify” that which is beyond beauty in its perfection, and you call it “celebration”. Celebration of what? For what do you slay all those millions of trees just reaching their prime—or for the show of shows—a giant statue of a hundred years to stand on a political pot on a politician's lawn—under guard lest you-the-people touch of it! To what do you bend in worship, my chelas? What do you sell and buy at Christmas? Perfumes to seduce? Expensive gifts to seduce? Gifts which “purchase” something or another? WHAT, DEAR ONES, ARE YOU DOING? WHAT DO YOU TEACH OF YOUR CHILDREN? WHAT DO THE CHILDREN EXPECT AT CHRISTMAS? PERHAPS IT IS THEN THAT YOU SHOULD USE THE TERM X-MAS—FOR 'TIS A PITY TO ATTACH THE NAME OF GOD UNTO THE HYPOCRISY AND CONTRADICTION OF TERMS AND ACTIONS.

Things given in love and remembrance of shared joy and appreciation are wondrous, indeed, and a special time triggers the thought—but you ones have turned it into scenes of greed and gluttony of senses. I believe it is fine to leave God out of it and call it that which it has become—Satan's greatest time of celebration! A card of touching and sharing a thought is wondrous, warm and caring—a magnificent temple dedicated to lies is of less than value of the item. If the heart and pocketbook can afford of both, then it is wondrous, indeed, when the heart and hands give forth and blessings are unlimited upon thine gifts. But what happened to the widow's mite—the gift of that which she had, in secret, in love and in no expectations of return? Oh, how God longs for the widow's mite—or less; the desire is magnificent without the mite. Blessed are ye who walk with me, for I shall bow unto you and serve you and give unto you all that God has given unto me and, dear ones, it is ALL—it is the Universe, the very Light of soul and all the wondrous manifestations of Creation—won't you come and walk with me? I am your brother—I KNOW THE WAY! I can teach you to fly as the eagles and soar as the gull; I can show you the wondrous trappings of the cosmos and bring you among the stars—but we must ever move in the Lighted places, for only in so moving can we escape the bindings of your physical shackles, whether it be within your bodies of physical format or without.

PRACTICAL MATTERS

Let us turn again to the subject of the Journal at hand which is to give you the understandings and teachings of higher brotherhood—i.e., the Pleiadians, at this instance. I do this because it is important that you be given information in increments which can be understood so that you can build a stairway into understanding, while at the same time removing the mystical and magical thought streams.

Let us speak of precious stones, gems, semi-precious stones, crystals and such. Let me outlay, again, the facts. They bear great influence and you of Earth toy with them, uproot them and generally abuse them. You seem to not understand the value of these items—THEY CAN BE PROGRAMMED, DEPROGRAMMED AND REPROGRAMMED. They can be trinkets of adornment or deadly weapons and you ones seem to have no discernment of which is which. These “minerals” of Earth origin (or any origin) are receivers and transmitters of human emotional feelings and thought energies. Each, according to its kind, stores more or less of these energies which their owners discharge, concentrating them again and influencing the owners to some considerable extent—even if the process is unfocused in intent.

The Earth sphere, especially in this current time of cycle, is vibrating with the energy of much evil influence—for it is the time of chaos upon your place. The cloak of compressed energy in evil, worldly format surrounds you like a fog. These negative forces arise and are further developed by the vast negative thought-energies of the Earth-human creatures, which place the whole world under the spell, if you will, of dangerous and deadly radiating pulses of energy waves. Crystals, as a general classification—just as with your micro-chips for computers—are programmed easily. Some more easily than others. Crystals of every type, as well as precious stones and different minerals, are strong receivers and absorbers of such energies—and it is unavoidable that these negative human energies and thoughts, which are extraordinarily charged with evil character, become a quite dangerous source of projecting negative response.

Each mineral, according to its type and character, becomes “middle-men” of all sorts of focused intent—sickness, lethargy and especially mental distress and depression of emotional well-being. In this day and age you ones cling to them, sell them, program them and adorn yourselves with them with incorrect intent. You buy them, steal them, find them and program them with magic hoopla for self-charisma, drawing unto you the opposite sex, giving you power over another, etc.—read the literature. They are touted to heal, restore, balance and baloney—it is like giving sharpened knives unto a two-year-old and suggesting he not get blood on the carpet.

Crystals and precious stones of every kind, even the stones (rocks) of the hills and deserts, are extremely sensitive receivers and collectors of human thought energies and emotions—both negative and positive. But they are usually “programmed” by non-informed touters of greedy use and are, therefore, negatively unbalanced. They begin by being strongly influenced by their original places of growth before they are imprisoned and displaced by humans. The Creation utilizes these little computers as points of focus—but as man has spread unbalance, so has the unbalance spread throughout the natural kingdom.

If the human being wants to have crystals and precious stones in his possession—to own them as valuable assets, use them as decoration, or as a bringer of health through mental focus of intent—then he must first release the dangerous radiations which exist in preprogramming as oscillations (vibrations), because otherwise they are capable of being utilized in a harmful manner. Moreover, the stones must be cleansed and freshly “neutralized” at regular intervals. This is because there is so much negative thought being projected that these bits of data storage containers become contaminated.

These wondrous systems can easily be cleansed by thought clearance but most ones do not have the foggiest notion as to how to do it. These are items which focus attention of the mind and if given the negative focus will allow the being in point to compound the negative aspects.

The human also has a great tendency to wear talismans as good luck symbols—but you see, they do nothing in themselves and work only in consequence to the “belief” held within by the user. These “things”, however, can also bear the negative input and should also be cleansed with intent.

The native Indians have methods of cleansing stones—one of which is the smoking of same with sage. The facts are, dear ones, that the most effective way to destroy a computer chip is through oily smoke. It becomes quite “physical” in actuality.

I do not enjoy this subject, at all, because it is so ill-understood. There is nothing of magic about rocks or gems. It is what is placed into them and, therefore, that energy must be cleansed from them—no more and no less. Some things conduct “electricity”, for instance, far better than others and so it is with program-bearing substances. Secret formulas, conjurations—by water or other means of this nature are ridiculous—it is the focused “intent” of thought pulses which reprogram and/or neutralize the data.

Now, I caution all of you. I do not wish to be misunderstood nor misquoted. Most of the BS given unto you regarding this or that crystal, special cleansing materials, pre-programmed crystals for whatever and thus and so are mere sleight-of-hand tricks to get you separated from your money! Some well-meaning ones have even attributed these “methods” and “secrets” to space brothers for one reason or another—and thus you can locate the very point of time when the receiver began to manipulate and be manipulated.

It will be stated that “ones from Sirius, Pleiades, Orion” and so forth, have brought these stones and given special instructions for use and for the selling of such to gain funds for your “wondrous and holy work”. I tell you they lie and a good con game is being perpetrated upon you. The best way to foist off upon a receiver is to give unto him/her an item of programmed security. If the thought focus moves from God onto some piece of drivel—the human is altered by the belief placed thereon. A gift is a gift is a gift—YOU GIVE IT ITS POWER!

If the petitioner for, let us say, funds to further work of any nature—asks for methods of acquiring those funds, and clears not his space and mind of negative energies of Earth-physical bindings—he will be “had”. The first to show up in any inquiry regarding physical material-matters—is physical material-beings of negative intent as to God's business. You will always be able to read within the pages at which juncture the scribe or receiver or contact—was first allowing of negative energy input—there will be compromise of lessons, truth and “how-to”. If any entity utilizes a physical “thing” instead of full intent of mind intent—God is put aside! This does not mean that these “things” are not good and utilitarian items—it means the intent of truth is not present.

Every “thing” emits radiations and vibrations—some dangerous and deadly, indeed—however, EVERY pulse and wave can be countered by the all-powerful, all-ability—mind. Do not be fooled for one moment as to what is doing what to what. In the presence of God shielding, there is not pulse or radiation which can transgress. There are, indeed, few humans who can bear and project such protection, for as the entity believes it to be—so shall it be.

All contactees have been approached and caused to experience both the perceived negative AND the positive teachers. It is imperative that a scribe and/or receiver be capable of discernment and know that anything that moves one from God unity and truth is evil in intent. Not good nor bad—evil in intent—for that energy will pull one from the path of truth and God-ness. It has nothing to do, really, with good and bad—it has to do with physical desire, needs and actions. If the receiver fails to shield self from the encroaching negative energies—so shall they impact first because they are of the physical plane and you are of the physical plane. To counter these barrages—the being must move into the higher understanding where the protection abides. Herein and only herein, can the “attack” be neutralized, for the attack is actually against your higher universal self—soul. If you give away your power, then you can expect to fall—but often, you will not be the one to realize you have deviated from the original path. Does Dharma stumble and fall? Of course, constantly—but she always calls unto God in perfection and He always responds and picks her up and sets her again unto the proper direction upon the tracks.

I am often asked questions regarding Dharma as we move along through the brief months of joint venture—“... is she a robotoid?” Does it matter? Perhaps in the higher sense of direction and journey, we all are God’s created robotoids and if we continue to function according to His Laws within balance—is it important? Ones given to experience in your density—are none-the-less humanoid. I suggest that all who are pre-programmed into the totally physical aspect of experience—are but humanoid robotoids of the negative aspect of experience, for you place finite limits upon experience and being. There are ones among you who are in great positions of leadership, however, who are projected from human manipulations and represent genetic humanoid robotics without soul compassion and/or life essence of Creator. These are the ones you must attend.

GUILT

Let us change our thought attention to another aspect of experience—what you do in the name of guilt.

I suggest, however, that you not cast off those twinges of conscience as simply unnecessary “guilt”. It is one thing to feel guilt which is not valid—it is another to “feel guilty” regarding that which you perpetrated against another and did not set to correctness or deliberately foisted off to pain another.

Then comes the barrage of the human to “change the old laws”. It will always come with an argument that it needs to be so for the “modern” man, for “times have surely changed”. Dear ones, only perception of “time” has changed—not the human. Why should the laws be changed? Human, when he changes, in fact, will have no problem with the laws of God nor The Creation.

“Well”, then you say, “... but surely not regarding the laws in respect to sex and matrimony—they surely are not valid today as eons ago, while we have moved into a ‘modern’ world!”

Come now, chelas—have you become modernly responsible for all of your actions—or do you pass out condoms in the schools? Have you come up with “modern” rules and methods which have brought peace, balance and harmony in love to all mankind—or, have you overpopulated, taught murder through abortion and other various things of unrest and unbalance? So be it—pigs is pigs and laws is laws!

Surely, when an entity burdens, against better knowledge, quite consciously, a guilt upon himself, then he pays an atonement, because that is the law of justice. If the consciously self-laden guilt is too great, then a punishment in balance of such guilt is suited, where the concerned creature is unworthy of life and loses its justification for existence. The human creature is birthed with the inner knowledge of that which is right and that which is basically and immorally wrong—all the lessons do not wipe out the inner knowing that that which you do is right or it is wrong. It is not “good” nor “bad” as such—just right or wrong. What happens in your “modern” society is an uprising against elders who have efforted to teach and accept “wrong” as “right”—and the new life-forms (children) are angry, guilt-ridden and filled with rebellious resentment to the so-called adults who mis-teach and mis-lead. They kill and they do suicide against self in total resentment against you who have set the examples of ill-erroneous intent and actions.

Atonement always follows at some point in experience—a rebirth, if you will, in which the ill-formed and uncompleted perfection then completes the formerly eliminated life. It is always a path of growth. There always must be a rise in spiritual development. In a strange twist of experience—it is often perceived to be through quite negative means that spiritual growth is given great strength and positive development.

Let us look at that which becomes prevalent upon your placement. You call it freedom of choice and “human rights” but you accomplish something which you miss entirely. Let us look at the “homosexual” movement for a moment. The “homosexual” movement and participants do not ask for equality in LOVE EMOTION. They demand sexual expression in the physical format as a “birthright”. Now, what are they actually accomplishing? They are basically “sterilizing” selves—castrating self in basic concept. What is happening is basically that which is accomplished through other means on other placements having ability to utilize other planets, etc. In other societies in your Universe, ones who do not follow the laws are simply separated into separate sexes and placed in other “worlds” and islands for the remainder of their current life experience. Lacking the opposite sex which is necessary for the human to reproduce—there is no reproduction and, therefore, the species cannot multiply as is. The ones placed elsewhere are usually most contented in the experience and are not continually in search of “equality and acceptance” within a society which is based on procreation, as is Earth Human, for example. The Earth human might well be in a good position for such at this present time if he were not so blinded, corrupted and disunited. This arrangement solves so many various problems that you would be amazed.

Now, do not misunderstand anything that I say herein—THE LAWS OF THE CREATION ARE ETERNAL AND UNCHANGEABLE. But, the laws of experience on given placements are different according to the size, life ability, soul growth ability and what you would call evolution, of a given species. The guidelines are different—the LAWS of balance are ABSOLUTE.

LET US SPEAK OF THE LAWS AS GIVEN FORTH BY “EARTH” GOD

As we speak of these laws, we must remember that there were and are laws applicable to a given placement—a planet upon which human experiences. These laws are of human origin, so to speak, and meant to regulate Earth creatures experiencing within that particular manifestation.

These laws are given forth by that which you would consider the highest leader of the human races, Governor of the Heavenly Sons, so to speak—BY GOD. His prophets and mediators and selected humans announced these laws among the races which observed them, unfortunately, for only a very short time and confounded them later, which was a further step in the direction of the abyss of later mankind.

Do the aliens (Pleiadians) have “humans” making laws? Wherever there are “thinking” life-forms, there are established laws—everywhere. Each, from the position of spiritual development of the tribe’s leaders, has taken laws from the true natural law and expressed them in responsible form within human natural law. In consequence these laws are of natural logic and are not illogical and primitive, such as ones established on your world. Humans upon your place, in your governments, still exercise purely world-oriented, physically-based and lust/greed-based—worldly material POWER and call the projections “laws”.

Are there degenerates and criminality on other placements, say Pleiades? It is total nonsense to think that a brother/sister planet of humans are super-men and no longer need law. As we progress through the stages of higher dimensions, we then cease to function in physical format to which all of the basic physical human attributes are attached. However, on the planets housing humanity in species there is always need for rules and laws. Only there, where the Creational Law becomes self-evident, do expressed laws fall away. This only occurs at very high spiritual levels, in pure-spiritual spheres, where materiality is a thing of the “past”. Material forms of life are still afflicted by too many mistakes, than that they can simply neglect laws appropriate to their level.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT?

I suppose we are going to discuss this until we understand it and, therefore, I request that, until we finish this document, you understand that we speak from the position of Pleiades—and even at that, not specific planets thereof. This is, however, to separate higher energy existence from that of which you inquire.

There is established a “punishment” to suit given “crimes”. While with you of Earth, punishment is exercised in a most primitive way, which is no more the case with your brothers.

Dharma, leave this computer instantly and stand-by. There is trouble afoot, chela. Set this to print and get out of this room—NOW!

TRENCHES, ARROWS AND GOLDSTEIN

By Khaled Amayreh,
Arabic Media Internet Network, 3/14/01

In a draconian measure reminiscent of medieval times, Ariel Sharon has ordered the occupation army in the West Bank to tighten the blockade on Palestinian towns, villages and hamlets, apparently in an effort to bully and starve the estimated 3 million inhabitants into surrender. The unprecedented siege of population centers has effectively cut up the Palestinian territories into as many as 45 closed military zones—or “concentration camps,” as many Palestinians are referring to their shut-off towns and villages.

The Israeli army dug deep trenches and placed huge piles of earth and concrete slabs outside Palestinian towns, rendering the movement of vehicles and individuals, as well as the flow of food and other essential goods and services, virtually impossible. More to the point, often trigger-happy Israeli soldiers have been stationed at strategic points overlooking pathways that circumvent the closed roads, ready to hunt down Palestinians who dare to penetrate the siege. The stepped-up blockade is aimed at achieving “maximum results,” according to an Israeli army general.

Nowhere is the siege more hermetic than around the important Palestinian town of Ramallah and the multitude of smaller towns and villages surrounding it.

“All I can tell you is that the Israeli army is turning Ramallah into a huge concentration camp. True, we don’t have the gas chambers, but the suffering, the narrow horizons, the claustrophobia and the depression are very real,” said Mohamed Qaddumi, a resident of Ramallah and professor at nearby Bir Zeit University.

After Israeli army bulldozers destroyed the main road to the small university town last week, the university has been isolated from the rest of the world. This prompted university administration and faculty to send out a distress call in the hopes of pressuring the Israeli government into lifting the siege on Palestine’s finest academic institution.

On 12 March, a coalition of nationalist and Islamist activists organized a march from Ramallah to Bir Zeit in a bid to protest the Israeli blockade and alert international public opinion to the gravity of the situation. Taking part in the march were many Palestinian Authority (PA) officials, including Information Minister Yasser Abed Rabbo, legislative council member Hanan Ashrawi and a host of university professors, students and Ramallah citizens....

Although the march was non-violent, Israeli occupation troops callously attacked it, firing rubber-coated bullets and tear gas on the peaceful protesters, injuring and suffocating scores of them.

Shortly afterwards, as other Palestinians sought to reopen the road to the village of Surda, a few kilometers north of Ramallah, the Israeli army opened fire, killing 28-year-old Abdel-Qader Ibrahim and injuring 10 others. Ibrahim is the fourth Palestinian killed by Israeli occupation troops since Eid Al-Adha.

Disquieted by unfavorable international reaction,

Israeli Defense Minister Binyamin Ben Eliezer declared on 13 March that he would “relax” the siege on a number of Palestinian towns and villages in the Nablus and Hebron regions, while keeping it intact around Ramallah and its environs. There has been no evidence, however, of the Israeli siege being weakened....

This week, the Israeli occupation army began using a new lethal anti-personnel weapon, known as “flechettes,” against Palestinians. The dart-like projectiles, shot in clusters from a rifle, killed Palestinian farmer Ziyad Ayyad in Gaza on 10 March. Ayyad’s relatives said he was approaching his farmland when he was hit by a volley of flechettes that pierced his body, killing him instantly.

An Israeli army spokesman refused to confirm or deny the use of flechettes, saying, “The IDF [Israeli Defense Force] uses the means best suited to the overall security conditions and specific threats in a given area.”

Meanwhile, Sharon continued to recite his mantra, namely that he will not agree to resume talks with the Palestinian Authority until the violence has completely stopped.

The Palestinians interpreted Sharon’s “condition” as a euphemism for “surrender.” No Palestinian official is yet willing to suggest putting an end to the Intifada. Indeed, the PA will clearly be unable to terminate the Intifada while Israeli violence and repression of Palestinian civilians continue unabated.

“We are the ones under attack. The world should ask Israel to end its aggression against our people, not ask us to end our resistance to Israeli aggression,” said Ahmed Qurei, speaker of the Palestinian legislative council.

Meanwhile, on 11 March, Jewish settlers celebrating a Jewish religious holiday dressed up like Baruch Goldstein, the settler who in 1994 massacred 29 Palestinians praying in the Ibrahimi Mosque, and rampaged through Hebron’s Old Town, attacking Palestinians, vandalizing their property and shouting “death to Arabs, long live Jews.”...

[JR: Sharon’s order to build blockades around Arab towns and villages is a page out of Nazi Germany or his Zionist plan for an Palestinian apartheid and conquest. Arafat had to be blackmailed (he has Israeli bank accounts) into signing the Oslo Accord which gave to Israel control of the roads in the Gaza and West Bank. You don’t have to be a visionary to see that the Zionists would take advantage of this to use against the Palestinians should they resort to violent demonstrations in the occupied territories. Sharon has tabled the Oslo Accord and is poised to expand his Zionist plans to build on Arab lands to create an Eretz Israel (Greater Israel). These actions will create a diaspora or relocation of Palestinian refugees that will become a crisis worldwide but not to the State of Israel.]

SHARON SET TO LEGALISE TORTURE

By Uzi Mahnaimi, The Sunday Times—UK, 3/11/01

TEL AVIV—The government of Ariel Sharon, meeting today for the first time, is to urge Israel’s parliament to approve a law that would allow the security service to torture Arab detainees.

The use of “moderate physical pressure” during interrogation has been outlawed by the high court and Yossi Beilin, the former Labour justice minister, resisted demands by Shin Bet, the domestic security service, for its reintroduction.

Political sources said Sharon’s administration, which was sworn in on Wednesday, was sympathetic to the demand and had enough support to push the measure through the Knesset.

Shin Bet officers say force is justified in “time bomb” cases when a prisoner is thought to have knowledge of a terrorist act that is about to be carried out.

“We interrogate hundreds of Palestinians every day, all suspected of terrorism,” said one Shin Bet source. “Last month we arrested a girl who lured an Israeli boy via the Internet to Ramallah, where he was brutally murdered. It took us 30 days to get a confession out of her.

“If we had been allowed to apply physical pressure she would have confessed after a couple of hours. Physical pressure saves time and sometimes life.”

Force was routinely used by the security services until 1984, when two Palestinians were murdered during a Shin Bet investigation. A commission of inquiry forbade further torture, but the continued use of “moderate physical pressure” was permitted until September 1999.

Political sources say the nation’s mood has been changed by the tense military situation and the government would probably succeed in pushing the measure through. At least 343 Palestinians, 65 Israelis and 13 Israeli Arabs have been killed since the beginning of the Palestinian uprising five months ago.

The move has come despite signs that the first meeting will soon take place between Sharon and Yasser Arafat, the Palestinian leader. Sharon’s son, Omri, met one of Arafat’s senior advisers secretly in Tel Aviv last week, apparently to discuss the violence. The Palestinian cabinet later said it was extending the hand of peace to the new Israeli government—but also called for an end to what it called Israel’s policy of “siege and destruction”.

In a concession, the Israelis yesterday allowed the Palestinian parliament to hold its first full session since the beginning of the uprising. Two members were barred from attending on the grounds that they had incited violence against Israel.

In a speech to the parliament, Arafat called for renewed peace talks—but only on the basis of “existing agreements and understandings”.

[JR: Since Israel considers herself at war with the Palestinians she can, under her interpretation of the Rules of the Geneva Convention, pass laws that allow the torture of her declared enemies. The issue of human rights is not assured since Israel is an “occupational force” who rules over a hostile Arab population. Under such conditions Israel can impose any laws she deems necessary to insure her security and to permanently cement all claims to the occupied Arab-held lands. Israel intends to maintain her dominant military strength in the Middle East and with Sharon in charge she will advance that position. The world will halfheartedly object but Israel will claim her Zionist rights as a conqueror.]

LEBANON WATER PROJECT
PUTS ISRAEL MILITARY ON ALERT

World Tribune.com, 3/16/01

TEL AVIV— Lebanon has accelerated a project to divert a major river along the southern border that supplies a quarter of Israel's water needs, Israeli sources said.

The acceleration has prompted a military alert as Israeli officials are concerned that the Hizbullah is preparing to exploit the latest crisis with Lebanon.

The sources said Lebanon has brought electricity pylons and other heavy equipment to establish what they term a major pumping facility to divert water from the Hasbani River. The river flows through southern Lebanon into Israel.

"From our point of view, it's do or die," Israeli National Infrastructure Minister Avigdor Lieberman said. "We can't allow this matter to pass."

Military and intelligence sources said the Lebanese project to divert water from the Hasbani river is meant to escalate tension with Israel and push the Jewish state into a military offensive. This, the sources said, would serve as a pretext for a massive Hizbullah rocket attack against northern Israeli communities.

Prime Minister Ariel Sharon has been briefed on the Lebanese project. Officials said Sharon has decided to maintain military restraint and instead urge the United Nations to stop the project. Sharon has also sent warnings to Lebanon and Syria.

So far, UN representatives monitoring the project said the Lebanese pumping is meant to fill local water needs. A similar assertion was made by Lebanese sources.

But Israeli officials maintain that the amount and type of equipment demonstrate a major project. They said Lebanon wants to first establish the principle that it can pump water from the Hasbani before Beirut expands the project.

For years, Israel has been supplying water to Lebanese border villages to prevent any diversion of the Hasbani. But this has angered Hizbullah, which has accused the government in Beirut of dealing with the Jewish State.

"This is a test of Sharon," parliamentarian Michael Kleiner, a member of Sharon's coalition government, said. "We have to respond quickly and forcefully."

[JR: If the UN feels the Lebanese water project is to fulfill the needs of its people, Israel should be persuaded to do the same. I don't believe that the Lebanese villages along the border can rely on Israel to supply them with their water needs, given Israel's continuous hostile warnings to Lebanon and Syria. Israel presumes she can dictate and threaten her neighbors to maintain her security but that is wearing thin. She needs to move on and realize she risks war if she is so obsessed with her security and is not about establishing a dialogue with her surrounding neighbors. Israel is the agitator and Sharon was elected to do just that.]

"CIA'S BASTARD ARMY RAN RIOT IN BALKANS, BACKED EXTREMISTS"

By Peter Beaumont, Ed Vulliamy and Paul Beaver,
The Observer—UK, 3/11/01

The United States secretly supported the ethnic Albanian extremists now behind insurgencies in Macedonia and southern Serbia.

The CIA encouraged former Kosovo Liberation Army fighters to launch a rebellion in southern Serbia in an effort to undermine the then Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic, according to senior European officers who served with the international peace-keeping force in Kosovo (K-For), as well as leading Macedonian and U.S. sources.

They accuse American forces with K-For of deliberately ignoring the massive smuggling of men and arms across Kosovo's borders.

The accusations were made in a series of interviews by The Observer. They emerge as America has been forced into a rapid U-turn over its support for Albanian extremists in Kosovo seeking a "Greater Kosovo" that would include Albanian communities in Serbia and Macedonia.

In the past week ethnic Albanian guerrillas have intensified their campaign of attacks in the two areas, threatening a new war in the region, which last week put U.S. troops in the firing line in the Balkans for the first time.

The accusations have led to tension in K-For between the European and U.S. military missions. European officers are furious that the Americans have allowed guerrilla armies in its sector to train, smuggle arms and launch attacks across two international borders.

One European K-For battalion commander told The Observer yesterday: "The CIA has been allowed to run riot in Kosovo with a private army designed to overthrow Slobodan Milosevic. Now that he's gone, the U.S. State Department seems incapable of reining in its bastard army."

He added. "Most of last year, there was a growing frustration with the U.S. support for the radical Albanians. U.S. policy was and still is out of step with the other NATO allies."

The claim was backed by senior Macedonian officials in the capital, Skopje. "What has been happening with the National Liberation Army [which has been responsible for a series of attacks on Macedonia's borders in recent weeks] and the UCPMB [its sister organisation in southern Serbia] is very similar to what happened when the KLA was launched in 1995-96," said one official.

"I will say only this: the U.S. intelligence agencies have not been honest here."

The claims were given extra credence from an unexpected source—Arben Xhafari, leader of Macedonia's main Albanian party who tried to prevent the crisis on the border igniting an ethnic civil war inside Macedonia itself.

A U.S. State Department official blamed the last administration. There had now been "a shift of emphasis".

[JR: The Bushites can't distance themselves from the Clintonites who created this debacle in Kosovo. The funding allocated for these clandestine operations by our Congress was given without any oversight. Macedonia permitted NATO a staging area before moving occupational K-For forces into Kosovo and received the flood of Albanian refugees during the NATO bombings. Now Macedonia is being drawn into a civil war just like the Albanians against the Serbs and in Kosovo, all because of the U.S.'s inability to control and contain the activities of these KLA mercenaries they trained. We are responsible for the tensions between the Albanians and Serbs, and now the Macedonians, which reassures NATO's continued presence and control of this region. We have betrayed the trust of the people we came to serve and protect and that is most regrettable.]

TRADE DEFICIT HITS NEW HIGH;
ECONOMISTS SEE VULNERABILITY

Newsday, 3/16/01

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's trade deficit surged to a record high of $435.4 billion last year, reflecting a flood of imports ranging from foreign cars to oil and industrial machinery.

Economists expressed concern that such a dramatic worsening in the current account, the broadest measure of trade, could make foreigners less interested in holding U.S. investments, adding to Wall Street's problems.

The Commerce Department said that the previous record was $341.5 billion, set in 1999.

For the final three months of last year, the deficit rose to a new record for a quarter of $115.3 billion, up 1.9 percent from the $113.1 billion imbalance in the third quarter.

Economists don't expect a repeat of last year's huge deterioration in trade, but they predicted the figure could still widen as weakness overseas cuts into U.S. export growth.

The current account is the broadest measure of foreign trade because it covers not only trade in goods and services but also investment flows between countries.

The money foreigners receive for their products has flowed back into the United States as investments in stocks and other financial products and in direct purchases of American companies. That has transformed the United States from the world's largest creditor nation to the largest debtor, meaning foreigners now own more in U.S. assets than Americans own overseas.

Various economists, including Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, have expressed worries that the current account deficit is becoming unsustainable. The concern is that at some point foreigners will suddenly decide they don't want to keep their investments in the United States.

That could cause the U.S. dollar to plummet in value, add to stock market weakness and send American interest rates soaring.

"Having a current account deficit at such a high level makes us extremely vulnerable," said economist Larry Chimerine, president of Radnor Consulting of Philadelphia.

"If the U.S. stock market keeps going down, will foreigners want to keep their investments here or will they put them somewhere else?" Chimerine asked.

In another report, the Labor Department said the number of Americans filing new claims for unemployment benefits remained at 375,000 last week, but the four-week moving average climbed to the highest level since July 1998....

[JR: The unemployment rates may reach to higher levels given the continuous downsizing and layoffs by companies all across the U.S. If Europeans and, most importantly, Japan withdraw their support from our markets and the shoring up of our government securities, we are vulnerable for a takeover by our foreign creditors. We don't own much here in the U.S. and we owe much more than we can ever make good on. Our valueless paper currency ($FRN) could become fuel for those cold winter nights.]

GREENSPAN: STUCK BETWEEN JAPAN AND A HARD PLACE

By George Friedman, STRATFOR.com 3/16/01

Investors fear that the U.S. markets, which are at cycle lows, have a long way to go before bottoming out. If the economy is not in a recession, it is doing a good impression of one. The Federal Reserve, which has received much criticism for not cutting interest rates faster, seems prepared to let this continue.

Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan is trying to space the cuts out as widely as he can; more widely than investors and financial analysts think is necessary to jumpstart the economy. To many, this makes no sense. But considered in terms of Japan—the world's second largest economy—Greenspan's strategy adds up: Another round of serious interest rate cuts might break apart the Japanese banking system.

Greenspan sees that the Japanese economy is near its breaking point. He does not want it to crack and, if it does crack, Greenspan does not want the United States to be the catalyst.

Japan's economy is so close to the edge it will not take much to nudge it over. As the United States cuts interest rates, money flows into countries with higher interest rates, weakening the U.S. dollar particularly in relation to European currencies. This makes American exports more competitive with Japanese exports in Europe. Simultaneously, the slowing U.S. economy will cut Japanese exports to the United States. While normally of little significance, a drop in cash flow due to declining exports could be the straw that breaks the camel's back.

Greenspan does not want to provide that straw by continually cutting interest rates. In fact, he would rather not cut interest rates since U.S. banks have significant exposure in Japan. Each additional exposure makes it harder for banks to deal with losses. An expanded Japanese banking crisis caused by sharply plummeting U.S. interest rates could turn this normal, cyclical recession into a substantial event, dramatically affecting U.S. banks' balance sheets. This could force a lending contraction at the worst possible moment, causing a more prolonged and intense recession than the current one.

Greenspan has a sanguine outlook for the U.S. economy. We are nearing a selling climax as the non-NASDAQ averages start to capitulate. The economy has slowed substantially and a healthy recession is wiping out pseudo-businesses left and right. If he wasn't worried about a Japanese crisis, Greenspan might loosen earlier, bringing about a 1961-like short recession.

While it frustrates U.S. investors, Greenspan's strategy is understandable. A somewhat longer American recession—providing the Japanese house of cards does not tumble—is preferable to bringing down Japan in a vain attempt to shorten the U.S. recession, thereby creating a truly profound problem that would take a year or more to work out.

The Japanese collapse can be delayed, but not stopped. Obviously, it would be more opportune a few months down the road. The U.S. recession, however, is driving the Japanese collapse. If we could delay it a few months, the impact would not be so serious.

Would it be better to get the U.S. economy out of its recession soon to fortify it against Japan? No, because the recession is strengthening the U.S. economy. Banks are reining in lending and reducing credit exposure. This process must run its course or the U.S. will move down the Asian path. It does no good to avoid medicine for so long that the disease can no longer be cured without killing the patient.

Greenspan wants a short but intense slowdown; however, he doesn't want to break Japan so he is postponing the jumpstart. He is trapped between two American needs: 1) having a healthful recession; and 2) stimulating the U.S. economy with lower interest rates—both must be done without splitting Japan wide open.

In terms of Japan, Greenspan's behavior makes sense. But, regardless of how well he plays it, can Greenspan's hand come up a winner?

[JR: Mr. Friedman who penned this article seems to be an ardent defender and supporter of Alan Greenspan and his feudal economic policies. It now appears that this belated but induced recession is more for Japan's benefit than ours. Our stock market is heading south because of the lackluster performance and profits of the mega globalist corporations that comprise our U.S. markets. The alarming number of plant closings, layoff of workers and massive losses in the stock markets will soon create a domino effect worldwide since we are the world's economic engine and number one importer. Greenspan is protecting his buds at the Federal Reserve who are in big trouble with bad loans and it won't be long before the vultures from the IMF and WB come in for the kill. Let's hope Greenspan is the first victim.]

HOUSE REPUBLICANS
LOOK TO PROTEST ICC TREATY SIGNATURE

CNSNews.com, 3/12/01

House Republicans aim to make it clear to the White House in the coming months that they do not endorse the International Criminal Court Treaty, which Bill Clinton agreed to in the final weeks of his presidency, but which critics allege would threaten U.S. sovereignty and endanger the rights of due process for American citizens.

Under the ICC treaty, Americans could be prosecuted and tried before an international tribunal that would then have the authority to hand out punishment.

Rep. Ron Paul (R-Texas) is sponsoring House Concurrent Resolution 23, which calls on President Bush to declare that the U.S. has no intention of ratifying such a bill.

In a letter Paul sent to other congressmen, he said the treaty "conflicts with the Constitution, American sovereignty, and individual liberty." Paul is also concerned that under the treaty, the fate of Americans overseas could be determined by representatives of nations that are unfriendly toward the U.S., like Cuba.

Tom Lizardo, Paul's chief of staff, said President Clinton acted without the support of the majority in Congress.

"What's wrong with the treaty is that the court conflicts with U.S. sovereignty," Lizardo said. "The president should declare that the U.S. does not intend to ratify the treaty and the signature of former president Clinton should not be construed otherwise."

Lizardo said, although a concurrent resolution has no force of law, it does send a message to the public about how Congress feels about an issue. If the resolution passes through the House, it will go to the Senate.

However, according to Lizardo, since the treaty has already been signed by the Clinton administration, the U.S. may be hard-pressed to reverse course and get out of the deal.

"The question is whether the U.S. Congress and the administration will strongly state opposition to this or whether they will allow this to become an international conundrum," Lizardo said. "According to our laws, [the treaty] will not be in effect in the U.S., but with the signature of President Clinton and 60 other countries who may sign on, the international community may consider it a treaty that is in effect and one the U.S. is subject to."

Some Democrats insist that by participating in the treaty, the U.S. will gain credibility in the global community and still be able to influence how the treaty is enacted. Matt Gobush, Democratic Press Secretary for the House International Relations Committee, said by ignoring the ICC agreement, the U.S. would find itself on the outside looking in.

"I think most [Democrats] believe that President Clinton signing the treaty was a wise and strategic move, in the sense it keeps our options open," Gobush said. "Had we not signed it before the deadline, the U.S. would have no leverage in ongoing treaty negotiations. In signing it, we are still a player."

According to Gobush, most Democrats feel that Republican concerns are exaggerated, but also understand how difficult it will be to persuade the GOP on the virtues of the treaty.

"I think it deserves a fair hearing," Gobush said. "But be under no illusions—it will be an uphill battle in a Congress where Republicans hold both houses."

Sam Stratman, spokesman for House International Relations Committee Chairman Rep. Henry Hyde (R-Ill.), said the ICC treaty is unacceptable since it would expose American citizens to an unfamiliar system of justice.

"How can the American government agree to a treaty that does not guarantee the kind of constitutional rights Americans have come to expect back home?" Stratman asked. "In its current form, [this treaty] is a step backwards," he said.

[JR: This ICC Treaty, like all the treaties the U.S. has signed, is basically trading away our rights, our sovereignty and our Constitution. The critics who oppose such treaties do not just allege its dangers but are warning our government that we are inviting a foreign entity to manipulate us. The Democrats have worked tirelessly to bring us into the socialistic sphere of influence and control. If Rep. Ron Paul and his fellow Republicans are unsuccessful in putting a halt to this cycle of events, then we can kiss our future goodbye and America with it.]

DEVOURING AMERICA'S PRIVATE PROPERTY

By Tom DeWeese, Asheville Tribune, 3/18/01

Quietly, with little public notice, private property has been disappearing across America at an alarming rate for more than a decade.

Property owners are falling under the assault from an almost unintelligible maze of federal, state, county and local environmental laws, regulations, programs and taxes. That government assault is combined with a concerted effort by highly funded and politically powerful environmental groups.

Using regulations and programs that arise from Sustainable Development; the Endangered Species Act; wet lands regulations; government land acquisition programs; Clean Air Act; biological diversity; forest regulations; land trusts; water-shed protection; heritage corridors; green ways and eco-regions, the federal government is rapidly carving up the nation, and removing from use productive land and resources. In its wake, industries, farms and American dreams are being destroyed.

The main enforcers of these policies are the National Park Service, the Army Corps of Engineers, Fish and Wildlife Service, National Forest Service, The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and 800,000 lawyers. They are aided by the advance troops of environmental radicals who infest every local community by scouting out possible targets, and by creating controversy and legal attacks on businesses, property owners and developers. No stone is left unturned and no scare tactic is too outrageous for these well funded, politically sophisticated, fanatical, societal misfits.

Groups like the Sierra Club, the Audubon Society, the Nature Conservancy, National Wildlife Federation, the Wilderness Society, National Resources Defense Council and the Environmental Defense Council provide the legal research and courtroom advocacy to force property owners into submission. These groups have become so powerful and feared that most major businesses will pay them “green mail” and capitulate to their demands without putting up a fight. Smaller property owners, farmers, ranchers and family businesses have little chance to hang on to their property once the attack begins.

This “ecoligarchy” is funded with federal tax dollars as well as by private foundations like the Rockefeller Foundation, the Mellon Foundations, Ford Foundation, Pew Charitable Trust, W. Alton Jones Foundation, University grants and the Environmental Grant Makers Association. More dollars fill their pockets through the selling of “taken” land as the booty of their legal assault.

As this violence grows against America’s most fundamental right, the ownership of private property, most Americans remain unaware of their rapidly diminishing rights. This is due in part to a massive news blackout of any “green” acquisition. The media manages to either ignore the latest government taking or describe it in glowing terms as a boon for the environment. Children in classrooms are taught that protecting the environment must take precedence over most human activities. Such propaganda is backed up by a constant flow of unfounded or unsupported “scientific” reports declaring environmental Armageddon through ozone holes, global warming and human consumption.

As a result America’s most precious freedom is in steady retreat. Even with the passing of the Clinton Administration, more property owners continue to become victims of a cause they don’t understand. But the worst may be yet to come. The environmental movement has many plans in the works.

If completely implemented, more than fifty percent of all the land in the entire United States may be shut off from human activity, leaving little choice for future Americans but to be herded into specified human habitat areas to live and raise their families under a central organizing plan called Sustainable Development. Gone will be private property, free enterprise, personal choices and dreams.

As incredible as this may seem, it is the reality of what is occurring in America. The nation’s economic system is based on the ownership of private property. When that right, enshrined in the Constitution, is gone, America will have fallen victim to those within its midst, becoming an empty shell, stripped of access to its natural resources, its farms, and other enterprises, living under an authoritarian system that is the antithesis of everything its founding fathers envisioned.

[JR: The Elite foundations that support the various NGO groups that comprise this powerful new “ecoligarchy” are fulfilling the UN’s bio-diversity plan and control. This plan will control large tracts of land that will be turned back to their natural, pristine state, minus about 6 billion people they have designated as useless parasites. The ecoligarchy hasn’t been effective, given the fact they have yet to target the arms dealers and manufacturers and the governments that have stockpiled weapons of mass destruction as well as germ and chemical weapons. Why aren’t these discerning ecologists against war? Another target they have missed is developers who buy up the few farms that are left around metro areas to advance the urban sprawl, that increases traffic, that pollutes the environment, then add to that the increase in air traffic. In their zeal to selectively target causes of environmental hazards, they have missed the BIG picture.]

CRISIS AFTER CRISIS THREATENS WHOLE OF SOUTHEAST ASIA

By John Aglionby, The Guardian—UK, 3/17/01

JAKARTA—The economic and political shock waves triggered by stock markets round the world plunging in value are likely to hit hardest in Southeast Asia. The Indonesian president is already at war with parliament as communal conflicts rage unchecked in many areas, the Malaysian authorities are using oppressive sedition laws to prevent an escalation of the worst ethnic violence in 30 years, and the ousted Philippine president is refusing to retire quietly as the country’s new government struggles to clear up the carnage he left behind.

In Thailand, the newly elected prime minister is struggling to stave off corruption charges that would force him from office, in Singapore ministers are panicking about China possibly filling the power vacuum left by America’s new hands-off Asia policy, and East Timor is suffering the growing pains of a new country heading into an uncertain future.

Tiny Brunei is the only country in the region not making unsettling headlines.

Even in healthy economic circumstances, much of Southeast Asia would be facing an extremely uncertain next few months with a potential for major social and political upheaval. But with the current collapse of global markets and parallel slowdown in developed nations’ economies reverberating around the region, the ante has risen significantly.

Southeast Asia is where the world’s last major financial crisis kicked off in July 1997 with the collapse of the Thai baht, and most of the once loudly roaring tigers are still licking their wounds.

With the exception of Singapore recoveries have, at best, proved patchy and, at worst, barely got off the ground, raising serious questions about the ability of the region’s political and social structure to survive another major economic hit.

The Thai prime minister, Thaksin Shinawatra, was the first to admit storm clouds are gathering. On Wednesday he said the state of his country’s economy was “worrying”, with the budget deficit likely to be much higher than anticipated, exports falling so sharply that Thailand experienced its first trade deficit for 11 months in January, and little new foreign investment on the horizon.

But it is Indonesia that is likely to be the first serious victim. Its economy is already in turmoil—stalled economic reform, a spat with the International Monetary Fund, stagnating repayments on £180bn of debt and longstanding high-profile foreign investors halting operations are just four items on a growing list of crises.

“There are so many reasons to be negative about the economy and nothing really to be positive,” said Sri Mulyani Indrawati, an Indonesian economist.

“History shows that the collapsing currency does not even help exports.”

The extent of the crisis in the world’s fourth most-populous nation is so great, however, that few ordinary Indonesians are focusing on the economy. The increasingly likely demise of President Abdurrahman Wahid is grabbing most attention.

This almost-blind Muslim cleric, who became the country’s first democratically elected president in October 1999, is facing a rapidly rising tide of opposition to his erratic and ineffective rule.

As thousands of student-led protesters besieged the presidential palace on Monday, he refused to resign, claiming somewhat fatuously that the restive provinces of Aceh, Irian Jaya, the Moluccas, Madura and Riau would immediately declare independence.

There is no doubt that it is only the constitution which is keeping Mr. Wahid in power. It states that impeachment proceedings can only be initiated against the president after he has been given three months to respond to a first formal warning and one month to a second. The first censure was issued on February 1 and all the major opposition parties confirmed this week that, barring a miracle, they would issue a second.

As Mr. Wahid’s party only controls 10% of parliament, a second warning is considered unstoppable.

On top of this is the mounting unrest in the provinces. Jakarta proved powerless, or unwilling, to prevent Dayak head-hunters in Kalimantan butchering almost 500 migrants from Madura and forcing out tens of thousands of others three weeks ago.

After a three-week hiatus, pro-Wahid mobs once again ran amok in East Java on Wednesday, vandalising opposition party offices, threatening to kill Wahid critics and blocking ferries to Bali.

The army was ordered this week to launch a formal operation against separatists in Aceh, while the military commander in the Moluccas admitted recently that there was no end in sight to the two-year-long sectarian conflict there.

With events running so out of control, total meltdown could well occur long before Mr. Wahid is impeached. “Everything is being held together with chewing gum and sticky plaster,” said one Jakarta-based security consultant. “Something is going to have to give soon; it’s just a question of what and when.”

As crises converge, observers elsewhere in the region are starting to worry what the fallout might be. “The major regional risk... is undoubtedly Indonesia’s deteriorating situation,” said Steve Brice, an analyst with Standard Chartered Bank. “If the fabric breaks down the flow of people could become overwhelming.”

They might not come just from Indonesia though. Many of the countries in the region built their post-1997 crash recovery efforts on tech-heavy industries. As the NASDAQ continues to freefall and tech companies downsize, south-east Asia could face an unemployment explosion.

“The labour sector will surely be very badly affected,” said Rafaelito Santos, an investment risk analyst in Manila. “It’s still too early to assess how bad it will be. It all depends on how governments can deal with the situation.”

Congressional elections in the Philippines in May could well be a flashpoint. The wife of the ousted president Joseph Estrada is running for office to show how much support her husband still commands and, if mass lay-offs occur between now and then, her support base could swell significantly.

This would cause a headache for President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo—who swept to power in January in a political coup hidden by a people power movement—although it is unlikely to be fatal.

The same cannot be said for [Thailand's] Mr. Shinawatra's woes. If the constitutional court upholds the false declaration of assets indictment against him he will have to resign. This would throw the whole government into limbo as it is built around the personality and wealth of this billionaire telecoms tycoon.

Such doomsday outcomes might not transpire and the region could muddle through, mauled but not permanently maimed. But most people fear the region still has not seen the worst.

"It would be a very brave call to suggest that we're at the bottom," said Mr. Brice. "Near, yes, but the magnitude and the timeframe of the remaining fall are impossible to gauge." So are the consequences.

[JR: It has been confirmed that Malaysia's ethnic violence is being financed by socialist organizations from the U.S., mainly to create chaos and instability because of Malaysia's independent actions of rejecting loans from the IMF with strings attached to control its infrastructure. Dr. Mahathir's unorthodox methods saved his country during the last economic crisis, which makes them a target of the globalists. Much of the turmoil in the rest of South East Asia is related to the economic situation associated with destructive IMF policies, incompetent leaders and corrupt officials that seem to be prevalent in the region.]

U.S. TRADE ENVOY SIGNALS A NEW APPROACH TO TOUGH ISSUES

By Paul Blustein, International Herald Tribune, 3/14/01

WASHINGTON (Washington Post)—As recently as a couple of years ago, when the scourge of AIDS began devastating whole societies in Africa, White House trade negotiators were backing American pharmaceutical companies to the hilt in their efforts to stop poor countries from obtaining cheaper generic copies of expensive anti-AIDS drugs.

Robert Zoellick, the new U.S. Trade representative, makes clear that the Bush White House is not going back to those days. As is his wont, Mr. Zoellick uses broad strategic terms to explain his decision, disclosed last month, to maintain U.S. policies adopted in 1999 and 2000 that give countries like South Africa more leeway to make or import generic AIDS medicine.

In his first major interview since President George W. Bush appointed him in January, Mr. Zoellick framed the controversy over AIDS drugs as an important test of the administration's larger drive to increase the adoption of free-trade principles in the United States and around the world. Trade policies, he said, must be "fully aligned with our values," lest the cause of free trade be undermined.

While Mr. Zoellick emphasized his support for global trade rules that protect patents and other forms of intellectual property, he voiced concern that a backlash is building against the drug industry for aggressively asserting its patent rights in the face of a monumental health crisis.

"I'm convinced, whether it relates to child labor, forced labor or HIV/AIDS—and I'm sure there will be others—that to be successful, I and my compatriots have to get out front on these issues," he said. "And frankly, so should've the pharmaceutical companies. If they don't get ahead of this issue, the hostility that generates could put at risk the whole intellectual-property rights system."

Thinking a few steps ahead is one of Mr. Zoellick's hallmarks. A lanky 47-year-old with reddish-blond hair and mustache, he is known among colleagues as a master strategist and policy analyst, a reputation he established during the administration of Mr. Bush's father, when he served as undersecretary of state for economic affairs and deputy White House chief of staff. His readiness to discuss the fine points of trade policy is winning paeans even from Democrats like New York's Charles Rangel, the ranking minority member on the House Ways and Means Committee, who told Mr. Zoellick at a hearing last week, "You've made one great first impression with colleagues on both sides of the aisle."

In the interview, Mr. Zoellick detailed his plans for how the Bush administration will advance its agenda for re-energizing the worldwide push toward removing barriers to the free movement of goods, services and investment.

Ever since late 1999, when a world trade conference in Seattle deadlocked amid violent protests, the political atmosphere surrounding economic globalization has become more poisonous and contentious. That poses a threat to Mr. Zoellick's major goals, which include a new round of global trade-opening talks—the original goal of the Seattle conference—and establishing a free-trade agreement covering the entire Western Hemisphere, a Bush priority.

Mr. Zoellick's first task in achieving such trade pacts is daunting: He must win authority from a sharply divided Congress for the administration to negotiate effectively.

His Democratic predecessors failed to get "fast-track" authority to cut large-scale trade deals renewed when the law granting that power expired in 1994. The authority provides for Congress to review trade pacts using straight up-or-down votes, with no amendments that might unravel the accords. Many trade experts question whether Mr. Zoellick and the Bush administration can do any better in securing it.

Revealing a key element of his legislative strategy, Mr. Zoellick said the administration will throw its weight behind a broad-based trade bill that combines new negotiating authority with popular measures already in the works, including a U.S.-$ Jordan free-trade pact, legislation providing normal trade relations with Vietnam and possibly some other trade items that require action later this year. A number of Democratic lawmakers have called for quick enactment of the Jordan and Vietnam deals, but Mr. Zoellick made clear that he would use his clout to wrap the elements together.

"We will work with Congress to put together a trade package that refers to real places, with real people, with real benefits that flow from it, plus future authority to do more, at least in the Western Hemisphere and globally," Mr. Zoellick said. "With a combination approach, the vote will be a binary decision on whether one is for or against trade."

Mr. Zoellick has started off with the most cosmetic of moves: ditching the term "fast track" and replacing it with "U.S. trade promotion authority," nomenclature that he introduced at his Senate confirmation hearing.

By whatever name, getting negotiating authority for trade deals looks to be a particularly tough sell in the House, where it stalled during the Clinton years. Unlike the Bush tax cut, the trade vote cannot be rammed through based on the Republican Party's slightly superior numbers; a narrowly partisan victory would be a hollow one for a trade representative who needs to offer assurances that trade deals will not be gutted in Congress.

So Mr. Zoellick is now wrestling with the tricky problem of how to bridge a widening gap between the two parties over what rules should govern global trade, especially trade between rich and poor countries.

Many Democrats in Congress argue that in negotiating agreements, the United States should insist on provisions requiring other countries to strengthen or at least enforce their standards on labor rights and the environment.

Mr. Zoellick has repeatedly assured Democrats that the administration is open to including labor and environmental provisions if they are not protectionist. He suggested that he is examining a formula used in the North American Free Trade Agreement and a more recent accord between Canada and Chile. Under those pacts, governments that fail to uphold their pledges on labor and environmental standards are subject to monetary fines instead of sanctions against their countries' exports.

[JR: In protecting the profits for the drug companies the U.S. trade negotiators were playing god when they voted against Africa's access to cheaper generic drugs to alleviate the AIDS pandemic. Have enough people died of the disease to warrant reconsideration or is it to placate the critics of the free trade policies? Mr. Zoellick, who replaced Bill Daley as the new trade czar, is up to the task of pushing through Congress the fast-track authority despite the fact that Congress will have no say in how these trade agreements are written. All governments and agencies have the genius of reinventing and transforming themselves into something they are not, to sell it to the rest of us. Despite the new packaging because of public opposition, "fast track" (now called U.S. Trade Promotion Authority) will still hand over powers to the WTO that will override the laws of any sovereign country it deals with. Mr. Zoellick knows this and will play the con-man for the Bushites and the globalists.]

OIL FIRMS STROKE UP SUDAN WAR

By Victoria Brittain and Terry Macalister,
The Guardian—UK, 3/15/01

Oil companies operating in Sudan are complicit in the systematic depopulating of large areas of the country and atrocities against civilians, tens of thousands of whom have been killed and displaced from the areas around the oil fields, according to a report to be published today.

Christian Aid, in a searing report on the consequences of Sudan's new oil bonanza, accuses the oil companies of deep involvement in the government's war machine against southern civilians.

The companies are protected by government forces and allow their airstrips and roads to be used by the military, while the revenues from oil are funding expansion of the war, the report says.

The report includes dozens of eyewitness accounts from villages where people have been driven out by bombing and ground attacks.

"Oil has brought death," said one Nuer chief, Malony Kolang. "When the pumping began, the war began. Antonovs and helicopter gunships began attacking the villages. All the farms have been destroyed, everything around the oil fields has been destroyed."

Christian Aid's report calls on foreign oil companies—from Canada, Sweden, China, France and Austria—to suspend their operations in Sudan. It also calls for BP and Shell to divest their shares in firms whose parent company is involved.

The report accuses the oil companies of trying to distance themselves from the catastrophe of southern Sudan by claiming they are not responsible for the behaviour of companies in which they are shareholders.

BP said last night it had no intention of disposing of its interests in PetroChina "because there is no reason why we should". The Chinese company, in which BP bought a $578m stake 12 months ago, is not active in Sudan, although its parent group, China National Petroleum Corporation, (CNPC) is...

Rolls Royce admits it provided 34 diesel engines to help pump oil along a 1,000-mile pipeline from Sudan's oil fields to an export terminal on the Red Sea.

Martin Brody, a Rolls Royce spokesman, said the company always took advice from the British government on where it could do business but also had its own criteria. He added: "As a supplier of equipment we always take a responsible view of our actions. We gave a lot of information to Christian Aid and will need to look at its report in more detail."...

The report gives harrowing details of the lives of refugees from the oil areas who have walked hundreds of miles to very precarious areas of southern Sudan, already wracked by decades of civil war.

"All the villages along the road have been burned," said John Wicjial Bayak, a local official driven from a village close to the main road built for access to the oil fields. "You cannot see a single hut. The government doesn't want people anywhere near the oil."...

Systematic attacks on the villages began in March 2000, according to village chiefs. One was bombed 10 times before government troops finally burned out the residents.

Across southern Sudan life is on a knife-edge and the government's strategy of banning aid flights to Upper Nile is fanning fears of a new famine tragedy similar to that of 1998, in which tens of thousands died.

[JR: The Sudanese government is evidently being well paid by the globalist oil companies to genocide its own people. When you make deals with these mega-corporations the laws of your country and the rights of your people are buried along with the dead. In a moral and just world the farmers should be fairly compensated for their lands that were taken from them by the BP and Shell oil barons. The Sudanese are in for another prolonged cycle of misery, famine and war just to protect the interest of the globalists and increases the profits of these parasites who feed off the world.]

THE GENOME DILEMMA

By Bill Welch, from The Internet, 3/18/01

Biologists from two separate groups, Celera Genomics and the publicly funded consortium of academic centers, recently announced the decoding of the human genome in a joint news conference. Their respective discoveries were also reported in the journals Science and Nature.

This amazing accomplishment is blockbuster news, considering the monumental effort required and the earthshaking impact on society. However, in this process, a startling discovery was made that defies explanation, at least by conventional biological methods. The discovery that there are not enough human genes.

The human genome did not cooperate with the scientists. Celera Genomics identified 26,588 human genes and 12,731 candidates. The final gene count is expected to fall somewhere between 30,000-40,000, with 30,000 being the favorite estimate. Original gene estimates ranged from 120,000 to over 140,000. Why is this a problem? The roundworm has 19,098 genes. Yet humans have only about 50% more genes. If the reader is surprised, you are in good company. The biologists are surprised too. In fact, their surprise borders on panic.

They are panicked because they cannot explain it, although that has not stopped them from trying.

Current explanations include such obscure processes as alternative splicing, protein domains and transcription factors, as well as the school of thought that the current decoding has underestimated the gene count.

Some biologists stubbornly hang on to the conviction that the actual count is closer to 120,000, but they are in the minority and have yet to prove the existence of the 90,000 phantom genes. The agreement of two competing groups, having arrived at similar gene estimates using independent methods, provides considerable credibility for the human gene count being around 30,000.

Understandably, biologists are attempting to explain the complexity of humans, with 100 trillion cells and 100 billion brain cells, as compared to the roundworm, with its 959 cells, given the rather meager human gene count. Genes are the body's chemical instructions for building proteins.

The biologists explain the complexity as coming from the multiple interactions of extra proteins (combinatorial complexity), the mix and match of proteins from a single gene (alternative splicing) and other theories of how human genes have become much smarter through the evolutionary process. Dr. Francis S. Collins, director of the genome institute at the National Institutes of Health and leader of the consortium, was quoted in the New York Times as saying, "Maybe evolution designed most of the basic folds that proteins could use a long time ago, and the major advances in the last 400 million years have been to figure out how to shuffle those in interesting ways. This gives another reason not to panic." Maybe?

We then enter the world of chromosomes, with its rambling, repeating sequences of cytosine (C), guanine (G), adenines (A) and thymines (T) and the uneven, "lumpy" distribution of genes.

The central question is what makes human beings. Biologists believe this distinction comes from an element previously thought to be a troublesome gene parasite known as an Alu element.

Dr. Wanda F. Reynolds, a molecular biologist at the Sidney Kimmel Cancer Center in San Diego points out that Alu elements are found only in higher primates. But what makes humans different from a chimpanzee, given that their genes are almost identical? The thinking is that the Alu elements interact with genes in interesting ways. Dr. Reynolds believes that an Alu sequence in or around a gene may result in changes in the gene's characteristics when exposed to certain hormones. Dr. Reynolds goes on to say that these changes give the genome, "a great deal of plasticity, and a lot of choices". The implication is that somehow these "choices" make a better primate, that is, a human being.

Maybe it's time to consider another explanation. Even if genetic variations, in whatever form, can explain the complexity of the human body, can they explain the uniqueness of human beings? Does our genome alone define us as human beings? Is there something outside of the genome that makes us human and not simply better primates? A critical, unbiased evaluation of the facts revealed in the genome decoding should lead to questions about this and generate a healthy skepticism of the current explanations. Could scientists be missing something in their zeal to make the facts fit their genetic models?

The Bible reveals two factors that are germane to this discussion. First, man was created in the image of God with characteristics of God's nature.

The implication is that human beings are unique and are on a plane above animals, thereby exhibiting characteristics in keeping with that distinction. Secondly, humans possess a human spirit, or a "spirit in man" as the Bible refers to it, that is not resident in animals. This human spirit endows humans with the intellect wholly missing from animals. No animal possesses the mind and intelligence of human beings, regardless of the number or similarity of their genes.

Scientists have a problem with these explanations because they cannot prove them through experimentation. Both are spiritual explanations, which is also a problem for them. So is it back to the genetic variation explanations with which scientists are comfortable? After all, science knows best. Maybe.

[JR: These scientists just don't want to accept the fact GOD gave man a soul and that soul is what gives man his unique powers of choice. God, a spiritual entity who is non-physical, created the laws of Nature and of the universe, which are the rules of God. These rules are also not physical, but are within the order of the universe, so our scientists will never be able to physically prove them, only their consequences. Just as God is a Celestial Being and not of our physical universe within this third dimension, scientists will always find it difficult to accept the concept of a Deity.]

CONNECTICUT ATTORNEY GENERAL

TELLS DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE:

HALT FORCED ANTHRAX SHOTS—

"CEASE AND DESIST ILLEGAL CONDUCT"

MILITARYCORRUPTION.COM, 3/24/01

In a major blow to the forced Anthrax inoculation program, Connecticut Attorney General Richard Blumenthal has called upon Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld to END the controversial and "illegal" vaccinations of America's armed forces.

Over a thousand members of all branches of the military have refused the risky shots and been punished with fines, jail terms and dishonorable discharges. Many veteran pilots have quit rather than submit to the inoculations.

In a letter to both Rumsfeld and acting Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Commissioner, Dr. Bernard Schwartz, Blumenthal blasted the use of an "investigational drug" on service members without their informed consent.

He cited the case of two outstanding Connecticut Air National Guard pilots, Major Russell Dingle and Major Thomas "Buzz" Rempfer. Both resigned in 1999 rather than take the shots.

"Why should these officers put either their health or their careers at risk?" Blumenthal asked.

"The United States Government so far has refused to recognize or appreciate the DANGER and the personal dilemma it is imposing on its military personnel, despite repeated concerns expressed about administering an UNLICENSED DRUG NEVER PROVEN SAFE OR EFFECTIVE FOR HUMANS.

"Unfortunately, and DIRECTLY CONTRARY TO LAW, the shots are being administered to military personnel UNDER THREAT OF IMPRISONMENT, LOSS OF PAY AND DISCHARGE," Blumenthal wrote.

"In effect, the military is FORCING its personnel to SERVE AS HUMAN GUINEA PIGS for an UNLICENSED DRUG that has NOT BEEN PROVEN TO BE SAFE OR EFFECTIVE."

Citing testimony given before the House

Subcommittee on Government Reforms, the Connecticut attorney general said "for years the FDA and the military KNEW that the Anthrax shots could not be used in this manner. Suddenly in 1997, DOD and the FDA, with no change in the facts or the law, reversed themselves and with the stroke of a pen, wiped out the protections afforded our members of the Armed Services by clearing the way for DOD's mandatory mass inoculations."

Documenting his charges, Blumenthal said the only license for the manufacture of Anthrax vaccine—granted in 1970 to Bioport Corporation of Lansing, Michigan—was to be EXCLUSIVELY used for agricultural and veterinary purposes. The attorney general said FDA regulations PROHIBIT use on humans WITHOUT THEIR SPECIFIC AND INFORMED CONSENT.

"I call upon the DOD and FDA to CEASE AND DESIST from their ILLEGAL CONDUCT and to abandon plans for Anthrax Vaccine inoculation of the Armed Forces," Blumenthal wrote. "Additionally, the FDA should block the manufacture and sale of this vaccine by Bioport and renounce the 1997 action which illegally cleared the way for the DOD's mass inoculations."—<http://www.militarycorruption.com>; Fighting for the truth... exposing the corrupt

CONGRESSMAN DENOUNCES PHONY MONEY

WorldNetDaily.com, 3/23/01

WASHINGTON—Rep. Ron Paul (R-Texas), a member of the House Banking Committee, yesterday spoke out in a televised House floor speech on the deleterious effect of the U.S. fiat-money system.

Paul said Federal Reserve Bank Chairman Alan Greenspan's solution to the dragging economy is to print more money, inflate currency faster and lower interest rates.

"But I don't think it's that simple," Paul said. "It is very clear that we have these cycles and these booms coming from a monetary system that is pure fiat. Fiat money means the money is created out of thin air and the characteristics of a fiat monetary system are: that you have over-speculation; you have stock market booms; you have stock market crashes; and you have a business cycle."

Paul said central planning concepts don't work in banking and monetary policy any more than they do in government.

"Only a free market can tell us what interest rates should be or what the money supply should be," he said. "But we have become dependent on a Federal Reserve System that pretends to know all these things—and we have allowed Alan Greenspan to believe that he can regulate the entire economy, as well as the stock market."

Paul zeroed in on the creation of fiat money.

"The whole principle of fiat money is that when you create new money, you devalue the value—you lower the value of the dollar," said Paul. "And this is what is happening. Right now, we're increasing the money supply... at the rate of 20 percent per year. This means, ultimately, that the dollar we use to purchase goods and services will go down in value. Yet the only thing that we hear about is the cry to the Federal Reserve: Just print more money, faster, because that will save us all. It will raise the stock market. It will make sure that the economy does not go down, go into a downturn."

Paul said the U.S. needs monetary reform—currency reform. [See NORFED/ALC/PRAISE letter on page 7.]

"We have to have a time when once again we have a money that can't be created out of thin air," he said. "We have to have money of value—something that government and politicians can't create out of (thin air)."

NEVADA CORPORATION STATUTES:

What They Don't Say Can Really Help You

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #5:

Key provisions NOT included in Nevada's corporate statutes

In the first four installments of "Tip of the Week" we took a close look at several very interesting provisions of Nevada's corporate statutes. Sometimes, however, what is NOT mentioned in the statutes is just as important.

In Nevada, as many readers may be aware, there is no statute mandating the issuance of stock. (Nevada is not unique in this regard; several other states' corporate statutes similarly ignore this key issue. What makes Nevada unique is the combination of statutory provisions, non-addressed key issues and actual practices, all of which add up to make Nevada the ONLY state that allows for privacy of ownership and control of a corporation.)

As if to underscore the non-necessity of stock issuance, there is no requirement to hold an annual meeting of stockholders. Yes, there are many references to the stockholders' meeting but nowhere is it stated that any such meeting must be held.

Similarly, Nevada is one of a few states that does not nullify the use of "bearer" shares. It is not that there is a statutory provision endorsing the use of bearer shares or even addressing the issue; it is that the issue goes entirely unmentioned, whereas in most other states the use of bearer shares is statutorily denied.

A major, major issue that is not addressed anywhere in the Nevada Revised Statutes is that of nominee officers and directors. The use of nominee officers and directors has been common in practice in Nevada for more than 75 years and yet this issue, which is the key to privacy of control of a Nevada corporation, is simply not mentioned. Doesn't that make you wonder why not?

Other states (Wyoming comes to mind) have directly addressed the issue of nominee stockholders. In Nevada, however, there seems to be more power granted by not restricting the use of this technique even by defining it.

Nevada only requires a corporation's primary officers to be listed annually but does not abridge the key roles that can be afforded to secondary officers, such as a vice president, who may exercise all of the powers of the president in the president's absence; an assistant treasurer, who may be empowered to sign checks and otherwise fulfill the role of treasurer; or an assistant secretary, who may perform all of the duties of the secretary. When nominee service is used, the primary officers are assuredly absent, empowering these secondary officers, who are never listed in the public records with the Secretary of State.

Finally, since only an annual list of officers needs to be filed, a corporation may change its officers and directors at any time through a proper resolution (a PROTECTED "internal" record of the corporation) without notifying the state to modify the public record.

This listing is, of course, by no means all-inclusive. We trust, however, that it provides the reader with a lot of serious "food for thought" as to possibilities for private control and ownership of Nevada corporations.

Please note that many of New Gaia's Products are not on this order form. Due to the continuing harassment of the FDA we are still unable to offer to you the products which were confiscated in July 2000. Please bear with us while we undergo the investigatory process that is so lately common with our Governmental System.

We would like you to know that New Gaia is still in business, delivering the finest quality nutritional supplemental products available to us, and able to process your nutritional supplement orders as efficiently as before.

We do regret having to have made an increase in our shipping fees. Please take note of the changes in the above rate chart. We cannot keep up with the increases from the USPS and UPS. We have sustained our standard fees for many, many years without an increase. This last jump (caused by inflated fuel fees) was too much for our budget. We hope this does not cause any inconvenience to you. We have done our best to keep costs to the consumer down to the bare bottom and we will continue to do the best we can.

Thank you for your continued support and patronage.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
