Multi-$TRILLION Deal Underway In Philippines

11/16/99—#1

BEAUTY OF THE MORNING, NOON AND NIGHT

Hatonn—Since we are a GLOBAL COMMUNITY (oh yes, WE ARE), we must always think in terms of our relations. If you can only deal with “morning” in your expectations of “time”, then you must realize that at midnight your time, somewhere it is noon a day later, and so on. And yet, FACE IT, you time-control people—whatever is happening in YOUR TIME, the same thing is taking place in any part of the world. If Mt. Rainier blows right now, 8:22 a.m. Manila time—it is blowing at 4:22 p.m. California time. THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE IN EVENTS, ONLY IN WHAT YOUR CLOCKS READ. This is, again, a simple reference to being able to live and grow in PERCEPTION of stopping limitations on self.

Let us also consider that you very definitely are in a new world order (disorder?) but you buy into terms just because they are tossed at you. You MUST have order in whatever world in which you function, and just because George Bush declares a “New World Order”, you DO NOT HAVE TO USE HIS!

You are, however, going to find that the Global “property” was directly a part of a BETTER WORLD ORDER—back to a money system set forth on the GOLD STANDARD. George just decided to outsmart Marcos and make a run for the goal line, gathering his own acquisitions along the way.

There are some interesting “packages”, which originated over here in the Philippines, which contain some very, very large sums in currency and are backed with HARD commodity. The program was set forth at the time of Marcos and distributed (scattered), notes & gold, all around the globe, in very large increments. This would have basically set forth a gold-based WORLD (global) currency.

Was Marcos’ intent to be totally honorable, and open, and whatever you might think of as an innocent fool? No, indeed; however, good friends, when you have currency around the globe based on a “common” accepted commodity—you have stability and all currencies are secured. Both the currency for startup AND THE GOLD IN BULLION WERE READY FOR USE AND ARE STILL AVAILABLE. It appears we offer a WAY to bring all this together, in addition to our moving forward in our own program.

I would tell you inquiring minds, however, that, indeed, WE (including Ekkers) are MAJOR players in BOTH PROGRAMS. WE HAVE NOT BEEN SLOTHFUL IN OUR DILIGENCE.

I bring this to your attention because you are going to have to “get with the program”; you ARE a “global” something, and let us pray for WISDOM that you will become a balanced global community. Good or bad in perception, YOU ARE IN A NEW WORLD ORDER.

OUR participation with the Big One makes this secure FOR THE PEOPLE and gives a base upon which all people can begin to take back their nations and dislodge the parasites.

The U.S. is going to have the worst time of all, for the parasites have dislodged the people. This holds true from Tehachapi to Washington, DC.

Indeed, you do need “time recognition” in order to make your working hours coincide with another's SCHEDULE—called “appointment”.

To make the point a bit more amusing for your consideration—it can actually get to the point that you have future/past considerations. According to a clock or a calendar, let us assume that Mt. Rainier did actually blow on Nov. 16th Manila morning at 8:22 a.m. If you note your calendar, you will find that in Pacific Coast time in the area of the volcano itself, it is still the 15th of November. By the way, Manila will be into year/hour 2000 long before the same thing happens in any time zone in the U.S. THESE ARE THE “REASONS” WHY YOU CAN ONLY USE “TIME” AS A MEASURE OF SEQUENTIAL EVENTS. EVERYTHING HAPPENS IN THE MOMENT OF NOW.

Let us next briefly speak of “being” in the moment of now. THOUGHTS made manifest may well be an interesting method of consideration in this parable. Let us suppose that Ekkers, in Manila, are physically “parked” somewhere, say, right in the hotel room, but there is an important meeting with three different people at 2:00 this afternoon. This is a fact, so it is not far-fetched at all. Why? Because you CAN be in the moment and participating in all three meetings, as well as being presenting in New York, Athens, Istanbul, Singapore and Carson City, Nevada at the same moment—day or night—depending on the schedule of those taking part in the parable.

If the THOUGHT is a presentation in New York, discussing this writing, for instance—it is now, what, around 9 PM in New York City, U.S.A. (the night before).

Ah, but let us consider that there is a court trial or hearing: The attorneys are present, along with the judge and jury, but there is only documented testimony from Ekkers. IS THIS NOT THE SAME THING, IN ACTUALITY? If the BODY is not present, but the mind is present in any manner, whatsoever, is the witness (person testifying) not considered “present”? Are the Ekkers not just as valid in thought and physical (documented testimony) in New York, California, Nevada, or wherever, as in Manila? Take it further for your consideration: Ekkers get sick at lunch, the 16th, and can't make it to any of the three appointments in Manila—BUT SEND THE BUSINESS DOCUMENTS NECESSARY TO DISCUSS THREE DIFFERENT TOPICS, i.e., incorporation, banking coordinates and an offer to purchase the Gilarmi Apartel. These are authorized documents to be considered—so, are not Ekkers present? You do not need to be present in the U.S. to do business or conference from Manila. And, chelas, technology has caught up with the idea of THOUGHT capabilities in allowing personal contact between every moment on the globe, within the same moment in any other part. So, can't you “catch up” with the new perception?

Take this a step further forward and KNOW that your IMAGE in living action and expression can be also broadcast to any and every other point on the globe; doesn't that also make YOU present where that image is projected?

“Ah but,” you might say, “A dead man is still dead if he is, in fact, dead.” IS HE? I have news for you: When the image of a man is presented on a television screen giving some famous speech or comment on any topic, is he not “alive”? His soul is eternal in “living” and—when there is projection or THOUGHT regarding that “person”—the mind of that person is PRESENT and experiencing at the same MOMENT your experience.

If you think of a departed loved one, you will note that your THOUGHTS are WITH that one in some manner of conscious projection. THAT action, in itself, is strong enough to pull that soul energy to your conscious experience—YOU JUST FAIL TO SEE IT.

So, taking this further in consideration of ongoing problems and, again, simply to make a point: Aren't the Ekkers actually participating in the “mess” over their property via the capability of split-second communications? Aren't their wishes expressed just as valid in, say, a court hearing, as IF they were present? They will have expressed their ideas, considerations, authorizations, etc., and their representation is even more durable and set than in “in person” babbling.

In this same consideration, there can be an exchange of “demands”, considerations, settlement determinations, etc. without the personal haggling and discomfort of confrontations by all parties. The debates are handled and recognized, ON PAPER, and the people never have to again meet at all.

My point here, students, is to cause you to recognize that you are already IN THAT (what you consider) 4TH DIMENSION, WHERE THERE IS NO TIME AND SPACE.

Is a lie told on the 14th somehow not as valid or “real” as it appears to “surface” on the 15th or 16th?

There is a clause in the law for these things that surface after the seeming fact: New EVIDENCE! Discovery, subsequent information, ongoing evidence from investigation and several other very legal terms.

“Time”, in fact, in litigation, begins to run from the TIME THE INCIDENT IS DISCOVERED (made known). If you only learn of fraud or unlawful activities against you—you have a given amount of time (this varies) to bring litigation. This is called the Statute of Limitations. If things change from the time of discovery, as investigations continue—the case can be reopened on the basis of NEW EVIDENCE. If agreements of settlement are breached, then the Statute of Limitations is, again, operative in a new span of recognition. And, there are some “crimes” in which there is NO statute of limitation. Murder is one such crime. And, you know what, according to the form and fraud involved, murder of spirit is another, and within that realization, that is of what “punitive damages” are calculated. This is not a law course, this is EXAMPLE. There is simply FAR MORE involvement with spirit, mind and soul—than there is actually attached to BODY physical.

Do you actually think, in reading this writing, that I AM NOT WITH YOU? And do you really want my conscious body (for I am never without consciousness) to be WITH YOU RIGHT NOW, THIS MOMENT? Really? Are you perhaps just thinking of this writing in retrospect—say, in your shower—am I not actually “there”? Wow, this could go ever so much further, couldn't it? Are you in the bathroom? Are you doing something clandestine? Well, GOD is there anyway, but I'm sure you are quite comfortable to “think” about this message IN MY PHYSICAL ABSENCE.

We are all ONE, chelas, and if something is seen by ONE, it is actually seen by ALL. The only difference is in the telling. If, for instance, someone sees Joe Blow walk out the door with a brown, lunch-sized sack and this is reported, have we not ALL SEEN

JOE WALK OUT WITH THE SACK? This is called witness and testimony. You can even find out WHAT IS IN THE SACK, without seeing it yourself! All Joe has to do is tell you what he has in his sack.

BUT THIS IS WHY PEOPLE CAN BECOME “PEOPLE OF THE LIE”. YOU HAVE LOST YOUR HONOR AND INTEGRITY THROUGH LYING. YOU HAVE LONG AGO STOPPED BEING ABLE TO BELIEVE MUCH OF ANYTHING. FURTHER, YOU ARE SHOWN ILLUSIONS AND GIVEN FABRICATIONS UPON WHICH YOU BUILD YOUR “REALITY”, AND THEY ARE FALSE. UNTIL MAN CAN COME BACK TO TRUTH—AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH—YOU REMAIN “PEOPLE OF THE LIE”.

And, please note: An oath is worse than nothing, for if a MAN'S WORD IS WORTHLESS, SO TOO, COMPOUNDED, IS HIS OATH.

Guess what: In forming and filing a COMPLAINT against someone, the lawyer involved is given license to LIE by the very court. He puts down what he wishes or is told by his clients and is, therefore, immune from prosecution for perjury.

This is actually quite a necessary part of filing a complaint, because there are few facts known before a full investigation (discovery).

Where, for instance, Ekkers are involved in these cases of absolute fraud, theft and total misrepresentation against them, they should go for millions of $$$ and let the other “side” prove that there is not so much. When you take a whole lifetime of furniture and property, even to the bronze eagle that now may be gone, you add up a lot. If, in fact, personal items are counted in this one case of moving, you have, probably, over many billions of dollars in damages—because of the property items, yes, but loss of business records, etc., with total disruption of ability to do business.

Ekkers are in a position, now, of recognizing the very reasons for those corporations, and they are now without limit in VALUE. But, the corporations are for others, so Ekkers personally can only bring charges in BEHALF of said businesses as fiduciarily responsible parties—and for selves, as to personal losses. By the way, anything missing, on loan or borrowed is double jeopardy, because the missing item in that circumstance has to be “returned”, with interest due-and-owing, in addition to the damage of being deprived of the object itself.

If there is THEFT of corporate books, records and operating files, offices and staff—you have just compounded, exponentially, the costs and thus, the losses. Should not people have thought of these things BEFORE they set forth with destructive and “take it all” attitudes and brought legal displacement? Ekkers had corporations housed in that office, in that house, AND THEY MUST TAKE ACTION FOR PROTECTION, BECAUSE IT IS REQUIRED UNDER THE LAW!

Our corporation security is in such a mess as to be totally dysfunctional. Now we have to work around time constraints, for it is difficult to keep major players available. The banking world is in total chaos, friends, and it is difficult to keep a Central Bank Governor available to attend only our corporate registration. We are having to take a different approach, which may well give us time to attend the other, later, in the States, when more convenient. We needed the structure handled last Friday, which would have given a full day at NCH and the weekend to wrap up the registration. Oh, well...!

E.J. has just met for two hours with people from the SEC, and they are expediting a "NEW" association, and we will have to bypass the U.S. Global corporation for the moment. And yes, indeed, it is difficult to realize that we could have built for 13 years, only to have no working structure to back the final inches of the run. What is annoying is that we now have to go a very expensive route, without backup, even financially. Oh, we will get it done, but I can promise you that there is going to later be great and loud gnashing of teeth when the consequences of these irrefutable, poor business practices meet their makers. We are talking here about delays in the management of funds which are greater than those of the Federal Reserve System. Couldn't be? Wait, and count the ways it IS true, Spectrum aiders-and-abettors. We, my dears, are going to defang you green horny-toads. You don't want to help the world; worse, you don't even want to help yourselves!

This couldn't be so important, the nasties will tell you? It is important enough that officials are bringing secretaries to this hotel in the morning to push this thing through in some manner workable enough to start substance shifting. And no, I did not say "shape-shifting". We will leave that trick to the lizards.

The suits now have grown in value to be all but unlimited as to damages to us. Had we been able to get corporate shifts made timely, we would be holding sums beyond your imaginings—RIGHT NOW, TODAY. I'll tell you this, we have been damaged to the extent that there isn't enough value in NCH to even pay the rent, but it is a structured incorporation agency—which might have some value without having to immediately move the offices. I do not believe, however, that the reputation remaining is good enough to retain the name.

Since we have not had a response from Millers and it is now the 16th, I suggest you ask Elley to simply file a cause of action and—since the loss and damages add up into the millions of dollars—go for it, and take it to the highest court available. It is too large in funds consideration to be filed in Municipal Court.

We are tired of being hamstrung by our own professed "partners" turned "enemy" (their declaration).

If the people of TRUTH will not stand against the PEOPLE OF THE EVIL LIE, then WE SHALL! This is not some game of "their side", or "our side" or "middle line". My goodness, your world is near catastrophe and "distancing" selves or companies is NOT PART OF THIS PROGRAM. GOD SAID IT BEFORE, AND I REPEAT IT HERE: YOU ARE EITHER WITH ME OR YE ARE AGAINST ME.

We set up NCH in the first place to have available, TODAY, the kind of instant backup for smooth flow to anywhere on the globe. We also supported that operation from upstart—so we would have some financial backup, as well, now, when we are making a run for the finish/start line. We are now over the finish line and, I'll be dipped, we don't have anything or anywhere to handle the transfers. Cort spoke with Mrs. Miller just as the house was going to auction. E.J. had asked him to take care of the problems to allow us time to get home and work through whatever had gone wrong about interest payments, etc. Where did the money GO? Oh, well...! Is that really "just doing good business"?

Then, please, spare us from bad business.

And how much money does the Central Bank of the Philippines plan to have out of our "joint venture"? Oh, only somewhere above 12-14 trillion $$$—for STARTERS. THEY HAVE ENOUGH HARD, COLD GOLD FOR LOTS AND LOTS MORE! Irritated, am I? YES, MOST CERTAINLY!

Well, I can tell you THIS MUCH: By having to go this route—this separates EVERYONE out and away from the entire program as we structure it to be. There will simply be no attachment, as we simply shift these wondrous assets directly over to the Alliance Association and oh, yes indeed, it can be done, and it can be verified and authenticated in less than a day, following certification. This will actually sever more of the strings to the U.S. controllers. This will be a Philippine Association, with NO STRINGS TO THE U.S. OR NEVADA. Sorry, kids, you had your chance and blew it. This association is the one we will use globally and, perhaps, can make a new meaning to living. Perhaps, some day, when it is "convenient", we will register in the U.S., even possibly in Nevada. I suggest you not jump to conclusions about Ekkers, either, for this is now going to become an "ASSOCIATION" with the Philippines. Ekkers will simply serve on the Board of Directors, and we will have a Philippine Treasurer and Auditor from TOP-LEVEL management.

Does this mean Ekkers won't be coming home to Tehachapi? DON'T YOU WISH!? NO, it does NOT mean that. It means that they come home nice and secure, just like they left on this business trip. But, they won't have to be hounded by any U.S. pickings or naggings. They can have their little interests, and business adventures and LIVE without the parasites sucking them dry.

Anyone for chess?

You who think you will just wait and, somehow, as declared and promised, sue Ekkers? All the bunch of Spectrum kids promised these massive suits, starting, I remember, with over $3 million for stopping their theft spree. Oh, my sadness; they will HAVE NOTHING, these Ekkers! Except, of course, unlimited resources to cover legal costs for clearing up the ongoing games back in the U.S. I don't think that Federal indictment set up by Martin-Young, et al. will hold much water—except as it turns back upon the snivel-nosed vipers. And, guess what, our Philippine partners who HAVE stayed the course are eager to pay the legal fees. Or, better yet, these cases NOW become valuable on contingency. You of the lizard group have sunk your poison fangs into our backsides one time too many! AND YES, IT IS TOO LATE TO BARGAIN!

And what do I think will happen to SPECTRUM, the paper? I don't. I don't have any interest. I suppose if we had "rathers", we would all opt for a fantastic showing and a magnificent growth and profit—wouldn't we? This is, of course, considering all the above! We have never striven for much publicity—except as to reach our crew and teammates. There are a lot of sensational non-news papers on the market and perhaps one more won't do much damage. People, every day, are getting more and more discerning—and choices are theirs, each and alone.

We are accomplishing what we set out to achieve. We have no time or wish for judgment, revenge or blame. WE DO HAVE TIME TO ENSURE THAT THEY ANSWER FOR THAT WHICH THEY HAVE DONE—IN FULL MEASURE. IT IS CALLED EQUITY AND JUSTICE.

There are always "ideal" resources for use by God's people, and we have no shortage of ideas—CREATIVE IDEAS. Furthermore, we can begin to leave the scrapping to the humans who are trained and enjoy these conflicts and who, literally, spend their lives in just such matters.

I will take time to note this: If you only want to live in the past—and how the ancients did it, or the Mayans did it, or the Afrikanos of Afrikamawu—you are still going to be trying to figure out the serpent in the apple tree. You must have history; you must know what happened and possibly what WENT WRONG, and this so that you are prepared for whatever might come. You have a world which is, and always has been, in constant change. But, at some point, you have TO MAKE CHANGES HAPPEN, OR YOU ARE DESTINED TO CONTINUE ON THE DOWNHILL SPIRAL, WHICH IS THE ULTIMATE GOAL OF SIR SATAN. YOU MUST MAKE HUMAN CHANGES IN HUMAN STRUCTURES. WHY? BECAUSE YOU ARE MANIFEST HUMAN BEINGS.

So, let us consider 12 years and around 300 books later. You have been given all the past information you actually need—to be able TO MOVE AHEAD and EFFECT/AFFECT POSITIVE CHANGES, WHICH CAN ALLOW MANKIND TO FLOURISH. Or you can go back to human sacrifices on the Mayan altars or the Khazarian altars in the temples of doom. These choices are yours, and many of you are making the choice to stay within the sensational, ancient histories of experience. So be it. Some want to construct a BETTER WORLD, of positive experience in the NOW, and move forward into the hoped-for "future".

Can you not see that if you continue in the very activities you claim to despise and wish changed, that you spin on the wheel forever? You must reach beyond, into the unlimited realms of God Creator, and create, not stagnate.

God (we) can create and we can uncreate. I've told you this for many years. We are getting ready, yes, to simply uncreate these lizards and shape-shifters FROM OUR SPACE. They will feed off one another for a while—but evil is not going to longer FLOURISH. You may yet blow your planet away—but that is hardly going to express as evil winning, now, is it? Remember, snakes live in PITS, so if the evil-mongers blow up your world, neither they nor you are going to win. How long do you think Air Force One can remain aloft when the fuel is gone and there is nowhere to get more—OR TO LAND?

No, friends, you cannot live with your heads in the clouds, mouthing about how it WAS, while destroying that which is positive in the NOW. And unless someone DOES SOMETHING, there will be less hope for a future experience on the orb, and a lot of you, in your limitation, are not going to find the next reality any better.

And let me remind you that people have used others' names for all the time since the beginning.

That is the adversary's first trick—to call himself something you have recognized and trusted. To call yourself Joe if you are Henry does not make you other than Henry. And, when others fail to recognize the danger in using a higher-energy as their own, it gets a bit Tricky, because if they continue to non-identify the receivers, they have no credibility at all. Anyone can say anything, anywhere and at any time. It is YOUR experience, for I am living mine and my team is living theirs. There is never a limit to information and knowledge, and if it actually helps you to CHANGE THE WORLD by spending all your time focused on kings, queens and royal shape-shifters, do it, but do not then blame others for your sad plight. If anyone commits murder and calls it "sacrifice", is it different from murder? No. HOW ARE YOU GOING TO CHANGE THINGS? HOW ARE YOU EVEN GOING TO SAVE THE TREES, IF ALL YOU DO IS HUG THEM? PEOPLE, YOU LIVE IN THIS WORLD AND YOU MUST CHANGE IT AS IT "IS", NOT AS THE MAYANS "DIDN'T" OR THE MORO'S DIDN'T. YOU HAVE TO CHANGE IT BY AND THROUGH THAT WHICH IS PRESENT IN THE NOW.

You continue to KILL THE MESSENGERS and destroy the very ones who CAN make strides in positive change. Will you never learn? You cannot have a disease and expect to cure it by flushing the very medicine which offers healing DOWN THE TOILET, even an Egyptian RA toilet. How many of the readers of, say, Spectrum, go forth and follow up on REAL research? No, you will simply read the sensational books recommended to you by the very authors of the "in-question" material in the first place.

You do not want to KNOW truth, for if you KNOW, then the next step is to be RESPONSIBLE AND DO SOMETHING. As long as man refuses to be responsible and always wants to "just BE", while waiting for someone else to DO, and you continue to attack and kill the messengers, WHO IS GOING TO ATTEND YOU? GOD? NO, HE WILL LET YOU BE AND DO WHATEVER YOU WILL. AND YOU WILL BE ALLOWED TO DO IT IN WHATEVER LITTLE MIND-CELL YOU CHOOSE.

We have NOT gone hippity-hopping off down the bunny trail or the primrose path. We are facing the responsibilities, and we continue, undaunted, as the spin-offs run to their hidie-holes. Will everything be wondrously changed after we bash through the barriers? Yes, if you want them to be changed. Either way, we will have met our responsibilities, and that offers ability for change, which is one step beyond the "hope" we have offered right up to this moment. Follow your lizards or follow your WINGS. You can slither on your belly like a serpent or you can soar with Eagles. But if you soar with eagles, you have to learn to fly, don't you? Even the serpent crew will continue to tell you that God wins. So, dear ones, that means WE win. Leave the children at their play and when, with their matches, they start fires they cannot extinguish—it is going to get pretty hot.

Salu and good evening. (Yes, indeed, it has taken all day, in bits and pieces, to get to "this evening". There is much happening.)

Philippines Can Be First To Reap Abundance Of God's Plan 2000

11/18/99—#1

Hatonn—MISCELLANEOUS: As for Elaine's passing, she is fine. She would wish her "estate" to go to her family, and yes, we will be able to take care of those things early on with funding. No rush, just plan to balance that out so her labors are rewarded as she would wish.

By the way, friends, when our loved ones make that transition in full intent of "just" and Godly intent—they are pulling in every way possible (and that is very large, indeed) to bring a positive conclusion from the seeming chaos. YOU who remain to get certain jobs accomplished must let it go into those hearts and souls.

You must confront EVERY circumstance, positive or negative, as it might present—IN A HUMAN ENVIRONMENT, WITH NO MAGIC CONSIDERED. You must function in that human world and with the human changes. Things are fine no matter how negative they "appear", for you cannot see ALL from your landlocked viewpoints. Just KNOW—that which you cannot see is at work, and the Lighted Hosts will prevail.

People can write wonderful papers, chelas, and still not have the overall goodness in focus. Don't let it warp your own view. Realize that from every presentation the listener or the viewer MUST BE THE ONE TO SELECT THAT WHICH IS TRUTH. More TRUTH flows from the evil pretender, because he must present in the best light or he cannot pull others into his trap. Let it go, as all truth presented is wondrous, indeed.

I would note that soon we will be presenting some aspects of Native American traditions and cultural bases upon which the original functioning of societies was based and WHY it worked. It worked so well, remember, that the very CONSTITUTION upon which the Americans functioned in those tribal councils was taken upon which to base the U.S. CONSTITUTION. The very guidelines were from the Iroquois of the Northeastern U.S. territories. I might add, however, that the Natives themselves were "left out", and they were put onto reservations by the Federal Government—BY MILITARY FORCE. Today, the Feds will begin to understand that they made very large blunders in that little show of nastiness. That, through the incredible irony and hatred of the act itself, now gives those tribes ability to become totally SOVEREIGN AS NATIONS.

Then presents our gifts as God demands, that there is an acceptable and honorable base upon which financial security can be established and the nations thrive. This is a worthy goal as you sit among the broken arrows and hearts pierced from the rocks, from the slings that have hit you. And yes, there will present the ones necessary, having experienced in the "Market Place" and moved back into the REALITY of their own culture. THIS IS THE GOAL FOR WHICH WE STRUGGLE AND LABOR—NOT FOR PIECES OF GOLD OR PAPER. IF PEOPLE CANNOT TRUST ENOUGH TO SEE THE GOAL TO FRUITION AND WISH TO SIMPLY "DO THEIR OWN THING", WITHOUT RISK OR WITHIN ONLY GUARANTEES, SO BE IT. THEY WILL MEET THEIR OWN CONSEQUENCES OF WHATEVER VARIETY THAT MIGHT BE, WANT OR ABUNDANCE.

Know that you as individuals do not JUDGE, but you DO STAND IN RESPONSIBLE STANCE UNDER THE LAW.

The overall pain and misery dealt us is a remarkable—and quite blind—necessity to make every effort to STOP our realization of success. And KNOW that when we are BLOCKED, we SHALL ALWAYS FIND A BETTER AVENUE TO THAT ACCOMPLISHMENT! If you WANT for anything, it is NOT A SHORTAGE, it is simply a lack of Creative IDEAS. GOD IS NEVER LACKING THOSE VERY IDEAS YOU NEED. ASK AND YE SHALL RECEIVE!

Start humming, Dharma, for every dark cloud actually does have a silver halo. Sometimes you just have to look harder than at other times. Know that when you look harder, there are always more alternatives for action shown therein.

WHEN THE FAT LADY SINGS!

It is a good morning, and today we can certainly recognize that the "fat lady" is starting to do her vocal pre-song warm-up! Soon, the chorus will be in fit-and-fiddle shape—for they have already done their warm-up.

How long from now? "Imminent", of course.

I wish to thank the team for making arrangements to fly necessary documents hither and yon to expedite some legal housing for our product and accounts. However, we shall attend that matter a bit later, so that we are not dragging excess baggage. This approach we are now establishing will get better security coverage here in the Philippines working with persons with whom we now have LONG relationships. This will lessen, tremendously, the immediate load on E.J. and Dharma and build in security, for they will not be such a focus.

This will be considered the true upstart of the "alliance" on a global scale and, since it is an "association", truly, it will simply be a distribution conduit. Therefore, allow us to move swiftly, doing it RIGHT and within all the regulations as requested by the Governor. This will leave details to a center for office needs, as well as allowing a continuation, without extra load, for Ekkers to continue in the "contact" focus.

Things are going to rapidly break loose in Malaysia and also in Brunei. This allows focus to be turned toward those places, along with Indonesia. Wahid will settle down and realize his prize tool, as soon as his eyes clear a bit, literally. He has been spending his time lately in the U.S. getting some "mind-warping" about the Israelis and initial trade interchange. Indonesia will fall to the Khazars, if other alternatives are not forthcoming. The guise of the travels, of course, was to assist his vision with surgical procedures. Fine, perhaps that will be a positive result.

If he continues to PUSH unduly the connection with Indonesia and Israel, he will fall. Indonesia is the largest Muslim country on the globe. They will object to selling out to the Khazarian Elite.

The Muslims of Indonesia have proven that there is no fear in confronting any OTHER RELIGION entering their space. With brotherhood, however, there can, indeed, be a community formed which will serve, positively, all citizens.

Beware of newcomers bearing either gifts or asking large sums. It is time to now STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN VERY, VERY CAREFULLY. If, with the passage of time and insight, a party proves clear and potentially helpful, UNDER OUR AGREEMENTS, we will discuss possibilities.

We are being tested, and if you allow even one breach of our agreements as to those WE HAVE MADE, there will be no allowance. We WILL DO NOTHING TO HARM THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. We do not intend to demand that the Fed or the Treasury PAY THEIR DEBTS WITH USE OF OURS, IN ANY WAY SHAPE OR FORM. WE WILL NOT DELIBERATELY COLLAPSE ANY ECONOMY AND, MOST CERTAINLY, NOT "OUR OWN".

If I need to do another PUBLIC NOTICE, I will do so, so that there will be no further "misunderstanding" as to intent. You are being tested to see if, indeed, you will keep our agreements. WE SHALL.

To you back home, working your fingers to fiddle strings, hold strong. Do not concern over subscriptions, etc., one way or another. You hardly lost any, for so many were able to pick up the paper free on the web-site that the people we have are strong supporters. Others were and are curious. Don't be disturbed, either, about Spectrum, for they are still advertising on CONTACT's credibility. It is good, for the group at Spectrum have to keep their noses pretty clean as to what they put in THAT paper, or they will tell on themselves as INDIVIDUALS. It is not a paper that can be good or evil—only humans! And, this cleans up a lot of things because, as long as they hide behind the paper, they will have to present that which is pretty substantially TRUTH, edited by etheric assumptions or not. The individuals are treading on glass shards already, and their living attitudes will be covered, they think, by some good papers—for a while. It will all work out very well. The people, themselves, are weak and, in the ending, it will be their weakness that shall do them in. In that position, the paper might well even survive and flourish.

The people on board, after all, served CONTACT for many years. CONTACT didn't change; only the individuals, when left to their own devices, CHANGED. Keep it straight. We only want Journalism in its highest form; we do not need to present GOD as in secondary stature and never shall do so.

Is it possible for people to change? Of course, with God ALL things are possible. So be it. SPECTRUM has no retribution to make, ONLY the people (individuals) who run things. Ed's desire, ultimately, was to have the BEST paper available to any and all. I see that has not greatly changed. I would suppose he has pretty much instilled that attitude in Norey.

Rick? Gail? and others? I have no comment, other than: Obviously, these particular parties want nothing save to damage, seek revenge and cover actions, and couldn't care less what kind of a paper is presented or whom they hurt in seeking their OWN shelter for hiding their deeds.

Layout people don't have a REAL preference, for they were friends, and to disallow the CONTACT itself is denying their own training and capabilities. Their intent SHOULD be to service a paper to completion without individual "allegiance". If a person receives a paycheck, he owes the one who writes the paycheck. All other attitudes are personal and individual. And, the assumption is that it matters NOT A WHIT whether that layout person likes God or Satan—it is how well the job of paper layout is accomplished. If this doesn't make sense, please think on it long and hard, for it is THE reality of FREEDOM.

We only want JUSTICE, not revenge, for the deeds perpetrated against us. We hold neither grudges nor blame—except to sort the deed-doers and the level of deed-doing.

We are not some religious cult or another. We are not even a branch of some other established cult. The others claim homage unto their intents; WE DO NOT. Our intent is always on the focus of JUSTICE UNDER THE LAW. And that JUSTICE must be established under and within the LAWS OF THE LAND. Breaking of the Laws of God is between God and individual. Breaking of the laws of the land is the BUSINESS of the COURTS OF THE LAND. KNOW THE DIFFERENCE AND YOU WILL DILIGENTLY WORK TOWARD EQUITY WHICH, ULTIMATELY, REPRESENTS "FREEDOM".

As with any physician or healing representative, our intent is to stop the hurting FIRST, then as rapidly as possible to take things in priority sequence. When our hands are tied legally, we have to continue to work within the system as impacts us in individual and corporate structures and regulations.

It is quite probable that we would be unable to clear the Institute as a corporate entity if we were abundantly able this minute. Therefore, we have to consider other IDEAS as to how to be able to attend business while still acting within all orders, regulations and business procedures.

You are all going to find that—because of those who have brought suit against Ekker-Ekker-Phoenix—we CANNOT attend these particular individual cases tied up in litigation. Therefore, until those are settled, there is no ability to bypass such litigation in process—period. We do not even wish to do so.

There are, however, back-interest payments due, which have had to be held for both litigation reasons and inability to reclaim assets taken. There are other happenings, which have also stalled out everything associated with the above entities.

The loans are NOT at maturity, and the Institute can't bear the brunt of circumstances out of its control; this is either through litigation or loss in gold resources.

Arrangements are, however, being structured to go through legal channels to place into a trust, through lawyers, to cover everything outstanding. So, for you who think we plan to abandon the Institute and just dump your loans, we do NOT. The ones in litigation will remain in litigation until settled. Others will be given the option of removal or making other, alternative arrangements through other avenues. Then, a decision will be made as to whether or not to continue with the original entity.

Ekkers, as you might surmise, have reached a level of not wanting anything to longer do with that Institute. They accepted responsibility and have continued to shoulder that responsibility through all the years, without any lessening of intent or purpose to repay every participant. Neither the programs involved nor the condition of the Institute are Ekkers' responsibility under the law; IT IS RELEVANT IN INDIVIDUAL ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITIES.

Realizing that many of you loaned funds to both assist, as originally expressed, in programs and projects, with a second intent in opportunity to structure some income, when and if there was increase in the price of gold on the market (blessings unto you ones in this category), and that many (most) of you may not wish to abandon the plan as structured, we do need to consider possible alternatives for you who wish an alternative program.

When arrangements are concluded, you will have to respond to the legal counsel to help resolve many points, for files were taken from the offices of the corporation. Mr. Martin and Dr. Young have published some very private information regarding some individual matters and accounts. For this breach of privacy we are truly sorry and will continue to seek justice.

There is "abandonment" of NOTHING. This includes the Institute, property, people or debts owed. God does NOT abandon, hurt or bring loss to His people. People have free-will choices, and some have chosen to serve the Adversary. That does not change our commitment, but we will not stand loss on legal costs for defense and damages stemming directly from Adversarial attacks and, most especially, where there was ACTUAL THEFT of FUNDS AND PROPERTY.

You participated with this program because you CLAIMED to serve Lighted God, with your hearts and resources. NOTHING HAS CHANGED, READERS, EXCEPT THAT, PERHAPS, SORTING HAS BEEN ACHIEVED AS TO MISDIRECTED PARTICIPANTS WHO WOULD CONTINUE TO TAKE FOR SELVES—AND THAT IS UNACCEPTABLE. GOD DOES NOT CHANGE; PEOPLE CHANGE. And yes, we most certainly will proceed with all projects as planned from onset of the Institute—AND FAR MORE.

SIPAPU ODYSSEY

I would appreciate it if someone who furthers writings to those without e-mail would get word to Wally Gentleman and George Van Noy, please, that we do not wish the original story or location, as intended, changed. I just have to remind you all that there is less and less "time" to focus on backup. When we turn that over and open the doors for that project, it must then be carried by YOU. I have Ekkers so buried that we will have to simply bypass them as to decision-making on individual project matters.

The intent is to fund abundantly and flexibly, so that the production can be handled with increased expenses, as would have accrued through the years. My own observation is that—as with the motion-picture industry in the Philippines—there is great upheaval and a movement to restrict pornography in the industry. It reached an incredible point of obscenity and, without delving into the matter here, there is restructuring taking place.

The rather more important thing I consider here is the possibility of allowing these Filipino movie-makers, of whom we have spoken earlier, to be able to move within your circle in the U.S. (which they have tried to do on many prior occasions and couldn't) and work WITH you gentlemen (no pun intended, Wally).

The greatest concern of Dharma was that you would have to do all the WORK yourselves, and I reassure her that YOU ARE QUITE CAPABLE, FROM START TO FINISH—WITH FUNDING, OF COURSE. YEAR 2000 WILL BE A WONDROUS YEAR FOR SOME OF YOU—SORT OF LIKE A 2001 SPACE ODYSSEY (pun intended). We shall arrange it so that all Wally needs to do is sit in his Director's chair and pass out orders! Let us begin to have fun, friends, for our work is far from over, and so, we may as well have fun and JOY along the way.

I have delayed responding to Wally's last letter until we could see a bit further through the physical fog and—if we don't have an adversarial monsoon soaker, a volcanic blowout burying Manila, and/or a tsunami or 10-pt. earthquake dead-on to the city—we will make a great and massive "step for mankind" THIS DAY.

I will still not be able to release my team from the needs here, so there will need be continuance, please, of containing and running things stateside. Those things will be in very capable hands.

As to Federal indictments, as promised against Ekkers by Martin, et al.: What for? We just went through Federal Bureau of Investigation encounters—and they sent their top brass TO US, good inquiring minds. I believe all the shoes are now on OTHER feet, perpetrators of those intents, actions and rumors. We will take caution, however (AS SUGGESTED), to attend any “maverick” agents or marksmen, lawyers for bounty hire, etc. The Big Boys, in fact, are investigating attempted homicide, theft, fraud and other miscellaneous activities of said Spectrum-groupie membership.

I promise you that the Elite Powers-That-Be do not want anything to happen to any of US. They are in a corner, and they know that more killing is not in the cards for endearment.

No matter what has or hasn't apparently become visible or viable—I suggest you have a grateful and very appreciative THANKSGIVING. And, as we celebrate the “BROTHERHOOD” which is honored during the CHRIST season of caring, let us not discard ANY CHRISTED BEING for some religious-order RELIGION. Let us rejoice in brotherhood that we may begin a new journey toward LIGHT and LOVE, as we move into your counting days which you will call year one of the new millennium. This can be a millennium of growth and beauty beyond your imagining, or you can continue down the path toward destruction—but God has more faith in humankind than do most of you, so, let us acclaim the opportunities of wondrous goodness.

I would offer, you in the Philippines, that you need to attend things rather rapidly, for the Khazarian Elite already have shifted focus to your paradisiacal shores and await to gobble up businesses in 100% foreign ownership as is being structured in Estrada's con-con game. This is the way the final gong is sounded on an economic structure and for final enslavement of a people.

God has provided that you of the Philippines CAN BE FIRST to reap the abundance of God's Plan (2000), if you choose to do so. God does not wish to own 100% of anything as an “alien investor”. Neither do our people wish to own anything, except as it might help get established needy programs.

This has been incredibly difficult to bring to final stages in a timely manner, and we still have a long way to go before we “sleep”. However, the foundation for allowing this to WORK is accomplished, if we do our final tasks, for much of the further work was already accomplished against this day, so that movement might be quickly established.

There need not even be an argument over percentages of ownership by “foreign” entities, for the Philippines will have the wherewithal to simply buy first. All you will need, after we conclude our program infrastructure, is “right of first refusal”. And in that line of options, there will be no NEED for refusal.

And yes, Philippines, we have backup engineers, systems and designers to give professional assistance. They wait, ready, willing and eager to serve. You do not need to reinvent the wheel and the infrastructures presented in your already-established programs to offer the security and basic ability to MOVE SMARTLY AHEAD. THE WORLD WILL WITNESS THE RISING OF THAT “OLD” NEW JERUSALEM YOU WANTED, RIGHT OUT OF THE LAND OF MU—IF WE KEEP TO THE FOCUS AND DO NOT FAINT WITH THE ASSAULTS.

I caution all of you to not jump the gun too much as regards Native-American communities. We can move smartly on with establishing contacts who can see and want to serve the Native Brotherhood, first and foremost, and then we have to wait; and when we have capability, we will have the ones with “abilities”. Little Crow still waits for his call, and the work must be DONE WITHIN THE COMMUNITY, ITSELF. It is as with the Philippines, the Filipinos and Filipinas MUST DO THEIR OWN. This is a time of brotherhood, joint work and accomplishment, but we must never again allow one man, without moral integrity, to rise again to strangle those he so-chooses, to destroy in property and enslave in soul.

This does indicate, factually, that JUST knowing about wrong is NOT ENOUGH. You must have ability to change things in a way in which you create PEACE and not greater WAR. The ANTAGONISTS must be put down and contained and, yes, this CAN be done, as soon as man can grow again into his potential of that which is GOD in realization. That means one WITH and not one SUPERIOR TO.

We are ALL “soul-mates”, so face it. And, in so being, we don't screw around with the souls and dreams of any OTHER. And, yes, as a “society” made up of men and women of integrity, the outrageous misconceptions can be brought back into line and acceptable interchange through responsibility to ONE ANOTHER. When that happens, friends, the rest takes its proper place and Lighted direction.

Do “my” human people doing this major work want bowing and scraping while facing southwest, or southeast or something? No, they wish to get on about our Father's work, with hopes that no notice is ever made outside our own family of co-workers. We share equally in accomplishment when we do, indeed, accomplish our goals, step by tedious step.

“Well,” you might note, “it sure took long enough to get to here.” Yes, about 10 billion years. But, isn't it wondrous to be able to participate in such a wondrous play? And, as to you who have played the dastardly, dark roles? Somebody had to do it! Ideas flow when a concept or methodology is challenged or a person of critical importance is put under fire. So, for you who thought you could just build your fires big and nasty, Doris is born as a “water” baby under your horoscope games. Water extinguishes fire, for you who follow such things with interest. And this should well comfort her, as opposed to you who would toss her into the fire-and-brimstone of the hell you have tried to create to break her. It didn't ever work; it is NOT working, and never SHALL it work. This is simply put here as a matter of interest to her, as much as a warning to you who torment and destroy. She will always invoke the Creator God, and this is where the tormentors failed to use good judgment.

Can't we just now begin to envision the next “Odyssey”? Ah, indeed: “...and in that time, out of the lands of the Sea of Peace, arose a new nation, under God, with liberty and Justice for all, newly re-birthed in Freedom that all mankind might seek freely his happiness...”. “And the Light shone down upon that place of the new cities and people of LIGHT. And then...throughout the whole of the world, new nations sprang forth according to the balance and laws of the ancestors, our ancient ones...and for a very long time man experienced peace, justice and brotherhood...”. You are moving INTO REALITY and coming up out of the lie of the illusion—AND THIS IS THE TRUTH OF IT.

Yes, indeed, there may well be shame for the evil; however, face it, nobody has to remain in the evil pit—that placement is of their own doing and for as long as they choose. It is a time of glory, and it would seem wise to get thee up out of that hole, that we might all experience in brotherhood.

So, again, you who asked why it took and takes so confounded LONG? YOU!

May OUR “2002 Odyssey” not have to end with a marble slab! Salu!

A Global Association Is Now Established

11/20/99—#1

Hatonn—Yes, I do have a message for Fatima, Dharma. She doesn't need to hear from me through this route but, indeed, every one (each) needs some reassurances as they find a need to "let go" a bit—and yet, not being able to see the whole, find frustrations and stress within, as we pick our way through this startup phase of CHANGE.

I won't speak directly, for there is no secret here, but I want nothing taken out of context and to write some "private" message often presents as a wrong assumption or impression.

We structured the association with it uppermost in mind that what needs to be accomplished on each "separate" construction can flow well and not overlap onto another's already established program.

We need that which satisfies the needs, in this instance, of the Association (GAA—which still reads GAIA), which establishes the first affiliated STEP toward ability to have other International/National ASSOCIATIONS/ALLIANCES without undue reference to any ONE participant.

It is structured so that it should not interfere with any other program, say by Tinig, to accomplish anything but will, in fact, keep clear of pressures UNDER ALL LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

With Fatima in the position we have structured, her Tinig people can keep ongoing viewing of what is taking place and accomplish their programs more easily. Even though our structure here with GAA may appear to be a deviation from that original program, if careful thought is given to our program now forming, it gives privacy and freedom of far greater ability to function within all systems in every nation.

I ask that my team not get stressed too much, but allow us to freely discuss and then move in ways that support, instead of distract.

E.J., get Fatima a couple of bottles of OxySol, one for her and one for "The Old Man", and get some more on order ASAP. We can't supply everyone yet, but it should be one of our first products in the Philippines as a natural supplement. Yes, people are dying from suffocation and this stress, at present, even though it is good "stress", is oxygen-snatching in a big way. We need to just make it through here, please. By the way, OxySol will clear the Alzheimer's problem, as oxygen will be enhanced and the "connections", which run on same, will be reconnected. You cannot survive, humans, in an oxygen-free environment. You can even live without water for a while and food for even longer—but YOU MUST HAVE OXYGEN! So be it.

You may, yes, just leave this in the writing that goes on the e-mail. We will protect our people. We can begin, as soon as any funds flow, to get started on the Dria production, colloids and OxySol here in the Philippines. These are singularly OUR PRODUCTS, and we will produce them at a price all can better afford and without having to import them. As we can afford to establish it here, we will get Lester involved and we can establish production in New Zealand, Australia, etc., etc. We were and are only waiting for the circumstances to be proper. We are not going to allow this to be abused, as it has been, by our own people, yet. GOD IS NOW AMONG YOU AND THINGS WILL BE CHANGING RAPIDLY HENCEFORTH.

OXYSOL

MISCELLANEOUS: I might speak up right here and now and remind you seekers of more oxygen for your cells that you already have the most efficient and effective producer of same, for your body, in OXYSOL.

In fact, I have even better news for you OxySol users, the Liquid Crystal (Diamond, if you will) carries both the conversion to oxygen AND has the programming to facilitate DNA/RNA uptake of individual hosts. The converted gold and silver—and other colloidalized minerals—are also borne in solution by catalytic colloidalization.

We did surely write about this when we set forth the product and it is, in fact, WHY you named it "OxySol", as in oxygen solution. The end product is totally stable.

So, you see, you really do find the "diamonds in your own back yard"!

Yes, I know, this is the "hottest" thing on the market, and yes, indeed, you are a species with an amazingly low available oxygen supply, considering that your systems are created to uptake twice to five times as much as you get. In city areas—such as Los Angeles and Bakersfield and, when the smog comes in, New York, Manila, Athens, Johannesburg—anywhere, especially where old diesel-fueled vehicles are piled up, you are running on almost zilch oxygen supplies. Worse, the carbon dioxides and monoxides are further pulling oxygen from what is left in the air or in your physical bodies. And no, even if you get extra oxygen for breathing, it is not sufficient, for the minute you hang up the oxygen tube you will note a rapid decline of physical response.

I have just SHOWN Dharma and E.J. a full presentation of the mechanism through which this works, if added to Gaiandriana as taken within the Drias. We add all this to the Dria "bath" or amniotic fluid. (Drias are LIVING cells.)

But, in the hubbub of living, these wondrous things we have offered are forgotten.

Dharma set the Drias to re-creation here in Manila. She added the typical several drops of colloids to the bath and then, when she got to the OxySol, the bottle slipped a bit and she got perhaps a whole teaspoon into the mix. Since the solution was new, there was only a one-third solution of Gaiandriana in the water, which had been boiled and filtered through a Brita apparatus. She had also filtered it a second time (through paper filters), because she had some problems with airborne algae and free floating mold.

The solution was crystal clear, as would be expected. This was mid-afternoon and the incubation jar was placed in the brightest window. The next morning it was sparkingly brilliant in clarity. Less than one hour later, as the saturation of drias completed multiplication, the solution turned golden bronze in color. This lasted two days, faded into a beautiful, soft, purple color and faded then into an iridescent sort of silvery transparency; it is now moving totally back to living transparency.

So no, you do not get the same actual response from the Gaiandriana solution as from OxySol on an immediate basis, BECAUSE the Drias have reconverted the minerals into living cells.

If the staff can resurrect the articles we wrote on these products years back and rerun them, it would be very good.

Right now there seem to be some inquiries about our products, as the opposition team once again tries to inform you readers that New Gaia's products are poor. No, they are wondrous in quality—as only God Creator can offer—and you certainly can assume or respond any way you choose, but you are listening to the WRONG INFORMERS when they call you to inform you that you are getting bad products from New Gaia. We claim to heal nothing, cure nothing and offer no medicines or chemicals in anything. YOU ARE THE HEALER, IF YOU HEAL—YOU AND GOD. WE, AT BEST, CAN OFFER A FEW TOOLS, WHICH MAY MAKE YOU MORE ABLE TO ACCOMPLISH YOUR BETTER STATE OF GOOD HEALTH.

So, do I suggest you add more OxySol to your Gaiandriana? No. The perfect balance is already present, for the cells will only take up, in their maturation process, the required amounts, and any additional is unnecessary but will simply be converted; so, you would be "safe" in doing so, but unless you have somehow contaminated the solution (which is very difficult to accomplish), you can add a few drops, if you so choose. Once combined and converted, however, you do not have the same AVAILABLE properties, for the drias turn all presented particulate into pure dria cells.

When you are searching for "other" healing helpers, you want separate qualities. Over a period of time, the Gaiandriana will assist in replacing mutated cells within the body and thus also increase the quality of the immune system greatly. However, OxySol will immediately purify and increase the oxygen content of your body cells.

Will we put these things on the market to a broader extent? Yes, but not as long as we have deceivers and lying cheats in the organization who are out for revenge and destruction, rather than working toward goodness and beneficial assistance to their fellowman.

Once again, in their efforts to cover their own deceptive activities, the Spectrum Kids of the Rainbow have set forth to DESTROY that which is GOODNESS. This deprives YOU of that which is wondrous for your own use. These self-proclaimed “enemies” of God are not just cute, readers; they act in actual “criminal” ways to both deceive and destroy those whom they now pronounce as their enemies.

They have lifestyles which are not acceptable, even in the pressures and deceptions foisted off on ones who will listen and take actions at their urgings. It is fine with me, friends, but they are not usually too healthy, and certainly, it is unwise to tag along doing what they suggest, as in actual actions, for such will “cost” you greatly.

TRANCE FORMATION...

Please, CONTACT, get in touch with Mark Phillips and ask him to pick and choose what he wants run “in sequence” from his and Cathy’s book, and let us also begin to run that, in series, as well as Immaculate Deception. That information needs to also be brought forth, again, as you head for new elections and people need choices where they can find input of value.

Is Bush my enemy? No, I have no enemies.

Will there be repercussions? At this time, we are just breaking forth in major distribution increase, globally, so there should be no major backlash. However, the reason we wish to start running these things NOW is to have again available information, which can be utilized in decision-making, prior to the next U.S. elections.

I do not “judge” a man. Certainly, with “George Bush”, it is a fact that that which will SALVAGE your world—as to economy and ability to reverse the downward spiral—was, in part, placed into validation, with the very central product for such recovery, by him and his team. Was world recovery the point in their workings? YES, it just wasn’t quite the kind of recovery which will be birthed.

People, I RESPECT MY ADVERSARIES AND AVOWED “ENEMIES”; I DO NOT HATE THEM. I LOVE THAT WHICH THEY DO IN PRESENTATION WHICH CAN BE BROUGHT INTO GOODLY USE FOR MANKIND. SOME DAY YOU WILL LEARN THE DIFFERENCES IN THESE EMOTIONAL STANCES—AND EVIL WILL SIMPLY BEGIN TO BECOME INSIGNIFICANT. GOD CREATES; EVIL MANIPULATES AND DESTROYS—AND ANY PARTICIPANT “CAN” UTILIZE EITHER PRODUCT PRESENTED. GOD WILL PERFECT THE PRODUCT; EVIL WILL TRY TO GAIN CONTROL, THROUGH FORCE, OF THE USE OF IT. AND, THEREFORE, WHEN YOU BECOME DISTRACTED IN YOUR CONFUSION, YOU ERR (SIN) BECAUSE YOU, BY THE CHOICE OF THE NEGATIVE ATTITUDE AND ASSUMPTION, WILL “ACT” IN A NEGATIVE MANNER AND EVEN MOVE ON INTO THE “CRIMINAL” ACTIVITIES. THAT HAPPENS BECAUSE OF THE VERY NATURE OF EVIL, ITSELF.

We will move forward and get Phillips’ assistance ASAP, as we overcome the mischievous activities of the miscreants, who pulled out of our camp while trying to steal the entire camp itself. We will now, however, be most careful in our methods, in order to protect both the assets and the people. LEARN, FRIENDS, FROM EVERY CIRCUMSTANCE, THAT YOU MAY BRING PERFECTION INTO YOUR SHIELDS, BOTH PROPERLY BENEFICIAL AND IN SECURITY, I.E., PROTECTION OF PROPERTY AND PERSON.

And to you who are doing such a magnificent job of presenting a paper from less than nothing (as to experience): YOU HAVE COME TO PRODUCE THE BEST PRODUCT ON THE MARKET AND THE “ONLY” ONE OF ITS KIND. I KNOW THAT; YOU MUST ACTUALLY, CONTINUALLY, COME INTO THAT REALIZATION FOR YOUR OWN SECURITY.

Most of you have no WISH to attend a paper but have taken the responsibility, for someone(s) had to do it or lose it to the Bandits. There most certainly WILL BE, as we move on, the getting of other, professional help to continue the paper, so that you, now in place, can take up other options for service as opportunities present. Funds bring relief. Money, my dears, is not evil—only people can be evil. You MUST have whatever commodity is accepted as EXCHANGE in value and product acquisition. Keep your desires balanced and your goals toward God, and get all of the “stuff” of exchange that you can acquire and PUT IT TO POSITIVE USE. The only thing you want to stay put is the fundamental value-base (usually gold) upon which to base that currency that you will IMMEDIATELY get into circulation to build and grow.

Now, you ask about P.C.? No, I do not wish to address ANYTHING at this time as to his personage. Rumors you hear are often structured misinformation. There are so many “games” being played and so much “cover-up”, where, actually, there is not any need for such, but I can only honor Pierre for that which he offered freely through the years to assist in the most appropriate way HE COULD SEE TO SERVE. I refuse to have him drawn into any possible confrontation and, certainly, not until things are better settled on the home front. I can tell you, however, that he is “alive and well”. I find that rumors started in such a circumstance might well WAKE UP PIERRE. The little devils just get nastier and nastier—as they lose one stupid game after another. My hope is that Pierre will awaken and realize his predicament and USE SOME OF THAT WISDOM OF THE RAYS PROPERLY AND PERSONALLY.

No, I don’t need you to await confirmation. Let us be just a bit daring. Remember that LIES are the games of choice by the adversarial miscreants.

Things will be moving rapidly, as already underway, so I can only ask you of my team to stay flexible. We will be needing assistance here in setting up facilities and, since we do not need to reinvent the wheel every time we change location, we will need some backup from those of you who already KNOW how to do things.

As quickly as we have some stable funds flowing, I think we can acquire sufficient assistance to get the paper out, etc. We will not be hamstrung by the adversary very much longer. But we act appropriately and wisely in our endeavors, whatever they might be.

In the shipment with the OxySol, please send at least an additional 2-3 bottles of Gaiandriana and a couple of Aquagaia. E.J., get a couple or three more jars and let’s get some starters, please. I believe you have to accept that you will be in the area, at least off and on, for some time, and we can be up and ready to start producing quickly, if we have a starter “seed” ready to go.

If you handle the other matter of help in funds immediately, you can cover the interim necessities of the “Center” rent and a few other, smaller needs, like the farm lease and immediate help, as necessary, for shipping costs, etc. I suggest that the proceeds immediately be utilized as needed, per the request of the provider. Assist Brad, and place in his trust account all that is necessary to protect, but get him some funds to, at the least, partially help him hold, until we can get funds transferred in useful commodity. As we are learning, you can have oodles and bunches of funds in the bank—and still be unable to access them, until the bank releases them.

Yes, you should still have a good Thanksgiving, and a better Christmas/New Year.

You can expect the electronic mail to have a myriad of cute problems so, for anything really important, be prepared to send with other than those networks after the New Year dawns. It should work through the games and hacker-tweakers in only a few days, and then we can get back to the regular way of shipping material (my writings) through to the CONTACT staff.

You might want to be basically ready with a couple of weeks of paper articles, or even rerun articles, if necessary—OR SIMPLY SKIP A COUPLE OF ISSUES, as we sort through and work through the blips.

We can’t start much of any major anything until after the first of the year, simply due to pressures and locations, so don’t be pushing rivers; any additional pressure “ahead of its time” will only slow us, not make a thing faster. We have all of year 2000 to start our things for creation in Plan 2000. We use your counting methods to synchronize our undertakings. Just take your OxySol and get yourselves ready, willing and able to proceed.

Does anyone other than myself and our immediate team find it interesting that, right now, we hear from Ronn Jackson AND Russbacher? Still think nothing is taking place, chelas? How do you get word across a globe? And yes, indeed, I do intend to assist the “Freemen” but by bringing them into a more viable method of approach. Leave it alone, please.

ON THE HOUSE FRONT

Thank you for sending the pictures of the house and move. It was as painful a realization as anything to date, but the acceptance has settled in, now, in viewing the incredible reality.

I am pleased that both Doris and E.J. viewed it first through grateful hearts—and unbelievable appreciation to friends and family for accomplishing the major part of that which was totally impossible in getting that major evacuation accomplished.

There always needs to be the grieving, the realization and then the healing. All three can now be accomplished in a sort of separation from the impact. The weeping is necessary, the healing is necessary and, above all, the REALITY is necessary.

The “dead body” can now rest for a while, as things and details are worked through appropriately within the law, but the brunt of the devastation has been faced, and we can move on without distractions of such major proportions.

You who put things into what security you could rest, also, for we can just hold the things in the Center until further decisions can be made—for yes, we are going to make it BIG, just as I always promised. We do not jeopardize our positions, however, ever, in order to make a “moment” more convenient. By not meeting the demands of the moment, as the adversary planned, my team is still in place, we have a Global Association ESTABLISHED and, if worse (or better) came to worse (or best), our program will be able to move directly ahead—IN GOOD HANDS ATTACHED TO ENTITIES WITH RIGHT INTENTS.

We have alternate Directors who can instantly step right into any void which might happen (but it won't be necessary) in the GAIA corporation, and now—with the startup of Associations with our honorable chosen to head the team—the load is being shifted, and Ekkers can, at the least, breathe a bit easier as to freedom of their persons, as responsibility is eased. The program will go forward, no matter what happens. I remind you, “Old corporations (or Associations) never die, they just get a new President, et al.”

However, other ongoing business things are taking place, so this Association is only a Central Bank clearance. We do not, have not and shall not set all eggs into the Easter Bunny's tote-bag.

It has, yes, been an “impossible” feat to get to here, and we have accomplished it since May, so please know that God has not been idle. IN SIX MONTHS WE HAVE ACCOMPLISHED THE IMPOSSIBLE MIRACLE—SO HOLD IT IN YOUR HEARTS, FOR YOU HAVE DONE IT UNDER THE WORST AND MOST MISERABLE PERSONAL ASSAULTS MEANT TO DESTROY US. AND, PRECIOUS ONES, IN YOUR SLANG LANGUAGE: “YOU AIN'T SEEN NUTHIN' YET!”

Dharma, I would leave this now, for I believe you will find other things needing attention, and it would be good if Fatima could have this today. You all need support, and I have had to cause you to do this on your own thought and production, for it is HUMAN that has to accomplish this ultimate cleansing and renewal. It is a job well done, my precious compatriots, so please accept my most humble appreciation and gratitude.

I salute you (Salu) and bid you Adonai. This is the PORTAL, chelas, right here, right NOW. (Au dai pa da cum.)

The Christ has returned and is again at ready to be rebirthed within the hearts and living souls of human. May you not miss your opportunity to experience this JOY AND GLORY. AS MAN AWAKENS, HE WILL TAKE UP HIS STAFF AND THIS SHALL COME TO PASS IN YOUR DAY UPON THE LIVING EARTH.

The Nature Of EVIL

GOOD MORNING, MANILA

Hatonn—Paradoxes: If we say “Good morning, Manila”, we must then say “Good Evening, U.S.A.” and so forth around the globe. Ah, but there is where the paradox ends and the prime example of FACT begins—IN THE INSTANT BEING EXPERIENCED, AROUND THE GLOBE, IS ONLY THE “NOW”. Perhaps a “flat” world with no “time zones” is, after all, a better and more accurate description of “what is”?

And what of actions? Actions are the effect of thought (cause). Are there not as many thoughts as there are people as individuals on the globe? Are there, then, not as many “actions” as there are people on the globe as well? Even if there were only one thought per day, per individual, A LOT OF THOUGHTS AND AS MANY, AT LEAST, ACTIONS flow freely and constantly forth.

When, therefore, you find a world unbalanced by negative thoughts and activities, you have a movement toward “evil”; but, know, God of “goodness” and “Creation/Creator” wins the ultimate prevailing position in what you like to call a “battle of good and evil”. Even if a “skirmish” seems to be lost, it ISN'T. Skirmishes are simply training exercises.

“Good” or “Bad” are not considered here as “valid” terms and are only slightly surpassed by “Right” or “Wrong” as definitive terms relative to actions. THOUGHT, however, precedes every action, so we can only define “Good” vs. “Evil” through explicit meaning.

DELIBERATE EVIL CAN EASILY BE CLASSIFIED AS “THE LIE”. An absolute contradiction as to fact, by two parties, is lack of perception, or one is lying and the other bears truth. It is, however, possible to simply have a difference of perception of an incident. A manufactured LIE is deliberate and IS EVIL. Actions under assumption of THAT LIE then become more and more EVIL.

When people become more and more liars, they are becoming more and more EVIL at the same time. When this is practiced as a habit or “passes the point of no return”, you have DISEASE (without [dis] ease).

Evil, by its presence, is narcissism (self-attunement). Narcissism that excludes all except that which bows to SELF at all times and in every first-chosen action is MALIGNANT narcissism. “Malignant” indicates a negative circumstance.

WITHIN THE GARDEN OF “GOOD” AND “EVIL”

First we will clear a GROSS bit of INFORMATION: GOD DID NOT TELL ADAM AND EVE TO NOT PARTAKE OF THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE. And, therefore, this is why the parable has so much meaning. Who or what was supposedly in THAT TREE? Ah, indeed, the serpent! And, of course, there was no snake up the apple tree in point. Scribes and stenographers usually sit at a desk where the teacher or author is expounding words to control his students—or mislead them, whichever comes first.

GOD ALWAYS TELLS EVERY EXPERIENCING HUMAN BEING TO GET KNOWLEDGE. HE ADVISES EVERY INDIVIDUAL TO GAIN ALL THE KNOWLEDGE POSSIBLE ABOUT “EVERY” SUBJECT, EVERY INCIDENT, EVERY ENCOUNTER. THEN, WEIGH THE INFORMATION IN TRUTH, BALANCE AND EVIDENCE, AND “JUDGE IT CAREFULLY” (EVALUATE). So your instructions, experiencing travelers, have been totally incorrect and meant to deceive you from onset of your journey on planetary adventures.

We can go to the cute observation that “evil” is “live” spelled backwards (in English, that is, but in no other language). This works well for my purposes because EVIL has to do with killing that which “lives”. But, do NOT rest easy, readers, for this does not have very much to do with actual or corporeal murder. EVIL IS ALSO THAT WHICH KILLS SPIRIT.

There are various essential attributes of life—particularly human life—such as mobility, consciousness, growth will, autonomy, sentience, awareness, etc. It IS possible to kill or attempt to kill any one or all of these attributes, without actually destroying the body, itself. So, you can “break” a kitten, a horse or a child without harming or even touching a hair on its body or head.

The terms used for this process are also varied to fit the observations of the viewer, i.e., some recognized physicians refer to this “destruction by “breaking”” as “necrophilia”. This is a recognition of certain people to control others—to make them controllable, to foster their dependency, to discourage their capacity to think for themselves, to diminish their unpredictability and originality, to keep them in line. Here you will have to distinguish this particular description from “biophilic” as in “a biophilic person”, who is one who appreciates and fosters the variety of life forms and the uniqueness of the individual. He demonstrates a “necrophilic character type” whose aim it is to avoid the INCONVENIENCE OF LIFE by transforming others into obedient automatons and robbing them of their humanity—especially their thinking for self or appropriately acting only in Truth.

Taking this a step further, then, how can any person IN THE LIE act differently than he is taught? Well, because the LIE is always exactly that, some form of lie. It will not measure well against TRUTH or FACT. You can have 10 observers of an event and you will, in FACT, get some measure of LIE regarding the absolutes of the incident itself, fabricated. This is because of PERCEPTION. You can only PERCEIVE in absolute terms that to which you have no connection “emotionally”, total non-involvement with persons or events—and have no knowledge regarding either.

Notwithstanding this FACT of human perception, evil rears its head because every perceiver has preconceived ideas about “everything”. This is FACT, because there is NOTHING NEW, AND YOU CAN ONLY FUNCTION OR ACCEPT THAT WHICH YOU HAVE BEEN TAUGHT—UNTIL YOU CHOOSE TO FIND OUT TRUTH AND FACT AND CHANGE YOUR PERCEPTION.

The major error in failure to find out factual Truth—PRIOR TO TAKING ACTION ON THAT BASIS OF POSSIBLE LIE—is that “in the Lie” you will blunder badly as Truth surfaces. And HERE, you are dealing with the “Law of Entropy”. Simply put, truth and lie may well be in the pile of choices and debris, BUT TRUTH WILL, AS WILL ENTROPY, EVENTUALLY COME TO THE SURFACE. Evil intent “CANNOT” forever prevail, and I hope herein to have given you a bit of guideline assistance in romping through this Garden in which you find selves.

Evil, then, at least for this moment, can be defined as “that force, residing either inside or outside of human beings, that seeks TO KILL LIFE OR LIVELINESS”.

GOODNESS IS ITS OPPOSITE. GOODNESS IS THAT WHICH PROMOTES LIFE AND LIVELINESS.

An easy TEST for consideration of any “event” or “action”—or even prattling information as to correct or incorrect—can be measured against these two presented FACTS. Does the act itself set forth to destroy, damage or hurt, or does it create goodness and life? If you take from another that which offers “life” sustenance, shelter or “living”, when there ARE CHOICES otherwise—IT IS EVIL in thought and, if followed through with action, it then becomes EVIL ACTION.

Even if you have NO FACTS regarding the matter, YOU DO KNOW THAT WHICH WOULD HURT, DAMAGE OR DESTROY VS. THAT WHICH OFFERS PEACE, BALANCE AND GOODNESS. If you are having to judge a circumstance and CLAIM TO BE OF GOODNESS, in business or any other interchange, you will not allow that which destroys to be a part of your action. You will exhaust every recognized opportunity to resolve the circumstances to mutual BENEFIT—and not intentional infliction of loss or pain to THAT OTHER.

GOD AND “CHRIST”

GOD IS AN ENERGY AND CHRIST IS THAT BEINGNESS OR PERFECTION OF GOD CREATOR. “CHRIST” IS NOT A NAME FOR ANYONE—IT IS A “STATE OF BEING OR ACTING WITHIN ‘CHRISTLY’ GUIDELINES”.

The next thing up from that fact is that you are a “created” entity within the energy flow of GOD CREATOR. This makes YOU a creating reflection or representation of experiencing GOD CREATOR. That accepted, you can go further and realize YOUR LIKENESS WITHIN/TO GOD. With that recognition, if taken seriously, you MUST then accept the responsibility that YOU are godly beings! That further means that human life IS OF SACRED IMPORTANCE. CHRISTNESS is LIFE. EVIL is DEATH. And thus, you have the split right down the middle of “ACTIONS”.

Facts also are that it matters not a whit what a man SAYS. It only matters what a man DOES. Until there is ample ability to read INTENTIONS (thoughts), only GOD CREATOR AND SELF know what is within the reality of the producing mind. The mind can, however, be easily READ by watching that which a person routinely presents and how he/she presents it. If a man will steal $5, he would more likely move on to steal $5 million—if he can “idea” a way to hide his “evil” intent and actions.

If the human individual wants to “get revenge” for perceived wrongs against himself, he will go to ANY lengths to kill the targeted personages in the most hurtful ways he can devise. This is easily defined as Malignant Narcissistic EVIL. By the time it reaches this category-10 quake zone, it is beyond “disease” and actually into total obsession (demonic possession). In other words, the facts are known by the perpetrating individual, but the lies and actions of evil continue to pile up, while the defense of self becomes so incredibly absurd and childish immature as to be both obvious and ASTOUNDING. WHEN CAUGHT IN HIS THOUGHTS AND ACTIONS, THIS EVIL INDIVIDUAL WILL CONTINUE TO BLAME (SCAPEGOAT) IN EVER MORE INCONCEIVABLE WAYS. HE WILL THEN SUCK ALL HE CAN GATHER WITHIN HIS CIRCLE OF “THE LIE”, TO SOMEHOW GIVE MORE “CREDIBILITY” TO HIS NON-CREDIBILITY.

Through it all, however, these PEOPLE OF THE LIE are PARASITES, so their actions must be infrastructured AROUND “someone(s)” who can support or host the activities. As an example: A man who has nothing, but needs funding, will go to someone he can “manage” or someone who will accept his lies and offer wherewithal and circumstances to SERVE THE EVIL DELINQUENTS AND MISCREANTS.

CHRIST—SATAN

In representing a considered “Christed” entity, we will simply do as YOU do and refer to the “personage” as Christ. Some of you will consider your prophets and teachers, of Light, as “Christ” and this does bring a proper focus onto the description, itself. We will speak, then, of the counterpart (opposite in term or label)—Satan.

Christ represents LIFE. In the personification of the one you called “Jesus” (a wrong name, but herein it suffices), he did express a very important phrase, “Let the dead bury their dead.” In other words, he was interested in the SPIRIT OF LIFE, in liveliness. And OF SATAN he said: “He was a murderer (this includes spirit) from the beginning.” Evil has nothing to do with NATURAL DEATH; it is concerned only with UNNATURAL death, with “MURDER” of the body or the spirit.

If I stress points here, it is because you must take your human life so seriously that you also take HUMAN EVIL FAR MORE SERIOUSLY—SERIOUSLY ENOUGH TO STUDY IT WITH ALL THE MEANS AT YOUR COMMAND, INCLUDING THE METHODS OF SCIENCE. And yes, of course, evil can actually be defined and observed and, now, described quite scientifically. It IS a ghastly REALITY, readers.

We must all dedicate our own focus and activities

TO LIFE—MORE ABUNDANT LIFE.

The only really important reason to recognize human evil, or give it attention in this way, is to heal it wherever you can do so and, when you cannot, to study it further, so that you can discover how it might be healed in specific instances. Eventually, you would wish to wipe its ugliness off the face of the Earth.

This does NOT meet with the New Age Movement, however, of total allowance, unconditional acceptance, lie if you will, cheat if you will, take as you will, do whatever physically feels good and accept evil as a part of accepted living patterns.

GOD LOVES “ABSOLUTELY”. God, however, has given a lot of guidelines of acceptable good behavior and points out the evil traps to be avoided, if you are to remain within HIS “ELECT”. This does not mean that God does not continue to love the one in deliberate evil intent; it means that God neither condones nor loves the actions of evil. NOTE I USE THE WORDS “...NOR LOVES THE ACTIONS...”. IT IS YOU, HUMAN, CHANGERS OF DEFINITIONS, WHO HAVE DESTROYED THE MEANING OF THE WORD “LOVE” TO SUIT YOUR PREFERENCES FOR AMBIGUITY, OR CONDONEMENT OF EVIL INTENT AND ACTIONS.

It IS valid, perhaps, to say “Unconditional Love”, but you have manufactured that term to be accepting of anything and everything, without “conditions”.

CONFUSION

GOD IS, AND GOD IS CLARITY. CHRIST IS THE LIGHT OF TRUTH.

EVIL PRESENTS CONFUSION; SATAN IS THE “PRINCE OF CONFUSION”.

It had best be realized, right up front, as to what happens in typical experiences or situations called “circumstances”.

When confronted by evil, THE WISEST AND MOST SECURE ADULT will usually experience CONFUSION. You can just imagine—if totally adult and often mature individuals, who are actually goodly in nature and expression, are confused—WHAT HAPPENS TO CHILDREN IN SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES.

If a child sees a parent (god, if you will, to a child) doing questionable things, i.e., taking that which is NOT HIS—what is the child to do? The child has usually been “told” to not lie, cheat, steal or do bad things (defined pretty much by societal limitations and PARENTAL lying). Ah, but the child is personal eyewitness to the total contradiction IN THE PARENT—who may actually cause the child to participate in the ACTUAL theft or unlawful activity and, at the very least, may be around as an observer. The child then must be submerged in CONFUSION and finds himself in a most remarkable choice in his own survival. He must “unconditionally accept” the adult actions or perish. He sees no in-between. This is WHY, in the games of “getcha”—as is happening on Adam Dr. in Tehachapi—the “evil” takers bring their children, who now MUST BELIEVE THE ACTIONS TO BE RIGHT OR, SURELY, MOM/DAD WOULDN’T BE INVOLVED. THIS IS MORE COMPOUNDING OF THE ACTUAL “EVIL”.

If the contradictions have been present before the child for a very long time and from a very early age, you will have children producing all manners of deficit disorders and actual misbehaviors—even directed most notably against the parent most resented. The child will actually “grow outside” that which is acceptable “right” behavior and become “criminally” oriented. The child KNOWS the actions are not “right” but no longer cares, for he has witnessed the total abandonment of consistent teachings/actions of his role models.

In a circumstance where the earliest teachings may well have been from responsible individuals, say, grandparents, there may be established a better sense of “right vs. wrong”, which will prevail for a while when tossed back into the arena with the evil “doers”. Eventually, the child will do that which is presented or exemplified (sometimes by force of circumstances, or force in its physical-abuse mode) by the “caretakers”. In either circumstance, however, the growing child lives within the lie and becomes, AT BEST, confused.

The adult or older youth will perhaps be incarcerated for unlawful behavior when CAUGHT and CONVICTED, at which point the child is less confused—but more drastically injured in “spirit”.

Rick emotes through “THE WATCHERS” that a child (like Gail’s) would be disastrously injured to be returned to grandparents (or taken from the mother’s control). No, this is NOT correct in assumption or actual FACT. Why? Because the PARENTS, now accepted as PARENTS (CAREGIVERS), ARE PRESENTING AND ACTUALLY PERPETRATING UNLAWFUL AND IMMORAL ACTS, AND THEN LYING ABOUT IT. The child is brought to the crime scenes and witnesses the LIES before its own senses and—although there may not be physical SIGNS of damage—the confusion is devastating. Worse, the child KNOWS that what is taking place—even if not aware of all the ramifications—is wrong and yet must participate. He/she can’t just “run away” and, wanting to please the caretakers, WILL PARTICIPATE, and thus becomes ONE IN THE LIE.

Can you “give TREATMENT” to such people? Well, not unless the people in point WANT treatment, as they recognize they have “a problem”. Most evildoers will go to the very mat to escape recognizing their evilness. Further, they will pull every ready, willing and able (RWA) person right to the mat or pit with them—especially including the child, who KNOWS and, by its mere presence, there is an awful reflection upon evil actions.

Then, to achieve any value, if “treatment” is forthcoming, as with an addict, there must be recognition of the problem and a “need” for change. A person, in other words, MUST WANT TO CHANGE AND SEEK CHANGE.

THERE ARE AN ENORMOUS NUMBER OF PEOPLE IN THE WORLD WITH VERY SERIOUS AND IDENTIFIABLE PSYCHIATRIC PROBLEMS WHO, IN A PSYCHIATRISTS’ EYES, ARE DESPERATELY IN NEED OF TREATMENT BUT WHO fail to recognize THIS NEED. THEREFORE, THEY DO NOT GET TREATMENT, EVEN WHEN IT IS FREELY OFFERED. NOT ALL SUCH PEOPLE ARE, THEMSELVES, EVIL. In fact, the vast majority are not intentionally or deliberately “evil”, or, do not recognize their own attributes or errors in judgments or value assessments. But it is into this category of persons most intensely resistant to psychiatric treatment that the thoroughly evil fall.

I use the recognition of “psychiatrists” because, and only because, these are the persons by which “treatment” itself is usually measured. Most psychiatrists are far more evil and far sicker than any “patient” who comes for treatment. But we have no other reference suitable and, therefore, must qualify it but use it.

I can example this very statement: It is a sad state of affairs, but the fact of the matter is that the healthiest people—the most honest, whose patterns of thinking are least distorted—ARE THE VERY ONES EASIEST TO TREAT WITH PSYCHOTHERAPY AND MOST LIKELY TO HAVE BENEFIT. Conversely, the sicker the patients—the more dishonest in their behavior and distorted in their thinking—the less able is anyone to help them with any degree of success. When they are VERY DISTORTED AND DISHONEST, IT BECOMES ALL BUT IMPOSSIBLE.

A reason this is so, is that you must have a “patient” WILLING to see and recognize a problem, locate and isolate the CAUSE, and be willing to CHANGE. Even if, however, all of these categories are met, these individuals will cling TO THE LIE and will, therefore, remain willing participants OF THE LIE—to protect selves from recognition, being found-out or identified relative to the evil, itself; and even if in a state of hypnosis, where the facts are laid bare, they will continue to cover through lies, fabrications or excuses and bring the focus right back with them to consciousness and activity.

Any person not ONE WITH THE LIE—who is long exposed to the activities and lies of the experiencing “evil” personality—will most often come to a point of REVULSION in the presence or in the thinking of such “evil” persons and personalities. Once experiencing “A” lie from the person, there is an instinctive response or reaction to believe nothing further offered by the lying individual. Such individuals of long-entrenched lying, cheating and thieving learn very early on to keep the individual encounters quite “confidential”, until they elicit what they can, and then literally turn on the confidant, while placing BLAME onto the very one he just betrayed confidence. THIS IS A MAJOR SIGN OF EVIL. Then comes a subtle but growing activity presented in ever-increasing volume of input—to DIVIDE AND CONQUER.

People of this LIE (evil), are quite often able to identify other evil persons and will gravitate to them like a magnet, likewise sucking them unto their own evil intentions. There is often “revulsion” of one evil person for another but, to keep “covered”, the revulsion is suppressed but will eventually present itself in violence and a total betrayal of “the other”. This is called “blame-placing”, but it actually is the sickest and most qualified act of “scapegoating”. The more evil of a pair, say, will dominate, eventually, the weaker of the pair. Any observer may well miss the nuances, but there is a seething, boiling cauldron within “both”.

EVIL IS A REAL STATE-OF-BEING, AND REVULSION IS A MOST CREDIBLE REACTION TO EVIL BY OTHERS EXPERIENCING ONGOING INTERCHANGE WITH SUCH INDIVIDUALS. The physical signs of this revulsion range from a nagging sense of intuition that “something is amiss”, to actual illness when exposed to such individuals.

These evil individuals NEVER cease their prattling, gossiping and fabricating to pit one individual against others. Partnerships with these evil individuals never LAST because eventually they are caught in their own traps. After being caught and having no way of escape, they will find a way to hide, run, disappear, change their names and identities and use their beguiling ways to tempt you to think them to be but cute children—and DEMAND forgiveness (not to be forgiven but to be able to continue in their course of direction).

When you encounter these kinds of people—RUN THE OTHER WAY AS QUICKLY AND RAPIDLY AS YOU CAN. THIS IS WHAT IS MEANT BY “PUT EVIL BEHIND YOU” AND “TURN FROM EVIL”, AS WELL AS “RECOGNIZE AND CONFRONT EVIL”. Playing the game WITH the evil-pretenders will dump you into a terrible loss, both property-wise, as in the “physical” manifestation AND, ABOVE AND BEYOND ALL, SPIRITUALLY.

Revulsion within is a very healthy emotional response, when carefully considered. Revulsion is a powerful emotion that causes you to immediately want to avoid—to escape from—the revolting presence. That is exactly the most appropriate thing for a healthy person to do under ordinary circumstances when confronted with an evil presence: get away from it. Evil IS revolting because it is DANGEROUS. It will contaminate or otherwise destroy a person who remains too long in its presence. Unless you know very well what you are doing, the best thing you can do when faced with evil is to run the other way. The revulsion counter-transference is an instinctive or, if you will, GOD-GIVEN, and saving, early-warning radar system.

The more prominent reaction first shows itself as CONFUSION. It can begin as a most subtle discomfort. It creeps up, causing a confusion of feelings regarding the personality presenting. It is defined as “I felt uncomfortable with that person...”, or “That person confused me as to his/her intentions...I couldn’t ‘figure him/her out’...”.

The most remarkable reaction of “targets” of these evil persons as they encounter the devious entities—usually in a pious, confidential, all-knowing, lying manner; mouthing love and light but exuding total hate in a pious, sickeningly-sweet double-speak—is: “It was as if I’d suddenly lost my ability to think.”

This is a totally appropriate reaction. Lies DO confuse. The evil ones are “the people of the lie”, deceiving others as they also build layer upon layer of SELF-deception. Anyone experiencing this interchange MUST STOP AND CONSIDER: “COULD THIS PERSON BE DOING SOMETHING DELIBERATELY TO CONFUSE ME?” Check out the possibilities as you consider the presentation being made. Who is served by the confusion, what is the desired outcome for the one doing the confusing, lying and thieving? If there is any question of actual “illegal and unlawful” activities involved, or the accusations of same by anyone observing, CHECK VERY, VERY CAREFULLY, FOR THAT PARTY FABRICATING, ASKING YOUR HELP IN HIS CAUSE, IS OF ILL-INTENT—EVERY TIME—NOT SOMETIMES, EVERY TIME! The only viable question might remotely be: What is that ill intent and why? Check out WHO is the recipient of the arrows and slings and what that other party has to GAIN, even if sheltering cover-up for prior indiscretions is the only intent at the moment. BUT, evil breeds evil and feeds upon itself as it collects others into its clutches—also, EVERY TIME—until exposed.

But what of “LOVE”? What of it? There is NO LOVE involved here—only LIES. The admonishment of the evil person to send “love and light” unto his self-proclaimed “enemy” is SICK. It is total and pure hatred—and calling it “love” is sick. What might well be stated silently is: “I totally loathe and hate you, and I am going to TOTALLY LOVE cutting you down to my size of

The natural and most intelligent thing is to steer absolutely clear of this viper’s den and fangs. However, you are people of the human species and to totally avoid evil is impossible, for it is a very present danger and reality.

By the way, you don’t need to stoop to consigning any evil person to hell with their cohorts—they are already “IN IT”.

Remember this: God does not punish you; you punish yourselves. Those who are in hell are there BY THEIR OWN CHOICE. Indeed, they could walk right out of it if they so chose, except that their values are such as to make the path out of hell appear overwhelmingly dangerous, frighteningly painful and impossibly difficult. So they remain in hell because it seems safe and easy to them. They prefer it that way.

WHAT IS IN A NAME?

To “name” something correctly gives you a certain amount of power OVER IT. Just knowing what to call, name and express as recognition—of any intent or action—gives a certain amount of power over the entire circumstance presented by same. People of evil are destructive to all they touch and are actually dangerous to those over whom they can wield a measure of CONTROL. Now, by knowing what to call this “demon”, you can have a healthy respect for that force but, being afraid of it (recognizing its danger), you are no longer helpless in its presence and/or presentations.

I know that you who serve God in Lighted intentions, thoughts and actions wish to believe that there could be no allowance of “evil” within circles of experiencing goodly people. THINK AGAIN. IF SOMEONE IS OUT TO CHANGE A WORLD INTO GOODNESS, BALANCE, HARMONY AND THAT WHICH UNSEATS EVIL AT THE ROOT, WHERE WOULD YOU EXPECT TO FIND THE MOST EVIL PRACTITIONERS? And yes, indeed, there is always a PRICE to be paid for the encounters.

These destroyers work WITHIN, for they are PARASITES. They will feed off all who allow their blood-sucking/life-taking mischief, deliberately undertaken. And, further, they will take until they are STOPPED, usually only AFTER they have done great damage and taken great sums from your assets. Then they will try to run out on you by whatever method they find viable, so that you can’t “get them” for their dastardly deeds. Some, however, who are equally evil, simply are so malignantly narcissistic and self-centered as to fail to recognize that they are idiots, also caught in the evil trappings. The CRIMES are the same. They break the LAW, as in criminal activities, while somehow establishing to themselves that they had a good, valid, viable reason for doing so.

With Ekkers’ circumstance, THEY UNCOVERED THE LIE and their price to be extorted was LOSS OF EVERYTHING—EVEN AT THE DEMISE OF THE DEMONIC, EVIL INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES. THEY MADE A PLAY TO DESTROY OUR PROGRAM AND THE PEOPLE IN IT—AND THEY WOULD NOT “HAVE” BUT THEY COULD ALWAYS SAY THAT THEY WERE RIGHT, ETC., ETC. WELL, IT DIDN’T WORK. The actions and misadventures brought a lot of hurt, pain, loss and displacement of property and “feelings” but, in actual achievement of potential PLANS and teaching of the REALITY OF TRUTH, the evil perpetrators manufactured and presented a most remarkable experience in WHICH TO LEARN.

Those wishing to make retribution and corrections—as presented as viable exchange—will not long suffer actual material “loss”. However, there is no way to establish equitable justice to the Ekkers in the property circumstance—NO WAY. The “experience” has been too painful to again realize open trust and confidence. It is, once burned—learn; twice burned, get the heck out of the fire.

If you simply want to consider “things”, fine. THINGS can be replaced and—with love and full intentions of rectifying the hurt and pain—relationships can be rebuilt, somewhat. However, there will never be the open trust and interchange as was original in the relationships. This does not mean that there will be no, nor can’t be any, relationship which is most tender and comfortable. However, nothing of “emotional” impact or “living” loss can be recreated as it “was”. It can even be “better”, perhaps, as to material “value”, but you cannot replace LIFE, itself.

Those committing the crimes themselves must be confronted within and by THE LAW OF THE LAND. Crime is crime is crime and no amount of LYING about it makes it otherwise. Other damages might well be calculated, but a criminal ACT is exactly that, a criminal act, and SHOULD NOT BE LEFT TO THE DAMAGED INDIVIDUAL TO FURTHER CONFRONT AFTER GAINING RESTITUTION, RESTORATION AND COMPENSATION.

RETRIBUTION is a mandatory action of decisions by and through THE LEGAL SYSTEM (JURISDICTION).

In this instance of Ekkers, for instance, there has even been a claim brought forth, as threat and fact, of a Federal Indictment against Ekkers, on charges fraudulently presented to the Feds. Is this not UNLAWFUL as well as FRAUDULENTLY IMMORAL?

These are the things which must be confronted, readers. These judgments of criminal actions SHOULD NOT be dumped on the “victims” of the crimes perpetrated and, in this instance, perpetuated over years of deliberate theft, lying and cheating.

Ekkers can ONLY make evaluations regarding “civil” settlements; they MUST NOT take the law into their own hands to “settle” criminal acts. All who aided and abetted as accessory to these crimes of theft, cheating, breaking, entering and assaulting through conspiracy should answer for their own participation.

In the matter of the property (house) in dispute, it actually SHOULD be Millers who bring the most charges against these perpetrators, for they were DELIBERATELY DECEIVED AND SET FORTH TO LOSE SUBSTANTIAL PROPERTY OR BE INVOLVED IN MISCONDUCT AND UNLAWFUL ACTIONS, THEMSELVES. However, these were the choices made, whether or not seemingly appropriate for the moment, or inappropriate, as it later turns out to be.

You who follow the lie, or accept the lie, ARE DESTINED TO LIVE THE LIE AND WITHIN THE LIE—INCLUDING ANY UNTOWARD CIRCUMSTANCES COMING FORTH FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION AND FACTUAL FURTHERANCE OF THE LIE—BLIND OR OTHERWISE. ALL INVOLVED PARTIES—RIGHT DOWN TO THE CHILDREN—KNEW THAT SOMETHING WAS TERRIBLY WRONG, OR THE POLICE WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN PRESENT OVER AND OVER AGAIN.

IS THE ARMED GUARD PRESENT AND HIRED BY MILLERS TO PROTECT PROPERTY FROM THE RIGHTFUL OWNERS OR FROM THE

PERPETRATORS OF THE ACTUAL “THEFT OF PROPERTY” by these mischievous little snatchers? Some of the thieved items add up to a whopping amount, into the HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS. THIS IS FELONY THEFT!

There is a strange thing, however, at work here. There is additional PROPERTY dumped “outside” and touted to be property that the owners can now come and get? NO, THIS WILL NOT HAPPEN, FOR THE VERY REASON MILLERS HAVE ALREADY GIVEN. ONCE YOU GO CLAIM ANY OF IT, YOU HAVE BECOME SUSPECT OF TAKING THAT WHICH WAS ALREADY THIEVED. IT HAS NOW RAINED ON SOME OF THOSE THINGS—WHICH WERE DOCUMENTS AND PICTURES, ETC.—WHICH HAS TOTALLY DESTROYED THE PROPERTY. PART OF THE “PILE” IS A RETURNED HEAP OF WIRE, STAIRS AND PARTS OF THE AVIARIES—AFTER THEY HAD BEEN TORN DOWN AND ACTUALLY “TAKEN AWAY”. How do you measure value? Well, the birds now gone are well into the range of loss of over $30,000, so how do you appraise the aviaries?

And WHO started all this activity? Right, Rick Martin-Cortright, Gail Irwin and Ed Young, aided and abetted by a CONFUSED Charles Neil. Others REMAIN confused but moved right along in their “confusion” with the criminals and, therefore, SHALL BE TREATED AS FULL PARTICIPANTS FOR A COURT TO DECIDE ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY—WISHFULLY.

Never mind what you think about the religious or spiritual attitudes of ANOTHER. The law is the same for the Baptist as it is for the Methodist. CRIMES must be confronted in a court of law. Settlements can only be made in matters of equity as to errors actuated.

Ah, but the “knowing” observers can easily see and state that the perpetrators of these damages and crimes have NO ASSETS, except what they have already thieved, and so—. Indeed, that is why it becomes a CRIMINAL matter, for there is no way to make restitution by any of them except Millers. Interesting? NO, heartbreaking. Oh, some who simply participated could make some measure of restitution by bringing items BACK, repairing damages, cleaning and restoration, etc. But basically, there is little to be offered IN FACT.

Ekkers have stayed the course against all odds, in the business arena, and SHALL SUCCEED, so the funds for restoration are NOT much longer a problem—but until now, it has been an impossible consideration of recovery from a financial blow of this magnitude.

These are examples, readers, and when we have opportunity to continue, we will take up “EVIL AND SIN”. We can now identify evil, so “sin” needs some attention. Sin is a different creature, for all “err”, or miss the target as to goodness. If you are perfectly honest with self, you will know that you “sin”. If you do not—or refuse to—see it, you are NOT PERFECTLY HONEST WITH SELF, which is, in itself, a sin. Face it, people, all make errors (“sin”); it is inescapable.

I serve as a Cohan (Teacher/Professor) that you might better find your SPIRITUAL TRUTH AND PATHWAY. I OBSERVE WHAT IS.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN SIN AND EVIL

Hatonn—In drawing a distinction between evil—which we began to cover in the prior writing this morning—and ordinary sin, it has to be understood that it is not even the evil of the sins, per se, that characterizes evil people. So, what is it? Well, sins are errors and often, even intentionally, are a bad blunder. To look at this more closely in discernment and judgment as to actions: It is, rather, the subtlety and consistency of the “sins” that lead to identification of evil persons. This is because the central defect, if you will, of the evil is not “the sin” BUT THE REFUSAL TO ACKNOWLEDGE IT.

These ordinary sinners might well be your neighbors or be in your household and are surely scattered around everywhere you find people. They may be rich or poor, educated or not; there is very little that is dramatic about them, these “evil” people of whom I speak in relationship to “sin”.

Most often there are crimes involved, literally, with these evildoers, but they are orchestrated in such a way as to not make the perpetrator appear to be a “designated criminal”. The “crimes” are so subtle in most instances—and so covert—that they cannot be clearly designated as crimes, and the activities so covert and yet encompassing as to, they hope, leave more confusion and lack of ability to singularly identify the culprits. However, when stress is put upon these evil people, they begin to be less subtle and more involved, and the activities become more and more blatantly criminal. This usually includes making sure you can find a group, so that you can have “mass conditioning”, so that the crimes seem more innocent, and the intent is to say righteous things, while pretending that what they are actually DOING is not noted as criminal but, rather, as a “right”. Recently, we have seen this very thing in action, and the action will be labeled as everything from “I thought it was right...” to “It was given to me...”. When you stop to ask WHO GAVE IT TO YOU, you will find no answers forthcoming. It is as a group of corporations where nobody accepts responsibility—but ultimately there is fiduciary responsibility—if the criminals are allowed to continue without confrontation. Without mandatory cease-and-desist orders—there are no limits to crimes which will be committed by these evil individuals now having become a cult or groupie.

You find a lot of sinners and criminals within prison walls—but, by and large, most are NOT evil. They are destructive, and usually repetitively so, but there is a rather interesting behavior of randomness to their destructiveness. And yes, the usual response to authorities is one of denial, especially as to responsibility for their evil deeds. There is a rather openness to their wickedness. Wickedness is not necessarily evil.

These “wicked” “criminals” are usually “caught” precisely because they are not evil and are actually what you might call “honest criminals”.

People in incarceration can almost always be assigned a standard “diagnosis” of one kind or another. The diagnoses range all over the landscape and correspond to terms of actions as craziness, impulsiveness, aggressiveness or lack of conscience. You will find, though, that a truly evil person will have most of these attributes, the largest being IMMEDIATE lack of conscience and major impulsiveness.

The TRULY EVIL, you will find, almost always reside OUTSIDE the jail and, if caught and incarcerated, they will scapegoat, blame everything and anything, weep, excuse and generally start immediately to find a way to again cover their actions any way they can. When we get too critically detailed, we will find that all people who commit evil deeds are not “evil”, but foolish in their own assumptions and impulses.

So, we need to broadly define “sin”: It is most clearly recognized as “missing the mark”. Sin is nothing more or less than a failure to continually be perfect. Therefore, because it is humanly impossible for perfection in all things at all times, you ARE a “sinner”. All routinely fail to do the very best of which you are capable, and with each failure you commit a crime of sorts—against God, the neighbors, yourselves and, frankly, often against the law.

Of course, there are crimes of greater or lesser magnitude. It is a mistake, however, to think of sin or evil as a matter of degree. It may well seem far less odious to cheat the rich than the poor, but it is still cheating. There are, of course, differences before the law between defrauding a business, claiming a false deduction on your taxes, using a crib sheet in an examination, telling your spouse you have to work late when you are being unfaithful, or telling your spouse that you didn’t have time to do something because of some fabricated excuse.

The FACT remains that they are all lies and betrayals. Worse even than these things are the LIES YOU TELL YOURSELF. If you are less than you could be—it is SELF-betrayal.

So, if evil people cannot be defined by the illegality of their deeds or the magnitude of their sins, then how are you to define them? Every time, the answer is the same after a sequence of flow: by the CONSISTENCY of their sins. While usually subtle, THEIR DESTRUCTIVENESS IS REMARKABLY CONSISTENT. This is because those who have “crossed over the line” are characterized by their ABSOLUTE REFUSAL to tolerate the sense of their own sinfulness. Sometimes, people, a good, healthy GUILT attitude can SAVE you from becoming evil. I suggest you all experience a good heavy and healthy dose of GUILT WHEN YOU DO SOMETHING SHAMEFUL.

SINS ARE THAT WHICH COMMAND FORGIVENESS—EVIL DEMANDS CONFRONTATION. AND YES, THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE.

It is here where you must begin to carefully look at actions to discern and then judge evil and sin. The one most telling sign of an evil individual is always a rooted, deeply-rooted, selfishness and greediness.

When you have evilness, you will find it will come most easily and consistently from one setting self up as somehow “spiritually chosen” as some sort of an example. This will be false for, in private activities, there will be total disregard or twisting of spiritual TRUTH. The evil in this world is committed most obviously by the spiritual “fat cats”, by the Pharisees of our own day, the self-righteous, who think they are without sin because they are unwilling to suffer the discomfort of significant self-examination.

The evil do not serenely bear the trial of being displeasing to themselves. In fact, they don’t bear it at all. These evil people will pronounce hellfire-and-brimstone upon those they have chosen to destroy but will never accept even the most tiny probability or possibility of “looking at self”. The guilty/evil refuse to tolerate the sense of their own sinfulness; the evil become uncorrectable grab-bags of sin.

PRIDE VS. SHAME

We can talk here about pride. The instant, opposite of pride is most often thought of as “humble” or “humility”. NO, not so; the opposite of PRIDE is SHAME. But the most important consequential sin, at its greatest—IS BASIC LAZINESS. EVIL PEOPLE ARE GREEDY AND THEY ARE “CHEAP”—SO CHEAP THAT THEIR VERY “GIFTS” MAY BE ACTUALLY MURDEROUS IN UNDERCOVER INTENT.

Whichever is the more basic structure, laziness or pride, the facts are that all sins betray—and isolate from—both the Divine and fellow creatures. Dear ones: Any sin can harden into hell. So, now comes some recognition of “hell”.

Hell is essentially a state of being which you fashion for yourselves; a state of final separateness from God which is the result, not of God’s repudiation of man, but of man’s repudiation of God; a repudiation which is eternal, precisely because it has become, in itself, immovable.

There are good analogies in human experience: the hate which is so blind, so dark, that LOVE only makes it the more violent; the pride which is so stony that humility only makes it more scornful; the inertia—last but not least, the inertia—which has so taken possession of the personality that no crisis, no appeal, no inducement whatsoever can stir it into activity but, to the contrary, makes it bury itself all the more deeply in its immobility. So, with the soul and God: Pride can become hardened into hell; hatred can become hardened into hell; any of the seven forms of wrongdoing can harden into hell; and not least, sloth, which is boredom with Divine things, the inertia that cannot be troubled to repent, even though it sees the abyss into which the soul is falling, because for so long, in little ways, perhaps, it has accustomed itself to refuse whatever might cost it an effort. This is, however, the very attitude of frustration, even in the boredom and laziness which causes people to do incredibly stupid and childish immature things.

SCAPEGOATING

Blaming others is typical and is a predominant characteristic of those who qualify as evil. This is because in their hearts they consider themselves above reproach and thus must lash out at anyone who does reproach them. They sacrifice others to preserve their self-image of perfection. And look around to see when YOU last supported this very behavior as if it were somehow truth!

Scapegoating works through a mechanism called projection. Since the evil, deep down, feel themselves to be faultless, it is inevitable that when they are in conflict with the world, they will invariably perceive the conflict as the world’s fault. Since they must deny their own badness, they must perceive others as bad. They PROJECT their own evil onto the world. They never think of themselves as evil; on the other hand, they consequently see much evil in others. Let us example here as considering Dr. Young—who is both brilliant and talented—but can in NO WISE take an iota of criticism or confrontation. The only remaining choice in this type of person’s reality is to destroy and scapegoat his perceived antagonist. So you see, evil is projected in many ways, according to the individual weakness and egotistical make-up of the individual.

Evil is most often committed in ORDER TO SCAPEGOAT, and the people we can label as evil are, indeed, chronic scapegoaters. So, we can also define evil “as the exercise of political power, that is, the imposition of one’s will upon others by overt or covert coercion—in order to avoid spiritual growth”.

In others words, listen up: The evil attack and try to destroy others instead of facing their own failures. Spiritual growth requires the acknowledgment of one’s NEED TO GROW. If you cannot make that acknowledgment, you have no option except to attempt to eradicate the evidence of your imperfection. In order to ensure no notice of his own failures, Dr. Young pronounced that he had become “one on an etheric level” with the Master Teachers and was assigned to actually EDIT any information which might be forthcoming through anyone, according to his own preferential perceptions.

This is certainly different from Rick’s need to destroy—but both are effective, as scapegoating moves into top-gear. Along the way, both will create total distractions but will be so stubbornly defiant as to do silly and stupid things, in order to hold to the first lie presented. Then, in order to further cover the “sins” of their evil intent, they will actually take unto themselves the very entities PROVEN TO HAVE CEASED TO WORK WITH THEM. It is truly overwhelming in watching these people in their functioning, for it is quite obvious that not only do these people refuse to witness these sinful parts of themselves but they do not, in fact, “hate” these evil qualities. These people predominantly excel in one quality: THEY WILL INVARIABLY SACRIFICE OTHERS RATHER THAN ALLOW RECOGNITION OF THEMSELVES.

Is this failure of self-hatred, this failure to be displeasing to oneself—which appears to be the central sin at the root of scapegoating behavior of those recognized as evil—a “cause” that brings forth the “effect”? Surely, it might be a part of the problem, but it seems that “conscience” is lacking and becomes less and less prominent as their evil actions increase in magnitude and/or frequency. Once they make a pronouncement, they will not withdraw even the most absurd attitudes or statements.

These evildoers project total guiltlessness. They go forth and commit crimes and may very well often do so with a silly kind of reckless abandon. There is often seemingly little pattern to their evil, except to make themselves somehow “look good” while putting down another—but this, too, is only when the other parties under attack cannot defend selves or are absent from the scene to challenge the lies. There is one common thread among the evil. They are utterly dedicated to preserving their self-image of perfection and false picture of pious innocence, no matter how silly they appear. These people only stop in their laziness in an effort to maintain the appearance of moral purity. They worry about this a great deal. They are acutely sensitive to social norms and what others might think of them. Therefore, the terms “image”, “appearance” and “outwardly” are crucial to understanding the morality of the evil. While they seem to lack any motivation TO BE GOOD—they intensely desire to APPEAR GOOD. Their “goodness” is all on a level of pretense. It is, in effect, a lie, and this is why they truly ARE the “people of the lie”.

Here is an interesting note, however, that the lies, themselves, of the evil are not so much to deceive others (although that is a major issue) but, rather, TO DECEIVE THEMSELVES. They cannot or will not tolerate the pain of self-reproach. The decorum with which they lead their lives is maintained in a mirror in which they can see themselves reflected righteously. Yet, the self-deceit would be unnecessary if the evil had no sense of right and wrong. The lies come only when there is an attempting to cover something known to be illicit. Some rudiment of conscience must, therefore, precede the act of lying. There is no need to hide unless there is first a feeling that something needs to be hidden.

This brings us to a paradox, for evil people feel themselves to be perfect. At the same time, however, they have an unacknowledged sense of their own evil nature. Indeed, it is this very sense from which they are frantically trying to flee. The essential component of evil is not the absence of a sense of sin or imperfection but the unwillingness to tolerate that sense. At one-and-the-same time, the evil are aware of their evil and desperately are trying to avoid the awareness. Rather than blissfully lacking a sense of morality, like the psychopath, they are continually engaged in sweeping the evidence of their evil under the rug of their own consciousness.

The problem becomes a denial of the conscience its due, not an actual absence of all conscience. People become evil by attempting to hide from themselves. The wickedness of the evil is not committed directly but usually quite indirectly, as a part of this cover-up process. Evil originates not in the absence of guilt but in the effort to escape it.

It often happens, then, that the evil may be recognized by its very disguise. The lie can be perceived before the misdeed it is designed to hide—the cover-up before the fact. You will see the smile that hides the hatred, the smooth and oily manner that masks the fury, the velvet glove that covers the fist. Because they are such experts at disguise, it is seldom possible to pinpoint the maliciousness of the evil. The disguise is usually impenetrable. But what can be caught are glimpses of the uncanny game of hide-and-seek in the obscurity of the soul, in which it, the single human soul, evades itself, avoids itself, hides from itself.

Laziness, or the desire to escape any type of legitimate suffering, lies at the root of all mental illness—and this must include avoidance and evasion of pain. What distinguishes the evil, however, from the rest of the mentally-ill sinners is the specific type of pain from which they are running. They are not actually “pain avoiders” or “lazy people” in general. To the contrary, they are often likely to exert themselves more than most in their CONTINUING EFFORT TO OBTAIN AND MAINTAIN AN IMAGE OF RESPECTABILITY. They may be quite willing or even eager to undergo great hardship in their search for status or to accomplish their desired destructive deeds. The result of considering this evil, then, is to realize that there is actually ONLY ONE particular kind of pain they cannot tolerate: the pain of their own conscience, the pain of the realization of their own sinfulness and imperfection.

Since they will do almost anything to avoid the particular pain that comes from self-examination, under ordinary circumstances the evil are the last people who would ever seek help. They can’t bear to be “seen” within. The evil HATE THE LIGHT. The light of goodness that shows them up, the light of scrutiny that exposes them, the light of truth that penetrates their deception is totally beyond acceptability. It becomes necessary here to now consider what is the source of “evil” of this nature as considered in the evil. We come to the realization that it is total self-absorption and, therefore, right back around to the realization that it is, after all, MALIGNANT narcissism. And how would it be “characterized”? By an “unsubmitted will”.

BACK TO GOD

All adults who are mentally healthy submit themselves in one way or another to something higher than themselves, be it God, truth, love or some other IDEAL. They do what God wants them to do, rather than go helter-skelter about anything they might desire. In submitting to God, it is expressed as “thy will, not mine, be done”. They believe in truth, rather than what they would like to be true. They are, then, always searching for truth and reality as expressed through “goodness”, justice, etc. So it is noted, with the evil, to greater or lesser degree, all mentally-balanced individuals submit themselves to the demands of THEIR OWN CONSCIENCE. NOT so the evil; in the conflict between their guilt and their will, it is the guilt that must go and the will that must win.

It is impossible to fail to observe the extraordinary willfulness of evil people. They are individuals of obviously strong will, determined to have THEIR OWN WAY. They have total disrespect for everything—from appearing on time to pre-determined meetings, to demanding their own work habits of preference—no matter how many others may have terrible inconvenience. There is a remarkable power in the manner in which they attempt to control others and will not ever allow themselves to be caught in a circumstance where others would simply confront them openly. And, should anyone err in confronting them, there is hell to pay throughout the duration of any interchange possibilities.

So, what is the cause of this overwhelming pride, this arrogant self-image of perfection, this particularly malignant type of narcissism? Why does it afflict a few, when most seem to escape its clutches? Perhaps that is unknown among men but is quite obvious among those of higher insight. It should be noted, however, that some very malignantly afflicted narcissists are NOT EVIL. However, there is a definite “next step beyond” this type of self-centeredness and movement into self-condoned evil and, yea, crime.

How do people get so self-centered? Easy, their little tricks are considered “cute” or coming from some kind of a “genius” (usually self-presented through all sorts of letters and degrees) but without any “typical” normalcy. So, when they set themselves up as the ultimate “dictator”, there is total requirement of their status acceptance. When these behaviors are not only allowed and condoned but actually reinforced, you have ultimate chaos if the will is bucked in any manner whatsoever.

Can people so afflicted with this problem ever become “different”? Not usually, because they truly cannot see their own errors or omissions. There will always remain the facade of acceptability, some sharing but always with reward of self uppermost in mind. In other words, if an evil person gives a performance, say vocal or instrumental—he may well be serving you a gift of his talent—but he does it to bring accolades unto himself. It sort of fits the saying of “beware Greeks bearing gifts”.

There is no way that you can conclude this topic without looking at the notion of “will”. But you need not pick “one” cause, for there are many which move in a larger manner to present as evil. Evil, then, all things considered—and whether or not admitted consciously—IS A CHOICE. Further, if you team-up evil beings with other evil individuals, you will find a consortium, a cartel, if you will, of deadly vipers at work. They are INNER shape-shifters.

The ultimate “bottom line” is recognition of the problem and the people bearing the lie. They will be the best pretenders of all actors. They will deceive with the cunning of the serpent poised over the gopher hole and strike from the blind side, in the back, preferably, for they are cowards of the highest order. They are thieves of life.

You ask how you can determine evil beings? Easy: WATCH WHAT THEY DO! ACTIONS SPEAK VOLUMES MORE THAN ANY NUMBER OF WORDS COULD EVER EXPRESS. IF ONE LIE IS TOLD AND NOTED OR ONE CRIME COMMITTED—WATCH CAREFULLY, AND TRUTH WILL SHOW ITSELF AS THE LIGHT IS CAST UPON THE EVIL.

Salu and good evening.

The Immaculate Deception

The Bush Crime Family Exposed

Chapter Two

By Russell S. Bowen

The title of this article refers to a book by the same name. With permission from the author's agent, we are pleased to present this book in this chapter-by-chapter series.

CHAPTER 2

AND OF THE SON

From this elite Eastern Establishment of politicians, businessmen and financiers exerting their influence in America's foreign and domestic policies, sprang George Bush.

By every standard of measure, he represents, reflects and nurtures the elitism of his forefathers and their cronies. Yet, his 30-year career has been a dichotomy:

- scion of a wealthy WASP Establishment family with homes in Connecticut and Maine;
- self-made, rugged individualist, oilman, khaki shirt, sleeves rolled up;
- right-wing conservative politician holding firmly to the rigid principles of the Republican Party;
- modern, insightful centrist Republican, willing to open the party doors to all windows of thought.

Take your pick of the aforementioned, and you will not be wrong. George Bush, it seems, desperately seeks to be all things to all people.

As one of Florida's top Republican officials said: "George has no center. He stands for nothing. He is a political opportunist in the truest sense of the word."

What makes this strange political animal tick?

That may be impossible to answer. Certainly, his background was of elegance and comfort, thanks to the unscrupulous business tactics of his father.

When the rest of the country was plunged into the Great Depression—following the stock market crash of 1929—George Bush and his family flourished, thanks to the largesse of Averell Harriman, and the massive profits from Grandfather Walker's oil deals with the Soviets, and the financial arrangements between Brown Brothers Harriman and the Thyssen-Nazi cartel. The Bushes were cushioned from the suffering endured by the majority of Americans. The Hamburg-Amerika steamship line, whose workforce was controlled by the Nazi Labor Front, poured money into the Walker and Bush coffers.

The Bushes lived in a large, dark-shingled house with broad verandas on Grove Lane, in the Deer Park section of Greenwich, Conn.¹ They were attended by four servants—three maids and a chauffeur. The family spent its summers at the second home built by Grandfather Walker at Kennebunkport, Maine. Along with the colony's other well-to-do inhabitants, the Bush kids learned tennis and sailing at Kennebunkport River

Club.

George was named after his grandfather, George Herbert Walker, who was called "Pop" by George's mother. She gave George what became his lifelong nickname when she began calling him "little Pop", or "Poppy".

Poppy's mother and father raised him and his siblings, older brother Prescott, Jr., younger sister Nancy, and brothers Jonathan and William, to be mindful of their family's distinguished lineage and its growing importance in the world.²

As the world economic crisis deepened and other Americans were experiencing unprecedented hardship and fear, the Bush children were taught that those who suffered had no one to blame but themselves. Writer Joe Hyams glowingly recounted Bush's roots in 1991, based on material supplied by the White House: "Alec, the family chauffeur, drove the two boys to school every morning after dropping Prescott, Sr. at the railroad station for the morning commute to Manhattan. The Depression was nowhere in evidence as the boys glided in the family's black Oldsmobile past the stone fences, stables and swimming pools of one of the wealthiest communities in America."

Prescott Bush—who was heaping the family fortunes through sophisticated bond deals with John Foster Dulles for the Nazis—was, according to Hyams, "a thrifty man who daily impressed on his children the value of a dollar and encouraged frugality and saving. He had no sympathy for the nouveau riche who flaunted their wealth; they were without class, he said. As a sage and strictly honest businessman, he had often turned failing companies around, making them profitable again, and he had scorn for people who went bankrupt because they mismanaged their money."

George Bush left his day school in Greenwich at age 12 to join his older brother at Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts, 20 miles north of Boston. "Andover" was one of the most exclusive of the New England preparatory or "prep" schools, whose students were almost without exception wealthy, Episcopalian White boys. As Bush's own staff conceded in a 1980 campaign biography, "At the close of the 1930s...these schools...brought the famous 'old-boy networks' to the peak of their power."³

Bush's own military career in World War II was relatively uneventful but offered unlimited opportunities for image promoters. On his 18th birthday, Bush enlisted in the Naval Reserve. After flight training at Corpus Christi, Texas, the 20-year-old Navy pilot was assigned to the Third and Fifth Fleets in the Pacific.

While serving on the light aircraft carrier, USS San Jacinto, the TMB-3E Avenger torpedo bomber flown by Bush was shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

Bush bailed out, leaving the other crew members to fend for themselves, even though the Avenger was built to sustain ocean-crash landings. He was picked up four hours later by the U.S. submarine Finback. He describes in his autobiography, "Later, I learned that neither Jack Delaney nor Ted White had survived. One went down with the plane; the other was seen jumping, but his parachute failed to open."⁴

The decorated Bush was discharged in 1945 with the rank of Lieutenant (Q.g.). This portrayal has been pushed scores of times into the media under various excuses to pump up the "Bush the War hero" image. On September 3, 1984, for example, this relatively minor episode in the Pacific was converted into an anniversary at Norfolk Naval Base. Bush was photographed waving from a vintage Avenger and took the opportunity to make an "I was there" speech.

In the speech, Bush reminded his naval audience: "I think all of us who have seen combat know how important that technological edge is. When you have to go up there alongside the enemy and alone against the enemy, you don't want someone to be cutting corners on the equipment."

Ann Lewis, political director of the Democratic National Committee, criticized the Norfolk Naval Base episode: "I think events like this—for the purpose of a national campaign—trivialize the very values that they claim to defend. That a politician would order a special Navy anniversary—organized to trumpet his own brief military endeavors—is trivial and hypocritical, indeed."⁵

After leaving the Navy in 1946, Bush contracted what has been called a "corporate merger" type of marriage, popular in the 1940s and 1950s, when powerful groups intermarried for power more than any other reason. George Bush married Barbara Pierce, Smith College-educated daughter of publisher Marvin Pierce of McCalls Magazine.

It was Barbara Pierce's brother, Scott Pierce, President of E.F. Hutton, who was in the center of the E.F. Hutton check-kiting scandals that cost American investors millions of dollars over an extended period in the 1980s. In May 1985, Scott Pierce pled guilty to mail-fraud charges.

According to syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, Scott Pierce, through other E.F. Hutton associates, asked Vice President Bush to intervene. Given the extraordinarily light nature of the sentences—there were 2,000 counts of mail fraud and no one went to prison—it seems certain that someone in power successfully intervened. However, crucial documentation of the Vice President lunching with his brother-in-law and discussing the case is not available.

Like his father before him, George Bush's biography pays scant attention to his 1948 membership in Skull & Bones, a society so secret that virtually nothing is known about it or its membership.

One researcher has spent several years in an unsuccessful attempt to have Bush admit this membership and present an open book to the electorate about his oath of allegiance to this secret society.

Club 1948 contains George Herbert Walker Bush, who, with 14 fellow brothers, chose the Club of 1949. The Club of 1949 includes Reverend William Sloane Coffin, Jr., the anti-war cleric with a decidedly offbeat revolutionary fervor based at the old-time Riverside Church, New York. Sometimes it appears that everything stemming from Marxist revolution in the U.S. also stems from Riverside Church. In the same cell as revolutionary Coffin, is C.E. Lord (generations of Lord families have always had representatives in Skull & Bones)—this Lord was Comptroller of the Currency; P.W. Lufkin of the firm Donaldson, Lufkin and Jenrette and V. Van Dine, who was a long-term CIA operative, as was William Sloane Coffin. All, however, are sworn by common oath not to divulge their activities.

After leaving the U.S. Navy, Bush started his business career in Texas oil as a salesman for Neil Mallon of Dresser Industries of Dallas, Texas, the oil supply company with links to the Soviet Union that his father had previously managed.

Bush began employment in Odessa, Texas with one of Dresser's subsidiaries, IDECO (short for International Derrick and Equipment Company). In his autobiography, Bush described his advent in the Texas oilfields this way: "Heading into Texas in my Studebaker, all I knew about the state's landscape was what I'd seen from the cockpit of a Vultee [?] Vibrator during my training days in the Navy."⁶

Fitzhugh Green, in his book, George Bush: An Intimate Portrait, published after Bush became president, described the Studebaker trip: "He [Bush] gassed up his 1948 Studebaker, arranged for his wife and son to follow and headed for Odessa, Texas."

A 1983 Texas Monthly magazine article written by Harry Hurt III carried this description: "When George Herbert Walker Bush drove his battered red Studebaker into Odessa in the summer of 1948, the town's population, though constantly increasing with newly-arrived oil hands, was still under 30,000." Several other versions of the Studebaker story have been reprinted in other biographies of Bush and his wife, Barbara.

The only problem with this story is that Bush did not arrive in Odessa, Texas in a red Studebaker. Texas oilman and Bush campaign contributor Oscar Wyatt of Houston, attempted to correct the story in a letter to the Texas Monthly, in which he specified that "when people speak of Mr. Bush's humble beginnings in the oil industry, it should be noted that he rode down to Texas on Dresser's private aircraft. He was accompanied by his father who, at the time, was one of the directors of Dresser Industries....I hate it when people make statements about Mr. Bush's humble beginnings in the oil industry. It just didn't happen that way."

After less than a year in Odessa, Dresser Industries transferred Bush to California, where he worked as a salesman selling IDECO drilling bits. Bush then teamed with John Overby, an independent operator, in his own oil-and-gas lease business as President of Bush-Overby Development Company, based in Midland, Texas, incorporated in Delaware in 1953 and merged with Walker-Bush Corporation in 1955. One of his key investors was Eugene Meyer, owner of the Washington Post, who held a number of accounts with Brown Brothers Harriman.

The Bush family's mingling of business, politics and intelligence re-started in 1953, when Bush co-founded his own oil company, Zapata Petroleum Corp. of Houston, Texas, in partnership with Hugh and Bill Liedtke. Bush described the merger thusly:

"The following year it would spin off into Zapata

Off-Shore and, in time, under Hugh Liedtke's imaginative management, merge into Pennzoil. Zapata: there was a winning chemistry about the company. We could sense it."⁷

Zapata Off-Shore Company, founded with Bush as President and Liedtke as Treasurer, became a highly successful operator in offshore drilling for oil. Typically, Zapata had the advantages of Bush investment-banking connections and family wealth. Starting in 1953 from an initial investment of $500,000 each, from Bush-Overby and the Liedtke brothers, according to Bush, Zapata's 1985 Annual Report listed revenues of well over one-quarter billion dollars from a fleet of offshore drilling rigs.

This relatively unknown company today employs 7,300 people; not bad for a 30-year-old company built from an idea. However, Zapata owes its success to an ability to negotiate contracts with large international oil companies, in competition with 140 other offshore drilling companies. Zapata has taken advantage of government financing programs and especially U.S. government-guaranteed ship-financing securities at 8 ¾ percent, subsidized by the U.S. taxpayer.

Bush served as president of Zapata Oil from 1954 to 1964 and then as Chairman of the Board of Zapata Off-Shore from 1964 to 1966. In brief, Bush's money came from Texas oil.

In this, he was always associated with Hugh Liedtke, who came to prominence when Bush was Republican National Chairman in 1973, and it was revealed that the Texas campaign fund of Bush's former partner, Liedtke, had been used to partly finance the Watergate break-in.

In 1977, Bush and Liedtke went to China; Bush in an official capacity. Knowing this, the Chinese made their confidential oil surveys available to Liedtke's oil company, the only one to receive these surveys. This gesture was presumably because of Bush's position.

More recently, Pennzoil, a Liedtke company, received the largest damages award in American history. Texaco was charged with interfering with a merger deal made by Pennzoil and Getty.

For this, the judge awarded a phenomenal $12 billion in damages, a sum that, if paid, could have broken Texaco. No one has investigated possible Bush influence on the subsequent appeal, which was settled at $4 billion.

While Bush was Vice President, his son, George, Jr., became President of Zapata Off-Shore. This helps explain why the Vice President flew to the Middle East in early 1986 to persuade the Arab countries to raise the price of oil, which had, to the delight of the average citizen, fallen below a dollar a gallon [for gasoline].

Bush used the argument to the Arabs that U.S. security depended on a rise in the price of crude oil, then $12 a barrel on the spot market. With operating costs at $2 a barrel, the Arabs were making $8 to $10 a barrel, but this was not enough for the Vice President and his Texas oil friends. This Middle-East Bush visit triggered consternation in the White House. Here was the Vice President of an administration devoted to free markets, encouraging use of underhanded practices to raise the price of crude.

The Reagan Administration hastened to put some distance between itself and a Vice President who, apparently, only got tough when crude-oil prices started to fall to the advantage of the American consumer.

Said another official: "Look, the policy is and remains free market; that's the core of the policy...the reason there's no oil-import fee is because the decisive vote against it was cast by Ronald Reagan." There were even concerns that, in helping raise oil prices, Bush was "digging himself a political hole" for 1988.

This prompted Bush to claim: "I'm in a listening mode when it comes to the intentions of these major producing countries. And again, the interest in the United States is bound to be cheap energy, if we possibly can. But from our interest, there is some point where the national-security interests of the United States say, 'Hey, we must have a strong, viable, domestic industry.'"⁸

This is surely political double-talk. When we needed the help of the Saudi Arabians in 1987 during the Iraqi raid on the U.S.S. Stark, they refused to aid us. Furthermore, it was Dresser Industries, founded with friends of the Bush family, that provided the majority of assistance in expanding Soviet crude-oil production to compete with U.S. and Arab crude. The only time one finds tough behavior on the part of George Bush is when oil interests and family business interests are at stake.

Crude oil prices promptly rose $2 a barrel after Bush's visit to the Middle East. This action on behalf of big oil, accounts for the increased oil-company contributions to the Bush Political Action Committee (PAC), Fund for America's Future. Probably one-third of the contributions came from Midland, Dallas and Houston—Texas.

Also curious is Bush's relationship with another former oilman, Jorge Diaz Serrano. In 1960, Bush went into a joint venture with Diaz Serrano in a Mexican drilling company called Permargo. Bush's 50-percent interest was hidden, because his ownership violated Mexican law.

Permargo had lucrative contracts with Pemex, the giant state-oil-monopoly of Mexico.

Diaz Serrano went on to head Pemex from 1975 to 1980. After reports of Pemex being looted of billions during his reign, Diaz Serrano—who was reported to have lent Pemex as a cover for CIA covert operations in Mexico—was convicted in 1983 of defrauding the government. Bush's former partner spent five years in prison.

When Barron's financial magazine looked into what it called Bush's "shadowy Mexican operation", investigative reporter Jonathan Kwitny found that the Zapata records of Bush's relationship with Diaz Serrano, 1960-66, had been "inadvertently destroyed" by the SEC after Bush became Vice President in 1981.

This is another example of Bush's success, traced to family connections combined with government financing and intervention, rather than American free enterprise. It is, however, in the political field that the real, elitist, favored-son George Bush shines.

George Bush has had a remarkable political career. Bush apparently tackles a political objective, falls flat on his face, and then is eased by his elitist friends into a more coveted position by political appointment, such as his directorship of the CIA.

Bush's autobiography skips the early 1960s, except when he makes his official entry into public life as Chair of the Harris County, Texas, Republican Party in 1963 and as a Texas delegate to the 1964 Republican National Convention.

He ran unsuccessfully for the Senate in 1964 against the "liberal" Democratic incumbent, Ralph Yarborough. In his first major political outing, Bush wore the mantle of a Goldwater Republican, campaigning against the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, Medicare, allowing Red China into the United Nations and the Civil Rights Act. Beating off conservative primary candidates, Bush grabbed the Republican nomination, only to lose to Yarborough by 300,000 votes. Nevertheless, Bush attracted 43 percent of the vote, a good showing in a state where Democrats far outnumbered Republicans.

Bush "quit" the oil business in 1966 and—with backing from family, friends and the establishment business community—was elected to Congress from a safe, affluent, Houston district. His voting record in Congress was mixed, certainly not straight Goldwaterite.

From that point, Bush adopted what has become known as the Eastern-Establishment position; a weak, unprincipled mishmash of policies that has brought no-win wars and economic chaos to the United States.

As a freshman Congressman with elitist backing, Bush immediately was given a coveted seat on the House Ways and Means Committee. It was reported on Sept. 28, 1986 in Washington Post Magazine that Bush got this seat through pressure from Chairman Democrat Wilbur Mills and then Leader of the House, Republican Jerry Ford. According to a 1980 Rolling Stone article, Mills took a liking to Bush, nicknaming him "Rubbers" for his support of family planning.

A public appearance of conservatism can be traced throughout the Bush political career, but that is inconsistent with his voting records and political actions. By 1970, Bush had a record that a conservative Democratic businessman, Lloyd Bentsen, could misrepresent as "liberal". The two faced off in a Senate contest in Texas, after Bentsen defeated the liberal Yarborough in a vicious primary.

Bush was encouraged to enter the race by President Nixon, who had targeted Southern liberals, including Yarborough, for defeat.

Under a cloak of Goldwater conservatism, Bush actually held left-liberal political opinions, supporting gun control, for example, while opposing repeal of the Federal Income Tax and further military involvement in Vietnam.

Expecting to face Yarborough in the general election, Bush was unprepared for Bentsen, who castigated him for his support of gun control and a guaranteed annual income for the poor. Bush, the eager-beaver, had waited only two terms in the House before running again for the Senate in 1970, only to lose and throw away the opportunities brought by family and business contacts.

Once again, privilege came to George's assistance. To throw away a safe congressional seat on a gamble for the Senate would seem to demonstrate a severe lack of judgment, yet it was rewarded by the Establishment with a coveted appointment. In February 1971, Bush became Ambassador to the United Nations. There, he took up an old cause: keeping China out of that body. While Bush argued for China's exclusion, Henry Kissinger conducted secret negotiations with Beijing to revive U.S.-Sino relations.

In January 1973, Bush's political career was boosted once again. Nixon appointed him Chairman of the Republican National Committee, where he campaigned for a quick end to the Senate Watergate hearings and loyally defended his patron.

Instead of choosing a seasoned strategist, Nixon picked a two-time Senate loser who needed influence to make his way in Congress—a loser who was deeply suspect by constitutionalists within the Republican Party.

After eighteen months at the National Committee, Bush again ached for change and, without leaving any memorial at the RNC, was appointed envoy to the People's Republic of China to replace an ailing David Bruce.

This came about because of the Nixon-Kissinger change of face, i.e. to treat Communist China as an ally, rather than a threat to the United States. However, as more than one commentator has observed, principle is not a George Bush hallmark. His approach has been called "guiltless pragmatism"; in other words, a shifting of position irrespective of principle.

A year later, Ford called him home to head the Central Intelligence Agency. Bush's appointment as the Agency's director in 1975 was widely criticized because, as Bush writes, "Bill Colby, a professional in the intelligence field, was being replaced by a nonprofessional outsider and a politician to boot."

Senator Frank Church commented: "It appears as though the White House may be using this important post merely as a grooming room before he is brought on stage next year as a vice-presidential running mate." Speaking against the appointment, Church said he knew of "no particular reason why [Bush] is qualified" for the job.

Since it is very likely that Church did not know of Bush's earlier connections to the CIA, his reaction was understandable. But Bush needed a position. So, once again, "guiltless pragmatism" won over principles.

GENE RESEARCH MOVES TOWARD SECRECY

By D. Nelson and R. Weiss, Washington Post, 11/3/99

Scientists and drug companies have failed to notify the National Institutes of Health about six deaths that occurred in gene-therapy experiments in the past 19 months, keeping details of the deaths from becoming public, according to interviews with researchers and federal officials.

The deaths are the first in gene therapy to come to light that were purposely withheld from the NIH, one of two federal agencies charged with overseeing the safety of the controversial field of medical research, which seeks to cure diseases by giving patients new genes.

The lack of disclosure provides new evidence of a shift toward secrecy in gene therapy, traditionally one of the more open fields of medical research, and reflects escalating efforts by gene-therapy companies to weaken federal reporting regulations.

Confirmation of the six deaths follows revelations last week of a death and two serious illnesses in gene-therapy patients that were reported to the NIH with the unprecedented insistence that they be kept confidential, in defiance of a long-standing agency policy of public disclosure.

The six deaths occurred in heart studies headed by two leading gene researchers—Ronald Crystal of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center in Manhattan and Jeffrey Isner of Tufts University in Boston. The two are racing to be the first to grow new blood vessels around blocked ones, as an alternative to bypass surgery.

Crystal and Isner said that, unlike the widely reported death of a teenage patient at the University of Pennsylvania in September, they believe that the fatalities in their studies were not directly caused by the gene therapy but by complications stemming from the patients' underlying illnesses.

Because they decided the deaths weren't caused by gene therapy, they argued, federal regulations don't require them to notify the NIH—a new interpretation of those regulations that stands in sharp contrast to the one held by NIH officials and a decade of practice.

The researchers said they reported the deaths to the Food and Drug Administration, which keeps such information secret.

But NIH officials in the federal office that oversees gene therapy are adamant that even deaths not initially believed to have been caused by the therapy must be reported to the NIH and made public, because often it is not clear until later whether the therapy actually caused the deaths.

"It may take five, six, seven patients ill, or 20 patients, before you find out, 'Hey, this is also happening in other people's trials,'" said Amy Patterson, who heads the NIH Office of Recombinant DNA Activities (ORDA), which oversees gene-therapy studies. "And if you don't know what's going on in other people's trials, then you can't put two and two together."

The FDA can suspend a study if it determines that the therapy being tested is dangerous, but the agency only makes such information public if the therapy eventually is approved or with the permission of the study's sponsor.

Most of the new deaths are coming to light only because federal officials put out a plea for gene researchers across the country to report any undisclosed deaths or illnesses, after the death of the teenager at the University of Pennsylvania. His death is thought to be the first directly caused by gene therapy, and NIH officials are looking for indications of similar problems in other studies that may not have been attributed to the treatments themselves.

Carol Goodrich, a spokeswoman for Parke-Davis, which is sponsoring Crystal's study, said the company had forwarded details of the deaths to ORDA on Oct. 20. She said the deaths had previously been reported to the FDA, but she refused to say whether that agency had agreed with the company's determination that the deaths were not caused by the therapy. The FDA has not decided whether to fulfill a Washington Post request to release information about deaths and illnesses in gene-therapy trials.

Federal regulations have long held genetic treatments to a higher level of public scrutiny than conventional new therapies because of public discomfort with the idea of manipulating people's genetic makeup.

For example, federal regulations require researchers to report the deaths and serious illnesses of patients enrolled in gene-therapy experiments not only to the FDA, but also to the NIH for public review by a special advisory board.

But as the field has become increasingly dominated by private industry, drug companies and scientists with a financial stake in their research are challenging the historically broad interpretation of that rule. They are filing reports with demands for confidentiality or maintaining that they don't have to file them with the NIH at all.

Isner and Crystal helped found competing gene-therapy companies—Vascular Genetics of Durham, N.C., and GenVec of Rockville, respectively.

Asked why he hadn't reported his deaths [sic] to the NIH, Isner said yesterday that it was an oversight and, in any case, it was not clear that he had to.

Crystal said Parke-Davis has assumed responsibility for reporting deaths to the appropriate agencies. However, he added that, while he supported the reporting of deaths and illnesses to the NIH, he did not consider it a legal requirement. He also said he believed that the NIH should keep some reports confidential, particularly to protect patient privacy...

...Crystal was the first to request confidentiality from the NIH for a patient-death report, in May 1998, just two weeks after GenVec announced its initial public offering of stock. NIH staff said yesterday that, at the time, Crystal cited concerns about the impact on his business, if the death[s] were made public...

...The issue of confidentiality requests surfaced at the September meeting of the Recombinant DNA Advisory Committee (RAC), the NIH group that reviews gene-therapy experiments and collects reports of serious side-effects and deaths.

In addition to Crystal, RAC members learned, Schering-Plough had demanded confidentiality for three recently filed reports of serious patient illness during gene-therapy trials. The lead scientists in two of those studies determined that the complications "probably" were caused by the gene therapy; Schering-Plough officials had downgraded those assessments, saying they were "possibly related" to the therapy.

In the third case, the researchers and the company agreed that the complications "possibly" were related to the therapy.

This week, Schering-Plough, of Madison, N.J., issued a statement defending its recent requests that the NIH keep the illnesses of three patients confidential...

[JR: Ever wonder how many "uninformed volunteers" have died from experimental drugs? Does the National Institute of Health really expect these research conglomerates to volunteer reports of deaths when there are millions of dollars at stake? Deaths will always be blamed on the patients' pre-existing conditions.]

COOK ACCUSED OF MISLEADING PUBLIC ON KOSOVO MASSACRES

Nicholas Rufford, London Sunday Times, 10/31/99

Robin Cook, the Foreign Secretary, is under pressure to answer claims that ministers misled the public over the scale of deaths among civilians in Kosovo to justify the NATO bombing of Belgrade.

The all-party Balkans Committee of MPs will ask the Foreign Office this week to comment on reports that the number of bodies of victims of Serbian ethnic cleansing is lower than the figures of dead issued during the conflict.

At the height of the war, Western officials spoke of a death toll as high as 100,000. President Bill Clinton said the NATO campaign had prevented "deliberate, systematic efforts at ethnic cleansing and genocide". Geoff Hoon, then a Foreign Office minister and now the Defence Secretary, later scaled down the estimates. "It appears that about 10,000 people have been killed in more than 100 massacres," he said.

The most outspoken challenge to these figures has come from Emilio Perez Pujol, a pathologist who led the Spanish team looking for bodies in the aftermath of the fighting. He said: "I calculate that the final figure of dead in Kosovo will be 2,500 at the most. This includes lots of strange deaths that can't be blamed on anyone in particular."

Perez Pujol said the numbers of dead were far lower than the 44,000 he had been warned of, and few were in mass graves. He said his team had arrived in Kosovo expecting to perform 2,000 post-mortem examinations and to work to the end of November. "On September 12, I called my people together and said: 'We have finished here.' I informed my government and told them of the real situation. We had found a total of 187 bodies. Four or five had died from natural causes."

United Nations officials have begun taking stock of the death toll this weekend after the exhumation of corpses stopped for the winter. The UN is expected to report next month that the total number of victims so far uncovered is fewer than 2,000. Many were executed, but some died during fighting and others died in allied bombing.

There is still no clear picture, however. Some of the forensic teams sent by 15 different countries say they have discovered fewer bodies than they anticipated...

...The U.S. State Department said this weekend that about 1,400 bodies have been recovered from about 20% of suspected massacre sites...The International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia reported earlier this month that the notorious Trepca mines in Kosovo, where 700 ethnic Albanian bodies were reportedly hidden, contained none.

The largest number of bodies has been recovered by British teams of police officers, pathologists and forensic scientists in the area where the worst mass killings reportedly occurred. They found 505 bodies, some in mass graves and many of them women and children.

Detective Chief Superintendent John Bunn, who led the British investigation group, said his teams had completed work at most of the sites around Prizren and Velakusa, where some of the worst atrocities were said to have occurred. He said he had found graves containing as many as 77 bodies together of people executed at close range.

Alice Mahon, the Labour MP who chairs the Balkans Committee, said yesterday that the deaths were tragic but did not justify the military action taken by NATO. "When you consider that 1,500 civilians or more were killed during NATO bombing, you have to ask whether the intervention was justified," she said.

[JR: Our leaders will never give us an honest reason or any accurate facts for starting an aggressive action. Propaganda, cyber attack, economic and military war constitute the "new diplomacy".]

AMERICAN JEWRY'S ALPHABET SOUP BECOMES THE CHICKEN SOUP OF THE UJC

By Yair Sheleg, Ha'aretz, 11/10/99

Next week's General Assembly, the traditional nationwide gathering of American Jewry's activists, promises to be historic. For the first time, the activists will gather under a single umbrella organization, unifying all of the nearly 200 Jewish communities across America, through the merger of the UJA, the CJF and the UIA. And, in the American tradition, that new organization will also have its own acronym—the UJC, for United Jewish Communities.

The merger of the United Jewish Appeal, the United Israel Appeal, and the Council of Jewish Federations into one organization headed by Charles Bronfman has been in the works since the beginning of this year. The UJA and UIA raise money, while the CJF has been the umbrella group for Jewish communities in the United States.

This is much more than a bureaucratic upheaval. It is the culmination of a process that has been affecting the Jewish communities—and their relationship with the State of Israel—since the early 1990s.

There are some 200 local Jewish federations in the United States, with the top 19—ranging from New York and Boston to Los Angeles and San Francisco to Chicago and Miami—historically raising hundreds of millions of dollars every year through various appeals for Jewish causes. Historically, most of that money went to Israel, as decided by the national leaderships.

Over the years, that strained relationships between local federations and the national leadership over a number of issues. For one, the local communities had little say over where the money went. Secondly, the numerous fund-raising efforts meant inefficiency, not only in the collection of money but also in its expenditure. The demand for unification of the three organizations began to be heard in the late 1980s, and in 1991 a common Israeli office, called the UIO (United Israel Office) was opened for the three main groups. But only this year did the three become one.

While UIO is a nationwide organization, it has great advantages for dealing with the local Jewish communities, because its leadership is elected by the federations' leadership. That means more grass-roots influence over the national organization.

The demand for that influence picked up momentum in the early 1990s, when American Jewry woke up to discover that intermarriage was at 52 percent and climbing.

The shock waves that spread throughout the community created a demand for more money to be spent at home, on Jewish education, instead of being sent to an Israel that, with an emerging high-tech economy and relative prosperity, no longer appeared to need emergency relief funds.

Thus, U.S. Jewry's funding for Israel has dropped from heights of close to a billion dollars a year to $200 million last year. The rest of the money gets disbursed as $70 million to the Joint Distribution Committee, the worldwide Jewish welfare association, [with] $10 million for absorbing Russian immigrants into the United States. The rest, nearly $100 million, goes back to the local federations.

While plenty of that is used to pay for fund-raising activities, much of it is also used for educational and welfare efforts at the local level.

Of course, the Jewish Agency is worried by the reorganization, with senior officials worried that, as Jewish communities look inward, they will have less interest in Israel. But next week's GA may have a solution to that problem.

If all goes according to schedule, Prime Minister Ehud Barak will announce that the long-dormant Birthright Plan, originally proposed by Charles Bronfman and some of his multimillionaire friends to send thousands of Jewish teenagers a year to Israel, has finally found financing. The original plan was for the millionaires, the Jewish Agency and the State of Israel to pay for the half-billion dollar program.

The Jewish Agency, however, refused to commit the funding.

Barak wants to be able to announce that the state will pay a third, the millionaires a third, and that the Jewish Agency and the UJC—convening, as such, for the first time next week—will split the final third of the cost.

If that happens, Birthright has a chance of getting off the drawing board, offering hope that as world Jewry's teens visit Israel over the coming years, for many of them it will be the beginning of a life-long relationship with the Jewish state.

[JR: They have all the bases covered here, as to a unified plan for consolidation of influence headed by the powerful Bronfman. The "Birthright" Plan of sending teens to Israel assures future leadership and solidarity. I couldn't help but notice the obvious absence of the ADL in this list—WHY?]

HATE CRIMES: THE "TOLERANT" INQUISITION

By Michael Savage, NEWSMAX, 11/9/99

I recently wrote about hate crimes. There is no greater danger to our future than hate-crime legislation. Just to prove to you what we're in for, if we continue in this direction, let's look at South Africa. They've overtaken us in hate-crime and other so-called civil-rights legislation and carried it to lunatic extremes. As you will see, if we don't put a stop to it, the same will happen here.

First, they started with special laws against homophobic and racially-motivated crimes—as we have in the United States. But they've now expanded it to offensive language and have established "Equality Courts" to prosecute this new crime. In these courts, anyone can bring an action against you, and you're guilty until proven innocent. If you can't prove your innocence, you have to pay and maybe do jail time. Were not talking, here, about the use of lewd and abusive language. The offense can be almost anything anyone dislikes about what you say.

For example, in South Africa it is now a bad thing, a hate crime, to say that someone is "obese". It's also a crime to say such felonious things as someone is "elderly", "married", "youthful", "disabled", "aged", "gay" and much more. We can be thankful that they've limited their list to several dozen "offensive" words and haven't yet included the whole dictionary. Otherwise, South Africa would have to become a nation of mutes.

But what if you're a newscaster and you mention that an "elderly" person fell from his wheelchair or that a robbery was committed by a "youthful" perpetrator? If you do, you've committed a crime and will be fined or sent to jail. Admittedly, when you're old you dislike being elderly and when you're young you resent being youthful. And when you're married, maybe you don't like that, either, so if anyone happens to mention it—have him arrested.

You have to give them credit for being thorough in South Africa. What you say is motivated by what you think, isn't it? So, they'll now police your thoughts and intentions, as well. Those dark, subliminal motives lurking behind what you say are now under official scrutiny. Not only that, but your facial expressions and body language, too.

Let's say you're talking to a fat, excuse me, obese, that is to say, well-rounded person. But you have a facial tick, and your eye twitches while you're talking; that can be taken as a smirk or sneer, and it's off to the Equality Court. But will they have enough jails in South Africa to hold all the violators? I know if I lived in South Africa, I would already be in one of them—many times over.

Is this really what the self-deluded liberals want for us—the Boxers, Feinsteins and the likes of Hateful Hillary, who promote hate-crime legislation? Do you want to live in a country where you can't speak—even think—freely, like in South Africa? Even the guru, pony-tailed, college professors, the retired flower children of Berkeley—do they want that in America? Have they and the other liberals lost their minds? If left to their own lunacy, the liberals and the radical "gays" will turn America into a nightmare nation.

As Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes expressed it fifty years ago: "If there is any principle of the Constitution that more imperatively calls for attachment than any other, it is the principle of free thought—not free thought for those who agree with us but freedom for the thought we hate."

[JR: Many might think this could only occur in some dictator-run Third World "Banana Republic". Those of us who are informed know it is now the politically-correct idea to perpetuate this in our new "Democracy" (mob-rule) by legislative Attorney$, right here in the U.S. They dupe the public into believing that these non-positive, so-called, ANTI-HATE laws, are for our own protection when, in fact, they are only designed for a "controlled society".]

PRIVACY, STATES' RIGHTS CLASH IN HIGH COURT

By J. Crawford Greenburg, Chicago Tribune, 11/11/99

WASHINGTON—In a case that puts federal efforts to protect privacy on a collision course with states' rights, U.S. Supreme Court justices grappled Wednesday with whether [or not] Congress went too far when it restricted states from selling personal information on drivers' licenses.

Congress passed the law in 1994, after hearing complaints about stalkers and assailants using state motor vehicle records to track down victims. At the time, most states sold the personal information contained in motor vehicle records and got significant income. New York, for example, made $17 million one year on the sales.

“We live in an age in which databases of personal information are widely used in the national economy,” Solicitor General Seth Waxman told the court. “Yet, dissemination threatens personal privacy and, sometimes, safety.”

Waxman said that because disclosing the information presents such a risk, Congress is entitled to regulate its discharge, just as it could restrict the discharge of pollutants.

But several justices took issue with that as they engaged in a lively and, at times, heated debate over the relationship between the federal government and the states. That is a theme the court has grown passionate about in recent years, and the justices have scaled back Congress’ power to impose burdens on states.

In 1997, for example, the court struck down the part of the Brady Gun Law that required local law-enforcement officials to conduct background checks on gun buyers. The court said Congress couldn’t press state officials into service to enforce the federal law.

Justice Anthony Kennedy, who wrote eloquently about other federalism issues in a case last term, suggested he had similar concerns with the Driver’s Privacy Protection Act. He also suggested the federal interest is “unneeded and intrusive”, because state voters could pressure their legislators to stop the practice.

But other justices appeared more skeptical that Congress had gone too far in passing the law. They had pointed questions for Charles Condon, South Carolina’s Attorney General, who appealed to the justices to “continue to breathe new life” into legal doctrines limiting congressional authority over the states.

Condon called state officials “puppets of the federal government” and said the state was simply saying, “Let South Carolina be run by South Carolinians”. He noted that South Carolina has since passed its own laws limiting the practice.

But Justices Stephen Breyer and David Souter expressed concern that a ruling for Condon would call into question a host of other federal laws and regulatory programs, including environmental laws and wage laws.

Even conservatives who have supported states’ rights in recent terms took issue with Condon’s position. Justice Antonin Scalia, for example, suggested he didn’t accept Condon’s legal argument that South Carolina officials were being pressed into service by Congress.

“All they’re saying is, ‘Don’t give out information’—What’s the big burden?” he asked. “All you have to do is sit on your hands and not give out any private information. What’s the big deal?”

Scalia suggested that the law may be improper, but for different reasons. He said the law may interfere with traditional state-government functions, such as keeping records.

Justice Sandra Day O’Connor asked whether the court should revive a 1976 case that invalidated legislation extending minimum-wage provisions to states. In that case, the court said Congress couldn’t force its will on states in matters involving “integral governmental functions”. The court overruled that decision in 1985 and said the labor laws applied to state and local governments.

Condon said the court didn’t need to revive the 1976 case to rule in his favor. But Waxman argued that the case wouldn’t help South Carolina’s cause, anyway.

Several justices expressed concern that the debate is, as O’Connor said, a “little academic”, because of a new law that strengthens Congress’ authority to keep states from disclosing the information. The new law says Congress’ power to restrict the disclosure of information stems from its authority over spending. It applied the restrictions to any state that gets federal transportation money.

But Waxman said the case still raises pressing legal issues, and the justices didn’t dwell on the new law...

[JR: What a tangled web, this issue of states’ rights vs. federal mandates. The arguments are so selective. If we had adhered to our original Constitution, we would not have allowed our rights and sovereignty to become so obscure. We also would not have such confusion with the rule-of-law and the separation of powers and authority. The Supreme Court will rule in favor of the states and sanction these types of profitable state issues, because it covertly mirrors the federal agenda, and it’s the state not the federal government that is violating the privacy of its citizens. This then maintains the façade that states’ authorities are not being superseded by the federal government.]

NOAA: SUN POSES NEW Y2K CONCERNS

REUTERS, 11/10/99

WASHINGTON—Power outages, computer problems and communication failures may soon become more common, but in this case don’t blame the Y2K bug, blame the Sun.

The Sun will greet the new millennium by turning angry, erupting into the most active part of its 11-year cycle with outbursts of energy that can threaten satellites, electrical power and spacewalking astronauts.

Officials at the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration [NOAA] said today the approaching solar storm could be more destructive than [in] previous cycles because the Earth has more power grids and satellites that might be affected.

“There are bigger power grids drawing more power now, so the power companies are more vulnerable,” said D. James Baker, the NOAA administrator.

There are also 600 satellites, more than ever in history, that also might be affected, said Baker. This year, though, the power companies and satellite operators will be better prepared than ever, he said.

Warning Satellites on Watch

Two satellites, operated by NOAA, NASA and the Air Force, are positioned in orbit to warn about hazardous energy bursts from the Sun.

One satellite, orbiting a million miles from Earth, will detect a rise in charged solar particles and give an hour’s warning.

Baker said that will be enough time for power companies to protect their electrical grids.

Satellite operators can protect orbiting equipment by turning off circuits to prevent shorts, by closing solar panels or by turning away from the wave of energy. He said operators are also prepared for “ghost signals”, spurious electronic surges that may prompt the satellite to take an unexpected action.

Head Start for Astronauts

The hour’s warning also would allow spacewalking astronauts to seek the safety of the Shuttle or the space station.

Baker said that the NOAA also has created a new scale to precisely describe the intensity of solar storms. He said the new values “are the Richter scales of space weather”.

The scales will predict the intensity of three types of energy eruptions from the Sun: geomagnetic, radiation and radio storms.

From Mild to Wild

For geomagnetic storms, caused by ejections of charged masses from the corona of the Sun, there is a scale of G1 to G5. The strongest, G5, warns of electromagnetic energy powerful enough to knock out power grids, disable satellites and cause auroras, the so-called Northern Lights, to be visible as far south as the equator.

For radiation storms, caused by bursts of protons and neutrons, the scale is from S5, the strongest, to S1. An S5 storm would be powerful enough to kill spacewalking astronauts, disrupt communications, cause memory losses in satellites and even disrupt navigation signals.

For radio storms, caused by bursts of radio-frequency energy from the Sun, the scale is from R5, the strongest, to R1. An R5 storm could cause a blackout of high-frequency radio signals on the sunlit side of the Earth and disrupt low-frequency navigation signals for hours.

The Sun goes through an 11-year cycle, building up energy outbursts until it reaches what is called solar max. Baker said the solar activity is building now and should peak next year and then tail off.

During the last solar max, in 1989, a major geomagnetic storm sent a power surge through electrical lines—burning out switches and transformers—causing an extended blackout in Quebec. The same storm also knocked out some Defense Department satellites, said Baker.

Pager Outage Shows Effects

A solar storm last year was blamed for the loss of a communications satellite that put 40 million pagers and phones out of business, Baker said.

Two notable geomagnetic storms were:

*March 13, 1989: In just 90 seconds Hydro Quebec went from normal operation to a complete power failure, bringing a blackout to the Province of Quebec.

*May 20, 1998: Particles from the Sun reached the satellite Galaxy IV, permanently disabling it and disrupting cell phones and communications to ATMs and gasoline pumps across parts of the U.S.

Since the last solar max in 1989, most nations have increased their dependency on wireless and satellite services, making us even more vulnerable to the effects of a solar max.

During solar max, the surface of the Sun spews electrically-charged particles into space. Depending on the movement of the particles, they could head toward Earth, reaching the Earth’s ionosphere...Particles that hit the ionosphere, distorting and compressing it, can penetrate the Earth’s atmosphere and reach its surface. Such events are called geomagnetic storms.

[JR: How do we know what is a natural occurrence anymore, as opposed to another malfunction associated with a programmed, experimental research project? The outage of Hydro Quebec could have been the result of their secret electromagnetic and pulse-generation (Tesla) research (ref. CONTACT: Calvin Burgin’s Sept.-Oct. 1996 series, Fire From the Sky).]

CHINA DEPLOYS MOST “THREATENING” OFFENSIVE MISSILE

By Charles Smith, WorldNetDaily, 11/8/99

In an apparent disinformation campaign, China fooled the Clinton Administration into believing one of its nuclear missiles was a “failure”, when actually, in the words of one congressional defense analyst, “it is the most threatening missile deployed since the Cold War”.

In 1992, Hua Di, a former Chinese missile scientist who defected to the U.S., told the U.S. government the new "DONG FENG" (East Wind) DF-25—a mobile, two-stage missile capable of hurling a conventional, 4,000-pound warhead over 1,000 miles—was too expensive to be deployed.

Yet, in August 1999, Clinton officials were shocked by Chinese Communist press announcements declaring the DF-25 to be fully operational and tipped with multiple nuclear warheads, states William Triplett, co-author of Red Dragon Rising....

...Communist "defector" Hua Di studied missiles in Russia and worked in China's missile program for 24 years. In 1989, Hua left China after the Tiananmen Square crackdown on student-democracy demonstrators, and went to work as a researcher at Stanford University's Center for International Security and Arms Control, with Dr. John Lewis and Dr. William Perry.

In 1992, Hua and Lewis published China's Ballistic Missile Program, in which Hua claimed a newly developed missile, the DF-25, was not a success.

"The Chinese fooled Clinton into believing it would not be deployed," said Triplett in an exclusive WorldNetDaily interview. "The DF-25 is called the 'Japan' missile. It can cover all of the Japanese islands, the Spratleys and the sea entry routes."

According to Triplett, the DF-25 "improved" version can drop its two-ton warhead within feet of its intended target.

Defense sources inside and outside of Capitol Hill confirmed Triplett's stunning news. One source went further and directly accused a major U.S. defense contractor of deliberately passing to China, sensitive missile technology that is now incorporated in the DF-25.

"This missile is purely offensive," stated Robert Fisher, a defense analyst for Rep. Chris Cox, R-Ca. "It is the most threatening missile deployed since the Cold War. It is intended to start a war..."

... "The DF-25 most likely uses both U.S. GPS (satellite navigation) and radar technology for its accuracy. However, it is powered by American-military/rocket-motor technology given to the Chinese Army by Lockheed Martin," stated Fisher.

"Chinese missiles are now more accurate, thanks to the transfer of Lockheed Martin solid-fuel technology," added Fisher.

Fisher also noted that missile documents written by Chinese defector Hua Di were "gospel" to Clinton Administration officials. "They frequently quote Hua's work," he stated firmly.

Fisher is not the first to accuse Lockheed of passing advanced technology to China during the Clinton Administration. According to Henry Sokolski, executive director of the Nonproliferation Policy Education Center, in 1995 Lockheed Martin "completed coupled load analysis on kick motors" for the Chinese AsiaSat satellite space-program.

In 1998, Sokolski wrote an analysis of U.S. missile technology sold to China, in which he said the Lockheed "kick motor's development could help China perfect a post-boost vehicle (PBV) to deliver warheads against nations armed with missile defenses".

Sokolski also accused Lockheed of transferring sensitive U.S. technology to China for Motorola's bankrupt Iridium satellite system. According to Sokolski, Lockheed "validated Chinese upper-stage-separation technology, vibrational and load coupling analysis, attitude control and payload mounting".

Furthermore, the so-called Chinese defector, who first drew attention to the DF-25, has also been involved in a previous transfer of advanced U.S. military technology to China. Clinton Defense Secretary Dr. William Perry worked closely with Hua, bringing the defector inside the highest levels of the Defense Dept.

However, according to Defense Dept. documents, Hua, Perry and Lewis shared much more than missile stories. In 1992, Chinese Commission of Science, Technology and Industry for National Defense (COSTIND) Lt. Gen. Huai Guomo contacted Hua inside America. Gen. Huai wanted to start a joint U.S.-China business venture called Galaxy New Technology.

According to Defense documents, in 1994, PLA Gen. "Madam" Nie Li, wife of COSTIND commander General Ding Henggao, served on the board of Galaxy New Technology along with Lewis. At the same time, according to Commerce Dept. documents, Lewis also met with Gen. Huai Guomo and Gen. Ding Henggao, serving as a civilian "consultant" to Perry, during a trip to Beijing.

Thus, Lewis appears to have been employed by both the U.S. military and the Chinese military at the same meeting.

Hua described himself as the "matchmaker" between COSTIND's Gen. Huai Guomo and Dr. Lewis during an interview for the Far Eastern Economic Review. Hua's close association with the Chinese Army unit COSTIND also drew the attention of the General Accounting Office (GAO).

In 1996, the GAO wrote a report on the sale of an advanced fiber-optic communications system to Galaxy New Technology. The GAO confirmed the fiber-optic system was actually sold directly to the Chinese Army. According to the Far Eastern Economic Review, Perry, the U.S. Defense Secretary, wrote a personal letter on behalf of Lewis, favoring the sale to China.

In late October 1998, the New York Times announced that Hua had returned to China. According to the Times, Hua had met with Chinese security officials in late 1997 and was assured that he would not be prosecuted. On Dec. 31, 1997, Hua returned to China and, on Jan. 6, 1998, was arrested and charged with passing state secrets to U.S. officials. Stanford officials and Lewis have written to the Chinese government appealing for Hua's release.

Yet, the advisor to the leading Republican candidate, questions whether Hua was, indeed, a defector. Condoleezza Rice, a foreign policy consultant to presidential-candidate George W. Bush, investigated allegations that Stanford University resources were used illegally by Hua Di and Dr. John Lewis. Rice noted there was evidence that Hua was an approved agent of the Chinese government....

... "If the PLA fooled Clinton and Gore on this one," said Triplett, "just how good are the rest of our missile estimates?"

[JR: Explain why this Administration, DoD, CIA, Commerce Dept., JCS, etc. continue to have blinders on with regard to China's procurement of U.S. missile technology. Are we such a superpower that no one would dare launch nuclear missiles at us? Superman's weakness was kryptonite—is ours both the Bear and the Dragon?]

ISRAEL TO SELL MILITARY EQUIPMENT TO CHINA, DESPITE U.S. OBJECTIONS

ABCNEWS, 11/11/99

WASHINGTON—Israel will sell an advanced radar system to China despite pressure from the Pentagon to ax the deal, Israeli officials said today.

President Clinton confirmed that U.S. officials had raised the issue out of concern that U.S. military technology might be involved in the transfer....

...Israeli officials said no U.S. technology was involved in the sale, and a Defense Ministry statement said there was "no connection between Israel and the United States on this issue".

"Israel strictly abided by its legal and contractual obligations to the United States and no one, not in the State Department, not in the Pentagon, has said otherwise," said Mark Regev, spokesman at the Israeli Embassy in Washington.

An "Active" Dialogue

Washington had appealed in a quiet, military-to-military pitch to Israel, asking it not to go through with the sale, an Israeli official told The Associated Press, speaking on condition of anonymity....

...The State Department acknowledged the Israeli sale did not violate any agreement with the United States. "There is no treaty prohibiting conventional arms transfers to China, and our laws don't prohibit transfers when they do not involve American technology," said spokesman James Rubin.

Nevertheless, U.S. officials had taken up the matter with Israeli officials. "It is true that Israeli arms transfers are an active subject of our dialogue with Israel," Rubin said.

Enhancing China's Might?

More than two weeks ago, China sent a Soviet-manufactured Ilyushin-50 airplane to Israel, where the PHALCON radar system was attached. The system, built by Israel Aircraft Industries' subsidiary Elta, was designed for the Israel Air Force using a U.S.-made Boeing 707 as a platform.

PHALCON, which stands for Phased-Array L-Band Conformal radar, is an advanced, airborne, early-warning system that will allow the aircraft to conduct long-range radar surveillance and coordinate forces during battle....

...The deal, estimated at $250 million in today's New York Times, has U.S. officials concerned about the military relationship between the two nations.

In the last five years, sales of Israeli military technology to China have dropped significantly, but the Pentagon is still concerned about enhancing China's military might, the officials said.

Israel is still considered [to be] China's second-largest supplier of military equipment.

China's use of military technology has been a sore spot with the United States, especially since the release of a report by a congressional panel concluding that the Chinese have been using U.S. military technology to build up their own arsenal and have even stolen nuclear weapons technology from a U.S. lab. China has denied the allegations....

... "I don't think what Israel does is significantly different than what other American allies, especially NATO allies, do," Regev said. "In Israel we have a very developed system of checks and controls where the overall national security interest is paramount."

China Connection

Israel, noted for its sophisticated technology [pirated primarily from the U.S.] and its constant updating of military equipment to defend against potential Arab foes, long has had a quiet military relationship with China and is a major arms merchant.

Chinese Defense Minister Chi Haotian visited Israel last month and discussed the possibility of Israel Aircraft Industries upgrading China's Mig-21 fighters, which form the backbone of the Chinese Air Force but are antiquated, the Israeli newspaper Ha'aretz said. The Soviet-built Mig-21 dates back to the 1960s.

Russia is China's No. 1 supplier of military equipment, but Israel has been providing electronic components for tanks, communications and optical equipment, aircraft and missiles, according to a report by Kenneth W. Allen and Eric A. McVadon of the Henry L. Stimson Center, a Washington think tank.

The United States ranks first in weapons sales around the world, with Britain in second place.

SOUTH AFRICAN DEBT—THE NEW BONDAGE

By J. Jeter, International Herald Tribune, 11/10/99

KNYSNA, South Africa (WPS)—Solomon Moos had never applied for a loan before, and he had no idea what to expect when he walked into Louhen's Quick Cash here. The sign on the wall that read "We Serve The Black Community" struck him as a bit patronizing, but he needed the money. So he bit his lip, walked up to the counter and asked to borrow $100.

The lender assured him that the loan would not be a problem, so long as he agreed to pay the 40 percent monthly interest and surrendered his automated-teller-machine card and personal code for collateral. Without reading any of the papers shoved toward him, Mr. Moos signed.

"When payday came, they put a hole in my checking account," Mr. Moos, 24, said recently, recalling the costly bargain he struck more than a year ago. "I had nothing left, so I had to go back to them and borrow again," he said. "This time they offered me more money, and when you haven't had much your whole life, it really makes your head swell when someone gives you money like that. The lenders think that a lot of us Blacks are dumb when it comes to business, and they take advantage of us."

Freed from nearly 50 years of oppression by a White-minority government, South Africa's Black majority is sinking in consumer debt. Wanting the good life that apartheid denied them, and able to establish credit for the first time, the 31 million Blacks are taking out more than 9 million loans each month. Since apartheid was abolished five years ago, loan shops offering quick cash at high interest rates have become the fastest-growing industry.

Blacks in South Africa have never owed so much. Household debt as a proportion of income exceeded 70 percent last year, an all-time high. White [Khazarian] money lenders who aggressively court Black customers have seemingly appeared out of nowhere to capitalize on the population's heightened expectations. Practically nonexistent six years ago, there are nearly 30,000 cash loan outlets in South Africa today, both mom-and-pop operations and publicly-owned national chains. Last year, the industry collected $1 billion in interest payments, virtually all of it from poor Blacks.

Nationwide, civil court cases involving debt have increased by about 20 percent every year since apartheid ended, while personal savings dropped last year to three-tenths of 1 percent of annual household income, an all-time low.

"They've all of a sudden got freedom," said Bart Ngxolwana, who started a debt counseling firm here in Knysna two years ago, "but no money, no education, nowhere to go. And so these opportunists prey on their ambitions and lure them into an arrangement that is every bit as inequitable as the one they just escaped."

During the apartheid era, South African Blacks were known as the "unbankables". Legally forbidden to own their homes, they rarely had the collateral to qualify for credit.

The revolutionaries-turned-rulers in the African National Congress [ANC] prohibited racial discrimination in lending and housing. Still, with few resources and no credit history, most Blacks failed to qualify for traditional loans. White [Khazarian] entrepreneurs took advantage of a law passed in the final days of apartheid that was intended to encourage the development of small business by deregulating the market for loans smaller than $1,000.

"They never dreamt that these loans would be used almost solely for consumption purposes," said Duncan Marsh, who works with a nonprofit organization, Black Sash, that helps provide debt relief to the poor here in the Eastern Cape region. "So there was no thought given to how to draft the law in a way that would protect consumers."

UNLIKE microlending programs in other developing countries like India, Bolivia and Indonesia that funnel money into agricultural projects and small businesses, only about 1 percent of South Africa's microfinance industry serves commerce. By contrast, a 1996 World Bank survey of 206 microlenders worldwide indicated that nearly 70 percent of loans were used for small business and agricultural development. South African microlenders charge 2,000 percent annual interest on average, compared with 44 percent worldwide.

Lenders in South Africa contend they provide a service that no one else is willing to provide, and they say their practices are necessary to turn a profit in a risky market. One lender, George Kolbe, said: "I've never held a gun to anyone's head and made them take out a loan. It's a free country now. If you want to make a loan, you can make a loan." Since 1995, he and his brother Johan have opened three of the 10 loan shops in Knysna, a seaside resort east of Cape Town. Thirty thousand of the 50,000 year-round residents are Black, mostly living in the shantytowns that circle Knysna's quaint center.

"Everyone here," Mr. Moos said, "has either borrowed money from a moneylender, or knows someone who has."

[JR: Where there is money to be had, anywhere in the world, these same "CARPETBAGGERS" for aeons have set up their unscrupulous MONEYLENDERS business. They are drawn like flies to a carcass. Many inner-city Blacks right here in the U.S. are targeted in the same way by local loan companies and often spend much of their lives just paying the interest.]

FBI DIRECTOR ADMITS RUSSIANS MAY HAVE SECRET WEAPONS IN U.S.

NEWSMAX, 11/8/99

FBI Director Louis Freeh admitted that Russia may yet have stored weapons—including nuclear suitcase bombs—at secret locations around the U.S.

The stunning revelations appeared in yesterday's editions of the New York Post. The paper quoted Congressman Curt Weldon (R-Pa.) as having had a conversation with Freeh in the past two weeks.

Weldon said that Freeh "acknowledged the possibility that hidden weapons caches exist in the United States..."

Weldon, a leading congressional expert on Russia and Chairman of the House Armed Services Subcommittee on Military Research and Development, said, "There is no doubt that the Soviets stored material in this country. The question is what and where."

Congressional scrutiny has focused on dozens of nuclear suitcase bombs that have disappeared from Russian's nuclear arsenal. According to Russian sources, including Russian General Alexander Lebed, Russia produced 132 nuclear suitcase bombs, each carrying 10 kilotons of explosive material. Only 48 remain in Russia's inventory; the rest have disappeared.

The FBI has taken a nonchalant approach to locating the secret caches.

Congressional sources indicate that the FBI scoured the area around Brainerd, Minn.—one area Russian agents were believed to have forward-deployed weapons in the event of a war.

But Weldon said the Clinton Administration is not interested in pressing the Yeltsin government for fear of destabilizing his shaky position vis-à-vis the country's military leadership.

Concerns about the secret stockpiles have been fueled in recent years by revelations made by Russian defectors.

One KGB defector, Vasili Mitrokhin, provided information to British intelligence that secret weapons stockpiles are scattered throughout the U.S., including upstate New York, California, Texas, Montana and Minnesota.

Mitrokhin has also stated that such stockpiles were also made throughout Europe. Some Russian weapons caches have been located in Belgium and Switzerland.

Colonel Stanislav Lunev, the highest-ranking military spy ever to defect from Russia, has testified that the Soviet military developed elaborate plans for the use of weapons during the outset of a war with the U.S.

Lunev said Russian military plans include the destruction of military bases, command and control centers, and the assassination of top U.S. leaders, including the president and members of Congress.

Lunev has also told members of Congress that suitcase nuclear devices may have already been forward-deployed into the U.S....

...Lunev has stated that Russian military leaders continue to see a nuclear conflict between Russia and the United States as "inevitable".

In recent years, the Russian government has continued to invest heavily in strategic weapons. Russia is currently mass-producing the Topol-M intercontinental missile—a weapon more sophisticated than anything produced by the U.S. military.

Russia also continues to invest billions in building large underground bunkers for use during a nuclear conflict. Last month, the Yelstin government announced plans to increase military spending by 50 percent in next year's budget.

[JR: (Official confirmation—this issue was previously reported in CONTACT years ago.) "It's the economy, stupid!" This Clinton Administration is hell-bent on allowing every potential foe of the U.S. to have access to and movement throughout the States and especially government with no real security restrictions. Perhaps Clinton and his shaft, I mean staff, think the NWO is going to eliminate these problems for us. Alice—we're in WONDERLAND!]

TELEPHONE HOTLINE 661-822-0202

As an adjunct to CONTACT, the Telephone Hotline keeps you as informed as possible on current events and other important information that needs to get to our subscribers before our publishing date.

The message machine will answer after 2 rings if there are any new messages for that day, and after 4 rings if not. Thus daily callers can hang up after 2 rings and save toll charges if no new message has been recorded. If the Hotline does not answer your call, then there is currently no Hotline message.
