REC #1 HATONN

SUN., DEC. 9, 1990 8:25 A.M.
YEAR 4 DAY 115

Hatonn present in the Light of God; in service to you of my brothers. Good morning. What more could you ask for, Dharma? Seven hours of sleep—that should spoil you for the coming six months!

No news? I think that surely you jest, chela. What might you think is the connection between fuel tanks blowing up in Denver, Colorado at the airport and a petrochemical plant (new) blowing up in Tomsk, Russia? You just never can tell to what lengths your insane cartels will go, can you?

What about the murders of whole village populations in India? Where is your UN force? What about the increased resistance in Palestine—which is only inadvertently allowed to hit the newswire—and only then as publications making the Palestinians appear the aggressor and parties of blame? It is the “non-news” which you ones must begin to interpret more carefully.

Look at the little bracelet Lady Bush wears, which is now for sale through non-profit sources—backing her husband’s stance in “Desert Shield”. Not a single word regarding God and Nation—just power and force. Yes, you in America “... have come a long way, Baby!” Further, how is it that you can now have organized marches of great numbers in cities throughout your nation and thousands upon thousands of ones writing papers and congressmen AGAINST this Middle East fiasco—and yet, the polls as outlined on the establishment fixed media, show increasing support for war and Mr. Bush’s policies? They don’t even bother to trouble you with “where they run their polls”! I believe they must simply rerun them over and over in the World Zionist Organization. You think America is “Right”? Well, soon you will be “Dead Right”, as the old saying goes. So be it.

Only a brief reference to the Shuttle trip: It’s a “trip” alright—into your minds with manipulation. The collaborators of this whole facade are toying with you like nit-wits. After wasting billions of dollars on a system which was “taken out” before it hit orbit—they have now dinked you along with stupid stories of this malfunction and that malfunction and, finally, do you the dishonor of dumping a story on you of a clogged sewer system. My goodness, chelas, isn't it bad enough to waste billions of your precious dollars but to insult and actually ridicule your intelligence seems even "much" for these liars. So be it, I suppose I have naught else to say about it. How can you-the-people swallow this obvious falsity? They have played you like a broken-stringed banjo with no brains for over a week now. What recourse do you have? TAKE CONTROL OF YOURSELVES AS THE CITIZENS UNDER YOUR CONSTITUTION—WHILE YOU YET CAN!

Go on, scribe, and moan and groan now about today's work subject. I know that you revel in the subject of home (Pleiades) and spiritual balance and growth—but human of Earth must also come to grips with that which confronts him and, specifically in America, actions need to be taken—WEEK BEFORE LAST. We must finish outlaying the Constitution of the United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO). We can label it PART II, Continuation. Express material, please. Begin, please, with that which is labelled in their document, Article 2—and we will follow along. [QUOTING:]

PART II: UNIDO

ARTICLE 2

FUNCTIONS

In fulfillment of its foregoing objectives, the Organization shall generally take all necessary and appropriate action, and in particular shall:

(a) Encourage and extend, as appropriate, assistance to the developing countries in the promotion and acceleration of their industrialization, in particular in the development, expansion and modernization of their industries;

(b) In accordance with the Charter of the United Nations, initiate, coordinate and follow up the activities of the United Nations system with a view to enabling the Organization to play the central coordinating role in the field of industrial development; [H: Remember UNIDO is referred to as "Organization". This portion notes that the UN will control YOU.]

(c) Create new and develop existing concepts and approaches in respect of industrial development on global, regional and national, as well as on sectoral levels, and carry out studies and surveys with a view to formulating new lines of action directed towards harmonious and balanced industrial development, with due consideration for the methods employed by countries with different socio-economic systems for solving industrialization problems;

(d) Promote and encourage the development and use of planning techniques, and assist in the development of an integrated and interdisciplinary approach towards the accelerated industrialization of the developing countries; [H: This is "regional control over private businesses."]

(f) Provide a forum and act as an instrument to serve the developing countries and the industrialized countries in their contacts, consultations and, at the request of the countries concerned, negotiations diverted towards the industrialization of the developing countries;

(g) Assist the developing countries in the establishment and operation of industries, including agro-related as well as basic industries, to achieve the full utilization of locally available natural and human resources and the production of goods for domestic and export markets, as well as contribute to the self-reliance of these countries;

(h) Serve as a clearing-house for industrial information and accordingly collect and monitor on a selective basis, analyze and generate for the purpose of dissemination information on all aspects of industrial development on global, regional and national, as well as on sectoral levels including the exchange of experience and technological achievements of the industrially developed and the developing countries with different social and economic systems; [H: Again, dovetails with regional government.]

(i) Devote particular attention to the adoption of special measures aimed at assisting the least-developed, land-locked, and island developing countries, as well as those developing countries most seriously affected by economic crises and natural calamities, without losing sight of the interest of the other developing countries;

(j) Promote, encourage and assist in the development, selection, adaptation, transfer and use of industrial technology, with due regard for the socioeconomic conditions and the specific requirements of the industry concerned, with special reference to the transfer of technology from the industrialized to the developing countries as well as among the developing countries themselves;

(k) Organize and support industrial training programmes aimed at assisting the developing countries in the training of technical and other appropriate categories of personnel needed at various phases for their accelerated industrial development;

(l) Advise on and assist, in close co-operation with the appropriate bodies of the United Nations, specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency, the developing countries in the exploitation, conservation and local transformation of their natural resources for the purpose of furthering the industrialization of developing countries;

(m) Provide pilot and demonstration plans for acceleration industrialization in particular sectors;

(n) Develop special measures designed to promote co-operation in the industrial field among developing countries and between the developed and developing countries;

(o) Assist, in co-operation with other appropriate bodies, the regional planning of industrial development of the developing countries within the framework of regional and subregional groupings among those countries;

(p) Encourage and promote the establishment and strengthening of industrial, business and professional associations, and similar organizations which would contribute to the full utilization of the internal resources of the developing countries with a view to developing their national industries;

(q) Assist in the establishment and operation of institutional infrastructure for the provision of regulatory, advisory and developmental services to industry;

(r) Assist, at the request of Governments of the developing countries, in obtaining external financing for specific industrial projects on fair, equitable and mutually acceptable terms.

CHAPTER II—PARTICIPATION

ARTICLE 3

MEMBERS

Membership in the Organization is open to all States which associate themselves with the objectives and principles of the Organization. [H: Please recall, "States" means nations.]

(a) States members of the United Nations or of a specialized agency or of the International Atomic Energy Agency may become Members of the Organization by becoming parties to this Constitution in accordance with Article 24 and paragraph 2 of Article 25;

(b) States other than those referred to in subparagraph (a) may become members of the Organization by becoming parties to this Constitution in accordance with paragraph 3 of Article 24 and subparagraph 2(c) of Article 25, after their membership has been approved by the Conference, by a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting, upon the recommendation of the Board.

ARTICLE 4

OBSERVERS

1. Observer status in the Organization shall be open, upon request, to those enjoying such status in the General Assembly of the United Nations, unless the Conference decides otherwise.

2. Without prejudice to paragraph 1, the Conference has the authority to invite other observers to participate in the work of the Organization.

3. Observers shall be permitted to participate in the work of the Organization in accordance with the relevant rules of procedure and the provisions of this Constitution.

ARTICLE 5

SUSPENSION

1. Any Member of the Organization that is suspended from the exercise of the rights and privileges of membership of the United Nations shall automatically be suspended from the exercise of the rights and privileges of membership of the Organization.

2. Any Member that is in arrears in the payment of its financial contributions to the Organization shall have no vote in the Organization if the amount of its arrears equals or exceeds the amount of the assessed contributions due from it for the preceding two fiscal years. Any organ may, nevertheless, permit such a Member to vote in that organ if it is satisfied that the failure to pay is due to conditions beyond the control of the Member.

WITHDRAWAL

1. A Member may withdraw from the Organization by depositing an instrument of denunciation of this Constitution with the Depository. [H: Hold it—this is not true—Universal mandatory enlistments are planned!]

2. Such withdrawal shall take effect on the last day of the fiscal year following that during which such instrument was deposited.

3. The contributions to be paid by the withdrawing Member for the fiscal year following that during which such instrument was deposited shall be the same as the assessed contributions for the fiscal year during which such deposit was effected. The withdrawing Member shall in addition fulfil any unconditional pledges it made prior to such deposit.

CHAPTER III—ORGANS

ARTICLE 7

PRINCIPAL AND SUBSIDIARY ORGANS

[H: Provides 3 branches.]

1. The principal organs of the Organization shall be:

- (a) The General Conference (referred to as the “Conference”;
- (b) The Industrial Development Board (referred to as the “Board”);
- (c) The Secretariat.

2. There shall be established a Programme and Budget Committee to assist the Board in the preparation and examination of the programme of work, the regular budget and the operational budget of the Organization and other financial matters pertaining to the Organization. [H: Uses P.P.B.S. “Program, Planning, and Budgeting System”—a mandatory control system under the Conference.]

3. Other subsidiary organs, including technical committees, may be established by the Conference or the Board, which shall give due regard to the principle of equitable geographical representation.

ARTICLE 8

GENERAL CONFERENCE

[H: The Developmental Arm of the New World Order.]

1. The Conference shall consist of representatives of all Members.

2. (a) The Conference shall hold a regular session every two years, unless it decides otherwise. Special sessions shall be convened by the Director General at the request of the Board or of a majority of all Members.

(b) Regular sessions shall be held at the seat of the Organization, unless otherwise determined by the Conference. The Board shall determine the place where a special session is to be held.

3. In addition to exercising other functions specified in this Constitution, the Conference shall:

(a) Determine the guiding principles and the policies of the Organization; [H: Part of P.P.B.S. functions and control.]

(b) Consider reports of the Board, of the Director-General and of the subsidiary organs of the Conference;

(c) Approve the programme of work, the regular budget and the operational budget of the Organization in accordance with Article 14, establish the scale of assessments in accordance with Article 15, approve the financial regulations of the Organization and supervise the effective utilization of the financial resources of the Organization;

(d) Have the authority to adopt, by a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting, conventions or agreements with respect to any matter within the competence of the Organization and to make recommendations to the Members concerning such conventions or agreements;

(e) Make recommendations to Members and to international organizations with respect to matters within the competence of the Organization;

(f) Take any other appropriate action to enable the Organization to further its objectives and carry out its functions.

4. The Conference may delegate to the Board such of its powers and functions as it may consider desirable, except for those provided for in: Article 3, subparagraph (b); Article 4; Article 8, subparagraphs 3(a), (b), (c) and (d); Article 9, paragraph 1; Article 10, paragraph 1; Article 11, paragraph 2; Article 14, paragraphs 4 and 6; Article 15; Article 18; Article 23, subparagraphs 2(b) and 3(b); and Annex I.

5. The Conference shall adopt its own rules of procedure.

6. Each Member shall have one vote in the Conference. Decisions shall be made by a majority of the Members present and voting unless otherwise specified in this Constitution or in the rules of procedure of the Conference.

ARTICLE 9

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BOARD

[H: The Enforcement Arm for the New World Order.]

1. The Board shall consist of 53 Members of the Organization elected by the Conference, which shall give due regard to the principle of equitable geographical distribution. In electing the members of the Board the Conference shall observe the following distribution of seats: 33 members of the Board shall be elected from the States. (States refers to “nations”) listed in Parts A and C, 15 from the States listed in Part B, and 5 from the States listed in Part D of Annex I to this Constitution.

2. Members of the Board shall hold office from the close of the regular session of the Conference at which they were elected until the close of the regular session of the Conference four years thereafter, except that the members elected at the first session shall hold office from the time of such election and one half shall hold office only until the close of the regular session two years thereafter. Members of the Board may be re-elected.

3. (a) The Board shall hold at least one regular session each year at such times as it may determine. Special sessions shall be convened by the Director-General at the request of a majority of all members of the Board.

(b) Sessions shall be held at the seat of the Organization, unless otherwise determined by the Board.

4. In addition to exercising other functions specified in this Constitution or delegated to it by the Conference, the Board shall:

(a) Acting under the authority of the Conference, review the implementation of the approved programme of work and of the corresponding regular budget and operational budget, as well as of other decisions of the Conference;

(b) Recommend to the Conference a scale of assessments for regular budget expenditures;

(c) Report to the Conference at each regular session on the activities of the Board;

(d) Request Members to furnish information on their activities related to the work of the Organization;

(e) In accordance with the decisions of the Conference and having regard to circumstances arising between sessions of the Board or the Conference, authorize the Director-General to take such measures as the Board deems necessary to meet unforeseen events with due regard to the functions and financial resources of the Organization;

(f) If the office of Director-General becomes vacant between sessions of the Conference, appoint an Acting Director-General to serve until the next regular or special session of the Conference;

(g) Prepare the provisional agenda for the Conference;

(h) Undertake such other functions as may be required to further the objectives of the Organization subject to the limitations stipulated in this Constitution.

5. The Board shall adopt its own rules of procedure.

6. Each member of the Board shall have one vote. Decisions shall be made by a majority of the members present and voting unless otherwise specified in this Constitution or in the rules of procedure of the Board.

7. The Board shall invite any Member not represented on the Board to participate without vote in its deliberations on any matter of particular concern to that Member.

ARTICLE 10

PROGRAMME AND BUDGET COMMITTEE

[H: Balancers of the funds used for World Government conversion.]

1. The Programme and Budget Committee shall consist of 27 Members of the Organization elected by the Conference, which shall give due regard to the principle of equitable geographical distribution. In the following distribution of seats: 15 members of the Committee shall be elected from the States listed in Parts A and C, 9 from the States listed in Part B, and 3 from the States listed in Part D of Annex I to this Constitution. In designating their representatives to serve on the Committee, States shall take into account their personal qualifications and experience.

2. Members of the Committee shall hold office from the close of the regular session of the Conference at which they were elected until the close of the regular session of the Conference two years thereafter. Members of the Committee may be re-elected.

3. (a) The Committee shall hold at least one session each year. Additional sessions shall be convened by the Director-General at the request of the Board or the Committee.

(b) Sessions shall be held at the seat of the Organization, unless otherwise determined by the Board.

4. The Committee shall:

(a) Perform the functions assigned to it in Article 14;

(b) Prepare the draft scale of assessments for regular budget expenditures for submission to the Board;

(c) Exercise such other functions with respect to financial matters as may be assigned to it by the Conference or the Board.

(d) Report to the Board at each regular session on all activities of the Committee and submit advice or proposals on financial matters to the Board of its own initiative.

5. The Committee shall adopt its own rules of procedure.

6. Each member of the Committee shall have one vote. Decisions shall be made by a two-thirds majority of the members present and voting.

[H: Dharma, start a new document, please.]

CHAPTER 16

REC #2 HATONN

SUN., DEC. 9, 1990 11:00 A.M. YEAR 4 DAY 115

SECRETARIAT

[H: The chief of the Administrative Arm of the New World Order.]

1. The Secretariat shall comprise a Director-General, as well as such Deputy Directors-General and other staff as the Organization may require.

2. The Director-General shall be appointed by the Conference upon recommendation of the Board for a period of four years. He may be reappointed for a further term of four years, after which he shall not be eligible for reappointment.

3. The Director-General shall be the chief administrative officer of the Organization. Subject to general or specific directives of the Conference or the Board, the Director-General shall have the over-all responsibility and authority to direct the work of the Organization. Under the authority of and subject to the control of the Board, the Director-General shall be responsible for the appointment, organization and functioning of the staff.

4. In the performance of their duties, the Director-General and the staff shall not seek or receive instructions from any government or from any authority external to the Organization. They shall refrain from any action that might reflect on their position as international officials responsible only to the Organization. Each Member undertakes to respect the exclusively international character of the responsibilities of the Director-General and the staff and not to seek to influence them in the discharge of their responsibilities.

[H: NOTE: REQUIRED "LOYALTY" TO WORLD GOVERNMENT (SEE OATH REQUIRED), BUT LOYALTY TO U.S. CONSTITUTION NO LONGER POSSIBLE. THIS IS MOST IMPORTANT, CHELAS.]

5. The staff shall be appointed by the Director-General under regulations to be established by the Conference upon recommendation of the Board. Appointments at the level of Deputy Director-General shall be subject to approval by the Board. The conditions of service of staff shall conform as far as possible to those of the United Nations common system. The paramount consideration in the employment of the staff and in determining the conditions of service shall be the necessity of securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence and integrity. Due regard shall be paid to the importance of recruiting staff on a wide and equitable geographical basis.

6. The Director-General shall act in that capacity at all meetings of the Conference, of the Board and of the Programme and Budget Committee, and shall perform such other functions as are entrusted to him by these organs. He shall prepare an annual report on the activities of the Organization. In addition, he shall submit to the Conference or to the Board, as appropriate, such other reports as may be required.

CHAPTER IV—PROGRAMME OF WORK AND FINANCIAL MATTERS

ARTICLE 12

EXPENSES OF DELEGATIONS

Each Member and observer shall bear the expenses of its own delegation to the Conference, to the board or to any other organ in which it may participate.

ARTICLE 13

COMPOSITION OF BUDGETS

1. The activities of the Organization shall be carried out in accordance with its approved programme of work and budgets.

2. The expenditures of the Organization shall be divided into the following categories:

(a) Expenditures to be met from assessed contributions (referred to as the "regular budget"); and

(b) Expenditures to be met from voluntary contributions to the Organization, and such other income as may be provided for in the financial regulations (referred to as the "operational budget").

3. The regular budget shall provide for expenditures for administration, research, other regular expenses of the Organization and for other activities, as provided for in Annex II.

4. The operational budget shall provide for expenditures for technical assistance and other related activities.

ARTICLE 14

PROGRAMME AND BUDGETS

1. The Director-General shall prepare and submit to the Board through the Programme and Budget Committee, at a time specified in the financial regulations, a draft programme of work for the following fiscal period, together with the corresponding estimates for those activities to be financed from the regular budget. The Director-General shall, at the same time, submit proposals and financial estimates for those activities to be financed from voluntary contributions to the Organization.

2. The Programme and Budget Committee shall consider the proposals of the Director-General and submit to the Board its recommendations on the proposed programme of work and corresponding estimates for the regular budget and operational budget. Such recommendations of the Committee shall require a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting.

3. The Board shall examine the proposals of the Director-General together with any recommendations of the Programme and Budget Committee and adopt the programme of work, the regular budget and the operational budget, with such modifications as it deems necessary, for submission to the Conference for consideration and approval.

Such adoption shall require a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting.

4. (a) The Conference shall consider and approve the programme of work and the corresponding regular budget and operational budget submitted to it by the Board, by a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting.

(b) The Conference may make amendments in the programme of work and the corresponding regular budget and operational budget, in accordance with paragraph 6.

5. When required, supplementary or revised estimates for the regular budget or operational budget shall be prepared and approved in accordance with paragraphs 1 to 4 above and the financial regulations.

6. No resolution, decision, or amendment involving expenditure, which has not already been considered in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3, shall be approved by the Conference unless it is accompanied by an estimate of expenditures prepared by the Director-General. No resolution, decision or amendment in respect of which expenditures are anticipated by the Director-General shall be approved by the Conference until the Programme and Budget Committee and subsequently the Board, meeting concurrently with the Conference, have had an opportunity to act in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3. The Board shall submit its decisions to the Conference. The approval by the Conference of such resolutions, decisions and amendments shall require a two-thirds majority of all Members.

ARTICLE 15

ASSESSED CONTRIBUTIONS

1. Regular budget expenditures shall be borne by the Members, as apportioned in accordance with a scale of assessment established by the Conference by a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting, upon the recommendation of the Board adopted by a two-thirds majority of the members present and voting, on the basis of a draft prepared by the Programme and Budget Committee.

[H: NOTE: THE COST SHALL BE VERY HIGH AS YOU ARE FORCED TO SURRENDER YOUR SOVEREIGNTY AND YOUR FIREARMS.]

2. The scale of assessments shall be based to the extent possible on the scale most recently employed by the United Nations. No Member shall be assessed more than twenty-five percent of the regular budget of the Organization.

ARTICLE 16

VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE ORGANIZATION

Subject to the financial regulations of the Organization, the Director-General, on behalf of the Organization, may accept voluntary contributions to the Organization, including gifts, bequests and subventions, made to the Organization by governments, intergovernmental or non-governmental organizations or other non-governmental sources, provided that the conditions attached to such voluntary contributions are consistent with the objectives and policies of the Organization.

ARTICLE 17

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

In order to increase the resources of the Organization and to enhance its ability to meet promptly and flexibly the needs of the developing countries, the Organization shall have an Industrial Development Fund which shall be financed through the voluntary contributions [H: This will simply strengthen the system for "world conquering".] to the Organization provided for in Article 16, and other income as may be provided for in the financial regulations of the Organization. The Director-General shall administer the Industrial Development Fund in accordance with the general policy guidelines governing the operations of the Fund that are established by the Conference, or by the Board acting on behalf of the Conference, and in accordance with the financial regulations of the Organization.

CHAPTER V—CO-OPERATION AND CO-ORDINATION

ARTICLE 18

RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED NATIONS

The Organization shall be brought into relationship with the United Nations as one of the specialized agencies referred to in Article 57 of the Charter of the United Nations. Any agreement concluded in accordance with Article 63 of the Charter shall require the approval of the Conference, by a two-thirds majority of the Members present and voting, upon the recommendation of the Board.

ARTICLE 19

RELATIONS WITH OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

[H: NOTE!: NOW ENDOWED WITH THE "RIGHT" TO OVERTHROW U.S. GOVERNMENT!]

1. The Director-General may, with the approval of the Board and subject to guidelines established by the Conference:

(a) Enter into agreements establishing appropriate relationships with other organizations of the United Nations system and with other intergovernmental and governmental organizations. [H: Direct alteration of the U.S.A.]

(b) Establish appropriate relations with non-governmental and other organizations the work of which is related to that of the Organization. When establishing such relations with national organizations the Director-General shall consult with the governments concerned.

2. Subject to such agreements and relations, the Director-General may establish working arrangements with such organizations.

CHAPTER VI—LEGAL MATTERS

SEAT

1. The seat of the Organization shall be Vienna. The Conference may change the seat by a two-thirds majority of all Members.

2. The Organization shall conclude a headquarters agreement with the Host Government.

ARTICLE 21

LEGAL CAPACITY, PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES

1. The Organization shall enjoy in the territory of each of its Members such legal capacity and such privileges and immunities as are necessary for the exercise of its functions and for the fulfillment of its objectives. Representatives of Members and officials of the Organization shall enjoy such privileges and immunities as are necessary for the independent exercise of their functions in connections with the Organization.

2. The legal capacity, privileges and immunities referred to in paragraph 1 shall:

(a) In the territory of any Member that has acceded to the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies in respect of the Organization, be as defined in the standard clauses of that Convention as modified by an annex thereto approved by the Board;

(b) In the territory of any Member that has not acceded to the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the Specialized Agencies in respect of the Organization but has acceded to the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, be as defined in the latter Convention, unless such State notifies the Depositary on depositing its instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession that it will not apply this Convention to the Organization; the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations shall cease to apply to the Organization thirty days after such State has so notified the Depositary; [H: In about 1980 the U.S.A acceded to the Specialized Agencies Convention, had done U.N. Convention on Privileges and Immunities in 1946, therefore, both have been done.]

(c) Be as defined in other agreements entered into by the Organization.

ARTICLE 22

SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES AND REQUESTS FOR ADVISORY OPINIONS

1. (a) Any dispute among two or more members concerning the interpretation or application of this Constitution, including its annexes, that is not settled by negotiation shall be referred to the Board unless the parties concerned agree on another mode of settlement. If the dispute is of particular concern to a member not represented on the board, that Member shall be entitled to be represented in accordance with rules to be adopted by the Board.

(b) If the dispute is not settled pursuant to paragraph 1(a) to the satisfaction of any party to the dispute, that party may refer the matter: either, (i) if the parties so agree:

(A) to the International Court of Justice; or [H: NOTE: WORLD COURT IS COMPOSED OF COMMUNISTS AND OTHER SOCIETAL DIFFERENCES. YOUR FATE IN AMERICA, FOR INSTANCE, WILL BE WHOLLY DECIDED BY THIS GROUP.]

(B) to an arbitral tribunal; or, (ii) otherwise, to a conciliation commission.

The rule concerning the procedures and operation of the arbitral tribunal and of the conciliation commission are laid down in Annex III to this Constitution.

2. The Conference and the Board are separately empowered, subject to authorization for the General Assembly of the United Nations, to request the International Court of Justice to give an advisory opinion on any legal question arising within the scope of the Organization activities.

ARTICLE 23

AMENDMENTS

[H: NOTE: THIS IS A "BLANK CHECK" TO THOSE WHO ARE OVERTHROWING CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT!]

1. At any time after the second regular session of the Conference any Member may propose amendments to this Constitution. Texts of proposed amendments shall be promptly communicated by the Director-General to all Members and shall not be considered by the Conference until ninety days after the dispatch of such communication.

2. Except as specified in paragraph 3, an amendment shall come into force and be binding on all Members when:

(a) It is recommended by the Board to the Conference;

(b) It is approved by the Conference by a two-thirds majority of all Members; and

(c) Two-thirds of the Members have deposited instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval of the amendment with the Depositary.

3. An amendment relating to Article 6, 9, 10, 13, 14, or 23 or to Annex II shall come into force and be binding on all Members when:

(a) It is recommended by the Board to the Conference by a two-thirds majority of all members of the Board;

(b) It is approved by the Conference by a two-thirds majority of all Members; and

(c) Three-fourths of the Members have deposited instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval of the amendment with the Depositary.

ARTICLE 24

SIGNATURE, RATIFICATION, ACCEPTANCE, APPROVAL AND ACCESSION

1. This Constitution shall be open for signature by all States specified in subparagraph (a) of Article 3, until 7 October 1979 at the Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Austria and subsequently at United Nations Headquarters in New York until the date this Constitution enters into force.

2. This Constitution shall be subject to ratification, acceptance or approval by signatory States. Instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval of such States shall be deposited with the Depositary.

[H: NOTE, CHELAS, THIS HAS ALL BEEN DONE!!]

3. After the entry into force of this Constitution in accordance with paragraph 1 of Article 25, States specified in subparagraph (a) of Article 3 that have not signed this Constitution, as well as States approved for membership pursuant to subparagraph (b) of that Article, may accede to this Constitution by depositing instruments of accession.

ARTICLE 25

ENTRY INTO FORCE

1. This Constitution shall enter into force when at least eighty States that had deposited instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval notify the Depositary that they have agreed, after consultations among themselves, that this Constitution shall enter into force.

[H: THIS, TOO, IS ALREADY DONE!]

2. This Constitution shall enter into force:

(a) For States that participated in the notification referred to in paragraph 1, on the date of the entry into force of this Constitution;

(b) For States that had deposited instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval before the entry into force of this Constitution but did not participate in the notification referred to in paragraph 1, on such later date on which they notify the Depositary that this Constitution shall enter into force for them;

(c) For States that deposit instruments of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession subsequent to the entry into force of this Constitution on the date of such deposit.

ARTICLE 26

TRANSITIONAL ARRANGEMENTS

1. The Depositary shall convene the first session of the Conference, to be held within three months following the entry into force of this Constitution.

2. The rules and regulations governing the organization established by the United Nations General Assembly resolution 2152 (XXI) shall govern the Organization and its organs until such time as the latter may adopt new provisions.

[H: THIS CONSTITUTION IS UNDER THE INFLUENCE AND CONTROL OF COMMUNIST DOMINATION.]

ARTICLE 27

RESERVATIONS

No reservations may be made in respect of this Constitution.

[H: NOTE THE UN'S "STATES" ARE CLAIMED TO BE ALL THE COUNTRIES OF THE WORLD—THUS, A FEDERATED "NEW WORLD ORDER".]

1. The Secretary-General of the United Nations shall be the Depositary of this Constitution.

2. In addition to notifying the States concerned, the Depositary shall notify the Director-General of all matters affecting this Constitution.

ARTICLE 29

AUTHENTIC TEXTS

This Constitution shall be authentic in Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish.

ANNEX I

LISTS OF STATES

1. If a State that is not listed in any of the lists below becomes a Member, the Conference shall decide, after appropriate consultations, in which of those lists it is to be included.

2. The Conference may at any time, after appropriate consultations, change the classification of a Member as listed below.

3. Changes in the lists below that are made in accordance with paragraph 1 or 2 shall not be considered amendments within the meaning of Article 23.

LISTS

[H: ALREADY DONE]

[The lists of States to be included by the Depositary in this Annex are the lists determined by the General Assembly of the United Nations for the purpose of paragraph 4 of section II of its resolution 2152 (XXI), as in effect on the date this Constitution enters into force.]

ANNEX II

THE REGULAR BUDGET

A. 1. Administration, research and other regular expenses of the Organization shall be deemed to include:

(a) Interregional and regional advisers;

(b) Short-term advisory services provided by the staff of the Organization;

(c) Meetings, including technical meetings, provided for in the programme of work financed from the regular budget of the Organization;

(d) Programme support costs arising from technical assistance projects, to the extent that these costs are not reimbursed to the Organization by the source of financing of such projects.

2. Concrete proposals conforming to the above provisions shall be implemented after consideration by the Programme and Budget Committee, adoption by the Board and approval by the Conference, in accordance with Article 14.

B. In order to improve the effectiveness of the Organization's programme of work in the field of industrial development, the regular budget shall also finance other activities heretofore financed out of Section 15 of the United Nations Regular Budget, in the amount of 6 percent of the total of the regular budget. These activities shall strengthen the Organization's contribution to the United Nations development system taking into account the importance of utilizing the United Nations Development Programme country programming process, which is subject to the consent of the countries concerned, as a frame of reference for these activities.

ANNEX III

RULES CONCERNING ARBITRAL TRIBUNALS AND CONCILIATION COMMISSIONS

Unless otherwise agreed by all the Members parties to a dispute that has not been settled pursuant to paragraph 1(a) of Article 22 and that has been referred to an arbitral tribunal pursuant to subparagraph 1(b)(i)(B) of Article 22 or to a conciliation commission pursuant to subparagraph 1(b)(ii), the following rules shall govern the procedures and operation of such tribunals and commissions:

1. Initiation

Within three months of the conclusion by the Board of its consideration of a dispute referred to it pursuant to paragraph 1(a) of Article 22 or, if it does not conclude its consideration within eighteen months of such referral, then within twenty-one months of such referral, all the parties to the dispute may notify the Director-General that they wish to refer the dispute to an arbitral tribunal or any such party may notify the Director-General that it wishes to refer the dispute to a conciliation commission. If the parties had agreed on another mode of settlement, then such notification may be made within three months of the conclusion of that special procedure.

2. Establishment

(a) The parties to the dispute shall, by their unanimous decision, appoint, as appropriate, three arbitrators or three conciliators, and shall designate one of these as President of the tribunal or commission.

(b) If within three months of the notification referred to in paragraph 1 above one or more members of the tribunal or commission have not been so appointed, the Secretary-General of the United Nations shall, at the request of any party, within three months of such request designate any members, including the President, then still be required to be appointed.

(c) If a vacancy arises on the tribunal or commission, it shall be filled within one month in accordance with paragraph (a) or thereafter in accordance with paragraph (b).

3. Procedures and Operation

(a) The tribunal or commission shall determine its own rules of procedure. All decisions on any question of procedure or substance may be reached by a majority of the members.

(b) The members of the tribunal or commission shall receive remuneration as provided in the financial regulations of the Organization. The Director-General shall provide any necessary secretariat in consultation with the President of the tribunal or commission. All expenses of the tribunal or commission and its members, but not of the parties to the dispute, shall be borne by the Organization.

4. Awards and Reports

(a) The arbitral tribunal shall conclude its proceedings by an award, which shall be binding on all the parties.

(b) The conciliation commission shall conclude its proceedings by a report addressed to all the parties to the dispute, which shall contain recommendations to which these parties shall give serious consideration.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE FOREGOING TEXT IS A TRUE COPY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT ORGANIZATION, ADOPTED AT VIENNA ON 8 APRIL 1979, THE ORIGINAL OF WHICH IS DEPOSITED WITH THE SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

SATAN'S DRUMMERS

THE SECRET BEAT OF EVIL—
"SATAN IS ALIVE AND WELL"

PHOENIX JOURNAL #9 (1989)

CHAPTER 5

REC. #1 SANANDA

SUN., OCT. 29, 1989 9:11 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 074

Sananda present that we might continue in our narrative regarding the dark side of existence. I would say at onset, that it is most unfortunate that man can go even beyond that which is acceptable unto Lucifer in heinous activity. It goes well beyond "good" or "bad"; evil can reach into those activities which even pull Lucifer into rebellion, and has done so. You will find, if you could but see into these invisible dimensions, that there are millions of humans acting in such vile manner that they are not desired by the dark brotherhood, either. Just as things are done "IN THE NAME OF CHRIST", likewise, things are done "IN THE NAME OF SATAN" which go beyond that which is relative or acceptable to Satan. The "balance" is so far shifted that the evil which feeds upon itself moves beyond definition. FOR THIS REASON WE ARE WRITING THIS JOURNAL. THIS HORRENDOUS TREND SHALL REACH INTO AND WITHIN ALL BEINGNESS AND BLIGHT THE SENSES OF MAN. FURTHER, IT IS SO INSIDIOUS THAT IT WILL GAIN SUCH MOMENTUM WHILE PROTECTED UNDER YOUR OWN CONSTITUTION THAT MAN IN MASS WILL BE STAGGERED BY SATANIC PRESENCE.

Man can somehow handle, emotionally, an enemy that sets forth to steal, oppress or even kill—man cannot emotionally comprehend vileness which strikes for no reason and without warning. Further, man in general will refuse to look at it until it is too late. The churches who preach "Christianity" will require members to refuse to even look at, or read, anything pertaining to Satan or evil—and while ones are so hiding their faces, it shall overcome the masses. IGNORANCE CAN NEVER HEAL NOR CURE; ONLY THROUGH TRUTHFUL KNOWLEDGE OF YOUR ENEMY CAN YOU HOPE TO RISE ABOVE THE PROBLEM AND

INTO THE CURE. IT FURTHER SHOWS HOW LITTLE FAITH THE "CHURCH CLUBS" HAVE IN THE GOD AND CHRIST ENERGIES THEY PROCLAIM TO FOLLOW. IF THERE WAS BELIEF IN TRUTH, THEN ALL WOULD STAND STRONG AGAINST SUCH ACTIONS INSTEAD OF HIDING FACES WHILE YOUR CHILDREN ARE DESTROYED AND MURDERED. YOU HAVE FURTHER BECOME IN FEAR OF YOUR OWN BABIES AND RIGHTFULLY SO, FOR YOU ALLOW OF THEM TO CONTROL YOU INSTEAD OF BEING THE EXAMPLE THAT WOULD GIVE YOU BOTH STRENGTH AND FREEDOM.

IT WILL NOT GET BETTER UNTIL 'YOU' DO SOMETHING POSITIVE TO CHANGE OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES. WE SEE NO PROBABILITY OF THAT ACTION MANIFESTING.

IT ONLY HAPPENS TO SOMEBODY ELSE

LET THERE BY NO MISTAKING MY WORDS—THE CHRIST SANCTIONS NO BLOOD SACRIFICES—NONE! NOT EVEN THE KILLING OF THE RODENTS IN SACRIFICE UNTO THE LIGHTED GOD OF 'LIFE' IS ACCEPTABLE. HE WANTS NOT YOUR MURDERED 'VICTIMS' DONE IN HIS NAME; IT BRINGS PAIN TO SEE HIS CHILDREN DO SUCH HEINOUS ACTS AND THEN PRONOUNCE IT TO BE IN 'HIS' NAME. YE CANNOT CLEANSE YOURSELVES BY THE BLOOD OF ANY OTHER, NOT EVEN THINE OWN. NOT A CHRIST, NOT A LAMB, NOT A GOAT NOR A PIG. YE DEFILE ALL THAT IS WONDROUS AND BEAUTEOUS BY THE KILLING AND BLOODLETTING OF ANY OF GOD'S CREATURES—EVEN UNTO THE SLAUGHTERING OF PLANTS AND TREES GIVEN FORTH TO GIVE UNTO YOU, LIFE.

YE PRODUCE THE SAME IDEA UNTO YOUR CHILDREN BY DRINKING OF THE VINE AND PRONOUNCING IT AS THE BLOOD OF CHRIST. I SICKEN AT SUCH—COULD YOU NOT COME INTO THE LOVE AND TRUTH OF THE CHRIST TEACHINGS AND THE LAWS OF GOD AND CREATION? NAY, YE KNEEL AND "DRINK OF CHRIST'S BLOOD" AND "EAT OF CHRIST'S FLESH". CAN YE NOT LIVE IN MEMORY AND FOLLOWING OF CHRIST'S WAY INSTEAD OF THE MUTILATION OF HIS REPRESENTATIVE PHYSICAL BODY?

You sit in your lovely hovels and pronounce that voodoo and Pagan rituals have moved into your nests. You have brought them within. You have allowed yourselves the titillation of the obscene and vulgar and called it "adult" entertainment. Then the adult entertainment gets boring and so commonplace that you cast the vulgar to your children and you progress to the pornographic. While you piddle into your "important" life progress and success in a worldly manner, your children turn to their peers and the latest "rock" groups and finally, while you are not in notice, on to "heavy metal" and Satan worship where evil is openly touted and sanctioned. The children can see the lie of that which you do under the guise of "Christian". They have a tendency to turn unto what they perceive as truth of the matter. IF YOU BELIEVE ME NOT, ASK YOUR CHILDREN!

HOW DID IT HAPPEN IN AMERICA?

You should have heard the alarm ringing in your 1960s, when the drug use moved into epidemic dimension. The practices began mostly in your Western area and rapidly moved Eastward. You expected the police departments to maintain order instead of keeping your own responsibilities—further, now some three decades later, you are the parents and what of your children? If you take a "hit" of drugs or a "bit" of booze, who is fooling who? You doom your children to a far worse fate than you encountered—for drugs of today are instantly addicting and if enjoyed long enough, become a part of the Satanic worship scene. It was planned that way and it is working to perfection.

You think you are shockproof? If the things I relay to you in this Journal do not shock you, then may God, please, have mercy upon your soul. And, yes, I am going to paint some most vivid pictures OF TRUTH! I HOPE THEY MAKE YOU SICK ENOUGH TO VOMIT, FOR IF YOU DO NOT WAKE UP AND ATTEND THIS PROBLEM, YOU WILL LOSE A GENERATION OF CHILDREN, EITHER TO THE DISEASE ITSELF OR VICTIMS IN MURDER AT THE HANDS OF THESE EVIL ONES—OR BOTH!

I am going to relay things which my scanners show are already known about your place and can be documented in your Earth manner. I will begin in California—for that is where the early epidemic began.

Let me relate to you what was said by the leaders of your police department in a major California city and became record in documentation.

Witchcraft was becoming an increasingly recalcitrant problem by the early 1970s. There was widespread evidence of animal mutilations being perpetrated in ritualistic manner as prescribed by the satanic guidebooks. Animals, mostly dogs, were being skinned and the blood drained from them. The blood is put into specially shaped cauldrons, mixed with what you refer to as LSD, and then used as a drink during rites, ceremonies—or, what you call, innocent little parties and groupie sessions.

The remains, if there are any, are then buried in some public place where they will be uncovered but without evidence to track back unto source. Half the "game" is to do these things, have them found out and "get away with it". One of the most dandy and delicious experiences is to skin the animals "alive"—NOW, ARE YOU READY, YOU

SHOCKLESS ONES? THE BIGGIE STARTING IN 1988 IS TO TAKE BABIES AND YOUNG CHILDREN AND SKIN THEM ALIVE!!

OH, YOU DON'T BELIEVE ME? YOU BETTER PUT ON YOUR BIFOCALS, MY DEAR CHILDREN—NOW—INSTANTLY!

And where could these cults begin? Up any canyon or rural area, in communes where ones would be accepted without question, given so-called "love" and "understanding", drugs and initiation into sexual "unity". Ultimately, blind devotion was poured forth on the leaders—LEADERS? YES, HOW ABOUT CHARLES MANSON, JIM JONES AND SO MANY OTHERS THAT YOU WOULD BE MENTALLY BOGGLED AT THE HORDES UNDER YOUR NOSES.

These youngsters would gather into groups and live in the most primitive way you can imagine—just short distances from the most affluent neighborhoods in the country—indulging in the most heinous acts of sexual deviation, pagan ceremonies, and rites which defy imagination. I use the term "pagan" ill-advisedly—for no pagan groups on our monitors would ever act in such manner unless openly Satanic in origin. The "true" "pagan" of the original Earth peoples lived in balance and harmony with God and Creation. Evil even took that beautiful legacy from them and destroyed it.

OH, THEN IT IS THE DRUG SCENE?

No, it is a part of it—only a part of it. Some of the procedures have little or no relationship to drug usage. You had things going on which were called things such as "Kiss-ins" right on your public beaches. Hundreds of people gather, the music is loud and mesmerizing and soon the masses are as one whole, in swaying motion, glassy-eyed and totally "transported" without any use of drugs. These things would occur in mid-day, at "concerts, anywhere and anytime". Some participants would openly thrust off their clothing and indulge in open sexual activities of all manners and hardly be noticed except to cause others to do likewise. These ones, friends, believe in the dark spirit world and will readily tell you the Devil is most real, indeed—to them. These were also YOUR CHILDREN, or YOU, YOURSELF—ANY MEMORIES BEING TRIGGERED?

Well, that was a long way back in the 1960s and things are different now, you will say. Yes, they most certainly are different—it is organized and fully operational—the satanic forces were only "hooking" you back then.

They defiled the true New Age truth of Light and goodness and corrupted the terms—just as "LOVE" as a term was corrupted into evil.

The leaders were, and are, usually high-ranking satanic leaders. They will usually go so far as to call themselves the Prince of Light returned, the Christ, and even "God"—('OM'). They not only proclaim openly, but fully believe what they teach, that worship is through sexual deviations—and they practice all of them. The perversions are so degrading that I shall not describe them herein—for my scribe is having a very difficult time with this material. She, too, is a mother of several and grandmother to nine. She, too, placed her head in the bucket of sand and prayed it would go away—it does not, blessed ones; evil only gets more vile and more intense in actions.

So, you go to your Christian, or other doctrined churches, who teach truth and goodness, and think you are safe. Evil invades these institutions with tempting ego fulfillment and monetary gain, etc., and eventually, if not recognized and halted, becomes the most evil, in fact. WHERE WOULD YOU STRIKE FIRST IF YOU WANTED TO CONTROL THE WORLD? IN THE PLACE WHERE PEOPLE FEEL THE MOST SECURE, OF COURSE—IN THE CONGREGATIONS AND GIFTING OF THE BAKKERS AND SWAGGARTS OF THE WORLD—RIGHT IN THE VATICAN AT THE FEET OF THE POPE OR IN YOGANANDA'S VINEYARDS—RIGHT UNDER YOUR NOSES AND IN FRONT OF YOUR EYES WHERE YOU LEAST EXPECT IT. THE LEADERS IN TRUTH ARE FINALLY SWAYED AND TOPPLED, THE PARISHONERS DISILLUSIONED AND OPEN FOR THE ATTACK, FOR THEY HAVE BEEN BETRAYED. IT IS THE FASTEST WAY TO GET MANKIND TO TURN FROM GOD AND TRUTH—FOR MAN FUNCTIONS IN MASS GROUPS.

Well, you might say, "Sananda, you speak of things in the 60s and 70s, it couldn't happen now." Oh, what about fifteen murdered people in Matamoras, Mexico across from Texas in April of 1989? One man who participated in the murders actually carried a victim's ear in his pocket for "good luck". In 1972 a man was apprehended in L.A. who carried human knuckles in his pocket. He later casually announced he could not be touched because he acted only in a religious manner—and religions are protected by the U.S. Constitution. He openly pronounced that his group (church) regularly killed people and he, himself, had not only sacrificed a male (chosen at random off the street) but had eaten his heart. He was then "invincible to all attackers, even the police".

EXPLAIN HOW THIS COULD COME TO BE

You are in the time of the reign of evil, just as prophesied. It is a frenzied time for mankind and he "hungers" for truth; he is starving for fulfillment. He is desperately searching and longing for balance. Many of these spiritually hungry have gone to churches and haven't found the answer to that hunger, for they simply find more organized clubs pursuing power and taking of their money for all manner of worldly building and "causes". They are stressed and their lives are falling apart—for they have broken all the laws of God and Creation and have found no peace. The churches have rewritten the rules to allow for perversion of sexual behaviors right into the marriage beds and sanctioned aggressive greed, "if for the 'right' cause".

In the continued searching and alienation of self-peace, these suffering ones who hunger for love and compassionate comradery, turn away from the traditional and into the "other" groups in hopeful expectation of acceptance and enfolding love. So, someone comes along and offers them that feeling of belonging and a sense of being loved and they fall for it. Of course, there are other reasons, but longing for acceptance, approval, and a place in the world is what is most important as a portion of the insane and unreasoned direction many are taking into the supernatural.

Then comes along the ones who proclaim knowledge of truth and disallow all "spirits" as evil, all Cosmic beings as evil. At the same time, these same ones get in the pulpits and claim Christ and Jesus, God and Angels speak to them in goodness. BROTHERS, YOU CANNOT HAVE ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER—WILL YOU NEVER COME INTO UNDERSTANDING? IF YOU HAVE EVIL—YOU MUST HAVE "GOOD" AND THE REVERSE. IT IS YOUR CHOICE OF SELECTION WHICH IS AT STAKE—NOT EXISTENCE OF THESE BEINGS AND ENERGIES—BUT RATHER, WHO DO YOU ATTEND? THE POINT IS TO TURN FROM EVIL INTO TRUTH, GOD-NESS AND LIGHT—NOT TO IGNORE EVIL AND HOPE IT WILL SOMEHOW GO AWAY; FOR IT WILL NOT—IT WILL GROW LIKE THE CANCER IT IS AND BLIGHT THE ENTIRE OF THE PLANET.

OH, YES, THE LEADERS WILL TELL THE GOOD CHURCH PEOPLE THAT THIS VERY JOURNAL IS OF DARKNESS AND TO CAST IT ASIDE AND BURN THE AUTHOR IF YOU CAN FIND HIM. WELL, YOU CRUCIFIED ME ONCE, SHALL WE GO FOR IT AGAIN? HOW CAN YOU HEAL A SICKENED WORLD IF YOU DO NOT DIAGNOSE THE ILLNESS? TO DIAGNOSE THE ILLNESS, YOU MUST LOOK VERY, VERY CLOSELY AT THE CAUSE! YOU PUT ON ALL THE PROTECTIVE GEAR NECESSARY; YOU CALL THE SHIELD OF GOD AND THE CHRIST ENERGY ABOUT YOU AND YOU LOOK CLOSELY AND MOST CAREFULLY AT THE DISEASE—THEN, AND ONLY THEN, CAN YOU EVEN HOPE TO FIND A CURE. SO BE IT.

LET'S QUOTE A BIT

I will utilize some local information and quote from a book by one, Hal Lindsey: SATAN IS ALIVE AND WELL ON PLANET EARTH. This will give Dharma a bit of a chance to settle—for it is most difficult to pen this type of information with no backup.

"THE SATANIC AGE"

"Are we in a new age of Satan? Many people would be revolted by the so-called churches which openly worship Satan. The most widely publicized establishment of this kind is the First Church of Satan in San Francisco, headed by Anton LaVey, the High Priest.

"The bald, narrow-eyed LaVey was quoted as saying, 'The Satanic Age started in 1966'. That's when God was proclaimed dead, the Sexual Freedom League came into prominence, and the hippies developed as a free-sex culture'. (Mr. Lindsey was quoting from Arthur Lyons' THE SECOND COMING: SATANISM IN AMERICA: New York; Dodd, Mead & Co., 1970.)

"Satanic cults are expanding in every major city in the United States. ‘We have received reports from other California cities which show the existence of three Satanist groups in Berkeley, two of them communes, one in Big Sur, one in Venice, five in San Francisco and one in San Diego. The number of Satanist circles gathering in Los Angeles County is indeterminate.’” (This was before 1972. I shall cease giving Mr. Lindsey’s references, for you can easily obtain his book and look them all up for yourselves. I would, however, prefer you wait until you finish this document and really get busy and find supportive information.)

“Some of the churches of Satan are brazenly open, such as LaVey’s establishment, an impressive three-story Victorian home, while others are camouflaged by storefronts or meeting halls.

“In Europe, Satanic masses are held in ruined churches and monasteries, but we should not be deceived by creaking castles or shadowy figures in musty rooms. Satanism is not just an Old World phenomenon.

“Arthur Lyons says, ‘Satanism is not only present in Europe, but in the United States as well. In fact, the United States probably harbors the fastest-growing and most highly organized body of Satanists in the world.’” (Indeed, for you preserve your right to worship as you please under the protection of your Constitution.)

“In the ‘churches’ entangled in Satan worship, the rites are opposite from those of a Christian church. Every desecration of Christianity is emphasized, from the upside-down cross to the flagrant use of sex and sexual stimuli. In Hollywood the altar was a glass tank filled with formaldehyde, containing the body of a dead baby. Lyons reported that the ‘high priest’ had a hypnotic effect upon a teen-age girl. The ritual in which she became involved was so debasing he could not finish the describing of it.

“We are reminded of the sordid spectacle of the girls who were mesmerized by Charles Manson. In a personal interview with a former Manson family member, I found they indulged in all types of Satanism and witchcraft. Manson was said to have had visions and magic powers. There were stories of his being physically transported from one end of the Spahn Ranch to the other. Group sexual experience, an indulgence of some witch covens, was commonly practiced by the Manson cult. The twisted reversal of Christianity was evident; Manson was called ‘God’, ‘Jesus’ and ‘Satan’ by his followers.

“After Manson’s conviction for the seven Tate-LaBianca murders, five members of his ‘family’—girls with their heads shaved to prove their loyalty to their leader—led a trek through Hollywood on their knees ‘in witness to the second coming of Manson.’”

WITCHES AREN’T SATANISTS

Aren’t they? Let us study that just a bit farther. The ones who think they practice “White” witchcraft, and simply fiddle and toy in the “game” of it are dupes and “tools”. The unwitting are even more pathetic than the intentional—for they not only fall, themselves, but pull other innocent victims into the traps. Oh, yes, there ARE victims; that is another lie thrown at you—there most certainly are “victims” of such teachings. For you must understand, that which began as honor and reverence unto God in the “native” manner, has been stolen and corrupted into tools for the evil ones. That, dear ones, is the point—corrupt all that is good until the “good” is no longer credible.

The steps which separate witchcraft and Satanism are almost invisible. Their histories, rites and followers are intermingled. Statistics of witch covens given today would be out of date in a week. As far back as your early 1960s, it could not be documented as to the numbers of covens, as not all covens are even known to one another. But the fascination with the fortune-telling, spell-casting, and fun of the “game” was moving into full swing—getting ready to re-label it the New Age Movement. A decade later it was recognized and publicized that it was already undeniable that the rising addiction to mysticism had swelled to a veritable epidemic.

Most ones were sucked in innocently enough; for all were searching to “find themselves” and began to “go within”, open up those chakras, chant mantrums and “be”. Most ones who are in pure intent of individual balancing with the God within are innocent and could do such wondrous good. However, the misdirection of “all” being “OK” in action “if it hurts not another” is erroneous and dastardly in concept. It is not “OK”! If you pull away from the Laws of God and Creation—IT IS NOT OK! FURTHER, IN PRONOUNCING SUCH, YOU HAVE DESTINED MORE PAIN AND HURT UPON YOUR FELLOWMAN, FOR IN THE SEEKING OF PEACE THEY SHALL BE PULLED FARTHER FROM ANY SEMBLANCE OF PEACE.

More and more often in murder trials you will find the suspects proclaiming possession by the devil—and very often the murdered victim will be one of “the group” participating with the murderers themselves.

In France there are well over 75,000 proclaimed sorcerers gleaned from willing “seekers” well above $300-$400 million each year.

In Germany, well, in Frankfurt alone (for these numbers can be checked), there are tens of thousands who actively believe in witches and seek them out.

The problem is also epidemic in Great Britain—as masses of people are turning from traditional religions toward black magic. This tells a story in itself, about the traditional religions—it is simply that evil has been allowed to corrupt all corners of your lives, including the very doctrines upon which you base your moral truth.

The attraction of witchcraft and mysticism is understandable enough. Ones become disenchanted with the organized, traditional experience and seek another outlet. Most began by discounting the predictions of the astrologers and mystics as fun; but as truth of the psychic predictions become manifest (as they will if by naught but individual expectation alone), the seeker gets hooked on the “maybe it is real” and this is a “religion” which allows, even demands, participation and activity within the group.

The “suckers” will be told and shown that witchcraft, mysticism, etc., is actually a return to Nature—a worship of the natural gods as opposed to the chrome-and-glass gods you find in society. “If it ‘feels’ good—go for it” and “just be” becomes the chanting battle cry. “Allow” and “Love”—in any manner you choose; fornication, adultery, sodomy and endless other manner of behavior. All the while, the unsuspecting is being set up for one big guilt-trip when the truth dawns upon him and he finds he has AIDS or addiction to all manner of activities and substances. “Have a little pot” to open your senses so you can experience the cosmos and truth—ah, yes, and destroy your thinking mind, your memory and all reasonably good relationships through idiocy, foolishness and irresponsibility.

Sananda is a hard, old, outdated teacher? I AM THE CHRIST ORIGINAL TEACHER—AND MAKE NO MISTAKE THEREOF! MAN HAS DEFILED MY VERY LABEL AND THAT OF GOD’S TRUTH OF BEAUTY AND WONDROUS ABUNDANCE. NO, I SHALL STAND IN THY CORNERS AND BE CAST ASIDE NO LONGER. SO BE IT—AND MARK OF MY WORDS THIS DAY; YE SHALL PULL FROM THESE EVIL WAYS OR THE TRANSITION IS GOING TO BE MOST UNCOMFORTABLE FOR YOU WHO “WAIT AND SEE”. YOU KNOW THE ACTIONS ARE UNACCEPTABLE, FOR TRUTH IS INHERENT IN ALL HUMAN—IF YOU CHOOSE TO LIVE BY THE LIE, YE SHALL DIE BY THE LIE. TRUTH IN LIGHT DOES NOT DEMAND, TAKE OR FORCE—IT NEITHER DEFILES NOR JUDGES; IT IS TOTAL IN FORGIVENESS AND RECEIVING—NEVER DOES IT NEGATIVELY EXPLOIT. CHECK AND SEE WHERE YOUR ALLEGIANCE RESIDES.

It has reached such a sad proportion within your society that if you have a single person in their late teens who thinks enough of their own value to still be a virgin, they are ridiculed, harassed and persecuted. Think most closely about these lessons being given herein. I DENOUNCE NO MAN, I DO DENOUNCE THE EVIL BEHAVIOR IN MAN, FOR YOU ARE CREATED IN THE IMAGE OF GOD-THE-FATHER—AND YOU MOCK THE GIFT. SO BE IT, FOR THE CHOOSING IS AT HAND. THIS SCRIBE WOULD SEEM TO STAND ALONE AND VULNERABLE, FOR SO FEW WILL DARE TO ALLOW OF OUR TRUTH TO BE PUT TO LEDGER—NAY, THESE ONES WHO COME FROM OUR REALMS IN TRUTH FOR THIS PURPOSE SHALL BE TENDED MOST CAREFULLY—’TIS MANKIND WHO CANNOT REALIZE HOW ALONE HE STANDS, NAKED AND STRIPPED IN HIS BLIND HELPLESSNESS.

I SPEAK NOW OF NOT “GOOD” OR “BAD”—FOR THOSE ARE LABELS AND PERCEPTIONS OF MAN—I SPEAK OF EVIL AND GOD-NESS; AND YOU SHALL BE IN THE CHOOSING OF WHICH YOU WILL PURSUE—FOR IT IS YOUR INDIVIDUAL CHOICE ALONE.

We are far, far from finished, Dharma. Let us have respite, please. I place my seal upon these writings and I stand responsible for this which is being brought forth—it must be so that my workers and scribes also hear and see the truth herein, for my opinions are not necessarily the opinions of the management of this keyboard. Peace be with you.

I AM SANANDA

CHAPTER 6

REC. #1 SANANDA

MON., OCT. 30, 1989 6:50 A.M.
YEAR 3, DAY 075

Blessings be upon you ones on this wondrous day gifted unto you. Sananda, ready to resume.

Please make note of the earthquake in Japan of 10/28 and the Algerian quakes of 10/30. Add them to your list, for I want you to be aware of the widespread occurrences.

ISN'T THIS ALL JUST A BAD JOKE?

I see, and understand, the questions rummaging within your head. Isn't all this "witch stuff" and Satanism just a bad joke of some sort? Doesn't this cause ones to believe that a good hypnoterapist is just as dangerous as is the witch?

I am disappointed that you would ask such a thing, Dharma. Is fire bad? Is fire good? How about medicine—is it good or bad? Are White people good or bad? How about Black people—good or bad? Hispanics? Jews? Germans? Ah, how about the Polish? You ones like to tease about them—are they good or bad? Is meat good or bad?

Hypnosis is not only a fine tool for discernment and communication but the "ONLY" valid tool in mental illness. The mind is all-knowing and only through a person's individual reasoning and perceptive senses can mental illness be either diagnosed or treated. Just as two aspirin can stop the head from aching; 500 aspirin tablets can kill the body; in some, one tablet can kill the body. ALL IS IN THE UTILIZATION. IT IS MUCH LIKE GETTING RID OF THE WATER IN WHICH YOU JUST CLEANSED YOUR BABY—DO YOU ALSO THROW AWAY THE SOAP, THE WASHCLOTH AND THE BABY?

Satan worship, witchcraft, cults (this includes Christian churches), occult, spiritualism, psychic phenomena—should you take any of these things seriously? Surely, it is just a passing trend, ones will claim. Should you really give them any credence? Should you give a raging brush fire any attention when it is ten feet from a forest filled with summer homes—all filled with people?

Man must always go within his mind and become one with himself and commune with his higher source. That does not require rituals nor chantings. If mind expansion must depend upon mind "altering", then the experience is most dangerous, for you must be seeking truth—not tainted perceptions. If what you find within is against the laws of God and Creation, then you have opened Pandora's Box of evil gifts—for your mind will feed upon these misperceptions until they become "reality" to your consciousness. You can either heal or destroy through manipulation of the mind.

Anyone who utilizes it as a tool must have perfection, for whatever is planted will grow—thistles or wheat.

Unfortunately, anything that begets results is usually abused by ones who are immoral and greedy. Quackery thrives among the young and easily impressed people of all ages. Books flood the market by the thousands and the minds are opened with no thought given to security of that wondrous open segment which IS man! So, you have managed to open your mind and move within—without careful consideration of having the Lighted Shield of protection pulled about yourself; you are open to dark visitors—they show up first, for the Lighted Brotherhood awaits invitation.

DANGERS

All of the ventures into spiritualism, mysticism, psychic adventures do have a common danger: They open the mind to associate with the spiritual reality and to seek contact with the worlds beyond that which you consciously experience. Handled carefully and with moral perfection, it is a most magnificent tool of positive God-ness; ill used, it can call in spiritual personalities who are dedicated to enslaving one's life and soul journey.

You will, however, have most learned ones who set themselves up as judge and jury. This is as incorrect, in fact. The scientific circles and medical communities are beginning to realize the power of the mind and recognize phenomena beyond the realm of the senses. It is incorrect to make a blanket statement and pronounce—as almost all of your evangelical preachers do—that it is always evil which is attracted. You will get that which you request—if you request God or the Christ, you will get God or the Christ. If you dally in Satanism, you will attract the "god of the world", Satan, or his henchmen.

I must ask you—how does your minister contact God? How do you commune with Christ? Through prayer? So do the witches and Satanists use prayer! I ask you to use caution and guide yourselves most diligently; HOWEVER, IF YOU LUMP INTO A GROUPING ALL ENERGIES FROM THE BEYOND CONSCIOUSNESS, YOU WILL MISS OF OUR INSTRUCTIONS—FOR WE HAVE NO OTHER MEANS OF COMMUNICATION. THROUGH SCRIBES SUCH AS THIS ONE, IS THE MANNER IN WHICH THE FINAL INSTRUCTIONS SHALL COME FORTH—FOR IT IS NOT YET TIME FOR OUR PHYSICAL MANIFESTATION UPON YOUR PLACE WITH ALL THE ATTENDANT ATTENTION.

THEREFORE, BEWARE OF THOSE WHO WILL SAY ALL COMMUNICATION WITH THE BEYOND REALMS AND HIGHER DIMENSIONS IS OF EVIL RESOURCE. THOSE ONES, USUALLY RELIGIOUS LEADERS WHO TELL YOU THIS, ARE MAKING YOU FURTHER TARGETS OF THE TOTAL LIE—AND CAUSE YOU TO MISS THE WONDROUS COMMUNICATION OF YOUR EXISTENCE. YOU MUST USE DISCERNMENT.

MIRACLES

As the prophecies have projected, the Evil energies shall present all manner of miracles to your attention. But remember something, if evil energies can present hocus-pocus and abracadabra unto you, so can the Hosts of Light and Truth. Do not be foolish enough to miss the messages God is sending forth unto you in this great time of travail. Do not turn your soul over to any other—ANY OTHER! You will be caused to come into your own choices and balances—not another's. God will not hear you when you say, "Oh, well, brother Rev. so-and-so told me." If you kept your ears plugged and eyes blinded—while truth and knowledge knocked upon your door and you only added locks to keep truth away—so be it, for you shall be graded accordingly. God nor Christ will push down your door to pull you to the launching pad on "Rapture" day, brethren. You will either be ready, willing and able to come aboard—or you shall be wondering what went wrong.

MYTHS CAN BE TRUE OR FALSE

You have magnificent arguments raging among your biblical scholars, historians and anyone else who has an opinion. You will be absolutely astounded to find how things actually are. Evolution? Creation? Six days vs. seven? Greenhouse vs. Ice Age? Do you actually believe man made no errors, deliberate or accidentally, in transcription of the pages of your so-called Holy books? How would YOU do at translation from Hebrew or Aramaic into English—and what about the one who speaks only German or Spanish, Greek or Russian? How about a Bible that was retranslated 3 to 500 years after the Christ had departed your dimension? God gifted you with intelligence and free-will choice—the only things you actually own—and you turn both over to anyone who tells you "my view is the only correct one". I disappoint at your blundering. The "Age of Reason" was most destructive and yet you turn in your most blessed essence unto the control of others and relinquish your reason and your choices—for you turn them over in the blinking of an eye.

"I do not agree with that which you say, but I defend unto my death your right to say it!" Remember that one? Give some inner thought unto that statement and we will discuss it at some later point in leisure when the subject is not so pressing as is the one in point.

Tell me about the ones who claim all discarnate energy communication is of evil and then turn to make a statement such as this: "Again the word of the Lord came to me saying, 'Son of man, take up a lamentation over the king of Tyre, and say to him, 'Thus says the Lord God.' 'You had the seat of perfection, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty. You were in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone was your covering: the ruby, the topaz, and the diamond; the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper; the lapis lazuli, the turquoise, and the emerald; and the gold, the workmanship of your settings and sockets, was in you. On the day that you were created they were prepared. You were the anointed cherub who covers; and I placed you there. You were on the holy mountain of God; you walked in the midst of the stones of fire. You were blameless in your ways from the day you were created, until unrighteousness was found in you” (Ezekiel 28:11-15).

Now let us be honest in receiving of this. Some who make their existence and livelihood of evangelism or Bible study—don’t speak up yet, please, or your ignorance might be visible.

Now who in the world is the ‘prince’ of Tyre—further, who is the ‘king of Tyre’? How did Ezekiel get the word? Oh, through the voice of God! Now, just how might that be if all voices coming from the ethereal realms are of darkness? Well, could it have been Satanic in origin? Do you know for sure? How do you know? Oh, I see, God told you from his disembodied station! It all boils down to perception and communication, does it not?

This particular reference, whether true or false, was made in reference to the mourning and weeping of a Father Creator who had turned the perfection of his magnificent creation, Lucifer, away for his evil ways. Did it happen? Does it matter? It does remain, however, that if you wish to remain in the presence of God of goodness and Light, you will abide by the laws thereof. If you choose to not follow those laws, you shall abide elsewhere—your choice, dear friends! Perfection dwells with God; evil dwells within the void in separation from God—and the wishy-washy continue of their lessons until they choose one or the other. ULTIMATELY, HOWEVER, REGARDLESS OF THE PERCEPTION OF TIME WITHIN WHICH YOU COUNT SEQUENCE, YOU WILL AT SOME POINT RETURN UNTO THE CREATOR SOURCE—FOR JUST AS YOU WERE CREATED FROM THE THOUGHT OF GOD, SO CAN YOU BE UN-CREATED. THAT GOES FOR THE CHRIST OR SATAN—FOR BOTH REPRESENT THE CONSCIOUSNESS OF BEINGNESS. ’TIS THE “CONSCIOUSNESS” OF MAN TOWARD EVIL OR CHRISTNESS WHICH WILL ULTIMATELY MAKE THE CHOICE AND DETERMINE THE DIRECTION OF THE JOURNEY OF SOUL.

EVIL REIGNS

At this point in the period of transition and fulfilling of that which has been predicted, it is a time of the reign of evil. Man is centered in lust, greed, self-indulgence, war and all manner of worldly “physical” consciousness. I tell you that you have the right of that choice; it is just that it will reap the evil rewards, no more and no less. Man is that which is his consciousness. Existence is a spiral and as such, as the consciousness increases in one direction or another, so goes civilization. The spiral always cycles back in the other direction—just as a clock pendulum must move to a state of stillness and then swing in the reverse direction. This downward spiral of mankind must first be brought into stillness and then the rebuilding can occur.

Man is sickening of that which is going on about him. Man is starving for truth and quality within his existence—he hungers for his reunion with God and he searches endlessly.

He does all manners of things to bring pleasure to the human physical entity and ultimately only mires more deeply in despair. However, until the consciousness returns unto the Laws and balance of God and The Creation, he will find no peace. The body is a weak, at best, vehicle which lives in your time, some 100 years or less. You starve the soul that lives infinitely—to pleasure the body which lives but a brief moment.

A little example or two at this point—and I request that each of you reading this document pause and correlate to this example, with some item you “own”. Dharma owns two sets of dinner silverware, which she has used once since 1968—considering this average, with her being 58 years of age this day, how many times do you guess she will use this dinnerware before she “passes on”? How “valuable” can this possession actually be? Now, pass it on to your heirs—there are nine children and already eight grandchildren—who gets this plunder? Worse, they don’t want to even bother with glass dishes, preferring the easy care of paper—do you think they will “love” polishing the tarnish from silverware? SO BE IT, I SUPPOSE I HAVE MADE MY POINT! [Yes, indeed!] WHERE ARE YOUR VALUES? THE HOURGLASS IS EMPTY AND YOU ONLY HAVE THE “TIME” REMAINING FOR THE TURNING OF THE SAND-TUBE—WHERE ARE YOUR VALUES?

EVIL IS ALWAYS AT WORK

The diabolical mastermind backing up the world system deceives and ensnares the minds and consciousness of people. He does a good job with those who do not believe in a Christ presence—and he sometimes does an even better job with those who do.

Satan’s work can be described in three ways: First, he is “the ruler of the physical world”, which means he is constantly at work in human government and its political systems. This influence is most capable of manipulating all forms of government for his purposes of evil and corruption. If you wish to argue about this matter, I heartily suggest you get the collection of Phoenix Journals from Phoenix Source Distributors (1-800-800-5565) and read, read, read—go check out the references—and then read it again.

Secondly, “Satan” is entitled “prince of the power of the air”. This means that satanic consciousness is the power behind the atmosphere of the “thoughts” of the world system that are hostile to God and Creation. You are most unwittingly dominated by this atmosphere of thought. Satan rules over the thoughts of the world system. He originated the concept of brainwashing long before human rulers used it for manipulation. When you think that he is the ruler over all of these thought forms—and realize the ways in which you are bombarded every day by those sources—you begin, perhaps, to see how deadly the world system can be.

On the other hand, just as darkness cannot “be” in even the tiny most spark of light—so, too, the dark intent cannot survive in the presence of the Light of God-ness.

The human viewpoint of life looks at the daily problems as well as all the complications of living in the world from the standpoint of the human ability to cope with them. The divine viewpoint looks at life from God’s ability to handle it. It is God’s job to deal with your temptations and needs. There is peace of mind, stability, and power for the one who has the divine viewpoint—BUT YOU HAVE TO CHOOSE IT!

Thirdly, Satan bears the title of “the god of this age”, which means the prevailing thought of a particular era. Satan is constantly changing the “in thing” so that when you get to “where it’s at”, you find you’re where it was! The pace is acceleration; the world system is changing so fast that even the world can’t keep up with it.

This modality of change will continue to accelerate and old institutions will change so rapidly that people will reach a tremendous state of instability and emotional disturbance resulting in psychological problems. Nothing will be honest in the overall perceptions, dependable, stable, or certain. Is it not already so?

“The god of this age” also puts him right into the middle of religions. He loves religion. It is his real “trump” card—his ace trump for blinding minds to the truth. He is the god of all those who deviate from God and the balanced laws of The Creation.

God can most surely tend the problem. However, he must be asked to do so with pure intent and action. Now, for a real shocker—so do satanic energies have to be invited within; does this not scare the daylights out of you to realize—YOU HAVE ACTUALLY ASKED THIS EVIL TO COME WITHIN?

DOES SATAN EXIST?

Mr. Satan’s cleverest ruse is to make believe that he does not exist!

That is the reason you see the ridiculous pictures of Satan with his horns and red suit, sporting a tail and an evil grin. If he is a comic figure or a mythical villain, there is little harm he can do except give you an occasional nightmare which you can easily toss aside. Somehow, no matter how vile a thing you might be doing, you don’t mind Satan being there with you—in fact—he sort of livens up the physical entertainment.

How do you feel about Christ being your best buddy at the alcohol cabinet, or stealing from your brother—or bedded with you in illicit fleshly pleasures—what kind of vocabulary do you utilize in the midst of your games and tinkering? So be it.

Satan’s incognitos are most clever, indeed. He hides within and behind religion, intellectualism, poetry, art, music, psychology, human understanding and, most vividly, within your human “self”.

All men are prey to the evil influence with no battle gear unless you ask for a bit of help from the discarnate beings on the other side of the line. Then, you can expect the Hosts of God’s heaven to give assistance—but there is no halfway house.

“That is really heavy, Sananda!” So be it—look closely at that which you think and do. When you are faced with an “either-or” situation or a black-and-white choice, most of you would like to wiggle in the center with a “maybe” or charge through the middle wearing a “gray” hat. Modern thought always rejects the antiquated idea that Satan is the origin of evil and has the world in his control. Man has so many explanations for evil: poverty, pollution, politicians, police, parents, employers, unions, racial minorities, racial majorities... you choose your own cause! Always, however, put the rap on someone, man says, but don't tell me about Satan. That is too negative and unpleasant—man does not want to hear such confused drivel.

“Christians” are not exempt from this inability to understand where and how Satan is working his evil enticements—in fact—probably the “Christians” are the very last to notice truth. Satan’s evil consciousness and doctrines have been neglected for so long by Christians that they are sometimes the least discerning of all in understanding the world system. The young so-called “Christians” are particularly vulnerable, for you have left the “next” generation naked in the face of 20th-Century thought by which they are surrounded.

Evil intent, called Satan, is not the man below, heaping coals into an eternal furnace. He is the original “jet-setter”; he is “right on” with the latest “cause”. I really like this next old quote from your book of Job. “When God asked Satan a direct question, his answer was filled with outrageous arrogance: ‘And the Lord said to Satan, From where do you come? And Satan—the adversary and the accuser—answered the Lord, From going to and fro on the Earth, and from walking up and down upon it.”

Well, evil just trucks around your place constantly doing his thing in every spot he can! He is working diligently and unceasingly in your world system through governments, education, business and culture. You label it, he'll take it.

He, further, had lots of help from his advance men who began planning his 20th-Century offensive campaign a few hundred years ago. Stand by at ready for the shock waves from his present 19th-Century thought bombs that are bringing the whole civilization into Armageddon.

Yes, Satan is most certainly alive and thriving on the late, great planet Earth. So be it and selah, for the hand of time bears the pen and has written upon the page—how shall your Earth sojourn end? How have you written the final act of your entertainment performance? You had best be in the choosing of “sides”—for the one most of you are standing alongside is in pretty awkward circumstance.

A God of “wrath”? No. He is simply allowing you to make your choice in your free-will manner. However, infinity of sitting on thy backsides astride the fence is a very long time and will get most uncomfortable.

Enough for this writing. Let us take rest. I give unto you truth—and I encourage you to receive of it.

I AM SANANDA

RE: CORRECTION OF CREDITS IN MARCH 21 ISSUE OF CONTACT; COMMENTS RE: ONGOING PHILIPPINE ACTIVITIES

NOTICE OF CORRECTION IN CONTACT IDENTIFICATION OF “GUEST” EDITORIAL CONTENT.

We are pleased to announce the good and the bad of journalistic presentations.

First the “BAD”:

I, and I do mean “I”, ask to correct the identification of the editorial-type writings used on pages 4 and 5 of the March 21, 2001 issue of CONTACT.

It was brought to my attention that I had given Erick San Juan credit for those two articles while, actually, there was no author identification provided.

These articles dealt heavily on topics of Former President Ramos as a very active participant in the new government, which is certainly true enough and he hasn't complained directly to us.

The other topic had to do with the MILF and both topics are timely and certainly not intended to be negative in content toward any political figures trying to sort through and make positive directional changes in the Philippines.

I had carefully sorted the incoming faxes and had actually set aside these two articles to check out because they, as often happens, arrived without identification of author.

Having been quite ill and running some weeks behind in sharing some of the more current input, I pulled these articles from the entropy pile thinking that the topics in point were a bit of a personal perception on the part of the author which would be interesting reading.

Please note for future reference, Editors, that if an article does not bear Mr. San Juan's full identification—it is NOT from him—so please backstop me so I don't get others in trouble.

I apologize here publicly if this error caused any embarrassment to anyone. We make every effort possible to give credits—for we most certainly use opinions and OP Eds constantly, but it is also important that a paper bear both sides of any issue or observations regarding any public political figures or that which sheds light on the perceptions of citizens and journalists.

NOW THE “GOOD”

This does point up, however, exactly what we have been warned about as to accepting “just any speaker who identifies self as ‘anyone’” because you don't know through assumption or your own identification as to who is actually giving forth information and as to “receiver” identification—how else can you tell who is pushing it forward onto the public's ears? It is imperative that we take responsibility for that which we do and we are pleased to do that. And, NO, we can't tell who is writing by the salutation such as offered here as “Friends”, often an opinion statement of Erick San Juan, and with a sign-off of “God Bless”—everybody uses that one.

MORE INTERESTING “GOOD”:

Fidel Ramos is a major foundation participant in “People Power” and enjoys a very high position in this new administration. I don't know, personally, whether to think he should be honored as in “credit for...” or somehow considered as a negative as in “Too much blame for...” various appointments and/or decisions made in the new leadership. This is not our business. However, our business remains to being neutral but retaining the position of good journalism. GOD is an equal opportunity employer! If we had taken another stance, we would be at the bottom of the deep-blue, I think.

It is BECAUSE of CONTACT that we have the assignment of 3392 to GAIA in the first place and find ourselves in the Philippines in the second. With his attachments to the U.S. (West Point graduate) we surely understand that he is subjected to divided loyalties. We would appeal to his Philippine nationalism in that he probably could do untold good for these ASEAN nations if he were to endorse GAIA's association.

Obviously, the new leadership had to form a government here and it was necessary, in this instance, to get as many experienced people from prior administrations as possible. Why should Mr. Ramos deny his participation in “running things”? This was an emergency. Even though it was expected that Estrada would be ousted, it was surely sooner than expected. Handled properly, Former Presidents should be expected to step forward and assist a new President with zero “transition” time. We have to wonder why the defensiveness.

It appears that Mr. Ramos can do untold good through his participation in the Southeastern Asian loop of nations and as liaison party with the Global Alliance. We do know that Mr. and Mrs. R. Kelley, when visiting here, personally gave Mr. Ramos a package of GAIA material. Mrs. Kelley is Filipino and a relative of Mr. Ramos.

Mr. Ramos can make a far greater contribution to his country and region as an ally of GAIA—with all of its real assets—than he could ever hope for in espousing the causes of the U.S.

WHERE IS OUR PROGRAM TODAY?

It is so hard to say, exactly, as very little “real” information feeds back. Every participant with authority for action is very carefully considering the good, the bad and the possibilities of our presentation.

AND, BOY, DO WE GET RUMORS AND RUMORS OF RUMORS. We also get meetings set to meet some important personage only to find a substitute “stand in” or total imposter waiting at the table.

We are experiencing, along with being told constantly, that this is part of the Philippine culture. Well, it is one of the worst cultural traits as to accomplishing anything worthy of being called change for the better.

Yesterday I met some people of which several were from Canada. They are Filipinos, however, and are deeply involved in assistance to the Filipino programs such as "United Way", help through ASEAN, etc.

The "adviser" to the group is retired and has come to the Philippines to see if a better way to offer service can be found. Everyone here is so poverty stricken that there is little support to be raised from the people here. They need the help, not the giving away of that on which they sustain themselves.

It was a chance meeting and exchange but I would hope that we can have some backup—because the ability to meet and express the workings of this program is really a burden to E.J. Anyone using the program itself must have parties involved who understand the ENTIRE program, need for collateral, and willingness to do the participation in full accordance with the rules.

We, on the other hand, are not citizens, cannot run the Philippine programs beyond our own venture involvement—and, therefore, the people of the Philippines MUST PUT THE PROGRAMS INTO MANIFESTATION.

It will work out in proper sequence so that everybody on both sides of the isle, so to speak, can be of service, have their own abundance flow AND GROW.

Our major contact who can fit the needs easily with collateral backup will not be available until the end of Holy Week (Easter) which will, I suppose, be AFTER mid-April. Others can perform but do not trust the government or the central bank—so they are working on some "security" alternatives.

Here is where I believe the old adage of a "Bird in the hand is worth a quadrillion on the wing" or in the bush or wherever they are found loose. We can keep you posted but we can no better decipher facts, as to "reality" in happenings, than can you at the Easter egg roll on the coming 15th of April.

We just continue to pray that we are able to stay the course physically and in other fundamental ways to get this worked through—for it seems many windows and several doors are open or, at the least, unlocked.

We are offering to Mr. Ramos the backup to get Clark Base areas cleaned and detoxified as well as finishing off the Exposition Park started during his administration and now closed. It would be a tremendous boost to the economy as a Freeport area and as well would be a superb place for holding such as the "Commonwealth Games". Those remaining facilities offer a wondrous placement for such activities.

In addition, if we can assist with some of the more draining "welfare" needs through already working organizations and foundations, it could free up massive sums for infrastructure, electricity production and thus and so. When the people can help themselves—they will do so.

SPEAKING OF ELECTRICITY

The California electricity production problems appear to be totally out of control and that bodes bad news to the nation.

Over here, the President has "frozen" the price to the consumer but alas, that means that somebody has to pick up the massive expenses of the production companies and costs to the government.

I realize that these are the things that were expected to happen during this period of hard pressures by the banking syndicates and the more powerful controlling global systems. It does not make it easier to bear nor to appreciate in a positive way.

HOOF-AND-MOUTH AND OTHER BOVINE-TYPE PLAGUES

I was encouraged to hear Mr. Blair of Britain state this morning that the infected livestock being slaughtered is only less than one percent of the livestock available in Britain.

I am also glad to hear that a vaccination program is going to be staged. One reason given for not already having such a program is that there are "no guarantees" and there have to be booster shots, etc. I can't believe that ranchers and farmers wouldn't rather spend for that program than lose all that prime-bred livestock. It is as usual, however, that the people controlled have no say in the solution and the "kill" is left to the bureaucrats who even on TV make atrocious errors in presentation, i.e., this morning one of the managers of this "kill off" used the term "infection" while he should have said "injection" as in "booster". Which is correct? Are they boosting through injections the vaccinations given or are the livestock being "infected" through the shots themselves? Moreover, can we believe anything received from the media?

Wouldn't it be wondrous if these people in charge actually were held responsible for that which they do or cause to be done?

It would appear to me that Great Britain is not so big as compared to the Philippines but wow, these sorts of slaughter numbers from England alone would wipe out the Philippine stock supply.

MILITARY GROUPS

Malaysia has made available places to meet and confer in a neutral area, various "military" (read rebel) groups here in the Philippines. So too has Indonesia offered meeting sites for such meetings. However, Indonesia has problems worse than in the Philippines. The offer is a step in the right direction.

It comes forth that the Moslem Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) is agreeing to some limitations on their units. It is demanded that the areas called "camps" will be reestablished as "communities" and arms will NOT be allowed within these communities.

The problem comes that unless someone backs some livelihood programs, there is nothing with which these communities can survive. Otherwise, the fomenting will continue as the bellies and the pockets are emptied.

CAN WE WAIT?

What else? God offers and does not cram something down anyone's throat. We can only stand at ready, willing and able (RWA)—and if we leave this place, we must leave it able to be continued in our absence. Certainly, the structure is outlined and the agreements clean and clear—and it should flow easily without our being parked in the living room on the site. We are confident that things will work out better than we would have planned it in our impatience, doubts and concerns.

ABOUT THAT GOLD...!

I surely have no seer information regarding the gold here, there, or anywhere, other than that which we share on the subject. However, it appears that GATA is making headway in bringing the manipulations and "fixing" to light in very serious ways and locations.

I always sit with a backlog of information while getting "behinder and behinder" as we pile-on and are "piled-on" by the life happenings.

I have saved out one of the more recent GATA writings and probably will find that the Rays have gotten there first. However, bear with me because we need to share this writing with some of the people here who have great interest in the gold market—and I am remiss in not sharing it sooner.

[QUOTING Bill Murphy, Chairman, Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee Inc., March 19, 2001:]

[D: Since many of these articles and reports are sent through intermediate parties, I find that I have no contact information as regards reaching Mr. Murphy. A computer Internet user I AM NOT. The best I can do, therefore, is offer any writing in full and without tampering.]

GATA CAN BLOW THE GOLD CARTEL OUT OF THE WATER

It is becoming apparent that the Gold Cartel is going to have to be blown out of the water.

Fortunately, that can be done easily by just exposing the truth about gold via some transparency operations. That is what the GATA Africa Gold Summit will be all about.

Of special note was Monday's dinner (March 12) organized by Nick Ferris, president and CEO of Claimstaker Resources (CLN), a junior exploration and mining company with a North American focus.

Also attending were Don Whalen, chairman of High River Gold Mines and chairman of the Canada-Russia Business Forum; Driffield Cameron, vice president for exploration, High River Gold Mines; Lour Wolfen, president of Coral Gold; Ralph Braun, information technology consultant; Brett Whalen, investment banker for Dundee Securities; Dave Shaddrick, president of Rubicon Resources; and Don Neville-Smith, president of DN-S Insurance.

The gold world has been abuzz in recent months about Japangu Inc. David Mosher is president of High River Gold Mines Ltd. and is Japangu's North American director. Japangu Inc., headquartered in Tokyo, is a private gold mining and investment company. Its president is Tamisuke Matsufuji, who to this day is the most successful bond salesman in the history of Salomon Brothers. Matsufuji has become a famous contrarian financial adviser who has authored five best-sellers in Japan. In 1989 he wrote a book predicting the collapse of Japanese stock and real estate markets. Talk about great calls!

Now Matsufuji is predicting a new "golden age" and is preparing accordingly via Japangu—a term for "Japan" that was brought to the West by Marco Polo. It means "island of gold" and arose from legends of the Japanese rooftops covered in gold. Japangu is the only pure gold company in Japan and its goal is to become one of the top 10 gold producers in the world.

Japangu is becoming a vehicle for Japanese investors to participate in the global gold market without currency exposure and is focusing on bringing the gold industry to the Asian investor.

Japangu is accumulating gold assets around the world and is concentrating on those firms that are gold producers. Its holdings include 23 percent of High River Gold, 26 percent of Claimstaker Resources, 22 percent of Cambior, a significant option to purchase shares in Harmony Gold of South Africa, as well as interests in other junior golds.

Nick Ferris and Don Whelan are enthused about Japangu's endorsement of their operations, and for good reason.

I had the pleasure of sitting next to Whelan during dinner, and it was most enjoyable. He is a 30-year softball-pitching IBM veteran who came out of semi-retirement to oversee High River Gold (HRG:TSE). High River is a Toronto-based junior gold producer that intends to become a major global gold-mining company. It has an international focus with projects in New Britannia, Manitoba, Canada; Buryat Republic, Russia; and Burkina Faso, West Africa. High River owns 26 percent of JSC Buryatzoloto, the Russian company that runs the Zun-Holba and Ironkinda mines and is one of the few mining success stories in Russia. They are the third largest gold producer in that country, as they produced 127,000 ounces at $165 cash cost. There is also a gold reserve of 1.8 million oz of 17g/tonne grade (0.54 oz/ton) with an additional resource of 3.6 million oz at grade of 12g/tonne (0.38 oz/ton).

Japangu also owns 16 percent of JSC Buryatzoloto outright.

Whelan, who has met Russian Premier Vladimir Putin twice, thought the Russians might be interested in attending the GATA Africa Gold Summit, as their natural resource-rich country also has been hurt by the manipulations of the gold market. So invitations will be sent to the proper Russian officials via the appropriate channels.

At the GATA hospitality suite in Toronto the next evening, I handed a complete kit of GATA's findings to Boris Aryev, chairman of the Mining Working Group of the Canada-Russia Business Forum. It was most ironic to us that we all could envision the headlines after an important Russian official is interviewed by the press following the summit: "Russians Seek Free Gold Market." "Russians Blast U.S. Banks and Government for Communist-like Market collusion." "Russians Chide U.S. Press for Censoring GATA and Covering Up Gold Story." "Russians Call for Gold Market Transparency and Fair Play."

The GATA hospitality suite on Tuesday night was mobbed, and many impressive gold industry folk stopped by. Geologist Keith Barron and his sidekick, Patrick Anderson, deserve special thanks, as they ran the affair very smoothly for the entire evening. Thanks again, guys.

From Barron, who also did such a marvelous job organizing my stay at the convention floor this morning. He spent the first 15 minutes talking about you and GATA and said, 'You may think these guys are just into conspiracy theories, but I'm telling you they're right and I'm 100 percent behind them.' Patrick caught the whole thing."

And a big thanks to the highly regarded Bishop of the well-followed Gold Mining Stock Report.

On CNBC knocking gold bugs today: They are the same characters who chuckled at Warren Buffet almost exactly one year ago for his having lost his touch for not understanding the new economy and the new reality for stocks. That was the top of the stock market. This ought to be the bottom for gold.

Reg Howe was going to the courthouse in Boston today to pick up the response by the U.S. Treasury Department to his lawsuit.

Word comes that international physical gold demand surged late in the Comex trading session as gold approached $260 per ounce. Somebody is getting it right. From Tuesday's Morning Metal Monitor: "Gold is called $3.30 lower this morning, as lease rates got pummeled down to 4 percent late in the yesterday's New York session as a single large lender entered the market. With the stock market under siege, and a single large lender knocking gold down, the conspiracy theorists will have a field day speculating on the identity of the lender."

No market in history has performed like gold has in recent years. Every single spike is clobbered by the Gold Cartel, yet the gold industry and gold press remain silent. That is why the GATA Africa Gold Summit is needed so badly.

Invitations to the summit go out early next week. Attendance will be limited to those receiving invitations and is not for the public.

The U.S. stock market is one sick puppy. Today's action was terrible and the coming days could be a nightmare for the Wall Street whining crowd. It is pitiful the way they are turning on their hero, Fed chairman Alan Greenspan, as they beg for an ever-increasing interest rate cut, the further the stock market sinks.

The way things are going, the market will swoon on anything less than a 2 percent Fed fund rate cut on March 20. As I have said for more than a year, there will be a backlash against Wall Street the likes of which this country has never seen when the public realizes that it is not going to get its money back and that it has been had by the greedy touts of Wall Street. It is not going to be a pretty picture.

We all know that they are bashing gold for the reasons they have bashed gold every time there is a crisis. They are covering up the financial condition of the big banks, the economic policies of the Clinton administration, and their ruinous short gold positions for which they have no escape.

The good news for our camp is that they are running out of bullets. The "collapsing" one-month lease rate is still three times higher than normal. Meanwhile, the Aussie dollar closed at 49.2 cents today, which will put further pressure on the overly hedged Aussie gold producers when gold rallies in dollars.

The days of The Gold Cartel are numbered. If a chaotic financial market scene does not get them, the Howe/GATA complaint will. And if not the lawsuit, the GATA Africa Gold Summit will. The "enveloping horn" is doing its thing. You can count on it.—Bill Murphy, Chairman, Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee Inc.

[END OF QUOTING]

I personally have a bit of an update on the above article and court case: "Not surprising to me at least, the U.S. Treasury filed a motion to dismiss the lawsuit brought against it by Reginald Howe, which cites among other charges, manipulation of the gold market..." (Taylor Gold Review).

This does not mean that the Federal Judge won't hear the case but only that a response has been filed.

We also note that it is planned that Lawrence Summers (prior U.S. Secretary of the Treasury) and our old contact in that department through the more recent years, will move to "HARVARD", as we understand it, to be DEAN OR SOME HIGH POSITION.

Now we can KNOW how all the false teachings about business, markets, management, etc., are spread so high and wide. The students of Harvard are both loyal and non-discerning if something comes forth from their great institution. We especially see the prestige of going to Harvard right here in Manila. Well, we wish Mr. Summers well—for he was long known to us at GAIA even before we had "GAIA" as such.

I think that the government is going to need all the help they can get from such as Harvard when the stuff really does get into the fanworks.

We also note that recently the Inter-American Development Bank has been in the news. Ex-Treasurer and IMF employee Rubin was or "is" the governor of that particular "Bank" along with it being a product of George Bush Sr. The world truly does seem to shrink more and more every day.

The Taylor Review adds: "It would not be difficult—with a clear conscience in my view, for the new Treasury Secretary O'Neil to effectively argue that it would be irresponsible for him to allow the markets to see an honest view of the illegal activities of the U.S. Treasury & Federal Reserve, if doing so triggered an international financial collapse." It isn't very likely, though, is it?

I was told that a statement from the Editor, Dr. Young, of the Spectrum monthly, has indicated that money and gold should never be given undue importance and, therefore, a "balanced" attitude should be taken in regards to same. I note he must feel differently these days.

Somebody tell me how there can be change in a physical world without change in that which "runs" the world? Everyone should go read carefully the Protocols of Zion and check out the first "commandments" of that manifesto. IF YOU CAN'T HAVE THE WORKING FOUNDATION UPON WHICH TO BUILD STABILITY "IN KIND", THEN THE ARGUMENTS ARE OVER, AREN'T THEY? "Never-minding" the obvious need for resources to fit manifest needs of physical beings is as unbalanced as is trying to eat and digest gold coins. Wise USE comes from a Spiritual foundation which allows growth and not further strangulation of people and nations.

Furthermore, I will be far more impressed when Dr. Young sees to it that the stolen items are returned properly and immediately to owners in the Adam Drive Capers so that Millers are off the hook for the unlawful looting and thefts. That might demonstrate some REAL wisdom.

It is going to take untold amounts of "value" backing a system of useful currencies to overcome the incredible damage set loose upon this poor old burdened world and yea, to even clean up that which exists to set it toward healing and recovery. GOD WOULD NOT OFFER LESS. Good morning, DJE

RE: MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES OF EXTREME RELEVANCE BUT USUALLY BACKLOGGED

FOREWORD COMMENT

I have such a backlog of pertinent articles that should be shared with our readers and friends that I am asked to take a few days away from our regular GCH input to catch up a bit on some that may not have had space in the NEWS DESK.

Even in the Philippines we are flooded with information on major world affairs and often they deal with that which will get almost no attention.

Much is printed in SPOTLIGHT but without taking that publication, or us reprinting, it will be missed by our readers. The information often makes up the very confirmation of over ten years of writings by our team and is inclusive of “characters” in the human play taking place then and now.

As a “for example”, I will hearken back to the personal visits to us by Lt. Col. Bo Gritz, the meetings themselves and then the public forum when he ran for the presidency.

There was talk of Richard Armitage and his participation in both the Golden Triangle (drug area) followed on by his transfer to the Golden Crescent (drug area).

Col. Gritz may have ended up with George Green hacking away at Doris Ekker but he was stunned by the input via GCH, claim what he will today. I would suspect that the respect is still tucked away today. Bo has had a bad bashing and that always gets you a bit closer to “thine Creator”.

I use this as an example since Armitage comes again into the spotlight in this new Bush circle of intrigue.

We also have a full hit on HENRY KISSINGER on whose list I have been near the head of the class for “I don’t like her at all...”. World-class Sir Kissinger, it is now suggested, should be exposed as a War Criminal.

These very articles showing up today in the midst of a world in total chaos and us in far away Manila renew my own realization of our purpose and our attachments.

If we are informed about these people, we can then DO SOMETHING ABOUT THOSE PEOPLE. As we move to establish a foundation upon which “FREEDOM” can grow, these people, by their own doing, will be exposed

The first presentation is regarding Australia and comes from a one-page presentation in EIR and hence will have reference to Lyndon LaRouche who, it seems, usually has hit the nails right on their heads through the years.

However, the Kissinger information we will offer has nothing to do with EIR but it must be noted that Henry Kissinger managed to personally put LaRouche in prison; only to find years later the evil of the man in point (Kissinger) is factual and finally coming to the top of scanning microscopes. But what can you do to a knighted “Sir” of Her Majesty of England, as well as one who continues to be involved in the ongoing decay of the U.S.?

Sometimes I actually marvel that we have made it this far intact and in sanity. The fact that our precious progress was intentionally set to be destroyed by our own inside co-workers claiming some Spiritual Divinity and right to that Divine absolution, is heartbreaking—for they pulled a lot of our friends away as strings were cut without recourse of truth OR REALITY. So be it, for we must always realize that God has better vision than do his Hosts and messengers.

This is important to remember, for me, because as we are hit with the projections of those who speak as if they know great wisdom and hidden information, our own perspective of self gets a bit downtrodden as to how to “prove” something or other. So, here comes the proof of years of output and lessons—and you need to see it as badly as do I. YOU have kept the paper going and allowed us to do that which we must do and there are no greater attributions I can offer than backup for what we have had shared with us.

Because we are closer to Australia than are most of our readers and since there is a big push to grab off the Central Bank of Papua New Guinea and shunt off the natural reserves of PNG TO Australia, it is important to share these insights. The fact that the recent uprisings against the World Bank speaks for itself as to relationships between PNG and that New World Order onto which they are welded by super-glue.

We shall see how it all unfolds in this “tiny” little segment of life and living—but the point at this moment about that pipeline is that the Japanese are probably going to finance the operation if it stands as is.

Politics causes terrible disservice to a nation itself. The PNG ambassador to the Philippines turns out to be quite worthless, or even dangerous, to PNG. Elsewhere it would be called TREASON. It is very strange how things come to the surface and reveal the rot beneath.

This may well be because, as the rot is discovered, there are all those hidden termites eating away and they themselves become uncovered. Seems like LIGHT causes a massive shriveling of the parasites as well as the hosts upon which they feed.

AUSTRALIA ALIGNS ITSELF WITH BUSH

The Bush crowd is recruiting Australia to participate in a confrontation with China.

The countdown is on. In confirmation hearings before the U.S. Senate during Jan. 12 and 18, cabinet nominees of U.S. President George W. Bush repeatedly raised the specter of a U.S. war with China. Both Secretary of State Gen. Sir Colin Powell and Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, hit out at China as a “strategic competitor”; their stance was so alarming that outgoing Assistant Secretary of State Stanley Roth warned, “There is growing suspicion in China about the intentions of the U.S.” In the context of their anti-China posturing, Powell and Rumsfeld ominously foreshadowed a special role for their closest regional ally—Australia.

In reply to a question from Sen. John Warner (R-Va.) about “our valued ally, Australia”, Rumsfeld linked Australia to Bush’s China strategy: “As you look at what’s happening in that part of the globe and periodic difficulties the People’s Republic of China has had with its neighbors—whether it’s the Spratley Islands, or difficulties with India, or Russia, difficulties with Vietnam—there’s no question but that Australia is a truly important nation,” he said.

On Jan. 18, Powell echoed Rumsfeld, in remarks to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, on Australia’s role in helping to contain “a new and dynamic China”. Powell said that he sees Australia’s role as a continuation of its leading involvement in smashing Indonesia. “In the Pacific, we are very pleased that Australia, our firm ally, has played a keen interest in what’s been happening in Indonesia,” he said. “And so we will coordinate our policies, but let our ally, Australia, take the lead, as they have done so well in that troubled country.”

On Jan. 8, Lyndon LaRouche exposed the true agenda of the Bush White House, and its allies in Australia, in a paper entitled “Why Kissinger’s Cronies Have Pulled Their China Ploy Now” [D: No, I don’t have that but would like to, for I’m sure it is a dandy.] LaRouche wrote, “During a period in which the U.S.A.’s friends in Europe and Asia are tending to seek an alternative to a U.S.-led financial and economic collapse in Eurasian cooperation, how shall the Anglo-American Five keep themselves together, and their former allies and satrapies in line? Crisis-management.”

The “Anglo-American Five” include the currently Wall-Street-dominated United States, Britain, and Britain’s leading colonies, Canada, New Zealand, and Australia. The five would “use covert methods to create the ‘who me?’ crises, to which they will then respond vengefully, to keep the world off-balance... These were the methods followed by Hitler,” LaRouche said.

Australia is no stranger to the use of covert methods to provoke a crisis. An example is Australian Prime Minister John Howard’s triggering of the 1999 East Timor crisis, when he pressured a vulnerable Indonesian President, B.J. Habibie, to hold elections. That resulted in the predictable bloodshed and Australian intervention—an intervention which Australia had prepared for, for months, including by clandestinely sending crack Special Air Services personnel into Indonesia months before the election. Howard applied a similar method to help provoke last year’s crises in Fiji and the Solomon Islands, which he then used to impose the Biketawa Declaration on the Pacific nations, self-appointing Australia and New Zealand to enforce regional democracy.

Such manufactured crises were used to push through a dramatic expansion of Australia’s military budget. Then, in August, Howard rammed through a bill to allow the newly expanding Australian Defense Force to be called out to put down domestic unrest, and which authorizes soldiers to use lethal force against Australian citizens—i.e., they may “shoot to kill”.

The ostensible excuse for the measure, was the rise of a classic provocateur movement, the “anti-globalist” S-11, which staged bloody riots in Melbourne in September against a meeting of the World Economic Forum. S-11 was spawned by the International Socialist Organization, a well-known front for British Intelligence. Under the bill, the official empowered to call out the troops is the Queen’s representative in Australia, the Governor-General.

The Howard government is enthusiastic about Bush, much more so that it was about Clinton. Anti-China fanatics in both countries kept their cause alive during the Clinton years through the Australian American Leadership Dialogue founded by the Australian CEO of Boniac Foods, Phil Scanlan. Raving anti-China agitator Richard Armitage, a former Defense official in the earlier Bush Administration, is a Dialogue member, as are two of Bush’s current appointments, Trade Representative Robert Zoellick and Economic Adviser Larry Lindsey. “This will be the best-informed Administration on Australian thinking and national interests [sic]," Scanlan gushed to the Jan. 19 Australian Financial Review.

[END OF QUOTING]

I hope that without being overly melodramatic that I can say that I suspect that the SPECTRUM "Crew" was manipulated and perhaps actually paid-off to somehow silence CONTACT deliberately to silence the truth and prevent this mission from being completed. Do I think that Dr. Young, or Martin, would fit the role? YES, INDEED. Everything they have done and the turn in their information flow indicates that this is exactly what probably happened. Dr. Young manipulates EVERYONE in that groupie and even EDITS the messages from "above". I believe that Rick stays on for the paycheck and will run at first opportunity for anything better that he can find for the purpose of livelihood. May we all get more discerning because we find that our worst enemy is truly and actually mingling and working among "ourselves".

I was quite stunned to find reference to both Kissinger and Armitage in the above quoted material, for I had not read the entire page before copying. Therefore, yes, indeed, we do get input when we ask for it and I asked for it. I know that we are reopening cans of toxic worms and my heart grows a bit faint in the realization. Thank you, Sir, for the backup of recognized and respected publications to take some of the heat.

However, I certainly will suggest, if my enemies come calling, that they go call on the "breakaways"—because they certainly have continued to claim their own status with the very named energies they thieved. Some of these guys mentioned here are pretty nasty players and Rick and Ed are welcome to all of them, wings and all.

BUSH BACKS BANNED BILDERBERGER

By Clayton Potts

You heard it here first. Bush's new pick for deputy secretary of state—a seasoned Washington power broker—is deeply embroiled in international crime.

President Bush has chosen an unsavory character as deputy secretary of state who was forced out by Bush's father in 1989 to avoid embarrassing the White House.

President Bush the Elder had chosen Richard Armitage as secretary of the Army but, to keep the lid on a boiling national security scandal, the president told him to "forget it", the Spotlight reported exclusively on June 12, 1989.

Armitage, a Bilderberg participant, had served in high Defense Department positions under President Ronald Reagan and his successor, Bush. A graduate of the Navy Academy, Armitage served three combat tours in Vietnam and is a close friend of Secretary of State Colin Powell.

Yet, in 1989, Bush, a member of the Bilderberg brother group, the Trilateral Commission, was compelled to dump Armitage despite his gleaming public record.

It was Armitage's unpublic record, unearthed by the Spotlight, that forced his firing. It involved international narcotics dealings and money laundering.

Armitage had become deputy to Fred Ikle, under secretary of defense for policy, in the early 1980s.

"We used to call them 'Fred and his three stooges'—that is Ikle and his three closest aides in the Pentagon: Richard Perle, Stephen Bryen and Armitage," an Army officer was quoted at the time. Perle was also a Bilderberg regular during those years.

It was the close association with Ikle that proved Armitage's undoing.

"They knew how to take charge of key programs—Special Forces, covert operations, high technology transfers, strategic planning, media contacts—and ran things to suit themselves," said the officer, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Lt. Col. James "Bo" Gritz, who emerged from the Vietnam War as the most highly decorated Special Forces officer, had revealed that Armitage maintained hidden connections to a number of Asian drug magnates, the Spotlight reported.

"The charges made by Gritz against Armitage—first reported nationally by this populist newspaper—were subsequently substantiated by other sources in Southeast Asia and in Washington," the Spotlight reported. "But the Establishment media ignored the mounting evidence against Armitage and maintains silence about his alleged links to notorious drug traffickers."

The linkage was more than casual, according to a congressional investigator who said Armitage had allegedly sabotaged an important offer from top Burmese and Thai opium warlords to close down the drug trade in return for relatively modest financial rewards.

"This move could have cut our underworld heroin and cocaine imports, perhaps as much as half, but Armitage aborted the venture," the investigator said.

New questions about Armitage's covert involvement had popped up a year earlier after Elizabeth Kopp, Switzerland's minister of police and justice, was ousted amid accusations that the private law office she shared with her husband was a front for major drug traffickers.

As Mrs. Kopp was placed under criminal investigation, the trail led to the Pentagon, Swiss investigators told the Spotlight. Mrs. Kopp reportedly held frequent meetings in Washington with her cousin: Under Secretary Fred Ikle, during the late 1980s.

When Swiss Vice President Achille Casanova admitted at a press conference that Kopp had been a key figure in the international drug scandal, he also said the same drug banks were used by the CIA and "other secret American authorities" to provide sanitized cash and other covert financing.

He was referring to the Pentagon policy office headed by Ikle and Armitage, the Spotlight learned from Swiss sources.

The Swiss investigation determined that Ikle and Armitage were in command of major covert action programs in, among others, Afghanistan, Iran, Nicaragua and Cambodia. Funding for these projects was reportedly processed by Ikle and Armitage while Ikle's cousin was in charge of both policy and justice, Swiss sources reported.

Funding was arranged through the private bank headed by Kopp's husband, Hans.

Despite the mainstream media blackout in the United States, investigators working for Sen. John Kerry (D-Mass.) picked up the scent. Several senators were reportedly eager to question Armitage when he appeared for confirmation hearings.

Rather than face exposure, President Bush dumped Armitage. Today, the second President Bush is rehabilitating Armitage with high office.

[END OF QUOTING]

The following contains three separate articles which are interrelated so I will just copy them in the order they appear.

[QUOTING SPOTLIGHT, March 12, 2001, page 10. Re: Henry Kissinger:]

'PEACE PRIZE' WINNER A WAR CRIMINAL
By James P. Tucker Jr.

Mainstream admits Henry Kissinger should be tried for crimes against humanity.

Harper's magazine, in a lengthy, two-part series, made a powerful but long-known case that Henry Kissinger is a "war criminal" responsible for thousands of deaths of innocents during his years as President Richard Nixon's national security adviser, secretary of state and head of a consulting firm.

Some of the luminaries meeting in Washington to support writer Christopher Hitchens' accusations against Kissinger made the point that the United States is still committing war crimes, this time in Kosovo.

Why, after all these years, did a left-tilting mainstream magazine state the case that Liberty Lobby and the Spotlight has made for a quarter-century?

The message contained in the magazine stories and a panel discussion supporting its conclusions, held in Washington on Feb. 27, carried the message that the world needs an International Criminal Court under the United Nations, which is known in the profession as "good reporting for bad reasons".

Nevertheless, it has to make Kissinger and his internationalist Bilderberg and Trilateral colleagues uncomfortable to see his criminal conduct, exposed by a magazine they are unable to label as "right-wing extremist". According to Hitchens, even though offered his regular amount for a speaking "fee", Kissinger refused to be interviewed by Harper's or anybody on the subject of his crimes.

Alfred Rubin, professor of international law at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, was among those saying the United States is still engaged in war crimes. The U.S. military "operating in Kosovo is illegal under the UN," he said.

If Kissinger had been a private citizen "he could be hanged" for his crimes, said Lewis Lapham, editor of Harper's, who presided over the panel. But, dressed in government clothing, he was unaccountable, Lapham said.

Hitchens, the author, said Kissinger secretly collaborated with Nixon to keep the Vietnam War alive in 1968 to help his successful campaign for president against Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Later, he said, Kissinger helped stall the Paris peace talks for political purposes during Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign, in which he carried 49 states against Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.).

This alone accounted for the deaths of many thousands—including Americans.

Hitchens' stories laboriously report what has been reported about the bombing of Cambodia, U.S. operations in South America, Cyprus, Bangladesh and East Timor.

One of Kissinger's harshest critics among the critics during the panel discussion was one of his own: Roger Morris, who served on the senior staff of the National Security Council under Presidents Lyndon Johnson and Nixon until resigning in protest over the invasion of Cambodia. He was intimately involved in the highly secret negotiations to end the Vietnam War.

"Tony Lake and I were personally involved" in the peace talks with the knowledge of the Defense and State Departments, Morris said. Part of the job involved “inserting humorous remarks” in Kissinger speeches to humanize him, Morris said.

Kissinger became “the darling” of the major media by providing leaks that “made careers,” thus insulating himself from harsh scrutiny as a “war criminal,” Morris said.

[END OF QUOTING]

As I try to absorb the extent of the meaning of these writers’ daring presentations I hearken back to the claim of Janet (as from Ray) Bilger of Tehachapi, Calif., that Janet was a sex-slave of Henry Kissinger’s. I failed to believe it but since the story is still being spread by her and by Ray, I guess I give up—she can have him! When do you suppose the garbage will STOP? I would guess that it won’t until we as people put a stop to it. Mr. Kissinger has destroyed so many places as to be unable to account for them all—from China to Somalia. He calls it Kissinger & Associates and they orchestrate, for a price, everything chaotic. He made a full play for orchestrating the direction of Indonesia just since Wahid has been in the Presidency. He comes in at a deferred fee arrangement and then, when hooked, they’re had. Remember that Scowcroft and Eagleburger are his “associates”. They had even set up a bank in New York to service the direct funds moving to Iraq, et al., by the Bush Boys. Ugly? Do toads have warts?

Every chance Henry got, he was receiving or holding Princess Diana. After his “knighting” he was often photographed with the Queen going to Ascot to the races and such.

When you reduce these people to their lowest denominator—as in strip off their façade—isn’t it always a fact that they are laughable instead of frightening? Henry Kissinger never earned even one doctorate degree. Everything in his claim-chest was bestowed and he has played this game for decades.

[QUOTING same reference. Author: F.C. Blahut:]

KISSINGER STILL PULLING STRINGS

By F.C. Blahut

Where there’s international machinations, there’s Henry Kissinger.

It is also well known—but not reported by the mainstream media—that former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is often the messenger boy for the would-be masters of the Global Plantation.

From a variety of sources, the Spotlight has confirmed that Kissinger is intimately involved in Mideast politics to the point of replacing leaders and inciting wars.

According to Israeli investigative journalist and author Barry Chamish: “The Israeli political leadership has been corrupted from abroad and no one... is exempt. And that includes Ariel Sharon above all.”

Sharon, the current Israeli prime minister, was convicted of complicity in a massacre of Palestinians in refugee camps in Beirut, Lebanon, in 1982.

The Israeli author reports that in January 2001, Binyamin Netanyahu was in the middle of a lucrative American speaking tour.

“There, he met two members of the CFR, George Shultz and Henry Kissinger,” Chamish said.

In Netanyahu’s own words, they told him the time was right to run for prime minister... except elections weren’t planned for another two years.

Chamish relates the following sequence of events:

“Netanyahu then hopped on a plane to Israel, he claimed to attend a Bat Mitzvah, had a few words with Barak and flew back to America to continue his lectures. Two days later Barak, who Kissinger and gang put in power beginning with a New York meeting in May 1995, resigned and called for elections in which he would remain a candidate...

“The CFR determined that it was Sharon’s turn to drag Israel into war. Barak had prepared the path and now Sharon would lead the war.”

Chamish told the Spotlight that a few years back he received a phone call from New York from his friend Joel Bainerman, who was attending an Israeli economic conference at the Sheraton Hotel in Manhattan.

“Excited, he said, ‘I was walking through a hall and guess who I saw come out of a conference room? Sharon and Kissinger.’”

Sharon confirmed the meeting, adding that, “In order to achieve peace, concessions will have to be made.” He was asked if he meant territorial concessions and he refused to answer.

Chamish called a spokesman for Sharon to ask for details and was told: “Minister Sharon has met Mr. Kissinger every time he has flown to America since the end of the Yom Kippur War.”

Chamish asked the next logical question: “What do you know about Kissinger’s leadership in the Council on Foreign Relations?”

The aide answered, “Mr. Sharon has left instructions that this topic will only be discussed when he writes his memoirs.”

According to Chamish, Sharon met with Kissinger and his protégés in early 1974 and received their power and blessings for a rise to the top, but with conditions.

One of those conditions was that Menachem Begin had to go.

Chamish interviewed Benny Begin, Menachem’s son, who said his father’s war had been fought mostly to reverse a deal reached by Kissinger, Yitzhak Rabin and Syrian President Hafez al-Assad in 1975.

According to Chamish, Benny Begin said: “Assad wanted Israel off the Golan Heights, Rabin couldn’t deliver so Kissinger came up with a neat idea. Syria wanted Lebanon just as much, so let’s give it to her. We’ll ignite a civil war and Israel will allow Syrian troops in to bring peace.”

Others have detailed deals between Kissinger and the Israelis, including Sharon.

The Executive Intelligence Review recounted in a March 1, 1986, special report that Sharon, Kissinger and Israeli crime boss Meshulam “Meshuggeneh” Riklis were involved in a series of major real estate swindles in the occupied West Bank that stole land from Palestinians to build controversial Jewish settlements in the region.

[END OF QUOTING]

And number three:

[QUOTING same reference. By Edward W. Miller who is a retired cardio-thoracic surgeon who lives in California:]

CITIZENS WANT HENRY INDICTED

Henry may someday be called to answer for his crimes.

On May 18, 1999, in Toronto, Canada, 40 demonstrators marched into the Sheraton to interrupt a Diners Club luncheon honoring former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. Many were from Toronto Action for Social Change, a human-rights group.

Despite the wary Kissinger changing his venue at the last minute, the demonstrators found their way into the Sheraton lobby carrying large pictures of Kissinger with a huge blood-stained banner reading: “Remember Kissinger’s crimes: Cambodia, Laos, Iran, Kurds, Vietnam, Chile, Greece, Argentina, East Timor, Brazil, Apartheid.”

The demonstrators read aloud testimonies of torture victims, shouting: “Has anybody seen this man?” They leafleted the startled luncheon guests while blocking the escalator to the grand ballroom.

Soon, police arrived to remove the demonstrators.

CITIZENS’ ARREST

Amidst the ensuing pushing, shoving, dragging and throwing of the protesters by police and security guards, the leaders repeatedly pleaded with the officers to act on their “citizen’s arrest” of Kissinger under the Canadian War Crimes Act.

The police dragged leaders Matthew Behrens, Mandy Hiscocks, Brent Patterson and William Taylor up an escalator and into a police van.

At 52 Division headquarters the four were strip-searched and held for several hours. Meanwhile, Kissinger skipped the country.

In court on March 8, 2000, the four members of Toronto Action for Social Change were repeatedly frustrated in their defense by Justice of the Peace Madam Napier. Napier interrupted their testimonies, insulted them, questioned their competence and stated that “evidence of war crimes is irrelevant.”

In the court’s split decision, Behrens and Taylor were found guilty and given one year’s probation. Hiscocks and Patterson were found not guilty.

Weeks before the attempted arrest, Canadian activists had written Lloyd Axworthy, Canada’s minister of foreign affairs, regarding Kissinger’s impending visit.

Axworthy replied months later on Nov. 26, 1999: “Your support for the cause of human rights is highly commendable... however, Mr. Kissinger has never been indicted for such actions and the Government of Canada does not regard him as a war criminal.”

[END OF QUOTING]

Ah, indeed, we are continually startled at both the cunning and the shrewdness of the adversary.

As we effort to get our program accepted, we find interference at every turn.

Instead of the Treasury Department or even the IMF negating our “package” the “rumors” are simply sprinkled amply around every political gathering that everyone should “beware” of those GAIA people because “they don’t really have anything...”. This is received, by the time the old U.S. Ambassador comes for a SPECIAL visit, as an interesting denial of the people—not literally, the asset.

It is fine, for the ultimate test is that the feedback is that if we are able to find some gold, then certainly the agreements can be “worked”. The “people” say they can do it—and, if they can, then the working program can be handled privately and quietly—which has been our demand from upstart. The next necessity is to protect the holders.

This is... well, er,—this is an experience. It is very definitely “an experience”.

I’ll keep sharing some of these special articles until I get the entropy stack of “must shares” diminished somewhat. Commander has other fish to fry, I’m confident.

Good afternoon, DJE

The News Desk

By John & Jean Ray

THE COLLAPSING STOCK MARKET

The Offshore Advantage Newsletter,

By Terry L Neal (2001-Issue #4)

What was the real trigger that caused the U.S. stock market to take the current dive that's wiped out the index gains made in the markets for the past three years? Is there a story behind the story that we are simply not hearing? If there is, is it an important one? And, in the end do we really need or want to know the truth?

For months now I have waited for a better journalist than I, and for those better informed and at the source, to tell the story behind the headlines of the recent market slump. I have spoken with the presidents of banks and other financial institutions from Switzerland, Canada, Sweden, the Caribbean and so forth, and they all know the answer and openly discuss it amongst themselves.

For those of us who live and work offshore it is hard to understand how it is possible that a story this big has not been reported. The U.S. media and their international counterparts are either ignorant of the moves made by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and the subsequent disastrous effects it has had on the markets, or they are simply afraid to engender retribution from this monolithic and oppressive institution of which even the U.S. Congress appears completely intimidated. Either way, it does not bode well for an informed and free press.

Of course there are many legitimate reasons for the securities markets to slip—aside from the huge negative slam for which the IRS is recently responsible, but on balance virtually all the senior financial players with whom I've spoken tend to agree that the current market downturn was triggered by the Final Withholding Regulations and the Qualified Intermediary (QI) rules distributed in 2000 and implemented by the IRS effective January 1, 2001.

These onerous regulations require that foreign financial institutions provide the IRS with extensive information about foreign investors in the United States and require full reporting on activities of U.S. persons' banking and investing activities outside the United States—or else!

No other country has ever displayed the outright conceit and deceit of the United States government and the IRS on a magnitude of this order. Can one even imagine the reaction of a U.S. financial institution to the government of South Africa for example, were they to require the same thing from them?

The great myth of the stock markets is that they are so complex that only insiders and the talking heads on the financial newscasts and the expert journalists of specific newspapers can make sense of market movements. It is, however, axiomatic that individual stocks and entire markets move up when there are more buyers than sellers and they move down when there are more sellers than buyers. With this in mind consider the following.

During the latter half of 2000 I heard one particular bank president in Switzerland say they were selling U.S. securities at the rate of $2 billion a day in order to reduce the reporting requirements staring them in the face come the new year. A senior vice president with another large world bank told me that they expected to close out 90% of their U.S. accounts by the end of the first quarter of 2001. Many in the international marketplace now feel compelled to reduce their positions in U.S. markets because of the overwhelmingly powerful IRS and other U.S. regulators and their devil-may-care attitude about foreign investment.

Former chief economist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Richard Rahn, says these regulations "have caused a massive withdrawal of foreign investment from the United States over the last few months, further depressing our stock markets."

It is all too obvious that anything that discourages foreign investment is going to have a seriously adverse effect on prices and this in turn will effect the entire economy right down to Johnny Lunchbucket and Susie Homemaker. In recent years, foreign capital inflows have been perhaps the important factor in bidding up stock prices. Now, this capital is moving elsewhere. And why is that? Because of an overreaching and draconian IRS.

From January 1, 2001, financial institutions in countries which haven't had their know-your-customer rules "approved by the IRS" won't be able to be Qualified Intermediaries and may incur U.S. sanctions if they don't identify all their customers to the IRS. The King of Nations has thus spoken and everyone is in a dither.

If a country and an institution is deemed to be a Qualified Intermediary they must identify its U.S. customers to the IRS and must withhold tax from payments to U.S. citizens if required to do so by the IRS.

The IRS procedure for obtaining approval is set out in Revenue Procedure 2000-12. It states: "The IRS will not enter into a qualified intermediary (QI) withholding agreement that provides for the use of documentary evidence obtained under a country's know-your-customer rules if it has not received the know-your-customer practices and procedures for opening accounts and responses to 18 specific questions listed in the revenue procedure."

So what is the reaction of foreign governments to these new overwhelmingly unfair U.S. requirements? They are simply faced with doing what the U.S. wants them to do or their U.S. dollar correspondent accounts may be frozen. Now this is a particularly curious development since the International Monetary Fund, the puppet of the Federal Reserve, has convinced the majority of the governments around the world to get rid of their worthless gold reserves in favor of those valuable U.S. dollars. And, were the ability to trade in U.S. currencies withheld, many foreign economies could simply collapse. At the present time it is estimated that as much as 2/3rds of the reserves in central banks around the world are held in U.S. dollars! An incredibly scary thought—many or most of the world's economies are hanging on U.S. policy and its fiat currency. (Money backed by nothing other than the "good faith" and integrity of the U.S. government.)

So is it bad to have U.S. regulators and the IRS in quasi control of much or most of the financial world and able, willing, and aggressively engaged, in snooping on private citizens in a way not unlike the former Soviet Union? Let us not forget the prophetic words of Lord Acton: "Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

There are legal options. Moving assets into tax-deferred structures that invest in European securities are one such concept. Holding investments denominated in other currencies, such as the Euro, Pound Sterling, etc., is another. There are many more....

[JR: The Elitist banksters orchestrated these invasive rules to know and control all investments, financial and currency transactions and to better manipulate governments and the lives of the people, both already overextended in debt. Globalization is well established already but the people have yet to realize it. It seems effective 1/1/01 the IRS, the enforcement arm of the Federal Reserve banksters, have expanded their extortion rackets globally for total control of world currencies, Central Bank reserves and even private investments [and purposely wreck the market (?)]. Now which minority group has "their chosen people" in such strategic positions of controlling the Federal Reserve, IMF, WB, BIS, et al., most of the world's Central Banks and all money transactions worldwide? Think about it. They don't have to be elected to office by the people when they control the money and make their own rules. Remember, when you control the money, you control governments.]

CHINA'S QIAN WARNS U.S. NOT TO FUEL 'FLAME OF WAR' OVER TAIWAN

By Blair Pethel, Bloomberg News, 3/23/01

Washington—U.S. advanced-weapon sales to Taiwan would heighten tensions with China and may spark "a great flame" of hostility in the region, China's foreign policy chief warned.

While Vice Premier Qian Qichen praised the U.S. desire for a peaceful solution to tensions across the Taiwan Straits, he said the Bush administration should not provide Taiwan with weapons that would better equip the island to defend itself.

"If weapons were sold to that region, it would be like adding fuel to the flame," Qian told the U.S.-China Business Council in Washington. "There's already a spark there. If you pour oil and fuel over the spark, the spark will turn into a great flame. We don't want to see the flame of war there."

The Bush administration has signaled it may sell Taiwan destroyers equipped with the Aegis missile-tracking system, over Beijing's objections.

China considers Taiwan a renegade province, and Qian questioned the U.S. commitment to a "one-China" policy.

He said the U.S. "has reiterated time and again that it adheres to the one-China policy; in other words, Taiwan is part of China."

"Therefore, to sell weapons to part of the territory of another sovereign state, whether the weapons are defensive or offensive, won't stand," he said to the business council, a group promoting greater commercial integration.

President George W. Bush yesterday pledged to Qian the U.S. will respect a 20-year-old covenant to reduce weapons sales to Taiwan, although Bush said he hasn't decided whether to sell Taiwan the advanced destroyers whose radar can detect cruise missiles.

That possibility has raised Beijing's ire because the technology would render its offensive weapons trained on Taiwan much less effective.

[JR: If the Bush administration can establish a firm presence in Southeast Asia through the Philippines, we may do a turnabout and sell those missile-tracking destroyers to Taiwan. If we speak with false faces, China is going to see through the lies and you can expect the worst for the U.S. and its citizens. We can't play one side against another without getting caught up in our own intrigues.]

ANALYSIS: U.S., CHINA DON'T NEED TO CLASH

By Martin Sieff, Virtual New York, 3/20/01

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The dynamics of domestic politics in China and the United States are intersecting in grim ways, putting both countries on a collision course over Taiwan.

Chinese Vice Premier Qian Qichin visited President George W. Bush in the White House seeking to dissuade him from selling state-of-the-art U.S. weapons, including Aegis radar-system destroyers, to Taiwan. He looks unlikely to succeed.

Meanwhile, China is pushing ahead rapidly with a massive build up of ground-to-ground, ground-to-air, and ground-to-sea missiles to establish its own military superiority over the 100-mile wide Taiwan Strait. The clear aim of such forces is to threaten or intimidate the offshore island of 23 million people from declaring full independence....

The United States is the dominant nation of the Western Hemisphere and within NATO, the Atlantic Alliance. China is the rising superpower in East Asia.

In the short term, the rise of China looks likely to bring it into conflict with Vietnam, its historic enemy of the past millennium, and eventually with Russia. There are no such inevitable conflicts demanded by geography or centuries of history with the United States. Russia's vastly under-populated and underdeveloped Siberian and Far East regions are the obvious eventual area of expansion for China's mushrooming population of more than 1.3 billion, which is desperate to find adequate energy resources, other raw materials and living area. And Siberia is rich in all of them.

In the long run, only India in Asia—almost as populous and with a very large and growing highly educated middle class and its own effective nuclear, space, and cybernetics industries—looks likely to match China as a regional superpower.

Japan, with a virtually no population growth, a largely contented, prosperous population and a tiny island homeland, highly vulnerable to wartime blockade or nuclear attack, shows no desire to stand in China's way. But it is the United States, not India or Russia, which Chinese military planners now see as the power most determined to block China's rise to superpower status.

And in Washington too, a remarkable number of highly influential strategists, think-tank foreign-policy analysts and special interests, believe China will be the superpower adversary the United States must contain over the next half century.

They believe a superpower contest with China will define the next 50 years, just as two world wars with Germany dominated American foreign and military policies in the first half of the 20th Century, and the Cold War with the Soviet Union dominated the second half of the century.

Both views are simplistic, moralistic and based on ignorance of the complexities of life in the other nation. But as relations between the two Pacific Rim giants deteriorate, especially over Taiwan, they are already being embraced as obvious truth on both sides. The Chinese find themselves facing loud, moralistic and—in their eyes—unfair criticisms from the United States government, Congress and private pressure groups on a whole range of issues. The Chinese believe that Americans lecture them endlessly about their record on human rights, about their repression of Christian Churches that do not accept state authorization and about their policies in Tibet.

It is hard for many Chinese policy makers to accept that many of these issues are not official U.S. policy but are often pursued by private groups in defiance of the wishes of previous U.S. administrations. Not long ago, hundreds of thousands of people turned out in Central Park in New York City to hear the Dalai Lama, the spiritual leader of Tibetan Buddhists. Chinese analysts knew that no meeting on such a scale would be feasible anywhere in the entire vast area of China without the approval of the Beijing government.

Therefore it was hard for them to avoid the conclusion that the U.S. government deliberately approved the meeting to stir up anti-Chinese popular sentiment.

An even more sinister conclusion, apparently reached by some, was that powerful and wealthy political, military and business elements in the United States orchestrated such activity and that the U.S. government of the day—the Clinton administration—was powerless to stop them. Similarly, U.S. expressions of concern over the environmental costs of the gigantic Three Gorges Dam project are not taken seriously by virtually any senior Chinese official....

Americans in general are ignorant of the details and subtleties of the 1972 Shanghai Communiqué that has been the bedrock of good Sino-American relations over the past quarter century.

Americans overwhelmingly see Taiwan as a long-established U.S. ally and independent democracy. They do not realize that Chinese see it instead as an integral part of historic China that was artificially cut off from the rest of the country by Japanese aggression in 1895 and by the politics of the Cold War over the past half century....

China does not have a national ideology comparable to Soviet Communism after 1917—or even, of Mao's Communist regime after 1949. For their part, the American people show no interest or appetite for foreign wars or conquest. The Korean and Vietnam wars—now respectively over for close to half a century and a quarter of a century—removed any desire they had for any serious military adventures on the Asian mainland.

But some American strategists, conditioned by the habits of half a century of confrontation with the Soviet Union, have already singled out China as the rising superpower fated to challenge America's global dominance. Current Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld and his deputy Paul Wolfowitz have shown themselves particularly susceptible to such views. And some Chinese military planners and diplomats, their patience long exhausted by endless American lectures on everything from the Three Gorges Dam to the Dalai Lama, believe the U.S. government in Washington manipulates all such protests like a spider manipulating its web....

Major U.S. arms companies want to be free to make lucrative arms sales to Taiwan. The Taiwanese themselves have powerful friends, lobbyists and influence in Washington.

In Beijing too, international tensions can serve domestic political—and other—interests. Prime Minister Zhu Rongji has championed China's entry into the World Trade Organization and continuing free market economic policies. But he has failed to stave off massive social and economic problems, and the threat of a major financial meltdown now looms over the banks of Shanghai....

The United States and China could still settle their differences over Taiwan, as Britain led by Margaret Thatcher secured the future status of Hong Kong under Chinese sovereignty. Once that issue was out of the way, China could grow in power and influence for 50 or 100 years without coming into conflict with any significant U.S. interest in Asia.

But if Beijing and Washington cannot defuse their differences and misunderstandings over Taiwan, then the warnings and military planning options developed by hard-liners on both sides could rapidly become self-fulfilling prophecies. Both the Chinese and American peoples would pay a fearsome price for those mistakes.

[JR: The think-tank strategists and political analysts in D.C. foresee fifty years of struggle between China and the U.S. This would follow the pattern of past programmed wars and their cold wars. China has wisely excluded herself from the Western sphere of influence but used the U.S. to gain admittance to the WTO. China does not trust the West and knows the evil policies that move them to betrayals. She has been a victim of such, especially by England. China is strong militarily and its people are trained and disciplined to follow and serve the dictates of their party rulers. Most Americans are not disciplined and are ignorant of the issues that divide Taiwan and China. Most wouldn't be concerned if Taiwan lost her independence and became a part of China again. The planers in Washington care because it's one way to force our presence in Southeast Asia. Wonder what the planned face-off will be named to rally us behind the flag—Operation Dragon Slayer or Operation Warlords?]

U.S. TOLD TO MAKE CHINA ITS NO. 1 ENEMY

By Martin Kettle (Washington),
The Guardian—UK, 3/24/01

A historic shift of emphasis in United States military deployment from Europe to Asia, with China supplanting Russia as America's principal foe, is at the heart of the Bush administration's long awaited defence strategy review, according to reports in Washington.

Outlines of the potentially epochal rethink of the U.S.'s global strategic priorities were given to President George Bush by his defence secretary Donald Rumsfeld at a private meeting at the White House on Wednesday, the Washington Post reported yesterday.

"The president was complimentary, he appreciated the policy discussion, and gave the indication that the topics were indeed what he had in mind," a Pentagon official told the paper.

More than 50 years after the struggle to deter the Soviet Union in Europe became the centrepiece of U.S. military strategy in the aftermath of the Second World War, the Rumsfeld review has concluded that the Pacific Ocean should now become the most important focus of U.S. military deployments, with China now perceived as the principal threat to American global dominance.

The review says, in effect, that Washington should abandon the long-standing doctrine that the U.S. military must always be prepared to fight two major world conflicts simultaneously, the reports quote officials as saying.

By elevating China to the status of global enemy number one, the review clearly foreshadows an American turn away from Europe, or at least from the levels of U.S. engagement and attention which have existed for the lifetime of most Europeans.

Mr. Bush ordered the strategy review immediately on taking office. It is the most important of three complementary reviews intended to shape U.S. military priorities in the 21st Century. The other two are on nuclear weapons and missile defence options, and on service pay and conditions.

The huge distances involved in the Pacific mean that the Pentagon must give additional priority to “long-range power projection”, the report says.

This means putting fresh resources into airlift capacity to enable the U.S. to move troops, vehicles and weapons many thousands of miles from bases in America to the frontline in Asia at short notice.

The report says the threat from hostile missiles is likely to become so serious that the U.S. can no longer afford to risk its largest and most expensive ships, the Nimitz-class aircraft carriers, in forward positions. As a result, the navy will be told to stop building big ships and to concentrate on speed and maneuverability, including a new generation of smaller carriers, to avoid them becoming targets.

The threat from weapons of mass destruction, such as nuclear, chemical and biological weapons, against American military targets means that U.S. allies may begin to question the advisability of allowing Washington to have bases in their countries, the Pentagon suggests. The report says this is another reason why long-range supply capacity needs to be increased.

The review does not make recommendations about particular weapons systems, but there is no doubt in Washington that missile defence shields will form a central part of the new strategy.

Other key elements of what would be, in effect, a rearming of the U.S. military are likely to include a greater role for long-range bombers and for unmanned aircraft. The F-22 fighter programme is likely to face cutbacks, though there is speculation that it will not be scrapped.

The sweep of the review is so comprehensive and its conclusions so radical that the publication of the final report later this year is likely to set off a whole series of turf wars within the U.S. military, as the armed services scabble for influence and funding in the new era.

Washington’s decision to turn more of its guns and missiles towards China came as it was confirmed that a senior colonel in the Chinese people’s liberation army has defected to the U.S. while visiting as part of a military delegation. The defection, which apparently took place at the end of last year or in January, involved an unnamed officer in the foreign affairs department of the army general staff.

[JR: The EU Force along with NATO can cover conflicts in Europe—and Russia is no longer considered a threat so the U.S. has to identify a new enemy number one to justify completely revamping the military. Identifying a major new enemy is designed to convince the general public that a totally new type of warfare has now become necessary, forcing an increase in the defense budget and help promote the need for the Nuclear Defense Shield.]

WATER, THE LOOMING SOURCE OF WORLD CONFLICT

Yahoo News, 3/20/01

GENEVA (AFP)—Demand for clean water, caused by surging population growth, environment abuse and poor water management, is becoming a dangerous source of friction in many parts of the world, especially the Middle East, experts say.

The peril is being spelt out for World Water Day, a UN-sponsored event Thursday that is appealing for better international cooperation and smarter use of a precious and declining resource.

“Just as war over fire sparked conflict among early prehistoric tribes, wars over water may result from current tensions over this resource in the next few years,” says a report by the consultancy PricewaterhouseCoopers.

“The Near and Middle East are the zones where there is the greatest threat,” it said.

“Two-thirds of the water consumed in Israel comes from the occupied territories, while nearly half of the Israeli water installations are located in areas that were not part of its pre-1967.”

Friction between Lebanon and Israel rose sharply last week after the Jewish state accused its northern neighbour of seeking to divert water from a river that feeds the Sea of Galilee, Israel’s prime source of fresh water.

Other big flarepoints in the region are Turkey’s plan to build dams to store the waters of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, a scheme that is strongly opposed by Syria and Iraq; the Iraq-Iran row over the Shatt al-Arab waterway; and disputes over the use of water from the Nile, embroiling Egypt, Sudan and Ethiopia.

UN figures suggest there are around 300 potential conflicts over water around the world, arising from squabbles over river borders and the drawing of water from shared lakes and aquifers.

In southern Asia, the biggest problem is the India-Pakistan dispute over the Indus, while in central Asia “there are high risks of conflict” between Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan over the Amu Daria and Syr Daria rivers and the already depleted Aral Sea, the PricewaterhouseCooper study said.

In Africa, the Chobe, a tributary of the Zambesi, has become a cause of tension between Botswana, Mozambique, Zambia and Zimbabwe, while there have been border incidents between Mauritania and Senegal over control of the Senegal River.

The forces behind such disputes are clear, according to the World Health Organisation (WHO), which pinpoints fast-growing population in poorer countries and water resources that are often squandered or polluted.

“Around one-sixth of the 6.1 billion people in the world lack access to improved sources of water, while 40 percent are without access to improved sanitation services,” it says. Each year, 3.4 million people, mostly children, die from water-related diseases.

A UN-backed panel, the World Commission on Water, estimated last year that investment in water will have to double to $180 billion a year to meet targets. Only the private sector can muster capital on this scale, it said.

World Water Day seeks this year to encourage awareness of “simple but inexpensive” measures to improve the cleanliness of water in the developing world.

One of its focuses is the tragic problem of water contamination in Bangladesh, where shallow wells have been tainted by naturally occurring arsenic.

[JR: Water has been given very high priority by the UN Elite, particularly in their sponsorship of World Water Day. This is a move by the UN to declare water as a precious resource, which will need the protection of the UN. Whoever controls the water, controls the world. The UN legitimized their land grabs by declaring an Earth Day, which ushered in the confiscation of all open lands and placed them under the authority of the UN Biodiversity Plan. Since the UN was formed on the Zionist principles and plans for ultimate world control, how much water will Israel be allowed to claim to fulfill her Zionist needs? Want to bet its all the land on both sides of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers which will include Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Turkey and she won’t leave out Jordan, Egypt and eventually Saudi Arabia.]

RUSSIA: NATO HAS TURNED KOSOVO INTO ‘A BREEDING GROUND OF TERRORISM’

By Toby Westerman, WorldNetDaily.com, 3/22/01

Warning that the military clashes occurring in the small Balkan nation of Macedonia could “spill over... into the rest of the Balkan Peninsula,” Russian President Vladimir Putin sent a letter of support to Yugoslav President Vojislav Kostunica, promising diplomatic and military cooperation.

Putin’s letter was delivered by Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov, who is currently visiting heads of state in the Balkans, the area of the world known as the “powder keg of Europe”.

Putin declared that “decisive political action—and, if necessary, the use of force” can avert a wider Balkan war. He also said that Russia would be willing to join “Europe and the United States in diplomatic—and possibly military—efforts” to end the crisis in the region.

Putin’s remarks were carried by the Voice of Russia World Service, the official broadcasting service of the Russian government.

On Monday, Ivanov blamed NATO for the present instability in the region, stating that NATO had turned Kosovo—the nominally Yugoslav province which it has occupied since the end of the 1999 air war—“into a breeding ground of terrorism”.

The prime minister of the Republic of Macedonia, Ljubco Georgievski, whose second largest city is currently under attack by ethnic Albanian separatists, declared in a recent press interview that the current round of bloodshed in the Balkans is part of an “organized and long-planned aggression”.

The ethnic Albanian guerrilla forces operating in Macedonia refer to themselves as the National Liberation Army. Their numbers are estimated to range from 500 to 2,000 fighters.

Many observers consider the fighters in Macedonia to be linked to separatists in Kosovo and the south of Serbia, who are bound in a common struggle for the eventual goal of a “Greater Albania.”

The National Liberation Army’s source of support is Kosovo, according to Georgievski.

“Logistics, commanders, organization comes from Kosovo,” he said. Georgievski also claimed that former Kosovo Liberation Army personnel are now engaged in the fighting in Macedonia.

Georgievski’s remarks were reported by Radio Bulgaria International, the official broadcasting service of the Bulgarian government.

While acknowledging NATO's political support for the government of Macedonia, Georgievski echoed Ivanov's criticism of the alliance.

"We want them [NATO] to clearly admit" that the current struggle in Macedonia is an "overflowing of the Kosovo crisis".

"The international community hesitates to admit that fact," Georgievski stated, "because it would mean... its policy has failed."

Georgievski also raised the specter that past support of the ethnic Albanians in Kosovo has had the unintended effect of establishing an Islamic fundamentalist, Taliban-like presence close to the heart of Europe.

NATO and the international community, according to Georgievski, have been "fighting only to create a new type of Taliban. Western democracies created new Talibans, and that... [will] become one of Europe's future problems."

Negotiations are out of the question, according to Georgievski, stating that his nation has "only one will—terrorism to be destroyed once and for all."

The regional powers of Greece and Bulgaria have already provided military hardware to Macedonia. As to the use of foreign troops in the conflict, Georgievski stated that he did not believe that Macedonia presently needed foreign soldiers. He did acknowledge that if his nation did require such aid, troops should be supplied from the international community as a whole, not from an individual country.

The probability of NATO or the international community coming to Macedonia's aid with troops is, at present, slight. Both the EU and NATO are loath to intervene in the Macedonian struggle, and there is even disagreement as to the analysis of the strength of the ethnic Albanian forces in Macedonia.

According to the Radio Bulgaria report, UN special envoy for the Balkans Carl Bildt expressed disagreement with NATO Secretary General George Robertson over the numbers and organizational structure of the separatists. While Robertson sees the separatists in Macedonia as a small, relatively isolated group, Bildt warns of a "fairly well-organized" force that controls "an entire region" of Macedonia.

Bildt also observed that Macedonia's army is "badly armed," and heavily dependent upon the Albanian minority for manpower. Approximately 40 percent of the Macedonian army is comprised of ethnic Albanians. [JR: NATO and Europe may be loath to see the dangerous situation developing between Macedonia and the Albanian Liberation Army but the Russians, the Greeks and the Bulgarians are not. This "liberation" army was trained and funded by our own CIA to create yet another area of instability, violence and political unrest. The U.S., NATO and Europe are no better than the mercenaries they use to create civil wars and fulfill their plans for the takeover of nations.]

RIGHT-WING'S CRITICISM OF IMF GETS LOUDER

By Gumisai Mutume, Dawn/InterPress Service, 3/19/01

WASHINGTON—These are not good days for the IMF as critics, especially those on the right of the political spectrum, attack the international financial institution hoping their criticisms will spur the new U.S. administration to act against the agency.

Much of the attention of the critics is focused on the giant rescue packages that the IMF recently extended to Turkey and Argentina, which are still to produce economic stability in the two countries.

Argentina's standby arrangement of $20 billion was approved in March 2000 while the Turkish arrangement was approved in December 1999 with an additional $7.5-billion stand-by credit made available last December.

The IMF went to Buenos Aires last week to meet with government officials over how to pull Argentina out of a 32-month recession as warning bells ring of impending economic problems. Turkey on the other hand, is recovering from a recent financial crisis that saw its currency lose a third of its value.

When Turkey's new economic minister, Kemal Dervis knocked on U.S. Treasury Secretary Paul O'Neill's door earlier this month, the U.S. administration refused to negotiate any new bailout packages through the IMF and noted that Turkey would be limited, for now, to drawing from what remains from the last arrangement.

The U.S. is the biggest shareholder in the IMF holding nearly 18 percent in shares and the IMF is generally considered a tool of the U.S. Treasury.

"There are plenty of good economists at the IMF and I do not have a problem with them, but the problem lies with policy makers at the highest level," says free market proponent and economist David DeRosa, who is opposed to IMF bailouts and its policy advice to emerging markets.

DeRosa last week released a book titled In Defence of Free Capital Markets in which he criticizes aggressive interventions such as those carried out by the IMF in times of currency and emerging market meltdowns.

Widespread dissatisfaction with the way the IMF handled the 1997 Asian crisis and subsequent financial crises has prompted calls for reform of the institution and, more grandiosely, the global financial architecture.

"The question is whether IMF policy has changed with respect to its mission as the lender of last resort," says DeRosa.

"In the days of managing director Michel Camdessus, the IMF transformed itself into a bailout charity, dishing out billions to Mexico, Korea, Southeast Asian nations, Brazil, Russia and a great many other countries in crisis."

Those opposed to IMF bailouts, such as DeRosa, see O'Neill's reluctance to provide any new financing to Turkey as an indication that the new administration will not resort to bailouts so opposed by Republican conservatives.

They are also encouraged by a White House announcement that law professor Kenneth Dam who has been critical of the IMF and its bailouts, will be nominated to the U.S. Treasury Department's number two position as deputy secretary.

Another key nomination in the Treasury is that of John Taylor as under-secretary for international affairs. He once called for the scrapping of the IMF and has indicated his dislike of bailouts. Critics of bailouts charge that they undermine one of the fundamentals of a free economy by overriding market mechanisms.

They say bailouts are expensive, bureaucratic and cut investors' losses rather than allow them to bear full responsibility for their bad decisions leaving the obligation to repay the subsequent debt to that country's taxpayers. They say bailouts also hinder free-market reforms.

"To the extent that the IMF steps in and provides money, reform will not be forthcoming," notes the Cato

Institute, a pro-free-market think tank. "Indeed, despite a post-crisis recovery in some Asian countries, fundamental structural reform has not taken place in any of the Asian countries."

In its policy recommendations to the U.S. Congress on the IMF, the institute says the U.S. should reject future additional funding requests from the IMF, avoid giving the Fund new missions and eventually withdraw the country from the institution.

Cato Institute chairman William Niskanen, who headed former U.S. president Ronald Reagan's Council of Economic Advisers, says U.S. membership in the IMF "is like being a limited partner in a financial firm that makes high risk loans, pays dividends at a rate lower than on Treasury bills, and makes large periodic cash calls for additional funding."

A prominent feature of recent IMF rescues has been their sheer size, the Fund has arranged more than $180 billion in bailout packages since 1997.

[JR: This article indicates the U.S. holds nearly 18 percent in shares of the IMF. If that is the case, then why is the U.S. assessed 25% of the IMF, WB and even the UN's funding budgets? The reason the IMF bailouts are ineffective is because too much of the money goes for payoffs to government officials who had allowed the collapse of their country's currencies and economies. This situation invites into the IMF and WB environment certain "carpet-baggers" who step in and steal these country's assets, natural resources and businesses at incredibly low prices. Leaving the people nothing but debt, higher taxes and poverty. These countries have been cannibalized to the point of economic extinction, thanks to the policies of our Federal Reserve, headed by Alan Greenspan and his fellow cannibals. The new reformers appointed to the U.S. Treasury have a major challenge ahead, given the fact that the IMF/WB payoffs are in American dollars and are debts owed to the cannibals by us, the taxpayers. The IMF/WB should be eliminated, period—GAIA is the only viable solution to the world's economic problems.]

IN BED WITH SHARON

The Guardian—UK, 3/22/01

Ariel Sharon's success in Washington is a setback for the Palestinians and a challenge for next week's Arab summit in Jordan. The Israeli prime minister, once ostracised by the U.S. and famously described as "an obstacle to peace" by James Baker, was given a statesman's reception this time around. President George Bush and Colin Powell, his secretary of state, agreed that Israel's security concerns must come first, that a Clinton-style comprehensive Middle East peace deal was not worth pursuing, and even perhaps that Yasser Arafat not be given a White House audience until he definitively halts the intifada violence.

Mr. Sharon astutely pressed all the Bush buttons. He stressed the importance of regional stability (to Mr. Bush this means U.S. oil supplies). He underlined the need to counter international terrorism (another Bush priority). He worried about weapons proliferation, particularly in respect of Iran (a developing Bush fixation). He gave a big thumbs-up to Mr. Bush's pet project, missile defence (and prospectively procured a share of the hardware). And, echoing Dubya's briefing papers, he warned of the continuing dangers posed to all by Saddam Hussein's Iraq. Mr. Sharon's message was both clear and clever. In all these key areas of U.S. concern, Israel was not only America's ally. It was, to adapt Madeleine Albright's phrase, America's indispensable friend. Lost amid this deft flummery was unambiguous U.S. insistence that Mr. Sharon end the military and economic blockade of the Occupied Territories, hand over tax receipts due to the Palestinian Authority, halt further settlement expansion (as in Har Homa now), and resume the dialogue. Instead, Mr. Bush says he will not "force peace". That suits Mr. Sharon just fine.

Arab leaders must act quickly, if that is not too absurd a concept, to set aright this diplomatic capsizal. One immediate step should be the disbursement of the $1 billion in aid promised to the Palestinian Authority last autumn but largely still withheld. Another is concerted pressure for a UN stabilisation force in the Territories, a proposal Israel wants the U.S. to veto. The Arab summit might ask the EU to take the lead in the peace process. And, turning Israel's argument around, it could warn that if the U.S. truly expects Arab support for revised "smart" sanctions on Iraq and an end to regional connivance in Baghdad's oil smuggling, it had better take a harder look at the remoulded Mr. Sharon.

[JR: Sharon came here to dictate and reinforce the Zionist position against Arafat and the Palestinian people. The only hope for the Arab leadership is to form alliances that will challenge the U.S. position towards Israel. This should be their focus when they meet in Jordan. Sharon, despite his past atrocities was given a warm Israeli reception at our Zionist-run White House. How blatant can we get? They don't even hide the Zionist takeover anymore. Some Jews in Israel call Sharon the evil Israeli. I agree.]

UN REPORTS ONLY PLASTIC BOTTLES,
SUNLIGHT NEEDED TO PURIFY WATER

By Erica Bulman, News Day (AP), 3/22/01

GENEVA—A do-it-yourself technique of disinfecting water with sunlight and soft-drink bottles could save hundreds of thousands of lives a year, the World Health Organization said Thursday.

In a campaign to reduce deaths from unhealthy water in developing countries, the UN health agency is promoting a nearly cost-free process called Solar Water Disinfection, or SODIS.

Requiring only sunlight, empty plastic soft-drink bottles and a black surface, it costs almost nothing, said Martin Wegelin, a researcher at the Swiss Institute for Environmental Science and Technology.

The process is simple: Transparent bottles are filled with water and placed horizontally on a flat surface for about five hours. The heat and ultraviolet rays of the Sun kill illness-causing microorganisms in polluted water.

"Some 2.5 million people die from drinking unsafe water every year," said Richard Helmer, WHO's director of health and environment.

"They are unnecessary deaths since this method could provide them with safe drinking water. This is a highly reliable method that has been proven to work," he said.

The method is even more effective when the bottom half of the bottle is painted black or placed on a black sheet of corrugated iron or plastic, which absorbs more heat and kills more pathogens.

The simple process kills most microorganisms, but not all of them and should only be used in very hot countries where the sunlight is intense, WHO officials said.

More than a billion people drink unsafe water, the agency said in a report to mark World Water Day. A total of 3.4 million people, mostly children, die every year from water-related diseases from drinking, swimming in or washing clothes in polluted water.

Diseases include malaria, diarrhea and guinea worm. WHO urged the use of SODIS, chlorination and better hygiene as immediate means of improving water quality in developing countries. It said chlorination is another simple method that costs just a few cents a day.

"Even in conditions of very poor sanitation and hygiene, where people are collecting whatever water is available for their household supply, if the water is chlorinated [it] is improved," said Mark Sobsey, professor of environmental microbiology at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

WHO said chlorine could be added to both home and city reservoirs and was essential in refugee camps.

[JR: I always make "Sun tea" in a glass gallon container placed in the Sun during the summer so I don't know if I'm qualified to give an expert opinion. All our water in the U.S. contains pollutants, although it is a much greater problem in Third World countries. High temperatures can kill certain microorganisms but most deadly water-related diseases aren't usually affected. Chlorine makes the water clearer but doesn't rid the water of all pollutants even in filtration systems. I have to question why WHO is giving out this helpful advice given the fact they are an intricate part of the depopulation program of the UN. Could this be an indication that there are enough dead and dying people in the Third World now?]

BULLIES

WALL STREET JOURNAL, 3/19/01

We took note, a few weeks back, of all the federal grants now gushing out in the name of recently discovered good causes ("The Funding Fount," February 27). In particular, we noted the Office of Justice Programs (a division of the Justice Department), which hands out many millions annually for projects dealing with child sex abuse, violence against women, for agencies like the National Center for the Prosecution of Child Abuse or the Missing and Exploited Children's Program.

It now appears that the list of such government grants for causes anointed as the most urgent of our priorities is even more extensive than we could have supposed. We now know, for instance, that the Justice Department gave one high school a grant of $123,028 to look into the problem of bullying—that was for the year 1998—and in 1999 provided another $14,454 for further study. We know about this grant mainly because its recipient turns out to have been none other than Santana High, site of a shooting and killing spree by 15-year-old Charles Andrew Williams, said to have been a victim of bullies.

We'll leave aside, for the moment, all obvious comments on the efficacy of government funded studies in bullying, and focus instead on what grants like this say about the kind of social spending pouring out year after year, for cause after cause. We could pause to point out that the grant fever for surveys on bullying can't be surprising, what with a group like the National Association of Attorneys General compiling a "Task Force Report on a Legislative Response to Bullying".

After assiduous study, the task force reported its conclusion that legislation alone would not stop every bully from tormenting a peer. It also recommends that each school district institute a policy prohibiting harassment and intimidation—a suggestion that ought to send cold chills up the spine of anyone who has seen the chaos wrought in universities by just such programs.

With bullying studies all the rage—newly anointed urgent causes tend to have that effect—it isn't surprising to learn of Santana High's application for funds to deal with "a culture" of bullying. A total of $137,000 for one high school's survey into bullying may not seem much in a U.S. budget running to trillions. It does help explain, however, where some of this country's therapeutic obsessions or prosecutorial crusades originate.

Proponents may argue that these are all good and worthy causes. The problem, however, is that each cause soon becomes an industry from which individuals derive their incomes. And when that happens, something like the Mondale Act's funding for sex crimes metastasizes into monstrous abuses of prosecution and therapy by people who need to keep the funding stream flowing from Washington.

So with the bully industry aborning, we commend this phenomenon to the new Administration's budget investigators, or anyone seriously interested in delivering us from the madder aspects of the ever flowing funding fount. [JR: These federal grants that study the patterns of destructive behavior come right from such think tanks like the Stanford Research Center, established by the Tavistock Institute of England. These are the masters of mind control who manipulate our reactions and form our opinions. Our government has been studying the effects of school violence for over three years, yet these shootings continue. Is this a coincidence that this particular California school district has been the recipient of government grants and studies and has now had two school shootings in the past two weeks? Most responsible adults believe that the bullying and targeting of students is due to failed parenting and school administrators that are indifferent to the problems and concerns of their students. This can't continue because this lack of attention, love and concern is affecting all our children. It's time to get government-financed psychological studies and promotion of mind-altering drugs out of our schools.]

"GLOBAL TAX POLICE" UNDER SCRUTINY

CNSNews.com, 3/20/01

House Majority Leader Dick Armey (R-Texas), says Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development is trying to initiate a "global network of tax police" with an initiative that the organization believes will stop "harmful tax competition".

Armey wrote to Treasury Secretary Paul O'Neill requesting that he "re-evaluate" America's involvement in the initiative—which was supported by the Clinton administration. Confusing

"It is my understanding that career personnel are urging you to support the Clinton administration viewpoint on the grounds that the OECD initiative is needed to reduce tax evasion. This is a red herring. A global network of tax police is the wrong approach. Instead, the U.S. should shift entirely to a territorial system, the common sense notion that countries only tax income that is earned within their borders and also eliminate the double taxation of income that is saved and invested." Armey said in his letter to O'Neill.

"Bad economic policy is not the only reason to reject the OECD's initiative. Countries that are being persecuted for having attractive tax policies will have little incentive to cooperate in the prosecution of drug dealers, terrorists and other international criminals. Indeed, the OECD proposal likely will cause an increase in crime since some people may seek illegal income from things like money laundering," Armey said.

OECD contends it is trying to crack down on tax evasion.

"The OECD project has been mischaracterized as seeking to harmonize taxes at a high rate, as forcing countries to alter their tax structures, and as attacking legitimate tax planning undertaken through legal means. These characterizations of the project are not correct. The project does not challenge legal tax planning," according to an OECD statement.

Armey also believes the Paris organization's effort is "misguided."

"It is designed in effect to create a tax cartel for the benefit of a small handful of high-tax nations. These countries are seeking to impede the flow of global capital, and the U.S. economy with its comparatively attractive tax system will suffer if they succeed," Armey said.

But OECD contends that "the project seeks to impede tax cheating, to prevent wealthy taxpayers from illegally avoiding their share of the cost of infrastructure and public services in their country residence imposed by the tax law. The project is concerned primarily with the illegal tax practice [from a civil or criminal perspective] of failing to report income, and accordingly with regimes that facilitate this practice."

A Treasury Department spokesman said Monday that O'Neill had no comment on Armey's letter.

Daniel Mitchell, an economist with the Heritage Foundation, thinks OECD's initiative is "a direct threat to America's economic interests" and believes "international bureaucrats are seeking control of U.S. tax law."

"The United States is a low-tax country by industrial-world standards and our favorable tax treatment of foreign investment has made America a magnet for world capital. Needless to say, any effort to hinder or restrict tax competition between nations would undermine our competitive advantage," Mitchell said.

OECD, according to spokesman Nick Bray, does not want to dictate the tax policy of the United States.

"The claim that the OECD wants to dictate the United States tax policy is preposterous, ridiculous and absolute rubbish," Bray told CNSNews.com in a statement from Paris.

The United States is the largest member of OECD. [JR: The OECD sounds like another subversive ploy by the UN to get us all under its taxing net. The hook is to promote this as a plan for a fairer tax system and to control illegal money laundering, tax evasion and eliminate shelters that protect personal assets. It is not just to catch the big fish swimming in the oceans of money but all of us little fish as well. This is a drive for a uniform international tax system for the world, which will draw every country into the cesspool of the UN elite. I think it's time we swim clear and find a little pond to hide in.]

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Invest In Corporations Not The Stock Market

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #6:

The Value of an Aged Corporate Shell or "Shelf" Corporation

While many stock-market investors have recently discovered the meaning of the word "risk", it's too bad they never learned to invest in Nevada shell corporations, which continue to appreciate in value.

An aged corporate shell—commonly referred to as a "shelf" corporation, an indication that it has not been used, only put "on the shelf"—will generally increase substantially in value over time. This is because there are those who can benefit greatly by the ability to instantly get into business and yet have the ability to say that the corporation has been in business for some time.

Generally, the value of an aged "shelf" corporation is more than the amounts paid to keep it current, although there may be a significant difference between "bid" and "ask" due to the small size of the market. If you are the holder of such an aged corporation with no real activity in its history, you just might find that it has been a fair investment. The best way to sell such an entity is often by consignment, whereby the seller consents to pay a percentage of the sale price realized to a middleman (typically, a resident agent such as BCR) with good contacts in the market place. Unfortunately, many who have held such a gem of an investment have been taken advantage of by predatory middlemen, who typically offer only a few hundred dollars for a corporation that they turn around and sell for many thousands of dollars.

Some people acquire a number of newborn corporations specifically as an investment. If this sounds like something you would like to do, here are several steps you can take to maximize the value:

- Obtain an Employer Identification Number;
- Use nominee service so that there is no link to you personally;
- Open a (preferably no-fee) bank account for the corporation;
- File "zero income" (non-activity) tax returns every year;
- DO NOT TRANSACT ANY BUSINESS WITH THE CORPORATION.

A shelf corporation maintained in this manner typically carries a premium of $1,000 to $1,500 PER YEAR OF AGE, in addition to the initial costs of setting it up. As the maintenance costs are typically (at least, through Budget Corporate Renewals) less than $500 per year, everything included, you just might find investing in shelf corporations to be a very rewarding enterprise!

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
