8/29/96 #1 HATONN

URGENT AND IMPORTANT

Thank you, Cecil S., for your input on "CODEX". Every reader should harken up and realize that we intend to follow every legal procedure placed on us. THIS, however (following article) is WHY we are changing to offering very little other than colloids. As products are cut from the "market" place we will continue to drop them from our product line if they cannot be colloidalized into a totally harmless form. We will not call them, longer, "supplemental nutrition enhancers" if that be the new orders. We do NOT break laws of the land! If you don't have what you need to move into and through the time of hardship ahead, we can't do more about it. This very thing has

The government is amazing in its ability to bluff and destroy you people as individuals so you are going to have to unify. This does not mean into groupies—but unify as to goal of freedom. We were amused, in a sick way, to witness Farrakhan in Libya to pick up a humanitarian award only to watch the U.S. refuse him the ability to pick up the award—along with refusal to allow him to pick up his $1 Billion fund from Libya, to help the underprivileged Black population. And, poor dears, you thought you have FREEDOM! You are, worse, slaves and don't seem to even take notice. Why? Because so many of you are on the "dole" in one way or another, you miss the FACTS. The U.S., for instance, is either on welfare, or more subtly, is the government itself. They think you nice shackled prisoners won't do—in the pyramid top because you won't then get something for nothing. Well, you are getting a lot for that "nothing"—you are setting the bars into your cell foundation. Get into GOD'S SPACE and these "imposters" of humankind can't even find you—there is such a difference in your frequency patterns. You—who remain silent and continue to harass and assault your neighbors to make selves look more secure—forget it, the informers are more watched than any the informers inform on.

Be pleased when the liars make bigger LIES about you and whatever you might be "doing" for the bigger the lie the easier it is to pass off—AND THE MORE PEOPLE SEE THROUGH IT. Thank the people who pass on BAD INFORMATION because sometimes people will try to find the truth out of the information which draws attention. When they find the basis of the prattlings false, they often move right over onto your side and the consequences are most devastating to the perpetrators. Remember also that you always ask God to forgive you of any transgressions and those who transgress against you—well, a perpetrator is nothing other than a "transgressor". You don't have to DO ANYTHING against the transgressors for they never have intelligence enough to stop their transgressing and eventually will cross the line and catch themselves totally entwined in the consequences. That is a good place for friend or foe to achieve—their own consequences for actions, for if yours be GOOD the only "consequence" can be goodness! If you turn your neighbor in for something in modus revengious—guess what, you shall suffer the consequences IN KIND! So, may you always know to walk within the LIGHT and ONLY Light can be flowing about your person and soul.

And, as for those who "use" you, so be it. The first time someone USES you and damages you, poor you. The second time it happens, REALLY "poor you" because you should have learned better. And the subsequent times the cheats and liars cheat and lie to you and you accept it—STUPID YOU. If it turns out later they "truly meant" well, fine, they should not have cheated, stolen and lied to you prior to the moment of TRUTH. That is THEIR choice! If you keep moving back for more—you will certainly GET MORE (of what you certainly don't want). And when someone tells you he is now safely out of the country and is "about through setting up his company"—run like hell. "Company": FOR WHAT? See what he wants and then decisions and observations take on a higher insight ratio. You didn't make the bad choices—he did. It is the same with those who have gone to prison for outright unlawful acts and intents. They knew better at onset of the choice-making so they are NOT your responsibility to assist in order to get the whole bunch of nice people into worse pickling processing. Watch your assets or you will end up cucumber mash rather than pickles of the award-winning variety. When, moreover, you cannot keep yourself, how dare that "other" demand that you "keep" him.

Dharma, let us turn again to John Coleman's July 4th paper.

STORM CLOUDS GATHER OVER THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A SPECIAL 4TH OF JULY ISSUE

by John Coleman, World in Review,
June 1996, Vol. 5 No. 6:

EXECUTIVE ORDERS

On another, separate point, let us look at the matter of so-called executive orders. As I have previously pointed out, an executive order is a proclamation, and only the kings and queens of England can issue proclamations. In response to my statement, a lawyer wrote me to challenge it. He contends that executive orders were made legal when the House and Senate, during the Civil War gave the power of Article 1, Section 9, Part 2—habeas corpus—to President Lincoln. The point here is that the Congress has no authority to transfer powers belonging to it to the executive branch of government.

The subterfuge of taking rights away from We, the People under the color of emergencies, unless checked, will destroy the perfect balance of the Constitution and render it totally ineffective.

In any event, the practical side of the surrender of habeas corpus during the Civil War was that it effectively wiped out the Bill of Rights of the U.S. Constitution in the Union (North). The right of trial by jury was TAKEN AWAY and what served as "justice" were military drum-head court martials in which it is known that hundreds of innocent people were wrongly tried, convicted and hanged or shot for treason and other war-related offenses.

The desperate wound inflicted upon the Constitution by the actions of the House and Senate in granting powers to Lincoln to which he was not entitled, has never healed. Socialist President Wilson demanded and got even wider powers under the duress and hysteria of WW-I. It is pitiful to read in the Congressional journals how quick the legislators were to violate the Bill of Rights under the coercion of war time. (One of those propitious events I touched upon earlier.)

The subterfuge of taking rights away from We, the People, under the color of emergencies (real or created—and there have been several emergencies artificially created in America for this purpose) unless checked, will destroy the perfect balance of the Constitution and render it totally ineffective.

When the Mad Butcher of Hyde Park took office, he grabbed even more illicit powers through the subterfuge of executive orders than his predecessors. Roosevelt was a glutton for executive orders, and his great admirer, President Clinton, seems to be bent on eclipsing Roosevelt's unenviable record for getting around the Constitution by using the ruse of proclamations a.k.a. executive orders.

The repeated use of proclamations by Clinton is in reality a continuation of habeas corpus, although the Civil War has been over for more than a hundred years. Executive order proclamations deny the American people their rights under the Bill of Rights and under the United States Constitution. Unless there is an urgent and concerted national drive to outlaw so-called executive order proclamations, the Bill of Rights will be wiped out within the next ten years and the United States will sink deeper and deeper into the morass of rule by proclamation, the first step on the road to absolute tyranny.

George Washington was described as a "radical, revolutionary" in dispatches to King George III. His fellow politicians and the colonists who took issue with King George III's "executive orders"—general warrants and proclamations—were likewise so characterized.

The men who refused to surrender their "assault rifles" when the British military tried to put gun control into effect; they knew that surrender of their arms would most likely lead to slavery. The men who refused to obey the gun control executive order-proclamation—of the King, they were classed by the government as "dangerous"—because they refused to hand in their firearms—"assault rifles" of the day.

The men who refused to allow invasion of their homes, violation of their persons and property under "general warrants"—they were very unpopular with King George III. General warrants bore no name or stated purpose, but were rubber stamped in advance by supine magistrates, thus placing no limits on search and seizure. (The government in Washington is again issuing "general warrants", so-called "John Doe" warrants in the manner of King George III.)

The 2nd Amendment uses some of the most forceful language of the entire Constitution; "the right to keep and bear arms SHALL NOT BE INFRINGED." The words, "Shall not" indicate how strongly our Founding Fathers felt about protecting this right. NO GOVERNMENT HAS THE AUTHORITY TO INFRINGE OR ABBREVIATE THE 2ND AMENDMENT RIGHTS OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE UNDER ANY MANNER OR PRETEXT OR COLOR WHATSOEVER. This includes so-called executive orders. Neither does our right to keep and bear arms come under interstate commerce, as I previously stated.

[END QUOTING OF PART 5]

This was a bit short in length but possibly the most important of all impacts, in content. If you don't stop the incredible forces of an Administration figureHEAD being run by FOREIGN POWERS, you are going to FALL—it happens EVERY TIME.

I am amused at what you people seem to accept or totally miss. There just occurred a prime example of political insanity as you watch and listen to the SPEECHES being made by the "wig-wags" of each party right through the candidates for President. The facts are that one major and well-known speech writer has dropped out of the writing business and denounces the others—BECAUSE HE WAS NO LONGER THE EXCLUSIVE GHOST-WRITER FOR THE LINEUP OF CANDIDATES. Goodness, he is even going to SUE. Doesn't that alarm you who listen to a man spout as his own ideas that which a professional speech-writer, public relations EXPERT, puts into his mouth? You will also note that there are NO ISSUES OF IMPORTANCE OVER WHICH TO DEBATE. THE ONLY THRUST IS THE SOFT AMERICAN APPLE PIE CONCEPT OF FEEDING THE POPULATION WHAT THEY WANT TO HEAR. If a candidate or speaker lapses into a moment of insanity and speaks of something or another about an issue—it is immediately washed, dried and ironed so that whatever he said—no longer exists in any media whatsoever and you can count on the story being DIFFERENT the next time the undisciplined speaker speaks.

I also enjoyed the letter from Senator Barbara Boxer to the head of the CIA about drug participation. Now don't you just KNOW she is going to get the real poop? I think her letter is being run elsewhere in this issue of CONTACT. [See box on this page] It reminds me of the crooked cop who just stole items from a bank robbery and participated in the get-away—being asked to investigate the bank robbery. But look how hard Barbie is trying! And why did she wait until August 1996 to make such an inquiry? Even Barbie says "...as you know this is not the first time such allegations have surfaced..." Where was she the other times? Oh well! I think you get the point!?!

By the way, before we close: I have so many inquiries as to what is this "Tavistock" Institute that is often referred to by informed writers and speakers. It is interesting enough to do a bit of research but if you are impatient you might make sure you have a copy of John Coleman's book on the Committee of 300. If you wish to have another resource presentation, I believe we can arrange that as well and in passing around the burden a bit we may actually get some confirmation and security protection for the daring writers.

I believe you will recall that "Nora" has also written about that Institute in London and we have even given you maps of its location [see 9/25/93 & 10/19/93 CONTACT]. We have also spoken many times of the association of the Brookings Institute with the Tavistock Institute "Mother". It is well worth repeating and new printing—so please just let us catch up a bit with these series presentations we have almost forgotten as we are so pushed for space and time to get to you. We are always on the edge of being unable to print the paper each week so it is truly time to have you CREATE the funding resources, readers. We offer THE WAY—but you have to walk the walk. When we reach that point of capability in funding, these marvelous and daring writers can turn to WRITING and stop the infernal 99% of their time just TRYING TO SURVIVE. We must help them for that is an investment in KNOWLEDGE which you CANNOT GET ALONG WITHOUT!

Please don't allow this day to be like any other day—make it special for you deserve it. Salu.

MERCURY CENTER SAN JOSE MERCURY NEWS

Barbara Boxer's Letter To CIA Director John Deutch

Text published: August 29, 1996

The Honorable John M. Deutch
Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Dr. Deutch:

I am writing to ask that you investigate allegations about CIA involvement in the illegal drug trade. A three-part series published last week by the San Jose Mercury News charges that the CIA tolerated, if not promoted, crack cocaine sales as a means to finance Nicaraguan revolutionaries in the early 1980s.

Specifically, by Mercury News charges that the Fuerza Democratica Nicaraguense FDN—the largest of the groups known collectively as the Contras—raised millions by selling cocaine to drug dealers in California at the same time that the crack epidemic was beginning. Federal, state and county law enforcement agencies investigating California's largest crack cocaine rings have complained that their operations were mysteriously thwarted. Several people close to the investigations have openly speculated that the CIA had compromised their investigations in an effort to sustain the Contras.

As you know, this is not the first time allegations of this kind have surfaced. For over a decade, rumors of a Contra-CIA cocaine connection have persisted. I believe that these questions can be put to rest only by a candid and thorough investigation of the facts. I urge you to conduct such an investigation and make your findings public.

Although the tragic situation described in this series of articles predates your leadership of the CIA, we must continue to insist that the whole truth be known. Crack cocaine has destroyed countless lives, and even the notion that the U.S. Government was involved in trafficking is sickening.

Thank you for your attention, and I look forward to your timely response.

Sincerely,

Barbara Boxer
United States Senator

As we tiptoe through the tulips while trying to keep from squashing the flowers AND the bulbs—it requires great concentration and light-foot abilities. Moreover, if I seem to speak in cryptic codes, so be it, for the ones intended to receive shall do so.

As with each New Year (both yours and ours) we must consider the “plan”, make adjustments, catch up the fragmented players and introduce the new ones. Most will not even recognize there has been any change or perceive any recognizable opportunities.

God never leaves His team—NEVER—and each new step must be attended so that the ones needing to walk in the same “footsteps” might recognize the path and the wayshower. We are moving into a time of the Immortals making physical contact. You will, therefore, be experiencing more “claimers” to that title to distract and discredit your presentations. It won’t happen if you PAY ATTENTION.

Terry just spent his time away from you this week—with ME in the company of the Bashar Ashtar. We don’t need further “names”—Ashtar serves AS “the” label of the Command and is thus known as “Ashtar” (much as you would call a reference to a “general” as “General” rather than, say, “Joe” if his name indeed is “Joe”). I don’t intend to clarify every statement I make as in this instance, as we move along, for you who can’t understand my messages more clearly than to question every innuendo—are not going to be in the “hub” of this incredibly important wheel. If some of you who have now worked with me and others of this Side of the TEAM don’t recognize the energy forms—you are not advanced enough to be involved with the more critical aspects of this task (mission) at hand. You must become impersonal now and STOP the “me” referencing. We are working on the most urgent and importantly critical time of the GLOBE and I am not going to longer play the old game of “but just how does this impact ME?” We are not interested in YOUR searching, other than as a fringe-benefit application. Service comes in all manners and from all directions—and to take the time of involved parties to redirect “your” personal direction is not acceptable. GOD has time; the rest of us are running on “YOUR TIME” perceptions.

When Terry has a chance to settle down long enough to study the intended release of his material gleaned from US and his seven-year residence as a student with the Immortals in Tibet, we shall begin to run those serially in CONTACT. BEWARE OF THOSE WHO COME AND CALL THEMSELVES “TIMETRAVELERS” AND THAT SORT OF ILK, BECAUSE THEY ARE FALSE! YOU WILL KNOW THE TRUTHBRINGERS IMMEDIATELY!

The most important thing to realize is that we are going to move away from full disclosure on many topics now, as we want to simply get rid of the distractions here and there and turn to our main-line tasks. The new “projects” are DONE; it is simply the routing, conduits, and players which need to be made aware and fully integrated. There is Spiritual strength in the level of precipitators to get it all accomplished—but not if you distract every time somebody else has hiccups. Set your hand firmly in the hand of THE MAN for it is the CHRIST-TIME and his contacts and students will come full-blast onto the STAGE. You will begin to be given the information, NOW, as to the line of cast players.

I AM the CENTRAL SUN entity—and the “changers” and MESSENGERS are in place right along side you in their level of KNOWING and capabilities. There are things they are not to share with you. Identify them, appreciate them, and keep your mouths shut—especially as to the mundane applications of their abilities. Remember that God has set the play and THE PLAN and He will provide, in perfect form, unrecognized by the general masses, the perfect player for our needs. Do your testing every time but realize that the PROOF is only for THE one or two who have need to KNOW.

When I say that “I have sent someone”, know it! However, don’t individually “struggle” with it—because in our “sharing” you will usually not have notice—only interest goaded. The ONE to whom the messenger is sent SHALL GET THE MESSAGE AND IT WILL LIKELY MEAN NOTHING TO “ANOTHER”. Dharma got HER MESSAGE AND THE MESSENGER so let us leave lay that which is NOT for us as individuals.

YOU will know your portion when the time is revealed—only to YOU. Please do not take our time and energy to explore possibilities of meanings of that which is yet unrevealed. ASK YOUR TEACHERS, YOUR GUIDES (INDIVIDUAL) AND ALLOW US TO DO OUR WORK FOR THE TWO ARE NOT THE SAME THING. IF WE WERE SIMPLY HERE TO REVEAL AND REVELATE EACH INDIVIDUAL’S PURPOSE—WE WOULD HAVE AN ASHRAM AND HAVE PSYCHICS FOR THE “READINGS”. WE ARE NOT.

I will use an example: Some will ask “why is Little Crow so involved when I have been around longer and waited for my chance to run a few things?” No, you do not even understand the program. Little Crow is from the Council of the Immortals and is one of the Chief Honchos in the KNOWING classification. If YOU ask such a question—YOU ARE NOT READY TO BEAR EVEN THE MOST MUNDANE TASK IN TRUST AND CONFIDENCE. Therefore, do what you WILL, share what you WILL, allow us to move freely and don’t send us anything we CAN’T be allowed to freely use—for we don’t have time to sort the intent of every distant writer or speaker. Since mankind does not YET HAVE TRUTH IN FULL, EVERY writer is not fully informed and I will always call the errors to full attention. So, if you are not ready for the sharing and the rebuttals—DON’T

CONTACT: The Phoenix Project

CONTACT is a unique and inspired newspaper for concerned citizens everywhere, though it particularly focuses on the United States because of this country’s special mission in the affairs of the world. That is, “As goes the United States, so goes the world.”

CONTACT is a vehicle for Commander Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn’s most recent writings on important current affairs, plus those from other enlightening sources, on matters critical to a responsible and informed public at this time of planetary transition and final days of battle between the Forces of Light and the “Evil Empire” forces of darkness.

CONTACT exists to counteract the manipulating lies and clever half-truths put out (on purpose) by the regular print and broadcast media prostitutes of the Satanic Elite controllers—parasites who are in the process of economically, physically, and spiritually collapsing this once great country (and actually the entire planet) down to a slave-state level of existence under their diabolical control plan called The New World Order.

This newspaper, CONTACT, began life on March 30, 1993, risen, like the mythical bird, with great determination “up from the ashes” of its internationally acclaimed predecessor called THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR.

THE PHOENIX LIBERATOR, in turn, began life in mid-October of 1991, having evolved from an earlier newsletter called the PHOENIX JOURNAL EXPRESS, which itself came into existence as a faster way to get THE TRUTH out to you readers than was possible with the more substantial “book” format of the PHOENIX JOURNALS. Much incredible ground has been covered so far in that mission.

While the PHOENIX LIBERATOR’s motto reminded all that “The Truth Will Set You Free”, the CONTACT’s motto, displayed prominently in the masthead, takes that thought another important step forward and proclaims: “Ye Shall Know The Truth And The Truth Shall Make You Mad!”

The “Phoenix Project” is about those preparations needed—at body, mind and soul levels—to both understand and survive the great healing changes which are beginning to energize this beautiful little planet, now so frazzled and tortured from abuses of all kinds. We look forward, with great expectations, to the CONTACTING with all of you—a coming together that is rapidly taking place as the entire Phoenix Project “ground crew” continues to connect, solidify, and gain strength through becoming informed of THE TRUTH. Indeed, welcome aboard, friends!

— Dr. Edwin M. Young
Editor-In-Chief, CONTACT

SEND US YOUR "STUFF"; SEND IT TO BILL COOPER, BO GRITZ, GEORGE GREEN OR WHOEVER GRABS YOUR FANCY, FOR FROM HERE YOU GET TRUTH. We are not, nor are we interested in becoming, a religion, a church, a clan, anything related to politics or show-and-tell. OURS IS A MISSION WHICH ELUDES ALMOST EVERYONE IN PHYSICAL MANIFESTATION. THE ONES WHO HAVE NEED TO KNOW—KNOW.

Are there "actually" "Immortals"? YES! And they are given to presenting in the most appropriate modality to further our Creator's plan—period! If you are intent on your own journey of Truth, you will recognize them in whatever form they present for they will connect with your very heartplace and the impact will be immortalized forever within your being. If you are "turned away" by these beings—YOU don't understand! They will ALWAYS honor their "school-Master", their TEACHER and present that information ALWAYS—right out there in front of themselves. If you question their modality of expression—YOU HAD BEST QUESTION YOUR OWN FOR YOU WILL HAVE MISSED THE POINT. When YOU think you know more about anything and everything than the MASTERS—you err and need to go back to pre-school for you will NOT make it in the major leagues with the Immortal Teachers. If you argue over this paragraph, even to self, YOU ARE SUFFERING FROM EGO PROJECTION AND HAD BEST GO YOUR WAY AMONG THE DEAD. If you don't know what I just said—see if you have a Spiritual "pulse" or if you are already "just existing in the dead zone"!

God will always send someone in a form that the adversarial energies will intensely DISLIKE or ill-respond to. That is as necessary for sorting as anything you can use for a test. If you are "turned off" by some energies which God presents for your "lessons"—you had best look carefully for these latter day testings are pretty subtle.

When you assume or project that "God wouldn't send an Arab" or "God wouldn't send a Greek or a Jew"—you err in immediate perception for you MAY NOT assume what God might well do to get our mission perfected. God will send to His messengers THE MESSENGER NECESSARY FOR THE NEXT STEP—EVERY TIME. GOD DOES NOT MAKE MISTAKES!!!

I am always amused by the innocent inquiry as to why do we provide "stuff" for healing or tools for use for body infestation or infection WHEN IT'S ALL IN THE MIND, ULTIMATELY? BECAUSE YOU DON'T YET KNOW HOW TO INVOKE THAT HEALING POWER! Perhaps, in truth, you may NEVER, in this lifetime, achieve that capability and you need to somehow keep that housing (body) alive and functioning if you intend to participate in this physical transition and, yes indeed, it IS well worth the effort. The "masses" of ignorant humanity will eagerly, yes EAGERLY, die to avoid responsibilities involved with the Awakening and Restoration of Earth Man in an evolved Societal Structure of positive presentation and enlightened Freedom within God.

DO NOT TELL ME THAT YOU HAVE THE "COURAGE" TO STEP FORWARD—SHOW ME AND STOP THE BABBLING! "I think I can" is not the same thing as stepping right out there and DOING the thing. And, furthermore, when you are acting within the Knowing—there is no need to consider "courage" for it will not occur to the experiencing party that "courage" is even a part of the action at hand. Many stand and express appreciation that Dharma has "the courage" to do this job. No, DHARMA HAS KNOWING and "courage" is not a part of the program of action. She trusts that God, in infinite WISDOM, will utilize her and protect that portion of self which is important—and "courage" is NOT PART OF THE PERCEPTION. Some people get their training by the Immortals in Tibet—some in little Tehachapi. The training is the same, so don't assume that because YOU are somewhere other than the places in point that you are NOT on the training program. The ones trained in Tibet even, have to come down from that mountain to SERVE. AND DO NOT BE PRE-CONCEIVED TO EXPECT A GIVEN ENTITY FORM AS, SAY, THE CHRIST, LEST YOU SIMPLY BE PRE-DECEIVED. IT IS TIME FOR "THE TEACHER" TO SHOW UP AGAIN IN HUMAN FORM—AND YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT TO EXPECT AND THAT IS THE FACT OF THE MATTER—SO TAKE CARE IN YOUR PRECONCLUSIONS. THAT VERY CHRIST ENERGY WILL PRESENT THIS TIME IN A FORM WHICH WILL GET HIS JOB ACCOMPLISHED—NOT IN ROBES WITH FEET SANDAL-SHOD AS YOU MIGHT EXPECT. Presentation of God and presentation of MAN are two different aspects of being—so don't jump to conclusions.

And you dear Canadians who long for some contact and integration—YOU HAVE IT for the very teachers are coming via that routing—so, hold it in your hearts. Each of our own jobs seems so mundane in the doing—but each is necessary and as important as any other—only DIFFERENT. If the support systems do not remain in place—the structure shall surely fall so the smallest brick in the foundation is far more important at any given moment—than the top brick which simply holds the "space". WE ARE GROWING IN COLLECTION OF OUR PEOPLE—BRICK BY TEDIOUS BRICK WHOSE STRENGTH MUST BE TESTED AND TESTED FOR THE TASK AT HAND—OVER AND OVER AGAIN. IF A CORNERSTONE FAILS—THE WHOLE OF THE STRUCTURE WILL COLLAPSE. And, moreover, when you students are ready—THE NEXT TEACHER PRESENTS! Count on it. And, wonders never cease—it is time to learn of your REAL connections with the outer Cosmic relationships, and surely enough—the Teacher is here!

We stand at ready and you must realize that, if we have to allow the stabilization to be removed, you will have to be encapsulated within electromagnetic enclosures within which no life can be sustained—IF DESTRUCTION OF THE PLANET IS IMMINENT. THERE WILL NOT BE ALLOWED THE IMPACT WITHIN THE ORDER OF UNIVERSAL ORBITS AND STABILITY, OF MASSIVE IMPLOSION OR EXPLOSION OF A PLANET.

In addition, readers, EVIL EXPRESSION WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO ENTER WITHIN OUR SPACES. We are not interested in "Best Sellers"—we are interested in the ones needing information getting the information. So, if you think self so important as to hide under copyrights and patents—forget the desire for working with us—we HAVE the information and you have been careless in your LEARNING. BEWARE THE DECEIVERS and if you think US TO BE DECEIVERS—you had best MAKE VERY, VERY SURE OF WHAT YOU SPOUT OUT OF YOUR MOUTHS IN IGNORANCE—FOR IT WILL BE SO THAT THIS PLACE PRESENTS FACTUAL TRUTH AND THE LIES AND MISINFORMATION WILL SIMPLY BEGIN TO FALL AWAY AND YOU SHALL BE CAUGHT IN THAT FALLING MASS OF DIS-MIS-INFORMATION—HEADED BY THE SPIRITUAL CRIMINALS WHO HAVE OFFERED LIES INSTEAD OF TRUTH IN THE MOST ELEMENTAL SPIRITUAL INFORMATION. How many of YOU will be trapped within the toppling of the Evangelical FOOLS? It is one thing to have enslaved silently your bodies—but the enslavement of your Spirit is ever so much more deadly. Pay careful attention to that which you expect. Along these lines I will again remind you of PROJECT BLUE BEAM and to do so will utilize a write-up already

The result of this deliberately staged FALSE CHRIST will be for the implementation of a new Universal Religion. "Enough truth will be foisted off on us to hook us into the lie."*

The NASA "Blue Beam" Project. This is an extremely Big Secret. That Project is the ability to take up a whole bunch of people as in a "rapture" type of situation and whisk the whole bunch into never-neverland. The calculated resistance to the New Religion, the New World Order [NWO] and the New "Messiah" will be human loss on a massive scale in the ensuing "Holy Wars".

The "Blue Beam" Project will pretend to be the universal fulfillment of the prophecies of old; as major an event as that which took place 2000 years ago. In principle, it will make use of the sky as a movie screen as space-based laser-generating satellites project simultaneous images to the four corners of the planet, in every language, in every dialect according to region.... it deals with the religious aspect of the NWO and is a large scale seduction.

Computers will coordinate the satellites and software will run the show-and-tell. (Holography is based on very nearly identical signals combining to produce an image, or hologram, with depth perception.) By utilizing acoustic Extremely Low Frequency [ELF], Very Low Frequency [VLF], Low Frequency [LF] waves, the accompanying sounds will be perceived as coming from everywhere. Specifically, the show will consist of laser projections of multiple holographic images to different parts of the world, each receiving different images according to predominating regional and national religious faith. Not a single area will be excluded.

With computer animation and sound effects appearing to come from the depths of space, astonished followers of the various creeds will witness their own returned Messiah in spectacularly convincing lifelike realism. Then, the projections of The Christ, of Mohammed, Buddha, Krishna, etc. will merge into one, after correct explanation of the mysteries, prophecies, and revelations will have been disclosed. THIS ONE GOD WILL IN FACT BE THE ANTI-CHRIST, who will explain that the various scriptures have been misunderstood; that the religions of old are responsible for turning people against people, nation against nation: therefore the world's religions must be abolished to make way for the Golden Age (New Age) of the ONE WORLD RELIGION, representing the one god (Anti-Christ in this instance) they see before them.

Naturally, this superbly staged full-scale falsification will result in social/religious disorder on a grand scale, including millions of programmed religious fanatics through demonic possession cases on a scale never seen before.

In addition, this event will occur at a time of great political anarchy and general tumult—at the edge of something big.

The United Nations even now plans to use the Beethoven Song of Joy as the official anthem for the New World Order [NWO].

We have been given the accepted scenario involving established prophecies, Armageddon, the Anti-Christ and so on. What the world does not know, and is not given to know, is that other UNKNOWN prophecies exist that very accurately chart the course of human history to the present day and beyond and in which is SHOWN THE DOWNFALL OF THE ANTI-CHRIST!

[END OF QUOTING]

Where will your perceptions be when you witness this great show in the sky? Will you be able to withstand such a massive show-and-tell? I wonder. It will be magnificent—however, God will make sure His own signs are therein, as well, so be patient little beam targets—for there will be a pulsed sound system directly to your brain. Be careful what the message says—for that will be your clue as to authenticity of events. Be very, very attentive for YOU WHO EXPECT SPACE-ALIENS—WILL GET SPACE-ALIENS TOTALLY PROGRAMMED TO THE INDIVIDUAL EXPECTATIONS! Enjoy the "show" and recognize it for that which it IS and, yes indeed, BE IMPRESSED, for if you don't come to realize the major technology available—we don't stand a chance of reaching THROUGH that maze of deception.

We need a break here to collect our project thoughts so I ask a closure to this writing that we might change topics. Thank you. Salu.

Letter From Ray Renick

Dear Commander (and Crew),

22 Aug. 96

Connections, connections, connections! Many times you have written about Santa Barbara Savings, RTC, Ekkers' non-sale, Shea and Gould, Salomon Bros., etc., etc., etc. Here's another connection: Law Firm of Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro of San Francisco. Note:

(1.) Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro were originally appointed as investigators of the Clintons and the Whitewater scam in Arkansas. (This information directly from the grandson of one of the partners. Also see: Defrauding America by Rodney Stich about real estate fraud. And about the murder of Attorney Dexter Jacobsen in San Francisco connected to these frauds and scams.) As you know, the biggest criminals are appointed to investigate their own crimes.

(2.) Sutro, Judge Sutro, and Sutro and Company: A financial analyst in the Santa Barbara S&L corruption scam and the Ekker case (From Ray Bilger's article in the July 23, 1996 issue of CONTACT, page 4).

(3.) And of course, Madison Guaranty S&L (See: "Fire From The Sky" in the August 13, 1996 issue of CONTACT, page 20) connected to (Hang on to your hat!) Household Bank, BCCI, Banco Nationale Del Lavoro, The Vatican, laundering drug money out of Pakistan, Afghanistan, Iran (Shah of Iran: see "S.L.O. Connection To Iran" by Ray Renick. Rick should have a copy or L. has one.) [Editor's note: Please see Ray Renick's outlay of information on SLO "Connections" in our August 29, 1993 issue of CONTACT], CIA, "Operation Zapata" out of San Luis Obispo and Ventura (See: There's A Fish In The Court House by Gary Wean [See p. 9 on how to order the latest edition of this book], Chapters 31, 34 and 44 or the August 22, 1995 issue of CONTACT, page 20), and Clark, Himovitz and Schlesinger out of San Luis Obispo. And also Connected to Nugen-Hand Bank laundering money out of the "Golden Triangle" in South-East Asia with General Khun Sa, Richard Armitage, Santos Trafficante, Ted Shackley, Eric Von Marbod, George Bush (See: A Nation Betrayed and Called To Serve by James "Bo" Gritz, Crimes Of Patriots by Jonathan Kwitny and book by Peter Dale Scott). Whew! And that's just the "tip of the iceberg"!

A thorough investigation of this "bag of worms" called Pillsbury, Madison and Sutro will show more connections to real estate theft, drug trafficking and money laundering (Again, see CONTACT, Gary Wean, Rodney Stich, Ray Renick) and murder (Possibly R. Bilger has more info on P.M. & S.).

And don't forget the California Judges Association, which includes "Judges" (who are not) William P. Clark, Sutro, Hymie Blitzberg (aka Steven J. Stone. Does anyone know if he is related to Oliver Stone?), who are connected to the murders of the Kennedys, all the way to Nicole Brown-Simpson and hundreds in between (which includes the KAL-007 passengers, Congressman Larry McDonald, Vickie Morgan, etc.). The PHOENIX JOURNALS are an excellent source of information on all these subjects.

Remember Thomas Pynchon's definition of paranoia: "Paranoia is the leading edge of awareness that EVERYTHING IS CONNECTED."

P.S. Much of my mail is "lost". However CONTACT usually comes in 3 days. Please put small blurb in paper to acknowledge receipt. Letters that I do receive often take 2 or 3 weeks to reach me. I would like to file a lawsuit, but how can I if they won't let me use the Xerox, and steal our mail?

Another Attempt To Threaten Health Freedom

If these Draconian measures are adopted, any party to GATT (e.g., the United States) which does not accept the new standards can be heavily sanctioned (fined) by the World Trade Organization. The WTO will have the right to levy enormous fines on any nation that gets "out of line", with the potential to cripple entire sectors of that nation's economy!

The sole U.S. delegate to Codex has been Elizabeth A. Yetley, Ph.D., R.D., of the FDA. Responding to political pressure in the United States, so far she has voted for health freedom, but with little result—at the last meeting the vote went 16-2 in favor of the German proposal!

WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT IT

Clearly, we cannot expect much help from Congress which surrendered much of its power to deal with the issue when it passed GATT. Under the agreement, member nations must "harmonize" their rules governing the manufacture of health and medical products with new international standards so as to be "in line" with them. Congress cannot rescind its vote on GATT—on the contrary, the single U.S. delegate to this international commission can be outvoted by delegates from other countries.

In 1996, the FDA will convene a public hearing wherein interested persons and organizations will be able to discuss and question Codex and the U.S. position on it. The FDA will then draft a final U.S. position paper to be submitted to the five-day 1996 Bonn Codex meeting. The paper will be highly influential in shaping the final proposed regulations.

It is vitally important that you write to Dr. Robert Moore, FDA Office of Special Nutritionals, HFS-450, 200 C. St. S.W., Washington, DC 20204, expressing your objections to the German Codex proposal. Also write/fax your senators and congresspersons, as well as every member of the Senate Labor Committee and the House Commerce Committee.

Editor's note: Perceptions is a daring, interesting and often insightful non-mainstream magazine. Our last information on it was $15.00 for a yearly subscription ($20 foreign) and they can be contacted at 11664 National Blvd., No. 314, Los Angeles, CA 90064.

SOUTHERN NEVADA! B.S., readers, WE ARE THE ONLY ONES WHO HAVE GAIANDRIANA! They say they got theirs from somewhere else—we don't even remember the place or name. Don't be objecting—this GIVES US PROTECTION for we KNOW that if it comes from anywhere and is ACTUALLY "Drias"—it is from here. "They" are doing incredible things with the individual cellular structures, DNA, etc. That is what we are here for—not accolades. Accolades do not heal a people, a nation or fill a tummy.

[QUOTING:]

U.N.-W.H.O.'s "CODEX": A THREAT TO HEALTH FREEDOM

DID YOU KNOW?

Few Americans have heard of the United Nations/World Health Organization (WHO) Codex Alimentarius (Nutrition Code) Commission or "Codex", partly because it usually meets in Rome. Very little has appeared about Codex in U.S. newsletters and magazines read by people interested in vitamins, alternative medicine and health freedom, but it may pose the greatest threat to health freedom in the world today.

The commission meets every two years, and any delegate can propose a change in its standards. Attorney Suzanne Harris has reviewed a partial list of international organizations "allowed" to send delegates and found that more than 90 percent represent giant multinational pharmaceutical corporations. The only "consumer" organization she saw listed is the "International Organization of Consumers Unions", which means that right now the general public here (U.S.A.) has zero representation on this critically important committee!

WHAT SUPPLEMENTS WILL THEY ALLOW YOU?

In 1996, Codex will meet in Bonn to make radical changes in the rules governing dietary supplements for member nations. Consumers now face an ominous new threat in the proposals made by the German delegation, called "Proposed Draft Guidelines for Dietary Supplements". The German plan calls for the following:

- (1) No vitamin, mineral, herb, etc., can be sold for prophylactic (preventive) or therapeutic use;
- (2) None sold as a food can exceed potency (dosage) levels set by the commission;
- (3) Codex regulations for dietary supplements would become binding—eliminating the escape clause within the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) that allows a nation to set its own standards; and
- (4) All new dietary supplements would automatically be banned unless they go through the Codex approval process.

A Timely Update From Colonel (Ret.) Jim Ammerman

8/28/96 RICK MARTIN

JA=Jim Ammerman (Retired Colonel)
RM=Rick Martin
BJ=Bob James

JA: Hello, Jim Ammerman here.

RM: Hi, this is Rick Martin with CONTACT.

JA: Yes.

RM: I have got you on the speaker because I have a couple of my associates here and I'm recording while we're speaking. Is that okay?

JA: Sure!

RM: How are you doing? I haven't talked to you for a long time. I imagine there's a lot of interesting developments in the last two months.

JA: Well, yes. Daily almost. And things aren't getting any better. The people who want to do-in our American way of life are determined to press ahead. I think you can see signs of that all around.

RM: Sure.

JA: And good people that we wake up and then they go to their Congressman, or some appointed official, and they get lies and call back and say, "That's not so". So I'm sitting here now with about two feet of documents that I'm screening out. So I'm going to fax things to people and say, "Here is what the U.N. has done; here's what our Parks Department has done; here's what..." and so forth. Because, we have a lot of liars in high places.

RM: Well, is there anything of significance that you see happening around the country within the last two, three weeks.

JA: Well, you know that there were two, three things pulled off, in the last week or so. One of them was Operation Offspray, on the East coast, with 16 nations participating. I guess you knew about that.

RM: No, I've been actually out of pocket for about a week.

JA: Okay well, Operation Offspray came about and the Marines really headed that and did a release on it. And they also did one called Marine Expeditionary Unit #26 that did a mock invasion of Mobile, Alabama and, principally though, New Orleans, Louisiana. That was last Saturday and Sunday.

RM: And, what was the nature of that operation?

JA: Well, they were landing helicopters in unannounced places. And they said they would be. Because they didn't want crowds there, they were going to have what they call a "live fire" rubber bullets thing between their military. And in the center of town they were going to rappel out of their large helicopters. But, as best I can discern, what was behind it, they were doing a practice takeover of the key communications places in the city because that's one of the main relay stations for fiber optic telephone centers. And, of course, if you're going to take control of a city and/or a population you immediately take the radio/TV stations and telephones. You cut off all communications, you control it. And then you're in charge of what information goes out. And I think it was that kind of an exercise because I've been through too many of those little fire drills, you know. Only now we're practicing on our own people. Now you know, I guess, or have you seen the picture, it came out in Louisiana, the Deridder newspaper called the Beauregard Press, about the new $20,000,000 center that's just been completed for training Multi-Jurisdictional Task Force people down in Fort Polk, Louisiana.

RM: No. I was aware there was such a thing, but no.

JA: It's a $20,000,000 project and it's to train in the concept called M.O.U.T. Military Operations in Urban Terrain. The cover story is, this is to train people for Third World country problems. The fact is it's a mock United States City.

RM: That's comforting.

JA: Yeah, real comforting. So, the things just get worse and worse. I have heard numbers now, in fact they've been addressed to a congressman (I have a copy of the correspondence, where a retired Air Force colonel addressed this to his congressman in Virginia), that there are now over 100 detention centers in America. And the congressman is really trying to look into it. But he'll be lied to all the way around. Now, have you heard about the spill of some poison nerve gas?

RM: No.

JA: Well, this just happened about two or three days ago. They're trying to destroy some warheads, off of missiles, with poison nerve gas and they were produced principally at Tooele Army Ordnance Depot, just a little ways outside of Salt Lake City (UT). But there are other locations for it and so the big incinerator is there. But there's evidently been a spill farther away than that because there's a mortuary that received 30 bodies. And I have this in writing, but the person who sent it to me said, "If you use my name my job's gone". They worked there for a long time. Then went in to get the death certificates ready, and here were 30 bodies of people, undressed. All young people. Five were women and twenty-five were men and they had all died at the same time. You know, here's someone that works at a mortuary; they know. They were doing autopsies on them. They were turning a yellow/green already and not from decomposition but from the effects of the poison.

RM: And, where was this?

JA: Well, I can't tell you. This person...

RM: Can you tell me the State?

JA: It's in Texas and it's not 500 miles from Salt Lake City. So, that puts it in a certain area or corner of Texas, doesn't it.

RM: Um-hmm.

JA: And the very strange thing was this person had never seen this before. You see, when people are poisoned certain things happen to the body. The mouths were all open but drawn inward, and the eyes were crossed. Severely crossed, clear under the nose.

RM: Must have been really painful.

JA: Why sure, it's agonizing. It maybe didn't last long but you know it was a terrible death. And nothing has been in the paper about that. Now, we're entitled to know what's going on in our country. The bad news is only worse news if you find it out surreptitiously. Bad news isn't that bad if you're told the truth. We're not being told the truth here. About most things. And, a friend of mine who's known nationally on radio and TV, has a big following, is almost ready for it to go to press. Thomas Nelson's son is going to publish a book, and try to get it out, would you believe, 6 weeks at least before the election, about the deceitfulness of our U.S. Government. Now it's not a "Party Politics" thing, but it gets worse every administration. We're lied to, deceived, conned and so forth. And here's what he told me when he started it, and I gave him enough ammunition to put three books together, and he said, "I'm only going to put in my book what I could take into court as evidence, documented". That's going to be a little dynamite bomb.

RM: Um-hum.

JA: That should be released not later than, oh about mid-September.

RM: I think a friend of mine here has a question for you.

JA: Sure.

BJ: Mr. Ammerman, what is the last total troop count of foreign and otherwise on U.S. or Mexican soils.

JA: Well, the best word I get is through a U.S. Senator who, because of his election and/or other fears does not want his name mentioned, but he and two congressmen, U.S. Congressmen, and U.S. Senator, appointed themselves a committee to ride herd on it, and they say between Canada, Mexico and the United States there's over 3,000,000. They had asked me what I'd thought and I said 80,000 was the best figures I had, and that was here in the 48 States. And they said, "Well, in North America it's many times that and we're keeping official count on it as best we can with all the cover-ups that go on".

BJ: How can they keep count on it? Do you know?

JA: Well, they have connections around through other congressmen and that sort of thing. I had a man come to me out in Midland-Odessa, Texas. That's been about three weeks ago. And he is a Green Card-carrying legal Mexican here in the United States. He had gone home and he lived [in extreme southern Mexico] almost in Guatemala. So he had traversed, by car, from North to South and back again, all in about 10 days. He then drove 200 miles when he heard I was going to speak, to talk to me. He said, "There's so many," and to him they were all Russians; now whether or not they were all Russians or former C.I.S. or from Hungary or elsewhere, they were foreign troops, in uniform, with military equipment. So many that he said he "would not even try to guess how many". And he said, "If you're wondering why Mexicans are flocking into Southern California, it's because whoever's supplying these foreign troops is buying up all the food and the Mexicans are starving." That's a pretty serious thing.

BJ: Yep.

RM: There was another question you had, Bob.

BJ: What's happening overseas in Bosnia and what do you think their plan might be as far as shipping our loyal U.S. troops offshore?

JA: Well, we just sent another 5000 over there plus we're sending a few thousand more over to Saudi Arabia plus we have added numbers and many of them are Marine Infantry Units, afloat out in the Mediterranean. So the total number of people we have there, not counting the normal troops that are in Europe—you know we used to have about 290,000 Army alone in Europe and that's been cut down to under half. But those sent around Bosnia and Macedonia, nobody ever hears about Macedonia because our News has agreed to lie to us, deceive us, keep us in the dark. We have a third of an American Division that left Wurzburg, Germany eleven months ago under the command of a general from Finland, with a United Nations uniform on, directly in command of those several thousand American Troops. And they're in Macedonia, which is a part of the former Yugoslavia, same as Bosnia. But they've kept it out of the news because the United Nations and our leaders that have sold out to the United Nations don't want the Americans, the population here, the voters, the taxpayers, the Patriots, to know who's commanding their sons and daughters down there. And this is as unconstitutional as it can be.

BJ: Any further word on the activity in the Army Reserve and FEMA and that...?

JA: All of that has been accomplished, is required to be accomplished by the 30th of September, the end of this fiscal year. The Federal Government works on a fiscal year that goes from 1 October to 30 September. Most of that is accomplished by January of this year. Not next month. And it's gone off pretty smooth and the transition's pretty well taken care of. They have in the Training and Doctrine Command at Fort Monroe, Virginia, right there at Norfolk (VA), they have a document out, and I'm trying to get hold of it. I only have the cover document to it on how you contain civilian detainees and use them as a work force on military installations. So this thing's getting closer by the day.

BJ: Any more on the stocking of food in the FEMA Centers?

JA: No, I've not heard any more on that. I do know that some of the Meals Ready to Eat, MRE's, that were in Desert Storm are being destroyed just in case they've been contaminated. And the Air Force is selling their MRE's through the Civil Air Patrol at a "give away" price. And it might be well for some of our Americans to try and stock up on some of that long shelf-life food. I have an 18-wheeler loaded with it outside right now, being unloaded.

BJ: Wow.

JA: At 19 cents a meal.

RM: Wow, that's cheap!

JA: Usually, it almost $4.00 a meal.

BJ: And this is done through the Civil Air Patrol?

JA: Yeah, you can only get it through the Civil Air Patrol. From the Air Force. But the Army is destroying all of theirs. Their surplus.

BJ: That's weird! Hope...

JA: Well, it really is.

BJ: Yep.

JA: And we know, and of course FEMA knows, that there's going to be a food shortage and they're gonna need food and why they don't take that to feed our people they incarcerate, I don't know. There's some very interesting unanswered questions. Now, you know there's a rally on the mall in Washington (DC).

RM: Yes.

JA: Begins Saturday noon and goes through Sunday night as you know.

RM: Yes. Are you going to be there?

JA: Yeah, I'm going to be there. I'm supposed to speak Sunday morning. Are you going to be there?

RM: No, I regret that I'm not going to be there. Just about everybody else is, though.

JA: Well, yes and I think there may be some subversives mixed in with it. But, then also, you know, the CIA and FBI will have spies there.

RM: Of course. Well I appreciate the time, Jim.

JA: Okay. Well that brings you up to date a little bit. Who knows what else is going on that we'll find out, maybe after it's too late?

RM: You still getting our paper?

JA: Oh yes!

RM: Okay, good.

JA: Tape that.

RM: Okay, well, take care of yourself!

JA: Okay.

RM: And, stay safe.

JA: Alright. God bless now.

RM: Bye-bye.

BJ: Thank you!

The Untold History Of America

Part IV of a Series

Editor's note: Part I of this bold series was presented in the 8/13/96 issue of CONTACT; Part II was presented in the 8/20/96 issue; Part III was presented in the 8/27/96 issue.

8/28/96 RAY BILGER

Many young people today may not be aware of the fact that the native peoples (Indians) have been the source of many of the names of our states, rivers, mountains, lakes, etc. Here, Eagle Wing pays tribute to what the Indian has left behind him, (quoting:)

My Brothers, the Indians must always be remembered in this land. Out of our languages we have given names to many beautiful things which will always speak of us. Minnehaha will laugh of us, Seneca will shine in our image, Mississippi will murmur our woes. The broad Iowa and the rolling Dakota and the fertile Michigan will whisper our names to the Sun that kisses them. The roaring Niagara, the sighing Illinois, the singing Delaware, will chant unceasingly our Dta-wa-e (Death Song). Can it be that you and your children will hear that eternal song without a stricken heart? We have been guilty of only one sin—we have had possessions that the White man coveted. We moved away toward the setting sun; we gave up our homes to the White man.

My Brothers, among the legends of my people it is told how a chief, leading the remnant of his people, crossed a great river, and striking his tipi-stake upon the ground, exclaimed, "A-la-ba-ma!" This, in our language, means "Here we may rest!" But he saw not the future. The White man came: he and his people could not rest there; they were driven out, and in a dark swamp they were thrust down into the slime and killed. The word he so sadly spoke has given a name to one of the White man's states. There is no spot under those stars that now smile upon us, where the Indian can plant his foot and sigh "A-la-ba-ma". It may be that Wakanda will grant us such a place. But it seems that it will be only at His side. (End quoting)

The unexcusable discomfort and indignation and brutality that the White man brought upon the Indian has not been exercised on them alone. History has shown us that the White man is also capable of doing, and does do, things of horrendous magnitude to his own fellow White man. This, of course, would include the incredible world wars we have witnessed.

Before we get into World War I, let's examine for a moment the 16th Amendment. It is no coincidence that this amendment was passed in the same year, 1913, as the Federal Reserve Act.

An excellent book entitled The Law That Never Was, written by Bill Benson and M. J. "Red" Beckman, published by Constitutional Research Associates, documents how the amendment was never properly ratified. But that has never stopped those who manipulate our government from imposing a tax on incomes. Thomas Jefferson, in his First Inaugural Address, on March 4, 1801, stated that, "...a wise and frugal government...shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned." Our nation's Founders never envisioned or intended for our government to tax the fruits of labor, as this would constitute an infringement on our pursuit of happiness. Up until 1943, we were able to build the United States as it then existed by simply taxing business, which has always been a legitimate source of tax revenues. But the bankers always want more.

The income tax didn't come into real prominence until the 1940s, during World War II. When anyone today mentions that they do not support or pay income taxes, they are often challenged by well-intentioned individuals who suggest that the non-taxpayer does not support America or the government. Those well-intentioned individuals are, unfortunately, misguided by government propaganda and are uninformed about how the monetary and income tax systems really work. Part III of this series explained how monies for Congressional appropriations (i.e., infrastructure functions) are, in essence, created out of thin air by the Federal Reserve. Today, over 95% of income taxes collected go to the Federal Reserve to pay the interest on the national debt to the international bankers. If the reader doubts this assertion, look at the back of your cancelled check if you have ever had to pay additional income tax at the end of the year. On the back of the check you will more than likely see a stamp which states, "PAY ANY FEDERAL RESERVE BANK". This means only one thing, that your money just went to the Federal Reserve, a private corporation owned by international bankers, and none of it went to the Department of the Treasury. Those who do elect to pay income taxes must be aware, like it or not, that their money has gone to foreign bankers, and that they are in actuality contributing to the destruction of the United States of America. The above information is by no means intended to be construed as an endorsement, by this author, of those who choose not to pay income taxes, and is only provided for information purposes.

By 1914, the wealth of America was being further consolidated into fewer and fewer hands. That year, the income of 44 families making $1 million or more equaled the total income of 100,000 families earning $500 a year.

The Roman playwright, Seneca, once said, "He who gains most advantage from a crime is the one most likely to have committed it." World War I was a major international crime foisted off on humanity. Those who gained the most advantage from the war were the usual players, the international bankers, the major oil companies and the armament manufacturers. The whole thrust of World War I seems to again embody a larger agenda being pursued by the international bankers. This time it appears as though their plans were leading toward the formation of a One World Government, of which they would be the obvious masters.

Once the international bankers had consolidated control of the United States through the Federal Reserve, they immediately began to implement their plans for a great world war. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand, the Archduke of Austria, on June 28, 1914, was the excuse used to start the war. The Archduke and his wife, the Archduchess, were being chauffeured through Sarajevo in Bosnia-Herzegovina (later called Yugoslavia, now again Bosnia-Herzegovina) when 6 assassins of the Black Hand, a Serbian secret society controlled by the wealthy elite, opened fire on them. Miraculously, the Archduke survived the attack, but his chauffeur became confused, took a wrong turn, and then stopped in front of one of the assassins who this time did not miss. The Archduke and his wife were killed. But the Archduke should not have been too surprised, for he had been told a year before this that the Freemasons had made the decision to kill him.

More recently, in April of 1996, another "apparent" assassination was carried out in Bosnia-Herzegovina, this time killing United States Commerce Secretary Ron Brown and 34 others, including business associates. Of course, all of the major news media claimed it was an "accident".

Kaiser Wilhelm II, ruler of Germany, supported Austria and declared war on Russia and France. Britain then joined the war against Germany. The Rothschilds bought a major interest in three leading European news agencies, including Reuters in England. Add to this the fact that M. M. Warburg Co. was financing the Germans, and the fact that Paul Warburg's firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. would later be financing the U. S. in the war, and you have a classic scenario that was later used in World War II, and is still used to this day, namely, funding both sides in a conflict. (In today's elections, the wealthy fund both sides, so that no matter who wins, it's their man.) In this war, however, millions of soldiers would hear their Dta-wa-e, their Death Song.

In the United States during this period, we were in hard times. In 1914, a serious recession had begun (remember what Congressman Charles Lindbergh said about the Federal Reserve creating such things?). Business across America was depressed (intentionally so?), farm prices were down, unemployment was high, and our heavy industries were functioning well below their capacities. In the midst of the war, radical writer Randolph Bourne would state that, "War is the health of the state."

By 1915, war orders for the Allies had stimulated the American economy. By 1917, America had produced over $2 billion worth of goods for the war. America was once again prosperous thanks to that old standby, war. The United States Steel Co. made $348 million in profits in 1916 alone. By the end of the war, DuPont Co. would see its capital increase from $83 million to $308 million. But America was not yet directly involved in the war as an active participant. How do you suppose that was orchestrated? Well, the plan involved a British "passenger" ship, the Lusitania.

First of all, the Lusitania was not a passengers-only vessel, as Americans were told by the press, and was carrying military supplies for the British. Before the ship departed from New York City a telegram was delivered to the Lusitania for one of its passengers, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, of one of the American Eastern Establishment families. The telegram was a warning to Vanderbilt not to set sail with the ship. The telegram failed to reach him, and the ship departed. It becomes quite obvious that someone knew exactly what was about to happen. The Lusitania was intentionally sailed, without escort, into an area known to be crawling with German U-boats. Consequently, the ship was torpedoed. The Lusitania sank in 18 minutes, with all 1,198 persons on board sacrificed, including 124 Americans, to satisfy the greedy plans of those who have controlled the world for far too long.

Three American organizations coordinated our entrance into the war: The Council on National Defense (with members who were Rothschild agents), the Navy League (dominated by J. P. Morgan), and the League to Enforce Peace (with members from J.P. Morgan Co., the Rothschilds, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.). Is anyone else getting sick of this yet? You might as well get used to these names, you'll be hearing a lot more about them in this series. Guess who was our Assistant Secretary of the Navy at the time? Would you believe Franklin Delano Roosevelt!

Congress officially declared war against Germany on April 6, 1917. But Americans were not all blindly following our corrupt leaders. In the summer of 1917, tens-of-thousands of farmers in Minnesota protested the war, the draft, and profiteering by big business and the banks, at the expense of American lives. The Akron, Ohio Beacon-Journal, a conservative newspaper, said that America had "never embarked upon a more unpopular war".

The American Government set up a "Committee on Public Information" to persuade Americans that the war was the right thing for us to be involved in. It was a massive effort to try to excite a reluctant public.

In June of 1917, Congress passed The Espionage Act, and President Woodrow Wilson signed it into law. From its unambiguous language, it was patently clear that the Act was to be used to imprison Americans who spoke or wrote against the war. Two months later, Charles Schenck was arrested in Philadelphia for printing and distributing leaflets that denounced the draft and the war. His leaflets claimed that the draft was "a monstrous deed against humanity in the interests of the financiers of Wall Street". Do you believe that he was wrong? It sounds like he figured it out exactly. Schenck was tried, found guilty, and sentenced to six months in jail.

Schenck appealed his conviction to the Supreme Court of the United States, arguing that the Act violated his First Amendment rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Noted Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes delivered the opinion of the court. His words have often been quoted since he first spoke them, (quoting):

The most stringent protection of free speech would not protect a man in falsely shouting fire in a theatre and causing a panic... The question...is whether the words used...create a clear and present danger...that Congress has a right to prevent. (End quoting)

Thus, the Supreme Court shot down our First Amendment rights and approved The Espionage Act, which remains in force even today. Zechariah Chafee, a Harvard Law School professor, in his book entitled Free Speech in the United States (Antheneum Books, New York, 1969), commented on what Schenck had said. Chafee contends that Schenck's actions were more like someone shouting, not falsely, but truly, to people about to buy tickets and enter a theater, that there was a fire raging inside. So much for our Supreme Court. Who were they working for anyway? It makes one wonder. This is yet another example of treason to our Constitution, this time committed by the Supreme Court. And The Espionage Act also shows how the wealthy world manipulators mold the laws to suit their destructive agenda. During the war, about 900 people went to prison under the Act. The government and big business kept up their campaign to discourage opposition to the war, by supporting military bands, flag waving, and promoting the mass buying of war bonds.

For the entire first part of the 20th century, and including the period of World War I, there was a growing movement among the people toward Socialism. This was in response to the fact that people perceived Capitalism as exploiting the masses, with the wealthy taking everything for themselves. What the people did not realize was that the Capitalists had developed and were practicing a kind of Socialism for the rich. They were providing the wealthy with everything they needed, and left the masses to fend for themselves!!

World War I ended in November 1918 with tens-of-millions dead on all sides. It was a war that had been carefully planned, orchestrated and executed by the international bankers, big business and a network of secret societies. Had they not acted in concert to create the war, it would never have happened. These world manipulators win every time, no matter which country appears to win or lose, no matter how many die. The bankers had made huge loans to both sides. Their incredible profits always net them more money than they could ever possibly spend. So the real motivation for their actions appears to be not so much money, as it is the power that that money brings. They seem to thoroughly enjoy the great chess game of manipulating world events. Would that they could do so while benefiting all of mankind. That, however, may be destined to be for some other future civilization, unless we are able to wake up, throw off those invisible self-created chains that bind us down, seize the power our Creator has given us, and turn this mess around to realize, and bring into actuality, the dream of America's bold Founders. And to do so while respecting the rights of all mankind, including this continent's original native inhabitants.

In the spring of 1919, just outside of Paris, France, the Versailles Peace Conference began, which produced the treaty that settled World War I. The host of the Conference was none other than Baron Edmund de Rothschild. Among the delegates was American President Woodrow Wilson, with his two advisors, Colonel House and Bernard Baruch, both of whom were Rothschild-Elite representatives. The Peace Conference would decide to place certain economic limitations on Germany, including that Germany should pay $12 billion in reparations. These conditions would later ensure Adolf Hitler's rise to power. It was also decided that there would be a return to the gold standard, which made it impossible for Germany to make reparations.

Colonel House was the chief architect of what would be the covenant of the new League of Nations, the Elite's first serious attempt at setting up a One

Vortex Kit

WATER—THE MOST AMAZING SUBSTANCE ON EARTH

Water is alive. The discovery made by Henry Coanda in the 1920s showed that water flowing over any surface tends to cling to that surface. As the rivers flow, the water clings to rocks and soil picking up the minerals on its way down. As the water picks up speed and goes around and over rocks, spinning in different directions, millions of vortices are formed. The swirling vortices produce electricity which has been measured in lab tests and reveals that this motion colloidalized the minerals making them easily absorbable by the body.

Patrick Flanagan carried on the research only to discover that these vortices can be duplicated by stirring or agitating the water. Dealing with a 4" diameter vortex, Flanagan lowered a thin, specially shielded wire electrode into the center of its vortical throat, being careful not to allow the wire to touch the water. By means of another electrode touching the water, he was able to record a charge of more than ten thousand volts emitted from its swirling water when the vortex was moving at approximately one thousand revolutions per minute. By drinking this water, it is said that the body's cells gain a charge that can prevent them from clumping and aging quickly.

New Gaia offers a way to duplicate this vortex in your own home with the use of a simple inexpensive process. The kit they present contains two bottles, the vortex coupling with magnets and the simple instructions on how to create the vortex. The Rare Earth minerals offered by New Gaia in capsule form [see box on p. 5], would be a potent addition to break open and put into the water before the vortex procedure. The electrical energy created by the vortex action will thus colloidalize the minerals making them easy to assimilate. The colloidal minerals and electrically charged water potential make even the most common of waters alive with youth-offering properties. Order the Vortex Kit from New Gaia for $8.

World Government. The Rockefellers provided the money to build the League's headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The League of Nations was actually designed to impose its will on member nations under the pretext of ending war; wars which the international bankers always started.

Among the other outcomes of the Peace Conference was the founding, in Britain, of the Royal Institute for International Affairs, whose specific purpose was to control every facet of the United States.

In the June 11, 1996 issue of CONTACT, on page 29, there appeared an article by this author entitled "F.E.M.A. and the New World Order". In the article it was disclosed that on May 30, 1919, several delegates to the Versailles Peace Conference met at the Hotel Majestic in Paris to discuss setting up a group that would advise their respective governments on international affairs. It was subsequently decided to set up separate organizations in each country to cooperate with one another. This gave birth in America to the founding, in New York City, of the Council on Foreign Relations (C.F.R.). Money for the founding of the C.F.R. came from J.P. Morgan, Paul Warburg and John D. Rockefeller. This is the same group of wealthy men responsible for setting up the Federal Reserve.

All of the various decisions that came out of the Versailles Peace Conference were specifically designed to create the conditions which would eventually culminate in another major world war to begin approximately 20 years later. In between, of course, it's always good to throw in an economic collapse and a big depression. This is a pattern that has been in place for some time, namely, have a war every 20 years. It is only We The People, in our blindness to these larger plans, who allow all this death and destruction to continue.

The League of Nations would be doomed to failure because Americans did not fully support it, primarily because it was not on American soil. No problem, the League would then simply be the first step toward the establishment of the United Nations in New York City in 1945.

Should the reader have any questions regarding Elite plans to involve the world in a war whose outcome would provide the foundation for a world government, consider the following (remember, there would have been no war if the Elite had not created one). The following nations made, or were the recipients of, formal Declarations of War from 1914 through 1918: Austria-Hungary, Germany, Russia, France, Great Britain, Belgium, Montenegro, Serbia, Japan, Turkey, Italy, San Marino, Bulgaria, Portugal, Rumania, United States, Cuba, Panama, Greece, Siam (Thailand), Liberia, China, Brazil, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Haiti, and Honduras. That makes 28 nations directly involved. In addition, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, and Ecuador broke Diplomatic Relations with Germany. Exactly how many other nations were involved peripherally through economic or other associations with these nations is not known. It would not be too surprising if the number of peripherally involved nations equaled or exceeded those involved directly.

Historians of the future will marvel most of all at the non-resistance of those who had the most to lose.

- General George Van Horn Moseley, commenting on the decline of the American republic

Is it possible that all these nations just happened to find reasons to declare war? Due to the fact that the Monroe Doctrine (1823) let the European nations know that we considered the countries of the Western Hemisphere to be within the U.S. sphere of influence, it would be expected that Declarations of War or severing of relations by Latin American countries would have more than a little to do with United States pressure or insistence.

Something else that is troubling: One of the three American organizations that coordinated our entrance into the war was the League to Enforce Peace. That name is an oxymoron. How can anyone "force" peace on anyone else? That would be akin to a 'Committee to Force People to Smile'! The Elite first create the conditions for war, and then they create the solution, which always involves "forcing" their brand of "peace" down the throats of those nations who did not "tow the line" in the first place. Note the similarity of the name "League to Enforce Peace" and the opening sentence of the Preamble to the United Nations Charter, adopted in 1945. We'll examine that later. Just realize that today we have United Nations Peace Keeping Forces to force the Elite brand of "peace" on those nations who do not accept it willingly.

Thus, America entered the 1920s with our national power firmly in the hands of the international bankers, who had no intention of letting the people rest. The Federal Reserve had initially promised to help the American farmers in their annual need for credit, for equipment and harvesting. The farmers had seen through the bankers' scheme and did not support passage of the Federal Reserve Act, pointing out that the system appeared likely to benefit only the bankers. The Federal Reserve held a secret meeting on May 18, 1920, and decided to raise the rate on agricultural loans to 7%, which precipitated the Agricultural Depression of 1920-1921.

Although there was some truth to the standard perception of the 1920s as a time of prosperity and fun, that prosperity was primarily concentrated at the top. According to Historian Merle Curti, author of the book The Growth of American Thought (Harper & Row: New York, 1943), it was "only the upper ten percent of the population that enjoyed a marked increase in real income". But Mr. Curti claims that this information could not be widely known at the time because big business controlled the media.

Some writers, like F. Scott Fitzgerald, tried to break through. He wrote, in an article entitled "Echoes of the Jazz Age" that, "It was borrowed time anyway..." Fitzgerald saw ominous signs amid the prosperity: drunkenness, unhappiness and violence.

We shall return to examine the 1920s, the beginnings of a major expansion of mind control of the masses, a look at the Federal Reserve Board of Governors meeting with the heads of the European central banks to plan the Great Depression of 1929-1939, and the ever-brilliant wisdom of Calvin Coolidge who exclaimed in 1930 that, "When more and more people are thrown out of work, unemployment results".

ECSTASY TO AGONY THROUGH THE PLAN 2000

In the course of men's lives comes the opportunity to do that which is ungodly or that which epitomizes the intent of GOD. Through the ages of man's experience he has often been brilliant and often become as evil creatures of manufactured robotic actors on the stage called physical life in expression. As unbalance has occurred so has the very planet brought ending to civilizations--some at the hands of the very men who would have rule and kingdomship over all things physical--wistfully efforting to capture the very God-soul of each and all beings. The cycle has come full circle--the time is at hand and YOU must know that which has brought you down. Herein is presented "THE PLAN" for capture by the adversary of God--and that which could have saved your world--had you borne God-Truth as your shield. Where shall YOU go from here?

ACCUSATIONS

Excerpted off Internet from Beverly Kennedy, <beverly@bounty.flash.net>, 7/8/96, [quoting:]

In answer to critical comments regarding the New American and the John Birch Society:

I'm glad to see that there are others who realize that where there's smoke there is usually at least some fire, and that it's extremely beneficial to always have and keep an open mind—especially when it comes to politics, because the wordsmiths have become exceedingly skilled at their trade!

They have some interesting facts on their side, and when I read their writings, I try to extract the facts which can be verified and which help explain certain phenomena. I have found that, to get the true picture of the world as it is, I must read information from ideologues of all stripes, because it is only these groups that are willing to challenge the official history of the United States. But I have also learned that they are out to grind their own axes, not to do objective evaluation of facts. Therefore, I must be very conservative in evaluating their information.

"Though the silenced opinion be an error, it may, and very commonly does, contain a portion of truth; and since the general or prevailing opinion on any subject is rarely or never the whole truth, it is only by the collision of adverse opinions that the remainder of the truth has any chance of being supplied. —John Stuart Mill from his treatise On Liberty. Some excellent advice.

A PREDICTION

by Jesse Garcia

From LEADING EDGE NEWSPAPER, July/Aug. 1996, [quoting:]

[Prologue:] These predictions are intended to forewarn and forearm those who read them. It is our editorial position that there are many probabilities for our future on Earth these days, and the following is one we choose to share with our readers at this time. We believe that the people of Atlantis had plenty of forewarning about the physical demise of their continent. We also feel that Mother Earth will, at some point, cleanse herself of pollution and negativity afoot on her surface. That time may be now. We believe as Page Bryant discusses in this issue that we are all as safe within our own Spirits as we choose to be. An Indian wise man once said, when asked what we are to do in an earthquake, "If you survive you get up. If you don't survive, you don't." We believe Jesse Garcia to be a sincere, honest man. He has experienced visions of things to come since the age of 5. He knew about the San Francisco 1989 earthquake two weeks before it happened and even knew the time would be 5:10 a.m. or p.m. It was. At the age of 14 he so convinced his military father of the impending Viet Nam War that his father retired early in his career so he wouldn't have to fight another war. A more complete story will be presented in the next issue of the Leading Edge Newspaper.

Following is a summery of Jesse's vision:

Jesse: In my vision I see an earthquake coming, and it's within the next five and one-half months. My vision is showing me the number 8.9-14.6-15.2. It's around 4:30 to 5:30 in the morning. There's very little traffic out. It will affect Los Angeles [and] all the way up to Seattle and up to Mt. St. Helens. Six volcanos are going to start to be active. They are Mt. St. Helens, Mt. Rainier, Mt. Olympia, Mt. Hood, Mt. Shasta and Mt. Lassen. Mt. Rainier is the one that will start to go and it's going to be felt all the way across the United States to the East Coast.

LE: What details can you share, Jesse?

Jesse: Some of the volcanos have smoke coming from them now, and the lava has been rising for some time. There are small tremors in California and small houses that are tumbling. This is to wake people up—to get them out of there. I saw fire and smoke all over. I saw buildings tumbling. I saw people lying in the street. I saw cars that looked like cans. I saw multiple explosions, like a nuclear bomb had hit. There was no way to get on the freeway after this happened.

LE: Okay.

Jesse: When the volcanos exploded it was like a chain reaction, up and down the coast. All of a sudden the ocean started rising and sloshing back and forth, up and down, rising to 50 to 100 stories high. The West Coast was badly destroyed. The destruction went all the way to Alaska and the icebergs started breaking up.

LE: Was the damage mostly on the West Coast? What about the rest of the country?

Jesse: It started on the West Coast, but then it came to the East. You could hear the rumblings day and night. The quakes were all across the country, but smaller. People were running into camping places to buy tents and shoes and anything they could in case their house was lost. I was shown martial law taking over. There were helicopters flying everywhere looking for survivors. People were trying to go to see their loved ones (on the West Coast), but everybody was contained by the government. Those who were hoarding food and water had it taken away and shared with others who had no food or water. A lot of people were prepared for this, but it didn't do any good because the government and law officers took the extra food and gave it to those who needed it. My vision shows me riots and looting and the freeways on the West Coast are badly damaged. People are going into buildings to help others and getting trapped.

LE: How long did the earthquakes last?

Jesse: Less than a week, but the volcanos continue...and volcanos around the world are activated.

LE: What else did your vision show you?

Jesse: A lot of people are homeless now, but many more become homeless when this happens. The ones who never cared for the homeless in the first place, I see as being the ones who are going to be homeless. Loved ones who want to go to the West Coast to help can't get there because the roads are blocked by the military. Phone lines are down. There's no communication except from the military. There's no way of knowing what is going on except by what they say.

LE: What about the rest of the country?

Jesse: The East Coast is not that bad, but a lot of buildings are destroyed. You feel tremors between 4 and 5.

LE: What about the effect of tidal waves on the East Coast?

Jesse: It's like sloshing water. People are moving away, moving toward Mississippi and Kansas. But, then you've got the weather changes, like twisters. All parts of the country are affected. Sometimes the weather is hot, sometimes cold. People will be saying, "What's going on? When will it stop?" It goes on and on. People finally start to cooperate, once things calm down, even though the Earth still moves beneath their feet. People began to realize that they've got to start taking care of themselves and those who are still alive. I see people gathering in what used to be churches and praying. People realize that God is there to help them, if they will only ask.

LE: Sounds like a positive outcome.

Jesse: Yes, I see people beginning to understand that Mother Earth is like a human being, a person and that she has feelings, and she's suffering. People decide to help her, to see if there's some way they can change themselves. They begin figuring out how to respect Mother Earth more. They start learning how to respect their neighbors. You know, people are not helping each other now. They sometimes say, "Oh, I don't care." Things don't settle down until people start settling down and start coming to an understanding that they can learn a new way of living, especially those who have always taken everything for granted and went out and tore up Mother Earth. I see people from all over the world finally coming together. [End quoting]

Are you prepared? Time appears to have almost run out for preparations as many are coming up with close time periods for many and severe disasters.

Before we can have a better environment, Mother Earth has to be cleansed of all the evil and our old systems of "so called" civilization so that we can start anew. After all, a farmer turns over the ground to plant a new crop. It appears that God is eventually going to give those who have earned it a fresh start on a rebirthed Earth.

FARRAKHAN WARNS GROUP OF FAILING TO REPORT TRUTH

From JOHNSON CITY PRESS, 8/22/96, [quoting:] NASHVILLE, [Tennessee]—Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan told a gathering of Black journalists Wednesday that they are doing the public a huge disservice by failing to report the truth.

"White folk did not hire you to really represent what Black people are really thinking and you don't really tell them what you think because you are too afraid. This does not protect democracy," Farrakhan told the National Association of Black Journalists at their opening session.

"The people who own the newspapers from which you work, they have an opinion, they have a philosophy, they have a guiding principle that they skew the news. A scared-to-death Negro is a slave, you slave writers, slave media people."

The outspoken organizer of last fall's Million Man March, which filled the Mall in Washington with Black political activists, said journalists deliver filth, not news.

"The masses are being fed filth, ignorance, stupidity in the name of news, in the name of media," he said.

The audience gave Farrakhan more than one standing ovation, but some took issue with his criticism. Others said the same charges could be leveled at White reporters.

"He could have talked about White reporters, too," said Bruce Spinks of The Houston Chronicle. "They (Black reporters) face a lot of the same problems that White reporters might have. It's the same problems that everybody faces."

Robert Keane of Newsday said it was hard to disagree with most of what Farrakhan said, but added he thinks "most Black journalists are doing good work."

A scheduled speech at a voter registration meeting at the Baptist World Center, headquarters of the 3-million member National Baptist Convention USA Inc., was canceled by denomination president the Rev. Henry Lyons. Lyons cited different philosophies and spiritual perspectives.

But the Rev. James Thomas, pastor of a church in a different National Baptist denomination, offered Farrakhan his pulpit for Wednesday night's speech.

Farrakhan said he wants to take a billion dollars offered by Libyan president Moammar Gadhafi, despite a new federal law that would forbid American citizens taking gifts from Libya.

He said Gadhafi told him he was impressed with his work with the Million Man March. [End quoting]

I read in this morning's paper [8/29/96] that our government has denied him permission to accept this gift and a $250,000 prize [Gadhafi Prize for Human Rights] which he has been offered.

SECRET REPORTS OF THE DEA ON O.J. SIMPSON

From the Internet, by Sherman H. Skolnick, 7/31/96, [quoting:]

Secret reports of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration reportedly detail the who, what and when of the double murder. According to the reports, DEA undercover teams had been tracking Ron Goldman, part of a major homosexual drug-smuggling force: dope, on credit, to fancy people at fancy restaurants, like where Ron was a waiter.

Ron was the major DEA target, not Nicole. She had taken over the ownership of O.J.'s fast food stores. The real owners/operators, the reports contend, have been corrupt top California police.

As fingered by the report, the dope loot was washed through banks headquartered in California owned mostly by the Yakuza, the Japanese mafia: Wells Fargo Bank, interlocked with Household International and Household Bank, and Bank America, holding firm for Bank of America, now owners of the Continental Bank of Chicago.

Tracking Nicole, the reports state, were O.J.'s private detectives—his jealousy. They, along with DEA teams and extreme low-lux video, witnessed a dope hit team butchering both Ron and Nicole, Samurai style.

The reports hint O.J. trial judge Lance Ito is a cover-up artist. The judge's wife, Margaret York, has been a top L.A. police official in charge of investigations of police corruption. The reports identify her as liaison to DEA and quite familiar with details in these DEA documents and files.

Judge Ito blocked efforts of O.J. defense counsel Johnny Cochran from putting in details relating to all this. Defense counsel Robert Shapiro, however, has reportedly been very close to major drug traffickers.

Since O.J. knew of the double murder, through his detectives, is O.J. a murder accomplice by going along with the cover-up?

The DEA is bitter. They have been blocked, reportedly, in targeting Ron's father, Fred Goldman, who has mobilized public opinion in the cover-up.

[CN Transcript of 10/13/95 interview with Mr. Skolnick:]

CONSPIRACY NATION: So there's a video of the murder?

Sherman Skolnick: Extreme low-lux. They've got cameras that work in minimum light.

CONSPIRACY NATION: So there "is" a video of the actual murders. [End quoting]

I have no confirmation of this information.

PERFECT FREEDOM

by Charles W. Colson, Washington D.C.

The following stories are from GUIDEPOSTS, P.O. Box 1479, Carmel, NY 10512, [quoting:]

As one who has served time in prison, and has since spent most of my life working in them, I'll never forget the most unusual prison I've ever visited.

Called Humaita Prison, it is in Sao José dos Campos in Brazil. Formerly a government prison, it is now operated by Prison Fellowship Brazil as an alternative prison, without armed guards or high-tech security. Instead, it is run on the Christian principles of love of God and respect for men.

Humaita has only two full-time staff; the rest of the work is done by the 730 inmates serving time for everything from murder and assault to robbery and drug-related crimes. Every man is assigned another inmate to whom he is accountable. In addition, each prisoner is assigned a volunteer mentor from the outside who works with him during his term and after his release. Prisoners take classes on character development and are encouraged to participate in educational and religious programs.

When I visited this prison, I found the inmates smiling—particularly the murderer who held the keys, opened the gates and let me in. Wherever I walked I saw men at peace. I saw clean living areas. I saw people working industriously. The walls were decorated with motivational sayings and Scripture.

Humaita has an astonishing record. Its recidivism rate is 4 percent, compared to 75 percent in the rest of Brazil. How is that possible?

I saw the answer when my inmate guide escorted me to the notorious cell once used for solitary punishment. Today he told men, it always houses the same inmate. As we reached the end of the long concrete corridor and he put the key into the lock, he paused and asked, "Are you sure you want to go in?"

"Of course," I replied impatiently. "I've been in isolation cells all over the world." Slowly he swung open the massive door, and I saw the prisoner in that cell: a crucifix, beautifully carved—Jesus, hanging on the cross.

"He's doing time for the rest of us," my guide said softly. [End quoting]

This story presents a good lesson in psychology of handling some prisoners but Jesus doesn't "do time" for anyone; but he did pay a bitter price because of others.

WHAT PRAYER CAN DO

For several months I had been working on my prayer life, grappling with the concept that God knows our needs no matter how we express them. One evening, arriving at church for a mid-week meeting, I parked my car, turned off the ignition and reached into the glove compartment for my Bible. But it wasn't there. "Now where have I left it?" I wondered.

I used to ask the Lord to help me locate things I had lost. Often he had answered. "Lord, please show me where I've left my Bible."

Suddenly a picture came to mind: my Bible, lying on the table in the vestibule of the church.

When I walked in, sure enough, there it was. I must have laid it down there while chatting after the Sunday morning service. "Thank you, Lord!" I said, feeling that old familiar rush of excitement that comes with an immediate answer to prayer.

Just then our pastor's wife came through the door from the sanctuary. "Linda, I see you've found your Bible," she said.

"Yes," I answered. "Right where I left it."

"Well, no," she said. "Actually you left it in the women's lounge. So I put it there on the table for you."

I smiled at the wisdom of God. He didn't give me exactly what I had asked for; he gave me what I needed.

GOOD QUESTION

At an estate sale, I spotted a first edition of my all-time favorite novel, In His Steps, already in another woman's pile. I edged closer to the lucky shopper sitting cross-legged on the floor, hoping the book would slip, forgotten, from her lap.

Written in the late 1800s by Charles Sheldon, the story is about how an entire town is transformed when the people start asking themselves one simple question: "What would Jesus do in this situation?"

Suddenly I caught myself. "You'll enjoy that book," I said to the woman. "It changed my whole way of thinking."

More Historical Insight From Colonel Fletcher Prouty

8/28/96 #1 HATONN

I would like to offer a letter from Fletcher Prouty, Colonel, USAF Ret. Since the memorable interview [7/9/96 Front Page story] with Rick Martin of CONTACT we have had many inquiries as to more information about this man. I don't think revelation is what you ask for and in that event I don't have any anyway. I will say, however, that he KNOWS more about almost everything than he wishes to disclose. He was in charge of some of the major security factions at Kennedy's assassination. For "some" reason it is reported that he was not, however, anywhere around and was in fact safely OUT OF THE COUNTRY at the time of the event. Everything doesn't add up? Well, in politics it rarely adds up correctly. That does not mean that you don't have a very informed man with even greater observation ability than do any of you—so we offer what we have as a portion of an advertising letter from Prouty regarding THE BARNES REVIEW. By the way, this doesn't mean that the "reports of" are correct either!

[QUOTING:]

FROM THE DESK OF:

L. FLETCHER PROUTY

(Colonel, USAF Ret.)

Formerly, Office of Special Operations in the Office of the Secretary of Defense; Chief of Special Operations with the Headquarters USAF, and Chief of Special Operations with the Joint Staff; and responsible for the "Military Support of the Clandestine Operations of the CIA", 1955-1964.

(Portrayed as "Mr. X", Donald Sutherland's role, in the Oliver Stone film production JFK)

Dear Friend:

During this Twentieth Century, there has been a flood of creative and interpretative history that has been inadequately researched, totally misguided, replete with the omission of crucial facts, strongly biased and just generally of poor quality.

What is even more damaging to the welfare of the American public is that these fabricated historical presentations have misled generations of students and their professors!

Rousseau, you see, was correct... "Falsification of history has done more to impede human development than any one thing known to mankind."

This has been further confirmed by Hegel, who added: "History is the process in which the human spirit carries out its self-appointed task of attaining self-knowledge."

To do that, of course, the history studied must be true. As a former professor at Yale University during the immediate post-World War II years, and as a long-time member of the Society of Historians for American Foreign Relations, I am well aware of the over-bearing prevalence of the "Court Historian" who literally contrives the historical record in favor of concepts that benefit his sponsors on behalf of their vested interests.

As one who has devoted a half-century writing and teaching history as accurately and honestly as possible... a fair share of it based upon experience... I am convinced of this:

There is simply no way you can understand what is really happening in the world today UNLESS the history you have been taught and that you have read is truly an accurate and unbiased account of what happened in the past.

And, while I mention contrived and inaccurate history, it is equally imperative that I include the great significance of historical omission and cover-up that is even more pernicious.

Here are just a few examples of historical "facts" that have been revised beneficially by honest and able scholars:

THE ATTACK ON PEARL HARBOR WAS A "SURPRISE"

Now, unbiased and more dedicated historians have presented the fact that both FDR and Churchill had been planning for the American entry into World War II and knew that the Japanese attack was coming.

I was on active duty with the U.S. Army Fourth Armored Division during 1941, many months before Pearl Harbor. How did it happen that this huge, newly-activated division had been stationed near the south banks of the St. Lawrence River on the Canadian border, and that every man was fully equipped with Arctic equipment—including skis—"for duty with the Russians in the Murmansk area", if our leaders had not planned, long before Pearl Harbor, that American forces were scheduled to serve there?

Here's another historical myth that's been exploded by the facts:

A "LONE" ASSASSIN KILLED PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

Even today, more than thirty years after the fact—despite massive growing evidence to the contrary—the official historical line remains that the former U.S. Marine, Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been assigned to duty with the CIA at the Atsugi Air Base near Tokyo, was the lone presidential assassin.

The "cover story" of few events, if any, in the history of mankind has been more blatantly fabricated and forced upon the public than this, for example:

The official Defense Department "History of the United States Involvement in Vietnam"—popularly known as the Pentagon Papers—has put on the record as the official U.S. Government history of the very day that JFK was killed the following:

22 Nov 1963 Lodge confers with the President.
Having flown to Washington... Lodge meets with the president and presumably continues the kind of report given in Honolulu.

9/1/96(3) Norio Hayakawa

I know of no more significant example of the intentional CORRUPTION OF OFFICIAL HISTORY on any subject, anywhere than that:

President John F. Kennedy's name is not even mentioned in this massive official "history" of events ON THE DAY HE DIED.

This is what is being taught, this is what is being read, this is "Official", and it is being paid for by the American taxpayers. Will later generations even know that we had a president named John F. Kennedy?

(Incidentally, the man that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara put in charge of this "History Task Force" was a member of his own staff, Leslie Gelb, who later served for years as an editor of the New York Times and who is currently the President of the Council on Foreign Relations. Both the Times and the CFR adamantly support the "lone assassin" story and actively vilify those who write the truth.)

And just one more example that further illustrates my point:

THE SOVIETS "SHOT DOWN" THE CIA'S U-2 SPY PLANE ON MAY 1, 1960.

This claim, by both sides—Soviet and American—is absolutely false. The official TRANSCRIPT OF THE "HEARINGS HELD BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS", May 31, 1960, reports that Allen Dulles, then Director of Central Intelligence, testified—as follows—under oath:

We believe that [the U-2] was not shot down at its operating altitude of around 70,000 [feet] by the Russians. We believe that it was initially forced down to a much lower altitude by some as yet undetermined mechanical malfunction. At this lower altitude, it was a sitting duck for Soviet defense, whether fighter aircraft or ground-to-air fire or missiles. As to what happened at the lower altitude, we are not sure. The pilot may have bailed out at any time or he may have crash landed.

As we now know, the pilot simply landed the U-2 with a "dead" engine.

Despite this testimony, and many more pages like it, not a single element of the vast media establishment will publish what Allen Dulles testified. They all write history their own way, as they do with Oswald: "The Russians shot down the U-2 and Oswald shot JFK."

[H: Please take note of that which is not spoken of herein and that is follow-up on Gary Powers, the pilot of that U-2. He faded out of public view and did later become a "sky-reporter" in Los Angeles. You might find it interesting that when there was publicity working its way around these hot topics of such as that U-2 incident—HE WAS KILLED IN HIS AIRCRAFT (CHOPPER) CRASH!]

[END OF QUOTING]

Being short of time this morning we will just highlight some topics that apparently The Barnes Review has covered and which I find most interesting:

* Professor Igo Sharevich and Vladimir Soloukhin, two of Russia's most internationally-acclaimed historians, unveil little-known truths about Russia—before, during and after the Communist seizure of power. (These dramatic expositions were never-before-published in the English language.)

* The amazing untold story of how FDR REFUSED OFFERS by German military officers to topple Hitler and end the war.

* The exciting action-packed war-time reminiscences of General Leon Degrelle, the Belgian Waffen SS officer. You may not agree with everything Degrelle says, but you'll never be able to read his remarkable writings anywhere except in TBR.

* A special report on the greatest war-time atrocity of this century: the bombing of the defenseless city of Dresden, the cultural capital of northern Europe. As many as 400,000 CIVILIANS WERE INCINERATED on that hellish night—although the popular press continues to say there were only 35,000 victims. [H: This was an intentional, pre-planned civilian attack to dishearten the Germans. If you can damage 60% of the civilian population in any given battle—you have won the war!]

* The incredible story of how 2,500 TONS of French gold—then worth some $3 billion dollars—disappeared while in Allied hands during World War II—a big mystery that some powerful interests—and perhaps a few very wealthy people—would prefer be forgotten.

* From the little-known details about ancient explorers from Europe and Asia who visited early America to the amazing tale of the rise and fall of the ancient Spartans to the shocking account of the British crown's slaughter of Scottish patriots at Glencoe in the 17th century.

Well, this could go on but not from me. THE BARNES REVIEW can be obtained from 130 Third Street, SE, Washington, D.C. 20003. It appears that if you mention (or address your correspondence to) Fletcher Prouty and "sign-up" you will get a free anthology of facts. This anthology might well be worth the membership cost for it does seem to cover some interesting topics. Be prepared, however, for the Review is expensive and even "we" have covered the topics as shown on the advertisement—obviously including Fletcher Prouty!

Readers, there is simply no way you can ever get TOO MUCH INFORMATION and when you feel saturated—you then have to discern which tid-bits are most LIKELY to be true and which false and which is simply error of speculation. There is no "speculation revelation" to be had—only the revealing of TRUTH in FACT. This is NOT mysticism—THIS IS SIMPLY FACT. Nothing is even a "mystery", once revealed.

Do I ever take exception with the writers we support? Of course, on some of their subject material. For instance I usually DO NOT agree when we have a writer presenting "opinion" about such things as morality when the topic is concluded as being, say, "...too much religious input has ruined sexuality and prevented us from our great open experience of sexual activities..." What? This is foolishness in EVERY sense of the presentation and shows that the author has not knowledge on ALL topics although he might well have great insight into SOME of his topics.

This is not to start a conversation on sexuality but to point out the misperceptions of mankind-human and where the mind of man is usually residing. Therefore, I can certainly recommend you read the papers of some writers even though I disagree with almost all of the points other than those made from FACT. Opinions always are the factors that get us into trouble and yet, everyone is welcome to his/her opinions. My suggestion is to always read and study EVERYTHING you can get your eyes on—only in that manner of education can you begin to tell right from wrong, truth from fiction and so on. When reading—ALWAYS USE YOUR REASONING, FUNCTIONING, AND THOUGHTFUL MIND! GOD GAVE THE WONDROUS GIFT THAT SETS YOU APART FROM ALL OTHER ENTITIES—THOUGHT AND THE ABILITY TO REASON! PLEASE USE IT. Salu.

Japan's Role In The American Economy

8/28/96 #1 HATONN

BANK OF JAPAN

We are short of time this morning so we will dive right off into the subject of financial "arrangements". It is difficult to realize whether or not the reporters have anything of truth going or just more misinformation through intentional presentation or error of knowledge. Since just the Bush misdealings have brought down three Japanese Banks into being caught short and Sumitomo following on as we speak—I wonder...! However, someone has written the following into his financial newsletter and we are not given the newsletter information or even the name of the writer. I do appreciate his observations and assume there is valid content in his presentation but it is truly a worthy point of attention. The FACTS remain that Japan declined to purchase any further government paper on the debt—and has actually called her notes. But then, so has the Federal Reserve publicly stated that it will no longer take U.S. debt. Yes, and YOU thought the Federal Reserve WAS the "government", didn't you?

Let us just share and then perhaps someone will give us further information regarding the article and we can offer full credit. Thank you.

[QUOTING:]

BANK OF JAPAN IS THE ONLY THING KEEPING THE U.S. FINANCIAL SYSTEM ALIVE

Like the Mad Hatter, the Japanese central bank keeps recycling its vast dollar surplus into U.S. government securities.

If you ever had debt problems, you know the syndrome. Borrowing money gives you a temporary lift—until the day of reckoning comes.

Same is true with the U.S. economy. Forget the spin. No progress has been made on reducing America's vast debt. They have just shifted a lot of debt off the books. Bottom line is, THE U.S. IS CONTINUING DOWN THE SLIPPERY SLIDE INTO BANKRUPTCY LIQUIDATION.

It is a tribute to America's vitality and once-unparalleled greatness that she can rack up such staggering amounts of debt, be bankrupt, and still appear unchanged. The people and government have embarked on a uniquely American trip down the road to big government. They have borrowed more money than any people or nation in history. [H: Yea, even more than EXISTS in the entire world!]

FROM WORLD'S GREATEST CREDITOR TO WORLD'S WORST DEBTOR (IN ONE GENERATION)

Want proof? It's simple. Look at America's balance sheet.

A few years back, America had the world's greatest surplus ever. Now she has the world's greatest deficit ever.

In one decade she squandered the wealth it took centuries to build; in another decade America created the world's greatest debt. And that debt—that government intrusion into every aspect of life—has zapped the great strength out of the nation's arteries.

Now the country with the greatest surplus in world history is Japan. That should tell you something. Right now, the world's emerging financial superpower—Japan—is subsidizing the U.S. dollar, economy and government debt.

For twenty years, the dollar has crashed against the yen. It is now worth only about one-third of its former value. At the present time, Japan has decided its best interests are to keep the dollar temporarily higher. They are using their vast dollar trade surplus to shore up the U.S. economy.

How? By re-circulating the hundreds of billions they get from their trade surplus, back into U.S. government securities. The Japanese are loaning the profits they make from America, back to America. The U.S. is borrowing more and more, so they can buy more and more from the Japanese.

This strategy is brilliant. I'm sure many of you have seen it. A borrower has no cash, but does have an asset he has inherited, that he is not managing well. A good example might be someone who inherited the family farm.

Being a marginal businessman, each year he falls further behind. Soon, he must borrow money to simply make the interest payments. And "Friendly Bob", the banker, keeps loaning him more money against the old homestead. Friendly Bob knows the farmer will never be able to pay back all his loans. But he doesn't care. He just keeps his eye on the amount of debt, and the value of the farm pledged against it. Compounded interest takes care of the rest.

Finally, the day of reckoning arrives. The farmer dies, the debt becomes too big. The family farm is gone, and the banker and his buddies walk away with the farm, under market. He has received payments all along, and now he has the asset as well.

This is due to the fiendish magic of interest on interest. The banker not only has loaned the farmer the principal. He also has loaned him the interest. He has leveraged his money against the debtor.

The Japanese do it even better. They leverage their interest and their profit. They are loaning America the money to buy their high-profit consumer goods. America falls ever deeper into the hole. Japan will end up with much of America's money and her assets.

Another good example of this is the migrant farm workers. They get credit at the company store. Of course, they must pay interest. And they never make enough to lift themselves out of debt. In extreme cases, they become virtual slaves. They must work just to pay back their ever-mounting debt. The slave master, i.e., the company, only has to cover the net value of the goods he sells the worker. Interest takes care of the rest.

Japan has embarked on a similar strategy. They loan America the money to buy their high-profit consumer goods. Eventually, they will be able to buy up America's real assets, at fire sale prices. The end result will be the liquidation of America's real wealth.

The Arabs were the first who learned they could create a real crisis for America's economy. All they had to do was NOT to put their petro-dollars back into America. Fortunately, they made several key mistakes. They did not have the heft or unity to do the job. They tried to move too quickly.

Japan has nearly unlimited capacity to do what the Arabs could not. The Japanese take the long view. They are quite willing to let the debt play out. And in approaching America's liquidation, Japan is united with the rest of Asia. America's biggest exporters are now also her biggest creditors. This makes the Japanese threat far greater than the oil crises.

The single biggest budget expense for the U.S. government is interest on her national debt. And that debt gets ever bigger and bigger.

For twenty years, the dollar has crashed against the yen. It is now worth only about one-third of its former value. At the present time, Japan has decided its best interests are to keep the dollar temporarily higher. They are using their vast dollar trade surplus to shore up the U.S. economy.

How? By re-circulating the hundreds of billions they get from their trade surplus, back into U.S. government securities. The Japanese are loaning the profits they make from America, back to America. The U.S. is borrowing more and more, so they can buy more and more from the Japanese.

Japan already controls the game. They decide much of U.S. policy, at will. Do you think the Federal Reserve controls interest rates? That's a sick joke. Japan does. When Japan buys more U.S. government debt, global and U.S. interest rates drop. When Japan buys less, interest rates climb. The Japanese use their vast horde of surplus trade dollars (over $2 trillion worth) to leverage America. This gives them control over global and U.S. rates, the value of the dollar, and the all-important balance of trade surplus.

In short, the Japanese are using America's sea of red ink to conquer her. They are not firing a shot. Their army that crosses the border—the real invasion force—can be seen entering at any port. The ever-growing U.S. balance of trade deficit tells the story.

Look under America's balance sheets: the naked truth will be apparent to you. America is being conquered. Her economy is being run by the creditor committee. For now, they have agreed to let America save face. But the day is coming soon when they will pull the plug, and the American economic miracle will come crashing down.

[END OF QUOTING]

What does this sound like to ME? Well, since you can't have it BOTH ways it would seem advisable to find out just WHO wrote the above article. It would appear to me that this is great abundance of propaganda—but then it is a fact that the Japanese, for whatever reasons—did have the most debt "interest" in the world in the U.S. at one time. It is the destruction of Japan which probably will come first for when the World Bank forecloses and takes occupation of the U.S., do you see that if the above be "true", Japan cannot survive the call, or loss in bankruptcy, of the U.S.?

Since I know, however, WHO wrote this information—I would suggest you take it very seriously as to content. I can only suggest that you who play great games with the market(s) are going to get wiped out in one fell swoop one of these upcoming days. The game is intended to do exactly THAT. And no, I am not going to come along and bail you out some way. God's purpose is not to attend your bank account! God provides you with "the way" and some of you choose to continue in your "I know better" stance and ongoing gamesmanship. So be it.

Interview With A Master Teacher World Famous Hypnotist Gil Boyne

8/26/96 RICK MARTIN

In a (now) not-so-recent July 10 interview with CONTACT, well-respected, world famous hypnotist and master teacher Gil Boyne sets the record straight on the many misconceptions and misperceptions about the field of hypnosis; while, at the same time, giving some historical background on the evolution of hypnosis as a profession. We at CONTACT would like to take this opportunity to thank Gil for taking time out from his incredibly busy schedule to speak with us. And I would like to extend my apologies to Gil for the delay in getting this interview to print—"life is what happens while you're making other plans." Let us now share this very special conversation, beginning with Part I:

PART I

Explanation to Gil by Rick: I would like to conduct this interview in several parts, just to let you know right up front here. Please know in advance that our readership is international and extremely well informed. I'm not at all concerned about small sound bites, but rather uninterrupted, deep and thoughtful dialogue. With that in mind, do not be concerned about time because we will publish whatever comes about.

With that said, I'd like to begin with some historical retrospective bringing us up through the present. Then, some discussion on the current field of hypnosis and hypnotherapy, moving on into a discussion of the often repressed subject of mind control, as delineated in Mark Phillips' and Cathy O'Brien's book.

Let's start the questioning with the following: You've been performing and teaching hypnosis for longer than would be polite to mention. Who inspired you in the beginning and who were your mentors?

Gil: My first experience with hypnosis began when I was twelve years old. I had an uncle, a great uncle, actually, and his name was David S. Anderson. And he was a magician. He left home at a young age, to travel with the original Harry Blackstone Magic Show. Eventually, he went on his own as a performer. He came to visit us—I lived in Philadelphia at the time—I was twelve years old and he was doing magic and hypnosis. He came to Sunday dinner and he hypnotized my mother and my father, in front of me. Now, they were very—they could be very loud and, even, threatening—authoritarian I guess is a better word—and I know now that it really excited my imagination to see them passively accepting every suggestion that he gave:

"You can not bend your arm."

"You can not open your eyes," that sort of thing. And that, really I think, was the beginning. That's perhaps the first time that I knew there was a power in the mind that was subject to influence; either to our own influence or the influence of another. By the way, he used his initials as his stage name. On the stage he was known as "the Great D.S.A." Sometimes, when he would get into some cities, he would call himself "Nosredna the Great"—and Nosredna is Anderson spelled backwards.

David, then of course, went into the Army when WWII came along and he was in Special Forces and eventually became a colonel in the U.S. Army, and in fact is still alive.

At sixteen, not quite sixteen, I went to a birthday party and I met one of my friends and we were walking to the house where there were two twin sisters. And their parents had set up a little birthday party with ice-cream and cake and that sort of thing. I had talked of my interest in hypnosis to my friend and when we got to the party, quite suddenly, we were all seated there and he said, "Well, you know, he can hypnotize you."

And they all said, "Oh, you can?"

And so, I was trapped. I turned—I had never hypnotized anyone—but I turned to this young girl seated next to me. She said, "Well could you hypnotize me?"

And I said, "Of course I can." (Laughter.)

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: And she said, "Alright."

And I said, "Look at me." And then I said, "Your eyes are getting heavy, heavy, heavy—close them and sleep."

And to my utter amazement, she did. (Laughter.)

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: I was prepared to laugh and say something funny, you know.

Now I didn't know what to say to her. There was a little coffee table in front of her, with a bowl of potato chips on it.

I said, "When you open your eyes you'll find that bowl of potato chips is bolted to the table. The table is bolted to the floor. When you try to lift the bowl, it's impossible; it's too heavy."

And then I said, "And you look over at, I think his name was Charlie, you'll see that his necktie is undone." Now, Charlie was wearing a sport shirt, without a necktie. And I said, "You'll go over and straighten his tie and give him a nice, sweet kiss."

So, with that I said, "Open your eyes."

And I said, "Why don't you pass that bowl of potato chips around?"

So, she struggled and she said, "I don't know what's wrong but I can't lift it."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: I said, "Take a look over there at Charlie."

And she said, "Why Charles, your necktie is crooked." And so, she went over and straightened his imaginary necktie and then gave him a nice kiss and my reputation was made, like that.

Rick: That is so funny.

Gil: (Laughter.)

Gil Boyne, Director

John A. Zulli, Teaching Associate

And so, from then on, everyone would say to me, "Well, do you want to hypnotize me?"

And I'd say, "No, you know, I just don't do this randomly," and I made various excuses. But, it took me to the library where I began a search for information. Well, there wasn't very much information back at that time. That was 1939. And only a few paragraphs in the encyclopedia.

The reason there wasn't very much information, and not many people are acquainted with the fact, but Sigmund Freud was fascinated with hypnosis and, indeed, went to Paris to attend the lectures of Dr. Charcot. Charcot was the director of a mental institution. There were many patients there who suffered from various forms of hysterical ailments such as hysterical paralysis or hysterical loss of speech, loss of hearing, loss of sight. Charcot was a very charismatic lecturer and one of the patients that he had was a woman who had a hysterical paralysis in her left arm. And it's recorded that when he lectured he would take this woman who was demented, he would take her in front of the crowd and he'd say, "Now notice as I pass this magnet up her left arm and across the shoulders and the back and then down the right arm, that the paralysis leaves the left arm and she can lift it but it moves into the right arm." And, from that came the theory of symptom-transferral, that if hypnosis relieves a symptom in one way, it will express itself in another way. And, of course, it wasn't true at all, it was the action of the suggestion upon this woman, who was highly suggestible in the first place or she wouldn't have been in that condition. Well, Freud, as you probably know, developed cancer of the jaw and eventually had thirty-three operations on his jaw—wore some very clumsy prosthetic devices in his mouth—which is the real reason that he wound up sitting behind the subject's head, where they couldn't look at him. But, in one of his writings Freud says that he had a woman hypnotized and she entered into an abreaction or reliving an earlier experience, and that she opened her eyes and she put her arms around his neck—he was sitting along side the couch—and pulled him down on top of her. And at that moment his wife walked in to bring a message to him, and he never hypnotized anyone again.

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: He said, shortly afterward, he developed his method of "free association". Now, although most of the world rejected Freudianism back at the turn of the century, for example, Russia went on with their physiologists and developed their theories of brain function as behavioral determining. But, parts of the Western world accepted Freudianism and the theory of the unconscious. Of course it was very interesting that, even today, many still worship at the shrine of this new religion which, intrinsically, is Marxist, atheist—Freud became a life-long cocaine addict, we know that now—and had a twenty-two year adulterous relationship with his sister-in-law. And my point there is: If we're going to have values, and certainly values are urgently needed at this time of crisis in the existence of our society—why the values of Carl Marx and Sigmund Freud in place of the great monotheistic philosophies that have endured these many centuries?

In any event, because Sigmund Freud rejected hypnosis and because the theory of the unconscious, the writings of Sigmund Freud, became the basis for the training of psychotherapists in the Western world—in the U.S.A. especially—hypnosis fell into disfavor and it was not taught. There were no books on the subject matter because it was a specialty subject. If there weren't specialty practitioners to buy the books, no one was going to invest their money in publishing them, or even their time in writing them. However, there were great pioneers as far back as Anton Mesmer in the 18th century, and James Brade in the 19th century, and many others who had left a body of writings. And so there was a small percentage of mental health workers who retained their interest. When World War II came along and there were so many battlefield traumas, shock neuroses filling the military hospitals, the few psychiatrists who knew and practiced hypnosis were in great demand. And then it was discovered that the great rapidity with which these neuroses were overcome, compared to the traditional talk methods of psychoanalysis, gave hypnosis a new boost. And, of course, that was in and around the end of World War II, 1946-47.

By the '50s there was some developing interest and some books were beginning to emerge. And then, of course, a kind of cult developed around a psychiatrist by the name of Milton Erickson.

Rick: He was my next question.

Gil: Yeah. Erickson suffered from multiple sclerosis and in his later years was limited to—had very limited use of his body and worked from a wheel-chair.

And so, the passivity of his method in his later years developed a cultish philosophy, after his death, that all hypnosis should be done very indirectly with the use of coded words or key words imbedded in language. And, I reject that completely because I view the hypnotic relationship as a partnership and I think to pose it as some kind of a way of tricking a person into a trance is not only manipulative, it's exploitive. And so, my theory is that the hypnotic relationship is a contract. You come to me because you say, "I've become aware that I have another part of my mind that I'm not fully acquainted with and that some of my problems can be greatly helped, I hope, by my becoming more aware of this deeper part of my mind. Now, it's my understanding that you as a hypnotist/hypnotherapist are skilled in accessing that part of my mind, in helping to alter, amend or even replace some existing fixed ideas that are causing my life to be frustrating and ineffective."

And so, when that person comes to me, that's the contract. They say, "I would like you to hypnotize me and use my trance, in my behalf, and teach me how to do it on my own."

And my side of the contract is: this is the work I choose to do and I'm happy to have you here to do it. We will enter into an atmosphere of a relationship, i.e., to create a healing environment; a relationship of Divine love in which the only focus I have upon you is to assist you in whatever way I can, using the knowledge, skill and whatever gifts I'm empowered with to do God's work on this planet. And that's a whole different kind of relationship than a psychoanalytic one where the analyst sits as a superior being, with an attitude of, "You know, I'm highly educated. I'm licensed by the state and I can analyze all of your problems because I'm going to analyze your psyche."

Frankly, I don't think the psyche can be analyzed, but that's another issue.

And then, you're the poor, unfortunate patient. And they are really reflecting an attitude, in most of them, that says, "Don't try to tell me about your unconscious, you don't know anything about it. That's why it's called your unconscious. I know about your unconscious because I had my unconscious analyzed. So, shut-up and just keep writing the checks."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: In this month's Psychology Today, there is an article. And the article is the result of a major study done with psychotherapists in relation to the HMOs, insurance companies, and third party payers. They were surveyed to determine, "What is the ideal number of therapy sessions at which point, in their experience, symptoms are relieved and problems are solved." I was astonished to find the number proposed, the average for most of them was 58 sessions of therapy.

Rick: (Whistle.)

Gil: But that's current. That's in the current edition of Psychology Today. [Now a month or two past.] Now, when you consider in my career of 40 years, the average number of times I saw clients was 8 sessions. That means, rarely did it go over 11 or 12, and often it was 4, 5, or 6, weekly sessions. The difference is that I'm here to empower the client; to be able to say, "I am competent, I am capable in those areas," where they arrived thinking and feeling helpless.

They come in and say, "I just can't seem to..."

A man left my office a little while ago and he talked about the fact that when he is with a woman—he's an actor, he's in his early 30s—he can get very aroused, appropriately, but when they get into bed he loses his erection. I told him, "My goal will be to change whatever ideas in your mind are causing that response, because a great part of your life is being denied to you by the operation of your mind."

And he went on to say how that has eroded his confidence even as an actor. So, long term therapy has three negative results: first, it creates dependence on the therapist; second, it prevents people from dealing with life. They say things like, "Well, I can't make that kind of a decision. My therapist said while I'm in therapy I should avoid major decisions." And third, it often reeks of financial exploitation because money that could be used in behalf of the family and in the interest of the spouse, perhaps, instead of going to the therapist, the person becomes dependent on the therapist, they give a higher priority to that than to perhaps things that should have a priority; maybe braces for Jimmy's teeth or whatever.

Rick: Right.

Gil: That's the major difference. The great flaw in all of that is that we're told about this theory, the Unconscious, the ID, the EGO, and the Superego. And we're told the ID is a pool of restless, primitive and destructive energy and we must spend our lives attempting to socialize it or live in havoc and upheaval all of our lives. Well, nowhere in that theory is there any mention of a Creative Intelligence within, which not only knows all of the questions but knows all of the answers. And what the enlightened therapist does is to help the person to discover the answers within; to remove the blocks that create a cloud of unknowing that cause the person to give that answer, "I don't know". (Laughter.) Of course you do.

I like to say that, from my philosophy, which has a lot of Christian philosophy in it, I like to say that when we enter into a state of grace, the answers become available to us. And, you know, the most popular hymn throughout the world is called Amazing Grace. And we talk about the grace of God. We talk about the fact that we have a divine nature, that we are linked to a Higher Power; that we are made in the Image of God. Does that mean necessarily that God has two arms, two legs, two eyes, a nose and so on? Not at all. It means that God is a Source of Divine Energy which penetrates the Universe, and as we become open to it that Divine Energy which is transcendental in nature, can become imminent. It flows through us. And at our most creative times, I believe we are in a state of Grace, whether it is when we are writing a book or a story or performing our art, singing, painting, lecturing, teaching. Anything that has any aspect of creativity to it, I believe that this is an illustration of our Divine Nature and our utilization of Divine Grace.

I don't mean to sound theological, and I'm not in the business of religion. But I do believe that unless one realizes their spiritual nature and begins to move along a path of recognizing and developing that spiritual nature, they continue to have problems at the levels of human nature.

You know, the pig in the barnyard is only programmed by instinct. It will always behave as a pig. You might train it a little bit, if you give it a little food after it does whatever behaviors you want it to do. But it is still going to behave according to instinct. If you want an animal to catch mice in the barn, you don't use the pig, you use a cat whose instincts are to pursue and to capture small insects and rodents. Only human beings have the ability to rise above an instinctual nature, and that is the glory of mankind.

And that's the excitement of creative hypnotherapy when done by people who are properly motivated, properly trained and have an intense, powerful desire to help their fellow man; to give meaning and substance to their life. Where psychotherapy, in its traditional form—see, if you go to the university to study to become a licensed mental health worker at any level, you must start with the Theory of the Unconscious. That's the starting point. And the problem with that is that they promulgate two major theories about psychotherapy: the first is the idea that all human beings can benefit greatly from psychotherapy because the mere essence of being a human being is to be mixed-up, confused and one who needs to be "straightened-out".

Well, this planet has been spinning for a lot of years, and many billions of people have come and gone and less than a tiny, tiny fragment of 1 percent, an unmeasurable percentage, have ever been in psychotherapy at any level; whether it was with witch-doctors or whatever. And the world keeps on turning.

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: And people keep on (laughter) creating and glorifying their Divine Nature. The second great myth that they promulgate is that human behavior, by its very nature, is so complex and the roots of it are so deep in this mysterious unconscious that therapy must take a long time, and the longer the therapy persists, the more effective it will be.

Well, about ten years ago I wrote my book Transforming Therapy and there's a secret in the title, Transforming Therapy. The obvious meaning is that it's a form of therapy that can create transformation in the individual, but also, the secret to me was: my goal is, to transform the nature of therapy as it is practiced worldwide. I believe that I have played a part in doing that because short-term therapy is becoming very, very popular. One, the failure of psychoanalysis and traditional talk therapies in the Western world is now obvious. Secondly, more and more literature is emerging. A recent book is titled Single Session Therapy. The publication of that book would have been impossible even a decade ago. Today it is recognized that it's not just the technique, it is the person, it's the therapist, it's the attitude, it's the person who is there to help and not to prove a theory; it's a person who understands the nature of that person sitting. I like to say Transforming Therapy is eye-to-eye, heart-to-heart, hand-to-hand, and at its highest level, soul-to-soul. We are all equal, not equal in developed skills or abilities or even aptitudes but spiritually we are equal. And we stand equal in the eyes of our Creator. And so, if one can hold that, and in the therapy room at least, to not have one's love for that person be covered by their status, their socio-economic level, their appearance, or even their beliefs, but to be non-judgmental and to assist them to a different perception. We know the apostle Paul talked about it when he said as a child, "I saw through a glass darkly." You know, imagine a window smeared with mud and dirt and the effort to look out of it and not to see too well.

He said, "I thought as a child. I spake as a child." And, I might add, "I behaved as a child."

And then, in another place he says, "As a man, I see clearly. I put aside childish things." And in that statement is heard: I put aside the fixed ideas that I acquired in my childhood before my ability to analyze these ideas was fully developed, before my critical factor was fully developed. Because that's not fully developed until about age 11. And these fixed ideas have regulated my life.

Rick: For years...

Gil: That's it. And now I am ready to put aside childish things, childish thoughts, childish feelings and childish behaviors because I am no longer a child. I can be childlike in my response to beauty or to other aspects in the world, but I am an adult. I am seen as an adult. And mature adult behavior is expected of me.

Rick: Now, as you were moving onto your fairly recent book, I have a series of questions here that take us from the long past up through the present. In a way, you're jumping ahead. So, I want to take you back again, just a bit and then we'll move forward in time.

Since I have quite a number of questions here, this one could be fairly brief because some of these others are more thought provoking as we move along here. Would you talk about your early days of practicing hypnosis?

Gil: Surely. When I came from the Second World War, after serving three years in the U.S. Navy, I was on an LST [Land-Sea Transfer]. Most of my service was on an LST and I participated in six Pacific invasions. At least, I was on a ship and I guess I participated because I manned a 20 mm gun when the planes came in, and that sort of thing.

Rick: That's fair participation, I'd say.

Gil: When I came from the war, I had a series of experiences, a couple of failed love affairs, then I married and I developed these duodenal ulcers. Then, from that I went to a worse one, migraine headaches. I remember one time I got a migraine headache two days before Christmas and I didn't get out of bed until two days after New Year's, and I was, the whole time, in a darkened room with a cold cloth on my head.

Because I was a veteran, I was able to go to the Veterans Mental Health Clinic and I began to receive out-patient counseling. Well, I didn't do too well because the first one was purely Freudian. That is to say, when I arrived he said, "Hello, how are you today?"

I said, "Fine." I sat down. That was the last thing he said until I left, when he said, "I'll see you next week."

THE BAND BOX

(3-Drink Minimum)

Hypnotist Gil Boyne convinces and entertains the crowd with his healthy, professional air lacking unctuousness. Act may be a bit long (one hour), but it's well suited to intimate, uninhibited atmosphere of Billy Gray's Band Box: lure being the expectancy of seeing one's friends doing harmless, foolish things in public.

And finally, after several weeks of that, I made a complaint to one of the administrators in the front office and said, "I'm sick and tired of this. I need somebody who will talk to me."

So they said, at that time, "Oh, you mean you need a Rogerian therapist."

"I don't even know what that means, but I need someone who will talk to me." (Laughter.)

Rick: Interesting.

Gil: Yeah. Well, I lucked out. I got a psychiatrist who was the head of the State Hospital in Philadelphia, Byberry Hospital. And he did one day a week for the Veterans Administration. He indeed talked to me and brought me out from where I was and I went there for eight or nine months, saw him weekly. I remember one time I had a migraine headache and getting into a taxi and going up to the State Hospital to get a prescription from him. It was three o'clock in the morning. And when you see those movies with those sounds in the night inside the mental hospital, I heard them; the screams and the various kinds of strange sounds. In any event, during that period of time I was hypnotized by this doctor and I really believe that reinforced that early excitement. But most importantly, it convinced me of a curative effect of accessing the deeper mind, the subconscious mind.

Rick: Did he help you with your ulcers and headaches?

Gil: Oh yes, yes, positively. I've never had a headache since then.

Rick: Fantastic. That's very unusual in a military-related mental hospital, in fact, almost unheard of.

Gil: Um-huh, yes. It was only because of his position as the director of a large state mental hospital that he could pretty much do as he wanted to do and no one was going to say to him not to use hypnosis. (Laughter.)

Rick: Thank goodness.

Gil: Yeah. Now, from that, and here is an interesting turn my life took because he said to me, at the time, I was an IBM operator. I had been doing that just prior to the war. I left home at 16. Went to work for the Social Security. I had answered an ad in Philadelphia, for the Social Security headquarters in Baltimore, Maryland. And I left home at 16 and worked for the Social Security until I was 18 as an IBM machine operator, was inducted into the service and now it's three years later, four years later—I was working as an IBM machine operator for Blue Cross. And he said to me, "No, you've got to get into work where you work with people and not machines and cards." He said, "I suggest you try door-to-door selling."

Now, I was getting a pension at that time because of these disabilities (which was 10 percent), and that was $13.80 per month. (Laughter.)

Rick: (Laughter.) Lot of money.

Gil: Yeah. I started selling magazines, didn't do too well. I barely eked out a living and then went on to selling an inexpensive set of encyclopedia and I started to do well in that. And that was really a turning point in my life because it lead me into almost 10 years of direct selling.

Rick: I would think that was a good background for you. It's turned out to be, I'm sure.

Gil: Yes, that's correct. And it was in that period of time that I began to study various forms of motivation in order to learn how to make sales and motivate people to buy. And in that same time frame I discovered a book in a magic store called The Encyclopedia of Stage Hypnotism, by Ormand McGill. And for the first time I had a book, because there weren't any books of that type available back then. For the first time I had a book, I actually had a book that gave detailed and step-by-step instructions on how to hypnotize; and I cherished that book.

Rick: How old were you at this point?

Gil: I was 23. And actually, I would bring up the subject when I was working with people in sales and I would be in their home and make a presentation, and sometimes, if they were interested in the product, I would talk to them about hypnosis and often hypnotize people right in their home. And they were my first subjects.

Rick: Fascinating.

Gil: Time went on, as I spent about 9 years in that work. I was up into the 30s by then. In the meantime my marriage had failed. I had two children. I continued in the sales work but I headed up an office in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and it was there that I really began pursuing hypnosis as a hobby and my reputation really grew until finally, I decided to come to Los Angeles because there was a much greater psychological freedom for the interest in and expression of various kinds of studies.

Rick: Yes.

Gil: That people in the more conservative parts of the U.S.A. might call strange or kooky...

Rick: Fringe.

Gil: Yeah. But at least they felt that if you were in California, well, that was part of the behavior that went on out here. So I came to Southern California and, in order to get started, I took up door-to-door selling, again. And I stayed in that for about 15 months.

A very interesting story. And I might say this, some of this next part is detailed in an article—a writer started to write a book about me years ago and then he came down with cancer and died—but this chapter was reprinted and it covers much of this and I'll put a copy in the mail today. It's called From Mesmer to...I forget the title.

Rick: Ok.

Gil: I was here in Los Angeles just a few days and in the direct sell I had gone to this firm that was really a division of a firm I had worked for back in the East. There was a drug store on the corner and in the morning we would go in there for coffee. I went in this day and this older woman was serving coffee at the counter and she said, "Oh,

THE Hollywood REPORTER

Night Club Review

BILLY GRAY'S BAND BOX

Current show at Billy Gray's Band Box has something for everyone—from emcee Gray's jokes, a chanteuse, a Mort Sahl-like comedian, to a hypnotist who uses subjects from the audience. Gil Boyne, a psychologist making his nitery bow, has a well-rounded fun act in which when caught he called six persons from the audience, hypnotized them and had them go through various actions on the stage and in a post-hypnotic state. Boyne comes off like a veteran, his patter being professionally slick.

New Look in Hollywood—

Leading Lady 'Great' Under Trance

Hollywood, Cal. (AP) — Something new has been added to the Hollywood scene — a hypnological director—and it could mean the end of ulcers among directors who have to deal with temperamental actresses.

Gil Boyne, a professional hypnotist, was hired by Allied Artists to help with the technical details on "The Hypnotic Eye."

Mr. Boyne, who takes his work seriously, soon had almost everybody on the set hypnotized, including Merry Anders, the leading lady. Now Merry is doing several of her scenes while under hypnosis. She may be the first actress to perform in a deliberate trance.

There's some basis for it in the script. Jacques Bergerac plays a professional hypnotist. He first meets Merry . . . "No back talk." Merry when she volunteers as a subject from the audience.

Mr. Bergerac hypnotizes her on stage. On the first take, Merry acted it out, but it didn't look convincing to Director George Blair. He called on his director of hypnology.

Mr. Boyne spoke a few words into Merry's ear and her head dropped. He continued talking to her and told her that when she awakened, Mr. Bergerac would talk to her and when he mentioned the word "sleep," she would go into a trance.

Mr. Bergerac delivered his lines and at "sleep," Merry was off to the never-never land where hypnotic subjects go.

The scene over, Director Blair commented: "Great! That's the way to make pictures. One take, no back talk and a performance that even Garbo couldn't equal."

LET GIL BOYNE PUT THE FUN
in your FUNDRAISING!

I've got such a terrible headache."

And I said to her, "Would you like to get rid of your headache right now?"

She said, "Oh, I've tried everything, even the pharmacist, he's given me a number of things."

She said, "I've had it for four days."

I said, "Would you like to get rid of your headache right now?"

She said, "What do you mean?"

I said, "I'm a hypnotist and I can hypnotize you."

And she said, "Oh, my God, yes!"

I said, "Put your hands up here on the counter." I was on the stool on the other side.

I said, "Look at me." I put her into a trance and gave her some suggestions and I said, "Open your eyes. Your headache is gone."

And she opened her eyes and she said, "My God, it's gone." She ran back to the pharmacist and said, "It's gone! He took my headache away!"

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: And so, I had really done it because of a couple of the fellas who I had worked with were in there with me and I had talked about my interest in hypnotism and they kind of thought it was a lot of hot air, you know.

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: I left and two days later, we were going out to territory for our door-to-door selling and one of the men said, "Say, you're interested in hypnotism, aren't you?"

And I said, "Yes."

He said, "Well, on this talk show last night, a late-night show," he said, "this woman came on..."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: "...she said that she had this headache for three or four days, this man came in, she didn't know who it was but he said he was a hypnotist and right across the counter he hypnotized her and she hasn't had the headache since."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: He said, "The man who had the show is named Ben Hunter and Ben said, 'Well look, if he comes in your store again, tell him to give me a call. I'd like to interview him.'"

So, I turned to this man and I said, "What station was that?"

He said, "Well, he's on KFI."

I said, "Where is that station in town? I need to go up there."

He said, "Well, you can get the address out of the phone book but it's up on Vermont Ave."

I said, "What time does he go on?"

He said, "He goes on at midnight, midnight to five A.M., fifty thousand watts clear channel."

That night at eleven, I went up there to the woman at the switchboard. "Is Mr. Ben Hunter here?"

She said, "Well, no, he's not in."

I said, "Well, he's looking for me."

She said, "What for?"

I said, "He put the word out on the air. He wants to talk to me and I'm here."

She said, "Well he's not in here, yet." She said,

"Well, why does he want to talk to you?"

I said, "Because I'm a hypnotist."

She said, "Oh, my God, could you hypnotize me?"

I said, "Of course I can."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: I said, "Boom. She fell across the switchboard."

Rick: (Laughter.)

Gil: And now the lines are buzzing. I figured if I stand here long enough, something is going to happen. (Laughter.)

So, sure enough, someone came out from one of the studios and said, "What's going on here."

Hypnosis keeps top stars happy and full of energy

July 28, 1981

WHEN HOLLYWOOD'S biggest stars suffer the agonies of self-doubt, it can mean the end of a million-dollar career. That's why they seek help from Gil Boyne, director of the Hypnotism Training Center in Glendale, Calif.

Boyne, an internationally-known hypnotherapist, has what it takes to recharge the stars' mental batteries and put them back on top again. He does that by creating special hypnotic tape recordings to help the stars regain their lost confidence.

Stars like Sylvester Stallone and Lily Tomlin credit Boyne's tapes with having helped their careers.

"Many actors are supreme overachievers," Boyne told the Examiner. "They often get that way because they have great feelings of inadequacy but ironically enough, lack of self-confidence can be the kiss of death to a career."

"Actors are constantly looking for ways to maximize their gifts. They're looking for ways to suppress those feelings of inadequacy and motivate themselves into giving the best possible performance."

Problems

Boyne says that his hypnotic technique can help anyone. Individuals with specific problems like smoking or overeating can also be helped to conquer their bad habits with special recordings.

"The technique is simple," he said. "The tapes induce a trance which uncovers the childhood memories that are causing the feelings of inadequacy. At the same time, the recordings reprogram the subconscious with positive, life-affirming ideas."

Sylvester Stallone is one person who will testify that Boyne's technique works.

Courage

After 10 none-too-successful years trying for stardom, Stallone, after using Boyne's hypnotic tapes, finally got the courage to submit a script about an up-and-coming boxer to a major Hollywood producer. That story became the Rocky film saga.

But even after Stallone got his big break, he feared that he didn't have the talent to pull off a major motion picture.

Again Boyne's hypnotic tapes helped.

"While shooting on location in Philadelphia, I was scared to death," Stallone wrote in his Rocky Scrapbook. "Every day I would lie down and listen to the subconscious motivation tape made for me in Los Angeles."

Lily Tomlin came to Boyne when she was having a creative crisis trying to write her outrageous comedy. Boyne made the comedienne the hypnotic tape that she credits with having made her an even better writer than before.

And Lily was so pleased with the results that she

Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: He looked at her and he said, "My God, she's had a heart attack."
 I said, "No, she's hypnotized."
 He said, "What?"
 I said, "I hypnotized her."
 He said, "Well, for God's sake, wake her up."
 So, I woke her up and the man said, "Were you really hypnotized?"
 She said, "I don't know. I looked in his eyes and that's the last thing I remember."
 Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: Then, at 11:30, this man came out from his broadcast. His name was Al Paska, and he had a program called "Conversation please."
 This other fella said, "This man just hypnotized Loretta and she was laying across the switchboard when I came out."
 And he said, "You're kidding."
 I said, "Yes, I'm the world's fastest hypnotist."
 Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: "You are?"
 And so, he had been interviewing two young country singers, on his show. And the one fella said, "Can you hypnotize me?"
 I said, "Of course I can. Stand up straight. Pop! I hypnotized him, he fell on the floor."
 Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: (Laughter.)
 And the other one said, "Don't do it to me."
 (Laughter.)
 Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: Those two young fellas were the Everly Brothers.
 So, this fella said, "Well, can you come back and be interviewed tomorrow night on my show."
 I said, "I'm already booked for Ben Hunter's show."
 He said, "He'll be in any minute." (Laughter.)
 So, Ben Hunter came in and he said, "Here's this man who says he's booked on your show."
 They all talked to him and told him about me and he said, "Well, Loretta, get my book," he said. "I think I'm booked up for the next three weeks, but..."
 I said, "Oh, I'm sorry, I'm leaving town in 48 hours." (Laughter.)
 He said, "Loretta, cancel tomorrow night's guest."
 Rick: (Laughter.)
 Gil: So that was the start of my career in Los Angeles. On a good night that station could be heard in about 25 states, Canada and Mexico, after midnight—clear channel.
 And so, now, Ben Hunter's wife came to me and his son and they got such marvelous results, Ben Hunter gave me a private number to call into the station, where everyone else had to call in and try their luck. I had a private number. So, it wound up I would call in twice a week and any questions relating to the mind or to hypnosis or to therapy would be saved for the night that I would call in. And that went on for two years. That really established my career in Southern California.
 So that was the take-off point. It was really a launching point, like one of those big rockets they launched into space.
 Rick: Well, I think you learned a lot about yourself, too, spontaneously conducting hypnosis in that way.
 Gil: Yeah. Well, I found that, you know the old story, act as if you can and not only will you convince others, but you'll convince yourself. (Laughter.)
 Rick: (Laughter.)

Part 1 In A Series

An Afternoon With Author David Icke

8/29/96 #1 HATONN

DAVID ICKE

David Icke is one of the most insightful writer/speakers yet to grace our stages and podiums. Please, if you don't know who this is—it is past time for "finding out". You, as a planet and a people, are in serious times of experience. However, if you but heed some thoughtful actions you don't have to have such a stupidly spiteful and mean "ending" of anything—as is prophesied by those who would destroy you. I would repeat a point he makes in that the world powers are only a tiny, tiny handful of controllers—and you can topple that power just by ignoring them. They sit atop the "pyramid" doing NOTHING but assuming the role of master of the pyramid (you). Remove the corner stone and the whole edifice topples. They don't WANT YOU TO KNOW they are just worse than "nothing" nothings. They, further, rule by FEAR and always have. When you get on a higher wave frequency they are not even in your ball-park, much the less your game. People, you can use that which they have conjured and dump it right back in their laps, only you can do it with integrity and validity. Once you understand this—there is no longer a New World Order or any other kind of tyrannical injustice.

Why start with massive funds? Because that is what "they" have manufactured to shackle. They lend or pay you money which does not exist and then you pay interest TO THEM. And indeed, if you haven't borrowed because you are a lucky bloke and have a job—you pay the interest in the form of major TAXES—and, it is all the very same thing. When you want the funds for your own use and survival—you will create, OR USE, that which is created FOR YOUR USE. When you stop shouting "it can't be"—you will get busy and get this job accomplished for GOD, FREEDOM AND WORLD. When you get up off your knees to these Bastard Kings you will get your job done for the world of "people" are awakening by the millions every day—why don't you get with those informed people? Or, you can continue to play in whatever game they allow you for participation—and go quietly to the incarceration points. Oh yes, you will go and you will demand to be allowed to go for they will call these AIDE CENTERS "for your benefit".

I can't just keep repeating these things—GET DAVID'S BOOKS and enjoy. [Editor's note: We featured David's book The Robot's Rebellion on the Front Page of the 11/21/95 issue of CONTACT and all of his books are available on the open market—so far! We feature his newest book ... And The Truth Shall Set You Free on p. 25.] Not only will you enjoy the material but you will be captivated by the individual's strength, honor and sense of humor. Get his video tapes because you almost have to enjoy the man's presentation as visualized to fully appreciate the individual. Here is one, along with Little Crow, Black Hawk the Greek, and some others whose very presence IS THE PRESENTATION. I think you will find this true of Cathy O'Brien and Mark Phillips as well.

I am different, readers, and Dharma wants no part of the show-and-tell circuit. We have a purpose and "they" have a purpose and they are NOT the same thing other than bringing TRUTH about WHAT THEY KNOW AND THAT WHICH THEY HAVE EXPERIENCED! We will do everything to help these participants—BUT, THEY HAVE TO HELP THEMSELVES—even to the contacts for bringing fruit to bear on our contract tree.

Editor's note: Following the above words on David Icke by Commander Hatonn, we present the first installment of a transcription of his great talk during a recent Wednesday afternoon (8/28/96) visit with Commander and others of our local crew. Tapes from the meeting are available from The Word at 805-822-4176.

8/27/96 LECTURE BY DAVID ICKE

[Mr. Icke, after accepting the microphone:]
 I just talk, do I? That's what I've been doing most of me bloody life, actually.

Thank you, thank you very much. I am still in a car, after 4 hours, I am still driving around here trying to get me head back in.

I guess you could say I had a spiritual awakening about 6 years ago. I was a television presenter, a well-known one in Britain on a network television program on the BBC. I was also a national spokesman for something called the Green Party. Which, at the time, was trying to put an alternative view of politics forward, but something became very clear very quickly that I've observed very much in the world in the last 6 years and increasingly in more recent times. There is, in the world so often, something that I call "oposames". They are things in society that claim to be different, and often come into opposition with each other, but are actually the same thought pattern with a different dress on. So I realized that Green politics, certainly in the way it was run, was not that much different than all the other politics. The "greasy pole" demands a certain attitude to life, I guess.

But toward the end of the '80s I wrote a book called It Doesn't Have To Be Like This, which was to look at the environmental state of the world. In the writing of that I came to two conclusions: One, well one conclusion in particular, was that unless there was some unknown force that I never considered before—(because I had always rejected religion and what we bravely call science. "Life's a bitch and then you die," it sounds great fun, that. I kind of rejected both of them but what else was there, you know?) I came to the conclusion that unless there was some unknown force that could intervene and help us out of this mess that we had created then we were up the Swanee [River] without one of them things: the old paddle. At that time I started thinking, well there's really no force I don't know—never thought about it before, really. From the moment I kind of came to that conclusion, I was tripping over psychics wherever I went, in Britain; and when I came to America, when I came to an Animal Rights Conference, and the first two people I met there were psychics. Well, we are all psychic, but I mean some people that had developed it, you know. They started giving me information which, although they used different language and different emphasis, was actually the same information: that I was going to write a stream of books on this subject. I was going to expose the suppression on a world scale. To which I thought, "You're off your rocker. I don't know anything about this subject, this is ridiculous." But as things unfolded, I have moved increasingly rapidly along that route. When I started to realize that there are alternatives to religion and what we call science, and that alternative to me is: that everything that exists in the whole is the same consciousness, and consciousness is energy, and energy is consciousness. So we are like droplets of water in an ocean of consciousness. We are individual to an extent because we are the sum total of all our experiences. But, together we make up the whole. We are the same consciousness energy that is every insect, that is every blade of grass, that is every breath we take. This gigantic mind, infinite mind consciousness, is broken up into wavelength frequencies which people here will be well aware of—sharing the same space. Therefore we are multi-dimensional consciousnesses on an eternal journey of evolution through experience.

There is an American comedian called Bill Hicks, whom most people don't seem to have heard of in America; he was quite well known in Britain—came over a few times. He said once, as part of a joke, but it was a very profound statement which sums up my attitude to life anyway. He said, "Matter is merely energy condensed to a slow vibration; we are all one consciousness experiencing itself subjectively. There is no such thing as death; life is just a dream and we are the imagination of ourselves."

What I feel has happened in this world over a long period of time—from me talking to people like Cathy O'Brien, who went through nearly 30 years of mind control by U.S. Government agencies, and someone I met about the same time in the North of England who went through something similar for over 30 years—one thing they both said to me was that no matter what was done to them they could not get to their spiritual core. And the reason they can't get to the spiritual core, in my view, is because I believe what we call soul is pure love. It is operating therefore on vibrations within vibrational ranges that are so far from the three-dimensional world that it's like off the wall, it's so far out. I feel the soul projects an aspect of itself into the three-dimensional world, what you might call mind, to experience this world as part of its eternal journey. I think the soul can project often many aspects of itself into incarnation at the same time. Indeed when you take it to the highest level of this, the whole mind is projecting every aspect of itself into everything. What I feel mind control is—and when I talk about mind control, that's the way this conspiracy works—you can't do it with tanks in the streets and soldiers at the door, there are too many people. You can use them as part of the mind control and part of the fear mechanism but you can't control five-and-one-half-billion people (as there seems to be now) with tanks in the streets and soldiers at the door. What you can do, however, is get the three-dimensional mind to see the world the way you want them to see it and, preferably, not to think at all.

What I feel mind control is, whether it is the individual Cathy O'Brien variety or whether it's the bigger variety like: "create the problem and offer the solution"; whether it's advertising or whether it's government statements, or what we call education. God, education, if only we had some! They are all methods; religion is another one. All are methods of isolating the three-dimensional projection of soul from soul itself. Which has the effect of similarly, symbolically, of a spaceman on another planet in touch with mission control. At that point you've got the information coming in through the eyes and the ears of what's going on immediately around you. And then you have got the big picture, mission control also speaking to you. Imagine what would happen if someone came along to that spaceman and either cut completely, or more accurately, dramatically lowered the audibility of mission control—within seconds, let alone minutes or hours, that spaceman, in terms of his thoughts, his reactions and his behavior and his decisions, would be tremendously different things, of all those kinds, to what he would have been making had mission control stayed in touch and he had the big picture. What I think happens here is we come into three-dimensional incarnation, because when we are born into this world we are immediately born into a highly, highly conditioned world where everyone is conditioning the next generation. So, three-dimensional mind, from a very, very early age, is being pressured to not only switch off soul but have the idea that there isn't one to switch off or on from.

I love the way we indoctrinate each generation; I love this story told to me. I spoke in Houston a couple of years ago about this—this woman came out of the audience to me and she said, "I've got a great story that sums up what you're saying." "Oh," I said. She said, "Yes, when I was first married I was in the kitchen and I was cutting the corners off the ham before I put it in the pan and put it in the oven, you know." She said, "And my husband came along and said 'Why do you do that?'" She said, "I don't know, my mother used to do it; what's it matter?" He said "Well why did your mother cut the corners off the ham?" She said, "I don't know, what's it matter?" He said, "Call your mother and ask her why she cut the corners off the ham." So she rings her mother, "Hello mom, you know when I was a girl and you used to cut the corners off the ham put it in the pan? Why did you do that?" And her mother said, "Because the pan was never big enough, dear." Now, we are doing this all the time. We have celibate priests in the Roman Catholic because of what a Pope decided in 1074. What if he was wrong, you know? The key word that allows this to go on and on and on is: why? What the husband asked: "Why do we do that?" Who said that? Why do we do that? I mean, it's funny, when I look into what is known as the New Age, I actually see the same things happening as happen with religions of all kinds. People come into something which has a certain belief system and it is immediately accepted. Instead of saying, "OK, that's fine," you believe that, but why do you believe it, where does this information and this belief system come from; where does it originate? No one asked that in religion. "Well, it's in the Bible, mate." When you look back at where some of these New Age concepts came from—I am not talking about the metaphysical stuff, which I am in tune with, but I'm talking about all the jargon and (excuse me) bull shit that goes with it. That actually goes back to the last century, and no further.

Again it is amazing that we have a phenomenon on this planet whereby something is set up, which at that point might challenge the status quo at the time, but instead of the mind opening and saying, "Right, well this is what we believe now"—but of course, as Socrates is reported to have said, "Wisdom is knowing how little we know." So, therefore, if you operate with that philosophy your mind is always open to potential knowledge. It doesn't mean that you will accept everything, but it is open to potential knowledge—you are not building a prison wall around your head. But instead of that, what these organizations do—even those—the Green Movement is another one. They challenge the status quo at one point and then they become the next status quo. Because they start to defend their original belief system from all borders.

So we build these prisons of the mind. We are pressured to do it. This means that a few can control the world; that's how it's done. Because how the world is controlled structurally is via the structure that you find in every organization, large or small, all over the planet, in this period of evolution up to the present day. It's the pyramid. At the peak of the pyramid you have got a tiny, tiny, tiny few people who know everything there is to know about their organization. They know its real agenda, where it's really wanting to go, what it's really there to achieve. The further you come down from the peak of the pyramid you are meeting more and more people in any organization who know less and less and less about what the people at the peak know. It's known as compartmentalization. I also call it the mushroom approach, which is: "Keeping everyone in the dark and feeding them bull shit." That's how the pyramid works. If you look at the global pyramid which has the Elite at the top controlling the pyramid peaks of the banking system, the pyramid peak of the intelligence agencies, the pyramid peak of the global media, the pyramid peak of the global multinational corporation network. Then you look within that global pyramid, and all the way through it you see that it's made up of other pyramids. The societies in general are pyramids.

Dogmas are pyramids. Even these organizations like the Bilderberg group, the Council On Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Club of Rome, they're all pyramids. With the peak knowing far more than anyone else knows as you go down, and even less and less as you go down further, of course. These pyramids can also be known as dogmas. Dogmas are the means through which the few control the world. Not all the means, because there are many, but one of the key means. Because everybody is trying to tell everyone else what to do, think and say. You have got religions trying to get theirself to the top of the religious greasy pole. They manipulate fear and guilt, overwhelmingly, to get people to believe what they want them to believe. And that's the key four-letter word, actually, that is the overwhelming means by which we are controlled, and that's fear. And so you've got all these dogmas being played off against each other within the base of the pyramid while at the top all the strings are being pulled to either create these dogmas in the first place: two opposites to play off against each other or they are playing other dogmas off against each other.

So the mass of the people are policing each other and dictating to each other and frightening each other and seeking to make each other feel guilty, so that their dogma can rise up to the pyramid or up to the positions of power. It means that the mass of the people are constantly in a state of division. When you are in a state of division you can be controlled by very few people. I remember Bill Hicks saying once about the Los Angeles riots: "Did anybody ever notice like me," he said, "when those people were pulling truck drivers out of their trucks at the traffic lights and stuff like that?" He said, "Did anyone ever think like me, 'You're in a truck—they're on foot, I think I can see a way out of this.' Step on the gas man."

Well, there are 260 million people in America alone. The number of people who control this country is a comparative handful. I think I can see a way out of this. And that way is: when we stop being the police force of each other and the prison wardens of each other. Because only by that can the few control the world. Because what has happened is that the 260 million unique aspects in America of eternal evolving consciousness has allowed itself by a combination of the baaa-baa mentality and fear to become a herd of flippin' sheep. Same in Britain, same all over the world. And if you look at a herd of sheep, they're bewildered sheep at that. Someone once said you know there are three types of people in the world: there are the tiny, tiny few that make things happen, there's the slightly bigger number that watch things happen, and then there's all the rest that goes around saying, "What's happening, what's happening, what's happening?" It's the tiny group that make things happen that manipulate the "What's happening".

If you look at a herd of sheep, that's a herd of individuals who are not celebrating uniqueness. When you don't celebrate your own uniqueness then you are in flippin' serious trouble here, in terms of control. I stood on a big, ancient hill fort in Wilkshire where I live (around Stonehenge in England) a couple of years ago. There were hundreds of sheep going right across this land. Hundreds of them, all over the place, munching away, you know. Then this farmer arrives in the pickup truck, parks the car, gets out. He stands on his stick. Now, if he flicked his eyelids every now and again, that's all this guy did. One or two or three of the sheep start to walk. Within minutes it's like exodus I'm looking at. Hundreds of sheep are following the one. "Wow, he must know where he is going, he is in front. I remember yesterday we went down here, soon as that bloke stood there we went there because they did, because we followed them and it was ever so good." We have these things on the back of cars in Britain; it says: "Don't follow me, I'm lost". I think we ought to have one on the back of every person in the human race and we might not follow each other then. We might see what the situation is. Now the few sheep—and there were remarkably few that didn't immediately conform to that baaa-baa mentality—they were given that extra dose of fear with the sheep dog. Within minutes the combination of the baaa-baa and the fear had rounded up this vast herd of sheep. This one guy standing there doing nothing and this one sheep dog dispensing fear. I realized, as I watched that symbolism happen before me, I was looking at the means through which the human race is controlled. Baaa-baa and fear.

This is allowed, this combination of dogma trying to impose itself on everyone else. Because everyone says follow your intuition. What they really mean is: "Follow your intuition as long as it agrees with mine," you know. My intuition knows exactly what is right, for me. I don't know what is right for anybody else; only they know that. We get into trouble when we start thinking our intuition knows what's right for everyone else; that's when we get into trouble. They call it Christianity and Judaism and Islam and it goes under many names, you know. Anyway, this combination of dogma seeking to impose and get to the top of the pole, and this baaa-baa fear syndrome has created, right across society, what I call hassle-free zones. I think this is the key way to control the world. Every dogma is a hassle-free zone: religious dogma, economic dogma, political dogma. It's nice to be here in the one party state of America, you know. Every society is a dogma, every culture is a dogma—hassle-free zone, rather.

What I mean by that is that there is a very narrow area of acceptable thought and behavior which is imposed by very, very few. If you conform to that narrow thought and behavior you are left alone, basically; no one calls you mad, no one calls you bad, no one gives you a hard time for the crime (Call the police!) of being different. Which is what we are: unique. We have become terrified of expressing that. If, however, you open your mind and particularly if you open your heart, you start to access higher dimensions of your multi-dimensional self. And so your perspective changes. It goes from, "Oh yes, isn't this banking system interesting" to "What a load of crap," basically. You get to the edge of the hassle-free zone and if you keep following your heart and your intuition (your higher dimensions of self) you are out of the hassle-free zone. "He's mad, he is; he's dangerous": you get a hard time for being different. Most people, understandably, don't want that, so they tiptoe quickly into the hassle-free zone and up comes the mask. The mask says "This is not really me; this is not what I really think or what I really feel or what I really want to do with my life, but this is what I think I really have to project to the world to occupy the hassle-free zone and stop being given a hard time for being different.

And I feel, myself, just my view, that this war in the three-dimensional psyche between that part of our consciousness which I call "I am me, I am free" which wants to flow with that uniqueness, which wants the hell out of the hassle-free zone. The war is between that and that part of our psyche, the programmed level of us, which is terrified of the consequences of expressing uniqueness in a world of imposed uniformity. That part of our consciousness, I call "Oh, my God". It's the war between "Oh, my God" and "I am me, and I am free" (for me, the vibrational war) that is the overwhelming cause of mental, emotional and therefore physical dis-ease in the world.

What this hassle-free zone phenomenon has done has created mass schizophrenia in the human psyche. And I come back to what I said earlier about, we are the policemen of each other. When you are on the edge of the hassle-free zone and you know you have gone about as far as you can get away with in expressing uniqueness—you go any further, you go into "hassle-land". You are not standing there thinking "Shall I, shan't I, shall I, shan't I" and the question in your mind at that time is not, "If I do, what will Bill Clinton think?" Who cares. "What will Alan Greenspan think?" David Rockefeller? No, no; we are standing there thinking, "If I do, what will me Mother say; what about the blokes down at the bar; what about the people at work, what will they say, 'Oh, MY GOD!'"

In other words, what will the other slaves to imposed thought and behavior think about me escaping from it? It's like having a cell full of prisoners, and every time a prisoner finds a means of escape it's not the prison wardens who block the exit, it's all the other prisoners that run to stop us getting out. And until we get off the backs of each other this world will never be free, because we are not allowing each other to be free. And so often, you know, this word freedom, it's ever so easy: you open your mouth, it's two syllables: free-dom; there, go on, it's ever so easy to say; it's very much more difficult to live. Because when I look around at many people talking the words of free-dom—what I hear them saying is, they want the free-dom to replace an imposition they don't like with an imposition they do. If that's all we are seeking to do is remove a New World Order of centralized global dictatorship with another form of thought police centralized dictatorship known as religions or economic systems or political-isms, then we ain't gonna walk one single further step down the road to freedom. But loads of people might be kidded into thinking we have. I mean, we were kidded into thinking we had stepped down the road of freedom when we introduced democracy.

We now interchange democracy and freedom as if they are the same thing. Often they couldn't be further apart. Fifty people telling forty-nine what's going to happen isn't freedom; not for the forty-nine, it's not. And for me the way forward to allow this world to be free—and there are five-and-one-half billion of us and there are a handful of people who control the pyramid from the top—so we can be free whenever we choose.

The way we are going to be free is when we allow ourselves to be free and when we allow everyone else to be free. I think there are three things that could achieve that; it's just my view. One: we let go of the prison that most people in the world live in, which is the fear of what other people think of them. You look and ask why most people are not celebrating "I am me, I am free" but instead are dominated by "Oh, MY GOD", and what will the reason be? The fear of what other people think of them. People say to me sometimes, they say, "I'VE GOT A PROBLEM WITH YOU!" I say, "You know, you've summed it up perfectly. You've got a problem; you should sort it out, mate, because I don't have a problem with me; I'm going for a cup of tea." We then get a problem with other people having a problem with us: now there are two people with a problem. Because we have got this thing, "Oh, yeah, why do they think that of me?" Well they have every right to think it. I've every right not to care, frankly. Because I have a right to speak my truth, and everyone has a right to accept it or not accept it, accept bits of it, or whatever. If we all respect each other's right to have a different view and to have a different truth, then we will have—not agreement, because that is a static state anyway because we learn from each other and we knock it around and we all move on—but we have an absence of conflict, we have harmony. Because everyone is respecting everyone else's right to be unique.

So the three things I would say are: Let's express our uniqueness, let go of the fear of what other people think of us and be what we are, and not what someone else is telling us that we should be. Secondly, we get off everyone else's backs and stop trying to impose our intuitive view on everyone else and we allow them to celebrate their uniqueness, whatever that is, without imposition and without hassle and condemnation. Thirdly, the balance point; none of these three are any good without all of the others. No one ever seeks to impose their view on any one else, or pressure anyone else in any way whatsoever, to have their version of reality. Then no one's free will is challenged or denied; that's the balance point. And if we did that, not only would the pyramid come to an end of control, it would be impossible to go on. Because if we are not played off against each other, the control can not happen.

8/31/96 KORTON

Commander Tomeros Maasu Korton here in the Radiant Light of the One Light, Infinite Source. Thank you for receiving my energy this day.

There is a great need among ground crew at this time for an awakening of innate abilities that usually go unacknowledged.

You are entering a time of great and turbulent change connected with Earth-Shan's planetary transition and rebalancing. During this most critical time, your personal link with Creator, and with we of the Lighted Brotherhood, shall become essential if you are to just maintain a balanced mental state, much less carry out your unique job in the overall mission.

Ones MUST begin to receive personal messages for themselves because, as a purely practical consideration, we of the Hosts need to be able to get our messages through to ground crew members in a timely manner despite the interruptions likely to affect a medium of communication such as CONTACT as the turbulent times unfold. The more direct way is person-to-person or, more accurately, being-to-being communication.

For those of you who are not familiar with my designation, I am a Communicator. That is to say, I specialize in establishing and maintaining operating communication links. I am able to cover an extensive spectrum of frequencies in order to help couple the third-dimensional expression with that of the higher-dimensional expressions. Consider me a facilitator, linguist and translator—all in one. I operate across many inter-dimensional and inner-dimensional frequencies.

Over the past several weeks many Masters (Cohans) have come to impart their messages of Lighted, Inspired Truth. An underlying theme for many of them has been the need to get you ones to the point of recognizing that you ARE receiving and that you ARE hearing, and to get you to the point of realization that you CAN do this on a very conscious level.

Due to the limitations of the English language, we will do that which we can in order to project as clear a picture, as we are able, of this process. If you are already consciously receiving, perhaps these messages can help you to explain to others how they can reach through and connect.

First of all, KNOW that it is YOUR God-given RIGHT to receive directly from Creator Source (as well as from we of the Lighted Brotherhood) any time you so desire. You actually do this every time you think a thought.

Why do I say this? Because Creator God (He who created you) created you with thought energy. You are thus, in effect, a unique thought in Creator's creative thinking.

You were given an individual uniqueness that stems from the core of His Infinite Mind. Therefore YOU

(the non-physical, thinking YOU) are, in entirety, a thought projection with an individualized electromagnetic signature. This means that every thought you have is, in fact, God's thought.

Keeping this in mind, know that receiving is as natural as thinking. If, in your exercising of the thinking process, you can perceive and discern transcendent realities such as the incredible beauty displayed by the smallest of flowers, and appreciate same with your reasoning mind, then you can and do receive from the Higher Realms.

HOW TO MAKE THE CONSCIOUS CONNECTION SUCH AS WRITING OR SPEAKING INSPIRED MESSAGES

For each person there will be subtle differences in the execution of the receiving process, for no two aspects of Creator are exactly the same.

First and foremost is to find a quiet place where you are not likely to be disturbed. For those of you who are already communing through meditation, this would be a good place, if practical, to keep a notebook and pen.

Get quiet and clear your mind from any and all dark energies [as Commander Soltec instructed with several examples and in specific detail, in last week's 8/24/96 writing]. Demand—WITH FEELING—that all dark energies leave immediately. Call in the Divine Light of Creator and FEEL it from within as it fills you up from the center of your being.

Take up your notebook or other recording device. If you prefer to speak into a tape recorder, then do so. The recording, whether it be written or audio, is usually for you and you alone. You shall have need for the recording, for it shall serve as a documented confirmation at a later date.

Date the notebook or tape. Also make a note of the time of day you have started the receiving session, and then again when you are through. This data is important for, among other things, verifying your messages so that it will be clear to you, when the messages become validated at a later date, that you are, in fact, receiving. The start and stop times also help separate several messages within a given day and further help you to keep track of that elusive quantity you call time.

These writings should generally be considered personal and you should use great discretion when sharing them with others.

Now that we have cleared our space and are sitting down to write or record, you will find it helpful if you have a specific question in mind. Write the question down in the notebook. This will serve as a focus point for the mind.

If you have no specific question, then perhaps you can write this one: "Are there any messages from the Lighted Brotherhood that I may write at this time?" Please DO include the words "Lighted Brotherhood" for this will help to reaffirm the quality of your intention and thereby helps to keep the dark side from interfering.

Now we get to the real "sticking point" for most of you: Some expect the pen to move by some outside force—they expect for some one or thing to take control of their hand, physically, and just make it start writing. This may happen, but it is NOT likely to be the case.

At this point you should simply WRITE WHAT COMES.

At first you should expect exercises in locking-on to the signal. Such instructions as, "Relax your mind; let the thoughts come" or "Do not block; allow the message to flow" are quite typical.

The receiving will most likely be very subtle, like a quiet whisper in your mind. It may seem that you are just making up the thoughts yourself. That is fine; just write them down anyway.

If a picture flashes into your mind, then write down that which you see, in as much detail as you can. Each mind is unique and the symbols will have personal meaning to you.

When this scribe first started writing, he thought that his ego had gotten the best of him and that he was just regurgitating parts of past books that he had read. With persistence, he soon, after about seven months of writing, had undeniable confirmations of his writings.

Be patient and always use discernment concerning that which you write. The dark energies will most certainly come to trick you. If a message confuses you, then clear your space (WITH FEELING!) and ask for clarification. DEMAND that the energy identifies itself. Only allow the Lighted energies to enter into this communion with you.

Keep a record of your thoughts. Consider the notebook a diary of sorts. Write down any emotional or inspirational thoughts or feelings that you may have. If you have a vivid dream, write it down in detail, along with the date and time if possible.

Your Guides will work with you in any way that they are allowed. Remember to ask for assistance—and expect an answer! They can do more for you when you ask and make effort to meet them partway.

Many people have doubts and other questions about receiving, and perceive that they cannot do it. THIS IS FALSE!

The writings or thoughts that come may seem goofy or awkward at first. Just write what your mind is triggered to remember or to think.

Allow for practice. Like riding a bicycle, you may fall down a few times but, with persistence, you shall begin to sort the messages from your own thoughts. And with practice the messages shall start flowing smoothly.

There is no need for special crystals, incense, or music. However, if these things help you to focus your mind, then by all means please use them.

I am just saying that you have ALL that you need—A SOUL—from the day that you were created, to make these Higher Connections.

Call upon me, Korton, and I shall assist you and your Lighted Guides in making the connection. Be open to the subtleness of the entire process.

Thank you for reading this message. May you consciously and conscientiously hold onto the signal when you recognize it. And don't let YOUR perceived ineffectiveness with this type of communication be YOUR excuse for not getting YOUR job done!

There are many a "sleeping giant" out there in need of awakening their inner talents so that they may share their special gifts with the world at this grand time. Receiving, in this manner, is but the first step.

Commander Korton in service unto the One Light. I stand ready to assist any who call.

Thank you and Salu.
