

CONTACT

THE PHOENIX JOURNAL

Y2K—THE NEW MILLENNIUM

KNOWING TRUTH IS NOT ENOUGH, SUCCESSFUL CHANGE REQUIRES ACTION

VOLUME 26, NUMBER 2

NEWS REVIEW

$ 3.00

NOVEMBER 1, 1999

SPECIAL REPORT:

Invisible Chains That Bind— MASS MIND CONTROL

Ongoing manipulation of our very thoughts by the Power Elite is a frightening idea—but REAL, nevertheless. As we watch “cellular telephone” towers spring up across our cities, as the “news” documents case after case of bizarre behavior (which somehow neatly lends itself to the agenda of the Power Elite), we must begin to realize the extent to which invisible-frequency programming is affecting us.

We are affected, of course, in many other ways—from the lack of nutrition in our diets to television programming—but the focus of this special report is on the INVISIBLE chains that bind us. In an effort to keep this near the forefront of our thinking, we have assembled several writings from various sources. The composite picture is, well, mind numbing.

It is absolutely chilling to perceive the state of the world today. The Power Elite have carefully fostered the implementation of “democracy” around the globe. Now, they only need the ability to control the masses—OOPS, SORRY, THAT ABILITY HAS EXISTED FOR SOME TIME ALREADY, as this report will clearly show.

We begin this special report with an excerpt from John Coleman’s excellent resource, Conspirators’ Hierarchy: The Story of the Committee of 300.

[QUOTING, captions added:]

BACKGROUND

Stanford Research Center (SRC) was founded in 1946 by the Tavistock Institute For Human Relations. Stanford was created to help Robert O. Anderson and his ARCO oil company, who had secured for the Committee of 300 the oil rights on the North Slope of Alaska. Basically, the job was too large for Anderson’s Aspen Institute to handle, so a new center had to be founded and funded. That new center was Stanford Research Center [aka: Stanford Research Institute, SRI]. Alaska sold its [oil] rights on a down payment of $900 million, a relatively small amount for the Committee of 300. The Governor of Alaska was steered to SRI for help and advice. This was no accident but the result of judicious planning and a process of long-range conditioning.

Following the Governor’s call for help, three SRI scientists set up shop in Alaska, where they met with the Alaskan Secretary of State and the State Planning Office. Francis Greehan, who headed the SRI team, assured the Governor that his problem of how to handle the rich oil find would be safe in the hands of SRI. Naturally, Greehan did not mention the Committee of 300 or the Club of Rome. In less than a month, Greehan assembled a team of economists, petroleum scientists and new-science scientists numbering in the hundreds. The report SRI gave to the Governor ran to eighty-eight pages.

The proposal was adopted virtually without change by the Alaska legislature in 1970. Greehan had, indeed, done a remarkable job for the Committee of 300. From this beginning, SRI developed into an institution employing 4000 people with an annual budget of $160 million plus. Its President, Charles A. Anderson, has seen much of this growth during his tenure, as has Professor Willis Harmon, director of the SRI Center for the Study of Social Policies, employing hundreds of new-science scientists, many of the top staffers having been transferred from Tavistock’s London base. One of those was RCA board chairman and former British intelligence agent, David Sarnoff, who was

(Continued on page 2)

CONTACT
P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126

PRE-SORTED
FIRST-CLASS MAIL
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
MOJAVE, CA 93501
PERMIT NO. 110

FIRST CLASS MAIL

ALSO IN THIS ISSUE

- Clearing The Decks For The Real Action.....page 14
- We Create The Way To Accomplishment, by Doris and E.J. Ekker.....page 17
- Pleiadian Gold Treasures Pre-Placed For Use Today.....page 20
- The TRUTH About Ferdinand Marcos.....page 23
- The News Desk, by John Ray.....page 27

closely involved with Harmon and his team for twenty-five years. Sarnoff was something of a “watchdog” for the mother institute in Sussex.

Stanford claims to make no moral judgments on projects it accepts, working for Israel and the Arabs, South Africa and Libya but, as one would imagine, by adopting this attitude it ensures an “inside edge” with foreign governments that the CIA has found most useful. In Jim Ridgeway’s book, THE CLOSED CORPORATION, SRI spokesman Gibson brags about SRI’s non-discriminatory stance. Although not on the Federal Contract Research Center lists, SRI is today the largest military think-tank, dwarfing Hudson and Rand. Among SRI’s specialty departments are chemical and biological warfare experimental centers.

COUNTERINSURGENCY AIMED AT CIVILIANS

One of Stanford’s more dangerous activities is counterinsurgency operations aimed at civilian populations—just the sort of 1984 things government is already using against its own people. The U.S. government pays SRI millions of dollars each year for this kind of highly controversial “research”. Following student protests against chemical-warfare experiments conducted at Stanford, SRI “sold” itself to a “private group” for just $25 million. Of course, nothing really changed, SRI was still a Tavistock project and the Committee of 300 still owned it, but the gullible appeared to be satisfied by this meaningless cosmetic change.

In 1958 a startling new development arose. Advanced Research Products Agency (ARPA), a contracting agency for the Defense Department, approached SRI with a top-secret proposal. John Foster at the Pentagon told SRI that what was needed was a program to insure the United States against “technological surprise”. Foster wanted to perfect a condition where the environment became a weapon; special bombs to trigger volcanoes and/or earthquakes, behavioral research on potential enemies, and minerals and metals with potential for new weapons. The project was accepted by SRI and code-named “SHAKY”.

The massive electronic brain in SHAKY was capable of carrying out many commands, its computers having been constructed by IBM for SRI. Twenty-eight scientists worked on what is called “Human Augmentation”. The IBM computer even has the capability to solve problems by analogy and recognizes and identifies scientists who work with it. The “special applications” of this tool can be better imagined than described. Brzezinski knew what he was talking about when he wrote THE TECHNOLOGICAL ERA.

Stanford Research Institute works closely with scores of civilian consulting firms, trying to apply military technology to domestic situations. This has not always been a success but, as techniques improve, the prospects for massive, all-pervading surveillance, as described by Brzezinski, daily becomes more real. IT ALREADY EXISTS AND IS IN USE, EVEN THOUGH SLIGHT MALFUNCTIONS FROM TIME-TO-TIME HAVE TO BE IRONED OUT. One such civilian consulting firm was Schriever McKee Associates of McLean, Virginia, run by retired General Bernard A. Schriever, a former chief of the Air Force Systems Command, who developed the Titan, Thor, Atlas and Minuteman rockets.

Schriever put together a consortium of Lockheed, Emerson Electric, Northrop, Control Data, Raytheon and TRW [Thomas R. White?] under the name of URBAN SYSTEMS ASSOCIATES, INC. The purpose of the consortium? To solve social and psychological “urban problems” by means of military techniques, using advanced electronic systems. It is interesting to note that TRW became the largest credit-information-collecting company in the credit-reporting business as a result and an outcome of its work with Urban Systems Associates, Inc.

This should tell us a great deal about just how far this nation is already under TOTAL SURVEILLANCE, which is the first requirement of the Committee of 300. No dictatorship, especially not one on a global scale, can function without total control over each and every individual. SRI was well on its way to becoming a key Committee of 300 research organization.

By the 1980s, 60% of SRI’s contracts were devoted to “Futurism”, with both military and civilian applications. Its major clients were the U.S. Department of Defense-Directorate of Defense Research and Engineering, Office of Aerospace Research, which dealt with “Applications of the Behavioral Sciences to Research Management”, Executive Office of the President, Office of Science and Technology and the U.S. Department of Health. On behalf of the Department of Health, SRI ran a program called “Patterns in ESDEA Title I Reading Achievement Tests”. Other clients were the U.S. Department of Energy, the U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Department of Transportation and the National Science Foundation (NSF). Of significance was the paper developed for NSF, entitled “Assessment of Future and International Problems”.

Stanford Research, under the tutelage of Tavistock Institute in London, put together a far-reaching and chilling system it called “Business Intelligence Program”. In excess of 600 companies in the U.S. and abroad became subscribers. The program covered research in Japanese Foreign Business Relations, Consumer Marketing in a Period of Change, The Mounting Challenge of International Terrorism, Sensory Evaluation in Consumer Products, Electronic Funds Transfer System, Opto-Electric Sensing, Exploratory Planning Methods, the U.S. Defense Industry and Capital Availability. Among the TOP Committee of 300 companies who became clients of this program were Bechtel Corporation (George Shultz was on its board), Hewlett Packard, TRW, Bank of America, Shell Company, RCA, Blyth, Eastman Dillon, Saga Foods Corporation, McDonnell Douglas, Crown Zellerbach, Wells Fargo Bank and Kaiser Industries.

CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN

But one of the most sinister of all SRI programs, with the possibilities of doing tremendous damage in altering the direction in which the United States will go, socially, morally and religiously, was Stanford’s Charles F. Kettering Foundation’s “CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN”, under Stanford official reference “Contract Number URH (489)-2150 Policy Research Report Number 4/4/74, Prepared by the SRI Center for the Study of Social Policy, Director Willis Harmon”. This is probably one of the most far-reaching investigations into how man might be changed that has ever been conducted.

The report, covering 319 pages, was written by 14 new-science scientists under the supervision of Tavistock and 23 top controllers, including B. F. Skinner, Margaret Meade, Ervin Lazlo and Sir Geoffrey Vickers, a high-level British intelligence officer in MI-6. It will be recalled that his son-in-law, Sir Peter Vickers Hall, was a founding member of the so-called conservative “Heritage Foundation”. Much of the 3000 pages of “recommendations” given to the Reagan administration in January 1981 were based upon material taken from Willis Harmon’s THE CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN.

I was privileged to receive a copy of THE CHANGING

IMAGES OF MAN from my intelligence colleagues five days after it was accepted by the United States government. What I read shocked me, as I realized I was looking at a blueprint for a future America, unlike anything I had ever seen before. The nation was to be programmed to change and become so accustomed to such planned changes that it would hardly be noticeable when profound changes did occur. We have gone downhill so fast since THE AQUARIAN CONSPIRACY (the book title of Willis Harmon’s technical paper) was written, that today, divorce draws no stigma, suicide is at an all-time high and raises few eyebrows, social deviations from the norm and sexual aberrations, once unmentionable in decent circles, are now commonplace and excite no special protest.

As a nation, we have not noticed how THE CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN has radically altered our American way of life, forever. Somehow, we were overcome by the “Watergate Syndrome”. For a while, we were shocked and dismayed to learn that Nixon was nothing but a cheap crook who hobnobbed with Earl Warren’s Mafia friends at the beautiful home they built for him adjoining the Nixon estate. When too many “future shocks” and news headlines demanded our attention, we lost our way, or rather, the huge number of choices with which we were and still are daily confronted, confused us to such a degree that we were no longer able to make the necessary choices.

Worse yet, having been subjected to a barrage of crimes in high places, plus the trauma of the Vietnam War, our nation seemed no longer to want truths. Such reaction is carefully explained in Willis Harmon’s technical paper; in short, the American nation was reacting exactly as profiled. Worse yet, in not wishing to accept truth, we took matters a step further: We looked to government to shield us from the truth.

The corrupt stench of the Reagan-Bush Administrations, we wanted covered with six feet of earth. The crimes committed under the title of Iran/Contra affair (or scandals), we didn’t want uncovered. We let our President lie to us regarding his whereabouts in the period October 20-23rd, 1980. Yet, these crimes far exceed in quantity and scope anything Nixon did while he was in office. Do we, as a nation, recognize it as going downhill with our brakes off?

No, we do not. When those whose business it is to bring the truth to the American people: that a private, well-organized little government inside the White House was busy committing one crime after another, crimes which attacked the very soul of this nation and the republican institutions upon which it rested—we were told not to bother the public with such things. “We really don’t want to know about all this speculation,” became a standard response.

When the highest elected official of the land blatantly put U.N. law above the Constitution of the United States—an impeachable offense—the majority accepted it as “normal”. When the highest elected official of the land went to war without a Congressional declaration of war, the fact was censored out by the news media and, again, we accepted it, rather than face the truth.

When the Gulf War, which our President plotted and planned, began, not only were we happy with censorship of the most blatant kind, we even took it to our hearts, believing that it was “good for the war effort”. Our President lied, April Glaspie lied and the State Department lied. They said the war was justified because President Hussein had been warned to leave Kuwait alone. When Glaspie’s cables to the State Department were finally made public, one United States Senator after another went charging to defend Glaspie, the harlot. It mattered not that they came from both the Democrats and the Republicans. We, the people, let them get away with their vile lies.

In this public attitude of the American people, the wildest dreams of Willis Harmon and his teams of scientists became a reality. The Tavistock Institute was elated at its success in destroying the self-respect and self-esteem of this once great nation. We are told that we won the Gulf War. What is not yet perceived by the vast majority of Americans is that, in winning the war, it cost the self-respect and honor of our nation. That lies rotting in the desert sands of Kuwait and Iraq, alongside the corpses of the Iraqi soldiers we butchered in the agreed retreat from Kuwait and Basra—we could not keep our word that we would abide by the Geneva Conventions and not attack them. “What do you want,” our controllers asked us, “victory or self respect? You can’t have both.”

THE ONSET OF TOTALITARIANISM

One hundred years ago, this could not have happened, but now it has happened and excites no comment. We have succumbed to the long-range-penetration warfare waged against this nation by Tavistock. Like the German nation, defeated by the Prudential Bombing Survey, enough of us have succumbed to make this nation the kind that totalitarian regimes of the past would have only envisaged in their dreams. “Here,” they would say, “is a nation, one of the largest in the world, that doesn’t want the truth. All of our propaganda agencies can be dispensed with. We don’t have to struggle to keep the truth from this nation; they have willingly rejected it of their own volition. This nation is a pushover.”

Our once-proud Republic of the United States of America became no more than a series of criminal front organizations, which history shows is always the start of totalitarianism. This is the stage of permanent alteration we were at in America as 1991 drew to a close. We live in a throw-away society, programmed not to last. We do not even flinch at the 4 million homeless nor the 30 million jobless, nor the 15 million babies murdered thus far. They are “throw-aways” of the Age of Aquarius, a conspiracy so damnable that, when first confronted with it, the majority will disavow its existence, rationalizing these events as “times have changed”.

This is how the Tavistock Institute and Willis Harmon programmed us to react. Dismantling of our ideals goes on without protest. The spiritual and intellectual drive of our people has been destroyed! On May 27th, 1991, President Bush made a very profound statement, the thrust of which appears to have been totally misused by most political commentators:

“The moral dimension of American policy requires us to chart a moral course through a world of lesser evils. That is the real world, not black-and-white; very few moral absolutes.”

What else could we expect from a President who is most probably the most evil man ever to occupy the White House?

Consider this in the light of his order to the military to bury alive 12,000 Iraqi soldiers. Consider this in the light of his ongoing war of genocide against the Iraqi people. President Bush was delighted to characterize President Saddam Hussein as the “Hitler of our times”. He never bothered to offer a single scrap of proof. It was not needed. Because President Bush made the statement, we accepted it without question. Consider this in the bright light of truth, that he did all of these things in the name of the American people, while secretly taking his orders from the Committee of 300.

But, more than anything else, consider this: President Bush and his controllers feel so secure that they no longer deem it necessary to hide their evil control of the American people, or to lie about it. This is self-evident in the statement that he, as our leader, will make all manner of compromises with truth, honesty and decency, if his controllers (and ours) deem it necessary. On May 27th, 1991, the President of the United States abandoned each and every principle embodied in our Constitution and boldly proclaimed that he was no longer bound by it. This is a great victory for the Tavistock Institute and the Prudential Bombing Survey, whose target changed from German-worker housing in 1945 to the soul of the American people in a war that began in 1946 and runs through to 1992 [the date of this writing].

Increased pressure on this nation for change was applied by Stanford Research Institute in the early 1960s. SRI’s offensive gathered power and momentum. Switch on your television set and you will see Stanford’s victory in front of your very eyes: talk shows featuring heavy sexual details, special video channels where perversion, rock-and-roll and drugs reign supreme. Where once John Wayne ruled, we now have a made-over apology for a man (or is he?) called Michael Jackson, a parody of a human being who is held up as a hero, as he gyrates, shuffles, mumbles and screams his way across television screens in millions of American homes.

A woman who has been through a series of marriages gets national coverage. One filthy, half-washed, drug-ridden, decadent rock band after another has hours of air time devoted to its inane sounds and mad gyrations, clothes fashions and language aberrations. Soap operas showing, as near as “dammit” is to [“damn it”], wearing pornographic scenes, draw no comment. Whereas in early 1960 this would never have been tolerated; today, it is accepted as normal. We have been subjected and we have succumbed to what Tavistock Institute calls “future shocks”—whose future is NOW—and we are so numbed by one cultural shock after another that to protest seems like a futile gesture and, therefore, logically we think, it does no good to protest.

In 1986, the Committee of 300 ordered the pressure turned up. The U.S. was not going down fast enough. The United States began the process of “recognizing” the butchers of Cambodia, the criminal Pol Pot regime, self-confessors to the murder of 2 million Cambodian citizens. In 1991, the wheel turned the full circle. The United States went to war against a friendly nation that had been programmed to trust the Washington traitors. We accused President Hussein of the small nation of Iraq of all manner of evil, NONE OF WHICH WAS EVEN REMOTELY TRUE. We killed and maimed its children; we left them to starve and to die of all manner of diseases.

In the same breath, we sent the Bush emissaries of the Committee of 300 to Cambodia to RECOGNIZE THE EVIL MASS-MURDERERS OF 2 MILLION CAMBODIANS, who were sacrificed by the Committee of 300’s depopulation-of-cities experiment, which the big cities of the United States will experience in the not-too-distant future. Now, President Bush and his Committee of 300-ridden administration say, in effect, “Look people, what do you want from me? I told you that I will compromise where I see fit, even when that means sleeping with the Pol Pot murderers. SO WHAT—KISS MY HIPS.”

The level of pressure for change will reach its peak in 1993, and we shall witness scenes such as we would never have thought possible. Punch-drunk America will react, but ever so slightly. Not even the latest threat to our freedom, the personal computer card, disturbs us. Willis Harmon’s THE CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN would have been too technical for most, so the service of Marilyn Ferguson was obtained to make it more easily understood. THE AGE OF AQUARIUS heralded nude stage shows and a song which made the top of the charts: The Dawning of the Age of the Aquarius swept the globe.

The personal computer card which, when fully distributed, will deprive us of our familiar environment and, as we shall see, environment means a lot more than the usually accepted meaning of the word. The United States has gone through a period of intense trauma such as has never been visited on any other nation in the history of the world, and the worst is yet to come.

WHEN TRUTH IS NO LONGER SELF-EVIDENT

Everything is going according to what Tavistock ordered and what the social scientists at Stanford (SRI) mapped out. Times do not change; they are made to change. All changes are preplanned and come as the result of careful action. We have been changed gradually, at first, but now the pace of change is picking up. The United States is being transformed from “One Nation Under God” to a polyglot of nations under several gods. The U.S. is no longer one nation under God. The framers of the Constitution have lost the battle.

Our forebears spoke a common language and believed in a common religion, Christianity, and held common ideals. There were no aliens in our midst; that came later in a deliberately-planned attempt to break up the United States into a series of fragmented nationalities, cultures and beliefs. If you doubt this, go down to the East Side of New York, or the West Side of Los Angeles on any given Saturday and look around you. The United States has become several nations struggling to coexist under a common system of government. When the floodgates of immigration were opened wide by Franklin D. Roosevelt, a cousin of the head of the Committee of 300, the cultural shock caused great confusion and dislocation and made “One Nation” an unworkable concept. The Club of Rome and NATO have exacerbated the situation. “Love thy neighbor” is an ideal that will not work unless your neighbor “is as yourself”.

To the framers of our Constitution, the truths they laid out for future generations were “self-evident”—to themselves. Being unsure that future generations would also find the truths to which they bound this nation self-evident, THEY SET ABOUT SPELLING THEM OUT. IT SEEMS THAT THEY WERE AFRAID OF A TIME THAT MIGHT COME WHEN THE TRUTHS THEY ESPOUSED WOULD NO LONGER BE SELF-EVIDENT. The Tavistock Institute for Human Relations has made sure that what the framers feared might come to pass has, indeed, come to pass. That time has arrived with Bush and his “no absolutes” and his New World Order under the Committee of 300.

This is part of the concept of social changes forced upon Americans which Harmon and the Club of Rome said would make for severe trauma and a great building-up of pressure. The social upheavals that have taken place since the advent of Tavistock, the Club of Rome and NATO will continue in the U.S. for as long as the limit of absorption is ignored. Nations are made up of individuals and, like individuals, there is a limit to their ability to absorb changes, no matter how robust they may be.

This psychological truth was well proven by the Strategic Bombing Survey, which called for saturation bombing of German-worker housing. As mentioned earlier, the project was the work of the Prudential Insurance Company, and no one doubts, today, that Germany suffered its defeat because of this operation. Many of the scientists who worked on that project are working on saturation bombing of America, or else they have passed on, leaving their skilled techniques in the hands of others who followed behind them.

The legacy they left behind can be found in the fact that we have not so much lost our way as a nation, but that we have been steered in a direction opposite to that which the framers of the Declaration guided us for over 200 years. We have, in short, lost contact with our historical genes, our faith, which inspired countless generations of Americans to move forward as a nation, benefiting from the patrimony left to us by the framers of the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution. That we are lost is clear to all who seek the truth, as unpleasant as it may be.

With President Bush and his “no absolute morals” guiding us, we blunder ahead, as lost nations and individuals tend to do. We are collaborating with the Committee of 300 for our own downfall and our own enslavement. Some sense it—and feel a strong sense of unease. The various conspiracy theories they are familiar with do not seem to cover it all. This is because they know nothing of the Conspirators’ Hierarchy, The Committee of 300.

These souls who feel a deep sense of unease and that something is radically wrong—yet cannot put their collective fingers on the problem—walk in darkness. They look to a future they see slipping away from them. The American Dream has become a mirage. They place their faith in religion but take no steps to help that faith along by ACTION. Americans will never experience a retracing of steps such as the Europeans experienced when at the height of the Dark Ages. By determined ACTION, they awoke in themselves a spirit of renewal, which resulted in the glorious Renaissance.

WHO IS THE ENEMY?

The enemy that has directed them to this point, decided to make a strong move against the United States in 1980, so that Renaissance of America would be impossible. Who is the enemy? The enemy is no faceless “they”. The enemy is clearly identifiable as the Committee of 300, the Club of Rome, NATO and all of its affiliated organizations, the think tanks and research institutions controlled by Tavistock. There is no need to use “they” or “the enemy”, except as shorthand. WE KNOW WHO “THEY”, THE ENEMY, IS. The Committee of 300, with its Eastern Liberal Establishment “aristocracy”, its banks, insurance companies, giant corporations, foundations, communications networks, presided over by a HIERARCHY OF CONSPIRATORS—THIS IS THE ENEMY.

This is the power that brought to life the reign of terror in Russia, the Bolshevik Revolution, World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam, the fall of Rhodesia, South Africa, Nicaragua and the Philippines. This is the secret, upper-level government that brought into existence the controlled disintegration of the U.S. economy and deindustrialized what was once the greatest industrial power, for good, that the world had ever known.

America today can be compared with a soldier who falls asleep in the thick of battle. We Americans have fallen asleep, given way to apathy caused by being confronted with a multiplicity of choices, which has confused us. These are the changes that alter our environment—break down our resistance to change—so that we become dazed, apathetic and, eventually, fall asleep in the thick of battle.

There is a technical term for this condition. It is called “long-range-penetration strain”. The art of subjecting a very large group of people to continued long-range-penetration strain was developed by scientists working out of the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations and their U. S. subsidiaries, Stanford Research and Rand Corporation, and at least another 150 research institutions here in the U.S.

Dr. Kurt Lewin, the scientist who developed this fiendish warfare, has caused the average American patriot to fret over various conspiracy theories, leaving him or her with a feeling of uncertainty and insecurity, isolated and perhaps even afraid, as he searches, but fails to understand the decay and rot caused by THE CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN, unable to identify or combat the social, moral, economic and political changes he deems undesirable and does not want, yet which increase in intensity on every hand.

Dr. Lewin’s name will not be found in any of our establishment history books, which, in any event, are a record of events mostly from the side of the ruling class or the victors of wars. Therefore, it is with pride that I introduce his name to you. As mentioned before, Dr. Lewin organized the Harvard Psychological Clinic and the Institute for Social Research—under the auspices of the Tavistock Institute. The names do not give much indication of the purpose of the two organizations.

This reminds me of the infamous bill to reform coinage and mint laws passed in 1827. The title of the bill was harmless enough, or sounded harmless, which was the intention of its backers. Through this Act, Senator John Sherman betrayed the nation into the hands of the international bankers. Sherman allegedly sponsored the bill “without reading it”. As we know, the bill’s true purpose was to demonetize silver and give the thieving bankers unlimited power over the credit of our nation; powers to which the bankers were clearly not entitled under the clear and unmistakable terms of the U.S. Constitution.

Kurt Lewin gave the Tavistock Institute, the Club of Rome and NATO unlimited power over America, to which no organization, entity or society is entitled. These institutions have used the usurped powers to destroy the will of the nation to resist the plans and intentions of the conspirators to rob us of the fruits of the American Revolution and steer us on a course leading directly to a New Dark Ages under a One World Government.

Lewin’s colleagues in this long-range-penetration objective were Richard Crossman, Eric Trist, H. V. Dicks, Willis Harmon, Charles Anderson, Garner Lindsay, Richard Price and W. R. Bion. Again, these names never appear in the evening news; in fact, they only appear in scientific journals—so very few Americans are aware of them and not at all aware of what the men behind the names have done and are doing to the United States.

President Jefferson once said he pitied those who thought they knew what was taking place through reading the newspaper. Disraeli, the British Prime Minister, said much the same thing. Indeed, down through the ages, rulers have delighted in running things from behind the scenes. Man has always felt the need to dominate, and nowhere and at no time is the desire more prevalent than in this modern era.

If it were not so, why all the need for secret societies? If we are ruled by an open system run by democratically-elected officials, why the need for a secret Masonic order in every village, town and city across the United States? How is it that Freemasonry can operate so openly and yet keep its secrets so well hidden? We can’t ask the Nine Unknown Men of the Nine Sisters Lodge in Paris that question, nor can we ask it of their nine fellows in the Quatuor Coronati Lodge in London. Yet, these eighteen men form part of an even more secret government, the RIIA [Royal Institute for International Affairs], and beyond that, the Committee of 300.

How is it that the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry could brainwash John Hinckley to shoot President Reagan? Why do we have such secret orders as the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, the Round Table, the Milner Group and so on down line-upon-line of secret societies? They form part of a worldwide chain of command and control running through the Club of Rome, NATO, the RIIA and, finally, right up to the Conspirators’ Hierarchy, The Committee of 300. Men need these secret societies because their deeds are evil and must be hidden. Evil cannot stand in the light of truth.

In this book we shall find an almost complete list of the conspirators, their institutions, fronts and publications. In 1980, the Aquarian Conspiracy was in full swing, and its success can be seen in every facet of our private and national life. The overwhelming rise in mindless violence, serial killers, teenage suicides, the unmistakable signs of lethargy—“long-range penetration” is a part of our new environment, as dangerous [as], if not more than, the polluted air that we breathe.

THE AGE OF AQUARIUS

The coming of the Age of Aquarius caught America totally unprepared. We, as a nation, were not prepared for the changes about to be forced upon us. Who ever had heard of Tavistock, Kurt Lewin, Willis Harmon and John Rawlings Reese? They were not even on the American political scene. What we would have noticed, if we bothered to look at all, was a falling-off of our ability to withstand futuristic shock, as we became more fatigued and distressed and, eventually, entered a period of psychological shock—followed by widespread apathy—as an outward manifestation of long-range-penetration warfare.

The Age of Aquarius was best described by Tavistock Institute as the vehicle for delivering turbulence: “There are three distinct phases in the response and reaction to stress displayed by large social groups. First, there is superficiality; the population under attack will defend itself with slogans; this does not identify the source of the crisis and therefore does nothing to address it, hence the crisis will persist. The second is fragmentation. This occurs as the crisis continues and social order breaks down. Then, there is the third phase, where the population group goes into ‘self realization’ and turns away from the induced crisis and there follows a maladaptive response, accompanied with active synoptic idealism and disassociation.”

Who can deny that with the huge increase in drug usage—“crack” making thousands of instant new addicts each day—the shocking rise in the murder of infants each day (aborticide), which by now far exceeds casualties suffered by our armed forces in both World Wars, Korea and Vietnam, the open acceptance of homosexuality and lesbianism, whose “rights” are protected by more and more laws each year, the terrible plague we call “AIDS” washing over our towns and cities, total failure of our education system, the stunning increase in the divorce rate, a murder rate that shocks the rest of the world into disbelief, satanic serial killings, the disappearance of thousands of young children, snatched off our streets by perverts, a virtual tidal wave of pornography accompanied by “permissiveness” on our television screens—who can deny that this nation is in crisis, which we are not addressing and from which we are turning away.

Well-meaning people who specialize in these things blame a lot of the problem on education, or what passes for it in the United States. Criminals now abound in the age group 9-15. Rapists are quite commonly as young as 10. Our social specialists, our teacher's unions, our churches say it is all due to a faulty education system. Witness how test scores keep dropping. The specialists bewail the fact that the United States now ranks around 39th in the level of education in the world.

Why do we bemoan what is so obvious? OUR EDUCATION SYSTEM WAS PROGRAMMED TO SELF-DESTRUCT. THAT WAS WHAT DR. ALEXANDER KING WAS SENT HERE BY NATO TO ARRANGE. THAT IS WHAT JUSTICE HUGO BLACK WAS ORDERED TO ARRANGE. THE FACT IS, THE COMMITTEE OF 300, WITH THE APPROVAL OF OUR GOVERNMENT, DOES NOT WANT OUR YOUTH TO BE PROPERLY EDUCATED. The education that Freemason Justice Hugo Black, Alexander King, Gunnar Myrdal and his wife came to give the children of the United States is that CRIME PAYS, EXPEDIENCY IS WHAT COUNTS.

They taught our children that United States law is unequally applied, and that is perfectly in order. Our children were properly educated by a decade of corrupt examples; Ronald Reagan and George Bush were ruled by greed and became totally corrupted by it. Our education system hasn't failed. Under the guidance of King, Black and the Myrdals it is actually a great success, but it all depends from whose point of view we look at it. The Committee of 300 is DELIGHTED with our education system, and will not allow one comma of it to be changed.

According to Stanford and Willis Harmon, the induced trauma of long-range penetration, of which our education is a part, has been going on for 45 years, yet how many are aware of the insidious pressures being applied to our society and the constant exposure to brainwashing that goes on every day? The mysterious gang wars that broke out in New York in the 1950s are examples of how the conspirators can create and stage-manage any type of disruptive elements they like. Where those gang wars came from nobody knew until the 1980s, when researchers uncovered the hidden controllers who directed the so-called "social phenomena".

GANG WARFARE

Gang wars were carefully planned at Stanford, deliberately designed to shock society and cause ripples of disturbances. By 1958, there were in excess of 200 of these gangs. They were made popular by a musical and a Hollywood movie, West Side Story. After making the news for a decade, suddenly, in 1966, they disappeared off the streets of New York, Los Angeles, New Jersey, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Throughout the near decade of gang violence, the public reacted according to the profiled response Stanford expected; society as a whole could not comprehend gang warfare, and the public responded in a maladaptive manner. Had there been those wise enough to recognize in gang wars a Stanford experiment in social engineering and brainwashing, the conspirators' plot would have been exposed. Either we did not have trained specialists who could see what was going on—which is highly unlikely—or else they were threatened and remained silent. The cooperation with Stanford by the news media brought to light a "new age" attack on our environment, just as predicted by the social engineers and new-science scientists at Tavistock.

In 1989, gang warfare, as a social conditioning to change, was reintroduced to the streets of Los Angeles. Within a few short months of the first incidents, gangs began to proliferate—first in the scores, then in the hundreds, on the streets of the East Side of Los Angeles. Crack houses and rampant prostitution proliferated; drug dealers dominated the streets. Anybody who got in their way was gunned down. The outcry in the press was loud and long. Stanford's targeted, large-population group began defending itself with slogans. This is what Tavistock called the first phase, with the targeted group failing to identify the source of the crisis.

The second phase of the gang-war crisis was "fragmentation". People not living in the areas frequented by gangs said, "Thank God they are not in our neighborhood." This ignored the fact that the crisis continued with or without recognition, and that social order in Los Angeles had begun to break down. As profiled by Tavistock, those groups not affected by gang war, "broke away to defend themselves", because the source of the crisis was not identified, the so called "maladaptation" process—the period of disassociation.

Apart from the proliferation of drug sales, what is the purpose of gang wars? First, it is to show the targeted group that they are not safe, i.e., insecurity is generated. Secondly, it is to show that organized society is helpless in the face of such violence and, thirdly, to bring about recognition of the fact that our social order is collapsing. The present wave of gang violence will go away just as quickly as it started, once the three phases of the Stanford program are completed.

THE BEATLES

An outstanding example of social conditioning to accept change, even when it is recognized as unwelcome change by the large population group in the sights of Stanford Research Institute, was the "advent" of the BEATLES. The Beatles were brought to the United States as part of a social experiment, which would subject large population groups to brainwashing, of which they were not even aware.

When Tavistock brought the Beatles to the United States, nobody could have imagined the cultural disaster that was to follow in their wake. The Beatles were an integral part of THE AQUARIAN CONSPIRACY, a living organism which sprang From THE CHANGING IMAGES OF MAN, URH (489)-2150-Policy Research Report No. 4/474; Policy Report prepared by SRI Center for the study of Social Policy, Director, Professor Willis Harmon.

The phenomenon of the Beatles was not a spontaneous rebellion by youth against the old social system. Instead, it was a carefully-crafted plot to introduce by a conspiratorial body, which could not be identified, a highly destructive and divisive element into a large population group targeted for change—against its will. New words and new phrases—prepared by Tavistock—were introduced to America along with the Beatles. Words such as "rock" in relation to music sounds, "teenager", "cool", "discovered" and "pop music" were a lexicon of disguised code-words, signifying the acceptance of drugs, and arrived with and accompanied the Beatles wherever they went, to be "discovered" by "teenagers". Incidentally, the word "teenagers" was never used until just before the Beatles arrived on the scene, courtesy of the Tavistock Institute for Human Relations.

As in the case of gang wars, nothing could or would have been accomplished without the cooperation of the media, especially the electronic media and, in particular, the scurrilous Ed Sullivan, who had been coached by the conspirators as to the role he was to play. Nobody would have paid much attention to the motley crew from Liverpool and the 12-atonal system of "music" that was to follow, had it not been for an overabundance of press exposure. The 12-atonal system consisted of heavy, repetitive sounds, taken from the music of the cult of Dionysus and the Baal priesthood by Adorno and given a "modern" flavor by this special friend of the Queen of England and, hence, the Committee of 300.

Tavistock and its Stanford Research Center [Institute] created trigger words, which then came into general usage around "rock music" and its fans. Trigger-words created a distinct, new, break-away, largely young, population group which was persuaded by social engineering and conditioning to believe that the Beatles really were their favorite group. All trigger words devised in the context of "rock music" were designed for mass control of the new targeted group, the youth of America.

The Beatles did a perfect job, or perhaps it would be more correct to say that Tavistock and Stanford did a perfect job, the Beatles merely reacting like trained robots "with a little help from their friends"—code words for using drugs and making it "cool". The Beatles became a highly visible "new type"—more Tavistock jargon—and, as such, it was not long before the group made new styles (fads in clothing, hairstyles and language usage) which upset the older generation, as was intended. This was part of the "fragmentation-maladaptation" process worked out by Willis Harmon and his team of social scientists and genetic-engineering tinkerers and put into action.

The role of the print and electronic media in our society is crucial to the success of brainwashing large population groups. Gang wars ended in Los Angeles in 1966 as the media withdrew its coverage. The same thing will happen with the current wave of gang wars in Los Angeles. Street gangs will wither on the vine once media saturation coverage is toned down and then completely withdrawn. As in 1966, the issue would become "burned out". Street gangs will have served their purpose of creating turbulence and insecurity. Exactly the same pattern will be followed in the case of "rock" music. Deprived of media attention, it will eventually take its place in history.

Following the Beatles who, incidentally, were put together by the Tavistock Institute, came other "Made in England" rock groups which, like the Beatles, had Theo Adorno write their cult lyrics and compose all the "music". I hate to use these beautiful words in the context of "Beatlemania"; it reminds me of how wrongly the word "lover" is used when referring to the filthy interaction between two homosexuals writhing in pigswill. To call "rock", music, is an insult; likewise is the language used in "rock lyrics" [insulting].

PHASE TWO

Tavistock and Stanford Research then embarked on the second phase of the work commissioned by the Committee of 300. This new phase turned up the heat for social change in America. As quickly as the Beatles had appeared on the American scene so, too, did the "beat generation", trigger words designed to separate and fragment society. The media now focused its attention on the "beat generation". Other Tavistock-coined words came seemingly out of nowhere: "beatniks", "hippies" and "flower children" became part of the vocabulary of America. It became popular to “drop out” and wear dirty jeans, go about with long, unwashed hair. The “beat generation” cut itself off from mainstream America. They became just as infamous as the cleaner Beatles before them.

The newly-created group and its “lifestyle” swept millions of young Americans into the cult. American youth underwent a radical revolution, without ever being aware of it, while the older generation stood by helplessly, unable to identify the source of the crisis, and thus reacting in a maladaptive manner against its manifestation, which were drugs of all types, marijuana, and later Lysergic Acid, “LSD”, so conveniently provided for them by the Swiss pharmaceutical company, SANDOZ, following the discovery by one of its chemists, Albert Hoffman, how to make synthetic ergotamine, a powerful mind-altering drug. The Committee of 300 financed the project through one of their banks, S.C. Warburg, and the drug was carried to America by the philosopher, Aldous Huxley.

The new “wonder drug” was promptly distributed in “sample”-size packages, handed out free of charge on college campuses across the United States and at “rock” concerts, which became the leading vehicle for proliferating the use of drugs. The question that cries out for an answer is, what was the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) doing at the time? There is compelling circumstantial evidence that would appear to indicate that the DEA knew what was going on but was ordered not to take any action.

With very substantial numbers of new British “rock” bands arriving in the U.S., rock concerts began to become a fixture on the social calendar of American youth. In tandem with these “concerts”, the use of drugs among the youth rose in proportion. The devilish bedlam of discordant heavy-beat sounds numbed the minds of listeners, so that they were easily persuaded to try the new drug on the basis that “everybody is doing it”. Peer pressure is a very strong weapon. The “new culture” received maximum coverage from the jackal media, which cost the conspirators not one single thin dime.

Great anger was felt by a number of civic leaders and churchmen over the new cult, but their energies were misdirected against the RESULT of what was going on and not against the CAUSE. Critics of the rock cult made the same mistakes that had been made in the prohibition era: They criticized law-enforcement agencies, teachers, parents—anybody but the conspirators.

Because of the anger and resentment I feel toward the great drug plague, I make no apology for using language which is not customary for me to use. One of the worst drug slobos ever to walk the streets of America was Alan Ginsberg. This Ginsberg pushed the use of LSD through advertising, which cost him nothing, although under normal circumstances it would have cost millions of dollars in TV advertising revenues. This free advertising for drugs, and LSD in particular, reached a new high in the late 1960s, thanks to the ever-willing cooperation of the media. The effect of Ginsberg’s mass-advertising campaign was devastating; the American public was subjected to one cultural future shock after another in rapid succession.

We became over-exposed and over-stimulated and, again, may I remind you that this is Tavistock jargon, lifted from the Tavistock training manual, overwhelmed by its new development and, when we reached that point, our minds began to lapse into apathy; it was just too much to cope with, that is to say, “long-range penetration had taken hold of us”. Ginsberg claimed to be a poet, but no greater rubbish was ever written by anyone who ever aspired to becoming a poet. Ginsberg’s designated task had little to do with poetry; his main function was to push the new subculture and force acceptance of it upon the large, targeted, population group.

To assist him in his task, Ginsberg coopted the services of Norman Mailer, a writer of sorts who had spent some time in a mental institution. Mailer was a favorite of the leftwing Hollywood crowd and so had no problem with getting maximum television time for Ginsberg. Naturally, Mailer had to have a pretext—not even he could blatantly come out with the true nature of Ginsberg’s television appearances. So, a charade was adopted: Mailer would talk “seriously” on camera with Ginsberg about poetry and literature.

This method of getting wide television coverage at no cost to themselves was followed by every rock group and concert promoter who followed the example set by Ginsberg. The electronic media moguls had big hearts when it came to giving free time to these dirty, verminous creatures and their even dirtier products and filthy ideas. Their promotion of horrible garbage spoke volumes and, without abundant help from the print and electronic media, the drug trade could not have spread as rapidly as it did in the late 1960s-early 1970s, and probably would have been confined to a few, small, local areas.

Ginsberg was able to give several nationally-televised performances extolling the virtues of LSD and marijuana, under the guise of “new ideas” and “new cultures” developing in the art and music world. Not to be outdone by the electronic media, Ginsberg’s admirers wrote glowing articles about “this colorful man” in the art and social columns of all of America’s largest newspapers and magazines. There had never been such an across-the-media-board, free, advertising campaign in the history of newspaper, radio and television, and it cost the promoters of the Aquarian Conspiracy, NATO and the Club of Rome not one red cent.

[END QUOTING]

With John Coleman’s excellent background in place, it becomes a lot easier to understand how, next, the MILITARY would take up the use of mind-control weapons; first, against an external enemy in the “Gulf War” (which is NOT yet over, as we know) and then, horribly, against the population-at-large—all, again, to further the agenda of the Satanic Power-Elite.

We quote next from an article written by Judy Wall for Nexus magazine’s October/November 1998 issue, on the topic of “Military Use of Mind-Control Weapons”. (Note that the author writes in “English”, as opposed to “American English”, so some spelling might seem a little unconventional.)

[QUOTING:]

MILITARY USE OF MIND-CONTROL WEAPONS

“Governments deny the existence of military devices that can alter brain waves and emotions, and so they have no official controls over how these technologies are deployed.”

For years, rumours have persisted that the United States Department of Defence has been engaged in research and development of ultra-sophisticated, mind-altering technology. Confirmation of this came to me recently in the form of two ITV News Bureau Ltd (London) wire-service bulletins.

The March 23, 1991 news-brief, High-Tech Psychological Warfare Arrives in the Middle East, describes a U.S. Psychological Operations (Psy-Ops) tactic directed against Iraqi troops in Kuwait during Operation Desert Storm. The manoeuvre consisted of a system in which subliminal, mind-altering technology was carried on standard radio-frequency broadcasts. The March 26, 1991 news-brief states that among the standard military-planning groups in the centre of U.S. war-planning operations at Riyadh was “an unbelievable and highly-classified Psy-Ops program, utilising ‘silent sound’ techniques”. The opportunity to use this method occurred when Saddam Hussein’s military command-and-control system was destroyed. The Iraqi troops were then forced to use commercial FM radio stations to carry encoded commands, which were broadcast on the 100-MHz frequency. The U.S. Psy-Ops team set up its own portable FM transmitter, utilising the same frequency, in the deserted city of Al Khafji. This U.S. transmitter overpowered the local Iraqi station. Along with patriotic and religious music, Psy-Ops transmitted “vague, confusing and contradictory military orders and information”.

Subliminally, a much more powerful technology was at work: a sophisticated electronic system to speak directly to the mind of the listener, to alter and entrain his brainwaves, to manipulate his brain’s electroencephalographic (EEG) patterns and artificially implant negative emotional states—feelings of fear, anxiety, despair and hopelessness. This subliminal system doesn’t just tell a person to feel an emotion, it makes them feel it; it implants that emotion in their minds.

I noticed that the ITV wire service was from outside the United States. Readers of Resonance may recall that in the Electromagnetic Weapons Timeline in issue no. 29, reference is made to the documentary video, Waco: The Big Lie Continues, which contained video footage of three EM weapons.

This segment of the film was from the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC). I wondered if there was any significance to this. At the library, I pulled up back issues of my local newspaper for the same time-period of the Gulf War to see what the American wire services had said, if anything, about the use of this special Psy-Ops weapon. There was nothing said about it directly, but three news articles seemed related. In a news release from Associated Press during the same time-frame of the Gulf War truce, I read:

“The American pilot who shot down the second Iraqi warplane in 45 hours said Friday that continued Iraqi flights suggested that U.S. warnings were not filtering down to Iraqi pilots...He said he hopes Saddam gets the message now. It’s really too bad that these people have to die for their unwillingness to heed our warnings...‘What I really think is, they don’t communicate down to the people,’ he said. ‘If they have a communications problem, I suggest they fix it.’”

That may have been coincidence, but two earlier news articles, dated March 1, 1991, apparently have a common origin with the ITV news bulletin. The first article tells us that approximately 100 members of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, fluent in Arabic, talked the enemy into surrendering. These soldiers rode in the Apache helicopter gunships that were involved in the longest helicopter-borne assault in history. They told the Iraqi troops that they would be slaughtered if they didn’t give up.

“They got the point,” one soldier is quoted as saying. This all sounds very unremarkable, except when you read the editor’s note: “The following dispatch was subject to U.S. military censorship.” Now why would they want to censor such a mundane tactic, except out of embarrassment that the U.S. Army fighting forces had fallen to the level of a cheer-leading squad (?)—in which case they would have nixed the thing entirely. But upon rereading the article, we may pick out certain key phrases (emphasised in italics): "He (the soldier interviewed) was one of dozens of Arabic speakers that played a key role in the allied ground attack against Iraq, and part of an attempt by the U.S. Army to use finesse, intelligence work and tactics to complement brute strength."

If we fill in the missing blanks with such descriptions as "the megaphone was used to direct psycho-acoustic frequencies that engaged the neural networks of the enemy's brain, causing him to think any thought and feel any emotion that the Americans chose to lay on him," then it starts to make sense.

And it would no longer seem so surprising that one soldier could talk 450 enemy soldiers into surrendering. The possibilities are there and, as the next article documents, that is exactly what happened. Iraqi troops gave up, en masse.

We quote: "They were surrendering in droves, almost too fast for us to keep up with..."; "...two Iraqi majors, both brigade commanders, who gave up their entire units..."; and "...one of them gave up to an RPV (remotely-piloted vehicle). Here's this guy with his hands up, turning in a circle to give himself up to a model aeroplane with a camera in it."

Irrational? Not if there was also a voice being beamed into his head from that little flying toy, saying, "Give up, give up!" Otherwise, how do we account for the editor's note at the beginning of the article: "The following is based on pool dispatches that were subject to military censorship." Without that note, we could smugly think that the Iraqi soldiers were cowards or crazy, but why censor that idea?

MIND CONTROL WITH SILENT SOUNDS

The mind-altering mechanism is based on a subliminal carrier technology: the Silent Sound Spread Spectrum (SSSS sometimes called "S-squad" or "Squad"). It was developed by Oliver Lowery of Norcross, Georgia and is described in Patent #5,159,703, "Silent Subliminal Presentation System", dated October 27, 1992. The abstract for the patent reads:

"A silent communications system in which nonaural carriers, in the very low or very high audio-frequency range, or in the adjacent ultrasonic frequency spectrum, are amplitude-or frequency-modulated with the desired intelligence and propagated acoustically for inducement into the brain, typically through the use of loudspeakers, earphones or piezoelectric transducers. The modulated carriers may be transmitted directly, in real-time, or may be conveniently recorded and stored on mechanical, magnetic, or optical media for delayed or repeated transmission to the listener."

According to literature by Silent Sounds, Inc., it is now possible, using supercomputers, to analyse human emotional EEG patterns and replicate them, then store these "emotion signal clusters" on another computer and, at will, "silently induce and change the emotional state in a human being".

Silent Sounds, Inc. states that it is interested only in positive emotions, but the military is not so limited. That this is a U.S. Department of Defence project is obvious.

Edward Tilton, President of Silent Sounds, Inc., says this about S-squad in a letter dated December 13, 1996:

"All schematics, however, have been classified by the Government and we are not allowed to reveal the exact detail...we make tapes and CDs for the German Government, even former Soviet Union countries! All with the permission of the State Department, of course...The system was used throughout Operation Desert Storm (Iraq) quite successfully."

The graphic illustration, "Induced Alpha to Theta Biofeedback Cluster Movement", which accompanies the literature, is labeled "#AB116-394-95 UNCLASSIFIED" and is an output from "the world's most versatile and most sensitive electroencephalograph (EEG) machine". It has a gain capability of 200,000, as compared to other EEG machines in use, which have gain capability of approximately 50,000. It is software-driven by the "fastest of computers" using a noise-nulling technology similar to that used by nuclear submarines for detecting small objects underwater at extreme range.

The purpose of all this high technology is to plot and display a moving cluster of periodic brainwave signals. The illustration shows an EEG display from a single individual, taken off of left and right hemispheres simultaneously. The read-outs from the two sides of the brain appear to be quite different but, in fact, are the same (discounting normal left-right brain variations).

CLONING THE EMOTIONS

By using these computer-enhanced EEGs, scientists can identify and isolate the brain's low-amplitude emotion signature clusters, synthesise them and store them on another computer. In other words, by studying the subtle, characteristic, brainwave patterns that occur when a subject experiences a particular emotion, scientists have been able to identify the concomitant brainwave pattern and can now duplicate it. "These clusters are then placed on the Silent Sound carrier frequencies and will silently trigger the occurrence of the same basic emotion in another human being!"

SYSTEM DELIVERY AND APPLICATIONS

There is a lot more involved here than a simple subliminal sound system. There are numerous patented technologies, which can be piggybacked individually or collectively onto a carrier frequency to elicit all kinds of effects.

There appear to be two methods of delivery with the system. One is direct microwave induction into the brain of the subject, limited to short-range operations. The other, as described above, utilises ordinary radio and television carrier frequencies.

Far from necessarily being used as a weapon against a person, the system does have limitless positive applications. However, the fact that the sounds are subliminal makes them virtually undetectable and possibly dangerous to the general public.

In more conventional use, the Silent Sounds Subliminal System might utilise voice commands, e.g., as an adjunct to security systems. Beneath the musical broadcast that you hear in stores and shopping malls may be a hidden message which exhorts against shoplifting. And, while voice commands alone are powerful, when the subliminal presentation system carries cloned emotional signatures, the result is overwhelming.

Free-market uses for this technology are the common self-help tapes; positive affirmation, relaxation and meditation tapes; as well as methods to increase learning capabilities.

In a medical context, these systems can be used to great advantage to treat psychiatric and psychosomatic problems. As a system for remediating the profoundly deaf, it is unequalled. (Promises, promises. This is the most common positive use touted for this technology over the past 30 years. But the deaf are still deaf, and the military now has a weapon to use on unsuspecting people with perfectly normal hearing.)

OFFICIAL DENIALS

In fact, the U.S. Government has denied or refused to comment on mind-altering weapons for years. Only last year, U.S. News and World Report ran an article titled "Wonder Weapons"—basically a review of the new so-called "non-lethal" or "less-than-lethal" weapons. Not one word about S-squad, although the technology had been used six years earlier!

Excerpts from the article read: "Says Charles Bernard, a former Navy weapons-research director: 'I have yet to see one of these ray-gun things that actually works...'; and..."DARPA (Defence Advanced Research Projects Agency) has come to us every few years to see if there are ways to incapacitate the central nervous system remotely," Dr. F. Terry Hambrecht, head of the Neural Prostheses Program at NIH, told U.S. News, 'but nothing has ever come of it,' he said. 'That is too science-fiction and far-fetched.'"

It may sound "science fiction and far-fetched" but it is not. However, that is just what the powers-that-be want you to believe, so as to leave them alone in their relentless pursuit of—what? The idea behind non-lethal weapons is to incapacitate the enemy without actually killing them or, in the case of riot control or hostage situations, to disable the participants without permanent injury, preferably without their knowing it. The electromagnetic mind-altering technologies would all fall into this class of weapons but, since they are all officially non-existent, who is to decide when and where they will be used?

And why should selected companies in the entertainment industry reportedly be allowed access to this technology, when the very fact of its existence is denied to the general public? As recently as last month (February 1999), this stonewall approach of total denial or silence on the subject still held fast, even toward committees of the U.S. Congress!

The Joint Economics Committee, chaired by Jim Saxton (R-NJ), convened on February 25, 1998 for the "Hearing on Radio Frequency Weapons and Proliferation: Potential Impact on the Economy". Invited testimony included statements by several authorities from the military:

Dr. Alan Kehs, of the U.S. Army Laboratories, discussed the overall RF threat.

Mr. James O'Bryon, Deputy Director of Operational Testing and Director of live-fire testing for the Office of Secretary of Defence at the Pentagon, discussed the role of Live-Fire Testing and how it plays a role in testing military equipment with RF weapons.

Mr. David Schriener, Principal Engineer of Directed Energy Studies with Electronic Warfare Associates, and recently retired as an engineer with a naval weapons-testing facility, talked about the difficulty in building an RF weapon and about the terrorist threat.

Dr. Ira Merritt, Chief of Concepts Identification and Applications Analysis Division, Advanced Technology Directorate, Missile Defence and Space Technology Centre, Huntsville, Alabama, discussed the proliferation of RF weapons primarily from the former Soviet Union. Although these statements gave information of technical interest, they are perhaps more important for the information they did not give: information on the existence of radio-frequency weapons that directly affect the human brain and nervous system.

KGB PSYCHOTRONICS

This technology did not spring up overnight. It has a long history of development and denials of development—by the U.S. Government, and probably half of the other governments of the world, as well.

We know that the former Soviet Union was actively engaged in this type of research. In a previous article we reported that, during the 1970s, the Soviet KGB developed a Psychotronic Influence System (PIS) that was used to turn soldiers into programmable “human weapons”. The system employed a combination of high-frequency radio waves and hypnosis. The PIS project was begun in response to a similar training scheme launched in the U.S. by President Carter, according to Yuri Malin, former security adviser to USSR President Gorbachev.

In my Electromagnetic Weapons Timeline I covered a period of 60 years of interest and development in EM weapons—information gathered from the many articles and news clippings sent in by readers of Resonance. In my article on synthetic telepathy, I traced the development of the “voice-in-your-head” technology dating back to 1961, all my references coming from the open scientific literature.

POWER OF THE MILITARY-INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX

Jan Wiesemann has written an apt description of the situation which now exists in the United States, about the “forces-that-be” and how the situation came about: “During the Cold War, the United States not only engaged in a relatively open nuclear-arms race with the Soviet Union but also engaged in a secret race developing unconventional weapons. As the intelligence agencies (which prior to the Second World War had merely played a supporting role within the government) continued to increase their power, so did the funds spent on developing techniques designed to outsmart each other.

“And, as the U.S. intelligence community began to grow, a secret culture sprang about which enabled the intelligence players to implement the various developed techniques to cleverly circumvent the democratic processes and institutions...

“Like many other democracies, the U.S. Government is made up of two basic parts, the elected constituency, i.e., the various governors, judges, congressmen and the President; and the unelected bureaucracies, as represented by the numerous federal agencies.

“In a well-balanced and correctly-functioning democracy, the elected part of the government is in charge of its unelected bureaucratic part, giving the people a real voice in the agenda set by their government.

“While a significant part of the U.S. Government no doubt follows this democratic principle, a considerable portion of the U.S. Government operates in complete secrecy and follows its own, unaccountable agenda which, unacknowledged, very often is quite different from the public agenda.”

Jan goes on to quote one of the United States’ most popular war heroes, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who served as Supreme Commander of Allied Forces during World War II and was later elected 34th President of the United States. In his farewell address to the nation in 1961,

President Eisenhower said:

“We have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, three-and-a-half million men and women are directly engaged in the defense establishment. We annually spend on military security more than the net income of all United States corporations.

“This conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence—economic, political, even spiritual—is felt in every city, every state house, every office of the federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society.

“In the councils of government, we must guard against acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, in the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or our democratic processes.”

INTERNATIONAL CONCERNS OVER NEW WEAPONS

The United Nations was established in 1945, with the aim of “saving succeeding generations from the scourge of war”. In 1975, the General Assembly considered a draft first proposed by the Soviet Union: “Prohibition of the Development and Manufacture of New Types of Weapons of Mass Destruction and New Systems of Such Weapons”.

In 1979, the Soviet Union added a list of some types of potential weapons of mass destruction:

- 1) Radiological weapons (using radioactive materials) which could produce harmful effects similar to those of a nuclear explosion;
- 2) Particle-beam weapons, based on charged or neutral particles, to affect biological targets;
- 3) Infrasonic acoustic-radiation weapons;
- 4) Electromagnetic weapons, operating at certain radio-frequency radiations [sic], which could have injurious effects on human organs.

In response, the U.S. and other Western nations stalled. They gave a long, convoluted reason, but the result was the same. In an article entitled Non-Lethal Weapons May Violate Treaties, the author notes that the Certain Conventional Weapons Convention covers many of the non-conventional weapons—“those that utilize infrasound or electromagnetic energy (including lasers, microwave or radio-frequency radiation, or visible light pulsed at brainwave frequency) for their effects”.

Harlan Girard, Managing Director of the International Committee Against Offensive Microwave Weapons, told me he believes the strategy behind the government’s recent push for less-than-lethal weapons is a subterfuge. The ones that are now getting all the publicity are put up for scrutiny to get the public’s approval. The electromagnetic mind-altering technologies are not mentioned but would be brought in later under the umbrella of less-than-lethal weapons.

These weapons were recently transferred from the Department of Defence over to the Department of Justice. Why? Because there are several international treaties that specifically limit or exclude weapons of this nature from being used in international warfare.

In other words, weapons that are barred from use against our country’s worst enemies (notwithstanding the fact that the U.S. did use this weapon against Iraqi troops!) can now be used against our own citizens by the local police departments against such groups as peaceful protesters of U.S. nuclear policies.

TOWARDS GLOBAL MIND CONTROL

The secrecy involved in the development of the electromagnetic mind-altering technology reflects the tremendous power that is inherent in it. To put it bluntly, whoever controls this technology can control the minds of men—all men.

There is evidence that the U.S. Government has plans to extend the range of this technology to envelop all peoples, all countries. This can be accomplished—is being accomplished—by utilising the nearly-completed HAARP project for overseas areas and the GWEN network now in place in the U.S. The U.S. Government denies all this.

Dr. Michael Persinger is a Professor of Psychology and Neuroscience at Laurentian University, Ontario, Canada. You have met him before in the pages of Resonance where we reported on his findings that strong electromagnetic fields can affect a person’s brain.

“Temporal lobe stimulation,” he said, “can evoke the feeling of a presence, disorientation and perceptual irregularities. It can activate images stored in the subject’s memory, including nightmares and monsters that are normally suppressed.”

Dr. Persinger wrote an article a few years ago, titled On the Possibility of Directly Accessing Every Human Brain by Electromagnetic Induction of Fundamental Algorithms. The abstract reads:

“Contemporary neuroscience suggests the existence of fundamental algorithms by which all sensory transduction is translated into an intrinsic, brain-specific code. Direct stimulation of these codes within the human temporal or limbic cortices by applied electromagnetic patterns may require energy levels which are within the range of both geomagnetic activity and contemporary communication networks. A process which is coupled to the narrow band of brain temperature could allow all normal human brains to be affected by a subharmonic whose frequency range, at about 10 Hz, would only vary by 0.1 Hz.”

He concludes the article with this: “Within the last two decades, a potential has emerged which was improbable, but which is now marginally feasible. This potential is the technical capability to influence directly the major portion of the approximately six billion brains of the human species, without mediation through classical sensory modalities, by generating neural information within a physical medium within which all members of the species are immersed.

“The historical emergence of such possibilities, which have ranged from gunpowder to atomic fission, has resulted in major changes in the social evolution that occurred inordinately quickly after the implementation. Reduction of the risk of the inappropriate application of these technologies requires the continued and open discussion of their realistic feasibility and implications within the scientific and public domain.” It doesn’t get any plainer than that. And we do not have open discussion, because the U.S. Government has totally denied the existence of this technology.

Acknowledgements: I would like to give special thanks to: Jan Wiesemann for sending the Silent Sounds statement and patents, which were the keystone of this article; Mike Coyle, whose computer search turned up many more related patents; Harlan Girard, who has provided numerous official government documents; and to the many who have provided news clippings and articles, moral and financial support to Resonance, without which we'd have ceased publication long ago.

About the Author: Judy Wall is Editor and Publisher of Resonance, the Newsletter of the Bioelectromagnetics Special Interest Group.

TECHNOLOGY TO BOGGLE YOUR MIND

This is a listing of various technologies available which can be combined for use in direct or subliminal mind-control systems. Please note that these are mainly private inventions, intended for positive uses, but could be applied for negative purposes as well. We have no idea what the government may have in classified research. [Ed: This listing has been considerably edited due to space considerations.]

- Silent Subliminal Presentation System, U.S. Patent #5,159,703, Oliver Lowery, October 27, 1992. A silent communications system in which non-aural carriers in the very low or very high audio-frequency range, or in the adjacent ultrasonic-frequency spectrum, are amplitude-modulated with the desired intelligence and propagated acoustically or vibrationally for inducement into the brain.
- Hearing System, U.S. Patent #4,877,027, Wayne Brunkan, October 31, 1989. A method for directly inducing sound into the head of a person, using microwaves in the range of 100 MHz to 10,000 MHz, modulated with a waveform of frequency-modulated bursts.
- Psycho-Acoustic Projector, U.S. Patent #3,568,347, Andrew Flanders, February 23, 1971. A system for producing aural psychological disturbances and partial deafness in the enemy during combat situations.
- Noise Generator and Transmitter, U.S. Patent #4,034,741, Guy Adams and Jess Carden, Jr, July 12, 1977. An analgesic noise-generator.
- Method and System for Altering Consciousness, U.S. Patent #5,123,899, James Gall, June 23, 1992. A system for altering the states of human consciousness involving the use of simultaneous application of multiple stimuli, preferably sounds, having differing frequencies.
- Subliminal Message Generator, U.S. Patent #5,270,800, Robert Sweet, December 14, 1993. A combined subliminal and supraliminal message generator for use with a television receiver; permits complete control of subliminal messages and their presentation. Also applicable to cable television and computers.
- Superimposing Method and Apparatus Useful for Subliminal Messages, U.S. Patent #5,134,484, Joseph Wilson, July 28, 1992. Method of Changing a Person's Behaviour.
- U.S. Patent #4,717,343, Alan Densky, January 5, 1988. A method of conditioning a person's unconscious mind in order to effect desired change in the person's behaviour, and which does not require the services of a trained therapist. Auditory Subliminal Message System and Method.
- U.S. Patent #4,395,600, Rene Lundy and David Tyler, July 26, 1983. An amplitude-controlled subliminal message may be mixed with background music.
- Auditory Subliminal Programming System, U.S. Patent #4,777,529, Richard Schultz and Raymond Dolejs, October 11, 1988.
- Apparatus for Inducing Frequency Reduction in Brain Wave, U.S. Patent #4,834,701, Kazumi Masaki,

May 30, 1989.

- Ultrasonic Speech Translator and Communication System, U.S. Patent #5,539,705, M. A. Akerman, Curtis Ayers, Howard Haynes, July 23, 1996. A wireless communication system, undetectable by radio-frequency methods, for converting audio signals, including human voice, to electronic signals in the ultrasonic-frequency range, transmitting the ultrasonic signal by way of acoustic-pressure waves across a carrier medium, including gases, liquids and solids, and reconverting the ultrasonic acoustic-pressure waves back to the original audio signal. This invention was made with government support under Contract DE-ACO5-840R21400, awarded by the U.S. Department of Energy to Martin Marietta Energy Systems, Inc.
- Non-Audible Speech Generation Method and Apparatus, U.S. Patent #4,821,326, Norman MacLeod, April 11, 1989.
- Apparatus for Electrophysiological Stimulation, U.S. Patent #4,227,516, Bruce Meland and Bernard Gindes, October 14, 1980.
- Method and Recording for Producing Sounds and Messages to Achieve Alpha and Theta Brainwave States and Positive Emotional States in Humans, U.S. Patent #5,352,181, Mark Davis, October 4, 1994.
- Method and Apparatus for Translating the EEG into Music to Induce and Control Various Psychological and Physiological States and to Control a Musical Instrument, U.S. Patent #4,883,067, Knispel et. al., November 28, 1989.
- Method of and Apparatus for Inducing Desired States of Consciousness, U.S. Patent #5,356,368, Robert Monroe, October 18, 1994. Improved methods and apparatus for entraining human brain patterns, employing frequency-following-response (FFR) techniques and facilitating attainment of desired states of consciousness.
- Method of Inducing Mental, Emotional and Physical States of Consciousness, including Specific Mental Activity, in Human Beings, U.S. Patent #5,213,562, Robert Monroe, May 25, 1993.
- Device for the Induction of Specific Brain Wave Patterns, U.S. Patent #4,335,710, John Williamson, June 22, 1982. Brainwave patterns associated with relaxed and meditative states in a subject are gradually induced without deleterious chemical or neurologic side effects.
- Method and Apparatus for Repetitively Producing a Noise-like Audible Signal, U.S. Patent #4,191,175, William Nagle, March 4, 1980.
- Apparatus for the Treatment of Neuropsychic and Somatic Diseases with Heat, Light, Sound and VHF Electromagnetic Radiation, U.S. Patent #3,773,049, L. Y. Rabichev, V. F. Vasiliev, A. S. Putilin, T. G. Ilina, P. V. Raku and L. P. Kemitsky, November 20, 1973. (Don't let the nice title fool you. This is the patent for LIDA, the infamous Soviet brainwashing machine.)
- Non-Invasive Method and Apparatus for Modulating Brain Signals through an External Magnetic or Electric Field to Reduce Pain, U.S. Patent #4,889,526, Elizabeth Rauscher and William Van Bise, December 26, 1989.
- Nervous System Excitation Device, U.S. Patent #3,393,279, Gillis Patrick Flanagan, July 16, 1968. A method of transmitting audio information via a radio frequency signal modulated with the audio info through electrodes placed on the subject's skin, causing the sensation of hearing the audio information in the brain.
- Method and System for Simplifying Speech Waveforms, U.S. Patent #3,647,970, G. Patrick Flanagan, March 7, 1972. A complex speech waveform is simplified so that it can be transmitted directly through earth or water as a waveform and understood directly or after amplification.

- Means for Aiding Hearing, U.S. Patent #2,995,633, Henry Puharich and Joseph Lawrence, August 8, 1961. Means for converting audible signals to electrical signals and conveying them to viable nerves of the facial system.
- Means for Aiding Hearing by Electrical Stimulation of the Facial Nerve System, U.S. Patent #3,170,993, Henry Puharich, February 23, 1965.
- Hearing Device, U.S. Patent #4,858,612, Philip Stocklin, August 22, 1989. A method and apparatus for simulation of hearing in mammals by introduction of a plurality of microwaves into the regions of the auditory cortex.

[END QUOTING]

The next writing comes from no lesser authority than Commander Hatonn, as He comments, in January 1995, on a well-researched article that had previously appeared in Youth Action News, edited by C.B. Baker. This writing is from the Foreword to Journal #120, which remains unpublished at this time.

[QUOTING, Commander Hatonn, from the Foreword to Journal #120:]

I believe this writing comes from YOUTH ACTION NEWS in Alexandria, VA; (but we cannot be sure because it first comes from other documentation), P.O. Box 312, Alexandria, Virginia 22313. Now some will tell you that Youth Action News is nothing but a rag-sheet of fear-mongering or a "tool of the Elite" and thus and so. Who cares? Truth is truth—and the Elite WANT YOU TO KNOW HOW STRONG THEY ARE—SO THAT YOU MEET YOUR ENSLAVEMENT WITHOUT INCIDENT. It matters not a whit on "whose side" the truth is presented. YOU HAD BETTER PAY ATTENTION.

[QUOTING:]

GWEN TOWER VLF NETWORK FOR SOFTENING-UP THE PATRIOTIC RESISTANCE NOW IN FULL OPERATION

The Ground Wave Emergency Network (GWEN) was begun in the 1980s by the U.S. Government. The system was allegedly designed for the purpose of maintaining defense communications in case of a nuclear war. However, the entire network is highly vulnerable to destruction from an electromagnetic pulse (EMP) generated by a high-altitude nuclear explosion, according to Dr. Robert O. Becker, M.D., (co-author of THE BODY ELECTRIC and author of CROSSCURRENTS: The Perils of Electropollution).

After the 9/93 YOUTH ACTION NEWS report, Weatherwar Deluge Over America, exposed the role of the GWEN system in electromagnetic weather-engineering, the Government suddenly announced that it was temporarily curtailing construction for a one-year moratorium that just ended. The present 58-tower GWEN system is still functioning and cannot be turned off or dismantled without specific legislation from Congress.

The GWEN towers transmit electromagnetic waves in the VLF (Very Low Frequency) range between 150 and 175 Khz. Dr. Becker reported, "The VLF range was selected because its signals travel by means of ground waves—electromagnetic fields that hug the ground—rather than radiating into the atmosphere. [H: This means, readers, that they are designed to assault, along with the other intentional transmitting systems gridworks—YOU, with whatever low frequency messages and damage is desired by the puppet-makers. The puppets, of course—are YOU.] The signals drop off with distance, and a single GWEN station transmits to a 360-degree circle radiating out from it to a distance of about 250 to 300 miles.”

Unlike the thousands-of-miles long-range ELF (Extra Low Frequency) waves, the higher frequency VLF waves transmitted by the GWEN system have a limited range of only a few hundred miles. The GWEN towers will play a KEY ROLE in the Clinton Regime’s UN mind-control operations, because they have the ability to selectively zap SPECIFIC geographic locations, while leaving other areas unaffected.

In this way, the population in selected regions of the nation can be mentally softened-up. Expected resistance to UN occupation forces from the militias of loyal Americans can be significantly reduced by having the GWEN system in targeted areas transmit specific psychotronic signals that encourage DEPRESSION AND SUBMISSION.

In CROSSCURRENTS, Dr. Becker stated: “GWEN is a superb system, in combination with cyclotron resonance (the type of system utilized in the new HAARP ELF transmitters), FOR PRODUCING BEHAVIORAL ALTERATIONS IN THE CIVILIAN POPULATION in the time of war.” [H: Or ANYTIME it is desirable to control your actions, your intentions or your thoughts.] The average strength of the steady geomagnetic field varies from place-to-place across the United States. Therefore, IF ONE WISHED TO RESONATE A SPECIFIC ION IN LIVING THINGS IN A SPECIFIC LOCALITY, one would require a SPECIFIC FREQUENCY FOR THAT LOCATION. [H: I am here to tell you NOW, that by ion capability of transfer—a DNA, virus—ANYTHING can be introduced and “shot” into any BODY or thing. The very fluke or other parasite ALREADY WITHIN A BODY CAN INSTANTLY BECOME THE PRODUCER OF THE MASSIVE DISEASE NETWORK WHICH COULD WIPE OUT NATIONS. THIS, BY THE WAY, IS THE “CARRIER” OF CHOICE—AND WHY “THEY” DON’T WANT YOU TO EVEN KNOW ABOUT PARASITES; WHICH ARE NORMALLY HOSTED BY EVERY BODY, LIVING OR CONSIDERED “DEAD”. Get rid of the “carriers” and stay rid of them and the Puppet Masters can’t infect you with those diseases of choice for annihilation and debilitation. It is your choice, of course but, until you get rid of parasites, you are going to have an infection factory working full-time right within. Do it incorrectly, however, and you will simply grow bigger, stronger and more powerful PARASITES.]

The spacing of GWEN transmitters 200 miles apart across the United States allows such specific frequencies to be “tailored to the geomagnetic-field strength in each area”. [H: It also allows for total integration with the already-present systems pulsing you, but adds flexibility as to what is “carried as ions” targeted at you without changing the mind-control frequency. This is WHY you have at all times, now, a ringing in the ears of multiple-frequency tones. It is not “ringing in the ears” you have, citizens—it is pulsed tones carrying messages directly to your brains and carrying ions to implant within your minds and bodies.]

Prior to the construction of the GWEN system, the government conducted experiments on the use of GWEN-type Very-Low-Frequency transmissions. Walter H. Bowart’s famous 1978 book, OPERATION MIND CONTROL, described how federally-funded scientists studied “the effects of Very Low Frequency (VLF) as an instrument of war. Research revealed that there is a natural wave guide between the ionosphere and the Earth which could be used to propagate very-low-frequency radiation and guide it to selected locations on the Earth. Studies showed that low-frequency sound subtly affected the electrical behavior of the brain.

“The alpha-wave frequency of the human brain is from eight to twelve hertz (cycles per second). The ionospheric wave guide oscillates at eight hertz, making it a good harmonic carrier of low-frequency sound (LFS) waves. These are such long waves that they are virtually impossible to detect. Pentagon reports apply LFS to demobilizing the productive capacity of a civilian population in time of war. [H: OR ANY TIME! And you ARE AT WAR—you just don’t know your enemy—but THEY have their own signals. If a flag of the U.S. is “flown” with a gold fringe—it means you are at “war”, NOW. If a UN Flag is flown with that fringed flag—you are not only at war but YOU ARE UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE UNITED NATIONS FORCES. THAT SERIES OF FLAGS IS NOW BEING FLOWN OVER MANY, MANY AREAS OF YOUR NATION, AND WE WILL OFFER A PICTURE TO GIVE YOU AN IDEA OF HOW SUBTLE IT IS, THIS PARTICULAR ONE COMING IN FROM A CITIZEN IN FLORIDA!] [Ed: Unfortunately, this particular picture is not available at this time.]

“Dr. Frank Barnaby, Director of the Stockholm Peace Research Institute, stated: ‘If methods could be devised to produce greater field strengths of such low-frequency oscillations...by artificial means, then it might become possible to IMPAIR THE PERFORMANCE OF A LARGE GROUP OF PEOPLE IN SELECTED REGIONS OVER EXTENDED PERIODS.’”

In his earlier 1980 article, The New Mental Battlefield, the Federal Government’s “NON-LETHAL” psychotronics weapons Tsar, Col. John B. Alexander, wrote: “Mind-altering techniques designed to impact on an opponent are well-advanced. Researchers suggest that CERTAIN LOW-FREQUENCY EMISSIONS POSSESS PSYCHOACTIVE CHARACTERISTICS. THESE (ELF & VLF) TRANSMISSIONS CAN BE USED TO INDUCE DEPRESSION OR IRRITABILITY IN A TARGETED POPULATION.”

[END OF QUOTING]

Along with the waves of impact will come symptoms not only of depression, but also sickness in the form of general distress, nausea (even severe vomiting) and flu-like symptoms even to increased temperature changes.

YOU ARE IN TROUBLE, WORLD.

Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn

Host Command

IGFFC-PSC

January 9, 1995—“The Year of the Patriot” (???)

[END QUOTING]

The following text is extracted from a web-site established by the “International Movement for the Ban of Radiofrequency Weapons Controlling the Human Mind”. While grammar and English usage are less than perfect, the article contains a wealth of information and resources for anyone wishing to do additional research. Full text is available on the Internet at URL: <http://www.geocities.com/CapeCanaveral/Campus/2289/webpage.htm>. [QUOTING:]

IGOR SMIRNOV’S DEVICE AND THE THOUGHT CONTROL

In the years 1993 and 1994 American weeklies Defense Electronics⁽⁵⁶⁾, Newsweek⁽⁵⁷⁾ and Village Voice⁽⁵⁸⁾ published the information that Igor Smirnov from Moscow Academy of Medicine demonstrated—for the U.S. secret services and FBI experts—a device which was capable to subliminally implant thoughts in people’s minds and in this way control their actions. According to that news, the FBI considered the use of this device against David Koresh during the siege in Waco. In reaction to this publication of the Russian National Security Information, first the Russian newspaper Pravda⁽⁵⁹⁾ wrote on March 6, 1994: “Village Voice printed ‘scandalous news’ that Russians are capable to control human behavior...”.

Two weeks later, the Russian weekly, Moscow News⁽⁶⁰⁾, printed a long article on Igor Smirnov. The author writes that Igor Smirnov uses, for medical purposes, a device broadcasting into the human ears “noises” which contain questions. Those questions are not audible for the patient but perceptible to his brain, and the brain answers those questions. The answers are registered by the electroencephalograph and analyzed by a computer. In this way, Igor Smirnov performs a very fast psychoanalysis. Then, again using the “noises”, played together with music, the healing messages are sent into the human brain, which the patient will obey. According to the author of the article, Igor Smirnov added: “Do not forget, in your denigrating note, to precise our goals—to heal and to teach. And do not assign us others—inhuman ones.” A participant in the meetings with Igor Smirnov in the USA (wishing to remain in anonymity) is quoted in the article in Defense Electronics as saying: “The intelligence agencies...had been tracking Smirnov for years...we know there is evidence the Soviet Army’s Special Forces used the technology during the conflict in Afghanistan.”

Anyway the article in Moscow News does not explain in which way Igor Smirnov creates the noises broadcasted into the brain. The French doctor, Alfred Tomatis, played into the ears of children—suffering from autism, hyperactivity etc.—the voice of their mother and other sounds in the frequencies higher and lower than those that can be heard, and it was a successful treatment⁽⁸⁾.

In 1984, the American House of Representatives had forbidden the use of high-frequency inaudible messages in an East Coast chain of supermarkets. Mixed into the music they played to customers [were] inaudible messages of the kind: “Do not steal. Make a lot of shopping.” Within 9 months, they saved in this way 600,000 dollars. Most probably this is the way Igor Smirnov creates his “noises”. But there is still another possibility how to deliver them into the human brain—and this is electromagnetic transmission. It cannot be a very complicated problem to transcode those high-frequency messages into electromagnetic signals, just the same way the radiofrequency sound can be transmitted into the human brain.

When the journalist from Moscow News asked Igor Smirnov whether he could make people vote for a certain person in the elections, he replied: “In principle it can be done. And it is not difficult. But not interesting.” He could have in mind either placing of ultrasound “noises” into the radio or TV broadcasting (this technology was used by the U.S. troops during the Persian Gulf War against Iraqi [Iraqi] soldiers listening to their military radio broadcasting—they were surrendering even to American journalists—see Newsweek, July 30, 1990, pg. 61) or, as well, electromagnetic implanting of those noises into brains by means of special radars.

About his participation in Waco, Igor Smirnov narrated: “I suggested that voices of children and families inviting the suicidal people back home could be mixed with the noise of police-car engines” (the building was surrounded with them). FBI then did not proceed with his proposition when he guaranteed only 70% of a chance for success. This account is in keeping with what Defense Electronics wrote.

Half a year later, Newsweek wrote: “Sources tell Newsweek that the FBI consulted Moscow experts on the possible use of a Soviet technique for beaming subliminal messages to Koresh. The technique uses inaudible transmissions that could have convinced Koresh he was hearing the voice of God inside his head”⁽⁵⁷⁾.

Let us assume that “inaudibility” meant that no one else would hear the voice of God but Koresh, and that even he would hear it only inside his head. When Allan Frey did his experiments with beaming sounds into people’s brains, they located them inside their heads or just behind it. So, in Newsweek’s account, David Koresh would hear inside his head electromagnetic broadcasting of the “voice of God”.

A month later, the deputy chief of the FBI’s technical services division, Steve Killion, told the journalists from Village Voice: “In the normal course of your negotiation with the individual by telephone, you can impress a coded message...It is not realized consciously by the individual, but subconsciously, subliminally they understand it.”⁽⁵⁸⁾ This time it could have been done again by means of “noises” played into [the] telephone.

Another half-a-year later, in August 1994, Newsweek published an interview with Igor Smirnov. In the introduction, they write that [the] FBI asked advice from Smirnov during the siege at Waco and the solution proposed by Smirnov they describe as follows: FBI wanted to “pipe subliminal messages from sect members’ families through the telephone lines into the compound. For David Koresh, the group’s leader...the FBI had in mind a special voice: God, as played by the venerable actor Charlton Heston.”⁽⁶¹⁾ In this case, the sect members would be influenced by “electromagnetic” (otherwise, they would not be transmitted through the telephone lines) high-frequency voices of their relatives, and David Koresh would hear in his head the radio broadcasting of the voice of God, played by Charlton Heston. The FBI would have to find the individual [brain] frequencies of the sect members, if the idea was to work out.

The electromagnetic broadcasting of inaudible speech could have been used in the experiment of J. F. Schapitz. He spoke about electromagnetic transmission. But since he wanted, as an introductory experiment, to record brain waves of a man who took drugs and then emit those waves back into the brain of this man, instead of the drugs, it seems possible that he had in mind, transmission of thoughts from one brain into another.

In October 1994 appeared, again in Moscow News⁽⁶²⁾, an article on American non-lethal weapons, where we can find the following lines: “The FBI, in 1994, studied the possibility of the use of non-lethal technology against David Koresh. FBI then informed Russians about technology that enables them to transmit to Koresh subconscious signals. In this way, the FBI wanted to assume the role of the voice of God.” The author of the article gives as his source of information the American and French press. It is possible that at Waco, two different technologies were considered: one American and the other Russian. But, as well, it is possible that those lines served as a warning for Americans that the Russians, too, may disclose the American national-security information.

I am not aware of another breach of this Russian national-security information in the American mass-media since then, until April 5, 1999, when The New York Times, probably in reaction to the split with Russia over the crisis in Yugoslavia, wrote: “Under a top-secret project known as Bonfire, Soviet scientists in 1989 discovered ‘a new class of weapons’...that could ‘damage the nervous system, alter moods, trigger psychological changes and even kill’ (The New York Times, April 5, 1999, William J. Board, Judith Miller: Defector tells of Soviet and Chinese Germ Weapons). (To be complete, according to the article in Defense Electronics, the rights to Igor Smirnov’s technology [were] bought [by] the American Psychotechnologies Corp. in Richmond, Virginia.)

In the same issue of Moscow News—where the interview with Igor Smirnov appeared—there was another strange article⁽⁶³⁾. In the introduction is printed the invitation letter from the deputy director of the factory producing for the Russian Department of Defense. The deputy director writes: “In the course of the last 20 years, our enterprise specialized in the production of psychotronic apparatus for defense systems, design of navigation equipment for intercontinental missiles and cosmic apparatus...”, and he invites the journalists to get acquainted with “biophysical reinforcer (metatron) Miranda, designed with the use of the newest fundamental discoveries in the area of psychotronics”. During the visit the people from the management of the factory told the journalists that Miranda is one of the side products of psychotronic weapons, and the deputy director of the medical research center of the factory, Vladimir Niestierov, told them that it is produced in the American licence on basis of the agreement signed by KGB and CIA on September 24, 1990, providing for joint research in the area of psychotronics. The Miranda device emits on the patient, sound electromagnetic impulses and, in case that his body does not resonate with them, it starts with the diagnosis of his ailment. However, the representatives of the factory invited the journalists to get acquainted with a machine which was not in working order—when the journalists asked for the demonstration of the machine, they were told that Armenia does not supply one important part of the machine.

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM—HAARP—COULD BE USED FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF GLOBAL MIND CONTROL

In 1992, the Independent Moscow Institute for Foreign Affairs published in the weekly, Stolitsa, the communication by Victor Sedletski that already in 1982 the USSR began the development of the new radar system, which could be used to create “psychotronic fields for mind control”⁽⁶⁴⁾.

At the end of 1994, the first tests of the most powerful radar system in the world were carried out in Alaska. This year [1998?], its power should reach 10 billion watts.

Among the main features of the system is its ability to heat the ionosphere and in this way change its altitude. By this kind of manipulation of the ionosphere, it is possible to bounce the electromagnetic waves back from the ionosphere to whichever region on the planet.

According to the official information by the U.S. government, the system HAARP is designed for scientific research. Anyway, there are too many facts suggesting that the major reason for its construction is for military purposes.

The building of the system started the E-Systems Corporation which, in 1992, made 2.1 billion dollars in sales, out of which $1.8 billion were for classified projects. The whole project is financed by the American Navy and Air Force.

The main patent of Bernard J. Eastlund (number 4,686,605) proposes the use of the system, among others, for destruction of navigation systems of airplanes and missiles, wherever in the atmosphere, interference with all communication systems, wherever on the planet (remember the CNN programme on Russian electromagnetic weapons), the global weather control and creation or repair of the ozone holes. Other patents connected with the system propose the use of the system for induction of detonations to the extent of nuclear explosions (again, recall the CNN programme) and other military uses.

In 1995, the U.S. government stopped financing of the project until the Army will develop the application of the system for the Earth-penetrating tomography. In this application, the system HAARP should be able to find, using extra-low-frequency electromagnetic radiation, deposits of minerals underneath the Earth’s surface but, as well, the underground shelters, factories, tunnels and other facilities.

At the end of 1995, the authors of the book, Angels Don’t Play This HAARP, visited the director of the HAARP program, Hecksher. He told them that, in this application, the HAARP system will use frequencies between 12 and 20 Hz, or perhaps 1 Hz. Those are frequencies which affect the human nervous system. It is true those waves are too long to make it possible to aim them at human beings, and most probably they will not carry the biological information to affect human brains, but still their effects on human nervous system are not altogether predictable. Anyway, with the versatility of the system, it is no problem to emit pulsed microwaves, with the intention to influence the human psyche.

The inventor of neurophone, Patrick Flanagan, in the foreword to the book Angels Don’t Play This HAARP, wrote: “As a result of...personal research experiences, I am acutely aware of the potential misuse of HAARP technology for the implementation of global, electronic mind control.”⁽²²⁾

The European Parliament, in its resolution of January 28, 1999, is apparently addressing, also, this capability of the HAARP system. This resolution of the European Parliament is a result of the testimony presented to European Parliament by Nick Begich, the author of the above-mentioned book.

THE SECRET CONFERENCE ORGANIZED BY THE AMERICAN NATIONAL LABORATORY IN LOS ALAMOS

In 1993, in the December issue of the American bimonthly Microwave News⁽⁶⁵⁾, appeared the report that in November of the same year, at the Johns Hopkins University (engaged in research of radiofrequency radiation—for example, Samuel Koslov, one of the researchers in the Project Pandora, replicated their experiment where rabbits exposed to microwave radiation, developed corneal cataracts⁽⁴¹⁾), a secret conference took place, sponsored by the National Laboratory in Los Alamos, involved in the development of non-lethal weapon systems.

In the invitation to this conference, we read: “The purpose of this conference is to bring together industry, government and academia to explore the potential of non-lethal defense and identify requirements, so that the defense community can work together in leveraging the non-lethal concept. Industry, particularly, will benefit from a more precise understanding of requirements and operational constraints regarding non-lethal defense technologies. All attendees will have the opportunity to embrace a new perspective in international relations.” In simple words, the objective of the conference was to convince the industry about the lucrativity of the production of non-lethal weapons which will be used in international relations.

On Wednesday, November 17, 1993, at 9:00 a.m., the lecture by Dr. George Baker from the Defense Nuclear Agency was scheduled. The lecture was entitled “RF Weapons: A Very Attractive Non-Lethal Option”. At 11:10 AM of the same day, Dr. Clay Easterly from Oak Ridge National Laboratory lectured on “Application of Extremely-Low-Frequency Electromagnetic Fields to Non-Lethal Weapons”. Clay Easterly told Microwave News that, since the conference was closed to anyone without security clearance, he could not discuss the specific effects he referred to in his talk, but he admitted that his presentation dealt with the possibility of developing measures that would affect people.

On the lecture by Dr. George Baker, Microwave News commented that “it is difficult to know, based on unclassified information, whether this ‘option’ has ever been used”, and “That there were also allegations that non-ionizing radiation was used against the women’s peace-activist encampment at Greenham Common in the U.K. in the mid-1980s.”

Since four-and-a-half years have passed since that conference, it is logical to suppose that the mass production of those weapons was launched in the USA, as well as in Russia, according to Victor Sedletski...

...In June 1995, the article “On the Possibility of Directly Accessing Every Human Brain by Electromagnetic Induction of Fundamental Algorithms” appeared in the monthly, Perceptual and Motor Skills⁽⁴³⁾. The author, Dr. Michael Persinger, from the Behavioral Neuroscience Laboratory at Laurentian University in Canada, was mentioned by Paul Tyler in his lecture at the conference on Emerging Electromagnetic Medicine⁽¹⁵⁾. In his experiment, he exposed students to 5 Hz fields, which had for consequence diminution of perspiring, drought in the mouth, stomach pains and increased relaxation.

According to unconfirmed reports, he was employed on the U.S. Army project “Sleeping Beauty”, directed towards the battlefield use of mind-altering electromagnetic weapons. In his article, Michael Persinger describes the ways how the individual differences among human brains can be overcome and comes to a conclusion: “Within the last two decades...a potential has emerged which was improbable but which is now marginally feasible. This potential is the technical capability to influence directly, the major portion of the approximately six billion brains of the human species, without mediation through classical sensory modalities, by generating neural information within a physical medium, within which all members of the species are immersed. The historical emergence of such possibilities...resulted in major changes in the social evolution that occurred inordinately quickly after the implementation. Reduction of the risk of the inappropriate application of these technologies requires the continued and open discussion of their realistic feasibility and implications within the scientific and public domain”...

REFERENCES:

- 1) The New York Times, August 2, 1977, Private Institutions Used in CIA Efforts to Control Behavior, pages 1 and 16
- 2) ibid.
- 3) Gordon Thomas: Journey into Madness, the True Story of Secret CIA Mind Control and Medical Abuse, 1989, Bantam Books, USA, ISBN 0-553-05357-4
- 4) John Ranelagh: Agency, The rise and Decline of the CIA, 1987, USA, Touchstone Books, ISBN 9-671-63994-3
- 5) Jose M. R. Delgado: Physical Control of the Mind, Toward a Psychocivilized Society, 1969, USA
- 6) John Stanton Yeomans: Principles of Brain Stimulation, Oxford University Press, 1990, Great Britain, ISBN 019-506-1381
- 7) (see reference 3)
- 8) Michael Hutchinson: Megabrain Power, Transformation un Bewusstseintechnologien, Die Revolution de grauen Zellen, Jungerman Verlag, Paderborn, 1996, ISBN 3-87387-248-x
- 9) Report on the Attorney General’s Conference on Less-Than-Lethal Weapons, by Sheri Sweetman, March 1987, U.S. Department of Justice (quoted from ref. 22)
- 10) H. Wachtel, R. Seaman, W. Jones, 1975, Effects of Low Intensity Microwaves on Isolated Neurons, Annals of New York Academy of Sciences, vol. 247, pp 42-62
- 11) Jurij A. Chlodov, 1966, The Effect of Electromagnetic and Magnetic Fields on the Central Nervous System, Washington D.C. (Translation NASA TLIF-465) (quoted from ref. 19)
- 12) S. Baranski, Z. Edelwejn, 1968, Studies on the Combined Effect of Microwaves and some Drugs on Bioelectric Activity of the Rabbits, CNS, Acta Physiologica, Poland, vol. 19, pp 31-41; M.S. Bychkov, I.S. Dronov, 1974, Electroencephalographic Data on the Effects of Very Weak Microwaves at the Level of the Midbrain-Reticular Formation-Hypothalamus-Cerebral Cortex Level, Springfield, (transl. in the report NTIS No. JPRS 63321); J. Gillard, B. Servantie, G. Bertharion, A.M. Servantie, J.K.G. Obrenovitch, 1976, Study of the Microwave Induced Perturbations of the Behavior by the Open Field Test in the LWhit Rat (in Biological Effects of Electromagnetic Waves, Symposium Proceedings, Boulder, October 1975, Rockville, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, pg. 693 (FDA, Public, HEW-FDA 77.8010 Vol. 1); M.S. Bychkov, V. Markov, V. Rychkov, 1974, Electroencephalographic Changes: The Influence of Low Intensity Chronic Microwaves Irradiation, Springfield, (transl. in the report NTIS No. JPRS 63321) (quoted from ref. 15)
- 13) James C. Lin: Microwave Auditory Effects and Applications, Charles C. Thomas publisher, Springfield, Illinois, USA, ISBN 0-398-03704-3
- 14) H. Merrit, R.H. Hartzell, J.W. Frazer, 1976, The Effects of 1.6 GHz Radiation on Neurtransmitters in

Discrete Areas of the Rat Brain, in: C.C. Johnson, and M.L. Shore ed. Biological Effects of Electromagnetic Waves, Symposium proceedings, L. Boulder, October 1975 (quoted from ref. 15)

15) “Emerging Electromagnetic Medicine”, 1990, conference proceedings

16) Critere d’hygiene de l’environnement 16, Requence radio’lectric et hyperfrequences, World Health Organization, Geneve, Switzerland, 1981

17) Robert Becker: Cross Currents, The Startling Effects of Electromagnetic Radiation on Your Health, 1991, Bloomsbury Publishing, London, Great Britain, ISBN 0-7475-0761-9

18) B. Servantie, G. Bertharion, R. Joly, A.M. Servantie, J. Etienne, P. Dreyfus, P. Escoubet, 1974, Pharmacological Effects of a Pulsed Microwave Field, in Biological Effects and Health Hazards, of Microwave Radiation, Warsaw, Editions Medical Plonaises, pp 36-45 (quoted from ref. 15)

19) Low Intensity Conflict and Modern Technology, ed. Lt. Col. J. Dean, USAF, Air University Press, Center for Aerospace Doctrine, Research and Education, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, June 1986

20) Dr. Robert Becker: Body Electric: Electromagnetism and the Foundation of Life, William Morrow and Co., New York, 1985

21) OMNI magazine, February 1985, Kathleen McAuliffe The Mind Fields

22) Dr. Nick Begich, Jeanne Maning: Angels Don’t Play this HAARP, Earthpulse Press, P.O. Box 393, Anchorage, Alaska 99520, USA

23) A.S. Presman: Electromagnetic Fields and Life, New York, Plenum Press, 1968

24) D’Arsonval, 1893, Production des courants de haute frequence et de grande intensite leurs effets physiologiques—comp. rend. osc. biol., vol. 45, pg. 122 V. Danilewski, 1905; Beobachtungen uber eine subjective lichtempfung in variablen magnetische felde, Pflugers arch., Sv. 108, pg. 513; P. Thompson, 1910, A Physiological Effect of an Alternating Magnetic Field—proc. Roy. Soc., vol 82, pg. 372; H. Barlow et al., 1947, Visual Sensations Aroused by Magnetic Fields, American Journal of Physiology, vol 148, pg. 372; M.R. Mogendovich, R.K. Skachedoub, 1957, On the Effect of Physical Factors on Human Visual System, (in Russian), Tr. Permskogo Med. Ins., vol. 26, pg. 11; M. Valentinuzzi, 1962, Theory of Magnetophosphenes, American Journal of Medical Electronics, vol. 1, pg. 12; T. Jaski, 1960, Radio Waves and Life, Radio Electronics, vol. 31, pg. 43, (all quoted from Presman)

25) W. Ross Adey, M.D., Neurophysiologic Effects of Radiofrequency and Microwave Radiation, Bulletin of New York Academy of Medicine, vol. 55, no. 11, December 1979, pp 1079-1093

26) (see reference 17)

27) Allan H. Frey, 1962, Human Auditory System Response to Modulated Electromagnetic Energy, Journal of Applied Physiology, 17/4, pp 689-692

28) E.M. Taylor, B. Ashelman, 1974, Analysis of Central Nervous System Involvement in Microwave Auditory Effects, Brain Research, vol. 74, pp 201-206; J.L. Flanagan, 1961, Audibility of Periodic Pulses and a Model for the Threshold, Journal of Acoustic Society of America, vol. 33 (11), pp 1540-49; K.R. Foster, E.D. Finch, 1974, Microwave Hearing: Evidence for Thermoacoustic Auditory Stimulation by Pulsed Microwaves, Science, vol. 185, pp 256-258

29) W.A. Guy, C.K. Chou, James C. Lin, D. Christensen,

1975, Microwave Induced Acoustic Effects in Mammalian Auditory Systems and Physical Materials, Annals of the New York Academy of Sciences, vol. 247, February 28, 1975, pp 194-218

30) Don R. Justesen, 1975, Microwaves and Behavior, American Psychologist, March 1975, pg. 391

31) Newsletter of the Bioelectromagnetics Special Interest Group, no. 30, April 1996, 684 C.R. Sunterville, FL 33585, USA (see refs. 8 and 22)

32) Michael Hutchinson, Megabrain Report magazine, vol. 1 no. 4

33) Newsletter of the Bioelectromagnetics Special Interest Group, no. 28, May 1995 (see ref. 31)

34) Francis H. Crick: The Astonishing Hypothesis: The Scientific Search for the Soul, Simon and Schuster, London, 1994, U.K.

35) Per E. Roland: Brain Activation, Wiley Liss, John Wiley and Sons Inc. Publication, 1993

36) Walter J. Freeman: Mass Action in the Nervous System, Academic Press, New York, San Francisco, London, 1975

37) Wolf Singer: The Formation of Representations in the Cerebral Cortex, 1992, Editor: Arzheimittelinformation/ Medizinische Redaktion, Schering, Germany, ISSN 0940-9300

38) "Coherent Excitation in Biological Systems", symposium in Bad Neuenahr, 1982, Springer Verlag, Berlin, Heidelberg, New York, Tokyo, 1983

39) (see ref. 38) the lecture by F. Kremer, C. Koschnitzke, L. Santo, P. Quick, A Poglitsch—"The Non-thermal Effect of Millimeter Wave Radiation on the Puffing of Giant Chromosomes"

40) W. R. Adey: Electromagnetic Field Interactions in the Brain, in Springer Series in Brain Dynamics 1, Springer Verlag, L. Berlin, Heidelberg 1988

41) Nonlinear Electrodynamics in Biological Systems, ed. Ross Adey, proceedings of the conference, Plenum Press, New York, London, 1984

42) Bioelectromagnetics Society Newsletter, January/February 1989 (quoted from ref. 17)

43) M.A. Persinger: On the Possibility of Directly Accessing Every Human Brain by Electromagnetic Induction of Fundamental Algorithms, Perception and Motor Skills, June 1995, vol. 80, pp 791-799

44) Final Report on Biotechnology Research Requirements for Aeronautical Systems Through the Year 2000, Volume I and II, Southwest Research Institute, San Antonio, Texas, USA (quoted from ref. 22)

45) John Marks: The CIA and Mind Control—the Search for Manchurian Candidate, USA, 1988, ISBN 0-440-20137-3

46) John B. Alexander: The New Mental Battelfield: Beam me up Spock, Military Review, Dec. 1980

47) I have got the videorecording of the programme, you can ask for it as well—Cheryl Welsh from CAHRA organization, e-mail Welsh@calweb.com

48) Izvestia, April 4, 1993, (if you read Russian, I can mail you a copies of the Russian articles)

49) I have got a copy of the article, but did not manage to find the date of its publication

50) Komsomolskaya Pravda, November 14, 1990, The Project Zombie is a bluff or...?

51) Komsomolskaya Pravda, January 25, 1991, Zombie so far not found, but...

52) Komsomolskaya Pravda, September 7, 1991, The news that they were stifling our psyche are not confirmed, yet...

53) Komsomolskaya Pravda, August 27, 1991, The authors of the project Zombie discovered in Kiev

54) Komsomolskaya Pravda, September 27, 1991, The psychic weapon not found but 500 millions lost

55) Those Russian newspapers are not available in the Czech Republic, the quotations are from Magazine 2000, a European magazine—perhaps you can order a German version.

56) Defense Electronics, July 1993, DOD, Intel Agencies Look at Russian Mind-Control Technology, Claims FBI Considered Testing on Koresh

57) Newsweek, February 7, 1994, Soon Phasers on Stun

58) Village Voice, March 8, 1994, Mind Control in Waco

59) Pravda, March 6, The Art to Control the Crowd

60) Moskovskie Novosti, March 20 to March 27, 1994, Shall we Succeed to Change the Lie Detector into the Detector of Truth?

61) Newsweek, August 22, 1994, You Will Read this Story

62) Moskovskii Novosti, September 26 to October 1, 1994, Non-lethal Weapon

63) (see ref. 60) The Experts from the Defense Factory State that they Produced Psychotronic Weapons

64) Stolitsa, no. 43, November 2, 1992, Alexei Myasnikov, MC-Ultra programme, pg. 40, quoted from Russian Press Digest—RusData Dialine (after Cheryl Welsh)

65) Microwave News, November/December, 1993, Military on Non-lethal Weapons: A Very Attractive Option

66) Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, Germany, November 18, 1986, Mit gebalter Fist

67) (see ref.41), Order and Structure in Living Systems, E. Del Giudicce, S. Doglia, M. Milani. pp 47-487

68) quoted from Cheryl Welsh

69) The Moscow Times, July 11, 1995, Owen Matthews, Report: Soviets Used Top Secret "Psychotronic" Weapons, from Lexis Nexus Computer Database, after Cheryl Welsh

70) (see ref. 41), Friedman Kaiser: Entrainment-Quasiperiodicity-Chaos-Collapse: Bifurcation Routes of Externally Driven Self-Sustained Oscillating Systems, pp 393-412

71) Steven Metz, James Kievit, The Revolution in Military Affairs and Conflict Short of War, U.S. Army War College, Strategic Studies Institute, Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013-5050

72) Mlada Fronta Dnes, March 28, 1997 (the Czech newspaper)

73) Nature magazine, Advances in Neuroscience May Threaten Human Rights, vol. 391, January 22, 1998, pg. 316

74) Cheryl Welsh can mail you a copy of the letter: welsh@calweb.com

[END QUOTING]

To wrap up this special report, we present a simple, admittedly incomplete list of major, KNOWN, mind-control projects. Of course, in all likelihood, the most active programs at present are probably NOT included in this list, but this should give the reader some idea of JUST HOW CONTROLLED WE ARE.

We give thanks and appreciation to Leading Edge Research for posting this information in the public domain on the Internet. [QUOTING:]

MAJOR ELECTROMAGNETIC MIND-CONTROL PROJECTS

Leading Edge International Research Group —from the Internet

Project Moonstruck, 1952, CIA:

Electronic implants in brain and teeth
Targeting: long range
Implanted during surgery or surreptitiously during abduction
Frequency range: HF-ELF transceiver implants

Purpose: tracking, mind and behavior control, conditioning, programming, covert operations

Functional Basis: Electronic Stimulation of the Brain, E.S.B.

Project MK-ULTRA, 1953, CIA:

Drugs, electronics and electroshock
Targeting: short range
Frequencies: VHF-HF-UHF, modulated at ELF
Transmission and Reception: local production
Purpose: programming behavior, creation of "cyborg" mentalities
Effects: narcoleptic trance, programming by suggestion
Subprojects: many Pseudonym: Project Artichoke
Functional Basis: Electronic Dissolution of Memory, E.D.O.M.

Project Orion, 1958, USAF:

Drugs, hypnosis and ESB
Targeting: short range, in person
Frequencies: ELF modulation
Transmission and Reception: radar, microwaves, modulated at ELF frequencies
Purpose: top-security personnel debriefing, programming, ensure security and loyalty
Pseudonym: "Dreamland"

Project MK-DELTA, 1960, CIA:

Fine-tuned, electromagnetic, subliminal programming
Targeting: long range
Frequencies: VHF-HF-UHF, modulated at ELF
Transmission and Reception: television antennae, radio antennae, power lines, mattress spring coils, modulation on 60 Hz wiring
Purpose: programming behavior and attitudes in general population
Effects: fatigue, mood swings, behavior dysfunction and social criminality
Pseudonym: "Deep Sleep", R.H.I.C.

Project PHOENIX II, 1983, USAF, NSA:

Location: Montauk, Long Island, NY
Electronic multi-directional targeting of select population groups
Targeting: medium range
Frequencies: radar, microwaves, EHF-UHF modulated
Power: gigawatt through terawatt
Purpose: loading of Earth Grids, planetary quieting to stave off geological activity, specific-point earthquake creation, population programming for sensitized individuals
Pseudonyms: "Rainbow", ZAP

Project TRIDENT, 1989, ONR, NSA:

Electronic directed targeting of individuals or populations
Targeting: large population groups, assembled
Display: black helicopters flying in a triad formation of three Power: 100,000 watts
Frequency: UHF
Purpose: large group management and behavior control, riot control
Allied Agencies: FEMA
Pseudonyms: "Black Triad", A.E.M.C.

Project RF MEDIA, 1990, CIA:

Electronic, multi-directional, subliminal suggestion and programming

Location: Boulder, Colorado (location of main cell-telephone node, national-television synchronization node)

Targeting: national population of the United States

Frequencies: ULF-VHF-HF, phase modulation

Power: gigawatts

Implementation: television and radio communications, the "videodrome" signals

Purpose: programming and triggering behavioral desire, subversion of psychic abilities of population, preparatory processing for mass electromagnetic control

Pseudonyms: "Buzz Saw", E.E.M.C.

Project TOWER, 1990, CIA, NSA:

Electronic, cross-country, subliminal programming and suggestion

Targeting: mass population, short-range intervals, long-range cumulative

Frequencies: microwave, EHF-SHF

Methodology: cellular telephone system, ELF modulation

Purpose: programming through neural resonance and encoded information

Effect: neural degeneration, DNA resonance modification, psychic suppression

Pseudonym: "Wedding Bells" [ringing in the ears, anyone?]

HAARP, 1995, CIA, NSA, ONR:

Electromagnetic resonant induction and mass population control

Location: Gakona, Alaska

Frequencies: atmospheric phase-locked resonant UHF-VHF

Potential: DNA-code alteration in population and mass behavior modification

Power: gigawatt to terawatt range

Step-Down Reflective Frequencies: approx 1.1 GHz, human DNA resonant frequency, cellular system phase-lock

Project CLEAN SWEEP, 1997-1998, CIA, NSA, ONR:

Electromagnetic resonant induction and mass population control

Location: nationwide

Frequencies: emotional wavelengths, data gathering through helicopter probes following media events—rebroadcast in order to re-stimulate population's emotional levels for recreation of event scenarios Ref: LE#108, March 1998

Potential: mass behavior modification

Power: unknown—possibly rebroadcast through GWEN [the Ground Wave Emergency Network] or cellular-tower frequencies, coordinated from NBS in Colorado

[END QUOTING]

This concludes our Special Report. THINK ABOUT IT—and, if you can think, THANK GOD that you are yet somewhat functional!

In any event, the only recognized, surefire procedure to withstand the extensive, unimaginable devastation engendered by all the existing mind-control methodologies is to repetitiously petition for the all-protective FORCE of ATON'S plasma energy SHIELD of LIGHT.

Clearing The Decks For The Real Action

10/25/99—#1

REGULARITIES AND LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

Hatonn—E.J., if the visa extension is cleared this morning, fine, you can adjust your flight extensions accordingly. If it doesn't come back with definite data—just get over to the airlines and make an extension suitable for our needs. We will be changing carriers, anyway, when we finally decide when and how we shall return to the states—short of me bringing you back ourselves. Farfetched idea? No, not any more, because I am fully involved in EVERYTHING taking place. We have protected Ekker-Ekker and—from the things happening in the open press—I believe you, even here in the loop, must realize as much! So, could I be working with such as the Spectrum kids? YES, BUT I'M NOT, EXCEPT TO REVEAL THE CRIMINAL AND IMMORAL ACTS THEY ARE PRESENTING. AND, I SHALL SPEAK OF THOSE THINGS—SO THAT OUR TEAMS AND CREWS "OUT THERE", SCATTERED AROUND, WILL KNOW WHAT IS TAKING PLACE. Ekker-Ekker doesn't want "to be further insulted and bothered" by the little devils at play—but that is not part of our PLAN, nor our protection, and all of you need to know how well coverage of YOUR PROJECTS and networking protections have been laid. And this reveals HOW, without your "knowing", but Rick should have known, if he had paid the least attention to the facts and, of course, Charles knows and knew—and hence why he had to get out of town without forwarding addresses, phone contact information, etc. Can he be located to testify? Of course, but we simply don't want betrayers and traitors brought BACK within our projects.

WHAT IS THE MOST RECENT REPORT?

Well, the "Spectrum Group" (rather than naming them all in separate space-wasting—but headed by Ed Young, Rick Martin, Gail Irwin and now, Norey Latona)—are doing some interesting things.

Do "we" have a legal leg to stand on to protect "our property"? OF COURSE, we don't work outside the LAW, as can be witnessed for the past 12 years—as every known game lawyers can pull, and lies under oath, can attest. That house property on 21512 Adam Drive is NO DIFFERENT. It may require expensive litigation but, indeed, everything is covered. This is why we now have so many records having been thieved from both the offices and the house—and now from the very process of the physical move itself.

I will state right now that the "lock-up" was to hopefully allow the Spectrum rays to gain access and take what they could steal—but the things they STOLE belong 100% to a corporation called I.E.S.C., fully qualified in California, were used by actual other entities. And even the permits, contracting and permitting of such as tanks and generator, along with housing, were and are owned by I.E.S.C.—WHICH IS ALSO A TRUST-DEED HOLDER OF THE PROPERTY UPON WHICH MILLERS FORECLOSED, WITHOUT SERVICE TO SAME. ALL THERE IS LEFT TO HAPPEN IS TO BE ALLOWED TO MOVE THE ITEMS, INCLUDING THE AVIARIES, ETC., OFF THE PROPERTY ON WHICH MILLERS FORECLOSED—PERIOD.

Well, they might excuse by saying that they served "New Gaia" and Diane. (???) Why? Neither of those entities had anything to do with the transactions—but, interestingly enough, since all the damage against New Gaia, and misuse of other accounts by Rick Martin and Gail Irwin, the signature slot on I.E.S.C. has been transferred to several of the local parties, so that "business" ongoing can be serviced and fully accounted.

And you might say, "God wouldn't involve in such miserable and personal garbage economics." No? What do you dear people pray for all the time? You pray for MONEY for this, that, the other, and yes, indeed, some of you pray even for ways of PROTECTING your assets and MONEY. But you all pray for the gain unto self of all this wonderfully potential loot. Wow, so I guess God would get involved to his energy top-chakra? Perish the silly thought, especially you Spectrum clowns! I, Hatonn, structured the plan; it was orchestrated and carried through in perfection, and that is simply HOW IT IS!

Why would I allow loss to my scribe and E.J.? What loss? WHAT LOSS?

THEY NEED TO GET CONTROL OF PROPERTY IN THE VALLEY OF RADIANCE AND BUILD THE TYPES OF HOMES WHICH WILL STAND IN THE STRONGEST WIND—SITES LIKE THE FARM AREA—FOR THAT VALLEY IS GOING TO SIMPLY BLOW AWAY. YOU CAN TEAR DOWN OR WAIT UNTIL IT ALL BLOWS DOWN, BUT YOU NEED STANDING BUILDINGS OUT THERE IN THE MIDDLE OF THE WIND-BLOW: SILO "DOMES", FILLED, A GRIST MILL WHICH IS UPDATED AND IN DOMES, ALL THOSE WONDERFUL THINGS JUST PENDING NOW—LET THEM PEND. JUST CONTINUE TO LEASE THE FARM BECAUSE, FRANKLY, UNTIL WE START BUILDING THE DOMES, WE DON'T WANT OWNERSHIP AND ALL THE HAGGLING THAT SEEMS TO COME FROM TRYING TO "JUST" DO BUSINESS. NO PEOPLE WHO HAVE WORKED WITH US, BELIEVING IN ME OR OTHERWISE, WILL BE HURT BUT, RATHER, WILL REAP INCREDIBLE REWARDS. AND NO, I DO NOT TAKE "SIMPLY DOING GOOD BUSINESS" AS A "WRONG" ATTITUDE—I RESIST THAT THE SHYSTERS AND PUSHERS USE OUR OTHER FRIENDS TO MAKE ERRORS, INSTEAD OF DOING "GOOD BUSINESS".

However, let us look at this moment in time AND SORTING.

Since we will no longer pursue the property with that silly house on it, we look to other items that do, perhaps, pertain to the attachment or proximity of that house. We will now move to acquire property already chosen as more desirable. And, now we are far enough along to present these things to you—because we have our major assets into security, with the stolen values totally removed as barriers. Rick Martin and Charles Neil actually cost several people, like Millers, MILLIONS OF DOLLARS in return, above and far beyond their assistance with the dwelling or the Institute. And it is done in such a way that Ekkers are totally FREE, CLEAR AND PRIVATE in all ways. They have always volunteered their service and reaped nothing, even for their own physical labor, and now the whole of it can be revealed—yea, even to further confirmation in a court of law.

We are told by the slum-scats that they are going to have a “class action” suit brought against Ekkers for catch-up of interest? What interest and WHY Ekkers?

Ekkers do not have anything—do you hear me: NOTHING!

Paul Leinthall was the only remaining party in charge of payments, bank account and thus-and-so of that Phoenix Church of Christ. If you are going to sue someone, why sue Ekker-Ekker? They just lost to an immoral, if not totally unlawful, auction sale of the property itself. They had been paying regular rental—in EXCESS of the usual rental fee to cover taxes and expenses—plus spending their own funds to improve the property, stop the washing of the hillside through retaining walls, landscaping, sprinkler systems, etc. These are called IMPROVEMENTS to the physical property—and does that mean that the foreclosers had a right to come in and actually seize property, like underpants and refrigerator contents (not to mention the refrigerator—brought from Los Angeles)? Surely, that was not something up for grabs—that was part of the personal furnishings, as were even those improvements personally and hand-done by son Gene, who bought, through I.E.S.C., the interest in the lot. And this is WHY he felt it suitable to invest his time and own funds in improving things FOR HIS PARENTS, including MOVING ONTO the lot, from elsewhere, the AVIARIES. Literally, by trailer, he had that whole aviary set-up and at that time, filled with birds, moved it ONTO the property. Now we have been locked out of that, also, with only ability for John Lloyd to go in and feed and water the birds—all others are barred from the property. The electricity and water have been shut off, so water has to be hauled because the automatic bird-watering devices are useless. Nice people, the Spectrum Cult? I, personally, do not think so! Three ready-to-hatch Giant Macaws were lost to the foxes, because the aviary was locked and only the three birds were able to be removed to safety and warmth. The foxes simply went in, got the chicks and had them for a night snack. Nice people at Spectrum? No, I REALLY don't think so. And, that is a minimum of $10,000 in direct LOSS. Ekkers had been grooming those birds to breed, just like they finally did, and sell the chicks. That would have been sufficient income for their needs, along with their pension.

Now let's look inside the house at that which was also taking place. When Ekkers' pension account was seized by the legal eagle at Methven and Associates, they couldn't even use a bank. So, when the return of funds was made, they tucked the full amount away in the deep freezer, so it wouldn't be lost to fire. Even Blas, who came to help when Dharma was so sick—knew it was there, and told family and friends. Well, in addition to losing all the meat and goods from the freezers, that which was set aside in the freezer to be moved “the next day” with the freezer, were papers, important documents—AND THAT MONEY.

Rick, et al., tried to stop Gene from getting the last of the things in the house, like Dharma's computer corner, some boxes of records set aside because it was known they would be needed and the upstairs refrigerator, because it was so obvious that it would not stay with the house.

Rick and buddies were SEEN removing equipment that ALSO BELONGS to I.E.S.C. from the outside areas. When caught and identified, they come back with, “Well, we were just getting them into security so you would have to clear it and come pick up the things.” Pick up the things? Removed illegally and they now are hostage? Come on, people, and especially Marilyn, because your “friends” are doing very bad things to YOU.

Can they prove that the property is now Millers'? Who cares! But there is a lawful RIGHT of other owners to, at the least, get their things moved off. And, in this instance of tanks and generators, it is a MAJOR task to move them—and this AFTER Millers already had agreed to allow Gene, et al., to come get the things—with the police right there.

So, that next morning, Gene and helper went to the house to be let in, to get the rest of the house items and make arrangements to CLEAN UP THE PREMISES, PLASTER HOLES AND LEAVE EVERYTHING NICE AND CLEAN—to, yes, find the garage and house WIDE OPEN from the lower level, with the doors open. So, he went in and checked the refrigerator (NOW EMPTY)—and found boxes rifled, removed, important boxes completely GONE and thus-and-so. So, Gene took what was pending, as in the computer corner desk, the fridge and a few things from around the patio, just to get them moved, for he had to go to work that day. But the police were called by Spectrum and, since he wasn't around, he got a notice that all were to stay off the property until these matters could be handled properly.

Well, too late, eh what? The papers, documents, a motorized farm-cart apparatus and expensive rototillers, etc., were removed already—but there are witnesses as to who and what. It was also noted that Marina was standing “watch” and did “follow” people, as did others—but she was RECOGNIZED in her disguise. Then it was noted that one of the more “middle-of-the-fence” parties, Joan S. was running about with Janet Bilger. Hummmnn...!

Now, let's talk about that big tank of diesel for the generator. That was purchased by I.E.S.C., and it took thousands of dollars to get permits, excavate a “leak or spill” tank (hole) AND GET (what finally was determined by a very expensive law-encounter) those permits. But, guess what, there CAN BE NO MISUNDERSTANDING ABOUT THAT TANK—it came from (was purchased from) Joan S's “friend” for some $3,500 dollars, along and with an additional several-hundred dollars to have it moved to the property. All of the tank is NOT even on the property with the house, but the “business end” is on the south lot—also owned by I.E.S.C. The spill-tank is on the south lot.

Now what did we have along about Friday morning? A flatbed truck with several men and then the Spectrum kids, with fuel drums, taking the fuel. You know, just come on over and help us empty that tank! Then Gene was there because he had, working with others, been arranging to have that fuel MOVED LEGALLY AND SAFELY, with permitted fuel truck, etc. and, in addition, someone with permits for handling the tank, etc., to move the tank. He was even STOPPED from checking the tank's contents. Do you push, shove and scrape a fuel tank and mishandle fuel? My goodness, are all of you NUTS? Doesn't “DR. Physics/Electrical Ph.D.” KNOW HE IS APT TO CAUSE A CATASTROPHE? AND WHO WOULD BE BLAMED? WELL, IN THIS INSTANCE—NOT OLD E-E.

SO, AGAIN, THE SPECTRUM GURUS CALLED THE POLICE. Good, this is about the fourth or so time they have brought the cops, who now are asking, right out: “WHO ARE YOU?” So, they were ordered to not move ANYTHING—but ah, they were still prepared to try for that generator (which is about the same as trying to haul a locomotive with its brakes on). There wasn't any time to change locks or protect the building so, having a major piece of equipment, the I.E.S.C. team simply picked up the little station wagon (also belonging to I.E.S.C. but used by everyone who ever needed a spare set of wheels, including Leinthall and every last one of the Hoodzkids) and set it in the doorway, with no ability to back it out or move it forward—it should sit there, until the police can get control of the circumstances. Or, do they claim abandonment of the car, as well, simply because it wouldn't start? And yet, WE ARE THE ONES WITH MENTAL PROBLEMS?

Doesn't anyone even remember what some of those original court encounters were about, with Judge Jason Brent representing the owner of that lot (an old friend of his from Los Angeles)? It's hard to believe that Rick's memory could be that poor, since he judges everyone else's possible status as to Alzheimer's—HE HAD TO TESTIFY AND GIVE DEPOSITION.

And does anyone wish to argue over I.E.S.C. and Gene? Gene was pulled by Steven Horn into deposition, which not only COST him “time” away from his work, to testify for HOURS, as only Horn could drag a little five-minute interview but he did, in fact, end up with a cluster headache that lasted days. Now, any of you who have migraine headaches might recognize that cluster headaches are like multiplying a migraine by about a thousand times. Oh, there is no doubt about that trust deed of I.E.S.C.'s, and that was his supporting security to do other things to the property. And yet, NO, HOW IS IT THAT I.E.S.C. WAS NEVER PAID A CENT OF INTEREST IN ALL THAT TIME? SO, YES, WE CAN ENTER INTO THAT CLASS-ACTION SUIT, AND MILLERS NOW HOLD THE TITLE TO THAT ALBATROSS. Millers say they are going to pay off those other investors in the house? Fine, we are among them and, in addition, there is back interest from the very upstart, due and owing. I really don't think Gene is going to be in any mood to do anything other than give the Spectrum gang and Millers their own set of cluster headaches.

Convolutd? No, straight as an arrow. It is not confusing to anyone who bothers to check it out.

AH BUT, when the boyz went to steal things, they stole the big power inverter and batteries from the “system”; the inverter alone was $3,000.

But you people somehow think this kind of behavior is OK? You protect and harbor and HELP these criminals? So be it, for those choices are YOURS.

Is this traumatic to parents, and people who have to remain 9,000 miles away from their own property and with a threat by Rick Martin of some “indictment” of some Federal nature (?) hanging fire—or is that some lie, as well? Who knows. So, YES, this is difficult but—now that it is over—it is worthy of note that even “Mom” is no longer upset but totally determined that the birds be saved, put into security and, yes, held for her, if she can ever retrieve them—for homes and “give away” had to happen and, yes, some will escape in such a massive and traumatic move. Who will “pay”? How do you measure life?

And yes, indeed, there are still bunches out there who blast CONTACT and Ekker-Ekker, while serving and servicing and paying—that clan (cult) of etheric liars. No, I, Hatonn/Aton, do NOT serve them; I stopped that a long time ago, when finally it became obvious that Norey was too weak and controlled to be sustained.

Now, I am going to remind you of something else very important: That Institute was a figment of George Green, his PLAN, and those corporate books have been missing since George Green went missing. So whom are you going to SUE in your “class action” suit? Obviously, if Ekkers could have, they would have kept every interest payment current. They always did and, within days, plan to be able, through the lawyer, to clear all past catch-up, but not because of a lawsuit threat. That will just give every reason to now say to “Hell with it” and walk away—just let it go, to be totally sacrificed on the altar of Green and Tuten. IN ADDITION, THIS WILL ALSO CATCH UP ALL BACK AND CONTEMPLATED FEES OUTSTANDING TO THE LAWYER. WOW, HOW NICE AND CLEAN! AND, EKKERS ARRANGED FOR IT—THEY DO NOT GET THE MONEY, ONLY THE RESPONSIBILITY OF PAYING IT BACK. BUT THAT GETS LESS PAINFUL WITH EVERY PASSING DAY.

THE WORLD IS CHANGING BEFORE YOUR EYES!

If that is not enough for you who claimed this as your PURPOSE and offered your help toward this very end, then it is only “good business” and money you wanted all along.

While Rick and Charles were present in Manila, I asked that some deeds be issued to some persons—among them, LARGE ONES to Millers. They have no MOA [Memorandum of Agreement] and I asked that they be held and, as soon as a Native Bank was operational, we would use those to begin the flow. The paper is worthless in the Domestic U.S., and there were no MOAs issued because it was so premature. This was NOT to pay back anything—this was to begin the creation of something wondrous.

Now, it is established that anything signed for by Rick Martin or Charles Neil is null-and-void. And, guess what, that requirement came from the Sultanate of Brunei. When ready to interchange, they refuse to honor any “old” agreements or terms.

The same is true for anyone holding old deeds—being “GAIA”, they will only be honored as is today structured. Any outstanding anything is null and void for USE DIRECTLY and must now be REPLACED, which is as simple as can be.

We do have the overall PLAN and, guess what, there is a built-in offering of 48% to the People of the United States of America, which is structured to pay off the debt (national). Now, EKKERS had nothing to do with that little plan, and it seems Granny sold out the whole bunch of everybody to have control over “HER” stuff. Well, we are not getting into that hassle. BUT, KNOW IT, WE HAVE NOW HAD APPROVAL AND CONFIRMATION RIGHT FROM A MAJOR INSTITUTION, IN NEW JERSEY, YET.

So then, why didn’t “the money” come? Why didn’t it come “in time”? Because Ekkers might well have done the WRONG THING, hoping to save others’ problems and work, and simply postpone the sorting. Lessons are learned by experience and recognition that I knew what I was doing, and trying to teach you to do, so that you would be good stewards and worthy of graduation into leaders of the FREE WORLD, not over a bunch of slimy, green, red-eyed snakes. If these precious few dollars are all that Ricky and Etheric wanted—then how large can be their plans for bettering the lot of the honest, goodly company?

And, by the way, as to the propane tank and contents? That is not property-controlled. There is now natural gas in the neighborhood, so neither of those propane tanks go with the property. The house tank is leased and the contents independently owned by the tank lessor, and the other, larger one was BOUGHT by I.E.S.C. and filled, to be used by the heaters for the DRIAS (remember those wonderful things?) and the aviaries. So, neither tank NOR CONTENTS go with the house. If they want gas, let them hook onto the system.

Mr. Miller said that the house would be used by ones in the Spectrum group? Who, perchance? Or did you miss my information that day?

I have further bad news for Millers, renting to such as Ed or Rick—they don’t do yards, etc. Good luck! And you are going to find everything around that house—from sheds to honeysuckle and roses—BELONGS TO I.E.S.C. But THEY are going to sue US? Good show, saves us the filing fees.

Now, one last note about this incredible standoff. This is the time that YOU who are still fence-sitting must take a stand against that line or walk away. It may well be that that very line is between the “lot with the house” and the “south lot to that house”. What they are doing is WRONG and totally IMMORAL, and they are TAKING THOSE THINGS WHICH WERE PUT THERE FOR “YOUR” USE, ALL OF YOU. I HAVE NEVER KNOWN, IN ALL THE YEARS THAT EKKERS LIVED THERE, THAT THEY WERE OTHER THAN GENEROUS AND GRACIOUS, AND WOULD GIVE YOU ANYTHING THEY POSSIBLY HAD TO OFFER.

Are Ekkers perfection? No, and right now, Dharma is happy to have it “over”, for the pain stops as remoteness dilution sets into its healing course. But she wasn’t going back to ever live there and work there again. Today, that is different (oh, what a difference a day makes) and I asked them to please go back and finish our job there. Every ONE of the children and the friends have offered them a “place”—except John, of course, who got dumped out of his place BEFORE he got his notice to leave.

Those of you who continue to say, “But they offered and continue to offer the Ekkers love and light...”—spare us, please; calling hate “love” is unworthy—even of the ignorant fools.

OH YES, WE ARE FAR ALONG...

Can you interpret our input here to something happening soon? Oh yes, indeed. This is even opening in Africa—and no, Ron and Rex, NOT THROUGH THE LION. NOTHING TO DO WITH HIM OR IT—JUST FULL ENTRY TO AFRICA THROUGH THE RIGHT PARTIES INVOLVED, AND WE WILL HONOR THIS WITH SILENCE, EXCEPT TO NOTE THAT THE $50 BILLION I ASKED TO HAVE HELD ASIDE, AND ONLY ISSUE “ONE”, WILL HAVE CONDUIT TO FLOW FREELY WHERE IT SHOULD GO, AND THROUGH THE PEOPLE WHO CAN DO THE MOST GOOD FOR THE MOST PEOPLE. AND THERE IS PLENTY MORE AVAILABLE WHERE THAT CAME FROM. AND NO, I DO NOT MEAN GAIA DEEDS OR RESERVE. WE ONLY OFFER SOME “RESERVE” TO KEEP THE GAME CLEAN—THE COLLATERAL IS ALMOST IN PLACE—GLOBALLY!

So, how long can Ekkers hold on and CONTACT hold up? As long as it is determined the readers want it enough to support us until the flow is under way—and then the “crew” is set. And no, you don’t come to me after having only dealt with Ricky Martin and tell me you are now “CREW” and want to go to the Australian OUTBACK, the African Congo or downtown Bakersfield—to make “your” fortune, for us. IT IS OVER—IS THAT CLEARLY ENOUGH STATED? We don’t need one iota more selling—and you can’t sell GOD, anyway. We do not need reps, salesmen or commissioned brokers. We have more than we can handle and, as a for-instance, before 10:30 this very morning we had done and sealed in contract about $50 BILLION ($$$). It is going to now be structured through the Global Alliance, with our half into gold as security, and the rest will be funneled through to projects of our choosing, wherever we decide to do projects—and on NATIVE AMERICAN SOVEREIGN NATIONS’ LANDS.

We have been at this off-and-on all day and now, to get it off and the other things attended, I need to close this particular writing. And, NO, to you who would like us to be silent about these things: We are not on a subscription kick—this is our communication with OUR PEOPLE. The eavesdroppers steal it off the Internet and bribe it out of the hands of their cohorts—and that is GOOD. Do they really think us so stupid as to not know how to gain privacy? Are YOU truly that naive?

Father blesses us all, and may our creative talents and gifts forever be used in goodness worthy of our Father’s abundant gifts placed into and unto our care.

With great love, Dad. (I love this one.)

dharm

We Create The Way To Accomplishment

10/27/99—#1

By Doris and E.J. Ekker

Doris here: I think I might first mention something to the ones setting up our “offices”. Hopefully not a lot has been done, for EVERYTHING must be temporary. Since the space is available and the offices moved already, please do (or don’t do) a couple of things. Leave the Law library as-is and keep that room empty, because we will need to have a table and chairs in there for meetings, for there is no other place for “business”. E.J. can have the office behind Bob’s and Doris can have the “Bob” office.

Don’t even bother to unpack books, etc., to any extent—I wanted them gone, anyway, for the most part. Most of them came from people sharing, and I won’t have time to do any research or anything like that on a trip home. A trip home will simply be, under any circumstances, a short one, because there is so much to do here—but this will ultimately be a “foreign office”, anyway, which then we can just visit.

We (as in E.J., mostly) will simply need a place to do necessary current work there, i.e., as in the Institute straightening out. Since we don’t know who took—or where they went—most of the important documents, we have to get the lawyers to sort it properly. That will take calls, correspondence, etc., with signed forms and other documents, and just the files somewhere handy is all that is necessary.

I can see Ellen and Debbie doing all that awful work to sort it, when we will simply have to change it at best—move out at worst. If the “library” is left, there will be plenty of room back there for the copier and such, and probably plenty of room in Karen’s “old” office for the two of you to have desks—or one in Valerie’s reception area for one. Anyway, just MAKE DO for now, for we do not want to settle-in. This move has disrupted our lives and we don’t need to further hassle with it! We can just rummage or forget it altogether.

Depending on things, and to test “the Y2K” systems, we had to renew our visas. That meant we also had to dink around with airline tickets—which we did—and, in the process, used cards for the costs that move past the year 2000. In every instance, there was not so much as a question. We moved right through the New Year and it went perfectly.

I don’t want to have anyone invest any time at all in anything that will have to be reworked. Just make the places as comfortable for all of you as is possible—OUR LIVES ARE FOREVER CHANGED and we may as well face that fact.

I am also asked to keep a running journal, sort of, of ongoing things, and some have asked to have the writings. I thank you and, if repetition flows—forgive please. Every day here AND THERE seems to simply be one more ongoing adventure into both chaos and unexpected events.

THE HEART SINGS OR BREAKS ACCORDING TO PERCEPTION

Aton gives me an opportunity, as He has in the past, to stop and smell the roses, heal and gain insight into both self and circumstances. He tells me that “this” is finally the achievement sought along the journey of life, and most never get to see it, experience or recognize it. Am I special? I doubt it, for usually in our searching for solutions to that “which happens to us”, we just don’t take the time to “connect the dots”.

I just now, as I sat down here to type, heard a wonderful and amusing thing from the TV: “...just joined the cult of giants when they joined MCI and...”. Prior to that, someone had also said something about China being “a part...” of the cult of the “Intelligence community...”. Is this the new slang term of the media to use as a tool? This might well have good (forgive me) “frequency vibrations” of the low- or high-vibes. The key word, of course, is “cult”. Where do we go from here?

God has caused me to look carefully within and without at what is taking place, has taken place and, surely enough, what we can probably expect to “take” place—if there is a future. We KNOW what is right and wrong, and we totally hamstring ourselves in the effort to not be labeled, not take a stand against wrong actions, etc. Well, being reduced to worse than nothing as to worldly human assumptions—gives opportunity to take stock of self. And guess what, hooray: I am a good person—not just OK, I am a good and RIGHT person. I doubt my intentional enemies enjoy that realization, for they shall, apparently, never experience the same incredible insight. I do, of course, refer to my “avowed self-proclaimed” enemies. Others are NOT enemies but rather simply influenced by the “enemies”.

I am told that “Revelator” (whoever that is) in Spectrum (whatever that is) said something like: If you feel uncomfortable within, that is a SIGN THAT YOU ARE DOING SOMETHING RIGHT. The ONE thing forever revealing back there, up there, and right here, is that if you feel nagging pain and confusion within—YOU ARE DOING SOMETHING WRONG. My immediate reaction, since Spectrum has been running this garbage, is that a lot of people “with them” are feeling a lot of chaos and instability WITHIN and are simply taking this new set of B.S. instructions in order to put down the entirely and incredibly awful realization of wrongdoing. You know, LIE TO SELF long enough and you will believe it! However, what we are finding as more investigations and ACTIONS take place is enough, actually, to bring indictments against the Spectrum conspiracy for what they have done. They have actually set up to CAUSE LOSS TO ALL OF YOU WHO HAVE SHARED FOR, LO, THESE DOZEN YEARS. Will we press that? If we are instructed to do so—yes. The facts are that this middle action taking place on 21512 Adam Drive is ALL about Spectrum kids and their aiders-and-abettors and has finished the “sorting”—right down to some who had thus far kept their secret secure. And yes, now the lawyers are examining the issues.

Millers are being a bit more gracious, and yet, what were we supposed to do when we were LOCKED OUT in the middle of moving? Worse, was to have this bunch of jackals and buzzards in “our place” stealing our things! And yes, indeed, Rick and Gail are the ringleaders! And no, we don’t know when Millers will see through that lying little team of USERS. And yes, we NOW HAVE CONFIRMATION THAT RICK AND ED TRIED TO GET MILLERS TO SIGN PROSECUTION DECLARATIONS AGAINST US, AND MILLERS REFUSED TO DO SO. We have now had this information forwarded to us by at least three parties who would know.

I want to go on public record right here, readers: THANK YOU, MILLERS! No, I am not being “just flippant”; I sincerely thank Millers for the most insight I have ever been able to witness for myself, and it has been possible to witness it objectively, through a clear and polished glass and from a very long distance away from the events. Out of trauma comes vision, viewing and realization and yes, indeed, ANSWERS unexpected.

The Spectrum kids, who have never done anything but TAKE from the Phoenix Institute and YOU who have shared, MOST ESPECIALLY MILLERS, actually DID draw up documents for a case by the, we suppose, Feds to bring down a Federal indictment against Ekkers, and that is why only “they” knew about it—OUR OWN “PARTNERS”, WHO SABOTAGED THE LARGEST ONE TRANSACTION ON THE GLOBE (at the time), DID IT! Well, we know almost nothing about that, except that lawyers and investigators could find nothing about any “indictment”, although the kids managed to scare the pants off Cort Christie. BUT, IT TURNS OUT THAT THERE WAS A THRUST, AND IT WAS GOING TO BE BASED “ON MILLER’S PARTICIPATION”—AND MILLERS REFUSED TO SIGN THE PAPERS. We don’t know more and, frankly, our concern was not great, except for some possible interruption which would disallow us finishing our job over here and keep us from being able to come home to handle business.

Do we think the Millers foreclosed on the house to deliberately destroy Ekkers? No. They were pushed into what they did and did what they deemed suitable. They were TOLD by these misfits that Ekkers had all the money hidden. Well, Ekkers don’t have anything and COULDN’T do anything about that house—period. It has had to play itself out to some conclusion, and now it is in dispute, but the house is empty. Now the Spectrum bunch is holding our “furniture” hostage for returning other things they stole. So it goes—on and into infinity it goes—but is it ever revealing the REAL CULPRITS, THIEVES, LIARS, ETC.! Some of Ekkers’ things from long ago, family items such as pictures, etc., were literally taken to the dump by these buzzards. How do you recover children’s memories? And will these same people cheat the Millers? THEY ALREADY HAVE! And—good gracious—they STILL DO. Does everyone quite clearly see and KNOW that it is NO LONGER EKKERS being hurt now? How can Millers even bear or abide the sight of these evil groupies? We make no pronouncement about it, but this is certainly the way it appears to me, Doris, being here on the “receiving end” of this hatred. And, actually, for what is their hatred? Is it because we took a stand for the corporations in our care, i.e., CONTACT and [Phoenix Source] Distributors? Rick and Gail, along with ED, even stole money out of those checking accounts. Are you people going to tell us that is FINE AND GOOD? THAT IS FELONY CRIME.

Facts are, readers, if we weren’t so busy, I would opt for that “indictment” against us, because the Feds would have to supply us with legal counsel (free); THEY WOULD

BE ABLE TO FIND THOSE THIEVED RECORDS, and we would bring every diddle-de-poop thing out into the annals of Federal media. And I would suspect that such as Rick Martin-Cortright would likely end up in Federal Prison on any number of counts of criminal activities.

Rick says, "You don't want me for an enemy!" Well, to me, HE SEEMS TO BE HIS OWN WORST ENEMY! Single-man army, he asks in his persecution writing from Watchers? No, single-man idiot is my closer guess. Whatever Rick Martin has done or suffers—IS THROUGH HIS OWN ACTIONS, HIS OWN DOING, HIS OWN INTENT BACKFIRING—AND THAT ALONG WITH HIS HELPERS. HE IS EVEN THE ONE WHO CAUSED THE IDIOTIC UPSET WITH ED YOUNG OF LAST WINTER AND SPRING. Ah, but when you stop to feel sorry for someone: FEEL COMPASSION FOR CHARLES, FOR CHARLES PAID THE PRICE OF UNFATHOMABLE LOSS FOR HIS RIDICULOUS SIDING WITH RICK MARTIN AND THAT NEST OF THIEVES AND LIARS.

Does this mean that "a Federal indictment" does not exist against the Ekkers? Who knows, but let me assure you, everyone, if not, it is not because Tricky, Etheric et al didn't do every nasty trick in the book to try to get one.

Now it goes further, and we are awaiting documents for proving recent circumstances, but we may have another incident of NCH misinformation and outright botching of our corporate business of MAJOR MAGNITUDE. Now someone else—through Canada—has their business and our interchange of business STALLED, because they checked with NCH about our GAIA corporation and were TOLD BY A "SECRETARY" THAT NCH HAD NO SUCH CLIENT, DIDN'T KNOW ANYONE LIKE "EKKER" AND DIDN'T KNOW HOW TO GET IN TOUCH WITH ANYONE REGARDING SAME.

Now we are supposed to keep distance from NCH on our corporations? Well, I guess so. Now, it comes to attention that some of the things TAKEN FROM OUR HOUSE BY THE TRICKIES ARE SOME OF OUR CORPORATION BOOKS. Is this insane time, or what? Do Millers actually KNOW THIS? My goodness, and that paper is giving advice on CLEAN, GOODLY AND GODLY LIVING? Ekkers are somewhat "tainted" lately (last winter) and a "bit dark"? THEY [the Spectrum cult] CONTINUE TO COMMIT CRIMES AND SUCK OTHERS INTO THE CRIMES. AND THIS IS NOT LAST WINTER OR MARCH—THIS IS "THIS WEEK" ONGOING!

Again, thank you, Millers, and as we now experience beyond the labor and view the incredible reward of your help that we could finally reach this millennium change in GLORY, we are even more aware of that which YOU (Millers) have allowed us to achieve. Yes, it is important that E-E had to utilize only that which was OURS, personally, to achieve that final mile, but we couldn't have made it without your assistance along the way. We can't do anything about the house circumstances but, certainly, all other things will be attended honorably, as committed. The deeds are already accomplished in the matter of the house, and there is too much pain to ever even have desire to do anything other than visit in the place, if it goes, ultimately, to a friend. If not, it is over—over and finished.

As we sit in Manila at, again, Christmas time, memories begin to unfold, as do the Christmas decorations around the streets and stores. By this time last year, Rick and Charles were shopping like crazy. Old Doris was ready to have a birthday and, indeed, joy was high, and with the same group that now denies, stabs and denounces us as "dark tinged" and WHAT ELSE—NOBODY SEEMS TO KNOW WHAT ELSE. Doris received flowers of the most beautiful arrangement I have seen and cards with loving messages from these self-same people. At that time we were in Malaysia, and I got three little elephants as my treat and a silver cake-stand with a wonderful cake from our friends, at the HOTEL, yet, and yes, I actually received gifts from the hotel maids. Gosh, I was humble, and especially now that I KNOW that the maid actually loved me, my partners were simply using me.

After we returned to Manila after Thanksgiving, the joy seemed to be cohesive, except that Charles was really tired of overseeing Rick and expressed it at every opportunity. We pled for patience and then made it right on TO Christmas. E-E neither bought nor received gifts—maybe this one will be different. After Christmas, our little "team" had been to Mr. DeDios' amazing bird sanctuary and, since we had "Phoenix" corporation, we went forth and got coffee mugs bearing a phoenix and name (Phoenix Bird Tribe) on opposing sides. Last week an item FELL OUT OF THE CUPBOARD AND BROKE MY MUG. Somehow it was just one more arrow in the heart. The bleeding, however, is about stopped.

That cup had sort of been representative of my "chalice", and somehow it hurt almost as much as the "broken" pieces of other happenings. But E.J. did not allow me to mourn, for it seemed we had just been pushed out of our home with the most concerted effort ever gathered to GET EVERY LAST PERSONAL ITEM WE EVER HAD (AND THAT HAS NOT STOPPED). Life, actually, was and is FRACTURED, and yet the glue of true friendship and family has rebuilt the really important things and, at least for the moment, we are told, things are on "hold" as to the major items of the Phoenix tribe. Personal things don't really matter—that which people built in love and preparation DO.

E.J. snatched up the broken mug before I could even respond, and he instantly went to the mall and said it is time to start anew. The little hole-in-the-wall shop that had done the first mugs was no longer doing "that", so he went to a new place. They didn't longer do screen prints, either, but I am now presented with wine-colored mugs etched with a phoenix and our label. He said we do not dwell on the nasties, only on that which is worthy of our attention. So, what is the magic of "letting go"? I have no idea—but turning toward success and letting the negative go its way seems to be the first step.

Things have evolved here in ways so surpassing that which we had dreamed, as both success and security take their places in the jig-saw puzzle, that we CAN NOW SEE THE NEED FOR ALL THOSE THINGS WHICH HAVE HAPPENED—EVEN TO RICK AND HIS IDIOTIC SABOTAGE OF BRUNEI'S TRANSACTION. EACH INDIVIDUAL, OR TEAM, SETS THEIR OWN DIRECTION AND, IF YOU ARE NOT OF POSITIVE CREATION—YOU ARE ONLY INTO DESTRUCTION AND SELF-INTERESTS, and the time of destroying THE LIGHT is over. We can now CREATE faster than Tricky can destroy.

Do we have reason to rejoice, even over Brunei? Oh, goodness, yes. Brunei has come forth DIRECTLY, stating their participation through an entirely different Islamic direction, through onshore and Labuan (offshore) structures, but have said they would NOT honor any of those deeds which were signed under the old MOA with Rick and Charles. Brunei is now in a holding pattern, until our friend can physically make the trip. No, it is not "Manny" of prior fame. He seems to be back in Europe, and no, he hasn't gotten over his "mad" at Rick, so this may yet be an interesting week for visitations for Rick, by "old acquaintances who can't be quite forgot!"

Do we know that "interim help" is on its way NOW? Yes, because now the largest one focus for same is due to be consummated in Hong Kong to get the funding back to the Philippines—and those people in charge are going to Hong Kong tomorrow (Thursday our time)—after the "mobilization" funds are released (out of which comes OUR interim loan). AND, NOT THE LEAST: OUT OF THAT FUNDING ALSO COME MOBILIZATION FUNDS TO GET OUR ISLAMIC LEADER BACK HERE TO MANILA, AND THEN DIRECTLY TO THE SULTAN AND LEADERSHIP OF BRUNEI, AT THE REQUEST OF BRUNEI. E-E don't even have to make a trip, meet a would-be "Elitist" or anything more than having structured the way, the project, and ALLOWED GOD TO DO IT HIS WAY.

This way, Ekkers don't have anything to quarrel over as whatever is done will be sent bank-to-bank, as directed, and through LEGAL COUNSEL. And then, Spectrum: MAKE OUR DAY!

Is it difficult to be patient? NO, but it is difficult to have to keep having interruptions that bring discomfort and more doubts to already-hurting people back home. It is no longer even a clouded issue over here—only the banks are arguing over discount rates, etc., and those do not even involve US. There is so much gold moving that they want a better "cut", so it is all in the haggling. Therefore it is that the commodity will simply be bypassed to get US HELP, and we will not be pushed into anything stupid. We can manage a few more days, over the weekend, if necessary. Those people involved are coming to meet this afternoon—yes, we will do what is necessary and, if it becomes absolutely necessary to pay the light bill (or, more appropriately, the phone bill), sell a couple of crock-pots or bread makers from our research-and-development days—they are all handy to the office, I understand—having been evicted from the house, along with us. Our lawyer seems to be comfortable for a bit longer and that is simply THE WAY IT IS! WE WILL CHANGE THE WAY IT "IS" TO THE WAY WE WANT IT, ASAP.

I personally do not want another five minutes of pain over property. But no, I do not settle for "the enemy" taking it. Rick Martin may well move into that house—but I promise you—he will also move AGAIN—OUT OF IT.

Several people, now that it is too late, are offering to buy the house—either for us or themselves. NO—that is NOT a solution, but thank you, and yes, we could have used that last month, but it is too late. Now it will be handled PROPERLY, legally and, frankly, my heart won't be blown asunder again over that matter.

I mean this, family, kids, friends and landlords: When we come home, we will have funds enough to rent the biggest, best and most comfortable room IN THE BEST WESTERN attached to the "Mountain Inn" (??) (how quickly time flies, I truly can't remember—but, anyway, that one by the railroad track). I just want to GO VISIT family and friends, birds and whatever, and not get stressed-out by anything that has happened—which is going to happen anyway, the minute I see the stuff in that Apple Center. I'll work on a solution to that one, also, hopefully from over here, so my heart isn't cracked again. I think Diane, actually without realizing it, gave me THE answer to it all! Wow, and thank you God. We will look at possibilities! E.J.'s hard time comes from being a husband watching helplessly as everything he has built and tried to make right for a wife, etc., is TAKEN. Of course, THAT was the real intent anyway—so we don't bite on that anymore. We can have any place we want after this and, frankly, we have finally a bit of freedom to think about it.

Hurt? How do you measure hurt? It is like birds and, as Commander says, "How do you measure life?"

Commander gave me a long lesson on grieving and acceptance this week. I said, "Sir, please, not baby parrots." How could you have babies with birds in and out, etc.? His answer, which he intends to write on at length: "Precious, it is only human ignorance that debates LIFE, be it birds or people. There is NO DISTINCTION regarding pregnancy, or starting conception and incubation. When an egg, human or fowl, is fertilized, it is viable life-form. By Sunday night of the week of the enforced move, anyone putting a hand in that nest box would have lost a finger or certainly backed off. The nest (parrots in a nest-box don't build a "nest") was chosen, eggs were in it—fertilized and with viable chicks. Birds lay eggs and, when ready—they take up incubation, for life has already begun—but this way you have chicks coming at the same time, and the bird will not set until her clutch is laid. And, I repeat: I make no discernment in a chick, incubating egg or human fetus. An abortion at two days, two months, or birth is killing the baby, and death of an incubating egg is killing the chicks." Or, foxes eating incubating eggs is no better than hatchlings—KNOW IT! A KILLER WHO KILLS A PREGNANT WOMAN WITH A "VIABLE" BABY ABOARD IS CHARGED WITH TWO MURDERS.

Now, another good question to ask at this point, however, is possibly this one: "What was Rick Martin doing up and around the house and birds?" When encountered, he quickly said, "I just heard one of the big birds got loose and I was just looking for it...". Those birds, being quite discerning, did not LIKE Rick Martin and, at most, Ringo would laugh WITH HIM. Rick was afraid of them, so what would he do if he found them—BUT, AH, IT IS NOW REALIZED THAT WE KNOW WHO LEFT THE BIRD HOUSE OPEN—SO THE FOXES COULD GET THE CHICKS (EGGS)—DON'T WE?

In fact, somebody tell me what Rick Martin, or Gail Irwin, or Ed Young, or, or, or—have to do with being on OUR (AS RENTERS) PROPERTY AT ALL, UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES? So, Millers foreclosed on the house—EVEN THEY HAD NO RIGHT UNDER THE LAW TO BE ON THE PREMISES, WITHOUT A COURT ORDER. EKKERS STILL HAVE HAD NO NOTICE TO VACATE. So, I ask, since all of you have possession of a roof over your head in one manner or another: WOULD IT BE RIGHT FOR OWNERS, OR OTHERWISE, TO BRING SOMEONE, LOCK YOUR DOORS AND HAUL OFF YOUR PROPERTY? THIS IS WITH NO ORDER, NO WARRANT TO EVEN BE ON THE PREMISES—JUST YOUR "SWORN ENEMIES", LOOTING AND RIFLING—AND TAKING EVEN YOUR FAMILY PICTURES, WHICH CAN NOT, AND NOW NEVER SHALL BE ABLE TO BE REPLACED. SOME THINGS NEVER HAVE REPLACEMENT CAPABILITY. No, this THING is not over. The premises will be vacated, but the "thing" is by no means OVER.

And you object to calling this bunch a "cult"? What in heck are these people even doing on Adam Drive, much the less taking things out of OUR HOME? And, is this a careless statement? I don't think so—don't you say, even about a rented apartment, "come on over to my house, place, room"? Besides, the law, and Brad has it all, shows that I.E.S.C. and others still OWNED the property—THAT PROPERTY. The facts ARE THAT Millers may well have gotten entered first on the books of the County, or whatever, but they did not sign their paperwork until several days AFTER the others. Is this a technicality? Well, I certainly HOPE SO! I can promise you—IT WILL HOLD-UP CLEARING OF THE TITLE.

Meanwhile, can they rent out the house itself? I don't know and don't care, but I would think it would be a rather interesting contest in points of law. And if Millers think they will get their value out of those FREELOADER PARASITES, I suggest they THINK AGAIN.

So, under the law—what can be moved will be moved into safety and total security, at the least, OFF of that house-lot, and we'll get an order to have them bring back the thieved items of property, and then we can see what we can work out with Millers to see if we can lessen their costs and remove this terrible bunch of boils on their rumps.

The major problem comes with the fact that the electricity and utilities were TURNED OFF, and there could be no heat to the house and cages with the other birds, i.e., Rosy (the most valuable bird of the whole lot). Now Tilly, even though safely moved, has an upper respiratory infection (and Tilly is the breeding female). People, this is NOT good! This is WRONG! This is EVIL AND WRONG!

If we had had or could have begged or borrowed more time, we would have. As soon as our family got organized, THEY DID ALL THEY COULD TO WORK WITH MILLERS—BUT NO, NO WORK WITH. Even Chuck went forth and he, for goodness' sakes, is no flake of some kind; he is an engineer with the Dept. of Water and Power in Los Angeles, hardly a slum job. But his offer to buy the place from Millers was turned down cold.

We can't help what Green did, Tuten did, or Rick Martin did and does. We can only keep hauling assets, until we meet whatever responsibility we FEEL IS OURS, AND EVERY COMMITMENT MADE THROUGH OUR PERCEIVED INTERACTIONS—WE WILL SEE TO FULFILLMENT. Are we some kind of nuts or idiots? No, we do what is RIGHT to the very best of our ability—and yes, sometimes I suppose we have to just keep going until WE CREATE THE WAY TO ACCOMPLISH THAT GOAL.

We didn't know about the purchase of that Adam Dr. property by Phoenix Church. That was Cort Christie's and Ed Cleary's construct. Even our son, Gene, put money into that program, through I.E.S.C., SO WE WOULD NOT KNOW WHAT WAS TAKING PLACE.

Then, "I", Doris, never knew where the rent was paid, except to the Church, and that turned out to be at NCH (Management) or something. Paul Leinthall was somehow the interest-payer, and HE REFUSED AND REFUSES TO EVEN LET US HAVE THE BOOKS—WITHOUT A FULL "RELEASE OF ALL RESPONSIBILITY" INTO PERPETUITY. Does that mean that we ACCUSE him of anything? No, but it seems strange that he will not release the books, and there is over $10,000 MISSING. Did it vanish at NCH? The secretary? WHAT? Frankly, we have lost our last shred of property—again—because someone we trusted with our lives and property—did SOMETHING.

Paul had "borrowed" funds from that account a couple of years ago and, until we confronted the matter, he did not tell us. I never knew about it, other than it was discussed IN MY PRESENCE. NO, we do not accuse anyone—BUT WHEN DO WE FIND TRUTH?

I also find it strange that Rick's bunch have STOLEN things from our property and now say, "Well, we'll bring it back and exchange it for those cupboards..." and actually have Millers onto that one, as well.

Those cupboards in point are FURNITURE, NOT KITCHEN CABINETS, FOR GOODNESS' SAKES, they were not and are not "wall built-in cabinets". Gene is also a furniture and cabinet maker—and those were his gift to his parents, as FURNITURE. That was CLEARED with Stephen Horn, infamous attorney-at-law, AND THE RTC. The upper furniture was affixed with "temporary" attachments and the lower ones were furniture ON ROLLERS. The flooring was not even touched, so that unless, frankly, someone thought otherwise, once moved out it would never have been missed. Now, note, to my knowledge Millers NEVER EVEN GUESTED IN OUR HOUSE—SO THEY CERTAINLY WOULD NOT HAVE KNOWN ABOUT ANY CUPBOARDS ANYWHERE. Rick wants them because of the PERSONAL HURT HE THINKS HE CAN INFLICT BY MY LOSS. Oh, I don't think so. We had "ALL" OUR upright furniture secured to the studs TO PREVENT ANY OF THE CHINA CLOSETS, SHELVES, ETC. (INCLUDING THE HEADBOARD OF THE BEDS) FROM TOPPLING IN A QUAKE. REMEMBER, THAT IS QUAKE COUNTRY. AND THE "CUPBOARDS" IN POINT ARE CRYSTAL-FRONTED CHINA CLOSETS. We even hung lamps, etc. on detached "chains", rather than install them—WE HAVE STRUGGLED, REMEMBER, FOR 12 YEARS OVER THAT BUILDING, AND THIS WAS THE ONLY WAY WE COULD "LIVE" AT ALL. WE WERE EVEN DENIED THE BUILDING OF OUTSIDE ENCLOSURES, SO WE UTILIZED SHEDS FOR TOOLS, ETC. NOW THEY WON'T LET US HAVE THOSE, EITHER? WHAT IS THIS PARASITIC ATTITUDE? Is this Millers' thrust? Of course not, they lived in another city and only recently moved to Tehachapi, so HOW WOULD THEY KNOW? This is deliberately the work of the Tricky's Spectrum Rainbow kids. That bunch has been on site at EVERY encounter and are THE ONES removing the property and ransacking the inside of that house. HOW DO "WE" RECOVER? FOR GOODNESS' SAKES, HOW CAN MILLERS RECOVER FROM THIS KIND OF ABUSE? Even an ordinary renter has at least 30 days to vacate and, at worst of the worst, three days! We were declared, we understand, to have ABANDONED the place—with a BUNCH of exotic birds and a person living-in as caretaker? ABANDONED? If YOU take a trip on business from your apartment, does the landlord declare it ABANDONED? Moreover, wouldn't you get some kind of notice? It isn't like everyone in the seeming world doesn't know where we are or how to reach us.

But, I repeat: Those pieces of furniture and our personal things are NOT a part of that property.

But, readers, here are a couple of interesting things in consideration: The aviaries are equally as detached from the property. And we are quite happy to leave the cement floors, but the wire, everything, was built and brought as portable property. That "blue" aviary was hauled intact and set up by Gene, Charles, etc. right off a trailer—SO WE COULD MOVE IT. Doesn't anyone remember that we were in litigation with SBS and RTC, and THAT WAS THE ONLY WAY WE COULD STRUCTURE ANYTHING—TEMPORARY—with ability to MOVE IT OFF WHEN ORDERED, if it came to that?

We also laugh over the “fountain” outside. It was never hooked to anything—it is a styrofoam replica of boulders, etc. and had a recirculating pump, which made a nice waterfall. That was a GIFT from Diane and Jack to Mom and Dad. It was also temporary so that, if we had to move—it could go. Without water in it, I can pick up the entire thing by myself. We used it to keep water for the birds and wild life, and just to look pretty. But it seems Rick wanted that, also.

Perhaps a major lesson out of all of this—is how absolutely TEMPORARY life is, and all that is in it.

Next, the fuel tank in battlement: People, this is not some little barbie-tank, this thing is a 4,000-gal. tank, with restrictions agreed on to not have more than 3,500 gals. of fuel in it because of regulations, holding spill reservoir or whatever. DORIS always hated the thing, so a partial wall was built and grading, etc. was done to make it fit into the landscape, so that it wasn't a total blasphemy on the world. We were “starting” honeysuckle around the property to PLANT in front of that tank, and finally the vines are big enough to have covered it nicely. We had to start vines in special places to keep the squirrels from eating them. Then our plans were arranged to replace the honeysuckle with a house attachment, to get rid of the sheds—when the house “would be ours!” (BIG LAUGH?) Even the honeysuckle vines were gifts, and have been nurtured by Pablo and others just to get large enough for their intended job.

Even the Myrtle tree, if it made it, was a GIFT from the team at CONTACT FOR OUR HOMECOMING last April. I never even got to see a leaf on it.

So, ONCE AGAIN, I am writing this for YOUR information, because I am no longer going to accept that we are trash, somehow. We ARE doing a job—AND IT IS VERY, VERY, VERY LARGE! THE WORLD WILL CHANGE BECAUSE WE KEPT ON KEEPING ON—AND YOU WHO HAVE WORKED WITH US—HAVE STAYED THE COURSE, AND YES, MADE IT POSSIBLE, IN SPITE OF THESE PUTRID LIARS. Of course, that is my opinion! However, facts back me up.

All that is left now is to bandage the wounds and mop up the blood-spill, and E.J. and I, and our friends and family, have gotten pretty good at that. But KNOW that in the learning—the lessons ARE LEARNED.

Do Ekkers plan to run away and hide somewhere? Are you kidding? Just when we can finally do the things we set forth to do a dozen years ago?

Well, will Ricky, et al, run away? My goodness, who knows or cares? Ricky has to have something else to suck from and, I suppose, so do his cohorts. He was always “running away”, and I doubt Gail will be as lucky as the wives that came before. He leaves NOTHING to those he dumps, and so, “Oh well...”

And what does a rocket scientist of Tesla direct information do after the battle? I haven't any idea, but I will share an amusing little quip with you: “NASA apparently lost a $125 million spacecraft because of confusion between English and Metric measurements. A spokesperson for NASA said in response for excuse: ‘give us a break, we're not rocket scientists...’”

Well, who knows, perchance Etheric Ed knows where IT is. Or, perhaps they will all just CHANGE THEIR DNA STRUCTURE AND ASCEND AWAY!

Time to go.

Love and our very best to you—which IS GETTING BESTER AND BESTER EVERY DAY.

E-E

Pleiadian Gold Treasures Pre-Placed For Use Today

10/29/99—#1

CHOPPING OFF LIMBS

Hatonn—Wouldn't you think that, when you get your declared enemies out on the twig end of their nasty limbs, you should perhaps chop off the limb? This is especially so if there is nothing soft to land on except good, hard light, truth and cement? And wouldn't you just hope the tree growing that diseased limb would be 150-feet tall? The tree must be freed of the diseased cancers, lest the whole of it falls, or the rot or parasites kill off the rest of it with all, ultimately, around about it.

Am I talking about Spectrum mischief-makers? NO. I don't really have much interest in Spectrum mischief-makers! Except, of course, to set records straight, set facts to public and not let evil prevail, especially against those “trees” now being destroyed—and, in these current circumstances, MILLERS!

By the way, Millers, that massive oak tree in the front of the house at 21512 Adam Dr. needs support. That was first on the agenda with funds. The tree is splitting (as in cracked and ready to split, in somewhere near “half”). Neither side would probably be able to sustain itself and it would truly be unsightly.

Without that tree, the house has no charm or beauty; and loss of that stately monument to time and God would be truly like a deliberate murder.

It needs to have a tree-person, who knows what they are doing, band it properly, with something as strong as steel banding for that purpose. If it falls, it will take part of the front balcony of the house with it.

Because of that likelihood, as well, the coach stored there on the south lot SHOULD BE MOVED out of the reach of that falling tree. That tree has had care and trimming and also removal of parasite growths, but it is not enough to longer hold it with any kind of security. That was uppermost on the “attend” list—BEFORE there would be winter ice and snow weight added to the winter winds.

Also, the roof was leaking in several places and, although Gene fixed what he could find, there has been no ability to test it in rain. Millers may wish to discuss that with Gene because, unless a storm happens now, you can know that the ceilings, insulation, etc. are dry. After they are wetted again, you will have again the mold and fungus, in the insulation areas and on the wood beams.

The house has mice and a lot of spiders, with many of those being Brown Recluses and Black Widows. There are some Cone-Nosed bugs that also come out at night and love to suck on human people. And, I hope you remember those episodes with Doris, because the Health Dept. people came out and identified the miscreants. That was also a “first do” thing, before really using the house much again on return from Manila—to get it wrapped and fumigated. That needs doing BEFORE the “house birds” (finches and sparrows) nest again in the Spring, under the tiles near the drain spouts.

There is no way to avoid these visitors taking up residence when you are surrounded by vacant land and miles of open area behind the house.

Also, Pablo did kill a Mojave Green rattlesnake in the back yard, and there are a bunch of scorpions in the area of the Greenbelt boulders. This is just to warn anyone who wanders around up there, or for children playing in the area—it is dangerous and especially is dangerous in this Fall season, and again in Spring, when the reptiles and insects wake up for the season.

The house was on the market for well over three years by the prior owners, without anyone even being interested because of some of these things, but these are the things that are specified for realtors to tell potential buyers, and we are now relieving Ekkers of responsibility regarding these matters. And, YES, Rick Martin AND Ed Young knew these things—but Alzheimer's Disease, being a non-selective inconvenience, we are quite sure you would not have been told about these things. Yes, Rick even knew about the leaks in the ceilings—he was there! I'm sorry, Millers, but you were “had”. Even the cupboards you are fighting over and demanding back WERE NOT EVEN IN THE KITCHEN, and they were set in as furniture. You, Millers, were lied to, DELIBERATELY, and your little band of thieves and liars has taken some important things, like corporation records, etc. No, we don't know what they thought they were doing, but they obviously thought you wouldn't mind paying for the indiscretions and thefts. AND, YES, WE DO KNOW WHO WAS TAKING THE FUEL, ETC. OF THAT ILK. And, yes, that is relative to some people who have thus far not been too involved. But who would need fuel, etc.?? (????) Ah, indeed, we do not need rocket-scientists or even etheric psychics, do we?

Someone is going, they threaten, to bring a “class action” suit against Ekkers? Have at it, people. But, I believe you might want to know that people such as Roby, Marina, Bilgers (both), Dominick and quite a few other parties and individuals—are going to get included in an action of trespass, looting, theft and entering EKKERS' home (rental property), taking diesel fuel, taking important and expensive parts of a generator-conversion apparatus and other cute tricks. And yes, they will all be included, for we want to leave out no one of the cult gang. And, do YOU actually think YOU will be protected, say, Mr. Roby and son? By whom? Will Rick and Ed take responsibility? How about you, Marina? Will they cover for your stalking and watching? And yes, indeed, IT IS KNOWN WHO WAS ON THE PLACE, IN THE PLACE AND AROUND THE PLACE.

How are all of you pushers going to shelter the Millers? You AREN'T planning to, are you? You got them to do your dirty deeds and now you have really HURT THEM. When will Millers see and hear? Well,

I suspect it is beginning to seep through, just a tad bit, that this maneuver over dwellings and property—might not have been a wham-bam, thank you, Millers, undertaking. Taking the property was the only easy part afoot here, and every one of the dinking-crowd have shown and are showing themselves for the rot and fungus they are. And this, while leaving MILLERS footing the bill for the antics.

And WHO will finally see to it that Millers don't stand great loss? Indeed, Ekkers and old "Dad" here—if the opportunity presents itself out of the pits of what is taking place. I would guess that legal fees, alone, will eat up what was gained. And, I would suggest that I.E.S.C. be the hub of the counter-claim, if necessary. Millers' lawyer is covering his backsides for acting inappropriately. It is OBVIOUS that "abandonment" cannot stand the test of a court hearing, especially WITH JURY. NO ONE FOUND ANYTHING ABANDONED, INCLUDING THE EXOTIC BIRDS—THAT MEANS NOTHING.

The property on the place belongs to I.E.S.C. and, thus, removal of any of that property cannot be abandonment—when the people owning the property WERE THERE WITH LEGAL ORDERS TO GET THE PROPERTY. The letter from the attorney is a "cover his own assets" piece of legal sham. The deeds are already done, so what in the world is at stake here? The lawyer for Millers is calling the removal and "moving out", by Ekkers' OWN FAMILY MEMBERS and the participants with I.E.S.C. doing the moving—abandonment—and it is claimed that somehow Ekkers were and are now responsible for "vandalizing"? Is there anything WRONG with this picture, readers? What in the world have you come to, and this in the circle claiming to demand brotherhood, Godliness and Holy righteousness? Looks more like green lizards to me. Even if these actions by the Spectrum cult were "legal", which they are NOT, is this MORAL, ETHICAL or RIGHT? Isn't it time you people start to THINK?

And am I just whining and possibly spewing more of those false statements of which the Spectrum groupie spouses? Well, here is a the copy of Millers' lawyer's latest letter, received by Mr. Elley, and faxed to Ekkers and received less than 10 minutes ago:

[QUOTING:]

October 25, 1999

Dear Mr. Elley:

This is in response to your FAX of October 22, 1999.

To clarify the matter, we are not aware of any legal right your apparent client had to occupy this property. To my understanding, there was no outstanding agreement.

Apparently, your client without lawful authority took temporary possession of the real property and proceeded to vandalize it. Besides apparent vandalization, the property was clearly abandoned.

If you have any documentation establishing your clients' legal right to this property, please forward it to me.

Very truly yours,

LAW OFFICES OF L. ROB WERNER.

L. ROB WERNER

cc: Alfredo Petrone

Mr. & Mrs. Edward Miller

[END OF QUOTING]

I would add something to this for your own information, readers: Mr. Elley had already established with Mr. Werner that the property could not have been "abandoned" and Mr. Werner had agreed. So, who is the dirty duck in the pond, do you suppose? And do you not think that it becomes obvious that the "takers" of property do not intend to return it—or "can't". They stole it and now they feel it is worth keeping? We shall see.

This has become so hot and so deep that, don't you see, that attorney has to reach for the life-ring any way he can, or get the daylight[s?] and all his bank accounts emptied for malpractice.

And NOW, readers, why do you think RECORDS, FILES, HOUSE DOCUMENTS AND THUS-AND-SO—ARE THIEVED AND MISSING? The point, of course, is to somehow disable Ekkers from proving they are even alive. Note, in the letter: "to my understanding, there was no outstanding agreement." If NOT, why was E-E paying rent, taxes AND INTEREST? And why would Leinthall not release the books so things could be considered and brought current? Ekkers even left money in another account with Ellen to pay the back interest, knowing it could NOT have been, under any circumstances, more than a couple of thousand dollars in arrears. But, interestingly enough, Leinthall wouldn't even release the books so Ellen could make the payments—because nobody knew who were the trust-deed holders. And RECORDS were missing from the regular files, along with everything Rick Martin wanted from the office files, personal files AND the legal files. Is not CIRCUMSTANTIAL evidence a part of the law? No wonder Rick sucked in Karen, Kathy and others—so HE COULD FINALLY BLAME THEM FOR ANYTHING MISSING OR INAPPROPRIATE—AND THEY THOUGHT HE WAS A FRIEND. This is the only excuse ever offered to Ekkers for the girls having done this act of betrayal in behalf of Ricky and Etheric.

It appears, from here, that it is only an argument until NEXT WEEK, after which this is going to be very interesting indeed. You see, chelas, you have to pull all the vermin out of the hiding places and identify the players, and then the funds for defense can flow; the attorneys are happy to go about their appointed work—and let us just bring those facts RIGHT OUT THERE ON THE COURTROOM FLOOR.

There was no pushing on the misfit dudes of Spectrum when they pulled the other cute tricks with bank accounts, and taking over the paper and the distributing company. THEIR lawyer wanted to "settle" the thing and, since the mailing lists had already been used at least THREE times, the funds spent and the time to struggle would be meriting only time-wasting—because the Spectrum-Wisdom team were already working on stolen funds and property—what was to be gained in actuality—other than more hell for everyone? So we settled, with just an agreement. They did not keep their agreement, even to the day it was signed. So, all those bets are OFF, as well, readers. They will now answer for those accusations, actions and thefts, as well. We asked for nothing from them, except to go away from our space. We even gave them corporations, which were actually in our own rightful control, and still they have done these idiotic things. GOD DOES NOT LOSE, CHELAS—and I AM WITH GOD! I cannot help, nor do I care what your opinion about these people or myself might be. Rick actually claimed to be an enemy of Ekkers? No, he was hiding as usual—for he didn't dare openly announce enemy-status with Hatonn/Aton, for he had blown it in a very large way. So, the game is to pull down as many as you can with you, when you fall—that is what Satan and the Sons of Satan will do—every time—without fail.

However, in question to the above letter to Mr. Elley: IF THERE IS NO RIGHT OF EKKERS—INCLUDING THE INSTITUTE AND ANY OF ITS FRIENDS AND LENDERS, AND THOSE WHO LIVE IN THE PLACE, AND HAVE NEVER ABANDONED ANYTHING—TO HAVE "FAMILY" AND FRIENDS MOVING OUT THEIR THINGS, THEN PRAY TELL ME WHAT ALL THOSE ABSOLUTELY NON-ATTACHED VERMIN ARE DOING, RUNNING AROUND TAKING, STEALING, LYING AND CHEATING ABOUT THEIR PRESENCE THERE? AND NO—EVERY TIME PEOPLE WERE THERE ON THE PREMISES TAKING THINGS AND RUNNING IN AND OUT, VANDALIZING AND THIEVING—MILLERS WERE NOT ALWAYS THERE. THE THEFTS TOOK PLACE WITHOUT MILLERS BEING PRESENT! PERHAPS ALL THOSE PEOPLE FROM SPECTRUM ARE MILLERS' FAMILY, CHILDREN—WHAT? NO, THEY ARE NOT—THEY ARE TRESPASSERS AND LOOTERS.

Oh my, yes, indeed, things are looking better and better as to mission accomplishment with every passing hour and, indeed, November appears to be a month of Thanksgiving beyond all prior ones—to you who have stayed THIS course.

So, when you look at what a few "nothing" adversaries can do in a little town in California, and just a few cult members harassing and haranguing—think what the overall global insult and tribulation might be in working through these nightmare intrigues to get our job started and running.

This is what all individuals loaned money to accomplish, but most, alas, did not stay the course, and yes, it simplifies concluding the "business" arrangements with same. But no, we will NOT jeopardize the overall program to keep a few adversarial parasites off our rear. We will NOT jump the gun, when we are only days from conclusion of some help outside the loop of the overall major program. It is tedious, but we must have FULL coverage and security—as well as do those participating. THIS IS JUST THE WAY IT IS. And yes, there are, and will be, hurt feelings, damaged and strained nerves, disappointments on an hourly basis, and yes, WE CERTAINLY WILL MAKE IT RIGHT ON THROUGH THIS MUCK.

I would love to share every last detail with each and every one of you—but it is not possible, is it? We don't even have ability to have a private conversation or e-mail note, without the scum-suckers' interference and intervention. Worse, they don't even get it "straight" when they steal it. And we exaggerate this? No, Rick was running around rousing all the rabble, WITH A COPY OF OUR E-MAIL IN HIS HOT LITTLE FIST. Is it possible things aren't going so well as Ricky thought when he took on this "enemyship"? Will Rick et al reap their rewards from this criminal action now underway? Oh yes, and it might possibly come in part from a nice, wide-awake Mr. and Mrs. Miller. There ARE legal, lawful and moral ways to handle EVERYTHING and, thus far, none of those avenues has been used by the Spectrum Cult—who, NONE OF THEM, have any right at all to even be involved or in proximity to the property, and especially to personal belongings.

With all these heartbreaking and backbreaking things taking place back home, let us have some patience with our team in Manila, of which Ekkers are only a part. Note that when you enter into a ballgame, any game you name, you need appropriate players for various jobs—even to strategic planning and preparing. Well, we have them in place now, with the starting gun in the starter's hand, and ready to fire.

And, OH YES, there is constant sorting in and out of the teams and, if you think you can have such upset in a small handful of my people—what do you think happens at the highest political levels of the globe?

So, with that in mind, we can begin to outlay some interesting background information on ONE FACET of the story; a bit of intrigue about facts, fantasy and “wait and truth flows” in some manner “out”. We will speak of that which was in the hands of one Ferdinand Marcos, et al. He THOUGHT he could protect himself and, as long as he served GOD and FELLOWMAN, he was protected. He remains protected but he was sorely betrayed—and yes, indeed, by the same betrayers of mankind today; even the same Elite players.

I would note, as a matter of fact, just a little sideline of what is taking place TODAY in the Philippines: [QUOTING, Philippine Star, Sat. Oct. 23, 1999:]

KAI, SGV & CO.

ENTER INTO BUSINESS AFFILIATION

International consulting firm Kissinger Associates Inc. (KAI) has entered into a business affiliation with SGV & Co., the country's largest, multidisciplinary, professional-services firm. [H: There is a picture of Kissinger that is almost as interesting as the article. He is presented as in the “present”, but the picture attests to a man of Kissinger's likeness of about 49-54 years of age. Indeed, these Elitists are keeping everything even from the very President of these united states of the Republic of the Philippines. Oh yes, they intend to use the assets—FOR THEMSELVES AND THE NEW WORLD ORDER. It just never stops, does it? Well, yes it will, but not “willingly”. The whole crummy New World Order crowd, from Bush to Kissinger, are in it to their eyes. But, there are some other interesting players still IN THE GAME, and no, I don't let Ekker-Ekker play in that arena. Our agreements are to STAY THE HECK OUT, AND THAT IS EXACTLY WHAT WE INTEND TO DO. WE OFFER “THE WAY”—YOU HUMANS HAVE TO DO THE DEED.] The terms of the affiliation are outlined in a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) signed by KAI chairman, Dr. Henry Kissinger, and SGV chairman and managing partner, Cesar Pruisima.

With the MOU, the two organizations SEEK TO ESTABLISH A HIGH-LEVEL NETWORK THAT WILL FACILITATE INTER-COUNTRY BUSINESS PARTNERSHIPS AMONG COMPANIES IN THE PHILIPPINES, UNITED STATES AND EUROPE. The agreement was forged in response to the increasing internationalization of business and the localization of operations [H: yes, as in “Global”], which in turn has created the need for networks that are both global in scope, yet intensive in country experience. The SGV-KAI alliance will help companies that need international contacts and who are looking to expand the market for their products or services outside of the country. [H: And yes, indeed, this little country of the Philippines is going to blossom, and yes, indeed, there will be need for markets. Nobody ever said Kissinger was stupid—only a bit egotistical.]

In the Philippines, SGV is the premier professional-services organization, affiliated internationally with Arthur Andersen. [H: NOW WE GET THERE TO THE TRUTH, DON'T WE?] As an Arthur Andersen member firm, SGV has global access to resources in 382 locations across 81 countries. [H: Yes, indeed, and all of them are Khazarian based, manipulated and totally controlled—you know, like the very organizations that have brought your world to the brink of total collapse.]

[END OF QUOTING]

Do you still think it is an “accidental coincidence” that the plague carriers back in Tehachapi would be doing a last-ditch push against Ekkers? Ekkers don't even have to carry this baton much further and certainly, already, NEVER ALONE. But THIS is not either a fun or nice job, readers. But they have remained secure and totally accepted as pure potential and integrity and so, too, you have stayed THIS course. My people are NOT out to “get” such as Henry Kissinger, Ed Young or Rick Martin. They are all doing nicely on their own accounts. But, do not expect us to hold still while everyone around keeps sticking pins in the dolls because, after a while, even the pincushion gets tired of being stuck all the time.

Will I be writing about old Bushes and Twigs? Probably, but I see that you people don't really care—you just follow along as the political winds blow. I don't have any wish to get my teams crosswise with the thugs of the universe, so whatever we present will be what is already presented, either in print, or publication or electronic public media.

I think it is a fine time to spare my scribe some long sessions by giving FULL credit to authors of IMMACULATE DECEPTION (THE BUSH BOOK) and start running, AGAIN, those chapters as a series. What was true for the Father IS TWICE AS TRUE FOR THE CHILD. And yes, Bushlett is every bit as haywire as the Bush from which it sprang. But now, we can't deny appreciation to the Big Bush, can we? And no, we do NOT go to war nor even on a “picking” game.

We will offer what might be of interest, but don't expect the world to fly open their eyes and hear or see for, until you can stop the DISINFORMATION flow from controlled media and fixed courts, there is nothing you can do, save watch your own circuits melt away, one after another—usually corrupted, as with CONTACT, by its own claimed team-mates. Most would rather follow the green, red-eyed serpent than REALLY consider following truth and, more especially, DO ANYTHING ABOUT IT.

I am interested to note the NO-RESPONSE level of even the readers of CONTACT when it was pointed out the incredible story regarding mind control, Montauk and the coalition with STANFORD UNIVERSITY. Ed Young, remember, is out of that wondrous institution, and perhaps green, red-eyed serpent-people is a fitting conclusion to his college days. What do YOU think a twice-over Doctorate holder is DOING IN A NOTHING TOWN, DOING NOTHING EXCEPT SPROUTING CONFUSION AND CHAOS? And Ricky Martin-Cortright? He is a nothing—just an egotistical brat with totally self-centered intent. And Charles? Well, Charles simply became a mean-spirited individual when it appeared he was crossed. This is unfortunate but each individual is responsible for SELF.

SO, LOOK AT MANILA

How are “we” doing in the Philippines? Very well, indeed, on every front—now moving into Africa with a “little” startup of $10 Billion; this to Ghana, from whence comes Kofi Annan. Ah, isn't life interesting? But know: That will flow through Saudi Arabia and is disconnected to anything else we have going.

We have opened avenues everywhere in strategic locations and have teams ready, willing and able to receive and account. And no, I won't share more about anything until things begin to break loose in a public manner, so that the program and the individuals involved are secure, safe and noted. I keep one team from knowing about that of another, and all our “enemies” know—THAT is my mode of operation.

We can talk about some things in the Philippines now, however, that are truly open knowledge but hidden, of course, from regular recognition. The accounts of incidents, correct or incorrect, have been presented even on “MYSTERY” programs on TV, in books and in true versions of research presentations.

One such “interesting” book, which Teri will enjoy fishing out of her stash from over here, is THE BUDDHA, THE GOLD & THE MYTH, by Charles C. McDougald. Rick and Charles will also have a copy.

McDougald lives in San Francisco, (California). (Yes, indeed, there is a San Francisco, Republic of the Philippines).

No, a LOT of the book itself is not valid information, but authors and research professors have to take what they can get. It is easy to acquire anywhere, for it is partly a “front” publication, which can be gotten at any bookstore.

The book presents: “How Marcos Looted the Central Bank”. Marcos did not LOOT the Central Bank but he, even now, after his supposed demise, is still TRYING to protect the Central Bank. It is a nice time of the year for ghosts and spirits.

By the way, in the Philippines, this “Halloween” period of time annually is quite legitimate, unlike the farce and satanic practices elsewhere. It is a period of at least three days, which honor in memorial the souls departed, and honor is given to the spirits of both saints and departed souls of families and friends. You will find merchandising reflecting American and British witches' decor—but that is mostly, also, in the imported major American and British stores, which continue to strip value from a hurting population of people. This should NOT make you proud, People of the Lie. Things such as gross pornography, open sex, disease, etc. are called: “Westernized” or “Americanized”.

Now, we can take some selected tales, yes, out of context, but we will try to offer enough of circumstances and factual truth to fill in without detracting from the ongoing play under way RIGHT NOW, AS WE WRITE. You see, you really don't need psychics or fancy-foot-steppers to finally get truth, but the intrigue goes all the way from MURDER, Elite and political nightmares—to “who's got the gold”, and where is the walnut shell under which the pea is hidden.

Before we go on with this tale—as in a series of, we hope, interesting presentations we offer to CONTACT—we shall outlay a lot of things, not the least of which is the “El Dorado” treasure-hunt and stash, and the wondrous mysteries of God, as HE unfolds his wonders in performing. I will tell you right up front here, so that you are not confused by the amounts of gold and treasures presented—ever-so-much larger than reported, EVER, to be used as GOD WOULD BEGIN TO RECLAIM, OR ALLOW HIS PEOPLE TO RECLAIM, THEIR FREEDOM—IF THEY WOULD SIMPLY BECOME WORTHY STEWARDS.

The gold stashes were called “Yamashita” gold. No, there was some stashed away, OK, by the Japanese AND OTHERS, in the Philippines—but the true treasures are those of Pleiades, and let it be known that there have been GUARDS on the stuff ever since it was placed for use this day and in this age. And no, I make no special circumstance or disclosure of WHO. I WILL, however, tell you that “I”, Hatonn/Aton, did, in fact, work WITH Marcos to establish the distribution of the commodities against this very day.

Was Marcos a fine man? Was Imelda a fine woman? What mean you with such questions? Who and what are YOU? There are right and wrong intentions, there are right and wrong actions and—just as with Rick Martin—there are unwise choices from time-to-time.

I will be writing about a family called Zobel. This is interesting, in itself, in that it is an Elite JEWISH family. This is a wealthy, as in RICH, family of original playchildren, who TOOK, took and took some more. They have built up most of this very area where Ekkers are, the outstanding business district, called Makati, in Metro Manila. This family is “Ayala” and has malls, mammoth stores and great property development of all the area in Makati and other places—and guess what: THEY STOLE IT. It was a Spanish Land Grant, from the Spanish to people called Ocampo. This has been proven in courts of law and, as we speak, the Zobel's are having to pay for the property, because there is no way to dismantle what has been built—without permission, just corrupt politics.

Zobel ended up playing a major part in the final act of Marcos’ days. Agreements were drawn up, and yet, then it was said Marcos was unwell, to the extent he could never quite sign the agreements. NO, MARCOS REALIZED THAT IT WAS A SETUP, AND REFUSED TO SIGN ANYTHING AND BE FURTHER BETRAYED. FACTS ARE RARELY LIKE THE FAKE PRESENTATIONS.

Right now there are hearings taking place, while the Elite still try to get every last drop of Marcos’ blood. Zobel finally made it to court yesterday and told a very interesting story that backed up BOTH SIDES. He was involved and did say that the documents were never signed, but he had access to viewing some of the papers. Ah, but Zobel, back in those very Marcos days, was NOT A FRIEND OF MARCOS, only a wealthy acquaintance. Zobel is a paraplegic, following (back at that time) an accidental fall from a horse while playing Polo with his rich friends, i.e., the Sultan of Brunei. So, they haul this poor old man into court—in where? the Philippines?—oh goodness, the whole thing is running around in U.S. Hawaii (Honolulu). Americans, aren’t you ever even embarrassed? Oh, well.

Now we have prattled too long and need to close this in order to not make an entire book of the first chapter. We’ll see if we can do another writing today, as E.J. is BUSY, and Dharma can rest a while and then return to this seat of “Guess what comes next”.

Good morning. Aton
dharma

The TRUTH About Ferdinand Marcos

10/29/99—#2

A SUITABLE HALLOWEEN

Hatonn—Ask anyone parading around the Glorietta mall in Makati, Philippines, about this awful Marcos and LISTEN to what they say. “Oh, you mean the one with all the diamonds and things?” “No,” you respond, “the Marcos that was president of the Philippines and around whom you celebrate your revolution, is the one we ask about.” And back comes: “Oh, he was bad and he...”. But nobody has the slightest idea WHAT they think or what Marcos was supposed to have done, much-the-less what he “did”. And really, what next: “Oh well, they said...”. Oh, you might ask, who are “they”? Hummmn, they just don’t know. Isn’t this the way of it?

So then you ask: “Well, where does this Imelda live?” Keep in mind you are in the Glorietta Shopping Mall of Zobel’s on Ayala Avenue. “Oh, I don’t know but I think up North—or maybe down South—or Leyte, or Ilocos Norte or...”. So we, the touristas, speak up and say, “Well, my gosh—she lives RIGHT THERE, ACROSS THE STREET IN THAT PINK BUILDING!” Back comes: “Really?” Going on: “She shops right here in Rustans, didn’t you know?” “No, really?”

There is one thing outstanding about the whole of everything, and that is when you get: “Who cares about Marcos, because everything is so much worse since Marcos—nothing but corruption and graft, and we just get more and more poor while ‘they’ just fight over who gets the money now, if they ever get any...”; and on and on it goes. You know, exactly like any given citizen in the United States of America who thinks of Bill Clinton as an attachment of Monica Lewinsky’s face.

Keep in mind, as we write, that there is a place called Malacanang Palace here in Manila’s wealthy district, which is the SEAT of government—where the President keeps cronies and deals with his kingdom affairs of corruption. This doesn’t even take into account his actual female affairs. Seven wives? You can’t even get rid of one in this place, for it is against the law.

Just yesterday, in fact, there was an abuse charge of a wife against her husband—only to find out, with a bit of bribery and lying, the bride and groom are both men. But the one keeps abusing the other and—having legally tied the knot in a civil (not necessarily civilized) ceremony—the LEGAL complaint must be answered.

And then there was the recent announcement from San Francisco about the Gay Parade, and here about the awful pornography, and around the world the whoring and killing, and don’t you just wonder about things in general? Doesn’t it somehow REMIND YOU OF SODOM AND GOMORRAH? If you had to mete out justice, world, WHAT WOULD YOU BRING DOWN ON YOUR UNLOVING AND DECEITFUL HEADS?

Among those “sweet people” to whom I refer is one Sen. (yes, of course crime pays) Juan Ponce Enrile. Now, it is noted that also on the front page of the paper today is Enrile, shouting that Enrique Zobel’s allegations about the Marcos gold were “stupid, false, as fantastic as King Solomon’s Mine”.

And why would Mr. Enrile be riled? Ah, yes, oh well, because yesterday a Mr. Chavez (investigator extraordinaire) said an “ex-president and some senators got millions of dollars” and thus-and-so, and “Zobel will testify tomorrow...”. And Zobel did so. Everyone speculated that the “president” in reference was a U.S. president like, say, Reagan—but wow, it turned out to be the last president before Estrada, Ramos, and wouldn’t you guess: Enrile, now Senator. Golleegeewizzer.

So, with baited breath, with a bit of garlic flavoring, Zobel, from a wheelchair, did testify before the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee headed by Sen. Aquilino Pimentel Jr. (interesting, to the say the least, in his own right) at the Philippine Consulate in Honolulu, Hawaii, on the extent of the Marcos wealth.

Ah but, as a good movie always does to you, let us go back to the book just referenced and read about those final days of Marcos as might relate to said Marcos, from his so-called “death bed”. We will skip over, until later, the fact that “Marcos had ‘powers’” and ran his “printing presses” every night to ensure he could maintain control, as would be balanced against that gold he held. That is another story and quite a clearly REAL story—but I want to attend the Zobel “thing”.

[QUOTING, Chapter 13, “UMBRELLA”, THE BUDDHA, THE GOLD & THE MYTH, by Charles C. McDougald:]

UMBRELLA

There were very few men Marcos didn’t mess with. Enrique Zobel was one. Scion of the Roxas-Ayala-Zobel clan, his ancestor, Domingo Roxas, founded the family’s first trading company in the Philippines in 1834. It grew into a billion-dollar empire. By the time Marcos came to power, Zobel was one of the richest men in the Philippines. He wasn’t a crony and he had not made his fortune by pillaging the country. To the contrary, he was a man of enormous vision, whose success came from hard work and astute business decisions. [H: WRONG! That is what he APPEARED TO BE, perhaps, but he was a direct offshoot of the Jewish Empire, who did, in fact, rip off the entire lands he used to set up this wondrous “business empire”. Now, think carefully, why might this rather new book have any interest at all—as well as the next one called AMERICA’S BOY, by James Hamilton-Paterson, who has been running about the USA currently pushing the book. These are Americans, writing about that which they are NOT? Looks fishy to me, in light of all that has transpired, including the fall of Marcos by the same hoods and criminals who have brought down the United States of America.]

Short, stocky and competitive, Zobel's first love was polo. One of his polo-playing friends was the Sultan of Brunei, the tiny oil-rich nation to the south. He had rich and powerful friends all over the world. Marcos left him alone.

Zobel could have played the role of landed gentry but that wasn't his style. Chairman of the board, president and director of dozens of corporations, his financial and managerial prowess could especially be seen in the Bank of the Philippine Islands [H: just merged this very week], which he took over in the mid-seventies and built into one of the nation's largest financial institutions. He also built Ayala Corporation into a billion-dollar real estate and industrial conglomerate.

By the early eighties, Marcos and his cronies had effectively destroyed the economy. Zobel agonized over what was happening to the country. [H: Good readers, during that "awful" time of which they speak, the Philippines blossomed like never before and certainly since.] He helped organize the Makati Business Club as a forum to critique and comment on government economic policies, but soon he realized nobody was listening. In 1985 he told the New York Times, "If you had money to invest in Southeast Asia, the Philippines is the last place I would tell you to put it now." He was one of the few that could say something like that and not risk the ire of Marcos. [H: I am going to let this go except to comment, and yes, this can be attested to by Rick Martin-Cortright and Charles Neil: E.J. spoke to the office of Zobel and wrote him a letter, to which the reply was gracious but "not interested" in diverting his business attention. This is sort of like Bush's PERSONAL response to us: "I'm not ready to deal YET", some three years ago. I shall try not to interrupt too often here, however, lest we never get through this tale at all, much the less, timely.]

Upset at Marcos' heavy-handed tactics, Zobel resigned from both Ayala Corporation and the Bank and began concentrating his efforts on businesses outside the Philippines through another of his companies, Ayala International [H: Can't resist this one: He resigned because he had been "caught" with unlawful land under his buildings; the Bank in point was financed and actually belonged to Marcos, and the better part of wisdom was to not get in any more deeply in the coming mess-up.] Through all this, he maintained a grudging respect for Marcos, hoping he would come to his senses and turn the country around. He supported Marcos in the 1986 snap election, but even powerful friends couldn't help that time. [H: Oh, barf-barf.]

In October 1988, Marcos asked Doctor Lourdes Pascual, a family friend, to prepare a promissory note and deliver it to Zobel in Manila. The note was prepared, but its delivery was delayed by more pressing matters. [H: Oh sure, sort of like the letters to President Estrada are just sort of delayed in delivery because of the laundry, the deep pocket and you-name-it—the excuses are not only stupid but constant. Twenty people are always going to hand-carry to the President but, somehow, the President never even hears about it. You are dealing with heads-of-state, senators, liars and worse cheats covering their own backsides ALL THE TIME.]

On October 21, the Grand Jury in New York handed down an indictment against Marcos, Imelda, Adnan Khashoggi and eight others. It set off a flurry of legal histrionics that took up most of Marcos' time. It also prevented him from leaving the U.S. He couldn't return to the Philippines for Baltazar Aquino's testimony. [H: Sounds like Tricky Ricky was at it again. And, isn't that rich old Khashoggi a brother to Diana's Dody's Daddy? My goodness, could there be a connection? No, there "couldn't be", THERE IS.]

Marcos and Imelda were ordered to report to the FBI in Honolulu on November 18 for fingerprinting, palm printing, and to produce a sample of their handwriting and a recording of their voices. They had been subpoenaed the previous May, but they appealed, claiming they were entitled to their Philippine constitutional rights. This motion was denied and they were ordered to comply by August 8. They then claimed head-of-state immunity. This motion was also denied and they were ordered to comply by August 18. An appeal was filed. The Court of Appeals denied the claim on October 19. The Court also held that the Grand Jury had the authority to order the Marcoses to sign consent directives, authorizing the foreign banks to turn over their financial records. The case was elevated to the Supreme Court. They lost and were ordered to report to the FBI. [H: Still think Tricky and Etheric are just playing little silly games of "getcha"? People, this is the way the big nasty wolves play—and who gets paid for finking and killing the golden-egg geeses? Oh, wouldn't you just know it—and THAT is why they try so hard to make Ekkers do something both stupid and silly; and who pays their fees and bills while they steal, lie and cheat? YOU? WAKING UP YET? You who serve the cause of these traitors to the U.S. as well as humanity—shame on you.]

Pascual finally flew into Manila in late November and met with Zobel. She asked if he could loan Marcos $250 million, and showed him the note. It had been antedated to October 17, before the indictment was handed down, to protect Zobel. Signed by Marcos, it stated, "In consideration of this loan, I promise to deliver three-million ounces of gold within three years after I return to the Philippines." That was more than 85 metric tons, worth about $1.3 billion, not a bad return. Zobel checked his calendar and told Pascual he would meet Marcos in December.

Marcos encountered more setbacks before Zobel arrived. On November 29, the court-appointed doctor announced Marcos was well enough to travel to New York for his arraignment. On December 1, the Court of Appeals upheld the decision to freeze his assets, worldwide. A few days later, his own doctors issued a report that described him as chronically ill, with multiple abnormalities of the kidney and heart.

On December 8, Zobel met Marcos for dinner. Marcos hardly ate and looked very tired and weak. He asked for the promissory note that Pascual had delivered. Zobel had to go back to his residence ten minutes away and retrieve it.

On returning, he told Marcos he didn't have $250 million available, but he asked how the loan would be repaid if he could arrange it. Marcos asked his nurse, Teresita Gallego, to fetch a folder. Zobel leafed through it. It was about an inch-and-a-half thick and full of deposit certificates for gold, stored in various banks all over the world—Switzerland, Monaco, the Vatican, the Bahamas and other places. He mentally calculated that, at $400 an ounce, the price of gold at the time, the value was approximately $35 billion.

Some of the certificates were dated in the forties, after World War II. Marcos explained that he began accumulating gold toward the end of the war. He found some treasure and also bought gold bars from soldiers, who found them in the debris of Yamashita's retreating convoy. He re-minted the bars in Hong Kong in 1946 and accumulated more through various treasure hunts. The reason he kept it secret until now, Marcos said, was that other countries might have a legal claim to it until 1985, because of the statute of limitations.

[H: Now, readers, this is all quite true. I also want you to know that a LOT of the gold unearthed through those "Marcos years" was OURS. And, there are plenty of tales to prove the incredible things that took place. No, we didn't set bombs or boobies—we DIDN'T need to do such silly things. As someone would prove by eyewitness sightings and actual photographs, the would-be thieves would come, be they military, from the banks, from the New World Order—you name it. By the time they walked from their vehicles to the caves or chambers—they couldn't see any gold—just empty caves. But, something was wrong, they said, and would walk off from the empty chambers—WALKING RIGHT "THROUGH" THE GOLD ITSELF. AND YES, INDEED, I DO ENJOY THOSE KINDS OF GAMES. THE GOLD IS RIGHT THERE, BUT ANY ATTEMPT TO TAKE IT—ZIP, IT'S NOT THERE ANY LONGER. GOD IS WEARY OF THE THIEVES, LIARS AND CHEATS!]

To most people that knew Marcos, this story sounded a bit odd. He came from a poor family, and he made his first million as a first-term congressman in 1949 and 1950, selling import licenses. He bought a Cadillac to celebrate his new status. Before then, there was no outward indication of any wealth. When he courted Imelda, in 1954, he brought her to a bank vault and showed her stacks of hundred-dollar bills but no gold bars. He didn't even open his first bank account abroad until 1967.

Over dinner, Marcos told Zobel he wanted to help the Filipino people. Zobel suggested he set up a foundation. Marcos agreed and asked him to head it. Zobel demurred and suggested, instead, that the Vatican or its representative head it. [H: Wow, what a choice, the Pope or the head Rabbi.]

Marcos had voiced his dislike of the church many times, accusing priests and nuns of being communist, but now he readily agreed with Zobel. He said the Roman Catholic Church would receive 10 percent of the gold for use in its foreign missions; 10 percent would be retained by his family; 79 percent would go to the foundation set up for the benefit of the Filipino people; 1 percent would go to pay his debts; and the balance would go to his loyal staff and his doctors and nurses.

According to Zobel, Marcos rattled off the percentages without hesitation, as if he had planned the whole thing in advance. He may have. Zobel was the godfather of Greg Araneta, who married Marcos' daughter, Irene, in June 1983. Since the early eighties, when the economy went into a tailspin, he had pressured Araneta to convince Marcos to return the treasure and help the country. Zobel knew Marcos had been flying gold out of the country since 1972. As a pilot in the air-force reserve, qualified in fixed-wing and rotary, he had a lot of friends that flew. Some of the Ilocano (Marcos preferred to trust military from his own province of Ilocos Norte) pilots had talked about flying C-130 aircraft loaded with gold to Zurich.

Marcos said that in future communications he would use the code name Gandhi, and he asked that they meet again after he had discussed the plan with his lawyers. He suggested December 23 or 24, but Zobel said he couldn't make it until after Christmas.

Zobel left around eleven-thirty that evening. A few hours later, Marcos was taken to St. Francis Hospital complaining of chest pains. On December 18, he was allowed to leave and spend Christmas at home. On the twenty-eighth he was rushed back to the hospital with a high fever. The December meeting was called off. He went home again on January 4, 1989.

[H: Hey, come on, readers, I am just asking for copy of this material, I am not writing it, nor is much of it accurate. However, that's life, isn't it? You are stuck with whatever is decided to foist off onto your senses, and you gobble it up like addicted alcoholics to a bottle of Bourbon.]

From Honolulu, Zobel went to San Francisco and then Europe. [H: Does anyone think all this a bit odd when you are talking trillions of dollars, but he can't find a convenient time in the same city to discuss mundane things like "the deal"?) He returned to Manila on January 3, in time to celebrate his birthday on the seventh. On January 12, he invited Pedro Cojuangco, President Aquino's brother, and Mrs. Dely Castillejo, Cojuangco's sister-in-law, to his residence. He told them about Marcos' desire to set up a foundation and asked that Cojuangco tell President Aquino. [H: Now, people, THESE people are still very much here—and running around, and into things to their eyeballs.]

Marcos was taken back to the hospital on January 15. He fell into a coma four days later. From then on, he would only have brief moments of consciousness. On January 16, in Manila, Zobel had breakfast with Vice President Laurel at Laurel's residence and told him about the proposed agreement. To try and convince Aquino that Marcos was only coming home to die, they devised a plan to send two doctors to Hawaii to independently verify his state of health. Laurel said he would ask Aquino to approve it. Later that evening, he called Zobel to say it was okay.

Zobel flew into Hawaii on January 18. The next day, he heard that one of Marcos' lungs collapsed but doctors were able to inflate it. [H: Hummnnn— Marcos had kidney failure, not lung problems! They just can't seem to get anything right, can they?] Around midnight, Laurel called and said the two doctors had been stopped at the Manila airport AND PREVENTED FROM DEPARTING by Aquino's Secretary of Health.

Marcos was too sick to see Zobel. On January 22, he met with Imelda, instead, and told her about Marcos' wishes for a foundation. The next day he met with Pascual, his lawyer, and one of Marcos' assistants to discuss how the trust agreement should be drawn up.

They decided the Papal Nuncio in Manila, Bruno Torpigliani, would serve as principal trustee. The other trustees would be Father Rogelio Alarcon, Rector of Letran College, Pascual and Zobel. Zobel agreed to serve, on the condition that no compensation would be paid to the trustees for their work.

Before leaving, Zobel contacted John Fulks, head of the FBI in Hawaii. He wanted it known that all his dealings with Marcos and the Philippine government were above-board, and asked that the FBI make sure no one saw him and Marcos together when they met. [H: Is this sleazy, or what?] A few days before, a television reporter had come to his house and asked if he were in town to negotiate a deal with Marcos. He denied it but worried that the plan might be jeopardized if it were made public. Fulks said he would take care of it.

Zobel then called a friend, Frank Yturria, in Washington and asked him to brief SECRETARY OF STATE JAMES BAKER on the situation. [H: Remember, all you readers, James Baker was the prior Secretary of the Treasury and involved TO HIS EYES WITH THE GLOBAL CONTRACTS—WELL, THE FALSE BUSH COSMOS CERTIFICATE. The plot just gets thicker and sicker, doesn't it?]

A lot of important people knew what Zobel was doing. They were not that surprised. Long before meeting with Marcos, he had taken an interest in finding a way to pay off the foreign debt of the Philippines and had discussed the matter with friends in high places. [H: Oh, my goodness, not REALLY?] Being a banker himself, with worldwide connections, he occasionally met with some of the country's creditors. When the talk came around to that subject, Zobel would ask, "How much discount would you give if I could pay off all the debt?" They replied that they would accept forty-eight cents on the dollar. That meant the government only had to repay about $13 billion, instead of more than $27 billion.

Zobel flew to San Francisco on January 27 and met with Danding Cojuangco, Aquino's first cousin, Eduardo Romualdez, an uncle of Imelda, Greg Araneta and two of Imelda's lawyers, John Bartko of San Francisco and Richard Hibey of New York. After the plan was explained to them, Cojuangco, Romualdez and Araneta expressed their own desires to serve as trustees. Zobel said the final decision would have to come from Marcos.

He returned to Honolulu on the twenty-ninth and went to the hospital at noon but was still unable to see Marcos. That evening, he met with Imelda and Bong Bong at the hospital and showed them a draft of the trust agreement. Bong Bong remarked, "See, mother, father never told us these things."

Zobel didn't know what Bong Bong meant by that statement. It could have meant he was unaware of Marcos' gold hoard, which was unlikely, or that he was unaware of the foundation that Marcos wanted to set up. That Imelda had known for a week and not told her son was just another curiosity in a family known for its intrigues.

The next afternoon, Zobel went back to the hospital. Marcos opened his eyes once and seemed to smile at him, but he went back to sleep. No documents were signed.

The next day Zobel gave Imelda and Bong Bong four copies of the trust agreement. Bong Bong agreed to get his father to sign them when he was able. Zobel departed Honolulu on February 1. When he arrived in Manila, he heard that Marcos had undergone a tracheotomy. On February 3, he met with the Papal Nuncio and Alarcon and gave them a copy of the trust agreement.

Marcos' medical condition was rapidly deteriorating. In April, the court-appointed doctor reversed his decision and announced that Marcos was medically unfit for travel to New York. In June, the doctors removed the kidney that had been transplanted in 1984. From there, it was all downhill. Marcos turned seventy-two on September 11. He died seventeen days later shortly after midnight. The trust agreement was never signed. [H: And, strangely enough, Marcos has never been "buried".]

In deference to Marcos' death, Zobel did not bother the family in mourning. He heard from Pascual that Bong Bong retrieved the folder containing the gold-deposit certificates from Marcos' nurse. Later, Imelda showed some gold certificates of the same description—yellowed with age and dated 1946 to 1948—to journalists, on two separate occasions. [H: Yes, and they are running around again, along with printing-press currencies.]

Zobel believed the certificates were real and quietly pursued the business Marcos never finished. He hoped Imelda and Bong Bong would follow through with Marcos' plans and set up the foundation.

[H: HERE I WOULD JUST LIKE TO INSERT A REMINDER TO ALL THOSE CLAIMING TO BE WORKING WITH ME AND ALONG WITH GLOBAL. I DO NOT TAKE WELL TO THINGS THAT DO NOT GET DONE, FALSE STATEMENTS, PROMISES UNKEPT OR GAMES OF ANY SORT WITH MY PROPERTY OR PEOPLE. SO, TO YOU WHO JUST WANT A "BETTER DEAL", I SUGGEST YOU THINK VERY CAREFULLY, FOR I AM EXACTLY WHO I SAY THAT I AM, HATONN/ ATON, AND I'M TIRED OF GAMES. I WILL HELP THOSE WHO HELP US AND, AS AN ALCHEMIST, I AM QUITE GOOD. LET'S MOVE ON, PLEASE, AND STOP TRYING TO "TOP THIS". WE CAN WAIT QUITE A WHILE FOR BETTER "DEALS" FOR SOME OF "YOU", BUT MY TEAMS ARE WEARY, AND IT IS TIME TO KEEP YOUR COMMITMENTS TO THEM AND TO ME—FOR I HAVE NOTHING TO FORGIVE BUT DO HAVE A LOT OF THINGS TO ACCOMPLISH—WITH OR WITHOUT "YOU". IT IS A TIME FOR RECOVERY—BUT IT IS ALSO A TIME TO PUT FORTH TRUTH, HONOR AND INTEGRITY AND GET THE WORLD BACK ONTO ITS FEET. STOP HAGGLING OVER DISCOUNTS, AND GET ON WITH WHAT WE NEED TO KEEP THIS MOVING.]

THIS MAY NOT BE "THE" MESSAGE WANTED—BUT IT IS "THE" MESSAGE TO GET TO THE PROPER PARTIES WHO KEEP PLAYING WITH ME.]

In November 1989, he attended the Volvo Golf Tournament in Spain with Rainer E. Gut, Chairman of the Board of Credit Suisse. He asked Gut if the Swiss banks would release the gold, if the foundation presented two letters of authority—one signed by President Aquino and one signed by the Marcos heirs.

Gut replied it could be done. This heartened Zobel. He was a busy man with a vast business and financial empire to oversee. Still, he took the time and did everything he could to see this project through to its fruition. He could not know of the terrible tragedy he would soon face.

As the PCGG went about the task of attempting to locate and recover the hidden wealth of Marcos, they waded through mountains of documents and interviewed hundreds of people. Marcos was suspected of having gold deposited in banks in the U.S., Hong Kong, Singapore, Switzerland and several other European countries, but nothing could be traced to him because the accounts were set up differently.

There was mention of an organization known as Umbrella, which he had set up along the line of communist cells. Each gold account was controlled by a group of trustees, usually three. Each group was unknown to the other. To access an account required approval of all trustees to that account.

Marcos and Bong Bong were the only two people who knew the entire Umbrella structure. After Marcos died, Bong Bong told Imelda. They decided to dismantle the organization but there was a problem. Some people in these groups were loyal to Marcos, not Imelda or Bong Bong, and were out to protect their own interests. The PCGG was aware of this. Imelda had told them as much. They knew that, even when they had the account number, the vault number and the serial numbers of the bars, the bank would deny the gold's existence to protect its clients.

Marcos had set it up well. His brilliant legal mind, combined with the financial skills of the Swiss, could make any gold in his possession seemingly disappear.

He wasn't so lucky in other areas. Before he died, an old nemesis returned to haunt him.

One of the first to get a close look at the 2,068 pages impounded by the Bureau of Customs in Honolulu, in February 1986, was Bonifacio "Boni" Gillego. In 1982, he was the first to write about and expose the Marcos war medals as fake. A furious Marcos ordered his arrest but he managed to escape to the U.S. [H: Managed to ESCAPE TO THE U.S.??]

In the States he worked as a hotel clerk to support his family. He kept up the fight by joining the Movement for Free Philippines (MFP), a U.S. group devoted to peaceful lobbying against the corruption and human rights abuses of the Marcos regime. Marcos' agents in the States were aware of the group and continued to hound him and other members. [H: Ah, but get this next:]

After Marcos was overthrown, GILLEGO RETURNED TO THE PHILIPPINES. AQUINO ASKED HIM TO SERVE AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF

THE PCGG TO INVESTIGATE MARCOS' ILLEGAL ACCUMULATION OF WEALTH. [H: Ah, indeed, from hotel clerk to head of the most Elite of government positions in the Philippines.] LATER, HE WOULD BE ELECTED TO CONGRESS, but it was while working in the PCGG that he made his discovery.

It seemed only fitting that someone persecuted by Marcos would be the one to find proof that the murders of Gene Viernes and Silme Domingo could be traced all the way to the palace and expose Marcos' regime as cold-blooded killers. [H: Ah, that is, indeed, interesting—in almost every possible way.] He also found something else—THE U.S. GOVERNMENT WAS A WILLING ACCOMPLICE.

[H: IS EVERYBODY WITH ME SO FAR?]
[END OF QUOTING]

Let us please leave this writing for a while, as I have a very interested scribe but one with very tired back and fingers. Wow, what a busy 14 months THIS HAS BEEN!

Anyone able to observe human capability would have to admit Basket-Case Ekkers have been somewhat busy, and that which is NOT yet told is more shocking than this tale from a "front" book. Some is right, some is wrong—but, of course, the book most certainly has had its purpose—just as Martin has sold out to now serve his purpose.

I am asked if Rick Martin would sell out anyone? He would, and did, sell out his own Mother, if the facts were known. And he sold out to the very FBI and CIA (FED), of which we now write—to get an indictment, yet, from the FED to stop the Ekkers. WOW and WOW!

Now, for a closing note to ones who asked earlier for direct input from me, today. No, I do NOT like what is taking place or the games being put forth in distraction and delays.

I have asked that you people keep out of those MYSTIC circles and, for goodness' sakes, do not misquote or claim I have given instructions which I CERTAINLY HAVE NOT. It is time to do what is claimed you can do, or leave us strictly alone so that we can move on elsewhere. I'm sure this is NOT the "chosen" action, and I know that parties are testing to make sure I am "REAL". So, you have tested—now get the job done. I don't like to hear about "frequencies", low or high; we are not New Age—but some are "old aged". And, you will always be impacted by the soothsayers and the would-be included fortunetellers and "readers", receivers and whatnot. Never mind, please, for what you are going to get is totally confused, or worse.

I only protect those that stay within the LIGHT and my lighted team-crew. I have been around for many, many years, and it is time for the planting to bear harvest, so let us not let it ruin or rot on the vine, or fall to others, while opportunity is missed by foolishness.

We will offer the testimony of Zobel according to the PHILIPPINE STAR in the next writing, please.

In love, light and blessings.

Salu, Aton

dharmia

The News Desk

By John Ray

CLINTON POWER VS. NET POWER

By Sarah Foster, WorldNetDaily, 10/27/99

Suddenly, everybody is talking about executive orders: those arcane documents President Clinton has been signing where he uses his pen to set national policy and, essentially, rule by fiat—bypassing Congress and, say critics, running roughshod over our constitutional rights and freedoms.

The White House doesn't deny the charge. It's proud of the strategy of going over the heads of Congress.

"Stroke of the pen, law of the land, kinda cool," said former Clinton supporter Paul Begala.

But now, after several years of simply complaining or looking the other way, Congress is exerting itself. Two hearings are scheduled this week, both dealing with executive orders—a topic that hasn't been studied by that body for 20 years.

Part of the credit appears due to the Liberty Study Committee, a newly formed group of 14 congressmen and eight legislators—founded by Rep. Ron Paul, R-Tex.—who are using the Internet to carry the fight for American liberties and national sovereignty to the outer limits of cyberspace and into the halls and offices of Congress.

A recent success by the committee was the defeat of the National ID card, a proposal first reported in WorldNetDaily.

A House committee announced last week it would hold a hearing on legislation introduced by Paul, which would curb the president's ability to make laws by executive order. The Separation of Powers Restoration Act, HR 2655, will be heard tomorrow by the Judiciary's Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law, chaired by Rep. George Gekas, R-Penn. Six witnesses are scheduled to testify, including Reps. George Metcalf, R-Wash., and Bob Barr, R-Ga.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Henry Hyde, R-Ill., issued the formal statement for Paul to speak on behalf of his legislation.

"The American public has grown increasingly weary of the use of executive orders, as presidents have used them to bypass Congress and legislate from the Oval Office," says Paul, describing his bill. "Presidents must be able to direct their employees, but this power must be closely confined by the laws which they are constitutionally and legislatively empowered to execute."

The unexpected scheduling came just days after WorldNetDaily publicized Paul's bill and the project by the Liberty Study Committee to provide Americans with a conduit for communicating, via the Internet, directly with their representatives and senators in Congress. The scheduling may have been prompted, at least in part, by the influx of e-mails to Congress asking representatives to support legislation that would curtail the president's ability to legislate by executive order.

This was made possible by a special web-site, whereby constituents could contact their representatives quickly, with minimum effort.

Kent Snyder, executive director for the Liberty Study Committee, said it is "highly unusual" for a bill like HR 2566 to be scheduled so quickly.

"This is great news," he said. "The issue of executive orders is something that has not been discussed in a congressional setting for many years, so this is a first step. It's the first opportunity our side has had to present information in a legislative hearing—and we'll be taking full advantage of that."

In his view, "The scheduling at this time proves our effort is working and shows the effectiveness of the Internet. We get our web-site in place, 4,000 messages come into Congress about executive orders, and we get two congressional hearings in one week—one for a bill that nobody had heard about or paid attention to. We're doing something right."

But Snyder had a few words of caution. "Overall, I'm optimistic about the opportunity here. We will have a great chance to present the issue, then present the legislative solution, which is HR 2655.

"But we are definitely aware that while it is an opportunity for us, it's also an opportunity for our foes to cut us off at the knees. The administration knows there is an active political-action group out there that's been sending letters and messages. There is a web-site that people who are active and informed are using.

"You can figure that our foes would do one of two things: Either dismiss the issue and the people and hope they'll go away, or take action—cut us off at the knees. They could use this hearing to do that in some way. They may try to seize the chance to kill the legislation.

"That is why we are very much on alert to the possibility of our foes taking the opportunity to cut this issue down and shut it off."

The second hearing—which is being heard today—is an informational one by the Rules Committee's Subcommittee on Legislative and Budget Process, chaired by Rep. Porter Goss, R-Fla.

"The purpose of the hearing is to review the process, guidelines and legal authorities of executive orders and assess their impact on the legislative process," said Goss. "Executive orders by this [or] any president can encroach on the lawmaking authority of the Congress."

Virginia attorney William J. Olson, one of several witnesses scheduled to testify at today's subcommittee hearing, is elated at the recent interest in the subject of presidential power grabbing. An article by Olson titled Executive Orders and National Emergencies: Presidential Power Grab Nearly Unchecked was publicized by WorldNetDaily in January. The article had appeared as an eight-page legal report of the Abraham Lincoln Foundation, a non-profit, public policy organization in Washington, D.C. The article and others [are] posted on Olson's web-site.

That article was the genesis of a 30-page in-depth study Olson and attorney Alan Woll, recently completed for the Cato Institute, a non-profit "think tank", in Washington.

Commenting on the hearing, Olson described the timing of events this week as "providential".

"There's the Cato Institute bringing out this study in the same week that two congressional subcommittees are looking at the very issue we wrote about. Can you believe it? There's been no interest in this since the mid-'70s, and now we have two hearings in one week."

Olson said [of] the hearing [at which] he is testifying, "They'll be looking at the issue of separation of powers and the proper role of the executive branch.

"That's a nice counterpoint to the legislative hearing on Thursday," he noted. "One day we look at the touchstone of the Constitution and the next day we look at specific proposals to correct the relationship between the legislative and executive branches as it's become."

How great a role did the Internet—and, in particular, the www.executiveorders.org web-site play in developing a climate for the hearings?

According to Jennifer Millerwise, media contact for Goss, the holding of such a hearing was not "spurred on by any outside influence", such as an e-mail campaign.

"We've been planning on having a hearing on executive orders since the beginning of this Congress," she said. "It was part of our oversight plan of the Rules Committee. It's taken a lot of research and work to come together and it happens to be the time we were prepared to have it"...

[JR: We all must get behind Rep. Ron Paul, R-Tex. and support him, his legislation and his Liberty Study Committee. Let your representatives know how you feel and, specifically, inform the Executive Branch of your position on this abusive use of executive orders.]

JAILED FOR POSSESSION OF HERBS? HEALTH GURU, 70, FACES 8 YEARS IN PRISON

[Dr. Hulda Regehr Clark, UPDATE]

By Stephan Archer, WorldNetDaily, 10/19/99

A 70-year-old physiologist and researcher, recently imprisoned for more than two weeks, may be looking at eight more years in federal prison since her arrest by the FBI for practicing medicine without a license.

Dr. Hulda Regehr Clark, who has both a Ph.D. in physiology and a degree in naturopathy, has a significant worldwide following in the realm of alternative medicine. She is most noted for her popular health books, with the outlandish-sounding titles, The Cure for all Cancers, The Cure for HIV and AIDS and The Cure for All Diseases.

At the heart of Clark's methodologies is a device of her own invention called the syncrometer. This device, claims Clark, can be used to identify pollutants in food and other common products. When the device detects a pollutant, Clark advises people to avoid contact with the product.

Although Clark's syncrometer may detect pollutants in food and other products, her later discoveries sent a shock wave through the medical establishment, when she claimed to have found the culprit causing both cancer and HIV/AIDS. The source of these terminal diseases, Clark claims, is a human intestinal fluke that can be completely eliminated from one's system using the right herbs. Her herbal recipes have created many true believers the world over.

So what is Clark's crime?

Brown County, Ind. prosecutor, James R. Oliver, says Clark is being charged with practicing medicine without a license—a Class C Felony in Indiana—because state law says a person who is not medically licensed cannot diagnose or treat a patient, nor can they recommend or prescribe treatment to a patient. The statute further says it is unlawful for such a person to maintain an office for treating patients.

On May 11, 1993, Amy M. Huffman, then a deputy attorney general for Indiana, and Karl Milhon, an investigator for the Indiana Department of Health, Acquired Diseases Division, went to Clark's Nashville, Ind. office, undercover. Milhon posed as a bi-sexual who recently had learned that a former partner of his tested positive for the HIV virus. Huffman posed as a supportive friend.

During the ensuing conversation with Clark, which was secretly recorded, Clark tested Milhon for the HIV virus and declared him HIV positive. Before the test, she had Milhon sign a statement saying he understood she was not a medical doctor. Clark then directed Milhon to a local medical laboratory to have an HIV/antigen blood test to verify her preliminary diagnosis.

When Milhon and Huffman returned to Clark's office later that day, Clark discovered that they were undercover agents. Even then, Clark insisted that Milhon see a doctor about his condition. Although neither side would confirm whether or not Milhon had ever actually been tested, Milhon, now working in a different state, told WorldNetDaily, "I am not HIV positive, nor have I ever been, and I was not cured by any zapper."

Explaining the reading of her syncrometer, Clark said, "An electronic test like mine is much more sensitive and would detect a much smaller amount of virus than would be picked up by a chemical test such as a lab uses. The syncrometer does not quantify. It only detects presence or absence (of the virus)."

"Of course, when you can't quantify, you don't diagnose," added Clark. "Thus, it isn't a medical device. It's a detection device."

Not wanting to be the target of an investigation, and already having made plans to move to California, Clark moved her office to San Diego and left Nashville a few days later. According to court documents, however, the warrant for her arrest wasn't issued until Aug. 16, 1993. The warrant wasn't actively pursued until last month, Sept. 20, when Oliver extradited Clark from California to Indiana following an independent investigation of Clark by the FBI.

"This case is not about alternative medicine, or whether Hulda Clark's treatments are effective," Oliver explained. "This case is about an unlicensed individual diagnosing and treating patients. Only licensed physicians are permitted to diagnose and treat patients in Indiana." Many, however, believe the issue surrounding Clark's arrest goes far deeper than Indiana law.

The National Health Federation, a non-profit educational and health-freedom organization, is concerned that the prosecution of Clark may have more to do with medical politics—especially the billions of dollars earned every year by large pharmaceutical companies and the cancer industry—than with protecting the public.

"We are concerned that this may be the big issue," said a spokesperson for NHF who wished to remain anonymous. "She (Clark) is threatening the gigantic cancer enterprise."

Clark's attorney, Steve Dillon, expressed similar concern that his client was the target of a selective prosecution.

"What I'm afraid is really behind this is [that] the AMA (American Medical Association) wants to protect its right to the exclusive practice of any kind of medicine, and anybody who doesn't have an M.D. degree gets in trouble in Indiana," Dillon said.

Although Clark is being tried as a criminal, that hasn't stopped the hundreds of supportive letters from around the nation and world giving testimony to Clark's discoveries and encouragement...

...Clark's international following has also expressed its support...

...Regarding the rekindling of the six-year-old case, Dillon pointed out that the current prosecutor, Oliver, who was not the original attorney on the case, is now married to Huffman, one of two witnesses in the 1993 undercover investigation...

...Dillon said he plans to challenge the constitutionality of Indiana's statute on behalf of Hulda Clark.

"We believe it's overbroad and vague. We believe it violates her right to due process of law. We believe there was an unreasonable delay in bringing her to justice because she really wasn't a fugitive. You don't stay in your same name and stay in the country if you're trying to get away," Dillon said.

After Clark pled "not guilty" upon arriving in Brown County, Ind. and appearing before Brown County Circuit Court Judge Heather Mollo, she was released on bail for $10,000, which was reduced from $15,000. A pre-trial conference is scheduled to be held Jan. 24, 2000, and the jury trial is scheduled to follow on Feb. 2.

[JR: Let's hope the many supporters of Dr. Hulda Clark will make a difference in this "contrived case".]

SLAYING BLAMED ON REACTION TO HYPERACTIVITY DRUG

By Brian Witte, The Boston Globe, 10/25/99

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—Ten days after he began taking a widely used medicine called Adderall to control his attention-deficit disorder and help him with his college studies, Ryan Ehlis slipped into a psychotic fog and killed his infant daughter.

God, he said, told him to do it.

Today, the 24-year-old University of North Dakota student is out of jail and back in school, acquitted of murder by a judge who ruled his psychotic state was an extremely rare side effect of Adderall.

Medical experts and the drug's manufacturer say that, despite the slaying, Adderall remains a safe and effective drug for controlling attention-deficit-hyperactivity disorder, or ADHD.

Within days after taking the medicine in January, Ehlis started hearing voices. He believed God was telling him to leave his body and bring his daughter with him to save the world, said his lawyer, John Thelen.

His condition worsened until, on Jan. 30, Ehlis killed his 5-week-old daughter, Tara, with a shotgun, then shot himself in the abdomen. He recovered from the wound and was charged with murder.

Earlier this month, psychiatrists testified before a judge that the shootings happened solely because of a psychotic state caused by the prescription drug. Judge Debbie Kleven agreed, ruling that Ehlis lacked the capacity to understand what he was doing.

Ehlis has declined comment on the case but said he returned to normal days after he stopped taking the medication. He is back home with his common-law wife and three other children.

"I'm doing very well, and my family is doing pretty good, too, considering the circumstances," he said.

The drug's labeling warns that, in very rare circumstances, it can cause "psychotic episodes at recommended doses".

"We have always been aware there was a very slight risk of psychotic side effects with this drug, but this was the most severe case that's ever occurred," said Stefan Antonsson, vice president of marketing for Shire Richwood Inc., the Florence, Ky., maker of the drug.

Since Adderall was made available on a widespread basis in 1996, the company has received 10 reports of "general psychotic events" from the drug's use, Antonsson said.

"They all seemed to resolve without significant injury to the user or other people," he said.

More than a million Adderall prescriptions were written in 1997, Antonsson said. That figure rose to 2.3 million in 1998 and, in the first nine months of this year, the number has increased to 2.7 million, he said.

During clinical trials of the drug, Antonsson said, there were no reported instances of psychotic disorders.

Doctors are advised to prescribe it under close medical supervision. Ehlis did not seek medical attention, apparently because he did not realize he was having a psychotic event.

Dr. James Swanson, a professor at the University of California at Irvine who has studied Adderall, said he was surprised to hear of Ehlis' violent reaction.

"I knew that in high doses this would be a real concern but not at the typical doses that are prescribed for clinical treatment," Swanson said.

Thelen said the drug was prescribed to Ehlis by a psychiatrist, and Ehlis was taking the prescribed dosage.

As a boy, Ehlis had been diagnosed with ADHD and had taken Ritalin. Adderall is considered similar to Ritalin but is thought to be more effective in some cases for ADHD. Ritalin also carries a warning about potential psychosis in extremely rare cases.

In one of 10 extreme reactions to Adderall known by the company, Antonsson described how a 7-year-old boy became aggressive and defiant. When the boy quit using the drug, he improved, Antonsson said.

Ehlis is taking no medication for his ADHD, his lawyer said.

[JR: Has ANYONE noticed the increase of this psychotic behavior, especially in the "school shootings"? At least one of the shooters in the Columbine killings was reported to have RITALIN in his system but this fact was immediately hushed. Doctors, drug conglomerates and the FDA should be held accountable and not blame everything just on guns. These psychotic drugs are too easily prescribed by psychiatrists to school kids and others all over the country, and it now seems the dangerous side effects are not that rare. Ref. ADDERALL: generic name is dextroamphetamine...Approved for narcolepsy for children as young as 6; ADD (attention-deficit disorder) for children as young as THREE(!)...It is also called DEXEDRINE, THE INFAMOUS DIET DRUG OF THE 1970s & 1980s. Toxic ("unacceptable") side effects include "psychotic syndrome".]

PARENTS UPSET BY TEACHER'S ASSASSINATION-WRITING ASSIGNMENT

The Boston Globe, 10/25/99

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—A high school teacher was reprimanded for offering a list of possible topics for a writing assignment that included the question: "If you had to assassinate one famous person who is alive right now, who would it be and how would you do it?"

Parents said they were outraged, considering the string of fatal shootings of students and teachers at schools around the country.

"I think it was in poor taste, considering what's happened," said Valerie Ward, whose son is a 10th-grader at Franklin High School.

The issue arose from a single-sheet list of suggested topics for the students to write about in their daily journals.

Another question that upset parents, asked students whom they would save "if you had to lose everyone you know in a tragic accident, except one person”.

Administrators declined to identify the teacher in this community, about 30 miles north of Cincinnati.

The school's principal, Robert Leahy, told The Cincinnati Enquirer for a story, Monday, that he met with the teacher and told her the assassination question was inappropriate. Leahy did not return calls to his office for additional comment Monday.

Administrators said no further action will be taken against the second-year teacher.

Questions for the journals were distributed at the beginning of the school year for 9th- and 10th-grade English students.

“You get them thinking about how to off somebody,” Mrs. Ward said. “I hate to think that kids have to think about these kinds of things.”

Another parent noted that students in some schools have been suspended for merely talking about considering violent acts.

“They mention the word gun and they're out the door,” said Beth Kinzer, who has freshman and senior sons at Franklin High School. “She should get the same thing the kids would get—five days' suspension.”

[JR: The assignment may have been deemed inappropriate, after the fact, but this teacher planted the seed of thought into the minds of these impressionable young students.]

BOMBING OF CHECHNYA SIGNALS NEW PHASE IN CONFLICT

By Daniel Williams, Washington Post, 10/25/99

MOSCOW, Oct. 24—Russian artillery and jet bombers pounded more towns and villages in Chechnya today, and witnesses reported scores of civilian deaths.

The most severe attack occurred at Serzhen-Yurt, 20 miles southeast of the regional capital, Grozny. A Reuters television cameraman said he attended the funeral of 27 victims killed during the bombing at dawn.

Chechen officials, who repeated their call for peace talks with Russia, reported bombardments in areas virtually surrounding the capital. Russian spokesmen denied some, but not all, of the reports.

The bombings appear to be part of Russia's preparations for an unspecified second phase of the invasion. The first concluded more than a week ago, with the Russian blitz through northern Chechnya to the Terek River. Although some Russian officials spoke of holding that line and establishing a buffer zone along the river and the western and eastern frontiers of Chechnya, Russian troops continue to advance toward Grozny, which is south of the river.

Political leaders in Moscow have stopped short of ordering a march on Grozny, yet field generals speak more openly of taking the capital. They said that Chechnya won de facto independence three years ago because skittish politicians did not let the army do its job.

One television station broadcast interviews with infantrymen who pledged to “finish off” the Chechens. “Everything will be okay if we are not hindered,” said one.

“If we are pulled back,” warned another, “they [the Chechens] will regain their strength and this muddle will begin again.”

An assault on Grozny would essentially turn the battle against “terrorist formations” into a war to subdue all of the region. The war has begun to strain relations with the West, as alarm spreads over a rising civilian death toll. Chechen officials said 140 civilians died in an explosion

Friday at a Grozny market. Russian artillery and aircraft have indiscriminately bombed numerous towns and hamlets.

Last week in Helsinki, Russian Prime Minister Vladimir Putin assured West European leaders that he favored negotiations to end the war and secure Russia against incursions by armed Islamic militants. However, he asserted that no one controlled enough of Chechnya to ensure successful talks, least of all the Chechen government of Aslan Maskhadov.

Putin hinted that he was looking to deal with opponents of Maskhadov inside Chechnya. He said the breakaway region is divided into “separate territories headed by so-called field commanders”.

“We will have to assess all that, select those people who don't have blood on their hands and work with them,” he said.

[JR: There won't be any peace talks until the Russians know they have full advantage in the situation. There will be much carnage before that happens.]

LUMINOUS TREE TO BRIGHTEN CHRISTMAS

Deutsche Presse-Agentur, London, 10/25/99

British researchers say they can create a genetically-modified Christmas tree, lit by glowing pine needles—ending the need to untangle strings of electric lights and replace burned-out bulbs. Neurophysiology student Katy Presland, 29, said: “We're talking about a green, luminescent Christmas tree that glows in the dark and produces a noticeable light during the day.”

Ms. Presland and four other bioscience Ph.D. students from Hertfordshire University discovered how to modify a Douglas Spruce with genes that would make it illuminate, Britain's Press Association news agency reported yesterday.

Two genes are used, one of which produces an enzyme called luciferase and the other a substance called green fluorescent protein (GFP).

Both exist in glowing jellyfish, while luciferase is also found in fireflies.

The students invented the tree as part of their proposal for a fictitious biotechnology company, to be judged for its commercial viability.

The trees would be modified by infecting seedlings with a harmless bacterium carrying the genes. A chemical compound called luciferin is needed to activate luciferase, which “switches on” GFP and makes it glow.

The luciferin substrate would be mixed into a special fertiliser sold with the tree.

Although confined to paper, it would be technically possible to grow such a tree, Ms. Presland said.

“The only problem, in reality, is the cost. We calculated the initial trees would cost about £200,” she said.

[JR: Since the discovery of Gene-Manipulation (GM) techniques, scientist are in a frenzy coming up with new ways to use this knowledge for consumer markets. Notice the semblance in using LUCIFERin in this GM product to change what was GOD'S original intent. Only GOD can create; Lucifer can only manipulate what GOD has already created.]

MINISTERS DECRY MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION HONORING “EARTH RELIGIONS”

The Boston Globe, 10/21/99

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A mayoral proclamation recognizing Earth Religions Awareness Week is being criticized by local ministers, who say the event invites witchcraft into town.

Mayor Leni Sitnick has apologized to [the] offended clergy, but says the designation for the week of Oct. 25 will not be rescinded.

“I don't tell anyone how to believe, but I support everyone's right to freedom of religion,” she said. “Being aware of different religions, of all religions—should not be feared.”

The mayor's proclamation says pagan religions, or Earth-centered beliefs, are “among the oldest spiritual systems on the planet” and practitioners “have given us practical knowledge of herbal remedies, midwifery and alternative forms of healing”.

Local ministers were among a group of 25 people who protested the mayor's decree at City Hall on Tuesday.

“We just wanted to counter that by making a positive statement that we believe Jesus is Lord,” said Pastor Ken Lewis of the West Asheville Baptist Church.

Rev. Jim Dykes, chairman of the Community Council for Biblical Values, asked Sitnick to designate “Lordship of Jesus Christ Week” instead.

The Christian group also plans to ask city and county school systems for permission to present a “historical account” of the Christmas story in schools. State law allows for programs about religious holidays.

The call for a Christmas presentation was formed days after a Wiccan priestess presented a program at an area elementary school designed to dispel witchcraft myths, something she's done every October for the past four years.

The Wicca religion celebrates seasonal and life cycles, using rituals from pre-Christian Europe.

Minister Albert Bishop of the Riverside Baptist Church said he was concerned that students might get curious about witchcraft and experiment with it.

“If they see these things happening, they may see it as exciting, and that may send them to hell,” he said.

[JR: Why do you need a week of recognition of this new classification of “Earth” religions? Various devil worship is the only true Earth religion, because everyone knows GOD is not of this Earth. Where is the usual protest of the ACLU on “separation of church and state”?]

AUSCHWITZ MEMOIR A FANTASY, PUBLISHER ADMITS

By Allan Hall, The Times—London, 10/22/99

An award-winning book that purported to be the memories of a Latvian-Jewish man who had survived the Nazi death camps as a small child is being removed from German bookshops after its publishers declared it a hoax.

It is feared the confirmation that Binjamin Wilkomirski invented the story in Fragments will be invoked by the far Right as evidence that the Holocaust never happened.

Fragments was published in 1995 to vast acclaim from critics and the public in America and Europe. It was seen as a remarkable work and deeply moving testimony.

Wilkomirski claimed to have been adopted by Swiss parents after the war and to have had no memory of the Auschwitz and Majdanek camps and the ghetto at Riga until this was “recovered”, years later, by therapists.

Survivors of the Holocaust, and those who seek to document it, praised the work highly. It won many literary prizes, and the author gave lectures all over America.

But a year ago a Swiss writer, Daniel Ganzfried, whose own father was an inmate of Auschwitz, started investigating the author—who turns out to have been born in Switzerland, to be non-Jewish, and to be called Bruno Dösseker. "I found some of what he wrote about and the whole repressed-memory thing unbelievable," Mr. Ganzfried said. "I found a birth certificate for him dated February 12, 1941. He never suffered in these terrible places set up by the Nazis."

The book's German publishers, Suhrkamp Verlag, withdrew hardback editions last week and ceased offering it on its specialist Jewish imprint list. The author's agent had decided to do her own sleuthing to clear his name; but the historian she hired, Stefan Mächler, condemned him in a 100-page report. The publishers will make a final decision about the paperback shortly but say they have confidence in the investigation.

It is thought that Wilkomirski might have a psychological syndrome in which he finds meaning by having survived hell on Earth. Whatever the explanation, he maintains that the memoir is true.

[JR: The tragedy of the Holocaust is diminished when one compromises the truth for personal gain or agenda.]

REVOLUTIONARY TECHNOLOGY TO KILL E.COLI AND OTHER DEADLY PATHOGENS

The Boston Globe (AP), 10/25/99

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 25 /PRNewswire/—With the new millennium comes an advance in food-safety technology that will allow Americans to purchase millions of pounds of ground beef, poultry and other foods without fearing harmful food-borne bacteria such as E.Coli, Listeria monocytogenes, Salmonella and Campylobacter. Today, Senator Tom Harkin (D-IA)—long a champion of the fight for food safety and ranking minority member of the Agriculture Committee—joined the Titan Corporation (NYSE: TTN) and executives from the country's largest ground beef and poultry producers in introducing the nation's first electronic food pasteurization facility that employs Titan's revolutionary new SureBeam® technology to destroy harmful food-borne pathogens.

Already approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) with U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) regulations expected before year's end, Titan's SureBeam® system uses commercial electricity to pasteurize meat, chicken, vegetables and other foods without affecting their taste, texture or nutritional qualities. By using ordinary electricity, Titan's system provides a safer, more environmentally-friendly alternative to the use of radioactive elements such as Cobalt 60 or Cesium 137...

...Significantly advancing food quality and safety, electronic pasteurization allows food producers to eliminate pathogen threats from foods that are already packaged and bound for supermarkets, restaurants and other facilities.

According to the Centers for Disease Control, 76 million Americans suffer illnesses from food-borne diseases leading to more than 5,000 deaths and 325,000 hospitalizations annually...

...Already many of the country's major food producers, including Cargill, Emmpak, Hawaii Pride, IBP and Tyson have contracted with Titan to use the new technology once the Sioux City facility is operational and USDA regulations are final...

...The SureBeam® system uses high-energy electrons from commercial electricity to pasteurize food that has already been processed and packaged. Unlike other technologies that require foods to be exposed to radioactive materials for extended time periods, Titan's SureBeam® pasteurization kills bacteria in seconds, enhancing the food's quality and extending its shelf life. Electronic pasteurization has been rigorously tested for over 50 years.

Titan is the only company to offer a complete, high-speed, electronic pasteurization technology for food processing. In addition to extensive FDA, USDA and other governmental and academic reviews and studies, research on the electronic pasteurization of food has been conducted over a six-year period by Dr. Dennis G. Olson, Director of the Utilization Center for Agricultural Products at Iowa State University.

"The SureBeam® technology is as safe as a microwave oven," says Dr. Olson. "Since electronic pasteurization is effective on all types of meats, poultry, fruits, vegetables and grains—fresh or frozen—the process will revolutionize the way we safeguard much of our food supply."

Many prominent organizations have reviewed and support the use of electronic pasteurization, including the American Medical Association, the World Health Organization, the American Dietetic Association, the U.S. Public Health Service, the Institute of Food Technologists and the Mayo Clinic. The Safe Food Coalition and Center for Science in the Public Interest also look favorably on electronic pasteurization...

[JR: If this technology was known for over 50 years, why wasn't it used to control the worldwide spread of these food-borne diseases? These units also should be at all border crossings and ports for all imports. Why are they so quick to "radiate" our foods?]

FRENCH HAVE FED SEWAGE TO LIVESTOCK FOR YEARS

By M. Flecher, V. Elliott and P. Webster, The Times—London, 10/23/99

THE food war between Britain and France escalated last night with a disclosure that French farmers had fed livestock with sewage sludge—including animal parts and human excrement—for years.

A report from the European Commission denounced the French conduct as unacceptable, and...gave Paris just 15 days to produce an "action plan" for putting its house in order.

Britain was resisting calls for a ban on all French meat products, even though industry and opposition spokesmen demanded firmer action and their immediate withdrawal from supermarkets. British producers, furious at the apparent hypocrisy of the continuing French ban on British beef, threatened to intensify the row by demanding retaliation. The effects on public health of human and animal waste entering the food chain could be enormous, causing serious food poisoning and increased resistance to antibiotics. Most of the animal feed is used for French pig and chicken production. According to latest trade figures, Britain imports 95,000 tonnes of chickens from France, and many are sold fresh in supermarkets, as well as being used for ready-made foods and pies. Britain also imports 24,700 tonnes of pork, but beef and lamb imports are small...

...The Government told the French that it would be in their interests to lift the beef ban swiftly. Nick Brown, the Agriculture Minister, told his French counterpart that he would "categorically" reject calls for a unilateral ban on French agricultural produce because "we play by the rules and we would hope that all our European partners would do the same." His unspoken message was clearly that a decision to lift the beef ban was required, if France was to prevent a massive rejection of its produce in Britain. Tim Yeo, the Conservative agriculture spokesman, called on the Government to ban French meat and animal products. He condemned the "utter hypocrisy of the French Government".

European Commission officials found that plants producing animal feed included sewage sludge in the ingredients and added that it was "not fully clear" if or how the French authorities separated human waste beforehand. The report was the result of an "urgent mission" made by suspicious commission inspectors to France this summer. It reveals how animal feed plants have been recycling almost everything they can salvage from slaughterhouses, right down to the run-off that collects in septic tanks. That can include human and animal excrement, waste water used for cleaning and disinfecting lorries, motor oil and chemicals. At one point, French authorities were obliged to assure the inspectors that sludge from municipal sewage plants was never used...Most waste was heat-treated to kill bacteria, but that process was unable to remove chemicals and heavy metals.

The report says that "no further action was taken by the competent authorities against the plants, even where companies had recycled clearly prohibited material." France claims that the processing plants have all now stopped recycling sewage sludge, but Paris is still arguing about how "sludge" should be defined.

[JR: Britain will not ban the contaminated French meat products if France lifts its ban on British beef suspected of "mad cow disease". Is it only just a matter of trade, or is health the real factor here? Where does our FDA stand on this issue?]

KNOW YOUR TAXPAYER: IRS EYES E-DISCLOSURE OF TAXPAYER DATA

Privacy Times, 9/28/99

In a move that likely will raise privacy concerns, the Internal Revenue Service has announced it wants to test a new system that allows taxpayers to electronically authorize the release of their tax records to third parties, like mortgage companies and credit bureaus.

The IRS said it expects to launch a pilot project in California designed to transmit a consenting taxpayer's records—possibly over the Internet—to a third party within 24 hours, rather than the seven-to-ten-days it takes under the current, paper-based system...

...Confidentiality will be a priority, the IRS vowed. "Although this information is supplied by the Contractor at the taxpayer's consent, the IRS will require that all information received through this program meet...stringent security requirements." These include prohibiting any secondary use, and maintaining tax data in "locked containers". However, few, if any, national laws restrict private companies' use of tax records once obtained.

The widening reliance on tax records by mortgage companies, schools and other non-tax agencies has been a source of unease for privacy advocates. Section 6103 of the Tax Code strictly safeguards taxpayer data, but allows for disclosure with taxpayer consent. Many mortgage companies, however, effectively require self-employed loan applicants to "consent" to the release of their tax data as a condition of obtaining a loan. The release form, Form 4506, is usually among the myriad of papers that individuals sign when applying for mortgages or other forms of credit. Of the six million people authorizing such disclosures, roughly two million of them do so at the behest of financial institutions, the IRS said...

[JR: Anyone who believes that their IRS records are "privacy"-secure is in dreamland. Even our tax payments are sub-contracted out.]

New Gaia Products

Order by Mail		1999 Order Form		Order by Phone
New Gaia Products P.O. Box 27710 Las Vegas, NV 89126				1 (800) NEW-GAIA (639-4242) 1 (702) 263-5181 FAX
(Please Print)
Name		Date
Street Address
City/Town		State/Prov.		Zip Code
Daytime Phone No.
Credit Card No. (Visa, Master Card or Discover)			Expiration Date
Signature For Credit Card Orders

* SHIPPING & HANDLING RATES:

FOR: CA, WA, OR, AZ, MT, UT, ID, CO, NM, WY, NV		FOR THE REST OF CONTINENTAL USA
$ 0-100	$6.00	$ 0-100	$8.00
$ 101-200	$7.00	$ 101-200	$9.00
$ 201-300	$8.00	$ 201-300	$10.00
$ 301-400	$9.00	$ 301-400	$11.00
$ 401-500	$10.00	$ 401-500	$12.00
$ 501-600	$11.00	$ 501-600	$13.00

ALASKA & HAWAII PLEASE CALL FOR SHIPPING RATES

NOTE:

-  For UPS 2nd day to Rural Alaska, please call for rates.
-  For Priority Mail to any locations, please call for rates.
-  All Foreign orders, please contact our office in writing for specific rates as rates vary greatly.
-  When ordering cases of product call for shipping rates.

FOR ALL BREAD MACHINES, BREAD MIXES, FLOUR ORDERS, PROGRAM STARTING PACKAGES AND MAINTENANCE PACKAGES, CALL FOR SHIPPING COSTS.

Item	PRICE PER UNIT	Qty.	Amount	Item	PRICE PER UNIT	Qty.	Amount
GAIANDRIANA LIQUID 16 oz.	$ 20.00			OXYSOL Trace minerals & Colloidal Silver 2 oz.	$ 8.00
	$ 40.00				$ 45.00
AQUAGAIA (Mitochondria) LIQUID 16 oz.	$ 20.00				$ 75.00
	$ 40.00			GAIACLEANSE KIT 14-DAY PARASITE PROGRAM	$ 48.00
GAIALYTE 2 liters	$ 8.50			Individual components sold separately—call for prices
	$ 15.00			GULF WAR SYNDROME "Starter Kit"	$260.00
KOMBUCHA TEA BREEZE 1 liter	$ 3.50			GAIASORB NEUTRA-BOND 2 oz.	$ 6.00
	$ 6.00			NICOTINE__ CAFFEINE__ ALCOHOL__
KOMBUCHA TEA VINEGAR 16 oz.	$ 6.00			SUCROSE__ STARCH__
CARBRAGAIA (FIBRINO-CARTILAGE) 8 oz.	$ 8.50			GAIASORB NEUTRA-BOND TRAVEL PACK	$ 15.00
MELLOREAM BEVERAGE POWDER 3.25 lb	$ 15.00			*HITACHI (HB101) BREAD MACHINE
"3 IN 1" GRAPE SEED EXTRACT 60 CAPSULES	$ 18.00			(FACTORY BLEMISHED/REFURBISHED)
"4 IN 1" WILD YAM EXTRACT 60 CAPSULES	$ 22.00			*GAIASPELT (Whole Wheat & Spelt) BREAD MIX	$ 3.50
A-C-E Anti-Oxidant Formula 180 TABLETS	$ 24.95			* GAIASPELT FLOUR 2 lbs. @ $1.25/lb.	$ 2.50
CHLORELLA 300 TABLETS/500mg. EA.	$ 21.00				$ 5.00
ECHINACEA GOLD PLUS 90 TABLETS	$ 24.50				$ 10.00
GAIATRIM — 30 Day Supply	$ 35.00			*GAIASPELT Kernels 4 lbs. @ $1.25/lb.	$ 5.00
GINKGO BILOBA (24% Extract) 180 TABLETS	$ 24.95				$ 12.50
OLIVE LEAF 60 TABLETS	$ 24.00			*PROGRAM STARTING PACKAGE	$130.00
OLIVE LEAF EXTRACT 35 PG. BOOKLET	$ 2.75			1 Bottle Gaiandriana (1 qt.) 1 Bottle AquaGaia (1 qt.) 2 Bottles GaiaLyte (2 liters each) 4 Pkgs. Spelt Bread Mix 5 Audio-cassettes
RARE EARTH CAPSULES 60 CAPSULES	$ 6.00			* MAINTENANCE PACKAGE	$ 80.00
POSLIN CAPSULES 60 CAPSULES	$ 6.00			1 Bottle Gaiandriana (1 qt.) 2 Bottles GaiaLyte (2 liters each) 4 Pkgs. Spelt Bread Mix
ALOE PLUS 77 60 CAPSULES/450mg. EA.	$ 16.95			* MICROWATER™ ELECTROLYSIS	$1100.00
ALOE FREEZE DRIED CAPS 90 CAPSULES	$30.00			ALKALINE/ACIDIC WATER SYSTEM
NONI 60 CAPSULES	$22.00			VORTEX KIT	$ 8.00
MEGA-MULTI VITAMINS 30 CAPSULES	$11.00			ADZUKI BEANS 50-LB BAG	$ 50.00
ALOE JUICE Whole Leaf Aloe Vera Concentrate (10X STRENGTH) 1 liter	$18.00			RED LENTILS 50-LB BAG
SUPER OXY (CHERRY-BERRY) (CRANBERRY-APPLE) 1 quart	$18.00
BODY BOOSTER 32 oz.	$20.00
LIQUID LIFE 32 oz.	$22.00
GAIAGLO LOTION 4 oz.	$20.00
HORSETAIL TINCTURE 2 oz.	$ 8.00
GAIA VITE Colloidal Multi-Vitamin & Mineral 2 oz.	$10.00
GAIA COL Colloidal Silver with trace minerals & Trace Gold suspended in a distilled water fluid 16 oz.	$56.00
	$96.00
GAIA GOLD Colloidal Gold 2 oz.	$20.00
	$112.00
	$192.00
GAIA DHEA Colloidal Dehydroepiandrosterone 2 oz.	$20.00
GAIA CU-29 Colloidal Copper 2 oz.	$10.00
GAIA TI-22 Colloidal Titanium 2 oz.	$20.00
GAIALIFE COLLOIDAL MINERALS 121++ 2 oz.	$10.00

PLEASE USE THE SHIPPING RATE CHART (located on the top of this order form) WHEN CALCULATING SHIPPING FOR ALL New Gaia Products.

* FOR PROGRAM STARTING PACKAGES and MAINTENANCE PACKAGES, BREAD PRODUCTS, MICROWATER™ ELECTROLYSIS, BEANS AND LENTILS PLEASE CALL FOR SHIPPING RATES.

PLEASE ALLOW 3 TO 6 WEEKS FOR DELIVERY.

Please make all checks and money orders payable to:

New Gaia Products
P.O. Box 27710
Las Vegas, NV 89126

TOTAL
SHIPPING & HANDLING
SUB TOTAL
SALES TAX	Nevada Residents only: add 7%
TOTAL ENCLOSED

PHOENIX JOURNALS LIST

THESE WORKS ARE A SERIES CALLED THE Phoenix Journals AND HAVE BEEN WRITTEN TO ASSIST MAN TO BECOME AWARE OF LONG-STANDING DECEPTIONS AND OTHER MATTERS CRITICAL TO HIS SURVIVAL AS A SPECIES AT THIS TIME. SINGLE Journals ARE $6.00; ANY 4 Journals ARE $5.50 EACH; 10 OR MORE Journals ARE $5.00 EACH (Shipping extra—see right.)

1. SIPAPU ODYSSEY
2. AND THEY CALLED HIS NAME IMMANUEL....
3. SPACE-GATE, THE VEIL REMOVED
4. SPIRAL TO ECONOMIC DISASTER
5. FROM HERE TO ARMAGEDDON
7. THE RAINBOW MASTERS
9. SATAN'S DRUMMERS
10. PRIVACY IN A FISHBOWL
11. CRY OF THE PHOENIX
21. CREATION, THE SACRED UNIVERSE
38. THE DARK CHARADE
39. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. I
40. THE TRILLION DOLLAR LIE...VOL. II
41. THE DESTRUCTION OF A PLANET—ZIONISM IS RACISM
42. UNHOLY ALLIANCE
43. TANGLED WEBS VOL. I
44. TANGLED WEBS VOL. II
45. TANGLED WEBS VOL. III
46. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IV
48. TANGLED WEBS VOL. V
49. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VI
50. THE DIVINE PLAN VOL. I
51. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VII
52. TANGLED WEBS VOL. VIII
53. TANGLED WEBS VOL. IX
54. THE FUNNEL'S NECK
55. MARCHING TO ZION
56. SEX AND THE LOTTERY
57. GOD, TOO, HAS A PLAN 2000—DIVINE PLAN VOL. II
58. FROM THE FRYING PAN INTO THE PIT OF FIRE
59. "REALITY" ALSO HAS A DRUM-BEAT!
60. AS THE BLOSSOM OPENS
61. PUPPY-DOG TALES
62. CHAPARRAL SERENDIPITY
63. THE BEST OF TIMES
64. TO ALL MY CHILDREN
65. THE LAST GREAT PLAGUE
66. ULTIMATE PSYCHOPOLITICS
67. THE BEAST AT WORK
68. ECSTASY TO AGONY
69. TATTERED PAGES
70. NO THORNLESS ROSES
71. COALESCENCE
72. CANDLELIGHT
73. RELATIVE CONNECTIONS VOL. I
74. MYSTERIES OF RADIANCE UNFOLDED VOL. II
75. TRUTH AND CONSEQUENCES VOL. III
76. SORTING THE PIECES VOL. IV
77. PLAYERS IN THE GAME
78. IRON TRAP AROUND AMERICA
79. MARCHING TO ZOG
80. TRUTH FROM THE ZOG BOG
81. RUSSIAN ROULETTE
82. RETIREMENT RETREATS
83. POLITICAL PSYCHOS
84. CHANGING PERSPECTIVES
85. SHOCK THERAPY
86. MISSING THE LIFEBOAT??
87. IN GOD'S NAME AWAKEN!
88. THE ADVANCED DEMOLITION LEGION
89. FOCUS OF DEMONS
90. TAKING OFF THE BLINDFOLD
91. FOOTSTEPS INTO TRUTH
92. WALK A CROOKED ROAD WITH THE CROOKS
93. CRIMINAL POLITBUROS AND OTHER PLAGUES
94. WINGING IT....
95. HEAVE-UP (Phase One)
96. HEAVE-HO (Phase Two)
97. HEAVE 'EM OUT (Phase Three)
98. ASCENSION OR NEVER-EVER LAND?
99. USURPERS OF FREEDOM IN CONSPIRACY
100. BUTTERFLIES, MIND CONTROL—THE RAZOR'S EDGE
101. THE BREATHING DEAD AND CEMENT CHILDREN
102. SACRED WISDOM
103. CONFRONT THE NOW CREATE THE FUTURE
104. FIRST STEPS
105. AMERICA IN PERIL—AN UNDERSTATEMENT!
107. RING AROUND THE ROSIE...!
130. TRACKING DOWN THE KILLER
"AND OTHER FORMS OF MURDER" (The Health Book)
222. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 1;
223. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 2;
224. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 3;
225. BIRTHING THE PHOENIX VOL. 4
227. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 1;
228. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 2;
229. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 3;
230. RISE OF ANTICHRIST VOL. 4

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT JOURNALS, BOOKS, ETC., MENTIONED IN THIS NEWSPAPER, PLEASE INQUIRE:

PHOENIX SOURCE DISTRIBUTORS, Inc.
P.O. Box 27353
Las Vegas, Nevada 89126

(or call)
1-800-800-5565
(Mastercard, VISA, Discover)

Phoenix Source Distributors SHIPPING CHARGES:

USA (except Alaska & Hawaii)
UPS-$3.75 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l

ALASKA & HAWAII
Bookrate-$2.50 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
Priority-$3.40 1st title, $1.00 ea add'l
UPS 2nd day-$9.00 1st title, $1 ea add'l

CANADA & MEXICO
Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$4.50 1st title, $2.00 ea add'l

FOREIGN
Surface-$3.00 1st title, $1.50 ea add'l
Airbook-$8.00 per title estimate

(Please allow 3-4 weeks for delivery on all book orders)

PLEASE NOTE:
CONTACT and Phoenix Source Distributors are NOT the same! Checks sent for JOURNALS or book orders should NOT be made out to CONTACT—and vice versa.

Editorial Policy

Opinions of the CONTACT contributors are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of the CONTACT staff or management.

CONTACT: THE PHOENIX EDUCATOR is published by CONTACT, Inc.

P.O. Box 27800
Las Vegas, NV 89126
Phone: (800) 800-5565

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Subscription orders may be placed by mail to the above address or by phone to 1-800-800-5565. Subscribers: Expiration date appears on upper left side of mailing label.

Quantity Subscriptions: U.S. For Foreign subscriptions call or write for shipping charges.

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTIONS		QUANTITY SUBSCRIPTIONS
Qty OF ISSUES	U.S.	U.S. w/ENVELOPE	CAN/	FOREIGN	Qty OF ISSUES	10 COPIES	25 COPIES	50 COPIES	100 COPIES
13 ISSUES	$30	$40	$40	$45	13 ISSUES	$95	$125	$160	$275
26 ISSUES	$60	$80	$80	$90	26 ISSUES	$190	$250	$320	$550
52 ISSUES	$110	$150	$150	$170	52 ISSUES	$380	$500	$640	$1,100

BACK ISSUE RATES

Miscellaneous copies of individual back issues are $3.00 each copy

Shipping is included in the price for U.S. orders

Foreign please call or write for additional shipping charges

TELEPHONE HOTLINE 661-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then there is currently no Hotline message.