RE: THANK YOU—AND A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF YOUR HELP, & PART 8, DR. JOHN COLEMAN'S "A WORLD TRADE CENTER SPECIAL REPORT"

EXPRESSIONS OF "INTENT" REGARDING HELP

Hatonn—Never are there sufficient ways to express "thank you" for seeing this task through and continuing to provide us with a VOICE and communications capabilities which are mandatory for achievement of the job itself. And yes, every day in infinite ways that perhaps you never shall see or hear—we ARE MAKING STRIDES BEYOND REASONABLE EXPECTATIONS. That, however, does not express or remind you who pull the load of how things are in our program ongoing.

Not only do we thank you for your support for which there can be no repayment, for that is of the heart, but we do need to reestablish our code of "return".

I cannot discuss this in the press where our words can be twisted into something not expressed so I have to simply express our appreciation, acknowledge (but without labels which can bring down personal impact), or discuss that which is not expressed as business but is construed by any adversary to be so.

We will get this job brought to harvest and "all", to the last sharing participant, will have return. Meticulous records are being kept although most records prior to the "split" with the Spectrum group were raided and even more taken regarding New Gaia, CONTACT, and the Phoenix Institute. Those records, however, can be reconstructed from YOUR records if necessary.

While we struggle it has to wait, for nothing is even as it was "physically" presented before.

Our commitments have not changed even one iota and our program includes all capabilities to set all things to balance. However, we have no intention to reward those who set forth to destroy the very program that was constructed to secure YOU, OUR BROTHERS.

When "I" speak of rewards, I speak of that which is actually due-and-owing. In this I speak of those who have deliberately and intentionally supported directly our very adversary in a determined intent to destroy all we have accomplished or are now ready to conclude.

This means that even a $5 or $1 donation is noted and yes indeed, SHALL BE RETURNED and the owner can then decide what, if anything, might be done with same.

We will, however, make every effort to structure the return in such a way as to not dump further on the original participating party in tax overload, etc. We do not, however, intend to make much effort to shelter anyone who has deliberately tried to strangle us.

In early loans the guidelines have not been matured and demands, when possible, will be made in corporate procedures as availability of funding is possible. Ekkers were not and are not responsible for the programs laid forth originally, although they have accepted the load because others have failed and indeed further damaged. We need not even discuss it here.

We ARE getting "there" and yet it is important to do it ONLY in perfection, for it is so big as to necessitate utmost care and security.

Please understand the intelligence in maintaining privacy. And yes indeed, some things have to next be met with legal confrontation for deliberate acts of vandalism, theft, etc. At present, though, we have too much to accomplish to spend time on those details.

Know that you are appreciated and that you are recorded and we will balance all scales ASAP. We are pushing to have interim capability of carrying our own load, stabilize, and then we can together decide where to go from there. LESS IS UNACCEPTABLE.

I am especially appreciative of Rex who has to beg each month for help, for asking help is the hardest task a goodly person can endure. But then again, humility is the greatest attribute a man can hold. But in this endeavor I can tell you that we expect NOTHING which will not be repaid in GOD's accounting of more than was shared—in every way. The interesting point God makes is in HIS recognition of each individual ego so that the Project can be brought carefully and properly into a functional unit.

Stress is far worse than Alzheimer's. It causes individuals to forget everything, including purpose in the first place. So, WAS IT REALLY BETTER? That is, "before" you shared with us this journey and purpose. Many of you have overlooked that you actually are unique in that you have actually FOUND your purpose and yet want to do it "your way" and not necessarily "God's way".

Patience is a virtue achieved by few! Blame is far easier than creativity—but worthless to self, including blaming of self.

We have no time for blame, fame, judgments or hate. All are time-consuming in a world where TIME marches on. I have time—you do not in your manifest experience.

AGAIN, CAN WE DO IT?

Oh indeed, readers. We find the most concerned parties are the observers of the mess in Argentina who fear that GAIA will be "discovered" and the game of hide-and-grab will come to an abrupt end with the world controllers, IMF-IBC.

But is there gold enough to actually back GAIA's program? Oh yes, my goodness, why do you think the Falklands are so important? And then just move on South to that ice-land and KNOW that it is NOT what it appears to be.

We offer: Man decides that which he will use.

It all is rigged to appear that someone "else" is to blame for the indiscretions of even terrorist bombings. Just yesterday a massive bomb was planted in the "center" of Allied Bank complex, less than two blocks from THIS hotel where Ekkers are billeted.

It is supposed that it is the Muslim element upset over terrorist rebuttals, etc. NO. Allied Bank belongs to Lucio Tan, Taipan. Right now there are other of Mr. Tan's holdings in focus, from the Philippine National Bank to many other holdings.

The talk is again of "coups" against the government administration. The U.S. hostages are in limbo because of ransom dickerings—and efforts to pull the U.S. into the country as "terrorist" controllers are the big wag of the moment.

Even V.K. Durham has now tried to get Ekkers declared terrorists (see prior writings) but that becomes a bit difficult since V.K. has declared she has filed MURDER charges against Bush Sr. and some of the people who are again in Jr.'s Cabinet.

So, anything that any country wants declared "terrorist"-related is now expected to be paid for and activated by YOU-THE-PEOPLE of Uncle Sam's dominion. Therefore, the best thing I can do for your input is to continue right on with information flow.

[QUOTING WIR, "A Trade Center Special Report", Sept.-Oct. 2001, by Dr. John Coleman:]

PART 8

WARS AND RUMORS OF WARS WITH "ENLIGHTENED TERROR" FROM PSYOP

There is a war going on, and it has been going on since the United States and Britain placed the Bolshevik leaders, Lenin and Trotsky, in power and then supported the Bolshevik Revolution in so many very positive ways. Roosevelt was the first Western leader to recognize the bloody Bolshevik government. World Wars I and II were fought to save INTERNATIONAL SOCIALISM [ZIONISM?] from being obliterated. Roosevelt was the first president to permit the Bolsheviks to open consular offices in the United States, over the objection of loyal, patriotic, anti-Socialists in the Congress.

Roosevelt sent William Bullitt to conspire with British Prime Minister Lloyd George on how they could pull the rug out from under the feet of General Wrangle, at a time when Wrangle's White Russian Army had soundly thrashed the Red Terrorist Army. Bullitt was successful and cleared the way for the merciless rule of Lenin and Stalin.

There is only one solution to the problem exercising the minds of so many people: A House and Senate Committee of Enquiry must be opened without any further delay with terms of reference that will hopefully get right to the bottom of this puzzle.

There are other features which may or may not have a direct relationship to how the minds of the terrorists work and whether there were any psychological operations going on at the time. This may seem a very strange subject to introduce, and under a different set of circumstances I would not mention it in the context of the World Trade Center disaster. The Department of the Army runs a Psychological Operations and Civil Affairs division out of the Office of the Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans, Washington D.C.

Military Psychological Operations (PSYOP) is directed by the National Command Authority. There are four groups in service in the Army; the 4th Psychological Operations Group, on active duty, with three additional groups in the U.S. Reserves. With this large investment come considerable research capabilities. One of the techniques used by PSYOP is called "enlightened terror tactics".

[H: RE-READ, PLEASE!]

All countries use this technique. Iran used it during the war with Iraq. The story of the "gassed Kurds" was probably known to every American household back then. It proved of the utmost impact in the sustained psychological war against President Hussein, who was headlined in newspaper and television news as "a man willing to use gas on his own people". What were the benefits of the big lie? In the first instance it restrained Iraq from actually using chemical weapons against Iran, out of fear of public opinion, and in the second instance it aroused intense anger among the Iranians who were ready to volunteer for the Army.

Iran used enlightened terror against the Saudis in the July 1987 riot at Mecca. Iran has sworn to overthrow the Wahabi and Abdul Aziz dynasty, in much the same way as do so many other nations who hate the pro-American stance of the Saudi royal family. In July 1987, 400 pilgrims attending the haj were shot and killed by Saudi security forces. At first the Saudis denied that there had been indiscriminate shooting, but an investigation of the affair proved otherwise.

Two members of the Pasdarans (Iranian secret service) attacked and beheaded a Saudi police officer. The men wore traditional Iranian dress and posed as pilgrims. When Saudi security forces arrived on the scene of the murder, maddened at the sight of the beheaded fellow officer, they then ran wild and began shooting into the packed pilgrims, killing 400 of whom 275 were from Iran. When news of the massacre reached Teheran, it caused one of the angriest mobs seen since the hostage crisis to go on a rampage through the streets. The tactic worked; in the minds of millions of Iranians, the Saudi royal family was now a very real enemy and they swore to work for their ouster.

The manner in which almost the entire population of America came under PSYOP control in the months preceding the Gulf War and during its prosecution really frightened me. I would say that it was confirmation that psychological warfare (a form of mind control) is probably one of the most potent weapons in the U.S. Government's arsenal. The fact that it has deficiencies does not mean that it is of little value.

The Reichstag fire is a good example of enlightened terror. The National Socialists set the fire, but they blamed it on the Communists. It was a good example because it involved what is known in intelligence circles as "camouflage maneuvers". The characteristic of this type of mind control is that the subject of terror must remain hidden from historians. The Gulf War was seen by the bulk of Americans as spontaneous movement, with no doubt who was to blame for the war.

Mass reaction occurred swiftly, in probably a record for response time; the warmongers and those who opposed them quickly appeared and continued their actions, along prepared lines that were chosen for them well before the event, never tiring and never lacking in enthusiasm. As soon as the pattern was established, the anti-war movement was denied a forum.

The American public will probably never know and would not believe it if they were informed how mind controlled they were from the very outset during the entire Gulf War to its conclusion. The enlightened terror machine worked perfectly. Dualism reigned supreme and indeed in nearly all Western countries. Dualism is when the subject of enlightened terror shows himself in one form when appearing before the outside world, and another, entirely different form in his inner councils.

HIDDEN HORRORS

Former President George Bush fits the category perfectly. The scope of action of public organs of the subject of enlightened terror includes all actions which had to do with the execution of government power, but no action which is in any way connected with the execution of the terror is included. There can be no doubt that the United States Air Force terror-bombed Iraqi cities, towns and villages in a ferocious onslaught and in a horrifying manner. We shall probably never know the damage we did to the Iraqi people who had never done the United States any harm. The bombing of Iraq was enlightened terror in its most classic state, but the actual acts of terror were hidden from the American people.

The pattern was repeated with great success in enlightened terror visited upon the Serbian nation which continued for 76 days and nights. What the United States learned from enlightened terror in action against Iraq was put to good use in Serbia. The American people never saw the horrendous enlightened terror inflicted upon the Serbian people who, like the Iraqis, had never done anything to harm the United States, yet a survey showed that 89 percent of the American people approved the policy of enlightened terror. Of course it was not called that, otherwise some among us might have awakened to the realization that the whole American nation was in fact functioning under mind control.

From all over the world come reports that the United States security and intelligence agencies should have seen that a major blow against the United States was in the works. "Why was it done?" ask readers of one news magazine column. "American needs to ask itself how a great nation can be so hated by so many others.... In a way, the terrorist attack should have been expected. If the American people and especially their security and intelligence services had read the danger signs, they would have known that terrorists were going to strike sooner or later and could have prevented..."

"The irresponsible foreign policy of the Bush administration and the biased U.S. support for Israel played a significant role in the World Trade Center tragedy by having brought desperation, humiliation, and frustration to the Palestinian people and feelings of discrimination shared by the entire Muslim world. There is no way to halt terrorism unless its causes are tackled. It is distressing to see that the world is being drawn into something that is a consequence of American policies.

"Terrorism is a cowardly and venal way to solve problems, but it is rarely executed without reason. It is a monumental challenge to maintain objectivity after the World Trade Center disaster, but the U.S. Government must be open-minded about who committed the acts and why. Automatically assuming that terrorism is orchestrated by irrational people without motive or who cannot be negotiated with is ignorant and arrogant and will not contribute to conflict resolution..."

"Many Americans are completely ignorant about what kinds of policies their government pursues outside of their own country. They need to realize that many people around the world, while shocked by the tragedy of what happened on September 11, regard it as a consequence of American foreign policy. Unless the U.S. revises its double-standard foreign policies—for instance supporting Israel's oppression of the Palestinian people while accusing other countries of human-rights violations—hatred of the United States will never end. Retaliation will only fuel more hatred and the cycle of violence..."

"What's more, there is no popular support in Pakistan for helping the United States. And America has a long history of ignoring the wishes of the local people and propping up unreliable heads of state. At this moment Pakistan's leaders have a very narrow self-interest in helping the United States. But this could be the kiss of death for the current leadership in Pakistan. So America should think carefully before forming such unstable alliances."

We shall refrain from commenting on the foregoing and leave it to our readers to make up their own minds, but we believe we are at a point in our history where we can no longer call ourselves a republic while we continue to act like an empire—bribing here, bombing there, boycotting and starving a nation to death, and more often than not, sacrificing principle for expediency. We marvel at the way we cancelled the long-standing boycott against Pakistan. Why? Did Pakistan suddenly decide to change its ways? No, but we needed Pakistan as an ally, so every other long-standing objection toward it was thrown overboard. All of a sudden, the military regime that ousted the civilian government was A-OK. It is no longer called "a regime".

"But what about the fact that Pakistan has a repressive military regime and possesses 'weapons of mass destruction' which we find an abomination with regard to Iraq? Well, don't bother Secretary of State Powell with such trifles. Would George Washington have approved? We can answer that with a resounding, 'No, never!' He would probably have turned to Powell and said, 'Aren't you the fellow who attacked Iraq without a constitutional declaration of war? I think you'd better take a long leave of absence and go and learn the Constitution!'"

AND NOW CONSIDER OPIUM

Elsewhere we have pointed out that Pakistan has for hundreds of years been the gateway to the West for Afghanistan opium. We quote from our report The Coming Disasters by Dr. Coleman, published in 1999:

"Afghanistan's production of 4,600 tons of opium completely overshadows Burma's at 1200 tons... The Taliban has not made any attempts to stop production and collects a tax amounting to 10 percent from growers. There is still plenty of land available to expand poppy cultivation and it is likely to push next year's opium crop to even greater levels as more and more land is used for poppy growing.

"Most of the raw opium will find its way to Europe and the U.S.A. via Pakistan so that Mr. Clinton's boycott will have no effect (on Pakistan) on either production or exports of opium. Some of it will be refined on the way into heroin which fetches a much higher price. Growers say they will not resume regular farming as long as the poppies they now grow fetch such a high price. 'Why should we stop growing poppies as long as the West keeps buying more and more heroin each and every year?'"

When the Taliban passed a decree last year ending that trade, the ruling class in Pakistan suddenly saw their lucrative incomes drying up. After the scoundrels, gangsters, murders and assorted low-life types that ran the trade were cleared out of Kabul by the Taliban (but not before Najibullah, their leader, had destroyed 65 percent of the city); the massive American propaganda machine, trained and fine-tuned by the Tavistock Institute, went into high gear.

Suddenly, like Hans Christian Anderson's fairy-tale ugly duckling, the raw criminals were transformed with an infusion of CIA money and arms into the more respectable-sounding "Northern Alliance" forced to hide in the hills of northern Afghanistan in fear of the "wicked Taliban". The motley crew of Uzbeks, Kazaks, Tajiks and Turkmens, (and a few Afghani criminals on the run) suddenly became "soldiers". Press reports began spouting tales of valor of the "Northern Alliance soldiers". Their baggy pants and turbans, with a wave of the CIA's wand, were transformed and they now appeared in American-supplied military uniforms courtesy of the American taxpayers. One of their leaders, Abdul Rashid Dostum was awarded the honorary title of "General".

The most important aspect of the "war", the propaganda war against the American people, was stepped up ten notches prior to our military action against Afghanistan. This is one war the Bush administration cannot afford to lose. There was even an AP photograph of a group of "Northern Alliance soldiers" arming a rocket and one of their number picking up something off the ground, with his rear-end to the camera. The caption under the photo described him as a soldier "praying"! What idiots our propaganda overlords take us to be!

But as is usual, our propaganda artists, in disdain of our intelligence and thinking us a flock of sheep, grew careless, and in a number of photographs of these cutthroats of whom Blackbeard the Pirate would have been proud, we who know the art of facial characteristics recognition, spotted some distinctly American faces, bedecked with turbans trying to look like the murderers, drug dealers and rogues they now called "friends". They could have learned a thing or five from Lawrence of Arabia had they not been so cocksure that they could deceive the American people anywhere, anytime they chose.

Once again we found new "allies" very similar to the scum of the Earth, the sewer rats from Albania whom the United States armed and trained to cause uproar in Serbia so that we would have an excuse to attack that nation. The U.S. is now engaged in arming and training new scum, the thugs who were thrown out of Kabul by the Taliban. Only this time we do not call them "Kosovars"—we call them the "Northern Alliance". History appears to be repeating itself, both titles being a figment of the imagination of our lethal propaganda artists.

[END OF QUOTING PART 8]

We will interrupt here and begin next with some examples of the propaganda war being waged.

It is frightening to realize how deeply you have become "believers" of the LIE. How can you send your loved ones to die on those frozen battlefields which have nothing to do with you or the terrorism of some September 11, anytime?

There is no mistaking the attitude and JOKE you have become as Americans. The WORLD knows that this is an "Israeli" Zionist manipulation and the fact that the World Trade Center is the epitome of that FACT is clear and unmistakable. If you believe that these perpetrators would not do-in their own people to precipitate a cause they choose—LOOK AROUND YOU AND REREAD HISTORICAL EVENTS WHICH TELL THE TALE LOUD AND CLEAR.

Sorry, friends, but the old observation is still worthy of attention: If it waddles like a duck, quacks like a duck and procreates like a duck and swims like a duck—watch out for the goose with the long neck pretending to be a swan.

Achievements are often the most valuable when realized against all the odds the enemies can put in your way. Certainly the lessons gained are the most valuable.

We are moving into OUR TIME, students, so please, count your blessings, take a deep breath, and charge ahead.—GCH

12/23/01—#1 (15-129)

RE: WHAT YOU SEE IS NOT WHAT IS—AND WHERE, OH WHERE IS BIN LADEN? AND, SINCE NOTHING IS AN ACCIDENT: WHO IS IN BED WITH WHOM?

ABOVE ALL, I WISH YOU JOY AND "ENOUGH"

Hatonn—In the confusion of that which is put against you—as in media presentations without ability to judge, or even discern, truth vs. fiction—there seems little about which to be “joyful”. Ah, but there IS, readers. There certainly IS.

God has provided the “way”, the “carrier”, and the ability to press forward into a more wondrous world than you have yet expressed, for KNOW that if you pursue the way of God, ye SHALL be able to take back Truth. Unfortunately, God's way is never accepted nor established until it seems “all else fails”. This is so very unfortunate, for much is lost in such adversarial endeavors to cause things to become good through evil and misdirected graft and corruption. It appears that when ALL ELSE fails, man is willing, kicking and screaming “no”, to reach out and touch God.

Even in Argentina this day in drawing to a close year 2001, the story is rioting, looting, theft, anarchy and all things of evil. There is perfection in a setting which COULD actually save the nation, the people would prosper—but the adversarial troopers are only making more chaos.

There is talk of “default”? What in the world does that mean, my friends?

It simply means that the nation is in a position to no longer deny bankruptcy. Nothing of the “circumstance” itself has changed from the day prior EXCEPT the responses of citizens. Everyone has known this was coming and simply borrowed MORE in order to survive a few more days before the fall.

I HAVE WARNED YOU, GLOBAL CITIZENS, IT IS THE TIME OF THE CONTROLLERS FORECLOSING AND SEIZING WORLD ASSETS AND ENSLAVING PEOPLE AND NATIONS.

And then closer to home you have such as a V.K. Durham striking out at something which has NO CONNECTION to her or her holdings. What does this tell YOU about her?

Well, even the New World Order of Global community as set forth by the Bush Boys is in for demise if the International Banksters pull enough cheat cards from their arsenal. Remember that they OWN the media, the press, the major industrial industries, the banks, the currencies, the bombs and the CONTROL. Mr. Bush simply becomes a used pawn in the game.

Would WE work with the U.S. Administration? Of course—in the blink of an eye. They are simply more misguided than are the people they are supposed to SERVE.

So, I wish you would find JOY in your endeavors and walk straight and tall WITH your fellowman—toward FREEDOM.

Who, for instance, is going to reach out and touch Argentina? Oh, I see, wait for Hatonn and people in the Philippines? I don't think so—you have as much information as my team in Manila about the general basis of GAIA's program. And by the way, Peru is far closer to Argentina than is Manila if anyone needs to check on that old infamous Bonus 3392-181 changed to a contract.

So, I wish you ENOUGH of sorrow to allow you to realize JOY. I wish you enough rain out of season to hope you acknowledge the Sun when it shines forth. I wish you enough lack of physical goods, especially at Commercemass to bring some reasonable foundation of the true meaning of the Holidays—as in a new baby which offers the hope of mankind—as any new baby brings forth. A new baby IS “hope” and never mind “celebrating” birthdays of mythology. WHAT DO YOU HAVE “TODAY”? Where do your babies go from here—where HAVE THEY TO GO FROM HERE?

In just this local area this day the contradictions and diabolic opposites are beyond ability to ignore. Thus when you look at the possibilities, you are faced with the reality that NOTHING offered to your intelligence is worthy of Truth except in the INTENT to warp perceptions.

BUSH: “BIN LADEN WILL NOT ESCAPE!”

THE bin Laden has already “escaped”—in fact carried to safety and security by the very ones seeking him. So, bin Laden, after all, is NOT the focus—but what IS the purpose?

In the SAME paper there is a full description of HOW bin Laden and 3000 others of his people were whisked out of Afghanistan. Perhaps we need to offer BOTH so you can become as confused as all the rest of the global citizens.

It is so obvious that mind control, training and intensive special operations went into the World Trade Center episode as to reach beyond human reasoning—unless of course—you were part of the elaborate plan. “But what went wrong” as Coleman asks? Nothing! It went exactly as planned and MORE.

Moreover, to better insult any “thinking minds” remaining, it is noted also in today's paper that New York's finest and firefighters have delivered tons of stuff to Kabul—for the orphans, etc. Contradictions? Of course, propaganda is always contradictory. Remember that the PRINCE OF CONFUSION is Satan himself. Moreover, WHY do you think everything has to be done in SECRET? The SECRETS, however, are only FROM YOU-THE-PEOPLE!

Blair of Britain is playing with Putin of Russia—both are playing with Bush of the U.S. and so many planes are in and out of Afghanistan as to boggle the tower readers. And, MORE people are hauled OUT than are brought IN. Wow.

Meanwhile, as example of clear understanding in the press, in Manila: The statement about the “large bomb” at Allied Bank (Owned by Lucio Tan, Chinese Taipan) either came from the “Left” or from the “Right” but the suspects are SECRET. Then in the next paragraphs it is also suspected that ARMM followers of Nur Misuari (What in the world are “followers” of Nur Misuari?) could have done it.

Interestingly enough the only reason the buildings weren't blown away is that the bomb malfunctioned even though it had TWO timers in place. Oh, and by the way—it was a fertilizer bomb and surely “Manila can expect MORE...”. Well, narrowed down to Right, Left or in the Middle, sums up the programs of the day.

Dharma has her bad moments which “may be bad—or good—or in-between”. How does one know when you've won, lost or pulled a “draw”?

YOU ARE IN THE TIME OF KALI (CHAOS) WHERE YOU ARE NOT SUPPOSED TO KNOW! YOU ARE GIVEN LIES UPON WHICH TO BASE YOUR FUNDAMENTAL REASONING AND LOGIC. BAD INFORMATION IN—BAD INFORMATION OUT.

Ah, the principle manipulators are MANIPULATED and now the problem is sorting the SIDES in each opponent's game. NOTHING IS AS PRESENTED! This is noted right to the CAVES in Afghanistan. Keep your eyes (well, one of them) turned in the direction of Somalia for one of the next “wipe-outs”. But KNOW that the war is NOT in or over Afghanistan or orthodox Muslims. Orthodox anything is simply for target practice—used like any other tool as in “money”, etc.

WHO wrote the Bible? No, God did NOT. “God” never WROTE anything except perhaps in the “moving hand or fingers... and then moves on”. Language and writing itself is of MAN. And worse, people think or lie and say they hear God in their heads while most of it is pure garbage or at the best from the local laboratory-military base. YOU CAN ONLY “JUDGE” FROM THE UNFOLDMENT. Worse, you are tricked into believing the LIE SO THAT YOU MAKE SURE THE EVIL COMES TO PASS.

But back to bin Laden and propaganda rumors—or truth? [QUOTING The Philippine STAR, Sunday, December 23, 2001:]

[H: Believe me when I tell you that if something of global nature is spread through the Philippines network—it isn't just smoke but a lot of fire in the pit.]

POSTSCRIPT, by Federico D. Pascual, Jr.
HOW BIN LADEN & HIS MEN
SLIPPED THRU U.S. CORDON

[H: Also believe me when I note that Filipinos are experts at “slippage through cordons”—with very large payoffs and kickbacks in the slippage procedures.]

JUST WHERE IS BIN LADEN? Since not even the White House can tell exactly where Osama bin Laden is or if he is/was actually in those labyrinthine caves in the Tora Bora mountains, everybody is free to speculate what ever happened to the prime suspect in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks on the U.S.

But what we have here is not speculation. It is information that, according to our source, came from Debka intelligence files—which we understand is not American. We stress, however, that there is no definitive report yet on the fate of bin Laden.

The unofficial report on how he and some 3,000 terrorists supposedly slipped through the U.S. cordon follows:

PARALLEL EVACUATION: “It was just before midnight Nov. 11 when Russian-made Antonov aircraft without markings began landing at the bombed-out airport of Konduz in northern Afghanistan.

“The Northern Alliance's conquest of the Afghan city was still five days away, and a small group of Pakistani military intelligence officers and soldiers—all of whom had been serving with the Taliban—waited anxiously on a runway, together with a large number of Pakistanis wounded in battle lying on blankets. The planes were coming to take them home.

“Around 5 p.m. earlier that day, U.S. bombings of the airport had suddenly stopped. As they waited for the airlift, the Pakistanis understood the rescue of their men trapped in Konduz had been set up in a silent agreement between their government, or commanding officers, and the U.S. Two planes were to touch down every night to pick them up until the evacuation was finished.

“But as the airlift began, Pakistani air crews and their passengers were astonished to see they had company on the runways of Konduz—a second fleet of Antonov transports was running a parallel airlift on some mysterious mission.

“Military sources have solved the mystery: The planes belonged to Osama bin Laden’s al-Qaida. Under cover of the Pakistani airlift, 3,000 of the group’s fighters were secretly lifted to safety from the besieged towns of Konduz and Khandabad about 15 miles to the south.

“The double airlift lasted five nights. The planes arriving to ferry Pakistani fighters home were closely shadowed by a phantom airlift extracting al-Qaida personnel.

“The rescued Pakistanis were flown to air bases in northwest and central Pakistan. The al-Qaida men were taken long distance to the Persian Gulf emirates, landing, according to Gulf sources, in Abu Dhabi and the Somali town of Baidoa.

“The al-Qaida fighters were described by several sources in Abu Dhabi as arriving hungry, in rags and without identifying documents. Asked who they were, they claimed to be Pakistani construction workers who had paid out all their savings to reach the Gulf in search of employment. But they soon disappeared, trucked to the Saudi and Yemen frontiers and apparently put down to cross on foot.”

CAVE STORY WAS PLANTED? The account continues: “On Dec. 18, Yemeni special forces engaged a group of just-landed senior al-Qaida operatives in the al Husoun tribal region of Marib but met fierce resistance and were repulsed after losing 17 men.

“At Baidoa, Somalia, too, immediately after landing, al-Qaida partisans mingled with the local Somalis living in thousands of straw and mud huts in the airport environs. Then the trucks came and drove a batch to the Somali-Kenyan frontier. They later continued to Uganda. Others moved through the villages scattered on Somalia’s Indian Ocean coast before they, too, disappeared.

The al-Qaida evacuation of Konduz got away behind American backs. But when a similar airlift began two weeks ago at the international airport of the last Taliban-al-Qaida fortress of Kandahar, the Americans caught on in time to stall it by bombing the runways.

“There was one last al-Qaida escape route that the U.S. did not manage to plug: across the 1,400-mile-long frontier into Pakistan. There, they were driven to small airfields and airstrips in the northwest and flown to the Gulf and Somalia [H: Oops!]

“According to intelligence sources, U.S. and Pakistani agents are investigating the source of the reports claiming that al-Qaida and bin Laden had concealed themselves in the Tora Bora cave complex and the White Mountains abutting on the Pakistani frontier—to fight to the last man.

“Those reports may have been part of a deliberate deception. It is now clear that no more than 200 to 300 al-Qaida fighters actually hid up in Tora Bora as bait to misdirect the Pashtun and U.S. Special Forces hunters. Small groups moved from cave to cave to keep the searchers and U.S. bombers occupied and unaware of the main body of the al-Qaida force, which meanwhile escaped into Pakistan. They, too, were flown on to Abu Dhabi and Somalia, sources said.

DIVERSIONARY MOVES: “One source even suggests that last week’s daylight suicide attack on the Indian parliament in New Delhi may too have been part and parcel of al-Qaida’s grand escape scheme. According to this theory, the Kashmiri terror group Lashkar-e-Toiba’s raid, in which 14 people died, including the five assailants, was intended as a diversion.

“Lashkar-e-Toiba is known to be controlled by al-Qaida and pro-Taliban elements in Pakistani military intelligence. The suicide mission was not intended, as India claimed, to carry out a massacre, but, according to terror experts, to raise military tensions between India and Pakistan in the hope of reciprocal troop buildups on either side of the Kashmir partition line.

“Al-Qaida hoped this would result in the thinning out of Pakistan combat forces stationed on the Afghan frontier to seal it off to escape and divert the attention of Pakistan intelligence away from that frontier too. The coast would be then left clear for al-Qaida men to cross from Afghanistan into Pakistan.

“U.S. intelligence officers briefing Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld during his first visit to Afghanistan last Tuesday had to admit that the majority of the Taliban’s fighting force had vanished and, moreover, the bulk of al-Qaida’s fighting force and its commanders, apparently including bin Laden, also got away.”

[H: And how is YOUR drama going today just a day before the Night before Christmas and all through the house...]

[END OF QUOTING]

So, everyone chases the wind! You can feel it but you cannot grasp it or see it—only the blowing about of things you CAN see. So, is the feather in the wind from the proverbial duck or the swan—or the eagle? HOW CAN YOU TELL—AND IF YOU COULD, DOES IT MATTER?

What you DO, my students, is KNOW WHAT IS RIGHT ACTION and do not turn into the winds of chaos even if they be all around you. When you KNOW that which is RIGHT, you will not lose your way even if it seems you have a bunch of magic tricksters abounding around you. It is RIGHTEOUSNESS that “wins”, for righteousness IS GOD. Trying to find bin Laden is a distraction as is ransom for U.S. hostages or the government’s games in the Central Bank. When you move in TRUTH it shall ultimately PREVAIL, for it is so! The lies get more and more confused until you cannot tell one from the other but Truth will stand in the ending segment of the greater play.

By the way, the answers and solutions will come from the unexpected player and production. Just as when you search for a lost item you find in “the last place you look” which does not necessarily mean the “last place there is to look”.

Along those lines I would remind E.J. that he should touch with those who have hoped themselves to have dropped from the radar screen without need for further explanations—starting with PNG. The culprits always think they have escaped recognition unless YOU TELL THEM they have been caught or at the least, accused.

Lay it right out there EXCEPT the names of the “accusers” because there will be no repercussions from this direction dealt in fear or trepidation. NOTHING YOU ARE TOLD MAKES LOGICAL SENSE—SO MOVE THEM FURTHER INTO THEIR OWN TRAP, EVEN TO THE ACCUSATIONS OF CIA OPERATIVE INVOLVEMENT.

Let me remind you that it is not nice to longer fiddle around with CIA gamblers because the CIA is one of the ones left that will be able to bring our program to goodly conclusion. Furthermore, it is time for some of those operatives to make sure this program works and starts providing interim input to assure that end. And YES, this is a warning!

Man is playing with God’s property and THAT IS THE PURPOSE OF A RETURN TO EARTH AS SHOWN IN ALL THE “BIBLES” AND PROPHECIES—TO RECLAIM “HIS” PROPERTY AND PEOPLE. AH INDEED, THE GRAND ILLUSION OF COALESCED MANIFESTATION. Never mind the dreams sent in revelations, one upon another in cryptic misunderstandings. If you make the original assumption of Truth from that which is a LIE, you have no alternative other than to experience the outcome as LIE. Higher MIND is that which creates and directs; and the physical manifest experience is that which swings wildly in the winds of ignorance, the latter chosen by individual perceptions.

You who simply live within the dreams of hope are equally at a loss as to accomplishment, for ultimately the hope becomes the reality of living—and often that is simply to continue in the “hope” without the realization of the actual goal.

Another of the writers in the papers is Felipe B. Miranda and he has summed up this thought in the Filipinos: “So far, Filipinos have insisted on confusing their hopes for their realities. Hope—a four-letter word—has been made to substitute for the desired popular outcomes. Thus, in hoping to have a consolidated nation, a functional democracy with a globally competitive economy, a society with the rule of law tempered by social justice and in unmistakably human quality of life, Filipinos have unfortunately settled for their hopes and—regularly mistaking their hopes for their facts—encouraged illusions and caricatures of desired realities to proliferate.”

FDA AND OTHER ABSURDITIES

Meanwhile the FDA and the Judicial System go after a singular little Mother because she didn’t have her supplement labels quite correctly done—when she did not do them in the first place—while the FDA is processing the next phase of approval for MORE AND MORE DAMAGING IRRADIATION OF FOODS WHICH ARE KNOWN TO CAUSE MUTATION OF CELLS IN THE HOST.

THIS IS SIMILAR TO ASPARTAME APPROVAL WHERE SO MANY INDUSTRIES USE ASPARTAME AS TO BREAK THE ENTIRE ECONOMY IF IT IS REJECTED.

THIS is your life, friend, and nobody can make the difference FOR YOU. We can each serve as best we can but we cannot cram it down your throats and wouldn’t if we could. You are already victims (I use the word intentionally) of that miscarriage of life itself. You are free to follow whichever Piper or Drummer you choose and we are limited to stand, offer and watch.

So be it, for the larger picture is painted as a nightmare instead of a heavenly dream of peace and joy. Obviously mankind DOES NOT REALLY WANT PEACE—it has become a recital with no meaning—MAN WORSHIPS WAR AND THE WARRIORS! So be it.

We will try to get to Part 8 of the Coleman writings later today but it is too lengthy to attach hereto.

May you be blessed with insight and not “enlightened terrorism”. And further, at this time of reflection of the state of yourself and your nation—be fair in your appraisal of both. This is but a calendar blip in an endless universe.

I salute you, GCH

CHRISTMAS DAY 2001

RE: CHRISTMAS

IF WE WERE HOME...!

Hatonn—Indeed, if “we were home...” we would surely have a gathering so that energies could be shared, love expressed and recognition made to those who walk the way with us—good or bad—as our perceptions might understand.

In the form of a baby came HOPE as a symbolic presence, for in same is the purest of TRUTH of both good and bad and NO GOOD OR BAD, just 100% PURE POTENTIAL.

This is the very meaning of being created equal—each is birthed with 100% pure potential and you will become that which is your grand purpose albeit sometimes elusive as to what THAT purpose might be as presented.

YOU might perceive on just as is this Christmas Day (just, actually, another rotation of the planet in the light of the Sun) that things are good or bad, horrendous or peaceful depending on your placement—and there is opportunity, rarely taken, to go within and take note of your SOUL. Why today? Because it is a time of recognition through accepted instruction TO DO SO.

You NEED to do this EVERY morning, for how can you be whole if the most important piece of your very being is missing? You should live within the expression of Godness in each moment of EVERY day, surely not just on a Christmas morning.

SAD OR HAPPY?

You will be as sad or as happy today as you will any other day but you WILL pay more attention. You will be what you choose to be and express, as well, HOW you choose to present. Traditions and customs of each will impact on special days differently, for if you happened to “forget” that it is a special day, you would neglect to react or respond in any manner differently than the day before in anticipation of the one to come. TODAY SIMPLY IS.

Things are in open example in Bethlehem today where chaos is painfully noticed as man wars against man, each claiming that which is GOD’s alone, at best. However, YOU do express what you ARE in your attitudes and pronouncements of your opinions and demands.

What does it require to have a “Merry Christmas” and a HAPPY New Year? Is the price too high, readers? And, will laying down a gun or two until tomorrow salve the soul while YOU give extension of life to someone somewhere through a dish of food and perhaps lack of a bullet hole in the brain?

Who will save the child, the babe? It lies there helpless to be molded by that which YOU choose it to be—dead or alive. Starving or well-fed, it waits—for it has no other choice or alternative save that which YOU provide. It cannot even pick up a grain of rice nor put it to its mouth. THAT is the Christ Child, friends, by any name you choose to label it.

Families and friends find themselves together or apart as the mind chooses but man clutches onto that which fills his mind—be it positive or negative. THAT IS THE TRUE MEANING OF CHRISTMAS, whatever you may call it by name. The heart cries out for the goodness and comfort, or revels in deeper despair for that which one conjures to feel as sorrow or melancholy, or joy in being.

When you can actually, in spite of the perceptions tossed about, recognize the “joy”, the simple appreciation of being, to grasp another opportunity for service, then you have “arrived”. Service is as gentle as appreciating the sunlight or a light on a fabricated tree. Light is perceived by the being and not necessarily even by the “eyes”.

Is a lovely Christmas tree really a thing of the “eyes”, or that perception in the MIND? Ah so, now we are getting somewhere, for a “view” is but a passing picture—the response, reaction and the FEELING of the picture is that which remains forever and that which causes to mark each step with that which you choose to recall, express or even endure.

And NO, God does not require nor were you created to SUFFER! God created each and all to express, experience and seek joy and that joy may come from any sensing reception of perception as you receive and USE the moments of your life.

To the ones just trying to get a job accomplished it is difficult to sit out a day simply because everything is closed to the ordinary passage activities of a day. To the frantic host it is confusion of traditional chaos and rarely is it a time of simple appreciation that HOPE is eternal in concept and application.

Oh but could I get you to take each moment as the precious gift it represents! You will go through this as with every day, JUDGING each moment, each gift, each lacking gift and assign “meanings” to ones around you ACCORDING TO YOUR OWN INNER CHOICE. When you, however, choose to judge by a gift or the giver thereof, you surely err, my children—for you cannot know the inner intent of the gift or the giver but only that which it might mean TO YOU.

And then there are gifts: Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh. What silly gifts for a child! A child only wants or needs, nourishment and warmth. Two of the gifts above are things that simply “smell” good (or bad according to taste in aromas) and gold which has no intrinsic value AT ALL except that which YOU GIVE UNTO IT. And yes, readers, the tale goes that “WISE” MEN BROUGHT THESE GIFTS. How much “fun” do you think the little babe had in opening his useless THINGS?

Better you call a TRUCE on Christmas, my students, than confound the program with “stuff”. And yet, that which you give and receive—please bless it with the love that is carried on the very item itself, the intent of the heart that chose “it”. All the rest is but a ritual without “meaning”.

Christmas is a time of sharing, exchanging and yes, it is good, for indeed it gives opportunity to pause and put things into perspective beyond the moments presented. I can promise you this, in the Philippines it is a great time of exchanging food baskets. The containers are from simple baskets to elaborate and ornate baskets and the contents are those things which are passed by on a daily table or special treats which bring fun to the game of “survival”.

I remind you, however, that the exchange of caring notes or gifts is often your only way to express unto another. The point is to balance all things that you can remain or become balanced, centered and appreciate that which IS as well as that which COMES FORTH.

There are as many responses to Christmas or any moment in any day as there are individual mind fragments to perceive. And indeed, sometimes the very best way to express these things is to keep right on doing that which leads to a goal worthy of your time and expression.

TODAY IN OUR CIRCLE IN MANILA

What will we do this day? We will continue to work a bit more diligently toward bringing GAIA to attention and recognition.

I DID NOT SAY ANYTHING ABOUT GOLD CERTIFICATES OR RICHES OR CHESS GAMES. GAIA STANDS FOR GLOBAL ALLIANCE IN ASSOCIATION WITH THAT OR THOSE WHO CAN PRESENT AND “CREATE” A “BETTER WAY” IN SOLUTIONS FOR THE GROWTH AND FULFILLMENT OF LIFE.

We ALL claim this gift, for each of us together forms an alliance, an association, to bring our investment in life itself to life itself. This is NOT something that is held in gold or silver certificates in someone’s vault or trust. It is that which is brought forth OUT of the lockboxes to be shared and given in love and appreciation that GOD would grant us such grace and created manifestation of that which man MUST have to survive in a physical way that he might prevail in a spiritual way. It is to give man choices and alternatives rather than the shackles of that which has come upon man through usury and manipulation.

Argentina is the prime example for study, students, as to what has come against mankind. Argentina CANNOT survive as a nation without SOLUTIONS that continue to build rather than postpone or and ultimately require more and more bloodletting.

GOD PROVIDES—MAN DECIDES!

A good example of ignorance is one incident with some business people who came to call on Ekkers. The response to the discussion of Argentina was: “Where is Argentina?”

Almost everything of importance, further, is lost in the distraction of the moment and this particular moment brings Christmas! This year in the Philippines and many other places it started Friday last and the holiday will extend through next week as well as this. This is tremendously beneficial to the very destroyers themselves, the International Banking Cartel (IBC).

Is this good or bad? It IS. However, readers, DID ANYONE ASK “YOU”? So, the joke is “let them eat fruitcake” to the possibility of hunger requiring funds before the banks open again for regular business.

DIFFICULT TIMES?

Indeed. Man is a social being and is not “whole” without his attachments. So, we do not take lightly the need of inner longing for loved ones and the IDEA of togetherness which reaches far beyond the “enjoyment” of experiencing. The very need to remember times gone before cements the need for always remembering things to suit the moment at hand. Do you harbor good memories or bad thoughts come before, for NOW is only a THOUGHT OF YESTERDAY GONE FOREVER.

My suggestion for the moment, whatever it may offer, is to look at what IS, accept it and MAKE SOME NEW MEMORIES. That includes the possibility of making new customs and traditions perchance. Remember that it certainly is up to you.

We fully intend with every thing we do, to bring forth some GOOD memories on which we can build wondrous new thoughts and traditions. And we too will use that which is already manifest that there be no call nor cause to find magic instead of miracles. If a moment seems magical, it is because someone created a miracle. And a true meaning of expression is when the heart hurts because of the inability to produce the miracle on human schedules and the heart perceives failure to a brother. Failure is, truly, rarely a perception of failing self but failing in another’s eyes or experience. These are in themselves but measuring guides against which you judge self. You are fine, however, if you persist in that wisdom of expectation of self as in serving another.

Can’t you consider that it might be that your very purpose is to express that which gives blessings to others so that very reflection brings light and peace within “your success” box of expectations of self? As long as your Truth allows another to express his 100% potential in a positive way—YOU CANNOT BE A FAILURE. But everyone must have that special feeling within himself to recognize his own participation.

I want to acknowledge and give accolades to each of our participants and at the same time realize that each time I do such a foolish thing, the person acknowledged by name and location is immediately set forth as a target by those who are adversaries. We are yet too fragile in our program to need harassment. And no, knowing is not enough, for recognition is that for which we each strive—yea even unto the Hosts of God, we need recognition that our labors are in righteousness.

From time to time, however, if one is far enough removed for security, I can and shall speak of special moments.

Lester lives in New Zealand and is a gift beyond mere appreciation to us all. He has sent many things to bring warmth and love expression into our life-stream. And, to make this tale into perspective please remember that in Manila there is never “winter”—except in the heart. Lester sent wonderful things to sooth life’s little impacts and one thing he sent to E.J. might at first seem totally strange—a lamb’s wool scarf with a fluffy little New Zealand product logo on it.

First comes the lack of need for such an item and then comes the overwhelming realization of what a treasure it represents—from travel some day to New Zealand in winter (which is summer elsewhere) but moreover what it offers right in Manila in the heat of the Equator around the calendar.

It FEELS like comfort expressed in a manifest form. It may well not go to the wardrobe closet—because it is now a “big-person’s” “security blanket”. It can go to the pillow where the very feel of it is soothing and nurturing. It also becomes something more luxurious than almost any other thing around, for it can be put across the back of a chair to lean against and its presence is the very presence of the sender. When you break out of the expected mode of thought, you will find a hundred things for which to use an item other than the obvious. The obvious has not worked thus far for finding “freedom”, so be careful as to the meaning of each perception. There are NO political things without careful use and planning and you will make great leaps forward when you realize same.

Mayor Giuliani affront the TIME cover speaks volumes about the meaning of such a picture and most of it most of YOU will not like. It is a triumph for him and his Cartel achievements—over the cost of lives sacrificed intentionally to achieve an end before 2001 draws to a close.

Sharon pushes even further in disallowance of Arafat and Palestinians to visit the very birthplace of the Christ Child as accepted throughout the last 2,000 years.

What is someone like Arafat wanting into Bethlehem anyway? Well, you ignorant victims of the LIE, THAT IS THE BIRTHPLACE OF THE VERY CONCEPT OF CHRISTIANITY—and is a remarkable and fundamental focus of Palestine itself. To deny participation is a mark of evil in its most obvious format.

Then, to you who can’t see movement in our own program, think again. There will come the day when all things or eras will be categorized as before GAIA or AFTER GAIA (living being). It will not be measured by intention horror of some buildings.

Note it has already been such that the World Trade Center debacle is already set in the stream of consciousness as extraordinary as the LIE OF THE HOLOCAUST by the very same players. There are no “means” unworthy of the very sadists’ end goal of power over goodness. The act itself was evil and the concept as well as the conceptual USE of the incident is evil. Moreover, in your media presentations THE players are shown and you bless them. Wake up, sleepyheads, Santa has already come and shoved off the lie more deeply onto your ignorance.

Was there actually ANYTHING which took place in New York City? Were YOU there? No, you were not, unless somehow your body was right there at this so-called silly “ground zero”. Even the terms and logos attached to incidents are that which is conjured by the mind manipulators. The same with “numbers”—not even half the number of people actually were involved as presented to your sensing indignation. Most of those “murdered” were “goyim”. So, go restudy the Protocols of the Elders of Zion and do your own calculations.

Let us just speak of Illuminati—and you may well see more clearly the players and the play and WHY New York.

New York does not represent the people of America. New York represents the epitome of takeover of the United States of America and the idea for which she serves. So too does Washington, D.C. Therefore do not be blinded by what you are fed as lies upon which to feed. America has been brought to her knees and it remains to be seen as to whether or not YOU can reclaim your feet. Evil has laid waste your lands.

Does this mean you cannot cherish a moment in experience of self? No, it means you MUST cherish the moments in time which bring understanding, happiness, and that for which achievement can be measured in goodness rather than in terror or horror. Find the goodness in man which always comes forth in the midst of horror—for then, when the goodness is worst impacted, springs forth the very best of individuals.

When you turn from the evil into the actions which move toward balance and goodness, then you shall prevail and THAT journey or accomplishment will NOT be boring nor dull as you witness CREATING—and CREATION at the best of that which CAN COME TO PASS. There is nothing greater than CREATING and nothing more depressing than destroying the more wondrous productions of man.

I don’t want to spend this writing in causing a reflection of negative perceptions, for you have all the time of expectation to move toward infinitely positive realization.

Life’s journey is all about expectation, experiencing and then remembering. The anticipation in anxiety or fear or comfort or joy is that which causes intent in function and action. After the mystery is solved, the action committed and the intent evaluated—you have but memory. The point is to have far more goodly memories than negative stagnation. Anyone can stagnate and, at some point or another, each will. Stagnation, however, can rebuild generators for action, or, slime to gather to stop your journey. Slime can either be a food/fuel resource—or something to poison the very being. Do YOU grow good algae or toxic varieties?

So, on this Christmas, take a look at self, honor those who moved on during this segment of time just past and move on. Enjoy the moments, even the chaos, for simply to make it through is of utmost importance—many will be lost to that chaos and bogged forever in the feelings of inability to move out of the traps.

Will we prevail in our good intentions and actions? I will, but then I can only present FOR SELF. I ask you all to be welcome to come along—for our path is not yet even crowded. Few want to truly walk out front but only come along after the fact. It is up to YOU—and none shall cause you discomfort over your decisions if we be about our Father’s work, for we will welcome you aboard and not waste time and precious moments looking back to JUDGE that which comes behind outside our realization or view. We can look back and judge the value of an action, naught else.

I can only offer food for MIND; YOU must manifest food for physical use. But you must at least bother to find out what is sweet and nourishing or that which will poison the physical body. Then, in addition, you must decide that which you will feed unto your own mind and those of whom you become caretakers.

May you always walk in such a way as to be pleased to be recognized and privately enough in your work to be invisible.

Love, DAD

RE: ARGENTINA'S CURRENT ECONOMIC STATUS. PART 9: COLEMAN, A WORLD TRADE CENTER SPECIAL REPORT

ARGENTINA

Hatonn—I don't actually want to speak about Argentina except to say that the "fruit is ripe", the harvesters ready and the leadership has taken a stand on currency and the economy that is evidence of SOVEREIGNTY within a nation.

Do we have a solution for Argentina's massive problems? Indeed we do! And yes, if we need to turn our attention to that matter and leave the paper to Mark on the busier days, so be it. And no, I will not yet lay forth a plan so that adversaries can have advantage. We have an "alliance", a global alliance and as it takes shape you will see that the pieces fit together for that very alliance to take shape and function.

To alleviate the discomfort and slams by such as V.K. Durham or our other declared "enemies", I will only say that it will move all the way back to the scattering of "packages" of "currency" and "commodity" around the globe by one, Ferdinand Marcos, et al. We have wasted no time in this period of time in Manila, my friends, even if impatience headlines your page of wishes.

Therefore, I would like to move right on through these first offerings from John Coleman as you are given insight by a superb teacher.

[QUOTING WIR, "A WORLD TRADE CENTER SPECIAL REPORT", Sept.-Oct. 2001, Dr. John Coleman:]

PROPAGANDA

A further blatant example of the propaganda war being waged was that of a "Fox news" interviewer who tried to get Scott Ritter to implicate Iraq in the terror that struck New York. Time and again the interviewer attempted to prime Ritter, and time after time he said flatly that Iraq had nothing to do with it. Finally, the interviewer gave up and retired in disarray to fix her expensive hairdo and repair her makeup. Ritter was left with his honor and integrity intact. It will be recalled that Ritter was formerly head of the so-called "U.N. Weapons Inspection Team" that spent three years searching for non-existent "weapons of mass destruction" in Iraq in gross violation of that nation's sovereignty.

Then, when Mr. Clinton ran into trouble over Lewinsky and desperately needed something to divert attention away from his exposed infamy, Ritter's boss, a man by the name of Butler, cooked up a string of falsified reports about what was found in Iraq and Mr. Clinton used it as an excuse to deliver a cruise missile attack on Baghdad. Because of this shocking abuse of power, Ritter, to his credit, resigned from the bogus "inspection team". Fox chose the wrong man. They should have interviewed Butler, a polished liar who made a career out of lying, and who would have gladly lied to propagandize the American people once more. Butler is a real terrorist whose lies killed hundreds of innocent people in Baghdad, and he ought to be barred from the United States. Instead he enjoys a well-paid position at the U.N.

Do the American people know anything about what is done in their name in foreign countries? We strongly oppose people whom we have not elected making decisions in which we have no say. We did not approve of Mrs. Albright and Gen. Clark and we do not approve of Colin Powell and Donald Rumsfeld acting as though they are members of a secret society, meeting behind closed doors as is their custom. There has been just too much of the "national security" excuse. The United States, if it wishes to survive as a confederated republic, has got to refrain from acting like an empire. No more "rule by secrecy".

If the U.S. Constitution had been obeyed and if its laws had been enforced as written, what would have been the condition of the United States today? No laws in our country would have any trace of pollution, nor pretensions, nor falsehoods nor dangerous poisonous additives. Our laws would be wholly without any adulteration, or dangerous corrosive chemicals, or misbranding to erode the principles laid down by the Founding Fathers and to deceive our people.

The state of our nation would be vibrant and healthy, and we would not have become weakened and sickened by contagious entanglements with foreign nations like some in the Middle East, and others, particularly Great Britain, who are unhealthy and sick nations. The health of our nation would be vastly improved, we would not be giving away huge sums of money to put some foreign Communist dictator in power and keep him there by paying big bribes.

We would be devoting our energies to improving the economic welfare and happiness of our people; we would not be concerned about what the "Kosovars" were doing in Serbia, nor making enemies all over the world from Palestine to Afghanistan to South Africa to Russia. Instead we would be cultivating friendly and fair relations with all nations rather than the unhealthy practice of favoring one over the other.

The infectious disease of Socialism would not have had the chance to invade our Constitution and begin its destructive work. Our people would have been living on the wholesome diet of sound constitutional laws, instead of becoming ill from having to swallow the poison of the misbegotten evils of socialist legislation.

We would have been spared the ignominy and the disgrace of the International Socialists in our legislature breaking their backs to defeat the greatest document ever written by man, whose laws were written for the protection of the public welfare, which laws they strive day and night to corrupt and replace with evil laws. The cause of the great nation envisaged by our Founding Fathers would not have been set back for over one hundred years, and there would have been no need to write a history of the great crimes of which we are guilty.

GOD!

All across America, on every billboard or available advertising space we see "God Bless America" but we wonder if God will heed our appeal when this nation is so far removed from Him and from our Founding Fathers? How can God heed the plea and "Bless America" when we allow unspeakable things done in our name to continue unchecked?

Prayers are forbidden in our schools.

Observance of religious holy days, Christmas, Easter, forbidden.

Christian symbols on public buildings and nativity scenes forbidden and removed by court order.

Teachings of the Constitution in our schools and universities are non-existent.

Supreme Court Justice Harry Blackmun permitted to defile our Constitution with what in our opinion was his megalomaniacal interpretation of the 4th Amendment which supposedly made legal the murder of infants.

When millions of babies have been cruelly murdered by the abortionists who practice their vile profession under the protection of the "law" and whom we allow to continue with the murder of the innocent.

When we defy George Washington's admonition to stay free of foreign alliances and entanglements.

When we allow government to abuse and desecrate the United States Constitution time after time.

When without a declaration of war we bombed the Christian nation of Serbia, wantonly killing its innocent citizens and destroying more than 680 of its churches.

When we put the Communist tyrants Mugabe and Mandela in power in Rhodesia and South Africa respectively.

When we allowed President Bush to take America to war against Iraq without constitutional authority, a war that has destroyed that nation and resulted in the deaths of millions of its citizens, a nation we still bomb on a daily basis without one scrap of constitutional authority.

When we will not keep our borders intact and allow millions of people to flood into the country and do nothing about it, and in fact encourage it for sordid political motives.

When we allow drugs to flood our nation and desecrate our youth, knowing who the "they" are and yet refusing to stop this trade straight out of Hell.

When, like some mighty empire, we fight wars against those who are opposed to the evils which threaten our very existence.

When we allow the latest attack on the Constitution, the so-called "Anti-Terrorism" Bill to pass unchallenged, a bill in violation of our God-given rights formulated in the Constitution which destroys every one of the liberties for which the American Revolution was fought.

When we allow the pagan United Nations, an organ of International Socialism to do its evil work right here in the United States, when we ought to have fought tooth and nail to prevent it from setting up shop on our soil, and which we now condone by not forcing its removal.

We could list a thousand more reasons why God might withhold His blessings from the United States, but the few we have highlighted ought to be sufficient.

[H: AH BUT—MAN TURNS FROM GOD; GOD DOES NOT TURN FROM MAN.]

RELATED OBSERVATIONS

The American people are known for their short attention span. We venture to suggest that God does not forget as easily as we do. One day this nation will have to account for its sins. It might be more efficacious to plead for mercy and forgiveness of our sins which are dark and legion, especially our sin of making a pretense of fighting a "war on drugs" when we are taking few meaningful steps to combat the menace. In fact the drug trade today is bigger and more powerful than many of the smaller nations, in fact as big as any ten of them put together, the biggest business in the world.

Quoting again from The Coming Disasters published in 1999: "Pakistan is also an outlet (for drugs) and what you see now in the struggle between India and Pakistan which, if it continues, could very well lead to a nuclear war, is related to the huge, lucrative opium trade. With only 3 percent of arable land (in Afghanistan) under poppy cultivation, the prospects for increasing the extent of poppy growing is limitless. Thus rivalry over Afghanistan is likely to increase sharply in the days to come and with it, a flashpoint for war and a possible nuclear war..."

"The Taliban, who fought against Russia, have no love for America. They feel they were used by the CIA to get rid of the Russian occupation, only to face a new enemy, the 'Great Satan'. There will be zero cooperation between the U.S. and the Taliban and less still with Britain..."

The United States is caught up in a dilemma. To defeat the Taliban will take many years, the conflict likely to last for four years. That is the view of Britain's defense chief, Admiral Boyce. There will be a Muslim backlash against the United States if the war lasts much longer. Revolt is already barely contained in Egypt, Pakistan and Saudi Arabia, these countries having warned Pres. Bush that a quick end to U.S. military action is the only way to prevent revolt from spilling over throughout Asian countries and the entire Middle East. But perhaps that is exactly what International Socialism wants?

The U.S. campaign is dependent upon the full cooperation of Pakistan. That is being maintained with the greatest difficulty in the face of daily mass rallies against Gen. Musharraf. It is like a pressure-cooker ready to blow. Musharraf is becoming increasingly anxious that he might be toppled, and in an interview with ABC, he said that the nature of the conflict posed a threat of a long entanglement for the U.S.-led "coalition". "If the military objectives are such that their attainment is causing difficulty, then yes, it may be a quagmire."

Not wishing to offend his patron, Musharraf did not go any further, but in a private meeting with Dutch Prime Minister Wim Kok, he was much more forthright: "One can only hope and wish that the military objectives are achieved and it remains as short as possible," a wish no doubt echoed by the Abdul Aziz clan and Mubarak of Egypt, who must by now be looking rather nervously over their shoulders.

They have good reason to be nervous. Even in the small towns of Pakistan, as many as 50,000 people are turning out almost every day to protest their government's participation in the U.S. war against Afghanistan. Every television report of fresh waves of bombers dumping their loads on the "front lines" (as if this were a highly organized enemy) cause new riots and eruptions of anger against the United States. Pakistanis are streaming into Afghanistan on everything that has wheels, vowing to help the Afghans "in their fight against the aggressor".

Saudi Arabia's Crown Prince Abdullah warned Pres. Bush that the attack on Afghanistan must come to a swift halt, and declared the continued bombing as "unacceptable". The Bush Cabinet is no doubt engaged in some delicate "diplomatic fencing" of its own. China was distinctly cool about the bombing attacks, and India was barely civil to Pres. Bush when he visited New Delhi in an attempt to drum up support for U.S. military action in Afghanistan.

We hate terrorism, we hate it for its cowardice and the disruption it brings and we hate the deaths of innocent people it causes, we hate the way it brings misery to every single person, but is not what appears to be indiscriminate bombings in Afghanistan also terrorism? Terrorism cannot be defeated by acts of terrorism. We abhor what happened in New York, but we must find another way to fight it.

The first step in the right direction would be an immediate return to open, honest government, full obedience to the U.S. Constitution, an end to "secret deals" and "government by secrecy" and a speedy end to the massive propaganda war being waged against the American people under the direction of the Tavistock Institute. That has GOT TO STOP and the sooner the better. We cannot survive with unelected officials walking around knowing more than We, the People know! We cannot go on alienating three-quarters of the world's population and we cannot go on acting as if we are a modern-day version of the Roman Empire, only a great deal more destructive.

A return to the ways our Founding Fathers laid down and in our foreign relations, paying careful heed to the wise counsel of George Washington, is the only way we are going to defeat the International Socialists and save our country from total bondage in the New World Order inside a One World Government. There can be no rest for We, the People, until we compel our legislators and our President to obey the Constitution in its plain text and plain spirit. We have to take constitutional steps to remove from office ALL those who will not obey the Constitution, and to do so without any delay.

Without our Constitution, we are reduced to the level of other countries, governed at the whim of the rulers and legislators. Let us make haste to organize from the grass roots upwards just how a return to total obedience of the Constitution may be accomplished. We have the constitutional means at our disposal. All it will take is adequate funding and a determination to pull our country back from the very brink of disaster.

What is a constitution? We shall quote the words of Judge John Bannister Gibson:

"... It is an act of extraordinary legislation by which the people establish the structure and mechanism of their government, and in which they prescribe the fundamental rules to regulate the motions of the several parts..."

The "Anti-Terrorism Bill" is government mechanism run amuck, out of control and terribly dangerous to our liberties, and that is the bottom line: If We, the People, allow it to stand, then we have only ourselves to blame when we wake up one day to find ourselves under the control of a government of tyranny. We pose the question: "Show us where in the Constitution is the empowerment for an Anti-Terrorism Bill and a Homeland Security Department?" and we answer: "IT IS JUST NOT THERE."

There are a number of legislators who voted for this bill, knowing that it was full of violations of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, but who still violated their oath of office and failed lamentably as trustees of the People. To them we say "You have failed in your duty. The Constitution CANNOT BE COMPROMISED! Do the honorable thing and resign. A person who violates his oath is not longer trustworthy.

In 1816 Thomas Jefferson issued many prophetic warnings against those in government who were always trying to claim authority and usurp powers not granted by the Constitution, such as we see in the disastrous Anti-Terrorism Bill:

"What has destroyed Liberty and the rights of man in every government that has existed under the Sun? The generalizing and concentrating all cares and powers in one body, no matter whether of the autocrats of Russia and France, and the aristocrats of a Venetian State."

We have repeatedly warned the American people that the day would come when the majority of their number would be willing to sacrifice their Constitution and their precious Bill of Rights for promised safety and security, and that in the end, they would have neither. Perhaps now, after years of seemingly futile efforts to bring the truth to the American people, they will now begin to realize that there was validity to our protestations.

The American people must stand fast on the constitutional principle of arbitrary power being outlawed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. There are at least two hundred references in the Annals of Congress, the Congressional Globes and Congressional Records to the why the framers of the Constitution abhorred arbitrary power and why they fought it as an abomination against the Constitution. The way the Anti-Terrorist Bill was rushed through by Leahy and the attorney general was a 100-percent exercise of arbitrary power and nobody can argue against that. The framers of the Constitution said that arbitrary power is only exercised in dictatorships and by a government of tyranny. We have a solemn duty to call upon the legislators to repeal this gross violation of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

To our astonishment even one of the chief spokeswomen for the left agrees with us. Nationally syndicated columnist Molly Ivins had this to say:

"The administration is in danger of sacrificing one of its most important assets, which is the trust of the American people. The problem is not that everybody isn't singing off the same page but that some parties are being less than frank. There is no point in telling us that 'surgical precision bombing' doesn't kill—we're grown-ups, we know.

"Meanwhile, back on the home front, Congress is engaged in criminal folly. Not only has the House passed this sickening bundle of tax cuts to benefit IBM, General Motors and General Electric, they are telling us that to defend freedom we must surrender freedom. In the name of democracy, we must abandon democracy.

"There are 51 emergency anti-terrorism bills packaged under the meretricious title Proved Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act. Among the most staggering proposals it authorized indefinite detention of anyone suspected of any terrorist connection. The definition of 'terrorist' is left largely to the FBI and the CIA which have had notable difficulty grasping democratic principles in the past." (David Koresh and his followers and Randy Weaver and his poor little family would surely have qualified as terrorists under this terrifying bill. We can imagine what a man like former FBI agent Larry Potts could do with this bill—WIR!)

Ivins went on to say:

"Legislators have already passed much of this garbage and proudly claim that the most controversial surveillance sections will expire in 2005. In fact the 2005 expiration date applies to only a tiny portion of this sprawling bill. The police will have permanent ability to conduct Internet searches and surveillance without a court order and secretly search homes and offices—the CIA will have cosmetic authority. It's an abomination.

"As if this weren't bad enough the CIA wants power to assassinate people, just like the terrorists. And the FBI, according to Walter Pincus of the Washington Post, is seeking power to 'pressure' uncooperative prisoners by using drugs or 'Israeli-style' methods. Why not just crank out the bastinado and the rack?"

How then can we ask God to bless America? We ought to fall DOWN ON OUR KNEES AND BEG GOD to help us remove from office the legislators who passed this "garbage", as We, the People, have not only the right and the duty to do, but as we were urged to do by Thomas Jefferson and many of the founders of this nation and the generation that followed.

As John Bannister Gibson said:

"It was for the right of exerting this power that the blood of the revolution was shed and independence achieved by the patriots of 1776."

Yes, I DO know what it takes to change things—but so far there seems to be no sign of wanting change in the united States of the Americas. Moreover, you put down the ones who offer solutions and others, like Dr. Coleman, have to hide to save their very lives. They, like we, have to beg for our very bread and are restricted to the very most frugal limitations—even to be called "terrorists" as well.

People, LIFE IS NOT FAIR BUT GOD IS JUST! So, as we struggle along together, let us better pray that what we do offers assistance to the very ones who CAN make a difference that we might all become strong enough together to regain freedom and sort Truth from the fictions foisted off onto you from every direction—even to your daily living.

Our people have had to struggle against odds so great as to be back-breaking, not to mention: heart-breaking. We have learned to live with it and keep right on moving ahead. THAT IS WHEN YOU WITNESS GOD PREVAILING. GOD HEARS EVERY PRAYER AND THE CALL COMPELS THE ANSWER—JUST BE SURE YOU ASK IN JUST CAUSE LEST THE ANSWER BE OTHER THAN YOU WISHED.

Can we do this job? Yes.

You are cherished above all things, my friends. Dark tunnels which open to both ends always have a light at the end thereof—it is simple fact.

God bless YOU and God blesses John Coleman.—GCH dharma

RE: A LOOK AT OLD TERROR ATTACKS—
CIA & Mossad

POSSIBILITIES

Hatonn—While we wait for unfolding events to give some order and reason to current happenings on the “terror” front, let us turn to some very revealing facts coming to light in long past, and ever occurring, events.

American Free Press is offering, by Fred Lingel, some compelling information about a very serious incident all the way back to 1986 which resulted in Reagan’s administration ordering a direct attack on Libya. We NOW find that the CIA and Mossad were responsible for the original precipitating incident. What do you do now, misinformed people? Will you just continue to accept the lies ad infinitum? We’ll see, won’t we?

Then we will also look at today’s news dealing with 50 years ago.

[QUOTING ORLANDO SENTINEL—FIRST ISSUED IN MAY 1997:]

CLINTON TO GIVE NATION’S APOLOGY
TO SURVIVORS OF INFAMOUS STUDY

Dateline: May 16, 1997.

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—For decades, Fred Simmons suffered from syphilis without knowing it because the government had decided not to tell him.

Now, at 100, he is in a forgiving mood.

“I’m going to go up there, shake the president’s hand and tell him I’m doing all right,” Simmons said as he left for the White house on Thursday.

Today President Clinton will offer an apology to Simmons and three other men—ages 91 to 100—for one of the most shameful episodes in American history: the 40-year Tuskegee Syphilis Study, in which poor Black men were intentionally denied treatment for the disease they knew as “bad blood”. The experiment was aimed at learning exactly what syphilis does to the body.

For a long time, Simmons was not all right. One month nearly 50 years ago, he could not eat or walk, bled from sores and nearly starved to death.

“They thought he was going to die, but then one day he started getting better,” said Simmons’ grandson, Michael Simmons. “There was never any cure. We just prayed a lot. That worked better than anything.” [H: And started treating him at home with a silver-gold suspension. That worked even better than the prayers but was tried only after the prayers.]

Simmons was among the 399 Black men from rural southern Alabama who signed up for medical care in the 1930s, unaware they had syphilis. All were denied penicillin, the standard treatment for the disease since 1947. Those who were infected left thousands of descendants, many of whom had to deal with the stigma of coming from a family with a known history of syphilis.

A 1972 article by the Associated Press exposed the study. The AP reported that 28 of the men who signed up for the supposed treatment had died of syphilis and 100 others had died of syphilis-related complications.

“The way they treated him and the way they treated us, it was horrible,” said Dora Banks, 90, the daughter of a syphilis victim.

[END OF QUOTING]

No comment except to tell you that the efforts are now great indeed to get supplements away from you IF THEY CAN and if you don’t watch out—they will!

And how do you Americans feel today to realize that the Anthrax presented in your recent “terror” game were from right in the U.S. government laboratories? Oh my, yes, beware of terrorists in tall buildings.

Now that you have HAD to look at the facts that President Roosevelt KNEW before the attack on Pearl Harbor—that it was coming—how can you fail to look at other events such as:

[QUOTING AMERICAN FREE PRESS, Dec. 17, 2001:]

CIA LINKED TO ‘86 BOMBING
BERLIN TV TIES CIA, MOSSAD
TO BERLIN TERROR ATTACK
By Fred Lingel, Exclusive to AFP

German public television has made a compelling case that the CIA and Mossad were involved in the bombing of a disco in Berlin in 1986 to provide a rationale for attacking Libya.

Fifteen years after the terrorist bombing of a disco in Berlin, a German court has found four individuals guilty of the attack which killed two American servicemen and a Turkish woman.

But a documentary on German public television aired in 1998 disputes the case brought by German authorities against the group, presenting chilling evidence that the main suspects in the 1986 La Belle disco bombing worked for American and Israeli intelligence.

The bombing gave President Ronald Reagan the pretext to order the bombing of Libya. The bombs hit Libyan leader Muammar Qaddafi’s home, killing at least 30, including one of his infant children. Qaddafi was uninjured.

The TV documentary said its findings are significant today because the bombing of Libya is being cited as a precedent for America’s war on terror in Afghanistan and other countries around the world.

A Berlin court reached a verdict on four suspects on Nov. 14. A fifth was found not guilty. Verena Chanaa, a 42-year-old German, accused of detonating the bomb, was found guilty of murder and sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Yassir Chraidi, a 42-year-old Palestinian, was convicted of multiple counts of attempted murder and accessory to murder. Musbah Eter, a 44-year-old Libyan, and Ali Chanaa, a 42-year-old Lebanese born German who is Verena Chanaa’s ex-husband were also found guilty of the same charges.... The fifth defendant was found not guilty for lack of evidence.

HOWEVER, Zweites Deutsches Fernsehen (ZDF television) conducted its own investigation. According to the World Socialist Website (www.wsws.org), the documentation concluded:

* The lead defendant, Chraidi, is possibly innocent and is being used as a scapegoat by German and American intelligence services.

* At least one defendant, Eter, has been working for the CIA for many years, according to recently released East German and Soviet intelligence documents.

* Key suspects, who may have been involved in the bombing or had knowledge of it, have not appeared in court because they are being protected by Western intelligence services.

* At least one of the people who never appeared, Mohammed Amairi, is an agent of the Mossad, Israel’s secret service.

CIA ASSET

Chraidi, one of the men accused of masterminding the bombing, was a driver at the Libyan embassy in East Berlin in 1986. He later moved to Lebanon and was extradited to Germany in May 1996.

ZDF-TV interviewed the two Lebanese responsible for Chraidi’s extradition: the former public prosecutor Mounif Queidat and his deputy, Mrad Azoury. Both said German authorities used deceit to obtain Chraidi’s extradition.

Azoury said he found no evidence that Chraidi was involved in the attack but only “hints”.

“The Americans were behind this demand,” Queidat said. “This was obvious. They spurred the Germans to speed up the extradition.”

A Berlin judge found the evidence so weak he threatened to release Chraidi. At this point, another man was brought into the case who “was obviously supposed to be spared by the Prosecution until then,” ZDF-TV said.

On Sept. 9, 1996, the day the judge had threatened to release Chraidi, Berlin public prosecutor Detlev Mehlis, Berlin police inspector Uwe Wilhelms and a “Mr. Winterstein” of the German Federal Intelligence Service met Musbah Eter in the Mediterranean island state of Malta.

The meeting had been arranged by German intelligence, which maintains close connections to the CIA. Eter was running an international business in Malta, which, ZDF-TV said, served as a cover for CIA operations.

Eter was wanted by German law enforcement on murder charges. Eter was offered immunity in exchange for testifying against Chraidi. The next day, Eter testified at the German embassy, the warrant against him was scrapped and he was allowed to return to Germany.

According to the German program, Eter was a key figure in the disco bombing. At the time of the attack, Eter worked for the Libyan embassy in East Berlin but visited the U.S. embassy frequently. This highly unusual fact was uncovered when communist intelligence notes were discovered after the fall of East Germany extensively documenting Eter’s visitations.

Amairi lived in Germany but had left for Norway when a warrant was issued for his arrest in 1990. ZDF-TV interviewed Amairi in Bergen. His lawyer, Odd Drevland, said Amairi “was a Mossad man”. the Mossad, he said, had the charges dropped.

“These secret service intrigues present a task for the Berlin court that is almost insoluble,” the TV documentary concluded. “But one thing is certain: The American legend of Libyan state terrorism can no longer be maintained.

“It may come as a shock to many Americans, all the more so given the utterly venal and lying role of the U.S. media, but U.S. intelligence services are well versed in the most unscrupulous and bloody methods,” the German report says. No analysis of terror attacks carried out by Islamic groups can “rule out the possibility of a provocation, organized either directly or indirectly” by U.S. or Israeli intelligence.

Okay, now for you inquiring minds as you watch more and more unfolding before your eyes. What do you think about the fact that Chandra Levy was whisked away to Israel? This left Condit to swing on a rope—Condit was high in the “Intelligence” sector of the U.S. government. Perhaps it is time to ask Condit what he KNEW about Sept. 11 possibilities and stop nagging him about Chandra indiscretions.

Then, perhaps you should follow up on the presence of one young American caught in a prison riot in Kabul WITH the Taliban. He was put there as an “asset” of the Intelligence services and they are working diligently to save his life for the charge of SPYING. Ah, Israeli Mossad does get around, and around, and around! The young “Joe” is Jewish whether or not of Arab bloodline as well. LOOK AT THE GAMES, PEOPLE! He was with a CIA agent announced killed. I actually prefer to think you are just sleepy, readers, not this stupid. And no, ignorance and stupidity are NOT the same thing. There is NO EXCUSE for remaining ignorant.

Furthermore, any of you who think the Nov. 12 crash of American Airlines Flight 587 in New York was an accident—go get your head checked, please.

That plane came apart in the air for no apparent reason? Perish the thought. What about all the witnesses who saw it being struck by a missile? Wings, engines and the tail of airplanes are never known to break apart simultaneously. By golly, it was only in the air less than three minutes. And why no follow-up or memorial services or anything? Moreover, there have been MANY reports of falsified maintenance reports from just ONE airline at that JFK airport—so, just bad luck? I don’t think so.

Please just remember a few things as you curse the Muslims for the plight of America. You look to the WRONG parties. A very good suggestion is that you not let media headlines about “rumors from the Muslim world” distract you from the fact that FBI has held several suspects (Israeli) in that Sept. 11 terrorist attack.

One flunked two polygraph tests, one over seven-and-a-half hours in length. And the The Forward newspaper reported on Nov. 23 that “top-ranking Israeli diplomats” had intervened with Ashcroft on behalf of five Israelis—all former members of the Israeli Army—who had been taken into custody for “acting suspiciously” in New York. They were all carrying multiple passports, box cutters and cash in large amounts. They were all “suspected” of being Mossad agents.

There were over 60 detainees who each claimed to simply be “touring” following their service in the Israeli military. However, it comes to light that a number, if not all, had served in “counter-terrorist” units in Israel.

You have to realize several things here: One is the FBI involvement in the processing which is quite reasonable but the fact that Ashcroft has major ties to the Israeli lobby. Ashcroft, your U.S. top judiciary gun, is PAID BY THE IMF AT THE SAME TIME BEING TIED CLOSELY TO THAT “BEST ALLY” ISRAELI LOBBY. People, if you fail to learn from your past, remember that you are doomed to repeat it.

What do “I” think about Ashcroft? I don’t! BUT you had better.

We have much to do and few human hands to do it here, so I will close and leave it for another time to remind you of things—including, indeed, your connections with Pleiades and your Space Brothers. You can all start by reviewing the Phoenix Journal series of Pleiadian Connections and SPACE-GATE: THE VEIL REMOVED. But, someone better start giving the “brothers” out there a REASON to do much of anything for you. You are not, no, alone. But then, you never have been. What you have refused to learn has all but brought your species to extinction. So be it. Late is better than never!

By Doris & E.J. Ekker

RE: NOTE OF THANKS AND RESPONSE TO INQUIRIES ON AN ARTICLE BY DR. YOUNG IN HIS RECENT PUBLICATION

DORIS AND E.J.—Thank you, each and all of you. We are humbled by your caring thoughts and love, along with gifts that run from real “tear bringers” to T-shirts that change colors in the Sun and are large enough to accommodate a hundred-pound sack of chocolate-covered-peanut M&Ms. We will get even, Berends, first opportunity. They drove all the way to Alabama for Christmas it seems, so Randy could cut wood.

I also can’t think of anything more fitting to get even with Rex, Margie and Ellen for the goodie package, along with the prime “assortment” from New Zealand. We’ll just work our buns off getting resources so that they have to spend night and day making out checks—after bringing the accounts current. (OH SMILE, please SIR!)

And to you who also sent goodies, we are bent over in respectful thanks and because “We can’t believe we ate the whole thing.” And guess what, there is no Alka-Seltzer to be found in the Philippines—so guess Bayer is really into big-time anti-bios for sure. This does not dissuade us from eating the candy—just causes us to change to baking soda which works better anyway.

Lester sent a wondrous cookbook of display quality from New Zealand, along with a dozen other things—and I will now “be forced” to go forth and get some kind of a little oven appliance in order to USE it. We have our plans for right after New Year’s Day to get rid of the candy we carry with us everywhere. We have sought far and wide (mostly wide) for magic cures for fatossis and surely enough they have worked—we got wider.

Bruce sent, a while back, some funds to get a few new clothes. Well, we are tempted but intelligence says “Do not buy larger”—wait for smaller and live longer.

Now, living longer may well be the test in this story. We have to finish the job we accepted and the only way to get it done is to “stay alive”. At least we have not been offered another alternative. It is fine, though, as we branch out from the riotous streets of Manila to Argentina now in default.

We are grateful to you who shared Ed Young’s epilogue as published to his audience. The “no-names” are even more expressive than a list of accused. “Dark ones!” Well, I suppose God must attend the dark ones more effectively, for there is naught but LIGHT around us even in the worst of times—which are actually the best of times anyway.

Who might the “elderly couple” be to whom Ed refers—who helped launch Spectrum? We would assume it to be Millers because the most costly losses to Millers are those which that groupie has caused them to bear. In fact, the last sum shared by Millers is covered with a note for security from PI and yet ALL OF IT went to the little groupie of Ed Young. This was after we were in Manila. Millers have lost NOTHING at the hands of Hatonn or Ekkers. Just as always stated all the way back to George Green’s plan of “getcha”, when gold doubles from the purchase price on the date of any loan—it is intended the notes be paid—double.

THAT is the second reason we are IN THE Philippines; to accomplish that which is “God’s Plan 2000”. Will it require a thousand years to get it done? Perhaps, but God has time.

Dr. Young and his Seasonal Greeters seem to have somehow covered up the FACT that they STOLE paper, property and yes indeed, actual MONEY! If that is the way to bring “Truth”, then spare us, please.

The hurt in our hearts is that Millers have paid so dearly for the association which has led them from problem to problem DIRECTLY because of those miscreants.

Do we believe that those people could not present a good paper? Perish the thought, for we paid them to produce a paper—for a DECADE or more. And how Ed Young can tell the world that HE WAS CONNED is incredible in its absurdity. He holds Ph.D.s in a couple of sciences—perhaps he might try going to work and paying for his own paper.

And YES, friends, we do have a big difference going on here with CONTACT. We ARE a MAJOR part of God’s Plan 2000 and yes it WILL come to harvest and yes there will be abundance at the end of this climb across the rainbow—it is promised! You must have something, a project, which has potential for payback and out, readers, and that requires an INVESTMENT of some kind of self. We are ready and able to turn directly into that focus and MAKE IT WORK and therein comes the reward. EVERY SHARING CENT IS RECORDED AND WILL BE REPAYED, LOAN OR NO LOAN. THAT IS OUR COMMITMENT TO BOTH GOD AND YOU, AND THAT MEANS WE MUST FINISH OUR JOB. BUT, THIS JOB IS NOT ABOUT “US”; IT IS ABOUT A CHANGING OF THE GUARD AS THE WORLD TURNS. WHAT WE OFFER GIVES PEOPLE A CHANCE TO RECLAIM THEIR DIGNITY, SOVEREIGNTY AND ABILITY TO SUSTAIN SELVES. YES, IT IS WORTH WHATEVER TROUBLE WE PERCEIVE COMING OUR WAY.

Telling Truth is simply not enough and this was recognized and espoused from DAY ONE. We were all told it would require A LOT and HE HAS PROVIDED THE WAY, THE VERY TOOLS AND HIS GREATEST OF ALL GIFTS, THE ABILITY TO “KNOW” TRUTH AND “ACT” WITHIN THAT TRUTH—WITH OUR BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

This is all outside of personal rewards, for if we do our task, we shall have that which sustains us LATER and we will have accomplished the job with our partners in the journey no matter how far scattered around the globe. Then we meet HIS commitments and share up the gain that we might all move on to accomplish the goal while turning it over, then, to the younger crew and yes indeed there are plenty waiting and ready.

This is not some kind of Religious quest or even a vision quest. It is not even a Spiritual Quest except as we each realize truth and a recognition of the fact that we KNOW ONLY WHAT WE INDIVIDUALLY HAVE IN CONSCIOUSNESS.

We certainly do not interfere with any religious sects. God has given us what we need to perfect the JOB AT HAND, no more and certainly no less. We just have to use it correctly and in righteousness that the very gift reflect GOD, not ourselves. That means, friends, that all of us MUST reflect God within us, for that is the way it works.

How do we KNOW we are getting the right information and guidance? BECAUSE, AS WELL KNOWN, WE SIMPLY ARE NOT THIS SMART! WE WITNESS THE MIRACLES EVERY DAY AND ARE AMAZED EVEN WITH THE CONVOLUTIONS OF THE DAILY ONGOING LIFE-STREAMS. AND YES, WE REALIZE EVERY MOMENT OF EVERY HOUR THAT "YOUR" HOPES ALSO RIDE ON US AND OURS ON YOU. IT IS THE ONLY WAY WE CAN TRUDGE, ANY OF US, THROUGH THESE PRESSURES AND OPPORTUNITIES. OPPORTUNITIES? HOW COULD IT BE OTHERWISE? THINGS HAVE TO HAPPEN TO ALLOW FOR ANOTHER STEP AND THEN ANOTHER AND OCCASIONALLY WE STOP AND LOOK BACK TO CHECK CORRECTION NEEDS—AND THERE IT IS—MIRACLES IN OUR PATHWAY ALL THE WAY. EVEN OUR LOSSES ARE SPARKLING THERE BEHIND US IN THE LACK OF FOCUS ON THE NOW OR THE "HAVE TO" OF TOMORROW.

We never, nor do we feel it sufficient to, simply offer some "paper" that espouses Truth or the claim thereof. God is creator and there must be a return or an "effect" therefrom. There can be no PROMISE from that which bears no visible harvest or promise thereof. THAT IS THE WISDOM OF THE CYCLES OF LIFE ITSELF AS WELL AS THE HOPE THAT COMES IN THE ACTIONS REQUIRED TO "CREATE" THAT WONDROUS MIRACLE WE ASPIRE TO ACHIEVE.

We welcome our acclaimed enemies to call us "Dark Ones" because it gives light to our service and to our guides beyond words from foolish and egotistical energies.

Ed Young suggests that we may even have acquired "insanity"? Perhaps, but it is such a comforting and sane acquisition. My own wonderment is that possibly Ed Young has no contact with life itself or WHAT ACTUALLY CAME DOWN? He acts and speaks as one totally disinformed. We bless the sorting that has been accomplished without input from us, as only a Higher Guide could accomplish. Every ONE made, makes, and shall make their own choices. We choose God, Truth, Light, and HARD WORK. Our promise received and passed on is that if we do these things—all else will move into perfection and yes, good fortune that we can have enough to continue to grow. That is our REALIZATION and it already exists in our CONSCIOUSNESS.

Perhaps we are out of step, we who tread together down this avenue. BUT, when we simply march along blowing our horns and beating our drum in step with that which heads to the pit—We for Two, do not wish to march on that road tooting our flute and making sure things work out for the adversaries abounding on the scene today. But, it appears we don't have to break "step", just keep right on going under the guidance of our "orchestra leader".

Tone deaf? Perhaps—but remember this, Dr. Young (and yes that group are our closest readers), we don't have to experience the discords. We are not musicians—we have a job to accomplish and it has NOTHING, to our knowledge, to do with perfection of the musical scales. Ours is to make an effort (action) that ensures we move back toward FREEDOM to allow those who choose music in their endeavors to be allowed to express it.

So, play your organ, Dr. Young, and keep it to yourself alone and it will make no music for the world to hear in its greatness. Enjoy! We note that a being can have PERFECT PITCH and TONAL perfection and still be as nutty as a fruitcake. And guess what: Presenting LIES does not Truth make.

We have just experienced a Season of great need and LACK of people and nations and NO, TRUTH IS NOT ENOUGH TO SPOUT FROM A KEYBOARD—WE MUST "DO SOMETHING" TO CHANGE THINGS. WHILE OUR WORK IS BASHED AND WE ARE TRASHED, IT IS FINE, FOR THE WORK WILL PREVAIL AND SINCE WE ASK NO LEGACY OTHER THAN "WE SERVED WITH OUR BROTHERS", WE CAN'T SEE HOW A THIEVED PROPERTY CAN LONG SURVIVE IN THE HANDS OF THE THIEVES THEMSELVES. So be it, however, and when things are in proper order, God will see to our success.

As for Millers? Millers are PRECIOUS people and they have fed upon your lies, Spectrum, and it appears that perhaps Truth is seeping through and you miscreants OWE THEM BIG TIME. If it is not Millers to whom you refer, then the message is even more direct.

Why do we speak on these things? BECAUSE EVIL MUST BE CONFRONTED AT EVERY POSSIBLE CIRCUMSTANCE. IF NOTICE COMES FROM OUR FRIENDS, WE RESPOND—AND THAT SHOULD BE SIMPLE ENOUGH! We do not hide and naming names is our fundamental approach to bringing Truth and not in protecting the liars, cheats and thieves.

I ask you friends to bear with us, for obviously we cannot share everything because of these very attacks which never cease. We are getting the job done and every day brings experiences which move a step forward as we are now strong enough to accept the wider and bigger task before we are even comfortable in the last.

We now see HOW a world can be changed without a shot fired, only truth and responsible actions that can make a difference. The problem is big and therefore the solution is big. And yes, we are all big enough to serve. And we have decided something else: We must have some humility because that feeling we have is certainly NOT shame and yet it does not in any way reflect pride, except in our guidance and our friends who stretch their arms and especially their hearts across the miles of land and sea and struggle along WITH US.

Our job was never, NEVER, to make riches off some kind of "investments". NEVER—and it was NEVER expressed in such a way and no documents project such a thing.

Evil will not be erased from the place called Earth, for that is the experience of mankind in physical manifestation. Man CAN, however, grow in goodness within GOD and that is our mission—to make sure MAN has a chance on a bit more level playing field. We do not need judge—any man—just his actions and his obvious intent (when presented in physical format). God ALLOWS! We must do the work.

If that entails responding to a self-styled guru with several Ph.D.s from the most prestigious and status-conscious mind-warp institutions, so be it. We have no wish to compete. GOD IS SUFFICIENT TO OUR NEEDS.

We leave it to Mark as to whether or not he prints the whole of Dr. Young's dissertation but I don't want to take the time to retype it to disk.

And as to truth and appreciation: We wish to comment on Claudia's venture with John and Alysia. Your paper is truly grand, fills a real need in the community along with such professional layout as to give pause to our gift of having you at CONTACT and certainly our hope and expectation of again, some day, having ability to offer you to come back again.

Claudia and John always had a way to find a need and fill it and do an excellent job in the process. They now have, for quite a while, published the HILLTOP SHOPPER.

To you who knew Claudia, John and Alysia you might wish to know we remember: E-mail shopper@sierratel.com. Or: 112 East "F" St. Suite D, Tehachapi, CA 93561.

It is a full-color publication and Alysia is the Graphic designer. Hensons are owners-publishers.

I want to acknowledge one short notation by Claudia in this last issue where she addresses the "Enron Bankruptcy". Note that Enron is a "Bush baby" and they also own and operate a big wind farm (energy production) in Tehachapi; they bought out Zond. Claudia reports that in response to her question regarding results having an impact on Tehachapi, it is reported that the "industry is there to stay". Well, the natural resource (wind) is certainly there to stay, but how about Enron?

Claudia is the longstanding "community hostess" and "new neighbor" greeter and yes indeed, we wish them well. We lived through Alysia's growing up, getting married and now with a toddler and it seems so long ago and far away. Well, the "moving finger writes and moves on..." and therefore, I guess, so do we!

I was once told by a good friend that "you can't go back" but sometimes it helps to remember some of the wondrous things that bless our journey.

Thank you, Margie, for sharing the paper with us. It makes the difference in miles seem ever so much less. And as we hold on to our dreams and visions it makes success assured.

What really makes our bigger dreams and visions a coalition of success is the very life-giving and constant support from YOU. I can't name you here because of the obvious impact and hits when we do that in error and next you are made infamous on the Watcher/Bellringer network. It is nice, however, to note that our enemies never miss a word. Ah, how good it would be if everyone paid such attention!

We are also appreciative that some of you certainly read Spectrum and keep tabs on all their little Websites. I'm sorry we can't get around to responding to everything. Ron K. calls these "round tuits" and thank GOD that we are all busy enough to not be able to get to all the tuits in a given day. It is much like a diet, however, as it gives us something to look forward to, maybe, tomorrow. I long for the day when we can have the luxury of simply telling the world how wonderful you really ARE!

To you giving that extra input to Diane in this time of misery (some I do not even know), we are so grateful.

And, at this very moment E.J. is on his way to THE important meeting of this day and I am left with 1360.8 grams of peanut M&M's to eat before he gets back. Thank you, Berends, for giving me such a challenge.

Just a clue to the "other": One of the "visitors" also claims to be a signatory on at least four "packages" of Gold-ABL stashed in Argentina. Then comes also a second-in-line "secretary" of Finance-Budget. The "ability" to use those assets, even if they have been stolen by the IBC, would alleviate the financial-economic woes of both Argentina AND the Philippines. In addition, it points out the fact that there is NO connection to whatever it is V.K. Durham sends forth in false information. I think it is time we all "cried a little for Argentina"!

Furthermore, Charles and Rick spread the word that our plan "would not work"! Well, perhaps not, but I am proud to know E.J. Ekker and serve with him. He and Cmdr. have had to walk this Filipino path alone with only my tapping on a keyboard being a prisoner in a hotel room all these years. Will this work? As it unfolds, yes—if the players are bearing truth in what they proclaim. In addition, it is important here as just today new rumors of coups and government overthrow strike the papers and news. If the people aren't quite truthful, it really doesn't matter in the long run because there can be a lien slapped on those packages and SOMEBODY, like the bankers/IMF, is going to have to answer for the thefts.

We find things work well when we stop trying to outthink God and just do our job and keep kissing toads. Even the remaining Marcos family can recover some of their losses. Perhaps it is too perfect to run smoothly—but God never promised us "smooth". With that gold in place, nations do not have to fight with the IMF—just pay them off. That will give the IMF so much more to use to kill off other nations—until other nations WAKE UP. Wouldn't it be wondrous if the U.S. would wake up and revert to the OLD WAYS of righteousness and honor—suggesting, of course, that there ever WAS such a thing in any government ever known to the U.S. The Native Americans will assure you there was never such honor among the thieves who stole THEIR lands. Ah but, God is even providing through this PLAN a way to recover the very sovereignty of the Native Americans.

Friends, we feel REALLY good about the prospects for 2002 if we just can keep plugging steadily along through this rough going.

What happens to our enemies? I believe Cmdr. when he says there are no enemies—just "others". They can prosper the same as all of us—earn it. None should prosper from the parasitizing of others. We CAN prosper through mutual support systems of balanced contribution.

We do not even WORSHIP any being's feet—not even God's. GOD tells us to stand tall, get up off our knees and get to work and in that HE WILL WALK WITH US AND NOT "FOR" US. I happen to know, though, that he has done far more than HIS share of CARRYING us when the hearts were too heavy to push or pull.

We are never told the "when" of anything but the heart swells when the senses show you that a "thing" is "RIGHT", and we learn to build on that recognition. Do we need interim projects? Oh indeed yes, but now for a different reason: We need to see that GOLD so that it can be recognized as intended: a foundation upon which to build and measure currencies and economies against value instead of empty hot-air at outrageous interest costs.

Can you actually realize that with gold IN PLACE, there needs not even be income taxes or interest rates of any kind? There can be charges for attending the job of accounting but there becomes no need for robbing the people.

Is this TOO outrageous? No, it is exactly that which GOD would present; no less. And, until it can come in right sequence and security we WILL be patient, for we simply cannot see far enough but "just enough". God please grant us ENOUGH—patience to keep us going. Also may HE grant us enough that we can make it through but enough lack to keep us working. Please grant us, as well, enough strength and ability to stay "able", but let us appreciate the age attained that it be reflected in WISDOM gained from the journey, long or short in our perception.

And to those who went on beyond before us: Thank you, for we feel your presence and support and in that recognition the going is ever so much the easier, for we have learned to LISTEN that we might hear your presence as well.

So, do we believe in such as UFOs? Well of course. In fact, I can't identify much of anything flying around in the air and yet I can see it there. So, do I believe in extraterrestrials? No, I KNOW they exist, for that which is not attached in form to terrestrial expression is "extra". Proof? GOD IS AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL BY ANY DEFINITION AND NO MATTER WHAT WE CALL IT, IT IS WITH US EACH.

It is a privilege to be able to experience a "life" in manifest form but to assume there to be nothing more is somewhat foolish, so my approach is that he who denies must PROVE TO ME THAT THERE IS NOT OTHERWISE. GOD HAS NOTHING TO PROVE TO US MORTALS—BUT I DO THINK IT TIME WE PROVED SOMETHING WORTHY TO HIM/HER/IT! And if God be but our better/higher selves, perhaps it is a long time past due that we prove some worth to God and brethren.

Do I feel myself "worthy" of this job? Yes, but ONLY because God obviously felt that we together could do it, and friends, the last thing we want is our label distracting from its focus. We dream of privacy and experiencing the wonders of this World in safety and security. We do not care what our enemies say as long as God and friends say "well done", for only "they" can KNOW "well done".

I feel remiss in taking time to write on our own behalf, but this is our connection. I know that the important information waits as we learn such as in the World Trade Center debacle it is now KNOWN that the South Tower was burning BEFORE the jet hit it. Some claim it was but reflection of the North Tower—but the evidence in pictures at the scene show otherwise.

Additionally, fewer than 500 bodies have been positively identified out of the lower numbers of estimated dead and that out of a potential of over 50,000 workers in those buildings? Something is grossly WRONG—where are the bodies? And NO, bodies do not vaporize. We also find now that many businesses had "just" moved out of the building and others were WARNED in advance to NOT BE THERE ON THE 11TH. ALSO, WITNESSES NOW TESTIFY THAT THERE WERE MULTIPLE EXPLOSIONS AS THE BUILDING CAME DOWN WITHOUT DEVIATING TO EITHER RIGHT OR LEFT BUT ON DEAD CENTER—BOTH TOWERS. How long will we be people of the Lie? As long as we believe the liars!

FOLLOW THE MONEY!

In doing so you will find that New York, the capital of the Khazarian Empire, is making out like the bandits they are. Gov. Pataki is asking for over $54 billion for "terrorist aid" from YOU-THE-PEOPLE—and got a nice free trip to Israel with his buddies to hug the King. They all "bobbed" to the gods at the Wailing Wall and looked as silly as they were while laughing all the way to the bank.

Well, they have certainly buried (after crucifying) the child in Palestine. GOD HAVE MERCY ON US ALL!

Where were you when Armageddon actually began? Oh indeed, I slipped: on Sept. 11, 2001? I can only say that I, along with millions of others, witnessed Satan as represented to us in the smoke that day—above the holocaust. I'm sure I also saw the Phoenix rise as well. All the lies in the universe will not change a whit of the truth of it. And NO, God asks for no more martyrs—only us who will do our jobs. We don't even have to bring perfection, for HE is well prepared to perfect our efforts.

I will close this before I am fired by those bored to death. I will ask E.J. to give us a guess where we ARE on a scale of 1-10. Every really important meeting stops with about a 15 in hope, promises and at least 10 in expectations while still being "1" on doing—other than a need for another document on "how to..." which means the rest of the day and night for E.J.

I have to believe it to be so that "absence makes the hearts grow fonder"—we so miss everyone and realize the worst price paid is in missing the grandbabies grow and actually get married and now we will be great-grandparents in the Spring—SOMEHOW, WITHOUT US OR ASKING OUR PERMISSION.

Our son did the unthinkable—he complained about "his" age! Now where does that leave the parents? I am encouraged, however, by the fact that we can all remember that our problem can be "Alzheimer's" even if we can't spell it—but can't remember anything else. Is there something wrong with this picture? Oh well, go take some of that, I forget, "stuff" and try to remember why you wanted to remember in the first place. After all, "sanity" is all simply in the mind.

Love to you each and please pray for long enough lives to share all this with all the laughter in store and all talk at once.—E-E

As I am sitting here, we just received Two-X's daily sharing. One page holds a memoir of John Wayne of which we could have lived another day without the REMINDER.

The other page covers "The World's Largest Solar Power Plant" to be built in Greece (Crete). The European Union will fund 55 percent of the $17.75 million for the first phase of the proposed 50-megawatt station. Seems like perhaps WE SHOULD DO THE REST! (??) THERE IS A WHOLE BIG WORLD OUT THERE—JUST WAITING!

CRUCIFIXION OF THE PHOENIX

PHOENIX JOURNAL #12 (1990)

CHAPTER 3

REC #1 HATONN

WED., JAN. 3, 1990 7:30 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 140

Hatonn present in Light. We shall simply have to take that which needs response first and then move on to the Journal as we find time. There will soon come a point, however, when we shall have to move our thrust from mass information into the arena of responding in “mass manner”. For these early questions and denouncements I shall leave it up to GG (or whomever forwards me the questionnaires) to do with the response that which they will. You are going to find that I have less and less patience with the transgressors of truth and shall not, in all instances, be very kind.

The same ones who lecture night and day regarding things such as MJ-12 and other “cover-up” operations and bellow loud and long about “How could they?” come right back with innocent eyes and say “Now, this is truth”—and “We caught them this time.” Oh, you precious little blind children—Satan is the most clever ruler of all—in your “uncovering” you are getting EXACTLY that which it is desired you have! Further, you who go forth in newly-found “knowledge” and “indignation” play right into the hands of evil.

NO, I DID NOT SAY YOU ARE EVIL—NOR THE ONES FROM WHOM YOU GET YOUR INFORMATION—I AM TELLING YOU THE SOURCES OF INFORMATION ARE EVIL! YOU ARE THE DUPES.

There is a struggle going on for the very capturing of soul energy and it is on a level of being that is so far beyond your conscious imagination as to be incredible unto you. You ones touch on truth and in the next breath and statement show that you know not that of which you speak. You back up my truth at the same breath that you denounce me. Again I shall have to take the correspondence sentence by sentence and give it back unto the source so that you can look at it. I do this for G&D-G, because the writer has already pronounced his position.

Just as “A sprinkling of conspiracy facts and then a generalization about a cosmic code and abandonment plan for the planet is suspicious communications. So also is the partial and misleading use of my previous correspondence.” I had no desire to use “your” correspondence in any manner other than to respond to the receivers thereof. Neither can you take these Journals totally out of context and form opinions. That is what is wrong with the entire circumstance—human takes bits and pieces, assembles them in emotional response and pronounces conclusions—which in almost ALL instances are incorrect. Then, having made foolish conclusions publicly, cannot set aside ego to hear truth—and dear one, that is exactly where you sit—in the misinformation hot-seat, wherein you become a wondrous tool for misinformation and distraction. Further, somehow getting some opinion into print, the ego goes off wham-bam and suddenly the lie appears as truth and you become an “expert authority” when it is but your ignorance you pronounce. As a matter of fact I go most easy on you in this particular instance because of other ones involved and THEY deserve gentle response, for their desire for truth is great indeed.

As we move through this series of thought patterns I ask that all who have participation in this communion really see and hear both sides most carefully indeed. For as an interrogator, I can be most simple and blunt—you wish to play games and this is far too serious a matter to simply play little stage games.

I will quote as I go along:

(TD): “Dear G: Some further thoughts for our correspondence.”

No, there is no further “thinking” involved—there is simply another barrage of misinformation to dissuade these beautiful persons from their work. You, T.D., spout more insipid “junk” pronounced by others to make whatever point you perceive you are making—the point, other than to discredit “The Pleiadean friends” is the only point I could find in the document.

(TD): “If anyone thinks abductions of whole families and especially women of all ages who are sexually mature, by the Reticulians and their Masters, has been primarily a scare tactic, they should talk to the psychologists, psychiatrists, and physicians who have regressed and examined these unfortunates.”

Please look at your own words. “primarily” is a good one to begin with. What do you mean—“should talk to the psychologists, psychiatrists, and physicians who have regressed and examined these unfortunates”? It seems you prove my point—it certainly works, does it not? And who are these examiners and regressors? If they are hypnotists out of the AMA-approved schools of hypnosis—I primarily discount their ability to discern mental status, in most instances. Go on, you further make my case at every juncture, although I have no bone to pick with them, for that is not the thrust of this particular conversation.

Most of your information is coming forth from writers such as gynecologist, Richard Neal and “Dr.” Harry Seagal—and I have no wish to credit or discredit their work. My urge is for you ones to use your God-given brains.

TD: “It is what John Lear, ex-CIA pilot and agent, meant when he said, ‘... the Deal, the U.S. selling out on its own people’. Over 100,000 people with biological implants have been tracked down regularly for primarily a mass cross-fertilization program since 1950.” Firstly, anyone who is “ex-CIA” and walking around denouncing CIA is first suspect. The CIA is very good at what it does, friends—and ex-CIA agents are most carefully monitored for speech contents and ones pronouncing the “wrong” things are immediately (or more subtly) “taken out”. I take no exception to one, John Lear—he is just not telling anything that hurts the “cause”—he is spreading the disinformation concept the CIA, FBI and CFR and Trilaterals want you to have. THEY DO NOT MIND “LOOKING BAD”, DEAR ONES!

In the decades following the early 1950s, hundreds of experiments are reported and documented as to games your people play—in the winter of ’53/’54 several thousand animals were brought from Porton Down and tethered to rafts at sea, some miles off the Bahamas, which was then a British colony. The microbiologists watched through binoculars from upwind as clouds of bacteria were released to drift over the animals. The diseases tested were anthrax, brucellosis and tularemia.

The corpses of the infected animals were burned at sea.

Let’s get closer now: While these tests showed the relative virulence of the diseases under examination, they did not solve the central problem of how easy it would be to attack a large city or military base. Experiments with “harmful-harmless” bacteria soon after the war had shown how easy it was for germs to penetrate the interior of a sealed ship—but now attacks were needed against civilian targets. Over the next two decades there would be over 200 experiments in the United States alone in which military and civilian targets—including whole cities and under directions and full cooperation of the intelligence services—would be attacked with “imitation” biological weapons. The tests were conducted in total secrecy. If inquisitive officials asked questions they were told the Army was conducting experiments with smokescreens to protect the city from radar detection. The target of the attacks ranged from isolated rural communities to entire cities, including New York and San Francisco, to name two.

One of the earliest experiments took place in San Francisco in 1950. The Pentagon believed it might be possible for a Soviet submarine to slip into an American harbor (that is valid indeed), release a cloud of bacteria, and disappear before the victims of the attack had even begun reporting to hospitals. San Francisco, the headquarters of the Sixth Army and much of the Pacific Fleet, seemed a likely target for such an attack. Between September 20-26, 1950 the theory was tested by two U.S. Navy minesweepers steaming up and down outside the Golden Gate Bridge. On board the naval vessels crewmen released clouds of a spray contaminated with Bacillus globigii AND Serratia marcescens, two supposedly harmless bacteria. The Serratia marcescens strain, code-named ‘8 UK’ had been developed at Porton Down during the Second World War because when incubated it turned red, making it very easily identifiable when used in biological warfare experiments.

There followed six mock attacks on the city. In their report later the scientists concluded that 117 square miles of the San Francisco area had been contaminated, and that almost everyone in the city had inhaled the bacteria. “In other words”, they wrote, ‘nearly every one of the 800,000 people in San Francisco exposed to the cloud at normal breathing rate... inhaled 5000 or more particles. Any other area having a steady wind and a degree of atmospheric stability comparable to San Francisco is vulnerable to a similar type of attack, and there are many such areas in the U.S. and elsewhere.’”

The San Francisco test was only one of many. In 1951, American Navy personnel deliberately contaminated ten wooden boxes with Serratia marcescens, Bacillus globigii and Aspergillus fumigatis before they were shipped from a supply depot in Pennsylvania to the Navy base in Norfolk, Virginia. The tests were designed to establish how easily disease might be spread among the people employed to handle the boxes at the supply depot. Of the three infectious bacteria, Aspergillus fumigatis had been specifically chosen because Black workers at the base would be particularly susceptible to it.

Now what of the “harmless” aspect? The entire San Francisco area had a massive “flu outbreak” finally labelled some type of swine virus—and several deaths occurred. Everyone who got a good dose of the “stuff” got terribly ill.

Tell me, dear ones, do you truly believe that research has stopped or that techniques have not gotten even more vile? You, a population of citizens with a military defense totally unprotected with even fallout shelters, think you are not vulnerable to sneaky, secret attacks of “fear” mongering? YOU HAVE HAD FORTY YEARS TO IMPROVE YOUR SYSTEMS SINCE SERRATIA MARCESCENS WAS RELEASED INTO SAN FRANCISCO! COME NOW, TD, YOU ARE EITHER NAIVE BEYOND MY ABILITY TO BELIEVE OR YOU ARE DEADLY TO YOUR BROTHERS.

(TD): “This conspiracy has been verified by a number of government agents.” WHO? FIRST HAND?

GRAPEVINE? HORSE'S MOUTH? WHAT DO YOU MEAN CROSS-FERTILIZATION? IF YOU TAKE TWO TOTALLY ALIEN SPECIES AND CROSS THEM—YOU GET NAUGHT FOR YOUR WORK. “IF” THE REPTILIANS ARE PLAYING IN THIS GAME AND MOST OF THE RETICULIANS ARE ROBOTS—WHAT HAVE YOU TO CROSS-FERTILIZE? YOU HAD BETTER STOP DISCOUNTING PLEIADEANS AND START LOOKING FOR YOUR SATAN IN THE WOODPILE.

Funny thing, if you cross a good male jackass with a lovely mare horse—you get a mule—sterile and unable to reproduce. These, brothers, are almost the same species. Further, you totally discount any arrangements which might have been made with the “evil” of Earth.

The word “probably” is highly suspect and indicates “someone’s” opinion vs. fact. Yes, I am sure that MPs are risking their lives to tell of these things and I do most surely and sincerely appreciate their position—however, unless ones have “facts” it is still supposition and often gets distorted in the retelling.

(TD): “The abnormal pregnancies and premature end of pregnancies in two months after subsequent abductions, the most painful mechanical abortions to save the half-human, half-Reticulian fetuses, the neural implants, and the surgical scars on parents and children have all been verified by physicians!!”

I know of no extraterrestrials so uninformed or technically backward who would behave in such a manner as to “get caught later” unless fully intended that it be so!

(TD): “Your Pleiadean friends should be more forthright and honest with you about these things, which are very obvious now.”

The apparently “obvious” is the most deadly of all, my friend. GG’s Pleiadean friends are being totally forthright and honest—it is just not what YOU and the misinformers wish to hear! Now, however, you move on to worthwhile and very valid information which you should study most carefully.

(TD): “As has been forecasted for this battle with evil at this time, there will be so much negativity and misrepresentation, that it will be most difficult to discern who are uprighteous and who are manipulative. And that comes at all levels as we climb the stairway of truth and higher consciousness (wolves in sheep’s clothing).”

SO BE IT! I BELIEVE YOU STATE IT QUITE NICELY!

(TD): “A sprinkling of conspiracy facts and then a generalization about a cosmic code and abandonment plan for the planet is suspicious communications. So also is the partial and misleading use of my previous correspondence.”

I have already responded to this material but I have a question or two remaining. Why do you send correspondence and messages to me (and you did so), unless you want a response? Further, did you expect me to sit and feed you back the lies simply because you assume “THIS RECEIVER” TO BE UNINFORMED AND PLAYING THE SAME OLD GAME OF “DUPE THE PUBLIC”? THIS RECEIVER KNOWS NOTHING OF THESE THINGS—SO YOU HAVE COME TO THE HORSE’S MOUTH, FRIEND, AND FURTHER—THERE IS NOTHING BUT A LONG MORNING’S WORK FOR THESE ONES—NOT STAGE ENTERTAINMENT SEMINARS OR HEFTY FEES FOR PHONY AND MISLEADING “EXPERTISE” AND NO PERSONAL INTERPRETATIONS OF INFORMATION OR DATA—DOES THAT POSSIBLY CONCERN YOU?

ANONYMITY serves two purposes—one to pass out information for which you will not have to stand responsible. The other is for the protection of the very life-flow of a writer. Which is your status, TD? There is an old “saying” on your placement: “If you can’t stand the heat—get out of the kitchen.” A rehash of other’s opinions and interpretations is worthless. That is precisely why I give none of my scribe’s opinions and always can back up statements with facts. You give forth altered information from entertainers who glean at your expense and then wish me to feed it back to you with a pat on the back. Well, not so—a kick in the backside is more in order!

Chela, let us take a break—all of you ones are ill with “accidental flu poisoning”. I am sorry, dear ones, you are caught in the evil of the times. I will get back to this as soon as you have had respite—these are most valuable discussions indeed. Excellent opportunity to get our material forth, however, for controversy of evil with truth is excellent—for ATON does not often become faint of heart! So be it. I will stand-by. SALU, HATONN

CHAPTER 4

REC #2 HATONN

WED., JAN. 3, 1990 1:00 P.M. YEAR 3, DAY 140

Hatonn to resume correspondence and clear area. Thank you.

This next is going to hurt a lot of feelings but you are going to hear it anyway. Pay attention, please.

(TD): “Again the Pleiades is not our original home. We lost our homes in Orion, Mars, and the colonies on Earth for not regimenting the negative powers and taking up our cross more. A simple lesson that involves all who are to live in this world and universe, physical creation of duality. The battle here over the Conspiracy is seen over and over back to Roman times, Egyptian, and even Atlantian times, but they all ultimately have a cosmic connection. We came from Orion. The negative forces came from Canis Major (Osiris) with a recent base on Venus, an oddball planet that they parked in orbit in this solar system (ask any astronomer about the direction of its rotation). These most manipulative and hypnotic reptilians that even Keyhoe described in encounters, are the source of genetic play—engineering creations (monstrosities), human and animal sacrifices, and pyramids (some now underwater) that disrupt the geomagnetic lines of the Earth causing hellish warps in the space-time continuum. Semjase and her dad must know all these things to be true. The Egyptians had one melancholic monstrosity reign, a part lion, woman, raven (the Sphinx). And the Egyptians worshipped the reptile people (Jackal, Canis Major) out of fear. So also do many people (South America, Africa) still fear the evil influences of the Morning Star, Venus, so traumatic and long were their experiences.”

Without intending to be offensive—where do you get all this nonsense? I’m going to tell you a little story and you do with it what you will. You have become a total reservoir of garbage and that is exactly what is intended.

I would, if I were you, be a bit more careful in proclaiming that “we come from Orion”. The most blessed of the dark hosts in the direct service of full-intent evil come from Orion. The “goodly group” of ones who are assuming some dedicated service to the transition of this planet and peoples are from Pleiades—in this major cycle—all the way through—again and again. That does not mean that is the “only” placement other than Earth but you can count back as far as the thought form was manifested that this is true.

When there was confrontation with “Lucifer” and a major rift was evident—the old boy was ordered out of the presence of God. He and his hosts of renegades ran about wreaking havoc on every planet in the galaxy. As a fact, Earth had to be “reclaimed” in order to put the sordid group on board. The first major “starting place” of the Satanic energies were based and birthed in Orion and what you call Osiris. In heavenly realms you are laughed at if you come up with such a proud statement as “we come from Orion”. That may indeed be truth—but it surely is not that which most ones would wish to spread around.

Now, you wish to talk of the rotation of Venus? Let me assure you that at the end of this transition there will be an opposite rotation of planet Earth and the Sun will appear to rise in the West. It happens over and over again in the cycles of a planet as they change axes and magnetic poles. By the way, are these astronomers you speak of also the ones who fail to notice the rotating strobes of the spacecraft? Or, are these expert astronomers who can’t tell a ship from Mars?

If you are expecting me to discount evil on or off your planet, I shall disappoint you—perhaps before going further in your chastisement of Hatonn, you should thoroughly read all the Journals. I repeat—it is not the discarnate or incarnate ones from outer space that you should fear—it is the incarnate ones ON your planet.

I would like to cover something else herein that has needed clearing up for some time now. Just because a matter is written about or investigated by Wendell Stevens does not make it truth. Neither does it discount. Wendell is a beautiful soul and “investigates” and some of the books are not total truth, pure and simply put—nor would he claim them to be—there is always human error and, for that matter, galactic error.

As in the case of Eduard [Billy] Meier there are several cautions—and this is where you tend to get your Semjase input—along with someone on your West Coast who claims a lot of interactions with her. Eduard Meier was most typical of exactly what I wish to example. He had encounter after encounter—he would take notes and then write his journals. By the time he would write, reinterpret and translate—meaning was distorted and lost. There is an emotional bond that forms and in the telling—experiences are misjudged, i.e., I could tell Dharma that I cherish her. Out of context and with manipulation that could come back fifteen different ways—from I worship her to I have an intimate relationship with her—none true. Billy’s intent was not at all times pure and—with the help of “outsiders” it often became even less pure—that, dear ones, was not the fault of Semjase, her father or anyone else from Pleiades.

Of course there are problems in heaven—especially in the closing of a planet cycle. I don’t even care to argue for or against reptilians—I just would doubt many are running about among you chelas. Well, there are great bunches of Pleiadeans moving around among you. Further, toward the end of this journey you will find all manner of “miracles” performed by our dark brotherhood. Satan can appear as anything he chooses and you ones bite every time. Most of the things you outline in the above paragraph appear to be right out of Earth Satanic ritual. Yes, that includes the orthodox churches who do it in the name of Christ or God.

(TD): “You don’t learn about living with the Laws and balances of Nature on a planet, or controlling and disarming the negative powers in the Universe, by retreating, abandoning, or sitting back watching the massacres. You run out and protect life, the child in the middle of the street, Mother Nature which sustains us and is so tortured. I would be cautious of double standards: won’t intervene in the executions of millions of innocent people and the destroying of the life cycles, but AHO!, how thankful they will be when we risk our lives and rescue them, the Pleiadeans from the Ossirians (who the Reticulians indicated were their “most-feared enemy”).

Oh, where do you learn about living with the Laws and Balances of Nature if not on a planet? Where might you learn about the controlling and disarming the negative powers in the Universe? Where were all these people who came to your place and have broken all laws of God and Creation and destroyed a planet? Are you the God of judgment as a homeopathic physician? Well, neither is Hatonn nor Semjase. I do not write the laws. You would have us dart in, show force, hit the perceived enemy and save the day like supermen? Well, here is exactly what you would have gotten in any instance you have mentioned. Every nuclear warhead would have been shot at us and you would have been minus one lovely planet! Further, I do not believe you will ever have heard it from Hatonn that the only ones who would be evacuated would be the Pleiadians. We will, along with a Federation fleet from all over the Universe, lift off any of the Master's requested.

Dr. Doc, where were you during the massacres? What did you do to run out and protect life? What do you use in your fuel tank of your automobile? What do you write upon? What do you build your houses from? What do you drink and bathe in? Did that water come from your natural well or from someone else's pond? And who do you blame for these things? The Reptilians perhaps? Well, so be it. It is most obvious that you do not either know the cosmic laws nor abide by the Laws of Creation. What kind of wondrous sexual relationship might you have with a partner that either overpopulates a planet or is served simply for "pleasure"? Stone throwing can often get one's own house broken.

(TD): "Also no one 'pays dearly' for living the Law of Compassion, caring for others (except in a Romania)."

Of what do you speak? The Laws of Compassion for human earthman or the non-permitted intervention of space federation personnel into a planet's business? The intervention of aliens is what you have complained about during your entire document.

(TD): "You don't have to be a homeopathic physician or a nurse to think this way."

Certainly not but it would help if one knew facts about that which he projects.

(TD): "This planet is not a prison colony."

No? Have you tried to get off of it? So be it?

(TD): "The negative forces (sociopathic, manipulative and barbaric, egoistic) are found throughout the Universe (obviously)..."

Just remember, you said it—I didn't. Also found are the ideologically uninformed ones.

(TD): "... and the Pleiadeans will have to fight eventually to save their constellation (no doubt after procrastinating too long, when the negative forces can disrupt the geomagnetic lines holding planets, solar systems, and constellations intact, with the space-time technology, and lose everything. Such Taurean stubbornness is not at all commendable)."

The only true stubbornness that we project is that of patience with the uninformed, such as you.

(TD): "And again you don't save people by using America West personnel as sacrificial lambs before the Order."

My, My—what is it that truly angers you, friend? Sacrificial lambs? (sic, sic) Do you actually perceive these blessed ones to be so stupid? You do not insult a space commander in this breath—you insult beloved and brilliant energies who work long to save the necks of ones such as you. How might we be sacrificing them at any level? It would appear that if sacrifice is to be made it shall be through the garnering of abundance through the route of truth—they are publishing documents which shall bring abundance. Would you ask that they live in poverty and distress under your inept protection? You sound much like the government you denounce: "I do this for your own good because you obviously are not intelligent enough to care for yourself."

(TD): "So also bringing the truth to the world people does not require a giant fleet: real simple, you place a few craft in orbit around the Earth and transmit the truth of the World Conspiracy and show its deeds, killing fields, and financial manipulation, first hand, continuously on every AM, FM, and television station (even when the sets are not plugged into the wallsocket nor turned on)."

You mean something like Panama—just boom it in there! Act just like the very government you despise and terrify the people right out of their minds, start a third (and last) world war with scalar beams and nuclear missiles? Is that truly a well thought-out solution? I am most happy indeed, for your brethren, that you are not in command of this fleet. Further—no it does not require a fleet of ships to get the word out—only a few daring PEOPLE OF HUMAN-KIND WHO DARE TO TELL THE TRUTH WITHOUT THE MONSTER-BOOGIE MAN ROUTINE. TRUTH IS A MOST SIMPLE CONCEPT INDEED. AND YOU SUGGEST WE JUST TAKE THE MASSES AND CRAM IT DOWN THEIR THROATS JUST LIKE THE COMMUNISTS IN ROMANIA HAVE BEEN DOING RIGHT ALONG—GET YOUR WISHES STRAIGHT—DO WE USE COMPASSION OR DO WE USE THE GOD-GIVEN FREE WILL CHOICE THE CREATOR GAVE UNTO YOU HAPLESS ONES? IT IS YOUR GROWTH AT STAKE—NOT OURS! IT IS NOT "OUR" PROJECT—IT IS YOURS! IT IS NOT SPACE MAN'S PLANET IN PERIL—IT IS YOURS!

(TD): "In thirty days it would be all but over for the Conspiracy, 200 million people would be in the streets, for one, in the U.S., wanting Bush, Reagan, Kissinger, Rockefeller, and all those American industrial elitists and MJ-12 appointees who are involved (Rothschilds, Sardo). And then we could set down to the task of restoring the life cycles and removing the poisons from the oceans, ground, and atmosphere—a matter of fact task with Pleiadean or Orionian technology."

Dear ones, it would be all over in less than 30 days—try 30 minutes! And, you don't have any bomb shelters! There are a lot of citizens who don't even know the truth much less want to rush out there and believe some "space aliens" that "you ones" have said are out to enslave you, cross-breed reptilian monsters, breathe genocide upon you and come directly from evil. And, oh yes—in addition you want the Orionian or Pleiadean technology to take care of the problem for you. Well, it isn't as simple as even having everyone just eager to have us—you are at least 5½ BILLIONS of humans in overpopulation—what do you suggest we do about that? God and The Laws of Creation set the methods and the commandments and mankind did not see fit to follow them—now you want some of God's other people to come forth and make it all OK for you? Not likely! Where were all of you when the "Cartel" started THE PLAN for world control into action—over a hundred years ago? Ones came and told you what was happening and you all just played your games, satisfied your lust and gluttony, fed off the high prosperity and now you would like us to just beam a few messages, gather up and annihilate the perpetrators and whoosh them away—or did you wish to murder them as in Romania? The Romanian's have done exactly that which was expected—they got rid of a government that was acting in independence against the Moscow elite and they have let the "people" replace the unwanted mavericks with ones hand chosen to play right along with THE PLAN—get your money in aid and flush you faster down the drain. No, dear one, it is not so simple, is it?

Your American Government can do all the things you mentioned that would be so impressive to the masses—they also have immediate firing of all missiles' power—AND THEY DO HAVE A PLACE TO GO FOR SAFETY!

(TD): "G---, are you being discerning and careful with your contacts, and not leaning towards a resting place? Did you confront on each point of my letter? One ploy is to warn against something and then do it (abstract hemisphere manipulation)."

Well, yes, he did all that and you have just this minute showed us a prime example of just how it works in action!

(TD): "... so—'we should not hop on any craft that lands.'"

You had better believe it. That one is "right-on" and that is why it is past time for you ones to be discerning which ones are valid and which ones are really very bad for you. You have as many observers in your spaces as you do participants—the transition of a planet cycle is most interesting. Further, a large number of "aliens" have no emotional responses or ties to you in any manner—they will not coerce you, nor harm you nor force you—but if you run hop on the ship, it is considered free-will and you might just really get a dandy ride. If you do not know how to command and demand identification and clearance—I suggest you ask G!

(TD): "To pick at spelling and not focus on the heartfelt meaning out of consideration for the welfare of five billion lives, seems overly intellectual and spiritually questionable."

Please refer back to my prior response. I pick at no one's spelling nor English—mine is a Universal language and I err constantly in projection. I did not "pick" at spelling—I simply considered that my spelling of planets was from a chart—in English—and I wished to make sure we spoke of the same defined point. I sincerely apologize if I have left a feeling of insult, for I truly had no such meaning.

(TD): "Now tell us, what are the demands of those taken from the Earth in this exodus? What happens to those who feel life in the Pleiades is not fair? (Please, no more Romanias, Chinas, Guatemalas, Black South Africas.) Why does this continue to sound like the Ascendant Masters where members repeat I AM affirmations until they are half clinical?"

Precious ones, oh dear, how you miss it. You do not have to go to Pleiades. That is between you and your belief system. If you are of the lighted brotherhood (which it appears that you are most definitely), you will not bump into a group of chanting affirmationists. You have obviously not been exposed to my writings. We will force you to go nowhere—force is not of God—however, there will be no evil intent brought into the higher realms—if intent is evil, it will remain right into and through the cleansing. The old planet must be tended, cleansed and healed—it is off balance and it will shift and change. Evil always seems to return where there is fertile soil—where there is humankind. How long before there are more Romanias, Chinas, Guatemalas, etc., is up to man. Experience is filled with cycles—it can be no other way and ultimately you cycle back unto the oneness of Creator/Creation.

(TD): "G---, I see a lot of evasiveness on the part of the Pleiadeans. They evade issues: their leaving Atlantis, their (our) losing to the Osirians (Venusians), we came from Orion, the Elders from Orion built the colonies on Mars and the Earth (we almost lost our mother ship on Venus), they are not living for some unique reason by the moral, social code of their Elders (Mars, Atlan, etc.), the Law of Compassion, serving His Creation. And the next best question is, Why Not? I'll wager that Semjase, her dad, and company could not look one of their Elders in the eyes. Shameful, and setting themselves up to lose everything."

LITTLE ONES—I AM THEIR ELDER. IF I HAVE BEEN EVASIVE, THEN I HAVE NONE ELSE TO OFFER. YOU ACCUSE ME OF UNTRUTH AND YET YOU HAVE EXAMPLED TO ME ONE UNTRUTH FOLLOWING ANOTHER! YOU ARE FRUSTRATED AND DREADFULLY LONELY AND HELPLESS IN FEELING—OH YES, DEAR FRIEND, I AM FILLED WITH COMPASSION, FOR YOU ONES ARE THE VERY PEOPLE OF THE LIE—THE HEAD-ON TARGETS OF THE LIE ITSELF. MY COMPASSION IS OVERFLOWING WITH YOUR SINCERE INTENT AND POWERLESS VULNERABILITY. FRIEND—YOU HAVE FINALLY WALKED INTO TRUTH AND I INVITE YOU TO STAY A WHILE AND EXPERIENCE WITH US.

Please, allow me the joy of being gentle and loving, for I have brought you painful insight and my heart gathers you up in love—for your heart is so filled with truth and caring for those things of life around you that you are at bursting.

(TD): "The Laws of the Universe (no matter what the Pleiadeans say) are such that if we don't learn to live with the life cycles of the planets with their life pyramids of insect, bird, and animal horticulturists, live by the Law of Compassion and serve and protect His Creation (including animal life), fellow man and Mother Nature which sustains us, the highest profession, we will be tested similarly over and over on other planets until we get it right. It is called learning the hard way, repeating the traumatic situation until we act properly. And always losing our home, losing the battles, revolutions, wars, with the negative powers, and never having peace for too long, the true history of this Universe.”

AHO! YOU HAVE SAID IT ALL. YOU HAVE NO QUARREL WITH ME—YOU QUOTE ME IN YOUR HEART TRUTH. WE ARE THE ONES SENT FORTH TO SHARE AND ASSIST. WE ARE THE ONES SENT TO BRING UNTO YOU TRUTH OUT OF LIES AND CHAOS AND TO BRING YOU HOME, FOR YOU ARE ALSO THE ELDERS WHO HAVE RETURNED AND YOU WEARY OF THE JOURNEY—FOR IT HAS BEEN LONG AND FILLED WITH TRAPS AND THE PATH HOME IS MOST OFTEN BLOCKED. HOW DID YOU EXPECT WE WOULD COME? DID YOU THINK WE WOULD COME FORTH ON AN ENTERTAINMENT STAGE DOING MAGIC TRICKS AND TELLING WONDROUSLY DECEIVING STORIES? NAY, WE CAME TO BRING YOU HOME AND THE WAYSHOWER RIDES ABOARD OUR CRAFT. SO BE IT AND BLESSINGS OF PEACE UNTO YOU.

(TD): “G——, I didn’t write to you about the Pleiadeans. I wrote to you about you and D——. There are others here besides the Pleiadeans from 11,400 years ago. Even the original Elders have reincarnated for this final battle (yes, taking up your cross, either here or in the Pleiades). And the physician in me knows that we can not allow too many planets to die (Mars) without the whole body being adversely effected, just as the ocean is the bloodstream that we are poisoning, of the living planet.”

I feel your pain and I do not jest nor feign compassion. Oh, but were this beauteous placement filled with such as you—what glory. But, dear ones, you are going to experience the glory—you must have the ashes before the Phoenix can birth and then the radiance shall be wondrous; do not despair in your waiting. We are sent to show the way and unless you HEAR AND SEE the situation which faces you, you cannot do anything to set it to right. What we bring seems dastardly and filled with doom—we speak of life—I mean REAL LIFE! Rebirthing of balance and harmony—a ridding of the evil which destroys to the very core of beingness. We bring not new news—it was ever projected—you have simply returned to share the work of the transition and set it to right. I plead with you not to turn away just as you have found the golden ring.

(TD): “Finally I wish you to know, humbly, that I have questioned myself, out of consideration for the continued meetings with Pleiadean contacts and their sad message and forecast for the Earth. I would like to talk to you about all these aforementioned issues, and more. If you ever wish to talk heart to heart about anything and everything that matters, I’ll take some risks for the Cause. But it is very important that you use safe phones (not home or office), safe mailing addresses, as it is very lame not to think that the Order is not monitoring your offices and homes (everything is at stake for them and us, i.e., Billy Meier, Wendelle Stevens threats)!!! Again those beautiful and courageous people I mentioned, listed, are very dear and special for the very same reason—they tried to protect us, and they were killed for it. I feel they are real heros for role-modeling.”

Before you judge further, may I ask you to read all the documents—you will find that we are most truly of one mind and one intent. I have no right to speak ill of any. Even the testors do of their jobs but I beg of you to not refuse truth through neglect, to be open enough to look within. False ones are about your place like flies to a dead carcass. You who have the greatest task to fulfill are the hardest impacted in order to turn you aside. You, friend, will find no peace if you turn away—for already, the pain is too heavy a burden. It is wise to question—it is also wise to HEAR the response! So be it.

Please do not rush to judge my harshness and bluntness as insult nor unkind—I must make honest response and cause you ones to look closely indeed, at that which you say and project, for it is my purpose to cause you to see truth. You do not wish a Commander of mealymouthered insidious lies—you are going into the finest battle of your life-streams and the time is at hand to come together and find your brothers and co-workers. AND YOU MUST RECOGNIZE OF YOUR ENEMY, FOR HE WILL BETRAY YOU AT EVERY TURN. I SALUTE YOU FOR SHARING IN THE BEHALF OF MILLIONS WHO EITHER DO NOT CARE ENOUGH TO ASK OR HAVE ALREADY PASSED THE ABILITY TO CONSIDER IN BALANCE. IT IS A SEARCHING HEART THAT WILL TAKE THE TIME TO SEND SUCH A THOUGHTFUL LETTER. I HOPE THAT YOU WILL SHARE THIS RESPONSE—FOR AS I SAY, THERE ARE MILLIONS WAITING.

Chela, it has been long but most important that this message be given. This very Journal upon which we now work will give thee ones such lessons about your past. But we are limited and our hours are so long and there are no holidays nor respites but we shall do it—we SHALL do it! Man hungers for Truth and Light and there is such sad misery upon your placement—God be with you, for the Father/Mother will not leave you wanting. In the ending it shall come to be as written on the tablets of the Universe and you shall come home again. You ones have come for the tending and healing and birthing—and dying, for you cannot have one without the other. No Phoenix without the ashes—it must be finished before there can be a beginning.

Thank you for allowing me to respond and thank you for your kind attention. Righteous anger against the pervading evil is alright, brothers—ye are alive. You must never like the things of evil but ye must not judge of the being, for it is not for thee to do. You must always look within and remind yourself that but for the Father’s Grace, there go you! That does not mean by any measure that you be not discerning and judge evil from Godness. If actions break of the Laws of God and The Creation, they are WRONG and all the “voting it otherwise” makes not a whit of difference.

Go now, chela, for I have kept you long this day. We shall not work later, for I wish you to rest this night—there is great effort coming forth to stop this correspondence. Do not concern, we have it in control. I like to share these messages with our evil watchers as it makes them most uneasy indeed.

I shall be in the close watching. I put them on notice to remove the frequency or we shall.

SALU, SALU, SALU. HATONN TO CLEAR, PLEASE, GOOD EVENING.

CHAPTER 5

REC #1 HATONN

THU., JAN. 4, 1990 8:00 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 141

And him who shall continue to bear false witness against mine Hosts shall be stricken down. The perpetrators of lies against mine ones shall be brought unto the justice of my realms. Do not fear, chela, for thy work is well done and the lies shall be stricken from the word and the word made whole. He who comes into truth shall be also made whole. So be it and walk gently, beloved ones, for our work is only just begun.—I AM SANANDA

* * *

Hatonn present.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Being informed that one, William Cooper, has threatened not only lawsuits regarding certain information contained in SPACE-GATE: THE VEIL REMOVED, claiming it to be his exclusive information; and, having also threatened verbally to the publisher thereof, to “Shut down those people, that this ‘Channeling’ is bullshit and I am going to put a stop to it.” The publisher informed me that Mr. Cooper was so furious he was, in his estimation, irrational. My publisher suggested he write a letter whereby he became even more angry—refused and abruptly terminated the conversation.

I hereby consider this an open and public threat against the very life of my receiver/scribe. I must further ask that none of you who know the location of my scribe, divulge such information to this person. Oberli, there are several phone calls you should make regarding this—Gabriel, and contacts in Sedona with exception of original contacts (Rick should make a call to that sector). This is most serious indeed, and it is time ALL stop thinking this is a silly game of chase the spacemen and understand the level of seriousness. It is not use of information—it will be a deliberate effort to get rid of the scribe. Now, perhaps you all can understand the magnitude of the truth in these documents. I shall personally tweak ears of anyone who sells this information to these evil parties. DOES EVERYONE HEAR ME? THIS IS NOT A GAME—AND IT IS FAR PAST TIME THAT YOU ONES UNDERSTAND THE CRISIS AND KEEP THY MOUTHS SHUT!

(Editors’s Note: Rick telephoned Sister Thedra’s Gatehouse and spoke with Ted Burluni who reiterated his promise to continue to keep the identity and location of the scribe confidential. In early February Mr. Burluni released, “sold” may be a better word, this information to one, Ed DeMar who immediately broadcast it to Turner Network, California UFO magazine, etc., etc. This matter will receive more attention later in this work.)

G.G. sent, by fax, a document at 2:45 P.M. yesterday describing Mr. Cooper’s phone call in brevity. The above is not written but I am hereby making it public. I also request that the scribe enter it into this record for reference: “2:45 P.M. G.G.—Jan 3, 1990.

“I was just contacted by Bill Cooper demanding the address and phone number of the author who plagiarized his works. He was told that the author’s number and address was unavailable and that we would like to be able to settle the matter. He said if we had asked first, he would have gladly given the author permission to use the material; however, he wants to stop the utilizing of his material and is going to try to get an attorney to handle the matter, suggesting us to stop or whatever... Interesting time. Any type of direction you want taken?”

Now, I, Hatonn, shall make quite a few comments for the record: I recently asked that information be sent to Mr. Cooper regarding his material, stating that it was a compilation of good research (others’) but all conclusions are incorrect. Further, I pointed out that certain references were totally fabricated, i.e., all information regarding an entity referred to as Krlll. I further suggested that the creator of the Krlll story contact the publisher and confirm my statements—this has been done. The information was sent, as requested, to Mr. Cooper asking that he consider correcting the story to his public and we would be most happy to share “truth” with him. Oberli, if that document was omitted from the JOURNAL please now make sure it is inserted. We are not playing games here. The lies against space command are going to be countered henceforth. (Editor’s Note: The document referred to is a letter to the publisher from a well-known UFO investigator disclosing that the KRLLL matter was his own “invention” to see who was “borrowing” his material.)

You of the public are set up in an all-out plan to bring terror to the masses regarding our presence. As a matter of fact, any documents which have been made public from “MJ-12, Secret and Top Secret and Above Top Secret” have been carefully set forth—researchers and honorable authors have presented the material as best they could but the truth is left out of the documents and the lies inserted to mislead the public in a massive manner.

I can well assure you that NONE of any of your Earth writings would have been used if the public were ready for the real truth of it. This does not mean, by any means, that the authors are not necessarily acting in good faith in most instances and having a bit of fun in others, it does mean that the cover-up at high levels is so incredible that you ones would consider it pure fantasy of an insane mind and would be unable to accept the truth. Mr. Cooper's work was the very last information to even be referred to.

The book was established and underway. Ones were getting pre-information sent for safekeeping and without request nor knowledge, a document was sent to my scribe with request (and return postage) to have it returned. This scribe or anyone in her association of persons, did not recognize the name William Cooper and had no knowledge of his writings or lectures, etc. This was a totally unknown entity to these ones.

DID I KNOW? OF COURSE! BUT I DO NOT HAVE NEED OF PRINTED DOCUMENTS—I HAVE EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD SCANNERS RIGHT FROM THE BIGGEST COMPUTER IN THE UNIVERSE. FURTHER, ALL INFORMATION FROM THIS COMPUTER IS INTERCEPTED SIGNAL BY SIGNAL INTO SURVEILLANCE (CIA AND MILITARY) DATA SYSTEMS AS WE WRITE. THAT ALONE, HAS KEPT MY SCRIBE ALIVE. FURTHER, THREE ATTEMPTS AGAINST HER LIFE HAVE BEEN MADE TO SUCH EXTENT AS TO CAUSE CARDIAC ARREST CAUSING US TO FIND IT NECESSARY TO RESUSCITATE. I HOPE YOU FIND THESE FACTS SOBERING INDEED!

THE GREATEST HELP YOU CAN BE IS TO GET THIS INFORMATION AND THESE JOURNALS SPREAD TO THE FOUR CORNERS OF YOUR PLANET—QUICKLY, QUICKLY, QUICKLY. THE MOST UNFORTUNATE PART OF THE SCHEME IS THAT MR. COOPER DOES NOT EVEN REALIZE HE IS A HORRENDOUS TOOL. YOU SEE, HE COULD NOT UNDERSTAND, FOR UNLESS HIS WORK IS TOTAL FABRICATION AND FANTASY—HE DOES NOT CONTROL “TRUTH”—HOW CAN YOU SUE FOR UTILIZING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS SUCH AS THE BIBLE AND PUBLIC INSTRUMENTS MADE PUBLIC THROUGH THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT? I HAD NO NEED TO ASK MR. COOPER'S PERMISSION TO UTILIZE ANYTHING, FOR I AM HERE TO CONTRADICT HIS INFORMATION AND THAT, FRIENDS, IS WHAT HAS HIM FURIOUS.

Now, chela, I will dictate some things to you which are a direct quote from information Mr. Cooper is expounding: [QUOTING:]

The conclusions are inescapable.

1. The secret power structure believes that, because of our own ignorance or by Divine decree, planet Earth will self-destruct sometime in the near future. These men sincerely believe that they are doing the right thing in their attempt to save the human race. It is terribly ironic that they have been forced to take as their partner an Alien race which is itself engaged in a monumental struggle for survival. Many moral and legal compromises have been made in this joint effort. These compromises were made in error and must be corrected and those responsible should be made to account for their actions. I can understand the fear and urgency that must have been instrumental in the decision not to tell the public. Obviously I disagree with this decision. Throughout history small but powerful groups of men have consistently felt that they alone were capable of deciding the fates of millions and throughout history they have been wrong. This great Nation owes its very existence to the Principles of Freedom and Democracy. I believe with all my heart that the United States of America cannot and will not succeed in any effort that ignores those Principles. Full disclosure to the public should be made and we should proceed to save the human race together.

2. We are being manipulated by a joint human/alien power structure which will result in the partial enslavement of the human race. We must use any and every means available to prevent this from happening.

3. The government has been totally deceived and we are being manipulated by an alien power which will result in the total enslavement and/or destruction of the human race. We must use any and every means available to prevent this from happening.

4. Something else is happening which is beyond our ability to understand at this time. We must force disclosure of all the facts, discover the truth and act upon the truth.

In any case we MUST force disclosure of the truth or no matter what happens we will surely deserve it. The situation in which we find ourselves is due to our own actions or inactions over the last 44 years. It is our own fault and we are the only ones who can change it. Through ignorance or misplaced trust we as a people have abdicated our role as the “watchdog” of our government. Our government was founded “of the people, for the people, by the people”. There was no mention or intent to ever abdicate our role and place our total trust in a handful of men who meet secretly and decide our fate for us. In fact the structure of our government was designed to prevent that from ever happening. If we had done our jobs as citizens this could never have happened. Most of us are completely ignorant as to even the most basic functions of our government. We have truly become a nation of sheep. Sheep are always eventually led to slaughter. It is time to stand up in the manner of our forefathers and walk like men. I remind you all, that the Jews of Europe marched obediently to the ovens, after having been warned, believing all the while that the facts could not possibly be true. When the outside world was told of the holocaust occurring in Hitler's Europe it was not believed. I state here and now that Hitler was manipulated by these same aliens.

I have brought you the truth as I know it. I do not care what you think of me. I have done my duty and no matter what fate lies in store for me, I can truly meet my maker with a clear conscience. I believe first in God. The same God that my ancestors believed in. I believe in Jesus Christ and that he is my Savior. I believe second in the Constitution of the United States of America, as it was written and meant to work. I have given my oath to protect and defend the Constitution of the United States of America against all enemies foreign and DOMESTIC. I intend to fulfil that oath. Thank you, Milton William Cooper [END OF QUOTING]

I suggest that the only reason Mr. Cooper is alive and well to go about his seminar circuit and place false documents into the public is that they are grossly false. Knowingly or unknowingly, he is espousing exactly that which the Evil forces are thrusting upon an innocent civilization.

YOU ARE NOT IN DANGER FROM ANY LITTLE GREY MEN FROM OUTER SPACE—YOUR DANGER IS RIGHT AT YOUR NOSE; BETWEEN THINE EYES!

Further, this is a sad example indeed, of how evil utilizes the very core of religious belief of a people by placing a facade of “Christian” truth to shroud and deceive. Do the actions of this man reflect the lie I just quoted—“to inform the people”—nay, he is now efforting at stopping the truth from reaching you in any manner he can conjure.

Please, ask God for protection of these ones who dare to bring the truth unto you, for they walk in constant jeopardy. Guard them well, for unless you can have truth, you have nothing as a civilization. I can only again urge all of you to spread these Journals far and wide, for it is only through truth that ye shall prevail and survive this massive intent to annihilate you.

I believe that all you really have to do to get your balance is carefully look at all the details involved in the Panama “invasion”. The killing of hundreds to revenge the insulting of a military wife? PLEASE, I BEG OF YOU—DO NOT BE SO INNOCENTLY GULLIBLE—IT IS YOUR VERY EXISTENCE AT STAKE!

THE PLAN 2000 is in final countdown and the Phoenix is calling—pleading that you might hear! So be it.

I FURTHER ASK THAT YOU ASK FOR PROTECTION FOR MR. COOPER, FOR HE ACTS IN IGNORANCE AND HE IS NOW IN GREAT DANGER FROM THOSE WHO SET

HIM UP—AND IT WAS NOT WE OF THE OUTER REALMS; IT WAS THE CLIQUE WITHIN THE PLAN FOR WORLD CONTROL. SATAN DESTROYS THOSE HE USES AFTER THEIR USE IS SERVED AND IT IS MOST SAD INDEED. ISRAEL SHOWS UNITED STATES
HOW NOT TO FIGHT TERRORISM

By Charley Reese, The OrlandoSentinel.com, 12/10/01

Israel prides itself on its fight against terrorism—or at least what it calls terrorism—but in fact, it provides the world with a perfect example of how to do it the wrong way.

This was brought home by the assassination of a Cabinet member, the minister of tourism, who was shot down outside his hotel room in East Jerusalem. The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine claimed credit. Why? Because a few months ago, the Israelis had assassinated the leader of that organization. Get it? Tit for tat. You kill, we kill, we all kill.

Israel has recently assassinated more than two dozen Palestinian political leaders. These murders are not characteristic of a democratic government, much less one that shares American values. The people who share the values of our American forefathers are the Palestinians. The Israelis share the values of the old racist British Empire. But have all of these political murders by the Israelis ended the Palestinian uprising? No.

Israel has been assassinating Palestinian leaders for nearly 50 years. Has it stopped terrorism? No. Israel has been engaging in bloody reprisal attacks, killing many innocents. Has that stopped terrorism? No.

Israelis have been arresting people by the thousands during the past 30 years. Has that stopped terrorism? No. Israel tortures, confiscates people's land, demolishes their homes, bulldozes their olive orchards, places them under curfew, seals them inside their towns. Has that stopped terrorism? No.

One thing Israel hasn't done is honestly address the issues that cause these attacks. Remember, anybody Israel decides to kill is automatically a "terrorist". Israelis are as promiscuous in their use of "terrorist" as the Israeli lobby is in its use of "anti-Semite".

But as to the question of withdrawing from the territory it captured in 1967, Israel has one answer: "No." As to the question of letting refugees return or be compensated for the property the Israeli government stole from them, Israel has had one answer: "No." As for letting UN peacekeepers protect the Palestinians from Israeli violence, the answer is "No." As for obeying more than 60 UN resolutions directing Israel to comply with international law, the answer is "No."

So, will there ever be peace in Palestine? No. The Israelis can continue to murder, imprison, isolate, torture, impoverish, brutalize and harass the Palestinians for the next 50 years, and for the next 50 years Palestinians, generation after generation, will resist the occupation of their land by any means they can.

So, every time an Israeli shows up purporting to be an expert on terrorism, we ought to laugh the person right back home. The Israelis are pretty good terrorists themselves, but as anti-terrorists, they are a bunch of goofs. The only thing America can learn from Israel is how to manufacture a continuing supply of embittered enemies decade after decade.

Neither Israel nor the United States, nor any other government, can ever rationalize an injustice by killing the people who protest the injustice. People will endure a lot, but not an injustice. It's like white phosphorous burning a man's soul.

The best thing for the American people to do is to end all aid to Israel and withdraw the protection of the U.S. veto. If Israel is indeed a viable state, then it can survive without American taxpayers contributing nearly a tenth of its gross domestic product.

[JR: It is reasonable, it is logical and it makes for a lot of sense to challenge Israel for what she stands for... a terrorist against peace. Now we have to get our PAC-MEN in Congress to move on it.]

U.S. BUILD-UP IN THE MIDDLE EAST

By Peter Green in Prague and Michael Smith,
Telegraph—UK, 12/20/01

More than 20,000 American troops have been moved into Qatar and Kuwait amid repeated suggestions that Washington is preparing to move the war on terrorism into Iraq, defence sources said yesterday.

The United States moved the headquarters of its 3rd Army to Qatar two weeks ago and defence analysts have reported large numbers of troops being moved into the region since.

The 3rd Army is the ground component of the U.S. Central Command, which oversees America's military operations in the Middle East and Afghanistan and was in charge of coalition forces during the Gulf War.

The Pentagon has insisted that it is merely rotating troops but defence analysts say that about 24,000 troops have been moved in with barely a brigade, around 4,000, moving out.

The Czech Republic inadvertently confirmed yesterday the military build-up in the region by suggesting that up to 400 troops it has committed to the U.S.-led war on terrorism might be sent to Kuwait.

Miroslav Titz, the deputy chairman of the Czech parliament's defence and security committee, said an anti-chemical warfare unit and a field hospital could be deployed at an American military base in the Gulf state.

"A joint contingent is being considered," he said. "It might be deployed at a U.S. base in Kuwait where it would have logistics support." Czech chemical defence units and a field hospital were based in Kuwait during the Gulf War.

The deployment of so many troops may be designed to intimidate Saddam Hussein. American officials admitted that a State Department team, led by Ryan Crocker, the deputy assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern Affairs, was surreptitiously sent into northern Iraq recently to meet Kurdish leaders.

The visit was intended to make Baghdad jittery and to encourage the Kurdish leaders to unite to provide opposition to Saddam. President Bush and his top advisers are said to have decided against launching an attack on Iraq and favour encouraging opposition forces to overthrow Saddam from within.

Colin Powell, the U.S. secretary of state, is devising a long-term plan aimed at forcing Iraq to readmit United Nations weapons inspectors and co-operate with a set of economic sanctions. Officials say if the Iraqi leader refuses they do not rule out using military force.

[JR: Another confirmation of the U.S.'s intent to extend the war into Iraq. The Pentagon misspeaks (lies) when it says they are rotating 4,000 troops and yet they are adding 20,000 more. The U.S. reminds me of the Mongol hordes that overran Europe. Now it's the hordes from the U.S. that are overrunning the Middle East and Central Asia... all of whom are Muslim countries. It worked for the Khazars centuries ago. It is an old plan for the New World Order.]

CAIRO—Arab foreign ministers criticized the United States at the end of an emergency meeting on Thursday for bias toward Israel and slammed Israeli Prime Ariel Sharon for cutting ties with the Palestinian leadership.

The Arab League meeting, which Palestinians requested after an upsurge in Middle East violence, also gave its backing to Palestinian President Yasser Arafat in confronting Israeli policies.

Delegates had said earlier that the Cairo meeting, which ran late into the evening, was bogged down because Syria questioned whether ministers should offer their full backing to Arafat after he called on Palestinians to end armed attacks on Israel.

"The (end of meeting) statement could have been stronger or weaker than this, but what we have achieved is consensus," Arab League Secretary-General Amr Moussa told a news conference.

The Arab League's statement criticized the United States, including its decision to veto a UN Security Council resolution, sponsored by Egypt and Tunisia, that called for a "monitoring mechanism" to ease conditions in the West Bank and Gaza.

The statement urged the United States to "review its bias toward extremist Israeli policies, made clear in its use of the veto in the Security Council to benefit Israel... which would itself encourage Israel to continue its aggressive policy."

The United States has said Israel has the right to defend itself against attack, following a wave of Palestinian suicide bombings. Palestinians have said Israel has interpreted this as a green light to launch attacks on them.

The Arab League responded to Sharon's decision to cut ties with Arafat by saying: "Arab states did not see in the Sharon government a credible party fit to participate in the peace process."

The ministers "expressed their support for President Arafat... in confronting these Israeli policies and practices."

Arafat, who has come under intense U.S. and Israeli pressure to rein in militants, called on Sunday for an end to suicide bombings and armed attacks on Israelis.

He has outlawed the military wings of the Islamic militant group Hamas and other groups, and arrested dozens of militants.

Asked about reports of Syria's differences during the meeting, Moussa said: "Syria would have liked to see certain different formulations, as all of us would have liked too. But the final formulations of all the paragraphs were adopted unanimously."

Syria, lacking a peace treaty with Israel, hosts several Palestinian factions opposed to Arafat's 1993 peace accords with the Jewish state.

High-level Arab gatherings, held regularly since a Palestinian uprising against Israeli occupation erupted in September 2000, have often had to water down final statements to accommodate all 22 members of the Arab League, including Egypt and Jordan which have peace treaties with Israel.

The Arab League also pledged to continue financial support for the Palestinian Authority budget until another meeting due to be held in Beirut, probably in March.

The Authority depends heavily on a $45 million monthly contribution from Arab states, which meets most of its $55 million monthly bill for civil service salaries. The contribution was due to come to end this month.

[JR: If Arafat is not recognized as a leader for the PLA, then Sharon isn't a credible leader for Israel. Neither "leader" has been able to move the peace process forward or to end the violence. Israel wants to discredit Arafat and in doing so will cause dissension among the PLA leadership. Israel's "Final Solution" to the Palestinian problem is to push the Palestinians out of Israel once and for all. Peace would be a realization if the U.S. would just keep out of it.]

POLL BLAMES U.S. POLICY FOR SEPT. 11 ATTACK

By William Neikirk, Washington Bureau, 12/20/01

WASHINGTON—Opinion leaders from around the world believe that America's own policies caused the Sept. 11 attacks and are pleased that the U.S. now feels a sense of vulnerability, according to a survey released Wednesday.

The survey of 275 political, media, cultural, business and government leaders from 24 countries also found little support outside the U.S. for extending the fighting in Afghanistan to Iraq and Somalia, even if it is proved these countries have backed terrorism.

The American policies the respondents blamed the attacks on weren't identified in the survey, which was conducted by the Pew Research Center and The International Herald Tribune for a project on global attitudes headed by former Secretary of State Madeleine Albright.

But 58 percent of the foreign leaders said U.S. policies were responsible for the attacks, while only 18 percent of the U.S. opinion leaders interviewed held that view.

Albright said many of the responses in the survey reflected a long-standing "love-hate" attitude toward the United States but added that other countries think that "we no longer can be above the turbulence" that they have suffered.

The survey said 70 percent of those interviewed in other countries believed it was good that the U.S. now feels vulnerable after the attacks. Albright said she wasn't surprised by this finding, adding, "It's a very high price to pay for consciousness."

Only 29 percent of non-U.S. respondents said the U.S. should next attack Iraq and Somalia, which Albright and Andrew Kohut, director of the Pew Center, said indicates that the U.S. would have a difficult time building a coalition for such a policy.

But Albright said the failure to build a coalition should not be the decisive factor in whether the U.S. decides to expand the war on terrorism to these two countries.

While the survey indicated a generally favorable view of the U.S. by opinion leaders, it also showed that America is disliked mostly because of its power in the world and because of perceptions that U.S. policies have contributed to a growing gap between the rich and poor.

Albright cited resentment over the rich-poor gap as a "major red flag" that should cause a reassessment of American assistance to the rest of the world. "There is a sense that we are the richest country in the world and we don't share," she said.

To her, it indicated that the U.S. will be judged not only on winning the war in Afghanistan but also in the role it plays in reconstruction of that country.

The former secretary of state said the U.S. should expand economic assistance out of a sense of national security. Americans can't make the rest of the world love them, she said, but "you don't want to live in a neighborhood where everybody hates you."

She said that calling such assistance "foreign aid" doesn't bring much support: "It's like selling leprosy." Instead, foreign aid should be repackaged as a national security budget, she said.

Kohut said the findings were reliable insofar as they reflected the opinions of leaders in the 24 countries, which included those from all major regions of the world, including the Mideast.

The survey indicated the leaders believed there is little backing in their countries for Osama bin Laden and his terrorist group. In general, they support the U.S. war on terrorism.

Also, 52 percent saw little or no slowing of the pace of globalization from the attacks, while 73 percent said globalization was a minor cause in terrorism. It showed that the popularity of American consumer products, music and movies is high.

[JR: If this world opinion poll is pleased that America feels vulnerable, they ought to feel great concern for those we target and who will pay dearly for that "vulnerability". Somalia, as of 12/21/01 is off the hook as they have agreed to cooperate with the U.S. As far as our attitude on Iraq, the U.S. is still eager to settle old scores. The authenticity of the Pew Research Center survey is suspect because the project is headed by the former fearsome and formidable Sec. of State Madeleine Albright. This study will most certainly be used to alter world opinion and attitudes and to build a consensus that agrees with the goals of the U.S. The issue is not, as Madeleine says, about the rich-poor gap or about us not sharing our wealth. It's all about us taking and ruining and running everything for our own selfish gains.]

INDIA GOVERNMENT CONSIDERING WAR

FOX News, 12/19/01

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India is considering declaring war on Pakistan in response to last week's attack on its Parliament, the country's prime minister said Wednesday.

Atal Bihari Vajpayee is also considering diplomacy as means of dealing with its rival neighbor, whose militants he blames for the suicide raid.

Vajpayee told India's Parliament that Pakistani officials know there are forces within Pakistan that are taking part in terrorism in India. He repeated India's demand that it crack down on them.

"We are trying to address this diplomatically, but other options are also open, too," Vajpayee said during a debate over Thursday's assault on the legislative compound that left 13 people dead, including the attackers.

India says all five attackers were Pakistanis and that the neighboring country's intelligence service sponsored the attack. Pakistan has denied the charge.

Home Minister Lal K. Advani said India's government was consulting with the army and political parties to determine how to respond.

"A well thought-out action does not mean it will not be tough," Advani said. "This is not a fight between Hindus and Muslims. It is a fight between a civilized world and noncivilized, barbaric people."

"If such attacks continue there cannot be peace between India and Pakistan," he added, as Parliament adjourned until next year.

Both nuclear-armed nations' armies are reported to be on alert.

Meanwhile, the Indian army said it engaged in heavy firing on Pakistani border outposts and bunkers Wednesday and both sides were exchanging gunfire on the Jammu-Kashmir frontier. An Indian army spokesman said soldiers had fired across the border on Tuesday night to retaliate against Pakistani firing, which was allegedly aimed at covering for Islamic militant infiltrators.

Pakistan says it supports the cause of the militants—to separate Kashmir from India—but denies it gives them material aid. Border firing is common, with each side accusing the other of starting it.

Since their division into separate nations after British independence in 1947, Islamic Pakistan and Hindu-majority India have fought three wars, two of them over their competing claims to the Himalayan region of mostly Muslim Kashmir.

In response to a U.S. call for restraint from both sides as Washington seeks their help in the global war on terrorism, Vajpayee said, "We have reached the pinnacle of restraint."

When President Bush telephoned to express condolences after the Parliament attack, Vajpayee said, "I told him that the terrorists were linked to Pakistan, were under the control of Pakistan and working at the behest of Pakistan."

On Tuesday, White House press secretary Ari Fleischer said India had a legitimate right to self-defense, but that the attack on its legislature "is not a reason for India or Pakistan to take action against each other."

India has demanded that Pakistan halt all activities by two Islamic militant groups, Lashkar-e-Tayyaba and Jaish-e-Mohammed, arrest their leaders and freeze their assets. New Delhi said the two groups, with the support of Pakistan's intelligence service, planned and carried out the assault on Parliament.

"The question is not whether there should be a war or not," Vajpayee said. "The question to be debated is in what circumstances there could be a war."

Pakistan has accused India of blaming it for the suicide assault as a way of avoiding talks over the disputed Kashmir region which has bedeviled relations between the South Asian neighbors for five decades.

Pakistani officials have said they would participate in an impartial investigation, but would take no action without proof. Vajpayee called the demand for a joint investigation "ridiculous".

"What proof do we need?" Vajpayee said. "The bullet marks on the Parliament walls, the bodies of the terrorists, who were Pakistani nationals, this is the proof by itself."

Vajpayee has said all parties would be consulted about what action to take in response to the attack.

"When we have to decide about war or peace, we have to be patient," he said. "We have to have all options and their pros and cons weighed before coming to any conclusion."

[JR: India and Pakistan have long been at each other since 1947. Why has there been no positive movement to bring about reconciliation between these two adversaries? Both of these countries have nuclear capabilities and who helped them to develop it? The UN was supposedly created to be a forum that would allow all countries to meet and settle their differences without resorting to war. During the fifty-plus years since WWII ended and the UN was established, we have had more wars than we can count. Why is that? Why does the UN allow conditions to escalate into hostile confrontations before it acts or sends in "Peacekeepers"? Is there a hidden agenda here? The plan then must be to allow the chaos and the wars to continue in order to bring all countries under their One World Government. Wars are a means to an end to those who instigate them and profit from them. Here is a clue for the flag-wavers the world over... you don't see the Elite rulers or their children dodging the bombs or the bullets and living in rubble. Why should you?]

ARGENTINA LOOKS FOR LEADERSHIP
AFTER BLOODY REVOLT

By Stephen Brown, Reuters/Bridge, 12/21/01

BUENOS AIRES—Argentina began to plan a new government Friday after bloody riots over austerity measures claimed 25 lives and toppled its president, who will be replaced by a transition leader until new elections in a few months' time.

With the shattered capital still fearful of looting that continued only sporadically overnight after four hot summer nights of violence, Congress began emergency sessions Friday to appoint a caretaker leader for the frightened country.

A state of siege, lifted earlier Friday, will be reinstated in some provinces. Congress rubber-stamped Fernando de la Rúa's resignation and then postponed until Saturday the selection of an interim leader who will arrange elections and try to save the economy from a four-year recession and the double threat of currency collapse and the biggest debt default ever.

Meanwhile the constitution makes Senate chief Ramon Puerta the president for what he said would be "only 48 hours". He is from the opposition Peronist Party, which dominates Congress and refused to save De la Rúa's skin when asked to form a unity government on Thursday.

It could select Puerta or another from its ranks as interim president until elections, which most politicians expect to be held in two to three months. "The options are to name someone to complete the mandate (until 2003, when the next presidential elections were due) or hold elections to vote for president," said Puerta.

Whoever leads the country of 36 million people next will face the mammoth task of making the streets safe from gangs of looters and restoring order to an economy brought to a total standstill.

De la Rúa, in his last use of executive powers on Friday, lifted a state of siege which was decreed in the heat of rioting, but Puerta said later it would be reinstated in provinces that requested it. Many shops were still shut or were guarded against looters by armed guards.

Of the 25 dead, 18 were looters shot by shopkeepers defending their goods, five died in rioting in the historic Plaza de Mayo outside the palace on Thursday and two were a Korean couple who committed suicide after their shop was ransacked. Two banks and a burger outlet were set ablaze.

"There will be no Christmas in Argentina this year," said 26-year-old Natalia Ferretti at the Centro supermarket off Plaza de Mayo, where angry, frustrated storeowner Orlando Nouveliere calculated his losses from looting at $20,000. "This is people against people and I don't have that much because our leaders steal everything," he said.

The hungry slum-dwellers who looted, and the middle-class people and merchants who erupted into peaceful protest against De la Rúa on Thursday by banging pots and pans and pouring into streets and squares, shared anger at economic mismanagement.

Latin America's No.3 economy, star of emerging markets in the 1990s, has been gutted by a four-year recession that has pushed it to the brink of default on its $132 billion debt and by the collapse of its decade-old currency peg to the dollar.

De la Rúa and his former Economy Minister Domingo Cavallo, who also quit on Thursday, put the population on a crash diet of pay and pension cuts to keep up debt payments and this month imposed draconian limits on cash withdrawals that dried up any economic activity and enraged savers and merchants alike.

Argentines rushed to protect their savings. Lining up at ATMs to take out the $1,500 they are allowed to withdraw this month, anyone with savings bought dollars for fear of a devaluation that could drive many to bankruptcy in a country where wages are in pesos but debts are in dollars.

Others sought security in stocks or property. "I want to take out my bonus. They deposited it on Monday and I already changed it into dollars. I don't want it changed back into pesos," said Ina, 28, an immigrant from Bulgaria, at a bank where a nervous line of clients grew by the minute.

The Central Bank declared a partial banking holiday on Friday and the Buenos Aires Stock Exchange was closed. "Whoever follows De la Rúa has been handed a poisoned cup, because what comes now will be worse," said Christopher Ecclestone, a strategist for Buenos Aires Trust brokerage.

In Rosario, a decaying industrial city ransacked by riots, Mayor Hermes Binner pleaded for quick action "to break this recession and depression. The system needs cash and the unemployed need help. De la Rúa didn't listen to us." Catholic priest Jorge Casaretto, head of the church charity Caritas that feeds many of the 18.3 percent of Argentines out of work, in a country where a third of the population are poor, said it was time for politicians to "study their conscience to think about what it means to serve the people."

Every day 2,000 people drop below the poverty line in a country that was one of the wealthiest nations in the early 20th century, with a once-powerful middle class, but is now paying the price of decades of corruption and mismanagement.

With De la Rúa forced to flee by helicopter from the roof as violent protests besieged his palace on Thursday, the hitherto ruling center-left Alliance, already dominated by the Peronists in Congress, was beating a hasty retreat.

Popping back to the empty palace on Friday before lifting the state of siege that was later partially reinstated, De la Rúa lashed out at the Peronists for "precipitating events" by snubbing his power-sharing plea.

The Peronists, who ruled under the flamboyant Carlos Menem from 1989-99, had hoped for an easy ride back to power in 2003 thanks to De la Rúa's political and economic headaches. But they are now likely to have to provide a transition leader at the very least.

The party was built on populist trade union roots by Juan and Eva Peron in the 1940s, but was turned by Menem into a pragmatic, market-friendly party in the 1990s. Besides Menem, his reputation tarnished by graft and arms trafficking scandals, serving and former Peronist provincial governors like Carlos Ruckauf, Eduardo Duhalde and Jose Manuel de la Sota are strong contenders.

"There is broad consensus Puerta will lead the transition and the majority favors direct elections in three months," said Peronist deputy Carlos Soria.

Argentina's giant neighbor Brazil offered "unlimited support" for the new leaders. President Fernando Henrique Cardoso offered to talk on its behalf "with President Bush, the International Monetary Fund and whoever else."

The United States and Britain urged Argentina to use democratic means to resolve its crisis, while fears that its inevitable collapse could cause global contagion have faded, according to the IMF which has been its main source of aid.

Many local businessmen favor ditching the one-to-one peso peg to the dollar, which makes exports expensive, but lauded Cavallo's attempts to end decades of deficit spending.

[JR: We cry for you, Argentina! The truth is that your Presidente and your government have left you... and have sold you out and your country. When you protest, the government sends out the military to bring order and drag you off to jail. The Elite vultures are already circling to pick up what is left of your assets and take over your country. It is you the people who are left to deal with the chaos and the misery they have created for you. Your ex-government officials have been paid well to hand you over to the IMF, WB and IBC banksters. They will not share in your misfortune and that is sad, for they never do.]

BUSH RIPS UP 'OBSOLETE' MISSILE TREATY

By Rupert Cornwell, The Independent—UK, 12/14/01

Is this another case of America riding roughshod over the world?

For President George Bush, the Cold War was finally being laid to rest. For those of less sanguine disposition, the moment marked the birth of a new and more unpredictable nuclear age. For others, it merely confirmed the go-it-alone mentality of an unchallenged superpower on the loose.

No one could dispute that history was being made, as the United States served formal notice yesterday that it was pulling out of the Anti Ballistic Missile treaty with Russia, clearing the way for the development of its own missile defence system but rekindling fears that unilateralism is once again the guiding star of American foreign policy.

The heavily trailed but none the less fateful announcement, which some critics say will unleash a new nuclear arms race, was made by President Bush, flanked by Colin Powell, the Secretary of State, Donald Rumsfeld, the Secretary of Defence, and the rest of his national security team, at a solemn appearance in the rose garden of the White House.

The President said: "I cannot and will not allow the United States to remain in a treaty that prevents us from developing effective defences against future terrorist and rogue state missile attacks. The Cold War is long gone and today we leave behind one of its last vestiges." Mr. Bush insisted that the decision would have no impact on ties with Russia.

Even President Vladimir Putin, he said, had accepted that the move would not undermine a relationship revitalised since the 11 September attacks, nor damage Russia's own security. The White House spokesman, Ari Fleischer, moreover claimed later that "many countries" backed the U.S. move.

The ABM treaty, signed by presidents Nixon and Brezhnev in 1972 at the height of superpower détente, forbade the former Soviet Union and the U.S. from developing systems to shoot down incoming missiles. It enshrined the Cold War doctrine of Mutual Assured Destruction, or MAD, ensuring that each superpower had the capacity to deliver a devastating retaliatory strike to a nuclear attack by its rival.

But its future has been in jeopardy ever since the U.S. began seriously to consider building a missile defence shield, and the uncertainty was one reason the Clinton administration reined back development of the scheme. Another reason was that missile defence simply does not offer a 100 per cent, ironclad guarantee that it will work.

Throughout his campaign for the White House, Mr. Bush said the 1972 pact was obsolete, and urged a swift go-ahead for the scheme, whose first stage will be completed by 2005. The next step is to be taken next spring when silos and a command centre will be built near Fairbanks, Alaska. Ground clearing work has already begun at the site. Radar tracking stations in Greenland and at Fylingdales, Yorkshire, will have to be upgraded.

Although yesterday's announcement was long expected, America's friends and foes may be inclined to see the step as further evidence that Washington's embrace of multilateralism, when it searched for—and won—wide international support immediately after the terror attacks, is over.

Increasingly, the question is being asked: Is the administration, emboldened by military success in Afghanistan, reverting to the bad old days before 11 September? Then it was the dismissal of the Kyoto treaty on global warming, the refusal to attend the anti-racism summit in Durban, and unalloyed scorn for the new International Criminal Court (ICC). Now the U.S. is again riding roughshod over international deals it does not like, and talking of sending its hi-tech posses after Iraq and other countries with whom it has scores to settle.

Only last week (and after a massive domestic anthrax scare to boot) the American delegation in effect rejected proposals to strengthen the 1972 Biological Warfare Convention at a conference in Geneva—a stance which stunned many of its European allies.

Almost simultaneously, the Senate passed the "American Servicemembers' Protection Act". This measure, described by Human Rights Watch as "a slap in the face to America's allies in Europe", authorises the President to use "all means" to free any American who might be arraigned before the ICC, whose jurisdiction Washington vows it will never accept.

Even Britain, Washington's most trusting ally and which is likely to give a green light for the work at Fylingdales, is warning of a possible parting of the ways on Afghan policy, as Washington focuses on the military destruction of al-Qaida while the top priority of its allies is the stabilisation and rebuilding of Afghanistan.

As they explained Mr. Bush's decision on the ABM treaty, administration officials pointed yesterday to the warm personal relationship between the Russian and U.S. leaders, to be sealed by Mr. Bush's first visit to Moscow next year, and to the agreement in principle by both countries to slash their existing stockpile of warheads from around 6,500 to 2,000 or less.

But it is unclear whether Russia will be quite as unconcerned by the abandonment of the ABM pact as Mr. Bush expects. The Kremlin has always regarded the treaty as a cornerstone of arms control.

Indeed, while a U.S. missile shield—at least in the foreseeable future—will not reduce the effectiveness of Russia's still massive strategic deterrent, experts fear that it could prompt other established nuclear powers, notably China, to increase their arsenals.

Beijing also is concerned that the shield will be extended to protect Taiwan.

Experts also worry that this first ever withdrawal by the U.S. from a major nuclear arms treaty could encourage other countries to abandon arms pacts, and weaken efforts to prevent the proliferation of nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction.

The toughest obstacles however lie barely a mile from the White House, on Capitol Hill where influential Democrats are signalling their strong opposition. Leading the way is Joe Biden, chairman of the influential Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who says that quitting the treaty could lead to a new arms race.

Yesterday's decision comes after the failure of elaborate attempts by the U.S., culminating in November's down-home summit between the two presidents at Mr. Bush's ranch at Crawford, Texas, to persuade the Russians either to turn a blind eye to missile defence shield tests, or to acquiesce in a modification of the treaty.

But Mr. Putin, who already has to contend with critics in his own domestic coalition that he is already over-sympathetic to American concerns, would not be budged. At that point Mr. Bush decided to go ahead with what he has long threatened.

[JR: The U.S., like our Siamese-twin Israel chooses when and if they will cooperate or agree on issues such as the International Court of Justice, Kyoto Protocol, ABM Treaty, bio-warfare and ending the hostile actions in Afghanistan. When will the world catch on that they are being scammed and used by the U.S. and its manager, Israel? We will act unilaterally when there is a need to project our superpower image, and to remind the world that we are in charge. The world has allowed the U.S. and Israel to dictate, intimidate and bully them to comply with our demands. Whenever you let the bully on the block threaten you, expect him to keep on doing it until you stand up to him. President Bush's trashing of the 1972 ABM Treaty with Russia could trigger an arms race and we might not be ahead of the lethal game with our Missile Defense System. Will Russia have the advantage over us with their Cosmopheres and its expertise in putting the space station together. President Putin, like Russia is an enigma and it would do well for us not to try and second-guess him. Putin knows how to play chess ... Bush has yet to learn to play checkers.]

BUSH INVOKES EXECUTIVE PRIVILEGE TO BLOCK DOCUMENTS

By John Solomon, Salon.com, 12/13/01

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Bush invoked executive privilege for the first time Thursday to keep Congress from seeing documents of prosecutors' decision-making in cases ranging from a decades-old Boston murder to the Clinton-era fund-raising probe.

The administration informed a House committee of the decision prior to a congressional hearing on the Boston case involving the FBI's handling of informants.

In a memo to Attorney General John Ashcroft, the president explained his decision.

"It is my decision that you should not release these documents or otherwise make them available to the committee," Bush wrote in the memo obtained by AP. "I have decided to assert executive privilege with respect to the documents."

Bush wrote that the "disclosure to Congress of confidential advice to the attorney general regarding the appointment of a special counsel and confidential recommendations to Department of Justice officials regarding whether to bring criminal charges would inhibit the candor necessary to the effectiveness of the deliberative process by which the department makes prosecutorial decisions."

Rep. Dan Burton of Indiana, the Republican House chairman whose committee sought the documents, decried the decision and said it wrongly handicapped Congress for overseeing the government.

"This is not a monarchy," Burton said at the start of Thursday's hearing. "The legislative branch has oversight responsibility to make sure there is no corruption in the executive branch."

Burton said for the time being he would hold additional investigative hearings into whether Bush was misusing executive privilege. Another option would be for Burton to take the president to court for contempt of Congress for refusing to turn over the documents, but that would require the cooperation of the full Congress. The House is controlled by Republicans and the Senate by Democrats.

The decision immediately affects a subpoena from the House Government Reform Committee for documents related to the FBI's handling of mob informants in Boston dating to the 1960s.

More importantly, it sets a new policy in the works for months in which the administration will resist lawmakers' requests to view prosecutorial decision-making documents that have been routinely turned over to Congress in years past.

"I believe congressional access to these documents would be contrary to the national interest," Bush wrote in his memo to Ashcroft.

Executive privilege is a doctrine recognized by the courts that ensures presidents can get candid advice in private without fear of its becoming public.

The privilege, however, is best known for the unsuccessful attempts by former Presidents Nixon and Clinton to keep evidence secret during impeachment investigations.

White House counsel Alberto Gonzales recommended Bush invoke the privilege earlier this fall.

While invoking the privilege, Bush instructed Ashcroft to have the Justice Department "remain willing to work informally with the committee to provide such information as it can, consistent with these instructions and without violating the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers."

Burton's committee for months has been seeking Justice Department memos about prosecutors' decisions in cases involving the handling of mob informants in Boston, Democratic fund raising, a former Clinton White House official and a former federal drug enforcement agent.

The committee subpoenaed Ashcroft, demanding those documents in the fall and scheduled a hearing Thursday to examine the Boston case.

That case stems from revelations that Joseph Salvati of Boston spent 30 years in prison for a murder he did not commit even though the FBI had evidence of his innocence. Salvati was freed in January after a judge concluded that FBI agents hid testimony that would have cleared Salvati because they wanted to protect an informant.

Several such memos were shared with Congress during both Republican and Democratic administrations. Most recently, in the 1990s, such documents were turned over to the Whitewater, fund-raising, pardons and impeachment investigations by lawmakers.

But the concept of extending executive privilege to Justice Department decisions isn't new. During the Reagan years, the privilege was cited as the reason the department did not tell Congress about some memos in a high-profile environmental case.

And Clinton's attorney general, Janet Reno, advised Clinton in 1999 that he could invoke the privilege to keep from disclosing documents detailing department views on 16 pardon cases.

Ashcroft no longer have to answer or be accountable to Rep. Burton or to Congress or for that matter we the people. Through Executive Orders and the War-Powers Act, the President is now the sole authority on all issues, treaties and has the power to declare war when and if HE CHOOSES! The government can now hide the lies and their unlawful actions behind national security. Congress sold this country out to the powers behind this government and now they have to fight to get it back. Congress could start by declaring the Anti-terrorist law, executive orders, War-Powers Act and the Federal Reserve (made up of private bankers) as unconstitutional and restore the balance of powers in this government. With that done we can then rid this country of the foreign powers that have overrun it.]

BUSH HALTS INQUIRY OF FBI AND STIRS UP A FIRESTORM

By Glen Johnson, Boston Globe, 12/14/01

WASHINGTON—President Bush yesterday invoked executive privilege to block a congressional subpoena exploring abuses in the Boston FBI office, prompting the chairman of a House committee to lambaste his fellow Republicans and triggering what one congressman said is the start of "a constitutional confrontation".

"You tell the president there's going to be war between the president and this committee," Dan Burton, the Indiana Republican who heads the House Government Reform Committee, told a Justice Department official during what was supposed to be a routine prehearing handshake.

"His dad was at a 90 percent approval rating and he lost, and the same thing can happen to him," Burton added, jabbing his finger and glaring at Carl Thorsen, a deputy assistant attorney general who was attempting to introduce a superior who was testifying.

"We've got a dictatorial president and a Justice Department that does not want Congress involved. ... Your guy's acting like he's king."

The searing tone continued for more than four hours from Republicans and Democrats, liberals and conservatives. All objected to the order Bush signed Wednesday and made public yesterday. It claimed executive privilege in refusing to hand over prosecutors' memos in criminal cases, including an investigation of campaign-finance abuses, saying doing so "would be contrary to the national interest."

Committee members said the order's sweeping language created a shift in presidential policy and practices dating back to the Harding administration. They complained also that it followed a pattern in which the Bush administration has limited access to presidential historical records, refused to give Congress documents about the vice president's energy task force, and unilaterally announced plans for military commissions that would try suspected terrorists in secret.

Representative William D. Delahunt, a Quincy Democrat and former district attorney, said: "This is the beginning of a constitutional confrontation. In a short period of time, this Department of Justice has manifested tendencies that were of concern to Senate members during the confirmation hearings for John Ashcroft as attorney general."

The Government Reform Committee is investigating the FBI's use of confidential informants while the bureau investigated New England organized crime activities.

The committee seeks information on deals FBI officials struck with suspected murderers Stephen "the Rifleman" Flemmi and James "Whitey" Bulger.

It is also exploring what FBI officials, including former director J. Edgar Hoover, knew about the innocence of Joseph Salvati of Massachusetts. Salvati spent 30 years in prison for the 1965 murder of Edward "Teddy" Deegan in Chelsea, but the Governor's Council commuted his sentence in 1997. His conviction was overturned in January after a judge concluded that FBI agents hid testimony that would have cleared Salvati because they wanted to protect an informant.

"The federal government wanted Joe Salvati to die in jail because dead men don't tell tales," said Salvati's lawyer, Victor J. Garo, at the hearing yesterday.

In buttressing the executive order, Michael E. Horowitz, chief of staff for the Justice Department's criminal division, told the committee that providing documents about prosecutorial decision-making could have a "chilling effect" on the advice that lower-level attorneys may be willing to provide to top prosecutors.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer said Ronald Reagan invoked such a privilege three times, while Bill Clinton did so on four occasions. Forms of privilege were also claimed in the Nixon administration during the Watergate investigation. Fleischer said the Justice Department has already turned over 3,500 pages to Burton's committee, although members complained that many were heavily redacted.

The Justice Department offered to provide summaries of 20 documents it believes would be covered by the subpoena.

Representative Barney Frank, a Democrat from Newton, said he and Burton, a conservative, had sometimes disagreed on the committee's inquiries into the Clinton administration. He said the chairman's strong words for his fellow Republicans showed he had not merely been partisan.

Turning to Horowitz, Frank asked why the Bush administration might cover up mistakes made in a previous administration. "I don't know what bureaucratic reflex drives people to do this," the congressman said.

JR: Thank you, Congress... we now have a dictator as President (Bush) and a king (Ashcroft) ruling over the Justice Department. Do we have a Congress that are now the lackeys and servants to these rulers? If Horowitz of the Justice Dept. can defend the withholding of documents of questionable prosecutorial decisions, what about the chilling effect it has on the victims caught in the injustice system? These questionable acts to suppress information don't seem to phase White House spokesman and spin-master Ari Fleisher who can stand there and arrogantly point out how many past presidents have used and invoked such privileges. Gee, does this make it all "lawful"? Congress opened the Pandora box when they failed to protect their powers and our rights. There better be a "Constitutional confrontation" and soon.]

ANTHRAX MATCHES ARMY SPORES

By Scott Shane, The Baltimore Sun, 12/12/01

Bioterror: Organisms made at a military laboratory in Utah are genetically identical to those mailed to members of Congress.

For nearly a decade, U.S. Army scientists at Dugway Proving Ground in Utah have made small quantities of weapons-grade anthrax that is virtually identical to the powdery spores used in the mail attacks that have killed five people, government sources say.

Until the anthrax attacks led to tighter security measures, anthrax grown at Dugway was regularly sent by Federal Express to the Army's biodefense center at Fort Detrick, in Frederick, where the bacteria were killed using gamma radiation before being returned to Dugway for experiments.

The anthrax was shipped in the form of a coarse paste, not in the far more dangerous finely milled form, according to one government official.

Most anthrax testing at Dugway, in a barren Utah desert 87 miles southwest of Salt Lake City, is done using the killed spores to reduce the chance of accidental exposure of workers there.

But some experiments require live anthrax, milled to the tiny particle size expected on a battlefield, to test both decontamination techniques and biological agent detection systems, the sources say.

Anthrax is also grown at the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases at Fort Detrick, where it is used chiefly to test the effectiveness of vaccines in animals.

But that medical program uses a wet aerosol fog of anthrax rather than the dry powder used in the attacks and at Dugway, according to interviews and medical journal articles based on the research.

The wet anthrax, while still capable of killing people, is safer for laboratory workers to handle, scientists say.

Dugway's production of weapons-grade anthrax, which has never before been publicly revealed, is apparently the first by the U.S. government since President Richard M. Nixon ordered the U.S. offensive biowarfare program closed in 1969.

Scientists familiar with the anthrax program at Dugway described it to The Sun on the condition that they not be named.

The offensive program made hundreds of kilograms of anthrax for bombs designed to kill enemy troops over hundreds of square miles.

Dugway's Life Sciences Division makes the deadly spores in far, far smaller quantities, rarely accumulating more than 10 grams at a time, according to one Army official.

Scientists estimate that the letter sent to Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle originally contained about 2 grams of anthrax, about one-sixteenth of an ounce, or the weight of a dime.

But its extraordinary concentration—in the range of 1 trillion spores per gram—meant that the letter could have contained 200 million times the average dose necessary to kill a person.

Dugway's weapons-grade anthrax has been milled to achieve a similar concentration, according to one person familiar with the program.

The concentration exceeds that of weapons anthrax produced by the old U.S. offensive program or the Soviet biowarfare program, according to Dr. Richard O. Spertzel, who worked at Detrick for 18 years and later served as a United Nations bioweapons inspector in Iraq.

No evidence linking the Dugway anthrax to the attacks has been made public, and there might well be none. Army officials say the anthrax there and at Fort Detrick has long been protected by multiple security measures. ...

Even more provocative than the genetics are the physical properties of the mailed anthrax. While some scientists disagree, many bioterrorism experts argue that the quality of the mailed anthrax is such that it could have been produced only in a weapons program or using information from such a program. ...

Iraq is known to have built a major bioweapons program that included anthrax in its potential arsenal....

Milton Leitenberg, an expert on bioweapons at the University of Maryland, said he was not aware of the Dugway anthrax production.

But he said making a few grams of weapons-grade anthrax for testing defensive equipment would not violate the international convention on biological weapons. ...

[JR: The Dugway research site in Utah develops weapons-grade anthrax to use in bombs to kill the enemy and most certainly any civilians who aren't able to get out of harm's way. Fort Detrick is a U.S. Army medical research facility that supposedly develops and tests vaccines in animals. Why is the military involved in developing vaccines for animals and not a civilian research project? Dugway and Fort Detrick are both research labs located in remote areas and have long been involved in covert research. Was the anthrax planted in government and postal facilities and in a Florida newspaper office an inside operation to get us all under the control of Big Brother? Why hasn't the government with all its "intelligence" been able to get one suspect? With the WTC and Pentagon attacks they had all the alleged suspects that were involved and the

UN WARNS U.S. AGAINST WAR EXPANSION

By Edith M. Lederer, Daily News—Yahoo, 12/19/01

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Secretary-General Kofi Annan on Wednesday warned the United States against expanding its wars on terrorism to Iraq, saying there is no evidence connecting Baghdad to the Sept. 11 attacks.

At the same time, Annan urged Iraq to allow UN weapons inspectors to return to the country, a key demand of the United States and other UN Security Council members.

"I have not seen any evidence linking Iraq to what happened on Sept. 11," Annan told a year-end news conference. "Any attempt to do that can exacerbate the situation and raise tensions in a region that is already under strain because of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict."

With the Taliban and al-Qaida forces on the run in Afghanistan, there has been heightened speculation in Washington that Iraq, which is on the U.S. list of nations sponsoring terrorism, might be the next target in the war against terrorism.

The big concern is that Saddam Hussein has anthrax and could release it in the United States, with the potential death toll running into the thousands. Some officials in Washington argue that a pre-emptive strike is the best way to deal with the possibility.

President Bush said recently that countries which develop weapons of mass destruction intended for terrorist purposes "will be held accountable". There has been other evidence of sabre-rattling, but when asked specifically about taking the U.S. campaign to Iraq, the official U.S. line has been that the unfinished business in Afghanistan must be completed before the next phase begins.

Iraq has been under UN sanctions since its 1990 invasion of Kuwait, and the sanctions cannot be lifted until UN weapons inspectors declare that its weapons of mass destruction have been dismantled. The inspectors left Baghdad in December 1998, and the Iraqi government has barred them from returning.

"I think the pressure is on them to respond to the council's request to return the inspectors," Annan said. "All their friends have encouraged them to respond and allow the inspectors to go back."

But the secretary-general said that when he met Iraq's Foreign Minister Naji Sabri during last month's ministerial meeting of the General Assembly "he repeated the Iraqi position and had nothing new to tell me."

Iraq maintains that it has already complied with UN weapons inspectors, and has demanded that sanctions be lifted immediately.

Annan said that as far as he is aware the debate about expanding the war is still going on, mainly in Washington, and "no decisions have been taken."

"I have indicated on several occasions that I think it would be unwise to attack Iraq now," he said.

[JR: Kofi Annan needs to do more than give lip service to the U.S. as to extending the war into Iraq after we complete our "unfinished business" in Afghanistan. The U.S. like Israel is sending more than broad hints as to their planned hostile actions, expecting that the rest of the world, as always, will cave in. Our excuse now is to circumvent an anthrax attack in the U.S. by Iraq. It should be noted that the current attacks in the U.S. are seemingly an inside job with no evidence that leads to Iraq. According to our VP Cheney, we have at least 40 to 50 more countries on our hit list of enemies and yet Iraq always seems to be right at the top. If we have so many enemies do we need to review and change our policies or does the rest of the world have to change for us?]
