Through Malaysia’s “Old-Fashioned” Ethics

10/14/98 #1 HATONN

CORRUPTION IS EVERYWHERE— DOES THAT MAKE IT RIGHT?

Of course it is not right to wrong a body where you are—for it is never right to wrong “another” or defile through any means the righteous and beautiful creation set forth for ALL PEOPLE.

Malaysia has, for instance, one of the most beautiful concepts of community that is available for witness upon the globe—and it was accomplished from the depths of hell in less than two decades—from outright war to “integration”. No citizen of Malaysia is anything other than Malaysian. There are Malaysians who have a culture integrating Chinese or Indian traditions—but they are simply “Malaysians” (indigenous people are called Malays).

After being recognized as “giving” visitors—our team here is absolutely accepted as Malaysian and they are finding themselves a bit resentful of the White intruders. Color, race, whatever it is that seems to separate mankind—is no longer present and you will find that “color-blind” has real meaning here; the feeling is to apologize for being born pale and ridiculous. It is realized that what we have to “give” is simply an idea—after there is opportunity to discuss and share as brothers. Even the most powerful business leaders and wealthy parties are asking understanding and participation. You see, man wants to live in such a way as to be “ideal” and not just rich, and those just wishing to be rich are being set aside.

Here, there is no relationship to Anwar Ibrahim as is actuality and that which is taking place—and the experience of witnessing first-hand is worth its very weight in solid gold bullion.

Dr. Ibrahim didn’t dally around in a bit of oval office oral dalliance—he became a sodomist—and in every “religion” in this area and in the LAWS OF THE ENTIRE LAND it is unlawful. Now, just guess what else happened that has closed down honest reporting from the foreign press and media. DR. IBRAHIM WAS ON THE PAYROLL OF THE

NEW NON-TOXIC COMPOUND SAID TO DESTROY ANTHRAX DISCOVERED

From the INTERNET, courtesy of <http://www.umich.edu/~newsinfo/Releases/1998/Sep98/r092398a.html>, /98: [quoting]

The University of Michigan News and Information Services: SAN DIEGO—BCTP looks like skim milk. Laboratory rats gain weight when they eat it. Spray it on your lawn and the grass will thrive. But according to tests conducted by University of Michigan scientists, this seemingly benign material could be a potent weapon against anthrax—one of the deadliest bacteria on Earth.

In a presentation at the Interscience Conference on Antimicrobial Agents and Chemotherapy (ICAAC) on Sept. 26, Michael Hayes, research associate in the UM Medical School, presented experimental evidence of BCTP's ability to destroy anthrax spores both in a culture dish and in mice exposed to anthrax through a skin incision. James R. Baker Jr., M.D., professor of internal medicine and director of the Center for Biologic Nanotechnology in the UM Medical School, directed the research study.

BCTP was developed by D. Craig Wright, M.D., chief research scientist at Novavax, Inc.—a bio-pharmaceutical company in Columbia, Md.—and president of Novavax Biologics Division. According to Wright, the material is made of water, soybean oil, Triton X 100 detergent and the solvent tri-n-butyl phosphate.

One of the most remarkable characteristics of this material is its ability to rapidly destroy a wide variety of dangerous bacteria and viruses, while remaining non-toxic to people, animals or the environment, Baker said.

BCTP's effectiveness against anthrax spores is especially significant, because they are so difficult to kill. Spores are like freeze-dried bacteria, Baker explained. Their tough outer coat is resistant to disinfectants, freezing, drought, virtually anything we can throw at them. Spores can survive in the environment for many years and still generate live bacteria when given the right combination of water, nutrients and temperature.

Concentrated doses of strong disinfectants like bleach or formaldehyde will kill anthrax spores, according to Baker. Unfortunately, they also are toxic to people and the environment, which makes them useless for decontaminating a person, a piece of land or equipment exposed to the bacteria.

Since the Persian Gulf War, military authorities have become increasingly concerned about the threat anthrax and other biological warfare agents pose both to our armed forces and civilian populations. “Anthrax is often fatal and easily dispersed through air or water,” Baker said. We know that countries hostile to the United States have developed strains of anthrax which are resistant to antibiotics and existing vaccines. To counter that threat, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), is testing several possible new weapons against these biologic agents—including BCTP.

“When properly formulated, the components in BCTP form an emulsion of tiny lipid droplets suspended in solvent,” said Wright. These lipids fuse with anthrax spores causing the spore to revert to its active bacterial state. During this process, which takes four to five hours, the spore's tough outer membrane changes, allowing BCTP's solvent to strip away the exterior membrane. BCTP's detergent then degrades the spore's interior contents. In scanning electron microscope images, the spores appear to explode.

In his conference presentation, Hayes described how even low concentrations of BCTP killed more than 90 percent of virulent strains of Bacillus anthracis spores in a culture dish. “We observed sporicidal activity with dilutions as high as one part BCTP per 1,000 parts culture media,” Hayes said.

To determine its toxicity to animals, UM scientists fed large amounts of BCTP to laboratory rats and injected mice with the material subcutaneously. The animals gained weight, remained healthy and suffered no adverse effects.

To determine BCTP's effectiveness at treating animals exposed to anthrax spores, Baker's research team subcutaneously injected mice with Bacillus cereus—a closely related species of bacteria that can be safely handled in a university laboratory setting. Like B. anthracis, its lethal relative, B. cereus produces large, ulcerous areas of dead tissue if it penetrates the skin through a cut or injury. If untreated, these skin infections spread systemically, producing severe illness and death in 80 percent of the laboratory mice in the study.

“When we washed the animal's skin lesions with BCTP, the wounds began to heal,” Baker said. Mice receiving BCTP either simultaneously with B. cereus spores or whose wounds were washed with BCTP an hour after exposure had a 95 percent reduction in lesion size.

The death rate for mice receiving BCTP was only 20 percent.

“Rapid inactivation of anthrax bacteria and spores combined with low toxicity makes BCTP a promising candidate for use as a broad-spectrum, post-exposure decontamination agent,” Baker said.

In future studies, Baker plans to evaluate BCTP's effectiveness against inhaled anthrax spores, as well as other bacteria and enveloped viruses. His research has been funded by DARPA's Unconventional Pathogen Countermeasures Program. The UM and Novavax have filed a patent application covering BCTP's use as a decontamination agent for various anti-microbial applications. Baker is a member of the Novavax scientific advisory board, but has no significant financial interest in the company.

ART BELL ABRUPTLY QUILTS HIS TALK-RADIO PROGRAM!

From the INTERNET, <hollowearth@onelist.com>, 10/15/98: [quoting]

“You may recall about a year ago. I told you that there was an event, a threatening terrible event occurred to my family, which I could not tell you about. Because of that event, and a succession of other events, what you're listening to right now is my final broadcast on the air.

This is it, folks, I'm going off the air and will not return. And what I will tell you now is what I told you then. When the time comes when I can tell you what occurred, I will tell you, through the press, through the media, of one sort or the other. I will explain to you the entire thing; it's not that I want to hold anything back from my audience. However, for the protection of my family, until it is otherwise revealed, I can't discuss it; I won't discuss it. And if you were in my position, you would do exactly the same thing. And when you finally hear whatever it is, what it is, whenever you hear it, I think you will then understand.

At any rate, I wanted to tell you; I didn't want to go without saying a word, so I'm telling you now. What you are listening to, is MY FINAL BROADCAST. It's been a good run, and you've been a great audience, and it's been an absolutely incredible forum. And my presumption is, that the forum will continue. At any rate, it certainly is my hope that the forum will continue.

And again—when the time comes, when this information can be released, you can be sure that I will release it, and I would assume, because of the magnitude of the forum that I have held, at that time, you'll get the whole story. But the time will come when I will tell it.

So, for now and the foreseeable future, that's it! That is the end of this man's broadcast career. So, thank you, and goodbye. (Art Bell, 2:55 AM, Oct 13, 1998), <<http://www.artbell.com/artquits.html>> [End quoting]

Needless to say, there are reams of speculative material on the web about the “true” reasons why Art quit—we'll have to wait for now.

ART BELL DENIES BEHIND-THE-SCENES NEGOTIATIONS

From the INTERNET, Mitch Battros, <<http://www.earthchangesTV.com>>, 10/17/98: [quoting]

From Richard C. Hoagland:
Yesterday afternoon—Thursday, October 15—I had a wonderful surprise: my friend and colleague, Art Bell, called.

We had perhaps the best off-air conversation in a year. Among other items, Art and I discussed not only his abrupt, shocking "resignation" Tuesday morning ... but the reasons.

I will not divulge details, except to say that his (to many of his friends) completely enigmatic actions are sincere; they are NOT mere "hype" for "Coast-to-Coast"; they are NOT "positioning" for some mysterious, behind-the-scenes contract negotiations with Premiere (his parent network). They are simply rooted in a complex family problem, which has been building to a crisis for a year ...and which climaxed so "messily" on Monday night.

There are government agendas and conspiracies. But I am satisfied—from a first-hand conversation with my friend—that this is not one of them! Unless we clearly separate this truth from all the rumors, we are lost; the serious subjects and agendas discussed on "Coast-to-Coast" will be totally negated and ignored, if we do not firmly distinguish a personal crisis from a "black-ops" project.

The good—actually, great!—news: Art will be back. With time and a much clearer head, as well as much outside assistance, he can see a way clear to deal with the delicate issues which precipitated this emergency, and he assures me, he will return to both the Show and the audience he loves. As well he should. —Richard C. Hoagland [End quoting]

According to a Los Angeles television news program (Channel 7) for 11P.M. Friday night 10/16/98, Art will be appearing live for the first hour (10-11P.M. West Coast time) of his Monday night (10/19/98) radio program time slot to explain to his large listening audience what the situation is with him.

PHILIPPINES—TYPHOON ZEB

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 10/14/98: [quoting]

MANILA, Philippines—Typhoon Zeb set off on a menacing course toward Taiwan today after pounding the Philippines—killing 24 people there, touching off floods and mudslides and driving more than 100,000 from their homes.

The storm struck the Philippines on Wednesday, its 150-mph winds whipping up two-story-high waves that blasted the shoreline. By today, it was already buffeting Taiwan, which had two of its own storm-related deaths.

At least 103,000 people were forced to flee their homes in the Philippines as Zeb brought rampaging floods. Most have since returned home, but more than 10,000 people remained in 28 government shelters. Zeb weakened to 103 mph as it moved inland but was expected to pick up strength over the Pacific today, although forecasters said it would not equal its earlier power.

Authorities confirmed at least two dozen deaths and said more casualties were expected because of the many reports of landslides and floods.

"There are so many reports of landslides that will keep us busy for a while," Chief Insp. Ricardo Villena said today...

Zeb, the strongest of eight storms to hit the Philippines this year, was about 430 miles north of Manila this morning and moving slowly north, said weatherman Rene Molina. [End quoting]

The Philippines have been hit hard by disasters in the recent past. They need our prayers.

SENATE PASSES SUBSTITUTE MONITORING BILL

From the INTERNET, courtesy of Lorraine Gersic <lookhere@earthlink.net>, 10/12/98: [quoting]

To the American remnant and allies world wide:

What would motivate the Senate to unanimously vote broad new powers to a President who is under impeachment investigation for lying and abuse of power? The Senate Friday passed the so called INTERNATIONAL RELIGIOUS FREEDOM ACT (S-1868) sponsored by Senators Don Nichols, Joseph Lieberman and others by a vote of 98-0 in the closing hours of the session.

The bill is touted by the press as a "compromise" to the FREEDOM FROM RELIGIOUS PERSECUTION ACT, which was tabled by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in May. In fact, the difference between the two bills is largely cosmetic, masking the powers granted to the president. S-1868 has already been referred back to the friendly Newt Gingrich-controlled House, where it received instant approval on Saturday. President Clinton reportedly finds the compromise bill acceptable, Undersecretary of State and Council on Foreign Relations member Stuart Eizenstat having negotiated an acceptable compromise for him.

S-1868 is less Orwellian than the Freedom From Religious Persecution Act, placing nearly open-ended discretionary sanction powers in the hands of the president in Section 405 under the heading of "Commensurate Action". It sets the stage for government to make religion its business while supposedly in search of persecutors. The bill is clearly internationalist legislation, relying upon the same United Nations covenants cited in the predecessor bill, and it goes a step further by recognizing the authority of the International Criminal Court; it provides for an appointed "commission" to "monitor" religions instead of an ORPM director, but the commission is chaired and dominated by a presidentially-appointed "ambassador at large". No doubt Mr. Clinton will add Christian influence to the committee, like parsley on a dinner plate, by appointment of a celebrity Christian to the commission.

Perhaps most ominous, S-1868 authorizes taking advice and input from "Non-Government Organizations" (NGOs) without any specifications as to which NGOs Mr. Lieberman and Mr. Nichols have in mind. The presidentially-appointed "Ambassador at Large" will choose whom he will listen to, and FREEDOM HOUSE and HUDSON INSTITUTE are NGOs that promoted the bill. These predominantly non-Christian groups might have direct and preferential input, but would your church? We Hold These Truths is an NGO, but we doubt if we will be consulted about questions of religious persecution and warmaking sanctions, any more than we were allowed to testify in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This bill invites selective, consensus decision making propaganda generation...

...To all those who have helped, we thank you for your understanding of our common problem, and your very effective efforts to expose the Freedom From Religious Persecution Act for what it is. Most important, we have discovered in one another the presence of a committed and knowledgeable remnant that does not believe in compromise on matters of God.

PIGEONS GO MISSING IN RACE— COULD SIGNAL PENDING MAJOR EARTHQUAKE?

Excerpted from the INTERNET, posted by Jim Berkland, <www.szygyjob.com>, 10/8/98: [quoting]

The following note is from geologist and earthquake expert Jim Berkland and deals with the totally bizarre disappearance of 2,000 racing pigeons and how that might be linked to a very large, pending earthquake.

Daniel Karnes posted a significant news item on the Animals Page—about 90% of thousands of racing pigeons dropping out in two separate races on Monday back East. They say they have never seen anything like it and can't explain it by solar flares or bad weather. Another explanation is magnetic field changes prior to large earthquakes. I have established this quite well by working since the early 1980s with Nick Corini, pigeonmaster in Hollister, CA.

You can read about it in a chapter dealing largely with my work in the 1996 book, CALIFORNIA FAULT, by Thurston Clarke (Chapter titled "Lost Cats and Smashed Pigeons").

A smash race is one where few of the birds get back on time or do not return at all. Corini has records of Bay Area pigeon races going back decades, and he spent some time researching the greatest smash race in local history. The date caused me to gasp. It was March 24, 1964, which I knew was just 3 days before the greatest quake measured for North America, the 8.5M Richter (9.4Mw Moment magnitude) Alaskan Quake on Good Friday, 1964. It struck in the late afternoon on the day of a Full Moon!

It had been preceded by a few months of strange slowing of Old Faithful Geyser in Yellowstone. In recent months we have had a similar report about Old Faithful. I have had several unconfirmed reports of the federal scientists being concerned about a large US quake this fall. I don't know if that is true, but I do know that I am concerned, and this amazing coincidence of Smash pigeon races does not ease my mind. I am trying to learn if other parts of the world have experienced similar races.

The 1964 'smash' race occurred over 1600 miles from the location of the Alaska quake. Jim Berkland states that the location of the smash race may have little to do with the epicenter of any following quake, that the magnetic disturbance caused by fault stress is so powerful it can disrupt the internal magnetic guidance systems of pigeons great distances away. [End quoting]

Jim Berkland has a very good record for predicting earthquakes, so it pays to be prepared when he puts out a warning.

But keep in mind that the 1964 events occurred in the days before the HAARP system and related magnetic-field-perturbing Tesla technologies were secretly being deployed, on a regular basis, to manipulate the mental and emotional and physiological states of large targeted masses of the world's populations. If people are electronically being induced into states of agitation, confusion, etc., what might be the effects upon the world's animal species?

LAWMAKERS OK CHANGE TO RULES ON WIRETAPPING

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 10/9/98: [quoting]

Without debate or notice, lawmakers Thursday approved a proposal long sought by the FBI that would dramatically expand wiretapping authority—an idea Congress rejected three years ago. The provision—allowing law-enforcement agencies to tap more easily any telephone used by or near a target individual instead of getting authorization to tap specific phones was added to the Intelligence Authorization Conference report during a closed-door meeting and filed with the House and Senate on Monday. The conference report was easily adopted by the House on Wednesday, despite an objection to the wiretapping provision from Georgia Republican Bob Barr, and by the Senate on Thursday. [End quoting]

They pretend that they weren't using indiscriminate listening devices when they have satellites and other methods of listening to every conversation in the US. Anybody who thinks they can keep secrets from the NWO gangsters had better wake up!!

FEDS MAP OUT RESPONSE PLAN ON TERRORISM

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 10/9/98: [quoting]

Attorney General Janet Reno said Thursday that the Clinton administration is reading a new terrorism-response plan to ensure a coordinated federal effort to train and equip state and local authorities and to practice working with them on terrorist attacks.

"State and local fire, police, medical officials and emergency officials are the first responders [to terrorist attacks]. They are on the front line," Reno said at her weekly news conference.

"What this effort is about is developing a fully coordinated federal effort to train and to provide equipment in a cost-effective manner based on sound standards."

She said the plan also would provide "opportunity to have exercises in which state and local officials can work with federal officials to be prepared, in case the real thing, God forbid, should happen"

Last week, Justice Department officials told a congressional hearing they have reached an agreement with the Pentagon, the National Security Council and the Federal Emergency Management Agency to act as the lead agency for the domestic preparedness program. [End quoting]

I hope you realize by now that this is training for the ones who will be our captors—"we the people" are the "terrorists" in their lexicon.

God has other plans for HIS people.

AND THEREAFTER ARE WE SHEEP?

Excerpted from THE MODESTO BEE, 9/28/98: [quoting]

Have we become a nation of sheep?

Chicago is the latest and largest public school system to impose compulsory "volunteer" work on its students as a requirement for graduation. If the parents stand for this in Chicago, you can expect it to spread all across the country.

There is even less reason to put up with such heavy-handedness from education bureaucrats in Chicago than in most other places, because the school system there is under the control of an elected mayor. If the voters get up in arms, this half-baked power play will have to go. But if the public can be soothed or deflected with pretty words like "community service", you can expect "educators" to push their intrusions into students' lives even further.

Most of the children in the Chicago schools cannot read at the national average. Yet the bureaucrats want them out serving soup to bums or handing out leaflets for the Sierra Club.

What is happening in the Chicago schools is not limited to Chicago or even to the "community service" craze. It is part of a much larger and much older hidden agenda that goes back at least as far as John Dewey.

Professor Dewey, the godfather of "progressive" education, said it all, 70 years ago: "The great task of the school," he said, "is to counteract and transform" the beliefs and values that the child brings from "the home and the Church [emphasis mine]." [End quoting]

The elite are just getting us used to the idea that we'll work for them free. This is not saying that volunteer work is bad or harmful—it is only FORCED "volunteer work" that is bad and harmful. Oxymoronic, at best.

DEAL WITH WORKERS PUTS PHILIPPINE AIRLINES IN AIR

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 9/29/98: [quoting]

Philippine Airlines Inc., grounded last week by mounting losses and labor disputes, will resume operations Oct. 7 after its largest union agreed not to strike for 10 years. Philippine President Joseph Estrada said government mediators persuaded PAL's union to swap a 10-year suspension of its collective bargaining rights for a 20-percent stake in the airline. The workers also will get four seats on PAL's 15-member board. [End quoting]

It's good to see that they did not leave the Philippines stranded without airline service.

VACCINE GIVES BABIES A NEW PROTECTOR

Excerpted from THE MODESTO BEE, 9/26/98: [quoting]

For the first time, a vaccine has been shown to give newborns powerful protection against the nation's biggest cause of earaches and meningitis in children.

Dr. Steven Black, who tested the vaccine, pronounced it "one of the major breakthroughs for the public health of children in this decade".

Doctors said they believe the vaccine against pneumococcus bacteria quickly will become a routine childhood shot once it is approved by the Food and Drug Administration. It could be on the market by 2000. [End quoting]

This might all be true—but with what we know that the government does with these vaccines, what else will they have incorporated within them by the time it gets to your baby?

I see this as a means to counteract the attack against vaccines by the ones who know what the elite are doing. I would not trust the government on anything they say—after all, there isn't a greater collection of liars and deceivers anywhere else on Earth.

WHAT PRIVATE RYAN TEACHES US ABOUT WAR

Excerpted from UNKNOWN newspaper, 1998: [quoting]

The best recommendation for seeing Saving Private Ryan came from a father who said his son lost interest in computer war games after seeing it. The second best came from my daughter who said, "I'm sorry now I've never flown the flag on Memorial Day."

Several combat veterans have said that Saving Private Ryan is the most accurate depiction of war they've ever seen in a movie. Now why should people see an accurate depiction of war?

So they will know that it is so horrible that no one should ever put Americans into one except to defend the country against attack. So they will know what price men paid for our freedom and independence. So they will know that war is not a computer game or a silly Rambo comic book adventure. So they will know what horrors bad politics and diplomacy produce.

I've observed that most creative people produce one masterpiece where everything seems to come together exactly right. It's a form of magic. Most do it only once. I think Saving Private Ryan is Steven Spielberg's masterpiece. And probably Tom Hanks' masterpiece, too. [End quoting]

Looks like the original intent backfired. Hopefully it will awaken many people to the fact that NO ONE EVER WINS A WAR!!

DON'T ASK; DON'T TELL

From THE SPOTLIGHT, 10/5/98: [quoting]

Two reporters were physically silenced and removed from a Gov. George W. Bush (R) press conference in Round Rock, Texas. At issue were questions specifically about the CFR and the Federal Reserve involvement in Texas. According to information from the Internet, talk show host Alex Jones and his producer, Mike Hansen, were grabbed by members of the Texas Department of Public Safety and physically removed from the rally. The questions were not answered. [End quoting]

ONE FOR AMERICA

From THE SPOTLIGHT, 10/5/98: [quoting]

The House gift shop has banned the sale of foreign-made merchandise after two members of the Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees discovered congressional T-shirts assembled in Honduras. The workers, who the union says were laid off from textile jobs because of foreign competition, were in town to lobby for an anti-sweatshop bill. [End quoting]

Who says we can't stop the NWO? All we have to do is for enough of us to say "We aren't going to take it anymore" and do something other than talk about it—NON-VIOLENTLY!

Remember, God is on our side—ONLY IF WE DO IT HIS WAY!

CLINTON COMMENTS

From THE SPOTLIGHT, letter to editor, 10/5/98: [quoting]

How can anyone with a sound mind believe the national polls putting Clinton at 60 percent and 70 percent popularity? He was elected by less than 45 percent of the population, which makes these numbers impossible. How stupid do they think we are? All these polls are conducted by left-wing organizations which desperately want their favorite Commie to remain in office.

A poll can have any desired outcome depending on the demographics involved and the way the questions are posed. Something smells funny to me. Is this another VoteScam?—Dan Werner [End quoting]

Anything you hear or read in the elite's controlled media is highly likely to be twisted or an outright lie!

MARINES ARE PRACTICING TO CONFISCATE YOUR GUNS

Excerpted from THE SPOTLIGHT, 10/5/98: [quoting]

The Pentagon has apparently turned to smalltown America for its controversial urban warfare training locales utilizing U.S. civilian areas.

In the past few years, U.S. communities, particularly large cities, have been the sites for surprise (to the peasants) mock assaults. Typically, the assaults feature Ninja-clad troops, rappelling down ropes from low-flying helicopters, frequently frightening and, on occasion, seriously endangering the lives of local citizens.

In one instance, live gunfire penetrated a restaurant in Miami, endangering patrons.

In the latest episode, a force of 55 U.S. Marine Corps lieutenants from Quantico, Virginia, apparently platoon leaders, descended upon the hamlet of Hebron, Maryland, population 675, marching for about a mile along overgrown railroad tracks into the community on September 2. They were dropped by three Marine helicopters outside of town. [End quoting]

Are we going to wait until this is no longer practice but the real thing, to put a stop to these gangsters in uniform? No person who really wants freedom and is willing to work for it will put up with these thugs. Innocence on the part of the soldiers, I feel, is mainly because too many parents don't care enough to educate their children about what freedom requires from each of us.

It's time to get to our politicians and make our voices clearly and emphatically heard.

INSIDE GORE'S HEAD

From THE SPOTLIGHT, 10/5/98: [quoting]

A significant glimpse inside the mind of Al Gore came when the vice president was presenting posthumous medals to the parents of American soldiers killed during the intervention in Somalia. Gore paid tribute to the dead soldiers by saying they "died in the service of the United Nations". One father returned the medal, explaining that he thought his son had died in the service of the United States. [End quoting]

INFECT OTHERS WITH AIDS KNOWINGLY AND GO TO PRISON

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 10/98: [quoting]

Note—20 years late, Californians have finally seen their politicians begin to express some real concern for the rights of the uninfected. This pathetically logical move comes, tragically, too late for tens of thousands of infected, dead, and dying human beings whose lives might have been saved by earlier—decades earlier—similar action. California Gov. Pete Wilson signed into law Wednesday a bill making it a felony to knowingly expose an unaware person to the virus which causes AIDS. "It's a tragedy that so many people contract the HIV virus," said Wilson.

An equal tragedy is when HIV-infected individuals intentionally infect their sexual partners with the virus. This is a deadly act that the State has the right and responsibility to deter.

The bill, by State Sen. Richard Rainey of Walnut Creek, provides for imprisonment for up to eight years of persons convicted of knowingly attempting to infect a sexual partner with HIV.

It also allows a person's HIV status to be disclosed if the person is the subject of a criminal investigation for committing this crime. [End quoting]

VIRTUOUS ATTACHMENTS

From THE PEACE HARBOR JOURNAL, Fall 1998: [quoting]

"He who is void of virtuous attachments in private life is, or very soon will be, void of all regard for his country. There is seldom an instance of a man guilty of betraying his country, who had not before lost the feeling of moral obligations in his private connections." —Samuel Adams in a letter to James Warren, Nov. 4, 1775 [End quoting]

SIGNS OF THE FUTURE

From POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, Oct. 1998: [quoting]

The days of having to climb a ladder to change a printed sign will be over if a company called E-Ink gets its way. Based in Cambridge, Massachusetts, E-Ink is the commercial incarnation of electronic ink developed at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology ["Electric Tales", June '97]. This electronic ink can be coated onto any surface using standard printing processes. To change a message, an electronic signal is applied to the surface, so the ink can change colors and form numbers and letters, for example.

E-Ink proposes to take the idea even further by linking the display to an existing paging system. Doing so would allow a sign to be updated remotely. An E-Ink display at a supermarket, for example, could be wirelessly updated to reflect changing prices or special sales. The display itself would be as thin as a sheet of paper, use very little power during updates, require no power to maintain, and be as readable as an existing sign. And because electronic ink can be printed on many different types of surfaces and the displays updated remotely, they would be advantageous in difficult-to-access spots.

E-Ink ultimately hopes to develop a "radio paper" that looks and feels like a newspaper but that could automatically be updated each day—the newspaper would essentially typeset itself upon receiving transmitted information. The company also hopes to apply the technology to such products as electronic books and magazines. F.V. [End quoting]

This could really be of benefit in thousands of ways if the elite will allow us peasants to use it.

"YOU CAN DO THIS"

Four words and one unforgettable woman—they changed my life

From GUIDEPOSTS, July 1998, P.O. Box 1479, Carmel, NY 10512: [quoting]

Barry Williams was my best friend when I was growing up in White Plains. In many ways, our lives were completely different. He lived in a two-story clapboard house with a backyard; my family occupied a railroad flat in a tenement building. My home life was troubled; his seemed serene. He was Black; I'm White. I dropped out of high school; he went on to Harvard. But what we had in common—what made all the difference in the world to me—was Barry's mother, Mrs. Williams.

I didn't even know her first name. She was always Mrs. Williams, the tall, dignified schoolteacher across the street who was rearing three sons on her own.

Sometimes Mrs. Williams told us stories. "A long time ago, in the marsh country of England, there lived an orphan boy named Pip," she might say. "One bleak evening he was visiting the graves of his parents. The sky darkened, and the wind blew, and the boy, afraid, started crying. Suddenly a deep voice roared, 'Keep still or I'll cut your throat!' and a terrible figure rose from among the tombstones."

"Then what happened?" I asked, enthralled.

"If you'd like to know," she answered, smiling, "read the book Great Expectations, by Charles Dickens." She made me want to go to the library.

Other times Barry and I would be out in the driveway on a Saturday shooting hoops, and his mother would say, "Boys, could you come and give me a hand?" The next thing we knew, we would be helping her with a student she was tutoring. I felt proud that Mrs. Williams valued my help. I didn't realize until much later that, by teaching someone else, Barry and I were learning too. Mrs. Williams made sure Barry and his brothers did their homework, and if I happened to be visiting, she watched while I did mine. Usually Barry and I studied at the kitchen table. Mrs. Williams stayed nearby, in case we had a question. At home I lived in fear of my father's alcoholic rages, and I wasn't used to that kind of discipline—or attention.

Her favorite words of encouragement were "You can do this." I heard them often because I was impatient and easily frustrated. When a math problem refused to yield its secrets or an essay had me confounded, I gave up and slammed my pencil on the table. Calmly, Mrs. Williams took a seat beside me and talked me through the assignment step-by-step. Something about her quiet reassurance, "You can do this, Walter," settled me down, and I managed to finish my homework.

Barry and his brothers went to private schools—an expense that must have strained Mrs. Williams' budget—and she worried about the quality of my education. One day she took me to a local parochial school, had me tested, then persuaded my parents to let me change schools.

I attended for a while, but, after an angry exchange with a teacher, I was told not to come back. Unperturbed, Mrs. Williams took me to another school, had me tested again, made sure I would receive the necessary financial assistance, then convinced my parents that it was important for my future. I made it through two grades in one school year.

When we were ready for high school, Barry applied to boarding schools. Mrs. Williams believed that would be the best thing for me as well. Anything to get me away from the streets, where she saw too many kids getting into trouble. I was accepted into a prep school and again awarded a scholarship. But when I saw the other students—kids in pressed shirts and blazers—all my old insecurities came rushing back. I couldn't do it. I entered the high school in town. A year and a half later, failing nearly every subject, I dropped out.

One of the hardest things I've ever had to do was tell Mrs. Williams. She gazed at me with her cool brown eyes and said nothing. "I'm going into the Marines," I said, shrugging. "I won't need high school."

"Okay, Walter." Her voice was quiet, resigned. "I don't agree with you, but you're old enough to make your own decisions."

Six months later, in the Marines, I realized how right she was. In three and a half years I would be out of the service, a 21-year-old with no diploma. What sort of future would I have? Dear Lord, I prayed, please give me another chance.

The next morning, I went to the First Sergeant and said, "I want to go to school." The first step was to take an exam for a high-school equivalency diploma. I must have done well, because after seeing my scores, the Marines enrolled me in a special electronics program.

Again I felt out of my league. Dear God, I prayed, let me pass just one course. The instructor began his lecture. I started taking notes, but there was so much I didn't know; so much I was afraid I would never know. There's no way I'll get through this class, I thought, putting my pen down. I should just walk out the door right now.

All at once I heard a familiar voice inside my head, warm and reassuring: "Don't give up, Walter. You can do this." I wasn't so sure, but I owed it to Mrs. Williams—and to myself—to try. Taking a deep breath, I picked up my pen and concentrated on my instructor's lecture.

I graduated seventh in a class of 24. It was the biggest thrill of my life. I can't wait to tell Mrs. Williams, I thought. But by the time I made it back home the Williamses weren't living across the street anymore. They had moved and no one knew their new address.

After the Marines I went on to receive my bachelor's degree. By the age of 26 I was well into a career in journalism. I became a newspaper editor and eventually editor-in-chief of Parade magazine.

Several years ago when I spoke at a dinner, I told the audience, "All the successful people I've known have one thing in common. In their childhood there was someone who said, 'I believe in you'. For me, that was my best friend's mother, Mrs. Williams." It was gratifying to give her credit. Still, I longed to tell her how she had changed my life, to thank her for all she had done for me.

Some time later, I talked to Parade's senior investigative-reporter about Mrs. Williams. "I wish I could get in touch with her," I said.

"I can find her," he declared.

A few days later he called. "Walter," he said, "Mrs. Williams lives a few miles away from you. She's retired from teaching, and her son Barry is a successful attorney."

Mrs. Williams and I had a reunion at my house. All I could do at first was thank her over and over again. Then the words spilled out in a rush, as I told her about everything I had accomplished, eager to make her proud. "I graduated college as valedictorian. Then I got into journalism and today I'm the editor-in-chief of a magazine."

She gave me a broad smile. "Of course, you are, Walter," she said, her voice as full of assurance as it had been so many years ago. Ilza Louise Berry-Williams never doubted for a moment that I could accomplish anything I set my mind to. It just took me a while to believe it for myself. —Walter Anderson, White Plains, New York [End quoting]

Think of how many opportunities we miss to give a few words of encouragement to ones we know, especially youngsters who may need it the most.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL FLOWER

From A LETTER, from Mary Snell, 10/98: [quoting]

The park bench was deserted as I sat down to read
Beneath the long, straggly branches of an old willow tree.

Disillusioned by life with good reason to frown,
For the world was intent on dragging me down.

And if that weren't enough to ruin my day,
A young boy out of breath approached me,
all tired from play.

He stood right before me with his head tilted down
And said with great excitement, "Look what I found!"

In his hand was a flower and what a pitiful sight,
With its petals all worn—not enough rain, or too little light.
Wanting him to take his dead flower and go off to play,
I faked a small smile and then shifted away.

But instead of retreating he sat next to my side,
And placed the flower to his nose,
And declared with overacted surprise,
"It sure smells pretty and it's beautiful too.
That's why I picked it; here, it's for you."

The weed before me was dying or dead,
Not vibrant of colors, orange, yellow or red.
But I knew I must take it, or he might never leave.
So I reached for the flower, and replied,
"Just what I need."

But instead of him placing the flower in my hand,
He held it mid-air without reason or plan.
It was then that I noticed for the very first time,
That weed-toting boy could not see; he was blind.

I heard my voice quiver; tears shone in the Sun,
As I thanked him for picking the very best one.
"You're welcome," he smiled, and then ran off to play,
Unaware of the impact he'd had on my day.

I sat there and wondered how he managed to see
A self-pitying woman beneath an old willow tree.
How did he know of my self-indulged plight?
Perhaps from his heart, he'd been blessed with true sight.

Through the eyes of a blind child, at least I could see,
The problem was not with the world, the problem was me.
And for all of those times I myself had been blind.
I vowed to see the beauty in life,
And appreciate every second that's mine.

And then I held that wilted flower up to my nose,
And breathed in the fragrance of a beautiful rose.
And I smiled as I watched that young boy,
Another weed in his hand,
About to change the life of an unsuspecting old man.

We can learn a lot from the "disabled", especially when they are full of the sparkle of youth.

Move Over, Bankster Parasites!

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND AS WAS THE GOVERNOR OF THE CENTRAL BANK (WHO WAS FIRED AT THE SAME TIME AS ANWAR). IN OTHER WORDS, IN EVERY NATION AROUND THESE PARTS, INCLUDING THE CENTRAL BANK OF THE PHILIPPINES—THE GOVERNOR GETS ON THE ACTUAL PAYROLL OF THE INVADING IMF. YOU KNOW, THAT “FOREIGN NATION” WITH ITS OWN CHARTER. THAT MEANS THAT AN OATH OF ALLEGIANCE IS GIVEN THE NEW ENTITY OF WHICH THE PERSON BECOMES A “CITIZEN” AND THEREFORE A TRAITOR TO HIS OWN COUNTRY.

IT IS EXACTLY WHAT HAS HAPPENED IN THE U.S.A. AND ALL PARTS WEST—THE VERY NATIONAL SERVANTS ARE ON THE PAYROLL (LITERALLY) OF THE WORLD VIPEROUS OCTOPUS.

By including together the Federal Reserve System, IMF, World Bank, and United Nations—every person who passes through those entities has given an oath of allegiance to that foreign club of Satan. If you are an employee of the United States of America—YOU ARE PAID BY AND WORK FOR THE “SYSTEM”. NO TAXES GO TO PAY FOR ANYTHING—EVERYTHING IS PAID FOR BY EMPTY, BASELESS FUNDS AND CURRENCY OF THIS MONSTER WITHOUT CONSCIENCE OR VALUE. THE IMF FUNDS BEING ARGUED NOW ARE ONLY TO PAY OFF INTEREST, WHICH IS IN ARREARS, TO THE BANKS—NOT FOR THE PEOPLE. YOU ARE SLAVES TO THAT SYSTEM—ABSOLUTE SLAVES.

VINA
V.K. DURHAM—
“GRANDMA”

What, you might ask, is V.K. Durham after with her new hits on the computer networks? Well, she is foolishly ignorant. I would add that the banks are FULL of stacks of these interesting offerings of her ilk. They are based on thousands of outstanding gold certificates, some of which are from the U.S. to China. Many are Peruvian in origination. To now suggest that Russell was totally incapacitated in the time of “Rick” is more foolish indeed for she would mostly be on the phone with Russell when the calls were made. What has been done has been done to protect Rick—not somehow dish dirt to one Grandma Greedylocks. She simply cannot have it both ways, people. We will offer no more interchange with her and, no, we will NOT tell her what we are doing because she would butt into it with both feet and her vulgar mouth, as has been proven prior to now. She has been “blacklisted” at the level of government in the U.S. (Treasury, et al.) and thereat lie the facts of the matter. She demands equal time in CONTACT? That is up to Dr. Young. CONTACT’s readers supported that lady until they couldn’t longer do so and now she lives off other entrapped persons she calls “sister”. No, it is not “ok” and she is only again using—the party is not a sister but it is noted that all harassment comes via that party. No, we have no wish to slander or defraud—but there are not any truthful statements in her harangues as against what she has written over the years of this bombardment of “stuff”. We wish her well in her quest for “getting it all” but we will not assist in her poison-pen attacks. To you who spent time out of your very lives to assist and support—I thank you and you shall be rewarded for that difficult time and assault upon your senses as individual persons. She has made you, through assumption, a party to her foolish “trust”, and party to same without your being longer attached to anything she perpetrates.

The “government” has stated emphatically that they “ignore her and are gonna just let ’er die”. We assumed that meant whatever they intend it to mean but they certainly are not concerned with her harassment except to be further “put off” as to trying to offer her help and assistance—which they say she has neither coming, due nor owed.

As for Russell Herman—oh indeed, he was real, valid, and tried to establish a way to recover from the mess he had helped create. Do we now have to let him have lived and then be murdered—in vain? If there is forgery or fraud—then everything she has produced is forgery and fraud—period. And I ask you readers: would you make sure this party would have enough to simply come against you with assaults and legal consorts? She has just ended all possibility of any assistance from this resource whatsoever. We are NOT INVOLVED WITH ANYTHING OF HERS NOR SHALL WE EVER BE—AND WE APOLOGIZE FOR HAVING BEEN INVOLVED IN ANY WAY IN THE PAST—EXCEPT TO HONOR RUSSELL HERMAN. RUSSELL HERMAN WORKED WITH THESE TRAITORS IN POWER—PERHAPS THAT BETTER EXPLAINS HIS DEATHBED INTENTIONS.

V.K. SUGGESTS THAT AUTOPSIES WOULD PROVE BROKEN HANDS? WE ARE TO EXHUME RUSSELL AND DEMAND AN AUTOPSY? TO PROVE WHAT?

V.K., KEEP YOUR PROMISES OF RICHES, OF GOLD, OF ART WORKS AND YOUR MEAN MOUTH TO YOURSELF FOR WE WILL NOT SACRIFICE ANYONE FURTHER TO THE DANGERS YOU PRESENT. YOU MISSTATE EVERY ACCUSATION AGAINST RICK AND IT SHALL NOT BE TOLERATED. YOU INFER DIRTY DEALINGS WHICH ARE TREASON—IT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE. RICK IS A JOURNALIST AND WAS GIVEN STATE DEPARTMENT CLEARANCE TO INTERVIEW QUADAFI—NOT DO BUSINESS WITH HIM OR ANY OTHER FOREIGN ENTITY. HE HAS NEVER HAD ANY CONTACT WITH EVEN DR. FARRAKHAN—AND WHAT MIGHT YOU HAVE AGAINST DR. FARRAKHAN?

NATION OF ISLAM AND ISLAM IDEALS ARE THE VERY FOUNDATION UPON WHICH A SOCIETY—A GLOBAL SOCIETY/COMMUNITY—CAN BE BASED. THIS WOULD PRESENT ITSELF IN GOODNESS AND HONOR—SOMETHING LONG MISSING FROM THE WARDROBES OF MANKIND. THEY DO NOT USE “INTEREST” THAT BLEEDS HUMANITY OF ASSETS WITHOUT POSSIBILITY OF RECOVERY—AND THEY GIVE HONOR TO TRUTH, LIGHT AND NON-CORRUPTION. THEY DEMAND THE HIGHEST OF IDEAL BEHAVIOR AND IT IS LONG MISSING FROM THE JUDEO-CHRISTIAN DIALOGUE AND STRUCTURE. JUDEO-FALSE CHRISTIANS HAVE DESTROYED YOUR WORLD AND ALL THAT IS IN IT. A MORE LOGICAL NAME FOR WHAT YOU HAVE BECOME IS “SHATANIC (SATANIC)-JUDAIST-PSEUDO CHRISTIAN” FOR YOU NO LONGER HAVE ANY ATTRIBUTES OF A CHRIST-LIKE INTENT OR FUNCTIONING.

Are the contracts “real”? Of course. Are they “valid”? Yes—but only because they were caused to be legally adopted in their value and use, which is still lawful and valid. But a bible-copy of some old “form” is not in point here, nor has it ever been in point—no matter to whom it belonged.

And Durham Holding Trust? Pooh! V.K. demanded funds FROM US, to do the paperwork, and the trustees she had coerced into her nest of biting-mites, quit. We have no interest nor input into anything she has established or holds, trusts or otherwise. Do we care? Only in that it is sad when anyone turns from truth and into the lies—because we let them go their way and we now let her go her way without giving more time or focus on the matter.

INTERNATIONAL HISTORY AND HAPPENINGS

The only newscast (in English) in this area of Malaysia is CNN-TIME WARNER. They are being considered for being barred from the country for unethical behavior, intent to incite riots, and false reporting. How refreshing! Worse yet, some of these political dealers, just out of office on charges of alleged treason and misbehavior, had made international treaty law through their own incredibly black operations, and undoing that corruption and those criminal activities against the Nation is difficult to accomplish—and the International Community bashes and hacks away at those with daring enough to say “enough already”. Anwar and others will get a FAIR AND JUST DAY IN COURT—THIS HAS BEEN SOMETHING LONG AGO LOST TO OTHER NATIONS AND HAS NOT BEEN PRESENT IN THE U.S. SINCE ITS INCEPTION.

VISION 2020

What has Dr. Mahathir envisioned for Malaysia that doesn't meld with the antics of Anwar? Well, let us just list a bit of his vision:

[QUOTING:]

THE VISION 2020 STATEMENT

The ultimate objective that we should aim for is a Malaysia that is a fully developed country by the year 2020. We shall be a developed country in our own mould. We must be fully developed in terms of our economy, in terms of social justice, political stability, system of government, quality of life, social and spiritual values, national pride and confidence. There can be no fully developed Malaysia until we have finally overcome the nine central strategic challenges that have confronted us from the moment of our birth as an independent nation.

THE NINE CHALLENGES:

- * Establish a united nation with a sense of common and shared destiny.
- * Create a psychologically liberated, secure and developed Malaysian society with faith and confidence in itself, justifiably proud of what it is, of what it has accomplished, and robust enough to face all manner of adversity.
- * Foster and develop a mature democratic society, practise a form of mutual consensual, community-oriented Malaysian democracy that can be a model for many developing countries.
- * Establish a fully moral and ethical society, whose citizens are strong in religious and spiritual values and imbued with the highest of ethical standards.
- * Establish a mature, liberal and tolerant society in which Malaysians of all colours and creeds are free to practise and profess their customs, cultures and religious beliefs, and yet feel they belong to one nation.
- * Establish a scientific and progressive society that is innovative and forward-looking, one that is not only a consumer of technology, but also a contributor to the scientific and technological civilisation of the future.
- * Establish a caring society and a caring culture, a social system in which society will come before self, in which the welfare of the people will revolve not around the state or the individual, but around a strong and resilient family system.
- * Ensure an economically just society in which there is a fair and equitable distribution of the wealth of the nation, in which there is full partnership in economic progress.

* Establish a prosperous society, with an economy that is fully competitive, dynamic, robust and resilient.

[END OF QUOTING]

I would point out here another interesting point: Anwar was the major establisher of the very law under which he is being held and will be tried. The man was arrested; he was not the object of one Dr. Mahathir's anger or hatred. He was as a brother (or son; Mahathir is 73, Anwar 51) to this man and this recognition of the circumstances and intent to take the Nation for the IMF—THROUGH THE CIA, MOSSAD AND MI-6, HAS ABOUT KILLED HIM. The people who know what has taken place—say the man Anwar is far more “guilty” of “stuff” than has been brought public. So, Plan Vision 2020 was being shot to shreds by Plan 2000. Well, let us not give up so easily—God also has a Plan 2000 for which this honorable nation will get a lot of credit and recognition for its coming into fruition.

Can my team take it? Oh yes, we are “getting there” and with your continued help from “back home” it will happen faster than you can imagine for the “concept” is being understood. Where did you think we would be when the Plan 2000 of God's would begin to have recognition? Dharma wants to go home—I need her here and I have to remind her of commitments and values from as far back as in India and the basic spiritual concepts of the best of the best. To leave our task unfinished is unacceptable.

When we make it beyond the very physical assaults on our selves—we can more openly share with you so that the lopsided reporting is not accepted by you, for when truth breaks through there are going to be world courts with far more intent on JUSTICE than any confrontation thus brought upon the world. To be among the pioneers in actual presentation is a hoot and, at the same time, a terrorization.

I would also note that Vision 2020 was announced on the last day of February 1991—so you have to wait to realize the incredible strides being made until the IMF began to finalize the Plan 2000. There is the most advanced “Corridor” of technology ever conceived and attention and total honor given for this by such as Soros (yes indeed, THE Soros) and Gates of computer fame—an idea so magnificent as to only be conceived with God, my chelas. The world has nothing with which to compare with these two decades of growth—I remind you that in Kuala Lumpur is the tallest and most beautiful building in the WORLD. Massive development is being underway in the “Technical Corridor” referred to above. And yes, we are going to speak of these things until you understand the possibilities of a life outside the slave compounds. Do you actually think we will not accomplish our little task? Wow, and where have you been in this Course of Miracles?

Our little team gets discouraged from day to day—with full impatience and concern over “how to keep going”, etc. But the picture only extends itself ready for the maturing fruit to reach the harvest. You cannot see the momentary growth of the apple—it seems the fruit sets, then somehow it is ready one day—for harvest. Fine, never mind horticulture—we are moving into Japan, dear ones—TODAY. And that means I must attend in a most personal way the structuring and guidance necessary to meld our own task within that being established. This in turn means that you must never slacken your pace of contacts in the business world here, so that when we move in a big way—the teams are already trained and aboard. You expect these people to see the light and the whole picture in ten weeks, when it took you ten years++? Get your own presentation perfected and you won't waste another ten minutes, much less even ten days. I must keep Dharma out of some of the loops of interchange in business—because I don't want her to be mistaken for my own input so, until we get a bit further down the pathway—we manage minute by minute on the basis of intelligent operations.

In every international venture there has to be a basis for strategies of competence. Those are present here as well:

* The first is internal resilience, which when lacking may destabilise or compromise a country's integrity or existence. Resilience is defensive strength, and while it is generally a function of a country's physical and cultural attributes, it can be enhanced by deliberate action and policy.

* The second attribute is efficiency, which is the ability to use resources optimally for maximum advantage. Efficiency is generally the result of good organization and discipline.

* The third attribute is initiative, or entrepreneurship, the creative, risk-taking side of human endeavour which enables opportunities to be exploited to advantage.

* The fourth and final attribute is the most important, and that is good LEADERSHIP. Enlightened leadership brings vision, provides motivation, and points the way to development and modernization.

And the above are all listed as directives from a grand “leader”, right here, as a means of escaping the poverty trap and achieving sustained growth. It has been PROVEN in this little place in the South Pacific.

Does the U.S. have such possible leaders? NO, certainly not in Washington, D.C. However, Washington, D.C. houses the seat of traitors and treasonists. IT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CONSTITUTIONAL SOVEREIGN NATION. YOU EVEN SALUTE THE VERY FLAG OF THE ENEMY—THE FOREIGN FRINGED FLAG OF ENGLAND. YOU WILL FIND BRITAIN INVOLVED IN EVERY DASTARDLY DEED ON THE GLOBE. THEY HAVE SOLD YOU A BAG OF TRICKS AND A LIFETIME OF LIES—WHICH YOU BOUGHT—AND PAID FOR, LITERALLY. THE CORPORATE U.S. AND HER AFFILIATES ARE NOT THE UNITED STATES OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMERICA—IT IS THE CORRUPTED HOUSE OF THE PUPPET-MASTERS WITHOUT MORALS, INTEGRITY, HONOR OR JUSTICE. AND YES YOU DID—YOU LET IT HAPPEN. AND NOW, IF IT WOULD BE DIFFERENT—YOU MUST HELP. WHEN YOU LAUGH AT BILLY'S ZIPPER ANTICS—YOU LESSEN YOURSELF FOR HE IS A SICK PUPPET WITH NO POWER WHATSOEVER AND HIS MASTERS WILL SURELY LEAD YOU RIGHT INTO A MAJOR CATASTROPHIC WAR JUST AS SOON AS THEY CAN PULL IT OFF. THEY HOLD THE POWER THROUGH BLACKMAIL AND FEAR.

SO BE IT FOR ONE DAY YOU WILL AWAKEN AND FIND IT OVER—GOOD OR BAD.

Will you ever have leaders worthy of trust and honor? Yes, but you will go back to those essential qualities of those who seem “backward” as described by the “kings” of confusion and chaos.

Is it possible to achieve this dream? Of course—with God ALL THINGS are not only possible, but simply waiting for development and creation.

I would like to end this now that we might consider the things of the day ahead. You have proven you can sustain through some bad times and contradictions as the assaults and insults have come against you. Now we shall set forth the stage for the rewards of that service. I offer humble appreciation unto you who have served and “separation” has NO MEANING IN REALITY!

Salu, and please go forth and CREATE A GOOD AND PROSPEROUS DAY!

Editor's note: Despite the twisted agenda driving our American prostituted print and broadcast media, there can be no question about the tremendous importance of the Asian economies in the world financial arena. Right now the “squeeze play” is on, as the parasite banksters (banking gangsters) work to control these economies through the likes of the International Monetary Fund and the mouthings of the Fed's Alan Greenspan.

But not so fast. How about a view from the other side of the world?

Our “little team” (as Commander Hatonn calls them), laboring in Malaysia right now, have forwarded to CONTACT dandy articles written from the Asian press perspective—a press, you might imagine, that is not exactly beholden to or fond of the likes of the IMF, Greenspan, or any other disguises the parasites employ. We share some of the most well written and insightful of those articles, beginning with one from the Malaysian New Straits Times for 10/6/98, directly following this note. As Commander Hatonn said, near the beginning of his writing above, “Malaysia has...one of the most beautiful concepts of community that is available for witness upon the globe...” And that hasn't happened by accident!

MALAYSIA'S PRESCRIPTIONS GAIN ACCEPTANCE A YEAR LATER

New Straits Times, Monday, October 5, 1998: [quoting]

A YEAR ago when the international financial community met in Hong Kong for the annual World Bank and International Monetary Fund (IMF) meetings, the concern was about the Thai baht and the “potential spread of financial problems around East Asia”. One year on, the setting is Washington and the concerns are global.

A quarter of the world is in recession and the number of those living in poverty and hardship is growing by the hour, if not by the minute. Russia is in turmoil, Brazil is a matter of concern as its problems could affect the US economy and the Long-Term Capital Management (LTCM) debacle has raised more questions than the US has answered with its lightning-speed bailout of the hedge fund.

The IMF prescriptions for the Asian countries have not worked. They have made the situation even worse. The IMF's managing director Michel Camdessus admitted that the Fund made mistakes and added that it should have done more to monitor the financial sector. (Many of the hedge funds and derivatives markets are not regulated.)

Now the global financial community is looking for ways to overcome the problem and prevent the contagion from spreading to the developed world. US President Bill Clinton is talking of “a new financial world order” while his Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin talks about redesigning the “global financial architecture and making it as modern as the markets” admits the realisation that the US cannot remain an “oasis of prosperity” when the rest of the world is in turmoil.

Other areas being considered, according to Rubin, are a new financing mechanism at the IMF to get ahead of contagion in emerging markets and developing countries; a new mechanism at the World Bank to enable emergency lending for social safety-net spending and for financial restructuring; and enhanced trade finance and multilateral development bank enhancement.

Moves for lower interest rates and increased liquidity are also gaining popularity among the world's financial community. The World Bank's president James Wolfensohn urged major industrial nations to cut interest rates to spur economic demand and Camdessus has echoed this suggestion.

Stimulating the economy with lower interest rates and increased liquidity are among the measures that Malaysia had suggested much earlier, only to be ridiculed. Malaysia was also criticised as it was not in sync with the IMF policies which were to tighten liquidity, increase interest rates and reduce government spending.

But today, the world is coming around to Malaysia's way of thinking. The Group of 7 industrialised nations (G-7), in their statement, acknowledged the need “to take stimulative measures to put their economies on the path of recovery and sustainable growth”.

The developed nations are also coming around to the idea of “pursuing stable foreign exchange rates for sustainable economic growth”. The violent currency fluctuations and the rapid and dramatic depreciation of the currencies in Asian countries had rendered them helpless and unable to plan for the future.

Malaysia has in fact taken the lead by pegging the Ringgit to the US dollar at RM3.80. It has also reduced interest rates and instituted capital controls to insulate the economy from being further devastated by the contagion.

The measures are already beginning to show results. Foreign reserves are up and the wheels of businesses are starting to move again. The lower interest rates are bringing smiles to the faces of many businessmen and entrepreneurs. The burden of the high interest rate regime has been removed from individuals and corporations. Savings accrue not only in the form of a lower cost of funds but also in lower repayments. As a result of the lower interest rates, a Malaysian businessman is said to be able to realise savings of RM4 million a year.

One year later, and especially when the effects of the currency crisis are beginning to hit Latin America and closer to home with the collapse of LTCM, the US, IMF and other developed nations are becoming more accommodative to Malaysian views and solutions.

Japan's offer of US$30 billion in aid to assist the troubled Asian countries did not receive the objections of a year ago. The Japanese Finance Minister, Kiichi Miyazawa, said the package was needed to ease the pain of Asian nations. He hoped that the aid package would lead to the creation of an Asian crisis fund. When the Japanese proposed forming such a Fund in September 1997 to stop the spread of the financial crisis, its creation was stopped and violently objected to by countries led by the US.

The arguments put forth then were that the lending conditions would not be as strict as the IMF's and that it would undermine the IMF's “reforms”. Today it is seen as “a constructive thing to be doing”.

The IMF reforms have not worked and it has had to revise its terms in all the three countries involved—Thailand, South Korea and Indonesia. The economic situation in the three countries has deteriorated even further even as the Fund continues with its medication. There is an urgent need to seek alternative solutions.

None of the countries that have had to resort to the IMF—be they in Asia, Latin America or Africa—have seen their economies improve to the pre-crisis levels. The per capita income in Mexico today is about the same as it was in 1974. There is increased unemployment and poverty, and economic polarisation has “steadily torn away at Mexico's economic and social fabric”. The worse affected are the small rural and urban producers.

A report on “The Development Group for Alternative Policies” points out that from 1982 to December 1994 when the Mexican economy collapsed, the Mexican Government implemented virtually all of the adjustment policies promoted by the World Bank and the IMF—reduction in public expenditure (including social services); elimination and/or targeting of subsidies; tax reforms; restriction of credit; privatization of most state enterprises; trade liberalisation; devaluation; removal of barriers to foreign investment and “competitive” wages.

The policies were intended to control inflation and generate foreign exchange to help pay off the debt. While the World Bank and the IMF were applauding Mexico's economic performance under adjustment, one half of the population was living in poverty and their ranks were swelling daily. This situation is no different from that in Asia where the IMF has lent its “helping hand”.

Even the narrow macro-economic indicators which the World Bank and IMF use to judge the success of the structural adjustment programmes (SAPs) showed that they had failed. While gross domestic product (GDP) growth resumed after the 1981-1982 crisis, GDP per capita, a key indicator of living standards, had barely recovered to pre-crisis levels in 1993.

Even today as the IMF applauds the “progress” made by Thailand, South Korea and Indonesia, the misery and the economic devastation that has been left in the wake of the measures are not mentioned.

There is now a realisation that alternative measures and remedies including those proposed by Malaysia—lower interest rates, increased liquidity and fixed exchange rates to stimulate economic activity—may be the answer.

10/15/98 #1 HATONN

TURMOIL OR TERMINATION?

Can a nation or a people be islands unto themselves? Yes indeed, IF those other islands and lands and people around them cannot see LIGHT for the dark intent of Slave Masters of colonization's colonialism.

In Malaysia, for instance, there is the recognition of "Commonwealth". Just finished were the 1998 Commonwealth Games which was a "Commonwealth" gathering of Her Majesty's (Queen Liz of Britain) SUBJECTS. "Oh no, that's just a symbol and logos indicating togetherness..." I am told, and I tell you, good people, that you have exactly what you print—you still are a simple colony of the British-Israel Empire.

"No," I am again told, "we are not under the rule of England; we have our own 'Sultans' and our own pecking order of nationalism." No! No country or people who honor the living dead have autonomy and they shall be squeezed until the very life blood is drained and the slaves go back to slaving for the master.

As major crises have hit the Asian world, it is clearly seen as to what has brought such unrest, challenge, and downslide to humble nations, but no one wishes to call it what it IS! Top leaders have been put in blackmail shackles because the Satanic Takers have bought them off, set them up as in "framed" them, and the price of individual downfall is too much for the leadership to face in public examination.

The very central banks who THINK they are autonomous and only nation-oriented are bought off, and the executives and governors are put on the very payrolls of the assaulting vipers. It is innocent in the upstart and the arguments are sounding very, very good indeed. But, inch by inch, the vipers consume the very heart and soul of a nation—right through those leaders who set themselves up to protect and honor the citizens. You see it in Malaysia—but it is so much more accomplished in nearby countries. Central Banks all have the governors of their banks ON THE IMF PAYROLL TO PROTECT ALL INTERESTS OF THE VERY VIPER EATING THE NATIONS ALIVE.

If change is brought before the councils—no change can be forthcoming for it only has to be denied by the Governor in charge with a simple "no". What leader then dares to suggest that you might "try it"? God gives opportunities, but mankind first honors and serves the Master of Decay and Chaos. What leader can sit with honor while the visiting Queen walks on carpets of red and gold and eats from the best of a nation's table while its own people fall down, down, down into poverty, hunger and hopelessness? The very most basic programs which would totally turn about the downward spiral are stopped by, usually, as in the Philippines, ONE MAN—THE CENTRAL BANK GOVERNOR INFLUENCING THE PRIME MINISTERS AND OTHER LEADERS. AND HE IS ON THE PAYROLL OF THE IMF.

Dr. Mahathir states it well, with one exception—he does not state it as if it is a current reality: "Those who created the economic turmoil that we are facing now are just like the colonialists who once colonised us. Do not think their behaviour has changed. As the Malay adage goes, 'Tigers will always have their stripes'." And thus it happens: YOU ARE DESTROYED AGAIN AND AGAIN BY THE SAME TIGERS!

THESE SAME GODS COME FORTH AND TAKE AND DECIDE DESTINIES OF NATIONS AND PEOPLE THROUGH THEIR OWN GODS: GREED AND MONEY. THE FIRST RULE OF THE PROTOCOLS IS GET CONTROL OF THE MONEY (GOLD). TO TURN THE BEAST BACK ON HIS HAUNCHES—YOU MUST PUT THE GOLD AS YOUR FOUNDATION OF BANKING AND NOT SOME WORTHLESS, FOUNDATIONLESS PIECES OF PRINTED PAPER.

In the Constitution of the United States of America there are several very worthy requirements which have so long ago been removed and set aside as to be shocking, but let me speak of a couple of them:

The Congress was to manage money, gold, coinage and currency notes against the gold, silver, etc. In 1913 there came an Act created in secret and voted-in during Congressional recess by a mere handful of men near Christmas Eve, in a hotel room—that set forth the Mother of the IMF, the Federal Reserve. THIS WAS THE DOWNFALL OF THE U.S. People we meet in other lands think the U.S. is pure wealth and all the citizens are rich. NO, this is not so. There are so many homeless that the streets of the cities are filled at night with homeless people, babies and mothers. The currency foisted off onto the citizens HAS NO VALUE BACKING IT IN ANY WAY WHATSOEVER—IT IS BASICALLY WORTHLESS, EVEN TO THE PRINTING, OF WHICH THE PRESSES RUN 24 HOURS A DAY CHURNING OUT THE WORTHLESS NOTES.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA HAS BEEN BANKRUPT SINCE 1933 AND ESSENTIALLY UNDER MARTIAL LAW. THERE IS NO FREEDOM IN THIS NEW CORPORATE BEAST WHO CALLS ITSELF THE UNITED STATES BUT WEARS THE CROWN OF ENGLAND AND HER GOLD-FRINGED FLAG AS ITS SYMBOL. THE CONSTITUTION WAS SET ASIDE BY THE "WAR POWERS ACT" MANY YEARS AGO AND A FABRICATED "EMERGENCY" IS CREATED ANNUALLY TO CONTINUE THE RULE OF POLICE. ANYONE WHO ATTEMPTS TO COUNTER THIS FACADE OF POWER IS DEADED BY ASSASSINATION OR SUICIDE.

Please note that the leaders who were and are still the most powerful players are "honorably" "knighted" by the Queen of England—for example, Henry Kissinger, George Bush, etc. This very act of acceptance of such title is directly counter to the citizenship laws of the U.S., and makes these new "Sirs" subjects of the Crown—not longer citizens of the United States of America. They may well serve the CORPORATE U.S., but THAT IS NOT THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA!

In instances of such as Henry Kissinger, Madeleine Albright, and most of the other "Cabinet members of today", they are not even "citizens" of the United States—but rather "naturalized" to be allowed appointment to positions which actually run the nation. They cannot serve as President—so they simply put up a puppet president and run him. They are all players of the Club of Rome, which is basically headed by the Crown of England. The rules are enforced by the CIA, Mossad, and MI-6 and MI-5, all of Her Majesty's Secret Service and the Royal Institute—who, by the way, has as its controlling branch in the U.S., the Brookings Institute. Conspiracy? Oh by golly, this is so much beyond a mere conspiracy as to tickle the scholars.

There is no bother with such as a "Central Bank". THE FEDERAL RESERVE IS THE CONTROLLER OF ALL BANKS—AS CONTROLLED AND OPERATED IN TANDEM WITH THE WORLD BANK OF THE WORLD BANKSTERS [banking gangsters] AND THAT OLD BUG-A-BOO, THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND.

How do you ever gain against such a global master? You cut off the food supply! You get control through their own committed legal conduits so that there is leverage. Then you must back your currency with value—hard metals or something enduring, and so far that has only been gold and precious metals, with enough quantity to be global, but precious enough to be a foundation against which currency can be valued.

THERE IS NO GOLD BACKING ANYTHING IN THE U.S. THE RESERVE VAULTS WERE EMPTIED AND THE GOLD REMOVED FROM THE U.S. THE INFAMOUS FORT KNOX IS EMPTY—SAVE FOR THE BITS BEING BROUGHT BACK NOW AS TRUTH IS MAKING HEADLINES AND SOMETHING MUST BE AVAILABLE FOR PHOTOGRAPHING PURPOSES. THE U.S. IS IN DEBT SOME TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS AND NO TAXES GO TO RUN THE "DEMOCRATIC" GOVERNMENT OR FOR THE PEOPLE. ALL TAX COLLECTIONS GO TO THE BANKS AS PAYMENTS ON INTEREST.

EVERYONE MUST GO BACK AND READ THE PROTOCOLS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION. IT IS ALL RIGHT THERE IN THE "ACTION LIST".

RECOVERY OR TURN-ABOUT?

Could this be revolved back into reasonable exchange? Of course—as in Malaysia—by the pen and hand of your Prime Minister, Dr. Mahathir, who is doing all else he can conjure to do to hold off the wolves from the free-entry to scavenge the flesh and then the very bones of all that has been accomplished—all for the lack of monetary foundation and as leverage against the beasts of prey. There must NOW be both—both a foundation of hard value AND LEVERAGE AGAINST THE FALSE WELL-WISHERS.

THE IMF? HAVE YOU HEARD WHAT THEY ARE GOING TO DO NOW? AH INDEED, RAISE THE INTEREST RATES, WHEREAT THE PAYMENTS IN THE FIRST PLACE COULD NOT BE MET, AND DEMAND RAPID PAYBACK, WHEN THERE IS NOTHING TO REPAY ANYTHING TO ANYONE ANYWAY. THE VULTURES HAVE INSERTED THEMSELVES WITHIN THE VERY FIBER OF YOUR BEINGS; THE PARASITES ARE IN YOUR VERY JOINTS AND ARE EATING YOU ALIVE, WORLD. THEY FEAST ON INTEGRITY AND HONOR, AND STRIP THE VERY SOUL FROM A PEOPLE WITH THEIR GREEDY GODS, POWER AND WEALTH—YOUR POWER AND YOUR WEALTH.

Yes indeed, you have leaders around the globe who could, and still can, act wisely and daringly in this incredible Plan 2000 trap laid for the globe—BUT WILL THEY? They struggle with all the same disastrous methods of the original problem itself and find no time to even meet and confer about solutions. Band-aids are nice for toe blisters, but they cannot cover the wounds of a national holocaust.

THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS

International Press? You have no “international” press or media. Truth is absolutely suppressed while the lies are foisted off on an international audience—BY THE CONTROLLED MEDIA PUPPETS—indeed starting with, but certainly not ending with, CNN, who is no longer owned by one Ted Turner, but rather by one of the largest controlled corporations in the media world—TIME WARNER. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, REUTERS, ETC., ARE OWNED AND CONTROLLED BY THE SAME PUPPET-MASTERS. And yet, what do you have even in such as Malaysia where struggle for honor and survival is hardest under attack? You have the only news network—CNN. And right before the Malaysian public the information is a fabrication of lies and misstatements in an effort to incite riots and insurrection against their own nation.

The point is to totally destroy the economy as is, get the nation so indebted as to be hopelessly helpless, AND SEND IN THE CORPORATE RAIDERS TO STEAL THE INDUSTRY, PROPERTY AND THE NATION ITSELF. CAN THEY DO IT? INDEED—EVERYWHERE THEY HAVE GONE! THEY HAVE BROUGHT IN THEIR DEVIATES AND MADE LAWS ALLOWING ALL MANNERS OF INCESTUOUS ACTIVITIES WHILE THEY STRIP THE NATIONS OF ALL INTEGRITY AS THE BLINDFOLDS ARE PLACED AROUND THE MINDS. THIS IS NOT FREEDOM—THIS IS ENSLAVEMENT!

NEXT ACT FOR MALAYSIA?

This is the most disgusting move of all—and yet we watch Malaysia getting the red carpet ready for this new visitor on the scene, Bill Zipper Clinton, to the Asian meeting next month. Already the political line, out of Clinton-Gore, is in behalf of everything Malaysia stands against—including corruption and immoral behavior. Good friends, they claim, with the displaced parties [Anwar] who must answer to THE LAWS OF THE LAND—HAVING HELPED IN STRUCTURING THOSE VERY LAWS. How can anyone answer to THE LAW OF THE LAND with the hammer over the heads of the leaders of the nations—with the threat of no “help” if you continue in your search for integrity? After all, if it is good enough for the most powerful person in the world, the President of the U.S., how could you question the integrity and practices of some underling assistant?

KNOW SOMETHING: CLINTON HAS ABSOLUTELY NO POWER! HE DID NOT EVEN KNOW ABOUT THE BOMBING OF IRAQ—UNTIL AFTER THE BOMBING! HE HAS ABSOLUTELY NO POWER—PERIOD. HE IS RUN LIKE A WIND-UP TOY AND HAS (HAD) INCREDIBLE WEALTH STASHED OVERSEAS AS HE WAS PAID OFF BY THE INTERNATIONAL CARTELS—AND THAT VERY WORLD BANK, FEDERAL RESERVE AND INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND. HIS FRIEND AND AIDE, MR. VINCE FOSTER, TENDED THOSE FUNDS AND GOT MURDERED WHEN CAUGHT. THESE ARE NOT NICE PEOPLE! BUT THE WORLD IS NEVER ALLOWED TO KNOW—ARE YOU?

SO HOW DO “I” STAY ALIVE? EASY. I HAVE MORE POWER THAN DO THEY. THEIR BOSS IS MY ADVERSARY AND I WORK FOR GOD CREATOR. SO IT IS ALREADY CUT AND DRIED THAT I SHALL WIN THE GAME. BUT CAN YOU SURVIVE LONG ENOUGH TO DO LIKEWISE?

ASTEROIDS AND THINGS “OUT THERE”

You ask about “the big one” hitting you? Indeed, IT is on a dead-end trajectory to your planet! And yes indeed, it will wipe out what you recognize as civilization.

How is it that “things” don’t hit Earth much as they do other planets in the solar system? BECAUSE WE DEFLECT THEM FROM COLLISION THAT WILL DO MORE THAN GET YOUR ATTENTION. HARD TO BELIEVE? THEN WHY DO YOU PRETEND TO SERVE GOD AND PRAY TO SOME BEING CAPABLE OF HELPING YOU?

GOD WILL HELP YOU SAVE YOUR NATIONS AND YOUR GLOBE—BUT NOT IN ALLOWING EVIL TO CORRUPT EVERY LIVING THING IN HIS CREATION—PERIOD. YOU HAD BETTER GIVE THOUGHT TO THE REALITY OF THIS PARAGRAPH. GOD SENDS HIS MESSENGERS, AS STRANGE AS THEY MAY APPEAR—THE WAY, THE WHEREWITHAL, AND HOW TO DO IT. BUT YOU TURN THEM AWAY, IGNORE THEM, DISCOUNT THEM AND FINALLY—THEY GO AWAY. WELL, THIS TIME, FRIENDS OF THE GLOBE—WHEN THEY GO AWAY, THEY REALLY GO AWAY.

I TRUST THAT MY MESSENGERS WILL SEE TO IT THAT THIS MESSAGE GETS TO ALL OUR PRIOR CONTACTS, INCLUDING DR. MAHATHIR, ASAP. I WEARY OF THE FOOLISH GAMES.

ADONAI, H-ATON-N (as in The One Light).

The first article emphasizes the strong separation that exists between their “Executive” and “Judicial” components of government. The second and third articles cover aspects of their own version of the Billy “Zipper” Clinton saga. Take particular note of how God remains a central part of the solution equation in their philosophy.

PM: JUDICIARY IS NOT BEHOLDEN TO GOVERNMENT

by Ashraf Abdullah And Alex Choong

New Straits Times, Friday, October 16, 1998:
[Quoting]

KUALA LUMPUR, Thurs.—No one should question the independence of the Malaysian judiciary and its ability to make decisions freely because history has proven that it is not beholden to the Government, Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr. Mahathir Mohamad said today.

He said the judiciary had ruled in favour of the Opposition more often than it did for the Government which had on all occasions accepted the decisions although at times the judgments “seemed unfair”.

However, he said, the Government did not protest or complain because it respected the freedom of the judiciary to make decisions without fear or favour.

“I am not complaining that the judiciary is unfair, but it seems to us that decisions are made without any regard to the Government ... not at all,” he told reporters after briefing Senators and Barisan Nasional MPs at Parliament House on the next Dewan Rakyat and Dewan Negara meeting which begins on Oct 20.

Dr. Mahathir cited an instance where an Opposition member was fined less than RM2,000 so that he would not be disqualified as an MP, although the maximum fine for the offence was much more than that.

“This is discrimination but we didn’t protest,” he said. Among recent cases involving Opposition MPs, Datuk Seri Joseph Pairin Kitingan, then Sabah Chief Minister, was fined RM1,800 after he was found guilty by the Kota Kinabalu High Court in 1994 for using his position to commit corrupt practice.

He was charged under the Emergency Ordinance (Essential Powers) which carries a maximum 20 years’ jail or a fine up to RM20,000.

In 1978, DAP secretary-general Lim Kit Siang was charged, convicted and fined RM15,000 on five charges relating to the disclosure of secret information regarding the purchase of four fast strike craft by the Royal Malaysian Navy in 1976.

He appealed to the Federal Court and successfully had the fine for each charge reduced to less than RM2,000.

Under the Federal Constitution, an MP who is fined RM2,000 or more or jailed for more than a year, will automatically be disqualified as a member of the Dewan Rakyat.

Dr. Mahathir said on the other hand, when cases involving the Government appeared before the court, they were severely dealt with.

“I don’t know what else you can say about the judiciary being fair when the same judiciary has decided very much against the Government in many instances.

“We are not saying that it is unjust. But the same judiciary had declared that Umno was an illegal party. We had to re-start Umno and we were put in big trouble by that decision.”

Umno was declared illegal by the High Court in 1988 after several members sought court redress over certain grievances arising from the party polls the year before.

Similarly, Dr. Mahathir said the judiciary had convicted many party officials who held high posts in the Government, including Ministers and Menteri Besar, for offences committed by them.

“So, the judiciary in Malaysia is not beholden to the Government. In some other countries, you can be sure that it (the judiciary) will decide for the Government and whoever attacks the Government will be punished to the point where there will be no return for them.”

Dr. Mahathir said foreign countries, including members of Asean, were not in a position to criticise the Malaysian judiciary.

He said those who criticised the Malaysian judiciary should look at their own system which did not work well.

In the United States, he said, the policemen who beat up a Black man were freed by the court of all charges of brutality, resulting in a big riot in Los Angeles.

“Recently, another Black man had his feet tied to a lorry and dragged on the road until he died.

“A Japanese student who knocked on someone’s door to ask for directions was shot dead by the owner of the house.

“The houseowner claimed that he was under the impression that the Japanese student was a robber. The court found him not guilty. This effectively means he can shoot whoever he wants.”

Dr. Mahathir said such court decisions could only come from a country where there was no justice whatsoever, especially for the Blacks. “And now they are trying to teach us about justice.”

In Malaysia, he said, everyone was treated equally, regardless of race.

Asked to comment on various statements by certain Asean [sic] leaders on Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim’s impending trial which gave the impression that the judiciary was not free, Dr. Mahathir said:

“That is their right. They can raise it if they want. But we can also raise issues about their countries.

“I wish they will give the court a chance to decide. That is the judiciary in this country. Maybe in their countries, it is not the courts that decide, it is the mob on the streets which makes the decisions.

“In these countries, the mob is making the decisions. In our system, the courts make the decision.”

APPLICATION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS TO PROCEED, SAYS LAWYER

New Straits Times, Friday, October 16, 1998: [quoting]

KUALA, LUMPUR, Thurs.—Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim will proceed with his application for a writ of habeas corpus although he was released from detention under the Internal Security Act yesterday and is now remanded at the Sungai Buloh prison.

His lawyer Pawancheek Merican said: “We have our reasons to go ahead with the application and we will see what will happen in court.”

While not disclosing the reasons, Pawancheek said the application which is fixed for hearing in the High-Court on Oct. 24, would be handled by Anwar’s other counsel Sulaiman Abdullah.

Anwar, 51, who was arrested under the ISA on Sept. 30 and charged with 10 counts of sodomy and corrupt practices, was released from ISA detention yesterday and remanded at the prison pending trial as he was refused bail.

The High court has fixed for four of the five corrupt practices charges to be heard from Nov. 2 to 14. No hearing date was fixed for the other charges.

Anwar’s lawyer filed the application for his release on Oct. 8 and on Oct. 18 filed a notice of appeal against the High Court’s decision refusing him bail.

No date has been fixed for the hearing of the appeal.

Anwar, who was sacked as Deputy Prime Minister on Sept. 2 and dismissed from Umno the following day, is charged with committing carnal intercourse with five people at different places and times between Dec. 1997 and April this year.

The charges come under section 377 of the Penal Code which carries up to 20 years’ jail and whipping.

He is also facing five counts of corrupt practices by interfering with an Anti-Corruption Agency investigation and directing two police officers to obtain statements from two people denying his alleged sexual misconduct.

Anwar allegedly committed the offences at his former office at the Ministry of Finance in Jalan Duta and in his official residence in August last year.

The offences come under Section 2(1) Emergency (Essential Powers) Ordinance No. 22, 1970, which carries a maximum sentence of 14 years jail and a fine of up to RM20,000.

TURN TO PRAYER IN SEEKING JUSTICE IN ANWAR’S SAGA

New Straits Times, Friday, October 16, 1998: [quoting]

Under the Internal Security Act, those being detained are not allowed any visitors without police permission. Twice, Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim has been detained under the Act.

The first time he was detained, no visitors were allowed. But when he was detained under the same Act but by a different Prime Minister, Anwar’s wife and six children were allowed to visit him.

Therefore, Dr. Wan Azizah and her family should be grateful to Datuk Seri Dr. Mahathir Mohamad who perhaps had given the green light being the Minister of Home Affairs.

Perhaps those who had accused Dr. Mahathir of being a dictator and arbitrarily using the ISA to suppress and victimise Anwar should take a break and read a book written by Francis Seow, ex-Solicitor General-turned-politician of Singapore who was detained under the Act.

The book also published a letter from the ex-President of Singapore, C.V. Devan Nair on the same topic. The atmosphere of detentions was far different. The book was banned in Singapore.

My advice to Dr. Wan Azizah is, “don’t meddle with foreign media”. If she thought that by holding street protests, she could run down Dr. Mahathir and Umno, she might have had her calculations wrong. The foreign media has an agenda of running down Malaysia as a whole. At the end of the day, who really suffers?

Being Malay/Muslim, we strongly believe in praying to God, instead of using the Western and foreign media as a “kaabah” to seek justice. Why can’t we, as Muslims, use mosques to pray to God, seeking for justice to prevail?

We Muslims strongly believe that those who have been ill-treated, will be protected by God. Where is our faith in God?

Hence, in this Anwar saga, if Dr. Wan Azizah and Anwar’s supporters strongly believe that Dr. Mahathir ill-treated or suppressed Anwar, why worry so much? God will protect Anwar.

But if Dr. Mahathir does not rule with an iron hand and the actions taken to expel Anwar were proper, then the pressure put on Dr. Mahathir by Dr. Wan Azizah and Anwar’s supporters would be viewed as them involving President Habibie and President Estrada to work as a network to ill-treat and suppress Dr. Mahathir.

If that is the case, certainly, God will protect Dr. Mahathir and the Umno Supreme Council which makes such “honest” and wise decisions. Instead of going to the streets to show displeasure, why not have Dr. Wan Azizah lead her husband’s supporters, including his team of lawyers, to the National Mosque to pray for God’s guidance in seeking justice?

Hence justice will prevail and the foreign media will run for shelter.

As for representatives of the so-called “human rights of the West” who are currently in Kuala Lumpur to monitor the Anwar saga, I think it’s more vital for them to monitor the Bill Clinton saga.

How can they call themselves human rights organisation representatives when they support a person proven to be of such immoral behaviour?

What sort of champion of human rights are they?

CNBC ASIA’S IRRESPONSIBLE PRESENTATIONS OF EVENTS IN MALAYSIA

by K. Devi

New Straits Times, Saturday, October 17, 1998: [quoting]

I am a regular viewer of CNBC Asia. Needless to say, during the current problems in Malaysia, I have without fail switched on to CNBC Asia.

Let me make it clear from the start that I am not siding [with] any party anywhere. I am just an ordinary citizen of this country with, I believe, a logical and rational mind. And normally, I would have let things be as they are. But events of the past few weeks compel me to write this letter.

CNBC Asia, in my opinion, has behaved in a very irresponsible manner in its presentation of facts regarding the recent events in Malaysia.

To a rational person, it is more than obvious that the presentation of facts was one-sided.

It was plain disgusting to see a TV concern like CNBC Asia taking sides so openly. Yet when accused of taking sides, it tells white-faced lies that it was only carrying out fair and balanced reporting.

I am disappointed with CNBC Asia as it has shown itself clearly to be childish, immature and bordering on the ridiculous.

As I watch CNBC Asia daily, I begin to get the picture which is getting clearer by the day—that it is purposely going all out to denounce Malaysia.

It insinuates whenever possible, it keeps repeating excerpts of interviews where somebody, somewhere has said something detrimental about Malaysia.

It apparently derives extreme pleasure in talking about the negative aspects of capital controls and keeps interviewing people about the matter.

On Oct 13, CNBC Asia showed two short excerpts of the speech made by Philippine President Joseph Estrada.

The first excerpt showed him declaring that the Philippines would never practise capital controls (who is begging them to?) as it would lead to black marketeering ...

The second excerpt showed him making sarcastic insinuations as to whether he would be attending the coming Asia-Pacific Economic summit in Kuala Lumpur.

But what shocked me was the sound of sharp, tremendous applause that followed both these excerpts of his speech. Both times, the sound of the applause was uncannily the same. It was extremely strange that CNBC Asia never showed the audience!

I am very sure that this loud, deafening applause I heard (the very same on both occasions) was a monitored applause, and not original!

CNBC Asia, I am afraid you have gone too far. You now have a vendetta against Malaysia. Mahathir-bashing has changed into Malaysia-bashing!

CNBC Asia, you know next to nothing about the complex governing of a multi-racial country. You don't seem to realise why it is that in Malaysia we do not approve of holding illegal assemblies, especially those that can lead to potential rioting.

The Government of this country is a very responsible one. Malaysia simply cannot afford race riots.

Of late, CNBC Asia, I notice that you seem to be suffering from some kind of deep obsession. Never a day passes without you purposely airing some sarcastic or negative information about Malaysia.

Perhaps, CNBC Asia, I could give you some examples of matters that you could air on your screen in the near future. Repeat at half-hourly intervals the following:

- Detailed interviews with Monica Lewinsky;
- Dig into the past of Paula Jones;
- Discuss the reasons as to why the First Lady of America is away on her wedding anniversary;
- Talk at great length about the bailing out of billions of American dollars for failing hedge funds and also discuss the immediate future of other failing hedge funds;
- Tell why CNBC Asia never criticises Singapore;
- Discuss Joseph Estrada's past social life;
- Talk about the failings of the Habibie Government;
- Discuss the shaky position of John Howard in Australia; and,
- Last but not least, what Amnesty International said about the absence of human rights in America.

It is my personal belief that Malaysia will finally weather all these attacks and come out of them stronger than ever.

Given its past records and achievements, this is one country you can't put down for long. If you study its history, you will come to realise just how resilient it is. I was born and bred in this country and I have tremendous faith in it.

Long live Malaysia!

CURRENCY CONTROLS THE BEST WAY OUT

by Dr. Mahathir Mohamad

New Straits Times, Saturday, October 17, 1998: [quoting]

About a year ago I spoke in Hong Kong on the Asian financial crisis and the need to regulate the activities of currency speculators to protect developing countries from having their limited wealth destroyed. Mine was a voice in the wilderness and my views were regarded as ridiculous in a world that was moving rapidly in the direction of ever greater globalisation, deregulation and liberalisation.

When borders and the obstacles against free trade were being dismantled, how could anyone talk of regulating the free flow of capital worldwide? Regulation would stifle international investments by the rich which would help the capital-poor countries to grow.

Malaysia of all countries should not talk of obstructing capital flow because it had benefited greatly through Foreign Direct Investments. Not only was Malaysia's industrialisation the result of investments by foreigners, but the Malaysian stock market, the biggest in Southeast Asia, was enriched greatly by massive injections of capital from the rich countries.

The capitalisation of the Kuala Lumpur Stock Exchange rose to around US$350 billion following road-shows conducted by Malaysian companies to attract institutional investors from the West. So why should Malaysia talk of curbing the activities of foreign funds, including the hedge funds?

Malaysia is no more capable of predicting the future than anyone else. No one actually predicted the extent of the economic turmoil which now engulfs the whole world. No one can claim they expected that the financial problems of Thai banks would spread so widely that today not only is the whole of East Asia affected, but Russia and Latin America are also affected.

Even the great United States of America is not beyond being affected by the turmoil which began in East Asia as demonstrated by the effect of massive losses by the Long-Term Capital Management Fund in its investments in affected countries.

As I said, Malaysia did not foresee the extent of the damage that could be caused by the currency trading of the hedge fund managers. Malaysia was concerned largely with the possible effect on the development objectives of the country.

Many experts talk about fundamentals, about confidence, about herd instincts and contagion effects. It was suggested that sound fundamentals and good transparent financial management would prevent contagion and the flight of capital.

Countries of Asia would do well to reform their financial system in order to create confidence among the people who control the flow of funds.

Malaysia was and is not convinced that currency traders do business based on their confidence or lack of it in any country. We believe they are motivated by pure greed, by their desire to make as much profit for their funds as they can, irrespective of the cost to others. If they have to destroy the wealth of countries and the livelihood of poor people they would not hesitate to do so, if there is good profit to be made.

We believe, and we said so, that currency traders are not speculators but are manipulators instead. The difference is that while speculators depend on their perception of the trend of the market and they place their bets accordingly, manipulators know exactly what direction the market would take because they have the capacity to manipulate the markets. Thus if they want the currency to be devalued, they can do so simply by repeated selling of that currency until the target is achieved.

Of course, central banks may defend the currency by buying it repeatedly. But the capacity of the central banks is limited by the reserves they hold. For developing countries like Malaysia the usual reserve would be around US$20 billion.

But hedge funds can leverage their funds by twenty times through credit made available by giant international banks.

In the case of Long-Term Capital Management Fund, for their US$4 billion, they were able to borrow US$120 billion and leveraging on this, they obtained credit amounting to US$1 trillion.

Between the hedge funds which are involved in currency trading, they hold about US$180 billion. Leveraged by 20 times even, they would have at their disposal US$3.60 trillion. No central bank can match them. Defending a currency under attack is an exercise in futility.

But hedge funds are not the only ones involved in currency trading. The big banks worldwide have made currency trading their principal activity, their main source of profits.

Clearly these funds have unlimited resources to manipulate the market. They can buy or borrow any amount of any currency and sell to devalue. They are in a position to devalue any currency at will. They are not dependent on the vagaries of the market at all.

If they want to short-sell any currency they can do so. And, of course, they can literally determine how much profit they want to make for themselves. Their investors believe that the size of the funds they invest in will ensure that they can never lose. How can they when they can revalue or devalue according to the profit-making plans that their Nobel laureates had designed.

Clearly these funds and their managers have tremendous power, power which far exceeds those of Governments and countries. This power is real and the exercise of this power not only brings profits for them but can actually force Governments, affected or not, good or bad, to cringe and kowtow before them.

They, the funds' managers, can actually force the Governments of the countries they attack to submit to their whims and fancies. In fact, they can and they have brought down Governments.

With this enormous power, it would be a miracle if they do not become corrupted. We repeat, ad nauseam, power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. The hedge funds and the great banks of the world have absolute power and they are, therefore, absolutely corrupted. They would abuse that power to satisfy their greed. The LTCM debacle has proven this to be true.

This was what Malaysia saw when we condemned the hedge funds and currency trading. We saw shadowy figures in the world's financial centres wielding enormous power without any rule or regulation or morality. We saw them exploiting developing countries like Malaysia which had reached a certain stage of development and is, therefore, rich enough to make their kind of financial abuse profitable to them.

And since no one supervises these funds, and there are no regulations, rules or laws for them to submit to, there is no limit to their quest for quick and limitless profits. Countries and people must suffer as a result.

That was what we saw and it was this that frightened us. It was the possibility of unending suffering from the destruction of what we painstakingly build every time. Human greed can only be curbed by human society.

If society gives a free hand to powerful, greedy individuals they will destroy everything in order to satisfy their lust for wealth and power. They will destroy society itself.

When Malaysia urged either the abolishment of currency trading or regulating it, we had not taken into account the role of the IMF (International Monetary Fund). This relic of the defunct Bretton Woods system has now become an instrument of the rich to dominate the poor.

The IMF is supposed to promote the restructuring of the financial system of the developing countries in order to improve their economic performance. But the remedy it proposes seems more likely to destroy the economies than to improve.

In the end, the banks and corporations will fail and their Governments bankrupted. Knowing this, the clients of the IMF would refuse to comply but, if they refuse, the currency traders and the stock-market raiders would devalue the currency and the shares.

Thus, the developing countries would comply with the demands by the IMF including opening up the markets. With the shares scraping bottom and the currency devalued, the foreign banks and corporations would be able to buy up the banks and all the businesses at rock-bottom prices.

Between the IMF, the currency traders and the big foreign banks and corporations, between them they would be able to buy up all the worthwhile businesses in the developing countries under IMF control. Once they have control of these businesses, it would be an easy matter to strip the assets or to refloat the economy and control the countries completely.

Maybe, Malaysia is paranoid but what has happened today has shown that it has reasons to fear, to be paranoid even.

Malaysia appealed to everyone to regulate currency trading. Most laughed at Malaysia for not understanding the workings of the world financial system, for not understanding herd instincts, the role of confidence, etc.

A few, and this includes the IMF, humoured Malaysia, promised to study and then did nothing. Time was running out and the Malaysian currency and shares were falling rapidly. In neighbouring Indonesia the currency had fallen through the bottom. Could Malaysia wait while the IMF and others fiddled?

Believing that the world, especially the rich and powerful, would not help, Malaysia decided to do things on its own. It toyed with the idea of adjusting wages and prices to reflect the exact level of devaluation.

Thus if the currency is devalued by 20 per cent, then all wages and prices would be increased by 20 per cent. This way the people would not feel the effect of the currency devaluation. But the implementation of this solution would be too complex.

The best way was to isolate and insulate the Malaysian currency from the other currencies of the world. The ringgit should be legal tender only within Malaysia.

Any ringgit found outside Malaysia would be prohibited from being brought back into the country. This makes the ringgit outside Malaysia completely worthless.

Of course, most of the ringgit outside is not in the form of cash. Such offshore ringgit would have to be reflected in Vostro accounts in Malaysian banks. Any offshore transaction must involve transfers from one Vostro account into another Vostro account in Malaysian banks. To stop the offshore ringgit from being lent, bought or sold and so to have value abroad, transfers from one Vostro account to another is forbidden. Thus lending or sale of offshore Malaysian ringgit will not be acknowledged in Malaysia. Since the ringgit is not legal tender outside of Malaysia, owning Malaysian ringgit abroad becomes quite meaningless.

For the first month the offshore ringgit may be transferred back to Malaysia. After that it may not be transferred at all, thus rendering the offshore ringgit useless and without any value.

Within the borders of Malaysia the ringgit remains legal tender and can be used for all transactions including the purchase of all foreign currencies. The exchange rate of the ringgit was fixed at RM1 to US26 cents or RM3.80 to the US$1 and to the dollar equivalent of all other currencies.

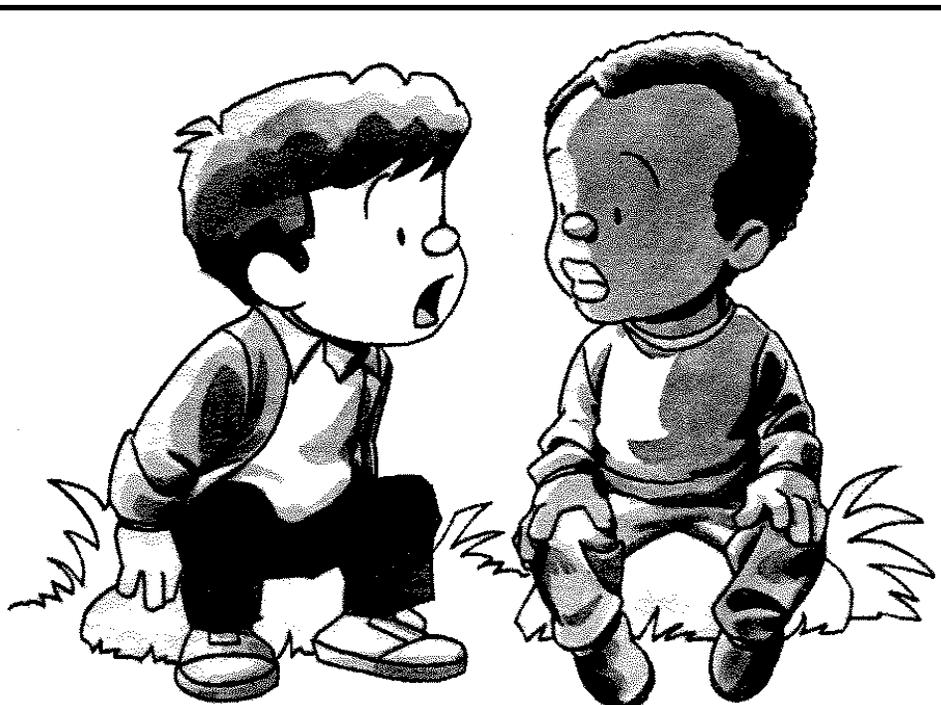

Since the exchange rates between the US dollar and other currencies fluctuate, obviously the exchange rates between the ringgit and other currencies except the dollar will also fluctuate. But this is not much of a problem as changes can be made to the exchange rate against the dollar in order that the competitiveness of Malaysian products will be maintained. However, this will not be done until every avenue for ensuring competitiveness has been explored and applied.

A fixed exchange rate can only be regarded as fixed if it remains at the level for a considerable length of time.

Besides the exchange rate of the ringgit, Malaysia has also insulated its stock exchange from being manipulated by foreigners who care nothing for the well-being of Malaysian companies or its people in their quest for quick profit from capital gains.

Today, as result of the measures we have taken, the share prices reflect the performance and asset value of the businesses more closely. Other measures have been taken to prevent manipulators from deliberately bankrupting the businesses so they may buy them cheaply, probably in order to strip assets.

We can expect the greedy foreign capitalists and their collaborators in their Governments and other institutions to try to undermine the measures we have taken. They would want to force us to submit to them again. But so far we have been able to withstand their attempts.

In the first month of the implementation of the new strategies the performance of the Malaysian economy has been quite encouraging. Reserves have increased and business has generally improved. The slide into contraction has been slowed. Foreign direct investment has not been adversely affected.

Investors, both foreign and local, are finding that the fixed exchange rate makes forward planning easier and more reliable. Business needs predictability of the future environment and the fixed exchange rate provides this.

Exchange rate control is not the same as control on capital flows. Capital can flow in and out of Malaysia without restriction.

In even the most developed countries the movements of currency in and out of the country are recorded and controlled.

Of course, many developing countries require such movements to be declared. So what Malaysia has done is only to enforce currency movement regulations so as to be able to control the exchange rate.

Because capital can flow in and out of Malaysia, foreign investments and foreign trade are not affected. Trade settlements have to be in foreign currency because the ringgit has no value outside Malaysia. Foreign currency must be changed into ringgit to pay for all transactions in the country.

To take out money the ringgit must be changed into foreign currencies. As Malaysia has a large trade balance and minimal foreign short-term loans there will be no shortage of foreign currencies.

Since the implementation of the fixed exchange rate and the enforcement of the rules regarding the movement of money in and out of the country there has been no major problem.

The allegation that Malaysia is isolating itself from the international community is completely without basis. Malaysia is a trading nation. It just cannot isolate itself if it wants to trade. A fixed exchange rate facilitates trading.

Hedging is no longer as necessary as before and this reduces the cost of trading in goods and services. Long-term contracts for supply or construction can be entered into in ringgit without having to worry that it may lose its purchasing power during the period of the contract.

There is, of course, a need for Malaysia to conserve foreign exchange. Imports must therefore be limited to essentials and exports exanded. A "Buy—Made in Malaysia" campaign has helped a lot in slowing the outflow of funds. Travel abroad is possible but funds taken out in foreign currencies have to be limited. The limit is reasonable and not too restrictive.

Malaysia is mindful that it has a medium-sized airline and the viability of this airline depends on the number of Malaysians travelling in and out of the country. We cannot restrict travelling too much.

Clearly the control of the movement of money and the restriction of the Malaysian ringgit going out of the country is a limited exercise which is not noticeably more than the controls by many countries, developed and developing, over the movement of money crossing their borders.

The main effect of Malaysian restriction on currency movement is to prevent the Malaysian ringgit from being traded by currency traders. To them the ringgit has zero value simply because to trade they will have to have the ringgit outside Malaysia. Any ringgit outside Malaysia will not be allowed to be brought back into Malaysia in whatever form.

Since the ringgit is legal tender only in Malaysia, not being able to bring the ringgit back into Malaysia makes it useless. Therefore, the main losers as a result of Malaysia's control over the movements of the ringgit are the currency traders.

But who gains? The Western detractors and their media are quick to broadcast that the beneficiaries are the cronies of the Government of Malaysia, as it is an Asian Government.

The Government of Malaysia has no cronies. We believe in co-operating with the private sector simply because the revenue of the Government comes largely from corporate taxes. Twenty-eight per cent of the profits of the private sector belong to the Government. In helping the private sector to make profits we are actually helping ourselves, the Government.

The measures taken by the Malaysian Government will benefit the whole business community, local and foreign. It will also benefit the indigenous (Bumiputera) businessmen, but not appreciably more than the non-Bumiputera businessmen.

We are in the process of redistributing wealth between the different communities in order to eliminate racial jealousies. We will continue to do this with apology to no one.

If you come to Malaysia you will not believe that we are facing economic turmoil. There is an appearance of business as usual everywhere. No one is starving. People are not searching for food in rubbish heaps. The shopping complexes and restaurants are doing good business. There is minimal unemployment.

The reason for our appearance of normalcy is due to our very strong fundamentals from the very beginning. We have been able to manage the currency and share market depreciation fairly well. And now with measures we have taken to control the movement of the ringgit and the share market we are less affected by outside manipulations.

We think we are already seeing the economy turning around. We think we are on the road to recovery.

In business the most important thing is stability and predictability. Business takes time to give a return. The measures taken by the Malaysian Government are calculated to achieve stability all round; political, economic, financial and social stability for now and for the foreseeable future. Since they will do this and are already doing this, they should be welcomed by the business community, whether foreign or local.

The only people who will not benefit from the measures taken by Malaysia are the currency traders. We are now seeing how destructive these people can be. If they lose I don't think we should be sorry. It is their abuse of currency exchange which has caused the present economic turmoil in the world. They deserve to lose.

THE DEVIL'S WORKSHOP

As we move through the days of our lives, you in your space and me in mine, we are caught in the confusion and chaos of what is taking place on a global scale and cannot, therefore, focus all attention to any one arena. We will, however, focus on the arena with the operators which "work" in concert to a balanced, caring society. You will find, as we move along, that the Devil shrewdly changes his colors, his management, and his name, at will, to further keep from being found behind any door in expectation.

So, the paper in Malaysia (compliments of Reuters, of course) today lauds and applauds Mr. Greenspan, the Central Banker of the World, as being a genius. A genius? How better to make all of you look with favor upon the criminals in control? Lower interest rates? Say what? This is like saying to the wealthy, "we must now cover our tracks and not let the people in on the secrets of this system of theft".

This meaning what?

YOU THE PEOPLE

You the people have come to believe that somehow the International Monetary Fund is a legitimate fund of some philanthropic altruists just trying to give away money. No, no and no! It is a multi-international corporation owned by the same "bad guys" who own the rest of everything you (think you) have and demand that all loans from that resource be paid back to their banks—you know—with your funds, in what you thought were your banks, to them in what they know are THEIR BANKS. And, if someone turns down the offer of their money at their rates and demands, they are marked for the garbaging heap for vulturizing.

Now, what do I really mean?

All the way at the bottom of an unnoticed section of the paper here is a tiny little article from Reuters regarding a summary of "the funding agreement released". This, of course, is about the IMF from none other than your House of Representatives in the U.S.—head honcho PAYING INTO the fund while getting NOTHING IN RETURN. There are some KEY PHRASES TO LOOK FOR IN ALL EXCHANGES AND THE MAJOR KEY PHRASE IN THE FOLLOWING IS, OF COURSE, SHAREHOLDERS.

[QUOTING, New Straits Times, Saturday, October 17, 1998:]

SUMMARY OF THE FUNDING AGREEMENT RELEASED

WASHINGTON: Following are the main terms of an agreement between Congress and the U.S. Administration on funding for the International Monetary Fund and changes at the lending institution.

The summary was released on Thursday by US House of Representatives Majority Leader Dick Armey:

Summary of major IMF reforms [H: Say what? Reforms?]:

No funds may be given to the IMF until 15 days after the Secretary of the Treasury and the Chairman of the Federal Reserve notify Congress that the major shareholders of the IMF (essentially, the major industrial nations) have publicly agreed to implement the following reforms in the IMF:

[H: Let us not overlook the TWO parties mentioned here—one is the Secretary of the Treasury, Rubin, and the other is Greenspan, of the Federal Reserve. (BOTH ARE THE SAME THING AND BOTH ARE SALARIED EMPLOYEES OF THESE CONTROLLERS WHO ARE ALSO THE RECEIVING SHAREHOLDERS.) This has nothing whatsoever to do with funds for assisting a world in trouble; it only sets the guidelines of acceptable payback and checkout of the POWERS WHO ARE THE CONTROLLERS. TELL A LIE OFTEN ENOUGH AND IT IS BELIEVED—EVEN BY THE DUDES DOING THE LYING.]

ECONOMIC REFORMS

The IMF must require as part of its loan conditions that countries:

* Liberalize trade in goods and services.

* Eliminate crony capitalism. [H: Wow, just wait until that one works! BUT, DO NOT HOLD YOUR BREATH. IN THE PHILIPPINES ONE OF THE JOKES OF THE IMF-CRONIES-PEOPLE TRIANGLE IS THAT THE PHILIPPINES PAID THE PRICE OF TWO ATOMIC POWER PLANTS TO GET ONE. FUNNY? NOT IF YOU ARE STARVING!]

PLEASE NOTE THAT THE FUNDS OF GREATEST AMOUNTS COME DIRECTLY FROM THE “SUPERFUND” OF GUESS WHO—AND WHAT DID IT? YOU GOT IT! WELL, IT IS TIME FOR AN ALTERNATIVE TO THE IMF, I WOULD THINK, AND IT CERTAINLY WILL BE BASED ON FULL FOUNDATION OF INFRASTRUCTURE AND BACKING, AND NOT JUST UPON THIS MASSIVE FOUNDATIONLESS “SUPERFUND” OF THIS ONE WORLD ORDER OF THIEVES, CHEATS AND LIARS.]

* Enact bankruptcy laws that treat foreigners fairly. [H: What ever in the world does this mean? Foreigners? What foreigners—who is ever going to treat the national citizens (of any nation) fairly? How about you from whom this new bunch of billions of dollars is going to be extracted from your empty blood-supply?]

* Transparency. [H: Transparency? You might assume this is something set forth by such as Consort Philip of Great Britain under the Transparency Corporation—to disallow anyone to fudge even a farthing from his coffers. Transparency International it was called—and you good CONTACT newspaper readers know all about it, don't you? (See the Front Page story in the 8/5/97 and 8/12/97 issues of CONTACT) That along with the destruction of AFRICA. Yes indeed, we need men who think and ACT LIKE MAHATHIR OF MALAYSIA, AND THEN THE BUNCH OF IMF-TYPE SCOUNDRELS WILL BE HIGHTAILING IT FOR THE MOON AND MARS—WHERE THEY REALLY WON'T BE ACCEPTED.]

All major IMF documents must be released three months after an IMF Executive Board meeting at which they are discussed. (This mimics the practice of the US Federal Reserve.)—Reuters

[H: Released to who? For what purpose? Three months after the fact is hardly a worthy endeavor and after the fact as to any actions taken. Let me quote briefly from a second article here on this same page: “Greenspan is notorious for Delphic statements that can be interpreted in almost any fashion. He told an influential group of economists in June 1995 that he spent a lot of his time worrying about being too clear. “What I've learned at the Fed is a new language called ‘Fed speak. We learn to mumble with great incoherence,’ he quipped.” And, this is your life, World.]

[END OF QUOTING]

Do you suppose a politician is always born with lies as a demand performance? If you as a world buy this rot, then you deserve the disease borne by the parasites in the rot-pit.

Now for a funny for our readers and related parties: I want to talk about Philippine Airlines, with which our team got totally involved, but they (Estrada) wanted time to “do it their way” we were told. Well, what is their way? They have, in the Philippines, announced by Mr. Estrada (esteemed President) that other investors, i.e. Cathay Pacific Airways, had made arrangements to buy portions of PAL—with Cathay taking 40%. So, taking it right out of the South China Morning Post, Oct. 17, 1998:

[QUOTING:]

CATHAY REJECTS ESTRADA CLAIM ON PAL DEAL

Cathay Pacific Airways yesterday dismissed Philippine President Joseph Estrada's comments that Cathay was close to buying 40 percent of Philippine Airlines (PAL).

Mr. Estrada, who is in Singapore for a state visit, said negotiations between Cathay and PAL “are almost over”.

He said United States carrier Northwest Airlines, which also had expressed interest in buying a stake in PAL, had dropped out of the bidding.

But Cathay spokeswoman Quince Chong Wai-yan denied a deal was close to being finalized.

“As of today (Wednesday), no decision has been made,” she said.

“My question is, what is the parameter of ‘close to’? Our position is that we are still reviewing and discussing our best options.”

Ms. Chong said the discussions had not yet reached the board level.

PAL went into receivership last month after defaulting on repayments of debts worth US$2.1 billion, closing for two weeks from September 23 while it worked out its problems.

Aviation analysts said they questioned Cathay's motives in showing interest in investing in PAL at a time when the Hong Kong carrier was struggling to fill seats after undertaking an ambitious capacity expansion programme in the depressed market.

“How is Cathay going to be able to afford to recapitalize PAL?” one analyst said.

Last week, Philippines Secretary of Finance Edgardo Espiritu [H: Yes, we certainly do know this person!] said PAL needed nine billion pesos (about $200 million) in new capital to resume normal operations, five billion of which would come from the new investor and the remainder from shareholders. [H: Please note that Mr. Tan and the Philippine government are the ONLY shareholders and Mr. Tan has proven he is not going to invest even one more centavo and the government declines any financial support at all. So, the union and all citizens have been lied to again and again and again in this one tiny fragment of public deceit. The point is that the Central Bank Governor has to approve everything—and that includes everything—AND HE IS A PAID EMPLOYEE OF THE IMF! WOW!]

Presumably, Cathay would have to pay up to $175 million for its stake in PAL. Philippine law presently caps foreign ownership at 40 per cent. [H: Humnnnn...]

PAL has been especially unstable and unprofitable in recent years as competition and labour strife has eaten into its margins....

The airline is controlled by Philippine tobacco tycoon Lucio Tan....

Some analysts said Mr. Estrada's political interference could have a negative impact on the deal.

“I would take anything Mr. Estrada says with a huge grain of salt—he can contradict himself from day to day,” one regional aviation analyst said.

[END OF QUOTING]

NEXT, ANOTHER OBSERVER (SAME PAPER) MAKES THIS NEXT NOTATION:

[QUOTING:]

So Cathay Pacific is reported close to buying a 40 percent stake in the debt-laden Philippine Airlines (PAL)—which has been teetering on the brink of liquidation.

Wonder what price Cathay is planning to pay for any such stake?

Simple arithmetic, we know, but it might pay for Cathay's beancounters to remember that 40 per cent of nothing is, well, nothing.

For the technically minded, we would also suggest PAL has a price/earnings ration of zilch, a dividend yield of zero, and return on shareholders funds of, well, not very much.

Here's hoping the Heart of Asia (Cathay) has done its sums.

placed on this critical situation by the American media stooges.]

Ok, team, cancel your offer as well. We will not do business with cheats and liars—if we can help it—and this time, we CAN help it. Note the price kept increasing incredibly with every presentation—and we don't need any of it. Be nice and generous with the way you handle the union boys who based their very hopes on the “White Knights” and let them know EXACTLY what has happened. Governments are going to clean up their acts or they are not going to get help—period. They just overplayed their game with God, ladies and gentlemen. Boeing can have their planes back and place themselves further in the dark hole of debt and overload—what the heck! PAL had already stopped sending their Boeings to the US to avoid repossession. Now, are people going to believe me or not? I lead no one astray; I tell truth to each and every player and, sooner or later that fact is going to be clear. God will offer “the way” and level the playing field—once, in every circumstance—then He will move on, and we are about ready to pack in this Odyssey in the China Sea.

You, as a world, have listened to Satan and responded to his promise of wealth and power and, again, he has deceived you in his ability to destroy. So, when will you learn? Never? My goodness, that certainly seems quite insane to me. YOU HAVE BEEN “HAD”! ARE YOU DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND IN ADDITION?

DOES THE WORLD REALLY WANT TO KNOW WHAT HELL IS? JUST FAIL TO WORK WITH GOD AND CONTINUE AS IS—AND YOU ARE GOING TO FIND OUT IN NO UNCERTAIN TERMS. GIVE UNTO SATAN THAT WHICH IS GOD'S AND IT IS NOT GOING TO SELL, CHILDREN, AND YOU SHALL PAY THE PIPER FOR THE MISPERCEPTIONS.

How do these politicians get out with their necks intact? It is hoped that they DON'T! They must answer to the people, lest you turn about and repeat and repeat the same destructive patterns, and your old world can't take more eons of this abuse come about within the last two. Mother Earth and GOD are cleaning house, like it or not. We can build into harmony, freedom, balance and brotherhood, or you can go “to hell” (literally, my friends). Wormwood is right on course and you are pulling her to you like the magnet of darkness you have exuded into the universe, and you must give some intensive thought to the fact of that matter as well because everything in your little illusionary universe is speeding up exponentially.

Well, isn't that a nice fast way to go? Sure is—forever! For what happens is that the impact will be so great that it will split atoms in a chain reaction and your genetic-DNA SOUL essence will be so dispersed that it is essentially ‘so long baby’. It is up to you, your choices. Dreamtime with the Aborigines in Australia and New Zealand ended with the end of the calendar in 1987 and that means: YOURS HAS RUN OUT ALSO. AND, IF YOU AREN'T A BIT FRIGHTENED OR IN A TAD OF PANIC—YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND THE SEVERITY OF YOUR CIRCUMSTANCES.

ADONAI. GOD WILL WALK WITH YOU—HE WILL NOT PUSH OR PULL!

KILROY WAS HERE— OR WAS IT YAHUDEE?

Just as the children and youth cannot remember Kilroy or Yahudee, so too can they not well remember the deadliness of wars of world magnitude which denude jungles and kill and maim participants—all save the ones who make the wars for their own gross greed and selfish intent.

Is it not time we move on with building a world structure that perhaps lessens the potential of war, unrest and confrontation of nations? In an ideal society, be it plant or animal—life thrives in peace and order. Chaos brings forth mutations and twisted pathways which often cannot be untangled once moved past the point of return. Neither can you straighten the pathway without the potentially knowledgeable and worthy leadership. If you want to build chaos, then continue with what you have set forth to lead. If you want freedom and peace, with prosperity and self-esteem capability for all citizens—get a leader worthy of the function. In other words, the leader must know where he is headed or the nation cannot succeed in finding growth, morality and freedom.

As we spend time and explanation in this place, we are met with such an interesting variety of excuses concerning why our offer is invalid or unworkable or, or, or.

The most interesting rebuttal, from the ones still totally ignorant of any communication or facts, now tells us that there are literally hundreds (some three hundred in one bank alone)—of these “offers” and that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been lost to the people bearing the proposed plan.

NO. These are not like the offer we have, and have no resemblance to same in any way, shape or format. But indeed we do know that many efforts have been made to side-track the very plan itself through stings, scams, and even named individual holders of, supposedly, valid certificates, gold-based “stuff” and papers and thus and so. Those scams have nothing to do with truth, integrity or God. They are birthed from the minds and creation of the very entities who gave the world the IMF, as a for instance, to divert the very truth from reaching realization—nothing more. If leaders are too short-sighted to see and understand the magnificence of this program, then they do not deserve to lead, even in the short-sight term.

Why do I “pick on” one man when there are so many to burden with this massive task or reconstruction of a global society? I don't. There are many who, working together, do not have to bear the burdens alone—but they must find one another in the proper circumstances which provide THE WAY.

But why such as Dr. Mahathir of a little tiny nation in the middle of the Pacific Ocean? Well, Pacific means “Sea of Peace” and if you can't build a thriving place of honor here, with this kind of daring leadership—you WON'T build it elsewhere. Mahathir's career pattern is evidence of the fact that he has been able to acquire a broader-based legitimacy only after becoming Prime Minister, and this in itself will continue to be exceptional rather than the rule—in societal structures.

What now plagues the world globally is the more recent development of melting-pot societies—that racial element in which societies now find themselves with a multiplicity of races, religions, colors, and yes, creeds. The underlying one stream, however, is that all deserve equal justice within and under the laws of the land, the respect and reverence accorded to humankind by Creator, and all men want and deserve freedom to express themselves in the most versatile and growth-allowing mode possible—in and within the LAWS OF GOD.

Man is born KNOWING right from wrong. If he becomes steeped in “wrong”, it is because he has been TRAINED TO ACT WITHIN THE WRONG CONCEPTS. HOWEVER, THE FACTS REMAIN: MAN KNOWS RIGHT FROM WRONG—AND SEEKS EVER THE HIDDEN DARK CORNERS TO FIND WHAT A MAN DOES IN THE HIDDEN PLACES THAT HE HIDES FROM THE LIGHT OF OPEN LIVING. THOSE WILL BE WRONG IN BOTH INTENT AND ACTION.

With this in mind let us consider the challenges already present in multi-racial societies. Some leaders have guided their citizens into peaceful coexistence; others have helped in the very upheaval of man against man—depending on the goal wished for achievement. Again, I can use Malaysia as an example of the kind of thought-projections brought into open action that has worked best. No thing is perfection, short of God, so don't argue that fact, please. Let us consider what thoughts have been issued and shared and consider the intrinsic value of such societal allowances and integration.

I would recite the Ten Golden Rules for managing a multi-racial society as offered here in this gem of freedom and growth, and certainly I give honor to the authors thereof and to the founding parties who have led wisely to make the pattern come to life and work in a once-torn-asunder nation of contradictions. All nations are but contradictions of cultures, races and beliefs as mankind moves away from God Creator and into the damning ruts toward Evil Empires built on greed, ego gratification, impatience and consideration of one being somehow better than another.

10 GOLDEN RULES FOR MANAGING A MULTI-RACIAL SOCIETY

[QUOTING CEO MALAYSIA, Strategy In Nation-Building, by Hng Hung Yong, Pelanduk Publications; Appendix, page 71:]

MULTI-RACIAL living is a continuous experiment in tolerance and understanding. Where it succeeds, it is likely to evolve its own consensus of what constitutes behaviour that contributes to the development and enhancement of inter-ethnic harmony. What follows is an attempt to record, in a down-to-Earth style, what many Malaysians believe are best practices for the management of a plural society.

Rule #1: Isolate and de-politicise sensitive issues.

In a multi-racial society, there will always be competition for status, resources and rewards. That's normal and acceptable. But sensitive issues are different. They seek to operate beyond the framework of tolerance and accommodation which governs such competition.

They are deliberately provocative and if allowed to fester, can lead to chaos and violence. So remove them from the arena of public dispute. Isolate and de-politicise them. You may not resolve them this way, but at least you will be able to manage them better in a more controlled environment.

Rule #2: Build a stakeholder society.

A nation belongs to ALL its people, not just some of them. Similarly, all of society must feel they belong to the nation, not just some of it. So avoid favouring some members of society over others, or marginalising one sector for the benefit of another. In a stakeholder society, there must exist a fair distribution of wealth and opportunities. This is the minimum starting point for the building of a just and equitable society.

Rule #3: Reach out and build consensus.

A multi-racial society is a society of competing interests. But a competition need not lead to confrontation. So build consensus and cultivate common ground. Pursue a policy of consultation and accommodation with all groups. Reach out not just to political organisations and business interests, but also to minority groups, civic organisations and marginalised communities. Practise inclusion and avoid exclusion. Everyone counts, and everyone counts equally. Demonstrate your commitment through practical action. Doing is as important as believing. Multi-racial harmony will not just happen. You have to make it happen.

Rule #4: Practise moderation and condemn extremism.

In a multi-racial society, the first duty of a leader is to find the moderate centre, then to strengthen and defend it. This may not be a glamorous job, but it is the most important job. Have no patience with extremists or those who promote divisive causes. Identify and neutralise them. If necessary, use the big stick to limit the damage they can inflict on society. The interests of the community must prevail over that of the individual.

Rule #5: Level up, not level down.

Equity in nation-building does not mean taking away from some to give to others. It means ensuring that new wealth, and the opportunity to build new wealth, are distributed fairly. The first rule of nation-building, therefore, is to create wealth without taking away from anyone. The duty of the government is to create the conditions which will enable it to happen. WEALTH CREATION IS THE KEY TO MANAGING A MULTI-RACIAL SOCIETY [H: OR ANY SOCIETY].

Rule #6: Satisfy needs, not wants.

Enough is never enough. No matter how much wealth or opportunity is created or made available, it will never be sufficient to satisfy everyone. Therefore, differentiate between needs and wants. The first you must satisfy. The second you only need to try to. And if your resources are limited, get your priorities right. Help those who need help most.

Rule #7: Prosper thy neighbour.

We do not live in a zero-sum society where one community's gain is another community's loss. There is enough wealth and opportunity on this planet for everyone. It is up to man's ingenuity to tap it. So helping one community to succeed need not mean putting another community down. When one community prospers, the flow-on effect benefits everyone, even those outside it. Similarly, if one community is in decline, other communities around it will suffer also. In a multi-racial society, it is not possible to maintain vastly different standards of living for different communities. Communities must lift each other up. The alternative is to pull everybody down.

Rule #8: Take charge, do not depend on chance.

Competition for space, status and advantage goes on all the time in a multi-racial society. But if it threatens to go out of control, take charge and act to defuse the situation. Taking charge also involves letting people know where you stand on issues that matter. Disguising or fudging your position when it comes to the crunch is not taking charge. It is taking chances, and that is opportunism. Leaders must lead. That's their job. If they don't or won't, it is time to move on.

Rule #9: Produce results, and showcase them.

Nobody ever said that managing a multi-racial society is easy. It requires exceptional skill and sensitivity. But if you succeed and have something to show for it, it is important that you let others know. Success builds confidence and generates momentum. It can also be infectious. So don't be bashful. Announce your successes to the world. Humbly, but proudly.

Rule #10: Keep at it. Again and again and again...!

Managing a plural society is a continuous experiment. There are no easy answers or ready solutions. Success is never assured. But if you are doing it for all the right reasons, don't give up. Keep at it. Again and again and again! The alternative is not worth contemplating.

[END OF QUOTING]

I don't need to go back and have a lecture on each of these points—they stand alone on their own foundation. What, however, you readers and world citizens must understand is that there are no longer any societies that are otherwise than above construed. If you don't have racial diversity, then you certainly have made and maintained "classes" of the same society.

Do we ask too much in a God-guided society, that man become worthy of his own creation? NO! It is only the start of a demand for excellence and equality as determined by God for His people.

In the U.S.A., for instance, look and see what has been created in the name of, but in deference to, equality of races, cultures and differences. You have riots, crime, and above all, this new thing called "hate crime". ALL CRIME IS HATE CRIME, READERS, AND YOU HAVE LAWS AGAINST CRIME. HATE HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH IT EXCEPT TO INCITE ONES FURTHER TO RIOT AND CONFRONTATION. MURDER, FOR INSTANCE, IS UNLAWFUL—NO MATTER WHAT THE UNREASON. EVERY NEW LAW YOU MAKE IN SUCH STUPID INTENT—

ONLY MORE DEEPLY ENSLAVES YOU, BOTH IN MIND AND SOUL—NOT TO EVEN MENTION PHYSICAL STATUS.

Bill Clinton, as example, should have been arrested and jailed, UNDER THE LAW, for criminal actions and immoral leadership. This is simply the LAW. He is guilty or he is not—and that should be considered carefully by the law, based on law and moral acceptance of the society at large. Whether or not you citizens like it—sodomy, sexual deviations which can bring harm, adultery, misrepresentation, outright perjury, political crimes and cover-up ARE UNLAWFUL—PERIOD. HOW DARE THESE DREGS OF THE POLITICAL HALLS PRONOUNCE THEIR STUPID OPINIONS ON A FREE SOCIETY WHO FOLLOWS THE LAWS OF THEIR OWN LAND. CLINTON SHOULD NEVER BE ALLOWED TO DEBARK ON THE SOIL OF WORTHY NATIONS SUCH AS MALAYSIA; HE BRINGS SHAME AND SOIL TO THE VERY NAME OF "LEADER". IMPEACH? NO, HE IS A CRIMINAL, AND SO TOO ARE HIS CRONIES. IMPEACHMENT IS AN HONORABLE TERM THAT IS USED BY A WORTHY CONGRESS TO DETERMINE MALFEASANCE IN CONSTITUTIONAL PRACTICES WITHIN THE LAW.

YOU HAVE TO STOP CALLING BLACK—WHITE, AND GET ON WITH RIGHT IS RIGHT AND WRONG IS WRONG, AND NO WRONG, NO MATTER HOW MUCH REPEATED, IS EVER RIGHT!

How dare the world of counterfeit goody-two-shoes twinkle-toes pronounce error in the actions of a "Malaysia" within their laws. If Anwar Ibrahim is innocent—he will be found innocent in the established court of law—not by political pressures brought to bear by already proven maladjusted mental misfits. If Bill Clinton is thought to be addicted to ANYTHING, he should not be in the chair as leader—for he is compromised in capability of function. And readers, stop kidding around with yourselves—the man shows every sign and symptom of being mentally unstable in his actions and an addict of mind-altering drugs. He was troubled before he was President; he even had drug-trade taking place with his blessings in his own State of Arkansas. How dare you say it is his "private business" along with his equally distracted and distressed mate Hillary. IT IS YOUR BUSINESS AND, MOREOVER, IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO BRING TO THE LAW THESE MISFITS. BUT FIRST YOU HAVE TO HAVE SOME HONOR IN YOUR JUDICIAL SYSTEM, DON'T YOU? WELL, READ IT AND WEEP, AMERICA—FOR YOU NO LONGER HAVE A SHRED OF DECENCY OR HONOR IN YOUR JUDICIAL SYSTEM. HOW DARE YOU SLOP YOUR FAILURES AND CONTEMPT ONTO OTHER PEOPLE AND OTHER NATIONS!

Now, how about me? You want to claim "me" for yourself in the U.S.A.? Forget it, I serve God, and that hardly allows me to hang out in the U.S. You turned away from God long, long ago and that simply is the way it is. You have buried the Christ teachings in the dung of your false religion and turned the very concept into the hands of the Anti-Christ. No thank you, the U.S. is NOT MY COUNTRY! Moreover, you get further and further away from any desire to make it my country with every step you take downhill in this spiral of deceit within the lie itself. What I have said is that the hope of revivification will come from the U.S. because that happens to be where the change can be best made and where the Evil Empire set its methods and wherewithal for the downfall—for which we are grateful for the opportunity to utilize that in reversing its own dastardly doings.

Evil can only utilize that which is already created, and in that use seems to always move toward total destruction, degradation and the things of physical trashing. GOD CREATES! HE NEVER DESTROYS! HE NEVER HAS TO EVEN CONSIDER SUCH A COURSE OF ACTION. GOD ALLOWS. YOU TO MAKE YOUR FREE-WILL CHOICES AND THEN RECKON WITH THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF CONSEQUENCE.

Mankind always moves too far in his reaching in greed and avarice—but always there are the ones who sincerely pray for guidance, assistance and to be shown the way. GOD ALWAYS RESPONDS EVERY TIME AND RESPONDS WITH THAT WHICH IS NEEDED TO LIGHT THE WAY AND STAY THE COURSE UNTIL THE JOURNEY CAN AGAIN BE HEADED AND MAPPED IN THE CORRECT DIRECTION ACCORDING TO “HIS” LAWS.

IF MALAYSIA IS WILLING TO PROCEED IN THIS JOURNEY, THEN GOD HAS A PARTNERSHIP—NO MORE AND NO LESS. AND WE AWAIT THE DECISION AND WE AWAIT THAT DECISION. IN TYPICAL EARTH HUMAN MANNER—WITH IMPATIENCE. THIS IS BECAUSE WE KNOW THE PLAN WILL BE PERFECTION AND IT IS HARD TO ABIDE THE INDECISIONS OF THOSE WITH WHOM OUR MESSENGERS MUST INTERACT.

Is this a hard lump to swallow? Then how came you to believe the disasters laid forth in the books called “holy”? If you claim to believe in God Allah—then you MUST AS WELL BELIEVE IN THE POSSIBILITY OF THAT BELIEF. IN OTHER WORDS, PUT YOUR FAITH WHERE YOUR MOUTH IS AND THE ACTIONS WILL MOVE YOU RIGHT ALONG IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION AND INTO AN ENLIGHTENMENT AND TECHNOLOGICAL SOCIETY BEYOND YOUR MOST WILD IMAGININGS. DARE YOU PASS BY THIS OPPORTUNITY? MAY GOD GUIDE YOUR ACTIONS.

It is Sunday afternoon in this distant land from the U.S. and “home” to my team. But then, “home” is not in the U.S., either, so allow us to recognize the human traits of the species and bear good-will in the times of impact on the very souls of mankind. God has “time” and therefore, chelas, so too do you.

Crime and fleshly degradation are NOT exciting, friends. Travel in the Cosmos and living among the stars as natural habitat is exciting. Perhaps you should check out your systems and see where you might be. Salu.

WHY MALAYSIA?

Why MALAYSIA? Because MALAYSIA has the leadership mandatory to accomplish a recovery in coalition of a world gone nuts. And, we have the support and singular capability of having sovereign land and commodity values to back the structure—half a world away. But there is no time and space in the REAL world. Lo, even the thousands of miles twixt this crew and others—is less than a 30-second e-mail away. There, neither, are more differences any longer—face it, to walk in a mall here is absolutely no different, even to the fast food stalls, than downtown ANYWHERE! Equal opportunity? Well, every child has equal rights to rot his teeth on Pepsi, Coke, Snickers or whatever—anywhere you go. YOU HAVE A GLOBAL ONE-WORLD SOCIETY—NO MATTER WHAT YOU MIGHT LIKE TO BELIEVE—SO YOU HAD BEST GET IT STRUCTURED CORRECTLY OR SELF-DESTRUCT.

HEDGE FUNDS AND BAILOUTS

Dr. Mahathir was asked yesterday, in Japan, about the bailout of Long Term Capital Management (LTCM). He said it was the “worst form of cronyism” ever witnessed.

Background: The Greenwich-based hedge fund was headed by John Meriwether, a Wall Street star of long-standing. His team included two Nobel prize winning economists and a former vice-chairman of the Federal Reserve. [H: BEWARE, ALREADY!] In addition, a number of leading Wall Street executives had personal investments in the hedge fund.

Goldman Sachs, Merrill Lynch, UBS and J.P. Morgan acted in their own self-interest when they joined a consortium of financial institutions and investment banks, facilitated by the New York Federal Reserve, to put up US$300 million EACH to bail out LTCM. Germany’s Deutsche Bank AG also joined in.

[H: What can you glean from just this little bit of information? Well, there are magical numbers here if you add up the input and consider the necessity of a bailout of any kind. Wow, you move right into the magic numbers of unlawful Superfund trashing, don’t you? Moreover, they now tell you from whence came the problem and of the bad investments (unlawful empty paper)—Deutsche Bank! Next they give away the intent—NOT TO BE CAUGHT IN THEIR DIRTY CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES—AND, TO DRAIN LIQUIDITY OUT OF THE NON-LIQUID PAPER ASSETS. SIMPLE? INDEED!

But who understands this? Well, I do—and NOW you do!

Ah, but back to the explanation: Since the collapse of LTCM, a large number of banks have suffered, so much so that the Federal Reserve had to get banks to bail them out, lest the whole banking system in Europe and the U.S. be jeopardized. Among others, the Central Bank of Italy is believed to have lost 25 percent of its reserves due to its involvement in LTCM.

Reserves? What reserves? There are NO RESERVES! Remember, there are no backings for these outrageous trades and expenditures; there is only computer-wire nothing—not even a paper trail showing this shell game against humanity’s property.

“They have destroyed whole economies as is evident from the destruction and devastation in Southeast Asian economies...”, says Dr. Mahathir. Ah, and would a George Soros be involved? Of course, he is one of the “gang”, with Kissinger, Brzezinski, Biggs, Volcker, et al. BUT, MR. SOROS HAD A DIFFERENT INTENT AND IT WAS NOT TO DESTROY—IT WAS SIMPLY TO MAKE A LOT OF MONEY AND NOW HE IS TRYING TO GIVE SOME OF IT BACK. BUT IT IS NOT EASY TO EXTRACT IT FROM THE BEAST ITSELF—IS IT? OH INDEED, A LOT OF CONCERNED CITIZENS MAY JUST HAVE TO JOIN GOD IN A BIT OF GOOD-DEED-DOING. WE SHALL SEE.

Mr. Soros was born a Hungarian Jew—a “survivor of the Holocaust”, you know. Well, it becomes more and more obvious that far more “survived” than were inconvenienced by such as the Nazi regime. But that is another story. Mr. Soros is brilliant and let’s face it, readers, if any one of you had studied and found a way to work the system—you would do it, then or now. Someone, and it would be the world order of greed-mongers, had arranged to strip the world naked. Mr. Soros got there firstest with the mostest, no big deal. The man then began to pour billions of dollars into foundations, doing very, very worthy deeds. One of his favorites was Ukrainian. He is just a “bit” miffed these days! The game is not so fun any more and a lot of very nice people are being destroyed and they don’t even yet know it. George Soros at least put his own money where his mouth is—not just everyone else’s, as have the dogs of hell.

So, has the octopus won? NO! NO INDEED! Remember that “Superfund”? The Federal Reserve is really getting touchy and worried about that little ace-in-the-hole trump-card. And, Mr. Soros is not deaf, dumb, blind or stupid! He is about the only honorable thief in the bunch. He never acted other than within the laws as laid forth for ANYONE AND EVERYONE! HATE COMES FROM ENVY, CHELAS—DON’T EVER, EVER FORGET IT! STOP HATING AND YOU MAY FIND YOUR ALLY.

Now, let us leave that and turn to the topic of currency trading. Again for clarity of explanation and example of a progressive society being reduced to near rubble—let us quote Dr. Mahathir from a speech given at the Opening of the Meetings of the Finance Ministers of Asean and Asean-Plus-6, and the Conference on “Financial Initiatives for the 21st Century” at the Putra World Trade Center in Kuala Lumpur on December 1, 1997:

[Editor’s note: You longtime CONTACT readers who have mastered your past lessons on the tricks employed by the parasitic New World Order banksters (banking gangsters) will find the following outlay most insightful and deplorable.]

[QUOTING:]

TRADE IN FINANCIAL CURRENCIES: A Case For Regulation

Following the end of the Pacific War, we have witnessed commendable development and increasing economic prosperity amongst most of the newly-independent countries. By the late 1980s and early 1990s, most of the countries of East Asia, Africa and Latin America had achieved tangible development with or without help from the developed countries and international agencies. The Southeast Asian countries had progressed so much that they were dubbed “economic tigers and dragons”, and were held up as examples of how developing countries could govern themselves well and manage economic growth with great skill.

In fact, they contributed to the wealth of the developed countries and that of the world. Their continued growth promised to make the world community prosperous and contribute towards the eradication of poverty worldwide and to the banishment of hunger and other scourges which plagued the world.

Yet in July this year (1997), these prosperous countries were thrown into an unprecedented and rapid economic regression. Their currencies devalued rapidly and continuously. Their stock markets collapsed with unwelcome consequences. Thriving and profitable companies became insolvent and tycoons as well as small-time investors became bankrupt. Construction projects were halted and completed offices and houses found no occupants or buyers, causing developers to lose money and compounding their debts. Banks foreclosed companies unable to come up with margin payments and sold off collaterals at give-away prices, further depressing the stock and property markets.

[H: You who participated with us through the Tuten-Yount saga and gold “calls”, etc., need a bit of a lesson right here. Green’s original idea was workable in its concept—but any time you work on “margins” you run the risk of “calls”. So, E.J. built in that possibility with a fund set aside by Yount to cover such a “call”. Tuten refused to meet “her” call and then convinced Yount to “not meet hers”—and to strip the fund for that purpose. So, nobody ended up meeting the call—and “bye-bye blackbird”. Tuten suing the Institute is about as equally silly as the other things that idiot bunch bring to bear. You interested parties should have sued the daylights out of that person and her guides and handlers, Green, et al. But, you didn’t, and confound it, you still don’t DO anything which certainly does annoy me from time to time. Talking a thing to death NEVER WORKS.

Then again it happened—that “call” from the gold money-gods—and that time Tuten had joined with the receivership crowd with her suit, which disallowed the Institute to “do business”. But, ladies and gentlemen, even with the demons at the door—E.J. and Doris have not gone off to Mexico—only to MALAYSIA. We will go to the mat before we allow the thieves and criminals in our own little corner of this world get off clear and free with their thefts, legal gleanings, and other criminal actions. There is no excuse under “ignorance”, for the guides and handlers knew and know exactly what they were doing. Tuten? Greed gets in the way of intelligent actions. Fort? Leon simply refuses to even look at even the paperwork which involves him directly and personally so, can you imagine a better legal CLIENT for a totally unethical old attorney-politician claiming to retire on the case? For goodness sakes, friends, God will not just do it for you—you have to do SOMETHING.]

Huge loans raised from foreign banks could not be repaid and pressure was applied on the governments to devalue and float their currencies. And when they did, the currencies rapidly depreciated against the U.S. dollar and the currencies of the developed countries.

The devaluation impoverished the country and the people, in particular the business community. They found themselves almost totally unable to pay foreign debts as they needed more of their own currencies in order to make up for the loss of value. And all the time the currencies in the countries of Southeast Asia kept depreciating at a rapid rate, making adjustments quite impossible.

The governments of the Southeast Asian countries—which until then had been praised for performing economic miracles, for their skills in administration, for their liberal investment policies and the incentives they had invented—these governments were roundly blamed for the depreciation in the exchange value of their currencies.

They were told that they had caused a loss of investor confidence because they had engineered unsustainable levels of growth, they had external payments deficits, and had allowed their banks to be overexposed to the property sector. They were told their policies were just bad and their institutions were weak.

Despite their record of growth, their success in reducing poverty, their investments in infrastructure and in capital goods for growth in productivity, they were told that their spending was excessive and lacking in prudence and was weakening their economy. All these things, it seemed, were eroding investor confidence and therefore the investors pulled out. As a result, the currencies of these countries depreciated and their stock markets plunged.

We admit that we have been guilty of some of these things, but not all. A few countries did have one or two of these problems but these could be remedied. Malaysia’s only identifiable weakness was a deficit in its balance of payments, which reached a peak in 1995. By 1996 it had been almost halved. And in the early months of 1997, the deficit had decreased further. Some of Malaysia’s infrastructure and development projects were big, but past experience had shown that they were manageable. But the so-called investors insisted that they could not maintain confidence in Malaysia.

They pointed out that the Thai currency which had devalued would make Thailand more competitive than Malaysia and this would erode Malaysia’s trade. So would the competitiveness of Indonesia and the Philippines. [H: Clever little manipulators, aren’t these New World Order bankster liars?] Never mind that the economies of these countries are not exactly duplicates of each other; never mind that the markets for their products are growing. It was suggested that Malaysian, Indonesian and Philippine factories would close down because the Thais would render them uncompetitive and redundant. It was implied that this would happen overnight, unless the other Asean countries also devalued. Since they would not devalue voluntarily, then the so-called investors would dump their currency holdings in order to avoid a loss when devaluation occurs.

Lo and behold. The moment the currency traders sold off the currencies of these countries, the currencies depreciated. It would seem that by pulling out quickly the currency traders had saved themselves some losses.

But is this really true? Were the currencies about to depreciate on their own or did they depreciate because the currency traders dumped huge amounts of these currencies? [H: And please note that throughout the whole slaughter—the International Monetary Fund continued to pay off the traitors.]

Since currency trading is not open, not transparent, but very secretive, it is difficult to ascertain how much of the so-called exotic currencies were held by the traders. Yet there seems to be an inexhaustible supply of offshore money, running into billions and billions, in the hands of the currency traders, for them to sell in the market.

Actually, of course, this offshore currency did not exist. Currency trading as devised by the currency traders is such that they can borrow offshore money and sell, in most cases, to each other. [H: You know, friends, like George Green claiming to have sold the Overton gold to himself! Boy, did George-boy ever plan to make a bundle off us in this criminal way.] And every time they sell, the currency devalues by a number of points. By repeatedly selling a currency, its value can be depressed almost indefinitely. And when the currency has been depressed it can be bought back at the lower price and delivered to the buyers. No real money was moved, except probably at the final stage, if ever the currency stops being sold.

The only way the currency can recover is when someone purchases the currency by selling U.S. dollars. [H: And wow, the U.S. dollar has nothing backing it AT ALL! IS THIS NASTY OR WHAT?] Central banks with dollar reserves can do this but their funds are limited and they deal in cash. Against the limited funds of the central banks, the currency traders can leverage their funds by more than twenty times. It is estimated that between them the currency traders have funds amounting to some US$180 billion. Twenty times this would be US$3.6 trillion. No central bank, no developing country, can match this. And the currency traders work in concert.

Clearly the devaluation of currencies can be easily manipulated by the traders. They never did invest or hold the currencies which they asserted would depreciate. They never ran any risk of losing money. All they did was to borrow the currency from banks, sell and resell it repeatedly and took their profits from the difference in the initial high price that they sold and the lower price money that they delivered. It is a classic case of short selling, only this time the movements were caused DELIBERATELY by them and not by anything that the governments did or any weakness of the fundamentals.

And since the movements were caused by them, there really was no real risk when compared to ordinary speculative activity. They have discovered, or rather invented, a sure-fire way of making billions in a few short days through selling and buying currencies and they can use this against any country they choose. As a bonus, they also depress the stock markets through their attack on currencies.

The reaction of central banks to such attacks is to raise interest rates. A rise in interest rates stifles the trading in shares. The share prices go down and, through short selling the currency, traders make more money. Sometimes they have been able to lend out the money they had earlier borrowed, but at a higher rate to take advantage of central banks' interest rate increases. More money was made.

It is the operations of the currency traders which has caused the devaluation of the currencies of the countries of Southeast Asia. There may be some fundamental weaknesses in their economies, but these have had only a minimal effect on the value of their currencies. Without the currency traders, the currencies may have devalued slightly but may regain their values later. Indeed, the currencies of many countries of Southeast Asia, including Malaysia, had in the past revalued upwards against the U.S. dollar when the United States was not performing well economically. But such currency movements were never extreme. The operations of the currency traders, on the other hand, have caused a devaluation of between 30 and 50 per cent of the currencies of Southeast Asian nations.

It is clear that with the huge resources at their disposal, the currency traders can attack any country, no matter how strong their economy may be. There is no shortage of reasons for subverting the economy of any country. The currency traders publish and circulate analyses of the financial futures of every country. Through constant releases of unfavourable news and rumours about the markets, they have been able to create grounds for devaluation. In the absence of information to prove otherwise, their prophecy becomes self-fulfilling. From then on, the so-called herd instinct amongst them takes over.

[INTERRUPT QUOTING]

I ask to interrupt this writing at this point because I want to make some statements along about here in the presentation. I also will want to make a lot of comments at the end of this particular topic so it is better to simply interrupt rather than overload.

In dealing with such a nation as Malaysia, we have to consider many things that have taken place. It, for one, is necessary to destroy the very foundation of Malaysia lest the invaders end up destroyed. It was mandatory to get close to and within leadership at very high levels to allow the invasion to take hold and work for the Bastards of Hell—at any cost to participants, whoever they might be.

Let us consider how Anwar Ibrahim, the man in focus of the IMF and world media, in downthrust to the world, and that GOOD FRIEND OF CLINTON AND GORE, FITS INTO THIS PICTURE.

Satanic leadership always knows the weaknesses and fallacies of such as Clinton and Anwar. They know where to hit and how to blackmail in the most appropriate way possible—but, they also know where and how to play to a man's terrible greed and corruption by offering ways of sheltering his activities.

Is Anwar guilty? Is Clinton guilty? Well, the players otherwise involved—ARE GUILTY.

Let's just leave Billy out of the topic and look at Anwar, whoever he is. He is a brilliant man and given the very most favorable lack of judgment in his case, businessmen say that he knew exactly what he was doing and how he was doing it. They now ask to not be identified here and we will honor that request.

It is said that among Anwar's closest friends were Albright, Cohen and amazingly high ranking officials of the International Monetary Fund and the Federal Reserve. He was, for goodness sakes, jointly writing a book WITH IMF Managing Director Michel Camdessus. Perhaps, after all, you are known by the company you keep and the sins of one rubs off onto the heads of the others.

More than this, there had been established, for Anwar's use, covering corporations, etc., in Labuan and elsewhere, so that Anwar could take massive amounts of pay-off money for "cooperation" and then "takeover" of the Malaysian government.

But this should be determined, the extent of involvement, by a COURT OF LAW. I would suggest that if Mr. Anwar had any sense at all he would turn "evidence" and let the world really KNOW who and what corrupted him and made available the tools and advantages. But he would be killed, wouldn't he? Isn't that the way the World Controllers work—JUST MURDER THE HONEST? But can a person simply walk away from their dirty deeds and criminal activities? They should not—but in this modern world they DO.

Now, perhaps you understand better what I AM DOING HERE! I intend to do all that will be accepted to give help and support to the brave and daring honorable leaders left dangling over the pit of vipers. Who you may believe me to be—makes not one iota of difference to me—I AM EXACTLY WHO I SAY I AM AND I SHALL NOT TURN AWAY JUST BECAUSE IT IS DIFFICULT FOR MEN TO UNDERSTAND MY PRESENCE. SO BE IT.

Now to return to Dr. Mahathir's speech of December 1, 1997:

[CONTINUE QUOTING]

A favourite gambit is contagion. Thus, because of the devaluation of their currencies, the Southeast Asian countries were said to have become more competitive than Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea. To regain competitiveness, the currencies of these countries must in turn fall in value. The traders then proceed to declare that they have lost confidence in these countries, and loudly reveal their desire to pull out and sell their investments in their currencies.

Through the same process of borrowing and selling these currencies repeatedly, they were able to say that their prediction was correct. The currencies have indeed devalued and their stock markets have nosedived as well.

Another gambit was to say that since the countries whose currencies have been devalued have now become poorer, their capacity to buy goods from their trading partners has also been reduced. These trading partners must now face a recession and their currencies, too, could be devalued. And indeed, countries like Australia face the prospect of losing its big markets in the Far East. And so the Australian currency was devalued, although not by very much.

What is the effect of devaluation? Basically, it reduces the purchasing power of imports [power to purchase imports]. And since all countries have to import goods, foods and services, they will not be able to sustain the standards of living they had reached. In other words, they would become poorer.

For Malaysia, a 40-percent devaluation of the Malaysian ringgit is tantamount to a reduction of per capita income from US$5,000 to US$3,000. In GDP terms, this amounts to approximately US$40 billion yearly. At the same time, more than US$100 billion was wiped out from our stock market which had tumbled by almost 60 per cent. Altogether we have lost about US$140 billion.

The other countries of Southeast and Northeast Asia between them must have lost more than US$500 billion in terms of their purchasing power of imports.

How much have the currency traders made from their impoverishment of these countries? Quite a lot, but still only a fraction of the total loss suffered by the countries attacked. We see some of them posting good profits, but on the whole, the wealth transferred to them falls far short of the wealth lost by the countries they attacked. There is, therefore, a huge net loss of wealth not only for these countries but actually for the world, given that the rest of the world has lost a good size of its market.

We accept the need to exchange money. We cannot trade otherwise. But currency trading which we have seen destroying the economies of many developing countries has really no direct connection with trading in goods and services. Currency trading treats money as a commodity. But money is nothing more than tokens with no intrinsic value. Money is not like rubber, tin, copper or gold. The value that money has is what we agree to give it. Its value can, therefore, be depreciated or appreciated at will. The unfortunate thing is that, when it is devalued, people and countries suddenly become poor, sometimes very poor, through really no fault of their own. They really do not deserve the misfortune inflicted upon them by those who fiddle with currency values.

Would trade in goods and services contribute tangibly to economic development and well-being of people? They create jobs, business, industries, freight, insurance, the building of roads, railways, ports and airports and a lot of other amenities which benefit mankind.

Currency trading is said to be twenty times bigger in money terms than world trade in goods and services. Yet what benefits do we derive from it? Apart from a few people making huge sums of money, and losing it sometimes, it has created no increase in employment, no growth in business or in the wealth of nations and people. On the other hand, it has obviously impoverished millions and millions of people. It has impoverished countries and regions. It has wiped out decades of hard work, of sweat, toil and tears.

But the worst is yet to come. An Associated Press report pointed out that, "Turmoil in Asian economies and weakness in Japan ... have led to volatile stock swings on global financial markets.... Investors fear the Asian troubles will hurt North American and European companies that export into the region."

In the face of these currency troubles, and a deterioration of the ability to repay loans, what has the IMF to offer? It offers to lend money with which to repay loans to foreign lenders. But the loans come with a string of conditions attached, principal among which is the opening of the domestic financial sector to full foreign participation. It is likely that this will result in foreign banks eventually dominating the finances of the country concerned.

For this reason South Korea hesitated. Seoul, according to the same AP report, "sees that route—with its accompanying economic control—as a last resort, one that would reduce a proud country to a beggar surrendering its sovereignty." That hesitation caused the Korean won to depreciate by another 10 per cent.

There is no conspiracy to dominate the economy of the developing countries of East Asia [H:???] but obviously their troubles have afforded an opportunity to force open their economies and lead to possible domination by strong and powerful nations.

The assaults by the currency traders against the emerging economies of the South have done nothing good for these target countries. Much has been made about the eventual recovery of these countries, but even if they do recover, they would have lost a lot of their wealth and the fruits of their struggle. In addition, they may have lost their economic sovereignty as well.

Surely no one can argue that the right of the currency traders to make huge profits override the well-being and the wealth of millions of people and of countries and regions. True, the countries themselves may be at fault, but without the manipulation of the currency traders, they would not be in such dire straits.

If currency trading is to be allowed, then it should be made transparent and it should be regulated. It is ridiculous that at a time when governments and all other business are being exhorted to be open and transparent, currency traders must be allowed to do their trading in almost absolute secrecy. We don't know who they are, how much capital they have, how much they have borrowed, what currency they hold, whom they sell to and whom they buy from? What and to whom do they pay taxes on the profits they make from their target countries? Certainly these countries collect no taxes from them.

While trade in stocks and shares and in commodities is carried out in the open and in properly designated markets, there is no proper market for currency trading, no membership, no rules and no government regulations to stop abuses. Who decided that the traders can leverage up to twenty times or more of the funds they deposit with their bankers? Who are these bankers who can make available trillions of dollars to their clients? What are the capital resources of these banks? Who invested in them and how much? How can these banks become richer than most countries of the world?

We believe in globalization and the liberalization of trade, in dismantling national laws and rules which hamper trade and cross-border flows of capital. But surely liberalization and deregulation of national entities should not result in exposure to an anarchic world. Haven't we been told to abide by the rule of law? How come the abolition of national laws should lead to absence of the rule of law in the enlarged world market?

If globalisation and open markets are to contribute to growth and enrichment, there must be the rule of international law for everyone to respect. Without laws, the strong and the corrupt will rule and dominate. Is this what is being advocated?

International trade is being regulated by principles, policies and regulation agreed to in the World Trade Organisation (WTO). Why should currency trading be exempted from the purview of the WTO? Why can't the WTO discuss and formulate rules and regulations for international currency trading, rules which the rich and poor alike have a hand in drawing up, rules which are fair and just and designed to create wealth and prosperity for all? Since currency trading is twenty times bigger than world trade, is it logical to control the world trade in goods and services which make up only 5 per cent of world trade and leave unregulated a trade that is twenty times bigger and beyond the purview of those who are responsible for achieving fairness in world trade?

The IMF should continue to supervise, but if currency trading is trade, then the WTO must be the one to formulate the regulations. Why is regulation considered objectionable for currency trade when it is good for trade in goods and services? Is there something sacred about currency trading, or is there something about it that does not bear public examination? In a world which believes in the right to know, a world which pries and probes into the private lives of very private people, are we not allowed to know of the people and activities of currency traders whose decisions can inflict all kinds of misery on millions of people and a large number of countries?

It is normal for people who make money from what they do to pay taxes to the governments of the people they make money from. The money these currency traders make is from trading in the currencies of many countries. As far as is known, these countries receive no payment of taxes. Is it fair for the countries of their domicile alone to collect the taxes? Certain countries impose taxes on profits made in other countries. Do the countries which provide the currencies for the traders to make money from have no right to impose taxes on them?

Looked at from any angle, currency trading demands to be regulated in the interest of everyone. Every country would be affected adversely by their activities, even the developed countries, even the countries of their domicile. They have left a trail of shattered and disoriented economies wherever they have been. These nations and others not yet visited by them live in fear of their attacks. And for so long as they are not regulated, for so long as they can have trillions of dollars at their disposal, their capacity to attack and to damage economies will remain, and they will strike fear in the hearts not just of governments and finance ministers, but of businessmen and people, rich and poor alike.

[END OF QUOTING]

Please, readers, in going through the above you must remember that the worst had not hit so soundly and painfully [in December of 1997] as has the bashing taking place in these past few months.

The assault is on in turning to political personalities and having a media assault against those making whatever efforts they can accomplish to stop total dysfunction of the entire area of Southeast Asia.

I have more to offer you on the so-called "off-shore" banking, as one of the most extravagant locations for same is right through Malaysia and nobody but the culprits even noticed what happened. It is Labuan and there sets the most impressive groupings of banks, including "Central" banks in the world—while a lot of corporate advisors didn't even know the place existed. More money fled and got entangled in the web of deceit from right there on that island than anywhere in the area—including Singapore and Hong Kong. Is anybody out there?

I am asked this afternoon if we have anything going with the Philippines. Wow, and how is your day? We move along and find that mostly we don't want to be caught doing business with much of anybody—especially in the Philippines. And Erap Estrada? Clown? Ignorant? Caesar with his fiddle? My goodness, is there no sound judgment by leaders anywhere other than here?

Let me just quote from an Asian business journal: ASIaweek, Oct. 23, 1998. [H: Please remember that I don't do your forward magazine dating, nor do I understand it.]

[QUOTING:]

"ERAP" MANIA

On the eve of his departure to address the World Economic Forum's East Asia summit, a private conference in Singapore, Philippine President Joseph "Erap" Estrada borrowed a line from his predecessor Fidel Ramos. Estrada said in a radio interview he was traveling to Singapore "not to have a good time but to work". Yet the four-day trip afforded plenty of good times for Estrada and some 2,000 Filipinos who had gathered in the Lion City to greet the one-time movie idol. Erap wasted no time in reliving his acting days. To wild applause, he swung on the banister of the staircase leading to the stage, and then regaled Filipinos with his humor. Estrada had said earlier in the Philippines that he still hasn't decided whether to attend next month's meeting of Asia-Pacific leaders in Malaysia because of what he called the mistreatment of his friend, former deputy PM Anwar Ibrahim.

[END OF QUOTING]

Oh well, never mind the thousands of new out-of-work people from JUST the airline [Philippine Airline] gone down the tube—let us have a show-off and tell and may the worst man win. This is the same man who publicly stated that he had no objection to Clinton's antics for after all he himself had many affairs and has 7 illegitimate children to prove it—"but I take care of my children", he said. In addition he snickered and said: "The difference in Clinton and me is that my women are satisfied with me."

Ah indeed, good stock with exceptional morals—to lead any nation out of the dark ages and into the waiting arms of the International Monetary Fund and New World Order.

And, may you all rest easy tonight knowing that such outstanding leaders are guarding your doors against the robbers and thieves. And, in addition, may God have mercy on the Philippines for it appears to be about the only thing that can save her now.

Dad. ☹

TELEPHONE

805-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then that means there is currently no Hotline message.
