GAIA's Thrust Is FOR THE PEOPLE

5/23/01—#1 (14-280)

RE: SECRET SOCIETIES. Jan van Helsing
(EWERTVERLAG)

GCH COMMENTS: As you get into "space craft" I ask that you really use your gifted minds. The very MOST you had working for you regarding craft, etc., are possibly some extraterrestrials giving input and, yes, there were and are MANY craft within your "space". These craft referred to from the standpoint of Germany or even the U.S. are truly TERRESTRIAL in both origin and presentation.

Note, for instance, that in some tales of abductions and crashed craft which house beings without digestive systems or typical Earth anatomy, there are the "bathrooms" with human toilets, body parts in bottles while the entire craft was incinerated and on and on it goes.

UFO (Unidentified Flying Object) is a good term for these things because it MEANS

NOTHING! You can't even identify the various familiar craft in your skies and that is at best.

True SPACE CRAFT MOTHER SHIPS are often AS BIG AS YOUR PLANET and will have duplication of living facilities to meet the needs of various life-forms but manifest humanoids will have a fully functional "base" from which will come craft, probes and whatever else you might call the offshoots.

So, you have to use your heads, readers, and as well, KNOW that most of the interesting craft in your skies are very much terrestrial machinery—or fully visible holographic presentations to fool as many of you all the time as is possible. A holographic "picture" of the returning Christ is a good example and the project itself was called Operation Blue Beam.

I am asked specifically about the "ships" over the Philippines and the Atmospherians established in that area. Indeed, there are not only craft but also individuals right among you, plugging away.

How do you sort it? Study what you can find on the subjects presented, even here—and then you will have some conclusions. I do not have time nor inclination to repeat the information, for instance, that we have produced in the last 14 years of daily output. Truth doesn't "change" except as more is revealed which may or may not improve on realization.

Just as you have to realize that craft are real and also a game presented to "hook" you, note that technology is so advanced in every field as to boggle your minds. This includes in the fields of health, frequencies and waves along with weather tampering and total control of storms to cloning of any life-form—and frankly it is particularly easy to clone human beings even as complex as are your systems.

You want to know why this, that and the other is not used to make full disclosure? You would not be allowed to believe it—and it would jeopardize the entire program under way. If there is "force" involved, it is not acceptable—so God's Plan must be introduced and produced in "creation", not "coercion".

As we continue to run the incredible personal risks in running truth and "how things are", I believe you will understand, as readers, WHY THE GAIA INSTRUMENT WAS GIVEN OVER TO THIS RESOURCE TO GET IT BROUGHT FORTH.

This is, however, why it is so interesting that people try to use it and “us” as bashing bags and as if there is no possibility of goodness or relationship to God—or country.

I am continually amused at people who will not even give their name to us or even a “good” aka and yet expect us to hand over documents FROM THE HIGHEST ENTITIES OF THE SECRET SOCIETIES with GUARANTEES and PRIME TRIPLE A RATINGS.

YOU ARE NOT THAT NAIVE TO ACTUALLY BELIEVE WHAT YOU DEMAND—ARE YOU?

In your world today, my friends, the ONLY real hint of truth is the DENIAL after denial by the guilty.

The only reason the people at the top guilty-level don’t outright deny the GAIA program and documents is that THEY UNLAWFULLY USED IT AND THEY CAN’T GET RID OF ALL THE RECORDS—EVEN FROM PERU—UNTIL, AT THE LEAST, THEY GOT RID OF FUJIMORA. AND IT DIDN’T EVEN MATTER THEN, FOR THE “CERTIFICATE” EVERYBODY WANTS TO TALK ABOUT AND HAVE PRODUCED—HAS NO MEANING AS IT WAS CONVERTED IN 1989 TO A FULLY QUALIFIED, WITH OWNERSHIP DOCUMENTATION THROUGH LEGAL MEANS, CONTRACT.

It was agreed with the “powers that be” that we would not stir around in the domestic affairs of the United States and they would leave us alone. Of course, they have not left anyone alone but at most all that is anywhere near a statement about the documents is “possible sham” and that was at upstart of presence in the Philippines and dealt with things with Rick, Charles, etc., along with a man running for President here which we had met in the U.S. at NCH long before the trip to the Philippines.

GAIA has been checked out every way including upside down—and nothing is found to be wrong about anything stated or offered.

We have stayed out of political harangues—our commitment and agreement is to work without bias with whoever may be the choice of the people. We have done so. Our thrust is FOR THE PEOPLE.

The problem is that the nations hooked in any way to the World Order are on the hook with their very lives in addition to the countries themselves. It is again need time for the U.S. and New World Order to have such as the Philippines for war bases. Hasn’t anyone noticed you are at both World War III AND Armageddon? AND, THAT SECRET SOCIETY BUNCH OF THUGS WANTS ALL THE ASSETS RIGHT THROUGH THE MINERAL RIGHTS FROM ALL NATIONS.

Please go back and read about the downfall of America through the Federal Reserve System and see a miserable duplicate taking form in the Philippines where the government is so far in arrears that money has to be borrowed to pay even the teachers and police. The IMF bows out except for bookkeeping while hundreds of millions of DOLLARS are borrowed now from the World Bank—to pay the interest to the IMF yet.

Then when the prices are zilch the big boys come in and take the industries without even a song or a dance.

If you have kept up with us for the last decade, YOU WILL KNOW ALL THIS.

YOU HAVE NO ENEMIES IN OUTER SPACE, MY FRIENDS. BUT I REMIND YOU THAT SATANIC FORCES DO—AND WHO RUNS YOUR WORLD? NOT TOO GOOD A PICTURE, IS IT?

The entities in manifest form are isolated to your place and that is simply the way it IS. They are not welcome in the Cosmos with their outrageous evil and, therefore, you in manifest human form on the planet are stuck with that FACT.

“THAT IS WHAT IT IS ALL ABOUT, ALPHIE!”

The “black hats” CANNOT control anything non-manifest no matter how many games they play—so their only game board is the globe itself and your manifest “play”. You have been so lied-to for so long that you can’t even perceive what is “real” from what is “not real”.

Do you really think a died-in-the-wool person like a Henry Kissinger is going to suddenly become the hand-servant of a goodly God? Come now—haven’t you heard about “ego”?

Well, you had another equal to Kissinger and that was Baruch with whom “I” met personally, and the people with him, as well, decided to even hide that from you. If you want to talk about merry-go-rounds—try that story. And, yes, it is true and we can suppose that George Green (as he advertises) probably saw a shuttlecraft of ours in a hanger at Edwards Air Force Base. Talk about stupid efforts to hide everything—that was one of them.

Please, therefore, take this information offered and see what you can prove to self “must be” and remain open and flexible as other things unfold. Surely, you can see from the state of affairs in which you find SELF that there are secret societies, most of which operate at a level of societal interchange as worthy clubs—but have hidden masters. Surely, you do not have to be a rocket scientist to realize there is an International Banking Cartel (IBC) stealing from you at every turn.

Please, don’t get distracted by the fact that you are receiving what is available and what more daring writers are daring to share. It is not the spacecraft, so-called, that is dangerous to reveal; it is the working of evil cartels which are the danger to truthbringers. The silly games get more and more ridiculous while the theft grows ever bigger.

All I can tell you, really, at the moment, is that things are pretty serious as the dragons do battle over your very physical beings.

Planet Earth may well be beautiful and was created in perfection of that which life-forms must have to flourish. But it has become saturated and gives off such negative energy that it is avoided if possible by other planetary beings, at every opportunity. Yes, indeed, a description of “prison planet” is pretty graphic. The prison term? How about “as long as you are physically functional?” (Sonofagun!)

Now, can we go back to that old “illusion” bit? Good. You have just become informed in the last paragraph if you didn’t notice. The battle is STILL for SOUL. If you want to participate in cosmic life, you will learn your lessons so that you are acceptable (as a soul in growth) to your brothers in the ethers. You get off the wheel when you grow enough to send the very best—not the evil corruption. And by the way, the term “evil” is a form of word meaning “ego derived”. This is to possibly help anyone who says: “I’m too confused to understand.” Do you REALLY believe a perfect CREATOR would have you around for only 65 years, or whatever your average human lifespan might be, and then send you off to live happily ever after in a perfect heaven? Those in a “perfect heaven” DO NOT want your ego problems.

Too many problems to “work it out”? God sends you the solutions to those problems—BUT.....! You as a species will “if, and & but” yourself to death—and wonder why your head hurts.

We are making an effort, outside our load already too heavy, to get this information TO YOU. It is not for argument nor on demand for acceptance or denial. But if you think you aren’t manipulated by a Master group of very evil persons—you are WRONG.

Someone cared enough to send you the very best he could muster from years of research and WITH MANY OTHERS, and that is the bottom line. Toss it, if you only want to argue and shout your own opinion, for we do not offer it for either purpose. Remember something, please, God doesn’t need to PROVE anything to us (you or me)—but it is a long way past time to start proving your intent to God and stop the nonsense. If you lie about your status, you are automatically categorized with the “enemy”. “Ego” is 100% connected to SOUL TRUTH. SOUL is extraterrestrial, friends! It is not rooted in terrestrial being, for it is an eternal aspect experiencing. Ego comes along with the “house” and cannot separate from its focus on itself. So, ego is physical in perception—and soul is non-physical in REALITY.

Ah, but—(if & and)—we are writing here about Secret Societies and frankly, German craft.

SECRET SOCIETIES AND THEIR POWER IN THE 20TH CENTURY

CHAPTER 33

THE “VRIL-GESELLSCHAFT” OR NOT ALL GOOD COMES FROM ABOVE

The VRIL-GESELLSCHAFT (VRIL Society) does not exactly fit our subject which has a more political slant, but it is indeed one of the most interesting secret societies that ever existed. Therefore it just has to be mentioned here. In Germany there is not a single book, or indeed any material, to be found that would show up an organization of this name; the Allies successfully removed it all. But as you will see, not all the material has actually disappeared.

And I am very pleased that I can uncover this subject here, because you will see which “non-German” power circles have an interest to keep these events from the German people.

In 1919 Karl Haushofer founded a second order, the BRUDER DES LICHTS (Brothers of the Light) that later was renamed VRIL-GESELLSCHAFT. In this united the new Templar order DIE HERREN VOM SCHWARZEN STEIN (DHvSS, The Lords of the Black Stone) that emerged in 1917 from the Teutonic Order, and the SCHWARZE RITTER (Black Knights) of the Thule and SS elite SCHWARZE SONNE (Black Sun).

To compare the THULE and the VRIL-GESELLSCHAFTEN, it is easiest said the Thule-Gesellschaft dealt with material and political interests, while the Vril-Gesellschaft was more oriented towards the OTHER SIDE. But many concepts they shared, like Atlantis, Thule, the basic connection between the Teutons and Mesopotamia, but also the old sacred places like the Externsteine (external stones) or the Hausberg at Stronegg were areas of common research.

In December 1919 a small circle of persons from the Thule, the Vril and the DHvSS met in a specially rented forester's lodge near Perchtesgaden (Germany). They were accompanied by the medium Maria Orsic and another medium only known as Sigrun. Maria had mediumistically received transmission in a secret Templar script—a language unknown to her—with the technical data for the construction of a flying machine. According to Vril documents these telepathic messages came from the solar system Aldebaran which is sixty-eight light-years away in the constellation Taurus.

I would like to present here a short summary of the messages the Vril mediums had received over the years and which formed the basis for all further actions by the Vril-Gesellschaft:

“The solar system Aldebaran has a sun around which revolve two inhabited planets that form the empire SUMERAN. The population of the Aldebaran system is divided into the master race of “light God people” (Aryans) and several other human races that had developed by negative mutation from the “God people” because of climatic changes upon the planets. The coloured mutant races apparently are on a lower stage of spiritual development. [H: I personally don't quite see how one COULD be on a “lower spiritual development” stage.] The more the races intermixed, the lower the spiritual development of these peoples sank, which led to the situation that when the sun Aldebaran began expanding they could no longer maintain the space travel technology of their forefathers and could not leave the planets by their own means. The lower races, totally dependant upon the master race, had to be evacuated and were brought to other inhabitable planets. Despite their difference all the races respected one another and did not interfere with each other, neither the so-called God people nor the lower races. Each respected that the others just made their own developments (in contrast to what happens on Earth).

Around 500 million years ago the “light god people” started to colonize other earth-like planets, after the expansion of the sun Aldebaran and the resulting heat had made the original planets uninhabitable. It is said that in our system they first colonized the planet Mallona (also called Maldek, Marduk or—by the Russians—Phaeton) which existed in the area of today's asteroid belt, then between Mars and Jupiter. Mars was next. The proof for a highly developed race on Mars is run by the well-known face on Mars and the pyramid city which has been photographed by the Mars probe Viking in 1976. It is assumed that the master race of Sumeran-Aldebaran then also came to Earth for a first visit, witnessed by the petrified impression of a shoe found to be about 500 million years old, and squashed under the heel a trilobite, a little crayfish that lived then upon Earth and became extinct about 400 million years ago.

[H: I feel a bad headache coming on...]

The Vril people thought that later, when Earth became slowly habitable, the race of the Aldebarans landed in Mesopotamia and formed the master caste of the SUMERIANS which were described as fair, white God people. The Vril telepaths also found that the Sumerian language was not only identical with that of the Aldebarans, but also that it sounds like unintelligible German and that the language frequency of German and Sumerian-Aldebaranian were almost identical.

We cannot know whether these statements about Aldebaran were based on facts, but the construction plans and the technical details that the Vril telepaths received—wherever they came from—were so accurate that they led to the most fantastic idea men ever begot: the construction of a “Jenseitsflugmaschine”, a “flying machine for the other side”!

The concept of an “alternative science” emerged (today one would say “alternative energy forms”). But they only started on the project three years later. During this early phase of “alternative science” or “alternative technology” Dr. W.O. Schumann of the Technical University in Munich, both a Thule and a Vril member, held a speech a section of which is reproduced here:

“In everything we recognize two principles that determine the events: light and darkness, good and evil, creation and destruction—as in electricity we know plus and minus. It is always: either—or.

“These two principles—the creative and the destructive—also determine our technical means...

“Everything destructive is of Satanic origin, everything creative is divine. Every technology based upon explosion or combustion has thus to be called Satanic. The coming new age will be an age of new, positive, divine technology!” (from the German SS secret archives). [H: My headache is getting much worse! Do you REALLY wonder what, exactly, is WRONG ON YOUR PLANET?]

At the same time the scientist VIKTOR SCHAUBERGER worked on a similar project. Johannes Kepler whose ideas Schauberger followed had knowledge of the secret teachings of Pythagoras and had been adopted and kept secret by the KNIGHTS TEMPLAR. It was the knowledge of IMPLOSION (in this case the utilization of the potential of the inner worlds in the outer world). Hitler knew—as did the Thule and Vril people—that the divine principle was always constructive. A technology however that is based on explosion and therefore is destructive runs against the divine principle. [H: WHAT EXACTLY IS THE DIVINE PRINCIPLE? PLEASE, DON'T MOVE ON WITH THIS UNTIL YOU ANSWER THAT QUESTION.] Thus they wanted to create a technology based on IMPLOSION. Schauberger's theory of oscillation (principle of the overtone sequence, monochord) takes up the knowledge of Implosion. To put it simply: IMPLOSION instead of EXPLOSION! Following the energy paths of the monochord and the implosion technology one reaches the realm of antimatter and thus the cancellation of gravity.

[H: Well, with that technology as expressed here, it is never going to be a problem to outer cosmic space that man will ever intrude. And then there is “gravity” to consider. You don't understand the electromagnetic aspects of what you refer to as gravity. The facts are that a thing falls to “earth” if you toss it up because it seeks its own density—and if a thing could travel through the earth as it can through air (up or down), it would stop ploughing the tunnel when it reached its own density. Gas lighter than air does NOT fall down—it moves up. By now YOUR head should be hurting from simply lack of logic and reasoning. Something has to be done to make a heavier-than-air craft move off the ground. We have been through those lessons, so I don't wish to repeat it here.]

In the summer of 1922 the first saucer-shaped flying machine was built whose drive was based on implosion (the “other-side flying machine”). It had a disk eight metres across with a second disk with a diameter of six and a half metres above and a third disk of seven metres diameter below. These three disks had a hole at the centre of one metre eighty across in which the drive which was two metres forty high was mounted. At the bottom the central body was cone-shaped, and there a pendulum reaching the cellar—was hung that served for stabilisation. In the activated state the top and bottom disk revolved in opposing directions to build up an electromagnetic rotating field.

The performance of this first flying disk is not known. But experiments were carried out with it for two years before it was dismantled and probably stored in the Augsburg works of Messerschmidt. In the books of several German industrial companies entries under the codename JFM (for Jenseitsflugmaschine) can be found that show payments towards financing this work. Certainly the VRIL DRIVE (formally called Schumann SM-Levitor) emerged from this machine.

In principle the “other-side flying machine” should create an extremely strong field around itself extending somewhat into its surroundings which would render the space thus enclosed including the machine a microcosm absolutely independent of the earthbound space. At maximum strength this field would be independent of all surrounding universal forces—like gravitation, electromagnetism, radiation and matter of any kind—and could therefore manoeuvre within the gravitational or any other field at will, without the acceleration forces being effective or perceptible.

In June 1934 VIKTOR SCHAUBERGER was invited by HITLER and the highest representatives of the Thule and Vril societies and from then on worked with them.

After the initial failure the first so-called German UFO also came out in June 1934. Under the leadership of Dr. W.O. Schumann the first experimental round flying machine, the RFZ 1 (Rundflugzeug 1) was developed on the grounds of the aircraft factory Arado in Brandenburg. In its first and only flight it rose vertically to around 60 metres, then wobbled and danced in the air for minutes. The Arado 196 guiding system was utterly useless. The pilot Lothar Waiz just managed somehow to bring it down to the ground, jump out and run away before it began to act like a spinning top, turned over and literally ripped to pieces. That was the end of the RFZ 1, but the beginning of the VRIL flying machines.

Before the end of 1934 the RFZ 2 was ready, with a Vril drive and a “magnetic field impulse steering unit”. It had a diameter of five metres and the following flying characteristics: With rising speed the visible contours became blurred and the craft showed the colours typical for UFOs: depending on the drive setting red, orange, yellow, green, white, blue or purple. It worked—and it would meet a remarkable destiny in 1941, during the Battle of Britain, when it was used as transatlantic reconnaissance craft, because for these flights the German standard fighters ME 109 had an insufficient range.

By the end of 1941 it was photographed over the southern Atlantic on its way to the German cruiser Atlantis in Antarctic waters. It could not be used as a fighter though. The impulse steering allowed it only changes of direction at 90 degrees, 45 degrees or 22.6 degrees, but that is exactly the right-angled flying pattern associated with and typical for UFOs today!

After the success of the small RFZ 2 as a distant reconnoiter craft the Vril-Gesellschaft got its own test area in Brandenburg. By the end of 1942 the lightly armed VRIL-1-Jager (VRIL-1 fighter) was airborne. It measured 11.5 metres across, carried one person, had a Schumann-Levigator drive and a “magnetic field impulse steering unit”. It reached speeds of 2,900 to 12,000 km/h, could change direction at a right angle at full speed without affecting the pilot, could fly in any weather and had a 100% space capability. Seventeen VRIL-1’s were built and some versions had two seats and glass domes.

Also during this time another project was worked on, the V-7. Several disks were built under this code, but with conventional jet engines. ANDREAS EPP had designed a combination of levitating disk and jet propulsion, the RFZ 7. The design groups SCHRIEVER-HABERMOHL and MIETHE-BELLUZO worked on it. The RFZ 7 had a diameter of forty-two metres, it crashed on landing at Spitzbergen. A second craft was later photographed outside Prague. According to Andreas Epp this craft was to be armed with nuclear head to attack New York.

In July 1941 SCHRIEVER and HABERMOHL built a vertical take-off round craft with jet propulsion, but it had severe shortcomings. They went on to develop an “electro-gravitational flying gyro” with a “tachyon drive” which proved more successful. Then Schriever, Habermohl and Belluzo built the RFZ 7 T that was fully functional. The V-7 flying disks however were mere toys compared to the Vril and Haunebu disks.

Within the SS there was a group studying alternative energy, the SS-E-IV (Development Group IV of the Black Sun) whose main task was to render Germany independent of foreign oil. The SS-E-IV developed from the existing Vril drives and the tachyon converter of Captain Hans Coler the THULE DRIVE which later was called the THULE TACHYONATOR.

In August 1939 the first RFZ 5 took off. It was an armed flying gyro with the odd name HAUNEBU I. It was twenty-five metres across and carried a crew of eight. At first it reached a speed of 4,800 km/h, later up to 17,000 km/h. It was equipped with two 6 cm KSK (“Kraftstrahlkanhonen”, power ray guns) in revolving towers and four machine guns 106. It had a 60% space capability.

By the end of 1942 the HAUNEBU II was ready. The diameters varied from twenty-six to thirty-two metres and their height from nine to eleven metres. They carried between nine and twenty people, had a Thule Tachyonator drive and near the ground reached a speed of 6,000 km/h. It could fly in space and had a range of fifty-five flying hours.

At this time there existed already plans for a large-capacity craft, the VRIL 7 with a diameter of 120m. A short while later the HAUNEBU III, the show piece of all disks, was ready, with seventy-one meters across. It was filmed flying. It could transport thirty-two men, could remain airborne for eight weeks and reached at least 7,000 km/h (according to documents in the secret SS archives up to 40,000 km/h).

Virgil Armstrong, former CIA member and green beret, writes about German flying machines during World War Two that could take off and land vertically and fly at right angles. They were measured at 3,000 km/h and had a laser weapon (probably the so-called KSK power ray gun) that could pierce four-inch armour.

Professor J. Hurtak, UFO-logist and author of The Keys of Enoch writes that the Germans were in the process of building what the Allies called “the wonder weapon system”. Hurtak got protocols that described two events:

1. the erection of a space city at Peenemunde and
2. the enlistment and transport to the U.S. of the best technicians and scientists from Germany.

He also mentions the meticulous examination of the so-called FOO FIGHTERS. The CIA and the British secret service knew already in 1942 about the construction and the use of these flying objects, but they were off in their evaluation. Foo fighters actually was the Allies’ name for all glowing Germany flying machines. Probably there were two inventions that actually corresponded to the term foo fighters: the Flying Turtle and the Soap Bubble. Two completely different objects that the Allies held for one. The FLYING TURTLE was developed by the SS-E-IV at Vienna-Neustadt. Its outer shape recalled the shell of a turtle. They were unmanned probes that could cause disruption in the electric ignition systems of the enemy. They carried advanced “Klystronohren” (clystron tubes) that the SS called death rays. The ignition disrupter did not work perfectly at the outset; later follow-up versions did, however, and the UFO-logists will confirm that disruption of ignition, the cutting of electrical power to equipment, is a typical sign when a UFO is near. Wendelle C. Stevens, U.S. Air force pilot during the Second World War describes the foo fighters as sometimes grey-green, then red-orange, they approached his aircraft to about five metres and then stayed there. They could not be shaken off nor shot down and often they caused squadrons to turn back or land.

[H: In the book there are six pages of diagrams of discs which would be interesting but are in German, so most will only enjoy the picture value.]

The SOAP BUBBLES that were also called foo fighters were something completely different, though. They were simple balloons in which there were metal spirals that disturbed enemy radar. The success probably was very limited, disregarding the psychological effect.

At the beginning of 1943 it was planned to build in the Zeppelin works a cigar-shaped mother ship. The ANDROMEDA DEVICE of a length of 139m should transport several saucer-shaped craft in its body for flights of long duration (interstellar flights).

By Christmas 1943 an important meeting of the VRIL-GESELLSCHAFT took place in the seaside resort of Kolberg. The two mediums Maria Ortic and Sigrun attended. The main item on the agenda was the ALDEBARAN PROJECT. The mediums had received precise information about the habitable planets around the sun Aldebaran and one began to plan a trip there. At a January 22, 1944 meeting between HITLER, HIMMLER, Kunkel (of the Vril society) and Dr. Schumann this project was discussed. It was planned to send the VRIL 7 large-capacity craft through a dimension channel independent of the speed of light to Aldebaran. According to Ratthofer a first test flight in the dimension channel took place in the winter of 1944. It barely missed disaster, for photographs show the Vril 7 after the flight looking “as if it had been flying for a hundred years”. The outer skin was looking aged and was damaged in several places.

On February 14, 1944, the supersonic helicopter—constructed by Schriever and Habermohl under the V 7 project—that was equipped with twelve turbo-units BMW 028 was flown by the test pilot Joachim Roehlike at Peenemunde. The vertical rate of ascent was 800 metres per minute, it reached a height of 24,200 metres and in horizontal flight a speed of 2,200 km/h. It could also be driven with unconventional energy. But the helicopter never saw action since Peenemunde was bombed in 1944 and the subsequent move to Prague didn’t work out either, because the Americans and the Russians occupied Prague before the flying machines were ready again.

In the secret archives of the SS the British and the Americans discovered—during the occupation of Germany at the beginning of 1945—photographs of the Haunebu II and the Vril I crafts as well as of the Andromeda device. Due to President Truman’s decision in March 1946 the war fleet command of the U.S. gave permission to collect material of the German high technology experiments. Under the operation PAPERCLIP German scientists who had worked in secret were brought to the U.S. privately, among them VIKTOR SCHAUBERGER and WERNHER VON BRAUN.

A short summary of the developments that were meant to be produced in series:

The first project was led by Prof. Dr. W.O. Schumann of the Technical University of Munich. Under his guidance seventeen disk-shaped flying machines with a diameter of 11.5m were built, the so-called VRIL-1-Jager (Vril-1 fighters), that made 84 test flights. At least one VRIL-7 and VRIL-7 LARGE CAPACITY CRAFT APPARENTLY STARTED FROM Brandenburg—after the whole test area had been blown up—towards Aldebaran with some of the Vril scientists and lodge members.

The second project was run by the SS-IV development group. Until the beginning of 1945 they had three different sizes of bell-shaped space gyros built:

- The Haunebu I, 25m diameter, two machines built that made 52 test flights (speed 4,800 km/h).

- The Haunebu II, 32m diameter, seven machines built that made 106 test flights (speed 6,000 km/h). The Haunebu II was already planned for series production. Tenders were asked from the Dornier and Junkers aircraft manufacturers, and at the end of March 1945 the decision was made in favour of Dornier. The official name for the heavy craft was to be DO-STRA (Dornier STRAtospheric craft).

- The Haunebu III, 71m diameter, only one machine built that made at least 19 test flights (speed 7,000 km/h).

- The ANDROMEDA DEVICE existed on the drawing board; it was 139m long and had hangars for one Haunebu II, two Vril I’s and two Vril II’s.

There are documents showing that the VRIL 7 large capacity craft had started for secret, still earth-bound, missions after it was finished and test flown by the end of 1944.

1. A landing at the Mondsee in the Salzkammergut in Austria, with dives to test the pressure resistance of the hull.

2. Probably in March and April 1945 the VRIL 7 was stationed in the “Alpenfestung” (Alpine Fortress) for security and strategic reasons, from whence it flew to Spain to get important personalities who had fled there safely to South America and NEUSCHWABENLAND (explanation follows) to the secret German bases erected there during the war.

3. Immediately after this the VRIL 7 is said to have started on a secret flight to Japan about which however nothing further is known.

What happened to these flying machines after the war?

It cannot be excluded that a small series of the Haunebu II might have been built. The several photographs of UFOs that emerged after 1945 with the typical features of these German constructions suggest as much.

Some say that some of them had been sunk into the Austrian Mondsee, others maintain that they were flown to South America or brought there in parts. It is certain though that if the crafts didn't get to South America, the plans that did allowed for new ones to be built and flown there, for an important part had been used in 1983 in the "Phoenix Project", the follow-on project of the 1943 "Philadelphia Experiment". This was a teleportation, materialization and time travel experiment of the U.S. Navy that was more successful than you could imagine in your wildest dreams. There is enough material for another book, but it does not fit too well into our subject here. [H: Those will be listed at the end of the series for you who are interested.]

In 1938 a German expedition to the ANTARCTIC was made with the aircraft carrier Schwabenland (Swabia). 600,000 Km² of an ice-free area with lakes and mountains were declared German territory, the NEUSCHWABENLAND (New Swabia). Whole fleets of submarines of the 21 and 23 series were later headed towards Neuschwabenland. Today about one hundred German submarines are still unaccounted for, some equipped with the Walter snorkel, a device that allowed them to stay submerged for several weeks, and it can be assumed that they fled to Neuschwabenland with the dismantled flying disks or at least the construction plans. Again it must be assumed that since the test flights had been very successful some so-called flying saucers have flown directly there at the end of the war.

Perhaps some may think these assumptions to be a bit on the daring side, but there are strong indications that this may well have happened that way.

There is the question why in 1947 ADMIRAL E. BYRD led an invasion of the ANTARCTIC, why he had 4,000 soldiers, a man-of-war, a fully equipped aircraft carrier and a functioning supply system at his command if it was a mere expedition? He had been given eight months for the exercise, but they had to stop after eight weeks and high losses of planes undisclosed even today. What had happened?

Later Admiral Byrd spoke to the press:

"It is the bitter reality that in the case of a new war one had to expect attacks by planes that could fly from Pole to Pole." Further he added that there was an advanced civilization down there that used their excellent technologies together with the SS.

Norbert-Jurgen Ratthofer writes about the whereabouts of the Haunebu developments in his book "Zeitmaschinen" (Time Machines):

"The Haunebu I, II and III space gyros and the VRIL I space flying disk had disappeared after May 1945. It is very interesting to note in the context that after its nineteenth test flight the German Haunebu III is said to have taken off on April 21, 1945, from Neuschwabenland, a vast, officially German territory in the Eastern Antarctic, for an expedition to Mars, about which their is nothing further known. One year later, in 1946, the many sightings that suddenly occurred in Scandinavia of shining objects of unknown and definitely artificial origin caused a great stir among the Allies in East and West. Again one year later, in 1947, and well into the Fifties, a rising number of shining unknown flying objects, doubtlessly steered by intelligent beings mostly round, disk- or bell-shaped, sometimes cigar-shaped, so-called UFOs appeared over North America."

The text goes on to say that as a rule these objects were unlike the German developments. I beg to differ. Good photographic material proves that the Haunebu II version especially had been sighted very often since 1945. If you have wrestled with what is available in the UFO world for ten years as I have, that is a significantly high percentage of the cases where personal contacts with the people from the so-called UFOs were made, these were with especially beautiful Aryan types, blond and blue-eyed and that they either spoke fluent German or another language with a German accent (for insiders I would refer to the Adamski case of 1952, the Cedric Allingham case of 1954 and the Howard Menger case of 1956).

It is further said that colour photographs taken by a night guard in West Germany in the Seventies exist of a landed and restarted flying disk that had both a knight's cross and a swastika on its hull.

The flying machines just mentioned are well documented on photographs and films. There is the 60-Minutes documentary "UFO—Secrets of the Third Reich". The American Vladimir Terziski gave a three-hour speech at the September 1991 UFO conference in Phoenix, Arizona, where he showed slides of German saucers, construction plans and subterranean German bases. Also of interest are the book by the Italian air force commander Renato Vesco and the book by Rudolf Lusar "Die Deutschen Waffen und Geheimwaffen des Zweiten Weltkrieges und ihre Weiterentwicklung" (The German Arms and Secret Weapons of the Second World War and Their Development), J.F. Lehmanns Verlag, Munich 1971.

Do you see now why the subject of UFOs is treated as nonsense by the media, especially in Germany? Upon this German background it becomes evident that the news and media world controlled by the Illuminati through the Anglo-American Zionist lobby shirks no costs to keep the German citizens from research in this area.

The Question arises from where the Thule and Vril secret societies got their knowledge about the construction of these flying machines? Also their knowledge of gene technology in which area the Germans were also way ahead of other countries?

According to Herbert G. Dorsey and other researchers they had, beside the construction plans the Vril-Gesellschaft had received through telepathic contact with extra-terrestrials, a non-terrestrial saucer that had crashed in the Black Forest in 1936 and whose undamaged drive had proved a great help to the Germans. But there is practically no proof of that, and no living eye witnesses are known.

But these exist in America, and in large numbers. For around the same time the Americans recorded quite a number of crashes that could not be kept entirely secret. More of that later.

Back to the political arena. Apart from the fact that I.G. Farben supported Hitler, their cartel partner Standard Oil (Rockefeller) fanned the flames against the Nazis. The Ford Motor Company for instance helped to build up the American army while at the same time producing in Germany military vehicles for the Nazis. Ford and Opel (subsidiary of General Motors that is controlled by J.P. Morgan) were the two largest producers of tanks in Hitler's Germany.

Whatever the outcome of the war, these multinational companies had already made their cuts. Many enterprises followed this principle during the Second World War.

Why is there nothing about all this in schoolbooks or encyclopaedias? Especially in Germany where the freedom of the press is apparently honoured and the truth is taught?

One of the reasons is that the Rockefeller Foundation spent US$ 139,000 in 1946 to present an official history of the Second World War which covered up the whole story of the U.S. bankers building up the Nazi regime as well as the occult and mystical background of the Nazis. One of the main sponsors was Rockefeller's own Standard Oil Corp.

[END OF QUOTING CHAPTER 33, Part 16]

I believe the nicest thing I could do at this point is just "hang up the phone".

Do things look good for planet Earth? Not so far—but I hate to remind you that it is strictly UP TO YOU! GOD, AND THEREFORE YOU, CAN CREATE—AND THE ENEMY (SATAN) CAN ONLY USE THAT WHICH IS CREATED TO BASICALLY DESTROY OR DECEIVE. THAT IS THE GAME IN WHICH ALL PEOPLE MUST PLAY—UNTIL YOU CHANGE IT.

Good evening; sorry for such a long day, dharma. Salu, Hatonn

RE: SECRET SOCIETIES, Jan van Helsing (EWERTVERLAG)

GCH COMMENTS: Since computer "ate" all the writing thus far this morning and since it is moving on toward noon now, let us just leave the comments and move on with the Secret Societies copy. If we can locate the undigested portion, we can add it later, otherwise we will simply pass it for today. We will have great interruptions from now on today, so please let us not take time to repeat my comments.

The comments dealt with some personal discussion but mostly with book information. I will repeat this much: The Phoenix Journals are the best resource of where to find backup information. We are doing our best to offer the information from THIS AUTHOR and are not in the book-selling business for miscellaneous reading lists. We will certainly, at the end of this series, give references as listed but that is not even a request of the author.

Our people have no time or staff to locate specific writings in those Journals, either, but will do the best they can to provide that which is available.

The Journals available are listed on the back page of CONTACT but the publications are over 100 in arrears. All the backup information, however, for this material in point is in those published Journals.

Price? Well, Mr. Green sold the Journals at $10. I believe the price offered at present is $3.00 each to clear warehouse space, clear up hanging problems and generally preparing to MOVE ON FORWARD.

George Green, it is said, still makes his speaking rounds and claims he is THE appointed spokesperson for the Cosmic Federation, i.e., "Space Brothers". NO, HE IS NOT! He is a certified thief, liar and cheat. He was ordered to return 110,000 Journals to the Phoenix Institute. He did not and, therefore, it is assumed that he has made over a million $$ (minimum) on sale of same. He was also ordered in a settlement to pay an additional $25,000 but has not and this was fully two years ago.

Other litigation brought to the Nevada Supreme Court by Mr. Green and his attorneys have been dismissed—again—after nearly a decade of paying lawyers only to be extended into infinity. The cases are dismissed and that team of miscreant attorneys sanctioned for the malfeasance.

Also the case against the Institute for mismanagement has been dismissed and the time run out for timely review or objection by the Plaintiff party.

Will this end it? Probably NOT, since lawyers never go away—they just take all the money available, win, lose or draw. No offense to you good attorneys but the joke came from your own Journal.

We need to be free of these things so that our foundation is stable and ready to serve better, YOU, our friends and readers.

Have these things cost us greatly? Indeed, into the millions of dollars in losses. But it seems no one wants to go after the culprits—only bash harder the accused NOW PROVEN TO BE TOTALLY INNOCENT OF ALL CHARGES OF MISMANAGEMENT.

THIS, HOWEVER, CAN ONLY LEND CREDIBILITY TO THE INTEGRITY OF OUR PRESENTING REPRESENTATIVES RIGHT IN BEAUTIFUL DOWNTOWN MANILA, PHILIPPINES.

Ah, but does this mean a need for further action such as bankruptcy for the people involved, or the Institute? NOT IF WE ARE ALLOWED TO GET THIS PROJECT OPERATIONAL.

Dharma, please, let us just move on with the book and we will find opportunity to discuss this further at a better time. Thank you. Life goes on while you make other plans!

[QUOTING SECRET SOCIETIES:]

(PART 17)

CHAPTER 34

THE SECOND WORLD WAR

Although hundreds of books have been written about the tragedy that was the Second World War, very few people know anything about what was really behind this costliest of all wars.

The history of the war as it is told in countless history books in Germany, England, the U.S. and Japan has only little in common with the actual causes and objectives of that war. What is recounted is certainly correct, but half the truth has been omitted.

“The ‘picture painters’ of the controlled mass-media have also done a masterful job of pulling the wool over the eyes of those whom they are supposedly dedicated to inform and educate. These peddlers of deception have been guilty of reducing the minds of the general public to what has rightly been described as ‘a state of impotent confusion’ regarding World War Two.” (Des Griffin: Descent Into Slavery?)

Slowly but surely the truth comes out now and a clearer picture of what really occurred is emerging. What we know of the war are the historical dates. Who, when, where, with whom did what. But those who actually pulled the strings are never mentioned.

After the Hitler-Stalin pact Poland was to be split up and Hitler proceeded to bring this about on September 1, 1939. According to the conditions of the treaty signed twenty years previously, (pro Illuminati) England and France were obliged to enter the fight on Poland’s side. After the “Dammerkrieg” (Twilight War) Chamberlain who was called a coward was replaced by the former Zionist Freemason CHURCHILL. He was a better collaborator and he soon ordered the air strike on Germany. Since the Germans never expected England to attack, they were not prepared. Several events show that Germany did not want to war with England.

In an address in 1933 Hitler said that in its fullest unfoldment Communism would also contain the British Empire. In that case, Hitler added, he would help to defend the British if he was called.

So, on May 10, 1940, German troops did allow the English to evacuate 335,000 soldiers from the beach at Dunkirk. And with his flight to England Rudolf Hess had tried to unite the two strongest northern nations. But Winston Churchill was a good friend of BERNARD BARUCH who had helped Woodrow Wilson and Roosevelt to their presidencies.

It was BARUCH who convinced Churchill to support the foundation of the state of Israel. In May 1939 Churchill ordered Colonial Minister Lloyd to withdraw the English troops from Palestine and to equip and organize the Jews for their own defense.

WHAT HAPPENED IN AMERICA?

Most Americans did not want to get involved in another war, but the Illuminati had differing views. The 32nd President of the U.S., the hidden Jew FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, descended from the famous Sephardim-Jewish Delano-Family and the German Jewish family Rosenfeld, was a Grand Master of the Freemasons, member of the CFR and the Committee of 300. One of his closer allies was BERNARD BARUCH and for at least eight years he was closely linked with COLONEL HOUSE. As one can see, the Illuminati had their man already in place, and this man thanked them by passing an unconstitutional law, namely that before the end of April 1933 all privately owned gold had to be handed in at the bank, failure to do so resulting in a fine of US$ 10,000 or 10 years imprisonment or both. Then gold was valued at US$ 20.67 per ounce. After most gold had been collected, the gold price rose to US$ 35 per ounce. The insiders had their gold in foreign banks and later sold it at the higher price, naturally.

[H: Its all there in the records, readers. This proves that since 1933 the U.S. WAS BANKRUPT, just as stated, and also moved off the gold standard which was already moot because of the Federal Reserve Act already in place and operative. U.S. citizens could never again demand gold for their currency but foreign countries (Israel being the biggest operator) could demand gold in payments and did so to the tune of at least $3 Billion dollars paid annually IN CASH by the U.S. to Israel—in addition to all the other PERKS of the position. Then again in this current time it was DECLARED that the U.S. no longer had a “gold standard” and again, even Mr. Gingrich (U.S. Senator) announced that the U.S. was totally bankrupt.

So, we are very happy to remind everyone who might question GAIA’s position: There is a valid, legal CONTRACT (no longer needing anything of such as a gold certificate) duly recognized and entered as such in the courts and records of the United States of America and all appropriate parties fully notified. The debt of the U.S. Treasury (and thus through the Federal Reserve) in this contract cannot be denied, for it is fully based on GOLD and that debt was assumed by the U.S. Treasury Department (Government of the United States of America) PRIOR TO THE FEDERAL RESERVE ACT OF 1913.

Now, anyone who might scoff at same must realize now, if not before, that this asset was used many times and into the billions of dollars in value—unlawfully. That does not concern us of GAIA—but it will give you an indication of WHY the IMF/WB (upstream of the Fed) might prefer to “stonewall” validation in WRITING or doing much more than giggling about the “asset” in point. They said in their agreements that we have publicly published that that is exactly what they would do. Fine, for in the end, my friends, gold will speak louder than that which they have squandered from you-the-people, along with your WORLD.

By the way, to you sleeping uninformed: Roosevelt and his buddies such as Baruch knew PRIOR TO THE PEARL HARBOR STRIKE THAT IT WAS FULLY PLANNED—RIGHT DOWN TO THE TIME AND DATE. How is that for a caring president attending his flock of citizens—and still gets accolades for his deception.]

By giving the Japanese on November 26, 1941 an ultimatum by asking them to withdraw all their troops from Indochina and Manchuria, President Roosevelt provoked them to war.

This is a historical fact, but a well-kept secret. Roosevelt’s ultimatum was deliberately kept from Congress until after the attack on Pearl Harbor. All agreed the Japanese had no other option than war. The Japanese themselves did all they could to avoid a war with the U.S. The Japanese prime minister, PRINCE KENOYE, repeatedly asked to come to Washington or Honolulu to meet with Roosevelt and try to find an alternative. Later he was even prepared to meet the demands by the U.S., just to avoid going to war, but several times Roosevelt refused to speak with him, since the war with Japan had been long since planned, as was the war with Germany.

At the same time Roosevelt told the American people: “While I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, and I shall say it again and again and again: Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.”

One is but speechless in front of such a blatant deception of the people.

The American military knew from several sources that the Japanese would attack Pearl harbor first.

1. The U.S. ambassador in Tokyo, JOSEPH GREW, wrote in a letter to Roosevelt on January 27, 1941, that in the case of war between Japan and the U.S. Pearl Harbor would be the first target.

2. In August Congress member DIES had given to Roosevelt not only the same information, but also the strategic plan of attack with a map. He was forced to silence.

3. Further the American secret service had succeeded in 1941 to decipher the diplomatic as well as the military codes of the Japanese. Roosevelt and his advisors knew the date, the hour and the target in advance.

AL BIELEK, one of the two survivors of the Philadelphia Experiment told me that he had also been stationed in Pearl Harbor during that time, but one week before the attack he—together with his brother—was pulled out, because they were meant to work with Nikola Tesla on the Philadelphia Experiment. They were told at the time that they were taken out because of the impending attack, that they were too valuable to die there.

Pearl Harbor was told only two hours ahead and therefore was ill-prepared. It succumbed pitifully. That was exactly what Roosevelt wanted, for now he could call the Japanese “treacherous swine”, and the U.S. had to retaliate.

To those who still don’t believe that more is needed to become president or chancellor than just being a good politician, the following example will hopefully serve as an eye-opener. It concerns the later President of the U.S., DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER.

To guarantee the success of this infamous intrigue the Illuminati needed one of their devoted vassals to be supreme commander of all the allied forces in Europe. The person selected for the job was Lieutenant Colonel Dwight D. Eisenhower. His career in the army is not just interesting, it is a fascinating study of what can happen to an ordinary army soldier if he has the “right” people behind him. For Eisenhower, too, was a friend of Bernard Baruch.

[H: Yes, and as a matter of fact: I, HATONN, PERSONALLY MET WITH BOTH EISENHOWER AND BARUCH ALONG WITH ONE OF YOUR INFAMOUS CATHOLIC CARDINALS.]

GERMANY WANTS TO SURRENDER

We have to thank the son-in-law of President Roosevelt, Colonel CURTIS B. DALL that the story of Commander GEORGE EARLE became known. Earle was a former Governor of Pennsylvania, U.S. ambassador to Austria (1935-39) and Bulgaria (1940-42). Later he was Roosevelt’s personal military attaché in Istanbul when in the spring of 1943 the head of the German secret service, ADMIRAL WILHELM CANARIS came to see him. Canaris said that an unconditional surrender as it was asked for by America and England was unacceptable for the German generals. But if the American President would indicate that he would accept an honourable surrender of the German army this could be arranged. The German army would then be posted at the Eastern front to fight there against the approaching Red Army.

Soon after this meeting Earle had an even longer one with the German ambassador FRITZ VON PAPEN who made the same offer. At first Earle was not sure he had heard right, then he realized these men were serious, so he sent a message to Roosevelt. Nothing happened. He sent another one. Again nothing. When Canaris returned a few days later to hear Roosevelt’s response, Earle couldn’t give him one. Earle then sent a most urgent message to Washington, but again there was no answer. Neither Earle nor Canaris could know that a capitulation of Germany was not wanted. Roosevelt forbade Colonel Earle in a personal letter of March 24, 1945 to say anything about this event.

Once the German army was driven from Rome the army led by General MARK CLARK was kept back, although it could easily have gone on to enter Yugoslavia, Vienna, Budapest and Prague.

Instead some of his soldiers were sent to the Normandy, which cost the lives of about 100,000 people and had drastic effects on the future shape of Eastern Europe.

Why?

At the Allies’ conference in Quebec in 1943 an agreement was reached, urged by General GEORGE C. MARSHALL, that was named “Russia’s Position”. There it was said that Russia’s position after the war will be a dominating one...

The men who were outwardly in charge of the U.S.—Roosevelt, Marshall and Eisenhower—had strict orders from their superiors, as you will also see in the next example, to conduct the war in such a way as would best further the interests of the Illuminati according to the Protocols of the Elders of Zion.

Therefore, the Russian army was given ample time to spread out.

CHAPTER 37

THE AMERICAN SUPPORT FOR THE SOVIETS DURING THE WAR

An important factor to help in understanding the events of war is a remarkable book that is avoided at all cost by all the big media, film producers and most libraries: From Major Jordan’s Diaries.

MAJOR RACEY JORDAN was a veteran of the First World War and because of his military experience got the post of a “lend lease” agent and liaison officer to the Russians. The first two years he served in Newark, Montana (?) and from May 10, 1942 in the United Nations Depot No. 8, Lend Lease Division, Newark Airport, Newark, New Jersey, International Section, Air Service Command; Air Corps; U.S. Army.

As liaison officer between the U.S. and the Russians JORDAN was surprised about the influence the Russian Colonel ANATOLI KOTIKOV had over Roosevelt’s aide HARRY HOPKINS. Every time the Russians needed anything, even special equipment, a call to Hopkins by Kotikov was all that was needed for a speedy delivery. Later Jordan noticed the black cases that accompanied almost all deliveries and he became curious. How he later succeeded in opening some of these cases is an adventurous story. He found papers about nuclear fusion, a list of the material on its way to the Soviet Union, two pounds of uranium 92 and deuterium. At this time he didn’t know what it all meant. He wrote a diary with detailed descriptions of this and further events. In Siberia a money plane had crashed which had carried printing plates, paper and other materials so the Russians could print the same occupation money for Germany as the Americans!

Because of the “lend lease” treaty Stalin received from the U.S. 20,000 aircraft, almost 400,000 trucks, twice as many tanks as they had when the war started, railway engines, cars, food as well as secret material.

Why had the U.S. helped the Russians to that extent during the Second World War? And these were just a few examples.

The Illuminati created the red regime. They knew what they wanted. Soviet Russia was an obvious tool in their plan (protocols) to enslave the whole world under a new World Order.

CHAPTER 38

THE PROTOCOLS HAVE TO BE FULFILLED

And Japan was denied its surrender just as Germany had been. The Japanese capitulated unconditionally in March 1945. In that month the Japanese supreme command sent a note to the American embassy in Moscow, the Russian embassy in Tokyo and the Pentagon in Washington saying that the Japanese Imperial government would like an unconditional surrender.

THE AMERICANS IGNORED IT! Why? Later they claimed that they were not able to decipher it! But how then did they decipher the diplomatic and military codes before? We know the answer: The Japanese island had not yet been destroyed. The big show was still to come. The B-29s carried out the big “city redevelopment” in Japan for the international bankers. First the destruction of Tokyo, then the bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

It is said that many of the upper echelon in the Japanese army were members of a mystical secret society called Black Dragon, but I know nothing more about it.

The post-war rebuilding of Germany and Japan brought astronomical profits for the international bankers. Both the Germans and the Japanese had the most industrious workers and managers. Yet their governments are also chosen and guided like puppets by the Illuminati. Later, when you see the members’ lists of the different organizations this will become very clear. Many of the German politicians in government are just as much part of this game as are the Americans or the Russians.

WHAT WAS ACHIEVED BY THE SECOND WORLD WAR?

In human terms the war was an absolute unmitigated disaster. For the Illuminati it was a resounding success. The Second World War with the estimated 30 million dead (Solzhenitsyn says 100 million) is clearly part of the worldwide reconstruction programme of the Illuminati, the objective being the installation of Weishaupt’s “Novus Ordo Seclorum”, the New World Order.

For the Illuminati Lenin was the perfect man in Russia, in the political and psychological course of events Communism had the role of the foil, i.e., the conspirators used Communism as the bogey man to force Western nations into agreements and commitments that ran against their proper interests. At the beginning of the Twenties Lenin told the world of the future plans of the Illuminati:

“First we will take Eastern Europe, then the masses of Asia.”

This objective was reached as a result of World War Two. The larger part of Asia followed a few years later. The Vietnam debacle was part of the cleanup drive where loose ends were tied.

The Second World War brought the Illuminati even more. The large cracks in the old world order opened wide and the financial and social foundations of traditional morals were swept away. America whose security was never endangered before or during the war was forced by the maelstrom of world politics to give up its own politics.

The Second World War cost America 400 billion US$ and had the national debt rise to 220 billion US$. Because of this the U.S. was fully in the hands of the international bankers. That war paved the way for the foundation of the UN in 1945, whose headquarters are on land in New York donated by ROCKEFELLER. At least forty-seven of the founding members of the UN were also in the CFR. The UN is the largest Masonic lodge in the world, as is shown by its emblem. Like the Great Seal shown on the one-dollar bill it is a Masonic symbol. Like the Statue of Liberty was given to the American Masons by the French Masonic Order of the Grand Orient.

What became of the Nazi secret service, the gestapo?

William Bramley writes that the CIA had accepted the offer by REINHART GEHLEN, the head of German secret operations in Russia, to help build an intelligence network in Europe. Many former SS members were then part of Gehlen's organization. It became an important arm of the CIA in Western Europe and also formed the basis for the Secret Service of the Federal Republic of Germany. From the documents of the Nuremberg trials the CIA got information about the psychiatric methods of the Nazis which decades later were to be used in the infamous experiments about consciousness control.

INTERPOL, a private international police organization for the fight against criminals and drug traffickers operating world-wide was headed several times up to 1972 by former SS officers. This is not half as astonishing if one knows that during the Second World War Interpol was controlled by the Nazis.

GERMANY DID NOT SIMPLY LOSE THE WAR!!!

To finish on Germany and World War Two I will tell you something you definitely never read in any other book, something which will surely make you wonder about what you are told in your school books and will question your present picture of the world.

As you know from history books, the German Reich never signed a peace treaty, because a peace treaty has to be signed by the leaders of the nation. But Hitler probably went to South America and anybody else was dead or gone as well. So Dönitz, substituting for Hitler, signed a cease-fire treaty for two arms of the Wehrmacht.

And this cease-fire then was broken by the Allies in their attack, led by Admiral Byrd in 1946, on Neuschwabenland, the German territory in Antarctica.

They tried to get at the elite of them all who sure were smart enough to have a back door open—Neuschwabenland! And since the German elite, the Schwarze Sonne (Black Sun) and the VRIL-Gesellschaft was at that time and still is today living in this particular area (at least some of them do), the Allied Troops had been destroyed within weeks.

And because of the broken cease-fire, the German Reich was again—and still is to this day—at war with the Allies!!!

You may wonder, but this is an irrefutable and definite fact of which every important, high-ranking German that I have met knows. If the Allies would have won in Neuschwabenland against the “Schwarze Sonne”, they would have come out with it on every front page in the world. But because of their defeat they kept it very secret. The same with their attack on Neuschwabenland in 1958, when the Americans blew up two nuclear heads, one below the ice and one above, to get access to the subterranean German base. But of course they failed, because the technology the Schwarze Sonne has down there is, as Admiral Byrd already said, “highly advanced”. And so the Anglo-American Establishment with their Khazar-illuminated bankers' background have been smart in keeping the whole affair “top secret”.

The Allies were very successful in their newspapers and nowadays with their Hollywood background to make the Japanese and the Germans look the “bad guys”, but in fact it is rather the opposite that is true! Remember the attack on Pearl Harbor which has been staged by the Americans themselves. Please check this information for yourself, making sure that what you will find out is based on your own research, and that it is the truth!!

To this day Germany does neither have a peace treaty nor a cease-fire nor anything else. Germany has an illegal state installed by the Allies—the Federal Republic of Germany.

If what I'm saying is true, there has to be some evidence that the Illuminati would have some of the their puppets sitting at the top of the German Federal Republic, like in the other nations, too.

Well, one of them was Chancellor Willy Brandt, a Jew, who's real name was Herbert Ernst Karl Frahm, offspring of the famous Israelite family Frahm from Lubeck, Germany. He was a member of the Committee of 300 and the Bilderbergers.

If the information of Mr. Rudolph from Melle, Germany who went to court against Mr. Kohl, and the Jewish writer Jacov Lind is correct, Bundeskanzler (Chancellor) Helmut Kohl is one of the them too. According to them, his real name is Kohn. Lind states in his book The Inventor (Methuen, London 1987):

“The great-grandfather of the present Chancellor of Germany wrote his name still with an “n” instead of an “l”, he was a door-to-door salesman from Buczacz. I have documents and proofs. A whole library of proofs in the strongroom at the National Bank in Vaduz.”

The Khazar-Jewish grandparents changed their name from Kohn to Kohl when they came to Germany from Galizia in Poland, to cover up that they were Jewish. According to Mr. Rudolph, Chancellor Kohn/Kohl is also a member of the Bilderbergers, the Grand Orient Freemasons and the B'nai B'rith who bestowed upon him their highest blood order, the Order of Joseph. Further, a Khazar Jew should never head the Christian Democratic party (CDU) nor be elected Chancellor of Germany.

The Federal Republic of Germany is a substitute nation until Germany has a peace treaty. An official NATO law states that until that peace treaty has been signed, the borders of 1937 of the German Reich still apply legally. Because of this NATO law, colonies of the German Reich still exist in total legality today, like the “Colonia Dignidad” in Chile or one in Argentina, 100 miles north of San Carlos de Bariloche (size: 10,000 square miles!!!) To understand what that means is exemplified by the ex-foreign minister of the Federal Republic of Germany, Hans-Dietrich Genscher, who tried to get into the Colonia Dignidad three times and never got permission to do so. He flew down there three times, stood in front of the gate and they said “no”! And according to NATO law the German Reich's colonies are absolutely legal. The same with the colony Neuschwabenland which you will still find on maps of the South Pole of the 70s.

So, because of this you will now understand the act of treason the newly installed Bundeskanzler Helmut Kohl perpetrated against Germany when he handed over Neuschwabenland to the NATO (according to a NATO major who wants to be unnamed).

ABSOLUTELY ILLEGAL!!! He handed 600,000 km² of German territory over to the enemy (which is exactly what they are again since they broke the cease-fire)—the Allies!

And that is just what the IRS and the Federal Reserve system in the U.S. are, too: ILLEGAL!

According to a Schwarze Sonne member, who claims to live in a subterranean city in the German Reich together with about three million other Germans (in January 1993!), they have bases all over the world. Besides several in the Andes, the main ones are inside the Earth, in Neuschwabenland, Tibet and the Bermuda Triangle. Tibet had been attacked and taken over by the Chinese, who then hunted the monks, tortured and killed them. Why should anybody torture and kill peaceful monks? Because the Chinese were looking for the Germans in the monasteries. But they didn't find them in the usual monasteries in and around Lhasa, because the Schwarze Sonne-Germans live together with the so-called Avatars high up at 18,000 to 23,000 feet who supported them in the first place and do so again until the fulfilling of the prophecy. The Chinese can't go there, it's too high up for their armies. Besides that, the Schwarze Sonne in Tibet has access to the Inner Earth, for they have been living up there for more than 40 years by now, with the monks of the highest Tibetan lodge—the dGe-lugs-pa (Yellow hats). And of course they now have a new generation there, too.

According to my source the German Reich network has an army of 6,000,000 soldiers and 22,000 flying saucers. They are ready to go any minute.

They had interfered in the Gulf war. On the 12th and 13th January 1993 the Allies tried to destroy the German Reich's saucer base near Baghdad where two huge VRIL-7 are stationed. The two Saucers were absent on a mission, which was known by the Allies. So they attacked the area with altogether 198 bombers. 12 Tornados and 22 F-4s were meant to destroy the German base. Guess what happened? After 3 hours and 45 minutes the Allies had lost 16 F-14s, 1 F-15 and 1 F-111. The Allies themselves had shot down one Iraqi plane on a training flight (the pilot could bail out).

This is proved by some very clear photos I was shown by an Iranian secret service agent (he showed me several photos with two VRIL-7s, with the Iraqi banner on the bottom. Three photos show two Tornado aircraft chasing them. Very clear photos!!!

In the Bermuda Triangle the Reich Germans have bases on the ocean floor. They can easily float through the water like others through the air, sit on the ocean floor and push the water through their gravitational field away and thus create underwater domes. He told me much, much more, but I'm not allowed to talk about it.

They have very big plans, and I promise you that we are going to have a very, very interesting time until 2003.

CHAPTER 41

THE FOUNDATION OF ISRAEL

As it was planned since 1871, the war opened also the doors to the foundation of Israel. As the wounds in Europe slowly healed, the attention of the public went to the Near East, where the Zionists were establishing the state of Israel in Palestine. England was shaken by the murder of Lord Moyne by two Zionists. At the 1946 Zionist congress in Geneva terrorism was approved as a means to establish the Zionist state. Thus many terrorist organizations sprang up in Palestine to force the foundation of Israel.

The two most important ones were the IRGUN ZVAI LEUMI of Menachim Begin and the STERN GROUP of Yitzhak Shamir. Since the bloodshed between the Arabs and the English was getting worse the matter was put before the UN. On November 29, 1947 the UN decided to split Palestine into two independent states, an Arab one and a Jewish one. We know the principle of dividing a state for domination from ancient Rome. The consequence of “divide et impera”, divide and rule, is always a never-ending dispute. And that is what occurred. The division caused even bloodier unrest which caused the UN to draw back. The Zionists then proceeded to divide Palestine on their own authority. The Stern group and the Irgun Zvai Leumi (led by Begin) stormed the village Deir Yasin and slaughtered all the people, as a warning against further resistance by the Arabs. They threw the people into the fountain in the middle of the village and threw hand grenades after them to silence the screams of the dying. Most of the Arabs fled to the neighboring countries, except for a few who under Yasir Arafat formed the PLO.

The declaration of independence by Israel on May 14, 1948 spurred further unrest. Ever since that time the Near East has been a festering hotbed of hatred and murder.

But that corresponded exactly to the aims of the Illuminati (Albert Pike’s Plan No. 3).

What happened in this particular village sounds pretty much like what occurred hundreds of times in the Old Testament, all by the same group of people, and nobody has ever been punished for it. Isn’t it interesting that you don’t read about stuff like that in your schoolbooks, but about the “bad Germans”? May it be the case that somebody who has the power uses the news agencies and the mass media for holding back information of “some” kind and for giving out “other” information in a rather unbalanced way? To say it more clearly, they use the mass media in a very clever way to hand the bucket to somebody else? Who owns the TV networks? Who owns Hollywood? Who is always the “bad guy” in the Hollywood productions? Of course the Germans. And who has never been called the “bad guy”? Could it again be the case that these particular persons may be the ones who own Hollywood and the TV networks? Think about it! We will see more a little later.

UPDATES

RE: MISCELLANEOUS ON GENERAL CIRCUMSTANCES; PERUVIAN EARTHQUAKE OF 7.9; MAYON VOLCANO IN PHILIPPINES BLOWS; APPRECIATION AND UPDATE ON JOHN RAY, STATUS OF UNREST IN PAPUA NEW GUINEA.

Hatonn—REQUEST, PLEASE:

Ron K: Will you please get permission from L.T. to use his information shared with you re: George Green? I want to share both his letter to George and George’s response. I want to please print them as they ARE—for George’s tells such a tale as to be priceless. Then, yes, I will ask Ekkers to respond briefly.

It is noted that there was no mention whatsoever in L.T.’s letter to George of the Ekkers, but there was no other reference to other than Ekkers in total absurdities, in the response writing. Interesting? NO, pathetic—and the numbers and incidents so pitiful and embarrassing in presentation as to actually draw pity for the frantic man in point. EVERY NUMBER, EVERY STATEMENT AND THE WHOLE OF THE RESPONSE IS ERRONEOUS.

Our readers have a right to share this information—and it is so current in exchange as to get a picture of ongoing attempts to destroy the Institute and the entire project if at all possible. Well, it is proving to be impossible. Some things are now over 14 years old and still going.

I urge all of you to carefully study corporation structures and you might see just how outrageous Mr. Green’s presentations actually ARE. You will get to note that Mr. Green even says Rick Martin gave Ekkers, personally, $250,000. Come on, Rick! No, we all know better and moreso that Green tried to collect FROM RICK $84,000. Then, as a matter of fact, Rick made arrangements, with a carrier (yes, we know who) and delivered those particular books to which Mr. Green refers to the FEDERAL COURT. Surely, it is not just me that has a bit of trouble with George Green’s presentations.

At one court session it was demanded by Abbott-Horton that George be put back on the stand and the judge denied the request with: “Why? Is that so he can tell more lies?” Green became his own worst witness.

Remember, please, that even to get to final damages against Ekkers, the assaulting adversary’s servants HAVE TO GO THROUGH ME, HATONN. I AM REAL AND QUITE INTERESTING IF I MIGHT BE SO IMMODEST AS TO SAY SO MYSELF. It very well might seem otherwise at a given moment—but be patient and see that the adversary will eventually do-in himself.

First this morning let us please give an update or two on the status of John Ray.

Then, I ask that a regular weekly update be entered at the start of “News Desk” in CONTACT. Ekkers cannot handle all the information distribution either by phone or magic.

We receive continual inquiries and yet we know that the information is flowing to several recipients, but it is not getting to all our readers.

John, it appears, is “out of the woods”, so to speak. He made it across the bridge and didn’t fall into the river, although he spent a lot of time with the Angel of Life. Yes, indeed, there are truly miracles and a walk on the Light side is always a wondrous experience. Most often the greater miracle is within the ones who witness.

John and Jean Ray are two of the most important personal eyewitnesses to our “Phoenix Project”, along with one, J. Jones. They lived within the immediate space of V.K. Durham who shows as the direct partner of Russell Herman and became extremely important for attending the things Russell was too ill to manage prior to his death. NOW, THEY KNOW THE REALITY OF THIS MISSION ITSELF AND THE “REAL” PLAYERS INVOLVED! A little walk with God brings realization better than a million words.

To John and Jean (The Rays): Don’t push the old river—just let it flow so that physical repairs can heal for that which is ahead in this never-ending journey.

Whether or not you or we like it—we must establish a solid foundation on which to build and that simply IS the way it IS.

We also want to please express appreciation for Mark’s taking the News Desk so that not an issue was missed. This is TEAMWORK, friends, and this stepping forward and filling gaps as they hit unexpectedly determines the ability to succeed in progress of the hoped-for realization—OF ANY GOAL.

In this example regarding CONTACT, we have to go back and acknowledge Ron Kirzinger as well, for he was in the very act of losing his position at Nevada Corporate Headquarters as they conspired to grab the corporation(s). Ron also worked with Mark until Mark could actually take control of the paper production itself. [MM: All the computer/software knowledge required for me to publish a completed CONTACT was learned entirely through self-motivation—there was NOT assistance or learning from Ron. It was stated that I better learn how to fish—NOT ask for fish dinners.] Ron was the one most able to utilize the computers for publication purposes. Mark learned rapidly and spent hours and hours in that learning process until he is now proficient. No one gets vacations or rest-time-off and nobody gets paid for the adventure of this daily grind.

We then asked Ron to turn his full attention to a better structure for incorporation business. His corporate information has been, and is, without price. You are now able to walk right through the most current corporate laws as they are presented in Nevada and established AS LAW.

Even as we are able to begin doing business anywhere on the globe, large or small, we will be able to establish U.S. (Nevada) corporations which will give stability, even as to doing our own side of the business. Perhaps there will need to be more than one corporation agency, for we will never again leave anything to “chance” or open for “the big snatch”. It will move beyond “Global” business as that “joint venture partner”; it is necessary to keep corporate ties as well with those partners for ongoing extensions, interchange and frankly, new business.

I told ALL OF YOU, AND THE WORLD AROUND, that our mission is one of the most physically-oriented programs to ever be attempted between you and the Spiritual Realm. So be it. Everything MUST be backed with full confirmation of the offerings, proof to back up any investigations and no magical performances to further mislead the viewing experiencers, for you get such an abundance of those antics to kill you all.

For instance, I ask the following of The Rays (nice label) to sit together during John’s recovery period and THINK about those things having taken place with V.K., etc., and PUT IT TO PAPER. When you detail the “memories” with as good dating as possible, confer with Jack please, and give us as good a reference as you can establish. This is the authentication which the manipulators would like buried as they bury or destroy their own records all the way to Lima, Peru. This is not, however, to be surmised as that the 7.9 quake of yesterday in Peru if part of that program in progress.

Then for the sharing, please do likewise with the experiences of current adventures. THIS IS WHAT MAN NEEDS TO SHARE AND ARE THE EXPERIENCES OF WHICH BOOKS ARE MADE WHICH OFFER INSIGHT BEYOND THE DAILY NOVELLAS. These move beyond the Sipapu, so to speak.

THIS WILL ALL MAKE SENSE IN THE UNFOLDMENT.

To the others who have stayed the course and have made things work, from moving to attending, begging and juggling, we bend our knees, for the way has been such a struggle of management just to make it through on the shoestrings left them and in spite of missing records, files and loss of funds.

Then, to you who have responded in service and assistance, there are no words suitable to give appreciation.

Your support has made the impossible fit nicely into the category of possible, probable and now, tying off the steel (in the vernacular of construction foundation building).

Yes, we do yet need brave people to pick up the gift and move forward. Remember, please, that no matter how valid or workable is the “product” and/or “Program (Project)”, the most nasty and powerful players IN THE WORLD are your adversaries. WHO WILL FINALLY DARE AND SIMPLY “DO IT”?

It is extremely difficult to find those who care enough about their own citizens and nations as to step forward and DO IT. We have ones—coming “back” to visit and see how we can still be around—who simply faint at the prospect of facing the dragon’s breath and pale at our people who continue directly in the face of that dragon.

A “FUNNY” along the way! We asked Ron K. to check on our full file recorded in Clark County Nevada because there is obviously a push to check out all the records. This he did and sent a record which appeared as if everything was there.

In checking something ELSE, however, a bit of information “popped up” which caused him to look a second time and surely enough, the last recorded instruments were in a separate file and did not even have reflection in the comprehensive filing. NOW, HOW COULD THAT HAPPEN? WE DON’T NEED TO PRY, JUST ATTEND. This was corrected and it just “happened to be” the last mailings to the U.S. Treasury-Treasurer, Fed, etc., Notice and Certification of receiving receipts. Now, don’t you find that interesting?

LEGAL RECOGNITION

This pile of documentation has been studied with magnifying glasses around the globe now—and NO FAULT HAS BEEN FOUND WITH THE LEGALITIES OF SAME. I SAID AND REPEAT: NONE.

Last evening, and you will all recognize the name Pamatong, came Mr. Pamatong. E.J. spent several hours with him.

He was just visiting prior to a trip to the U.S. this week for business purposes regarding his new position as a type of “Spokesperson” for “Royal Sultanates of Mindanao”. His “card” reads: He is the Chief Legal Counsel and Spokesman, Moro National Liberation Front Mission to the United Nations, and, Spokesman, Proposed Federal Republic of Mindanao. It is noted that the MNLF has permanent observer status with the 56 member countries of the Organization of Islamic Conference (OIC) now meeting.

He has contact information in New York and to which a lot of you may wish to express some appreciation for his work: 97-43, 81st Street, Ozone Park, New York 11416. Tel: 718 322-1512. E-mail: EVPAMATONG@aol.com

The reverse side of his business card reads:

Speaker, United Nations General Assembly of Indigenous People, New York City, 1999. President, Alliance for Meritocracy. Leader, the Longest Filipino Civil Rights March, Washington, DC, USA, 8-8-1999. Leader, First Filipino Civil Rights March to the United Nations, New York City, 10-24-1999.

Philippine Address: Katipunan Street Ext, Dipolog City, Mindanao. (0917) 912-0454 - - (065) 212-6241.

He has spent these last several months traveling the country with no less than Nur Misuari, head of ARMM (Autonomous Region of Muslim Mindanao).

He is recognized as Datu Elley Velez Lao Pamatong and is the author of the book on Meritocracy we reprinted in CONTACT. You returned readers will want to get copies of those past issues, I’m sure. You see, we never deviated from OUR MISSION as established over a decade ago. YOU got distracted; we did not.

Recall please that Datu Pamatong is a lawyer in the United States as well in the Philippines. He is totally respected in BOTH.

He has studied GAIA into the minute details and pronounces it legally valid in every way—from holdings to content.

So when asked, “What and why the blocks?” he said that the Administration in the Philippines was in full destabilization mode and the President is totally controlled by those powerful people who control everything. He said he doesn’t even dare to go against them. He also recognizes that with the secession movement in Mindanao that there will probably be the bloodiest war ever witnessed.

I find that appalling, don’t you? All they have to do is put the people to work, build the nation and stop the insanity.

The man (Pamatong) is totally frustrated and “disappointed”—in other words “his dobber is definitely down” (the big triple-D). Perhaps a word of encouragement, especially from you Filipinos, would give him renewed energy to serve your cause—which, in fact, is the cause of all. Sometimes, it is that an individual simply needs to shore up the contact connections with Creator by whatever name you call him.

What he really did was to come to check-in with E.J. to get a bit of Spiritual refueling because “God, even as a concept” is hard to hold onto in the midst of such chaos and realization.

Fortunately, E.J. never falters nor waffles even if he stumbles over the constant barrage of charlatans and presenters. The toad-kissing business is truly operational in the Philippines and, yes, he meets with the toxic toads (TTs) as well as the valid “frogs” to check it out.

Well, we’ll see. We simply have to go one agonizing or exciting step at a time. Remember that we pick up help all along the way—and as we find those who “would” do something if they only had “something with which to ‘do’”, they will finally break out and make a run for the goal. At some time there gets to be too many fires to extinguish—in the hearts and souls of men. When they “really” pray and can realize that an answer has been sent, then there will be unification effort made and manifested.

Always, I must remind over and over again, my own teams working here and across the globe: WE HAVE NO PLACE IN POLITICS. We can state observations but THE PEOPLE must make their own changes. This is what has lost sovereignty to all nations and all people—the thought and the waiting for someone else to do it FOR them. Satan will always step forward to assume that role. GOD WILL NEVER DO SO.

AROUND AND ABOUT

I might comment on that Peruvian quake of yesterday. Do you realize the magnitude of a 7.9 reading? And what might be happening in that unseen belt of activity? You have noticed, perhaps, that Mayon Volcano south of Manila blew yesterday as well? Everything is connected, my friends.

Mayon is the most predictable of the unpredictable volcanic lava mountains—and among the most beautiful. If you want to get perspective on “power”—get in the presence of such incredible power as is offered by a tidal wave, tornado, earthquake or volcanic eruption. Man becomes puny in the presentation of Mother Nature. Man might be well advised to listen to “his Mother’s” lessons.

Note, while you study your maps for location of events, just generally consider such things as El Niño and La Niña and you will realize that you are dealing with a grid of activity in the South Pacific far beyond any ability for understanding. It is like your own human body which is in constant motion; the Earth itself is likewise in motion—while in turn the very cosmos in which she lives is in motion beyond that of a planet—as the living organism is itself CREATION.

BUILD OUTSIDE THE DESTRUCTION/DANGER ZONE

If you have a volcano that erupts regularly and the expected flow streams are pretty well defined, what do you do about choices of living in proximity to such a huge potential for wipeout?

Well, easy. You check your odds in all instances. Next, what is your livelihood expectation? Are you a farmer where lahar (ash) enhances the land’s fertility exponentially but also brings the risk of lahar flows the first time it rains? Don’t you see that even with these circumstances, you can live outside the flow zone and in this modern technologically mechanized world you can haul and spread lahar onto your fields, orchards, etc., OUTSIDE the hazard zone? Just be prepared to get your equipment OUT OF THE HAZARD ZONE when an eruption is expected. There is no need to currently be caught with your eruption down, my sleepy friends. Mayon has been in stages of alert for many weeks now and evacuation meant moving a couple of kilometers further back from the base of the cone itself. You don’t have to run off to the U.S. to escape Mayon Volcano.

Neither do you have to run off to anywhere to stop the assault of the World Order manipulators who are actually only a relative few compared to the whole of you-the-people.

You simply have to BUILD “outside” the deadly serpent’s fangs—just as you would not build in the wash where the lava is running in its flow pattern.

TORNADO DAMAGE

If you pay attention, you will find that there are places more likely to experience a tornado than others. Some people remain in those corridors and rebuild sometimes 3-4 times. But, what do they do?

The put up the same flimsy structures as just blew down or away. For goodness sakes, if you insist on remaining in such potentially deadly pathways—BUILD FOR SAME. The first catastrophe might be through ignorance—subsequent catastrophes are FOOLISHNESS.

We were working out major plans for structures which could withstand consistent and sustained winds of in excess of 150 miles per hour without damage or loss. Why? Because the obvious and progressing Earth changes indicate that you will experience that phenomenon. It is much like suggesting that one who cannot swim, live on a houseboat in the middle of a bay known for sinking boats.

Don’t tell me, either, that you have no choice in the matter. Of course you have a choice in EVERY matter—even if it be the choice to have no choice. IF YOU CHOOSE TO BUILD IN THE PATH OF A LAVA FLOW, THEN DO NOT BLAME THE VOLCANO FOR YOUR STUPIDITY. AN ACTIVE VOLCANO IS GOING TO “BLOW”—SHE HAS NO OTHER “CHOICE”, FOR SHE JUST “IS” WITHOUT ABILITY TO THINK OR REASON. Certainly, an erupting volcano is not after YOU PERSONALLY TO SEEK OUT AND DESTROY. If you are not in the area, you will not be buried in lava—simple enough.

Now, is a volcano a BEAST of some kind of evil? No, a volcano vents the Earth itself and BUILDS (CREATES) MORE LANDMASS.

We are determined to build our programs soundly and not have to weep later as the structures either blow away or are buried in the debris of the lava flow. We want our volcano to erupt in LIGHT and not in fire and ashes. We are, after all, coming up out of those ashes of prior ignorance and devastation. Remember, it is called “Phoenix”!

By the way, readers, when you are quite sure the whole world is against you, remember this: No, there are billions of people who don’t even know you! More often than not, the only person against you is you.

Yes, it IS difficult to just walk off into the unknown. However, what is the alternative? You can’t even walk back into the past. It actually pays in peace of mind to know what it is you wish to create in “that unknown” ahead of you. Do you want money in that unknown future? Then I suggest you be ready to face the challenge and make it so. That is the only way to accomplishment. Even the New World Order had to take it step by step to accomplish what they have presented. But KNOW: Evil falls quickly when uncovered and faced with TRUTH. Therefore, it will behoove you to CREATE in truth and honor—because if you don’t, you are simply taking from another just as the manipulators have taken, from you and others, your inheritance and birthright.

WHEN THE YOUTH UNDERSTANDS—WATCH OUT!

Once the students begin to understand “how it is” and beyond that which they are sold as a “bill of goods” from the hucksters, change is afoot. It is happening right in Southeast Asia but, no, not yet in beautiful downtown Manila where everyone is fed on EDSA (Madison Ave., U.S.A.) programming. It is happening, however, today in Papua New Guinea and, therefore, there is truly HOPE for that little nation. In fact, perhaps we can leave this with you at the end of this writing.

[QUOTING NEWS RELEASE, Mon. 25th June 2001:]

PAPUA NEW GUINEA: WE WANT THE PM (PRIME MINISTER) OUT HERE!

PROTESTERS from the University of Papua New Guinea (UPNG) have demanded that Prime Minister Sir Mekere Morauta receive their petition. [H: Note the use of “Sir”.]

They defied Sir Mekere’s final call to them on Friday for eight to 10 students to meet with him to discuss their petition.

NCD police commander Tom Kulunga conveyed Sir Mekere’s message to the protesters shortly after 1pm on Friday. But the students and their supporters refused outright, demanding that Sir Mekere receive their petition in person.

Mr. Kulunga told the protesters: “The Prime Minister has asked me to tell you that he wants to meet with student leaders. He wants to see the student leaders and he will not come here.”

Sir Mekere’s message brought more shouting and screaming from the protesters.

The UPNG Student Representative Council president Augustine Molonges in reply said: “Privatization is not an issue for students only but for all of Papua New Guinea. We will not move until the Prime Minister comes.

“We will not go to his meeting. When we go into his meeting, our thoughts will be changed and we will be influenced. We will stay out in the public.”

The protesters braved the heat from the scorching sun and continued their calls for Sir Mekere to receive their petition. The protesters began converging in front of Morauta house as early as eight o’clock on Friday morning. They came in droves—students, men, women and even children, from the different suburbs in the city carrying placards that called FOR THE ABOLITION OF THE PRIVATIZATION OF STATUTORY BODIES AND THE REMOVAL OF THE WORLD BANK AND INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF).

[END OF QUOTING]

KEEP IN MIND THAT THE REASON THE WORLD BANK WANTS THAT CENTRAL BANK OF PNG IS BECAUSE THERE ARE ZILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN GOLD AND ABLs IN THAT BANK; AND WHOEVER CAPTURES THE BANK—CAPTURES THAT ASSET OF WHICH THE PEOPLE ACTUALLY KNOW NOTHING—OR THERE WOULD BE A BACKUP OF ALL THE PEOPLE IN THAT GATHERING.

Now, readers, let us take a bit of a changed perspective on an old saying: “Where were/are you when the lights came/come on?”

THE CHILDREN are your only hope or possibility in your so-called future—ARE YOU COMFORTABLE WITH THAT?

RE: GENERAL INQUIRIES; NEW GAIA “PRODUCT” NOTES; TRANSPAR-ENCY INTERNATIONAL; PNG DEMONSTRATIONS; WES MANN FESTIVAL OF THE AGES—SUIT OVER SLANDER AND EUSTACE MULLINS.

WHEN WILL YOU BE STILL AND LISTEN, LOOK AND GROW?

Hatonn—We sit to the keyboard each morning to find a new pile of petitions added to the ones remaining from yesterday, last week, last month and, yes, year before last. All want answers immediately and some are, indeed, very personal.

What will we do in YOUR world if this keyboard breaks down and can’t be replaced? Ah, indeed!

Let us discuss “our” place in the scheme of “missions” abounding. But first, let us define “our”.

In the position of Ekkers, let us say, we have to encompass everything which impacts me, Hatonn. Why? Because we must integrate that which is with that which is. It also brings realization that that which takes place in darkest Africa or Papua New Guinea is totally hooked to that which happens in London, New Hebrides or New York.

It is expected from readers that somehow a topic can be singularly brought forth and the next instant, or a decade later, it is expected that “I” should point out page and paragraph where we wrote about that topic. NO!

Often, I want to use this very focus to bring to your attention the difficulty of anyone or group of anyones in having to do it ALL. Someone else needs to assemble the encyclopedia and hold the memory disk and index—NOT US. I am not “the” computer cadet—that is one with his command, called Ashtar. That being the label for the command and thus identification of the Commander—not an actual name label.

If you have a story of Commander Ashtar having some illegitimate child or other (FACTUALLY, THIS WAS A TALE A FEW YEARS BACK), then you will have a funny little computer running about—not some handsome royal prince. What is it with you people? We are, however, just about at the stage for kick-in of the Ashtar Command if you get much nastier.

Over the years the writings were put into the paper and then to Journals (at first there was no one to even consider indexing them). Funds have never magically fallen on heads and EVERY TASK MUST BE ATTENDED AND PAID FOR—THAT IS YOUR PHYSICAL WAY.

We did and we DO have volunteers who work longer hours and harder labors than any CEO such as Bill Gates, but they are building up “markers” for those services—and those still working for our success will most certainly receive in abundance the rewards of the job well done.

I can use a good and recognized example of how difficult it has become to even SERVE.

A little company was formed with Cort Christie as the recognized incorporator and a Board of Directors made up of many who would do various responsible tasks in that company. It was called New Gaia. Well, good for all, for it was decided that income from that little company would be loaned back into the Institute for continuing availability of funds as needed for CONTACT to stay in print. This would be handled through advertising costs. A flow would be through fully accredited services to, in fact, pay for Dr. Young’s, Martin’s, etc., services to the paper and other expenses related to same.

But who kept the records? Enters now, Diane and Jack, who put up the CASH to start the company—but held no special responsibility other than Diane would be responsible, but not solely, for the distribution of products as they would be added, originally through negotiations through such as Rick Martin.

Many parties provided service from label art to product monitoring. Fully involved were degreed engineers, a chemist, herbologists with Ph.D. degrees and, as well, fully qualified nurses, a physician, and a licensed Chiropractor. IS THAT NOT ENOUGH TO SATISFY THE REQUIREMENTS OF A NATURAL PRODUCT AND VITAMIN DISTRIBUTORSHIP COMPANY?

Would you believe that spectrophotometers and stainless steel extractors-colloidalizers COME CHEAP? Of course not—but a very good “deal” was made whereby several of these items were acquired through purchase of a closed jojoba extraction plant.

The things necessary for the monitoring and electrical enhancement of frequencies could be established, monitored and recorded.

What happened, however, was that so many of the people involved simply wanted the “pay” and when that became difficult or there were questions—they scattered like proverbial roaches when the lights went on. NOT OVER PRODUCTS BUT BECAUSE OF INVOLVEMENT WITH THOSE TRYING TO OVERTHROW THE WHOLE PROJECT OF WHICH NEW GAIA WAS BUT A TINY FRAGMENT IN THE BUILDING PROGRAM.

THAT was the ONLY resource for some of the things which were GIFTS from GOD, my friends. You know, the “stuff of life” in a very normal, every-day availability.

These wonderful gifts were taken by the ones recognized as the SPECTRUM group and even advertisements on the Internet were put forth for “recipes” for such as Gaiandriana which would both putrefy and be potentially contaminated. This was given forth as “take some Gaiandriana you have on hand and add all this incredible “stuff”—to make your own. Why? So the people “of Afghanistan and Appalachia” could have access to this wondrous product.

So, what was it all about? TO SHUT DOWN THIS KEYBOARD! AND IN ADDITION, TO DISCREDIT THE VERBAL TAPES AND TO BURY ANY PROJECT “WE” HAD/HAVE GOING.

As people would jump the burning ship—which THEY HAD SET AFIRE—they destroyed, took, or hid the records and even managed to get the very property where central records were held—seized and stripped.

Finally, just about one year ago in July, the Feds raided, at the behest of these same darlings, every associated office they could find, terrorized the people, plastered the whole show on TV and in the papers, AND FOUND NOTHING!

Products were seized and hauled off by the shoebox full because there was nothing huge or even worthy of note, to seize. The Feds downloaded all the records because [informants had stated] “these computers were used to distribute drugs” AND “I have personal knowledge...” about those computers. Oh, that narrows the informers to two at most! Of course, we know who did the affidavits and with whom they were/are connected. That information is flowing nicely back every week that passes.

A case? In time; we are focused on other important things but, yes, of course, there will need to be accounting.

THAT, however, is not my topic here. My remarks are to list some examples of what goes wrong as people CHANGE according to disinformation they are dished out of the misinformation files.

The point is that records, write-ups, background, and backup records were scattered with the scattering of people—through those who had access to the files and records—OR THEY DID NOT KEEP RECORDS OF ANYTHING IN THEIR OWN RESPONSIBILITY DEPARTMENT.

So, in an effort to reassemble documents, write-ups and thus-and-so, it comes back to D & E to flesh out the information needs. Well, that is aimed at me, Hatonn, who brought the “ideas” in the first place and caused D to work through hundreds and hundreds of loaves of bread, as example, to bring forth a mix for spelta bread of standard quality, contents list and nutrient information.

Yes, that information is available, even published in CONTACT publicly—BUT, ability to locate the information is all but impossible, for there are no real cross-references. Therefore, it is as if we start all over again—expected from this keyboard in Manila—with NOTHING to reference.

I want to point out something else: It seems that everyone who is recently trying to sort this somehow expects “Diane” and “Jack” to have all those records, all those product identifications, etc. NO, THEY DID NOT BUILD THESE PRODUCTS—THEY WERE ONLY DISTRIBUTORS. If Diane distributed GaiaGlo, which was originally my product assembled by Kathy, she only dealt with the finished and packaged product.

What is GaiaGlo? Distraction? Well, it is, in my opinion, the best lotion to be found anywhere—anytime. It has all sorts of wonderful things in it which, among other things, feeds the body melanin cells which protects the skin from sun, gives a nice “tan” tint to the skin in a most natural way and is both anti-bacterial and anti-fungal in basic structure through the natural ingredients in the lotion. Kathy has a Ph.D. in herbology and with our work together with selected natural anti-microbials—such as some of the colloids and OxySol solutions—GaiaGlo has been shown or acclaimed by uses to even resolve skin lesions of great concern.

WE MAKE NO CLAIMS. However, we had, and supposedly Kathy still has, some wondrous appreciations as in one person whose “Athlete’s Foot” fungus of MANY, MANY years had responded to nothing else.

I REPEAT: WE HAVE MADE NO CLAIMS EXCEPT THOSE OF NATURAL INGREDIENTS AND AS A NATURAL FOOD SUPPLEMENT.

I bring up this whole topic because I am hounded about “where” and “how” do “we get those products”? Well, you can come to the Philippines and get them but that seems a bit out of the way—and since there is no “business operation” here in the Philippines, that is not a very good resource—YET.

I can tell you again, however, that these products carried by New Gaia in the colloidalized products do not deteriorate unless the particulate has reason to have “dropped out” of the cells—but that is easily checked in every instance. Anything based on the Drias-Drions-Mitochondrias, etc., ARE ONLY ENHANCED BY AGING. ONCE MATURED, THE CELLS BECOME TOTALLY COMBINED WITH THE WATER MOLECULES THEMSELVES.

These particular products were not in question by the Feds as such—only that the labels did not reflect a couple of new requirements of the FDA as in “food supplement” and a statement: “No approved therapeutic claims”.

There has been no contact from any of the “Raiders” since early December of last year. The raids themselves now approach the one year period lapsed with no instructions, return of computer central brains and threats to imprison Diane for label violations of some kind BASED ON THOSE FELONIOUS AFFIDAVITS which concocted Appalachian and Afghanistan availability of “help yourself” garbage on the Internet.

Well, New Gaia closed its doors forever and only serviced totally unquestioned products from other distributors of vitamins, supplements, etc. Diane has gone with another company recently and that information can, we assume, be gotten through CONTACT.

I believe the Dria products will have been “closed out” with the closure of “New Gaia” although products and any equipment might well have been sold to other interested parties. Our original supplier was a Doctor in Utah, Dr. Hoffman, as to Drias, and there are so many other suppliers of colloids that surely there are other resources for some of the more common varieties. I understand that some of those are offered by a new company but are not market-cornered.

OxySol is not available as in a general market product but is totally natural in its makeup and is simply a result of catalytic colloidalization processing. I have asked that these things be somehow made available but know that our people have HAD ENOUGH. I have asked, therefore, that somehow the stock which was shifted or in holding be qualified as to labeling requirements and made available to our old friends. I understand that there is a willingness on the part of CONTACT to help resolve this load of phone calls, etc., and would exchange advertising of a distributor as was done before, with New Gaia, for making these products remaining, available to our readers.

And back to topic one at the top of this page. There are TECHNICAL write-ups which we produced and ran in the paper from time to time. I ask that those be pulled out and run again [MM: For starters (until all can be rerun), read/reread/order the January 17, 2000 issue of CONTACT that was primarily dedicated (17 of the 24 pages) to the latter-referenced products with its front-page Special Report; then read “Understanding Gaiaandria” for a more “technical write-up” about same in the November 15, 2000 CONTACT on page 12], possibly more than once because these are products people want and don’t know where else to go. GaiaGlo, as example, is an original product as are some of the other things and were not yet carried in the Health chains, although many of the products were available in the local outlets only IN NEVADA. New Gaia was/is a Nevada corporation and only did business as a corporation through Nevada.

GO STUDY THE CORPORATION INFORMATION UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND THE BUSINESS POTENTIALS WHICH ALLOW, WITH BLESSINGS OF LEGALITY, FOR SUCH TYPES OF BUSINESSES OR CONSULTANT OPERATIONS TO FLOURISH UNDER NEVADA’S SHELTERING. A DISTRIBUTOR, FOR INSTANCE, HAS TO GET PRODUCTS FROM ANYWHERE AND EVERYWHERE THOSE PRODUCTS ARE PRODUCED, INCLUDING FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

I am asking that “my” products offered to you be made available again; however, that requires an investment of funds which have been depleted by the legal battles mandated by the Feds to answer for those raids. This is simply “responding” and not in any way “fighting” any such invasions. Along these lines, I, Hatonn, override Dharma’s objections: I want Ekkers to have a BREAD MACHINE. There were AT LEAST eight of them in the stripped house, so surely there could be one found—that works. Then, I do, yes, suggest that the mill be fixed for Spelta flour for those bread mixes and for ability to get flour. She had to make the mixes work for the various round, square and oblong machines. If a used one can’t be found, please buy one and ship it—they don’t have such luxuries over in the Philippines within reach of access. There are no other facilities to easily handle cooking or, certainly, baking. PLEASE TEST THE MACHINE FIRST AND MAKE SURE IT IS LISTED AS “USED” TO EVEN GET IT OUT OF CUSTOMS. ALSO, LIST ON THE LABEL “FOR PERSONAL USE”.

PROJECTS

Why insist on this type of thing? Because Spelta will be a full-blown project OVER HERE IN THE PHILIPPINES. It will take a while, yes, but RICE is simply not sufficient for the health needs—and the white bread fed these people is worse than no bread at all. WE ARE NOT JUST SERVING THE PHILIPPINES TO BRING VALID OUR FUNDING RESOURCES—WE INTEND THIS PLACE TO BE THE “LIGHT” OF CHANGE.

Will Spelta grow well in the Tropics? You will never know if you don’t try it! No one will ever “try it” if they don’t know what it is—and there is only one good way to show-and-taste and that is through “eating”.

That little process requires a piece of bread to taste by a potential farmer/baker. And, no, it doesn’t need to be rushed at extravagant expense—but it is coming right up onto time to introduce some of our ideas into these projects while the livelihood layouts are being constructed. And, NO, that does not mean we are in the farming-baking business. WE ARE, HOPEFULLY, IN THE FUNDING BUSINESS FOR THE PEOPLE TO DO THEIR OWN PROJECTS. BUT THEY HAVE TO KNOW MORE ABOUT WHAT IS AVAILABLE AND WONDROUS THAN

WHAT THEY HAVE BEEN OFFERED BY AND THROUGH THE NEW WORLD ORDER OF CONTROLLERS AT EVERY SEED PLANTING.

Can Ekkers do all this? Of course—but why should they? The crop starts with the planting of seeds, either as ideas, desirable goals, and/or a grain seed, a bean, or a mango pit.

YOU SAID YOU COULD DO THIS JOB, PEOPLE, SO WHY DON’T I FIND MORE? I HEAR “LIGHTED THIS AND LIGHTED THAT” AND NOTE THAT YOU DANGLE AROUND WITH THE DARK-SIDE WHILE IMPATIENTLY WAITING FOR SOMEONE ELSE TO DO SOMETHING. YOU WILL ACTUALLY GO SUPPORT SOMETHING THAT HAS ABSOLUTELY NO REASON FOR A “FUTURE”—WHILE YOU LET YOUR OWN FORMERLY SUPPORTED PROJECTS ROT IN THE FIELDS ALONG WITH THE PEOPLE INVOLVED.

I do not harp on this like the toothache, readers, I must remind you that your choices are always in “free will” and most people simply can’t do any more—but choices often and certainly present as otherwise. I note that excuses to NOT HELP are as exemplified by a man spending his last paycheck on Christmas doodles while his factory closes. This indicates that you have been distracted from the PROBABILITIES in store for you as a species. You most certainly do NOT have to recognize me or mine—but if you would sustain and maintain, you must HEAR SOMEONE OR SOME THING which recognizes ACTION as a result of finding TRUTH. Unlocking a cell-door is only one tiny thing in recovery of freedom. Therefore, assuming “Truth” unlocks the door. Sitting in the cell corner on your cot after the key turns is fatal to freedom—for someone will come and lock the door as quickly as possible. In addition, “they” will also shore-up the prison.

I am also reminded of those who will “help God’s cause” just as soon as I get through with my charity dinner dance—if there are funds left over. Why, pray tell, should God have to beg for your alms when HE has gifted you with all of CREATION? Is there something wrong here?

Spelta, frankly, is the ONLY full-nutritional grain grown on the planet. It is sweet, non-hybridized so that the seeds are good for replanting, and it, along with some lentils for protein and something like Melloram (milk product) can sustain through famines, both man and beast. I DO NOT CHANGE MY PROGRAM WITH EVERY DOWNDRAFT OF MAN’S WHIMS. THAT IS THE PRACTICE OF YOU-THE-PEOPLE.

WHICH SIDE OF THE CELL DOOR WILL YOU FIND SELF?

Again, examples and parables are the best teachers; we have so many pieces of evidence of manipulation, censorship and outright assault on information release and happenings to stun any observant reader.

Even in light of the past few days surrounding the arraignment proceedings of the former President Estrada, the proclaimed international hoopla—fizzled totally. There was a war called and nobody came! There was no EDSA IV or X. There was not even a PLEA by Mr. Estrada who was continually referred to as MR. PRESIDENT. Now “everything” except lawyers at play will take place in the trial/nonsense for months and months. This “trial” is expected to easily last through the 2004 election and probably the next decade. No nonsense—THAT is what is speculated and given as press releases.

That is only one observation, let us try one

A couple of days ago I wrote and offered a News Release regarding Papua New Guinea and the students demonstrating, having sit-ins and demanding presence of the Prime Minister (their servant if you recall) to meet with them, the people. The uprising was over PRIVATIZATION of the national assets and the demise of sovereignty by those actions.

Today the streets are worse in PNG—but the reports no longer indicate any reference to privatization or those silly protestor causes. Let us just print the “today” observation out of the press:

[QUOTING Associated Foreign Press, Thursday, June 28, 2001:]

PNG: POLICE PROMISE PROBE

PORT MORESBY, PNG—Papua New Guinea police opened fire on RETREATING student protesters inside a university campus, killing three pupils [H: Shades of Kent State?], demonstration leaders said yesterday. The government earlier yesterday sought to quell the worst civil unrest since independence in PNG’s capital of Port Moresby by promising a probe into the fatal shootings of the three students earlier this week. Food and fuel shortages have also begun to bite in the Pacific nation’s lawless capital of Port Moresby after the violent anti-government protest paralyzed the city, witnesses said. [END OF QUOTING]

Now, AGAIN, the last sentence of the prior article offered as THE NEWS RELEASE OF MONDAY, 25TH JUNE, 2001; JUST THREE DAYS AGO, AS THE PRESS DATES IN THE LOCAL TIME-ZONE:

“THEY CAME IN DROVES—STUDENTS, MEN, WOMEN AND EVEN CHILDREN, FROM THE DIFFERENT SUBURBS IN THE CITY CARRYING PLACARDS THAT CALLED FOR THE ABOLITION OF THE PRIVATISATION OF STATUTORY BODIES AND THE REMOVAL OF THE WORLD BANK AND INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF).”

And so—what is your opinion regarding controlled media information flow? Guess which “truth” will flow through the international media organizations!

WHY THE PHILIPPINES AS TO MY INTERESTS?

Well, in transpositioning the “NEWS” COMPLAINTS by the controllers, I am hopefully able to point out to YOU readers the potential of the Philippines as INDIRECTLY given to you as a means of change for the better.

We can start with the “money laundering” accusations against the Republic of the Philippines (RP). WHO, EXACTLY, WANTS TO BE ABLE TO MONITOR ALL THE MONEY EXCHANGES ON THE GLOBE? SURELY, YOU DON’T BELIEVE EVEN FOR A MINUTE THAT IT IS CAUSED BY DRUG OR CRIMINAL ELEMENTS IN THE GENERAL SECTORS OF ONGOING LIVING. GAIA, FOR INSTANCE, CAN ONLY BE HELPED BY SUCH REPORTINGS—AND THE DRUG-MONEY EXCHANGE WILL GO ON WITH FAR LESS DIFFICULTY IF MONITORED BY CLOSED INSTITUTIONS THAT ARE NEVER AUDITED AND TOTALLY SECRET IN NATURE. I REPEAT: GAIA CAN ONLY BE HELPED THROUGH CAUSE FOR REPORTING

EVERYTHING IN THIS GOOD, VALID, AND CLEAN PROJECT. THE MORE BOOKKEEPING, THE BETTER FOR OUR CAUSE—EVERY TIME.

The Philippines is among the small handful to come under total attack about money laundering—when, exactly WHO launders such monies?

Well, you have a maverick in the Philippines. When integrating the payoffs and kickbacks to Philippine entities it got all tangled up with the born and proven corruption antics of the natives themselves. They each have a tribal propensity to shift everything from wealth to wives. FILIPINOS ACTUALLY FOUND WAYS TO GET “AROUND” THE NEW WORLD ORDER TO GAIN THROUGH ADDED CRIME, CRIME COVER-UPS AND, CERTAINLY, CORRUPTION. The New World Order through its agencies (IMF/WB, etc.) needs to bring into stop-cause the ability for Filipinos to continue their exchanges which disrupt the NWO plans. It is out of control.

Now, today, June 29, 2001 comes another “rating” which is placed onto the Philippines through Prince Phillip’s (Royal House of Windsor) organization, Transparency International. Prince Phillip also started about the same time: World Wildlife Federation (WWF) to which Jaime Zobel de Ayala heads the branch in the Philippines.

The WWF was to stop the honest taking of wildlife—even to poachers of the ordinary killers for food for tribal people. But further, IT COVERED (SHELTERED) THE AUTHORIZED POACHERS OF RARE AND VALUABLE SPECIES, IVORY, ETC.

TRANSPARENCY INTERNATIONAL was established to give an APPEARANCE of demanding transparency in all trade, banking, and you name it. What it actually means is that you be transparent in all your dealings but everything of “theirs” goes directly into the secret innersanctums of the hidden coffers which have no auditing, no overview or certainly no interference. And, if things get too hot for such as the IMF—simply change the name and come down harder and with more controls under international banking regulations—also unlawful in the very concept of banking.

Banks were originally for ONE PURPOSE—TO HOLD AND SECURE MONEY OR ASSETS FOR DEPOSITORS—PERIOD. THAT SERVICE WAS TO HAVE BEEN A PAID-FOR SERVICE AND AGAIN—PERIOD. “YOU’VE COME A LONG WAY, BABY!”

Were the laws “lawfully” changed to allow for what you have going today? NO, NO AND REALLY, AGAIN, NO. It is “assumed” because somebody such as Greenspan indicates or infers that what they do is legal that somehow it must be so. THE FEDERAL RESERVE ACT WAS PASSED ON OR ABOUT CHRISTMAS EVE, 1913 AT AROUND MIDNIGHT WITH ONLY ABOUT 4 CONGRESSMEN PRESENT FOR THE VOTING. THEN IT JUST EXPIRED ITS TIME RUNNING THROUGH CONGRESS AND “BECAME”. IT WAS FURTHER SAID THAT IT WAS THROUGH JEWISH ORCHESTRATION BECAUSE THEY WERE THE ONES WHO WERE NOT CELEBRATING “CHRISTMAS” AND REMAINED IN WASHINGTON SPECIFICALLY TO REMAIN UNNOTICED. What an interesting observation. It works every time, doesn’t it?

And now, what of Transparency International with results released in BERLIN, GERMANY (even more interesting, don’t you agree?). Well, let’s see what the paper says:

[QUOTING Front Page, The Philippine STAR, Fri, June 29, 2001:]

RP RANKS 65TH IN TRANSPARENCY

[H: Bully for them—there is HOPE after all.]

The Philippines ranks 65th out of 91 countries in terms of transparency in government dealings, according to a study by an international non-government organization fighting corruption. [H: Now what is that old thing about foxes, chickens and henhouses?]

Results released in Berlin, Germany by Transparency International (TI) [H: Well, I guess it does “sound” non-governmental but “sounds-like” can certainly be deceiving.] showed the Philippines garnering 2.9 points in the latest corruption perception index, slightly improving from last year’s score of 2.8. [H: “IMPROVING”? Exactly WHO SAYS? Note that a corporation is never “a” person and at best you will only have some “spokesperson” handing this non-information conjured ANY WAY THAT SERVES THE INTERESTS OF THE PRODUCERS.] The score placed the Philippines in the 65th slot, alongside Guatemala, Senegal and Zimbabwe.

TI executive director Margit Van Ham [H: Come again? WHO is Margit Van Ham, for goodness sakes?] said results of recent surveys showed that the corruption situation all over the world has worsened. [H: I can concur with the conclusion, I suppose, but “what” surveys?]

“The world is in a crisis, and we are appealing to all civil societies and governments to take some action,” Van Ham said.

She explained that scores refer to the degree of corruption and lack of transparency in government dealings as perceived by businessmen, members of academe and risk analysts. A score of 10 translates to a clean government while 0 means that a government is perceived as totally corrupt.

Based on the 2001 index, Finland has the least corrupt government agencies and public officials with a near-perfect score of 9.9. On the other hand, Bangladesh is perceived as having the most corrupt government with a score of 0.4.

Van Ham said the 2001 index was based on the results of independent surveys conducted by institutions from each country. [H: “Oh, come on now” number two—WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHICH, WHY AND HOW?]

At least three surveys are required for a country to be included in the index. A total of 11 surveys were used to assess the Philippine performance. [H: OK, who, what, when, where, which, why and how? If the Philippines, for example, is so damnably corrupted—how about the surveys themselves? We have found no other surveys to be worthy of second note—even to the election results.]

Van Ham said the Philippine government has a lot of work to do.

“This year’s score does not show any decisive change. If you score 2.9, it means you have a very serious problem,” she said. [MM: It sounds like scoring 10.0 might indicate extremely serious problems!]

Van Ham suggested that a concerted effort from various fronts of society must be set in motion to weed out corruption from government agencies and offices and improve the image of the Philippines, especially in the eyes of the business community. [H: Ok, and again, who, when, where, which, why, and HOW. It would appear to me that Ms. Van Ham needs a new job—for what earthly good is the one she has?]

“The Philippines has very good laws and anti-corruption programs, but they need to be implemented effectively. The society at large, the judiciary, media, business and the government need to work together on an anti-corruption strategy. People must see that corruption is a very serious matter,” she said.

[H: Well, not to worry, Margit, for you can be assured that very definitely all those named DO WORK TOGETHER REGARDING CORRUPTION—IN THE MOST AMAZING AND CREATIVE WAYS POSSIBLE, AIDED AND ABETTED BY PEOPLE WHO ESTABLISH STUPID AGENCIES AS YOU HAVE JUST REPRESENTED HERE.]

[END OF QUOTING]

Students, check your own reading abilities and you will find that you can find ever so much more “storyline” in the above copy. This is what happens on the way to LOSS OF SOVEREIGNTY.

Surprisingly, there is a renewed interest here and there in national sovereignty which is under attack by this New World Rule. Even Russia stood up and apart against the U.S. THIS WEEK in the UN in an effort to help safeguard the very sovereignty of the nation of IRAQ. PNG wants to remain SOVEREIGN—and once that central bank is gone to privatization to such as the World Bank, it is over. There is no sovereignty after the raid-and-seize—period.

The Philippines is holding to a mere wisp of a thread as the takeover of the nation and removal of sovereignty is under way. The solutions are simple but—with the media in full consort with the adversary on the prowl and taking the chickens—can depend on, at the least, bloodshed caused by the “foxes” eating you chicks alive.

Can this downward spiral be stopped? Yes, indeed, it only takes one at the top to stop it dead in its tracks—and it is called the President of THIS SOVEREIGN NATION. Even a National Bank banker could do it in the stroke of a pen. GOD HAS TIME! DO YOU?

I have one final thing for this writing or to be presented in a very prominent manner in the paper, please. Rather than ask for e-mailings all over, I will ask Dharma to retype. This is very important and should be run with a special note of attention.

ATTENTION: SPECIAL REPORT

[QUOTING: E-mail, Fri, 22 Jun 2001. RE: Wes Mann’s response to David Lethbridge’s slurs of “anti-Semitic”, etc., over the presence of Eustace, in particular, at this year’s Summer Festival of the Ages (Canada). Superb!]

CRIMINAL CHARGES LAID! PRESS RELEASE

The Preferred Network
June 22, 2001

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Local Salmon Arm (B.C., Canada) professor David Lethbridge, currently before the courts facing a criminal charge of defamatory libel under S. 301 of the Criminal Code, is now facing a second charge of libel in relation to his publications. Mr. Wes Mann, organizer of the Festival of the Ages, has also filed an identical charge against Mr. Lethbridge, who was served with this summons while making his first appearance at court in relation to the original charge laid by Ms. Anderson. Supporters of Ms. Anderson completely overwhelmed the courtroom, with over a dozen people forced to stand as a result of lack of space. This further charge against Mr. Lethbridge is next scheduled for court appearance on August 7, 2001.

Mr. Wes Mann states that he has been attacked several times in the past by Mr. Lethbridge and has also now finally decided to take a stand. Mr. Mann states that neighbours have appeared on his property accusing him of being a racist and other names as a result of Mr. Lethbridge’s unprovoked and false public attacks. “I am not a fascist and have never associated with any fascists,” says Mr. Mann. “Mr. Lethbridge is out to prevent my festival, which is the largest in Canada, from continuing due to the incredible success we have had in providing truthful information to Canadians about unlawful taxes, freedom issues, health issues and other vital topics. This can only be because of his communist beliefs which require him to lie and do whatever is necessary to promote Communism, as his own communist policies require.”

“I promote freedom of speech and other important values Canadians cherish. Mr. Lethbridge is an admitted communist member and promotes this in his articles. Canadians must ask the obvious, who has the real political agenda here? Certainly it is Mr. Lethbridge.”

Eileen Pressler has successfully sued Mr. Lethbridge for defamatory libel, which was upheld by the B.C. Court of Appeal. Another case against Mr. Lethbridge is pending and scheduled to be heard this fall. Mr. Lethbridge was found guilty in the previous case of mooning people, damaging innocent people’s property, and placing threatening phone calls.

“I am calling upon the Okanagan University to immediately terminate this man’s employment. We cannot have this man, an admitted communist, committing these types of atrocities and unlawful acts against innocent people on a repeated basis, working at a public university teaching these unlawful tactics to our children” says Mr. Mann.

David Lindsay, Agent for Mr. Mann

[END OF QUOTING]

OK, friends, here is an opportunity for giving, at the least, some special support to OLD FRIENDS. Wes Mann has been a CONTACT and Phoenix friend for as long as there has been either.

Moreover, Eustace Mullins is the very foundation upon which investigative research into such topics as the Federal Reserve through Biblical investigations are based on total documented digging.

Just as some of our own Journals and issues of CONTACT were barred from Canada—I suggest that Eustace Mullins has been banned also. This is all orchestrated by the B’nai B’rith-Anti Defamation League (ADL) along with the World Jewish Council headed up by Mr. Bronfman of Canada, who owns large concerns in the U.S. This is the same source of the rip-offs of banks and gold in Switzerland for payments to the Holocaust causes, including “slave labor” during the Second World War. PEOPLE, WARS ARE NOT NICE THINGS TO HAVE AROUND.

Selling prisoners’ organs as is done in China is NOT NICE but nonetheless, it IS! Good, bad or indifferent—IT IS. AND, FURTHERMORE, the organs have a market among those ELITE who would put down the world into this NEW ORDER. It is: Kill a prisoner in China and get a kidney in London or the local Jewish hospital in Los Angeles. YOU ARE NOT IN A NICE WORLD! And, when someone dares speak out with truth about it—OFF WITH THEIR HEADS! So be it, friends and enemies, there is no place for the adversary’s troopers to go EITHER! Guess what there is “proverbially” on Heaven and Earth—both terms being generic? So, what might that make the Earthly experiences as in relationship to heaven or hell? Out there somewhere is very definitely a “Spiritual” experience/expression and that is known as Heaven. Care to argue? I don’t even care to debate. It is whatever YOU choose it to be but I suspect that if you are “walking around” in a breathing apparatus—you might wish to carefully consider this point of view.

Finally, I want to tell you “editors” that the “RE” statement at the top is not something in cement. It is a reference for our possibly being able to locate a topic from time to time from the entropy piles. Surely, you must realize if you think about it that we have written the equivalent of some 40 books since being in the Philippines. There are over 230 volumes published or ready for press. That means that now we have done nearly three hundred “books” we call Journals due to the ongoing dating and type of writing structure.

By the way, Dharma had agreed to do two and then five and now—nearly three hundred later with a paper a week for all these years, she rebels occasionally. At these rebellious times we solve the problem by tripling up the flow—so complaints are far less on most days. I personally am outrightly amused to see that such as Dr. Young claims that they have captive Commander Hatonn. Dharma has been trying to get me to “go on home” ever since the public claim to same.

Yes, indeed, we march right on ahead with the biggest going plan on the globe today. Now THAT is something in which to enjoy participation!

You just don’t happen to think YOU ARE WORTHY of such honor as playing on our team? Forget it, teammates! GOD DOES NOT MAKE MISTAKES.

Love, GCH

GAIA Has Offer On The Table To The Nation Of Papua New Guinea

6/30/01—#1 (14-318)

RE: GET SERIOUS ON PAPUA NEW GUINEA (PNG)

MENTALITY OF THE KILLING FIELDS

Hatonn—It is a fact that even in deadly disasters, called catastrophes, more life-forms live than are dead on the globe as a whole. In fact, you can watch the “causes of war” and know WHERE and usually HOW the killing will proceed and WHO will get it in the end (well, both ends).

MAYON AGAIN ERUPTS

A good example is right here very close to Manila: Mayon volcano. People were evacuated. But, the overcrowding, lack of potable water and zilch sanitary facilities, including lack of toilets, is now killing off the evacuees and causing such an overburden of the system that the minute it appeared the volcano was spewing less, the orders were that people should go home again. Oh, wow, the mass migration back to the so-called danger areas began, lest the next meal not be forthcoming. Then the Fickle Fiddler called Mt. Mayon laughed and again erupted more devastatingly than before. This was now worse than before because of the bedrock, so to speak, of the hot lava still settling while the rains came and rained upon the fields, cooled even more quickly the surface of the lava and pushed ashes and cinders into the rain off-flow.

ONLY IN THE PHILIPPINES?

No, NOT only in the Philippines. But you have a “syndrome” reinforced—do NOT trust the government or even one another. Good advice! Besides, you can’t tell a thing from the various reports on any topic(s). People, especially in the major “killing fields”, are now terrorized into zombism. This facilitates easy “herding” of the goyim cattle. You leave a place when you are told to—and jump into the fire when you are told to—while disinformation flows like floodwaters over a dam.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA REVISITED AS TO CAUSE OF RIOTING

We have been asked to please publish the following in CONTACT. Please note that this indicates that people are reading this paper. The party had no way to realize we offered information from two sources just yesterday. I wanted this particular article for first topic today because it would have been probably missed in importance in the lengthy writing yesterday which bore much miscellaneous subject material. I ask you to please pay close attention and then compare articles.

From PNG comes another published article from the Associated Press (parent of AFP) and note that in the AFP release there was NO MENTION OF THE REAL REASONS FOR THE UPRISING OF STUDENTS AND CITIZENS.

“AP” has now run an article because they had to correct the total lacking of appropriate information given through the AFP. But I want you to notice the slant on what is released here in this follow-on press release yesterday. Note that the IMF/WB have frozen loans, etc., only to “save” the economy. Moreover, note that the important information is not even offered until the very end of the article—when it should have been (according to press rules) contained in the very first paragraph of any article on any topic.

[QUOTING Associated Press, June 29, 2001:]

PNG POLICE FIRE ON PROTESTERS, KILLING 3

PORT MORESBY, Papua New Guinea—Up to three people were killed and 15 wounded Tuesday (June 26, 2001) when police fired on demonstrators.

Police refused to say how many people had died, but local media said three college students were killed after crowds attacked and looted shops and stoned vehicles.

The situation in Port Moresby was tense but calm after the clashes. [H: Well, THAT will not last.]

The trouble began overnight as protest against economic reform turned violent. Students and others oppose government efforts to privatize state corporations to save the economy, crippled by years of mismanagement and corruption.

Prime Minister SIR Mekere Morauta’s government is unpopular because of its DRIVE TO REFORM THE ECONOMY. [H: Indeed, right into total destruction of the nation, total loss of sovereignty and a give-away of all assets including the reserves in the CENTRAL BANK.]

Morauta appeared under heavy police guard on Monday to accept a student petition against the World Bank and other international bodies advising the government on reforms.

Police fired tear gas and automatic weapons overnight to try to disperse the protesters, who for five days had blockaded government buildings.

Several government vehicles were burned, a store was torched and other shops looted at settlements near Port Moresby’s international airport and in the city’s main shopping precinct.

Police Commissioner Sam Inguba appealed on radio for calm. “There is no assurance of security [in certain areas of Port Moresby] at the moment,” he told FM-100 radio.

Inguba said the protest was “unlawful, illegal” since Morauta had accepted the students’ petition.

A caller to the radio station blamed police for the violence. “I blame police for being trigger happy last night and early this morning,” said the caller, who did not wish to be identified. “They incited the crowds in the early hours by firing shots.”

Government offices, schools and public transport have been crippled by the protests. Blockades put up by students have stopped many people from getting to work in the capital.

The World Bank, the World Trade Organization and other foreign donors have frozen loans because of delays in privatizing state companies. The government abandoned plans to cut the army by half earlier this year after soldiers rebelled.

The students, who have broad public support, claim privatization will place large parts of the economy under foreign control. They are demanding that the World Bank and other aid bodies pull out of the country. (AP) [MM: Interesting that the IMF isn’t mentioned in this follow-up—only references to “other international bodies” and “other foreign donors”.]

[END OF QUOTING]

NOW THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR: WHAT DO YOU DO IN PNG?

This is an excellent inquiry and, yes, this time, of me, Hatonn.

The problem really originates with the IMF/WB/WTO (see article but question why the WTO is even mentioned). It is hardly likely that PNG is a fully-fledged member of the WTO (World Trade Organization). Even China is not yet a member so open the eyes, chilluns.

WHO are “other foreign donors” who have “frozen loans”? Well, let us focus on what WE HAVE AS INVOLVEMENT IN POTENTIAL.

By “we” I indicate at this juncture Global Alliance Investment Association (GAIA). Do we have an offer on the table? YES, INDEED.

ON SEPTEMBER 1ST, 2000 GAIA ISSUED A DEED OF ASSIGNMENT TO “THE NATION OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA”. Erick San Juan was gracious enough to deliver, or have delivered, those documents to the Embassy of Papua New Guinea.

OK, there was follow-up to that “Ambassador” who claimed he had no idea what was intended nor did he understand why it was “dropped off to him” without further information. We KNEW he had full information because it was through that embassy that our PNG friend Mr. Genewa entered the picture not less than two-and-a-half years ago.

The Ambassador then got angry and insulting as he further said he, not knowing what to do with it—gave it to a friend at the Asian Development Bank (a NWO asset) “for evaluation”. There was a place for “authorized” party for PNG signature purposes and a place for a witness signature.

Later when asked for that Deed back, it was denied that it was being held, the Ambassador set forth with a bash-Mr. Genewa-campaign and a discrediting of the Deed itself and “could not get the documents back...”. Interesting! It is interesting because in each and every event, having issued several nations like Deeds, the cover information stated clearly that the Deed was issued to be used IN THE EVENT OF THE “TAKE OUT” OF EKKERS. Until such a time the documents were in “safe keeping”. Why did Mr. San Juan not just hold them as requested, in security? We don’t know and certainly don’t care. The point is that any SUCH DOCUMENT WOULD HAVE GONE DIRECTLY, INTENTIONALLY, AND ONLY TO

THE HEAD OF STATE OF PNG OR TO THE PARLIAMENT ITSELF. SO, SOMEBODY PLAYED HANKY-PANKY.

What size deed was issued to be held? Oh, only 10 billion dollars!

We certainly would not ever need the deeds for use as long as the program could be tailor made for whatever needs are brought forth—so we issued deeds to open the rat-holes. Surely, this is at least a “doormouse” hole. The issued deeds were basically insurance documents for our people who were under threat, at the time, of being “hit”.

We will simply, E.J., cancel THAT deed, No. 18102517, make that of public record and also with Sakiasi (Genewa) so that we don’t even have to work at getting it back. If it is used unlawfully, then it will be CAUGHT in the processing or the IMF/WB will have to answer at some point along the way for that “slippage” as well as their other deeds. Remember that old TRANSPARENCY?

Now that the woodwork is recognized as teeming with vermin, we will be more cautious now that we can open communications.

We will handle this much differently now—and we will list everything we issue as being witnessed by our own recognized individuals, although we will NOT give authorization solely to the Prime Minister because it is unfortunate but recognized that Sir Mekere Morauta is NOT a very PNG-FRIENDLY Prime Minister. If he is in the driver’s seat, however, and can authorize the Central Bank to honor said instruments, then he can be allowed to utilize his position as authorization.

I suggest the emissary to PNG be given instructions to meet and confer in detail of potential, to the leadership of the “student-citizen” movement in order to restore “order”. Then with the cooperation of the “movement”, there must be meetings with appropriate parties in the government, inclusive of parliament members and other outspoken parties such as the Forestry agency, etc.

Mr. Emissary MUST understand how to adjust currency values against gold (which, recall, the GAIA Instrument IS)—and that can be accomplished instantly while a value is placed as desired on the local currency (as was done by Dr. Mahathir in Malaysia). Since gold will be the foundation, then any value desired can be thus set.

As a hint of potentials available: When you account for the Marcos “package(s)” in that Central Bank, both the gold holdings in “reserve” and storage can be utilized—as well as can be the ABL currency if you are short of “printing” facilities in the nation itself. Probably the kina is printed OUTSIDE PNG? (???) Mr. Emissary must find out.

I will offer, but as nothing more than an alternative possibility so that you can impress on the people (and the IMF/WB) that there are many such possibilities—including NATIONALIZING everything which is now privatized by Foreign Interests foisted off by the IMF/WB, refute or pay-off the debt (loans) and take back sovereignty of the nation as a whole. And, yes, this can be done without anarchy but rather as a very suitable sequence of events.

The country will certainly be no worse in upheaval than is presently the case.

I suggest a Deed ready for use be available with enough to bring instant relief with either already-issued follow-on instruments, and/or, follow-on with additional funds as requested or upon which agreement can be established.

We are not in the runabout business but Sakiasi needs, certainly to have a counterpart in PNG after we start exchanging documents. The first can be handled BY HIM but he has to realize that at this time he is also needed in Manila and, no, Mila cannot handle it, for there is too much baggage to drag. I do not intend to further discuss that arrangement for many reasons but security is the primary point of attention at this writing. And, yes, go right ahead and print this IN CONTACT. We are not hiding anything—but PRIVACY must be the demand of the day in any event.

Know right now and until further notice: Any of the “Development” banks are NWO assets—period and end of discussion. This goes right along with our old InterAmerican Development Bank—if you recall. Also, know that all “Bancos” are structured to be NWO agencies. Get ready for checkmate.

Make sure the public movement has ability to conduct “business” as in our usual way of doing business as demanded by “organizations” which are registered or recognized and that will put a lot of funding out with the PEOPLE and not just in the hands of the “government”, which individuals may or may not be corrupted. If anyone is in the parliament, then know that the party has been or is “corruptible”.

Surely, if the people are demanding a pullout of these world organizations without even recognition of assistance availability, they will be more steadfast in their demands if there are funds to pay them off and get them OUT.

And to EKKERS: STAY PUT!

We need to move on this and I want our teams back home to know exactly what we are doing here and to also know it will be HUGE in funding allowances so that ALL OF OUR PEOPLE ARE AWARE OF ONGOING CIRCUMSTANCES AND SHOULD “ANYTHING” HAPPEN TO EITHER ONE OF YOU—THERE WILL BE MAJOR CAPABILITY OF REPORTING SAME WITH PLANS ALREADY MADE TO GET BACKUP OVER HERE IN 24 HOURS MAX. NOBODY NEEDS DO “ANYTHING” EXCEPT BE A BIT PREPARED FOR EVENTUALITIES. “You” will know to whom I direct this note.

The reason OUR TEAM stays OUT of PNG (AT PRESENT) is that PNG is being manipulated through Australia next door and that’s “all the queen’s horses and all the queen’s men” working on humpty dumpty. “The Sun never sets on the British empire!” Do not forget it.

I concur with Sakiasi about the terrible consequences if some, or even one, of the students killed belongs to a tribal circle which makes the “eye for an eye” custom of behavior fundamental and absolute. Those warriors with that cultural absolute are DEADLY. And, yes, they hack their enemies, have darts with instant demise written on them and they are truly WARRIORS to the death. THEY WILL AVENGE A MURDERED SON OR DAUGHTER. I personally will do what I can in defusing and “buying time” as in your vernacular, but I will NOT interfere and that is your key phrase here: “I will not interfere,” as a “physical” force. I may well get the war-party lost for a while on a side street but probably not even that intervention.

Let us make “today” work, please, and then it can be possible to utilize funds which can be replaced if necessary. Sakiasi needs to do it himself but we also need to get him DOWN THERE POST-HASTE. He will need some advanced funds to get that phone available for making plans which can save incredible amounts of TIME later and have those people ready, willing and waiting.

I ask the teams and readers back home to honor us in our sharing. This is as serious as it gets, friends. We have another couple of possibilities separate and apart from GAIA working as we write—and I won’t speak of it other than to let you know that we want to share everything we can WITH YOU—but we will not jeopardize our project/program nor our own friends.

Can we handle the PNG situation? YES, INDEED, THAT IS NOT THE QUESTION IN POINT. THE POINT IS: WILL THEY IN PNG HAVE UNDERSTANDING ENOUGH TO DO IT? ALWAYS THAT REMAINS TO BE EXPERIENCED.

We offered assistance to PNG as far back as the APEC meeting in Malaysia in 1998. They were desperate in the aftermath of a tidal-wave catastrophe. Their circumstances have only worsened. They will need a LOT of help, especially in technical assistance, and we can help them acquire that expertise as we move along. First, the hemorrhage must be stopped and the wounds evaluated. That means that food and backup must be afforded to hold strong until the wheels can begin to turn in “round” again.

I believe you are going to have a good time when you realize that Mr. Lucio Tan, Filipino-Chinese Taipan OWNS a lot of things in Port Moresby—and the IMF/WB has been a bit less than nice to Mr. Tan. Alliances seem to come in unusual ways.

It might well be that Mr. Tan has more information and input than just about anyone else as to Marcos assets here and there and everywhere. Let’s check it out when the time is appropriate.

Mr. Tan is certainly no bosom buddy of Gen. Ramos. The U.S. controller’s cups are very definitely NOT running over with good tidings of great joy—so watch the “sucker plays” over Mindanao unfolding before your eyes with that CIA operation called Abu Sayyaf and new U.S. involvement as spattered in the paper today.

So, who will the Filipino follow off into demonstrations or whatever? The one who has the handout money. The Filipino as a people has the shortest attention span of any nation on the globe. It was PLANNED that way but that, too, can backfire.

I can promise you that more people will willingly demonstrate without pay, to get Erap’s trial televised for the telenovela of it than any march to freedom will pull—without abundant pay.

So, does that mean that marches are over? Oh, no, it simply means that the save-up will await something bigger than some no-plea arraignment where more points can be made for the opposition by NOT SHOWING UP WITH ANYTHING.

You have to understand something here: The Filipinos don’t actually care what happens and THAT is the sad commentary of the day! Hope is actually all but gone and, therefore, only the little dramas are there to fill in the hopelessness and helplessness felt by the “ordinary” citizen. They simply have no real idea of being able to look farther than the poverty before them. This in no way even suggests that these are incapable people—they are bright and totally shrewd and when allowed opportunity will march to glory with it. When conquering through dividing gives way to unification through providing—you will witness a U-turn like you can’t believe. Man has no self-incentive when he only works for the pleasures of the King.

We are about to get this wagon out of the mudpit, pushers. I can pull on that wagon but

YOU HAVE TO DO THE PUSHING!

There are bunches of things for Fingers to attend here and certainly E.J. is over his eyes in meetings—and as well needs to write a program plan—so we will close.

I do want to get back to Gaiandriana as a carrier for such as anti-microbials, etc., even though we have written on the topic so often before as to fatigue everyone. YOU MUST HAVE “THE CARRIER” OR YOU CANNOT EVEN BEGIN TO TOUCH THE INSIDE OF CELLS WHICH HARBOR THE VERY MICROBES WHICH UNDO YOU. I remind you that AIDS is NOT a disease, it is a “syndrome”. It is an IMMUNE-SYSTEM DEFICIENCY!

Not surprisingly, I’m sure, one major immune-system compromiser is the much-used ASPARTAME! You are basically non-sugaring your way to death. Have you ever heard of HONEY to sweeten your coffee? Come on, people, all the enemy has to do is get you hooked on something, especially ideas, and sheep are mavericks compared to sheeple. Sorry, but Stevia will not cut it—for people want SWEET and there you have it.

Why do you think there is also more and more abundant spraying that takes out your nice friendly honeybees? You had best get a LOT of honey stashed for your survival needs because the body actually NEEDS that glucose/fructose, etc. Remember your mitochondria? YOU MUST HAVE FUEL WITH ABILITY TO CONVERT TO ENERGY.

Please do not start taking time to respond or even concern over anyone rushing over to Manila to fill in if Ekkers are unable for any reason to function. Why? Because we have already established the fill-in backup GAIA team for just such circumstances. The support necessary is THERE and this is simply a reminder to the couple or so who KNOW they would have to fill in the void. And, no, I won’t name them, for there is already too much gossip and speculation. We certainly don’t need any more responsibilities as to keeping people alive or away from people-snatchers, etc. I just want you to KNOW that this is tedious and dangerous. We need no more foolishness dumped on us now. And, yes, I AM coming public in this information FOR SECURITY OF OUR PEOPLE. This is very definitely NOT A GOOD PLACE TO BE, AMERICAN OR CANADIAN. YOU HAVE BEEN WARNED NOT TO TRAVEL HERE—AND I SUGGEST YOU PAY ATTENTION TO THOSE BIG BOYS WHO PASS OUT ORDERS SUCH AS TRAVEL RESTRICTIONS.

Joking? Sorry. This team only goes across the street in front of THIS BUILDING and to limited parts of the mall itself. E.J. had to go to another hotel to meet with a very important government person and was taken there under full security in an armor-plated, bullet-proofed vehicle. Please do not make our job more difficult. The help needed is back home to keep things stable and working while we squeak through the tunnel. YES, THERE IS LIGHT AT THE OTHER END! BY THE WAY, THE TUNNEL IS WELL-LIGHTED AS WELL. WE MAY WORK A BIT IN THE UNKNOWING—NEVER IN THE “DARK”.

Thank you for your added attention this morning.

I salute our troops,

Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn

JOHN RAY UPDATES

Sunday, June 24, 2001 8:46 PM

Today was our lucky day; we spoke to John in his room at the hospital. He is out Of ICU as of late Thursday night. His voice is a little weak because of having all the tubes in his throat but they are all out now. His pancreas is inflamed so all he can eat by mouth is popsicles. He is still getting his calories from what are called Hyperalimentation and lipids that are given intravenously and Jean is giving him the special stuff. He is getting physical therapy and getting out of bed. He works hard on his incentive spirometry that helps him keep his lungs clear. The next thing will be to get his catheter out and he will be starting to eat soft food. He sounded like that may be happening tomorrow. He is very anxious to go home; and as well as Jean has cared for him in the hospital, I am sure he will go home as soon as he can walk around and is eating. Jean has been able to stay at home more and their dog, Duncan, was going to get to come home today from their daughter’s. We could feel the relief in Jean and tell that she has been getting some sleep. We must continue to focus on John as he works hard to get his body back into working order.

Best to all—Light and Love, Janis and Randy

It’s around 9:30PM here and I just got off the phone with Jean Ray. John has been walking with a walker and started eating solid food today!!! They removed a drainage pouch today, so he’s down to just one IV tube and colestomy bag. His oxygen treatments have been reduced from four per day to three. He’s a miracle and continues to do well. Janis will probably talk to John himself on Friday, so there will be more to report of a medical nature at that time.

God Bless, Randy

Happy news!!!!

I spoke with John this evening one month and a day since this experience began and he sounds great. His voice is stronger and he has the spark of his old self. He is quite proud to let everyone know of his progress. All of his tubes have been removed and he is eating solid food. Jean said breakfast is his favorite meal and he would eat all of it and then not eat as much of the other meals. They have asked him to try not to fill up on one meal so to spread his calories out more evenly throughout the day. He is walking with a walker about 20 feet across his room and back. While he’s doing physical therapy with the hospital staff once a day, Jean has him do the exercises at different times during the rest of the day.

There are a couple of issues that John still has to deal with: An open wound from his second surgery must be packed daily in order for it to heal from the inside out. The area had been covered by a drainage bag—but it was removed when there ceased to be any drainage. The area opened up and drained a large amount, so now it’s being packed with sterile gauze that is changed daily.

They will be able to tell that it is healing because it will take less and less gauze to pack it. This will not prevent him from going home, as he will have visiting nurses. The other issue is dealing with his colostomy. He will be moving soon to an area in the hospital where they will teach him the things he and Jean need to know regarding his care at home. Jean has not been comfortable with caring for the colostomy. The nurse who is trying to teach her wants her to do it while he is in the hospital. I had to laugh at Jean telling me the story that she told the nurse: She could do it if she had to—but while he was in the hospital it was their job! As this nurse was cleaning the colostomy and changing the bag, Jean asked her if she was just going to use tap water to clean it. The nurse said, yes, she was but what kind of water would you use? Jean replied, “Boiled water!!”—but she opted not to explain about the special items she would add. Dealing with Jean will be a good learning experience for all the staff involved with John’s care. John was well aware of Jean’s devotion to overseeing that he got the best care possible through this ordeal. Here’s a standing ovation to two courageous people!!

Light and Love to all, Janis and Randy

PLUMMETING PROFITS

By Adam Hamilton,

gold-eagle.com (Gold Digest), 6/22/01

As we rapidly approach the long anticipated second half of 2001, the fabled Second Half Recovery the equity bulls have been zealously prophesying must be right around the corner. The mainstream financial media is confidently assuring the investing populace that better things lie dead ahead in the markets and all major U.S. equity indices will be much higher by year end.

The popular party line is well known to investors today. Conventional “wisdom” proclaims because of the Greenspan Fed’s unprecedented series of aggressive rapid-fire interest rate cuts (and more to come), the stock market is bound to rally dramatically because it almost always has in history following interest rate cuts. Because stocks have already fallen far from grace in many cases, the worst is likely behind us. Because U.S. consumers can look forward to a few hundred bucks back from Uncle Sam, consumer spending will dramatically increase in the second half. Because consumer spending will soar, companies will make more money, soon driving up profits and hence stock prices.

The bullish arguments are everywhere one turns and the eternal optimism of the equity bulls is palpable. Watching bubblevision these days is like experiencing a support group created for those who have just survived some tragedy and are bravely convincing themselves all will be fine in the future. Optimism is a wonderful and noble human attribute, but it can be absolutely lethal in the chaotic and unforgiving neo-gladiators’ arena that is the world investment markets.

With consumer spending said to drive 2/3 of the total U.S. economy, the bullish Second Half Recovery fantasy will live or die almost exclusively on the actions of the U.S. consumers. If the U.S. consumers begin to spend gobs of money again and try and relive the gargantuan debt-binge shopping orgy of the 1990s, Wall Street is convinced that we have seen the bottom and the worst is behind us in the U.S. equity markets.

Unfortunately for this hypothesis and those investors who bet their fortunes on it, the legendary U.S. consumer is literally buried under debt. Debt service as a percentage of income is at record highs, personal indebtedness is at frightening record extremes, home equity is plunging as consumers draw on mortgage debt to finance consumption, and usurious credit-card debt festers and grows in U.S. households like a medieval plague upon the land. It is hard for consumers to spend money to boost the economy when their aggregate debt load has reached these crushing extremes.

Even with small tax refund checks limping back from the federal government, the net effect on consumption is likely to be trivial. Bush's tax cut, which he promised to hard-working Americans in order to narrowly edge out big government liberal Al Gore, is dead on arrival, a cruel joke or farce for the taxpayers who pay the bills for our huge government. The spineless tax-and-spend socialist politicians of the U.S. Congress have largely eviscerated the tax cut, leaving few crumbs for the weary American taxpayers. The average refund is expected to be a paltry few hundred dollars.

Although the Wall Street economists are zealously trying to convince investors that a few hundred dollars to a lot of U.S. consumers is a big deal, it is not. Anyone who actually eats, feeds a family, lives under a roof, drives to work, and heats or cools their home KNOWS that a few hundred dollars can be burned in a heartbeat on just the necessities of life. Just taking a family of four out to dinner and a movie can EASILY run $100 after food, fuel, and entertainment are factored in. The cost of living in America is steep and getting steeper all the time as the Federal Reserve creates endless supplies of paper dollars to chase after finite amounts of goods and services. A small token tax refund is unlikely to resurrect the free-spending U.S. consumer of yore.

Back in early April we published an essay titled "Consumers to Rescue Wall Street?" where we discussed the popular Wall Street fairy tale of the U.S. consumer riding to the rescue of equity speculators dressed in suits of shiny armor on mighty white war steeds. We still firmly believe that the U.S. consumer is simply too tapped-out to spend the kind of money necessary to rekindle the fire in the belly of the U.S. equity markets. This Wall Street wishful thinking is a straw man, easily knocked down, and many other brilliant analysts have explored this issue from similar and different perspectives and arrived at the same conclusion. The consumer will NOT be able to rescue Wall Street, as debt is a hard master and does have limits.

With the bullish hope of the consumer plunging deeper into record debt territory to bail out the overvalued U.S. equity markets pretty well shot to pieces, we want to take a brief look at the strategic corporate profit picture in this essay. With stock market valuations at stellar levels, it is absolutely critical that profits begin rising, and rising FAST, or else we are staring over the edge of a dark abyss with further painful down-legs in the U.S. equity market highly probable in the second half of 2001.

As every businessman instinctively knows, profits are the ultimate goal of capitalism. Businesses, whether a corner lemonade stand hastily erected by a couple enterprising kids or a monolithic multi-national corporation, exist to make money for their owners. Period. When a business is able to earn profits on the valuable goods or services it provides, it is able to grow and thrive and provide a healthy return to its owners who financed the operation.

On the other hand, if a business is consistently losing money, there is no reason to be in business. Losing money is easy. There is no art to it. ANYBODY can lose money!

One of the most highly regarded stocks of the NASDAQ bubble era is a perfect example of this, Amazon.com. Amazon represented a great idea of allowing consumers to buy books directly on the Internet and have them shipped to their door rather than fighting traffic on a sortie to the local bookstore. The only problem with the idea is Amazon tried a silly and perpetually faulty strategy to "build market share". Rather than operating like a normal business and actually making money on operations, Jeff Bezos and crew decided they would compete on price—and sell books for less than Amazon's total cost of supplying those books. Profits? Bah, who needs 'em? Amazon figured it did not need to make any money, since its goal was simply to build market share.

It is certainly a goofy concept, isn't it? Selling something at a loss for years and years is not a business, it is a subsidy from the suppliers of capital to the retail customers. It is the rough equivalent of you going down to your local bookstore and buying books to resell to your neighbors at prices under what you paid for them. A real business makes money for its owners in the form of profits, not by losing money quarter after quarter, year after year. Unfortunately, Wall Street seduced the American populace into believing that it was no big deal if a company was losing money because, after all, the future looked so bright and a "New Era had dawned".

Lying in the profitability spectrum between companies making money and those losing money are those companies that are making money, but not very much relative to their stock price. These companies that are profitable but WAY overpriced are the most important companies in the American markets and form the lion's share of the total market capitalization of the U.S. stock market. The names in these ranks include the revered behemoths of the American investing scene including many of the companies in the Dow 30, NASDAQ 100, and S&P 500.

Since businesses are formed in the first place to make money, one of the best ways to value a company is based on the profits it is able to spin off. The simplest and most ubiquitous tool used to quantify profits relative to stock price is the venerable price/earnings ratio. P/E ratios divide the stock price by the earnings per share that a particular company is generating in order to provide a quick valuation proxy for the company as a whole.

Throughout market history, on average, stock markets had a P/E of around 13.5. For every $1 of profits earned per share, the stock price of an average company would generally increase $13.50. For instance, a company earning $10 per share might have a stock price around $135, while a company earning $2 per share may see a stock price around $27. During the earlier great bubbles of history, such as the 1929 speculative distortion in the United States, P/E ratios reached stellar extremes, over 25x, roughly twice as expensive as average. Following the great bubbles of history, equally great busts saw stocks fall to dismal valuations following a speculative bubble and trade on average around 7x earnings, half normal value, at the ultimate bottom.

Even though P/E ratios were ridiculed last year during the NASDAQ bubble and continue to be ignored today by many mainstream financial analysts, there is no doubt they are still among the most useful tools available to quickly distill much information into a simple valuation proxy for a profitable company.

Although many claim the bottom has been laid in for our current market situation, the valuations of the major

U.S. stock indices as represented by P/E ratios are still at phenomenal extremes compared to historical precedent. They look infinitely more like markets at major tops than markets recovering and beginning to dig out of a sharp slump. In our monthly newsletter Zeal Intelligence, we track market valuations very closely and report on them each month, as they are a critical indicator of where the most risk lies in a particular market—to the downside if way overvalued or to the upside if undervalued. We like to use market capitalization weighted average P/E ratios, as they give big-market darling companies a higher weighting in the importance of their P/E ratios in computing the average. It also prevents little companies with ridiculously high P/Es from skewing the data away from a more representative weighted average mean P/E ratio.

The venerable S&P 500, the biggest and best 500 companies in the United States, had a market capitalization weighted average (MCWA) P/E ratio of 39.0 on May 31. This is a staggeringly high number, indicating extreme overvaluation. Everything else being equal and assuming no growth, it would take 39 YEARS for investors who bought the whole S&P 500 index today to break even. A sobering thought, even for the "long-term investors" Wall Street perpetually courts.

The highly speculative NASDAQ 100, the 100 biggest and brightest companies of the modern Wild West of the U.S. equity markets known as the NASDAQ, sported a mind-boggling MCWA P/E of 74.8 a few weeks ago! This number is quite simply terrifying and indicates even at a NASDAQ composite level around 2100 that the big NASDAQ companies are priced many times higher than all historical precedent indicates they should be for the earnings they are able to spin off. An investor who believes the Wall Street hype and buys the NASDAQ 100 today could be looking at nearly 75 YEARS before the underlying companies make back the entire price paid for their shares, assuming no growth or compounding returns. Even if restored growth is assumed, it will still likely take DECADES for NASDAQ 100 investors today to merely break even in profit terms. Ouch!

Alas, even the mighty blue-chip Dow 30, the most important equity index in the world, is not immune from this overvaluation nightmare in the States. The DJIA weighed in at a MCWA P/E of 27.6, twice the historic average and near historical critical levels that signaled bubble tops and impending crashes in the past. Even after the early stages of the NASDAQ bubble implosion, ALL major U.S. equity indices remain at historically obscene valuation levels. Something has to give here.

With these fanciful levels of index valuation running rampant it is really easy to understand why the profit picture is so incredibly important for Wall Street. High valuations can only be rationalized by Wall Street analysts and brokers through very high profit growth rates. With profits SHRINKING for many elite market darlings such as the King Tech Bubble Cisco Systems, valuations will not be sustainable unless there is a massive and rapid growth in profits in the coming second half. Anything less than worldclass profit growth will likely spell disaster for these overvalued stocks. A miraculous burst of profitability in the near future is Wall Street's last hope before it has to face the executioner's block of the timeless laws of finance and investing and watch huge companies' stock prices get mercilessly decapitated to more normal valuation levels.

As stock prices hover near very high levels—and earnings continue to plummet in what almost certainly will prove to be a severe recession in the American economy—P/E ratios are ballooning ever larger, exerting even more pressure on the stock market to fall to recognize the new reality of a bleak profit picture for the foreseeable future. The early results of this almost unprecedented slowdown are in, and they are not pretty.

As an illustrative example of the severity of the current corporate profit scene, the most important tech stock of Canada, the giant Nortel Networks, recently announced it would be losing over U.S.$19 BILLION this quarter. Yes, BILLION with a “B”! Much of the loss is a writeoff for companies the monolith has acquired in recent years at grossly overvalued prices. It is probably the largest single quarter corporate loss in the history of the universe. Excluding extraordinary items, the company is forecasting an operating loss of $1.5 billion this quarter on $4.5 billion of sales. This is extraordinarily bad news for technology in general, as it is estimated that 75% of the Internet traffic in North America passes through Nortel hardware. Nortel has far-reaching tentacles spreading through the whole information economy and is probably a good bellwether for the technology industry as a whole. Decimating its shareholders, the stock has crashed 90% from its peak last year, when it comprised around one third of the total market capitalization of the premier Canadian stock market index, the Toronto Stock Exchange 300.

Now losing a billion dollars is not too hard, as corporations seem to be doing it all the time these days. But a $19 billion loss in one quarter? Talk about the ultimate “big bath”! Since most of us have not yet been blessed with billionaire status, it is difficult to understand just how staggering this number is. To put $19 billion in perspective, it is useful to realize that ALL the publicly traded gold mining companies digging for gold all over the planet Earth have an estimated total market capitalization of $35 billion. If this gold stock market cap estimate is correct, then the amount of money Nortel nuked this quarter would have been more than enough to buy controlling interests, more than half, of EVERY publicly traded gold mining company on planet Earth! $19 billion is a staggering loss, one for the record books.

And Nortel is just the tip of the profit iceberg, or perhaps Ice Age is a better metaphor. As we near the end of the quarter, earnings season looms large and many, many companies will report devastating negative earnings surprises. Thanks to the great bubble boom of the late 1990s, Americans have plenty of virtually everything, and do not need to buy more stuff even if they could. Business inventories are bulging and growing obsolete and need to be written off, production capacity is much higher than demand, price competition is fierce, and the profit picture looks very bleak in the coming months.

Everywhere one turns, there are major profit problems. Airlines report terrible ticket sales, there is a brutal price war underway in personal computers, computer DRAM memory prices have totally collapsed, bellwether companies like Cisco report an unprecedented slide in demand, and the list goes on and on. Every night on the business news, some new company is warning of shriveling profits or growing losses. Every day, we hear of more devastating layoffs indicating fewer consumers will have money to spend as they are cast out of work.

Although it would be nice to be optimistic on the near-term economic prospects of critical American companies, a realistic perspective demanded of prudent investors inevitably leads to great caution and anticipation of very bumpy waters ahead, maybe even “Class 5” whitewater rapids.

With U.S. equity valuations at staggeringly high levels, and crucial corporate profits likely to deteriorate rapidly, P/E ratios will continue to rise until we see a real correction in American equities. The stock market DOES look ahead and is anticipatory in nature, but so far it has dropped the ball and failed to see how bad things are growing month over month in the U.S. economy. With Q3 likely to be fully recessionary and show negative growth in official U.S. GDP stats, we believe the worst lies ahead for the highly overvalued U.S. equity markets. For aggressive speculators, the highest probabilities for awesome returns remain on the short side of the game, betting on collapsing stock prices.

Plummeting profits and stellar valuations are a highly dangerous and volatile combination for equity investors. We believe that extreme caution should be exercised in the months ahead as the probability of significant drops from current levels for all major U.S. stock indices due to plummeting profits is high. WHEN ARE PRICES GOING UP?

By Don Stott, gold-eagle.com (Gold Digest), 6/27/01

Of all the questions I am asked, practically on a daily basis, the most common one is, “When are prices of gold and silver going to go up?” It’s a logical question. After all, we gold and silver enthusiasts have been predicting a radical rise in paper money prices for precious metals for quite a while now—and our predictions don’t seem to come true. Are we Chicken Littles, bellowing a false hope? Are we predicting vast returns on an investment, which may never come true? After all, gold and silver don’t pay interest, do they? No. “Well then, why should I buy gold and silver, which my stock broker says are worthless, and out of favor?” Isn’t your stockbroker the character who insisted that when the NASDAQ crossed the 5,000 mark, that it would go on to 10,000? Isn’t he the one who said everything was rosy? Isn’t he the one who urged you to take a second mortgage on your home, to buy more Cisco? Isn’t he the one who told you that gold stocks were like investing in the Hindenberg? Isn’t he the one who said that the state of the economy was never better, and that 1987 and 1929 could never happen again? Wasn’t that him on CNBC, who said that there, indeed, was pie in the sky, and here in America too?

They were wrong, as we on GOLD-EAGLE were predicting. We scribblers of screed on this site had been saying for the past few years, that the stock market was doomed to plunge, the P.E. ratios were absurd, it was 1987 writ large, consumer debt was enormous, day traders should have kept their jobs, there was a negative saving rate, the money supply was growing like Topsy, and it was going to crash. When? We couldn’t predict tomorrow. Myself, as well as others of my ilk, could only look at the facts. The facts of the stock market were dire, indeed. Not only are the majority usually wrong, but when things happen suddenly, it is usually without warning. Why did the stock market wait till it did to fall out of bed? Why not a month later or earlier? It waited until enough stockholders got edgy at one time. It waited till there were more sellers than buyers. It waited till enough people became leery and distrustful of the wild run-up, and decided to get out while they could. I believe there is some invisible something that inhabits the atmosphere that is unexplainable. There has to be some mysterious trigger that causes the masses to rise up, revolt, sell, buy, or do any other action that suddenly happens, as if there were a sign from the heavens, or some inert influence that invades millions of minds... suddenly. There is no scientific study to prove this thesis, but doesn’t it seem reasonable?

The facts of the stock market crash have lots of interesting parallels to gold and silver going up in funny money. Just as surely as the market had to drop, so do gold and silver have to rise like the Phoenix Bird, and for the same reasons. The stocks were overpriced, and the metals are underpriced. The majority were hocking their homes, borrowing, and doing all sorts of stupid things to glom onto more stocks, which had no profits, and no hope of profits. Conversely, it is the minority who realize the true value of silver and gold, compared to the cost of mining, milling, smelting and production. It is the minority who gave no credence to billions of stocks being printed like confetti, flooding the market, and being snatched up like an ant eater stumbling on a termite mound. It is the minority who know the historic value of silver and gold for thousands of years.

Maybe we are like Noah, who went around telling everyone that it was going to “rain”. He was building this silly thing he called an “ark” and said God told him to do it. Then he started gathering animals. Nut case! Who ever heard of such a thing? It had never “rained”—and what in the world was that “Ark” thing he was building supposed to do? What does that word “float” mean? Maybe we are like Edison, who tried over and over to find the proper “filament” for his “light bulb”. Who ever heard of such a thing anyway? What’s the matter with gas lights, kerosene lamps and candles? Crazy man. And that Bell guy with his wires strung up. He thinks he is going to talk to someone out of hearing range. Crackpots by the dozen. Then there are those bicycle builders from Ohio. Talk about crazy brothers! They actually think they are going to fly! Ad nauseum, ad infinitum, ad continuum.

So to you who ask, “when?” I say, “I don’t know, but it will happen.” Why did everyone suddenly want “Snapple”? And then stop wanting it. Why did everyone think those Plymouth PT Cruisers (which look like a 1937 Ford) were the cat’s pajamas, and then the urge died down? These are certainly not like actual money that has been used, approved, treasured, and sought after for thousands of years. Historic, tangible, beautiful wealth does not die down like Snapple or PT Cruisers. The overwhelming array of facts say gold and silver are vastly under priced. Markets cannot be thwarted and manipulated forever. Truth will out. Like the stock market died suddenly, I believe that gold and silver will take off suddenly, when some strange force, which no one has ever been able to pinpoint, says, “now” and everyone obeys. Americans lost many trillions of dollars when the market crashed without warning... except, of course, there were many warnings. Like 1929 and 1987, those who looked at the signs, got out, maybe not at the top, but they saved themselves. No one can predict the immediate future. Long-term future can be predicted, I firmly believe. All we can do is look at the facts and act accordingly. Contrarians always act exactly the opposite of the majority and usually come out on top. There was no time to go short when the market crashed, as it happened too suddenly. The same may be true with precious metals. That mysterious force will invade and, as in 1979-80, all hell will break loose. I have a client in California who says it will be like a person is cons... No Stuart, I cannot say that! Those left in the lurch, will be exactly like those who should have sold their stocks before the crash, but didn't heed common sense. They wish they had sold at a NASDAQ price of 4,500 and missed the 5,500... correct? That would be far better than the 2,000 it now is. When gold and silver go... and I know not when... $275 and $4.35 will be like the NASDAQ at 1500.

Do gold and silver pay interest? Nope, but then no one asks for your Social Security number either, any more than when you buy a new sofa or antique dresser. Gold and silver have no deed or title, and are what is known as "fungible". You look it up, lazy. I know what it means! But by all means look at history—either in the immediate past, or ancient—and gold and silver will look pretty desirable. Protect yourself!—Don Stott has been a precious metals broker since 1977, has written five books, hundreds of columns, and his web site is www.coloradogold.com

BARRICK GOLD'S BUYOUT OF HOMESTAKE STOKES CONSPIRACY THEORISTS

By Aaron L. Task, TheStreet.com, 6/25/01

SAN FRANCISCO—Things aren't always what they seem on Wall Street, particularly in the gold market. That truism was glaringly evident today in the reaction to news Homestake Mining agreed to an $8.71 per share buyout offer from Barrick Gold.

At first glance, the deal was greeted as one might expect. Homestake's shares—the third most active in Big Board trading—gained 21% as Barrick's offer represented a 31% premium over Friday's close. Barrick shares slid 4.6%, reflecting that Barrick will issue about 140 million of its shares to pay for the deal and assume $225 million of Homestake's long-term debt. Barrick said the acquisition will dilute its 2001 earnings but add to its results in 2002.

One spin on the news—and my initial one—was that the deal is bullish for gold stocks because Barrick's management is considered among the savviest in the industry. The purchase could be viewed as an indication that Barrick believes shares of smaller gold miners, if not the metal itself, are undervalued. The Philadelphia Stock Exchange Gold and Silver Index rose 0.2% today while major averages slumped, save the NASDAQ Composite.

Furthermore, with the Federal Reserve set to lower interest rates this week for the sixth time this year, recently dampened inflation fears may resurface, giving gold and related shares a boost. That'll be especially true if the central bank eases by 50 basis points.

"Now is the time for gold to start glittering," suggested Paul Kasriel, chief U.S. economist at Northern Trust Co. of Chicago, in a report out Friday.

Kasriel, one of the foremost advocates of inflation's re-emergence, noted Fed funds are currently about 40 basis points above the 3.62% year-over-year change in the Consumer Price Index, the tightest spread since 1993.

"Gold starts to come into its own as a desired asset class when you can no longer get an honest return on your money," which occurs when Fed funds [rates] fall below inflation, he argued. "My guess is that some investors are starting to nibble at gold because of expectations that the funds rate will drop below the consumer inflation rate in the not-too-distant future."

Today, the price of gold rose 0.5% to $274.70. Meanwhile, Fed funds futures are pricing in 54% odds for a half-point rate cut.

But as suggested above, many gold market participants weren't enthralled by the Homestake-Barrick deal.

"It's an unmitigated disaster," said one trader of mining stocks. "I see no reason to do this transaction. [Homestake] could have achieved a 30% premium in the blink of an eye if the gold market hiccups."

A big reason for frustration over the deal is that Barrick is an aggressive hedger while Homestake is not. Hedging refers to mining companies selling future production at a fixed cost, in order to protect themselves against potentially lower prices.

Assuming completion of the merger, the combined Barrick-Homestake will have about 18 million ounces, or about 20% of its reserves, hedged at a minimum price of $345 an ounce.

Although that's well above spot market prices, hedging is anathema to gold bugs, who believe the practice contributes to a vast effort by central banks and broker/dealers to artificially suppress the price of gold. Some of the more aggressive conspiracy theorists accused Homestake CEO Jack Thompson, who will become vice chairman of the combined entity, of essentially selling out to the enemy.

While that's a fringe view, the first question on the conference call was about hedging, specifically whether Barrick would increase its activities to account for the newly acquired Homestake production.

Not at all, Barrick CEO Randall Oliphant replied on the call, noting the company has traditionally hedged between 20% and 25% of its reserves. "Given the positive tone in the gold market, we're comfortable where we are today, and have no plans to change the hedged book," he said.

Meanwhile, Thompson indirectly addressed the "sellout" charge on the conference call. Agreeing to the offer was "bittersweet", he said, but Barrick's financial muscle gives it flexibility to pursue growth either through internal development or via acquisition. He lamented that Homestake didn't have that luxury as a standalone entity. Additionally, Barrick is one of the lowest-cost gold producers and rates high on most other industry measures of financial health.

"I'm a fairly large shareholder of Homestake, and if you look at our future and the options available, in our estimation our prospects are much better as part of this [combined] company," Thompson said. "We're creating an exciting vehicle for people to invest [in] Jack in a Box."

But Thompson's enthusiasm was not shared by some other Homestake shareholders. "What's upsetting some people is that Homestake has hedged very little while Barrick is one of the worst offenders," said Jean-Marie Eveillard, manager of the $10 million First Eagle SoGen Gold fund. "I don't want to move from a nonhedger to the worst offender." Eveillard also expressed concern that Barrick will increase its hedging activities going forward. Oliphant's comments notwithstanding, that was one reason gold prices initially dipped on news of the deal, traders said.

Finally, the 30% premium is "theoretical" because it's based on Barrick's stock price and not a cash offer, he said.

The fund manager said he will either sell his existing Homestake position or sell the Barrick shares once the exchange is accomplished. If others follow a similar strategy, "then incidentally it should be positive for other mining companies that don't hedge" much, including Newmont Mining, Gold Fields of South Africa, and Franco Nevada, he said. Newmont and Gold Fields, however, both ended lower on the session while Franco Nevada gained just 0.3% in Toronto Stock Exchange trading.

The First Eagle Gold fund, which was up 22.9% year to date through Friday, has long positions in all three (as well as Homestake).

Eveillard also manages the $1.7 billion First Eagle SoGen Global fund, which is up 7.9% year to date and has an approximate 4% position in gold stocks.

"We've always looked at [gold] as an insurance policy—and after a 20-year [gold] bear market, it's a cheap insurance policy," he said. "If something goes wrong to the point where financial assets get into real trouble, the upside in gold—and more so gold stocks—is tremendous and can offset substantial losses incurred in financial assets."

Gold and related stocks may very well be good insurance in these uncertain times. But today's action shows again that the sector is far from boring or predictable.

CFR WANTS AMERICANS TO IGNORE TRADE DEFICIT, A CRITICAL INDICATOR OF U.S. ECONOMIC STRENGTH

COMMENTARY

The Council on Foreign Relations wants Americans to keep their heads in the sand so free traders can continue reaping huge profits.

EXCLUSIVE TO THE SPOTLIGHT

By Christopher J. Petherick, 6/18/01

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) made an impassioned plea that Americans should pay no mind to the growing U.S. trade deficit and look to globalist-inspired trading blocs and multinational corporations to save the lagging U.S. economy.

New economic figures, however, refute the CFR's contention that Americans should ignore this important economic indicator and that free trade is doing anything but hurting the United States.

In the report, titled: "The U.S. Trade Deficit: A Dangerous Obsession", Joseph Quinlan, a senior global economist at mega-investment company Morgan Stanley Dean Witter, and Marc Chandler, the chief currency strategist at Mellon Financial Corporation, writing in the May/June issue of Foreign Affairs, the CFR's chief propaganda magazine, pled their case:

... [T]he trade balance is no longer a valid scorecard for America's global sales and competitiveness. Given a choice, U.S. firms prefer to sell goods and services abroad through their foreign affiliates instead of exporting them from the United States...

Overblown concern about the swollen trade deficit, combined with a slowing economy and the expectation of rising unemployment, could ignite a new round of trade protectionism in Washington, which could spark similar responses around the globe. The greatest danger on America's trade front, therefore, is not the size of the deficit but the nation's obsession with it...

A full copy of the article can be found at www.foreignaffairs.org.

But don't be fooled. In spite of the CFR's rhetoric, the balance of payments in trade is a powerful indicator of the strength of the U.S. economy. So strong, in fact, the ballooning trade deficit forced the Commerce Department in early May to lower its estimate of U.S. economic growth this year from 2 percent to approximately 1.3 percent, according to economic analysts.

The World Trade Organization's (WTO) annual report released in late May, revealed that the United States, amidst an economic slowdown, hit a record trade deficit of $450 billion in 2000.

Meanwhile, Mexico and China benefited from soaring exports and saw their economies take great strides, according to the WTO.

It's no coincidence that Mexico and China, both claiming 15 percent growth in exports last year, were also the two countries which benefited from free-trade pacts with the United States.

DEFICITS MATTER

As the writers in Foreign Affairs—a senior economist and a chief currency trader—should know, trade deficits and surpluses, referred to as a country's balance of payments in trade, are summaries of all transactions made by residents of one country with the rest of the world.

A trade deficit simply means that a country's imports in a given year exceeded its exports. A trade surplus, on the other hand, indicates that a country's exports were greater than its imports.

As with any balance of payments, if a country's expenditures—the amount it purchases or imports—exceed its income—the amount it sells or exports—the difference must be covered by borrowing, selling an asset or spending money that has been saved.

Even though the amount of income earned by U.S. companies, including the manufacturing and service sectors—known collectively as the gross domestic product (GDP)—exceeds U.S. imports, other telling trends such as the dangerously low savings-to-debt ratio common among American families today, show that the trade deficit is but one of many critical negative economic indicators that should not be ignored.

New statistics released June 1 by the influential National Association of Purchasing Management (NAPM) and the Labor Department speaks loudly as to what imports are doing to the United States.

For the 10th month in a row, manufacturing activity in May has decreased dramatically, according to a NAPM survey of executives who purchase raw materials at more than 350 manufacturing plants in the United States.

At the same time, the Labor Department reported that the number of Americans signing up for first-time unemployment benefits rose significantly in May and that 175,064 jobs were lost in April, many of which occurred in the manufacturing sector.

One of the reasons the CFR wants Americans to continue on the path to globalism is that plutocrats, financiers and speculators increasingly draw a significant portion of their earnings from international investments and can use international markets as a buffer when U.S. markets decline.

Wall Street's Morgan Stanley Dean Witter laments its earnings were down from the first quarter last year, with $1.2 billion in net income for the first quarter in 2001. Morgan Stanley Dean Witter is now hyping its global division as a means to increase its revenue shortfalls.

Pittsburgh's Mellon Financial Corporation, with $2.8 trillion in assets under its management, boasts about its growing global initiatives which earned it millions of dollars abroad.

WHERE YOU SELL

To make their point, Quinlan and Chandler cite the case of Eastman Kodak, a camera film manufacturer, which waged a million dollar public-relations campaign hyping the Chinese market in order to woo investors into funding construction of massive plants in China.

Quinlan and Chandler contend that Kodak was following the "make where you sell" principle—namely, U.S. companies are not moving abroad to chase cheap labor, but instead are leaving the country to sell locally to the world's growing consumer base.

"A number of motives drive the global strategies of U.S. multinationals, but reducing the wage bill tends to be near the bottom of the list. More important are: wealthy markets, along with access to skilled labor and technology," write Quinlan and Chandler.

Kodak says it wants to be able to compete with other film makers such as Fuji which maintains a stranglehold on the photographic film market in Asia.

So, company officials announced plans to invest a total of $1.2 billion in Red China over the next few years. In September 1999, Kodak finished construction of a massive plant in Xiamen City, Fujian Province.

However, critics refute Kodak's claim it is investing more than one billion dollars in order to sell film to an Asian market still in the throes of a recession.

Free traders often cite the potential of the vast untapped Chinese market just waiting to be sold Western goods.

Yet, the State Department estimates that almost 350 million Chinese out of a total population of 1 billion live in poverty. On July 17, 2000, Business Week reported that only 2 million Chinese earn a disposable income of $20,000 per year.

In Xiamen City, one of the more successful and prosperous regions of the country, where Kodak has one of its massive factories, official figures place per-capita income at approximately $2,000 yearly.

Unlike in the United States, where middle American families have been forced to take on vast debt in order to purchase homes and cars, according to official estimates, per-capita savings in Fujian Province, China, is approximately $1,000—half a year's salary.

It is the rare American family, which could hope to save a fraction, let alone half, of their income in one year.

In fact, for the first time in history, for a large segment of the population, there is a negative savings rate in the United States—consumers are spending more than they make. [MM: To subscribe to THE SPOTLIGHT, please call 1-800-522-6292 toll free.]

FEDERAL CHILD SWIPING A PROFITABLE ENDEAVOR

Idaho's family court system has created another cause celebre with its mistreatment of the JoAnn McGuckin family.

EXCLUSIVE TO THE SPOTLIGHT

By Tony Blizzard, 6/18/01

ANALYSIS

Out of control local "family service" agencies, colluding with pliable judges to steal children from their parents, have become big business in America, collectively stealing 3,000 children per day.

Federal rewards and perks per child taken can reach six figures per year. But the McGuckin family ordeal in Bonner County, Idaho—as first reported in the last SPOTLIGHT—may generate the necessary publicity to put a crimp in the growing, largely bogus, "save the children" industry.

Good fortune turned to bad for the McGuckins, who owned outright 40-plus acres of "God's country" at Garfield Bay, Idaho, circling half of pristine Beaver Lake.

In the fashion of many people in the area, the family was self-sufficient, close-knit, home-schooling and suspicious of outsiders and government. Before the nanny-state mind set, they would have been lauded as staunch American pioneers.

"We are a breed of people who say, 'This is our home and we are entitled to protect it,'" Garfield Bay's 84-year-old Lloyd Wyatt told reporters.

Michael McGuckin, 61, a logger by trade, died May 12 after a long fight against multiple sclerosis. Left at home were his widow JoAnn, 46, with a heart condition, and six of their children, three boys and three girls, between the ages of eight and 16.

Tax arrears amounting to $8,700 had accumulated on their property—property estimated to be worth half-a-million dollars—due to the father's illness and the environmentalist campaign against logging.

On May 25, 1999, Bonner County "bought" the property for the amount of the back taxes.

One year and three months later, the county sold it for $50,000 to Schmuel and Amy Korengut of Basking Ridge, New Jersey, using attorney J.T. Diehl in Sandpoint, Idaho.

Most of those close to the situation believe the county prosecutor, Phil Robinson, instigated a "dirty tricks" campaign to oust the family from the prime property. It's believed that Robinson probably built the case around a complaint by an older McGuckin daughter who was "on the outs" with the family because she left the area at the time her father was dying and she was most needed.

Robinson, using a now common perversion of our court system, obtained an arrest warrant for Mrs. McGuckin for "felony injury to a child". He testified in Magistrate Debra Heise's court to horror-story circumstances at the family home—none of which proved true when the children were eventually, officially examined. Yet, the charges stand as though chiseled in marble.

Nancy Johnson, a legal analyst in the area, believes Robinson perjured himself. Also, in her opinion, "By testifying as a witness as to probable cause for an arrest warrant, the prosecutor destroyed his absolute immunity because he acted as a witness, not a prosecutor. This means that if Mrs. McGuckin decides to sue him for a civil-rights violation, he is no longer immune."

POLICE-STATE TRICKERY

Police trickery was used to make the actual arrest. Mrs. McGuckin was enticed out of her home and away from her children on a promise of help, but instead was taken to jail. The children thought she had been killed—as no contact was allowed between them and their mother.

It was apparently assumed that with the mother out of the picture, taking the children into state custody would be a simple process, as usual.

When the state finally did get the children without harm, thanks in large part to local sheriff Phil Jarvis' low-key handling of a chore he appears to have found highly distasteful, Robinson argued for and got $100,000 bail "to keep her away from her children"—a clear civil-rights violation.

Interestingly, Magistrate Heise has offered release of Mrs. McGuckin on her own recognizance—no bail at all—with stipulations, one of which is that she must not have any contact with her children without court approval.

Mrs. McGuckin refused the terms and remained in jail saying that she "demands dismissal of the charges and child protection proceedings and an apology."

She said the officials must "explain their behavior to everyone, as it affects us all," which may sound too sane for the politically-correct crowd.

It has been proven that children long separated from their parents, and at the mercy of "family" social agents, will eventually say in court anything that the state wants.

Mrs. McGuckin was fortunate to have a concerned lawyer, Edgar Steele, living nearby, who immediately took up her case without charge.

But prosecutor Robinson did not feel blessed by this development so he gave orders that Steele "was not allowed to talk to her".

Steele was forced to temporarily withdraw in favor of a young court-appointed attorney, Bryce Powell.

Powell, to his credit, appears to take his job seriously. He remarked to the press about the situation and the condition of Mrs. McGuckin: "Look what they did to her. They lured her away from the house on her request for help—to get a ride to the telephone to try to get Social Security for her family. They took her there under the guise, they arrested her and then they went in to take custody of her children. If she's distrustful of the government, it seems like she has a damned good reason."

Powell also said: "Unconventional ideas should not be confused with mental illness," which is one of Robinson's accusations against Mrs. McGuckin.

Alice Wallace, director of the Bonner Community Food Center has regularly sent food to the family and describes them as "a normal family that has fallen on hard times".

The children, on coming out of the house after being promised that they would be allowed to stay together, were first taken to the local hospital where they were all pronounced "in very good shape" by Susan Montgomery, director of nursing.

The county refuses to divulge their present whereabouts and a second hearing date for temporary fostering of them has been put off.

They are now exposed to the usual "counseling", testing and the rest of institutional manipulation of children. Officials have already stated that it is unlikely they will be reunited with their mother.

Idaho's Child Protection Services needed only to issue an order to make the children wards of their agency. There is no due process in the procedure, which, although nationwide and accepted, is wholly unlawful—but is used daily to destroy families on the flimsiest of rationales.

The state is pressing a child-protection case against Mrs. McGuckin. This is the usual, after-the-fact insult on top of injury to justify "family services" acts after they have taken children from their parents.

The "vicious attack dogs" of the media—turned out to be mostly friendly puppies and are hopefully being cared for by the county.

Steele, on a talk show, said these developments are nothing new, he has seen numerous people lose their property through such bogus governmental manipulation.

What is new here is the notoriety the situation has created. Steele hopes the publicity can be used to help clean the corruption out of the county system.

Some people close to the scene feel there is an excellent chance that the family will have their property restored.

Steele has established a fund for the McGuckin family. He vows that not one cent of any donations will go to any lawyer. Contributions can be sent to: McGuckin Family Trust, P.O. Box 1255, Sagle, ID 83860.

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Stay Small Or Increase Substance In Nevada

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #18:

More on "Nexus" and "Substance"

Two legal issues crop up when operating a Nevada corporation which might have some activities in a foreign jurisdiction: "nexus" and "substance". Without getting into a full-blown legal definition for the purposes of this discussion, nexus can be considered equivalent to the related word, "connection". And for purposes of this discussion we can consider the legal issue of "substance" to mean "physical presence".

We have previously pointed out a list of conditions under which a Nevada corporation is not considered to be "doing business" in a foreign jurisdiction. It may, for instance, use an independent contractor to effect sales outside of Nevada, as long as each sale is not considered final until accepted in Nevada. If, however, a Nevada corporation has significant nexus (connection) in another jurisdiction, in many cases the tax-hungry foreign state will seek to extend its tax laws to compel the Nevada corporation to pay some home-state taxes. A Nevada corporation with little presence in Nevada but which provides all sorts of equipment to an independent contractor working in, say, California could find itself under attack from the California Franchise Tax Board.

So far, at least, there are very few examples of small, private situations undergoing such scrutiny. However, in cases where the amounts of revenue derived from the foreign jurisdiction are large enough to present a "target of opportunity", various states are becoming increasingly aggressive in extending their tax tentacles. In auditing such a situation the home-state taxation authority will pose many questions relating to the "substance" (physical presence) of the Nevada corporation in Nevada.

Actual audit questions in establishing the substance of the Nevada corporation in Nevada can be very detailed and probing, including: employees (compensation, responsibilities, payroll returns); identification of officers and compensation; copies of phone bills; actual payments made on notes; list of suppliers and professional-service providers; where decisions are made regarding investments; copies of corporate records including minutes and resolutions; banking (copies of all bank statements, checks and deposit slips).

The Nevada Department of Taxation uses the following criteria to evaluate nexus in Nevada: use of an office, distribution house, warehouse, service enterprise or other place of business; maintenance of a stock of goods; solicitation of orders by employees or independent contractors; regular engagement in the delivery of property in this state, other than by common carrier or United States mail; or regular engagement in any activity in connection with the leasing or servicing of property which is located within this state.

From the foregoing it should be obvious that it is always best to remain small in order to keep the bureaucrats out of your private business affairs whenever possible. And if and when your business grows to become a substantial potential target, it may become necessary to broaden its Nevada base.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
