

CONTACT

THE PHOENIX PROJECT JOURNAL

GOD'S NEW MILLENNIUM

KNOWING TRUTH IS NOT ENOUGH, SUCCESSFUL CHANGE REQUIRES ACTION

VOLUME 33, NUMBER 10

NEWS REVIEW

$ 3.00

SEPTEMBER 26, 2001

Elite IBC Puppet-Masters' Plan: Financial Salvation From Major War

9/15/01—#1 (15-030)

RE: TERRORISTS AND TERRORISM ON A
"FREE-WILL" PLANET

Hatonn—THE ENEMY HAS SHOWN HIMSELF—AND YOU ARE BLINDED BY YOUR TEARS AND CONFUSION. LET NOT EITHER ONE HOLD YOU FROM REALIZATION THAT THAT WHICH IS GREATER THAN THE MOST EVIL OF MEN—ULTIMATELY WINS IN THIS CONFRONTATION COME BEFORE YOU.

WHAT YOU HAVE WITNESSED, AND THAT IN WHICH YOU HAVE PARTICIPATED, WILL ULTIMATELY CAUSE THE VIPERS TO RAISE THEIR HEADS. THEY WILL BE "FOUND-OUT" AND THEY WILL BE LEFT WANTING.

Every man, woman and child should stand tall this day and recite his pledge of allegiance and then he should turn within and ask for WISDOM—not "reaction"—that there might be a united world in reason, logic and a desire for reclaiming brotherhood.

In the U.S.A. today, the flags fly while the voices rise in national anthems and, yes, in a turn to GOD who is recognized by "Amazing Grace". Do YOU receive or give forth "Grace" this day? God offers the starving child in South Africa or in the streets of Manila HIS Grace while $40 billion are poured into fixing "it" for the wealthiest humans on Earth today.

Will the mind-control games work? That is up to you. You are affixed by the tools of transfixation to no other choices—to be bombarded, hopefully, by your manipulating puppet-masters into reacting exactly as you are now programmed to react. Listen to the trigger terms of "kill", "blast", "flatten", "blow away" while an enemy is constructed before your eyes. You have literally had to have an enemy BUILT (created) before you to even know who to search for and kill. In the interim you will literally pay for and "fix" the problems of those Elite money brokers while going directly to annihilate their enemies for them. Wow, is this ever a nice world for your manipulators!

Citizen, in the U.S. the pledge of allegiance goes something like:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag and to the nation for which it stands, one nation, UNDER GOD, indivisible, with LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL." How long has your country been out from "under God" while you serve Mammon?

How long, America, have you forgotten and moved away from Liberty and Justice FOR ALL? I note this day far more "brotherhood" than ever presented prior to now—and you don't even know who or what to hit and murder first. Will you always turn to murder in reaction to that which offends thee?

In the moment of "hit back", nations all over the globe are having to make commitments which, if kept, will destroy their very countries. Terrorism, in fact, is that which is the most elusive of Satan's games. WHO do you strike? Terrorists come in the form of even children who want to get "even" with the bully who taunts them. Are you but children? Watch what happens, students, as you watch your lives roll before you on the eve of choosing.

You watched Satan rise from the rubble and in the very smoke and fire from the destruction in one "new" (Continued on page 2)

CONTACT
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126

FIRST-CLASS MAIL
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
BAKERSFIELD, CA
PERMIT NO. 758

FIRST CLASS MAIL

ALSO IN THIS ISSUE

Father-And-Son Plan: NEW WORLD ORDER—NOW.....	page 5
Marching The Public Off To The Precipice Of War.....	page 6
Doris' Corner, by Doris & E.J. Ekker.....	page 8
New World Order's Orchestrated, Outrageous Terroristic Operations.....	page 9
The News Desk, by John & Jean Ray.....	page 11
New-Earth Birthing Ceremony Held On Shasta, by Princeton Winton.....	page 23

YORK. Does that mean he will be Lord? Does it mean that YOU will cause him to depart? The choice is yours.

You KNEW it would be this way. Over and over you were told that you would give away every last freedom you hold in an effort to stop the insanity of such acts as happened in New York City. Your response, rightfully so, "Well, we have to be safe." Indeed. ARE YOU SAFE? Will bombing Afghanistan off the map (which you can't—for it will remain on the map and all the hatred with it if you do this thing) somehow make it better? Worse? Or, will it bring about the war which is being orchestrated so carefully in the Holy Lands for your participation on a global scale beyond all that has come before?

You have to be in a foreign country to perhaps realize that not a word is coming out of Israel or Palestine that makes it onto the ONLY TV network working abroad. This IS the way of it, readers. One focus, not even advertising to break the programming, one message changing gradually to manipulate your mindset into controlled focus where you will pray to God to get to send off your babies to kill, kill, kill that the Elite might live in wealth and luxury AND POWER. There has to be a massive, major war, my dear ones, to pay the outstanding bills at your doorstep.

I will point out a couple of things which I hope you notice before you condemn nations and people.

There was a brief statement which was immediately cut off the air on the international airwaves. The TV host said that when they returned to the air after a brief break they would tell the reason "more Morgan Stanley people were not caught...". Oh? The word is already out that secondary explosions brought the burning buildings down so methodically—not melting steel.

Damage to surrounding structures and the collapses themselves show damages recognized as being struck by fragments of debris with such force as to only come directly from explosives at the lower level than where the planes struck the twin towers. Will that ever be publicly recognized or will you blast someone else off the Earth and call it "healing"? This was the most spectacular show of planned evil ever worked on you-the-people.

Oh, the IBC people will be handsomely paid off by every other resource from insurance to gaining support to probably shoring up the collapsed calamities in the economic centers here and there while flags wave, citizens weep and the real culprits of evil make an effort to walk away. No, students, this time they will NOT "just walk away laughing all the way to the bank"—but few of you will realize as much. The stock market was NOT closed all week because of the twin towers. The world waits!

THERE HAS TO BE A MAJOR WAR TO SALVAGE THE FINANCIAL CIRCUMSTANCE OF THE WORLD ELITE—YES, IT "IS" THAT BAD.

Do you perceive that I am somehow telling you to be less patriotic, fly no flags or what? NO, get those flags out onto every post, tree, pole and in YOUR HEARTS. The United States of America is the most blessed nation on the globe—and from there must come the heart and SOUL of change. Your ENEMY has given you opportunity to renew your allegiance TO GOD, people, while you have a demonstration of blood and destruction before your eyes as witness to what evil is capable of presenting. It is a time to change HEARTS—or, to build walls larger than you can hurdle. This is a very, very big balloon, witnesses. Will man turn to God or to Satan? Religions don't count here, until you somehow pronounce something against another. And note, that which you put DOWN is "not of God" but doctrines of MAN. Well, your most recognized teachers spoke of God but presented AS MAN.

The United States of America is at the crossroads. In which direction will it turn? Oh, the actions will be said to be in the name of God, but is that likely?

Please note what else is happening in the non-news which allows you to KNOW truth. Even in England the game goes on with more people in London singing the U.S. national anthem, even at the changing of the guard at the Queen's palace (at her order). Even in the Cathedral of St. Paul the U.S. national anthem was played just prior to the God Save the Queen (which bears the SAME music as one of your most cherished U.S. national hymns).

Then you see the great U.S. flag draped onto major British buildings—IN HONOR. No, chelas, it is in recognition of the U.S. remaining a British Colony—from Sea to Shining Sea. The people in power in the U.S. are even dubbed "Sir" (knights) of the British Empire.

And KNOW, as well, that this is a direct line to Britain's "Israel" (don't confuse with israel) control of the world.

Ah, indeed, across the screens of your vidiot boxes ran last evening the message: "Hard-line Iranians blame Israel for the Trade Center bombings. (No, readers, this is not a figment of imaging. This was ON THE SCREEN—not spoken but run over and over again in the caption line.) The message went on to say that "it could be no other way, for ONLY the Zionists of Israel could conceive and orchestrate such a PLAN. Death to Israel." [MM: see "ISRAEL MOSSAD LINKS TO WORLD TRADE CENTER ATTACK" on page 20.]

This came out in Friday PRAYERS and the chanting was "Death to Israel".

Since you have ONLY "controlled" media, it was NOT AN ACCIDENT THAT SUCH A MESSAGE WAS PRESENTED. IT IS IN DIRECT RETALIATION TO THE RACIST CONFERENCE IN AFRICA JUST FINISHED. Watch the clues. The Iranians immediately objected and denied any such statements.

You are told EXACTLY who is responsible and then the tail wagging the dog is presented and that tale WAGS THE WORLD because the DOGS OF WAR ARE MANIPULATED AND PRESENTED BY THE VERY DOG-MASTERS THEMSELVES.

ALTERNATIVES?

Oh, no, I am not going to go into details of alternatives because YOU KNOW WHAT THOSE ARE and who your very own personal enemies of freedom ARE.

PHILIPPINES IN TERRIBLE STRAITS BETWEEN ROCKS AND HARD PLACES

In countries as in the Philippines this day, the terror is not in a Trade Center bombing in New York, U.S.A.; it is, "What is going to happen to the Philippines?" The people know that if the Philippines fails to go to war with the U.S. it cannot survive.

It also knows that if it fails to capitulate to every wish of the Big Brother, that it cannot survive because it will be totally destroyed financially.

You see, the global Elite have placed the Philippines into a most remarkable slot when Bush says "...those who harbor..." are equal targets. Well, the Philippines has "harbored"—bin Laden himself and lots of his troopers. Bin Laden even has a wife who is Filipino. The facts are, however, that it is KNOWN that the Abu Sayyaf is fully controlled and run by the CIA-Mossad.

As we speak there is a standoff of drug lords. There is a demand for banking laws to stop the money laundering while the biggest banks in the world are the ones who even have a silent CENTRAL bank in the Philippines.

The Central Bank Governor (of the government public recognition) admits that "over" 96% of the nation's GOLD has been sent out of the Philippines to the banks in London in exchange credits. Do you really think the banks are not in trouble today?

The U.S. Stock Market COULDN'T open this week and incredible efforts to shore up the economy are underway in this interim political patriotic period of mourning. Don't you know that Alan Greenspan even got caught in airlight shutdown? He was in Basel, Switzerland! Now why would Alan Greenspan, head of the Federal Reserve be meeting so desperately in Switzerland? Could it be over and about the prime Central Bank called the Bank of International Settlements (BIS)? And isn't it also interesting that the New York Fed President William McDonough was also there? Interesting: "Both had been expected to leave Tuesday, but their flight was turned back after the terrorist attacks in the United States." Turned back from where to where?

Does anyone but me find it interesting that these dudes seem to get wherever they want to go but the airports and transportation are shut down as if by the hand of God—for the rest of you-the-people? Some of the reporters had to take bus-line transportation. Do you really think the top politicians took busses? Just how did they all get around so quickly? And, yes, THAT is a very, very good question!

You are experiencing a full-blown trial run of the LEGAL regulations on ALL THINGS. This covers a multitude of LAWS and Executive Orders long in place. Note also that you have a president ready to "call up thousands upon thousands of 'reserves'". That brings into FULL OPERATION "martial law" and a control over travel, privacy, transportation and ALL THAT MEANS, citizens.

Dharma and/or E.J. COULD NOT GET HOME TODAY IF THEY HAD TO.

You are witness to the unfolding of THE PLAN for the New Global Order—but based on the economic disaster just barely hidden under the coffin lids.

There is another big, big trial balloon: "We may have to shed American blood to stop the insanity...". Oh, whose blood will that be, America? Whose blood and whose lives will THAT be, World? Your loved ones, your children—OR the ones in the political game itself who never go to war? McCain is mixed with criminal elements of the Savings and Loan crimes—and yet HE is the one who states the sending of "our" soldiers to war to shed blood. (???) It is known among the men who served WITH McCain that he was, in their words, a traitor. He, it is said, betrayed his men and his country. Fellow prisoners-of-war DO NOT LIE, readers.

Note WHO proclaims “we must sacrifice” and then meaning “you sacrifice and we will lead” which in turn means: “You die, we live.”

Well, it doesn't matter what you want today, citizen. The U.S. Congress has “unanimously approved WAR”. The Executive Orders are IN PLAY and fully lawful. It is not a good day for the young man in the White House. You will watch this person age beyond recognition in the next few weeks. HE HAS NO CHOICES OF HIS OWN. There will not even be any question as there was in the Iraq war.

You in the United States have nothing to say or do about what is decided as to your fate. Others in the world find that they actually have little choice either—EVEN THOUGH THEY CERTAINLY DO!

If you had WORLD NEWS today, you would find that Malaysia acted instantly to close the banks and the market to keep it safe and secure. All the other countries were hit hard and expect it to be worse as the U.S. exchanges open on Monday—IF THEY OPEN.

Note the pleading of the market players to you to hold your stocks and bonds and don't trade except perhaps to support with your buying-in. Why would that be? Well, if any of you can look back far enough—to the 1929s and 30s when Mr. Rothschild collapsed your world, you won't have to look far for your answers.

People, Morgan Stanley is the biggest house in the financial world! Now, records, if nothing else, “are lost—destroyed”.

Look hard, WITHIN, as Bellringer would stress. Follow the money; see who has the most to gain from such an extraordinary event as Tuesday's performance. COMEX headquarters were in that building along with some of the most influential bond houses. Those towers were the heart of the financial empire. And moreover, those Big Boys can and are laughing all the way to the safe-house.

ISLAMIC WORLD

This terrorism doesn't have anything to do with religious creeds or colors. It has, now, everything to do with what stand any or all people, and “religions” in various areas, will choose to make. REMEMBER THAT THE WORDING OF THE U.S. PRESIDENT INCLUDED WAR ON EVERYONE WHO IS AGAINST THE U.S. IN ANY WAY, SHAPE OR FORM—UNDER THE GUISE OF TERRORISM'S PROS OR CONS. IS THIS NOT A WORSE FORM OF OUTRIGHT TERRORISM? THE U.S. WORDS IT AS TERRORISTS OR “HARBORING” OF TERRORISTS DECIDED BY THE U.S. TO BE THE CULPRITS, RIGHT OR WRONG.

This is very serious, readers; and watch it, Russia is backing off and restipulating their LIMITED support with “no military” action. China denounces the terrorism but does not support any war of any kind even with its membership in the World Trade Organization waving goodbye.

Well, the poor Philippines sits betwixt and between the GIANTS while being unable to even quiet the intra-turmoil of their own Republic.

NO, WE ARE NOT GOING TO “FIX IT”. If anyone wants to “fix it”, then they will do it. GOD PROVIDES A “WAY” FOR TRUTH, HONOR AND, YES, SALVATION. GOD “ACCEPTS” ATONEMENT AND GIVES “GRACE”. HE SHOWS THE BETTER WAY—BUT YOU MUST CHOOSE. HE DOES NOT MARCH IN WAR EVEN THOUGH HE WALKS BESIDE “EVERY” INDIVIDUAL IN THE TRENCHES, ON THE STREETS OR IN THE PRISON YARD.

What are YOU willing to give in return for the magnificent gifts God bestows upon you simply for the taking—which includes you giving in return and accepting responsibility for SELF?

Now, I do have a suggestion. There is a young and brilliant man in Manila. He has several very respected television programs where he interviews the very top-level personages of the Philippines. He serves ANC which is, yes, indeed, a sister-type CNN channel. He speaks for the thinking people, but helpless masa, in this great choice before this nation.

I suggest someone look up on the Internet his contact information and get in touch with him. You might tell him that we have tried every way known to man in this place to offer this assistance and we will be happy to explain how it works. It is NOT, I repeat, NOT a give-away plan—it is structured ONLY on hard value, shared, to present a foundation upon which no thing can come against in the financial wars.

I suggest that some of you look up that information for contacting this man and put it to press. No, my people here are NOT GOING TO DO THAT AND CALL IN THE HOUNDS UPON US.

Everyone goes forth to PRAY TO GOD and great vigils take place and NOBODY LISTENS TO GOD WHO RESPONDS “EVERY” TIME.

You would say that “nobody” would choose to die in such horror as happened on Tuesday last. WRONG—many CHOSE to die, for whatever reasons, that morning of Tuesday, September 11, 2001.

I remind you that the New World Order Plan 2000 was to be in full operation by the end of 2001. Where are you in your calendar today?

Many died in the conflagration BUT many also died making a conscious CHOICE to make every LAST effort to save them. Many died at the hands of a few who CHOSE TO DIE ON TUESDAY. It is truly all in the perspective. And where was God at these fateful moments? Right there IN THE CONFLAGRATION TO EASE HIS PEOPLE THROUGH THE PORTAL.

This event was nothing compared to the prior atrocities presented by mortal men. But to each involved it was 100%. How long does it take to program men to fly a planeload of innocent passengers into a building just starting a new work day? Oh, yes, indeed, it was planned exactly that way.

Mankind now looks to the MYSTICAL for “answers”. No, the answers are not in the mysticism of the moment—but in the realization of the Mystery being solved. It is easy to see the future if you simply look at the choices of MAN.

You are going to find that, of the largest companies in those towers, the REAL leadership, owners, partners, etc., will not have perished. Although you WILL find that many who were ready to bring down the house of LORDS will have perished as truth was burned alive on Tuesday.

Will MAN listen to truth of his circumstances? Yes, but it may well be after it is too late to save the day of real terror. Every dark age has been preceded by exactly this type of horror while the evil ones turned to, yes, indeed, human sacrifice to hide their evil. They call it appeasing the GODS? WHAT GODS? Can you REALLY believe that God of Love, Truth and Light would murder His children? Well, a child sacrificed on a battlefield is no different than a child whose father murders him in his bed. Do you really believe that a man at the controls of an airliner who crashes into a building is under the control of GOD OF LIGHT, LOVE OR TRUTH? Ah, but, something/someone IS IN CONTROL and that control comes from someone/something in physical intent and form. GOD CREATES—EVIL DESTROYS—and evil presented its very face in the energy which poured from those Twin Towers on Tuesday morning last.

I would hope that you turn your thoughts just briefly to another ongoing and ceaseless bombardment to your senses over one, Gary Condit, INTELLIGENCE committee person, and a young Jewish girl wanting to be in the Intelligence service. You might look at that far differently TODAY in hindsight and probabilities of what was in Condit's world for which he has paid very, very dearly, as has everyone else around him.

The point you are to believe is that there was NO INTELLIGENCE available. No, that is not true, just as Pearl Harbor was a lie as presented to you long ago and far away. The program was shared by participants in a “strip bar” in Florida just on the night of the tenth of September—this week. And you truly think some person in a hide-out in outrageous outback of Afghanistan had hands-on planning of such an elaborate plan of international import as happened in New York City—and without any intelligence slippage? Wake up, World. Clues are all around you as you choose to ignore them.

And while you lick your own wounds, wherever you are today, pray a bit for such as the Philippines where change CAN YET FIND POSITIVE FREEDOM. The facts are that Filipinos and Filipinas are scattered by the millions AROUND the globe as they have been sent to serve others to produce money and literally support the Philippines. They have become the servants of the world and they can't even come home; there is no livelihood here. They serve in the U.S. AND among those who are enemies of the U.S. Filipinos are going to get bombed no matter who is chosen as the enemy or the friend and this is REAL terror, my friends.

God hears and offers the way—but, those in power will not listen—for they themselves are so steeped in the evil trap that they are unwilling to run the risk FOR GOODNESS instead of remaining in the trap waiting for their own demise while they claim to pray to God for salvation.

Those who can see farthest are the ones in the most load of pain today, people, for patriotism cannot blot out the realization of the magnitude of possibilities presented this day. Each is overwhelmed by the impact on the senses—and then, reason takes some amount of power from the sensual impact—and function begins again toward intelligent observation and action.

But you must know that this is the intended impact on you-the-masses. The Evil Empire(s) must have YOU, the masses, to support the cause and that must be accomplished while the minds are in shock so that deals are made, twisted and signed in the moment of public inability to do other than react. So, you are only beginning on the painful realization of THIS WAR JUST DECLARED, my friends.

You claimed to have reached the AGE OF REASON some many centuries ago? No, you have yet to even touch an “age of reason”. You didn’t even reach an industrial age of production. You did, however, reach an age of capability to destroy yourselves and your entire environment. You have managed to finally destroy the greatest among you in order to satisfy the needs of the evil beings among you who only live for power, ego-gratification and, yes, wealth.

You will notice that the top echelon of the New World Order commanders are on hand at every turn; Kissinger, Scowcroft, Eagleburger, the old heads of the intelligence services, old heads of state. Doesn’t this even give cause for you to wonder what is taking place here? You have seen more of Albright and Cohen than any of the current officers of your nations. My friends, the very faces of Clinton, Bush, and Carter tell you truth of the terrible burdens on their souls. Young Bush is the sacrificial lamb and it appears he knows it. It is now too late for Daddy to fix it. Evil is a trap from which the lead players are caught the most carefully as planned.

Mankind has reached an era of decision. This is NOT a decision over religions and other dogmas of mankind. It is the choice between right and wrong—and you are certainly being asked, yea demanded/obligated, to choose WRONG. Here you might think I should use the term “wrongly”—but I intentionally use the term as a noun: WRONG. You are being asked to support and spill your very blood to protect evil itself! Which will it be?

Those choices, yes, indeed, determine our further efforts in this place. Oh, chelas, the world has grown soft of being and flabby in self-gratification. Who will go to a war to fight an enemy not even KNOWN? Only the robots of manipulated mind-warp. You have been under total attack since Tuesday morning (U.S. time) across the seas and nations. This is part of the final plays of the game Plan 2000 to “take the world” and bring down evil’s enemies.

God waits patiently, even if you of God are totally impatient.

Satan doesn’t wait and he will further show his colors as the wretched scorpions crawl from their burrows seeking their own security from the vipers of this new power. They will be caught in their own ego-lies as they are caused to put their purposes on the table of light.

It is a good and strong day, my friends, and along with all others, the Children of the Rainbow will also be caused to choose their direction as they are caught in their own web of lies and misrepresentations.

Yes, YOU can make a difference—even here in the Philippines—no matter where you ARE. This is a time of decision here in this place called the Pearl of the Orient—but it is no longer up to the tiny few to address the issue.

You are witness to the attacks against us from staging Federal Raids to false publications and Global attacks. That is fine, for we have ever more reason, don’t we, to believe that what we have to offer is TRULY BLESSED?

Even INTERPOL is being brought into the mess as an intelligence focus in this international terrorism. Would this be the same INTERPOL perchance of which V.K. pronounces insider connections and turns-in our humble selves? Strange thing: No one has come to deny MY CLAIMS and/or Russell Herman’s right to his own destiny of holdings.

By the way, the advertised raids on hotels, etc., in the Philippines and in Manila—was NOT this one. The only calls our people have received are for encouragement, support and security offers. The raided hotel was directly across the way from the U.S. Embassy, called the Bayview. Interesting, isn’t it? And, yes, several, questionable persons have been stopped and those are also, interestingly enough, recognized by the U.S., not the Philippines.

Strangely enough, number two: The warnings have again gone out to all U.S. citizens to stay down, do not travel (even while the planes are not flying anyway) and make sure your Embassies know of your presence in the country. The inference, of course, is that the bin Laden groupie will somehow snatch you. Funny thing about the most numbers of hostage-taking has NOT been even associated with the Abu Sayyaf or Muslim groups in the Philippines. I repeat, it is known for years that the orchestration of the rabble groups in Mindanao are run by the CIA-Mossad and NOT SOMEBODY CALLED BIN LADEN.

However, because of the advertised connection the Philippines now has to sweat blood and possible sacrificing because of that connection while all the Indigenous and Islamic people have denounced the Abu Sayyaf. But, as you might guess, those people will probably go to CIVIL war while probably being joined by the true patrons of the Abu Sayyaf “citizens” of Mindanao when the Philippines swears allegiance to the U.S. The RP President has already given that allegiance but backs off and says that she means only for “humanitarian purposes” will be the use of the old bases and “staging areas”. Wow, all this for a distant man hiding in Afghanistan? Hardly likely, is it?

Mr. Orajana is truly correct: “The Philippines be damned if you do and damned if you don’t. The only position that is for sure is ‘damned’.”

No, being “damned” is not one of the options if you look a bit more carefully. It’s all in the choosing.

Remember that YOU choose to have God be what you perceive you want Him to be—and perhaps you could be incorrect in your perception or from your perspective. It takes more to hold the line for God than any other task in the universe—as these choices are “in your face”.

What do I suggest for you Americans? Find an Arab-American and go hug him, especially the children. Send them flowers, love and protection from the outrageous actions of the bigots. Bigots always act in evil intent and actions. Stop the insanity.

You who have stayed the course, I salute you. I appreciate your calls and love and patience as we lean upon one another for our strength and support. You have a window of time right here and right now, so let us see what we can do with it, please.

I do ask, readers, that you do not join the ranks of those who are so pious as to simply turn away from the evil presented in these acts—for that is exactly what is planned that you do. You do not have to go to war to find truth and respond effectively. False piety is far worse than having a “just” anger attack. Do you not see that it is WHAT YOU DO that matters—for that is the result of INTENT.

There needs be NO WAR OR BLOODSHED to win this confrontation, my friends. KNOW IT. But, yes, it does require your prayers, your energy and your actions, i.e., your positive choices. We will wait to see who will choose to make a difference.

Thank you, the voice heard now, may well be YOURS. We stand ready, willing and able to serve, meet or confer in the human arena. My friends, YOU have access to the networks and right now YOUR VOICE CAN BE HEARD. It is a fact that your goodly voices can drown out completely the secret and conspiratorial attacks put forth on those networks. It is up to YOU.

Is this really worth it? Indeed, it has now been over three years in this place with every opportunity to have studied, investigated and, yea, even blocked, our program. It is valid because, and get it straight, it is backed by value being held already. This is not a give-away program; we offer a joint venture and, yes, it is backed by the United States of America through and by the Constitution of that Federation and Republic of said states within the “u”nited States of America. It is not a “GAIA” project of some kind—it is a living program in brotherhood and that is the thing that makes us dangerous to the evil mongers.

You have asked me to write, for you want brotherhood and that touch across the space and time that links us all to one another. We have to learn, however, our weakest links—for our tasks are large and require that we all do that which moves forward, ever how each can share.

I can promise you that if just enough of you call on Gene Orajana, even if you are in downtown Manila—you will be heard and he will call GAIA “if you insist”. We do not hide, we stay in privacy, by request, to maintain security. It is no longer appropriate to “die for” the Filipinos or anyone else—it is a time of “LIVING FOR...”. Your backs may well seem “against the wall” but that is only so until you use your minds and remove the wall which makes the corner out of which there appears to be no escape. The very entrapment may well be the recognition of your way to freedom. There is always a way!

Look at what you do, right now, IN THE NAME OF GOD!

WHO has told you WHO is your target for hate—your enemy? No, the ones you have named have claimed NO INVOLVEMENT. WHO HAS OFFERED YOU THIS FALSE BILL OF GOODS? WELL, KEEP WATCHING—THEY WILL OVERPLAY THEIR HANDS; THE CLUES WILL BE SPOTTED AS TO THE EVIL INTENT AND DEEDS. MAN WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO SEE AND KNOW TRUTH. WHAT HE DOES WITH THAT KNOWLEDGE REMAINS TO BE PLAYED OUT ON THE STAGE OF LIFE.

I AM THAT YOU MIGHT BE,

Fr. ^hATONⁿ (You certainly may call me “Dad”—for in that love and respect, I am honored beyond all others. If you call me friend, know that I shall be true to that recognition—forever. Forever, by the way, is a very long time.)

P.S.: We can do this job, Friends.

dharna

Father-And-Son PLAN: NEW WORLD ORDER—NOW

9/20/01—#1 (15-035)

RE: GOLD, AS IN CONFISCATION AND OTHER DASTARDLY THINGS OF THE DAY

BIG BROTHER IS READY,
WILLING AND ABLE. ARE YOU?

Hatonn—You are going to whine “you didn’t warn us”! But indeed we have written voluminously about this VERY topic.

I had to wait to write THIS message until information would leak out enough to secure my secretary.

And believe me, Israel celebrated yesterday’s New Year in joy surpassing all past glories.

The information, however, now making the rounds and is quite true, is that Israelis were present and rejoicing at the World Trade Center. This is not simply leakage. It is now found to be TRUTH. So much so, in fact, that it is now known that they placed into play, directly, the Osama bin Laden tale of insanity. This is being realized around the globe as we speak here and it is falling on very important ears as you GO TO WAR. America, you will end up in disaster while your nation will now fall to military control.

Why would the Jewish people be happy when so many of their own were sacrificed? They weren’t! A few “acceptable losses” are representative of those which are always expendable. No important IBC major players were “sacrificed”.

IN FACT, WHERE ARE THOSE NEARLY 6,000 PEOPLE MISSING? HAS EVERYONE FORGOTTEN THAT THERE WERE “AT LEAST” SEVEN LEVELS OF USEFUL SPACE UNDERGROUND, INCLUDING A SUBWAY SYSTEM WHICH HAD A STATION AT THAT WTC SITE? THIS IS ALL BEGINNING TO LOOK VERY, VERY BAD IN EVERY WAY POSSIBLE.

“They” (being the New World Order of Insanity) are preparing as we write to instigate the plan already in format, for taking whatever is necessary to salvage the empty DOLLAR.

GOLD—THE LAST SALVAGE

Dharma has dreaded this writing more than just about any we have offered. THE WORLD IS IN FORECLOSURE BY THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING CARTEL (IBC). It is now time to pay up, good citizens—globally. And still those who could salvage their holdings WAIT and apparently it will be until too late.

In a foreclosure action, everything pledged against the debt in point, be it mortgage or national minerals, are simply TAKEN against the debt. HOW MUCH DO YOU OWE?

Some will say, “I owe nobody!” (and smile). No, citizens, your government has placed everything including YOUR labor against the debts. And guess what: U.S.A. is the biggest debtor nation ON THE GLOBE! YOU ACTUALLY HAVE HAD YOUR VERY SOULS PLACED AS COLLATERAL AGAINST THE NATIONAL DEBT. NOW IT IS COLLECTION TIME! EVERYTHING IS IN PLACE, INCLUDING A WAR TO GIVE OVER POWERS OF EXECUTIVE ORDER TO THE HEADS OF STATE. IT IS ALL “DONE”, PEOPLE, AND YOU HAVE BEEN TOLD AND SOLD OUT EVERY INCH BY MISERABLE INCH. AND, YES, YOU WILL ALLOW IT TO HAPPEN BECAUSE YOU HAVE BEEN SOLD OUT AND WHAT YOU AS A CITIZEN WISH NO LONGER MATTERS AND THERE ARE TROOPS OUT THERE TO STOP YOU IF YOU TRY TO BLOCK THE INSANITY BEFORE YOU.

“BUT THEY CAN’T TAKE MY GOLD,” will be the wail! Oh, yes, they can, AND HAVE DONE SO, but where you no longer hold very much in value it won’t be enough to offset much of anything.

They also have to do this, for there is always a token payment and that will probably be put right back down to the level of what the IMF pays—$35 TOPS. Do you see how handy it is to own the world?

The only thing that won’t be “confiscated” is that which is collateral—of course, to the IBC.

You who work on typical Philippine time, will undoubtedly wait your way out of every last peso you ever hoped to gain by holding or waiting for a higher price.

I would remind you local Filipinos who “hold” gold, you had best get it into security.

How? Well, there is a plan which YOU must accomplish.

The hard facts are that all the “stash” of gold, even covered gold, are located and pinpointed by satellite systems which will be USED—count on it.

We have tried to offer a GAIA program which would pay going bank prices, less a processor percentage, immediately payable at transaction. Then when established in the bank the gold is immediately shifted to COLLATERAL to insure ability to pay $400 per ounce when the price of gold reaches a price of $400.

As I stated above, the only security you will have for your gold is as collateral against which funds are issued against that gold and which would, by inserting that value into the bank, money (currency) can be issued against it as with any reserve.

No, it is not going to push out, by default, the GAIA instruments as to backing. GAIA holds PRE-FEDERAL RESERVE instruments guaranteed by the FED as owed by the Treasury of the United States of America.

I’m sorry, readers, the government(s) CAN do anything they wish but I remind you—they do not usually wish to do that which costs them as in confiscating their own collateral.

The Philippines, as a very good example, has shipped off over 96% of the nation’s holdings in the Central Bank. (This amount is given directly from the Central Bank Governor.) THAT IS GONE WITH NO WAY TO GET IT BACK!

All that nice gold that everybody claims is “Marcos gold”, is likewise GONE. It has been used, shifted around—and the banks will simply “go broke” if necessary. This is massive bankruptcy time. The banks will have used that gold to make money on credit lending, trading values and, yes, simply shipped it out unlawfully. BUT, WHAT CAN YOU DO? ABSOLUTELY NOTHING.

No, GAIA is NOT “simply” based on dollars. GAIA funds are against GOLD and, therefore, it is the price of gold anywhere in any currency. We only account it in dollars. This is sound debt of the U.S. Treasury of which we speak here.

The point is to get your holdings into security and project funding issued against the gold collateral to make sure both the gold is secured in place AND project funds can be made available.

You can next place your bets on the realization that as the gold is gathered into the controllers’ coffers, the price will be incredibly high to cover whatever is necessary in the currency, whatever the World Leaders determine to be the currency of the global community. YOU, however, will not be able to enjoy that circumstance.

TO YOU WHO WOULD RUN AWAY?

How do you plan to accomplish that trick? NOTE the most damaged system around—THE AIRLINES! So, you want to fly? Oh, my. How much longer with the cutbacks are you going to go anywhere? Moreover, the government has just gained total control over YOUR BEING. YOU, MY FRIENDS, WILL DO EXACTLY WHAT BIG BROTHER TELLS YOU TO DO!

There is a tiny window open here where much could be changed and some measure of disaster averted but “time” is short—and the longer the world can be kept in “shock”, the less you will be able to function clearly.

The final intention is either you do what is mandated or you WILL be shot!

Who will join the U.S. in the war in Afghanistan? Well, the sides are being set right now. The word games are on but the facts are it is the sorting phase. The U.S. HARBORS the most dastardly terrorist organizations on the globe today. It is not a good day for freedom. And worse for you, it took less than a week to pull off the final act before the New Phase.

Watch for the new depopulation program ready to open at your local theaters, drama lovers. Moreover, it will all be in sham coverings because Satan never wants to be uncovered and only ego-man wants recognition.

WHAT DO I SUGGEST?

Well, readers, I will not jeopardize my people to repeat it. This is far worse than simply telling you what MIGHT help your immune system. No thank you.

We will continue to work diligently to cover what we can to secure some assets as already recognized which could then keep the farm and grain in protection. We can then also handle the paper expenses, if we can function long enough to accomplish our task here. Until then, we have to ask YOU to keep it together.

Some nations can certainly turn this around but they will have to have full resources available.

What about places like Papua New Guinea, this baby nation cast into a new type of civilization as well as under the thumbs of the IBC? Well, this is their opportunity to gain security, take control of their own nation, pay off the debts and HOLD.

You will note, today, that the Asian big players are gaining on their market reports, while the U.S. dives. HOPE REMAINS THE ETERNAL GIFT UNTO MAN.

A notable saying is: "What happens next is anybody's guess." No, indeed no, it is not a "guess", good citizens. You don't have to lose to this Global beast, but it appears that you will make wrong decisions and be too late to right them. Your Congress did it to you right in the U.S. last week. Full powers now rest with the President.

Moreover, in the Philippines it is set to go the same way—according to the whims of that U.S.A. order to conform.

Will God stop its coming down? NO, God sent the solution three years ago and YOU have pulled tricks and games and have all but run selves out of time—haven't you?

You have placed the future of your globe into the hands of the SON of the man who told you that he would bring forth the NEW WORLD ORDER. So be it.

We have offered a plan that can and would salvage you but when will you, who can, reach out and use it? Well, it is truly up to you—and my people can't do a thing more about it.

When the manipulated prices of gold dropped years ago, the banks made their move to capture any gold collateral around. More than that, in our instance, the people themselves insured the loss by tying up the very lifeline and have continued to try to suck dry all possibilities of good outcome. When will man ever learn? Perhaps never—and, readers, "never" is a very long time.

You LIVE in a physical world among physically necessary things and atmosphere. You CANNOT live simultaneously in an "only" spiritual dimension, so you had best give some careful thought to this problem at hand.

The U.S. government has told you in every visible way necessary—from chemtrails in your heavens to manipulation of your assets—that you have no control AS IS. And, your brethren who realized these things have tried to warn you—and you let them be pawns in the big chess game of "getcha".

Will Ekkers just come/go home? Well, perhaps, and that would be quite soon leaving unfinished business. Today, however, the problem is in the airlines—even the global airlines are in great danger of folding and movement is all but impossible. People caught in the U.S. who are citizens here are just NOW making it back home.

The parties depending on information flow from the U.S. FBI can't even get the information needed for the legal cases now before the Philippine Senate because of the distraction of the FBI to other bigger things.

And what is the FBI finding as to bombings, etc? PLANTED information and evidence—exactly as planned to distract from the truth of the insanity afoot. It is all unfolding—IF YOU JUST WATCH THAT STUPID BOOB-TUBE IN YOUR LIVING SPACE. YOU HAVE TO, HOWEVER, WATCH THE SMALL PRINT RUNNING IGNORED ACROSS THE BOTTOM OF THE SCREEN.

You, World, are extremely vulnerable. GOD grants HIS Grace—but will you be wise enough to accept it?

Yes, enough for this morning and, yes, I know this job is "much"—but no, it is not "too" much.

I hope you will give careful thought to this and WATCH FOR THE CLUES.

I cherish you and, yes, we CAN do it well—if given the opportunity.—GCH

dharmā

Marching The Public Off To The Precipice Of War

9/17/01—#1 (15-032)

IN THE PHILIPPINES

GOD BLESS PLANET EARTH! AND, MAY THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA HAVE WISDOM IN THIS THEIR TIME OF GREATEST NEED. YOU ARE ABOUT TO BLUNDER OFF INTO THAT NEW CONSTITUTION OF THE NEW WORLD ORDER WHERE THE CONTROLLERS DEFINE WHATEVER THEY WISH AS THEY WISH TO DEFINE IT—INCLUDING TERRORISM

WHAT IS TERRORISM?

Hatonn—You don't even, as man, have any idea what you do. In the height of demanded flag-waving, you do not even demand a definition of terrorism—and you cannot see that, in fact, the super powers do the greatest acts of terrorism. It all depends on your vantage point, doesn't it?

The U.S. is NOW in power to declare whatever happens or doesn't happen—as acts of terror. It is left in the hands of the controllers. The New World Order is achieving its ends as we write and YOU will have done it.

Do I suggest you "fight"? NO, I do not. You do not even know what or how to "fight".

I DO suggest that we continue right on down the pathway to presenting goodness and opportunity where we can do so—because that is the only way you can win a war in this day against these masters of power.

Please note that the U.S. Congress didn't even give opportunity for YOU-THE-PEOPLE to settle into "reason" as they marched you through one step following another right into a DECLARED WAR. The government has total control NOW. Don't misunderstand me—you have now relinquished all your sovereign rights and have done so under Constitutional Law. It may well not be the Constitution you THINK you follow—but nonetheless it IS THE LAW.

FACE IT, CITIZENS

Do you REALLY think that a passport of a pilot that hit that tower would actually be FOUND blocks from the Trade Center? People, you are dupes. You have just witnessed the greatest crime pulled on humanity thus far in the name of terrorism yet conjured. And, the results are EXACTLY as planned.

And by the way, before this is over, the one you call bin Laden will be finally crucified so that the world will be divided forever more.

The Elite money-changers have to HAVE A WAR and nothing else will do. That means that you have to have excuse to have that war at any cost to you-the-people. You want revenge, not justice. And, no, I certainly do not condone such preachings as from one, bin Laden—but remember something: An obscure single person from a cave in Afghanistan COULD NOT HAVE POSSIBLY DONE THE TRADE CENTER DEED! It is impossible—but you have to have a target, don't you? Without a target you won't fight as slave-troops.

The Philippines as a whole are in one big mess, observers, as it is realized that the U.S. can actually hit in TERROR attacks everything from Southern Mindanao to the banking system and the Money-Laundering deviants.

The U.S. won't even help clean up the toxic "eat the people alive" mess they left and yet will now be granted the right to fully utilize those old bases to STAGE ATTACKS. THAT is what is presented!

In the Philippines, as an example, the President spoke up and gave away the farm. Oh, "it is only for HUMANITARIAN purposes," she says—but WHO decides what is terrorism and what is humanitarian?

The whole world is in witness of media control as only CNN is 24-7, without break, telling every step of the takeover of you-the-people. You have now experienced full mind-control of YOURSELVES.

Operation Noble Eagle? No wonder your own noble eagle weeps!

What choices are there? At present very few. About the only reasonable thing that could be considered would be to declare neutrality—for here is where the lines are set, regardless of what anyone would like to believe. And, no, we certainly do not offer such input.

Our AGREEMENTS are to be apolitical and keep out of any such participation. Our people, as you can see, are also the targets of the terrorists in even bin Laden's own declaration of "death to all Americans".

The Abu Sayyaf in Mindanao (bin Laden's acclaimed group) still holds two American missionaries and many Filipinos.

This is one reason Dr. Young's presentation of "brilliant journalism and investigative expertise" as to a Mindanao paper's write-up by one, Mr. Confesor is so absurd.

Ekkers have not so much as set foot in Mindanao, much less the city of Davao as claimed several times in that article. Since November of 1998 Ekkers have not traveled more than 10 blocks in any direction from this hotel in Makati, Metro Manila, Philippines, except to fly to Hong Kong and back twice to renew passports and a quick trip home to recover the paper.

We offer no war and certainly no con-games. Everything is open and totally "transparent".

PAY ATTENTION WHILE MAKING YOUR OWN CHOICES

One of the major exchanges of use of Pakistan space IS TO DROP ALL DEBTS AS OWED. Is that not bargaining with the biggest tool there IS? Ah, indeed, the IMF/WB.

But, you see, there doesn't need to be an IMF or World Bank. Change the name, change the game a bit—and you have let the purchase of your own slavery take place.

Do you not see that with just the $40 billion dollars YOU IN THE U.S. are giving to the New York debacle PAYS OFF AT LEAST $20 BILLION TO ONE.

NOT BAD FOR THE ELITE MANIPULATORS OF THE ECONOMIC CARTEL. AND NOW, YOU WILL HAVE THE ENTIRE WORLD MILITARY AT THE U.S. DISPOSAL TO SECURE THEIR POSITIONS.

Why do you really think the troops are being called? To turn total 100% control over to the Government and bring the U.S. under Martial Law to insure citizens do not get out of control in any "objections" to whatever comes down next. It has been the Plan 2000 for centuries! You bit and so be it. Undoing this one is not going to happen. Your sovereignty just bit the dust with the deliberate demolition of those buildings in the U.S.

You might share a bit of side distraction from today's Philippine papers. One "World News" article admonishes everyone to KNOW that "the United States remains under threat of more devastating attacks, targeting its capital or other cities as it tries to wage war against terrorism, two lawmakers, familiar with national security matters warned late Saturday."

Now, in the next column over: "U.S. terror attacks were 'inside job'." And this comes from Baghdad, Iraq (also from the Associated Press). "The terror attacks on the United States were "an inside job" and a sign of America's collapse, Iraqi Vice President Taha Yassin Ramadan said in an interview published yesterday.

"The jetliner suicide bombings were 'undoubtedly an inside job which heralds the beginning of the collapse (of the United States) from within,' Ramadan told the weekly Al-Rai."

Well, it is obvious if you just look around you. Within mere hours they have found the so-called guilty parties—already had them under surveillance, so it is said by the FBI, etc. Oh, really? Then why did these things happen—and without warning? Doesn't look good, does it?

I also would point out that not a single engineer witnessing just the pictures doesn't fully believe there were staged explosives INSIDE those towers which brought them down. [MM: "Faces Stained By Tears", by John Dorshner, Knight Ridder Newspapers, 9/16/01: "The south tower of the World Trade Center, all 110 floors of it, came crashing down, so straight and neat that several witnesses thought it looked like it had been planned by a demolition crew."]

The other obvious contradiction is that you were dealing with kerosene and not high-octane fuel, even though the planes were loaded to the top. But what happens to heat? It rises, doesn't it? Therefore, even in the most perfect of terrible circumstances, there would have been devastation ABOVE IMPACT but below it most everyone should have found safety.

WHERE WERE RESCUE HELICOPTERS? THE OBVIOUS PLACE TO RUN ABOVE THE IMPACT AREA WAS TO THE ROOFTOPS—BUT THERE WERE NO 'COPTERS TO PICK ANY SURVIVORS OFF THAT ROOF—NOR DID YOU SEE PEOPLE ON THE ROOF WHICH INDICATES "INABILITY" TO GET TO THE ROOF BECAUSE OF LOCKED PASSAGES.

AND ALREADY THE PRICE OF THOSE BUILDINGS IS BEING PAID FOR OVER AND OVER AGAIN. THANK YOU, TAXPAYERS.

ISRAEL AND PALESTINE

What now? Well, the heads of Israel are declaring Arafat to be the same as terrorist bin Laden. You read the handwriting.

Is it not obvious that in the pressures, both financial and in helplessness, anyone who does not bow to the King of Beasts—the U.S. financial cartel and the British Crown—will be "on the other side"? Will the religious entities Other than Judeo-Christian, as defined by the Crown, sit still for demolition of their very lives—even those Buddhists and Hindus? THIS IS A VERY LARGE THING WHICH HAS COME TO PASS.

No, I will not tell you what to do. It is time you looked around you and realized you fiddled while your Rome burned down around you and, no, just Knowing Truth is not enough—but it ends up being about all you might have as solace. Look at facts, friends, there will not even be a Canada in which to seek asylum in "this war" just declared. You have just manifested the nowhere to run and certainly no place to hide.

WELCOME TO HELL

Sometimes it does, yes, come with hellfire and brimstone—and ultimately with a LOT of regrets. Sometimes, as Pogo said: "I have found the enemy and it is me." In less than 48 hours the U.S. has been railroaded into a global WAR (that other three-letter word). So, as well as to Hell, welcome to World War III. Welcome, also, to the New World Order!

Will I incite, somehow, to rebellion or insurgency? Absolutely NOT. You have made your choices, we will hold strong in love and understanding, but you have made choices that we cannot "undo" after the horses are dead and the barn burned. I note that many of you would rather argue over tunnels under Mt. Shasta than in realization of circumstances.

We will, in our own efforts, go as far as is possible but we will NOT give cause for anyone to come against us—for we offer nothing unworthy nor even questionable as to other than totally lawful exchange. Oh, would it be, as well, useful to the United States of America. Where is V.K. now? And HOW can you cause the New World Order to return gold to your shores and your treasury? DO NOT EXPECT SOME GOD OF LIGHT TO PLAY IN THAT BIASED GAME OF "YOUR SIDE"—"THEIR SIDE".

Is it less terroristic to bomb women and children in Baghdad or Afghanistan than in the World Trade Center? How so—that is, IF YOU WERE GOD? Oh, and by the way, that nasty old Taliban bunch has a whole bunch of "Christians" ON TRIAL AS WE SPEAK. What is the U.S. going to do about that when they try to blast the caves of bin Laden off the globe?

And bargain? Well, Pakistan will "deal" in exchange for dropping foreign debts—with an interesting number of 30. Of course, it is now billions of $$$ instead of pieces of silver.

Ah, but "we have been shown that...". What have you "been shown"? You have been shown exactly what you are intended to see, hear and sense—right down to your reactions as planned.

LISTEN to your fellow citizens who volunteered the time and selves to go help in New York. They are not allowed to participate. The clean-up HAS BEEN CONTRACTED TO CONSTRUCTION CORPORATIONS AND BOODLES OF MONEY IS SUPPLIED TO, YES, INDEED, KEEP THE VOLUNTEERS "OUT". IT IS NOT INTENDED THAT ANY "CITIZENS" BE IN A POSITION TO SEE WHAT TOOK PLACE ON TUESDAY.

You can also KNOW that the damaged buildings will either be under strip repair or pulled down immediately upon a bit of time under the guise of "unsafe". No, it is because the adjacent buildings to the Trade Center bear the tell-tale wounds of a deliberate set of detonation of explosives in the mid-section of the Towers.

Certainly, you can now rest assured, can't you, that to kill McVeigh you would then be somehow safe? Well, so be it.

Wow, whoever would have thought that the U.S. was popular enough to have enough pre-available flags to blanket not just the U.S. but the globe? Now, that was marketing genius at work.

What do I suggest for your safety? Keep prepared to "survival" needs in emergencies, and wrap yourselves in your flag as tight as it possible and keep your heads down. You do not have to fight or switch—for you are probably in for a long haul this time, for remember, the war has only just been joined and other nations cannot be controlled instantly. And, when CNN goes back to programming, the fan is going to probably blow quite differently in every direction. Note the difference in your reasoning mind the minute you turn off the control box. A steady head, hand and heart will serve you well—IN WISDOM!

TYRE

I suggest that you study the article from the News Desk in CONTACT about the Phoenicians and Alexander the Great. In that realization you might consider that we are continuing to put the rocks into the building of a "mole" (causeway) to reach "Tyre". We will, therefore, not need to consider bloodshed or conquering of anyone or thing. Or will you just wait until some meteorite hits and, like the dinosaurs, knocks you into oblivion?

What religion am I? ALL and NONE. You choose that which you will—but know that it WILL ultimately be used against you, for that is also a part of the New World Order, One World Religion.

God tells you, according to the scriptures: "Yea though I walk through the valley of shadows, I will fear not for Thou art with me and I will not fear evil...". I suggest, however, that you respect evil lest you do foolish things in your blindness. You certainly do not have to become evil to recognize it. Neither may you form narrow opinions and pronounce them as MINE. Remember, GOD IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER! Act in REVENGE and you shall surely be sorry. Act in wisdom and you shall surely prevail. The choice is up to you and by all means you MUST KNOW YOUR ENEMY right after you look carefully in the mirror and do not, please, ask God for that which is WRONG in your quest for your own ego-needs. God serves the Muslim as the Christian; the Jewish people as well as the people of the Great Spirit. And, friends, surprisingly enough, this has nothing to do with forgiveness or actually, atonement, it is the way it IS. Don't stand around feeding the lions or asking the tiger to dinner on you. Furthermore, intelligence and wisdom say to walk quietly AROUND the viper else there will remain no remnant. So be it.

I will leave this now, for many things are on our table this day.

God is LOVE, abundance, truth and all things. KNOW IT and, please, above all, try not to waste time blaming God for your own errors and choices. You cannot make progress in the same step as in your "blame placing" to protect self. Look for the "cause"; never mind the blame, for in that way TRUTH can come forth.

Salu, in the Pure Light and 100% Potential of our Creator, Hatonn

dharmā

Doris' Corner

9/20/01—#1 (15-035)

By Doris & E.J. Ekker

RE: LETTER HOME

IT MAY BE HOW IT ENDS THAT IS MOST IMPORTANT, BUT THE JOURNEY THERE CERTAINLY "SEEMS" FILLED WITH POTHOLE. AND IT SEEMS THE WORLD HAS ALL 18 WHEELS IN INDIVIDUAL POTHOLE.

We haven't been able to find conclusions to exactly what will be happening on a "daily basis" here in the Philippines. We do know that Senate hearings on ongoing charges against involved heads of the most important people in any nation, the National Police and the National military, are postponed a week because the FBI in the U.S. is otherwise distracted. And if that is not enough, we find out, surely enough, that it is settling down to the Mossad being mostly behind the outrageous happenings at the New York and Washington "landing sites".

Now it appears the airlines will fold and simply have to be absorbed by the Big Boys—beats nationalization I suppose—and we are "had", friends.

Now comes the information spewing up from the ones who claim to know (we, being the last to know), that confiscation and foreclosure loom on every front in the U.S. That means, of course, around the world if it can be pulled off against the gullible. The Pharisees have about done it again while we applaud the show-and-tell.

No, I don't feel good about much of anything today and I can assure you that there is no panic FOR WAR in this place. The people cannot get much worse off but they know that it will be far worse and probably that will happen to them very quickly.

Here, the hotels (and, no, not just the old ones like Gilarmi) are talking about bankruptcy and closure as business travel is already slowed to a crawl and tourists have long since quit daring to come to this lawless state.

The only oil reserves are in a facility which, if blown, would also bring down the central government house, Malacañang, (a large oil refinery and tank farm in the middle of Manila) and nobody can figure where to get funds to afford to move it.

It is now found that the oil and gas reserves which would save the nation's supply belong to the International Oil Cartel. (Surprise!)

Perhaps the statement on Gene Orejana's program was correct after all: "Be damned either way."

Indeed, the latest terrorist acts are cheap, relative to that which will follow at NO cost at all.

Yes, we DO know what to do but it is as if everyone and thing is frozen in time, space and ability to function. Through only four airliners the world has been brought to its knees or at the least to a consideration who will be in this WAR the U.S. claims as the New War, Operation Noble Eagle (Noble Eagle couldn't fly, so they changed it to Infinite Justice?). How quickly we forget our lessons and no matter how we think we are prepared—how little we are.

What will "we" do? We can't yet tell, so we will keep right on as long as we can—we can't even get home this week and decisions are being made about travel as the governments and businessmen make their allowances. We need to finish this job here because if we don't, then the future is even bleaker, even in the U.S.

Some of these things we turned over to God and now we leave them there. Our most obvious claim to game is to turn them over and then immediately grab them back. Well, this is too big for us and yet total perfection in the plan as to possibilities laid forth here. But the Filipinos are now going to have to produce instead of boast. It is time to perform or forever lose what they claim to have. Surely, lots of it is just a game but most of it is very real, indeed.

Ones down South are waiting to see what unfolds, for they can still take their holdings to such as Malaysia—but that will surely separate and devastate the Philippines unless some agreements and understandings can be picked up right away.

If the U.S. does what is expected, the Philippines is going to go on the block because of the Abu Sayyaf in Mindanao still holding a couple of U.S. Missionaries as hostage.

This group has long ago severed any ties with such as bin Laden but have maintained close ties and commerce with the CIA-Mossad. These are just too difficult to consider but well known by "everybody" here and abroad.

This place, as you know, is on the very short list of outrageous money laundering and ranks fourth in the drug trade. Not good for freedom in Manila, friends. And, moreover, our program can't really function until we can demand some transparency in transactions so that there can be accountability and security.

This world has reached a very low low, it seems to me. This is extremely well represented in this little notice Two-by sent today:

[QUOTING ORLANDO SENTINEL, Sept. 19, 2001:]

GLASS CONFESSIONALS PLANNED

LONDON—The musty confines of the traditional wooden confessional will give way to glass boxes in an effort by the Roman Catholic Church in England and Wales to prevent child sex abuse. Parishioner and priest will be visible during the act of contrition but the booths will be soundproof [H: But bugged of course.], a church spokesman said Tuesday. The move comes after a series of sex scandals involving Catholic priests. Bishops in England and Wales will implement all 83 recommendations made after a year-long probe. [END OF QUOTING]

By the way, let's look at something else just come to our attention. We have someone very close to us in a rehabilitation program and the recent writings on Co-dependency ARE NOT ALLOWED FOR HER VIEWING, censored and returned to sender. Is anyone but me scared silly?

The whole program being experienced is a full year of total indoctrination into a religious doctrine where the "inmates" are in prayer every minute they aren't in religious classes. So, which is worse, the disease or the so-called cure? My goodness, a 46-year-old woman with grown children spends her time reciting biblical verses and memorizing the books of the Bible for testing at the end of the week. NO ADVERSE INFORMATION IS ALLOWED—PERIOD. Yes, indeed, we have come a long way and not a thing to do about it! Meanwhile, our Rome burns and we can't do anything about that either. And, no, just KNOWING is not enough, except to perhaps realize what "could have been".

We have certainly now entered the age of absolute control of Big Brother over the lifelines of our country from transportation and commerce to communications and you name it. They are even going to tell people where they will work—welcome to 2001 Life Odyssey.

The heart says that perhaps our prior enemies will be smart enough to not fall for the game under way, but that doesn't mean we won't be at total war before we turn around twice—and the enemies of the U.S. are going to be formidable opponents this go around because they are going to be the soul enemies of Israel.

This will obviously not "just" be a war on terrorism. And I don't know about you but THIS is terrorism against us—and not Osama bin Laden, by us. Oh, Pogo, how right you were, and too late smart as well!

We have brought the horses to the water but we can't make them drink—and ultimately I suppose we will find out how long the camels can go without a drink. Certainly, the blood sacrifices in the U.S. should have appeased the volcano gods for the week but obviously that is not so—confound those nasty gods.

The first plans in 1995 to do these terrorist acts were to use mostly PAL airliners. Wow, doesn't that just make us want to hop aboard and head East to the land of "Once Upon a Time there was a...". Well, and the good news? We don't have anything left to take away from us, so bankruptcy sounds pretty good.

Facts are, however, that we plan to stick right with this and get it working. We can lick our wounds later—if you will just keep bandaging the wounded on your end. I would guess that there will be a lotta welfare goin' on pretty soon as they close down "just" the airline industries. I would guess that manufacturing jobs may well increase at the fighter builders and, of course, in the body-bag manufacturing industry.

E.J. is extremely busy—just trying to get the phone to work—so he can add what he wishes when he finds time.

I am not as distressed overall as it may come across to you who read this. Every time something else happens it seems to open a major opportunity window along with ability to look at the view from the mountain, or highrise as may be. At least we now see why this has to be done HERE, for there is no way in the U.S., although good luck to V.K. et al., at Bellringing. You see, they have nothing on which to build the program—paper gold just gets no attention! So be it, and as Cmdr. would say, Selah.

I am a bit like Two-by-Six, now Two-by, it certainly takes a ton or two of bricks to the side of the head to get the picture. May we just be gifted with life long enough to get it done.

I don't think the Filipinos even begin to realize how much rests on their backs in this day of infamy. And, friends, that is certainly between God and them—we have presented the way; they say they "have it" and we have to now let them and God.

It is true, though, at the bottom of our hearts there is pure JOY because we DO HAVE hope of such abundance and possibility as to boggle the negative flow of "downness". You can't move down at the same time you have started UP and the potential of UP is incredibly ready to go. But it is GOD who must touch the hearts of the necessary receivers. HE has not let us down yet—even though, just like you, I expect it every moment; but I'm getting better as we watch miracle after miracle take place before us.

We are so grateful for the things that have come to us from breathing help to pictures of little birds in a garden. Della, the angel glows in the radiance of the crystal Jean and John sent. I'm sorry I couldn't send those things to John but God is sufficient without the "things". I have a little red laser pointer that Charles gave me over here and when shown into the heart of that crystal blossom, the room comes ALIVE and is incredibly and amazingly beautiful.

And in the very nick of time I found some See's candy and a bit of chocolate from Lester in New Zealand that I had shrink-wrapped two Christmas-times ago. I found it by tracking mouse tracks and there it was, hardly touched by the mouse, opened it and we actually proclaimed it GOOD. Now, Diane sent me her vacuum apparatus since mine died, and we are back in business. It is, perhaps after all, the little things. However, it is the too little clothes that bring us back to reality.

Don't I remember, though, that we were told that we chubbies can live longer on our fat than you skinny, beautiful people? Eat your heart out, Twiggy.

We DO most certainly see "a way" and all we need do is tip these people off their dimes. And THAT, after all, is basically E.J.'s business job so he needs that fortification.

I'll tell you something, that Spelt bread-baking is bringing notice around here. The young man was agog when he came to AGAIN repair the printer. I guess he is off now to get another "head", whatever that means, but it IS necessary to have a printer it seems. And by the way, these youngsters are far more informed than we would even guess, as some of their parents and elders know the whole dastardly thing. We are often stunned by the information network—and they do love coming here. We are constantly amazed at how many copies of the Committee of 300 have circulated—long before we got here. John Coleman, God bless him, has no idea what a gift of information he has given the world.

The problem is that everyone, just like the ordinary man at home, has been stripped of everything they have had while only the criminals and corrupt have continued to feed off the blood of this society. Furthermore, they may well have a tunnel full of gold but have been unable to bring it out. Oh, indeed, there is HOPE in this valley of shadows. One day, family, we shall stand honorably deserving in the sunshine of that which we have done in this time of need upon this blessed place. And, yes, we did know it would be this way—we just didn't want to believe it. You bet we still pray and may God bless America and beyond that, GOD BLESS SHAN, our little corner of the Universe. The PHOENIX is not weeping these days—it is just now able to get started! "And the cry of the Phoenix shall be heard throughout the lands as the Hosts of God bring forth the beloved covenant of God, in Light which can shine upon the lands and upon the seas..." and "Blessed are those who have stayed the course in Truth and not in false piety, for theirs shall be the kingdom of JUSTICE." and "Unto the four corners of the world shall go Truth and man will meet his measure as he IS." And at the top of the list of quotes: "The time of the Lord is at hand and Satan shall be put down into the pit—that he has prepared for himself."

Am I whistling in the dark to shore up courage? Perhaps, but it works for me and certainly I AM NOT ALONE! Let's just keep on whistlin'.

There is no way to express our personal appreciation to each and every one of you or how much we miss you and the babies growing up without our eyes to see and arms to share. And to you who think we aren't old—we expect a great grandbaby aboard next Spring and THAT is what this job is all about—a place of peace and prosperity for those babies who trusted enough to come to this place.

May this tired old team keep pulling together, for it is the only way we are going to reach the wondrous destination ahead. We do know that if the team pulls in opposing directions, or even drops out, it is all but impossible in the middle of the journey to make much progress. Please be kind to one another; we are all we have.—E-E

New World Order's Orchestrated, Outrageous Terroristic Operations

9/19/01—#1 (15-034)

RE: THE SCOPE OF TERRORISM

Hatonn—WHAT YOU "KNOW" IS ONLY ON THE SURFACE WHILE THAT BENEATH IT IS OUTRAGEOUSLY SERIOUS IN THE WORLD TODAY. IT IS NOT HARD TO UNDERSTAND; IT IS HARD TO LOOK AT THINGS AS THEY "ARE".

Please, to CONTACT: We have to ask you to get the information as is coming in through others via Ron, Rex, Mark, et al., to get as much as is possible timely into the paper.

THAT is what news is about; the timely publishing of that which is not only intriguing but, unfortunately for the global citizens, generally true. I will not pontificate nor will I act as a fortune-teller. I can see, yes, what is taking place and we have published it over many years.

TODAY IN THE TERROR DEPARTMENT

Let's not be naive, readers. You have only just begun the "fear for your very lives" part of this terrible game come now into the open. NO, IT IS NOT "OK" WHAT HAS HAPPENED IN ANY WAY, SHAPE OR FORM.

What has happened, however, is that now you are "required" to join your very basic problem-masters just to stay alive.

What was and is planned? Well, watch the "tube". What happened in New York, as I said, is only the opening bang. As backup plans there is far more terrorism both from the sky and through the populace.

CNN is showing you in every way that is possible how bad the plans REALLY are—from chemicals to biological holocaust.

IN THE PHILIPPINES

Today this is a hard place to be but since our commission focuses, at present, here, we must look at circumstances.

Without speaking more than in generalities, it is obvious that in the Philippines just about everything being claimed of "groups", terrorists, money laundering, poverty, drug trade, etc., takes place. This all holds especially true as to graft and corruption all the way through and beyond the political manipulators.

The one hand has no idea what the other is doing. First, there is a rush to commit a battalion of fighters to Pakistan on the statement that "the Filipino knows how to fight this TYPE of warfare." Oh, really? The Filipino military in conjunction with the national police can't even keep graft out of the leadership enough to catch 35 or so rebel Abu Sayyaf, trained and orchestrated by the CIA-Mossad and, yes, indeed, backed by Osama bin Laden. Money is funneled in through the global money-laundering network to make sure the terrorists can function.

Holy war? If you can find anything "holy" about any of this evil, then you are not thinking clearly. THIS IS THE WAY IT WORKS: DIVIDE AND CONQUER!

ON THE PROJECT FRONT

Of course, we are hurt and although we can continue our project, everything is shut down as to a functioning society.

I will tell you, however, you who are impatient beyond waiting for the unfolding, we must consider things intelligently and with wisdom.

As the banking system is here in the Philippines, and with all of the national gold reserves sent OUT, mostly directly to London, we can't dump more into the pipeline to flow the same clandestine route.

The bankers were going to hold up the changes and move to a Money-Laundering Bill sometime later.... We are encouraged that now the response is, "Yes, Big Brother, we will get it passed by the original deadline."

Frankly, readers, we need that law in place because there will be no secret or corruption allowed when we start GAIA into motion. We are only here to support livelihood and global brotherhood—and it will be based on gold as a monetary foundation of value. We are not going to encourage, other than trial conduits, anyone to bring gold in either to support more graft and corruption OR SUPPORT TERRORISTS. Here, and around the globe, the terrorists and the victims are GLOBAL without selection as to race, creed or color.

I repeat: TODAY the plans are still in place for a GLOBAL series of incredible terrorism if you don't get it shut down immediately.

Furthermore, all the terrorists have had to do is wait for the information schedules to be presented in your internationally controlled media.

Now, if you can realize that this is a play of evil against evil, you are correct but not necessarily "right". You are not supposed to be other than confused out of your sane minds.

This does, yes, bring into play the New World Order orchestrated and presented through outrageous terroristic operations—but it works! The accomplishment is the same either way.

The WRONG ASSUMPTION that GOD CREATOR will operate according to YOUR PERSONAL attitude or perception is not applicable to anything here. Our very closest team members prove that man is not able to move beyond his own perceptions enough to even work together. It becomes all but impossible to continue to present that which holds our own little association in focus. This is always a result of assuming, somehow, that we need to interpret or rewrite what is presented.

I do need to address something which is more recent in CONTACT regarding a request on my part that Princeton write on his perception and recent visit to Mt. Shasta where there are some new projections regarding underground tunnels and cities (inhabited) just under the surface. A book has been written by a “channel” who tells whatever she receives and presents it in published format, calling the people and place “Telos”.

Do I offer challenge? Do I offer affirmation? NEITHER. I ask YOU, if you choose to read the material, to USE YOUR LESSONS WELL to have good perspective on possibilities.

I certainly did ask that Princeton write on this matter “in his opinion and observations” but I HAVE BASED that request on that which came long before any book on Telos.

As to the material presented I would only caution readers to remember that in the Spiritual dimension of higher energy beings there is no authorized pecking order. There is no “Royal” or such as His Highness Krill, or an authority of any kind through such orders as Melchizedec, etc. We only bear a “title” to accommodate your need for identification and recognition.

The facts are that you could see the hand of ego at work in an infamous receiving from Latona-Young in which they denounced me and my receiver here for signing off and wiping out all the BS going on about rank and perception of some incredible high status to which Dad was an unacceptable label for such a high-ranking being of some kind. No, you err in your search for human recognition or physical connections—and Royal titles are foolish, indeed, and bear their own realization of human input. That, however, does not mean there are not tunnels under Mt. Shasta.

Can you understand me, readers?

I don’t care what you choose to call “me” for I AM, don’t you see? You can call me the Devil and it will not make one iota of difference as to who I actually AM. You can call me evil as I have been assigned by several that YOU know. It does not make a whit of difference, you see, for I am NOT evil and your opinion of me makes not one iota of difference—EXCEPT TO YOU. I will not become evil to suit your wishes!

It is certainly NOT easy working for me, for every individual has opinions and observations and can you see that Doris, most specifically, can seemingly HAVE NO OPINIONS OR OBSERVATIONS.

Is that fair? Life is not fair—that doesn’t change God’s goodness or justness.

It is much as with tunnels under Mt. Shasta: HAVE YOU SEEN THEM? PERSONALLY, HAVE YOU BEEN THERE AND DONE THAT? Well, neither has the author of the book in point. And yet, that is supposedly a very shallow placement from the surface. Who has disproved that they are there? Well, then, we really do not have an argument but rather, varying opinions. You can, however, base your observations on evidence and clues and still be kind, gentle and realize possibilities. I am not interested in tunnels—I AM interested in the fact that Princeton met and met with the one recognized as Germain—period. This time, last time or next time have no meaning.

If “Doris” didn’t really feel drawn to the book in point, it makes absolutely no difference to anything, for she didn’t even read the entire volume and got stopped right up front at the Royal order of titles—and that is no more or less—and has nothing to do with my request that Princeton write his experiences. Doris is not “put down”, for she simply wishes no input at all. A lot of experiences FROM THAT AREA OF MT. SHASTA brought her into my service.

Each individual must discern for selves, judge actions and information FOR SELF. Certainly, Doris has no time to read all the information that flows through even in an off day to make an informed decision about what she thinks. We have a focus on a massive job to be accomplished and the more tunnels there are under Mt. Shasta, California then perhaps the more secure places to run for cover. I do suggest you be prepared to take your own lunch, however.

And, no, Doris has seen no write-up and is truly uninformed about why I am referring to this matter. Remember that you have just had a massive strike against all material systems and the mail has been interrupted. UPS is about the only carrier which has managed to maintain any semblance of schedule to the Philippines from the U.S. and even with the interruption did run right on time to make up for the lost air times.

SECURITY

It is not to argue over information and opinions. It is to realize that you must have realization that things are quite bad when you have passenger airliners plowing into the heart of what America REPRESENTS—money and power through manipulation of that commodity. It is also very serious if passenger airliners are chosen as the weapon of choice. WHO uses it is immaterial—it is evil in conception, orchestration and ultimately conclusion of the heinous acts presented.

This is not JUST SELECTIVE to the U.S.; you should see the PLANS for LONDON. However, to hit the U.S. was the obvious plumb to reach ALL.

Check out the numbers of meetings scheduled which are now cancelled, starting with the IMF-WB conferences set for THIS MONTH OF SEPTEMBER. This type of terrorism has been long in the laying of plans and it is NOT OVER.

Surprised? Yes. Unexpected? NO! Therefore, KNOW that it is far more similar to Pearl Harbor than is being recognized publicly. People did KNOW of the impending disasters and allowed it to happen. And, yes, some did leave calling cards to be found to cause realization that the network of mercenaries are still around and at work.

Is this religious activity? NO, it is evil at work. Terrorism is NOT the basis of Muslim acceptance—and acclaimed Judeo-Christians are as involved as any Muslim, no matter what YOU may think of religious doctrines.

I believe that it might now be even more easily understood that to get onto some GLOBAL footing where some value-based association is available is going to take something very similar to GAIA, my friends, where people put aside the foolishness and greed, and reach out in brotherhood in investing in a better way.

You knew it would come to be this way, before it could turn about—you just never really believed it while you thought you could do breathing exercises, hug trees and somehow ascend. Well, a lot of people ascended very rapidly—LAST TUESDAY—and there wasn’t one cloud other than smoke in the air to RECEIVE THEM.

Moreover, you got too tired and sad from the watching, watching, watching—but tell me how else you can come by information? You will note, however, that in less than three days you were ready for a GLOBAL WAR and it may be “different”—but it is very definitely defined as World War III, declaration and all.

The Philippines, I repeat, are in an incredible position. Yesterday it was announced, as I probably have stated, that in all of Asia—where the drug trade is infamous—the Republic of the Philippines ranks FOURTH in the drug trade. They are at the top of the list for money laundering and HARBORING terrorists who glean money from both the drug trade, the arms trade, and money laundering.

It is also a time of those who hold hard assets to come forward and arrange to secure same for all the holdings are now mapped from satellites and the confiscation will soon be under way. Present and use the better way and open exchange and from that comes security and FREEDOM.

As long as you only look at your “little space”, you cannot see the picture and ultimately that which is better for mankind is going to be far better for “you”.

Jerry Falwell gets public focus for his outrageous proclamations and rantings. Well, people, Jerry Falwell stood and shouted long ago that he “is a Zionist and proud of it”. You see, it is time for all those careless definitions to come home to roost. And know that any viable bird in the roost is going to poop. That is a fact of LIFE.

If you serve evil, you are caught in the trap of evil. That does not indicate that you have to BECOME evil to be in its presence, for in a human existence there IS evil—and it is usually far more tempting to the individual experiencing ego than being goodly.

ENEMIES AMONG US

I want you to look at something VERY IMPORTANT. If a man pronounces himself to be your enemy—out of his own mouth or pen, BEWARE, FOR HE “IS” YOUR ENEMY. This is true of a partner, spouse or terrorist. Osama bin Laden, by his own proclamation, said “Death to America and death to any American.” I don’t know how you get any more blunt than that, my friends.

We have had some recent experiences with some of our former partners proclaiming themselves OUR ENEMIES. Fine, we can recognize that enemy and not go to shooting war with guns and bombs—BUT WE SHALL DEFEND TRUTH, HONOR AND RIGHT.

I am always pained by watching our own beloved ones in a process of isolating themselves and simply making the way more difficult. But, to each his/her own, be it laying out frame-up guns, lying about events which are untrue and having others support such trickery, or simply moving into isolation; it is difficult but GOD ALLOWS your free-will attitudes, ego perceptions and activities.

PATIENCE

This has gotten to be a four-letter word somehow. You would rush the river out of its banks rather than wait for the flow to take away the flood. You would plug the drainage conduits and then demand a fix from some government people, already corrupted. You cannot cut off the feet of the ones you have sent to do a job when they have to walk to get the job accomplished. And yet, this is the usual modus operandi. First, the way to move is totally blocked by everything that can be tossed into the pathway—and then it is time to turn on the blocked ones as if they somehow chose to deliberately “do YOU in”. IT IS A HARD WORLD OUT HERE, PEOPLE, AND EVEN MORE DIFFICULT WHERE YOU ARE.

No God is going to bash you on the head and drag you off from your cave by the hair of your head. With most of us it wouldn't work well anyway when you think about it. You must learn to act because it is the right thing to do, presents a better way, and is in honor and truth. It does, yes, require taking a stand even if you never tell another soul.

It most certainly is time to start making atonement and recognizing your position—for a lot of nonsense and, yes, terror, is ahead of you, yea, even planned for this month of September 2001.

Today is the most religiously recognized Jewish HOLY-DAY. It is the New Year in which those Kol Nidres are recited and new resolutions are laid forth. Is it not sad that the world faces destruction because of the various claims and abuses of RELIGION? If man cannot stop his HATING, it is not going to ever be much of a world, is it? It would appear you would destroy your world rather than live goodly lives in brotherhood and honor.

You want God to fix that which you DELIBERATELY put asunder. NO THANK YOU, IT JUST DOES NOT WORK THAT WAY.

My question of the day is not whether or not the terrorists will strike but rather: Will you be happy with your neighbor in the survival shelter? And, yes, THAT IS a timely consideration! Look again at the pictures on CNN, yes, indeed, of anthrax and small pox possibilities. And wow, those chemtrails? Pay attention and some of your problems of the moment won't look so relatively important.

Again, THE PHILIPPINES:

The Philippines and their neighbors in Southeast Asia sit in the most precious of positions where God has offered THE WAY.

What will be chosen? That is up to the people of the Philippines, for we are not planning to go anywhere this week. Neither do we insert ourselves into the political business of this, OR ANY, nation. We will not push or shove—we OFFER.

The messengers are weary and homesick after these years of existing in an indisputable prison setting. But we shall continue to offer and stand watch as long as that is possible and as long as YOU wish that stance.

I also suggest that you must learn to DISAGREE without becoming enemies, for in such reactions YOU are the solution even if both be the problem.

Mr. Mubarak of Egypt tried to bring a coalition against terrorism over a decade ago and nobody wanted to be a part of the "solution". Today it becomes mandatory or you will not survive.

I thank you for inviting me in and asking input. I can offer; I do not demand; but must command. Any teacher who will tell you otherwise is NOT YOUR TEACHER OF "REALITY" IN SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE. THAT IS SIMPLY THE WAY IT IS. BY ANY NAME YOU CHOOSE, THIS SIMPLY IS THE WAY OF IT IN THE REALITY OF BEING.

You are left with free-will to arrange your playground and, yes, indeed, Mother Earth will respond in HER WAY. She offers you life and an opportunity to experience. Isn't it time you return the favor?

In LOVE AND IN LIGHT,

Just call me DAD, it is quite alright. It won't interrupt the universal order or lessen anyone's position of responsibility or chosen "authority". You "act" authority; it is useless to espouse it. So be it.

dharna

The News Desk

By John & Jean Ray

U.S. FUNDING NUCLEAR PLANT IN CHINA AS AMERICANS AWAIT BLACKOUTS

By Timothy P. Carney, Human Events, 5/21/01

The United States may be facing a national energy crisis—one that will be punctuated by blackouts in California and probably many other states this summer. But across the Pacific Ocean in Shanghai, the Jiangnan Shipyards will be running at full power building warships for the Communist Chinese regime, thanks to funding provided by the U.S. government.

The Export-Import Bank of the United States has provided funding to help two U.S. corporations—Westinghouse Electric and Bechtel Power—to help the People's Republic of China (PRC) build the Qinshan nuclear power plant near Shanghai.

Thanks to inaction by the Republican-controlled Congress, and a statutory notice of approval signed by President Bill Clinton, the same American families that are now paying sky-high energy prices in the United States are also loaning money at low interest rates to the regime in Beijing to build this nuclear plant.

The Ex-Im Bank is a federal agency that receives an annual appropriation from Congress. Originally founded in 1934, it was rechartered in 1945, with the purpose of facilitating U.S. exports by providing loans or loan guarantees to U.S. sellers or lenders, or to foreign buyers or banks. Despite its name, the Export-Import Bank no longer deals with imports.

Last year, Congress provided it with $863 million in tax dollars.

Although the bank's board of directors has broad discretion over how to use the tax dollars it is given, it must follow some legal guidelines. For example, it cannot finance loans to "Marxist-Leninist" countries, including the People's Republic of China, unless the President determines such a loan to be "in the national interest".

Also, it must notify Congress of all loans or loan guarantees over $100 million, or of any action it takes that would help the construction or operation of nuclear power facilities, but congressional approval is not required. The bank's board of directors serves at the pleasure of the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The Ex-Im Bank, together with Westinghouse and Bechtel, has cooperated with the Chinese National Nuclear Corp. and the State Development Bank—both arms of the PRC government—to help build the nuclear power plant at Qinshan.

On March 21, 1995, Nucleonics Week reported that Westinghouse Electric Corp. had announced that it would "provide steam generators, reactor coolant pumps, and related motors" for two new reactors at Qinshan.

Qinshan, which is 75 miles south of Shanghai, was already home to one nuclear reactor that had been built in the late 1980s, also with help from Westinghouse.

According to the minutes of a July 9, 1996, Export-Import Bank board meeting, the directors approved a direct loan of $36,347,390 to China's State Development Bank (which serves as the treasury of the PRC) to help the Chinese buy "steam turbines and auxiliaries" from Westinghouse for the second phase of Qinshan.

Before the loan could be made final, the law required President Clinton to declare that it was in the national interest. He did so in a letter to the secretary of state [pdf] dated June 29, 1996.

The letter actually specified an even larger loan. It read: "I determine that it is in the national interest for the Export-Import Bank of the United States to extend a loan in the amount of approximately $120 million to the People's Republic of China in connection with the purchase of (1) non-nuclear island balance of plant equipment and services and (2) Westinghouse engineering services to the nuclear island."

The notification of this loan that the Export-Import Bank was required to send to Congress was transmitted in the form of a letter to then-House Speaker Newt Gingrich (R.-Ga.) and then-Vice President Al Gore in his constitutional role as president of the Senate. Gingrich and Gore forwarded the messages to the banking committees in their respective chambers.

Ex-Im officials told Human Events that Congress rarely acts on such letters, and there is no evidence of any congressional action in this case.

The same process was followed for a second loan of $323 million that was approved by the Export-Import Bank board of directors on Jan. 14, 1997. This loan financed Bechtel's sale of non-nuclear plant components to the China National Nuclear Corp. Days after winning reelection, Clinton declared [pdf] this loan also to be in "the national interest".

It was used for the third phase of the Qinshan plant.

China was required to pay back the Bechtel loan in 30 semi-annual payments beginning no later than April 15, 2004—more than seven years after the loan was approved, and after Bechtel expects to be done with the work, according to information posted on the company's Website.

The interest rate on the loan, set by a formula called the Commercial Interest Reference Rates, was 7.49%. At that time, the prime rate in the United States was 8.25%.

The Chinese Communists thus received financing for a nuclear plant from the U.S. government at a cheaper rate than most American businessmen could get financing from a domestic bank. The rate was even below the 7.8%, then being paid by Americans for a home mortgage.

The cash from both Export-Import Bank loans was deposited in the PRC's State Development Bank, which handed the money over to the state-owned CNNP in the case of Qinshan III, and to the China Nuclear Energy Industry Corp. for Qinshan II.

In approving the Bechtel loan, Clinton disregarded an August 1995 "discovery" issued by his own administration revealing that the CNNP had recently sold ring magnets to Pakistan. Ring magnets are a component needed for enriching uranium so that it can be used in nuclear warheads. Pakistan is not a signatory of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty and in 1998 tested a nuclear weapon for the first time in an underground explosion.

Nuclear News reported in September 1993, that the CNRP built a nuclear power plant for Pakistan using knowledge it had gained from Qinshan I (a project that involved Westinghouse).

Building the later phases of Qinshan—with financing from U.S. taxpayers—helped the PRC develop its nuclear-reactor-building expertise. Xinhua, the Chinese government's official news agency, reported earlier this year that "through the development of . . . Qinshan Phase 3 [and other plants] the corporation has basically mastered the advanced modern methodology for the management of nuclear power development projects."

As the law stands, it takes only the President's signature plus the votes of three out of the five board members of the Export-Import Bank to approve a loan to China. At the time of the Bechtel and Westinghouse-related loans, there were two vacancies on the board, and the three remaining members voted unanimously to send the money to China.

The three were Board Chairman Martin A. Kamarck and members Maria Haley and Julie Belaga. Kamarck is the husband of former Gore aide Elaine Kamarck.

On Feb. 14, 1997, a month after she voted to approve the Bechtel-related loan, the New York Times reported that "Ms. Haley's first job in Washington was in the White House personnel office, where she helped John Huang, the Riady family's senior American executive, get a job at the Commerce Department." Huang, Human Events readers will recall, helped funnel tens of thousands of dollars in illegal foreign contributions to President Clinton and the Democrats.

Julie Belaga was a regional administrator for the Environmental Protection Agency and an executive in a public relations firm. She was recommended for the Ex-Im job by Sen. Chris Dodd (D.-Conn.)...

According to Jane's Defence Weekly, Jiangnan Shipyards, which sit on the power grid fed by Qinshan, is one of the "most important naval shipbuilders" in China for "surface warships".

[JR: How is it, by any stretch of the imagination, that it is in the U.S. national interest to subsidize the building of a nuclear power plant so China can build her warships. The deal was connived by the EX-IM Bank during the "Lets work a deal" era of the Clinton/Gore reign. Worse yet, there is no oversight on these wink & nod arrangements other than a letter of notification to Congress, which is more often than not ignored by them. What is more outrageous is that even after the work is completed, China doesn't make a payment until 2004. The only ones with empty pockets and blackouts will be us taxpayers. Maybe we deserve it because we have become so complacent we don't seem to mind such betrayals by our masters in D.C. and we re-elect them over and over again.]

PHARMACEUTICAL FIRMS UNDER FIRE OVER BUSINESS PRACTICES

Daily Herald, 5/25/01

NEW YORK (AP)—Lyn Lovinger was angry when a series of changes in her insurance policy tripled the cost of her breast cancer medication.

The $25 a month charge may not sound like much, but the retired community services employee lives in New York in low income housing and on a very tight budget.

"I'm lucky I can afford the medicine, but it is always on your mind that you may need another drug or that something else in your life could change, and then what?" said Lovinger, who was diagnosed with the disease in 1997.

She says a pharmacist told her that a deal between a pharmaceutical company and a generic drug manufacturer blocked the introduction of a low-cost generic version of her medication Tamoxifen. She made endless calls to various agencies and legislators to protest the high cost of the drug.

A few months ago, a representative of a senior citizens' group asked Lovinger if she would consider being a named plaintiff in a class-action suit. She immediately agreed to help.

"I was fighting on my own for months," she said. "I was just so happy someone wanted to help me."

Consumer groups all over the country have started filing lawsuits to stop what they say are illegal actions by the pharmaceutical companies, and sometimes generic firms, that squelch competition.

Two separate coalitions have been formed to organize the effort—Washington, D.C.-based Stop Patient Abuse Now, with 33 members, and Boston-based Prescription Drug Access Litigation Project, with 17 members.

These lawsuits exacerbate the pressure on an industry already under the microscope. Drug company activities are under investigation by the Federal Trade Commission and the Justice Department.

But the consumer lawsuits represent a special challenge for drug companies because now they are being sued by the very people they are in business to help.

"It is just not an attractive situation to get sued by your customers," said Gerald Sobel, a patent lawyer at New York-based Kaye Scholer, which represents many pharmaceutical companies. "In one respect these lawsuits are really ungrateful. Without these drugs these people could be dead."

Lovinger's case, filed in federal court in New York last week, joined more than a half-dozen lawsuits against pharmaceutical giant AstraZeneca PLC and generic firm Barr Laboratories Inc. Some of the other plaintiffs include the New York State Senior Action Council and Boston-based Health Care For all.

The suits allege the companies colluded to keep a low-cost version of Tamoxifen off the market. Barr had won a patent challenge, but then agreed to accept $21 million from the AstraZeneca and work with it to sell Tamoxifen, the generic version of the branded breast cancer drug Nolvadex.

Tamoxifen is only about 5 percent cheaper than Nolvadex. Generics are usually 50 to 80 percent cheaper than the original.

Several consumer groups, including the Washington D.C.-based Gray Panthers and the San Francisco-based Senior Action Network, have filed suits against Bristol-Myers Squibb Co., alleging it conspired to keep a generic version of its antianxiety drug BuSpar off the market. And the National Organization of Women plans to sue Bristol-Myers for allegedly stifling a generic version of Taxol, a popular breast and ovarian cancer treatment.

In the two Bristol-Myers cases, the plaintiffs claim the drug company added irrelevant patents to the drugs to extend their product cycles.

AstraZeneca and Barr have denied the charges. Bristol-Myers didn't return phone calls.

Consumer groups' money and time would be better spent lobbying Congress for programs to expand access to drugs instead of suing pharmaceutical companies, said Marjorie Powell, assistant general counsel of the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America, the industry trade group.

"I think using lawsuits and the federal courts to institute policies is wrong," she said. "All of these lawsuits detract from efforts to expand drug access for seniors."

Consumer activists counter they've turned to the courts because lobbying has proven useless against the pharmaceutical industry's clout. Drug companies spent $91 million—more than any other industry—on lobbying in 1999, the last year for which statistics are available, according to the Center for Responsible Politics.

"The lobbying money has barred reform," said NOW President Patricia Ireland. "The pharmaceutical industry carries bags of money up to (Capitol Hill). You have to find ways to counter that. The judicial branch can be a more level playing field."

Tim Fuller, the Gray Panthers executive director, hopes the lawsuits will embolden consumers to talk to their elected representatives.

"I think Congress will take notice of these lawsuits because they are consumers," said Fuller. [JR: Consumers can't compete with the PAC groups that bribe Congress to stifle any reforms against price fixing by the drug companies. The court system is the only way to go for consumers to get Congress' and the drug manufacturer's attention. Mr. Sobel, defense attorney for the drug companies, is right when he says we'd be dead if we didn't have these drugs. We would also be dead (as the people in So. Africa with AIDS) if we can't afford to buy the drugs that would prolong our lives. The most disheartening aspect of these allegations is the generic drug manufacturers who are in collusion with the major drug companies to fix the prices on their drugs. It's part of the depopulation plan which determines who will live and who will die. Greed and profits are the rewards to those who carry out this plan.]

BRITAIN ON THE SPOT IN EU REPORT ON SPY NET

By Ambrose Evans-Pritchard in Brussels,
The Telegraph—UK, 5/28/01

The European Union will inevitably have to develop its own intelligence arm to back up the planned rapid reaction force, and to defend the currency, according to a leaked report by the European Parliament.

The document puts Britain on notice that it cannot continue to operate a joint intelligence system with America now that the EU is acquiring military ambitions. It predicts that "intelligence gathering may be precisely the issue that forces the United Kingdom to decide whether its destiny is European or transatlantic".

The report concludes a year-long investigation by a committee of the European Parliament into "Echelon", the American eavesdropping network which intercepts fax, e-mail, telephone and satellite transmissions across Europe from listening posts in England.

Contradicting repeated assurances by Downing Street that Nato will not be harmed, the report made clear that the creation of a 60,000-man force would fundamentally change the nature of relations between the EU and the alliance.

The report said: "The existence of such a multinational force will make the development of an autonomous intelligence capacity inevitable.” The draft text also said EU economic integration would “necessitate” an intelligence capability. In a sign that the EU is developing a fortress mentality, it argued that “a united European economic policy implies a united perception of economic reality in the world outside the European Union”.

The investigation, carried out at the insistence of the French, said there was no longer any doubt about the existence of the “Echelon” network, which is run by the U.S. National Security Agency in collaboration with Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

The report concluded that the “Big Brother” system had been greatly overestimated. It is not able to trawl through every fax, internet and telephone message by using search-engine dictionaries and voice recognition devices to home in on hot topics, as suggested in books and press accounts.

Even so, the study suggested that Britain is in breach of Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights, which guarantees the privacy of family life and private correspondence of every citizen in signatory states. Britain falls foul of the convention for allowing Washington to carry out surveillance of citizens from listening posts such as Menwith Hill in Yorkshire.

The report concludes that EU states “must carry out checks to ensure that the activities of intelligence services on their territory do not represent a violation of human rights”. The inquiry was unable to find proof that the American government had used “Echelon” to spy on European companies for commercial advantage.

However, a former CIA chief, James Woolsey, has admitted that the system is used to expose attempts by European firms to win contracts through bribery. The Bush administration gave short shrift to a fact-finding team of Euro-MPs in Washington last month, and even refused to let a French Trotskyist delegate enter the country.

Should clear evidence of commercial espionage come to light, Britain would find itself in violation of several European Union laws involving data protection and distortions of the single market. Above all, “perfidious Albion” would be in breach of Article 10 of the Amsterdam Treaty, which commits every member state to uphold the common interest of the EU.

[JR: A bit of a dilemma for Britain in having to choose between the U.S. or the EU. She is committed to us given the fact that our Echelon system is also located in England, Australia, New Zealand and Canada. My guess is that England will pledge allegiance to the EU but keep all options open on this side of the Atlantic. There are a lot of secret treaties and agreements between the U.S. and England. Look at where Echelon is located and know that we are back into the fold of the mother country—England.]

A QUESTION OF CHURCH AND STATE

By Dan Eggen, Washington Post, 5/15/01

WASHINGTON—The Bible study begins each day at 8 a.m. sharp, with Attorney General John Ashcroft presiding. A group of employees gathers at the Main Justice building in Washington, either in his personal office or in a conference room, to study Scripture and join Mr. Ashcroft in prayer.

Mr. Ashcroft held similar meetings each morning as a U.S. senator. He sees the devotionals as a personal matter that has no bearing on his job as attorney general, according to aides.

Mindy Tucker, a spokeswoman for Mr. Ashcroft, said the attorney general wanted to “continue to exercise his constitutional right to express his religious faith”. Any employee was welcome, but not required to attend, his aides said.

But within the massive Justice Department, with about 135,000 employees worldwide, some who do not share Mr. Ashcroft’s Pentecostal Christian beliefs are discomfited by the daily prayer sessions, particularly because they are conducted by the chief law enforcement officer of the United States, who is entrusted with enforcing a constitution that calls for the separation of church and state.

“The purpose of the Department of Justice is to do the business of the government, not to establish a religion,” said an attorney for the department, who, like other critics, was unwilling to be identified by name. “It strikes me and a lot of others as offensive, disrespectful and unconstitutional.”

“It at least blurs the line, and it probably crosses it.”

Another lawyer said, “It’s alienating.”

“He’s using public spaces to have a personally meaningful event to which I would not be welcome, nor would I feel welcome.”

Mr. Ashcroft declined to comment on the devotional meetings, and reporters have not been allowed to attend. But Justice Department officials say his Bible studies at the department should be viewed no differently from those organized and attended by many members of Congress.

“It is against my religion to impose my religion on people,” Mr. Ashcroft said in a recent speech. Several aides also said that many of Mr. Ashcroft’s closest advisers, including the chief of staff, the deputy chief of staff and the communications director, had never attended the devotional meetings, nor had they been pressured to do so.

The aides said that the sessions were open to all employees at the Justice Department, Christians or otherwise, and that one of the regular participants is an Orthodox Jew.

David Israelite, Mr. Ashcroft’s deputy chief of staff, said: “He has never in any way insinuated that I should be going to these meetings, and I never felt I’ve been hindered by not attending. “He’s a religious man, and he’s been attacked by folks because of that,” Mr. Israelite said, adding, “I’ve known John Ashcroft for 15 years, and there is no more tolerant person that I’ve been around in my life.”

Ms. Tucker said: “These go on on the Hill all the time, and he’s done this for years and years and years. He’s always done them in his office, and that’s how he started his day.”

But advocates for the strict separation of church and state, as well as some Justice employees, said Mr. Ashcroft is now in a far different position from when he was a U.S. senator. As the leader of the nation’s top law enforcement body, they contend, he has a responsibility not to offend employees of different faiths or test the limits of accepted guidelines.

The federal government’s “Guidelines on Religious Exercise and Religious Expression in the Federal Workplace,” issued in 1997 after bipartisan negotiations, say that supervisors and department heads must be especially careful with religious activities or statements.

“Because supervisors have the power to hire, fire or promote, employees may reasonably perceive their supervisors’ religious expression as coercive, even if it was not intended as such,” the publication says. “Therefore, supervisors should be careful to ensure that their statements and actions are such that employees do not perceive any coercion.” It goes on to say that supervisors “should, where necessary, take appropriate steps to dispel such misperceptions”.

Religious faith has been central to the life and career of Mr. Ashcroft, the son and grandson of Assemblies of God ministers. Before becoming attorney general, he was state attorney general, governor and a U.S. senator from Missouri.

Mr. Ashcroft considered a run for the presidency, with support from leading Christian conservatives, and has regularly cited God and Scripture in speeches and policy statements. In 1998, Mr. Ashcroft said at a Christian Coalition event that “a robed elite have taken the wall of separation designed to protect the church and they have made it a wall of religious oppression.”

The next year, he told graduates at Bob Jones University in Greenville, North Carolina, that America had been founded on religious principles, and “we have no king but Jesus.” That statement became the subject of some controversy at his confirmation hearings.

The morning devotionals are not the only sign that Mr. Ashcroft’s approach to religion differs from that of his predecessor, Janet Reno, who ran a strictly secular office. At a Black History Month celebration in February, for example, Mr. Ashcroft prayed with a minister who urged the department’s employees to join in.

The department also issued new style guidelines for correspondence that carries Mr. Ashcroft’s signature. They forbid, among other things, the use of “pride,” which the Bible calls a sin, and the phrase “no higher calling than public service”.

“He’s running the department like a church, complete with rituals and forbidden words,” said Barry Lynn, the executive director of Americans United for Separation of Church and State. “That is deeply troubling.”

[JR: Why does the word religion or GOD invoke such fear and panic in this country? It is ridiculous to infer that if one openly demonstrates their faith or belief in God it will somehow impair their ability to serve as a high-level public official. If that were true we would have a government in D.C. made up of men and women who were respected and who honored their oath of office. Ex-President Clinton certainly was a man who made a show of attending church but it didn’t improve his morals or decision-making process. For many, religion is a sham to be used as a show for the gullible. Practically everyone in government puts their faith in their politics and not religion.]

THE JUSTICE SYSTEM IS CRIMINAL

By Paul Craig Roberts, townhall.com, 5/16/01

Our country’s premier law-enforcement agency, the FBI, is proving to be an unreliable element in the criminal justice system. Waco and Ruby Ridge displayed a militarized agency willing to use deadly force against women and children, and subsequent cover-ups showed an agency determined not to be held accountable.

Confidence in the FBI received another blow when a whistleblower revealed that the fabled crime lab often fabricated evidence to help prosecutors obtain convictions.

Now it has come to light that FBI agents intentionally concealed evidence and kept an innocent man in prison on a murder charge for 30 years. One of the FBI agents responsible, H. Paul Rico, showed no contrition whatsoever when he replied to questioning from the House Government Reform Committee on May 3: "Would you like tears or something?" It was enough to cause Rep. Christopher Shays, R.-Conn., to say: "I think you should be prosecuted. I think you should be sent to jail."

The following week the FBI was forced to admit that it failed to turn over to Timothy McVeigh's defense attorneys 3,000 pages of documents, photographs, tapes and other materials. This withholding of evidence is being called a "slip-up".

With the federals providing this kind of example, are things better at the state and local level? Unfortunately, the answer is no.

Virginia Commonwealth Attorney Robert Horan will not release DNA evidence for testing that could substantiate the claim of innocence by convicted rapist James Harvey. Harvey's case has been taken by Barry Scheck, Peter Neufeld and their colleagues at the Innocence Project sponsored by the Benjamin Cardozo School of Law in New York City.

Instead of cooperating in righting a possible wrongful conviction, the commonwealth attorney is appealing Federal District Judge Albert Bryan's court order to release the evidence for testing....

Ever since the von Liszt experiment in 1902, criminologists have known that eyewitnesses are as likely to be wrong as right. Despite the undeniable fact that an eyewitness is no better than a flip of a coin, police, prosecutors and juries put great weight on eyewitness evidence even in cases where suspects have unshakeable alibis.

False confessions arise from any number of known reasons. Yet once police get a confession—even ones they invent—prosecutors take for granted the reliability of the confession.

When it recently came to light that Fred Salem Zain, serologist for West Virginia's crime laboratory, had been convicting innocents for years with fabricated "scientific evidence", the state quietly made some million-dollar settlements hoping to keep the lid on the large number of wrongful convictions. Zain intentionally convicted innocents with false testimony, and West Virginia intentionally tried to suppress the extent of the injustice.

The American public, especially "law and order" conservatives, must come to grips with the fact that our criminal justice system increasingly serves causes other than justice. Finding a suspect and convicting him is more important to many police and prosecutors than getting the right man. Anyone who doubts the sad truth of this will be shaken by the case histories in Actual Innocence.

Wrongful conviction has become so prevalent that a number of law schools sponsor pro-bono innocence projects. In rape cases and other cases where DNA evidence can play a role, there is hope for the wrongfully convicted. But for a large number of offenses, all hope ends with conviction.

The ease with which innocents can be railroaded is scary enough. But the obstructions that prosecutors raise to the release of inmates known to be innocent reveals an inhumanity that is frightening. For example, the 26 innocent adults framed by a crazed detective and corrupt Child Protective Service officers in the Wenatchee child-sex-abuse witch-hunt had to be pried loose one by one from the claws of prosecutors.

The justice system is loaded against the wrongfully convicted. In sex-offender cases, the system will not admit to any possibility of wrongful conviction. A person who maintains his innocence cannot qualify for parole.

Consequently, the wrongfully convicted serve longer terms than the guilty.

"Getting tough with crime" has encouraged a results-orientated culture among police and prosecutors that leads to wrongful convictions. Redressing this wrong requires an alliance between conservatives and liberals. Will the Federalist Society lend its weight to the effort to spring exculpatory DNA evidence from the Virginia commonwealth attorney's lock box? [JR: Men without conscience serve and enforce the policies of a government that has become remote and aloof from its people. That is why an FBI agent doesn't believe that withholding evidence is anything to be remorseful about. Many lifetime careers are made in our in-justice system by suborning testimony or withholding or destroying evidence to further a conviction. Worse yet are the judges who render decisions based on personal judgements under the color-of-law. How many wrongs will it take before we make things right in our unlawful but legal in-justice system?]

WILL AMERICANS REACT ONCE THE INEVITABLE OCCURS?

By Uthman Tynes, The STAR (Editorial)—Jordan, 9/9/01

JORDAN—IT IS inevitable. Despite their best intentions, Americans are going to find themselves physically part of the conflict in the Middle East. What will happen then, especially in light of the American convention of protecting their own? Even recently when a young man was accused of possessing and dealing drugs in Russia, he knew he could count on his president to whisper in the ear of President Putin for a get-out-of-jail-free card.

And now Israelis are hitting Palestinian-Americans in their continuing aggression. It was inevitable. Will President Bush come to their aid the same way he did for the American accused of drug crimes? It is curious to most outside the U.S., outrageous to others, that American citizens continue, day to day, to sit in their homes eating dinner, watching television and allowing the violence to continue in the Occupied Territories. How can Americans sit back and watch a people 'targeted' by weapons their very government supplies? Are they unaware they are financing this aggression? Haven't Americans realized their silence makes them as much a part of this as their President and his ill-defined policies? Truth is, they don't. Americans' relation to the world is complicated. It is a complexity that is perhaps best understood in the Middle East, where complexity is a way of life. It is complicated by a media that sees its job as entertainer first and then as a very selective informer. It is complicated by a society that seems to value pop culture and the Weather Channel over global warming and the ill effects of globalization. It is a nation of consumers whose power is unknown to them. Many live in a vacuum unaware of the brutality outside. And now, largely unbeknownst to them, they are playing a role in the way a war is being waged. It is not a declared war; to label it so changes political dynamics. Though most involved would feel a sense of relief at calling a spade a spade. Are Americans aware that no response still counts as a response, leaving them complicit in actions they would surely find reprehensible? Right now Americans are worried about their dollars. The U.S. economy is in the doldrums. Afraid to say the word 'recession', a struggle continues as the budget surplus promised by the previous administration dwindles and the finger pointing begins.

With all this in mind, will Americans remain mute when one of their own comes in harm's way? Western media reports change their tone and direction when an American face or voice tells the tale.

American reports from the assassination of Abu Ali Mustapha ran with American voices telling American perspectives of the atrocity. Does this make it more legitimate to Americans? Yes. Should it? Surely not. But the reality is Americans come together when they see one of their own attacked. Israeli movement into Beit Jala resulted in reports subtly tinged with the words 'a largely Christian community'. Islam, so often misunderstood or maligned, can now be removed as a filter for American relevance. Here was a moment that showed it did not matter the faith; no one was immune. For the message to be understood it must cross the threshold, entering American homes, making point after point. Only then can the political change so desperately needed in American-Middle East policy begin.

It is difficult to blame an American public so dumbed-down by a media tightly aligned with corporate sponsors whose primary focus is consumerism. The message gets lost time and again. It is unfortunate it takes the sound of an American voice to break through all the media static, but this is the American reality. The sound of one American voice speaking will not change things. But the fact it is heard at all could be the beginning of a sea of change. One report leads to another until slowly Americans develop some sophistication and awaken from their slumber. This fact should not be lost as the media war unfolds.

Seeing American faces standing amongst the rubble of another Israeli attack begs a question: Will it take American blood drawn by Israel and likely fired from American weaponry to make Americans care? Perhaps. In a war where the targets of so-called "targeted killings" end up women and children, such a circumstance seems inevitable. Americans don't see Israel's policies in the Middle East as a personal threat. It is out there, happening to a people and a faith they don't understand. Only when they appreciate the relevance, understand the similarity and realize the faces on television could be their own, will they cry out for change and hopefully justice.

[JR: (Note that this article was written 2 days prior to the attack on America.) Was this a premonition? Most Americans live in an insulated vacuum and aren't effected by conditions that impact others on the other side of this world that we co-exist in. We rely on Washington D.C. and our biased press to define our issues and formulate our opinions. We are programmed to think, feel and subjugate our will to those we elected to represent us. Bush, Powell and Rumsfeld defined who our enemy and target is—Muslims, particularly Arabs. When American "patriots" (now suddenly a politically correct term) fervor went too far in their revenge by attacks against Muslims—Americans, President Bush & CO. had to clarify which Muslims, in particular those who promote and carry out terrorism. Now that tragedy has struck America, will we be better at understanding and relating to the fear and hopelessness others suffer because of our actions and foreign policies? All peoples want to live in peace and decide their own futures and destinies without interference from foreign powers. Our planet is a fragile place and so are we as a human species. More so today than ever before.]

FARRAKHAN WARNS OF ARMAGEDDON
IF U.S. RETALIATES

By Marc Morano, CNSNews.com, 9/17/01

Minister Louis Farrakhan has warned President Bush that declaring war on terrorism could “trigger the war that would end all wars, the war of Armageddon”.

Farrakhan is the leader of the Black Muslim separatist movement Nation of Islam and the architect of the 1995 Million-Man March in Washington, D.C.

In a speech Sunday at a Chicago mosque, Farrakhan implied that U.S. foreign policy is to blame for last week's terrorist attacks on Washington and New York. He called on American officials to summon “the courage to look at the foreign policy” and asked if the policies have “produced this danger and hatred toward America”.

He described the events of last week as a “dark hour in American and world history”. He defended the Palestinians celebrating in the streets after the terrorist attacks because they have “sustained injustice since 1948”, which refers to the year Israel became a state.

“They dance in the streets not because they have no feeling for American life, they dance because they wanted America to feel what they feel.”

According to Farrakhan, the terrorists that struck America are the product of “despair and hopelessness”.

“This is what causes children to strap themselves with bombs. They care nothing for their lives. They want others to feel the pain of what they live with everyday.”

He then accused the American government and media of unfairness towards Muslims. He noted that convicted Oklahoma City Bomber Timothy McVeigh professed to be a Christian, yet the U.S. did not fear all Christians.

“Even though his crime was the most horrific committed up until that time, no one said Christian Timothy McViegh, they just said Timothy McVeigh,” he noted. He called McVeigh’s actions “un-Christian like” and he declared the attacks last week on the U.S. to be “un-Muslim like”.

He said Muslims throughout the world have no quarrel with the citizens of America, only it’s foreign policy. He believes these are policies “that the American people know nothing about”.

“A better foreign policy of America would defeat terrorism forever in the world,” he declared.

[JR: Our foreign policy toward the Middle East has now made Americans the target and victims of those policies. The drums of war were beating just hours after the WTC tragedy struck America. Our leaders in Congress climbed out of their bunkers and were overjoyed when they saw the Capitol dome still there and joined together to sing God Bless America on the steps of the Capitol. They all immediately pledged their unwavering support to the President and his Cabinet to any demands made upon them. The death and destruction that hit New York, the Pentagon and Pennsylvania became politicized and the plan became more important than the dead and dying. How many programmed

“patriots” who wave their flag want to know the real facts or care about how others are made to suffer because of our foreign policies.]

INVESTORS’ LAWSUITS GROW AS GAINS SHRINK

By Walter Hamilton and Josh Friedman,
Los Angeles Times, 9/16/01

Disgruntled investors are filing lawsuits at an accelerating pace this year, with many of the latest cases targeting Wall Street brokerage firms for their handling of initial public stock offerings in the late 1990s, according to statistics released last month.

Through Aug. 17, 263 shareholder lawsuits have been filed this year, up from 201 all of last year and 207 in 1999, according to consulting firm PricewaterhouseCoopers. The record in the late 1990s was 260 suits in 1998.

The data underscore the dramatic surge in litigation that has occurred this year after the stock market plunge. “There’s nothing like losing money to inspire people to sue,” said Alan Bromberg, a securities law expert at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Lawsuits against individual firms, as well as arbitration cases against stockbrokers and securities firms, frequently spike whenever the market falls sharply.

Individual investors are on pace to lodge 6,716 arbitration cases against brokerages this year, topping the 6,058 of 1995, the year after the market slipped, according to the National Association of Securities Dealers.

But investors this year also are targeting trends and issues that gained considerable attention during the market boom of the late 1990s.

Of this year’s lawsuits, 143 are aimed at Wall Street brokerage firms for alleged infractions in the IPO market.

Several high-profile lawsuits have been filed recently against individual stock analysts, alleging that their advice was tainted by financial conflicts of interest.

James Spellman, spokesman for the Securities Industry Association, Wall Street’s main trade group, defended the investment companies.

“When the Internet bubble burst, it caused a lot of people to look for a scapegoat,” he said. “But investors have a responsibility to understand what they’re investing in and what the risks might be.”

[JR: Yes, it is the investor’s responsibility to be informed before investing in the market. When you swim with the sharks, you’d better have a cage to protect yourself. How many brokers would honestly answer their client’s questions about a stock they are asked to push? Their livelihood comes from the commissions on transactions they make—but they also receive incentives for every stock their firm is promoting. The increase in lawsuits and litigation hardly reflect the big picture of how many investors lost everything in the volatile NASDAQ market last year. Many believe in the sales pitches tossed at them by the TV hucksters of Wall Street and their eager, go-for-it brokers.]

WHY WASHINGTON WANTS AFGHANISTAN

By Jared Israel, Rick Rozoff & Nico Varkevisser
[posted 18 September 2001]

“Does my country really understand that this is World War III? And if this attack was the Pearl Harbor of World War III, it means there is a long, long war ahead.” (Thomas Friedman, New York Times, September 13, 2001)

Key U.S. government representatives and media figures have used the bombing of the WTC and Pentagon to create an international state of fear.

This has swept Washington’s closest allies (notably Germany and England, though not Italy) into agreeing carte blanche to participate in U.S. reprisals.

It has also served to obscure a most important question: Does Washington have a hidden agenda here, a strategy other than hurling bombs? If so, what is it, and what does it mean for the world?

Amid the increasingly implausible and frequently contradictory explanations (2) offered by U.S. government officials for their inability or unwillingness to intervene effectively before and during this past Tuesday’s aerial attacks in New York and Washington, D.C.—and as the cries for war drown out voices of reason—a deadly scenario is unfolding.

Columns in major mainstream newspapers have borne such titles as:

“World War III” (New York Times, 9/13)

“Give War A Chance” (Philadelphia Inquirer, 9/13)

“Time To Use The Nuclear Option” (Washington Times, 9/14).

A government that claims it had no knowledge of or was at a loss knowing how to deal with painstakingly organized terrorist attacks, now calls for “exterminating” previously unseen assailants by “ending states who sponsor terrorism”, in the words of Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Wolfowitz. Henry Kissinger argues (Los Angeles Times, 9/14) that alleged terrorist networks must be uprooted wherever they exist. Former Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu writes an article entitled “Dismantle Terrorist Supporting Regimes” (Jerusalem Post, 9/14). And to raise the level of international intimidation a notch, we have R.W. Apple, Jr. in the Washington Post (9/14):

“In this new kind [of] war... there are no neutral states or geographical confines. Us or them. You are either with us or against us.”

Initially, a mix of countries was threatened as so-called ‘states supporting terrorism’, who are not with us and therefore against us: Cuba, Iran, Iraq, Libya, North Korea, Sudan and Syria. Although differing in most respects, especially political ideology, they are alike three ways: They all bear decades of U.S. government hostility; they all have secular governments; they all have no connection to Osama bin Laden.

In, “Give War A Chance” (Philadelphia Inquirer) David Perlmutter warns that if these states do not do Washington’s bidding, they must:

“Prepare for the systematic destruction of every power plant, every oil refinery, every pipeline, every military base, every government office in the entire country... the complete collapse of their economy and government for a generation.”

Meanwhile, the countries which collaborated to create the Taliban, training and financing the forces of Osama bin Laden, and which have never stopped pouring money into the Taliban, namely Pakistan, close U.S. allies Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates, and the United States itself (documentation below) have not been placed on the “we’ve got to get them” list. Instead these states are touted as core allies in the New World War against terrorism.

Raising the pitch, yesterday:

“Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld said the U.S. would engage in a 'multi-headed effort' to target terrorist organizations and up to 60 countries believed to be supporting them.

"The U.S.," Mr. Rumsfeld told American TV, "had no choice other than to pursue terrorists and countries giving them refuge."

The threats to bomb up to a third of the world's countries have scared many people, worldwide. This, we think, is the intention. It serves two functions.

First, it means that if Washington limits its aggressive action mainly to attacking Afghanistan, the world will breathe a sigh of relief.

And we think Washington will mainly attack Afghanistan—at first. Other immediate violations of sovereignty, such as the forced use of Pakistan, will be backup action to support the attack on Afghanistan. There may also be some state terror, such as increased, unprovoked bombing of Iraq, as a diversion. But the main immediate focus will, we think, be Afghanistan.

Second, this scare tactic is meant to divert attention from Washington's real strategy, far more dangerous than the threat to bomb many states. Washington wants to take over Afghanistan in order to speed up the fulfillment of its strategy of pulverizing the former Soviet Republics in the same way that Washington has been pulverizing the former Yugoslavia. This poses the gravest risks to mankind.

WHAT DOES WASHINGTON WANT WITH IMPOVERISHED AFGHANISTAN?

To answer this question, look at any map of Europe and Asia. Consider the immense spread of the former Soviet Union, particularly Russia.

European Russia is 1,747,112 square miles. That's between a third and half the landmass of all Europe. Add the Asian part of Russia and you get 6,592,800 sq. mi. That's equal to most of the U.S. and China combined. More than half of Africa.

Russia borders Finland on the far West. It borders Turkey and the Balkans on the south. It extends to the edge of Asia in the Far East. It is the rooftop of Mongolia and China.

Not only is Russia spectacularly large, with incalculable wealth, mostly untapped, but it is the only world class nuclear power besides the U.S. Contrary to popular opinion, Russia's military might has not been destroyed; indeed, it is arguably stronger, in relation to the U.S., than during the early period of the Cold War. It has the most sophisticated submarine technology in the world.

If the U.S. can break up Russia and the other former Soviet Republics into weak territories, dominated by NATO, Washington would have a free hand.

Despite talk of Russia and the U.S. working together, this remains the thrust of U.S. policy. (3)

Afghanistan is strategically placed, not only bordering Iran, India and even, for a small stretch, China (!) but most important, sharing borders and a common religion with the Central Asian Republics of the former Soviet Union (SU), Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Tajikistan. These in turn border Kazakhstan, which borders Russia.

Central Asia is strategic not only for oil, as we are often told, but more important for position. Were Washington to take control of these Republics, NATO would have military bases in the following key areas: the Baltic region; the Balkans and Turkey; and these Republics. This would constitute a noose around Russia's neck.

Add to that Washington's effective domination of the former Soviet Republics of Azerbaijan and Georgia, in the south, and the U.S. would be positioned to launch externally instigated 'rebellions' all over Russia. NATO, whose current doctrine allows it to intervene in states on its periphery, could then initiate "low intensity wars" including the use of tactical nuclear weapons, also officially endorsed by current NATO doctrine, in 'response' to myriad 'humanitarian abuses'.

It is ironic that Washington claims it must return to Afghanistan to fight Islamist terrorism, because it was precisely in its effort to destroy Russian power that Washington first created the Islamist terrorist apparatus in Afghanistan, during the '80s.

This was not, as some say, rewriting history, a matter of aiding rebels against Russian expansionism. Whatever one thinks about the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan, it was in fact conceived as a defensive action to preserve, not alter, the world balance of power. It was the United States which took covert action to 'encourage' Russian intervention, with the goal of turning the conservative rural Afghan tribesmen into a force to drain the Soviet Union. This is admitted by Zbigniew Brzezinski, the key National Security chief at the time.

Consider excerpts from two newspaper reports. First the N.Y. Times:

"The Afghan resistance was backed by the intelligence services of the United States and Saudi Arabia with nearly $6 billion worth of weapons. And the territory targeted last week [this was published after the August, 1998 U.S. missile attack on Afghanistan], a set of six encampments around Khost, where the Saudi exile Osama bin Laden has financed a kind of 'terrorist university', in the words of a senior United States intelligence official, is well known to the Central Intelligence Agency.

"... some of the same warriors who fought the Soviets with the CIA's help are now fighting under Mr. bin Laden's banner.... (NY Times, 24 August 1998 pages A1 & A7)

And this from the London Independent:

"The Afghan Civil War was under way, and America was in it from the start—or even before the start, if [former National Security Adviser, and currently top foreign policy strategist Zbigniew] Brzezinski himself is to be believed.

"'We didn't push the Russians to intervene,' he told an interviewer in 1998, 'but we consciously increased the probability that they would do so. This secret operation was an excellent idea. Its effect was to draw the Russians into the Afghan trap. You want me to regret that?'

"The long-term effect of the American intervention from cold-warrior Brzezinski's perspective was 10 years later to bring the Soviet Union to its knees. But there were other effects, too.

"To keep the war going, the CIA, in cahoots with Saudi Arabia and Pakistan's military intelligence agency ISI (Inter-Services Intelligence Directorate), funneled millions and millions of dollars to the Mujahedeen. It was the remotest and the safest form of warfare: The U.S. (and Saudi Arabia) provided funds, and America also a very limited amount of training. They also provided the Stinger missiles that ultimately changed the face of the war.

"Pakistan's ISI did everything else: training, equipping, motivating, and advising. And they did the job with panache: Pakistan's military ruler at the time, General Zia ul Haq, who himself held strong fundamentalist leanings, threw himself into the task with a passion." (The Independent (London) 17 September 2001)

Right up to the present, U.S. ally Saudi Arabia has been perhaps the key force in maintaining the Taliban. But the U.S. has helped directly, as well. Despite the Taliban's monstrous record of humanitarian abuse:

"The Bush administration has not been deterred. Last week it pledged another $43 million in assistance to Afghanistan, raising total aid this year to $124 million and making the United States the largest humanitarian donor to the country."

Why have the U.S. and its allies continued—up to now—to fund the Taliban? And why nevertheless is the U.S. now moving to attack its monstrous creation?

It is our conviction, and that of many observers from the region in question, that Washington ordered Saudi Arabia and Pakistan to fund the Taliban so the Taliban could do a job: consolidate control over Afghanistan and from there move to destabilize the formerly Soviet Central Asian Republics on its borders.

But the Taliban has failed. It has not defeated the Russian-backed Northern Alliance. Instead of subverting Central Asia in businesslike fashion, it has indulged in blowing up statues of Buddha and terrorizing people who deviate from the most regressive interpretation of Islam.

At the same time, Russia has been moving in the 'wrong' direction. The completely controllable Yeltsin has been replaced with President Putin, who partially resists the U.S., for example, putting down the CIA-backed takeover of Chechnya by Islamist terrorists, linked to Afghanistan. Worse, China and Russia have signed a mutual defense pact. And despite immense European/U.S. pressure, Russian President Putin refused to condemn Belarussian President Lukashenko who, like the jailed but unbroken Yugoslav President Milosevic, calls for standing up to NATO.

It is this unfavorable series of developments that has caused Washington to increase its reliance on Washington's all-time favorite tactic: extreme brinkmanship.

Thus, on the very eve of recent Belarussian presidential elections:

"[Ambassador to Belarus Michael Kozak wrote to a British newspaper that] America's 'objective and to some degree methodology are the same' in Belarus as in Nicaragua, where the U.S. backed the Contras against the left-wing Sandinista Government in a war that claimed at least 30,000 lives." (The Times (UK), 3 September 2001.) (4)

As you may recall, the Contras were a U.S.-financed terrorist outfit that specialized in attacking farming villages and slaughtering supporters of the left-wing nationalist Sandinista government in Nicaragua.

Just as a few weeks ago, U.S. Ambassador Kozak openly advocated a policy of state terror against the former Soviet Republic of Belarus in the Baltic area—for no phrase other than 'state terror' can describe the U.S. sponsorship of the Contras in Nicaragua—Washington has decided to intervene directly in strategic Afghanistan, set smack in the middle of Asia and positioned so as to complete a three-pronged encirclement of Russia: Central Asia, the Balkans and the Baltic.

Washington has cynically used the mass slaughter at the World Trade Center and the lesser attack on the Pentagon to rally its NATO forces, invoking Article Five of NATO's charter, under which all members of NATO must respond to an attack on any one, with the goal of a) putting together a "peacekeeping force" for Afghanistan b) launching air and possibly ground attacks c) eliminating the obstinate and incompetent leadership of the Taliban and d) taking direct control through the creation of a U.S.-dominated NATO military presence.

Some argue that NATO would be crazy to try to pacify Afghanistan. They say the British failed to do it in the 1800s, and the Russians failed in the 1980s.

But Washington does not need or intend to pacify Afghanistan. It needs to create a military presence sufficient to organize and direct indigenous forces to penetrate the Central Asian republics and instigate armed conflict, to (as we shall hear groups like Human Rights Watch saying soon enough) “free victims of humanitarian abuses from the oppressive hand of soviet style governments”, etc.

Rather than trying to defeat the Taliban, Washington will make the Taliban an offer they cannot refuse: fight the U.S., and die, or join it, getting plenty of money and guns, plus a free hand to handle the drug trade, just as the U.S. has permitted the KLA to make a fortune from drugs in the Balkans. (5)

This would duplicate what Washington did in Kosovo, training and consolidating a Kosovo Liberation Army-type terrorist force, in this case out of elements of the Taliban and others, and directing this army against the former Soviet Central Asian Republics, just as it has directed the KLA against Macedonia. At the same time it could increase its offers of military assistance to these same Republics, thus penetrating the region on both sides of conflict in fact instigated by Washington, simultaneously attacking and defending Central Asia—precisely as it has done in Macedonia. The goal: decimated, NATO-dominated territories in place of Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Tajikistan. (6)

This strategy cannot be sold to the American people. We repeat: it cannot be sold.

It is for that reason, that the Bush administration is using the tragic nightmare of murder in New York, which itself occurred under circumstances suggesting the complicity of American covert forces, to create an international hysteria in order to drag NATO into the strategic occupation of Afghanistan and an intensified assault on the former Soviet Union. (7)

Before anyone sighs with relief, thinking, “Thank God this is all that’s happening,” consider that apart from the violation of national sovereignty and many other very negative aspects of Washington’s plans, the attack on Afghanistan brings NATO to Russia’s Central Asian doorstep. This is a strategic escalation of conflict, moving us all much closer—nobody knows how much closer and nobody knows how fast things will escalate—to worldwide nuclear war.

Will Washington get away with it? Washington, and the giant capitalists who control it, obviously think Russia will let itself be destroyed. But then, as the Greeks say, “Pride is followed by self-destruction.”

The Russians are very deceptive. They try to avoid a fight. But as Mr. Hitler discovered, when they are pushed to the wall, they fight with the ferocity of lions. And they have tens of thousands of nuclear weapons.

Thus Washington is playing with the possibility of a war which would make the horror that occurred last Tuesday at the World Trade Center, or even the much larger-scale horror of NATO’s terror-bombing of Yugoslavia, look like minor incidents. (8)—Emperor’s Clothes

WILL RUSSIA LIGHT THE FUSE ON WORLD DEBT?

By Rachel Douglas, Executive Intelligence Review, 9/7/01

Something like the “explosion of the universe”, projected by Russian economist Tatyana Koryagina, when she forecast an August escalation of the U.S.-centered financial and economic crash could be triggered by policy decisions adopted by the Russian government on gold and currency. The setting is an international confluence of debt defaults, corporate losses, layoffs, tumbling stock indexes, and rumored hedge-fund catastrophes, which only the self-deluded could fail to recognize as a global systemic crisis.

The Russian actions have a twofold effect. On the strategic policy level, Russia is a heavyweight among nations inclined to seek new, more stable economic arrangements, likely including the remonetization of gold, in place of the now-imploding post-1971 world monetary system. Moreover, at a time when masses of implicitly worthless financial paper are piled high into every nook and cranny of the planet, major financial players’ sensitivity to sudden Russian moves in the domain of gold and raw materials is high, as was plain when Russia abruptly suspended the export and import of precious metals on Aug. 25.

Think of the potential of “a Russian fuse, burning on the global paper H-bomb”, recommends EIR Founder and Contributing Editor Lyndon LaRouche, and you’ll begin to grasp the potential dimensions of the events reported here. Or, as LaRouche remarked about the positive side of this potential, look at the Russian moves toward replacement of the dollar standard of recent decades, and realize that their impact can be comparable with that of the Dec. 7, 1941 events at Pearl Harbor. The escalating implications of Russia’s reintroduction of the gold chervonets coin, and related policies, can be understood only in the context of LaRouche’s own work in creating the conditions for a new monetary system, employing the sound principles of the original Bretton Woods system.

De-Dollarization

Russian Central Bank Chairman Viktor Gerashchenko’s decree, making the gold chervonets and silver “Sable” coins legal tender, was signed June 18 and went into effect on July 3. Kommersant-daily immediately dubbed the chervonets “Russia’s alternative to the dollar”. The daily Nezavisimaya Gazeta headlined, “Central Bank Attacks the Dollar with the Chervonets”, explaining that the coin will not be valued at its face value of 10 rubles or strictly according to its gold content of 7.742 grams, but will be subject to a regular price-fixing by the Central Bank, based on the price of gold on the London exchange, the ruble exchange rate of the dollar, and “the interests of the Central Bank itself, and of the retail network”. The first gold coins were to be received by commercial banks, authorized to conduct sales and purchases of chervontsy.

Interviewed by Nezavisimaya about the Bank of Russia move, senior liberal reformer Yevgeni Yasin said that he thought that “the gold chervontsy will not be used as a medium of exchange, but will be a means for savings and accumulation”.

By the end of August, branches of the state-owned Sberbank in several regions of Russia had begun to sell chervontsy, acquired by them in the 1970s and 1980s when ten tons of the coins were minted as prospective souvenirs of the 1980 Moscow Olympic Games. On Aug. 23, the monthly supplement of Kommersant devoted its front-page feature to Yelena Kiselyova’s write-up of the highly liquid and tax-exempt chervonets, and its prospects for becoming popular. When the Central Bank makes the official price-fixing, she reported, it will likely be in the range of 2,000 rubles (nearly $70 at the current exchange rate). “Such investments will be profitable only in the event that world gold prices rise. But, that will apparently happen soon, in view of the crisis tendencies on global financial markets, and pessimistic forecasts about the U.S. dollar,” concluded Kiselyova.

The Russian government has moved also in other ways, to soak up a portion of the $100 billion-some, circulating as dollar cash inside Russia. An article called “Bush’s Nightmare”, by Georgi Osipov in Izvestia of Aug. 27, declared that “Russian monetary authorities seem to have started the de-dollarization of the economy”, by encouraging Russian banks to replace the dollar in financial operations. During the first five months of this year, Russian banks’ ruble-denominated lending increased by 23.7%, while foreign-currency-denominated lending rose only 15.1%. The share of loans denominated in foreign currencies, declined from 38.5% to 36.8%. Some of the loans are denominated in rubles, but repayments are due in dollars, a process that pulls the dollars from circulation. Sberbank, meanwhile, is allowing customers to open euro accounts in the European “single currency”, the euro, and to convert their dollar accounts to euro accounts in a matter of two minutes.

Izvestia’s Osipov recalled that the dollar achieved its recent world status after being separated from gold—the abandonment of “a basic principle of the Bretton Woods conference”. Since then, since 1971, “our green friend” has been “based upon trust in God, as is written on the notes, as well as on the belief in the development of the U.S. economy. But prospects for this are now highly dubious,” wrote the Russian journalist.

Nations Look to Gold

The Russian chervonets has its roots in Count Sergei Witte’s gold-backed ruble policy of the 1890s and Soviet Foreign Minister Georgi Chicherin’s 1922-24 gold chervonets, of which today’s coin is a replica. Each of those precedents was associated with a battle for Russian economic development, against the preferences of London-centered international finance. The more recent history of the chervonets revival may be dated from late 1998, after Russia’s default on GKO government bonds and the devaluation of the ruble. It should be viewed in tandem with shifting Russian evaluations of global economic conditions and their implications for who has political clout.

During the eight-month tenure of Yevgeni Primakov as Russian premier, various maverick economists proposed an international role for the ruble, and for gold. Proposals circulated at that time included Monya Kantov’s “The Ruble as a World Reserve Currency”, and Artur Sazonov’s plan for a “gold-backed ruble”, linked to the euro.

Upon election as President of Russia in June 2000, Vladimir Putin announced that he would seek economic policies that were consistent with national security. While far from firing every monetarist on his team, Putin instituted a new State Council that Autumn, which marked an institutional shift from the hegemony of the “radical liberals” under Boris Yeltsin. Putin began to draw on the expertise of economists like Dr. Sergei Glazyev and Academician Dmitri Lvov, who previously were strictly opposition figures. They contributed to the so-called Ishayev Report (see EIR, March 2, 2001), commissioned by Putin as a formulation of national development strategies, alternative to the one drafted by the liberal Minister of Trade and Economic Development German Gref.

Also during the second half of 2000, a group working under Yuri Maslyukov began to investigate the weakness of the U.S. dollar as a world reserve currency.

Maslyukov had been first deputy premier under Primakov, and now heads the State Duma Committee on Industry, Construction, and Science-Intensive Technologies. Two members of his circle, Oleg Grigoryev and Mikhail Khazin, produced and published a celebrated forecast of U.S. financial disintegration, due to the demise of the so-called New Economy (EIR, Aug. 20, 2000). In May 2001, Maslyukov's committee published a book in Russian, The Collapse of the World Dollar System: Near-Term Prospects.

On March 6-7, 2001, LaRouche's associate Jonathan Tennenbaum was a featured speaker at a conference on "The Threat of a Crisis of Global Reserve Currencies", held near Moscow, also addressed by several contributors to the Maslyukov book. Two months later, on May 15, Tennenbaum took part in another Moscow seminar on the global financial crisis, held in the Diplomatic Chamber of the Kremlin Palace in Moscow. The future role of the euro currency, and potentially even of a gold-based Chinese yuan, as alternative reserve currencies in the context of a threatened crash of the dollar, was discussed by several Russian speakers, including an expert from the Central Mathematical Economics Institute. At that time, it was indicated that Russian investors had already begun a quiet diversification out of the dollar, into other currencies as well as hard physical assets. The Malaysian Ambassador to Russia also addressed the seminar, speaking of his country's experience in adopting capital controls and reasserting national economic sovereignty against the dictates of the International Monetary Fund.

Lyndon LaRouche presented his policy for the institution of a New Bretton Woods system, as the guest of State Duma Committee on Economy Policy Chairman Sergei Glazyev, first at a June 28 press conference in Moscow, and then at Duma hearings the next day. At both events, speakers Glazyev and Dmitri Mityayev, head of the Center for Systemic Forecasting, called for the diversification of Russian gold and currency reserves, to de-emphasize the dollar.

IMF Is 'Concerned'

Indeed, according to an article by Armen Munayan in the Aug. 20 issue of the Russian weekly Ekspert, the gold reserves of the Bank of Russia have increased by 48 tons in the past nine months. Finance Minister Aleksei Kudrin stated Aug. 17 that during approximately the same period, since the beginning of 2001, total Russian gold and currency reserves have risen from $28 billion to $37 billion. Their composition has changed, in favor of gold; Ekspert specified that "the long-term tendency for the share of gold in the gold and currency reserves to fall", has now been reversed. Munayan wrote that this development was of concern to the International Monetary Fund, because "no other country in the world has registered such a steep increase of its gold reserves".

The Ekspert article went on to discuss the potential strategic weight of the gold holdings of a number of nations: "The increase in Russia's reserves of 'the yellow metal' is cause for concern in certain circles of the 'gold' community. The reason is that Russia, with its 391 tons of reserve gold, along with China (which has approximately the same quantity of the precious metal) is among the countries, whose intentions regarding the use of gold are unclear."

On July 17, Malaysia became the 12th country in the world to issue gold coins. Bank Negara, the national bank, issued the Kijang Emas Gold Bullion Coin in 1 oz., @c4 oz., and ½ oz. sizes, valued according to the international market price of gold. Bank Negara promoted the coin as an investment safe from inflation. In Kazakhstan, press articles appearing in August called for a buildup of the nation's gold reserves. Kazakhstanskaya Pravda editorialized, "The higher the gold reserve is, the higher is the authority of the state, and the harder is the national currency."

The prime ministers of China and of Malaysia will visit Moscow during September.

What do these economists and leaders of state in Russia, Kazakhstan, or Malaysia know, that citizens and politicians in the United States or Western Europe don't know? In a July 12 interview with Pravda, elaborating her forecast of the U.S. and worldwide crash, Tatyana Koryagina said, "I am closely watching the measures taken by the President and the Central Bank. From the standpoint of pre-crisis measures, they are acting properly. It is possible that after Aug. 19 [the date Koryagina named as a time frame for the next crisis phase], the ruble may become a rather good currency."

Precious Metals Frozen

The latest drama of Russian gold and precious metals unfolded on Aug. 25, when the State Customs Committee froze all import and export operations with these commodities, except for those covered by certain long-term contracts. The pretext for the action was the scheduled implementation on that day, Presidential decree dated June 21, by which Putin allowed precious-metals producers to export them directly (instead of through commercial banks)—but also centralized the licensing and regulation of all such exports, under the State Assay Chamber attached to the Ministry of Finance. Since the Ministry of Finance had not prepared the new documentation by Aug. 25, the same decree required the State Customs Committee to refuse passage for the commodities.

The Presidential decree also ordered the Russian government to coordinate its implementation with Russia's customs union partners—Belarus, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, and Tajikistan. The coordination of monetary and gold policies was reportedly discussed by Putin and the leaders of these countries, at the informal Commonwealth of Independent States summit in Sochi, held Aug. 1-3. (The Russian Union of Gold producers claims that commercial banks have lately shifted up to 90% of Russian gold exports into the shadow economic sector, funnelling them through cutouts in the customs union countries in order to evade the Russian Federation's 5% export tax on gold.)

Ministry of Finance sources quoted in the Russian media shrugged off the Aug. 25 import-export suspension as a bureaucratic snafu; but for certain, every decision affecting the movement or accumulation of Russian gold and precious metal resources, is a point of intense political strife in Russia. Any leadership impulse to act in the national interest, tends to come into conflict with Russian raw materials operators—who made criminal fortunes during the 1990s "reforms"—and their international partners and patrons who look at Russia as a source of loot, and who fear its actions in the direction of a New Bretton Woods.

It remains unconfirmed at this writing, whether Russian metals and gems trade will be resumed by Aug. 31, by Sept. 10, or perhaps in February or later, and on different terms. In the meantime, Pavel Loginov of the gold-exporting Rosbank complained to the Moscow Times, his bank and other private gold-market operators can only sell their gold to the Central Bank, not to their more lucrative commercial partners.

THE NEW WAR-LD ORDER— AMERICA'S NEW WAR

By Richard Sauder, Ph.D., sauderzone.com, 9/16/01

The Samizdat Chronicles, Part II

I suppose it was inevitable that the New World Order would turn out to actually be the "New War-ld Order". And that George Bush, Jr. would promote himself to be War-ld Leader.

Lord help us.

I want to underscore at the outset that it goes without saying that the assault on the World Trade Center was horrific. As I watched the plane slam into the tower, people jumping to their death from hundreds of feet up, and then both of the towers crumbling, I found myself saying, "How bizarre." And then, "My God. Thousands of people just died." I was rendered speechless. The event was so far out of my experience that I watched it in numb disbelief.

The numbness persists. But in this novocaine-like numbness several thoughts have kept coming to the fore of my mind. Let me set them out for you. I ask that you reflect on them soberly. I believe you may see some truth in what I say—perhaps a great deal more truth than in the so-called "official" pronouncements you hear and see in the major news media outlets these last few days.

1) This was an extremely sophisticated operation. More than one observer has mentioned its almost military efficiency—as if it had the backing of a well-oiled intelligence machine behind it. My question: Was a well-oiled intelligence machine behind it? Are we seeing a massive intelligence operation, with considerable resources behind it? Are we really to believe that one man in a turban on the other side of the planet is the major driving force behind this? Or might the source of this very sophisticated conspiracy lie much closer to home, right in the United States itself? As I recall, bin Laden got his start as an indirect (or was it direct?) CIA-asset, as a mujahadin warrior fighting against the Soviet Army during their abortive 10-year invasion of Afghanistan. Question: Is bin Laden still a CIA-asset today? Does the CIA use him and his followers as a mercenary force on "cut-out" operations where they need "plausible deniability"? Like say, for a massive, staged-for-TV terrorist operation on American soil? Don't lash out at me for posing the question. THINK.

2) I have read that the plane that struck the Pentagon first flew toward/near/over the White House, before veering away and over the Potomac to the Pentagon. The White House has defenses for PRECISELY this type of event. Why were they not activated? Was the plane expected? Or did it receive other, um, flight instructions en route? THINK.

3) The White House issued a statement saying that there was "credible evidence" that the hijackers had access to secret codes and information concerning the presidential jet, Air Force One, such that George Bush, Jr. fled first to Louisiana and then to Nebraska, before returning to Washington, D.C. at the end of the day. If this statement is true, then that presupposes that this attack may have roots that extend into the most secret levels of the Executive branch of the United States government. Those codes are very closely held. I don't have them and neither do you. Yet we have been led to believe by the Bush White House that the hijackers somehow may have had them. How is this possible? Could the conspiracy extend into the Federal Government itself? (It occurs to me that the White House's assertion that the hijackers had access to TOP SECRET codes might also be false, in order to make George Jr.'s day on the run appear less, shall we say, cowardly, and more, er, presidential. If so, that would then call the truthfulness of other statements and pronouncements made that same day into question. So—we are ineluctably faced either with deceit and lies by the White House, or with a conspiracy that may reach very deep indeed into the United States government itself—or maybe both!) THINK.

4) Are we looking at some kind of coup d'etat in progress? Look at the two major targets that were hit: the nerve center of the American military (The Pentagon) and the nerve center of the American economy (Lower Manhattan). You know, in many other countries, if the national military headquarters and major financial centers were massively bombed at the same time, it would be instantly understood that there was possibly a coup d'etat underway, with rival factions within the military and the business elite vying for control. But not in the U.S.A. Nope. This is the land of the “lone-nut-conspiracy”. Where any complex matter, no matter how intricate and sophisticated it may be gets reduced to “one lone nut”. It usually takes only a matter of hours. And, yep, sure enough: one lone nut. Osama bin Laden. But not just any lone nut, this bin Laden character. No, he happens to have had indirect (or were/are they direct?) ties to the CIA. Hmm. Let's see, Lee Harvey Oswald also had ties to the CIA. You don't suppose that could just be a coincidence, now do you?

5) One day when I was doing my graduate studies one of my professors who worked for the CIA told me, “Earlier in my career, I used to help overthrow governments.” I am sure he told the truth. This is what the CIA has been doing for decades. In Guatemala, Iran, Chile—the list continues. You know how the old saying goes: “Practice makes perfect.” THINK.

6) Usually when a coup d'etat (or attempted coup d'etat) occurs, you will see certain kinds of actions take place. Daily life will be disrupted. There will be troops and armored personnel carriers in the Capital city immediately afterward. This happened in Washington, D.C. There will be a security crackdown with increased police surveillance and arbitrary arrest and detention. Sure enough, just yesterday, I read that the FBI has increased its surveillance of the Internet, and that the U.S. Senate has voted to increase federal telephone-tapping authority. Also, the news has been full of stories of people being arrested and detained here and there around the country—usually men of Middle Eastern, Muslim or Arab ancestry or origin. There will also be restrictions on free movement. We also have seen this in the present confusion, with restrictions on air travel and the searches and arrest of passengers on Amtrak. All of this is done in the name of greater security and safety. But what if the foxes are within the flock—and not without? What is occurring has a very strange feel to it. THINK.

7) Everywhere I go I see flags. I read of a crowd of workers at the World Trade Center spontaneously chanting “USA, USA, USA, USA” in unison when Bush visited. And I thought: This Bush man will lead these Unthinking American Sheeple to their uncomprehending deaths. And most astonishingly of all: In their thousands they will go willingly, never understanding how they are manipulated and led to the slaughter.

8) It reminds me that one of the techniques the CIA-mind controllers used in the MK-Ultra mind-control program was called “psychic driving”. It turns out that if you induce massive emotional trauma into the human psyche that it makes it highly suggestible and mentally programmable. That is, you shatter the normal psyche with emotional trauma and—while it is in a vulnerable, shattered condition—you insert the new mental program you want the person to embody and carry out. When the psyche recovers from the trauma—when the psyche establishes a new emotional equilibrium—it is, however, radically changed: It has incorporated the new thoughts, the new way of thinking and acting that the mind controller presented to it when it was shattered. When it reconstitutes itself it incorporates the mind-control program as part of its emotional/psychological/mental constitution. I suggest that we are seeing a massive mind-control operation to insert a WAR program into the hearts and souls of Americans and as much of the rest of the world as possible. THINK.

9) For all of the foregoing reasons and more, I want to say just as plainly and publicly as I can that I am OPPOSED to this coming war. It cannot possibly have a good result. To avenge 5,000 victims (or 20,000?) America may very well kill even more, perhaps a great deal more—many of whom will be just as innocent as the victims of last week's attacks. I have read that the Pentagon will employ its entire arsenal in the coming conflict. That is sobering. That would include everything, up to and including, nuclear weapons. If the U.S.A. uses nuclear weapons, can anyone reading this doubt that those against whom they are used will strike back in return? And if an American city is nuked—what then? Does the Pentagon then nuke back in return? And if so, do those who are nuked, nuke America yet again? And so forth. Where would it end? THINK.

10) I am deeply troubled by the anti-Arab, anti-Muslim hysteria of recent days. I have read of attacks against mosques and harassment of Arabs and Muslims in the streets. Remember the NAZIS' Kristallnacht? Where the German people went on a rampage against Jews and their synagogues in the run-up to World War II? Must we behave like the NAZIS did? I would suggest that such behavior is profoundly un-American. Let me say that over the years I have known several Arabs and Muslims. They were my friends and associates, and I liked them. I even studied Arabic for one year. I submit that we need greater understanding of the Arabic and Muslim worlds—not less. Perhaps if we understood more, we would hate less.

11) Chickens coming home to roost. See Point 5 above. The CIA and the Pentagon have violently intervened, directly and indirectly, all over the world, time and time again. The aggregate civilian casualties run to the MILLIONS. Here is just a partial list: Guatemala, Panama, Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Haiti, Grenada, Cuba, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Iraq, Iran, Lebanon, Libya, Somalia, Angola, Liberia, Serbia, Kosovo—and the list keeps on going and going. If America thought it could just send in the Marines, send in the CIA-covert operations guys and assassination teams and stomp on the peasantry here—and there and everywhere—and no one would ever strike back; well, that simple-minded delusion may have just ended with a very big bang in New York.

12) And would the CIA and others—like the ultra-rich Bush family and its Big Oil cronies and World Bank friends, who want to impose a fascist global order—play off violent factions in the Arab and Muslim world against the civilian population in America in order to annihilate the first, while further enslaving the second? DUH!—Do yah think maybe?

13) Enslaving the population of America. In the headlines recently: A) Increased telephone wire-tapping by the FBI. B) Increased surveillance of the Internet and e-mail by the FBI's CARNIVORE program. C) Prominent arrests and detentions of travelers on trains and planes—some are released; others are held. Will you be next? Are you sure about that? D) Politicians talking about giving up some of the freedoms we have become used to in order to have greater security—presumably things like the 4th Amendment—the right to be secure from police intrusion, harassment and surveillance within the sphere of our personal lives and homes? E) Increased use of biometric identification by banks, airports and government bureaucracies—retina scans, palm print scans, digitized photo data banks used by crowd-scanning cameras. F) Massive surveillance of global electronic communications by the NSA's ECHELON program.

Right. Society itself is now a huge open-air prison—and we are all inmates in the “Federal Penitentiary”. Don't lash out at me for stating the plain facts. Just please THINK.

In conclusion:

I listened to George Bush, Jr. on the radio. He talked about “ridding the world of evil”. And in the instant that he said those words I understood the depths of the danger that we all face, because I understood that this man has a huge messiah complex. He has a classic “big man-little man” psychological profile and he's out to save the world from “evil”. And that is dangerous, very dangerous indeed. Because he and other political and military figures have plainly said that they will unleash the massive force of the Pentagon's huge arsenal in a global campaign against terrorism that will be wide-ranging and long-term. The better to defend America's cherished “freedom” and protect America against further harm. The war will be prosecuted relentlessly, at home and abroad. Who precisely are the “enemies”? Well, we haven't exactly been told that just yet.

But “they” are out there and also right “here” in America!—dangerous, amorphous, hard to identify, slippery, cunning. Perhaps even your next door neighbor! Gasp! (Will the federal cops start kicking in doors at 3:00am like the Gestapo used to do during the Third Reich—to apprehend alleged “enemies” of the state in their pajamas?) So the U.S. government has made something like a declaration of war—open-ended, ongoing, with an initial $40 billion slush fund to wage it. And the war has already started—there is already an adversary, even if no one can yet say with precision just who the “enemy” is.

I believe there is every possibility that in George Bush, Jr.'s crusade to “rid the world of evil” that he just may end up unleashing even more evil, both overseas and in the United States of America. So I am OPPOSED to this “New War-ld Order”.

Finally, there is the piddling little matter that when “Jr.” was faced with his first Presidential crisis his first instinct was to run and run... as fast and as far as his official airplane could carry him... he ran first to Louisiana... and then he ran some more to Nebraska... and then he came slinking home at the end of the day. Translation: When the sloppy stuff hits the fan, he and other (so-called) “leaders” will scurry to their underground bunkers and surround themselves with their Praetorian guards and leave you to face the violence all alone with your bare hands. Your (so-called) government hard at work.

Please THINK.—dr_samizdat@hotmail.com

[MM: Visit Dr. Sauder's Website (<http://www.sauderzone.com>) for book-ordering info. He's considered an expert on underground/underwater tunnels/bases—and his books have been recommended by GCH.]

ISRAELI MOSSAD LINKS TO WORLD TRADE CENTER ATTACK

From Stern.Intel, Rense.com, 9/17/01

[Note: This has not been confirmed but is in net circulation. There is a deluge of stories and reports on the net and in the media which cite unidentified 'intelligence sources' or 'military intelligence sources' and so forth. Some is disinformation, some is reality, and some is a mixture of both.—ed.]

A U.S. military intelligence source revealed details of an internal intelligence memo that points to the Israeli Mossad intelligence service having links to the World Trade Center and Pentagon attacks. The intelligence source, who requested his name be withheld, confirmed the internal U.S. intelligence memo circulated four weeks ago described information that pointed to the threat of a covert Israeli operation on U.S. soil to turn mass public opinion against Palestinian Arabs via an apparent terrorist attack on U.S. interests that would give Israel the green light to implement a large-scale military onslaught against the Palestinian Arab population.

The 11 September attack has been described by experts as being too sophisticated for a lone terrorist group to execute.

"This attack required a high level of military precision and the resources of an advanced intelligence agency. In addition, the attackers would have needed to be extremely familiar with both Air Force One flight operations, civil airline flight paths and aerial assault tactics on sensitive U.S. cities like Washington," stated David Stern an expert on Israeli intelligence operations.

"The attacks targeted the Pentagon, World Trade Center towers, with the White House and Air Force One also being targets according to the FBI. The attacks have certainly turned U.S. public opinion firmly back in Israel's favor after 11 months of Palestinian uprising, heavy criticism of Israel over war-crimes allegations and racism by a UN conference in Durban. The attacks serve no Arab group or nations interests but their timing came in the midst of international condemnation of Israel for its policy of death-squad assassination of Palestinian political and police figures," added Stern.

If verified, the news of Israel's involvement in the U.S. attack will come as no surprise to intelligence experts. The state of Israel has a long history of covert operations against Western targets with attacks on the King David Hotel, USS Liberty, murder of a Scandinavian UN envoy as well as espionage against the U.S. during the Jonathan Pollard case. On Wednesday the U.S. defense department issued a warning to its officials to halt the leak of information on the investigation which it says is happening on a daily basis since the attacks occurred.

COUNTDOWN TO ARMAGEDDON: A YIDDISHE MEDINA

By Israel Shamir, shamir@home.se, 9/20/01

The great slaughter of innocents is imminent. Very soon, hundreds of thousands, if not millions of our brothers by Adam and Eve will be strafed, napalmed, and nuked. Boys and girls, unborn babes and old men will be brought to the altar of Vengeance and ritually slaughtered by the High Priest of that God, President George W. Bush. The time is aptly chosen, and it is hardly a coincidence. The ten days after Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, are called the Days of Trepidation, all the way to the tenth day, Yom HaDin, the Doomsday.

President Bush called his enterprise, Crusade. This title invokes in our memory the dour knights of Aquitaine and pious Frankish warriors, who took Cross and with the name of Our Lady on their lips ventured into a long and hard pilgrimage. Reality was worse. The Crusade was a Western Jihad and it caused a lot of bloodshed. The Crusaders were wild and unruly, they sacked the most beautiful Christian city on Earth, Constantinople, and they drenched in blood the holy ground of Jerusalem. A Crusader chronicler Radulf of Caen, wrote of his comrades-at-arms, in the Syrian city of Maarra, 'they impaled babies on spits, grilled and devoured them'. They were rough folk, and still I would like to save the name of these killers and cannibals from being besmirched by association with G.W. Bush' Crusade. They never went after revenge, this most un-Christian, even anti-Christian feeling.

The very essence of Christ's Gospel was the rejection of revenge. That was the great difference between the Church and the Synagogue, these two sisters born two thousand years ago. This difference is built in, it is the inherent most prominent feature of the gap between the two faiths: While Christians are called to pray for their enemies, Jews dream of vengeance.

In the intended ideological confusion of last century, Christians are taught to think that the Jews wait for Messiah who is Christ. Christianity teaches that He came and will come again, while Judaism considers the Messiah did not come yet, that is all the difference according to the teaching of Judeo-Christianity. But reality is vastly different: Christ came to save, while Messiah comes to take revenge. It was proven by the brilliant Israeli scholar, Prof. Israel Jacob Yuval of Hebrew University in his new book, Two Nations In Your Womb [i]. 'Vengeful salvation', as Yuval called it, was adopted by the European Jews from the old Pharisee sources and became the prevailing doctrine of the Synagogue.

When Dr. Israel Yuval published his insightful book on theology of vengeance in Judaism, it was accepted with great enthusiasm by his Israeli colleagues, but the American Jewish scholars hated it. Dr. Ezra Fleischer wrote a vehement critique, concluding it with the words: 'it would be better if such a book would not be printed, but if it was printed, it should be sentenced to oblivion'.

Prof. Yuval quotes many ancient Jewish texts proving this point. "In the End of the days (when the Messiah comes) God will destroy, kill and exterminate all the nations but the sons of Israel", written in the Sefer Nitzahon Yashan, written by a German Jew in 13th c. A liturgical poet Klonimus b. Judah had a vision of 'God's hands full of Goys' corpses'. Even more dreadful dreams of blood and destruction precede the first attacks on Jews in the end of 11th Century. A hundred years before the Crusaders' onslaught on Jews, R. Simon b.

Yitzhak calls on God 'to take His sword and slaughter the Gentiles'. In order to hasten the destruction of Gentiles, the sages of Europe adopted curses against Christians and Christ, and introduced them into liturgy of Passover, Doomsday and even the daily prayer.

That is why the decision of President Bush to embark of the campaign of revenge is not a Christian act. One could argue that the President and his administration are manipulated by the Jews, who dream of vengeance. Not in vain, immediately after Wall Street was hit by kamikaze, Bibi Nataniyahu said 'it is very good for us'[ii]. Not in vain, Ariel Sharon tried to compare Palestinians to Osama b. Laden. Not in vain, Israelis demand destruction of Baghdad and Teheran, of Korea and Sudan, of everybody who is not taking orders from Tel Aviv or Washington.

A mystic would not call it 'manipulation', but would accept for its face value the arrival of Messiah of Vengeance in the unlikely figure of G.W. Bush. The Messiah of Vengeance has actually a different name in Christian theology. He is called Antichrist.

The Christian theologians tried to delve in the qualities of this apocalyptic figure. St. John of Damascus prophesied, 'Antichrist will come to Jews and for Jews, against Christ and Christians'. (John the Damascene was a friend of Islam and he explained Muslim dogma of eternal Koran as a form of the Christian teaching of Logos.) Church Fathers considered the Rise of Antichrist as the rise and temporary triumph of Judaism. In 10 c., St Andrew the Byzantine prophesied, 'The kingdom of Israel will be restored and it will become the launching pad of Antichrist'.

This proximity of Israel to Apocalypse is felt by millions of devout Christians in the United States. They learned that the rise of Antichrist is the stage on the way to the Second Coming. But, being misled by their pastors, they draw a paradoxical conclusion and decided to side with Antichrist. They forgot the words, 'the Son of Man will go as it has been decreed, but woe to that man' who sides with Antichrist.

There are two days of the Jewish calendar especially suitable for the vengeance. One of them is Purim, the day, when according to Esther, the Jews slaughtered 75,000 Gentiles in Persia. On Purim, Dr. Baruch Goldstein of Brooklyn and Hebron massacred the devout Muslims on the Tomb of Abraham. On Purim, the ministers of Germany were executed in Nuremberg. On Purim, two hundred thousand Iraqis were immolated by the U.S. Air Force in 1991. Purim is auspicious, but Doomsday is even more appropriate for the vengeance on the grand scale, for the massacre of Messianic proportions. Soon afterwards, there is the feast of Succoth, when the Messiah could be revealed.

Just one minute before we declare Bush as the Antichrist and/or Messiah, there is one circumstance that calls for investigation. We know now of some inside trading in insurance and airline shares that imply a previous knowledge of the forthcoming attack. We know of some advance warnings in the Jewish-owned investment banking system. I can not imagine a Muslim terrorist who would try and fit the schedule of the Jewish High Holidays. Even less I could imagine the apocalyptic Antichrist and his Jewish Cabbalist advisers buy futures on the stock exchange. It is easier to seek some bad guys, not necessarily diabolic. Prudence demands we should account for mundane factors before going to the celestial ones. That was the preferred method of Father Brown, the hero of G.K. Chesterton: before applying for a miracle, check material sources.

II

Indeed, there is no certainty that President Bush is manipulated by the Jews. Such presumption is based on idea that there is a non-Jewish United States, 'America stand-alone', manipulated and subverted by Jews. If it would be the case, by miraculously excluding the Jews from public discourse, this original America would be regained. Actually, the recent post-terror discourse in the U.S. is a hesitant proof to the contrary.

Many American public figures, Jews and non-Jews alike, called for revenge. "There is only one way to begin to deal with people like this, and that is you have to kill some of them even if they are not immediately directly involved in this thing", said the former Secretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger [iii], who heads the Jewish organisation for claims to Germany, at USD 300,000 per annum.

'The response to this unimaginable 21st-Century Pearl Harbor should be as simple as it is swift—kill the bastards. A gunshot between the eyes, blow them to smithereens, poison them if you have to. As for cities or countries that host these worms, bomb them into basketball courts' said Steve Dunleavy in New York Post [iv]. In the Washington Post, Rich Lowry proposed, 'If we flatten part of Damascus or Tehran or whatever it takes, that is part of the solution.' [v]

The best quote goes to Ann Coulter, 'This is no time to be precious about locating the exact individuals directly involved in this particular terrorist attack... We should invade their countries, kill their leaders and convert them to Christianity (!?). We weren't punctilious about locating and punishing only Hitler and his top officers. We carpet-bombed German cities; we killed civilians. That's war. And this is war'. She wrote it in New York Daily News [vi], the newspaper of Mortimer Zuckerman, the current Head of the Presidents' Conference of American Jewish Organizations.

This vengeful spirit of the American press is an aberration of the Western discourse. If you sift the world literature of the Christian and Muslim lands, you would discover that revenge appears rarely as the main subject of an important book. Nikolai Gogol wrote a Gothic short story called The Terrible Revenge, Prosper Mérimée wrote a novelette Colomba on Corsican vendetta C'est tout. Brits always considered revenge a very un-English trend, certainly not cricket. 'Vengeful' is a negative word in every Christian and Muslim culture. The Jewish culture, au contraire, is saturated with the idea of vengeance, as it draws straight from the Old Testament, without the redeeming filter of the New Testament or Koran.

We Jews know it better than anybody. A brilliant American Jewish journalist, John Sack noticed it in his Eye for Eye, a chilling book about horrible revenge exacted by Jews from the German civilians after WWII. This book tells of tortures, 'extra-judicial killings', mass poison and other horrors. You are not likely to get this book, as the Jewish establishment succeeded to suppress it and keep it out of bookshops.

Not surprisingly, Israel promoted vengeance into its daily policy. Its attacks on Palestinians were called peulot tagmul, the acts of vengeance. One of these acts was perpetrated by the Prime Minister Ariel Sharon in 14 of October 1953, when he and his soldiers murdered some sixty peasants, women and children in the village of Qibya. The invasion of Lebanon in 1982 with its 20,000 murdered Lebanese and Palestinians, Christians and Muslims, was an act of revenge for the attempt to assassinate Israeli ambassador in London. During last intifada, every act of Israeli terror is called 'retribution' or 'retaliation' by Israelis and by the American Jewish-owned media.

This Jewish infatuation with vengeance survived the hazardous crossing of the Atlantic. The American Jews created Hollywood, and Hollywood made vengeance its main subject. In a way, American cinema is an expression of the Jewish collective subconscious, and it was the main factor in creation of the American psyche. From Hollywood, vengefulness flew all over the Earth, and certainly helped to create the world we inhabit. In other words, there was no need for a conspiracy. Rather immature America could not withstand the impact of Jewish mentality, and she became a Jewish State, the big sister of Israel. A grandson of Trier Rabbi, who grew up in the Church, Karl Marx actually prophesied in the 1840s (!) that America will become a Jewish state, and will embrace the Jewish ideology of greed and alienation. It explains successes of Jews: It is just natural that in the Jewish state, Jews succeed more.

This explanation allows us to answer the question we posted previously; does America support Israel because of the Jewish lobby or because of the 'true interest of American corporations'. The answer is, the Jewish lobby is a superfluous body supportive of the Israeli right-wing, while America as a whole is a grander Jewish state with interests outside the Middle East as well.

This presumption explains away a lot of queries. It explains incredible 99 percent vote for support of Israel. It explains endless Holocaust museums, Holocaust studies and Holocaust films. It explains centrality of Jews in American life, as now America views world events from a traditional Jewish position, 'whether it is good for Jews?'

It explains the U.S. walkout at Durban. J.W. Bush did not mind to quarrel with Europe and Japan and went back on the Kyoto Treaty. He did not give a damn to annoy Russia and China with his unilateral decision to drop Strategic Arms Treaty. But here he heard His Master's Voice. This haughty rejection of Africa and Asia, this insulting dismissal of the Afro-American community, this rejection of the great cause of struggle against racism was an additional proof that the U.S. became a sister state to Israel.

Recently, President Vladimir Putin tried to justify his onslaught on Chechens in an interview to Newsweek [vii]. He said, the Chechen leaders 'publicly called for the extermination of Jews', relegating critics of his war to the ranks of anti-Semites. Now, Chechnya has no Jews, and Chechen leaders' opinion on Jews would be irrelevant, if anti-Semitism would still preserve its original meaning, i.e. anti-Jewish prejudice or racism. In this form, it does not exist anymore, as we proved elsewhere [viii], but the word received a new meaning. It became an equivalent of anti-Americanism in the days of McCarthy, or as anti-Sovietism in Brezhnev's Soviet Union.

Whoever rejects new American paradigm, in America or elsewhere, is an anti-Semite by definition. That is why good persons of Jewish origin, whether Noam Chomsky or Woody Allen, St. Paul or Karl Marx are called 'anti-Semites'. They are usually rejected by the Jewish community, but their names are used to defend the structure they attacked.

An offence to the Jewish community is not considered a form of racism, as ordinary racism is tolerated with great ease, especially if it is directed towards Arabs (new enemies of Jews) or Blacks (old enemies of Jews). It is treated as a 'lese majesté' (in the years of Jewish ascendancy in the Soviet Union (1917-1937), people were shot for an anti-Jewish remark). Manfred Stricker of Strasbourg campaigned to name the local university after Dr. Schweitzer, while the Jewish community preferred the name of a Jewish scholar with a loose connection to the city. As the result, Manfred Stricker was sentenced to six months of jail.

While speaking to students in Harvard, Emory and other Ivy League universities, I noticed that they do not know the name of Arnold Toynbee. The greatest British philosopher of history in 20th Century made an error: He spoke of the tragedy of Palestinians. He also mentioned the African slavery as a tragedy on a par with the Jewish "holocaust". As a result, he was erased and disappeared from American conscience. This totality of control over public discourse explains obedience of American (and European) intellectuals. For an intellectual, it is better to be called a pedophile, but not an anti-Semite.

In the Jewish American state, the Jews form its 'Church', its ideological establishment. I feel about this 'church' as Voltaire, who said, "Destroy the infamy" of the Catholic Church he was born into.

In the Jewish American state, the Jews are the most successful group of society. This sudden rise to glory and riches should not be a cause for vertigo and self-adulation. Other way around. Following the line of thought of this great American philosopher, Immanuel Wallerstein, I shall say: Material success in our days is a sign of moral failure. 'Success' and riches is not a sign of God's benevolence. Anyway, not of God who blessed the poor. A man who succeeds in the robbers' gang, fails in the eyes of God. Our world with its starving millions and over-prosperous minority is immoral and anti-Christian, as anti-Christian as the 'Crusade' of President Bush.

[i] Publisher: Alma/Am Oved, Tel Aviv, 2000, ISBN 965-13-1428-1

[ii] NY Times, 12.9.01

[iii] CNN, 9/11/01

[iv] 9/12/01

[v] Rich Lowry, National Review editor, to Howard Kurtz (Washington Post, 9/13/01)

[vi] 9/12/01

[vii] 2.7.01

[viii] The Third Dove

—Israel Shamir is an Israeli writer and journalist living in Jaffa. Your responses and requests to subscribe/unsubscribe can be sent to info@israelshamir.com.

Your financial contributions are needed and welcomed! Send it via Paypal system, see the details <https://www.paypal.com/refer/pal=shamir@home.se> or by mail to P.O.Box 23714, Tel Aviv 61236. Bank details provided by request.

4000 ISRAELI EMPLOYEES IN WTC
ABSENT THE DAY OF THE ATTACK

Manar TV, manartv.com, 9/17/01

QUERY: Who is the Beneficiary from all this?
<http://www.ecologynews.com/cuenews43updates.html>

[Caveat Lector—We do not endorse this information, but pass it on in the public interest. EcoNews Service, Vancouver, BC]

With the announcement of the attacks at the World Trade Center in New York, the international media, particularly the Israeli one, hurried to take advantage of the incident and started mourning 4000 Israelis who work at the two towers. Then suddenly, no one ever mentioned anything about those Israelis and later it became clear that they remarkably did not show up in their jobs the day the incident took place. No one talked about any Israeli being killed or wounded in the attacks. Arab diplomatic sources revealed to the Jordanian al-Watan newspaper that those Israelis remained absent that day based on hints from the Israeli General Security Apparatus, the Shabak, the fact which evoked unannounced suspicions on American officials who wanted to know how the Israeli government learned about the incident before it occurred—and the reasons why it refrained from informing the U.S. authorities of the information it had. Suspicions had increased further after Israeli newspaper Yadiot Ahranot revealed that the Shabak prevented Israeli premier Ariel Sharon from traveling to New York and particularly to the city's eastern coast to participate in a festival organized by the Zionist organizations in support of the "Israel". Aharon Bernie, the commentator at the newspaper, brought up the issue and came up with a negative conclusion, saying no answer. He then asked about the clue behind the Shabak's position in preventing Sharon's participation, and again without giving an answer. Bernie added that Sharon, who was delighted for having his speech on top of the festival agenda, asked the head of the organization to mediate and convince the Shabak to change its position, but his attempts were in vain. The next day after Sharon's secretary officially announced that Sharon would not participate—the incident took place. For its part, the Israeli Haaretz newspaper revealed that the FBI arrested five Israelis four hours after the attack on the Twin Towers while filming the smoking skyline from the roof of their company's building. The FBI had arrested the five for puzzling behavior. They are said to have been caught videotaping the disaster in what was interpreted as cries of joy and mockery. [MM: I'd received this article from five different individuals but haven't found confirmation from its original source—so it's being published here by request.]

THE FEDERAL RESERVE READY TO PROP UP WALL STREET WITH BILLIONS

By Richard Wachman and Jamie Doward,
The Observer—London, 9/17/01

The U.S. Federal Reserve and Wall Street's powerful investment banks are preparing to spend billions of dollars to support the U.S. stock market, which opens this week for the first time since last Tuesday's terrorist attacks on New York and Washington.

A secretive committee—the Working Group on Financial Markets, dubbed 'the plunge protection team'—includes bankers as well as representatives of the New York Stock Exchange, NASDAQ and the U.S. Treasury. It is ready to co-ordinate intervention by the Federal Reserve on an unprecedented scale.

The Fed, supported by the banks, will buy equities from mutual funds and other institutional sellers if there is evidence of panic selling in the wake of last week's carnage.

The authorities are determined to avert a worldwide slump in share prices like the crashes of 1987 or 1929. Investment banks and their broking subsidiaries are to block short-selling by speculators and hedge funds by making it hard for them to obtain prices on favourable terms.

"Everyone is eager to avoid 'contagion', where prices fall rapidly as investors react lemming-like to a falling index," said one banker.

In addition, U.S. regulators are prepared to ease rules that prevent companies from buying their own stock.

The 'plunge protection team' was established by a special executive order issued by former President Ronald Reagan in 1989. It is known to include senior bankers at leading Wall Street institutions such as Merrill Lynch and Goldman Sachs. It has acted before, in the early Nineties and during the 1998 LTCM hedge-fund crisis.

Whether coordinated action by the U.S. authorities and banking institutions will be sufficient to avert a large-scale sell-off on Wall Street this week remains to be seen.

Tony Jackson, director of UK equity strategy at investment bank ING Barings, believes there may be an emotional tide of support for Wall Street this week, but that it will be shortlived. He said: "Some people are talking about a 'patriotic rally' that could lift the Dow by 1,000 points on reopening. I don't think it will be that high, but it will certainly go up, perhaps several hundred points.

"But long term, the trend will still be down, perhaps 10 per cent from where it opens. Many companies will cut earnings forecasts now."

Khuram Chaudhry, equity strategist at Merrill Lynch, believes that Wall Street could fall by as much as 10 percent. "You have to remember that things did not look that good before the attack on the World Trade Centre. There were already signs that American consumer confidence was deteriorating. I don't think people are now going to rush out to take foreign holidays or crowd the shopping malls."

John Llewellyn, economist at Lehman Brothers, is worried that markets may prove disorderly, despite the best efforts of the authorities.

"There is a degree of synchronisation between the three major economies. The U.S. and Europe are weakening in tandem, while Japan is in the doldrums. In the early Nineties Japan was in better shape. The global economy may end up in a worse condition than 10 years ago."

But there are optimists too. Sonja Gibbs, chief equity strategist at Nomura International, believes "the economic fundamentals will take a turn for the better in 2002".

Robin Aspinall, equity analyst at broker Teather and Greenwood said: "The Americans will want to show that the stars and stripes still fly over Wall Street."

STOCKS DIVE— BIGGEST BLUE CHIP WEEKLY LOSS SINCE GREAT DEPRESSION

By Haitham Haddadin, Reuters, 9/21/01

NEW YORK—Stocks slumped on Friday, with blue chips chalking up their biggest weekly loss since the Great Depression in the 1930s on growing fears over a worsening U.S. economy and a long war on terrorism after last week's deadly attacks.

"Right now, there are just falling knives everywhere," said Dirk van Dijk, who helps manage $4.5 billion for C.H. Dean & Associates. "Who the hell wants to step in front of a freight train? On Monday we did some buying. Clearly we were premature."

The week shattered records. The Dow Jones industrial average skidded a record 1,370 points, and its weekly percentage loss eclipsed the slides of the October crashes of 1987 and 1929. The New York Stock Exchange clocked its three busiest days ever on Monday, Wednesday and Friday since it reopened after a four-day shutdown caused by the Sept. 11 terror assaults.

An upbeat earnings outlook from bellwether General Electric Co. failed to fuel optimism after President Bush prepared the nation for war on Thursday night. Wall Street has been jittery about a possible U.S. military response to the terror attacks that destroyed American landmarks and claimed thousands of lives.

The devastation sparked national mourning, massive layoffs, recession fears and plans for military retaliation. Stocks skidded to three-year lows, while U.S. Treasuries and gold climbed as investors fled to safe havens.

"You can't get a historical parallel. We are boxing with a ghost," said Richard Cripps, chief market strategist at Legg Mason Wood Walker. "The market is oversold, but there is always an intangible factor to stock prices and an irrationality that they can reflect. You have to let it run its course."

The Dow plunged 140.40 points, or 1.68 percent, to close at 8,235.81, after initially dropping more than 3 percent. The broader Standard & Poor's 500 Index sank 18.74 points, or 1.9 percent, to 965.80. The technology-laced NASDAQ Composite Index tumbled 47.74 points, or 3.25 percent, to 1,423.19.

The Dow was down 14.26 percent for the week, second only to a 15.5 percent drop in the summer of 1933, according to the research firm MarketHistory.com. The NASDAQ crumbled by 16 percent and the S&P 500 fell 11.6 percent this week.

For the year, the NASDAQ is down 42.4 percent, Dow down 23.7 percent and S&P 500 off 26.95 percent.

"The underlying tone here is just selling across the board," said Jeff Kleintop, chief investment strategist at PNC Advisors. "There's the risk that the economy topples into a deeper recession... and things can get worse just because of the military action and what repercussions result from that."

Total investor losses of $6.8 trillion since stocks peaked in March 2000 are equivalent roughly to the combined economies of Japan, Germany and France. About $1.4 trillion in investor wealth has evaporated this week, raising fears consumer spending will drop and add more pressure to the economy.

U.S. mutual funds are on course to post their worst year ever, according to data that goes back to 1960 from fund research firm Lipper Inc. The average diversified U.S. stock fund is down 25.7 percent year to date through Thursday, exceeding a 24.9 percent drop for full-year 1974, Lipper said.

[MM: Thanks so much to all of you who sent articles this week—equivalent to approximately three full papers (72 pages in CONTACT).]

New-Earth Birthing Ceremony Held On Shasta

By Princeton Winton

TELOS/SHASTA SEGMENT 3

With our spirits refreshed from the exhilaration of the just-ended-the-day-before fantastically high experience of the Conclave, the three of us were driving up the sacred mountain. The mission: to find the exact spot where I had encountered the Lemurians and St. Germain 25+ years ago.

My companions were Valery, a beloved and highly esteemed local healer and channeler (of at least Kuthumi and Germain) and Larry, a (heretofore unknown to me) friend who had provided financial aid for my trip. It was Valery who had received (via Master Kuthumi) the information that both Larry and I (as “original contactee”) should be in attendance at Shasta at this time.

As we drove up we were blessed by a few light-hearted comments from St. Germain, through Valery of course. As clearly expressed in the TELOS book (not to mention Pleiadian and Arcturian agreements) all Light workers are constantly tracked and monitored. (Mark has volunteered to transfer the TELOS book to disk if GCH decides it’s appropriate to run it in segments with his commentary.) It was warmly comforting to have Germain confirming his attendance with us. After all, it is a big mountain—and 26 years is a long stretch for memory of physical detail. I had a few wisps of doubt that I could go back to the precise spot of the encounter.

At about 7500 feet, we turned off into the Panther Meadows parking lot. To my dismay, it didn’t look much like my memory-picture. Bulletin boards at the trailheads showed color photographs (to encourage trekkers’ care for delicate plant life) illustrating the considerable changes in vegetation in the last 20-30 years. Finding the spot may be even harder than I thought, I mused.

As we proceeded on foot upslope, it seemed there were more trails to select from than I recalled. We investigated several and I couldn’t seem to get relocated at all. We noticed that Germain’s comments had stopped as we explored in seeming futility. At one point, responding to Valerie’s telepathic request for assistance, Germain said gaily, “Now you want to know everything!” The message was clear: Finding it was our responsibility.

After a couple of hours of mounting frustration, we sat down to confer. We finally agreed to return to the car and drive up to the very end of the road, approximately at the “tree line”, and search downslope. Germain was still silent.

A few minutes on foot from the car, after transiting a wide space free of vegetation, we entered a grove of trees—still nothing looked familiar and I was beginning to fret that I might let everyone down by not finding the place.

Then the trail sort of hooked around to head more downhill and we were, almost abruptly, suddenly looking out onto a broad, grassy meadow with a crystalline, full stream coming magically out of the mountain. My heart raced as the confirming memory of recognition flooded in. There, downhill to the right, was the lush, grassy area where the three Lemurians had sat. To the left was the grove with large rocks where Germain had passed and greeted us.

We were still at the stream head, oohing and aahing over the abundance of flowers, when St. Germain (thru Valery) piped in: “So you like my meadow.” You can well believe there was an abundance of grateful joy in my heart as we moved on down the streamside trail.

Following our intuitive tendency we angled off the main trail to the left toward “Germain Grove”. As we drew nearer we gradually began to hear the sound of a flute, accompanied by “Indian-style” drums. A few yards short of the grove a young man was standing high on a rock. When we inquired of him about the musical sounds—so as not to intrude on some private ceremony or gathering—he was open and friendly but sort of indicated we should find out for ourselves.

Valery was leading our rather tentative entry into the grove, peeking as we could to discern where the now-ceased music was from. Suddenly she turned around to announce “It’s Leonard Eagle Cloud!” (our Shaman/musician friend from the Conclave).

There were a number of jaws adropped as we stepped out and realized Valery and I knew every one of the (I believe) nine persons—some from local, some from the Conclave. We had apparently walked into a healing ceremony, unannounced and unexpected.

Six or seven of them had hands on the female form on the ground. She was in an extremely stressful moment, her face so contorted I couldn’t at first recognize who it was; and the writhing motions she was experiencing gradually seemed somehow familiar.

As we got right up to them the figure on the ground opened tear-stressed eyes, and in a sort of shocked recognition said “Valery” and extended her hand, obviously asking for help. Valery responded of course (being a healer) and we all channeled our energies toward who I now realized was the acknowledged “hit” of the Conclave, Patricia Pereira. It now began to come clear that, body language and all, what we were witnessing (indeed, now participating in) was a birthing and not per se a “healing”.

Gradually our Arcturian connection Patricia was brought out of the obviously extremely stressful moment and smoothly moved into her role of conducting, under the auspices of the Arcturians, this ceremony.

We had been brought together (with NO kind of personal foreknowledge or pre-planning) as the specific individuals to participate in the birthing of the NEW EARTH! This was clearly a hallowed and significant event—as we growingly realized as the ceremony flowed through stages orchestrated by Patricia/the Arcturians.

At one point, as we danced in a ring and holding hands, a quick headcount said we were twelve.

Then, from different directions, there appeared two young, radiant ladies and the young man we had inquired of about the music. These three Indigo children had also been drawn here and were given blessings and a special dispensation. (The Arcturian presentation in Patricia’s 4-volume set [available through Beyond Words Publishing Inc. at (800) 284-9673] heavily stresses the importance of and special handling required for these fantastically endowed young leaders of the future.)

In one phase, Patricia inquired of us where (what star system) we were each from. Suffice it to say some of the ones present were from galaxies beyond our own Milky Way and including the Great Central Sun. Whether or not the “plot” “thickens”, it is most certainly expanding in scope of whom are our sources of help and enlightenment.

As the ceremony wound down, we had time to relate on a personal level our amazement at our arriving there at the precise instant when help was most needed to energize the proceedings—and to complete the circle. Everyone present was humbled, grateful and in awe of the fact that we were so invisibly but undeniably drawn together for this event in this particular spot. It assuredly manifests great hope for the immediate future of our planetary/individual enlightenment process.

Please don’t think of me as egotistical to count myself as a summoned part of this happening. If I can’t share it with you, beloved CONTACT reader, then who? And to not convey this truthful information to you would be to deny the fullness of Truth.

We are at the long-awaited moment, dear kindred. With Dad’s Millennium in its ninth month, is the birth of the New Earth groomed and headed for the Fifth dimension perhaps right on course and on time? The deniers (not among our readership I hope) may of course exercise their free-will prerogative to deny this right-onness. Let any such entity review the accuracy of the concept that only—and exclusively—their own denial is the only force that can prevent their entry into the unstoppable effect of the Photon Belt: the Fifth Dimension. It is vividly a time to monitor your own attitudes and your thoughts.

PHOENIX JOURNALS LIST

THESE WORKS ARE A SERIES CALLED THE PHOENIX JOURNALS AND HAVE BEEN WRITTEN TO ASSIST MAN TO BECOME AWARE OF LONG-STANDING DECEPTIONS AND OTHER MATTERS CRITICAL TO HIS SURVIVAL AS A SPECIES AT THIS TIME. SINGLE JOURNALS ARE NOW ON SALE FOR $3.00 (REG. $6.00). (Shipping extra—see right.)

1. SIPAPU ODYSSEY
2. AND THEY CALLED HIS NAME IMMANUEL....
3. SPACE-GATE, THE VEIL REMOVED
4. SPIRAL TO ECONOMIC DISASTER
5. FROM HERE TO ARMAGEDDON
7. THE RAINBOW MASTERS
9. SATAN'S DRUMMERS
10. PRIVACY IN A FISHBOWL
11. CRY OF THE PHOENIX
21. CREATION, THE SACRED UNIVERSE
38. THE DARK CHARADE
39. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. I
40. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. II
41. THE DESTRUCTION OF A PLANET—ZIONISM IS RACISM
42. UNHOLY ALLIANCE
43. TANGLED WEBS VOL. I
44. TANGLED WEBS VOL. II
45. TANGLED WEBS VOL. III
46. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IV
48. TANGLED WEBS VOL. V (OUT OF STOCK)
49. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VI
50. THE DIVINE PLAN VOL. I
51. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VII
52. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VIII
53. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IX
54. THE FUNNEL'S NECK
55. MARCHING TO ZION
56. SEX AND THE LOTTERY
57. GOD, TOO, HAS A PLAN 2000—DIVINE PLAN VOL. II
58. FROM THE FRYING PAN INTO THE PIT OF FIRE
59. "REALITY" ALSO HAS A DRUM-BEAT!
60. AS THE BLOSSOM OPENS
61. PUPPY-DOG TALES
62. CHAPARRAL SERENDIPITY
63. THE BEST OF TIMES
64. TO ALL MY CHILDREN
65. THE LAST GREAT PLAGUE
66. ULTIMATE PSYCHOPOLITICS
67. THE BEAST AT WORK
68. ECSTASY TO AGONY
69. TATTERED PAGES
70. NO THORNLESS ROSES
71. COALESCENCE
72. CANDLELIGHT
73. RELATIVE CONNECTIONS VOL. I
74. MYSTERIES OF RADIANCE UNFOLDED VOL. II
75. TRUTH AND CONSEQUENCES VOL. III
76. SORTING THE PIECES VOL. IV
77. PLAYERS IN THE GAME
78. IRON TRAP AROUND AMERICA
79. MARCHING TO ZOG
80. TRUTH FROM THE ZOG BOG
81. RUSSIAN ROULETTE
82. RETIREMENT RETREATS
83. POLITICAL PSYCHOS
84. CHANGING PERSPECTIVES
85. SHOCK THERAPY
86. MISSING THE LIFEBOAT??
87. IN GOD'S NAME AWAKEN!
88. THE ADVANCED DEMOLITION LEGION
89. FOCUS OF DEMONS
90. TAKING OFF THE BLINDFOLD
91. FOOTSTEPS INTO TRUTH
92. WALK A CROOKED ROAD WITH THE CROOKS
93. CRIMINAL POLITBUROS AND OTHER PLAGUES
94. WINGING IT....
95. HEAVE-UP (Phase One)
96. HEAVE-HO (Phase Two)
97. HEAVE 'EM OUT (Phase Three)
98. ASCENSION OR NEVER-EVER LAND?
99. USURPERS OF FREEDOM IN CONSPIRACY
100. BUTTERFLIES, MIND CONTROL—THE RAZOR'S EDGE
101. THE BREATHING DEAD AND CEMENT CHILDREN
102. SACRED WISDOM
103. CONFRONT THE NOW CREATE THE FUTURE
104. FIRST STEPS
105. AMERICA IN PERIL—AN UNDERSTATEMENT!
107. RING AROUND THE ROSIE...!
130. TRACKING DOWN THE KILLER (OUT OF STOCK)
"AND OTHER FORMS OF MURDER" (The Health Book)
222. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 1;
223. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 2;
224. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 3;
225. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 4
227. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 1;
228. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 2;
229. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 3;
230. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 4

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT JOURNALS, BOOKS, ETC., MENTIONED IN THIS NEWSPAPER, PLEASE INQUIRE:

PHOENIX SOURCE DISTRIBUTORS, INC.
P.O. Box 27353
Las Vegas, Nevada 89126
1-800-800-5565
(Mastercard, VISA, Discover)

Phoenix Source Distributors SHIPPING CHARGES:

USA (except Alaska & Hawaii)

UPS-$3.75 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l

ALASKA & HAWAII

Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
UPS 2nd day-$9.00 1st title, $1 ea add'l

CANADA & MEXICO

Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$4.50 1st title, $2.00 ea add'l

FOREIGN

Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$8.00 per title estimate

(Please allow 3-4 weeks for delivery on all book orders)

CONTACT Staff

Margie Berndt
Mark Moore
John & Jean Ray
Rex Smith
Princeton Winton

PLEASE NOTE:
CONTACT and Phoenix Source Distributors are NOT the same! Checks sent for JOURNALS or book orders should NOT be made out to CONTACT—and vice versa.

CONTACT: THE PHOENIX JOURNAL

is published by
CONTACT, Inc.
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126
Phone: (800) 800-5565

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Subscription orders may be placed by mail to the above address or by phone to 1-800-800-5565.

Subscribers: Expiration date appears on upper left side of mailing label.

Quantity Subscriptions: U.S. For Foreign subscriptions call or write for shipping charges.

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTIONS					QUANTITY SUBSCRIPTIONS
Quantity	U.S.	U.S. ENVELOPE	CANMEX	FOREIGN	Quantity	10 COPIES	25 COPIES	50 COPIES	100 COPIES
13 ISSUES	$30	$40	$40	$45	13 ISSUES	$95	$125	$160	$275
26 ISSUES	$60	$80	$80	$90	26 ISSUES	$190	$250	$320	$550
52 ISSUES	$110	$150	$150	$170	52 ISSUES	$380	$500	$640	$1,100

BACK ISSUE RATES

Miscellaneous copies of individual back issues are $3.00 each copy

Shipping is included in the price for U.S. orders

Foreign please call or write for additional shipping charges

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.

January 6, 2001

Editorial Policy

Opinions of CONTACT contributors (including ads) are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of the CONTACT staff or management.