BLAME

RE: WHEN THE WAY GETS ROUGH

OF WHAT KIND OF STUFF ARE YOU MADE?

Hatonn—CLAY? A RIB BONE?

SORRY, YOU ARE MADE IN THE IMAGE OF "LIGHTED" GOD—INCREDIBLE MIND/ENERGY FROM WHICH CREATION SPRINGS FORTH.

YOU ARE "MAN"—YOU ARE MIND WITH 100% PURE POTENTIAL SO YOU BECOME WHAT IT IS YOU CREATE.

You can perhaps contribute as in "assist" another but you cannot "create" another. You can, however, produce helpless and hapless "others" by your own actions and collective mind-manipulations. You can even "cripple" another in mind and/or body by your various actions. However, each individual without damaged physical parts (that includes the brain) will finally create him-, her-self at whatever level of intelligence or desire recognized within self.

I put this one item right up top because people go through their entire manifest physical lives often seeking to fail and then find someone ELSE to blame for that outcome. PEOPLE WILL EVEN MANUFACTURE, DEVELOP AND/OR CREATE OTHERS TO BLAME IF THEY HAVE NONE AVAILABLE—JUST IN CASE. Where do YOU fit? And no, do not ask "me" where "you" fit. LOOK AT CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH YOU FIND SELF AND YOU WILL RECOGNIZE SELF.

Bellringer claims we have nothing "Spiritual" in our presentations and yet, HERE IT IS IN ITS RAWEST FORM, CHELAS (STUDENTS) OF SPIRITUAL TRUTH. Here it is without the lies, flowers or root starter. "SELF" very definitely DOES MATTER!

How many times do you claim that if only you didn't have "strange" people with which to have to endure your experience you would be fine? No, you would not, for perhaps YOU "are" the "strange one" and just fail to notice as you get further and further out of the loop of friendships and responsible support. And yes indeed, these are the hard positions in which to find selves. Moreover, you will find in your own "weak moments" a desire to dump onto another which in turn slows everyone while you basically would claim to be dumping it on "Dad" or Father God. Ah but, what route do you take to go there to that ear? Ah yes, through a broker you have considered as part of your blame train.

"If you had gotten funding, I wouldn't be in this miserable position of getting help for this project of...!"

I have just had a lesson pronounced onto me as to perhaps liking these challenges of dealing with strange people, etc. Not a direct quote but rewritten to fit my needs here in this example. No, I do NOT enjoy such challenges. What I enjoy is having people who stand firm in direction and commitment to do a job for which there was asked-for participation, need, and stated desire to fulfill.

Next often comes the statement: "I thought I could do this job but I just simply can't." Oh? If you "thought" you could, you CAN. If you lied to self at upstart, then how can you possibly blame another for your predicament when you are no longer willing to perform your agreed-upon task? Why should someone else "fill in" the gaps you present? Is there ability to depend on you—or not? That is the question exactly as in “to be or not to be”.

If you find it difficult to work with another in your immediate mandated circle and you have a problem—do we not all have twice the problem of yourself? That is “yourself” and the “other”. Do we all crawl about on glass shards to somehow avoid or protect from one another? Is it truly GODLY to have such weaknesses in self as to present total havoc to others trying to fulfill their own purpose?

Ah, but we “have loss”? So, nobody else has loss? Sometimes it is even the SAME loss! NOTHING has changed in our (my) direction or program—what has changed in yours if you be working within our goal accomplishment? No, I sincerely do not enjoy such challenges, for they drain the entire collective creative mechanism of energy in sorting the distractions which become as numerous as the whirlwind.

There is always a bit of blackmail involved in dealing with individual ego-desires as are then presented to me for, actually, choosing sides. I CHOOSE NO SIDES.

I can example my own particular focus onto something which we might all recognize—but my realization is far greater than a feud between members of a business adventure.

I am stuck, friends, with having to accept that no man is indispensable—period. If I can change to assist in some way to offer better circumstances I will do so. If it is not suitable, then I won't do so. There are times when again you must realize it as anything from presenting food in a restaurant to running a paper to organizing and overseeing an office—you must communicate, appreciate (not hate) one another to ensure getting the job done so that the restaurant can produce the best food possible, bring in customers, stay absolutely within all laws and together we get the successful job concluded.

People come forward and claim they want to help, serve, participate or whatever might be the initial input—but do they actually truly WANT that position they choose? Some do but some don't while actually wanting to “be a boss” of some kind instead of gathering together staff and crew and becoming a working UNIT.

Friends, be careful what you say and do. If you say you “want to move on” for instance—I must consider that as a desire and that if you say it to ME, or any of the team that must work as a unit here/there together, it says you “want out”.

No one will hog-tie anyone and especially GOD will not force anyone to stay aboard a ship they hate. God is obliged, every time, to honor your choices after dumping the facts onto your hapless heads. Is this “guilt”? No, for only YOU can feel guilty about your own circumstances don't you see?

I do suggest you consider, always, very carefully what is taking place in each circumstance. As an example: To what would you be moving on? And YES, it IS important!

Are you being called to a greater purpose? A greater job? More income? Any income? or are you going to take whatever new marbles you have gleaned in any way—and run away? And how many people will you hurt or damage by your running? Or, is THAT your intent? NO, I am quite serious—look at WHY you do things and then what the consequences of those actions might be. Do you fix things or simply run away claiming some righteous excuse or another? If you say “ouch” to this or immediately think of someone else that might be getting an “ouch”—WATCH OUT!

I can promise you that simply having to work with “strange” people is NOT a very good excuse for quitting a task—for know that if you think THEM strange—guess what they think of you?

MAN CANNOT LIVE BY JOB ALONE?

Oh? I didn't realize that. Facts are: Man ONLY lives by jobs undertaken, filled and achieved. THAT is what life IS, people. A better word is EXPERIENCE.

GREAT LOSSES

We know youngsters, from infants to young adults, who suffer great losses; of parents, jobs for livelihood, have to drop out of college—or suffer it all, have to stay “in” school or whatever. They do NOT have to join the gang-bangers or delinquent crowd to find a harbor. Dull as it may seem, there ARE facilities to get help and there are groups to share interests—yea, even in the small towns. Sometimes the most enjoyable things take place in the small towns.

In Tehachapi, for the seniors, there are exceptionally good activity centers. There is even a meal program which can be joined and not only get food at reasonable cost but have the enjoyment of company. There are activity programs from line dancing, square dancing—for beginners to advanced. There are field trips, craft circles, travel programs, trips to Nevada for fun and games. Moreover, you can be as involved as YOU CHOOSE TO BE. This is where singles can really meet some suitable companions and share it all from Christmas gatherings to a reading room. Get up off your duff and GO TAKE PART. You can make the “center” as good or as bad as YOU choose. And, as a matter of fact, going to church of your choice won't rub terrible things off onto your innocent minds. You might very well find exactly what you seek in someone who shares an open mind and high ideals.

If you don't like the way the town is “run”, then change it by actions and stop the complaining and moaning. You certainly don't go about claiming some space cadets are on your shoulders. Stop it! GOD is an extraterrestrial so what is all the “cult” nonsense about? If the Catholics or Baptists or the Jewish people are not “cults”, then why think ye are of some such thing when you belong to nothing, but believe and work toward goodness and Truth? Those are the pronouncements on you from would-be-opponents. You ARE whatever you decide or choose to be. The first thing you do, however, is FIT IN and allow self to experience others and allow them to accept you. “Destitute” is not the end of our program, chelas—great ABUNDANCE is the end result of doing this program right. You don't have to forever tote that barge and lift that bale. You will be able to have what you need to accomplish that properly. You can only be as lonely as YOU CHOOSE TO BE.

The point I want to make here, each individual: Tough times don't last but tough people DO! Moreover, each needs someone to simply SHARE something, a television viewing, a movie, a supper or lunch, and simply to LISTEN. That means, however, that YOU also have to do your part as a “listener” in compassion and caring.

Mostly you want “ME” to listen and fix. Well, about that program—I NEED TO BE HEARD AND HERE IT IS! Why is it that somehow people think God or his Hosts, etc., need NOTHING? We always love the one who presents as a man who says to God that if God will give me this, especially success, that he will be grateful to his dying day. So, success comes and the man goes forth and claims to be a “self made or taught, man”. Oh? OK. The lessons often get a bit harder after that ego stance is taken.

GOING WITHIN

It is complained that I don't tell you to go within and find God and Truth. You can only find yourself within which reflects back what you have taken within. Some of you are sicker “within” than to simply start fresh, so why would I be a good teacher to follow along with the already proven failure?

You go within to clean up your attitude with SELF. Then you get all the data you can regarding an issue or focus or even a quarrel (but you have to have both or all sides). Then you go within with the plethora of information and sort it and yes, then, within, you can find a probable outcome which can than be tested as more information is acquired from more data gathered. Going within and pondering lies will produce, simply, MORE LIES. And no, I will NOT allow lies to expand to please the liars.

There is a point all of you had best consider FOR SELF. You can't “just” serve God in bits and pieces and then dump God and His Plan and run away while demanding rewards for the bits and pieces of “service”. You will be rewarded for that which you share and as with a “contractor” who fails to produce the bridge for which he was committed in the first place—where is to be the “reward”? That is worse than non-service in the first place—FOR if you had not accepted the task, another might well have completed the bridge. Complicated? Yes, but only if you are keeping score—which God does not!

What is your intent NOW? Note the question is not, “What was your intent yesterday?” or “What is your intent for tomorrow?”. Your intent for tomorrow will reflect your INTENT TODAY. Now, for the hard one: What was your actual intent yesterday if today is producing a major change of intentions? This is “good” or “bad”; the facts work either way. Better find out what caused the change and be sure if you are correct in your assumptions, or simply impatient. By the way, is saying “I'm sorry,” or “I was wrong,” worth the rest of your life's journey in the pit? And, worse, if you can't accept and move, literally, onward, that apology—then the problem is remarkably your own. Moreover how ARROGANT and DOGMATIC to classify this exchange as FORGIVENESS. It has nothing to do with forgiveness and when you people learn that MAJOR lesson in truth—you will have grown exponentially.

It is not wise to up and try to restructure another's program unless yours is overwhelmingly better some how and unless you know every detail of the program you wish to restyle after yourself. How successful have you been? And don't tell me that you were somehow too honest to participate in the hard and cruel world. Every experiencing individual manifest has to experience in the hard and cruel world. Make a success of SELF before performing your transfiguration onto others. And, if you start a job FINISH IT. If that means simply filling bottles or packaging widgets—when you are through—clean up the mess, put the tools away all clean and ready and leave nothing lazily around for another to come along as your clean-up person. Nobody likes to clean up your dirty dishes or wash your underwear. Moreover, the mettle of a person is tested by the discipline expressed on self. Or, get in a successful position so that you can HIRE the things done which are not your line of talent or production. You do not present a management of a computer operation to someone who neither recognizes a monitor or keyboard OR speaks English—the language of the industry. USE YOUR HEADS. If you want “that” job—go learn everything necessary about that job and the equipment.

RE: V.K. DURHAM—NO HOLDINGS REGARDING BONUS 3392-181

CHECK THE ABOVE OUT FOR YOURSELF

Hatonn—I will speak in generalities, for you now have plenty of information to draw a sound conclusion in this matter of signatures, timing and fatal flaws in V.K. Durham's paperwork. And yes, there are enough intentionally fraudulent actions to literally demand judicial investigation.

Are we going to cause that to happen? Certainly at this time, no. If, however, this rapacity of international disinformation does not cease and corrections be made to the charges, yes indeed. That will have to include Bellringer as well and so too will be named Spectrum staff who have not only stolen the CONTACT directly and continue to advertise "their holdings as valid" for the most damaging one issue they presented, also of the lie, will of necessity be involved because their false presentations have been published and advertised even to a Philippine paper in Mindanao printing total hogwash gathered from them. Mr. Young's editorial with the Mindanao article not only proves it but praises the publication of KNOWN lies. No, I do NOT call a lie a prevarication or spurious (legal use of definition) to be politically somehow "more correct".

I won't ask you to invest in legal counsel or to go to Illinois and Iowa to research Records files. There is no need. Neither will I ask you to waste money in Clark County, Nevada for more accurate files and which will be totally current within a couple of weeks as we add the most recent Public Notice to the official records of OUR documentation. However, if you feel strongly enough about it to do so, please do.

We have no intention of shipping many pounds of paper home to clutter deeper and deeper the remaining people who have to tend the files, to do more at this time as to backup material.

We are informed that "somewhere" in the piles of transferred items there is a full box of V.K. communications. WE, HOWEVER, HAVE ALL WE NEED. Those files, in duplicate files, are now stashed for safe keeping with two parties (one journalist of high recognition) and LEGAL COUNSEL—right here in Manila.

WE HAVE NO OTHER ONE TASK THAN ATTENDING THIS MATTER, READERS, SO BOTH MY SECRETARY AND OUR TEAMS HAVE TO STAY RIGHT ON THIS LIKE GLUE UNTIL THERE IS COMFORT IN OUR HOLDINGS. THAT IS TRANSLATED INTO "RUSSELL HERMAN'S RIGHT TO ASSIGN 'HIS PORTION'."

We have many more, unpublished specific notations to call to your attention but felt it unnecessary—but apparently that is not so and it seems necessary. A world waits while V.K. calls us, internationally, dirty names and "dark tainted" from "dark side" energy forms. Hogwash. If you have wish to play in such nonsense, then I suggest you check out those nice energies around V.K. Durham, Bellringer and yes, the Spectrum staff. They have literally performed CRIMINAL acts. THAT, my friends, is "darkside" intent and realization. Intentional wrong-intended acts within criminal intent hold darkside intent, my friends.

We have been dragged through court after court, readers, and found to be clean and clear. Our efforts continue to accomplish our intended goals in goodness and honor. Some feel slighted or used over activities in the past? How so? We work around the clock every day to make every effort to see to it that there is not even a "conjured" loss or damage to anyone—including those who accuse us otherwise.

We do not plead for "believe us" please. We offer you fact upon which to base your conclusions—and readers, that is all that we can do at this time. We are a tiny few having to face and do it all and so we shall but this is time consuming, space consuming and we SHALL do it right.

ONE MORE TIME: LOOK AT THE EVIDENCE

We respond one more time to the assignment of Russell Herman, signatures and "Transfer of Ownership" presented by V.K. Durham.

She has claimed, internationally, that first Doris, then Rick and then you name it, forged Herman's name to the assignment paper. Remember the date: August 5, 1993.

Russell died August 29, 1994.

It is said by V.K. that the ownership was turned over and basically she would have total ownership of Russell Herman's full portion of any holding as from December 2, 1989. But, the document claiming same is so legally unsound as to be discounted as a fraudulent document. Moreover, it was filed "under the shelter" of a Warranty Deed on August 1, 1994.

All of these documents were run in CONTACT in the January 30, 2002 edition. Please refer to that so we do not need run it all again. These particular documents are pictured on pages 2, 3, and 4 of that issue.

We have gone over the many things amiss in the documents so will not take time other than to focus on the most deciding one piece of evidence which tells us in V.K.'s own writing that she forged Russell Herman's name to the Transfer of Ownership and did it at the time of filing under the umbrella of the Warranty Deed just named on August 1, 1994.

Please look at the Herman, Herrmann signatures very carefully. Then, readers, go back and look at the copies of the Warranty Deed depicted on pages 2 and 3. What do you see on the FIRST item listed in V.K.'s handwriting and following the printing on the

It reminds me of the would-be chef who ends up at an exclusive restaurant demanding a job. "Do you cook?" he is asked. "No, but I like to eat." Even more interesting is the one who comes to be the cook and not only doesn't know how to cook but expects to be supplied with the stove, the pots, the dishes and the food to cook. THAT IS WHAT EVERYONE SEEMS TO EXPECT FROM GOD.

SELECTIVE THINKING

Now let us move from food to other things. You must know what is your product. If you want to serve food, you may well be able to take some contributions in food products. If you are building widgets of wire, you might be able to swap parts for wire or simply get a contribution of wire. But, if you are going to deal in economic abundance or producing a product that requires financial input—IT REQUIRES FINANCIAL INPUT.

Our product is incredibly LARGE but to accomplish it we must have support to keep our necessary tools in service. That means we need the paper for our communications system, our storage facilities for our product already accomplished and needs now some temporary holding and places from which to work. These are simple FACTS.

This is WHY, however, we make it difficult for our own people to share with you ALL, so that incredible obstacles are tossed aboard our ship—but we must get on into port and unload the cargo with shipping slips in order, regulations all met, ownership of cargo established properly and SECURITY in place for each and all facets of the entire shipping line from first printed form to last delivery.

We take no endless "donations" as such, no matter what the gift. We record it and when we have won the race all will be repaid and more. This is not to lessen your "gift" but to allow that gift to again be used by the giver in any such way as might be chosen.

Our precious receivers note every dollar so that it can be accounted. If records have been lost or taken, then we expect to have an accounting along with "markers" for services rendered and yet unpaid.

We cannot "do" otherwise at this time but we can see the other side of the mountain now and it looks good. Downhill is always easiest if you have good brakes to keep from running amuck. Stay at your task and you will find it unthinkable amazing what God presents at every turn which leads directly to your goal. If you have been paying attention to just the public notices in our own program here, you will see God's feathers all over everything. That is WHY it is called "THE PHOENIX" to represent that flight phenomenon.

I don't want a few individuals to take this personally—I ASK EVERY ONE OF YOU TO TAKE IT TOTALLY PERSONALLY, FOR WE MUST HAVE TESTED METTLE AND MEN TO HANDLE THIS MAMMOTH PROGRAM.

Get outside your "self" warp and get into give-it warp and find yourself amazed at the renewal of both self, interest and include yourself into the neighborhood, the community and the appropriate club. You can always drop a club-sitter—but it is not good to now start dumping this program. Before port is a very bad time to jump ship—I promise you.

May the "Source" grant you insight and may the light come on as you move inside self. Make the journey worthy of that which God has created you to be. GOD HAS FAR MORE KNOWING IN FAITH ABOUT YOU THAN YOU DO ABOUT SELF.

Salu, DAD

form itself: "... for and in consideration of Cosmos Seafood Energy Mkt, Ltd, Nominal DOLLARS in hand paid, CONVEY__AND WARRANT__to [H: Now watch closely.] V.K. Durham, Signatory, & Russell Herman (POA)."

Without even considering the Russell Herrmann FORGERY, there is now in V.K.'s own writing on that Warranty Deed stating that she has signed "Russell Herman" to "that" particular document in point—the Transfer of Ownership document. And, she did it for filing on August 1, 1994.

Now, readers, that "(POA)" is on both copies. The one she gave us as partners (with information removed) AND on the one with information as to address, etc., intact from Washington County's Recorder Thomas Ganz.

So, please consider here for just a minute. Would Rick Martin, or anyone else, even in a careless moment four years after Russell's death CHOOSE TO COPY A FORGED SIGNATURE ONTO THAT ASSIGNMENT PAPER? It is purely without logic or reason.

V.K. has shouted "dirty tricks" and "fraud" because she knew exactly what she was doing in an effort to discount the assignment. She has just been uncovered—for she, herself, has now stated under oath, before a notary and to be recorded that she used the excuse of a (Power of Attorney [POA]) to enter Russell Herman's signature to that paper transferring, allegedly, Bonus 3392-181 into her ownership.

Moreover, she had to have the name "Russell HERMAN" on the document to legalize use of "COSMOS SEAFOOD ENERGY MARKETING LTD."—for that is the signature and name spelling of "Russell Herman" on his legal documents and at founding of CSEML.

She "thought" she could also simply cry "fraud" and "forgery" on the Assignment by some assumption of a 1989 document (which is a totally fraudulently-drawn document from beginning to end).

There is not so much as a "Notarized" witness or anything similar on that one-page document—transferring the largest holding in the history of the world.

Other clues? Well, for one, in 1989 both V.K. and Russell were in California. [The 60-Day List (of Officers, Directors and Agent) of CSEML signed by V.K. as Secretary, dated February 7, 1990 and received by Secretary of State, Nevada (SOS-NV) February 9, 1990, showed both Russell's and V.K.'s addresses as San Jacinto, California. The 60-Day Lists filed and received by SOS-NV March 29, 1991 and April 3, 1992 both show Russell's address as San Jacinto and V.K.'s as Belleville.] Then when they did move to Illinois (V.K. moved first to Belleville), they moved to the East St. Louis area which is recognized as Belleville—BEFORE going to Okawville. So, the Okawville address ADDED to the Transfer document was added, also, at the time of filing on or about August 1, 1994. Those entries are also undated or witnessed just as the "witnesses" are undated or authenticated in any way whatsoever.

So, the bottom line? V.K. Durham has, obviously, no ostensible holding as to ownership, half or otherwise, for the document of Transfer is counterfeit at best—totally phony at least.

Neither does V.K. Durham have any holding whatsoever in Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing Ltd. corporation. Furthermore, she was listed as an officer on the records but never as a "Director".

She so fouled the paperwork as to the State Officers and Directors listing as to be considered entering a fraudulent document with the State of Nevada. You can have nominees quite legally and nicely in Nevada—you cannot render fraud on the Secretary of State, however. So, V.K. Durham has no registration as claimed of Bonus 2292-181 in either CSEML or with any State. She, further, has no valid "holding trust" which houses either of these things.

She claims that writing in the Bonus information WITH the filing of the CSEML annual list of Officers and Directors—gives legality to the claim. No, it proves intentional FRAUD. WE have had control of that corporation, as documented, since at the least 1993 and recognized now as full control since 1985.

Does V.K. have corporate documents? Probably but that means nothing, for it is known what holdings were actually in holding by CSEML and anything Ms. Durham chooses to destroy only strengthens the case against her as in destroying corporation documents and refusing to turn them over to proper officers and directors—and gives full proof of their existence but our inability to produce same. They exist, for we have copies recorded in the State of Nevada from legal opinions to Peruvian certification and the FED calculations on the value of the interest accrued as established in 1990.

We have authenticated our position and our holdings, duly recorded. And, readers, we did NOTHING except support V.K. Durham even unto her table while she provided us with fraudulent documents to present to the world as valid. Work with her again? No. She has done everything in her power to destroy, damage and even get our people imprisoned. No, we have no intention of even recognizing the party further—except to continue to rebut the lies and criminal actions of same—and her colleagues in her collective.

So, to you who find this boring and nasty in exchange and claim "God wouldn't do this"—I promise you that this is EXACTLY what God does. You have a world waiting in a dying mode. THAT IS NOT OF GOD—and you might wish to readjust your thinking.

YOU who share with us are in the midst of the most incredible one project on the face of the Earth—now or before—and I encourage you to help us through because this is God's hand at work. You pray and pray for God's miracles and then so many of you can't seem to bear success so take off for the hills at the very threshold of the miracles washing over you like a tidal wave.

God has told you it would be this way, in our own program, for lo some 15 years. Is it truly so difficult to understand? I suppose so. As long as we have a few who continue without fainting, we shall prevail. It is THAT which you must hold in your hearts to carry you through the distress and lean times. You need one another and if you weaken—grab such as this writing to get your reality in check.

I am going to blow a trumpet here, friends and speak of one who began our walk together finally calling himself "2 X 6" because he doubted constantly and it seemed to render it necessary to have a hit to the head with a 2x6 to "get his attention". All these years later, this man is one of the rocks upon which God has planted his miracle. And, moreover, then the only place this man wants to "move on to" is in the middle of the action—but until then, he supports in every way he can conjure even if to make the way just a bit easier for our "Manila Team". Thank you, Friend.

And now, I can't overlook the precious friend from Canada who actually sent a box of clothes for Dharma to help squeak through these difficult times.

We cannot name them all here while yet our gratitude is totally overwhelming. Some give in a major way and then plead to not be noted. Fine, but you can't "not be noted" in the records of God.

Please hold steady and yet, if your heart is too weary, we only ask that whatever is your accepted task, be it Gaiandriana growing to bread-mix making—PLEASE SHOW ANOTHER THE METHODS AND MAKE SURE IT IS LEFT IN GOOD HANDS. We hold NO ONE against their will or wishes. We cannot even "plead" they stay for our convenience or purpose and perhaps that is the most difficult of all to us who might otherwise "beg" for "our" wishes.

This topic of V.K. required a bit of attention here this morning but we don't really want to clutter it with a new topic tagged onto the end to distract from either topic.

By the way, friends, Satan is not even a worthy adversary for you who have earned your wings—note that given patience and honor that Kali being (Chaos) devours self.

Good morning, GCH

OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE

There are many ways in which one can participate in the glorious unfolding of this once-in-many-eras opportunity to beneficially change this planet. While some of us have the honor of participating directly—involved in it as we are with our day-to-day work—you, the reader of this newspaper, can join with the Mission in other ways: specifically, through your financial support of this effort and your positive thoughts and prayers.

Know that it is YOU who sustain the Mission by all that you think and do. YOU are "the wind beneath our wings".

Financial contributions will, as always, be treated as loans.

Positive thoughts are promised an even greater return. So, if you thought this message wasn't for YOU—simply because you cannot afford a monetary contribution—THINK AGAIN!

CRUCIFIXION OF THE PHOENIX

BY GYEORGOS CERES HATONN

“dharma”

PHOENIX JOURNAL #12 (1990)

CHAPTER 14

REC #3 EMMANUEL

SAT., JAN. 20, 1990 3:00 P.M. YEAR 3, DAY 157

“ELECTED OFFICIALS WHO FOLLOW CHRIST”

“Elected officials” and “follow Christ” are two mutually exclusive statements for all practical purposes. Ones who are elected are elected to enforce man’s laws—force is not of God. Follow Christ—do you mean in the typical manner in which Christians of today function? It is simply too broad a question to fully interpret; it is not my intention to evade a response, it is simply that I do not recognize the type of “Christian following” and the true “following of the ‘Christed’ path”. Even the ones who have proclaimed the loudest to be “men of god” have grossly erred and set unsavory examples unto the youth through their breaking of the commandments, i.e. adultery, fornication, taking that which is not theirs (taxes by force) and “voting” things in or out of your Constitution. What happened to Martin Luther King Jr., John Kennedy and others who even “claimed” honorable leadership? There are practically NO elected officials who follow Christ—and if they do, they do not remain in the “Power Elite”. I stood forth and yet I was crucified—you may not judge a man’s commitment to God. I know of that commitment which is Dharma’s but that, too, is between Dharma and God and is none of anyone else’s business. You cannot know what was the commitment of a Martin Luther King Jr., for example. You act as if “protection” should be something forced upon one whether or not he wants of it. If you wish to do something worthwhile and responsible—go get Mr. LaRouche out of prison and elect him president. I believe you will find your own question’s response. There are much more sane and effective ways to come up through the Cartel to the altar of THE PLAN. Defiance brings destruction. Knowledge and truth through unity brings change—but first man must understand the problem.

“It is most interesting to note the band of people you travel with. Instead of Moses or Buddha, you come with Tesla and Russell.” What makes you think I do not travel with Moses and Buddha? What objections do you have to Mr. Tesla and Russell? Do you even know who Messrs. Tesla and Russell actually are?

I travel in exceptionally excellent company—I travel with God, ATON who comes forth in a form more nearly that which you can accept. Be pleased that He chooses to do so, for He is much more understanding of your behavior in a manifestation more nearly your own. I would guess that you, Mr. Hackett, have not read THE RAINBOW MASTERS or you might not have fallen into your own trap of ignorance. We, further, still have yet to bring you the company of the Archangels and the Ancient Wakan Tanka to any great extent. Oh yes, the company I keep on this plane is indeed most exceptional.

THEN CURE AIDS IF YOU KNOW SO MUCH

I did not cause AIDS, why should I cure of it? Man created AIDS and most deliberately, I must add. Why do you not insist they give unto you the cure and the antidote which was in place before the introduction of the virus? Why do I not turn you into a frog? I could do that, you know! MAN MUST UNDO THAT WHICH HE HAS DONE—NO MORE AND NO LESS.

“I would think that if you materialized on the 50-yard line of the Superbowl and said ‘I am the Christ, stop spreading Aids,’ some good would come of it.” Do you really think so? I would tell you to turn back unto the Laws of God and The Creation. I would tell you to abstain in your sexual indiscretions, sodomy, fornication and adulterous behavior. I would tell you to come back into honoring of your elders and do unto others as wished unto self. I would tell you to LOVE thy neighbors and to LOVE GOD instead of your miserable, ill-working material acquisitions of greed. I might even suggest you should be revering God on the Sabbath instead of sitting at a ballgame upon which you probably have placed bets—on Superbowl Sunday! If I arrived by spacecraft, every weapon known to man would be fired at the craft and you would have all-out nuclear holocaust. Further, the crowd gathered for the Superbowl game would lynch me for interrupting the ballgame and probably break down the bleachers in such loud laughter frequencies. You must know people whom I have not met who would be at the Superbowl—if you believe a flash appearance would be profitable.

“We are in a world governed by ourselves, even moreover these recent days, yet you appear to hide behind some Star-Trek directive preventing you from interceding in our affairs (oh yeah—except of nuclear explosions).”

No, you do not govern yourselves—you allow yourselves to be “ruled” and manipulated by those who control you. A government by the people, of the people and for the people has long since ceased to exist in any place on your planet.

I hide behind no Star-Trek directive. I abide by the Cosmic Laws of the Universe and any deviation which is granted by that Council of higher Law. We do not interfere with nuclear explosions—if we are requested to assist in the reversing of an uncontrollable chain reaction, we are allowed to do so. We are allowed to neutralize a nuclear underground test at magnitude of 150 megatons (which causes a minimum earthquake of approximately 6 points on your scale). We are further allowed to stop any nuclear “weapons” at 150 miles above your surface—for you are then functioning within the Universal space utilized by Galactic and Constellation beings. Anything that impacts the Universal spaces is under the governing rules of the Cosmic Council in conjunction with the Federation representatives.

“While on the other hand it is all right for you to converse with our government heads whom you accuse of lying, deceiving and every other treacherous action. Yet you are not able to converse with us directly. I am confused.”

I AM conversing with you directly and YOU ARE NOT CONFUSED—you are deliberately giving affront in some type of “smart” projection of your denial. ’Tis not we of the higher regions which appear foolish, I would guess—if we took a “democratic vote”. If you do not recognize that your government heads lie, deceive and commit just about every other treacherous action, then I suggest you pay more attention to what is going on around you—or did you miss Watergate, Contra-Iranganate and today’s Marion Barry’s [Washington, D.C. Mayor] denial of cocaine use?

“I am also hard-pressed to believe that with all your sophistication and computers that receive and decode CIA transmission and whatnot, that you are operating with a scribe over a radio transmission which frequency is not privy to all on this planet.”

How quaint that you have not investigated telepathic communications, Mr. Hackett. It truly is the up-and-coming technology. You do not even wish to hear of my words, so why would all the world be made privy to the frequencies? Besides, the CIA is hooked right into this computer equipment. Do you actually think it would be more effective if suddenly a CIA computer began to print out these messages? Do you think they would remain untampered? Do you think Mr. Bush would publish them on NBC, ABC or any other news media? Those are all controlled by the CFR and Trilateral Commission—the very ones who control THE PLAN to control you, dear sir.

Yes, we can present ourselves over conventional methods—ask the Communications Crew at Yucca Flats and Vandenberg. We do occasionally utilize satellite-linked television—the truth of it never happens to make it to your media and when it does it is discounted as a Spielberg trick and everyone has a great deal of fun in the debunking. Further, I have a very efficient method of transmitting my information directly to my publisher. And, wouldn’t you just love Dharma to have a nice long and complete rest—then you would not have to confront the truth at all. I have had others attempt to stop the flow of information by the same route, so your suggestion only received the slightest smile from her. Stop the information and Satan wins again! This is another trick of the old Prince which you have not noted.

“You, Sananda, do not speak with the same concise prophetic tongue that you did when you were the Christ. Every word you spoke then meant many things and often required much thought, always concluding that love and brotherhood would solve any of our problems.”

Oh, you do leave yourself open on this one. My concise prophetic tongue must have had so many meanings that mankind missed of them. They seemed most direct to me and yet no one claims to be able to decipher them and continue to rush to the astrologers and fortune tellers for instructions. Further, I suggest that you had better reread the documents, for they are overflowing with direct “prophecy”—the difference is that you are IN IT today. Yes I did always conclude that love and brotherhood would solve any of your problems—IT WOULD HAVE! SO BE IT. IF I COME WITH A DIFFERENT MESSAGE TODAY, IT IS THAT LOVE AND BROTHERHOOD DID NOT PREVAIL—EVIL PREVAILED AND NOW YOU WILL CHOOSE YOUR DESTINY, FOR THE POINT OF RETURN TO BALANCE WITHOUT GREAT UPHEAVAL AND CLEANSING IS PASSED. I COME TODAY AS SANANDA IN THE TIME OF THE CLOSING OF A WORLD CYCLE. YOU HAVE SLEPT TOO LONG.

“Are you no longer the Savior?” I never was your “Savior”! I came as the Messiah. You will answer for your own actions and stand in your own judgment. I can intercede in your behalf and petition for GRACE and mercy—but, your “salvation” is between you and God Creator. I, nor any other, can do it for you. Each will “save” of himself or “lose” of himself, I have no celestial right to intervene and shall only petition and offer my hand unto you—I can do no more. I AM THE WORD—YOU ARE OF FREE WILL.

“Your recent confrontation with Mr. Cooper leads me to believe that you are operating a profitable business that just became competitive.”

Well, oh would it be so, for God is abundance. However, alas, thus far it has only been most costly. Competition? How can man measure bringing water to a starving land by competition for the water-bucket. Mr. Cooper utilized documents such as CRASH AT AZTEC, ABOVE TOP SECRET, THE MAJESTIC 12 PAPERS and dozens more resources brought forth first by others. He presented incorrect information and drew incorrect conclusions—it will not be tolerated longer. If you wish proof, we shall again discuss Krill—Original Hostage Krill that Mr. Cooper spoke of in a most distasteful and bilious manner as His Omnipotent Highness—this alien was a figment of another’s humorous imagination. Oberli, please attach a copy of Mr. Lear’s letter to this document.

You fear that I and my colleagues “are not working in the light of Christ.” Son, I AM the LIGHT! Further, I humbly serve in the service of Hatonn, who is a fourth-dimensional Commander but is in higher truth—ATON. ASHTAR IS CHIEF COMMANDER OF THE ENTIRE UNIVERSAL SPACE FLEET IN YOUR SECTOR OF THIS UNIVERSE. I HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO ANGER—DO NOT PRESS ME.

“Along with rebuttal to Mr. Cooper’s statements, you threaten that Mr. Cooper would be ‘Stricken Down’. Truth need not be brought forth by death, and rarely ever is! Do you not know this by now?”

(Sic, Sic) Come now, it is Mr. Cooper’s projection in misinformation that shall be discounted (stricken down). I have no desire whatsoever to damage Mr. Cooper. I respect and greatly care for William Cooper and had asked him to join with us in truth, for he has great contributions to make. But to proclaim that he brings his truth forward because he serves Christ and Jesus is most displeasing—for love is giving and never would bring pain or hurt to another. Ignorance of truth is one thing—deliberate threats of lawsuits because we declare his lessons to hold wrong conclusions and untruth is another. Do you truly believe that you can “patent” public truth? This would preclude use of the Holy Bible. Mr. Cooper did make public statements saying he would put a stop to my scribe. I take it as a direct threat with intent to do harm to her physical being. I do not go about injuring Mr. Cooper—I honor him and invite him within but not to bring the dark brotherhood within. If he wishes to go about advertising in our behalf, then we are most appreciative—for in the ending, it will not be of myself in the discounting.

“Your association with Ramtha, the greatest modern day hoaxer, is most alarming. Your humble life on Earth, void of wealth, brought many to leave the acquisition of material gain and seek the richness of the spirit. Ramtha, by sharp contrast and her own admission is involved in a ‘profit making business’. Are you and the brothers of space command a subsidiary of Knight Enterprises?”

Upon what information do you base the statement that Ramtha is a hoax? I have no association with Ramtha or with his speaker; if he is a brother, however, he too must step forward and assist. Apparently his group, at least, is not. You will find, young friend, that when we “go fishing” we take “the proper bait” to find out what kind of fish are swimming in the sea. The “committee” who decides which books Ramtha’s group will support are still in the “research”. The head of the group in charge of publications, etc., said he doubted great interest in some of the Journals because “they do not want to be ‘lumped in’ with the Mafu bunch!” Now whatever in the world do you suppose he means by that?

What about my humble life on Earth devoid of wealth? I was given some of the greatest riches ever presented unto a human child. I worked diligently in my profession and furthermore, I prospered by the sweat of my brow and upon my own labors. God is abundance and if you limit God’s abundance, you are in error. Do you think that poverty and living off of the production of another is honorable? Further, there is no purpose in “being in business” except to make profit, be it emotional profit or material gain. It is not pleasing to see one dwell in poverty for the pretentiousness of the state of being or for being too lazy to tend of thy own needs. I suggest, further, that you know nothing of “Knight Enterprises”, for most surely I know only that which I might find upon the scanners. At any rate I would not condemn the persons involved, although I might “strike down” untruth if I find it.

If you find your fellow man in poverty and you can help him—do so. DO NOT GO INTO THE GUTTER AND GROVEL WITH HIM, FOR IT IS OF NO BENEFIT. IT IS THE “LOVE” OF WEALTH AND THE “HEART” INVOLVEMENT WITH IT THAT IS OF CONCERN. MONEY IN ITSELF IS A TOOL AND NAUGHT MORE. MONEY HAS NOT EVIL NOR GOOD—’TIS THE “LOVE” OF RICHES THAT IS THE POINT. THROWING SHOES UPON A MAN WITH NO

FEET IS OF LITTLE VALUE UNLESS YOU GIVE HIM MANY PAIRS AND SHOW HIM HOW TO RUN A SHOE STORE. WALK BESIDE YOUR BROTHER AND OCCASIONALLY CARRY HIM IF HE NEEDS IT—BUT YOU HAVE NO RIGHT TO “CRIPPLE” ANOTHER BY YOUR PROJECTION OF SELF-RIGHTEOUS GOOD-DOING. MAN INSULTS HIS UNFORTUNATE BRETHREN WITH PRIDEFUL CHARITY WHEN THE PEOPLE OF POVERTY NEED JOBS, LOVE AND A BOOST BACK ONTO THEIR FEET. A MAN MUST HAVE DIGNITY AND SELF-ESTEEM—YOU CANNOT HELP A DROWNING MAN BY JUMPING IN THE WATER TO DROWN WITH HIM—EXTEND YOUR HAND AND PULL HIM UP AND OUT AND SHARE THAT WHICH YOU HAVE. IT DOES NO GOOD TO GIVE AWAY ALL THAT YOU HAVE AND THEN BECOME A BURDEN UPON OTHERS BECAUSE OF FOOLISHNESS. MAN MUST LEARN RESPONSIBILITY! MAN MUST LEARN TO STAND FORTH AND ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY FOR ALL HIS ACTIONS—ALL HIS ACTIONS.

“I feel at this point, sir, that you are not whom you profess to be, you are either a sadly disillusioned soul, as those I saw on television, or perhaps you and Dharma are one in the same, or perhaps you care nothing for what you print as most of it seems plagiarized from a multitude of other sources, and excessively repetitive.”

Excessively repetitive? It appears I do not repeat enough—for surely, Mr. Hackett, you missed most of it every time. How would you know about plagiarized material—have you read all available publications to make a wise decision as to who plagiarized from whom? Is it just possible that some of the materials utilized might have been MINE?

I AM EXACTLY WHOM I PROFESS TO BE—AGAIN, WHO MIGHT YOU BE WHO JUDGES AND CONDEMNS AND MAKES GREAT AND GRAND PRONOUNCEMENTS WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE? Alas, dear Dharma is simply trying to do her job—mostly against all odds and slings and arrows from ones of the learned professional authorities whose mouths work much more diligently than the space between their hearing canals.

Now, if you recognize that some of my material might resemble other projections—I am pleased, indeed, for that should only bring comfort to you in confirmation that possibly it is truth. TRUTH DOES NOT CHANGE—IF IT IS TRUTH AND IT IS PUBLIC, HOW CAN YOU CHANGE OF IT AND STILL HAVE TRUTH? YOU CANNOT!

“You reportedly met with archaeologists recently so obviously you are capable of coming to Earth. My mother, Father and myself invite you to visit our humble abode in Sedona, Arizona, less than a mile from Sister Thedra. Come to us for a nutritious bread-breaking ceremony welcoming your return to Earth. Bring Commanders Hatonn and Ashtar and clear up these important questions. Convince us of your truth and we will be your humble servants from thence forth. Perhaps you would like to meet with a delegation of your current following, or perhaps you would like to meet with me on your ship, give me the coordinates and I’ll ready myself for beaming up.”

Yes I am capable of coming to Earth and do so frequently. Oberli, make sure a portrait is enclosed. I thank you for your invitation but it is given in sarcasm and hurtful intent and would pain your parents greatly. I have no need of bread, so why would you not share with an Earth brother who has need of it? I shall attempt to “convince” you of nothing—I care very little of your “bigoted” opinions. Neither do I think that you “really” desire the presence of Commanders Hatonn and/or Ashtar. I do not wish you to be mine servant—I would wish that you might effort at serving your fellow-man with other than cynical meanness and self-righteousness. You would not enjoy our company very much, for we are come in total service unto you ones and we do not bow to the evil presence.

A delegation of my current “following”? I am constantly in the presence with my brothers in service unto God and Creation—I know little of “my following”, for you imply it is a poor group indeed.

You enjoy your jesting? Then let me give you a few pictures for your pleasure. Just how do you think you are going to make it up to those lovely fluffy clouds to be with the “Divine Energy of Jesus Christ and Father God”? Is everyone just going to bounce around on those cute little clouds singing and dancing? Clouds are only a few hundred feet off your surface and your surface is going to be a mess, indeed. Would you have us just leave you floating around in the nuclear cloud? So be it—to your own choices. I further doubt that you would go to the effort of preparing yourself for “beaming” anywhere.

Now, James, I will say something most important unto you. You are a wondrous being and the beautiful creation of Creator. I not only resent not your letter, I sincerely and humbly thank you for writing it. I do not think you meant of it in vileness nor evil intent. I appreciate the opportunity to respond, for this is a “typical” letter and I honor you for presenting it. Further, I would most like it if we might be friends, for you proclaim to believe and honor me and even be a “follower” of the Divine Energy of Jesus Christ—well, here is my hand for that is exactly that—the Divine Energy!

How was it that you expected “the Christ” to return? Does it distress you so much that God would prepare the way? I went forth to prepare a place for you—do you again do less for me?

You live less than a mile from Sister Thedra? Then I suggest you run as fast as you can unto her door and tell her that Sananda sent you. You may very well be quite surprised to learn that Sananda is quite real indeed.

Now in closing I am going to “plagiarize” quite a bit of my own projections—again, from the book of Matthew for it is as good as any:

Matthew 24-3: “When will this happen?” the disciples asked him later, as he sat on the slopes of the Mount of Olives. “What events will signal your return, and the end of the world?”

Jesus told them, “Don’t let anyone fool you. For many will come claiming to be the Messiah, and will lead many astray. When you hear of wars beginning, this does not signal my return; these must come, but the end is not yet. The nations and kingdoms of the Earth will rise against each other and there will be famines and earthquakes in many places. But all this will be only the beginning of the horrors to come.

“Then you will be tortured and killed and hated all over the world because you are mine, and many of you shall fall back into sin and betray and hate each other. And many false prophets will appear and lead many astray. Sin will be rampant everywhere and will cool the love of many. But those enduring to the end shall be saved.

“And the Good News about the Kingdom will be preached throughout the whole world, so that all nations will hear it and then, finally, the end will come.

“So, when you see the horrible thing (told about by Daniel the prophet) standing in a holy place (Let the reader take note.), then those in Judea must flee into the Judean hills. Those on their porches must not even go inside to pack before they flee. Those in the fields should not return to their homes for their clothes.

“And woe to pregnant women and to those with babies in those days. And pray that your flight will not be in winter, or on the Sabbath. For there will be persecution such as the world has never before seen in all its history, and will never see again.

“In fact, unless those days are shortened, all mankind will perish. But they will be shortened for the sake of God’s chosen people.

“Then if anyone tells you ‘The Messiah’ has arrived at such and such a place, or has appeared here or there, don’t believe it.

“For false Christs shall arise, and false prophets, and will do wonderful miracles, so that if it were possible, even God’s chosen ones would be deceived. See, I have warned you.

“So if someone tells you the Messiah has returned and is out in the desert, don’t bother to go and look. Or, that he is hiding at a certain place, don’t believe it!

“For as the lightning flashes across the sky from east to west, so shall my coming be, when I, the Messiah, return. And wherever the carcass is, there the vultures will gather.

“Immediately after the persecution of those days the Sun will be darkened, and the Moon will not give light, and the stars will seem to fall from the heavens, and the powers overshadowing the Earth will be convulsed.

“And then at last the signal of my coming will appear in the heavens and there will be deep mourning all around the Earth. And the nations of the world will see me arrive in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory. And I shall send forth my angels and the sound of a mighty trumpet blast, and they shall gather my chosen ones from the farthest ends of the Earth and heaven.

“Now learn a lesson from the fig tree. When her branch is tender and the leaves begin to sprout, you know that summer is almost here. Just so, when you see all these things beginning to happen, you can know that my return is near, even at the doors. Then at last this age will come to its close.

“Heaven and Earth will disappear, but my words remain forever. But no one knows the date and hour when the end will be—not even the angels. No, nor even God’s Son. Only the Father knows.

“The world will be at ease—banquets and parties and weddings—just as it was in Noah’s time before the sudden coming of the flood; people wouldn’t believe what was going to happen until the flood actually arrived and took them all away. So shall my coming be.

“Two men will be working together in the fields, and one will be taken, the other left. Two women will be going about their household tasks; one will be taken, the other left.

“So be prepared, for you don’t know what day your Lord is coming.

“Just as a man can prevent trouble from thieves by keeping watch for them, so you can avoid trouble by always being ready for my unannounced return.

“Are you a wise and faithful servant of the Lord? Have I given you the task of managing my household, to feed my children day by day? Blessings on you if I return and find you faithfully doing your work. I will put such faithful ones in charge of everything I own!

“But if you are evil and say to yourself, ‘My Lord won’t be coming for a while,’ and begin oppressing your fellow servants, partying and getting drunk, your Lord will arrive unannounced and unexpected, and severely whip you and send you off to the judgment of the hypocrites; there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matthew 25: “The Kingdom of Heaven can be illustrated by the story of ten bridesmaids who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. But only five of them were wise enough to fill their lamps with oil, while the other five were foolish and forgot.

“So, when the bridegroom was delayed, they lay down to rest until midnight, when they were roused by the shout, ‘The bridegroom is coming! Come out and welcome him!’

“All the girls jumped up and trimmed their lamps. Then the five who hadn’t any oil begged the others to share with them, for their lamps were going out.

“But the others replied, ‘We haven’t enough. Go instead to the shops and buy some for yourselves.’

“But while they were gone, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was locked.

“Later, when the other five returned, they stood outside, calling ‘Sir, open the door for us!’

“But he called back, ‘Go away! It is too late!’

“So stay awake and be prepared, for you do not know the date or moment of my return.

“Again, the Kingdom of Heaven can be illustrated by the story of a man going into another country, who called together his servants and loaned them money to invest for him while he was gone.

“He gave $5,000 to one, $2,000 to another, and $1,000 to the last—dividing it in proportion to their abilities—and then left on his trip. The man who received the $5,000 began immediately to buy and sell with it and soon earned another $5,000.

“The man with $2,000 went right to work, too, and earned another $2,000.

“But the man who received the $1,000 dug a hole in the ground and hid the money for safekeeping.

“After a long time their master returned from his trip and called them to him to account for his money. The man to whom he had entrusted the $5,000 brought him $10,000.

“His master praised him for good work. ‘You have been faithful in handling this small amount,’ he told him, ‘so now I will give you many more responsibilities. Begin the joyous tasks I have assigned to you.’

“Next came the man who had received the $2,000, with the report, ‘Sir, you gave me $2,000 to use, and I have doubled it.’

CHAPTER 15

REC #1 HATONN

WED., JAN. 24, 1990 7:00 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 161

Good morning, Dharma. Let us speak of subject material prior to continuing on the Journal. I wish to devote a segment in discussion regarding the material sent to GG by Billy Meier. I also wish Oberli to assemble all information available on the Santa Barbara Savings vs. E. and D. E. as presented in Judge Jason Brent's court in Mojave, California. It is a most appropriate example of the depths of injustice perpetrated upon citizens. That particular judge is now planning to move from a Municipal Court situation to a Higher (Superior) Court. This is an example case and I shall discuss it at length.

We also need to respond to Dr. Meek in a timely manner but I believe he is quite willing to be patient as we sort out these pressing tid-bits. I would like a "selection" of subject matter for G&D to take to Florida.

I wish to first comment on what is going on right now in your own government, for it could be a most disastrous week in your market if actions are not taken early this very day.

Your averages are off in reflection to pressures in Japan and negative attitudes about pouring more funding into shoring up your economy. Japan's and Britain's markets are confused, also, in response. The foolhardy computer trading is ready to kick in with its terrorizing effect and all-out efforts are being made to pull away attention and shift it to China's students and all manner of nothingness to keep the distraction going until they can somehow shore up the stability.

What is REALLY happening is that the government and the FED have had to make public the fact that there "may be twice as much money needed for the S&L's, perhaps another $50 billion". Of course, there was never a solution built into the original sum and all knew it—except you nice little slaves who pay the $100 billion. Well, that isn't nearly enough, either. It was never intended to solve the problem as it was a primary factor in bringing the economy to its knees and slipping further under the control of the Banker's Conspiracy. Now, there is a whole list of failing institutions added to the already long list and everyone at high levels, like Mr. Greenspan, just looks innocent and prattles on as if it were an act of God.

Mr. Bush ignores it altogether and loudly proclaims his reasons for vetoing a bill which would allow Chinese students in the U.S. to remain there for a while longer, etc. He claims it would injure the "student exchange program" with China if you fail to require the students go home. So be it—just keep your eyes and ears open and pray hard that it can be maintained just a while longer until we can get a little better situated. We need to be able to get that financing for our projects.

Actually, good projects are all the banks have left with which to leverage business. There is so much non-product investment abounding that there is no revenue for the banks with which to offset the debt and interest inequities and it will worsen as the economy deteriorates.

The effort, as I told you yesterday, will be to keep the facade going a bit longer because they don't yet control all the guns—that push will now go into hyper-gear, for the Conspirators hope to have the slaves under complete control prior to total collapse—they most certainly do want the economy to collapse in the appropriate sequence necessary to ensure the workability of THE PLAN 2000. That means controlled issuing of baloney money and get you all shifted over into the guts of the beast.

What can you do? Do what we have suggested you do and keep your eyes open. Knowledge is your only hope. Please remember that it is knowledge they do not wish you to have—from the day of Adam and Eve, as your fable goes. The "apple" tree was indeed the "tree of knowledge", you historians.

Do you not think the deterioration of your educational system is intended? If you keep the populace ignorant and uneducated, you can control them through pure force and clever sorting. If a man cannot read and write—the battle is all but over.

Further, corrupt your populace into immoral behavior and then abort your babies and Satan has really won a round—because the lighted souls are returning into the countries where there is yet hope of changing the course of evil. The Satanic forces are already outnumbering the Godly forces by great numbers. The effort is to keep new lighted energies out and sink the available ones into deeper confusion so that the work of evil is accomplished—preferably by your so-called Christian and Jewish leaders and churches. If the "church" preacher gets near the truth of it—tempt him and cause him to fall in the mud and you turn multitudes away from light into the dark morass. You have seen all these things in play—look around and ponder this of which I remind you.

Now I would like to speak of dark-impacted energies and what are the signs of such impacting. The attack is usually most insidious—coming forth upon a given "gifted" being by forces who creep into the circle. Then the nudging begins with the nipping away at the ego of the individual under attack—"see, they are stealing your stuff" and "let's not send those awful bad people any more of 'our' material for they might steal it"—it would be most amusing if it were not so painful and deliberately black in intent.

If you actually believed ones were putting out truth and you suspected they might be copying your material, would you not want to flood them with your material to keep it honest? Well, that is not what happens—watch what happens when truth is brought forth—they threaten lawsuits for using public truth, they attack the writer, they stop sending any communications at all and begin to "eat of their own tail" in that, in some instances, ones have gone from carrying a large variety of books to carrying only the central "circle" of "guru's" stuff. All of this to prevent these JOURNALS from being distributed. It is foolish, indeed, for all ones know the best way to promote a thing is to ban it or denounce it.

Ones claim that all they want is to get the word out and "SAVE" the people in the name of Christ and God-ness. No, what they want is to withhold the truth from the masses in order to put forth that which is their own to reap rewards. Usually the central figure involved is totally ignorant of the evil pact.

I can think of nothing more wondrous than for every UFOlogist on the money circuit and discrediting

"Good work,' his master said. 'You are a good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over the small amount, so now I will give you much more.'

"Then the man with the $1,000 came and said, 'Sir, I knew you were a hard man, and I was afraid you would rob me of what I earned, so I hid your money in the earth and here it is!'

"But his master replied, 'Wicked man! Lazy slave! Since you knew I would demand your profit, you should at least have put my money into the bank so I could have some interest. Take the money from this man and give it to the man with the $10,000. For the man who uses well what he is given shall be given more, and he shall have abundance. But from the man who is unfaithful, even what little responsibility he has shall be taken from him. And throw the useless servant out into outer darkness: There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

"But when I, the Messiah, shall come in my glory, and all the angels with me, then I shall sit upon my throne of glory. And all the nations shall be gathered before me. And I will separate the people as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats, and place the sheep at my right hand and the goats my left.

"Then I, the King, shall say to those at my right, 'Come, blessed of my Father, into the Kingdom prepared for you from the founding of the world. For I was hungry and you fed me; I was thirsty and you gave me water; I was a stranger and you invited me into your homes; naked and you clothed me; sick and in prison, and you visited me.'

"Then these righteous ones will reply, 'Sir, when did we ever see you hungry and feed you? Or thirsty and give you anything to drink? Or a stranger, and help you? Or naked, and clothe you? When did we ever see you sick or in prison, and visit you?'

"And I, the King, will tell them, 'When you did it to these my brothers you were doing it to me!' Then I will turn to those on my left and say, 'Away with you, you cursed ones, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his demons. For I was hungry and you wouldn't feed me; thirsty, and you wouldn't give me anything to drink; a stranger, and you refused me hospitality; naked, and you wouldn't clothe me; sick, and in prison, and you didn't visit me.'

"Then they will reply, 'Lord, when did we ever see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and not help you?'

"And I will answer, 'When you refused to help the least of these my brothers, you were refusing help to me.'

"And they shall go away into eternal punishment; but the righteous into everlasting life."

* * * * *

SO BE IT AND SELAH.

I KNOW THAT WHICH I AM—WHO MIGHT YE BE?

Dharma, it has indeed been long and I thank you, chela, for you ones must be of my hands and feet until that day when I shall again be among you. In infinite love I offer unto you ones my hand and the shelter of mine wings. I shall always hear of thy call; will you hear the answer?

Au Da Pai Da Cum, for I am the way and he who asks shall be invited within. Blessings be upon ye ones of truth.

I AM ESU EMMANUEL SANANDA

of “good little aliens” to take up the banner and denounce our works. BECAUSE THERE IS ONLY TRUTH IN THEM AND THEY KNOW IT! FURTHER, ONES IN THE KNOWING PARTICIPANTS BEGIN TO RECOGNIZE THE DIFFERENCE AND BEGIN TO LISTEN TO THEIR OWN GOD-GIVEN REASONING MINDS AND REALIZE WE “MAKE LOGICAL SENSE”.

Some of the most humble in the beginning have had to be set aside because of the ridiculous “movements” set up around them. Foolish labels and elaborate ego logos are printed all over their material and they set themselves up as “the only contact” and without proper nurturing, the central and most gifted contact is lost—devastated by his fellow-man and he cannot even see “which” ones have truly injured him. Age has not meaning in such instances—it can be from communication age, and before, right on through the centuries.

I honor ones such as Virgil Armstrong, as for instance. His books have been taken and translated into many languages—and sell very well in Russia. He gets naught except credit for that “theft” but it is the word he wants spread in the most widespread manner possible—not his nitty little pennies. Yes, he needs rewards for his work but that comes in many ways and meanwhile truth is marching on across the lands. And we of the guardian brothers shall advertise and promote his work and abundance shall flow unto him from truth and not lawsuits of foolish nature. There is no need to promote doom-and-gloom terror. The facts can be presented in hope of insight and love unbounded to lift ones up instead of pouring salt into the open wounds.

You must know the truth of your circumstance, for it is only through the truth that ye shall be set free. But there is wondrous upliftment and joy in knowing a thing and then directly working the challenge of changing into the positive. It is joy beyond expression to know God and understand that the plan of evil shall not prevail and I find my crew completely joyful and at peace simply to be allowed participation at such a time of challenge and coming into truth and knowledge. And by their contribution in love and giving, the rewards shall flow multifold even in abundance, for it is the promise of Creator.

EDUARD A. MEIER (BILLY)

I need to use the given label for this wondrous friend in this most sad situation, for my discussion would have very little impact otherwise. This discussion revolves around a letter and information sent from Billy to GG, whom Billy considers a very close and dear friend. This man in his human form has been all but destroyed and the pain is screamed out of his being and yet in his pain he has been opened up to lies.

This man was our first major contact on your planet in these modern times of change. He was a “simple” man in truth and indeed humble in the years of Semjase’s contact. He was plagued with earthly bombardment and need to live frugally but he was a simple and honest one sent forth to be an Earth contact that we might make ourselves known and accepted in truth and not in terror.

Billy Meier shall receive full compensation for his contribution to AND THEY CALLED HIS NAME IMMANUEL—I AM SANANDA, for he first dared to put into print the original words from the ancient scrolls having received the material as translated from a most beloved one from Lebanon.

I will quote verbatim, his letter:

December 30, 1989.

Hello GG

Thank you for your letter as well as for the books.

My material has been used to produce horror stories and to lead the mankind into more confusion.

My comment: The Americans are deceivers, frauds, swindlers, and the first and the last scoundrels in the whole universe.

Look at the enclosed copies.—Eduard A. Meier (BILLY)

The attached materials are both heartbreaking and filled with truth. There are some misinterpretations in the message from a Pleiadian but you must give Billy gracious compassion, for he was having to do much interpretation, for he took notes and then did his writing. It is not as simple for him as for Dharma, for instance, for she simply allows us to utilize her keyboard—undoubtedly the original JOURNALS will be somewhat altered as they are translated from one language into that of another. So be it. I shall point out discrepancies. I shall first simply copy the portion:

Onehundredninetythird contact

Tuesday, May 29, 1984 1:44 p.m.

Quetzal: After our last conversation and after inspection of your... Eduard “BILLY” Meier explains:

The real contact person, Mr. Eduard “BILLY” Meier, who has contact with the Pleiadians—SEMJASE-QUETZAL-PTAAH-PLEJA-TALJDA—and others separates himself expressly from association with Dr. Fred Bell and his machinations and pretendings that he, Dr. Fred Bell would have had contacts with the Pleiadian, SEMJASE.

The pretendings of Dr. Bell that he would have had contacts with the Pleiadians and the information that he claims to have gained from them has been classified by the Pleiadians as deceptive and untrue and that he has claimed as his own; information from the contact notes of BILLY.

In reference to the excerpt of translated retyped 193rd contact of Tuesday the 29th of May, 1984, 1:44 p.m. contact between the station Commander of the Pleiadians, Quetzal, and BILLY Meier... following given orders. The first steps concerning our orders have already been taken and we have withdrawn all of our connected groups out of the U.S.A. and Asia, because it doesn’t make sense that fanatics, con men and swindlers use us for the purpose of their own profits. We know this already happened with B. Chriswell and a Dr. Fred Bell (from the USA: noted by Billy), as well as several others, which you have been informed in our last conversations. At that time you mentioned that both Dr. Bell and B. Chriswell have pretended and declared to the public that they have had contacts with SEMJASE, PTAAH and with others of our group in Europe which doesn’t correspond with the truth because we have never had contacts of any kind with Earth people outside of Europe. Our contacts in Europe now refer to only 4 people, one of them you, two of the other persons are in the meantime deceased, and one other remains. At this time only two contacts are of a conscious form. With you we reserve the physical contact and with the other person only telepathic. That is to say pure telepathic in moderation of impulse. Any other contacts are of the unconscious kind as the connected-to person has no awareness what is happening and the considered Earth person will not have known anything about the contact. As a result of this no Earth people are having conscious contact with either our European, Asian or our group in America. Any person who pretends this must be named a deceiver and swindler. You know very well for yourself why this is and why you are the only “speaking trumpet”, and out of which reasons only you can be our contact person in this given form. In any case we have withdrawn our groups from the U.S.A. and Asia until further notice and until such time as the waves become calm and the truth will penetrate. This will also have some disadvantages of development for these countries and can have some unpleasant political consequences. But never the less we will refrain until the truth will be able to penetrate before we will renew ourselves with the thought to once more base ourselves to aid in the development of the countries of U.S.A. and ASIA....

8th Question: You have many enemies, also particularly in UFO circles. What do they have against you?

Answer: The circles of today’s so-called UFOlogists and contact persons consist mostly of people who do not wish to concern themselves with UFOlogy and truth on a responsible level. Instead, many pursue a bogus study of UFOlogy, bragging and lying about phony contacts, because they want to feed and satisfy their lust for sensationalism, their sectarianism, petty jealousies, know-it-all attitudes and pompousness, their inferiority complexes, and often enough their ego trips. In addition to these others are the alleged “blessed ones”; the god/saints/Jesus delegates; apostles; god and angel messengers; “chosen few”; channellers, and others with supposed extrasensory talents; enlightened ones; seers, revelators, and healers by their own grace, etc. These people are part of the world’s population who manage to charm, exploit, and lie to the gullible and easily-swayed individuals all over the Earth. Truthfully, 99.979% of all of the allegations by these charlatans are based on deliberate fraud, lies, and deceit, including those purportedly contacted by UFOs, ETs, by those on the “other” side, and from other dimensions. These fabrications may also originate from chronic or sporadic schizophrenia or similar mental illnesses. Indeed, of 1 million claims concerning contacts, enlightenment, being the chosen ones, transmittance of messages, and so forth, only 203 (!) are communications of truth and reality, while 999,797 of 1 million claims are deceptions and lies of some sort or another. My enemies are jealous of my contacts with the Pleiadians and feel they would have been a far superior contact person in comparison to me. However, generally are they not only poorly informed about me and my contacts, they really do not have a clue as to the related mission and the existence and functioning of spiritual levels, energies, laws and commandments, as well as to their truth and mode of action. Not to mention, that they do not have the vaguest idea regarding the existence of Creation, its laws and commandments, or the correlation between Creation, the spirit, and the various levels and life have not only entailed fame (for which they are lusting with all their egos) but also serious problems, e.g., altogether 11 assassination attempts, which had been led against me. Furthermore, these people do not consider that they would be treated with the same hostility they are now showing me.

Most of all, they neglect to even contemplate that I have not only been connected with the mission and its fulfillment for many decades, but for numerous earlier lives; that I have been previously instructed in the elements of strict discipline; that I have had to educate myself in years of toil, with outside help; and that I have had to be able to take over this mission at the designated time, to carry it forward, and to fulfill it. My enemies see only that they cannot play a role in this mission no matter how hard they try. This stirs their envy and hatred on one hand, their frustrations on the other, for they themselves cannot publicize their crazy and wild speculations and sectarian whims on a grand scale. It should be noted, however, that I have no enemies whatsoever in all those many groups of seriously interested people who, with honest and enthusiastic intent, deal with UFO matters and teachings.

Furthermore, they envy my UFO photographs of beamships (verified to be the best in the world), films, slides, metal and crystal samples, etc., and call them fakes. This is consistently the case with pseudo-scientists, dishonest critics, and all those who do not want to accept the truth, for sectarian, religious, political, pseudo-scientific, or other reasons.

A further cause for animosity toward me is the fact that I uncover frauds, liars, schizophrenics, psychopaths, and cheats when they discuss UFOs, contacts with extraterrestrials, contacts with those on the “other side” and in other dimensions. Animosity also occurs with channellers who are considered “blessed”, and other superfreaks, etc. I distance myself from these people, and am not afraid to talk with frankness about my knowledge and experiences with them. Of course, all of the frauds, liars, and cheats now maintain that they are part of those 203 of 1 million who are telling the truth, but they do not realize, that they are digging themselves even deeper into their lies.

* * * * *

In second thinking, I believe I will not make comments on the above. I think you ones must come into the discernment and perhaps if enough question, I shall then respond. I urge you to not get yourselves hung up on defensive or offensive strategy but on possible truth involved herein.

AT ANY RATE—WE ARE GOING TO GIVE EDUARD (BILLY) MEIER A FORUM TO BRING HIS TRUTH PUBLIC IN THIS LAND WHICH HAS STOLEN HIS TRUTH, USED HIS PHOTOGRAPHS (AT THE SELF-SAME MOMENT THEY ARE DISCREDITING HIM) AND, IF HE WILL ACCEPT THE FORUM, WE SHALL DO WHAT IS REQUIRED TO BRING HIS TRUTH PUBLIC IN HONESTY.

When we speak of stolen material we speak of almost all of his photographs which were made with our consent and staging and the notes which have been distorted and then projected as if conjured-up lies. There has been a widespread effort to discount his work as I pointedly told you in SPACE-GATE and the ones who have deliberately caused slander upon this man shall have their lies discounted.

Please pay attention to the dates in reference. Also remember that Quetzal is also a name for the Phoenix. There are errors in perception that there would only be ONE contact—as I have told you before, no guide would ever lay such a heavy burden upon one human being.

We did withdraw our contacts from the U.S.A. and Asia for a period of time, except for a few who would be messengers for the setting of a network. Dharma had never heard of Pleiades until 1986—she called the constellation the “Wee Dipper” and had never heard of any such one as Sananda until 1986 and “Hatonn” and “Ashtar” threw her into fits of laughter as late as 1987. She has not had contact with Billy Meier in any manner whatsoever. GOD WORKS IN MYSTERIOUS WAYS HIS WONDERS TO PERFORM! SO BE IT.

GG, please follow up on this as is convenient. We will have to “peel” off the dark energies which have moved in upon him and make it impossible to get through to him. He has a circle around him now which will totally cause his discrediting if he fails to get it under control. He no longer clears himself and has been receiving erroneous information—the imposters have told him Semjase is dead, etc. This is not truth but we cannot communicate with him through the shroud of darkness he has projected about himself. Ones around him have projected great attention-getting logos and splashy projections and even are setting up a cult around him. Until he comes into his consciousness of the errors of this action, we cannot work with or through him. Ones about him have set up the very public image which is the opposite of that which we come forth to disclaim.

I fear it may be difficult to get the information through the interceptors just as in other instances about your nation. All you can do is effort at contact.

You ones are so buried under the pile of work at this time that I would suggest taking your time to bring this contact to fruition. I do not offer a “man” a stage for hate, revenge or hate-filled rebuttal. I do offer a “person” the opportunity to share his truth. It shall not be accepted through greed or “ah ha—now I’ll show the world”. Our mission is to rise above these things and if this is not suitable, then you must bless the dear one and allow him to go his chosen path. He does not realize that in his hate he is casting aside the very thing and Laws of Creation and God which he proclaims. Ye ones simply cannot seem to see of that which you do. THIS IS A MOST WISE OPPORTUNITY TO “TURN THE OTHER CHEEK” AND MOVE ON INTO WONDROUS GROWTH AND ENLIGHTENING TRUTH THROUGH SIMPLY PROJECTING THE TRUTH. YE NEED NOT THROW THE STONES BACK AT THE HOODLUMS AND THIEVES. ONES WHO REPRESENT THE LIGHTED SOURCE MUST RISE

ABOVE THE HUMAN IMPACT IN ORDER THAT THE PUBLIC NOT DENOUNCE ALL. IF YOU ONES BEHAVE WITH THE SAME HATE-FILLED ATTITUDES OF THE DARK MASSES, THEN YOU ONLY INJURE TRUTH. WE SHALL MONITOR THIS MOST CLOSELY INDEED AND I THANK YOU FOR THE OPPORTUNITY TO BEGIN TO BRING THIS INTO THE PUBLIC ATTENTION.

Yes, it is sad that a man must endure 11 assassination attempts—but so do all who bring truth; Dharma has had more and with actual success on three occasions. Further, if ones remove themselves from our protection, we cannot continue the shield—and Billy has all but rejected us and he has not even been able to see through the facade.

Satan’s workers, whether in intent or happenstance, are always ready to step in when a person is down and give great tending and sympathy and stroke the ego until the eyes are totally blinded. I ask that Billy give great thought unto this. The next communication he receives he must demand that if the energy comes tinged with dark intent, that “IT REMOVE ITSELF IN THE NAME OF GOD AND THE CREATION”. I believe he will be left holding an empty circuit unless he truly speaks it with full intent, for they just about have him totally blinded. He has been badly treated but he knew that would be so from the beginning and you ones accept a mission. If you cannot carry the load, then the load will be removed but truth and actions of negativity shall not be tolerated. Bitterness and hate are not of God or The Creation and our representatives shall not be allowed to be projecting those things while in representation of our messages. So be it and may the eyes which can see—see; and the ears with ability to hear—hear! God will never leave thee without ability to return to His fold and His work. I suggest that Billy inquire of His higher friends as to the validity of Hatonn/ATON, etc. We need to return to balance.

Enough, Dharma. Do not be offended if you get a return as, “Who needs you to tell me what ‘MY’ selected energy needs said unto me—do you NOT think they would say it directly unto me?” Sound familiar? or, “This Hatonn must be of darkness, for he says things that disagrees with my own attitudes”. Humility is the first step on the path to God and Immanuel Sananda. THERE IS NO DARKNESS IN THIS PLACE, CHELA! SO BE IT. AND, NO, I DO NOT ACCEPT YOUR RESIGNATION—THERE IS MUCH WORK TO BE DONE AND YE HAVE AGREED TO DO THIS PORTION.

I think it would be good if you and Oberli simply dressed yourselves and either today or tomorrow go into the city to separate from the energies projected. You have not been away from this dwelling in over two weeks and the bombardment set against your place is too heavy without respite. Thank you.

Whatnot to stand-by and clearing, please. Good-day. [END OF PART 6]

CIA MET WITH IRAQI OPPOSITION

By Anthony Shadid, Boston Globe, 2/28/2002

WASHINGTON—A CIA team visited northern Iraq last month for meetings over three days with Kurdish officials opposed to President Saddam Hussein, U.S.-backed Iraqi dissidents here said yesterday.

The team included the CIA's station chief in Turkey and three other agents, who visited leaders of the two main Kurdish factions in the northern town of Suleimaniyya and a second town near Erbil, the dissidents said.

They described the visit, which followed a trip in December by a State Department team led by diplomat Ryan Crocker, as different from past forays because it was designed to gauge the Kurds' willingness to take part in specific U.S.-backed efforts to oust Hussein.

"This was a different visit," one Iraqi opposition leader said on condition of anonymity. "They were asking under what conditions they would cooperate in the overthrow of Saddam."

The London-based Arabic newspaper Al-Hayat yesterday quoted unidentified sources as saying another team of seven CIA officers and military intelligence staff is currently in northern Iraq. The Hague-dated report said the team is scouting three bases that could land aircraft in Kurdish-controlled territory with an eye toward creating a staging point for future U.S. opposition to the Iraqi leader—much as the United States did with the Northern Alliance in Afghanistan.

The CIA refused to comment on either reported visit, but Iraqi officials in Washington said they doubted reports of the current visit detailed in Al-Hayat. "The Americans know these bases inside out. They don't need to visit them," one said.

The Iraqi opposition maintains contacts inside Iraq and is often one of the few conduits for information that comes out of one of the world's most repressed countries. Opposition leaders have said they fear the United States is not serious in toppling Hussein, but most support U.S. intervention as the only way to topple a leader who is zealous in countering any domestic dissent...

One plan backed by some members of Congress and staff in the Pentagon envisions a scenario that draws heavily on the experience in Afghanistan. Under that plan, U.S. bombing would target Iraqi command centers, tanks, and the Republican Guard, while opposition forces would attack Iraqi forces in the Kurdish-controlled north and the south, which is dominated by Shiite Muslims.

The State Department has long dismissed the capability of the Iraqi opposition, particularly the Iraqi National Congress. That group acts as an umbrella group that technically includes the Kurds and all opposition forces and has received more than $12 million in U.S. funds since 1998....

In part to address that concern, the INC announced yesterday that it would bring more than 200 former Iraqi military officers to a meeting in Washington next month in what it envisions as a high-profile sign that it can field an effective opposition to Hussein....

For years, the opposition has been driven by disputes that fall along ethnic and sectarian lines.

The majority in Iraq is Shiite Muslim, the dominant group in the south. But the main Shiite opposition group is allied with Iran, and has distanced itself from the INC, citing the U.S. support it receives.

The Kurds exercise autonomy in the north along the Turkish border, but are wary of getting too involved in U.S. efforts that, if unsuccessful, will inevitably expose them to Hussein's wrath. The two main groups—the Kurdistan Democratic Party and the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan—eye each other warily in competition that occasionally turns bloody....

The New York Times, quoting State Department officials, reported today that the Bush administration is prepared to finance the construction of a radio transmitter in the Kurdish enclave in Iraq or in neighboring Iran so that the Iraqi opposition can begin broadcasts to encourage opposition to Hussein.

"We have given tentative approval to the concept of putting a transmitter in Iraq or Iran, but we cannot support it unless the Kurds or Iranians agree," the Times quoted one State Department official as saying. [JR: The U.S.'s well-advanced plans to extend the "war on terrorism" to Iraq are in total disregard to the world's concerns and opinions against it. The U.S.'s war to finish off Iraq has entered stage II. Now all these plans just didn't come together yesterday but have continued since the Gulf War ended. We Americans should be outraged that we are constantly being lied to and information is being withheld from us by the President, the military and the media. Our silence gives the de-facto, fiat government a mandate to use our U.S. military as the destroyer of nations.]

BLAIR AND BUSH TO PLOT WAR ON IRAQ

By Kamal Ahmed, The Observer—UK, 02/24/02

Tony Blair and the United States President George Bush are to hold a specially convened summit in April to finalise details of military action to overthrow Saddam Hussein.

Blair will travel to Washington in six weeks' time in a clear signal that Downing Street fully backs Bush's plans to launch a war against Iraq if Saddam does not agree to deadlines to destroy his arsenal of weapons of mass destruction.

"The meeting will be to finalise Phase Two of the war against terrorism," a senior Number 10 official said. "Action against Iraq will be at the top of the agenda."

With evidence growing of a Labour Party backlash over American action against Saddam, the Government is now planning to publish for the first time detailed evidence of Iraq's nuclear capabilities. The document will reveal that Saddam is attempting to amass rudimentary nuclear capabilities and is also investigating a way to launch "dirty" nuclear bombs—unsophisticated devices which would nevertheless wreak havoc if ever used.

Western intelligence services also believe Saddam is developing biological and chemical devices which could kill and maim tens of thousands of people.

The Number 10 official said that, as with Osama bin Laden and the war in Afghanistan, it is necessary to maintain public and international support for military action against Saddam.

It was a "public persuasion" issue and would be tackled in the same way as the unprecedented "indictment" against bin Laden published by Downing Street last year with the agreement of the White House.

Bush has been under increasing attack from Europe over his desire to see Saddam removed from power. His "axis of evil" speech earlier this year, when he named Iraq, Iran and North Korea as international pariah states, has been attacked by both the French Prime Minister, Lionel Jospin, and the European Union commissioner for external affairs, Chris Patten. The Foreign Office in particular is irritated by the bellicose language, which officials said revealed that hawkish elements in Washington had won over the President's mind.

But The Observer can reveal that Blair has told his inner circle that he believes the attacks on the President are misplaced and that it is only by the threat of action that reformist elements within Iraq will be encouraged to rise up against Saddam.

In a series of long telephone conversation over the past two months, Bush has kept Blair aware of his plans for military action. Although there is no evidence of any link between Iraq and the attacks of 11 September, both leaders will make it clear that "weapons of mass destruction" are a legitimate target for military action. "The alliance with the United States is strong, it will remain strong," Blair said yesterday at a meeting of European leaders in Stockholm. ...

In an interview to be broadcast by the BBC's On the Record programme today, U.S. Assistant Secretary of State, Beth Jones, admitted that "nothing was off the table" when it came to Iraq. ...

The April summit will significantly increase world tension on the issue as Middle East nations watch warily for any signal that Bush will act precipitately against Saddam.

Many Muslim leaders fear a leadership vacuum and political chaos in Iraq, which could affect the standing of neighbouring countries in the region.

It now seems likely that Saddam will be set a deadline to allow in weapons inspectors who will oversee the destruction of Iraq's weaponry or face military consequences.

The Prime Minister is aware of a growing revolt within his own party and some elements of the British military against action in Iraq.

Intelligence officials in Britain have told The Observer that there is concern about over-committing in Iraq and of making military promises that cannot be kept. ...

[JR: Of course Blair is in agreement to support Bush if the U.S. moves unilaterally against Iraq. The Brits always do because the U.S. does the dirty work while the mother country glows in glory of her empire. The dynamic duo, Bush and Blair could be compared to Twiddle Dumb and Twiddle Deed. Neither one has a sense of duty to do what is fair, right or just when it comes to bringing peace and stability to this world.]

U.S. BEGINS

ANTI-TERROR ASSISTANCE IN GEORGIA

By Vernon Loeb and Peter Slevin,
Washington Post, 02/27/02

The Pentagon has begun providing combat helicopters to the former Soviet republic of Georgia and will soon begin training several Georgian battalions to counter what defense officials believe is a growing terrorist threat in the country's mountainous Pankisi Gorge region, senior U.S. officials said yesterday.

The move to train and equip the Georgian military opens a new front in the Bush administration's war on terrorism and is fueled by a belief shared by the United States and Georgia that al-Qaida members and other Islamic extremists from Chechnya have taken refuge in northern Georgia along the Chechen border.

The mission also represents a belief by the Bush administration that Arab fighters connected to al-Qaida have joined Chechen rebel forces to battle the Russian army, an assertion long made by Russia's president, Vladimir Putin, but publicly doubted until now in Washington. "We have a clear connection between Chechens and al-Qaida. They clearly fall under the potential targets of the global war on terrorism," said a U.S. defense official.

About 40 U.S. military personnel, including Special Forces troops, visited Georgia this month to assess Georgia's security needs, according to Lt. Col. Ed Loomis, a spokesman for the U.S. military's European Command near Stuttgart, Germany. The assessment team has filed its report, which is now the basis of the Pentagon's deliberations, he said.

The Pentagon has already provided the Georgian government with 10 UH-1H Huey helicopters, six for operations and four for spare parts, Loomis said. A U.S. military trainer and six contractors are in Tbilisi, the Georgian capital, training Georgian personnel in how to operate the aircraft.

In taking its war on terrorism to Georgia, the administration is also seeking to bolster the standing of Eduard Shevardnadze, Georgia's president, and build stability in the volatile Caucasus region. Georgia, a transit point for Caspian oil and an aspiring member of NATO, has been considered a U.S. ally since it won independence from the Soviet Union in 1991.

"We're only beginning down this path," said an administration official, discussing the Pentagon's reconnaissance trip. "What we've decided to do is think more creatively. That requires a harder look at the real situation on the ground. And doing this in a way that ensures that the Georgians and the Russians are consulted fully—and that in the end, it's a cooperative effort..."

U.S. officials said there is not an explicit goal of training Georgian forces to capture suspected terrorists, but one policymaker said the potential to question fighters in the Pankisi Gorge is "an element" of the administration's thinking.

Russian reaction to the U.S. mission in Georgia has ranged from fear that the United States is seeking a fresh foothold in the Caucasus to satisfaction that the U.S. government is acknowledging that some fighters in Chechnya and others in Georgia are connected to international terrorism. Russian troops have battled Chechen rebels in the region since 1994 in an effort to put down a separatist movement. The Russian military's tactics—and Moscow's heavy-handed rule—have been sharply criticized by international human rights groups....

The Bush administration, which already supports the Georgian government with millions of dollars in assistance each year, has urged Russia to back off. U.S. officials concluded they would have a stronger argument if they were helping Georgia to exert control over the Pankisi Gorge....

[JR: The Pentagon is working overtime sending advisors and specialists to the troubled areas in the Middle East, Asia and now to the Caucasus. The U.S. in 1991 under Pres. Bush Sr. made an agreement with Pres. Shevardnadze that made Georgia our ally and eligible for U.S. aid that has cost us millions yearly. How many taxpayers knew this? These al-Qaida insurgents are a bigger army than we could ever have imagined. They have infiltrated and are a threat to those countries that just happen to border the Caspian Sea oil pipeline area. It is not the war on terrorism that is the main focus here, but the urgency to secure the area and get the pipeline operational... the sooner the better. The "war on terrorism" is about protecting oil—as President Bush Sr. and the present Bush Jr. administration are all major players in the oil cartel.]

SENATOR, RUSSIA BALK OVER TROOPS IN CAUCASUS

By Michael Kilian, Washington Bureau, 02/28/02

WASHINGTON—Reports that the Bush administration is preparing to expand its fight against terrorism by sending U.S. troops to the former Soviet republic of Georgia provoked concern Wednesday from Capitol Hill to Moscow.

Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov said such a move "could further aggravate the situation in the region, which is difficult as it is."

At a hearing in Washington, meanwhile, Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Robert Byrd (D-W. Va.) warned that the administration should not expect "blank checks" to expand anti-terrorist operations indefinitely.

"If we expect to kill every terrorist in the world," Byrd said, "that's going to keep us going beyond doomsday."

The U.S. forces reportedly would number in the low hundreds. They would train and equip the Georgian military and not directly engage in combat, officials said.

The target would be Islamic militants in Georgia's Pankisi Gorge, which borders the breakaway Russian republic of Chechnya. American and Georgian officials say al-Qaida fighters have moved into the remote and mountainous region, where Chechen rebels fighting Russian rule also take refuge.

The administration hastened on several fronts to downplay the significance of the Georgia proposal. They pointed out that the U.S. military has been cooperating with Georgia for much of the last decade since the Soviet Union broke up and Georgia became one of 15 independent states to emerge from the USSR. They also said no final agreement had been reached on deployment.

Marine Corps Gen. Peter Pace, vice chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said the U.S. military presence in Georgia amounts so far to seven technical advisers. They are helping the Georgians maintain and operate 10 unarmed Huey helicopters provided by the U.S., Pace said.

After a speech in Charlotte, President Bush said that American assistance to the Georgian military amounted to "mainly equipment and technical advice" and that any cooperative military effort is contingent on the Georgian government's requesting U.S. help.

But Bush was adamant that he intends to carry his anti-terrorist campaign to wherever terrorists are found. He also hinted there may be other U.S. military operations the public doesn't know about.

"When this war started, I told the American people that there would be a variety of fronts on the war against terrorism, some of which would be very visible, some of which we wouldn't see much about," Bush said.

State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said the U.S. has no plans for its troops to be used in combat....

He said U.S. involvement in the Caucasus region would serve Russia's best interests.

"We are working for the stability and the security of the Caucasus," he said. "We believe that Georgia's ability to handle these types of problems on its own is also in Russia's interests."

But the Russians made clear their displeasure to what would be a fresh American military deployment in their back yard. Russian generals have been pushing for a joint Russian-Georgian military operation, a suggestion routinely brushed aside by officials in Tbilisi.

Georgia's inability or unwillingness to block Chechen rebels from using the rugged Pankisi Gorge as a haven from Russian offensives is an increasing irritant to the Russian military.

Gen. Pace said it is still early in the planning process.

"So the number of trainers and the duration, those kinds of things, are all part of what would eventually come forward," Pace said. He said arrangements for the 10 helicopters were made months ago and were intended to help the Georgian military with mobility.

[JR: This article puts another slant as to why the Pentagon is sending "technical advisors" to Georgia. Gen. Pace stated that the Huey helicopter deal was made months ago. A press blip on TV (2/2702) made the comment this agreement was made prior to 9/11! Pres. Bush did proclaim after the WTC implosion that we would be deploying U.S. troops anywhere... to places that will be made known to us citizens—and others that we will not be privileged to know. It is the places we don't know about that should be of concern to Sen. Byrd and Congress and to all of us. FYI... they have just reset the "Doomsday Clock" to 6 minutes to midnight. Doomsday may be sooner than we think.]

RUSSIAN PARLIAMENT MAY PUSH FOR RECOGNIZING INDEPENDENCE OF GEORGIAN PROVINCES

By Vladimir Isachenkov, Boston Globe, 2/28/02

MOSCOW (AP)—Signaling Russia's alarm over a possible U.S. military deployment in Georgia, a senior lawmaker said Thursday that the parliament might call on the government to recognize the independence of Georgia's breakaway provinces.

Dmitry Rogozin, the head of the State Duma's foreign affairs committee with close links to the Kremlin, said his committee has scheduled hearings on the issue next week....

Georgia's decision to invite U.S. troops to train its security forces to battle gunmen with possible links to the al-Qaida network terrorist network has drawn widespread concern in Russia.

U.S. and Georgian officials insist no U.S. troops would be involved in combatting rebels holed up in the Pankisi Gorge bordering Russia's breakaway republic of Chechnya.

But Russian officials are especially vexed that Georgia asked for American assistance while refusing to let Russian troops sweep the gorge, about 180 miles east of Abkhazia and some 50 miles east of South Ossetia.

Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov told Secretary of State Colin Powell on Wednesday that Washington should "take into account" Russia's "well-founded concerns that the direct involvement of American troops in anti-terrorist activities on Georgian territory could further complicate the situation in the region,” the Russian Foreign Ministry reported.

Georgian President Eduard Shevardnadze said Thursday that the plan for U.S. military experts to train one or two military units “as the standard” for the rest of Georgia’s armed forces had provoked “true hysteria, and it’s hard for a self-respecting person to reconcile himself with this.”

“I think that partnership and cooperation with the United States is a good shield for Georgian security,” Shevardnadze told reporters.

[JR: Pres. Shevardnadze is vulnerable because of the poverty and economic problems under his leadership and the issue of rampant corruption in his government. Shevardnadze’s agreement to allow U.S. troops in Georgia is payback time for eight years of planning and U.S. aid. Shevardnadze might reconsider his decision that allowed U.S. troops to train his “security forces”. Latest news sources state that the U.S. presence in Georgia is not to fight two dozen terrorist but to secure a route for a new Caspian Sea oil pipeline that will bypass both Russia and Iran. Despite assurances in the U.S. media, Russia may regard Georgia as a threat like Chechnya and make moves along its borders. If the breakaway provinces are persuaded to go along with Russia, Georgia won’t be left to its own fate.]

SHADOW GOVERNMENT IS AT WORK IN SECRET

By Barton Gellman and Susan Schmidt,
Washington Post, 03/01/02

President Bush has dispatched a shadow government of about 100 senior civilian managers to live and work secretly outside Washington, activating for the first time long-standing plans to ensure survival of federal rule after catastrophic attack on the nation’s capital.

Execution of the classified “Continuity of Operations Plan” resulted not from the Cold War threat of intercontinental missiles, the scenario rehearsed for decades, but from heightened fears that the al-Qaida terrorist network might somehow obtain a portable nuclear weapon, according to three officials with firsthand knowledge. U.S. intelligence has no specific knowledge of such a weapon, they said, but the risk is thought great enough to justify the shadow government’s disruption and expense.

Deployed “on the fly” in the first hours of turmoil on Sept. 11, one participant said, the shadow government has evolved into an indefinite precaution. For that reason, the high-ranking officials representing their departments have begun rotating in and out of the assignment at one of two fortified locations along the East Coast. Rotation is among several changes made in late October or early November, sources said, to the standing directive Bush inherited from a line of presidents reaching back to Dwight D. Eisenhower....

Known internally as the COG, for “continuity of government”, the administration-in-waiting is an unannounced complement to the acknowledged absence of Vice President Cheney from Washington for much of the past five months. Cheney’s survival ensures constitutional succession, one official said, but “he can’t run the country by himself.” With a core group of federal managers alongside him, Cheney—or President Bush, if available—has the means to give effect to his orders....

The Washington Post agreed to a White House request not to name any of those deployed or identify the two principal locations of the shadow government. [JR: Anyone in the need of more detailed information read Journal # 3, Space-Gate, The Veil Removed, pages 55-63 written by GCH August 20, 1989! Call 1-800-800-5565 for ordering information.]

Only the executive branch is represented in the full-time shadow administration. The other branches of constitutional government, Congress and the judiciary, have separate continuity plans but do not maintain a 24-hour presence in fortified facilities....

Many departments, including Justice and Treasury, have completed plans to delegate statutory powers to officials who would not normally exercise them. Others do not need to make such legal transfers, or are holding them in reserve.

Deployed civilians are not permitted to take their families, and under penalty of prosecution they may not tell anyone where they are going or why. “They’re on a ‘business trip’, that’s all,” said one official involved in the effort.

The two sites of the shadow government make use of local geological features to render them highly secure. They are well stocked with food, water, medicine and other consumable supplies, and are capable of generating their own power....

Last Oct. 8, the day after bombing began in Afghanistan, Bush created the Office of Homeland Security with Executive Order 13228. Among the responsibilities he gave its first director, former Pennsylvania governor Tom Ridge, was to “review plans and preparations for ensuring the continuity of the Federal Government in the event of a terrorist attack that threatens the safety and security of the United States Government or its leadership.”

[JR: Since Bush has mentioned the Shadow Government there is an effort being made to downplay the term Shadow Government. CONTACT has written for many years, along with those labeled “conspiracy theorists”, about the government’s secret survival sites. Besides the underground shelters, you aren’t supposed to know about the super underground highway that runs from the East Coast to the West Coast. Fantasy? So were the rumors of the Shadow Government that are now being acknowledged. These “snakes”, who are our pampered government lackeys will be well cared for and protected and will want for nothing. Home Security is not about protecting civilians as the term implies, but about protecting government and assuring its continuity. The alarm bells should be really sounding off and we should be demanding answers as to where are our shelters and protection from a nuclear, biological or chemical terrorist attack? If most of us lie dead and unburied in the cities and towns of America, just who will this COG be governing?]

CONGRESS NOT ADVISED OF SHADOW GOVERNMENT

By Amy Goldstein and Juliet Eilperin,
Washington Post, 03/02/02

Key congressional leaders said yesterday the White House did not tell them that President Bush has moved a cadre of senior civilian managers to secret underground sites outside Washington to ensure that the federal government could survive a devastating terrorist attack on the nation’s capital.

Senate Majority Leader Thomas A. Daschle (D-S.D.) said he had not been informed about the role, location or even the existence of the shadow government that the administration began to deploy the morning of the Sept. 11 hijackings. An aide to House Minority Leader Richard A. Gephardt (D-Mo.) said he similarly was unaware of the administration’s move.

Among Congress’s GOP leadership, aides to House Speaker J. Dennis Hastert (Ill.), second in line to succeed the president if he became incapacitated, and to Senate Minority Leader Trent Lott (Miss.) said they were not sure whether they knew. [JR: Are they really that stupid?]

Aides to Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.) said he had not been told. As Senate president pro tempore, he is in line to become president after the House speaker.

Bush acknowledged yesterday that the administration had taken extensive measures to guarantee “the continuity of government”, after it was revealed that about 100 top officials, spanning every executive branch department, have been sent to live and work in two fortified locations on the East Coast. This system, in which high-ranking administrators are rotating in and out of the two sites, represents the first time a president has activated the contingency plan, which was devised during the Cold War of the 1950s so that federal rule could continue if Washington were struck by a catastrophic attack.

It was unclear yesterday whether any federal documents—prepared either by the current White House or by Bush’s predecessors dating to Dwight D. Eisenhower—specify whether congressional leaders should be told if the plan is put into effect. At least one relatively general document, a 1988 executive order entitled “Assignment of Emergency Preparedness Responsibilities”, said the White House’s National Security Council “shall arrange for Executive branch liaison with, and assistance to, the Congress and the federal judiciary on national security-emergency preparedness matters.”

The executive order, signed by President Ronald Reagan, is a precursor to documents outlining the contingency plans in greater detail, which have not been made public. Regardless of whether Bush had an obligation to notify legislative leaders, the congressional leaders’ ignorance of the plan he set in motion could raise the question of how this shadow administration would establish its legitimacy with Congress in the event it needed to step in for a crippled White House.

At least some members of Congress suggested yesterday that the administration should have conferred about its plans, which were first reported in the Washington Post yesterday.

“There are two other branches of government that are central to the functioning of our democracy,” said Rep. William Delahunt (D-Mass.), a member of the House Judiciary Committee. “I would hope the speaker and the minority leader would at least pose the question, ‘What about us?’”

Other lawmakers said they believe the federal government lacks adequate plans to be certain that all three of its branches could function if terrorists disabled Washington.

White House officials did not elaborate on why the president did not consult with congressional leaders. “The president addressed this earlier today, and I will have to refer you to his comments,” spokesman Taylor Gross said.

Speaking yesterday on a trip to Des Moines, Bush did not describe the deployment in detail. He said he had “an obligation as the president [to] put measures in place that, should somebody be successful in attacking Washington, D.C., [would guarantee] there's an ongoing government."

"This is serious business," the president said. "I still take the threats that we receive from al-Qaida killers and terrorists very seriously." He made clear the extent to which he believes that terrorism poses a lingering threat to the U.S. government. "That's one reason why the vice president was going to undisclosed locations," Bush told reporters.

"And I will tell you, there are people still in this world who want to harm America," the president said, vowing that "we're doing everything in our power to protect the American people."

At the Pentagon, which routinely rotates top military officials to secure locations, spokeswoman Victoria Clarke said: "It is absolute common sense, absolutely appropriate that the government should have all the parts and all the pieces in place so in case of a crisis, in case of an emergency, the government can and will continue to function."

The House and Senate each has a contingency plan. "Precautions have been taken and arrangements have been made to move the work of Congress to another location," Daschle said....

[JR: It seems we have a secret government in the White House. We finally got the answer to the question that was on all our minds: Where was V.P. Cheney when he was missing for a couple of months? We suspected that with his heart condition that perhaps he was being cloned. What is most interesting is when I heard the first report on the radio, it was stated that this "Shadow Government" was in underground "cities" in eighteen locations nationwide. Isn't it amazing how when the politicians say they want to protect the American people, they are only talking about themselves. Many of you will recall on 9/11 when Congress emerged from their "bunker" and saw the Capitol dome still intact, they all sang God Bless America. Well I'll ask again: Where are the bunkers for the American people?]

U.S. WON'T STAY ON TOP, SAYS CLINTON

The Canberra Times—AU, 02/26/02

SYDNEY (AAP)—Acknowledging the United States would not be the world's most powerful nation forever might lead to a better approach in its current international relations, former U.S. president Bill Clinton said today.

Speaking at the 2002 World Congress on the Peaceful Reunification of China and World Peace in Sydney, Mr. Clinton said this "brief moment in history" when the U.S. had pre-eminent military, economic and political power would not last.

"This is just a period, a few decades this will last, and I think that all of us who are Americans should think about this and ask ourselves how do we wish this moment to be judged 50 years from now," he said.

"And how would we like to be treated when we no longer have this pre-eminent position and we have to work in a cooperative fashion with others to a far greater extent than we have to do today.

"It seems to me if we would think about it like that it would be much more likely to lead all Americans, without regard of their party, to making the right decisions about how we should approach a lot of these problems that we face."

The former president said he did not want to be critical of the current U.S. Administration.

"I feel that I should be careful in what I say [but] I believe that the [current U.S.] President has been much more interested in international cooperation since September 11th, and I take that to be a very positive sign," Mr. Clinton said.

He also said he hoped President George W. Bush's recent visit to Korea would have a positive outcome.

"I certainly have no illusions about the North Korean Government," he said.

"... But the fact is they ended their nuclear program in '94, in '98 they ended testing of long-range missiles and in 2000 we had the elements of an agreement with them to end their entire missile program."

Mr. Clinton's comments come after Mr. Bush named North Korea as one country in its "axis of evil" along with Iraq and Iran last month.

[JR: Ex-President Clinton has asked a very important question we should all be thinking about, especially the red, white and blue patriots. How would we like to be treated when the U.S. is no longer the primary superpower? You know the old saying, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you". If we go by our present day actions we are in for some very trying and testing times. We haven't become the "world's most powerful nation" by being kind and friendly and doing goodly works that the world has benefited from. Let us hope we get it right before the time grows too short. Clinton must have found a conscience since leaving office to give such sage advice. Maybe there is hope for us all.]

ACTIVIST WARNS OF BORDER WAR

By Robert Stacy McCain, Washington Times, 02/25/02

A border war between the United States and Mexico "could happen any day," a California activist warned at a weekend conference in Virginia.

"We have on our hands a Mexican border civil war that could happen tomorrow," said Glenn Spencer of Voices of Citizens Together, a Los Angeles-based group that supports stronger enforcement of immigration laws. "I think it's a matter of time."

Detailing statements by Mexican-American leaders advocating "reconquista"—the reclaiming by Mexico of territory that the United States captured in the 1800s—Mr. Spencer said millions of illegal immigrants flooding into California and other states in the Southwest are the foot soldiers of this movement. ...

The flood of illegal Mexican immigrants has transformed southern California, Mr. Spencer said. He cited the San Fernando Valley area near Los Angeles, which was 24 percent Hispanic in 1992, but is now 52 percent Hispanic.

While the U.S. Hispanic population is growing, so is anti-American sentiment in Mexico, where Mr. Spencer said "I love Osama bin Laden" T-shirts were popular after the September 11 attacks.

Southern California's powerful labor unions, Mr. Spencer said in his Saturday speech, are now controlled by Mexican-American leaders who have hinted at a general strike if Washington does not meet their demands for amnesty for illegal immigrants. Hispanic activists turned out more than 100,000 marchers to protest Proposition 187, the California ballot initiative limiting benefits for illegals that passed in 1994.

With hundreds of Mexicans illegally crossing the United States' southwest border daily, Mr. Spencer said, conflict between the U.S. Border Patrol and Mexican authorities could touch off strikes, protests and riots by Hispanic militants in the United States—a combination border war and civil war that "could happen any day," he said. ...

"Illegal immigration is essentially creating a Third World nation in Southern California," he said. Los Angeles has been called "the nation's poverty capital" and California has "the worst public schools in the nation," Mr. Spencer said, adding that the state is facing a $20 billion budget deficit.

But the responses of Mexican-American militants to Proposition 187, including their claims to California as "Aztlán"—an independent Hispanic territory—alarmed Mr. Spencer. "I was stunned by what they were saying. ... We weren't just importing poverty, we were importing revolution." ...

President Bush, however, is reportedly considering granting legal residency to Mexicans residing here illegally.

"It is stunning to me that the president of the United States could propose amnesty for 11 million illegal immigrants," Mr. Spencer said.

[JR: The issue to create an Aztlán is not a fantasy and is becoming a critical issue in the Southwest states that border Mexico. We need to increase patrolling our borders because of the influx of immigrants and the control that the reconquista political activists have over them over this issue. When Pres. Bush and Pres. Fox next meet this issue and the control of immigration needs to be addressed before the tensions turn into border wars. The U.S. residents have much to lose and the immigrants have much to gain.]

SENATOR SAYS NATIONAL GUARD TROOPS WILL BE GUARDING NATION'S BORDERS SOON

FOX News, 02/15/02

WASHINGTON—National Guard troops could be helping police the U.S. border within three weeks, Homeland Security Director Tom Ridge told a senator Friday.

In a phone call to Sen. Patty Murray, D-Wash., Ridge said processing and deployment of the Guard troops will begin immediately.

The Justice Department, which oversees the Immigration and Naturalization Service, signed off on an agreement to use the troops this week. The Treasury Department, parent agency of the Customs Service, is expected to do the same Tuesday.

"There are two things that are important," Murray said. "One, that we get these people trained, and they get on the border; and secondly, that we replace them as quickly as possible with INS agents and Border Patrol, because this should not be a permanent solution."

She said Ridge told her the troops will be in place in three weeks "at the latest", sooner if states have troops identified for the assignment. Ridge's office could not be reached for comment.

The government will pay for the Guard troops and keep them under federal authority, taking command from the governors.

More than 1,500 troops could help with security at ports of entry, intelligence operations and cargo or vehicle inspections, among other tasks.

Just who will be in charge of the troops has been in question since Attorney General John Ashcroft announced in December that they would be placed at key crossings nationwide to provide extra support after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

The National Guard Bureau, some members of Congress and others were opposed to keeping the troops under federal control, because they argued it would slow down the deployment and be more costly.

[JR: Congress is bypassed again! The Justice Dept., the INS and the Treasury Dept. have all signed onto an agreement to federalize and deploy National Guardsmen to “temporarily” patrol our borders. If Ashcroft proposed a plan in December to expand and train new INS and Border Patrol guards, why the urgency now to employ the states’ National Guard? If these Guardsmen are to help with security, intelligence operations and inspections, etc. does this mean we are training a standing domestic army to patrol our borders as well as at our airports? This is prohibited by our Constitution! Is there a similarity here with our “Home Defense” and Hitler’s “Enabling Act” of 1933, which suspended civilian freedoms? The above article provides no information if these troops are only from the border states or if they will include all states. What is going on that the government knows that we don’t know and we should know? Suspicious minds need to know!]

IRANIAN LEADER ACCUSES U.S. OF SEEKING WORLD DOMINATION

By Afshin Valinejad, The Nando Times, 02/21/02

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Bush administration’s claim of fighting terrorism and promoting peace in the Middle East is a cover for its goal of dominating and controlling the wealth of other nations, Iran’s supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei said, state-run Iranian radio reported Thursday.

“The rhetoric of the U.S. administration in fighting against terrorism and defending the peace process in the Middle East are only a cover for the hegemonistic plans of the United States to dominate and control the wealth and vital resources of other nations,” Khamenei said....

“It is a shame that a country with a long record of sponsoring terrorist operations, a country that planned and undertook military coups in many parts of the world, a country with the largest arsenal of weapons of mass destruction, and a country that continues to support the most dangerous terrorists of the world is now going to take the lead in the war against terrorism,” Khamenei said, referring to the United States.

Early in the U.S. war on terrorism, American officials spoke of better cooperation with Iran after it tacitly approved their campaign to topple the Taliban rulers of Afghanistan. But recently, U.S. officials have accused Tehran of trying to undermine Afghanistan’s new government and of smuggling weapons to the Palestinians. Iran denies the charges.

Last month, President Bush said in his State of the Union address that Iran was part of an “axis of evil”—along with Iraq and North Korea—because it seeks weapons of mass destruction, an allegation Iran denies.

“Our Islamic country is accused by the White House rulers of trying to undermine the Middle East peace process. They can never realize that the violation of the inalienable rights of the Palestinian people, and occupation of their land can never be called peace,” Khamenei said.

[JR: Our foreign policy seems to be a contradiction in terms when viewed by countries like Iran. The U.S. has passed itself off as a defender of the rights and freedoms of others when in reality we are protecting the interests of those few who control us all.]

FORMER LIBYAN PM ON “THE U.S. AND THE COMPLEXITIES OF THE ARAB MIND”

Middle East Media and Research Institute (MEMRI) #348, 02/22/02

In a recent article in the London Arabic daily Al-Hayat, former Libyan prime minister Abd Al-Hamid Al-Bakkoush criticized anti-U.S. sentiment among Arabs. Following are excerpts from the article “The Arab Propaganda Battle Against the U.S. is a Failure”:

“To begin with, I would say that the U.S. has policies that have damaged, and continue to damage, some Arab interests. I have no intention of defending these policies. However, while we are entitled to criticize this great modern American power—even to hate her—denying the might of the U.S. only damages us.”

“The U.S. is a country of power and means, with the greatest capability in the modern age. It influences policy across the world. Therefore, it would be wise to regard [the U.S.] as an international reality, to learn its policies, and to demonstrate the required realism in our relationship with her.”

“Have we done this? Absolutely not! Since the days of Abd Al-Nasser, in the early 1950s, we have waged an amazingly fierce propaganda war against America. This leader [Nasser] made the war of words against America a reason for revolutions and rebellions against any monarchic regime with any connection whatsoever to America.”

“[Nasser] made fighting America a major element of Arab foreign policy. Many governments used the media to implant in our minds hostility towards all things American—to the point where we became suspicious of the patriotism of anyone less than enthusiastic about hating Americans.”

“Naturally, there was a reason for the rivalry with this leader of the West [the U.S.], as it was America who aided in the establishment of the state of the Jews in Palestine, and then never ceased strengthening it. This American behavior, in and of itself, justifies opposition to American policy on this matter. But our zealous behavior and our broadening of the disagreements with the U.S. were never a successful policy.”

“Yes, America was our opponent on the Palestine issue, but as a people ruled by social fragmentation, weakness, and confusion—it would have been better had we not declared an all-out war on everything Americans represent—as we have.”

“Our extremely naïve leaders have waged wars against America, while brandishing media swords and shooting from the cannon of speeches. Obviously, political battles with words lead to failure and confusion, and nothing more. Thus, we spent a fair amount of time voicing blazing slogans against America. We turned to anyone with a quarrel with [the U.S.], from the U.S.S.R. to the Dominican [Republic]. We were, all the time, doing our best to clear our minds of any realistic policy. We reached a point where we portrayed countries that were [nothing more than] gangs as Paradise and despots such as Castro and Idi Amin as heroes of liberation and the struggle against colonialism.”

“We indulged in the fantasy—and perhaps still do—that hostility towards America heads our list of priorities. We defined an Arab citizen as either loyal or traitorous according to his outward hostility to the Americans.”

“We did all this while ignoring the fact that America, which we hate, is an international and powerful reality, whose influence over many of our vital interests we cannot escape. We ignored the fact that it would be wise to view America with a realism that can protect our interests.”

Anti-U.S. Incitement Has Caused Us (Arabs) Damage

“Osama bin Laden was not the first to threaten to destroy America. Many among us preceded him, threatening to bring disaster upon it to the cheering of the masses. Ideological and religious leaders, and not only rulers, still use their tongues and their pens to destroy and humiliate America—even though this naïve anti-American policy has caused us only damage.”

“Perhaps it is time we realized that wisdom dictates that we treat the leader of the West realistically.”

“Realism does not mean submission to the goals of another, rather, it means treating it in a way compatible with our means so as to minimize damage. America has many interests in our region that it needs to protect... It is a country with a right to protect its interests just as we have. Although the U.S. is an elusive power, it is not a despotic power that cannot be influenced. Perhaps most of the things we complain of... stem from our own flaws.”

We Must Rid Ourselves From Our Fanaticism

“It is the Arab policy that sowed strife amongst Arab countries. It was Iraq’s invasion of Kuwait that created the need for direct American protection.”

“This is the Arab political reality that began the day some leaders instilled within us the intoxication of victory, and the fantasies of brotherhood with the U.S.S.R. and of leadership of the nonaligned states bloc.”

“We should not have joined the anti-American groups when we excel at nothing. Confronting the U.S. when we do not have the means for confrontation cannot be called wise. We must rid ourselves, as much as possible, from our [present] political thought, from our fanaticism...”

[JR: Libyan Prime Minister Al-Bakkoush seems to present a conciliatory attitude towards the U.S. in order to defuse Arab hostilities. Arab leaders have long taken an expedient approach regarding the U.S.’s influence and power. They have dealt in abstracts of idealism backed with a war of words that has done little in attaining a peace for them in the Middle East. The Arabs need strong leaders that are focused on a plan that can build a strong coalition of Arab nations who can agree on how best to support one another. Iraq’s attack against Kuwait was allowed and even encouraged by the Bush administration because Saddam was used to open the door for American intervention in Saudi Arabia and the Middle East. Not only did it serve our interests and our plans but Israel’s as well. The abuses of the Palestinian people under Israeli occupation have not been a priority of the Arab leadership that has contributed to the decline of Arafat and the PLA. What the Arab people and all people must come to realize is that no one will do for you what you must do for yourself. Balance won’t be achieved by pitting one nation against the other or by allowing the strong to dominate the weak. We have not changed this pattern of behavior throughout our history and have forgotten the lessons of cause and effect that create chaos.]

THE STRATEGIC FUNCTIONS OF U.S. AID TO ISRAEL

By Stephen Zunes,
The Washington Report on Middle East Affairs, 02/23/02

Since 1992, the U.S. has offered Israel an additional $2 billion annually in loan guarantees. Congressional researchers have disclosed that between 1974 and 1989, $16.4 billion in U.S. military loans were converted to grants and that this was the understanding from the beginning. Indeed, all past U.S. loans to Israel have eventually been forgiven by Congress, which has undoubtedly helped Israel's often-touted claim that they have never defaulted on a U.S. government loan. U.S. policy since 1984 has been that economic assistance to Israel must equal or exceed Israel's annual debt repayment to the United States. Unlike other countries, which receive aid in quarterly installments, aid to Israel since 1982 has been given in a lump sum at the beginning of the fiscal year, leaving the U.S. government to borrow from future revenues. Israel even lends some of this money back through U.S. treasury bills and collects the additional interest. In addition, there is the more than $1.5 billion in private U.S. funds that go to Israel annually in the form of $1 billion in private tax-deductible donations and $500 million in Israeli bonds. The ability of Americans to make what amounts to tax-deductible contributions to a foreign government, made possible through a number of Jewish charities, does not exist with any other country. Nor do these figures include short- and long-term commercial loans from U.S. banks, which have been as high as $1 billion annually in recent years.

Total U.S. aid to Israel is approximately one-third of the American foreign-aid budget, even though Israel comprises just .001 percent of the world's population and already has one of the world's higher per capita incomes. Indeed, Israel's GNP is higher than the combined GNP of Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, the West Bank and Gaza. With a per capita income of about $14,000, Israel ranks as the sixteenth wealthiest country in the world; Israelis enjoy a higher per capita income than oil-rich Saudi Arabia and are only slightly less well-off than most Western European countries. AID does not term economic aid to Israel as development assistance, but instead uses the term "economic support funding". Given Israel's relative prosperity, U.S. aid to Israel is becoming increasingly controversial. In 1994, Yossi Beilen, deputy foreign minister of Israel and a Knesset member, told the Women's International Zionist Organization, "If our economic situation is better than in many of your countries, how can we go on asking for your charity?"

[JR: Most Americans, especially the Christian right, have been brainwashed to believe that Israel is a small vulnerable state surrounded by enemies. The U.S. dollars mentioned here is just the tip of the iceberg. It fails to take into consideration all the treasuries and banks she has control of plus the technology and military assistance she has been given in spite of the fact she has one of the world's largest nuclear arsenals. Let's just say Israel's rip-off of the U.S. is incalculable and most certainly ongoing.]

SPECULATION OVER GREENSPAN'S FUTURE

World News, 02/27/02

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alan Greenspan has held what is often called the second most powerful job in the country for more than 14 years and under four presidents.

Wall Street is beginning to wonder, however, whether the chairman of the Federal Reserve will stick around until his current term ends in June 2004.

"There has been all sorts of speculation that Greenspan is going to resign early," said David Jones, chief economist at Aubrey G. Lanston & Co. in New York.

The Blue Chip Economic Indicators forecasting newsletter even polled its 52 top economic forecasters this month for their picks of who should succeed Greenspan.

Those who believe the chairman may be contemplating an early exit note that Greenspan will turn 76 next week and would be 78 at the end of his current term.

They contend this would be the perfect time for Greenspan to bow out gracefully, with Fed interest rate policy expected to be on hold for much of this year after its aggressive rate cuts last year aimed at pulling the country out of recession.

Greenspan delivered the central bank's assessment of the state of the economy Wednesday, which he does twice a year, before the House Financial Services Committee.

In advance of those remarks, many analysts were betting that Greenspan would strike an upbeat tone, especially in light of a number of recent statistics that have flashed strong signals that the country's first recession in a decade is over.

But analysts believe he will also stress that the recovery, at least in its initial stages, is likely to be fragile. That would mean the central bank will not feel a need to move quickly toward reversing its rate cuts of last year with interest rate increases.

All of this should be good news to financial markets.

Because of the widespread view that the economy is on the mend, many analysts think Greenspan might choose this year or next to bow out. They also say the presidential election calendar could play a role in his decision.

If Greenspan should wait until his term ends in 2004, it would mean Bush would have to win approval of Greenspan's successor in the middle of his campaign for re-election, presuming he intends to seek re-election. Senate Democrats might well balk at filling such an important job in 2004, preferring to wait until 2005 when a Democrat might occupy the White House.

At the White House, Bush's top economic adviser said he puts no credence in speculation that Greenspan might not finish his term.

"This is at least the 20th time in the last 10 years that there have been rumors in the financial market that Alan is going to retire," Lawrence Lindsey told reporters last week. "I had lunch with him yesterday. ... He has no intention of going anywhere."

Lindsey is a former Federal Reserve [employee] who served with Greenspan before returning to private economic consulting in advance of joining the Bush administration. His view also has supporters among private economists who think Greenspan enjoys the job too much to step aside early and would do so only if his health started to fail. That is not evident in Greenspan's still-vigorous tennis game.

"Greenspan's hobby is crunching economic numbers. There is no better place for him to be," said Sung Won Sohn, chief economist at Wells Fargo in Minneapolis. "Personally, professionally, socially and politically, I don't see any reason he would want to step down."

New York economist Jones also supports the view that Greenspan will stay on the job despite the persistent market rumors. He said there is no indication that the Bush team is laying groundwork for a new Fed chairman by planting newspaper stories about possible successors.

"Clearly, the administration will have to prepare the markets for Greenspan's successor given how important the job is for the economy," Jones said.

In 1987, Greenspan was Wall Street's clear choice to succeed Paul Volcker.

The top choice of the 37 economists who responded to the Blue Chip survey? Treasury Undersecretary John Taylor, the administration's point man on international economic matters.

[JR: I believe "Greenspan" will retire (bailout) when he starts to see his house of fiat dollars coming down around him. He has kept this economic bubble inflated for the past five years to support the dollar—and it can't be sustained much longer and he knows it. When he goes... you'd better be prepared, otherwise you could lose everything when the world loses confidence in the fiat Federal Reserve Note (U.S. dollar). If the dollar goes, which could be soon, the world's economy will crash down on everyone because too much of world trade is tied directly to the dollar. Don't say it is "God's will" when the world's economy crashes... it'll be because of man's greed.]

GOLD IS BEGINNING TO SPARKLE AGAIN AS INVESTORS SEEK STABLE INVESTMENTS

By Aaron Elstein, The Wall Street Journal Online, 2/28/02

Abandoned for years by all but a loyal group of investment curmudgeons, Wall Street has got gold fingers again.

The precious metal recently rose above $300 an ounce, its highest level in nearly two years, and mutual funds that invest in gold mining companies have been star performers against a backdrop of dismal performance in other areas of the stock market.

The rise stems largely from increased demand in the U.S., where low interest rates have made bond and money-market yields unattractive and fears of war in the Middle East have people looking for safer investments. Also giving the price a boost is renewed interest by Japanese investors who are looking to guard against the falling value of the yen. Many Japanese, worried about the health of commercial banks amid a prolonged economic crisis, also have been shifting money out of savings accounts into gold as their government prepares to end blanket deposit-insurance.

To some, the minigolden age has been a long time coming. Indeed, to a group of hardy investors known as gold bugs, the rise in gold price isn't so much a profit opportunity as vindication. "Gold has been a currency for 3000 years and it's only in the past 20 that people have forgotten about its importance," says Henry Bingham, a strategist at Van Eck Global, a New York investment firm that specializes in natural-resources stocks and commodities. Mr. Bingham says he has invested in gold since 1967. "What we are seeing now is a secular revaluation of gold, back to somewhere close to where it belongs," he says. The gold rally has helped the Van Eck International Gold Fund rise by 51% in the past 12 months, close to the 54% rise posted by the American Stock Exchange Gold Bugs Index. During that same period, the Standard & Poor's 500-stock index is down 10.5%.

But before saddling your horse to get in on the action, consider this: Ever since gold peaked at more than $800 an ounce in 1980, every few years prices have spiked, tempting investors into thinking a new gold rush was about to happen. Indeed, some money managers caution that recent gains might be just another tease. For example, gold prices rallied in 1998 after the Russian government defaulted on its debt and the Federal Reserve had to orchestrate a bailout of hedge fund Long-Term Capital Management (LTCM). But gold quickly fell back as investors became infatuated with technology stocks.

For gold prices to rise or even maintain their current levels, experts say, two things must happen: Interest rates must remain low and the U.S. dollar must weaken. Clearly, short-term interest rates are low now, but many economists believe they aren't likely to fall further, and indeed could start to rise if the economy improves. Their argument was reinforced somewhat Wednesday by Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan, who told Congress that he sees signs the recession is winding down. And the dollar remains strong, compared to the yen or euro, and shows little sign of weakening.

The strong dollar is bad news because as other currencies weaken, the amount of gold foreign buyers can afford goes down, thus depressing demand. Also, if gold prices remain high for a year or two, mining companies may well boost capacity, which eventually would boost supply.

Because the equation for a sustained rally in gold prices is incomplete, Bill Martin, co-manager of the American Century Global Gold Fund, which is up 60% in the past year, says now may not be the time to start dabbling in gold and gold-related stocks. "Some gold stocks are up 70% and the price of gold is only up 10%, so something has got to give," he says.

Gold is the ultimate in defensive investing. It can be worth putting a small portion of your portfolio in it, but it's unwise to put a lot of money into gold unless you subscribe to the following: 1) You think stocks are overvalued. 2) You believe corporations are going to default more often on bonds and other debt obligations. 3) Deflationary pressures, or a weak economic recovery, will erode corporate earnings. 4) The U.S. dollar will fall and banks will be weakened by their lending and derivatives exposure to parties like Enron.

Because many gold bugs take some or all of these views, they stand apart from Wall Street's bulls. Indeed, rather than pore through balance sheets or examine corporate trends, as many portfolio managers do, gold bugs tend to be well-versed in such things as the history of central banks' monetary policies. Such histories are useful for gold investors to know because central banks are big owners of gold and frequently sell it or lend it to short sellers, both of which serve to help lower gold's price. "There's a lot more to our kind of investing than figuring out how much toothpaste some consumer-oriented company is going to sell," says Gregory Orrell, manager of the Monterey OCM Gold Fund, who started following gold after his father invested in several mining businesses.

Indeed, the price of gold dipped to around $290 last week after the German central bank hinted it would sell gold—though prices stabilized after investors realized those sales wouldn't occur until 2005 at the earliest. Such gyrations are signs of novices in the gold market these days, some investors say.

And while the Enron debacle might make gold seem like a relatively safe investment, the sector is filled with its own horror stories of dubious management teams touting phony Mother Lodes. In 1997, for example, a Canadian company called Bre-X Minerals burned scores of investors who bid up its stock after company officials told of a huge strike in Indonesia that proved bogus. "Gold is about the most illiquid of all the major sectors that people invest in," says David Gillespie, manager of the Rydex Precious Metals Fund. "It's not a place to play."

That said, there are plenty of legitimate gold-mining companies in which to invest. Mr. Martin, the American Century money-manager says people seeking to invest in the sector should consider Newmont Mining and Barrick Gold. Neither can be considered cheap by conventional measures—shares of Newmont, which is based in Denver and trades on the New York Stock Exchange, have risen 54% in the past year and fetch a hefty 61-times anticipated earnings. Barrick, based in Toronto, fetches 32-times expected earnings and its stock has risen 27% on the Big Board in the past year. Indeed, most gold stocks are relatively expensive these days, fetching on average 37-times earnings, compared to 31 for the entire Standard & Poor's 500, according to Multex.com, an investment research company.

Newmont recently completed its acquisition of Canada's Franco-Nevada Mining and has acquired control of Australia's Normandy Mining, so it could benefit from squeezing out costs, Mr. Martin says. And Barrick, he says, is the lowest-cost producer in the business and also is less vulnerable to market fluctuations because it sells gold in advance at set prices, which protects shareholders if the price of gold falls.

But while the rise in gold reflects a new sense of caution by investors in a world that looks considerably more dangerous than it did a year ago, Mr. Martin says he doesn't sense it will regain its status as the last, best place for investors to park their money. "We live in a paper economy now," he says. "I don't think the demand for hard assets that gold bugs favor is coming back." [MM: ?????!!!!]

WHAT CAN GOVERNMENT DO?

By Don Stott, gold-eagle.com (Gold Digest), 02/21/02

President Bush was recently in Japan. He offered homilies to the Japanese, and his best wishes, but this will have no effect in the dreadful depression that now engulfs them. The Japanese look to government for help, to escape their economic miseries. Americans look to government. The Germans looked to Hitler, and the Japanese looked to Tojo and Hirohito for help in World War II. Victims look to the police, even though they usually show up, after the fact, to fill out the reports. (Protect yourself with guns and security devices. Don't depend on the cops.) The Germans, after World War I, had their surplus assets stored in Reichsmarks, which eventually went millions to the dollar. They lost everything they had, as have a lot of Japanese. Americans have lost trillions in the stock market, but few think beyond that.

A fan of mine, just forwarded to me an article by a noted economist (urp) who works for one of Chicago's most prestigious banks. The article is rife with graphs, statistics, and his opinion about the Japanese yen. He loves paper 'money,' and cannot understand why the Japanese are buying so much gold, and not trusting the yen. He says, "After all, the Japanese yen is much easier to store than gold." They surely are. Eventually a wheelbarrow full of them might buy a cup of coffee in Tokyo, Mr. Economist. Everyone has their own set of hatreds. Mine are "economists".

No matter where one may look: The boob tube, the financial pages of the most revered newspapers, or advice from advisors, it's all the same. One advisor got some friends of mine to invest $100,000 of hard-earned dollars in a scheme that promised 10% a month interest. After a few months, it failed, of course, and they lost most of what they put in. There are advisors by the bushel. Degrees in economics by the hundreds are awarded each year from the sacred halls of academia. Why don't professors and teachers realize that the entire world's system of paper money is fatally flawed? It is like a building with a poor foundation. You can build a magnificent building with a poor foundation, and the first time a little quake or flood comes along, it will all come tumbling down.

Economics doesn't take a college course to understand. Von Mises defined it in two words: "People Act". Another one might be: "Governments always self-destruct, and take their citizens with them".

Almost everyone in the world places faith in paper money, financial figures and statistics based upon the various currencies of their particular nation. Watch Louis Rukeyser, Friday evenings on PBS, and amidst the hokey formality, everyone talks about stocks and dollars as if they were the Rock of Gibraltar. The good old days of dollar stability are long gone. When I was a kid, the small decline had escalated with WW II, and by the war's end, the dollar's purchasing power was half of what it had been 4 years before. My Dad bought a new '49 Ford for $1989, in October, 1948. His new Plymouth had cost less than $700 in 1940. The Ford had overdrive, a V-8, radio, etc, whereas the Plymouth had neither, but the price comparisons are startling, to put it mildly. People continually speak about how they bought their house for $35,000, and now it is worth $100,000, as if they had scored a huge bonanza. They have gotten nowhere. It is the same house. Only the "money" has lost its value.

Most think the government is wonderful. All those bureaucracies to 'protect' the people. Nonsense! The various bureaucracies protect themselves, enlarge their bases, hire more buffoons, and spend more dollars. Are we better off, with the huge government we have now, or the small one we had before FDR? If we are so much better off, why has crime escalated through the roof, as has illegitimacy, racial hatreds, destroyed cities, filthy air, virtual illiteracy, and a host of other ills we didn't have before enormous government, and debased currency. Hundred-dollar bills are as common now, as dollar bills of 60 years ago. When governments run amok, as they have all around the world, the victims are its subjects, who have to pay and pay and pay for all the "benefits". The higher prices go in currencies, the higher wages go also, and the higher tax brackets the victims are placed. A double whammy. The morons who think government is so wonderful, now espouse One World Government. If we have one government over everyone, we will have arrived at Shangri-La, they honestly believe. More like the gates of hell. If a national thing is bad, how is a worldwide, all-powerful one, better?

The poor Japanese look to government, but what can it do? Nationalize the banks? What for? Is a government-run bank better than a private one? If it prints even more money, it will become worth less and less. If it bails out the banks for all their loans, which seemed prudent at the time they were made, the same result will happen... total debasement of the currency. If the Japanese pass laws forbidding withdrawals of yen, nothing would be accomplished, other than further mistrust, and lack of confidence. After WWI, the German government kept the presses running night and day, because there was a 'shortage of currency'. Of course there was a shortage! The more they printed, the shorter the currency supply became, because the more they printed, the more it took to buy stuff!

American dollars are being printed faster and faster, as are all the world's currencies. There are far too few physical dollars around, and banks are always short. Try to get a large cash withdrawal without notice, and you will see. The more they print, the more they need, because the more they print, the less they are worth, and the more it takes to buy things. It is an endless problem, under an inflationary economy, and the entire world is inflating.

The inflation is not the fault of you or me. During the Carter Presidency, slogans were rife about "fighting inflation". Posters and ads everywhere, urging the citizens to "fight inflation". How absurd! We have no control over inflation. Inflation, resulting in the continual increase in prices, is purely the fault of government. I don't print money, do you? Inflating the money supply, is one of the oldest historic tricks of governments to save themselves from improvidence and bankruptcy. The politicians spend and spend and spend, in order to get re-elected. Budgets are continually out of balance. Governments sell more bonds and notes to pay its bills, and every bond and note it sells, increases the money supply, thereby decreasing the value of the currency. It is all a gigantic hoax.

"Economists" and financial gurus continually urge their clients to invest in "secure" government paper. There are long college courses and tests required, to be a 'licensed' financial advisor. Should I get a license? The government requires education, so the 'educated' can advise their clients to buy the government's paper. Students are taught how "secure" government paper is, but are never taught that the more they sell, the less the currency will be worth. Every bond or T-Bill sold, increases the currency supply by that much, and decreases the value of the currency a bit more. In a sane situation, no government would be able to sell ANYTHING, because they could not spend more than they took in, and the presses would only run as often as the paper currency wore out, or the amount of gold or silver increased in government vaults. IN A NON-INFLATIONARY ECONOMIC SITUATION, THERE COULD BE NO GOVERNMENT PAPER FOR SALE. When government sells debt, it is a flashing warning sign. Japan can sell debt to bail out the banks, or take them over, but the problem cannot be solved by government.

It's high time we stopped looking to any government for anything other than as a gigantic roadblock to freedom and happiness. Giving, spending, and printing, are destroying the economic base of savers, retirees... and everyone else... for than matter. Bush is trying to beat Clinton in forming new bureaucracies and spending. Do we need sky marshals, or armed pilots and stewes? Do we need the ATF, or elimination of gun laws? Do we need the INS or just seal the borders? Do we need an additional $48 billion for the military, or to become neutral and bring the troops home, and station them on the Mexican border? We are seriously ill people. Seriously. We are on death's door, economically, and all the manipulations to keep the precious metals low, and the paper acceptable, will soon fail completely. I'll collect my $50 bet when the Dow goes to 5,000. Any one want to bet me on how high in funny money, gold and silver will go? Someone else forwarded me a piece on how to protect America's gold reserves. What reserves? Another myth.

Just protect yourself, because you must realize government isn't in the protecting business. Get out of their cash trash.

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

When Is An Owner NOT A Stockholder?

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #3:

NRS 78.197—Rights of persons holding obligations of corporation

If you own part (or all) of a corporation, you're a stockholder, right? In Nevada, the answer to that question is, "Not necessarily." Let's look at another unique provision of Nevada corporate law:

NRS 78.197 Rights of persons holding obligations of corporation.

A corporation may provide in its articles of incorporation that the holder of a bond, debenture or other obligation of the corporation may have any of the rights of a stockholder in the corporation.

With this provision written into your Articles of Incorporation, you "may have any of the rights of a stockholder"—without owning stock! Thus, the holder of a note COULD own the corporation and could even be afforded the same VOTING RIGHTS as a stockholder—without being a stockholder. And in the absence of stockholders—in cases where no stock has been issued—presumably, the holder of a promissory note of the corporation could have 100% of the voting rights at any meeting.

If such a provision related to NRS 78.197 is NOT in your current Articles of Incorporation, check and see if the following standard clause exists under an Article relating to Amendments:

Except with respect to amending the non-assessability of shares per Article IV, this corporation reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in these Articles of Incorporation or its Bylaws in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute or by these Articles of Incorporation or by the corporation's Bylaws, and all rights conferred upon the stockholders are granted subject to this reservation.

If so, the corporation may "amend... these Articles of Incorporation... in the manner prescribed by... the corporation's Bylaws". In other words, the Articles of Incorporation are modified by the Bylaws. If such a provision exists in your Articles of Incorporation, we suggest that you amend the Bylaws to reflect wording such as NRS 78.197 suggests for the Articles of Incorporation.

If neither of these provisions exists in your corporation's Articles, you might want to file an Amendment of the Articles of Incorporation. We can handle such a filing with the Secretary of State for you, just ask.

Next week, we'll look at what might be called a "turnip" or "prickly pear" clause in the Nevada Revised Statutes: NRS 78.7502.

GLOBAL ALLIANCE INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION

PUBLIC NOTICE

March 4, 2002

This notice will be construed as a continuation of compliance with provisions necessary to establish presumed fact (Rule 301, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and attending State rules). All interested parties have failed to rebut any given allegation or matter of law addressed herein. The position will be construed as adequate to requirements of judicial notice, thus preserving fundamental law. A true and correct copy of this Public Notice is on file with and available for inspection at the newspaper CONTACT which is responsible for publishing the instrument as a legal notice.

This document is to notify interested parties to Global Alliance Investment Association (GAIA) of intent to immediately render assistance to the Philippine PEOPLE adequate funds through GAIA for stabilizing the financial institutions and businesses that they might recover from circumstantial losses through international political interference and intervention.

This notice is being run as a courtesy and public notice of intent to use said assets, first formally recognized January 19, in the Year of the Lord, 2001. At that time the GAIA assets had been duly validated and presented, and notice accepted by the international parties who OWE the DEBT thereof. That Public Notice was the subject of objection and for more than one year GAIA has entertained and responded to the objections of Vina Katherine Durham, who has not only failed to bring the matter to competent court, but has also been forced to disclose documents that irrefutably prove she is neither the wife of Russell Herman, the former custodian of the Peruvian Gold Certificate Bearer Bond called (by George Bush, Sr.) the SuperFund, nor the holder of any interest in Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd., a Nevada corporation established in 1985 to "own" and shelter the asset for God's greater purpose. Her documents have so exposed her forgeries that nothing she might proffer could change anything.

GAIA is an "alliance association", ready, willing and able to serve the global community. GAIA holds rights to claim IMMEDIATE use of funds from this debt unpaid to date against interest accrued and based on hard commodity: gold bullion, coin, or any physical derivative thereof.

GAIA continues to stand, further, ready, willing and able, to make concessions and offer "time" allowance to acquire collateral and will seek all avenues available to establish the gathering in of said hard assets so as not to extend the pain and misery of the people.

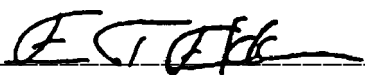

We have offered to support the nation of the Philippines and, furthermore, to not interfere with such institutions as the International Monetary Fund, the World Bank operations, or the Federal Reserve or U.S. Treasury. We make this offer at the request of the former holder of these assets as documented and valid, as his last bequest. This very offering can be recognized as an international resource with credit to the United States of America as now making some restitution to those damaged through untoward activities prior to now.

There is a continuing commitment on the part of GAIA to maintain and respect all agreements. However, since the government of the U.S.A. has violated its agreement with GAIA and overtly interfered with the acceptance of the GAIA DEEDS OF ASSIGNMENT FOR CONSIDERATION, using its IMF to influence central banks, there will be assumed no further objection to negotiate use for domestic U.S.A. through the various states and other jurisdictions thereof. The U.S.A. might find it useful to mitigate the anticipated effect of this action by immediately removing, through the IMF, all impediments to the use of GAIA's DEEDs in all jurisdictions.

As of publication of this Public Notice, no NATION need have further reservations regarding the use of the GAIA DEEDs. IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that a copy of the stamped document returned by the Recorder of Clark County, Nevada will be included as a part of each information package provided to DEEDholders.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned have executed and sealed this authorization as of the date hereof.

For the Corporation, dated at Makati, Manila, the Philippines, this 4th day of March 2002.

WORDS OF WISDOM

FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
