RE: SECRET SOCIETIES—GCH/D

COMMENTS: ON LOCATION

DJE—This is a good chance to overview what the “news” presents vs. what is happening in reality.

The election (“mid-term” it is called) happened—in every way imagined. The photo ops showed the best and tried to overlook the dastardly.

The papers show the 13 senatorables in order of status (votes counted) and it is widely MIXED for and against the incumbent coup government. However, CNN projects a full win for the “People Power Coalition” (PPC), which is the new President’s party, of course.

What is truth? READ THE PROTOCOLS.

Voting places were changed, boxes of ballots (already filled out) were found, and some of the very candidates themselves, after finally finding their “precinct” polling place, could be found nowhere on the voters list.

Who will actually win? Whoever is announced as the winner. Otherwise there is only chaos. Adjustments are expected to take at least two weeks of commotion to even project probabilities in outcome. Yes, it DOES matter to us—greatly.

What will we do? We will push forward until we get around the mountain. The mountain (Mayon) blew out lava yesterday and the day before, so the footpath may well be HOT but we have to recognize that a lot of pathways in Hell are hot.

E.J. has a scheduled meeting this afternoon with a very important person (we are told). Will it take place? Can’t say because so many meetings were ignored this past election week as to be discouraging to us. We have been asked to hold patiently and as usual we ask, “What else is there?”

The supervisor responds: “Hold patiently!”

So—we will AGAIN see to visa extension (every other day, it seems and, yes, our passports ARE FULL and now require extra pages). E.J. will try to find a “debugging” computer program and, indeed, “take a couple of headache pills and call in the morning”. Meanwhile, we will work on our first “call to duty” and type as fast as I can on the Zionist Protocols. It certainly looks to me at this keyboard as though “they’ have gone ‘about as far as they can go”, while being a long way “out front” in the race.

It is better to realize there are less than 3% of “the people” on this planet in this Global grab—so, surely we can do something to keep the lock off the slave quarters even though we are in that slave cell with everyone else. I have to realize as I write (and read) this book in progress—that there are no coincidences and the “buck stops” with us, the ones among the “risktakers” OR the authors plagiarized our work. However, I note that these Protocols of Zion are more comprehensive in layout, while stranger in presentation (translation), than we have seen before. YOU readers will recognize most of the backup writers as to important reference listing. It makes my own hair stand up.

I “think” I am somewhat honored to realize that from around the globe this information, plus some additional things of interest, has made it BACK to us here in this foreign land, and resurrection of HOPE out of the chaos is extraordinary. I have none of the reference books here in which to locate mental possibilities as I read and write, while I, being accustomed to STRANGE things, am blown away by the logistics of a simple “coincidence”. We can’t even find the books over here.

Bruce, please secure our old books because we will even want the Nora Boyles “in progress” material. The books we gathered were sent by people we never knew and would never have otherwise been a focus of interest.

Are the multiple authors correct in all instances? I have no idea, for I am asked to “do your job, please” and the rest will move into place. AND MIRACLES OF MIRACLES: WE ARE NOT ALONE.

Change is truly in the wind and my only prayer is to “let it be in positive transformation”.

We note that something has to be done in a positive move or things look very bleak for freedom’s survival.—DJE

SECRET SOCIETIES AND THEIR POWER IN THE 20TH CENTURY

THE MEETINGS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION

Here is “The Britons” translation of the complete text of Nilus’ notorious “Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion.”
[QUOTING:]

PROTOCOL NO. 1

“...Putting aside fine phrases we shall speak of the significance of each thought: by comparisons and deductions we shall throw light upon surrounding facts.

What I am about to set forth, then, is our system from the two points of view, that of ourselves and that of the goyim (i.e., human cattle = Non-Jews).

It must be noted that men with bad instincts are more in number than the good, and therefore the best results in governing them are attained by violence and terrorisation, and not by academic discussion. Every man aims at power, everyone would like to become a dictator if only he could, and rare indeed are the men who would not be willing to sacrifice the welfare of all for the sake of securing their own welfare.

What has restrained the beasts of prey who are called men? What has served for their guidance hitherto?

In the beginnings of the structure of society they were subjected to brutal and blind force; afterwards to Law, which is the same force, only disguised. I draw the conclusion that by the law of nature right lies in force.

Political freedom is an idea but not a fact. This idea one must know how to apply whenever it appears necessary with this bait of an idea to attract the masses of the people to one’s party for the purpose of crushing another who is in authority. This task is rendered easier if the opponent has himself been infected with the idea of freedom, so-called liberalism, and, for the sake of an idea, is willing to yield some of his power. It is precisely here that the triumph of our theory appears: the slackened reins of government are immediately, by the law of life, caught up and gathered together by a new hand, because the blind might of the nation cannot for one single day exist without guidance, and the new authority merely fits into the place of the old already weakened by liberalism.

In our day the power which has replaced that of the rulers who were liberal is the power of gold. Time was when Faith ruled. The idea of freedom is impossible of realisation because no one knows how to use it with moderation. It is enough to hand over a people to self-government for a certain length of time for that people to be turned into a disorganised mob. From that moment on we get internecine strife which soon develops into battles between classes, in the midst of which States burn down and their importance is reduced to that of a heap of ashes.

Whether a State exhausts itself in its own convulsions, whether its internal discord brings it under the power of external foes in any case it can be accounted irretrievably lost: it is in our power. The despotism of Capital, which is entirely in our hands, reaches out to it a straw that the State, willy-nilly, must take hold of; if not, it goes to the bottom.

Should anyone of a liberal mind say that such reflections as the above are immoral, I would put the following questions:

If every State has two foes and if in regard to the external foe it is allowed and not considered immoral to use every manner and art of conflict, as for example to keep the enemy in ignorance of plans of attack and defense, to attack him by night or in superior numbers, then in what way can the same means in regard to a worse foe, the destroyer of the structure of society and the commonweal, be called immoral and not permissible?

Is it possible for any sound logical mind to hope with any success to guide crowds by the aid of reasonable counsels and arguments, when any objection or contradiction, senseless though it may be, can be made and when such objection may find more favour with the people, whose powers of reasoning are superficial? Men in masses and the men of the masses, being guided solely by petty passions, paltry beliefs, customs, traditions and sentimental theorism, fall a prey to party dissension, which hinders any kind of agreement even on the basis of a perfectly reasonable argument. Every resolution of a crowd depends upon a chance or packed majority, which, in its ignorance of political secrets, puts forth some ridiculous resolution that lays in the administration a seed of anarchy.

The political has nothing in common with the moral. The ruler who is governed by the moral is not a skilled politician, and is therefore unstable on his throne. He who wishes to rule must have recourse both to cunning and to make-believe. Great national qualities, like frankness and honesty, are vices in politics, for they bring down rulers from their thrones more effectively and more certainly than the most powerful enemy. Such qualities must be the attributes of the kingdoms of the goyim, but we must in no wise be guided by them.

Our right lies in force. The word “right” is an abstract thought and proved by nothing. The word means no more than: Give me what I want in order that thereby I might have proof that I am stronger than you.

Where does right begin? Where does it end?

In any State in which there is a bad organization of authority, an impersonality of laws and of the rulers who have lost their personality amid the flood of rights ever multiplying out of liberalism, I find a new right—to attack by the right of the strong, and to scatter to the winds all existing forces of order and regulation, to reconstruct all institutions and to become the sovereign lord of those who have left to us the rights of their power by laying them down voluntarily in their liberalism.

Our power in the present tottering condition of all forms of power will be more invincible than any other, because it will remain invisible until the moment when it has gained such strength that no cunning can any longer undermine it. [H: Check it out for yourself and note that it is only now that enough uncovering is taking place to even touch “the invincibles”, even though a few have known TRUTH and tried to offer it unto you-the-people while you slept on—and on and on...]

Out of the temporary evil we are now compelled to commit will emerge the good of an unshakeable rule, which will restore the regular course of the machinery of the national life, brought to naught by liberalism. The result justifies the means. Let us, however, in our plans, direct our attention not so much to what is good and moral as to what is necessary and useful.

Before us is a plan in which is laid down strategically the line from which we cannot deviate without running the risk of seeing the labour of many centuries brought to naught.

In order to elaborate satisfactory forms of action it is necessary to have regard to the rascality, the slackness, the instability of the mob, its lack of capacity to understand and respect the conditions of its own life, or its own welfare. It must be understood that the might of a mob is blind, senseless and unreasoning force ever at the mercy of a suggestion from any side. The blind cannot lead the blind without bringing them into the abyss; consequently, members of the mob, upstarts from the people even though they should be as a genius for wisdom, yet having no understanding of the political, cannot come forward as leaders of the mob without bringing the whole nation to ruin.

Only one trained from childhood for independent rule can have understanding of the words that can be made up of the political alphabet.

A people left to itself, i.e., to upstarts from its midst, brings itself to ruin by party dissensions excited by the pursuit of power and honours and disorders arising therefrom. Is it possible for the masses of the people calmly and without petty jealousies to form judgements, to deal with the affairs of the country, which cannot be mixed up with personal interests? Can they defend themselves from an external foe? It is unthinkable, for a plan broken up into as many parts as there are heads in the mob, loses all homogeneity, and thereby becomes unintelligible and impossible of execution.

It is only with a despotic ruler that plans can be elaborated extensively and clearly in such a way as to distribute the whole properly among the several parts of the machinery of the State: from this the conclusion is inevitable that a satisfactory form of government for any country is one that concentrates in the hands of one responsible person. Without an absolute despotism there can be no existence for civilisation which is carried on not by the masses but by their guide, whosoever that person may be. The mob is a savage and displays its savagery at every opportunity. The moment the mob seizes freedom in its hands it quickly turns to anarchy, which in itself is the highest degree of savagery.

Behold the alcoholised animals, bemused with drink, the right to an immoderate use of which comes along with freedom. [H: TAKE A GOOD HARD LOOK AT YOURSELF, PLEASE.] It is not for us and ours to walk that road. The peoples of the Goyim are bemused with alcoholic liquors; their youth has grown stupid on classicism and independent rule can have from early immorality, into which it has been inducted by our special agents—by tutors, lackeys, governesses in the houses of the wealthy, by clerks and others, by our women in the places of dissipation frequented by the goyim. In the number of these last I count also the so-called “society ladies”, voluntary followers of the others in corruption and luxury.

Our countersign is force and make-believe. Only force conquers in political affairs, especially if it be concealed in the talents essential to statesmen. Violence must be the principle, and cunning and make-believe the rule for governments which do not want to lay down their crowns at the feet of agents of some new power. This evil is the one and only means to attain the end, the good. Therefore we must not stop at bribery, deceit and treachery when they should serve towards the attainment of our end. In politics one must know how to seize the property of others without hesitation if by it we secure submission and sovereignty.

Our State, marching along the path of peaceful conquest, has the right to replace the horrors of war by less noticeable and more satisfactory sentences of death, necessary to maintain the terror which tends to produce blind submission. Just by merciless severity is the greatest factor of strength in the State: not only for the sake of gain but also in the name of duty, for the sake of victory, we must keep to the programme of violence and make-believe. The doctrine of squaring accounts is precisely as strong as the means of which it makes use. Therefore it is not so much by the means themselves as by the doctrine of severity that we shall triumph and bring all governments into subjection to our super-government. It is enough for them to know that we are merciless for all disobedience to cease.

Far back in ancient times we were the first to cry among the masses of the people the words “Liberty, Equality, Fraternity”, words many times repeated since those days by stupid poll-parrots who from all sides round flew down upon these baits and with them carried away the well-being of the world, true freedom of the individual, formerly so well guarded against the pressure of the mob. [H: How does “weapons of mass destruction”, “mad-man Saddam”, “Peoples Power” and “HOLOCAUST” hit you now? Have the “trainers” (handlers) repeat it enough and you will accept the lie and place your own life on the line to defend it. The TRAINERS DO NOT put their lives on the line nor that of their children—check this one out as well, please.] The would-be wise men of the goyim, the intellectuals, could not make anything out of the uttered words in their abstractness; did not note the contradiction of their meaning and inter-relation; did not see that in nature there is no equality, cannot be freedom; that Nature herself has established inequality of minds, of characters, and capacities, just as immutably as she has established subordination to her laws; never stopped to think that the mob is a blind thing; that upstarts elected from among it to bear rule are, in regard to the political, the same blind men as the mob itself, that the adept, though he be a fool, can yet rule, whereas the non-adept, even if he were a genius, understands nothing in the political—to all these things the goyim paid no regard; yet all the time it was based upon these things that dynastic rule rested: the father passed on to the son a knowledge of the course of political affairs in such wise that none could betray it to the govern. As time went on the meaning of the dynastic transference of the true position of affairs in the political was lost, and this aided the success of our cause.

In all corners of the earth the words “Liberty, Equality, Fraternity” brought to our ranks, thanks to our blind agents, whole legions who bore our banners with enthusiasm. And all the time these words were canker-worms at work boring into the well-being of the goyim, putting an end everywhere to peace, quiet, solidarity and destroying all the foundations of the goy States. As you will see later, this helped us to our triumph; it gave us the possibility, among other things, of getting into our hands the master card—the destruction of the privileges, or in other words of the very existence of the aristocracy of the goyim we have set up the aristocracy of our educated class headed by the aristocracy of money. The qualifications for this aristocracy we have established in wealth, which is dependent upon us, and in knowledge, for which our learned elders provide the motive force.

Our triumph has been rendered easier by the fact that in our relations with the men whom we wanted we have always worked upon the most sensitive chords of the human mind, upon the cash account, upon the cupidity, upon the satiability for material needs of man; and each one of these human weaknesses, taken alone, is sufficient to paralyse initiative, for it hands over the will of men to the disposition of him who has bought their activities.

The abstraction of freedom has enabled us to persuade the mob in all countries that their government is nothing but the steward of the people who are the owners of the country, and that the steward may be replaced like a worn-out glove.

It is this possibility of replacing the representatives of the people which has placed them at our disposal, and, as it were, given us the power of appointment.

PROTOCOL NO. 2

It is indispensable for our purpose that wars, so far as possible, should not result in territorial gains; war will thus be brought on to the economic ground, where the nations will not fail to perceive in the assistance we give the strength of our predominance, and this state of things will put both sides at the mercy of our international agentur, which possesses millions of eyes ever on the watch and unhampered by any limitations whatsoever. Our international rights will then wipe out national rights, in the proper sense of right, and will rule the nations precisely as the civil law of States rules the relations of their subjects among themselves.

The administrators, whom we shall choose from among the public, with strict regard to their capacities for servile obedience, will not be persons trained in the arts of government, and will therefore easily become pawns in our game in the hands of men of learning and genius who will be their advisers, specialists bred and reared from early childhood to rule the affairs of the whole world. As is well known to you, these specialists of ours have been drawing to fit them for rule the information they need from our political plans, from the lessons of history, from observations made of the events of every moment as it passes. The goyim are not guided by practical use of unprejudiced historical observation, but by theoretical routine without any critical regard for consequent results. We need not, therefore, take any account of them—let them amuse themselves until the hour strikes, or live on hopes of new forms of interprising pastime, or on the memories of all they have enjoyed. For them let that play the principal part which we have persuaded them to accept as the dictates of science (theory). It is with this object in view that we are constantly, by means of our press, arousing a blind confidence in these theories. The intellectuals of the goyim will puff themselves up with their knowledge and without any logical verification of it will put into effect all the information available from science, which our agentur specialists have cunningly pieced together for the purpose of educating their minds in the direction we want. Do not suppose for a moment that these statements are empty words: think carefully of the successes we arranged for Darwinism, Marxism, Nietzscheism. To us Jews, at any rate, it should be plain to see what a disintegrating importance these directives have had upon the minds of the goyim.

It is indispensable for us to take account of the thoughts, characters, tendencies of the nations in order to avoid making slips in the political and in the direction of administrative affairs. The triumph of our system, of which the component parts of the machinery may be variously disposed according to the temperament of the peoples met on our way, will fail of success if the practical application of it be not based upon a summing up of the lessons of the past in the light of the present.

In the hands of the States of today there is a great force that creates the movement of thought in the people, and that is the Press. The part played by the Press is to keep pointing out requirements supposed to be indispensable, to give voice to the complaints of the people, to express and to create discontent. It is in the Press that the triumph of freedom of speech finds its incarnation. But the goyim States have not known how to make use of this force, and it has fallen into our hands. Through the Press we have gained the power to influence while remaining ourselves in the shade; thanks to the Press we have got the GOLD in our hands, notwithstanding that we have had to gather it out of oceans of blood and tears. But it has paid us, though we have sacrificed many of our people. Each victim on our side is worth in the sight of God a thousand goyim.

Remarks to today’s situation: As can be seen in the list on the “Trilateral Commission” later in this book, most news agencies in the world are controlled by the “Trilateral Commission-CFR” link (these two organizations will be explained further on)...

[H: We are making one more effort to remind you who have forgotten “what this is all about, Alphonse!”. We can “do this” if YOU want to. You who have strayed off with a substitute shepherd might wish to reconsider your position even as you compare professors.]

PROTOCOL NO. 3

Today I may tell you that our goal is now only a few steps off. There remains a small space to cross and the whole long path we have trodden is ready now to close its cycle of the Symbolic Snake, by which we symbolise our people. When this ring closes, all the States of Europe will be locked in its coil as in a powerful vice.

The constitution scales of these days will shortly break down, for we have established them with a certain lack of accurate balance in order that they may oscillate incessantly until they wear through the pivot on which they turn. The goyim are under the impression that they have welded them sufficiently strong and they have all along kept on expecting that the scales would come into equilibrium. But the pivots—the kings on their thrones—are hemmed in by their representatives, who play the fool, distraught with their own uncontrolled and irresponsible power. This power they owe to the terror which has been breathed into the palaces. As they have no means of getting at their people, into their very midst, the kings on their thrones are no longer able to come to terms with them and so strengthen themselves against seekers after power. We have made a gulf between the farseeing Sovereign Power and the blind force of the people so that both have lost all meaning, for like the blind man and his stick, both are powerless apart.

In order to incite seekers after power to a misuse of power we have set all forces in opposition one to another, breaking up their liberal tendencies towards independence. To this end we have stirred up every form of enterprise; we have armed all parties; we have set up authority as a target for every ambition. Of States we have made gladiatorial arenas where a host of confused issues contend... A little more, and disorders and bankruptcy will be universal...

Babblers inexhaustible have turned into oratorical contests the sittings of Parliament and Administrative Boards. Bold journalists and unscrupulous pamphleteers daily fall upon executive officials. Abuses of power will put the final touch in preparing all institutions for their overthrow and everything will fly skyward under the blows of the maddened mob.

All people are chained down to heavy toil by poverty more firmly than ever they were chained by slavery and serfdom; from these, one way and another, they might free themselves, these could be settled with, but from want they will never get away. We have included in the constitution such rights as the masses appear fictitious and not actual rights. all these so-called "People's Rights" can exist only in idea, an idea which can never be realised in practical life. What is to the proletariat labourer, bowed double over his heavy toil, crushed by his lot in life, if talkers get the right babble, if journalists get the right to scribble any nonsense side by side with good stuff, once the proletariat has to other profit out of the constitution save only those pitiful crumbs which we fling them from our table in return for the voting in favour of what we dictate, in favour of the men we place in power, the servants of our agentur... Republican rights for a poor man are no more than a bitter piece of irony, for the necessity he is under of toiling almost all day gives him no present use of them, but on the other hand robs him of all guarantee of regular and certain earnings by making him dependent on strikes by his comrades or lock-outs by his masters.

The people under our guidance have annihilated the aristocracy, who were their one and only defense and foster-mother for the sake of their own advantage which is inseparably bound up with the well-being of the people. Nowadays, with the destruction of the aristocracy, the people have fallen into the grips of merciless money-grinding scoundrels who have laid a pitiless and cruel yoke upon the necks of the workers.

We appear on the scene as alleged saviours of the worker from this oppression when we propose to him to enter the ranks of our fighting forces—Socialists, Anarchists, Communists—to whom we always give support in accordance with an alleged brotherly rule (of the solidarity of all humanity) of our social masonry. The aristocracy, which enjoyed by law the labour of the workers was interested in seeing that the workers were well fed, healthy and strong. We are interested in just the opposite—in the diminution, the killing out of the GOYIM. Our power is in the chronic shortness of food and physical weakness of the worker because by all that this implies he is made the slave of our will, and he will not find in his own authorities either strength or energy to set against our will. Hunger creates the right of capital to rule the worker more surely than it was given to the aristocracy by the legal authority of kings.

By want and the envy and hatred which it engenders we shall move the mobs and with their hands we shall wipe out all those who hinder us on our way.

When the hour strikes for our Sovereign Lord of all the World to be crowned it is these same hands which will sweep away everything that might be a hindrance thereto.

The goyim have lost the habit of thinking unless prompted by the suggestions of our specialists. Therefore they do not see the urgent necessity of what we, when our kingdom comes, shall adopt at once, namely this, that it is essential to teach in national schools one simple, true piece of knowledge, the basis of all knowledge—the knowledge of the structure of human life, of social existence, which requires division of labour, and, consequently, the division of men into classes and conditions. It is essential for all to know that owing to difference in the objects of human activity there cannot be any equality, that he who by any act of his compromises a whole class cannot be equally responsible before the law with him who affects no one but only his own honour. The true knowledge of the structure of society, into the secrets of which we do not admit the goyim, would demonstrate to all men that the positions and work must be kept within a certain circle, that they may not become a source of human suffering, arising from an education which does not correspond with the work which individuals are called upon to do. After a thorough study of this knowledge the peoples will voluntarily submit to authority and accept such position as is appointed them in the State. In the present state of knowledge and the direction we have given to its development the people, blindly believing things in print, cherishes—thanks to promptings intended to mislead and to its own ignorance—a blind hatred towards all conditions which it considers above itself, for it has no understanding of the meaning of class and condition.

This hatred will be still further magnified by the effects of an economic crisis, which will stop dealings on the exchanges and bring industry to a standstill. We shall create by all in our hands, a universal economic crisis whereby we shall throw upon the streets whole mobs of workers simultaneously in all the countries of Europe. These mobs will rush delightedly to shed the blood of those whom, in the simplicity of their ignorance, they have envied from their cradles, and whose property they will then be able to loot.

"Ours" they will not touch, because the moment of attack will be known to us and we shall take measures to protect our own.

We have demonstrated that progress will bring all the goyim to the sovereignty of reason. Our despotism will be precisely that; for it will know how by wise severities to pacificate all unrest, to cauterise liberalism out of all institutions.

When the populace has seen that all sorts of concessions and indulgences are yielded it in the name of freedom it has imagined itself to be sovereign lord and has stormed its way to power, but, naturally, like every other blind man it has come upon a host of stumbling blocks, it has rushed for a guide, it has never had the sense to return to the former state and it has laid down its plenipotentiary powers at our feet. Remember the French Revolution, to which it was we who gave the name of "Great"; the secrets of its preparations are well known to us for it was wholly the work of our hands.

Ever since that time we have been leading the peoples from one disenchantment to another, so that in the end they should turn also from us in favour of that King-Despot of the blood of Zion, whom we are preparing for the world.

At the present day we are, as an international force, invincible, because if attacked by some we are supported by other States. It is the bottomless rascality of the goyim peoples, who crawl on their bellies to force, but are merciless towards weakness, unsparing to faults and indulgent to crimes, unwilling to bear the contradictions of a free social system but patient unto martyrdom under the violence of a bold despotism—it is those qualities which are aiding us to independence. From the premier-dictators of the present day the goyim peoples suffer patiently and bear such abuses as for the least of them they would have beheaded twenty kings.

What is the explanation of this phenomenon, this curious inconsequence of the masses of the peoples in their attitude towards what would appear to be events of the same order?

It is explained by the fact that these dictators whisper to the peoples through their agents that through these abuses they are inflicting injury on the States with the highest purpose—to secure the welfare of the peoples, the international brotherhood of them all, their solidarity and equality of rights. Naturally they do not tell the peoples that this unification must be accomplished only under our sovereign rule.

And thus the people condemn the upright and acquit the guilty, persuaded ever more and more that it can do whatsoever it wishes. Thanks to this state of things the people are destroying every kind of stability and creating disorders at every step.

The word "freedom" brings out the communities of men to fight against every kind of farce, against every kind of authority, even against God and the laws of nature. For this reason we, when we come into our kingdom, shall have to erase this word from the lexicon of life as implying a principle of brute force which turns mobs into bloodthirsty beasts.

The beasts, it is true, fall asleep again every time when they have drunk their fill of blood, and at such times can easily be riveted into their chains. But if they be not given blood they will not sleep and continue to struggle.

PROTOCOL NO. 4

Every republic passes through several stages. The first of these is comprised in the early days of mad raging by the blind mob, tossed hither and thither, right and left; the second is demagoguery, from which is born anarchy, and that leads inevitably to despotism—not any longer legal and overt, and therefore responsible despotism, but to unseen and secretly hidden, yet nevertheless sensibly felt despotism in the hands of some secret organisation or other, whose acts are the more unscrupulous inasmuch as it works behind a screen, behind the backs of all sorts of agents, the changing of whom not only does not injuriously affect but actually aids the secret force by saving it, thanks to continual changes, from the necessity of expending its resources on the rewarding of long service.

Who and what is in a position to overthrow an invisible force? And this is precisely what our force is. Gentile masonry blindly serves as a screen for us and our objects, but the plan of action of our force, even its very abiding place, remains for the whole people an unknown mystery.

But even freedom might be harmless and have its place in the State economy without injury to the well-being of the peoples if it rested upon the foundation of faith of God, upon the brotherhood of humanity, unconnected with the conception of equality, which is negative by the very laws of creation, for they have established subordination. With such a faith as this a people might be governed by a wardship of parishes, and would walk contentedly and humbly under the guiding hand of its spiritual pastor submitting to the dispositions of God upon earth. This is the reason why it is indispensable for us to undermine all faith, to tear out of the minds of the goyim the very principle of Godhead and the spirit, and to put in its place arithmetical calculations and material needs.

In order to give the goyim time to think and take note, their minds must be diverted towards industry and trade. Thus, all the nations will be swallowed up in the pursuit of gain and in the race for it will not take note of their common foe. But again, in order that freedom may once for all disintegrate and ruin the communities of the goyim, we must put industry on a speculative basis; the result of this will be that what is withdrawn from the land by industry will slip through the hands and pass into speculation, that is, to our classes.

The intensified struggle for superiority and shocks delivered to economic life will create, nay, have already created disenchanted, cold and heartless communities. Such communities will foster a strong aversion towards the higher political and towards religion. Their only guide is gain, that is Gold, which they will erect into a veritable cult, for the sake of those material delights which it can give. Then will the hour strike when, not for the sake of attaining the good, not even to win wealth, but solely out of hatred towards the privileged, the lower classes of the goyim will follow our lead against our rivals for power, the intellectuals of the goyim.

What form of administrative rule can be given to communities in which corruption has penetrated everywhere; communities where riches are attained only by the clever surprise tactics of semi-swindling tricks; where looseness reigns; where morality is maintained by penal measures and harsh laws but not by voluntary accepted principles; where the feelings towards faith and country are obliterated by cosmopolitan convictions? What form of rule is to be given to these communities if not that despotism which I shall describe to you later? We shall create an intensified centralisation of government in order to grip in our hands all the forces of the community. We shall regulate mechanically all the actions of the political life of our subjects by new laws. These laws will withdraw one by one all the indulgences and liberties which have been permitted by the goyim, and our kingdom will be distinguished by a despotism of such magnificent proportions as to be at any moment and in every place in a position to wipe out any goyim who oppose us by deed or word.

We shall be told that such a despotism as I speak of it is not consistent with the progress of these days, but I will prove to you that it is.

In the times when the peoples looked upon kings on their thrones as on a pure manifestation of the will of God, they submitted without a murmur to the despotic power of kings, but from the day when we insinuated into their minds the conception of their own rights they began to regard the occupants of thrones as mere ordinary mortals. The holy unction of the Lord's Anointed has fallen from the heads of kings in the eyes of the people, and when we also robbed them of their faith in God the might of power was flung upon the streets into the place of public proprietorship and was seized by us.

Moreover, the art of directing masses and individuals by means of cleverly manipulated theory and verbiage, by regulations of life in common and all sorts of other quirks, in all which the goyim understand nothing, belongs likewise to the specialists of our administrative brain. Reared on analysis, observation, on delicacies of fine calculation, in this species of skill we have no rivals, any more than we have either in the drawing up of plans of political actions and solidarity. In this respect the Jesuits alone might have compared with us, but we have contrived to discredit them in the eyes of the unthinking mob as an overt organisation, while we ourselves all the while have kept our secret organisation in the shade. However, it is probably all the same to the world who is its sovereign lord, whether the head of Catholicism or our despot of the blood of Zion! But to us, the Chosen People, it is very far from being a matter of indifference.

For a time perhaps we might be successfully dealt with by a coalition of the GOYIM of all the world, but from this danger we are secured by the discord existing among them whose roots are so deeply seated that they can never now be plucked up. We have set one against another the personal and national reckonings of the goyim, religious and race hatreds, which we have fostered into a huge growth in the course of the past twenty centuries. This is the reason why there is not one State which would anywhere receive support if it were to raise its arm, for every one of them must bear in mind that any agreement against us would be unprofitable to itself. We are too strong—there is no ending to our power. The nations cannot come to even an inconsiderable private agreement without our secretly having a hand in it.

Per Me reges regnant. “It is through Me that Kings reign.” And it was said by the prophets that we were chosen by God Himself to rule over the whole earth. God has endowed us with genius that we may be equal to our task. Were genius in the opposite camp it would still struggle against us, but even so a newcomer is no match of the old-established settler; the struggle would be merciless between us, such a fight as the world has never yet seen. Aye, and the genius on their side would have arrived too late. All the wheels of the machinery of all States go by the force of the engine, which is in our hands, and that engine of the machinery of State is—Gold. The science of political economy invented by our learned elders has for long past been giving royal prestige to capital.

Capital, if it is to co-operate untrammelled, must be free to establish a monopoly of industry and trade; this is already being put in execution by an unseen hand in all quarters of the world. This freedom will give political force to those engaged in industry, and that will help to oppress the people. Nowadays it is more important to disarm the peoples than to lead them into war; more important to use for our advantage the passions which have burst into flames than to quench their fire; more important to catch up and interpret the ideas of others to suit ourselves than to eradicate them. The principal object of our directorate consists in this: to debilitate the public mind by criticism; to lead it away from serious reflections calculated to arouse resistance; to distract the forces of the mind towards a sham fight of empty eloquence.

In all ages the peoples of the world, equally with individuals, have accepted words for deeds, for they are content with a show and rarely pause to note, in the public arena, whether promises are followed by performance. Therefore we shall establish show institutions which will give eloquent proof of their benefit to progress.

We shall assume to ourselves the liberal physiognomy of all parties of all directions, and we shall give that physiognomy a voice in orators who will speak so much that they will exhaust the patience of their hearers and produce an abhorrence of oratory.

In order to put public opinion into our hands we must bring it into a state of bewilderment by giving expression from all sides to so many contradictory opinions and for such a length of time as will suffice to make the goyim lose their heads in the labyrinth and come to see that the best thing is to have no opinion of any kind in matter political, which is not given to the public to understand, because they are understood only by him who guides the public. This is the first secret.

The second secret requisite for the success of our government is comprised in the following: To multiply to such an extent national failings, habits, passions, conditions of civil life, that it will be impossible for anyone to know where he is in the resulting chaos, so that the people in consequence will fail to understand one another. This measure will also serve us in another way, namely, to sow discord in all parties, to dislocate all collective forces which are still unwilling to submit to us, and to discourage any kind of personal initiative which might in any degree hinder our affair. There is nothing more dangerous than personal initiative; if it has genius behind it, such initiative can do more than can be done by millions of people among whom we have sown discord. We must so direct the education of the goyim communities that whenever they come upon a matter requiring initiative they may drop their hands in despairing impotence. The strain which results from freedom of action saps the forces when it meets with the freedom of another. From this collision arise grave moral shocks, disenchantments, failures. By all these means we shall so wear down the goyim that they will be compelled to offer us international power of a nature that by its position will enable us without any violence gradually to absorb all the State forces of the world and to form a Super-Government. In place of the rulers of today we shall set up a bogey which will be called the Super-Government Administration. Its hands will reach out in all directions like nippers and its organisation will be of such colossal dimensions that it cannot fail to subdue all the nations of the world.

RE: SECRET SOCIETIES

(PART 5)

PROTOCOL NO. 6

We shall soon begin to establish huge monopolies, reservoirs of colossal riches, upon which even large fortunes of the goyim will depend to such an extent that they will go to the bottom together with the credit of the States on the day after the political smash...

You gentlemen here present who are economists, just strike an estimate of the significance of this combination!

In every possible way we must develop the significance of our Super-Government by representing it as the Protector and Benefactor of all those who voluntarily submit to us.

The aristocracy of the goyim as a political force, is dead—we need not take it into account; but as landed proprietors they can still be harmful to us from the fact that they are self-sufficing in the resources upon which they live. It is essential therefore for us at whatever cost to deprive them of their land. This object will be best attained by increasing the burdens upon landed property—in loading lands with debts. These measures will check land-holding and keep it in a state of humble and unconditional submission.

The aristocrats of the goyim, being hereditarily incapable of contenting themselves with little, will rapidly burn up and fizzle out.

At the same time we must intensively patronise trade and industry, but, first and foremost, speculation, the part played by which is to provide a counterpoise to industry; the absence of speculative industry will multiply capital in private hands and will serve to restore agriculture by freeing the land from indebtedness to the land banks. What we want is that industry should drain off from the land both labour and capital and by means of speculation transfer into our hands all the money of the world, and thereby throw all the goyim into the ranks of the proletariat. Then the goyim will bow down before us, if for no other reason but to get the right to exist.

To complete the ruin of the industry of the goyim we shall bring to the assistance of speculation the luxury which we have developed among the goyim, that greedy demand for luxury which is swallowing up everything. We shall raise the rate of wages which, however, will not bring any advantage to the workers, for, at the same time, we shall produce a rise in prices of the first necessities of life, alleging that it arises from the decline of agriculture and cattle-breeding. We shall further undermine artfully and deeply sources of production, by accustoming the workers to anarchy and to drunkenness and side by side therewith taking all measure to extirpate from the face of the earth all the educated forces of the goyim.

In order that the true meaning of things may not strike the goyim before the proper time we shall mask it under an alleged ardent desire to serve the working classes and the great principles of political economy about which our economic theories are carrying on an energetic propaganda.

PROTOCOL NO. 7

The intensification of armaments, the increase of police forces—are all essential for the completion of the aforementioned plans. What we have to get at is that there should be in all the States of the world, besides ourselves, only the masses of the proletariat, a few millionaires devoted to our interests, police and soldiers.

Throughout all Europe, and by means of relations with Europe, in other continents also, we must create ferments, discords and hostility. Therein we gain a double advantage. In the first place we keep in check all countries, for they well know that we have the power whenever we like to create disorders or to restore order. All these countries are accustomed to see in us an indispensable force of coercion. In the second place, by our intrigues we shall tangle up all the threads which we have stretched into the cabinets of all States by means of politics, by economic treaties, or loan obligation. In order to succeed in this we must use great cunning and penetration during negotiations and agreements, but, as regards what is called the “official language”, we shall keep to the opposite tactics and assume the mask of honesty and compliancy. In this way the peoples and governments of the goyim, whom we have taught to look only at the outside of whatever we present to their notice, will still continue to accept us as the benefactors and saviours of the human race.

We must be in a position to respond to every act of opposition by war with the neighbours of that country which dares to oppose us; but if these neighbours should also venture to stand collectively together against us, then we must offer resistance by a universal war.

The principal factor of success in the political is the secrecy of its undertakings; the word should not agree with the deeds of the diplomat.

We must compel the governments of the goyim to take action in the direction favoured by our widely conceived plan, already approaching the desired consummation, by what we shall represent as public opinion, secretly prompted by us through the means of that so-called “Great Power”—the Press, which, with a few exceptions that may be disregarded, is already entirely in our hands.

In a word, to sum up our system of keeping the governments of the goyim in Europe in check, we shall show our strength to one of them by terrorist attempts and to all, if we allow the possibility of a general rising against us, we shall respond with the guns of America or China or Japan.

PROTOCOL NO. 8

We must arm ourselves with all the weapons which our opponents might employ against us. We must search out in the very finest shades of expression and the knotty points of the lexicon of law justification for those cases where we shall have to pronounce judgements that might appear abnormally audacious and unjust, for it is important that these resolutions should be set forth in expressions that shall seem to be the most exalted moral principles cast into legal form. Our directorate must surround itself with all these forces of civilisation among which it will have to work. It will surround itself with publicists, practical jurists, administrators, diplomats and, finally, with persons prepared by a special super-educational training in our special schools. These persons will have cognisance of all the secrets of the social structure, they will know all the languages that can be made up by political alphabets and words; they will be made acquainted with the whole underside of human nature, with all its sensitive chords on which they will have to play. These chords are the cast of mind of the goyim, their tendencies, shortcomings, vices and qualities, the particularities of classes and conditions. Needless to say that the talented assistants of authority, of whom I speak, will be taken not from among the goyim, who are accustomed to perform their administrative work without giving themselves the trouble to think what its aim is, and never consider what it is needed for. The administrators of the goyim sign papers without reading them, and they serve either for mercenary reasons or from ambition.

We shall surround our government with a whole world of economists. That is the reason why economic sciences form the principal subject of the teaching given to the Jews. Around us again will be a whole constellation of bankers, industrialists, capitalists and—the main thing—millionaires, because in substance everything will be settled by the question of figures.

For a time, until there will no longer be any risk in entrusting responsible posts in our states to our brother-Jews, we shall put them in the hands of persons whose past and reputation are such that between them and the people lies an abyss, persons who, in case of disobedience to our instructions, must face criminal charges or disappear—this in order to make them defend our interest to their last gasp.

In applying our principles let attention be paid to the character of the people in whose country you live and act; a general, identical application of them, until such time as the people shall have been re-educated to our pattern, cannot have success. But by approaching their application cautiously you will see that not a decade will pass before the most stubborn character will change and we shall add a new people to the ranks of those already subdued by us.

The words of the liberal, which are in effect the words of our Masonic watchword, namely, “Liberty, Equality, Fraternity”, will, when we come into our kingdom, be changed by us into words no longer of a watchword, but only an expression of idealism, namely, into: “The right of liberty, the duty of equality, the ideal of brotherhood”. That is how we shall put it—and so we shall catch the bull by the horns... De facto we have already wiped out every kind of rule except our own, although de jure there still remain a good many of them. Nowadays, if any States raise a protest against us it is only pro forma at our discretion and by our direction, for their anti-Semitism is indispensable to us for the management of our lesser brethren. I will not enter into further explanations, for this matter has formed the subject of repeated discussions amongst us.

For us there are no checks to limit the range of our activity. Our Super-Government subsists in extra-legal conditions which are described in the accepted terminology by the energetic and forcible word—Dictatorship. I am in a position to tell you with a clear conscience that at the proper time we, the law-givers, shall execute judgement and sentence; we shall slay and we shall spare; we, as head of all our troops, are mounted on the steed of the leader. We rule by force of will, because in our hands are the fragments of a once powerful party, now vanquished by us. And the weapons in our hands are limitless ambitions, burning greediness, merciless vengeance, hatreds and malice.

It is from us that the all-engulfing terror proceeds. We have in our service persons of all opinions, of all doctrines, restoring monarchists, demagogues, socialists, communists, and utopian dreamers of every kind. We have harnessed them all to the task: each one of them on his own account is boring away at the last remnants of authority, is striving to overthrow all established form of order. By these acts all States are in torture; they exhort to tranquillity, are ready to sacrifice for peace: but we will not give them peace until they openly acknowledge our international Super-Government, and with submissiveness.

The people have raised a howl about the necessity of settling the question of Socialism by way of an international agreement. Division into fractional parties has given them into our hands, for, in order to carry on a contested struggle one must have money, and the money is all in our hands.

We might have reason to apprehend a union between the “clear-sighted” force of the goy kings on their thrones and the “blind” force of the goy mobs, but we have taken all the needful measure against any such possibility; between the one and the other force we have erected a bulwark in the shape of a mutual terror between them. In this way the blind force of the people remains our support and we, and we only, shall provide them with a leader and, of course, direct them along the road that leads to our goal.

In order that the hand of the blind mob may not free itself from our guiding hand, we must every now and then enter into close communion with it, if not actually in person, at any rate through some of the most trusty of our brethren. When we are acknowledged as the only authority we shall discuss with the people personally on the market places, and we shall instruct them in questions of the political in such a wise as may turn them in the direction that suits us.

Who is going to verify what is taught in the village schools? But what an envoy of the government or a king on his throne himself may say cannot but become immediately known to the whole State, for it will be spread by the voice of the people.

In order not to annihilate the institutions of the goyim before it is time we have touched them with craft and delicacy, and have taken hold of the ends of the springs which move their mechanism. These springs lay in a strict but just sense of order; we have replaced them by the chaotic license of liberalism. We have got our hands into the administration of the law, into the conduct of elections, into the press, into liberty of the person, but principally into education and training as being the corner-stones of a free existence.

We have fooled, bemused and corrupted the youth of the goyim by rearing them in principles and theories which are known to us to be false although it is by us that they have been inculcated.

Above the existing laws without substantially altering them, and by merely twisting them into contradictions of interpretations, we have erected something grandiose in the way of results. These results found expression first in the fact that the interpretations masked the laws:

afterwards they entirely hid them from the eyes of the government owing to the impossibility of making anything out of the tangled web of legislation.

This is the origin of the theory, of course, of arbitration.

You may say the goyim will rise upon us, arms in hand, if they guess what is going on before the time comes; but in the West we have against this a maneuver of such appalling terror that the very stoutest hearts quail—the undergrounds, metropolitans, those subterranean corridors which, before the time comes, will be driven under all the capitals and from whence those capitals will be blown into the air with all their organisations and archives.

PROTOCOL NO. 10

Today I begin with a repetition of what I said before, and I beg you to bear in mind that governments and peoples are content in the political with outside appearances. And how, indeed, are the goyim to perceive the underlying meaning of things when their representatives give the best of their energies to enjoying themselves? For our policy it is of the greatest importance to take cognisance of this detail; it will be of assistance to us when we come to consider the division of authority, freedom of speech, of the press, of religion (faith), of the law of association, of equality before the law, of the inviolability of property, of the dwelling, of taxation (the idea of concealed taxes), of the reflex force of the laws. All these questions are such as ought not to be touched upon directly and openly before the people. In cases where it is indispensable to touch upon them they must not be categorically named, it must merely be declared without detailed exposition that the principles of contemporary law are acknowledged by us. The reason of keeping silence in this respect is that by not naming a principle we leave ourselves freedom of action, to drop this or that out of it without attracting notice; if they were all categorically named they would all appear to have been already given.

The mob cherishes a special affection and respect for the geniuses of political power and accepts all their deeds of violence with the admiring response: “Rascally, well, yes, it is rascally, but it’s clever!... a trick, if you like, but how craftily played, how magnificently done, what impudent audacity!”

We count upon attracting all nations to the task of erecting the new fundamental structure, the project for which has been drawn up by us. This is why, before everything, it is indispensable for us to arm ourselves and to store up in ourselves that absolutely reckless audacity and irresistible might of the spirit which in the person of our active workers will break down all hindrances on our way.

When we have accomplished our coup d’etat we shall say then to the various peoples: “Everything has gone terribly badly, all have been worn out with sufferings. We are destroying the causes of your torment—nationalities, frontiers, differences of coinages. You are at liberty, of course, to pronounce sentence upon us, but can it possibly be a just one if it is confirmed by you.”... Then will the mob exalt us and bear us up in their hands in a unanimous triumph of hopes and expectations. Voting, which we have made the instrument which will set us on the throne of the world by teaching even the very smallest units of members of the human race to vote by means of meetings and agreements by groups, will then have served its purposes and will play its part then for the last time by a unanimity of desire to make close acquaintance with us before condemning us.

To secure this we must have everybody vote without distinction of classes and qualifications in order to establish an absolute majority, which cannot be got from the educated propertied classes. In this way, by inculcating in all a sense of self-importance, we shall destroy among the goyim the importance of the family and its educational value and remove the possibility of individual minds splitting off, for the mob, handled by us, will not let them come to the front nor even give them a hearing; it is accustomed to listen to us only who pay it for obedience and attention. In this way we shall create a blind, mighty force which will never be in a position to move in any direction without the guidance of our agents set at its head by us as leaders of the mob. The people will submit to this regime because it will know that upon these leaders will depend its earnings, gratifications and the receipt of all kinds of benefits.

A scheme of government should come ready made from one brain, because it will never be clinched firmly if it is allowed to be split into fractional parts in the minds of many. It is allowable, therefore, for us to have cognisance of the scheme of action but not to discuss it lest we disturb its artfulness, the interdependence of its component parts, the practical force of the secret meaning of each clause. To discuss and make alterations in a labour of this kind by means of numerous votings is to impress upon it the stamp of all ratiocinations and misunderstanding which have failed to penetrate the depth and nexus of its plottings. We want our schemes to be forcible and suitably concocted. Therefore WE OUGHT NOT TO FLING THE WORK OF GENIUS OF OUR GUIDE to the fangs of the mob or even of a select company.

These schemes will not turn existing institutions upside down just yet. They will only effect changes in their economy and consequently in the whole combined movement of their progress, which will thus be directed along the paths laid down in our schemes.

Under various names there exists in all countries approximately one and the same thing. Representation, Ministry, Senate, State Council, Legislative and Executive Corps. I need not explain to you the mechanism of the relation of these institutions to one another, because you are aware of all that; only take note of the fact that each of the above-named institutions corresponds to some important function of the State, and I would beg you to remark that the word “important” I apply not to the institution but to the function; consequently it is not the institutions which are important but their functions. These institutions have divided up among themselves all the functions of government—administrative, legislative, executive, wherefore they have come to operate as do the organs in the human body. If we injure one part in machinery of State, the State falls sick, like a human body, and will die.

When we introduced into the State organism the poison of Liberalism its whole political complexion underwent a change. States have been seized with a mortal illness—blood-poisoning. All that remains is to await the end of their death agony.

Liberalism produced Constitutional States, which took the place of what was the only safeguard of the goyim, namely, Despotism; and a constitution, as you well know, is nothing else but a school of discords, misunderstandings, quarrels, disagreements, fruitless party agitations, party whims—in a word, a school of everything that serves to destroy the personality of State activity. The tribune of the "talkeries" has, no less effectively than the Press, condemned the rulers to inactivity and impotence, and thereby rendered them useless and superfluous, for which reason indeed they have been in many countries deposed. Then it was that the era of republics became possible of realisation; and then it was that we replaced the ruler by a caricature of a government—by a president, taken from the mob, from the midst of our puppet creatures, our slaves. This was the foundation of the mine which we have laid under the goy people, I should rather say, under the goy peoples.

In the near future we shall establish the responsibility of presidents.

By that time we shall be in a position to disregard forms in carrying through matters for which our personal puppet will be responsible. What do we care if the ranks of those striving for power should be thinned, if there should arise a deadlock from the impossibility of finding presidents, a deadlock which will finally disorganize the country?

In order that our scheme may produce this result we shall arrange elections in favour of such presidents as have in their past some dark, undiscovered stain, some "Panama" or other—then they will be trustworthy agents for the accomplishment of our plans out of fear of revelations and from the natural desire of everyone who has attained power, namely, the retention of privileges, advantages and honour connected with the office of president. The chamber of deputies will provide cover for, will protect, will elect the president, but we shall take from it the right to propose new, or make changes in existing laws, for this right will be given by us to the responsible president, a puppet in our hands. Naturally, the authority of the president will then become a target for every possible form of attack, but we shall provide him with a means of self-defence in the right of an appeal to the people, for the decision of the people over the heads of their representatives, that is to say, an appeal to that same blind slave of ours—the majority of the mob. Independently of this we shall invest the president with the right of declaring a state of war. We shall justify this last right on the ground that the president as chief of the whole army of the country must have it at his disposal, in case of need for the defence of the new republican constitution, the right to defend which will belong to him as the responsible representative of this constitution.

It is easy to understand that in these conditions the key of the shrine will lie in our hands, and no one outside of ourselves will any longer direct the force of legislation.

Besides this we shall, with the introduction of the new republican constitution, take from the Chamber the right of interpolation on government measures, on the pretext of preserving political secrecy, and, further, we shall by the new constitution reduce the number of representatives to a minimum, thereby proportionately reducing political passions and the passion for politics. If, however, they should, which is hardly to be expected, burst into flame, even in this minimum, we shall nullify them by a stirring appeal and reference to the majority of the whole people... Upon the president will depend the appointment of presidents and vice-presidents of the Chamber and the Senate. Instead of constant sessions of Parliaments we shall reduce their sittings to a few months. Moreover, the president, as chief of the executive power, will have the right to summon and dissolve Parliament, and, in the latter case, to prolong the time for the appointment of a new parliamentary assembly. But in order that the consequences of all these acts which in substance are illegal, should not, prematurely for our plans, fall upon the responsibility established by us of the president, we shall instigate ministers and other officials of the higher administration about the president to evade his dispositions by taking measures of their own, for doing which they will be made the scapegoats in his place... This part we especially recommend to be given to be played by the Senate, the Council of State, or the council of Ministers, but not to an individual official.

The president will, at our discretion, interpret the sense of such of the existing laws as admit of various interpretation; he will further annul them when we indicate to him the necessity to do so; besides this, he will have the right to propose temporary laws, and even new departures in the government constitutional working, the pretext both for the one and other being the requirements for the supreme welfare of the State.

By such measures we shall obtain the power of destroying little by little, step by step, all that at the outset when we enter on our rights, we are compelled to introduce into the constitutions of States to prepare for the transition to an imperceptible abolition of every kind of constitution, and then the time is come to turn every form of government into our despotism.

The recognition of our despot may also come before the destruction of the constitution; the moment for this recognition will come when the peoples utterly wearied by the irregularities and incompetence—a matter which we shall arrange for—of their rulers, will clamour: "Away with them and give us one king over all the earth who will unite us and annihilate the causes of discords—frontiers, nationalities, religions, State debts—who will give us peace and quiet, which we cannot find under our rulers and representatives."

But you yourselves perfectly well know that to produce the possibility of the expression of such wishes by all the nations it is indispensable to trouble in all countries the people's relations with their governments so as to utterly exhaust humanity with dissension, hatred, struggle, envy and even by the use of torture, by starvation, BY THE INOCULATION OF DISEASES, by want, so that the goyim see no other issue than to take refuge in our complete sovereignty in money and in all else.

But if we give the nations of the world a breathing space the moment we long for is hardly likely ever to arrive.

[H: Yes, I would guess that you see a lot of realities breaking through from the fanciful manipulations of the intelligent and genius goyim to the plight in which nations find themselves TODAY—and a specific example is directly in view in the Philippines.

This is why we are moving through computer complications and hours of extra, and repeated, typing to get this into your hands that you might consider your positions—AGAIN. This was the transition period for the Plan 2000 and nobody said the recovery would be easy or safe. Anyone still want this job? How do the primroses smell as you struggle through these days of Satan?]

RE: SECRET SOCIETIES

Hatonn—Will we be in continuous hot water? Yes, BUT, remember that simply to write these things is not "freedom of speech". Anyone wanting strokes for "accomplishment" of mission can read this and it will most certainly be difficult not to think the slick manipulators have ALREADY WON. The activities of Spectrum, as example, was a fully planned operation to shut down CONTACT as it was and turn it into a totally useless rag-sheet and if one distraction wasn't enough—manufacture another. This follows DIRECTLY along the lines of consideration of Protocol No. 12 on the "Press" and "Freedom". Most of the "manipulated" haven't any idea that they are manipulated—because personal ego or revenge against someone they have come to hate or made "the enemy", will suffice for excuse for totally wrong and actions without basis of REASON.

I, Hatonn, am well KNOWN among the top-level players and therefore a distraction had to be introduced by such as "Spectrum" group—no more or less. You sort yourselves, chelas. I have no notion of going anywhere and certainly there is no force involved. My responsibility is to offer "the way" and "the Word" and what YOU do with it is what will make a difference in a physically manifested experience. Or, you will move right along while the Plan becomes without end. If you think somehow that we are going to "save you", kicking and screaming—forget it. We won't even argue with you except as where you actually break the laws of both God and Man. NO BODY IS GOING TO DO MUCH OF ANYTHING "TO" HATONN, MY FRIENDS, AND NEITHER IS HATONN GOING TO "DO" ANYTHING TO ANY BODY. THIS INCLUDES "PAYING THE WAY" FOR YOUR JOURNEY OR HAVING MY TEAMS PAYING THE WAY FOR ANYONE WHO HOPS ON BOARD. BLAME-PASSING IS USELESS, AS WELL, FOR YOUR LACK OF PARTICIPATION. THERE IS "NO" GROUP, CULT, CLUB OR SERVICE ORGANIZATION TO FILL ANY INDIVIDUAL'S NEEDS HERE. LOOK CAREFULLY AT "SELF" IN EVERY QUESTION RENDERED—FIRST. ALL CHOICES ARE INDIVIDUAL NO MATTER HOW MANY YOU HAVE AT HAND. "CONSENSUS" OF OPINION IS ONLY A COMPILED THOUGHT FORM OF THE GROUP DECISIONS OF INDIVIDUALS. FRANKLY, NONE OF THE ELITE ARE GOING TO DO MORE THAN ASSIST YOU UNTIL THEY ARE READY TO DUMP YOU ("YOU" SIMPLY BEING A GENERIC TERM).

Readers must understand that even with any "program" that is projected HERE, there is ability to function within that which IS. We are not here to give unlimited leeway to play in a greater "grab" game than the adversary has already accomplished.

MAN OF EARTH MAY VERY WELL COLLECTIVELY MAKE THE "WRONG" CHOICES AND AS YOU REACH THE TIME OF FULFILLMENT OF JUST SUCH AS THE GLOBAL CONTROL BY WHAT WE WILL IDENTIFY AS SATANIC FORCES, YOU SHALL LIVE OR PERISH IN YOUR OWN CHOICES—RIGHT OR WRONG, GOOD OR EVIL.

MY LABEL OF IDENTIFICATION IN THE HIGHER HISTORICAL DOCUMENTS IS, IN THIS HISTORICAL SEGMENT, LITERALLY "ATON"—AND THERE IS NO KEYBOARD LETTERING TO SUIT THE NEEDS OF PROPERLY WRITING OR PRINTING THE LETTERS. GO BACK TO THE ARCHIVES OF EGYPT. MOREOVER, THE CONNECTION FOR COMMUNICATION IS NO MORE "INTERESTING" THAN IS ANY OTHER FORM OF ELECTRONIC OR MIND COMMUNICATION SYSTEM LONG AGO PERFECTED ON YOUR VERY PLACE OF EXPERIENCE. EVEN THAT

LABEL IS FOR “IDENTIFICATION” BUT DOES STILL HAVE MEANING IF YOU BOTHER TO LOOK IT UP FOR YOURSELF.

Confusing? What else did you expect? THOUGHT is the real gift of Creator to man individual and collectively. When man individual stops accepting the massive collective input by the controllers, you will stop the nonsense. Let us use an example of the big push and deception of “weapons of mass destruction”: THAT HAS NO MEANING. A flood can be pretty significantly “mass destruction”, a forest fire can be a destruction of masses of life forms—but life to others. There is no place on Earth where “weapons of mass destruction” are more prevalent than in the Master projector of the term, the United States Israel-America. Hear a thing enough and YOU WILL BELIEVE IT! HAS “MAN” EVER BEEN DIFFERENT IN REAL TERMS? NO. ONLY THE “SETTING” HAS BEEN VARIED AND MANKIND AS SOCIETIES HAVE COME AND GONE—THE QUESTION IS WHERE DID THEY COME FROM AND WHERE HAVE THEY GONE?

Well, it is time to get back to the topic at hand today: The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion—for the PURPOSE OF CONTROLLING THE WORLD.

THIS IS FOR INFORMATION FOR THOSE WHO MIGHT PICK UP A PAPER AND MISUNDERSTAND THE SEGMENT OF THE ONGOING SERIES IN PROGRESS. MY SUGGESTION TO SUCH READERS IS TO, FOR GOODNESS SAKES, GET A SUBSCRIPTION FOR ONGOING “CATCH ON” AND THE APPROPRIATE BACK ISSUES FOR “CATCH UP”.

AM “I” SOMEHOW BIG ENOUGH TO STAND AND CONFRONT? OH, INDEED! AND YET MY “PURPOSE” IS FAR BEYOND SUCH A TINY AND LIMITED PERCEPTION AS YOU MIGHT PERCEIVE FROM THE STATEMENT ITSELF. IF I AM IN THE “SALVATION” BUSINESS AT ALL, IT IS ONLY TO OFFER “YOU” LIGHTED INSIGHT AND YOU CAN SAVE THAT WHICH YOU WISH—USUALLY THE INTEREST FOCUS STARTS TRULY WITH “SELF” INDIVIDUAL AND PERHAPS MOVES OUTWARD, OR MORE WITHIN—IT’S UP TO YOU.

[CONTINUING QUOTING Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion for TAKING CONTROL OF THE WORLD:]

PROTOCOL NO. 11

The State Council has been, as it were, the emphatic expression of the authority of the ruler: it will be, as the “show” part of the Legislative Corps, what may be called the editorial committee of the laws and decrees of the ruler.

This, then, is the programme of the new constitution. We shall make Law, Right and Justice (1) in the guise of proposals to the Legislative Corps, (2) by decrees of the president under the guise of general regulations, of orders of the Senate and of resolutions of the State council in the guise of ministerial orders, (3) and in case a suitable occasion should arise—in the form of a revolution in the State.

Having established approximately the modus agendi we will occupy ourselves with details of those combinations by which we have still to complete the revolution in the course of the machinery of State in the direction already indicated. By these combinations I mean the freedom of the Press, the right of association, freedom of conscience, the voting principle, and many another that must disappear forever from the memory of man, or undergo a radical alteration the day after the promulgation of the new constitution. It is only at that moment that we shall be able at once to announce all our orders, for, afterwards, every noticeable alteration will be dangerous, for the following reasons: if this alteration be brought in with harsh severity and in a sense of severity and limitations, it may lead to a feeling of despair caused by fear of new alterations in the same direction; if, on the other hand, it be brought in in a sense of further indulgences it will be said that we have recognised our own wrongdoing and this will destroy the prestige of the infallibility of our authority, or else it will be said that we have become alarmed and are compelled to show a yielding disposition, for which we shall get no thanks because it will be supposed to be compulsory... Both the one and the other are injurious to the prestige of the new constitution. What we want is that from the first moment of its promulgation, while the peoples of the world are still stunned by the accomplished fact of the revolution, still in a condition of terror and uncertainty, they should recognise once for all that we are so strong, so inexpugnable, so super-abundantly filled with power, that in no case shall we take any account of them, and so far from paying any attention to their opinions or wishes, we are ready and able to crush with irresistible power all expression or manifestation thereof at every moment and in every place, that we have seized at once everything we wanted and shall in no case divide our power with them... Then in fear and trembling they will close their eyes to everything, and be content to await what will be the end of it all.

The goyim are a flock of sheep, and we are their wolves. And you know what happens when the wolves get hold of the flock!...

There is another reason also why they will close their eyes: for we shall keep promising them to give back all the liberties we have taken away as soon as we have quelled the enemies of peace and tamed all parties...

It is not worth while to say anything about how long a time they will be kept waiting for this return of their liberties...

For what purpose then have we invented this whole policy and insinuated it into the minds of the goys without giving them any chance to examine its underlying meaning? For what, indeed, if not in order to obtain in a roundabout way what is for our scattered tribe unattainable by the direct road? It is this which has served as the basis for our organisation of SECRET MASONRY WHICH IS NOT KNOWN TO, AND AIMS WHICH ARE NOT EVEN SO MUCH AS SUSPECTED BY, THESE GOY CATTLE, ATTRACTED BY US INTO THE “SHOW” ARMY OF MASONIC LODGES IN ORDER TO THROW DUST IN THE EYES OF THEIR FELLOWS.

God has granted to us, His Chosen People, the gift of the dispersion, and in this which appears in all eyes to be our weakness, has come forth all our strength, which has now brought us to the threshold of sovereignty over all the world.

There now remains not much more for us to build up upon the foundation we have laid.

[H: Please do not pass lightly over this particular protocol lest you fail to catch the point. To check this out just sit a moment and see if you can find even one corner of the world where the infiltration of the One World Control is not already in place. Also look carefully at WHAT controls you: energy supply, even at the gas pump, the electric supply, cooking/heating fuel, WATER and the actual quality of AIR you are given to breathe. THE SAME CONTROLLERS HAVE THE CAPABILITY TO MANIPULATE EVERYTHING YOU HAVE AND ARE. In Protocol 12 you will find “their” definition of freedom—so read it and weep.]

PROTOCOL NO. 12

The word “freedom”, which can be interpreted in various ways, is defined by us as follows:

Freedom is the right to do that which the law allows. This interpretation of the word will at the proper time be of service to us, because all freedom will thus BE IN OUR HANDS, since the laws will abolish or create only that which is desirable for us according to the aforementioned programme.

We shall deal with the press in the following way: What is the part played by the press today? It serves to excite and inflame those passions which are needed for our purpose or else it serves selfish ends of parties. It is often vapid, unjust, mendacious, and the majority of the public have not the slightest idea what ends the press really serves. We shall saddle and bridle it with tight curb; we shall do the same also with all productions of the printing press, for where would be the sense of getting rid of the attacks of the press if we remain targets for pamphlets and books? The produce of publicity, which nowadays is a source of heavy expense owing to the necessity of censoring it, will be turned by us into a very lucrative source of income to our State. We shall lay on it a special stamp tax and require deposits of caution-money before permitting the establishment of any organ of the press or of printing office; these will then have to guarantee our government against any kind of attack on the part of the press. For any attempt to attack us, if such still be possible, we shall inflict fines without mercy. Such measures as stamp tax, deposit of caution-money and fines secured by these deposits, will bring in a huge income to the government. It is true that party organs might not spare money for the sake of publicity, but these we shall shut up at the second attack upon us. No one shall with impunity lay a finger on the aureole of our government infallibility. The pretext for stopping any publication will be the alleged plea that it is agitating the public mind without occasion or justification. I beg you to note that among those making attacks upon us will also be organs established by us, but they will attack exclusively points that we have pre-determined to alter.

Not a single announcement will reach the public without our control. [H: FACE IT, READERS! THAT IS WHY WE ARE “NOT” IN COMPETITION WITH THIS GROUP OF MANIPULATORS. TRUTH ONLY GIVES YOU AN “OPPORTUNITY” TO MAKE CHANGES—OFTEN IN YOUR OWN PERCEPTIONS, PERSPECTIVES AND ATTITUDES. WE CAN ONLY OFFER A WAY AND “YOU” MUST DO WHAT YOU WILL WITH IT—FOR THAT IS THE “FREE-WILL” CHOICE OF MAN INDIVIDUAL AND SOVEREIGN.] Even now this is already being attained by us inasmuch as news items are received by a few agencies, in whose offices they are focused from all parts of the world. These agencies will then be already entirely ours and will give publicity only to what we dictate to them.

If already now we have contrived to possess ourselves of the minds of the goy communities to such an extent that they all come near looking upon the events of the world through the coloured glasses of those spectacles we are setting astride their noses, if already now there is not a single State where there exist for us any barriers to admittance into what goy stupidity calls State secrets, what will our position be then, when we shall be acknowledged supreme lords of the world in the person of our king of all the world...

Let us turn again to the future of the printing press. Every one desirous of being a publisher, librarian, or printer, will be obliged to provide himself with the diploma instituted therefor, which, in case of any fault, will be immediately impounded. With such measure the instrument of thought will become an educative means in the hands of our government, which no longer allows the mass of the nation to be led astray in by-ways and fantasies about the blessings of progress. Is there any one of us who does not know that these phantom blessings are the direct roads to foolish imaginings which give birth to anarchical relations of men among themselves and towards authority, because progress, or rather the idea of progress, has introduced the conception of every kind of emancipation, but has failed to establish its limits... All the so-called liberals are anarchists, if not in fact, at any rate in thought. Every one of them is hunting after phantoms of freedom, and falling exclusively into license, that is, into the anarchy of protest for the sake of protest...

We turn to the periodical press. We shall impose on it, as on all printed matter, stamp taxes per sheet and deposits of caution-money, and books of less than 30 sheets will pay double. We shall reckon them as pamphlets in order, on the one hand, to reduce the number of magazines, which are the worst form of printed poison, and, on the other, in order that this measure may force writers into such lengthy productions that they will be little read, especially as they will be costly. At the same time what we shall publish ourselves to influence mental development in the direction laid down for our profit will be cheap and read voraciously. The tax will bring vapid literary ambitions within bounds and the liability to penalties will make literary men dependent upon us. And if there should be any found who are desirous of writing against us, they will not find any person eager to print their productions. Before accepting any production for publication in print the publisher or printer will have to apply to the authorities for permission to do so. Thus we will KNOW BEFOREHAND of all tricks preparing against us and shall nullify them by getting ahead with explanations on the subject treated of.

Literature and journalism are two of the most important educative forces and therefore our government will become proprietor of the majority of the journals. This will neutralise the injurious influence of the privately owned press and will put us in possession of a tremendous influence upon the public mind... If we give permits for ten journals, we shall ourselves found thirty, and so on in the same proportion. This, however, must in nowise be suspected by the public.

For which reason all journals published by us will be of the most opposite in appearance, tendencies and opinions, thereby creating confidence in us and bringing over to us our quite unsuspecting opponents, who will thus fall into our trap and be rendered harmless.

In the front rank will stand organs of an official character. They will always stand guard over our interests, and therefore their influence will be comparatively insignificant.

In the second rank will be the semi-official organs, whose part it will be to attract the tepid and indifferent.

In the third rank we shall set up our own, to all appearance, opposition, which, in at least one of its organs, will present what looks like the very antipodes to us. Our real opponents at heart will accept this simulated opposition as their own and will show us their cards.

All of our newspapers will be of all possible complexions—aristocratic, republican, revolutionary, even anarchical—for so long, of course, as the constitution exists... Like the Indian idol Vishnu they will have a hundred hands, and every one of them will have a finger on any one of the public opinions as required. When a pulse quickens these hands will lead opinion in the direction of our aims, for an excited patient loses all power of judgement and easily yields to suggestion. Those fools who will think they are repeating the opinion of a newspaper of their own camp will be repeating our opinion or any opinion that seems desirable for us. In the vain belief that they are following the organ of their party they will in fact follow the flag which we hang out for them.

In order to direct our newspaper militia in this sense we must take especial and minute care in organising this matter. Under the title of central department of the press we shall institute literary gatherings at which our agents will without attracting attention issue the orders and watchwords of the day. By discussing and controverting, but always superficially, without touching the essence of the matter, our organs will carry on a sham fight fusillade with the official newspapers solely for the purpose of giving occasion for us to express ourselves more fully than could well be done from the outset in official announcements, whenever, of course, that is to our advantage.

These attacks upon us will also serve another purpose, namely, that our subjects will be convinced of the existence of full freedom of speech and so give our agents an occasion to affirm that all organs which oppose us are empty babblers, since they are incapable of finding any substantial objections to our orders.

Methods of organisations like these, imperceptible to the public eye but absolutely sure, are the best calculated to succeed in bringing the attention and the confidence of the public to the side of our government. Thanks to such methods we shall be in a position as from time to time may be required, to excite or to tranquilize the public mind on political questions, to persuade or to confuse, printing now truth, now lies, facts or their contradictions, according as they may be well or ill received, always very cautiously feeling our ground before stepping upon it... We shall have a sure triumph over our opponents since they will not have at their disposition organs of the press in which they can give full and final expression to their views owing to the aforesaid methods of dealing with the press. We shall not even need to refute them except very superficially.

Trial shots like these, fired by us in the third rank of our press, in case of need, will be energetically refuted by us in our semi-official organs.

Even nowadays, already, to take only the French press, there are forms which reveal Masonic solidarity in acting on the watchword: all organs of the press are bound together by professional secrecy; like the augurs of old, not one of their numbers will give away the secret of his sources of information unless it be resolved to make announcement to them. Not one journalist will venture to betray this secret, for not one of them is ever admitted to practise literature unless his whole past has some disgraceful sore or other... these sores would be immediately revealed. So long as they remain the secret of a few the prestige of the journalist attracts the majority of the country—the mob follows after him with enthusiasm.

Our calculations are especially extended to the provinces. It is indispensable for us to inflame there those hopes and impulses of the provinces. Naturally, the source of them will always be one and the same—ours. What we need is that, until such time as we are in plenitude of power, the capitals should find themselves stifled by the provincial opinion of the nation, i.e., of a majority arranged by our agentur. What we need is that at the psychological moment the capitals should not be in a position to discuss an accomplished fact for the same reason, if for no other, that it has been accepted by the public opinion of a majority in the provinces.

What we are in the period of the new regime transitional to that of our assumption of full sovereignty we must not admit any revelations by the press of any form of public dishonesty; it is necessary that the new regime should be thought to have so perfectly contented everybody that even criminality has disappeared... Cases of the manifestation of criminality should remain known only to their victims and to chance witnesses—no more.

[END OF QUOTING PROTOCOLS 11-12, PART 6]

These Protocols of Zion, as recognized, are pertinent for today even though the plan goes back to the beginning of manifest MAN, as you can note from a brief review statement at the beginning of this book. They are constantly monitored along the way to insure there is no slippage in the plan itself. However, there will always be leaks in the dikes, so to speak. The too-gullible and greedy will stumble and then mankind as a whole have opportunity to rewrite the ending segment of your play.

You who perceive this as some kind of “hate the Jews” had best look again. “Jew” was not even a term until the 8th Century when the “Serpent People” needed to take on a religion of some kind to further protect themselves—they chose the Jewish “religion”, for they were the “commercial” leaders of the societal structure and the Jewish advisers were among their own ranks. There are many references and research studies to confirm this.

The manipulators were smart enough, readers, to cloud the very existence and takeover of the clubs and social aspect of ongoing life as it was known to totally mislead down through the ages to follow. We won't even, at this time, go again into the very perception of “illusion”. Remember that a “mystery” is only mysterious until you understand it and, therefore, REMOVE FEAR. Mysticism is something dumped on you to ensure you don't move out from under the bondage of that very FEAR.

TO KNOW AND UNDERSTAND (EVEN PARTIALLY) ALWAYS HAS ONE FURTHER DEMAND: RESPONSIBILITY. MOST PEOPLE AVOID RESPONSIBILITY AT ALL COSTS, EVEN UNTO THEIR VERY SOULS.

AND LOTS ABOUT SKELETONS AND STAINED LAUNDRY IN THE CLOSET

I am Commander Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, Intergalactic Federation Command. Now, other than to KNOW that I am here in service to the Creator Source—and under direct Command of the one Sacred Circle of Infinity, the Christos, recognized as Esu "Jesus" Emmanuel Sananda, The Pale Prophet and other AKAs—please set this author aside. This is to identify myself that you might realize my information is intended for service unto the Lighted Command and not that of Satanic influences.

Within these pages will come some subject matter that is probably mind-numbing to many of you readers and, therefore, I request that you quietly go within into your inner sanctuary and read with a very open mind—and, read it ALL, please. The confirmation shall be coming in a very short period of time as ones find these things made public—so shall they come to witness the truth of it.

We honor the brave and daring tellers of truth who have come before to a sleeping society and have mostly been sacrificed on the altar of secrecy and deception.

I scatter things from extra-low-frequency beams to counterfeit money via German Nazis in the Antarctic funnelled through Japan and flooding your markets because I desire to shock you into attention—and then we can take the events in sequence that you can recognize the truth of the Journals.

I will start right off in this "Introduction" being aggressively open with you precious children of the lie—for it is time you know truth. I ask for protection of this scribe, in that all who can print and reprint, please so do. There are daring publishers about your placement, The New Federalist, The Spotlight and small ones like the Wisconsin Report. There are individuals who also dare, such as Antony Sutton, Ron Paul, Gary North, John King, Arthur Robinson, Steven Jacobson, Patrick Wood, Youth Action News, The Lyke Report—the list is too long to list all but they are out there for confirming. With the opening up and acceptance of possibilities, there are ones in the various communities of researchers such as William Cooper, Bo Gritz, beloved Gabriel Green, etc.

There are ones who have denounced me as evil—and Dharma as influenced by evil. This is not true and those ones shall also come into total understanding of the facts and cease their discounting. The old saying upon your place of "sticks and stones can break the bones but truth can never hurt you" is, indeed, so—truth shall set ye free and naught save truth shall set ye free. You are in the time of chaos and great and magnificent are the plans and conspiracies against you and yet, great and magnificent are the wondrous things you can do to place sprags into the wheels of the conspirators—if you first recognize that which is the problem. First, recognize the problem then the solutions can flow. So be it.

I am attempting to set the stage from that which has happened in the not too distant past, some decade or so, in that you might recognize the signs of the present along with a glimpse of how these things affect your perceived future. You must look carefully beyond that which is given unto you—for you are given exactly that which your slave masters would have you be given.

Once you can understand where events are heading, and why, you will no longer be mystified and caught by surprise by the turbulent events. But no one can grasp anything about what the future holds unless he has learned the lessons of the past.

Let us consider events long past in your perception of time. The Second World War and the French Third Republic in 1940 is a good example to place herein. The collapse of France in the face of Hitler's military machine was shocking, but as you will see, inevitable. The seeds of defeat had already been sown in France during the preceding years when France refused to recognize the reality of the threat and take action to protect herself. Dear ones, it is pretty much like America in this decade, France was eaten alive from within by spies; yet like America today, France felt safe behind its "Maginot" line—and for public consumption there were continuous assurances that French military forces were adequate to maintain French security. The ability of France to defend herself turned out to be pure fiction. When the moment of truth arrived, the fine images and the deception collapsed—and with them the French Republic.

U.S. AT THE POINT OF TRUTH

Today the United States of America is at the point of truth. You are in a period of massive decay, self-deception and image making that parallels and surpasses that of the French Republic. If you desire a mirror, I suggest you read the book THE TWILIGHT OF FRANCE by Alexander Werth.

It is not that the defeat of France was surprising, it is that the failure to preserve the fruits of her great victory—which would preserve her security—were cast aside.

The U.S. continues to bask and sleep in the afterglow of victory long since completely dead; and like France in 1940, you have failed to preserve minimum guarantees for your own security. America has slipped farther than France because under the guise of Arms Limitation you have shut down your air defense systems, military bases and navy installations—you have abandoned the defense of your own homeland. No, chelas, to you who say "God abhors war and weapons; and training indicates war", nay—defense indicates attention and preparedness. God expects you to defend that which is God-ness and stand ready against invaders of truth.

Historians cannot find any precedent in history for such suicidal action by any great power. The twilight of the United States is guaranteed that it is humanly impossible for the U.S. either to turn aside or to win a war with the Soviets, for instance—and that is only for starters. Only a miracle could do that—do you deserve a miracle? Have you attended God's Laws and the balance of the Laws of The Creation in that you deserve miracles? Instead of the faith in God that built the United States, most Americans now put their faith in the United States itself as if it were a godlike being that could never go wrong and never be defeated. Wrong! A government is made up of very clay-footed tools—mostly of Satan's troops. You laugh at the politicians—is it truly funny? Read that which Ron Paul tells you of "Teddy" Kennedy in his recent newsletter and see if you truly desire to laugh—or perhaps vomit!

In May of 1978, in the midst of the Moscow meetings between your Mr. Vance and Mr. Gromyko, a Soviet spokesman reiterated for the last time in clear terms that this was America's last chance to sign a SALT II treaty; and despite the seeming improvement in the tone of the talks—and regardless of the seeming Soviet willingness to keep talking about SALT II—this was America's last chance to surrender by that route. The Russians knew that the Carter administration was simply stalling for time, they knew about the Operation Desk Top and the other ad hoc efforts to find some military threat of significance to aim at the Soviet Union, and they knew about the Rockefeller moves to try to turn China into a credible deterrent—but it was all too little and much, much too late.

Oh, you say, "But it is all different now!" No, it is far, far worse now! What you see now is far worse than anything that has ever come upon your world prior to now and yet it appears so wondrously positive. I plead with you to hear me, beloved ones, for the remnant shall be small, indeed, if you do not listen-up.

You simply cannot believe the incredible weapons available for your annihilation, for you were goodly peoples—and you did not notice when the deceptions came and the evil began to eat your children alive and spit them out. You did not notice when you began to break all the laws of God—every one. You were told by your mental health psychiatrists that it would balance your emotional beingness. It has destroyed your country and your citizens by the large majority and enslaved you—YOU ARE NOT FREE, YOU HAVE A POLICE STATE AND ARE COMPLETELY CONTROLLED!

The Soviets have never turned from their laid forth plans—they have never become wishy-washy in their intent. Oh, their citizens have no more knowledge about politics than do you—but always, people and citizens are the pawns, especially in an overpopulated world headed for One World Global Rule. People are THE expendable commodity. The Elite will depopulate the world in any manner feasible—through starvation, disease—you name it, it will be utilized.

Whatever is planned between the elite of nations is equally heinous because the agreements are made to be broken at appropriate and unsuspecting times so that war occurs on "your side", whichever side that might be.

The Kremlin has committed itself to a step-by-step clearing of the decks for war; and so have your government participants who work with them under the covers. They have left you without even the ability to have a shelter system in which to survive—YOU OF THE U.S. HAVE BECOME THE EXPENDABLES. “THEY” CANNOT GET RID OF THE AMERICANS AS THEY ARE GETTING RID OF MANY AFRICAN AND THIRD WORLD COUNTRIES, THROUGH FAMINE AND DISEASE, AND WEATHER AND DISASTER CONTROL. OH, OH! HATONN HAS DONE IT NOW—WEATHER AND DISASTER CONTROL? OH, YES, WHILE YOU SLEPT, “RIP VAN”, THE ALERT BECAME THE SLAVE MASTERS! IT IS ALL INVENTED AND PERFECTED—AND IT IS ALL IN USE UPON YOUR PLANET! YOU DO NOT HAVE TO INVENT WHEELS AGAIN; NOR DO YOU NEED INVENT FREE-ENERGY SYSTEMS OR BEAMED WIRELESS ELECTRICAL SYSTEMS OR APPARATUS TO CURE AIDS—IT HAS ALL BEEN DONE AND YOU MISSED IT! NOW YOU STAND ASIDE AND CAST STONES AT THIS SCRIBE FOR TELLING YOU TRUTH. YOU ALLOW HER, AND WE OF THE “INFORMERS” TO BE RIDICULED AND STONED—BY THE VERY ONES WHO CLAIMED TO BRING TRUTH FORTH—AND YE ALLOW OF IT, JUST AS YE DID IN JERUSALEM 2000 YEARS PAST. IT WILL NOT MAKE OF THE TRUTH TO GO AWAY—IT DOES ALLOW GOD’S HOSTS TO TELL YOU, “I TOLD YOU SO AND YE WOULD NOT LISTEN!”

CHINA AND THE U.S.S.R.
STAND READY FOR WAR

Strange thing—China and the U.S.S.R. stand ready for war at a moment’s blink of the eye. They have shelters and silos filled with your grain, tank farms filled with your oil and only your Elite have elaborate shelter systems where they can ride out the passing of radiation. Further, it will be radiation from neutron resources and beam weaponry in that the physical infrastructures will not be destroyed—only life—ONLY PEOPLE GONE. Further, for those of you who think you are “on the inside” and think you have a safe haven because you have been told the secrets and think you share the security of the havens—forget it—for if you are politicians, you know not how to work and produce and you are the most expendable of all, for the healthiest and most adaptable will be kept for workers and producers for the slave masters.

Very important to the Kremlin is the propaganda campaigns which already are well in place. The Soviet Union and your leaders are just bending over backwards to hold hands and smile a lot. Your leaders know that the “invasion” will preferably come in through Canada and up through Mexico. China will be increasingly the focus of attention by both sides, but the sleeping giant should have been left alone, because the pressures and inducements now being showered on China by the Rockefeller interests are tending to make China more revisionist and, therefore, more similar in many ways to Russia in political thinking.

The Chinese had to bring the students under control, for look at that which has happened elsewhere—as quickly as the youth are given freedom and the “rock” groups get under way—the brainwashing gets intense and mind control is beamed in and China has no intention of playing the brain-drain game.

The sleeping and secret giants are also waking up and while you drowsed, the economy was flooded with counterfeit funds in massive outpouring and the economic shift was set into place by executive orders which will not be broken. Treaty agreements also are in place beyond which Congress cannot lawfully move. You do not even realize that you are in the power of a dictatorial monarchy.

HOPE THROUGH ACTION

Fear? If truth strikes you as “fear”, then so be it—for God has never been known to have feet of sand. He created you in strength in His very image that you might overcome any and all that is brought unto you—what will you do? Will you simply stand back and blast this scribe for truth? Or, will you stand firm, and refuse to be bulldozed into oblivion? Always it is up to you as individuals—always it must be “the ‘one’” and then unity into a wall which refuses to be plowed down and turned under as expendable rubble from the fields.

The propaganda sets forth to ridicule ones who act in groups to preserve life possibilities and defend themselves. It is more carefully planned than all other propaganda. Let us look at the Prophet group—I make no comment what-so-ever regarding spiritual aspects or valid actions on their part—I only desire that you look at the type of media attention which they receive and the outlandish opinions put forth regarding the group who just wishes to be left alone.

THE MOST IMPORTANT COMPARISON, HOWEVER, IS THE GROUPING OF THAT COMMUNITY WITH THE JIM JONES GUYANA FIASCO. WELL, I AM GOING TO SHATTER MORE DREAMS—GUYANA WAS SET UP AS A COVER-UP AND JIM JONES IS ALIVE AND VERY WELL IN ISRAEL! AND ON THAT NOTE, I WILL CLOSE THIS INTRODUCTION AND MOVE ON TO OUR NEXT JOURNAL AND TELL YOU ABOUT GUYANA AND A FEW OTHER LITTLE NON-HAPPENINGS LIKE YOUR SHUTTLE FLIGHTS WHICH NEVER GOT FURTHER THAN AUSTRALIA IN LARGE MEASURE. DO NOT OH AND AH AND BE EMBARRASSED—GET ON YOUR ATTENTION LINE AND SEE THAT WHICH HAS BEEN FED UNTO YOU IN COVER-UP AND SECRECY.

This book is dedicated to the remnant few who will see and understand in time—for there is yet time, if you do not dawdle longer.

ALL DISASTERS ARE NOT “NATURAL”

As time moves into high gear hereon, you will be plagued increasingly by sabotage and by acts of geophysical warfare—such as storms, floods, artificial earthquakes, especially in California, and then larger widespread Earth shifting as efforts are given over to natural upheavals triggered by these bombardments. The Plan is all but perfection, for even the Japanese know they are destined to fall in a massive earthquake and think they are making preparation by controlling lands elsewhere—unfortunately, the evil empire has other plans of world domination.

The Soviets have those cute little Cosmospheres which hover overhead. Unlike the U.S. in recent years, the Soviet Union has never forgotten that quantity can be just as important as quality in a weapons system; and in preparation for the coming conflicts, the number of Cosmospheres deployed worldwide and especially over the U.S. is mushrooming. There are thousands of Soviet Cosmospheres armed with Particle Beam Weapons now hovering over the United States in strategic places and they, further, have the ability to shift location instantly.

Your government knows of some 20 over Washington, D.C., at least eight over New York, five over Roanoke, Virginia, and five to ten over Phoenix Arizona, alternating with some seven over Sedona because of the large underground installation in Boynton Canyon. This is only for beginners. Also there are Cosmospheres located over ALL military installations, dams, state capital cities and other major cities. A decade ago they were most heavily concentrated in the northeast area of the U.S. and there were only twelve over California and Texas respectively—there are now literally hundreds in place.

This has been known in absolute terms since the Carter administration and along about then was when an all-out nuclear strike (first strike) against Russia was put onto the planning board with a deadline date of September 17, 1982. Many in the Congress have known this also, but they, like the Executive branch, refuse to tell you the truth.

You citizens of the U.S. are very much like the trusting passengers of Korean Air Lines Flight 902—just going along for the ride, trusting your pilots in Washington; and even when you see dramatic and disturbing signs that something is terribly wrong, you as a people refuse to accept the responsibility left to you by the Founders of your Republic. Instead of picking up the constitutional tools that were left to you to prevent disaster, you react like the passengers on the Korean plane who wondered why the Sun was suddenly behind them instead of ahead of them. You think it must be all right, surely “they” must know what they are doing. “They” know all about lies, intrigue and trickery, but “they” know nothing about honest leadership nor do they care about it.

And so the twilight of the Republic of the United States of America is deepening into night and darkness before your eyes. You have turned away from the Light of Freedom that comes only from God—and you are flying into the darkness. So be it and may you reach out unto the hand God offers unto you to help see you through and again into the Light.

With blessings and the Grace of God in His infinite mercy, I take my leave from this Journal that we can begin the next. I am Hatonn. I salute you as my brothers in this great experience. Salu, salu and salu.

DEDICATION

This Journal is dedicated unto our beloved and daring participants, from the scribe hereof to the ones who prepare for the printing and the publisher and distributors. There are ones which I must leave unnamed for security in some measure but they are located from Texas to Canada; New York to California and Hawaii. But there are a handful who have and continue to work twenty-four hours a day to get this information out—mostly to a hostile, ridiculing public. It is interesting to watch the laughter from this perspective where the view is ever so much better—the laughing majority are not finding things so very funny any longer and the handwriting is becoming clear—theirs shall not be the last laugh, dear ones, theirs shall not be the last laugh. We tender not to bring you laughter early or lastly, ours is to bring truth and awaken you to your plight—for in the knowing is the absolute joy and hope of change and the wondrous balance of Peace.

Through the hardships thrust upon these blessed few comes also the PEACE THAT PASSES UNDERSTANDING AND THAT PEACE SHALL ENDURE UNTIL THE ENDING OF THEIR LIFESTREAMS—SO BE IT AND AS A COMMANDER IN THEIR SERVICE—I AM HUMBLE AND GRATEFUL AND AM HONORED TO BE ALLOWED THE JOY OF WORKING BESIDE THEM. AHO! FIRSTLY, I AM THINE BROTHER!!

REC #1 HATONN

TUE., MAR. 6, 1990 8:15 A.M. YEAR 3 DAY 202

PREPARATION

Hatonn to speak of serendipity in the Light of Radiance and the passing of “time”. Also, I will remind you of things already discussed in the Journals such as SURVIVAL—not to bore you with repetition but rather, to assure you that this is not a “new” matter, but only a misplaced focus.

As far back as your early 1980s these same ones whom I honor today, for baring truth, were hard at it to get the attention of the masses and few listened. Ron Paul, Gary North, Arthur Robinson, Antony Sutton, John King, etc.—the list is long, indeed. IT IS NOW TIME YOU LISTEN-UP, DEAR ONES, FOR THE FOX IS ALREADY IN THE HEN HOUSE.

In the early 80s you could have taken satchels full of money in cash to your local precious metals dealers and walked out with unaccountable assets. It is harder now, but still possible. Remember, I must speak to a wide range of people in the Journals so you must be patient on either end of the economic chain. Obviously, if you have no assets—you will not be able to buy coins. Please use your heads and fit information to your situation. We can give you basics and then fringes—we cannot individually contact and instruct 6 billion persons and customize a plan.

For instance, you can still buy gold and silver coins if you take care and pay attention to quantity lumps. There are still many reputable dealers and there is nothing to prevent your doing business with all if you have funds enough. You can get good investment value by buying precious-metal jewelry at pawn shops. You can buy goods at swap meets—unfortunately, that is also a place for “fenced” goods. You can buy used or discounted durable consumer goods and tools and equipment to be used later as barter. There are still some exceptional opportunities but there are plenty of other writers who can tell you these things. I have no wish to utilize another’s material—we want you to wake up and use that information already available unto you.

Let us speak more in generalities and from a realistic perspective.

Since the plans of the Illuminati, which is the faction of the “Power Elite” whose power is money—woops! I have already lost my scribe and, therefore, I will have lost a great number of you good readers—so be it, we shall return to basic definitions and descriptions.

EPHESIANS 6: 10-13:

My brethern, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. So be it.

THE CONSPIRACY

The idea of riot and revolution in America is no longer unthinkable to most Americans—it is now occurring daily. Yet, there is a conspiracy to not only overthrow your form of government but to destroy most of your population and reduce the United States to a weak outpost under the dictatorial rule of an international government. HEAR ME WELL AS I LAY DOWN THE BASICS ONCE AGAIN. IF YOU ALREADY RECALL AND KNOW THESE THINGS—READ THEM AGAIN, FOR WHEN I BREAK DOWN THE FACTIONS WHO WAR, ONE AGAINST THE OTHER, YOU WILL NEED THE INFORMATION.

The plan to accomplish world government has been secretive. At most, there are only about 5,000 people in the entire world who have any significant understanding of THE PLAN. That is what we are about, as are many of your fine writers whose material shall be given at the ending of this Journal. I will utilize no bibliography as such, for I need none—but you need confirmation and further instructions—I am only to give you the precipitant to cause you to seek and find—quickly! Further, I do not endorse ALL material from any “one” author or group—but there are some writers who act in total integrity and their work is valid, indeed. I am now being prepared for lawsuits because, “Hatonn has NOT used some author’s material.” Well, perhaps the author’s intent is wondrous, indeed, but conclusions are incorrect and, therefore, renders almost useless the information preceding the conclusions. Some authors have conclusions which are totally accurate and reached them through incorrect assumptions—always the latter is the more acceptable.

Incredible and unbelievable efforts have been thrust forth to keep the true nature of the plan from leaking out to those people who would oppose or expose the plan—unto murder, torture, and destruction of a man’s reputation, career and family structure.

There have, however, been numerous individuals who have uncovered various aspects of the conspiracy. Many of these individuals have put their discoveries in print. Some of the most daring speakers and authors have defected from highest ranks of the CIA, FBI, SATANIC/WITCHCRAFT CIRCLES, KGB, CONGRESS, ETC. FOR EVERY ONE WHO IS STRAIGHTFORWARD, THERE ARE DOZENS STILL ON THE PAYROLL OF THESE GROUPS AND ARE OUT TO DISCOUNT, ANNIHILATE AND SMEAR THE WORD OF THE LEGITIMATE. You, the receivers, must be in the discerning and hopefully you are paying attention to the discernment tools and clues we give unto you.

As just a touch of witchcraft history, I would say that in 1624 there landed upon the American shores a group of Puritans—at a port called Collins Bay. This place is just northeast of what you now call Boston. The ship that brought them was owned by one, Francis Collins. Mr. Collins was a “witch” of Celtic descent. He built his home at Marblehead just south of what is now Salem Bay. Francis Collins built the Salem Church. It was this church that was the source of the Salem witch trials. Suffice it to say, however, that true to form, there were witches present but you can jolly-well bet that none of the people put to death were actually the witches.

From that Collins family have decended major heads of the “Witch” cults such as the Druids with their Council of Thirteen and true and open Satanism. A very brave defector who was once Grand Druid High Priest of a thirteen-state sector, headquartered in San Antonio, Texas (name withheld for his family is in great jeopardy) has tales to tell which would put SATAN’S DRUMMERS in a kindergarten classification for reading material.

In the year 1971, when this man was Grand Druid Priest, over 90% of the politicians in that thirteen-state area received financial support through him personally, from the Grand Order. These politicians took orders regarding political decisions from him personally. The orders were passed down from the Rothschild Tribunal to the Grand Druid Council and then the Council passed them on to individuals and organizations under their authority.

This person was personally responsible for murder of an officer while in the military service. He was tried and convicted. However, when his prison cellmate was released, “Sir X” asked him to get word to a certain individual in the U.S. who Sir X knew to be a witch (this killing occurred in Germany and thus the incarceration was in Germany). Within days a U.S. Senator and a Congressman showed up at the prison. Twenty-four hours later Sir X received an honorable discharge with all information of the shooting incident purged from his record. And just what do you think will be the ultimate penalties for the Iran-Contra scandals? Yet a man in your country who runs for President and brings forth truth—is sent away to prison and his young staff is imprisoned for 72 and 86 years respectively—for raising campaign funds.

When Sir X arrived in the U.S. after his release, his mother sent him to New York City. After he arrived he was trained for six months by Dr. Raymond Budkland, Chairman of the Druid Council of Thirteen. Following that he traveled out to the West Coast where he was trained for another six months by Mrs. Louise Hubner, another member of the Druid Council of Thirteen. (Remember, at that time the family name was Collins).

In 1972, Sir X was shown a chart giving THE PLAN FOR WORLD TAKEOVER. Just take a deep breath and we’ll dive right in, for you have had your toe testing of the waters.

ILLUMINATI PLAN FOR WORLD TAKEOVER

- Remove President and Vice-president
- Republican Successor Throws Election to Democrat
- Democrat President Gets Following Laws Enacted:
 1. New gun law to take away guns from citizens.
 2. Removal of tax exemption from churches.
 3. Genocide Act
 4. Presidential martial law powers
 5. The Anti-Hoarding Act

WORLD WAR III

Caused by Israel State battling over petrol, farmlands and chemicals.

PLANS FOR AMERICA

Make every person totally dependent on the government by:

1. Creating a pseudo-fuel shortage.
2. Confiscating all guns.
3. Calling for "Helter Skelter"

(All trucks, trains and ships stop. Charles Manson leads army of some 200,000 White prisoners and motorcycle club members to create mass insanity in the streets (six months after his release) by bombing churches, raping, murdering and other fear tactics). "It will be when the lights of New York go out for good"—Rothschild Tribunal.

4. Declaring Martial Law—suspend Congress. Activate National Guard to keep order. One policeman for every five people.

5. With Anti-Hoarding Act outlaw all food and medical supplies from being stored.

6. Issue a Security Card to govern all buying and selling.

7. Destroy monetary system (All money, etc., becomes worthless).

8. Issue new currency.

9. Destroy all cropland. "There will be nothing south of the Mason-Dixon Line over two inches high from the Atlantic to the Rocky Mountains."—The Rothschild Tribunal.

Rothschilds send all countries except America against Israel for the oil. Use of neutron bomb allows destruction of people while all buildings, natural resources and croplands remain intact. When war is over the world will be run from Jerusalem.

Oh, precious ones, I do not jest, this plan is the "End Plan", THE PLAN 2000—AT LEAST ONE FACTION THEREOF.

DO YOU BEGIN TO SEE WHY EFFORTS ARE SO HEINOUS TO STOP MY WRITINGS FROM COMING FORTH AND SILENCE THIS SCRIBE? IT IS MOST SERIOUS, INDEED—PRAY FOR THIS SCRIBE AND HER CLOSE ONES FOR THE SHIELD OF GOD'S PROTECTION UPON THEM IN THIS TIME OF THEIR WORK.

Look carefully at the above chart and compare with today, almost two decades later—you see, only some of the players change—not the plan! See how it harmonizes with the rise of the world political ruler prophesied in Revelation.

In addition to the chart for world take-over was a letter from the Rothschilds—on Rothschilds stationery that stated, "We have found a man who is willing to become world ruler and remain obedient to the Illuminati. (shocker coming:) His name is Jimmy Carter."

A QUIET LITTLE CITY CALLED SAN ANTONIO

In 1972 the total population of residents was listed as approximately 500,000. Out of that half million, there were at least 100,000 people connected directly with witchcraft.

Well, beloved ones, you must recognize right now: He that is within me is greater than he that is in you—and I can bind all your spells so that they won't work and everything will go wrong. All you have to do is ask! For it is through the Lighted path that you will come to overthrow Satan, demons, drugs, habits, addictions, and threat of assassination. But you will find that few will listen in the onset following your changes toward the Lighted pathway and then more and more and you of the Light will unify and will stand as a wall of light over and through which no darkness can pass. This ability will come only through understanding of the problems as they exist without blurred vision and in truth. Pick up the banner of truth, as the ones who have come before are damaged by the evil enemies. Hundreds came bravely before these recent scribes—honor them, support them and protect them. Those who act in truth, defend and protect the speakers and identities—those of evil intent shout the names and addresses from the airwaves—those ones, in these days, shall be given to reap the tares and thistles which they sow, for God is moving, brothers—God is moving!

LOOK AT THE PLANS

The Illuminati was started by the Rothschild dynasty in cooperation with Adam Weishaupt. The Rothschilds rose from obscurity in Germany to become the most powerful banking family in the world. The formation of the Illuminati occurred after the Rothschilds met Adam Weishaupt. Weishaupt was born the son of a Jewish Rabbi but he defected from Judaism and became a Franciscan monk. He studied in France where he became close friends with Robespierre who later led the French Revolution. Weishaupt also became friends with several people in the French royal court. These friends practiced the black mass, baby sacrifice and other vile rituals, as entertainment. It was through these associations that Weishaupt became acquainted with "Satanism" (to be distinguished from "witchcraft").

Weishaupt desired to acquire copies of the Kabala, The Major Key of Solomon and The Lesser Key of Solomon. These books told how demons could be controlled to do an individual's bidding by using occult practices and rituals. The Rothschilds had copies of these books and as a result were brought into a joint relationship with Weishaupt. The consequent result was the first union of Satanism with the Kabalistic crafts.

The Rothschilds persuaded Weishaupt to leave the Catholic Church and unite the various occult groups. This he proceeded to do. One of the covens created by Weishaupt was "The Golden Dawn" which became and still continues as the private coven of the Rothschilds.

Weishaupt and the Rothschilds proceeded to put together the creeds of the Golden Dawn. The Rothschilds gave what they considered to be important and Weishaupt was the priest who put it in final form. The result of all this was the Illuminati officially formed on May 1, 1776. To witches, May 1st is the birthday of Baltane. To them, it is the day when the Sun which is "the god of light" returns to the atmosphere from the underworld where he has been at rest. The lower witches know him as "Pan" but higher witches know him as "Lucifer". To witches the world over, May 1st is the New Year's Day of Witches. The fact that Communism celebrates its birthday on May 1st should reveal to the world that the same conspiratorial personalities who rule the Western capitalistic countries through banking control also rule the communist countries the same way.

The most important truth (lie) in witchcraft is the so-called Prophecy of Truth: "When the Son of Lucifer takes his throne, then will witches have peace forever mone (morning)." The goal of witchcraft has been and remains to be the placing of "The Son of Lucifer"—the Satan-empowered world ruler—on his throne so that witches the world over can lead the world, by whatever means, to worship Lucifer as the sole god of the world.

Towards this goal they have already built a behind-the-scenes network that effectively rules the basic six areas of society: (1) Religious (2) Political (3) Economic (4) Educational (5) Military and (6) Social. In every area only those personnel at the very top know the true nature of the purposes and activities of their organization. Those individuals at the lower and middle levels often feel they are working to accomplish some noble humanitarian goal.

The power of the Illuminati is money. In the area of money their resources are almost limitless. Their organizational structure is depicted by three pyramids and a sphinx. The three pyramids show the same four groups at the top: The Rothschild Tribunal (3 members) depicted by a triangle around the eye of Lucifer. Immediately beneath is the Druid Council of 13. Under that is the Council of 33 (Free-masonry). Below them is "The 500" known infamously to outsiders as the "Bilderbergers". From that point the groups are different. In the three pyramids representing the Occult and Religious; the Political, and the various organizations, only a few of the most important groups will be shown herein. There are other groups under the control of the Illuminati but the ones herein given are very representative of the most important groups. The Sphinx shows the power flow of the Illuminati. It must be remembered that to understand the chart the driving force is MONEY!

The Illuminati changed its name several years past because of a number of writers who began to expose it. The name used within the organization more currently is "Moriah" meaning "The Conquering Wind".

Suffice it to say that people still recognize the meaning of the term "Illuminati" and cringe when anyone is on target in describing its activities—like this moment!

Please allow space in this Journal to reproduce diagrams. Therefore, allow us to take a break at this point and it will allow ease of pagination for the formatting.

Thank you, Dharma, let us take respite, please.

Hatonn to move to stand-by, Salu.

ADDENDUM TO THE ABOVE CHAPTER

Dharma, the diagrams will be placed immediately following this notation. There is, however something which must be added into this record, at this point, for it is timely unto the hour, and I will explain.

To all you readers who think we are but silly children out for notoriety and to "pilfer" material from other authors and beloved Sister Thedra, I have the following to offer unto you.

Please turn to Appendix No. 1. This is a note received this day at 11:09 A.M. (Oberli, strike out all pertinent information as to location, etc. but leave America West for we must set up a protection shield around those beloved ones and we desire the public be made absolutely aware.) For you readers, Chuck, referred to in item No. 1, is our printer and I will leave his location unidentified in this document.

The manuscript referred to is CRUCIFIXION OF THE PHOENIX. For you ones who do not take seriously, the dangers and intrigue involved, please take most careful note of the following:

Appendix No. 2: This is most fearful, indeed, and is being placed in this document in addition to placement in CRUCIFIXION OF THE PHOENIX since its printing is delayed because of the prior notice. Place it in the appropriate placement as an addendum with a special notice as to content and source. Mark it well, for there must be no misunderstanding as to its source—it must not be construed as being of our input, for we shall neutralize its content and remove its energy therefrom before reprinting.

The reason the Satanist's letter is so very important is that it was sent to George Green in denouncement of him and a Satanic curse placed upon his person following the fiasco with the Billy Goodman/Bill Cooper program on February 28, 1990 (last week). The letter was sent in support of William Cooper and his group who placed all the calls into the station. This source, brothers, is as evil as you will ever encounter—Satan is taking a direct stand—yes, the “Big Boy” himself.

I wonder if Mr. Cooper wishes to accuse us of plagiarism of his documents henceforth? I care not what Mr. Cooper does, it is just extremely important for Mr. Cooper and Mr. Goodman to KNOW who is specifically backing their activities. We are going to print it exactly as it was received. I want you to note that Satan is a Master at confusion and deception—he hasn't missed a trick and yet, neither has he failed to place clues throughout and all over the documents. If you are unable to pick up the pale print of the Satanic sign which is almost a watermark in the stationery, I suggest you look closely and you can discern it. It is actually a shadow print.

Since Mr. Cooper accuses us of word-for-word plagiarism of documents of his authorship of some 50 pages from a 26-page document—could these be the other 24 pages? We know not of that which he speaks.

And as regards to the Gatehouse—this one who calls himself Satan is also in protection by verbal commitment, to beings who surround the Gatehouse—what might that mean?

Perhaps you can now see why Mr. Cooper's phone call to George Green threatening to “take out that ‘channel’” was taken most seriously by us. When one is set up as a tool for the Satanic team, it is also made sure that the person becomes totally without reason and irrational. I suggest Mr. Cooper listen most carefully, indeed, to his friends such as John Lear, whose research was shared liberally with Bill.

Allow me to tell you what it means; it means you are not playing over some tiddle-de-winks of foolish nonsense. It means that the Evil King himself will stop at naught to stop truth and you cannot tell for sure, where he aims it. I suggest you call in the God of Light, brothers, and wrap yourselves in the cloak of God and the Infinite Sacred Circle of the Cristos because you who leave yourselves open are, indeed, in trouble.

We have confronted some of his henchmen and he is totally aggravated. He always fights in this manner. He, further, utilizes some person who is already in unbalance and destroys all he touches. Not only is this a most valid letter, as well as the message of intent, but he has openly called the hand.

Now the clues: In the mass of confusion as to full meaning of the document, it might well appear that this energy is denouncing the word within the Journals as false. Nay, nay, nay—not so. He is telling you exactly where the falseness lays—he blesses Mr. Cooper and Mr. Goodman and actually writes upon the paper for the world to see—“P.S. I curse you, George Green, and all your associates. Including the Paladians (Pleiadians, of course).”

Further, he and his flock went through the whole ritual experience and exercise to do exactly that. I tell you, however, to fear not, for this mite upon the skin of God is naught—for the evil prince has dared come to the heartplace of God and his taunts and threats are naught but a chill of fear upon a troubled land. The truth being, that things have become most serious and disastrous, indeed, upon your world—and he claims his kingdom of dominion over your world and slashes the boundary line between himself and his troops and God and the Hosts of heaven.

I have worse news for you who plotted that little fiasco on that radio program—you are all on his “throttle” list because you staged it so badly that he lost the battle. It is important that Mr. Goodman know that numerous ones have written and called George Green to apologize for the terrible injustice of that program. Satan doesn't like it when you boys botch a well-laid plan. You had best think very carefully about it.

I further suggest that Mr. Cooper and Mr. Goodman get off the SPACE GATE document and on into the important material such as SATAN'S DRUMMERS and see if they want credit for all that material also! How about we just get my scribe and publisher off the hook and give Mr. Cooper credit for all of the literature we are putting forth? So be it! It pays greatly to know about that which you soap-box.

For you, beloved Sister, and dear, dear Tuieta—look carefully, indeed, at this material, for the problem is not around this source and/or resource—and Dharma has been badly, badly accused and used. Now the effort will go forth to destroy Sister's credibility and that of Ed DeMar, etc. If you cannot see the truth of these documents, then I have naught more to offer thee as evidence.

There is naught but love of all creatures of all species and all creeds, colors and races of human coming from this placement—and we have watched the very ones closest unto these beloved workers crucify them and spread lies about them in most heinous manner of ridicule and incredible, blatant lies. Neither do these ones have anything to fear for Sananda/ATON stands squarely betwixt Satan and these workers and truthbringers. This, however, does not diminish the pain of being stricken and accused by ones they trusted and honored above others.

Please label the copies as to beginning portion and signal ending, for we want this reproduced exactly, including the information whereby the author can be reached—as he says, for “additional information”.

I further request that copies of this portion and the attachments be sent to Bill Cooper, Sister Thedra, Tuieta, Billy Goodman, John Lear, etc., as well as the ones who receive regularly. Then I wish to know if you would like an Express [newsletter] on the subject.

I would hope that the receivers who plan litigation look most carefully, indeed, for you have openly named names and slandered these ones upon the airwaves of a nation. You have labeled them hoaxters and deliberate liars and thieves. I suggest you look most closely at libel laws, for the Constitution of the United States of America is still somewhat operative—and you have publicly defamed mine workers and sent the material filled with accusations and lies unto the four corners of the continent. Yes, indeed, I would think most carefully upon these things. Mr. Goodman has betrayed the trust of his audience who respected and revered him.

As we move further along and get into the impact on religion, education, and other societal structures, the impact will worsen. You who claim to be of light and truth and claim to wish only to share that truth—I plead with you now to look within and find thy truth, for the trumpet call has sounded and most have missed of it. So be it.

The father wipes of thine eyes, Dharma, for He shall keep you in care that thine heart find peace and ye must be in the allowing of others to find their own way, chela. All will be tested unto the ending and hallowed be the blessed ones who stand strong against the storm—for the lamp of Truth and Light shall be held for all to see and know. Amen.

Let us leave this for this segment, for your heart is too heavy to work further. Ye ones shall be given buffering against the blast—allow that knowledge into thy beings. I further give comfort unto George, Chuck, Desiré and others who bear the hurt of these slings and arrows—ye shall be in our protection at every moment. Do not throw any more of this material away, for it is important we counter every message of this nature. Further, it must not go forth even into the trash heap without the de-energizing of it. Cleanse everything it has touched, even unto the trash bin. Do not feel foolish in the so-doing, for you ones do not yet understand beams and energy thrusts—stay in protection.

I stand aside now, that you might unwind thy stresses, chela, and we shall resume our work as it is suitable.

Hatonn, in behalf of the Lighted Brotherhood in service unto the Lighted Hosts, Mother/Father Creator, The Creation of Allness—and unto thee, our beloved family of the Great Spirit of the Lighted Realms, to place my benediction upon you and about you that you be kept in security. Salu! Hatonn to clear frequency, please. Thank you.

ISRAEL SAYS KILLING OF FIVE PALESTINIAN POLICEMEN WAS MISTAKEN IDENTITY

By Laurie Copans, Boston Globe, 5/16/01

JERUSALEM (AP) Israel said Wednesday that the shooting deaths of five Palestinian policemen in a military operation was a case of mistaken identity, and that it regretted the deaths.

The Palestinian policemen at an outpost near the West Bank city of Ramallah were killed by Israeli troops early Monday. A sixth Palestinian policeman, who survived the attack, said the Israelis opened fire without provocation.

The Israeli soldiers were looking for members of an elite Palestinian security unit, Force 17, which has been accused of taking part in attacks against Israeli targets, said Raanan Gissin, a spokesman for Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon. The Palestinians say ordinary police officers were manning the outpost.

"The minute it was clear there was a mistaken identity, we launched an investigation," said Gissin.

Foreign Minister Shimon Peres said he was sorry for the killings, but added that the army's investigation was ongoing and gave a slightly more cautious assessment.

"I regret it very much," Peres said of the deaths. "If it is a mistake, I'm sure it wasn't done by intention. Unfortunately, war has its own terrible costs and mistakes, but the whole story is now being checked by the army."

Ahmed Annajar, the Palestinian policeman who survived the attack, said he finished a guard shift and went to sleep and was awakened by the sound of Israeli shooting.

Some of the Palestinian police were killed when they ran outside to see what was happening, Annajar said. The Israelis never approached the outpost but shot from nearby hills and buildings. Annajar survived by crawling into a big hole in the ground.

"This was an assassination, a military operation," Annajar told reporters in Ramallah.

The army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Shaul Mofaz, said Tuesday that the army had not intended the operation to turn out as it had, but did not give additional details.

Palestinian police outposts in the area had been involved in the recent fighting, army spokesman Lt. Col. Olivier Rafowicz said.

"Army soldiers acted in the area because in this area there are very active firing positions that have caused us losses," Rafowicz said.

Israeli journalist Zeev Schiff said that the Israeli troops had false intelligence information telling them that the Palestinian police outpost was used by Force 17 officers.

The position was only occasionally used by Force 17 and the Israeli army did not realize it had shot the wrong men until their names were published, Schiff wrote in the Haaretz daily Wednesday.

Israeli intelligence believe the Palestinian police outpost had been used as a base for Palestinians to go out to shoot on Israeli vehicles and to target a nearby army base, Schiff said.

The police position had long been considered a prime target for such an operation and Monday's mission was approved by Israeli authorities, Schiff added.

The Maariv daily reported military sources as saying that the army wanted to send a message to Force 17 in light of its alleged involvement in recent attacks.

Some senior Israeli military officers criticized the operation in advance, saying that even if Force 17 officers involved in recent attacks had been killed, other Force 17 officers not involved in attacks might be hit as well, Maariv said.

[JR: With all the high-tech surveillance and listening systems in place... the Israelis made a mistake? Yes, a calculated one—like the USS Liberty. Israel has an official policy of targeting and assassinating PLA leaders and officials. Sharon himself has said he will do what must be done to protect Israeli citizens and that the gloves were off. Sharon is doing what he was elected to do and what he does best and that is to hit hard at your enemy and crush all resistance. Any regrets or apologies expressed by Peres should be seen for what they are—lies. If Israeli leaders were like Pinocchio and their noses grew every time they lied then maybe we'd all see better what they truly are—LIARS, DECEIVERS and USURPERS. If their Pinocchio noses were then cut off and burned as fuel, it would be the world's fastest growing renewable energy source.]

ARAB COUNTRIES URGED TO SEVER CONTACT WITH ISRAEL UNTIL MILITARY ACTION STOPS

Canadian Press, National Post, 5/19/01

CAIRO (AP)—Arab governments must sever all contact with Israel until the Jewish state ceases military action against Palestinians, representatives of Arab countries demanded Saturday, casting doubt on whether Egypt and Jordan would continue efforts to mediate an Israeli-Palestinian cease-fire.

A meeting of Arab foreign ministers and delegates made the recommendation. Arab League calls are not binding on governments, but the foreign ministers and other senior officials to attend Saturday's meeting were believed to have been in contact with the highest levels of their governments during the eight-hour gathering.

"The meeting called for severing all Arab political communication with Israel as long as the aggression of the siege on the Palestinian people and their national authority continues," according to a statement issued at the end of the emergency meeting.

Lending weight to the call were the two men who made it: Arab League Secretary-General Amr Moussa, who spent years mediating with the Israelis and Palestinians as Egypt's foreign minister, and Jordanian Foreign Minister Abdul-Illah Khatib.

Jordan and Egypt are the only Arab countries to have signed peace agreements with Israel. Both also have been pushing hard for a diplomatic resolution to the latest violence, which has left more than 500 dead since Sept. 28.

"Our intention is not to talk about or fall in the trap of talking about peace proposals while we see that the Israeli government does not really mean it," Moussa said. "The attacks against the Palestinians will have to stop, otherwise we will be acting under the point of the gun which we totally and utterly reject."

Khatib did not answer directly when asked whether Jordan's diplomatic efforts would now end, instead saying the move "reflects the uselessness of political contacts that do not succeed in stopping the violence and lifting the siege on the Palestinian people."

There was no immediate comment from the Egyptian foreign ministry.

In its statement, the Arab League committee criticized the Israeli government for its reluctance to accept ceasefire proposals, including an Egyptian-Jordanian initiative.

Like the Egyptian-Jordanian proposal, the committee called on Israel to freeze settlement construction. Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon has been an advocate for Jewish settlers, resisting efforts to halt construction.

Earlier Saturday, Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat told the Arab League gathering in Cairo that the conflict has escalated into a "decisive battle for Palestine". Moussa had described recent Israeli actions as "systematic killing of the Palestinians with the aim of exterminating them."

Moussa also reiterated Arab calls for an international peacekeeping force in the Palestinian territories, a proposal that Israel and the United States have rejected. In all, 468 Palestinians and 84 Israelis have been killed since September.

Anger in the Arab world is at fever-pitch as Israeli-Palestinian fighting has escalated to the use of F-16 warplane attacks, which Israel used Friday in retaliation for a suicide bombing.

Arafat said Israel's military escalation had created a "critical" situation with "enormous losses", with financial losses surpassing about $8 billion Cdn. The Arab League committee also called on Moussa to ensure immediate financial support to the Palestinian Authority and it urged public donations into a bank account under Arab League supervision.

During the committee meeting, Moussa said Israel's policy "aims for the submission of Palestine".

"The resistance and the intefadeh will continue whatever the price may be," said Moussa, who became Arab League chief earlier this week after 10 years as Egypt's foreign minister. "We cannot, under any circumstances, accept an Israeli peace," he added.

The countries that attended the talks at the League's headquarters in Cairo were Bahrain, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco, Tunisia, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen.

[JR: The Arab countries have no other recourse but to sever ties with Israel. The U.S. and Israel have not put forth any positive initiatives to resolve the hostilities but to say "no talks until the violence ends". Israel will have to be forced to enter peace negotiations since she now has full control of all of the Palestinian lands and is winning the one-sided war against the Palestinians. The only way Israel will accept any type of concession is... if the U.S. withdraws all support and the UN enforces the resolutions agreed to by Israel. Israel has not abided by any agreements that all other nations have had to do as members of the UN. This issue has to be dealt with otherwise it's Armageddon time for us all.]

U.S. BROKERS NEW TALKS IN MIDDLE EAST

By Julian Borger and Jane Martinson,
The Guardian—UK, 5/22/01

The Bush administration yesterday signalled its readiness to return as an active mediator after four months on the sidelines of the escalating Israeli-Palestinian conflict, announcing a fresh round of U.S.-brokered talks and backing new guidelines for ending the violence.

But Colin Powell, the secretary of state, stopped short of demanding a freeze on the building of Israeli settlements in Palestinian areas, a key element of a report submitted yesterday by a commission of inquiry led by the former U.S. Senator George Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell called for an immediate ceasefire to be followed by confidence-building measures by both sides, including a freeze on settlements.

Asked who should ensure the recommendations, he said: "All interested parties and that includes the U.S."

The Bush administration has been criticised for its stand-off attitude to the conflict, embodied by its decision in January not to replace President Bill Clinton's envoy to the Middle East, Dennis Ross.

Officials in the new administration had said that President George Bush would not repeat his predecessor's "mistake" of trying to impose a settlement. But the rising tide of violence in the region, with more than 500 deaths since last September, has called the policy of detachment into question.

"The implications of sitting on your hands is pretty clear," David Makovsky, an analyst at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, said yesterday. "The Middle East has a way of imposing itself. It requires special involvement."

Mr. Powell's announcement indicated a return to a more interventionist policy. The secretary of state instructed Martin Indyk, the ambassador to Tel Aviv, and Ron Schlicher, the U.S. envoy in Jerusalem, "to begin working immediately with the parties to facilitate implementation of the [Mitchell] report's recommendations."

Mr. Powell also appointed William Burns, the ambassador in Amman, as his special assistant for handling the talks, reporting directly to the secretary of state and Mr. Bush.

Mr. Burns, who has extensive experience in the Arab world and who speaks Arabic, is likely to be welcomed by the Palestinians and their allies. He worked closely with Mr. Ross and is an advocate of hands-on U.S. diplomacy in the region.

The sticking point in the talks is likely to be the issue of settlements. While generally welcoming the report, and agreeing not to build new communities in occupied territories, the Israeli government has reserved the right to build in line with "natural growth" of the existing population within the settlements.

That stance has been attacked by the Palestinians and by Israeli opposition groups like Peace Now, which claims that, as many of the homes already built inside the settlements are vacant, there is no need for new construction.

The Mitchell report called on Israel to freeze "all settlement activity including the 'natural growth' of existing settlements". But Mr. Powell, while offering a broad endorsement of the report, was more ambiguous on the subject. "What I want to see is what possibilities exist to bridge the very, very sharp differences and disagreements that exist between the two sides with respect to expansion within existing settlements," Mr. Powell said.

The Israeli foreign minister, Shimon Peres, said that Israel would not "extend the territory of existing settlements", but stopped short of agreeing to a freeze. The Palestinian chief negotiator, Saeb Erekat, accused Israel of "playing a game of deceit" over the issue.

Mr. Powell is to leave today on a tour of Africa, but left open the possibility of meeting Israeli and Palestinian leaders if there is progress in implementing a ceasefire.

[JR: How much hope can there be for peace in the Middle East when you have two pro-Israeli/Zionists like Ross and Indyk representing America's position in the peace process? They are not credible and neither is the U.S. The main issue for a peace agreement is the Israeli settlements and if differences and disagreements aren't addressed the U.S. and Israel are just going through the motions. Sharon's Likud party is for expanding settlements to create a super Jewish state. To do that he has to push out the Palestinians and he is succeeding in doing just that. Sir Powell's "ambiguous position" on the settlement s is a green light for Sharon to continue this relentless land grab.]

U.S. BUILDS $266 MILLION BASE FOR ISRAEL

Source: William A. Orme, Jr.,
New York Times, 5/17/01

Israeli and American officials have broken ground for a $266 million military base for Israel that is being built by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and paid for by the United States under an agreement signed in 1998. The new base in the Negev desert is to replace an Israeli "training site" in the occupied West Bank. Martin Indyk, U.S. ambassador to Israel, called the U.S. effort a symbol "of America's continuing commitment to Israel's security."

[JR: This is the only reference I have been able to source on this. Perhaps it was not supposed to be disclosed and the rest of the Lying News Networks (LNN) were ordered to plug this leak. Is there anything Israel has that the U.S. hasn't paid for or will pay for? Israel certainly acts and claims to be an independent state but would not survive one year without full U.S. backing and financial support.]

U.S. CHANGE IN POLICY ON IRAQ
A VICTORY FOR POWELL

By Barry Schweid, Nando Times, 5/18/01

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bush administration's decision to lift a UN ban on the export of consumer goods to Iraq is a victory for Secretary of State Colin Powell, who has favored a more lenient approach to hopefully improve living conditions for the Iraqi people.

Powell's ace in the hole was early support from President Bush, but it took four months of bureaucratic infighting for the policy shift to emerge this week.

Even now, debate continues within the government on the kind of items with potential military use that could be cleared for export to Iraq and those that will remain restricted.

Within the United Nations, meanwhile, where the United States and Britain would like a new resolution approved next week by the Security Council, there is still widespread disagreement

Administration officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Thursday the Pentagon was reluctant to run the risk of approving Iraq's purchase of many so-called dual use items.

But Powell appeared to be prevailing.

Since 1990, the United States had waged a campaign to deny Iraq consumer goods in the hope that the plight of the Iraqi people would cause them to turn against President Saddam Hussein.

Lining up with Britain, which stood virtually alone with the United States on maintaining harsh sanctions, the Bush administration also is urging tighter controls on export to Iraq of arms and weapons-related items.

"We're working toward what will be a significant change in our approach to Iraq in the United Nations," State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said. "The focus is on strengthening controls to prevent Iraq from rebuilding military capability in weapons of mass destruction while facilitating a broader flow of goods to the civilian population of Iraq."

Norway joined the United States and Britain in backing the move. But Russia and China said they were not ready to support it. French officials said the proposal included ideas they have raised in the past year, but they want to see a final text before deciding.

Iraq, meanwhile, flatly rejected the proposal. It wants a complete end to all sanctions.

The UN sanctions on weapons and consumer goods were imposed as part of a U.S.-led drive to reverse Iraq's annexation of Kuwait in 1990. Powell was chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff during the Persian Gulf War, which liberated Kuwait but left Saddam in power.

Assistant Secretary of State David Welch, who is in charge of international organizations and oversees U.S. diplomacy at the United Nations, is winding up a trip to Europe, where he consulted with French, Belgian and other officials on the pending resolution to lift consumer sanctions.

In Moscow, Russia's deputy foreign minister Sergei Ordzhonikidze said too little is known about the new proposal to determine his country's position now.

Boucher said the proposal would be discussed by Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov and Powell during the Russian's visit to Washington on Friday.

For Powell, who is inclined to take a more moderate course in foreign policy and security than Bush's harder-line advisers, the policy shift reflects both his own instincts and advice offered by Arab and other governments.

[JR: After conferring with the French, Belgians (Brussels) and other Eurocrats, the U.S. and Britain now follow through and lift the sanctions on consumer goods against Iraq. Sir Powell may have (seemingly) won over the hardliners at the Pentagon but all such events are orchestrated and controlled by the Elite oligarchs of power. The Iraqi people have endured ten years of living under the harshest of conditions and they are the winners, not Saddam.]

CENTRAL AMERICAN GOVERNMENTS
PLAN TO OPEN CONSULATES IN MEXICO

Agencia EFE, May 13, 2001

SAN SALVADOR—The Central American countries, with the support of the Fox administration, plan to open regional consulates in several Mexican cities to aid illegal immigrants who are trying to enter the United States.

Foreign Minister Maria Eugenia Brizuela told reporters Sunday that El Salvador has asked Mexico for assistance in setting up the diplomatic offices because of the high costs involved.

Brizuela also thanked Mexican envoy Florencio Salazar, who said Saturday that President Vicente Fox was willing to work with the Central American nations to establish the regional consulates.

A Salvadoran National Civilian Police official told EFE that 3,050 illegal immigrants were detained in the Central American nation in 2000, almost triple the previous year's total.

In the first quarter of this year alone, police detained 1,145 illegal immigrants in El Salvador.

The vast majority of illegal immigrants from Central and South America try to enter the United States from Mexico, with increasing numbers traveling through Veracruz because of its proximity to the border.

Brizuela said the opening of a regional consulate in the Mexican port city was a priority.

PEOPLE SMUGGLING NOW BIG BUSINESS IN MEXICO

By Mary Jordan, Washington Post, 5/17/01

MEXICO CITY—Immigrant smuggling on the U.S.-Mexican border, once dominated by local "coyotes" charging relatively small sums to guide Mexicans into the United States, has become a multibillion-dollar industry increasingly controlled by large, well-organized syndicates.

Officials in Mexico and the United States say the evolution of the smuggling industry along the 2,100-mile border has come largely in response to more aggressive U.S. efforts to control illegal immigration. Since 1994, those efforts have included doubling the number of U.S. Border Patrol guards, to 8,800, new triple fences, infrared night scopes, underground sensors and klieg lights to illuminate potential crossing points.

As the odds of being caught have climbed, smugglers' fees have risen dramatically, from about $300 a person a few years ago to between $1,500 and $2,000. Most of the 1.6 million Mexicans apprehended by the Border Patrol last year—and an unknown number of others who got through—are believed to have paid the higher fees charged under the new border math.

Mexican officials recently formed a special intelligence unit to target human smuggling and are investigating at least two dozen human smuggling gangs. Felipe de Jesus Preciado Coronado, head of Mexico's National Immigration Institute, said in an interview that the government has identified at least 57 organized smuggling bands.

President Bush and his Mexican counterpart, Vicente Fox, have vowed to work together to create new mechanisms to control legal immigration. Both leaders say they want to reduce illegal immigration, which puts the lives of millions of poor Mexicans at risk and turns them into prey for profiteers along both sides of the border.

"We are seeing trends we never saw in the past," said Jim Chaparro, head of the anti-smuggling office at the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). He said the once small and informal smuggling business has evolved into a powerful web of "literally hundreds of syndicates, some at a low-level and some at the kingpin level."

Interviews with more than 20 immigration specialists on both sides of the border suggest that small-scale coyotes are still active but that as human smuggling has become more difficult, gangs have become more organized and wealthy. Increasingly, they have members on both sides of the border. They also occasionally employ people solely to get arrested, taking the time and attention of U.S. border officials so that high-paying customers can sneak across.

The equipment used by coyotes—a flashlight for a nighttime wade across the Rio Grande—has been replaced by encrypted radios, cell phones that are discarded and changed every few hours and the Internet. Smugglers communicate across the border by radio or e-mail, signaling movements of U.S. patrol agents or the arrival of a new batch of people preparing to cross.

The smuggling groups that charge the most offer more sophisticated services, including computer-generated fake documents or stolen valid visas and passports, which help people waltz through U.S. entry gates without having to attempt dangerous desert crossings. Others offer inventive ways to be driven across. Recently arrested smugglers, for instance, had installed benches inside a diesel tank truck. Others had squeezed people into portable toilets being carried on trucks.

Of particular worry is a deeper smuggling network inside the United States, including drop houses where immigrants are kept, often against their will, until they pay off smuggling fees. Gustavo Lopez Castro, a Mexican sociologist who has interviewed many smugglers, said they range from part-timers to "gangs and gangsters using beepers and cell phones, airports and buses."

"Now they buy airline tickets for these people and give them clothes when they cross the border," Lopez said.

He said one smuggling ring he saw put illegal Chinese immigrants on tour buses in Mexico so they appeared to be tourists. He said the group had contacts in the United States, Europe and Asia.

That is further evidence that the organizations are increasingly helping non-Mexicans illegally enter the United States. About 28,000 people from Syria, Poland, Russia and China and a list of other non-Latin countries were apprehended last year on the border, according to the INS. In the early 1990s, that number was generally around 16,000 a year.

Mexican officials said that along the U.S. border in the state of Baja California last year, illegal immigrants from 40 countries were apprehended. Preciado said Mexican immigration officials recently caught a South Korean smuggler taking illegal Chinese immigrants across the border and an Ecuadoran smuggler taking across people from Central America.

"When you look at the border, it looks like a large pilgrimage," he said.

Migrants from Asia and Europe pay far more than Mexicans, upwards of $50,000 to get into the United States.

"The flow of illegals has become much more organized, and that has opened the opportunity for these [smuggling] groups to market their services to non-Mexicans," said Armand Peschard-Sverdrup, director of the Mexico project at the Washington-based Center for Strategic and International Studies.

U.S. officials say some human smuggling groups are starting to mirror the structure and methods of drug smugglers. Just as rival drug gangs often steal from each other, Chaparro said, "gangs are ripping off aliens [from other smugglers] and holding aliens captive until they sell them to a buyer." The buyer is usually a relative or an employer.

In the past, studies found no links between drug smugglers and human smugglers. That was believed to be a key reason, along with the fact that coyotes were generally not well organized, that law enforcement resources were far more focused on drug smuggling. But Chaparro said he believes there is a "a lot of overlap". Aware that U.S. courts tend to dole out far stiffer penalties for importing drugs than smuggling people, he said, "A lot of drug smugglers have turned to alien smuggling."

Robert Harris, associate director of the U.S. Border Patrol, said some groups do not care what they smuggle as long as it pays well.

The United States has busted several smuggling rings recently. The FBI in Los Angeles earlier this month announced the arrest of 11 people on charges of running a human smuggling ring that brought hundreds of Ukrainians across the Mexican border into California.

According to that indictment, these smugglers recruited people in Kiev and flew them to Mexico, providing them with valid Mexican visas and some training in English. Many crossed on foot or by boat near Tijuana. They were each charged $7,000 or more and some were put on flights to jobs in U.S. cities.

Smugglers also are more likely to be armed and violent. There have been many cases in Mexico of coyotes robbing and raping their customers or abandoning them before they ever reach the border. In the past year, on a stretch of the border near Tucson, 100 incidents of violence against the Border Patrol have been recorded.

"As the stakes have gone higher, alien smugglers have gotten much more desperate," said the U.S. ambassador to Mexico, Jeffrey Davidow. "There is more money and drugs involved and more violence against the Border Patrol.... It's pretty dangerous up there."

MEXICO TO GIVE BORDER CROSSERS SURVIVAL KITS

By Sam Quinones, Orange County Register, 5/16/01

MEXICO CITY—If it can't stop emigration to the United States, the Mexican government thinks at least its people shouldn't die in the process.

So starting next month, the government will distribute up to 200,000 survival kits to people planning to head north.

The kits will contain medicine and information to prepare emigrants for what they face on the trip, which usually includes a trek through the remote deserts and mountains of Arizona or California because of increased U.S. border security.

The packets will include anti-diarrheal medicine, adhesive bandages, aspirin, acetaminophen, medicine for snake and scorpion bites, powder to prevent dehydration, water, salt, dry meat, cans of tuna and granola.

Women will receive 25 birth-control pills, men 25 condoms. AIDS is a small but growing problem in rural Mexico. It is spread mostly by men who contract the virus in the United States, then infect women back home.

The program will train hundreds of volunteers—people who already make a yearly trek north—in first aid and emergency health care. The volunteers will be given surgery soap, sutures for sewing wounds, thermometers, gauze, cotton and other implements to attend to migrants' medical problems.

The $2 million program, known as "Vete Sano, Regresa Sano" (Leave Healthy, Return Healthy), will begin June 15. It is funded by the Mexican government, which also is seeking funding from the California Endowment, a Woodland Hills-based health foundation. The endowment has set aside $50 million for programs that improve the health of California farm workers, part of that to be used in conjunction with the Mexican government.

"The concept is fascinating and consistent with the kind of commitment this (money) would support," said Dr. Robert Ross, California Endowment president and a former San Diego County health director. "We are very committed to working with Mexican public-health officials."

Officials from the endowment and the Mexican government met Tuesday in San Diego. Even without the endowment's support, the program will proceed but on a smaller scale, Mexican officials said. Training for volunteers is already under way.

Rather than save lives, however, critics said the program will encourage illegal immigration.

"Why don't they stop them from coming?" asked Barbara Coe of Huntington Beach, chairwoman of the California Coalition for Immigration Reform. "It's aiding and abetting lawbreakers."

Among other things, the program will include tips on maintaining self-esteem and on Asian meditation techniques to combat depression, stress and anxiety in a country they have entered illegally and without speaking the language.

"Those who've gone to the U.S. have told us of their experiences. This is what they've told us they need," said Dr. Angel Flores, chief of community action for the Mexican Institute of Social Security, which has a network of 3,000 rural health workers who will distribute the kits.

Last year, at least 490 Mexicans died crossing the 1,952-mile border, according to the Mexican government. So far this year, emigrants crossing the border have been dying at a rate of about one a day, though officials say the toll rises in the summer.

Gloria Chavez, spokeswoman for the San Diego sector of the U.S. Border Patrol, said that, while she was not familiar with the survival-kit plan, it sounds like a good idea. Since 1998, she said, U.S. Border Patrol agents have carried energy drinks, blankets and other emergency supplies to treat such ailments as dehydration and hypothermia among the border crossers.

"Our mission is to prevent deaths," Chavez said.

The packets and health workshops are to be presented to 369 of Mexico's poorest municipalities, mostly in Oaxaca, Michoacan, Zacatecas and Jalisco states.

A committee of doctors and health workers formed by the government's newly established Office for Mexicans Abroad came up with the idea. Director Juan Hernandez acknowledged the kit might appear to encourage illegal immigration and thus be controversial.

"We're not going to close our eyes," he said. "We have individuals with needs, and they are dying at the border."

The survival kits have never been tried before. The biggest obstacle to their success could be the people they're intended to help.

"This could help avoid many deaths. But if you ask emigrants, 70 percent of them don't see any risks," said Jorge Santibanez, president of El Colegio de la Frontera Norte, a state university in Tijuana, who helped design the program. "They're not conscious of the risks. So if the kit isn't accompanied with education on how to use it and why it's necessary, it won't be used."

For many years, the Mexican government ignored the emigrants' plight. Emigrants complained of being ripped off by police when they returned home and treated like traitors by the government for leaving to make a living in the United States.

The survival packets are the bluntest sign yet of a change in attitude under the administration of President Vicente Fox.

"It reflects a reality that has rarely been reflected officially," Santibanez said. "Mexico avoided actions that could appear to be helping migrants leave. There was a kind of self-censorship: What will the U.S. say if we look like we're helping them leave? This self-censorship has disappeared. This is very positive."

[JR: The previous three articles cover a number the humanity problems at the Mexico-U.S. border but does not provide any solution to reduce the increasing numbers of "illegal aliens", and not just the Mexicans smuggled into the U.S. One thing I noticed is that although these aliens smuggled into the U.S. ARE illegal, from the Mexican and other foreign or UN agencies they are only viewed as "migrants or emigrants". I guess from a single focus of the liberal/socialist (NWO) or humanitarian perspective that promote OPEN BORDERS, it is inhuman to deprive poor people of access to a better life. However the real world just isn't that simple. Many wars have been fought over incursions across borders, both legal and illegal. In the Balkan areas where several wars and conflicts erupted, as in Kosovo and Macedonia where Albanian "migrants" settled into selected rich regional areas, became a majority and then demanded secession through rebel insurrection demanding their own independent state. Notice that these areas are also adjacent to Albania's border which, if allowed to become independent, could annex to Albania at a future time, thus enlarging Albania without Albania being directly involved in the conflicts. What would happen if in the near future Arizona and California's majority population became Hispanic and decided to vote for secession for the purpose of annexation to Mexico, which is not that far fetched given the socialist agenda of the NWO open border agenda and NAFTA's treaty policies. There would inevitably be another Civil War. Now, will the anti-U.S. United Nations, NATO and EURO FORCE send in their troops as "peacekeepers" to protect the rebels—as in Kosovo. Want to bet on the consequences, given the growing liberal/socialist mentality in this country today? If we don't turn our thinking back to our original U.S. Constitutional values, this scenario might be written into our future.]

COURT RULES ECONOMIC IMPACT MUST BE TIED TO ESA

By Pat Taylor, CNSNews.com, 5/18/01

A U.S. appellate court has determined that when the Fish and Wildlife Service designates critical habitat for an endangered species, it must analyze and consider the full economic impact on the area in which the habitat is located. That includes any economic harm resulting from the initial listing of the species under the Endangered Species Act.

The decision was hailed as a significant victory for people throughout the country who say their livelihoods and culture are being ruined and their communities destroyed through deliberate misuse of the ESA by environmental extremists.

The 10th Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver, Colorado, made the unanimous decision May 11 in a case involving the Southwestern Willow Flycatcher, a small bird that nests in areas along rivers and streams in seven Southwestern states.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service determined in 1995 that the flycatcher was endangered, but it deferred a "critical habitat" designation so it would have more time to gather information. But environmentalists accused the FWS of dragging its feet.

In March 1997, the Tucson-based Southwest Center for Biological Diversity won a lawsuit in a U.S. District Court in Arizona that ordered the FWS to complete the flycatcher critical habitat designation in 120 days.

The designation of critical habitat along hundreds of miles of rivers and streams would mean that no cattle or other livestock could graze near those waterways, which are the very lifeblood of ranching in the arid Southwest.

Ranchers and farmers, who believe the real agenda of professional activist groups like the Southwest Center is to destroy their livelihood and way of life, were devastated. The potential negative economic impact on agricultural counties, especially in Arizona and New Mexico, was enormous.

A coalition of agriculture groups, led by the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, filed their own lawsuit in March of 1998, arguing that the flycatcher habitat designation should be invalidated because the FWS did not correctly consider the economic impact of its decision.

Up to this point, the FWS has been operating under a Catch-22 system.

The ESA says the decision to add a species to the endangered list must be based "solely on the basis of the best scientific and commercial data available." No consideration of the economic impact is required, or even allowed.

But the ESA does require the FWS to perform an economic analysis before it designates critical habitat for an endangered species.

In practice, the FWS usually lists the species first, without designating critical habitat. No economic analysis is done. Then, when critical habitat is designated later, the FWS assumes that if there is any economic impact, it already occurred when the species was listed; therefore, it is ignored....

Using this logic, the FWS determined that the flycatcher habitat designation resulted in no economic impact, since it would "result in no additional protection for the flycatcher nor have any additional economic effects beyond those that may have been caused by listing and by other statutes.”

The Cattle Growers argued that this made no sense and they said it violated the intent of the ESA. They argued the Fish and Wildlife Service, when designating critical habitat, must perform a full economic impact assessment, including the economic impact that might have been caused by adding the species to the endangered list in the first place.

The 10th Circuit Court agreed. The court set aside the current critical habitat designation for the flycatcher and instructed the FWS to start over again with a new habitat designation, including a full economic impact assessment.

The court further opined, “The record in this case suggests that the impact will be immediate and the consequences could be disastrous.”

In making its decision, the court stated, “The root of the problem lies in the FWS’s long held policy position that critical habitat designations are unhelpful, duplicative, and unnecessary.” The court noted that once a species has been added to the endangered list, the FWS typically puts off designating critical habitat for it “until forced to do so by court order”.

Such court orders have resulted from the profusion of lawsuits being filed by groups like the Southwest Center. This is the kind of lawsuit for which President Bush has asked Congress to suspend funding for one year.

Most critics of the ESA—and these lawsuits—point to the fact that critical habitat designation has not helped recover even one endangered species. They believe that other, less economically destructive methods of species recovery are far more effective.

The flycatcher case is one of nearly a dozen similar suits in which New Mexico agriculture has been fighting for its life. A similar determination was made in a different case by a federal district court in Albuquerque several months ago, but this is the first time the issue has been determined at the appellate level.

“We hope we are creating a climate, through the courts, that will allow the custom and culture in New Mexico and the West to survive and hopefully even thrive again,” said Jimmy R. Bason, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers’ Association.

“Livestock grazing has been a part of New Mexico for nearly 400 years. Ranching operations have provided not only habitat for wildlife but also water and supplemental feed throughout that time. We believe that it is because we are here caring for the land that species have survived.”

[JR: This case is an example of what happens when government creates bureaucracies that implement regulations based on incomplete and questionable data by certain over zealous “nature lovers”. The only way to stop these abuses of authority is to unite as a group and challenge them in court, provided you can find an unbiased court. For once the justice system was at work in this decision supporting the ranchers and farmers. To be complacent when you hear of others’ rights being abused will not protect your rights when it becomes your turn. When you become responsible and informed and stand with others, you protect your rights, your freedoms and your properties. You only win when you fight for your rights and help others fight for theirs.]

RE: CHANGE THE STATUS IDEAS

HERE WE GO AGAIN?

NO, HERE WE START IN SERIOUS “DO IT”

Hatonn—This has to be personal in that I have to address my attention TO someone(s) or basically “no one” pays much attention while feeling it is a message, direction or input directly intended toward someone ELSE.

The blanket attitude is always: “When are you going to do something that makes ‘my’ way better—especially financially and healthwise?” Never! When are YOU going to do something to make your life better—especially financially and healthwise?

Understand that one attitude is acceptable to you—and the other lacks appreciation!

Can’t you see that anything I do in visible manipulation is going to cause YOU grief? I will not do such a thing, as there is enough grief on your orb to last a thousand lifetimes (about the right number for good calculation in reason and logic).

I (we) have met with the highest leaders of the global “community” now being caught in almost steel-clad shackles—and you can see where they went from there: forward into more manipulation, destruction of people and nations and finally to the brink of total demise of your ability to recover. Everything is but counted in CYCLES, even the perception of life itself.

What can be done to overcome the blockages in the pathway when it appears you are almost exhausted in attempts to reverse the position? Study the “opposite” presentation. This is necessary right to the so-called Central Bank of any “place”. What, perchance, is sacred about a Central Bank? Nothing that cannot be changed!

“The people” will go forth and shout and churn over this politician or that one—while missing the entire process of ongoing enslavement.

So, the OBVIOUS is to go to the ones opposed by the ones IN power and therein lays the possibility of discovery and change. And, no, I do not speak of war in the streets. War accomplishes one thing—the ability of the powerful to further suppress and shackle the people.

If there is denial, say, for use of our program or project, then we go around the blockage. We do not blow up anything.

There is a dam built right now and right here in the Philippines at the level of the Central Bank. This blockage is based on some “opinion” of someone sent forth to discredit GAIA nearly three years ago. DO YOU ACTUALLY THINK THAT WITH AS MUCH INFORMATION AS HAS BEEN GOING AROUND THAT THERE IS BASIS OF CONCLUSIONS FROM THREE YEARS AGO WHILE EVERY INVESTIGATIVE SERVICE HAS BEEN EMPLOYED TO CHECK OUT OURSELVES AND THE PROGRAM INVOLVED?

Especially when you discover that anyone who is placed in any “higher” or “responsible” position begins and usually ends their career in WASHINGTON, D.C., U.S.A.

I want to remind everyone that Washington, D.C. is ONLY the seat of the Corporation: Federal Government, Inc. The area is not even a State and has no State’s rights or participation—and yet the world is run from such centers established around the globe and called whatever will fool the most people most of the time.

The business of the Philippines’ most urgent and emergency problems have to wait for the orders from top-side, U.S.A. This might be good if it was simply “A” bigger and wiser brother helping a little brother. However, that is NOT the case, IS IT?

In the Philippines those trips to and fro are called “working visits”!!! Working on what? Is it the removal of garbage from the mid-city streets of Manila to the Bay? Is it the cost of fuel to run the pollution saturation to greater levels of disaster? WHAT exactly causes each Department Head to have to travel, at great expense, while the nation flounders, to run to the U.S. for either a “vacation” or one of these “working visits”, conferences or seminars? THE LIE, MY FRIENDS—THE LIE.

If we claim to bring something to THE PEOPLE of any place, we must GET TO THE PEOPLE! Now, when you have blockades preventing getting to the people or delays as you work through those who never produce—something is wrong and must be considered.

If you have had a coup, as in the case of the Philippines—but you see the games played ON THE PEOPLE being even more devastating under the guise of “better” leadership—you can sit back and recognize the circumstance.

Even over Estrada you can WITNESS THE BLACKMAIL taking place even regarding where he is “detained”. It is a fact, chelas, that if you are going to accomplish anything in the face of this ongoing play for POWER, you must get to the ones who are displaced and allow them to demand an audience and hearing by the ones in power as well as the most poverty-ridden citizen.

In Mindanao right now the people could move right into the establishment of their own CENTRAL BANK system. We have done nothing to promote the circumstances in that area—but the facts ARE that there is intent of demanding freedom and equality for those people to the South of Luzon.

The SAME THINGS are taking place in Indonesia and everywhere else around the globe. We need to look only to the focus of a smaller area, however, to prevent getting totally overwhelmed by the overall picture.

We have asked for privacy, not oblivion.

It is rather like the old saying: The enemy of my enemy is by definition my friend. THIS is not so but it certainly points to a direction in which you might find better reception if you are neutral and without political input.

GAIA, as is through participants and “management”, is to get our project respected—NOT TO OWN OR FURTHER CONTROL THE WORLD. SALVATION IS THROUGH SELF—NOT ANOTHER. If there is a feast on the table before you—and you are starving—will you eat or perish? That is simply the way it IS. You will ONLY ever have that which IS with which to work, students. AND, YOU DO NOT BECOME EVIL TO BE AMONG THE EVIL—YOU ALREADY DO THAT EVERY DAY OF YOUR PHYSICAL LIVES. PONDER ON IT.

IF, IN FACT, YOUR TRUTH AND IDEALS ARE SO SHALLOW AS TO WHIP LIKE A SAPLING IN THE STORM, YOU HAVE ALREADY A GREAT GAP IN YOUR “INTENTIONS” TO OVERALL GOODNESS. However, often times a Plan can best be unfolded and accepted by your most dedicated “getcha” enemy—when he thinks your program might just serve his own interests.

Every loser in the recent election process in the Philippines, for instance, is a potential FRIEND and ally. THAT, AND ONLY THAT, IS WHAT DISTURBS THE POWERS OF THE NEW WORLD ORDER.

The adversary KNOWS that when man chooses goodness, GOD CREATOR and TRUTH, he SHALL FIND FREEDOM. Here is where knowing TRUTH “CAN AND SHALL” provide the way to FREEDOM.

Do our people who are aliens in a foreign country from their own HAVE TO DO THIS? No, and they SHOULD NOT do such a thing. THE PEOPLE OF ANY NATION MUST DO IT FOR SELVES. This is not something to become a war between foreigners in another’s country, for goodness sakes. Ours is only to seek and find those who will care enough to do this task and yet they cower in fear of their disclosure, possibility of losing a “position”—usually with the government or power players.

These people have you wait until something happens and then after it happens they can’t do anything because it happened and they find better positioning FOR SELVES. It is simply the way of it and not even the preference of the participants. FEAR GUIDES EVERY FRAGMENT OF THEIR LIVES, even when they are reduced to brainless puppets on attached and limited strings.

Do we lose “time” in these encounters? Not really, for there is a sequence of events and recognition of people who must have been brought into the picture to accomplish the end GOAL.

Even in pressure and frustration you KNOW as much—but disappointments are but delays while positive capabilities are being set into motion. Often the things of the moment or within the space perceived cause you to reach out beyond the expected and experience and find magnificent potentials.

I believe you should have a very serious talk with your friend going to Jakarta so that with whomever he meets there will be recognition given to possibilities. Indonesia is IN SERIOUS POSITION FOR A MAJOR FALL. That fall could be turned into glory with understanding. Furthermore, the backup commodity right from the South Philippines could produce amazing interchange potential. DO NOT MISS OPPORTUNITIES TO STATE YOUR OWN CAPABILITIES AND POTENTIALS. AND NO, OUR PEOPLE DO NOT AND SHOULD NOT GO ANYWHERE FROM WHERE THEY ARE—PERIOD.

Remember, please, that I MET WITH THE POWER MASTERS and you are safe right where you are—each of you who come under my sheltering umbrella, (wings, if you prefer). You will make it, you CAN make it—if you want to do so. But, listen up, the NUT HAS TO BE CRACKED IF YOU ARE TO REACH THE MEAT OF SAME and this is true of a pinion nut or a coconut!

Neither will give up their very life-form easily. However, also realize that the most available fruit is often likewise the most vulnerable. Remember that spelta is the best grain around but is also the hardest “nut” to peel, crack and grind. This doesn’t mean that even the most difficult nut, say the pistachio as example, can’t be easily brought to open and share.

Our out-front team, however, can’t do it all, get this done—AND ATTEND THE PROBLEMS OF EVERYONE AND THING 9000 MILES DISTANT. They can certainly handle THIS front but not ALL FRONTS at the same time. THAT FACT, HOWEVER, IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO REALIZE YOUR BEST POTENTIAL TOOLS.

The work we do right here and right now on this book, SECRET SOCIETIES, is without other potential focus, the mandatory presentation and is requiring total overload in this arena. When the weariness piles on and other problems build, then negative assumptions hit hard.

We have to have this team here in this sector—it is not something convenient—it is mandatory. We have built a realization of integrity and credibility even in the midst of supremely orchestrated programs to break that position.

If the people back home will simply attend that which is back home—so that we can work without pressure from day to day—this will flow more and more rapidly. We must have that support back home, however, for without YOU there is nothing—no paper, no place, no team—no ability to function. Don’t you KNOW that the plan of the adversary was to accomplish exactly THAT? Well, it didn’t work and as battered as you all might be—survival of the legal cases alone should be a sign to you of accomplishment.

It is so that many, many people actually believe that that which they do is the correct thing to do. It very often only causes more problems when it is undertaken in selfish ways. You can bring hurt and problems to another, intentionally or inadvertently, BUT THE HURT ALWAYS WILL COME BACK TO SELF.

Sorry to you who think we might spend our time pondering on all these possibilities of pain and agony. We have no time to attend the three biggies: Judgment of people, hate as a consuming passion, revenge as a possible outcome or giving up time to the attention of same on the negative blasts regardless of what outcome may bring more loss. Face the possibilities, check out the probabilities—and move through the befuddlement of the moment.

The mind can only think about ONE THING AT A TIME, so if you fill it with negative thoughts, you will have so much less time to accomplish the positive outcome of desired potential. Remember that you ARE 100% POTENTIAL, so fabricate it how you will. I like to refer to “it” as CREATING. Creating requires a higher realization than simply fabricating from that which is already available—but that is adequate for our needs, since you must work within the circles of WHAT IS. Creation reaches a bit beyond and into KNOWING and finally realizing the opportunities of potential. Only through CREATIVE thought can you accomplish that which seems impossible in any “moment” of perception.

Why do I take time out of other demanding things to focus on this type of writing? Because my people are tired from the fingers to the brain (not mind)—but the brain will make every effort to distract mind from task. KNOW IT AS A UNIVERSAL LAW given by the adversary to conscious state of being. Challenges are fatiguing to every individual but it is what you do with those challenges that measures success or failure—TO SELF.

I also find it necessary to remind our own coalition of considerations as to how, who, why, when, where and above all WHAT.

Does this mean, to you elsewhere, that things are bogged or changed? No, positive things are happening all the way to the Vatican and elsewhere—as the Lords of War plan and stage one more atrocity. And it seems that when someone upon whom you depend ends up hospitalized, sick, or just delayed in a journey for a meeting, it is difficult to simply relax and enjoy the time available to accomplish something else, even if it only be a nap and a bit of “thinking”. My goodness, you people dislike positive THINKING. Most will attempt a task if it is given them, even if they resent the task itself. But, “thinking in creative” solutions is very difficult, indeed. Nobody likes doing that which is difficult or requires investigation for possibilities—even if it is just “locating” someone’s address or contact information. The mind is quick to point out your “limitation” of the moment and override the possibilities of simply getting a phone book and looking.

Your heaviest negative load, however, is assuming you already know what that other person thinks or will do. It is fine to learn from experience, but every circumstance is a different possibility—and you will often surprise yourself at the reception you might get from even your assumed worst enemy. Just always look at the other person’s point of view and act accordingly. You might just be surprised from whence will come your HELP.

The next section in the book we share is on the topic of Bio-Psychological Warfare and you needed this pep-talk, whether or not you think so NOW, before you are reminded of the massive effort to mind-warp each of you—including those who you perceive as the culprits in your daily experience. No, the brain-change and damage first came with those who THINK they have places of power and pass on that concept TO YOU.

As you read what the problems are, you will be tempted to be rather hopeless in realization. THAT IS THE INTENT SO, DON’T LET IT TOUCH YOU OR YOUR SANITY. LOOK TO OTHERS AND THEIR CHANGES AS YOU PERCEIVE THEM TO HAVE HAD A REALLY NEGATIVE BLAST, FOR THEY HAVE. LOOK AT THEM TO BETTER SEE SELF AND THEN YOU CAN CREATE YOUR PROTECTION SHIELDS WITHOUT FALLING TO THE PREDATORS AND SCAVENGERS. Check out the egos and observe well, for therein will be the clues to TRUTH of circumstances. What kind of “defense” is offered to cover ill-intent with mush and goo in an effort to fool the viewers.

YOU KNEW IT WOULD BE THIS WAY!

You are also going to find that my identification will become more evident as we move along and put puzzle pieces together. I met with some high-level personages through these past years referred to in this book—and THAT IS WHY MY NAME BROUGHT STARK, COLD FEAR FROM THE BEING AND MOUTH OF LT. COL. AL MARTIN WHO DEMANDED MY NAME NOT EVEN BE SPOKEN ON HIS PHONE LINES WHILE STATING THAT MY FILE WAS PUT AT SUCH A LEVEL OF CLEARANCE AS TO EXCLUDE THE VERY PRESIDENT OF THE U.S. FROM ACCESS.

I would suggest to all of you that I have grown NO WEAKER through the games at hand.

Salu and good morning, Hatonn

Distraction Masks Intent, Purpose Of Senate Bill 51

By Ron Kirzinger, 5/26/01

SLEIGHT OF HAND?

I want to share with you a somewhat embarrassing surprise from a few days ago as a result of some casual conversation with an attorney. I happened to mention to the attorney some of the forthcoming changes in Nevada's statutes affecting corporations, of which he seemed quite unaware—and really, quite disinterested.

“But that's really something, about that proposal to charge a special tax on new corporations, isn't it?” he asked. Asked for more information, he offered that State Senator Mark James had introduced a bill that called for a new charge of $500, in addition to the regular filing fees, for all new corporations formed. “And there's no organized opposition to this thing,” he volunteered, implying that the legislation might pass into law uncontested.

A scramble for information on the web-site of the Nevada Legislature did not yield ANY information on this bill, which appears to have been withdrawn, for lack of any other explanation. The results of subsequent inquiries have similarly been nil, though several people expressed that the bill had been vigorously opposed by the Nevada Association of Listed Resident Agents (NALRA). (And we might as well note right here that Nevada Corporate Headquarters on its web-site refers to itself as a “principal member” of NALRA.) Curiously, very few people were in any way aware of Senate Bill 51, upon which we have been intensely focused due to its major ramifications. In any case it is hard to imagine any support for a bill that would discourage the formation of new entities here, when the State has consistently moved to make itself more accommodative in this regard. Filing fees are now worth almost $40 million per year to the State Treasury and that is significant in a state with a very small bureaucracy and budget.

At this point it appears that whatever the James-sponsored bill WAS, it definitely was a typical DISTRACTION of the “red herring” variety. “Here, watch my hand very closely,” says the magician, as his OTHER HAND performs the REAL TRICK. Just as on the world stage, when all attention is focused on a particular event (say, the O.J. trial as one good example), it is wise to look past it and find the story that is being covered up. In this case, the real trick appears to be Senate Bill 51, quietly passed in the Senate 27-0 and in the Assembly by a vote of 41-0.

As a reminder, SB51 opens the back door for repatriation of capital currently in offshore jurisdictions, allowing virtually any non-Nevada entity to form itself here as virtually any type of Nevada entity. It also makes provision for a “noneconomic member” of an LLC, a member who, by definition, may own nothing but control everything—a worthy goal, indeed, soon to be built right into Nevada statutes. Oh yes, and in a change quite sure to be the most highlighted, SB51 changes the time required for a corporation to go into revoked status from 9 months to 2 years.

If anything, the subterfuge of the highly visible but preposterous—and now, apparently, withdrawn—James-sponsored bill adding $500 to incorporation costs should reinforce for you the tremendous significance of the new changes under SB51 we have been discussing, which could come into effect as soon as July 1.

ALTERNATIVE CURRENCY ACCEPTED HERE

Following the lead of CONTACT subscriber Robert Olson of Tennessee and with his kind assistance, Budget Corporate Renewals is now signed up as the Las Vegas Liberty Redemption Center for the value-backed currency produced by NORFED. NORFED (the National Organization for the Repeal of the Federal Reserve Act) has only been around for a couple of years but has been winning people over in bunches with their American Liberty Dollar, which is backed by silver.

Just this morning Robert reported that he had no problem using the $10 silver coin (which consists of 1 ounce of silver) to make purchases at some retail locations in his area. One clerk was apparently so enamored with the coin that she exchanged it for a $10 bill of her own in order to keep it for herself. For convenience, American Liberty Dollars also come in the form of paper, which acts as a warehouse receipt for silver held by NORFED for the backing of its American Liberty Currency. In addition, NORFED issues $20-denomination American Liberty Checks, also backed by silver, which can be used just like traveler's checks! Just fill in the name of the payee and pass it along to ANY merchant, who can process it just like any ordinary traveler's check.

If you are wondering what, specifically, you can do to help bring about some positive change in this country—look no further. You can start using value-backed currency NOW in the form of ALC (American Liberty Currency) instead of FRNs (Federal Reserve Notes) at an ever-increasing number of locations across the country. Budget Corporate Renewals now accepts ALC for payment of up to 50% of the cost of incorporation services—with plans to accept it for 100% payment, in time. You can buy ALC through Robert Olson's P.R.A.I.S.E. Redemption Center (865-980-2841) or through our Las Vegas Liberty Redemption Center (702-870-5351)—or hundreds (and soon, thousands) of other redemption centers around the country.

If you like the idea of playing banker, you too can sign up and become a redemption center. Just contact Robert Olson or myself at the above telephone numbers and we will lead you through the simple procedure. As a redemption center, you qualify for a 5% fee when redeeming the new currency and can earn additional money for sponsoring others.

For those of you with access to the Internet, full information can be found at the NORFED web-site: www.NORFED.org. When you check it out to your own satisfaction, you will probably find, as we have, that this new currency provides a better way.

“IT'S RENEWAL TIME”

A cheery-sounding cover letter from your Nevada resident agent accompanies perhaps a dozen other pages, including an invoice for a dollar amount that just about floors you. The fees for one resident agent with which many readers might be familiar have risen almost every year, to the point where renewal of a private corporation, including forwarding of the bank statements, runs to more than $840.

At Budget Corporate Renewals we do things a little differently in an effort to offer real VALUE to our valued customers. As a result, renewal of a private corporation with forwarding of the bank statements through BCR comes to just $420—amounting to savings of 50%. That's right, you pay just HALF as much through BCR.

Along with the reduced pricing comes reduced paperwork and the real point of this message is to help you understand BCR's streamlined procedure. You might be used to receiving a set of “annual meeting minutes” from your resident agent at renewal time. Let's consider the VALUE of that paperwork, shall we?

If you have some of that type of paperwork, pull it out and take a good look at it—for perhaps the first time. The first thing you might note is that in the case of a private corporation—one that uses nominee service—the meeting minutes are “signed” by the nominee; at least, an electronic facsimile of the nominee's signature is affixed.

The facsimile signature “attests” to “boilerplate” meeting minutes, which basically state “everything we did is OK and everything we will do is pre-approved”. Now, consider what a court of law might think of this arrangement with regard to proper adherence to corporate formalities. At best, this arrangement could be considered as an effort in a correct direction; but do you really want to stand in front of a judge and say that these are your proper corporate records? They don't really mean anything, do they? If you have been operating your corporation for some time, you probably have quite a few sets of these same, identical “meeting minutes”. And if you're like most people, you have very little, if any, proper documentation of the ACTUAL thought processes that governed the corporation's activities.

One example that most of you with private corporations might have in common pertains to the original decision to use nominee service. Is that documented in your corporate records anywhere? Probably not. But it really SHOULD BE. Here's a resolution that you might find useful for the purpose:

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF

{Insert Corporation Name Here}

The undersigned, representing all or a quorum of the directors of the corporation, do hereby consent in writing, pursuant to NRS 78.315, to the adoption of the following resolution relating to:

“NOMINEE SERVICE”

In the interests of privacy felt desirable to do honorable, good business and because the use of “nominee service” has been an accepted practice within the State of Nevada for decades, it is hereby RESOLVED that the corporation may use the services of a professional nominee, who shall have no power within the corporation but shall sign the annual list of officers to be filed with the Secretary of State.

Whereas the nominee has no other function within the corporation and no connection to its operations, it is further RESOLVED that the corporation shall indemnify and hold harmless the nominee.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned have affixed their signatures this ___ day of _____, ____.

DIRECTOR

DIRECTOR

One side-benefit of this outright and truthful declaration of the corporation's use of nominee service is that there is no need for trying to maintain the fiction of annual meetings. You not only do not need those boilerplate "annual meeting" minutes, you don't even want to have them around. They are wholly unnecessary, as annual meetings are NOT REQUIRED.

Who signs such a resolution? The REAL director(s) of the corporation. Keep in mind that the internal records of the corporation are actually directly protected by NRS 78.257, which makes it a gross misdemeanor for anyone to even attempt to access corporate records for purposes contrary to the interests of the stockholders.

What date should be used? The best date would be the date that the decision to use nominee service was made, probably very early in the corporation's existence.

This is only one, prime example, which is provided here so that you might set things straight within your corporate records. Throughout any given year, most corporations are governed by ongoing decisions made by those who direct its activities. Perhaps the "reason" why you have not been diligent in documenting such decisions is that you have been lulled into a false sense of comfort, wrongly believing that all you need is a set of annual meeting minutes. Not only is this untrue but it is dangerous, as it eliminates the wall of separation between yourself and the corporation (see "Budget's Tip of the Week #14" for additional considerations).

Here is a simple recommendation to help you tend the "brainless child" that is your corporation more effectively: Whenever a significant decision is made for the corporation, at least make a dated note of that decision and the reasons for it. Then put that note into the "resolutions" section of your corporate records, so it doesn't get lost. It will make it very easy to create any formal resolution required should it become either necessary or desirable to reveal your corporate records at any time in the future.

If you want to create proper, formal resolutions and feel that you need some assistance in composing them, we can help. If we can handle it over the phone, there is no charge for this service. Otherwise, we charge a nominal fee of $25 per unique resolution formulated, typed and mailed to you. There is no charge for any of our "standard" resolutions (appointment of officers, for instance, or the one relating to per diem expenses, as another example), provided they can be dictated over the phone or transmitted by e-mail.

As a final note on this subject of corporate renewal, we hold out this special offer to all CONTACT subscribers: If you want to keep your corporation current but cannot at the moment afford more than the fees owed to the Secretary of State, call us and we can make arrangements for deferred and/or extended payments of BCR's fees. It's called "good business", through which everyone benefits, and we are pleased to be of service, in honor and integrity.

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Respect Your Corporation And Others Will Have To

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #14:

Maintaining Separation Between the Corporation and Yourself

When properly handled, a corporation is a legal "person", separate, distinct and totally apart from you. The key to keeping things that way is to ensure that the corporation is indeed properly treated. The quickest way to lose the protection afforded by your corporate shelter is for you to treat it with disrespect.

One simple thing that many people fail to do on a regular basis—and which can tear down the walls of separation between themselves and a corporation—occurs when they sign documents in behalf of their "brainless child" (corporation). All it takes to do things right is to follow the signature with an indication that you are acting as an agent or officer of the corporation rather than in a personal capacity. If you are acting as a particular officer, as the vice president, for example—follow your signature with, "Vice President" or "VP". In cases where you would rather not disclose any particular position held within the corporation you may sign as "John Doe, Agent", which simply means that you are acting as an agent for the corporation and NOT in a personal capacity.

The above advice applies to ALL situations where you might sign for the corporation, including checks, of course, but also when signing such mundane things as invoices for goods received or services performed. And it certainly applies to any kind of agreement—a lease, purchase or rental agreement, for instance—as well as corporate resolutions. After a while you will find that you do this automatically and thus automatically uphold the fundamental protective insulation of your separateness from the corporate entity.

Failure to adhere to this basic corporate formality "could" allow a prospective litigant to assert that the corporation is nothing more than a "straw man" and that it actually functions only as your "alter ego". We have put the word "could" in parentheses because in Nevada there actually exists only one case in the last quarter-century where a prospective litigant managed to "pierce the corporate veil" and cause liability to be assessed against the corporation's owner/manager—and that was a case of outright and unabashed fraud. It's great to have that measure of protection but you can easily bolster it by developing the good habit of following your signature with a title.

The next essential step in maintaining separation between the corporation and yourself is to always document key decisions made for the corporation in the form of corporate resolutions. If you do not know how to construct a resolution, give us a call and we will be pleased to help out. Meanwhile, if all you do is put a simple memo into the "resolutions" section of your corporate records, you will have taken a MAJOR step toward maintaining your Nevada corporation's unequalled liability protection.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
