God Will Lead The Way, You Must Walk The Walk

4/7/02—#1 (15-234)

RE: A DREAM IS A SONG YOUR HEART SINGS.
LOSE YOUR DREAMS AND YOU HAVE
BASICALLY LOST YOUR "LIFE"

THANK YOU FOR MISSING OUR WRITINGS

To you who have shared that you are sick of the V.K. Durham and world circumstances which cause you to have to look at the dark side of living—thank you.

You MUST attend carefully that which is in your world of consciousness and get with ever more and more consciousness with every day you pass. But DIRECT that passage of images through your soul and yes, brain. It is the YOU of expression and those thoughts put into action are what LIFE "is". You who wonder what "is" is?—there it is. Living is action which comes from THOUGHT.

Dharma speaks out and says we need a break already from tanks shooting at the Church of the Nativity or the mosque or anywhere else. While we are at it, she continues, we are sick of Holocausts of all varieties and even The Holocaust now claimed as a special fundraising scheme for those who feed off others as parasites always do.

She claims to be tired of whining on her own part and the absurdities of some "lawnmower person" pretending some self-righteous calling to save the world from such as the Ekkers. She also knows that even with dreams unending and bigger than the world itself—she can't carry everyone's dreams and yet feels a major need to carry everyone's disappointments.

The point is to bring forth our own dreams and when they match that which provides great and significant positive changes, we can develop the WAY to manifestation, or "creation" if you will.

Those are big enough and important enough ideals and dreams to merit a hay mower and bailer and never mind the lawnmower. Grass clippings only clog the lawn, so please let us move beyond the crude adversaries and GET OUR JOB DONE.

Other things are happening in the world of family and friends which also need attention without seemingly any way to impact them greatly or, again, with wisdom enough to do anything FOR someone else. Again I repeat: Get our job done and lots of other things and problems will actually fall into the crack of nothingness. We meet those obligations accepted for selves—and people, that is all ANYONE can do. That is taking into consideration all widespread connections. We can secure our own position when we know we are RIGHT, and therein is the fact of it.

Most of you get so worn out with being caught in that lawnmower that you can't longer dream to see where you are going. I do not just speak of night-dreams which often in troubled times turn into nightmares—but I speak of daydreams which offer thought for creation and creative thinking.

You want your children to make the best grades in the school? What do YOU do to ensure they wish to achieve such a position? No, think about it, parents, lest you never have them achieve much of anything. They have to want to do those achievements for themselves and NOT FOR YOU.

Children are like adults—they want to get everything without input from selves while somehow others do the work and somehow the achievement of the few will become the reward of the many.

You always want the “other” to love you like you wish they would and NOT ever like you “love” them and that is in attention to all “your” needs without exacting much from your own emotional stockpile. Twin flames and soul mates are BS—for those are things of spirit and not of worldly just “getting along” from day to day. Sorry to burst your silly balloons. It makes for a nice New Age game or two but it is mostly pure rot. Get a goal to share and you will find twin-growth right along with your children marching with you into achievement instead of wishful fantasyland of fairies and devas which don’t exist except in the creation of your mind at play. And yet if you create not, dream not, think and imagine not—you will have NOTHING. Well, you may well have something you didn’t want at all—failure in your own perception.

You want to lose weight and get in shape? Oh well, big deal. DO SOMETHING to give ability to achieve either. Solving just one of the two will achieve some major measure of BOTH.

I mention this because it is so silly to consider this horrendous problem in the face of 88% POVERTY—even right here in the Philippines. Most of these little people on the worker-bee side of the financial loop are so tiny and thin you can literally see through them if you have the Sun behind them. Then you have the upper-crust bunch who are that thin, thinking it somehow looks good to be walking bones. THAT comes from your Western culture gone nuts, good friends. And then you have the overweight who are totally soft and sloppy from their “good life” while unable to do a physical task without collapsing. Then it is off to the gym—never go get a paintbrush and clean up the place.

But why would God allow such as the circumstances of Margie, Rex and the son David (Margie’s). God? Is that perhaps one of your more interesting questions?

Just a very brief and gentle note to point out that you go about blaming and fixing targets and getting all the help you can of whatever kind you feel will aid YOUR position and I ask you: WHY?

What could Ekkers possibly have to do with Margie’s signing things over to Rex Smith? Now the daughter-in-law goes where for help? To V.K. Durham. Interesting? No, not very, in reality.

Note something, friends, and I could give these people “Xs” for names and give the same lesson but these are names who have made deliberate and nasty incursions into OUR BUSINESS and our very LIVES. That means they have damaged YOUR lives and business if you have shared with this project.

Margie’s name was Berndt. Rex’s name was Smith (not Weeks as per V.K.) and the son’s name is “Shafley”. So, he was either the product of a prior marriage of Margie’s and perhaps she felt the daughter-in-law did not deserve the fruits of a second husband’s earnings or estate—or whatever you want to conjure (right or wrong).

Margie did NOT do her life focus on some old Egyptian encrypted hologram—she enjoyed experiencing in her own realization of what she wanted to accomplish—in other words, her dream.

If she was mislead, then it is another “problem” but that is between those involved and NOT the judges of the intentions of the people involved. If something is WRONG, make it right if you can and then turn to making things BETTER if possible.

I don’t mind being forever crucified because that is one of my jobs, I suppose, in order to grow you out of your narrow and self-styled ego perceptions. But I note: Ekkers are through with the crucifixion game just as soon as they can wipe the blood off.

Each needs the adventure experienced even if you consider it at first glance totally negative. Note carefully and you will realize that if you are in pretty good spirits toward goal achievement that EVERY LAST DETAIL OF YOUR EXPERIENCE HAD TO HAVE BEEN EXACTLY AS IT WAS. You can only change NOW or hopefully as you DREAM or THINK toward a future expression. Simple? As simple as breathing! And, by the way, just about as necessary! One is necessary to maintain a “life-form”; the other offers LIFE.

YOU AS “SELF”

YOU matter 100% in everything about you and your life. It has to begin right where YOU are in every instance. The problem is that YOU often consider that it is “you” in EVERY OTHER LIFE AS WELL. You can only share in perceptions about those OTHERS.

You have to realize that even at a very young age, or any age you find self today, there are perhaps a dozen or less things which happened that have molded your perceptions to this point in your life (whatever age). Perhaps with a child it is a simple focus on potty training or a Christmas gift or some other event.

Then you will find PEOPLE who impact your life—and again, it doesn’t matter what age—try for 10 or even less who greatly influence or impact your life.

Now readers, I am talking about events and people that have really made an impact in greatly changing your whole perception of self or living. These are moments which DEFINE who you are. The people are those so important as to be a relative pivot in your lifestream.

And now look at choices. There will be some choices which will be critical to your living and emotional balance.

AND YES, these must all be included in your dreaming, goal setting and thoughts.

It will not matter whether you have brown rice or white rice under your stew—but it will matter greatly if you are allergic to both types of rice and your very eating or not eating it becomes “the” choice to be made.

Poor example? Well, you have your own examples and rice seems quite innocuous except where rice is the ONLY food staple around and it will RARELY be “brown rice” available.

What have I offered you to look at as guidelines? Well, a good hypnotherapist will take you back through these “stations” and recognitions if they are worth their weight in sand to locate your problems WITH YOURSELF. It is a “guide”, nothing more. But you can find some helpers and walk yourself through these confrontations and exercises to see what it is that “matters” and makes you what you are! Until you sort it—you are scrambling around in chaos of one level or another. And, if you find you hate what you are doing—you had better start the dreamworks and check out what it is exactly that would change your attitude.

I would watch Diane and find the fatigue factor totally debilitating just dealing with the FDA and choices regarding her own actions. No, precious people, if the game can be changed without the major confrontation—or consequences are such that they are acceptable short of a ten-year court battle—go for it. If you, however, are in such a circumstance and would want to become a lawyer—go for the experience. That is obviously NOT what Diane wishes to become at the moment and later is too late to be of immediate benefit.

Look at EVERYTHING as best you can and then make a decision based on best input that returns enough to satisfy the circumstance and negotiate the details. You certainly do not need beat your opponent into the ground where everyone loses. Get the opponent on your side if you can and you will also learn something about good diplomacy. THAT lesson will stand you in good stead forever to come.

Children want to, yes, please their parents—but when they feel they won’t anyway or it no longer matters because they feel lack of self-esteem or just plain aggressive, it is time to check on self and cause them to want to improve for themselves and not just to silently wait for an opportunity to strike.

Are there bad children? Of course—but, mostly there are pretty inept parents wanting too much for themselves and it is almost always an EMOTIONAL need, not a “thing” wanted.

Teach your child to dream and listen to their dreams and most especially the daydreams so that the child can have something to which to aspire. The first dreams may well be silly to absurd but watch out—they mostly are quite big and wonderful.

Most parents are spending more time fighting than it actually takes to “parent”.

Look carefully at what at some point made you feel good about self and check it out—for that is, after all, what is holding you back from achievement right now.

And readers, stop blaming your own parents for your adult errors—you are big kids now and excuses really don’t look good to the children following along in your footsteps.

There are people who spend their whole time conjuring something to blame a parent rather than just fix their own image of themselves.

Now what might be a “crucial” moment when great change is recognized? Well, let us assume you are buried in rubble by an earthquake and you are weak and could die. The minute you decide to LIVE, is the pivotal moment of the crucial decision to hang in there, keep breathing and wait for the rescue or find your way OUT. Miracles happen in those moments, my friends.

Next, when you choose up the “important” people in your experience—don’t just dub in “Mom or Dad” UNLESS they have contributed something that molds your life, gives it more meaning and direction than in the ordinary parenting flow, or truly has been such a point of either positive or negative impact as to literally change your perspective, direction or perception about life as a whole. You’ll find only about five in your life when you sum it up later.

Now, in the movement of this game you will consider carefully these items and people and then, only then, can you EVALUATE the TRUE circumstances and meaning of the relationship or the moment.

And yes indeed, if we did not have this heavy load with establishing a foundation upon which to build a base for using these very life-enhancing programs, we would just have seminars and we would go into business and make an even larger contribution to living than feeding people. The facts are, however, that a starving man cannot make his rightful contribution even to himself.

DREAMS

Yes, dreams have meaning and NO, another person cannot analyze YOUR DREAMS. That is also poppycock to have people claiming to interpret the meaning of YOUR dream. You are your dream; you play every part, every line and write the script. ONLY YOU, therefore, can realize your dream. And yes, it is also simple and a great game in itself to do this type of “dreamwork”.

This is not the point of this writing, however, for the point is to remind you of how important those “dreams”—while awake or sleeping—are to your journey. If you have no dreams, how can they possibly come true? If you have no dreams, you have already arrived at a very hollow place called limbo. Surely if all you have to look forward to achieving is dying; you have real problems in living. And guess what: you who are killing yourselves with one thing or another as an addiction to “escape” living—you are in really sad circumstances already.

A “dream” is simply a train of thoughts and images experienced during sleep. It can also be a distant hope, vision or ideal, imagined in the mind while you are very much awake. Most of these awake dreams you can totally control in order to only entertain the positive plays and ignore or turn off the negative impacts.

When you can ONLY find the negatively impacting thoughts (dreams) constantly keeping you bound, you are depressed and immobilized to change. And YES, you ALWAYS have a choice; in fact, you are the only one who can make a choice about same.

When those thoughts are acted out in hurtful or destructive ways, or are presented as total fabrication, especially against another or others, you are seriously mentally compromised and headed for serious trouble unless you get yourself together and change perceptions and attitudes.

GOOD DREAMS AS IN HOPEFUL VISIONS

That is the point I wish to address, readers. You must realize the value of dreams in your lives which you may well also call goals but which I do not care to define in such restrictive terms. Goals, let’s face it, are the outcome of actions in response to those dreams and visions.

You can dream about getting a loaf of bread and eating it but until you get a loaf of bread and eat it—you have achieved nothing of value, for there is no goal achievement—only the continuation of a hungry stomach which was likely not the goal of which you dreamed.

You will usually see your visions as quite hazy mixtures of desires, thoughts and feelings which get somewhat defined in your “mind’s eye” where you begin to actually “see” what you want to achieve. These will range from the most mundane selection of a tie to wear to making a difference for the good of the world and mankind. Usually there is a learning step-by-step growth involved to reach the desired achievement as wanting the latter goal realized.

You must be dreamers if you are to envision exemplar shifts that can bring about peace, happiness and prosperity to all men and change the world for the best. And yes, God can lead—you must walk the walk.

BUT WHY “SHOULD” YOU DREAM?

God gave MAN the ability to not only dream but to create from his visions. God gave man the gift of REASON which is but the thought clearly recognized and to manifest from those thought patterns—just as you are the direct “thought of God”.

You are given the gift to dream and yes, it is a gift beyond price.

MAN is the only being given the gift to dream UNLIMITED thoughts and to achieve or create whatever those dreams might be. If you can believe it or think it—it shall come to be—if you set your mind to the achievement in point. The whole of the subconscious life stream will work ceaselessly to achieve whatever the goal might be—even if you don’t recognize the walking blocks along the way. This is why you must take every opportunity as it presents because the goal depends on the pieces offered to achieve same. Moreover, you will affix a value to said achievement FOR SELF.

Man is blessed with the power to wish and dream, and turn his desires into reality. Dreaming is a priceless gift that you are blessed with which must be used if you are to reach your full potential as human beings. Remember that a child is born with 100% pure potential.

The gift of dreaming is also noted as exceptional, for it presents in the sleep or in the awake expressions of daily living. Your subconscious mind sends messages and signals through the oftentimes unrelated and incomprehensible images you remember of your dreams, it is important to try to piece together and make sense of the dreams even if it only allows you to put some to the side. It is amazing how much comes from the sleep dreams into the ability to invent, create and find direction along with making choices.

If you have established that, when you are in gross overload and fragmented, you may well have disjointed dreams—literally. You may run without getting anywhere, literally lose parts of you, etc. This is a red-light signal that you are overextended so reconsider what you are doing or accepting into your life and restructure priorities.

It is extremely important to allow the conscious mind to CONNECT with that subconscious mind which drives your mental machine. Unfortunately, you spend so much time programming your subconscious minds to fail you that it is quite sad indeed. Your subconscious mind will accept anything you convince it to believe. Moreover, arguing with it won’t make a whit of difference. It is right there that you lay your limits of what you come to believe are your limitations and unworthiness. It will not give you positive “reason”; it just plays right back what you feed it. It has to be CHANGED at the same level it was programmed in the first place. Sometimes that needs professional help—but note, I DID NOT SAY A PSYCHIATRIST. You are not “sick”; you are simply malfunctioning at some idea or another.

You need to dream because everything (EVERYTHING) starts with a dream (a thought). Even the most tiny wish or desire begins right there with a thought. Worse or best yet, it sits right there as basically an “impossible” dream in your minds until the subconscious works its miracle while summoning the forces of the universe to make it come true or to manifest.

Everything, including your house and all in it, and even your family living in it, started as a germ of a desire or idea in someone’s heart and mind before it was manifest in the material world.

CREATING

The most important focus I would like you to consider is why you must dream, in the basic Godly act of “creation”.

Inherent in every desire is its fulfillment. Everything that you passionately desire will find a way to be manifest and become real. It is an overly generous, giving universe in which we are given to live and experience (regardless of what life-form we may be) and we are all part of the ongoing process of creation. Dreaming starts the Godly act of creation on the human level. Isn’t it incredible that man has created rockets that fly to outer space and submarines that swim the deepest seas? Well, that is interesting—but very limited—although each was birthed with a single THOUGHT.

Again I mention as a very important consideration: IF you do not have a dream, you have no dream to come true. Many just sit around bored to death, weeping and wailing while wondering why your lives seem to be getting nowhere. How can it get somewhere when you don’t have a dream to realize, no target to hit?

And so, if you need to tag along or connect with someone else’s dream—do so, but you have to carry your own load which becomes a part of the whole of the dream in outcome. You can’t just sit and then wait for the perceived parties to come gather you into their dream. This is the joy of a big program in which many can contribute to the whole and all come out worthy and rewarded according to their own individual dreams. If you can help another achieve the dream that benefits all—go for it with the gusto it deserves and BUILD yourself a part of it FOR SELF. Friends don’t live within one another—but rather, share the very best of a friendship WITH the other. I, for instance, will not walk for you—but I will go the whole nine yards WITH YOU if your goal be worthy in goodness and positive growth. I will NOT help evil intent.

One very positive good that comes from dreaming is that it actually gives you a very “natural high”. Get those positive attitudes to work and you will have something to which to look forward and something for which to hope. This one possibility has seen millions through the rough times even as survivors of imprisonment, disastrous crashes, shipwrecks and even earthquake or other natural disasters as they kept themselves alive by the dream to survive and an unshakable faith not to give up hope.

By the way, dreaming keeps you young and very much alive no matter how “old” you are. Old age doesn’t stop the dreams; they only grow more grand and wise. Part of the sorrow of mankind is that too often people grow old long before they ever grow up.

Don’t overlook the wondrous fun you can have just goofing off and watching your dreams develop. It is ever so much more productive than the “meditation” cop out where you just go sit to allow self the privilege of taking a break today. Both have great healing ability but a meditation ABOUT something worthwhile rather than achieving a blank mind, is quite remarkably worthy. It is amazing that all great things come from taking time to think and dream and just be quiet and allow God or that subconscious mind to offer you answers for your consideration.

Dreams are the one most powerful tool gifted to mankind, for each allows you to consider problems, solutions and for goodness sakes, life itself.

Just as with God—nothing is impossible—or put differently: All things are possible. So too, in that state of dreaming—ALL THINGS ARE NOT ONLY POSSIBLE BUT BECOME PROBABLE AND THEN REALITY.

SAD TRUTH

The greater the dream the more others will try to destroy both YOU and your dream. This means, chelas, that YOU must be stronger in your realization than the challengers come against you. Evaluate the impact and the weapons used against you and the final realization will be accurate in your perception.

I suggest to Dharma, every time we confront another challenge—USE YOUR DELETE BUTTON. When something is clogging your pipes, after you have discerned the plug, the cause of disaster or destruction, evaluate the circumstance and confront it carefully and totally—then delete it from your working computer. If you got a computer virus—you would get rid of it pronto. Try it and you will find you like it. Don't forget—just delete that part of the program from your conscious consideration which hacks at you like a tiny hatchet at a massive redwood tree. Evaluate carefully, take care of the disease afoot and put it into its proper category slot. Cover all the bases properly and then attend it if it pops out at you but do not allow it to consume your “dreamtime”.

Once a decision is MADE and acted on, go for it, chelas, and don't live in the constant whipping of self. Take care in what you do, do it for the right reasons and then decide what to do otherwise. That mountain in the way can be crossed in many ways to get to the other side. Don't, however, burn your bridges just to escape some discomfort that you will live to regret greatly. There are no guarantees in life because living requires many fragments and much varied input. Take the route best chosen in careful consideration and then don't waste time looking back all the time while you need to move forward with focus on other things of far more importance. “THAT INCIDENT OR FOCUS” might “have been” the most important—but, once a decision is made to put it aside and move on—DO SO. If, however, you choose to make it a focus—DO THAT with full attention in every way.

Always the best way to make choices wisely is to attend them BEFORE the fact, make them, correct them if necessary but do not give them all the energy which finally runs down your own machine. And always be ready to use any opportunity from any circumstance or encounter, for it will have meaning since there are no coincidences. Here is where self matters the very most, for you must walk with self even if everyone else goes away.

I was asked to speak on this subject today as patience grows thin for all working on any project which seems endlessly tedious. WE ARE MAKING INCREDIBLE STRIDES, FRIENDS, AND THEY ARE FORWARD. We will have several “ways” to move around in the game, for we have done our homework well.

You are at great crossroads in your very world today. We could write daily and endlessly on the various topics flooding from every mouth. But you are NOT getting truth from the media or the politicians so keep your balance. I remind you that it is not that the Church of the Nativity is under siege—it is that any such thing as this “war” has come to pass where an enemy brings weapons against his brother. It is indeed a symbolic place and happening and Man has some very difficult choices to make in how he goes from here. It is a time of confrontation which has arrived and you knew it would be this way so don't cry out in shock and fainting—how did you think it would be? I suggest you keep the rock-tossing to a minimum lest you find self in error.

GOD LOVES YOU ABSOLUTELY.—GCH

RE: V.K. DURHAM COMMENTS ON LATEST (3-28-02) MAJOR E-MAIL DISTRIBUTION INCLUDING MARGIE BERNDT'S DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

BRIEF COMMENT

To be able to do anything else, we are going to have to stop this attention to V.K. Durham. However, we are told to acknowledge the highlights of any further interchange for anyone who brings it to our attention.

V.K. seems to have a major MISINFORMATION flow moving to and from Charleen Safley, Margie Berndt's daughter-in-law, and yet I feel there is little we have of input. It seems, indeed, Rex Smith may have taken advantage of Margie but, readers, she wrote many times how much she was enjoying life this past two-and-a-half years.

Yes indeed, Rex left with a lot of stuff not his (or Margie's) and one of those is Erlinda Tom, our friend of MANY years but whom Rex talked into moving to Tehachapi to be “with him”. Since that happened before Margie died, we have to assume we have missed a great abundance of input and information.

V.K. has claimed that a “Rex Weeks” has taken at least $140 thousand from US, and closed the bank account so we couldn't do anything about it. They say that Insanity often enhances the imagination. From what we see in Charleen's e-mails, that is not mentioned; did V.K. make that up?

It was clear to us that Margie thought Rex was permanent in Tehachapi and would see honorably and in detail to her wishes as regarded her assets and her family. As nearly as we can discern SHE did not expect Rex to “move on”.

Together, Charleen and V.K. seem to be working up some scam (V.K.'s term) to involve the Phoenix Institute and Ekkers and “their Hatonn SPACE CULT ORGANIZATION” as having something to do with “MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR ‘VICTIMS’”, “ORGANIZED CRIME RINGS”, “MURDER INCORPORATED”, “U.S. Govt. Officials being BLACKMAILED IN PUBLIC PRINT”, etcetera, and on and on. The missing persons seem to be Leon Fort, Ann Beam, Betty Tuten and Eleanor Schroepfer.

Those people were involved in years of litigation in support of George Green to retain Dave Overton's gold coins, only to have every case THROWN OUT OF COURT (SOME OF THEM THREE TIMES BY THE SUPREME COURT).

As far as we know, none of them are “missing” or “unaccounted”. So how is that for a “drama” created from whole cloth?

WORLD TRADE CENTER?

Next: “No wonder THE TRADE CENTERS went down... The parties with whom the HATONN CULT was doing business HAD OFFICES IN THE WTC'S.”

Really? Sounds like another “invention”.

V.K. has a new “kick”, calling me “the lady with 21 Alias's” (sic). I have no aliases. I was asked more than ten years ago to PROTECT the names we would be using by having them registered as a business name or “dba”. We researched it personally and were told exactly what to do because already people were starting to claim Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn was directly giving them instructions, giving away our business interests in projects, and especially in publication material. So we did so.

Surely enough, George Green took Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, he claimed, with him to Nevada and everywhere else he could think to use the label. Col. Gritz called one day and asked: “How many of you are there up there, Sir?” Just one, was the reply.

Then came Ed Young, Norey Latona, Rick Martin, Chaos Kali and now, several through Bellringer and who knows where else—for the receivers don't identify themselves. Every time one of them identifies a speaker, for example, Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn and Anthonious (Tonious) Soltec, they LIE. They can come on as any other label but they do not have any right or authority to use those specific labels. THIS WAS DONE TO PROTECT THE PROJECT WE ARE DOING RIGHT NOW. SPECTRUM, for instance, is literally thieving property every time one of them uses one of these “dba” registered names. That is OK with us for now; it keeps our lawsuit against them alive and well.

Now, along those same lines, V.K. is shouting about stuff in the CONTACT from November 1998. We split up with Ed Young's bunch who STOLE CONTACT BECAUSE they usurped the paper. In November 1998 we were in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. WE WERE NOT EVEN GETTING COPIES OF THE PAPER. So, it would once again appear V.K. Durham has large “BY POLOR” brain dysfunction (her words).

Let us share a bit of insanity from her stuff supposedly going to the FBI, et al.: [QUOTING, unedited:]

Charleen. Based upon the MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR “VICTIMS” of the Ekkers & Cort Christi's operation which, based on the January 12, and 14 1996 letters you sent to me, lead to every indication of the old MURDER INCORPORATED “Organized Crime Ring” in full operation once again.

For this very reason of what could easily reach into the 100's of MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR PERSONS as VICTIMS of this aparent MURDER INC. OPERATION to get control over people's properties and Corporations.. such as has been done by “HATONN” aka Doris J. Ekker the lady with “21 registered Alias's”..

Hard copy went to the FBI, FicCen, OIEA, OMBD, INTERPOL, SEC, FTC and “The People” this morning. The reason for sending out to the people; THE PEOPLE ARE GOING TO PUT PRESSURE ON ALL THE BEFORE MENTIONED THROUGH CONTACTING CONGRESSMEN, SENATORS, NEWS PAPERS ETC REGARDING THESE “MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR PERSONS WHO HAVE FALLEN VICTIM TO THE “MURDER INC.

OPERATION OF "HATONN" EKKER(S) AND "IRS AUDITORS".. We are also circulating the letters of January 12 & 14 1996; which will be sent to the Congressmen and Senators of each state by A VERY ANGRY GROUP OF AMERICAN CITIZENS WHO WANT TO KNOW "WHY" THIS HAS BEEN ALLOWED TO HAPPEN; AND WHY THE U.S. TREASURY HAS ALLOWED THIS TO GO ON WITHOUT EVEN A "HINT" OF INQUIRY OR INVESTIGATION. ON THE OTHER HAND, PERHAPS IT IS THE SAME AS WHEN "HERRMAN WAS KIDNAPPED AND TORTURED BY THOSE TRYING TO MAKE HIM SIGN OFF ON BONUS 3391(sic)-181 October 28, 1993; "THE FBI; TOLD HERRMAN-HERMAN; "MR HERMAN; IN "YOUR" INSTANCE; WE DO NOT HAVE THE MONEY TO INVESTIGATE OR PROSECUTE; WE HAVE ALREADY SPENT OUR ALLOCATIONS OPENING OUR OFFICES IN "MOSCOW."

[I realize it is hard to get the full impact of these quotations even though I try to get them exactly as written, semicolons, extra periods, etc.]

[She goes on to say:] "Had the U.S. Secret Service acted on the information handed in hand to them May 23, 2001; WE WOULD HAVE "TWO STANDING WORLD TRADE CENTER TOWERS." NO, THEY HAD TO EMPLOY THAT DAMMED "CODE OF SILENCE" AND PROTECT THIS BUNCH!"

[Ok, let's try another intrigue:]

Let's go back to MARCH 20, 2002 "Hatonn" aka Doris J. Ekker an individual with "21 Alias's" comments about HERMAN RUSSELL as opposed to RUSSELL HERMAN. For the last name to become FIRST POSITION; Doris J. Ekker in all probability has the "software" from CORT CHRISTI'S "IRS AUDITOR" operation, and is ACCESSING Russell's Military and Social Security Records, along with those "bank accounts" which I have never had the financial ability to go check out, and a KEY to A SAFE DEPOSIT BOX IN REGION V. which per Russell Herrman-Herman was found in his brother's "mouth" as his brother DON lay dying in a hospital from injuries sustained by being tied to the back of a car and drug down the rail-road tracks in the Chicago REGION V area. The KEY according to Russell, was THE KEY TO A SAFE DEPOSIT BOX WHICH HELD THE STOLEN "U.S. MINT GOLD PLATES USED FOR PRINTING U.S. GOLD CERTIFICATES." Brother Don was also U.S. TREASURY. This makes TWO "HERRMAN" BROTHERS both of whom were U.S. TREASURY "murdered" by ORGANIZED CRIME. This would account for HATONN'S statements "Rick Martin visited Russell's brother which would be WALTER" in this instance. They were getting more information on THE "U.S. MINT ENGRAVING GOLD PLATES."

Now for another entertaining bit of sea-froth:

Knowing what all I have personally been put through by this RELIGIOUS SPACE CULT OF "HATONN" Doris J. Ekker and her "21 alias's".. I shudder to even "think" what happened to the MISSING AND UNACCOUNTED FOR individuals which must be in the hundreds as in 1995 the subscribing readers around the world were estimated to be 20,000 some of whom were in ISRAEL; IRAQ; IRAN; SAUDI ARABIA; INDONESIA; MALAYSIA; S. AFRICA; THE NETHERLANDS etc; Who were bilked out of hundreds of thousands if not millions of GOLD DOLLARS by this RELIGIOUS CULT SPACE SHIP CULT "HATONN." I say this because my own personal life has been ONE DAMMED LIVING NIGHTMARE over all of this. I also..." [and thus and so for two pages].

[Here is something else that needs to be made public:]

Through the years, I have noticed when persons were having their names put in that paper.. they DIED shortly after.. One such was former ANDREAUS PAPANDREAUS who was Russell's friend, and the Minister of Finance of Greece. HATONN then writes THEY HAD PUT DOWN SEVERAL TRANSACTIONS IN "GREECE"..in those documents which you were kind enough to provide which were sent on to the FBI.. by the local Sheriff's Department..

Oh would that be so, readers, because after the "20,000 subscribers", which overstates by at least 18,700, we don't really have to attend anything else. BUT, too good to pass. The contact with such as the Greek Papandreaus came DIRECTLY from V.K. DURHAM along with a few other Greek contacts which were in, no less, the Greek Mafia. In those days, what name was mentioned more often than hers? Is she dead? Hmmnn, we better leave that one alone.

"Put down several transactions?" C'mon, what would be the basis for such a ridiculous "quote". Is it not strange that V.K. never makes quotes, just claims? I am so embarrassed to have to admit that we were literally SUPPORTING V.K. DURHAM and working on HER PROJECTS and getting deeper in debt on her behalf in 1994, 1995, 1996 and 1997. Her demand for $5,000 to do her "Holding Trust", along with her demand for title to the very corporations referred to in her next quote, was the END.

Additionally frightening; THEY HAVE INCORPORATED U.S. FED. GOVT. CORPORATIONS with CORT CHRISTI'S ASSISTANCE. This is really CONCERNING. [END QUOTING]

We really doubt that anyone can read just these inane quotes, let alone the whole diatribe, without seeing through V.K. Durham. We do not doubt that Charleen will soon recognize the paranoia evinced by such irrational ramblings.

So, why don't we do something to legally stop V.K.? Why? She is entertaining at the least—hangs herself at most. And as far as security of holdings—WE HAVE! The more she rants and raves the easier it is for us to show her for the parasite she really is. Therefore, please, let her rip, snort and bleat—she only digs her wallow deeper.

V.K. says to the FBI, et al. that she doesn't even recognize the man we call Russell Herman and she claims to have known him since she was "15.5 years old and am now 66". Wow, did she forget that she met him FIRST TIME headed down to some swimming hole with her on her HARLEY and him being a swabbie on his INDIAN (motorcycles). We are forever astounded at this woman.

Well, we certainly have no notion about that one she calls Herrman or other Herrmanns, etc. Perhaps she got the wrong clone after all. We certainly end up with the one with the credentials and with instructions directly from him. It appears she really didn't "know" the man after all.

She can certainly make fun, ridicule, nasty or whatever, and it changes nothing. WE HOLD THE HERMAN ASSIGNMENT as well as Cosmos

Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd. along with his instructions and wishes. V.K. may do whatever she chooses with "hers", whatever it might be. It is certainly NOT our fault that they never married to validate her fabrications. However, we enjoy the fact that she herself has produced the documents that prove they were never married.

CHANGE OF SUBJECT

There is an interesting article we will share called the "Copper" Dead Sea Scroll. Hummmnn! Looks like Egypt is "home" after all. Now note please, to you feathered friends of the Phoenix gaggle, we are in good talons with Allhands. It certainly is recognized that if you do it God's way instead of "By God, my way!", it works out well. We are now making great strides and getting some incredible HELP.

It has taken TIME—and time we simply don't ever think we have enough to wait for proper unfolding. God doesn't ask our opinion on that matter, however; HE PUTS IT TO CORRECT AND WE CAN WEEP OR LAUGH BUT SO BE IT.

What about the Middle East blowing up? We are not even allowed to express an opinion, politically or otherwise. We can observe and report the opinions of others because we are of the press.

TODAY we are great grandparents and the hurt is there to be so far away from family. But the KNOWING is also here to realize that we are going to make a difference for ALL THE CHILDREN—one of these days. And yes, YOU have made this possible and we are truly grateful and yes, indebted. We don't mind being indebted, friends, because we see the way and it is great in both abundance and realization.

We also hope you will understand that it is time to be silent, lest we give the adversary another advantage.

While we have to attend these other matters in this business loop, we are grateful for the outstanding dedication to the paper of all you ones back home who support us financially and keep us informed.

Our hearts are heavy when we see U.S. tanks in Bethlehem, yet—at the very Church of the Nativity.

Now, as to Aton, Hatonn, etc., V.K. might leave Charleen confused—but WE ARE NOT, AND WE ARE INCREDIBLY HONORED TO BE AMONG HIS FRIENDS.

Things are coming forth, just like HE said they would and that clarity would come forth when time would be appropriate.

I didn't make up some tale about "Hatonn" to entertain some Lt. Commander Al Martin, as a for instance. The man was horrified to even find the NAME used on his phone line—it is that touchy a personage. Who are WE to be lesser impressed?

But back to names for various energy forms and leaders? I don't have to make arguments for or against but something is right now making headlines and you might wish to pay attention. Please remember that Hatonn has also given us "Aten" and Hatenn as alternate accepted spelling with the "H" being a "sound" as if silent as well as is the final "n". Therefore, when pronounced it comes out sounding like "Aton" or "Aten".

PLEASE, MARK, A LITTLE DRUM ROLL PLEASE. WELL, PERHAPS JUST A BIG HEADLINE SO PEOPLE DON'T MISS THIS. THANK YOU. [QUOTING:]

MYSTERY OF 'COPPER' DEAD SEA SCROLL UNRAVELS

By Claudia Joseph,
THE INDEPENDENT—London, 4/1/02

It is a mystery that has baffled religious scholars for 50 years. Now the secret of the Copper Scroll, one of the Dead Sea Scrolls, may finally be unraveled. Robert Feather, a member of the Institute of Metallurgists, will claim in a television documentary tonight that he has cracked the secret code of the Copper Scroll.

Mr. Feather rejects current thinking that the copper document was written by the Essenes monastic sect 2,000 years ago. A member of the Jewish Historical Society, and the Egypt Exploration Society, Mr. Feather believes the engraved scroll, which lists treasures buried in the Holy Land, is written in Egyptian not in Hebrew.

He suggests it can be traced back to the monotheistic court of THE EGYPTIAN PHARAOH AKHENATEN and Queen Nefertiti in Amarna 600 miles south of the Dead Sea and halfway down the Nile between Cairo and Luxor. He is lobbying the Egyptian antiquities department for permission to excavate the site. The location of the treasures themselves has baffled scholars. Mr. Feather makes a convincing argument for his theories in tonight's BBC2 programme, The Pharaoh's Holy Treasure, but his claims are hotly contested by other academics.

"If the numbering system is Egyptian and the weights system makes sense using Egyptian weights, then why not look to Egypt? It's the logical thing to do. Virtually every major character in the Old Testament spent huge amounts of time in Egypt—born there, lived there, or was influenced by Egypt. It's an undeniable fact of the Jewish religion that Egypt was a powerful force throughout its early history," said Mr. Feather.

The Copper Scroll was discovered, in March 1952, by a team of Jordanian and French archaeologists. It was broken into two chunks and hidden in a cave in Qumran, Israel. Later, scientists, finding it too brittle to unroll, sliced it into 23 segments. The scroll was 30cm wide and, in total, 2.5m long.

Historians deduced that the text, engraved down 12 columns and listing 64 caches of treasure from gold bars to silver ingots, was written in Hebrew, but they were mystified by the figures of 25 tonnes of gold and 65 tonnes of silver more than the entire amount mined worldwide at the time of the engraving.

Mr. Feather, who is married with two children and lives in north London, believes he has found new clues in the text. One is the inverted "u" for the number 10, which indicates that the engraving was Egyptian and that the measure was the 10.2 gm Egyptian kite rather than the 35kgm Hebrew kikha, making the total treasure a much more credible 7.5kg of gold and 19.2kg of silver.

He has also discovered that the 14 Greek letters spell the name Akhenaten the Pharaoh, who was crowned Ahmenotep the fourth but changed his name to mean "servant of the sun disc" after decreeing there was only one God Aten.

"The back of my neck was tingling. It was just one of those moments of incredible excitement because no one had ever before cracked this Greek cryptic puzzle," said Mr. Feather, who backs his theory by interpreting the scroll's words "Great River" not as the River Jordan but as the River Nile. He has also weighed the gold bars found at the part of the archaeological site known as Crock of Gold Square, and the treasures discovered in Queen Nefertiti's tomb, and believes they match the spoils identified in the Copper Scroll.

[END OF QUOTING]

Yes indeed, we have come into "interesting" times. When the machines of war with cannons firing at the very birthplace of one called the Prince of Peace—are we seeing the antichrist? Truth serves us in the very light of its own radiance. God grant us strength to stand strong in HIS great adventure.—E-E

RE: GOT PROBLEMS HERE WHICH MAY TAKE SEVERAL DAYS TO "HEAL". OTHER THINGS CAN GO AHEAD ON THEIR OWN BUT SINCE IT IS E.J.'S EYES, THAT IS A REAL SHUTDOWN

ON THE BUSINESS FRONT: GOOD. THINGS ARE MOVING SLOWLY BUT IT SEEMS, SURELY, IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION PER THE PEOPLE INVOLVED YESTERDAY.

ON THE V.K. FRONT: Please, let us just make sure the Faxes all go to the proper persons and most especially the last ones to Rays, for it does involve J. Jones in a most incredible way.

To Mark: Do whatever you want about putting to press BUT I THINK IT IS A WASTE OF SPACE, TIME AND ENERGY—EXCEPT TO ALLOW OTHERS SUCH AS "JACK JONES" TO RESPOND IF HE CHOOSES TO DO SO—OR RAYS, BUT, DORIS IS THE ONLY ONE ADDRESSED SO DORIS CHOOSES TO SIT ON IT. V.K. CAN'T EVEN GET THE "DORIS JONES ELOISE" RIGHT. Eloise is obviously my "middle" name. What a load of stupidity! I have no objection to any of the publicity, so decide for self. I guess it is a shame to not share but the contents are beyond all reason or logic. [MM: More insane V.K. faxes—No way! Her psychotic episodes are best analyzed by those in white coats!]

ELLEN: Thank you for the notation about "Safley" as referenced to Margie's daughter-in-law (I guess "Charleen"). In stuff sent through other receiving parties BOTH have been used by V.K. It certainly does NOT matter to us.

Mostly, we can't even figure out WHO V.K. is talking about in such as "John Paul Jones", etc. I know now that is "Jack Jones" but V.K. can't ever do even a name twice the same way. Then E.J. makes an effort to correct my errors and WOW! If an "h" is the worst we do I guess that is a major miracle.

I DO know this much, according to Margie's own letters, that she did whatever she did and was especially generous with Rex to, she apparently thought, protect her wishes. We certainly have no intention of tampering in corporations. I believe the assumption had to have been that not only the assets but the corporations would have simply moved to David Safley but we have no way of longer knowing that and with V.K. into it—I DON'T EVEN WANT TO KNOW ABOUT IT.

... V.K. has NO AUDIENCE and continues this BS to simply get her name used where she can be noticed as the fool of the decade. I "delete" her from my need-to-attend list today.

SERIOUS "BULLET" MISS

No, I do not refer to a silver or lead bullet—but yesterday just about brought concern and terror to the "in your face" here.

E.J. has been having flare-ups of the "shingles" he had winter before last that about did him in with the most miserable few months of his entire life.

Even a few blisters have presented off and on since then and they fit the pattern for the description of "shingles" which can, for goodness sakes, keep flaring up for up to ten years. And, obviously do.

So, lately one area after another has presented with first a slight itching and then a small focus point which then spreads. If on a thumb, for instance, the whole hand will within 12 to 24 hours swell to its limits. The pain is, this time, minimal, but the itching is annoying with little to do to help. The thighs are worse in that it starts about the hip area and then swells as in a major insect bite—to the knees at least. Then there are the ankle and the toes and on around the body in one place after another but usually allowing one area to be on the mend as another pops up somewhere.

Yesterday about noon was the one which gives us cause to stop the nonsense with V.K. and get on with my being able to learn how to at least run the e-mail equipment, FAX, etc. We really got a scare which is very little lessened today.

A lump rose at the nose corner of the eyebrow area of E.J.'s left eye. It appeared much like a simple "lump" as in a bump of some kind but quite noticeable in delineation. Then by the time he went to meetings for a couple or more hours, when he came back to the room his eye was almost shut from the swelling. It was and is bruised like he had really had a blow of some kind. Vision was ok, it seemed, except for the swelling around the eye starting to close the eye itself. By midnight the eye was useless, blisters above on the upper lid and under the eye while completely sealing the eye shut.

It was only the left side but that is very scary enough. Why this works this particular way is interesting as it seems to hit one side at a time according to the nervous system. If it had been in both eyes he would have been have been totally blind.

Fortunately, he started polticing it with a mixture of Titanium and the other things we have like OxySol and diluted in Gaiandriana. The eye responded and after an hour or so he could squint out a bit and now after several hours, he can peep out but it looks and is totally miserable. All I can remember and so would our kids was once when a bee stung him between the eyes on the brow and he looked like Mike Tyson after a very miserable fight. This does not, fortunately, give him shock—YET.

I tell you this because it is serious enough to let you know that if we are out of touch for a period of time—we can't do much about it. I can still dial the phone.

Can we handle it? Yes—no choice. The doctors don't have anything to help AT ALL and they just wring their hands and prescribe something that doesn't work anyway. If it doesn't hit his actual vision as damage to the eyes we are grateful. This can also present in the ears and my gosh that would be devastating for he already can't hear. The swelling alone brings discomfort and the process of the disease itself is a real "downer" sickwise.

We will have to go across the street and see if we can find one of those medical eye covers if he has to present in public meetings. It seems, however, that most came yesterday and the other planned meetings which

CRUCIFIXION OF THE PHOENIX

BY GYEORGOS CERES HATONN

PHOENIX JOURNAL #12 (1990)

CHAPTER 20

REC #1 HATONN

THU., FEB. 1, 1990 8:15 A.M. YEAR 3, DAY 169

ORIGIN OF THE CASTE SYSTEM

What exactly is the caste system? What is its origin and what was its TRUE function in society? In the Bhagavad Gita, the Lord as Krishna explains:

"I classed men into four castes and assigned different functions to them in accordance with their different temperaments and past actions. The works assigned to priests, warriors, farmers and merchants, and laborers are graded in accordance with the qualities born of their inner nature.

"Serenity, self-mastery, purity, spirituality, forbearance, wisdom, askesis and ingeniousness—all these are known as the priest's natural attributes.

"Heroism, prowess, steadiness, skillfulness, large-heartedness, in-battle dauntlessness, administrative ability—all these are a warrior's natural attributes.

"Trade, commerce, agriculture and tending cattle are a farmer's or merchant's natural attributes, even as serving men through work is a Sudra's (laborer's) duty."

What he tried to outline was a recognition of the different natural talents and abilities of each individual. In "trying" you can always expect failure more often than you can expect success from your efforts. That is why we use the term "efforting" most often instead of "trying". "Trying" indicates the intent of probable failure. "Efforting" indicates "working toward producing". As you might guess, man took the above classifications and distorted them. The original delineation simply meant that (especially at a time of unequal opportunities) man would probably grow into a given talent or service because of circumstance—and his placement was equally suitable and praiseworthy in the eyes of God. It originated simply as categorization of four types of work.

Sri Aurobindo, a Master Yogi, explains that:

"There are thus four kinds of works, the work of religious ministrations, letters, learning and knowledge; the work of government, politics, administration and war; the work of production, wealth-making and exchange; the work of hired labour and service. An endeavor was made to found and establish the whole arrangement of society on the partition of these four functions among four clearly marked classes. The system was not peculiar to India, but was with certain differences the dominating feature of a stage of social evolution in other ancient or mediaeval societies. The four functions are still inherent in the life of all normal communities, but the clear divisions no longer exist anywhere."

From the view up here—the line of separation may not be as clearly indicated as it once was but in some areas of experience the lines are more offensively drawn and warriors stand posted to see that those ones considered "lower" are not allowed to pass. The separation in the original was not one of hierarchy but only classification of "type". Just as in this little group, one receives, others format, another publishes and yet another prints while even yet another distributes—none stands alone and yet each "job" differs. One can be no more important than another. Perhaps one could consider Dharma's to be the most important, for without her the word would not flow—but, without distribution it would stop at the keyboard. I hope I clarify myself.

Today one can't help but notice that there are still basically four types of works in the world that loosely parallel those outlined. It is following one's own nature (and that is the trick—your own, not another's definition) and developing one's innate talents that true happiness in one's work is usually found. Not all have the gift of drawing; not all have a "green thumb" for growing things; nor do you all have computer brains for numbers and science; nor do you all feel drawn to studying philosophy or religions. But everyone is blessed with certain talents, and it behooves each one of you to discover what are your natural attributes and to nurture them, help them to grow and flourish. For you all have a place in God's Master Plan—and it is in discovering your place or role in the Divine Plan that true peace, harmony and happiness can be found.

What has happened, however, is that some of the groups of self-proclaimed "Elite" have turned to classifying ones as being "above" another and enforces that those "they" consider to be "below in rank" remain unfulfilled to the extent that "the considered-lower" quit, for the most part, efforting at moving across those erroneous barriers. But, in writing their own lines of demarcation they have accomplished something else much worse—CORRUPTION WITHIN THE GROUPS OF ISOLATION WHICH ULTIMATELY CAUSES THOSE SEPARATED AWAY TO FINALLY TIRE OF WALLOWING IN THE "SLOP" "THEY" "ALLOW" YOU TO BE "GIVEN". There, thank thy Creator, shall always be some who will not sit quietly and be murdered in emotion, soul and consciousness and will move on in behalf of "freedom" at all costs to self. But loud, raucous and criminal behavior only causes set-back. Change can only be brought forth through enlightenment of the masses—such as we effort at doing here.

It does require that you, who are pushing for truth, utilize those things (loopholes) written into your "Caesar's Laws" for the Elite, to play the game more cleverly than they who persecute you through habit of power.

You in the U.S., for instance, are now slaves to man-written "statutes"—and your Constitutional Laws are all but forgotten and you don't even realize it. How many of you have a copy of your Constitution and Bill concern us are later in the week and most are "without" us.

I think you can understand here why I can't care one minute about V.K. Durham and her fantasia play. She even has me having some kind of a "love" thing with Herman Russell who she says is nothing like we present him anyway and he never signed anything anyway—it is all hers and was all hers and thus and so.

We have covered the corporation bases and LEGALLY. I don't know what she is doing other than having a total mental separation from reality.

E.J. hasn't even read the V.K. garbage and since it is all addressed to me—no rush. She does say that E.J. and "Don" worked at a high level in BCCI. Crackpot is too nice a term for her.

At her most active it appears she only had about 25 people on her FAX list and depended on us even then to publish her trash. Oh, embarrassment is ours.

We do ask Ron to get the clerk's records up to current ASAP and then let her stew in her own hot kettle.

She says she did sign Russell's name to the "Marriage License" because somehow "your people broke his hand when you abducted him and tortured him..."

Then she discounts all the need for any Powers of Attorney because she had signed everything "anyway"—all of it—and indicates that nothing remains of records EXCEPT for signed papers. Wow, that is going to be a real problem for her as to the probability of destroying corporate records and assets.

Anything, however, that is signed while she showed as an officer is quite valid. She had nothing of ownership or holding with CSEML but she did sign the officers list with herself as all officers, Carol Morgan as a Director and John Ray as a Director. So, corporately, those documents are OK except that she has botched the form which she says registers her holding of Bonus in CSEML while she also says it is in holding in her "Holding Trust". We have copies of those documents directly from the Nevada Secretary of State so rest comfortably, friends. They are meaningless.

We also wonder if Charleen Safley knows that she somehow sent V.K. copies of HUNDREDS of documents? Do I believe it? No, but it certainly does not make me want to spend much time in behalf of Charleen for everything seems to have come from Margie's personal records of which I can't for the life of me understand why they would be at Margie's anyway. No big deal but V.K. is lumping all that somehow into Federal FDA warrants and indictments—even inclusive of Cort Christie. Does Satan flop around on his way down or what?

To John and Jean Ray: Thank you.

To Teri: Yes indeed we will find a way. Not today—but we WILL find a way. We HAVE TO HAVE something to help us people at a very "personal" level. We do the water and E.J.'s blood pressure is holding steady as a rock right through all this assault on him from this viral attack. Water seems to be the only thing that calms the "ulcer-type" pain coming along with this. This too shall pass!

Love and appreciation to each and all of you and we'll be up and running full-speed, God willing, in a few days.—Doris of Rights in your home, much less on your coffee table for ready reference—and do you know what to do with it when you refer to it? Well, we are going to write a lot about your Constitution in a separate Journal and we are going to begin with the mandatory filing of Income Tax forms which is illegal except for Washington D.C. and U.S. protectorates. Oh yes, I know, “they” can over-ride the Constitution and do so at every turn of the road—BUT WHO WILL BRING BACK YOUR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS IF NOT YOU? Almost everyone in your prisons are in there by “unlawful” prosecution. Keep in mind that anything the U.S. legislative democracy does is “legal” because they have written their own laws—but it is not “lawful” within the Constitution. We shall talk about it at great lengths later but Dharma is working so many hours a day that we simply cannot cover it all instantly. We will effort at getting to that subject, however, before the ending of February [1990!] that you might have time to consider what you will do at income tax form filing.

P.S.: Closed this an hour ago but the good news is that E.J. can squint out and see from the left eye—a bit. Bad news is that he has just produced a duplicate nodule on the RIGHT eye ready to run the same "track". I guess we just chalk it up to Manila Malfunctions, pray hard and do what we can.

JIMMANUEL’S (ISSA, JESUS) PARABLE

Lord “Jesus” explains this idea with the parable of the talents where He compares talents to money. In the parable, the master calls three servants and gives each a number of talents or sums of money according to their individual abilities. The ones receiving five and two talents respectively quickly double their number through hard work and ingenuity. But the one receiving only a single talent does nothing; he does not even try to use it or expand it in any way.

When the master returns, he is greatly pleased with the first two servants who have wisely used their talents and increased their size and value. “Well done, good and faithful servants”, says the master. “You have been faithful servants, you have been faithful over a little, I will set you over much; enter into the joy of your master”.

But to the servant who did not even try to be a good steward, who refused to even use the talent given him, the master said angrily, “You wicked and slothful servant!... You ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest”.

He took away the servant’s single talent and gave it to him who had the most talents, for he had used what God had given him wisely, saying, “The man who uses well what he is given shall be given more, and he shall have abundance. But from the man who is unfaithful, even what little responsibility he has shall be taken from him. And throw the useless servants out into outer darkness....”

LORD KRISHNA

From the BHAGAVAD GITA:

“Everyone acts impelled by his own nature: Even the illuminate is no exception. How then can inhibition avail in life? ...

“Tis wiser to follow a line of evolution consonant with one’s nature even when ’tis imperfect than to tread to perfection a path alien to one’s native temperament...”

“A man attains salvation when he cleaves to his own vocation. Let me explain to you how he achieves this when he does his duty. The One who pervades the universe and is the origin of the compulsive urge to action—when Him men worship with their works, assigned by Him as their duty, they attain perfection.

“Better is an action prompted by your nature—even if it is not done well—than the one well done when ’tis another person’s duty, but not your own. You incur no sin when you do your duty that suits your temperament.

“None must disown a work hailed by his nature, even when ’tis defective. For all work is dogged by defects even as fire by smoke.”

Now, interestingly enough, it is actually in going against one’s natural inclinations that one incurs “sin” (errors). Why? For two reasons: The first one being that God put all of you there for a purpose, that purpose being to serve Him in the way that He has ordained. Thus, when one follows one’s nature and develops one’s innate attributes and God-given talents, with total integrity and honesty, no matter what the field, one is fulfilling his or her purpose, playing his or her role in God’s Great Cosmic Play. It is always man who comes along and redefines the meanings of the words. It is obvious that the politicians publicly pronounce (while they are running for office) that they are your servants and only wish to serve and give you-the-people all the wondrous gifts. They know, and you know, they consider themselves “masters” and will give you naught; whereby you laugh at their antics and go to sleep in their speeches—and yet, those same ones move right on into the legislatures and make their “legal”, “unlawful” laws which enslave you-the-people.

“All the world’s a stage, and we are but players on that stage.” Not everyone can be the leading man or lady, but the play can not go on without the stage hands, the lighting crews, the costume-makers, and the ticket-takers! All are equally essential and important to the overall production.

In India, the castes are said to correspond to various parts of the body of the Lord depending on their functions. The priests and holy people are said to correspond with the Lord’s head as learning, speaking and teaching are their main function; the warriors and politicians are said to be from the Lord’s arms and hands as they are His instruments of direction and protection; the shepherds and farmers are from the Lord’s belly area as their works usually involve foodstuffs, etc., and the laborers are from the Lord’s feet as it is upon their labor that the rest of society stands. The idea is that all members of society, regardless of their function and work, are from the Lord and are part of the Lord; therefore, they are all essentially equal—as how can one part of God be superior to another part of God?

Well, one part can’t be more important or superior—BUT MAN COMES ALONG AND REDEFINES THE TERMS AND SELF-PROCLAIMS ONE TO BE SUPERIOR TO ANOTHER AND THUS YOU HAVE THE TOTALLY INSIPID AND BANAL REWRITING OF THE LAWS OF GOD AND THE CREATION.

AND LET US HEAR FROM SAUL (PAUL): HE DID THE BEST HE COULD, JOHN!

“Now God gives us many kinds of special abilities, but it is the same Holy Spirit who is the source of them all. There are different kinds of service to God, but it is the same Lord we are serving. There are many ways in which God works in our lives, but it is the same God who does the work in and through all of us...”

“The Holy Spirit displays God’s power through each of us as a means of helping the entire church.... It is the same and only Holy Spirit who gives all these gifts and powers, deciding which each one of us should have.... Each of us is a part of the one body of Christ.... The Holy Spirit has fitted us all together into one body.... This makes for happiness among the parts, so that the parts have the same care for each other that they do for themselves. If one part suffers, all the parts suffer with it, and if one part is honored, all the parts are glad....

“All of you together are the one body of Christ and each one of you is a separate and necessary part of it.”

Now, I ask you—when your “preacher” gets to the pulpit and reads the above, does he treat you as an equal? Or does he, for example with these JOURNALS, tell you not to partake of them, for they are of the Devil? Do you move like lambs to the slaughter in his “definitions” and “directions”—or do you stand like the “equal” man or woman that you are and proclaim that you shall read and decide for yourself! Do you not see how evil corrupts even the houses of God (especially the houses of God)—for it is the ultimate “perception” and “discernment” of one who has self-appointed himself as your warden? You see, in truth, he would urge you to surround yourself with God-Light and read of these things and if they are wrong, you will discern it and return to that which you feel is correct. YOU ONES REFUSE TO TAKE RESPONSIBILITY FOR SELF—YOU EVEN GIVE YOUR VERY SOULS INTO THE HANDS AND CONTROL OF ANOTHER WHOM YOU KNOW NOT. SO BE IT.

I hope you find it interesting that both the Christians and Hindus use the same illustration of the body of the One Lord to explain this idea of equality. In essence, what St. Paul and the Hindu scriptures are saying is that all human beings are equal in God’s eyes, as every human being is a part of the One God. Therefore, no caste, class, race, sex, religion, nationality, creed, culture and on and on, can be viewed as superior or inferior to another—for how can one part of God be superior/inferior to another part of God? For, have ye not all the One Creator?

EQUALITY OF ALL MANKIND

The caste system, then, was meant as a logical division of labours based on one’s natural attributes. However, the castes were not meant to be in watertight compartments. For example, if an individual were born into a farmer’s household and yet his/her natural abilities and propensities lay in another area, such as politics or religion, he/she should have the right to freely follow his or her nature and do the work that suits his or her temperament. To deny a person this free mobility would be interfering with God’s plan for that individual. I suppose you might agree with me that the Plan of God is most often violated?

One of the main lessons that people who have had near-death experiences say they learned on “the other side” was that it was not only wrong to kill one’s self, as that would be like throwing God’s gift of life back in His face—but that it was also wrong to kill anyone else, as that would be interfering with God’s plan and purpose for that person. In the same way, to deny someone the right to follow his/her nature and pursue the type of work that God has ordained for him/her is to, again, interfere with His plan and purpose for that individual.

Let us look again at the Legend of St. Issa. Issa (or Jesus) was adamant about the equality and equal opportunity of all to perceive God and achieve union with Him:

“He declaimed strongly against man’s arrogating himself the authority to deprive his fellow-beings of their human and spiritual rights. ‘Verily,’ He said, ‘God has made no difference between His children, who are all alike dear to Him...’

“One law has been given to man to guide him in his actions: Fear [revere, respect, honor] the Lord, thy God; bend thy knees only [only before Him] and bring to Him only [to HIM only] the offerings which come from thy earnings... be humble and humiliate not your fellow-man. Help the poor, support the weak, do evil to none, covet not that which ye have not and which belongs to others... He who has recovered his primitive purity shall die with his transgressions forgiven and have the right to contemplate the majesty of God.”

Oh, would it be I could get you to reread the above at least three times—REALLY read it, before moving on.

ONENESS OF THE HUMAN FAMILY

The one you call Jesus said:

“My Father-God, who was and is and evermore shall be... Who in the boundlessness of love has made all men to equal be. The White, the Black, the Yellow, and the Red can look up in thy face and say, Our Father-God...”

“The Holy One has said that all His children shall be free; and every soul is a child of God. The sudras shall be as free as priests; the farmers shall walk hand-in-hand with kings, for all the world will own the brotherhood of man.

“O men, arise! Be conscious of your powers, for he who will—need not remain a slave. Just live as you would have your brother live; unfold each day as does the flower; for Earth is yours, and heaven is yours, and God will bring you to your own.”

Oh, you don't remember that part? Try the Aquarian Gospel of Jesus the Christ! [MM: by Levi H. Dowling; ISBN: 0932813410] It is quite filled with wondrous insight.

GOD AND WOMEN

Interestingly enough, many of “Jesus” disciples and followers in Israel or Palestine were women. Yes, you understood them to all be men? Well what does “disciple” mean? It means admirer, buff, devotee, enthusiast, fan, follower, groupie, apprentice, beginner, freshman, intern, neophyte, newcomer, novice, novitiate, pupil, chela, recruit, rookie, student, tenderfoot, trainee, believer, convert, follower, zealot—how many do you wish?

Man again set his own rules and laws. The women were considered to be “unworthy” by the orthodox Jewish priests to enter into the Inner Temple of the synagogues. Women were viewed as existing solely for the service of men and were definitely second-class citizens, if now even lower in class unto third or fourth. Jesus decried this inequality and the double standard of justice meted out to women, as in the case of the adulteress: “He among you who is without sin, let him cast the first stone.” It would be logical that some of the men in the crowd had even bedded with the woman if indeed she was an adulteress.

Jesus made no distinction between men and women when it came to His followers, and it is perhaps for this reason that Jesus showed Himself first to a woman—Mary Magdalene—upon His coming into his higher being of light.

Better quoted:

“... an old woman who had approached the group, to better hear Issa, was pushed aside by a man, who placed himself before her.

“Then said Issa: ‘It is not good for a son to push away his mother, that he may occupy the place which belongs to her. Who so doth—not respect his mother, the most sacred being after his

God—is unworthy of the name of son.

“Hearken to what I say to you: Respect woman; for in her we see the mother of the universe, and all the truth of Divine Creation is to come through her.

“She is the fount of everything good and beautiful, as she is also the germ of life and death. Upon her man depends in all his existence, for she is his moral and natural support in his labors.

“In pain and suffering, she brings you forth; in the sweat of her brow she watches over your growth, and until her death you cause her great anxieties. Bless her and adore her, for she is your only friend and support on Earth.

“Respect her; defend her. In so doing you will gain for yourself her love; you will find favor before God, and for her sake many sins will be remitted to you.

“Love your wives and respect them, for they will be the mothers of tomorrow and later the grandmothers of a whole nation.

“Be submissive to the wife; her love ennobles man, softens his hardened heart, tames the wild beast in him and changes it to a lamb.

“Wife and mother are the priceless treasures which God has given to you. They are the most beautiful ornaments of the universe—and from them will be born all who will inhabit the world.

“Even as the Lord of Hosts separated the light from the darkness—and the dry land from the waters—so does woman possess the divine gift calling forth out of man's evil nature all the good that is in him.

“Therefore I say to you, after God, to woman must belong your best thoughts, for she is the divine temple where you will most easily obtain perfect happiness.

“Draw from this temple your moral force. There you will forget your sorrows and your failures, and recover the love necessary to aid your fellow man.

“Suffer her not to be humiliated, for by humiliating her you humiliate yourselves, and lose the sentiment of love, without which nothing can exist here on Earth.

“Protect your wife, that she may protect you—you and all your household. All that you do for your mothers, your wives, for a widow, or for any other woman in distress, you will do for your God.”

This does not mean that woman, then, goes forth and battles against man to put him beneath her and proclaim herself above him. In this day the balance has been tilted by the thrusting and “fighting” for equality of the sexes as to become absurd in the other direction. The balance is the respect and love of one sex for another in equality according to the abilities and responsibilities involved. THE BALANCE SHALL NEVER BE THROUGH LEGISLATION—FOR MAN CANNOT LEGISLATE MORALITY! IT WILL COME THROUGH THE EQUAL MEETING TOGETHER OF MEN AND WOMEN IN SPIRITUAL UNDERSTANDING. IT HAS NAUGHT TO DO WITH “JOB” OR “STATUS” AS DEFINED BY SOCIETY.

Clearly, the Master Teacher did not view women as inferior to men. On the contrary, He stressed that it was the feminine aspects of love and compassion that men themselves must cultivate if they are to realize the highest spiritual truths.

Even your current “scientists” are recognizing the need to place greater emphasis on stimulating the right hemisphere of the brain, which is considered to be the portion that is associated with what you have “traditionally” considered feminine qualities—love and nurturance, cooperation and compassion, patience and tolerance, intuition and creativity. However, as you MARCH and demand and push and shove, you women acquire the very traditional attributes accorded “to men”. Yet if you see your own feminine reflection in a male, you denounce him as being a “wimp”.

Likewise you go further and make a big to-do about the left hemisphere of the brain to be the analytical side that controls logic, reason and qualities that have been “traditionally” associated with men. NOW WHO DO YOU SUPPOSE SET UP THESE GUIDELINES? DO YOU SUPPOSE IT WAS YOUR LOCAL DELEGATION OF WOMEN?

Rise above this ridiculous separation of gender; cast aside this foolish perception of division. You are forcing a major segment of your society into proclaiming homosexuality wherein in actuality, the sexes simply are thrust apart and are no longer in comfort one with the other and has actually no relationship to homosexuality in the least—it becomes a behavior pattern and a deadly one at that. You are developing a segment of female that is more violent, more addicted to self-greed, and less nurturing than in all times since creation of your placement.

It is right that women take a stand for equality of respect and in services rendered—but ones must always use wisdom and caution that in the righting into balance the scales are not tipped off-balance to the point of great destruction and past the ability of righting. The perception is that the Mother Earth is coming into her time of feminine projection—can you ones not accept that it cannot be one or the other and maintain balance?

Women are beginning to call for a new vision of your future, politically, economically, and spiritually: a vision of mutual cooperation, not competition; of trust and love, not suspicion and hate. Examples can be seen worldwide as women become more visible and begin to gain a new sense of awareness and confidence in themselves and in their ability to perform the various roles assigned to them in God's Cosmic Play: as wives and mothers, scientists and teachers, social activists and politicians, and above all, as spiritual leaders calling for Peace in the world.

But let us consider what else has happened by not correctly analyzing the problem.

You have continued to misuse the tools of procreation and turned it into some type of “right”—for fun and games. Therefore, being that women bear the children and men tend the woman and child during pregnancy and childbirth, at least originally in traditional manner, it has become chaos.

The children who are birthed are tossed to child-tenders who basically keep the child alive. The mothers move off into the workplace and men feel rejected; to feel unrejected they hop into bed and prove their manhood, thus causing either stringent birth control or unwanted children or abortion. The cycle grows larger and larger and now you have a planet overpopulated by some 5½ billion people and total unbalance between your sexes. You make your marriages and build in contracts to cover the divorces—and the children are caught in the middle of total nightmare existence of insecurity and rejection. Adults of both sexes are so miserably unhappy that escape is sought in more loose morality and substance abuse to simply make it from one day unto the next. You do not look at what the problem really is: You move on in the wave of chaos while asking “why doesn't the government do something, put in more money, use more police, make some more laws” and on and on, without once regaining balance and morality along with responsibility for actions, to solve the problem. You simply remain blinded by the false perception of the problem. YOU CANNOT LEGISLATE THESE THINGS INTO SOLUTION.

YOUR MOTHER IS COMING, ALSO

Indeed, it is no coincidence that women desire to be considered equally and speak up more readily for their “rights”. It is unfortunate that it must be thus. The feminine form of God is returning just as is the masculine form.

The American Indians are awaiting the return of both, the feminine form in the form of whom they reverently label White Buffalo Cow Woman. According to the Indian tradition, this feminine form of God incarnated ages ago and brought the Word of Truth, as well as the Sacred Pipe—The Peace Pipe—to the Indian people. She promised that She would return at the end of this Age to help usher in the New World of Peace.

In an effort to show you ones that in truth there is balance and harmony, the Christed energy was sent forth to be born of woman that you might see that there would not have been one without the other. But most of you missed the point. The very Earth itself is called Mother, or Grandmother. From the substance of Earth you are created—birthed by the Creator. Therefore, you must have Father/Mother God—Mother Creation/Father Creator.

There have been many signs brought unto you in your last decades to help you see the principle but most forget or get lost in the controversy of the churches, whether to ordain or deny the truth of the signs.

The stars in the heavens are verifying the fulfillment of the prophecies, that the feminine aspect of God is also to make Her appearance on Earth and Her influence felt throughout the world.

I do not like to use astrologic signs for description—for the term, again, has been distorted into the act of “fortune-telling”, but the facts remain that the stars do give signs for which you must watch. For one great point is that often that which you visualize is not what “you perceive or define as stars or planets”. Millions of your stars and planets are naught more than spaceships—bigger in size than is your little Earth. They can be rotated and replaced and moved about your heavens at will, without disrupting the magnetic balance of the orbiting solar system or galactic balance.

In 1981, a rare triple conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn took place in the only purely feminine sign of the twelve signs of the zodiac—according to your perception and definition—not so in truth! But for the sake of non-argument (for God will effort to allow you signs which fit into your comprehension), we will use the traditional perception of your placement. This referenced sign is Virgo, representing the Virgin or the Mother. This is the same conjunction that took place around the time of Christ’s birth as nearly as the astrologers can theorize. That one called Virgo was called by your astronomers, historians, theologians and astrologers as being the famous Star of Bethlehem of which the Bible speaks. (Interestingly enough, the starcraft aboard which Sananda traveled most widely is labelled—for you ones—The Star of Bethlehem. I use the term as past tense, for the command ship is now called THE PHOENIX. This does not mean there is no longer a Star of Bethlehem, it only indicates that Sananda Jesus Emmanuel is most often aboard this command ship in these critical times of the cycle closing.)

The expert historians will point out that the magi were highly knowledgeable about astronomy and astrology, and that they understood the meaning of this rare conjunction, i.e., that a great Messiah (Messenger of God, the Word) was to be born. They point out that though the stars do not control earthly life, they do influence and reflect events taking place on Earth—a great point indeed.

This rare conjunction took place in Pisces around Christ’s birth: Pisces being considered the sign of the zodiac representing the Son and corresponding on the Earth to the country of Palestine, and placed exactly opposite Virgo, representing the Virgin or the Mother, on the zodiac! Isn’t it interesting that Emmanuel, the Son, was born of Mary, the Mother (Virgin)! (By the way—“virgin” had a much different definition than you tout of it!) This rare conjunction also took place at the time of the Buddha’s birth in 563 B.C., and again forty years later at the time of His “Enlightenment”. Coincidence, perhaps?

Dharma, we need a respite. We will continue with “God the Mother” at our subsequent sitting.

Thank you for your attention,

CHAPTER 21

REC #2 HATONN

THU., FEB. 1, 1990 2:41 P.M. YEAR 3, DAY 169

GOD THE MOTHER

I would like to point out that many of the various aspects of God which have come as visions during this century have come in the feminine form. Most of the visions which are considered to be Holy have involved, not God as the Father but God as the Holy Mother, as with the visions the Holy Mother at Lourdes, France, Fatima, Portugal, and elsewhere, including a vision of the Mother seen by Catholicism’s newest canonized saint—Maximilian Kolbe, a Polish priest and victim of Hitler’s notorious concentration camp—Auschwitz.

Maximilian’s vision came to him one day while praying in church when he was still just a boy. He had a vision of the Holy Mother holding two crowns, one red and one white. She told him that the white crown meant that he would remain pure and that the red crown meant that he would be a martyr. Both aspects of the vision came true as Maximilian remained pure in heart and became a Franciscan priest devoted to the Mother. Years later he volunteered to starve to death in place of another man in Auschwitz death-camp. The man whose life he saved had been one of the ten prisoners chosen by the Nazis to starve to death as a reprisal against the whole camp for the escape of one prisoner. The man had a wife and children, so Kolbe volunteered to take his place in the underground “hunger bunker” instead. After two weeks, Kolbe was still alive, so the Nazis injected him with a lethal drug. Thus, the second half of the vision was fulfilled, and Kolbe’s sacrifice helped to stimulate courage and brotherly love among the rest of the prisoners at Auschwitz.

The other visions of the Mother mentioned herein have also been accepted as true occurrences and we are asked about them constantly. They have been accompanied by miraculous healings and signs in the sky, such as the appearance of the Sun falling in Fatima, which was witnessed and verified by tens of thousands of individuals. In fact, one of the main reasons given by the Holy Mother at Fatima as to why She had made Her appearance at that time was that God wanted the world to begin consciously revering the feminine aspect of the universe and the relationship with our Creation, and not a single focus upon Creator, for the Laws of The Creation are above all.

There was great meaning in the Fatima appearance and the prophecy given forth by the Mother. Let us examine that incident in more detail.

FATIMA PROPHECY

Millions of people believe that the prophecies of Fatima are coming true in this current time. Today’s chaotic situation in the churches and government offices of Christendom is close to the situation predicted more than seventy years ago and the worst is yet to come.

What is the Fatima Prophecy? It is a detailed prediction of things to come as revealed by an apparition of the Beloved Mary which appeared to three young children on six occasions during the summer and fall of 1917. The appearances took place near the village of Fatima, Portugal, about seventy miles northeast of Lisbon.

Because of mounting evidence that the appearances were truly miracles, the Catholic Church in 1930 authorized a cult of Our Lady of Fatima. The site where the visions took place has become an important shrine and annual pilgrimages are made to Fatima by devout Catholics on May 12 and 13.

The apparition appeared to the three children—Jacinta, Francisco and Lucia—aged 10, 9 and 7½. The first appearance was on May 13, 1917; the last on October 13, 1917. This last appearance culminated in the one well-recorded miracle of the 20th Century.

THE SUN MOVED

On that day, at about 11:30 a.m., some 70,000 people including reporters from Lisbon newspapers, were shocked when they saw, in the middle of a cloudy day, the sky rend and the Sun execute a “dance” above them, as the three children conversed with some apparition visible only to them. (The apparition appeared to the children on the 13th of each month and the public and press were on hand to witness the October 13 “performance”.)

According to one Catholic dictionary—which bears the imprimatur of the late Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York—the Sun “began to spin like a wheel in the sky”. Sounds pretty familiar and suspicious to me.

On this final appearance, the children reported that they saw the apparition cause a shaft of light to open the Earth and reveal an immense sea of fire—Hell. The apparition also foretold a rapid end of World War I and the occurrence, before long, of an even worse global conflagration in which “many nations will be annihilated”. Could this have possibly been a shaft of light presenting a holograph as utilized in SIPAPU ODYSSEY?

SECRET MESSAGE

There was also a secret “third” part of the prophecies given only to the sole survivor of the three children, Lucia dos Santos, who became a Carmelite nun in Coimbra. She kept up a correspondence with Pope Pius XI (Achille Ratti) and Pope Pius XII (Eugenio Pacelli), the two anti-Bolshevik popes who guided the Roman Catholic Church in its violent opposition to Communism and Soviet designs from 1922 to 1958. No, I am not going to bring into this issue the Catholic vs. Protestants—that is exactly what is wrong with your world, bigotry and foolish divisions in the name of one who taught you nothing of that which religions practice. I speak here of a perceived miracle and you ones must move beyond “whose miracles?” It was God’s message unto his people.

Pope Paul VI (Giovanni Battista Montini) read the secret message when he assumed the supreme Catholic office in June 1963 and immediately called in both President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev (a most interesting grouping, don't you think?) to whom the secret message was apparently read. Some observers said that this started both nations on talks which led to the nuclear bomb agreement.

Pope Paul did not see fit to proclaim the warnings contained in the secret message, nor to acknowledge that the published versions are accurate. Some observers felt that the violent anti-Communist and anti-Soviet stands that Pius XI and Pius XII took were the result of the content of the secret prophecy.

A SECRET TOLD IS A SECRET NO MORE

Despite the strictest secrecy, the secret "third" part of the prophecy has become available to your press and is considered authentic. It was first published in a German newspaper, Neues Europa on October 15, 1963 and in a French paper, Le Monde et la Vie, in September 1964. Well, perhaps the French didn't read German and the English read neither German nor French.

Since that time the message has been republished in the United States, with minor changes in phrasing (the "men" cannot bear to leave a thing alone but must tamper), but all in substantial agreement with what is purported to be the official version. It has been given ecclesiastical approval subject to the declaration that "the final and decisive judgment on the facts belonged exclusively to the Supreme Magisterium of the Church whose decision you accept from the very moment it is pronounced by the Pope." Of course. Well, thank God it happened or certainly it "could" not have happened—just like the Emperor's new clothes—the naked truth is often so obvious that you must close of your eyes to ensure of it.

NASTY PREDICTIONS

The terrible predictions made in the "third" part of the message reveal the reasons why none of the popes had seen fit to make it public. Here is the secret prophecy as circulated by American Catholic groups. Surely, I shall not quarrel on such good authority—at this time.

"Do not be troubled, dear child, I am the Mother of God who is speaking to you and begging you to announce the following message to the entire world in my name. On doing so you will meet with strong opposition. But be strong in faith and you will triumph over all opposition. Listen carefully and remember what I tell you. Good people must be better. They must implore God to forgive the sins they have committed and will in the future commit. You ask Me for a sign so all may comprehend the words which I am addressing to mankind through you. You have just beheld that miracle, the great miracle of the Sun! Everybody saw it, believers and unbelievers. And now, in My name, it is proclaimed.

"A great chastisement will come over all mankind, not today or tomorrow, but in the second half of the Twentieth Century. What I have already announced at LaSalette through the children Melanie and Maximin, I repeat to you now. Humanity has not developed, as God desired. Mankind has been sacrilegious and has trampled underfoot, the wondrous Blessings of God. No longer does order reign anywhere. Even in the highest places, Satan reigns and directs the course of things. SATAN WILL EVEN SUCCEED IN INFILTRATING INTO THE HIGHEST POSITIONS IN THE CHURCH.

Satan will succeed in sowing confusion in the minds of scientists who design weapons that can destroy great portions of mankind in short periods. Satan will gain hold of the heads of nations and will cause these destructive weapons to be mass-produced.

"If mankind will not oppose these evils, I will be obliged to let the Arm of My Son drop in vengeance. If the chief rulers of the world and of the Church will not actively oppose these evils, I will ask God My Father to bring His Justice to bear on mankind. Then will God punish mankind even more severely and heavily than He did at the time of the great deluge.

"But a time of very severe trial is also coming for the Church. Cardinals will oppose Cardinals and Bishops will oppose Bishops. Satan will enter into their very midst and will walk in their ranks. In Rome also will occur great changes. What is rotten will fall and what falls must not be retained. The Church will be obscured and all the world will be thrown into great confusion.

"The great, great war will come in the second half of the Twentieth Century. Fire and smoke will drop from heavens and the waters of the ocean will turn to steam throwing their foam to the very sky. Whatever is standing will be overturned. Millions of people will die. Those surviving will envy the dead. Distress, misery and desolation will be found the world over. The time is drawing nearer and the abyss is ever deepening and there will be no escape. The great and powerful will perish with the lowly and meek, the good will die with the wicked, the Princes of the Church with their faithful, and the rulers of nations with their people. Death will reign everywhere, raised to triumph by erring men. THE HELPERS OF SATAN WILL BE THE MASTERS OF THE EARTH. These evils will come at a time when no one expects it, nevertheless it must come as punishment and revenge in accordance with God's Plan. Later, however, God and His Glory will once more be invoked and will once more be served as He was not so long ago, when the Word had not yet been corrupted.

"The time of times is coming, the end of all ends, if mankind is not converted. Woe, woe if that conversion does not come about and if everything remains as it is now or worsens.

"I call upon all true followers of My Son the Christ to go and announce this: For I will always be at your side to assist you."

WELL, WHERE ARE WE?

Seems to me that you should have heard this message before—from several sources in almost identical words. Why would it be so shocking? When I tell you, for that matter, do you simply denounce me as some fantasy "space cadet"? Because man remains ever the up-side-down ostrich who likes the flavor of sand in the mouth? You are not "popular" if you simply stick with the truth; 'tis always more popular to tell all those drooling non-thinkers exactly that which they want to hear—it helps fill the collection plates on Sunday.

Just as the early prophecies of the apparition (which foretold, for example, the rise of Communism), this final prophecy is also coming true.

Even on a strictly scientific level, such statements as, "Mankind has been sacrilegious and has trampled underfoot, the wondrous Blessings of God", are all too true, as any student of ecology will shout from the edge of the grave.

The infiltration of your churches by evil-shrouded clergy, including even bishops, is proof that, "Satan will even succeed in infiltrating into the highest positions in the Churches"—he certainly has taken a whopping big slice from the TV religious teachers and they are noted because they are so blatantly public. It has happened in every orthodox church because it has occurred at the level where the rules are laid down for the outlying ministers unto the flocks. Many clergymen actually proclaim that "God is dead", teach immorality and make new laws and commandments to "suit the more modern needs". They actually TEACH IMMORALITY AND SANCTION IMMORAL BEHAVIOR EVEN UNTO THE CHILDREN. "LET US TEACH THEM 'SAFE SEX' IN GRADE SCHOOL!!!!" Some actually engage in subversive activities under the shelter of the cloak called God.

Some of your brethren claim that the upheaval is hurting the Catholic Church the most. A substantial number of Catholics have chosen up sides and are in all-out hostile confrontations with each other and the church hierarchy. Well, not to be different—it is throughout the world in every "denomination" and one denomination unto another.

For the biggest blow of all to you patriots who tag along in your dreamland ideology. What actually caused the most horrendous shock of all from the messages is known unto but a very few and look around before you deny of this:

Among the many other things the little ignorant and illiterate peasant children said—and hold your breath America—was that Russia would not only "spread her errors throughout the world", as she already has done, but that THREE (3) COMMUNIST EMPIRES WOULD EMERGE ON THE WORLD SCENE—RUSSIA, THE UNITED STATES AND CHINA!

One must bear in mind, that these children, hidden away in a crevice of Portugal, were not even aware in October 1917, that a world war was under way, and that never had they heard of Russia. At their very tender age, they had never heard of Communism—which, of course, was not even known as a world-government in 1917. In fact, the Bolshevik Revolution was hardly a whisper in the world at that time. Yet these little ones, one so young that even in America he would only be about the age of kindergarten or first grade, conversed with the Blessed Mother on the subject of Sovietism and Communism and the three Soviet empires to emerge far later in the 20th Century! Ah yes, out of the mouths of babes. I suggest if you find ones who wish to write books on Atlantis at the age of nine or ten, that you most surely encourage them to do so. YOU do not yet know who these children might be. I, myself, am most interested in a few.

It could possibly be considered that these children were inventing a bit of the tale if it were this day and age with television and had they been greatly coached in current happenings—I daresay if you ask children of your own, who are in that age group—about these places and political styles, they would not know—would you?

Had these small children known anything about the world in which they live, or had studied world governments, one might somehow suspect they were inventing with prompting. But they could not even read nor write, and had never heard of Communism—as who had in 1917? You can be quite safe in assuming this story to be valid and that the Blessed Mother truly prophesied to these little ones, who were given Her desperate warnings, which have not yet been heeded in great measure.

THE MOTHER'S WARNINGS

It is obvious that The Mother has been sent by the Eternal Father/Creator to alert mankind of the scriptural predictions of a cleansing of the Earth with fire unless mankind makes a complete reversal of his willful ways. A worldwide warning shall precede the Chastisement in an effort to recall God's children to a life of grace. She has also promised that God will perform a great miracle after this warning and, if men still refuse to change, then God will be forced to send the Chastisement. Where do you think you might stand in the "changing line" this day?

THE WARNING

The Blessed Mother came forth to ones on June 12, 1976 with this warning: "My children, you must pray more; do much penance, for the Warning is coming upon mankind. There will be tremendous explosions and the sky shall roll back like a scroll. This force shall go within the very core of the human. He will understand his offenses to his God. However, THIS WARNING WILL BE OF SHORT DURATION, and many shall continue upon their road to perdition, so hard are the hearts hardened now, My children—BEWARE OF THE SUNRISE!

"As the day follows night, so shall this Warning follow soon. Beware of the sunrise!" She said to not look up to the sky unto the flash!!!! "Beware of the sunrise! Do not look up to the sky—to the flash! Close of your windows! Draw your shades! Remain inside; do not venture outside your door, or you will not return! Pray! Prostrate yourselves upon your floor! Pray with arms outstretched and beg for mercy of your God, the Father. Do not seek or receive your animals into your homes, for the animals of those who have remained of well spirit will be taken care of."

STORES AGAINST THAT DAY

"O My children, how many will try to go back and restore their homes when it is too late? Keep blessed candles, water, blankets, food within your homes. The candles of those who have remained in the state of grace shall not be extinguished, but the candles in the homes of those who have given themselves to Satan shall not burn! Amen, I say to you, as night follows day, a great darkness shall descend upon mankind."

TIMING OF THE WARNING

How about Emmanuel? "I give you one indication that the time is ripe: When you see, when you hear, when you feel the revolution in Rome; when you see the Holy Father fleeing, seeking a refuge in another land, know that the time is ripe. (Sept. 14, 1976 did these thing come forth unto you.)

THE MIRACLE

The Blessed Mother spoke to one on December 24, 1973.

"The Warning which will be sent upon man must be effective. And in the mercy of the Father, a great spectacle will then be placed in the sky for all to see. However, the agents of hell will try to prove—disprove the hand of the Father in this Miracle.

"You must cleanse your souls of all sin, mortal and venial. Come to My Son in belief. Believe what you'll see at Garabandal, and turn back from your ways that have been created by Satan. Return to the Father, do penance and atonement, for your Chastisement will soon follow upon the great spectacle. I bless you all, My children, as the Father blesses you with sad heart."

The above message speaks of Garabandal. For those who do not have the background on this—Garabandal is a small village in northwestern Spain, where from June 18, 1961 to November 13, 1965, the Blessed Mother appeared to four young girls.

The girls spoke of the Warning, the Great Miracle which would take place in the pines near their village, and also the Chastisement.

One of the girls, by the label of Conchita, writes this in her diary about the Miracle:

"The Blessed Virgin advised me of a great miracle, saying that God, Our Lord, would perform it through her intercession. Just as the chastisement will be very, very great, in keeping with our deserts, so too, the miracle will be extremely great, in keeping with the needs of the world.

"The Blessed Virgin has told me the date of the miracle and what it will consist of. I am supposed to announce it eight days in advance, so that people will come. The Pope will see it from wherever he is, and Padre Pio also. The sick who are present at the miracle will be cured and the sinners will be converted.

"There will be no doubt in the mind of anyone who sees this great miracle which God, Our Lord, will perform through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin. And now as we await this great day of the Miracle, let us see if the world changes and the chastisement is averted."

LET US WALK AND WATCH TOGETHER FOR A MOMENT

Dharma, write child, as we look upon the world with Sananda and Grandfather and Mother.

Be ye warned that houses will blow in the wind and skin will dry up and blow off the bones as though it has never been! Hasten and listen. You are receiving one of the final warnings to be given to the world before the cataclysms come upon you! Our words will have reached throughout your Earth. All who fall will have fallen of their free choice—loving more the things and pleasures of Earth, than the everlasting glory of Father's Kingdom.

Look, the value of life is lowered to the extreme: Man murders without conscience. Brother against sister; families torn asunder by evil. Man and woman falls to the addictions and diseases. Mothers weep for the loss of their sons and daughters fed to the hungry beast of war—many will truly join the Christ upon the Cross.

Dharma, look and weep with me. Stand with our brethren and mine Eagles and witness, for this must be recorded that man may have that upon which to base his choices.

Ye have no shelters into which to hide and yet no one moves; he only argues and complains. You are witnessing the destruction that will come upon mankind in the Great War. So many will perish that there will not be time to mark the graves, My child.

Mothers will long to see and know where lie their sons, but to no avail. This comfort will not be given unto them; so great will be the loss of life.

Dharma, you must tell the Word. Can you little ones not turn back now and beg the Eternal Father before it is too late? Are you children so blind to the truth, that you see not the road you travel?

The time shall be terrible, but there are two, little ones. One will come from man, through the hands of man, a war so great that it will almost exterminate the Earth, but for the merciful heart of the Eternal Father; and the chastisement of the planet of redemption.

Oh yes, my children, I hear the voices of disdain shouting, sadism! Is this a sadist God who promises such destruction upon His creation?

I say unto you, as your God, I bring not your destruction; you will bring about your own destruction, for I leave you, as your God, to the exercise of your free will. In your free will, if you reject your God and the plan for man's redemption as given from the beginning of time, I say unto you—you will destroy yourselves. You have brought terrible unbalance unto your Mother Source and Creator's creations. Can you not see that it is from the unbalance that the change must come in purification and renewal—you push too far.

You must witness that which has been done, lest you think you need not claim of responsibility, for all have participated.

In America, Dharma—look and see that which is. Your country, a land of plenty and blessed beyond all, has never witnessed mass slaughter and death—before. But there has been a rejection of the Laws of God and Creation—and the masses will reap the horrors of the lie foisted upon them by the evil conspiracy. Your masses have turned away from the red road of God-ness and into all manner of pleasures of the flesh and defilement of the human body and desecration of their bodies and spirits.

There shall come the massive earthquakes in your country in many places and extending up into the regions of Canada and down into the regions of Mexico. There will be earthquakes in places unknown prior to this, as the earth beneath surges. The volcanos will erupt and toxic fumes shall rise from the crevasses which shall split of the Earth. The heat will burn, the livestock will starve and hunger shall plague your lands as the growing seasons change and the waters shall be polluted for the growing fields.

The children are the true victims of you elders. The example given to them is poor indeed. Many children shall be removed from the world. It shall be a time of great and deadly plague. The plague shall be great and many, many shall die. Ah, and the cry of the murdered unborn shall smite ye ones and your souls shall cringe in the presence of their innocence.

I came unto you in a time of bleakness 2000 years past and ye crucified me—I was the Eagle sent forth to show you the way and ye hanged me on a cross and went thy evil way. Now the time is come and ye change not from thy evil—and the fire burns and ye again crucify of the Phoenix—but this time it shall be different, for ones will choose of their path and the evolution shall come and the cycle will close and the Phoenix and my chicks shall fledge again into the wondrous dimensions of greater light and these days of horror shall be wiped from thy memories that you may find peace—BUT THE WORD MUST GO FORTH UNTO THE CORNERS OF THE WORLD AND THEN BE PRESERVED FOR THE TIME OF ANOTHER GREAT ENDING IN ANOTHER GREAT CYCLE AT SOME OTHER PERCEIVED "TIME".

If you ones will but do of thy work and make preparations, enough shall pass through for the renewal and reclamation of healing. You ones must listen carefully to the lessons of your ancient teachers who have not forgotten.

It is not to be harsh that I require that you look—for it begins with you and those of your brothers who put the WORD to print that man

SECURITY COUNCIL UNANIMOUSLY ENDORSES
POWELL MISSION AND DEMANDS
ISRAELI PULLOUT 'WITHOUT DELAY'

By Edith M. Lederer, Boston Globe, 04/04/02

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The UN Security Council on Thursday unanimously endorsed the Mideast mission of Secretary of State Colin Powell and demanded an Israeli withdrawal from Palestinian cities “without delay”. ...

Secretary-General Kofi Annan urged the international community to persuade Israel and the Palestinians to draw back from violence which is threatening the region. Accusing Israel of trying to escalate the 18-month conflict, he warned that self-defense against suicide bombings “is not a blank check”. He said forcing Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat into exile “would be reckless”.

Bush announced Thursday he was sending Powell to the Mideast in a new peace initiative, and he urged Israel to halt its military incursions and to start pulling its troops and tanks out of West Bank cities it entered in the past week in a search for Palestinian extremists.

The intensified U.S. mediation effort was announced while Security Council members were discussing an Arab-backed resolution demanding an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Palestinian cities, including Ramallah where Arafat is surrounded by Israeli tanks.

Frustrated over Israel’s disregard of a council demand on Saturday to pull back its forces, Palestinian supporters demanded a new resolution including the word immediate which wasn’t in Saturday’s call for Israel’s military withdrawal.

The United States objected to the word “immediate” because it has been pressing for a cease-fire before an Israeli troop withdrawal, a position supported by Israel.

After Bush announced his new initiative in Washington on Thursday morning, U.S. Ambassador John Negroponte proposed new language for the Arab-backed draft resolution demanding that Israel pull out its tanks and troops “without delay” and welcoming Powell’s Mideast mission.

Arab and non-aligned nations agreed to those words, and the final resolution was sponsored by the council president not Syria as the council’s Arab representative symbolizing its unanimous support.

The Palestinian UN envoy, Nasser Al-Kidwa, said there was no difference in the meaning of “without delay” and “immediately”.

“We hope that this will help the situation and that finally Israel will heed the unanimous voice of the international community,” Al-Kidwa said.

Israel’s UN Ambassador Yehuda Lancry said the government would comment on the resolution Friday. He said he wished it had included a reference to Palestinian suicide bombings which is “a crucial issue not only for the Palestinians, not only for the Israelis, but for our civilization. This suicidal culture must be stopped.”

Lancry told the council before the vote that “Israel pledges to spare no effort to cooperate fully with secretary Powell to make his mission a success to bring about a genuine and meaningful cease-fire that will pave the way for a return to the negotiating process.”

The resolution calls on “both parties to move immediately to a meaningful cease-fire; calls for the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Palestinian cities, including Ramallah; and calls upon the parties to cooperate fully with (U.S.) Special Envoy (Anthony) Zinni” to work to get a cease-fire and start negotiations for a political settlement.

It also expressed “grave concern” over the recent Palestinian suicide bombings in Israel and the attack on Arafat’s headquarters in Ramallah....

After renewed Mideast violence erupted in September 2000, the Security Council remained sidelined because the United States, Israel’s closest council ally, thwarted virtually every effort by the Palestinians to get a resolution that would condemn Israeli action.

In a surprise move on March 12, the United States sponsored a council resolution endorsing a Palestinian state for the first time, demanding an immediate cease-fire and calling for renewed efforts by both parties to resume negotiations on a political settlement. It also supported Saturday’s resolution, which was sponsored by Norway.

[JR: The violence in Palestine is destabilizing the Middle East and causing a reaction of great concern around the world. Israel had chosen to ignore for over a week the U.S.’s appeal to withdraw troops from Palestinian cities and towns. Sharon in an act of defiance has declared war against Palestinian terrorists and that Israel has the right to defend itself. By what means do innocent Palestinian civilians have to defend themselves against the harsh treatment that is being meted out by the Israeli military? The U.S., the UN, and the EU have failed to address this issue in their comments or in the UN resolutions. How long will the world turn a blind eye to the suffering of the Palestinian people and also criticize Israel’s “defense” as a form of terrorism?]

DEFIANT ISRAEL
IGNORES UN’S DEMANDS TO PULL BACK FORCES

By Ed Vulliamy (New York); Graham Usher (Ramallah),
The Observer—UK, 03/31/02

In words and deeds Israel yesterday defied a United Nations resolution calling on it to pull out of Ramallah and other Palestinian cities even though the motion was endorsed by its usually staunch ally, the United States.

An Israeli spokesman said their forces would not withdraw as they continued what they say will be a sustained campaign against Palestinian militants.

They tightened their hold on the West Bank town of Ramallah, rounding up hundreds of men, exchanging fire with roaming gunmen and keeping Palestinian Authority leader Yasser Arafat confined to his three-story office building....

The rare U.S. stand against Israel took place at the end of a marathon emergency session of the UN Security Council in New York yesterday.

The U.S. backed a resolution calling for the Jewish State to withdraw its forces from Ramallah and other cities. It was the second time in a month the U.S. has voted on a Middle East motion, after years of abstaining.

The vote signals an abandonment of America’s traditionally unconditional support for Israel and a might know and the time is short and therefore the hours of work must be long indeed.

“Fear” only in that you must turn back unto God and the Laws of The Creation—for therein is truth and the way. Hope is as a lotus blossom which unfolds unto the Sun and spreads the perfume about the lands. Oh chelas, ’tis not hopeless, it is glorious. But the old must pass that the Phoenix can arise from the old into the new. So be it.

I give you peace and soften the image, for your senses have taken much abuse in these past days. Hold unto my hand and naught can touch you or mine children. You are my beloved ones and I grant thee peace.

I AM ATON

Let us close this portion, for we have worked many hours this day and the efficiency wanes with the weariness. But before I leave this evening, I wish to speak about the Indians and what of their relationship with the Christos. The Pale Prophet or Lost White Brother is what they called Him.

Almost all of the Native Indians have legends about a Pale Prophet or Lost White Brother who came to them thousands of years ago and brought with Him the Teachings of the Great Spirit. He taught them to love one another and often used examples from Nature to illustrate His lessons. He performed incredible miracles, one of which was to raise a huge stone in Monument Valley—actually it was half a cliff that had fallen down off a mountain. Other miracles included controlling the elements, miraculous healings, and even raising of the dead.

The people loved Him and flocked to Him, but the priests were afraid of Him because He represented a threat to their power. He is always pictured as having a beard, longish hair, a fair complexion, blue-green eyes, wearing sandals and a long white toga with His symbol—the cross—embroidered around the edges. His sign of greeting was His hand raised in Peace, which is one reason this is a rather widespread greeting among the Indians.

He had the people build pyramid-style temples, and told them to smoke the Peace Pipe in His memory. He brought them seeds for several different plants, including the mescal plant, and foretold what the future held for the Indians and their beloved land, including the arrival of the White man whom He called “those who conquer”, which is known in Spanish as “conquistadors”, who did indeed arrive 1500 years after His prophecy! I shall not discuss these prophecies at this time.

He represented exactly what his label represents—a “pale” “prophet”. The Christed energy was already a part of the Indian knowledge and it is related as the Sacred Circle of Infinity. It is late this day so we shall move into more of this discussion on the morrow.

Thank you for your hands and the rest of you for your ears and eyes. Good evening and rest in peace and joy, for our work goes well.

victory for Secretary of State Colin Powell, who has been pushing the Bush administration into closer and more even-handed engagement....

The Security Council called for the “withdrawal of Israeli troops from Palestinian cities including Ramallah” and for both parties to “move immediately to a meaningful ceasefire”. The motion gave Secretary General Kofi Annan and U.S. envoy General Anthony Zinni its full backing.

Annan said: “I have consistently voiced concern over Israel’s disproportionate use of lethal force” which “will bring neither peace nor security to Israel.”

He urged Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon and Arafat to take advantage of the chink of progress made at the Arab summit in Lebanon, where a Saudi-sponsored peace plan has been endorsed by the Arab League.

A State Department official described the U.S. vote yesterday to The Observer as “a clear message to both sides from the United States—not so much a wind change but a determination to be firm with all perpetrators of violence. If the escalation comes from terrorism, the United States will back the eradication of terrorism. If it comes from undue force by Israel, we will seek to harness that.”

State Department sources say privately that they strongly favour the peace plan endorsed in Beirut last week, whereby Israel withdraws from occupied territories and recognises a Palestinian state, in return for recognition by Arab countries and security.

On Friday, Powell had signalled a shift in the U.S. position, when—while blaming the shattering of the peace process squarely on Palestinian terrorism—he added: “I deplore the killing and wounding of innocent Palestinians in Ramallah.”

“While we understand the Israeli government’s need to respond to these acts of terror,” Powell said, “we call on Prime Minister Sharon and his government to carefully consider the consequences of these actions”.

[JR: Sharon’s approach to peace is to resort to lethal force and to crush the actions of an oppressed and occupied people. It hasn’t worked because you cannot use tanks and gunships to stop the desperate acts of individuals whose lives are so miserable and without hope they see no other way. Already the propaganda machines are going full steam ahead in the U.S. media in order to win our support for Israel and condone its acts of aggression. The U.S. has got to come to the realization that Israel will always act to protect and serve their interests and that we as well as the rest of the world don’t really matter. Shouldn’t we all be tired of being the doormat for Israel?]

WITHOUT MERCY:

ISRAELIS EXECUTE ARAFAT’S ELITE GUARDS

By Peter Beaumont, The Observer—UK, 03/31/02

The ambulancemen were carrying the first body out of the Cairo-Amman bank in the centre of Ramallah when I came across them.

His knees were doubled up in rigor mortis. One of the legs of his green parachute jumpsuit had been burned through to the skin by a round fired at such close quarters that the muzzle flash had ignited the fabric. A gaping wound was visible in his chest—also apparently from a burst of fire from close range. What killed him, however, was the gunshot to his temple....

What happened on the third floor of the Cairo-Amman bank at midnight on Friday during Israel’s occupation of the Palestinian city of Ramallah can only be surmised. But in the few minutes after Israeli soldiers stormed the Palestinian position, five men were wounded and five men were put to death by the Israelis, each with a single coup de grace administered to the head or throat.

Maher Shalabi, bureau chief of Abu Dhabi television in Ramallah, was in his office in the same building when he heard several bursts of heavy shooting on the floors below. “I heard heavy shooting; maybe it was an exchange of fire. But I believe this was an execution.”...

According to local residents, the dead men were part of a large group of Palestinian policemen who had taken shelter in the building, which also houses the offices of the British council, when the Israeli army entered Ramallah....

An Israeli army spokesman said soldiers entered the building after Palestinians opened fire from inside and threw a grenade at the force outside....

Yesterday, inside Arafat’s compound, it was clear that, for all the claims of Ariel Sharon, Arafat was neither under threat nor under arrest. Arafat, simply, was surrounded by the Israelis.

As we approached the compound we could see the tanks and armoured personnel carriers ringing his sprawl of offices and barracks. On every side were soldiers taking positions and aiming their weapons.

Approaching closer the Israeli army tried to prevent us following a delegation from the Palestinian solidarity movement into the compound, led by José Bové, the French farmers leader and anti-globalisation protester.

In a surreal touch Bové and his colleagues had marched through the ruins of the town, even as fighting continued. With hands above their heads, and carrying palm fronds as Easter symbols of peace, they approached Arafat’s compound with two columns of heavily armed Israeli infantry jogging the last few hundred metres behind.

Seeing Bové, who had marched through the town with a small group of fellow protesters bearing a tray of medicines for those still injured inside Arafat’s compound, the soldiers relented and let us enter with him and approach the offices where Arafat was holed up....

On every corner yesterday stood Israeli tanks. The devastation that these tanks have wrought inside the Palestinians’ most attractive city has to be seen to be believed.

Roads have been dynamited or torn up by tanks. Buildings are burned and shattered. Everywhere there is rubble, spent ammunition and broken glass.

A little later, I met Hossam Sharkawi and Mohamed Awad, two senior officials in the Palestinian Red Crescent who I had met before.

Sharkawi, a co-ordinator for emergency services, told me the Israelis had arrested five of his drivers.

“They have them blindfolded and handcuffed. I cannot understand what the Israelis are thinking. They also used one of our ambulances today as a human shield. They sandwiched it inside a convoy.”

Sharkawi was able to reveal something of life inside Arafat’s compound. “We know there are injured inside,” he said. “But they have been blocking ambulances entering to give treatment.” How many injured he could not say.

“All that we hear is that there may be between 50 and 100 people trapped with Arafat inside the building, without food, or water or any electricity and no telephone communication.” He shook his head and walked away.

[JR: Despite the March 30th UN/U.S. resolution demanding that Israel pull back from Palestinian areas—she has yet to leave Ramallah and has, as of April 4th entered Hebron and now has a military presence in seven Palestinian cities. Israel has succeeded in ignoring both the U.S. and UN demands for a pullout and, amazingly, still has the support of the U.S. as stated by Pres. Bush on April 4. If Sharon can be coerced to enter negotiations for a peace agreement, he will make deadly sure that every Palestinian town and city is left in rubble. After that the Palestinians can claim the rubble, if there are any of them left. If the world allows it to go that far, we will all live to regret our indifference.]

ISRAELI ARMY ARRESTS FOREIGNERS IN RAMALLAH

Rense.com, 03/31/02

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—The Israeli army said on Sunday it had arrested “several” foreigners who had defied its closure order on the West Bank city of Ramallah, where troops were on what it called an “anti-terrorist” offensive.

The Ramallah-based International Media Center said 10 members of an international group who marched into Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat’s compound in the city were arrested by the surrounding troops, and that 33 others remained inside.

The army earlier said Ramallah was a closed military zone and that non-residents, including foreign journalists, would be removed by force “if necessary”. It said the foreign detainees were being held at a nearby base and could be prosecuted.

The government also told media organizations later Sunday that it would be strictly applying rules under which journalists must submit reports about defense matters to a military censor.

Daniel Seaman, the director of the Government Press Office, said journalists who violated the latest instructions would have their accreditation removed.

He also said any Palestinians found working in Israel for foreign news organizations without the proper documentation would risk arrest. Repeated violations could result in heavy fines and the closure of foreign media offices, he said.

Israeli troops and tanks have tightened a siege on Arafat’s headquarters in Ramallah since Prime Minister Ariel Sharon declared him Israel’s enemy Friday and set out to isolate him in an attempt to halt a recent wave of suicide attacks.

The Palestinian leader has been confined to Ramallah by the army since early December.

Sharon said in a state address Sunday that Israel was engaged in a “war against terrorism”, which Israeli officials said could last weeks.

The Foreign Press Association (FPA) in Israel protested against the army’s decision.

“The media must be allowed to cover this major story. We call upon the Israeli government to allow free and independent coverage of the operation in Palestinian Authority areas,” the FPA said in a statement.

The army has already taken over the Ramallah offices of foreign news organizations, including Reuters, forcing them out. It has remained there, despite protests by Reuters and the FPA.

At least two journalists working for foreign news media have been injured in Ramallah since Israel sent troops to the city.

An army spokesman said the international sympathizers who entered Arafat’s headquarters had ignored soldiers who tried to stop them entering. “In doing so they endangered their lives and the lives of the soldiers,” he said.

Claude Leostic, one of the group, told Reuters: “We just walked into the compound. No one tried to stop us, surprisingly enough, until we got to the compound. The tanks started to move and we continued, and got to the door.”

Several of the group were later arrested.

Israel has agreed not to harm Arafat, who has said he would rather die than surrender. He has also vowed an 18-month-old uprising against Israeli occupation will continue. [JR: The press is being barred from covering actions in the Palestinian areas because Israel doesn’t want the world to see how effective the force is that they use to TERRORIZE the Palestinian people. This would confirm some suspicions that Israel has a lot to hide and has buried the truth with her Kol Nidre lies. The world is beginning to acknowledge the other side of the Palestinian issue. Change is long over due... but it is coming!]

FARRAKHAN TO VISIT THE MIDDLE EAST

By Gregory Tejada, UPI International Desk, 04/02/02

CHICAGO—Nation of Islam leader Minister Louis Farrakhan blasted Washington for foreign policies that single out Muslims for blame and said Tuesday he wants to travel to the Middle East to try to resolve the differences between Israelis and Muslims.

Farrakhan said the escalation in violent incidents by Palestinians against Israelis was due to the lack of action by the United States and the United Nations to show leadership and try to build peace to the region.

“This is the time for strong, dispassionate intervention by America and the United Nations,” he said during a 33-minute address at Mosque Maryam on Chicago’s South Side. “If they don’t, conditions will continue to escalate to the point of no return.”

Farrakhan said he would like to lead a group of religious leaders to Israel to meet with Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon, Palestinian Authority leader Yasser Arafat, and other officials.

“It will take a spiritual people to try to bring peace to the region,” Farrakhan said. “If we fail, at least we can say we have tried.”

Farrakhan said he believes President Bush shows too much support to Israel, meeting repeatedly with Sharon while demonizing Arafat.

“That diminishes (Arafat) in the eyes of his people,” Farrakhan said. “An impotent Arafat only encourages the more militant elements to conduct more suicide bombings.”

He said the United States ought to pressure Israel into making gestures of support to Arafat. Those gestures could include promises to halt settlement of the West Bank, and to stop slayings of Palestinian leaders.

“A recognition of the right (of Palestinians) to exist could become the basis for serious peace negotiations. Instead, Israel gives nothing, but demands everything,” he said.

Farrakhan said he believes that “because I am not tied to the American establishment,” he could have more influence in negotiating peace.

“I believe only a spiritual person can truly achieve peace,” he said.

Farrakhan said he wants to meet with members of Hamas and Hezbollah, the religious factions that have claimed responsibility for violence and bombings.

“I want to hear it from their own lips why they do what they do,” Farrakhan said.

But he said he hoped U.S. officials would not construe his actions as giving comfort to an enemy. “I want to meet with the so-called ‘Axis of Evil’, but I am not going to incite people against my country,” he said.

Farrakhan would like to make his visit in May, although he admits the trip has not been scheduled yet.

Last weekend, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said he has no intention of trying to lead peace negotiations, although he concedes someone needs to take such a diplomatic mission.

Throughout the years, Farrakhan has gained a reputation among many White people as an anti-Semite who opposes Israel and all Jewish people.

On Tuesday, Farrakhan tried to tone down any anti-Jewish rhetoric, saying he can understand the religious basis for believing that God promised the Jewish people a homeland. But he also said he understands the reasons why Arabs believe the existence of Israel is coming at their expense.

“It is a huge theological problem,” Farrakhan said of the differing opinions. “I believe we are capable of rising above the emotions of both sides, but it will take time.”

[JR: Peace will come through the will of the people and not through governments or the use of the military. We have to go past the ideologies and hatreds we have been taught. We have to allow others to achieve what we have attained for ourselves.]

PUTIN ORCHESTRATES CENTRAL BANK COUP

By Juliet Johnson, Asia Times, 03/27/02

MOSCOW—The man Harvard economist Jeffrey Sachs once called “the world’s worst central banker”, Russian Central Bank chairman Viktor Gerashchenko, resigned on March 15 to the near-universal applause of foreign investors. But the international community should think twice before cheering his departure.

Gerashchenko’s unexpected resignation signals an end to Central Bank independence in Russia. As such, it represents the final act in President Vladimir Putin’s successful efforts to concentrate political and economic power in his own hands by removing all institutional centers of opposition to his rule.

As the last director of the Soviet Central Bank and the two-time head of its Russian successor, Gerashchenko is a savvy survivor who excelled at maintaining a relatively independent Central Bank by playing various political and economic forces off against each other.

Putin chose to move against the Central Bank now because Gerashchenko finally managed to offend all key factions at once, opening a window of opportunity. Domestic industrialists disliked his “strong ruble” policy, powerful commercial bankers objected to his views on banking consolidation and supervision, while foreign investors and advisers have looked askance at his leadership ever since his role in ending Russia’s 1992 attempt at economic shock therapy. Gerashchenko, standing alone and under fire, found himself unusually vulnerable.

Yet the circumstances surrounding Gerashchenko’s resignation reveal more serious reasons for concern. On March 15, Gerashchenko strongly denounced proposed legislation in the State Duma that would subordinate the Central Bank to a redesigned National Banking Council. The 13-member council would include three representatives from the government, three from the presidential administration, six from the legislature, and only one from the Central Bank. Gerashchenko correctly condemned the bill as “unconstitutional”, but could not garner enough support to kill it. If passed, as seems likely, this legislation will undermine the Central Bank’s independence de jure.

After his angry speech, Gerashchenko submitted his resignation to Putin. Using a standard Soviet-era formulation, presidential administration head Aleksandr Voloshin announced that Gerashchenko had resigned for “health reasons”.

Although reports described the resignation as unexpected, Putin clearly was not surprised. He immediately advised the Duma to accept Gerashchenko’s resignation and nominated Deputy Finance Minister Sergei Ignatiev to replace him.

Since leaving the Central Bank in the early 1990s, Ignatiev has served in a variety of government posts and, like Putin, is from St. Petersburg. He is politically beholden both to Putin and to Finance Minister Aleksei Kudrin, and is not a particularly prominent figure. The Duma overwhelmingly approved Ignatiev’s appointment last Wednesday.

Dislike for Gerashchenko, therefore, should not blind international observers to the more fundamental questions raised by Putin’s opportunistic coup attempt at the Central Bank. Reducing the Central Bank’s independence would not only violate the Russian constitution, but flout the norms of the international financial system.

Whatever one may think of his other policies, throughout his current term Gerashchenko has acted as a model central banker in tirelessly fighting for Central Bank independence and currency stability in Russia. Central bankers worldwide argue that only such independence can defend democratic states against politically inspired bouts of inflation. While Central Bank independence is not the economic panacea it is often made out to be, in political terms the cavalier way in which Putin has treated this institution belies his stated commitment to a democratic, constitutional order.

Moreover, this move fits a broader and disturbing authoritarian pattern in Putin’s policy-making. Putin gained near complete control over the State Duma early in his term, reducing a once-feisty elected body to a rubber stamp for his policies. He restructured the legislature’s upper house, the Federation Council, to ensure that it could not challenge him. He crushed former “oligarchs” Boris Berezovsky and Vladimir Gusinsky, not because of their economic rapacity—other oligarchs remain privileged and close to Putin—but because they questioned his politics. He created seven “super-regions” headed by presidential representatives in order to bring regional governments to heel. He has prosecuted a nasty war in Chechnya. Most recently and publicly, he quashed the remnants of a serious free opposition press in Russia. Gerashchenko and the Central Bank represented the last influential, independent check on presidential power.

Now Putin has made his final bid for control, ousting a central banker long denigrated by the West. True, Gerashchenko’s policies have been oft-criticized on many fronts. But does the end justify the means? Gerashchenko’s term was already scheduled to end in September, while the institutional consequences of his early removal could last far longer. The answer from the international community should be a resounding “no”.

[JR: Gerashchenko had to resign because he lost the fight to keep the Central bank independent. The Central Bank is the power that controls interest rates, inflation, and has full control of the nation’s gold. Like all Central Banks, they are privately owned and run by hand-picked members with no oversight or participation from any members of government. Putin’s redesign to a National Banking Council system reverses the way all Central Banks now operate worldwide. Maybe it’s this type of reform that most concerns the private bankers and not the early resignation of Gerashchenko. Putin’s authoritarian style of government is what Russia may need to pull itself out of the quagmire left by Yeltsin and his pro-Western “advisers” whose economic policies destabilized Russia and brought about its economic ruin. Those like Berezovsky, Gusinsky and Gerashchenko—who have been extricated from positions of power—are the very oligarchs who gained all for themselves under Yeltsin and left nothing for Russia’s survival. Let’s hope Putin’s reforms in the Russian banking system set a trend that puts the spotlight on the operations of all CENTRAL BANKS worldwide!]

RUSSIAN JOURNALISTS WIN TV NETWORK BID

By Susan B. Glasser, Washington Post, 03/28/02

MOSCOW—A team of journalists booted off the air in January today won the right to start a new television network in a deal blessed by President Vladimir Putin, who has sought to eliminate criticism by Russia’s independent media.

The decision by a government licensing commission will allow the return to the air of Yevgeny Kiselyov and a group of journalists that has been chased from one outlet to another during the two years of Putin’s presidency. But the journalists have teamed up with the Kremlin, raising questions about the independence of the new network, which will broadcast on Russia’s sixth channel.

“We’ll go back on the air as soon as possible,” said Kiselyov, reached at a victory party less than an hour after the decision was announced. He refused to discuss what accommodation his group had reached with the Kremlin.

And when asked whether he felt confident that the new network could operate free of political interference, he responded: "The future will judge."

The network will be run by an alliance of such former Kremlin critics as Kiselyov and financial backers who include wealthy oligarchs with ties to the Kremlin such as Roman Abramovich, the governor of the far eastern region of Chukotka. At Putin's insistence, sources have said, the nonprofit partnership in charge of the network will be run by former prime minister Yevgeny Primakov, a Putin ally, and Arkady Volsky, head of the Russian Union of Industrialists and Entrepreneurs.

Such partners mark a striking departure for Kiselyov. He and his reporters quit the independent NTV network en masse last year rather than be subjected to what they called a state-sponsored takeover. Their next home, TV-6, came under legal attack and in January was forced off the air by a court liquidation order that Kiselyov alleged was Kremlin-inspired.

TV-6's frequency was put up for auction today; several of the 12 also-rans complained that the outcome had been preordained by the Kremlin and expressed doubts that Kiselyov's team could run a network free from government interference. Former Soviet president Mikhail Gorbachev, who put together one of the losing bids, told reporters after the decision that he doubted the winners could create "a genuinely free, independent and honest channel".

Pavel Korchagin, a former Kiselyov associate who broke with him to lead the other serious bid, said, "I wasn't surprised. Everyone predicted it was going to be the outcome." Asked if the process were rigged, he replied, "I would quote Mr. Primakov, who said: 'If we weren't sure we would win, we wouldn't enter the contest.'"

Today's decision was made by the eight-member Federal Licensing Commission, an appointive body whose members include government and non-government officials. One of the members acknowledged that Kiselyov's team had been put together by the Kremlin and said that concerns were raised during the deliberations about whether the journalists could operate independently. But the commission member, Vladimir Posner, said there had been "no pressure whatsoever" from the Kremlin to vote for Kiselyov's bid and said that today's was the first unanimous decision in the two years he has been on the commission.

"There's no doubt. President Putin certainly was involved in the final configuration of the so-called Kiselyov group," he said, calling the addition of Primakov and Volsky "very clearly a presidential gambit" to gain influence over the journalists. Putin wanted "people who are more under his control," Posner said.

Despite concerns about the Kremlin's involvement, Posner said the commission had "no clear option" except Kiselyov's team, because the other bidders lacked either the journalistic experience or business plan to put together a new television network. "I can't say we came out of it giving each other high-fives," he said. But at least, he said, "this group will turn out to be more independent of the government" than Russia's three existing national networks, which are all more directly under government control.

[JR: Ex-Soviet Pres. Gorbachev lost the bid to buy TV-6 and so did American media mogul Ted Turner. It must have been an important acquisition for a lot of people and for a lot of different reasons which the Kremlin probably saw all too clearly. Putin's trusted allies (for reform?) Primakov and Volsky will likely oversee the independent journalists who won their bid by agreeing to certain concessions. Did they have to agree to be accurate, fair and unbiased in reporting the issues and the news? If Putin did maneuver these agreements can he now relax given his hold and the changes he has made in the consolidation of his powers? All leaders need a good press to validate themselves and their achievements. Vladimir Posner, one of the members of the licensing commission, is experienced and is well aware of the methods and control governments maintain over the media. He was a commentator for CNN for several years before returning to Russia. Is Putin merely creating the semblance of an open press, as Gorby implies, or will Putin continue to keep us all guessing?]

BUSH THREATENED WITH COURT FIGHT ON ENERGY REPORT

BY Chris Baltimore, Bayarea.com, 03/27/02

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—A legal activist group threatened the Bush administration on Tuesday with a long court battle after receiving thousands of documents, many of them censored, detailing how big business influenced energy policy.

Judicial Watch received 11,000 documents, including many blanked-out pages, from the Department of Energy late on Monday that showed Vice President Dick Cheney's energy task force met last year with industry but not with any environmentalists.

"These documents will ultimately have to be produced," Judicial Watch Chairman Larry Klayman told a news conference. "Judicial Watch will not rest until all of the documents and all of the information is available to the American people."

Arguing that confidentiality is needed if it is to continue receiving candid advice from outsiders, the administration refused to disclose who it had met with from energy firms like now-bankrupt Enron Corp., once President Bush's biggest campaign donor.

Judicial Watch filed its suit to gain access to the documents alongside a similar suit from the General Accounting Office, Congress' investigative arm, after the task force produced a report recommending more oil and gas drilling and greater emphasis on coal-fired power plants.

"It would appear that consultation was skewed in favor of energy companies," said Klayman, whose group frequently filed suit against the policies of the Clinton administration.

The documents that were made public showed Energy Secretary Spencer Abraham met dozens of energy industry executives and lobbying groups in the months leading up to the energy policy release in May 2001.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer said "the approach that the government took was in accordance with the law" and tried to downplay the energy industry's influence on the report: "News flash: it is no surprise to anybody that the secretary of energy meets with energy-related groups."

Judicial Watch said it was equally troubling to hear the administration's claim that many more potentially inflammatory documents are exempt from the judge's request because of federal laws.

Klayman accused the administration of stalling tactics, and said it may ask the court to proceed with criminal proceedings to determine whether the administration had obstructed justice in withholding documents....

The Energy Department cooperated with the Department of Justice to determine which documents were not suitable for release. Many of the omitted documents contained draft versions of the energy plan, which the department said were exempt under three provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.

Ironically, that act is a primary tool used by Judicial Watch and other interest groups and media outlets to compel the government to release documents....

The Energy Department excised some 15,000 of 26,000 Energy Department documents from Monday's document delivery, and heavily vetted many others.

Klayman predicted that appeals pressed by the administration will likely reach the Supreme Court, and "the reason for that is simply delay."

Klayman linked the administration's heavy redactions to an earlier directive from Attorney General John Ashcroft to "air on the side of withholding documents if any reason can be conjured up."

[JR: Withholding documents and information is the number-one priority of the Bush Admin. as regards Enron. Enron's ties with the Bush bunch can be compared to Siamese twins... you can't separate one from the other. Ari Fleischer's statement that the government's meetings with outside energy advisors were in accordance with the law is politically correct. Most of the laws written in Washington favor special interest groups like the energy group. Despite the fact that SEC investigations are ongoing Enron is still shredding documents and hired a company named Shredco to do the work. Why is the Justice Dept. allowing this to continue? Why is the spotlight always on the Andersen accounting firm and not on Enron, which is where the focus should be and isn't? Why have there been no charges brought against the CEOs at Enron that brought about its collapse? How convenient was it made for the Warburgs to gain control of Enron at no cost to them and are not responsible for any of Enron's debts. Why isn't Atty. Gen. Ashcroft made to justify his directive that it is acceptable "to withhold documents for any reason anyone can conjure up"? This is the method by which Washington protects their own as well as the privileged insiders through lies, deceptions and the all important withholding of evidence. It is so blatantly obvious that almost no one in Washington has any sense of decency, honesty or is motivated by conscience.]

MEXICO'S FOREIGN MINISTER PRESSURED CASTRO TO LEAVE SUMMIT, SAYS CUBA

By Jim Burns, CNSNews.com, 03/27/02

The early and sudden departure of Cuba's Fidel Castro from last week's United Nations poverty summit in Monterrey, Mexico was all Mexico's fault, according to the Cuban government. It alleges, in a newspaper editorial that Mexican Foreign Minister Jorge Castaneda was the "diabolical and cynical architect" of a plan to force Castro to leave.

The editorial, published in the Communist-controlled newspaper Granma, is a much more pointed telling of events than the one Castro issued last week.

After finishing his speech Thursday, Castro excused himself from the summit and went home, claiming he was being forced to do so because of an unspecified "special situation" created by his attendance.

"I ask for your indulgence since I will not be able to accompany you any longer," Castro said at the time. "A special situation created by my participation in this summit obligates me to immediately return to my country."

Castro did not elaborate, although President Bush had just arrived in Monterrey when Castro decided to leave. And before leaving for the summit, Bush had told reporters at the White House that he did not want to cross paths with Castro. The president called Cuba a "reprehensible country".

The banner headline accompanying the Granma newspaper editorial reads, "The man guilty for what happened in Monterrey is called Jorge Castaneda." It states that the Mexican foreign minister "humiliated" Cuba in Monterrey, accuses Castaneda of using his "arrogance and shadowy influence", to force Castro's departure, and adds that Castaneda then "blatantly lied" about events.

"We ask for nothing more than an end to the provocations, insults, lies and macabre plans of Mr. Castaneda against Cuba. Otherwise, there remains no other alternative than to divulge that which we have not wanted to divulge, making dust of his false and cynical pronouncements," the editorial stated.

"Cuba has irrefutable proof of all that occurred," the editorial asserted.

Some Mexican politicians, according to wire service reports from Mexico City, have accused Castaneda of turning his back on Mexico's foreign policy in order to placate President Bush and have vowed to ask Castaneda to appear before the Mexican Congress to explain his actions.

During a joint news conference with President Bush on Sunday, Fox denied that his government had pressured Castro to leave.

Bush also denied he had anything to do with Castro's early departure.

"I know of no pressure placed on anybody. Fidel Castro can do what he wants to do. And what I'm uncomfortable about is the way he treats his people. There is only one country that is not a democracy in our hemisphere and that's Cuba," said Bush.

[JR: Did Mexico's Foreign Minister Castaneda act to ban Castro from the meetings in Monterrey on strong advice from Washington or did he act independently? Mexico and Cuba have long shared an amiable relationship, so one must question the motives behind Mexico's actions. I guess when Emperor Bush travels he banishes those whose views are not compatible with his or his advisors. One would ask why so many opposing countries are obliged to suffer his presence when he chooses to grace or disgrace their countries with his visits? The U.S. may be a super power that is headed by a narrow-minded President who is guided by men who are self-serving, dishonest and meanspirited, not to mention outrightly evil.]

BEHIND THE CAMOUFLAGE, NINE GENERALS
AND 57 COLONELS ARE READY FOR ACTION

European Voice, 03/21/02

THERE are no tanks, no jeeps, no flags, no guards and no high-wire fences. From outside, the headquarters of the European Union Military Staff doesn't look much like a high-security defence facility at all.

Housed in an unremarkable, eight-storey glass-fronted structure in the heart of Brussels' European district, it blends in perfectly with its surroundings. Brilliant camouflage, of course.

Once through the entrance of the Avenue de Cortenbergh building, however, and it's immediately clear that this is not your average EU set-up.

Inside, the security is reassuringly spot-on. My details have already been relayed to the reception staff, who work behind a protective screen.

I'm asked for proof of identity, which is taken off me in exchange for a visitor's pass. A closed-circuit TV camera follows my every move.

The officer escorting my visit, Lieutenant-Colonel Helmut Wetzel, arrives and directs me to an X-ray machine to check I'm carrying nothing more dangerous than a notebook and pen.

He tells me I'm the first journalist to see the inside of the EU Military Staff (EUMS)....

The level of security is not surprising: the headquarters is home to nine generals, 57 colonels, assorted air force and Naval officers, along with a clutch of NCOs and civilians, totalling 135 staff in all.

Compared to the Brussels headquarters of NATO and its military arm, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) at Casteau, near Mons, the EUMS is a tiny operation, reflecting the fact that European security and defence policy is still in its formative stages.

Lt. Col. Wetzel, a German mountain artillery man, wears two 'hats' in his current role.

As well as providing military expertise to support the Council of Ministers press office, he is assistant to the chairman of the EU Military Committee, Gustav Hägglund, a Finnish four-star general and the highest-ranking officer in Cortenbergh....

The EUMS is divided into five main sections—policy and plans; intelligence; operations and exercises; logistics and resources; and communication information systems. Each branch is headed by a one-star general.

Its main job is to serve the chiefs of staff on the Military Committee and perform early warning, situation assessment and planning for the so-called 'Petersberg tasks' to be carried out by the new EU rapid reaction force, due to be operational next year. These range from humanitarian and rescue operations to combat missions aimed at peace-making.

The Council Secretariat is trying to discourage use of the phrase 'EU rapid reaction force' because of its connotations with a standing Euro army.

"It's not necessarily rapid, not necessarily reactive and not necessarily a force," explains one EU source.

"It's about a policy rather than a force because it's not on standby in barracks. It's a capability, drawing on member state assets." So how would it all work in practice, then?

Put simply, in the event of a crisis the Council's Political and Security Committee (PSC), ambassador-rank diplomats responsible for political control and strategic direction, would call on the advice of Gen. Hägglund and the chiefs of staff.

If the PSC decided a military response was appropriate, the EUMS would liaise with member states to put together a force of up to 60,000 troops—deployable within 60 days and capable of sustaining itself in the field for at least a year.

It all sounds rather complicated. Lt. Col. Wetzel helpfully arms me with a suitcase-load of papers and print-outs explaining the full scenario.

It's worth noting that neither the Military Committee nor the EUMS would be responsible for the actual operational planning of a mission. At the moment, it's still not clear who that would be.

"Such a commander could come either from within a multinational structure (for example, Deputy Supreme Allied Commander Europe at SHAPE), or a national one (for example, Permanent Joint Headquarters Northwood in UK or Creil in France)," Gen. Messervy-Whiting recently explained.

The SHAPE option, of course, would mean using NATO planning facilities—the preferred option of almost everyone involved. The only snag here is the position of Turkey, which has threatened to block access to NATO assets if the dispute of Cyprus's accession to the EU is not settled.

But back to the EUMS. Lt. Col. Wetzel apologises for being unable to show me the 'Situation Centre', where military and civilian personnel, directed by British diplomat William Shapcott, monitor likely trouble spots across the globe which could have an impact on the EU. "I'm afraid that's a classified area," explains Wetzel....

[JR: The EUMS with all its titles of authority, staffs, coordinating agencies, and command centers are all geared and prepared to act, for what kind of a threat? The European powers are implementing plans to counter any offensive actions taken by whomever or for whatever reasons that are not made clear in this article. With all these alert systems in place it doesn't seem as though the world is ever going to attain peace. To succeed in this planned future world one will need to be rich, powerful, head an agency, hold a government position or wear a uniform. Where does it leave the rest of us who have to pay for all of this?]

ARIZONA DOCTOR/SWAT COP
TAPPED AS SURGEON GENERAL

By Amy Goldstein, Washington Post, 03/27/02

President Bush yesterday selected as the nation's top physician an expert in medical emergencies who has a swashbuckling past as a soldier and crime-fighter but has been relatively insulated from Washington politics and the most ethically sensitive areas of health care.

Bush announced the nomination of Richard H. Carmona, an Arizona trauma surgeon, to be Surgeon General as the president moved in a single stroke to fill two of the most significant health care jobs in the federal government.

As expected for the past few weeks, Bush also named Elias A. Zerhouni, a Johns Hopkins University medical administrator, to lead the National Institutes of Health, the sprawling agency that is the nation's main engine of biomedical research and has lacked a permanent director for more than two years.

Coming 15 months into his presidency, the appointment come after persistent criticism from Democrats and health care advocates that Bush has allowed several prominent positions to languish unfilled at a time when the United States confronts particularly vexing biomedical issues, including cloning, stem cell research and the aftereffects of Sept. 11.

The choice of Carmona, in particular, also represents the latest example of Bush's efforts to tilt the emphasis of a variety of federal activities toward helping deter terrorism and equipping the country to withstand attacks.

The president and his aides said yesterday that the next surgeon general will have—like those in the past—a broad mission to educate Americans about ways they can prevent poor health.

But Carmona, 52, is the first trauma surgeon nominated to the post. After the hijackings six months ago, he was in charge of implementing the bioterrorism and emergency preparedness plans for southern Arizona. As a deputy sheriff who has worked on SWAT teams for 17 years, he also would be the first surgeon general with law enforcement experience....

The president called that work one of the "particularly urgent issues" the next surgeon general should address, along with two more conventional areas: improving fitness, and curbing alcohol and drug abuse. With a relatively modest size staff and little direct policymaking power, the surgeon general serves primarily as a kind of megaphone that has sometimes had great influence over attitudes toward public health matters, ranging from nutrition to AIDS. At times, the position also has become a fulcrum for fierce ideological and partisan disputes, including over abortion and sex education.

If confirmed by the Senate—Zerhouni also must be approved by the chamber—Carmona would succeed David Satcher, who was appointed by President Bill Clinton in 1998 and was one of the longest holdovers in a key health care job until his resignation last month....

At a time when Latinos represent an important voting constituency, Carmona is a Hispanic with a dramatic, up-by-the-bootstraps biography. As Bush stood beaming by his side, Carmona spoke in Spanish and English yesterday to thank the president for choosing him.

"As a high school dropout, a poor Hispanic kid, to where I am today was just nothing you could even dream about," the nominee said.

Raised in Harlem, he left school to join the military and became an Army Green Beret. He got a high school equivalency degree and eventually became a doctor, a nurse, a health policy specialist and a hospital administrator. He also founded Arizona's first emergency medical system and worked on a SWAT team.

Bush noted that Carmona in 1992 "dangled out of a moving helicopter" to rescue someone stranded on a cliff, inspiring a television movie. In 1999, he stopped at a car accident and exchanged gunshots with a man who turned out to be suspected of killing his father. The man died; Carmona ended up with a bullet grazing his scalp and a national award as a "Top Cop" by a law enforcement association....

His career trajectory means that Carmona has largely sidestepped matters of reproductive health, cloning and other polarizing issues. A spokeswoman for the University of Arizona College of Medicine, where he works, said that no faculty members there conduct research with human embryonic stem cells.

In announcing Zerhouni's nomination to lead NIH, Bush said he "shares my view that human life is precious and should not be exploited or destroyed for the benefits of others."

[JR: Bush found two politically correct candidates who are well qualified to fill the important posts of health care and who come from multi-cultural backgrounds. It's a dream team for the politically correct and it's what globalism is all about. The new Surgeon General Carmona is an ideal example of success for minorities having served in the military, becoming a trauma doctor, a SWAT Team member and he also inspired a movie. Dr. Zerhouni is an Algerian immigrant who is qualified to head NIH as he is an experienced biomedical researcher. Both men seem well up to the task to implement plans for any health emergency, be it from an act of terrorism, an invasion of the U.S. or whatever else the devious minds in D.C. might be planning.]

DRONES BEAM WAR LIVE TO TOP BRASS

By Thomas E. Ricks, The Washington Post, 03/27/02

BAGRAM AIR BASE, Afghanistan—During fighting this month between U.S. troops and al-Qaida forces, Predator drone aircraft gave generals and civilian leaders in Washington something they had never seen before: a continuous live view of Americans in ground combat in the mountains of Afghanistan, 10 time zones away.

Cameras on the 27-foot drones beamed back dramatic scenes from the heat of battle in the Shah-e-Kot region. Never before had an extended battle by U.S. forces been piped into U.S. command centers around the globe in hour after hour of real-time video that made distant officials feel unusually close to the battlefield.

That closeness was a problem, according to U.S. commanders here. In a review of the Predator's role in the biggest U.S. ground assault in a decade, soldiers involved in the battle said the live video links gave them little useful information, were sometimes a distraction and encouraged higher-level military staffs to try to micromanage the fighting.

"Tactically, I don't think it affected what I did on the ground," said Army Col. Kevin Wilkerson, a 10th Mountain Division brigade commander who led the regular Army forces in the battle. "To be honest with you, I didn't watch it a lot."

The reason is that "the Predator can be mesmerizing like watching TV," he said.

Maj. Louis Bello, a fire support coordinator for the division, said the video tends to be seductive.

"The danger is you get too focused on what you can see and neglect what you can't see," Bello said. "And a lot of the time, what's happening elsewhere is more important."

For example, he said the Predator may beam back an image of two tanks moving, capturing the attention of people watching, but it might not notice several hundred of the enemy hiding nearby. Bello called Predator video "fraught with both blessings and curses".

Another 10th Mountain Division officer, who asked not to be identified, went further, dismissing the Predator as "entertainment for division staff", the people at headquarters.

Since the dawn of warfare, military commanders have felt they lacked the proper information to direct their forces. In older times, everything over the next hill was often a mystery; now, Predators can let them peer over that hill and the one after that, and the problem is how to sift through the data to find what is useful.

Among the first troops that the U.S. Central Command dispatched to Central Asia after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks were Predator Teams sent to Uzbekistan and Pakistan. These drones were operated by the military and used purely for reconnaissance. The CIA controlled a separate set of Predators that recorded another first in military history, the firing of weapons by an unmanned aircraft.

Pictures from the military-operated Predators have been distributed to a variety of command posts around the world, including the air operations center in Saudi Arabia, Central Command headquarters at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., and the Pentagon and CIA headquarters in the Washington area.

Army Maj. Gen. Frank Hagenbeck, the commander of regular U.S. ground forces in Afghanistan, said that from his perspective, the biggest problem caused by the Predator was that its transmission of real-time images made staffs above his own division's staff feel they were in a position to get involved in the battle.

"It proved at first to be disruptive" to his headquarters when levels of command above—in the Persian Gulf, at U.S. Central Command headquarters in Tampa and at the Pentagon—watched Predator imagery and called with questions about what they saw, he said.

During the first days of the Shah-e-Kot battle, Hagenbeck recalled, "People on other staffs at higher levels would call all the way down to my staff and get information and make suggestions."

Hagenbeck's answer to that micromanagement problem was to anticipate questions and answer them by posting detailed battle reports several times a day on the military's own secure, internal computer link. After his staff started doing that, he said, the higher staffs "started backing off".

The initial conclusion of officers here is that the Predator, in its current configuration, is probably better suited to narrow tasks, such as shooting missiles at small convoys of al-Qaida leaders, than at helping commanders manage a far-flung battle.

[JR: Of what real value are these armchair evaluations made by the generals and their staffs far removed from the fields of battle? Why have these live action war games for the top brass if the information gathered is of little value to the field commanders? How easy is it to second-guess and plan strategies way behind the lines remote from the stress and tensions of battle. It is evident that the old tradition of generals being among their troops to observe and direct the battle is a concept that has long been dead and buried. If wars are going to be run by technology and computers, why do we need these generals and their staffs? Maybe the only real thing in this modern age of war is the troops in the field?]

FOR CHILEAN COUP, KISSINGER IS NUMBERED AMONG THE HUNTED

By Larry Rohter, The New York Times, 03/28/02

SANTIAGO, Chile—With a trial of Gen. Augusto Pinochet increasingly unlikely here, victims of the Chilean military's 17-year dictatorship are now pressing legal actions in both Chilean and American courts against Henry A. Kissinger and other Nixon administration officials who supported plots to overthrow Salvador Allende Gossens, the Socialist president, in the early 1970s.

In perhaps the most prominent of the cases, an investigating judge here has formally asked Mr. Kissinger, a former national security adviser and secretary of state, and Nathaniel Davis, the American ambassador to Chile at the time, to respond to questions about the killing of an American citizen, Charles Horman, after the deadly military coup that brought General Pinochet to power on Sept. 11, 1973.

General Pinochet, now 85, ruled Chile until 1990. He was arrested in London in 1998 on a Spanish warrant charging him with human rights violations. After 16 months in custody, General Pinochet was released by Britain because of his declining health. Although he was arrested in Santiago in 2000, he was ruled mentally incompetent to stand trial.

The death of Mr. Horman, a filmmaker and journalist, was the subject of the 1982 movie Missing. A civil suit that his widow, Joyce Horman, filed in the United States was withdrawn after she could not obtain access to relevant American government documents. But the initiation of legal action here against General Pinochet and the declassification of some American documents led her to file a new suit here 15 months ago.

Last fall, after gaining approval from Chile's Supreme Court, Judge Juan Guzmán, who is also handling the Pinochet case, submitted 17 questions in the Horman case to American authorities. An American Embassy official here confirmed that the document, known as a letter rogatory, has been received in Washington, but said it has not yet been answered and that he did not know if or when there would be a response.

"We're pressing the case in Chile because this is the first opportunity we have had to see if there is still some real evidence there," Mrs. Horman said by telephone from New York. "But the letters rogatory seem to be in a paralyzed state."

William Rogers, Mr. Kissinger's lawyer, said in a letter that because the investigations in Chile and elsewhere related to Mr. Kissinger "in his capacity as secretary of state", the Department of State should respond to the issues that have been raised. He added that Mr. Kissinger is willing to "contribute what he can from his memory of those distant events", but did not say how or where that would occur.

Relatives of Gen. René Schneider, commander of the Chilean Armed Forces when he was assassinated in Oct. 1970 by other military officers, have taken a different approach than Mrs. Horman. Alleging summary execution, assault and civil rights violations, they filed a $3 million civil suit in Washington last fall against Mr. Kissinger, Richard M. Helms, the former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and other Nixon-era officials who, according to declassified United States documents, were involved in plotting a military coup to keep Mr. Allende from power.

In his books, Mr. Kissinger has acknowledged that he initially followed Mr. Nixon's orders in Sept. 1970 to organize a coup, but he also says that he ordered the effort shut down a month later. The government documents, however, indicate that the CIA continued to encourage a coup here and also provided money to military officers who had been jailed for General Schneider's death.

"My father was neither for or against Allende, but a constitutionalist who believed that the winner of the election should take office," René Schneider Jr. said. "That made him an obstacle to Mr. Kissinger and the Nixon government, and so they conspired with generals here to carry out the attack on my father and to plot a coup attempt."

In another action, human rights lawyers here have filed a criminal complaint against Mr. Kissinger and other American officials, accusing them of helping organize the covert regional program of political repression called Operation Condor. As part of that plan, right-wing military dictatorships in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay coordinated efforts throughout the 1970s to kidnap and kill hundreds of their exiled political opponents.

Argentina has also begun an investigation into American support for and involvement in Operation Condor. A judge there, Rodolfo Cancioba Corral, has said he regards Mr. Kissinger as a potential "defendant or suspect". But lawyers say it is virtually impossible for a foreign court to compel former American officials to answer a summons.

During a visit by Mr. Kissinger to France last year, for instance, a judge there sent police officers to his Paris hotel to serve him with a request to answer questions about American involvement in the Chilean coup, in which French citizens also disappeared. But Mr. Kissinger refused to respond to the subpoena, referred the matter to the State Department, and flew on to Italy.

"I think it is clear that Kissinger is now one of many, many officials who have to think twice before they travel," said Bruce Broomhall, director of the international justice program at the Lawyers Committee for Human Rights. "It will be surprising to many that an American secretary of state is among that group, but times have certainly changed" as a result of the Pinochet case, he said.

The uproar appears to have forced Mr. Kissinger to cancel a trip to Brazil. He was scheduled to make a speech and receive a government medal in São Paulo on March 13, but withdrew after leftist groups there said they would demonstrate against him and also called on judges and prosecutors to detain him for questioning about Operation Condor.

A spokeswoman for Kissinger Associates in New York attributed the change of plans to a "scheduling conflict." But the organizer of the event, Rabbi Henry Sobel of the Congregação Israelita Paulista, said "the situation had become politically uncomfortable" both for Mr. Kissinger and local Jewish community leaders who had invited him.

"I spoke with him many times on the telephone and made it very clear to him what was happening behind the scenes, and he was very sensitive to that," Rabbi Sobel said in a telephone interview. "This was a way to avoid any problems or embarrassment for him and for us."

[JR: A lot of connections to Kissinger here are related to the violent political events that occurred in Central America in the 1970s when Henry was head of the U.S. State Dept. Henry's vague memory of events won't hold up as he was the architect of our U.S. foreign policies from Pres. Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon. As Sec. of State, Kissinger was the sole planner of The Andes Plan for Central America that brought about the political instability and chaos that has lasted for over 30 years. He also used his great influence to threaten and eventually overthrow Pres. Bhutto of Pakistan and instigated the death of Aldo Moro of Italy because they didn't agree with his plans for their futures. There are enough solid charges here to indict Henry and he may need an army of top attorneys to defend him everywhere. Herr Kissinger may outlive the charges against him but not the TRUTH about his sordid past.]

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Lawful Avoidance Of Key IRS Designations

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #8:

Avoiding the IRS Designations of: "Personal Service Corporation", "Personal Holding Company" and "Controlled Group"

The tax advantages of properly operated Nevada corporate shelters may be secondary to the benefits of liability protection, asset protection and privacy but they are worth discussing all the same, especially since many tax professionals don't seem to "get it".

The IRS will tag a corporation as a "Personal Holding Company" and assess a surcharge of 39.6% on undistributed earnings in cases where more than 60% of the corporation's income is derived from "passive" sources such as dividends, interest and rental income. The IRS applies a designation of "Personal Services Corporation", assessing all income at a flat rate of 35%, in cases where a C corporation is engaged in the performance of personal services (consulting-type work) and where such services are performed by employee-owners. Yet another IRS designation is that of "Controlled Group", based on complicated rules for determining allowable cross-ownership of corporations, whereby the IRS seeks to lump all of the income into a single, consolidated return—resulting in the highest possible tax rate, of course.

Each of these designations is based on the corporation's OWNERSHIP. How very fortunate, then, that ownership of Nevada corporations is statutorily permitted to be very PRIVATE: It is not a matter of public record, only of the protected (by NRS 78.257) internal records of the corporation.

To be considered a "Personal Holding Company" a corporation must be owned by five or fewer stockholders. It is totally permissible for a corporation to earn 100% of its income from passive sources, as long as it is owned by six or more stockholders. It is similarly easy to avoid the designation of "Personal Services Corporation": Don't own the stock! "Controlled Group" status is also very easily avoided with Nevada corporations: Simply ensure that no entity owns 80% or more of any other entity and that in brother-sister corporate relationships there are six or more stockholders. As no liability is attached to stock ownership, surely you could find a trustworthy friend or six who wouldn't mind holding stock in the corporation? If not, give us a call—we know of hundreds of corporations in similar circumstances.

With regard to "Controlled Group" status, the IRS has from time to time invoked Section 482 of the Infernal Revenue Code, which lumps together income from corporations if they APPEAR to act out of a unity of interest. To our knowledge, however, even this blanketing regulation is relatively easily overcome, as long as the corporations act in their own, separate, well-documented self-interest.

WORDS OF WISDOM

FROM HATONN

CONTACT OR SPECTRUM?

I want to briefly respond to a most unusual question from a totally "out of the blue" person: "It appears Spectrum will fail, possibly close, so will you go back to writing for CONTACT or what?"

I have never stopped writing for CONTACT—but I have NOT written, nor have my compatriots written for Spectrum. Tails wag a lot of dogs, my friends. Therefore, "or what" has no meaning.
