[QUOTING the May 25, 2001 The Philippine STAR re: May 22nd, 2001 action by a judge in Atlanta, Georgia (U.S.A.):]

JUDGE GRANTS DIVORCE TO FONDA, TURNER

ATLANTA, GEORGIA (AP)—A judge granted Jane Fonda a divorce from CNN founder Ted Turner Tuesday, ending nearly a decade of marriage without fanfare.

Fulton County Superior Court Judge Gail Tusan granted Fonda's divorce petition, which she filed last month, said her attorney, John C. Mayoue.

"I feel sadness," the 63-year-old actress and former fitness guru said in a statement. "We shared 10 years together, and I will always care for him.

Now it's time to move on, and I wish him well."

Turner's spokesman, Phillip Evans, declined comment on what he called a private matter. Evans said last month that Fonda and Turner "have the deepest affection and respect for each other and will always remain very good friends."

Mayoue declined to discuss details of the divorce settlement except to say that "all issues are resolved".

Turner, the 62-year-old billionaire founder of the Cable News Network, married Fonda in December 1991.
It was the third marriage for both. The couple announced in January 2000 that they were separating.

Fonda's divorce filing said only that the marriage was "irretrievably broken", standard language for a divorce petition in Georgia. But Turner told The New Yorker in an interview published last month that Fonda's DECISION TO BECOME A CHRISTIAN
PLAYED A ROLE IN THEIR BREAKUP.

"SHE JUST CAME HOME AND SAID, 'I'VE BECOME A CHRISTIAN,'" HE SAID. "BEFORE THAT, SHE

WAS NOT A RELIGIOUS PERSON. THAT'S A PRETTY BIG CHANGE FOR YOUR WIFE OF MANY YEARS TO TELL YOU. THAT'S A SHOCK."

[END OF QUOTING]

Definitions: CHRIST: A state of being. A Godly emotional state of mind-set. A belief in a Christly being as a guideline for human behavior. Often associated with certain individuals, i.e. Jesus. A label for an accepted "Christ-like" attitude as acceptable and relative to the Laws of God expressed most frequently in the Ten Commandments of the Bible as presented in the Old Testament and reaffirmed in the New Testament.

NOWHERE IN THE DEFINITION IS THERE
REFERENCE TO "RELIGION".

NOW, WHAT DOES THIS TELL YOU ABOUT MR.
TURNER? If, readers, you are NOT Godly—then the only alternative is that you ARE in opposition to God and adhere to some alternative "belief" system or "religion".

This very statement of Mr. Turner indicates that there could be nothing worse than being intent on goodliness, Godliness and Christ-ness. IT
PRONOUNCES LOUDLY AND CLEARLY: IF YOU

CLAIM CHRISTIANITY, YOU CLAIM TO BE AGAINST DECEPTION, LIES, DAMAGE TO ANOTHER, THEFT, KILLING, AND YOU CAN NAME THE REST OF THE BEHAVIOR GUIDELINES SUCH AS ADULTERY, ETC.

This also indicates that Mr. Turner has no use for such as “marriage” contracts which are based on goodly respect and reverence for the very “state of marriage”.

Remember that Mr. Turner WROTE HIS OWN PERSONAL TEN COMMANDMENTS!

Now, what “religion” would so abhor “Christ” that it would break all other contracts to keep to the “Satanic concepts”?

NO, Satanic stance does not always represent “bad” things but is certainly the opposite end of the pole to Christ-ness.

As Mr. Turner reaches out to take over the Television industry in Russia—what can you expect? Now, take a good close look at where you are and to what you have come. If becoming a person with an intention to “goodness” under the term “Christianity” is such an abomination that you cannot live nor abide in its presence, as in a spouse, it becomes a pretty interesting predicament, doesn’t it?

Ted Turner is one of the most influential men in media today, so where do YOU think you are headed in the race for capturing the souls of MAN?

WHAT ELSE HAS BEEN GOING ON WHILE YOU WERE SLEEPING?

I would like you to recall that Jane Fonda is Jewish in family lineage—so this should tell you even more. So, what is Turner? One World Zionist! That is the only other choice, for even religions of today claim to “respect” other “religions”.

Do you also see that if you travel and want news—you are locked in to ONE channel for information (good, bad, or total lie), CNN—Mr. Turner’s empire where war is not only justified but pushed at every possible turn of the screw in your coffins.

Do I somehow hate or despise “Mr. Turner”? I think it is possible to conceive that I hardly even KNOW Mr. Turner—only his intentions. As a matter of fact, this is finally a PUBLIC CLUE as to the game and players confronting you-the-people at every turn. I always respect any entity who declares himself so frankly.

So, how can you become so opposite of another and still have “great affection”? You are lying to self and other but with loss of respect—there goes TRUE affection. There are also those billions of dollars to consider! Frankly, it is possible that Ms. Fonda might well do some worthy things with her funds.

However, don’t jump to any silly conclusions, my friends; there was already great trouble in “paradise”.

Is this topic even important? Yes, frankly, it IS. It is not the divorce that becomes important, however, nor the persons (individuals) involved—it is the point as presented. And, dear friends, it also shows once again that Satan will dump anyone the minute they are no longer USEFUL to his cause or interferes in any way with the PLAN to take total control of the WORLD—called at this time THE NEW WORLD ORDER—GLOBAL GOVERNMENT, RELIGION AND POWER, or shows any deviation away from the focus of the IBC (International Banking Cartel).

Please don’t expect honesty in this matter on Larry King Live. And, it certainly pays to watch the inside pages (at the bottom in little print) articles that show up in your papers.

Also note the seeming disagreements between nations usually voting together on issues—it is a smokescreen to fool as many of you people as is possible.

And finally: What is the price of a soul? Well, for Turner it is obviously billions ($$$), to the “extras”, obviously a pittance. The “Slave Labor” crowd of over a million Jews from the Holocaust is going to be paid “by July”. Over a million people? My, now just how many Jews does that make who had to have been present in Germany during that war? This certainly pushes it up to more than 7 million not to mention the ones who “didn’t” do “slave” labor.

Sometimes you people need to do a bit of arithmetic before you put your numbers on the line. Even in this book we are using, some of the numbers are so outrageous that accuracy is impossible at best and more outrageous in the “least” case.

Under ground doesn’t mean anything anymore either as to full security from detection—from the spies in the skies you can easily determine underground and undersea facilities along with identifying the components used or which are present. Twenty thousand craft or planes WOULD BE EASILY NOTED.

Mineral stashes (gold, silver, etc.) are EASILY located and sorted as to category and the NEW WORLD ORDER IBC intends to HAVE IT ALL.

If you as “man” expect to ever use the caches, you had best start doing so NOW; the minute control is gained over your nations and you, it will be taken at ANY cost—TO YOU.

God offers a solution but the New World Order will not wait for you to drag your feet as they push right on through to insure gun-fodder and a lock-in of any wealth remaining in any nation—and much the less, in the small nations of the “Third World” category. YOU are the “Last Frontier”, and easily manipulated, even under the watchful eye of China.

Where will YOU be on “D-Day”?—GCH

CHAPTER 42

THE CFR GAINS STRENGTH

The CFR now really began to be influential in the U.S. Old and tried institutions were replaced by new international ones—like the UN—that grew out of the CFR. Later the INSTITUTE OF THE PACIFIC RIM (IPR) and the FOREIGN POLICY ASSOCIATION (FPA) also emerged from it.

At the behest of the IPR George Marshall handed CHINA over to the Communists. The control over the Soviet Union by the Illuminati was considerably strengthened by the war. The Soviets themselves were strengthened by the “lend lease” project and the agreements Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill reached at Yalta. The well-staged “Cold War” between the Soviet empire and the West that followed made the Illuminati stronger in the rest of the world. The Korean and the Vietnam wars were set up so that the Russians and the Americans never met directly. At the same time it justified their “national security” set-up, viz. the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency), the NSA (National Security Agency) and the NSC (National Security Council).

The undercover operations by the CIA to topple all the governments of countries that were not yet controlled by the Illuminati and to replace them with illumined, i.e., controlled people started in the early Fifties. Some U.S. senators began to smell a rat and wondered—as did Senator McCARTHY—why there were so many communists holding high offices in the U.S. government. McCarthy founded the “House Hearings on Un-American Activities” and he managed to uncover some communist activities before the media discredited him. This is the most successful and well-tried method to unseat troublemakers.

Later McCarthy investigated the CIA. If he had reached a bit deeper he might have been able to prevent the Kennedy assassination.

The Committee of 300 was alarmed when McCarthy prepared to bring William Bundy before the investigating committee. His subpoena might have uncovered the good relations between the CIA and the British secret service.

The RIA then chose Allen Dulles to get McCarthy out of the way. Dulles ordered Richard Helms and Patrick Lyman to take care of McCarthy. Eisenhower gave an order to General Mark Clark (CFR member) to divert McCarthy’s attention from the CIA. He managed to convince McCarthy that there was a special supervisory committee checking into CIA activities. McCarthy then stopped his investigations. He was well known for his witch hunts, but he was—apart from being attorney for many New York Mafia families—also a close friend of the homosexual FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover for whom he arranged transvestite parties in a New York hotel.

Richard Helms and Allen Dulles later both headed the CIA.

THE KENNEDY ASSASSINATION

Ever since November 1963 the motives for the assassination of JOHN F. KENNEDY have been the subject of wild speculation. What is clear is that the young President was about to steer his own course in matters of strategic importance, a course strongly opposed to the mighty political and financial interest of the ESTABLISHMENT. He was not a good “collaborator”, and one of the reasons for the murder was the sacking of the overly powerful CIA chief ALLEN DULLES—after the fiasco at the Bay of Pigs in April 1961, shortly after he took on the job. Furthermore he prepared to call back some U.S. advisors from Vietnam. This order was issued in October 1963. Another thorn in the flesh of the Illuminati was the plan to curb CIA military activities in Southeast Asia. On July 18, 1963 he had told Congress that he wanted to implement certain measures to remedy the balance of payments deficit of the U.S. He wanted to support exports of industrial goods and an interest balancing tax on foreign accounts of American citizens. On capital invested abroad up to 15% tax would have to be paid. That the international bankers didn't want to put up with that is obvious. As you see, Kennedy would have been the right man as the people's representative!

But to find an even more important reason we have to leave politics for a moment. It concerns the ROSWELL INCIDENT. On July 22, 1947 a "non-terrestrial" flying machine had crashed at Roswell, New Mexico. There were ninety-two witnesses, thirty-five of which were Air Force personnel, and four humanoid beings were found. The next space vehicle was found on February 13, 1948 near Aztec, New Mexico, followed on March 25 by a further crash in the same area, at Heart Canyon. This disk had a diameter of thirty-three metres, was made from an unknown metal and was occupied by sixteen beings, about 120 cm high and all dead. Another crash happened near Roswell in 1949, and here one being survived. An Air Force officer was ordered to bring him to Los Alamos, at that time the best-guarded institution of the U.S. Armed Forces. The being was described as a reptiloid humanoid with certain insectoid characteristics. He was simply called EBE (Extraterrestrial Biological Entity). He came from a double-star system, that their planet was now a desert planet, that their sun was dying and that they had underground facilities in several countries of the world. EBE taught the young colonel who looked after him about reincarnation, that the soul lives on and that this was the law of the Universe. All this was recorded and stored under the code-name YELLOW BOOK. Under the project SIGMA they tried to contact EBE's race, but without success. At the end of 1951 EBE became very ill. Since his biological body functions were chlorophyll-based, the botanist Dr. Guillermo Mendoza was called in to treat EBE. EBE stayed in Los Alamos until June 18, 1952 when he died for "unknown reasons". It is said that the colonel looking after him cried when he died. He apparently had loved him like a child. Under the project ROBERTSON PANEL this event was later filmed as "ET" to accustom the public slowly to reality.

On December 6, 1950 a thirty-metre saucer crashed near Laredo, Texas. In the debris the charred remains of a being of about 130-cm in height with a very large head were found. When the photographs were released, this event caused quite a stir. On May 20, 1953 a further saucer of only ten metres across was recovered in Kingman, Arizona. Here there were four dead beings who were brought like all the others to the Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Hangar 18. As the Americans like to say: Reality is sometimes stranger than fiction.

[H: Well, that might be the "saying", but mostly the "reality" IS only fiction.]

After the first crash already several secret organizations were founded to deal with the presence of UFOs. The most important one was the OPERATION MAJESTIC 12 that was founded on September 24, 1947, by President Harry Solomon Truman and under which all the other projects ran (MAJESTY is the code name for the President). Among its twelve members were Dr. Vannevar Bush, the scientific advisor of the President, Defence Secretary Forrestal and later also Nelson Rockefeller, Allen Dulles, Head of the CIA, and J. Edgar Hoover, Head of the FBI. The rest were all members of the CFR. All twelve were also members of the JASON SOCIETY or JASON SCHOLARS, the elite from the SKULL & BONES order. The group's headquarters in Maryland is only accessible by air and is called the "Country club" by insiders.

Among the Projects under MAJESTIC 12 were the following:

- Project MAJI: "Majority Agency for Joint Intelligence". MAJIC means Magi-controlled. All information and disinformation about UFOs and extra-terrestrials are evaluated by Magi in connection with the CIA, the NSA, the DIA and Naval Intelligence.

- Project SIGN: Investigation of the UFO phenomenon, the name was later changed to Project GRUDGE (perhaps because of the many human body parts that were found in two of the vehicles).

- Project BLUE BOOK: The retrieval of the crashed vehicles and—together with the ROBERTSON PANEL—distribution of disinformation among the public.

- Project SIGMA: Communication with EBE's race.

- Project SNOWBIRD: Technology of extra-terrestrial flying objects and the attempt to fly one of them.

- Project AQUARIUS: General project for the co-ordination of the research and contact programme with extra-terrestrials.

- Project GARNET: Investigation of the influence of the extra-terrestrials upon the evolution of humanity.

- Project POUNCE: Responsible for the evaluation of the crashed vehicles and the biological analysis of the passengers.

- Project REDLIGHT: Organizes test flights with retrieved vehicles or vehicles made available by the extra-terrestrials. At this time this project is conducted at AREA 51, GROOM LAKE, Nevada.

- Project LUNA: The code name for the extra-terrestrial bases on the moon which was observed and filmed by the Apollo astronauts. There they have mining operations, and the great cigar-shaped mother ships are stationed there.

- DELTA FORCES: units specially trained for these projects.

William Cooper maintains that the CIA was established expressly to screen the problem of the extra-terrestrials. They both say that the establishment of the international secret elite group The Bilderbergers, about which we will talk at length later in the book, was also for the screening of extra-terrestrial contact. Here I will deal with the Bilderbergers only in a purely political context.

[H: What do I think of that which is projected by one, William Cooper? I don't! Selling a bunch of books often indicates a "tool" at work. I believe you will find One legitimate sighting from a sea-vessel. However, most of the background information of Cooper is proven to be false and at best he presents what OTHERS tell him. This may well be entertaining but is not proof of truth. Be very careful when you have the New World Order Elite in command of information flow. AND HERE, THE TRUTH "IS" STRANGER THAN ANY FICTION—RIGHT DOWN TO "SPACE ALIENS" WHERE THE DECEPTIONS ARE GREATER THAN YOU MIGHT RECOGNIZE.

I will mention something right here and see what you think. On August 17-18, 1987 an alien craft was brought down at Yucca Flats, Nevada with five "aliens" aboard. The ground crews were unable to open the craft to gain access. When it was opened (from inside) there appeared to be only "bodies" as to four of the beings but one remaining "almost" alive (as described by military personnel). The "bodies" were moved, as unusual as it may seem to anyone who knows geography in this matter, to Edwards Air Force Base where one officer stated: "The old man (higher ranking office) will shit his pants when he gets this one...". Afterwards the bodies were taken to Nellis Air Force Base at Las Vegas. The bodies are still there and periodically show signs of "life" although there are no "vital signs". Now, why do you suppose there is not further mention of THIS craft?—it made the local news. Surely, as close to Area 51 as it was grounded, there would have been some "inside" information.

Next consider that on that same day a craft was "down" in Texas and was ASAP removed to a non-active Air Force base. This downing was brought out immediately and announced on KTRH, one of the major station-channels in Houston, Texas. Why does this not get mentioned in such journals as Mr. Cooper's?

This may well be WHY Mr. Cooper once left a message on Dharma's answering machine that she was a "slimy little puke"??? And further, he would bring all the F_____ legal charges he could find against her when he was actually "mad as hell" at George Green who actually gave him good accolades for his first writings. Now, of course, he is a major presenter in the UFO circles, so why not give all the information available and why just the PARTY LINE?

BE VERY CAUTIOUS, READERS—STUDY IT ALL AND THEN USE YOUR INTELLIGENCE.]

Here one could ask oneself what the extra-terrestrials want of us?

Why do they not approach the leaders or president of a country? They did! And not just one group of them!

Already George Washington and Abraham Lincoln maintained to have been contacted by extra-terrestrials. President Roosevelt apparently had a meeting with the occupants of a flying saucer arranged by Nikola Tesla during a Pacific cruise on the "Pennsylvania" in 1934. On the fourth of July 1945 President Truman is said to have had a personal encounter. Around the turn of the century some Rothschild children claimed that their parents had met UFOnuts. But this was claimed by a few people only.

Concrete proof exists though of a meeting by President EISENHOWER.

Michael Hesemann writes (in UFOs-Die Kontakte):
"From the reports by the contactees we learn that since their massed appearance over Washington in the summer of 1952 the extra-terrestrials had made contact with the U.S. government... Some contactees like George van Tassel were also charged with sending special communiqués to the president. At that time—after the elections in autumn 1952—this was, from January 1953 onwards, General Dwight D. Eisenhower had already heard of the Roswell, Aztec and Laredo UFO crashes during his service. After his election on November 18, 1952 he received a report by the 'Majestic 12' committee that had been charged with the investigation of the retrieved UFO wrecks by his predecessor Truman. The committee recommended to the President strict secrecy for reasons of 'national security'.

The place where Eisenhower was to make contact was the Edwards (MUROC) Air Force Base in California. This had been the area for UFO demonstrations for months and years before:

July 8, 1947: A LARGE OBJECT WITH A TAIL OF BLUE FLAMES MORE THAN A KILOMETRE LONG CROSSED MUROC AT 17,000 METRES.

JUNE 14, 1950: A NAVY TRANSPORT PILOT AND SEVERAL CIVIL PILOTS OBSERVED A CIGAR-SHAPED MOTHERSHIP 40 KM EAST OF MUROC.

August 10, 1950: Lt. Robert C. Wykoff, physicist with the Navy, observed with the telescope a large disk-shaped object as it manoeuvred near Edwards.

September 30, 1952: Air photographer Dick Beemer and two other witnesses observed two spherical, slightly flattened objects manoeuvring over Edwards."

On February 20, 1954 the time had come. This event has been confirmed by films and several witnesses, among them Geralt Light of the mighty media group CBS, the Earl of Clancerty, member of the House of Lords, the former secret service man, William Cooper, Paul Solomon of the Air Force and many others who at that time had been stationed at Edwards/MUROC.

Apparently on this day something happened that had all officers including the commander run to the observation tower. From there they saw a disk with a diameter between sixty and one hundred metres that hovered directly above the runway. The object was observed for hours, literally until the last man on the base knew about it. The disk flew patterns that defied all laws of physics, up and down, from one side to the other, right angles etc.

Later there were five objects, three disk-shaped and two cigar-shaped. Eisenhower who at that time was resting at Palm Springs was fetched. The air base personnel and Eisenhower then watched as a small group of the occupants stepped out and came towards them. They looked like human beings, had about the same height, were blond and spoke English. They offered help in the spiritual development of humanity. Their main condition was the destruction of all nuclear arms. They were not prepared to share their technology with us since spiritually we were not even ready to deal responsibly with the technology we already had. They believed that we would use any new technology only to destroy each other. This race declared that we were on the way to self-destruction and that we had to stop killing each other, to pollute the Earth, to exploit the natural resources and that we should live in harmony with Creation. Most importantly we had to understand and to learn to see ourselves as citizens of a planetary family and that we were committed and should start behaving as members of that family. We would have to quickly let go of the idea that we could do as we pleased. Only then could we start to behave like citizens of a planetary system and start relations with them. They are part of the same family and should be treated accordingly, and that is also how we should see the people of our Earth. As soon as we would have learned to interact peacefully with other nations, we could start interplanetary relations.

[H: Now, might you guess THIS might just be the reason I am handled in files beyond top secret? Would you also wonder at a need to bury such as CONTACT, the paper and "voice"? No, I, nor my compatriots DO NOT write through, of, or for any such paper as SPECTRUM, although some of their crew as in "Martin" experienced the strange happenings around "our place" of contact, as did George Green who later took "myself" as "his" own private information resource. NO, CHELAS

(STUDENTS), IT JUST DOESN'T WORK THAT WAY AND IS WHY YOU ARE MISGUIDED AND TOTALLY DISTRACTED WHEN THE TRUTH IS UNDER YOUR NOSE. SO BE IT.]

This was met with skepticism, especially the demand for nuclear disarmament. One didn't believe that disarmament was in the interest of the U.S. and feared to stand defenseless before the extra-terrestrials. The offer was refused! The aliens then declared that they would continue to contact individuals until the humans were used to their presence. Then the extra-terrestrials showed to the President who stood paralyzed and his entourage their authoritative technical possibilities. They showed the president their craft and proved that they could make themselves invisible. [H: Well, this came along with trying to take us into "custody".] This made Eisenhower feel most uncomfortable, because although they knew that they were still there, they couldn't be seen. Then the aliens boarded their ships and took off.

This landing was also confirmed by the U.S. astronaut GORDON COOPER who recalls that during his service a film was shown that showed the landing of a UFO on a California air-force base in the Fifties. [H: There is a lot to this stream of events with Gordon Cooper but it shall not be covered again here. I do suggest, however, that anyone over the past 14 years with my "self" in this routing as "here", had best, if you want truth—get caught up and stop the ongoing nonsense offered by the distractors.]

The whole story in detail, with answers to every why and how-come is found in Michael Hesemann's UFOs-Die Beweise (the proofs) and UFOs-Die Kontakete (the contacts). He painstakingly collected the data from more than fifty books, especially from the U.S., and he added many pictures of very good quality. UFOs-Die Beweise contains the secret CIA documents that were released after thirty years due to the "Freedom of Information Act". [H: Ah, but what of the REAL ones that have never been released and can't even be accessed by your own President of the U.S.?) There were more contacts with governments, but one should read it all in one go to get an overview of the many facets of the subject of UFOs. There are also videos available that among other things show the landing in 1964 on the Holloman Air Force Base. They are listed in the "Further Reading" section at the end.

[H: NO, THIS IS NOT SO as to "the whole story". HOWEVER, IT IS WHY SOMEONE LIKE GEORGE GREEN WOULD NOW MAKE HIS "UFO" ROUNDS CLAIMING TO BE "THE" SPEAKER FOR THE ALIENS. B.S.! WHO HAS THE "SOLUTIONS" TO YOUR FIRST PROBLEMS IN RECOVERY OF YOUR PLANET? WONDER WHY THAT IS SO TOP-SECRET? MY, MY, WHEN WILL YOU WAKE UP AND REALIZE TRUTH FROM LIES? OH, INDEED, THE TRUTH IS PUT BEFORE YOU ALONG WITH THE MESSENGERS—SO PROMPTLY YOU KILL THE MESSENGERS AND BURY THE TRUTH. SO BE IT.

DOESN'T ANYONE NOTICE THAT WE WRITE IN MANILA, PHILIPPINES THESE DAYS? WHAT HAPPENED WHEN YOU FELL PREY TO THE "TAKERS"? OH, WELL, AS THE SAYING GOES.]

Now back to KENNEDY. After he became President and was told about the retrieved UFOs and the secret projects that also contained the study of the survivors, he wanted to make this information public. Defence Secretary Forrestal who was a Majestic 12 member had tried to do just that, too, and on May 22, 1949 he was thrown out of his hospital room window with a bed sheet tied around his neck.

Kennedy fared no better. He was murdered at Dallas on November 22, 1963.

The first shot actually did come from the roof of the storehouse, but it was not lethal. The killing shot came from the driver of the President's limousine. A CIA agent who shot Kennedy in the head with a special weapon developed by the CIA. If you look at the original film of the assassination in slow motion and watch the driver, then you can clearly see that he turns around with a gun in his hand, shoots, and the back of Kennedy's head bursts.

The films shown in most Western countries have the driver cut out. On November 21, 1993 the German TV channel ARD sought in its programme Spiegel-TV in a ridiculous way to tell the viewers that there was no CIA involvement in the assassination, at almost the same time RTL showed a programme claiming the opposite.

Apart from the differing commentaries both programmes showed the film only once full-frame, afterwards the driver was again cut out. But in the full-frame version the shooting driver and the gun were clearly visible to those who knew where to look.

John Lear, the son of the founder and today owner of Lear Aircraft and once decorated as the best pilot of the U.S. Air force (seventeen world records) found three original films, e.g. in Japan, that he had computer analyzed and checked for authenticity. Both he and William Cooper, former member of Naval Intelligence and author of the book Behold a Pale Horse, today give lectures in the U.S., and they supply the original films, too (address in the list of literature). Because of this film William Cooper lost one leg when the CIA tried to assassinate him. Japanese television later showed the original footage several times during the main news. The computer analysis also allowed to recognize the weapon as a special calibre developed by the CIA. The bullet, too, was a CIA special that only exploded after entering the body and thus annihilated Kennedy's brain.

The assassination was prepared by the CIA members Orlando Bosch, E. Howard Hunt, Frank Sturgis and Jack Rubenstein (aka Jack Ruby) for whose collaboration the CIA paid his huge gambling debts.

Lee Harvey Oswald had also been a CIA member, but at the time of the assassination he had been working for Jack Ruby. His death had been planned.

Jack Ruby shot Oswald before he could prove his innocence. Thus they had a culprit who could no longer prove the truth.

The CIA hated Kennedy. In its eyes he was responsible that neither the Vietnam, the Cuban nor the UFO projects went the way the CIA wanted. When the news about Kennedy's death broke, writes a CIA operative who had also been involved in the "Bay of Pigs" operation, all the people in his department rose and applauded. Many of these facts had been uncovered during the special hearings by the committee for assassination, but according to U.S. security law they remain secret until 2029. After the hearings the CIA was prohibited from undertaking any undercover operations within the U.S. [It is] hard to believe that they ever followed that order.

All the witnesses of the conspiracy were either killed or died of fast-growing cancer that they had injected—the deadly marksman in the car three weeks after the deed, for example.

The official story of the Kennedy assassination according to the report by the Warren Commission was that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had been the only person responsible, and it was printed nine hours later in all newspapers of the U.S.. The true story of the CIA-Committee of 300 conspiracy was never told. For good reason. You see how good it is for the Illuminati to control the news agencies! And once again a whole nation is misinformed for decades until a brave researcher takes the trouble to dig deep.

His brother, ROBERT F. KENNEDY who stood also in the way of the Illuminati had to die on June 5, 1968, as he was about to win the presidential elections. In this case the single attacker was SIRHAN SIRHAN. He was under the influence of a drug that was developed by the CIA especially for cases like this. To be sure that Sirhan Sirhan was not going to miss, one of the bodyguards of Howard Hughes fired an “extra bullet” that later was found in Kennedy’s head. As the examining magistrate found, the ballistic tests showed that the mouth of the weapon had to have been about five to eight centimeters from Kennedy’s head, Sirhan’s weapon though was never nearer than thirty centimetres. This story, too, was kept from the public. The independent publications with the CFR and the SKULL & BONES order contained this information. As section 12 of the Protocols says, persons who oppose the “plan” should be brought nearer to death.

[END OF QUOTING CHAPTER 43, PART 18]

I suggest ending this section at this point because I want the readers to give a LOT of attention to my comments as well as in the book itself.

I believe you who discount me—and as well, my team—are going to find embarrassing moments ahead.

When it is allowed that the GAIA instruments are fake, the plan a “sham”, and that it “couldn’t be”, you err. By the time “I” was called into the game plan of Bush, et al., Russell Hermann had already been given lethal doses of radiation and he was dying.

The whole of the program and documents which had been legally brought into CONTRACT form and registered was turned over to ME. The validation of the certificate itself had already been accomplished by George Bush and his close friends. The assets were used unlawfully, however, by these parties—globally.

Is it some “wonderment”, in view of the way things are so expeditiously handled in the New World Order game, that “stonewalling” verification of these documents and assets would be forthcoming from the U.S.?

The “Plan” went all the way to the blueprint set forth by F. Marcos and these “friends of his” right in the Philippines. I won’t go into that plan here but KNOW it was both well laid and then Marcos was “dispensed with”.

Well, those Elite gameplayers have to deal with me, Hatonn, should they want to get too nasty with my own easy-to-live-with program while keeping God’s assets a bit sheltered and some for the use of the people.

I, nor mine, are here to wipe out your perceived “enemies” that you fail to even recognize. Attitudes must change and YOU must come to realize your position.

I ask that you take time to think on these things. Who did you expect to bring Truth and the way? Perhaps you had best check the level of your own ignorance and see how you are manipulated and mind-warped in everything you experience.

Oh, by the way—about those 110,000 Journals that Green was to return to the Institute? Well, he claimed they were destroyed in a FLOOD—in Carson City, Nevada (???). HIGH COUNTRY! He also claimed they had been taken to the dump and destroyed. Of course, he had been ordered by the court to not only put them in a warehouse, NOT SELL ANY, and INSURE them. He provided none of the above, including a receipt from the dumping site. He did, however, it was noted by several people who tested the sales for themselves, sell LOTS and LOTS and BUNCHES of those books, including books BANNED BY THE COURT. OUCH! He also stole hundreds of thousands of dollars in GOLD. This hardly is a recommendation for becoming or being appointed as God’s or the Hosts’—or the aliens’—THE Earth Speaker.

A fine advertising proverb made its way around the “butter” circuit in selling margarine and it is very handy for my purposes here: “It’s not nice to try to fool Mother Nature.” Neither is it nice to try to steal from God, Hosts or, indeed, Mother Nature.

So be it and good afternoon,

Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, Commander GFFC, Pl. Sec.
MAKE A NICE DAY!

CHAPTER 44

THE KNIGHTS OF JERUSALEM

The English royal family has very close links with the VENERABLE ORDER OF THE KNIGHTS OF JERUSALEM, a very old order whose leader is chosen by “The Crown” according to his abilities to head the Committee of 300. The innermost circle is the ORDER OF THE GARTER. The fact that LORD CARRINGTON, a Knight of the Garter, was once head of NATO and now is chairman of the BILDERBERGERS shows just how strong this order still is today. It was Lord Carrington, also of the Committee of 300, who together with LAWRENCE EAGLEBURGER acted as intermediary representing KISSINGER ASSOCIATES to make sure that in 1993 Belgrade got a free hand for ethnic cleansing and mass genocide. LOUIS M. BLOOMFIELD, head of PERMINDEX, is also a Knight of Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 45

WHAT ABOUT THE VATICAN?

By the end of World War Two, most monarchs were unseated. A part of the Illuminati’s plan was fulfilled. But what about Roman Catholicism?

At first glance one would think that seventeen centuries of stability would not easily be shaken, but a closer look shows different.

The Vatican’s secret service has always been the SOCIETY OF JESUS, whose members are called JESUITS. I would like to open the eyes a bit of those who believe the Jesuits were just another harmless religious organization. The initiation oath for the 2nd degree demands the death of all Protestants and Freemasons. They were the leading force behind the massacre of the Huguenots and were also responsible for the beheading of countless Protestants and Freemasons in England during the 16th and 17th centuries. The Society of Jesus was founded in 1534 by IGNATIUS LOYOLA who was of JEWISH decent as were the first three generals of the order.

The power of the general of the Jesuits is so that he is called THE BLACK POPE.

During the Second World War the Catholic Church was heavily infiltrated by other secret lodges. Among others those were the OSS (precursor of the CIA), the MI6, the Italian BLACK NOBILITY, Freemasons and the P2 Lodge (Propaganda Due) who all were protected by the Committee of 300. The P2 is the strongest of the Italian Masonic lodges. Within the P2 is the GREAT VATICAN LODGE, which was at the root of the P2 scandal in 1976, when a list surfaced in the Vatican with the names and entry dates of 121 high Church dignitaries, among them cardinals of the Curia, archbishops, bishops, prelates and laymen. Instead of calling these persons to account, a veritable witch-hunt was instigated against those who publicized the list! No commentary necessary, right?

Among the names on the list were also those of the secretary of state cardinal Jean Villot, the Vatican’s Foreign Minister Agostino Casaroli, cardinal Sebastiano Baggio, cardinal Ugo Poletti and the head of the Vatican Bank, Bishop Marcinkus.

As stated previously, the Illuminati always supported both sides of nations engaged in war. By the end of World War Two this became more evident. Allen Dulles, head of the CIA, for instance had a secret meeting with the SS leader Gehlen.

They made arrangements to smuggle SS officers under the cover of the Catholic Church into Switzerland. Some SS officers took their vows and were posted in other countries, predominantly Argentina, Paraguay and the U.S. After the war it was Gehlen’s task to organize the station RADIO FREE EUROPE. After the war a large section of the SS was directly taken over by the CIA.

Another interesting member of the Committee of 300 was Joseph Retinger. After the war the CIA supported him in making contracts with the Vatican. For instance he won over Dr. Luigi Gedda, the medical advisor of Pope Pius VII and leader of Catholic activities. With Gedda’s help he succeeded in strengthening for the future the connection with Pope Paul VI who had already collaborated with the OSS (Office of Strategic Services).

Retinger also met with Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, the Italian prime minister, Sir Colin Grubbin, director of the SOE (Special Operations Executive, British Secret Service), and CIA director General Walter Bedell.

Before the war PRINCE BERNHARD was with the SS and then held a position at I.G. Farben. He married Juliana, who in 1948 became queen of the Netherlands, and he took up a post with Shell Oil. This group was the core that met at the hotel De Bilderberg in Oosterbeek, Holland for the first time in May 1954 and later became known as THE BILDERBERGERS. Committee of 300 member Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands became the first director of the Bilderbergers. (Explanation later)

One of the CIA members with a strong influence in the Vatican was Cardinal Spellman. He helped the CIA with the overthrow of democracy in Guatemala in 1954. It was also Spellman who introduced Father Paul Marcinkus from Chicago to the Pope. In 1971

Marcinkus became archbishop and head of the VATICAN BANK. Marcinkus developed close links with Masonic P2 lodge members Michele Sindona and Roberto Calvi. The grand master of the P2 was Licio Gelli. Calvi who headed the BANCO AMBROSIANO helped the Vatican to transfer more than 100 million US$ to the Polish Solidarnose movement. Later he was involved in the huge Banco Ambrosiano scandal. In 1982 his body was found hanging from the London Blackfriars bridge. He had bricks in his left and right pockets and his legs were tied at a right angle. This a Masonic ritual murder. This peculiarity was never written about in the newspapers. Sindona became advisor to the Vatican Bank. The P2 lodge had many links with the Vatican, Opus Dei and the CIA. Many of its members held high offices in the Italian government.

In January 1966 LOOK magazine published the article "How Jews Change the Thinking of the Catholic Church". In this was a detailed description of the secret meetings between the Jewish B'NAI B'RITH lodge and Cardinal Bea who represented the Catholic Church. The Vatican probably is the richest organization in the world. A large portion of its fortune is held by the Rothschild banks. There is no doubt that the Vatican over the years has been taken over by the Committee of 300. This also explains why Bush, Gorbachev and other leaders so often visit the Pope.

This of course is only the tip of the Vatican "iceberg". The murder of Pope JOHN PAUL I is another instance. By mistake his obituary had been published in the Mexican daily El Informador by the West Mexican Masonic grand lodge a day TOO EARLY! (Placed on June 3, 1963. They Pope died on June 3, 1963, AT 19:49 HOURS).

An interesting book on this subject: David A. Yallop: In the Name of God.

The present pope, JOHN PAUL II also has an interesting and noteworthy past. In his book Behold a Pale Horse William Cooper, who has worked for twelve years for Naval Intelligence, writes that during the war Karol Wojtyla apparently worked with I.G. Farben and sold gas to the Nazis. At the end of the war, for fear of being killed for collaboration, he fled to Poland, looking for the protection of the Catholic Church. There he made a development similar to that of Eisenhower, just a bit slower, and subsequently was elected Pope.

He immediately thanked his friends on November 27, 1983 by lifting the excommunication order that had been pronounced over Freemasons worldwide in the Codex Iuris Canonici. That today's Pope knows the Masonic secret language is "obviously" proven by the Masonic handshake and also in a speech he gave during a general audience on September 15, 1982. On the occasion of the death of the Lebanese president Gemayel he spoke of Jerusalem, the City of god, and said: "Jerusalem can also become the City of Man". The "City of Man" is a keyword of the Illuminati for world dictatorship.

On April 18, 1983 the Pope received the complete Trilateral Commission in an open audience.

This secret organization was founded in June 1973 by David Rockefeller and Zbigniew Brzezinski and was set to work because apparently the established organizations like the UN were working much too slowly to bring about the One World Government. This elitist organization aims at uniting the top people of the industry and commerce giants of the Trilateral Nations—the U.S., Japan and Western Europe—in one pool and to force the New World Order to come about. To the elite coming from different branches of Freemasonry it offers worldwide meeting facilities for secret collaboration, and it wants to give a broader political basis to the influence of the Bilderbergers. Most European members had long term contracts with the Rockefellers. It has about 200— in contrast with the Bilderbergers permanent—members.

And you might imagine that POPE JOHN PAUL II did not meet with them to drink coffee!

CHAPTER 46

THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF)

New financial institutions like the IMF, the WORLD BANK and the BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT were set up to spread the predominance of industry and commerce over the whole planet. The immense yearly membership fees payable by the nations amount to billions. If a nation cannot pay up, the workers and the poor among its people will feel the crunch. At the moment and on behalf of the international bankers the IMF searches for ways to control the entire world economy.

HAROLD LEVER of the Committee of 300 proposed what came to be called the DITCHLEY PLAN. According to this plan the financial and monetary politics of the U.S. would be usurped and put under the control of the IMF. This plan would allow the IMF to unite the central banks of different nations in the WORLD BANK.

In 1982 the leading banks of Wall Street and the U.S. government together agreed to set oppressive repayment conditions for each indebted nation which then was arranged by KISSINGER ASSOCIATES INC. (on the board of which are the oil magnate and chairman of the Aspen Institute Robert O. Anderson, Thatcher's former Foreign Secretary Lord Carrington and the director of the Bank of England and the S.G. Warburg Bank, Lord Roll of Ipsden).

The IMF, the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England are planned as a kind of "world police" to recover debts. The idea to put the IMF and its oppressive conditions at the centre of all negotiations of debts stemmed from America. The conditions of the IMF are laid before the different nations as a kind of lure. Once knowledge about a country and its difficulties has been gathered, that country is then told what definitely has to be changed. Then the debtor country is told if it ever wants to get any credit with a foreign bank, it will have to limit its imports to the absolute necessities, lower state expenditure and above all stop subsidizing staple food and other support programmes for the socially weak. The most important demand was to devalue the currency. Apparently this would make exports cheaper and hence more attractive on the world market. In fact though imports got more expensive and thus debts were increased. This was the first step. The second step was the country's agreement to an extensive redistribution of debt. Thus the creditor banks could largely secure far-reaching future rights over the debtor country. At the same time outstanding interest payments and repayments were added. The IMF became the international economic police on behalf of the large private banks. One country after another had to negotiate repayment conditions with the IMF and the banks of the Ditchley group.

ACCORDING TO FIGURES SUPPLIED BY THE WORLD BANK, BETWEEN 1980 AND 1986 326 BILLION US$ FROM 109 DEBTOR NATIONS WERE PAID AS INTEREST TO THE PRIVATE CREDITOR

BANKS. DURING THE SAME TIME SPAN 332 BILLION US$ HAD BEEN REPAID. SO DEBT PAYMENTS OF 658 BILLION US$ HAD BEEN MADE, WHERE THE ORIGINAL DEBT HAD BEEN ONLY 430 BILLION US$. DESPITE THAT THESE 109 NATIONS STILL OWED 882 BILLION US$.

[H: And that was two decades ago!]

The interaction of excessive interest charges and fluctuating exchange rates has developed for the private bankers a wonderful and inescapable maelstrom of indebtedness.

[H: Surely, you don't think that possibly the heads of states of the various nations or the central banks might be somehow "paid off"? It is a nasty world you have allowed, Pilgrims. Those "black hats" also stole your gold and ran, leaving you with nothing but foreclosure and worthless paper which you also pay for the privilege of using to further enslave yourselves.]

[END OF QUOTING CHAPTER 46, PART 19]

This might well be a short segment, for hands and back are too tired to take on the next chapter which is about 10 pages in length. It is fine, Dharma. Man has had a long time to come to some thoughtful decisions and still he is fooled and manipulated—as much as anything, by those he believes to be working in his behalf and among his own "team".

Disappointments always enter any life-stream but the realization and homecoming of those who turned away can be the most joyous adventure and experience of all events.

The WORD is OUT, my friends, and once out and scattered in the floodlights of the Sun, it cannot be "undone". Only GOD CREATOR can "uncreate", even if the facts and truth are BURIED. TRUTH WILL ULTIMATELY "OUT".

GOD ASKED: "WHO WILL STAND WITH ME?" Many said "Yea, me Lord"! Where have they all gone today? Well, many simply lost their way—and when it is all put together again perhaps change and growth can be forthcoming. Thank you to you who have stayed the course.

And may God bless YOU and may God bless the Philippines wherein His presence shall be surely recognized before this journey ends.

Salu, GCH

RE: SECRET SOCIETIES, Jan van Helsing

COMMENTS: Since we have had to spend so much time this morning on other things relative to Global (GAIA) in order to have working papers ready for appointments, we will dispense with many comments regarding events of today's news or catch-up. Too many cooks spoil the stew but too many eating from the stew without replenishing the stew supply is equally difficult to manage. Moreover, interference comes in many forms and with many various faces.

Status of the NEW WORLD ORDER position and reminding or recognizing the players on the game-board is of utmost importance—so nothing is more urgent than this information being offered regarding the global controllers and manipulators.

If it appears some people change political parties under the guise of lack of ability to abide the Bush “agenda”—believe it. The ultimate agenda is WORLD WAR THREE whether or not Mr. Bush realizes it. Certainly, the blueprint of the plan is fully open and already implemented. Those things are your business and the manipulator’s business. Ours is to do our own job—and thus we stay with our own direction.

[QUOTING SECRET SOCIETIES:]

(PART 20)

INFORMATION CONTROL

The Bavarian Illuminati started already at the time of the French Revolution to disseminate their propaganda in reading societies in order to shape public opinion to their objectives. Later, during the 19th century, when Rothschild had already taken over the Bank of England, they started using the Jewish REUTERS news agency to that aim. News agencies like the WOLFF in Berlin and the French HAVAS had the same goal: to build an international news monopoly.

The CFR (Council on Foreign Relations) and the RIIA (Royal Institute for International Affairs) both were founded by the Round Table to widen its sphere of influence. The RIIA had been a brainchild of Cecil Rhodes (British-South African statesman and diamond millionaire) who wanted to extend British sovereignty all over the globe, but especially to the U.S.

A possibility to control the masses is the “social conditioning” of the RIIA mentioned previously. They trained the military technician JOHN RAWLINGS REES who later opened the TAVISTOCK INSTITUTE FOR HUMAN STUDIES in Sussex, England. The Tavistock Institute is the centre of England’s psychological warfare. Tavistock methods have been used, as mentioned, in England and in America. Besides the press, radio and movies have been used for mass manipulations that—as they have been utilized for decades already—can now be called brainwashing.

The CFR shares responsibility for the founding of the UN which serves the former as a tool for reaching the New World Order, the One World Government. According to documentation held by SPOTLIGHT and other sources I have mentioned in the course of this book, today the CFR—together with the Trilateral Commission—controls the U.S. government 100%. The leading positions at all news agencies and most news media are occupied by CFR members. These are Reuters, Associated Press, United Press, Wall Street Journal, Boston Globe, New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Washington Post, ABC, NBC, CBS and RCA. Most newspapers everywhere use these as their sources. The German equivalent of the CFR are the Bilderbergers and the DGAP (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Auswärtige Politik)—(German Society for Foreign Policy). Through them the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, the Bild-Zeitung and Die Zeit are also part of the system, certainly others, too. The CFR who is linked with the RIIA and the Committee of 300 has its members also in leading positions of the largest energy combines, in the military and the government of the U.S.

Thanks to the influence of the Round Table, the Committee of 300, the Bilderbergers, the RIIA and the Club of Rome, the same thing holds true for Europe. The Illuminati order Skull & Bones forms the inner circle of the CFR and thus brings more media on line: Time-Life, National Review, Minneapolis Star, Atlantic Monthly, Fortune, etc.

In 1880 the Skull & Bones had already gained considerable influence on the educational and schooling system. Timothy Dwight was the first president of Yale University; both the Cornell and Johns Hopkins universities were also headed by Skull & Bones members. So was McGeorge Bundy who as security advisor of Kennedy and Johnson helped to run the Vietnam war and was dean of Harvard University. Every historical information that goes against the guidelines of the American History Society and thus against the Skull & Bones is not admitted for teaching. The same of course also happens in Germany and in every other country of the world.

In Russia and the GDR the teaching followed communist, i.e. illumined, lines in Arab and Jewish countries according to their respective interests. The main thing was not to educate people to themselves, to independent thinking, judging and acting.

In 1946 the ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION had spent 139,000 US$ to present an official version of the Second World War that covered up the building of the Nazi regime by the Khazar-Jewish U.S. bankers. One of the main sponsors of the funds was Rockefeller’s own Standard Oil Corp.

The Ford Foundation originally was set up with funds from the Ford Motor Company but eventually it, too, was infiltrated by Skull & Bones members who used the Foundation’s funds for the stupefaction of both the school system and the public. The present school systems of the Western nations are controlled by the Illuminati and their branches. Most organisations publishing schoolbooks are indirectly financed by the Illuminati.

McGeorge Bundy, national security advisor during the Vietnam war, became president of the Ford Foundation in 1966 and chose Skull & Bones member Harold Howe II for vice-president. The latter was responsible for the research and education sections. The abnormal expenditures forced the Ford family to resign.

The psychological warfare techniques that were instigated in WELLINGTON HOUSE and perfected at the TAVISTOCK INSTITUTE FOR HUMAN STUDIES are described by Edward Bernay as follows:

“The population growth was paralleled by the Illuminati’s efforts in the area of control of mass consciousness. Thanks to the news agencies, the press, news papers, telephone, radio and aircraft that are all controlled by the Illuminati, ideas and opinions can quickly be spread over the whole country. The conscious and intelligent manipulation of the behaviour and opinion of the masses is one of the most important elements of the democratic society. Those who use these mechanisms are the powers actually ruling the world.”

There can be no doubt about the importance of the role the media plays today.

Television for instance shows clearly how negative messages like the news horror and violent movies influence the behaviour of the viewers. Predominantly though television is used to influence opinions about how to think, to act and to look. Also is what to have to be “in”, and which political orientation to follow, Hussein is bad, Bush, Clinton and Kohl are good. Astrology, the laying on of hands, UFOs and bending spoons are rubbish it seems, but sex movies, football on Saturday night and boozing over the weekend are OK. Most dare not say that quite the opposite is true because others who are brainwashed might laugh at them. (Please excuse my harsh words, but the word brainwashed cannot be softened here because after decades of manipulation of the masses—my research has uncovered frightening instances—it cannot be called otherwise.) The trouble is that today one is ridiculed or looked at askance if one has a personal opinion that is perhaps contrary to the mass consciousness when actually one should be commended for it.

The seeds bear fruit!

The best example though is the music and recording industry. For decades the listeners have been influenced by “backward masking”, high frequency recording and magic rituals.

In high frequency recording the message is added at frequencies that the ear can no longer hear but that are still subliminally understood by the subconscious.

In backward masking the messages are recorded backwards and can again be integrated by the subconscious. If the tapes are played backwards, the messages become audible.

Some examples:

· KISS (Kings in Satan’s Service)

Song: God of Thunder

Message: The devil himself is your god!

· Madonna

Song: Like a Virgin

Message: I walk in sin!

· Queen

Song: Crazy Little Thing Called Love.

Message: To hell with the bible! All I want is magic!

· Police

Song: Every Little Thing She Does Is Magic!

Message: The evil have power!

· Rolling Stones

Song: Tops

Message: I love you, says the devil.

· Prince

Song: Purple Rain

Message: Heaven is about to split open!

· Cindy Lauper

Song: She Bop

Message: You are helpless against evil, against the backward playing. Ha Ha Ha.

· The Beatles

Song: Revolution No. 9

Message: Start smoking marihuana, and: Turn me on dead man. (dead man = Jesus)

Although not strictly belonging to the subject matter, it is interesting to note what in 1962 John Lennon said to Tony Sheridan at the Hamburg Star Club:

“I know that the Beatles will have success as no other band. I know it because for that success I have sold my soul to Satan!”

Few knew about that, true?

Another interesting example from the recording industry:

JOHN TODD who claims to be a former initiate of the highest occult power circles of the Illuminati (Council of 13) calls this a satanic organization that wants to institute a world government by any means. Youth above all are the aim of the Illuminati, because—as already Hitler knew:

“Who owns the youth owns the future.”

John Todd was the head of the largest amalgamation of recording companies in the whole of the U.S., ZODIACO Productions. He says that the original matrices of every recording—classical, country, rock, standards, meditation music, disco, folklore... anything (not just rock and heavy metal)— were subjected to a black magic ritual conducted by thirteen people and beset by demons.

These people don't do this for financial gain but to control the spirit of the people.

Many will call this superstition or devil's work, but here I speak of the largest recording company of the U.S., with the richest people on this planet backing it. Whatever these people do, call it what you will, it brought them riches and power and has plunged the people and nations of this planet into the state they find themselves today and thus has a strong influence upon every listener—you included.

From the ZODIACO later emerged a second company in California called MARANATA. This project was aimed at catching also the young Christians and people of other faiths. So band-names with positive allusions were chosen, and positive lyrics, but the matrices were nevertheless charged with satanic and destructive messages. Their first project was JESUS CHRIST SUPER STAR.

As you can see names don't mean a thing, and the subject of music cannot be treated superficially. It does not matter whether the messages are satanic or urging to buy, the fact is that these people, and there are lots of them, act against the free will of others. But there are ways and means to protect oneself and to learn how to handle this problem. For people still have the freedom to choose the music to which they are listening.

The mass media are the premier tool for keeping the public ignorant. That is the reason why practically nobody knows the true stories behind politics, economy and religion. The same goes for the history of man, his true origins, the structure of the Earth (especially the inside), the actual state of Moon and Mars, the real space programme, free energy, natural healing, spiritual healing, the true life of Jesus, the body of light of man (his soul and aura), his geometric magnetic field (the Merkabah) and extraterrestrials with their technology. Not even one per thousand of all Germans ever hear about the construction of flying machines in their own country!

Think about this, seriously!

Here I would like to quote a passage from Hesemann's UFO—The Contacts, where he explains why the subject of UFOs is still treated by the media as nonsense:

"The number of sightings was steadily rising, and it looked as if the invasion was never going to end. In June 1952 alone 250 sightings had been reported to the Air Force. The UFO investigation project of the Air Force, BLUE BOOK, has now 2,000 cases documented of which 25% are classed UNKNOWN. Thus the phenomenon has reached a dimension that became interesting for other agencies, too. By September the almighty and infamous CIA joined the official investigation, to "check" whether the problem of flying saucers was endangering national security and whether upon this question appropriate research and investigations were necessary. A number of documents from that time have been released in 1977 by President Jimmy Carter (see: UFOs—The Proofs). On September 11, 1952 Marshall Chadwell, vice director of the scientific department of the CIA told the director that a worldwide reporting system had been set up and that all leading Air Force bases had been ordered to intercept unknown flying objects. Flying saucers bear two kinds of danger. The first is the psychological effect upon the masses and the second the vulnerability of the U.S. air space. For practical reasons, 'we recommend to define a policy about what the populace may be told about these phenomena.'

"In the words of Major Kehoe this meant 'a cunning and ruthless censorship to stamp out public belief in UFOs'. To this end the CIA arranged a meeting of Air Force personnel and scientists at the Pentagon to secretly analyze the material proving the UFOs. This meeting took place on January 14 to 18, 1953 headed by Dr. H.P. Robertson from the University of California, after whom it has been named the ROBERTSON PANEL. The time was well chosen. In the previous November a new, Republican President had been elected, General Dwight D. Eisenhower. At the end of January Eisenhower was going to be sworn in. Until then they had to recommend to the President a new successful policy. On November 18, 1952 already CIA director Admiral Roscoe Hillenkoetter had declared in an instruction paper for the President-elect about the subject of UFOs:

"Implications for national security are mainly given by the fact that motive and final intentions of the visitors are still completely unknown. This is compounded by the marked rise of reconnaissance flights by these ships in the time between May and autumn of this year which have led to the concern that something new might be afoot. For these reasons, but also for obviously international and technological reasons and the utmost necessity to prevent panic at all cost the Majestic-12 commission univocally maintains that severe security measures will also have to be implemented without interruption by the new administration.

"...On the last day the panel adopted a 'public education programme' supported by all government agencies concerned with two main objectives: Educate and trivialize. The aim of trivialization was to reduce public interest in 'flying saucers' and could be accomplished via the mass media like television, movies and articles. The basis would be actual cases that would first cause confusion, but would then be explained. And as with magic tricks, there is scant interest once the trick has been revealed. The national security council was to start immediately the necessary action to strip the unidentified flying objects of the special status, the aura of the mysterious, they enjoy.'

"We have been ordered to collaborate in a country-wide disclaiming campaign,' Air Force speaker Albert M. Chop said, 'to publish articles in newspapers and to give interviews to ridicule UFO reports.' Captain Ruppelt adds: 'And that was not the worst. We were ordered to keep sightings secret, if at all possible, or, if a story had got out prematurely, to explain it away (weather balloon, meteorite, cloud, forgery... the author)—in any case to do everything possible to remove it. If we could not find a plausible explanation, we were just to ridicule the witnesses.' During the following months both Chop and Ruppelt resigned from the Air Force.

The CIA policy of trivializing or ridiculing was only too successful. Just how successful we learn from an open letter by the initiative 'Justice for Military Personnel' (J.M.P.) of September 4, 1987 to then President Reagan: 'The national UFO trivialization campaign ordered by the CIA in 1953 fabricated books and infiltrated the press with hundreds of articles to surround the subject of UFOs with an aura of ridicule through false contacts and obvious UFO swindles. This ongoing campaign had CIA agents infiltrate civil UFO research groups to ridicule them by certain manipulations or to guide their efforts towards 'other explanations'. This cover-up policy was more successful than the CIA ever expected, thanks to the brilliant manipulation of the press with the strategy of ridicule. The established press, for fear of ridicule, proved to be only too gullible towards 'official statements'."

NATO Major Hans C. Peterson writes about the reasons for this massive policy of secrecy:

1. The monetary system would collapse—no power group would allow that.

2. All religions would have to rethink, for the truth is much simpler than the churches have taught us. This would mean the loss of power and influence by the churches and their religious leaders. No church wants that.

3. Our energy supply would change, for we would get to know energy sources that don't pollute. At the same time though the multinational oil conglomerates, the nuclear lobby etc., would lose their customers and hence their power. If one considers how far-reaching the control of these companies is then one can gauge the power of the opponent.

4. Our politicians themselves—for people on this world would realize that there is only one humanity and that national borders as relics of an oppressing past have no more meaning. Who will trust political leaders any more once it becomes clear that they have been lying to us for decades just to keep their power?

Mathias Böcker of the Berlin daily TAZ put this very succinctly in an article about the Frankfurt UFO Conference 1990:

"...today as then the governments of the world have no interest for reasons of self preservation to acknowledge the presence of a technically and spiritually superior cosmic authority. Who would still listen to an earthly lump like Helmut Kohl, who to our Nobel prize recipients and arrogant experts, if suddenly a small heavenly Grey begin talks on television about the laws and rules on Reticula and of the history of the cosmos? Not a soul, and therefore UFOs will have to be treated on a level with the Loch Ness monster—the existence of extraterrestrials is subversive and radical and overturns everything that 2,000 years of scientific endeavor and evolution research have gathered as 'bare facts'. And who of the so-called 'crown of Creation' wants to accept that the supernatural perhaps is not so supernatural after all, but plainly and clearly subnatural."

To end with the subject of UFOs I can just repeat:

Find the truth, for the truth will set you free!

Another example is the very secret CIA project MK-ULTRA which has been used in the Fifties by American psychologists and sociologists to ascertain the effects of mind-altering drugs.

They now no longer experimented with guinea-pigs, but with students at U.S. universities. Scientists on the state payroll gave these—sometimes with and sometimes without their consent—narcotic and psychedelic drugs. Such experiments conducted en masse brought about the breakthrough of the hippie movement in the U.S.

[H: With taking exception, please, to the weary old saying of "Find the truth, for the truth will set you free!" is nice but not so. If you find the truth, you are a long way toward being able to DO SOMETHING WHICH MAY VERY WELL SET YOU AND YOUR BRETHREN FREE! Unfortunately, JUST "knowing truth" is only the FIRST STEP on that journey to freedom.]

Stop Beating The Messengers, RP: The Solution Is Called GAIA

7/1/01—#1 (14-319)

RE: MORE PAPUA NEW GUINEA; CRY FOR HELP IN THE PHILIPPINES—GCH/D

IS THERE A PAPUA NEW GUINEA?

Hatonn—Certainly, you wouldn't know there is a PNG from the Manila, Philippines papers or the local CNN news coverage. THAT alone should tell you the real importance of what is taking place there as we write. What does make the papers in tiny references is totally slanted in behalf of the WB/IMF, et al.

What and were is this Papua New Guinea? (tisk-tisk)

New Guinea in the whole is larger, certainly, than New Zealand—and Papua New Guinea has half of it. It is not piddling in landmass and is potentially one of the most resource-rich island groups on the globe; most certainly in the South Pacific. It is probably about 100 miles (give or take a few) from Northern Australia. It is larger in landmass than the Philippines. So, what of the other half of “New Guinea”? Oh, it happens to be Indonesian which is also larger than the Philippines. I suggest you all take a good hard look at a map and consult an atlas of some kind.

If you believe that GOD has, or will, abandon his people in the Southern Pacific—YOU ARE WRONG!

Now, readers, THAT is why we are here! GOD WILL NOT NOR SHALL HE/SHE EVER ABANDON HIS/HER PEOPLE TO THE WOLVES OF SOME NEW WORLD ORDER—UNLESS THAT IS WHAT THE PEOPLE CHOOSE.

I will refresh your memories, however, in that as you look at these areas it will be noted that “Indigenous” beliefs are the predominant “religious” attitude. In other words, they believe in a “big Being” but not that “religious hogwash” in the translation of one such “indigenous” tribal leader. “I” happen to fit very well into that attitude. And how is YOUR parochialism going?

Now to freeze your blood a bit and continuing to reference my comments yesterday: The deaths of students in PNG is real and the unfortunate truth was confirmed last night in a phone call between Mr. Genewa and head of the National Gas Co. in PNG, that three dead students are “Uplanders”. These are the people from the mountains who avenge wrongdoing against their people—if it takes forever to accomplish the feat. Justice? Nobody is talking “justice”, readers, for justice has nothing to do with it! You know, sort of like your formal courts of injustice.

ALL THE PRESIDENT'S ME... ER... LAWYERS...

In that focus it is noted that with the unique “first trial of a President” here in the Philippines, the Supreme Court has ruled there will be no cameras in the courtroom. Bad choice, ladies and gentlemen. But don't despair, it will be changed a dozen times at the drop of a whim. This, by the way, is to make sure the guilty are protected in due course of “law”.

Another “first” has happened in Manila. The former President's wife was duly elected as a Senator in the current election. His son JV was duly elected to be Mayor of San Juan (a prime plum). And guess what those nasty courts did: They wouldn't release Erap and son Jingoy to go to the oath-taking events, both being “incarcerated for plunder” in the presidential suite of the Veterans Memorial Hospital. Not to concern, however, nor inconvenience anyone—the oath-taking was taken to the hospital. Remember that “mountain moving” tale about if you can't get Mohammad to the mountain—bring the mountain to Mohammad? This, of course, also indicates that all family and friends could come “visit” and witness as well. Where is that Ms. Van Ham when you need her?

Is Erap guilty of plunder? Oh, I don't think that is particularly in question and son Jingoy doesn't argue his case except to state that only ONE cause should not keep him from bail. You see, “Plunder” is a capital offense punishable by possible death AND IS A NON-BAILABLE CAUSE FOR INCARCERATION. Ah, but not in “jail”—in luxurious special facilities where guests can be received at all hours and food is brought in from caterers and home.

What will save Erap's assets in the long run? Probably the fact that the President before him, Fidel Ramos, is KNOWN to have been the most corrupt plunderer (with the able assistance of the U.S. and NWO) since time began.

Erap, remember, was Vice President under Ramos and Erap just continued the programs already well underway at the startup of his Kingdomship. And who, by the way, is hanging Erap? Well, General Ramos of course. That is not even questioned in the Philippines. Mr. Ramos is facilitating the running of the government, the new president, the CIA-Abu Sayyaf operations, the U.S. intervention and, basically, the fall of the Philippines. It is general knowledge. It is the best-known secret around and yet, we included, don't really talk about it—it just isn't safe for anyone to mention it out loud. It is NOT our business. This is still a sovereign nation and the citizens have the “right” to choose any one, any way, they fancy.

Politics notwithstanding, the people are perplexed at a Supreme Court decision which cuts off a full three years of Eruption Telanovela. This might just pull forth another EDSA uprising. I suggest, though, that the prosecution in the Eruption case HAS NO CASE just through the bungling of what they “did” have going for them. Remember that this is a battle of lawyers—not justice. Oh, well.

So, how did Mrs. Erap get elected Senator? Come now, inquirer, how did Mrs. Clinton get elected Senator? Life is simply “like that” in the fast lane among the “servants” of you-the-people. When WILL you wake up and at least smell the toast burning?

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN THE PHILIPPINES AND DOES IT MATTER?

This is a meaningless question in two parts and the answer is yes and no to both parts. It depends on what you are seeking to accomplish.

Because of the U.S. involvement in the Philippines and OUR involvement with the U.S. AND the Philippines, I suggest it is the place we need to BE.

My agreements with the U.S., however, ONLY discuss non-active BUSINESS ORIGINATING in the U.S.A.-recognized States. That leaves just about every window wide open, however, and as agreements have been breached and fractured by said “authorities” in the U.S., we are not bound to that stance other than through our ongoing intention to keep those agreements—for the welfare of the nation itself and the global economy. I do wish, however, that the Idiots in Power (IPs) wouldn't push their luck quite so hard. I most certainly enjoy a good challenge. (Get up off the floor, Dharma.)

We still have all the sovereign “nations” of the Native Americans to enjoin and we have good and capable shelter right through our corporate structures right in Nevada, U.S.A. There is NO thought, even, of breaking laws, bending regulations or any other shady operations. By the way, THOSE AGREEMENTS ONLY ARE APPLICABLE TO GLOBAL ALLIANCE INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION. How many more doors does THAT suggest?

I am often asked about what I enjoy doing on my afternoon off as in “Do you play golf, or what?” I personally like a good game of chess! I do require something a bit more mental than chasing a little white ball through green fields because the other players object to the fact that I don't know how to use a “club”.

When you outgrow the nonsense, we can get on with the real fun. How soon is up to you.

BACK TO THE PHILIPPINES AND THE SAGA IN PROGRESS

The following could probably best be described as an “oxy-moron” but it certainly points up the confusion of problems facing this nation in point.

It doesn't need my comments, just your enjoyment and observations.

[QUOTING The Philippine STAR, Sunday, July 1, 2001:]

WE MIGHT AS WELL BITE THE BULLET AND ASK FOR HELP

By JOSE MANUEL ‘BABE’ ROMUALDEZ,
Vice Chairman, People Asia Magazine.

(This article was written upon the request of Publisher (STAR) Max Soliven.)

Some Americans would have to spend the 4th of July in life-threatening captivity.

This is so because the United States government, even as it prepares for its up-and-coming celebration of Independence Day on July 4, seems to have surprisingly dissociated itself from the “clear and present danger”, that is, the Abu Sayyaf. It appears they have remained tolerant in spite of the iron-hand clutch the brigands have on a couple of American hostages who are being dragged around by the hair through the inhospitable jungles of Basilan.

This supposed “apathy” is so unusual for a government that has been spearheading counter-terrorist efforts worldwide. The so-called “Bully of the World”, or rather, “Policeman of the World” practically remained hushed about any tactical rescue operations of the kidnapped Americans. It also appears that they are not too keen about offering openhanded military assistance to the Philippines in this particular regard.

Odd at best, this behavior is long and far removed from the way the U.S. has been portraying itself in American-produced films: Daring, fearless combatants who, at a flick of a finger or at the push of a button, can go in and out of a terrorist camp and take on hard-line extremists and save hostages simultaneously. This they accomplish (at least, in Hollywood) with sophisticated weaponry, high-tech machinery, impressive tactical maneuvering and, of course, with guns blazing.

By the way, let’s not forget the special effects.

If the U.S. government’s apparent inaction at this point is any indication of its concept of image-management, then these Americans would have to rethink their notion of it. Their movies—especially the good, fast-paced ones—are turning out to be a public relations nightmare! I think American moviemakers would have to make fewer action-packed, shoot-‘em-up films (it’s bad enough that Rambo and the American Ninja are still on cable TV). They wouldn’t like America’s elite fighting units to put in extra laps at the jogging field if only to live up to the hype!

It has been four weeks from the time when the Abu Sayyaf took their first hostages from the Dos Palmas Resort in Palawan, and a lot had happened since. Some hostages have already been murdered and beheaded, others kept alive for “shielding” purposes. As an added “attraction”, another set of hostages had been taken from a hospital in Lamitan, one more group was hauled from a far-flung municipality in Basilan.

On the side of the government, a P100-million bounty has been offered; anti-terrorist committees formed; intermediaries designated; Abu Sayyaf supporters warned; “peace talks” with other Islamic separatist groups, like the Moro Islamic Liberation Front, conducted; continuous military offensives implemented. The “dreaded” Crisis Management Manual has been put out, its policies being used as a Bible for anti-terrorist procedures.

In addition, the death toll is mounting; what’s more, there are too many injured soldiers and civilians (mostly children) who have been caught in the crossfire. Even the hot-item of Philippine politics—Chavit Singson—took a shot at negotiating for the hostages. In spite of arrests made on suspected members of the Abu Sayyaf bandits (the PNP has in custody one of those who took part in the kidnapping spree in Sipadan, Malaysia last year), still, as of this writing, the Abu Sayyaf has remained, undoubtedly, the most difficult band to pin down.

Of course, we cannot look on our country’s present state of affairs as we would an HBO movie. Reality demands we must not expect a two-hour solution to a problem that literally blew up on our faces more or less six years ago in the small town of Ipil in Zamboanga del Norte. Time is of the essence, critics would holler, but a lightning-style rescue (or any solution for that matter at this point) is easier said than done.

However, concrete steps are being made. I wasn’t born yesterday to know that “behind-the-scenes” negotiations are going on between the Abu Sayyaf, and the American and Philippine governments. I would even go to the extent of saying there might be something that’s already brewing in the muted halls of Malacañang that the media is completely unaware of. Recent reports of releases made by the Abu Sayyaf have given rise to this assumption. Too, the families of the victims are constantly on the look-out for opportunities to contact the Abu Sayyaf that they may bargain for the lives and freedom of their loved ones.

In a nutshell, this high-profile kidnapping has been a very unwelcome prelude to America’s approaching celebration of its 225th Independence Day. We can only hope that, in their desire to negotiate, these two governments (as a hard and fast rule) would not parlay out of fear or indecision, not to a gang of fundamentalists like the Abu Sayyaf.

One practical solution would be for the Arroyo administration to modestly open its doors to any suggestion from the U.S. State Department to provide sophisticated equipment gadgetry and training opportunities for our boys in uniform. [H: My goodness, a solution?] The Armed Forces of the Philippines is in such a rag-tag condition that a mere kumpit—a small inter-island boat (powered by three outboard motors), used by the hostage-takers—outran and outmaneuvered Philippine Navy gunboats during the hostage drama!

Baywatch has faster and more reliable sea craft than our Navy, for crying out loud! What was once tagged as “Asia’s Foremost Armed Forces” in relation to weaponry, machinery and training has now become Asia’s number one blunder. Let’s face it: We need help—big time!

Let us remember what former U.S. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt said when he spoke before the U.S. Congress asking for war against Japan in 1941, “Always will we remember the character of the onslaught against us... with the unbounded determination of our people, we will gain the inevitable triumph. So help us, God.” Let’s hope our government finally realizes the importance of having a strong, fully-equipped and highly-trained armed forces. Indefatigable confidence in our boys in uniform is at stake here. And when confidence dwindles, support shall dwindle as well, and dramatically at that. Discouragement and a forbidding sense of being rejected are the two of the worse things a government could slap on wartorn soldiers.

But in the same breath, I would have to say President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo is handling her third crisis (which began with the so-called EDSA III protests and the Labor Day siege of Mendiola) rather well—even in the face of uncooperative bureaucrats, in-fighting and envy among some officials in Mindanao, dwindling resources, and mounting expenses of war (P8M a day). So far, her “no-compromise” stance, although it inadvertently brought about the untimely demise of some hostages, has kept the brigands from conducting a full-scale, countrywide kidnapping and bombing frenzy. Thanks to her unbroken consultation with Defense Secretary Angelo Reyes, National Security Adviser Roilo Golez, AFP Chief of Staff Diomedio Villanueva, DILG Secretary Joey Lina, and a host of other members of the cabinet, GMA has kept her feet securely fixed on sane grounds. [H: I wonder where this man has been? What is this ridiculous fluff and nonsense? But the obvious “fix” is to bring in the magic of the U.S. killing machines? Frightening isn’t it? Perhaps these writers should spend a bit of time in the soldier’s boots in that jungle oven.]

But our travails as a nation do not begin and end with the Abu Sayyaf. It must be clear that the hostage crisis is just a small piece of the bigger, more-bitter pie. There is still localized criminality, which has swollen to a shocking 100 percent in the past couple of months. [H: No, that is the way it reads!]

Although some sectors would battle for their day in the sun as to who is telling the truth about present crime rates, the reports are unmistakably plain: Social delinquency is slowly becoming the country’s “national pastime”, and Philippine National Police Chief Leandro Mendoza must, without delay, put a stop to this social nuisance.

There are indicators to prove that crime is slowly getting out of hand. The latest buzz is that some Pinoys and Chinoys are threatening to conduct an exodus—a large-scale migration of middle-class families and business to other countries [H: Namely Canada and the U.S.A. And people, these migrants plan to take the best positions, not the least desirable.] just in case things do not get any better here. The caveat is a very real one, I presume, given that it is dictated upon by dire necessity (if not a nagging frustration and an awful sense of haplessness) rather than by leisure or affluence. This mass departure, if it ever pushes through, would forever put in the dark any hope of this country having a higher middle-class base. And when we talk of migration, we likewise talk of capital flight. We all know what happens to a household when money goes indefinitely out the window. The U.S. and Canadian embassies reported they have a significant increase in visa applications.

But barring aside bits and pieces of issues, we have to understand there is a greater crux to this dilemma that we find ourselves in. There’s a lot more to this than meets the untrained eye. No, it is not Erap and his indictment, nor is it the Abu Sayyaf and the latest beheading; not the kidnappings of Chinoy businessmen and their families, nor is it the up-to-the-minute account of oil price increases and peso devaluation. Uh-uh. There’s a bigger fry to sauté here: our growing sense of dissatisfaction, and indifference towards the things that really matter.

I was told a story years ago about a sea-borne ship that, while in the middle of a voyage, caught a man who was burrowing a huge hole at the underbelly of the boat. A sailor noticed the water rising from the base of the ship and rushed to the captain to report what he saw. With his trusted crew, the captain rushed to where the hole was, seized the culprit, and dragged him up the plank. The sailors cheered for the man to be thrown off the boat. They poked him with long poles, mocked his name, and struck his arms and legs with rods. For almost an hour they derided the wrongdoer until they forced him inevitably to fall into the raging sea below. But they failed to notice in their frenzy for entertainment that almost half the ship was already underwater.

They forgot to plug the damn hole.

The Philippines is more than the issue about Erap; it is even more than the Abu Sayyaf; it is more than the radical left, and a whole lot more than the extremist right. It is more than the afternoon telenovelas, a lot more than the possibility of an EDSA 4. We could gloat in our victories and lament because of our failures; we could feel sorry for Joseph Estrada and Abu Sabaya, and we could feel sorry for ourselves.

Or, we could look at ourselves as who and what we really are as a people. Remember, this country is composed of 7,100 islands with roughly 78 million Filipinos scattered all over the archipelago. Immense don't you think? Taking this into account, isn't it a reasonable conclusion that there is so much about the Philippines that merits our attention and appreciation than these sporadic snags of crime and punishment?

I am not, by any means, belittling or dismissing the crises we are faced with. Yes, I believe that they are serious. However, I just wanted to look at our drinking glass of opportunity from a different perspective—from being half-empty to being half-full. [H: Sorry, sir, the glass is only 1/16th full and there is a refusal, for whatever manipulative reason, to even look at SOLUTIONS. What happens when that glass is EMPTY?]

As a matter of intelligent choice, Filipinos could opt for a chance to “plug the hole”, that is, if we can still pinpoint its location after all this mess. It's still there, and if given the chance, I know we'll find it. And with proper allocation of resources, fixing it would be a breeze. It is not enough to say in this regard that all shall be well after that. There is still the whole voyage to consider. At least, in doing so, we would have finally put away the chance of our ship haplessly sinking.

[END OF QUOTING]

I can't speak for you—but this is one of the saddest commentaries I have ever read! THIS is what is wrong!

You people of the Philippines, do you really want the U.S. to “fix” it all for you? Well, actually in a most around about way, they have offered you the solution—IT IS CALLED GAIA. You are so busy beating the messengers as to miss the entire point (hole in the boat).

I suggest, people-of-the-lie, that you might well take note of that “MOVING FINGER” WHICH WRITES, WAITS, AND THEN MOVES ON. There are always others waiting.

You know what is wrong but you don't want to change. How do I know? Because you have not! Anything desired can be accomplished. End of story.

May God bless,

GCH

George Green Reigns Still As TOP LIAR

7/2/01—#1 (14-320)

RE: E-MAIL BETWEEN GEORGE GREEN AND LANCE TOMLYN (CANADA); RESPONSE AS REQUESTED BY EKKER

IS THERE HOPE FOR CONCLUSION AND POSITIVE ASPIRATIONS FOR THE PHOENIX INSTITUTE?

HATONN—YES, BUT NOT UNTIL YOU CLEAN UP THE MISINFORMATION. AND, YES, THE ITEMS IN GEORGE GREEN'S LETTER TO LANCE TOMLYN MUST BE ANSWERED ITEM BY ITEM—HERE IS THE “SOURCE” OF ALL THE LEGAL DISINFORMATION UPON WHICH THE OPPOSITION, ABBOTT AND HORTON, BASED ALL CASES—ON GREEN'S MISINFORMATION. THEY KNEW BETTER BUT JUST FED MORE AND MORE EXAGGERATED DECEPTIONS TO THE PRESS AND TO THE COURTS.

THOSE FALSE STATEMENTS WERE PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AND TAKEN AROUND THE GLOBE FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF ALL VIEWERS AND READERS. THERE WAS ONE ASSOCIATED PRESS RELEASE GIVEN FORTH BY GEORGE ABBOTT WHICH STATED FLATLY THAT DORIS EKKER CLAIMED TO BE JESUS CHRIST AND HAD CULT FOLLOWERS. THE FACTS ARE THAT THE ONLY PERSON UP TO THAT TIME, WRITTEN UP BY CONSENT BY GEORGE GREEN, WAS THAT GEORGE HAD “CULT FOLLOWERS”.

IT WILL BE NOTED, PLEASE, THAT THERE WAS NO REFERENCE TO EKKERS IN MR. TOMLYN'S LETTER BUT NOTE THE FOCUS IN GREEN'S LETTER.

ALSO NOTE THE USE OF THE AMOUNT $10,000,000 AND KNOW THAT THAT IS THE AMOUNT OFFERED BY THE “SEMINAR CIRCUIT” AS WHAT GEORGE GREEN ACTUALLY STOLE FROM PHOENIX INSTITUTE. THAT WAS REPORTED BY MOUTH BY A REGULAR ATTENDEE TO SAID SEMINARS TO RICK MARTIN—DIRECTLY. IN ADDITION, THAT AMOUNT IS RELATIVE TO “INVESTORS”. THERE WERE “NEVER” “INVESTORS”—UNDERSTAND ME: NO INVESTORS—NO MATTER WHAT IS SPREAD ABOUT. “THAT” WAS THE BOTTOM LINE OF REQUIREMENTS IN ANY RELATIONSHIP AS TO LENDING ANYTHING TO SAID PHOENIX INSTITUTE.

HOWEVER, SINCE GEORGE GREEN WAS “THE PARTY”, WITH WIFE IN PRESENTATION, WHO WENT FORTH AND SOLD “HIS PROGRAM”, THE EKKERS HAVE NO INFORMATION AS TO WHAT HE MIGHT HAVE TOLD PEOPLE. WE DO KNOW THAT AT ONE MAJOR SEMINAR GEORGE GREEN TOLD A CLOSE FRIEND (OF OURS) THAT NEVADA CORPORATE HEADQUARTERS WAS HIS AND CORT CHRISTIE WAS HIS MAN. HE SAID HE HAD INVESTED OVER A MILLION DOLLARS TO SET UP NCH. THAT WAS FROM MR. GREEN'S MOUTH AND THE PHOENIX INSTITUTE WAS NOTIFIED IMMEDIATELY WITHIN THE HOUR.

MR. GREEN ALSO CALLED AND WROTE TO MR. CHRISTIE'S PARENTS AS WELL AS TO HIS WIFE'S, JENNY'S, PARENTS AND SAID THAT CORT WAS HEADED FOR CRIMINAL CHARGES FOR HIS OPERATION OF NCH. THAT SORT OF STATEMENT BRINGS A CERTAIN JOY TO A PARENT'S HEART, DON'T YOU THINK? GREENS HAD “NO” INPUT WHATSOEVER INTO THAT CORPORATION—EVER!

MR. GREEN ALSO STATED THAT GENE DIXON OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL LAW CENTER AND GARY ANDERSON OF WE-THE-PEOPLE WERE “MY MEN”. THAT TURNS OUT TO BE LIKELY SO, SINCE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WERE DIVERTED THROUGH THOSE PEOPLE BY GREEN.

GREEN FURTHER CALLED A MEETING OF SCHROEPPERS, LEON AND BUD (purposely no further identification AT THIS TIME) to a meeting in Nevada where Green told them to get their money out of PI, IN GOLD which was NEVER in circulation or point, bring it to him and he would “roll it over” without taxes or costs through Puerto Rico and points south, then he would give them great shares of his new “Development” company.

Ekkers had served as corporation nominees but instantly resigned.

At that time E.J. Ekker was Treasurer, and President, of Phoenix Institute for Research & Education, Ltd.; Doris Ekker had agreed to be Secretary for the organization period and George Green was also a major operative Director. He also served as a non-“recorded” officer with banking rights and business authority. Green also was Editor, Publisher and handled the funds for ALL “business” operations. As Treasurer E.J. had to sign all loan documents and side agreements. Doris had no management or business involvement AT ALL.

When the problems broke forth with Green, there was a revamping of the PI Board of Directors. E.J. stayed on as a Director, Doris resigned all involvement, and a whole new slate of Directors was installed. Rod Ence became Director and President, Nora Boyles became Director and Secretary, Fr. Ed Cleary became a Director, Mitch Jaffe became a Director while former attorney Gene Dixon became an Advisor along with Paul Leinthall who, a bit later, took over an executive position with the Institute.

All these people came, ORIGINALLY, in some way, through Green's publications or travels. How was it that most claimed to “come to the area” because of “Hatonn”? Later Green claimed that Hatonn had gone with him to Nevada. Therefore, why is it that Ekkers who wrote, attended the projects underway as planned, and generally took on the load of everybody, including the blame of anyone who chose to claim interest of some kind in the Institute? Doris did not even know the names, and still doesn't, of most of the people who came to visit. Is there something wrong here?

George Green, when he left California, took with him nearly half a million dollars IN GOLD COINS in one batch, a “bucket” of gold coins he was “holding” for a lady in Colorado or Arizona plus amounts never reported. He had also received thousands of dollars personally from many of the people later mentioned by himself—in this upcoming letter, no less.

As the problems became known it turned out that Mr. Ence had “enriched” himself through use of his PI position as President as well as basically embezzling funds from the farm he managed but which was a TOTAL failure as a farm. He had his pre-teen sons “farm” while he “managed”.

When his contract expired at the farm he was asked to leave the position and vacate the property because the farm would either be restaffed or be shut down as to all operations.

After being unable to gain the CORPORATE RECORDS (he was not a shareholder) and files of PI, he resigned as Director and President. Fr. Cleary also resigned.

Rather than get more Directors it was decided to get a Board of Advisors which was made up of some 12 to 20 members and all meetings of the Board were held in public with these advisors. This was the operational procedure right up to the decision for Ekkers, Martin, and Neil to go, with an attorney and business party, to the Philippines. Funding for the travels would be from a current (at that time) settlement of litigation with an attorney over the Ekkers’ property case having nothing to do with PI.

Now, any of you who would wish to object to this on the basis of lawyers or the “system” wouldn’t allow such injustice—think again and go back and carefully read what SPOTLIGHT has to say about that old justice system where NOW the Bar Association is in total association with the Supreme Court—not the Legislature. THIS MEANS THAT LAWS ARE MADE AND LAWYERS PROTECTED BY THE SUPREME COURT ITSELF. A lawyer no longer has to ethically tell truth or have honor. They can say, manipulate, play games and misrepresent to their heart’s content. Perhaps, Dharma, we could offer that article from the named publication. THIS GOES FAR BEYOND ANY KOL NIDRE, READERS!

I am going to turn this over for personal response but, yes, indeed, I am going to stay right at the elbow. We have to clean up these dregs in the pot before we can bring closure to anything.

I believe that this NEW EVIDENCE is worthy of documenting and making SURE it goes to appropriate legal counsel. This Green man even brings parties into the picture with total misinformation, including Rick Martin.

In fact, to Rick Martin, I believe this would back up any reopening of your settlement with Green as “NEW EVIDENCE” wherein when you sued the Greens before over those books, etc., and the $84,000 charges brought against you for collection, you agreed to not again sue them. This is certainly worthy of reconsideration—for the indication here is that you took $250,000 and gave the money to Ekkers. We don’t happen to believe that it is Rick Martin who has lied in this matter. If so, where IS the $250,000 dollars? Perhaps that is why Rick jumped ship? No, it isn’t. Rick never had enough books to acquire that much money for that incident.

There are still 110,000 books MISSING which were ordered by court that Mr. Green would insure them, store them properly, and then return them.

And, no, the courts DID NOT dismiss Greens. They were ordered to pay $26,000 to PI and return all 110,000 books—neither of which has happened.

Dharma (Doris), nor E.J. received anything from any of “our” writings. Doris was to have received $3,000 per book up front for living expenses. Well, now that there are some 300 Journals, that would have been interesting at least. However, there was NOTHING AT ALL PAID TO ANYONE BUT GREENS. All publishing charges of ALL America West Books and publications were assigned to the PI. That in itself is interesting because Green did actually BORROW from the Institute a KNOWN $150,000 for his own expenses.

By their own bookkeeping records there was over $175,000 made in one year from the sale of Journals—with NO REMUNERATION TO ANYONE. Since Ekkers turned over rights to the books to PI, it is interesting, don’t you think, that NOTHING came back? I would guess Mr. Green broke that contract quite soundly. I HAVE INTEREST BECAUSE THOSE WERE “MY” WRITINGS, THANK YOU. FURTHERMORE, THEY WERE FOR THE VERY PURPOSE OF BEING ABLE TO GET “THIS” PROJECT POSSIBLE.

What, therefore, do Ekkers want out of this? NOTHING—JUST OUT OF IT. WE HAVE A JOB TO ACCOMPLISH WITH SO LITTLE HELP AS TO BE STAGGERING.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE PHOENIX INSTITUTE IS “NOT” EKKERS’—AND ACTING AS TREASURER OF THE CORPORATION DOES NOT MAKE IT EKKERS’. EKKERS HAVE MADE EVERY EFFORT TO PROTECT LENDERS BUT FINALLY THE COURT STOPPED (FROZE) ABILITY TO FUNCTION. OTHER ARRANGEMENTS WERE MADE SO THAT UPON POSITIVE CONCLUSION OF THIS PROJECT IN PROGRESS, LENDERS WILL HAVE BEEN PROTECTED. IF THIS CAN’T BE CONCLUDED, HOWEVER, IT IS DISMAL, ISN’T IT? THIS, WHILE THE LIES AND DISINFORMATION FLOW LIKE WATER FROM THE GREEN, ET AL., SPIGOTS. PLEASE REALIZE, READERS, THAT “FOUR BOXES OF GOLD” WHICH HAS BEEN LONG AGO TAKEN AND OVER HALF THE VALUE LOST WHILE THE REST WENT TO LAWYERS, STILL HAS A CASE IN APPEAL WITH THE NEVADA SUPREME COURT AFTER HAVING BEEN DISMISSED THREE TIMES.

Well, Dharma, frustration may be great but THEY simply keep the cases OPEN and re-opened. Just answer the letter in point and make sure counsel holds it. IT HAS REACHED THE POINT THAT IT IS NOT OVER UNTIL “WE” SAY IT IS OVER.

Subject: May Seminar? Richmond

Good Morning George,

I am e-mailing you about the “Seminar” you did in Richmond, B.C. in May.

You claimed to have been selected by the “Galactic” energies to be their receiver; you claimed you are a Banker; you claimed you are just getting God’s word out to the people; you claimed you would share advanced knowledge of some kind; you claimed to have lent the Federal Reserve money to keep them going; you claimed to be the receiver for certain books; you claimed to be a Lighted Being—and on and on.

George, myself and another person were in your audience of sleepyheads listening to every deceptive word you spoke. You may not have remembered me from Tehachapi, but I certainly won’t forget who you represent. Nor will I forget the dastardly deeds you have pulled off, all under the pretense of being a “good guy”.

George, to me it is obvious that you speak with a very forked tongue and are running scared and must constantly look over your shoulder to avoid being uncovered or confronted for your terrible misdeeds. You had it all not long ago—and why you chose to serve the dark side of life is a mystery and a disgrace to me.

I am letting you know that if you come to Canada again, I will video and audio record your “talks” and come with ample evidence to confront you and your “claims”—and expose you right in front of the sleepy audience that you attract. The game is over and you lose—so it would be smart to come clean and immediately begin to make restitution for all the wrongs and ripoffs you are responsible for.

George, please send me a refund of $30.00 for the fee we paid to hear you deceive—or send a few books of equal value if you don’t have enough clean money to send. Phoenix Journals would be preferable.

How does it feel to look in the mirror and see Satan looking back at you?

Peace Be With You and may you one day see the Light,
Lance Tomlyn

What bull-shit. The courts have dismissed all charges against me and Desiree on the lies that the Ekkers have pulled. Did you know they have over $10,000,000 of investors monies and the investors have been in court for the last few years trying to get them back. The “Gold” that we supposed to have taken, was never the Ekkers’. They managed to get ½ of it through the estate of David, however, suggest you check with the courts.. Betty Tuten has sued them for her monies (nearly a million, Sherri Yount (over $2,000,000. CALL HER AND SEE IF I AM NOT TELLING YOU THE TRUTH 407-832-6946.. Desiree and I advanced to the Ekkers over $100,000, we also paid for everything else, along with the publishing of all the plagerized books. We settled a law suit with the University of Science, whereby we agreed that 9 of the “:phoenix books” we taken word for word from their books. Doris Ekker copied” word for word” nearly all of the books and we then found out about their scam in detail. Ask Rick Martin, even he who had over $250,000 of our books, which we shipped to him, said he gave all the money to the Ekkers.. We have spent and lost over a million dollars over these “people” who have judgments against them, the federal government after them, and lots of attorneys representing others. If you think that the Ekkers are so wonderful, then get in your plane and head to the Phillipines and be with them..PS. I never lent the federal reserve money, but did give back an extra million they wire transferred to my account.by mistake. LESSON OF DISCERNMENT.. ALL OF THE EKKERS BOOKS WERE TAKEN FROM OTHER SOURCES.. ie plagerized. They are the lie.. suggest you call David Horton 775-883-1966 and ask what they are and what the truth is..They certainly know what they are doing!!and you are asleep by your own words——[END]

G: What bull-shit. The courts have dismissed all charges against me and Desiree on the lies that the Ekkers have pulled.

D: The courts have NOT dismissed all charges against either "Green". George was dismissed from one case where he entered the case, had no standing, and was "dismissed". We found no BS in Lance's letter; he actually stuck to the facts.

G: Did you know they have over $10,000,000 of investors monies and the investors have been in court for the last few years trying to get them back.

D: I guess that was meant as a question but there is no question mark so the response will be in like kind.

$10,000,000? The only ten million dollars ever mentioned came from George Green. He must know about $8,000,000 more than we ever "heard of". He will later give figures which refute this totally, in both concept and reality.

THERE NEVER WERE, NOR ARE, "INVESTORS", in the Institute and ESPECIALLY INVESTORS WITH EKKERS! People did come and did lend funds to the Phoenix Institute to be shared on projects in which George Green and Desiree were fully aware at ALL TIMES. Some of those "investors" gave Green, DIRECTLY, checks, funds and gold. We, Ekkers, have no notion of how much that might have been.

Greens took a lot of personal "help" from Shari Yount, Dave Overton, Schroepfers, and others who are mentioned here: How much more did Greens get from such as Shari Yount who is totally misrepresented in this letter? THERE WERE NO "INVESTORS"—EVER, TO OUR KNOWLEDGE: ANYONE WHO CAME IN THROUGH GREEN WITHOUT FULL INCORPORATION REGISTRATION, EVEN AS LENDERS, WERE REPAYED AND DROPPED. They know who they are and will be called as witnesses if ever needed. Please remember that the "program" of PI was originated by George Green. What George REALLY had in mind is not, certainly, what happened. He lost control when E.J. made it work. We can, however, surmise intent from Green's efforts to get funds back in Gold from some of the people in PI. There actually were no "people" in PI, only corporations. Green may have had some parties MISUSING CORPORATIONS.

At one time Ekkers served as nominees on some 200 corporations as far back as before there was a Phoenix Institute. Ekkers also had a corporation called Corporate Consultants, a Nevada corporation. This was to be used WITH Cort Christie who later set up Nevada Corporate Headquarters (NCH), of which half of all profits would flow to Phoenix Institute. Mr. Christie, for whatever reason, issued all NCH stock to himself and never paid anything to the Institute OR TO EKKERS. Ekkers had been a service for nominee reference with Laughlin Associates, one of the most recognized and honorable agencies in Nevada.

E.J. certainly was knowledgeable about corporation set-up or structure and did, when asked, assist anyone who asked for such assistance. Most chose to do whatever they chose to do, without any recognition or consultation with Ekkers. They could go directly to Mr. Christie and some had full office (business) packages with Laughlin.

Ekkers, as officers of PI did, yes, indeed, make efforts to recover what we KNEW was stolen—that is LAW, readers, not a game of shells. In addition, the parties sued us personally as somehow being alter-egos of Phoenix Institute while Mr. Green tried to walk (run) away with assets he actually BURIED in his backyard to hide.

By the way, we (Ekkers) have been bashed and trashed by having to spend legal fees to defend PI against Abbott and Horton's clients. Since a corporation is required by law to have a certified and practicing attorney, how is it that somehow Ekkers have caused such damage? PI tried to DROP INVOLVEMENT with Leon Fort—and HIS ATTORNEY ABBOTT would not allow it. It was already such that through double billing and billing for non-service, Abbott's bill was in excess by far than the amount being argued. We personally felt it an atrocity that Leon should be caught in that trap. By the way, in court Abbott and Horton claimed that Ekkers (PI) took and stole thousands of dollars from old ladies—namely Leon's mother who was claimed to be around 90 years of age. Leon's mother's name is Esther and she never had ANYTHING WHATSOEVER to do with anything. Leon Fort was not listed as being "anything", either, but did turn out to have a corporation by the name of Infinite Balance which did have to be sorted out. That corporation finally went to Abbott, Leon's attorney. Wow and wow! All the while Abbott was working directly and in conjunction WITH David Horton to whom Green suggests YOU CALL. [Please, do. Leave your number for him to call you—we can all enjoy this game after you know what is in this writing.]

Yes, indeed, I, Doris, certainly DO object to this writing and responding. We are busy 24 hours a day and if I have soul problems at all, it is over such as cheating liars as is George Green and some of his other buddies, namely ex-Judge Jason Brent who gave George (and Spectrum) a harassment-of-Ekkers package. I think that Brent letter to GREEN should be run here also—for it was the pattern also used by Martin/Young when they took the CONTACT newspaper and funds. I guess the point was to KILL THE EKKERS and somehow the truth would get buried. THEY obviously did not count on Commander Hatonn being REAL. Please print that letter, Mark.

Box 3300
Bozeman, MT 59772

Dear George:

This letter is intended to confirm our telephone conversation of Friday, April 14 relating to the Ekker problem.

I would recommend that each person defrauded by the Ekkers write a detailed letter to Ed Jagels, Kern County District Attorney, Don Lundgren, Attorney General of the State of California, the Fraud Department of the U.S. Post Office, and the Fraud Department of the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington, D.C. setting forth a detailed account of how they were defrauded and requesting criminal prosecution of the Ekkers. I would also recommend that each person send a similar letter to the District Attorney of the county in which he/she resides. In addition, I would recommend that each person defrauded send a similar letter to the Attorney General of the State of Nevada as the Ekkers do a substantial amount of business in Nevada. Lastly I would recommend that each person who was defrauded contact any local government official they know and ask that government official to apply pressure to the District Attorney or Attorney General. For example, if Mr. Jones was defrauded and he is friends with an Assemblyman where he lives he should contact the Assemblyman and ask the Assemblyman to set up an appointment with the District Attorney of his county and with the Attorney General of his state. Hopefully, all of this pressure will get some action on the criminal front against the Ekkers.

If I am retained as the attorney, I would assist in preparing the above letters and contacting the appropriate prosecuting officials.

Both of us know what the Ekkers are and, therefore, no further description of their honesty, integrity, etc. is needed. If I am retained as the attorney for the persons defrauded, I would want a substantial warchest. The Ekkers will fight every inch of the way and will attempt to hide their assets and, therefore, going after the Ekkers will be a full time job. To put it slightly differently, I would have to give up my entire practice and only proceed against the Ekkers. Not only would I have to proceed against them in the courts, I would also have to proceed against them on the public relations front. That would require providing evidence to the editors of all appropriate newspapers so that they and their shills cannot use the newspapers to attack the victims, appropriate law enforcement agencies, and every one else concerned in their fraud.

You have indicated to me that you were contacted by people that were defrauded in the approximate amount of $2 million/$2.5 million. I believe it only fair for each person to put up 10% of the amount he/she was defrauded so that my warchest would be $200-250,000 for legal fees and costs. I would not proceed until and unless that money was deposited in my Attorney's Trust Account so that I could be assured of receiving payment for the services I render and for the substantial costs I will incur. I will incur substantial filing fees and, in all probability, incur substantial private investigators costs.

I think the above summarizes our conversation. As I advised you, if the people cannot put up a warchest equal to 10% of the amount they have been defrauded, I am not interested in proceeding against the Ekkers. If the people haven't got the courage to put up 10% of the amount they were defrauded to hopefully recover the amount they were defrauded, then they do not deserve competent legal counsel.

If I can provide additional information to you or anyone, please contact me.

Sincerely yours,

{signed}

You people can add anything you like to this writing for anyone around KNOWS the truth of it and we are bored and tired of it.

G: The "Gold" that we supposed to have taken, was never the Ekkers.. They managed to get ½ of it through the estate of David, however, suggest you check with the courts..

D: Right, the gold was sent to PHOENIX INSTITUTE: It was NOT Ekkers! So, why have Ekkers been sued by Green, along with the four BOXES of gold, that he might keep it?

Ekkers got nothing from the final court resolution. The gold which had been worth nearly four hundred thousand dollars, went down at least 25% in value while tied up by Green after YEARS in litigation. Almost ALL of the funds in point went to lawyers. Hang in there, friends, it (can &) does get worse.

George claimed the gold as a personal gift from Dave Overton. Dave Overton traveled from Texas to Nevada TO TESTIFY THAT IT WAS NOT EVER A GIFT TO GREEN—PERIOD. It was for the Phoenix Institute and David was broken-hearted over the theft by Green. And Ekkers? As officers of the Institute, we had to, by law, make every effort to reclaim the assets. THAT IS WHAT IT IS ABOUT, READERS. Rick, Jaffe, Brent, and Dixon were all at that hearing in Nevada—WITH DAVID OVERTON.

Which court does Mr. Green suggest with which to check? There are courts involved from Fresno, Calif., Minden, Carson City, Reno, and Las Vegas (Nevada) to Austin, Texas. We certainly hope you are NOT naive enough to think all that was FOR FREE. All this had to do with Phoenix Institute in which somehow Ekkers got personally dumped into the pot and named as well.

Ugly? Well, most of the local people attended those court hearings which were in reach and always witnesses were present who were aghast at what took place.

One judge even shut the case down, which centered around Green, because (published in the paper) he would not allow ridicule or such references to Jesus Christ in his courtroom. Well, there you have it—Doris, who they published claimed to be Jesus Christ—WAS NOT EVEN IN THE COURTROOM. GEORGE, ABBOTT, AND HORTON WERE SEEN HAVING A MAJOR PRESS CONFERENCE, HOWEVER!

It was at that hearing, in the hall, that Dixon and Jaffe sat with Leon Fort who stated that there was never any intent to SIGN any agreement (already formalized and some minimum of $40,000 PAID BY PI TO LEON THROUGH ABBOTT). The first $20,000 was given on an “immediate” basis for Abbott to take a trip to Italy. It was claimed that the $40,000, however, had been put into Abbott’s trust account. That was one of the biggest nonsenses of all—or he would be in prison today and not just up for possible disbarment. Leon also said, at one point, that part of the funds were used to “invest” in a local Minden BAR from which Abbott would then share profits. Our guess is that the funds had already been spent (in the BAR)! Not signing the documents (agreements for repayment of Infinite Balance) was all that saved Abbott’s neck.

The next OBVIOUS thing, since we saw the billings, was Leon’s precious FRIEND, George Abbott, PRESENTED charges for legal services FAR ABOVE the value of the argued funds including the corporation as a whole—to which Abbott ended up in control in order to capture the loan documents (assets) personally. Well, Leon didn’t want to talk about it. But he did continue to join with any and every nit who produced the next idiotic drama on TV or show-and-tell.

Leon’s problems began with Green and through Mr. Green’s “emissary”, Ann Beam (her words not ours). Ms. Beam became a “live-in” with Leon. Later, after much trouble, I guess, she left him and went East to places unknown to us. She left with Leon’s corporation, Infinite Balance in her clutches as “President”, et al. The next transfer went to a local agent in Abbott’s yard.

Now, just how it came to be that Ekkers had stolen Leon’s mother’s money is a bit beyond reason or possibility. By the way, an aside. Ann Beam came to Tehachapi and “among us” from a coven—ah, indeed—a witch coven in Arizona, we believe if memory serves, Sedona.

We had other people visiting and they recognized her and she them. For a while Ann denied any “witch” association but she was listed as a coven member. Who cared, then or now? (Maybe we should, even a “white” witch.)

Well, she and a friend, Delores something, if memory serves, came for a few days and stayed in the campground near Leon’s trailer. Wow, within days Ann had a new room (Leon’s) and the “friend” went away. Is this relevant? Who knows—except it is known because E.J. called Leon on a later weekend because George Green was seen in Leon’s neighborhood. E.J. wanted to talk to Green. The phone rang, Ann answered (on our speakerphone, no less) and said “Leon is in bed but I’ll get him because we were expecting your call—. This is Ann, your emissary from Arizona, George...!” Now, is there something to be missed here? I know that I, Doris, was present as was Charles Neil and if I recall, so too was Rick Martin, listening on our speakerphone.

This should not be “in point” here except that as Betty Tuten enters the Green letter next, and it DOES become important, for Betty became totally hooked to Ann and Leon—even up to doing a TV show, internationally syndicated, called EXTRA about this so-called Cult now being associated by that bunch as “similar to Heaven’s Gate” which had just committed some kind of suicide pact. All that is, however, not for this writing.

This was so bad, however, that EXTRA asked for follow-up visit since the entire thing had been handled badly. We enjoyed the return visitors who happened to be the “star” of the show and the producer of same, at that time. They were going to run the rebuttal program but, interestingly enough, the FBI (we were told) had shut it down. Life is just forever interesting.

The conversation among the visitors was that we certainly had a lawsuit and that they actually deserved it. We felt they had only done what they were TOLD. It was mostly just totally embarrassing for us but absurdly entertaining to anyone just watching.

I’ll tell you one thing for sure. I would not like to be a central leader in “goodly” (so-called) communal or spiritual GROUP. Even when there isn’t one—you get dumped on and an effort made to cover you over, as in a landfill.

I DO realize that it is our “guide” that “they” are after, but that too is extremely entertaining in itself. Both Green and Young claimed that they had taken Hatonn WITH THEM and that HE had dumped Ekkers. Well, I am left wondering who this bright and shining teacher is that has kept us working our fannies off for God and has worn out at least seven keyboards with MY FINGERS.

So, please, on we go—

G: Betty Tuten has sued them for her monies (nearly a million, Sherri Yount (over $2,000,000. CALL HER AND SEE IF I AM NOT TELLING YOU THE TRUTH 407-832-6946.

D: Interesting to note that “Sherri” is misspelled exactly the way it was misspelled in a letter authorizing the pick-up and transport of corporation documents—finally identified as Tuten. Surely “Sherri” would not err in her own signature when, especially in business documents she used the name “Ruth”.

Back to Betty Tuten and her “nearly a million”. Nearly a million what? It certainly was not dollars and certainly not to the Phoenix Institute and never a cent to Ekkers of any kind, shape or otherwise.

Tuten did demand her funds paid—just like that—of Rod Enz, then President of PI. There was no corporation arrangement withstanding. She was glad to finally recognize her “Bethel” as a corporation but Doris didn’t even know what that was until the EXTRA re-visit. Whatever the man’s name was (the Star, so we will call him Mr. Star) shook a bunch of paper in my face and asked what about these. I asked “what is that”? He said, “the Bethel papers”. I had not the slightest idea what he was talking about and he said they were Betty Tuten’s. There were at least 25 people present and I asked, “Who gave you this information in the first place?” He responded, “Well, Betty Tuten!”

It was also so obvious that I had no idea about what he was talking that he finally bowed his head, shook it and said: “I cannot go on with this.” Later he was overheard talking with his camera people in the parking lot saying, “Oh, shit, this is really a bad scene for us, guys.”

Now, let us just COUNT a bit. We know that Tuten came to Tehachapi through Green. We also know that a Canadian, Paul Berger became Betty’s financial adviser when he had no notion of what he advised. He left Tehachapi before Betty, with his companion, Dale. (They had both left families in Canada—twin flames, maybe?)

Over a period of time Bethel something, did put loans with the Institute. Over a period of time that was around $402 thousand. Lots? Yes, but not only did she receive monthly interest payments above average interest rates, gold was purchased to secure the notes.

When Betty chose to leave Tehachapi she asked for her money—in full—that very afternoon. A special Director’s meeting was convened. Doris was neither a director nor officer and DID NOT ATTEND. Betty said she wanted ALL her money back right then, immediately.

Stunned, everyone looked to each other—what do you do on a weekend when you have to sell gold, clear banks and you name the problems for yourself. She asked, “Well, how much do you have that you can pay me?” E.J. said he might be able to round up from anybody with cash, maybe $2,000.

Then Betty was made an offer of settling over a period of time until she was paid out. She said she had an emergency and that qualified as a reason to break her own contract. Fine. She said she wanted it all “RIGHT NOW” and stomped off—and, left town.

Her emergency? Well, it turned out it was to get the funds to turn over to George Green for his “Development Project”.

She continued to receive interest payments until Greens’ attorneys got her an attorney in Las Vegas to try to put the Institute into receivership and charged Ekkers personally.

In the interim, however, Betty Tuten “stole” three corporations by walking into the NCH office saying she had been asked by Shari Yount to “pick up her corporations”. Funny thing was that Shari Yount had no three, or otherwise, corporations. Shari only USED three corporations which she never paid for and never even rented. She was using them, however, and had bank accounts for them. And just guess what bad news for the Tuten escapaders: (SHADES OF CONTACT) E.J. and Doris were in charge of those corporations and were Officers and Directors. There were full sets of corporate minutes and resolutions to cover every action and turn, up to that minute.

When that trick didn’t fly, can you guess the next move of these Legal Eagles? To get those corporations they tried to secretly transfer them to another agency. We caught the subterfuge just before a court hearing where Horton was ready to claim the corporations. It was a bad day for their side. Cort was right there in court to testify.

When that one didn’t fly as to gaining those Yount notes and those corporations to which they were assigned, Betty moved to Las Vegas AND APPOINTED HERSELF AGENT FOR THOSE CORPORATIONS.

Is “anyone” still with me?

Those corporations were put into deep freeze along with the notes put into security.

Now, move backwards a bit in time and let us consider Shari Yount a minute.

Using the three corporations, Shari sold some mutual funds and an annuity and sent money to PI to be deposited. From that deposit she reclaimed some $600 thousand for her own accounts. In addition, several hundred thousand dollars were put aside as security to be used if there was a “call” on the gold bought to secure the loans.

Since Betty had gone to Florida and had practically moved in with Shari as her “adviser”, the gold stored against their purchases was put into a single account to cover both Shari and Betty.

There is no question about that gold, people. We turned over to the judge a receipt showing the entire gold in holding for those two parties. The judge instantly gave a copy of that PRIVATE document to Green’s attorneys with Green present. That document was sent out to everyone on Green’s mailing list. We were never sure WHY, because it made OUR case and not his.

However, it became clear that trouble was brewing. A “call” was made when gold went down in price. E.J. talked to Shari who would cover the call the next day. That is NOT what happened. Tuten talked her out of making the cover and worse, Shari emptied her bank accounts both for that purpose and her personal account which made for a very large tax-liability for her.

We received the closure statements from the banks. E.J. got in touch with Shari who wouldn’t talk but said she wanted NOTHING more to do personally or otherwise—“with those corporations”.

Now, neither of those adds up to three million dollars—even out of the claimed $10,000,000—DOES IT? Moreover, when you purchase gold to cover notes—THEY REQUIRE MONEY, don’t they? What is this “investment” garbage?

Shari changed her phone number so many times to keep George from calling that she couldn’t remember her own number and this is not the first time George has published her (assumed) number to his mailing list, or worldwide, which ever came first.

SHARI YOUNT “NEVER” SUED EKKERS OR THE PHOENIX INSTITUTE FOR ANYTHING. MOREOVER, HER ATTORNEY WOULD NOT EVEN RETURN THE PI COUNSEL’S CALLS.

Now, people, if you want to add all this up as best you can—MR. GREEN KEEPS HIS RECORD OF LYING ABOUT EVERYTHING! Shari would be in her 90s now and to print her phone number is just about as low as any viper can crawl—in my opinion. I do suggest, however, that you call it if you wish to see if George is not telling the truth (his words). Strange way to work: that sentence as is all nicely capitalized for emphasis.

Shari asked us not to call either and these hounds have “used” her ever since. We have honored that because she has refused our calls, faxes and correspondence.

The judge, in court with Tuten present along with George Green who had brought Betty to the court, told them to get those original corporate records back, turn them over to Mr. Ekker and give Mrs. Yount copies if she wanted them. We have duplicate records because there was never anything forthcoming. Fortunately, everything was duplicated at the corporation agency because of all the harangue. They were holding all the corporation records in separate files.

The location of those corporation records are checked out often to make sure another big shift hasn’t overcome good sanity judgment.

Now, if you want to calculate further as to possible damages—try to guess what all was LOST to PI through the loss of meeting the “call” on gold, legal costs and pure harassment which is still ongoing preventing any kind of management of the Institute.

Mr. Green called it “forced liquidation”. That would certainly be interesting if there ever was or could be $10,000,000 floating around packed in our luggage waiting take off for Puerto Rico or Costa Rica or wherever. Mr.

Ence claimed he saw it all packed up in EKKERS’ HOUSE CRAWL SPACE (???) and they were going to CHILI with it. Now, somebody tell me why or how Mr. Ence would be UNDER Ekkers’ house crawling around at any time? We do know that Mr. Ence DID take cash funds out of Mr. Ekker’s office on the ground floor of that house—perhaps he crawled around as well with the other rats under the floor. If he found anything packed, it would have been those size 8-10 clothes I outgrew 20 years ago and still under the house unpacked from the move from Los Angeles.

Anyway, the Betty Tuten statement is a lie and the “Sherri” Yount tale is a lie. I wouldn’t correct them for the nerdnik if I could.

Moving on:

G: Desiree and I advanced to the Ekkers over $100,000, we also paid for everything else, along with the publishing of all the plegarized [Do you suppose he actually MEANT “plagiarized”? This is a famous publisher, you know.] books.

D: George Green never advanced Ekkers ANYTHING except headaches. He personally borrowed $150,000 from PI and the notes stood as valid in COURT. I repeat, he never “gave” anything to Ekkers except possibly a couple of lunches and an invitation to his “crew” at the Bear Valley Country Club. He has never paid one cent on those, either. He took with him to Nevada the paper’s subscription funds, the gold, and gave away computers to Dr. Coleman, etc., all belonging to PI. He even took Dr. Coleman’s book and didn’t even give Coleman “author’s copies”. Well, we had to pay for all prints, also, so what’s new? Coleman suffered more indignities, I would guess, for he personally transferred to Carson City WITH Greens.

One would ask logically: “What ‘plegarized’ books?” You might assume that to be the information referring to the University of Science and Philosophy over the use of some of Dr. Russell’s “light” information. GEORGE GREEN was named in that lawsuit by US&P—FIRST. The books were never questioned as they were put on hold by the court. There was never a trial. George had done something to somehow get US&P to actually represent him—and he never went to court at all. We were ordered to not use the books until trial and we didn’t. There were only four books that had any problems AT ALL and simply by removing references to anything regarding Dr. Russell, they were released. George tried and probably did get them released to him—it was all worked out by attorneys, including our own. Thank you, Rick—Martin got that little snitch stopped and our attorney was caught in the middle with too long a tale to even wish to approach at this time.

We simply corrected the five books and published them by leaving out all references to any such Russell information. Four were left to be BURNED by US&P. There was NEVER a hearing (trial) on the matter. George had settled and the Magistrate advised us to drop the proceedings because it didn’t longer matter and was getting outrageously expensive. We did so. There then followed harassment of need to go to Fresno for financial hearings, etc. They never found or produced a thing.

However, there apparently was some information in our CONTACT reflective of something from US&P (we never knew what) that was reported to US&P’s LAWYERS that somehow seemed to indicate contempt of court. So, came a demand regarding Contempt of the JUDGE and Reason to Show Cause why Ekkers shouldn’t be tried as Criminals. Well the Judge held the hearing on schedule and pointed out to those US&P lawyers why a Criminal case would be highly unwise and suggested that Ekkers shouldn’t allow Mr. Young to print any further information on the subject.

The wonderful thing is that those books contradicted the information but finished the theories of said Dr. Walter Russell—but withheld the final keys necessary to accomplish anything useful.

We certainly did use Russell’s drawings because I can’t draw a straight line—even a well-curved line. I know—I tried. A South African, Tom Astley, however, could present breathtaking illustrations and understood the entire presentation—actually from my (so-called) writings. The world has yet to be able to get that incredible information. Furthermore, Mr. Bellringer of infamous Internet use, put those “banned” Journals on the Internet. He had something to do with Green and then with Ed Young/Rick Martin. In addition, Dr. Overholt was supplying him with ALL the Journals to be posted free of charge to whomever wanted to take them off. No wonder we never got anywhere no matter how hard we paddled this peddle boat.

Dr. Overholt is still holding some of our books ready for publication until we pay him ransom money. Fine, I guess with 300 books, we can wait a while longer.

Ah, but get the next. Please pay close attention to THIS bouncing ball:

G: WE SETTLED A LAW SUIT WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF SCIENCE, WHEREBY WE AGREED THAT 9 OF THE “:PHOENIX BOOKS” WE(sic) TAKEN WORD FOR WORD FROM THEIR BOOKS. DORIS EKKER COPIED “WORD FOR WORD” NEARLY ALL OF THE BOOKS AND WE THEN FOUND OUT ABOUT THEIR SCAM IN DETAIL. (Capital emphasis mine.)

D: “We” settled NOTHING! NOTHING EVER! What can he mean that “We settled a law suit with the University of Science, whereby we agreed that 9 of the “Phoenix Books” we (sic) taken word for word from their books.”? This can only mean that George Green made some kind of a bargain with US&P—which finally comes out. “Nine” books were never really in question—only four, and they could have been repaired suitably.

However, this man Green would even supply books from authors and get permission to use their work. He did this with such as Mullins, Dr. Anderson and many others. Commander always backs up his presentations as closely as possible to that which is already in press—to honor those writers and correct errors or simply say “pay attention”. Isn’t that what a publisher is for? Let us consider that THIS particular publisher and distributor was using us upon which to base his business and seminar circuit while we were getting nothing but, again, that proverbial work and headache. And, at this moment, a bad backache. No wonder George Green nor Desiree ever showed their faces in court—even though the courtroom was full. (TO IDENTIFY THE REAL G.G., CHECK WITH THE REAL AUTHOR OF IMMACULATE DECEPTION and inquire how much he paid G.G. for which he got, like Dr. John Coleman, nothing.)

George’s lawyers referred to us as a cult who somehow got all our advice from extraterrestrials and you name it. Everyone was in stitches, including me, by the time the “hearing” was over and the blood stopped dripping from our bodies.

IT JUST HAPPENED TO BE FIRST HEARD ON THE DAY, APRIL 19TH, THAT WACO’S INCIDENT OF BURNING OUT THE DAVIDIANS HAPPENED.

The next “contempt” hearing really probably should have gotten me cited because I stood right up there and reminded the Judge of that little coincidence. The Judge just politely nodded and noted he “had forgotten that”. We hadn’t even gotten to Heaven’s Gate at that time.

Now, how many of you think it coincidental that the case of the Federal Raids on Tehachapi places was placed in THAT particular Federal Court? Again Ekkers were personally NAMED—but Ekkers had NOTHING WHATSOEVER to do with ANYTHING about the case. George later backs that up, as you have seen. Perhaps that is why it has not been brought up again since last December and now a year has elapsed. People, you finally get tired of crying and finally just “get tired”.

“Scam”? Whose scam? I believe we know WHO! Furthermore, until this minute, it hasn’t stopped. Green still does seminars on the circuit trails—and THAT is exactly what is wrong in America!

Next it gets even better:

G: Ask Rick Martin, even he who had over $250,000 of our books, which we shipped to him, said he gave all the money to the Ekkers.. We have spent and lost over a million dollars over these “people” who have judgments against them, the federal government after them, and lots of attorneys representing others.

D: Well, for one thing, I am appalled that this man presents himself as a PUBLISHER-EDITOR. There aren’t any such things as “attornies”; attorneys are different, they don’t have to get an “ies” on the end, unless they have made a NEW law.

I concur: ASK RICK. We don’t have an address or phone number for Rick Martin-Cortright. But, if he has $250,000 of PI money, we certainly do need to know, don’t we? Well, we are sure he doesn’t—for we were all getting along very well at the time referenced by Mr. Green. (Besides, we know G.G. shipped nothing to Rick; they left some 7000+/- volumes of the “banned books” for Rick to sell—another clever ploy.)

G: If you think that the Ekkers are so wonderful, then get in your plane and head to the Philippines and be with them.

E: Wow, Mr. Tomlyn never referred to “Ekkers”. And, George, you don’t spell Philippines with two “lls”. A world traveler and publisher should know as much. I personally don’t know Mr. Tomlyn, although I do believe we have met him—even when George Green was probably in charge in Tehachapi. Fine, I’m sure we would enjoy his company.

G: PS. I never lent [possibly “loaned”?] the federal reserve money, but did give back an extra million they wire transferred to my account by mistake.

D: George Green GAVE BACK “an extra million”? Say what? And just WHY might the Federal Reserve be putting ANYTHING in Mr. Green’s accounts, much less so carelessly over-depositing a paltry sum like a million dollars? Well, Green being so honest and all—“gave it back”. Are you kidding me? He claimed to be a close working friend of Paul Volcker who preceded Alan Greenspan to the throne of the Fed. He also produced an alumni list to show us that George was an alumni member of the “Intelligence” service which George actually found amusing. We were too naive to even find it amusing. I loved, and probably still do, the CIA, et al. We have been accused of being with the CIA—but that was ignorant to begin with and they, if it be so, are the worst paying bunch of problems on the globe. Over here in the Philippines if you are “White” you are automatically in the CIA. I hope so. Perhaps they will continue to LEAVE US ALONE while we get our project functional. We would be happy to share with the CIA and, indeed, our homeland, the United States of America.

At this time, however, Mr. Tomlyn, this is NOT the prize location on the globe and I doubt you would love it much—YET. We will get “there”, though, and it will become paradise, I’m sure.

George gets emphatic next:

G: LESSON OF DISCERNMENT. ALL OF THE EKKERS BOOKS WERE TAKEN FROM OTHER SOURCES..

D: Sure, I guess by now he has read and memorized all 300 of them? I can’t remember them but surely Green can with the accuracy of his acute mind.

G: ie plagerized. They are the lie.. suggest you call David Horton 775-883-1966 and ask what they are and what the truth is. They certainly know what they are doing!!and you are asleep by your own words—Original Message—

D: Who is “they”? Call Dave Horton about “they”? Well, do so, readers. Mr. Horton is in very grave danger of being called before the BAR to consider his license suspension. This is thanks to George Green who, I would also guess, has not paid Mr. Horton or Abbott for all the services which are about to cost them dearly in reputation. They have already been sanctioned by the Supreme Court for frivolous suits and they are on appeal again, so go for it, George.

I cannot tell if the books are supposed to be the lie or if Ekkers are “the lie” referenced. If the books were ALL taken from other sources, could it all be a “lie”? If it be Ekkers in point, will it be George Green’s personal attorney, who met me, Doris, in deposition with “Greetings Commander”? This wondrous attorney then went on after Doris walked out of the room after the second “Greetings Commander” and after presenting my Doris Ekker identification and was the one summoned to the deposition. Doris agreed to return at PI’s request to be deposed the next day and after the Judge had warned Horton to have “respect”. He then gave a date that Doris and Commander were on his radio program. That poor man gave, repeat about three times, even the WRONG YEAR. George Green’s little partner in crime, “Williams” with a pen name of “Webber”, was present and disappeared at first chance to escape. It was impossible to even consider what that might have had to do with ANYTHING in the case itself. Well, as an answer: NOTHING.

Mr. Abbott laughed (it was in his office) and apologized about not having had time to raise the ceiling or enlarge the doors for our visit. All the while Abbott was getting so snookered he finally made a scene, insulted the clerk taking records, and it was something of a scene from Hell on a cool day.

Abbott extolled about the birds in Carson City and interrupted Mr. Horton, who was slow enough, and caused us to all look at said birds. Then he expounded on what would happen to the area in which we were sitting if the earthquake would hit. All the while Mr. Fort was being charged for those services—as was the Phoenix Institute and attorneys. Attorneys can now keep depositions going for endless DAYS, WEEKS, MONTHS and, yes, YEARS.

One attorney, Mr. Steven Horn, even asked, for two days, such questions of E.J. as “Can you remember your first wife’s name and birthday?” Then, can you remember your children’s birthday?

When it got to be my turn he asked my phone number and no matter how I tried to remember it—it got further away and I finally came up with my address numbers. So I flunked “memory”. I couldn’t give the NUMBER of the road from Tehachapi to Bakersfield either—and it is the only highway to and from. Neither could I remember more than two or three of my thirteen book titles and there was no cheating allowed, although the books were right there stacked on the table.

Does the judicial system need attention? I would guess so! But you go on and ask David Horton for his opinion and, please, be sure and tell us the result.

We respected David Horton at one time because the WISCONSIN (something) referred to him as “The Constitutional Attorney”. Oh, toss the cookies!

This man claimed in court (you see, we always went to court) in Nevada that he had filed papers on a case—WHICH HAD NOT BEEN FILED AND THE JUDGE KNEW IT. The Judge nailed him but let him off the hook because he looked so stupid while blaming the court staff for improper handling—“maybe”. NEVER, NEVER, NEVER WAS GEORGE PRESENT IN THE US&P NON-CASE AND MOSTLY NEVER SHOWED UP UNLESS “ORDERED” AND NOT ALWAYS EVEN THEN. SOMETIMES HIS LAWYERS DIDN’T SHOW UP EITHER—OH, SMILE, WEARY TRAVELERS.

The first year in the churn Desiree sent me Mother’s Day flowers. For the life of me I don’t know where she fits. I am sure that Desiree presented some exceptional writings. We heard at one time that she had left George but we have no idea. She NEVER came to any court hearings of any kind, even if she was named. She was in deposition one time and about gave away the farm, so George didn’t ever let that happen again.

Well, Lance, I could go on for another 900 pages and still not tell it all—and you know what? I do wish he was a receiver for the “Galactic” energies and perhaps they would “recall” him as defective equipment. It seems lots of people want this job—except ME. Since we have been in Manila, in fact, an OLD FRIEND not having been heard from in YEARS, wrote that she had accepted the (my) job. Oh, well, there was the “boss” that very day nagging to get on the keyboard.

I wish I could take credit for all this work—but like several have said about and to me prior to now: “I just don’t believe you are THAT smart, intelligent as you may be.” I join THAT crowd. I just want to go home (if I had a home) and hug my grandbabies and kids—along with the friends we so dearly, dearly miss and continue to carry this game, literally. But, we are in Manila with our colleagues headed for Papua New Guinea and parts Indonesian and Malaysian—and I still just want to come home.

I can’t even begin to tell you how LITTLE we even think of such as George Green or his escapades. We just know we will make good whatever developed there from those escapades ASAP. But it will not be in such a way as to be snatched by those criminals. Those insipid clowns made Dave Overton, one of the dearest men I have ever encountered, a laughing stock of the court and papers in his home town of Austin. For goodness sakes, Dave was a Professor of Mathematics at the University of Texas and they made him appear the total fool. THIS IS NOT A NICE WORLD!

God bless and keep us all—we certainly need it.

E.J. can add whatever he pleases. There is plenty left unsaid but he is BUSY and his “busy” is IMPORTANT. I was asked to respond, and so I have.

Doris J. Ekker. The J stands for my maiden name; Jones, not Jesus as Mr. Abbott might infer. Dharma is code-name for “typist” which of course must somehow be “top secret”. [E.J.: We all know that is a crock—it means Bringer of Life Truth—and probably lots of other wondrous things. I should know. She is the best wife, companion, partner, and friend any man (male of her opposite sex) could possibly ask for.]

RE: U.S. INDEPENDENCE DAY; DR. MAHATHIR SPEECH OF 4-5-01

UN CELEBRATION OF "INDEPENDENCE"

Why don't we just celebrate whatever the Fourth of July might mean to YOU? It certainly does NOT MEAN "independence" from England nor the World Order. Enjoy your flags and sparklers, hotdogs and apple pie—but "independence" and "freedom" are relative terms of which neither fits circumstances. It seems appropriate, however, to renew patriotism and look carefully at "blessings".

Years ago in one of Germain's writings on patriotism given on the Fourth of July, he said it all—perhaps that should be resurrected. May God still find it worthy to Bless America, for it was established to represent a light unto the world. Have you kept the lamp-globe polished or it is covered with soot so that the light can't go forth?

Some of us are polishing as hard and fast as we can but FREEDOM requires us ALL.

We pick no RELIGION as such. We do, however, reject and disdain evil and, therefore, revere goodness. Sort the possibilities for yourself, please.

It seems quite appropriate for us to set an example of leadership which sets a worthy standard for people or nations—and I am indebted to R.S. for acquiring the full text which we will offer. It is a speech by Dr. Mahathir Bin Mohamad of Malaysia.

Is he or we, Muslim? Are we Christian? Are we Catholic? Are we "Indigenous" (whatever that might mean but usually classified by the "above reproach" evangelists as "pagan")? By the way, IF YOU BELIEVE IN GOD, YOU CERTAINLY DO BELIEVE IN EXTRATERRESTRIALS, FOR SPIRIT WITHIN GOD IS NOT A TERRESTRIAL "THING" OR "BEING"—IT IS TOTALLY RELATED TO SPIRIT-SOUL.

If you can't quite believe that this is truthfully presented, I suggest you get your own copy from: Embassy of Malaysia, 2401 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008. Identification follows:

[QUOTING: DATO SERI DR. MAHATHIR BIN MOHAMAD, JW Marriott Hotel, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, 04-05-2001 before THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE WORLD EVANGELICAL FELLOWSHIP:]

[H: This is offered graciously with numbered paragraphs which serve immediately well for referenced discussions. God has certainly blessed Malaysia by having leadership strong enough to stand strong and build the nation rather than allow it to be destroyed in corruption.]

I wish to thank the World Evangelical Fellowship for inviting me to share my thoughts with participants at this General Assembly of the World Evangelical Fellowship today.

2. Religion should be viewed as a way of life envisioning, as its ultimate goal, the day when all men can live together in perfect understanding and peace. Historically, the beginnings of a religion are characterised by the proclamation of positive truth in a flush of enthusiasm. After the period of first exuberance, however, there may be long centuries when men have to practise their religion without anything comparable to the initial exhilaration. Thus, even though there is no doubt that many great religions have nurtured and shaped the concerns and commitments of their adherents, nevertheless as humans they can, and sometimes do, direct their faith or religious commitments toward what is not truly the teachings of the religion.

3. Hence, it is not surprising to find history being replete with instances of religious conflicts, coercion, persecution and intolerance even among co-religionists, more so of course against those of other faiths! The highlights are well known to all of us: the struggle over monotheism in ancient Egypt; the bloody suppression of the idolaters in Israel; the trial and execution of Socrates; the killing of alleged heretics by Christians; periodic pogroms against Jews; the Inquisition; the vicious bloodletting of the religious wars between Protestants and Catholics; and so on. In Islam too there have been many so-called 'jihad' against fellow Muslims and persecution of Christians and Jews in their societies. During much of these the true teachings of Islam were ignored or deliberately misinterpreted, as when some Muslims declare other Muslims as apostates and infidels in order to justify their wars against these people.

4. Consequently, there have been numerous accusations by those who are against religion, that it is the source of conflicts, persecutions and injustices. It is also said to be the opium of life. In a way, a look at the historical facts and evidence will tell us that some of these charges appear to be justifiable. They are in fact difficult to deny. But it is questionable whether they are really due to the true teachings of the religions.

5. Before the rise of the Roman Empire, religious intolerance was the rule rather than exception within their society. Each tribe living within the Empire had its own Gods or Goddesses who watched over its members and governed the area. A person joining the tribe is forced to accept its deities wholeheartedly. The ancient Israelites are known to have committed vicious genocides against neighbouring tribes partly at least due to religious differences.

6. When Christianity was adopted as the religion of the Roman Empire in the late 4th Century, instead of tolerance, more intolerance set in. Pagan temples were confiscated, and their priests and priestesses were either persecuted or massacred. Jews in particular were senselessly persecuted as they were blamed for the betrayal and crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Breakaway Christian movements, including the Protestants and the Huguenots, were hounded and forced into exile by the Catholics. In turn the Protestants were intolerant of the Catholics and others and would periodically burn so-called witches.

7. Then there were the Christian-Muslim warring encounters. These prolonged and violent Crusades resulted in the deaths of hundreds of thousands of Muslims and Christians. The Crusades were justified on the grounds that the primary aim was to make it possible for Christians to go on pilgrimage to the Holy Land without threat.

8. Although the Crusades had no lasting effect in the Islamic world, where they were seen as mere routine frontier skirmishes of two opposing armies, the conflict influenced Christian perceptions of Muslims to this day. That Christians had lived among Muslims in the land holy to both religions was ignored. These Christians were actually slaughtered along with the Muslims because they dress in the same way as the Muslims. And so whole populations of the towns of Palestine were put to the sword. Forty thousand were slaughtered in Jerusalem alone.

9. When the Europeans colonised North America, Africa, South and East Asia and Australia, millions of natives were killed through wars or pure genocide because their heathen lives were not regarded as worth preserving. Forced conversions on pain of death were practised especially where the Spaniards and the Portuguese established their colonies. In the process the locals became so divided that they would war against each other to this day. This is what we are seeing in the Philippines and Indonesia and elsewhere.

10. In the 20th Century, inter- as well as intra-religious conflicts continue to afflict societies. These include: the stand-off between the Roman Catholics and Protestants in Northern Ireland that has resulted in thousands of deaths among followers of each denomination, the Iran-Iraq war of the 1980s leading to uncountable losses of lives and destruction of properties, the genocide of 200,000 Muslims by Serbian Orthodox Christians in Kosovo, Bosnia and Serbia, and the tragic and cruel killings of Muslims by Muslims in Algeria. In Palestine the cruel killings are going on. The world stood by and hardly raised a finger to stop these modern-day barbarisms.

11. Notwithstanding the above, the history of inter-religious relations is also full of anecdotes of cordial interactions between Christians and Muslims. In fact this started as early as the time when Muhammad was appointed Prophet.

[H: STOP RIGHT HERE, PLEASE. UNDERSTAND WHAT THAT SAID: "... WHEN MUHAMMAD WAS APPOINTED 'PROPHET'". IT DOES NOT SAY "GOD"—AND IT DOESN'T SAY ALLAH. IT SAYS "PROPHET" AND WHEN YOU PEOPLE LEARN THE DIFFERENCE, YOU MAY WELL ACTUALLY GET YOUR OWN SOULS INTO BETTER BALANCE.]

A Christian, Waraqa ibn Nawfal was reported to have reassured Muhammad that his traumatic experience in the cave on Mount Hira in 610 C.E. was a genuine call to prophet hood. Then the first group of Muslim emigrants sought asylum in the Christian kingdom of Abyssinia. The ruler Negus wept when he heard Jaafar ibni Abi Talib reciting verses of the Quran about Jesus. He then exclaimed that, "The difference between you Muslims and us Christians is just this line"—(which he drew in the sand with his walking stick).

12. It is also narrated that when the Christian delegation from Najran came to see the Prophet Muhammad around 628 C.E., they were offered to say their prayers at the mosque of the city. Why did the Prophet open the doors of the Medina mosque for the visitors? He opened them for the sons of his brother Isa or Jesus Christ.

13. Intolerance breeds injustice. Injustice invariably leads to rebellion and retaliation, and these will lead to escalation on the part of both, making reconciliation almost impossible. It would appear that during times of stress, despair and frustration, people become increasingly irrational, and they do things which they never think they are capable of. And so we see hideous brutality perpetrated by the most gentle people.

14. Once started, religious strife has a tendency to go on and on, to become permanent feuds. The situation is not unlike the tribal feuds which existed among the ignorant pre-Islamic Arab tribes of the Arabian Peninsula. Today we see such intractable inter-religious wars in Northern Ireland, between Jews and Muslims and Christians in Palestine, Hindus and Muslims in South Asia and in many other places. Attempts to bring about peace have failed again and again. Always the extremist elements invoking past injustices, imagined or real, will succeed in torpedoing the peace efforts and bringing about another bout of hostility.

15. Perhaps religion and deep faith makes it impossible for enmity between people of different religious faith to become reconciled. It is because of this that some advocate abandoning religions and faith in God. Many now openly question the existence or relevance of God. They claim that the world would be better if there are no religions, no belief in God. The question that must be asked is whether the fault lies with the religions or is it with the people practising the religions?

16. Even a casual examination will reveal that the adherents of most religions have deviated from the original teachings. Some have become extreme and fanatical and it is these people who give religions not only a bad image but actually cause religions to deliver the opposite results from what were originally promised. And these people are so seemingly religious that few dared to go against them for fear of being declared heretics. And so we find the simple teachings of the Prophets becoming quite different from the religions that we practise now.

17. The Quran says, “You faithful Muslims, do as we have recommended and what was recommended to Abraham, Moses and Jesus: unite in faith and do not separate.” Unfortunately we find the followers of the same religion divided into numerous sects and denominations. Is this what was taught by our religions? Religion should unite not only people of the same faith, but all of humanity, whether they are of the same faith or not. Religion should make people in the East brothers to the people in the West; a White man brother to the Black man; it should make the believers merciful and kind to all human beings, even if that person subscribes to a different faith.

18. It is narrated that once when the Prophet Muhammad was distributing alms to the poor, an idol-worshipper asked for his share. Muhammad said to him, “You are not of my religion, so I won’t help you.” So the poor man went away feeling very sad. At that very moment the angel Gabriel came down from heaven with an urgent message for Prophet Muhammad, which said, you do not have to lead them all to your faith. That is, you, Muhammad is not responsible for the religious beliefs of all people, but for assisting them regardless of their religion. You have to inform them, but whether they follow or not is for God to determine. God shows the right way to whomever He wants.

19. After the Prophet received the angel’s words, he said “Send the man back to me.” He gave the man what he needed and never again did he refuse to help anyone in need, regardless of religion. God says, “What you give others is for your own good.” It is as if humanity is made of one soul, so if the rich man helps the poor man, it is as if he were helping himself. Muhammad like other messengers of God, was human and human beings make mistakes. But God corrects them.

20. The edicts of God the Creator have been brought down from heaven through the Prophets. They are not only aimed at making peace among people but to encourage them to join hands in brotherhood. Until mankind returns to the true teachings, we will never be able to eradicate intolerance. If intolerance is allowed to spread unabated, then it will spell disaster for mankind. Today we talk about human rights as if we have just realised it. But our religions have promoted human rights thousands of years ago. It is because we have forsaken the teachings of our religion that we now have to rediscover human rights.

21. No one can be held responsible for acts committed by his ancestors. Yet most of us are still fighting each other because in the distant past our ancestors had fought. Because 500 years ago the Turks massacred the Serbs, today the Serbs are still bent on revenge seeking to kill Muslims in Bosnia and Kosovo because of what happened 500 years ago.

22. We are now at the beginning of a new century. It is a good time to resolve to break away from the tragedies of the past and to build on the realities of the present.

23. We now know what the 20th Century has brought us. We had welcomed free trade and liberalism in the hope that capital will be invested more widely and so help spread wealth throughout the world. Capitalism was rather subdued in the days of Socialism and Communism. The Capitalists showed their friendliest face in order to survive and defeat Communism and Socialism.

24. Now the Socialists and Communists are no more. Capitalism is the winner. The option to defect is gone and Capitalism need no longer be friendly. Greed now rules, unabashed greed, Greed with a capital G. Anything done in order to amass more wealth is legitimate and honourable. Why should anything stand in the way of unlimited acquisitiveness?

25. Perhaps the only hope lies in religion, in the true teachings and not the corrupted teachings. God had always sent Prophets to guide man whenever they strayed away from the right path and suffer as a consequence. We have a need now to return to religion as we face the new culture of greed which is tending to destroy us. It should not be just a renewal of faith but a return to the guiding principles of religion which has always condemned greed.

26. The world, through a combination of God-given resources and human ingenuity in terms of technology has never been so rich as it is now. There really is no need for anyone to take everything for himself in order to be rich. There is enough for all of us to share. Poverty in this day and age is indefensible and a disgrace for the level of civilisation that humans have achieved. No one should be poor if those of us who are not religious are not so greedy. Certainly the rich must not steal from the poor to further enrich themselves. Giving away a fraction of that stolen money as charity cannot be described as philanthropic.

27. In multi-racial, multi-cultural Malaysia it is also worthwhile for religious leaders to revisit their roles as we move into a new era in the development of society. The greatest contribution they can make is in promoting tolerance among their followers. For example, major religions uphold good neighbourliness and the honoring of family ties. These noble values should be given a strong emphasis in all activities organised by the religious body.

28. Religious leaders may also wish to consider setting up inter-religious working groups at the various levels of the community. These can work to improve mutual understanding, adopting best-practice models from successful experiments where effective local and national mechanisms have been established for inter-communal communication, awareness and acceptance of the undertakings made when one is converting to another religion for whatever reason. Sensitivity to the beliefs of others must prevail. Islam makes it clear that we must accept that others will believe in their own beliefs, worship in their own way. To them their religions, to the Muslims theirs. Just as Muslims must accept the other rights to their own faith, others too must accept and respect the rights of Muslims as Muslims.

29. This is in line with verse 48 of Surah Al-Ma’idah of the Holy Quran translated thus, “To thee (O Muhammad) We sent the scripture in truth, confirming the scripture that came before it, and guarding it in safety. So judge between them by what God has revealed, and follow not their vain desires, diverging from the truth that has come to thee. To each among you, We have prescribed a set of rules of practical conduct and a spiritual way and an open way. If Allah had so willed, He would have made you a single people, but His plan is to test you in what He has given you, so strive as in a race in all virtues. The goal of you all is to Allah; it is He that will show you the truth of the matters in which you dispute.”

30. The young generation should be the target of a consistent effort to protect and preserve religious tolerance. Young children are usually free of biases and prejudices. Pupils at the kindergarten level have no qualms about studying and playing together. They often walk hand in hand without the slightest feeling of distrust and insecurity. They provide the best example of tolerance and peaceful co-existence.

31. However, more often than not this splendid and cordial relationship will cool off as they grow up. Parental input and other environmental influences may start to shape their minds. And this will result in prejudices they had not known before. The relevant religious authorities should look into ways of halting the loosening of the bondage of friendship of these young children. They can be made known of each other’s similarities and differences, as far as religion is concerned. And it must be impressed on them that if they could respect one another, then living together as a community, even while professing different faiths, would not be an impossible task at all.

32. The other vital role of religion in this post-modern age is ensuring harmony in society by not knowingly and blatantly sowing the seed of discord. It is true that it is the nature of some religious denominations that propagation of their faith is obligatory. But we should be careful that we don’t propagate religions at the cost of conflicts and violence. Such conflicts can only bring about an environment where religions cannot thrive.

33. We must be careful when undertaking matters involving religion. The sensitivity of others of different religious prescriptions must be given due considerations.

34. Let us hope that the 21st Century will once again give religions a role in the life of mankind, a role which can be good and constructive, provided we do not deviate from the teachings in our attempts to establish the righteousness of our own faiths.

[END OF QUOTING]

This is being offered on this the Fourth of July celebration in the United States of America, one nation MEANT to be “under God” WITH LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR “ALL”.

When you-the-people of the human species get it together in honor and respect for one another and your planet, perhaps Creator will be able to say unto us: “Well done my good and faithful—children.” God has and shall always SERVE US and please don’t forget it.

Au da pau da cum... hATONn

Please feel free to call me Hatonn—or, yes, indeed, “Old Dad” will do very well also. Old Prophets never die, they just keep coming on back, and back and back—always a little harder!

TRYING TO DECIPHER THE MANIPULATION MECHANISM

By "alpinegb", gold-eagle.com, 6/13/01

I am a lurker who occasionally posts. GOLD-EAGLE, a really outstanding site, and this forum have greatly contributed to extend my knowledge of the gold market and its ramifications—and I wish to thank all the site participants and share my observations as a small contribution. Thank you, Dr. Vronsky and your colleagues for letting free access to your site to the entire planet, for providing a space of truth to counter the misinformation of the jungle of rigged financial markets and for having created a meeting point of great quality to the world gold bugs.

In former posts, I tried to explain my vision of the massive devaluation of monies taking place presently, i.e. devaluation against gold as in the early 1930s. A recent trip to the U.S. provided the missing piece of the puzzle, especially the reason of the high and abnormal value of the U.S. Dollar versus the Euro. I gather from reading various posts that it is widely believed the Euro is a weak currency and will remain as such as long as Europe will be burdened by its social heavy mechanisms. For my part, I believe this is of little effect and an almost equal parity, or a parity slightly in favor of the Euro, has already been decided or decreed by the CBs in spite of the differences of economies. The present wide disparity is, I believe, part of the devaluation scheme and of the present and temporary gold price suppression.

For all of us gold bugs it is obvious that there is a gold manipulation. Did it ever occur to you that there is also a currency manipulation? Probably not, as the amount of money involved in daily exchanges is by far too large to permit such a manipulation; this is what a banker recently told me. Think twice and make a simple calculation: Divide the present Euro price of an ounce of gold by its price in U.S. dollars and you get the exact rate of exchange!! Example as per Kitco.com on June 8, 2001: Euro 313.85 divided by US $ 266.70 = 1.1742

You can do that every day and you will obtain the Euro daily exchange rate against the U.S. dollar showing on all money sites. Now, if you believe in the gold manipulation, this small demonstration proving the gold connection to the mentioned currencies should lead you to think that currencies are also manipulated.

Why is the U.S. dollar so over valued? Here is my explanation following observations made during my recent U.S. visit. Having not been there for 18 months, I could not believe the level of inflation reached in the meantime. Gas I used to pay $1.35 was at $1.899, a tunnel fee that was $1.50 is now $2.00 and the same price increases were valid for groceries, restaurants and hotels. The price difference between my visits only 18 months apart must be around 25-30%. This prompted me to include this data in my TA.

For memory, I should point out that when the Euro bottomed at 1.2230 against the U.S. dollar on October 26, 2000 the gold price was at U.S. $266.00. Everyone noticed that when the gold price goes "astray" it is soon pulled back to U.S. $266.00—which happens to be the point of convergence of gold with regard to currencies involved in the mentioned massive devaluation. It was there last week and the Euro/Dollar rate happened to make a double top, closing slightly over 1.19—and it seems now to be heading down again. Does that explain the recent spike in gold? In my opinion it could; here is why:

If we admit that parity or a small advantage to the Euro has been decreed, the gold price for both should be close or almost the same. Last week the Euro was devaluated by 27 % against its lowest gold price (Euro 246), which means it has already been devaluated by that amount. The U.S. dollar instead was overvalued by approximately 19% against the Euro and devalued around 6% to gold's lowest price ($252) giving a total of inflation of 19 + 6 that is 25%.

At this point, the Euro zone has already registered a de facto devaluation or inflation of 27% and the U.S. dollar is overvalued by approximately 25%—but its hidden or unrecognized inflation is 25-30% as per my observations during my recent trip. Therefore, both have almost the same inflation, but since the gold price is in U.S. dollars, a move by the latter affects both currencies in opposite directions. In other words, when the U.S.-dollar gold price increases, the U.S. dollar devalues and the Euro revalues. In the end, that is when both currencies reach equilibrium, the gold price will be at U.S. $332-333 and the devaluation cycle will be completed, that is equal to a 55-60% devaluation against gold. Both currencies seem now ready for this convergence.

In my humble opinion, the gold bugs live the last moments of truth with regard to this massive devaluation—and it might be the deadline for the one occasion in a lifetime. Please weigh these observations, but do not take this as an investment suggestion.

Would Mr. Greenspan and his peers be tempted to decree a new gold price equal to U.S. $332-333 per ounce before letting things go out of hands, that is when the street man discovers the gold/currencies manipulation scheme? The open positions of the BB must be covered to this level by now. This decree could happen for example on a Sunday; the manipulation is obvious and has been revealed anyway, so another bit of the same medicine will not alter the picture much more! The World Gold Counsel could probably help the man on the street understand the sudden revival of demand brought by new fashionable gold jewelry! I hope I don't give the cabal an idea.

GOLDENBAR BRIEFS

By Edmond J. Bugos, gold-eagle.com, 6/14/01

GOLD PRICES READY TO SOAR

Despite the year's heavy-handed dollar-induced commodity deflation, gold prices have been acting generally well. Copper prices, however, broke down from a broadening pattern of prices late last week, on a rise in open interest, indicating aggressive short sellers were at work. Yet gold prices were able to rally with equal intensity, indicating to us the possibility that dollar bulls (commodity bears) cashed in their gold shorts in favor of the weaker industrial metal.

Having said that, we need to remain vigilant about if and when Phelps Dodge will cut production? Perhaps as soon as their energy costs rise again... which frankly, might be as early as this week. Furthermore, the U.S. housing market is strong. Sales of new and existing homes in April totaled an annual rate of 6.1 million—just shy of the record pace of 6.2 million units set in the first quarter.

Additionally, some of the Agricultural commodities have been acting better over the past month or so, and today the U.S.D.A. (U.S. Department of Agriculture) reported several slight reductions in ending stocks estimates for 2001-2002. Cereal prices are trending, strongly, wheat prices have been more than just firm—and even the soybean markets look perky over the past few weeks. The Goldman Sachs Agricultural index reflects these bullish pressures. Weather conditions are expected to worsen in key parts of the United States this summer, and an increasing regulatory burden on farming in the U.S., particularly in California, has undoubtedly contributed as much as Fed policy has to the relative stickiness of prices regardless that dollar bulls literally step all over the other global currencies.

Gold prices will likely get some direction if our stock market outlook proves correct, but they will need a declining dollar to sustain.

It's Still a Bear Market

We have observed a series of short-term topping patterns in the popular averages: The S&P 500 may be developing a 6-week head & shoulders, with support at 1233 in the cash market. The NASDAQ and AMEX reveal similar patterns, but could be interpreted as triple tops. The NYSE composite index, on the other hand, has today traded through support at roughly 635. The Dow transports have also broken down today. If the Dow Industrials fall below nearby support at 10700, we expect a sharp sell off. All of these markets are in a primary to intermediate bear market, so the surprise remains on the downside. Our call is for Dow 7000!

As the week unfolds, markets will reconcile their inflation expectations to that of the government's figures: import prices on Wednesday, the PPI on Thursday, and the CPI on Friday. Expectations are for the reported rates to come in slightly higher than last month. The surprise everywhere else (except for Japan) has been on the upside, so the risk is to the dollar, and financial assets, this week. We further expect that gold prices will soon factor in a new paradigm—referred to by Rob Weinberg, new head of institutional investment at the World Gold Council, in his speech at the council's 15th annual meeting in May—and that the fund buying, which has been oft cited of late, will continue to persist over the medium term:

World Investment Markets & Opportunities for Gold U.S. Dollar Losing Breadth

The Canadian Dollar has run off to make a higher high, and is leading the Aussie dollar now too, even as the trade-weighted dollar index runs off to yet another high. Dollar bulls are feeding off of the weak sentiment in the pound and euro at the moment. The euro is only approaching its October 2000 low against the dollar, but the pound is already off to new lows as the Conservatives have been fear mongering British Voters into forsaking the euro, in favor of the dollar.

In our opinion, the ECB cannot afford to see the euro break down, with inflation rates as high as they are right at the moment. We expect that they will act this month if the pressure on euro persists. Forex activity today may already be discounting that, as the euro was last seen up nearly ½ of a U.S. penny—though the rumors cited potential ECB intervention in the Forex market. Nonetheless, we fully expect that a rise in interest rates by the ECB will be good for the Euro as it just may invert the TED spread.

Dollar/Yen looks shaky. Weak economic reports out of Japan have put slight pressure on the Yen, but outperforming asset markets, particularly the JGBs, in Japan have mitigated that for now. Unless the Dollar can make a higher high against yen, the primary trend for dollar/yen is still down... believe it or not.

So while the dollar index storms onwards and upwards, we see that its breadth is contracting.

Dollar Baloney

Rising oil and gas inventories have enabled dollar bulls to pressure oil prices by playing off the rise as potential supply. We believe they have got it backwards. We see it as typical inflation-induced hoarding behavior. We are confirmed in our observation by the rise in long-term yields, across the board, and the decline in the yield on the inflation-indexed securities offered by the U.S. government.

Consequently, we are expecting the now oversold energy complex to come to life this summer as the effect of Fed policy grabs hold, and as the rise in inflation expectations resumes. This morning, the IEA (International Energy Agency) noted that a tight balance exists in oil markets, and called for higher prices. Brent Crude prices remain in a bullish divergence, indicating to us that declining U.S. commodity prices are really only due to one thing: an aggressive dollar policy.

Gold bulls know what that means! Every action has an equal and opposite reaction.

Good Luck,

Edmond J. Bugos, Editor—The Goldenbar Report

GOLD POTPOURRI

By Robert Chapman, gold-eagle.com, 6/19/01

Gold is now acting the way it used to act. The action is the best in years and professionals are well aware of the market changes. The gold manipulators are finally losing to the new Gold Syndicate. Strong hands are now committing themselves to the long side of the market. The specs are long, the commercials flat and volatility rules the day.

The South African government and the mining industry reached an agreement on private ownership of mineral rights. A new draft bill will stipulate objective criteria the minister will have to follow for allowing or refusing a license and will make explicit reference to companies' rights of appeal. A $100 million fund will be set up to support small Black mining companies and to finance acquisitions.

Resistance on the XAU is 62.58 with support at 55.00. The XAU is presently 60. A break over 62.58 would put gold at $325 to $338 an ounce.

For the first time in 25 years we are seeing real negative rates of return of minus 2 to 3%. This is the scenario we faced in 1976 just before the greatest bull run in gold, silver, platinum, palladium and diamonds, which brought great fortunes to those who had the foresight and guts to commit themselves to stocks and coins. The great bull market in precious metals has begun.

We are about to find out whether our system of government does in fact work for the people. The Reg Howe/GATA lawsuit representing the people will shortly either be accepted or rejected by a federal judge. We are very optimistic that the court will accept the suit. If so, we will then be able to pursue the manipulators of our markets, specifically the gold markets. The mad scheme will finally be uncovered, and their megalomania exposed. If we are denied due process, we must still pursue the manipulators and attempt to stop them. If we do not—and our financial system collapses—the backlash will be devastating to world society. We are about to find out whether we really have any say in government. Although the suit pertains to the gold market, there is no question almost all markets are being rigged in order to perpetuate a rotting world financial structure. We have in the past and will continue in the future to bring you intelligence that hopefully will allow you to protect your assets.

*Agnico-Eagle Mines Limited (AEM-NYSE)

For almost three decades, Agnico-Eagle has been mining gold in one of the world's most productive regions—the mineral-rich Cadillac Belt on the Canadian Shield—and establishing a solid reputation as experienced mine builders and low-cost producers who deliver what they promise. The future looks even brighter.

Agnico-Eagle is an established Canadian gold producer with operations located principally in Northwestern Quebec and exploration and development activities in Quebec, Ontario and Nevada. Agnico-Eagle's operating history includes almost three decades of continuous gold production primarily from underground mining operations. Current proven and probable reserves stand at 3.3 million contained ounces, with an additional 4.5 million ounces in the mineral resource category at its LaRonde Mine.

*Goldcorp (GC-NYSE) reports first quarter results, in line with Street expectations, costs at Red Lake average $54 an ounce. BMO Nesbitt Burns reiterates "outperform", and 12-month target price of $8.78. Canaccord maintaining, "market perform" and $7.80 target price. National Bank financial reiterates, "buy", no target price indicated. RBC Dominion is unchanged at "outperform", and has 1-year target price of $8.75. Research Capital continues, "buy" rating, with 12-month target price of U.S.$11.05. Scotia Capital maintains, "hold" rating, with 1-year target price of U.S.$8.45.

Today, I would like to discuss recent events in the over-the-counter ("OTC") derivatives markets and to share some thoughts about the appropriate role of regulation in responding to them. The events surrounding the financial difficulties of Long-Term Capital Management L.P. ("LTCM") raise a number of important issues relating to hedge funds and to the increasing use of OTC derivatives by those funds and other institutions in the world financial markets. LTCM is a hedge fund that was able to borrow billions of dollars based on the reputation of its principals and its profitable trading. It entered into enormous positions in exchange-traded and OTC derivatives. When prices moved against it, it was on the verge of defaulting on its commitments. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York encouraged its major creditors and counter-parties—many of the largest U.S. and European banks and investment banks—to infuse $3.6 billion into LTCM to prevent its collapse and the possible disruption of the global economy. Most of the regulatory issues posed by the LTCM episode were raised by the Commission in its Concept Release on OTC Derivatives in May 1998, which initiated the Commission's current study of the OTC derivatives market. The issues include lack of transparency, excessive leverage, insufficient prudential controls, and the need for coordination and cooperation among international regulators.

Lack of Transparency

While the CFTC and the U.S. futures exchanges had full and accurate information about LTCM's exchange-traded futures positions through the CFTC's required large position reports, no federal regulator received reports from LTCM on its OTC derivatives positions. Notably, no reporting requirements are imposed on most OTC derivatives market participants. This lack of basic information about the positions held by OTC derivatives users and about the nature and extent of their exposures potentially allows OTC derivatives market participants to take positions that may threaten our regulated markets or, indeed, our economy without the knowledge of any federal regulatory authority. Furthermore, there are no requirements that a hedge fund like LTCM provide disclosure documents to its counter-parties or investors concerning its positions, exposures, or investment strategies. It appears that even LTCM's major creditors did not have a complete picture. A hedge fund's derivatives transactions have traditionally been treated as off-balance sheet transactions. Therefore, even though some hedge funds like LTCM are registered with the Commission as commodity pool operators and are required to file annual financial reports with the Commission, those reports do not fully reveal their OTC derivatives positions.—Robert Chapman, THE INTERNATIONAL FORECASTER, an international financial, economic, political and social commentary. #### BRITISH SCIENTIST SAYS MIND CONTINUES ON AFTER BRAIN DIES

By Sarah Tippit, Reuters, 6/29/01

LOS ANGELES—A British scientist studying heart-attack patients says he is finding evidence that suggests that consciousness may continue after the brain has stopped functioning and a patient is clinically dead.

The research, presented to scientists last week at the California Institute of Technology (Caltech), resurrects the debate over whether there is life after death and whether there is such a thing as the human soul.

"The studies are very significant in that we have a group of people with no brain function... who have well-structured, lucid thought processes with reasoning and memory formation at a time when their brains are shown not to function," Sam Parnia, one of two doctors from Southampton General Hospital in England who have been studying so-called near-death experiences (NDEs), told Reuters in an interview.

"We need to do much larger-scale studies, but the possibility is certainly there" to suggest that consciousness, or the soul, keeps thinking and reasoning—even if a person's heart has stopped, he is not breathing and his brain activity is nil, Parnia said.

He said he and colleagues conducted an initial yearlong study, the results of which appeared in the February issue of the journal Resuscitation. The study was so promising the doctors formed a foundation to fund further research and continue collecting data.

During the initial study, Parnia said, 63 heart-attack patients who were deemed clinically dead—but were later revived—were interviewed within a week of their experiences.

Of those, 56 said they had no recollection of the time they were unconscious and seven reported having memories. Of those, four were labeled NDEs in that they reported lucid memories of thinking, reasoning, moving about and communicating with others after doctors determined their brains were not functioning.

FEELINGS OF PEACE

Among other things, the patients reported remembering feelings of peace, joy and harmony.

For some, time sped up, senses heightened and they lost awareness of their bodies.

The patients also reported seeing a bright light, entering another realm and communicating with dead relatives. One, who called himself a lapsed Catholic and Pagan, reported a close encounter with a mystical being.

Near-death experiences have been reported for centuries but in Parnia's study none of the patients were found to have received low oxygen levels, which some skeptics believe may contribute to the phenomenon.

When the brain is deprived of oxygen, people become totally confused, thrash around and usually have no memories at all, Parnia said. "Here you have a severe insult to the brain but perfect memory."

Skeptics have also suggested that patients' memories occurred in the moments they were leaving or returning to consciousness. But Parnia said when a brain is traumatized by a seizure or car wreck, a patient generally does not remember moments just before or after losing consciousness.

Rather, there is usually a memory lapse of hours or days. "Talk to them. They'll tell you something like: 'I just remember seeing the car and the next thing I knew I was in the hospital,'" he said.

"With cardiac arrest, the insult to the brain is so severe it stops the brain completely. Therefore, I would expect profound memory loss before and after the incident," he added.

Since the initial experiment, Parnia and his colleagues have found more than 3,500 people with lucid memories that apparently occurred at times they were thought to be clinically dead. Many of the patients, he said, were reluctant to share their experiences—fearing they would be thought crazy.

A TODDLER'S TALE

One patient was 2-1/2 years old when he had a seizure and his heart stopped. His parents contacted Parnia after the boy "drew a picture of himself as if out of his body looking down at himself. It was drawn like there was a balloon stuck to him. When they asked what the balloon was he said, 'When you die you see a bright light and you are connected to a cord.' He wasn't even 3 when had the experience," Parnia said.

"What his parents noticed was that after he had been discharged from the hospital, six months after the incident, he kept drawing the same scene."

The brain function these patients were found to have while unconscious is commonly believed to be incapable of sustaining lucid thought processes or allowing lasting memories to form, Parnia said—pointing to the fact that nobody fully grasps how the brain generates thoughts.

The brain itself is made up of cells, like all the body's organs, and is not really capable of producing the subjective phenomenon of thought that people have, he said.

He speculated that human consciousness may work independently of the brain, using the gray matter as a mechanism to manifest the thoughts, just as a television set translates waves in the air into picture and sound.

"When you damage the brain or lose some of the aspects of mind or personality, that doesn't necessarily mean the mind is being produced by the brain. All it shows is that the apparatus is damaged," Parnia said, adding that further research might reveal the existence of a soul.

"When these people are having experiences they say, 'I had this intense pain in my chest and suddenly I was drifting in the corner of my room and I was so happy, so comfortable. I looked down and realized I was seeing my body and doctors all around me trying to save me—and I didn't want to go back.

"The point is they are describing seeing this thing in the room, which is their body. Nobody ever says, 'I had this pain and the next thing I knew my soul left me.'"

USE CASH TO BUY POSTAGE MAKES YOU SUSPECT AT POST OFFICE

By John Berlau & Stephanie Taylor, InsightMag.com, 7/1/01

Since Insight exposed the U.S. Postal Service's customer-surveillance program "Under the Eagle's Eye" (see "Postal Service Has Its Eye on You," July 2-9), the eyes of many privacy advocates have focused like a laser on the agency. "Warning! The Post Office could report YOU as a drug dealer or terrorist," reads a press release from the Libertarian Party, which helped generate some 300,000 letters that helped defeat the government's proposed "Know Your Customer" surveillance rules for banks two years ago (see "Snoops and Spies", Feb. 22, 1999). Until the Postal Service drops its orders to postal clerks to report certain legal financial transactions as "suspicious activity", the Libertarian Party and others are urging consumers to purchase money orders, wire transfers and cash cards elsewhere.

But now Insight has learned that it's not just purchases of these financial instruments that the post office reports as suspicious. A training video and manual obtained by Insight indicate that you also could be reported as a "suspicious" customer when you put money on a postage meter, particularly if it's in cash. In the video, after a jewelry-store owner hands a postal clerk $50,000 cash to put on his postage meter, the clerk is told to report this as a suspicious transaction. Even though it may be perfectly legal, using this much cash is "strange", the video says.

But what is "strange" to privacy advocates is why the Postal Service reports postage-meter transactions at all. Treasury Department regulations that next year will apply Bank Secrecy Act provisions to sellers of money orders and other financial instruments, which the Postal Service uses to justify "Under the Eagle's Eye", say absolutely nothing about purchases of postage as a "suspicious" activity.

"If putting a lot of money on your postage meter is a sign of criminal activity, I'm afraid we're going to have to have a little talk with our own office manager," says George Getz, spokesman for the Libertarian Party, which uses a postage meter to send mass mailings. "I don't know how somebody would go about laundering money like that. It seems preposterous. Do you launder money 32 cents at a time? That's crazy."

According to the Postal Service, even transactions of a few thousand dollars in cash should arouse suspicion. "If they [customers] wanted $5,000 on their postage meter, they wouldn't pay for that in cash," says Gerry Kreienkamp, a Postal Service spokesman. "That's just not the way business is done." [MM: Does he really mean the way his Khazarian-type business is done?]

But privacy advocates say it's not unusual for small retail-business owners to pay for mailings with large amounts of cash. It is normal, for instance, for restaurant or store owners who want to send out promotional mailings to go to the post office and put the cash receipts for that day on their postage meters, says Brad Jansen, deputy director of the Free Congress Foundation's Center for Technology Policy. "It would not be unusual that a retailer would, one, be using cash and, two, have to put out a great deal of postal mailings."

Kreienkamp says that "Under the Eagle's Eye" does not apply to purchases of stamps and "philatelic" items. But why, then, does the program apply to postage on meters, which is merely "electronic stamps", asks Rick Merritt, executive director of Postal Watch.

Jansen cautions that consumers should assume that any products they purchase at a post office could get them reported as a "suspicious" customer. "The intent is to make this as all-encompassing as possible," he says.

GPS IN RENTAL CAR NAILS CUSTOMER FOR SPEEDING

By Richard Stenger, CNN, 7/1/01

An ordinary trip turned into an Orwellian ordeal for one Connecticut driver, forced to pay multiple fines after a car rental company tracked his every move via satellite.

James Turner of New Haven took Acme car rental company to court, calling the technology too intrusive. Acme countered that Turner knew the risks. Regardless, the litigation has such an unexpected high-tech spin that the state attorney general joined the legal fray.

When Turner needed a van to drive from New Haven to Virginia some months ago for business, he turned to a merchant near his home that he had relied on many times in the past.

But the theater box office manager overlooked a clause in the contract stating that its vehicles were equipped with a Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) system and that going over the speed limit would cost $150 per infraction.

When he returned home and tried to use his ATM card, he discovered that the rental company had taken out $450 from his account. Acme Rent-A-Car had determined that he had gone over the speed limit three times and dipped into his account for each one. [MM: How many still think things aren't too bad here in hometown, U.S.A.?

"They took the money out before I returned the car," Turner told CNN this week. "I was very, very surprised. I was not aware of what GPS could do. I thought it was an onboard navigation system, to use when you get lost."

High-tech tracking

The van was outfitted with more than standard GPS technology. It had a much more sophisticated monitoring system, AirIQ, which allowed Acme to check Turner's speed and location.

Turner hired a lawyer and went to small claims court, but Acme said Turner was well aware of the contract provisions.

"I don't think it was too intrusive. The warning is printed in big bold letters on top of the contract, saying any sustained speeds over 79 mph would be subject to fines," said Max Brunswick, Acme's attorney. [MM: I wonder what Acme's piece of the action is in this nightmare 1984-type scam?]

"It's not something that's in the fine print. It's explained to the customer and the customer has to initial it," he said. Bernadette Keyes, Turner's counsel, countered that while some Acme customer contracts did include a specific speed limit, the one her client signed did not.

Making money or tracking cars?

Turner protested that the company had no system of due process by which he could challenge the charges. Brunswick said that for each infraction, the satellite system notified Acme only after Turner had gone over 80 mph for at least two minutes. [MM: How considerate of those nice folks!]

"The real purpose is not to make money from people speeding. The real reason is to track cars," Brunswick said.

The monitoring system allows Acme to find cars that are not returned, a persistent problem that can drive small car rental companies out of business, he said.

Moreover, drivers knowing their speed is being checked tend to drive slower, leading to less liability for the company and fewer accidents for the drivers, according to Brunswick.

"It's safe to say this policy saves lives," he said.

The state has stepped in to help settle the legal morass, leaving the small claims case in limbo.

"The court is waiting for the consumer protection board and attorney general to make their ruling," which could come within weeks, Turner said.

THE 'RECONQUISTA'—MEXICO'S DREAM OF 'RETAKEING' THE SOUTHWEST

By John Tiffany,

The Barnes Review (March/April 2001),
<http://www.barnesreview.org>

Some Mexicans and Mexican-Americans want to see California, New Mexico and other parts of the United States given to Mexico. They call it the "reconquista", Spanish for "reconquest", and they view the millions of Mexican illegal aliens entering this country as their army of invaders to achieve that takeover. To an extent, they also have actual armed soldiers of the Mexican army, along with mercenaries from North Korea, Russia and other communist or former communist lands, and have already fired upon American Border Patrol officers and terrorized American ranchers. Shockingly, certain politicians in America are willing to sell out to the Mexicans. Here we consider the background to this disturbing development.

Mexico, of course, was once a Spanish colony, the Aztecs and numerous other tribes in that region having been conquered by the Spaniards—or, in many cases, having willingly sworn allegiance to the Spanish king in order to free themselves from Aztec tyranny. (However, it may be noted that in the northern reaches—the so-called Interior Provinces—of what was once called "Mexico," the natives had never been subdued by any outsiders, including the Aztecs.) When a number of Mexicans, inspired by America's example, revolted against Spain, they set up an independent government and assumed theoretical rulership of a vast area, including what is now known as the Southwestern United States.

America subsequently obtained the Southwest in various ways—mostly by conquest in the Mexican (or Mexican American) War, partly by purchase (the Gadsden Purchase) and partly by agreement (the annexation of Texas, at the time an independent republic. It should also be mentioned that the bear flag of the Republic of California was raised by American settlers at Sonoma on June 14, 1846.) This prompts the question as to how Spain and then Mexico came to "own" what is now the American Southwest, which, of course, was never under the control of the Aztec nation.

Mexico's claim to the Southwest stems from Pope Alexander VI's 15th-Century Treaty of Tordesillas, which established a demarcation line to define the spheres of Spanish and Portuguese influence in the New World. The line ran due north and south through a point 300 miles west of the Azores and Cape Verde Islands. All newly discovered lands lying east of this line supposedly belonged to Portugal, while all lands discovered to the west belonged to Spain. The people—Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts—living in these lands were not consulted. This treaty was modified in 1506 by a new demarcation line 1,110 miles west of the Azores. The new line ran longitudinally through the eastern hump of South America, and is the reason Brazilians speak Portuguese. This treaty gave Spain the controversial legitimacy to rule Mexico, and most of North and South America, beginning with Hernando Cortés's rape of the Aztec nation in 1521. Tordesillas allowed the Spanish and Portuguese to loot and enslave indigenous populations, in return for their promises to save the hemisphere's natives "for God". It was not realized at the time that Portugal would get a much smaller slice of the American pie than did Spain, since the Americas were still largely unexplored. While Spain wound up with a claim to the Aztec and Inca empires, rich in gold and silver, Portugal got nothing more than some tropical rain forest with scattered primitive tribes.

Britain and various other countries, including Catholic France, were not happy about the pope's decision to divide the New World between Spain and Portugal and did not consider the treaty to have any legal value whatsoever. Even Portugal seems to have been dissatisfied, since it proceeded to carve out a much larger Brazil than the eastern Brazil it would have been entitled to under the treaty. Since the United States inherited its claim to the western lands from Britain, the Treaty of Tordesillas is logically a nullity as far as the U.S. government is (or should be) concerned. It should perhaps be noted that U.S. claims to the West really go as far back as colonial days, since many of the British colonial charters purported to grant to the colonies lands in America stretching all the way to the Pacific Ocean.

In 1767, Russia had already taken over Alaska and was looking at lands to the south of it. King Carlos III of Spain became concerned about Russian intentions regarding California and decreed a program to build a series of forts or missions throughout California to ensure Spanish control of that land. The Spanish government forced the aboriginal American (so-called "Indian") populations to build a series of 21 forts/missions for settler protection and agriculture. These missions were built between 1769 and 1823. Because of a series of revolutions that swept the Spanish empire in 1810, cash-starved Spain stopped salary payments to its civil servants throughout the Americas, and these colonists were left to their own devices. It is noteworthy that in 1810, there were less than 1,000 Spaniards throughout the entire American Southwest, some 500,000 square miles of wilderness, controlled only by the native Indians.<sup>1</sup>

At one point the civilized Indian tribes of New Mexico, known as "Pueblo" Indians, who had been conquered by the Spanish, revolted and succeeded in driving the Spanish out of their lands. The Spanish government, however, mounted a "reconquista" to again subject this territory to their control, the first reconquista in American history. (An earlier reconquista found in the history books refers to the taking back of Spain itself from the Moors by the Christians but, of course, that has little to do with our subject matter here.)

It took a combination of Criollos (ethnic Spaniards born in the New World), Indians associated with them and Mestizos (racially mixed people) to defeat Imperial Spain; but by 1821, after 38 years of struggle, they triumphed, and modern Mexico was born. However, the defeat of Spain changed little in what would someday be the Southwest United States. The vast wilderness, which was then northern Mexico, continued to be virtually ignored by a slumbering and distracted Mexican central government. From the time of Spain's defeat by Mexico in 1821, through 1848, the year the Mexican-American War ended, Mexico endured 50 military plots, 22 governments, five constitutional conventions, three constitutions and 10 of the 11 different terms of leadership under that megalomaniacal president and military leader (he was never actually a general), Antonio López de Santa Anna Pérez de Lebrón, of Alamo notoriety.

Beginning with Texas in 1845, which became a sovereign country in 1836, and California, Nevada, Utah and parts of New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Wyoming (all of which Mexico ceded to the United States in 1848), American settlers outnumbered Mexicans by at least five to one in all eight states except in Texas, where Americans outnumbered Mexicans 10 to one. One thing these settlers wanted was stable, representative government, something Mexico had been unable to provide. They also wanted to have a government that spoke their own language and shared their culture. And so had begun the inevitable movement for independence from Mexico among American settlers. This led to the Battle of the Alamo and the Texan War for Independence, resulting in a sovereign nation of Texas. After nine years of this, Texas, by mutual consent, was annexed to the United States.

There can be little doubt that President Polk engineered the 1846-1848 war with Mexico in order to bring California and the other Southwestern states into the union. War was declared on May 13, 1846, based on the problems along the disputed Texas-Mexico border. Still, there is little question but that Mexico would have been unable to indefinitely hold on to her pre-1846 American territories even had the Mexican-U.S. War not taken place. Sooner or later, all seven of the other states would have followed Texas' lead (as California was doing) and brought about similar results.

The Mexican War receives little attention in America's classrooms, although its effects were far-reaching. David Saville Muzzey's popular 1911 text American History explained the war to schoolchildren of the early 20th Century, told why the United States seized California in 1846 and how the U.S. government ended the Texas-Mexico border dispute. The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, which officially ended the war, was signed in February 1848. ("Guadalupe Hidalgo" is the former name of a town in Mexico, 2 ½ miles north of Mexico City. It was to this town that the government of Mexico had fled as American troops took the capital city. Guadalupe Hidalgo was named partly for Our Lady of Guadalupe and partly for Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla, the well-known Mexican priest and revolutionary.)

According to Muzzey, the annexation of Texas was a perfectly fair transaction. For nine years, since the victory of San Jacinto in 1836, Texas had been an independent republic, whose military reconquest Mexico had not the slightest chance of effecting. In fact, at the very moment of annexation, the Mexican government, at the suggestion of England, had agreed to recognize the independence of Texas, on condition that the republic should not join itself to the United States. The United States was not taking Mexican territory, then, in annexing Texas.

The new state had come into the union claiming the Rio Grande as her southern and western boundary. By the terms of annexation, all boundary disputes with Mexico were referred by Texas to the government of the United States. President Polk sent John Slidell of Louisiana to Mexico in the autumn of 1845 to adjust any differences over the Texan claims. But though Slidell labored for months to get a hearing, two successive presidents of revolution-torn Mexico refused to recognize him, and he was dismissed from the country in August 1846.

The massing of Mexican troops on the southern bank of the Rio Grande, coupled with the refusal of the Mexican government to receive Slidell, led President Polk to order Gen. Zachary Taylor to move to the borders. Taylor marched to the Rio Grande and fortified a position on the northern bank. The Mexican and the American troops were thus facing each other across the river. When Taylor refused to retreat to the Nueces, the Mexican commander crossed the Rio Grande and ambushed a scouting force of Americans (April 1846). When the news of the attack reached Washington early in May, Polk sent a special message to Congress, concluding with these words:

"We have tried every effort at reconciliation.... But now, after reiterated menaces, Mexico has passed the boundary of the United States [the Rio Grande], has invaded our territory and shed American blood upon American soil. She has proclaimed that hostilities have commenced and that the two nations are at war. As war exists, and, notwithstanding all our efforts to avoid it, exists by the act of Mexico herself, we are called upon by every consideration of duty and patriotism to vindicate with decision the honor, the rights and the interests of our country."

The House and Senate, by very large majorities (174 to 14, and 40 to two), voted 50,000 men and $10 million for the prosecution of the war. Meanwhile, Gen. Taylor had driven the Mexicans back to the south bank of the Rio Grande in the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma. Six days after the vote of Congress sanctioning the war, he crossed the Rio Grande and occupied the Mexican frontier town of Matamoros, whence he proceeded during the summer and autumn of 1846 to capture the capitals of three Mexican provinces.

As soon as hostilities began, Commodore John Drake Sloat, in command of the U.S. squadron in the Pacific, was ordered to seize California, and Gen. Stephen Watts Kearny was sent to invade New Mexico. The occupation of California was practically undisputed. Mexico had only the faintest shadow of authority in the province, and the 6,000 White inhabitants made no objection to seeing the flag of the United States raised over their forts. Kearny started with 1,800 men from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in June, and on August 18 defeated the force of 4,000 Mexicans and Indians which disputed his occupation of Santa Fé. After garrisoning this important post he detached Col. Doliphan with 850 men to march through the northern provinces of Mexico and effect a juncture with Gen. Taylor at Monterey, while he himself with only 100 men continued his long journey of 1,500 miles to San Diego, California, where he joined Sloat's successor, Stockton.

After these decided victories and uninterrupted marches of Taylor, Kearny, Sloat, Stockton and Doniphan, the Mexican government was offered a fair chance to treat for peace, which it refused. Then President Polk decided, with the unanimous consent of his cabinet, to strike at the heart of Mexico. Gen. Winfield Scott, a hero of the War of 1812, was put in command of an army of about 12,000 men, to land at Vera Cruz and fight his way up the mountains to the capital city of Mexico. Santa Anna, who, by the rapid shift of revolutions, was again dictator in Mexico, heard of this plan to attack the capital and hastened north with 20,000 troops to surprise and destroy Taylor's army before Scott should have time to take Vera Cruz. But Taylor, with an army one-fourth the size of Santa Anna's, drove the Mexicans back in the hotly contested Battle of Buena Vista (Feb. 23, 1847), securing the Californian and New Mexican conquests. Santa Anna hastened southward to the defense of Mexico City.

Scott took Vera Cruz in March and worked his way slowly but surely, against forces always superior to his own, up to the very gates of Mexico City by August 1847. Here he paused, by the president's orders, to allow the Mexicans another chance to accept the terms of peace the United States offered: the cession by Mexico of New Mexico and California in return for a large payment of money. The Mexican commissioners, however, insisted on having both banks of the Rio Grande and all of California up to the neighborhood of San Francisco, besides receiving damages for injuries inflicted by the American troops in their invasions. These claims were preposterous, coming from a conquered country, and there was nothing left for Scott to do but to resume military operations.

Santa Anna defended the capital with a force of 30,000 men, but the Mexicans proved no match for the American soldiers. Scott stormed the fortified hill of Chapultepec and advanced to the gates of the city. On September 13 his troops entered the Mexican capital and raised the Stars and Stripes over "the palace of the Montezumas".

From the beginning of the war Polk had been negotiating for peace. He had kept Slidell in Mexico long after the opening of hostilities and had sent Nicholas Trist as special peace commissioner to join Scott's army at Vera Cruz and to offer Mexico terms of peace at the earliest possible moment. He had allowed Santa Anna to return to Mexico from his exile in Cuba in the summer of 1846, because the wily and treacherous dictator held out false promises of effecting a reconciliation between Mexico and the United States. He had asked Congress for an appropriation of $2 million for peace negotiations when Gen. Taylor was still near the Rio Grande, 10 days before Gen. Kearny had taken Santa Fé and the province of New Mexico, and before Gen. Scott's campaign had been thought of.

When the Mexican commissioners made advances for peace at the beginning of the year 1848, they were given terms almost as liberal as those offered them before Scott had stormed and occupied their capital. By the treaty concluded at Guadalupe Hidalgo, Mexico was required to cede its claim to California and New Mexico, as well as lands in between them and to the north, to the United States and to recognize the Rio Grande as the southern and western boundary of Texas. In return, the United States paid Mexico a gratuitous $15 million cash and assumed some $3,250,000 more in claims of American citizens on the Mexican government. Mexico was in debt to the Rothschild bankers at this time, and apparently most of the cash went to them. Considering the facts that California was scarcely under Mexican control at all and might have been taken at any moment by Great Britain, France or Russia; that New Mexico was still the almost undisturbed home of Indian tribes; that the land from the Nueces to the Rio Grande was almost a desert; that the American troops were in possession of the Mexican capital; and that the United States did not have to give a dollar to Mexico, the terms offered Mexico were extremely generous.

The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was ratified by the U.S. Senate on March 10, 1848. The last U.S. soldier had departed from Mexico by July 31. Polk was urged by many to annex the whole country of Mexico to the United States, but he wisely refused to consider such a proposal.

Mexicans were subsequently to note with pleasure that bad luck had followed upon imperialism, since the acquisitions of Guadalupe Hidalgo, by upsetting the balance between the "slave" states and the "free" states, precipitated, 13 years later, the American War Between the States or "Civil War".

Mexico had ceded Texas, California and the vast expanse of territory in between them, amounting to more than half the land area of the republic, adding half a million square miles of territory to the United States. Mexico's then-president, Manuel de la Peña y Peña, expressed, with the treaty, this hope:

"I desire nothing more ardently than that our treaty may prove the immutable basis of that constant harmony and good understanding that should prevail sincerely between two republics."

But the United States was not quite done acquiring land from Mexico. The Gadsden Purchase, one of the most curious real estate deals in which Uncle Sam has ever taken part, remained.

James Gadsden (1788-1858), whose name the purchase bears, was a grandson of Christopher Gadsden (1724-1805), a South Carolina Revolutionary soldier and statesman. James Gadsden soldiered for several years under Gen. Andrew Jackson, and it was he who seized the papers that led to the trial and execution of two British subjects in Spanish Florida in 1818, an incident that strained British-American diplomatic relations almost to the breaking point.

Gadsden was appointed by President Monroe as the commissioner in charge of placing the Seminole Indians on reservations. While living as a painter in Florida, he championed nullification and lost the patronage of President Jackson. He had long been interested in promoting railroads and upon his return to South Carolina in 1839 was chosen president of the South Carolina Railroad Company. His pet dream was to knit all railroads in Dixie into one system and then to connect it with a southern transcontinental railroad to the Pacific, to make the West commercially dependent on the southeast instead of the northeast.

After engineers advised Gadsden that the most direct and practicable route for the southern transcontinental railroad would be partially south of the U.S. boundary, he made plans to have the federal government acquire title to the necessary territory from Mexico. Through his friend and fellow empire dreamer, Secretary of War Jefferson Davis (later to be president of the Confederacy), Gadsden was appointed U.S. minister to Mexico by President Franklin Pierce with instructions to buy from Mexico enough territory to complete a railroad to California.

The territory desired by Gadsden and his group was then a sort of no-man's-land, experiencing frequent Indian raids. The United States wanted to make certain boundary adjustments; Mexico needed money and wanted a settlement of her Indian claims against the United States; and Gadsden and his friends wanted a route for their railroad.

In 1852 Gadsden agreed to pay Mexico $10 million for a strip of territory south of the Gila River, incorporating the Mesilla Valley and lying in what is now southwestern New Mexico and southern Arizona. (It is not known how the money was divided among the Mexican politicians.) The agreement was not ratified by the U.S. Senate until 1854.<sup>2</sup>

In return, the claims of Mexico for damages caused by marauding Indians from north of the border, amounting to several million dollars, were abrogated. The Gadsden Purchase territory was an area of 45,535 square miles, almost as large as Pennsylvania. Naturally, the "reconquistadors" want to gain, for free, title to the Gadsden Purchase along with the lands conquered from Mexico, as well as the territory of Texas.—THE BARNES REVIEW. #### FOOTNOTES

1. U.S. census of 1850.

2. Some sources (such as the Funk & Wagnalls Encyclopedia) claim that Santa Anna played a major role in the negotiations for the Gadsden Purchase. One source even went so far as to assert that the purchase being highly unpopular in Mexico, Santa Anna's role caused him to lose even more of his then-dwindling popularity and finally to be forced from office and into exile again. However, this appears to be impossible. Santa Anna, who was kicked out of Mexico several times, went into exile in 1848 after losing the Mexican War. Not until 1853 was he recalled again, and named "president for life", with the title of "Serene Highness", according to the 1911 Encyclopaedia Britannica. Thus, since the purchase came about in 1852, it seems unlikely Santa Anna could have been one of the negotiators.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
