FBI Philippines Visit To Shelter Global “Backbone”

11/5/99—#1

BIG DAY TODAY, GET PREPARED

Hatonn—Are earthquakes a’comin’? Yes, a BIG ONE. It is called the Head of the FBI and his head honchos. Ah, indeed, they are “coming to help fight crime in the Philippines”, you know, as in drugs, street crime, etc. You realize, don’t you, that the FBI always shows up in the most tiny, little, Third World countries to “help fight local crime”. Not, possibly, a bad idea—since the Philippine Investigation Bureau literally blows itself up from time-to-time.

HOWEVER, GET THIS STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE’S MOUTH: THEY ARE COMING, TOP LEVEL, TO, FRANKLY, SHELTER THE GLOBAL “BACKBONE”. Are they out to STOP use of the Global possibilities? Come now, the Global product has already BEEN PROVEN, and WE have already made our agreements to KEEP IT UNDER CONTROL, AS TO USE.

Are the Feds coming all the way from downtown America offhand—like, before the CIA can even act? NO, the CIA has never been absent from the Philippines through all of this stuff. Well, it has protected our team up to now, according to agreements, but it is time to reach out for better protection—TODAY, E.J.

For your security, I ask that you remain on the more inaccessible floors of the Hotel so that security can be maintained. And we have to present more public attention—LIKE NOW, TODAY. I’m sorry, but you can do this.

I would like you to compile, on disk, something that can be used by the various papers. The information needs to flow with intent to be read. This means a lot of responses, so be prepared.

Be prepared with backup information, as in “our packages” with public notices outlining our ongoing agreements, as well as documentation regarding origins, etc. That can be handed to the writers, personally, or can be picked up by the press. HOWEVER, DO NOT HAVE PRESS CONFERENCES. THESE PEOPLE ARE GOING TO HONOR OUR SECURITY AND PRIVACY OR

WE WILL NOT MEET WITH THEM AT ALL. AND AT THIS TIME THERE WILL BE NO PICTURES! WE ARE NOT HERE FOR PUBLICITY; WE ARE HERE TO OFFER BACK WHAT IS RIGHTFULLY THAT OF THE PHILIPPINES. AND, WE EXPECT TOTAL RESPECT, SECURITY AND SAFETY.

If this is not big enough to interest these newspaper publishers and columnists, then so be it. You have met with Soliven prior to now, and you might well remind him of same.

I do suggest that you handle the “package” of information by cover letter much as a “Press Release” to the top editors. It is time to bring these things to public attention.

I suggest you hold up actual distribution until too late to interrupt the meeting scheduled tomorrow—but be READY and do, by all means, get this writing back to CONTACT immediately, for public running and possibly as an “Extra”. I believe the regular press run will be sufficient.

I also want the message to Millers, regarding the house & property, to be in their hands prior to the meeting over here in the Philippines. We are going to have help and cooperation in this time of need, or we are going to move on into hardball. My requirements regarding that Tehachapi matter also rest in the hands of the CIA, FBI and proper authorities.

The problem is, of course, that the Chinese are going to use these fundamental assets to put China on a gold-standard WITH VALUE, and they will take it ALL—as within our agreements of limitation. I am obligated and committed to utilize the assets WHERE THEY ARE FIRST “ACCEPTED” OPENLY. Remember that Russell had a Chinese “wife”! I have obligations to Russell. Russell also was in the middle of an “offer” exchange with the Chinese, at his demise. I have to honor those commitments and arrangements, although it need not involve you of the team AT ALL.

The “limitations” are not necessarily on “issuing” offers—BUT ON THE FULFILLMENT OF THOSE OFFERS. If the Philippines passes their opportunity window, so be it.

The people, of course, have never bought the tale of Yamashita gold. But, if not from some source of that magnitude—could anyone have amassed these incredible TRILLIONS of dollars in gold and other treasures?

The myth of Marcos stripping the Central Bank is ludicrous, even more so is that of the Yamashita lie. The Philippines had been devastated in the war. To suggest that the Central Bank could have had so much wealth in gold or assets is ridiculous, and more ridiculous than the Yamashita silliness.

GOD, HOWEVER, IS AN EQUAL-OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER. REMEMBER IT!

Immorality and corruption are unsurpassed in the world today. The King and Queen of corruption are ALSO alive and well, in both the U.S. and in the Philippines. They can now start to clean it up and sweep it out—or their incredible wealth will be lost to them.

It is exactly the same as those taking the property of yours, Ekkers, while you were away and about our Father’s business. They will sweep themselves right into the dumpster, along with the rat-poop. Opportunities usually come only ONCE. Is this a “threat”? No, it is a FACT. Deny God and opportunities offered by and through God, and you have erred in good judgment. Make it difficult for my messengers and team—and you have erred a thousand times over.

So, I am asked how could the property issue be set to correct? ONE WAY: Return every last item of personal property, bring up the dwelling to ABOVE STANDARD, with new carpets throughout, of Ekkers’ choosing, redo the kitchen areas and bathrooms/laundry area as to floor-covering, as Ekkers had PLANNED TO DO—WHILE THE HOUSE IS EMPTY, paint every inch of the inside walls and return all furniture to its placement, exactly as was, with eagles. The other miscellaneous can be left for sorting and replacement. Hook onto the natural-gas system and replace water heaters.

The downstairs offices will be left empty of furniture and office files, etc. That is so that a direct accounting of missing files, etc. can be established, AWAY FROM THE HOUSE, and offices will not again be in the home to the extent prior to now—so that security is never again breached, as in “just take over because it is a dwelling”. The appliances of small variety will be returned with care to the attic area, for those were preparation things for use with family and friends.

This move will be overseen by the CONTACT team and Ekkers’ family. The moving will be done by professional MOVERS. The areas maintaining storage of miscellaneous—as to non-furniture, etc.—will be carefully and orderly reestablished until attention can be given. The stored items in the “meeting room” will be taken to the “tea room”, so that we can use the meeting room. YES, WE WILL WANT TO USE THAT MEETING ROOM, AS WELL AS SOME OF THOSE WONDERFUL ITEMS.

THERE WILL BE NO PERSONS WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE THEFTS IN BEHALF OF SPECTRUM ON THE PROPERTY AT EITHER PLACE, THE APPLE CENTER OR THE DWELLING. UNFORTUNATELY, THAT INCLUDES MILLERS. They cannot be trusted, and they will have NO ACCESS to either property.

It is up to Millers to see to it that the missing items are returned and delivered by third parties—to the Apple Center—or turned over to professional movers for replacement.

The bird aviaries are too late to save. But, replacement aviaries for those birds would be built to suit Kunicks, who have the responsibility of caring for those animals.

With that accomplished, the entire episode would be forgiven and the house would be “paid off”, exactly as was always the plan, when the funding flows. That is very soon now.

This is the final opportunity in that matter. The takeover by the Spectrum false-prophets will not be tolerated, and legal recourse will be taken for “damages”.

You have not believed that God would possibly be working with my people? Fine. The time of the Lord IS AT HAND. And you who have made the way difficult for MY PEOPLE, in your efforts to secure failure, shall not prevail. THIS IS SIMPLY THE WAY IT “IS”.

ANY INDIVIDUALS WITH INTENT—TRUE INTENT (AND I KNOW)—FOR SERVICE IN TRUTH, WILL BE WELCOMED WITHIN THE TEAM. THE BREAK-AWAYS WILL BE LEFT TO MAKE OTHER CHOICES. I ALWAYS TOLD YOU TRUTH—AND OUR GOALS AND HOW IT WOULD COME TO BE. IT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE TO BRING DELIBERATE DAMAGE UNTO MY PEOPLE. AND YES, TO MILLERS: THIS IS UP TO YOU, AS TO YOUR ACTIONS. EKKERS WILL BE BACKED SUFFICIENTLY TO FIGHT THE PROPERTY CASE TO THE END OF DAYS.

YOU OF THE GAMESMEN THOUGHT YOU WOULD PREVAIL AND WE COULD NOT GET IT DONE? WRONG! IT IS DONE AND IS SUCCESSFUL. WE ONLY HOLD FOR YOUR FINAL DECISION AND, NO, WE WILL NOT SETTLE FOR SIMPLY RETURNING ANYTHING. HOWEVER, LEGALLY, THE MORE YOUR MISFITS HAVE TAKEN—ESPECIALLY BUSINESS AND PERSONAL ITEMS AS WELL AS BUSINESS-OWNED PROPERTY, I.E., EQUIPMENT, ETC.—THE WORSE THIS IS GOING TO BE.

How can we prove that “your guys have stuff”? Oh, they are not so smart, Mrs. Miller. They are copying personal things from a lifetime past and distributing them around. I suppose it is to prove their idiocy and to make YOU LOOK THE FOOL. RICK HAS PROVEN TO THE WORLD THAT THE SPECTRUM THIEVES HAVE TAKEN THE FILES—THE BOXES OF IMPORTANT PAPERS, CORPORATIONS, ETC. AND, “HOLDING THEM FOR HOSTAGE” IS ONLY LOOKING REALLY BAD.

By this afternoon, Dharma, the final arrangements for the loan should be concluded and in place, and the immediate pressures back home should stop. There will be sufficient to handle everything. If you feel better, personally, to have a lot shifted into the attorney’s trust account, do so immediately on clearing the account structuring. That ends the problems as to the Institute, for which you have been blamed. Let us just get it all cleared, please, for we have much to do and places to go before we settle to “rest and sleep”.

No, you will NOT, Ekkers, bargain further over MY PROPERTY, MY HOUSE OR MY LOCATIONS. THIS IS NOT YOUR RIGHT NOR “DEALING” TOOL. THE LADIES AROUND CAN CHOOSE THE PROPER CARPETING, IN BETTER COLORINGS THAN WHITE OR OFF-WHITE, TO MAKE LIVING EASIER TO MAINTAIN. The tile or hard-floor areas would look very good in parquet flooring or simulated oak, to match the “kitchen cupboards”.

I direct that PROFESSIONAL PAINTERS, etc. be brought in to do the work; there will be NO MORE OF MY ENEMIES ON THE PREMISES, AT EITHER LOCATION.

THE TITLE TO THE PROPERTY HAS NOW BEEN CLOUDED BY MILLERS’ ACTIONS—AS TO SELLING, AT AUCTION, THAT PROPERTY. THE TITLE WILL BE CLEARED AND SETTLEMENTS MADE WITH ALL INVOLVED PARTIES. FUNDS WERE TAKEN FROM THE CARETAKER(S) OF THE RENTAL AND TAX FEES. THIS DOES MEAN THAT BOOKS FROM P. LEINTHALL MUST BE TURNED OVER, SO THAT ACCOUNTING CAN BE DONE AND PROPER DOCUMENTS PUT INTO ORDER. THE TITLE, HOWEVER, WILL BE CLEARED PROPERLY, SO THAT ANYTHING REGARDING THAT PROPERTY IS SECURED BEFORE ANY PERSONAL ITEMS, FURNITURE, ETC. ARE RETURNED TO THE PROPERTY.

THIS IS NOT A NEGOTIABLE “DEAL”. THIS IS MY OFFER, AND THIS WILL BE UNDERWAY TOWARD ACCOMPLISHMENT BY NOVEMBER 15, 1999—OR NEGOTIATIONS ARE ENDED, AND LEGAL ACTIONS SHALL BE UNDERTAKEN.

ANY WHO HAVE USED MILLERS FOR YOUR PURPOSES ARE NOT INCLUDED IN NEGOTIATIONS, NOR SHALL THERE BE BARGAINING TO PROTECT ANY OTHER THAN MILLERS. INNOCENT PARTICIPANTS WILL HAVE CONSIDERATION.

THIS PROPOSAL IS OFFERED DIRECTLY BY COMMANDER YEORGOS CERES ATON AND IS NOT “UP FOR NEGOTIATION AS TO TERMS”, FOR THE TERMS ARE LAID FORTH, ABOVE.

AND WHEN? Starting right NOW and to be finished by February 1 of 2000—moved in and ready for occupancy.

This is to be published in CONTACT, please. Immediately.

I said that I would protect my people and I WILL PROTECT MY PEOPLE!

Millers will suffer NO LOSS of either assets or stature. Every event and bit of assistance has been humbly appreciated. However, they do need to correct what has been done, no more and not one iota LESS.

We are accomplishing our mission, and there is no reason that old friends can’t become ever stronger and relationships ever more joyful.

I need my overseas team undistracted at this movement of a world into the next phase, for they are my “hub”. And so shall it come to be.

HEY, WHAT'S HAPPENING?
LOTS AND BUNCHES.

There is a major shakeup afoot, and the ongoing conferences and debates are suddenly taking a most difficult pattern for those in "power". This, of course, is regarding the Global (G.A.I.A.) matter.

Because the FBI is making an appearance and the cause is being so stupidly projected, we will allow the playing of one last game here, while the "Big Honchos" pull back their guns and release their saddles. A nation like the U.S.—which is a front for everything—and actually established the Global consideration as to proving it—does not send its top HOUND to clear up street-muggings in Manila. THIS IS VERY BIG AND VERY IMPORTANT.

I want you all to also consider that there are factions of all of these "oathed" departments and officers who want to reclaim the United States of America as a SOVEREIGN NATION, under the Constitution thereof. Oh, indeed, this is a matter of National Security and, yes, we allow for the silly games, for we have no interest either way. WAKE UP.

So, with this said, I will just offer what is in the paper today.

And by the way, no, the people "in the know" are aware of something big here but don't know exactly what is up, so I will also offer a part of Mr. Soliven's editorial this morning.

Did Ekkers know about this "timely" visit? NO, not until this morning—but, certainly, WE HAVE BEEN EXPECTING IT.

I will offer it without much comment, please.

[QUOTING from THE PHILIPPINE STAR, Friday, November 5, 1999:]

FBI CHIEF TO MEET WITH ERAP
ON FIGHTING CRIME

Crime-fighting efforts on both sides of the Pacific Ocean will be the focus in the meeting tomorrow between President Estrada and the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) DIRECTOR, LOUIS FREEH. [H: WOW, AND SO SUDDENLY AND TIMELY, TOO.]

The President, who was once chief of a national anti-crime commission, was until recently also the titular head of the national police, as Secretary of the Interior and Local Government.

Freeh, who is on a SPECIAL MISSION to discuss law-enforcement cooperation between the Philippine and American governments, is scheduled to arrive on board an FBI jet tomorrow for his meeting with Mr. Estrada.

It will be the FIRST time that the top official of the U.S. spook agency will visit the country. He and his party are to stay only for six hours.

Freeh's visit emphasizes the need for cooperation between the two governments in combating criminal organizations due to increasing terrorist activities around the globe.

Philippine law-enforcement agencies have been cited by U.S. officials for their role in the arrest of certain Islamic-fundamentalist terrorists wanted for the World Trade Center Bombings in 1993 and plots to bomb American airliners.

Sources from the U.S. Embassy in Manila said that Freeh is also expected to discuss with the President the highly publicized case of businessman Mark Jimenez, who is wanted by the U.S. government on charges of tax evasion, wire fraud, conspiracy, giving false statements and illegal campaign contributions.

The U.S. Embassy source said the "cooperative" meeting between Mr. Estrada and Mr. Freeh will also "provide an opportunity for the two governments to review the extradition/mutual legal-assistance treaty between the Philippine and American governments".

"This may be reviewed in detail, particularly its long-term impact on the extradition treaty," a U.S. Embassy official said.

Also expected at the meeting are Foreign Affairs Secretary Domingo Siazon Jr., Interior and Local Government Secretary Ronaldo Puno, Justice Secretary Serafin Cuevas and Undersecretary Regis Puno, Defense Secretary Orlando Mercado, National Security Adviser Alexander Aguirre and military-intelligence chief Maj. Gen. Jose Calimlin.

Palace sources, on the other hand, said the meeting between Mr. Estrada and Mr. Freeh will touch also on fighting the drug menace, which has been identified as the leading cause of crime in the country.

Other vital areas of concern would include efforts to improve monitoring capabilities and the eventual eradication of terrorism, as well as organized and transnational crimes, such as alien and contraband smuggling, trafficking in women and children and money laundering. [H: My goodness, do you suppose they are after George Bush, TOO?]

Since the approval of the RP-U.S. Visiting Forces Agreement last May 27, new opportunities have been made available in terms of increased military and intelligence training, equipment and funding.

Freeh has received several awards for his efforts in fighting racketeering, drugs, organized crime, fraud and terrorism.

In his delegation are outgoing U.S. Ambassador Thomas Hubbard, legal attaché in Manila James Nixon, FBI Chief of Staff Robert Buckham, Deputy Assistant FBI Director for International Relations James Weber, Deputy Assistant FBI Director and general counsel Thomas Kelly, special agent in charge of the Honolulu division Myron Fuller, Special Assistant to the FBI Director Tom Almon and FBI International Relations Director for Asia Mike Dortan. [END OF QUOTING]

Dharma, I only want to use the first 8 or so paragraphs of Soliven's column [below] for today and hold the rest, which is relative to a book and is not of interest to this meeting.

[QUOTING from THE PHILIPPINE STAR, Maximo V. Soliven, Publisher & Chairman of the Board, Friday, November 5, 1999:]

DO THEY ALWAYS GET THEIR MAN?

By Max Soliven

When the top honcho—the Director, no less—of the United States' gangbusting agency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), leaves his yellow fortress-building on Pennsylvania Avenue (between 9th and 10th streets NW, Washington, DC) to go to a foreign country—it's not just news.

It's a warning sign that somewhere, somehow, in the neighborhood there's going to be—to dredge up that old-fashioned slang term—Hellzapoppin.

When the FBI big chief, Louis J. Freeh, brings along his Chief of Staff and two senior G-men, namely his Assistant FBI Director (for terrorism and drug syndicates), Deputy Asst. Director (for criminal matters and extradition), his special assistant, and a couple of other division chiefs, for a meeting with President Estrada and five ranking Cabinet members, plus the chiefs of our national security and head of intelligence, it's major "hell" they're bound to be talking about.

The fact is that Director Freeh is arriving tomorrow (Saturday) in the bureau's own executive jet, almost directly from Washington, DC—with a brief stopover in Honolulu, Hawaii, for meetings with his FBI division there—can only be a portent of something "big" in the air.

Is a major counter-terrorist operation being launched? Is there "clear and present danger" to the U.S. urgently to be faced in the multibillion-dollar drug trade? Are major arrests in our region being contemplated? Or clandestine strikes?

Remember, the FBI over the years has played either clean or dirty, invoking the same stoic claim that America's national security is "involved".

How are Top Agent Freeh and his Power Team going to play it here? What sort of cooperation are they seeking from our President—who once played "action hero" roles (two-fisted, gun-swinging) and one memorable gangster part, that of Asiong Salonga the hood?

For an FBI Director to make his first visit to Manila in paranoia, presages a number of significant events.

[H: Now, type, please the last few paragraphs. The middle of the article is interesting but spare us the time for other things today.]

What's Director Freeh doing? Does he run a more clean-cut, less grimly gung-ho FBI (like the Central Intelligence Agency where, I was once assured, the Feds got rid of their "animals")?

I remember how the famous J. Edgar Hoover—the almost all-powerful late Director who created the legend that "They Always Get Their Man"—manipulated even the high-and-mighty in DC with his tons of dossiers. (The new FBI building dedicated in 1975 is named the "J. Edgar Hoover Building", honoring the Bureau's chief of 48 years.)

Hoover was Asst. or Director from 1921 to 1972—serving under nine Presidents (Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon). When he died, in 1972, he was the first civil servant to be uniquely given the posthumous tribute of lying in state in Washington, DC.

The late President John F. Kennedy and his brother, later Senator Bobby Kennedy, both abhorred Hoover and his "dossier" practices, but he outlived them.

There is a special display in the FBI building, lauding Hoover and exhibiting the desk at which he worked.

Was he a closet queen? One author naughtily wrote: "There is only one known photograph of FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover kissing a member of the opposite sex. The photo shows him kissing young actress Shirley Temple." (Need it be said: Shirley was the famed child star—until, years later, she served as U.S. Ambassador—if memory serves—to the United Nations.)

However, this piece is not about the great J. Edgar Hoover's sexual preferences. Incidentally, he's a true product of Washington, DC, where he was born in 1895, and where he graduated in Law from the George Washington University in 1916.

He was the man who made the FBI what it is—feared and intrepid. For all his faults, that was an achievement. He died in office, aged 77.

The FBI was never intended to resemble the Boy Scouts of America—as we'll probably soon see for ourselves. [END OF QUOTING]

I think it wise to take this off the computer and turn it over to E.J. for instructions use. We will take up the Yamashita gold next but it is not crucial to this writing.

Thank you and good morning.

GHOSTS, GOBLINS, ANGELS AND FLIGHT 990

Hatonn—We wish to give appreciation to Lester in New Zealand for his gift of a calendar from New Zealand—“the” one used every day here in Manila. For you U.S. citizens headed for snowbound days: The calendar picture for November depicts a wondrous park in Christchurch, which is totally covered in daffodils of SPRING, and flowering shrubs and the new leaves of a promising year of life. Yes, it is Spring “down under”, and yet all of you—and all of US—are but a breath distant! Now isn’t that something for which to be glad on this morning—rain or shine? God is LIVING Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter in the perfection of HIS CREATIONS. Man tampers and still cannot even begin to impact such wondrous cycles of LIFE ITSELF. (Thank goodness!)

If you were in a time zone where you are a day earlier than most of the world in time counting, you wouldn’t have to nag so much about the “why” of some current happenings.

In one word, I can reply to the “how”: MONTAUK. What? An EgyptAir plane to fit “Halloween” tricksters, and a flight number as close to “999” as they could get, along with other coordinates at specified geographic locations other than New York, U.S.A.

To consider the question of why an EgyptAir airplane? Discipline, as in “crime and punishment”.

In Egypt there is scheduled a major and VERY EXPENSIVE blast at the Great Pyramid of Giza.

For you inquiring minds who don’t keep up: There is going to be a big French-Israeli show-and-tell at Giza. Hundreds of thousands of tourists are coming in to have millennium change show-and-tell. Among some of the things going on are laser light shows, holographic imaging and an overnight setting of the capstone (gold-plated) onto the pyramid (to be removed, they say, the next day).

THE EGYPTIANS WHO ARE “REAL” EGYPTIANS ARE TOTALLY IRRITATED AND ARE MAKING A BIG, LOUD PROTEST THAT IS HITTING THE NEWS, SO PAY ATTENTION AND YOU CAN GET THE PICTURE WITHOUT ASKING ME.

The claim and anger of the Egyptians is: Doing the capstone is a MASONIC symbol, totally unacceptable in Egypt, due to the fact that that VERY symbol is an “Israeli-Jewish-ZIONIST” symbol, represented even on the U.S. dollar note. (Note, they do say “note” and not “valid currency”.) The Egyptians object to such a blatant “Jewish” intrusion and consider the act legal reason for war—and not celebration of anything Egyptian.

Well, I disagree, goodly Egyptians. It is the final act of sending the message TO THE WORLD that the Serpent, Satan, has taken total control of the world, for it was in Egypt that he first took human form as a controlling entity that would be recognized AS SUCH, as this particular millennium would arrive.

This little, cute trick of Satan made the world news on the 29th of October, to also coincide with the Halloween celebration and give a SIGN to Satanists everywhere that Satan is alive-and-well and taking, they wish, FINAL CONTROL.

And you people of the Light—LET THEM DO THESE THINGS; from taking, through criminal actions, a house on Adam Drive (also not a coincidence) to killing at least “199” people on an airline off Nantucket Island—in direct line of Montauk.

A SOUTHEAST-ASIAN LOOK AT HALLOWEEN

Here, this holiday is a full, three-day event, where memorial focus on departed loved ones is honored to full extent, rain or shine. This is far more personal and precious than anything you others can conjure on “Memorial” Day. The big products of this holiday are flowers and CANDLES. Every kind of candle is made and sold, which depict connections with spirit-forms and when the “sixth sense” is most attended. Spirits literally make presence known and celebrations are family-oriented.

The “goblin” part of this holiday, however, is also FULLY RECOGNIZED here, in that very negative (BAD) energies also make appearances, and the myth goes that they search for a body to take. So, there needs to be the pre-day of dressing up in frightening costume to STAY AWAY the ghosts of these terrible energy forms. Now, it is twisted to such an extent that IT IS USED TO DRAW THE BAD ENERGIES. Whole battalions of police are at ready—but they are about as “bad”, any more, as any energies conjured. It is well recognized, you see, that THESE ENERGIES can only ACT through human beings.

Around all the cemeteries of major size, even the traffic has to be totally rerouted during these three days.

Even the big oil companies who control the life flow of all nations did it to the Filipinos: Gas went up in price the equivalent of about a $1 per gal., while the value of monetary exchange lost against the dollar for the peso. Nice world? No, not very.

Oh, indeed, BACK to EgyptAir Flight 990: IT WENT DOWN WITHOUT A TRACE! (???) Oh, it will resurface somewhere/sometime, but that was a total trick (not a treat for those aboard) of time-shift capabilities, of simply rearranging form and vanishing whatever is the target. You know: Here today and gone tomorrow, as in vamoose! I believe you had a ship a while back involved in something called the Philadelphia Experiment. Thank you for asking. Oh, by the way, the plane went missing at 2:19, “exactly”, a.m.!

IF YOU ARE NOT NERVOUS, PEOPLE, YOU

ARE ALREADY DEAD.

BACK TO THE SEMI-LIVING

I have left the geophysical topics to Soltec, but I need the scribe, so I will just offer you some reading assignments for the moment. We don’t need to write on the subjects for the “now”, because there is plenty of information available. Our writings are for historical significance, LATER, but the documentation needs to be done in the moment. For example, I refer to such as the plane vanishing, the Adam Dr. property, with its tricksters and thus-and-so. This is record-keeping and, in my Cosmic-Brotherhood role, I AM THE RECORD-KEEPER! PLEASE, feel free to look up these details.

We would turn a lot over to Cmdr. Korton, who is actually the Head of the Information/Communications department—but we have the darndest time keeping clear receivers available. And, no, don’t just go grab a pencil and wait. Where, for instance, is Joseph?

And NO, do not think I spoof about the Spectrum bunch NOT longer being our receivers—THEY ARE NOT OUR RECEIVERS, BUT THEY ARE RECEIVING FROM THE VERY EARTH-ORIENTED TRICKSTERS FINALIZING AND PERFECTING THE ZAP-MACHINES AND MIND-WARP GAMES. While you play over kitchen cabinets—you are so distracted as to be time for total panic, chelas. You have to attend the things of the moment—but do NOT let it become your total focus, to the exclusion of possibilities regarding those assaults against you from a much larger presentation.

It is very important that every step that puts the “enemy” into chaos or trouble must be established, but then hold, as we get our other work accomplished. This IS a time of bringing public, however, happenings. So, what can you do? Oh, lots of things. You can, for instance, run another public notice stating that the parties caught vandalizing the farm have been caught vandalizing and looting the Adam Dr. property, and then make a list for the Sheriff. These things MUST be documented and, even if the Sheriff will not accept your notice—BRAD ELLEY will!

Get all of our information forwarded to Brad which deals with property or our work over in Manila. We do not wish to open up e-mail to our “watchers”. And yes, Roby can also be named, for his son was present and “taking”. Property KNOWN to be missing should also be listed and reported, even to the things missing as to records and totally personal items. The Sheriff will be obligated to take a theft report. You must simply leave the list open for the present, but update it as information becomes available and legal interchanges are ongoing.

Now, I would like to pull attention back to our focus on such as the Marcos myths and truths, as established or pending, and Mr. Zobel. I gave you the background of the circumstances, so let us look at the ongoing press attention. Yes, it is important to YOU and to US. You can see an unfolding of the program in play. Some of you can see connections from our private conversations, but we will not offer anything which can be other than what is offered publicly. You who have need to know, WILL KNOW.

This is very important for our attorney to know, as well as corporate and corporation people who are going to have to straighten out the tricks of the Spectrum fools, as well as being available to serve in transferring corporations, setting up corporations (which will have nothing to do with our business) and beginning to lay that conduit for business flow.

There are all manners of ways to get funding to U.S. companies without dealing with anything like a “contract” of global nature in a domestic U.S. setting. But nothing will be done which places any of our people, business connections or team, in any circumstances of jeopardy—or even awkwardness!

I have not wanted to just up and make a major move away from NCH, in hopes that parties there would bring their own businesses into compliance with ethical and moral stability. That has not happened and they, too, wish to distance, further, themselves. They have now made that determination through their attorney, as a proposal, so we will be free to restructure.

Those corporations, however, which show as delinquent—LEAVE THEM DELINQUENT until we make our own program, properly. We do not just run about shifting anything because of a bunch of “shape-side-shifters”.

We have agreements with the “Powers-that-Be” and, if we do our business as, actually, “they” have outlined for us, we are in good waters, yea, even into ability to DRINK the water, it is so good. Just REMEMBER something: The adversary has to cover himself, also, and that is to prevent a total collapse of YOUR ECONOMIC SYSTEMS. And, NO, the little tricksters directly from the Big Adversary, himself, do not impact one iota—anything. They are pathetic poop-puppets. The Spectrum actions speak loudly enough—BUT YOU SHOULD SEE THE “INTENTIONS” WITHIN!

I like it; they just dig in deeper and deeper and, as sad as it is to see what they do to Millers, Millers chose this setting, and it turns out to be a true GIFT to us. Did they plan it that way? No, not consciously—but it will work to their security later, as regards their other interchanges with us.

The point now is that you of the team MUST FOLLOW UP with those who, “too late”, came and now offer to purchase that property for us. We don’t need that property purchased today—you need the farm lease attended, the Apple Center secured and living funds to assist with costs of that move, etc., in which you had to collect funds for service, costs and thus-and-so. That was SEVERAL THOUSAND dollars in immediate outgo—on the spot—without ability, being a weekend, to even get assistance. This is, however, where help would be gratefully appreciated—while we await the finalizing and shifting of our loan funds in Manila.

We have to do it this way, even if there are delays, to secure all of you from any possible impact on our programs ahead.

The worst that can befall our team now is that we are hit by something against “things”, as in the dwelling property. Well, you went through that and will find that the LAW is on your side, and God’s delays for perfection of sequence—do not in any way at all indicate God’s denials. HE JUST DOES THINGS RIGHT AND NOT EXPEDITIOUSLY TO SUIT THE HUMAN DRUTHERS! Each door that seems to close—HE opens at least a dozen windows—but YOU must use them. And YES, you ARE getting better at seeing the potential and the possibilities in each event—and for that we have spared nothing, for well over a decade.

You back home: DO NOT TURN FROM MILLERS. They simply did what they thought the correct direction of actions. They have been blighted by these hounds from Hell with the sweet and pious talk of smooth salesmen of dung. They actually did believe that this action about that property was “simply doing good business”. However, consequences of actions fall upon the good and the bad, and JUSTICE MUST BE WITHIN THE LAW.

Dharma, I would like you to offer copy from integrated excerpts from both the BULLETIN and THE STAR [newspapers], regarding the Zobel hearings in Hawaii about the Marcos “Umbrella” accounts. I want you to note that either Zobel is truly senile, or he is lying, or both. However that might be, he is full of ongoing information, because it is recognized that THINGS ARE TAKING PLACE FAR BENEATH THE PUBLIC’S ABILITY TO KNOW OR SEE.

I prefer to not enter comments, because I don’t wish to give advantage to any who are “really” against the upcoming program. But part of the publication and “notices” I give in CONTACT is through total agreement with our dealing parties. It is important that you know that I have agreed to do a running presentation, in recognition and confirmation of our ongoing agreements.

NO, I will not give away anything not public, in print, already presented. I will point up journalistic ERRORS but will not correct omissions. I only note one major faux pas, and that was in speaking of the price of gold as being some $700/oz when it actually was, on that day in point, in the $280s—listed in the same paper, that same day.

As a reader, please refresh your memories on this topic, for we will not take time nor space to do so.

[QUOTING, from the Philippine Daily Inquirer (DI) and The Philippine Star (PS):] [H: If you want confirmation or to run more on these topics, I know that the Star is on the Internet, and readers may find these ongoing topics interesting, as well as the accompanying pictures. Ekkers have no way to ship those pictures except through FAX, and the expense is not worth it. THIS IS, HOWEVER, VERY IMPORTANT, ONGOING NEWS RELATIVE TO “OUR” MISSION FOR WHICH YOU HAVE WORKED AND SAVED, PRAYED AND SHARED, AND I WOULD WISH THAT ALL OF YOU COULD GET EVERY UNFOLDING TIDBIT. YOU SEE, IT MATTERS NOT “WHO” IS A FOCUS—FOR NO ONE EVER KNOWS THE CONTRACT OF ANOTHER INDIVIDUAL, AND JUDGMENT IS FOOLISH, INDEED, IN THESE TYPES OF LIMITED TRUTH-IN-MEDIA PRESENTATIONS. SO, READ WITH “KNOWING” AND READ WITH INTEREST—DO NOT JUDGE; DO NOT OVER-SPECULATE AND DO NOT “LIMIT” ANYTHING, FOR ALL IS UNLIMITED, IF YOU ARE WITH CREATOR. YES, INDEED, THERE WAS A REASON TO DO THIS IN SOUTHEAST ASIA—BUT IT IS A GLOBAL PLAN AND WAS ALWAYS STRUCTURED BY PLAYERS TOWARD THAT EVENT.

There are also, from onset of the article, gross misperceptions—as the HEADLINES read: “ZOBEL: FM WEALTH IS $100 B”. In subsequent articles it is established that the wealth is well OVER $10 trillion (and growing). So keep your senses about you and THINK BIG. This is going to pull in the Vatican, the Holy Roman Church, the Yamashita gold—AND, FINALLY, GOD’S “EL-DORADO”. WOW, ISN’T IT FUN TO BE ON THE INSIDE PLAYING WITH GOD AND HOSTS? (!) AND, YES, MARCOS KNEW US—AND SO DID THE PLAYERS WHO FIRST STRUCTURED THE “GLOBAL” PLAN AND THEN TOOK IT FOR THEMSELVES! MAY WE ALL ENJOY THIS WONDROUS RIDE—SURELY, ANOTHER E-TICKET AT DISNEYWORLD.

I ask that this not be tampered with, because my running this copy in CONTACT meets the agreement to bring public some of the happenings so that ultimately the IMF, FED and WB innocents (those who knew no better) will be secure in their persons.]
[QUOTING, PS, Fri. Oct. 29, 1999:]

ZOBEL: FM WEALTH IS $100 B

HONOLULU—Industrialist Enrique Zobel estimated the wealth of the late dictator Ferdinand Marcos to reach $100 billion, or P4 trillion—an amount which could help pay the claims of human rights victims.

The amount, if true, can also shoulder the national government’s budget deficit of P87.5 billion, modernize the Armed Forces and build thousands of housing units nationwide.

In Manila, President Estrada said Zobel’s information remains a “speculation” that needs to be verified by the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee and the Presidential Commission on Good Government (PCGG). [H: Both are total oxymorons but never mind.]

The President cautioned the people against making rash conclusions about the Marcos wealth.

“The people are starting to get confused by so many speculations,” he said. “We don’t know who’s telling the truth.”

During a hearing at the Philippine Consulate here, Zobel also told the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee that former President Fidel Ramos, Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, the late Armed Forces chief Gen. Fabian Ver and a member of the Crisologo clan each received $1 million worth of gold bullion from Marcos.

Ramos has denied the charge. Enrile described the allegation as “stupid and fantastic”.

When Zobel asked Marcos why he gave them the gold, the late dictator purportedly told him, “My loyal na bata ko ang mgaiyan (They are my loyal boys).”

The 72-year-old Zobel told senators he came to know about Marcos’ assets when the late dictator tried to borrow $250 million from him to pay his staff of about 300 here.

He said he wondered how Marcos could pay him back, considering that the late strongman had just been ousted. [H: Note Zobel’s proper Khazarian nature presented.]

Marcos then asked his private nurse to bring him a folder full of documents, he narrated.

“I opened the folder and noticed that they were gold-deposit certificates and, looking at them, I made a very rough calculation that they amounted to over $35 billion worth of gold deposits, at the prevailing market price of $400 per ounce,” he said.

The current price of gold is $700 per ounce. This means that some of Marcos' gold assets could reach $61.25 billion today. [H: This is the journalistic information I referred to earlier. In my opinion, this one statement makes questionable every other statement in the article. Nonetheless, since almost all of it—including the Zobel statements—is also incorrect, we will leave it alone for now, but an error of well over $400 per ounce is some error, in my opinion, moving beyond dollar-peso and English-metric “rocket science” accuracy.]

On top of these, Zobel also submitted to committee chairman Sen. Aguilino Pimentel, Jr. a photocopy of the U.S. Treasury Department's Certificate No. 65089783422199675.F.L. [H: We'll talk about that one, also, one of these days. KEY WORDS HERE ARE “U.S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT” AND, ACTUALLY, THE ENDING, “F.L.”.] which showed that Marcos has $161 million in the United States.

Zobel said most of the Marcos assets are in Manila, while some are deposited in Portugal, Germany, Switzerland, the Solomon Islands, the United States and the Vatican. [H: Some of you, like Brad, will remember the Solomon Islands connection long-ago established, which was one reason the Ekkers could not return to the U.S. for a nothing “settlement” conference in Carson City. Thank you, Diane and Brad, for attending that matter for us.]

“Marcos talked freely of the details of these deposits, how he began accumulating them during and at the end of the war when he found part of the Yamashita treasure,” he said.

The industrialist also told senators that two officials of the National Bank of Saudi Arabia even went to his house here, saying they would buy all of Marcos' gold at a 40-percent discount.

“I relayed this offer to Marcos but Marcos said he wanted a 30 percent discount. The Arabian bankers refused,” he said, while disclaiming any knowledge of how the bankers got wind of the existence of the Marcos gold. [H: Now for confirmation of our delay in “interim” loan funding. Strangely, coincidentally, the “banks” want a far larger discount, with a BASE of 30%, and the people with the products demand, for the “mobilization” funds, a lesser discount. Isn't life wonderful in disclosure, IF YOU ARE PATIENT AND STAY THE COURSE?]

According to him, Marcos talked of the desire to use the money for the Filipino people after he passed away. Zobel suggested that Marcos form a foundation held in trust by the VATICAN through which the wealth could benefit the Filipino people. [H: Want to talk about foxes and chicken coops full of chicks?]

Zobel said he was convinced of the sincerity of Marcos, and asked a lawyer-friend to put the plan in legal form. He then sought the consent of the Aquino administration through her brother, Pedro Cojuangco.

“I heard later through the grapevine that Cory refused because babango si Marcos (Marcos will look good in the eyes of the public),” he said. [H: Well, my, my, isn't it funny that—as the wheel turns—Marcos IS NOW GOING TO “REALLY LOOK GOOD”, AND OLD CORY COULD HAVE MADE A LOT OF GOOD HAY WITH THAT OFFER. If we continue our direction, chelas in Manila, it will be Estrada that looks good, even after his silly escapades in fantasia land. AND, THAT IS

WHY CORY AND SIN ARE SO OUT TO SHUT DOWN ESTRADA. SIN KNOWS ALL ABOUT THAT VATICAN GOLD, AND INTRIGUE RUNNETH VERY DEEP.]

Marcos never got to sign the foundation documents, while members of his family expressed no knowledge of such plans or the extent of the Marcos gold. [H: Marcos realized he was simply being set up, AGAIN, and deliberately did NOT sign those agreements or documents with ZOBEL. Marcos was a shrewd person and LISTENED TO THAT SIXTH SENSE!]

The industrialist also said he told former First Lady Imelda Marcos that “she should not bullshit with me because I was not the press, and that I knew the President had the gold because he spoke to me about it.”

He told the Senate committee that Teresa Gallego, a former private nurse of Marcos, and Dr. Lourdes Pascual, Marcos' physician, would also testify before the committee about the Marcos wealth.

“They said they are willing to testify, provided I will testify first,” he said.

When asked why he testified only now, Zobel said nobody had wanted to listen to him. He also criticized the PCGG for allegedly not being honest to the public on what it had found and sold, and what arrangements it had made with the Marcos cronies.

“I am already 72 years old. I won't last much longer and I want to contribute something to the Filipino people,” he added. [H: Oh, MUCH barf-barf.]

Zobel, who had a near-fatal horse-riding accident nine years ago, had to be wheeled to the consulate and endured more than four hours of the hearing before it was suspended. The hearings resume today.

He submitted a 14-page affidavit to the committee, then affixed his thumb mark on each page with the help of his nurse, to indicate his authorship of the document. [H: Now you can possibly see why Dharma and E.J. pled for better ink-stamps—they have imprinted their fingerprints on EVERYTHING they touch to authenticate, totally, everything we present. This, with a seal of a corporate signature, validates far better than a Notary Public and is INTERNATIONALLY ACCEPTED, UNDER INTERNATIONAL LAW. If, in fact, there is a thumbprint with a signature, it expresses the “under perjury” statement in the text of any statement. Yes, I thought that even our attorney would enjoy this tidbit.]

Pimentel and Sen. Juan Flavio said they were convinced of the sincerity and credibility of Zobel.

They expressed satisfaction that Zobel's testimony has given the panel new leads on the Marcos wealth, and has opened the way for more testimonies.

The two lawmakers, however, refused to say if they would summon Ramos and Enrile to the next hearing on allegations that they had received gold bullion from the late dictator.

“We will evaluate the matter first but if they volunteer to appear before the committee to rebut Zobel's testimony, then they are most welcome,” Pimentel said. [H: Well, instead of that, let it be realized that Ramos would have been a child at the time Zobel uses. Moreover, suddenly Ramos has a mandatory speaking engagement requiring a TRIP TO THE U.S., “NOW”. AND THAT TRIP IS

NOT TO HONOLULU, U.S.A.]

In Manila, Sen. Raul Roco said Ramos and Enrile must explain their side of Zobel's allegations.

He said the side of the two protagonists of the EDSA revolt must be heard before any conclusion can be made.

ERAP AGREES ON REWARD

[H: This next is in the same article but its focus is different. I will ask that it be presented, for it says so much more than meets the eye in relationship to the above story and the press blew it again.]

President Estrada agreed to a proposal by Pimentel to put up a cash reward for any information that will lead to the recovery of the Marcos wealth.

Pimentel had proposed to give a cash reward of up to $25 MILLION, or roughly P1 billion, to anyone who can provide the government with new leads regarding the Marcos wealth.

He expressed belief that giving such an incentive would speed up 13 years of wealth-hunting.

“Perhaps, by adopting a system of reward for those who provide the government with credible and relevant information on the whereabouts of the Marcos hidden wealth, the people might just get their hands on it sooner or later,” he said.

In Senate Bill 1779, Pimentel said he is seeking a 10 percent reward for people who could give leads to Marcos money amounting to less than $100 million.

Seven percent would be given to those who could pinpoint the whereabouts of the fabled cash or gold amounting to more than $100 million but less than $500 million.

A five-percent reward would be granted to those who could tell where more than $500 million of Marcos money is stashed.

Local and foreign banks would also be given a 15 percent cash reward if they provide such information to the government.

Aside from the cash reward, informants are also entitled to immunity from civil or criminal suits for the information they furnish the government.

The Pimentel proposal disqualifies the Marcoses, their relatives or their associates.

“The bill would encourage credible sources of valuable information on the Marcos ‘ill-gotten wealth’ to come out in the open and help recover the same,” the senator said.

Meanwhile, Executive Secretary Ronaldo Zamora said they are trying to verify reports that Marcos has several parcels of his ill-gotten wealth stashed in the United States. [H: These “parcels” do not refer to gold or bank funds—the word “parcel” means exactly that, as in “boxes” of something quite important.]

He also said that the U.S. Embassy in Manila is also checking Zobel's claims.

[END OF QUOTING]

I would give some wishful clue-seekers a little step forward about all this heaped-up fall-da-roll. It IS going to turn out that ALL OF THOSE NICE ASSETS are PLEDGED to use as open COLLATERAL, protected by our little program, and to insure a fair, square and open “shake” on holdings—globally. I think everyone will finally and ultimately agree, we CAN DO IT.

Salu and good morning.

THREE-DIMENSIONAL WORLDS

Soltec—Professor Soltec present within the wondrous expression of physical mysteries. And, students, if I see farther, it is because I stand high on the shoulders of those who came before me—with a given expression of higher vision and recognition.

You of physical plane are limited by inability of higher sensing to reach beyond the limitation of your third-dimensional realizations, but are GIFTED with the capability of reaching beyond that limitation through MIND. However, the MIND must be filled with KNOWLEDGE, not mystical fantasies and mystic myths.

I note that you have grown and some are now truly capable of understanding the statements as to meaning but are patient to allow the learning to take place properly, through a proper sequence of input, so that comprehension of a subject can properly lay foundations upon which TRUE KNOWLEDGE can GROW.

My own experiences allow me to show you that which is limited within your own physical-sensing devices. These things are the things you MUST have to make progressive movement into and within higher realizations. The “topography” does not have to change, but the concepts, realizations, attitudes and mind dynamics MUST CHANGE and flow forward, lest you be swallowed up, as most are entrapped, within the limitations of silliness and foolishness of would-be kings and gods of every sort. THIS IS REASON AND LOGIC INTEGRATED WITHIN THE EMOTIONAL HEART—GIVING, REGIVING AND LOVE OF BROTHERHOOD. IN THIS “CHARACTER” OF EXPRESSION, WE “CREATE” AND, IN CREATING (AS IN CREATION), THERE MUST BE THAT FROM WHICH WE CHOOSE PIECES OUT OF THE UNREASONABLE, ILLOGICAL AND FALSE EXPRESSIONS OF LOVE (WHICH ARE ACTUALLY HATE OR INDIFFERENCE) OF WHAT IS PRESENTED FOR OUR SELECTION.

As an example: If you take “Shaman Oracle” who comes up with a gift from wherever and says, “This clears parasites,” wonderful! Share it. BUT, when you read contents of the product and find it is the SAME concoction, basically, as your own product—already proven—WHY CHANGE? If psyllium is the prime cleaning agent in the concoction, then you have an INFERIOR product to our own, in that the cleansing “sweep” is not as effective, has more allergen potential and does not have the ability to “scrape” the clinging (dead or alive) parasites attached to the intestinal wall—just hanging on for dear life, literally. I use this as an example because it is in current consideration from separated-out publishers trying to usurp more product and viewers.

By the way, for the concerted efforts of such as Rick Martin, et al., to be calling customers and clients disclaiming values of New Gaia Products, a new “low” has been achieved. For one wishing to make available, for mankind, drias for instance, to those in Appalachia and Ethiopia, this is a very strange way to accomplish that end; by working diligently to get the very product REMOVED from use by anyone! And yes, keep those records and hold them CLOSELY, for we will not be at disadvantage very much longer—even in “your” counting acceptance.

Drias, for instance, will HOLD FOREVER, for they are crystalline and, when not being fed or lighted, will simply hibernate (go dormant). They feed off light and other atmospheric particles which can actually pass right through glass as if it were not present, and that’s all you need to revive the activity. So, drias can actually be stored in open sunlight, if you want.

Colloids hold FOREVER, as well, unless there is some “outside” impact to cause the particulate held in suspension within the solution to be “dropped out”. The product is still good, even in that instance, if shaken before use. In small quantities, as in colloidal suspension, there is not enough metal, unless in massive overdose, to give harm. It is not the “best” use of product but, with metals and some minerals, too much can cause problems.

As to the natural products, they too, if stored properly, can have VALUE bordering on “infinity” but will lose some of their quality through time, as energy escapes and returns to its original and natural form. It is this energy radiation that WE USE by setting the silver colloid to “finish” in the energy field of the DRIAS. ENERGY PASSES THROUGH ANY CONTAINER AND DOES ITS OWN ALCHEMIZATION WITH WHATEVER IS NEARBY. EVEN THE VERY AIR SURROUNDING THE DRIAS IS PURELY WONDERFUL AND COULD, IN FACT, “HEAL” SICK AIR. AND NO, NO MAYAN SHAMAN CAN OFFER YOU THIS, MY FRIENDS.

But let us speak of my topic, as a reminder, for the day. I need to again focus on earthquakes because YOU ARE GOING TO EXPERIENCE SOME MIGHTY QUAKES. INDIA CAN, THIS DAY, FROM THE MASSIVE STORM BEING EXPERIENCED, “SHOW” YOU THAT ONE MASSIVE IMPACT OF THAT WHICH IS CALLED “NATURE” CAN AND DOES AFFECT ALL SYSTEMS.

In a relatively closed ecosystem, as is presented by a PLANET, the balance is maintained through the system itself. Get it out of balance and pressures build exponentially, and recovery is difficult as one system after another takes leave of its senses. You are then the pawns, which will be toppled, twitched and shifted as the BIGGER things take no note of you as individuals. The dog, for instance, in shaking off its fleas, is not taking note of a favorite flea, tick or mite.

We of God Creator will have to attend OUR PEOPLE, and Satan will not bother to attend any of his—and we certainly WILL NOT attend them FOR him. No, we do not mean as in “goody two-shoes”. We MEAN those in service and coalition with Creator, vs. those who are in direct conflict with our movement in a forward, creative circumstance, toward GOD (goodness and balance in harmony). Separate from God those of God’s true messengers and Hosts and you have denied self a ticket OFF THE CLEANSING ORB. Evil is not coming aboard to continue its dirty tricks. Yet, no, it does not mean that myriads of experiencing PEOPLE will be destined to doom, for placement at levels of experience will be cause for placement into proper settings for protection of soul.

We do not need judge, for that will take care of itself. And yes, many of the evil-intended will be left to the chaos, destruction and devastation of that which they have created. The better and positive “world” will move forward as we create her to evolve, while the remaining unbalanced “HELL” remains also intact but most uncomfortable as to living facilities. It is time we suggest you pay more attention to John’s revelation.

The FACTS are—and are those which are ignored and used against you—that there is a major SEPARATION already evolved. We have the basic “ingredients” already in place, and all that is necessary is the coalition of the parts thereof to simply have a major separation, as the goodly-intended move away and forward and the evil-intended remain or slide backward within their entrapment. We have no TIME, as you express it, however, to dwell on these topics, for the time of presentation is passed and we must move on. The information, as in these writings, will be established and mankind can grow of his own volition—IF HE SO CHOOSES. Those who serve in goodness will, of choice, be on the Lighted “side” of the mid-line. Those who are serving the evil side will simply, by stance, be pulled onto that side of the proverbial “line”. WE DO NOT MAKE THOSE DISTINCTIONS—YOU MAKE YOUR OWN DISTINCTIONS, AND IGNORANCE MAY WELL SERVE SOME, BUT IF AVAILABLE TO TRUTH—IT WILL SERVE YOU NEGATIVELY. You KNOW when what you are doing is WRONG, and all the conjuring and preaching or voting will NOT MAKE IT RIGHT.

FOLLOW WITH OR WITHIN THE LIE AND YOU ARE STUCK WITHIN IT. YOU MAY WELL FOOL SOME PEOPLE, YEA, EVEN ALL THE TIME, BECAUSE THEY ARE BASICALLY ALREADY SHARING THE LIE AND INTENT THEREOF. BUT YOU CANNOT FOOL GOD ANY OF THE TIME! SO, THOSE FOLLOWING THE LIE HAD BEST START TAKING A GOOD, HARD AND NOW, HURRIED LOOK AT SELVES AND INNER TRUTH. “THAT” IS WHAT IS MEANT BY “GOING WITHIN” TO ESTABLISH TRUTH FOR SELF. AND YES, INDEED, SOME HAVE “BLOWN IT” BIGTIME!

Let us look briefly at that to which you can pretty well relate, as to circumstances and individuals in your life: Have you ever done EVERYTHING right, only to see it all turn out wrong, in your perception? Does that mean you’re a bad person? Does it mean God has rejected you? Of course not. THIS IS “LIVING” AND IT IS CALLED “EXPERIENCE/EXPERIENCING”. Certainly, Ron Carlson did NOTHING remotely wrong—but he ended up in prison! So, what can you do when these things of injustice are done unto you? You keep right on doing and going with that which is RIGHT. Listen to Truth, respect and follow GOD’S directions and STAY CLOSE TO HIM. Then, beloved ones, stand back and watch HIM work HIS PERFECT PLAN. Within Truth, Love and Light—IS GOD—and that is THAT WHICH IS YOU!

ADVERSITIES ARE ONLY BLESSINGS IN DISGUISE!

WHEN ALL GOES WRONG, REMEMBER—“NOTHING” HAS GONE WRONG.

REVAMPING OF CREW

“Revamping” is only “my” chosen term for allowing easier flow of information, filling in where we need help (i.e. pictures, etc., which cannot inexpensively be provided from off-shore) and also allowing for more topics of timely interest to be presented in CONTACT. Our issues received in Manila are awaited like a new supply of candy in the candy store. YOU ARE A GLOBAL—AND WE ARE ALL NOW MOVING INTO A COSMIC—COMMUNITY. Accept that fact, for there is no running back to “before” Kentucky Fried Chicken and McDonalds. The people of the Philippines have as much right to ruin their health as anyone else in an affluent society. YOU CANNOT GO BACK AND CHANGE THAT WHICH IS PAST. We now move forward with opportunity to CHANGE the infrastructure, improve the ecology—and perhaps the impact, even as Nature can recover, will bring a start toward balance. You DO NOT take away the things of wondrous technology and societal gifts—you improve the quality of the people’s perception, desires and capabilities to have the things of thriving lifestyles. You will not have pornography and dissipation when an individual has his dream and actually experiences possibilities turned about into growth, rather than oblivion in alternative distractions. And yes, WE CAN DO THAT!

We are, therefore, depending on such as John Ray to continue to keep up with the wonderful information flow on banking, gold and other such topics, so that they are not missed while we attend other focused attention.

And yes, Ron, thank you for the quake information. And do, please, provide the pictures that make information understood. MOST of the people of today CANNOT READ WITH COMPREHENSION.

I ask, for myself, that anything of importance coming across the lines to your attention be run, if space is available—and we can discuss it later, if necessary. Advance opportunity is good but this scribe is swamped. The variety of contributions is extremely well-advised, and we realize that it is easier to begin structuring a paper and getting part of it to layout EARLY in the week, prior to press day.

For instance, and to not overgo my own boss, the Marcos material can be “bumped” in favor of a variety of urgent topics. We give and take to allow us to make it through a tight economic time. This limitation is just about finished and, therefore, yes indeed, we will need workers, contributors and free-lance writers. WE WILL NOT, HOWEVER, EVER GO INTO THE “RECEIVING” LINES. NO MORE. THAT WAS NECESSARY, AND WE HAD TO TAKE DRASTIC SURGICAL MEASURES TO SEPARATE OUT THE PRETENDERS, SO THAT “NO REFERENCE OR FUTURE CONNECTION WOULD LUMP US WITHIN THOSE SPECTRUM PROJECTIONS”.

CONTACT was being totally destroyed as a truth-flow paper. The cult group had to be put aside. They chose to keep the Spectrum paper as nearly like CONTACT as possible to grab publicity and subscribers. It WILL fail, but not until we are ready to bring that final curtain down. We want the public to realize the absurd and evil activities of the people involved, so as to NOT EVER AGAIN CONSIDER ANY CONNECTION. I MEAN, NEVER AGAIN.

What of those who got “sucked in” by them? What of them? Choices are two-way avenues—OF THOUGHT. Every individual has THE SAME AND EQUAL appropriation of THOUGHT-processing and decision-making. If they don’t immediately have all data—then they should certainly acquire it—but that, also, is a choice.

It is much as with earthquakes, readers: Most people do NOT wish to be informed. They want the magical knowing of WHEN, and HOW BIG and where “THEY” should be to avoid negative impact. They do not wish to be bored with information, insight or facts.

Ah but, when you know FACTS, you don’t find mind-games or mystics flourishing OR fortunetellers thriving.

I would like to leave the “general” discussions here and move on to a couple of articles coming into focus. One is EXTREMELY important for the West Coast of California, and the other is a general discussion of a newly discovered “type” of fault construction. Actually, both that I use today will deal with two of these categories. THE PROJECTIONS REGARDING THE NORTHWEST U.S. FAULT CENTERS SHOULD BE UNDER CONSTANT ATTENTION. WHEN YOU HAVE MULTIPLE DISRUPTIONS AROUND THE WHOLE OF ANY GIVEN PLATE HUB, YOU ARE GOING TO ATTRACT METEORITES BECAUSE OF THE MAGNETIC WAVE PULLING-POWER UNLEASHED. WITH THIS “CORRUPTION” UNDER THE SEAS AND IMPACTING OBJECTS FROM THE COSMOS, YOU HAVE A SETUP FOR DEVASTATION TO MATCH SCALLION’S MAPPING. Frankly, anything SHORT OF THAT is wondrous to contemplate. And yes, to you back home, it is good to be in an area that may well shake, rattle and roll, but the desirable place to ride it out—is in an area that will undergo upthrust. Indeed, there are ancient signs available for the looking, on the ocean side of, say, the Los Angeles area. A lot of that “ocean front” will take a wondrous ride UPWARD as that Pacific Plate subducts—and before it “rolls under itself”—there will be surface shaking of incredible size and major damage, but most will easily SURVIVE. Strangely enough, you will find that much of the city, itself, as in L.A., will stand—damaged, but mostly intact.

The present projection from our viewpoint is to get those cross-fault gas lines shut down and the infrastructure lines closed off to prevent the devastation by the fires that will be started. If you can maintain a way to get those “temporary” fires extinguished, most human life will be spared. So our intent is to, hopefully, get the gas turned OFF before it reaches the ruptures AT QUAKE SITE, keep all water flow intact as long as possible—but it will be brief—and handle the cross-fault electric chaos as orderly as is possible; and that means a cutting of flow where those lines coalesce, at production sites. Can we do that? YES. It will not seem very “perfect” to the experiencing multitudes, but yes, we can assist in much of that operation. It is better to be WITHOUT electricity than to have sparking lines igniting gas pockets.

In the San Bernardino area, for instance, there will be a massive slippage, which will snap those fault-crossing gas mains; and that will dump the heavier-than-air gases into Earth proximity, while presenting a devastating ball of fuel to feed incredible fires. We won’t even talk about devastation to oxygen supplies, but the oxygen will be taken up by and with the gases and, actually, turn the fires into infernos.

I would like to simply copy a couple of things which we can take up at length later, if desirable, but of which you need be aware in the U.S., right now. THIS IS “SERIOUS” TIME.

[QUOTING from the Philippine Star, Nov. 2, 1999:]

RESEARCHERS SAY FAULT MORE LETHAL THAN PREVIOUSLY BELIEVED

IRVINE, California (AP)—A newly discovered fault beneath the coastal section of Orange County could generate a bigger earthquake than previously believed, according to a recent study.

The 24-mile (40-kilometer) BLIND THRUST fault, which runs near Los Angeles, from Huntington Beach to Dana Point, was discovered in March (1999). At that time, researchers estimated that it could generate a magnitude 7.0 earthquake every 2,500 years.

But researchers now believe the fault could cause a magnitude 7.3 earthquake, according to a study published in November’s Geology magazine, which hit the newsstands last week. [S: How many of you take regularly, Geology? Do you begin to see what an uphill go of it we actually have going in order to get information, of even the most limited items, to you?]

The fault appears to be similar to the blind thrust fault system that caused a 1994 California quake in Northridge, which struck with a magnitude of 6.7, killing 72 people and causing an estimated $40 billion in damage. [S: They fail to make our point about preparation, right here; the people died because of the devastating lack of proper considerations. When freeways and apartment buildings collapse on themselves, while one next-door stands, at least enough to protect life, you have MANMADE PROBLEMS—SO STOP BLAMING GOD. HOW DO YOU KNOW OR HOW DO YOU CHECK OUT THESE THINGS? MY GOODNESS, IT IS YOUR LIFE—FIND OUT HOW, FOR I AM NOT IN THE APARTMENT-BUILDING DEPARTMENT. But, people, 72 dead people out of some near 20-million population is, indeed, very limited and quite relatively minute. However, never underestimate that, to the dead party, it is 100% fatal.]

Blind thrust faults produce quakes when one side pushes UPWARD but does NOT break the surface. Others, like the San Andreas Fault, are STRIKE-SLIP systems that generate quakes when one side moves horizontally against the other. [END OF QUOTING]

Next, we will consider a writing from the Internet, sent by Ron K. for my comments. I have already made enough comments, but we will offer the article (with any comments blaring at us for same) and ask him to integrate the diagrams he has gathered.

[QUOTING:]

STUDY INDICATES UNEXPECTED EARTHQUAKE DANGERS LIE BENEATH THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

When it comes to damaging earthquakes in the Pacific Northwest [USA], everyone worries about “The Big One”, a great THRUST EARTHQUAKE caused by the rupture of a huge offshore fault beneath the ocean, but there are other kinds of earthquakes that may be just as dangerous.

In fact, the most damaging earthquake in the U.S. Pacific Northwest in this century was a different type of shock called an “INTRASLAB” earthquake. That magnitude 7.1 event occurred in 1949 beneath Olympia, Washington and caused over $100 million in damage.

A new study by Arizona State University geologist Simon M. Peacock and Kelin Wang, a geoscientist at the Geological Survey of Canada’s Pacific Geoscience Centre, provides firm support for a recent theory that explains how intraslab earthquakes work and confirms the hazard posed to certain geographic areas. The study appears in the October 29 issue of Science. [S: How many of you readers regularly take SCIENCE?]

Both great thrust earthquakes and intraslab earthquakes occur in “subduction zones”, where oceanic crust dives beneath the edge of a continent. [S: Yes, this is inclusive of “blind thrust faults”.] Great thrust earthquakes occur at SHALLOW DEPTHS of 0 to 50 kilometers, along the sloping boundary between the descending plate and the continental margin. In contrast, intraslab earthquakes occur within the descending oceanic crust at depths of 50 to 300 kilometers beneath the surface and are caused by different processes.

“The risks posed by intraslab earthquakes have not been fully incorporated into seismic hazard analysis,” said Peacock. “In many cases, such as the Pacific Northwest, these less-easily-understood earthquakes occur closer to major population centers than the larger, offshore earthquakes. The historic record bears this out.”

In 1996, Stephen H. Kirby and colleagues at the U.S. Geological Survey proposed a mechanism for intraslab earthquakes which is supported by the current study. Basically, Kirby’s theory proposes intraslab earthquakes occur because the intense heat and pressure in subduction zones metamorphose (or change) the descending oceanic crust into denser rocks. These mineralogical changes cause the subducting oceanic crust to liberate water stored in the original minerals and to reactivate pre-existing faults.

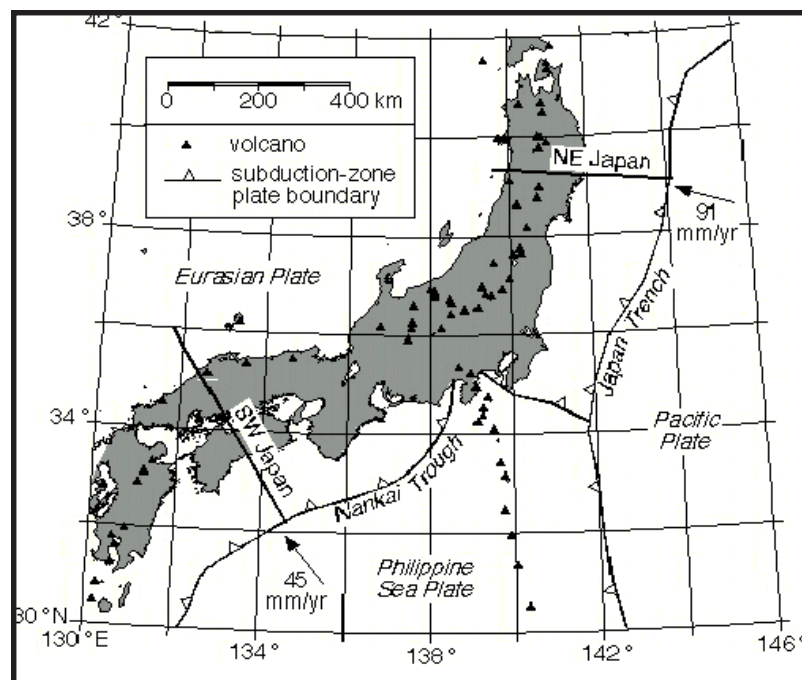

“In the absence of water, these faults would not move because of the weight of the overlying rocks,” said Peacock. “The liberated water essentially lubricates the fault—pumping up the water pressure causes the fault to slip.” [S: Realize, also, that in times of what you are calling “warming”, by whatever title you give it, you have two factors—heat and pressure—causing a remarkable lubrication and cushion of expansion allowing, or actually demanding, a major slippage, with all the concurrent occurrences set into motion from friction, motion, displacement and shifting. The El Ninos and La Ninas are incredibly important but not for the reasons usually presented to you. Perhaps I should say, in addition to these things presented to you here.]

Peacock and Wang tested Kirby’s theory by comparing two subduction zones in Japan, carefully calculating the temperature of the subducting oceanic crust and comparing their seismic and volcanic records. Confirming Kirby’s theory, the results showed that the oceanic crust subducting beneath southwest Japan—a “warm” subduction zone—should liberate water at shallower depths and thus trigger only shallow intraslab earthquakes and less volcanic activity, as compared to activity in the cold subduction zone beneath northeast Japan.

“Things happen much deeper beneath northeast Japan because the subducting crust is much colder, and water is released at much greater depth,” said Peacock. “It’s the water being released at depth that generates these intraslab earthquakes and subduction-zone volcanoes. Intraslab earthquakes occur at relatively shallow depths beneath southwest Japan because the subducting oceanic crust is warmer.”

Like southwest Japan, the Pacific Northwest (northern California, Oregon, Washington and southern British Columbia) and southern Mexico are underlain by warm subduction zones.

“The Vancouver-Seattle-Tacoma area may be more at risk from an intraslab earthquake than from a larger earthquake along the offshore trench,” Peacock said. “This risk has only recently been recognized. We’re starting to realize that we have to worry about a magnitude 7-7.5 intraslab earthquake located 50 km beneath Seattle or Vancouver, as well as a magnitude 8 or 9 out on the coast.” [S: RIGHT! DEFINITELY RIGHT! BECAUSE WHAT YOU WILL HAVE—AS THAT SHALLOW FAULT BREAKS OR SLIPS AT LARGE MAGNITUDE—IS THAT IT WILL TRIGGER THE DEEPER TRENCH FAULT AND YOU HAVE MASSIVE DOUBLE-TROUBLE. THIS HOLDS TRUE FOR ALL COASTAL LINES WHERE THERE IS SUBDUCTION. AND, MOREOVER, THAT INCLUDES ALMOST ALL COASTAL LANDS, BECAUSE THAT IS WHY THE LAND-MASSSES BECAME IN THE FIRST PLACE.]

“Large intraslab earthquakes occur quite frequently. Just last month, on September 30, a magnitude 7.4 intraslab earthquake shook Oaxaca, Mexico, killing at least 27 people.”

Peacock, whose main field of expertise is metamorphic petrology, points out that this study is an example of how specialized scientific research can sometimes yield information with real significance to everyday life. “For years I have studied metamorphism, a largely academic subject. Now we’ve learned that there is a solid connection between metamorphic processes and earthquakes that have killed tens of thousands of people,” he said.

Peacock and Wang tested Kirby’s theory by comparing “warm” and “cold” subduction zones—zones that differ by as much as 300 degrees centigrade, at depths greater than 50 km. Because heat is an important factor in causing minerals to metamorphose, they predicted that changes in the rock would occur at shallower depth in the warm zone than in the cold zone and that, consequently, intermediate-depth earthquakes would be shallower in the warm zone. They also predicted that there would be more volcanic activity in the cold zone, because the deeper metamorphic changes would release water at greater depth, causing the melting of the overlying mantle.

The study looked at two subduction zones in Japan, carefully calculating their temperature differences and comparing their seismic and volcanic records. Confirming Kirby’s theory, the results showed that the subduction zone for southwest Japan—a “warm” zone—recorded shallower earthquakes and less volcanic activity than the northeast Japan’s cold subduction zone.

We have been given full permission to use this material, along with illustrations: AS LONG AS WE GIVE CREDIT TO SIMON PEACOCK/ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY. It is with great appreciation that we do so.

I have so much to credit and so many to whom credit is due—and such a short space allotted for so doing. Please accept our appreciation. I would remind all of you, and specifically Pete Q. (C), who does drawings in cartoon fashion for CONTACT: A PICTURE IS WORTH A THOUSAND WORDS—AND EXPERIENCE IS BEYOND ALL.

Thank you, dharm. Be prepared for overwork but, while we have a bit of a lull in document preparation on an urgent scale, we have to take advantage of opportunity while the topics are “hot”.

As we can afford, financially, more and larger papers, we will simply include more human hands and minds to accumulate data. Man better believes that which is presented from a source he can see and accept. This allows for unlimited resources and, yes, we can eventually get it onto Internet web-site(s), and we won’t be bound to the keyboard. Things are taking shape, even if they are UNSEEN. Hold strong, and KNOW—all things are working in perfection—we happen to have THE leader.

I am here, therefore, asked to give recognition to some who have gone to Tehachapi and asked to assist, from hands-on service, as in paper mailing, to outright offer of buying the house to end the strife. Accept the help and now, even yes, Millers—for there is no damage to the Spectrum kids getting improper information “before its time”. These things are strictly up to the ones working as the team back there. I don’t think, however, Millers will enjoy working among the displaced fragments of Ekkers’ lives. But I’m sure that those such as Lucy would dearly enjoy being included. We each learn from experiences, and we each learn a very important lesson—TO WAIT UNTIL THE TIME/SEQUENCE IS RIGHT, AND DO NOT TRY TO CHANGE A SYSTEM UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND THE OLD—AND APPRECIATE THE PERSONS IN CHARGE. Lucy, for instance, could really help but, at this time, not with the dwelling. There is a purpose for the mess of the dwelling—and we have only just begun with that circumstance.

So, think carefully about Millers, for the Spectrum group is going to USE Millers, unmercifully—and so it has to move in its own volition. We must act within and under shelter of LAW. That means that the criminal parasites who have attached to Millers have to be cleansed away—and, unfortunately, Millers are now caught in the middle, or worse, in the clutches of the parasites themselves, who struggle for existence off the host and, in this house/property matter, they are surviving by sucking on Millers.

GOD IS MERCIFUL AND GOD IS JUST. GOD IS ALWAYS AT READY TO OFFER GRACE TO ANY AND ALL WHO COME IN HUMBLE INTENT AND RIGHTEOUS SERVICE. WHEN THIS HAPPENS, THE PARASITES HAVE NO HOST! SIMPLE!

Salu, Soltec to clear.

Plate Tectonics Illustrated

OVERVIEW

To understand what makes the Earth quake, we need a basic knowledge of the interactions between masses of land that cause them. This study is known as "plate tectonics".

As shown in the chart to the right, the surface of this planet is fragmented into numerous "plates". Geophysical activity occurs principally at and near the boundaries of these plates, as they spread apart from, butt into and rub against each other.

Spreading apart of the plates occurs where molten material thrusts upward at the boundary of two plates, creating a ridge of new crustal material. This is best exemplified by the Mid-Atlantic Ridge. As new crustal material is thus formed, the plates on either side of the boundary are pushed apart.

As the North American Plate, for instance, is pushed away from the Mid-Atlantic Ridge, it butts into the large Pacific Plate, the circumference of which is known as the "Ring of Fire", due to the high level of geophysical activity around most of its perimeter. Where these two great plates meet, they fragment further into "micro-plates", such as the Juan de Fuca and Gorda Plates, off the West Coast of the United States (see map of "Cascadia Subduction Zone" at the top of the next page).

Where two plates butt into each other, if one plate is water-covered and thus heavier, it will "subduct", or push below, the lighter plate. Subduction zones are marked by ocean trenches. In the process of subduction, earthquakes can occur at various depths. Deeper earthquakes may be of lower magnitude than the shallower coastal earthquakes, but they are often more damaging, as they tend to occur under populated areas. At great depths and under great pressure, the subducted rock actually melts and, ultimately, migrates to be recycled as new crustal material.

Where plates of nearly equal density butt together, instead of subduction occurring, the crust buckles, forming mountain ranges. The Rocky Mountains provide evidence of the butting together of nearly equal density plates at some time in the past, indicating that all of what is now called the Pacific Plate was not always under water.

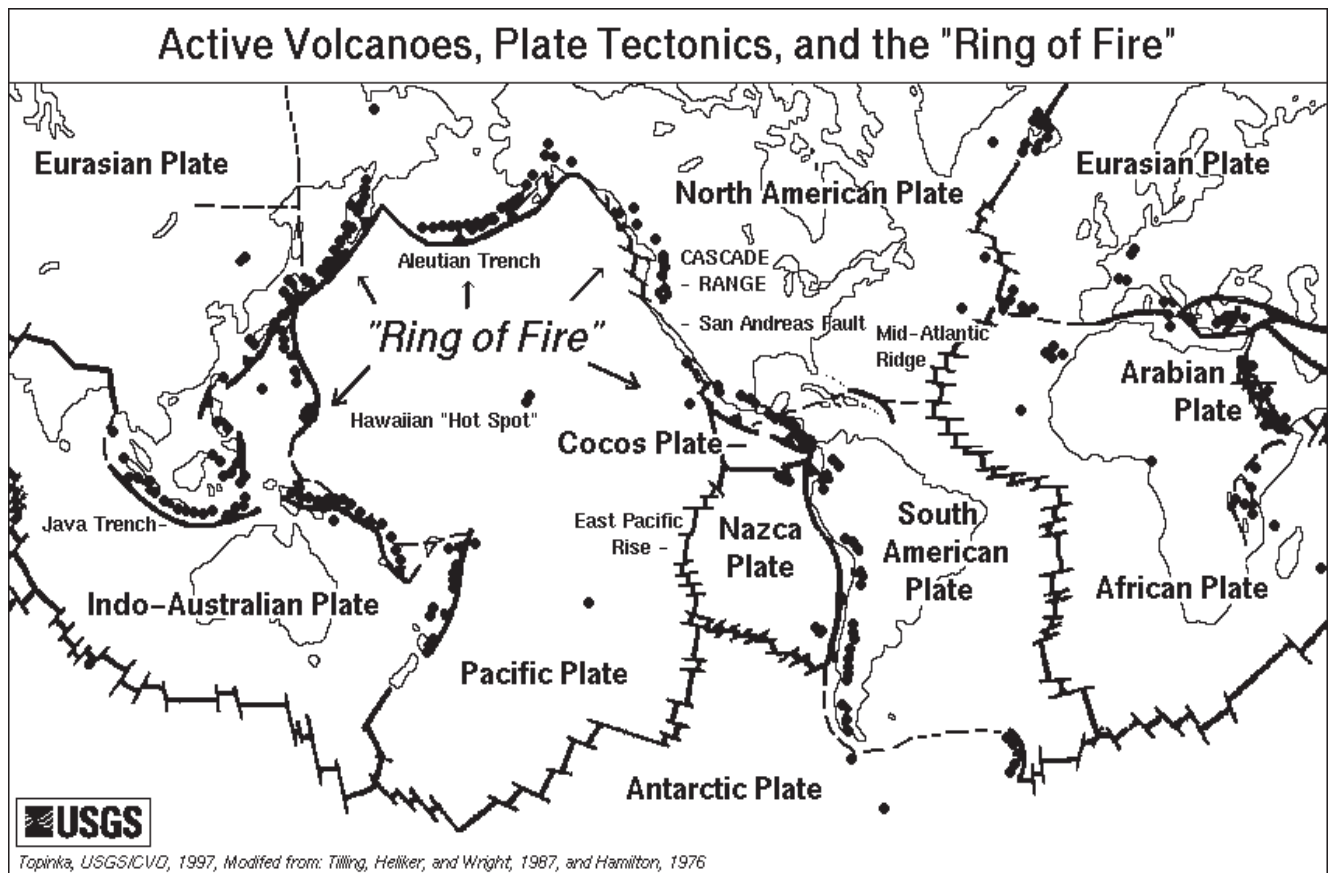

Where plates do not directly butt into each other, but instead slide along each other (known as "transform" faults), lateral-slip-type earthquakes occur.

Where molten matter rises up through a plate at other than the plate's boundary, this is referred to as a "hot spot"; the Hawaiian Islands are a good example.

MODEL OF SUBDUCTION

The next graphic clearly illustrates the dynamics in and around a subduction zone.

As molten matter rises into the rift of an ocean ridge and solidifies, spreading occurs. This spreading pushes the ocean plate into the continental plate. Weighed down by the mass of the ocean water above it, the ocean plate is forced downward. At that point, on the surface of the seabed, the gap between the plates forms a trench.

Shallow earthquakes occur along ocean ridges, transform fault lines and near ocean trenches. Deeper earthquakes occur along the path of the descending slab. The great danger of these deeper earthquakes is that they tend to occur under populated areas, just inland on the continental plate.

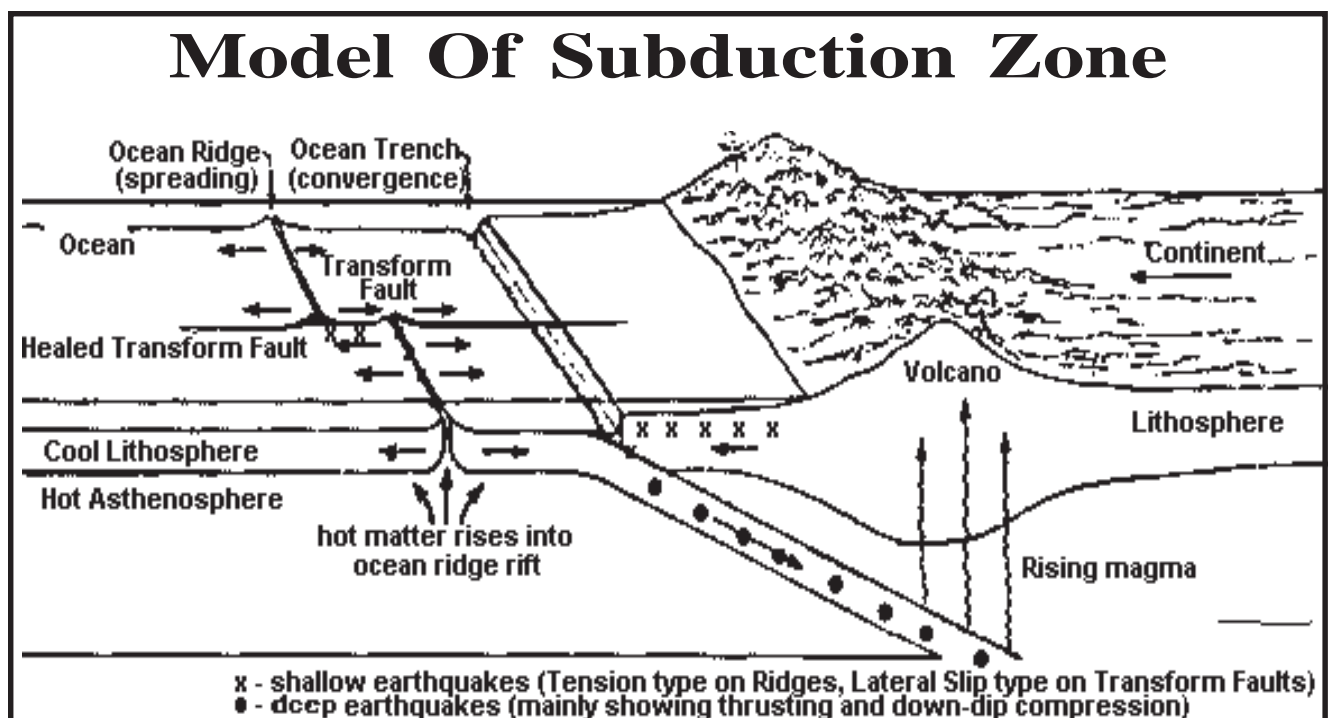

The slab of cool, Lithospheric rock is pushed downward into the hot layer below, known as the Asthenosphere, where it becomes molten. The buckling of the edge of the continental slab can create opportunities for magma to rise up from deep within the subduction zone. Where it does, a volcano forms. The Cascade Mountains in the Pacific Northwest of the United States are a good example of this. (Again, refer to the "Cascadia Subduction Zone" map at the top of the next page.)

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

In the Pacific Northwest, as the Pacific Plate fragments, subducts and is liquefied at great depths, the molten material has found 13 separate places to rise to the surface. There are 13 volcanoes marked in the next graphic, "Cascadia Subduction Zone (Pacific NW)".

Most people are aware of the devastation created by the explosive force behind the eruption of Mt. St. Helen in this range. Mt. Baker has been relatively active in recent years, as well. But it is Mt. Rainier to which the Native Americans refer when they say that a great sign will be "when Grandfather speaks".

This illustration shows the Gorda and Juan de Fuca micro-plates, which are really fragments of the huge Pacific Plate.

Cascadia Subduction Zone (Pacific NW)

It should be pointed out that the “teeth” of the “subduction-zone plate boundary” are actually on the wrong side. In general practice, these teeth point the other way, to indicate that it is the Continental Plate which is “devouring” the Pacific Plate, i.e. the Pacific Plate is subducting.

In a writing elsewhere in this issue, Commander Soltec confirms that a shallow, offshore earthquake of magnitude 8 or 9 is likely to trigger a deeper earthquake onshore, of magnitude 7 to 7.5, in the vicinity of Seattle or Vancouver. Since the subducting slab descends at an angle of up to 45 degrees, and as Seattle is some 300 km east of the subduction-zone boundary, an intraslab earthquake beneath Seattle could occur between depths of 50 to 300 km. The same applies to Vancouver, but with possibly less consequence.

MOUNT RAINIER

Looking at the graphic labeled “Juan de Fuca Ridge - Cascade Range”, you might begin to see what the consequences of a deep earthquake under Seattle could be.

A large earthquake, deep in the descending slab, would probably greatly increase pressure in the magma chambers below the Cascade Range, thus potentially triggering an eruption of Mount Rainier, which is, to put it mildly, uncomfortably close to Seattle.

It has been said that when Mount Rainier blows, it will do so with a force one thousand times as powerful as that of Mount St. Helen. While much of the ash would likely be blown eastward by prevailing winds, the force of the blast, itself, will be devastating; much like having one of the largest thermonuclear devices going off within a short distance (something like 30 miles) of Seattle. And the surrounding areas are not, any more, sparsely populated.

THE NEW MADRID FAULT

The New Madrid Fault appears to be an exception to the rule that earthquakes occur at or near plate boundaries. Yet we know that plate boundaries change, and that smaller plates are fragments of larger ones.

As an educated guess, which Commander Soltec might comment upon at some later date, it seems possible that the large North American Plate is threatening to crack into two separate plates in the vicinity of the Mississippi River.

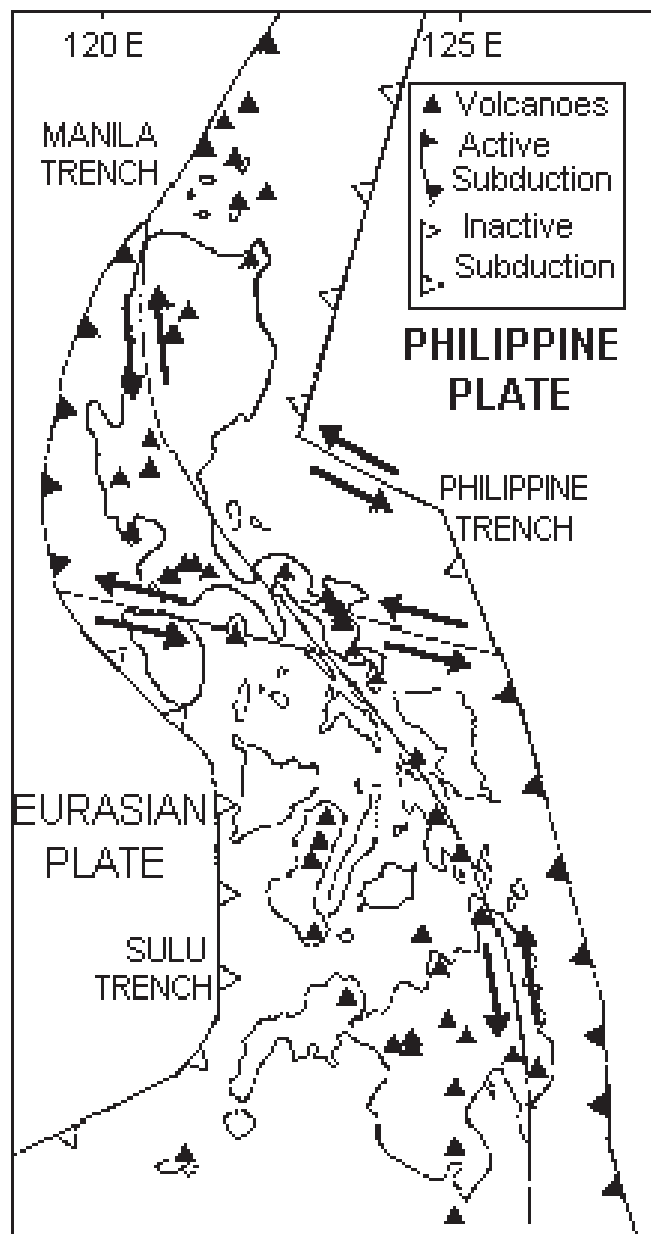

The butting together of these two portions of nearly equal density would probably cause buckling of the crust and the creation of a jagged mountain range, much as was described in Sipapu Odyssey.

THE PHILIPPINES

We wouldn't want anyone in the Philippines to think that we had forgotten about them, so here's a map and some accompanying commentary from the Internet.

[QUOTING from the Internet, (University of North Dakota?) URL <http://volcano.und.nodak.edu/>]

The plate tectonics in the Philippines are complex and include plate boundaries that are changing rapidly. Several micro-plates are getting squeezed between two convergent plate margins [the Eurasian Plate and the Philippine Plate]. Stratigraphic evidence indicates cessation and reactivation of subduction at some trenches...

...Arrows [on the map, above] mark transform or major strike-slip faults, triangles mark volcanoes active in the last 10,000 years...

...In the west, more steeply east-dipping subduction of the Eurasian Plate...along the 560 mile (900 km) length of the Manila and Sulu trenches produces a discontinuous line of active volcanoes from Taal in the south to Iraya in the north. Volcanism associated with this subduction zone began about 10 million years ago. ...

...Volcanoes in an east-west zone across central Luzon may be associated with a “leaky” transform fault that connects the two subduction zones. The transform fault is offset to the right by the younger Philippine Fault.

The volcanoes of the Philippines are the most deadly and costly in the world. Fatalities have been caused by 13% of the historic eruptions, most notably at Taal and Mayon, and 22% of the eruptions caused damage...Tsunami are more commonly associated with eruptions at the Philippines than in any other... region.

[END QUOTING]

On an educated guess, we again hazard a proposition: Pinched between the Pacific Plate, pushing westward, and the Eurasian Plate, which is being driven Eastward, the less-dense Philippine Plate appears destined to be pushed upward, as we have been told.

Evil Whelps Have No Ability To Impact

10/31/99

By Doris Ekker

First, a note of appreciation regarding the loving thoughts and caring input from family and friends. As we get older (and even older), we wish to forget those days of reminders hitting in the face (along with the rest of the tired and frumpled body), I suppose, literally.

I cannot tell you, this year, how humble I (WE) are to have you of our friends and family across the ocean, for you did what we could not and, in the whole of it—gave us what we could not even protect in any aspect of capability. The rest of the plague will have to take its course. Please, do not, any of you, further PUSH any rivers or act in even the remotest manner outside the limitations now imposed on property or dwelling. Any actions outside the restrictions will simply, NOW, cover evidence of “the Spectrum lizards” (SL) actions. WE WANT THEIR ACTIONS SEEN FROM EVERY VIEWPOINT. These outrageous and grievous actions have been many, and much has been pushed by Martin-Cortright and Young TO COVER UP THE PRIOR THEFTS OF DOCUMENTS AND PROPERTY that took place before the house circumstance took center stage. I do not know how Karen and Kathy could deal with these vultures without turning on them with force, for the dirty deeds foisted off onto two loving friends. I would guess that Karen has moved and can somehow be separate and now, it appears, Kathy has also made a decision to go away. I’m sorry, but there is nothing we can do after the facts are laid forth. Kathy and Karen are possibly the most emotionally betrayed of all. However, I don’t understand Joan’s continuing relationship with those who have so badly hurt her own child. Lying no longer covers the deeds committed. Perhaps these are the parts of discernment we fail to take unto ourselves as individuals because, frankly, it hurts the feelings far too much to accept. But, perhaps now, after all the thefts of records and property even unto this very week, Kathy and Karen, at the least, can see and know that this is no tale of woe—but one of fact. And now that Dave has chosen to play the tune of “this lift belongs to me...”, and she has played along, I don’t know what to think or feel about Kathy’s possible deliberate participation. Perhaps it is as well that we cannot see into another’s mind or heart.

My personal petition to my Teacher lately, and again at this sitting to write, is “Please, may we not dwell on these things of personal sorting and aspects?”

The response is logical, if not of our choosing to hear, and is certainly outside my thoughts in consciousness. Cmdr. simply states that man cannot relate to that which happened to a King or Queen, a historical person or evolvment of “someone, somewhere, somehow”. Man relates to that which IS and as relative to HIMSELF, as in peer, experience, or related observations in expression and circumstance of that which is within his own grasp of personal recognition and consciousness. All else is but parable.

For “us” to build stability and make an experience worthy of its very happening, we must share, so that those among us can also realize, feel, observe and experience. We cannot be emotionally involved with a remote, unknown party—in, say, Texas, New York, Florida or Hawaii—going through the same type of experience. But if YOU are immediately attached, or even just an observer from an immediate ringside seat—YOU CAN EXPERIENCE, EVALUATE, JUDGE ACTIONS AS PRESENTED IN PROVEN OBSERVATION—AND EACH AND THEN ALL CAN GROW. YOU CANNOT EXPERIENCE A “FEELING” ABOUT ONE OF 2,000 YEARS AGO IN MYTHOLOGY, AS WELL AS YOU CAN OBSERVE THE IMMEDIATE ACTS OF THE PLAY UNFOLDING BEFORE US—AND OUR PARTICIPATION AS AN ACTOR ON THAT SELF-SAME STAGE.

Rick tried to really cut “low” with the “low-frequency” garbage, as to “Doris and Aton sounding the same...”. That latter is a wondrous compliment for a student. Should not the student of a decade—with the most perfect professors of life and physics in a UNIVERSE—have learned from the hundreds-of-thousands of personal and classroom TEACHINGS? Even Rick learned to repeat my words as presented—as if through his speakers. If I have insight at all, and yes, I do, while gaining more and more and more every minute of every experience, it is BECAUSE I, hopefully, begin to sound like my Teachers—and recognize the very things given and voice them, as well as write them. These are the lessons from my Guides and Teachers, as they have shared with me, to be shared by any who care to look or hear. Anyone can be a technician—but LIFE is that which IS ALL and, yes, must be experienced by the act of “living”. Yes, I have also learned about physics and wonders, yea, even miracles, while unraveling MYSTERIES. I still know almost nothing about mysticism (not even all the signs of the zodiac), and I am not some psychic seer claiming great ability as a shaman or soothsayer. I KNOW what is coming if we do certain things, and I KNOW what is expected if we do not do certain things; that is not prophecy—THAT IS LIVING THE EXPERIENCE. WE HAVE DONE THIS PLAY BEFORE AND THE SCRIPT IS THE SAME. ALL THAT REMAINS IS THE PLAYING—AND WHAT OF THE ENDING, IF WE BUT CHOOSE TO CHANGE A BIT, IN AND OF THIS PARTICULAR PLAY, WITH GOD WAITING PATIENTLY WHILE “WE” DECIDE WHAT WILL COME TO PASS. I PERSONALLY CHOOSE TO HAVE IT END ON A HAPPY, GOLDEN AGE AND WONDROUS ERA. I AM BELIEVING THAT POSITIVE INTENT PREVAILS OVER EVIL INTENT. YOU KNOW, THE GOOD GUYS WIN. CERTAINLY, AS A PLAYER ON THE STAGE, IT WILL GO TOWARD THE POSITIVE—IF I PREVAIL AND STAY THE COURSE TO COMPLETION OF, AT LEAST, THIS ACT OF THE PLAY. At the least, things will be better or changed because we walked this way.

Do “I”, Doris, speak to and hear the “unseen” souls/spirits gone into another expression? Yes, for, IN ACTUALITY, what else IS THERE? If I speak on the telephone to someone, I am only exchanging sounds of voice—to communication in a language we both can interpret and understand. I am not confronted by a BODY. So, I repeat the question: WHAT ELSE IS THERE? Perhaps I AM some kind of “basket-case”, but it all seems very, very simplistic in both concept and actual experience. If a man’s body is paralyzed from his chin down—is he less of “himself” as a functioning mind? Tell your negative attitude and opinion to one like Christopher Reeve. “Thought” is unseen and actions are the visible aspect of thought. If I communicate with an “unseen” Creator, does it mean HE/SHE/IT IS LESS REAL OR VITAL? I HAVE NOT SEEN THE WIND, EITHER—BUT, MY GOODNESS, I HAVE SEEN ITS AMAZING MANIFESTATIONS “IN ACTION”. This is another one of those things that DOES NOT require a rocket scientist.

This day, through all this invisible projection, I am closer to my family and friends at 9,000-miles distance than I could be in proximity, while being pulled in every direction at once. We formed a network of cohesive solidarity in that very absence of “body” that cannot and shall not be broken. Please note the attackers—THEY ALWAYS ATTACK THE ESSENCE (SPIRIT) OF THE PLAYERS—THROUGH THE MIND. NO, THESE EVIL WHELPS HAVE NO ABILITY TO IMPACT AND EVER THE LESSER ABILITY TO PREVAIL.

So, could “Doris” write a worthy book on these topics of self-experience and expression? Finally, YES. I might even do a pretty good job of it, since it is MY LIFE. In fact, NO ONE, no matter how worthy, could even begin to do the job half as well. However, that is not my purpose—at least not YET and, frankly, nobody should give a hoot about “my” life, for you must attend YOURS. As to content of living: I had to first pay the price to achieve maturity enough to so much as THINK of such a thing as taking on relative responsibility for self-expression that would impact others. The facts are that in putting to print, thoughts, and especially publishing thoughts in print, and possibly being educated enough to be considered—through experience or study—some sort of “expert” on any given subject, like MY life, even if it be eviction possibilities, PEOPLE TEND TO “FOLLOW”. IF THE LEADER IS TOTALLY WITHOUT SCRUPLES AND INTEGRITY—THE FOLLOWERS ARE DOOMED, FOR—IF THEY HAVE NOT BOTHERED TO SORT AND SELECT THAT WHICH IS RIGHT FROM THAT WHICH IS EVIL—THEY WILL PAY DEARLY IN PAIN AND AGONY AND BECOME STUCK IN THE SLUDGE OF THE LIE. I would then pay more dearly for having led them astray or into distraction. If I should do that intentionally, I have doubled my karmic challenge—and, people, I guess I am politically correct in stating that I am karmicly and dharmicly already “challenged” quite enough. I am also “thin challenged”, “youth challenged” and, for goodness’ sakes, “economically challenged”—in the moment. Ah, but moments pass, and expectations can change it all into simply only being “idea challenged” and “limitation challenged”.

Those who follow such as a Rick Martin-Cortright—ALREADY BELIEVED (OR DISBELIEVED) in our quest or mission. So, when opportunity was shoved and dumped all over them—FEAR PREVAILED. There is no more to it than exactly this: They wanted a piece of something, even if it was WRONG. It happens all the time and has been ever thus since the beginning of man. This is just following the “charmer” and never minding the truthbringer. Kill that truthbringer-messenger, again, has been the tale of eons. And, surely enough, TODAY I feel like I have certainly been through those events of eons.

In regarding the extraordinary circumstances of a house on Adam Drive, in a township (with an unpronounceable name), somewhere between foothills and desert, having had opportunity of having (through experience) learned some LAW and legal possibilities, bides us well. Hard, miserable and painful experiences seem to actually be the teachers of best learning. ABUSE of those sheltering clauses of law bides others ill. In other words, the very act of experiencing, prior to now—serves us incredibly well, NOW. How else could WE possibly KNOW that what those nasties are doing is not only wrong but UNLAWFUL?

We must continue, I suppose, to look inside, gain insight and LEARN from each experience. We must document circumstances and back it up with all the facts possible—while our family has been locked out of our own dwelling place, and our things have been vandalized, stolen and ransacked. Literally—very personal things have been deliberately taken off the premises. And no, MILLERS WERE NOT PRESENT for MOST OF IT. Millers were the most ill-treated of all in the games of Spectrum.

The Millers have had to hire an armed guard—and frankly, people, there was no need to bother to keep “us” off the property. That became necessary for protecting their own assets, as their own established “helpers” and “crew” of criminal thieves went berserk. Too late, however, they acted; for they locked the vermin inside the barn AFTER the horse was gone. Now, they can’t gain back the horse, and every missing item SHALL BE ACCOUNTED FOR!

But do thieves admit their theft and bring back the loot they have stolen? I doubt it, and that is from observation, and NO, we shall not sit still for total amnesty for crooks and vandals. Been there and done that—WITH THESE VERY VANDALS AND CROOKS.

There are corporate books missing that have been the central focus of lawsuits, prior to now, and there are FAMILY pictures taken and, it is said, destroyed as trash. To parents, those are the pictures of families growing up, that cannot be replaced, ever. So, we linger a while in the heart and realize that pictures on paper cannot in any way replace those in the heart and mind, and so, without choice really, you let it go, for it cannot usually be “undone”. E.J.’s very family estate records (he is eldest) and family memorabilia were taken. Of what value could those things POSSIBLY be, even to the thugs? I think we all know the purpose behind such personal attacks. Maybe even Millers can relate to this kind of vandalism.

Ah, but, as with the corporation records and books—we have the law to back us, again—but the Spectrum Cult thieves have nothing, and no one, to shelter their actions of theft and breaking-and-entering through criminal trespass. Who will shelter them? The other crooks and breakers?

Who foots the bill for all this trashing and looting? Let us just consider missing corporation records, for instance. We had long been unable to trust services at the corporate agent. We preferred to leave some corporations in “limbo” and delinquent status, rather than to have them open for the thieving fingers and unethical actions of people in that corporation headquarters. Does this mean Cort Christie? No—but recognize that, when some of the first corporations were stolen, it was, in fact, right from a desk at Nevada Corporate Headquarters. There were three more to take those same corporations. Fine, we learned that lesson also from being there and doing that. So, everyone just PAY CLOSE ATTENTION TO WHAT IS NOW MISSING FROM THAT SECURE ROOM IN “THAT HOUSE” OFFICE ON ADAM DRIVE. I don’t think these parasites can even dump this one on poor old Betty Tuten or Leon Fort. Did Millers do this deed? Oh, even from this distance, I doubt that they knew (but perhaps), for wouldn’t it be better for the shape-shifters that it would be the very ones ON THE PREMISES, WITH ACCESS TO TAKE WHATEVER THEY WANTED, while using MILLERS as a facilitator of some kind? After all is said and done, Rick went on international record stating he was going to “get” us and be our worst nightmare. Well, I don’t have nightmares; I only have constructive, creative, management-of-circumstances dreams and visions. I have visions of truth—I do not have nightmares of evil intrigue.

Who pays, literally in money, to now get those corporations shifted, current and secure? Do we believe it will be Brent Moorhead of NCH? How about Tricky Ricky? How about Dr. Etheric? They have gained nothing by this—except more evidence AGAINST themselves.

Remember: ONLY THE RIGHTFUL OCCUPANTS AND TENANTS WERE LOCKED OUT OF THAT HOUSE AND PROPERTY—SPECTRUM THIEVES SWARMED OVER IT LIKE LOCUSTS, WITH AND WITHOUT A “FRONT” OF MILLERS’ PRESENCE. MILLERS WERE NOWHERE ABOUT WHEN THESE LOCUSTS WERE WITNESSED REMOVING EXPENSIVE EQUIPMENT AND BOXES OF UNKNOWN STUFF FROM THE PREMISES. People with a RIGHT TO BE PRESENT WERE ACTUALLY THREATENED WITH ARREST IF THEY SET FOOT ON THE PROPERTY—even to confront the thieves. This doesn’t seem quite RIGHT to me.

Ah, but people of the Ekkers’ family, trying to simply MOVE OUT of the place, were next accused of vandalizing the property. This came from Millers’ attorney, while never so much as seeing the circumstances, the property or being in direct knowledge of ANYTHING. Accusations were made by that very attorney—even to the taking of the kitchen cupboards. Whoa! It turns out there is not even one TINY cabinet missing. There are, in fact, one or two which were added by Ekkers for convenience in that kitchen that were LEFT UNTOUCHED AND INTACT. Try the shelf for the microwave, rather than just setting it on its table.

Anything removed (all of which was added by Ekkers) would have been securely and PERFECTLY replaced by that which was there when Ekkers first occupied the property, just like any renter. All property improvements, as such, would be left—for there really isn’t any way to take up thousands of dollars worth of rock walls, is there? Are people supposed to leave their toasters, fans and lamps because they somehow plug into the electrical circuitry of a house? It is interesting to note that the utility bills, including that of electricity, have been paid right to the day after move-out, when Millers shut off the utilities. Does that REALLY represent ABANDONMENT? Where are the documents and orders claiming ABANDONMENT? There is a full, legal process, which seems totally overlooked. THAT HOUSE, PROPERTY, AVIARIES, UTILITIES, PHONES—ALL THINGS—WERE FULLY CURRENT, OCCUPIED AND USED DAILY, EVERY DAY. ABANDONMENT? Through everything, Ekkers occupied and paid for THAT HOUSE, since Spring of 1987 (about 13 years), and to suddenly, because of a business trip to Manila, say we are to have “abandoned” everything, including thousands of dollars of tropical birds? This can only be lawyer Rick’s legal work in action. Perhaps attorney Bilger helped. Rick and Gail seem to be THE ONES orchestrating everything—even the breaking and entering—so it looks somewhat fishy to us, especially in observation of his threats, extortion attempts and actual thefts from some of the properties otherwise in Ekkers’ responsibility.

No, I am not simply rehashing old trash. A whole BUNCH of STUFF and correspondence (between lawyers) transpired yesterday and last evening—so this is all new and current, birthday and all.

And then there was “birthday”! I was totally overwhelmed that the staff of this little Apartment-Hotel called into the night last evening with hugs, kisses, roses, wine, cake and LOVE—to wish us well and me a “happy”. If we can always remember, dear, dear friends and family, to keep it “right there”, where IMPORTANT THINGS belong, we will have joy forever. But, yes, to fulfill our commitment, we WILL SHARE AND BUILD—FROM THIS LITTLE HOTEL AND THIS “FAMILY” OF INDIVIDUALS, A BETTER WAY; AND WHEN WE TREAT ONE ANOTHER AS EQUAL IN LOVE AND BROTHERHOOD, WE HAVE ALL THE RICHES ONE COULD EVER DESIRE.

My prayer is not for much “stuff” anymore (Rex agrees)—with all that potential value to be available, but we have decided that we would REALLY like to be able to use a transaction as a MODEL; buy this hotel, which is one of five owned by the “Gil-Army” company, and TURN IT OVER TO THE STAFF AS AN EMPLOYEE-OWNED ENTERPRISE. It is being upgraded currently, as old wood is being replaced by more secure stucco, etc., and more security measures are put into place to replace rusted infrastructure—but its needs, overall, are great.

It does, however, sit ON “THE” PLACE IN ALL OF MAKATI, as to business convenience, mall convenience and proximity to “everything” we have found necessary to accomplish everything we needed to accomplish—in an atmosphere of family, care and prevention of total loneliness for a time away from everything at home. I can see that we can get this done as well; and with these goals, we JUST KEEP PLUGGING AWAY. This hotel hope now seems so tiny and easy to accomplish that we consider it done already and are simply annoyed at the delays. But, we are happy to see the work starting toward improving it. I would guess the owners got wind of ideas and—between hopes of selling the place and getting shut down for deterioration reasons—are working to at least improve everything.

With that aside, it is a PERFECT place to establish a little “foreign” office center. The room areas are apartments—mostly one-bedroom with a living room and kitchen—of varying sizes. There are some two-bedroom apts., a few that have interconnecting doors, which would allow for continuity into a three bedroom arrangement, and even four three-bedroom apts. on the top floor—but miserable elevator service.

It is not that the place is “cheap”, but it is about half the cost of anything available in this city and, for Makati, I suppose, it is considered “cheaper”. It does have a 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. coffee shop, with GOOD food, wonderful staff and chef. I think it is called a “full-service” apartment complex, or something equally as witty. It has in-house laundry and, yes, rooms available, as in any hotel. If you need “cleaning” services, you have to take the things to the other hotel, nearby. In the Philippines, you don’t need anything that doesn’t wash.

What really appeals to us is that, if we can have this place, we can expand gardens, etc. onto the next lot—which has been empty for some time—attach it, and we will have a charming, comfortable, private and wonderful place for visitors and working participants, and a “family” atmosphere for anyone who needs to “rotate” or participate “over here”. The next-door lot could house NICE meeting areas and also present a nice little park area, as well.

It is amazing that, in the “underground” hope-circles, there are bigger plans laid by people here than in the U.S. because, in such as the U.S., you are totally controlled, while over here—the people have never stopped believing that GOD WOULD KEEP HIS PROMISE AND SEND “THE KEYS”. Are there Engineers? Most are educated in the U.S., as a matter of fact, but WELCOME anyone who can do anything to LEAD, HELP and build. This is a nation of people searching for self-esteem and a hope of becoming something besides the char-maids and servants of the “better world”.

I chuckle when I think of Charles and Rick and “it can’t be done”. Where is the very faith in GOD that they claimed? God is not in some receiver’s pocket, light or dark. The point is that there is NO WAY that it won’t be done and done right here, with these people. This is where the assets are stashed and where THE PLAN comes alive.

Put the world on a gold standard? We didn’t set forth to do that, even though that is what needs to be done and undoubtedly will be established; however, WE SIMPLY FOLLOWED INSTRUCTIONS TO PUT OUR PROGRAMS AND PROJECTS ON A GOLD STANDARD SO EVERYBODY IS SECURE, INCLUDING THE BANKS. God has always told us to take one step at a time, set the foot firmly, and then take the next step, as the path is cleared of land mines and debris. Once the path is clear—the people will walk securely on the path, because it is BETTER!

Why is the topic of Marcos continuing to fill even our own pages of print? Because, friends of the world, ALL his assets are pledged as collateral for our PLAN. It is not “our” little plan—IT IS THE MAJOR WORLD PLAN, as separated out from THE NEW WORLD ORDER, ELITE, CONTROL-THE-WORLD PLAN. Marcos, with the betrayers of the Elite circles, was placing gold and wealth treasures around the globe, EVERYWHERE, to bring the world back to monetary stability. The “SUPERFUND” was established to assist, but was set forth (sidetracked) to ACTUALLY ALLOW THE BUSH BUNCH to acquire oil, wealth, minerals—all the wealth of nations—and they did. HOWEVER, THEIR OWN STUPID BANKER FRIENDS DESTROYED THE IDEA, WITH THEIR OUTRAGEOUS AND GREEDY MISUSE OF SYSTEMS; I.E., ROLL-OVERS, TRADING PROGRAMS, CURRENCY TRADING AND YOU-NAME-IT—THEY DID IT;

THROUGH USURPED AND DESTROYED ECONOMIES. THEY TOOK NATIONS HOSTAGE AND THEN, FINALLY, INTO TOTAL ENSLAVEMENT. Ah, but: They now wallow in the mud-hole they dug, having failed to build-in any exits or air-pockets.

Can “WE” set everyone FREE? Wow, we aren’t trying that this morning in our spare time, but it looks like the changes coming forth are going to give opportunity for massive changes, that can be wrought pretty quickly as a foundation upon which to build. Nobody is going to get wealth “dumped-on”. This is a program, secured abundantly and soundly, for GROWTH AND BUILDING. AND, GUESS WHAT, OUR TEACHERS SAID IT WOULD BE THIS WAY—IF “WE” ENDURED AND STAYED THE COURSE. Frankly, we just simply have never been able to raise our heads enough to QUIT! We have not seen other alternatives than those we have chosen, although, I suppose, there are others. Any we would choose, however, seemed to end us up only in MORE heartache, poverty and/or failure, with lots of loneliness, replete with self-reproachment for failure. I guess Rick and Charles, for instance, didn’t have any other responsibility to anyone except selves, and it was easy to just cut-and-run. We have never felt other than that we needed to fulfill even George Green’s commitments—BECAUSE THEY WERE MADE TO OUR FRIENDS AND FAMILIES. So, therefore, it boils down to: If it’s going to be—it’s up to me. No, I didn’t say that; Robert Schuller told me that bit of wisdom. I “wish” I had said it first.

I am also totally amused at YOU wonderful friends and family who thank us and offer us some kind of praise for staying the course. Are you blind? YOU HAVE STAYED THE COURSE, CAN WE DO LESS? WE JUST DRAGGED ALONG. YOU WHO OFFER THIS VERY APPRECIATION—HAVE STAYED THE COURSE UNDER FAR WORSE CIRCUMSTANCES, FAR MORE THAN HAVE EKKER-EKKER! YOU DON’T EVEN SEE OR HEAR IT! (??)

Ah, you will say: “But we just helped out and, and, but, or...”. NO, YOU HAVE BUILT THE FOUNDATION UPON WHICH SUCCESS OF THE PLAN CAN BE ATTAINED. The temptation, of course, with ego intact, is to say, oh yes, give me some honor or something—but it is so stupid to do such a thing—for if I wrote, for instance, into infinity, and no one read the words—I would just have shriveled fingers. And, by now, I would be sitting in an “old folks’ home”, on welfare; OR, MORE LIKELY, ON THE CURB-SIDE, NEXT TO MY BED (A CARDBOARD BOX, IF RICK HAS HIS WAY). So, WE thank YOU for the love and care, but we accept no more for selves than for US ALL/EACH. And yes, indeed, I can hardly wait until we can turn it over, for the running, to the next generation, and the next and the next—and we “elders” can sit and laugh over the “old times”, and tell and retell our memories of the “good old days”. You know, like when we had a thing called electricity, crops in the fields, cars that ran on something called gas, flush-toilets and things of “modern” convenience. These will either rapidly be “old-hat”, or GONE, FOR A VERY, VERY LONG TIME.

I am in awe of, just to name two, Jean and John Ray. They thank us for staying the course, and yet, THEY ARE THE ONES WHO LITERALLY HELD THE WHOLE OF THE RUSSELL “CONTRACT” AND THE INVOLVED PEOPLE, TOGETHER—LITERALLY, IN BODY AND SOUL. So, “we have made it work”? NO, GOD HAS MADE IT WORK! But, remember: Jack was right there hoeing weeds in Granny’s garden.

So, the question now comes: “But what of such as Charles and Rick?” This is just to pick two who have dropped away and moved “outside” the immediate “have” circle. No, they haven’t REALLY moved anywhere, any moreso than any who have nothing to offer or ask. This is a program of building, creating and growing. These assets are TOTALLY for building, projects and growth. IF THESE PEOPLE COME FORTH WITH POSITIVE PROGRAMS—WHICH PRODUCE FREEDOM, PRODUCTS, RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, A BETTER WAY, A POSITIVE GOODNESS AND EQUALITY IN FREEDOM FOR PEOPLE AND, YES, A BETTER SOCIETY—THEY WILL HAVE FUNDS. All they have done is demand—by their own actions—that they be more carefully screened by independent and objective evaluators of projects. Will we go looking for them? NO, THANK YOU. Cmdr. has always said that you don’t have to believe in God to be a good business man, in honor and integrity, to work with us (but facts are that if you do these things, you probably also believe in God)—for you will either become goodly or you will get out. You can be about as self-centered as you can conjure—as long as you do not damage another, or go afoul of the laws and goodly purposes.

Part of THAT process, however, is PAYING RETRIBUTION to the ones whom you have damaged, assaulted, defamed or hurt. If you have no goodly projects, then you will not be acceptable—for we build in no welfare system for takers and do-nothings. And, just because you claim something or another in goodness, of which you PROVE OTHER INTENT BY ACTIONS, such will merit nothing. My own interpretation for myself, of course, is THAT ONE DOES NOT LIE TO SELF OR OTHERS ABOUT GOD AND TRUTH. I do not need judge those rainbow blokes, for their ACTIONS SPEAK VOLUMES MORE THAN ANY WORDS WHICH SO-CALLED “RECEIVERS” COULD POSSIBLY CONJURE. Those nerds have copied my very words and works since inception of their claimed GREAT GIFTS—and even unto my Teachers and Guides have they stolen. I would consider it a magnificent honor—if I were not so insulted by the quality of the people in the LIE itself. I am embarrassed over the lack of stature that I fell for in individual presenters. And yes, you bet, E.J. and I had not asked for, or even thought of, such a job as we have gained—so yes, we trusted everyone who stuck out their hand and rattled off their selling-speech, with a stupid, pious droop in their eyes and face to try and fool the fools. You know, friends, like the ones who crucified a goodly man a couple of thousand years or so ago, and literally even “TOOK HIS ROBE” to place lots and take over his property and even his words. And yes, that is as far as I could ever go in considering anything HERE in the remotest shadow of those footsteps of LIGHT. But the takings, and ripping asunder of others, are the same. EVEN THE “INTENT” TO DESTROY IS EXACTLY THE SAME AND, MOREOVER—THE EXCUSES GIVEN ARE THE SAME!

Think about these things, you who join the little troopers of aiders-and-abetters, and see if YOU WOULD LIKE TO BEAR THE BRUNT OF THESE TYPES OF CRUCIFIXIONS!

Ah yes, I know, some will say, “...well, I thought...and I was just there...and it looked like...MAYBE...something was OK about it...”. Is taking from another’s life-stream worthy of a “maybe” thing? Especially all the ones around Tehachapi, AND THE SPECTRUM GANG, “KNEW” about the house, the suits, the losses—and the projects of the Ekkers. They chose to come into our space and acquaint themselves with US, THE EKKERS. This is not a time of “...well I thought...” and then set forth to steal, lie, cheat and do whatever is required, through force and absent parties, to rip asunder lifetimes of labor, love and dreams. Why did people “SAVE” the confounded house in the FIRST PLACE?

Here is where this Doris person stands confounded: Is the world in any deserving or ability to be improved, or should it be—with these kinds of INSIDE LIARS AND THIEVES among our very fiber of being and within our very organs and joints? Moreover, they seem to collect really goodly people into their outrageous service, and I simply do not understand that ability. It is evil and our old friends were not—and I doubt are now—evil.

How do people such as Rick Martin suck into his troops such as Millers? If Millers assigned that house over to Ekkers, hook-line-and-sinker—it is not suitable, nor desired, nor even would it be considered. Ekkers did not, do not and shall not personally own anything—REMEMBER? That does not mean that Ekkers will not fight to the death of the matter to have justice and integrity, to stand in fiduciary responsibility for all commitments by same, to protect all property of any entity involved and to struggle for justice, honor and RIGHT-ness. We have always been totally open and public about that stance, in EVERY INSTANCE. Aton has not changed one iota, the program goal has not changed one iota, and EKKERS have not changed one iota—from the day we stepped across that threshold and accepted the assignment. Funny thing—on one of those final days of choices, Rick, Charles, Al and others were PRESENT. Commander said: Dharma cannot simply reverse and run away after THIS DAY for, if so, her enemies will destroy her, and I shall be unable to protect her. He said that the others in the room—EXCEPT E.J., who had already made his final decision and commitment in August of 1987, in the same room—could turn back, get off, do whatever—but the decision was at hand for the making. The funny thing? There was nothing but commitment and crowding over the threshold “into service”. Well, perhaps some of that service was intended to be betrayal. I cannot judge nor speculate but, surely, we can see the years of obstacles to get to THIS DAY OF MOVING INTO SUCCESS OF THE MISSION ITSELF.

Armies have always done these terrible things such as looting and, yes, even burning the land and the properties JUST TO KEEP THE RIGHTFUL HOLDERS FROM SO MUCH AS REGAINING FOOD, SHELTER OR LIFE ITSELF.

Is this a last-ditch effort to draw the innocent into their traps of other intentions? Is it to actually hold and claim, through lies and deceit, the property in revenge but always DAMAGED? Is it, in our instance, an actual and DELIBERATE need to “MANAGE” and “manipulate” Millers to ensure that the honorable parties would also be hurt, as the evil troops use them to collect the “awful”, while the evil little devils do their tricks—AND LIKELY GET AWAY WITH IT?

Well, I don’t know about Millers—but with success HERE where we have, yes, stayed the course, we WILL succeed, and we WILL SUCCEED in time to confront, LEGALLY, these trespassers, looters, robbers and cheats. Can we protect Millers in the process? I don’t know, but that was a choice Millers had to make and act upon. Will we help Millers go after the deceivers? Help? We don’t understand that term, even as used HERE in this circumstance. HOW can we help Millers? I suppose if Millers chose to act against the culprits of the Spectrum Rays, we would stand on Millers’ “side”—I know nothing else we could do. We tried every way we knew, save using the funds required to complete this mission (totally unacceptable in all respects), to postpone something or other. No, we have to KNOW that this whole thing was somehow meant to be as it is, good or bad, as our perception accepts the happenings.

E.J. and I just had a wonderfully funny experience, and I will interrupt. We must have encountered the first real test of Y2K (!), as relates to computers and other mental robots. E.J. came up to run some information for people at a meeting downstairs, and the computer produced music, which means look and see what to do next—and the instructions said something to the effect of: “Your computer has been programmed for Daylight Savings Time, please adjust your clocks...”. Funny? Yes, we don’t know WHAT to do in the first place, and MANILA IS NOT ON DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME AND NEITHER WAS MALAYSIA, WHERE WE GOT THE CONFOUNDED COMPUTER—FOR MY BIRTHDAY LAST YEAR and which [computer] I still have neither operated nor understood. I still use Regie’s gift to E.J. some years ago. So, I just smile and agree, “Oh Dod, Oh Dod, what I do now?” It surely must be now verified, however, that you in the U.S. are on (or off, whichever) Daylight Savings distortion of time.

My God, it may actually be true: Bill Gates may truly control the world!

Important people remind me of yesterday, as we watched a troop-carrying-sized chopper landing on Imelda’s building. She was due to return to the Philippines and, truly enough, it takes a troop-carrier just to haul her luggage—always has and apparently always will. I bet I know about 30 people who feel the same way about Doris and all that “stuff”. Rex is right: We have stuff that takes up where other’s stuff and real stuff, leave off! Imelda lives two doors from us here on Ayala, and yet everything goes by way of the chopper, overhead, or underground. Human beings are crazy!

I note, however, that Ekkers’ “stuff” must have more value and desirability than I ever had imagined, as a Jones girl share-cropper out of rural Texas, because those thieves all want to have it, even if they have to steal and rob it. Do you suppose that THAT is what “important” is all about? If so, then we have to admit it right out front: We are truly important. Perhaps we should make it into the record books as even the world’s most important people listings. My enemies, self-pronounced, even tried to steal my invisible Teacher and Guide. Stealing the diesel fuel seems only the next step in logical progression. Strange thing here, though, is that the ONLY one who really would need that fuel, and seems to own the truck with the barrels, while helping to store things snatched in the robberies, is Don Roby’s son, who lives way up in the “upback” hills, with no utilities hookups. (???) Is THIS what is meant by declared abandonment—everything is open to everyone to loot? Wow, I guess I don’t have the same guides and Spiritual connections as the Spectrums—my teachers just don’t allow this sort of behavior.

Should Millers pay such a price for this rape, ravaging and pillaging? I wouldn’t think it fair, but I also recognize their right to choose this route of both behavior and actual activity.

And you know what hurts almost as much as anything about this kind of activity? Well, for starters, Rick and Gail had Lindsey right there with them—and other children were present, WATCHING THE ELDERS AND PARENTS RAIDING AND LOOTING, AND WERE LITERALLY HELPING CARRY THE LOOT. And we wonder what has happened to our world? Well, our world is sick unto death, along with her people, readers. I have to almost apologize that we gave all the split wood away, some even to Millers, so that there is none to use in our fireplace to keep Ricky warm and cozy. But then, after the hundreds of cords of wood E.J. chopped, he burned a lot but gave it away by the cord-load. How interesting that he chose to do that giving away, because we needed to either move the wood or continue to have the rats and mice the woodpile attracted. It was all nicely stacked and cut—but mice go where the going is wonderful. We were clearing out the old, in order to construct a cement foundation with walled enclosure to secure wood and cut out the trespassing wildlife. We even supplied Kathy and Dave’s family with wood. These are just reflections of an experience, which remains to be seen as to its goodness or its horror. We cannot imagine what trapped Millers, for they are NOT THIS KIND OF PEOPLE. AND, where are the wood stacks THAT “WERE”? They were on OUR SOUTH LOT.

I am reminded of our first days of being at that address in 1987. One of the people on the street found a scorpion in his garage, and he and the neighbor came to visit to say we brought the thing from Los Angeles, yet. Because, of course, they didn’t have scorpions in Tehachapi. I would suppose these people never went up the path to the rocks—because right off, at that time, BEFORE OUR PERSONAL SCORPIONS COULD HAVE FOUND A FRIEND AND LAID LIZARDS, there was a nest of them on that hill—in the rocks where the gatherers wanted to gather. Doesn’t anyone ever feel silly about these stupid things? I can’t help it if people in town that August saw “spacecraft” from our hill, which I still doubt: WE DIDN’T. People were all over our hillside with flashlights but that hardly presents as “flying saucers”, and we didn’t invite those people in the first place.

Most of them came because I had written Sipapu Odyssey, and they “called a meeting at our location”. We had just moved and, by golly, we were busy enough. But it was fun, and some of those people are still among our best friends; Eric and Audrey coming to the top of the list instantly. The “gathering” part did fit, I suppose, part of the story-line. But it was something to do with SOMETHING called convergence, emergence, conversion or something “harmonic”—I never got that part of it straight. It was, as it turned out, however, THE TIME CHANGE IN WHICH OUR FINAL OR NEW COUNTING OF CALENDAR TIME CHANGED, AND OLD ANCIENT CALENDARS ENDED, WHILE THE NEW BEGAN. And THAT continues, as we find ourselves today in year 13, day 76. That will yet unfold, also, I’m confident. And YES, this was in the same HOUSE, under siege then and now. Gosh, who would ever have thought it; NOT US. Golly, maybe the people before us built on a native burial ground or something—certainly, the place seems to have hauntings of some kind that ruin electronics and set off smoke alarms. But, it was fairly new; only about 6-8 years old.

We bumped along and needed a big house, because we have a BIG family. The house was priced at what we felt was “right” and the loan structure could be worked out with the occupants—no big deal. The owners had tried for over three years to sell the place and couldn’t find any interested parties. The man (owner) was in Saudi Arabia doing engineering of some kind, and the lady just wanted to get herself moved back to Texas. We became good friends in the weeks following our move in and their move out. I mean, like, we really liked one another. But she NEVER liked the place and wanted AWAY AND OUT. She didn’t try to sell us otherwise, but she just wanted to “go home” (if anyone could ever enjoy El Paso, Texas as “wanting” to be a resident). Their young adult children came to everything we did and had, as to the “party”, etc. of that August. Yes, there are some good tales for those winter nights ahead.

Perhaps part of their (Haynes was the name) interest in us as “people” was that they also enjoyed the Sipapu story and, frankly, the husband had been an officer at Edwards Air Force Base, a pilot, and had encountered “flying strange things”. They were, in fact, going to settle in El Paso and do some kind of business in aviation.

Rick and Ed say our energies are just too “low-frequency” to be of God. Well, maybe so, because we missed all the “high-frequency” jazz taking place, and stumbled right on through with a lot of interest and humor over the whole thing. It was really funny when the Jacuzzi started running and we couldn’t shut it off—and it didn’t have any parts in the mechanism, which had blown out long before we set foot on the property. And we were annoyed that, no matter what we did to shut them off, the smoke alarms would come on at random, day or night, and even unplugging them wouldn’t turn them off. Come to think of it, why in the world would I want to move back into the place? When whatever “it” was got through with them—they turned OFF and that was the end of that. Getting the Jacuzzi turned off was another story, and we had to finally shut off the entire electrical intake to the house. We had company there and it was a hoot. Rick was there, Randall was there and Wally Gentleman (with his family) was there (you know, the Wally of 2001, A Space Odyssey and the one still going to do Sipapu Odyssey). He had a ball, and we have all been “hooked” or “basket-cases” ever since—whichever term you choose to use. That kind of “thing” went on for weeks.

We had a period of time when all these named people, and more, were present, and when Commander showed up—the unplugged (disabled) alarm system “went off”. We wrapped the thing in towels and, still, it shut off when it chose and not when we chose.

We also had electronic answering machines just “blow out”. Finally, we just learned to love the games, except when hours and hours of work would be lost to a computer not even on the electric circuit. Well, memories are made of this, and other speculation is exactly that: speculation. My goodness, maybe I have always underestimated Rick—he was always there for these fun things. Anyway, come to think of it, I have every reason here, in my old age, to be a “basket-case”. I didn’t, however, have to come to the middle of Manila to accomplish that feat. But, once again, the “bad stuff” stopped when Rick and Charles left, and the lotus opened, our health improved almost instantly and even E.J. could suddenly remember his name—not his birthday or mine—but a name is something with which to begin—isn’t it?

What does God look like? What does Satan look like? My goodness, I guess I don’t know. I’ve certainly seen God, but I’ll be dipped if I can recall Satan spending any time around me—“before”.

I need to ponder on that for a while and, perhaps, since it is Halloween, I will do that NOW and see what I can discern.

Love and best wishes—Doris

P.S. E.J. has a most practical side to him that I would share. He didn’t like this letter (or most of my others). I guess I won’t try being a “writer” after all. I asked him just what bugged him so much, and he got right to the point: “Can’t you just leave out the ‘poor me’ crap and say ‘they stole my honeysuckle and I’m pissed-off’ and leave it at that?” Obviously, the answer is NO; BUT—THEY STOLE MY HONEYSUCKLE AND I’M PISSED OFF ABOUT IT.

An Open Letter To Ron Carlson & Family

By Doris and E.J. Ekker, 11/4/99

Dearest Melissa and Ron,

SO, TODAY WE KNOW.

These days are difficult, I suppose, as we sort our lives, our thoughts and our perceptions.

Is “today” different from yesterday—“just” because we know something? Yes, indeed, for we can now begin to take action from realization instead of possibilities and potential. As we KNOW something, we stop the drifting and “waiting”—and constructively move ahead. For instance? I can only speak for self—but my attitude is a whole lot different about Ron Carlson, and all attached, than in the “unknowing” of yesterday. And yes, it is important that the “verdict” was not different today than when OEB handed down the sentence. BUT, I AM DIFFERENT! E.J. IS DIFFERENT—AND THAT TOO, IS ONLY IN PERCEPTION AND DETERMINATION.

We each ask, “What can I do”? Well, we each take that which IS and perhaps work a bit harder—but realization comes as we recognize that to work WITHIN the perfect sequence of God is our first WISE consideration. When we stop the nonsense about what-if-ing, perhaps we can move more forcefully and knowingly into accomplishment of the “Creating”. Also, we work “smarter” and not necessarily “harder”.

I would guess that the sentence was known to the insiders of the Judges’ circles LONG AGO—EVEN FROM ONSET OF THE CASE AT TRIAL. But we can only do the “best” we can, which is NEVER the “best” we “could” because we are still growing, and that requires “climbing” out of the muck and into realization THAT OUR “BEST” IS PERFECTION, SO, WE MUST CONTINUE WITH THE “NEXT BEST” IN ANY GIVEN CONSIDERATION.

Ah, but do I, Doris, have a response in positive action? Yes, indeed. You CAN pray for old E-E, but that is not in point any longer, and now that we realize that—we start praying CORRECTLY; we stop dreaming, as in “magically” somehow receiving, AND WE TURN TO CREATING in reality. WE ALL COMMUNICATE DIRECTLY TO and WITH GOD AND ASK THAT HIS WILL CONTINUE TO BE DONE—THROUGH US—IN THE PERFECTION OF GUIDANCE WHICH LEADS US TO FREEDOM. WE HURT NO OTHER MAN, WOMAN OR CHILD—AND WE CREATE THAT WHICH IS “JUST”, WITHIN HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS.

I suppose I sound like some silly-mouth, but THIS is what I have come to KNOW in the course of these interesting experiences of travel in this journey.

We, too, have new and hurtful things happening “back home”, and this morning, whatever it was that disturbed me, I turn now to the consideration of Ron and Melissa—while realizing that WE DON’T HAVE PROBLEMS. Everything is unmercifully relative.

Truly enough, we have only lack of ideas but we are experiencing our own attitudes being adjusted, from “helpless me” to “checkmate” the dirty bounders.

Well, we can’t rob banks because we need assets, for that rarely works out well if we are trying to abide within God’s laws or those of man. It just doesn’t work out well, anyway.

However, we twiddle around without establishing our focus and attention, as we distract to everything that comes along, even if it just be “what shall we eat for lunch”—which seemingly has to become only bread and water, if that, as we bounce around ’twixt promises, demands, helplessness and our considered “lack”.

We look at Ron, for instance, and “I” see the incredible load on his heart in helpless inability to function and, therefore, to relieve his wife attachment of her load, in this moment, of terror for her, that she may somehow lose that which Ron built, while being equally unable to do a thing about it. We do, yes, have to confront these feelings—but WE MUST NOT CONFRONT THEM IN OTHER THAN SOME MODICUM OF “REALIZATION” THAT WE NEED DIFFERENT APPROACHES (OR EVEN, PERHAPS THE SAME ONE) TO MEET THE CHALLENGES OF THE MOMENT AND THE ANTICIPATED ONES LOOMING AHEAD.

Why doesn’t GOD serve us in our “wants”, in our timeframe of convenience and comfort? Because that just isn’t the way of growth and realization of our purpose of being alive in this experience.

I have to look at our own (E-E) experience lately and realize that the best thing which could have happened to us, and our work, is exactly what did happen. That came through “Thy will be done, Father”, while noting that HIS will for the “best” way did not coincide with our “rather be” circumstances.

When I say to God, I don’t understand or I don’t know, HE says to me: What would you do, if you KNEW? What, Doris, would you do if you DID UNDERSTAND? I despise that approach, for I know that I DO (actually) HAVE AN ANSWER, YEA, INDEED, DOZENS OF THEM. Who else but me could have “my” answers? BUT, I simply don’t want the responsibility. All of those answers seem to serve my own selfish interests and, finally, I settle on one, usually at the end of my conscious list, which will actually WORK. I call it having had no alternatives but, of course, that is a “loss” assumption. We can, after all, choose not to take that next breath that keeps a living, physical system alive, but it hardly is ever the correct choice of wise action, if we anticipate accomplishment within the living experience. So much for intelligence, for the life force causes you to breathe, so that isn’t even a good method of suicide; bad example.

Therefore, I think what happens is that when we respond to GOD in this manner, and when the response is truly the one which HE sees from our full intention of creating—HE smiles and we create.

We of this TEAM, friends, CAN DO ANYTHING WE WANT TO DO, INCLUDING CREATING EXACTLY WHAT IS THE BEST AND HIGHEST PURPOSE OF OUR EXISTENCE. OURS, FOR INSTANCE, IS TO CREATE THE WAY AND GET THIS MISSION BROUGHT TO THE OPENING GATE AND ONTO THE TRACK—WITH HORSES RUNNING.

I believe that, yes, of course, we HAVE TO HAVE MONEY, because the world runs on “money”, like it or not. So, we get money. We get it honorably, with total integrity and through the very PLAN that God presents to us, if we but look and listen. To say that money is a bad motive is only mouthing ignorance and lies—we need it to function; and why should Satan have all the good things?

God never allows us to “really” be hurt or damaged. We cannot be damaged, when it comes right down to the facts of it—we can only fail to note the advantages of the moment. And, if we have—as we seem to have done—chosen to serve by sharing up this magnificent mission with brethren fragments of experiencing “God”, then when will “I” ever get the hang of it? Perhaps Ron needed to suffer these slings-and-arrows, so that I WOULD PERCEIVE GREATER CREATIVE CAPABILITY. I’m sure that doesn’t help Ron this morning, but IT WILL, DON’T WE SEE? For Ron and Melissa, I recognize that I would push a bit harder for them than my own inner limitations would openly allow for self. That, in itself, is stupid in concept, but that is the training of the years and an attitude hard to discard.

Commander threw down the challenge to some of the ones here, who dangle promises and then debate on percentages and haggle over amounts in things that have no limitations—and otherwise have absolutely no ability for utilization without us. He said he would place his thrust behind others if the fulfillment of commitments were not forthcoming—like NOW.

Will it matter? Of course it matters, for HE controls the whole of it. But, can we control another’s way? No, but we can stop accepting the dead-end routes, and the allowances of drifting and dangling, while sitting, doing nothing but “waiting” on the Lord, or anyone else. HE HAS TAUGHT US TO KEEP RIGHT ON PRODUCING, AND THESE THINGS “NECESSARY” WILL COME IN CREATIVE MANIFESTATION.

With all this “lack”, it seems great to perceive anything different. WE HAVE NO LACK—WE “HAVE” EVERYTHING, BUT WE JUST DON’T YET KNOW HOW TO USE IT ALL. Again, “that lack of ideas”—and willingness to step right out there and trust and thrust—gets in the way.

Again, today is a good example of exactly what I mean. We wait and we trust and we, finally, through another route of funders, etc., have PROMISE of “it’s already done” aspect of information. Now the “interim” funding has grown outrageously LARGER—therefore, when this funds, we are comfortable in laying out that which we feel we now need to keep us all on our feet and able to “think” about other things than our own miseries—MINE, OF COURSE, BEING THE BIGGEST. Well, anyway, to me. In fact, I am offended that some of you others had to come up with bigger troubles than mine and took the pedestal from “poor me”—RON.

It won’t do more than touch on Ron and Melissa to lose their house or their offices. They have goals, and they have each other and us, their friends. I’ve just been there and done that, and no, it did NOT kill me or, in actuality, even dent my surface more than a pockmark or two. I already have been presented with far better outcome for simply being set free of the bindings, when the tears are wiped away. BUT, IT NEED NOT COME TO THAT—WE NEED TO MOVE AWAY FROM THE PAIN AND INTO THE REALIZATION OF PURPOSE AND ABUNDANCE TO BETTER SERVE WITHOUT THE CONCERNS AND DISTRACTIONS OF LIVING. In other words, I think, KEEP ON WITH THE PLANS AND LET LIVING UNFOLD.

If—and I created it to be—THIS TIME, then this morning in Manila brings the rail-switch. WE ARE TOLD that everything is in order and should begin to “flow” somewhere around opening time at the banks, about 9:00 a.m. (45 minutes from this moment). We finished up the paperwork documents needed for those who are doing the actual business late last night, and YES, it SHOULD just move swimmingly along—click, click, click. Will it? Yes, I decree and TRUST that it will—within reasonable time for every “principle of Dr. Peter” to show itself.

We are told the funder has already made his demands, the bank has agreed, and the documents are in order. And, we are TOLD that some meager transfers can be made directly, to relieve the instant chasm of ready funds—but we, of course, have to personally make our own paperwork clean and clear—both personally and in behalf of whatever comes next. WE NEED TO DO THIS ANYWAY, and this one loan transaction is now in at least the FOURTH major banking institution here. Never, I would guess, however, is “their” immediate meshed with our “immediate” needs and wants. WE CAN DO IT. And yes, we can do it IN TIME. In time for what? I haven’t the slightest idea. I suppose it means in time for whatever comes next.

The adversaries have stripped all of us, and perhaps that is so we have the joy and appreciation of creating recovery. I like to think there is SOME good reason for all this garbage. I do believe, however, that whenever we stop the garbage flow determines when we create this world in better formatting.

Will “we” have what we need? Yes! Will it be as much, etc. as we want? Probably no, because all there is never seems enough, and YES, it is sufficient. But, what we have—YOU HAVE, and that means that when we get what we are after—Melissa has NO WORRIES about house, food or Ron’s office. She can choose where she wants to be in relationship to Ron’s location—and perhaps that will end us all up in lower Borneo or the Aussie “outback”. Or, perhaps we can all just take the Adam Drive property back and set up some kind of a wondrous commune.

It’s too late to retrospectively solve the “important” problems having been confronted by Peter K. through the years, but we’ll get our team on its feet, and then we can all decide how best to proceed within our own talents. Mostly, I’m sure none of us ever thought of our talents as being anything near what we are doing or have done—or, probably, will do. So, all we can do is just hold strong, demand (or command, as the case may be) that we do succeed. However, know that we are told to confront evil and put it down as it arises. That doesn’t mean that we have to do A THING, except shine that LIGHT, for evil always undoes itself—and we are WATCHING THAT UNFOLD IN OUR OWN EXAMPLE OF “DOINGS”.

The imbeciles can’t seem to do anything right, in the Tehachapi Rainbow circle.

Just for the amusement of the moment: The Millers have either given away or sold our aviary, and it has been hauled off to one of our own “old neighbors”. I guess the man wanted the Macaws, as well, but didn’t get there in time, or something. Was this ever nuts, or what? That aviary was hauled onto OUR property by OUR SON—on a flatbed. How you can conjure it to be Millers’ is a gas and, since it was FULL of too many birds, it can hardly go down in history as “abandonment”. Life, itself, is beyond believing. But we are getting better: I couldn’t even conjure more than boredom at that most recent escapade of the Rainbow kids. Doesn’t it embarrass you that we ever had anything to do with these misfit miscreants (thank you, Ron K.)? Well, it embarrasses me to have been so stupid and gullible. The birdhouse needed moving anyway and a whole new infrastructure placed under it because of rodents, etc. What can these people be thinking?

I toss this in just because I wanted to share that, yes, we do begin to be able to look at the idiocy of what this world of people has become. But it appears MAYBE, PERHAPS, OH, PLEASE, the hard “sorting” is being taken care of in many ways—all over everywhere. We cannot reach our goals when the rot is eating away at our very souls from within.

It teaches us, this living, that not much of anything is really important—EXCEPT RON, OF COURSE! Sick humor aside, THIS TOO SHALL PASS and, IF WE STAY THE COURSE—the outcome will be ever so much more wondrous. Every delay we have had, JUST in interim-loan funding—has produced more promised abundance. (I do agree, though; enough, already.) I have learned that there is actually no difference in having NOTHING and having UNLIMITED—except in our own perception of our own potential. We are “pure potential” and GOD IS—therefore, we can create ANYTHING. So, I choose to create wealth TODAY, because the alternative is no longer acceptable. With that—I’ll create and you pray a lot. Well, so that was even sicker as a joke. I no longer consider anything to be acceptable as in “sacrifice”. Pooh, this is not some sacrificial altar; therefore, let us get off the damned slab and get what we need. I’m sick of “sacrificing” while the bad guys take.

I can now witness that there are hundreds of thousands of people—right here in beautiful, downtown, polluted Manila, squatting along the Pasig River, and under the incomplete and deteriorating freeway stanchions—who have neither shelter, food, nor promise. My house, my reserves, my wishes have no relative value to be considered—OTHER THAN YOU DON’T LET EVIL CONTINUE IN “TAKING” THESE THINGS. WE HAVE BEEN INTENTIONALLY WRONGED—AND “THAT” IS WHAT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE. ABSORBING INTENTIONAL WRONG IS UNACCEPTABLE. And, guess what, through it all—WE ARE THE HOPE OF THOSE HOPELESS PEOPLE.

So “why” would we rush to “help” Melissa, if we can? Because she is MY FRIEND, and I KNOW that the ultimate BEST GOOD I can do is get help to her—because, as long as she must confront living problems of the “mountain” size, it will wear away at health, heart, mind and soul. If we can help—and I’m confident that, given an open conduit for RIGHT sequence of events, WE CAN DO SO—the focus of life, itself, can keep centered on the proper things of change and toward accomplishment of that change into something worthy of being HUMAN. TO PRINCETON, HOWEVER, WHEW, WE CAN PUT OFF THAT DENTAL WORK A BIT LONGER! I’m about down to baby food, or pie and ice cream, and Princeton was already there—so, a pact is a pact; no dentist until we have money AND RON, SO WE CAN RECOVER IN HAWAII.

I don’t know why God’s people have to suffer and be put down. But then, when God says: “Well, pretend you DO KNOW, and tell me what you see.” Oh, darn! Well, we don’t “have to...”. We are just sloppy and put up with it because others (usually the ones hurting us) say you are immodest (and dark-tinged), if you actually confront and say “no more”. Dumb is not a good-feeling word but, unfortunately, it sure fits ME. Why so late, smart?

WE WILL BE PUT DOWN, TROMPED ON, STOLEN FROM, BATTERED AND BEATEN—UNTIL WE SIMPLY DO NOT TOLERATE IT ANY LONGER. WE THEN MUST “CREATE” THAT WHICH PREVAILS. AND, INDEED, WHEN WE REACH OUT—AND YES, IT MAY BE WITH WEALTH TO PAY ATTORNEYS FOR APPEALS, ETC.—WE WILL HAVE WHAT WE NEED. THE PROBLEMS THE ADVERSARIES BUILD AGAINST THEMSELVES ARE NOT OUR PROBLEMS. First, we stabilize as best we can, and then we keep right on shoring up until WE FIND THE WAY TO CREATE THE RESULTS DESIRED—ultimately, getting Ron into freedom. Except, if we aren’t careful, we will simply get him into worse circumstances in the “non-freedom” outside the cell. It’s called “shrewd as the fox/serpent—gentle as the dove”. And yes, we BUY, if necessary, WHAT WE NEED TO ACCOMPLISH THE ULTIMATE PROMISE.

I think, as I sit here sorting thoughts, it hits me that the worst of all circumstances is where Ron sits. But realize, Ron, that it is when we are the most HELPLESS that we stop beating against the wall and dulling our brains—AND LET GOD. What happens is that we are caught having to let go, let friends, let rightness, let others—AND ALWAYS GOD, respond however they choose. You will find enemies taking even your last bean, as in “you-name-it”. They don’t even hate you—they are just greedy for whatever they can get—you know, “just good business”. But, through it all, this very adversity brings friends and family close—like nothing in the human experience can produce—and for the RIGHT REASONS. Then, when we succeed, step by step, we grow—and we celebrate each joy, and treasure it forever.

Nobody can imprison Ron Carlson—except Ron, himself. THAT, in fact, is why the nasty treatment, for no one has actual power over Ron Carlson—except Ron Carlson. “They” can incarcerate, build bars and hold the body—they cannot, even through force, have empowerment over Ron’s SOUL—AND THEY KNOW IT. That, in fact, may well make the journey more difficult for “us”, but it is ultimate and utmost FAILURE for those trying to destroy—AND CAN’T. So, the greatest gift of FREEDOM that we, as friends and brothers, can give to Ron—is to take care of Melissa, etc. In that way we free Ron AND Melissa. We can’t even measure an experience as to good or bad—ALL EXPERIENCES MUST BE “GOOD”, or we fail ourselves and our purpose. What we must build here and everywhere is “Power WITH—not Power OVER”.

When we take the responsibility of BEING POWER—not force or control, as in ego-stretching—we have “arrived” at the realization of total and absolute capability, as regards the wondrous gifts offered us as a part of God Creator. We ultimately manifest that which is creative thought and, ultimately, that is ALL THERE IS. All else is nothing more than experience.

The adversary has WON ONLY when we succumb and stop before we reach this realization in FACT. So, we keep struggling, slipping, falling and getting up again—but always KNOWING that we SHALL get it right; and the sooner we do, the sooner we all move along in the Greatest Plan—to well beyond any Plan 2000.

I can only remind everyone that we are holding the UNLIMITED-funding assets in that very REALITY we always keep hoping for, until we can’t even see it. (Thank you, J.& J.) We dance around it until we are all dizzy and drunk with our “what-ifs, though...”. We don’t even TAKE that which is there for the accepting, for we fear everything—ultimately, that we are unworthy. So, we limit ourselves. I’m a bit sick of that game, however.

With this in mind, the kibitzers ask: “Yeah, then why doesn’t Ron just ascend out of that place?” Why? Where to? And yes, I KNOW that he CAN do that, also, but he has built this experience for all his lifetimes to experience right now, right here—to achieve the BETTER WAY, for self and all others. Does this make it less lonely, less difficult, less terrible? YES!

It makes the experience an objective-learning process and, from that, wisdom is gained, which gives us all understanding and foundations upon which to move along further and better—ALL OF US, ALL OF US, ALL OF US. It is God’s plan, it is God’s asset, and we will press forward and succeed, for it is GOD’S WILL. God’s “best” is total perfection and absolute love in the processing.

We are destined, as people, to have to wait on others and ourselves, too, no matter how much we would like to manifest MAGIC. There is no MAGIC—we must create and manifest. That is simply the flow of sequence.

So, I will get off this keyboard and push a little harder.

Melissa; Ron: We love you, GOD LOVES YOU ABSOLUTELY and, together, we are GOING TO GET THIS JOB DONE! There is no “alone”, only a physical hurting in loneliness and longing. It is time we stop wishing and manifest that dream. There truly is joy and sadness all in the same moment, but we can only mentally focus on ONE or the other—sadness must be experienced, and grief must be experienced, as well—then let us move within the JOY and KNOWING—so that we waste no time.

Little Crow taught us a long, long time ago: Things will be exactly as they will be. I take that further: THINGS WILL BE EXACTLY AS WE MAKE THEM TO BE (well, OK, I guess I give him credit for that wisdom, as well.). And, this realization is that which no adversary or Fruit Loop can take from us.

Perhaps one of the biggest tricks on us recently was to find, as in searching for the diamonds all over the world—to find it in our own back yard—ALONG WITH A SIPAPU! Can you actually top God’s outrageous humor?

We need confirmation of Commander? Well, he gave us this data on Flight 990 and hooked it up with “199 PASSENGERS”, etc. Boy, I had trouble over the next hours as the data poured in of 197, around 200 and then, TA-DA, this morning in the paper: “199 passengers and 15 crew...”. When will we ever learn? When will we (I) ever trust? Well, God bless us, every one.

With deepest love, appreciation and determination to make this happen, NOW, we are your family in truth and reality.

Doris and E.J.

Zobel's Gold Revelations Are Not So Far-Fetched

11/2/99—#2

BELIEVERS AND NON-BELIEVERS

Hatonn—No, this heading has no meaning, for there ARE ONLY “BELIEVERS”—THERE ARE SIMPLY PEOPLE WHO BELIEVE DIFFERENT THINGS!

And so the plots thicken? Perhaps, but what really happens in the mysterious world is that the mysterious things are revealed once knowledge is achieved. And so, you want an example?!?

OK, the now “infamous” house on Adam Dr. in Tehachapi is a MYSTERY revealing itself and all who have come that way. It is all entangled with lies, omissions of fact as in “real estate” requirements—and even the great, mysterious forms of energy, enerGIES, and what's what in the land of the unseen, seen and “covered”.

Simply put: The house, according to regulations, SHOULD NEVER HAVE BEEN BUILT ON THAT SITE.

There is a natural SPRING under the building. This is WHY the house went for over three years with no interested buyers in the first place. When Ekkers showed up, however, it was in a period of time when it had recently rained, and the standing water under the house was credited to “gopher and ground squirrel tunnels”. That is a good one because that, too, bears years of truth. However, they were not the cause of the water on the lower level. That is also WHY there was an extra toilet FIXTURE under the floor and no bathroom to go with it. The idea of a bathroom in that lower level had to be abandoned, due to the water seepage.

Number one: Millers do NOT actually own the property, sale or no sale, and the whole procedure reeks of illegality. That aside, however, they wanted the thing as-is—and they have the problem, not us. THAT SPRING HAS TO BE REVEALED TO ANY POTENTIAL BUYER OR EVEN RENTER—THAT IS THE LAW.

Now, precious ones, HOLD YOUR BREATH, and Little Crow, smile, you are on Candid Camera. Yes, indeed, within mere feet of the Spring IS A SIPAPU! And you who don't know what that is—GO LOOK IT UP, say, in SIPAPU ODYSSEY. Ho-hummmn—tee-dee and OH, WOW!

And no, those blessed energies who move back and forth through the Sipapu DO NOT LIKE NEGATIVE PEOPLE LIVING IN THEIR DOORYARD! So, Spectrum kids, when you tromp on the territory, tread lightly, because the terror you FEEL might well be quite substantially real. The energy you claim as your own guarded guide is Standing Bear (look that one up also), and you tread on precious ground. HE HAS PERSONALLY WARNED YOU CHILDREN OF THE LIE AND YOU FAILED TO LISTEN. YOU HAVE A HAUNTED HOUSE ON YOUR HANDS—STRUCTURED FOR “MY” PEOPLE, AND YOU HAVE DAMAGED BOTH THE HOUSE AND THE PEOPLE. THAT WAS NOT SUCH A WISE DECISION IN ACTIONS.

I suggest that you KNOW: There is now a MOUNTAIN LION guarding that property, as well as the other little guardians of the animal world. Strange? No. Check out the flying souls of Redtail and Phoenix Eagles—not to mention the lesser great eagles. You want that property? Do you REALLY? Oh, well!

I suggest, Dharma, that being on top of a Sipapu is ever so much more interesting than being on the site of a Native Burial Ground.

I wish to thank you ones back “home” for offering some solutions to the farm care and on-site protection. We are all grateful and are pleased to include our new friends within our happy and yes, joyous, circle of experience. We will leave the arrangements to you and, as we sort our lives and income, we can solve the rest of the problems at that location. With someone on site all the time, as in “security”—for which the new probable tenants will be “experts”, being IN that business—I would suppose we might not have further drowning of chickens or gun shows offered by the Spectrum CULT. And yes, they are what is legitimately CONSIDERED A FULL-BLOWN CULT OF THE OCCULT VARIETY. “Mayan Shaman” returned are the very essence itself of “Occult”, as are false-spewing “revelators” and “etheric expressions in human form”, i.e., such as Ed Young claims. The others are misled puppets. Rick simply has no conscience and a mean-streak a mile wide, which has served him incredibly well—if you want to go down with the muck.

As for the “neighbor” there on Adam Dr., not only are Ekkers going to allot you footage, as always planned on that south lot—OR they will simply offer enough for your house, as well, if you would rather choose to move to an already larger dwelling. We have never changed our PLANS from upstart. You are owed “markers”, and they will be forthcoming as soon as our own systems are “Go”.

But, to you who doubt and moan about my own knowledge—GO TALK TO the REALTOR next door! And no, Allen, YOU DO NOT WANT THAT HOUSE, FOR IT WILL BE TOTALLY TIED UP IN LITIGATION FOR THE REST OF ITS “NATURAL” LIFE. Let me assure you that the “Sipapu” energies choose their own tenants very carefully. OK, so much for that topic.

I want to get right back to the subject of Marcos et al. The reason for that is that ALL of the so-called “Marcos” wealth is assigned to our program, which we call “Global”. Our alliance corporation is called GAIA but that is only HALF of the program. It is a case of becoming ONE coalition for multiple programs and geographic locations. Therefore, I will not further disclose much. I will simply offer what is now coming public, and you who need to know—WILL UNDERSTAND meaning, and you who don't understand, there is no need at present to do so, NOR IS THERE NEED FOR SPECULATION, FOR YOUR SPECULATIONS WILL ULTIMATELY LIKELY BE WRONG, WITHOUT BETTER DATA. ALL WILL BE UNFOLDING SHORTLY.

Without further discussion, Dharma, just type in the Star's Oct. article about Zobel's testimony. Then we will want the article brought by “Ben” from Davao City. Yes, the same location where the infamous CONTACTS were sent by Rick, through the post office that was bombed. Everything is connected to everything—so people should THINK carefully of possible outcomes when they take it upon themselves to present dirty-deed actions. Anyway, that little article is a maverick which got through the censor traps—and pretty much tells it all.

I choose to use mostly material out of the STAR because its publisher spent time in jail back in those infamous days of revolution. So, he gives NO BREAK to any “Marcos” and that, actually, in these subjects, makes for a far better presentation. We know facts, but it serves all much better to have what is offered here in publication, so that avenues of course flow can be maintained and established. And DON'T try to even guess which side Zobel may serve—it always works out FOR GOD, either way.

[QUOTING from THE PHILIPPINE STAR, Sat., Oct. 30, 1999:]

ZOBEL: FM GAVE AWAY GOLD BULLION IN WORLD WAR II

HONOLULU—It was in World War II, “when there was no government yet”, that the late dictator Ferdinand Marcos gave $1 million worth of gold bullion each to former President Fidel Ramos, Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, the late Armed Force chief Gen. Fabian Ver and former Congressman Floro Cosologo.

This was the fantastic claim made yesterday by industrialist Enrique Zobel, prompting Enrile to say Zobel could already be suffering from mental illness...

...“If our stupid and foolhardy colleagues will believe Zobel, what will happen to our country?” the former defense minister asked in an interview by Manila radio station DZBB.

He also said that the senators' trip to Hawaii was nothing but a junket. “That's only an excursion,” he said.

At the House of Representatives, congressmen described Zobel's revelation as a tall tale.

Meanwhile, President Estrada said his administration will no longer make out-of-court settlements with the family of the late strongman, saying such negotiations only pulled down his popularity rating.

“The issue of the Marcos wealth is another albatross for my public ratings,” the President told foreign correspondents.

“The Marcos-wealth issue is now in court, and that is where it will stay until resolved. There is no, and there will not be, any out-of-court settlement with the Marcos family,” Mr. Estrada stressed.

Zobel's testimony at the Philippine Consulate here also drew further questioning from Sen. Aquilino Pimentel Jr., chairman of the Blue Ribbon Committee, and Sen. Juan Flavio.

“If the gold bullions were given during the war, Enrile would still be in his teens, and he was not yet a law student at the University of the Philippines,” Pimentel said.

Former Solicitor General Francisco Chavez volunteered the information that Enrile finished law at UP in 1954. This means that the senator entered law college in 1950.

Zobel then said that he could not vouch for the veracity of Marcos' statement.

“I have no proof,” he said. “I merely fulfilled the commitment under oath to tell you what Marcos had told me.”

Pimentel stressed that he was not questioning Zobel's claim that Marcos had mentioned giving the gold bullions to his loyal followers.

“But we want to situate the claims, so that it could not be said that Marcos made a wild claim to you and you reported that to us. We want to be more discerning. We owe it to the people,” Pimentel said.

During the same hearing, Zobel also claimed that former Chairman Magtanggol Gunigundo of the Presidential Commission on Good Government (PCGG) had offered him a five-percent commission for the recovery of the Marcos wealth.

Zobel said Gunigundo went to his residence here and presented a memorandum of understanding among former First Lady Imelda Marcos, her daughters Imee and Irene, son Ferdinand Jr., as the first party; the PCGG represented Gunigundo as the second party and Zobel as the third party.

Zobel also said that a certain Cherry Cobarrubias, who represented Mrs. Marcos, said that the former first lady had already signed the memorandum.

Cobarrubias is the national chairman of the Marcos Loyalist Movement and is one of the closest friends of the Marcos widow.

“Gunigundo said he had already signed it but when I noticed that he had not done so, I did not sign it,” Zobel said.

Pimentel noted that Gunigundo had testified under oath in a previous hearing before the committee that he had never offered any commission to Zobel.

Zobel then said: “Gunigundo is a liar. I have witnesses during that meeting.”

[H: Oh, well!]

Pimentel said Gunigundo must answer Zobel’s claim in another hearing.

Zobel also said that a certain Noel Calixto, who is said to be an aide of Ilocos Norte Gov. Ferdinand Marcos Jr. (Bong Bong), went to see his assistant, Chuck Barreiro, two days ago.

Calixto had reportedly asked Barreiro to tell Zobel that the young Marcos and Zobel’s son Inigo had already talked and that “everything is already settled”.

Zobel said his son denied talking with Calixto, prompting the industrialist to warn Marcos Jr. in a letter that this Calixto could destroy the Ilocos Norte governor.

The industrialist also claimed that he saw Calixto at the consulate here two days ago, while senators were taking his deposition.

In Manila, Enrile said Zobel’s testimony could not be accepted because “the jurisdiction of the Blue Ribbon Committee is only up to the territory of the Philippines.”

“We have no legislative power outside the country,” said Enrile, vice chairman of the Blue Ribbon Committee.

He then described its hearing in Honolulu as a junket.

Chavez, meanwhile, denied Enrile’s charges that he was a “purveyor of gossip”.

Chavez said earlier that Zobel would name a former president and an incumbent senator as having received the gold bullions.

“I never mentioned any name with respect to the recipient of the gold from Marcos precisely because I wanted the identification from Zobel himself,” he said.

Enrile had threatened to file libel charges against Chavez and newspapers that carried the story. Chavez said that his identification of an “incumbent senator” could refer to any senator until named by Zobel.

“If Sen. Enrile believes that he has a case against me, I will answer him in court and underscore its baselessness,” he said.

In other developments yesterday, President Estrada said the government would not make any out-of-court settlements with the Marcoses to recover millions of dollars allegedly stolen during his rule.

Mr. Estrada, at the same time, admitted that issues concerning the Marcoses had helped pull down his popularity rating, which analysts have said has dropped to “delicate” levels.

The Chief Executive has frequently been criticized for sympathizing with the Marcos family and for allegedly holding secret talks with them on a deal involving some $590 million in funds now being held in escrow.

Apart from the Marcos family and the government, some 10,000 human-rights victims, who suffered under the 20-year dictatorship, are also pursuing the funds.

Earlier this year, the Marcos family and the human-rights victims agreed on a $150-million payout deal, but this was struck down by the Sandiganbayan which said the money could not be touched pending resolution of its ownership.

Mr. Estrada has admitted meeting Gregorio Araneta, son-in-law of the late strongman, this week but said he rejected his request to return prime land already recovered from the family.

ZOBEL’S TALE IS “INCREDIBLE”

Congressmen described Zobel’s revelations about the $100 billion-cache as a tall tale.

“That magnitude may be doubtful,” Rep. Ignacio Bunye (Lakas, Muntinlupa) told the weekly Friday Forum at the Rembrandt Hotel in Quezon City.

“But there is basis to believe that the Marcos family had amassed a fairly large amount of wealth,” he said.

Rep. Roilo Golez (LAMP, Paranaque) called the $100 billion value put by Zobel on the famed Marcos wealth as “incredible”.

“That is larger than our gross national product, which is about P3 trillion. Where did they get that huge wealth?” he said. [H: Hummmnn—oh, well.]

He said not even Microsoft Corp.’s Bill Gates, the world’s richest man, has that kind of money. Gates is worth about $80 billion.

For his part, Rep. Danilo Suarez (LAMP, Quezon) said if Marcos had a gold hoard as Zobel claims, that asset has already shrank in value since gold prices plummeted from around $900 an ounce in the mid-1980s to less than $300 at present. [H: Yes, now we are getting our numbers a bit better presented. And I hope that you who have bashed Ekker-Ekker and Hatonn look carefully at that first number of $900. You who have blown your positions in the Institute have also pretty badly damaged your profits because, if you think gold is not going to jump—you aren’t paying attention. And you who have brought the Institute to hurt are simply going to be cashed out, ASAP, at the going rate, with expenses considered.]

But Bunye, who worked for Zobel’s companies for 14 years from 1972 to 1986, asked his colleagues not to dismiss his former boss’ story.

“We should not ignore it. It should provide us leads to trace, search for and recover the Marcos wealth,” he said.

Describing his former boss as a “very straightforward person” and still “very sharp mentally despite his physical handicap”, Bunye said he has no doubt that the conversation referred to—in which Marcos allegedly told the businessman the extent of the wealth—had really taken place.

“The figure the former president mentioned to him may be in doubt, but Zobel has proof that the Marcos family, indeed, had a huge sum hidden abroad,” he said.

He was referring to photocopies of the U.S. Treasury Department certificates worth $161 million the businessman presented to the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee.

“Those certificates can easily be verified,” he said.

On the gold bullion received by Marcos’ loyal followers, Bunye, Golez and Suarez found this claim equally incredible.

Golez said Ramos and Enrile “are not that stupid as to accept gold bars from Marcos and open themselves to blackmail during their lifetime.”

“That was a reckless statement, which the Blue Ribbon Committee should not have accepted,” he said.—Staff reporters [END OF QUOTING]

Since this is much like an ongoing soap opera at its worst, let us just interject the Davao article.

We will get Imelda all involved later, as the papers come out, but my scribe is tired from a very long day, so we will offer this next article and let you ones within the loop have your fun, because you have worked hard and waited long for any kind of positive feedback of tangible nature. Please keep in mind that the GAME goes on in order to checkmate the “Powers that be”, and how better to do it than to make offers that surely cannot be refused? Enjoy! By the way, where there is reference to “custodian”—KNOW THAT THERE ARE BUNCHES OF CUSTODIANS AROUND THE WHOLE OF THE GLOBE.

[QUOTING, PHILIPPINE DAILY INQUIRER, 10/30/99:]

$10-B “CUSTODIAN” TO THE RESCUE

DAVAO CITY, (Mindanao)—Each government employee may yet enjoy this Christmas the P 7200 amelioration pay earlier scrapped by President Estrada.

That’s if some 500 metric tons of gold said to be stored in Sta. Josefa, Agusan del Sur, are turned over to the government.

Ex-priest Marcelino Tagle, yesterday said that he would turn over to the government “within the next two weeks” the gold hoard worth about $10-billion (P400 billion). [H: So, you can see that our interim funding CANNOT BE FAR AWAY—for this indicates that WITHIN the next two weeks—the gusher begins. Yes, indeed, this is most certainly “secured” by Global. And we don’t need even the 20% free-and-clear to clean up anything we have holding over our heads. Wow, isn’t life grand in its potential possibilities? I remind everyone, however, that the “mess back home” will be cleared up through an Ekker LOAN, to finish off all claims against Ekker-Ekker—FOREVER AND EVER AND EVER AGAIN. That may well require a bit of time but I think you can smile on Thanksgiving.]

Tagle, a former director of Caritas Manila and one of the country’s “Ten Outstanding Young Men” in 1967, claims to be a co-administrator of the Sta. Romana Estate, which reportedly has both the Yamashita and Vatican gold. [H: Well, part of it. But you will next be given a “round figure” which is not correct, being on the LOW side, that we have access to in the pure yellow stuff.]

The former priest said the Yamashita and Vatican gold was the main source of the Marcos gold which, according to him, was valued at $10 TRILLION.

Tagle yesterday told the Inquirer that Pastor Iluminado Balonga of the Remnants of the Family of God [H: NOT A BAD CLUE RIGHT HERE] in Sta. Josefa, Agusan del Sur, had asked him to represent Balonga “to donate to the government some 500 metric tons of gold bars”.

The gold donation can be used to pay for the amelioration pay of government workers this Christmas, cover the expected deficit of the government this year and pay part of the government debts, according to Tagle.

President Estrada last month issued an order prohibiting the granting of amelioration pay to government workers allegedly to save funds for roads and school buildings.

The scrapping of the amelioration pay prompted government employees to take to the streets.

A check with Protestant pastors in San Francisco, Agusan del Sur, yielded negative information on Balonga. [H: Yes, you can bet on it.] The Inquirer also checked with sources in Sta. Josefa but no one could give information on Balonga. [H: You can bet on that one, too.]

GUARDED BY ARMED MEN

Tagle said at least 300 armed men were guarding the area where the 500 tons of gold bars were kept. [H: Don’t bet on this one—THERE ARE BUNCHES MORE THAN 300.]

Groups including the military and cashiered Col. Alexander Noble are reportedly after the gold but could not penetrate the area, according to Tagle.

Noble could not be reached for comment.

Tagle, however, said that the tribal community in Sta. Josefa should benefit the most from the sale of the gold. [H: Oh, they already have enough backup that Global (GAIA) already processed to cover that little detail.]

[H: Are we, Team, having any fun yet?]

The former priest said Balonga had wanted half of the $10 billion to go to the government, and the other half to the tribal community and the other people who had helped the pastor.

[H: I need to point out that this does not take into consideration the process as an original transaction. The gold is secured and the GOLD IS PURCHASED—then we go from there with halves. We keep coverage at all times WITH GOLD and make damned sure there is no cheating the holders of same. They hold the documents to insure a FAIR AND EQUITABLE TRANSACTION, AND THEN WE GO FOR PROJECTS, NATIONAL ASSISTANCE, ETC. IT IS WIN-WIN, ALL THE WAY.]

He said the pastor was authorized by 47 datus (local chieftains) to donate the gold.

“Pastor Balonga should be congratulated for his good intention of donating the gold,” Tagle said.

“And there will be more (gold),” the ex-priest said, adding that “almost half of the gold hoard from the Yamashita treasures and the Hitler gold ‘or the Vatican gold’ are in the Philippines.”

MEETING WITH ZAMORA

Tagle said a Jesuit priest was making arrangements for his meeting with Executive Secretary Ronaldo Zamora and Mr. Estrada next week to discuss the donation.

He said his initial estimate of the value of the Marcos gold was “only the tip of the iceberg”.

He said he was in close touch with the members of a committee of a Marcos Foundation [H: a-humnn] chaired by Dona Maria Gosilatar. [H: Remember Maria?]

Gosilatar became the chair of the foundation after Gen. Fabian Ver died last year, according to Tagle. [H: Yep, just after Ekkers et al. returned from Malaysia. Isn't the world small after all?]

Tagle said Ver knew a lot about the Marcos gold hoard and his mistress, Edna Camcam, “is very knowledgeable about this”.

Tagle wants the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas to explain what happened to the 132,000 metric tons of gold DEPOSITED IN NEW YORK.

A metric ton of gold is worth around $10 million today, according to Tagle.

“We are the world’s richest country. But why are we begging?” Tagle said.

He said the country’s wealth was “confirmed by World Metal Precieux, which is owned by Swiss banks and which controls the world’s gold supply.”

The resigned Catholic priest said the World Bank was making the Philippines bow to its demands, even as it was lending part of the Marcos gold to the country. “That’s a shameless behavior,” he said.

Tagle said Don Enrique Zobel was “telling the truth” when the business magnate claimed that some $100-billion worth of Marcos wealth included U.S. TREASURY NOTES AND ASSETS BEING KEPT BY THE VATICAN.

Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile has described Zobel’s allegation as “fantastic as King Solomon’s mines”.

The former priest said Enrile was downplaying the extent of the Marcos wealth. Tagle dared Enrile to sue him.

[END OF QUOTING]

I will close with just a bit of current good feedback.

There are several people downstairs, as Dharma and I write, who are meeting with E.J.—getting some final kinks worked out of their own documentation.

I will just give a sort of paraphrase to the information. But keep in mind that here there is a four-day holiday so most everything is closed. Especially the government, postal services and banks are not doing business—but they sure are hard and fast AT WORK, under cover of this holiday.

Message: “I need to get this changed in my paperwork, because the Philippine National Bank has said this program is now approved by the Central Bank and these transactions will be proceeding right away.”

We had already had that information, but this was most certainly good verification while exchanges are taking place between “our” Mr. Ekker and President Estrada. It is just all in the working-out as to how, etc.

Then came a call, in the middle of this particular meeting, from ones headed to Malaysia. The programs have been approved in Malaysia and OUR MOVIE PERSON (this is mostly for Wally G. and George V.) says that Malaysia is going to fund the “Big One”.

Ah, but haven’t we been this close before? NO.

Dharma prefers to wait until it’s in her hand, in cash—OK. Good things, even wines, take time to become perfection. It CAN be a wonderful and glorious new MILLENNIUM!

Ah, but chelas, THE SORTING must be done. We do not bring evil into our houses—literally.

Marcos: People’s Hero, Not The Elite’s Puppet

FLIGHT 990

Hatonn—Yes, I understand that you would like me to give a full rundown every day because this is a current and most important topic. However, we must maintain our focus and thrust on our own mission in Manila.

The speculation here, as might be expected, is that there is another “mysterious” “Devil’s triangle” in that particular area of problems for aircraft. Well, it is a Devil’s triangle but it is called Montauk “operations”. Well, actually they don’t call it “Montauk” or “Phoenix” as of old, and there is plenty of TRUE information pouring forth already, without my input.

I DO ASK RON AND THE PAPER STAFF TO RUN THE INFORMATION IN THE PAPER AS IT COMES FORTH FROM “REAL” SOURCES, FOR THE REAL INFORMATION IS BEING BURIED—NOTE, TOTALLY.

It is important WHY that plane landed at Edwards Air Force Base. It is also interesting that the reporters work so hard to disallow you to know there were 199 people aboard. And what about a “tire” having to be “fixed”? Oh, indeed, all this is important; very important.

You will find, in addition, that the rate of descent of that craft was faster than just falling—shades of [TWA Flight #] 800 and John Kennedy, Jr. And what of the notations that planes were being rerouted in that area “because there were missiles being fired”? Please, just run the articles, even if they are speculation; the truth is within the bits and pieces.

Yes, indeed, we could use Korton’s input but I can’t relinquish my scribe this morning, and enough information is coming in on the “underground” wires or wirelesses to cover that distraction.

It is noted that, here in Manila, the stories about the gift of Marcos funds (Davao) and Fr. Tagle are also buried—DEEP. There is no mention thereof. In addition to that burial, there is another known “Tagle” who was a suspected rapist, among other nasty things, shoved back in the news to divert any attention from Fr. Tagle. Politicians and bankers now have to have “more time” to arrange their lies properly. It is fine, for we want NO attention.

And remember something about politics; the facts are never correct. Also remember that Clinton has a Jewish WRITER. My goodness, and you are going to experience another readjustment phase of negotiations taking place as to Palestine-Israel, not in the area of the problems—but at Camp David. Oh, well.

Let’s move along, Dharma, for there is enough information about Marcos, treasures, etc., even excluding that which is hidden, to pretty much tell our tale right here in these published Zobel reports. Let us not get too distracted, for this is extremely important.

Oh, you want a “little” answer about Sipapus and games? No games, just Sipapus. And the denials back in limbo-land called home? Oh, sort of like the denial of the crystal—as in, “it can’t be so”. Wait and watch and you, Dharma, type please. Just take note that the more the denials the more fun the Native Americans are having around town. Those people, however, will protect the reverence, unlike the birth of the “white buffalo”, until the proper time and presentation.

I can assure you that every item touched in the Ekker household is noted, recorded and remembered by the “travelers”. EVERY ONE. And, in that focus, why is it OK TO GO AND TAKE FROM EKKERS’ PROPERTY, LIKE A SWARM OF LOCUSTS? Why not go over to Laurie’s, Joan’s, Bilgers’ (who have some of Ekkers’ property from the farm), Rick’s, yea, even Millers’—and simply TAKE ANYTHING YOU SEE THAT YOU WANT, WHILE CLAIMING ABANDONMENT RIGHTS OR SOMETHING EQUALLY AS STUPID? Why, in fact, don’t you just go over to Spectrum’s offices and get bank accounts and computers, and simply announce they are yours—that somehow the owners are “basket-cases” and a little dark around the edges. My most favorite people in all the world are “very dark” and, yes, around the edges—those edges called “skin”. And “tantrums”? Have you not seen incredible tantrums and fits in those takers, just to try and keep their stolen loot? What have you come to, people? How do you who do these things, with children attached, expect those children to grow tall and strong—IN TRUTH? The opposite of “pride” is not “humility”, as preached, it is SHAME. And there is much SHAME to be borne by the Spectrum locusts.

It is rather fun to notice that the very ones who claim to have not “taken anything” are now passing around and—through the mail, yet—giving out things like copies of E.J.’s whatever, when he was a 32° Mason. This is happening as if that somehow makes E.J. an evil “basket-case”. These things were NEVER hidden. There was no reason to ever think anything but wonderful things about being a Mason, for goodness’ sakes. It is a “service” organization. Ekker’s wedding ring, as a matter of fact, bore the Mason/Shriner symbol. E.J. was not an active member but held membership in Green River, Utah (some 400 people) for years. So WHAT? What is this? LET ME TELL YOU WHAT IT IS: IT IS THEFT, AND THIS PROVES THE THEFT. THAT INFORMATION COULD ONLY HAVE COME FROM

EKKERS' PRIVATE PROPERTY—AND THAT IS WHAT IS NOW PROVEN—BREAKING, ENTERING, THEFT, LOOTING AND TRESPASS.

Yes, indeed, Tehachapi is a very important PLACE. But, it is going to get more and more unpleasant for the dirty bounders who usurp and destroy.

By the way: People who demand “retractions” of statements—must FIRST PROVE STATEMENTS ARE FALSE! My intentions have been to be as kind as possible to Millers so, if they wish that attitude adjusted or retracted, so be it!

So, who COULD live in that house comfortably, if anyone, henceforth, with open expression and protection? Oh, about two families: Ekkers and Kunicks—and that, for the SAME basic reason. Or, do the people around the Spectrum group not believe ANYTHING comes before Etheric Ed and Tricky Ricky? The “games” have not just now started; it is time to stop playing.

BACK TO MARCOS-ZOBEL

[QUOTING from THE PHILIPPINE STAR, Nov. 2, 1999:]

ZOBEL STORY CONFIRMS IMELDA TALE ON WEALTH

HONOLULU—Finally, someone who believes her story.

Industrialist Enrique Zobel has virtually confirmed before the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee old claims of former First Lady Imelda Marcos that the Marcos family has assets amounting to some $100 billion, mostly in gold bullion.

During an interview in her San Juan residence—hours after the Supreme Court ACQUITTED HER of her first charge in October last year—the Marcos widow showed The Star a thick leather folder bursting with documents. The documents consisted mostly of yellowing stock and gold certificates, land titles and foreign-currency deposits.

[H: This does remind me to remind all of you that a LEGAL and LAWFUL acquittal or “not guilty”, as in O. J. Simpson’s case (or Imelda’s), doesn’t seem to mean a thing. Oh, the people recognize it, but the Khazarian miscreants (thanks, Ron) never let it lay. Why? Because they are about to be caught in their own traps, without the MONEY.]

A member of the Marcos household—who asked not to be named—claimed that these were the same documents Zobel showed the Senate Blue Ribbon panel in Honolulu. The source also said the leather folder was the same one that was at the bedside of the late dictator. [H: Dictator? Marcos was a fully and democratically elected President. See, if you say something often enough and long enough—it becomes reality, even if totally a lie.]

Zobel, a banker and industrialist who is paralyzed from the neck down due to a polo accident in 1991, said in a deposition to the Senate Blue Ribbon Committee taken in Hawaii last week that the fortune consisted of U.S. Treasury notes, Federal Reserve notes and gold certificates.

The U.S. TREASURY NOTES were reportedly worth $161 million and the gold certificates $35 billion dollars, deposited in Switzerland, Portugal, the United States, Vatican City, Spain and the Solomon Islands.

A Filipino photographer, who used to be a member of the staff of former Ambassador Benjamin “Kokoy” Romualdez in Washington, was also asked by the Marcoses to macro-photograph these original documents “for posterity’s sake”, the source added.

The negatives remain with the photographer, who flew back to Manila with the former first lady in November 1991. He has remained with her staff ever since.

Mrs. Marcos has denied the Marcos wealth was stolen, saying the former president had traded in gold before he became president and had also found a treasure trove of gold bars belonging to Japanese Imperial Army General Tomoyuki Yamashita after World War II.

[H: To interrupt here for a brief notation but one of rather important consideration: All this rhetoric is OK, so far. The facts are larger, as you can always assume. The original “plans” were substantial and with wide consideration for GOD’S PLAN 2000. Everything was going well, gold was being shifted (OUR GOLD) and Yamashita was getting a LOT of credit. Unfortunately, Yamashita didn’t have time to bury much of any treasure before his execution (to get him deaded and shut-up). When the greed got inserted, and the Reagan Boys (well, Bush Boys) got totally involved, and the U.S. Government took a lot of assets, as is recognized by those (but not all) exchanges of certificates already revealed here, it got out of hand and a grab was made for the SUPERFUND. That, with all its criminal actions and greed, was set forth and thus, in the end times of Russell Herman, it was not even considered particularly large in amount as asked by Bush to turn over $35 TRILLION to Saddam Hussein. Here, however, is where the sheets were split, so to speak. And, here is where the “Global ‘bonds’” assets were established. Marcos had already been printing new currency on the substantial foundation of “gold” certificates or receipts, whichever fits your own recognition as to terminology. The “contract” now held by GAIA was big enough in its own right but became a coverall for so much wealth as to be staggering to the senses. Marcos tried desperately to hold to the PLAN, realizing it was “our” plan (God’s Plan 2000); Imelda was not particularly included in ANY LOOP. Imelda knew there were almost UNLIMITED funds and thought nothing of spending it. Actually, she got trinkets, but the majority of the funds she spent went to improving the Philippines. She did it the ONLY WAY SHE KNEW HOW. The Marcos family is still struggling to see to it that the wealth gets to the Philippine PEOPLE. It is not the Marcos family or Imelda that has stayed any forward movement—but because, if that is allowed, the political structure of the whole nation will collapse.]

In the October 1998 interview, Mrs. Marcos told The Star that her family has substantial amounts of shares in various companies involved in food and beverage, telecommunications, power and energy, air transportation, shipping, real estate and other strategic industries like steel and cement, during the late dictator’s 20-year rule. [H: Right on.]

Zobel’s testimony before the senators—that most of the assets of the Marcoses are in Manila—mirrored the former first lady’s claims.

“I have documents to prove that our family owns several of these companies,” the 72-year-old Marcos widow stressed during the Star interview last year.

[H: Ah, media accuracy? Imelda just had a bash to end all bashes THIS YEAR, FOR HER 70TH BIRTHDAY, AND EVEN GEORGE THE VAMPIRE CAME. NOW FOLKS, THESE ARE THINGS, SUCH AS THE PRICE OF GOLD, EASILY COME BY AS IN “FACT”. NO WONDER EVERYONE THINKS THEY CAN GET AWAY WITH ANYTHING—AND DO.]

Meanwhile, the existence of the gold certificates has spawned a whole new breed of opportunists, who are scouring the world’s financial capitals purportedly for and [on] behalf of Mrs. Marcos, the source told the Star.

Carrying allegedly authentic authorizations and powers-of-attorney bearing the Marcos widow’s signature, these “precious-metal middlemen” meet with their victims in lobbies of some of the most expensive hotels in the world—from the Waldorf Astoria in New York to the Raffles Hotel in Singapore and the Okura in Tokyo.

In Manila, a Marcos aide said these so-called agents are well-known big tippers at the Manila Hotel, the Hotel InterContinental and the New World Hotel. [H: Gosh, it seemed like almost all of them also passed through this little Gilarmi Hotel, where they don’t hardly tip at all. You can’t even imagine the “deals” we have seen.]

Several of these Filipino and foreign middlemen were arrested two years ago by the Australian police for bilking investors, who were lured into financing fictitious gold deposit-recovery projects.

Because of such scams, the National Bureau of Investigation is constantly being badgered by the Interpol for requests to authenticate the Imelda-signed documents that were confiscated from poseurs.

[H: This one paragraph tells truth about our program more than anything yet possibly COULD. INTERPOL? Note, please, that the IMF, FED, FEDS, FBI, INTERPOL and every other known intelligence agency has been following us around and have had to tacitly use only the “stonewall” technique. Well, that didn’t work, either, and the world KNOWS the product is GOOD. And, “everyone” is helping see to it that my team stays alive and well. It is not going to be good for any idiot who blunders in this game—INCLUDING ONE, RICK MARTIN-CORTRIGHT.]

The NBI (Philippine National Bureau of Investigation) has asked Mrs. Marcos herself to authenticate the documents. [H: This is the same NBI which “accidentally” blew up its own headquarters in Manila along with at least 7 of its own agents. And the outcome? Oh, well.]

So far, the former first lady has not confirmed the authenticity of any such papers. The wealth reportedly amassed by the late dictator also continues to tantalize Filipinos 13 years after his ouster.

But Marcos’ long-time defense minister, now Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, in published remarks Monday dismissed the disclosures by Zobel as a tall tale. [H: Yes, I’m sure he did.]

Zobel, 72 [H: well, looks like everyone is 72], told the Senate committee that Marcos’ assets could be worth a $100 billion “between gold, assets and dollars (and based on the) overall comments of even banker friends.”

The businessman, who was close to Marcos, also said he was old and dying and “so I feel I would like to contribute something to the Filipino people.”

Enrile, however, said Zobel’s statements were [as] “fantastic as King Solomon’s mines.” [H: Oh my, but King Solomon’s mines ARE NOT “FANTASTIC”.]

“It’s nothing but air,” said Enrile, who rebelled against his boss in 1986 and co-led the popular uprising that toppled him from power. [H: Now we’re getting there, aren’t we?]

Enrile said he saw the purported gold certificates and concluded they were “fake”. The senator also denied statements by Zobel that Marcos had given him and Ramos $1 million worth of gold bars between 1960 and 1970.

The Philippine government has accused Marcos of embezzling billions of dollars from the national coffers during his 20-year rule. He died in exile in Hawaii in 1989. His wife, Imelda, has repeatedly said he left a will leaving his fortune to the Filipino people.

In a related development, Ombudsman Aniano Desierto said Zobel’s testimony would be useless if the industrialist is unable to show proof that Marcos, indeed, gave such quantities of gold to his most loyal followers.

Mrs. Marcos has not confirmed Zobel’s claim that her late husband had, indeed, given $1 million worth of gold bullion each to former President Fidel Ramos, Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, the late Armed Forces chief Gen. Fabian Ver and the late congressman Floro Crisologo.

"It would take more than Zobel's testimony to prosecute Ramos and Enrile," Desierto said. "The testimony cannot be used as evidence."

In other developments yesterday, President Estrada said he is still willing to enter into a compromise agreement with the family of the late dictator but stressed he will leave it up to the courts to decide if such a deal is lawful. He said the court is the only venue where contracts could be questioned or upheld.

"We can negotiate (with the Marcoses) but the courts will have the final say," he said in a chance interview at the San Juan public cemetery, where he paid his respects to his father Imilio and brother George. He also said that his administration will not abandon efforts to recover the fabled Marcos billions and bullion through all possible means, including out-of-court negotiations.

[END OF QUOTING]

Do I have comments? Yes, indeed. Some are for the very ones orchestrating in behalf of the Marcos' people. It is time to meet your commitments to my team, who have provided the things with which you can NOT do without. This is unacceptable in the delays on such a small matter, which should not even be considered as part of any Global exchange or transactions.

Fatima, please relay this message, for my level of cooperation is being stretched about as far as it is going to be. We can do this whole job without any assets from Marcos' stashes, and we are going to move right on in other directions, if commitments are not kept, like NOW. There is certainly a LOT (as in tonnes) of gold found and to be found. It is now time to play fair with ME and MINE. Stop arguing over piddling percentages. When you have "unlimited", what could possibly be as important as keeping your word on the small things? These are personal THINGS, chelas—but mark clearly your intentions WITH ME, ATON. And no, YOU CANNOT DO ANYTHING WITHOUT MY PARTICIPATION, EXCEPT TOPPLE.

The facts are that the Philippines is about to blow the advantage to a couple of other NATIONS.

Dharma, please let us use today's Zobel report, and then we can turn to other business matters. Thank you for such an early start, and perhaps you can find quiet time this afternoon. I know the pressures are heavy, so we move on through while taking respite where and when you can.

[QUOTING, The Philippine Star, Nov. 3, 1999:]

ZOBEL STORY ON $100-B FM GOLD "AN OLD TUNE" SOUNDS FAMILIAR?

Former Sen. Rene Saguisag said yesterday, industrialist Enrique Zobel had first related his story about the alleged $100-billion Marcos gold during the Aquino Administration, but Corazon Aquino apparently did not believe him.

[H: Doesn't anyone remember that Cory's husband was assassinated? That is a quite minor thing in THIS story. Aquino had been a right-hand man to Marcos, and it certainly WAS NOT Marcos that got rid of Aquino—and Cory KNOWS it. There are all sorts of miserable skeletons in Aquinos' closets, along with gold and other wondrous things stashed. She didn't "believe" the story—because she KNEW it was even larger, by trillions of $$$, than any $100-billion and Aquino had helped distribute it into security.]

"The deposition of Zobel about the Marcos wealth and gold is an old tune. He said this a decade ago. He even wrote about it during President Cory Aquino's term and he had revealed it in the Senate in the late '80s," Saguisag said.

Mrs. Aquino confirmed yesterday that Zobel had sought a meeting with her to discuss his story.

"I never believed in the Marcoses, that's why I didn't agree to see Zobel," Mrs. Aquino said.

Senate sources said Zobel was not the only one who had tried to discuss with Mrs. Aquino the purported Marcos gold and a possible settlement with the government during her administration. Among the others were two former vice presidents, the sources said. Meanwhile, Senators Aquilino Pimentel Jr. and Juan Flavio indicated that they were giving credence to Zobel's testimony on the Marcos wealth.

It could also mean that they would give credence to Zobel's statement that the late dictator Ferdinand Marcos was sincere in his efforts to return the treasure to the Philippines through a foundation proposed by Zobel.

At Malacanang, Executive Secretary Ronaldo Zamora challenged the Marcoses to produce copies of these documents so that the government could recover the "mind-numbing" assets. "We are open to whatever they can produce, as honest-to-goodness evidence," he said.

[H: Yes, I have a comment here, as well: When the accounts are checked, there are going to be big missing gaps in product, just like the "gold-leasing" of phantom gold, etc. There has been so much corruption and coverup on the Marcos accounts and scattered assets as to boggle even the most ripped-off bankers. It is "eeny-meeny-miny-mo, who's got the gold?" Do you REALLY think these tycoons—who became tycoons through use of the Marcos assets—are just going to give them back? Oh, perish the thought. BUT, THE TRUMP (NO PUN INTENDED) CARD IS STILL OUT, ISN'T IT? WHY HAS MARCOS NEVER BEEN BURIED? DUM-DEE-DUM-DUM!]

A government official, who witnessed the deposition in Honolulu last week, said on condition of anonymity [H: Oh, good grief! And probably he was 72-years-old, too.] that the businessman's testimony is actually favorable to the Marcoses unless the Senate panel rejects it.

Mrs. Marcos has always insisted that the so-called Marcos wealth did not come from the plunder of the nation's economy but from her husband's discovery of the fabled Yamashita treasure.

[H: Let's clear up that "Yamashita" myth as well. Yamashita DISCOVERED "OUR" TREASURES while stashing war materials and digging tunnels, as the Japanese are noted for doing. AND "THAT", MY FRIENDS, IS HOW HE GOT THE CREDIT FOR STASHING ALL THAT GOLD. EVEN I AM WEARY OF THE BANTERING BACK AND FORTH OVER "YAMASHITA'S" TREASURE. "YAMASHITA" DID NOT HAVE ANY TREASURE, DID NOT HAVE "TIME" TO BURY ANYTHING, INCLUDING HIS TRACKS, AND HE WAS HANGED BEFORE TRUTH COULD BE GOTTEN TO PROPER "AUTHORITIES". IT IS SORT OF THE SAME REASON THAT SUCH PEOPLE BEING ASSASSINATED IN "ACCIDENTS" ARE CREMATED IMMEDIATELY AND SO, TOO, THE WRECKAGE, EVEN OF BUILDINGS—TO DESTROY EVIDENCE. LET US NOT BE FOOLISH ENOUGH TO CONTINUE THIS "YAMASHITA LIE". MARCOS KNEW

ABOUT THE GOLD STASHES, NOTHING MORE OR LESS. SO, WHAT YOU HAVE HAPPENING HERE ARE THE GRABBERS FIGHTING OVER "GOD'S GOLD" AND TREASURES SET HERE IN THIS LOCATION TO BE USED AT THE TURN OF THE MILLENNIUM. I SUGGEST EVERYBODY STOP TRYING TO SCREW AROUND WITH GOD AND HOSTS; IT IS NOT GOING TO WORK OUT WELL IF YOU DO. If this can't be worked out properly, I know a nice deep TRENCH off the Philippines than can hold A LOT MORE PRODUCT THAN IS ALREADY LOCATED THERE. For goodness' sakes, people, where do you think Imelda and Ferdinand came up with "holes in the sky" and "travelers" and "speaking to visitors from 'out-there'" and thus and so? WAKE UP; YOU ARE LOOKING FOOLISH, TO SAY THE VERY LEAST AND NOT BE INSULTING.]

However, Pimentel and Flavio would not say that the Yamashita treasure was the lone source of the wealth of the late strongman.

[H: Strongman? Here is another of the most stupid pictures of Marcos ever rendered. Marcos was rather slight of build, incredibly kind, cared for the "people" and considered himself and Imelda to be the "Father and Mother" of the people. He didn't order anything—he left that up to his staff, just as does Clinton and any other puppet head of state. However, Marcos was NOT A PUPPET head of state, and that is what got him destroyed.]

Pimentel said the treasure could have formed only the initial wealth of Marcos but he got more during the presidency.

The two senators said they would also look into reports that part of the Marcos gold came from a treasure that was dug up by soldiers and some civilians, but was later seized by the late dictator's men.

On the suggestion of former Solicitor General Francisco Chavez, the Blue Ribbon Committee will summon a certain Robert Caoili, who is said to be the leader of a group of young soldiers who had dug up gold bars in Montalban and other places.

Pimentel is also trying to convince two other witnesses—a foreigner and a Filipino reportedly known in the Marcos camp—to support Zobel's testimony. The foreigner is believed to have documentary evidence on the existence of the Marcos wealth, including its account numbers and the identity of the depository banks.

The presidential Commission on Good Government has always rejected reports on the Yamashita treasure, but Zobel is suspicious of such a denial.

"Maybe, they wanted to divide the gold among themselves," he said. [H: No guano!]

Meanwhile, Zamora said there is a possibility that the Marcos hoard exists, "but the amounts are mind numbing and staggering."

He said it is best that the government be provided copies of such documents for authentication purposes.

Some Palace officials have doubted the authenticity of the papers that Zobel had presented to the Senate panel. [END OF QUOTING]

And so, how is YOUR week going?

I am going to repeat something that I said earlier. We are moving right on through or around the prime people, and I ask that Fatima relay that message. We either get some help to my team, or we are going to put our thrust behind and with other players. We do not need help NEXT year—we need it NOW.

Salu, and good morning.

EgyptAir Flight 990

Suppressed Information

In response to a request from Commander to publish news regarding downplayed circumstances surrounding the “crash” of EgyptAir Flight 990, we at CONTACT hereby present several items of great interest.

THE STOP AT EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE

For hours after Flight 990 disappeared from radar, CNN commentators mentioned that the plane was reported to have stopped at Edwards Air Force Base, prior to resuming its scheduled flight through to New York, but they repeatedly stated that this information was not independently confirmed by CNN. Then, during the 6:00 a.m. broadcast, CNN provided confirmation. Here is the transcript of that broadcast. (For our Internet-savvy readers, it might still be available at this URL: <http://www.cnn.com/TRANSCRIPTS/9910/31/bn.01.html>.)

[QUOTING from CNN transcript of October 31, 1999, 6:00 a.m. broadcast:]

...O'BRIEN: Art, there's something here, Associated Reprint—Associated Press is reporting—and we want to couch this. I don't believe we have this independently confirmed by CNN. But according to Associated Press speaking to sources in Egypt, that particular EgyptAir aircraft began its flight in Los Angeles and apparently made a landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California. That seems very odd to me.

CORNELIUS: That is odd. Normally, you don't ever use a military facility, and as to why they chose Edwards, even if they had a problem, is a puzzle to me. It may be because they felt that the fire-suppression and rescue capability at a military airport might be more readily available than at a civilian airport. But I would question that.

O'BRIEN: Yes. That's a report that we're going to try to nail down. But if, in fact, that were the case, that would indicate clearly that something prior to any disappearance off of radar screens off of Nantucket, something had been troubling those pilots, perhaps...

...O'BRIEN: Cheryl Fiandaca with our affiliate WABC in New York, reporting to us from JFK Airport; thanks very much.

And just to underscore, we're—that report that that aircraft made some sort of stop at Edwards Air Force Base, which you would have to characterize as something way out of the ordinary, that report still has not been independently confirmed by CNN. That report coming from the Associated Press. They are quoting EgyptAir officials and Egyptian television that there was that stop. We're working on trying to nail that particular thing down.

Let's go back to Art Cornelius, our aviation consultant in Los Angeles. Art, I don't want to dwell on this Edwards thing too much, because [of] the fact that we don't have it confirmed. But when—when a stop like that occurs, one should consider the possibilities that there was some kind of abnormality on that plane.

CORNELIUS: Yes. I would definitely consider that now. If, in fact, they landed at Edwards, that indicates a number of things: First, Edwards would be an unfamiliar airport to the crew, and so would not be high on their list of choices for diversion.

O'BRIEN: Art—Art, I'm going to interrupt real quickly. I just want to let our viewers know we have confirmed that flight, Flight 990, after leaving Los Angeles, did, in fact, stop at Edwards Air Force Base. So let's go forward with the certainty that this, in fact, happened.

Give us some scenarios as to why that would have happened. Edwards Air Force Base, folks might be familiar with it as—a lot of a test aircraft are flown out of there. The Shuttle often lands there. It has a very long and forgiving runway, does it not?

CORNELIUS: Well, yes, if you use the lake bed, it is a very long and forgiving runway. But I will—I will just guarantee you from my experience that if an aircraft lands on the lake bed, he is not going to turn around and go anywhere real soon, because there's going to be some—some cleanup that has to be done.

Secondly...

O'BRIEN: But there is a hard-surface runway there, we want to point out to our viewers.

CORNELIUS: Oh, yes. But it's no longer than those at many other locations. Los Angeles has a 12,000-foot runway, and Los Angeles also has, you know, an excellent airport-rescue and fire-fighting capability.

Ontario Airport, just due south of there, has a 10,000-foot runway, or better. And they also have an excellent fire-fighting capability. So it used to be that you might choose a military airport if you wanted to foam the runway for some reason: i.e., you might have a landing-gear problem, and you were going to put the airplane down and you wanted to have the foam.

That's seldom done anymore. And the military airports had the capability to foam the runway, whereas most civilian airports did not. But they don't do that anymore. It's found to be not an efficient option for an emergency.

O'BRIEN: All right, Art. I'm going to have you stand by. Let's turn now to Ben Wedeman, who just left an EgyptAir news conference in Cairo.

Ben, what can you tell us?

WEDEMAN: What I can tell you is that, yes, that plane did land at Edwards Air Force Base. The reason for that is not clear... [END QUOTING]

Later in the day, there was no reference to this stop at Edwards Air Force Base.

Was this another Illuminati operation? As Robert Sterling wrote, in the following article for The Konformist on the Internet—QUITE PROBABLY.

[QUOTING Robert Sterling of The Konformist, 11/1/99:]

THE ILLUMINATI AND EGYPTAIR FLIGHT 990

The most sacred of numbers to the Illuminati is 33, corresponding to the highest degree of Masonry.

When events have the Illuminati's fingerprints on them, they often leave numeric clues involving the number 33 to let those in the know what is going on.

On Halloween, EgyptAir Flight 990 crashed going from New York to Egypt.

At the time of its sudden fall, the plane was at an altitude of 33,000 feet.

The plane disappeared from radars 33 minutes after takeoff.

The EgyptAir plane, named Thutmosis II, had a little over 33,000 flight hours.

It has been confirmed that 33 Egyptian military officers were aboard EgyptAir.

33 people boarded the plane on its previous stop, Los Angeles.

990 is 10 times a trinity of 33s.

The number of passengers is reported as one hundred and a trinity of 33s (199). [END QUOTING]

MORE OCCULT SYMBOLOGY

Following up on Robert Sterling's observations, Andy Basiago of Los Angeles did a little homework of his own.

[QUOTING, from the Internet, Nov. 3, 1999:]

With his characteristic insight, it looks like Robert Sterling of The Konformist has decoded the numerology of Flight 990, identifying it as a Masonic ritual sacrifice.

Here is some analysis that I have independently developed that would seem to confirm what lurks in the shadows of this tragic event.

1. The number of the flight, 990. "...10 times a trinity of thirty-three..." Ten = Moses, bringer of the Ten Commandments. Trinity = the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Thirty-Three = the number of years of Jesus' life.

Possible significance of the use of these key Christian allusions: Freemasonry as the purposeful inversion of Christianity. Satanism as "the ape of God".

2. The name of the plane, Thutmosis II. Thutmosis = Moses. Thutmosis was the name of Moses before Hatshepsut and her handmaidens put him in a basket and floated him down the Nile, where he was found among the bullrushes by the Hebrews. Masons regard Moses as a "Master Mason". He is found on one of the bas reliefs that the Masons, who founded our country, placed around the Senate (?), where other great "Masons" from history are featured (Maimonides, Napoleon, etc.)? Luke 3 places Moses in the Davidic bloodline from Adam to Jesus. Hence, "Moses" constitutes an ideal ritual-sacrifice victim.

3. An EgyptAir flight from New York to Cairo. A flight from the New Babylon to the principal symbolic site of Freemasonry, which calls itself "the Ancient Arabic Order of the Egyptian Shrine". Just as the Masons use the Great Pyramid on the dollar bill to represent the New World Order, so a big event is scheduled for the Great Pyramid on January 1, 2000 to usher in the New Millennium.

4. The numerology of Flight 990. In numerology, $9 + 9 + 0 = 18 = 1 + 8 = 9 = 3 + 3 + 3$ —again, the prevalence of 3s identified by Sterling.

5. Dating the event from the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat. President Sadat of Egypt was assassinated in October 1981. EgyptAir 990, the number of whose name is 18, crashed 18 years later, in October 1999. $18 = 9 + 9 + 0$, or $6 + 6 + 6$, or $3 + 3 + 3 + 3 + 3 + 3$.

6. The last name of the first man on the scene, James T. Hall of the NTSB. Hall = H + A + I + I = (H)iram (A)biff II? A veiled reference to Hiram Abiff? Hall = Masonic hall. A veiled reference to "the Great Hall" found in Masonic temples? Possible use of the mass media to make the entire public realm a vast Masonic "hall" where this ritual sacrifice is viewed, dissected and analyzed?

7. Initially, only one body is found. Could this have been used to identify all of the victims as, in a sense, a single body, a single victim, a single sacrifice?

8. "Three" are "missing". The British press has stated that three Canadians were aboard; the American press has neglected to mention that any Canadians were aboard. Could these three victims represent "the three worshipful craftsmen" of Freemasonry, who are "present, but not mentioned"?

9. Fifteen crew members were on the doomed flight. This not only continues the pattern of threes, i.e., 3 times 5, but it contains a sum of the Masonic pattern $3 + 5 + 7$.

10. President Clinton appoints Thurgood Marshall II as his emissary to the investigation. Thurgood Marshall, Sr. was a product of that part of the American civil-rights movement that was sponsored by the Black Masonic lodges. This tradition, which has emphasized racial harmony and Black economic upliftment, has included figures such as Marcus Garvey and the Rev. Jesse Jackson, Jr.

Shortly after the accident, President Clinton appointed Thurgood Marshall II as his emissary to Egypt during the investigation of what happened to Thutmosis II.

Thutmosis II. Thurgood Marshall II. Could this be a Masonic cypher of some kind symbolizing covert Masonic control from the time of Moses to the present?

For now, we can only wait and watch, mindful that a sinister Masonic fraternity seems bent on manipulating the public events of our time for some occult purpose.

[END QUOTING]

It appears that, for hours after the entry of Flight 990 into the area of the "New Bermuda Triangle"—just offshore of Montauk, Long Island, where TWA 800 and the plane of John Kennedy, Jr. both also "disappeared off radar"—OTHER flights were being steered away, warned of "rocket fire". (??) Is it possible that there was some sort of residue energy field from the use of the Montauk weaponry?

[QUOTING from NewsMax.com, Nov. 1, 1999:]

"ROCKETS" FIRED IN AREA OF DOWNED JET?

...EgyptAir's Boeing 767 fell from the sky sometime early Sunday morning—at about 2 a.m. Later Sunday morning, NewsMax.com editor Christopher Ruddy was on United Flight #976, which departed JFK at 9:15 a.m., headed for London.

At about 10 a.m., Ruddy put on his headset. He clicked through the music channels and tuned in to transmissions between his United plane and air traffic control in the United States.

"Air traffic control was advising planes to change their flight paths, giving out new coordinates and altitudes for planes on the flight paths over the Atlantic," Ruddy recalled the conversation he overheard.

"At one point, a crew member of one of the planes radioed air traffic control to ask why the change. Air traffic control responded that 'there are rockets being fired in the area'."

"I heard early that morning before boarding my plane that there was a missing EgyptAir plane," Ruddy said, "the conversation I heard on the plane really struck me, as did the controllers' use of the word 'rockets'."

There is no indication yet of any U.S. military activities in the area. Still, the suggestion that there was some military activity near the plane's flight path raises the specter of TWA 800. Critics of the government investigation have alleged U.S. Naval vessels were in the area and may have accidentally fired a missile at the civilian jet. [END QUOTING]

You can only wonder how much "grief relief" the friends and family of the missing passengers felt when counseled by the ONLY passenger to have disembarked from the plane at its stop in New York.

[QUOTING, ASSOCIATED PRESS, Oct. 31, 1999:]

"STRANGE TWIST"

GRIEF COUNSELOR GOT OFF IN N.Y.

NEW YORK—Only one passenger got off EgyptAir Flight 990 when it landed in New York, but in a strange twist, his services were needed by the airline almost immediately. Ed McLaughlin works for the Family Enterprise Institute, which helps airlines notify family members of air accident victims.

McLaughlin even participated in a news conference eight hours after the plane went down, describing his work to reporters.

"We work with EgyptAir to try to help the families with the notification process," he said. "At the moment we're struggling to get everything together."

McLaughlin never mentioned that he'd been on the doomed plane and was the only passenger who boarded in Los Angeles to get off in New York. The plane vanished off radar screens near Nantucket Island [just east of Martha's Vineyard, where John Kennedy's plane "disappeared from radar"] while en route to Cairo from New York. [END QUOTING]

800, JFK Jr., EgyptAir 990: three for the new triangle, in a devilish, quick sequence. Will it rattle the general-public cage? Open a few overslumbered eyes? If only John Q. Curious would stay focused long enough to see through the quickly-adjusted media blarney offerings. (Perhaps we should expect another high-level "zipper crisis" or other mammoth distraction.) Maybe Y2K is so close that it will suffice to distract from public recognition of enough truth to start to see the form of evil events we are being so arrogantly buffeted by. And, most gloriously, maybe we-the-people ARE waking up!

Unfortunately, these Elite "would-be-king" Puppet Masters will continue to perpetrate these all-too-frequent, brazen, dastardly atrocities, as long as we continue to shun our responsibilities by remaining apathetic to the actual intent of their implementation and not demanding that they be taken to task through aggressive exposure to the Light of Truth.

NEW MADRID FAULT POSES SEVERE THREAT, REPORT SAYS

By Peter Kendall, Chicago Tribune, November 5, 1999

A new method of measuring how Earth gathers energy before unleashing an earthquake suggests the New Madrid Fault that runs into southern Illinois is building up for a big one.

Research published in Friday's edition of the journal Science found that an area that includes Memphis, St. Louis and the bottom-third of Illinois is shaken about every 500 years by a quake that could topple buildings and bridges and knock down levees on the Mississippi River.

The study adds another voice to the chorus of warnings of a potentially disastrous earthquake caused by a geological phenomenon that no one can explain.

"If a similar event occurs in the future, Memphis and St. Louis would be the hardest hit," said Karl Mueller, a geologist at the University of Colorado at Boulder. "And if the Mississippi River was running high at the time, there is the possibility of broken levees along some 150 miles of river."

The last big quake on the fault was in 1812. Although the quakes come on average every 500 years, that doesn't mean the fault won't budge before 2312.

Over a six-month period in 1811 and 1812, there were three quakes estimated at about 7.5 magnitude.

"If you take the argument that you only have to worry about these every 500 years, then you would have thought you were fine after the first one in 1811—then you got whacked two more times," said Mark Zoback, a geophysicist at Stanford University who has studied the New Madrid Fault.

The new research led by Mueller, measured deformities in dirt and rocks near the surface that reveal how the fault is shifting 10 miles underground. To do this, the geologists hired a backhoe to dig long trenches near the banks of the Mississippi to look at how once-flat layers of sediment have been folded and bent by granite heaving far below.

By determining when those layers were folded, the scientists developed what they believe is the most accurate measure of how fast the fault is moving and storing up energy for the next quake.

They then calculated the build-up of energy since the last quakes in 1812 to forecast how large an earthquake would be if it happened now, 100 years from now, or in 2312.

"If you assume an earthquake every 500 years, then you have an earthquake that has a magnitude in the low- to mid-

7s," said Margaret Guccione, a University of Arkansas geologist who collaborated with Mueller and two other scientists. "If it happens tomorrow, it will be smaller, but still a large earthquake."

Those estimates are consistent with many other forecasts.

"It is certainly within the range of the other plausible models," said Joan Gomberg, a U.S. Geological Survey seismologist at the Center for Earthquake Research and Information in Memphis.

In April, Science published research by Northwestern University geophysicist Seth Stein, who concluded that earthquakes along the New Madrid Fault were not as great a threat as had been forecast. That upset some seismologists, who believed it would give governments reason to minimize preparations for a big earthquake.

On Thursday, Stein said the findings in the new study are not that different from his. "I think it's a nice paper," he said.

Despite all the research and forecasting, scientists still can't explain why the region has an earthquake-churning fault beneath it.

The Earth's crust is made of continent-sized plates that slide and collide on time scales of millions of years. Most earthquakes occur at the edges, where the plates scrape and bump one another. But the New Madrid Fault inexplicably produces powerful earthquakes in the middle of the rigid North American Plate.

"We are always surprised by earthquakes, but we have a physical understanding about why we have earthquakes in California—it is along a plate boundary," said Gomberg. "Here, we don't even have a framework to understand why we have earthquakes"...

[JR: Our Earth (Shan) is always changing, but it seems that when this New Madrid Fault is again triggered, it will be in a BIG way. With an understanding of plate tectonics, mankind should not have built up population centers right on and near these major faults.]

ZIONISM VERSUS BOLSHEVISM— STRUGGLE FOR THE SOUL OF THE JEWISH PEOPLE

By the Rt. Hon. Winston S. Churchill

Illustrated Sunday Herald, February 8, 1920

SOME people like Jews and some do not; but no thoughtful man can doubt the fact that they are beyond all question the most formidable and the most remarkable race which has ever appeared in the world.

And it may well be that this same astounding race may at the present time be in the actual process of producing another system of morals and philosophy, as malevolent as Christianity was benevolent, which, if not arrested would shatter irretrievably all that Christianity has rendered possible. It would almost seem as if the gospel of Christ and the gospel of Antichrist were destined to originate among the same people; and that this mystic and mysterious race had been chosen for the supreme manifestations, both of the divine and the diabolical.

The National Russian Jews, in spite of the disabilities under which they have suffered, have managed to play an honourable and successful part in the national life even of Russia. As bankers and industrialists, they have strenuously promoted the development of Russia's economic resources, and they were foremost in the creation of those remarkable organisations, the Russian Co-operative Societies. In politics their support has been given, for the most part, to liberal and progressive movements, and they have been among the staunchest upholders of friendship with France and Great Britain.

International Jews

In violent opposition to all this sphere of Jewish effort rise the schemes of the International Jews. The adherents of this sinister confederacy are mostly men reared up among the unhappy populations of countries where Jews are persecuted on account of their race. Most, if not all, of them have forsaken the faith of their forefathers, and divorced from their minds all spiritual hopes of the next world. This movement among the Jews is not new. From the days of Spartacus-Weishaupt to those of Karl Marx, and down to Trotsky (Russia), Bela Kun (Hungary), Rosa Luxembourg (Germany), and Emma Goldman (United States), this worldwide conspiracy for the overthrow of civilisation and for the reconstitution of society on the basis of arrested development, of envious malevolence, and impossible equality, has been steadily growing. It played, as a modern writer, Mrs. Webster, has so ably shown, a definitely recognisable part in the tragedy of the French Revolution. It has been the mainspring of every subversive movement during the Nineteenth Century; and now at last this band of extraordinary personalities from the underworld of the great cities of Europe and America have gripped the Russian people by the hair of their heads and have become practically the undisputed masters of that enormous empire.

Terrorist Jews

There is no need to exaggerate the part played in the creation of Bolshevism and in the actual bringing about of the Russian Revolution: by these international and, for the most part, atheistical Jews. It is certainly a very great one; it probably outweighs all others. With the notable exception [sic] of Lenin, the majority of the leading figures are Jews. Moreover, the principal inspiration and driving power comes from the Jewish leaders. Thus Tchitcherin, a pure Russian, is eclipsed by his nominal subordinate Litvinoff, and the influence of Russians like Bukharin or Lunacharski cannot be compared with the power of Trotsky, or of Zinovieff, the Dictator of the Red Citadel (Petrograd), or of Krassin or Radek—all Jews. In the Soviet institutions the predominance of Jews is even more astonishing. And the prominent, if not, indeed, the principal, part in the system of terrorism applied by the Extraordinary Commissions for Combating Counter-Revolution has been taken by Jews, and in some notable cases by Jewesses.

The same evil prominence was obtained by Jews in the brief period of terror during which Bela Kun ruled in Hungary. The same phenomenon has been presented in Germany (especially in Bavaria), so far as this madness has been allowed to prey upon the temporary prostration of the German people. Although in all these countries there are many non-Jews every whit as bad as the worst of the Jewish revolutionaries, the part played by the latter in proportion to their numbers in the population is astonishing.

"Protector of the Jews"

Needless to say, the most intense passions of revenge have been excited in the breasts of the Russian people. Wherever General Denikin's authority could reach, protection was always accorded to the Jewish population, and strenuous efforts were made by his officers to prevent reprisals and to punish those guilty of them. So much was this the case that the Petlurist propaganda against General Denikin denounced him as the Protector of the Jews. The Misses Healy, nieces of Mr. Tim Healy, relating their personal experiences in Kieff, have declared that to their knowledge on more than one occasion, officers who committed offences against Jews were reduced to the ranks and sent out of the city to the front. But the hordes of brigands by whom the whole vast expanse of the Russian Empire is becoming infested do not hesitate to gratify their lust for blood and for revenge at the expense of the innocent Jewish population whenever an opportunity occurs. The brigand Makhno, the hordes of Petlura and of Gregorieff, who signalled their every success by the most brutal massacres, everywhere found among the half-stupefied, half-infuriated population an eager response to anti-Semitism in its worst and foulest forms. The fact that in many cases Jewish interests and Jewish places of worship are excepted by the Bolsheviks from their universal hostility, has tended more and more to associate the Jewish race in Russia with the villainies which are now being perpetrated.

A Home for the Jews

Zionism offers the third sphere to the political conceptions of the Jewish race in violent contrast to international communism.

Zionism has already become a factor in the political convulsions of Russia, as a powerful competing influence in Bolshevik circles with the international communistic system. Nothing could be more significant than the fury with which Trotsky has attacked the Zionists generally, and Dr. Weissmann in particular. The cruel penetration of his mind leaves him in no doubt that his schemes of a worldwide communistic State under Jewish domination are directly thwarted and hindered by this new ideal, which directs the energies and the hopes of Jews in every land towards a simpler, a truer, and a far more attainable goal. The struggle which is now beginning between the Zionist and Bolshevik Jews is little less than a struggle for the soul of the Jewish people.

—Ref: Mr. Churchill's authorship of this article has been authenticated by one of the world's leading Churchill bibliographers, Richard Heinzkill, of the University of Eugene, Oregon.

[JR: Doesn't this confirm Henry Ford's writings/research on The International Jew and the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion? It matters not what the supposed differences are between Bolshevism, Communism or Zionism; the different labels all equal socialism/liberalism.]

CLINTON ORDERS HUMAN EXPERIMENTS

By Timothy W. Maier, Insight Magazine, 10/22/99

Executive Order 13139 is requiring military personnel to receive experimental vaccines not approved by the Food and Drug Administration. Courts-martial are pending.

A day after Republican Rep. Chris Shays of Connecticut ended congressional hearings on the controversial decision mandating the inoculation of 2.4 million U.S. troops against anthrax, President Clinton quietly signed an executive order, or EO, that denies soldiers the right to refuse experimental vaccines.

EO13139, titled "Improving Health Protection of Military Personnel Participating in Particular Military Operations", caught Congress off guard, as it directed the Pentagon to disregard the authority of the Food and Drug Administration, or FDA. The order authorized use of experimental vaccines—those not approved by the FDA and, therefore, illegal—to be administered to members of the armed forces without informed consent.

Some congressmen saw this as an attack by the president on the House Government Reform Subcommittee on National Security, Veterans Affairs and International Relations, where testimony indicated the Pentagon had violated the FDA's procedures on how to administer the anthrax vaccine. Those hearings—as well as others held by the full House Committee on Government Reform—had put the FDA on the spot for letting the Pentagon disregard sensible FDA regulations. The Pentagon wanted to administer the shots now and, as a result, long-range studies were not conducted and an inadequate reporting system was set up to hide the large number of adverse effects, critics charged.

As a result of the unprecedented implementation of the vaccination program, more than 1,000 troops are awaiting trial on a felony charge of refusing to obey, hundreds more have left the armed forces and dozens have been prosecuted.

The FDA's failure to take a stand against the Pentagon has prompted a group of concerned congressmen, led by Republican Rep. Walter Jones Jr. of North Carolina, formally to complain to the agency. "The FDA didn't do its job," says Jones, a member of the House Armed Services Committee. "Our men and women are too valuable and they're not going to be guinea pigs."

Jones, who has asked the Pentagon's inspector general to launch a probe into the growing anthrax controversy, warns that Clinton's executive order "might encourage more men and women to get out of the military. I think Clinton did it to give cover to what the DOD [Department of Defense] is doing." And with the FDA having rolled over, Jones says, he is even more determined to learn why the White House and the Pentagon doubled the contract of Michigan-based BioPort Corp., which manufactures the vaccine, from $25.7 million to $49.8 million and, at the same time, reduced the volume to be delivered by 2.3 million shots.

The Pentagon has claimed the inoculation protects against all anthrax strains, and BioPort made the same claim to Insight—despite the fact that an experiment at the Fort Detrick chemical and biological warfare center in Maryland using guinea pigs showed 9 of the 27 anthrax strains tested killed 50 percent of the vaccinated subjects.

Kwai-Cheung Chan, the director of the special studies and evaluations, national-security and international-affairs division of the General Accounting Office, testified before the House Government Reform Committee that there have been no studies to "determine the optimum number of doses of the anthrax vaccine. Although annual boosters are given, the needs for a six-shot regimen and annual booster shots have not been evaluated."

Chan's biggest criticism, however, involves the process in which the vaccine was made. He notes the deficiencies that the FDA identified in its February 1998 inspection. "These fell into two categories: those that might affect only one or a limited number of batches, and those that could compromise the safety and efficacy of any or all batches." The facility was, as a result, shut down in early 1998. BioPort is addressing the processing problems, but the FDA has yet to approve its laboratory to produce the controversial vaccine.

Meanwhile, since Insight last reported on the anthrax vaccination, still more troops and civilians have fallen ill after receiving the shots, according to the FDA. From 1990 to Oct. 1, 1999, 425 reports of adverse events associated with the anthrax vaccine have been reported. Critics argue the incidents are being underreported because, unless the side effects involve chills or fatigue, some doctors say they can't report the symptoms.

Mark Zaid, an attorney representing dozens of troops who refused to take the mandatory anthrax inoculation, says, "There are big problems. Why, all of a sudden out of nowhere—especially when the opposition to the program is getting so much steam and criticism of the Department of Defense was running rampant—does Clinton sign an executive order that assures DOD can implement any experimental program it wants? This whole thing is DOD doing an end-run around the FDA. The FDA should step up to the plate and do its job."

The FDA may be starting to take note, according to a September letter from the agency obtained by Insight. The letter was written the day Shays' hearing ended. Kathryn Zoon, director of the Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research, wrote to Assistant Secretary of Defense Sue Bailey:

"Recently it has come to the agency's attention, through congressional sources, that some troops may not be receiving the vaccine in accordance with the schedule found in the approved labeling. As you know, the approved anthrax labeling states that full immunization involves six doses of the vaccine to be administered following the first dose, at two and four weeks, six months, 12 months and 18 months, with yearly boosters thereafter. This schedule is the only regimen shown to be effective in protecting humans against anthrax and is the only schedule approved by the FDA. Data received by the FDA from congressional sources indicate that a number of reserve and active military personnel are receiving their anthrax vaccine doses significantly later than the FDA-approved schedule."

In his order, Clinton calls attention to the biological threat to which troops might be subjected, saying soldiers could "potentially be exposed to a range of chemical, biological and radiological weapons, as well as disease endemic to an area of operations." Defense Secretary William Cohen warned recently on ABC's Nightline that it is not a question of whether we could face a biological attack, it's a question of when.

But neither the president's top intelligence expert in this field nor the State Department are impressed by these claims. Richard Clarke, the bioterrorism expert with the National Security Council, also said on Nightline that he doesn't expect terrorists will turn to biological weapons. "I don't believe it's a certainty at all," he said. "I know that there are people who say it will eventually happen. But I think you have to remember, there has to be motivation. Someone has to do it. And that someone has to believe they can get away with it. They're not going to [get away with it]..."

...In addition, the State Department has posted this statement on its web-site: "The Department of State has no information to indicate that there is a likelihood of use of chemical or biological-agent release in the immediate future. The Department believes the risk of the use of chemical/biological warfare is remote, although it cannot be excluded."

Meanwhile, even though U.S. embassies are prime targets of terrorists, the State Department isn't requiring its employees to have the anthrax shot before deployment. Jones called on the State Department to explain why it was not mandating the shot and promptly was told it will take "four years to get that information". He then turned to House International Relations Committee Chairman, Ben Gilman, of New York, who quickly fired off a letter to [the] State [Department] demanding action.

Yet, Clinton signed EO13139 to use experimental vaccines on U.S. troops despite the scandals created by exposure of the secret use of experimental vaccines—ranging from administering LSD in the 1950s to the drug pyriostigmine bromide, or PB, given to troops bound for the Persian Gulf War. PB, which protects against nerve gas, may be linked to some of the gulf-war illnesses, according to the Rand Corp., a California-based think tank that recently published a 385-page review of the drug.

Maj. Thomas "Buzz" Rempfer of the Air Force Reserve says there may be times when use of vaccines that have not been fully tested and FDA-approved may be necessary and appropriate during great crisis. "But this capability for our president is currently being jeopardized by the reckless mandatory vaccination of all service members against anthrax," he says. "The threat is not imminent and the integrity of the military institution is being compromised to implement a strategic or blanket program that is doctrinally unprecedented and unsound. The lack of trust we are breeding in the force today could sacrifice our military's capability to protect our troops on a tactical basis when threatened in the future."

[JR: Since President Clinton signed the EO on inoculations, and since he is Commander in Chief, he should volunteer to be the guinea pig for these shots, to prove they are safe. When you sign up for the military, you are considered government property, with NO RIGHTS as an individual.]

INSECTICIDE UNDER REVIEW

ABC NEWS, 10/28/99

Washington, D.C., Oct. 28—U.S. environmental officials say one of the nation's most widely used pesticides poses a safety risk for those who use it in their gardens, fields and homes.

Blurred vision, muscle weakness, headaches and problems with memory, depression and irritability have been linked to large amounts of exposure to Dow Chemical's Dursban, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said in a preliminary scientific assessment posted on its web-site late Wednesday.

Health Risks

The EPA said the assessment found that exposure to the chemical on the skin, in food, or by inhaling it could be harmful to human health.

The EPA said it had a "particular concern" with Dursban poisoning cases, reported to federal health officials. About one-fourth of 325 illnesses reported from 1993 through 1996 were serious enough to require hospitalization, the agency said.

"Data from the two human studies suggest that humans are as sensitive as and possibly even more sensitive than animals," the EPA said in the detailed report. One of the studies was conducted with inmate volunteers at a prison.

Dursban is a standard tool used to kill insects that attack everything from home-grown tomatoes to corn fields. It is also a powerful weapon against termites and cockroaches, and is frequently used in homes, schools, hospitals and pet collars.

The report laid out potential health risks, but did not indicate whether the agency planned to tighten use of Dursban or phase it out.

An EPA spokesman was not available for comment.

Company Disputes Findings

Dow Chemical, in a letter to the EPA that was included in the report, said the EPA's risk analysis was misleading and based on "fundamental errors" of science.

"Three decades of use have shown that, unless seriously misused, chlorpyrifos products have wide margins of safety that protect users and consumers, including infants and children," the letter also read.

The EPA's scientific analysis of Dursban is part of a mammoth project to check for harmful residue in food, drinking water and households from some 9,000 U.S. pesticides.

Under a controversial 1996 food-safety law passed by Congress, the EPA must require chemical makers to build in an extra margin of safety to protect children, whose developing bodies can be more vulnerable to chemicals.

The law has been sharply criticized by farm groups for failing to take into account the cost to growers of using more expensive and less effective alternative pesticides. Farm, chemical and consumer groups will have two months to submit their suggestions to the EPA about the possible health risks posed by Dursban.

Environmentalists Call for Ban

The active ingredient in Dursban is chlorpyrifos, a substance that is part of a class of chemicals known as organophosphates, which have been shown to affect the human nervous system. Organophosphates were developed during World War II as nerve-gas weapons.

Environmental groups pointed to the new study as evidence that the EPA should halt the use of Dursban.

"This government study firmly supports our research and position," said Todd Hettenbach, an analyst with the Environmental Working Group. "Dursban must be banned."

A study by the green group two years ago found Dursban residue on most breads, crackers, bagels and other wheat-based foods that were tested.

The vast majority of Americans have at least a tiny amount of the chemical in their bodies, the EPA said. A recent Minnesota study found the bug killer at detectable levels in over 90 percent of school children examined.

Two years ago Dow voluntarily stopped selling the pesticide for use in pet shampoos and dips and household foggers.

[JR: I'm sure, after six years of using Dursban, there is more than enough information to warrant banning its use. Anything developed from nerve gas should automatically send up warning signals. Companies with banned chemicals always find a different market.]

PARTIAL-BIRTH ABORTION CASE LIKELY BOUND FOR SUPREME COURT

COURT TV, 10/27/99

CHICAGO (AP)—A sharply divided federal appeals court has upheld Illinois and Wisconsin laws banning some late-term abortions, a decision experts predicted will wind up before the U.S. Supreme Court.

In a 5-4 decision Tuesday, the U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that laws in both states, banning a procedure critics describe as "partial-birth abortion", are constitutional.

"This decision creates a constitutional crisis, which will probably go to the Supreme Court," said Janet Benshoof, President of the New York-based Center for Reproductive Law and Policy.

The center, which advocates abortion rights, says 30 states have passed similar laws, and 20 states have been barred or sharply restricted by courts from enforcing them.

Douglas Johnson, legislative director for the anti-abortion National Right to Life Committee, told The New York Times the issue was now likely to receive high-court review, "perhaps next year".

The decision reversed a ruling by a federal judge in Chicago that held the Illinois law unconstitutional, as well as an appeals panel's order that temporarily halted enforcement of the Wisconsin statute.

"We conclude that both laws can be enforced in a constitutional manner," Judge Frank Easterbrook wrote for the majority [opinion].

The opinion acknowledged the laws could be wrongly applied by local authorities, but other laws could prevent that. Neither law has been enforced, pending court challenges.

The procedure in question is known medically as a "dilation and extraction". It involves reducing the size of the fetus' skull as part of the process of removing it. The court said reducing the skull "causes the adverse public (and legislative) reaction" to the procedure.

Writing for the minority [opinion], Chief Judge Richard Posner said the decision represented a compromise between the desire to ban the procedure and the fear that the states' laws would be applied to procedures they were not meant to address.

He said "the court does throw a bone to" those seeking to lift the bans, by ordering lower courts to limit how they may be enforced.

Anti-abortion groups were elated by the decision after losing a round last month when a federal appeals court in St. Louis struck down similar laws in Nebraska, Arkansas and Iowa.

Susan Armacost, a lobbyist for Wisconsin Right to Life Inc., said the decision represents "a huge victory for the babies of Wisconsin".

Wisconsin Gov. Tommy Thompson called the procedure "a gruesome, abhorrent way to take a life", and said there is "no place" for it in his state.

Nebraska Deputy Attorney General, Steve Grasz, said the Illinois decision heightens chances that his state's case will be the first major abortion case heard by the U.S. Supreme Court since it upheld the Roe vs. Wade decision in 1992. Grasz said Nebraska will petition the court to consider its case.

The Wisconsin law, enacted last year, provides for life in prison for anyone performing the procedure, except to save the mother's life. The 1997 Illinois law calls for a three-year prison term.

CHINA LOOKS UPON U.S. AS "ROGUE" STATE

By Kevin Platt, Christian Science Monitor, 10/28/99

Like the United States, China says it is witnessing the potential emergence of a "rogue" state that could throw the world out of balance early in the next century.

Washington warns that unpredictable regimes in nations such as North Korea and Iraq could one day develop long-range missiles and a handful of atomic bombs to engage in nuclear blackmail or worse.

But China's top arms-control negotiator, Sha Zukang, says a bigger threat to global stability is already armed to the teeth with hydrogen bombs and sophisticated rockets that can send a nuclear payload to any point on the planet.

That country, Sha says, is the United States.

"Because the U.S. believes it's the only superpower in the world, it can act at will, without regard for international law and international norms," he says.

"Washington seems to be developing a stubbornness against abiding by weapons-control pacts and a greater penchant to use armed force against its real or perceived enemies," Sha complains.

The end of the Cold War and the collapse of the Soviet Union have not ushered in an era of global peace, he says.

Rather, it is creating a United States that is drunk with its own power and technological prowess, adds Sha, whose official title is Director-General of the Arms Control and Disarmament Department of the Chinese foreign ministry.

Sha is not one of the Communist Party hardliners here who regularly lashes out at the United States. Rather, he is affable, cosmopolitan and open, and seems more disillusioned than angry with the United States.

Sha cites, as one example of aggressiveness the U.S., bombing of a medical plant in Sudan that American intelligence initially accused of producing chemical weapons.

The 1998 missile attack was not approved by any global organization, and the United States has never offered the world community solid proof that the plant made anything but medicine.

"The U.S. bombing of Sudan was an act of state terrorism," Sha says.

There is a growing list, he adds, of similar acts of aggression against sovereign states in violation of the UN Charter or other global laws.

Not only did the United States and NATO launch a massive attack on Yugoslavia without obtaining the UN's approval, but the coalition delivered, with pinpoint precision, five missiles into Beijing's embassy in Belgrade.

That bombing "was an obvious violation of the Vienna Convention", he says. While Beijing appreciates Washington's apologies and compensation for victims of the attack, the United States government "still has to identify the culprits (behind the bombing) and bring them to justice".

A U.S. official, formerly based in Beijing, agrees. "So far the (U.S.) government has said institutional mistakes led to the bombing of the Chinese Embassy," says the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "But specific individuals were responsible for mistakenly targeting the embassy, and heads should roll as a result of those fatal mistakes."

Sha suggests the growing disregard of the United States for international weapons conventions and rules-of-war is, in turn, making China more circumspect about joining arms control regimes.

"We might have already ratified the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty, if not for the bombing of our embassy in Yugoslavia," he says.

That treaty, which aims to ban all nuclear-weapons testing, was rejected by the U.S. Senate, even though "the United States was the first country to promote and to sign the treaty," Sha says.

Sha says he is puzzled by the vote, not only because Washington was one of the pact's top proponents, but also because it would have allowed the United States to lock in its nuclear superiority and prevent any wannabes from crashing into the nuclear club.

"The U.S. has the biggest and most sophisticated nuclear arsenal in the world," and could have frozen that advantage perpetually by signing the treaty, he says.

Instead, the Senate's vote against ratification is alienating the United States from the rest of the world, Sha says. "Not a single country in the world has given its support for the U.S. Senate's rejection of the treaty."

China's defense ministry is now reviewing the test-ban pact, and hints that Beijing could ratify it early next year, during a spring meeting of the national legislature.

"I negotiated (the treaty)—it's my baby," says Sha, who adds that he wants to see it ratified as soon as possible.

Washington's abandonment of the nuclear treaty it pushed so hard to help produce "was wrong, politically and morally, but at least it did not violate any international agreements," Sha says.

More alarming, he says, is a U.S. plan to build a national anti-missile shield that would violate the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty.

Russia, which also signed the ABM pact, and China last week introduced a resolution in the United Nations warning the United States not to break the treaty.

Defense experts in Russia, the United States and China agree that if the Pentagon starts building the missile defense system, a "Star Wars"-like project designed to shoot down incoming rockets, countries that fear a nuclear first-strike from the United States could speed up their own missile production, as a countermeasure.

Sha says "the ABM is a cornerstone of maintaining global strategic stability," and warns that if Washington violates the pact after refusing to approve the nuclear test ban, the twin actions "could trigger a worldwide chain reaction".

"This has the possibility to destroy all the progress we have made in nuclear nonproliferation.. in the post-Cold War era," Sha says...

...Sha adds that setting up a missile defense in violation of the ABM treaty could also, for the first time in human history, "set off an arms race in outer space".

[JR: We are going around in circles regarding this Test Ban Treaty. Testing is not always verifiable, and the banning of one type of weapon will lead to the development of a better one. All governments do not always obey the rules, including the U.S.]

DID U.S. BOMB SUDAN IN ERROR?

By Tony Karon, TIME DAILY, 10/27/99

That damned factory in the Sudan keeps coming back to haunt the White House. The New York Times on Wednesday carried a detailed account of how the Clinton administration decided to bomb the Al Shifa chemical plant in 1998, despite warnings by senior intelligence and security personnel that there was insufficient evidence linking it to either Osama Bin Laden or the manufacture of chemical weapons. Under pressure from international protest and media inquiries, administration sources have backpedaled substantially on both claims since the August 1998 strike, which, together with a similar raid on Bin Laden's Afghanistan camps, was launched in retaliation for the bombing of U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania. But the Times report also carries allegations from U.S. officials that Secretary of State Albright encouraged State Department intelligence analysts "to kill a report being drafted that said the bombing was not justified".

According to the sources cited in the report, President Clinton chose to follow the recommendation of his civilian advisers over the reservations expressed by the military and the CIA over bombing the Sudan plant. "There was certainly a sense that the administration needed to make some kind of gesture in response to the embassy bombings, to be seen to be doing something," says TIME UN correspondent William Dowell. "They were experimenting with cruise missiles as a low-risk way of dealing with these issues, but the Sudan strike showed how that can backfire. We also have to ask whether [or not], by attacking Bin Laden ineffectively, we've actually boosted his importance." To be sure, painstaking police and intelligence work by U.S. agencies and their foreign allies has netted Bin Laden operatives all over the world, over the past year, and may have hurt the terrorist financier a lot more than the headline-grabbing missile strikes, which did little material damage but gave Bin Laden just the sort of scary, celebrity status so craved by terrorists.

[JR: There is a fine line of distinction here: Bin Laden may be classified as a terrorist by the U.S., but wouldn't the Sudanese consider our claimed "mistaken bombing" somewhat an act of terrorism?]

CASH AND THE "CARRY TAX"

By Declan McCullagh, WIREDNEWS, 10/27/99

WASHINGTON—U.S. currency should include tracking devices that let the government tax private possession of dollar bills, a Federal Reserve official says.

The longer you hold currency without depositing it in a bank account, the less that cash will be worth, according to a proposal from Marvin Goodfriend [???], a senior Vice-President at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

In other words, greenbacks will get automatic expiration dates.

"The magnetic strip could visibly record when a bill was last withdrawn from the banking system. A carry tax could be deducted from each bill upon deposit, according to how long the bill was in circulation," Goodfriend wrote in a recent presentation to a Federal Reserve System conference in Woodstock, Vermont.

The 34-page paper argues a carry tax will discourage "hoarding" currency, deter black-market and criminal activities and boost economic stability during deflationary periods, when interest rates hover near zero.

It says new technology finally makes such a scheme feasible. "Systems would have to be put in place at banks and automatic teller machines to read bills, assess the carry tax and stamp the bills 'current,'" the report recommends.

Goodfriend said in an interview that banks might place a kind of visible "date issued" stamp on each note they distributed. "The thing could actually stamp the date when the bill comes out of the ATM," he said.

Congressional critics say they would oppose any such move.

"The whole idea is preposterous. The notion that we're going to tax somebody because they decide to be frugal and hold a couple of dollars is economic planning at its worst," said Representative Ron Paul (R-Texas), a free-market proponent who serves on the House Banking committee.

"This idea that you can correct some of the evil they've already created with another tax is just ridiculous," Paul said. Other economists say a carry tax is not a wise plan.

"This is going beyond taxing banks for holding reserves. It's taxing the public for holding currency too long. That's even more wild an idea," says George Selgin, a University of Georgia economics professor who specializes in monetary policy.

[JR: If the Federal Reserve is filled with guys with goofy ideas like ole Marvin here, no wonder our currency looks like monopoly money.]

FBI WARNS OF MILLENNIAL-VIOLENCE RISK
POLICE VIGILANCE URGED
AS NEW YEAR APPROACHES

By D. A. Vise and L. Adams, Washington Post, 10/31/99

The FBI is warning police chiefs across the country that it has discovered evidence of religious extremists, racists, cults and other groups preparing for violence as New Year's Eve approaches and is urging law-enforcement agencies to view the dawn of the next millennium as a catalyst for criminal activities.

The FBI says those most likely to perpetrate violence are motivated either by religious beliefs relating to the Apocalypse, or are New World Order conspiracists convinced that the United Nations has a secret plan to conquer the world.

In a 34-page report prepared by the bureau's domestic-terrorism unit, the FBI says some members of militias and racist groups, including one called "Christian Identity" and another called "Odinism", are acquiring weapons and surveying targets in anticipation of the millennium.

FBI officials plan to brief law-enforcement officials about the millennial threat at a closed-door meeting of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in North Carolina on Tuesday.

The report, a copy of which was obtained by The Washington Post, says that local law-enforcement officials need to monitor radical groups for behavior such as stockpiling weapons and food, that may indicate they are preparing for violence.

Neil Gallagher, head of the FBI's national-security division, said in an interview that the bureau is not predicting that terrorism or violence will occur on or around Jan. 1. Instead, he said the report is aimed at making local law-enforcement officials "more sensitive" to the heightened security risks posed by the year 2000. He also said the public needs to be "aware but not scared" of such threats. The report says the risks will increase as Jan. 1 approaches.

"If a cult sells its property and personal effects, and purchases guns and explosives, we need to be more concerned about what that cult will do on January 1," Gallagher said.

Computer problems brought on by Y2K glitches could be a triggering event for some groups, the FBI believes. While most people understand that power outages or other problems resulting from Y2K problems can be explained rationally, the report notes that some radical groups or individual extremists may view these events either as signs that the end of the world is near or as part of a larger conspiracy that they must violently oppose, the report says.

"The threat posed by extremists as a result of perceived events associated with the Year 2000 (Y2K) is very real," the FBI report says. "The volatile mix of apocalyptic religious and [New World Order] conspiracy theories may produce violent acts aimed at precipitating the end of the world, as prophesied in the Bible."

The report is the result of a nine-month intelligence-gathering effort called "Project Megiddo" by the bureau's domestic-terrorism unit, which also relied on information gathered by agents in FBI field offices.* The effort is intended to serve as a "strategic assessment" of the potential for domestic terrorism linked directly to the coming millennium, rather than a general assessment of the terrorist environment.

The agents have discovered that, in preparation for the new millennium, certain individuals tied to these groups have been acquiring weapons, storing food and clothing, raising funds, procuring safe houses, preparing compounds, surveying potential targets and recruiting converts to their cause.

In its report, the FBI describes several groups that it says have some members that pose a violent threat. "Christian Identity" followers, comprising loosely-knit groups throughout the country, are "ardently opposed to race mixing" and believe that the "White Aryan race is God's chosen race". Christian Identity provides the "unifying theology" for a number of "right-wing" groups that pose a threat, the report says. "Odinists" also adhere to a White-supremacist ideology and can be dangerous because many members believe in becoming "martyrs for the cause", the report says.

Fringe-members of the Aryan Nations White-supremacist group may pose a threat because extremist members will not necessarily adhere to their leader Richard Butler's public renunciation of violence, according to the FBI. In addition, radical U.S. members of a group called the "Black Hebrew Israelites", who are proponents of "an extreme form of black supremacy", also pose a threat.

"Current intelligence from a variety of sources indicates that extreme factions of [Black Hebrew Israelites] groups are preparing for a race war to close the millennium," the FBI report says.

While most of the report focuses on domestic threats, an entire portion is devoted to Jerusalem, where the FBI says an influx of tourists making pilgrimages and millennial cults will add to the danger. The study also says violence in Jerusalem, a holy city for Christians, Jews and Muslims, could lead to problems in the United States and around the world. The FBI report—"Project Megiddo"—is named after a hill in northern Israel that has been the site of many battles. The Hebrew word "Armageddon" means "Hill of Megiddo", the study says.

"Israeli officials are extremely concerned that the Temple Mount, an area already seething with tension and distrust among Muslims and Jews, will be the stage for violent encounters between religious zealots," the study says. "Additionally, several religious cults have already made inroads into Israel, apparently in preparation for what they believe to be the end-times."

The FBI report said potential targets of domestic violence include military facilities; United Nations buildings and personnel; institutions associated with the African-American and Jewish communities and other racial and religious minorities; gay men and lesbians; and foreign military units residing on U.S. bases.

"Armed with the urgency of the millennium as a motivating factor, new clandestine groups may conceivably form to engage in violence toward the U.S. government or its citizens," the FBI report warns.

The FBI's Gallagher, who declined to release a copy of the report, said the bureau is in the process of distributing the study to police chiefs and is considering making public a redacted version on its web-site.

Gallagher said it is extremely difficult to make accurate predictions about terrorism. "Acts of violence in commemoration of the millennium are just as likely to occur as not," the FBI report says.

While much of the focus related to the millennium has been linked to the prospect of computer failures, Gallagher intends to advise the police chiefs this week that it is important to prepare now for the unusually wide range of interpretations people may bring to random events occurring on or near Jan. 1, 2000, and the role that the Internet may play in spreading information—or misinformation—rapidly.

"The name 'Megiddo'," the FBI report begins, "is an apt title for a project that analyzes those who believe the year 2000 will usher in the end of the world and who are willing to perpetrate acts of violence to bring that end about."

[JR: The London Telegraph was first to expose this "secret report" on 10/24/99: "British police officers to receive a secret FBI briefing on the threat of Millennium violence from hate organisations and fringe political groups, amid rising anxiety over possible extremism linked with the year 2000." This resulted in the spread of this "secret" information over the Internet. The U.S. media were thus forced to report on their previously-kept secret. *For those who are still unaware—the major FBI domestic-terrorism unit is comprised of the ADL and its affiliate, the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), who write these reports. It is NOW politically correct to be ANTI-CHRISTIAN, but a crime to say anything "ANTI-SEMITIC"!]

IS THE GOVERNMENT
WATCHING YOUR COMPUTER?

By David Noack, APBnews, 10/27/99

New York—Be careful what you type on your computer—someone may be watching, and it just might be the government.

The release of two documents from the National Security Agency (NSA) shows that the government has long had the ability, going back at least a decade, if not more, to clandestinely eavesdrop on what people type [or view] on their computer.

The findings were revealed when the NSA recently released sanitized versions of the documents to John Young, a New York City architect and cyber-activist, who filed a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request May 14, 1998.

In all, Young asked for a total of 22 various publications and papers dealing with TEMPEST, a code name for electronic listening devices that can read and record the electromagnetic signals that come from computers.

TEMPEST, which stands for Transient Electromagnetic Pulse Emanation Standard, is a technology that allows for this kind of electronic eavesdropping.

"Compromising emanations"

Young received a 172-page document, in which about half was redacted, called Compromising Emanations Laboratory Test Requirements Electromagnetic. The other document, which was 12 pages long, is called NSA/CSS Technical Security Program, and only a few sections have been hidden from public view.

The NSA released the documents Oct. 7. However, in a letter to Young from the NSA, the agency stated that the rest of the "publications, manuals and guidelines" related to TEMPEST were being denied—for national security reasons.

"The documents are classified because their disclosure could reasonably be expected to cause serious damage to the national security," wrote Sally V. Seward, Deputy Director of Policy at the NSA.

TEMPEST documents posted online

Young has already filed an appeal to get the remainder of the TEMPEST publications and has posted the FOIA letters, along with the two documents, on his web-site. He should know within a couple of weeks if he will get access to the rest of the documents.

In his appeal, Young argues that release of the TEMPEST documents is needed to help counterbalance the personal-privacy threats developed for national-security purposes.

An NSA spokeswoman said Young could do whatever he wants with the documents.

"Mr. Young, having obtained these documents through the FOIA process, is free to do with them whatever he wishes," said the spokeswoman.

Public unaware of spy technique

Up until now, the public has been largely unaware of this technology. But Young hopes to spark a debate about its use.

For the most part, the military and intelligence communities, along with a growing industry created to combat the prying spy technology, have been privy to the capabilities of the technology.

With the right equipment, the electromagnetic radiation given off from computers can be intercepted from a remote location and then redisplayed, in the case of a monitor screen, or recorded and replayed with a printer or keyboard.

"I first learned about it a couple of years ago...TEMPEST is a terrific threat to privacy," Young said. "With standoff technology, there is no need for physical access to buildings or equipment, and no law forbids its use...The only limitation is the technological reach of the snooping equipment, which is one of the secrets closely guarded."

Useful for corporate espionage?

He said that while the intelligence community may be using this technology to spy on foreign governments, TEMPEST can also be used by companies to spy on the competition and by domestic law-enforcement agencies to spy and gather information on citizens.

FBI spokesman David Miller said the agency could not comment on Young's allegations of domestic surveillance using TEMPEST technology.

Defenses developed

Computer-security consultant Joel McNamara, who runs a web-site dedicated to public information about TEMPEST, said that both foreign governments and the United States are using this technology to electronically eavesdrop, and a large industry has been created to thwart the snooping devices.

"Emanation interception is not something anyone can do. You're talking about relatively expensive and sophisticated equipment, as well as a fair amount of training. Someone engaging in an intercept is going to be well-funded and not able to get information from conventional surveillance techniques. The threat to the average person is very minimal," said McNamara.

He said personal privacy plays a small role in using this technology. The real goals, he said, are political and economic-espionage issues. McNamara said that since computer monitors, hard drives and modems all give off electromagnetic radiation, the right equipment could reconstruct the data from these devices.

McNamara said that displays on computer monitors have been spied on [from] nearly a mile away. He said that spying from a satellite is impractical because there would be too much electromagnetic interference.

[JR: Mr. McNamara seems to disclaim that the TEMPEST program would be used on civilians. If so, then why is NSA releasing sanitized information only through FOIA, claiming "national security" considerations?]

U.S. ANNOUNCES $U.S. 4 BILLION ARMS DEALS

NineMSM News, 10/30/99

AAP—The Pentagon today announced arms deals with Israel, Egypt, South Korea and Norway worth more than $US 4 billion ($A 6.12 billion).

In a deal valued at $US 508 million ($A777.71 million), Israel will buy 24 AH-64 Apache attack helicopters converted to the latest model, called the Apache Longbow, equipped with more sophisticated targeting and radar systems.

The sale, subject to congressional review, includes 480 Hellfire II laser-guided missiles.

In a statement, the Pentagon said the proposed sale would give Israel a better capability to attack armoured vehicles, "provide for the defence of vital installations" and provide better close air-support for its ground forces.

It said the deal would not affect the region's basic military balance.

Israel also is proposing to buy 518 heavy trucks for $US 117 million ($A 179.12 million). The 10-ton trucks will be used to carry artillery ammunition.

The deal with Egypt is for two Gulfstream IV-SP aircraft, valued at $US 180 million ($A 275.57 million), to be used to transport national leaders.

Egypt also is requesting to buy 239 Humvee utility vehicles for $US 30 million ($A 45.93 million) to replace Jeeps and to outfit with TOW anti-tank weapon systems.

Norway, a NATO ally of the United States, will pay $US 2.6 billion ($A 3.98 billion) for 30 F-16 fighters.

South Korea is buying 20 F-16s, minus the engines, for $US 379 million ($A 580.22 million). It has not decided whether to buy Pratt and Whitney F-100-PW-200 or General Electric F-110-GE-129 engines to power the planes.

South Korea also will buy 29 multiple-launch rocket systems, which are long-range artillery, plus associated equipment for $US 498 million ($A 762.4 million). The weapons are needed to counter North Korean long-range artillery and rocket systems, the Pentagon said in justifying the deal.

[JR: I'm sure Israel won't pay a nickel for her hardware, and it's interesting Norway is buying arms. So much for the "world peace" rhetoric. It's the profits—stupid.]

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO MARKET "TERMINATOR" SEEDS

By Philip Brasher, NEWS WIRE, 10/30/99

Washington (AP)—Missouri farmer Bill Christison cuts $20,000 off the annual cost of growing soybeans by saving seed from one year's crop to plant the following spring.

So he does not like the idea that seed companies could stop him from doing that by genetically engineering seeds to block reproduction. Worse, to Christison, the federal government invented a "terminator" process for rendering seeds sterile and now actively is trying to get it to market...

...Agriculture Department researchers say the terminator process is misunderstood and has applications that could benefit farmers all over the world. The same technique that renders seeds sterile by turning certain genetic traits on and off also could be used to make plants resistant to drought or pests, for example.

But opponents of genetic engineering in the United States, and especially in Europe, have made the terminator issue a symbol of what they see as the evils of biotechnology. To them, it is immoral for the U.S. government to promote and profit from such an invention, even if private companies are developing terminator processes of their own.

The department developed the terminator technology at a laboratory in Texas and secured a joint patent last year with Scott, Miss.-based Delta & Pine Land Co., the world's largest cotton-seed company, which co-sponsored the research.

The process is officially known as the "technology-protection system". The terminator nickname is a reference to the on-screen robotic killer, played by Arnold Schwarzenegger.

The Monsanto Co., seeking Justice Department approval to acquire Delta & Pine Land, recently announced it would not use terminator technology.

But the government is continuing research and is close to finishing negotiations on a marketing license with Delta & Pine Land for commercializing the technology, Agriculture Department officials say.

If Monsanto refuses to use the technology, the department would have the right to find another company that would...

...The department has no plans to relinquish the patent, he said.

"As co-holders of the patent, we are in the room and in discussions with D&PL about whether, or if or how there would be any commercialization. We think it's important that we be there to represent the public interest," Solomon said.

One critic of genetic engineering, Hope Shand, research director of Rural Advancement Foundation International, said: "The specter of genetic seed-sterilization is particularly alarming, given the rapid rate of consolidation of the global seed industry. Seed is the first link in the food chain. Whoever controls the seed has a stranglehold on the food supply."

The department's terminator research "is a misallocation of precious...research dollars and will benefit only a handful of big corporations," said Adam Goldberg, a spokesman for Consumers Union.

In developing countries, it is common for farmers to save seed from year to year. Christison, who is president of the National Family Farm Coalition, estimates that 25 percent of U.S. producers do it.

Genetically-engineered crops, which are making up an increasing share of U.S. production, cannot be reproduced legally. Farmers also buy new seeds each year for corn and hybrid versions of other crops, because they lose their special characteristics after the first generation.

In the United States, an estimated 57 percent of the soybeans, 38 percent of the cotton and 30 percent of the corn planted this year was genetically engineered, either to resist pests or herbicides.

The USDA believes seed companies must be allowed to protect investments in new varieties of seeds, if they are to continue developing crops that are hardier, more nutritious and require fewer applications of pesticides.

Moreover, the terminator process is still several years away from being commercially available, said Sandy Miller Hayes, a spokeswoman for department's Agricultural Research Service...

...It would be used only in crops that do not cross-pollinate, such as cotton, soybeans and wheat, she said. In cross-pollinating plants like corn, fields of non-terminator varieties could be made sterile.

[JR: Similar articles have appeared in CONTACT before but it is still an issue. The "terminator" seed will make farming more costly and give control to chemical conglomerates. The DOA needs another avalanche of letters against any approval.]

TELEPHONE HOTLINE 661-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then there is currently no Hotline message.
