RE: CRY OF THE PHOENIX; DEATH RATTLE OF FREEDOM "THE PLAN 2000"—GCH/D

INTO EVERY LIFE GOD SENDS HIS MESSAGES

THERE ARE NO COINCIDENCES—ONLY DISCOVERY AND MYSTERIES REVEALED.

Recognition of TRUTH is the most abundant gift you can receive for the guidance therein offered is beyond price.

We struggle daily to balance ongoing performance with the wiles and drama presentations of the "world at large". We get snookered, hooked and constantly bombarded with that which is interminably warped, inappropriate and revealing about the people and events swirling about us. The struggle is CONSTANT and the perceptions so limited as to be bewildering to anyone who is in service, for realization of both no limitations to total limitation is elusive.

I can with humor give example of that which I speak. We have had several people write that it is alright if Doris is too busy or hasn't time to write because they would hear from me and all will be happy. (???)

Exactly, HOW is that to work, readers?

I speak to YOU constantly with every recognition of question and answer you present. Ah but, you are NOT contented until it flows through this keyboard and you of our team won't accept, longer, another resource after having been misled and distracted by the myriad imposters and focus seekers.

You want MORE, MORE AND THEN MORE!

OK, fine and understood very well. However, I must "oh but—" again because you do not use what is already given beyond the moment and the content which focuses onto your particular problem or opinion. This is human and expected—however, the keyboard does not recognize the "wish" but reflects only the action or instructions given it, right or wrong.

We have to, therefore, assume the REAL desire is to OBSERVE and reap rewards without discomfort or inconvenience while "others" give ALL to your cause and your problem resolutions. This too is human but it also is the REASON you sit at the bedside of your FREEDOM'S DEATH RATTLE.

First I will make reference to the topic of THIS writing. You might be surprised and you may wish to get yourself a copy of a very, very important book that is certainly recognized by Webster's dictionary but overlooked for a long time by you-the-readers.

We presented a book that began on December 11, 1989 thru December 28, 1989. We worked diligently, I think you might agree?

We published it and it is called CRY OF THE PHOENIX; DEATH RATTLE OF FREEDOM; THE PLAN 2000.

No, there is nothing particularly "miraculous" in the book versus any other PHOENIX JOURNAL but perhaps this can serve as a realization as to how disinterested you have become in reality. WHEN DID YOU LAST READ THAT VOLUME?

When current examples are given for terms and words it is noted that when reference is made to "death rattle" it is this very book to which reference is made. The dictionary quotes "Cry of the Phoenix's" subtitle: DEATH RATTLE OF FREEDOM to express the very usage of the term “death rattle” which it continues to define.

Moreover, this comes in further reference to Roget's Thesaurus.

Then there is a section on “Commercial Usage”: whereat and in direct reference [Webster's] NAMES this book specifically.

WHAT MORE IS IT THAT YOU WANT, READERS?

We can't even get enough help to hold the books and yet when God DOES speak and offer information, it is dependent upon but a tiny, tiny few to heed even the information and that for so short a time as to boggle the senses.

I USE THIS ONLY AS AN EXAMPLE FOR THAT BOOK IS NO LESS OR MORE IMPORTANT THAN ANY OTHER JOURNAL—OF WHICH THERE ARE NOW SOME 150 VOLUMES MORE WAITING FOR PUBLICATION.

Therefore we are caused to have to beg and borrow to make our way through the maze of problems and confrontation and, even yet, bashing from some who claimed to be “on our team”. GOD ALLOWS! WE WORK WITH “WHAT IS” AND THIS IS “WHAT IS”.

I wrote in the “Foreword” of this Journal, the following which appears on the front cover:

“You have asked and asked for an explanation of the ancient prophecies and ‘where are we today’? You want to play in John's ‘revelations’ and Nostradamus' ‘prophecies’—we shall deal a bit with those things in this book—in order that you see that it is the unfolding of these very prophecies that is going on about you this day. TODAY! EXACTLY AS PROJECTED. GOD, PLEASE ALLOW THAT YOU READ AND UNDERSTAND FOR THE TRAP IS SET AND THE FIRE IS LAID. AHO! THE PHOENIX WILL RISE AGAIN FROM THE ASHES. WHERE WILL YOU BE?”

Next, please consider resources. This typist-scribe has been accused of every dastardly thing abounding from theft and dark-energy absorption to “do it all again, Alphy” as well as having to sort an IMPOSSIBLE DREAM into reality against all odds. She is even accused of being some “come again” Arabian princess who is anti-Semitic and a thief of wondrous assets, which become more a death warrant than a joy to share and hold.

This is not a complaint. It is a reminder that you have so much with which to use and yet so much is ignored—especially when it requires a second reading and probably in hindsight a great deal similar to a “second opinion”—your own.

This reference Journal is only ONE of hundreds which pour out information in truth and proof. This just happens to be one of the earlier ones in which you demanded proof of our actual participation in a possible forum.

Are there any of these books left? THOUSANDS! However, we have no notion as to how many of this particular volume, now registered forever in the annals of history, might be yet available. You will certainly have to check with “Phoenix Source” or CONTACT for that information for we will not REPRINT until such time as people, at the least, recognize the importance. Until then, you will put Michael Moore and Billy Zipper Clinton on the number one best seller's list. So be it. Please contact Phoenix Source Distributors, 1-800-800-5565 to order. For those wanting to buy via the Internet: [www.PhoenixSourceCanada.com.]

The back cover reads:

The four horsemen of Revelation have been loosed and are ravaging the populations of the world TODAY. If, as told in Revelation, two thirds of the population will be killed by wars, pestilence and plague, some four billion people will “die prematurely” in the next few years.

Most of us already wear the Mark of the BEAST; the BEAST will be recognized in 1990. The government of the United States of America is now firmly in the hands of the elitist Cartel, including the world bankers, who are dedicated to the collapsing of all nations into a One World Government by the year 2000.

The Constitution and the Bill of Rights are to be “abolished” in favor of the Soviet-constitution-based United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The hour is late but perhaps not too late to preserve those precious freedoms guaranteed by our Constitution and Bill of Rights. As in the Communist nations there will only be two classes, the ruling elite and the “workers”. If you are not guaranteed a place among the elite this book describes your future and how you might help change it.

HEREAT I WOULD APPRECIATE YOUR ENTERING THE FOREWORD TO THAT REFERENCED JOURNAL, BY ME, ON DECEMBER 28, 1989.

I ASK THAT THE FIRST CHAPTER OF THIS BOOK BE PRINTED FOLLOWING THAT “FOREWORD”, BY ATON. I WON'T ASK “FINGERS” TO RETYPE FOR SURELY IT CAN BE FOUND ALREADY ON A DISC “SOMEWHERE” AND IF NOT ELSEWHERE, CERTAINLY FROM THE PIRATED PRESENTATIONS OF ONE BELLRINGER.

We sit with no less than a dozen direct requests for financial help and support by ones that might well shock and amaze you in their self-focus and obviously without any notion of the stringent demands placed upon our team or the debts acquired to get this job done FOR HUMANITY. No, it is “not OK”!

Some petitions are from our very self-proclaimed enemies and others by some who found ill-treatment and thefts from the very “enemies” to ourselves and who turned to move with the miscreants and now find the swamp around their very ears (that is over their noses, my friends), AND YOU CANNOT BREATHE THROUGH YOUR EYES! Think about it, please. What will be the LAST thing YOU “see”?

No, we cannot serve more until we can hit and pass the goal line of THIS PROJECT.

You will note from the Foreword that many people are mentioned by name. Those are not simply there for your reading pleasure, and YES INDEED, THE “WORD” WAS SENT TO THEM DIRECTLY.

I will note here that information was sent directly to Paul Crouch of TBN, now a global disinformation network, and the response was to “dump that crap” and “come back to Jesus...!” OK, and thank you, sir and madam.

And so, how is your level of hopelessness today? Well, Mr. Kerry says there is “hope on the way”! What do you REALLY think?

I certainly suggest you allow us to move rapidly on this project instead of retelling the mysteries of the universe because our WINDOW is open only for a very short while—either way of elections.

As a last offer: Take my hand, friends and strangers, for I KNOW THE WAY! The choice, however, is YOURS alone.

FOREWORD

You have asked and asked for an explanation of the ancient prophecies and “where are we today”? You want to play in John's “revelations” and Nostradamus' “prophecies”—we shall deal a bit with those things in this book—in order that you see that it is the unfolding of those very prophecies which are going on about you this day. TODAY! EXACTLY AS PROJECTED. GOD, PLEASE ALLOW THAT YOU READ AND UNDERSTAND FOR THE TRAP IS SET AND THE FIRE IS LAID. AHO! THE PHOENIX WILL RISE AGAIN FROM THE ASHES. WHERE WILL YOU BE?

I request that you sit down and REALLY READ this JOURNAL. Please do not hop, skip and jump through the writings until you have carefully read the document. Then go back and reread and reread until the facts are engraved into your mind. As you are exposed to some quotations of ones such as Jesse Helms, you may be misled into believing he is not of the “lie”. This is to mislead—he is a high-ranking member of the “Elite” and out to destroy you. Be most cautious. Take note, however, that a lot of these “Elitists” are so frail that they will hop on either side of the fence that appears the better advantage—utilize well that knowledge.

Before you can have the birth of the Phoenix, you must have the ashes; however, truth and justice can only rise from a foundation of knowledge and truth. This JOURNAL is written in America for Americans but it is total truth for your world for THE PLAN:2000—YEAR 2000, is intended for the entire planet and all systems are “go”. GET THIS WORD TO ASIA, THE ORIENT, EUROPE—ANYWHERE IN THIS WORLD THAT YOU HAVE CONTACT OR CAN DIRECT THESE JOURNALS. IT IS A WORLD DUE FOR THE CLOSING, NOT JUST AMERICA—THE WHOLE PLANET!

THE PLAN HAS BEEN WELL DOCUMENTED AND WELL PUBLISHED. IT IS THE INTENT OF THE WORLD ELITE TO HAVE AND CONTROL A WORLD ORDER—A ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT BASED ON SOVIET-TYPE SOCIALISM. IT WILL HAVE ONLY TWO CLASSES—THE CONTROLLERS WITH GREAT WEALTH AND THE LABORERS—YOU—WHO DO THE WILL OF THE ELITE FOR THE ELITE IS ALREADY CHOSEN. IT IS INTENDED TO BE FULLY OPERATIONAL BY THE YEAR 2000.

This does not give you very long to tend of your business. It is intended that you have no defense system and a world police state. The last half of this JOURNAL explains The Plan 2000 in detail. If it sounds like the ravings of an insane mind—so be it. It is the fact in action, of a handful of insane minds but it is all but finished in fact. The groundwork has been laid beginning over a century ago. Wars have been set up and executed for a century while you, the public, were the dupes, pawns and gun-fodder.

The evil rulers have already taken over your government and your religious institutions, your schools and your very freedoms.

No matter who you are, the facts herein are threads in the tapestry of your future—your very existence. Life and death decisions have been made for you by people you have never heard of and with full intent of enslavement—of you.

This information may shock you but perhaps it shall be the alarm bell that completely reorders your reality. TRUTH GIVES OPENING TO THE EYES AND EARS AND UNDERSTANDING UNTO THE MIND. The Plan is unfolding around you on every part of the globe.

Do not blame God—this is not God's Plan for his creations—this is the plan of Satan in its vilest format. It is God's plan that you come back into Truth and balance with Him to see this planet through her rebirthing. IT WAS NEVER INTENDED THAT SATAN WIN IN THE ULTIMATE GAME—SO BE IT!

After you have read this JOURNAL and some of the backup documents which will confirm every statement, you will wonder what you can DO! Well, there most certainly are things that you can do—you can refuse to allow it go further.

There is tremendous power, solace and victory in refusing to be further deceived. Each of you must go within and look at that which YOU are—the talents which you have—and begin to take action. Do something positive if it only is to speak out and get the word scattered to the four corners of your world—it is only through Truth that there is hope.

Support ones such as John Stockwell, former Director of Operations in the CIA who speaks daily of how it is for his soul could bear no more of the lies. There are many now who dare and face the killers every day of their lives to bring you forth the Truth before it is too late. This one man has several publications—demand that your bookstores get these reference books and get them to the public. Knowledge is your sword.

If you know ones such as Ted Turner—INSIST HE STUDY ALL THIS MATERIAL—NOW! IF YOU DON'T KNOW HIM, SEND HIM THE JOURNALS ANYWAY. Try the ones on the TBN, Paul Crouch, and bombard him with the JOURNALS—THESE ARE THE ONES WITH THE INDEPENDENT NETWORKS WHO CAN ACTUALLY DO SOMETHING. Try C-SPAN—TRY ANYONE YOU KNOW OR CAN THINK OF—YOU DO NOT NEED TO KNOW THEM. OBERLI, PLACE ADDRESSES FOR THESE ONES AT THE BOTTOM OF THIS FOREWORD, PLEASE. SEND COPIES TO ROBERT REDFORD (he just got an award for his ecological works), PAUL NEWMAN, MARTIN SHEEN, KRIS KRISTOPHERSON, STEVEN SPIELBERG, RON HOWARD, "MR. SPOCK", "STAR TREK" (I CANNOT NAME THEM ALL SO BE CREATIVE; DENNIS WEAVER, JOHN DENVER AT WINDSTAR PROJECT—BARRAGE THEM AND DEMAND ACTION FROM THEM—YOU ARE THEIR PUBLIC—DEMAND THEY RESPOND!

Write the publisher, Phoenix Source Publishers, Inc., for they risk more than you can imagine on your behalf. Write the scribes and editors and printers of these JOURNALS through the publisher that they can realize they are reaching through. It is a most fearful and lonely journey indeed—and ask again, within self: "What can I do?" and do it!

THERE ARE SOME NAMES IN THIS JOURNAL WHICH, OF NECESSITY, ARE PSEUDONYMS—I.E., VIKTOR SUVOROV, Viktor; HE IS UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH FOR HIS DEFECTION. YOU MUST PROTECT YOUR BROTHERS!

Will it be the birth cry of the Phoenix that shall be heard throughout your lands—or is it the death rattle of freedom? It is ultimately your choice and you have less than ten years to regain your control for the World Order has rewritten your Constitution, are selling your country by "Treaties" and "Executive Orders" and you sleep on while your children die in the conjured up wars and escapades set up as distractors to gain more control. GET SICK, GET ANGRY AND GET BUSY!

You must get your Truth in order. You must get your survival shelters in place and stocked. Only YOU can stop being a person of the lie—only YOU!

GOD WILL MOST SURELY HELP THOSE WILLING TO HELP THEMSELVES—AND "ASK"—YE MUST ASK!

CHAPTER 1

The third virtue that escapes your memory is that in which you excel, chela—wowacintanka—fortitude! You have just forgotten. These things must be told and put unto the press that my people can be in the remembering. I am Grandfather Aton; to speak to you.

Your mind shall be kept veiled in your consciousness for man is not yet ready to hear it all and man's tongue is attached so solidly to his consciousness that it spills over as prompted by his ego. Ye shall simply clear of all dark clowns from your space and write that which we bring to you just as you have been doing these months past. If my words bring embarrassment or a swish of guilt upon ones who are in the receiving then it is time that they pay attention. No thing more and no thing less. You walk the road of light and the messages are not always for you to decipher—much the less for you to project in your interpretation. You shall be given to understand the difference. You shall seek wisdom, which is the first virtue, first in all things and the rest shall be added in properness. You shall persist in woohitika, which is bravery, for you know the best and the worst and from the worst shall rise the best. You shall also continue to put my Truth to the pages lest you fail your last test, that of wacantognaka—generosity. As Truth is given forth and ones who receive clutch it and hide it in the darkness—or sell it for earthly worth greed or putrid ego satisfaction, the virtue of generosity is lost, for unless you give it forth you cannot receive of the abundance back into the beingness which is truly you within. Wisdom comes from the errors committed and not repeated. So be it.

With wisdom comes the knowledge that all things are binded together by the strands of each bound together as the cohesive whole. Wisdom is the recognition and reverence (not worship) of the seen and the unseen, the known and the unknown working together and interacting in such a way as to bring balance unto that which is The Creation of that One from which you come. But simply to be in the knowing does not bring wholeness for unless there is the act of generosity and sharing—action—the fourth virtue is failed.

Heed well the remindings of the ancient teachers who have willingly come forth again to point the directions. Two thousand years past in the traditions of those you label today, the Hopi, came a warning which men ignore and yet has been repeated again and again from your great wise-men—sages: "When you see a 'gourd of ashes' in the sky you will know that the Great Purification is at hand." Whether you wish to realize it or not makes no difference whatsoever. And, two thousand years ago the Truth was again brought by one who represented Truth and you were again told, "There will be wars and rumors of wars, earthquakes, famines, pestilence... men fainting with fear and with foreboding of what is coming on the world, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken."

You have been told before that Ages of Newness would be filled with chemical pollution. You have been told that there would come severe floods upon the lands and severe droughts; volcanoes will erupt and you will be plagued by earthquakes, massive erosion and vast inundations. There will be great and drastic activities—earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, bizarre weather patterns and these will especially be prevalent in what you call the "Ring of Fire" stretching from the south of the Sea of Peace and Japan to the Western mountain chains of North and South America.

Ah yes, chela, 'tis not only in your placement for it shall engulf the totality of the Earth-Mother. But you are given that which is in your realm of attention and existence. You shall be given those things about your world so that they can be integrated for all peoples—there are others who shall be given those insights.

There is no point in focusing upon these "things"—they are but the cleansing and the renewal and the casting off of the old—they are but the clues to the timing sequence that man can understand his slothful ways and quicken his attention. As Little Crow suggests—quit looking into the reflection glass for that is NOT who you are—look within to the Truth of self and see who you might be hiding within that cumbersome machinery. 'Tis the journey within that is ultimate—not the reflection from a looking glass for the glass stops your vision just beyond your nose and vision must flow throughout infinity—beyond man's puny limits. There is only brotherhood within the vision quest of ones who come from the thunder peoples and the sky brothers. These ones were labeled the "Bird Tribes" for when they were labeled thusly—only birds flew within the consciousness of experience.

Oh yes, chela, I can explain these things unto you and I shall do so in many ways, through carefully chosen receivers and transmitters that they can be written in a way in which each individual entity can be made to understand.

You must place into perspective that which has occurred upon your globe of manifested experience. You watch man unearth another man from apparently another time, a skeleton, a bowl of primitive clay fragments, pieces of stone and sharp glass-like flint tools. You look and you marvel at the findings while you over-look the grandest discoveries of the cycles of time.

These places are unearthed because they represent the "beginning", not the "ending". When the old continents are again thrust up from the eons of cleansing under the seas, life shall need begin again—and man always insists on starting over. His destructive and evil nature comes forth and destroys and the Mother is forced to again cleanse so she rolls over in her bed and washes away that which is evil and without purity and that which is man created is lost again into its elemental forms but that which was remaining of the elemental species is left for the next generation of "modern man" to find and exploit. For man must always come into the truth of it—there is nothing more and nothing less. All he can gather are his experiences and his growth in recognition of the vast infinity of the creation where he exists forever. As the old comes forth all that is brought back is the basic beginnings of what appears to be life. A few fragments of geographical locations are always left to remain that there might be continuation of a species. Man was always man—man was never a fish nor an ape—man was always man. It is always the ones of the ancients who remain with the Earth Mother to nurture and hold to the old that again a civilization of human might be rebirthed and given opportunity to experience and grow through his virtues and repeat or renew; it is his choice, always.

The “livingness” of the Mother is brought into her radiance and those with her which have come into Truth. Those who must be taught in the lower grades are placed appropriately that they can continue in their lessons. When a planet “closes” its magnificent and ultimate cycle new lands raise from the ocean and, without the waters, the living plants and animal species perish or in some instances, adapt. However as the old is brought for cleansing beneath the waters of the great seas, that which man has corrupted poisons the remaining oceans and the new oceans beneath which the pollution lies sunken. Some survive for it is intended to be that way. If the ending of a planet or life base is truly annihilated, it becomes a massive asteroid belt and/or an encapsulated energy form to be re-molded into whatever the creator so “thinks”—it matters not to you for you will have lost your “consciousness” and would again be without knowingness.

Again the ancient “teachers” from the universal realms are there to begin the lessons again—the first to come, the last to go—only relieved by brief periods of “lift-off” to insure re-commence of the mighty cycle. You ones in this consciousness are in the final fragments of the mighty cycle before and while the old passes and the new begins. ’Tis a wondrous gift indeed to be the selected few for the false betrayers stand to the left and right and all about you to push you from your path. I am the mother hen for all of you, my little fledglings who cling unto my feathers, for I know the path and I hold the lamp to light the way. You need no rituals to reach out and take mine hand for you have never been disconnected from me. To renew the bond is but a thought—to sever is also but a thought and even then I shall not leave of thee as you are allowed your lessons.

AGE OF CHAOS

You, as man, are in the Age of Kali—the Age of Chaos.

Your wondrous Earth stands assaulted in this age of Kali, the helpmate of evil. Forsaken are the virtues; there is no truthfulness, self-discipline, purity of body and mind, and compassion, nor is there liberality. The people are wretched and engaged only in filling their bellies, which are swollen and distorted in the lands of the famines. Those in the lands of plenty are engaged only in puny, greedy gluttony and indulgence of self. ’Tis grand and wondrous to use and hold and share the abundance of the Creation/Creator but ’tis sad to see the intent of greed and self-orientation.

Those who pose as saints are constantly engaged in preaching false doctrines. Those who have apparently renounced the world are rich in worldly possessions, and have become united in families and procreate for the pleasure of the act and not for the new life-form created. There are few remaining true bonds between husband and wife and one sheds himself of the other at a moment’s whim, leaving the children to grow among the weeds of wreckage. All spiritual discipline stands consumed by the wildfire. The teachers sell their knowledge of the sacred Truth and men and women turn unto prostitution of selves to hold their unholy treasures.

The path of righteous discipline and Union with God have all but vanished from the face of your Earth in the wash of chaos. In this age the righteous men remain dejected and the unrighteous feel overjoyed indeed.

The learned spiritual leaders bless and indulge in sexual commerce with their wives and partners like buffaloes who know not other. They become expert in all manner of methods of procreating and are not at all clever in achieving freedom, liberation, fulfillment and self-discipline. The substance of life has disappeared everywhere.

Day following day, righteousness, veracity, purity, forgiveness, compassion, length of life, bodily strength and keenness of memory will spiral into decline—the four virtues will be all but forgotten except for the few. Wealth alone will represent the measuring scale and will be the criterion of pedigree, morality and merit. What is chosen by those of wealth shall be “voted” into acceptance by the whole. It has already happened.

Brute force and power will be the only factor determining righteousness and fairness... trickery alone will be the motive force in business dealings. Capability of affording sexual delight will be the only criterion of masculine or feminine excellence—both will torment and destroy their very vehicles of body to achieve that false security of physical beauty for sexuality to draw the helpless moth to the destructive flame of destruction.

Justice will have every chance of being debased in moral basis because of one’s inability to gratify those administering it. Want of riches will be the sole test of impiety and hypocrisy will be the only touchstone of goodness—digression from accepted traditions of moral ethics shall be the accepted sign of outward “beauty”.

Skill will consist in supporting one’s family and self for self-gratification and facade; virtuous deeds will be performed only with the object of gaining fame and ego satisfaction; and when in this way the terrestrial globe will be overrun by wicked and evil people, the person who would prove to be the most powerful amongst all will become the ruler thereof.

Robbed of their wealth (for it is already happening) and their women by greedy and merciless politicians and soldiers, behaving like robbers, people will resort to mountains and forests and subsist on leaves, roots, meat, honey, fruits, flowers and seeds. Already oppressed by famine and heavy taxation, people will perish through drought, excessive cold, storms, scorching sunshine, heavy rain, snowfall and mutual conflict. In this Age of Kali men will be tormented by hunger and thirst, plagues, ailments and mental worry without bounds.

When through the evil effects of this chaos the bodies of mankind get reduced in size and emaciated, the righteous course chalked out by the true scriptures as brought in spiritual guidance gets lost when religion is replaced by heresy to a large extent and rulers mostly turn out to be thieves, when men take to various pursuits like theft, dishonesty, wanton destruction of life and so on; annual plants get stunted in growth and trees are mostly reduced in size to that of a small tree and dwellings will become desolate for want of hospitality, love and trust.

In the Age of Chaos, a quarter alone of the four feet of “dharma” (righteousness, divine law or virtue) remains. Nay, due to the feet of unrighteousness gaining ground that, too, steadily declines and ultimately disappears altogether. People in the Age of Chaos turn out to be greedy, immoral and merciless, enter into hostility without cause and are unlucky and extremely covetous.

When duplicity, mendacity, drowsiness, excessive sleep, violence, dejection, grief, infatuation, fear and wretchedness prevail, that is recognized as the Age of Kali, characterized by the predominance of sloth, impurity and indolence as a result of which people become dull-witted, unable to judge things in their proper perspective, and are voracious, lascivious and destitute. ’Tis not just the male who will fall prey, for the female, too, will turn out to be extravagant, self-indulgent and unchaste. Countries are infested with robbers, the spiritual bringers of Truth stand condemned by heretics; rulers exploit the people; and the priests remain devoted to the gratification of sexual desires, acquisition of wealth, ego strutting and intent on gluttony and self-indulgence.

Householders will need take to begging and low-minded traders will carry on business transactions and practice fraud. Even when they are not in distress people will favor pursuits which are condemned. Employees will leave their employers when reduced to penury, though superior in every other respect; and employers, too, will discharge their employee when incapacitated for service through ailment, etc., even though his whole family may have served the employer for generations.

Those who have no true spiritual knowledge will occupy high seats and preach “religion”. Oppressed by famine and heavy taxation, land being divested of food grains, and stricken with fear of droughts, people in the age of chaos will ever remain perturbed in mind. Destitute of clothes and ornaments, nay even food and drink, bed and sexual enjoyment, they will go even without a bath and put on the appearance of a madman. Quarrelling even for a very small sum of money, having cast all goodwill to the winds, people in the time of chaos will kill even their own people and part with their own dear life. Mean-minded fellows will concern themselves only with the gratification of their lust and satisfaction of their hunger and fail to maintain even their aged parents and elders while parents will disown their children, though clever in all matters. With their mind perverted by heretics, mortals will mostly stop giving reverence to an immortal Lord, the once highest object of adoration for the whole universe—in this way when the Age of Chaos, whose career is so severe to the people, is well-nigh past, the Lord will appear in His divine form consisting of purity alone, for the protection of virtue.

So be it and heed well my words for it will come to pass in your time upon this place—you are dwelling in the beginnings of the final Age of Kali (Chaos)!

ANOTHER VIEW FROM THE MOUNTAIN

And he spoke unto the people who would listen unto the words of truth but few listened nor heeded his speech.

“Take heed that no one leads you astray. Many will come in my name, saying ‘I am he’, and will lead many astray. And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be alarmed; for these must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famine and earthquakes and pestilences in various places; and there will be terrors and great signs from heaven.

“But before all this and all during it they will lay their hands on you and persecute you, and put you to death for my name’s sake. And then many will fall away, and betray one another and hate one another. You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and kinsmen and friends. This will be a time for you to bear testimony and the Word must first be taught to all nations. And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray. And because wickedness is multiplied, most men's love will grow cold. But he who endures to the end will be saved.

"But when you see the desolating sacrilege set up where it ought not to be, then . . . flee to the mountains . . . for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written, alas for those who are with child and for those who give suck in those days! For great distress shall be upon the Earth . . . there will be such tribulation as has not been from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, and never will be. And if the Lord had not shortened the days, no living thing would be saved; but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened . . . For false Christs and false prophets will arise and show signs and wonders, to lead astray, if possible, even the elect . . . do not believe them. For as the lightning comes from the east and shines as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

"And there will be signs in the Sun and Moon and stars, the Sun will be darkened, and the Moon will not give its light, and the stars will be falling from heaven, and upon the Earth distress of nations in perplexity at the roaring of the sea and the waves, men fainting with fear and with foreboding of what is coming on the world; for the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. And then they will see the sign of the Son of Man in heaven, and then all the tribes of the Earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And he will send out the angels, and gather his elect from the four winds, from the ends of the Earth to the ends of heaven.

"Now when these things begin to take place, look up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near . . . when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near. Truly, I say to you, this generation which sees these signs will not pass away 'til all has taken place. Heaven and Earth will pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

"But take heed to yourselves lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of this life, and that day comes upon you suddenly like a snare; for it will come upon all who dwell upon the face of the whole Earth. But watch at all times, praying that you may have strength to escape all these things that will take place, and to stand before the Son of Man.

"As were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark, and they did not know until the flood came and swept them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man . . . Watch, therefore, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect."

Dharma, we are going to look at these prophecies very carefully that man might have his perspective focused on the truth of it. It is only in the eating that the pudding can be tested—we are going to sample the pudding and see if the cooking is perfected.

You will go now, little sparrow, for we still have great work to do before you can take of thy time in vacation and recreation. 'Tis for this you have come, Dharma—you and my beloved and faithful company of daring bringers of light and Truth unto mankind. Yes, you shall be given the strength and persistence of the fourth virtue, Wowacintanka—fortitude, little chelas, for it is your mission. So be it and I hold you close within my wings of sunlight for I AM!

RP Current Events And Amazing Optical Illusion

7/26/04—#1 (17-345)

MON., JUL. 26, 2004 9:06 A.M. YR 17, DAY 345
Manila, Philippines

RE: CURRENT EVENTS: STATUS OF QUESTIONABLE U.S. CITIZENS IN PHILIPPINES; STATE OF THE NATION (PHILS) TODAY; BUILDINGS FALLING "OVER" THEN "DOWN"; MAYON VOLCANO ON SPEW SPREE; MONSOONS, TYPHOONS AND OTHER "OONS". DORIS IS NOT "DOVE OF ONENESS" OR HAS ANYTHING TO DO WITH NASTY NASRA—DJE

EXPLANATION NOTICE: DJE—I will cover some topics very briefly that will be fleshed out in the paper with source documents to protect our assets and still get you the "current" news as being presented and which DOES very definitely have impact on our geophysical location, our very personal beings and possible limitations BUT better opportunities (the worse things get here the more important our program becomes to the entire population of Southeast Asia—and jolly well could be most important to the United States of America and her allies). It is called "ROCKS AND HARD PLACES" in which this little misfit President of the Philippines finds herself today—at odds with the political hierarchy of the U.S. but working directly for the, obviously, banksters, et al., trying to get George Bush buried BEFORE he can do much more insane "coalition of the willing". This is also now recognized as a kind-of program to recognize the power of Israel and SEE before the world the involvement of the Israeli Intelligence into every terrorist activity taking place EVERYWHERE. (This is NOT "Jewish"; it is the "big confrontation" in all aspects of the thought-action manipulation.)

The notice part, however, is to give you a bit of prior input for it will be noted, please, that we may well be delayed in the next edition of the paper due to inability of our "hands on" producers of the paper being perhaps out of the loop. [Once again, "somehow", this issue will meet the publishing deadline and there is no need to skip an issue.] This writing can be published next edition anyway as lead-in comments so that readers can have some notion about why the articles are being published. Thank you. DJE

IMELDA MARCOS

I make this first notation simply to offer information as there is a "first banned" and "then released" movie about Imelda Marcos in which Imelda is a large part of the "interview" regarding the "documentary" in point. The picture did get first awards for Cinematography at SUNDANCE and it is a new release so must mean something. [Ferne Pearlstein's movie about Imelda is titled Steel Butterfly.]

Historically it is pretty good as a timeline type of documentary and certainly, having personally seen Imelda quite recently, is CURRENT. I would guess that she would fit into a slot of "strange" but nothing has been done FOR THE PHILIPPINES since the demise of Ferdinand and Imelda's incredible calling to

"beauty" and "self-beautification"—(her words).

You can, in addition, see Gerry Spence with her in New York along with an eye-opening view of the interconnections and absolute manipulation BY the United States.

There is no mention of gold, Yamashita or otherwise, so don't expect insight into other than graft and corruption accusations—but LOTS AND LOTS of "money" around.

It certainly is, to us anyway, worth taking a couple of hours to go eat popcorn and enjoy a little trip through "Amazingland".

That is enough of that particular topic.

FOUNDATION ACTIVITIES

We will have to overlook that topic for the day because we haven't heard back from our Trustee people. We did hear through another party that the President of our Board wants a meeting Friday evening because he can't seem to find anything "to do" even after being specifically informed—by the Board. It is worse than teeth-pulling! Moreover, this particular person did NOT come to the last two meetings and we are getting less willing to be host to such manipulation. We need to turn our attention to Papua New Guinea (again) for the crunch of the moment.

STATE OF THIS NATION

This afternoon presents the President's State of the Nation Address (SONA) and that will be something out of "Wonderland". She has a 10-point program she CAN'T in any way perform while the entire police department and armed forces are under full RED alert for the nation as a whole, especially in Manila where it takes place, and Cebu whereat "the Lady" is planning to build another Capitol. She is already dubbed the "President of Cebu"—a very long way from Manila and the Congress. It is a very long way and is being subsidized by the PAGCOR (Gambling, Casino and Gaming). Subtle? Not very!

Poe and Legarda (losing candidates for president and v.p.) have filed charges with the Supreme Court to set aside the "proclamation" of "win" by Arroyo and for a full count of BALLOTS. Gee, and how is your decade?

The mess set forth in her actions regarding getting Angelo de la Cruz out of Iraq and a withdrawal by one month early of 51 "troops" is about to blow the top off the simmering pot here and in the U.S. It certainly DID get attention; the U.S. Ambassador Ricciardone was RECALLED IMMEDIATELY and there have been objection speeches by Rumsfeld and Powell AMONG OTHER MUCKIES.

Where we can't "overlook" implications is in the fact that it is NOW being published that the U.S. will BAN U.S. citizens from coming to the Philippines. It is in no way official but the warnings have been up against travel here for years so perhaps nobody paid enough attention. What do we think?

Next month, no later, we have to make that "annual" trip out of country to again qualify for visa extensions here in the Philippines. The problem, if any, comes in trying to get back into here from “anywhere there”. But since we have a long history and are qualified as journalists we believe we can come back since it won’t be directly FROM the U.S. We have to have exit tickets ANYWAY (as part of visa regulations) and since we have a “record” now well established it is understood that we would have all of our personal “things” to gather, ship and/or attend, along with a signed lease for six months as required so our personal “suspicion” is that it will be blown over by travel time. We can’t do a thing about it except let it unfold, not panic or get hives and keep right on working.

IS IT SAFE HERE?

NO!—THE BUILDINGS ARE FALLING DOWN

I only wish I knew how to get pictures to you to experience the overall incredible things that happen here. We are asked about this so will speak of it here, as to logistics and “fall down laughing”—unless you are “in” or “under” the building falling down.

I cannot get over this episode of “living dangerously”.

Just a little distance from us a nine-story (plus shopping floor ground level) FELL OVER. The tale goes internationally that it “collapsed”. No, it FELL OVER.

We note that surely something collapsed at one side of “ground level zero” but nothing else collapsed until it HIT THE BUILDING ACROSS THE STREET “INTERSECTION”.

This building is in the “Divisoria” which means THE market area of Metro Manila but where overhead octopus poles and wires are bundled like disasters waiting to happen lining the streets on all sides. THE BUILDING IS LESS THAN FIVE YEARS OLD.

People in the building sensed there was some “leaning” happening for a few days but obviously nothing even notable. Then at around 10:00 a.m. Friday there was some snap, crackling and a bit of popping and the building “sort-of” shifted as sidewalks cracked and the structured “tilted”.

Not to be rushed but with some attention to possible imminent danger of “something” happening the building itself was evacuated. When studying the circumstances it was evident that domino effect would take out parts of other structures and those immediately in the hit zone were also emptied.

Then around 4:00 or 4:30 p.m. the building simply fell over. It took out the power lines which could have burned down Manila for they were still “alive” and you could watch them blow along with their transformers all along the way.

EJ and I about did a run under the couch as we surmised that those gold treasure hunters had dug so much of the ground under the building that it simply toppled into the hole. It is obvious that this is NOT FUNNY but is so “Philippines”! I went further and said, “there goes the Gilarmi” until I realized that the Gilarmi had stood through major earthquakes with us in it through one of them. This building is built by, we think, the same builders and also has stood the same pressures so we took a deep breath, shook our heads and counted our blessing for being hooked up to a different power grid.

Can it get more interesting? Oh indeed it can!

We note that the Philippine humor never fades. It is such a big global “thing” about this Iraqi hostage, de la Cruz, in that to become a “hero” all he had to do was get himself captured and threatened with beheading. Now the politicians are falling all over themselves to get photo-ops with him, give him land with a home and some “rice” land, and on and on. He and his wife and 8 (eight) children are squatters no less with no job in sight (as there are no jobs anywhere here for anyone). The humor, however, is in that he is now the envy and the “outcast” of his own squatter neighborhood for “making it big time”. Moreover, the next joke is that of “and then there are nine”. Meaning: He will surely “make” one more while he has nothing to do but wait for the rice to grow.

I am asking that when we can do so that we run some information on Dove of Oneness and NESARA and a current petition from Bellringer, which is “referencing NESARA”. [Bellringer’s NESARA reference is appended to this writing with a separate heading, “A CALL FOR HELP FROM FOURWINDS” on page 8. Also, see “Dove Droppings...”, beginning on page 11.] This is to give you readers some idea of the absurdities to which we are exposed, accused of participation, etc., CONSTANTLY. We all KNOW that VK Durham, around Christmas year-before-last, DID STATE IN TWO WRITINGS ON RUMOR MILLS READING ROOM THAT SHE WAS “NESARA”. She even misspelled her own “initials” reference but made it quite clear it was THE program in point of NESARA.

Earlier than that, out of the blue, in a notice she (VK) denied any participation in that thing called “Omega” and which we now know was such a scam as to send the man, Mr. Hood I believe, to prison. Bellringer, however, touted it (Omega) AND referenced both Dove, NESARA and VK AS BACKERS, ETC.

VK has RECENTLY again accused we Ekkers, specifically Doris, of being all the absurd entities she can drag up from any sewer along with misrepresenting everything and anything we stand for. She has gone further now and for about a year has accused us of even gaining a Seat on the Philippines Stock Exchange.

We laughed about that one even a bit more than the others for “we have no stock” and our only association is with an “alliance” and a “foundation”, NEITHER OF WHICH CAN BE LISTED ON “ANY” STOCK EXCHANGE ANYWHERE ON THE PLANET.

VK continues to demand as to why Ekkers haven’t been imprisoned and speculates it is through treasonous conspiracies. Sorry to remind everyone that ALL OF OUR DOCUMENTS ARE TRULY, “REALLY” REGISTERED IN ALL RESPECTS AND ANYONE CURIOUS ENOUGH TO CHECK CAN FIND EVERYTHING OPENLY AVAILABLE AND ACCESSABLE.

As nearly as we can conclude from information now presented from more local “Dove” watchers, she is SHAINI GOODWIN of Shelton, Washington. We were further informed that she was really irritated to be called Doris Ekker. Well, ME TOO!

And now perhaps you can see why our Teacher’s guidance has not gone for web-sites, Internet BS, and/or some “claim to fame” of any outrageous kind. We never had any kind of organized anything, for if anyone wished to visit us, they were welcome to come freely and we supplied the treats and coffee.

Dove’s site, and she as “head” of same, are called “cybercult”. Gee, have we ever come a long way. She gets away with some of this by finally doing something a bit shrewd in that there is someone named “BARNARD” who actually was the original author of the NESARA bill. Dove came along and said his website was a sham. Oh well, he never said anything about being anything worth following because it was NEVER more than snubbed by anyone.

BARNARD called his “NESARA” National

Economic Stabilization and Recovery Act. Dovy took the same “NESARA” but changed it to National Economic Security and Reformation Act. I hope all of you will look up VK’s rendition of this game along with Rue Mills (Rayelan Russbacher) and other fraudulent non-thinkers such as Bellringer, Spectrum “brains” and even some “Psychic” called Barbara Hartwell. Then Sheldon Nidle got on the NESARA bandwagon but may have also “gotten off” by now. It was a bit of stretching to expect that “something for nothing” abundance out of something so “nere-dowell”. Sheldon still proclaims that the bad guys are “finished” and “first contact” is imminent—and who are we to argue? He claims his information comes from the Galactic Federation and thus, again, who are we to argue. We have our job and purpose and have no right to infringe or assume anything for “another”—BUT NEITHER DOES ANYONE HAVE A RIGHT TO ASSUME OR PRESUME UPON US!

I know that we get bashed for not simply expressing “revelation” but you know what? I believe that there is no new “revelation” to be had as in “prophecy and expectation”. All, at most, that we have is speculation and “passer guessers”. Please note that we should have been in “THE END” on several recent dates and NOTHING of note happened anywhere. I think we should work for the “eternal” change to our best ability and then we are not so “disappointed” when our demise did not happen as prescribed. It appears we have enough with which to deal and I can give you a fine example of that statement.

We have, and I can’t suggest strongly enough that you get any Journals referencing the TRILLION DOLLAR LIE, which offers information already public about the numbers and methods of deaded “Jews” in the so-named “Holocaust” of German referenced geographical location. Many of those Phoenix Journals are yet available but you will have to check on it as to specific titles. I would guess that this one is in stock. The Phoenix Journals can be ordered from Phoenix Source Distributors, 1-800-800-5565. Canadians may also order from Phoenix Source Canada, Inc., 1-250-248-5591. Journal write-ups can be viewed at [www.PhoenixSourceCanada.com.]

WE HAVE NEVER “DENIED” A HOLOCAUST—EVEN OF JEWS BY THE NAZIS, BUT, DATA SHOW THAT THE NUMBERS PRESENTED CANNOT BE ACCURATE IN ANY WAY, SHAPE OR FORM.

A couple or three years ago, in fact, the numbers were changed from 6-million Jews slain to 7-1/2 million. When that didn’t fly AT ALL, it was reduced by 500,000 and finally back to the established “6-million”. I DON’T KNOW HOW MANY PEOPLE DIED BUT I DO KNOW THAT, IN FACT, THERE WERE NOT 6 MILLION JEWS IN THE AREA OF FOCUS AT THAT TIME IN HISTORY. So be it.

I repeat, we do not DENY THE HOLOCAUST or any holocaust but we have presented published data regarding the topic and once—since we have been in Manila so probably published in the paper in or around 1999—as an update through updated information established since we first wrote on the topic.

We are not under siege over that information for that already took place. When we first published Holocaust information THE PAPERS WERE STOPPED AS HATE LITERATURE AT THE CANADIAN BORDER. Everything was later RELEASED because there was NO EVIDENCE OF INTENTIONAL DENIAL OR HATE INVOLVED. It is equally important that you often refresh your minds about the Zionist Protocols because they have been brought manifest in almost every instance.

Funny thing about that Canadian border: WE

ALSO HAD OUR SILVER COLLOID STOPPED AT THE BORDER ONLY TO BE TESTED AND FOUND TO BE A BETTER QUALITY THAN REQUIRED AND PASSED THROUGH WITH FLYING COLORS. Ah but, our own people turned in Diane through New Gaia for a labeling non-update and the lawyer sold her right out to the Feds and she dearly paid the price as have you by losing your products.

We walk a tight-wire over glass shards because no matter what we do we will have someone who does us in to best ability be it from bashing our personnel as being criminals and con persons to us snitching and hiding wealth to “keep up our life-style” in Manila. Wrong information is given forth to the four winds even as to reference data and we lost support and persons that have left great and substantial voids in our hearts but God didn’t accept that we would only serve “IF” things would not get worrisome. We have learned to live with it and shore up our attention alerts and pay notice to possibilities.

We received a call from Brazil day before yesterday and in the conversation, mostly about Spelt growing, there was a petition for Gaiandriana and when we would again offer it. No, certainly not yet or on any major scale even if “Mad Cow” gets even madder. Our own people did us in and so much for that experience

I go through this dissertation to share what has happened that almost all of you will have missed.

[QUOTING:]

GLOBAL HOLOCAUST-DENIERS

BILL PASSED IN KNESSET

By Nina Gilbert, The Jerusalem Post, 7/22/04

Legislation that would make Holocaust-denial committed overseas an offense under Israeli legal jurisdiction was APPROVED UNANIMOUSLY in first reading by the Knesset on Tuesday.

The passage of the measure would enable Israel to demand the extradition of Holocaust-deniers for prosecution.

The bill was drafted by MK Aryeh Eldad (National Union) as a move against former Palestinian Authority prime minister Mahmoud Abbas (Abu Mazen) for his doctoral dissertation 20 years ago in which he estimated that the Nazis killed less than a million Jews.

It is likely to serve as a deterrence against Holocaust-deniers visiting Israel, although the possibility of countries consenting to extradition on the offense is unlikely.

The legislation expands the territorial jurisdiction of the Israeli law against Holocaust-denying outside of its borders.

[END QUOTING]

JUST WHEN YOU NEED IT———!

(Confirmation flies in on the wings of thought.)

Thank you, John, for just when I needed it the absolute “most” your “illusion” arrived. I am asking if EJ can attach it to this writing for I think everyone would like to have a bit of uplifting realization.

I do have a suggestion, however, and it is in that you don’t need do more than close your eyes to see the emerging image after the 30 to 40 seconds of staring at the center dots. (Instructions are on the “picture” section.)

Everyone witnessing, either way, will simply “think” it is a picture of a depiction of “Jesus”. No, it is NOT! It is “our” very own picture taken in Peru of SANANDA. It has far more “treasure” in it than someone’s game of “negative-positive” light imaging.

I don’t know from where this came but certainly I TREASURE IT.

EJ, please remove John’s “information” so that he is not bombarded through our “assumption”. We miss John and Jean tremendously.

What ever happened to some of those “nice guys” such as Sananda (simply another language use of a name)? But this is from an ACTUAL PHOTOGRAPH of a very manifest PERSON who came, spent time with Sister Thedra and left as he

This is without a doubt one of the coolest PC-Illusion, I have seen so far.

Follow the instructions:

- 1) Relax and concentrate on the 4 small dots in the middle of the picture for about. 30-40 secs.
- 2) Then, take a look at a wall near you ( any smooth, single coloured surface)
- 3) You will see a circle of light developing
- 4) Start blinking your eyes a couple of times and you will see a figure emerging...
- 5) What do you see? Moreover, who do you see?

came with full instructions that “I shall return,” as MacArthur would so dramatically say.

Ah but, we miss these teachers. Indeed and perhaps? When others take over the claims and even our very work we have no big quarrel. We attended our references properly and I personally never write that the PRESENCE is missing.

I would also like to remind you that there were once available “cards” of “Sananda” through, I guess, CONTACT. I would further guess that there might well be some available with the actual “negative” overlain on the Shroud of Turin. It is quite impressive for even the hardest of hearts. It helps sometimes to have some actual “seeing” to remind us of our believing. We had ordered up a bunch of them because we planned to announce our success as with a message to you, our friends. Rick ordered them in time, I believe, for Christmas in or around 1998. We were that confident, yes, of getting this job done! Perhaps that is why it didn’t happen—we needed a few more lessons!

By the way, this very picture made it to the annals of LIFE magazine so it is not some “figment” of outrageous mental illness expressing itself. We put the story, as well, on the card.

I was accused of becoming and entertaining “dark energies” even to those with whom we work constantly and daily. Rick, Norey, Ed Young and countless others claimed these messengers as their own after claiming they had LEFT DHARMA. Who am “I” to argue? Facts speak far louder than claims or words—OURS ARE STILL HERE—they and theirs have GONE! What brings pain are the choices made as each discerns or judges in his individual way. It is always interesting to note that God never leaves us nor does He turn away—but we do, at every opportunity to be tested. I am grateful that we somehow passed the testing for I cannot tell you how often in hurtful circumstances I wanted to “drop out” of this particular school of higher education

Were there or are there Dark energies to which Rick, Ed, et al., said we had succumbed? That was in 1999, for goodness sakes, when THEY STOLE THE PAPER AND OFFICES THEREOF. Well, yes, the “Dark siders” always TRY, don’t they? However, the only dark things right now are the monsoon clouds waiting to water the gardens down on terra. Being on the 25th floor I can only watch. It may well also rain on the SONA parade where thousands of protesters are expected to reap the water cannons and police batons for “non-permitted” “being on the street”. Can holding the castle actually be worth it? But, do not call this “Martial Law”, friends, for this is a “FREE and democratic society” having learned from the New-Knighted States of America.

I had no idea about U.S. bases around the globe and specifically those in the Philippines until YESTERDAY. We certainly knew of them as in Clark and Subic but the facts are they were the LARGEST bases outside the continental U.S.A. Now, they want replacements and those need to be back up here in North Luzon or around these middling parts because of the use needs. We are skating on ice-melting waters in the major focus and hurt of Taiwan being totally absorbed again by Mainland China—to whom she belongs in the first place.

The thrust, however, as to “opinions on the matter” is that it begins to look like the intelligent part of wisdom is to go with the neighbors and stop the shoe-licking of the U.S. by those boot polishers here in power.

I love the way those running for office shout that they are the “servants of the people” and when elected they become the “POWER” controllers. And, moreover, it seems the people never get the wiser. The real power brokers decide all events and who gets to be where. They just label the farce something different and never change the game.

We are also asked about updates from VK fantasia land but we have had none since just past mid-June. Perhaps her newer “enemies” have made an impact on her “dancing with the devil” games. They were going right after her aiders-and-abetters as well. We aren’t talking here about some “documents”—that issue is over 13 trillion, 1 and a half billion DOLLARS. There are some ticked-off and aggravated players. I suppose that the website handlers might be a bit intimidated for some very high-powered Mississippi lawyers got in the “cease and desist” act against her. And no, nobody called us to even discuss the matter.

I’m through, I suppose, for we could go on and on and perhaps some of you would actually read on for a while—but overstaying the welcome is somewhat unnecessary and somewhat self-serving in time consumption.

As a sign-off I would just mention that EJ has been for a few hours meeting (actually renewing) with a man who is probably in a position to move some mountains around for us in some way. I can’t get excited because disappointments often follow the hype. Will keep you informed if....!

Love to you and may the sun shine upon you—except in the night of course. There is dark and there is light and each has its perfect place in the cycles of life. D

[The following articles are included with the preceding update by special request. First, in the “cheaters don’t prosper” category, “Patrick Bellringer” references NESARA and appeals for financial assistance. QUOTING:]

A CALL FOR HELP FROM FOURWINDS

To Our Readership: Can You Help Us?

July 6, 2004

To keep Fourwinds functioning at our present level requires that our webmaster work seven days a week at the task. It is not possible to do this work and hold an outside job to provide survival income, unless we reduce the services that Fourwinds provides. Thus far the Fourwinds "family" have been able to provide for our webmaster's financial needs. That no longer is the case. The recent forced relocation of our webmaster's home/office has substantially increased our rent, utility and operational costs.

We are now at the crossroads of choosing to close down much of the operation at Fourwinds to allow our webmaster to work a survival job or to ask for outside financial assistance at this time. Can you help us?

These are hard choices. Know that Fourwinds will continue to be on-line, but we may need to lower our level of service. This is one more reason to have NESARA and our funding now. There is a time for all things. There is a time to plant and a time to harvest. There is a time to give and a time to receive. Fourwinds is now in financial need. Will you help?

[END QUOTING. Next, we read of the Mossad's criminal activities in New Zealand "from the horse's mouth". QUOTING from the Israeli newspaper, Haaretz:]

ISRAELIS IN NEW ZEALAND PASSPORT AFFAIR TO APPEAL JAIL TERMG. Alon and Y. Melman, Haaretz, 7/21/04

The two Israelis jailed for six months by a New Zealand court last week for trying to obtain a passport by unlawful means have announced that they will appeal their sentence, Israel Radio reported Wednesday.

Defense lawyer Grant Illingworth said they had lodged an appeal Tuesday against the conviction only, which relates to issues raised during legal arguments—which remain subject to court suppression orders.

Earlier Wednesday, a newspaper in New Zealand said that one of the two men labeled by the Wellington government as Israeli spies worked for a firm that designs surveillance systems and listening devices.

The information was contained in a letter from Uri Kelman's former employer that was given to the judge in the Auckland court who sent Kelman to jail, said the report in the Dominion Post newspaper.

Kelman and another alleged Israeli spy, Eli Cara, had earlier admitted taking part in a criminal conspiracy to illegally obtain the passport.

In the letter, Israel-based YTS Systems said Kelman had worked for the firm in Israel and overseas between 1999 and 2002.

YTS advertises anti-terrorism and high-tech surveillance services and says it has designed security systems for six embassies and for buildings in the United States, Germany and Africa.

New Zealand Foreign Minister Phil Goff told Haaretz last Friday that he suspects the passports that Mossad agents tried to obtain illegally might have been reserved for an assassination operation in a third country, which would have caused irreparable damage to New Zealand.

Goff emphasized that there is no need for Israel to send its foreign minister or another senior official to resolve the crisis.

All Israel need do is apologize for the passport affair, admit responsibility, provide an explanation, and offer assurance it will not happen again.

Cara, 50, and Kelman, 31, were sentenced

Thursday to six months in jail and fined 50,000 New Zealand dollars after an Auckland court found them guilty of seeking to illegally obtain a New Zealand passport and of belonging to a criminal organization.

[Ah, the Mossad; defined at last?]

New Zealand's deputy police commander, John White, said police are pursuing two other Israelis suspected of involvement in the affair.

After last Thursday's verdict, New Zealand Prime Minister Helen Clark announced that the two had operated "on behalf of the intelligence services of Israel", and proceeded to freeze all high-level contacts with Israel.

[END QUOTING. Next, former Jordanian Ambassador Hasan Abu Nimah gives his take on the Mossad operation in New Zealand. QUOTING:]

HANGING THE BELL ON ISRAEL'S NECKHasan Abu Nimah, The Jordan Times, 7/21/04

Israel never fails to surprise the world with its open contempt for international law and the norms of international relations. After rejecting the historic International Court of Justice verdict earlier this month, Israel is embroiled in a serious dispute with New Zealand, sparked by two Israeli agents' attempt to obtain New Zealand passports through fraud and deception.

A little history makes it clear just why New Zealand has reacted with unprecedented vigour to Israel's crimes.

In October 1997, two Israeli Mossad agents were arrested in Amman following a botched attempt to murder Hamas political leader Khaled Mishal using a chemical weapon. Mishal's bodyguards managed to thwart and chase the Israeli assassins, who were then arrested by Jordanian security forces.

This act of international gangsterism created a serious problem between Israel and Jordan which had, only three years previously, signed a peace treaty committing themselves, among other things, not to use violence on each other's territory. But it also precipitated a major diplomatic crisis with Canada.

Canadian authorities were furious when they learned that the Mossad killers were carrying false Canadian passports. Since Canada is a peace-loving and law-abiding nation, Canadians are warmly welcomed anywhere in the Arab world, and Israel sought to use this respectable cover to carry out murder. The damage this Israeli action could have caused to Canada's reputation, to the well-being of its citizens traveling around the world and to Canadian interests in general was of no concern to Israel. As part of the humiliating fallout of its crime, however, Israel promised Canada to stop forging or stealing its passports.

But Canada's firm response did not induce Israel to change its ways, but merely to change the victims of its misdeeds. Switzerland and Cyprus are two countries that have in recent years foiled Mossad operations on their territory. This catalogue of violations against nations with which Israel is supposedly on good terms caused Haaretz to comment in the wake of the row with New Zealand that Israel will increasingly be "labeled a treacherous country that patronises friendly and far removed countries".

In the New Zealand case, two Israelis were convicted and jailed for attempting to obtain New Zealand passports by fraud. It is more than likely that Israel intended—as it did with the Canadian passports—to use them in the commission of an act of international terrorism. New Zealand Prime Minister Helen Clark insists that the two men are Mossad spies. Last week, New Zealand imposed severe diplomatic sanctions on Israel, including canceling a visit by Israeli President Moshe Katzav, planned for August, and suspending contacts between foreign ministry officials. Clark underlined the strength of her feelings by saying that "the New Zealand government views the act carried out by the Israeli intelligence agents as not only utterly unacceptable but also a breach of New Zealand sovereignty and international law."

The significance of this dispute goes far beyond bilateral relations between Israel and New Zealand, which may worsen if Israel maintains its defiance or improve if it does as New Zealand has asked and apologise. More important than all this is the firmness with which the government of New Zealand has handled the matter. It has taken tough action against Israel and shown that the sky does not fall down.

Even if in any other context New Zealand's actions would be considered fairly mild, against Israel such steps require great courage, because actions against Israel are often faced by more wrath from the United States than from Israel itself.

Predictably, some of Israel's apologists laid false and vicious charges that Clark's actions were motivated by anti-Israel sentiment. The day after the sanctions were announced, some Jewish gravestones in New Zealand were allegedly vandalised. The country has a small but well-established Jewish community and no history of racist attacks against Jews. The president of New Zealand Jewish Council seized on the alleged vandalism, saying: "I think there is a direct connection between the very strong expressions against Israel and people here feeling they can take it out on Jews; it seems to me it is Israel bashing one day, Jew bashing the next." But this familiar tactic of trying to shield Israel from all criticism by invoking anti-Semitism was totally rejected by Clark who maintained the focus on the damage that would be done to New Zealand's interests if Israel were allowed to penetrate and abuse its passport system with impunity.

Israeli indifference towards its relations with other countries, friends and foes alike, has been the result of years of being treated as an exception to all the rules by an intimidated and hypocritical world. Arab countries, like Libya and Iraq, have experienced strictly enforced and devastating UN sanctions for daring to breach Security Council resolutions, and now Sudan is under threat. And yet, although most countries well recognise Israel's lawlessness, none has ever been willing to take effective action.

So while Israel whines and cries that it is the eternal "victim" of a biased world, it, in fact, commits massive crimes against millions of Palestinians every day, and occupies and colonises the land of its neighbours, facing, in exchange, nothing but paper condemnations.

It is time that such flagrant excesses are checked, and if New Zealand had the courage to call Israel's bluff, it is up to the others at the United Nations, the EU and the countries of the region to follow the example set by its government. In an Aesop fable, the mice being terrorised by the house cat meet and decide that the solution to their problem is to hang a bell around the cat's neck so they can hear whenever it approaches and seek safety. Their jubilation at this good idea is dampened when a wise old mouse [says]: "That is a very brilliant idea. Now, who will hang the bell around the cat's neck?"

New Zealand is the unlikely "mouse" that had the courage to step forward, defending not only its own rights but standing up for international law as well.

Filipino Overseas Workers Sent Home By Uncle Sam

8/4/04—#1 (17-354)

WED., AUG. 4, 2004 7:04 A.M. YR 17, DAY 354
Manila, Philippines

RE: THIS WEEK IN THE WORLD FROM LIMITED VIEWPOINTS. (SAME AS LAST WEEK JUST MORE AND DIFFERENT CHAOS.)—DJE

MY MOUSE DIED

This incident points out the value of a mouse—when an inept computer idiot is at the controls. How could a mouse quit working in the middle of “order”? Let me count at least one way: no power, no work.

The computer did not blink but refused to go to anywhere or do anything. Meanwhile, after wasting half an hour—TRY THE PLUG-IN. Wow, mouse now alive and eating words again! All who actually thought me to be “intelligent life form”; reconsider now!

There is a lot to report and since this is my circle of witness I can better dwell on more local, to Manila, topics. This does not mean a weaning away of U.S. topics for it (the coalition of willing or unwilling) is the clash of a Titan and a “mouse” as it affects us, as it changes from moment to moment with insight and revelation of facts instead of fancy.

TODAY'S WATCH

Today is considerably more chaotic than last week at this time but the focus is the same, the players identical, and the “screw-ups” exponentially increased.

I will just focus on a few items that impact us greatly as to the work involved and the relationship with Americans and People of the Queen (London), i.e., colonies.

[Sherman Skolnick and Lenny Bloom report in an Internet article titled “Bush Secretly Permits Queen to Steal U.S. Gold” that the Government Accounting Office (GAO) wants the Bush Administration to account for 2,854 metric tonnes of gold that has “gone missing” since 9/11/01—www.SkolnicksReport.com.]

Not only has Uncle Dub sent the U.S. gold by the ton to London but shifting of attitudes toward the Philippines has dumped this place into the sea of punishment for errant acts of righteousness. It may well be “games” but dirty political games are afoot and begging isn’t helping win the day. It is now admitted and published: “Republic of Philippines no longer a member of: Coalition of the Willing.”

Friends, this gets more and more interesting to us because the withdrawal of “humanitarian assets” sent from the Philippines to Iraq was top-most, count them, 51 “bodies”. They were withdrawn to save Tony de la Cruz from the swordsman’s whack—ALONG WITH $6 MILLION $$$! Everybody with me so far?

It turns out that Malaysia acted as intermediary in the payoff (where ransom payoff was first denied then granted as “being real”), while da Phils put up $1 million (on account) [on account of no funds] and supposedly, Libya put up $5M. This really HELPS international push and pull. Was the life of one truck driver worth it? Well, no, not to the powers in power, but the people here were going to take over the new Philippine government. Poor thinking, it is now called.

Facts ARE: Headlines yesterday read that there are over 6,000 Filipinos waiting to move immediately into jobs in Iraq the minute departures are allowed. They say: “We would rather run the risk in Iraq than starve in the Philippines.” Moreover, the going wage for a Filipino worker in Iraq is, hold your breath: $300 PER MONTH out of which to pay the government (for the privilege of working) is also mandatory. Oh well.

Readers, please remember that this is just one nation in focus, and a small one at that, as to overseas workers from da Phils.

OK, moving on to Uncle Bush. It is obvious that Bush has worse enemies than we can consider against ourselves. He is whacking right and left and terrorist possibilities are not holding the game plan in place. Mr. Cohen [Kohn] (er-ah-a, Kerry) [yep, family changed its name with Grandie] promises change and “hope” but will it arrive in time? In time for what?

Does either player actually impact our purpose or holdings? We have to suppose that the answer is “not really” but oh gosh, the time to work it through is an imposing cloud on the horizon. One has used the asset and the other WANTS TO USE THE ASSET.

Both “parties” avoid us like we have SARS or AIDS while the IMF and World Bank just blunder around in the mess trying to keep EVERYONE out of the Bangko Sentral for any reason at all—and while the President borrows now from other “thieves” like the New York IBC.

The U.S. Ambassador has been “recalled” and the “promised” “things”, including funds, are withdrawn by the U.S.—while, however, U.S. troops are here for their annual war games down among the oil, gas and deuterium areas. Meanwhile, one of the rebel groups, the MILF, has gotten a nice new SMUGGLED shipment of those big guns and grenade-missile launchers. Nobody can seem to figure out where they came from but there they are being shown off by the shoeless “army”. What can be done with that mish-mash of horror? I have no idea but the toothless grins of the “peasants” seem to speak volumes.

Moving on to former hostage (nearly dead as was her husband Martin) Gracia Burnham. She was NOT allowed interviews and her testimony was CLOSED and LOCKED. She was well polished and coached. She was accompanied by so many U.S. Security forces and personnel as to occlude all but one or two accidental camera shots of her in passing. This did not, however, deter the “Palace” administration and the Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP) from claiming that “Gracia Burnham totally cleared all accusations of collaboration with kidnappers-military-political interlopers.”

FACTS: Gracia was not allowed to even refer to such matters and when enough of the testimony LEAKED after days of press pressure, she had not even MENTIONED AFP, etc. Now, “they” want her dragged back to again testify on “hearsay”. In addition, she was here ONLY to identify the suspects for it was not a “trial”, only mandatory identification and she obviously was instructed to protect all “Intelligence” operations and operators from “elsewhere”, CIA, Mossad, FBI and other lesser known Oil and Gold “slickers”. We have to understand that it is well known that there are shipments of gold OUT OF HERE directly by the “visiting” persons—EVERY DAY. It is all handled nicely through the “back doors” and nobody bothers to check on it. This becomes, however, one more major arrow in the heart of this administration.

It is therefore good news to have “Hope on the way!” because hopelessness is a major option every day here and THERE.

U.S. DEPORTATION PROCESS

Is it REALLY coincidental that as the Coalition of the Willing folds here and help from the U.S. fizzles into a puddle that the U.S. is DEPORTING BACK TO THE PHILIPPINES SOME 300,000 UNDOCUMENTED FILIPINOS WHO HAVE NOW GOTTEN CRIMINAL RECORDS ALONG WITH BAD PAPERS? Oh indeed, this is REAL as the first nearly 100 have already arrived here to NO JOBS, NO PLACE TO STAY and thus and so. What will 300,000 added bodies with no income do to this place? Well, the U.S. says it “can’t have criminals” and illegal trespassers.

The send back policy is spreading and when it gets to Saudi Arabia in full bloom the panic is really going to hit the button—that big RED one. And, yes indeed, it IS coming. The “Diaspora” of the Filipinos is now far surpassing the dispersion of the Jews from Israel. I believe, however, that there is where the major similarities end.

The Philippines is out-of-sorts with all Her Queen’s places and colonies. Australia just bashed “us” and so has New Zealand had recent Mossad agents trying for passports (illegal as to papers and passages) and all entangled with U.S. “stuff” and terror. [Please refer to articles on page 8.]

Already the warnings to those citizens from near or afar have been red-flag alerted. Ah yes, even the airports here have upped the security for the new wave of terror-lies of “possible suicide bombers” hitting the terminals and planes. The latest technique is through swallowing the explosive and is non-detectable. Sometimes it is supposed to be, as in drug smuggling, actually stitched within the body (as in surgical implants). Oh good, we have to go on that annual terror-trip off shore THIS MONTH right in the middle of this NEW threat of renewed SARS alerts and suicide surgical patients.

To you who still think, as reported by our know-nothings critics, that we live very high over here, IT IS TRUE. We live on the 25th floor (24th really because we do not have a 13th floor) in an area where buildings less than 5 years old—FALL OVER.

We have furniture that was used when it was acquired 30-years ago and we feel totally blessed. The bed has several broken support “legs” and is body fitting if you have a strangely shaped body, which serves us well as we have both strange and interesting body shapes. We definitely would look somewhat humorous in the native garb of Papua New Guinea where a thong is the female wear and a penis shield is the male dress code. And yet, right here from my window I can see “Fridays”, Hard Rock, and McDonald’s and NOTHING Filipino. One direction gives us Marks and Spencer (London) and other directions give us Gucci’s and Kentucky Fried. These all charge more than in the U.S. and how people live is truly a question of solving the “donkey” problem.

The donkey problem is a bit of a sick observation:

A man had a donkey that carried his goods to market from his little farm. He had to go miles and miles to market and finally he was tapering the food intake of the donkey because it was expensive to buy hay, etc. So, punch line? Well, one day the man showed up in town without his donkey and the old buddies asked about the absence: “Oh, well, I had just gotten the damned beast off food when he up and died on me!”

By the way, the rice harvest around these Islands, especially Luzon, will be only half ration this year because so much water was diverted to the cities that there was NO irrigation even to plant the crops. Moreover, the irrigation system is in total dilapidation so the farmers will spend the time, with pay promised but NEVER delivered, to repair systems, dig canals around fields, shore up paddy-curbs and TRY to get some of that newly imported cheap rice from anywhere willing to ship the dregs here.

OVERPOPULATION

Try this one for the day’s interest, as this place actually now touts a limitation of two children to a family. In this land where eight is not enough, yet! But, the facts are real and demanding attention as now, especially, with a deport return of hundreds of thousands of citizens—the burden is incredible. The future is truly dim and daunting and I want to go HOME!

Facts are getting more obvious that as the U.S. truly shapes up its own immigration circumstances and ships out illegals or undocumented, the population gets smaller in the U.S. and makes more room for “COMPASSIONATE” SHELTER or the “get this one”, the Jews suffering under anti-Semitism. May God have mercy on us ALL!

Even Israel is mad at the U.S. because they need MORE funds to finish their wall around Palestine and keep the place secure from terrorists. BILLIONS of dollars go there annually anyway, in cash, which is then turned into real money-making projects and trade-programs—while they could, until the U.S. ran out of gold, demand that payment in GOLD. The U.S. citizen could not have it but Israel could and has.

The WALL is no problem for Israel for they have ample aircraft and long-range arms to shoot over the wall. Those Palestinian rock-throwing terrorists don’t have ability to get many rocks over the wall.

It is really time for us to reprint the PROTOCOLS. They may well be Zionist in origin but they certainly have been and are the creed of the New World Order Bankers and Global Bullies. Moreover, they do EVERYTHING within the LAW. This certainly does NOT bode well for good Rule of Law potential evolvement.

GAIA & FOUNDATION

We plug along diligently on both fronts. It is difficult to evaluate just how much or if anything is actually happening—our own fellow-Trustees don’t give us the real circumstances evolving until the last ten minutes (or afterwards) of a four-hour meeting.

We had a real doozy meeting yesterday where, of all things, some of the Trustees wanted to restructure and BRING BACK in a couple of real con artists that had not been coming to meetings even when they were “members”. Interesting that now we were to bring them back into the operational Board because “The Prince” was doing something in an effort to “dissolve” the Foundation, and on and on and on. What the heck, one of the guys is sick, one is OLD (really), and one is simply STILL “confused”.

One of the ones I will leave unnamed because of delicadeza (a term used here a lot) is the very one who misrepresents himself as an attorney and as well is the one involved in the tale of Ekkers “bought the Discovery Hotel because they needed a heliport for the chopper they also bought”. The tale, of course, went further and into the fact that the hotel was also in foreclosure so something needed to be done about the title forthwith and we could do it through the GAIA-FDN connection—somehow, someway.

It turns out the poor victims paid a lot of money to the scammers to get documents supposedly cleared and all this before anyone thought to check with us. Now, the brothers want this scammer-dude back into the Board setting. Suffice it to say that with our experience with the Wizard of Ida Gove and Dove of Insanity, we were not happy campers over the matter.

This particular individual also said that his signature had been forged onto the founding documents at the incorporation of the Foundation. In the vernacular of sister Tissey: No, there is no pony in the pile of poop. This, however, is a no-brainer or in a league with a VK Durham Trust. No problem until they do something else equally as foolish. We do not bite on ANY of it any longer but rejoice in the realization that as miserable and hard as it is, we have taken no money, not one centavo, up front and that keeps us absolutely clean and clear with all parties and agencies here or back home U.S.A.

But, if mandatory inability runs into us head-on in the form of the happenstance demise of say, Mr. Ekker, I could certainly sell our interests and pay off the debts, or turn it over to the next crew in waiting. Would there be a buyer? Well, our interests as accumulated now in the Foundation should be worth 40% of whatever is ultimately reclaimed. The law will stand along with the court orders because THEY ARE WRITTEN THAT WAY—but it may well take a dozen lifetimes to get around to actually doing anything as we deal constantly with Filipino time-keeping and priority distractions. We wasted the entire meeting and finally voted or “shelved” the motion until the next “regular” meeting a week from Saturday.

It turned out that panic had hit “River City Prince Kingdom” because somehow there was a “deal” being made as claimed by da Prince that he had working and imminent agreement with the President and all her men.

EJ was interrupted by another group of “business” people so we just adjourned the meeting, I came home, and EJ MET. OK, after that meeting the Foundation group were still outside the hotel smoking and talking and called EJ over to “give him the real cause of the new panic”. IT WAS NOTHING. EJ said he didn’t believe there was any effort to “dissolve” anything because it was neither legal nor could anyone afford all those expenses to dissolve or defend. Oh, it was still panic time while it was explained all about that “agreement” and save the nation BS.

EJ noted that yes, we had seen it in the paper (we shared it with you readers), whereby Arroyo was the ONLY one who could save the Philippines. It could not be, for the press conference was a total sham of the Prince in the first place. It finally came out that this panic was instigated by the same ex-board member mentioned above, the purpose of which seems to be to scare our good board members.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA POTENTIAL

Let us leave the Philippines for a moment and consider that potential in PNG. It is more fun now than it was before—gold or no gold in this bank here in Manila. The PNG program has worked into a rather mind-rattling drama of the sell-out of the gold refining facilities—owned by Mr. Rothschild. When we recently noted that Rothschilds were getting out of the gold business we thought there might be more to it than the hazards of the derivatives. We can hope that PNG is a sign of better things to come.

We do not know how it goes “today” but it is moving smartly along, we are told. That, GAIA help, will allow gold to be kept instead of shipping off to parts Australia and beyond and the country can set up its own gold-based system held by our reserves and once operational can buy more gold for its base from places such as the Foundation.

Now, to you who believed that somehow Ekkers could dream up this drama—you have problems beyond buying bridges and Dove of Oneness Omega shares.

LITTLE CROW, MY FRIEND

For a couple of months bad news floated like soot in the air that Little Crow had moved to Minnesota and rumors were even more flitting in that he had flown away to the big bird cage in the heavens.

Mark tells us that he got word that Little Crow had died on June 12th last (this).

The heart chokes a bit and the memory then cuts in and reminds us that when I wailed to LC about help and getting this job done and needing him greatly to accomplish that task he just smiled and said: “I will be around as long you need me and you will know when you don’t need me any more because I will be elsewhere....working harder.”

I cannot say what will happen to the American Natives but heartaches pile on and we consider our position relative to the departed and go on until our flight plan is perfected.

This world has lost a most important teacher and certainly we are NOT better to have him moved away.

OTHER FLIGHT PLANS

We interrupted this writing some hours ago and decided we had best begin the absurd fun and games of the demanded/mandatory trip off shore for visa requirements. That was OK in concept and went smoothly for this part of the world.

We went to our regular “vacation planner” and in the process found that the funds not refunded as supposed to be from the last two years’ unused “had to have tickets” have been “found” so this ticket will be less this time by some small amount unstated YET. You must understand that you have to have a ticket OUT OF THE PHILIPPINES before they will let you in. No overstaying aliens here, no siree. In cases like ours where we are out and back in the same day, for visa reasons, that means buying a ticket three ways, outbound, inbound, and outbound again. If the airlines or travel agency is just a little shrewd (or crooked), they make it so difficult to get a refund that they get to keep the cost of the extra outbound ticket which is somehow never refunded.

We have been here so long that they didn’t dare for another year what with our complaining for the last two in a row.

So, that began our big adventure planning. We got all that done but will not give dates, please, for we don’t want VK to have to interrupt her plans to doom our little get away plane. We go over and back in one day but we have to plan as it might be forever as to leaving instructions here and there so YOU can sort our business if, God allows, we dump in the North China Sea or bog with parasitic SARS bird-fever.

Among the things on my list was to get a duplicate key or two to our apartment having almost locked us out (this is no hotel, remember) and fortunately, Ludy

‘Dove Droppings’: The NESARA Fraud

Nothing has been heard from VK Durham since her reply to Jerry Hansard back around June 21 and the subsequent involvement of a heavyweight Atlanta-based attorney to effect “cease and desist” of VK’s inane ramblings and allegations. All the same, even though VKD claimed to “be” “NESARA”, the bleatings of the “Dove of Oneness” have continued.

In this article we will take a look at exactly who is the “Dove of Oneness”; how the fraudulent scheme operates; what’s in it for the “Dove”; the NESARA connection to the “Omega” program; the connection to JZ Knight’s Ramtha groupie; and we’ll even look at the real and original NESARA, an idealistic proposal by Harvey Barnard which he insists has never gained sponsorship to put it before the Congress.

While the scammers and con artists steal from their victims both emotionally and financially, side-tracking the good will of thousands of supporters (who are, in fact, enablers of the fraud), the GAIA/FDN program continues to inch forward to the goal-line thanks to the relentless efforts of Doris and EJ Ekker in the face of almost every imaginable obstacle. Thus, while the scams fall apart—THE TRUTH JUST STANDS THERE, WAITING TO BE BROUGHT INTO REALIZATION. It is much like a sculptor who sees the finished work inside of the raw material, carefully chipping away that which DOES NOT BELONG: Whack! And that portion which does not belong is shed. Whack! There goes the VKD fraud. Whack! Here goes the NESARA fraud.

*We hereby acknowledge the intensive research and other efforts of Sean Robinson, reporter for The News Tribune (online edition), as we use generous excerpts from the huge volume of work he has done on this “Dove of Oneness” parasite and the NESARA fraud. [QUOTING:]

SNARED BY A CYBERCULT QUEEN
Sean Robinson, The News Tribune, July 2004

Shaini Goodwin lies like a lover, and people pay to listen.

Her whispers promise the irresistible: peace, wealth and forgiven credit card debt.

She is a star only the Internet could create—queen of a cybercult, architect of a conspiracy theory built on the ruins of deceit. Every day, typing at a computer or speaking on the phone, she lures disciples to a bewitching creed, and pumps new life into a dead scam that suckered thousands.

Her words are soft and sharp, insistent and insolent, understanding and unyielding. From her South Sound double-wide, she peddles a myth that blends old grift, New Age sermon and political activism into a mixture one historian of confidence games calls “magnificent”.

Most of her readers don’t know who she is. On the Internet, she writes under an increasingly famous pseudonym: Dove of Oneness.

...At Dove’s decree, thousands of her followers send letters, postcards and e-mails to the U.S. Supreme Court, the Pentagon, Congress and the halls of international justice. They wave banners, pass out fliers and hold demonstrations on three continents, demanding announcement of a secret law that doesn’t exist, anticipating the delivery of easy fortunes that never come.

...It’s legal. No law prevents her from waving a cardboard sign on the shoulder of the information highway. The money comes—how much, only Goodwin knows, and she isn’t telling. She says she asks for money only when she really needs it. If she lives high, she hides it well. The mobile home is no mansion.

But money isn’t the only gift she receives. She also harvests something equally precious: believers.

The Secret Law

Four weeks ago, as filmmaker Michael Moore’s Fahrenheit 9/11 opened across the nation, Goodwin’s acolytes stood by theater doors, handing out sheets of paper headed with a mysterious acronym—NESARA.

The word appears on purple fliers stacked on a shelf outside an Olympia cafe; on banners unfurled weekly at the World Court in The Netherlands; on signs carried by demonstrators in Texas, Chicago and South America; scrawled in the sand on beaches in Australia; and on the sides of rolling billboards in Washington, D.C.

It stands for the secret law, the one Dove claims Congress passed four years ago. The one that abolishes income taxes, forgives mortgages, zeroes out credit cards and declares peace.

The media can’t talk about it, she says. Only Dove knows the truth about NESARA, and as she solemnly explains, it’s dangerous information. That’s why she has a secret identity.

...She claims more than 15,000 subscribers to her reports, and 300,000 readers worldwide...

Her long-running tale is a curtain—a veil that covers a con. She waves the so-called secret law like a winning lottery ticket, telling her followers its provisions will grant them the wealth they were once promised by an Illinois grifter.

The Scam That Started It All

The grifter is Clyde Hood, a retired electrician from Mattoon, Ill. He’s serving a 14-year sentence in federal prison for mail fraud, wire fraud and money laundering.

A decade ago, Hood created an investment fraud scam called Omega. Dove almost never mentions Omega these days, but without it, her celebrity and her cybercult might not exist.

Omega robbed thousands of people, including South Sound residents, of at least $12.5 million. That was the traceable part. Federal attorneys and investigators who prosecuted Hood and 18 co-conspirators think the real number was greater—at least $20 million, perhaps $50 million.

[The article goes in to provide a great deal of detail about the Omega fraud and farm land claims connections but these are outside of our immediate focus. In a nutshell, Omega investors were promised that every $100 invested would “roll” into approximately $12.5 million within 3 was here with my key and could let us in.

Now, a duplicate key at the lobby desk seems easy enough in our mailbox cubicle and since we would need cover for anyone needing into our space “just in case” the devil rides in “de-tail” where we choose to in-plane, we need that key.

Off we went to get a copy-key. We went and we went and we went wandering everywhere we were told we could get such a service rendered. We found several places but no correct “blanks”. Ah, as with any other plan of search and “try”, we found a place in a shoe-fixit shop just inside the door of the mall on OUR SIDE OF THE PLACE and where EJ has had his shoes repaired when he walked the heel off one day. They didn’t have everything we needed but one sufficiently workable to at the least get someone into the apartment without breaking down the doors. So, success was ours. After I write my book of instructions for a lifetime (one day trip), we will be in fair shape.

We old folks are blessed, however, and I cherish every bit of it in that I feel so inept at living that I welcome every kind gesture.

We don’t have friends very much among those “Elite” but we surely do have friends in the “helper” category. We have no transportation so our precious taxi-owner from next door takes the day of travel program, gets up at 4:00 a.m. to get us safely and timely to the airport for the three-hour lineup and wait and then comes and fetches us back in the afternoon when we return. It is cheap anyway but can’t even compare it to maintaining a vehicle here and especially considering the DANGER in motion.

If anything happens to us Tess (Tuscany receptionist) will notify Ellen “back home”—and she will have the “scatter-list” of “sorry to inform you” calls. That means “more sorry than you might think” if you are on that list because I have not even filed papers (stuff I use in writings) for six years and oh my goodness I hope if the end comes it is before I do so. Someone else can dump it—I can’t bear it.

I do know, however, that some of you really are concerned about it and should be because it certainly involves YOU and what would happen next. I think we have it covered even if a bit wacko and convoluted. And Ellen, I will make sure we get instructions and backup faxed to you prior to departure so you can sleep without indigestion.

Are we concerned? NO! But responsibility demands that we cover these possibilities. But, not enough to clean up the office, please. We are simply sharing early enough that you don’t have to be concerned that we have not prepared for adverse possibilities but also early enough that you’ll forget about it by the time we actually go anywhere. August is a big milestone month for us all and we may as well add our little escapades to the month and start getting emotionally ready to miss another Thanksgiving and Christmas at home with the family. Well, we have enough memories of wondrous sharing to keep us a while longer and our anticipation of a BIG sack-full of goodies if we are good kids fills the mind with wonderful thoughts. I think part of being away so long is the recognition that somehow we are not missed as much and everyone has learned to live nicely without us under foot. I will just get my own ten-pound bag of Peanut M&M’s in memory of Berends and eat them all myself and have chocolate overload.

This is getting beyond “Ananda” but optimism makes us feel a bit silly and the promise of Mr. Kerry is, after all: “Hope is on the way!”

Love and our very best to each of you. We CAN get this job done!

E & E

years. And the aptly named Mr. Hood actually worked this scam for six years through the year 2000 without ever providing ANY returns to his “investors”—one of whom just happened to be Shaini Goodwin, birthing the “Dove of Oneness.”]

Ramtha

As he gathered Omega’s threads, Esteban “Steve” Sanchez, the assistant U.S. attorney in Urbana, Ill., who prosecuted the case, noticed the Yelm connection. He realized several victims were linked to JZ Knight, the ethereal New Age guru who claims to “channel” the spirit of a 40,000-year-old warrior called Ramtha.

“I cannot tell you what, if any, direct relationship there was between this person in Yelm, Washington, and Clyde Hood,” Sanchez said of Knight. “We knew that there were people associated with her that apparently had invested in Omega, but that was not an angle that we wanted to pursue, because apparently it’s very difficult to pursue that angle.”

Omega was an open secret at Knight’s Ramtha School of Enlightenment, four former students say. They asked not to be named, citing the fear of legal retaliation from Knight, who requires students to sign nondisclosure agreements.

“That’s how I became involved in it, was through the school,” one student said. “I was involved in it and practically everybody else I knew at the school was involved in it. There were tons of people involved in this on just a cash basis. People were sending in cash—cash with no paperwork, no receipt, no nothing. People were promised their money was going to come in before the next snowfall.”

The students say Knight never endorsed or promoted Omega. Some recall her telling students to cultivate an “abundance mentality” if the promised fortunes ever came.

Knight did not respond directly to requests for comment from The News Tribune. Greg Simmons, a Ramtha school spokesman, acknowledged Omega was discussed informally among students at the school. When asked whether Knight lost money in Omega, Simmons would not comment.

In the late 1990s, as Omega reached its peak, Shaini Goodwin was living near Yelm, in a gated community called Clearwood.

She had taken classes at the Ramtha school in the late 1980s and later claimed to be a kind of channeler herself, according to those who know her. She sprinkles her daily Dove reports with frequent references to the “Ascended Masters” and “the Illuminati”, common figures in New Age teachings...

‘The Dark Agenda’

In the summer of 2000, as investigators closed in on Hood, Goodwin reported new plots on the Internet boards.

As Dove, she cited information from unnamed sources, and described secret struggles among the world’s financial elites. Beginning sentences with “I have been told,” she said a major European bank had come to Omega’s rescue, but a major U.S. bank was fighting the program “with every trick and delay possible”.

U.S. Supreme Court justices were on Omega’s side. An important judge from the East Coast was fighting on their behalf. A group she called the White Knights was waging war against powerful enemies she began to call “the dark agenda”.

...In August 2000, federal investigators smashed Omega. Steve Sanchez filed indictments against Hood and 18 co-conspirators, charging multiple counts of wire fraud, mail fraud and conspiracy.

On Aug. 29, the day after the indictments were announced, Dove posted a message:

“Tonight we were told by a very high intelligence agency source that this whole thing in Illinois ‘has been staged’ to try to stop funding! However, this case in Illinois TOTALLY LACKS any ability to stop funding. It’s almost a comedy, because the whole case will disappear instantly—VERY SOON.”

...She claimed Omega wasn’t the only program affected by battles among the financial elites. At least 50 more “prosperity programs” were in play. Soon, all of them would be triggered by the announcement of a secret law passed by Congress. She called it NESARA—an acronym for the National Economic Stabilization and Recovery Act.

The law forgave debt and eliminated taxes. It changed the banking system and shifted the backing for the nation’s currency, she claimed. New, colorful bills printed by the U.S. Mint were proof. But no members of Congress could admit the law’s existence, she said. They were bound to secrecy by a gag order from the U.S. Supreme Court, and violations were punishable by death. Group prayers were needed to hasten the law’s announcement.

She had taken Hood’s idea and transformed it. Omega no longer was a simple investment, but an article of faith. She no longer was the messenger for one failed prosperity program, but scores. She made it clear she was the only voice, the designated messenger, for every one of them. She made it clear she was the only one who knew the truth about NESARA.

The Man Who Created NESARA

The claim shocked Harvey Barnard, 62, an engineer, consultant and teacher from Louisiana who wrote NESARA 13 years ago during an academic daydream.

While fooling around with mathematical formulas applied to economics, he decided the American economy was fundamentally unstable. So he came up with new formulas, translated them into legal language and wrote a bill.

“It was just an exercise to see if I could do it,” he says.

Barnard printed 1,000 copies and sent them to every member of Congress. At first, he figured the idea was so obvious, he’d have to wait about a week for the bill to pass. Unfortunately, no one was interested in saving the economy. He still pitches the idea, and provides copies of his bill on his Web site. But no one has ever sponsored it...

[Refer to “EMAIL FROM HARVEY BARNARD” on page 14.]

Fame

On Sept. 1, 2001, hours after planes hijacked by terrorists struck the World Trade Center and Pentagon, Dove posted the message that made her a star.

“The three targets today were ALL connected to NESARA and the banking changes. I just learned that at 9:00 a.m. in New York this morning, there was an IMPORTANT banking activity set to be activated in the IMF international banking computer center in the World Trade Center!” she wrote. “This was obviously WHY the World Trade Center was attacked TODAY at just before and after 9:00 a.m.! ... The orders for these plane attacks came from U.S. citizens who are trying to stop our deliveries/funding and NESARA.”

The impact on the Internet was electric. Here was a new rumor to chew. Almost immediately, Dove’s message appeared on every Omega bulletin board, and leapfrogged to other sites devoted to conspiracy theory...

[We’ll use editorial discretion to “snip” the first article by Sean Robinson at this point and take up with Part Two of The News Tribune’s coverage of the NESARA scam straight away. QUOTING:]

UP AGAINST ‘THE DARK AGENDA’

Sean Robinson, The News Tribune, July 2004

It’s not easy keeping secrets. Sometimes Shaini Goodwin, aka “Dove of Oneness”, wishes she didn’t know so many.

Life would be simpler.

She wouldn’t have to flood the Internet with reports that draw thousands of readers around the world. She wouldn’t have to write about a secret law called NESARA—the National Economic Security and Reformation Act.

Sometimes, she says, she wishes she’d never heard of NESARA. She claims Congress secretly passed it in 2000. The supposed law forgives mortgage and credit card debt, abolishes the IRS and declares peace—but she says a U.S. Supreme Court gag order prevents anyone from revealing it, under pain of death.

Goodwin says the gag order doesn’t apply to her, because she isn’t an “official person”....

The knowledge is a heavy burden. Without it, she wouldn’t have to fend off critics who scoff at her claims, call her the leader of a cybercult and charge that she links NESARA to the wealth promised by a financial scam. She wouldn’t have to call for demonstrations around the world, or ask her 15,000 readers for donations, sent to a mail drop in an Olympia strip mall.

...She links her conspiracy theory to a proven con. Goodwin says NESARA will unlock the wealth allegedly held in more than 50 “prosperity programs”. They include an investment fraud called Omega, run by a convicted con artist named Clyde Hood of Mattoon, Ill. In the mid-1990s the scheme robbed thousands of people of more than $20 million and led to the convictions of 18 conspirators for wire fraud, mail fraud and money laundering.

...Goodwin dismisses critics and naysayers as tools of what she calls “the dark agenda”. The Omega convictions were a sham, she says—a government plot to deprive people of their money. She says she is practicing political activism, that she tells the truth, that she doesn’t lead a cult....

The Scheherazade Factor

Goodwin didn’t make the pieces of her Byzantine puzzle.

Omega came from Hood, a retired Illinois electrician who created the investment fraud scheme in 1994. New Age jargon provided Goodwin’s rhetoric. The conspiracy theories were rusty boilerplate, covered by “The Da Vinci Code” author Dan Brown and others, volleyed around thousands of Internet sites. And the NESARA idea belonged to Harvey Barnard, a retired engineer in Louisiana who drafted a model bill 13 years ago as an academic exercise.

But the synthesis was Dove’s, and that’s what catches the trained eye of Andreas Schroeder, co-chairman of the creative writing department at the University of British Columbia, and author of several books on scam artists and confidence games.

Dove built a bridge from one scam to another, shifting from Omega’s unofficial chronicler to the keeper of the secret law. Schroeder likens the NESARA story to a famous con from the 1920s: the Drake Legacy.

For more than a decade, Oscar Hartzell, an Illinois farmer, convinced thousands of people that he controlled the $100 billion estate of Sir Francis Drake, the 16th-century pirate.

Hartzell went to London to make the con look good. He stayed there, sending letters to suckers back home that described his negotiations with the British government and the royal family, and the need for more public support and money to seal the deal.

He spent his days at the post office and his nights on liquor and women. He was convicted of fraud in 1934 and died nine years later. Before his trial, Hartzell's believers raised more than $68,000 for his defense.

His method was as old as deceit. Richard Rayner, author of Drake's Fortune, a book on the scam, calls it "the Scheherazade factor", invoking the princess of the Arabian Nights who saved her life with stories.

Like Hartzell, Dove writes letters describing government plots too tangled to unravel. Like him, she denounces critics and skeptics. Like him, she urges her supporters to campaign for the unreal.

It keeps them distracted, Schroeder says. The best con artists turn passive victims into active supporters.

"You're told to spend a tremendous amount of effort to get in on the fight and defend yourself," he says. "Join up with a bunch of other like-minded people to defend the enterprise. It keeps you busy, it keeps you involved, and because you're chorusing, the din you create overwhelms anything that might be coming in through the other ear."

On Nov. 29, 2001, Dove instructed victims of the Omega scam not to file restitution claims seeking the return of their money.

"Since the whole court thing in Illinois was always part of the dark agenda opposition trying to brainwash program members, if you fill out that questionnaire, you are probably signing away your rights to your prosperity," she wrote.

...Collectively, 355 Omega victims from 41 states and three countries filed restitution claims seeking more than $1.69 million.

Esteban "Steve" Sanchez, the assistant U.S. attorney in Illinois who prosecuted the Omega case, was disappointed. He knew the scam's victims numbered in the thousands.

It was the Scheherazade factor, the unshakable faith of Omega investors, the rough magic of the con, nurtured by Dove. The victims weren't talking—not in Illinois, and not in Yelm, where Goodwin then lived. Many Omega "investors" were clustered in the Thurston County city and surrounding communities.

...On Dec. 23, 2001, Dove posted a report shredding Barnard, the original author of the NESARA bill. His Web site was a sham, she said. Bush administration goons had taken control of it. Her opponents, including Barnard, were "dark agenda stooges".

Eventually Dove would change the name of the secret law, but preserve Barnard's acronym. Instead of the National Economic Stabilization and Recovery Act, it became the National Economic Security and Reformation Act.

Barnard had written the NESARA proposal, nursed it for years and inched it toward the door of respectability, even getting an occasional sniff from politicians with a libertarian bent.

Now the idea no longer belonged to him.

He has taken to calling Goodwin's reports "Dove droppings".

...On April 11, she started a phone line: a Seattle number where supporters could call for "updates". The NESARA announcement was imminent, "on the brink", and the White Knights were taking new steps to eradicate the dark agenda. She claimed 7,600 subscribers.

"Oh, by the way," snorts Jay Adkisson, a scam-cracking asset protection attorney from California, "we're having trouble paying our phone bill—please send some money in."

Adkisson edits Quatloos.com, an irreverent Web site dedicated to exposing financial scams and frauds.

(The word "quatloos" is a pop-culture joke, a reference to sci-fi currency from an old Star Trek episode.) Adkisson appears as an occasional guest expert on network news shows such as ABC's 20/20, and he has testified on investment fraud before the U.S. Senate Finance Committee.

The Quatloos site includes a lengthy history of the Omega scam and excerpts from Dove's reports. Adkisson scoffs at them ("the voice of the clinically insane", he says), but his words include a hint of grudging admiration.

"A very subtle scam: Keep me alive for information because this information impacts you," he says. "Well, the fact is, it doesn't impact anybody. It's bogus. It's just a way to grift money from people who want to believe that their long-forgotten Omega shares are gonna pay out some day."

Dove calls Quatloos "a CIA disinformation Web site" and says she has confirmed it with a Secret Service agent she won't name.

Along with Adkisson, Dove attracted other observers—hunters who make a hobby of researching scams. One goes by the Internet handle "Goose". He followed Omega for years and had friends who invested in it. When Dove's reports began to appear, he kept an eye on her.

"I give her credit for being able to combine this stuff in an amazingly confusing way," he says. "Dove has pulled some really hurtful things together and built a story, which she continues to spread, and which, in turn, only causes more hurt for those who hang on to her every word.

"People have been completely ruined because of these programs that Dove promotes," the man known as Goose says. "Dove has had ample opportunity to see the hurt people have suffered. Does she stop? Never. She goes on and on."

Too Good To Be True

Though soliciting donations in exchange for phony information might sound fishy, it isn't illegal. State and federal law enforcement authorities say no law prohibits Dove from asking for gifts, even if they fund conspiracy theories.

...Dove hasn't generated any complaints to the state attorney general or the U.S. Attorney's Office in Seattle. No public sources show how much money she makes from her state-registered business, or whether she pays obligatory taxes. The state Department of Revenue does not disclose such information about individual businesses, said spokesman Mike Gowrylow, who added he hadn't heard of Dove before The News Tribune asked about her.

"If we become aware of any kind of suspected tax evasion, we investigate it," he said. "I'm sure we don't catch every little bit of it, and we're not aware of everything."

No Proof

...On her Web site, Dove describes several ways to prove NESARA's reality. None can be verified, though she says public denials simply prove how secret it is.

In some of her reports, she claims Congress passed the bill March 9, 2000, and that President Clinton signed it on Sept. 10 of that year. Records of congressional actions for March 9 show no NESARA vote. Records of Clinton's official actions Sept. 10 don't include a NESARA bill-signing.

Goodwin now says Clinton signed the bill sometime in October 2000.

Repeated questions from NESARA believers have forced the Department of the Treasury to issue a statement on its Web site, couched in inoffensive but direct terms.

"The NESARA proposal has not yet been introduced in the Congress, nor is it part of any current law," the statement reads. "The Treasury Department is not authorized, under our political system of checks and balances, to execute or administer any part of NESARA, without the force of law as approved by Congress."

Dove claims some financial experts know about NESARA and will discuss it if asked.

Matt Philichi, an investment broker with the Tacoma branch of Morgan Stanley, burst out laughing when he heard the story of the secret law.

"That's the silliest thing I've ever heard of," he said. "There's absolutely no way that all this information is going to float out of Yelm, Washington, and miss all the other cities in the world. It sounds like the typical scam. If there was something in this that we could present to our clients to help them and make them like us more—you know we'd be all over it. There's not one firm out there that would keep it a secret."

Occasionally, Dove names U.S. Rep. Ron Paul (R-Texas) as a NESARA supporter. Paul's libertarian views on the economy make him "a bit of a lightning rod for conspiracy theorists", says his spokesman, Jeff Deist.

Deist says the same thing to every NESARA supporter who calls: NESARA has never been introduced in Congress, and Paul never voted on it.

Dove says members of the national media are under a gag order, and cannot discuss the secret NESARA law. She says she learned about the gag order from "a New York journalist". She will not give his name.

When pressed for other evidence by The News Tribune, Dove cited "confirmations" of NESARA in the form of messages from her supporters.

She provided 95 pages of printed e-mails. Many of the messages were duplicated three and four times from the same individual. The pile included 18 messages referencing NESARA. In them, supporters speak of colored currency and vague hints from unnamed bank tellers and managers. Most of the anecdotes describe conversations with friends of friends.

At Dove's request, one of her supporters, Dan Onerheim of Iowa, spoke to The News Tribune and described the experience he called a "confirmation".

"A few months back," Onerheim said, he was talking to a certified public accountant who mentioned "a lot of changes coming into effect monetarily". He said the man mentioned NESARA.

The News Tribune asked for the man's name. "Al," Onerheim said.

The last name? He didn't know.

The man's location?

"I think he was out of Phoenix," Onerheim said.

A second supporter, Herb McKirgan of Oregon, told The News Tribune he heard U.S. Rep. Dennis Kucinich (D-Ohio) confirm NESARA's existence during a recent speech.

McKirgan said he mentioned NESARA activities to Kucinich, who allegedly named the law and said it was "very important".

Andy Juniewicz, senior communications adviser to Kucinich's presidential campaign, dismissed the story and criticized Dove's occasional use of Kucinich's name.

"Her claim is pure fiction," he said. The congressman would not have corroborated the existence of a law that doesn't exist. It's important that she stop using his name as corroboration for her claims."

During her interview with The News Tribune on Thursday, Dove called another supporter, this time in the Netherlands, a woman named Nel DeBest who participates in NESARA demonstrations at the World

Court. DeBest also reported a “confirmation” of the secret law—she says an ambassador driving by the demonstrators in a car gave the thumbs-up sign. So did one of the World Court judges, she said.

At times in the last two years, hundreds of daily e-mails from NESARA followers have gummed up the World Court’s computers. Local police recently told the demonstrators to stop planting their signs in the flower beds.

The activists are peaceful, friendly and persistent, says Boris Heim, one of the court’s information officers.

“We have just told them we have nothing to do with them and can’t help them in any way,” he says. “You see obviously that they don’t have quite a grip really on what’s happening. They look at you in a bizarre way. They’re not listening.”

Heim feels sorry for them. It amazes him that they believe Dove’s words.

“It’s just pointless,” he says. “...It doesn’t make any sense. If you talk about this to any normal human being with a functioning brain, he will understand that the International Court cannot erase the taxes of the world.”

Court employees used to respond to NESARA e-mails with a form letter: “The International Court of Justice (ICJ) has nothing to do with any alleged ‘Nesara’ proceedings, as mentioned in your e-mail and on certain Internet sites,” it said.

They don’t bother to respond anymore. It does no good.

A Rush from Influence

Photos of the World Court demonstrations appear on Dove’s Web site, along with others of NESARA demonstrations in Seattle, Texas and South America. The numbers are growing, and Dove feeds the energy. Recently, she gave herself a new title: Worldwide NESARA Take Action Team Director.

Though her means are modest, Dove’s influence and worldwide network of supporters reflect an occasional pattern that surfaces in “impostor” scams—and provide a partial explanation of what Goodwin gains by her efforts.

“It’s definitely not always money,” says Schroeder, the fraud historian. “Beyond a certain point, it’s the ability to influence a whole lot of people at the snap of their fingers. Influence, being the spider at the center of the web that can get everybody excited by plucking this string. That’s as big a rush and as good a reason as making a million bucks.”

The scam hunter known as Goose can’t decide whether Dove writes for money or attention, whether she believes her reports or puts on a good show. Either way, it bothers him.

“A lot of people have newsletters, and people either pay for them or their newsletters are supported by donations. There’s really nothing illegal about that,” he says. “But the thing is, Omega has been declared, by the court and in Illinois, a scam. You can’t talk about funding without connecting it to something that’s been called a scam, something that’s been declared illegal by the courts. In that sense you’re holding out hope of a declared scam. There’s the legal question and then there’s the moral, ethical question.”

Hearing the story of Dove, Sanchez, who prosecuted the Omega conspirators in Illinois, feels a pulse of fury.

“It is so offensive to me when people victimize victims, kick somebody when they’re down,” he says. “This is what she’s done, and it’s not right. One could argue that she’s done more damage than Clyde Hood.”

The Cybercult

In Redmond lives a man who wishes he’d never heard of Dove. Because of her reports, he can’t talk to his sister anymore. Fearing he will lose all contact with her, the man asked The News Tribune not to publish his name. Call him John.

John’s sister lives in California. Her husband controls all communication to their household. The husband was an Omega investor who tried to pull his relatives into the program. Now the husband is a Dove believer.

“He’s an incredible supporter, to the point where if you mention that it might not be on the up-and-up, he gets angered,” John says. “It doesn’t matter what you say—these people want to believe. They want to believe what’s being fed to them.”

He has tried to talk to the husband, to reason with him. It doesn’t work. They can’t talk anymore; the husband says John is part of the dark agenda. What started as a dubious get-rich-quick scheme has become something else, something addictive.

“There is definitely a walking path between multilevel marketing and this stuff—a doorway drug,” John says. “This is really a cult. It’s a cybercult.”

The Trucks

Through winter and spring of this year, Dove trimmed NESARA like a Christmas tree. The secret law would bring even more benefits, she said: a cure for cancer, 90 percent price reductions at the store, increased Social Security payments ($3,000 a month), a ban on Navy sonar tests that kill whales, and prosecution for uninsured drivers.

She asked for money on Feb. 4. Petitions to the World Court were working, she said in March. Judges had agreed to hold a hearing on the NESARA announcement, now scheduled for April.

On April Fool’s Day, at the end of a long report, she pushed for another postcard campaign to a familiar target: The Joint Chiefs of Staff at the Pentagon. To fire up the troops, she added a teaser:

“I’m working on another BIG action which will encourage these high-level officers to get NESARA announced immediately,” she wrote.

For the next few days, she dropped hints about “the secret BIG thing”, calling it “a very unusual activity which will give NESARA’s announcement a BIG boost forward”.

On April 7, the big thing arrived. Four billboard trucks appeared in Washington, D.C., and drove around Capitol Hill for a few weeks. The signs they carried called for the announcement of NESARA. The chrome-style logo and graphics were taken from Dove’s Web site.

In a report posted April 7, Dove cheered. Photos of the trucks soon appeared on her site.

“At last, OUR VOICES are being heard in D.C. in a BIG way,” she wrote. “It makes me smile every time I see these beautiful NESARA mobile billboards.”

She told The News Tribune the trucks were paid for by a woman—“a well-to-do NESARA supporter” she would not identify.

A Maryland-based company called Drive-By Ads owns the billboard trucks. Owner James Miller said he didn’t know anything about NESARA when the job came in. It was just another campaign. A big one, though; he had to call in extra drivers. Each truck rents for $600 per day, and vinyl signs run between $1,200 and $1,400 apiece.

The trucks ran for three weeks. Miller won’t say who paid for them.

...On April 22, a few days after the trucks appeared, Dove posted her latest request for donations.

“NEXT WEEK I must pay for some large communications expenses and other expenses and I’m asking those of you who are able to send financial contributions to fund the many actions I’m leading for the benefit of all of us to move NESARA into announcement immediately,” she wrote.

She gave the Olympia address and mailbox number along with the usual precise instructions: “Please address your envelope EXACTLY as above or your envelope may not be delivered. Also, please REPLY to this message telling me you are sending me a financial gift. You may make checks or money orders payable to ‘Dove.’”

[END QUOTING from Mr. Sean Robinson’s articles. To finish up this review of the NESARA fraud, we quote from an email sent to a friend in response to her inquiry to Dr. Harvey Barnard, the originator of the NESARA concept. QUOTING:]

EMAIL FROM HARVEY BARNARD

We call those postings “Dove Droppings.”

I wrote NESARA over 13 years ago and spent 10 years walking the halls of Congress trying to find a sponsor. This issue is just too hot to handle for most Representatives. Think about it. The proposed change is the biggest single change in terms of dollars ever attempted, not to mention its social impact.

A few Legislators have stated privately that they will co-sponsor the Bill if someone else introduces it; they are already listed as sponsors or co-sponsors of existing proposed Bills on the same subjects. Must be a rule written there somewhere on the walls of Congress.

Three years ago I published the NESARA information on the WWW. This month some 6,000 people will visit the site. You are probably in there somewhere. Unlike the Dove story of space aliens, the ghost of Christmas Past and powerful individuals saving the poor, dumb Americans from the top down, exactly the opposite is true. If we find a solution to this sea of troubles it will be from the bottom up. Once enough people know about the benefits of NESARA, Congress will pass it, or something like it, or we will get a new Congress.

Dove first appeared about 3 or 4 months after the NESARA Institute established the nesara web site. ...If strange humor were an Olympic Sport, Dove would be a finalist. ...I expect that the more dedicated Dove followers are an excellent collection of individuals truly interested in finding solutions to a world of problems. It is impossible to find fault with their goals and hopes.

...Strange as it may seem, some of what Dove says is true because it was copied from our web site. NESARA is designed to build a better world, nations, communities and families simply by enabling individuals to keep more of what they produce. One day you may live in a much better environment, not because of what others have been commanded to do, but because of what you are allowed to do with your own resources that you must recover for yourself. NESARA provides a plan to regain some of your stolen monetary rights and to lower your taxes. NESARA is not a Get Out Of Jail Free Card, just an early parole.

Perhaps we should send Dove a thank-you card. A lot of people report that they love the continuing soap opera and can’t wait to see what crazy excuses will next appear. So far most, if not all, of the space aliens and supernatural forces seem to be good guys. Why not have another set of space aliens and supernatural forces from the dark side to explain the next announcement delays?

...We hope this helps.

TONGUE-TWISTED BUSH BENT ON SELF-HARM
Rupert Cornwell, The Independent-UK, 8/6/04

WASHINGTON—Even by the previous standards of Bushisms, this was one for the ages.

Signing into law a new $417bn (£229bn) defence spending bill, the famously tongue-twisted 43rd President of the United States solemnly declared yesterday that his administration “will never stop thinking about new ways to harm our country and our people”.

The gaffe came as President George Bush was warming to his favourite theme of the terrorist threat faced by the U.S.

“Our enemies are innovative and resourceful, and so are we,” he said. “They never stop thinking about new ways to harm our country and our people, and neither do we.”

Steeled doubtless by long experience of oratorical mis-steps by the President, the audience of senior military commanders and the Pentagon’s civilian leadership gave no outward reaction....

ARE OUR LEADERS CRIMINALS & SATANISTS?
By Henry Makow, PhD, 7/25/04

Cloak and Dagger Internet Radio says you can add “murderers, traitors and liars” to this list [“criminals and Satanists”] as well.

Each week host Nelson Thall (“Lenny Bloom”) and regular guests, Tom Henighan and Sherman Skolnick “uncover the cover-ups”.

A typical show last week revealed that President George W. Bush (“Bush-fraud”) was involved in a satanic mass murder in 1984 in Brownsville TX in which 17 cult members were slain and /skinned./ During the 2000 election campaign, reporters confronted Dubya and he /didn’t deny it./ Apparently Dubya’s teeth marks were found on one of the victims but Daddy Bush, a practicing satanist himself, got it covered up....

Gradually people are recognizing that mankind has been swindled on a cosmic scale by a satanic cult headquartered in the City of London.

Is it really so unbelievable that mankind’s moral development would /not/ be in the interests of the financial elite and that they would take elaborate steps to control, stunt and even destroy us? Is it so unbelievable that they would adopt a perverse ideology to rationalize their Rule of Evil?

This is a war of consciousness and satanists control the big guns: the weapons of mass communications. The resistance, who believe man’s duty is to express his Divine not lower nature, has one weapon, the Internet.

Many leaders are guilty of depravities that would discredit and render them ineffective if widely exposed. This is their Achilles’ heel.

...Not only are both Presidential candidates members of a secret satanic society, the /Skull and Bones/, they are related as well! Kerry is a third cousin of George W. Bush on his mother’s side.

A word of caution: sometimes the Cloak and Dagger hosts seem a little over the top. Take it all with a grain of salt and see if subsequent events prove them correct.

For instance, /Cloak and Dagger/ reported for months that Canada Steamship Lines owned by Canadian Prime Minister Paul Martin’s family was smuggling cocaine.

On July 1, authorities found $13 million worth attached to the hull of one of his ships....

The media stated that smugglers had secreted their stash without the company’s knowledge. Would this explanation work if it were found on your car?

...[Internet radio personality Alex] Jones recently had an interview with John DeCamp who exposed the pedophile ring in the Reagan Bush White House.

...Crime and depravity is the elite’s soft underbelly....

The elite depends on our credulity and docility. If we can expose them, they cannot govern. If we insist on the law, we can put them in jail where they all belong.

AMERICAN TAXPAYERS FUND $400 MILLION INTERNATIONAL CHILD KILLING INDUSTRY

David Brownlow, Prison Planet, 7/21/04

“State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said the U.S. is the world’s largest donor to health programs for women and children, to the tune of $1.8 billion this year, of which over $400 million is for reproductive health and family planning.”—WorldNetDaily.com

...The real shocker in this story is the fact that American taxpayers unwittingly donate $400 million every year to the international child-killing industry. During the four years of Bush’s first (and last) term, we will have given away over $1.5 billion for the express purpose of murdering children in every corner of the planet!

Forget for a moment that we are flat broke and should not be giving away our money for any reason. What on Earth could possibly possess us to give away so much of our money to pay for international abortions? Do we have a pathological desire to spread misery and destruction throughout the world?

Have we gone completely nuts?

How could this happen when we have been electing “pro-life” Republicans for so many years? Republicans have controlled the House, from which every spending bill originates, since 1994! It would be so easy for them to block this illegal transfer of blood money to the UN. Yet, they have been giving $400 million a year to the international abortion industry—consistently, every year!

Doesn’t that make you want to scream?

To the $400 million in UN abortion money, add in the $250 million we send directly to Planned Parenthood, along with the millions of Medicaid money that finds its way into the hands of America’s legalized child-killing industry, and it turns out that our government is giving away a boatload of our money for the express purpose of murdering children.

...America is the “world’s largest donor” to the international child-killing industry. That terrifying reality should drive us all to our knees before the Lord, begging for His forgiveness. The innocent blood we have shed is crying out for justice, and the bill is coming due very soon.

May God have mercy on America.

[QUOTING:]

SOMETHING WEIRD IS GOING ON BELOW US
Bonny Schoonakker, SundayTimes.co.za, 7/18/04

Southern Africa is experiencing weird vibes, according to scientists studying one of the more profound upheavals awaiting planet Earth.

This forthcoming revolution is a reversal in the Earth’s magnetic field, an event that occurs every 500,000 years or so.

Signs that the reversal is about to happen again are nowhere more apparent than over Southern Africa, according to Dr Pieter Kotze, head of the geomagnetism group at the Hermanus Magnetic Observatory in the southern Cape.

Satellites in low-Earth orbit over Southern Africa are already showing signs of radiation damage suffered as a result of the Earth’s magnetic field weakening above our part of the planet. The field forms the magnetosphere, which, like the Earth’s ozone layer, protects the planet from the sun’s harmful radiation.

Other symptoms destined to become apparent in the years ahead include the aurora australis, or southern lights. Usually seen only over the South Pole, these will become visible closer to the equator as the Earth’s magnetic field weakens and disappears. Eventually, on past form, the field will reappear but with magnetic north and south pole changing places, as they have done for billions of years.

According to an article in the New York Times this week, the change will be devastating for migratory animals such as loggerhead turtles, which use the Earth’s magnetic field to migrate 8,000km around the Atlantic. Bees, swallows, cranes, salmon, homing pigeons, frogs and eagles may also lose their way between breeding and feeding grounds.

Humans will suffer, too. The (temporary) disappearance of the magnetic field ahead of its reversal will lead to increased occurrences of radiation-induced cancer, Kotze said.

Commenting on the New York Times report, Kotze said that the decay in the Earth’s magnetic field was becoming increasingly apparent in “the South Atlantic anomaly”, a huge deviation in the Earth’s magnetic field discovered with the help of the Hermanus Magnetic Observatory.

This month, the European Space Agency (ESA) approved a multimillion-euro space mission, called Swarm, to measure the anomaly, which stretches from Southern Africa towards South America.

The ESA’s scientists believe that this anomaly, as revealed by the occasional “geomagnetic jerk” to which our part of the world is prone, will provide a clue to predicting the next “flip” in the Earth’s magnetic field, now 250,000 years overdue—as these things go. Three ESA satellites, flying in low-Earth orbit (400km to 500km up) after their launch in 2009, will measure the variation over Southern Africa.

The observatory has also recorded a faster-growing deviation between true north and magnetic north over Southern Africa during the past 10 years, drifting steadily westward. Taken together, the blip and this drift point to an imminent reversal in the Earth’s north-south magnetic alignment.

“We should be able to work out the first predictions by the end of the [Swarm] mission,” Gauthier Hulot, an ESA geophysicist and a colleague of Kotze’s, told the New York Times.

The discovery of the “anomalous field behaviour over Southern Africa” drew wide attention, reported the U.S. newspaper, because “it seemed consistent with what the [ESA’s] computer simulations identified as the possible beginnings of a flip.”

Kotze said that, “these are all indications that we have conditions similar to the last reversal, 780,000 years ago. So it means that we are due for another one soon.” In geological terms, however, “soon” could mean anytime between tomorrow and the next 3,000 years....

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

Built-In War Chest For NV Corporations

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #4:

NRS 78.752—Insurance and other financial arrangements against liability of directors, officers, employees and agents

In this very litigious society, anyone can sue anyone for almost any reason at any time. Corporations are not exempt from being sued but anyone suing a Nevada corporation could be surprised at just how resistant to attack Nevada corporate structures can be. (Important side note: To avail your Nevada corporation of the protection inherent in Nevada's statutes, you should always ensure that the other party to any contract agrees that the contract is made in Nevada and any disputes are to be resolved according to the laws of Nevada.)

Let's look at a provision of Nevada law that affords a Nevada-based C corporation amazing defensive capabilities: NRS 78.752, which was added in 1987. Here's how it begins (emphasis added):

1. A corporation may purchase and maintain insurance or make other financial arrangements on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise for any liability asserted against him and liability and expenses incurred by him... or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation has the authority to indemnify him against such liability and expenses.....

Paragraph 2 states that "other financial arrangements" may include the creation of a trust fund; the establishment of a program of self-insurance; the securing of its obligation of indemnification by granting a security interest or other lien on any assets of the corporation; and/or the establishment of a letter of credit, guaranty or surety. Specifically excluded from this protection are "...intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law...". In paragraph 4, we find that "In the absence of fraud... the decision of the board of directors... is conclusive...".

Thus, when a Nevada corporation is sued and the litigant names as co-defendants any of the officers, directors, employees or agents of the corporation, the corporation is entitled by NRS 78.752 to set aside funds for the liability asserted. Since many suits "go for broke", quite literally, a Nevada corporation can often set aside ALL of its assets so that they may be used to defend itself. At best, the attacker is likely to end up with a "mouthful of dirt", as the Nevada corporation defends itself to its utmost.

Sometimes it is just as important what the statutes do NOT say. Next week, we'll examine some key provisions NOT included in Nevada's corporate statutes, which greatly enhance PRIVACY aspects.
