

CONTACT

THE PHOENIX JOURNAL

Y2K—THE NEW MILLENNIUM

KNOWING TRUTH IS NOT ENOUGH, SUCCESSFUL CHANGE REQUIRES ACTION

VOLUME 32, NUMBER 3

NEWS REVIEW

$ 3.00

MAY 9, 2001

RP Business As Usual: Cons, Scams And Thefts

5/5/01—#1 (14-262)

RE: SATAN IS CERTAINLY ALIVE, WELL AND LIVING UP TO HIS REPUTATION OF "DUMP" ON PLANET EARTH, WHICH INCLUDES THE PHILIPPINES.

Hatonn—Most people will have no idea of the pandemonium and mayhem in Manila, Philippines as other hot spots take the spotlight around the globe. It is THE one which should take TOP notice. This government held, in the massive and well-supported pull-down-the-government coup attempt of this week.

There are a couple of things which make me quite sorry EACH of you readers couldn't have the ongoing "live the experience" in Manila, so you could see the workings as eyewitnesses.

A LONG WEEK FOR OUR TEAM

A major nasty coup was scheduled to pull down the now administration on Sunday last but the administration was prepared, the opposition not able to hit by surprise and the Sunday assault failed. So, the mayhem makers tried for the "big one" on Monday, May First (a meaningful day in the activities of Satan, et al.).

The assault on the government houses was extremely well planned and directed right down to the literal assault itself. I don't need to talk about the confusion because it was typical of any place where inciting to riot is a well-prepared game. I want to talk about the "Satanic Dumping Syndrome".

Major political leaders were arrested with a "State of Rebellion" proclaimed by the President (GMA).

One of the Senators who is a major "military" personage now claims he will only be "taken", if taken, "dead". Is this more dramatics? Well, Lady Miriam has said worse, including "If Erap is arrested (which he was) she was going to shoot herself—and then when she lost face over that one she said, "If he is arrested I will jump out of an airplane without a parachute." The public is suggesting she be made to keep that promise to the point of pushing her out of a plane. This is one outrageous person attached to a loudspeaker mouth.

Yesterday she had decided to not turn State's Evidence, pulled out her handy-dandy .45 pistol, laid it on her desk and said she would shoot anyone coming to arrest her. These are all done with great and loud proclamations to the media at every turn. Even her buddies are proclaiming her "insane". But, she just harangues more loudly that she is a top lawyer in constitutional law trained at such prestigious places as Harvard, Cambridge and parts U.S.A.

Her buddies are displeased with her because she makes their proclamations look even sillier than her own.

On that "fugitive" list for pending arrest are well-known "candidates" for senator, which are called "Senatorables". One is the former head of the Philippine National Police (PNP); others are the coup planners and some businessmen. It is not hard to figure out who those might well be.

Drugs were provided for the rabble leaders to cause them to commit violence and stupid actions under the direction of organized leadership right from the military, and offshoot military groups. They were also all carrying larger bottles of booze along with knives, machetes and guns (some homemade).

(Continued on page 2)

CONTACT
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126

FIRST-CLASS MAIL
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
BAKERSFIELD, CA
PERMIT NO. 758

FIRST CLASS MAIL

ALSO IN THIS ISSUE

Graduation: From Hell Into Cosmic Reality.....	page 4
Satan's Origin, History Revealed.....	page 8
The News Desk, by John & Jean Ray.....	page 13
Nevada Legislature—2001, by Ron Kirzinger.....	page 20

The participants in this so-called EDSA III were trucked in by trucks, jeepneys and busses. Stay tuned for the aftermath follow-up.

Now let us consider logistics for a minute. Some businessman or “men” met the cost of such massive organized payoffs and gathering. How hard would it be to guess even if you don’t know for sure?

It is someone with billions of dollars with which to “play”. It is one who is very definitely working in behalf of China and who is decidedly upset with the U.S. In addition this person had to have enough pull to organize a feeding program for 20,000-plus people a day and night. It is known that over 40,000 “Hot” meals were prepared and served at the gathering place along with a handout of “pesos” to individuals. Now, who might be able to organize and furnish that many meals?

Sure looks like someone who owns a big airline would have to be in charge—and there is only one big airline in the Philippines.

What has happened now? There are thousands of displaced people with NOTHING and no backup in Manila—abandoned. They can’t afford to eat; they are dispersed by law if more than five are found together within Metro Manila and immediate cities of what is “Greater Manila”. They cannot afford to go home because the coup failed and the promised pay did NOT come; the return home transports left angry and would not take the people home—and thus you have angry, hungry and homeless “children” wondering what happened.

The thing was so organized that dumptruck loads of “stoning” rocks were provided the rabble marchers who followed the trained “pipers”. Vehicles were turned over and set afire after being stripped and looted. Businesses, especially food stores were trashed and looted for “breakfast” on May One.

CONFIRMATION?

Oh, well, come hell or high-water the Ekkers had to meet visa requirements which come annually to a point where the country must be exited (at great expense) ON SCHEDULE WITH EXIT VISA CLEARANCE and a mandatory trip to “somewhere off-shore”.

Wow, all that was scheduled for Thursday the third. So all came down with a 4:30 a.m. get-up-and-go.

First, they were taken to International airport only to wait in line to find that they were at the WRONG AIRPORT. It seems PAL has its own terminal. So, speeding along they make it to the proper airport only to start the clearing process of two hours in every line possibly conceived and whereat a “fee” is extracted.

Finally, there is an arrival at “Immigration” only to be stopped for a “rip-off” attempt. The tickets were for the third but the visa clearance read the “2nd”. The lady was not going to accept such a discrepancy even though there is a “seven day” grace program. A supervisor, however, was nearby and since this had pulled all processing of anyone in the line, the man in charge very angrily just told her to accept the documents. Then she was annoyed because, for goodness sakes, the passport books were FULL already, as if they were stamped just to annoy this agent. She proceeded to give a full lecture on the matter of visas, extensions, etc., and she could easily see that the paperwork had been done through the proper departments THROUGH A TRAVEL AGENT (the largest in the Philippines). If you travel, DO NOT CUT CORNERS, FOR THAT CUTTING WILL BE DEARLY PAID FOR SOONER OR LATER.

By the time a breakfast was served and the “more” documents filled out, Hong Kong loomed ahead—and then a few hours more and you are put through the Hong Kong nightmare (but far more graciously) red-tape. Now you wait because the return trip is immediate so you WAIT. Next, you take a longer journey than the flight over—to the end of the airport where PAL has its boarding area. Keep in mind that you also had to hold in reserve an extra ticket out of Manila left “open” to make sure you are prepared to leave the Philippines if they decide to push you out. This is MANDATORY. This replaces “welfare”, it is supposed, except that the Philippines has retirement programs, pension plans and other small assistance programs—but they just don’t pay them. The going program, therefore, is con, scam and theft by whatever means is available, it appears from this observation deck.

So a little 737 craft finally shows up at the Hong Kong loading dock and does get loaded. Ekkers were positioned at the leading edge of the left wing.

After being handed more forms to fill out, the plane fills up and heads for the take-off runway behind a bunch of international planes. The left engine is leaking oil and when power is applied for takeoff the smoke bellows out of the same engine, up and over the wing. It was a rather unnerving experience in studying “boundary layer effect”. Fortunately, the show stopped when altitude was reached.

When reaching Manila it was noted that the dense smog level was at least 8 to 9 thousand feet deep and generally it was a relief to be on the ground wherever you found self.

But the most interesting thing was that at PAL terminal the place was too full of PAL aircraft to even allow the little 737 near the terminal. It was offloaded by portable stairs and a shuttle-bus was supplied to get passengers to the terminal. Now why would almost all of the PAL aircraft be parked there? It appeared all of the Big Fleet Liners were right there, parked. The little 737 was even assigned a special luggage pickup space while there were no other luggage movers doing anything.

It is interesting to note that the “better” flight food was loaded in Hong Kong—so just where did the food for those over 40-thousand “hot meals” come from? Has anyone noted that Mr. Lucio Tan has a lot of money and also owns the catering service for the airline, along with the airline? It is supposed that to meet the requirements during the EDSA days he had to run three full shifts at the preparation point and had to hold flights just to get the job done—IT APPEARS. Now it is catch-up time to get those flights back on line properly. This means that the names of the caterers and service vehicles had to be covered to prevent identification and then put back into service properly.

Just another interesting day in Manila? Yes, as least as interesting as the Hong Kong flu.

Is this a “for real” story? Oh, goodness, yes, a lot of the hotel staff went, checked in at EDSA, ate, stayed the required hour and collected 200 pesos ($4) or nothing, whichever came first as to supply and demand, and went their way. It was still a big lark going to the area of takeover. It never occurred to the people that there would actually be a problem with a bit of head bashing and rock pounding from the guy next door who wasn’t very good at stone throwing. Many were arrested for trashing businesses and looting. But the game stopped being funny by daylight.

Of the real ringleaders nabbed at street level, and booked, they ALL tested positive for both booze and drugs. They were totally glassy-eyed but in MEAN moods. They are quick to say now that they were paid with the drugs, booze AND money.

Now, people, I take your time to show you that this is the general mode of operation everywhere. The major powers and orchestrators in charge, i.e., the International Bankers and Intelligence agencies are absolutely livid over the fiasco. “Murder” is being discussed and intermingling agents are being tucked away.

There was a full plan to assassinate both former President Estrada and his son Jingoy, AND Mrs. President GMA. (Or so the story went.) The confusion is great but the facts are coming to the surface.

There are “notables” MISSING in the fray. One of the major politically public personalities missing during the days of assault and mayhem is former President Ramos—and very, very little is heard from former President Cory Aquino.

I can, yes, rerun the SPOTLIGHT article run before the 1998 election regarding what was SUPPOSED TO HAPPEN IN THAT ELECTION. You might find it even more interesting as to possibilities in what is now taking place.

It also may well give reason that a couple of our writings which mentioned Mr. Ramos personally, might have made him instantly angry. We just can never know, can we? And yet, if we fail to write the news as is, we are as guilty of managing news as is the establishment media.

I suggest that there are some interesting coincidental happenings which give a bit of insight in all the confusion. Do we “blame” “a” Mr. Ramos for something or other? NO, this is not a game of “blame somebody”. It is just somewhat interesting that Mr. Ramos was always in the orchestra conductor’s seat or podium and suddenly the papers are devoid of his presence.

I would suggest that former President Erap be well attended because it is going to come out that he was HAD by his buddies—and since they were READY TO ASSASSINATE HIM AND GMA “THIS” WEEK, THAT THEY WILL STILL WANT TO SILENCE HIM BEFORE HE CAN FINISH SPILLING THE REMAINING BEANS.

It is surely worthy of the time and effort to simply again copy the SPOTLIGHT article so that you can have a reminder of prior plans for the Philippines as far back as June 1998.

[QUOTING SPOTLIGHT, June 22, 1998:]

DANGER LOOMS IN PHILIPPINES BY PAUL MOTIER

A power play in the Philippines could lead to a U.S.-backed dictatorship.

MANILA, PHILIPPINES—In a stunning move that shocked the nation, outgoing Philippine President Fidel Ramos fired Solicitor General Romeo de la Cruz just two weeks before the inauguration of populist [sic] President-elect Jose Erap Estrada.

The unprecedented move was in retaliation to a 34-page report which de la Cruz had filed with the Philippine Supreme Court stating that there was no evidence to back up the conviction and 12-year jail sentence of former first lady Imelda Romualdez Marcos. The charge: She had illegally built a hospital with non-government funds.

De la Cruz urged the top court to reverse the conviction which everyone in the Philippines knows was made by a politicized court under the influence of Ramos and his revolutionary predecessor, Corazon C. Aquino.

What so infuriated Ramos was that he had appointed de la Cruz as solicitor general and saw the report as “high treason”.

Ramos is himself a master traitor who has in his lifetime betrayed his cousin and benefactor, Ferdinand Marcos, in 1986 in his capacity as a CIA asset and informer. He has betrayed the legal government he was sworn to uphold and betrayed the Philippine people by helping to steal the 1986 election.

He has betrayed his wife by supporting a mistress in lavish style at taxpayers' expense.

Ramos apparently never imagined that de la Cruz would do his job honestly.

Under the unconstitutional and unlawful Aquino and Ramos regimes of the last 12 years, the unforeseen appearance of an honest and courageous justice official must have been traumatic indeed.

As soon as de la Cruz's Supreme Court report became known by the cabal that has been running the Philippines since it overthrew the Marcos government in 1986, Ramos got his marching orders by cabal spokesman Stephen Bosworth, the U.S. State Department functionary who organized the kidnapping of the Marcos family into forced exile and detainment that year.

Bosworth was backed by U.S. federal Judge Manuel Real, the Lyndon Johnson-appointee known for his communist sympathies, his violent temper and tyrannical ways as well as having the dubious distinction of being the most overturned judge in American legal history.

Ramos, now a lame duck with no political future, was told to fire de la Cruz and to find a way to overturn the election of the populist and popularly-elected Estrada.

CALAMITY FOR GLOBALISTS

The Estrada election was a calamity for the globalists and State Department Brahmins. Estrada was elected because former first lady Imelda Marcos withdrew from the presidential race and asked the 6 million-strong Marcos loyalists to support Estrada.

The swift move did not leave enough time for the Aquino-Ramos-State Department cabal to rig the election as they counted on the split Marcos-Estrada vote to have their own nominees elected.

The plutocrats frantically spent in excess of $260 million to secure the elections for their flunkies. In this they received full logistical support from the State Department and various U.S. agencies such as the CIA under the direction of Bosworth and Real—the two predators who have relentlessly tried to steal the Marcos assets for the past 12 years.

It was a sign of great sophistication from the Philippine electorate that they were not bamboozled by the anti-Estrada media blitz and all the anti-Marcos machinations and went on to elect Estrada by a landslide. Also elected with wide pluralities were Ferdinand Marcos Jr. (the son of the late president) as governor of the key Ilocos Norte province, Imee Marcos to Congress and all the Romualdez (relatives of Imelda) candidates to the offices they were seeking.

OVERTHROW ORDERED

Ramos has been instructed to take all steps to overthrow the Estrada presidency, just as he and the seditious Enrile and Aquino overthrew the just-elected Marcos government in 1986.

Aquino had already made the threat to use "people power" to overthrow the Estrada government if Marcos is buried on July 11 in the Cemetery of Heroes, a burial to which he is entitled because of heroic World War II record. He fought the Japanese while the Aquinos served in the Japanese puppet government.

"People power" was the catch word which was coined by the Madison Avenue public relations firms in charge of destabilizing and overthrowing the Marcos government, and used by the media to justify the illegal coup against the legally-elected Marcos.

In fact, there was never any "people power" except in the scripts from Madison Avenue and their press hand-outs. [H: Just like those "weapons of mass destruction" used as a term which finally through boredom turned off thinking minds. That is a typical "mind-control" conditioning process.] The Filipino people were victims of a massive globalist power grab by violent means.

The plutocrat Aquino is once more calling on her communist allies headed by the rich Red boss Ma Sisson. It was Sisson who organized, with Ninoy Aquino, the Plaza Miranda bombing which massacred the entire political opposition to the Marcos government, thus leaving Aquino as the sole opposition leader.

Whether the Clinton administration will be able to contain the Bosworth-Michael Armacost-Real cabal and avoid yet another massive intrusion in the affairs of another sovereign country is still to be ascertained.

This time, "People power" may manifest itself by stopping the Aquino-Ramos efforts just as all the Aquino-Ramos candidates were defeated at the polls.

Should Estrada be assassinated, apparently with the hope that Vice President Arroyo Macapagal would replace him, political observers are certain civil war would erupt. The voters may have had enough of plutocratic intervention in Philippine affairs.

[END OF QUOTING]

Comments? Oh, that isn't too safe for Fingers if I say too much. You have watched this unfold—and if you can't translate the happenings, then you aren't paying attention.

ONE OF THE PLANS FOR THIS WEEK WAS TO ASSASSINATE ESTRADA AND HIS SON AND HAVE AN OVER-RUNNING OF MALACAÑANG AND TAKE OUT PRESIDENT GMA AS WELL. THE PLAN AS SCATTERED ABOUT WOULD BE A DIRECT TAKEOVER BY A "SILENT" (IN THE BEGINNING) F. RAMOS UNDER THE FRONT OF JUAN PONCE ENRILE. THAT WOULD ALSO THEN BE NEED TO TAKE OUT THE VICE PRESIDENT (GUINGONA) AND SET ASIDE CONSTITUTIONAL ORDER OF SUCCESSION.

This, in turn, would turn over the Philippines—hook, line, and all the way to the ears—to the United States of America control through the "AMBOYS" (American "Boys").

In the article just shared again, there is a picture of Ramos with a caption "... Plans power play."

You who think you would enjoy the involvement of "living dangerously" (as the movie went), it might be wise to think another time about it.

I just had my two people on a flight to Hong Kong to mandatorily get visas cleared properly. They were flown back to Manila in such a third-rate craft as to have mismatched seat coverings and make-do facilities while being parked so far from the terminal at landing as to be no danger to any of the terminal area if anything untoward took place. Frightening? Not as frightening as with Rick and Charles because the plane was one of the bigger ones on that flight in Feb. 1999. This plane used Thursday is just a little ready-to-retire craft so a loss wouldn't be too great. Something is wrong, people, when a plane is not allowed room to even park at the terminal port—at a new terminal specifically set aside for Philippine Air Lines.

An interesting clue to something being unusual was that at first the flight was only a tenth filled. The passengers didn't show up until after "departure time". In addition, the one introducing the Captains' crew, stumbled over both names indicating the crew actually knew neither captain. Another interesting clue—when it arrived at Hong Kong it was empty. Nobody got off.

Is it a good idea to blow up my own crew? NOT VERY! After landing we actually side-tracked out of the usual Taxi port and hired a nice off-the-street vehicle.

SO, TO THE IMF/WB AND DARING DO'S

In other words, are we doing Ok? I won't talk about that except to say that, yes, the current happenings cause the administration to PAY ATTENTION without any prodding from us. We actually have "VIPs" trying to get ahead of one another, while claiming to have no fear of the controlling IMF (claim to have reason to feel no fear) trying to beat the administration to the "GAIA" game. This is not difficult since the administration is directed by old CIA players. It will unfold exactly as it will unfold with all the security instructions IN PLACE—and we will let it unfold cleanly and properly.

Now, if you wish to deny that it could be a bit touch and go, I suggest you go RE-READ the above article. Then check out where the missing assassination possibilities are hidden and try to see why we ask to avoid sensational headlines, too much information, and shudder over loose tongues, be they in Manila or back home "Littletown" U.S.A.

This has been a joint Chinese-U.S.A. coup attempt, at the least, with the Chinese wanting to take out the U.S. strongholds.

The STAR headline today was "OVER THE HUMP...". Well, perhaps WE may have gotten over a hump or two as well!

Isn't it simply amazing how quickly Satan dumps his people when he is through using them? Meanwhile the evil servants will be left to face the music, pay the piper and ne'er will there be any sign of help from the temptor, himself, while all the rats scatter.

Now you who are readers: How much forgiving, forgetting and paying off should we do for the privilege of struggling against all odds and losses? No, don't give me the old "but you must...". NO, we "don't MUST".

It might well be TIME to check out WHY the partner's "cut and run" crew, cut and ran! Perhaps some of you would like to consider suing the damaging parties if you feel damaged over your association with US. "Good business" was one "reason" given for destroying property back home while "dark-tinged" energies was your offered reason for dumping Ekkers without backup or funds in Manila, 9000 miles from home. Who IS Rick Martin-Cortright? Who is Charles Neil? Who IS Dr. Young, doing a tiny paper while holding at least three claimed advanced degrees in such as physics and engineering? How many of YOU actually know the location of "the Martins"? How many of YOU know the location of Charles Neil TODAY? How much do you think they got PAID to pull their antics? Do YOU really think "I" would serve in that motley crew of cheats and liars?

WHO IS GOING TO PAY THE DEBTS? OR, BETTER PUT: WILL THOSE TAKERS PAY BACK THE PRESUMED DUE-AND-OWING? IT APPEARS THAT AFTER PROMISING GREAT AND WONDROUS ABUNDANCE AND "LIGHTED" INPUT—THEY REFUSE TO EVEN IDENTIFY THEMSELVES. THEY CONTINUE TO BEG FOR DONATIONS WITHOUT ANY POSSIBILITY OF PAYING BACK "ANYTHING". THAT IS NOT GOD'S WAY, MY GOOD PEOPLE.

So, in the confusion it is impossible to see WHO is "on your side" or "on the other side". Remember right here in Manila that President GMA was educated, WITH BILLY CLINTON, in the U.S. and is AN ECONOMIST by training. She is a Ramos-run-puppet for practical purposes—and she will play the game as told or good health may well be jeopardized. Regardless of whereat you might find Ramos, you will find him staunchly supporting and directing Mrs. GMA. Therefore, you can count on first a denial of any basis for GAIA's contract. If you realize that right up front, you won't be disappointed AND the end of this game is not yet in sight. In the upstart we didn't want to have anything to do with government or even any kind of political intrigue. Believe me when I remind you that there is such trouble fermenting in the Central Bank as to accounting or auditing that you don't need government to make your (or their) lives interesting.

If her ladyship denies use of our program AFTER gold is starting to come in, it will not be acceptable, for the fingers of "recovery" will be far-reaching.

You are going to find, probably, that the idea for the meeting of the former President and the new President will prove to probably have come directly from the U.S. through its local channels (Embassy, etc.). Only the very tip of the iceberg shows, readers. There is no point in outguessing the power brokers—just let it unfold, keep all noses clean and clear and check out every opportunity while paying attention to all possible clues and tracks. I remind you that Ramos, the power director, is directly from West Point, U.S.A. He and his predecessor got far more in payoff and kickbacks than Estrada ever thought about. Estrada was being set up for the fall and got caught in the tarbaby trap in the middle of the bramble bush. And no, we don't have disagreements with a Ramos or anyone else. The powers in charge can be as silent with the program as is possible—and it will make us very happy, indeed. And, yes, it CAN be that way.

If Mrs. GMA believes that there is no basis for our program, then she has been told as much. Note that it is not denied but she is given a round-about "no basis...". That is typical of the "sidestep" mode of operation. It is too difficult to deny that which is already in use by the highest powers in the land of opportunity.

Why was Ramos, however, the loudest and most photographed person, along with Cory Aquino, only to become obscure and hidden now through this political confusion? This is typically called "silent manipulation".

Are we somehow here to "save the world"? NO, we are NOT.

It is SAID that this recent confusion is a Chinese "thing"—but it smacks of full CIA manipulation. We certainly wouldn't be surprised if the President GMA never even sees the choices given her. She is going to prove to probably be an "AMGAL" (American Girl)—but my dear people: GOLD SPEAKS LOUDER EVEN THAN POLITICIANS WHO ARE ALWAYS AFTER THE GOLD—AND THE POWER THAT COMES WITH THE POLITICAL POSITION.

There is a tale called the "Never Ending Story" and it is somewhat like this in that this is never ending—IS IT? With every twist and turn is another lesson, so stay alert, share the energy input and let's get this done.

Salu, GCH
dharma

Graduation: From Hell Into Cosmic Reality

4/30/01—#1 (14-257)

RE: PHILIPPINE CHAOS, SWELTERING HEAT AND FATIGUE

CONFUSION, ESPECIALLY ON MANY FRONTS

It is extremely difficult for either "side" to function well under such circumstances, for in 100-degree heat in a Tropical climate—there is no way to keep heads cool and tempers down.

Ekkers awakened before dawn this morning to chanting; thousands of "Poor People Power" participants marching to the Aquino monument in the Makati business center.

Payback time? No, "payoff" time. The holders of ill-gotten wealth are having to distribute some of it back to those poor people from whom it was stolen in the first place. However, the people don't even stop to realize that is where most of the payments for participation originate.

There has been a large Chinese contribution to the payoffs of a couple of dollars to a top of $10 (except for the high-level paid enforcement teams and political participation). However, the major call is coming from the Estrada camp to simply make noise and destroy property.

One point, against the business community in the orderly business district, is to march while stopping to poop or urinate on everything along the way of the "march". When will leadership in power wake up enough to use the tools given them? I would guess it won't be much longer—BUT more suffering for the people seems to also be part of the Elitist Plan.

How long will this planned insanity last? Until someone comes up with a better program than a tradeoff of $2 or $10. The backing of the Poor PP is not present at EDSA III; there is no food, no restrooms facilities and general pandemonium. When the anger enters the picture and the circus dancing stops, it can become deadly.

Please recognize that here, people have no perception as might be present in a better-equipped society. Most of the people of the "Elite" participants are also able to live in the U.S. and certainly were and are being educated in the most prestigious universities in the U.S., especially Harvard, Yale and the Military academies. I remind you all that it was not planned by the New World Order that Erap Estrada would be elected. It was planned and is still underway in fruition that Ramos would fall heir to full control of the whole area.

Erap Estrada KNOWS who his enemies are and he is dangerous to the New World Order, BUT, so too is the Arroyo administration because of the intense economic pressures. However, Ramos directs just about "everything" and is the top Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

With the IMF getting deeper and deeper into the yogurt, and it is said that Ramos was the top grafter with said organization, it looks a bit testy. We, therefore, have an interesting national problem. Of course, the most desirable thing for the interfering "neighbors" is to precipitate some kind of military take-over in the name of protecting the administration and the nation.

That scenario is taking place all around Southeast Asia while the sides are heating up in the major-player nations like Russia-China who are actually signing joint security treaties right NOW.

If the U.S. and IBC continue to disallow use of our program, they are making a terrible error. Mr. Bush could look very good or continue his role as top terrorist. It certainly is a clash between good and evil, friends but, yes, God usually makes alternatives interesting enough to hopefully cause intelligence and wisdom to have top consideration, especially among his own responsible parties.

When you talk about putting Erap back into the Presidency—it CANNOT BE. At best, to get him back into the Administration, he would have to come back under a shelter as "DICTATOR". You see, people have no idea what it is they do or demand. Moreover, he was impeached and indicted under the LAW and the CONSTITUTION. Impeach means "charged"—and indicted indicates evidence enough to have a TRIAL to determine EVIDENCE.

Erap claims to the ignorant masa that he had no opportunity to "be heard". Well, that, ladies and gentlemen, WAS HIS DECISION AND HIS ALONE. And yet, defense of self in his instance was a very bad move every time he spoke. He simply further tightened the hanging noose every time he spoke, especially to the public.

Mayhem in the streets will cost everyone pain and a lost week—except to us—where it only APPEARS costly as you count days and budgets.

Tomorrow is "Labor Day" here in the Philippines. That can't mean much, however, since poverty is the name of the game and jobs are so precious. It is interesting to note that people with even meager jobs, however, have attended their jobs for the most part. They have participated, however, by being at the "park" to pick up their little payoff for attendance, after their regular work hours. The employees right at this hotel just giggle, look embarrassed and tell on themselves. Is it actually some type of "free lunch", and a puny lunch at that, which represents some type of participation? The people will not get paid as much for their bought votes and the people only see the hopelessness.

Why has such a concerted effort been made to bury GAIA? Because the "masa" is going to be SERIOUSLY angry when they find out their suffering COULD HAVE BEEN alleviated. The cat is no longer stuffed into the back of the closet, so IT WILL come out. That is toward the goal we have labored to achieve. Yes, it is a program necessary for around-the-globe assistance—but we need to stay the course until we have a workable product for use. How long will it take? It will take exactly as long as it takes. Thank you, Little Crow, as your wisdom puts it all into perspective. What is your rush anyway?

Robert Redford was a great friend of A.C. and E.J.'s father. He and his film crew went to ride, on their own time, the Outlaw Trails and check out more "in depth" the "Robbers' Roost area". The visitors took their horses and started tearing out across the flat at full gallop as is given to be done in a movie. Arthur (Dad) was riding with Redford and he stopped the foolishness by asking everyone: "What's the all-fired hurry, you are going to use up your horses before mid-morning.” And, “What do you have to do more important than this?”

Redford “did” the speaker’s honors at Dad’s funeral. He was coming in from “Sundance” and had to catch a chartered plane to get to the funeral. He said he got behind a truck in the Canyon (Provo [Sundance]) and was about to have a breakdown as he couldn’t pass and time was slipping away. He chewed and fumed and finally it struck him what Dad was saying. He had a “chartered” plane waiting and Dad wasn’t going anywhere; all he was doing was getting heartburn of his nerves.

We must always place things in perspective and realize that there is usually a bigger plan, even if it is only to give you something to speak about at a funeral. Plus, Mr. Redford learned something—take your time, treat your people (and your horses) well and you can stay the course intact. You can either have success by doing the job right or you can fail “forever”. That at some time in any “game” becomes totally up to YOU which is the outcome.

TO THAT OLD NASTY TOPIC OF GOLD

Why do you pretend to yourselves that somehow gold is a nasty topic? Just because SOME people worship the idea, all do not. Gold is God’s product from formation to use. It is the best “sorting” tool of all of the intent of man [Ask George Green!]. Misuse of the commodity has brought the economy to its knees in quicksand. That is well recognized as the top item on the list of even the Elders of Zion: GET CONTROL OF THE GOLD (MONEY SYSTEM) AND YOU WILL CONTROL THE WORLD. SO, WHAT HAS TO BE ACCOMPLISHED TO CORRECT THAT LOPSIDED IMBALANCE? RIGHT!

I don’t need to talk much about the Treasures or gold “reserves” tucked away over in a place called Philippines. The war on gold is globally manipulated and that is what is needing to be addressed. I will give you an interesting insight to new discoveries of great Treasures in places such as Peru. Old societies of the mud-brick era—along with its evil sacrifice program—have seen shifting of the greater treasure stashes to, yes, indeed, the area of the Philippines.

Do you ever get an idea that somehow physical experience on Planet Earth just “might be the experience of evil” as in “Hell”? May I remind you that in the great times of sorting and the visitations of the Anunnaki and the visitors from Nibiru, there is great cataclysmic change. Usually the change is so great as to have civilization “lost in the wilderness”. IT IS THAT TIME AGAIN! We are standing by and you are trapped on a physical place of your own making and no, their will be no “Salvation of human beings in a Rapture” of some kind dreamed up by preachers to save your bacon. That is the hard truth about it. You can, in collective thought, present positive progression, yea, even to presentation of movement forward which will be perceived as that “dual” planet theory. That means that the memories of experience will be mainly left to the goodly transfers while the evil game will be left to basically play out its program in “Hell” as our above interpretation might suggest.

You are always given, before catastrophic change, a chance to realize what took place that brought down your physical place. Note the widespread use of “sacrifice” which is murder, never sacrifice. Note the patterns of those things being uncovered, yea even in Peru. The messengers, in truth, are never well received because the TRUTH counters just about everything the witchdoctors conjure to entertain you.

By the way, you had best get a good clear definition of “LOVE” while you are at it. You abuse and misuse that term right to the “do gooding” charade. Don’t give me “Soul Mate and Twin Flame”—give me TRUTH and stop deceiving self and others. Oh, students, it is a most difficult thing to graduate from hell into the Cosmic reality of expression. Halfway house is not some space station, for it is more physically limiting than on your surface. WHAT IS YOUR GAME?

Since we have been asked to share the GATA information as it is offered, we can do that—for many are trying to keep up with the gold revelations, as to manipulation, as the control-s snatch game heats up. Fine, it doesn’t take much to give insight and even though our program is not focused around that control project, you NEED TO KNOW WHAT IS THE RESULT OF THE ONGOING PLAN TO GRAB IT ALL AWAY FROM YOU-THE-PEOPLE. However, know it: China and Russia are getting off your run-away train headed for disaster.

[QUOTING Ref: Reg Howe GATA update. April 23, 2001 by Bill Murphy, Chairman, Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee Inc.:]

REG HOWE FOUND “THE DRESS”!

A brand new day is coming.

It is Sunday morning and I am reflecting a bit over the past 27 months that Chris Powell and I, as well as so many other stout GATA supporters, have been trying to wake up the gold/investment world that the gold market has been manipulated by certain bullion banks and a faction of the U.S. Government.

It could not be more clear that we have reached an inflexion point. One can compare Reg Howe’s discovery of the FED minutes to the discovery of “the Dress” in the Clinton/Lewinsky scandal or to John Dean’s testimony in the Watergate fiasco.

The difference is that Reg How’s revelations are far more consequential than those two scandals. As the news and the facts spread, and this time they will, the ramifications of the findings will be felt around the world. Think on these things:

* Alan Greenspan has been caught deceiving Senator Leiberman, who is already campaigning to run for President in 2004.

* U.S. Treasury officials have misrepresented that the ESF [Equalization Stabilization Fund] was not involved in the gold market to Congressmen and citizens all over the world, who queried whether they were doing so.

* The Black-led governments of South Africa took over in 1994—just at the time the BIS/ESF gold suppression scheme was put into high gear. The consistent depression of the gold price has been very negative for the economy of South Africa and for other poor African gold-producing countries. Therefore, the South African government has not had the funds it should have had to treat terrible unemployment, crime and disease problems. They have been criticized for ineffective leadership—thanks to former Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin, Alan Greenspan, the BIS and Goldman Sachs/J.P. Morgan/Chase and company.

* One would think the opposition party in Britain would roast prime Minister Blair for selling half of England’s gold to perpetuate the gold fraud scheme. [H: No, you have a hoof-and-mouth distraction.]

* How do you think Germans will react when they realize half or all of their gold is gone? Inflation is on its way back and they have no gold—or will have none if the U.S. decides not to give it back to them. No one dreads inflation more than the Germans and their gold is missing. One would think whoever is responsible for the emptying of the gold vault in Germany is in big trouble. Somebody over there is going to have a field day with it.

* And who suckered the Swiss to dump 1,000 tonnes of gold at these rock-bottom prices to perpetuate the scheme? As the investment world realizes 5,000 to 11,000 more tonnes of gold has left central bank vaults than recognized by the gold industry, the gold price is going to soar. The brilliant and lonely voice of Frank Veneroso is going to be proved correct. The reputation of the Swiss as being so bright and clever is headed for the toilet.

* What do you think the reaction is going to be by the Prime Ministers of all the gold-producing countries in Africa, or in other Third World nations around the world?

As Reg said in his filing: “E. Defendants Summers, Greenspan and McDonough Knew or Should Have Known that Suppressing Gold Prices through the BIS or Otherwise Is Contrary to U.S. Foreign Policy toward Sub-Saharan Africa.” How do you think they will reflect on the IMF’s proposed gold sales in 1999, which failed to secure approval by Congress? That would have allowed 3000 tonnes of IMF gold to be injected in the physical gold market over time to keep the price of gold depressed even longer than it already has been. Clinton and Rubin urged that the IMF gold sales be allowed to go through to help the poor. What hypocrites!

[H: Can anyone guess WHY Clinton was a big mouth in Africa at the recent AIDS/UN “Summit”? Moreover, what do you think was the payoff to Clinton from the new administration for Marc Rich’s freedom? Remember that George Sr. was a partner of the Arkansas drug cartel at such places as Mena, Arkansas. The “players” are all part of the SAME game, friends, and until you understand that, you will miss the little devious games of dropping charges against Clinton, etc. In exchange for what? These are not even “subtle” kickbacks or payoffs. Perhaps we should take the time to share Skolnik’s references to these “deals”. We check on our workload and see if we can squeeze in the time to bring it to copy. Others can scan in these things, Dharma has to type it letter for letter. We would not change that if we had a dozen scanners. But remember something important, readers: Mr. Skolnik has to depend on informers—and we certainly know that all those informers are NOT valid resources but are disinformers and disinformation pushers. Be carefully aware and you CAN learn a lot.]

* Can you imagine what the Russians will do with this! America preaches the importance of free markets to the rest of the world while we are doing the opposite in the gold market by controlling the price. What was the Cold War all about anyway? What we have here is nothing less than Big Brother doing his thing. The Communists would be proud. The State rules. Down with freedom, the truth, competition and anti-trust laws. Hail to order, the Government and insider bullion banks.

* Fair play is down the drain in the U.S. How would you have liked to have practically interest-free money at your disposal the past 7 years?

I could go on and on. I am sure you get the picture and it is not a pretty one.

The good news is that the price of gold is going to roar. The gold time bomb I have talked about so long is going to go off and it can happen at any time. The ticking noise is now DEAFENING!!!

Junior gold companies such as Golden Star Resources (GSR in Toronto) are truly the bargain buys of a lifetime. I speak often of GSR because that is where my money is and I know the company well. It is also Frank Veneroso's number one pick. CEO Peter Bradford will be attending the GATA African Gold Summit in Durban on May 10.

Why is that especially so right now? Because the investment world is finally going to realize Frank Veneroso is correct and that up to 11,000 tonnes of gold, that was supposed to be in central banks coffers, is GONE. Demand for gold therefore has been that much greater than the investing public has been led to believe. The investing world will also realize the shorts are trapped and cannot get out. The sharks will begin to circle the vulnerable Gold Cartel.

Many of these junior/exploration companies are priced at near bankruptcy levels. It is the outhouse-to-the-penthouse story coming. Gold companies that can deliver new gold supply in the next 10 years are going to go to astronomical premiums. The ones that have gold production now will go first—companies like High River Gold in Toronto. The exploration companies, like Samex in Vancouver, will be next.

I have been so involved with GATA that I had little time to check out other wonderful junior/exploration companies, many of which are Cafe members. That is what the likes of Bob Bishop, Bob Chapman, Jay Taylor and Sir Harry Schultz do so well. They are all Cafe members too.

It is time to do your gold company homework. Whether the gold bomb goes off next week or next month, it is coming. The truth is going to prevail against the evil ones.

Bill Murphy, Chairman, GATA
[END OF QUOTING]

I have included the "sales" statements because gold is "these people's business product". I do not, no, suggest you run out and buy anything. The intention of the Big Boys is to first totally bankrupt these "junior" companies so that they can steal the corporations at which point investors WILL LOSE IT ALL. The reasoning is correct, the manipulation will interrupt the free flow. This is why we take an entirely different approach and one which secures rather than allows graft and corruption through market manipulations in secret chambers of Secret Masters.

Our prior partners say our approach won't work. I say that our approach is the ONLY ONE THAT WILL WORK. We are queried about why our antagonists are, through Dr. Al, finally speaking on the gold situation. I have no comment but it is, after all, the number one Protocol: "Get control of the gold (money)."

I am also aware of Mr. Martin's interest in organic gardening. That is very good because people who follow the yellow brick road, not to be confused with gold, will certainly need something to eat. Rick is an excellent writer and compiler of good information. I hope he continues to have great interests in organic gardening for I happen to know where there are over 100 acres of organic-qualified land gone to waste by deliberate actions. So be it. We also had underground growing facilities where conditions could be totally controlled. That was basically Rick's project and I hope he remains interested in order to continue that intent. He gathered in information and seeds for use in holding non-hybrid stock for reproduction purposes. It remains to be seen what will happen to those dying projects.

The one reason I have asked that the Spelt and beans at the farm be maintained if possible is that they are non-hybrid and you WILL come to a day where you need the food. I do, however, suggest you not scoff at all hybrids, for you are going to need FOOD. It is better to have modified plants for production than to eat all the insecticides required to produce crops at all. You do not need to return to the cave with sticks and stones for farming, chelas. Even Rick always used Ekkers' PERSONAL tillers, etc., to do his gardens—do you suppose he STILL DOES? The machinery was among that thieved while admitting that "they had it". Wait a while and many things become either known or suspect.

As to Skolnick's presentations, yes, we get most of them but we have our own fish to fry. We make an effort to fill our role and let people like Skolnick fill his.

Because you are right into integrated politics we can offer one of Skolnick's recent offering on that topic so read it and weep. And, yes, we DO fully intend to help such as Skolnick stay afloat when we get some help and stability for our own programs. There are many who must have help, for with Internet there is little left from which to make a living.

We are not eager, however, to keep his disinformers alive and thriving in the LIES. We won't enlarge on that topic herein.

Sherman H. Skolnick can be accessed at: (skolnick@ameritech.net) and (http://www.skolnicksreport.com).

On March 18, 2001 Skolnick's topic was titled: PARDONGATE AND BUSHFRAUD.

[QUOTING:]

Some continue to assert that George W. Bush is a tainted president who took the seat of power under circumstances they call Bushfraud. Some go even further, and proclaim that the Elder Bush, the sons Jeb and George W., are part of a "fascist coup".

Others call the final hours of the Clinton Administration as Pardongate. Thus referring to a foul smell going up from some of more than 170 presidential pardons and commutations Clinton entered at the last moments of his apparent constitutional authority. [H: PAY ATTENTION AND FOLLOW THE DOTS TO GET THE PICTURE, THE PAYOFF, AND THE BARGAINING CHIPS.]

A profound consideration of the events and players involved show there are links between Pardongate and Bushfraud.

Some of the players and events:

* HUGH RODHAM: Brother of the former First Lady HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON elected in 2000 as a Senator from New York.

Hillary is accused of taking massive benefits, if not actual bribes, to arrange to set loose a group of Hassidic Jews who swindled the federal government of some $30 million with a fake village development. Available to federal grand juries looking into possible corruption by Clinton as president are audio tapes and other evidence directly implicating Hillary as reputed "bag lady" for her husband, evidence which may become the basis of a federal criminal indictment of her, and naming Bill as an unindicted co-conspirator, for receiving financial benefits and emoluments as a bribe or inducement to get her husband, then president, to pardon the culprits.

As a Miami lawyer, Hugh Rodham seems to specialize in defending—if not actually arranging the affairs of—sizeable dope traffickers. He is reportedly very knowledgeable on cocaine trafficking from Colombia, involving the dope cartels as well as, more recently, the activities of the Russian Mafiya combined with those illicit enterprises, all jointly with international criminal MARC RICH (correct name: Reich), likewise pardoned by Clinton. Rodham seemed to prosper during the some 15 years JANET RENO was a south Florida state prosecutor who somehow did not see fit to run after dopers. A Florida attorney, Jack Thompson, ran unsuccessfully to unseat Reno in 1988 as state prosecutor. The monopoly press, he contends, failed to report or act on his evidence and witnesses showing Reno was subject to blackmail because she cavorted with lesbian prostitutes and that she is a fallen down drunk who assisted known criminals. His offer of testimony and evidence was likewise rebuffed by the U.S. Senate Committee in 1993 that ratified Reno's appointment to head the U.S. Justice Department.

Those in a position to know proclaim the acts and doings of Hugh Rodham and Janet Reno were interwoven with JEB BUSH, who became Florida Governor. (Corruption knows no political party.) For a period starting about 1977, with his Latino wife, Jeb was stationed in Venezuela, where he headed or played a key role in the branch of Texas Commerce Bank owned in great part by his father, George Herbert Walker Bush and his circle of oil-soaked confederates. Only rarely mentioned in the monopoly press is that a sizeable portion of the dope money coming back to the Colombian cartels is transacted through next-door Venezuela.

From that point, Jeb reportedly became interwoven laundering the funds of dope kingpins disguised often as huge real estate projects, some of which went under, damaging innocent investors. Jeb was also the eyes and ears on occasion of the American CIA in Venezuela. In its most direct role, the CIA acts as the petroleum police in foreign oil fields—such as for the Rockefeller family, who own and dominate most oil production in Venezuela.

In a rare documentary, CBS' 60 Minutes program once showed how apparently corrupt CIA officials, together with those of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration in Venezuela, participated in large shipments of cocaine to the U.S., supposedly to study how the dope cartel operates—as if they did not really know.

(A former espionage undercover operative, who says he did business with Jeb, has numerous details in his book and on his www.almartinraw.com website.) [H: Oh, I think we know this "almartin" from our days of inquiry regarding our own positions. It is nice to find that this person might still be around. He certainly seemed "in the know" at that time, even regarding Jeb Bush.]

Upon receiving $200 thousand as a fee, Hugh Rodham arranged with his brother-in-law, William Rockefeller Clinton, to commute the jail sentence of CARLOS VIGNALI, who had served just six years of a 15-year sentence for being the top dog in a drug ring that distributed 800 lbs. of cocaine. The jailbird's father, Horacio, a wealthy Los Angeles parking lot owner, donates to political campaigns. The younger Vignali is reportedly very well-informed about the dope from Colombia smuggled across Canada and entering across the border to Montana.

(Our interviews with middle-level members of the Rockefeller family, together with other data, convince us Bill Clinton is the illegitimate great grandson of old John D. Rockefeller, founder of the infamous Standard Oil Trust.)

* MARC RACICOT: His term as Montana governor ended in January 2001. Knowledgeable law enforcement personnel as well as several crusading journalists have contended Racicot has reportedly been directly implicated in the massive dope from Red China and Colombia coming across the border from Canada. Sidekick of Bill and Roger Clinton, Ollie North, and the elder Bush, namely Barry Seal, up to the time Seal was murdered by the American CIA and the DEA to shut him up, arranged the dope traffic from Canada through Montana. This was an alternative to coming in through the southern states, such as at Mena, Arkansas, which had become too well known.

A former undercover government operative involved in the Montana operations described it as: "An aircraft departs Colombia, flies to the Bahamas to rest and refuel, and then, when a weather window opens, continues the flight to Nova Scotia or Quebec. Again, rest and refuel. Then continue to a U.S.-Canadian border landing strip."

The former operative goes on to detail the acts and doings of FBI senior agent Terry Nelson, of the southern Florida FBI office, who has business and relatives near the Montana-Canada border: "Nelson not only recruits the law enforcement officials and politicians he needs, he can also supply data from the law enforcement arena such as the DEA NADDIS computer, Customs TECS II, EPIC, FBI, and others involved in ongoing investigations. Nelson then provides this intelligence to his drug contacts. This helps obstruct any investigation and diffuse potential problems.

"Terry Nelson, a senior agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, continues to provide his valuable services to drug cartels and others who will pay his fee, out of his FBI office in southern Florida." (Excerpts from DRUGGING AMERICA by Rodney Stich, page 297 and page 294; as to Barry Seal, chapter on "Montana Drug Gateway"; 1999, Diablo Western Press, P.O. Box 5, Alamo, California 94507.)

Others contend that the Clinton White House blocked Canadian law enforcement from serving an arrest warrant on Nelson when he was in the area.

During the Presidential election turmoil in Florida in November and December 2000, then Montana governor Marc Racicot was the trusted "hatchet man" for George W. and Jeb Bush. Racicot was trusted because he was reportedly part of the Bush family's worldwide laundering of hundreds of billions of dollars of illicit dealings through 25 secret Bush accounts worldwide. (Visit our Website series called "Greenspan Aids And Bribes Bush Family" with attached documents.)

Racicot, together with operatives linked to Florida senior FBI agent Terry Nelson, jointly with Hugh Rodham, reportedly arranged to convey financial benefits and emoluments (called, by some, straight-out bribes) to top Democratic officials in southern Florida to arrange for the Democrats to arbitrarily stop the recount of ballots. This was done to prevent Albert Gore, Jr., from winning Florida's essential Electoral College vote and hence the U.S. Presidency, after Gore had already won the national popular vote by a plurality of more than six hundred thousand votes. The funds for the financial benefits, or bribes, were made available through MARC RICH and his cronies in the Russian Mafiya, which have joined forces with the Colombian dope cartels.

[H: This is Mr. Skolnick's presentation—not mine.]

* ROGER CLINTON: reportedly solicited and received a $200 thousand Pardongate bribe from the family of a convict in federal prison on fraud charges. The bribe was reportedly shared by Roger with brother Bill, at the time President, who did NOT grant the pardon.

An "honorable" crooked politician sells his office, and supplies services, as he is paid. A stupid crook takes the bribe and reneges.

Part of the Roger Clinton Pardongate was the ostensible smuggling of dope into the U.S. from Southwest Red China, disguised as commodities. Roger Clinton and his cronies apparently laundered the proceeds through two Chicago commodity brokers known to be fronting for the Red Chinese dope trade, called "China White". (See the reportedly related stories on our Website as to Rahm Emanuel, former Clinton White House senior advisor, more recently managing director of Wasserstein Perella & Co., reputed experts on laundering illicit Asian dealings; also, REFCO-LFG Division [Richard Friedman & Co.], a Chicago-based brokerage.)

The Roger and Bill Clinton dope trafficking proceeds are laundered as currency and commodity deals on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade. Bill as President often visited the Merc, as the fountain of illicit funds. Alleged President George W. Bush follows the pattern of his crony, Bill Clinton, and shortly after being inaugurated, George W. likewise came to the fountain of money, the Merc, to put the arm on them.

Several federal grand juries have testimony available, or already under subpoena, and in some instances, as of the date of this posting, already heard, showing the following among other things:

(1) Roger Clinton may be indicted for various federal criminal offenses along with Tony and Hugh Rodham, and Hillary Rodham Clinton as part of details of Pardongate. Facing being named in this as unindicted co-conspirators are William Rockefeller Clinton, commonly called William Jefferson Clinton, and his close crony, George W. Bush. (2) Testimony and evidence related to the foregoing include the acts and doings of Pardongate offenses overlapping onto election fraud of: former Montana governor Marc Racicot; Florida senior FBI agent Terry Nelson and confederates; and Florida governor Jeb Bush; and super criminal Marc Rich.

(3) To avoid federal criminal indictment, or being named as unindicted co-conspirators, some of the foregoing persons have given testimony or are offering testimony against some of the others.

Reporters of all three major news networks have already interviewed (or have sought to interview) various witnesses as to the foregoing, including those available to testify (or have already testified) against Roger Clinton. All the chief judges in charge of the federal grand juries, so far as is now known, have NOT entered a "gag order" preventing witnesses from being interviewed by the press.

Despite that, the George Bush 2nd White House has ordered the American Gestapo (the FBI) to severely threaten and harass network reporters and executives; the FBI is claiming that the media people are supposedly "obstructing justice"—for example, by interviewing witnesses fingering Roger Clinton, wherein brother Bill, along with crony George W. Bush, would be named as unindicted co-conspirators, along with Marc Racicot and international criminal Marc Rich.

An official of one of the news networks confided to us that he and his associates are fearful for their lives, in view of the severe threats by the FBI at the behest of the Bush White House.

All three major networks have so far embargoed video and audio tapes of interviews as to both Pardongate and Bushfraud. The FBI, according to the official (and confirmed by his associates), has threatened network reporters, TV and Radio crew members, as well as news managers, producers, and supervisors.

Key sources and eyewitnesses have confided in us, knowing that we have a 40-year absolute policy against divulging sources and witnesses of our data. In 40 years, as the head of our research and investigative group, I have been jailed some 8 times, wheelchair and all, for "contempt of court", for absolutely refusing to divulge witnesses and sources to state and federal authorities publicly accused by us of high-level corruption. In each instance, after being falsely and unlawfully jailed, I was later vindicated, and the judges involved were themselves sent to prison for bribery, tax evasion, and other crimes, as I had publicly accused them to their faces. (Visit our Website for the four-decade background of our work.)

As part of a much lesser mess, reporters of Newsweek and TIME magazines have reportedly compiled sufficient sources and records to show that Florida governor Jeb Bush and alleged President George W. Bush are part of a sex triangle with Florida secretary of state Katherine Harris, who played a key role in what some call Bushfraud. She was an instrumental player by which Al Gore, Jr., was kept from being certified as the winner of the Florida election, and hence, kept from having the Electoral College vote of Florida—Bush thus stealing the U.S. Presidential Election 2000.

Like in the infamous 1876 election that I have earlier written about, Gore won the presidential election, as did Samuel Tilden. But, like Tilden, there has been a failure to inaugurate Gore as the President of the United States.

Although both magazines have reportedly corroborated my story about Jeb Bush/George W. Bush/Katherine Harris, with her also as the reputed "bag lady" in fixing the election, the oil- and dope-soaked monopoly press are too "chicken" and have too many financial hang-ups to so far go with the Katherine Harris story.

Network officials and reporters have confided to us that the details in the report are known by them to be substantially correct. BUT, the press is reluctant to undermine George W. Bush at a time of impending financial meltdown.

More coming. Stay tuned.

[END OF QUOTING]

I realize this is far more interesting than meditating on the wheat shortage in Ethiopia. However, until you find the way to begin to clean up the mess and start repairs, you can get your more interesting clandestine information elsewhere. We have written on these things for a dozen years and now we have a focus that must be attended and leave the James Bonding to others who dare to tell truth as they find it. We actually have enough problems without dealing with these irate rats being uncovered.

You are so familiar with "me" that you don't always remember that I am well known in those circles of intrigue. I will not deliberately cause my team more hurt and danger.

You live in a very nasty political world, readers. These are high-stakes clandestine games these politicians play.

This writing has been going off and on all day and is too long for comfort and I apologize, secretary. We will, however, have a busy week—so if we are a bit ahead, Mark will perhaps get a night's sleep.

Salu, Hatonn

dharm

Satan's Origin, History Revealed

(PART 5)

SATAN'S DRUMMERSTHE SECRET BEAT OF EVIL—
“SATAN IS ALIVE AND WELL”

BY SANANDA

“dharma”

PHOENIX JOURNAL #9 (1989)

CHAPTER 9

REC. #1 SANANDA

FRI., NOV. 3, 1989 6:30 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 079

Sananda present to continue. Greetings in the light of a wondrous day.

I see you have a question to which I would most like to respond. “What about the McMartin trial and the Buckeys, etc.” You want to know if there was “real” Satanic ritual involved. Of course, but that only came later to insure the children keep quiet. However, it is now a most useful tool for the suspects—they have an insured source of funding for bailment monies and a fair amount of security. I say “fair” amount of security, for evil knows no bounds to get rid of its problems.

Evil has a most remarkable way of pulling security about itself—get participants who will go to any lengths to hide themselves. There are many, many ones in the political and law-enforcement arenas who are quite evil and desire power beyond Earth measure. They are most vulnerable to pornography, violence, excitement and power acquisition—they will further go to all lengths to maintain the facade of purity and honor (refer to prior chapters of this Journal). There are plenty of ones who have participated that Mr. Buckey could and would name if he is not cared for properly in his present plight. The choice, of course, is to murder the involved persons, but Mr. Buckey is not that foolish—the minute someone does unto him, others will talk. The young man, Raymond, came by his circumstance most “innocently”—when evil lurks in the parents or caretakers, the child will be involved most closely within the rituals themselves and these ones truly become ones without conscience.

What of Oliver North and his return of military retirement payments? Precious, do not be too foolish in expectations. This is evil at its epitome. He will now be taken care of as long as it is respectable; he was the poor scapegoat for higher one's actions and he will now be tended. He could practice Satanistic evil in a much more abundant way—internationally with unlimited human hostages and sacrifices—let not tears of patriotism fool you. Further, who better to now have run a “drug” abuse program? Isn't it better to put one of your own in charge if your intent is to utilize drugs in your worldwide acquisition and control plan?

Mr. Bush, a warm, cuddly, sweet family man who is your President? Dear ones, Mr. Bush was head of the CIA, one of the most violent and conscienceless organizations in the entire world. Of course he has conscience—about some things. In other areas he has none whatsoever, for he has convinced himself that he does it for the betterment of all ones. This IS the lie. He is also a member of the Skull and Bones fraternity and a member of all secret controlling groups. At this last presidential election you witnessed evil take the steering wheel. Oh, yes, he will demand that earthquake aid go to San Francisco while twice to three times as much money goes to Hungary and Poland, with no promise of return, to ensure grasp of world control. IF you ones do not open your eyes and participate in your own fate, you have no future as you recognize of it. So be it. I shall further discuss some of these things as we move along in this Journal.

REAL OR FANTASY?

What is “real” and what is “fantasy”? For ye ones who have made most serious and open inquisition, I can only ask you in return—is Christ real? Was Jesus real? Is St. Germain real? Was he a figment of Ballards' imaginations? Is there an Angel Gabriel, Michael, Raphael...? Was there a Buddah? What about Mohammad? If these ones are “real”, then so must Satan be “real”. Perhaps you must look from the other side of existence to understand. If you could truly understand that you in existence at this moment are thought-forms—illusion manifestations, then you could easily understand that God Creator within self creates and manifests. The energy source and force is available to all ones and through higher being recognition a “thing” or “being” is manifested. It is far easier to “believe” in evil than in goodness, for there is so much more of it. The Satanic energy is allowed to literally take over a body and energy field in the human being—sometimes also within animals of lower forms if it suits his purpose.

These are energy forms (souls) which have been displaced from their original placement within the heavens and they must seek dwelling and experience. They seek it and find it within man. Oh, yes, indeed, demonic possession is most real, indeed. Further, at Satanic rituals these demonic energies manifest into quite visible format. They, however, do not commit of the evil “ACT”; they can only influence the accepting entity to act in their behalf.

These evil demonic energies are actually quite distressed at this time—for many humans have gone beyond that which is acceptable unto Satan. When man is teaching Satan some lessons in evil, you are in real bad trouble!

THERE IS NO HUMAN, PHYSICAL MANNER IN WHICH TO “FIGHT” THIS TREND IN WICKEDNESS—FOR IT IS AN ENERGY FORM AND IT MUST BE DEALT WITH AT THAT SAME LEVEL. If it is attacking at the subconscious level, then it can be brought forth and forced to depart in most instances. If, however, it is full-blown possession, even death of the human only intensifies intent of the evil energy. This is one major reason it is most foolish to murder a truly vile, evil criminal. That energy will cycle back almost immediately—and in some instances does not even await the birth of a babe. Satanic energy will take over any vulnerable inhabitant—the higher in power and politics, the better targeted. It then returns to spread even more and greater evil.

These evil energy forms have grown into the vilest and continue to cycle through and through anyone available and open, for they have already separated from the God source—and their full intent is to wreck havoc within the universal order, through the human format.

SATAN'S BEGINNING

Do not be misled into thinking Satan DOES NOT exist, for evil energy most surely does exist—and you are not sophisticated enough to separate the two. If you were in control of that in-depth knowledge you would not be inquiring as to the validity of a Satan!

Let me repeat of my previously told story unto mine ones. In the beginning Satan was God's second-in-command, chief among all His angels, the beautiful and beloved Lucifer. The service IT performed in God's behalf was to enhance the spiritual growth of human beings through the use of testing and temptation—just as you test your own children in school so as to enhance their growth. Satan, therefore, was primarily a teacher of mankind, which is why it was called Lucifer, “THE LIGHT BEARER”.

The original meaning of the words “Satan” and “devil” were not synonymous, as they are used today. The terms “devil” and “diabolic” come from the Greek verb diabalein, meaning simply “to oppose”. The word “Satan” commonly meant “adversary”. In your Bible, God Himself supposedly stated that He was proceeding “Balaam” as a Satan. Seeing the necessity for mankind to be tested and tempted by something in opposition to His own will, God delegated this oppositional (diabolic and adversarial-satanic) function to the chief of His archangels. AND YOU HAD BETTER BELIEVE THIS BROTHER OF MINE HAS THE POWER AND THE ABILITY TO PULL OFF HIS JOB IN PERFECTION!

Just as it is most difficult to gain your acceptance that my name was not that of “Jesus”, for my name was Jmmanuel. Saul (Paul) of Tarsus, in teaching after my departure from the Holy Lands, went about the country and throughout the Greek and Roman empires and referred to the Christ energy, Jmmanuel Esu, as “Jesus”—or “THE ANOINTED ONE”. That was Paul's assumption, for I was never “THE ANOINTED ONE”—for that truly has no meaning in the hierarchy of the higher-dimensional heavenly realm. It is simply a Greek definition which has lingered for over 2,000 years.

Just as I had to experience and grow in the Heavenly Realms to the “rank” of Sananda, so, too, did Lucifer have to grow in the physical realm to the level of “Evil”—the higher-dimensional term could mean nothing to you as definition.

“Christ” is “TOTAL LIGHT”, “Satan” is “TOTAL DARKNESS” or “devoid of light”. IF ONE EXISTS, THE OTHER MUST ALSO EXIST, FOR THERE CANNOT BE ONE WITHOUT THE OTHER IN THIS THIRD-DIMENSIONAL EXPERIENCE. As you progress through the dimensions, you will finally achieve a level of either total Light or the void of total absence of light. THE CHOICE IS LEFT TO INDIVIDUAL

MAN—AND YOU ARE GIVEN INFINITE ETERNITY IN WHICH TO FINALIZE YOUR CHOICES. YOU ARE FACED WITH A MAGNIFICENT CHOICE RIGHT NOW UPON YOUR EARTH PLANE. SO FAR, IT APPEARS Satan IS OUT FRONT IN THE RACE—BUT “THIS” IS HIS DOMAIN. EARTH AND HUMAN PHYSICAL EXISTENCE IS TRULY NOT THE DOMAIN OF GOD NOR CHRIST.

WHEN THINGS BECOME SO UNBALANCED WITHIN A SEGMENT OF UNIVERSAL EXISTENCE (CREATION) THAT ANNIHILATION OF A SPECIES AND CREATED PLANET IS DESTINED, THE CREATION DEMANDS REBALANCING AND THINGS BEGIN TO HAPPEN INSTANTLY TOWARD THAT END. IT IS NOT MYSTICAL, IT IS MOST PRACTICAL, INDEED.

IT ALWAYS OCCURS ON THE HUMAN-INFESTED PLANETS—AND ULTIMATELY GOD CREATOR SENDS HIS HOSTS AND CHRIST LIGHT TO STOP THE HORDES OF EVIL, THE DARK BROTHERHOOD OF Satan.

FIRST, THE TEACHERS OF LIGHT AND WORKERS WHO HAVE BEEN SENT FORTH ARE REMOVED, IF SUITABLE. SOME, OF COURSE, REMAIN TO MAINTAIN PASSAGE IN SAFETY FOR ONES OF THE LIGHT. THEN, ULTIMATELY, THERE IS A MOST MAGNIFICENT CONFRONTATION OF THE ENERGY FORCES OF THE CHRIST AND OF Satan. Satan LIKES THE PLAYGROUND—AND EFFORTS AT BUILDING HIS FORCES ENOUGH TO PREVAIL; HE NEVER DOES BUT HE NEVER CEASES IN HIS EFFORTS. THE UNLEASHING OF THAT MIGHTY ENERGY EXCHANGE IS UNTHINKABLE, MY BROTHERS, BUT YOU ARE GOING TO WITNESS IT—FOR NO MAN SHALL GRADUATE UNTIL YOU HAVE EXPERIENCED IT. WHAT LEVEL OF EDUCATION YOU GRADUATE INTO IS STRICTLY UP TO YOU TO CHOOSE—PROGRESSION OR REGRESSION. SO BE IT.

Back to the beginning.... As time went by, however, Satan became so enamored with its adversarial functions that it began to employ them more for its own delight than on God's behalf. This you see throughout the Bible myths as handed down unto you.

Creator further decided that more was required than simple testing for the uplifting of mankind; what was required was both an example of His love and an example to live by. So, He sent his Christ being to experience—live and finally die—just as man. There was nothing special about crucifixion, for many thousands died of crucifixion, so it would be far wiser to allow Me down from your cross and decide what it is we will do about your life instead of my death.

I would insert at this point a special note. One reason this book is coming forth in this manner is the commitment of my workers. The Satanic symbols have taken that which represents the opposite of the Christ—but in so-doing they dishonor one of mine most beloved friends, Simon Peter, who in his terror and fear denied of Me, Immanuel, at the time of my arrest trial and was later feeling in unworthiness to be crucified in an upright position, when he too was condemned, as was myself—so he was crucified up-side downward and was burned alive. This is the epitome of Satanic ritual. Ah, yes, the physical third-dimensional worlds are the Satanic playgrounds of the universe.

When Creator sent forth the Christ, Satan (who was no longer called Lucifer) found this intolerable and a personal insult. It puffed with pride; it refused to submit to God's judgment of the precedence of Christ. It rebelled against God. Satan itself created the situation in which heaven became literally not big enough for the both of them.

Inevitably, Satan, by its own doing, was immediately cast out into the absence of the God presence, which you label Hell. Once the Light bearer, it now dwells in darkness as the Father of Lies, nursing continual images of revenge against God.

Through the angels who accompanied its departure and remained in its command, those who joined the rebellion and casting out, it has and continues to wage continual war against God's design. Where once it existed to spiritually uplift mankind, it now exists to spiritually destroy you.

In the battle for your souls it attempts to oppose the Christ at every turn. Satan perceives Christ as its personal enemy. As Christ in spirit lives, so is Satan the living Antichrist.

DESTROY VS. CREATE

Satan is a purely destructive force—by its demonic representatives it claims to be naught other. Satan is utterly and totally dedicated to opposing human life and growth. It can only survive in vileness, war and hate.

Now, you ask—why would not God, having created Lucifer (Satan) in the first place, simply wipe him out? The question in itself presupposes that “God” would wipe anything out. It must be assumed that God can punish and kill if he would wipe a thing from existence. PERHAPS YOU SHOULD CONSIDER THAT GOD GAVE Satan FREE WILL JUST AS HE GAVE IT UNTO HU-MAN AND THAT GOD DOES NOT DESTROY; GOD ONLY CREATES! HOWEVER, IF HE SO CHOOSES TO REMOVE A THOUGHT FROM HIS PROCESS, THAT FRAGMENT SIMPLY CEASES TO EXIST—SO DON'T TEST HIS PATIENCE TOO FAR. IF A HUMAN IS STRICKEN FROM GOD'S BOOK OF LIFE RECORDS, AT THE TRANSITION OF THAT SOUL, ITS RECORD IS REMOVED.

The point is, children, that God does not punish. To create you in His image, God gave you free will. To have done otherwise would have been to make you puppets or hollow mannequins—robots, androids. Yet in order to give you free will, God had to forswear the use of force against you. You do not have free will when there is a gun pointed at your back; although you still have choice. It is not necessarily that God lacks the power to destroy you, to punish you, but that in His love for you—He has painfully and terribly chosen never to use it. In agony He must stand by and allow you to BE. He intervenes only to help, when asked, never to hurt. God Creator is a God of restraint. Having forsworn the use of power against you, if you refuse His help, He has no recourse but to watch you punish yourselves.

While many of you ones upon Earth envision your God as a giant wrathful policeman in the sky somewhere, the reality is that God has forever denounced police force.

Ones ask, “How could God allow such and such a thing to happen?” Well, in the allowing of free will, there is a disallowing of “force”. God will not interfere—for in the allowing of free will, He forsook “force”. You cannot have one without the presence of the other.

God waits most patiently for you to make your decision—for he is a God of Truth and will not break of his own edict. So, he awaits your choices. It may seem to you who desire Truth and Light that you are doomed. Oh, no, never. God will “win” the battle against Evil. IN FACT, THE BATTLE IS ALREADY WON, BY THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE CHRIST CAME AND WILL COME AGAIN. THERE IS NO DEATH OF SOUL, SO HE WHO IS CREATED CAN, IN NO WISE, ANNIHILATE HIS OWN CREATOR.

KNOW that Satan is on the run and in his apparent control of the world is desperately efforting at maintaining power. He attacks more steadfastly those ones who can produce the most in opposition of his lie. This is why ones who work within the Light, i.e., pen these messages, speak in truth, uncover the lies and make them public and thus and so, are most targeted. It is, however, more advantageous to discredit in some manner the offenders, than to actually kill them—for then the banner is taken up by others. Therefore, the heavy thrust is to discredit truth and have the bringers of the truth discredited. It is often most unintentional in ones who do the discrediting. It is in the manner of telling ones who receive of these words that they are mostly correct, that only about 10% is tainted. NO, NO, NO—truth is 100%. “Errors” of human typing and printing can be present but concept and content must be 100%. Do I make of myself quite clear?

The quickest way to stop Dharma dead in her tracks is to indicate that what she puts to keyboard is tainted. Naught less than 100% truth is acceptable to her, for she is pained already about her service and probable consequences of her participation. She works in anonymous obscurity, having been targeted so heavily by our adversaries. These ones have handled two magnificent jobs; that of building a model city and business center and that of writing the history of this time of transition from myself and those of mine team. They have had but few to assist, just a small handful. They have given of every worldly possession and benefit—but the rewards shall be turned, for God is just. Remember, ye who work in the Lighted path—God is just and giving, for God IS abundance.

This is for all of you who share the uncommon task of presenting our presence and our truth in your works—ye shall not work in blindness nor lack of assistance for much longer in your time perspective, for we are here in your spaces already. It is no longer that: “Some day I shall come again”—I AM COME AGAIN! I AM MOST REAL, I AM MANIFESTED AND I AM COME! SO BE IT—FOR YOU MUST BE IN THE HEARING AND ACCEPTING OF THIS TRUTH. WATCH THOSE ONES WHO DENOUNCE THIS AS FALSE—FOR THEY ARE TOUCHED BY THE EVIL BROTHERHOOD.

YE SHALL NOT BE IN THE “DRIFTING” UP INTO SOME FRAGILE CLOUDS SOMEWHERE OUT THERE—YOUR PLACES ARE PREPARED FOR YOU; AND YOU WILL FIND SHELTER IN VERY MANIFESTED SILVER SHIPS THAT WILL TEND OF YOUR NEEDS. DO YOU NOT THINK PERHAPS IT IS TIME TO OPEN EYES AND EARS AND KNOW HOW IT IS? HAVE YOU NOT BEEN PEOPLE OF THE LIE LONG ENOUGH? SO BE IT.

I will point out right at this point, that evil even claims the brotherhood of cosmic brethren come in his own appearance. Nay, we come as you; thousands walk among you. God sends forth His hordes in His own image—He would not send forth terrifying images to paralyze and disable you in your most terrific hour of need.

DO IT YOURSELF

No-one, not your parent, your sibling, your Senator or Christ, can cast out Satan or demons from thy minds. The afflicted must “do it yourself”. The way can be shown, the meal prepared but the ultimate eating must be individual.

Satan cannot do evil except through a human body. Although it was a murderer from its beginning, it cannot murder except with human hands. It does not have the power to kill or even harm by itself. It must use human beings to do its devilry. Although it repeatedly threatens to kill the possessed and the helpers, its threats are exactly that in itself, for they are lies. Unfortunately, there are millions of unwary who will do the work, instead.

The only real power that Satan has is through human belief in its lies and the ability to discount truth and truth bringers. Possessed ones have fallen for the false and seductive promise of “friendship” and material gain. Satan will say something like the following: “You need us, for we don’t hate ‘Jesus’ or Christ, we just test him.” Nay, this is the Father of Lies speaking—he hates, from his very essence, the Christ!

What are some of the lies he will tell you personally? Well, humans must use any method necessary to defend themselves in order to survive and cannot depend on anything other than themselves in their defense. It will say, “Everything is explainable in terms of negative and positive energy (which balance out to be zero)”. Strangely, it is the way the lie is presented, for he is an expert at twisting the truth into a lie. When telling of the truth, it is so unacceptable that the human grabs for the lie and eats it all. He will tell you there is no mystery in the world—he will fail to tell you the world is mostly all mysticism. He will tell you love is a thought and has no objective reality; however, all ones are seeking love and cannot survive in a balanced positive manner without it. “All things are abstract and these lies of goodness are simply hypocritical in nature; to compete for money, power, ego gratification and control, therefore, is the only intelligent way to live.”

This spirit must be recognized as a “real” thing. Although intangible and immaterial, it has a personality and a true “being”. You cannot define Satan’s personality as simply the absence of goodness. Its personality cannot simply be explained away as an absence, a nothingness. There is a prevailing presence of hate. Satan desires to destroy life and you must understand this fact above all.

SATAN’S BEST DECEPTION IS ITS GENERAL SUCCESS IN CONCEALING ITS OWN REALITY FROM THE HUMAN MIND.

SATAN’S WEAKNESS

Now we get on to something useful in tangible manner. Satan has glaring weaknesses—which in turn give Satan’s adversaries great strength.

Satan’s demons are extraordinarily brilliant but are also extraordinarily stupid. If it were not so extraordinarily narcissistic and conceited, Satan would not reveal itself at all. Its pride overcomes its own intelligence, so that the demon of deceit is also a show-off. If it were thoroughly clever, it would leave its victims long before things get really rough on it as a being. It really desires to win and, therefore, foolishly sticks on to the bitter end.

Satan is also blind in some areas. It has no understanding of the phenomenon of Love—for it is too extremely self-oriented. It recognizes love as a reality to be fought and even to be imitated, but utterly lacking in itself, it does not understand love in the least bit. The notion of true “sacrifice” is totally foreign to it—ones make sacrifices unto it and that is all it can understand. When humans respond to its presence in true love, it does not comprehend what is being said and is completely ignorant of any ground rules in loving behavior.

Evil further assumes a profound human tendency to self-deception, employs the scientific method to counteract it, and holds truth higher than any personal desire. Therefore, Satan also does not understand science at all. Enamored with its own will and hater of the Light of Truth, it basically finds human science incomprehensible.

Caution, in your newly found strength, is strongly advised. Satan’s weakness should not encourage you to overlook its strengths. It propounds its lies with extraordinary power. It may not be so remarkable that it possesses people in front of you—but it has the power to totally confuse and cause total despair in another as a result of the power of its lies.

GROUP EVIL AND HOW TO MOVE WITHIN IT

Here is your massive problem. When the evil intent and ignorance outweigh the good intent, what can you do in action? Man will do what he is told to do by “leaders” and his own ego needs. He will steal, maim, go to war, march for peace—whatever seems appropriate at a given time. So what of group evil, such as a mass killing—what of a MyLai, or Hitler’s death marches? The task of preventing group evil—including war itself—is clearly a task of eradicating or, at least, significantly diminishing laziness, self-blindness and narcissism.

How? Although there are such phenomena as group identity, group narcissism, and group spirit, there is no way to influence such phenomena except through influencing individual members of such a group. First you attempt to do so by influencing the individual group leaders. If that route is blocked, then you must turn to whatever is left, such as the lowest of the group and start seeking grassroots support. In any manner, it is the individual which must be encountered, for it is ultimately in the solitary mind and soul of the individual that the battle between good and evil is waged and ultimately won or lost. EACH INDIVIDUAL LEAVES ITS MARK ON HISTORY—WHETHER GOOD OR EVIL. IT IS WITHIN THE ACCEPTANCE OF THIS VERY INFORMATION INTO THE INDIVIDUAL PERCEPTION WHICH WILL IMPACT AGAINST EVIL AS A WHOLE. BUT TO HAVE IMPACT, MAN MUST MAKE A CHOICE AND TAKE ACTION.

HUMANITY AT THIS POINT IN HISTORY IS IN MOST GRAVE CIRCUMSTANCE—YE HAVE FORGOTTEN WHAT GOODNESS IS, IN MAJOR CONTEXT. EVIL ABUNDANTLY RULES AT THIS TIME. HOWEVER, IN THE PRACTICE OF EVIL, YOU HAD NO IDEA HOW ROTTEN IT CAN REALLY GET—AND THERE ENTERS SATANISM AND ITS “BEYOND IMAGINED EVIL” CONCEPT AND INTENT. SIMPLE EVIL GETS YOU ONLY SO FAR AND YOU DO NOT HAVE TO LOOK AT IT UNTIL THY NEIGHBOR’S NEWBORN BABE IS

SKINNED ALIVE IN A SATANIC RITUAL, TO DEATH. EVEN THEN, YOU BURY YOUR HEAD AND CLOSE YOUR EYES AND EARS AND REFUSE ITS EXISTENCE—YOU PROCEED TO RETURN THE BUCKEYS BACK UPON SOCIETY IN THE NAME OF “RELIGIOUS FREEDOM”, MORE OR LESS. SO BE IT—FOR UNTIL YOU LOOK AT THAT WHICH IS, YE SHALL NOT CHANGE OF IT.

THEREFORE, I SHALL DEVOTE THE REMAINDER OF THIS JOURNAL TO THE DISCUSSION, HEINOUS DESCRIPTIONS AND TRUE TALES OF EVIL AT ITS MOST REMARKABLE—RIGHT UNDER YOUR NOSES IN ITS MOST BASE PORTRAYAL. FURTHER, UNTIL YOU REALIZE THAT THIS SAME TYPE OF EVIL IS BEING PERPETRATED UPON MANKIND IN ALL PARTS OF YOUR WORLD TO A MUCH HIGHER DEGREE, YE SHALL NOT FIND OF YOUR WAY OUT OF THE MESS. UNTIL YOU AS A MANKIND CEASE TO ALLOW THE LIE AND ITS PERPETUATION FROM ANY TO ANY, YE SHALL DWELL IN THE DARKNESS OF HELPLESSNESS AGAINST YOUR ENEMY. WHEN EVEN THE SMALLEST ACT OF TRUTH IS DIMINISHED, ALL TRUTH IS DIMINISHED.

Go forth for respite before we move on into Satanism—and how and why it grows from the seed of evil. Man must grow from the acceptance of the lie into the knowledge of that which is truth. I place my seal upon these words that they be accepted in the truth presented. Do not push your perception beyond that which is presented, for man has much yet to learn about this wondrous path of “life”.

I AM SANANDA

SECTION IISATANIC DRUMBEAT*CHAPTER 10

REC. #1 SANANDA

SAT., NOV. 04, 1989 7:00 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 080

Hold strong, chela, for I am here. Sananda to continue of our work. As we move into this next series of writings, this should be considered section two. Let us call it SATANIC DRUMBEAT. This will separate the subject of Satanism from the discourse on “evil” as a definition and description.

First, we will confront recent assaults upon yourself and Oberli. I shall not take of time in this writing to discuss the matter, for I desire participation from Hatonn and your group. We will either respond in writing or vocally, whichever seems most appropriate to the group. It is not your decision nor responsibility, Dharma, to either plan or set up the meeting. Ours is to continue with this document as rapidly as possible that we might get on with having the babe home, please.

I want some one of you to get your hands on the report that shall be coming forth regarding the Flight #103. The plane that was destroyed over Scotland. You will find it will contain (if it is actually allowed to be brought forth publicly in truth) that ultimately your CIA was responsible in great measure for that murderous event; it is tangled in with drug shipments, arms—and the bomb itself was brought aboard in Germany. We wish this documented at this point, for Hatonn told you these things at the time of the event.

You have been given all the data and input necessary to understand this most recent rift. You don't want to face it and it is most painful indeed but you will continue to write, for this is mandatory information which must be brought forth. I will further tell you ones that if you call an information meeting, Hatonn is going to grill you ones to see if you have learned anything or just expect him to spell it out for you. Ones had better do some memory refreshment work. You are not "New Age" babes who are trained "to be". You have been trained to see that which is going on and make correct value judgments. We are a bit disappointed that you know, and yet take so long to actually see and act. Every clue is available and further, we shall dissect the information which you received on the yesterday—bit by bit, to see if any of it fits in actuality. You have to back a long way from the parts in order to see of the whole.

Now, let us continue on the subject of Satanism.

SATANISM AS A RELIGION

Satanism began long before the so-called Christian era—but we will begin there, for that is when it became most important as regards current day. It is the most obvious of the Antichrist activities of physical portendment. It is like maggots within a carcass; you only see a few on the outside but the carcass is writhing within. You will be devastated emotionally when you find the ones who belong to these Satanic cults are some of your topmost leaders. Oh, the guise will be great and the denials loud but, dear ones, you do not have a symbol of death and poison, for instance—skulls and bones, without Master Satan being somewhere in the woodwork.

You will look at the rituals of the Satanist cult and probably say, "Well, but there are no human sacrifices or blood-letting or-or-or." Isn't there? What about hundreds of thousands of starving children the world over? How about the people being murdered in Colombia? What of a plane full of people in Flight 103?

RITUALS

I shall begin this by giving you a lesson in ritual attitudes of Satan's gatherings of the "John Doe" variety. You can find it on any evening or afternoon, in any place on planet Earth.

First you need some definitions:

THE WITCHES' WAND: The wand, the most important aid in witchcraft, may be made of many different types of wood, such as willow, hazel, rowan, elder, oak, and mistletoe. The wand should be made of a slim tree limb about one inch in diameter and as long as the distance from the elbow to the top of the forefinger. Two inches of pith are removed from inside the wand and the cavity is filled with a piece of cotton where three to five drops of blood have been dropped. The blood must come from the thumb, which is pricked with a brand-new needle. The tip of the wand is then sealed with dripping wax from the altar candle. A pentagram and the magic name of the witch are painted or engraved on the wand which is then consecrated with water, fire, wind, oil, and three deep breaths of air in the names of the god and goddess. These substances represent the four elements. In black magic and Satanism the pentagram is always described in an upside manner.

THE ATHAME: The black-handled knife of witches. It is used to open the circle. The athame and the sword are used to perform all magical rites and to subdue rebellious spirits, demons, and genii.

PENTACLE: This symbol of the element earth is made from a round piece of wood usually seven inches in diameter, with a pentagram inscribed or painted on it. It can also be made of copper or brass.

CENSER: The censer is used to burn incense and to encourage good spirits, as well as to banish evil ones. Or the opposite.

SCOURGE: The handle of the scourge is of birch, the four thongs of leather. This instrument is used in initiations, is the symbol of the power of domination. It is the weapon of the horned god of the witches and is very important in formal ceremonies.

BOLLINE: The witches' white-handled knife is used to make instruments, cut pentagrams on candles, etc. It can be used only inside the magic circle.

THE STANG: This is a straight piece of rowan wood (mountain ash) with a fork on one end, used in ancient times as a staff. A shorter version is used to beat out the rhythm of the circle dancers.

ALTAR: Any consecrated place or thing used to hold the ritual instruments used in the magic circle.

CAULDRON: A kettle usually of iron and an ordinary cooker in which food or drink is prepared over the balefire for the rites.

CORD: The magic binding cord is made from strands of red wool or ribbon. It is plaited (braided) with a loop tied at one end to represent the female aspect. The other end is left frayed to represent the male aspect. Measure your binding around your head and loop a knot, continue around your chest, loop a knot, around your waist, loop a knot, around your hips, loop a knot, around your knee, loop a knot, around your feet, knot. The finished cord should measure nine feet in length. It is worn around the waist during all rites and is used in binding spells. It is used to bind the sigils of the art, the material basis, and is necessary to enforce your will. Tie your cord around you by passing the male end through the loop (female) and secure.

THE CUP: This is the vessel used for wine offerings to the gods. It is usually made of metal and is often carved with vines and fruit.

THE BOOK OF SHADOWS: The personal grimoire of a witch, where all the ceremonies and practices of the Craft were kept for future generations. The Book of Shadows invariably has black covers and is handwritten by its owner.

MARKINGS ON THE TOOLS OF WITCHCRAFT:

[MM: To view these referenced markings, please see page 75 of this Journal. The images of the markings in my copy are not sufficiently detailed to warrant scanning of same for inclusion in this article.]

BLACK SABBATH

Perhaps the most famous and ancient of the ceremonies of black magic are those known as Black Sabbaths, practiced by black witches and devil worshippers. I hesitate to use the name Satan in this context, because most magicians agree that Satan is not a real personality or power but rather a concentration of evil or negative vibrations. Of course, however, this is the compilation of energies which is worshipped, so I shall use the term. It is most openly used in your current day, at any rate. Whenever a black magician invokes Satan, he is, in fact, invoking the most negative and evil aspects of his own mind—it is the mind that summons the energies. The name of Satan, Lucifer, or whichever demon he calls upon, serves simply to activate within his psyche those forces. Ah, you say, "'Tis but much like a religious church for God and Christ!" So be it—it is only differing in intent and purpose.

Nevertheless, it must also be accepted that Satan and his demonic hordes are undoubtedly archetypes of the collective unconscious, and in this sense they do have form and specific characteristics—further, they become totally visible to the human eye if focused upon long enough in descriptive format. "Well", you now say, "It sounds exactly like an Indian ceremony—a pagan hoopla." So be that also—you must never leave sight of intent and purpose—NEVER! This is why it is set up in this manner—to mislead, confuse and totally mimic rituals of honor given by ones of primitive and native people to honor God and Creation, for they knew no difference and they were most sacred in their practice—only glorifying life and balance; never honoring destruction nor death.

Do not confuse the Black Mass with the Black Sabbath. The Black Mass is, of course, the parody of the Christian Mass in your hierarchal religions. The Black Sabbath is older than the Black Mass, which was invented by the French sometime about the 17th Century of your counting. The Black Sabbath dates back beyond your 16th Century and is laid out in detail—which I shall lay out for you.

At the center of the clearing chosen for the meeting would stand the black altar. Dharma, let us find the description please and place it here that it might not deviate from confirmation material. It will be by Peter Haining in THE WARLOCK'S BOOK, SECRETS OF BLACK MAGIC FROM THE ANCIENT GRIMOIRES (Secaucus, N.J.: Citadel Press, 1973). THIS IS FOR THE PROTECTION OF THIS SCRIBE—FOR WE ARE NOW TINKERING WITH INFORMATION WHICH IS MOST MAGNIFICENTLY DANGEROUS TO HER PHYSICAL BEING.

"A large stone be best, but a wooden table will suffice. On it stands two candles of human fat set in black wooden candlesticks like the feet of a goat; a magical sword with a black handle; a copper vase containing blood; a censer holding perfumes, namely, incense, camphor, alces, ambergris and storax mixed with the blood of a goat, a mole and a bat; four nails taken from the coffin of an executed criminal; the head of a black cat which has been nourished on human flesh for five days; the horns of a goat and the skull of a parricide (a man who had killed his father)."

Of course, if all of these items were not present, they would make do with whatever would be next horribly best.

Just behind the altar would sit the goat figure representing the devil. According to the grimoires, this could be either a goat tied firmly upright in a chair with a lighted black candle between its horns or a large black cat with its head shorn and a cloak thrown over its tightly restrained body. A huge erect phallus was usually placed between the legs of this figure. On either side would sit two beautiful witch maidens, the symbolic brides of the devil, who would disrobe and join the general festivities after the initial service of adoration.

“When the company are assembled in a semicircle facing the altar, the designated “high priest” (wearing a simple black cloak with the Black Magic pentagram on the back) steps forward to the goat figure and presents a black turnip with the words, ‘Master help us.’ There was abundant use of animals and birds in the rituals. The man then pauses, takes a further step forward and repeats: ‘I will come to the altar. Save me Lord Satan from the treacherous and the violent.’

“Next follows the ‘Prayer to Satan’, which is read from the Black Book and can be repeated after the priest by the assembly:

“Oh, Satan, thou who art the shadow of God and of ourselves, I speak these words of agony for the glory.

“Thou who are Doubt and Revolt, Sophism and Impotence, thou livest again in us and round us, as in the troubled centuries when thou didst reign, darkness, shaking in thy left hand the abominable sceptre of a bloody lingham.

“Today thy degenerate sons are scattered, and celebrate thy cult in their hideouts. Thy traditional pontiffs are blind shepherds, vile jades, presumptuous magis, poisoners and pariahs.

“But thy people have increased, and Satan, thou canst be proud of the multitude of thy Faithful ones, as false as thy will has desired. This world which denies thee, thou inhabitest it, thou wallowest in it as on the dead roses of a mouldy, smelly midden.

“Thou has won, O Satan, though anonymous and obscure for a few more years yet; but the coming century will proclaim thy revenge. Thou shalt be reborn in the Anti-Christ. The science of mysteries, spurting suddenly in a black wave already quenches the thirst of the curious and the uneasy; young men and women see themselves mirrored in these waves of illusion which intoxicate and madden.

“O charming Satan! I have torn off thy mask of voluptuous gluttony, and I have fallen in love with thy tearstained face, beautiful as an eternal and defeated grudge.

“O hideous Satan! I have uncovered thy ignominy to reveal the wildness. If thy involuntary torment has the noble appearance of being irrevocable, it is illumined by the honour of becoming a redemption. O scapegoat of the world, thy beating heart of a dead man covets the immense, the final depth—thou utterest the sobs of a Messiah, but thou corruptest and degrades like a damnation.

“Therefore I will tell of thy infamy, and thy attraction. I will sing of thine infinite lament. Thou art the last ideal of fallen man, but if thy cherub’s wings seem to be impregnated with heaven, if thy woman’s breast drips a sooting pity, thy scaly belly and thy animal’s legs exude stinking idleness, forgetfulness of courage, and consent to abjectness.

“O holy and impious Satan, symbol of the degenerate universe, thou who knowest and sufferest, may thou become, according to the word of the Divine Promise, the atoning genius of Expiation!”

This prayer can be found in variations throughout the world, brothers. It leads naturally into the initiation of new “disciples”, if such there be. This ceremony contained probably the most obscene element of all, for the new member was required to bring with him or her a liquid made from the flesh of a child. Another 16th - Century document relates how the liquid was made:

“Those to be called to the Devil’s service lie in wait for children. These are often found dead by their parents and the simple people believe that they have themselves overlain them, or that they died from natural causes, but it is we who have destroyed them. For that purpose we steal them out of the grave and boil them with lime, till all the flesh is loosened from the bones, and is reduced to one mass. We make out of the firm part an ointment, and fill a bottle with the fluid; and whoever drinks with due ceremonies of this belongs to our league, and is already capable of bewitching.”

Armed with a vial of this liquid, the initiate is brought naked and blindfolded into the assembly, “He being made to pass between great fires and alarming noises to test his character”, according to one report “And when his face was uncovered”, it goes on, “he found himself in front of a monstrous goat and must drink his potion in salute.”

Next the initiate must affirm his belief in Black Magic and from a manuscript of the same period, we find a list of the promises the new recruit had to make, each being echoed back by the assembly after he had spoken.

[Al, this is a direct quote so ignore all misspelling.]

“I denie God, and all religion.

“I curse, blaspheme, and provoke God with all despite.

“I give my faith to the Devil, and my worship and offer sacrifice to him.

“I doo solemnelie vow and promise all my progenie unto the Devil.

“I swear to the Devil to bring a manie into his societie as I can.

“I will always swear by the name of the Devil.”

This completed the ceremonial. All that remained was for the new adept to perform the osculum obsoenum, a kiss on the goat-figure’s backside. This done, he was allowed to copulate “with whichsoever maid there present did take his eye, and to the delight of all the company.”

The rituals now over, the legendary banquet or feast began, at which wine, meat, broth, bacon, and bread were consumed. Some authorities have stated that no salt was allowed, but this seems merely a convenient invention, as one black book records that “thy did indulge themselves on any viands and drink which pleased them.” There is not mention of the mandatory eating of human flesh but the inference is present, of course. The food and drink were “spiked” with aphrodisiacs and stimulants as well as fermented liquids. The “witch’s Satanic meetings” in Scotland, at that time, were claimed to surpass all others.

For those who wished, dancing took place—during which those who were still dressed took off their clothes—and the shout went up: “Ha ha! Devil, Devil! Dance here, Dance here! Play here, Play here! Sabbat, Sabbat!” At some gatherings, the outlawed “back to back” dancing was encouraged whilst at others you can find reports of the game—played Black Magic style. (This game, dear friends, your children play as Blind Man’s Buff.) The witches, of course, played it naked with a young warlock (also naked) blindfolded and set loose among them. Whoever he caught hold of, he was free to make love (sic) to. Needless to say, the men always hoped to “catch” a young girl, as sex relations were obligatory with the witch he caught, regardless of her age or disposition.

Drugs, potions, and ointments were, naturally, much in evidence—also, the conducting of certain spells and rituals, which are best dealt with at a separate notation.

Of the sex acts, most followed traditional lines. In the cases of women who claimed intercourse with the devil or demons, all can be ascribed to the use of an artificial phallus, while the popularity of sodomy may be put down to the fact that in many European countries it was regarded as a crime punishable by death, and this doubtless gave it an added attraction to those dedicated to evil.

There were, of course, all types of chants and actions to prolong these games as long as possible.

“The remainder of the proceedings continued as the black witches and warlocks chose, but they were required by common consent to disperse by daybreak, making sure before they left to eradicate all traces of their activities.”

The different types of rituals presented herein are all of an “invoking” nature. The power invoked increases gradually, as the intention becomes more morbid and self-centered. Whereas the first ritual, the Pagan Self-Blessing, was conceived for purification and union with the godhead, the second ritual, the witches’ ceremony, called for both purification and power (“As I do so shall ye do.”). The third ritual makes no pretense at purification—the aim is raw power at any cost whatsoever. In fact, the black magician basks in the most impure and vile actions in order to be in greater harmony with the evil forces.

Power in magic is thus a neutral force. Its use depends largely on the spiritual development, knowledge, and intentions of the magician, or High Priest. But whichever way it is used, the manipulation of power for personal gratification is fraught with cosmic retributions that the magician must never forget.

Now I witness that I have a lot of readers in every mode of emotion from anger, illness and inability to believe, to ones who are going to say Esu Jmmanuel Jesus Sananda would never utter such obscene terms and descriptions—OH, YES, I WOULD AND DO! IF YOU DON’T OPEN YOUR EYES AND SEE WHAT IS GOING ON BEFORE YOUR VERY NOSES AND AMONG YOUR CHILDREN AND A LARGE PORTION OF YOUR POPULACE—YOU ARE DOOMED!!

FURTHER, LET IT BE KNOWN AT THIS VERY POINT AND WITHOUT QUESTION: S-A-N-A-N-D-A IS THE COUNTERPOINT LABEL OF S-A-T-A-N! I SUGGEST YOU GET EVERY LAST DETAIL OF THE DIFFERENCE FIRMLY PLACED WITHIN YOUR CONSCIOUS MINDS! PERHAPS YOU DO NOT KNOW WHO “SANANDA” IS BUT ALLOW ME TO POINT OUT THAT THE ENEMY MOST CERTAINLY DOES AND SO DO HIS FOLLOWERS.

It is truly sad that I must unload the truth upon you in such vile manner and in such shocking ways; and it will worsen, for I am going to lay it out for you right up to current date and practice. YOU MUST NOT HIDE LONGER!

Let us bring this to a close, for it is enough vileness for a single sitting. If we might work more this day, I will await your notification. I give protection against this material, Dharma—go in peace.

This work must be brought forth—for man is starving to know truth and he cannot know truth unless he also knows of the lie. So be it; I move to stand-by.

I AM SANANDA OF LIGHT

[END OF PART 5]

For Part 1 of this Phoenix Journal #9 (SATAN’S DRUMMERS) please see the 7/26/00 CONTACT (page 9); Part 2 (3/14/01, page11); Part 3 (4/4/01, page 7); Part 4 (4/11/01, page 9)—Call (800) 800-5565 for ordering information.

The News Desk

By John & Jean Ray

THE USS LIBERTY: AMERICA'S MOST SHAMEFUL SECRET

By Eric S. Margolis, majordomo@foreigncorrespondent.com, 4/29/01

NEW YORK—On the fourth day of the 1967 Arab Israeli War, the intelligence ship USS Liberty was steaming slowly in international waters, 14 miles off the Sinai Peninsula. Israeli armored forces were racing deep into Sinai in hot pursuit of the retreating Egyptian army.

Liberty, a World War II freighter, had been converted into an intelligence vessel by the top-secret U.S. National Security Agency, and packed with the latest signals and electronic interception equipment. The ship bristled with antennas and electronic “ears” including TRSSCOMM, a system that delivered real-time intercepts to Washington by bouncing a stream of microwaves off the moon.

Liberty had been rushed to Sinai to monitor communications of the belligerents in the Third Arab Israeli War: Israel and her foes, Egypt, Syria, and Jordan.

At 0800 hrs, 8 June, 1967, eight Israeli recon flights flew over Liberty, which was flying a large American flag. At 1400 hrs, waves of low-flying Israeli Mystere and Mirage-III fighter-bombers repeatedly attacked the American vessel with rockets, napalm, and cannon. The air attacks lasted 20 minutes, concentrating on the ship’s electronic antennas and dishes. The Liberty was left afire, listing sharply. Eight of her crew lay dead, a hundred seriously wounded, including the captain, Commander William McGonagle.

At 1424 hrs, three Israeli torpedo boats attacked, raking the burning Liberty with 20mm and 40mm shells. At 1431hrs an Israeli torpedo hit the Liberty midship, precisely where the signals intelligence systems were located. Twenty-five more Americans died.

Israeli gunboats circled the wounded Liberty, firing at crewmen trying to fight the fires. At 1515, the crew were ordered to abandon ship. The Israeli warships closed and poured machine gun fire into the crowded life rafts, sinking two. As American sailors were being massacred in cold blood, a rescue mission by U.S. Sixth Fleet carrier aircraft was mysteriously aborted on orders from the White House.

An hour after the attack, Israeli warships and planes returned. Commander McGonagle gave the order. “prepare to repel boarders.” But the Israelis, probably fearful of intervention by the U.S. Sixth Fleet, departed. Liberty was left shattered but still defiant, her flag flying.

The Israeli attacks killed 34 U.S. seamen and wounded 171 out of a crew of 297, the worst loss of American naval personnel from hostile action since World War II.

Less than an hour after the attack, Israel told Washington its forces had committed a “tragic error”. Later, Israel claimed it had mistaken Liberty for an ancient Egyptian horse transport. U.S. Secretary of State, Dean Rusk, and Joint Chiefs of Staff head, Admiral Thomas Moorer, insisted the Israeli attack was deliberate and designed to sink Liberty. So did three CIA reports; one asserted Israel’s Defense Minister, Gen. Moshe Dayan, had personally ordered the attack.

In contrast to American outrage over North Korea’s assault on the intelligence ship Pueblo, Iraq’s mistaken missile strike on the USS Stark, last fall’s bombing of the USS Cole in Aden, and the recent U.S.-China air incident, the savaging of Liberty was quickly hushed up by President Lyndon Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

The White House and Congress immediately accepted Israel’s explanation and let the matter drop. Israel later paid a token reparation of U.S. $6 million. There were reports two Israeli pilots who had refused to attack Liberty were jailed for 18 years.

Surviving Liberty crewmembers would not be silenced. They kept demanding an open inquiry and tried to tell their story of deliberate attack to the media. Israel’s government worked behind the scenes to thwart these efforts, going so far as having American pro-Israel groups accuse Liberty’s survivors of being “anti-Semites” and “Israel-haters”. Major TV networks cancelled interviews with the crew. A book about the Liberty by crewman James Ennes was dropped from distribution. The Israel lobby branded him “an Arab propagandist”.

The attack on Liberty was fading into obscurity until last week, when intelligence expert James Bamford came out with Body of Secrets, his latest book about the National Security Agency. In a stunning revelation, Bamford writes that unknown to Israel, a U.S. Navy EC-121 intelligence aircraft was flying high overhead of the Liberty, electronically recorded the attack. The U.S. aircraft crew provides evidence that the Israeli pilots knew full well that they were attacking a U.S. Navy ship flying the American flag.

Why did Israel try to sink a naval vessel of its benefactor and ally? Most likely because Liberty’s intercepts flatly contradicted Israel’s claim, made at the war’s beginning on 5 June, that Egypt had attacked Israel, and that Israel’s massive air assault on three Arab nations was in retaliation. In fact, Israel began the war by a devastating, Pearl-Harbor style surprise attack that caught the Arabs in bed and destroyed their entire air forces.

Israel was also preparing to attack Syria to seize its strategic Golan Heights. Washington warned Israel not to invade Syria, which had remained inactive while Israel fought Egypt. Bamford says Israel’s offensive against Syria was abruptly postponed when Liberty appeared off Sinai, then launched once it was knocked out of action. Israel’s claim that Syria had attacked it could have been disproved by Liberty.

Most significant, Liberty’s intercepts may have shown that Israel seized upon sharply rising Arab-Israeli tensions in May-June 1967 to launch a long-planned war to invade and annex the West Bank, Jerusalem, Golan and Sinai.

Far more shocking was Washington’s response. Writes Bamford: “Despite the overwhelming evidence that Israel attacked the ship and killed American servicemen deliberately, the Johnson Administration and Congress covered up the entire incident.” Why?

Domestic politics. Johnson, a man never noted for high moral values, preferred to cover up the attack rather than anger a key constituency and major financial backer of the Democratic Party. Congress was even less eager to touch this “third rail” issue.

Commander McGonagle was quietly awarded the Medal of Honor for his and his men’s heroism—not in the White House, as is usual, but in an obscure ceremony at the Washington Navy Yard. Crewmember’s graves were inscribed, “died in the Eastern Mediterranean” as if they had been killed by disease, rather than hostile action.

A member of President Johnson’s staff believed there was a more complex reason for the cover-up: Johnson offered Jewish liberals unconditional backing of Israel, and a cover-up of the Liberty attack, in exchange for the liberals toning down their strident criticism of his policies in the then raging Vietnam War.

Israel, which claims it fought a war of self-defense in 1967 and had no prior territorial ambitions, will be much displeased by Bamford’s revelations. Those who believe Israel illegally occupies the West Bank and Golan will be emboldened.

Much more important, the U.S. government’s long, disgraceful cover-up of the premeditated attack on Liberty has now burst into the open and demands full-scale investigation. After 34 years, the voices of Liberty’s dead and wounded seamen must finally be heard.

[JR: Israel’s deliberate attack on the USS Liberty proves she is any nation’s worst nightmare as an ally. Israel’s evil and treacherous acts, place her at the top of the list along with Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia. The USS Liberty and its men were sacrificed so Israel could start a war to begin her land grab in the Middle East. What is outrageous about the whole incident is that when challenged by the Liberty crew survivors, Israel brands them as haters of Israel and anti-Semites. Israel treats the U.S. as she does her enemies and she won’t hesitate to sacrifice us in her bloody wars. Isn’t it time we Americans demand that Israel be identified as a rogue state, cut off our military aid and assistance and our President and Congress stop covering up the truth to protect Israel and her interests? Now that the truth has finally been exposed, all the families of the victims on the USS Liberty should sue Israel for billions. That’s the only language they understand. They have always sued whenever they “claim” they are the victims.]

MUBARAK TALKS OF TRUCE, PALESTINIANS DENY KNOWLEDGE

Arabia On Line, 4/29/01

Peres was in Cairo to discuss an Egyptian-Jordanian peace proposal that calls for an end to violence

CAIRO—Israeli-Palestinian clashes flared again on Sunday despite talk by Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak of a four-week ceasefire agreement to end the bloodshed.

“The two sides have agreed to a ceasefire,” he said after talks with Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres in Cairo.

“After a ceasefire of four weeks, negotiations between the two sides will start to reach a solution to the current situation,” Mubarak told reporters.

“There are still issues that we have to clarify and I don’t want to claim that everything is okay and everything is agreed,” Peres said after talks here with Mubarak and Foreign Minister Amr Mussa.

“But I can say that an agreement on how to handle the situation was really achieved,” Peres said.

Palestinian officials said they had no knowledge of any ceasefire deal. “We were not informed of such an agreement. This is the first we hear of it,” a senior official in Gaza said.

Peres was in Cairo to discuss an Egyptian-Jordanian peace proposal that calls for an end to violence, confidence-building measures and a return to peace talks.

The foreign minister was due to travel on to Jordan and then return to brief Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon before flying to Washington late on Sunday for talks with Secretary of State Colin Powell and other senior U.S. officials.

The talk from Cairo produced no immediate let-up in violence that has killed at least 443 Palestinians, and 75 Israelis killed since a Palestinian uprising against Israeli occupation erupted exactly seven months ago.

Israeli tanks fired four shells near the Khan Younis refugee camp in the southern Gaza Strip, wounding an 11-year-old boy in the leg, Palestinian hospital sources said.

An army spokesman said troops had been replying to gunfire from Khan Younis at military posts near the Jewish settlements of Gadid and Neve Dekalim, where one Israeli was wounded.

Further north, soldiers guarding Kfar Darom settlement fired three tank shells at a Palestinian intelligence post in Deir al-Balah, wounding two people, a Palestinian security spokesman said, adding that Palestinians had not been firing at the time.

The army said Palestinians had fired two mortar bombs at Kfar Darom, causing no casualties.

Troops also battled Palestinian gunmen in Beit Hanoun in the southern Gaza Strip, Palestinian security officials said.

The Israeli army said a bomb exploded near a bus taking Jewish settler children to school in the West Bank west of Nablus, causing no Israeli casualties. Army radio said the body of a possible suicide bomber had been found in a car nearby.

In Israel’s coastal town of Netanya, police used a robot to detonate a bomb placed in a paint bucket. The blast damaged a row of shops and police said they had detained an Arab suspect.

Pastry shop owner Mati Lasri told Israel Radio he had alerted police after looking into the bucket, left next to a ladder 20 minutes earlier, and finding a battery and wires.

On Saturday a Palestinian and an Israeli were killed in separate shootings and five Jewish settlers were hurt in a Palestinian mortar attack in the Gaza Strip.

It was the third mortar attack on Jewish settlements in Gaza in 24 hours and prompted Sharon to accuse the Palestinian Authority of being “actively involved” in such strikes.

Arafat reminded his security chiefs on Saturday night of the need to stop mortar attacks, one of his top aides said.

“Last night President Arafat called the meeting to reconfirm the decision,” Tayeb Abdel-Rahim told Reuters.

Despite the mortar attacks, Israeli officials said Israel would pursue plans to ease a blockade of the Palestinian territories by letting 11,000 more Palestinians work in Israel.

ISRAEL’S PERES ENDS TALKS IN JORDAN

Arabia.com, 4/29/01

AMMAN (Reuters)—Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres ended talks with Jordan’s King Abdullah in the Red Sea port of Aqaba on Sunday on ways of curbing Israeli-Palestinian violence and resuming peace talks, officials said.

Palace officials said the two-hour-long talks at the monarch’s beachside palace, attended by Prime Minister Ali Abu Al-Ragheb and Foreign Minister Abdulilah Al-Khatib, focused on a joint Egyptian-Jordanian peace plan to stem the bloodshed.

Earlier in Cairo, Egyptian Foreign Minister Amr Moussa said Israel and the Palestinians were still discussing a ceasefire accord that Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak had announced after meeting Peres.

Peres said he had told Egyptian leaders that Israel would take “unconditional, immediate steps to facilitate the life of the people in the territories in every possible way”.

Peres did not elaborate. But Israeli officials have already announced plans to let 11,000 more Palestinians work in Israel.

Jordanian officials were unavailable for comment on whether Peres had given a favorable response to the peace plan, the only diplomatic initiative to end seven months of violence.

“The response will constitute a real test of Israeli intentions,” a senior cabinet minister earlier told Reuters.

Peres will brief Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon before flying to Washington later on Sunday for talks with U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell.

Jordanian officials said the peace plan offered Israel a chance to extricate itself from an increasingly dangerous situation that endangered the security of the whole region.

The plan drafted by Egypt and Jordan, the only two moderate Arab states to have signed peace treaties with Israel, has drawn cautious U.S. interest and Russian praise.

Israel has said it was considering the proposals which call for an end to bloodshed, the rebuilding of confidence and the resumption of an Israeli-Palestinian peace talks.

SHARON: WE WON’T RENEW NEGOTIATIONS AFTER ONLY 4 WEEKS OF QUIET

The Globe—UK, 4/30/01

Prime Minister Ariel Sharon said today that diplomatic negotiations with the Palestinians can be resumed only after an extended period of total quiet. Sharon said he does not accept the proposal to resume diplomatic negotiations with the Palestinians after four weeks, and that a much longer trial period is needed.

Senior officials in the Prime Minister’s Bureau made it clear that only if the Palestinian Authority (PA) proves it will take serious action to fight violence, and total calm reigns in the territories, will it then be possible to discuss renewed diplomatic negotiations.

Palestinian Legislative Council Chairman Abu-Ala today denied reaching an agreement for a cease-fire between Israel and the PA with Minister of Foreign Affairs Shimon Peres or any other Israeli representative. Yesterday, Palestinian sources reported through the “Yediot Ahronot” Website YNET, that comments by Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak about a planned cease-fire were based on understandings reached between Abu-Ala and the Prime Minister’s son, Omri Sharon. Abu-Ala said in an interview with the Palestinian newspaper

Al-Quds that talk about an agreement with Israel “is odd”. He emphasized that there are no diplomatic contacts, nor is he involved in any diplomacy, except for diplomacy surrounding the Egyptian-Jordanian initiative. Israel has yet to state whether it will accept the plan.

Palestinian media claims that Peres’s visit to Egypt and Jordan has failed, and that Israel is continuing its attempts to drag things out in order to negate the Egyptian-Jordanian initiative.

[JR: As you can see by the previous articles on these cease-fire negotiations between Egypt, Jordan and Peres for Israel, that Sharon will not accept any agreement negotiated by anyone else. Sharon will find every excuse to negate any talk of peace until everything is on his conditions and his own plan, which will never be publicly revealed, as then the world would find him unacceptable. So we are left with these continuous political games of excessive revenge that many world leaders are also growing tired of.]

IRAN BOOSTS PALESTINIAN UPRISING

Strafor, 4/26/01

To reassert its importance in the Middle East, Iran is moving to revive its role as a sponsor for Palestinian and Lebanese radical groups.

Tehran aims to hinder peace talks over the Palestinian uprising in Israel to demonstrate to Israelis and others that it still wields power and influence in the region.

As a sponsor and coordinator of the Palestinian opposition, Iran undermines Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat’s ability to negotiate peace with Israel, while Tehran improves the effectiveness of militant groups in attacking Israel.

This week, Iran hosted a two-day international conference in Tehran to support the Palestinian uprising in Israel. Tehran hopes to isolate Arafat and assume control over the intifada. In fact, while Arafat works with Egypt and Jordan to resume peace talks, Iran has called for strengthening the uprising.

While publicly forming ties to groups like Hamas, Hezbollah and the Islamic Jihad, Tehran’s efforts will damage Iran’s image among some foreign leaders, others will look to Tehran as an influential third party.

During the conference, Iranian President Mohammad Khatami “stressed the importance of unity among combatant groups and told those attending that the most important issue in Palestine is strengthening the Intifada,” Iranian state news agency IRNA reported April 24.

By focusing on problems the Palestinians face, Khatami and Iranian Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei also turn the public’s attention away from the June 8 presidential elections, likely to be the next big battle between conservative and reformist factions, Parliamentary representatives from 35 Arab and Islamic nations and leaders from several Palestinian opposition groups attended the conference. Palestinian National Authority President Yasser Arafat was noticeably absent.

Iran plans to undercut Arafat’s efforts toward peace by offering the Palestinians an alternative. Iranian leaders also have suggested calling a referendum among the “original inhabitants of Palestine on the country’s future”, the BBC reported April 24.

Sponsoring radical groups opposed to Arafat is a key strategy in achieving this goal. In May 1999, Khatami met several Palestinian opposition leaders in Syria, reportedly holding talks with former Palestinian National Council Chairman Khaled al-Fahoum; Ahmed Jibril, leader of the People's Front for the Liberation of Palestine, General Command; and Secretary General of Islamic Jihad Ramadan Abdullah Shalah.

Ironically, during the last few years, Iran had reduced its support of international radical groups. Aimed at attracting foreign investment, Iran cut down its supply of weapons to groups like Hezbollah and toned down rhetoric supporting these groups.

But today, Tehran is moving to reverse that trend. Before arms and training can resume, however, Iran must first consolidate its position as leader of the various radical groups and develop a coordinated policy among the groups.

Now is an opportune time for Iran to make such a move since Arafat's ability to control the violence in the territories has come into question.

Even Israel divides on the issue. Israeli Military Intelligence argues Arafat is in complete control over the violence, while Israel's Shin Bet argues the Palestinian leader has lost control and receives direction from Palestinian security officials, the Israeli daily Ha'aretz reported April 23.

By holding the Palestinian summit, Iran probably aims to capitalize on Arafat's declining credibility and bolster his opponents' credibility. Iran's leaders met with many of Arafat's staunchest rivals.

It did not take long to measure the impact of the Tehran meetings. Israel already is accusing Iran of supporting radical groups. Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon claimed Tehran was building a rocket base in Lebanon that could mount attacks against Israel. Hamid Reza-Assefi, a spokesman for the Iranian Foreign Ministry, denied Sharon's claims, according to a report from Agence France-Presse.

Tehran probably will support escalating violence by these groups in Israel, then quickly bring it to a halt. Turning the attacks on and off like a spigot is necessary to demonstrate Tehran's influence.

This will spur Arafat and Sharon to counter Iranian influence. Already, Sharon has softened his stance toward Arafat, and Israel is reportedly considering the Egyptian-Jordanian peace plan. Neither Israel nor Arafat wants Tehran to bolster militant groups. In response, the two may find it necessary to work together to prevent it.

[JR: Iran did make a sincere efforts to reduce its support of the many radical groups in an attempt to reduce the sanctions against Iran, aimed at attracting foreign investment and gain the release of bank accounts frozen for decades by the U.S. and Europe. Since their efforts to reform were ineffective in changing the policies of the Western powers, Iran has now reverted back to supporting the many radical groups in the Middle East, especially those focused on Israel's abuse of Palestinians. I agree Arafat is no longer an effective leader of the PLO or the Palestinian people and has been severely compromised, but his replacement must represent the Palestinian people and not be a tool for the anti-Israeli radical groups. The longer this hate game is played out between Israel and the Palestinians the more these radical groups will gain influence. Thanks to the Israeli and U.S. policies, they have actually increased the hatred in the Middle East, not reduced it.]

SHARON: ISRAEL'S NEIGHBORS NOT THE PROBLEM; IRAN IS

World Tribune.com, Middle East Newslines, 4/27/01

TEL AVIV—Israel's military chief says Arab neighbors are not planning war, but Prime Minister Ariel Sharon said Iran is trying hard to spark a conflict.

Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Shaul Mofaz said despite rising military tension with the Palestinians and Syrians, Israel does not see preparations for war by Arab neighbors. Mofaz cited Israel's peace treaties with Egypt and Jordan as strategic factors that stabilize the region.

"There is no intention for war among any of the countries who share a border with Israel," Mofaz said in an interview on Israel Radio. Certainly [plans of war] this does not exist in Israel or the Israeli Defense Forces."

Mofaz said other elements are trying to attack Israel. The general said Saudi billionaire fugitive Osama Bin Laden is trying to launch strikes against the Jewish state. Earlier this week, Israeli authorities arrested a Palestinian attorney accused of being a Bin Laden agent. Palestinian sources termed the detained attorney, Adnan Hafar, a human rights activist.

For his part, Sharon pointed to a growing threat from Lebanon, where Hizbullah has vowed to attack Israeli positions. The prime minister said Iran has launched construction of a missile base in Lebanon.

"Iran has started building a base in Lebanon from which they can fire rockets or long-range Katyushas that can reach the center of the country," Sharon told the Jerusalem Post.

In Berlin, Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak again warned that the current tension in the Middle East is more dangerous than war. But Mubarak, in an interview with German television, ruled out the prospect of a regional conflict.

Mubarak has urged the Bush administration to retain U.S. peacekeepers in the Sinai peninsula, which is adjacent to Israel. On Tuesday, the issue of the U.S. deployment was raised during a Senate Armed Services Committee hearing to confirm Dov Zakheim, nominated to the post of undersecretary and comptroller.

Zakheim, who served in the Reagan administration and is regarded as a Middle East expert, was asked by Sen. Carl Levin, a Michigan Democrat, regarding the nominee's reported comment that U.S. peacekeeping operations were strategically marginal. Zakheim responded that U.S. deployment decision whether in Bosnia, Kosovo or Sinai should be taken in consultation with Washington's allies.

[JR: This article seems to be an Israeli diplomatic propaganda release just prior to Perez's failed meetings in Egypt and Jordan to discuss their new plans for a Israeli-Palestinian peace initiative, later rejected by Sharon. To say "plans of war do not exist in Israel or the Israeli Defense Forces" is an outright propaganda ploy since Israel has stated many times that they must be prepared for war at all times because they are surrounded by hostilities and enemies of Israel. I also can't help but notice the increase of Zionists in Dubya Bush's administration, in this case the confirmation of Dov Zakheim, nominated to the post of undersecretary and comptroller. To think that in February, American Jews were openly complaining about the fewer number of Jews being considered for key positions in this administration, although even a large number would never be enough. I guess Washington would not be able to function without Zionists.]

EU PREPARES TO PUNISH ISRAEL OVER GAZA ATTACKS

By Ambrose Evans-Pritchard (Brussels), Alan Philps (Jerusalem), Telegraph—UK, 4/26/01

The European Union is preparing to strip Israel of privileged trade access as a punishment for the use of "excessive force" against the Palestinians.

EU diplomats confirmed yesterday that it was now almost certain that the 15 EU foreign ministers would agree to punitive action at a key meeting on May 21, clamping down on Israel's long-standing abuse of Europe's "Rules of Origin" regime.

This means Israel will no longer be able to get away with exporting duty-free goods made at Jewish settlements in the West Bank and Gaza as if they were Israeli products. EU sources said the Israeli ambassador in Brussels requested an urgent meeting with Chris Patten, the European external affairs commissioner, in the hope of heading off a rift.

If relations continued to deteriorate, it could ultimately lead to the suspension of the EU's Association Agreement with Israel, though there was no support yet among member states for this "nuclear option".

Last week, the EU signalled its tough new line by condemning Israel's 24-hour incursion into the Gaza Strip and its attacks on targets in Lebanon as "excessive and disproportionate".

Israel had been counting on the traditional influence of Germany and Britain to head off calls by a French-led block for punitive measures, but the government of Ariel Sharon appears to have misjudged the level of dismay in EU capitals over the Israeli military incursion into zones considered sacrosanct under the Oslo Accords.

Diplomats in Brussels say Israel's leadership has been slow to recognise the EU's transformation from a trading block to an aspiring superpower. The Amsterdam Treaty, which came into force in 1999, created an embryonic EU foreign and defence ministry under the control of a "High Representative", Javier Solana.

At the same time, Commissioner Patten is turning the EU's aid budget, the biggest in the world, into the spearhead of a foreign global policy. The Middle East is a prime target for a demonstration of growing EU influence.

Brussels is the largest donor to the Palestinian Authority, spending £110 million a year. A further £390 million is spent annually bolstering peace moves in the four neighbouring states.

In Jerusalem, Israeli officials said any punitive action by the EU would be counter-productive if the bloc really wanted to play a significant role in Middle East peace-making. It would only reinforce the perception among Israelis of bias against them.

[JR: Evidently Israel has not placed enough of their Zionists in the EU hierarchy necessary to block any potential punitive action against Israel for abuses against the Palestinians and violating agreements and international law. Will Israel's Zionists now use their infamous charges of Anti-Semitism that have caused many world leaders to tremble and retreat from the powerful Zionist threat of character and financial assassination? Although this may be just talk on the part of the EU—but if they do take strong punitive action after their meeting on May 21, it may make the Zionists realize that they are not as invincible as they may have thought. Of course, the U.S. is under their control.]

EGYPT SET TO BUY
RUSSIAN NUCLEAR TECHNOLOGY,
MISSILES, SPY SATELLITES

WORLD TRIBUNE.COM, 4/26/01

MOSCOW—Egypt is negotiating for the purchase of nuclear technology, missiles and spy satellites from Russia in what is being termed as the most significant effort to acquire advanced Russian systems in more than 20 years.

In Washington, a U.S. official said the Cairo effort could mark a major change in Egyptian policy just weeks after President Hosni Mubarak visited Washington seeking enhanced strategic ties.

Under Mubarak, deliveries in Russian weapons were sharply reduced over the last decade as Cairo bought U.S. systems for its air force, army and navy. Egypt receives $1.3 billion a year in U.S. military aid.

The Egyptian interest in advanced Russian weapons was reported by both Russian and Egyptian diplomatic sources in Moscow, Middle East Newslite reported. The sources said Cairo also wants Moscow to build a nuclear reactor in Egypt.

Mubarak held talks in Moscow with Russian leaders on Thursday. Mubarak is leading a delegation of senior ministers who have held talks with their Russian counterparts on defense and technological cooperation. The Egyptian president is scheduled to visit a Russian missile factory and the London-based Al Hayat daily reported on Thursday that he is also expected to meet Russian Defense Minister Sergei Ivanov.

Egypt and Russia have already agreed to encourage investments and cooperate in science and technology. The two countries also pledged to cooperate in nuclear energy and space cooperation. Officials said the nuclear cooperation would be limited to civilian use.

Mubarak is scheduled to attend the signing of an Egyptian-Russian cooperation accord in Moscow on Friday.

Egyptian sources said Cairo has increased its cooperation with Moscow in the nuclear field. They said Egypt bought an electronic accelerator from Russia and has been receiving training from Moscow. The accelerator produces radioactive isotopes and was purchased through the Vienna-based International Atomic Energy Agency.

But both Egyptian and Russian sources said the two countries were discussing military cooperation and procurement by Cairo of Russian defense systems. The official Cairo-based Middle East News Agency said the Mubarak delegation is also discussing such projects as remote-sensing and the manufacture of medium-range missiles.

Another project being discussed is a joint production of the TU 204-120 aircraft in Egypt. Two Tupolev passenger and one cargo aircraft were delivered to Egypt in 1998 and 1999.

All of these projects were expected to be raised during Mubarak's meeting with Russian President Vladimir Putin on Thursday. Mubarak, a former Egyptian air force chief, is said to be personally familiar with Russian weapons.

In Washington, a U.S. official said the administration was following Mubarak's talks with his Russian hosts.

Trade between Russia and Egypt collapsed in the late 1990s amid Russia's economic crisis and disputes over investment issues.

[JR: Vital resources for projects and developments are being sacrificed by several of the countries in the Middle East to compete militarily with the State of Israel. They (along with the U.S.) will be poorer for it all and Israel will grow stronger and richer at the expense of us all. Remove U.S. support from Israel and only then will you see a peace agreement for the Middle East without having a war. It is the threat from Israel that feeds the Middle East arms race.]

CHINA GRABS SECRETS FROM PLANE

By Bill Gertz, The Washington Times, 4/27/01

Chinese military intelligence recovered large amounts of classified documents from the downed EP-3E surveillance aircraft in what U.S. officials say is a major compromise of secrets.

The classified documents include secret information on Chinese communications facilities and other targets of eavesdropping, said intelligence officials who spoke on the condition of anonymity.

One intelligence official said that damage is difficult to assess because the plane still is in Chinese hands. However, the official said the capture of classified documents is a major loss.

The Pentagon is still trying to get China to return the plane that made an emergency landing on Hainan island after colliding with a Chinese F-8 jet that had been flying too close.

Negotiations with the Chinese are being led by U.S. Ambassador to China Joseph W. Prueher. Asked the Pentagon's position, one senior official said: "We want the plane back."

White House deputy press secretary Scott McClellan said just because the administration has not made many announcements about the status of the plane does not mean its return is not a high priority for the president.

He added that the National Security Council maintains that "we will continue to have ongoing diplomatic discussions."

Pentagon spokesman Rear Adm. Craig Quigley declined to specify what has been learned about compromised information in debriefings with the 24 crewmembers who were detained by the Chinese military until their release April 12.

Asked if there was a loss of secrets in the aircraft, Adm. Quigley told reporters: "We feel there was." He did not elaborate.

The preliminary assessment of the losses is part of a damage estimate being conducted by the National Security Agency, the Pentagon's electronic eavesdropping and code-breaking agency. The EP-3E crew, using hammers and axes, destroyed most of the electronic gear on the aircraft in the minutes after the April 1 collision with a Chinese F-8 jet.

One official said cryptographic equipment and keys were destroyed by the crew, but there are fears the Chinese might be able to recover the damaged equipment. If so, it would be a major loss because it would give the Chinese military a limited capability to read secret U.S. military communications.

The crew was unable to destroy the sensitive documents on the aircraft, which were obtained by Chinese military intelligence.

U.S. intelligence officials said the Chinese military dispatched about 100 technicians to Lingshui air base on Hainan island to examine the state-of-the-art surveillance plane. Chinese military intelligence operates numerous electronic eavesdropping posts around its territory.

Several posts were successful in spying on U.S. and Saudi military communications before the 1991 Persian Gulf War. The Chinese military, according to U.S. intelligence reports, was able to predict the start of the allied ground offensive against Iraq to within hours of the actual start.

James Bamford, author of a new book on the National Security Agency, said the loss of classified documents would be "extremely valuable" for Chinese intelligence.

"The EP-3s probably carry a lot of documents that indicate what we know about Chinese communications and radar systems, such as frequencies and radar pulse rates," he said. That information could be used to frustrate or deceive future U.S. electronic surveillance.

U.S. intelligence-gathering planes also are known to carry lists of Chinese targets, Mr. Bamford said. The lists would make it easier for the Chinese to alter their communications or electronic signatures to make eavesdropping more difficult.

Mr. Bamford said the damage would be even worse if the Chinese obtained "key cards" used to scramble and unscramble coded communications.

"The cards probably will not do too much good in the future because NSA probably changed the codes as soon as the plane was captured," said Mr. Bamford, who revealed new details of the spy agency in his book, Body of Secrets.

A second intelligence official said the initial damage assessment from the loss of the aircraft is "a matter of concern".

U.S. government officials told Reuters that the crew did not destroy as much of the sensitive material on the $80 million aircraft as first reports indicated.

"They weren't able to get a lot of it," one source knowledgeable about the Pentagon's damage assessment told the news agency.

"We still feel that the crew did the best job they could with the time that they had after the collision and before the plane touched down on Hainan island," Adm. Quigley said. "It wasn't perfect, but we feel they did the best job that they could."

When the crew is fully questioned, the Pentagon will then analyze "very carefully" what damage there was and "what changes then we might have to make in procedures, in equipment... in order to compensate for that possible compromise," Adm. Quigley said.

The aircraft is still at Lingshui air base on Hainan Island.

[JR: Do you really think that this collision was just a coincidental accident? It worked out to an even greater advantage for the Chinese when they were able to force the damaged EP-3E to land on one of China's top electronics research facilities at Lingshui air base on Hainan island. Even if the American crew was able to destroy all intelligence data and destroy all the equipment, which they didn't, the Chinese are very good at reverse engineering. Chalk up another win-win situation for the Chinese—and Clinton was not involved in this one.]

CHINA ANTI-SATELLITE DEVELOPMENT
CONTINUING

By Jon Dougherty, WorldNetDaily.com, 4/26/01

Ongoing effort focusing on
'co-orbital space weapons'

China is continuing to develop anti-satellite weapons aimed at reducing a huge military advantage held over the People's Liberation Army by the United States.

According to Jane's Defense Weekly, China's ongoing anti-satellite effort is focusing on "co-orbital space weapons" and "a terrestrial laser, to be used for blinding satellite optics".

Chinese laser weapons development dates back to the 1960s, as reported in 1999 by WorldNetDaily. Beijing's laser technology is thought to equal or surpass U.S. capabilities, analysts said then.

Also, quoting Asia arms experts and published Chinese reports, WND reported on China's anti-satellite development in January.

The Jane's report said China's anti-satellite weapons programs are said "to have benefited both from PRC (People's Republic of China) research and development" from the 1980s and beyond, "and the transfer of Cold War-era space weapon technology from Russia."

WND said one of the new Chinese weapons is designed to "stick" to the body of enemy satellites so as to go unnoticed, then rendering it ineffective through jamming when activated.

Anti-satellite programs, known by the acronym ASAT, are of increasing concern to U.S. military planners because of the Pentagon's reliance on space-based command, control and guidance satellites. Civilian leaders are worried because of the damage ASATs could do to domestic communications and infrastructure-support satellites.

Jane's said the Chinese are already ground testing their programs and will begin flight testing them in 2002.

One aspect of the ASAT program is said to be based on Soviet-developed co-orbital techniques that were perfected in the 1980s.

"The kill mechanism of the PRC ASAT remains uncertain from published reports," Jane's said, but the Soviet-developed system envisioned "a large orbital vehicle using a fragmentation warhead as its kill mechanism—probably the most likely approach" for a Chinese ASAT weapon.

The magazine Foreign Affairs said in this month's issue that the U.S. also experimented with similar "rudimentary" ASAT vehicles in the 1980s. The magazine said both Washington and Moscow had developed crude ASAT capabilities, but little further development—at least by the Pentagon—had been conducted since then.

Echoing the details of the January WND report, Jane's said "there are unconfirmed reports that the kill mechanism [of the Chinese ASAT] is a micro- or nano-satellite capable of flying close to the target satellite or even attaching itself as a parasite...."

That vehicle, Jane's confirmed, "is also reported to have the option for the non-lethal jamming of a satellite as well as destroying it."

But, the weekly defense publication said, terrestrial optical sensors "are likely to be able to detect" even such small satellite "parasites" in low Earth orbit.

China is known to be working on such systems, but current micro-satellites which have an on-board propulsion system are intended only for space-based station keeping.

"None have had the amount of fuel [onboard] to match the orbit of another satellite, let alone dock with a target," Jane's said.

Despite the uncertainty of the details of China's nano-satellite development, ASAT programs remain vibrant within the Chinese military nonetheless. The laser weapon concept has also been investigated by the U.S.—tested even, against an old Air Force satellite last year—and is part of China's "asymmetric warfare" program, designed to develop cost-effective, technologically simple concepts of warfare to combat complex U.S. systems. [JR: Isn't it ironic that China "accidentally acquired" our latest technology from our EP-3E surveillance aircraft, that was damaged and forced to land at China's Lingshui air base on Hainan island, an electronics research facility? Now they will be able to coordinate intelligence between ground, airborne reconnaissance and satellite telemetry for targeting our eyes and ears in the sky with their anti-satellite weaponry. Talk about a "lucky" giant leap forward for the Chinese.]

U.S. MUST SPEED TAX CUTS TO AVOID SLUMP, IMF SAYS

By Mark Drajem, Bloomberg News, 4/24/01

Washington—The U.S. needs to speed up its tax cuts, the European Union should lower interest rates and Japan must overhaul its banks to head off a global economic slump, the International Monetary Fund's top official said.

"Worldwide, there is a self-reinforcing," downward tug, said Horst Koehler, the IMF's managing director. "There is no region of the world that takes up the slack."

The U.S. should make a tax cut retroactive to spur growth, and be ready to reduce interest rates again, Koehler said at a breakfast with reporters before the global lender's spring meetings in Washington this week.

Japan must dispose of bad loans in its banks and push poor-performing companies into bankruptcy, and the European Central Bank should reduce interest rates, he said.

Without those policy changes and renewed global economic growth, economies such as Argentina, Turkey and Indonesia will find it hard to escape a debt crunch and economic slowdown, he said.

"Argentina is in a difficult situation, no doubt," he said, referring to the country's cancellation of a $750 million debt auction yesterday. Economy Minister Domingo Cavallo now needs to provide more details on how he plans to pull Argentina out of a three-year recession, Koehler said.

Overall Latin American economies "will come out of this turbulence not damaged too much," he said.

The IMF is ready to provide new loans to those countries—as needed—and as long as they pursue sound policies, he said.

No Need to Panic.

What measures countries should take to prevent a global recession will be the heart of discussions during the meeting of finance officials from the IMF's 183-member countries. Unlike previous IMF gatherings, this meeting will focus on the necessary policy responses in the richest nations, not the poorest ones.

"There is no need to panic, no need to be overly pessimistic," Koehler said. Yet "pre-emptive early policy responses" from the U.S., Japan and Europe are needed. "We are indeed now living in a globalized world, where the slowing down is absolutely interconnected."

Koehler's comments echoed those made by U.S. Treasury Secretary Paul O'Neill last week. "I think we're all in this together," O'Neill said then, saying he was "mystified" that European officials still expected strong growth in the face of the U.S. problems.

Koehler didn't offer specific forecasts.... The IMF predicts global growth of 3 percent this year, dragged down from close to 5 percent last year by U.S. growth which the IMF says will be as low as 1.5 percent and Japanese growth that will be barely positive.

"The Japanese economy will show growth this year, but not enough," Koehler said.

In the U.S., Koehler commended the "decisive" steps taken by the Federal Reserve in cutting interest rates four times this year. The Fed should stay poised, ready to cut rates again as needed. In addition, the tax cut being pushed through the U.S. Congress by President George W. Bush should include a "strong upfront and retroactive element," he said.

In Japan, probable new Prime Minister Junichiro Koizumi, needs to be more "ambitious and expeditious" in pushing banks to clean up their books and weak companies to be restructured. In addition, the government needs to be more open about policy options.

Koehler also reiterated his call for the European Central Bank to cut interest rates in order to spur growth both in Europe and the world.

"I think an interest rate cut from the ECB would be helpful," he said. The European bank next meets to discuss interest rates on Thursday, just before the IMF meetings kick off.

[JR: Oh, the arrogance of Horst Koehler, IMF's managing director. He imagines himself the financial wizard of the world and that he alone knows what each country must do to stabilize the world's economy. Perhaps his ego is even bigger than the huge number of bad loans issued by the IMF, knowing that those loans could never be paid once the nation's assets are lost to financial speculators that work in conjunction with the International Monetary and Financial Committee. Once a country gets a loan from the IMF or WB it generates a feeding frenzy of international financial speculators until there are no assets left to steal at a fraction of its value. It's similar to an estate auction where everything must be sold and the bidders are in collusion.]

IMF EYES CRISIS PREVENTION

CNNFN, 4/29/01

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—The head of the IMF said on Sunday the global lender will make crisis prevention its top priority and develop "early warning systems" to lessen the need for massive rescue packages which cost billions of dollars.

While the International Monetary Fund's policy-making committee—called the International Monetary and Financial Committee—met, police braced for protests outside which were expected to be modest, peaceful and low-key.

IMF Managing Director Horst Koehler told the committee, which determines how the lender conducts itself and lays out the agenda for ongoing reform, that crisis prevention would be the defining focus of the institution under his leadership.

“The IMF needs to work even harder to put crisis prevention at the heart of its activities,” Koehler said in his presentation to the IMFC. “Highest on our agenda for the coming months should be further work on early warning systems.”

Koehler said such a focus, based on “early and preemptive action”, would make the IMF leaner and more efficient and make multibillion rescue packages like those seen during the Asian financial crisis of 1997-1999 less common in the future.

“A stronger focus on crisis prevention should help to reduce the frequency and severity of crises, as well as the need for more and bigger rescue packages.”

That new focus finds Koehler’s vision of the IMF perfectly in sync with the agenda of U.S. Treasury Secretary Paul O’Neill, who is leading the Bush administration’s push for a leaner, more efficient lender.

In his presentation to the IMFC, O’Neill said, “I envision an IMF that, while sharpening its ability to respond to financial disruptions swiftly and appropriately, does so less frequently because it has succeeded in preventing crises from developing in the first place.”

There had been much speculation as the Bush administration staffed its Treasury department with a group of people who had made a variety of anti-IMF comments in the past. Most notably, the man who will oversee the IMF at Treasury, John Taylor, once said at the height of the Asian crisis that he would like the institution shut down—a position he has since refuted.

But a series of speeches have shown Koehler and O’Neill are more like two peas in a pod rather than the strange bedfellows that many had expected them to be a few months ago.

On Saturday, officials from the Group of Seven nations—the United States, Japan, Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—also signaled crisis prevention should be the IMF’s No. 1 priority. That was a policy shift since their last meeting in Palermo in February, when the G7 ministers listed the issue as just one of many on the IMF’s agenda.

The issue has been on the IMF’s agenda ever since the global lending institution was accused of doing too little to spot problems that led to the Asian crisis. O’Neill has made it top priority since taking office a few months ago.

Starting with the devaluation of Thailand’s baht currency in 1997, the crisis eventually ripped through the region and places as far afield as Brazil and Russia.

The crisis, one of the darkest chapters in the IMF’s history, made economies fall like dominoes as financial markets punished countries for creaky banking sectors, weak exchange regimes and a perception of government corruption and complacency.

Koehler also said the IMF would monitor financial markets better with a new department, which he said he hoped would learn to understand the “irrational exuberance” of stock markets. The IMF head also said more work was needed on deciding what role private investors should play in bailouts.

He said that in exceptional cases when sovereign bonds had to be restructured, there should be a clear set of rules—a notion that has much support on Wall Street, which wants rules to help it better set risk premiums for emerging markets debt.

Koehler also said fewer conditions should be attached to IMF loans, a move intended to give governments more input into their own economic programs. The thinking is that reforms foisted on nations by the IMF have less chance of success than improvements designed by authorities at home.

“Countries cannot do everything overnight,” Koehler said, adding that loan conditions should center on critical economic benchmarks that are key to a country’s success.

Outside, police were expecting demonstrations by just about 300 protesters, who object to globalization and its pressure on the poorer economies of the world. The number was in stark contrast to the IMF and World Bank’s spring meetings last year when thousands of protesters descended on the nation’s capital and turned the few blocks around the lenders’ buildings into a siege area, leading to hundreds of arrests.

[JR: Am I to understand that the IMF, which is supposed to be the lender of last resort, is now considering getting involved with sovereign nation’s economic situation early on, before they run into difficulty? I have heard that salaries of many nations’ Central Bank officials are paid by the IMF, including the U.S., so it isn’t unreasonable to believe the IMF should have known first hand the financial and economic status of any given country before, during and after the devaluation of Thailand’s baht currency in 1997. In fact, I would suspect it was the IMF that forced the devaluation. IMF Managing Director Horst Koehler should completely reorganize the IMF and radically change its dictatorial policies that have virtually destroyed the economies of numerous nations in Southeast Asia, not to mention causing even Russia to default on its loans. It is difficult enough for many countries to sustain their assets at a profitable level, but when the IMF policy demands a sovereign nation privatize its assets by selling them to international conglomerates to pay its exorbitant debt to the IMF, it’s a sure recipe for disaster. The IMF seems to work in collusion with international speculators to strip sovereign nations of the critical assets needed for the country’s survival. The puppet masters will always make their deals or loans with huge strings attached as any “loan shark” will do.]

ALARM AT SUPERSTATE PLAN

By John Hooper (Berlin), Patrick Wintour (London),
The Guardian—UK, 4/30/01

A blueprint drawn up by Germany’s chancellor, Gerhard Schröder, putting forward a radical vision of a federal Europe, last night elicited an appalled response from Eurosceptics.

It envisages a superstate with its own unelected ministers, its own indirectly elected president and a two-chamber parliament with full control over public spending.

The plan creates a huge headache for Tony Blair and Robin Cook as the prime minister and his foreign secretary gear up for a general election. It will allow the Conservatives to claim that the government’s friends in Europe are working on ideas which would make a mockery of national sovereignty.

By a coincidence that elicited groans from Labour MPs, the German chancellor’s proposals are to be discussed by his party colleagues in Berlin next month on the day Mr. Blair is due to visit the city for a meeting of the Party of European Socialists.

Francis Maude, the shadow foreign secretary, said: “We strongly disagree with Chancellor Gerhard Schröder, but at least he has the courage of his convictions.

“Tony Blair doesn’t want to talk about his vision of the EU because he knows how out of touch Labour is on Europe with the mainstream majority of the British people.” A report in today’s edition of the news magazine, Der Spiegel, says that the draft envisages turning the unelected European commission into a government with wide-ranging powers.

It would be headed by a president chosen by one or both of the chambers in a remodelled European parliament. The existing legislature would become the lower house. The council of ministers, the existing forum for national governments, would become an upper house.

National governments would choose representatives to speak for them in the upper house so that national leaders like the British prime minister and the French president would, in effect, become Euro-senators. The European parliament as a whole would have “full control” over the central government’s spending.

There was no immediate response from Downing Street, but proposals to make the council of ministers a second chamber clash with Mr. Blair’s idea that national parliamentarians should form a second chamber and act as a brake on centralisation. Mr. Blair has, however, supported the idea of developing the council of ministers and strengthening financial controls over the EU. France and Spain have both expressed deep reluctance to follow Germany down the road to a federal Europe. But the plan is likely to be given a warm reception at the commission. And it holds out to Mr. Schröder the tantalising prospect of a place in history as the spiritual father of a united continent.

Mr. Schröder’s plan for a superstate is contained in one of five policy papers being prepared for the conference in November of his Social Democratic Party (SPD). The chancellor took personal responsibility for the preparation of the paper that deals with Europe.

[JR: Isn’t it amazing that the great industrial powers have been fighting for and promoting democracy throughout the world for nearly a century. Now Europe wants to set itself up as a superstate where the people won’t be electing the hierarchy of this EU, that will basically control their lives. Not only will Europeans lose their sovereignty but they may also lose their right to elect their own leaders. To rule without the consent of the people allows for corruption to flourish and totalitarianism to develop and result in the suppression of the people. Isn’t it ironic that a German may be designated as the “spiritual father of a united continent”, which was exactly what Adolf Hitler was striving for. Only this time the rest of Europe is ready to fulfill Hitler’s dream. My, have times changed.]

TORY WARNS BUSH TEAM OF ANTI-US MOOD IN EU

By Toby Harnden (Washington),
Telegraph—UK, 4/26/01

ANTI-AMERICANISM is rising at such an alarming rate in Europe that it threatens to “strike at the heart” of the transatlantic relationship, Francis Maude, the shadow foreign secretary, has warned.

If this “extremism” is not resisted, Mr. Maude told members of the International Republican Institute on Capitol Hill, it could “drive the United States into the chill embrace of isolationism”. Mr. Maude took his message that the Atlantic partnership was at risk to the White House, where he met Vice-President Dick Cheney for 25 minutes, the highest-level contact yet between a Tory and the Bush administration.

The push for European integration, he said, was sowing the seeds of a dangerous rivalry with the United States. "We see it in the euro, in the European Defence and Security Policy, in Romano Prodi's vision of the European Commission 'step by step' behaving like a growing government."

Mr. Maude's visit coincided with a sharp increase in scepticism within the Bush administration about the benefits of the Anglo-French inspired Euro force. Mr. Cheney, Richard Armitage, Deputy Secretary of State, and Mr. Wolfowitz, number two at the Pentagon, all expressed growing concern that the proposed force could seriously undermine NATO.

American doubts have been heightened by the appointment of Gen Gustav Hagglund of Finland—a non-NATO country—to chair the EU's permanent military committee and comments by Gen Jean-Pierre Kelche, France's Chief of Defence Staff.

Mr. Maude also met Condoleezza Rice, President Bush's National Security Adviser, and her deputy, Stephen Hadley.

[JR: What did they expect when they established the EU, which is designed to be an economic and military power in competition with the U.S. The intent of the EU is to detach itself from its dependency on the U.S. and raise it up to be an equal. Of course there will be rivalry and an Anti-American thrust to remove our presence and influence in Europe. Europe has always regarded the U.S. as a young, inexperienced stepchild, even though the U.S. has defended, supported and protected Europe for nearly a century. I guess in the eyes of a parent, an offspring will never be as wise as the parent, even when the parent becomes so senile they cannot function without assistance from their children.]

INDONESIAN GOVERNMENT AT VIRTUAL STANDSTILL

By Marianne Kearney,
STRAITS TIMES (Indonesia Bureau), 5/1/01

JAKARTA—As Vice-President Megawati Sukarnoputri's legislators lobbed their strongest shot yet against President Abdurrahman Wahid, acting as shock troops in the attack on him, party members alike claim the attack was an attempt to persuade him that the game was up and resignation was his only sensible choice.

But given the President's well-known appetite for tough fights, a quiet resignation is unlikely.

Therefore, yesterday's clear warning that Ms. Megawati's PDI-P would push for impeachment, appears to be part of the elaborate play in convincing Mr. Abdurrahman to begin negotiations to hand over the reigns.

As one commentator wryly noted, Mr. Abdurrahman will be forced to start living in a grounded reality rather than the virtual reality he has inhabited until now.

The harsh light of reality leaves him with two unsavoury choices—be pushed out of office or hand over executive power to Ms. Megawati, effectively stepping aside as President.

While many analysts say Mr. Abdurrahman has left his run too late to stitch up a last-minute deal with the Vice-President, a compromise deal may be far more preferable to pursuing the rocky two-month road to impeachment.

If the PDI-P pushes for impeachment, party members are concerned that it could be a rough ride, fearing that one of Mr. Abdurrahman's strategies is to expose the shady business dealings of Ms. Megawati's husband, Mr. Taufik Kiemas.

But an even bigger concern is that without some sort of compromise deal, Indonesia is set for a painful war of attrition, with a relentlessly declining rupiah, economic growth taking a nose-dive and mass violence persistently threatening to burst onto the streets.

There would be little progress on the economic front as the IMF is unlikely to conclude its agreement and disburse any loans until Indonesia has a stable government.

But even as negotiations for a compromise government possibly begin, Indonesia is set for a rudderless couple of months.

Yesterday's censure effectively disempowers Mr. Abdurrahman, making it impossible for his Cabinet to command any kind of power, and brings the government to a virtual standstill.

On top of this, there is little chance that separatist violence, sectarian clashes, and general lawlessness from a population increasingly taking the law into its own hands are likely to subside.

[JR: The turmoil and corruption in governments throughout the world is a reflection of today's world of power and greed. Although the grab for power, greed and corruption seems to be prevalent at this time in Southeast Asia (Philippines, Indonesia, PNG, et al.) it is growing more common in all parts of the world and not just in Third World countries. The World Bank and the IMF are the major contributors to this growing problem as the emphases are placed on assets and economics and not what is best for the people and their country. Until governments and leaders begin to place people first, our society will never turn away from corruption and violence.]

UN WANTS GLOBAL GUN BAN

NewsMax.com, 4/27/01

The UN is after Americans' Second Amendment gun rights—it wants gun ownership banned in the U.S., and it's not going to stop until it gets its way.

That's the warning from the National Rifle Association's Wayne LaPierre, who reveals that "for the first time in the history of the world, a United Nations conference has set its sights on global disarmament—disarming citizens worldwide—including you and me."

At an 11-day meeting beginning July 9 at UN headquarters in New York, every extremist anti-gun group in the world will show up at a summit on "small arms", where the delegates will attempt to create a global standard of gun control, banning civilian firearms ownership worldwide.

Their aim, LaPierre warns, is "to bring the nightmare of England, Australia and Canada into our country and our homes."

Those nations, along with South Africa and others, have caved in to international pressure and severely restricted civilian gun ownership. Canada has gone so far as to make handgun ownership a felony. As a result, crime rates in England and Australia have skyrocketed since the gun limits went into effect, once again proving the truth of the old saying that if guns are outlawed only outlaws will have guns.

While the UN has no power to force the U.S. to ban gun ownership, it can, with the enthusiastic help of the foreign and domestic anti-self-defense media, create a powerful international movement to shame the U.S. into junking the Second Amendment rights of private gun ownership.

"You and I won't go one day without hearing that the rest of the world is banning guns and it's time for the U.S. to get in line and do the same," LaPierre wrote.

As a prelude to this frightening gathering of anti-self-defense fanatics, a number of proposals have already been advanced at various UN forums. Among them:

Strategies to reduce the number of guns in private hands that include mandating a maximum one-gun-per-person rule;

A ban on possession of handguns by anyone other than government officials and target shooters who would be forced to store their weapons at shooting ranges;

Worldwide licensing of firearms registered in a vast UN computer bank.

"The bottom line is that international gun banners want every gun—every single gun worldwide—to be under UN and government control," warns LaPierre. "And that includes your rifle, your shotgun, your handgun, and even family heirlooms that have been handed down from generation to generation."

LaPierre urges Americans to contact Sen. Jesse Helms, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and express their outrage at this latest UN power grab.

Helms, he notes, is already on record as deploring the UN's anti-gun project. He wrote a letter to the U.S. Agency for International Development in 1999 in which he described the UN gun ban project: nothing less than a brazen international expansion of the [Clinton-Gore] domestic gun control agenda."

[JR: This is just another of the many socialist agendas of the UN. It is always touted that this group or that organization is bent on changing the mandates of our Constitution, in this case, junking the Second Amendment rights of private gun ownership. There have been hundreds of laws and unconstitutional legislation passed that have conflicted with our constitutional rights and yet they are still being enforced. How much of our Constitution do you think is still intact today and who will stand beside you to challenge these unconstitutional acts? Think about it. Does it really matter what our Constitution says when our controllers can manipulate the minds of the masses and convince them to violate their own God-given rights? Don't expect God to turn things around for us. It is not His job—it is ours! God gave us the power to decide for self and He will accept our decision, even though it may destroy what God has created for us. We are responsible for our actions so don't blame God for what happens to us.]

NEW KIND OF MONEY
APPEARS IN HUNTINGTON BEACH

By Tariq Malik, Los Angeles Times, 4/3/01

News from Huntington Beach in the Times Community Newspapers.

Three businesses are serving as redemption centers for American Liberty Currency (ALC).

HUNTINGTON BEACH, CALIFORNIA—A new kind of currency has appeared here and could give U.S. greenbacks a run for their money if it catches on.

American Liberty Currency, an alternative form of money offered by a politically oriented national organization, has popped up in three Surf City businesses that serve as redemption centers.

“What we’re basically trying to do is abolish the Federal Reserve,” said Nick Jesson, whose electronics business in the 7000 block of Talbert Avenue is also a redemption center. “The currency in the [Federal] reserve is nothing, backed by nothing, and we want a currency with gold or silver behind it.”

American Liberty money comes in coin or bill form—denominations of $1, $5 and $10 bear the Statue of Liberty on them—produced by the National Organization for the Repeal of the Federal Reserve Act and Internal Revenue Code [NORFED], which has its sights set on the Federal Reserve system in use today.

“This is a group of people that feel that our money should be backed up with some value,” said Bernard van NotHaus, who spent 23 years creating the currency, which debuted in 1998. “The Federal Reserve is a privately-owned system that can manipulate the economy.”

Silver and gold support the American Liberty money, with $10 worth one Troy ounce of .999 fine silver.

In 1913, the U.S. Congress passed the Federal Reserve Act authorizing a Federal Reserve banking system to regulate the country’s money supply. The system is essentially private—and went off the gold standard domestically in 1933, abandoning it internationally in 1971.

Tom Wardman, a Los Angeles spokesman for the National Reserve Bank of San Francisco, said he wasn’t aware of American Liberty Currency, let alone its presence in Southern California.

Resident Norm Westwell presented American Liberty money to the public at-large during recent City Council meetings and said the feedback he’s received has not been unanimous, but positive.

“I’ve met very little resistance when using American Liberty,” he said. “And I’ve had more people accept the bills, than not.”

Alternative currency is nothing new to the economy. In 1990, the HOUR began circulating in Ithaca, N.Y. setting a value of $10 for an hour of labor. In Northern California’s Mendocino County nine years later, cities began using Self-sufficient Ecological Economy Development to encourage community spending.

There are about 60 different types of local currency, used in a small area, in use throughout the United States.

“The difference between those types, and American Liberty Currency, is that we’re on a national scale,” van NotHaus said. “But the country is actually our community, as it relates to the countries of the world.”

Please consider becoming a Redemption Center in your local area. Additional information is available from the sender of this E-mail [flyp51:First flyp51:Last]. Or by snail mail, send to NORFED—Attn: Pep Stofen—187 Highland Dr.—Leesburg, FL 34788-2727

NEVADA LEGISLATURE—2001

By Ron Kirzinger, 5/5/01

Nevada’s legislature sits every two years, in the odd years, to effect changes to its existing statutes. While most citizens largely ignore such legislative changes except as they are reported in the major media, we will take this opportunity to keep you apprised of pending changes in the law through this important “minor media” outlet. (Please note that the changes discussed in this article are not yet final and are currently known as Senate Bill 51, which has been passed by the Senate on April 18 by a vote of 21-0 and referred to the Committee on Judiciary. It is due to go to the Assembly Judiciary on May 9.)

As shown in The Nevada Corporation Manual and in Budget’s “Tip of the Week”, even very subtle distinctions in the statutes can make a world of difference in the operation of a “creature of statute” such as a Nevada corporation. This article will serve to provide you with a “heads up” as to pending changes due to be put into effect shortly, by the looks of things. Please note that the contents of this article do not constitute “legal advice” and shall not be construed in that manner. This is merely a kind of “citizens’ watch”.

A complete evaluation of SB51 is beyond the scope of this brief article, so we are left with touching here and there on those items that we perceive might present, potentially, the greatest impact. Thank goodness for the modern computer, which makes it possible to quickly search for key terms in a lengthy document!

For those who possess The Nevada Corporation Manual or have diligently followed the “Tip of the Week” presentations, you will be aware that there are several key statutes that have been discussed at length:

- 1) NRS 78.105, regarding maintenance of records at the registered office;
- 2) NRS 78.197, which allows a corporation to confer the rights of a stockholder on a debt-holder;
- 3) NRS 78.257, which makes it a gross misdemeanor for anyone exercising “rights of inspection” to try to use corporate records for purposes contrary to the interests of the stockholders;
- 4) NRS 78.7502, regarding mandatory and discretionary indemnification of corporate personnel.

Of these, other than some relatively inconsequential changes to NRS 78.257 (e.g. the word “extracts” changed to “copies”) there are no substantial changes to report.

Next we checked other key provisions, such as:

- 1) NRS 78.035-78.045, regarding required, permissible and prohibited provisions in the articles of incorporation;
- 2) NRS 78.060, which allows a corporation to hold property anywhere;
- 3) NRS 78.115-78.116, regarding changes in the numbers of directors;
- 4) NRS 78.195-78.196, relating to classes and series of stock; and
- 5) NRS 78.315, upon which resolutions of the board of directors are based.

None of these statutory provisions have been altered in any significant way either.

Significant Changes: C Corporations

Three significant changes in the statutes governing C corporations have been selected and conclusions are highlighted in bolded text.

The first significant change is an amendment to NRS 78.175 (text being revised is shown in [square brackets] and text that has been added is non-italicized):

NRS 78.175 is hereby amended to read as follows:

78.175 1. The secretary of state shall notify, by letter addressed to its resident agent, each corporation deemed in default pursuant to NRS 78.170. The notice must be accompanied by a statement indicating the amount of the filing fee, penalties and costs remaining unpaid. On the first day of the [ninth month following] second anniversary of the month in which the filing was required, the charter of the corporation is revoked and its right to transact business is forfeited....

At present, a corporation goes into “revoked” status when the required list filing is 9 months late. With this amendment, “revoked” status will not apply until a corporation is 2 YEARS behind in the filing of its annual list of officers and directors. (This applies to LLCs also.)

The next notable amendment relates to “uncertificated stock”—i.e. the issuance of stock without any provision for a printed certificate:

NRS 78.235 is hereby amended to read as follows:

78.235 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, every stockholder is entitled to have a certificate, signed by officers or agents designated by the corporation for the purpose, certifying the number of shares owned by him in the corporation....

... 4. [A corporation may provide in its] Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or [in its bylaws for] bylaws, the board of directors may authorize the issuance of uncertificated shares of some or all of the shares of any or all of its classes or series. The issuance of uncertificated shares has no effect on existing certificates for shares until surrendered to the corporation, or on the respective rights and obligations of the stockholders. Unless otherwise provided by a specific statute, the rights and obligations of stockholders are identical whether or not their shares of stock are represented by certificates.

5. Within a reasonable time after the issuance or transfer of shares without certificates, the corporation shall send the stockholder a written statement containing the information required on the certificates pursuant to subsection 1. At least annually thereafter, the corporation shall provide to its stockholders of record, a written statement confirming the information contained in the informational statement previously sent pursuant to this subsection.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a corporation may issue a new certificate of stock or, if authorized by the board of directors pursuant to subsection 4, uncertificated shares in place of a certificate previously issued by it and alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed. A corporation may require an owner or legal representative of an owner of a lost, stolen or destroyed certificate to give the corporation a bond or other security sufficient to indemnify it against any claim that may be made against it for the alleged loss, theft or destruction of a certificate, or the issuance of a new certificate or uncertificated shares.

While subsection 6 is entirely new, the main thrust of this change is in the first sentence of subsection 4. Up until now a corporation “could” provide for uncertificated shares in its articles or bylaws. With this amendment, a Nevada corporation is assumed to have the right to work with uncertificated shares UNLESS the articles or bylaws prohibit that right.

Many of you with existing Nevada corporations might have bylaws that state something like this:

Every stockholder shall be entitled to have a certificate signed by the President or a Vice-President and the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer, or the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the corporation, certifying the number of shares owned by him in the corporation.

CHECK YOUR BYLAWS. If they contain this provision—and you prefer to have the ability to work with uncertificated stock—you will need a corporate resolution with verbiage similar to this:

“It is hereby RESOLVED that pursuant to recent changes effected in NRS 78.235, any provision in the bylaws entitling stockholders to have a certificate is rescinded.”

Please note that “uncertificated” does NOT mean “unregistered” or “unrecorded”. Any issuance of stock should still be recorded in your stock ledger.

The third amendment worthy of bringing to your attention in the statutes regarding C corporations relates to NRS 78.330:

NRS 78.330 is hereby amended to read as follows:

78.330 1. Unless elected pursuant to NRS 78.320, directors of every corporation must be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders by a plurality of the votes cast at the election. Unless otherwise provided in this chapter or in the bylaws, the board of directors has the authority to set the date, time and place for the annual meeting of the stockholders. If for any reason directors are not elected pursuant to NRS 78.320 or at the annual meeting of the stockholders, they may be elected at any special meeting of the stockholders which is called and held for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, each director holds office after the expiration of his term until his successor is elected and qualified, or until he resigns or is removed...

We have selected this amendment as noteworthy because it thoroughly reinforces a major working presumption: In cases where no stock has been issued and there are no annual meetings of the stockholders, directors of Nevada corporations may hold office indefinitely.

Significant Changes: LLCs

There are a LOT of interesting changes to the Chapter 86 statutes affecting LLCs [Limited-Liability Company] and a thorough analysis is far beyond what can be presented herein but let’s just skip through a few so you might get the general flavor.

Section 38 of SB51 makes a brand new provision for something called a “noneconomic member” of an LLC:

Sec. 38. “Noneconomic member” means a member of a limited-liability company who:

- 1. Does not own a member’s interest in the company;*
- 2. Does not have an obligation to contribute capital to the company;*
- 3. Does not have a right to participate in or receive distributions of profits of the company or an obligation to contribute to the losses of the company; and*
- 4. May have voting rights and other rights and privileges given to noneconomic members of the company by the articles of organization or operating agreement.*

Read that last provision again: It spells out CONTROL of a corporation without ownership. This is really interesting!

Let’s say the operating agreement, which is not a matter of public record, specifies that you as a “noneconomic member” may have control of the LLC, which consists of a number of members—each of which could be a PRIVATE C corporation. Yes, it looks like there are definite possibilities here.

Another major addition to Chapter 86 (LLCs) is contained in Section 41:

Sec. 41. The articles of organization or operating agreement of a limited-liability company may create classes of members or managers, define their relative rights, powers and duties, and may authorize the creation, in the manner provided in the operating agreement, of additional classes of members or managers with the relative rights, powers and duties as may from time to time be established, including, without limitation, rights, powers and duties senior to existing classes of members or managers. The articles of organization or operating agreement may provide that any member, or class or group of members, has voting rights that differ from other classes or groups.

Again, this is an all-new addition to the existing statutes. Up until now all members were considered equal in rights but here we have a provision for establishing “relative rights” of the members or managers. This amendment appears to provide for an LLC to have something akin to “officers”—by any other name—similar to the officers of a C corporation.

Sections 43 to 46 make provisions for any member of an LLC (including a “noneconomic member”) to initiate legal action on behalf of the LLC, even when the managers with authority to do so do not act.

Section 47 is also VERY interesting:

Sec. 47. Subject to the constitution of this state:

- 1. The laws of the state, pursuant to which a foreign limited-liability company is organized, govern its organization, internal affairs and the liability of its managers and members; and*
- 2. A foreign limited-liability company may not be denied registration by reason of any difference between the laws of the state of organization and the laws of this state.*

On the surface of things, this addition to NRS 86 merely allows an LLC formed within another jurisdiction to operate within Nevada according to the rules of its state of domicile. But it strikes us that perhaps the reason Nevada is being so gracious to foreign LLCs is so that Nevada LLCs might have the benefits of Nevada statutes even when they do business in foreign jurisdictions, in a reciprocal arrangement.

NRS 86.491 contains some noteworthy additions:

... 2. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement, the death, retirement, resignation, expulsion, bankruptcy, dissolution or dissociation of a member or any other event affecting the member does not:

(a) Terminate the status of the person as a member; or

(b) Cause the limited-liability company to be dissolved or its affairs to be wound up.

3. Except as otherwise provided in the articles of organization or operating agreement, upon the death of a natural person who is the sole member of a limited-liability company, the status of the member, including the member’s interest, may pass to the heirs, successors and assigns of the member by will or applicable law. The heir, successor or assign of the member’s interest becomes a substituted member pursuant to NRS 86.351, subject to administration as provided by applicable law, without the permission or consent of the heirs, successors or assigns.

Much as we have done with C corporations through provisions for alternate directors to ensure continuity of corporate directorship in the event of death or incapacitation, it is now quite possible for a member of an LLC to simply be replaced by a “substituted member”. In addition, though, it appears that if a corporation that is a member of an LLC dissolves—that does not terminate its status as a member. Something tells us that LLCs could end up with some “ghostly” members, which seems a little weird and wonderful at the same time. This is really opening up some amazing possibilities!

Significant Changes: Mergers

NRS 92A relates to Mergers and Exchanges of Interest and it is here that some of the most amazing changes are being put into effect. Do you have a California entity (or any entity from any jurisdiction foreign to Nevada) that you might want to convert into a Nevada entity? Do you have a C corporation that you might want to convert into an LLC? Would you consider converting your general partnership into an LLC? Think not? You might change your mind after thinking on the possibilities presented by these additions to Nevada’s statutes.

As you read this section, keep in mind that these are all-new provisions of the law. Somebody certainly had something in mind in enacting them. Let’s see if we can see what they’re up to (emphasis added):

Sec. 75. Chapter 92A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 76 to 82, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 76. “Domestic general partnership” means a general partnership governed by the provisions of Chapter 87 of NRS.

Sec. 77. “Resulting entity” means, with respect to a conversion, the entity that results from conversion of the constituent entity.

Sec. 78. 1. Except as limited by NRS 78.411 to 78.444, inclusive, one domestic general partnership or one domestic entity, except a domestic nonprofit corporation, may convert into a different type of entity if the plan of conversion is approved pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

2. The plan of conversion must be in writing and set forth the:

- (a) Name of the constituent entity and the proposed name for the resulting entity;
- (b) Address of the constituent entity and the resulting entity;
- (c) Jurisdiction of the law that governs the constituent entity;
- (d) Jurisdiction of the law that will govern the resulting entity;
- (e) Terms and conditions of the conversion;
- (f) Manner and basis of converting the owner's interest or the interest of a partner in a general partnership of the constituent entity into owner's interests, rights of purchase and other securities in the resulting entity; and
- (g) Full text of the constituent documents of the resulting entity.

3. The plan of conversion may set forth other provisions relating to the conversion.

Sec. 79. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, all partners must approve a plan of conversion involving a domestic general partnership.

Sec. 80. 1. One foreign entity or foreign general partnership may convert into one domestic entity if:

- (a) The conversion is permitted by the law of the jurisdiction governing the foreign entity or foreign general partnership and the foreign entity or foreign general partnership complies with that law in effecting the conversion;
- (b) The foreign entity or foreign general partnership complies with the applicable provisions of section 81 of this act and, if it is the resulting entity in the conversion, with NRS 92A.210 to 92A.240, inclusive; and
- (c) The domestic entity complies with the applicable provisions of NRS 92A.120, 92A.140 and 92A.165 and sections 78 and 79 of this act and, if it is the resulting entity in the conversion, with NRS 92A.210 to 92A.240, inclusive, and section 81 of this act.

2. When the conversion takes effect, the resulting foreign entity in a conversion shall be deemed to have appointed the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in a proceeding to enforce any obligation. Service of process must be made personally by delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state duplicate copies of the process and the payment of a fee of $25 for accepting and transmitting the process. The secretary of state shall send one of the copies of the process by registered or certified mail to the resulting entity at its specified address, unless the resulting entity has designated in writing to the secretary of state a different address for that purpose, in which case it must be mailed to the last address so designated.

Sec. 81. 1. After a plan of conversion is approved as required by this chapter, if the resulting entity is a domestic entity, the constituent entity shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing:

(a) Articles of conversion setting forth:

- (1) The name and jurisdiction of organization of the constituent entity and the resulting entity; and
- (2) That a plan of conversion has been adopted by the constituent entity in compliance with the law of the jurisdiction governing the constituent entity.

(b) The following constituent document of the domestic resulting entity:

- (1) If the resulting entity is a domestic corporation, the articles of incorporation;
- (2) If the resulting entity is a domestic limited partnership, the certificate of limited partnership;
- (3) If the resulting entity is a domestic limited-liability company, the articles of organization; or
- (4) If the resulting entity is a domestic business trust, the certificate of trust.

2. After a plan of conversion is approved as required by this chapter, if the resulting entity is a foreign entity, the constituent entity shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of conversion setting forth:

- (a) The name and jurisdiction of organization of the constituent entity and the resulting entity;
- (b) That a plan of conversion has been adopted by the constituent entity in compliance with the laws of this state; and
- (c) The address of the resulting entity where copies of process may be sent by the secretary of state.

3. If the entire plan of conversion is not set forth in the articles of conversion, the filing party must include in the articles of conversion a statement that the complete executed plan of conversion is on file at the registered office or principal place of business of the resulting entity or, if the resulting entity is a domestic limited partnership, the office described in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 of NRS 88.330.

4. If the conversion takes effect on a later date specified in the articles of conversion pursuant to NRS 92A.240, the constituent document filed with the secretary of state pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 1 must state the name and the jurisdiction of the constituent entity and that the existence of the resulting entity does not begin until the later date.

5. Any documents filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this section must be accompanied by the required fees.

Sec. 82. 1. Any undomesticated organization may become domesticated in this state as a domestic entity by:

- (a) Paying the required fees to the secretary of state; and
- (b) Filing with the secretary of state:

(1) Articles of domestication which must be executed in compliance with subsection 6; and

(2) The appropriate constituent document in compliance with the provisions of all applicable statutes governing the appropriate domestic entity.

2. The articles of domestication must set forth the:

- (a) Date when and the jurisdiction where the undomesticated organization was first formed, incorporated, organized or otherwise created;
- (b) Name of the undomesticated organization immediately before filing the articles of domestication;
- (c) Name and type of domestic entity as set forth in its constituent document pursuant to subsection 1; and
- (d) Jurisdiction that constituted the principal place of business or central administration of the undomesticated organization, or any other equivalent thereto pursuant to applicable law, immediately before filing the articles of domestication.

3. Upon filing the articles of domestication and constituent document with the secretary of state, the undomesticated organization is domesticated in this state as the domestic entity described in the constituent document filed pursuant to subsection 1. The existence of the domestic entity begins on the date the undomesticated organization began its existence in the jurisdiction in which the undomesticated organization was first formed, incorporated, organized or otherwise created.

4. The domestication of any undomesticated organization does not affect any obligations or liabilities of the undomesticated organization incurred before its domestication.

5. The filing of the constituent document of the domestic entity filed pursuant to subsection 1 does not affect the choice of law applicable to the undomesticated organization. From the date the constituent document of the domestic entity is filed, the law of this state applies to the domestic entity to the same extent as if the undomesticated organization was organized and created as a domestic entity on that date.

6. Before filing articles of domestication, the domestication must be approved in the manner required by:

- (a) The document, instrument, agreement or other writing governing the internal affairs of the undomesticated organization and the conduct of its business; and
- (b) Applicable foreign law.

7. When a domestication becomes effective, all rights, privileges and powers of the undomesticated organization, all property owned by the undomesticated organization, all debts due to the undomesticated organization, and all causes of action belonging to the undomesticated organization are vested in the domestic entity and become the property of the domestic entity to the same extent as vested in the undomesticated organization immediately before domestication. The title to any real property vested by deed or otherwise in the undomesticated organization is not reverted or impaired by the domestication. All rights of creditors and all liens upon any property of the undomesticated organization are preserved unimpaired and all debts, liabilities and duties of an undomesticated organization that has been domesticated attach to the domestic entity resulting from the domestication and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if the debts, liability and duties had been incurred or contracted by the domestic entity.

8. When an undomesticated organization is domesticated, the domestic entity resulting from the domestication is for all purposes deemed to be the same entity as the undomesticated organization. Unless otherwise agreed by the owners of the undomesticated organization or as required pursuant to applicable foreign law, the domestic entity resulting from the domestication is not required to wind up its affairs, pay its liabilities or distribute its assets. The domestication of an undomesticated organization does not constitute the dissolution of the undomesticated organization. The domestication constitutes a continuation of the existence of the undomesticated organization in the form of a domestic entity. If, following domestication, an undomesticated organization that has become domesticated pursuant to this section continues its existence in the foreign country or foreign jurisdiction in which it was existing immediately before the domestication, the domestic entity and the undomesticated organization are for all purposes a single entity formed, incorporated, organized or otherwise created and existing pursuant to the laws of this state and the laws of the foreign country or other foreign jurisdiction.

9. As used in this section, “undomesticated organization” means any incorporated organization, private law corporation, whether or not organized for business purposes, public law corporation, general partnership, registered limited-liability partnership, limited partnership or registered limited-liability limited partnership, proprietorship, joint venture, foundation, business trust, real estate investment trust, common law trust or any other unincorporated business formed, organized, created or the internal affairs of which are governed by the laws of any foreign country or jurisdiction other than the United States, the District of Columbia or another state, territory, possession, commonwealth or dependency of the United States.

Wow. Like the commercial says: “This changes EVERYthing.” Nevada hereby invites any and all comers to domesticate in Nevada. It truly does look like Nevada is going to be the principal home of corporate globalism. No, no need to wind up anything where you are—just clone yourself as any type of Nevada entity that appeals to you!

We apologize for the “dry” reading but the impact of these changes is far-reaching and you may as well have some of the details for easy reference. Once again, keep in mind that these amendments are not yet finalized as “the law”—but they are due to be within a couple of months.

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Keeping Shields Up In A Foreign Jurisdiction

Budget's “Tip of the Week” #11:

Maintaining a Nevada Corporation's Liability Protection in a Foreign Jurisdiction

When using your Nevada corporation in a foreign jurisdiction, what can you do to maintain the strong liability protection afforded under Nevada's statutes?

So-called “long arm” laws have been used to claim jurisdiction over “foreign” corporations, stripping away the benefits that would otherwise accrue to them based on the statutes prevailing in their home jurisdiction. These “long arm” laws have been used to great effect in California, for example, ostensibly to protect that state's citizens from encroachments and predatory practices by “outsiders”. Nevada corporations are not immune from this potentially devastating application of the law that would deny them the liability protection inherent in Nevada's Revised Statutes—BUT IT WOULD APPEAR THAT THEY CAN BE.

Article I, section 10, clause 1 of the U.S. Constitution prohibits the states from passing any “law impairing the obligation of contracts”. The test for determining a violation of this “contract clause” in the Constitution was stated in Allied Structural Steel Co. v. Spannaus, 438 U.S. 234 (1978):

“The first inquiry must be whether the state law has, in fact, operated as a substantial impairment of a contractual relationship. The severity of the impairment measures the height of the hurdle the state legislation must clear. Minimal alteration of contractual obligations may end the inquiry at its first stage. Severe impairment, on the other hand, will push the inquiry to a careful examination of the nature and purpose of the state legislation.”

The solution to retaining the superior liability protection made inherent to Nevada corporations in the Nevada Revised Statutes thus appears to be fairly simple:

AS A PART OF ANY CONTRACT (and remember that a contract does not have to be in writing) WITH ANY ENTITY OR ENTITIES IN A FOREIGN JURISDICTION, ENSURE A CLEAR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE CONTRACT IS TRANSACTED IN NEVADA, AND THAT ANY DISPUTE SHALL BE RESOLVED IN NEVADA.

You might also want to consider liberal use of the suffix, “a Nevada corporation”, which can be appended to your corporation's name to add a measure of protection. In legal terms, there is a “rebuttable presumption” that Nevada law applies to any contract between a Nevada “person” (yes, a corporation IS a “person”, by legal definition) and any other entity, so long as the second party is aware of the fact that they are dealing with a Nevada corporation. For this reason alone it can be wise to ensure that the Nevada corporation is identified as such while operating within a foreign jurisdiction.

CORPORATION SETUP AND MAINTENANCE FEES

Budget Corporation —includes:	Nominee Service	$200
• First-year resident agent fee	Obtain EIN	$ 50
• Corporate Charter	Bank Account Setup	$100
• Articles of Incorporation	Expedite (24-hr. setup)	$100
• Corporate Bylaws
• Corporate Resolutions	Annual Resident Agent Fee	$ 85
• Budget corporate record book	Budget Mail Forwarding (18 pcs/yr)	$ 50
• 3.5” floppy disk of resources	Full Mail Forwarding (240 pcs/yr)	$150
TOTAL	$350

Order before May 31, 2001 to take advantage of the introductory price on

“THE NEVADA CORPORATION MANUAL”

Introductory Price Just $25 + $5 S&H for U.S. orders

Budget
Corporate Renewals

Nevada Corporations at Budget
prices

(702) 870-5351

P.O. Box 27103, Las Vegas, NV 89126
BCR@BudgetCorporateRenewals.com
www.BudgetCorporateRenewals.com

PHOENIX JOURNALS LIST

THESE WORKS ARE A SERIES CALLED THE PHOENIX JOURNALS AND HAVE BEEN WRITTEN TO ASSIST MAN TO BECOME AWARE OF LONG-STANDING DECEPTIONS AND OTHER MATTERS CRITICAL TO HIS SURVIVAL AS A SPECIES AT THIS TIME. SINGLE JOURNALS ARE NOW ON SALE FOR $3.00 (REG. $6.00). (Shipping extra—see right.)

1. SIPAPU ODYSSEY
2. AND THEY CALLED HIS NAME IMMANUEL....
3. SPACE-GATE, THE VEIL REMOVED
4. SPIRAL TO ECONOMIC DISASTER
5. FROM HERE TO ARMAGEDDON
7. THE RAINBOW MASTERS
9. SATAN'S DRUMMERS
10. PRIVACY IN A FISHBOWL
11. CRY OF THE PHOENIX
21. CREATION, THE SACRED UNIVERSE
38. THE DARK CHARADE
39. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. I
40. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. II
41. THE DESTRUCTION OF A PLANET—ZIONISM IS RACISM
42. UNHOLY ALLIANCE
43. TANGLED WEBS VOL. I
44. TANGLED WEBS VOL. II
45. TANGLED WEBS VOL. III
46. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IV
48. TANGLED WEBS VOL. V (OUT OF STOCK)
49. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VI
50. THE DIVINE PLAN VOL. I
51. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VII
52. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VIII
53. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IX
54. THE FUNNEL'S NECK
55. MARCHING TO ZION
56. SEX AND THE LOTTERY
57. GOD, TOO, HAS A PLAN 2000—DIVINE PLAN VOL. II
58. FROM THE FRYING PAN INTO THE PIT OF FIRE
59. "REALITY" ALSO HAS A DRUM-BEAT!
60. AS THE BLOSSOM OPENS
61. PUPPY-DOG TALES
62. CHAPARRAL SERENDIPITY
63. THE BEST OF TIMES
64. TO ALL MY CHILDREN
65. THE LAST GREAT PLAGUE
66. ULTIMATE PSYCHOPOLITICS
67. THE BEAST AT WORK
68. ECSTASY TO AGONY
69. TATTERED PAGES
70. NO THORNLESS ROSES
71. COALESCENCE
72. CANDLELIGHT
73. RELATIVE CONNECTIONS VOL. I
74. MYSTERIES OF RADIANCE UNFOLDED VOL. II
75. TRUTH AND CONSEQUENCES VOL. III
76. SORTING THE PIECES VOL. IV
77. PLAYERS IN THE GAME
78. IRON TRAP AROUND AMERICA
79. MARCHING TO ZOG
80. TRUTH FROM THE ZOG BOG
81. RUSSIAN ROULETTE
82. RETIREMENT RETREATS
83. POLITICAL PSYCHOS
84. CHANGING PERSPECTIVES
85. SHOCK THERAPY
86. MISSING THE LIFEBOAT??
87. IN GOD'S NAME AWAKEN!
88. THE ADVANCED DEMOLITION LEGION
89. FOCUS OF DEMONS
90. TAKING OFF THE BLINDFOLD
91. FOOTSTEPS INTO TRUTH
92. WALK A CROOKED ROAD WITH THE CROOKS
93. CRIMINAL POLITBUROS AND OTHER PLAGUES
94. WINGING IT....
95. HEAVE-UP (Phase One)
96. HEAVE-HO (Phase Two)
97. HEAVE 'EM OUT (Phase Three)
98. ASCENSION OR NEVER-EVER LAND?
99. USURPERS OF FREEDOM IN CONSPIRACY
100. BUTTERFLIES, MIND CONTROL—THE RAZOR'S EDGE
101. THE BREATHING DEAD AND CEMENT CHILDREN
102. SACRED WISDOM
103. CONFRONT THE NOW CREATE THE FUTURE
104. FIRST STEPS
105. AMERICA IN PERIL—AN UNDERSTATEMENT!
107. RING AROUND THE ROSIE...!
130. TRACKING DOWN THE KILLER (OUT OF STOCK)
"AND OTHER FORMS OF MURDER" (The Health Book)
222. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 1;
223. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 2;
224. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 3;
225. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 4
227. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 1;
228. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 2;
229. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 3;
230. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 4

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT JOURNALS, BOOKS, ETC., MENTIONED IN THIS NEWSPAPER, PLEASE INQUIRE:

PHOENIX SOURCE DISTRIBUTORS, INC.
P.O. Box 27353
Las Vegas, Nevada 89126
1-800-800-5565
(Mastercard, VISA, Discover)

Phoenix Source Distributors SHIPPING CHARGES:

USA (except Alaska & Hawaii)

UPS-$3.75 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l

ALASKA & HAWAII

Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
UPS 2nd day-$9.00 1st title, $1 ea add'l

CANADA & MEXICO

Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$4.50 1st title, $2.00 ea add'l

FOREIGN

Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$8.00 per title estimate

(Please allow 3-4 weeks for delivery on all book orders)

CONTACT Staff

Margie Berndt
Mark Moore
John & Jean Ray
Rex Smith
Princeton Winton

PLEASE NOTE:
CONTACT and Phoenix Source Distributors are NOT the same! Checks sent for JOURNALS or book orders should NOT be made out to CONTACT—and vice versa.

Editorial Policy

Opinions of CONTACT contributors (including ads) are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of the CONTACT staff or management.

CONTACT: THE PHOENIX JOURNAL

is published by
CONTACT, Inc.
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126
Phone: (800) 800-5565

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Subscription orders may be placed by mail to the above address or by phone to 1-800-800-5565.

Subscribers: Expiration date appears on upper left side of mailing label.

Quantity Subscriptions: U.S. For Foreign subscriptions call or write for shipping charges.

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTIONS					QUANTITY SUBSCRIPTIONS
Quantity	U.S.	U.S. ENVELOPE	CANMEX	FOREIGN	Quantity	10 COPIES	25 COPIES	50 COPIES	100 COPIES
13 ISSUES	$30	$40	$40	$45	13 ISSUES	$95	$125	$160	$275
26 ISSUES	$60	$80	$80	$90	26 ISSUES	$190	$250	$320	$550
52 ISSUES	$110	$150	$150	$170	52 ISSUES	$380	$500	$640	$1,100

BACK ISSUE RATES

Miscellaneous copies of individual back issues are $3.00 each copy
Shipping is included in the price for U.S. orders
Foreign please call or write for additional shipping charges

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.

January 6, 2001