RE: COMMENTS ON POLITICAL STRESSES AND OFF INTO "SUPERSTORMS" AND OTHER "NATURAL DISASTERS" OF "SUPER" MAGNITUDES—GCH/d

GCH—It is again time to give a reminder in explanation to our writings because the opposition adversaries always make such an effort to cause us to look somehow like something else than what we offer WHICH IS "journalistic" presentations, reviews of published news from the Internet system, press and other forms of media. Revelations are "our opinions" and not "cult" activity.

So that there are no misunderstandings, we carefully make every effort to give source, presentation information as to journalistic references as appropriate and adequately short for identification without need for lengthy explanations every time we send in our material.

We also give, EVERY WRITING, fully dated time lines and from where the used keyboard is located (as in Manila, Philippines) as this is where the "bodies" are located in this instance and where "our" ongoing projects and assignments are taking place.

This, by no means, gives rise to allow us to limit news or reviews and in addition, we will offer as diversified information as space allows and which also means that more timely information may well have to usurp ongoing presentations as with Dr. Coleman's reprint of CONSPIRATORS HIERARCHY, THE COMMITTEE OF 300 for there is more current and urgent recognition of "players" manipulating your lives to the last breath and of whom you must be aware.

What you do with the information is fully your responsibility to act or remain totally inactive in any way. Ours is to inform, make an effort at education, share and comment from an INFORMED position through EXPERIENCE AND RESEARCH AS WELL AS ON-SITE OBSERVERS AND CORRESPONDENTS ALONG WITH COMMENTARIES.

We certainly give no suggestion of some unworldly vapor trails or holders of "all knowledge". Better said perhaps: Our people will not be misrepresented for causes of disinformation or wrong information from would-be adversaries. We write for a respected PAPER as journalists, mostly "retired" and on "location".

We will rebut incorrect or fabricated information offered against us, and more specifically, outright LIES and DIS-INFORMATION INTENTIONALLY PUBLISHED REGARDING OUR PEOPLE OR THE PUBLICATION.

We will only use reviews printed and published IN FULL RESPECT OF AUTHORS AND "ONLY" FOR THE PURPOSES OF EDUCATION AND INFORMATION.

When we "advertise" or make suggestions as to the acquisition, say, of published works, it is because we have reviewed the material and find it extremely accurate, truthful and worthy of study.

We ask, always, that if possible, any suggested "books" utilized will also have access information or offer ability to obtain the books from our recognized resource because we insist on ability of readers to have access to any and all information we offer as a publication and as we move forward to where we can better meet requirements of regulators, we will again see to resources for products we might mention, i.e., silver colloid, Gaiantriana, etc., (only examples). We will not FIGHT any regulatory agency, for our people, when faced with such a position, are actually sent to prison by our own so-claimed "partners" and any wanting to question that should seek out some TRUTHFUL FACTS.

Furthermore, because we might serve in some capacity such as a corporation "NOMINEE" DOES NOT MEAN: ANY FURTHER CONSIDERATION. If you have control or participate in a corporation, GET INFORMED. Furthermore, just because we offer recommendations for potential information and service does NOT mean we own nor do we operate ANY business in point. When confronted, however, with need to present in responsible consideration we will DO SO in order that no one in our "contact" be left "swinging in the wind".

In "our" program we DO NOT INVOLVE INDIVIDUALS for our whole thrust is otherwise constructed for full protection of ALL PARTIES. Moreover, WE DO NOT serve as any type of commercial business operation or listed stock organization on any Securities and Exchange Board OR STOCK EXCHANGE—ANYWHERE!

We serve mostly outside the domestic U.S. of A. because of agreements and ability for our staff to function within all regulations and guidelines within agreements. Nobody has "fled" from or to anywhere but we will ALWAYS, TO THE BEST OF ABILITY, PROTECT THE RIGHTS AND SECURITY OF ALL OF OUR ASSOCIATES—ANYWHERE THEY MIGHT BE LOCATED. YEARS HAVE BEEN FOCUSED ON EXACTLY THIS PROCESS OF BEST-POSSIBLE PROTECTION AND CONSIDERATIONS WITHIN RESPECTFUL ACTIVITIES AND FULL COMPLIANCE.

YOU WHO ARE WAITING FOR "SWOOP-DOWN" AND ASCENSION IN BODILY FORMAT HAD BETTER RECONSIDER YOUR POSSIBILITIES. TRUTH SETS YOU FREE; ACTIONS IN FREEDOM OFFER CHANGE.

Our realization in FACT is the following as represented on the Banner: "NOT TO OPPOSE ERROR IS TO APPROVE IT; AND NOT TO DEFEND TRUTH IS TO SUPPRESS IT." We make every effort possible to DO BOTH.

If we need to run this "disclaimer" or statement of standing as some kind of legal PUBLIC NOTICE for full or better understanding, we will do so. Ours is to offer full ability to back up with your own research everything we offer and it is fully disclosed.

We are continually confronted by would-be authorities in every topic under the heavens and who also present what they would offer as "insider" information. No, they are usually very poorly or non-informed and you are indeed the foolish "sucker" in the picture.

All readers are quite free and welcome to whatever you choose to think about our presentations or whatever project we attend. THAT IS YOUR PREROGATIVE but if YOU GIVE FORTH INCORRECT INFORMATION AND IT IS BROUGHT TO OUR ATTENTION, WE SHALL SET IT TO STRAIGHT AS SOON AS IS POSSIBLE.

We DO NOT render support to any parties, political entities or groups and more specifically we DO NOT endorse any considered "terror" groups ANYWHERE.

VK Durham has, for instance, published over and over again that Global Alliance Investment Association somehow finances terrorists and issues unlawful or "counterfeit" documents, etc. NO, WE DO NOT! We have a very limited program, fully legal, fully qualified, proven and which still awaits fully authorized ability for use.

This, if nothing else, presents the FACT that what you are presented through VK Durham has neither possibility NOR POTENTIAL for truth of claims. She has stated, for instance, that we have $400 Trillion out to China and have ripped them off totally. WE HAVE NO INTERCHANGE AT ALL WITH CHINA.

What VKD claims is somehow in her TRUST is NOT. She has fabricated from origin, documents and certifications, forged and used signatures unlawfully placed onto her documents to indicate authorization by others but specifically county records (Recorders) authorities. Then she claims that somehow "Ekkers" have removed the proper credentials and buried them and that there is a conspiracy to falsify her records, murder her, cause her losses into the multi-trillions of dollars. This is unacceptable but her every false statement further proves our own standing.

What may have taken place prior to 1993 regarding such as Bonus 3392-181 is of no business of ours nor do we have knowledge of same. Information regarding those activities and players comes from other third parties and VK Durham who makes false and unlawful claims and slanderously libelous accusations with no basis or merit.

It is PROVEN that RUSSELL HERMAN was the HOLDER of the certificate in point and did, for legal reasons and protection of himself as BEARER of such certificate—put it into fully protected identification of holder. That did NOT include one VK Durham so whatever she chooses to state or offer CANNOT BE VALID.

Russell Herman DID IN FACT place the holding into CORPORATE IDENTIFIED HOLDING and that holder of identified entity was, AND IS, Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd. THERE IS NO AVAILABLE ARGUMENT OR DEBATE ON THE LEGAL STANDING OF THAT CORPORATION. IT WAS NOT RETIRED, PLACED ON INACTIVE STATUS OR ANY OTHER LEGALLY CLAIMED ACTION. VK DURHAM HAS NO STANDING WHATSOEVER IN HOLDING OR CORPORATE POSITION. SHE WAS NOT EVER MARRIED TO RUSSELL HERMAN AND WHAT SHE HAS WORKED OUT WITH AGENCIES OTHERWISE OR TO CLAIM HIS PROPERTY HAS NOT PASSED INSPECTION AND HAS BEEN FULLY DENIED. NO ONE "REMOVED" DOCUMENTS, FOR THERE WERE NO DOCUMENTS STATING OTHERWISE.

We take no notice nor make at this time LEGAL (as in litigation) objection to her use of anything she claims or is allowed through her claims or documentations to be accepted for use by anyone and/or the government of the United States of America. We NOTE, HOWEVER, that they do not recognize her documents and they are classified as FRAUDULENT. Our use of assets represented through Bonus 3392-181 is extremely limited and based absolutely on available gold for full collateralization of ANYTHING we do or offer. And that, readers, brings into full play the FOUNDATION here continually being confirmed and legally recognized.

What we do KNOW is that VK Durham continues to write about, with refusal to present, documents and records belonging solely to Cosmos

Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd., and boasts of doing so. This is criminal action with full intent of fraud and failure to turn over property of another and in this instance, WORSE, a registered and authorized legally established CORPORATION. She continues to claim she has them in her "Trust". No there is NO TRUST NOR "CAN" THERE BE ONE.

We, therefore, have chosen to set aside, with its fully-noted holding, that particular corporation in point to fully establish its holding and use in the domestic U.S. and Americas. When the government is ready to use said assets we are confident the documents will be either obtained through court/police action OR simply reconstructed as we have already accomplished.

I still suggest that a shortened PUBLIC NOTICE be AGAIN run so that there is NO MISUNDERSTANDING regarding this matter.

We will continue to rebut any incorrect accusations with proof but that is not the purpose of this newspaper although this newspaper is the primary information of our ongoing activities—as AGREED. VK may post whatever she chooses on her web site but she is presenting slander and libelous information now inclusive of MANY unfortunate parties who have crossed her path. WE CHOOSE TO ALLOW IT TO FLOW WITH ONLY FULL NOTATION OF REPETITIONS OF SAID LIBEL AND LIES WHILE CONTINUING TO LEAVE OPEN OUR "STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS" recourse capabilities.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

You don't need other than a reminder that the WORLD is in chaos from South America to France and all other places.

Whatever is going on in New Orleans is small as to the deliberate deaths being caused in Pakistan and otherwise unnoticed places.

We need to take attention regarding "Bird Flu" and such incredible tricks foisted off on you "unsuspecting but KNOWING" people around the globe. You remain victims of the LIES—your own lies.

I can only ask that the myriad articles that can be run be published on the topic for you are being again royally "had".

To you of our friends and/or associates—keep that distance from the untried shots and drugs. Keep plenty of colloidal silver, or better enhanced, handy for whatever else you might use the stuff—to fall back on in ABUNDANCE should you check in with the virus which, if of the adenovirus family, can and will mutate exactly as they are created by MAN to do—right AFTER you kill off your FOOD SUPPLIES. IT IS A PURELY POLITICAL HORROR FOISTED OFF ONTO YOU SO GOOD LUCK, FOR YOU WILL GET MORE AND MORE POLICE ENFORCEMENT TO FIT THE WISHES OF THE POLITICAL KINGS.

IT IS GUARANTEED THAT ANY ONE OF YOU GETTING A VACCINE WILL THEN TEST POSITIVE FOR EITHER ANTIBODIES OR THE VIRUS ITSELF—AND THEN GUESS WHAT—YOU WILL BE PLACED IN QUARANTINE BY FORCE. YOU ARE MOVING INTO THE "CONTAINMENT-BY-FORCE" PHASE OF THE GLOBAL GAME.

This, of course, is only my observation and opinion as based on myriad of information and data.

Please also note that these viruses now present with PROTEIN problems in DNA structure attached to the crystalline viral body. THIS MOVES DIRECTLY INTO PRION-LIKE COPLICATIONS [complications or copies/uplications?] whereby it will require a thousand degrees of heat to destroy the buggers once fully created in the laboratories de getcha.

STORMS

There are two storms headed for the Philippines today, one a typhoon already offering rain and the other is a new Ambassador from the U.S.

PGMA (President Gloria) is in deep quicksand with the hearings, etc., taking place and the U.S. is really giving her a hand what with military troops involved in rape and pillage in this “visited” country.

So, now the U.S. is sending A WOMAN as envoy to Manila. The “Queen” cannot abide women and especially those in higher positions than she. The lady diplomat is Kristie Anne Kenney and appears sweet as cherry syrup. We already have one diplomat in the Embassy, a black lady cut from Condoleezza Rice cloth.

In this day in this place George Bush could not have done a more intentional insult to Ms. Manila.

Moreover, don’t be shocked and in awe of the President’s consort husband returning abruptly to the Philippines having announced “no more exile”! He was given a choice as to “get out before the warrants are served” (in the U.S. against him and son) or ELSE. Ok, he came home to move back into the “palace” but this time with wholly newly redecorated living area—for his so-called “office” needs. And how is your day going? It is going to get worse so hold onto your hats and keep your belts buckled. Little Mikey has also run back home—but he won’t last much longer EITHER what with what is being disclosed in the public hearings for which the “Lady” says the participants will be arrested for “sedition” and incarcerated. Ah yes, that old denial of “Martial Law”.

Our position? Patience! We do NOTHING to even cause question to any of our contacts, friends or associates. We keep working full-steam ahead on full disclosure and proper legal court documentation of the FOUNDATION standing. Together with GAIA, it will work out very well, indeed for even the IMF-WB and foreign lenders hanging out miles without ability to enforce debt payments. Oh gee, a payback WORTH something—what a new concept!

These things are not of priority on my list of major disasters waiting to hit you people as the globe itself shifts and wobbles from the major impacts of activities listed as “natural”. Even the Indonesian quake caused a definite shifting of landmasses and caused a “wobble” of the globe. The REALLY BIG games have yet to hit as a magnetic shift, GLOBAL, is now taking place and when the “switch flip” is flipped there will be trouble in most “River Cities” and Dry Deserts. When a major physical axis shift begins to take place it will be amazing!

Much of the change will be, of course, in whichever direction the most physical weight and melt will flow and with allowance of crevasse activity allowing volcanic eruption or DROP OUT to happen, you will find no name large enough to fit the moment. Katrina will be but a moment in time.

If you consider NOTHING other than storms, I can promise you that YOU DO WANT TO STUDY CAREFULLY the book by Art Bell and Whitley Strieber called THE COMING GLOBAL SUPERSTORM.

I am asking that pocket-sized books of this title be gotten for our readers so that you have easy access since the book itself is now some five years out. STUDY IT and no matter what you might “think”—KNOW that every major event since the book’s writing has been larger, worse and constant. It was a best-seller and thus became a pocket book and therefore should be quite reasonable in price.

I won’t at this time discuss the authors for most of you will know who they are. I will say that whether or not they know it or whether or not you believe it: they are contactees of OURS. And no, they do NOT take face-value or channeled nonsense as the basis for all statements—intelligence says LOOK AT WHAT IS! There is no way I could more strongly stress the point of importance of this information from ice melt to coming events. I sincerely hope these authors are working diligently on updates.

[QUOTING: SUPERSTORM “PREFACE” BY WHITLEY STRIEBER ON SEPTEMBER 26, 2000. The book itself was completed in August of 1999.]

PREFACE

Whitley Strieber

When Art Bell and I completed this book in August of 1999, we did not expect to see the kinds of enormous changes in climate that it predicts for at least fifteen or twenty years. Nothing in the scientific data suggested otherwise. If anything, climatology was saying that really significant change was decades off.

In fact, we were roundly criticized for even suggesting that the climate might be at the brink of a catastrophe. Matt Lauer of the TODAY show interviewed us, taking a position that was reflected elsewhere in the media: we were irresponsible alarmists attempting to make money by exploiting people’s fears. Most national media wouldn’t even give us airtime. Not even the cable talk shows would take us.

These refusals came despite the fact that the climate had demonstrated, just a few months before our book was published, that our theories were not only valid, but that the situation was far more urgent than even we had realized.

Our concern was and is that rapid melting of ice at the poles will alter ocean currents and cause a sudden change in climate. This change will start with climatic upheavals unlike any seen before, and will lead to a planetary climate so unlike what we have at present that the long-term disruptions will be devastating.

Sadly, the media rejection of our book meant that the simple, powerful methods of reducing greenhouse gas emissions and thus, slowing this process down have not been generally embraced.

People don’t want to think about the environmental catastrophe that is staring us in the face because they feel helpless, and they are served by a media that reflects this by being indifferent, or even hostile, to discussing these issues. Worse, the matter has been politicized in the United States, with conservatives [following] the lead of George W. Bush, Rush Limbaugh, and the Rev. Jerry Falwell, who has gone so far as to state flatly that he “doesn’t believe in” global warming. While the Democrats have been more forthcoming, they also perceive public indifference to the issue, with the result that little was made of the growing environmental catastrophe in the 2000 election campaign.

What was so ironic and so sad is that people can, by following the simple procedures outlined in this book, gain very real control over greenhouse gas emissions, and do this without any cost to industry at all. But we need an international effort. Many, many people have to embrace the program for it to work. This was where the media was to have come in. But it did not.

If we do not do something, and right now, sudden climate change is inevitable, and it seems clear that is going to happen much sooner than anybody thought possible. Science is going to be blindsided. In fact, this is happening right now.

On July 11, 2000, Discover.com published the results of a study from the Norwegian scientific journal Cicerone. This story suggested that the northern ice cap would be gone within fifty years. It also pointed to another important factor discussed in our book: Human-generated greenhouse gases are not the only factor causing global warming. They are merely the part of it that we can control. We need to realize that the whole process of sudden climate change is part of the earth’s fundamental ecology. As we detail in the book, science tells us that it has happened before, long before there was any “human effect” on the atmosphere. Discovery.com said, “The latest estimates for the ice sheet’s end show significantly faster melting than the greenhouse effect can account for.”

Just a few weeks later, on August 25, 2000, an astonishing story emerged from a midsummer tourist excursion to the North Pole: The pole had melted.

Where there had been ice from time immemorial, there was now open water. Some scientists were predictably dismissive. On August 25, Mark Serreze of the University of Colorado said on CNN, “We’ve seen features like this before.” He did not say when, however, and in fact, open water has never been observed at the North Pole before, never in human history. The last time the pole lacked an ice cover altogether was the Eocene Era, which ended fifty million years ago.

The key point in this book is that rapid melt of polar ice will cause crucial ocean currents to fail, leading to a sudden and devastating acceleration in climate change.

The ice at both poles is melting at a rate that [was] completely unexpected even as the book was written in 1999. Worldwide, melting glaciers are unleashing floods of water into oceans that need a certain level of salinity to maintain the stable water temperatures that currents depend on.

Virtually all the world’s glaciers, from the Himalayas to the Antarctic, are in retreat. The most serious situation is in Greenland. The Greenland ice sheet is flooding the northern ocean with fifty billion tons of water a year as the ice melts. Worse, the margins of the ice sheet are thinning at a rate of two meters a year. This means that the glaciers themselves are becoming unstable, and the threat exists that they will suddenly [slide] into the sea.

“We are seeing widespread indications that something like that is going on, causing the glaciers to move faster toward the margins,” commented William B. Krabill, author of a study of the glaciers that appeared in the journal Science in July 2000. The melting of Greenland would raise ocean levels 21 feet, but major effects on climate will take place long before that happens.

The situation in the Antarctic is just as dire. For the past ten years, the Antarctic ice pack has been breaking up. In March 2000, two massive icebergs broke off the Ross Ice Shelf. The larger of the two was 185 miles long by 23 miles wide, slightly smaller than the state of Connecticut. In September of 2000, Professor John Lowe of London University suggested that global warming could cause a mini-ice age in Britain within a few decades. He described the evidence as “startling”. This is not an isolated event. It is one of a series of huge ice breaks in the Antarctic that began in 1987, when a berg the size of Rhode Island broke off the Ross Ice Shelf. On February 9, 1988, the New York Times reported “an extraordinary two years of glacial breakup”. This led to what is now the complete destruction of the Larsen Ice Shelf, and the increasing instability of the Ross.

The melt of floating ice, such as the polar cap and the Antarctic ice shelves, will not cause sea levels to rise, and there is not much evidence that a sudden glacial surge off Greenland or the Antarctic will take place in the near future. The issue is not sea levels, it’s fresh water: Polar melt is flooding the northern and southern oceans with it.

This is exactly what is believed to have led to the last great climatic event, which we discuss in detail in this book. We also discuss the substantial evidence that this event began with a ferocious series of storms that led to two hundred years of reduced temperatures in the northern hemisphere, and a reduction of temperatures above the Arctic Circle that is just now ending.

There appears to be a great climatic cycle that is marked by long periods of stability punctuated by sudden change. We are almost certainly at one of the points of sudden change. It will come when fresh water flooding into the polar oceans combines with rising air temperatures to increase water temperature so much that the great currents that control climate stop flowing.

When [we] wrote our book, we thought that this situation would develop over a period of years. Given the past twelve months, however, it now seems clear that it could happen at any time. Indeed, it has probably already started.

In November 27, 1999, the prestigious British newsweekly The New Scientist published a story entitled "Freezing Future: There's Now Alarming Evidence that Europe is Facing an Ice Age." The story went on to corroborate the warnings voiced in our book. "The ocean currents that give Europe its mild climate are changing," The New Scientist said. "Scientists have found evidence that global warming may cause a big freeze by switching off a current called the North Atlantic Drift."

Due to the flooding of the northern oceans by fresh water from rapidly melting polar ice, there have already been dramatic shifts in the very currents that control our weather. There is even data showing that a deep sea current in the arctic has actually gone into reverse.

When we read these stories, shortly before our book was published, we immediately informed the book's publicist, who sent out press releases.

For the most part, the media did not respond, not even to this open and obvious physical evidence that our warnings were not only appropriate, but frighteningly timely.

Not all media powers reacted the same way. Columnist Liz Smith was particularly affected by the book. "I picked up this book just as those New Year storms were savaging Europe, leaving almost 100 people dead. But those storms are only a drop in the bucket compared to what this book claims is in store for us unless we get busy and do something about it."

The storms she referred to were truly alarming natural events. Over a hundred people were killed as winds reaching as high as 125 miles an hour ravaged Europe in two successive storm waves. The second storm, on December 28, 1999, swept France with winds of unprecedented velocity, destroying hundreds of millions of trees and wreaking havoc with power lines, roadways, and homes.

Prior to this, storms from Spain to Italy reached incredible altitude, resulting in falls of eight-pound hail. Why these blocks of ice were plummeting from the skies mystified scientists. "The most surprised person of all by this phenomenon is me," said geologist Jesus Martinez Frias, who was headed a team of scientists collecting and analyzing the blocks of ice. Months later, they announced that the ice was indeed a weather-generated phenomenon.

To us, it was just a precursor of things to come. It meant that cloud tops were reaching the kind of extreme heights predicted in this book, and allowing ice masses to form at ultrahigh altitudes then grow to immense size as they plummeted to the earth. This is happening because temperatures near the surface are rising, due to heat being trapped by greenhouse gases. Temperatures above the stratosphere are dropping, due to the fact that less and less heat is radiating up from below.

The effect was reported by scientists in May 1999.

The mesosphere, about forty miles up, has been cooling by a degree a year for the past ten years. This is ten times faster than anyone had previously predicted. Gary Thomas of the laboratory for atmospheric and Space Physics at the University of Colorado says that this may be the climate change "miner's canary". In the past, miners would take a canary with them into deep mines. The bird would die from odorless gases long before the miners themselves would realize it was there. If the canary died, the miners got out.

The radical temperature difference between the upper and lower atmosphere means that the potential for extreme storms is rising, and throughout 1999 and 2000, they marched across the world. Not only were weather extremes felt in Europe, there were devastating storms in Venezuela, China, India, and Southeast Asia. When torrential rains flooded Caracas on December 20, 1999, 30,000 people were killed. The previous May, an Oklahoma tornado set a world wind record when wind speeds in the funnel cloud were recorded at 318 miles per hour. In November 1999, a monstrous super-cyclone very much like the one described in this book killed at [least] 12,000 people in India. Millions were left homeless, and desperate survivors began burning the carcasses of 200,000 drowned cattle, buffaloes, and pigs in an effort to prevent the spread of disease.

On November 23, 1999, the New York Times published an article that directly supported the theories in The Coming Global Superstorm. The article described the same climatic event that is discussed in this book, the one that brought on weather chaos toward the end of the last ice age. Dr. Gerald R. Dickens of James Cook University in Australia compared the way a warming trend like the one we are in now climaxes to a rubber band: "You gradually pull at both ends and, at some instant, the rubber band suddenly breaks."

The article, for the most part, discussed a sudden climate change event that took place 55 million years ago. But it illustrated our point very clearly. In the words of Dr. Dickens: "The earth can, for natural reasons, suddenly change dramatically."

When you add the push effect of human intervention to the natural processes that are occurring right now, there is obviously potential for explosive change.

It is now October 2000, and we have seen a devastating cascade of changes, most of which have been totally unexpected. The weather has become ultra-violent, highly unpredictable, and extremely dangerous.

On January 31, 2000, U.S. News & World Report published an article about weather change, essentially blaming the present situation on short-lived oceanic phenomena like El Nino and La Nina, alternating warm and cold water cycles that occur in the Pacific Ocean and profoundly affect climate in the Americas. The article concluded, "It's too soon to panic."

Too soon? We don't think so. As this preface is being written, world weather patterns are sliding deeper into chaos. Over five million acres of arid land have already burned in the American west, and predictions are that six million acres will have burned by the end of the year. On August 27, 2000, the Montana fires combined into a single giant 247,000-acre conflagration and became the largest single fire ever recorded in the United States. Then the winds began to rise.

At the same time that fires raged in the west, the Midwest and northeast were experiencing one of their wettest summers on record. This pattern of extremes was a continuation of a situation that began to evolve in January, when temperatures plummeted to -15 degrees in New York, while they soared to 81 degrees in south Texas.

Regional extremes like these continued world wide, and the summer of 2000 promised, like the summers of 1997 through 1999, to be one of the hottest on record. In early July, a thermal invasion of extremely hot air from the Sahara Desert invaded southeastern Europe and Turkey. Temperatures exploded to unprecedented heights, shattering records across the region. Turkey and Greece saw temperatures as high as 113 degrees, and it went to 111 degrees in the Balkans. Roads became impassable because of melting tar, and fires broke out across the region.

In India in September of 2000, fifteen million people were made homeless by monsoon flooding.

A more disturbing event took place in northern England on August 21. Freak storms, not predicted by British meteorologists, surprised Hull and York with torrential rain, hail, a serious tornado, and five inches of snow. Similar weather struck in North Wales two hundred miles away, where hail blocked roads as temperatures plummeted.

This is exactly the sort of bizarre weather that would take place in this part of the world if the normal flow of warm water from the south was slowing down, but had not yet ended altogether.

Our book predicts these effects, but it goes farther than that: it predicts what is in store for us over the next few years, and it would appear that climate change during this period could be far more dramatic than expected.

The book was not only shunned by the media in the United States, it received review attention that was almost entirely hostile. This was in dramatic contrast to the British press, which generally supported the book.

However, no major reviews anywhere in the world discussed our speculations that there was almost certainly a much more developed society on earth far earlier than conventional scientific wisdom.

Throughout the year 2000, there have been a series of discoveries pushing the dates for crucial human developments back farther and farther, much more in line with our theories.

We suggested that this earlier society was consumed by a previous dramatic weather upheaval. We made our case that this society must have existed by briefly surveying a number of ancient structures whose origins and structural engineering have not been satisfactorily explained. Among these structures was one off the small Japanese island of Yonaguni (Okinawa) in the Pacific. This enormous structure subsided into the ocean about nine thousand years ago, approximately during the time that the last upheaval was taking place.

Despite compelling evidence that it is man-made, science has dismissed it as of geologic origin, largely because of its dates. There could have been no civilization in Japan nine thousand years ago that would have been capable of building such a large structure.

In November 1999, however, unmistakable carvings of human origin were found on the sea floor near the monument. It has now been theorized that the object must have come up out of the sea about five thousand years ago, then subsided again after the carvings were made.

[H: I cannot resist this insertion: Do you have any concept at all of how silly you as a species actually ARE?]

This seems unlikely to be the last word on this particular structure. Nevertheless, our speculations about the past were just controversial enough to justify our entire [thesis] being ignored. This means that readers did not get informed either of the crisis nature of the present situation or of the means we have of exerting what could be a crucial degree of human control over it.

Whether the civilization we believe may have been there existed or not, conventional science certainly offers ample and all but irrefutable evidence that the climatic upheaval that took place then was caused by a “snap back” of the climate from a global warming spike exactly like the one that is taking place now.

There is substantial evidence, also, that the upheaval overtook this planet during a single, awful season of incredible weather chaos. If such an event were to happen today, it would result in the deaths, ultimately, of many billions of people.

[H: Yes indeed, and this without any consideration of “Bird Flu”.]

Not only would the initial catastrophe cause many to die, the agricultural disaster that followed would lead to a much greater loss of life.

On July 11, 2000 in the New York Times, Bob Herbert’s “In America” column quoted Dr. Michael Oppenheimer, chief scientist of Environmental Defense, a national environmental research organization. Dr. Oppenheimer said, “The last time it was as warm as it probably will be by the end of this century, globally speaking, was several million years ago. There is no way we can know for sure if that’s a world we can safely cope with.”

Given the fact that Dr. Oppenheimer did not know, at that time, that the North Pole would melt in a few weeks, it is safe to say that he may not have been talking about the end of this century at all. His remarks might be even more accurate if he had said, “at the end of the next few months or years”.

The Coming Global Superstorm is not a book of speculation about some vague possible future. It is a call to action about events that are almost certainly staring us right in the face. It seems now, as of August 2000, that the kind of climate change we describe is much, much closer to happening than we ever dreamed when we were writing the book...and that was just one year ago.

Surely after five more YEARS of events taking place that shock and awe beyond your conscious ability with which to cope—THIS IS WHY WE PUSH THIS INFORMATION. YOU ARE, AS PEOPLE SURVIVORS, SIMPLY IN YOUR LAST PHASES OF EXPRESSION AS YOU KNOW IT TO BE.

I REMIND YOU ALL THAT WE CAN REMIND YOU OF THINGS OF TRUTH BUT YOU WILL DO THAT WHICH YOU WILL.

Always, again, as people become frightened and make consideration of that which will come, we are deluged with: “Where shall we go?”, “Where is safe or better?” and always, “Where will we be?”

I can’t answer any of those questions for those are yours to consider. However, because of the magnetic shift and ultimately a polar shift of some extent—on the equator is your best consideration, for it is not your sun that will change nor will the stars. The havoc and chaos is on YOUR PLANET.

We have realized and worked in recognition of this day that would come and this is also where, handled properly, there could be sustaining backup. It is not for us to push anything off onto your heads.

Thank you for your attention, for as the departing Christos said: “I am going to prepare a place for you ...” Does it begin to make any sense at all?

Legally Mandated Response to More VK Durham Hot Air

“HELL HATH NO FURY”—
LIKE SOMEONE COVERING LIES.
EVEN ABSURDITY SEEMS TO HAVE NO BEARING OR FAILURE TO HAVE FOOLISH BELIEVERS WHO DO SERVICE TO THE IRRESPONSIBLE LIAR

Again we are asked to put this information into the form of a useable legal affidavit-declaration with witness signature as to our own signatures. This will be in reference and/or rebuttal where necessary to the information which will also be published as regards VK Durham and her Antechamber web site.

In order “to appear” to be offering timely information on subjects such as “The Patriot Act” in obvious hopes of getting garbage onto “other” Internet sites than her own, VK Durham now expounds on “Constitution” and “Corruption” while she pleads the force of even death be brought against her own “supposed” enemies.

If we have become “enemies” in this encounter with Ms. Satan (our own opinionated observation), it is because we will no longer shelter the fork-tongued “lady” in the red or black costume.

VK’s postings of 11/4/05 on “the Antechamber” are a prime example of total hogwash but possibly extremely damaging, to us, material with no merit or support for any of her accusations or deliberately evil disinformation.

I will repeat from her page 3 of 6 as an example of her blatant lack of truth:

It is even worse than that because she has ATTRIBUTED TO TOM FLOCCO her own bat-crap and for him to continue to utilize her material, even cleaned up a bit, is far beyond any journalistic professionalism. Ah but, he does so and that is his business but will also be our business when the arm of law is in the “reverse swing”.

Quoting:

Regarding Tom Flocco Article: <http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/CheneyKnew.htm>; It is believed: Dr. Navvaro is associated with Dr. Leonardo, past Philippine President Estrada, E.J. and Doris J. Ekker... Back in the Fall of 1997 the good Dr. Leonardo called me inquiring about expired documents the Ekker’s were trying to run through his Window Gold Bank, and he was told “the instruments are invalid, the one year term expired and no extensions will be granted.

All of that is pure fiction, the product of an overactive left brain.

The “Ekker’s” (sic, VK) KNOW NO “DR. NAVVARO”. Neither do Ekkers know any “Dr. Leonardo”. Ekkers do NOT “know” President Estrada.

There are many Navvaros in the Philippines, as well as in other Spanish-speaking countries but, to our knowledge, no Navvaros.

Does VK’s attributing such musings to Tom Flocco transform them into TRUTH? We think the contrary: When even semi-interested readers see such flagrant misuse of others’ names and reputations, they cannot help discounting every thing else VK prattles.

However, while working WITH VKD (on her “PLEDGE & ASSIGNS”), Rick Martin, Charles Neil and Ekkers did meet with, at Corporate Headquarters in Las Vegas, “a” lawyer, Conrado (Radi) Leonardo, who planned to be a candidate for the presidency in the Philippines.

HE HAD NO “WINDOW GOLD BANK” (another VK invention?) although he alleged that he made several trips to London to work on the P&A FROM VK DURHAM. He was a lecturer-turned-politician and wished to raise money for his campaign along with being able to establish some very large humanitarian projects in the Philippines. He was an interesting and delightfully colorful person.

After spending thousands of dollars he called us to report that he had called Ms. Durham and had never experienced such abusive treatment or language and that she became so abusive HE HUNG UP ON HER. He told us that she never mentioned a “Mr. Herman” or any other parties involved and claimed that she was 100% total owner of said assets. She mentioned no “Trust” and she spoke of no “Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd.”. This was occurring during the time she was blackmailing us by not extending the “P&As” so we had to tell him that we could no longer work with her and that our attorneys were working on a program that would be more acceptable and easy to use worldwide, which we would introduce to him as soon as possible.

Did this sever our relationship with Mr. Leonardo? No, after we came to Manila he met with us several times. He had had a stroke and was in a wheelchair and did not continue his “run” for the presidency.

Now, the next is also unfortunate for Ms. Durham as she continues:

Dr. Leonardo ran for president in the Philippines, a friend of Estrada, and owned a WINDOW GOLD BANK. He helped them get their operation into the GOLD COLLATERAL HOUSE (WORLD BANK) which you will find in V.K. Durham’s [See? VK makes it sounds as if Flocco is quoting her when the whole thing is her certified original fabrication.] articles CONSTITUTIONAL CRISIS-PART TWO and all connected to Mr. Wanta, Dr. Leonardo, Dr. Navvaro, Mr. Ely Pamatong, Nur Misauri of the Moro Islamic Liberation Front...and the Global Gang of wanna be Robin Hoods and assortments of merry bandits associated with the GAIA-EKKERS operating this Banking, Financing and Economic Fraud Ring putting out the fraudulent Counterfeit U.S. Gold

Debt-Derivatives, Joint Ventures, Deeds of Assignments for Consideration operating out of the Philippines.. Which has brought much attention to THE WHITE HOUSE occupants..and associates..such as Vice President Richard Cheney... Take a look at: <http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/CheneyKnew.htm>. [D&EJ: Please do so if you can. You will see nothing of the above at that address.]

WHO KNEW! WHEN DID THEY KNOW IT AND COVER IT UP UNDER NATIONAL SECURITY?!

They ALL have known! As the AMBASSADORS SUCH AS MR. WANTA, LYNN SCHIVELY ETC. & MEMBERS OF THE U.S. DIPLOMATIC CORP STOPPED INVESTIGATIONS, STOPPED INFORMATION FROM INTERPOL FROM REACHING NATIONAL SECURITY, THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT-FBI; Everyone from Congressmen, Congressmen's Aides, Senators, Senator's Aids, FBI, Secret Service, BATF, County Sheriffs etc., and ALL covered it up, used the DIPLOMATIC SERVICE to keep INTERPOL from investigating, put it under National Security "Classified", put all parties in ABOVE THE LAW STATUS, refused to investigate (Jamie Goerlick's Memo-Directive) since the Dollar was exhausted which involved the two unauthorized (by the owner) $120 Billion Dollar Gold Transactions identified in TOM FLOCCO'S article 9/11 and Financial Involvements at: <http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/FinancialTerrorism.htm>

Never minding references to Russell Herman which we SHALL address later, we find it all but incredible at the total lack of ANY truth in anything the woman writes and then in her audacity (chutzpah) backs up her lies, trash and outright false statements with Tom Flocco as her claim to "truth?". Ron, please, be sure Flocco is getting our writings for no matter who he might be, this is sick "stuff" and will destroy anything he might have ever offered as valid insight to anyone or anything. Of course the same applies to Stew Webb.

RESPONSE TO NONSENSE:

Dr. Leonardo, of whom we have never heard, who supposedly "ran for president in the Philippines, a friend of Estrada", is pure fabrication. The Attorney Leonardo we knew withdrew from the race, WAS NEVER FRIEND OR ASSOCIATE OF ESTRADA AND HAS NEVER OWNED A BANK, MUCH THE LESS ANY KIND OF A "GOLD BANK", WINDOW OR OTHERWISE. His corporation was named World Collateral House and had nothing to do with the World Bank; he was in a wheelchair, barely able to speak and could not have "helped them get their operation into the GOLD COLLATERAL HOUSE (WORLD BANK)". But we do have to admit that such blarney sounds pretty good coming from a Tom Flocco. We would hope that Stew Webb will not allow himself to be used to authenticate VK's mindless, alcoholic trash.

Now as you review her following, copied above, accusations—would it not seem somehow strange that she still is allowed to spew such Internationally DAMAGING disinformation?

EJ did meet with Ely Pamatong, a "lawyer" who dresses as a Muslim but is NOT. Ely talked Nur Misuari into leading a Bangsamoro "secession" from the Republic of the Philippines and managed to start a "revolution" of some kind, which causes Misuari TO STILL REMAIN INCARCERATED. We do not work or associate in any way with Mr. Pamatong. We had respected him for his writings on government structure possibilities and published a few of them but had no further interchange.

NUR MISUARI is NOT in any way, shape or form remotely associated with the "Moro Islamic Liberation Front". He was Governor of ARMM [Autonomous Region of Muslim Mindanao, a unique and autonomous region of the Philippines, by law] and was associated only with the Moro National Liberation Front [a legitimate political party]. The two entities [MILF and MNLF] are at the extreme ends of any pole of reference. WE HAVE NO ASSOCIATION WITH ANY KNOWN MILF PERSONS OR GROUPS.

Then, to top off the absurdities, she associates us—with [purported] backup from Tom Flocco—as somehow being associated as an operative of some kind with VP RICHARD CHENEY. We have never had contact with him or any of his associates, with the possible exception of George Herbert Walker Bush, and that did not involve Cheney.

Now, moving on please—

We ask that most of the VK writing "Illinois Officials..." dated 11/9/5 with quotes from Senator Charles Grassley and the letter from U.S. Department of Justice with references to information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, of OCTOBER 24, 2005 be run ASAP. They will be incorporated later in a PUBLIC NOTICE.

Please be reminded that VK Durham was NEVER MARRIED TO RUSSELL HERMAN (by any spelling she uses). VK Durham has blamed everyone from Ekkers to George H.W. Bush for MURDERING Russell Herman, Herrman, Herrmann, Hermann.

Russell Herman had CANCER from which he died. He never was married to Vina Catherine (Katherine) Durham and that has been amply proven by every government agency she has tried to bamboozle.

All of the holdings regarding Bonus 3392-181 were professionally and legally assigned to identifiable ownership of Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing Ltd., which yes indeed, WE DO CONTROL, as we have since 1994.

To add to the information given here as by the FBI investigations into the death of Russell Herman we concur that RUSSELL HERMAN TOLD US PERSONALLY THAT HE HAD CANCER, WAS DYING AND NEEDED TO ATTEND HIS BUSINESS—WHICH HE DID BY ASSIGNING HIS HOLDING IN CSEML (BONUS 3392-181) OVER TO US. IT IS CLEAN, CLEAR AND FULLY REGISTERED AS A CORPORATION IN GOOD STANDING "TODAY". VKD HAS "NO" STANDING WHATSOEVER.

Russell Herman told us, personally, exactly what to do to secure the asset and we did it. He had also asked that we work WITH VK if possible and for what reason we were not aware at the time. WE DID THAT UNTIL THE VERY BRINK OF TOTAL DESTRUCTION LOOMED IN OUR FACES. WE SUPPORTED, FINANCIALLY, THE WOMAN AND TRIED EVERY WAY WE KNEW TO MAKE HER PROGRAMS WORK. YOU CAN SEE THE RESULTS OF THOSE EFFORTS.

She has claimed there have been no "investigations" as ordered by top-level parties. Poo on that, we have been investigated many more times than we know about. Most investigators come under a guise intended not to discourage our disclosing what we are really doing, how the program works, and all of the "inside info" they can dredge.

Why Senator Grassley and the other parties who might be named or annoyed choose to allow this bashing from this "mentally challenged" woman makes no sense to us.

WE REPEAT: RUSSELL HERMAN TOLD US HE HAD CANCER OF THE GASTRO-INTESTINAL TRACT AND WAS TERMINAL.

AT THAT TIME MS. VINA C(K)ATHERINE DURHAM TOLD US RUSSELL HAD CANCER AND THAT WITH NO MENTION OF MURDER INVOLVED IN THE CONVERSATION. ALL THE ACCUSATIONS CAME AFTER HIS DEATH. SHE WAS, FURTHER, ONLY AN "ASSOCIATE" AS IN "BUSINESS ASSOCIATE". WE ASSUMED THEY WERE LIVING TOGETHER BECAUSE BOTH HAD THE SAME ADDRESS AND PHONE NUMBER.

We did not wish to offend VK Durham in her hour of suffering over the death of Russell Herman and certainly did not, at the time, wish to offer her other than sympathy. She sent pictures of the claimed body of Russell and, according to her demand, Martin and Young ran them in the paper, CONTACT. At that point she had begun her "murder" rampage but frankly, with medical knowledge recognized, the body appeared like a person DYING OF CANCER OF THE GASTRO-INTESTINAL TRACT with the very "wasting" which occurs in the progression of the disease. We did not, however, argue the point even as she produced at least a dozen other methods of supposed "murder" from "serine" (sic) gassing to torture and "freezing" in the morgue while still living.

VK has pointed out "bruising" of the ankles, feet, etc. No, that is the very natural act in death of settling out of bodily fluids.

Russell Herman never told us about torturing or kidnapping. Later we assumed he considered it none of our business. He told us of some interesting circumstances but few, if any, of the conjured escapades of VK's proclamations, including banking accounts and other positions she claims.

VK claimed to be a working member of the SECRET SERVICE. We doubted it at the time and have never believed it since. She has no "records" because all of her stories and tales are FABRICATIONS and where she presents documents, they are fabricated, copied, poorly copied and are badly presented fraudulent documents.

We doubt that anybody pulled any records from her files, BUT, WE AND ANYONE WE KNOW CERTAINLY NEVER TOUCHED HER FILES—PERIOD.

Now, who "Herrman, Herrmann, Hermann, etc." might represent is purely hearsay to us. We ONLY recognized Russell Herman and were provided with enough identification backup on documents of sound standing and recognition to believe that he was genuine and surely had the background for what he presented to us. We have never had argument from anyone, even the government of the USA, otherwise. During our negotiations in 1996 with the Chief Legal Officer at the U.S. Treasury, Russell Munk did not once deny the existence of Russell Herman or the Peruvian bond 3392-181.

In her writing of 11/4/05 VK again talks of our "Counterfeiting Operation in the Philippines", the "50/50 split with High Ranking U.S. Federal Government Officials" and again tries to link that to the death of Russell Herman. Then later she refers to something as "DEED No. 189934 filed August 1, 1994...". NO, these were HER fraudulent documents (manufactured by her) presented and filed on August 1, 1994 (just days prior to Russell's death) in a last-minute, desperate attempt to lay a claim to Russell's property and/or 3392. They have been proven fraudulent just as have all of her "originally produced" marriage documents.

Regardless of her rantings, the absolute and irrefutable fact is that 3392 was assigned by Russell Herman to Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd. in 1988 as witnessed by his then partner, Cecelia Xalis. Bush & Co. knew that—even VK brayed that Frankie Sue del Papa colluded with George Sr. to steal CSEML—so why would they worry about killing Russell? They had sense enough to know that killing Russell did not kill the corporation and they also knew VK had zero ownership or control of 3392 so they didn't bother with her. The only person that stood to gain by her machinations was her.

Those documents, which she CLAIMS to have, BELONG TO COSMOS SEAFOOD ENERGY MARKETING, LTD. CORPORATION AND VK CONTINUES TO HOLD THEM UNLAWFULLY WHILE REFUSING TO TURN THEM OVER TO THE RIGHTFUL HOLDERS AND/OR PRESENT THE TRUTH OF HER TAMPERING AND FRAUDULENT RE-WRITES.

VK claims that Ekkers blackmail the President of the United States and members of his family. Now, please, just how many people can believe such an outrageous claim? We are so far down on any list of parties which concern such people as to be the joke of the century. Do these parties know who we are? The assumption is “yes” because we have been told by credible persons that it is so.

We may well be naïve but WE ARE NOT FOOLS! We are not even among the “players” in any such daring (or otherwise) games as espoused or claimed by VK Durham or any of her associates.

We do not have information regarding “CI-LTD CONTRA” or accounts thereof and certainly not with association to “RUSSELL HERMAN” activities.

NEITHER ARE WE PRIVY TO ANY KNOWLEDGE OF ANY INFORMATION REGARDING DEATHS OF THE “CONTRA(S) CIA OPERATIVES”.

VK signs off with: “V.K. Durham aka Mrs. (Col) Russell Herrman-Herman, Widow”.

Liar to the end it seems. Note, please, that in no instance did anyone in her correspondence refer to her as other than “Ms.” Durham.

By the way, Russell Herman never told us about kidnapping and/or torture or of reporting same to the SWANSEA ILLINOIS FBI OFFICE. ALL of those claims and projections came “after the fact” directly from VK Durham.

In his recent (10/24/05) letter to Senator Grassley, Marcus D. Veazey, Section Chief, Office of Congressional Affairs stated:

Our reviews of the information she has provided over the years, including her present communication to you, have identified no specific, factual information to indicate that a violation of federal law within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI has occurred or upon which to base an FBI investigation. It should be noted that in 1995, an inquiry by our Springfield, Illinois, Office determined that Ms. Durham's husband, had in fact, died of cancer. We are, therefore, unable to be of assistance to Ms. Durham.

It was, please note, only that Ms. Durham claimed Russell Herman-Herrman as a “husband” and it was NOT acknowledged. No comfort to Ms. Durham there.

VK's every writing strengthens our case against her so we will just continue to enjoy exposing her lies, outrageous as they are becoming. We don't see any “deep pockets” joining her crusade; she will need some help when “justice” begins to grind slowly on her plump backside. E & D

VKD: ‘Illinois Officials...’

Grab the hip-waders and nose-plugs again, readers. The following Internet-posted article by VKD, referenced and thoroughly refuted in the preceding piece by Doris and EJ Ekker, is presented to document renewal of the statutes of limitation for her ongoing libel, slander and assault on the Ekkers and efforts to prevent the GAIA program from moving forward.

[QUOTING:]

ILLINOIS OFFICIALS IN PRISON: WHO KNEW & WAS ORDERED “DO NOT INVESTIGATE?”

By: V.K. Durham, <TheAntechamber.net>, 11/9/05

1993. Russell Herman reported his KIDNAPPING & TORTURE to the SWANSEA ILLINOIS FBI OFFICE. Russell was told:

“We realize you were kidnapped, taken across state lines into Missouri without your authorization. We realize you were tortured during the kidnapping episode. However; Mr. Herman, in your instance, we do not have the funds allocated to investigate and prosecute these individuals because we have just used up all our allocated funds opening our new offices in Moscow.”

For years I have asked for a full, formal, federal, Congressional Investigation into the MURDER of RUSSELL HERMAN.

For years I asked ILLINOIS OFFICIALS to investigate the KIDNAPPING & MURDER of Russell Herman, and they either were told “Do not investigate” or responded with “This is not an area of our jurisdiction”... Some of these individuals such as GOV. RYAN was investigated by Patrick Fitzgerald for Criminal Activity and are now in prison. Unfortunately; THE INVESTIGATION did not go deep enough.

Recently I received a letter from U.S. Senator Charles E. Grassley dated October 28, 2005

<http://www.theantechamber.net/VkDocuments/Herman/Dgfb1.htm>

which I will quote:

“Dear Ms. Durham:

I have been in touch with the Federal Bureau of Investigation regarding your concerns about the death of your husband, Russell. I have enclosed a copy of the reply sent to my office.

If you have any further questions, or if I can assist you in any other way, please do not hesitate to contact Jacob Bossman in my Sioux City office.

Keep in touch.

Sincerely

(signed) Chuck Grassley

United States Senator

Dear Senator Grassley:

This is in reply to your August 26 letter on behalf of Ms. xxxx x. Durham, who has once again contacted you about the death of her husband, Russell Herman aka Russell Herrman.

Our records show that over the past ten years, the FBI has received numerous contacts from Ms. Durham, as well as inquiries on behalf from elected representatives, regarding her allegations that her husband was murdered. In response, we have advised her that in order for the FBI to initiate an investigation of any complaint we receive, specific facts must be present to indicate that a violation of federal law within our investigative jurisdiction has occurred. Our reviews of the information she has provided over the years, including her present communication to you, have identified no specific, factual information to indicate that a violation of federal law within the investigative jurisdiction of the FBI has occurred or upon which to base an FBI investigation. It should be noted that in 1995, an inquiry by our Springfield, Illinois, Office determined that Ms. Durham's husband, had in fact, died of cancer. We are, therefore, unable to be of assistance to Ms. Durham.

I hope this information will be helpful to you in responding to Ms. Durham

Sincerely yours,

Office of Congressional Affairs

Yes. It is true I contacted the Springfield Illinois Offices of the FBI in 1995 and provided them with the photos of Russell's body and evidence of Violations of the Lindburg Act (Kidnapping) and more than sufficient medical verification & documentation on VA letterhead stating “gastrointestinal obstruction” (no mention of cancer at all) for commencing a full, comprehensive, forensic investigation could be conducted (also provided to U.S. Senator Charles Grassley's Office);

And I also contacted the Illinois Attorney General.

1. I received a royal chewing out from the FBI who stated they did not have the funds to investigate and prosecute; And

2. The Illinois Attorney General wrote a letter stating: “We do not investigate Criminal matters unless referred to us by the Illinois State Attorney. sic”..

3. The report had been filed with the Illinois State Attorney in Washington County, complete with evidence of a kidnapping, copies of the ‘intent to terminate Mr. Herman’ in Russell's own hand writing see:

<http://www.theantechamber.net/VkDocuments/Herman/index.htm#pnlwt>

and the photos which can be viewed at <http://www.theantechamber.net/VkDocuments/Herman/index.htm#rbi> .

4. The FBI and DoJ, US SECRET SERVICE were further provided with hard, irrefutable, undeniable evidence of Kidnapping, Torture and the ultimate DEATH of CIA OPERATIVE Russell Herman and FORGERY, COUNTERFEITING OF U.S. DEBT INSTRUMENTS in violation U.S. CRIMINAL CODES of 18 U.S.C. Stat. 471 and RICO STATUTES . This was denied Investigation because their only area of jurisdiction was “to protect the president of the United States.”

All things being equal.. Russell Herman's MURDER has been stone-walled and the following site is sufficient to describe why no one investigated CRIMINAL ACTIVITY during those years because there was an OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE ordered by DoJ Jamie Gorelick from 1995 the year mentioned by Marcus D. Veazey, Section Chief, Office of Congressional Affairs which can be read at <http://www.theantechamber.net/UsHistDoc/Gorelick/GmPsIndex.htm> .

Not only did this “DO NOT INVESTIGATE” memorandum effect all subsequent investigations involved in Russell Herman's Kidnapping and ultimate Death.; It also effected requests for investigation into the "Muslim" Counterfeiting Operation in the Philippines which funds the MILF, Al Qaeda, All Kada using as their "COLLATERAL BASE" instruments alleged to be signed by Russell Herman August 5, 1993, whereas he allegedly assigned his interest in a DEED NO. 189934 filed August 1, 1994 and Instrument 7309 Certified by Peru, August 21, 1989..which will tie back in to;

TOM FLOCCO'S article: 2nd MEMO TO CHENEY AFTER 9-11: The 'family' wants their boxes" which CONGRESS APPEARS TO BE CONSISTENT IN IGNORING CRIMINAL ACTIVITY see:

<http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/2ndMemoToCheney.htm>

and the FINANCIAL Venture that cost 3,000 innocent American Lives in the WTC incidents see:

<http://www.tomflocco.com/fs/FinancialTerrorism.htm> and untold amounts of innocent lives hunting for ONSAMA BIN LADEN while CHENEY knew he was being Financially Covered by COUNTERFEIT US DEBT INSTRUMENTS alleged to be owned by Russell Herman...being laundered out by THE MUSLIM LADY and this can be read at <http://www.tomflocco.com/fsimage/RcObI/OsamaBinLadenRichardCheney.gif> .. Oh yes... The GERMAN CONNECTION was published in the Contact back several years ago..

U.S. House Members are openly stating CONGRESSMEN & SENATORS ARE ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE from their Congressional Duties involving these and other matters!?

CI-LTD CONTRA ACCOUNT HOLDER, RUSSELL HERMAN was MURDERED and it is covered up at the highest levels of the fed govt.

Too many suspicious deaths of the CONTRA(S) CIA OPERATIVES. Better take a good look at EXECUTIVE REVIEW article http://larouchepub.com/other/2005/3244cheney_olson_case.html .

There are 17 pages most worthy of copying off and studying... along with PUBLIC NOTICE at http://www.theantechamber.net/V_K_Durham/VkPublicNotice.html ..

And....DO NOT INVESTIGATE has come down "from the top" as recently as 2003-04 requests to U.S. Congressman Steve King, Storm Lake Iowa Offices.

This OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE and LACK OF CONGRESSIONAL "DUTY OF OATH OF OFFICE" has cost this Nation her International Good Standing and Credibility.

It is time it stopped. It is also time the FBI did their JOBS and quit protecting COUNTERFEITERS, KIDNAPPERS & MURDERS .

As BUSH MELTDOWN continues.. One must ask:

"Did the BOYS IN THE BASEMENT AT "LANGELY" finally look at THE PHOTOS and what happened to HERMAN- HERRMAN one of their own (previously posted) and decide ENOUGH IS ENOUGH, and now its time for BELATED JUSTICE or a coup d'etat?" Read:

http://www.onlinejournal.com/artman/publish/article_154.shtml .

(I most certainly hope Patrick Fitzgerald reads this)

Is Tom Flocco Guilty of 'Yellow Journalism'?

11/2/05—#2 (19-78)

Wed., November 2, 2005 7:32 A.M. YR 19, DAY 78
Manila, Philippines

RE: KEEPING THE VKD FILE SOMEWHAT CURRENT—EJE

APOLOGIES TO CONTACT SUBSCRIBERS

With all of the important information you need about "the war on terror", the bird flu, inoculations, earth changes, etc., we are extremely reluctant to use space in CONTACT to confront the inane drivel of Vina Katherine (VK) Durham. This is where it must be confronted, however, so we will effort to make it as brief and painless as possible.

YELLOW JOURNALISM

One of the attributes of Yellow Journalism is the failure to present both sides of an argument. We (Doris and EJ Ekker) are not knowledgeable about Tom Flocco or even whether or not he claims to be a journalist. He has recently been predicting and publicizing, via the Internet, the Grand Jury indictments of George W. Bush, Dick Cheney, Karl Rove and Scooter Libby (to name only a few). Last week federal prosecutor Patrick Fitzgerald announced the indictment of Libby with no mention of the others. Will there be more indictments? Or has Mr. Flocco been grandstanding?

In his 10-page post of September 4, 2005 titled "Why Bush Sr. chose 9-11-01 as hit date: no payback on bond billions for terrorism fund" Flocco has certainly been grandstanding, using the mis- disinformation provided to him by VK. [The post may be found at: <portland.indymedia.org/en/2005/09/324172.shtml>.] Just his title shows his ignorance, and his lack of due diligence. The so-called "Brady Bonds" are U.S. Treasury bonds and will be paid (or extended at the option of the holder) by the U.S. Treasury at their maturity date—no ifs, ands, or buts—without regard as to where their "records" are. VK trumpets that, with the destruction of the brokerage firm Cantor-Fitzgerald in the north tower of the World Trade Center, the bonds have vanished, along with their $240 billion obligation of the U.S. government, which has somehow all inured to the Bush family. Mr. Flocco has discredited himself in just his first paragraph so there is no need for us to spend more time and space on VK's musings as posted under his byline.

We will note for the "statute of limitations" record that VK has again proclaimed her holding of records and property belonging to Cosmos Seafood Energy Marketing, Ltd.

Who was Russell Herman? He told us he was a retired officer of the CIA. He and Cecelia Xalis set up CSEML into which they transferred the ownership of the Peruvian Bearer Bond (Gold Certificate for $1,000) 3392-181. Those are matters of public record, as is the acknowledgement of the reconfirmation and re-issuance of the debt to CSEML by the Peruvian Consulate in Los Angeles. On a personal level, Russell Herman presented to us as very alert, intelligent, serious and careful of what he said. He did not "brag" and he did not seem to "exaggerate"; his credibility increased with interchange. He had a job to do and things to "attend" and very intelligently and with professional business persona told us what to do and what would probably happen and how to be prepared.

While VK continues to "improve" on her old stories, and invent new ones, she has been modestly consistent in blaming Bush & Co. for Russell Herman's death. At page 4 of her Flocco article she says, "...and on Friday, August 26 he said that George Bush Sr., Alan Greenspan and Oliver North came to see him in his hospital room at that VA" (hospital) (3 days before his death August 29, 1994). She claims they wanted Russell to "sign off on Iran and Latin America contra accounts" (to Flocco—it used to be "sign off on the Bond" but she changed that when she began to claim ownership of 3392, thus making it silly to claim they wanted Russell to sign off on it). Additionally, she finally realized that Bush had known for a long time that 3392 was the property of CSEML since he had tried to get Frankie Sue del Pappa, then Secretary of State in Nevada, to transfer the corporation to him—a fact reported to us by both Russell Herman and Cecelia Xalis. Bush was smart enough to know that Russell couldn't just "sign off" a corporate asset so blaming Russell's death on Bush comes up hollow. As we look at the history and the situation, it appears that the only intended beneficiary of Russell's death was VK Durham, which seems to be confirmed by her desperate attempts to forge documents proving herself married to him, or creating fictitious documents purporting to transfer ownership of 3392 from CSEML to herself, or (lately) purporting to have transferred a portion of 3392 to CSEML and then taking it back in 1992.

We do have to thank her, however, for keeping the statute of limitations alive, and for never (publicly yet) disparaging Russell Herman. Many adventurous men (and women such as Valerie Plame) get caught up in the adventure and challenges of clandestine work only to awake later on in life and realize that what they have been doing was wrong. Doris and I are genuinely sorry that Russell had to die before he could make the reparations that he had so carefully planned and we will keep working to make his dreams, and yours and ours, come true. RE: I CANNOT KEEP UP TIMELY, HAVE
GUILTY REGRETS FOR ALWAYS BEING “BEHIND”—DJE

Every birthday that passes shows me that I can't keep up for one excuse or another and with some of them a bit better than another—but as unreasonable in any event.

Yes, Mark, thank you for the new colloids. We shall save them for Pandemic overload and yet to mention that we are impressed with your bottling capability now. I hope that you will share some of this with friends who probably have not yet found ability to gain access. I think you and Pablo are the only ones left who can actually make OxySol and yet that carbon is so important. I suppose we are most fortunate to have made it this far through the brambles and tar-babies.

Ah, would we do it again? In retrospect, of course, but in practical life realization of limitations, perhaps not if we had to start from that interestingly elusive “start line”. I often wonder how much we have learned from those past experiences that serve us so well today.

Perhaps when Google gets everything plastered on their library and the other 200 Journals get printed we can reconsider our position in the information circles.

I can say that I am so weary of viruses that aren't and conspiracies that maybe are or are not that even an earthquake can bring some nudge of attention.

The world has grown so similar that “primitive” man is hard to tell from sophisticated man. Moreover, I wonder how many actual HU-mans there are roaming around on the anthills. God says: “Enough”, so I guess so too.

I own up that I don't have the vaguest idea what to do about other things and being unable to outrun VKD I am not going to “go there and do that”. I'll have to leave it with a thank you and also appreciation for the forwarding of “documents” as they pass your eyes for consideration.

We do have an agreement with those of the Russian information flow but it helps for us to be on top of the information as fish-frying here is a full-time job.

There is no way to express fully enough the appreciation to the rest of you that I hate to name because of nasty-finger disease of publication keyboards and most especially out of Iowa. We enjoy it, however, because it has certainly given us ability to clear up everything that can be misinterpreted regarding our program and responsibilities.

Two-X, however, did make a small freezer available for us to help attend some kind of protection in health measures and also allow us to keep our jaunts outside the confines of security to a minimum.

As we go about we take the opportunity to take our shopping cart pull-along and gradually stock up on necessities allowing for “hunker-down” capability. Extra goes into our treasure-trove of things from toilet paper to baby-wipes which I, of course, drain, dry and soak with colloids. I also carry a supply to everywhere we go—just a zipper bag with a few wet ones and yet still feel contaminated just from the air flow.

Valerie, thank YOU for the weekly reports and words of encouragement along with the lovely personal lotions, etc., you have sent along the way to remind me that there is indeed some kind of life before this jaunt to Paradise gone.

Some of the more recent things sent along by Ellen are indeed a relief to find that they were not lost except in our space. It doesn't matter today but undoubtedly, as with VKD, it will be priceless to have one day and that probably sooner than we would enjoy. I am reminded of events which were painful and hurtful, and actually caused those we love unending pain and worse hurt—but that too is passing and it is interesting as to how things get sorted and especially when we all stay the course, hold to the truth and just keep right on marching. Life changes for everyone but it appears that our own becomes far less stressful as we can now follow the trail and watch as many things have come full cycle and our stand PROVEN—from our own guidance in the face of many discounting and blasting us as well as calling the guides very nasty names. It is difficult to take blows at any given moment but healing does come and it comes wonderfully well when the proof of our position takes center stage and can totally stand alone in the glaring light of day, sun and spotlights.

To Lester K. in New Zealand, we send our love and again spent an hour in the 2006 calendars, drooling over the beauty and what appears to be “escape” to a “real” Paradise. That is true to all outsiders but is not true for those who live daily the unending clamp-down of the Global Order eating away at all of us everywhere.

It was interesting while speaking of New Zealand to note that EJ sent a SMS [for those unfamiliar with the technology, this means a text message, usually tapped out on the keypad of a cellular telephone equipped for this purpose] to “Gracie” down South in Mindanao only to have her instantly reply FROM NEW ZEALAND. I just don't think I'm in the same ballpark any longer.

We have spent several too many holidays in these Philippines and this year, without question, is the most difficult for the pain and unrest are etched on the poor faces of all we encounter and our wish would be just to call it all off this year and work harder toward a better next one. That too shall pass as it always does but this year seems more unkind than those of previous years.

One more year without family is my biggest hurdle but that too passes as we sit a moment to consider the good things and the blessings having come our way. I can only remind you who can to cling a bit to those family members. I understand Mark is sort of planning to go to his brother's area? Probably already gone and settled. Email doesn't give any information as to location which is always interesting at the end of a day. However, family and friends are all we have left after the dust settles a bit. I believe Valerie said something about maybe Colorado? Memory is always the next to go. Well, there are some really special people in Colorado so good company is next best to family.

We watch and it appears nothing is going too well for “our side” and then out of the blue comes an article in the paper this morning that reminds us to keep right on moving for we shall be heard. Just when VK announces that we are “screwed” we find that we are NOT and confusion settles for a few minutes on the shroud covering this place before it is flapped off again.

We have meetings as well, tomorrow, with people seeking help with the reclamation of the old Gilarmi. Again, out of the blue, when least expected and everyone on staff is waiting to be closed out by Dec. 31st. we are asked for meetings and consideration. I don't know what will be the outcome but certainly “interest” is running at flood-stage. It would be nice to be able to do something with that prime spot and since it is on Fdn. land along with the lot next door, we hope that smiles will outweigh frowns in the unfolding. I certainly don't want to do or say anything to damage this potential so will not comment further. Please, just know that we keep busy but prudent.

Experiences as well as people come and go so that sometimes all we have is a memory or two to find in our memory-basket. However, as time fills in the pieces of the picture to be finished, much becomes explained as to our journey and yea, even to our own purpose along the way.

I guess I have a story to which everyone can relate as your houses are now overfilled with files, records and other things you can't toss away. Our space reached incredible over-stuff but at the same time a small little storage cage opened up in the lower basement parking area so for a very small fee we captured it and of course need three more—BUT

Funny thing is that I am so glad we SAVED all those UPS boxes that fold neatly and have been coming over for seven-plus years. This now means that, along with the bubble wrap saved as well, we can throw out all other boxes except major computer boxes and still have enough to do everything we would ever now need to do to shift if mandatory to life or limb. One problem, however, is that they all look EXACTLY alike so everything will be GONE forever into the black hole of the lower underground. Ah indeed, just like HOME as I remember it, from attic to dungeon. Except, there is not a pretty decoration among the lot here and how much I remember enjoying our gatherings. Now it is that many are gone on before us across the greater divide and we could start a catering service with that which remains buried but untouched. Christmas party? I can't even remember just what that was actually like. I suppose the bottom-line here is that life is not just for parties and lying to oneself that all things are good just because God is in HIS Heaven and we simply have to chant our mantras.

I recognize that as people want to know endings—there are none. There are a few conclusions along the way as a curtain falls on one act but rises on yet another in this play and for that we are grateful. Even with SARS and BIRD FLU they can't or won't kill us all. Ultimately, however, perhaps the killers will kill themselves? Or, is that too much for which to hope? I'm not sure I want any of them to "move on" in their treachery for they will just turn about and return to bring more mischief by the circulation route still open in endless loops of expression of which we have only dim memories of possibilities. Some days it is truly difficult to recall my own name for sure and less after VKD sends forth a few bullets.

Please be aware that the old "duck and hide" methods of protection are being cast out and the "triangle of life" save-lives methods are coming in. Good show for ducking and hiding doesn't work too well for much of anything.

Every day brings a new "Who ever would have thought that —". Things seem almost reasonable at the time they happen but looking back it is a bit overwhelming and the future doesn't look nearly so daunting and impossible. Moreover, in this time of difficult disasters it is truly much to complain about anything when so many are without so much.

Don't we wonder if a lot of it is simply that today as with instant New Zealand when you think of Cotabato, Mindanao if part of the shock and awe is that today we know the insidious behaviors in less than a minute? Bush is having a bad time in South America? Well, he is having a hard time here in Paradise as well.

The Americans sent their monthly forces over for joint-training and indeed it is still a world of give the boys a condom and tell them to behave—but they, of course, just behave but not appreciably well.

So, we have to now live with "gang" rape with six of our servicemen under basic house arrest at the Embassy. They were on shore leave R&R (Rest and Rape), drink and "do Mary". It is ugly and we are embarrassed. BUT, it is strangely interesting that the point of charging the guys boils down to an attempt at extortion while the "lady" had seven drinks in a row and went quite willingly with the "party". Only one "boy" seems to be actually involved although the others were certainly present though unaccountable. It is interesting to note as with almost all things that the truth fails to even resemble the breaking news! All the boys were always longing for a tour in the Philippines but I suppose that desire will be somewhat lessened in the view of factual "changes". Worse yet the bad news of misbehavior reaches home to Mom in less than a minute. Yes, we sometimes long for those "good old days" where "what you don't know can't hurt you". Now days everything, known or unknown, eats your lunch right after you pay for it.

I laughed last night at TV when they were talking about retrofitting the Golden Gate Bridge to withstand an 8.5 quake when the one expected is in the 10 point category—any minute now. Oh well. Perhaps one man in New Orleans summed it up for all of us as he looked over everything GONE and said he more than ever now wishes he had drowned too. Have we all reached that state of overload to some extent? And by the way, what ever happened to New Orleans?

OK, enough already so, may the Good Lord bless and keep you until those Happy Trails rise up to meet you while the wind is at your back—or something like that. This from the land of confusion where it is acknowledged that 35% of all the people are homosexual, 60% are otherwise undecided while the other 25% are waiting for a foreigner to ship them out. No wonder we are so confused! Doesn't add up? Oh well.

The New Jerusalem

Part 10: More Power Lists

Pressed for space in this issue, we'll just jump right in and resume quoting from Michael Collins Piper's The New Jerusalem: Zionist Power in America. [QUOTING:]

'SECRETIVE' CLUB OF JEWISH BILLIONAIRES

In May 1998, the Wall Street Journal reported on "a secretive and loosely organized club of twenty of the wealthiest and most influential Jewish businessmen in America", called the "Mega Group" or "Study Group". Leslie Wexner, the chairman of The Limited, and Charles Bronfman, the co-chairman of Seagram Co., founded the group in 1991. Meeting twice a year for two days, members attend a series of seminars related to philanthropy and Jews. Faced with the aging of the immigrant generation, the blurring memory of the Holocaust, and the high rate of intermarriage, the group tries to keep both the philanthropic momentum and the Jewish identity going. This community of the very wealthy enables its members to seek partnerships for their individual causes and learn from one another about their successes and challenges. Networking sessions exist in other faiths, but there are few from the highest ranks of businesses such as this one. Mega Group members keep a low profile because they do not want to be in competition with established Jewish institutions. They take on special projects that they think can make a difference, such as supporting Jewish day schools or programs like the "Birthright Project", which sends to Israel any young Jew born on this planet who wants to go. [Members] include Steven Spielberg of Dreamworks; Laurence Tisch, chairman of Lowes Corp.; bagel tycoon Marvin Lender; Leonard Abramson, founder of U.S. Healthcare; and Lester Crown, investor and part owner of the Chicago Bulls.

'TWICE THE SELF-EMPLOYMENT RATE'

In general, American Jews have nearly twice the self-employment rate of other ethnic groups in the U.S., a ratio similar to that in Great Britain and Europe. Only 4 percent of Laotian and Puerto Rican immigrants are entrepreneurs. At the top are Korean and Israeli immigrants, with rates approaching 30 percent. This entrepreneurial drive is crucial to Jewish success, as 80 percent of millionaires in the U.S. are self-made and did not inherit their wealth.

THE JEWS OF WALL STREET

A short list of other well-known Jewish Wall Street movers and shakers includes:

- George Soros: global currency, commodities and equity investor;
- Carl Icahn: investor and takeover speculator; owns TWA, USX, Continental Airlines, RJR Nabisco;
- Laurence Tisch: investor and takeover speculator; owns Loews theaters and hotels, CBS [Note: now deceased];
- Barry Diller: chairman of USA networks, owner of the Home Shopping Network and Ticketmaster;
- Michael Bloomberg: founder and owner of Bloomberg LP financial news service [Note: now mayor of New York];
- Ron Perelman: takeover specialist; owns Revlon, MacAndrew & Forbes and other companies;
- Sanford Weill: co-chairman of Citigroup, owner of Salomon, Smith Barney and Travelers Group;
- Abbey Cohen: widely followed investment strategist,

Goldman Sachs Group;

- Alan Greenspan: chairman of the Federal Reserve, determines U.S. interest rates;
- Alan "Ace" Greenberg: chairman of Bear Stearns;
- Stephen Schwarzman: founded Blackstone Group, investment banking firm;
- Harvey Golub: chairman of American Express;
- Saul Steinberg: chairman of Reliance Corporation, investor;
- Asher Edelman: influential financial columnist for Barron's;
- Louis Rukeyser: witty host of "Wall Street Week" on PBS.

'MASTERS' OF THE INTERNET?

A Forbes article about the Internet in July 1998 titled "Masters of the New Universe" pointed out that there were thirteen corporate leaders of the Internet boom. Research revealed that four (30 percent) are Jewish.

JEWISH SOB SISTERS

A prime example of Jewish straight talk is Dr. Ruth Westheimer, nee Karola Ruth Siegel . . . Is Dr. Ruth alone as a leading Jewish purveyor of [sexual and sob-sister advice] to America? Hardly. Dr. Joyce Brothers and Dr. Laura Schlessinger on the airwaves and Ann Landers (Esther Pauline Friedman Lederer) and her twin sister Abigail "Dear Abby" Van Buren (Pauline Esther Friedman Phillips) in print, all have made their living doing the same thing.

'A VAST RIPPLE EFFECT'

Jews were the creators of Hollywood and the large studios that defined it. The Jewish involvement in motion pictures is more than a success story; it is the basis of the disproportionate influence that Jews have had in shaping American popular culture. And it does not end with movies, since the film industry, in effect, gave birth to the television industry.

The day of the big studios has passed, but the Jewish influence on Hollywood remains. Dreamworks owners Steven Spielberg, David Geffen and Jeffrey Katzenberg together have a $5 billion nest-egg to back them. Sumner Redstone, who owns Paramount Pictures through his Viacom, once owned a large percentage of Columbia Pictures and Twentieth Century Fox. Michael Eisner leads the Disney studio, which in Walt's day, ironically, excluded Jews. Edgar Bronfman's Seagram owns Universal Studios. Michael Ovitz manages celebrity careers. ...

In addition to the corporate chieftains, a huge number of Jewish people participate in the entertainment industry. It has not been part of a grand scheme, but when an ethnic group becomes as heavily involved, and as successful, in a particular industry as Jewish people have been in movies, the group's influence, connections and power produce a vast ripple effect, and other Jewish actors, writers, editors, technicians, directors and producers follow in their footsteps. ...

JEWS AND THE NEWS: 'A CLOSE-KNIT COMMUNITY'

The Jewish influence is just as pronounced in television as it is in the movies. On the TV news desk, Jews have been very visible in front of the camera. As journalists, their personal religious and cultural beliefs are not made an issue in their reporting, but their power is significant because they influence how we as Americans view the world and shape our opinions. ... Even more influential than reporters are the television news producers, since they decide which stories will go on air, in which order and how long they will run. A disproportionate number of these are Jewish as well. ...

At one point in the 1980s, the executive producers of all three evening news shows were Jewish. Furthermore, as Jewish Power [by J. J. Goldberg, cited elsewhere] points out, while Jews make up "5% of the working press nationwide—hardly more than their share of the population—they make up one-fourth of the writers, editors and producers in America's 'elite media', including network news divisions, the top newsmagazines and the four leading papers."

The remarkably high percentage of Jewish people in television has lasted for generations, perhaps because it is a relatively small and close-knit community. In a poll of TV's creative leaders, 59 percent said they were raised in the Jewish faith, while 38 percent still identified themselves as Jews.

TWO HOMES, MUCH-TRAVELED, DINE OUT

A 1993 survey of subscribers of The Exponent, the Philadelphia weekly Jewish newspaper, gave a clear picture of Jewish wealth and also of Jewish spending. Such surveys are decidedly unscientific, but the results show that Jews are [fiscally] conservative, yet they spend for things that they value:

- 26.1 percent owned a second home;
- 34.7 percent had traveled outside the United States in the past twelve months;
- 49.2 percent had dined out ten or more times in the last thirty days;
- 21 percent belonged to a health club.

THE PEOPLE WHO CAN AFFORD TO BUY BOOKS

Jews are the cornerstone of hardcover book sales, "accounting for between 50 and 75 percent of non-institutional hardcover sales in the United States." Even 25 percent would represent an amazingly disproportionate share of total sales. Hardbacks are the more expensive editions that precede the cheaper paperbacks and provide publishers with their greatest margins. Jewish-American buyers, then, are extremely important to the publishing industry.

HARDCOVER BOOK PURCHASES

	National Average	Jewish Readers
Bought a book in past 12 months	19%	70%
1-5 books	13%	39%

JEWISH NAMES IN THE FORBES 400

It would be impossible to mention all of the successful Jewish business-people in America today. One of the clear benchmarks of success, however, is being listed in the Forbes 400. To make the list in October 1999 required a net worth of at least $625 million. Jewish individuals accounted for 23 percent of the entire group, 36 percent of the top fifty and 24 percent of the billionaires—eleven, eighteen and twelve times their relative percentage of the U.S. population at large. And these percentages in the Forbes 400 have been consistent over time, although the players change from year to year; studies of the lists from 1982, 1983 and 1984 conducted by others reveal similar figures.

2004 LIST OF THE JEWS OF THE FORBES 400

What follows is a list of those Jewish Americans appearing on the Forbes 400 list of the wealthiest Americans for the year 2004, although the list may not be complete for as Jewish-American writer Steven Silbiger has pointed out⁸⁵ (in reference to previous such lists) that there have been perhaps as many as fifteen others who might also be included, but who keep their Jewish antecedents private.

(At the end of the primary list is a smaller list of persons whose names appear on the Forbes 400 list for 2004 but whose ethnic antecedents are unknown or unclear, but probably Jewish.) This list that follows is probably the most comprehensive, up-to-date summary of the top Jewish billionaires and mega-millionaires in America today, although there are many substantial Jewish fortunes that did not make the "top 400" (but which have been on the list before). Note, though, that numerous heirs to the Mars Candy fortune and the Pritzker hotel empire have, for example, divided multi-billions of dollars among themselves, making them among the wealthiest family groupings on the face of the planet.

The number following the individual's name is his position on the Forbes 400 list (although note that several people can occupy that particular position), meaning that there are often actually more than 400 names on the Forbes list.

- Michael Dell (9), Dell Computer, $14.2 billion

AMERICA: THE 'GREATEST' TRIUMPH . . .

In America the triumph is greatest of all. At little more than 2.5 per cent of the American population, Jews enjoy astonishingly disproportionate success in all the fields where they have been allowed to exert themselves . . . The 100th anniversary of [Theodore Herzl's book] The Jewish State finds a Jewish State; but it also finds two Jews [Mickey Kantor and Sir Leon Brittan] representing the great trading blocs, United States and European Union, in trade negotiations; and two others as Home Secretary [Michael Howard] and Foreign Secretary [Malcolm Rifkind] of the country [England] where Inglis had once said that the Jews must ever remain a separate nation and whence Carlyle had hoped to see them driven to Palestine.

WESTERN CULTURE: 'PERMEATED BY JEWISHNESS'

Just as the Jews of the West may be facing steep or even terminal demographic decline, the Verjudung of which their foes once complained has come true:

western culture is permeated by Jewishness.

To the extent that it has not been black, American popular culture in the twentieth century has been Jewish, from Hollywood to Broadway, from show songs to mordant humour.

And so we come to the end of our study of Jewish and pro-Zionist sources and their commentary—many facts and figures beyond dispute—regarding Zionist power in America.

Is it necessary to go any further? Have we not assembled quite an overview here that demonstrates the point all too clearly? Can there be any doubt that those who have stated that Jewish power in America is immense have not been lying, that they have not been guilty of “promoting ancient anti-Semitic myths and canards”, as the media often tells us?

If anything, the Jewish people have much to be proud of, and in their own publications they feel quite free to proclaim their special status in the United States. The facts presented in The New Jerusalem are very much an affirmation of that special status.

Former Vaccine Researcher Speaks Out

The following interview has been heavily redacted in accordance with Fair Use provisions. Readers with Internet access can read the article in its entirety at the author's website.

Early in the interview Jon Rappaport establishes that his guest helped develop a few vaccines but would not disclose which ones from fear of losing his pension. We jump into the dialogue a little further along.

[QUOTING, emphasis added:]

JON RAPPOPORT INTERVIEW OF EX VACCINE RESEARCHER

<NoMoreFakeNews.com>, October 2005

Q: Do you believe that people should be allowed to choose whether they should get vaccines?

A: On a political level, yes. On a scientific level, people need information, so that they can choose well. It's one thing to say choice is good. But if the atmosphere is full of lies, how can you choose? Also, if the FDA were run by honorable people, these vaccines would not be granted licenses. They would be investigated to within an inch of their lives.

Q: There are medical historians who state that the overall decline of illnesses was not due to vaccines.

A: I know. For a long time, I ignored their work. . . . Because I was afraid of what I would find out. I was in the business of developing vaccines. My livelihood depended on continuing that work.

Q: And then?

A: I did my own investigation.

Q: What conclusions did you come to?

A: The decline of disease is due to improved living conditions.

Q: What conditions?

A: Cleaner water. Advanced sewage systems. Nutrition. Fresher food. A decrease in poverty. Germs may be everywhere, but when you are healthy, you don't contract the diseases as easily.

Q: What did you feel when you completed your own investigation?

A: Despair. I realized I was working a sector based on a collection of lies.

Q: Are some vaccines more dangerous than others?

A: Yes. The DPT shot, for example. The MMR. But some lots of a vaccine are more dangerous than other lots of the same vaccine. As far as I'm concerned, all vaccines are dangerous.

Q: Why?

A: Several reasons. They involve the human immune system in a process that tends to compromise immunity. They can actually cause the disease they are supposed to prevent. They can cause other diseases than the ones they are supposed to prevent.

Q: Why are we quoted statistics which seem to prove that vaccines have been tremendously successful at wiping out diseases?

A: Why? To give the illusion that these vaccines are useful. If a vaccine suppresses visible symptoms of a disease like measles, everyone assumes that the vaccine is a success. But, under the surface, the vaccine can harm the immune system itself. And if it causes other diseases—say, meningitis—that fact is masked, because no one believes that the vaccine can do that. The connection is overlooked.

Q: It is said that the smallpox vaccine wiped out smallpox in England.

A: Yes. But when you study the available statistics, you get another picture.

Q: Which is?

A: There were cities in England where people who were not vaccinated did not get smallpox. There were places where people who were vaccinated experienced smallpox epidemics. And smallpox was already on the decline before the vaccine was introduced.

Q: So you're saying that we have been treated to a false history.

A: Yes. That's exactly what I'm saying. This is a history that has been cooked up to convince people that vaccines are invariably safe and effective.

Q: Now, you worked in labs. Where purity was an issue.

A: The public believes that these labs, these manufacturing facilities are the cleanest places in the world. That is not true. Contamination occurs all the time. You get all sorts of debris introduced into vaccines.

Q: For example, the SV40 monkey virus slips into the polio vaccine.

A: Well yes, that happened. But that's not what I mean. The SV40 got into the polio vaccine because the vaccine was made by using monkey kidneys. But I'm talking about something else. The actual lab conditions. The mistakes. The careless errors. SV40, which was later found in cancer tumors—that was what I would call a structural problem. It was an accepted part of the manufacturing process. If you use monkey kidneys, you open the door to germs which you don't know are in those kidneys.

Q: Okay, but let's ignore that distinction between different types of contaminants for a moment. What contaminants did you find in your many years of work with vaccines?

A: All right. I'll give you some of what I came across, and I'll also give you what colleagues of mine found. Here's a partial list. In the Rimavex measles vaccine, we found various chicken viruses. In polio vaccine, we found acanthamoeba, which is a so-called “brain-eating” amoeba. Simian cytomegalovirus in polio vaccine. Simian foamy virus in the rotavirus vaccine. Bird-cancer viruses in the MMR vaccine. Various micro-organisms in the anthrax vaccine. I've found potentially dangerous enzyme inhibitors in several vaccines. Duck, dog, and rabbit viruses in the rubella vaccine. Avian leucosis virus in the flu vaccine. Pestivirus in the MMR vaccine.

Q: Let me get this straight. These are all contaminants which don't belong in the vaccines.

A: That's right. And if you try to calculate what damage these contaminants can cause, well, we don't really know, because no testing has been done, or very little testing. It's a game of roulette. You take your chances. Also, most people don't know that some polio vaccines, adenovirus vaccines, rubella and hep A and measles vaccines have been made with aborted human fetal tissue. I have found what I believed were bacterial fragments and poliovirus in these vaccines from time to time—which may have come from that fetal tissue. When you look for contaminants in vaccines, you can come up with material that IS puzzling. You know it shouldn't be there, but you don't know exactly what you've got. I have found what I believed was a very small "fragment" of human hair and also human mucus. I have found what can only be called "foreign protein", which could mean almost anything. It could mean protein from viruses.

Q: Alarm bells are ringing all over the place.

A: How do you think I felt? Remember, this material is going into the bloodstream without passing through some of the ordinary immune defenses.

Q: How were your findings received?

A: Basically, it was, don't worry, this can't be helped. In making vaccines, you use various animals' tissue, and that's where this kind of contamination enters in. Of course, I'm not even mentioning the standard chemicals like formaldehyde, mercury and aluminum which are purposely put into vaccines.

Q: This information is pretty staggering.

A: Yes. And I'm just mentioning some of the biological contaminants. Who knows how many others there are? Others we don't find because we don't think to look for them. If tissue from, say, a bird is used to make a vaccine, how many possible germs can be in that tissue? We have no idea. We have no idea what they might be, or what effects they could have on humans.

Q: And beyond the purity issue?

A: You are dealing with the basic faulty premise about vaccines. That they intricately stimulate the immune system to create the conditions for immunity from disease. That is the bad premise. It doesn't work that way. A vaccine is supposed to "create" antibodies which, indirectly, offer protection against disease. However, the immune system is much larger and more involved than antibodies and their related "killer cells".

Q: The immune system is?

A: The entire body, really. Plus the mind. It's all immune system, you might say. That is why you can have, in the middle of an epidemic, those individuals who remain healthy.

Q: So the level of general health is important.

A: More than important. Vital.

Q: How are vaccine statistics falsely presented?

A: There are many ways. For example, suppose that 25 people who have received the hepatitis B vaccine come down with hepatitis. Well, hep B is a liver disease. But you can call liver disease many things. You can change the diagnosis. Then, you've concealed the root cause of the problem.

Q: And that happens?

A: All the time. It HAS to happen, if the doctors automatically assume that people who get vaccines DO NOT come down with the diseases they are now supposed to be protected from. And that is exactly what doctors assume. You see, it's circular reasoning. It's a closed system. It admits no fault. No possible fault. If a person who gets a vaccine against hepatitis gets hepatitis, or gets some other disease, the automatic assumption is, this had nothing to do with the disease.

Q: In your years working in the vaccine establishment, how many doctors did you encounter who admitted that vaccines were a problem?

A: None. There were a few who privately questioned what they were doing. But they would never go public, even within their companies.

Q: What was the turning point for you?

A: I had a friend whose baby died after a DPT shot.

Q: Did you investigate?

A: Yes, informally. I found that this baby was completely healthy before the vaccination. There was no reason for his death, except the vaccine. That started my doubts. Of course, I wanted to believe that the baby had gotten a bad shot from a bad lot. But as I looked into this further, I found that was not the case in this instance. I was being drawn into a spiral of doubt that increased over time. I continued to investigate. I found that, contrary to what I thought, vaccines are not tested in a scientific way.

Q: What do you mean?

A: For example, no long-term studies are done on any vaccines. Long-term follow-up is not done in any careful way.

Why? Because, again, the assumption is made that vaccines do not cause problems. So why should anyone check? On top of that, a vaccine reaction is defined so that all bad reactions are said to occur very soon after the shot is given. But that does not make sense.

Q: Why doesn't it make sense?

A: Because the vaccine obviously acts in the body for a long period of time after it is given. A reaction can be gradual. Deterioration can be gradual. Neurological problems can develop over time. They do in various conditions, even according to a conventional analysis. So why couldn't that be the case with vaccines? If chemical poisoning can occur gradually, why couldn't that be the case with a vaccine which contains mercury?

Q: And that is what you found?

A: Yes. You are dealing with correlations, most of the time. Correlations are not perfect. But if you get 500 parents whose children have suffered neurological damage during a one-year period after having a vaccine, this should be sufficient to spark off an intense investigation.

Q: Has it been enough?

A: No. Never. This tells you something right away.

Q: Which is?

A: The people doing the investigation are not really interested in looking at the facts. They assume that the vaccines are safe. So, when they do investigate, they invariably come up with exonerations of the vaccines. They say, "This vaccine is safe." But what do they base those judgments on? They base them on definitions and ideas which automatically rule out a condemnation of the vaccine.

Q: There are numerous cases where a vaccine campaign has failed. Where people have come down with the disease against which they were vaccinated.

A: Yes, there are many such instances. And there the evidence is simply ignored. It's discounted. The experts say, if they say anything at all, that this is just an isolated situation, but overall the vaccine has been shown to be safe. But if you add up all the vaccine campaigns where damage and disease have occurred, you realize that these are NOT isolated situations.

Q: If vaccines actually do harm, why are they given?

A: First of all, there is no "if". They do harm. It becomes a more difficult question to decide whether they do harm in those people who seem to show no harm. Then you are dealing with the kind of research which should be done, but isn't. Researchers should be probing to discover a kind of map, or flow chart, which shows exactly what vaccines do in the body from the moment they enter. This research has not been done. As to why they are given, we could sit here for two days and discuss all the reasons. As you've said many times, at different layers of the system people have their motives. Money, fear of losing a job, the desire to win brownie points, prestige, awards, promotion, misguided idealism, unthinking habit, and so on. But, at the highest levels of the medical cartel, vaccines are a top priority because they cause a weakening of the immune system. I know that may be hard to accept, but it's true. The medical cartel, at the highest level, is not out to help people, it is out to harm them, to weaken them. To kill them. At one point in my career, I had a long conversation with a man who occupied a high government position in an African nation. He told me that he was well aware of this. He told me that WHO is a front for these depopulation interests. There is an underground, shall we say, in Africa, made up of various officials who are earnestly trying to change the lot of the poor. This network of people knows what is going on. They know that vaccines have been used, and are being used, to destroy their countries, to make them ripe for takeover by globalist powers. I have had the opportunity to speak with several of these people from this network. ...

Q: This network you speak of. . .

A: It has accumulated a huge amount of information about vaccines. The question is, how is a successful strategy going to be mounted? For these people, that is a difficult issue.

Q: And in the industrialized nations?

A: The medical cartel has a stranglehold, but it is diminishing. Mainly because people have the freedom to question medicines. However, if the choice issue [the right to take or reject any medicine] does not gather steam, these coming mandates about vaccines against bio-warfare germs are going to win out. This is an important time.

Q: The furor over the hepatitis B vaccine seems one good avenue.

A: I think so, yes. To say that babies must have the vaccine—and then in the next breath, admitting that a person gets hep B from sexual contacts and shared needles—is a ridiculous juxtaposition. Medical authorities try to cover themselves by saying that 20,000 or so children in the U.S. get hep B every year from "unknown causes" and that's why every baby must have the vaccine. I dispute that 20,000 figure and the so-called studies that back it up. ...

Q: Well, it is national security, once you understand the medical cartel.

A: It is global security. The cartel operates in every nation. It zealously guards the sanctity of vaccines. Questioning these vaccines is on the same level as a Vatican bishop questioning the sanctity of the sacrament of the Eucharist in the Catholic Church. ...

Q: Within the National Institutes of Health, what is the mood, what is the basic frame of mind?

A: People are competing for research monies. The last thing they think about is challenging the status quo. They are already in an intramural war for that money. They don't need more trouble. This is a very insulated system. ...

Q: What about the combined destructive power of a number of vaccines given to babies these days?

A: It is a travesty and a crime. There are no real studies of any depth which have been done on that. Again, the assumption is made that vaccines are safe and therefore any number of vaccines given together are safe as well. But the truth is, vaccines are not safe. Therefore the potential damage increases when you give many of them in a short time period. ...

Q: What is one thing you want the public to understand?

A: That the burden of proof in establishing the safety and efficacy of vaccines is on the people who manufacture and license them for public use. Just that. The burden of proof is not on you or me. And for proof you need well-designed long-term studies. You need extensive follow-up. You need to interview mothers and pay attention to what mothers say about their babies and what happens to them after vaccination. You need all these things. The things that are not there. ...

Q: To avoid any confusion, I'd like you to review, once more, the disease problems that vaccines can cause. Which diseases, how that happens.

A: We are basically talking about two potential harmful outcomes. One, the person gets the disease from the vaccine. He gets the disease which the vaccine is supposed to protect him from. Because, some version of the disease is in the vaccine to begin with. Or two, he doesn't get THAT disease, but at some later time, maybe right away, maybe not, he develops another condition which is caused by the vaccine. That condition could be autism, what's called autism, or it could be some other disease like meningitis. He could become mentally disabled. ...

Q: Looking back now, can you recall any good reason to say that vaccines are successful?

A: No, I can't. If I had a child now, the last thing I would allow is vaccination. I would move out of the state if I had to. I would change the family name. I would disappear. With my family. I'm not saying it would come to that. There are ways to sidestep the system with grace, if you know how to act. There are exemptions you can declare, in every state, based on religious and/or philosophic views. But if push came to shove, I would go on the move.

Q: And yet there are children everywhere who do get vaccines and appear to be healthy.

A: The operative word is "appear". What about all the children who can't focus on their studies? What about the children who have tantrums from time to time? What about the children who are not quite in possession of all their mental faculties? I know there are many causes for these things, but vaccines are one cause. I would not take the chance. I see no reason to take the chance. And frankly, I see no reason to allow the government to have the last word. Government medicine is, from my experience, often a contradiction in terms. You get one or the other, but not both.

Q: So we come to the level playing field.

A: Yes. Allow those who want the vaccines to take them. Allow the dissidents to decline to take them. But, as I said earlier, there is no level playing field if the field is strewn with lies. And when babies are involved, you have parents making all the decisions. Those parents need a heavy dose of truth. And only you can decide whether to do it. It is every person's responsibility to make up his mind. The medical cartel likes that bet. It is betting that the fear will win. ...

'MILF AGREEMENT' A 'CRUEL JOKE'

Monday, 11 07, 2005

Dear Editor:

(Deed of Assignment absolutely conveyed to Sultanate of Sulu on their Jamalul Kiram heirs, relative of Don Esteban Benitez Tallano, the whole lands of the Province of Sulu, Lanao, Cotabato, and Zamboanga in favor of the Filipino Muslim brothers and sisters to prevent escalation of hostilities in Mindanao, in compliance with the order of Philippine Commission headed by William Howard Taft. Date of the Document: June 10, 1903, Date of Inscription: June 19, 1903. (Sgd) William Howard Taft, Philippine Commission by: Public Land Authority. (Emphasis mine.)

For the benefit of readers, I will point out the annotation is the final act of land ownership transfer. It is a "summary" of the action; the details are contained in other documents, maps, etc. Thus neither this administration, nor any prior RP administration, has any right to garrison its troops or police, or to confiscate any part of that private land without the appropriate agreements having been drawn and signed and the appropriate compensation having been paid by RP.

The new so-called "MILF Agreement" quite properly requires "reparation for infringement".

For 102 years of repression and oppression, for dozens of acts of subjugation and the thousands of BangsaMoro people killed and maimed and their homes and businesses destroyed, for the deliberate withholding/diversion of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of development money supplied by foreign countries—how much money would RP owe the BangsaMoro people?

To think that this administration could make such payments is a cruel joke, a monumental deceit and a giant, stinking legacy for this administration to leave for the next administration to deal with. But by working with the Foundation (mandated by the Decision with Compromise Agreement as negotiated with the Macapagal administration in 1964, formalized by Judge Enrique Agana in 1972 and finally established in October 2003 to administer the "Peoples' 50 percent portion of the Royal Family Estate") the next administration can very easily honor all of such commitments while immediately stopping the collection of value-added tax, sin taxes, etc., and all individual income taxes for all Filipinos. In six months (not six years) there will be no poverty and/or hunger in the Philippines.

If this sounds far-fetched, I can assure you it is not. This nation is well known to contain huge wealth, wealth that is coveted by those referred to as "elite globalists" by Laurel and Lichauco. Who would know better the extent of the wealth of a former colony than the colonists?

The purpose of the Foundation is to free up that wealth and distribute it to the people where it properly belongs. It is the responsibility of the Foundation to disclose and maintain the truth, especially in the face of deceit and misrepresentation. By publishing this letter, you can contribute to the solutions of the problems exacerbated (but not necessarily created) by the machinations of the current administration, thus enhancing your service to our nation. I thank you.

The "Muslim threat" (which is simply NOT to any but the elite globalist Money Masters) is being used by Western powers in a myriad of ways to close the "iron fist in the velvet glove", all but eliminating personal freedoms.

[QUOTING, emphasis added:]

MUSLIM WARFARE GROWS ...

By Sorcha Faal, <WhatDoesItMean.com>, 11/7/05

Russian Military Analysts are reporting today a further escalation of the Western Nations' war against the Muslim peoples of the world with the introduction of what is classified in these reports as 'low-grade warfare' timed by [CIA/Mossad-backed and trained, so-called] Muslim Extremists to begin upon the ending of their most Holy of Days called Ramadan and attacking many Western, and Western-backed Nation, throughout the entire world.

[At this point, in addition to the highly-publicized rioting in France (supposedly initiated by Muslim youths), this article highlights very similar activities in the nation of Thailand, where "Muslim insurgency" has flared, "killing more than 1,100 people since January last year", according to the Asia News Service in their article titled "Thailand: martial law extended as insurgency rages on".

[Next, this article cites the Bangkok Post in an article titled "Indonesia sends troops where 3 girls were beheaded" to document similar problems in the world's largest Muslim nation. Continuing:]

... From the United Kingdom, and as reported by the Black Britain News Service in their article titled "Questions arise over who desecrated Muslim graves in Birmingham" and which says, "Two of Birmingham's most influential religious groups have condemned the desecration of dozens of Muslim headstones at a cemetery near the Lozells area of the city, which was the scene of riots two weeks ago, resulting in the death of a young black man."

[Citing the Canadian Free Press in an article titled "Denmark Moslem youth riots ignored while Paris is burning", Sorcha Faal excerpts: "Is there a connection between the Moslem-led youth riots in France, and the ones taking place at the same time in Denmark?" Continuing:]

The timing of this latest escalation into this 'low-grade warfare' by Muslims, particularly in the Western Nations, coincides with thousands of new laws ready to be enacted taking away the freedoms of these people, and as we can read as reported by the Taiwan News Service in their article titled "New security laws force Europeans to weigh a tradeoff" and which says:

From Stockholm to Rome, Paris to Istanbul, European governments are rushing to toughen anti-terror laws since the London subway attacks—in some cases using the deadly July 7 blasts to justify controversial measures that would give law enforcement far greater powers to battle extremists. But with al-Qaida leaders directly threatening Europe in taped messages—and after spectacular attacks in Turkey, Spain and Britain that have killed more than 300 people since November 2003—the public seems ready to accept at least some sort of crackdown.

Now comes a new crackdown across Europe. The British legislation would allow police to detain terror suspects for up to three months without charge, compared with the current 14 days; clear the way for deporting foreigners to countries with spotty records on human rights; and make it easier to jail people who publish or sell material deemed to incite terrorism.

"The U.K. has one of the toughest anti-terrorism packages in Europe. The French also have tough measures and the Italians have now pushed through legislation that gives authorities great powers," said Magnus Ranstorp, a terrorism expert at the Swedish National Defense College. "There is certainly a strong desire voiced publicly in Europe to not relinquish civil liberties in return for security, but these new measures are being pushed through quickly."

So desperate have these Western Nations been to destroy the freedoms of their people that the government of Australia has resorted to the American tactic of just simply lying to their citizens, and as we can read as reported by the Reuters News Service in their article titled "Australia government accused of security scare campaign" and which says:

Australia's government is playing politics with anti-terrorism laws by unveiling plans to deploy troops in the event of an attack just days after it warned of an undisclosed terrorist threat, opposition parties said on Monday. Howard's warning of a terrorist threat, of which he has refused to give details, and the law changes have overshadowed debate in parliament on labour reforms that are a centrepiece of Howard's fourth-term agenda but are unpopular with voters.

Defence Minister Robert Hill said on Sunday he wanted laws allowing the deployment of troops with shoot-to-kill powers to be passed before the Commonwealth Games was held in Australia's second-biggest city, Melbourne, in March. The move comes after the upper house Senate was urgently recalled on Thursday to pass amendments to make it easier for police to arrest suspects just a day after Howard revealed a possible terrorist threat had come to light. "It seems the government is unveiling these strategies one after the other to keep Australian citizens in a perpetual state of fear," Democrats Senator Natasha Stott Despoja told reporters.

The Western people themselves, and being of Darwinian mindsets where they are not able to see events, or the world, in anything other than separate pieces, Russian Social Scientists state that with this being so, peoples like this are able to be controlled through their fears, and be kept in this 'perpetual state of fear', even to the insanity of giving away their freedoms.

But to these new laws destroying their freedoms, the Western people don't realize, and this 'new world' of theirs is indeed a chilling one, and as we can see evidenced by these various reports:

From the United States as reported by the Los Angeles Times News Service in their article titled "Antiwar Sermon Brings IRS Warning" and which says:

The Internal Revenue Service has warned one of Southern California's largest and most liberal churches that it is at risk of losing its tax-exempt status because of an antiwar sermon two days before the 2004 presidential election.

Rector J. Edwin Bacon of All Saints Episcopal Church in Pasadena told many congregants during morning services Sunday that a guest sermon by the church's former rector, the Rev. George F. Regas, on Oct. 31, 2004, had prompted a letter from the IRS. In his sermon, Regas, who from the pulpit opposed both the Vietnam War and 1991's Gulf War, imagined Jesus participating in a political debate with then-candidates George W. Bush and John Kerry. Regas said that "good people of profound faith" could vote for either man, and did not tell parishioners whom to support.

But he criticized the war in Iraq, saying that Jesus would have told Bush, "Mr. President, your doctrine of preemptive war is a failed doctrine. Forcibly changing the regime of an enemy that posed no imminent threat has led to disaster."

[All churches are 501(C)3 (non-profit) corporations and have always foregone the right to political comment as the quid pro quo of being tax-exempt. Take a guess why CONTACT has no interest in tax-exempt status—or why the former (now apparently defunct) Spectrum newspaper and miscreants operated under such non-profit status.

[We will bypass an excerpt re poor Cherie Blair, wife of the British PM Tony Blair, who had the temerity to express support for the Palestinians, thus putting herself in a potentially criminal posture with regard to recent British "anti-terrorism" legislation. We will also redact a reference to new legislation in Australia which makes it "a crime for one parent to tell the other that their child had been detained under anti-terror laws". Continuing:]

From the silencing of Religious Leaders in the United States, to the prosecution of a person in England for terrorists sayings, regardless of intent, to forbidding by law one parent of a child being able to tell the other parent about their child, all of these, and more, provide yet more evidence that these Western peoples must be insane of mind.

For only insanity can describe the mental state of an entire Western World casting away the freedoms they have spent the better part of the last 300 years securing as their rights under God, and not from men. To forgetting the words of the United States founding father Benjamin Franklin they have also done, and who said, "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."

But not to listening to the words of wisdom passed down to them from those who sacrificed their lives and fortunes so that their future generations would live free do these Western people do anymore. But as the darkness of Fascist Totalitarian rule descends upon them, the words of Adolph Hitler should be ringing in their ears, and who said, "How fortunate for leaders that men do not think."

[QUOTING:]

BILDERBERG PROFITS FROM BIRD FLU

By Christopher Bollyn, American Free Press, 11/14/05

Fear mongering has become the hallmark of the administration of President George W. Bush and the corporate-controlled media that supports its agenda. The current hysteria about bird flu is being promoted by the same administration and controlled press, which blatantly used fabricated evidence to spread fear of Iraq's alleged weapons of mass destruction in order to launch a war of aggression against Iraq. ...

"Against all scientific prudence and normal public health procedure, the world population is being whipped up into a fear frenzy by irresponsible public health officials from the U.S. administration to the World Health Organization to the United States Centers for Disease Control," F. William Engdahl wrote in his recent article, "Is Avian Flu Another Pentagon Hoax?" "Pandemics happen," said Mike Leavitt, the secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services. "They happened before, and they'll happen again. If it isn't the H5N1 [bird flu] virus, it'll be another virus."

Leavitt spoke the day after Bush called for $7.1 billion to be spent to combat the threat of the H5N1 strain of avian influenza, which has reportedly killed some 62 people in Southeast Asia during the past two years. ...

The Bush administration plan, however, has called for billions to be spent on building stockpiles of antiviral drugs, primarily Tamiflu ... The patent, however, is owned by Gilead Sciences, Inc. of Foster City, Calif., and is protected until 2016.

Donald H. Rumsfeld was chairman of Gilead before he became defense secretary in January 2001. Rumsfeld reportedly recused himself on Oct. 27 from government decisions concerning medications to prevent or treat avian flu rather than sell his considerable stock holdings in Gilead.

Gilead reported a 51 percent increase in revenues for the third quarter of 2005, compared with 2004. The company received $12.1 million, more than a 700 percent increase in its quarterly royalties received from Roche. Because Roche has worldwide commercial rights on the production of Tamiflu, the billions being spent on the flu medication will greatly increase corporate profits at Roche and Gilead. ...

Two well-known members of the secretive group known as Bilderberg, Etienne F. Davignon and George P. Schultz, sit on Gilead's board of directors, while a third member of the elitist group, Lodewijk J.R. de Vink, is on the board of Hoffman-LaRoche.

De Vink, a Dutch-American, is a founding member of Blackstone Healthcare Partners, LLC, a corporate advisory service of the Blackstone Group, a global investment firm founded by Peter G. Peterson, the chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations and former chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and Stephen A. Schwarzman. Among other things, de Vink is a member of the European Advisory Council of Rothschild & Cie.

Dovetailing the Bush bird flu plan is a controversial Senate bill called the Biodefense and Pandemic Vaccine and Drug Development Act of 2005 (S. 1873). ...

Barbara Loe Fisher, president of the National Vaccine Information Center, a private advocacy group pushing for safer vaccines, said the Burr bill is "a drug company stockholder's dream and a consumer's worst nightmare."

... Under this bill, Fisher said, the government "could force all citizens to use these drugs and vaccines while absolving everyone connected from any responsibility for injuries and death which occur" as a result. ...

Finally, see if you can figure out what are the 'new challenges and threats' to which Mr. Putin is referring, below.

[QUOTING:]

ROLE OF ICJ SHOULD BE STRENGTHENED—PUTIN

RIA Novosti, 11/2/05

THE HAGUE—Russia wants to see the role played by the UN International Court of Justice (ICJ) strengthened, President Vladimir Putin said Wednesday, speaking at the court's seat in The Hague. "The existence of the International Court [of Justice] within the UN system is the most important condition for the legitimacy of the organization, not least in the context of developing and carrying out an integrated strategy to counter new challenges and threats," Putin said.

NEVADA CORPORATIONS:

When Is An Owner NOT A Stockholder?

Budget's "Tip of the Week" #3:

NRS 78.197—Rights of persons holding obligations of corporation

If you own part (or all) of a corporation, you're a stockholder, right? In Nevada, the answer to that question is, "Not necessarily." Let's look at another unique provision of Nevada corporate law:

NRS 78.197 Rights of persons holding obligations of corporation.

A corporation may provide in its articles of incorporation that the holder of a bond, debenture or other obligation of the corporation may have any of the rights of a stockholder in the corporation.

With this provision written into your Articles of Incorporation, you "may have any of the rights of a stockholder"—without owning stock! Thus, the holder of a note COULD own the corporation and could even be afforded the same VOTING RIGHTS as a stockholder—without being a stockholder. And in the absence of stockholders—in cases where no stock has been issued—presumably, the holder of a promissory note of the corporation could have 100% of the voting rights at any meeting.

If such a provision related to NRS 78.197 is NOT in your current Articles of Incorporation, check and see if the following standard clause exists under an Article relating to Amendments:

Except with respect to amending the non-assessability of shares per Article IV, this corporation reserves the right to amend, alter, change or repeal any provision contained in these Articles of Incorporation or its Bylaws in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute or by these Articles of Incorporation or by the corporation's Bylaws, and all rights conferred upon the stockholders are granted subject to this reservation.

If so, the corporation may "amend... these Articles of Incorporation... in the manner prescribed by... the corporation's Bylaws". In other words, the Articles of Incorporation are modified by the Bylaws. If such a provision exists in your Articles of Incorporation, we suggest that you amend the Bylaws to reflect wording such as NRS 78.197 suggests for the Articles of Incorporation.

If neither of these provisions exists in your corporation's Articles, you might want to file an Amendment of the Articles of Incorporation. We can handle such a filing with the Secretary of State for you, just ask.

Next week, we'll look at what might be called a "turnip" or "prickly pear" clause in the Nevada Revised Statutes: NRS 78.7502.

The REALLY BIG games have yet to hit as a magnetic shift, GLOBAL, is now taking place and when the "switch flip" is flipped there will be trouble in most "River Cities" and Dry Deserts. When a major physical axis shift begins to take place it will be amazing!
